GRAYS WALLOP GRENVILLE; NEXT GAME WITH DALHART

By way of getting even for the unmerciful flogging at the hands of Hal Greenville gang a week before, the Clayton Grays landed on McDonald, the opposition twirler, last Sunday for 12 hits and 6 runs, while Greenville got to Smoky Joe for 3 hits and 1 run. We also still lead them in the matter of errors making 3 to their 2 this time.

Smoky Joe, in addition to fanning 11 of the Greenville wallpapers, got 3 singles out of 4 times up.

Johnstone got his usual homerun and a slashing two-bagger, Mr. Wilkins, playing the center garden for Greenville, pulled a hair-raising catch off Johnstone in the 7th. The big Clayton first baseman had just lagged and earmarked another one of McDonald's shoots for a circuit trip, when Wilkins rushed back and toward right field, gave a mighty spring, turned half over, reached up and grabbed the streak of white, landed on his ear and came up with the ball in his hand. Yes, you have already guessed it—it was highway robbery and a great catch.

Old Hardy Keer was back in the lineup and played a star game. He furnished a thrill by a wonderful one-hand stop of a drive over second base. It was a good fast game and a large crowd was on hand to take it in.

What's the next game? Dalhart at Dalhart, on June 10th. The Grays haven't met their ancient enemy this year, but we understand they have a good team, and the local boys expect stiff opposition. On Sunday the 11th, the Dalhart aggregation will come to Clayton for a return game.

LITTLE GIRL FINDS HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Waters were the lucky parties who secured the little girl for whom a home was asked thru The News recently.

No better fortune could befall a child needing a home than to be taken into this home of good Christian people. We feel sure no misfortune will ever rest on a home where the doors are opened to one of Christ's helpless orphaned children. We wish to say it revives our faith in humanity to occasionally find there are still people with tender pity for the motherless children.

A SAD ACCIDENT

One of the saddest accidents to happen in Clayton in many years, occurred Sunday evening at the City Garage.

Soon after the game between the Clayton and Greenville teams, Preston S. Rogers, 19 years of age, member of the Textline team, who had come to Clayton to witness the game, drove into the City Garage to put his tire chains on before beginning the trip back home.

While leaning over to adjust the chains a .32 calibre Savage automatic which he carried, dropped from the breast pocket of his coat, and striking the cement floor, was discharged, the ball entering his face just to the right and a little below his nose, and went through his skull, causing instant death.

Mr. Rogers was a resident of Textline, a young man of promise and well liked by his many friends and companions. He was an ex-service man and had served his country with honor.

Kilburn undertakers had charge of the body. Funeral services were held at Textline, Texas, yesterday by the American Legion.

An immense floral offering was given as a testimonial of his large circle of friends.

The News joins the community in expressing their sympathy to the father and mother in their bereavement.

THOSE SHRINERS

They came—it cannot be said they conquered; they hardly stayed a sufficient length of time to even become acquainted with the possibilities of the Clayton community, nor accustomed to the Clayton smile.

The Shriners of Clayton entertained them in their usual pleasant manner. The ladies of the M. E. Church served in their basement a delicious chicken dinner, to all local and visiting Shriners. The city council opened the swimming pool for the evening and the local Shriners had made provision for them to attend the play "Springtime," given by the local Post, American Legion. The entertainment of the caravan was handled in a very efficient manner, and while they tarried only over-night, the memory will linger and they will become boosters for the Clayton community and lovers of the Clayton hospitality.

MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES WERE WELL ATTENDED

Impressive Memorial Day services were held in Clayton last Tuesday, under the auspices of the local Post American Legion. Dr. C. F. Milligan, the Post commander, had been, in his efforts to make the program of the day one of the best rendered in Clayton.

With the Mission Theatre comfortably filled, promptly at the hour of 10:30 A. M., the program was offered, consisting of the rendition of "Tenting Tonight" by a double male quartet, composed of Clayton singers. The second number was the reading of "In Flanders Field," and "Their Little Green Tents," by Mrs. Herbert J. Hammond, Jr. In a simple but pertinent talk, Dr. Milligan introduced the speaker of the day, none other than our esteemed fellow townsman, Judge O. T. Toombs, who said in part: "Obedient to a custom of our people long established, we are here today to commemorate the acts and deeds of all those splendid citizens who have heard their country's call and followed their country's flag to victory . . . and because of it there has arisen the greatest republic on this hemisphere ever created and molded into form by the hand of man."

Judge Toombs, in well spoken but brief words, glorified the men of the armies of the United States for their deeds of valor and their unselfish service in every war connected with the history of our republic. Speaking directly concerning the late world war: "On April 6, 1917, the American people once more announced their willingness to put forth their strength in this battle, that popular government might not be superseded by military oligarchy. America rose in her peerless might and bared her shining sword to fight against the mailed fist of military despotism."

The Legion men responded to the call to this service nobly, and with a hearty cooperation of the town and country people, made this Memorial service the best yet held.

RURAL CARRIERS ORGANIZE

The rural letter carriers of Union county met at the city hall in Clayton, May 30th, for the purpose of organizing a rural letter carriers association.

The meeting was called to order by R. K. Balch at 1:30 p. m. He, with Bro. Markin, gave the welcome address in behalf of Clayton. Chas. E. Miller of Des Moines, gave response to the welcome address in behalf of the visiting carriers.

After the invocation by Bro. Markin all joined in singing the song, "America."

The following named carriers were duly elected as officers of the Association: Chas. E. Miller, Des Moines, president; A. B. Seely, Sedan, vice president; R. K. Balch, of Clayton, secretary and treasurer.

S. E. Warren of Mt. Dora, and Laronee Loveless of Clayton, were appointed by the president to act as the executive committee.

Several Union county carriers will attend the state meeting to be held July 4th.

The next county meeting will be held at Clayton Sept. 4th, (Labor Day).

After the transaction of all business all carriers present made interesting talks for the good of the service and the association.

Mr. Bullman, an ex-carrier of Illinois, gave an interesting address on "Why Should Rural Carriers Organize." Mr. W. A. Bowling, assistant postmaster of Clayton, addressed us on "The National Welfare Council and Its Benefits to the Postal Employee."

R. K. BALCH,
Secretary and Treasurer.

Judge T. A. Whelan and H. J. Hammond, Sr., were guests at Rotary luncheon yesterday.

Elsie Bristol sang at the regular Rotary luncheon yesterday. She was accompanied on the piano by Virginia Thompson.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

In response to a petition of the citizens of Clayton, the Village Council has passed a resolution adopting Daylight Saving for the months of June, July and August.

The citizens of this community are requested to set all clocks one hour ahead, to correspond with Central time the same as Textline, and all watches will blow one hour earlier to conform with the resolution.

This change of time will be made effective Saturday at midnight, June 3, 1922.

A. E. MONTEITH,
Mayor of Village of Clayton.

COLORADO-GULF CONVENTION PROVED TO BE GREAT SUCCESS

The Colorado to Gulf Highway Convention, held in Amarillo, last week, proved to be a huge success; in fact, the greatest convention ever held by the association. A record attendance was registered, most of the delegates coming from points along the highway south of Clayton.

In the past much contention having arisen between the towns along the Highway and nearby towns, it was necessary to draft a new constitution and set of by-laws. The work of the convention was given largely to this.

The past year has been a very successful one for the Association. J. H. Walker, of Dalhart, president, has been untiring in his efforts to put the G. to G. on the map. Mr. Walker has been eminently successful in this, aided by the other officers: J. Allen Wilkoff, of Clayton, 1st vice president; Judge Hugh Small of Fort Worth, 2nd vice president; W. E. B. Estes of Amarillo, secretary and A. R. Davis of Raton, treasurer. All these men are progressive business men. Satisfaction was expressed for their services by a re-election of the old officers, with the exception of Judge Small, who is succeeded by W. F. Jackson of Colorado Springs, as 2nd vice president. Mr. Jackson is secretary of the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce. W. E. B. Estes was succeeded by T. Paul Hamon of Childress, Tex., who will be secretary for the next year.

The Board of City Development entertained royally the delegates to the convention, Alvarado, Texas, was the successful bidder for the convention in 1923.

"BOB" ISAACS IS STILL AT IT

Long ago, Bob Isaacs established a reputation for big-hearted progressiveness, and every little while he gives a further indication that he has not departed from his habit, and is still adding to that reputation. The following letter explains itself much better than we could do it:

Post Commander,
Fred J. Tuttle Post No. 27,
American Legion,
City.

Sir: We had the pleasure of winning the First Prize awarded by the Decoration Committee of the Shriners for the best dressed window during the recent preparations for the Shriners entertainment to the Caravan, which passed through here on the 26th.

Finding no better cause and to which more good could come from, we hand you herewith, check of the Decoration Committee in the amount of $10.00, endorsed in your favor.

Sincerely yours,
The R. W. Isaacs Hdw. Co.
By R. W. Isaacs.

EZRA DANIELS ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

At the old C. E. Wood ranch north of Cutes, in the Guy community, Ezra Daniels, 14 years of age, was thrown from his horse and killed.

His father at the time was in Oklahoma, but has returned home, and funeral services were held yesterday in Clayton.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the father and mother in their sad loss.

CLAYTON MOVES CLOCKS FORWARD FOR SUMMER

For a period of three months, June, July and August, (at request of the employees of the business houses, set forth in the form of a petition, and presented to the city council at its last meeting to set the clocks forward one hour, will be granted.

The following business houses gave their endorsement: Simon Dorzstein, M. G. Tixier, Geo. H. Walls & Co., Kilburn & Edmondson, R. E. Wheeler, Kilburn Furniture Co., S. A. Raly, J. J. Weichman, A. A. Kouri, N. H. Azar, Gearty & Sons, G. G. Greenville, B. W. Isaacs, and Otto-Johnson Merc. Co.

The employees of the above firms request that they be given the privilege of beginning work one hour earlier.

By official proclamation, the mayor will request that clocks be turned forward one hour, which will give Clayton central time for the next three months.

The business men are to be commended for their progressiveness and the interest shown in their employees' welfare.

TRAMPEROS

(Too late for last week)

Several fine showers and everybody is busy putting in their crop. Mr. and Mrs. Rev. Ellis and baby of Amistad were guests at the Hoelderle ranch Sunday, and in the afternoon Bro. Ellis delivered a fine sermon at the school house, and a large crowd was present.

E. S. Cantrell, Floyd King and Lanventa Garcia took in the pie supper and dance at Cone, Saturday night.

Since the Hayden school is out and Mr. Turner does not have to haul the kid wagon any more, he surely is a busy man on the farm.

Louis Lell is working on the Henry Mercer ranch. Louis is "selling there" when it comes to farming.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Heinman and son, T. J. Jr. were visitors at the Hammer ranch, Wednesday. T. J. Jr. wanted to see grandpa and grandma.

Walter and Sylvester Kappus, sons of Chas. J. Kappus of Toledo, Ohio, and Mr. Myron Van Wormer, son-in-law of Mr. Kappus, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoelderle several days last week. These boys drove thru in a big car. They left for Los Angeles, saying they were well pleased with New Mexico. They thought this would be a good farming country some day not far off. Mr. Chas. J. Kappus already has large land holdings in Union county. Ben Dienken has fenced 50 acres in hog-tight woven wire fence for a hog pasture. Ben expects to go into the hog business right.

Lucas Weckel is home for several days on the Weckel ranch. The Weckel boys already have over 200 acres of crop planted.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hammer were guests on the Hoelderle ranch, Sunday.

SUCKER FLAT SHORTY.

SEDAN

A big rain with some hail caught a number of baseball fans at Sedan, Saturday, when they were so interested they didn't even think of rain during a practice game, and had to run to closest shelter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Pogue and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Duncan were Sunday guests at the A. J. Payne home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Summers, Lloyd Carpenter and Dr. Garrington, were guests Sunday at the A. O. Donoho home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wiley and Mr. and Mrs. Wolfenbarger attended the graduating exercises at Clayton last week, Audrey Wiley being one of the 1922 graduates. Other Sedanites would have attended, but threatening weather in the later afternoon prevented.

Sedan incoming roads for one mile each way are being graded, which we are all glad to see. The Hartans, who are doing the work, lost a valuable horse this week. "CYCO."

HEADLINES

A single headline in the daily paper tells nothing beyond the context of the article it heads. But a dozen of them may tell quite another story. For instance, consider this collection, made from four papers within two days: "Charge Movies Ridicule Pastors; Higher Critics Take Church Unawares; Baptists Want Books Free of Evolution Error; Science Conflicting With Revealed Religion; Clergy Declare Divorced America Doomed; Dancers Object to Church Unity; Pastor Leaves Church for Business; Explains Contradictions in Bible; Dancing Enemy of Church; Flappers Cause of Irreligion."

Evidently there is a cry in Macedonia, which comes from having feet heavily stepped on!

It would seem, on merely casual analysis, that the church which started with a Carpenter and some fishermen two thousand years ago and managed to live through the destruction of Rome, the evils of the Dark Ages, the debauchery and crime of a few hundred years ago on the Continent, the world war and the spirit of unrest of this year of grace 1922 can probably continue to exist, whether the movies make fun of pastors or not, whether higher critics criticize or not, whether Baptists or Methodists or any other sect think evolution is an error or not, whether the various denominations are unified or remain divided, whether Americans get divorced or not, whether the Biblical contradictions be explained or not, and whether we have flappers dancing or staid!

There is probably something wrong with the church. There is something wrong with most things. Nothing human is perfect, and the church is a human institution, ministering a divine truth. But the "something wrong" would seem much more to be the man who thinks that a flapper or divorcee, or higher criticism or unity or the lack of it, or the opinions of science, can definitely interrupt the march of true religion, than the various, sundry and almost puerile causes they assign for any failure of any church to be perfect.

Any man who is so thoroughly inoculated with his politics that he had rather be a yellow dog than be of opposite faith, should cut loose from all decent political faith and join the yellow dogs. He belongs there.

If noise was an asset, the average town would be so immensely wealthy from a percentage of their citizenship, that they could pay the indebtedness of the government and never know their wealth had been reduced.

WANTED--Confidence

Business conditions in Western territory are showing marked improvement. Prices of farm products and live stock are making steady gains; fair average crops are forecast.

Nothing, it is said, can now prevent a general revival of prosperity except a lack of confidence.

Confidence! That is what is needed more than anything else. Confidence in the country, its future, its established institutions.

PROBLEMS OF THE FARMER

All articles under this head are contributed, and this column is open for the discussion of Farm Problems or any subject pertaining to the welfare of farmers or farm organization. It is not controlled by any individual, but is open to anyone who desires to air his views on agricultural subjects. But articles of abusive or purely political or religious nature will not be considered. None of these articles have any bearing whatever on the policy of this paper. All articles must bear the signature of the writer.

TINKERING THE TARIFF

Just now we have at Washington ninety-six senators spending most of their valuable time tinkering the tariff. Some work along that line has already been done by others. The Ways and Means committee of the House spent weeks drafting the tariff schedule then the House spent weeks upon it, then the Finance Committee of the Senate spent weeks upon it, and now the Senate is working upon it. After the Senate gets through tinkering the bill, the differences between the bill as passed by the senate and the bill as passed by the House will be smoothed out and by the time it reaches the president ready for his signature it will represent thousands of hours of labor and millions of dollars of expense and it will suit no one. Some will defend it as a matter of policy and some will denounce it as a matter of habit. It will be a compromise and a compromise never suits anybody.

Each of the 4,000 articles mentioned in the bill is the possible source of debate, log rolling, petty politics, trust making, trust "busting," revenue, protection and many other virtuous and vicious consequences. Perhaps the tariff will be an important issue in the coming congressional election. Even if we know nothing about the tariff our votes next November will decide whether the present tariff bill will be allowed to remain on the statute books for two years after it once gets on or be immediately replaced by a new tariff schedule.

I have two propositions to submit. One is that we will never have a sane tariff schedule until we, the people, put the tariff regulation into the hands of a non-partisan tariff commission after the plan of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The tariff is a pure business proposition and ought to be taken out of politics and must be taken out of politics. My other proposition is—We farmers must stand together for a "square deal" in tariff legislation no matter what policies may be pursued in tariff legislation.

No matter how much sand spell-binder politicians may try to throw into your eyes there are four main purposes that every tariff bill is expected to accomplish, viz:—provide revenue, protect home industries, boost Big Business, and get votes. Be not deceived by oily tongued orators nor by cleverly written editorials. The Democratic party will never draft a tariff bill for revenue only. The Republican Party will never draft a tariff bill for revenue and the protection of infant industries only. And of course a free trade bill is out of the question from either party. Of course, I am speaking of the possibilities of the near future. I would not venture to prophesy what might or might not happen twenty-five years from now. We must face the facts of today. No matter who frames the tariff bill it is absurd to imagine that Big Business can maintain hundreds of lobbyists and witnesses at Washington besides "owning" several seats in congress without getting some advantages from tariff legislation. It is also absurd to think that the "dear people" back home are never given a few choice crumbs that are deliberately let fall from the richly loaded table at the big tariff feast. These crumbs are well worth the sacrifice because they help the dear people to decide which way to vote.

Let us face the possibilities squarely. We could get by under free trade. Given a reasonable time for readjustment, we would find ourselves still able to produce and trade and consume. Humanity came into existence and prospered for a considerable time before the invention of the custom house. We could get by under a tariff for revenue only. The government must have an income and if the tariff were adjusted to produce the maximum of revenue we could adjust our business affairs to meet that condition. If we had a tariff for protection only, we could adjust ourselves to that. If we had a tariff wall high enough to appease the avarice of Big Business we could adjust ourselves to that condition and still get by. If we had a tariff bill drawn up with a bait to win every vote, I am not sure that we would survive. Some of us, at least, might put forth some effort to survive the shock.

In measuring the merits and demerits of a tariff bill there are a few basic principles to be always kept in mind: 1. An import duty will not raise the price where an unorganized industry produces a surplus for export. A duty of five dollars per bushel on wheat would not raise the price one cent so long as American farmers are unorganized and produce a surplus for export. 2. An import duty will not produce revenue unless there are imports. 3. An import duty upon the products of an organized industry enables that industry to maintain abnormally high prices even if it produces for export. Such a tariff produces no revenue for the national treasury but makes rich additions to the income of Big Business. 4. Where home production is large and the imports are small in comparison an import duty produces a small income for the government and a large income for Big Business. 5. When home production is small and the imports are large in comparison, an import duty produces a large income for the government and adds a little to the income of the infant industry. 6. An apparently good protection tariff on some article may be largely neutralized by imports under bond. For example we may have an import duty on wheat to protect the northern farmers from Canadian wheat. The Minneapolis mills may wish to export flour to Liverpool. They can import cheap Canadian wheat under bond, grind it, and ship it to Liverpool without paying any import duty. The bonding expense is only nominal.

In tinkering the tariff it seems to me that nearly everyone loses sight of the other side of the tariff question, and that is this: In the end imports must be paid for by exports. The balance must some day be settled. Neither nations nor individuals can do business indefinitely on credit. For example, Germany cannot dump her cheap manufactured articles upon us indefinitely unless we can dump our cheap gold or cheap pork or cheap wool upon her to balance the account. If China ships us tea produced by coolie labor at starvation wages we must pay the bill by selling her something which we can produce at less than coolie prices. If Chinese labor at ten cents per day can produce automobiles cheaper than Henry Ford can produce them and pay the freight to China, Henry Ford will never sell many automobiles in China. In other words, the American laborer must do more for ten cents than the Chinese coolie does for ten cents to enable Henry Ford to export his products to China.

The farmers' great grievance is this—both Democratic and Republican tariffs have raised the price of the things the farmer must buy without a corresponding increase in the price of the things he has to sell. This is partly because Big Business has manipulated the tariff against us and partly because we haven't organized to protect our own business.

C. E. ANDERSON.

PROLIFICACY IN PURE BREDS

By Joe Haaga, Asst. Sec. Nat'l Duroc-Jersey Record Assn.

The number of pigs farrowed and raised by a brood sow has a direct bearing on the net profit she returns her owner each year. The cost of each pig at birth is determined by what it has cost to feed and care for the sow during the whole year. If a sow farrows only ten pigs in twelve months, these ten pigs have cost at birth time just twice as much as if the same sow had produced twenty pigs in the same period. It is therefore a good idea to keep in the herd only those brood sows that have and raise large litters.

Prolificacy is one of the strong points of pure bred sows of all breeds. Adherents of the different breeds of registered swine have always maintained that pure bred sows are superior to grade and scrub sows or those of mixed and non-descript breeding in their tendency to have large litters and in their ability to rear them safely to weaning age. In substantiation of this claim a few figures, recently obtained from the pure bred herds of four Duroc Jersey breeders located in different states, are interesting. These four herds are representative of the average breeder. No attempt was made to select certain particular herds in which unusual records were attempted and made. The information was obtained in a casual way so as to present an honest and fair estimate of the reproductive power of the pure bred sow and what she can do on the farm when given proper attention in the way of food and shelter.

The first farm reported nine sows farrowing 99 pigs and raising 77 of them. Six of these litters were raised by gilts and the other three by bred sows. In the next herd eight sows farrowed 80 pigs and succeeded in raising 77 of them to weaning time. The third farm giving figures is operated on somewhat of an extensive scale growing hogs principally for market, most of the animals sold for breeding stock going to neighbors. 355 pigs were farrowed by 35 sows. This includes gilts with their first litters and older sows. Of the total number of pigs produced 281 were raised by the sows. The fourth herd had ten sows farrow 131 pigs, 94 of which were saved and raised. According to these figures 62 sows produced a total of 673 pigs or an average of a little better than 10.5 pigs per litter. The average number of pigs raised was 81.2 for each sow. These figures give ample evidence of the prolificacy of the pure bred sow. In addition they show that her mother instinct is highly developed and that she will care for her young and raise them.

It is not intended that these figures should mislead anyone. The averages made are very good but would not have been possible had the sows not had the proper rations and been cared for and handled in the right manner. The pure bred sow will do her part but the caretaker or feeder must also be on the job. The increased tonnage of pork per sow possible through the use of pure breeds is worthy of the consideration of our farmers.

TAXATION

The man who owns the least property, has the least family, has the least interest in the onward march of civilization and the rising generation of his community, county or state, makes the initial bowl that taxes are a burden and should be reduced. He is possibly right in both contentions. Webster defines in one instance the word "Tax—A burden," and insofar as the question of reduction is a pertinent one, no doubt public sentiment is decidedly in favor of such a move. And the public in the same breath utters the question, "How?" What procedure is necessary to lift the present burden of taxation from the people of New Mexico? They are unanimous in their declaration that it must be done, but thus far no sensible solution has been offered to combat this growing menace (" to the citizens of our state.

A rate or sum of money assessed on the person or the property he holds, according to value of the citizens, by the government, for the use of the nation, state, county, city or village, is rightly termed taxation. Then taxation must keep pace with the expenses accruing from a government that is properly functioning. If your government is an expensive one, your burden becomes heavier; if an economic government, then your burden of taxation becomes lighter, and your rate grows less. Therefore you readily conclude that you must have an economic administration. Yet, by what standard will you measure or what criterion will be your guide in reaching a happy medium of what constitutes economy? Being "penny wise and pound foolish" would hardly be termed strict economy. It would be economy to curtail your road building program and wander at will over the trails that at one time constituted your road system in New Mexico. Your $35 and $50 agricultural land would be reduced to possibly $20 and $30 per acre. You could make up a pack train of burros to take your produce to market; you would not be able to market each day by truck, and spend your evenings at home in the bosom of your family; rather you would be spending two or three days for each trip. That would be economy: Your rate of taxation would be lowered because you would have an economic government, but would you be altogether satisfied with that condition?

Or, you might reduce, for the sake of economy, your educational program. Instead of having a nine-months term of school you might have six; instead of employing the best trained talent obtainable you might lower your standard for the teaching corps of the state and gather them in from the highways and byways, from schools with no standing, permitting eighth graders to teach. That would be an economical state educational department, but it could only be so at the expense of your boy and girl and those of your neighbor. You could only do so by robbing them of their God-given heritage and sending them into the world as poorly equipped men and women. No one can look into the face of their children and say that economy should be practiced at the expense of the child.

You want the educational system of your state to be the best. You also want adequate arteries of commerce to penetrate the most remote section of your state and county. This can only be done if every thinking man and woman is willing to pay a fair rate upon the value of their property into the state, county and city treasury. Besides roads and educational facilities for your children, your taxes buy you many things that are not realized: security of your person and property; freedom of thought and speech; "save during the late war"; the right to live according to the dictates of your own conscience toward God and your fellowman; protection of the public health against the ravages of diseases and epidemics. Your taxes paid in have purchased you as a citizen these possibilities. New Mexico is comparatively a new country, yet she ranks fair in progress with her sister states in older sections of the republic. New Mexico has attained this only through her willingness and desire to be progressive.

He wanted to furnish you with a tractor that would not only do your work better and faster, but at lower costs—and the 170,000 Fordsons now in use have proved that he has accomplished these things.

What you get in the Fordson for $395 f. o. b. Detroit is the greatest farm power unit ever offered.

The man who owns the least property, has the least family, has the least interest in the onward march of civilization and the boys and girls of his community, county or state, will make a bowl this coming campaign to cripple your educational system, curtail your road building campaign, dispense with many conveniences of comfort that you now enjoy, but Mr. Voter, look him over. The balance of power lies with you.

SAVE FOR A PURPOSE.

"It does not need argument," said Postmistress Pace, of Clayton, "to convince any sensible person that saving is a good thing for the individual, for the community, and for the nation. Saving does not mean that you shall forego the comforts of life, or even the luxuries. But do not make the mistake by thinking the trifling things you do not really need or want are either comforts or luxuries. Do not spend your money for little inconsequential things. Save it for something worth while. You cannot save money by carrying it around in your pocket—hoarded money is inexhaustible. Idle capital is the thief of the income. Money slips away unless it is placed in a safe place. The best place is in a secure investment, an interest-bearing investment, where your money works for you. When the time comes you can get something worth while, the home, the automobile, the vacation trip, or anything else that will bring joy into the lives of yourself and family. If you have only a small sum to save, invest in postal savings. You can open a banking account with your government with ten cents. That will buy a ten-cent savings stamp and ten stamps can be exchanged for a $1 interest-bearing postal savings certificate. Postal Savings have proved to be very popular with the people, many buying the limit which is $2,500.

"The government is also offering a very attractive investment in the form of Treasury savings certificates. For $20 you can buy one of the lowest denomination, and in five years the government will redeem it for $25, your $20 earning $5. If you have $80 to invest it will earn $20, and for your $80 investment you will get $200 in interest. All the time this money is working for you will be safe and secure. You can get your principal at any time in case of an emergency, with interest at 3 1/2 per cent while it has been in the keeping of the government. What is more, these certificates are registered in the Treasury department and you are safe from the loss or theft. They are exempt from the normal Federal income tax, and from estate and local taxation (except estate and inheritance taxes). They pay 4 1/2 per cent interest compound semi-annually, if held until maturity; that means 25 per cent on your investment in five years.

"Get that idea of making the post-office your bank for your savings and small investments. It is just the same as making your government your bank, for the postoffice is part of the government.

Mrs. Will Howard claims to own the champion cow of this section, having bought a Jersey heifer calf 2 months old for $300. This little cow is now the mother of 3 nice heifers and will not be 4 years old until July 1. While not a large milk producer, giving 2 gallons a day, she gives milk very rich in cream and butterfat. We believe the Jerseys are fast becoming the favorites in Union county, as most farmers sell cream and the Jersey is sure all there with the cream.

INDIANA G.O.P. LAUDS HARDING

Indianapolis, Ind., May 24.—Indiana Republicans, meeting here today for their state convention, heard party leaders sound the keynote for the fall campaign. Senator Watson, in an address which he had discussed with President Harding before leaving Washington, presented the claim that efficient and wise management of the nation's domestic and international affairs had brought about substantial results in relieving "the evils of eight years of Democratic misrule."

Albert J. Beveridge, the party's nominee for United States senator, was another speaker. He praised the Harding administration, saying "America is to be congratulated on an official record so splendid." He said that the convention marked the beginning of our "harmonious advance toward a common victory in November."

Must Restore Business Vigor

"The supreme and only immediate duty at hand in domestic affairs is to restore American business to full strength and vigor," he asserted. The reduction of government expenses, so well and efficiently begun by the president, must be continued until the last trace of extravagance is out of the record.

"The laws of taxation must be revised still further, until they are made wholly consistent and harmonious with economic law, so that capital, the life-blood of business, may flow freely thru the veins of industry and the arteries of trade. It has been the glory of Republican statesmen that they were guided by fundamental principle and never by shallow expediency."

Senator Watson praised the executive, legislative and diplomatic record of the present administration and flayed the recent Democratic administration as "debt incurring, deficit creating, bond issuing, surplus scattering, factory closing, industry paralyzing, prosperity destroying, social unheaving and cataclysm producing."

This administration does not need an apologist," said Senator Watson. No administration ever before came into power confronting such problems of such complexity and difficulty as those which were inherited by President Harding and the Republican congress."

Praises Arms Conference

President Harding's call for the arms conference, he declared, was "the largest step toward international peace with justice the world has known in all its history."

Declination of the invitation to the Genoa conference also was commended by Mr. Watson, who said it was a political and not an economic conference.

"The world by this time ought to understand," he continued, "that we do not intend to become involved in their political wrangles and that we are willing to lend aid or give counsel and maintain always a sympathetic attitude, yet we will refuse to be dragged into their financial difficulties and we always will decline to meddle with their national affairs or to become involved in their age-old rivalries. We do not intend to get into this confused jumble of European animosities. This attitude of the administration meets with the hearty approval of everybody except internationalists of the most extreme type."

In domestic affairs Senator Watson said the Harding administration stood for "full freedom in business and a recognition of a larger right of the individual to control and operate his own business affairs."

"The 'new freedom' preached by Woodrow Wilson was a grotesque travesty on the very name," he added, "while the enfranchisement of business under Harding is an accomplished fact."

Our Budget is Balanced

"Notwithstanding the near approach to collapse of the monetary system of nearly every country in Europe," he continued, "we have balanced our budget, we are living within our income, we have issued no bonds and sold no treasury certificates, we have paid off $1,000,000,000 of the public debt, we have reduced taxation by $825,000,000 the first year and $525,000,000 the second year, we have curtailed governmental expenses $1,600,000,000 a year and are today financially solvent and commercially sound and on the upgrade toward a normal resumption of American prosperity."

Citing the new and fixed charges from the war, Senator Watson said there could not be any great reduction in taxes for a decade or more, but he contended the Republican party had kept its platform pledge to reduce taxes as far as possible consistent with government needs. This, in part, was possible, he said, by dismissal of more than 100,000 government employes in the first two years. Incidentally discussing civil service, Senator Watson said he stood for it as applied to many government activities, but declared it should not be used to "shelter men opposed to the policy of the administration and who secretly connive to overthrow it."

"They have not been getting rid of Democrats in some of the departments fast enough to suit me," he added. "I have been and am opposed to putting postmasters under civil service."

The pending tariff bill, which he helped draft, was a prominent subject of Senator Watson's address. It would do much, he added, to restore business and prosperity. Protection, he added had been a proved policy.

"This tariff," he added, "is not being made to please free-traders. We did not formulate it to suit importers."

Also we give a personal attention that the MAIL ORDER HOUSES cannot give.

The BUYING PUBLIC has welcomed ASSOCIATED STORES wherever opened. The APPEAL of the CHAIN STORE SYSTEM is UNIVERSAL. They have been quick to learn that ASSOCIATED TIRE STORES eliminate the UNNECESSARY PROFITS AND EXPENSES and PASS THE SAVINGS to the TIRE BUYERS.

ASSOCIATED STORES handle only such tires as can be HONESTLY GUARANTEED to give long and satisfactory service. These tires are made to our own RIGID SPECIFICATIONS in factories where the entire output is absorbed by us. Our IMMENSE PURCHASING POWER—OUR ELIMINATION OF THE MIDDLEMEN'S PROFITS—OUR ELIMINATION OF LOST MOTION AND HUGE CREDIT LOSSES, EXPENSIVE OVERHEAD AND CUMBERSOME METHODS, actually saves the TIRE BUYER from 25 per cent to 40 per cent on each purchase.

Will you continue to pay HIGH PRICES when the ASSOCIATED TIRE STORES will sell you BETTER TIRES at LESS MONEY? Would you deliberately throw money away. Then why pay more for your tires than we charge? Come in and get acquainted, ASSOCIATE WITH THE ASSOCIATED STORE AND SAVE MONEY.

THE ASSOCIATED GUARANTEE

Does a REAL TIRE GUARANTEE interest you? When you buy a tire would you rather have a MERE VERBAL PROMISE of future mileage, or would you prefer a CERTIFIED TIRE WARRANT, such as is shown above? We know your answer, of course.

When you buy a tire from the ASSOCIATED STORES you receive a CERTIFIED TIRE WARRANT. This WARRANT stipulates the exact terms of our LIBERAL GUARANTEE. You are protected not only for 6,000 MILES against all defects in material and workmanship, but the GUARANTEE covers the tire for its ENTIRE LIFE.
