FOUR STATES SEED CO ARE REBUILDING PLANT

The Four States Seed and Grain Co. reorganized July 1st, 1922, and will continue to be a leading factor in the grain trade in Northeastern New Mexico.

The Four States Seed Co. was organized in 1916, with W. I. Franklin as manager. Through the years as a Clayton business it has grown in value to the people of Union county. Suffering a total loss by fire about two years ago, they moved into the Herstein building. This was totally destroyed by fire a few weeks ago and the Four States company is reported to have suffered a heavy loss.

The contractor and his crews are now on the ground and the Four States will be doing business August 25th in a new building that is as nearly fireproof as it is possible for an elevator to be.

The new elevator will cost about $15,000, equipped with the most modern machinery, the best elevator in either Colorado or New Mexico and the only truck dump in the county.

The elevator will be of concrete up to the car floor; above that it will be an iron-clad structure, and will have a capacity of about 18,000 bushels.

The office and sales room will be separate, and will be constructed of brick.

The new building will be modern in every respect, and will add to the appearance and value of the business district.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Beginning on Sunday morning and continuing for two weeks a series of evangelistic services will be held at the Baptist church. Evangelist A. J. Copas of California, at present with the evangelistic force of the Southwestern Baptist Seminary at

Evangelist A. J. Copas

Fort Worth, Texas, will do the preaching. Mr. Copas has had much experience both as pastor and evangelist. The singing will be led by Mr. J. L. Trussell, who is well qualified as a choir leader and in solo work.

We earnestly desire the presence and cooperation of ALL CHRISTIANS, and we cordially invite the public in general to be present at all services.

CLAYTON ROTARY CLUB ENTERTAINS RATON

The Clayton Rotary Club has seldom if ever held a more pleasant weekly luncheon than yesterday, when they were hosts to the Raton Club.

In the absence of the president and vice-president, Mr. Erret, secretary of the Club, had planned a program that was enjoyed by all present. The Progress Club Orchestra, composed of Kenneke, clarinet; Gentry, cornet; Mesdames Scott and Linford, violins; Mrs. Bushnell, piano and Miss Wiley at the drums, gave several numbers. The organization is new, but all are accomplished musicians, and will represent Clayton well wherever they may play. Miss Estelle Barker sang a solo, which was enjoyed by all.

This was the first visit paid by any club in the state to Clayton Rotarians, and they were glad indeed to have fellowship with the most progressive man of Tola county, and to know that prompted by the same ideals, Rotary will go far in assisting the citizenship of New Mexico to build better and bigger and to build Rotary, and that the western New Mexico will blaze the trail for other states. Senator Phillips of Raton made a splendid short address that will be remembered by Clayton Rotarians.

EXPERIENCED GEOLOGIST WILL VISIT IN CLAYTON

Clayton, N. M., June 27, 1922. Hon. A. A. Jones, U. S. Senator from New Mexico, Washington, D. C. Dear Senator Jones:

Being interested in the possibility of obtaining water from under-surface sources, for the use of the City of Clayton, by the use of wells and tunnels, I will appreciate having any information, pamphlets or other data bearing on this subject that the Government may have for distribution.

Cordially yours, R. W. Isaacs.

UNITED STATES SENATE Committee on Finance July 5, 1922.

Hon. R. W. Isaacs, Clayton, N. M. My dear Mr. Isaacs:

I am in receipt of your letter of June 27th, and shall be glad to obtain for you what information is available relative to the possibility of obtaining water from under-surface sources, and will try to get some data to you at an early date.

With kind regards, I am Very sincerely yours, A. A. Jones, U. S. S.

UNITED STATES SENATE Committee on Finance July 10, 1922.

Hon. R. W. Isaacs, Clayton, New Mexico, My dear Mr. Isaacs:

On receipt of your letter relative to securing information regarding the possibility of obtaining water from under-surface sources, the matter was referred to the U. S. Geological Survey. I am now in receipt of a letter from the Director, copy of which is inclosed for your information, in which he states that Mr. Bryan, one of their geologists, will be in Clayton at an early date. Trusting that the arrangements referred to by the Director in his letter will be agreeable to you, I am Very sincerely yours, A. A. Jones, U. S. S.

Department of the Interior United States Geological Survey Washington.

Office of Director, July 8, 1922. Hon. A. A. Jones, U. S. Senate.

My dear Senator Jones:

In reply to your letter of July 5, transmitting a letter from Mr. Isaacs, in regard to a public water supply for the city of Clayton; returned herewith.

Mr. Kirk Bryan, one of the experienced water supply geologists of the United States Geological Survey will pass thru Raton in a few weeks and I have directed him to stop off and make a trip to Clayton to examine the geologic conditions and give information and advice to the city authorities regarding the development of the ground water supply for the city.

The only expense to the city of Clayton will be to pay Mr. Bryan's fare from Raton to Clayton and return and to provide his subsistence and necessary transportation during the few days that he is in the vicinity of Clayton.

Yours very cordially, Geo. Otis Smith, Director.

Word was received in Clayton last night that Tommie Edmondson, the daughter of Dr. S. M. Edmondson, and Miss Jane Gray, had gone thru their operation at Trinidad successfully and were doing nicely.

RATON CREAMERY COMPANY IMPROVES EQUIPMENT

The Raton Creamery company has just completed the installation of a six-ton butter refrigerating plant with a capacity of one carload, a Friday Room, which is used for storing butter in condition for cutting and packing, and a hardening room for ice cream and storage, with a capacity of 600 idons per day. This room stands at a temperature of 10 degrees below zero.

The ice cream department has a 100-gallon pasteurizer, in which the ice cream mix is made and pasteurized. It runs by gravity through a homogenizer, which in principle is the opposite of a churn, its function being to convert sweet butter back into cream. It takes only about ten minutes to make the ice cream in this way. This new plant uses no ice, all work being done by refrigeration by a York ammonia compressor.

The output of the plant is now 1,000 pounds of butter and 100 gallons of ice cream per day. The entire cost of outfitting and installing is approximately $11,000. The management will welcome any visitors who may care to inspect their new plant. Raton, N. M.

FIREBUGS BUSY IN CLAYTON TWO ATTEMPTS FAILURES

The why of the whole matter can not be given, but if the past record of achievements of the district attorney's office mean any thing, incendiarism in Clayton will be a thing of the past.

A few nights ago, an attempt was made to burn the Bangerter Feed Yard. No reason can be given why. Whoever the guilty party or parties were, used liberally of kerosene to make sure of the job, but failed. The fire was discovered by Tommie Downs, and Mr. Bangerter was able to put out the blaze before the fire department arrived.

An attempt was also made to burn the residence of H. C. McFadden, but without success.

The successful fire was Wednesday evening, when a five-room house belonging to the Slack estate was completely destroyed by fire. From best information obtainable, no one lived in the property, however the night man at the Clayton Garage slept there thru the day.

This is a decided loss. Whoever is responsible for these acts of vandalism will be found and a just punishment will be given them.

CHARLEY REPORTS

C. P. Talbot, Clayton's representative to the International Rotary Convention, reports varied experiences, even that of being taken for a dead one. The News gives the pertinent points contained in the general report made to the Clayton club:

1. Rotary presents no new system of ethics, no fantastic creed or routine rule. She demands only that men be friendly, and that they count no day complete that does not yield a good deed done.

2. For men to crave companionship is as natural as to desire to live. Most men are companionable, and those who are not are only so because of artificial circumstances under which they have either elected or been forced to lead their lives. Loneliness is a misfortune and usually a product of selfishness.

3. If you go to people with an open mind and an open heart, you will find them open minded and open hearted.

4. The way to get a friend is to be one.

The Clayton Rotary Club will profit largely from this report. While each point stressed in Rotarian Talbot's report has been the strict law of the Clayton club, their determination will be strengthened by the knowledge that they are carrying out the real principles of International Rotary.

H. B. WOODWARD WAGES WAR ON THE TRANSGRESSOR

The people of the Eighth Judicial District scored 100 per cent when they, by the ballot of choice, elected Hon. Hugh B. Woodward to the district attorneyship.

The people of this district who are in love with honesty and integrity in public office, find their choice has been satisfactory and that the promoters of prostitution and gambling and the anti-prohibitionists are making tracks for greener pastures. This will clear the atmosphere wonderfully, and the north-eastern section of New Mexico will be a more desirable place in which to live.

We give suits filed to close the following:

United States of America vs. Tony Marchiondo, William Wilson, G. W. Snyder and T. F. McAniff. The first three are named as manufacturing, selling, keeping or bartending intoxicating liquors, the last as owning the premises in which the alleged manufacturing, etc., is taking place. The injunction is to restrain these parties from the activities ascribed to them, and to temporarily close the premises.

United States of America vs. Mary A. Taylor, Ed Taylor and John Hogan, the first two being the owners, restraining the manufacture, sale, keeping or bartending of intoxicating liquors on the premises.

United States of America vs. Dick Grulicich, Slave Septic, Jim Pappas, Dave Thomas, and Willis O. John, the last two as administrators of the Thomas estate, upon whose premises the alleged sale, manufacture, etc., is taking place by the first named trio.

Emilio Cantour and V. P. Marco, owners of property upon which Beson Sterling is alleged to be allowing and practicing prostitution. The state is plaintiff in this case, praying for an injunction for the abatement of this nuisance and closing the premises temporarily.

GOVERNMENT WILL USE STRONG HAND

Washington, D. C., July 11.—The government stood ready today to assist in the suppression of any disorders which may arise from the strike of railway shippers to interfere with transportation of the mails or the movement of interstate commerce. Appointment of a number of deputy marshals has been authorized by Attorney General Daugherty.

"This policy will be continued wherever justified and necessary," the attorney general stated.

Strike Leaders Pleaded

Leaders to the shop strike expressed themselves as well pleased with the success of the strike thus far, as detailed reports on the actual number of men out began to come into union headquarters here today.

Typical of the messages received, leaders said, were those from the East St. Louis, Ill., and Denver, Col. chairmen. W. E. Walters, chairman of the joint crafts of the former city, reported 2,500 men out on 19 roads there. The strikers are doing "lawful picketing," he said, under an injunction. He added that "all the railroads have gun men at their shops."

Attempts by roads in Denver to stampede the strikers back to work yesterday resulted in 22 desertions from the striking ranks. William Hannon of the executive committee of the machinists reported. He said 3,000 men were out.

The reports indicate that nearly 50,000 maintenance of way men and shop laborers went on sympathetic strike with the shippers, according to Charles J. McGowan, assistant to B. M. Jewell, head of the shop crafts.

200 Guardsmen Have Arrived at Herrington

Topeka, Kans., July 11.—Two hundred national guardsmen arrived at Herrington today to guard the Rock Island shops and the water main leading from the city pumping station to the shops, according to an announcement issued at the governor's office.

WHAT AND WHERE IS GOD?

Why does God leave His very existence in doubt, hiding Himself?

If there were a God, would He not make Himself known in such a way that no one could possibly doubt His existence? Why should we be expected to love and obey a God whose existence is still a subject of discussion?

Could a righteous and loving Father leave any of His children in doubt of His existence?

These are some of the questions that will be answered in the series of sermons to be given Sunday morning at M. E. Church. You may bring any question pertaining to the subject that you desire an answer, and if possible, an answer will be given.

M. E. CHURCH

troops, deputy marshals are armed guards in increasing number. Shared developments today in the nation wide strike of railway shippers.

Peace, judged by even the most promising indications, was no nearer than a week ago, when the striking workers were outlawed by the federal railroad labor board and all channels to settlement of the strike by negotiations thereby closed.

Claims of the roads today were generally that they were surmounting the difficulties of the strike and would be able to man their shops fully in the near future. The strike leaders asserted that their suspension was practically 100 per cent effective in all sections.

Hundreds of injunctions against picketing of the shops issued yesterday throughout the country today were being enforced. An unannounced force of deputy marshals at various points where the roads is having determined to continue operations with non-union labor. At other points state militia troops guard the shops.

A tense situation prevailed at Bloomington, Ill., where five companies of state troops were guarding the Chicago & Alton shops, that had been practically closed since the beginning of the strike. Additional troops were expected before noon today. Road officials announced that imported workers will arrive in Bloomington in the afternoon.

Signalmen Not to Strike for the Present

Chicago, Ill., July 11.—The Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen will not strike for the present at least, according to a statement issued this morning by D. W. Belt, president of the organization. The decision was reached after a conference between the executive head of the union and the railroad labor board.

Mr. Belt's statement that signalmen would take up discussions of disagreement with the separately and in case an understanding could not be arrived at matter would be taken up again with the labor board.

CHURCH—PETERSON

One of the prettiest of the season was that of the Church, to Mr. Hammett at the home of the bride, Texline, Texas, Sunday, July 9, 3:35, the ceremony being officiated by Rev. Guy Davis of the Lutheran Church of Clayton.

The bride was beautifully arrayed in a suit of blue pique with accessories to match, carrying a bouquet of pink and white roses. The groom wore a suit of dark brown. Only the family of the bride and Miss Em Fox were present. Miss Church is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Lucy Church of Texline. For the past two years she has served as assistant clerk and stenographer in the city office of Clayton, and by her pleasing manner and efficient service she has won many friends.

Mr. Peterson came here from Joplin, Mo., two years ago, and has been connected with the Otto-Johnson Merc. Co. as shoe salesman and at present is bookkeeper for the Sinclair Oil company of this city.

By his pleasing personality Mr. Peterson has become a favorite with those who know him. He is to be congratulated upon winning such an estimable young lady as Miss Church.

After the wedding a two-course luncheon was served to the guests by the bride's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson were accompanied home by the brother of the bride and Miss Em Fox. They will be at home at 262 W. Broadway.

NATIONAL PARK BILL APPROVED BY THE SENATE

Las Cruces, N. M., July 7.—United States Senator H. O. Bursum, of New Mexico, telegraphed from Westington, D. C., to H. H. Brook, chairman of the executive committee of the Southwestern All-Year Nat'l Park association here this afternoon, as follows:

"I am pleased to advise you that the all-year national park bill passed the senate today."

At his headquarters in the temple of agriculture, Mr. Brooks said that Senator Bursum is to be congratulated upon getting speedy action, adding: "The Bursum bill creating a public playground on the Mesquero Indian reservation, Elephant Butte lake and dam, and such portions of White Sands and Malpais as are needed, will now go before the house. There is every reason to believe the measure will be enacted and become a law by President Harding's full approval."

The making of two voting places in this precinct should be looked after by the county commissioners. There are some 1300 or 1400 voters here as present boundaries define it, and that is about four times too many. To divide one time will give each 700 or 800 voters, and that will work an election board to a frazzle. Heretofore, by common consent help has been allowed to go by without warrant of law to assist the board and, extra boxes provided with a stick to pound the ballots down

RURAL CARRIERS MEET AT TUCUMCARI

O. clerk of Tucumcari, all joined in singing the song, "America." The welcome address in behalf of Tucumcari was given by Roy H. Smith, P. M. of Tucumcari. The response to the welcome address was given by Mr. E. J. Floersheim, R. L. C. No. 1, of Roy, and Mr. Johnson, P. M. of Roy, in behalf of the visiting carriers.

We were also favored with a vocal solo by Miss Gertrude Smith, daughter of the Tucumcari P. M.

Mr. Hood came to the convention thru the request of Hon. H. H. Bellamy, 4th Asst. P. M. General, Washington, D. C.

Several carriers gave interesting talks for the good of the service.

AMERICAN VALUATION

The house passed the new tariff act with provisions providing for computing the ad valorem duties on the value of the product at port of importation or "principal market" in this country. The Senate committee eliminated that provision and provided for retaining the present method of computing duties on the wholesale price in the exporting country on day of shipment. Chairman Fordney of the House committee retorts that no tariff bill can pass the House which does not provide for American valuation. Let us hope he is correct. We need a tariff which gives more protection than the one we have, but the wisest protectionist cannot tell in present conditions, perhaps as to any article, the rate which will be reasonably protective and not prohibitive. Under these conditions we had better get on the best we can under the present laws, until stability is established than to enact any law that does not include American valuation.

There are two reasons for American valuation which are conclusive. The first is that with foreign valuation the amount of duty paid on any commodity varies with the country from which it comes. Costs, and consequently wholesale prices, may and do vary greatly in England, Canada, Germany, Czechoslovakia and Japan. The duties collected on any article should be the same regardless of the country of export. This can be accomplished only by American valuation. We should, therefore, have American valuation regardless of the objections and difficulties—and there are both, and some of them serious. Our importers should be on an equality. We should deal with other nations impartially. Only by American valuation can that be accomplished.

The other reason, also of a self-evident nature, is that foreign valuation makes fraudulent undervaluation easy. It is claimed that the frauds are not common or usually important. To which the reply is that the only frauds we know of are those which are discovered. How much undervaluation is not discovered we do not know. We do know that foreign exporters are ready and willing to aid in undervaluation, that public sentiment in exporting countries and that we have no remedy.—San Francisco Chronicle, May 13, 1922.

BURSUM & MONTOYA

The most recent important accomplishment for New Mexico by Senator H. O. Bursum was the saving of the land offices at Clayton and Fort Sumner by securing the passage of his senate resolution in the house of representatives at the last minute before the order closing these offices went into effect.

Early in the year the commissioner of public lands ordered the offices at Clayton, Ft. Sumner and Turumari discontinued on July 1. To save them required a special act of congress. This Senator Bursum and Congressman Montoya secured for Clayton and Ft. Sumner, thus doing effective service for the people of those two land districts. The business of the Turumari land office will be divided between the other two offices.

Another accomplishment which amounted almost to a special act of congress was the adoption of the amendment adding a federal judge for New Mexico to the federal judge bill which has long been before congress. When the fact that many states of greater population than New Mexico have only one federal judge is considered, the work of Senator Bursum and Congressman Montoya in securing this additional judge in New Mexico shows that they have great influence and political sagacity. —State Record.

ANNOUNCEMENTS OF HOLT FOR SENATE; MONTOYA FOR HOUSE

H. B. Holt of Las Cruces, under date of July 1st, announced his candidacy for the republican senatorial nomination.

Mr. Holt reviews his qualifications and training, which are such as to well equip him for the office, and then makes an extended statement in which he enumerates many of the things he would support for the benefit of New Mexico if elected for the senate.

His statement follows:
To the Citizens of New Mexico:
At the coming State Convention it is my desire to secure the Republican Senatorial nomination.

Having been a lifelong Republican, and during my thirty-one years residence in the state having been an active worker in every political campaign, and having acquired a comprehensive knowledge of the needs of the state, and a wide acquaintance among its citizens, and believing myself to be qualified by education, training and experience, to represent the people of our commonwealth, I feel justified in seeking the high honor.

I believe that harmony and efficient organization are essential to party success; that the will of the majority, fairly expressed, should control in party councils; that questions of party policy should be submitted to the duly accredited representatives of the party for decision, whereby harmony may be promoted and maintained; that party rewards should be accorded to those possessed of the requisite qualifications and who by unwavering loyalty and active and faithful service have proven themselves worthy.

During my connection with the organization in Dona Ana county, republican majorities have steadily increased from less than one hundred until they reached the high water mark of twelve hundred at the last general election. Such results are secured by efficient public service and party harmony and organization.

For many years I have served as a member of the State Central Committee, during which time I have participated in the conduct of numerous state campaigns.

As a member of the House of Representatives of the Territorial Legislature in 1907, and as a member of the First State Senate, I deemed it a privilege to serve the people of my county and state, and during my incumbency there was conferred upon me the honor of being chosen as majority floor leader. From such service valuable training and experience was acquired.

Among other things the record will disclose that I was a pioneer in favor of anti-gambling legislation, state-wide prohibition and woman's suffrage.

I believe that public office is a public trust, that the chosen repre-

representative of the people in the halls of Congress should consider himself the servant of his constituents, and that his first duty is to promote their interests in every way. However I am not unmindful of the fact that a Senator is likewise the representative of the entire nation, and as such must be qualified to deal with important national legislation and matters of grave international policy.

I strongly favor a comprehensive conservation and reclamation policy, national and state, for protection and development of national resources and the increase of production and wealth. Especially important is the speedy enactment of the Smith-McNary bill, and under the provisions of which the early reclamation of the middle Rio Grande valley will be possible. I favor also a more energetic prosecution of the reconstruction policies of our national administration, fair and just regulation of capital and labor; a still more rigid economy in the administration of public affairs; both national and state; the speedy reduction of taxes; the strict and impartial enforcement of existing laws; the early enactment of bonus legislation, and the extension and perfection of facilities for vocational and agricultural training; the development and construction of a comprehensive system of public roads and highways; the enactment of a constitutional child labor law; and particularly a liberal educational policy whereby increased and improved facilities shall be afforded for the training of our youth.

The livestock industry should be fostered and encouraged, and, together with the agricultural, mining and other great natural resources, should be developed; and a more liberal policy should be pursued in rendering immediately available the benefits of the farm loan and war finance legislation.

There should be embodied in the pending tariff bill provisions for the protection of the farmer, the cattle raiser, the sheep, mohair and wool grower, the products of our mines, and of American labor, against the encroachments of foreign competition. Protection is essential to our welfare.

Construction is the platform upon which I propose to wage my campaign for nomination, and if nominated, for election.

I believe that New Mexico contains within itself elements and resources which if properly developed will bring prosperity and happiness to her people, and anything that builds up and does not tear down, that brings to labor a fair and continuous recompense and to capital a fair and safe return, it shall be my endeavor to promote.

I am not afraid of the so-called farm bloc if such organization is necessary to bring to the farmer of my valley and of every other section of the state every reasonable opportunity to produce and market his crops under the most favorable and profitable conditions.

I am not ashamed of having been a life long friend of the cattle men and of the sheep men, and if they ever needed a friend that could help it is now.

I believe that the railroads that have helped to build up the west, like every other enterprise, should receive fair treatment and be encouraged in every proper way.

I am glad to be friendly to every person and to every industry that moves ahead and produces and that builds up.

And finally, I believe that the men who makes all this forward progress possible, who tills the mine, tills the soil, works in the sheep camp, rides the open range, sweats in the shops, who is really the bone and sinew of American industry in time of peace and the bulwark of American safety in time of war, the American laborer, is entitled to and shall receive my fullest consideration and my strongest support. Proper living conditions, a fair share of the wealth which could not be created without him, a chance to educate and support his family properly, pay and hours that will enable him and his family to participate in the pleasures of life, are his due.

Upon this brief statement of principles, I submit my case to the people.

H. B. HOLT.

Having returned from Washington a few days ago and the political campaign of 1922 for congressional and state officers approaching, I desire to announce myself as a candidate for renomination to Congress, subject to the action of the Republican State Convention.

Aside from national legislation necessary to the state, which has been accomplished and is now law, recommendations and appointments to office under the republican administration which has been attended to by the Republican U. S. Senator and myself for New Mexico, my platform has consisted during the last session, or present rather, and will consist in the next regular session, in promoting and actively helping in the passage of the Smith-McNary Reclamation bill, which will be considered, and I have no doubt passed, at that session.

The measure means all for the State, as it does for the whole west and south, not only in the central Rio Grande valley, but in other sections of the same which may organize projects and reclaim hundreds of thousands of acres of land to settlement, cultivation, producing crops, wealth and happiness of home builders, increasing the population and tax returns. This may appear to be a dream, but it will be made real by federal aid for such enterprises, for I consider that the reclaiming of arid lands, drainage, flood protection and modern systems of irrigation are an impossibility and beyond the reach of communities, private effort or limited capital. It must come and will come next year by government aid, as a business proposition to the whole country for the opening and development of immense areas, and woe to the state or community that needs this aid, if invited to avail itself of this opportunity and fails to take it; it will mean decadence and going back instead of forward as the necessity and the times demand. It is a national movement through Congress for home builders, production and commerce. It will vivify all arteries of trade and turn the desert and the swamp into a blooming paradise of production.

New Mexico needs this government aid, and from the moment I arrived in Washington in April of last year and was sworn in as a member of the House of Congress, I got in touch with the men of the West and of the South interested in this great plan, and concentrated my efforts with them for the passage of the bill.

I am a member of the Committee of Western and Southern members to promote and keep it alive before the Congress until final success is achieved and the fountain of wealth is turned loose from the national Treasury or through its action, where it may be accepted by cooperation and intense effort on the part of states and communities where it may be needed. I know I am in touch with every member of Congress that is interested in this law and I have followed and seconded every step so far to carry it through.

If renominated and re-elected, my efforts will be redoubled and when success is achieved, I will deem it, as the crowning success of Congress in which I have had a small part.

I ask my renomination at the hands of the electorate of New Mexico, upon my official record in Congress in voting for and supporting all National and Administration measures for the reconstruction of the country. I have in my office a certified copy of my individual voting record, officially certified to by the Clerk of the House, which will prove my assertion, lying innocuous by enemies of the Republican party to the contrary notwithstanding. The record is here and may be published if desired.

In the year and a half that I have served constantly as your member of Congress, I have attended to hundreds of matters confided to me by my constituents, ex-service men for compensation, vocational training, hospitalization, insurance, etc., giving each case that attention before the Veterans' Bureau to which the defenders of the country are entitled to from their Representative in Congress. I have attended to many land matters before the Interior Department, General Land Office, for old and new settlers with success, Indian matters, immigration matters, pensions, claims, postoffice matters, mail routes and rural carriers, by the hundreds, which I know those for whom I have attended them will bear out that I have met with success in most cases.

It takes some time to get acquainted with your colleagues, members of Congress, 435 of them, and then

Senators also, so as to be able to help in matters they want and to ask for their help; it takes some time to get acquainted with all government departments, their heads and sub-heads, so as to go where you should go and get what you want for your constituents, information, etc., from an appointment to a lucrative office, to the effect of bugs, insects and larvae upon certain plants, trees, etc., to show the variety. One individual in the state wanted to know the history of the transit of Venus in 1913. That was a poser for me, but I wended my way to the Meteorological Division and they put me wise to the Astronomy Observatory and in a few days I received a communication of the whole story, telling of the phases, opposition of the planets and the Lord knows what. I could not understand it, nor tried to—my mind was in the Smith-McNary bill—but I sent the bunch to him and I hope he is happy.

I have succeeded in getting very thoroughly acquainted with the membership and departments, which will be an advantage to the state if re-nominated and re-elected.

I am a member of the Committee on Public Lands, in good standing with all its membership, proven by the success I had in having a favorable report for the retention of the two discontinued land offices at Clayton and Fort Sumner, which are now retained by law, and my success in a favorable report from the same committee on the "Small Holdings Act" which affects settlers in the state and which is now a law. Also in a favorable report from the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds upon the Las Vegas Post-office, which I succeeded in getting a favorable report, and is now for passage in the Union Calendar of the House when reached. As a member of the Indian Affairs Committee in double quick time, a report on the amendment was approved for the $35,000 required for the rebuilding of the destroyed by fire assembly hall in the Albuquerque Indian School. And so on the work is carried forward if you are active and know how—the ins and outs and twists of Congressional procedure.

I am a member of the Committee on Committees, headed by Leader Mondell, which appoints and reforms House Committees, special and standing, through which you get in touch with leaders of the different states.

All in all, it is a man's job to be in Congress and actively, constancy, tact and insistency are necessary qualifications to make your combinations, and obtain results. Many times you have to wait and watch for the psychological moment and not miss it so as to forge ahead, among so many that are doing the same thing. As to social activities, they are gay, from an occasional trip, by invitation, down and up the broad and beautiful Potomac in the palatial presidential yacht, the Mayflower, White House receptions, etc., to an invitation from a mummy-looking Shinto to a lecture on the cultivation of a special variety of phytaulthium as it is done in Japan.

The first thing a congressman has to do in Washington, as soon as social invitations commence to show, is to provide himself with a disguise commonly known as "a full dress suit and tie hat," which with your little constitutes the open seafront to all social functions.

Pardon my dissertation, but I desire to assure the electorate of New Mexico that while the office of Congressman is honorable, high and attractive, yet it is exacting as my constituents, like those from other states and the proverbial Missourians, like to "be shown" and expect results.

I am in your hands as a candidate for renomination and have given you a little history of things accomplished, and also of the inside life of a Congressman, which I hope will be of interest to you in making my bow for your support in my desired renomination.

As to my prospects for re-nomination, I can assure you and feel confident that I will lick the best the Democrats can put up, as I did last election, the strongest man that party had. Republicans will be needed in the lower House of Congress next session, so be wise.

I remain, very truly, your most obedient public servant.

(Signed) NESTOR MONTOYA,
Member of Congress, District of New Mexico.

The president of the United States has just made the solemn statement, which must find a responsive echo in every true American heart: "The foremost thought in the constitution is the right of every man to the pursuit of happiness. No man is free to live and act as he pleases in any America when any man is denied by anybody the right to work and live by that work. It does not matter who denies."

Ky Klux Klanmen who first whip and then run out of town those who do not please them; the murderers of Horrin, Ill.; the capitalists who grind wages down below living possibilities; and the unions who forbid others to work in the places they vacate on strike should all take this statement of Warren G. The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord

A Remarkable New Cord Tire at a Popular Price

Here is a big, sturdy, long-wearing new tire built to satisfy the buyer on every point of mileage, quality and price.

It is designed especially for the man who wants the essential advantages of cord tire performance at the lowest possible price.

It is designed to offer the buyer a quality product at a price even lower than he has formerly paid for a "long discount" tire. It has a different tread from the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and its selling price ranges from 20 to 25% less.

This new tire is the Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord it is liberally oversize in all straight-side sizes, the 4 1/2-inch tire, for example, actually measuring nearly 5 inches.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, its foundation is genuine high-grade long-staple cotton.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it embodies the efficient group-ply construction, a Goodyear patent.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it is the product of an experienced company which has a world-wide reputation to safeguard.

Look at the prices of the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord, listed below.

Compare these prices with net prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires of unknown reputation and value.

Why take a chance on such tires?—you know it doesn't pay.

You can get the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord, as well as the famous All-Weather Tread Cord, from any of the Goodyear Service Station Dealers listed here.

PROBLEMS OF THE FARMER

It is not controlled by any individual, but is open to anyone who desires to air his views on agricultural subjects. PRODUCER, CONSUMER AND COMPANY

The solution of our economic problems demands the most perfect cooperation between producers and consumers with the minimum of interference on the part of the "company." Just at present we seem to have too much "company"—too many who add to the family expense without adding to the family income.

Suppose we invite the "company" to close the door from the outside and dismiss them from our thoughts while we concern ourselves exclusively with the problems of the producers and the consumers. After we have eliminated the "company" who are not producers we discover that all producers are consumers and all consumers are producers. In other words, producers and consumers are identical. However, none of these consumers consume only the products of their own toil while many of them consume none of the products of their own toil. Many things are consumed a long distance from the place of production and many are consumed a long time after they are produced. The toll that is collected along the road between producer and consumer and the storage that is charged for storing things between the time they are produced and the time they are consumed have been the cause of some complaints. The similarity of the grievances of wage earners have led them to organize labor unions for the purpose of removing the causes of these grievances. The similarity of the grievances of individual farmers has led to the organization of the farm bureau and other farm organizations for the purpose of solving the farmers' problems.

The "company" which grafts off from the wage earner is greatly concerned about keeping the farmers and the labor unions from cooperating. The farmer is a capitalist who is interested in cheap labor. The laborer is a consumer and is interested in cheap food. By harping on these and other things the "company"—the plunderer—has kept the laborer and the farmer from cooperating.

So long as we fight each other instead of fighting the common enemy—so long as there is lack of cooperation in our fighting we must expect to be at the mercy of the common plunderer. On the other hand, if the best brains of all groups of producers and consumers could get together and pull together the solution of our problem would not be long delayed.

NEW HOME

Everything looking very good, corn ready to lay-by, some beginning to tassel.

S. E. Lane was driving through our community with a bunch of men the last of last week.

Frank Ham took J. F. Sefton to Daltart, Sunday.

G. J. Daitas and family was visiting at the A. E. Snyder home, Sunday.

Oh my! How boys will learn! Our boys have really learned what the 4th of July is. They staged their first Fourth Sunday. It consisted of races of all kinds and steer riding. The horse race was between Leo Butt and Vergil Dillinger, with Henry Baker as umpire. Vergil won after giving Leo six feet at the start, four to run on and two to kick with. As to steer riding there was no decision to be made. He would not catch and they could all ride good. The boys feel they could celebrate the Fourth of July every Sunday.

H. P. Butt and family made calls over the community, Sunday. Everything is very quiet, nothing but the everyday program, no church, no Sunday school. Our social spirit failed to bud out this spring—must have been winter killed.

Our supper froze to death the 4th, and showed no signs of life till Sunday.

TAXATION AND BONDS

Since the first of January hardly a week has passed that some city or school district has not issued bonds for new buildings, paving, water works, sewer, or other public improvements.

These issues range in amounts from over $400,000 for new school buildings at Albuquerque down to $10,000 issues in rural districts. The total of the new issues in New Mexico this year must exceed two million dollars by this time, exclusive of the state highway bonds of one million.

Everyone of these issues are desired by the people in the several communities and most of them have carried by a more than ten to one vote—many of them were unanimous.

The State Record believes that these improvements are necessary and desirable if the state is to build and prosper, the people who voted for them believe the same thing or they would not have done so. This being the case it is certainly most unreasonable and untenable for the very people who initiate these improvements to keep up a continual agitation in regard to high taxes and extravagance when they are "paying for just exactly what they ordered." If we are to have roads, schools and improvements let's be good enough sports to pay the bills; if we are not willing to pay the bills let's go back to the pack burro and the tallow candle and send the kids out to hoe corn and herd goats—either go forward with less fuss and hypocrisy, or admit we are collectively incompetent to carry the burden of modern civilization and drop back to the methods of 1747.

SENECA ITEMS

Miss Ted Lakey is visiting the Jim Barton family. Miss Ted is a child-hood playmate of the Barton children, and a niece of Mrs. Carpenter. Miss Flora Murgenson returned to her former home at Farmersville, Texas, after a visit of several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Knolls and family.

Quite a destructive hail storm swept thru this vicinity July 6th, accompanied by a heavy rain. The crops are small yet and the damage is smaller than might have been later.

A niece and nephew of T. P. Riep are visitors at the ranch. The young couple are from West Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard and daughter spent Sunday at Grandview visiting Geo. Garden on the Hull ranch.

Seneca baseball team played at Wheelless, Okla., last Saturday a week ago. They won easily over the Wheelless team by a score of 6 to 13 in Seneca's favor. On last Saturday Wheelless played Seneca on the Seneca diamond and beat them by one score. Seneca's second team evened it up from them by beating Wheelless second team by a score of 6 in Seneca's favor.

This is the first game Seneca has lost this year and the statement submitted a few weeks ago in these items was incorrect.

Roy Rinkor gave a dance at his bachelor home on Saturday evening. Quite a crowd attended and all reported a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ott Kennan have returned from their trip to Missouri, where they were called by the death of Mrs. Kennan's father, Mr. Brownfield, who was one of the first settlers on the Seneca creek, having built a nice home and one of the best orchards in the county. Mr. Kennan expects to move to Missouri this fall as his wife has better health there.

Mr. Forehand, of near Texline, spent the day last Wednesday visiting the Knolls family. Mr. Forehand is quite a hero, altho never in battle, having been left a few years ago by the death of his wife with five small children, one a tiny baby two weeks old. He has kept them all with him, farmed a large acreage, cooked, washed, mended, canned fruit and vegetables, raised chickens and done all that a man and woman both must do on a farm. Mr. Forehand is very proud of his

FREIGHT CAR SHORTAGE

Wednesday, July 15, 1915. During the past week Wm. W. Babson has been in New York in consultation with important railway interests. He has expressed belief that a freight car shortage is inevitable this fall, and everything possible should be done to prevent it. Concerning the same Mr. Babson states as follows:

"There are various causes which indicate a serious congestion of freight this fall. First there is a real shortage of equipment in good condition. Then, out the year the equipment of most railroads was allowed to run down. Little was done to repair this equipment until this year. During the past few months railroads have been endeavoring to do five years' repair work in one. As a result a great many freight cars are either in the process of being repaired or are waiting to be repaired. In either case they are out of service. It is true that many of these cars will be back in service by winter but they will not be available by fall. This means that there are fewer cars available today to haul freight than are usually available."

"Usually the railroads haul their coal during the spring and summer. The winter supply is usually delivered by the railroads during the summer months. Thus for this year very little coal has been hauled. Only immediate needs have been taken care of. Yet only two months remain before people will be starting their furnace fires. On the assumption that the miners will soon be back to work this means that the railroads will be deluged with coal during the remainder of the year. Every available car capable of hauling coal will be pressed into service and the coal tonnage should be very heavy."

"The outlook today is for good crops this fall. At prevailing prices the farmers will want to sell their grain and move it at once. This means that the railroads will be called upon to move a tremendous amount of grain while they are attempting to move the coal. There are factors which lead one to believe that manufacturing as a whole will be more active this fall than it has been at any time this year. Fundamental statistics indicate that the low point in business will be reached this summer. Thus the railroads will be taxed by hauling raw materials in general and manufactured products of all sorts."

Mr. Babson was then asked what effect such a congestion would have upon commodity prices and securities. To this he replied as follows: "Freight car congestion inevitably leads to higher prices. This is not only true of commodities but of securities. Prices are determined not so much by supply and demand as they are by the ability to transport goods. It is generally used 30 railroads about May, any day that there are only two or three. The price of all the potatoes goes up. Another day there is a surplus of only two or three of all the potatoes. The price is not determined by the quantity of a product but by the ability to transport it. As the party nominee would merit, and would receive, the support of republicans in every precinct. He would unite the party in San Miguel county as no other candidate would, and would poll

As a result these commodities will temporarily strengthen in price at these points. Such a result is inevitable.

Strengthening commodity prices are often—though not always—preceded by strengthening security prices. The stock market usually discounts prices in the commodity market. Thus a congestion of freight tonnage mean both advancing commodity and security prices. Furthermore, in the case of a freight congestion, the railroads should temporarily at least, show very handsome earnings. Already the railroads are showing very good earnings owing to the high rates and reduced operating expenses, notwithstanding the fact that they are hauling very little freight. If the time comes when the railroads will carry 100 per cent capacity, these earnings should be very large. Large railroad earnings should tend to bid higher prices for railroad securities. A word to the wise is sufficient."

General business according to the index figure of the Balconchard stands at 17 per cent below normal, the same as last week.

NOMINATION IS SEEKING MAN TO RUN FOR SENATE

Santa Fe, July 9.—A coalition of ten described by campaign orators and publicity bureaus, but seldom existing in reality, is found in the race for the republican nomination for U. S. senator. The unusual spectacle is that of the nomination going after the man. The man is Stephen R. Davis, Jr., of Las Vegas, now serving as a justice of the supreme court.

For nearly a year there has been a growing belief among a large number of party leaders that Judge Davis ought to be the nominee of the party, to make the race against A. A. Jones, present incumbent, who is certain to be renominated by the democrats. Reasons for this selection as given by leaders behind the movement, are many and varied.

One of the most widely known republicans in the state said:

"While we want to name a man who is qualified in every way to serve the people in this high office, we also want to have a nominee who can win. Therefore, the selection of Judge Davis is not unmixed with expediency—or, practical politics, to put it plainly. The judge is recognized by the judiciary and by the bar generally as one of the foremost lawyers of the southwest. Not only that, but he is a student in many lines, a clear thinker and successful in his own business affairs. What is of great value to New Mexico, he has made an exhaustive study of irrigation and reclamation. As the state's special irrigation commissioner, he has been all over the country attending preliminary conferences, and will represent the state at the final conference to be held in Santa Fe on August 1, by Secretary Herbert Hoover when the several states affected will reach a binding decision with respect to reclamation of the Colorado river basin. On the political side, his record is above reproach. He has not been a candidate for office and has not been involved in any factional differences. As the party nominee he would merit, and would receive, the support of republicans in every precinct. He would unite the party in San Miguel county as no other candidate would, and would poll more votes in East Las Vegas than a candidate from some other section."

Whether Judge Davis might be nominated is only part of the problem. Almost as serious a question is whether he would accept the nomination. It is generally known that his preference is to remain in the bench, but to return to the practice of law. However, he is not unmindful of the great honor, and of the service which he might render in so high an office. One of his close friends has declared that the nomination, if made by the convention, would not be declined. This is as near an authoritative statement as it is possible to obtain at this time. Judge Davis himself has received an accomplished listener, but his activity has not gone beyond listening.

Supporters of Judge Davis say they are not lacking in respect for the claims of others who may be candidates for the nomination. There is no reason that such claims should not be presented to the convention, which will pass upon the merits of all candidates to make the decision.

WASHINGTON COMMENT

Louis James, nationally known aviator, swung from one plane to another by means of a rope ladder. In some way the two planes did not separate promptly enough; his ladder swung him against the propeller of the machine from which he had jumped, and he was literally cut to pieces, in mid-air.

Madame Georges Breyer, French woman of Lyons, chartering an airship for a hurried trip from a vacation resort to Naples, found nature faster than the machine, and bore a son 6,000 feet in the air. Both she and the boy were safely landed, and later she purchased the machine, which had thus become immortal as the first to give life.

Flying is yet in its swaddling clothes. We do not but begin to know what we have yet to learn about the conquest of the air. But long before births in airplanes are as common as births on steamers or trains, civic consciousness will have awakened to the enormity of permitting brave but foolhardy men to risk their lives in needless "stunts" for the thrilling of gaping sightseers.

"A MAN'S HOUSE IS HIS CASTLE" HELD GOOD DOCTRINE FOR U. S.

Washington, July 13.—Theodore G. Hitley, solicitor general of the Department of Labor, says: "Immigration laws of the United States, limiting the influx of foreign-born persons to this country, are justified when it is considered that it is the duty of the government to protect American ideals and safeguard its citizens."

"The United States government has the same right to close the gates of Ellis Island to undesirable aliens as the head of a family has to protect his home. But it is essential that the small quota of immigrants admitted under the strict laws administered by the immigration authorities be welcomed wholeheartedly by the American public," he said.

"Immigrants who pass the tests at Ellis Island are worthy of the friendship and advice of their American neighbors. It is the solemn duty of every American citizen who loves

MAN HAS RIGHT TO WORK OR STRIKE, SAYS MECHEM

Mountainair, N. M., July 4.—Remarks by Gov. Mechem at the 4th of July celebration held here today are regarded as significant in view of the fact that a strike affecting thousands of railway employes in the state is now well under way. Governor Mechem said:

"Every man has a right to quit work, or to strike, if he wishes. No man, unless he is convicted of an offense against the law, can be compelled to work. "Every man has the right to work, if he can secure a job. "One of the duties of the executive department of this state, as I understand it, is to see that these rights are respected and protected. As your governor, I shall do so to the best of my ability, backed by the laws and constitution of the state."

An alien who was trying to be excused from jury duty said to the judge, "I can't understand good English." "Never mind," snapped the judge. "You won't hear any in this court."
