

7-21-1900

Albuquerque Weekly Citizen, 07-21-1900

T. Hughes

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/abq_citizen_news

Recommended Citation

Hughes, T.. "Albuquerque Weekly Citizen, 07-21-1900." (1900). https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/abq_citizen_news/318

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the New Mexico Historical Newspapers at UNM Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in Albuquerque Citizen, 1891-1906 by an authorized administrator of UNM Digital Repository. For more information, please contact disc@unm.edu.

Give Your Horse a Chance!

It down with pails of water when the powder men approached. They were in the act of placing a hundred pounds of dynamite under the building when a man rushed out with drawn revolver.

1

10

1894

102

The possibility of the accident occurring will probably remain a mystery. There were no witnesses, and it is hard to imagine people enjoying a plunge, Harry being one of the number, when finally his companions mated him and started swimming. It is probable that the cause of the accident was that the men, finding him, they turned their attention to the water and after a thorough search on the part of several good divers his lifeless form was brought to the surface. Harry was a very strong swimmer and was hurriedly resuscitated, but the spark of life had left his body before he arrived.

Harry was a bright boy, having passed the thirteenth class last spring, and was a favorite with all with whom he came in contact. He was a thorough Christian, being a member of the Congregational church, an interested scholar, and a member of the Y. M. C. A. He was a member of the Christian Endeavor society, where he was beginning to take a bold line in the work for the Master on the good literature committee. He was a good student, and a very worthy man. He was the death of an older sister, a younger brother and sister, and many young friends. The sad affair has cast a gloom over the community, as it is bereaved of a bright and promising young man. His sympathy in this time of bereavement.

All that was earthly of Harry Biddridge, the young man who lost his life in the nataratorium Friday night, was laid to rest yesterday morning in Fairmount cemetery. Funeral services were conducted by the Congregational church, which was filled to overflowing with friends of the deceased and bereaved family. The simple, but impressive service was conducted by Rev. J. A. Holmes, assisted by Rev. Wm. H. Holmes, Messrs. Lamphorn, Nettleton, Washburn and Stone, rendered three appropriate selections. The beautiful white casket was covered with an abundance of fresh pink flowers, arranged in designs and inscribed with the name of the deceased
"C. E." monogram from the society to which the young man belonged. The palitres were chosen from among his young companions, and were Harry Hartman, Fred L. Williams, Charles Mann, Lawrence Dy, Harry Fuks and Thomas Hughes, Jr.

A large number of friends followed the remains to the cemetery in carriage and private vehicle, where a short service was held. A final address and prayer was offered before interment was made.

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY.

The following resolutions of sympathy were adopted last evening by the Christian Endeavor society of the Congregational church:

That both pleased our hearts

our friend and coworker, Harry Baldwin; and,

"Whereas, by his death this Christian Knickerbocker society loses one who was beginning to take an active part in the work of the society, in the cause of the Master, and was budding one young Christian manhood; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we do hereby express our regret of being deprived of his fellowship, and the Christian influence he has upon the young men around him; and be it

"Resolved, That we do hereby express our belief and our rejoicing in the same, that it has been given him to see the King in His beauty; and, be it

"Resolved, That we tender our deepest sympathy to his parents and brothers and sisters and friends, in their love and care of Him who hath said:

"I will not leave you comfortless; I will come to you. Yet a little while, and the world shall see Me no more; but ye see Me no more, that I live ye shall live also."— be it further

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be recorded in the minutes of this society, and a copy be sent to the bereaved family, as an expression of our thought for them at this time. His respectfully submitted by the committee,

"H. S. LITHGOW,
"GRACE E. CORNELL,
"MRS. J. F. PALMER.

CHURCH INCIDENT.

Albuquerque Young Ladies Took from the Denver House of the Good Shepherd.

Chas. Cunningham, an Englishman who has been an inmate for some time of the House of the Good Shepherd, was yesterday removed to the Desamoon case home. This was accomplished by the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, a monastery of the Methodist church Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Grace Cunningham, an orphan, was to Albuquerque with a family when she was six years old. She was educated there with the Methodist church, but she left the place and voluntarily entered the House of the Good Shepherd here. This circumstance sent her to the House of the Good Shepherd church in New York City.

Finally Mrs. Harwood resolved to receive the girl from what she considered a wretched place, thinking Miss Cunningham would make the right use of her chance for the future.

Miss Cunningham will go to her married sister in Indiana within the next few days, remaining in the Desamoon home until her departure—Des Moines Times.

PUTTING IN "THE ACRE"

Joe Caudaier Slashed With Knife Jim Robinson.

"The Acre," on North Third street was the scene of a general fight last evening. The fight lasted about eight or ten minutes. Valentine's saloon, 1125 N. Third.

Joe Caudaier and two colored men, Grant Davis and Jim Robinson, got into a bitter quarrel over a man

To be sure Davis, drew a knife and slashed at Candelaria, making an ugly wound on the right side, underneath the shoulder. The colored man promptly escaped, but, several hours later he was captured by Police in Maine and Love in an adobe house about Tijera avenue, where friends had snuggled him away. Following the arrest of Davis, the officers put in Robinson, who was with Davis and himself violated the law. The wounded man was taken to the hospital by his brother-in-law, Pascual Curiel, where the wound was dressed and pain, noticed not serious.

At the trial this afternoon, before Justice Crawford, the testimony produced showed that Robinson cut the cutting, and his trial on the charge of attempting to kill will take place tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Great Davis for fighting, was fined $100.00, a man named Sedillo, who was in the quarrel, and threw a rock through window, was given fifteen days in the chain-gang.

