STOP THE SNEEZE, PREVENT DISEASE

Epidemic of Grip Spreads All Over the Country.

12,200 DEATHS ANNUALLY

Best Preventive Is Fresh Air and Outdoor Exercise—Kissing and Ill Ventilated Homes and Offices Spread the Malady—First Recorded Case in the Year 1173.

+ BAN ON KISSES AMONG GUARDS AGAINST GRIP. +
+ Don't kiss infected persons or any one if you yourself are infected. +
+ Avoid the careless cougher, the careless sneezer and the careless spitter. +
+ Don't work or live in stuffy, overheated, ill ventilated offices or homes. +
+ Sleep outdoors if possible; take outdoor exercise, but avoid chilling. +
+ Don't wear heavy flannels. The same weight the year round is best. +
+ Avoid the common towel and drinking cup and all articles used by infected persons. +
+ Isolate grip patients. +
+ Don't rely on alcohol for a cure. Get a doctor. +

With epidemics of grip—the old fashioned "influenza"—our grandmothers knew—reported in various parts of the United States and others threatened, the above "red flag" warnings were given by Dr. W. O. Rucker, assistant surgeon general of the United States public health service.

"Grip is not to be sneezed at," Dr. Rucker said. "Latest statistics show it causes the death of 12,200 persons annually in the United States. Right now is the middle of the grip season. It begins in November, with the advent of cold weather, closed windows and doors and hot furnaces, and attains its maximum in February and early March."

"We must keep up our physical defenses, our preparedness, against this germ disease. The best preparedness is fresh air, outdoor sleeping and plenty of outdoor exercise. Sneezing, coughing and expectoration are the principal modes of transmission, from secretions of the mouth and nose."

"Children's games spread the grip. Kissing between infected and non-infected persons should be avoided. Guard against being sneezed or coughed at or upon. Isolation of infected persons, if possible, and avoidance of towels or other articles they may touch to their hands, mouths or noses should be observed."

Poor Ventilation Chief Cause. "Overheated, poorly ventilated houses and offices and lack of exercise are the chief causes of the disease."

Dr. Rucker said medical records show grip is an old human foe. The first epidemic was recorded in 1173, and the first in the western hemisphere in 1927, in Massachusetts, spreading as far south as Chile. One freak and unsolved feature of grip epidemics is that they travel east to west in a community. The bureau of vital statistics in Philadelphia issued 350 burial permits during the three days, the majority of the deaths being due directly or indirectly to grippe. This is more than double the ordinary death rate.

It is estimated that nearly 15,000 persons in Philadelphia alone are suffering with the disease. Attendance at all the public schools has been greatly reduced, and in several sections of the state schools and colleges have been forced to close.

Girls of Chicago have formed a club, and all have sworn to uphold this pledge:

"We, the undersigned members of the Anti-kissing club of Chicago, hereby promise to refrain from osculation until the present epidemic of influenza is declared an end."

"We do not want it understood we are suffering a hardship," explained Louise Brennan, president, who is coy and demure. "We are merely campaigning for health."

What of the Husband? "If a prospective husband doesn't think enough of his fiancée to forego kissing," ventured another member, "he should keep right on going. I think Dr. Robertson is entirely correct in advising against kissing, and we are willing to abide by the rules and do what we can to end the epidemic—of colds, not kissing."

The young women would not explain what will be the penalty if a member breaks her pledge.

"The punishment will not be suspension," said Miss Grief, "for that would mean too great a liberty for the member suspended. On the other hand, if a member is caught kissing who will not be permitted to withdraw from the club, but will be visited with a perfectly dreadful punishment."

No One in Washington. "Who said the president was not a good politician?" asked Congressman Borland of Missouri, and the reply was, "No one in Washington." The fact is that many people who supposed that Woodrow Wilson was a political novice, have changed their minds. They think he is as good a politician as Roosevelt was in his best and most successful days.

Without Making a Dent. It must be a queer sort of a congressman who cannot make a dent in four years. But it seems that there are men who come to Washington and remain for that length of time and they never become known. Generally such men are retired by their home people, for the folks like to have a man make some sort of a showing and get at least a local reputation even if he fails to attract any attention nationally.

NOTICE TO THE FARMERS.

The new flour mills for the valley are nearing completion, and will be ready to mill all kinds of grain on or about October 1st, and we will be in position to buy all Indian Corn, Kaffir corn, milo maize, etc., or any grain that will make feed, and pay the highest cash prices for the same. Especially Indian corn. If you have some good white corn that will make good meal we will pay you a fancy price for it.

We also expect to buy all wheat raised in the valley and will pay about ten cents per bushel more than you can get by shipping, or in other words will pay within twenty cents per bushel of the Kansas City cash grain market when it would cost you about 30c to 35c per bushel to deliver it there besides the shrinkage. We expect to furnish you with a much better flour than you have been getting at no additional cost.

Kindly soliciting your patronage, we beg to remain
Very respectfully,

Grandmothers Entertained.

At the home of Mrs. H. S. Barr, in La Huerta, Wednesday afternoon, a number of grandmothers were royally entertained. Mrs. Barr was assisted in entertaining her guests by her daughter, Miss Barr, and Mesdames Duke and Wallace, while a number of little children, granddaughters of the hostess, and others, brightened the scene by their sweet childish faces.

The grandmothers engaged in various kinds of fancy work and in cheerful conversation, and the hours passed on flying wings. Refreshments in two courses were served and a fitting finale to the afternoon's pleasures were the recitations in Negro dialect by Madam Thorne, one of the guests.

Reprints were received from three Indies, those present being Mesdames Muigett, J. R. and J. B. Boyd, Sam R. Smith, Thorne, Moore, Rurey, Rayroux and Sarah Crawford. The entire affair was very pleasant and the grandmothers are anxiously awaiting the next invitation.

Mrs. Frank Miser entertained thirty of her young friends Tuesday night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Heard. "Pitch" was the game of the evening with music and pleasant conversation. Watermelons in abundance were served and the usual good time "where youth and pleasure meet" was enjoyed by all. Those partaking of the pleasures of the evening were: Grace Daugherty, Ruth Daugherty, Lucille Johnson, George and Robert Hemmaway, Lyton Lewis, Elmore Jones, Helen Wallace, Nettie Smith, Ted Pate, Mary Mize, Grace Stevenson, William Reed, Jim and Charlie Walker, Everett Grantham, Norine Powell, Gladys Bush, Helen McIlvain, Dora Smith, Paul Joyce, John R. Snow, Helen Wright, Lillian Crawford, Allen Tipton, Frank Lucas, Ada Fowler, Dorothy McIntosh, Mary Ussery, and Sam Roberts. The young folks cut for the prize, a basket of fine home-made candy, and Allen Tipton was the lucky winner.

A good rain fell last night to keep the dry land farmers in good spirits and the cane and grain growing.

OLD PARTY STRIFE TO BE RENEWED

Partisan Politics Will Drive Apathy Out of Trenches.

FIGHT TO BE A REAL ONE

Unlike That of 1912, When Family Quarrel Overshadowed Party Differences, 1916 Will Provide Old Time Struggle, Much to the Delight of Political Leaders.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington. — [Special].— There will be partisanship enough before this campaign is over. Never fear about "General Apathy" holding sway all the time.

There is plenty of evidence that, notwithstanding the differences between the parties are not much in the limelight, the fact that a man calls himself a Republican or another calls himself a Democrat remains, and the men with different party names know there is a mighty difference.

They are going to drive "General Apathy" off the field and take possession, giving the country an exhibition of the old party strife that is dear to the hearts of the politicians. The men who are Republicans and the men who are Democrats are going to make a campaign of it, and they are going to have a real fight.

Differs From Four Years Ago.

Four years ago the Democrats and Republicans were not fighting each other. Then the two factions of the Republican party hated each other with such fervency as to make their feeling toward the ancient enemy comparatively mild and almost lamb-like. We all remember that campaign. It was like that when families fall out—the various factions are more bitter against each other than they are against former foes.

And that brings up another idea: Do families which have had a feud within their own households ever fully unite? Are parties different from families in this respect?

Dangling a Hope.

Various criticisms of the Philippine bill were made by Republicans in both houses, particularly against the preamble which promised independence in the future. But it took two Democratic senators to make telling remarks on the subject. Said Lord of Oregon: "The preamble is said to hold out hope of self government and liberty. It sort of dangles it before their eyes and then grabs it back before they can get hold of it."

Vardaman of Mississippi put his criticism in the form of a question: "Does not the senator understand that the rights of the Filipinos are so restricted, so circumscribed, that really it is a mere plaything or make believe which has been accorded them; that they are given no substantial right of self government?"

And yet when the final vote was taken Democrats and Republicans alike voted for the bill.

Danish West Indies.

The proposed acquisition of the Danish West Indies is not a party matter. The most earnest advocates of the treaty are found on the Republican side. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts has always insisted that the islands should be acquired. He has gone all supported other measures of expansion, such as acquisition of the Philippines, Hawaii, the canal zone, fuel holds in Central America and the Caribbean. At present both parties are divided upon the acquisition of acquiring the Danish West Indies.

Under British Guns.

Possibly it was because Senator Lane was disappointed when the conferees on the naval bill dropped out a provision for a naval station in Oregon, but when the bill was finally approved he made this observation: "The conferees have approved an item carrying $2,000,000 for the improvement of a certain navy yard for the building of a large type of battleship, and yet such ships cannot get in or out of the harbor without going under the guns of a foreign nation."

He referred to the great English fortification at Esquimaux, on Vancouver Island, which guards the entrance to Puget sound.

"Watchful Waiting."

In telling the house that members could take a two weeks' vacation Leader Kitchin remarked: "Of course some of us will have to remain here and watch the other side. I shall have to stay here and watch the minority leader, and he will have to stay here and watch me."

Slides and Defense.

In supporting the large naval bill Congressman Stephens of Texas gave as his reasons: "The recent slides which have put the Panama canal out of commission," he said, "indicates that we should have a navy in both oceans to properly maintain the Monroe doctrine and protect the cities on both oceans."

Bold Senator Sherman.

It does not often happen that any man is willing to risk his reputation and such a powerful leader as Samuel J. Tilden, but Senator Sherman of Illinois went so far, after the head of the great battle ship, the USS. Tarry, Sherman, he called him

With a Military Force of Six Hundred Thousand Well Trained Men That Little Kingdom Enters the Terrible Conflict.

A few hours after Italy had formally declared war against Germany Rumania with her 600,000 well trained army took similar action against the Austrians.

The French war office stated that the Rumanian declaration had been made against the central powers.

Rumania's decision was reached at a meeting of the crown council summoned by King Ferdinand. It came at the end of two years of anxious waiting in which the Rumanian diplomats watched with tensest interest the military fortunes of the allies.

Austro-German troops clashed with the Rumanians on the Transylvanian frontier within a few hours after Rumania's entrance into the war, it was officially announced at Berlin, and it was further stated that Rumanian prisoners were taken.

News of Rumania's action was received with the greatest enthusiasm at London.

Rumania is the fourteenth nation to enter the war. Great excitement prevailed at Bucharest, the capital, after the announcement was made.

Germany promptly declared war on Rumania.

PATTERSON WOUNDED IN LUNG

TEXAS INSURANCE AND BANKING OFFICIAL SHOT AT TEAGUE.

Texas State Commissioner of Insurance and Banking John S. Patterson was shot while in the Farmers and Merchants' State bank at Teague. The bullet entered his right breast, went through the upper lung and ranged downward. The shooting occurred after banking hours. Mr. Patterson and Bank Examiner J. E. McKinnon were at the time in the bank with T. R. Watson, president of the institution; J. E. Watson, vice president; and W. R. Watson, cashier. Three latter were arrested and released on bond. Five shots were heard and the wounded man and Mr. McKinnon ran out to the sidewalk. Mr. Patterson was hurried to the Yvonne hotel. Three doctors summoned pronounced his condition critical.

The commissioner, accompanied by Mr. McKinnon and an office stenographer, had left Austin to inspect several state banks.

Mr. Patterson was appointed by Governor Ferguson.

New Equipment.

The Texas railroad commission has approved a contract whereby the Texas and Pacific Railroad company has purchased from the Baldwin Locomotive works and the American Car Foundry company additional equipment. The company has purchased eight Santa Fe type locomotives, costing $41,500 each; 100 fifty-ton steel underframe Roger ballast cars at $1,613 each and eight combination baggage and mail cars at $1,289 each.

Troops Changed.

General Pershing has withdrawn the Thirtieth cavalry from En Valle to Colonia Dublan. General Funston said the move was designed to facilitate the work of supplying forage for the organization and had no significance. En Valle is the advance base of the expeditionary force and is located about fifty miles southeast of Colonia Dublan. Some troops of the field command are still stationed at that place.

Denial Made.

The New York Life Insurance company makes denial of the report that it intends returning to Texas at an early date.

GOLF CLUB FOR MEN ONLY.

Women Players at Greensburg, Pa., Sneer at the Venture.

Greensburg, Pa.—Steps are being taken toward the organization of a new golf club in Greensburg. The Greensburg Country club has an excellent course, but many of the men players are dissatisfied because so many women members have become devotees of the game. It is planned to make the new club strictly for men.

"The women talk too much," said one male expert. "It is impossible to make a good shot with all their chatter going on."

A woman golfing enthusiast when told of what was on foot retorted indignantly: "Let the old things organize a new club if they want to. They are jealous of some of the scores we have been making; that's the whole trouble."

In the last issue of the Eagle Quill Senator Clark inserted the following notice offering a reward and telling of his troubles: "Will personally add $50 to the $50 reward already offered by the Eagle Springs Lake Protective association. I do so because Mrs. Clark found it was impossible to live in the house."

RAILWAY STRIKE IMMINENT

The conference between the parties to the pending controversy over the eight hour basic day and the President ended on Monday without hope of agreement. The President went before Congress on Monday afternoon asking for legislation to prevent strike calamity.

In the mean time the strike has been called for 7:00 A. M. Monday, September 4th, when all engines and trainmen have been ordered to walk out. In the instructions the employees are enjoined to keep off railroad property.

The railroads are preparing to meet the situation. The Santa Fe Railway, which serves this section, advertised for men months ago and it is said that the applications are numerous enough to meet conditions. Naturally in case of a walk-out and new men manning the trains the service will suffer for a short time.

E. P. Ripley, the president of Santa Fe Railway, is himself at the helm and personally directing things. In a circular letter to the employees sent out today he says that all employees failing to respond for duty will be considered as having been discharged and will be re-employed only as new men, forfeiting seniority and other privileges; that new men taken in will be retained as long as their services are satisfactory; that men remaining loyal need fear no threats of dismissal after the strike, they will be retained and given preference over things being equal; and those temporarily thrown out of work will be considered as absent on vacation without pay, without forfeiting any pension or insurance rights.

Mr. Ripley under the same date August 30th, issued notice to the public through station agents as follows: that the company will not be responsible for any delays to travelers after 7:00 A. M. September 4th; that freight received after that hour will be received subject to indefinite delay, shipping bills to be so endorsed; perishable property, live stock, explosives will not be accepted until further notice; that the company as far as in its power will provide transportation for the health and subsistence of the communities dependent upon it; to move at least one train a day each way for the transportation of passengers, mail, and express; to gradually expand these activities so far as practicable.

The agents are directed to notify the officers of municipalities that the ability to carry out the present intentions of the company will be largely dependent on their willingness and ability to afford protection to the company and its property in so doing.

At the present writing it is not known to what extent the men on the Pecos Valley line will take part in the strike. It is understood that some of the older men are not in favor of a walk-out. It is a foregone conclusion, however, that a strike of this general character will be a hardship to the public as a whole.

Mr. Pilgrim, a cousin of Lester Barbe is here for a short visit.

HOUSE WILL TELL EUROPE OUR VIEWS

Goes as Wilson's Voice to Promote Better Understanding.

NOT ON MISSION OF PEACE

Nor Will He Reprimand Any Diplomat or Intrude in Their Fields of Activity. Foreign Leaders Acquainted With Purpose of His Visit Eager to Meet Him.

Colonel Edward Mandell House is off for Europe for a visit of six weeks or two months in London, Paris and Berlin. He goes as the representative of President Wilson, and as such he will visit both the American embassies in those cities and the statesmen at the head of affairs in all three nations.

Many reports have been printed concerning the object of his trip, but the following facts are said to be most authentic:

Colonel House's mission has only one purpose, and it is not to sound the nations on the subject of peace, to interfere in whatever bickerings there may be among American diplomats, to stir up the Lusitania case or to do any of the various things with which he has been credited. His mission is the first step in an attempt at a better and closer understanding between the European nations and this country, to the end that misapprehension of our attitude and views and actions may be measurably avoided in the future.

That the need for such a mission or for some other step to bring about such an understanding was felt in Berlin as well as in Washington was strikingly shown in a Berlin dispatch of Dec. 20, in which these expressions appeared:

An American in Germany is soon aware that the obstacles in the way of mutual understanding between the two nations are, in the first place, those of feeling, and secondly, those of facts. * * * If the German government could speak directly to the American government alone, out of the hearing of the rest of the world, * * * much misunderstanding on both sides could perhaps be avoided. * * * It would be hard to say at this moment whether Germany misapprehends the American mind more than the United States misapprehends the German mind.

Conditions Same in England.

What is true of Germany is true in a different way of the allied powers, in spite of the fact that they have greater freedom of communication than the fortune of war has given to Germany. Not from our ambassadors can they get the full American viewpoint, because our ambassadors are themselves out of touch with what is going on here and with the fluctuations and changes in American sentiment necessarily produced by the constantly shifting events of the war.

In the dispatch already quoted the author spoke of what could be done if there could be "an exchange between the at once high and special powers." The mission of Colonel House comes as near being that as is possible. There cannot very well be a conversation between the president and the kaiser, but Colonel House's visit to the German foreign office will be the next thing to it.

It is important, however, to keep clear from the idea that Germany is the special object of Colonel House's journey. It is nothing of the kind, and it would be well within bounds to say that his visit to London and to Paris is even more important in the president's mind than that to Berlin in the way of giving needed information and setting the scenes right for future dealings.

Not to Reprimand Diplomats.

All reports that Colonel House is going abroad to reprimand ambassadors for alleged failings are made out of whole cloth. The president does not regard it as due to any fault of these diplomats that they are out of touch with feeling in their own country. It is, he holds, the natural and inevitable result of their being away from the place where that feeling exists and due to no other cause. Even a month's absence makes a man lose touch, and these ambassadors have been away from one to two years.

Colonel House himself has been heard to say that when he last went abroad he stayed four months and was astonished on his return to find that he had himself grown out of touch with American feeling, and this is the reason why he has determined to make a shorter stay this time. He intends to stay only six weeks and certainly will not stay longer than two months. If even he noticed this difference in himself in so short a stay as four months the president believes that no ambassador is blameworthy for showing the effects of the same thing after an absence of two years.

LIMBURGER CUTS DEATH RATE

Wisconsin Physician Finds Eating of Famous Cheese Healthful.

Physicians of Green county, Wis., which had the lowest death rate in that state last summer, attribute the healthy condition of the community to the eating of Limburger cheese.

Last year 3,041,005 pounds of this cheese were produced in the county, and as a staple of food it largely displaced meat.

The quarterly report of the state board of health, just issued, gave Green county a death rate of 7.2 per thousand compared with 9.2 for the state at large.

MORGAN LINE EMBARGO.
NO FREIGHT ACCEPTED BY ROADS ENTERING GALVESTON.

All railroad lines entering Galveston have declared an absolute embargo against the Morgan steamship line. A notice was issued by the roads that they will not accept freight to move through Galveston for shipment by that line. It is understood this is a measure in retaliation for an embargo issued by the Morgan line.

A modified embargo also was declared against the Mallory line.

The embargo against the Morgan line is on northbound freight alone. Congestion of traffic is given as the cause of the embargo.

While the Sunset-Central lines and the Morgan lines are controlled by the same interests, the Sunset-Central has joined in the embargo.

Miss Francis Nutt, a graduate of the Carlsbad schools who has been stenographer and clerk in the office of S. D. Stennis, Jr., for a long time, left Wednesday, for Silver City, New Mexico, where she has accepted a position in the law office of R. R. Ryan. Miss Francis is a most competent stenographer, and her former employer expresses his deep regret at her leaving. Socially she will be greatly missed, and all wish her a very pleasant home in Silver City.

Dr. A. A. Bearup returned, Thursday, from a three months visit to points in the east, as far as Montreal, Canada, spending most of the time at Detroit and Chicago. He reports times good in the east, but politics on both sides attracting but little attention. The strike called for Monday hurried the doctor's return home, he being told in Chicago if he expected to reach Carlsbad before Monday he had better leave pronto. So he is here, much to the gratification of his friends.

John Draper came to Carlsbad, Saturday, from his home near San Antonio, Texas, by automobile, making the trip of over 700 miles in about three days, stopping at Midland, his old home for five hours. Mr. Draper came to Carlsbad for the purpose of taking his family back home, they having spent the past two months at the home of Mrs. Draper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nymeyer. They left Wednesday, for the ranch of Fred Nymeyer, near Monument, and from there will go to Monahans, Texas, where they will be joined by Mr. Draper's mother, and sister Miss Dossie, and after a short stop at Midland will proceed to their home.

St. Edwards Catholic school will open its fall session Monday, September 4th, in charge of two sisters of the order of the Most Precious Blood. For the present the school will teach only grammar grades. The priests in charge of St. Edwards church have worked hard during the summer months and have the new school building handsomely painted and two big school rooms prepared for the reception of scholars. The school is located next to the church.

Mrs. Marie Walter, late of Terra Haute, Ind., is having a pleasant visit with her children, having two sons and daughters here.

Ural Boyd, one of the salesman with Shelby Co., was out in a new Ford Sunday, and when accused owned right up that he had the latest in the way of a machine.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Dillyhanty and the children came in from their ranch on Upper Black River. Mrs. Dillyhanty came in to see her brother Mr. Jones who got his leg broken last week by a mule kicking him while hauling freight to the D ranch.

Fred Pendleton and wife with Mrs. J. W. Smith also her sister, Mrs. Ida Cooper and little son Clarence, also Mrs. Smith is looking for a house to spend the winter in and send the children to school. Mr. and Mrs. Pendleton returned to the ranch Wednesday. They made the trip in their car.

Mrs. Andy Ziegler and children joined Mr. Ziegler in Denver last week, and a line from them assures the Current of their safe arrival, giving their address and asking that this weekly sheet be sent to them promptly.

Mrs. Annie Barber is here from Carlsbad, New Mexico, on a short visit to the old home. Mrs. Barber owns the Flat Iron apartment house, and several other pieces of valuable property in the city of San Marcus. San Marcus Daily Times.

Tom Gray was in from the ranch Tuesday and was accompanied on the return trip by his daughter, Miss Ida Belle Gray, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Rickman here in town, and attended the big barbecue at Lovington.

Milton Smith, wife, Miss Lucile McKneely and Joe Livingston went out to the Lovington picnic Friday morning, leaving here about 6 o'clock and getting there about 10 the same morning in the Smith's Franklin. They returned Saturday evening, singing the praise of the plains people.

From Queen Tuesday of last week leaving Queen at 7:00 o'clock in the morning driving a light wagon and one pair of his fat mules. When Ed got down the mountain he guessed Dark Canyon would be on the rise soon, so he let the mules come along kinder lively, and just did cross the canyon ahead of the rise. Ed said it was a close shave crossing here near town. He found it necessary to stay here until these last of the week on account of high water.

M. S. Shadrach, nephew of Mrs. Chaytor, who is familiarly known as "Bill" and has been with Joyce-Pruit grocery Co., for the summer is returning to the State University at Fayetteville, Ark. He will visit his father in eastern Oklahoma and some school friends in Hope, Ark., before he takes up the work for the term. Bill has many friends in Carlsbad and has added many new friends to his list since he has shown people what a kind and obliging salesman he is.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dean and baby were coming to the barbecue from Uvalde. When they were about eight miles from town they hit a stump while trying to pass around a freight wagon. Both women and baby were thrown out of the car, and Mrs. Harris received a bad gash on the back of her head and was badly bruised up, but not seriously hurt. None of the others were injured.—Rock Spring Leader.

The Baptist Ladies will have their annual Bazaar December 9th.

L. P. Snell, of Lovington spent two or three days here the first of the week.

E. Harden, wife and two boys were guests of the Wrightway Hotel Monday night, returning home Tuesday.

R. H. Williams, of Lovington was here Tuesday, every one from there is well pleased with the way the barbecue came off and with the crowd.

Benton Stone and wife were registered at the Rightway Saturday, from their home in Roswell. They lived down the valley near Orla at one time and have recently bought a ranch in the vicinity.

The contest case of Paul Patterson against Fred King, both of Eunice, attracted the following witnesses to Roswell Saturday: B. A. Christman, Jim Crenshaw, O. B. King, Ben Harrison, B. C. Davis, Fred King, A. D. Richards, C. C. Carter, W. Matkins and J. C. Estlack.

Barbr Nell Thomas, the little daughter of Mrs. W. J. Barber will spend the winter with Rev. H. W. Lowry and attend school in Carlsbad. This will make it pleasant for all parties as she can get out to the ranch to see her mother quite often, and no doubt she will be pleased with the school here.

Fire Hatches Crows Eggs. Discovering a crow's nest atop a hemlock tree, Fritz Helser climbed skyward 60 feet and got the three eggs in the nest. He placed the eggs in the pocket of his coat and on reaching home hung the coat near the open fireplace, in which large chunks of wood are burned all night in sour weather.

In the morning he heard a peculiar noise emanating from his coat, and on investigation found two young crows in his pocket. The third egg did not hatch out.—Winsted (Conn.) Dispatch Philadelphia Inquirer.

Santa Fe Farm Bureau. The Santa Fe Railway has for many years maintained agricultural demonstrators to assist the farmers along its lines. Much has been thereby accomplished and the results have been so satisfactory that this line of endeavor will be extended.

The industrial department in charge of C. L. Seagreaves, Commissioner, now includes the industrial, colonization, and agricultural work. The recent announcement of the creation of an agricultural extension bureau, indicates that every part of the great Santa Fe System will have attention given to farm development.

H. M. Bainer, for more than six years agricultural demonstrator in industrial and agricultural agent with headquarters at Topeka, Kansas. He will be in direct charge of all agricultural work except on the lines west of Albuquerque, New Mexico. This comes as a well deserved recognition of faithful and effective service. Mr. Bainer assumes his new duties Sept. 10th.

L. L. Johnson, long time assistant demonstrator, has been placed in charge of Texas and Oklahoma with headquarters at Amarillo, Texas. He will continue work in a territory with which he is fully familiar and under the new arrangement will render still more efficient service.

H. C. McCowen, who at one time served as assistant here, will be in charge of New Mexico and adjacent territory with headquarters at Amarillo. Being acquainted with conditions in this territory, he will do effective work from the start.

This new bureau will benefit north-west Texas and New Mexico greatly and with proper co-operation of the farmers, agricultural development will be rapid in this section of virgin country.

Colquitt Goes Down to Defeat by Majority of Approximately 75,000. Special to the Morning Times.

Dallas, Texas, August 26.—United States Senator Charles A. Culberson has been renominated as United States senator by a majority of approximately 75,000 votes, defeating O. B. Colquitt, who led Culberson and all other candidates in the first primary in July. To-day's election has resulted in a landslide for Culberson, his majority being more than double what his managers had claimed for him. The vote at midnight stood Culberson 148,826; Colquitt 84,527. Colquitt is leading in 23 counties, but is some of them the lead is small and the counties incomplete. In the July primaries Colquitt led in 114 counties. Two hundred and sixty counties have reported and Culberson is leading in 183 of them.

Culberson carried every large city in the state, including Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, Galveston, San Antonio, El Paso, Beaumont, Austin, Wichita Falls and Waco.

A total vote of 283,343 has been accounted for. About 20 counties have not reported. The result of the primary was known one hour after the voting had finished and by 10:00 o'clock it was known that Culberson's majority would reach approximately 75,000.

You are hereby notified that Felix Miller who gives Carlsbad, N. M., as his postoffice address, did on Aug. 26, 1916, file in this office his duly corroborated application to contest and secure the cancellation of your Homestead Entry, Serial No. 05075 made Nov. 12, 1908, for NE 1/4 Section 9, Township 22 S, Range 26 E. N. M. P. Meridian, and as grounds for his contest he alleges that Mack Eliff abandoned said homestead entry on or about the latter part of 1909 or the early part of 1910, and has not resided upon said land since that time.

You are, therefore, further notified that the said allegations will be taken by this office as having been confessed by you, and your said entry will be canceled thereunder without your further right to be heard therein, either before this office or on appeal, if you fail to file in this office within twenty days after the fourth publication of this notice, as shown below, your answer under oath, specifically meeting and responding to these allegations of contest, or if you fail within that time to file in this office due proof that you have served a copy of your answer on the said contestant either in person or by registered mail. If this service is made by the delivery of a copy of your answer to the contestant in person, proof of such service must be either the said contestant's written acknowledgment of his receipt of the copy, showing the date of its receipt or the affidavit of the person by whom the delivery was made stating when and where where the copy was delivered; if made by registered mail, proof of such service must consist of the affidavit of the person by whom the copy was mailed stating when and the post office to which it was mailed, and this affidavit must be accompanied by the postmaster's receipt for the letter.

You should state in your answer the name of the postoffice to which you desire future notices to be sent to you.

TILLMAN'S GREAT PLEA FOR UNITY

Famous South Carolinian Would Wipe Out Sectionalism.

BIG CHANGE IN THE MAN

No One Ever Hurlled So Much Vitriol at the North as Has "Pitchfork Ben," but in His Old Age He is a Peaceful, Kindly Gentleman—Indiana and Wyoming Classified as Doubtful.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 30.—[Special.]—Two old men have at different times made effective pleas for wiping out sectionalism in this country. One was several years ago, when General James Gordon of Mississippi, after a few months in the senate, made a wonderful speech advocating the end of all sectional bitterness. He had been a Confederate soldier for four years.

Not long ago Senator Tillman made a most earnest plea for a united country, with all trace of the civil war removed. The first speech was not so surprising as the latter, for Gordon had not earned the reputation which has been Tillman's for so many years. No man has hurled quite so much vitriol at the north as Tillman. No man from the south ever appeared in congress quite so untamed and unconstructed as this South Carolina man.

But he is a changed Tillman; he is old; his health has lost his strength, and he is aware that the end is not far away. He is a peaceful, kindly gentleman, with nothing but the best wishes in his heart for the whole country.

Indiana and Wyoming.

The first campaign table set out by the Republican national committee did not include either Indiana or Wyoming among the sure Republican states. It is not surprising as to Indiana, for that is conceded by everybody to be doubtful until the votes are counted. But Wyoming is a surprise, for it has been Republican for twenty years, save in the last election, which was not a fair test. Wyoming Republicans assert that their state is as surely Republican as Massachusetts.

Reed Has a Real Fight.

Senator Reed of Missouri was having a sort of sham fight with Senator Sherman of Illinois over Samuel Gompers. Now, Reed likes any kind of a fight, even a sham battle in the senate. But on this occasion he was nervous and seemed ill at ease. Finally he arose and explained:

"I have made arrangements to leave the city, and I hope the senator from Illinois will pardon me for leaving while he is speaking."

Then he left the chamber to take a train for Missouri, where he has a real fight on his hands. He is up against Walter Dickey, the Republican candidate, who knows Missouri politics and is an all around hustler.

Robinson's Way.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas was congratulated upon the manner in which he pushed the child labor bill through the senate.

"The way to get a bill through," he replied, "is to keep your mouth shut. Some of the senators in charge of a bill seem to think they must answer every assertion made by an opponent. They keep on talking and keep up a long debate, which no one listens to and no one reads. The newspapers know what it means and do not print any of it, and it is lost. Meanwhile the bill has been delayed."

Timothy's Little Joke.

One of the active woman suffragists went to the White House and was telling Secretary Timothy what the Democrats ought to do, particularly in sending out women speakers in the suffrage states.

"You have no one out west who is helping the Democratic party," she said.

"Oh, yes," responded Timothy. "Hughes is doing that for us."

Without Opposition.

Congressman Ellsworth of the Second Minnesota district, a democrat that was for eight years represented by a Democrat, has no opposition. The Democrats did not nominate a candidate against him, and it is not likely that any one will care to run independent. Ellsworth has been in the house only two terms, but seems to have made good in his district.

Eight Hours for Farmers.

Henry N. Pope, president of Texas Farmers' union, wired President Wilson favoring the eight-hour day if it applied to farmers as well as industrial workers, but protesting against discrimination against the farming population in favor of any other class of laborers.

The Carlsbad Public schools will open for enrollment and for assignment of work on Monday, September 4.

The following is a list of the teachers and the assignment of subjects and grades:

Geo. M. Brinton, superintendent—Mathematics, bookkeeping.

G. C. Mann, principal of high school—Sciences, civics.

Hertha G. Smith—Spanish, Commercial and Domestic Science.

Daisy E. Chamberline—English, History.

Mary Hemenway—Latin History.

F. M. Hatfield, principal of grammar school, arithmetic, history, manual training in the department work.

Maud L. Jones, geography, history, reading and departmental.

Ethel Ryan, English, reading departmental.

Camille Ganther, penmanship, Mrs. Anna Boyd, third grade.

music, art physiology, departmental.

First grade will be supplied by Miss Vera Pearce, second grade.

Myrtle Hark y until the position made vacant by Miss Mendenhall's resignation can be filled.

Special American school.

Geo. M. Spencer, principal, grades above the fourth.

Winnie Dishman, intermediate.

Mabel Polk, primary.

It is desired that all students expecting to attend the Carlsbad school be present on the first day of enrollment as no new classes will be formed after the first day's enrollment.

Some Fortune Dwindling.

Patrick Calhoun, grandson of the famous John C. Calhoun and until a few years ago prominently connected with the San Francisco railway system, testified in a receivership case at New York that his fortune of $14,000,000 of five years ago had been reduced to $5.

British Ship Torpedoed.

The torpedoing in the North sea of the British armed boarding steamer Duke of Albany and the loss of the commander and twenty-two men was announced by the British admiralty. Eleven officers and seventy-six men were saved.

BATTLE CRUISERS SUPREME ON SEAS

Our Proposed Vessels to Surpass British Type in Speed.

CARRY EIGHT 14-INCH GUNS.

Usefulness Has Been Vividly Illustrated in the Few Engagements They Have Been In Since the War Began. Now Form First Line of Offense and Defense in English Squadron.

The first authentic description of the new battle cruiser that is shortly to be built for the United States navy has appeared. Details of this new type of ship have up to the present time been lacking. Now details are presented which may be regarded as accurate.

We are told that, profiting by the lessons taught by the engagements fought off the Falkland Islands and in the North sea, this new battle cruiser of ours is to have a speed somewhere between thirty-two and thirty-five knots. Obviously engines of enormous power are required to attain such speed, and so we may expect that 100,000 horsepower must be generated. Every additional knot means an inordinate increase in engine capacity.

Eight Fourteen-Inch Guns.

Our unbuilt and unnamed battle cruiser will have eight fourteen-inch guns and twenty five-inch guns. At first blush it would seem as if the Queen Elizabeth's fifteen inch guns must carry the day if these two ships were ever opposed. But our ordnance officers have made the statement that the new fourteen inch guns which they have developed are the superior of the fifteen inch guns at present used in the British navy, or statements to that effect.

The armor protection of the new United States battle cruiser is to be twelve inches amidships and four inches at the ends. The Queen Elizabeth has thirteen and one-half inches of steel on the water line, ten inches above that and a top layer of eight and one-quarter inches. It is here probable that we had to make our sacrifice in order to gain the engine power and the speed. But it is speed which will enable us to pick out our position and to give the greater range the loss in armor protection is more than compensated for.

The Lion and Tiger are battle cruisers in the true sense of the word. Our ship will easily outdistance them. In tonnage there is not much to choose, for they displace 20,000 tons as against the 21,000 tons of our vessel. In armament we will be far superior. The Lion and the Tiger each mounts eight fourteen inch guns, which are probably inferior in range to the guns of equivalent caliber on the proposed American ship. The Tiger has twelve six-inch guns and the Lion sixteen four-inch guns. But weapons of such small character play no part in a long range engagement and are serviceable chiefly for the repulsion of torpedo boats.

To prove the battle cruiser has redeemed its unfortunate early reputation it is only necessary to point to the activities of this fighting craft since the war began. Battle cruisers brought Von Spee's career to a full stop, and they were the only big ships which succeeded in getting into the North sea engagements.

So it is not surprising that these monsters, the biggest fighting machines afloat, are idolized by their officers and men. A squadron at the opening of the war, battle cruisers now form the nucleus of Great Britain's first line fleet of naval offense. There are many new ships among the light cruisers attached to this squadron. Virtually every battle cruiser in it has had its "baptism of fire," and the sailors manning the craft show the poise of veterans.

Fastest Fighting Fleet.

When the mist lifted for a few minutes as a correspondent stood on the control bridge of one of the British battle cruisers the fastest fleet capable of actual offensive operations ever gathered together appeared in view. There were more than 100 vessels in the fleet, arranged in squadrons, with battle cruisers, surrounded by a screen of faithful destroyers, down to the humble colliers.

It is accepted as a matter of course that should the German warships come out this fleet will be the first unit of the British navy to get into action before the superdreadnaught battleships reach the scene, hence its claim to be the first line of offense, with the superdreadnaughts second and the dreadnaught battleships forming a third line reserve.

Increase in the size of the big guns does not worry the officers of the battle cruisers, who say that, since their 13.5 inch guns can sink a battleship as far as the range can be found, any bigger guns would add to the weight of the ship and reduce the available space for torpedoes without sufficient corresponding advantage. These officers talked about the much heralded German seventeen inch gun in a speculative way, but they did not show any great concern.

WAR AND INSANITY

Has Not Driven Mad So Many Soldiers as Was Expected.

FIRST REPORTS EXAGGERATED

Dr. Dumas, Who Has Treated All Cases of Mental Trouble in One of French Armies, Describes Queer Illusions of Demented—Cases of General Paralysis Few.

Paris.—The war has not driven mad so many persons as was expected in the early stages. Statistics thus far show that the first reports of men going crazy under the infernal fire of modern artillery were exaggerated.

A report made by Dr. Dumas, who has treated all the cases of mental trouble in one of the French armies, covers 1,188 cases of derangement, of which only 34 per cent were cases of general paralysis, while in most asylums in time of peace the proportion is 15 per cent. This he takes as conclusive evidence that the fatigues and commotions of war have no influence upon the development of this form of insanity. General paralysis, however, when they become delirious, rave about the war, the same as cases in which the symptoms are quite different, and Dr. Dumas concludes that the life of the combatant often simply gives a war color to delirium that would have existed under normal circumstances, but in a different form.

Horror inspired by battle scenes sometimes works directly on the nervous system, developing symptoms such as hysteria, speechlessness, deafness, loss of the sense of feeling, fits of mental confusion or paralysis, not always accompanied by hallucinations or delirium. Optimism of the most exaggerated type is the dominating note in the hallucinations of the paralytics, and Dr. Dumas considers it a wonder that officers do not in his exaltation give absurd heroic orders that lead to disasters. In one case a lieutenant who declared to the doctor that he had "cleaned out a German trench with two machine guns that he had carried on his back from a point several miles in the rear" had remained in command of his section until forty-eight hours before he was examined. A few days later a captain was brought to Dr. Dumas fresh from the command of his company suffering from an equally radical fit of "exaggerated optimism."

A considerable number of the mentally debilitated have the mania of invention. Dr. Dumas is of the opinion that the number of these cases outside the army would be found greater in proportion if the minister of munitions could make public the correspondence he receives from civilians. Among the debilitated were several men and officers who didn't know where and for whom they had been fighting. One declared that he was unaware that France was at war.

NATIVE HAWAIIAN INDUSTRIES.

To Be Revived and Developed in Recently Established Village.

Honolulu.—The island of Hawaii has set aside at a point near Hilo, the chief city and seaport, a large area of forest land for the purpose of a unique public park. Within the boundaries of the park will be established and maintained village exhibits, where native industries will be revived and developed on a commercial scale.

The Hawaiian village will show the olden time grass houses, which will be inhabited by carefully selected Hawaiians. Here will be made the beautiful kapa bowls and vessels for which the islands were famous.

BEAR CUBS CAUGHT.

Gentle as Puppies After Their Mother Was Driven Away.

Estacada, Ore.—Fred Bannister of Estacada returned recently from a trip in the interests of the forestry department near Cary's Hot Springs, on the Upper Clackamas river, bringing with him two brown bear cubs.

These cubs are about three months old and were captured by Bannister after the mother bear had been driven off and the youngsters allowed to climb a tall tree.

Temporarily the animals, which are as gentle as puppies, will be kept in Estacada, where they are furnishing much amusement for young and old.

WILSON A PROGRESSIVE BEFORE PARTY WAS BORN

Eighteen months before the birth of the Progressive party Woodrow Wilson, then governor of New Jersey, gave this definition of a progressive and so classified himself in an address before the Kansas Society of New York Jan. 29, 1911:

"By 'radical' I understand one who goes too far; by 'conservative' one who does not go far enough; by 'reactionary' one who won't go at all. I suppose I must be a progressive, which I take to be one who insists on recognizing new facts, adjusting policies to facts and circumstances as they arise."

Under Democratic influences during the six year period since standstillism was overthrown in the house of representatives, in 1910, 90 per cent of the program of reform advocated by the Progressive party has been enacted into law. "Invisible government," which is now making desperate efforts to "come back," has been driven from power under President Wilson's administration and will have no place in Washington so long as he is in the White House.

VICE PRESIDENT MARSHALL

(LATEST PHOTOGRAPH)

THE PRESIDENT'S MAIL BAG.

Such Letters as This Are Coming Daily to White House.

July 29, 1916.

My Dear Mr. President:

It is not necessary that I should bother you with a communication, and it does not need a reply. I am not seeking political favors or preferment, but desire to say for your information that some Progressives absolutely refuse to have their acts guided or controlled.

I am a native of Illinois. I established the A. M. Webster company of Peoria, Ill., and it is now owned and controlled by my son, who is engaged in handling farm properties. For twenty-five years I have advocated just such a rural credit bill as you have signed. I am highly pleased and not only pleased with this act, but many more acts since you have been our president.

I was born in a Republican home and reared in a Republican cradle. I did not vote for you; but, being disgusted with many Republican rulers of our state and nation, I joined the Progressive party and still hold to Progressive principles. Owing to the fact, however, that the men who stood loyally by Theodore Roosevelt and the Progressive party were finally dumped into the scrap basket and as we have since been grossly insulted by having Progressive leaders tell us that we must go back to the O. C. P. in order to save the nation from Democratic misrule and disaster, I bail.

Mr. President, your administration has satisfied me. I could give innumerable reasons why this is so, but to the point: I have appointed myself as a committee of one to vote for you and the Democratic ticket in November and do what little I can toward bringing Democratic success.

May God bless you in your every effort and guide your every act. Yours sincerely,

A. M. WEBSTER.

MEXICO IS COMING BACK.

Saved From Conquest, It Is Working Out Its Own Destiny.

Encouraging news continues to come from Mexico, and the tides of President Wilson's critics grow tamer all the while. Mexico has seen much misfortune, has borne many trials, has experienced many tragedies, but there is a buoyancy to the present situation that gives cheer to friends of that long suffering republic.

Americans coming from that country bring optimistic assurances. They declare that there is much better government there than for many years, that Carranza money is increasing in value, that business is picking up and that law is being respected.

The New York Evening Sun, a Republican newspaper, which usually criticizes everything President Wilson does, is compelled to recognize the facts telegraphed from San Antonio, Tex., by William G. Shepherd, war correspondent of the United Press, who has been one of the keenest observers of conditions both in Europe and Mexico. Mr. Shepherd, back from a long service abroad, was sent recently to the Mexican border. After a careful survey he reported conclusions which the Sun displays under the heading: "Mexico Coming Back—Business Grows Bright—Confidence in Carranza Increases, and Things Look Up." In part Mr. Shepherd says:

Mexico is coming back. It's not a dead rubber nation. It's got a bounce in it.

A summary of the news from the heart of Mexico gathered in the last three weeks along the border from Americans incoming from Mexico shows beyond doubt that conditions are improving, confidence in Carranza is growing, the situation is gaining buoyancy, Carranza money is gaining in value, and business is picking up.

GOOD ROADS AND PREPAREDNESS

State and Government Aid Advocated For Highways.

THE NATION'S ARTERIES.

A. G. Batchelder Says That the Country Must Have a Maximum Opportunity For the Maximum Transport of Men and Munitions by Means of the Motorcar and Roads.

Roads of America may mean the very existence of the nation, according to A. G. Batchelder, chairman of the executive board of the American Automobile association. Roads that go somewhere, arteries of communication that bind the nations together, roads serving to the fullest extent commercial and social and possibly military needs—these are the highways now demanded and obtainable by that logical federal co-operation with the several states which has been accentuated by the facts set conclusively forth in the stupendous European conflict, according to Mr. Batchelder. The chairman points to the fact that in exactly the same manner as it became necessary that the states should help their county units in the construction of comprehensive road systems it is now essential that the national government should lend aid to its state parts in the early realization of a road plan that will in the greatest degree weld together coast and coast and lakes and gulfs.

Mr. Batchelder says that the country must have a maximum opportunity for the maximum transport of men and munitions, and the motorcar and the roads are the means for its accomplishment. Thirty thousand miles of road would gridiron the entire United States with interconnecting and interlocking highways and would embrace every state in the Union, giving each one a big main artery for highway travel, according to Batchelder, who believes that four direct east and west roads from the Atlantic to the Pacific, with one "Y" from the great lakes to the Pacific coast along the northern border, five north and south roads—border to border—and three prominent diagonals for important interconnections would be included in this total mileage. At $10,000 per mile Mr. Batchelder estimates that this would mean a road requirement of $300,000,000. This $10,000 per mile is based on an average of extremes from low cost because of topography and nearby material to high cost per mile because of contra-conditions, and the figures also include bridges and culverts. At the present population and the normal increase during the period of ten years this would mean an equated payment of 31 cents per inhabitant per year. Mr. Batchelder points to the fact that a state which does not provide inter state road connection with adjoining states is plainly at a disadvantage and says that a road brings common sense value for the expenditure and is available to those living in the territory traversed, as well as those who come from a distance. He believes that the commonwealth should build arteries of communication and meet the wants of the largest number of people just as it is done by the railroads.

NEW YORK LIFE IS TO RETURN

REPORT SAYS LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY TO RE-ENTER TEXAS.

The New York Life insurance company will soon return to Texas and is to be followed by other large companies in the announcement made by an eastern insurance journal. Announcement has caused considerable interest at Austin and some officials stated the information did not surprise them in the least.

The eastern journal, which predicted the return of the companies following the result of Democratic primaries, had this to say:

"While it has not been announced, yet it is generally understood that the New York Life will shortly re-enter Texas. The company withdrew from that state following the passage of the Robertson bill on compulsory investments, other companies retiring at the same time. It is known that the New York Life has had the subject under consideration for some time and it is stated that a favorable decision has been reached."

BULGARIANS AND GREEKS

HAVE A CLASH DURING INVASION BY THE FORMER.

Greeks and Bulgarian forces have clashed in the region of Serres, says a dispatch from Athens to London. A number of Greeks were killed.

French troops advanced their lines on both sides of the River Somme. To the northwest of Soissons, a French surprise attack drove the Germans out of a trench on the Vingre plateau.

A French air squadron hurled seventy-nine bombs at the railroad stations in Noyon and Tergnier.

A French pilot brought down an albatross machine near Noyon.

In the same region a French squadron drove back four German biplanes attempting a raid over the French lines.

In the fighting north of the Somme the French captured two German cannon north of Guillemont, making a total of eight captured in that region. A number of prisoners were taken in the operations south of the river.

To Conscience Fund.

With a $4 contribution to the government treasury's "conscience fund" the following letter was sent by a Texas clergyman: "You will find enclosed four one-dollar bills. The person who is sending them has got to God and is doing his best to get to heaven. This is what he best the government out of several days ago, so please make some disposal of them, as the one sending them does not want them."

Hughes Threatened.

While at Long Beach, Cal., the life of Charles E. Hughes, the Republican presidential nominee, was threatened by the following letter: "We warned you before you left the supreme bench that you would never sit in the presidential chair. Watch out at Santa Ana." Mr. Hughes passed through Santa Ana en route from San Diego to Los Angeles.

Impression Grows That Laboring Interests Will Support Democrats—Republicans Continue to Hear Good Reports From the West, Where Hughes Is Making Speeches.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Democrats in Washington were elated over the manner in which the president handled the railroad problem. They did not speak of it as "good politics," but they all believed that his course would mean many votes next November.

"He's the most nervy man that ever sat in the presidential chair," was the comment of one of the Democratic senators, who not only sees Wilson's election, but his own re-election in one of the doubtful states.

The impression seems to be that the laboring interests in the country will be for Wilson now on account of his declaration in favor of the eight hour working day and because he stood out so strongly for the eight hour plan in his conference with the men who have charge of the railroads.

Hearing Good Reports.

By private letters Republicans are hearing good reports of the effect of Hughes' campaign in the west. They assert that the trip of their candidate has made the west safe for the Republicans. Those who were somewhat disappointed regarding the acceptance speech of Hughes say that he has now got into his real campaign stride and is making just such a canvass as was expected and which is like the campaign in 1908, when he made his reputation on the stump.

Destiny of Cuba.

Many people for years have looked forward to the time when Cuba will be a part of the United States. In fact many public men openly assert that it is the destiny of Cuba and all other islands of the Caribbean to come under the American flag. During the discussion of the final report on the Philippine bill Senator Borah of Idaho said to Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, who had the bill in charge: "You will live to see Cuba a part of the United States. It is the destiny of those people to come to us."

That is an idea that prevails in the country quite generally.

Senator Stone's Repression.

Senator Stone one day came in and lectured the senate for taking so much time with political speeches. He said he had political speeches which he had repressed, adding:

"I have had my heart, or stomach, or mentality, or some part of me, full to overflowing with political speeches that I have been anxious to unload. Personally I have been impressed with the idea that they are good speeches, but I have thrown many into the waste basket. I would like to go over on the Republican side and shake my clenched fist in your faces and tell you some things you ought to be told."

"Lay on Macduff," quoted Senator Nelson of Minnesota, and the effect of the Missouri senator's lecture was lost in the laugh that followed.

Realms of Prophecy.

Senator Hardwick of Georgia was urging the senate to take up the immigration bill and pass it. There was some discussion as to whether the bill would be vetoed and several members indicated that would be its fate and Hardwick seemed to think that the bill could be passed over the veto.

"Does the senator think," inquired Thomas of Colorado, "that the Democratic party in power in both houses would override the veto of its own president on such an important matter at this juncture?"

"I have not the slightest doubt about it," was Hardwick's response.

"I have no doubt, either," said Thomas; "the Democratic party would not do it."

Then both senators acknowledged that they were venturing into the realms of prophecy.

Looks Like a President.

Senator Sherman of Illinois, who has recently gained prominence by his attack upon Samuel Gompers, looks like a president—that is, a former president. He looks much like the portraits of James Buchanan.

Martine Continues to Fight.

Senator Martine of New Jersey is, of course, somewhat worried over the situation in his state, but he keeps on fighting. "The old machine is against me," he said, "and the weight of the administration is against me, but I'll beat 'em all and come back to the senate."

It was the power of Woodrow Wilson that made Martine senator six years ago.

Why They Will Adjourn.

"It does not make any difference what they say or what happens," said a Democratic senator. "We are going to adjourn before long. The fact is that most of those fellows who have been holding us here are tired or broken down. They have got to quit, and quit soon."

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

FOR BEEF EATERS.

MOST DELICIOUS BEEF STEAK.—Select a good thick slice of top of the round, rub both sides with two teaspoonfuls of olive oil blended with two teaspoonfuls of vinegar. Allow this to stand an hour. Place a large sized iron spider over hot fire and when smoking lay in the steak, turning often. Season well with salt and pepper and when cooked to liking lay on a hot platter in which a good sized piece of butter has been melting. Make a gravy of browned butter and flour seasoned with salt, pepper, kitchen bouquet, dash of ground cloves and enough water to make the desired quantity. Pour this over the steak on the hot platter. This will give you a puffy, tender steak unlike that prepared in the ordinary way.

Beef a la Mode.—Three pounds of round steak chopped fine, two well beaten eggs, four soda crackers rolled fine, a teaspoonful salt and a teaspoonful sage, one-half teaspoonful pepper two tablespoonfuls milk. Roll into a loaf, mixing well, and bake two hours.

Mock Hamburg Steak.—Boil one-half cupful of lentils until they are soft, then drain and mash. Add four tablespoonfuls of strained tomatoes, a well beaten egg, two tablespoonfuls of peanut butter rubbed smooth with a little hot water, one-half cupful of bread and cracker crumbs, a little chopped onion, with salt, pepper and sage to season. Mold into patties and fry. The amount will serve five persons. A tomato gravy to serve with the above is made as follows: A teaspoonful of canned tomatoes, two teaspoonfuls of flour to thicken; season with salt, pepper and sage. Strain over meat.

Steak With Macaroni.—Use a small flank steak, a can tomatoes, two small onions, chopped; a green pepper, chopped; one-third package macaroni, cooked; a level teaspoonful salt, one-fourth teaspoonful pepper, a teaspoonful kitchen bouquet, two level teaspoonfuls butter.

Trim and score the steak. Lay it flat on a board, sprinkle with salt, pepper and the chopped vegetables; roll and tie.

Put butter into a pot, melt; brown the meat in this, add a cupful boiling water and the tomatoes and cook slowly until the meat is tender.

GRAHAM QUICK BREAD.—Sift into a mixing bowl a cupful of wheat flour and three heaping teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Then add a teaspoonful of salt, two cupfuls of graham flour, a tablespoonful of molasses and a well beaten egg, mixed with sufficient cold milk to form a stiff cake batter. The exact quantity of flour and liquid is hard to give, as the thickening properties of flours vary. Beat the batter hard until it is full of air bubbles, turn into a well greased bread pan and stand it in a warm place for thirty minutes. Bake in a moderately warm oven for thirty-five minutes. This quantity makes a medium sized loaf. If fruit and nuts are added the oven should not be quite so hot, and the bread should bake a little longer.

Outmeal Bread.—Boil half a pint of oatmeal in one and a half pints of salted water for one hour. (Cooked oatmeal may be also utilized, but be careful that it is free from lumps.) When cooked, add three-quarters of a pint of milk, mix well and set aside until cold. Then place in a bowl, beat hard and add one and a half pints of flour that has been sifted with one teaspoonful of salt and three teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Stir the batter, which should be rather thick, until very smooth and bake in a greased pan for forty-five minutes.

Rye Bread.—Sift together one pint of rye flour, half a pint of wheat flour, half a pint of Indian cornmeal, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt and rub in with the finger tips one tablespoonful of mixed lard and butter. Then mix to a smooth batter with the addition of three-quarters of a pint of sweet milk. In any seeds are liked half a cupful may be added just before the bread is turned into the pans. Bake in a moderate oven for forty-five minutes.

Brown Bread With Baking Soda.—The first formula given for quick graham bread may be made with the same proportions, save that one teaspoonful of baking soda is used with three-quarters of a cupful of well soured milk in place of the sweet milk and baking powder; chopped nuts and raisins may also be added to this formula.

"Cured"

Mrs. J. J. McGee, of Stephenville, Texas, writes: "For nine (9) years, I suffered with womanly trouble. I had terrible headaches, and pains in my back, etc. It seemed as if I would die, I suffered so. At last, I decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and it helped me right away. The full treatment not only helped me, but it cured me."

TAKE

The Woman's Tonic

Cardui helps women in time of greatest need, because it contains ingredients which act specifically, yet gently, on the weakened womanly organs. So, if you feel discouraged, blue, out-of-sorts, unable to do your household work, on account of your condition, stop worrying and give Cardui a trial. It has helped thousands of women—why not you? GERMANS LOSE HEAVILY.

MAKE DETERMINED ATTACKS TO RE-GAIN TWO TRENCHES.

The Germans made two attempts to wrest from the British newly captured positions south of Thiepval, that menace that German stronghold. Gen. Haig reported that both attacks were repulsed, though in one attempt the Germans gained a temporary footing in the British trenches. The German losses were described as heavy.

The latter continued to shell British positions in the region of Fourcraux Wood and Hazen le Petit. Opposite Lens the British made a successful raid.

German troops recaptured a trench taken by the French near Estrees, to the south of the Somme, it was officially announced at Berlin.

Between Thiepval and Pozieres the British made repeated attacks, but repulsed.

Yeggmen Blow Safe.

Yeggmen dynamited the safe in the Black Diamond store and postoffice at Bear Creek, five miles south of Okmulgee, Okla., securing stamps and money to the value of $1,000. Five pads of money orders were also carried off. Entrance was effected to the building by sawing the lock out of the door. None of the inhabitants of the mining camp were awakened by the charge of dynamite.

Had Done Some Shooting.

Bill Lutera was shot and killed at Memphis, Tenn., by a patrolman, who was attempting to arrest him for alleged violation of state liquor laws. Lutera's revolver has eight notches on handle. Ten years ago he lost money in a gambling den. When he quit firing seven men lay dead at his feet. Police say he had wounded 100 persons either by shooting or cutting them.

Wants Jewish Chaplains.

Senator Sheppard has recommended to President Wilson and Secretary of War Baker that several army chaplains be appointed from the ranks of the Jewish faith. The Texan stated there were many Jewish soldiers and they should be given an opportunity to worship according to their religious faith.

LABOR DAY PROCLAMATION.

The spirit of the age demands improved conditions for the laborer. Only by patience and care and serious thoughtfulness can this be accomplished.

In theory we stand for equal rights while in fact we have exalted wealth and given undue consideration to its power. The vested rights of capital must be second to the rights of man and the welfare of the millions who struggle for a fair living for themselves and their families.

It has been thought wise and just to set aside one day in each year out of consideration for all who labor.

NOW THEREFORE, in pursuance of the law and custom, I, WILLIAM C. McDONALD, Governor of the State of New Mexico, do hereby proclaim:

Monday, the 4th Day of September, 1916, as Labor Day.

and request that all public and private business be suspended so far as practicable in order that this may be made a real holiday.

I want to urge all good and true citizens, particularly those who labor, to avoid ignoble things and strive only for that which is good for themselves and those for whom they are responsible.

Done at the Executive Office this the 22th day of August, A. D. 1916. Witness my hand and the Great Seal of the State of New Mexico.

WILLIAM C. McDONALD.

Attested:
ANTONIO LUCERO, Secretary of State.

A. R. O'Quinn to Queen.

A. R. O'Quinn county clerk went to Queen Saturday with Lee Middleton and J. W. Stewart to make out the papers for final proof for mother Middleton. He came down with Tom Middleton Monday. Mrs. Middleton is much improved, being well enough to get over to Queen and attend church. This is encouraging for Mrs. Middleton has been confined to her room and bed most of the past winter.

CASH FOR THE FARMER

By Henry F. Hollis, United States Senator from New Hampshire, and Author of Rural Credits Law.

John Brown lives on a farm in the Middle West. The soil is heavy and black, but it has been exhausted by a process of cropping which is more like mining than farming. Everything has been taken from it. Nothing has been restored. That is why the owner, grown rich from soil exhaustion, has sold out and moved to town.

The bare purchase of the farm has taken nearly all of Brown's savings. The buildings leak; fences are down; machinery is lacking; some of the land needs draining; the rest needs fertilizer.

Brown's neighbor is prosperous. He has treated his land like a farm, not like a mine. He has used good seed, bought good stock, laid drain pipes, and purchased commercial fertilizer by the ton. At the end of the year his barns are full and his crops are safe from the weather, while Brown's crops are meager, and further reduced by frequent wettings.

It is plain that Brown needs cash capital, but he has been brought up to save not to borrow. He looks upon a mortgage as a disgrace. The only time he borrowed, he was unable to pay at maturity. He was charged a commission and an extortionate rate of interest for renewal. That loan was a burden for years, and always a nightmare.

Then Brown's Cousin Joe comes to visit. Joe is a storekeeper in an eastern city, doing business largely on borrowed capital. He tells John that every prosperous merchant and manufacturer borrows money. He asks John what he supposes banks are for if it is a disgrace to borrow.

Brown is half convinced. He gathers courage one day to go into the nearest bank. He looks shabby and out of place in the midst of so much marble and brass and mahogany. His courage oozes, his voice shakes, he is clearly over-awed, and the bank official decides that he is a cheap fellow.

Brown is glad to escape with his hat. He scarcely recalls why his loan is refused, but there was talk of dear money, and the risk of tying demand deposits up in long term loans. The real reason is that the banker doesn't know Brown or his farm.

And then Brown's friend Robinson turns up one day fresh from attendance on a hearing by the Federal Farm Loan Board, recently appointed by President Wilson under the Rural Credits bill. The Board is touring the country to ascertain the farm loan needs of the various districts. Brown's interest is aroused. Here is help to which he is entitled as a farmer and an American. He writes to the Federal Farm Loan Board at Washington, and this is what he learns:

The United States will shortly be divided into twelve Land Bank districts, each containing a Federal land bank. One of these will be established in a city not far from Brown, for the sole object to loaning money to farmers for productive purposes on the security of their farms. The farmer will borrow, not as a favor, but as a right.

Every borrower will take 5 per cent of his loan in stock, and thereby become a partner in the enterprise. He will get his money at cost. Any profit will be returned to him in dividends. The interest rate cannot exceed 6 per cent. The law fixes that. But the rate may be as much lower as cheap money and good management will warrant.

Brown learns that the land bank will not deal directly with him, but through a national farm loan association composed of ten farmers who wish to borrow. So he puts in a few evenings visiting his neighbors. He finds nine of them who need cash capital. He invites them to a meeting in his kitchen.

Brown and his friends organize a farm loan association. From the Farm Loan Board they receive circulars and blanks. The benefits are so great and the plan so simple that they would be suspicious if the papers had come from Wall Street rather than from the Government.

They elect officers, fill out blanks, sign their names, giving the amount of money required by each, and send their application to the land bank of their district. The land bank sends an agent to investigate. He makes a favorable report and they receive a charter covering their county. Brown is made the Secretary-Treasurer.

Brown receives with the charter blanks for mortgages and appraisals. The loan committee of his association fills out an appraisal for each loan. Brown forwards these to the land bank. The land bank appraiser examines each farm and recommends the loan. The mortgage papers are then executed and forwarded to the land bank.

The money is sent back to Brown for distribution among the borrowers. Thereafter he collects and forwards to the land bank instalment payments on each loan as they become due. For this service he receives a small fee.

Brown's loan may run for any period from 5 to 40 years. With each payment of interest a certain fixed percentage of the principal is paid. If the interest rate is 5 per cent, and he pays in 1 per cent yearly on the principal, the whole debt will be paid out in 36 years, and this clearing of the mortgage will result from a total payment each year of 6 per cent of the original loan, covering interest, expenses and instalments on principal.

Five per cent of Brown's loan comes to him in stock of his association. If the enterprise makes earnings, Brown will get his share in dividends on his stock. When his loan is paid in full, he receives 100 per cent on his stock in cash. It is a co-operative system.

We have projected Brown's experience a few months into the future, but the plan is accurately outlined. Brown looks forward to January 1st with confidence and entire self-respect. He will receive on his mortgage 50 per cent of the value of his land plus 20 per cent of the value of his buildings. He will make repairs, lay drains and buy stock, machinery and fertilizer.

He will pay 1 per cent a year on the principal. He may pay as much faster as he pleases after 5 years; and thereby reduce his interest payments in proportion.

Banks will see Brown no more, hat in hand, lips quivering, couraging oozing. Brown and his associates have a charter which make available $500,000,000 of money on easy payments and at the lowest rates. This money is theirs to borrow as a right, and they and other borrowing farmers control the whole system. It is co-operative. They own the shares. They receive the profits.

And all this has been made available to the American farmer through the Federal Farm Loan Act, signed by President Wilson July 17th last, known as the Rural Credits bill.

Albuquerque, N. M., Aug.—One of the big attractions at the state fair which is to be held here September 25-30 is the daylight fireworks program which is to be given on one afternoon, not yet selected.

Daylight fireworks are something quite new to New Mexico and are expected to evoke as much commendation as did the pyrotechnic displays which made three such big nights at the fair last year. The expense of producing the daylight fireworks is considerable, but the fair commission, backed by last year's demonstration that the people are willing to pay for what is worth while and that they want something out of the ordinary, secured it anyway.

The program includes the presentation of a great number of set pieces and many smaller "units." By means of the fireworks flags, scenes, geometric figures in colors and dozens of other unique works are presented high in the air from "bombs" from in front of the grand stand.

The night fireworks this year will be just twice as elaborate and interesting as those last year. Like the day program, the evening schedules call for a solid ninety minutes of pyrotechnic display.

GIFTS FOR HEROINE OF COLUMBUS RAID.

Brave Telephone Operator Presented With Silver Service by Daughters of Revolution.

By Associated Press.

Columbus N. M., Aug. 27.—Mrs. G. E. Parks, telephone operator here when Villa and his bandits raided the town March 9 last, today was presented with a silver dining and a gold watch by the New Mexico Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution for her heroism then. Mrs. Parks was sleeping in the telephone office when the bandits attacked, and although the building was riddled with bullets and her two-year old child was at her side, stayed at her post until rescued by troops of the Thirteenth Cavalry. She notified ranchmen in the vicinity and the authorities in El Paso and Deming, N. M., of the raid. The child was given a silver cup.

Mrs. M. C. Prince, of New Mexico, formerly state regent of the D. A. R., made the speech of presentation, while Colonel E. C. Abbott of Santa Fe, of the First New Mexico Infantry, also spoke.
