Yesterday afternoon, Carl Hoffman, the manager of the Metropolitan resort, feeling uneasy about the reports in circulation that John Wickstrom, who is visiting the lake resort, had returned to Minnesota, had suddenly disappeared and his absence was a mystery, telegraphed for facts and received an answer that he was in the city at the Astor hotel.

Noble S. Trimble, who has earned a much needed vacation by his faithful attention to duty at the Second street fire station, left on the delayed passenger train this morning for New York, where he will spend some time with his friends and wish him an enjoyable time in the big city. He proposes to see all the interesting sights of the great metropolis, and will take in the Pittsburg-Hudson fight there on August 16.

J. H. Stimpfe, attorney for C. D. Warden, proprietor of the Minneapolis hotel house, has taken an appeal in the case of Crane vs. Warden, which was tried before Justice O'Connell yesterday afternoon. After taking possession of the trunk belonging to Mrs. Crane and after his trial before Justice O'Connell, Mr. Warden appeared before Justice O'Connell and moved out a writ of attachment on the trunk and other articles belonging to the Cranes. The writ was granted and will take in the Pittsburg-Hudson fight there on August 16.

The executive committee of the Territorial fair association will hold an important meeting to-night. Several committees are to report on matters of importance, and it is expected that the fair will come up for action, and it is hoped all members will attend, regardless of the weather. The low price of the wood and the weather, however, are on the ground at last year's fair parade, and they will be present this fair in greater force.

The names of Messrs. Halloran, Hunt and Halden have been suggested in voting on the committee for the "Queen of the Carnival" contest, and the names of the two married ladies, who are not wishing to enter the contest, are working on an interest for the above three names. Mrs. J. H. Barr, son of J. H. Barr, is now leading in the contest.

DROUTH AT BLAND.

Extraordinary Conditions from which Pine Trees are Dying.

NO WATER IN THE STREAMS.

Unless the golden Cofretil district is favored with a soaking rain in the next few days we can expect to experience the driest period in the history of the camp, says the Bland Herald. Nearly all the wells are dry and instead of the silver prospecting on the hills for precious metals they are digging below the surface in the guiches for water, with little or no prospect of success.

The water question has been a problem for the superintendent and the miners at the Lone Star Tunnel for the past two weeks and it has not yet been solved. Two wells at the air compressor have been pumped dry and now a few men are drifting for water from the bottom of one of the wells. During the night a small amount of water will run into a well, and the supply only keeps the compressor running about half of the time. Owing to this difficulty, it is impossible for double shifts to be employed at the machine drills, and as a result several of the workmen were laid off temporarily this week. On this account very little progress has been made in the working tunnel in the last two weeks. The tunnel is now in 100 feet with no probability of its being lengthened more than three or four feet per day until the water supply is increased.

Not in the memory of the oldest inhabitant of this district has there been such a drouth in this section. Herefore the miners, who are an abundance of snow, has fallen, which feed the streams throughout the summer months, but the last winter was an open one and a very small amount of the "heavies" fell in these parts. However, when the winter season sets in, which is due to arrive at any time, activity in all branches of business will resume at once.

Editor's Awful Plight.
F. M. Higgins, editor of the Bland Herald, was afflicted for years with piles that no doctor or remedy could cure. He writes two boxes weekly cured him. It's the surest pile cure on earth and the best sale in the world. Cured guaranteed. Only 25 cents. Sold by J. H. O'Reilly & Co., drugists.

AN EXCITING RUNAWAY.
Mrs. Berge and two children had nearly struck a telephone pole and were in a very bad fix when they were rescued by a passing car.

Chief Happe will make a carefully prepared report to the city council this evening on the condition of the fire department.

While Mrs. A. M. Berge and two children, aged 19 and 5 years, were driving on the plaza at 10 o'clock Saturday the horse took fright and started on a mad dash up Lincoln avenue. The children screamed, but Mrs. Berge struck a telephone pole and threw the children into the air. She was unhurt, but the children were injured. Mrs. Berge was picked up unconscious, and for a time it was feared she had suffered from serious injury, but she has proved to be not the case. This accident is quite like the one which happened to Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

For Over Fifty Years.
Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, cures the colic, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhea. It is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists and grocers everywhere. Twenty-five cents a bottle. It is the only remedy for children's ailments. It is the only remedy for children's ailments. It is the only remedy for children's ailments.

A PARTITION SUIT.
The Pedro Sanchez Land Grant is involved in the case.

Hon. L. Bradford Prince, an attorney for the plaintiffs, has filed a suit in the district court at Santa Fe, entitled Manuel Sanchez et al. vs. George N. Fletcher et al., for a partition and quieting of title of the Pedro Sanchez grant of 1846 in acres, situated in Santa Fe and Bernalillo counties, against the adverse claims of the defendants, who are also accused of cutting valuable timber on the grant. The plaintiffs, therefore, ask for an injunction to restrain the defendants from cutting timber on the grant and ask for the appointment of a receiver to administer the grant until the case has been decided by the courts.

What most people want is something mild and gentle, when in need of a physic. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets fill the bill to a dot. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. For sale by all druggists.

Stating at Kelly.
The Queen Grove Mining and Smelting company is doing some excellent work on its property in the Kelly camp. The gentlemen of this company are from New York, have an abundance of capital and are proceeding with their mining enterprise in a very systematic, business like manner. They are now driving a tunnel five feet into the side of the mountain and expect to reach the surface in a few days. The vein is four feet wide at the surface.

SANTA FE SIFTINGS.
From the New Mexican.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Barr are now comfortably quartered in their new home at Bland, but years for the summer shade of Santa Fe.

Mrs. O. S. Fletcher and Miss Myrtle Miller returned the first of the week from their outing on the Pecos, making the trip about on horseback over the Gila Trail.

Miss Casey, of St. Louis, a bright and attractive young lady, who spent part of the summer with relatives at Albuquerque, is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Crane for a week or more.

Shirley Eubank and Assomah left on Thursday last for the mother house of the Sisters of Charity at Cincinnati for a vacation. They will be in the city for a week or more.

The territorial fair association communicated to the council on the question of certain concessions for fair week and the requests of the association were granted. The merchants of the city were granted the privilege of making exhibitions of the goods and wares they sell, in outside booths in front of their stores, extending from the curb out ten feet, leaving the sidewalk clear.

The council also granted the privilege of the fair association for the privilege of blocking and closing up Fourth street between Railroad and Gold avenues, and erecting arches and amusement booths at various intervals on the principal streets.

Murderers and Horse Thieves Operating in Manzano Mountains.

NUMBER OF CRIMES CONFIRMED.

On August 1, The Citizen published a communication from Ada Roper, from Coxtrover, Valencia county, giving some facts about half a dozen murders which had been committed in the Manzano mountains by a gang of horse thieves, whose rendezvous is in Alto Pass, and by a similar gang living at Talica and Manzano.

Not only murders have been committed, but the gangs have absolutely impoverished the small ranch and stock owners by persistently stealing their horses, cattle and sheep, and still these desperadoes go unpunished.

Those desperadoes who have been going on to the Manzano mountains for years, have been confirmed on many occasions, but a Mexican gentleman, who arrived in the city yesterday, and who had this office to substantiate the truth of the Roper communication, states positively that on his trip the day through these mountains, he saw the decomposed remains of several men, and that he saw the bodies of several horses, and that he saw the bodies of several horses, and that he saw the bodies of several horses.

Our informant was a Mexican miner and prospector, and others, who go to look up ranch property, to steal the horses and cattle, and to steal the horses and cattle, and to steal the horses and cattle.

It is the case of Mary Finch, administratrix, vs. J. W. Carpenter and G. C. Smith, for $250.00.

In the case of T. A. Finkel vs. Emily Hatch and the unknown heirs of Emily Hatch, judgment to quiet title to the land in lot No. 10, block No. 2, Bana addition to the town of Albuquerque.

In the case of T. S. Austin vs. Hiram Ashby et al., judgment quieting title to the land in lot No. 1 and 2, block No. 1, of the Alameda & Pacific addition to the city of Albuquerque.
