Come to PubMed Now: Changes to the Interface

by Kelleen Maluski on March 4th, 2020 | 0 Comments

PubMed is changing its interface! This means that not only will the search look different, it will function differently as well. The Library is therefore offering 3 opportunities to learn how to navigate the new PubMed and pick up some advanced tricks in the process. The workshop PubMed Now: Changes to the Interface will review how to utilize keyword searching and MeSH searching, narrowing your results, creating alerts, saving searches, and more.

It is suggested that you RSVP to reserve your space. The dates of the workshops will be:

Tuesday, March 10th from 12-1pm in HSLIC 226

Wednesday, March 25th from 5:30-6:30pm in HSLIC 428

Thursday, April 9th from 12-1pm in HSLIC 428

We look forward to seeing you at one of these sessions and if you have any questions you can reach out to the Student Success & Engagement Librarian, Kelleen Maluski, here.
