NUMBER 10.

TWENTY-SEVENTH YEAR.

SCHOOL VISITORS TAKE LUNCH AT HIGH SCHOOL.

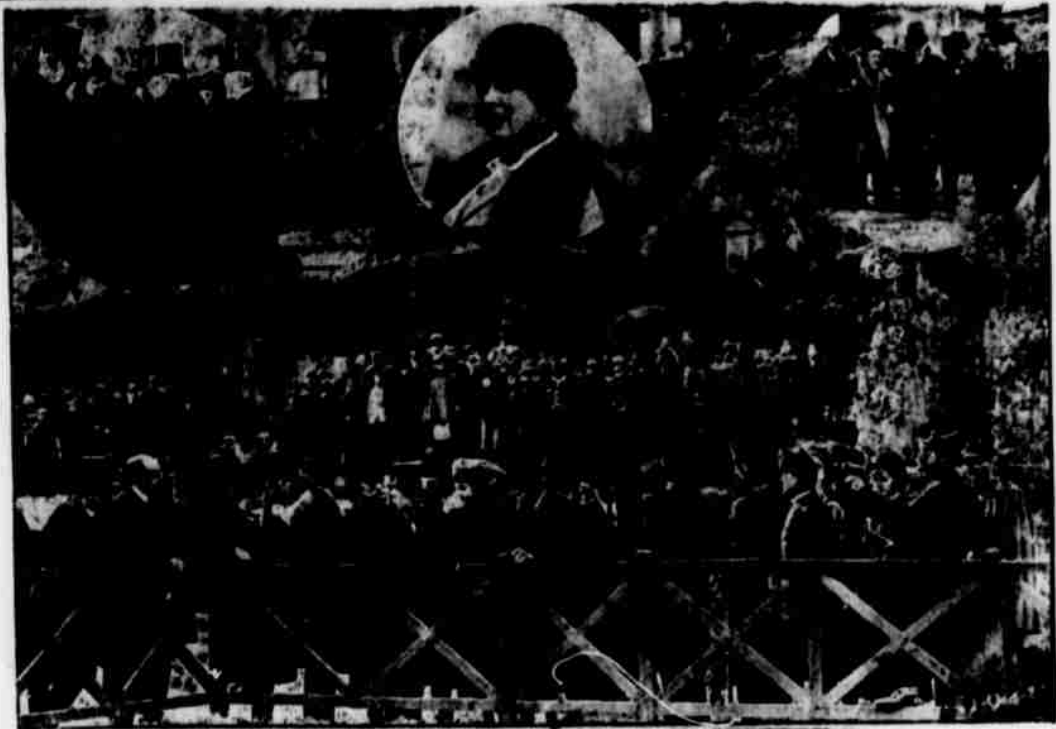

An invitation from Prof. W. A. Moore to the local editor to lunch with him at the High school last Monday was accepted with pleasure and quite a lengthy visit was made at that institution. In the party of visitors were Professor Brinton, county superintendent of schools; Mrs. W. W. Galton, of Otis; Messrs. Rogers, of Artesia, L. W. Arthur of Loving, and W. F. Melvin of Carlsbad, and W. T. Reed and the local writer of the Current.

The visitors inspected, first, the domestic science department, where at the noon hour each day, upwards of fifty children partake of a hot lunch prepared under the supervision of the teacher in that department, Miss Craven, who has everything reduced to a science and furnishes appetizing and sustaining lunches to the children at the very low cost of fifty cents a week. At first, only one hot dish was served, the pupil being required to bring his own bread and butter; now, however, an entire lunch is served, different each day. That of Monday consisted of creamed potatoes, with minced meat and gravy and hot buttered rolls. On some days macaroni and cheese are served and on others baked beans form part of the menu. Miss Craven does all the buying of the provisions and so expert has she become along that line that she usually comes out about even financially, at the end of the month.

The children are most of them from the various grades in the Grammar school, and an endeavor has been made to eliminate those who live near enough to the school to go home for their dinner, leaving the benefit of the hot lunches to those children who live farther out. Tickets are sold on Friday for the next week and thus an estimate is secured of the number for which to prepare. The little folk line up in the hallway and when all are ready march into the room, receive their portion of food with spoon and fork on a plate, carry it to another room and sit down to tables there while they eat. There was absolute orderliness and quiet at the lunch Monday. When the meal is finished, the children return their plates to the cooking room and the class begins washing the dishes. Professor Moore says none of the girls have ever raised an objection at any of the week, however much they might object to doing the same thing at their homes. The commitment in this department would be a credit to a city many times larger than Carlsbad. Fuel, which is always an item in this country, is paid for by the Board of Education. One thing worthy of mention is that those pupils whose parents are not able to buy their lunches, and who live too far from home to return at the noon hour, are cared for by some charitable people.

The pupils are on the honor system and prepare their own health charts using the blanks endorsed by the Red Cross. They are graded on cleanliness, home conduct, regular hours of sleep, deep breathing, bathing and other things necessary to health and already an improvement is noticed along those lines.

The visitors Monday were treated to an extra lunch served in the Commercial room. The menu consisted of cream tomato soup with crackers, creamed potatoes with beef meat and gravy, coffee and fruit dessert. At the table, many things important to the schools were discussed, the superintendent, Mr. Moore, kindly answering the many questions of his guests. A late departure has been made in night schools which are being held

FARM BUREAU HOLDS MEETING

After several postponements from sickness and other causes, a meeting of Eddy county Farm Bureau was held Saturday, in the rooms of the Commercial Club. Farmers from all over the county were present and much interest was manifested in the different phases of work. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, W. W. Galton, of Otis. Vice president, N. C. Diering, of Cottonwood.

Secretary-treasurer, Claude E. Wright, of Carlsbad.

The following committees were appointed: Orchard and garden, F. E. Pite, of Hope. Livestock, W. E. Rose, of Loving. Field crops, J. W. Charles, of Rogers, Artesia. Boys and Girls clubs, Mrs. W. W. Galton, of Otis. Committees from the different communities will be appointed later. Many plans have been formulated and put under way for the coming year in the line of social and educational activities.

twice a week in the High school building for instruction in Home Economics and also in stenography, typewriting, etc. About twenty-five persons have taken advantage of the opportunity to acquire an education along these lines, about equally divided between the two classes. In teaching typewriting the touch system is used altogether and accuracy is made one of the first requisites—the speed to come later.

The high school library was inspected and was found to contain many volumes of use to the boys and girls in the various grades, but many more sets of books might be used to advantage. The school as a whole is among the best in the state; the teachers seem to have imbued that spirit so necessary for success and in spite of the long, enforced vacation, caused by the influenza epidemic, the work laid out for the year will be accomplished. Carlsbad is proud of her schools and with reason.

CHILDREN BETWEEN SEVEN AND FOURTEEN YEARS OF AGE MUST GO TO SCHOOL.

Before the close of the first session of the district court of Eddy county which session adjourned on Saturday, January 25, 1919, four parents were brought before the court upon charges under the compulsory school law for not sending their children to school.

After a thorough investigation of the charges, one woman was fined $25.00, a medical examination of one child ordered by the court to test the excuse of sickness as a cause for keeping the child at home, and all children between the ages of 7 and 14 years belonging to the violators of the law were ordered by the court to appear at morning and to be kept in schools for the remainder of the term or the fines or imprisonment be imposed by the court.

The district judge, in delivering his lecture to the parties haled in to court, stated that it was the purpose of the district court to see that the compulsory school law be observed and that the children of the county must be educated. He said that no excuse for not sending children to school would be accepted by the court unless it be from actual sickness or physical disability of the children so shown by medical examination by a physician.

The county superintendent of Eddy county will give reasonable notice to violators of the law when cases of non-attendance are reported to him and failure upon the part of parties to whom the superintendent has addressed notices to comply with the law, will mean that the district attorney who will draw an indictment and summons the parties so charged into court to stand trial for violation of the compulsory school law.

Trouble may be avoided by compliance with the law. The parent who neglects the education of his child is guilty of a misdemeanor under the law and can be punished.

If your child is not in school, you had better send him at once for the court says, "HE MUST BE EDUCATED."

DIED.

Another of Carlsbad's old citizens, in point of residence, has paid the debt of nature. Mrs. Laura M. Pendleton departed this life at 1 o'clock this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Rob Richards, after an affliction of over four years, at the age of 54 years. Mrs. Pendleton came to Eddy county thirty-three years ago and has resided in Carlsbad continuously for twenty-eight years. She was born in Brownwood, Tex., and married George Pendleton when quite young; was the mother of nine children, eight of whom are now living; one son, Charlie, dying in 1896. The children are Walter, of Camp Barron, Texas; Mrs. Rob Richards, Mrs. Les Bates and Miss Ruth Pendleton, of this city; Fred and Henry, of Lowell, Arizona; Tom, of Walnut Wells, N. M.; and Mamie, of Dallas, Tex. Mr. Pendleton, the husband, is at Douglas, Arizona. All the relatives have been wired and funeral arrangements have been held pending their arrival. The burial will occur in City cemetery some time Sunday afternoon, the exact hour will appear on the announcements.

Mrs. Pendleton was a good mother to her children, a faithful wife and friend and will be mourned by many friends gathered during her fifty-four years of earthly life. May her rest be sweet.

The meeting called for Monday by the county and precinct chairman of the democratic party was called off and has been indefinitely postponed.

LEGISLATIVE HAPPENINGS AT SANTA FE.

Santa Fe, New Mexico, Jan. 6.—Democratic members of the legislature are seeking the solution of the problem now confronting the cities of New Mexico in which the latter are struggling without avail against a constant tendency to exceed their budgets. The laws now covering the city budget proposition are not elastic in the least, nor is it felt by Democratic members that they are adequate. Nearly every city in the state is running into financial straits, and municipal operation is being badly crippled by the fact that cities are not accorded enough money for the maintenance of affairs. The problem will no doubt be solved at this session of the legislature.

Thirteen bills touching upon laws of vital interest to the stockmen of the state are having the hearty support and encouragement of Democratic members of the legislature. Changing the classification of crimes against the cattle interests from misdemeanors to felonies, and providing penitentiary sentences rather than jail sentences, is the object of a portion of the bills which the Democratic members are seeking to place upon the statute books.

Frank Vesely, Democratic floor leader in the lower house, won a place in the hearts of all exponents of the fifty weed this week when he sought by crafty diversion to circumvent a ruling of Speaker Sedillo which brought into play the house ruling prohibiting smoking during the session. Vesely called the attention of the house members to the fact that the rule prohibiting smoking was suspended during the last session of the legislature, and since the House was operating under the old rules, pending the adoption of the new, Fran thought he saw the way out. However, Speaker Sedillo put the question to a test vote, and amid the confusion which followed, declared the "nays" had it and smoking was barred. Now the discourse of the house is rather liquid and spittoons have been doubled in number on the House floor.

T. J. Roberson, Democratic representative from Union county, has introduced a bill in the house which will greatly facilitate rural school operation and aid in the solution of their financial problems. The bill provides that where two or more districts of adjoining counties see fit they may consolidate their school districts under one management. The plan will aid new districts of counties that are hard pressed for school funds by permitting two or three such impoverished districts to consolidate under one corps of teachers.

Laudation for President Wilson was drawn from both houses of the legislature this week by a joint resolution offered in the senate by Senator L. C. Mersfelder, democratic senator from Curry county, wherein the president was invited to the Sunshine state on his tour of western states. The measure though savoring of party tendencies and eliciting many grave expressions from the republican members of both houses, passed without undue friction, and goes down in the history of this session as a democratic stroke for the world's greatest leader.

Two Democrats and one republican were responsible for causing an uneasy feeling in certain quarters around the capital this week when they introduced an anti-gambling bill that would have made games of chance something that could only be enjoyed by those who might be willing to risk a

REFUSAL TO TAKE SUMMONS TO JURY BRINGS $50 FINE

Santa Fe, N. M., Jan. 30.—E. C. Houston of Lea county was assessed a special fine of $50 for contempt of court by Judge Colin Neblett, district federal judge. The action grew out of the refusal of Houston to accept from his postmaster a registered letter which he knew contained a summons to serve on the federal jury. As this is the only way which the court has of summoning jurors, Judge Neblett decided Houston was guilty of contempt and set his fine at $50 in order that future letters might not be ignored.

bill sentence or a stiff fine in order to gratify their sportive instincts. Representatives Blanchard P. Carter and Howard were the disturbers of the holy calm of the state capital, but as their bill was referred to the committee on public defense and reconstruction, admittedly a graveyard of dangerous or unpopular bills, the situation has lost the tennessees that marked it for a short while.

The drastic revision of a number of the laws that affect the stockmen of the state has been under consideration of the cattlemen's associations in New Mexico, and 12 bills, amending or changing the present laws, were introduced in the legislature Monday. The passage of these bills will assure the stockmen of more adequate protection from the cattle thieves who have been responsible for so many of the losses in the cattle raising districts of the state, and the penalties that are urged by the proposed measure will have the effect of deterring many violators of the law. In every case the crime has been changed from a misdemeanor to a felony and the penalties have been changed from a term in the county jail to a penitentiary sentence of varying length and to the imposition of heavy fines.

The amendment of the present chattel mortgage law is a subject that has been occupying the attention of many of the bankers of this state, and at their recent convention it was decided to have the law changed to provide a sufficient penalty for any person who sold or disposed of such property. A bill that had been outlined by the bankers, covering the required changes in the existing law, was introduced in the lower house of the legislature this week by Representative Hull and Powhatan Carter and was referred to the committee on banks and banking. The influence of the bankers of the entire state is behind the measure and it is practically certain that it will be placed on the statute books without any very serious opposition.

Provision for a state wide primary law is made in a bill introduced in the house on Tuesday by Speaker A. A. Sedillo, under the terms of which each political party shall hold a primary election on the second Saturday in September to nominate all the candidates on the ticket from senator on down. The primary of each party shall be held independently of the other, as the bill provides for a straight party primary. It is predicted that the bill will meet with strong opposition from the members of the speaker's own party, and that its passage may be attended with considerable difficulty.

DRILL ON COTTONWOOD.

There has been much activity among the land owners on the Cottonwood the past week, and it is probable that arrangements will be made with parties who want to drill a test well in that vicinity and that development will begin in a short time. There seems to be a movement, nation-wide to change the date of Thanksgiving Day to November 11, so as to combine Victory Day with the old holiday, and thus have an up-to-date reason for celebrating. If this were done, it would mean much to the people, for American people certainly have something to be thankful for, that "our boys" truly brought about the end of the world's greatest and most terrible war. Yet, the objectors claim that Thanksgiving might lose its original significance, and the day might be changed into a holiday, like the Fourth of July, with a lot of noise and celebration, rather than Thanks giving in its true sense.—Pecos Enterprise.

W. M. Walters and Otto Engel came in from the Engel ranch last Saturday and remained in town over Sunday. Mrs. Engel, who has been having the flu at Anderson's sanitarium is convalescent and accompanied Mr. Engel to their ranch home.

A TRIBUTE TO A DEPARTED FRIEND.

(Contributed)

Again we are called upon to deplore the loss of one whom the city of Carlsbad for many years esteemed as a distinguished resident and a true friend.

On Friday, January 31, at 8:30 P. M., in the hospital at Roswell, the Rev. Arbogast Reissner, O. F. M., departed this life for his eternal home.

Knowing that he in his unassuming modesty would protest against any eulogy pronounced over him, we offer this our tribute to his eminent dignity and excellent character not in vain praise, but in justice to him and as an obligation to his people.

As pastor of the two local Catholic churches, San Jose and St. Edward's he dwelt in our midst for eleven years and during this time gained the friendship of many by his personal interest in the progress and welfare of our community and by his affability and kindly charity towards all with whom he came in contact. Though removed but a few months ago, last August, by a new appointment to Roswell, his heart remained in Carlsbad and he frequently made known his desire to return to his beloved San Jose.

As a young man he left the world to consecrate his life to the exclusive service of God in the religious community of the Friars Minor or Franciscans. Not content with this great act of self-denial he chose as his life task to work among the poor and the lowly, the Indians and the Mexicans. He realized that the harvest was great, but the laborers few in this part of the vineyard of the Lord. Humility and courage and perseverance of almost heroic degree were needed to perform such a difficult task. One object only he held in view to serve God by saving immortal souls.

Through all his trials and difficulties, through sickness and painful operations and sore afflictions of other kinds one thought gladdened his heart, that by his teaching the word of his Divine Master and dispensing the sacred mysteries he brought peace and consolation and eternal happiness to many a weary soul.

A permanent reminder of his activity amongst us is materialized in the beautiful spire of the church of San Jose in the nearby Mexican village. The supervision and much of the work in the erection of this structure was performed by Father Arbogast personally. This imposing tower to which a church building of proper dimensions is to be added is an inspiring and picturesque view, visible from long distances and will recall to many who look upon it many happy memories of the good priest.

Father Arbogast was born on the 2nd of November, 1874, in Alantia, France. At about the age of 14 years he came to this country and entered the Preparatory Seminary of St. Francis in Cincinnati, Ohio. On August 15th, 1892, he was received into the Order of Friars Minor and was ordained a priest on the 18th of January, 1900.

His first field of labor in the vineyard of the Lord was among the Indians and Mexicans in northwestern New Mexico. He came to Carlsbad August 26th, 1907, and was pastor of San Jose till August 6th 1918. From December 17th 1908, till September 16th, 1911 he was also pastor of St. Edward's.

The funeral services according to the solemn and impressive ritual of the Catholic faith were held on Tuesday Feb. 4th in the church of San Juan Bautista at Roswell, where Fr. Arbogast filled his last appointment as pastor.

The friars in charge of the ser-

VICES were Rev. Polycarp Van Mourik, rector of St. Edward's at Carlsbad as celebrant of the Requiem High-Mass assisted by Rev. Valerian Renier as deacon, Rev. Matthew Popp as subdeacon, Rev. Roman Kramer, rector of St. Peter's at Roswell and Rev. Fabian Hoerner as masters of ceremonies. Rev. Anthony Joehren of Marshfield, Wis., also was present. Rev. Eligius Kunkel, rector of Sacred Heart church, Gallup, N. M., preached the funeral oration in English and Spanish dwelling on the religious vocation, priesthood and life of sacrifice as exemplified in the career of the deceased friar. For those to whom he was devoted, for those whom he loved with a true supernatural love, there remains the memory of the years of his service amongst them, so filled with acts and words of the love that prompted them. But something more than a memory will remain. The life of a priest goes on in the souls of those to whom he has ministered. And among these souls there are many even now kneeling before the throne of God joining their perfect prayers with the petitions that we offer in gratitude to our heavenly Father to bring speedily the soul of our departed friend to its eternal reward.

WHAT EVERY READER SHOULD KNOW.

Every disabled soldier and sailor should know that the Government is resolved to do its best to restore him to health, strength, and self-supporting activity.

That until his discharge from hospital care the medical and surgical treatment necessary to restore him to health and strength is under the jurisdiction of the military or naval authorities.

That the vocational training which may be afterwards necessary to restore his self-supporting activity is under the jurisdiction of the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

That if he needs an artificial limb or other orthopedic or mechanical appliance the Government supplies it free upon his discharge and renews it when considered necessary.

That if, after his discharge, he again needs medical treatment on account of his disability the Government supplies it free.

That any man whose disability entitles him to compensation under the War-Risk Insurance Act may be provided by the Federal Board with a course of vocational training for a new occupation.

That the Government strongly recommends each man who needs it to undertake vocational training and put himself under the care of the Federal Board, but the decision to do so is optional with each man.

That if his disability does prevent him from returning to employment without training and he elects to follow a course of vocational training provided by the Federal Board, the course will be furnished free of cost, and he will also be paid as long as the training lasts a monthly compensation equal to the sum to which he is entitled under the War-Risk Insurance Act or a sum equal to the pay of his last month of active service, whichever is the greater, but in no case will a single man required by his course of instruction to live apart from his dependents receive less than $65 per month, exclusive of the sum paid dependents; nor will a man living with his dependents receive less than $75 per month, inclusive of sum paid to dependents.

That if his disability does not prevent him from returning to employment without training and he elects to follow a course of vocational training provided by the Federal Board, the course will be furnished free of cost to him, and the compensation provided by the War-Risk Insurance Act will be paid to him, but no allowance will be paid to his family.

That in addition to the above the family or dependents of each disabled man will receive from the Government during his period of training the same monthly allowance and allowance as that paid prior to his discharge from the Army or the Navy.

That upon completion of his course of training he will continue to receive the compensation provided by the War-Risk Insurance Act so long as his disability continues.

That in nearly every case, by following the advice and suggestions of the Federal Board, he can either get out of the handicap caused by his disability or acquire new powers to replace any that may have been lost.

That if he is willing to learn and to take advantage of the opportunities to increase his skill or to get a better position than he had before entering the service.

That if he fails to take advantage of these opportunities he will find himself obliged to compete with the able-bodied men who come back to work after the war.

That the Federal Board, through its vocational experts, will study his particular disability and advise him as to the proper course to pursue and give him free training for the occupation best suited to him.

That on the satisfactory completion of his training the Federal Board, through its employment service, will assist him to secure a position.

That public authorities and other large employers will in many cases, give the disabled soldiers and sailors preference when filling vacant positions, provided they possess the training necessary to fill them.

All disabled soldiers, whether in or out of the hospitals, should address their communications either to the Federal Board for Vocational Education, Washington, D. C. or to the district office of the Federal Board of the district in which he is located.

McWHORTER GETS BUSY.

That old reliable oil driller, Mr. McWhorter, the oil wizard of Lake Arthur, the man who never quits is now taking on a new lease of life. He was in Artesia this week, and had with him a geologist and oil man of California, and they were taking in the oil situation in these parts. If he can convince these gentlemen as he believes that oil will be secured if his test well is made a few hundred feet deeper there will be something doing as his rig near Lake Arthur in a very short while. — Artesia Advocate.

THE WOMANLESS WEDDING.

A Success From Every Standpoint
Crowded House and A Pleased Audience.

Standing room only was the condition at the Crawford Theatre Wednesday night, when the entertainment known as the "Womanless Wedding" was staged for the benefit of the Methodist church. Every seat in the house was sold and perhaps a hundred persons were turned away.

The play is a scream from beginning to end and requires about forty persons in the cast.

The stage had been prettily decorated with festoons of hearts while a large horseshoe was suspended from the ceiling and formed a fitting background for the bridal party.

An orchestra of seven pieces discoursed sweet music, with that well known musician, A. M. Chilcoat, leader, and opened the exercises of the evening. The curtain rose on "Uncle Eben and Aunt Lindy" (J. W. Ferguson and Carl Herring) who were preparing the room for the reception of the guests. J. S. Oliver, as Monsieur de Lux, the butler, was fine, his voice carrying to every corner of the hall.

Mr. Herring, of the Chicago Tribune, (Fred Heblund) did his part to perfection and was frequently applauded for his cleverness. Mr. Bysant and Homer King were Mr. and Mrs. Grumble and in those characters were not easy to recognize.

Henry Ford, Mutt and Jeff, Miss Rankin, Maggie and Jiggs, Miss Pankhurst, President and Mrs. Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson, Messrs. and Mesdames O. B. Joy, N. O. Joy, S. O. and N. O. Cross, with little Willie, and Mrs. Grooch who didn't look at all grumpy, were the invited guests who entered and were introduced to the people after which a solo by Miss Margaret Wilson was given and an enthusiastic applause persuaded the lady (J. D. Jackson), to give a catchy encore which quite brought down the house.

The bridal party, however, was the cynosure of all eyes. When the wedding march sounded, Rev. Tie Knot, (H. M. Thorne) appeared, marched sedately up the aisle and took his stand in front of the large horseshoe on the stage. He was followed by the groom (Frank Kindel) who as bridegroom, was wont to be, was rather meek in his demeanor and forgot his bride's name. His best man was Wilmer White, while "Sammy Slim" (W. A. Moore) made a lovely ring bearer, and in knee trousers and blouse waist with red tie, seemed to have as much fun as anybody.

The bride's maids, Misses Jolly Screamer and Molly Periwinkle, were J. F. Flowers and Milton Smith, but which was which your dependant saith not. The flower girls were lovely, being Frank Freeman and Kennedy and strewed flowers with a vengeance in the path of the approaching bride. The bride, W. C. Whitton, in full bridal attire, with veil, dress made on train, and followed by a tiny page (F. E. Little) appeared on the arm of her father (W. F. McVain) who gave her away.

After the ceremony which united "this frail creature" to the man of her choice came the reception and here the fun began. Music by the Hi-Lo quartette, Messrs. Oliver, Turlington, Hines and Kindel was one of the most enjoyable features of the whole affair, they singing the old time melodies and responding to vigorous encore.

Wilmer White was toastmaster and the following responded to his call for toasts: Henry Ford (Mr. Gigg) made a brief talk about himself and his business and was followed by Mrs. Pankhurst (Judge Grantham), who gave no uncertain sound in her plea for the full suffrage "for down trodden women". Even the feather in the bonnet of this lady looked aggressive as she urged her hearers to claim their rights. Miss Rankin (V. L. Miners) made a distinguished looking woman, dignified and withal rather sorrowful, as one who had recently suffered defeat. Miss Rankin's speech was witty and full of sly hints. President Wilson (R. C. Bow) was present with his wife (S. L. Perry) and explained that he had hurried home from Europe in order to attend the wedding of his friends. As always, the president made a delightful talk and was roundly cheered for his effort.

Will Purdy made a nice looking country woman, coming to the wedding of her son, her hanging petticoat adding realism to the scene. Among other splendidly gotten up characters, Messrs. Regnier and Alinger and Claude Wright should be named. Mr. Ellsworth as grandfather of the bride made a hit, also.

Mr. and Mrs. Maggie Jiggs were quite the hit of the evening and their singing of the old song, "When I and You Were Young Maggie", was much appreciated. Few were aware of Maggie's gifts along vocal lines, but her name on any program will fill the house after the effort of Wednesday. Jiggs said "it wasn't no wedding" without a dance, so despite the fact that it was a Methodist doings he and Maggie, reinforced by the efforts of Uncle Eben and Aunt Lindy gave a fine exhibition of fancy dancing on which the curtain fell.

We came very near forgetting to mention the Heavenly twins, half-grown girls in gowns and pale bonnets of dainty pink, and who chewed gum vigorously through the entire performance. They were Messrs. Alston and Kennedy and were pronounced the "cutest things" by all the girls present.

A. Z. Smith will leave in the morning for State College, N. M., where he will spend a week at the Annual conference of county agents, home demonstration agents and county club leaders.

KAISER WILHELM'S PLAN.

By Grace Bearup, Age 13.
Kaiser Wilhelm's plan so neat.
Was ended in a great defeat;
He thought, as he can't think again.

That our brave lad's were not more than ten.
But when he marched across the land,
He found he could not work his plan.

For more than a million of our lads,
Were standing brave to guard our land.

Our lads marched on through all the fight,
Fighting for what they thought was right.

While, million more were on their way,
To guard our allies staunch and true.

God is with our noble lads,
Working with them day and night.

Helping them fight for the course that is right,
Helping them onward in the fight.

Giving them courage life and light,
To lead the way to Christian right.

But oh so soon they're coming home,
Home to the dear ones left alone.

With pride and honor within their hearts,
Pride and honor for which they fought.

MARKS OF SERVICE.

As the soldiers come back it will be interesting to distinguish the meaning of the various chevrons which they wear upon their sleeves. We subjoin a list:

A single red chevron signifies "discharged with honor."

A single blue chevron signifies less than six months' service abroad.

A single gold chevron for each wound received in service is worn on the forearm of left sleeve.

A single gold chevron for each complete six months' service is worn on the forearm of left sleeve.

A single white chevron for each complete six months' service in the United States is worn on the forearm of left sleeve.

There is generally a mere question of opportunity, not willingness or ability, between these service marks. Often the man who would gladly have served abroad has been retained in this country simply because he has shown superior ability and therefore was better qualified to instruct others. The man who displays one of the chevrons above has done his full duty by his country and is worthy of honor. — Clovis Journal.

The angora goat raisers of the county held a meeting Saturday which was largely attended and will likely result in much good to the different goatmen of the county. A temporary organization was effected by the appointment of Willoughby Hegler as secretary, and arrangements were made looking to the more efficient sale and marketing of their staple. Another meeting will be held later to perfect the organization and plans to that end.

A. Z. Smith, county agent, spent one day at Artesia this week and another at Hope, and made other visits to different parts of the county. A. Z. is the right man for the place always at the call of the different farmers anywhere in the county and ever ready with advice and assistance in his line.

FOR SALE.—A fine registered Duroc-Jersey Sow at a bargain. CLAUDE F. WRIGHT.

IN MEMORY OF BRYAN MUGGETT.

He's asleep—but the blue skies of France arch above him,
And the larks of France warble on high.

Asleep far from those who so dearly have loved him,
He wandered afar, there to suffer and die.

When America called he was willing and eager,
No tear of regret dimmed his eye when he went;
And the gift he has made was not stinted or meager—
He gave to the fullest extent.

Far off, where the nations for succor were crying,
And the rivers run sullen and red,
There, 'neath the sod, a true hero is lying,
Our brave, young Crusader is dead.

But, ah! not in vain did he offer Old Glory
His life-blood to brighten her bars;
And the tale of his life is a grand sacred story
Untouched by dishonor's dark scars.

He went down—but his ensign floats prouder than ever,
Though she trembles and droops o'er his newly-made grave;
And France can never forget him; no never;
For he suffered and died, her sad children to save.

And the larks may still carol, their carefree way winging—
He marks not nor hears the sweet notes as they rain,
For he has gone on where bright angels are singing,
Where no heart is heavy or laden with pain.

And some day we'll cross the dark river to meet him
Beyond the grim clouds of a war-darkened sky;
Some day 'mid celestial throngs we will greet him,
Ne'er again to bid a tearful goodbye.

Good Printing

THE kind of printing that pays dividends is the kind you should have. Pale, muddy, poorly arranged printed matter is worse than none. The quality of your business is often judged by the quality of your stationery—inferior printing gives an impression of cheapness that is hard to overcome, while good printing carries with it a desirable suggestion of quality.

We produce only Quality Printing. Whether you want an inexpensive handbill or a interhead in colors, if you order it from us you will be sure of getting good work. We have the equipment and the "know how" that enables us to get out really good printing—printing that impresses people with the good taste of its users. That is the only kind of printing that Pays.

W. LEVY, PROP.

The county board of education was in session Monday of this week, at the courthouse. Bills were allowed and routine work of interest to the schools was discussed. The personnel of the board is as follows: President, Geo. M. Brington; vice president, Mrs. W. W. Galton and Messrs. L. W. Arthur Rogers, of Artesia, W. F. Melvain, of Carlsbad.

A total of 79,911 men registered in New Mexico for military service 8,595 were accepted and inducted into service and more than 3,000 registrants enlisted voluntarily. Many men of draft age entered the army or navy from this state before the draft law was passed. The expense attached to draft works was $82,800 or $1.03 per man. These figures are contained in a report of Federal Disbursing Officer R. C. Reid.

Mrs. Piper, who recently underwent a serious operation at Sisters hospital, left there the first of the week and has taken furnished rooms at the Metropolitan hotel. Mr. Piper will not go to the ranch again but will try to get employment in the city, because of Mrs. Piper's poor health.

Willard Bates left Tuesday morning for the ranch near Weed, "Bluewater" by name, where he intends to spend a short time. Before leaving Mr. Bates took occasion to renew his subscription to the Current as he says he finds it impossible to get along without the paper.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hanson, who have been residents of Carlsbad for eight or ten years, left this week for California where they will spend the summer, having previously shipped their household goods to Villa Grove, Illinois, where they will later take up their residence. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson have experienced deep sorrow and bereavement since coming among us and leave accompanied by the best wishes of all who know them that on the coast and in their old home the shadows may be lifted as much as possible and their lives be brightened by the presence of their grandchildren and the memory of those who have gone before.

Mrs. Boyd Eaker, who has been nursing sick people in the mountains for some time, was on her way home last Friday night, when she became violently ill and was obliged to stop at a sheep camp some eight miles from town. The man who was driving the car came on to town and a physician was secured who with the Misses Eaker, returned to the camp where the sick lady was. She was brought to town and was quite ill for several days but has been getting better since.

DIED.

Sunday, February 2nd, 1919, occurred the death of J. M. Teaford at his home on Green Heights. Mr. Teaford was born in 1846 and was consequently 73 years of age. He had been a resident of this county for twenty-five or thirty years, coming first to a farm in the Otis section and afterwards moving to Carlsbad.

A man of a very quiet, industrious nature, he was worthy of the many close friendships made and retained by him in the course of his long and busy life. He leaves to mourn his departure two sons and two daughters and his aged wife. One son, Jack, is living in Florida, and the other son, Elmer, resides in Oklahoma City. The daughters are Mrs. Ed House and Mrs. Emmett Fork, who have ministered faithfully to their father during his long suffering.

The funeral occurred after the residence Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. Buren Sparks, of the Baptist church. Mr. Teaford having been a member of that church and a faithful attendant upon its ordinances until age prevented. Messrs. J. B. Leek, A. W. White, Willard Bates, Will Furdy, and Geo. Price sang "Asleep in Jesus," "Nearer My God to Thee," and at the graveside, that hymn that tells of the hope of reunion in the land that is fairer than day—"The Sweet By-and-By". The pall bearers were selected from personal friends and neighbors and were: Messrs. T. C. Horne, J. J. Kircher, Arthur House, D. G. Grantham, J. E. Laverty and Willard Bates. "Life's labor done, Life's race well run."

This is "pure English" week at the High school, and many mottoes around the walls of the various rooms in the High school building call attention to the fact. One motto surmounted a large American flag is, "One flag—one language." Another, "Stop! Look! Listen!—Avoid all slang." The pupils have entered into the spirit of the occasion and take exquisite pleasure in catching their classmates and teachers in the use of slang. The idea will no doubt prove very helpful as many pupils and some who are not pupils, are quite proficient in its use.

Mrs. L. N. Hanson and baby left Tuesday morning for Big Springs, Texas, where they expect to spend a couple of weeks at the home of Mrs. Hanson's mother.

Mrs. Sam Moskin and baby left Tuesday night for Roswell on a visit to Mrs. Moskin's parents. Baby Jane is the only grandchild and Grandma and Grandpa Keith require her presence quite frequently.

LAST YEAR A WONDERFUL ONE FOR NEW MEXICO.

The year 1915 was an "annus mirabilis," a $40,000,000 year in the history of New Mexico. The people of the commonwealth wrought for themselves an imperishable name through what was accomplished.

Consider for a moment. The registration for the draft disclosed that New Mexico has in round numbers 80,000 men between the ages of 18 and 46 years. Of these 16,000, or one of every five, entered military service, a to waver one half by the draft route, the other half as volunteers. The 16,000 taken were, of course, the strongest, the most vigorous, the younger men. There was a still further drain of man power, for of the men remaining, a large number gave much of their time to war work, in helping draft boards, in nursing, engaging in the various war drives and doing other extraordinary work that was demanded.

Yet, with the forces thus required, New Mexico produced more in crops despite drought and influenza epidemic, produced more in coal and ores, accomplished more in transportation than in any previous year in its history.

It can't be explained how 64,000 men, giving part of their time to civilian war work, could produce more than did 80,000 men giving all their time the year before under more favorable circumstances. But such is the record substantiated by official figures and gives an inkling of what might be accomplished in this commonwealth. If there were unity of direction, the zeal of patriotic endeavor and the acceptance of wise counsel in developing the resources that Providence has given this magnificent state. After all, it was the state common to us, with its chairman, Charles Springer, that must be counted with supplying that unity of direction, that counsel, and that material assistance in the way of seed and of financial support, that have brought about the splendid result.

Take the production of crops, for instance. The year dawned unfavorably. The winter wheat showed falling off. Farmers were not inclined to increase acreage, for the drought of the year before still was unbroken and as a matter of fact continued throughout the summer of 1915. Seed was hard to obtain. Fences were even more difficult to supply and the outlook for increased crops was not bright.

Mr. Springer's direction, the state council, and the county councils of advice, the state college and all of its agencies, the county agricultural agents, the school authorities, the newspapers, set to work to do the utmost. Mr. Springer out of his own resources provided carloads of seed until state funds became available. Modest financial advances were made to farmers, suitable lands were made available for planting, school and home gardens were encouraged. See the result.

The department of agriculture just announced that the value of all crops raised in New Mexico during 1915 was $39,113,000, or $2,241,000 more than during the year previous. Light years before the census year, the value of all crops in New Mexico was only $18,000,000.

Greatest of miracles was the a lastly, the devotion, with which the young men went to war. One of every five registrants was under twenty. Strange to say, many of these in the navy, although New Mexico is an inland state without even a navigable river. The war records show that these New Mexicans were widely scattered. A few are to be found in Siberia. Many went to France and took part in the heaviest fighting at St. Mihiel, in the Argonne, on other battle fields. They were scattered among more than 100 regiments and in many divisions. They were trained in dozens of camps from the Pacific coast to the Atlantic, they were to be found in the air, on the land, on the sea and beneath the sea. They went as privates, while many were commissioned colonels, lieutenant colonels, majors, captains and lieutenants in the army and ensigns and lieutenant commanders in the navy.

Sixteen thousand of them, one for every 23 inhabitants went—100 will never return. That is, one out of every 40 died while in military service. It is a proud chapter that New Mexico has added to its annals. The men who will return, will no doubt see to it that New Mexico will live up to its destiny, and that the splendid figures that proclaim the advancement of the commonwealth will be exceeded in the years to come.

Hay is moving out briskly this week, most of it being shipped to Beaumont, Texas. The price paid is in the neighborhood of $30 per ton.

Oliver & Hines have moved their auto garage to the building formerly occupied by the Southern Auto company on east Fox street near the depot. They will have plenty of room there, more floor space for their cars and be more convenient in every way for their increasing business.

Mrs. Thayer and family left for their ranch in the mountains Wednesday noon. Collin Corrells driving the one car and the young people driving the other. They were loaded down with good things and do not expect to return for some weeks.

Mrs. W. J. Steelman, of Hope, was operated on at Eddy county hospital Monday and is getting on as well as could be expected.

LESSON FOR FEBRUARY 9

JETHRO'S COUNSEL.

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 18:1-7. GOLDEN TEXT—Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfill the law of Christ.—Gal. 6:2.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Luke 10:1; Acts 13:12; Rom. 12:12; 1 Cor. 12:12-13.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Moses chooses helpers. Memory Verse—"Come thou with us and we will do thee good."—JUNIOR TOPIC—Working together. Memory Verse—1 Cor. 12:13.

INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—Team work in religion.

SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—Cooperation in the work of the kingdom.

I. Jethro's Visit to Moses (18:1-6).

1. The occasion (v. 1). Upon receipt of the news of the marvelous deliverance of the Israelites from the Egyptians Jethro went out to meet Moses.

2. The object (vv. 2-4). It was to bring to Moses his wife and children. When God called him to go to Egypt to deliver his people Moses did not deem it wise to take with him his wife and children, therefore left them with his father-in-law. Now that God had wrought so wonderfully it was deemed wise for his family to join him.

3. The place (vv. 5, 6). At Mt. Sinai, where the Israelites were encamped.

II. Moses' Reception to Jethro (18:7-12).

Moses honored him not only as his father-in-law, but as the priest of Midian. Jethro, though outside of the covenant people, evidently retained traditions of the true God, as Melchizedek before him did. It seems to have been a case of mutual affection and esteem. Moses rehearsed to Jethro the wonders which God had wrought through him, and Jethro, (1) "Rejoiced for all the goodness which the Lord had done unto Pharaoh and the Egyptians for Israel's sake" (v. 9). (2) Blessed the Lord (v. 10). (3) Confessed the supremacy of the Lord (v. 11). (4) Offered sacrifices to God (v. 12).

III. Jethro's Counsel (18:13-20).

1. The occasion thereof (vv. 13-15). The day after Jethro came to Moses he observed how completely Moses' time was taken in judging Israel. When he saw the greatness of the task he inquired as to why he was doing the work all alone. Jethro was a shrewd man—he saw that a wise administration of affairs would make a division of labor. Moses explained to him that his task was not merely a matter of judging, but of teaching the statutes and laws of God to the people. Jethro recognized Moses' motive, but insisted that the method was not a good one, as it would result in the wasting away of his strength. Many times we waste his strength in doing that which others could do so that he is unable to do the more important things.

2. Jethro's plan (vv. 16-20). (1) Moses to be unto the people Godward—to bring their causes unto God and teach them the ordinances and laws, to show them the way wherein they must walk, and the work which they must do. (2) Suitable men should be provided as rulers over thousands, hundreds, fifties and tens (v. 21). All great matters should be disposed of by Moses and all subsidiary matters should be adjusted by these judges.

3. Qualifications of these subordinate judges (v. 21). (1) "Able men," that is, men of strength. They must be men of such intellectual power as would enable them to understand the problems presented, and of such will power as to execute the judgments rendered. A strong man is one who knows his own mind and is faithful to it. (2) "Such as fear God." This is the basis of true strength. Only those are fit to judge and rule men who recognize the rule of God over their lives. The true statesman is the man who gives God the rightful place in his life. The one who really trusts and fears God can be trusted to administer the affairs of men. (3) "Men of truth." The one who really trusts and fears God must himself be a lover of the truth. He must be willing to follow after the truth at any cost. His nature must be open to the truth. (4) "Hating covetousness." He must be a hater of unrighteousness. The man who is to be a ruler of the people must be free from the suspicion of following his profession because of personal gain. The one set to do such work should be able to show clean hands.

IV. Moses Accedes to Jethro's Counsel (18:24-26).

This common sense advice met a response in Moses' heart. He recognized that God was speaking through Jethro. After all, the knowledge and fear of God was wider than the chosen people. According to Deuteronomy 1:9-18 the people selected the judges and Moses appointed them.

Want to Feel Just Right?

— Take an NR Tonight —

JUST TRY IT AND SEE how much better you feel in the morning. That "tired," headache, tired, don't-know-what's-the-matter feeling will be gone—you'll feel fine.

TROUBLE IS, your system is clogged with a lot of impurities that your over-worked digestive and eliminative organs can't get rid of. Pills, oil, salts, calomel and ordinary laxatives, cathartics and purges only force the bowels and prod the liver.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and even kidneys, not forcing, but toning and strengthening these organs. The result is prompt relief and real, lasting benefit. Make the test. Nature's Remedy will act promptly, thoroughly, yet so mildly, so gently, that you will think nature herself has come to the rescue and is doing the work.

And oh, what a relief! You'll be surprised to find how much better you feel—brighter, better every way. If habitually or occasionally constipated, take one NR Tablet each night for a week. Then you'll not have to take medicine every day. Just an occasional NR Tablet after that will be sufficient to keep your system in good condition—keep you feeling your best.

Your Battery's Lease of Life

Your battery's usefulness depends on the way you treat it, but even the best of care won't make a poorly insulated battery stand up through a long busy life.

EDDY COUNTY'S HONOR ROLL

The war is over, and the record as made during those months stands as an enduring monument to the men who doffed the habiliments of citizenship to don the khaki or the navy blue. Some of them, even from Carlsbad and Eddy county, have paid the price, and on a field of honor in France crosses have been built to perpetuate the gift of all they had—their life—to liberty.

Others are home, or are expected soon, or have perhaps remained to make the fruits of victory more certain.

It has been the privilege of the Council of Defense to compile a list of names of men who entered the service from Eddy county. The following list is as nearly complete as is possible from present sources of information, but any additions to it will be received by the Council and included in the more complete list. In giving names, in the future, please give all essential facts regarding the enlistment.

The list as now complete includes all men who passed through the Local Board as follows:

A FAMILY MEDICINE

In Her Mother's Home, Says This Georgia Lady, Regarding Black-Draught, Relief From Headache, Malaria, Chills, Etc.

Ringgold, Ga. — Mrs. Chas. Gaston, of this place, writes: "I am a user of Theodor's Black-Draught; in fact, it was one of our family medicines. Also in my mother's home, when I was a child. When any of us children complained of headache, usually caused by constipation, she gave us a dose of Black-Draught, which would rectify the trouble. Often in the Spring, we would have malaria and chills, or troubles of this kind, we would take Black-Draught pretty regular until the liver acted well, and we would soon be up and around again. We would not be without it, for it certainly has saved us lots of doctor bills. Just a dose of Black-Draught when not so well saves a lot of days in bed."

Theodor's Black-Draught has been in use for many years in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles, and the popularity which it now enjoys is proof of its merit.

If your liver is not doing its duty, you will suffer from such disagreeable symptoms as headache, biliousness, constipation, indigestion, etc., and unless something is done, serious trouble may result.

Theodor's Black-Draught has been found a valuable remedy for these troubles. It is purely vegetable, and acts in a prompt and natural way, regulating the liver to its proper functions and cleansing the bowels of impurities. Try it. Insist on Theodor's the original and genuine. B 79

If the fellows who borrow things in the owner's absence, could only think to return them, it would be some improvement over present methods.

It looks like the governor is trying to kid himself into the belief that he is in possession of "Aladdin's Wonderful Lamp". Well, he will have use for it with a shortage of 5,000 teachers in the U. S. this year and with a shortage in the state where does he propose to get his bilingual teachers to fit in with his pet scheme?

HOME SERVICE INSTITUTES TO BE CONDUCTED AT VARIOUS PLACES.

The "clunk, clunk clunk" of the crutches of idle soldiers will never resound in the streets of America. Street corners will never be marked by the presence of blind ex soldiers selling lead pencils. The American Red Cross is going to materially assist in making these facts patent.

The government will provide training and employment for disabled soldiers, the Red Cross, thru its Home Service sections, is going to assume family burdens while the men are availing themselves of the opportunities that insure against poverty and dependence. After care is one of the most technical and difficult duties that devolve upon the Red Cross, and it is necessary that workers be trained to meet the problems that arise in this respect.

At Salt Lake City, beginning February 3rd; at Albuquerque, beginning February 11th, and at Denver, beginning February 17th, the Red Cross will open Home Service institutes of six weeks duration, at which workers will be given a course in all lines that pertain to Home Service. Practical training will be given in addition to the regular courses and lectures. Every Chapter in this section of the Mountain Division of the Red Cross is expected to send one or more workers. Because of the importance of training workers for Home Service duties Chapters have been authorized to meet the expenses of those attending the institute.

One of the functions of the Home Service worker will be to impress families with the necessity and advantage of allowing the disabled husband, brother or father to avail himself of the educational and employment advantages afforded by the government. The Red Cross will see to it that wounded men are given assistance pending the adjustment of their compensation and arrangement for his training.

Another thing that the Red Cross wishes to impress upon soldiers and their relatives is the fact that the assistance rendered thru the Home Service department is not charity, but that, instead, it is an expression of appreciation and gratitude on the part of the nation for the sacrifice and service given both by the fighting man and his family who surrendered him.

Save Feb. 21st for the Spider Web Social. Particulars next week.

Mrs. Henry Beck left Tuesday night for her former home in St. Louis, expecting to make quite a visit with home folk before returning to Carlsbad.
