HARDING URGES GOVERNORS AND MAYORS TO AID NATION'S IDLE

Machinery Should Be Set Up In Each Community for Correction of Economic Conditions, He Says.

SITUATION REQUIRES LOCAL CO-OPERATION

Unemployment Conference Will Establish an Agency Through Which Assistance Can Be Promoted.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 3.—Governors and mayors throughout the country were asked by President Harding in a public statement today to organize in each community machinery for the correction of economic conditions along lines worked out by the unemployment conference here.

The conference, the president declared, had demonstrated that conditions could not be met properly without such local cooperation. He announced that central agency would be maintained here under auspices of the conference to give national coordination to the rehabilitation effort.

Harding's Statement

The president's statement follows: "The conference which I recently summoned to Washington advise as to the unemployment situation has demonstrated that an unusual volume of unemployment exists and that pending the recuperation of trade the situation cannot be met, in due regard to our obligations and necessities, without a much more than usual organization throughout those states and municipalities where unemployment has reached considerable proportions. "The conference has recommended a plan of organization which has had the support of commercial, manufacturing, professional and labor representatives of the country. It is highly necessary that more accurate knowledge should be had, through such organization, of the volume and necessities of the unemployed. It is essential that the cooperation of all sections of each community should be brought into action behind such organization to provide work and assistance that we may pass through the coming winter without great suffering and distress. It is of national importance that every community should at once undertake such organization in order that the nation may be protected as a whole. Moreover the thorough commitment to such a task is sure to start a thousand activities which will add to our common welfare.

Unity of Action

"I, therefore, appeal to the governors and mayors of the nation that they should take the steps recommended by the conference. "In order that there may be unity of action by all the forces which may be brought to bear, whether governmental or private, the unemployment conference is establishing an agency in Washington through which appropriate cooperation can be promoted and through which reports on all progress and suggestions may be given to the central agency. I trust this agency may be supported in this endeavor. "Final plans for the central employment agency are practically completed. Secretary Hoover is to make an announcement tomorrow outlining the character of the organization. Colonel Arthur Woods, former New York state attorney, is understood to be under consideration for appointment as head of the agency."

MAN WOUNDED DURING A FIGHT BETWEEN KLANSMEN AND POSSE KNOWS HIS ASSAILANT, CLAIMS

Gov. Neff of Texas, Expresses "Great Regret" at the Clash at Lorena Saturday Night; His Offer of Assistance in Searching Out the Guilty Parties Is Declined.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Waco, Texas, Oct. 3.—The first official statement by Governor Pat M. Neff, regarding the encounter Saturday night at Lorena between parading Ku Klux Klansmen and a sheriff's posse in which ten men received bullet and knife wounds, expressing "great regret" that such a thing should occur anywhere in the state, will be published in the News Tribune here tomorrow morning.

MARRIAGE THE ONLY MEANS TO PREVENT HER DEPORTATION

Denver, Colo., Oct. 3.—Marriage is the only means to prevent deportation of Emilia Marech, daughter of a wealthy Vienna merchant, according to immigration authorities here who say the girl came into the United States a year ago from Austria without a passport.

But, according to Miss Marech, the only man she would marry is in jail in El Paso, Texas, charged with a similar offense. His name, according to the girl, is Adolph Wolff. Wolff, according to local officials, was arrested a year ago at El Paso when he attempted to cross the border from Mexico without a passport. When he sought permission from authorities at El Paso to send a trunk of clothes to Miss Marech at Denver, investigations were made that led to the order for her deportation. Wolff is held in El Paso pending trial.

The girl says she will return to Vienna and "wait for her sweetheart to gain his freedom."

FATTY ARBUCKLE TO BE ARRAIGNED NEXT WEDNESDAY

Court Expects That the Trial Will Be Held in November; To Ask Indictments On Liquor Charges.

(By The Associated Press.) San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 3.—The case of Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle on the charge of manslaughter that was found against him in the police court in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, was assigned today to the court of Superior Judge Harold Louderback for trial. Arraignment was set for Wednesday at which time, according to the court, Arbuckle must be present. A grand jury indictment charging Arbuckle with manslaughter is also pending in Judge Louderback's court. The court expects that Arbuckle's trial would be held in November.

Robert H. McCormack, assistant United States attorney general, in charge of prohibition prosecution here, announced that he expected before the federal grand jury tomorrow and ask indictments against certain firms and individuals suspected of having sold liquor to Arbuckle on the occasion of the St. Francis party in which Miss Rappe was said to have been fatally injured.

DENVER ATTORNEY IS FINED $25 AND COSTS

Denver, Colo., Oct. 3.—Deputy District Attorney Carl Cline was fined $25 and costs by Judge Warren A. Haggott, of the criminal court here today. Cline was committed to the county jail and later released on his own recognizance pending payment of the fine when court opened this afternoon.

The fine was exacted by Judge Haggott after Cline refused to apologize to the court for his refusal to apologize to a negro attorney after calling him a "shyster lawyer."

The remarks which brought the fine were made during trial of the case of Chester A. Hardy, negro, charged with the theft of $25,000 in diamonds from Mrs. Eugene L. Shaw, a well-known Colorado Springs woman, while she was a guest at the Denver club on July 16, 1920. Cline was prosecuting the case. Hardy was being defended by A. S. Carey, negro attorney.

NOMINATION CONFIRMED

Washington, Oct. 3.—The nomination of Mason M. Patrick to be chief of the army air service with the rank of major general, succeeding Major General Menoher, was confirmed today by the senate.

WHEAT CROP OF WORLD WILL BE FAR IN EXCESS OF 1920 YIELD

An Increase of 157,000,000 Bushels Is Expected, Based Upon Estimates Made on September 30.

FRUIT CROPS MET HAVOC FROM COLD

Warm February, Bringing Out the Best, Followed by Late Frost, Responsible for Decrease

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 2.—Phenomenal heat in the United States has marked the autumn conditions all over the world. The result is a bumper crop of wheat, corn and other grains, according to the agricultural department. The world's bread crops came to abundant fruition, in spite of drought and heat during the growing season. The world in 1921, up to September 30, was indicated to have a total wheat crop of 157,000,000 bushels greater than in 1920.

Spring Arrived Early

By another freak, fruit crops, almost in a world sense, met havoc from cold in a season which has set new records everywhere for solar heat. This paradox was occasioned by the fact that last February the sun not at all work of bringing spring weeks in advance of normal, and trees and shrubs responded by budding out and finally coming into flower and bloom by March in nearly all areas where fruit is grown. Frosts could not be averted on all the nights, however, and this year the United States will produce about 109,000,000 bushels of wheat, against 144,000,000 in 1920. Only the orchards of the Pacific coast, northern New England and northern New York escaped.

Cotton Suffered

Cotton suffered greatly, and the agricultural department experts assign the weather as perhaps the principal cause for a 50 per cent reduction in the output. The mild weather of winter and spring gave its famous insect enemy, the boll weevil, full freedom to live and thrive, and even let him move into many miles from previous latitudes.

Later drought conspired to cut down the production of the fiber. European fruit and subsidiary crops were sharply reduced, the department finds, although the bread grains survived. Their success, it was said, was due to the fact that they were chiefly fall-sown crops which grew well in the mild winter. The spring grain, rye, barley and wheat, in the United States elsewhere, lived through but yielded less. Russia was the one exception in northern territory, but in terms of statistical averages, the department says, little grain was sown there. Italian lemons were not depressed, which were found in fair condition this fall.

Cause of Heat Wave

As to the causes of the heat accumulation, the weather bureau suggests that the usual normal interchange of air between the polar and tropical regions was this year badly disarranged by atmospheric pressure disturbance, although the cause is not clear. The subject is hardly possible. The barometer in "semi-permanent high pressure regions" over the Atlantic and Pacific oceans was found to have maintained a higher degree than normal, which may have had an effect in diverting rains to the north all through the season.

The decreased snow fall of 1921, and the thinness of ice on streams and lakes allowed solar heat, normally expended in melting and evaporation, to be stored up, the bureau says, in heating the soil and atmosphere.

RETAIL PRICES OF FOOD IN 10 CITIES SLUMPED LAST MONTH

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 3.—Retail food prices in ten cities showed a tendency to decrease during September, according to a report made today by the labor department. In the cities where figures were obtained, September 15, only one, Richmond, Va., had an increase over August prices and this amounted to but two per cent. In Chicago and Baltimore, the department reported, the price of wheat dropped nearly one-half of one per cent. Retail food prices are still much above those of 1913, however, the bureau stated, fixing those in Washington today at 5 per cent above New York 57 per cent and Chicago 55 per cent above the pre-war level.

BATTER UP!

In accordance with its annual custom, the Morning Journal will "play" the national series on its editorial board. The report will be received by wire direct from the Polo grounds in New York, play by play. In addition, the editorial board will be megaphoned to the crowd. The Giants and Yankees will engage in their first contest Wednesday. The game is scheduled to start at 12 o'clock, noon, mountain time. Park yourself on the vacant seats of the Morning Journal office and hear the good-or-bad news, depending upon which team you are backing.

Love For Mother Is Girl's Plea at Trial For Killing Stepfather

Cleveland, O., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Marian McArdle is on trial in the same court room where her mother, Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, was given a life sentence two months ago for the murder of her husband, Dan Kaber, to stand trial herself for his life.

The girl, whose career has been varied and spectacular, is charged with complicity in the murder of Kaber, her step-father. She is but one of four women implicated in the crime. Mrs. Kaber, 39, mother there are two other women, Mrs. Mary Brickel, Marian's maternal grandmother, the third generation to be involved, and Emma Colavito, through whom Mrs. Kaber procured Salvatore Cala, her procurer. Salvatore Cala, who had been sentenced to life imprisonment; Pisselli is still at large, and Mrs. Brickel and the Colavito woman are yet to be tried.

Was Loyalty Misdirected?

More interest is manifested in the trial of Marian than was shown in the trial of Mrs. Kaber, her mother, chronicled as the country's arch-murderess. This interest is due to the girl's youth—she is twenty-one—and public doubt as to whether she erred in standing by her mother, knowing that mother had the blood of her step-father on her hands.

That Marian knew of the plot to kill her step-father, but that she did not participate in any way in the carrying out of the plans, is the attitude of the defense.

History of the Case

Briefly, the story of the Kaber murder follows: Dan Kaber, Lakewood publisher, was found by his mother-in-law, Mrs. D. H. Kaber, on the night of July 18, 1919, with twenty-four dagger wounds in his abdomen. Before dying Kaber moaned that two men stabbed him, and that the crime was ordered by his wife, Mrs. Eva Kaber, sent from the city the night of the murder, returned the following day. She denied all knowledge of the crime. Later she moved to New York and there, through the tireless efforts of Moses Kaber, aged father of the murder victim, she was brought to bay and forced to confess after her mother, Mrs. Brickel, had told the story back of the slaying.

Mrs. Brickel, forced into a confession through fear that her son, Charles Brickel, would be charged with the crime, said that her daughter, Mrs. Eva Kaber, had confessed. She involved Marian, Mrs. Colavito and even herself. Cala and Pisselli were revealed as the actual slayers, having been promised $2,000 for doing the deed. The various confessions revealed that at least a score of persons knew of the plot, directly or indirectly. Mrs. Kaber even had promised one certain foreigner that she would marry him if he would ever have a husband with an automobile and kill him. They also revealed that Mrs. Kaber, through Mrs. Colavito, had her invalid husband arsenic and once tried to burn him to death in bed. In another plot she sought to have him waylaid and beaten to death in the street. She sent him out for ice cream on the night of a party, so that the attack might be made. The plot failed when Mrs. Kaber took a course different to that Mrs. Kaber had believed he would take.

6 MILLION MEN ARE UNDER ARMS IN 14 NATIONS

Data Has Been Collected for Use at the Conference on Armament Cut to Be Held at Washington.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Oct. 3.—Active armies of the fourteen most important nations of the world today include approximately six million men, according to figures obtained here and regarded as reasonably correct. With the inclusion of land armaments, these are the figures with which it is expected the assembled commissioners will have to deal. While China stands first among the nations in this summary of soldiers actually under arms about September 1, last, being credited with 1,370,000 active troops, France is far ahead among nations not distressed by civil strife, in the number of men with the colors. The French army strength is placed at 1,034,000 men, the British empire standing next with 740,000. The United States stands thirteenth with 149,000 men in the regular army, while Italy has 350,000 and Japan 300,000 active troops.

In considering problems connected with attempted reduction of armed forces ashore, it is to be assumed, however, that the Washington conference will of necessity take into consideration many other factors than the forces actually under arms in computing the strength of any nation for purposes of disarmament. Reserve systems, the extent to which reserves have been organized for quick mobilization and the degree of training they have received, all would be reviewed by technical experts. The United States has at present nothing in the way of organized reserves behind the regular army except the national guard, the movement for organization of a voluntary reserve having just been started.

One thing clearly established by our army figures, military experts said today, is that the United States alone among the victor nations in the war seems to have completely demobilized.

WU WON'T SERVE ON CHINESE DELEGATION

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 3.—C. C. Wu, whose name was included in cabinet dispatches recently as among the official delegates China might send to the armament conference, in a cablegram today to Ma So, official representative of the Canton government, said he would not serve in that capacity.

"Please inform the American public through the Associated Press," the cablegram said, "that we have definitely refused the Pekin offer to join in this delegation. This action was taken after deliberation of the cabinet and communication with the provinces under our control and must, therefore, be considered final."

Love For Mother Is Girl's Plea at Trial For Killing Stepfather

Marian McArdle.

And it is because Marian McArdle had knowledge of all this plotting that she is on trial for her life. There is no likelihood, however, that she will be called upon to pay the extreme penalty, or even a penalty as severe as that imposed upon her mother. Only one thing stands out as indicating Marian to be cold-blooded and calculating. That is the fact that on the night her step-father was attacked she entertained a girl friend in an adjoining room, even going so far as to laugh and sing to drown the cries of agony that emanated from the death room. A strange girl is Marian and her entire country will be listened to with intense interest.

HAROLD F. MCCORMICK AND WIFE NOT LIVING UNDER THE SAME ROOF

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Oct. 3.—Reports that Harold F. McCormick, president of the International Harvester company, and Mrs. McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, have separated, were answered today by Mr. McCormick with a signed statement in which he said: "Mr. Harold McCormick declines to make any statement beyond confirming the report that he and his wife are not living under the same roof."

Mrs. McCormick, who returned to this country last week after spending eight years in Switzerland, reached Chicago yesterday on one train with her daughter, Muriel, and went to the McCormick town house. Mr. McCormick and his son arrived later on another train and went to the McCormick country estate at Lake Forest.

HUSBAND IS MASTER IN HIS OWN HOUSE. IS RULING OF COURT

(By The Associated Press.) Lansing, Mich., Oct. 3.—The Michigan supreme court laid down the rule that a husband is master in his own house and is guilty of law violation if his wife with his knowledge, transacts illegal business in the home.

The decision was given in affirming a lower court verdict convicting John Sydisio, of violating the prohibition law. Testimony was introduced at the trial to show his wife purchased a still, installed it in the basement of the home and sold liquor.

OIL PRICE INCREASED

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 3.—The Magnolia Petroleum company announced that effective today the price of crude oil has been increased to $1.50 per barrel at the following wells: Electra-Burkburnett, Henrietta, Moran, Ranger and Stephens county districts, Strawn and Throck.

AN "EDITORIAL SCANDAL"

Under the title "A Typical Election Scandal" the Evening Herald goes out of its way to include the "Davies" which is the Herald's pet name for the Journal among those who cited the use of national guardsmen at Deming on election day "as illustrative of these despicable practices of the suppression of which these journals so sternly demand."

The Journal "echoed" nothing from the Deming Herald. We printed on September 29, a statement from Henry Rolf Brown, adjutant general of New Mexico, which he telephoned to the Journal on his own initiative. We said nothing editorially, preferring to await the reply requested of Captain Ely by General Brown. The only "election scandal" of which the Journal has positive knowledge was the ballot printing bill of the Central Printing Company, publishers of the Evening Herald. The account of the meeting of the county commissioners at which this bill was rejected was conspicuous in the Herald by its total absence.

LITTLE HEADWAY IS MADE BY TAX BILL IN SENATE

The Most Important Amendments Reached During the Day Are Passed Over a Second Time.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Oct. 3.—Comparatively little progress on the tax revision bill was made today by the senate. The most important committee amendments reached, those proposing a tax of 15 per cent on corporations and increasing the exemptions to heads of families having net incomes of less than $5,000 and on account of dependents, were passed over a second time. Committee amendments agreed to included those requiring individuals having a gross income of $5,000 a year to make a return regardless of the amount of the net income and verifying the tax payer to make reduction for debts ascertained to be worthless and charged off within a taxable year. Several amendments were proposed from the floor. Senator King, democrat, Utah, offered a substitute for his previous income sur tax amendment under which the maximum rate would be forty per cent of that portion of the net income in excess of $7,000. The rate on the first $2,000 of net income would be two per cent; on the next $1,000 three per cent; on the next $1,000 four per cent with an increase of one per cent for each additional $1,000 up to $5,000. Then the rate would be increased one per cent for each additional $1,000.

Senate Lodge of Massachusetts

proposed that deductions be allowed corporations for rents received from buildings of any character to the extent of six per cent of the fair market value of such buildings and the land on which they stand.

Repeal of the freight, passenger and Pullman taxes was proposed by Senator Harlan, democrat, Georgia, who gave notice that he would offer an amendment proposing that where income is derived from the labor of personal service of the individual taxpayer the rate on the first $4,000 should be two per cent and that on the second $4,000 four per cent.

AN ALLEGED PLOT TO BLOW UP WALLACE'S HOME IS FRUSTRATED

(By The Associated Press.)

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 3.—An alleged plot to blow up the home here of Secretary of Agriculture H. C. Wallace unless $200 was paid for immunity, collapsed and persons making the threat narrowly escaped arrest today. The night of September 23 when they came to collect the money, according to information given out today by State Agent William Griffin. The threatening note is said to have been written on a piece of wrapping paper. Authorities believe it to be the work of a crank or insane person. Several similar letters are known to have been sent to other residents of Des Moines recently.

RANKS OF STRIKERS ALONG WATER FRONT IN N. Y. INCREASED

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Oct. 3.—The ranks of strikers along the water front were increased today. Coal handlers and carpenters engaged in bunkering and fitting ships in overalls trade walked out at several piers, joining the longshoremen who struck last Saturday in protest against the new wage agreement, cutting their pay from 80 to 65 cents an hour, which was accepted by the International Longshoremen's association. Other longshoremen also struck today.

APPLICATION DENIED

Los Angeles, Calif., Oct. 3.—Application for a writ of habeas corpus was denied today by the state appellate court in the case of Xenophon Jones, arrested at San Diego and wanted in Oklahoma to serve a sentence for murder.

JURY IS BEING CHOSEN TO TRY SPENCER, RETIRED CLERGYMAN, CHARGED WITH MURDER OF WIFE

Of Forty-Three Veniremen Examined, Eleven Are Passed Temporarily As Prospective Jurors; Defendant Charges His Arrest to Jealousy of Neighbors and Physicians.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Lakeport, Calif., Oct. 3.—Of forty-three veniremen examined today eleven were passed temporarily as prospective jurors in the case of John A. Spencer, retired clergyman, charged with murder of his wife, Mrs. Emma Theresa Spencer, who was found in Clear Lake July 27. The defense used six peremptory challenges today—the prosecution none.

The prosecution asked each man examined if he would be willing to vote for conviction on evidence that was circumstantial and a negative reply was registered by a majority, who were thereupon excused.

The defense demanded today a quantity of evidence, alleged to have been taken without search warrants from premises owned by Spencer. John A. Spencer, retired minister of Santa Rosa, Calif., was arrested in San Jose, Calif., August 20, 1921, on a complaint filed in Lakeport charging him with the murder of his wife, Mrs. Emma Theresa Spencer. Mrs. Spencer, according to a verdict of a coroner's jury, was

POISON DERIVED FROM FLY PAPER CAUSED MEYER'S DEATH, CHARGES

Mrs. Lydia Southard, Charged With Murder of Her Husband, Is on Trial At Twin Falls, Idaho.

A SMALL NUMBER OF SPECTATORS PRESENT

Boarding House Keeper Is the First Witness Called By the State; Describes Illness of Meyer.

(By The Associated Press.)

Twin Falls, Idaho, Oct. 3.—Poison on fly paper supplied the theme about which was woven the stories of the first two witnesses of the state to testify in the case of Lydia Meyer Southard charged with the murder of Edward F. Meyer, a former husband, by means of poison secured from soaking pieces of the paper in water and administered in her husband's food.

The opening statement by Pros-

E. R. Sherman, the sheriff at Twin Falls, who has Mrs. Southard in custody.

cutting Attorney Frank L. Stephens was delivered immediately after the securing of a jury. He said he would show the alleged crime was committed by means of poison derived from fly paper.

Mrs. Howe Testifies

Only a small number of spectators were present when the first witness for the state, Mrs. Carrie Howe, of Muscatine, Iowa, boarding house keeper at the Blue Lakes ranch at the time of the death of Meyer, told of the defendant bringing the fly paper to the ranch and setting it about the boarding house in saucers of water. She described in detail the illness of Meyer and the events leading up to his death, told of conversations with the defendant in which she advised the calling of a physician and the defendant's reply that "she would call a doctor and then she would have anything to say." She testified that following the removal of Meyer from the ranch to a Twin Falls hospital she found two packages of the fly paper in a drawer in a small commode underneath some papers in the room occupied by the Meyer.

Didn't Love Her Husband

That the defendant also told the witness that she did not love her husband as a wife should was testified to by Mrs. Howe, who added that she advised Mrs. Meyer to "treat him right," to which the witness replied that she intended to. Cross examination failed to shake her testimony.

Granville Haight, manager of the ranch where Meyer was employed as foreman up to the time of his last illness, told of conversations with both the deceased and his

EARTH IS EMERGING FROM WHAT HUMAN DIAGNOSTICIANS MIGHT CALL 'METEOROLOGICAL MUMPS'

United States for the Last Year Has Been Suffering From An Excess of High Temperature and a Deficiency of Moisture; July the Hottest for Eleven Years.

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Oct. 3 (by the Associated Press.)—The old aphorism known as the earth is emerging from what some human diagnosticians might call a severe attack of meteorological mumps. It has been accompanied by an intermittent fever, manifested in a world-wide heat wave of unusual length and intensity. In spite of the crises and relapses—earthquakes, tidal waves, cloudbursts, typhoons, waterpots, hail storms, floods and hurricanes in many widely separated parts from Kamchatka to Cape Horn and from Guam to Guadalupe—the doctors are confident the nation will recover. Meanwhile, the United States for the last year has been suffering chiefly from an excess of high temperature and a deficiency of moisture, a condition unprecedented in the fifty years' history of the weather bureau. From January 1 to September 22, last, the temperature of New York City, which is typical of the country, has shown an aggregate excess of warmth of 860 degrees above normal while there has been a shortage of 6.71 inches in rainfall. The greatest amount of September precipitation was in 1882, when more than 14.2 inches fell and the least for that month occurred two years later with only fifteen hundredths of an inch.

High Temperatures.
The persistent high temperature for which a number of speculative explanations have been given began in August, 1920, and for the succeeding twelve months there was an average monthly excess above normal of 3.4 degrees. March, 1921, an unusually warm spring month, had an excess average of 10.8 degrees. The first slight break in the record occurred last August, which was slightly below normal.

Some time before the present phenomenon, the nine months period beginning in October, 1918, and ending in July, 1919, the average monthly temperature was 2.71 degrees above normal and this was a record until sunspots, sea bottom upheavals or other hypothetical causes sent the mercury still higher.

The average temperature recorded in this country for the month of March, weather officials say, was 48.3 in March, 1921.

Freezing Nights.
The average temperature for April, 1921,—55 degrees—was the warmest for that month in half a century. May and June were not unusual but July broke all records for the preceding eleven years. A curious freak of the weather in America for the week ending September 22 was that, while every section of the country from Bismarck, N. D., to Halifax and from Phoenix, Ariz., to Miami, Fla., was suffering from abnormally high temperatures, large areas in Wyoming, Montana, Oregon and Nevada were having freezing nights.

Weather bureau officials here declined to discuss the possible connection between the present high temperatures and disasters of nature in many parts of the world.

It was recalled, however, that when the volcanic eruption of Krakatoa, a small island in the Malay archipelago in the Sunda strait, between Sumatra and Java, occurred in the summer of 1883, the most violent of its kind in modern times, two-thirds of the island was blown away, 20,000 persons perished and a tidal wave propelled itself as far as the English channel. On this occasion, dust from the volcanic ashes was carried around the world and for Miss Boardman and Judge Taft leaving the White House.

Miss Mabel Boardman, former secretary of the American Red Cross, and Chief Justice William Howard Taft recently conferred with President Harding at the White House. The accompanying photograph was taken on that occasion. The three discussed the national Red Cross convention, to be held in Columbus, O., Oct. 4 to 8.

UNSKILLED MEN MAY BE USED IN BUILDING ROADS

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Oct. 3.—Possibility of reducing the number of the nation's unemployed through use of unskilled workmen in the construction of new highways and in the maintenance of roads already built, was discussed at a meeting here today of the executive committee of the National Association of State Highway Officials. To aid in this effort, it was proposed to seek from the war department road building machinery of which the department has a surplus.

A resolution was adopted petitioning President Harding and members of congress to support the Phipps bill pending in the senate which would distribute to the states for use in road building 1,500 five-ton caterpillar tractors out of the war department surplus of four thousand such tractors.

The meeting was the first of a series of conferences an executive committee has arranged.

SENATOR HITCHCOCK WILL CONFER WITH WILSON ON TREATIES
(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Oct. 3.—Senator Hitchcock, ranking democrat, on the foreign relations committee, plans to confer with former President Wilson within the next few days, presumably regarding the administration's peace treaty with Germany. The conference is understood to have been arranged on the request of Mr. Wilson, who is said to have expressed a desire to see Mr. Hitchcock.

SPECULATION IN GERMAN MARKS IS ON THE WANE

Wave of Buying Has Been Greatly Checked Since the Value of the Money Began to Depreciate.

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Oct. 3.—Speculation in the German mark in the United States since the armistice has reached an unprecedented point, according to international bankers here.

Thousands of persons in all walks of life, hoping to get rich quick, it was stated, have invested heavily in the German currency, which recently collapsed to a point below one cent for the first time in financial history.

The buying first started in the midsummer of 1919, when the mark, whose pre-war value was 24.6 cents, was selling at 7.24 to 8 cents apiece. New York appeared to be the distributing center. Banks and foreign exchange houses were flooded with orders from small investors. Small foreign exchange houses sprang up on prominent corners, cigar stores and other business houses began to do a flourishing business in the mark.

While the wave of mark buying was at its height, peddlers hawked the German paper on the streets and one distributor is known to have made a house to house canvass.

Bankers said this buying continued as the value of the mark declined, when the German industrial recovery failed to materialize as quickly as the "get rich quick" investors had expected. Some weeks ago when the German paper began to hit new low levels, many are believed to have taken hundreds of thousands of dollars in losses.

Many of the speculators, however, bankers assert, are holding their marks for a new rise and are buying the currency at the new low rates and equalizing their losses. But the wave of buying has been greatly checked, they declared.

While bankers are reluctant to discuss the probable outcome of these speculations, they declare, that only a readjustment of reparations payments, improvement in Germany's economic situation, or the extension of commercial credits to German manufacturers for raw materials will bring about an improvement in the value of marks.

JOHN BARTON PAYNE IS RED CROSS CHAIRMAN
Washington, Oct. 3.—Appointment of John Barton Payne, former secretary of the interior and chairman of the shipping board, as chairman of the central committee of the American Red Cross, was announced today at the White House. He takes office October 15, succeeding Dr. Livingston Farrand, who has resigned as chairman.

Mr. Payne accepted the appointment on condition that he would serve without salary. Since his retirement from the cabinet he has been practically given up professional life and will give all of his time to Red Cross work.

Announcement of the acceptance was made through President Harding, official head of the Red Cross.

Dr. Farrand, the retiring chairman, has been elected president of Cornell University.

Coughlin, called in the case, had said that he knew of several similar cases and that one of these, a young girl, was not expected to recover. The witness also recounted conversations with the defendant in which she mentioned the wharves of Astrakhan, which were mentioned as the aliment from which Meyer was suffering.

HOPELESS GROUPS OF STARVING CROWD THE ASTRAKHAN WHARVES
(By The Associated Press.)
Astrakhan, Russia, Oct. 3 (by the Associated Press.)—Hopeless groups of famine refugees crowded the wharves of Astrakhan which, in happier times, were filled with the tides of commerce flowing to and from Russia and the Trans-Caspian plains. Bitter rains of autumn are falling almost continually and the first snow of the Russian winter has whitened the roofs of the buildings of the city, but the throngs of emigrants have no shelter while they wait, perhaps vainly, day and night, for transportation to the Kuban and Don regions where they can obtain food.

Astrakhan is a city of misery and suffering and death. The traveler who has seen Russia and the Russians in times of plenty, may expect to meet with a row round faced people when he again enters the country. Disillusionment is in store for him, however, for everywhere he sees thin faces, the skin of which is seemingly stretched tight across the cheek bones.

FORMER CROWN PRINCE OF GERMANY VISITS HIS FATHER AT DOORN

(By The Associated Press.)
Doorn, Holland, Oct. 3.—Former Crown Prince Frederick William, of Germany, today visited his father at Doorn Castle for the first time since the death of his mother, Augusta Victoria. He was met at the gate by the children of his brother, Prince Adalbert, who climbed into his automobile and hugged him. Then they drove with him to the terrace of the castle, where the one time emperor was impatiently awaiting him.

The relations between Frederick William and his father, which recently have been reported as somewhat strained, are believed to be greatly improved.

GROSS PUBLIC DEBT INCREASED IN SEPT.

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Oct. 3.—The nation's gross public debt increased $1,775,000 in September, according to figures made public by the treasury tonight, which show the national debt on September 30 to have been $23,924,108,000. The debt now outstanding, however, is $26,725,993,000 below the high point of American history, August 31, 1919, when it was $26,596,701,000, and it is also a reduction of $965,248,000 from September 30, 1920.

SUPREME COURT RECONVENES FOR ITS FALL TERM

William Taft Presides as Chief Justice; Important Cases to Be Re-argued Before Full Bench.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Administration of the judicial oath to William Howard Taft, the new chief justice of the supreme court of the United States, marked the reconvening today of the supreme court for the regular fall term.

The oath was administered to Mr. Taft by the senior associate justice, Joseph McKenna. Mr. Taft thereby became the first chief justice to have previously occupied the highest executive office in the nation.

The administration of the judicial oath, the final step in the induction of a new chief justice, was attended by all of the age-old, ceremony attached to the nation's highest tribunal. The oath binds the chief justice to "administer justice without respect to persons and do equal right to the poor and the rich."

The chief justice and the associate justices, at the conclusion of the ceremony, followed the established custom and went to the White House to pay their respects to the president.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 3.—The supreme court reconvened today for the regular fall term. No cases of national importance were placed upon its docket during the summer recess.

For the first time in its history, however, the court was presided over by a chief justice who formerly was a president of the United States—William Howard Taft, chosen to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Edward Douglas White.

In addition to the half dozen anti-trust cases awaiting decision there are pending several boundary and irrigation disputes between states as well as cases between states alleging trade discrimination, numerous questions arising out of government operation of railroads during the summer recess, several cases testing the rights of organized labor during strikes, as well as its responsibility for losses suffered from acts of violence during strikes, a large number of cases in which railroads and other common carriers seek to have determined their liability for injuries suffered by employees, several cases by states of the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission in rate-making and railroad control, the constitutionality of the prohibition tax imposed by the federal government upon child labor, numerous issues arising out of the enforcement of national prohibition and many land, patent, admiralty, bankruptcy, immigration, Chinese exclusion and miscellaneous cases.

Cases Under Adjudication. The court has under advisement and may give its opinion at any time in the Southern Pacific case, involving control of the Central Pacific; the Coronado case, brought by the United Mine Workers, arising out of violence during a strike in Arkansas and involving the liability of organized labor for losses caused by acts of violence; the Wisconsin case, in which forty-one other states joined to test the right of the Interstate Commerce Commission to authorize interstate railroads to raise their fares within a state, and the Western Union case, in which the government sought to prevent the landing of a cable at Miami.

Some important cases are to be reargued before a full bench. These include the United Shoe Machinery case brought under the Clayton act to test a contract prohibiting lessors from using other machines in the manufacture of shoes; the American Column & Lumber company case, a proceeding in which the government contends monopoly and restraint of trade is obtained by agreement under the so-called "Open Competition Plan"; the Altherton Mills case, from North Carolina, testing the act im-

I. duPont de Nemours Powder company case is the third among the assigned cases presenting the question whether stock issued by newly created company for distribution among stockholders of the parent company is subject to the Federal income tax. It will be followed by the rearrangement of the American Column & Lumber case.

ARREST LOUISIANA MAN ON CHARGE OF LABELING GOVERNOR. (By The Associated Press.) Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 3.—Hoyt P. Lowe, member of the public service commission from North Louisiana, was arrested in Shreveport, La., today on a warrant issued by the district court of East Baton Rouge charging him with criminally libeling Gov. John M. Parker.

The warrants were based upon two affidavits filed by the governor and constituted the execution of the governor's alleged public assertions that Governor Parker's administration had been dominated and controlled by the Standard Oil company.

Long has been expected to appear in court here tomorrow and answer the charges.

The governor today issued a statement in which he said in part: "Of these charges are in part, I am unable to be governor, and if, on the contrary, these attacks are wilfully and maliciously false, then such official should be dismissed from office and put in jail."

BANKER ARRESTED ON EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE. Omaha, Neb., Oct. 3.—E. R. Eight have been arrested of the ninety-seven indicted in fifty-eight true bills returned by the jury in its investigation of stock jobbing. Three indictments were returned against Gurney, containing two counts charging embezzlement and theft of more than $300,000 of funds, certificates of deposit and notes belonging to the Lyon Bonding and Surety company. He was released under $10,000 bonds.

1,467 ARE ENROLLED IN CLOVIS SCHOOLS. (SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE JOURNAL.) Clovis, N. M., Oct. 3.—Clovis has 1,467 children of school age, with an enrollment of 1,467 to date. Three hundred ten are enrolled in the high school. Curry county now has 27 truck routes, ranging in distance from six to 15 miles, each truck carrying 15 to 30 children.

Athletics are being given attention in the schools this year as usual. Earl Morgan of Tennessee, is athletic director. A junior and senior football team and a junior and senior basketball team have been organized. A number of games have been arranged with neighboring towns, including Roswell, Hereford, Portales and Texico-Pawnee.

BOOSTERS START 2-DAY ESTANCIA JAUNT AT 7:30

100 Albuquerque Business Men Will Leave for Estancia Valley in 25 Automobiles Early This A. M.

Albuquerque merchants will leave the city at 7:30 o'clock this morning on their two day trip through the Estancia valley. The excursion was started by the Albuquerque Business Men's association. Col. D. K. B. Sellers, president of the New Mexico Auto club, will head the procession in an official car of the club, and a service car from the Butler garage will bring up the rear.

Twenty-two cars are booked for the trip and reservations have been made for meals and lodging in the Estancia valley towns for at least 100 persons. The cars will start from the Elks' home and will travel at a fair rate of speed, each car keeping its place in the line. Checks of the cars will be made at each town on the route. The first stop will be at Tijeras. It is believed that the party will arrive at Estancia at 10 o'clock.

After meeting the Estancia merchants and the party will leave for Willard to take in the Torrance county fair. The night will be spent there and early the next morning the party will start back home, coming either by Belen or back over the same route.

The famous Indian school fund will be one of the features of the excursion, as will also the sunbonnet which are made of paper, bear the inscription: "Estancia valley and Albuquerque need each other."

350 BOYS AND GIRLS EXPECTED TO ATTEND CLOVIS ENCAMPMENT. (Special Correspondence to The Journal.) Clovis, N. M., Oct. 3.—Three hundred and fifty boys and girls will be in Clovis on October 6, 7 and 8 to attend the Curry County Boys' and Girls' club encampment. The club movement was started here several years ago. More boys and girls have enrolled in the work this year than in previous years. Mrs. Edna Durand is the Curry county club leader. Fourteen communities will be represented among the club members: Texico, Frio, Fairfield, Moya, Manchville, West Chapel, Hayner, Melrose, Grady, Hollone, Euth, Pleasant Hill, Locust Grove and McDaniel. Prominent state workers will be here to assist in the program.

The Boys' and Girls' camp will be established north of the court house, where their meals will be served. The exhibits will be shown at the Elks' auditorium.

BANK WILL REOPEN. Tombstone, Ariz., Oct. 3.—Announcement that plans were under way for reopening the First National Bank of Tombstone, which has been closed for the last month, was made this afternoon following a meeting of depositors and officers. DEATH OF C. C. HALL IN SANTA MONICA SHOCK TO FRIENDS

Word has been received here of the death of C. C. (Lum) Hall, a former resident of Albuquerque, at his home in Santa Monica, Calif. The cause of his death is not known. The remains were cremated, and have been shipped to Strong Brothers for burial here. The widow was unable to come to Albuquerque for the funeral, because of poor health.

Among Mr. Hall's activities while a resident of Albuquerque, are his founding of the Imperial laundry, and his taking active part in the promotion of New Mexico Territorial association fairs, having served as president once, and as committee member at other times. During the financial depression of 1932, Mr. Hall was largely instrumental in preventing, as far as possible, the collapse of the Albuquerque National bank.

Even after his removal to California, Mr. Hall retained a lively interest in this city and his friends here.

British Field Marshal Writes Harding Congratulating Him and Receives Reply From the President.

(By The Associated Press.) Edinburgh, Scotland, Oct. 3. (By The Associated Press.)—Field Marshal Earl Haig, who commanded the British forces in France and Belgium in the great war, speaking at a grand rally of the Edinburgh branches of the British Legion held here, said he had written President Harding congratulating him upon what he called a grand rally of the British Legion here, and the calling of a conference at Washington on limitation of armament and problems of the far east, and that he had received a reply from the American president, in this communication. The field marshal read the president's letter to the audience. In it President Harding said:

"I received and am deeply impressed by your letter in which your lordship, as president of the British Empire Service League and in the name of 7,000,000 of service men of the British Empire conveyed to me their warm congratulations upon our efforts to establish more firmly the foundations of world peace."

"In the same letter I am assured of the league's heartfelt sympathy and strong hope that this movement may prove an important step toward the realization of those high ideals of just dealing and good will between the nations for the sake of which so many men of both our countries died."

"I greatly prize the expressions of sympathy and support from an organization which holds a unique and glorious place in the affections and respect of people everywhere on earth who cherish liberty, fair dealing and the peaceful processes of progress."

APOLLO CLUB WILL SING FOR KIWANIS LUNCHEON FRIDAY.

The Apollo club will make its first public appearance Friday evening when, under the direction of Marie Klein, it will deliver several selections at the Kiwanis convention banquet at the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Klein has taken charge of the direction of the club and a marked improvement has been noticed in the results being obtained. More of the men are coming to rehearsals and it is hoped that within a short time, all of the forty-seven who signed up as members will become active in the work of the organization. About twenty are now practicing each week with the new music.

REQUEST LEGION CHIEFS TO PUT HOUSE IN ORDER

Miners Refuse to Condemn Ex-Service Men's Organization for Alleged Strike Breaking Activities.

(By The Associated Press.) Indianapolis, Oct. 3.—Although refusing to condemn the American legion because of alleged strike breaking activities of some of its members, the convention of the United Mine Workers of America today adopted a resolution of the committee report calling on legion officials "to put their house in order."

The action came after several delegates had appealed vehemently for the convention to go on record in qualified condemnation of the legion.

The committee report, among those made on more than 100 resolutions sent to the convention for consideration by local unions throughout the country and which had been before the committee for consideration since the opening of the convention. Most of the resolutions went into the discard.

Appointing Organizers. Aside from the work on resolutions, the committee voted overwhelmingly not to change the union's present system of appointing organizers. Supporters of an election plan complained that the appointive system permitted officers to build up a political machine, but no evidence to support the charges was found by a committee, appointed at the 1919 convention, which held election of organizers impracticable.

Among the resolutions adopted was one favoring immediate nationalization of coal mines and railroads, the repeal of the espionage laws and amnesty for all "political prisoners," and self-determination for Ireland.

The convention sidestepped taking a stand on prohibition when the issue was brought up, by resolutions favoring light wines and beer, and action was taken on these resolutions.

Radicals Lose Out. Resolutions, regarded by delegates as manifesting radical tendencies, were rejected outright. The idea of "one big union" of workers, the affiliation of the mine workers with the International Council of Trade and Industrial Unions to develop working class solidarity, and the calling of a convention by American trade unions to form one organization, having as its object the abolition of capital and the establishment of the "workers' industrial republic in the United States," were lost overwhelmingly without discussion.

The committee report dealing with the American legion, cited that the world war veterans' organization "shall be a force of law and order," adding that act of individuals, and not of the legion, had brought condemnation on the legion, and that the "granny practice" by legion members through force is in direct violation of the federal constitution as well as that of their order.

Punishment of Members. "We, therefore, call upon the proper officials of the American legion," said the report, "to put their household in order by adopting some proper and effective punishment of its members who violate the constitution, and weaken the force of the legion, and tend to bring it into disrepute. The American legion is organized for a good purpose, but has been used for bad practice, and, being an infant organization, we feel it unwise at this time to compound or overlook the American legion as an organization until they can have the opportunity to put their house in order."

John Wilkinson, of Muskogee, Okla., president of the miners' union in that district, in urging favorable action on the report, declared the miners could not put the legion "out of business" by condemning it, and asked, "if you want to see them put their house in order, get in there and help them."

ARRESTED, TRIED AND SENTENCED TO PRISON IN LESS THAN 24-HOURS. (By The Associated Press.) Safford, Ariz., Oct. 3.—Arrested, tried and sentenced to the penitentiary less than 24-hours after he committed a robbery and only seven hours after the crime was reported to the sheriff's office here is the record made in the case of Theodore Shufelt.

A store of Lee Carpenter of Ashland, twenty miles west of here, was robbed of $20 last night. At 9:30 o'clock this morning, the sheriff's office here was notified and deputies went to the store where they found finger prints of the robber. They traced him to Safford, arrested Shufelt at noon, confronted him with the finger prints, and he confessed. He was given a preliminary hearing in the justice of the peace court, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to four months in the state prison at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

4 ARRESTS MADE IN CONNECTION WITH THE KILLING OF 2 PERSONS. (By The Associated Press.) Tucson, Ariz., Oct. 3.—Four persons were arrested today on suspicion of having been connected with the killing of Postmaster and Mrs. Frank Pearson at Ruby, Ariz., according to an announcement made tonight by County Attorney A. H. De Riemer. Sheriff De Riemer said the arrests were made by Sheriff George White of this county.

Those arrested were Salvador Zazueta, Pacado Silves, Juan Lazaro and Siplarian Nunez. Zazueta's preliminary hearing will be held in a local justice of the peace court Wednesday. Silves and Lucero are residents of Arivaca, a small town near Ruby, and Nunez is a former Mexican soldier.

Postmaster and Mrs. Pearson were killed when their post office at Ruby was raided by seven bandits several weeks ago.

BANKERS CONVENE IN LOS ANGELES TODAY. (By The Associated Press.) Los Angeles, Oct. 3.—Financiers of the nation will examine, dissect and determine the condition of the country's economic wealth in the formal opening of the forty-seventh annual convention of the American Bankers association here tomorrow. The economic situation of today, the relation of money to industry, the relation of capital to labor, the relation of the national pocket book to the individual will be analyzed by experts from every angle.

For four days the bankers will continue to probe and absorb ideas on policies for improvement. The first general session opening tomorrow will hear a report on "our situation today—a country wide economic survey" by John S. Drum, president of the association, which will be followed by reports from the ten divisions of the association.

BENNY LEONARD MUST MEET LEW TENDLER, EDICT

He Cannot Fight Sailor Friedman in Philadelphia Until This Is Done, Director Cortelyou Rules.

(By Sparrow McGann.)
(Special Dispatch to Morning Journal.)
New York, Oct. 3.—Here is a straight tip, lad: Benny Leonard won't fight Sailor Friedman in Philadelphia until he himself makes good with the boxing fans of the Quaker city. He has got to meet Lew Tandler before he puts up his hands in a ring in Philly.

There has been a lot of talk that before Friedman meets Leonard the sailor will have to fulfill a broken engagement with John Mealey. This was the dictum of Director of Public Safety Cortelyou. All true and straight enough so far as it went. But it is rather than has been reported. The fact is that Leonard is in the same boat. He has got to go into the squared circle with Tandler before he faces any other fighter in Tandler's home town. Mr. Cortelyou is a regular Solomon when it comes to handling the pugilists in Philadelphia and the chances that his methods will be effective in bringing about the looked for meeting between the two famous lightweights are good.

Tex Rickard would like to have the two boys meet in Madison Square Garden. There are two names attached to a golden harvest—Jack Dempsey and Benny Leonard. A Tandler-Leonard fight at the Garden would mean a quarter of a million dollar house. Why, as Billy Gibson, who manages Leonard, held aloof from the coin?

Well, there are two reasons. The first is that if Leonard does not meet Tandler in Philadelphia, that city will be closed to him as a fighting ground and that might mean the loss of a lot of money in the future.

But the chief reason is what may be termed a feud between Leonard and Rickard. Whenever sports get together they talk about that, and wonder what can be the matter and who said what and who did which. But there has never been any real fight cast on the subject. Now stand by for the illumination.

The present scribe is in a position to slip the real dope as to the Rickard-Leonard situation. It will be recalled, then, that last year at the Garden, Tex gave two benefits, one for devastated France and the other for the stricken Irish. Leonard boxed at both the benefits. Finally Leonard turns to Rickard and said in effect:

"Look here, Tex, you've held two benefits. When are you going to hold one for the Jews?"

"Well," says Tex, "I can't afford any more benefits this year."

Then Leonard said something and Rickard came back strong according to the story. He pointed out that Leonard had got forty thousand for his first benefit and about thirty-five for his second, whereas Rickard had yielded up every cent of profit. He couldn't see where Leonard got off demanding benefits. Then Benny got mad and said never again would he box in the Garden while Rickard controlled it. And there the matter stands.

But it might be whispered that Rickard this winter intends to hold a monster benefit in behalf of Jew and gentile beneficent organizations.

Theaters Today

"B" Theater—The Famous Players-Lasky corporation presents "The Inside of the Cup," a Cosmopolitan production, but a Paramount picture; also presenting "Burton Holmes Travelogue" and "Current Events" pictures.

Lyric Theater—"Man, Woman and Marriage" drew big crowds at each show yesterday afternoon and last night, and is being repeated today. The management is also repeating "The Spoozers," a Varsity comedy.

Pastime Theater—For the last time today, "The Sting of the Lash" is being repeated, with Pauline Frederick as the leading star. The management is also repeating the "Fox News" pictures, but as an added attraction will present a reel or two of "Mutt and Jeff" cartoons.

TEA AND CAKE SERVED DAILY WITH MUSIC IN NEW YORK BARBER SHOP

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Oct. 3.—A barber shop and hair-dressing parlor of luxury, where tea and cake are served daily with music from 4 to 6 p. m. have been opened in the old Hotel Knickerbocker on the old site where many well known men along the Great White Way were wont to foregather, put one foot on the rail, gaze at a famous picture of old King Cole and do things now forbidden by an amendment to the constitution and legislation supplementary thereto.

As another mark of progress a publication in pink specializing in photographs of actresses and boxers has no place in this barber shop. It has given way to the highest class of magazines. Caruso used to live in the hotel. Since prohibition it has been turned into stores and offices.

BATTING HONORS IN AMERICAN LEAGUE WON BY HARRY HEILMAN

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Oct. 3.—Harry Heilmann, Detroit slugging outfielder, won the 1921 batting championship in the American league by .3003 of a point, according to unofficial figures made public today. Heilmann's boss, Manager Ty Cobb, gave him a merry chase for the title. They were virtually tied when the season closed yesterday, with .299 each, but the figures when carried out to four percentage points gave Heilmann .2994 and Cobb .2991. Ruth, New York, was third with .277. Sisler, St. Louis, last year's champion, fourth, .271, and Speaker, Cleveland, fifth, .257.

Two facts make this year's world series a series of unusual interest. This is the first time in the history of the American League

NEW YORK DIVIDES ITSELF FOR A ROOTERS' WAR WHEN YANKEES AND GIANTS MEET ON WEDNESDAY

Baseball Fans Are Debating the Respective Merits of the Various Players; Ruth's Supporters Expect Big Things From Their Idol; Record Attendance Is Expected.

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Oct. 3.—New York plunged into a sea of baseball argument today and at the same time divided itself for a rooters' war when the Yankees and Giants meet in world series combat at the Polo grounds Wednesday.

On the subway, the elevated, the buses and in surface cars and hotel lobbies—everywhere—baseball fans were debating the respective merits of the various players. Whether the speed and resourcefulness of the Giants can overcome the punching power of the Yankees is one of the big points at issue. Yankee rooters expect big things of "Duke" Ruth.

Meanwhile the offices of the opposing clubs were making final preparations for the post season classic. At the Giants' headquarters all the tickets had been reserved. It was announced, and there talk centered about McGraw's pitching selection for the opening game.

"Tony is his best bet," declared an old-time player. "Fred will make Ruth and Meusel and the rest of that Yankee slugging crowd pop 'em up to the infield. McGraw wants to take the first game and Tony's the boy to do it."

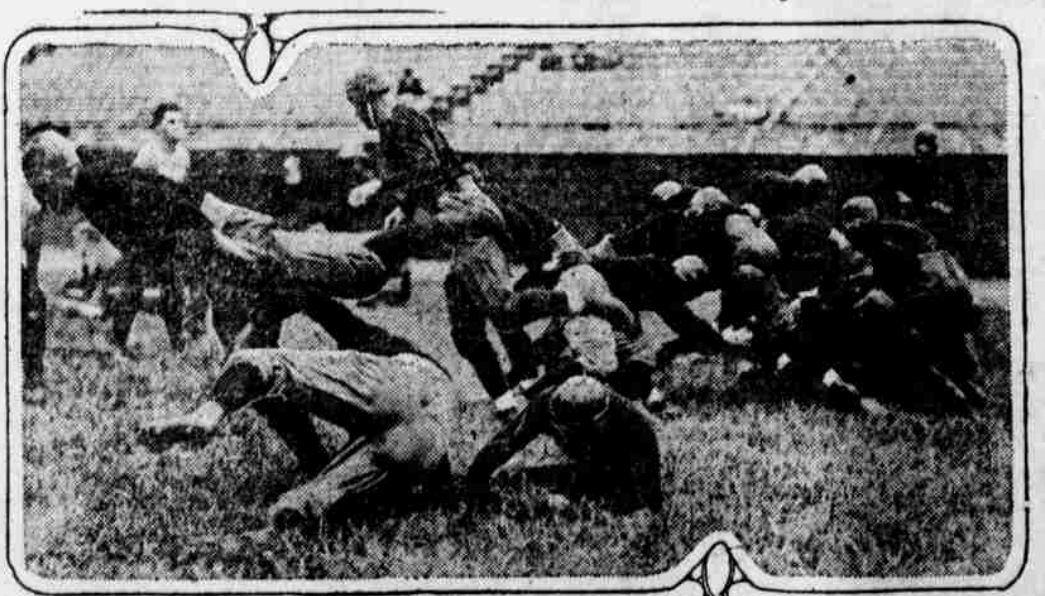

Other Giant followers thought McGraw might start Art Nehf, the young left hander, and still others favored Phil Douglas. McGraw said nothing. Neither did Huggins, Jennings, nor Cozy Dolan, the two coaches.

Yankee headquarters was filled with baseball players, and last minute ticket seekers. Miller Huggins, manager, went into seclusion, leaving word that he wanted to give his nerves a rest and do some figuring on the dope. It is generally agreed that Huggins will start Carl Mays, the submarine hurler, but Bob Shawkey has been going so good in the last few games he has pitched that Huggins may spring him as a surprise.

Fans Pour Into City.
Fans from all parts of the country are pouring into the city and hotel managers are counting on filling their accommodations. The seating capacity of the Polo grounds is given as 25,000, but ambitious ushers always have been able to find seats in the aisles and on the rails for at least 2,000 more and there is standing room for many more.

TY COBB EXPECTS TO ACQUIRE TWO PLAYERS ON THE PACIFIC COAST

(By The Associated Press.)
Detroit, Mich., Oct. 3.—Ty Cobb, manager of the Detroit American league baseball team, on his departure tonight for San Francisco, where he will manage a winter league club, said he expected to acquire at least two players during his stay on the coast. He did not indicate who they were.

"I expect to return to Detroit next year in a managerial and playing capacity," he added.

Harry Heilmann, Tiger right-fielder, who engaged with his manager in a merry race for batting honors in the league, will leave for the coast later in the week to play winter baseball.

O. T. STARS SEND CENTRALS A HOT GAME CHALLENGE

Old Town Stars say that the Albuquerque Centrals, who are claiming the city second team championship through their two wins out of three from the Stars, are not entitled to the title through the fact that the Centrals have played a number of Gray players in each of the three games. In the same Sunday when the Stars were defeated, Sandoval, pitcher of the Grays, was in the Central box.

The Stars claim they can beat the Centrals if the Centrals play their own team. They have challenged the Centrals to a five-game series, counting the three games already played. If the Centrals take one of the additional two games, they will win the series and the Stars will be willing to admit their superiority.

As an added inducement, the Stars suggest that the losers of the proposed series equip the winners with new uniforms and bats. The Stars stated last night that they were willing to play at any time convenient to the Centrals. They demand, however, that the Centrals play their own team.

The Stars have played seventeen games this season and have lost but five, including two to the Grays.

PRO OFFICIAL HELD ON BRIBERY CHARGE

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 3.—Thomas F. McAuliffe, federal enforcement officer for Connecticut, arrested at New Haven today, charged with accepting a bribe from Charles and Samuel Gardini, proprietors of the Grand hotel in New Britain. The arrest of the Gardini brothers, charged with giving a bribe, followed.

Nearly $20,000,000 is being spent daily in the retail stores in Chicago.

RACES POSTPONED.
Lexington, Ky., Oct. 3.—Opening of the grand circuit trotting meet here today, was postponed to Tuesday because of track conditions, following heavy rains last night.

The Ald society of the Methodist church met Wednesday afternoon at the church.

Mrs. Eva Corbett moved to the latter part of this week to the new house she has built on her land in the northwest part of town.

Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Merkel have returned from the conference at Clayton. They will be in Mountainair for another year.

Mrs. Julian Howell left Saturday for her new home in Gladstone after a visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. J. Ambler.

P. A. Speckmann is in Socorro and Magdalena on business.

Mrs. Dora Booth has returned from a visit with her son, Alex Booth, in Estancia.

Mrs. J. W. Jackson and Mrs. M. L. Lynn were in Albuquerque shopping.

Mrs. E. L. Garvin was over from Estancia visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Williams.

Mr. Baker and family, who recently came in from Oklahoma, have moved to the Elmer Shaw farm north of town.

B. A. Higgins, formerly of this place, came in last week from Kansas. He has bought lots in the Veal addition, where he will build. He will soon return to Kansas to bring his family out.

N. Y. BANKERS TO BE ENTERTAINED IN CITY OCT. 10

Railway Provides Financiers With Market Ticker Service; Bankers to Arrive on Three Special Trains.

New York state bankers will stop in Albuquerque October 10 on their way home from the convention at Los Angeles. The bankers will arrive in the special trains, each containing twelve coaches. More than 400 persons are in the party.

The Chamber of Commerce, which has been in touch with the leader of the party, received a wire yesterday stating that the trains would arrive here October 10 at 2:40 o'clock in the afternoon, and would remain until 4 o'clock. Plans will be made by the chamber and the bankers will be entertained while here. Auto rides will be taken through the city and surrounding country. Committees from the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations will meet the trains, as will also committees from the Albuquerque banks.

Ticker service is being maintained for the benefit of the bankers on their trip away from the money world. The Santa Fe railway arranged the market service for the financiers, who have been able to keep in close touch with conditions during their trip.

A special dance is being arranged at Laleta for the bankers, who expressed a desire to see some of the famous southwest Indian dances. Their train will stop at Laleta for an hour before arriving at Albuquerque.

MEMBERSHIP OF THE LEAGUE COUNCIL NOT TO BE INCREASED NOW

(By The Associated Press.)
Geneva, Oct. 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—The council of the league of nations has thus far been unable to agree upon the proposal to increase the number of permanent members of the council.

Therefore, it appears improbable that any change in the number of members of the council will be made this year, the proposed increase in the number of non permanent members being dependent upon the suggested addition to the permanent membership.

Dr. Gaston da Cunha of Brazil, said today he did not consider the composition of the council likely to be changed at this time.

PERSONAL NOTES OF THE STATE

MOUNTAINAIR.
Mrs. P. A. Speckmann was in Albuquerque from Friday until Sunday, representing the local W. M. F. at the conference of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the M. E. church.

Mrs. Julia Prewitt and her daughters, Alma and Vera, left Friday for their home in Oklahoma City after a visit of a month with Mrs. Prewitt's sister, Mrs. E. E. Langford.

Mrs. Frank Schmitts has returned from Albuquerque, where she visited her daughter Bertha, who is there for osteopathic treatment.

Montrose McEachern came over Thursday afternoon from Belen and visited old friends here, returning Sunday afternoon.

COLLEGE INN ALMOST OPENS UP AGAIN BUT DEAL FALLS THROUGH

Albuquerque had hopes of boasting again a chocolate shop with a dance floor, 'n everything. It hoped so, at least, for a couple of weeks after it was announced that E. T. Chase and Dr. R. Fred Pettit had purchased the equipment of the College Inn at a receiver's sale.

Yesterday, however, it was announced by Frank Graham, their agent, that the rent negotiations with the owner of the building could not be made to the satisfaction of the prospective lessees and that the business project would be given up.

All of the equipment has been nicely cleaned up during the past two days while workmen were getting the shop ready for occupancy by the new proprietors but is on the market again. An agreement as to rental which the landlord made on Saturday was broken yesterday, according to Mr. Graham.

SUGGESTS THAT HOUSE CONTINUE TO RECESS

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Oct. 3.—Because of unfinished legislation pending in the senate, Representative Mondell, republican leader, suggested to the house today that it continue its three-day recess program under which no business is transacted. Final decision went over until tomorrow.

Mr. Mondell said he would confer with members to find out the general views as to how long the house might take its recess program. With the tax bill and treaties still to be acted on by the senate, he declared there was little expectation that other measures would be considered before the regular session in December.

A Varnish That Does Not Scratch or Mar

—even tho your guests' shoes
be roughened by street wear

Many a generous hostess has said "Let's roll up the rugs and dance"—said it with a smile on her lips, but with a sinking feeling in her heart, for she knows that at all such impromptu dances there will be rough shoes that will be a severe trial to her beautiful, shiny floors.

The first dance, however, after her floors have been done with McMurtry Rubber Floor Varnish, proves that her fears are groundless and that her guests may enjoy themselves to the fullest without harm to the floors which are her pride.

This McMurtry product is remarkable in that it has all the virtues of the finest varnishes and in addition dries out tough hard rather than brittle hard. It will not scratch, check, or mar in any way.

Certainly a satisfaction to any woman who takes pride in her floors! But think of the economy! Long, satisfactory wear is economy of the best kind.

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED

By JANE PHELPS.

NERVES IN THE ASCENDENT.

CHAPTER 104.

The look in Dick's eyes had sent me to my room for fear I would say or do something to show my pain at what they held. For love, adoration, had swept them before he had lowered his lids—and I had seen.

I clasped and unclasped nervous hands as I walked back and forth. Was there any use in trying to hold him or win back when he felt like that?

Then came the thought—they were alone. Was she in his arms? And I rushed downstairs like one demented. I was giving that other woman her opportunity. "That Other Woman"—how often I had heard the expression, never giving it a thought. But when that other woman threatened my own home, how dangerous was she!

I didn't knock. "What is it, Nan?" Dick asked, swinging around on his swivel chair, while Juanita looked at me in amazement from the opposite side of the table where she sat, her chin in her hands, her eyes brilliant under the orange scarf which she had not removed. "She knows it is coming," I thought.

"Did you call?" I queried, embarrassed, ill at ease. I never before had failed to rap on the study door before entering.

"Why, no! Did you think you heard someone?" "Yes, but never mind!" and as precipitately as before, I again left them alone.

As I mounted the stairs I heard a soft, mocking laugh. Juanita knew why I had returned and was laughing at me.

I felt as if my anger were strangling me, and held my hand to my throat. "I won't let her have him! I won't!" was all I could say as once more I closed the door of my room.

It seemed to me as I repeated this over and over that a thousand little devils all screamed at me: "How are you going to help yourself?" and that another thousand yelled: "She's got him now!"

That night I let Dick take Juanita home alone. I called "good night" as they left, and leaning over the banisters I asked in as suave a tone as I could command: "You will excuse me if I don't come along, won't you? I am very tired."

"Certainly, Nan. You'd better go right to bed. I shall be back shortly," Dick answered.

Did I imagine it, or was there a sort of relief in his tone as he replied. Juanita called in her gay, husky voice: "Dick isn't afraid to come back alone, Nan! The hobgoblins won't get him."

"I'm not afraid of the hobgoblins," I called back, and again her soft mocking laugh reached me.

It was over an hour before I heard Dick's step on the walk. When he came in I pretended to be asleep. He called me softly just once, and when I did not answer he shut himself in the study. It was hours later when he finally came upstairs.

Early the next morning I went into the study—it was before he had gotten down. What had he been doing all that time? No loose sheets, no notes, no disorder, everything just as it always was left when he and Juanita had been working together—neat piles of manuscript waiting to be corrected.

Fortunately the postman brought me a letter from Junior. When Dick came down I was busily engaged in reading it.

"What does he say?" Dick asked, man-like, preferring I should tell him what Junior had written rather than read it himself.

"He says he flunked in algebra, and has got to give up his recreation hour until it is made up; that he shared his last box with so many of the boys he had scarcely anything left for himself, and—oh, listen to this:

"Derick says to tell you you cook better than his mother's chef does, and that please to tell me not to cut him out of the next box. I threatened to give them all the go-by because they hogged most everything."

"Isn't that just like a boy?" I asked. "You spell that youngster," Dick smiled as he replied. Then, "What else has he got to say?" I resumed reading.

"Derick hasn't stopped talking about Aunt Nita. He makes me tired. I told him so the other day and he got real huffy. Aunt Nita's all right, but I'm fed up on her."

I stopped and glanced at Dick. He had flushed redly as he often did when Juanita's name was mentioned. He said no more about Junior's letter, but asked if he might have breakfast at once so that he might get to work.

"My novel is almost ready for the publisher, if I succeed in finding one," he said in reply to a question of mine. "I shall send it away the last of the week."

"Then Juanita can't claim his time," I whispered, once more forgetting that love always finds a way.

FORMING PLANS FOR RED CROSS REGIONAL MEET

Arrangements for the first regional conference of the American Red Cross in New Mexico which will gather in Albuquerque on October 15 are being completed by the division headquarters in co-operation with the local chapter. The conference will be held in the federal court room in the postoffice building and will be concluded on the evening of the same day.

Invitations are being sent to twenty chapters in the state from which it is expected that delegates will be sent. Robert E. Bondy, acting division manager of the Red Cross and Miss Mary Anne Cross, one of the field representatives, will both return to the city for the conference. A big present, "The Red Cross of Peace," will be presented on the evening of the conference under the direction of Miss Ethel Hickey.

The program for the conference as it stands at present includes a talk by Miss Edith Childers, local home service secretary, on "The Responsibility of the Red Cross to the Ex-Service Man." Dr. LeRoy S. Peters will speak on "Our Responsibility to the Ex-Service Man." Mrs. Thomas T. Eyre, manager of the Albuquerque Red Cross Salvage shop will give a talk on "Volunteer Service" and Dr. J. F. Docherty, city and county health officer, will speak on "The Nursing Program."

Out of the speakers will be Mrs. J. B. Read of Santa Fe, who will speak on "Recreation Work." Miss Lillian Hennigan of Raton, who will give a talk on "The Red Cross in the Schools." Mrs. Ashby Pond of Santa Fe, who will talk on "The Necessity of Membership." C. G. Gunderson of Bernadillo on "The Mexican Problem," and John Ernest of Gallup on "The Necessity of Chapter Organization."

Under the heading "Howdy, New Mexico," the October number of the "Independent Woman," the official organ of the Business and Professional Woman's club, carried an account of the organization of the New Mexico state federation of these clubs.

This federation was organized here on August 8 with Miss Lota Kelly of Raton as president, Miss Ethel Hickey of Albuquerque as vice president, and Miss Evelyn Shuler of Raton, secretary. The Raton club is the oldest in the state. Albuquerque follows and a number of other clubs are being organized among business and professional women in other cities and towns. The next meeting of the Albuquerque club will be held on Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. dining room.

BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB RECOGNIZED BY NATIONAL MAGAZINE

Quires from one to two pounds. So it will be seen from these facts that a good grade of silk must be expensive. Do not for a moment think it possible to pay a low price and receive a fine quality.

Many of us—indeed most of us—however, do not demand the finest silk for our garments because we cannot afford to pay for it. What we want is an adulterated silk at a moderate price that looks well. We are thankful that the manufacturers have found a way of adulterating it, for by so doing they have put a becoming fabric within our financial reach. But we do demand that they are fair and offer it to us inexpensively, not trying to convince us that it is the finest grade.

"Weighting" and "loading" are the names given a process of adulterating silks. Silk has a great ability to absorb dyes and metallic salts without apparently changing the quality of the material. So the reasonable silks on the market contain more or less of this loading or weighting to make them seem heavier. It is a common practice to add 30 per cent of these elements, while it is possible to add 250 or even 300 per cent of them. To ascertain how greatly a certain piece of silk material is weighted, get a sample of it, take it home and put it in a hot oven on a tin dish, and note the amount of weighting left on the pan when the silk has burned away (only the weighting will remain and it will be in the original shape of the sample).

Another method of adulterating silk is with cotton and mercerized cotton. The fibers are not spun together here as they are with wool, but the threads of the two materials are woven together. In very cheap silks a fine cotton thread sometimes forms either warp or filling.

"Fiber silk" is an artificial silk. It is made from cotton or wool fiber put through capillary tubes, hardened in the air and so treated that it will withstand moisture. This fiber silk is used in many knitted sweaters, scarfs, dress braids, fancy ribbons and is combined with both pure silk and with cotton. It may be detected by its brilliancy and stiffness.

Followed a Neighbor's Advice and Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vernon, Tex.—"For three years I suffered untold agony each month with my pains. I found only temporary relief in doctor's medicine or anything else I took until my husband saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I mentioned it to a neighbor and she told me she had taken it with good results and advised me to try it. I was then in bed part of the time and my doctor said I would have to be operated on, but we decided to try the Vegetable Compound and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a dressmaker and am now able to go about my work and do my housework besides. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial as I am always glad to speak a word for your medicine."—Mrs. W. ## FUR FROCK IS NEWEST FAD PREDICTED

By ELOISE.
This is a frock made of broad tail with an undershirt of monkey fur. Both the front and rear view of the frock is shown here and it truly is stunning although one wonders just where it will be worn. Perhaps to the skating rink, or motor, or to the country club hockey matches. But even then one wonders what will be done after the games or the ride is over and one steps inside for a cup of coffee and a sandwich. Such things, however, are far too material for fashion to worry over.

The fur frock is the newest thing and one must wear it whenever and wherever one can regardless of comfort.

Do not be fooled, however, for every fur garment you see which looks like a frock need not be one. Many of the new fur coats are made on frock lines and look just like a one-piece dress. They are often bloused and belted just like midday's afternoon gowns, but there is a fastening concealed somewhere and if you look carefully you will see it on the shoulder under the arm or down the front.

BEAUTY CHATS

By Edna Kent Forbes.

ANSWERED LETTERS.

Betty: Pimples are usually the result of impurities in the system, which may be overcome by eating properly and keeping a clean diet. Blood troubles may cause them sometimes, but in most cases they are only the results of careless habits. The discovery that yeast contains vitamins and other properties that clear the system, make it possible now for many people to have complexion troubles free from these blemishes.

Brown Eyes: Your colors will be all of the shades found in the autumn leaves preferably, but you will be able to wear almost any color, since your skin is so clear. To keep down your weight, eat less starchy food, such as white bread and potatoes. Rich pastry, sweets and fatty meats will also be bad for you, as you are already so many pounds overweight.

Ignorant: Merely working together in an office does not incur any social obligation, other than those in the normal business relationship. If your daughter wishes to extend this and make a really social thing of her business friendship, she must put it all on a different basis, which means she should include the wives of the married men in her invitations. The formal regrets at not being able to accept an invitation should be replaced by a note of acceptance; apologies for not having complied with this merely accentuates the discourtesy.

Mary R.: Olive oil, taken in grape juice, should help you gain weight and will not be too much nourishment even with the milk you are taking. Take a tablespoonful of the oil, in the same amount of grape juice, three times each day, with the meals.

Two Readers: Any make-up in the daytime is harsh, unless it is done most skillfully. It is also in bad taste, especially in a school room; such young girls should have no need for rouge even under artificial light. Yes, the constant use of this coloring will impair the action of the skin. The stage make-up does not injure, because the pores of the skin are filled with cream as a protection before the coloring is applied. The curls are not hurtful to the hair, but do not shampoo so frequently—once in two weeks will be about right for bobbed hair.

Albert P.: You are not underweight, but you probably need building up, which accounts for the hollow cheeks. A position which will keep you out in the air and exercising, will help you; if you can not do this, take all the outings possible. You may be overtaxed from studying and using up so much strength in growth, so counteract this by plenty of outdoor exercise, which will rest the mind and increase your appetite.

Mrs. W. La R.: Any hair tonic should be applied to the scalp either through a dropper or from the tip of the finger, so as to get it on the hair, and not waste it through the hair. It is then massaged into the scalp.

Last Sunday I waked around to see if Mary Watkins was setting on her front steps, which she was, on 2 pillows, musing. First I'll make her think I'm grate and then I'll ask her if she wants to take a walk.

And I waked up to her winking like Charlie Chaplin, saying, "Do you know who this is a imitation of?"

My, you certainly are comical, said Mary Watkins, inquiring like anything, and then I saw Bessie's new dress making clown noises at the same time. Being a pretty good of a imitation and Mary Watkins said, "My goodness, Benny, why don't you go on the stage?"

Maybe I will, heers a imitation of a train coming into the station. I said, "And I started to make sounds like a fast train going by, and then I saw Bessie's new dress making clown noises at the same time. Being a pretty good of a imitation and Mary Watkins said, "My goodness, Benny, why don't you go on the stage?"

I got a ambition to, heers a imitation of a clown, I said, "And I started to make the worst possible faces and tenses about 5 cartwheels making clown noises at the same time. Being a pretty good of a imitation and Mary Watkins said, "My goodness, Benny, why don't you go on the stage?"

I don't feel like it, said Puds. Being a good excuse for not saying he didn't know how, and I started to get ready again to ask her to go for a walk, and Puds said, "Hey Mary, I got 20 cents, do you want to go around and get some ice cream soda?"

O wad a perfectly wonderful thing, said Mary Watkins, Benny will excuse me, went you Benny? And she jumped up without wait-

NUMBER OF PERSONS IN A FAMILY DECREASED

Washington, Oct. 3.—Decrease during the last decade in the average number of persons in a family and to a dwelling in the United States, is indicated by comparative statistics made public today by the census bureau. The 1920 census showed that the nation's population was grouped into 24,351,676 families residing in 20,697,264 dwellings, making an average of 4.3 persons to a family and 5.1 persons to a dwelling.

In 1910 the average number of persons to a family was 4.5 and to a dwelling 5.2. The average in both cases was still higher in 1880—five persons to a family and 5.6 persons to a dwelling and has declined steadily since.

AN OLD LAND MARK IN SAN ANTONIO IS SWEEP AWAY BY FLOOD WATERS

(By The Associated Press.)

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 3.—Among old landmarks which disappeared partially with the recent flood here, was the "Quinta," better known as the first postoffice on Dwyer avenue in this city. It was built some 160 years ago, and ranked with the Alamo in claim to more historic events in the city's past.

The structure was stone. It stood on the bank of the river just across the street from the courthouse. About a year ago it was condemned to be razed to make room for widening Dwyer avenue, but before the order was carried out the flood started the removal. The foundation crumbled and one end and side of the building is a mass of ruins.

Deeds show the "Quinta" was built in 1761. In 1814 it was confiscated by a Spanish general who had sacked the outpost and was used as a prison for more than 600 American women and girls, who were forced to grind corn and perform other labor.

It next entered the limelight of Texas history when it was selected as the first postoffice for San Antonio, about 1849. Then it was the property of John Bowen, the first postmaster. It has remained in the family since. For the past few years it was the home of several Mexican families and one or two small business enterprises. The slots cut in the massive doors in which to drop letters remained to the last.

Recent discoveries in Egypt have disclosed curious burial customs among the ancients, one of the most interesting, perhaps, being a large number of servant groups. These consist of little wooden servants to serve their master in after-life.

Not Beauty Only

These whiter teeth mean safer teeth as well

No doubt the great reason why millions use Pepsodent is to get prettier teeth. It removes the dingy film.

But science has more important objects. Pepsodent brings five effects, and all of them mean better tooth protection.

The ruinous film

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Old methods of brushing do not effectively combat it. So it often lingers long.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look cloudy. Countless teeth are thus made dingy.

Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Also of other serious troubles. Most of the tooth and gum attacks are now traced to that film.

Must combat it daily

After diligent research science has found two ways to combat that film. Many careful tests have proved them. Now leading dentists everywhere advise their daily use.

Both are embodied in a modern tooth paste—Pepsodent. Every use attacks the film in two effective ways. It also brings three other results which have proved essential.

Fights starch and acid

Pepsodent does what fruit acids do. It multiplies the salivary flow. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay.

Those are Nature's great tooth-protecting agents. Every use of Pepsodent multiplies their powers.

Effects are apparent

Millions now know the delightful effects. Any one who will can quickly see and feel them.

BRITISH FORCES CAN'T PUT DOWN INDIAN REVOLT

Rebels Control More Than 100,000 Square Miles of Territory: Absolute Independence Proclaimed.

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Oct. 3.—Rebel forces in India control more than 100,000 square miles of territory, over which they have proclaimed absolute independence, according to a statement issued here tonight by S. N. Chhab, national director of the American commission to promote self government in India.

Press dispatches from Calcutta, the statement said, "state that the rebels are offering the Hindus the alternative of death or Islam."

Nothing can be further from the truth. In the Malabar region, the ratio of the Mohammedans to the Hindus bear fifty to fifty, and if it were a case of Mohammedans uprising against the Hindus, the latter would have sided with the British authorities for self protection.

"The uprising between the Indian people against the British broke out seven weeks ago, and the crown military forces have not been able to crush the movement."

M'KINLEY MILLS TO RESUME WORK NEXT THURSDAY

The McKinley Lumber company will reopen its sawmill with a force of about 100 men Wednesday or Thursday, it was announced yesterday by officials of the company.

The mill has been idle for about a month and a half, having been shut down since August 15 for repairs.

At present, the mill is ready for work full time and will continue operations until December 1, unless the supply of logs from the mountains is cut off by bad weather.

SEASON TONIGHT BY
FORTNIGHTLY CLUB

The concert this evening in the Presbyterian church is the first of the autumnal musicals given by the Fortnightly Music club.

Miss Gertrude Thompson is in charge of an entertainment that promises to fix a high standard of excellence for programs to follow.

Musicians who know the celebrated Godowsky have requested that the erroneous statement of the pianist's age as chronicled by the Music club reporter in the Sunday issue, be corrected so that all may know that he was born in 1876 and is only 51 years of age—not 70, as was reported.

The Godowsky concert in the high school auditorium October 19, will be the initial booking of the lyceum series the Fortnightly club will sponsor during the coming season.

FEARS ATTACK: HAS
PISTOL; FINED $60

George Newton, who was a cow boy at the rodeo, was fined $60 yesterday morning by Judge W. W. McClellan, on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

When asked why he carried a pistol, Newton answered that it was for protection. Prohibition officers appeared in his behalf to explain that he had worked for them on a special case. They stated that Newton carried a gun because he was recently attacked by several men, who assaulted him from ambush, beating him, and tearing his clothing.

The court declared that if Newton was afraid he should have made a complaint against any enemies and put them under a peace bond.

COTTON PRICES DROP FOLLOWING AN EARLY RISE

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Oct. 3.—One of the most rapid and exciting movements of the spectacular sessions on the cotton exchange occurred today in connection with the publication of the government's crop reports. After an early rise of unusual proportions, prices broke violently, until within ten minutes, a reaction of 129 to 195 points has been recorded.

Before publication of the report there was a good deal of buying in the expectation that the figures would show a condition of 40 or under. When the actual figures of 42.2 were announced, the market was overwhelmed with selling orders. December contracts, which rose approximately $6.50 to $21.55, a new high record for the season, on the sharp early upturn, slumped to $20.00 and active months generally were marked-down for net losses of 30 to 65 points.

Almost as quickly as it came the rush of liquidation subsided and the market became steadier in trade buying, with recoveries in the later trading.

The government report was only slightly above the average of the private reports recently issued, and the selling which followed publication of the figures was attributed chiefly to liquidation of speculative accounts.

New Orleans, Oct. 3.—Gains of a quarter of a cent a pound on contracts for delivery this year were retained by the cotton in the New Orleans market at the close today, after one of the most exciting days in the history of the local exchange.

The outside public looked upon the government crop condition report, and the report of ginnings as bullish, and a certain forecasting of a cotton famine before the year is out.

DISCOVERED: A ROOF
GARDEN IN THE CITY:
WHY BUILD A HOTEL?

Albuquerque can turn up its municipal nose and pooh-pooh rival cities whose roof gardens are a symbol of "class," as it were. It has a roof garden of its own with paths, a pergola and green growing things in the center of a downtown office building. Unless one happens to patronize the physical clans, photographers and others in the building he fails to know about the garden spot in the center of the city.

The roof garden was established only during the past summer on the roof of a section of the first floor of what is known as the Grant block which is owned by Guido Gioml. The open space surrounding a skylight is approximately 100 by 40 feet. This was floored with narrow boards and provided with a green trellis which extends the length of the roof. Tubs of flowering plants and vines which are being trained over the trellis furnish the vegetation which makes the garden.

The garden is to be reached through the windows at the head of the stairs or through any of the windows of the rooms of the building which open on the roof. The vine-entwined colonnade with the tubs of flowers offers an attractive "vista through" which happily does not end in the flat side of another office building. The garden was built by Mr. Gioml and is tended by Mrs. Bambini, who is caretaker of the building.

When you think of the successful men and women you know—people who are doing things worth while—you will find that they possess force, vim and energy—the kind that simply brim over when the blood is filled with iron. Nuxated Iron by enriching the blood and creating new red blood cells, strengthens the nerves, rebuilds the weakened tissues and helps to instill renewed force and energy into the whole system. Four million people use it annually as a tonic, strength and blood-builder.

MAKE THIS TEST

See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired; next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Numbers of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while have most astonishingly increased their strength and endurance simply by taking iron in the proper form.

ANNIVERSARY OF DEATH OF DANTE COMMEMORATED

Exercises Presided Over By Secretary Hughes; "He Is Ours As Well As Italy's," Says in Speech.

Washington, Oct. 3.—The six hundredth anniversary of the death of Dante Alighieri was commemorated tonight at exercises in the national museum presided over by Secretary of State Hughes.

A letter was read from President Harding, who was unable to attend. Speakers included Guido Sabetta, counselor of the Italian embassy, and Professor Charles H. Grandgent of Harvard University.

"Dante embodied all the knowledge and culture of his time," said Secretary Hughes. "He is the poet of the Christian faith and with the ideals of that faith he wrote the epic of the human soul."

President Harding in his letter said: "He was scholar, patriot and poet, but his distinction transcends his age and becomes more impressive as the centuries pass."

"My Dear Mr. Secretary: I wish you would be good enough to express my regrets to the gathering at the national museum on Monday night, for the memorial of the six hundredth anniversary of the death of Dante Alighieri."

"Had it been possible, I would have been present, and would have found much satisfaction in paying my own poor tribute, among the others, to the memory of one of the few men who have approached nearest to touch with infinity."

"In arms, in his great thoughts, in his noble moral conceptions he was ever a rebel against wrong, oppression and error."

"It is a justification for rejoicing that his anniversary is being so widely and so understandingly commemorated in our own country."

"Let us hope that the coming century may witness the fulfillment of yet others of his aspirations for the good of the commonwealth of nations, to which he has been so long and heartening an inspiration."

"Sincerely yours, Warren G. Harding."

HARD DAY'S WORK NEVER TIRES HIM SINCE TAKING IT

"If anyone needing medicine doubts that Tanlac will rid him of his troubles he has only to try it to be convinced," declared Pete Tuite, 442 East First St., Los Angeles, Cal.

"I have always been in rugged health until about two years and half ago, when I began to notice a catch in my right side and a pain in my back that became especially bad in cold damp weather."

"I never slept more than two or three hours at night and woke up feeling as tired as on going to bed. It took all the strength I could muster to get through a day's work."

"One day a friend told me that Tanlac was doing him a world of good and urged me to try it. So I did and my appetite picked up. I got to feeling better at once, and now I can eat pork chops or anything else I want and never feel a touch of indigestion."

"Tanlac it sold in Albuquerque by the Alvarado Pharmacy and all other leading druggist everywhere."

Dr. G. S. McLandress received word yesterday that he had been awarded a fellowship by the board of regents of the American College of Surgeons.

The honor is one of the highest that can be awarded a surgeon in the entire world. The American college being of the same caliber as the European organizations.

Dr. McLandress will leave for Philadelphia about the middle of October in order to be present on October 28 when the fellowships, which have been awarded this year, will be conferred.

DANGER OF FIRES IN CARSON FOREST ADDED TO BY NUT GATHERERS

The danger of forest fires in the Carson forest in northern New Mexico is being made more imminent by the presence of pinon gatherers in that district.

Mr. Pooler, district forester, who returned Sunday, from a trip through that forest. Although cold, it is very dry in that region, he stated, and the grass is long.

This necessitates the addition of more fire guards for duty against the forest fires. The pinon gatherers have started out north of Taos to gather the nuts, which have been made ready for harvesting by the recent heavy frosts in the Carson forest.

Mr. Pooler made the inspection trip with the Headley, assistant forester for the United States, who came from Washington to look over road and trail conditions in the southwest and Pacific coast districts.

"Mr. Headley praised the efficiency of the work which has been carried on in this district, highly," Mr. Pooler said. "He was pleased with the way in which operating costs on the forests are kept down to the minimum in New Mexico and Arizona."

STOCK ASSOCIATION OFFICE OPENS TODAY AT THE RATON FAIR

Miss Bertha Benson, secretary of the New Mexico Cattle and Horse Growers' association, left last night for Raton where she will have charge of the cattleman's headquarters at the north state fair.

The association has the fair for several years. Cattlemen attending the fair and residing in that section of the state will be given an opportunity to become acquainted with the work of the association and to learn the plans for the near future.

Miss Benson will also gather a considerable amount of data regarding the special needs of the cattle business in northeastern New Mexico. This will be brought before the next meeting of the executive board.

CITY WATER IS SHOWING A LOW BACTERIA COUNT

Seven of Ten Samples Tested Yesterday Were Absolutely Pure; Others Carried Little Contamination.

City water is almost pure. The results of tests yesterday showed seven of the ten samples absolutely pure and but a slight contamination in three samples.

"If there is an improvement we expect within the next 48 hours, I believe the water will be entirely pure," Dr. J. F. Docherty, county health officer stated yesterday.

For the past few weeks the water has been contaminated and the health department has advised boiling or distilling of all drinking water. Ten samples of water are used for each 48-hour test. The tests have been showing contamination in all samples until yesterday.

Although the water has been impure, no cases of typhoid fever have been reported in the city. The evidence is said to be checked at Chihuahua, where impure water was the cause of a number of typhoid cases.

'DIAPEPSIN' ENDS STOMACH MISERY FOR MILLIONS

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapsin, and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief. This harmless acid helps digest anything you eat and overcomes a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach in five minutes. If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Get from your druggist a six-cent case of Pape's Diapsin. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no gas or heartburn, no fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, no nausea, headache or intestinal griping. Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this food fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or indigestion.

THIEVES CLEAN OUT ARMY'S SUPPLY OF BUTTER IN MANILA

(By The Associated Press.) Manila, P. I., Oct. 2.—It was discovered that thieves had cleaned out the army's supply of butter in Manila, and Uncle Sam was forced to go into the open market to purchase a new stock to last until the next transport arrives with a fresh consignment.

The direct result on the local market was to drive the price of butter upward 8 cents a pound. The price today is 50 cents.

Commissary department records, according to officers in charge, showed that there was plenty of butter on hand for the fighting men, but when the storerooms were investigated it was discovered that this stock existed only on paper, and that many hundreds of pounds had been stolen, leaving the butter section virtually empty.

A transport with a new supply is expected to arrive within a few days.

8 TEACHERS NOW USED AT FOURTH STREET SCHOOL

More Than 300 Children Are Enrolled; Half Grades Are Abolished in Order to Carry on Work.

Miss Agnes Sloane has been added to the teaching force at the fourth street school, which now has an enrollment of 301 pupils. This is the greatest number ever enrolled in the school and a complete rearrangement of the rooms has been necessary in order to accommodate them.

Eight teachers are now employed. All half grades have been abolished. The grades have previously been divided into first and second sections. All of the pupils of each grade will now be taught together. The seats have been changed in order to give more room. County Superintendent Irene Burke completed the rearrangement at the school yesterday afternoon.

Y. M. C. A. APPOINTS NEW BOARD TO HELP PROMOTE ACTIVITIES

The activities board of the Y. M. C. A., which was recently formed by the board of directors of the Y., and the director's board met at a dinner last evening at the Y. M. C. A. There were thirty men present, including members of both boards.

The chief business of the meeting was the launching of a new enterprise, that of making the activities of the organization more effective, by the work of the board formed for that purpose. Charles Puehler, traveling industrial secretary of San Francisco, was the chief speaker. He discussed the adoption of an activities board.

At the close of the meeting, the activities board remained and elected H. H. Ackerson as chairman of the board; Van Olson as secretary; August Johnson as head of the boy's department; Guy Lauderbaugh as head of the physical department; Allen Bruce and S. C. Brasher as heads of the economic and membership branches; Dr. J. E. Harris as head of the social department; H. P. Donaldson as head of the educational work; and W. P. MacDowell as head of the religious work. The other members of the activities board are T. O. Westerfield, E. B. Garcia, R. P. Woodson, W. M. Holm, and W. M. Franklin.

How Better Than Pills?

The question has been asked, in what way are Chamberlain's Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is, they are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then they not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion.

WE DISAGREE.

The Journal is in receipt of a communication from a partisan of this paper, which criticizes Marmon and Wood, attorneys, rather severely, for accepting employment from J. M. Reynolds and A. B. McMillen in their libel suits against the Journal.

We appreciate the spirit of loyalty contained in this letter but we can not share its conclusions. There is no possible reason why Marmon and Wood should not have accepted professional employment in these cases with perfect propriety, if they saw fit to do so. It was for Mr. Reynolds and Mr. McMillen to determine whether or not they wished to test their ability to represent the freedom of the press in New Mexico. That responsibility is solely theirs. If they felt themselves so in need of competent legal advice and direction that they were willing to humiliate themselves by surrendering their ancient grudge against these lawyers and to offer professional employment to those more capable of directing the legal aspect of the cases, it was the privilege of this firm of eminent attorneys to accept the retainer. We have no ill-feeling toward them for doing so. We have no doubt but that they will do their professional best, in return for the cash consideration paid for their services. We expect them to do this.

The effort of those who wish to remain undisturbed in the advantages of the statu quo, to repress publicity which might upset their special privileges, is as old as the history of the printing press. The effort has never ceased. It will never cease until the law of libel is clearly defined by our American courts in a way favorable to the people. The issue is vital. If the people can not get the facts; if criticisms of the existing conditions are to be repressed; freedom and progress toward a better day are a thing of the past for the people. It is not essential to freedom that newspapers have a license to abuse people. Men's private lives are not a proper subject for newspaper discussion. We have not discussed Messrs. Reynolds and McMillen in their private relations. We know nothing discreditable to them in their private lives. We do not discuss the private affairs of individuals—not even public officials whose public attitudes we bitterly assail, and some of whom are personally and privately vulnerable. We thoroughly disapprove such a newspaper policy.

But the public relations and attitudes of public men must remain a fit subject for newspaper criticism, if society is to progress. Publicity is the great deterrent against seeking unfair advantage. The plaintiffs in these cases are seeking to so widen the scope of the libel laws as to make a defense intolerably burdensome. Whatever their motive, the result of their success would be to make a newspaper useless in any corrective way. For this effort Marmon and Wood have no responsibility. The power to start or stop the effort rests solely with the plaintiffs.

OUR INCOMPETENCY.

In the full-page advertisement of the First National bank, in an evening paper a few weeks ago, Mr. Reynolds gave the business incapacity of the publisher of the Journal as his reason for calling our loans. He was afraid he would lose his money.

This was his contention in spite of the fact that he well knew that the business management of the paper had been in the hands of Mr. D. A. Macpherson for eighteen years and that the publisher had given Mr. Macpherson as free a hand in managing the paper as he had ever had in his history. Therefore Mr. Reynolds must have meant that our editorial policy was ruining the business of the Journal.

In view of this situation it will interest the public to know that during September of this year the Journal carried 26,728 inches of paid advertising as against 20,070 inches during September, 1920. The Journal registered a 33 per cent gain in a month when newspapers generally were showing an average decrease of about 15 per cent.

Our general costs of operation showed a slight increase over September, 1920, except newspaper, which materially dropped in cost this year. Our total costs for the month were somewhat less than last year.

The people believe in the Journal. That confidence reflects itself in the "pulling power" of our advertisements. Merchants use our columns because they get results they can get nowhere else.

The Journal steadily grows in a business way. It also grows in its power to get results for the people. We hope to be able to continue our policy of "incompetency." The people can help us by patronizing our advertisers. Tell them you "saw it in the Journal."

AUTUMN.

Very much unlike winter, its blustering and forbidding successor, autumn steals quietly upon us. Indeed with so little flourish and announcement did the fall season come this year that not many of us are aware that autumn has been with us for more than a week.

For the present nothing is greatly different from what it was in the summer. There is the summer heat, of course, whose departure no one greatly regrets; but for brief spells we may have now and then a few days of hot, sunny weather. As much as it ever did in the hottest days of August baseball is still holding our attention. Though we have discarded our straw hats, we will cling to light wearing apparel.

But bit by bit these things will change as autumn days go by in silent procession. Once the world's series is put out of the way, the gridiron games will be our chief attraction. Gradually we shall change to heavier and more substantial wearing apparel. Window screens and screen doors will become less essential requisites to higher civilization; and in the course of a few weeks we shall take to the sunny side of the street as eagerly as we sought the shady side only a few weeks ago.

Fall has its interest no less attractive than summer. In backward communities we shall presently expend much labor and no little ceremony in putting the living room coal stove back into its accustomed place. In furnace-heated houses the furnace will be overhauled, and in apartment houses people will begin to wonder whether this fall they will have to endure the cold as patiently as they did last year.

From a spin or a walk into the country we shall bring back an armful of foliage to be distributed about the house in places that have gathered dust for months. Young people who are seeking opportunities to give and go to parties will plan for high old times on Halloween, and everyone will look around for something new to wear this coming season.

Not many weeks from now, for the times flies as it did when the Roman poet first called attention to this fact, we shall see in many store windows the perennial reminder—"Do your Christmas shopping early." And by that sign we shall know that fall is well past the middle age of life.

SPEED IN JUSTICE.

New Jersey provides an example of speedy justice that if followed generally might have a beneficial effect in diminishing crime. Two men held up and robbed the cashier of a tile plant of $1,600. Later in the day one of the men was captured. He was taken into court and within 48 hours after the robbery was committed had been sentenced to 15 years and was on his way to the prison.

Of course, detection of criminals is a necessary preliminary to conviction and imprisonment. A court can not pass a sentence until the accused is present. Our means of pursuing and capturing violators admit of vast improvement in efficiency. Yet, inadequate sentence after a culprit is caught, tried and convicted not only discourages efforts to apprehend criminals but also encourages offenders to continue prosecuting their enterprises in the hope that, even if caught, they will suffer lightly. Swift prosecution, too, is not less needful than certainty. In other lands the accused are brought to speedy trial. Here often there is great delay which saddles a needless expense on the public and is an injustice to the prisoner, if he is not guilty.

The great number of crimes committed certainly offers proof that imprisonment is both possible and desirable. The Jersey speed is to be commended as the right course to be pursued when the culprits are in custody.

EDITORIAL OF THE DAY.

AN AGREEMENT WITH MEXICO.

(From the Chicago Tribune.)
It is believed that the American government has satisfied itself as to Obregon's intentions and is prepared to recognize his government. It is not indicated whether there is to be a definition of American rights in a treaty. Obregon has said that he could not make the stipulations required in that form. It would be more satisfactory if they were so covered.

Great areas of production and markets, as represented by Russia, have been extinguished. Great areas not only are not producing but are enfeebled by famine. It is consequently more necessary that backward and neglected areas, such as Mexico, be brought into productivity.

Mexico needs peace and security before it can be put in a position to produce. Its best if not only opportunity lies in the maintenance of such relations with the United States as will permit American direction and co-operation in Mexico.

If the Mexican government will protect Americans the development of the country will follow. American money and enterprise will enter and resources will be brought into production. If the American government does not regard Americans south of the Rio Grande as outlaws, as it did under the previous administration, there will be a movement south which soon will guarantee stability and security.

American penetration into Mexico will bring peace as the number of Americans increases. Groups and individuals can be mistreated and murdered, but communities of them can not be.

It is the destiny of Mexico to contribute to the welfare of the world. That is a duty lying upon productive land. It may be avoided for a while, but not forever, with a competent people pressing upon it. Mexico has been allowed to avoid compulsion and social and economic evolution may be given a chance if the Mexican government will make and keep agreements with the United States.

RIPPLING RHYMES

TOMORROW.

Today has little sorrow. It is a good safe bet; but we believe tomorrow will show up better yet. And all through life we're groping, with slow and heavy tread, still hoping, always hoping, for better things ahead. And so our loads we're bearing with patience, day by day; few pilgrims are despairing, though weary be the way; for in us is implanted the faith in joy to come, in Eden lands enchanted, where birds are singing some. Without this faith we'd falter, and quit our useful chores, and you would need a halter to drag us from our doors. Ah, then no fine incentive this stale life would accord, no spur to minds inventive, for progress no reward; they all our pop would vanish, and we would sink in sloth, and growling also-ranish, we'd end up in the brood. But all well balanced mortals have faith in bliss ahead, and so they greet with choruses the bodies die and dread. What if today is tougher than punk days gone before? We haven't long to suffer—tomorrow's at the door. What if we're overladen, and galled and chafed and vexed? We shall not long be goaded—tomorrow's turn is next. And so we erring critters toil onward day by day and bravely take our bitters—the nectar's on the way.

UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE BUTTERFLY.

The trees of the wood were covered with leaves of crimson and gold, for the end of the year was close at hand. Soon Jack Frost would stretch out his icy fingers and stop the chattering of the brooks by freezing them, so the falling snow flakes might not get all wet as they tumbled from the sky.

Uncle Wiggly Longears, the kind bunny rabbit gentleman, was leaping through the forest. He loved the fall of the year, when he could hop over the carpet of dried leaves, making them rustle with his paws. "I am glad winter is coming," said Uncle Wiggly, as he skipped along, "for I have a warm coat of fur, and in the cellar of my hollow stump bungalow are many carrots, so Nurse Jane and I will not be hungry. But winter is not kind to every one. Some of the birds must fly to the warm lands of the south. Some of my animal friends will crawl in their dens and take a long sleep, the ants will dig themselves deep holes in the earth, as will some of the bugs. I shall soon see no more crickets and grasshoppers, and the butterfly flies have gone, long ago."

Just as the bunny rabbit said this he saw something fluttering on a bush and a moment later a butterfly perched itself on the shoulder of the bunny gentleman. "Why, little butterfly," exclaimed Uncle Wiggly, "this is no time of year for you to be out. It is too cold!"

"I—I know—know it—is!" spoke the butterfly in a sad and shivery voice. "I should not have stayed around here so long, when all my friends have gone away. It was lovely here in summer, but now—oh, dear! What shall I do? I am so cold!"

"The sun was shining, but there was little warmth in the rays and the wind blew cold and chill."

"You poor creature!" said Uncle Wiggly. "I can warm you for a time."

"How?" asked the butterfly. "I will let you perch on my head," answered the bunny. "I will put my tail silk hat on over you and there will be room enough for you inside. Up under my hat you will be nice and warm!"

"Oh, thank you!" whispered the butterfly, who was barely able to move his wings. The rabbit took off his silk hat, the fluttering creature flew inside and there he was, as snug as a bug in a rug. "Now, I must travel on and look for an adventure," thought the bunny to himself. A moment later he called: "I say—up there inside my tail silk hat!"

"Yes, what is it, Uncle Wiggly?" asked the butterfly, who was almost asleep, because he was so cozy and warm.

"I say, my dear friend," began

Uncle Wiggly all winter, doing the fine dusting. And once, when a bad fog crept into the bungalow and tried to bite the bunny and Nurse Jane, the butterfly flipped some dust in the eyes of the bad chap, and he couldn't see to nibble the bunny's ears.

So you see butterflies are good for something after all, besides spreading honey on lollypops. And if the boiled potato doesn't go with the egg beater and make the sugar bowl lumpy, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and the ants.

With him, while German emperor, had 73 castles and other residences.

DING IS ILL.

J. N. Dingling (Ding) is ill and unable to furnish cartoons for a few days. In his absence, national questions will be covered by cartoons by F. G. Cooper.

Ding will return just as soon as his physician allows him.

The Journal regrets the temporary absence of this excellent feature.

Uncle Wiggly traveled on with the butterfly under his hat, but somehow or other the bunny found no adventure that day.

Rather and because nothing had happened, Uncle Wiggly turned back to his hollow stump bungalow. As he went in he saw Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, his muskrat lady housekeeper. Taking off his hat, Uncle Wiggly made a low and polite bow.

Out flew the butterfly, much more lively now because he was warm.

"Oh, mercy! What's that?" cried Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "Just a friend of mine," answered Uncle Wiggly. "I thought he might stay with us in the bungalow this winter."

"Of course!" invited Nurse Jane. "Let him hardly anything," whispered the butterfly. "A drop of sweet water each day is all I ask."

"You shall have it," promised Nurse Jane.

"And I should like to help you with the housework," went on the butterfly.

"You are not strong enough to do housework," said the muskrat lady.

"Oh, yes I am!" laughed the butterfly. "I can perch on your thin beautiful glass vase and blow the dust off by fluttering my wings."

"So you can," exclaimed Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "I always dread to dust the very fine vases because I might drop and break them. But a butterfly duster will be just lovely."

So the butterfly stayed with Uncle Wiggly all winter, doing the fine dusting. And once, when a bad fog crept into the bungalow and tried to bite the bunny and Nurse Jane, the butterfly flipped some dust in the eyes of the bad chap, and he couldn't see to nibble the bunny's ears.

So you see butterflies are good for something after all, besides spreading honey on lollypops. And if the boiled potato doesn't go with the egg beater and make the sugar bowl lumpy, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and the ants.

THE MARKETS

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Oct. 3.—The stock market was heading today, favorites moving within restricted areas, while specialties continued to denote the increasingly doubtful prospects indicated in the less essential lines of industry.

Foreign and domestic oils were firm to strong, especially the cheaper or low grade shares, these deriving their better tone from the higher prices quoted for crude products. Copper moderately enhanced last week's gains upon what seemed like pool operations.

Rails, excepting coals, were unusually sluggish and many of the motor, chemical and food issues showed progressive weakness, incidentally establishing low quotations for a year or more longer period. Conspicuous features of the latter class were American Sugar common and preferred, Cuban preferred, Cuban American preferred and Pierce Arrow preferred at extreme recessions of one to about five points. Sales amounted to 135,000 shares.

Advices over the week end were mostly of an encouraging tenor. Railroad tonnage moved more rapidly to meet and western and southwestern financial centers reported gradual growth of confidence in the business outlook and expansion of investment demand. A firmer tone was evidenced by the local money market, call loans opening at 5 1/2 per cent, presumably in consequence of last week's deficit in clearing house reserves. On the very light inquiry, however, the rate fell to 5 per cent at noon.

London furnished a higher level of exchange rates to this market, although Italian and Belgian bills reacted here, marks also falling to within a point of their low record. Exchange on Greece weakened in connection with the more adverse economic conditions in that country.

Heaviness of French and Belgian war issues, also Mexicans and Cuban seven's detracted from the strength of the bond market. Liberty 3 1/2's, which lagged in the recent rise of that group, were active and strong. Total sales, par value, $17,375,000.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Bullish views regarding the domestic visible supply of wheat on ocean passage led to sudden upturn today in the price of wheat. The market closed nervous, half to one cent net higher, with December 1.18 1/2 to 1.19 1/2 and May 1.23 1/2 to 1.24 1/2. Corn gained 1/4 to 3/8 and oats 1/4 to 3/8. In provisions the outcome was unchanged to 12c higher.

In the best of the wheat market showed considerable depression, with bears putting stress on the apparent absence of any new export business and on predictions of a liberal enlargement of the United States visible supply. Later, however, the market developed notable strength, largely as a result of correct anticipations that the increase expected in the visible supply would be much smaller than was the case a week ago. A decided curtailment of the stock of wheat afloat on the ocean counted also as a stimulus to the buying side. On the other hand, profit taking sales in the last half hour wiped out a good part of the day's advance.

Surprise over a shrinkage in the visible supply of corn helped rally the corn market. Early though, December corn had sold the lowest price yet this season. Oats merely reflected the change in wheat and corn. Provisions averaged higher, with hogs as a result of some decrease in the stock of lard here.

Wheat—Dec. 1.18 1/2; May 1.23 1/2. Corn—Dec. 49 1/2; May 55 1/2. Oats—Dec. 26 1/2; May 40 1/2. Pork—Nov. 17.00; Jan. 15.00. Lard—Oct. 10.05; Jan. 9.20. Hibs—Oct. 6.75; Jan. 7.92.

WOMAN CLAIMS A POLICEMAN CAME 'RIGHT IN HOUSE'

Some Albuquerque policemen have "no manners at all."
"Why that policeman just walked right in—he's got no manners at all," declared Margaret Gutierrez in police court yesterday. She was being tried on a charge of disorderly conduct and running a disorderly house. The house was raided early Sunday morning by local police.

Miss Gutierrez was quite indignant that the officers should take such liberties as hurrying right into a house when they had been called there by the wife of another man who was there and later arrested. In spite of the counter charge made regarding the lack of etiquette on the part of the police, she was fined $20 for running a disorderly house and the disorderly conduct charge against her was dismissed. A. C. Bowditch, arrested in the house, was found not guilty of a charge of disorderly conduct. B. Lopez and Adolena Chavez, also arrested in the raid, entered pleas of guilty and were given $20 or twenty days each.

Patrons are requested to place orders for shelled pinon nuts well in advance in order to be promptly served. Fannie S. Spitz, 323 North Tenth St., Tel. 802. Mail orders given careful attention.

B THEATRE

THREE DAYS STARTING TODAY

HIGHEST CLASS IN EVERY WAY

"Your Cursed Pride Did That!"

And the boy, soul-sick at the wreck of his love, flung out of his father's home and sank to the depths.

But this smug "foremost citizen"—what of him? What of the girl who gave up when she wasn't fit for his son? What of his church that was ruled by hypocrites? What of the thousands of honest workers whose lives these hypocrites darkened?

Was there any way up to the light?—Only one!

A story that turns the dregs of life to the sparkling wine of happiness.
