EMBLEM OF THE FORMER GERMAN EMPIRE POPULAR

Official Flag of the Republic Is Not Much in Evidence; Has Never Been Flown in Some Provinces.

(By The Associated Press.)
Berlin, Oct. 10.—The black, red and gold flag of the German republic is less in evidence than any other of the dozen or more official emblems which wave from houses of every town and city of the country. The most popular banner is the black, white and red of the former empire.

In some provinces, as in a number of towns the republican flag has never been flown, is not recognized, and cannot be purchased. Even in Berlin, the seat of the government, the flying standards of the empire outnumber those of the republic, which appear generally to be restricted to necessary official use of the popular demonstrations in favor of the new regime.

The red flag of the communists usually flies side by side with the republican colors during any popular parade or manifestation. In some quarters this situation has caused agitation against non-architectural propaganda and here and there has resulted in fights between the police and adherents of the monarchy or between non-architects and republicans, but on the whole it has passed unnoted.

The only definite effort to prevent the use of the flag of the republic has come from the mercantile interests, which are strenuously seeking authority to retain their old colors.

Each German state holds proudly to its colors—the black-white of Prussia, the blue-white of Bavaria, the green-white of Saxony, the yellow-white of Upper Silesia. East Prussia flies the flag of the empire, and declares it will have no other.

Supporters of the republic profess confidence that the great majority of the people will willingly support the republic in an emergency, notwithstanding the widespread attachment to other flags.

EX-COLONEL IN GEN. WRANGLER'S ARMY PERFORMS WORK

that looked like a Russian and thrusting him on board ship for a destination unknown.

Three Hundred Escape.
The French authorities explain that the reason for this was that last night when the 800 Russians in barracks here heard that they were to be sent back to Russia, 200 of them escaped. The round up today is aimed at capturing these 200. In theory all Russians who are without permanent jobs must leave Alajacio. There are loud complaints that the police are using little discretion and families are being separated, and the like.

The colonel watches the American. He seems to hope that this representative of an all-powerful nation can find some means of getting his old comrades in arms off that boat.

Alas! Nothing can be done, now. A deep bass note wafts up from the harbor, the vibrant note of a liner's whistle. Tugs join in a shrieking accompaniment. The colonel straightens, turns and goes to the pantry for the cigars and the brandy.

BELIEVE MYSTERY OF DISAPPEARANCE OF A BRAKEMAN IS SOLVED

(By The Associated Press.)
Ogden, Utah, Oct. 10.—Mystery surrounding the disappearance last January of S. H. Graves, a Southern Pacific brakeman, from his train traveling between Imlay and Carlin in Nevada is believed to have been solved by the discovery of a skeleton on the bank of the river near Argenta, according to information given out here by the Southern Pacific company. A duck hunter found the body with a watch, a switch key, a canteen and a locket. An inquest was to be held at Battle Mountain.

In the fourth the Giant outfielders moved towards the fence and the infielders stepped back when Ruth came to the bat. He fooled them by laying down a bunt, and beating Ruth's throw to first. The Giants kicking at the umpire's decision. The crowd cheered Ruth's strategy. He scored a few minutes later on Bob Meusel's slashing throw to left. Meusel moved up to third. HOYT REPEATS AND YANKS BEAT GIANTS IN THE FIFTH GAME freely than in his shutout game of last Thursday, as the ten safeties for the Nationals attest, but he would have had another scoreless game to his credit with a little better luck in the first inning, which witnessed the Yankees' only fielding blunder, a mess made by McNally of George Burns' hard bouncer. As it was, Hoyt won the honor of being the first box man to win two games in the present series and of holding the heavy hitting Giants to one solitary run in eighteen innings.

"Bob" Meusel's Work.
Both on the offensive and defensive sides the Yankees played the work of "Bob" Meusel stood out conspicuously. The lanky right fielder hit .500 for the day, with a single and a double in four times and his double as related scoring Ruth with the run needed to win the game, and his own crossing of the plate directly afterward making the Yankees two up on their opponents.

It was Meusel's powerful right arm, however, which proved the most telling argument of the game outside of the box work of Hoyt. His quick throw to first on Bancroft's single in the second tripling the Giant's shortstop on the way towards second, started a run up on Bancroft during which George Burns, who had started from first on the hit and run tried to score, but was caught at the plate as Peckinpaugh shifted the play to Burns and threw to Schang.

Play Saves One Tally.
This play saved one tally, but at a still more critical point in the game Meusel's deadly arm proved the factor which broke up a Giant rally, and possibly saved the contest for the Yankees. It was George Kelly who took chances with Meusel's arm after singling to right in the eighth, second on first and one man out. Kelly made a gallant dash for second, but Meusel's throw was there first. One more Giant then had to be attended to to retire the side, and Hoyt induced Emil Meusel to send up a high fly, which Pipp got close to the boxes after a long run.

"Babe" Fans Three Times.
The end of the game which the fine weather and the great interest in the close series had brought out, besides getting many thrills, witnessed mixed emotions the surprising feat of "Babe" Ruth in striking out three times in four times up, making his total eight strike outs for the five games.

Babe has been playing under a handicap since he was caught stealing second last Thursday. Inflection set in and a minor operation was performed. Every time he swung his bat today his face reflected the pain caused by the injury. In addition, he had been troubled with a bad leg, the result of an old pulled tendon.

Nehf Given Fine Support.
The Giants gave good performance of the defense, giving Nehf fine support. Only one error, a dropped throw by Frisch, marred their record. Nehf held the slugger, Yankees to a base on balls and a home run, and the Giants inability to hit Hoyt effectively was their fatal handicap. George Kelly led his team at bat with three hits.

The American leaguers did not get a man on base in the first inning, but the Nationals came through with one run. Burns hit to McNally, who fumbled, and the runner was safe. Bancroft forced Burns at second, Peckinpaugh to Ward. Hoyt tried to get Frisch's hard hit ball but it rolled over toward short and Bancroft drew up at second. Young was given a base on balls and the bags were full. Kelly raised a Texas leaguer to center and Hancock scored. "Irish" Meusel struck out and Rawlings ended the inning by forcing Kelly, Peckinpaugh to Ward.

Meusel Singles To Right.
In the second inning Bob Meusel, for the Yanks, singled to right and advanced to second on Pipp's sacrifice. As Ward struck out Meusel tried to steal third. Frisch dropped Smith's good throw and Meusel made a break for it, but was nipped as he slid in. Frisch was given an error.

The Yankees tied the score in the third. McNally drew a base on balls and went to third on Schang's two base drive. Hoyt was thrown out at first by Bancroft. Miller sent a sacrifice fly to Meusel and McNally scored. Schang taking third. Peckinpaugh went out at first on an unassisted play by Kelly.

In the fourth the Giant outfielders moved towards the fence and the infielders stepped back when Ruth came to the bat. He fooled them by laying down a bunt, and beating Ruth's throw to first. The Giants kicking at the umpire's decision. The crowd cheered Ruth's strategy. He scored a few minutes later on Bob Meusel's slashing throw to left. Meusel moved up to third. MEN WEARING KLAN ROBES PAY VISIT TO A BLACKWELL CHURCH

(By The Associated Press.)

Blackwell, Okla., Oct. 10.—More than two hundred men wearing robes of Ku Klux Klan filed through the First Methodist church here Sunday night, during church services, and stopping in front of the Rev. Fred Mesh, the spokesman, said:

"We know you are not with us, but we are behind you 3,000 strong in Kay county."

His speech concluded, the spokesman turned and the leader of the group, bearing a huge cross lighted with torches, preceded the remainder of the body down an aisle and out the door.

The clergymen carried banners stating "We stand for 100 per cent Americanism" and "We bow only to the law, but we want the law enforced by the right officers."

The band disappeared almost immediately after leaving the church. The Rev. Mesh has been emphatic in his appeals for observance of the laws, and its enforcement, according to members of his congregation.

2 MEN BELIEVED TO BE BANK ROBBERS ARE CAPTURED IN KANSAS

(By The Associated Press.)

Kansas City, Oct. 10.—Two men, believed to be bank bandits, were captured, after a running gun fight which began in Kansas, and ended in Kansas City, Kansas, today. The fight followed the robbery of the Muncie State bank today of $300. One of the captured men was shot through the head and is expected to die. A third man is believed to be surrounded in a patch of weeds west of Kansas City, Kansas.

EMERY MAPES DEAD

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 10.—Emery Mapes, 65, president of the Cream of Wheat company, died at his home here last night of heart disease.

STOMACH UPSET! 'DIAPEPSIN' ENDS GAS, INDIGESTION

Stomach acidity causes indigestion! Food souring, gas, distress! Wonder what upset your stomach? Well, don't bother! The moment you eat a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin all the lumps of indigestion, the sourness, heartburn and belching of gases, due to acidity, vanish—truly wonderful! Millions of people know that it is needless to be bothered with indigestion, dyspepsia or a disordered stomach. A few tablets of Pape's Diapepsin neutralizes acidity and give relief at once.

Wait! Buy a sixty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin now! Don't stay miserable. Regulate your stomach so you can eat favorite foods without causing regret.

ASK FOR REDUCED RATE.

STAGE SET FOR CONFERENCE ON PEACE IN IRELAND

Representatives of Britain and Delegates of the Dail Eireann Will Meet in London Today.

(By The Associated Press.) London, Oct. 10 (by the Associated Press.)—The premier and other representatives of the British government and the delegates of the dail eireann will face each other across the conference table in the cabinet room at the premier's official residence tomorrow morning.

Mr. Lloyd George, members of the cabinet and several officials of the Irish office discussed this afternoon tomorrow's conference. It is understood the procedure favored is a speech of welcome by the premier, after which he will outline the methods the government proposes for dealing with the various phases of the question.

Arthur Griffith, the Sinn Fein leader, is expected to reply.

First Day's Program.

The program for the first day takes the form of open conversation with a view to arriving at some definite basis, upon which negotiations looking to an Irish settlement can proceed.

Either side may raise some controversial subject. There is the question of the release of the interned men. One delegate said today it was not the intention to mention this subject for the present. Nevertheless, the government is preparing a reply to such a request, and has summoned General Sir Nevill Macready and General Dwyer, of the forces in Ireland, the head of the police from Dublin to advise the government, should the proposal be made.

The services of these generals will also be useful when arrangements are made for the observance of the truce, which both the government and the Sinn Feiners desire. Both generals have been charged by the Sinn Fein with provoking the people, and their orders to come to London confirm the impression that the intention is to avoid all causes of friction.

Sinn Fein Boycott.

Mr. Lloyd George also has been publicly asked to bring before the conference the Sinn Fein boycott of English goods, which has been hurtful to British trade and has caused much irritation here.

It is not likely the conference will concern itself with this at this stage or that the Sinn Fein will agree to remove the boycott, except as part of trade policy, following upon a settlement.

The cabinet is said to have discussed the possibility of extending the scope of the conference and inviting the United States to send delegates. This is a matter for the premier to decide. The Sinn Fein delegates are here only as the spokesmen of those they represent, and the premier might invite Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, and Lord Midleton, representative of the south of Ireland unionists, and Sir Horace Plunkett, dominion home ruler, and their friends.

The Sinn Fein has not assented to any joint conference and, it is declared, would object strongly to forming one of a three or four party conference.

Do Valera Has a Plan.

Mr. De Valera is believed to have a plan of local self government for the Irish within the local powers, but necessary severance of Ulster from the imperial parliament, where it now has representation it desires to maintain.

The Sinn Fein desires no representation in the imperial parliament, and if it accepts a place in the British commonwealth, it desires no closer affiliation than Canada and other dominions. The Sinn Feiners declare they are unwilling to set forth Ireland's claim for complete separation, which they have pointed out, is their mandate from their constituencies. Any recession from that position will be made at a price bringing in Ulster, and the Ulster question thus is expected to assume importance and may again prove the stumbling block to a settlement.

MEMBERS OF ITALY'S DELEGATION TO ARMS CUT PARLEY CHOSEN

Rome, Oct. 10 (by the Associated Press.)—Gazzetta del Popolo announced that the Italian delegation to the conference on limitation of armaments and far eastern questions in Washington would be composed of the following:

"Professor Luigi Luzzatti, former minister of the treasury; Signor Schanzer, also a former minister of the treasury; General Armando Diaz, commander in chief of the Italian army; and Signor Meda, a member of the Italian war commission." The newspaper said that Signor Rolandi Ricci, Italian ambassador to the United States would go as an alternate.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but powerful laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brains and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

Harvey J. Moore, 45, who suffered a slight paralytic stroke last Friday and two other strokes on Saturday, died Monday afternoon at a local hospital.

Mr. Moore was born at Rockville, Ind., but at an early age moved with his parents to Newton, Kans. After finishing his schooling he entered the employ of the Santa Fe Railroad company at Newton. He was transferred to Emporia, Kans., and in 1902 came to Albuquerque and took a position in the station department of the Santa Fe. He remained here until 1909, when he was promoted to agent at Clovis. Some two years later he was given the agency at Vaughn, and still later held the same position at Flagstaff, Ash Fork and Seligman, Ariz.

Mr. Moore retired in 1918, and became a member of the Springer Transfer company, with which firm he was associated at the time of his death.

His mother, Mrs. J. A. Moore; sister, Mrs. J. A. Johnson, and adopted daughter, Martha, arrived in Albuquerque on train No. 9 Monday morning from Newton, Kansas. In addition, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. W. A. Sterba, of Walton, Kansas, and a brother, Charles A. Moore, general passenger agent for the Santa Fe at Des Moines, Iowa, who is expected to reach Albuquerque Wednesday night.

Mr. Moore's wife died here in July, 1920.

The funeral will be held here. Arrangements will be announced.

TO DEMONSTRATE THE PRACTICABILITY OF A NEW AUTOMOBILE ROAD

(By The Associated Press.) Denver, Oct. 10.—A party of men and women residents of Glenwood Springs, Grand Junction, Red Cliff, and other towns on the western slope of the Rocky mountains, is scheduled to start from Red Cliff early tomorrow morning on a "backpack" for Denver. The party, according to plans, will ride across Loveland Pass to Silver Plume, where Denver citizens are to meet the members of the party in automobiles and escort them to this city.

At the civic and commercial association here it was announced today that the object of the trip was to demonstrate the practicability of a direct automobile route between Denver and western slope towns. The distance from Denver to Glenwood Springs by the proposed route would be about 160 miles.

OKLAHOMA GAS WELL REPORTED ON FIRE

(By The Associated Press.) Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 10.—A gas well in the Duncan field of Stephens county, Oklahoma, that tested sixty-four million feet when brought in a month ago, is on fire, according to officials of the Boynton Oil and Gas company of this city. The well caught fire yesterday. Flames are shooting from 200 to 300 feet in the air. Three streams of steam are being played on the well.

DECISION STANDS.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Through refusal to review the supreme court allowed to stand a decision of a lower court in Pennsylvania holding that banks are responsible for losses sustained by depositors upon checks drawn by depositors in excess of the amounts fixed by depositors.

MY MEN PLAYED RIGHT FROM THE START—HUGGINS

"We Should Have Scored a Flock of Runs in the First Inning," Says M'Graw; Probable Batteries.

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Oct. 10.—Probable batteries for the sixth game of the world's series tomorrow are: Harper or Shawkey and Schang for the Yankees; Barnes or Toney and Snyder for the Giants.

"My men played a good smart game today," said Manager Huggins of the Yankees, "and when Ruth opened the door of victory in the fourth inning, with his bunt, they walked right in and put down the worst of it when he called Burns out on strikes in the same inning. We'll even up the series tomorrow."

"I may send Fred Toney against that Yankees tomorrow. If I don't pitch Toney, Barnes will draw the assignment. Barnes pitched a great ball game the other day."

TOO MUCH GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS CAUSE OF DEPRESSION, SAYS

(By The Associated Press.) Indianapolis, Oct. 10.—Too much government in business has been the major cause of business depression, George H. Cushing, managing director of the Wholesale Coal Association, told the convention of the National Association of Purchasing Agents today.

Government agencies, he said, during three years of war, inflated the currency and then contracted it, deflating prices, destroying buying power amounting to between twenty-five and thirty billion dollars a year.

The national tax budget of five billions, he declared, could not materially be decreased because, he said, four billions were to pay for the cost of past wars, or for preparation for future wars.

The present cost of government, he said, was seven and a half per cent of the national value of production of farms, mines, quarries and factories; 50 per cent of the increased value of property listed for taxation and 90 per cent of the total money in circulation.

BAR SILVER REACHES PEAK PRICE OF THE YEAR IN NEW YORK

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Oct. 10.—Bar silver rose to 72 1/2 to 72 3/4 cents an ounce in the local market today, an advance of one cent over the week's end, and the highest price quoted for the metal here this year.

The advance was the more surprising from the fact that London, which invariably governs the American price of silver, reported a slight recession from last week's final quotation.

Metal dealers attributed the domestic advance mainly to speculative influences, there being no indication of a revival of the recent inquiries from India and China.

SHIPPING BOARD MAY LEASE IDLE TONNAGE

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 10.—If the suggestion is approved by private ship owners, the shipping board is willing to lease idle tonnage for the sum of one dollar per month per ship for the purpose of exporting coal to Europe over routes now controlled by foreign lines.

Chairman Lasker said today. He intimated final decision would be given when Secretary Hoover, who advanced the suggestion, obtained this assurance.

Mr. Hoover said the rental of idle ships at a nominal figure for the purpose would afford employment for large numbers of American coal miners who are now idle.

VENUE QUESTION TO BE SETTLED BY COURT TODAY

(By The Associated Press.) Springfield, Ill., Oct. 10.—Council for Governor Small announced last tonight that they had accepted one of the counties which State's Attorney Mortimer suggested as a place in which to try the governor on charges of embezzlement of state funds. The decision to accept the Mortimer offer came after a long conference between Governor Small and his lawyers.

Final settlement of the question of venue in the Small case will be settled in Judge Burton's court tomorrow. It was indicated tonight. Announcement in open court that the prosecution and defense had reached an agreement, is expected to result in an order by Judge Burton in accordance with the agreement.

CONCERT GIVEN BY GODOWSKY IS GREAT SUCCESS

Celebrated Pianist Gives a Program of Splendid Compositions, With An Entire Chopin Group.

The concert given last night by the Godowsky pianist was a tremendous and appreciated success. In spite of repeated efforts on the part of the Santa Fe railroad, City Electric, and the Library clock to interrupt him, the great artist offered a program that was more than satisfying.

The opening number, Beethoven's "Thirty-two Variations, C-Minor," was composed of the most delicate and varied pieces, and overture. The pianist's use of the pedal brought much of the lingering depth of the composer into active play. In the second number, a perfect illusion of the subject was created through the suave and subtle touch. The selection was Corelli's Pastoral, arranged by Godowsky. The remainder of the first group included "Tambourin," "Rondeau en Moll," of Rameau, arranged by Godowsky, and Loeb's "Gigue," also arranged by Godowsky. The latter was brilliantly handled.

The second group was made up entirely of Chopin selections. The treatment of these was matchless. A perfection of technique and thoroughness of interpretation gave to the lyrics that real Chopin, and not the high school Chopin of the school girl, and the ordinary player. The "B-flat Sonata" opened the group. The Funeral March themes were superb, and the Presto, with its delicate, pressed moods, a delicate "Barcarolle," the "D-flat" waltz, the liquid "Nocturne," and the magnificent "B-flat Minor Scherzo" finished the group.

Two Chopin-Liszt songs introduced the third group, "My Joy," which was perfectly treated, and the "Maiden's Wish," with its complicated passages, was easily handled. MacDowell's "March Wind," Rubinstein's exquisitely atmospheric "D-Minor Serenade," and "A-Major Concert Study," of Poldini, were feelingly done. A group of three waltzes, "Waltz for three," "Waltz for four," "Waltz for five," "Waltz for six," and "Waltz for seven," were also brilliantly handled.

Godowsky's music is so admirably to be among the ranks of the foremost pianists of the world. His amazing ability to preserve perfect rhythm, and at the same time offer an original interpretation, is one of his most outstanding traits. For to Godowsky, rhythm is all. And it is indeed a creed worthy of imitation.

As a composer, he is eminent, but the music must be known by specimens of work last night were not very satisfying. They were technically very good, but they lacked the originality one would expect of him from his playing. The "Waltz for three," "Waltz for four," "Waltz for five," "Waltz for six," and "Waltz for seven," were also brilliantly handled.

At times the attention of the audience was diverted, but on the whole, enthusiastic appreciation prevailed. It is to be regretted that the audience did not allow time for Godowsky to offer some encore at the end of the concert, but promptly upon his leaving the stage, after his last number, they arose, and filed out.

MEXICO MENACED BY BUSINESS PARALYSIS

(By The Associated Press.) Mexico City, Oct. 10 (by the Associated Press.)—Paralysis of the Mexican railroad operating between Vera Cruz and Mexico City, due to lack of fuel, the tying up of a majority of the textile industries in the city of Puebla and a general shut-down of oil operations involving the severing of thousands of lives, are threatened by the action of the governor of the state of Vera Cruz in placing an embargo on the oil properties of El Aguila, a British concern in that state, for alleged non-payment of certain state taxes.

SUIT DISMISSED BY U. S. SUPREME COURT

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 10.—The supreme court today dismissed with out rendering a written or oral opinion, the suit instituted by Cornelius G. Goodrich and others against the West Lumber company for recovery of a large tract of land in Polk county, Tex., and $100,000 in damages for lumber cut. Lower courts awarded $30,000 damages and title to the land, but the supreme court of Texas reversed the lower court and decided in favor of the lumber company.

BANKERS GIVEN HEARTY WELCOME AT ALBUQUERQUE

Local Banks and Chamber of Commerce Entertains More Than 400 Bankers From New York State.

Local bankers and the Chamber of Commerce co-operated yesterday in entertaining 420—visiting bankers and their families from New York state. The bankers arrived here at 2:30 o'clock and remained for more than an hour. Three special trains carried the delegates returning from the Bankers' convention at Los Angeles.

The special train here after stopping in Isleta long enough to witness an interesting dance which was staged for the benefit of the bankers.

A bankers' committee consisting of Charles S. White, Jerro Haggard and Albert G. Simms, met the bankers and, assisted by members of the Chamber of Commerce, took the visitors through the city and showed them the various places of interest.

A table was placed by the Chamber of Commerce at the mail box of the station platform, and a chamber official was in charge of the information bureau established there. More than 500 pieces of mailable Albuquerque literature already stamped, were distributed from the desk. The chamber also assisted in distributing the bankers' mail and a number of wires which were sent here for delivery.

Several relatives and friends of Albuquerqueans were on the train including Clarence C. McClellan, president of the First National bank at Mt. Vernon, N. Y., a brother of Judge W. W. McClellan.

REORGANIZATION OF NATIONAL GUARD IS MAKING PROGRESS

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 10.—Encouraging progress in the post-war reorganization of the national guard was reported today by the war department, the aggregate strength of the state forces to date being placed at 126,000, as compared with the authorized total of 115,337 permitted under existing laws up to June 30, 1922. The statement said the militia bureau had been forced to deny recognition in some cases to guard units, as available federal funds for the year would not permit their inclusion.

SUPREME COURT WILL REVIEW CASE OF WIDE INTEREST TO THE WEST

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 10.—A case of wide interest to the west, involving a construction of the government's police jurisdiction over public lands, will be reviewed by the United States supreme court today. It would hear the case of Charles McKelvie and others convicted in Indiana for assault upon a herder in which case it is the government's contention that lawlessness upon public lands can be punished under federal law.

DEMOCRATS ARE FOR THE LEAGUE IS COX'S CLAIM

(By The Associated Press.) Dayton, O., Oct. 10.—The democratic party stands "inflexibly" for progress in the post-war reorganization of the national guard was reported today by the war department, the aggregate strength of the state forces to date being placed at 126,000, as compared with the authorized total of 115,337 permitted under existing laws up to June 30, 1922. The statement said the militia bureau had been forced to deny recognition in some cases to guard units, as available federal funds for the year would not permit their inclusion.

The message said: "Let me extend my felicitations to the members and guests of your organization. The events of the past year are heartening to the cause of democracy. In the midst of chaos internationally and uncertainty in republican policy, we stand inflexibly as we did when the polls closed last November, for the league of nations, with the United States as a co-operative part of it, is infinitely better than a temporary set-back, than it is to surrender honor to expediency for the mere purpose of winning an election. History will record the abandonment of our allies as an unworthy episode. It would have been no worse if our troops had been withdrawn from France on the morning of the battle of Chateau Thierry. The spectacle of regarding the Hay-Pauncefote treaty as a scrap of paper, just as we begin conference with a group of nations on disarmament, is a sad commentary on the behavior of a country whose life and traditions have been above reproach. Apparently the national administration is guided in its non-resistance policy by the American elements that made it electric possible. We are not a renegade nation and we will not for long permit ourselves to appear to others. Good faith in relations will endure as a private and a national virtue. When sober reflection brings proper understanding to our pathetic status in world affairs, vindication of the democracy will be expressed in no misleading terms.

AMERICAN CONCERN IS ASKED TO SHOW ITS PROOF OF OWNERSHIP

Mexico City, Oct. 10.—The Mexican agricultural community has served notice upon the Palomas Land and Cattle company, an American concern of Chihuahua to present within 60 days proof of its ownership of property valued at more than 20,000,000 pesos. The company is headed by James R. Garfield, son of former President Garfield.

The Mexican Post today asserts the action of the department of agriculture "is a step to restore to the nation a vast domain of rich agricultural and grazing lands." The American members of the company have made futile efforts for years to clear up a title to this tract of land.

W. A. HIGHTOWER TAKES STAND IN HIS OWN BEHALF

Denies All Knowledge of the Manner in Which Rev. Heslin, Catholic Priest Met His Death.

(By The Associated Press.) Redwood City, Calif., Oct. 10.—William A. Hightower was the first witness in his own defense today in his trial on charges of murdering the Rev. Patrick E. Heslin, a Catholic priest. Hightower denied all knowledge of the manner in which the priest met death and declared he had never seen the cleric until his body was recovered from a shallow grave in the sand at Salinas, to which the accused man led police and newspaper men.

Much of Hightower's testimony had to do with Doris Shirley Putnam, with whom he swore he had spent all of the night on which the priest disappeared. He declared, however, that he did not blame the woman for denying that he had been with her as she formerly had been in trouble with the police. Hightower declared he wished her and Lee Putnam, whom he married after terminating his association with himself, all happiness.

Hightower was preceded on the stand by Marie Wendel, housekeeper for the slain priest, who identified him as the man who entered the priest into a rooming place where a dying man was supposed to await spiritual consolation.

The accused man also denied writing a "dramatic" ransom note to Father Heslin and explained the presence in his room of a tent said to have been erected at the scene of the grave by asserting he had bought it for the use of an illicit liquor dealer. He was under cross examination when court adjourned for the day.

"Gets-It" Ends All Corns

Just as Good for Calluses. Money Back If It Fails.

Thirty seconds after you touch the corn with this liquid corn remover the itching, stinging pain of it stops, for all time.

No corn, hard or soft, is too old or too deeply rooted to resist "Gets-It." Immediately it dries and shrinks, the edges loosen from the true flesh and soon you can peel it right off with your fingers as painlessly as you trim your nails.

Don't doubt corn cures. Don't nurse and pamper them. Don't cut and trim them. REMOVE them with "GETS-IT." Costs a trifle at any drug store. Mfg. by Lawrence & Co., Chicago. Sold in Albuquerque by Alvarado Pharmacy.

CALIFORNIA MAN FEELS 30 YEARS YOUNGER HE SAYS

"I've gained 17 pounds in weight by taking Tanlac and actually feel thirty years younger," said Joseph Fonseca, 637 Hayes street, San Francisco, Cal. Mr. Fonseca has resided in San Francisco for the past twenty-five years, and is well known and highly respected.

"I always enjoyed good health up to several months ago, when I began to see my usual strength and energy slipping away from me. I got so I couldn't enjoy my meals and seemed to get no strength from what I ate. I came home nights so tired I could hardly get along, and often even before I had done half a day's work, it seemed that I just could not hold out any longer. I looked sallow, tired and worn out all the time, and never felt at all well."

"One day I made up my mind to try Tanlac, having heard so much about it, and in a few days after I started taking it even my wife noticed I was getting better, and in a little while I hardly felt like the same man. Well, I can work fourteen hours a day now without feeling tired out, and my legs and arms, which used to ache awfully at times, never give me the least bit of trouble. Tanlac certainly made quick work of my troubles, and I'm glad to say a good word for it."

Tanlac is sold in Albuquerque by the Alvarado Pharmacy and by all other leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

SOX TRIM CUBS FIVE STRAIGHT IN CITY SERIES

American League Team Retains Its Title as Champion; Opponents Fail to Win a Single Contest.

(By The Associated Press.)
Chicago, Oct. 10.—City Series.—The White Sox retained their title as Chicago champions today by defeating the Cubs 2 to 5. It was the fifth consecutive victory for the American leaguers, their opponents failing to win a game.
The Sox forced Cheever's retirement in the fifth inning. York's attempt to stop the attack saw Sheely's home run send two men in ahead of him, practically clinching the game.
Lefty Russell pitched steadily for the Sox but in the sixth was replaced by Kerr with the bases filled and none out. Kerr pitched effectively and although three Cubs scored in that frame, they never got dangerous thereafter.
The attendance was 7,172; gross receipts, $7,238; players' pool, $3,910.18; clubs' share, $2,450.92; commissioner's share, $1,085.70.
The total attendance for the five games was 76,788 and the gross receipts $71,338.18. Of this amount, in round figures, the commissioner's share was $10,710. The amount to be divided equally between the two clubs was $24,254. The players' pool amounted to $36,882. Of this amount the winning White Sox players will divide 60 per cent or $21,829. The Cubs will receive 40 per cent and divide $14,553.

ARTESIA HIGH WINS OVER SECOND TEAM OF ROSWELL CADETS

Artesia, N. M., Oct. 11.—The Artesia high school football eleven defeated the New Mexico Military Institute junior eleven in an interesting game on the local gridiron by the score of 19 to 0. Both teams played a very fast game of ball with very few penalties.
Coach Adams used his second team line against the cadets, with his first team coming in in the backfield. Time after time, Bullock, Cole, Yenger and Clyde would make long gains against the Roswell lads. Bullock, after a cross buck, reeled eighty yards for the initial touchdown. In the second quarter, Bullock fumbled the ball on the goal line, which was recovered by Johnson, of the N. M. I., who also fumbled the ball. Then, recovered the ball for another touchdown for Artesia.
Clyde and Yeager made many long gains for Artesia in the last half. The opposing line could not stop them. In the last quarter, Clyde went around left end for a thirty yard run and the last touchdown. Captain Bullock kicked goal.
Payne, scrappy quarterback, Shaw and Bradford played a good game for the visiting team.
Portales High was to meet the Artesia eleven, but cancelled the game. Artesia High will meet Roswell, Clovis and Portales high schools in the next few weeks.

WHEN YANKEES BLANKED GIANTS SECOND TIME

The outstanding features of the second world series game between the Yankees and Giants were the continued hitting and brilliant fielding of Frank Frisch, Giant third baseman; the playing of McNally, who stole home in the first game; the pitching of Waite Hoyt, and Babe Ruth's feat of stealing second and third. McNally and Frisch are shown in the upper photo shaking hands on their "luck." Below, at left, Babe Ruth is stealing third in the fifth inning. Frisch, Giant third sacker, is catching the throw. At the right, Waite Hoyt, who held the Giants to two hits, is loping to third after he singled in the third and moved up when Peck and Ruth walked.

HIGH SCHOOL TO MEET STRONG FOE IN SATURDAY TILT

The stage is all set for the first Indian school-high school game Saturday when the A. H. S. gridmen face a more formidable foe than they did October 1. Last Saturday the Indian school held Menaul to a 0-0 tie and kept the ball in Menaul's territory for the greater part of the game. Menaul showed a much better game than they offered against the Green school. Although the Indian school lacked experience, they showed much better than the Menaul team even though Menaul did some good line plunging.
The Indian school has all of the last year's men back in the lineup. With the ease that they handled the athletic department of the game when they played Menaul, the A. H. S. football men will have a hard game next Saturday. The Indian school made long passes almost at will. Considering all the "dope" Albuquerque high school will have a battle royal when they meet the Indians.

The high team is weakened considerably from the fact that William Goodrich has a badly sprained arm and that he may not be in shape for the game Saturday. Nathan Glasman is also much hindered by the bruised hip that he received in the high school variety scrimmage last Wednesday. Aside from these two, the team is well prepared for the game Saturday and are going through a very hard workout this week.
Plans are under way for a big pep session Friday and there will be a big snake dance Friday night.

EUROPEAN BILLIARD CHAMPION LEADS JAP

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Oct. 10.—Edmond Horreman of Belgium, European billiard champion, led Koji Yamada of Japan, 609 to 286, tonight after playing two blocks of their 1,800 point 18-2 ball line match in Brooklyn. In the evening block Horreman averaged 37.4-5 to Yamada's 15.3-7. Horreman's best run of the day was 105 and Yamada's 71.

BILLIARD MATCH IS REPLETE WITH UPSETS

(By The Associated Press.)
Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 10.—The beginning of the second week of the national three-cushion billiard championship today was replete with upsets when both August Kleckhafer of Chicago and John Layton, champion, first and second in the standing, were defeated by their opponents. F. D. Denton also lost his match.
Charles McCourt, Pittsburgh, won from Kleckhafer, 50 to 42, in fifty-two innings. Each had a run of five.
Layton fell before Pierre Maupome, Mexico, 50 to 36 in fifty-five innings. Maupome's high run was five, Layton's three. Alfred de Oro, Cuba, defeated Denton, Kansas City, 50 to 48 in sixty-three innings. De Oro's high run was six, Denton's five.

BATIGNOLLES TUNNEL WILL BE DEMOLISHED

Paris, Oct. 10.—The Batignolles tunnel, near the St. Lazare station, in which a rear end collision of two suburban trains last Wednesday resulted in 40 deaths and numerous injuries, will be demolished. M. Le Trocquer, minister of public works, announced today. The work of demolition will be begun October 17, he said.

SHERIFF BAGS TOURISTS WHO HUNTED QUAIL

$50 Fine Is Handed Indiana Tourist Who Hunted Quail Out of Season and Without a Hunters' License.

Sheriff Tony Ortiz opened the season for game violators yesterday and bagged one.

H. P. Cummings, a tourist from Indiana, was reported to the sheriff's office by Henry Westerfeld as having shot some quail near Algodones. Sheriff Ortiz, who, aside from being an official, is an enthusiastic hunter and a firm believer in the game laws for the protection of game, immediately started an investigation and found that Cummings was headed for Albuquerque in his automobile.

The sheriff and Deputy Charles Banghart drove out the Fourth street road and arrested Cummings yesterday morning at about 10 o'clock. The tourist was charged with hunting quail out of season and with hunting without a hunters' license. He was fined $25 on each of the charges.

Residents of New Mexico or non-residents must secure game licenses before they can fish or hunt in the state. These licenses permit them to hunt or fish in season according to the rules established by law. All tourists must secure licenses before hunting birds this fall. The non-resident license can be secured from almost any sporting goods store at a cost of $10.25.

BOIL DRINKING WATER IN ORDER TO AVOID GERMS

City Water Tested Yesterday Shows It to Be More Impure Than at Any Time in Past Five Weeks.

"City water must be boiled before being used for drinking purposes," Dr. J. F. Docherty, county health physician, stated yesterday when the result of the latest water test was announced.

The city water is in the worst condition it has been in during the past few weeks since it has been contaminated. Every bit of water tested yesterday showed contamination, even when tested in quantities as small as one C. C.

Ten samples of water were analyzed yesterday. Five of the samples were of 10 C. C. quantities. These all showed impurities as did also the five samples in one C. C. quantities.

No cases of typhoid, however, have been reported. Officials believe this is due to the fact that the citizens are adhering to the suggestion of the health department and are boiling or otherwise purifying their drinking water.

Officials are not able to trace the cause of the added impurity, as the greater part of the surface water is now dried up or drained off. If the impurity continues, it may become necessary for the city to install a chlorination plant through which the water will pass before going into the mains. The plant would probably cost $3,000.

PROGRAM COMPLETED FOR REGIONAL MEET OF RED CROSS HERE

Final arrangements for the first regional conference of the Red Cross in New Mexico which will convene here on Saturday were made at a meeting of the executive committee of the local chapter yesterday afternoon at the federal building. The program of speakers is completed and all details for the meeting are arranged.

The conference will be an all-day one to be held in the federal courtroom with T. J. Mabry presiding. A feature of the program will be a talk by Dr. J. F. Docherty, city and county health officer, on the nursing program, and a demonstration baby clinic to be conducted by Miss Gladys Harris, Red Cross public health nurse. Invitations to the conference are being sent to the mayors and to the secretaries of the chambers of commerce in the principal towns and cities of the state.

It was planned to conduct a baby show in the city about November 1 for the purpose of exhibiting the healthy specimens of childhood which have been developed during the past six months of the public health work of the Red Cross nurse. Reports were also made yesterday by the salvage shop committee and by the annual roll call committee.

SPECIAL AGENT GETS FIVE ALLEGED AUTO THIEVES THIS TRIP

Five automobile thieves were arrested and bound over to the federal grand jury, as a result of a whirlwind trip of A. R. Gere, special agent of the U. S. department of justice, who has just returned from Las Vegas and Raton, where he attended hearings in the case of Fred W. J. Price, alias Jack Price, who was given a hearing in Raton on Saturday on the charge of concealing two stolen automobiles which were brought into New Mexico from Texas, was bound over to the federal grand jury on the charge. In Las Vegas four men, Bert Mills, alias Albert Smith, Fred W. J. Price, alias Jack Price, and Will Scruggs, alias W. H. Rhodes, alias Harvey Mitchell, were held to the grand jury on the charge of bringing a Dodge car from Coffeyville, Kans., to Las Vegas. They were arrested for vagrancy there about two months ago but were just recently held on the automobile theft charge.

A PIONEER COLORADO MINER ENDS OWN LIFE

(By The Associated Press.)
Denver, Colo., Oct. 10.—Edward L. Erickson, aged 74, for more than twenty years a miner in the Cripple Creek and other mining districts, is dead here today of a gunshot wound, self-inflicted, near the cowboy monument in the civic center this morning. The bullet entered the right temple and plowed through his brain, emerging at the left eye.

Early morning pedestrians who witnessed the shooting notified the police. Friends of Erickson's have attributed his action to despondency caused by ill health.

The origin of Freemasonry, or even its name, cannot be traced with certainty.

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED

By JANE PHELPS.

JUANITA STILL BELIEVES.

CHAPTER 110.

"What, won't you go away for a time?" I asked Dick the next morning at breakfast. "Of course I don't mean until Junior returns to school." I had seen the doleful look on my boy's face, and knew he thought I intended to leave him at home alone.

"I can't afford to go," Dick answered shortly.

"But I can! I haven't spent nearly all I made on the Baker house and we both need a change."

"Go if you like, but leave me out of your calculations. If the book had been accepted I should have taken that yachting trip. As it is I shall remain at home and write pot boilers."

"But I couldn't have gone on the yachting trip—at least you said nothing about taking me."

"No. Somers couldn't take any more ladies. He said he was sorry—sorry not to be able to invite you. I mean, but that his yacht would not accommodate any more than he had asked."

"So ladies were going?"

"Yes."

"I said no more, but knew I had the explanation. Juanita was to go. I wanted desperately to ask if he knew she was invited. Instead I questioned as carelessly as I could:

"Who were going? Anyone I knew?"

"Yes, I believe so—Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer, Linda Forrester, and Carroll, and—some others. About six in all."

"Juanita going?" It was out. I just couldn't help it. Dick looked at me and answered:

"I believe she was invited. I do not know whether she intends to go or not."

There flashed through my mind the thought that perhaps she would not go unless Dick went also. He had said he would not. I said no more but went to the telephone. I called Juanita.

"Are you going on the yachting party Mr. Somers is giving?" I asked.

"Yes—why?" she answered in a peculiar voice.

"Oh, I had thought of giving another party—cards—and wanted to know who to ask."

"I must tell Juanita about the manuscript. I think I'll walk over there and get through with it."

"That's a good idea. You will feel better when it is over. Of course you can't tell her it was her fault, her exaggerated ideas that made the book a failure—I had suggested he try another publisher, but he had declared the nature of the criticisms made it hopeless. "She was so sure it would be a success."

"So were you."

"Yes—for a time. By the way, Dick, Juanita told me just now, when I called her on the telephone, to find out about having her for a bridge game, that she was going on the yachting party."

"Dick made no answer, but when he reached the door I called after him."

"If she changes her mind, let me know."

"She'll change it all right," I said to myself, "when she finds out Dick isn't going."

Dick was gone nearly all the morning.

"Well, what did Juanita say about the manuscript?" I asked, knowing by his face that it had been nothing helpful.

"She raved like a maniac when I showed her the publisher's letter. She wants me to keep on sending it until I find a publisher who will accept it. But I am sure it would be useless, and told her so."

"I'm terribly sorry for your disappointment, Dick," I said honestly, "but next time write your book alone."

"You better believe I will! If I ever attempt another."

"And you won't take a short vacation with me—why?"

"Because I am not going to let you support me any longer. I have paid scarcely anything toward the expenses for months, ever since I commenced that failure over there," he pointed to the rejected manuscript. "I'm through letting a woman support me."

"Nonsense, Dick! What difference does it make who earns the money as long as we have enough to be comfortable? It isn't fair of you to talk like that, and you know it. You made money with your stories. You can do so again."

"But I think a rest is change, would you good. Then, too, Juanita may feel a bit disgruntled over the criticisms, and it will give her time to get over it." Dick, like all men, had a sort of unpleasantness.

"I tell you I can't go!" Dick returned, "at least not now!"

"Had Dick been disloyal? That he had been fascinated, carried off by his feet, I had proof. I wanted love perhaps, but I was parched for the lack of it, and it was the love that belonged to me that I longed for. It had become almost a mania, this determination to hold the man who had promised to cherish me until death did us part; and whom I loved more desperately every day.

SHE IS FOUNDER OF WOMEN'S NEW POLITICAL PARTY

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont.

With the passage of the suffrage amendment and the transformation of the woman's suffrage party it seemed as though the organization of the feminine voting contingent of the country was stabilized. Now comes Mrs. Belmont, long a leader in the woman's field, with the announcement that in order that the women may obtain more effective results with their votes she is going to organize a new women's party which will not be content with selecting the most suitable candidates put forward by the male voters and aiding in the election of these men, but which will select its own candidates—women in all possible cases—and direct their campaigns.

"The full power of the women's votes will not be felt until they do this," says Mrs. Belmont.

All rite, go on, go on, what happens then? sed ma, and pop sed. Then the ball is hit back by the man on the other side of the net. O, you mean the first man's partner, sed ma.

Yes, I mean, no, certainly not. Not his partner, his opponent, sed pop. That's what I meant, sed ma.

Yes, it's the same thing, any different, sed pop, and ma sed. Well, go on, what then?

Then I stop explaining before I get brain fever, sed pop. Now Willyum, you can't say I wasn't following you, sed ma, and pop sed. You were ahead of me, it's nothing. And he opened the paper and stayed behind it.

Get a 10-cent box now. You're headachy! You have a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, your lips parched. No wonder. What mean. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleaning up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels are gone by morning with gentle, thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. A 10-cent box will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet, and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

By LAURA A. KIRKMAN.

A SERPENTINE CREPE LUNCHEON SET.

Several of my readers have written to ask me to print an occasional needlework article. So in the future I will comply with this request.

Today I will describe one of the new serpentine crepe luncheon sets that are "all the rage." These are dainty and yet are a wonderful help to a busy housekeeper because they require no ironing after washing.

This set consists of a centerpiece and six dollies (you can also make six napkins, if you wish, in the same way, only making them a little smaller than the dollies). White serpentine crepe comes 30 inches wide, so the centerpiece is thirty by thirty inches square and the dollies are fifteen inches square (two can be gotten out of the width of the material). You will need two and one-eighth yards for this set (thirty inches the length of the material for the centerpiece and fifteen more inches the length of the material for each of the three pair of dollies). This cotton crepe costs anywhere from 25 cents a yard to 32 cents according to the locality in which it is bought.

Besides this material you will need about 6 skeins of either mercerized silk or real silk floss of various shades. You will also need "transfer designs" gotten out by pattern firms. These transfer patterns come in flower designs, butterfly designs, and in hems of other designs. The designs will contain pictures of transfer patterns which she can send for, for a small sum. I will be glad to send her this address upon receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Now that you have your centerpiece and six dollies fringed, you must get to work stamping them. Then comes the last step, embroidering them. If you have chosen a butterfly pattern, I would advise you to make the design inside the wings yellow, and the border of the wings a different color with each napkin; in this way the yellow spots represent the golden spots on a real butterfly's wings, and yet the other colors (lavender, blue, old rose, etc.) may be introduced on the different dollies with the gold note, the only thing to make them similar.

If any reader wishes to know the address of a pattern house from which she can purchase an autumn needlework catalogue, she may write to the following address: "The Needlework Catalogue, 1234 Broadway, New York City." I will be glad to send her this address upon receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MOTOR MADNESS.

My shining car no more you need around my stately residence; the windshield's hanging from a tree, the axles are aside a fence, and wearily my woe I droop, and wonder how you got as good as I.

So fast, I have been told by many wise and prudent gossips, "or soon a wooden box will hold a delicate about your size," their counsel I heed, and I deplore, and stepped upon the gas and made my added wagon fly, and I would let no auto pass, however fiercely it might roar, and sage advice like sounding brass appeared to me as I whizzed by. "I've warned you once, I've warned you twice," the friendly speed cop to me said, "and I'll have to earn you thrice, a prison cell will be your lot, or maybe you'll be laid on ice, with tapers at your feet and head."

My pastor urged me to reform, and I have to earn you thrice, "all day," he said, "the sapling's torn along the pike in noisy wains, and soon the coroners will swarm, and sit on your and their remains." And so I went my dippy way, and laughed at maxims and at laws, at frantic speed I pushed my drag, and hustled all the traffic laws; and now you see me here today, the worst old wreck that ever was. Learned surgeons try to make me straight, but they are worried and perplex; apothecaries near me wait, and staid morticians, at the gate, are saying that their turn is next.

of each of the six dollies and a slightly larger design in one corner of the centerpiece (both large and small repetitions of the same design come on these patterns).

After buying your crepe material, however, the first step is not to stamp it; the first step, after cutting it into the centerpiece and six dollies, is to fringe these squares. The fringe runs all around each square and is about three-quarters of an inch deep. Do the fringing with a pin. The "selvage" edge must be cut off to allow fringing.

Although the fringe of this luncheon set does not fray out—even after many launderings—nevertheless many women prefer to guard against fraying by overhanding the material in white floss, or fine white cotton thread, just at the top of the fringe.

Now that you have your centerpiece and six dollies fringed, you must get to work stamping them. Then comes the last step, embroidering them. If you have chosen a butterfly pattern, I would advise you to make the design inside the wings yellow, and the border of the wings a different color with each napkin; in this way the yellow spots represent the golden spots on a real butterfly's wings, and yet the other colors (lavender, blue, old rose, etc.) may be introduced on the different dollies with the gold note, the only thing to make them similar.

If any reader wishes to know the address of a pattern house from which she can purchase an autumn needlework catalogue, she may write to the following address: "The Needlework Catalogue, 1234 Broadway, New York City." I will be glad to send her this address upon receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

JUDICIAL LEGISLATION AND THE LIBEL LAW.

Should judicial decisions be made in a "vacuum," uninfluenced by the current trend of public thought and public opinion, or should the judicial constructions put upon the law accurately reflect the will of the people?

In this question lies the two opposing theories concerning our courts. Let it be recognized by all that our system of laws in America is made by two classes of legislation—legislation by legislatures and legislation by judicial decisions. The legislature passes a law, perhaps with the accomplishment of a certain end in view. The courts lay violent hands upon this law in its administration and construe into it a widely different meaning. By that decision the courts make law as truly as does the legislature.

No one will contend that a legislature should be free from the pressure of public opinion. It is highly desirable in fact, that our legislatures be sensitive to the demands of public sentiment and respond to it in the laws they may enact.

How then can it be urged that when courts are making law by means of the construction they place upon the law enacted by the legislature, they should be free from the pressure of public opinion? Why should court-made law be less responsive to public sentiment than that of legislatures? Each is making law under which we must live and which we must obey. What that law is to be is most certainly the business of the public.

In trials involving the application of a fixed and interpreted law to the facts of the specific case in hand, it is desirable, even essential, that both judge and jury be free from the pressure of public opinion. The idea which the public may hold concerning the guilt or innocence of the accused, should not be permitted to influence a decision. The public can not be presumed to know the facts of the specific case, or to be able to properly weigh them. Such trials should be held in a "vacuum."

But when the case involves a construction to be placed by the court upon a law, common or statutory, it is right that public opinion should express itself as to what the people wish the law to be, especially in those cases where the construction given the law involves a matter of public policy and vitally affects the welfare of the people.

When Mr. J. M. Reynolds and Mr. A. B. McMillen contend that the Journal is guilty of contempt of court for discussion the interpretation of the libel laws which they are attempting to crystallize into fixed law in New Mexico, through judicial decision, they are contending for the theory of a decision made in a "vacuum."

The Journal insists that the public has a right to make itself felt and to have such an interpretation of the libel laws as the people feel will best serve the public interest. This paper can hold no view other than that it has as much right to argue the question of what is wise judicial legislation as it has to argue what laws should be enacted by the legislature.

We contend that to uphold the contention of these gentlemen that all that we have said about a large group of men, can be considered by the court as a charge by us of all of these acts against any one person of the group, will wholly destroy the freedom of the press and silence all newspapers on the wrongs being inflicted upon the people. Let us illustrate: We have said that the "gang" in New Mexico fixed the laws so that the mines escaped their just share of the burdens of taxation. Months later, in connection with the law suits of the First National bank against us, we said that the "gang" was after us. These gentlemen now allege their official connection with the First National and complain that by the use of the word "gang" on two widely different occasions, both in point of subject matter and time, that we libelously accused them of fixing the mining laws so as to enable the mines to escape taxation. Judicial legislation which fixed any such rule as the libel law in New Mexico, would be a serious blow at free government. Public opinion has a right to protest against any such construction being placed on the law. We have a right, as we view it, to inform the public of the vital significance of the issue. In doing so we are guilty of neither disrespect toward the court nor a contempt of it.

Laws should be responsive to the public demand and the public need. Those who would prevent such responsiveness are the enemies of the people.

STOCKING BANKS.

A group of middle western bankers conducted an investigation to ascertain to what extent farmers and small business men keep in hiding sums of money. It was found that a large number, amounting to an appreciable percentage of the whole, kept sums ranging from $100 to $10,000 hidden about the premises. It is not hard to understand how one might need to keep temporarily as much as $100 about the house, but to have $10,000, or any amount approaching that sum, certainly would be extraordinary.

Those who live at a distance from a bank naturally might need to keep much more currency on hand than others who could step into a bank whenever necessary, but to have about the person or on the premises any considerable amount is to invite someone to come and take it. Frequently robberies are reported where by violence directed against the possessor, information as to the hiding place of the money is extorted. It is hard enough to keep money under circumstances. To invite robbery by hiding it about the house should be unnecessary in these days of many banks.

The currency that is hidden away does nothing for the owner, while if it were deposited in a bank it would work for the possessor and for others also. No doubt the sums hoarded and not working total vast figures. Were all of this secreted capital where it would be available for use it would assist greatly in the restoration of industry.

DEFENDING THE CONSTITUTION.

Induced by an appeal to defend the constitution of the United States and uphold the majesty of the law, many American citizens are said to be joining a secret order and contributing funds for its support. It is evident that these people are well intentioned and therein lies the hope that their zeal for American institutions may be directed properly.

The framers of the constitution provided every necessary safeguard for its defense in the government which it established. That government was founded upon the principles of liberty and of toleration of free opinion. It conceded to every man the right to think and to believe and to speak freely. Furthermore, it placed the judgment and condemnation of acts solely in the jurisdiction of courts. Men's thoughts and beliefs could not be called in question and the acts which were the result of thoughts and beliefs were to be punishable only if proved damaging to society, by properly constituted courts. Upon such foundations do our liberties rest and any violation of these sacred principles does violence to the constitution and the government of the United States.

Good American citizenship makes the most of these safeguards of liberty. The best citizenship exerts itself always to promote healthy public opinion and to see that that opinion has the freest expression. This is the legitimate and authorized check upon American institutions. If the properly elected officials fail to function; if the courts do not dispense justice; if executives fail to enforce the laws, the electorate can displace these servants and choose others to fulfill the purposes of government.

Every good citizen should familiarize himself with his country's history and identify himself only with such movements as harmonize fully with the spirit of American institutions.

In England the average age of bridegrooms is stated to be 29 years, while the brides' average is 27 years. Evidently the English girls have a way with callow youths.

Senator "Jim" Reed has charged Budget Director Dawes with "impudent and insolent usurpation of legislative authority." Wouldn't there be fireworks if those two were to come together in an exchange of words?

VERSE OF TODAY

IN ROBINSON PARK.

Here in this leafy grove
Rest thee, thy spirit rest!
Cool is the shade on path and glade
To welcome every guest.
In green of lawn are shadows drawn
Across the sunbeams blaze;
With vapor spun in shade and sun
Each jetty fountain plays.

Rest thee O one forlorn
And weary of thy strife!
Bid care to cease, here take thine ease,
Here win the joy of life.
Mild bud and bloom thy faith resume,
Take heart and hope regain;
A quiet hour beneath this bower
Will give succor from pain.

Here close to nature's heart
In grass and shrub and tree,
Thy thought imbue in every view
With beauty made for thee.
'Tis nature's gift to here uplift
The mind away from care;
The trees confer a comforter
Like peace of answered prayer!

EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

TEACHERS, NOT SOLDIERS.

(From the Detroit Free Press.)
Fewer soldiers, more school teachers—that is the progressive standard marked out for Mexico under his administration. President Obregon told foreign visitors to the nation's centennial at a dinner.

"Mexico intends constantly to raise the moral and mental status of her people," the president remarked, "and she has shown this unmistakably, although modestly, by discharging regiments and battalions, by increasing her appropriations for public instruction, and by preparing to open new schools."
If Senator Obregon is able to make his program effective he will be taking his over-stressed land a long way on the difficult road it has to travel to international esteem. One of the chief troubles in the republic to the south has been too many soldiers and too few teachers. The arts of war have been emphasized overmuch, in teaching and practice, and the arts of peace have been suffered to lapse. The sword has been a mightier weapon than the pen.

The wastage of Mexico, its withdrawal from the procession of the times, has been one of the crying shames of this century. That so many millions of fertile acres have lain fallow, so great a wealth of mineral has remained locked away, and so many millions of miserable peons have been deprived of securities and comforts, has been a great evil.
If Obregon can build school houses instead of arsenals, hospitals instead of forts, roads instead of armories, harbors instead of battleships and pursue an upright foreign policy besides, he may yet be able to win from the world acknowledgement of his nation's right to a place in decent international society.

UNCLE WIGGLY AND JOHNNIE'S CAKE.

Once upon a time, as Uncle Wiggly was hopping through the woods near his hollow stump bungalow, sort of laughing to himself as he remembered how he had fooled the Puzzy Fox with the Billy Jell, once upon a time, I say, the bunny rabbit gentleman heard a rustling noise in the bushes.

"Um, hum!" said Uncle Wiggly to himself, holding his paw over his pink nose so it wouldn't twinkle too loudly. "Um, hum! May-be this is the Puzzy Fox again!" But it was only Johnnie Bushytail, one of the squirrel boys, who was scrambling down a tree, chipping off bits of bark with his sharp paw nails.

"What were you doing up the tree, Johnnie?" asked Uncle Wiggly, taking his paw off his pink nose so it could twinkle again.

"I'm getting some nuts," chattered Johnnie. "And say, Uncle Wiggly, you ought to come over to our house this afternoon."

"Why should I come over to your house this afternoon, Johnnie?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Because I'm going to make a cake," went on the squirrel boy. "Oh, now, don't fool your old Uncle Wiggly!" laughed the bunny. "You bake a cake? Ho! Ho!"

"Yes I am, really," went on the squirrel boy. "You see my mother hasn't any girl squirrels and so she says my brother Billie and I ought to learn how to do things around the house. She's going to show me how to make a nut cake. That's why I am gathering the nuts now. And I invite you over to my house this afternoon to have some of my cake."

"I'll be sure to come," promised Uncle Wiggly, and then as the squirrel boy scampered home with the nuts, the bunny rabbit gentleman hopped along to look for an adventure.

He didn't find a very exciting one—just a little hopped lady spilled some beans she was carrying home to make a bean bag pudding for her husband. But Uncle Wiggly very kindly stopped and picked up the beans, carrying them home for her in his tail silk hat.

Then it was afternoon and time to go to the home of Johnnie Bushytail, the squirrel boy, to see about his cake.

"I just wonder if he really can make one," thought Uncle Wiggly.

Soon he was at the squirrel house, and as he went up the steps Johnnie opened the door.

"Come right in!" chattered the squirrel boy. "My cake is all baked and I'm going to give you a piece."

"Before you do, perhaps you'll try a piece of my cake," said Johnnie.

"All right! Give me a big slice!" snapped the bad chap, very impudently.

Johnnie cut a slice of a newly baked cake. The Gator opened wide his mouth and stuffed the cake in, but a moment later he gave a loud howl and cried:

"Oh, my throat! Oh, my tongue! Oh, I'm all full of sticklers! And away he ran double quick out of

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE
Chicago, Oct. 10.—Upward swings in the price of wheat resulted today from bullish aspects of the government crop report and from a sharp advance in sterling exchange. The close, although unsettled was 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 higher with December $1.11 to $1.13, and May $1.15 to $1.16. Corn gained 3/4 to 1 1/4; oats finished unchanged and provisions unchanged to down.

With government figures showing smaller yields of wheat and corn than had been expected the wheat market took the upgrade as soon as the pit was open for business. Current expressions of optimism that the United States wheat surplus had been well sold out tended also to encourage bullish sentiment. Later, the steep rise of foreign exchange, especially sterling, gave decided impetus to demand. On the other hand, speculators temporarily depressed prices after mid-day anticipating that the domestic visible supply would disclose a big increase. The visible supply statement, however, was delayed, and the majority of shorts were scrambling to cover at the last rather than risk their trading losses over night. The visible supply figures when finally posted a minute or two before the close included the stock at St. Joseph, Mo., 1,127,000 bushels, the first time since Joseph accumulated have been thus duly reported.

New low record prices for this season were touched by corn and oats. The chief depressing factors were the heavy receipts of corn and the scarcity of storage room. Provisions declined with corn, although at first reflecting an upturn in the value of hogs.

To Gain a Good Reputation.
The way to gain a good reputation is to endeavor to be what you appear. That is precisely the manner in which Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has gained its reputation as a cure for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Every bottle that has ever been put out by the manufacturers has been fully up to the high standard of excellence claimed for it. People have found that it can be depended upon for the relief and cure of these ailments and that it is pleasant and safe to take.

Chocolates and bonbons containing well-known brands of whiskey and other liquors are commonly sold by confectioners in England.
