U. S. DELEGATES TO ARMS PARLEY BEGIN WORK

Will Make a General Survey of the International Situation, Beginning With a Meeting Today.

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Oct. 11 (by the Associated Press).—The American delegation to the armament conference will begin its duties here tomorrow by a general survey of the international situation into which it is to embark.

At a meeting which will bring the four delegates together for the first time since their selection, data gathered from diplomatic, military and naval sources is to be laid on the table, and a preliminary effort made to produce upon it the broad principles of this government's position in the armament negotiations.

Harding May Participate.
It is expected that one of many consultations of the delegation in preparation for the opening of the conference, President Harding will take an active role in the preparatory stages and possibly will participate in some of the delegates' meetings. Military and naval experts are to be questioned about the data they submit and an effort made to provide the American representatives before hand with a comprehensive understanding of the task confronting them.

The call for tomorrow's meeting was issued today by Secretary Hughes, head of the delegation. Elihu Root, former secretary of state, is expected to come prepared to devote most of his attention henceforth to the work of the conference. Underwood and Scott are expected to make the conference preparations their first concern.

Four General Subjects.
Four general subjects are expected to hold the attention of the delegates at their first session. First there will be a broad statement of the national policies for which this government feels bound to stand during negotiations. A compilation of information as to the exact status of Far Eastern questions is to be submitted as a step toward fully advising the delegates, and data as to the military and naval situations will be taken up under separate headings.

With these four things in mind the delegation is likely to adjourn tomorrow without attempting to reach any agreement and means toward accomplishment with which the armament conference is charged. Later meetings are expected to become more frequent as the delegates become better acquainted with the questions.

LOCAL AGENCY OF THE PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE BREAKS SALES RECORD

A volume of business totaling over half a million dollars during September is the sales record of the Albuquerque office of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company. This broke all previous records of the agency in the annual September competition for the challenge cup which has been twice won by the local office.

Of the September business written $469,850 was in New Mexico and $55,000 in other states. The total of $524,850 for the district under Mr. Bruce's direction. Of the New Mexico business, $125,000 was written in Albuquerque.

Agents leading in establishing the September record were: D. D. Bright, with $105,000; H. F. Cooke, with $95,000; H. W. Schroeder, of El Paso, with $85,500; and J. D. Wakefield, J. R. Gass, A. E. Bruce, R. L. Maddox, J. M. Scruggs and R. C. Bruce, with total earnings from $17,000 to $48,000.

A. E. Bruce, assistant general agent in charge of the Albuquerque office, has been congratulated by F. B. Schwenker, agent, on the success of his force of insurance writers. Twenty-five people are employed by the Pacific Mutual here. Mr. Schwenker devotes his time to the Arizona office of the general agency.

MOTHER, QUICK! GIVE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP FOR CHILD'S BOWELS

Even a sick child loves the "fruit" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" on hand to give to a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children. Mothers! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

IT'S A GRAND OLD REMEDY
You can't keep strong and well without sleep. Whether your rest is broken by a painful hacking cough or just an annoying tickling in the throat, the system becomes weakened and rundown. Mrs. K. D. Drake, Childs, Md., writes: "After an attack of the flu I was left with a severe cough. Nothing relieved me until I used Foley's Honey and Tar, which I can highly recommend." It covers irritated membranes with a healing and soothing coating, loosens phlegm and clears air passages. Sold everywhere.

PRESS CONGRESS GETS A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT

Harding Hopes the Newspapers Throughout the World Will Do Their Part to Promote Understanding

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Oct. 11.—A hope that the public press throughout the world will do its part to promote international understanding and particularly to make easier the tasks of the armament conference was expressed by President Harding in a message to the Press Congress of the World, which began its session today at Honolulu.

In solving the problem of the Pacific, the president wrote, the press was in a position to wield a great and beneficial influence. He declared it "hard to imagine justifications" for conflict among the peoples on opposite shores of the Pacific and added:

"The Pacific ought to be the seat of a generous, free, open minded competition between the best ideas of eastern and western life, between the aspirations and endeavors of the oldest and newest forms of human civilization. The message sent in the form of a letter to Wallace R. Farrington, governor of Hawaii and publisher of the Honolulu Star Bulletin, was dated September 8, and was, in part, as follows:

"I hope the fact that I chance to have been most of my life a newspaper man, will not have distorted my judgment so far as to cause me to overrate the importance of journalism in the present day world. Not only have the world and the events transpiring since the armistice impressed me all anew with the value of the public press, but they have demonstrated the possible danger which resides in a press too freely employed for mere propaganda. In the overwhelming emergency of the war, propaganda became a well nigh universal habit; I might almost say a code among journalists. It was, of course, intended to stir the passions of patriotism, of devotion to national life, of well-intentioned aspiration for the salvation of the best in human society; but it was always entirely fair, judicial and disinterested. On the whole, it served a splendid purpose in the circumstances of war time; but we newspaper men could induce ourselves in no more grievous error than to assume that propaganda is the first or even a leading aim of a properly conducted press."

"I cannot but feel that the primary purpose of the press, as a social institution, is the opening of men's minds, rather than the closing of them. Propaganda aims primarily at shutting the mind against other conclusions than those which the propagandist desires to implant. Education, on the contrary, aims to open the mind, to prepare it, to make it receptive, and to use it to formulate its own conclusions.

"The closing of education no single force or influence of which we now know can be expected to exert so great a potency as the press. You are meeting in a day when the world is looking forward to the gathering of the nations to consider limitation of armament and maintenance of world peace. If your deliberations shall inspire a larger, a better, a more humane view of the elements which enter into the problem of peace and at least a measurable disarmament; if you can encourage the ideal of a world permanently at peace, then you will have given a vast impetus to the efforts of statesmen who are presently considering these problems in Washington."

"We have heard much in recent years about the problem of the Pacific, whatever that may be. I take it to be merely a phase of the universal problem of the race of men and nations wherever they are. It is hard to imagine justifications in this day and age especially in view of the world's late unhappy experience for armed conflict among civilized peoples anywhere, especially among peoples so widely separated as those on opposite borders of the Pacific. They represent different races, social organizations, political systems and modes of thought. Beyond these, and their widely varying systems, there may well be an amicable competition to determine which community possesses the better and more effective ideas for human advancement."

But that there should be conflict, that warfare and controversy should interfere with this worthwhile demonstration of the value of different modes of progress, is almost unthinkable. The Pacific ought to be the seat of generous, free, open minded competition between the best ideas of eastern and western life; between the aspirations and endeavors of the oldest and the newest forms of human society.

"You are meeting at the cross roads of the Pacific, amid all the glamour and romance and glory which have always surrounded the very name of the south sea. You have an opportunity to do a work for humanity; and I believe you will meet at a peculiarly auspicious time."

ONE-ARMED MAN KILLS BEAR BY BEATING IT ON HEAD WITH A CLUB

(By The Associated Press.)
El Paso, Tex., Oct. 11.—Here is a bear yarn brought to El Paso by E. Rosenblum, who has just returned from a two weeks visit at Hot Springs, N. M. He said an old resident of the town, who had with him part of the time, would vouch for his statements. Mr. Rosenblum was riding through some mountains near the town recently, he said, when he saw a black bear coming toward him. Mr. Rosenblum said he did not want his horse to become frightened so he led it to a tree and got down and hid behind a boulder.

DEMOCRATS OF COUNTY EXPECT CHANGE OF LUCK

Meeting at Y. M. C. A. Shows Optimism in Party Ranks; Some Uncertainty Over Method to Be Used.

Bernalillo county's democracy held a love-feast at the Y. M. C. A. last night and decided that it was not down-hearted over losing the county in the senatorial election. In fact, the speakers at the meeting decided that success in this district and in the state generally was possible and probable in the next election.

The only difference of opinion was as to the method to be pursued. Some were in favor of a strict elimination of corrupt practices, while others held to the belief that the "way to fight fire was with fire."

As a side issue, the meeting raised $1,125 to pay back bills and a pledge of an additional $125 was given. In addition three committees were named to raise the balance of the deficit. Their members are: No. 1, W. C. Gestrreich, chairman, Louis McKee, Walter Connelley, No. 2, Col. D. K. B. Sellers, chairman, D. A. Macpherson, Tony Ortiz, No. 3, Charles Roehl, chairman, Judge W. W. McClellan, Clyde Tingley.

With one hundred present, Mr. Gestrreich called the meeting to order. He announced that there was no set program, but that it was a "free get-together of Bernalillo county democracy." He urged that there be two chairmen in the county, one for the city of Albuquerque and one for the outlying precincts.

The speaker announced his opposition to fusions. John Simms, following him, argued against the use of money in any way except for educational work among the voters. "Don't spend your money in corrupt ways. Play the game clean and fair and we will win," he advised.

Judge E. H. Hanna, explaining that a physician would not permit him to talk much, pointed out that the republican party had succeeded in winning the last election chiefly through its ability to get the vote out. He expressed his opinion that the state was democratic but that, to win, the democrats would be forced to get out the vote. He also urged clean politics.

Judge W. C. Hancock stated that the democrats wished to carry the county they would have to adopt the republican methods. E. B. Garcia opposed the payment of workers at the polls but yet favored a campaign fund for necessary expenses. He expressed his hope for future through the influx of emigrants, most of whom, he said, are democratic.

Among the other speakers were Charles Roehl, A. T. Hannett, Col. D. K. B. Sellers, Judge W. W. McClellan, Dr. D. E. Wilson, Walter Connelley and E. B. Swope.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Digging into the activities of the Ku Klux Klan, the house rules committee developed by testimony today that the organization had taken in $1,488,710, since its reformation in 1915, since its reformation in 1915, since its reformation in 1915.

Through numerous letters said to have been sent from Klan headquarters and not intended for general publication the statement also was made that the Norfolk, Va., chief of police had received 260 letters to the local order "in time of trouble," and that Representative Upshaw, democrat of Georgia, in whose home district the Klan was born, had been put to it to deny membership in the Klan and at the same time square his conscience as a preacher and church member.

The imperial wizard of the Ku Klux, William J. Simmons, of Atlanta, sat all day in the crowded committee room and heard witnesses declare he was not its actual head; that all powers seemed vested in Edward Young Clarke, head of the publicity or propaganda bureau, and Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, his assistant. The committee, conducting a hearing on resolutions calling for a congressional investigation of the Klan, will put the imperial wizard on the stand, and the last century among other effects, led to an exodus from the country to the smaller and larger communities, leading up to the creation of our present day giant cities.

"The desperate conditions prevailing among the homeless myriads of young men in commerce impressed George Williams and made him an ardent worker for the reduction of working hours. These sometimes extended over 16 at that time. But his solicitude for his fellowmen did not stop there. Religious study and other forms of religious work were, from the beginning, prominent features in the Young Men's Christian association founded by him in 1844, but most of the lines of activity nowdays included in the 'four-fold program' were present at the start.

"The work of the association had attracted the attention of the community when, in 1851, the first international exhibition of industry took place in London. It also attracted the attention of many men of industry and commerce from all parts of the world, who visited that exhibition, and they returned with a purpose of founding similar associations which were started the same year and the following years in Montreal, Boston, New York, Melbourne, Cape Town, Paris, Geneva, etc.

"In January, 1921, the Y. M. C. A. world's alliance reported it numbered one and a half million members in 9,065 associations grouped in 27 national alliances."

ATTENDANCE AT PARK INCREASED BY ADVERTISING

(By The Associated Press.)
Yosemite, Calif., Oct. 11.—News-paper advertising sent Yosemite National park's 1921 attendance up beyond the 90,000 mark this year. A. B. C. Dohrmann, San Francisco, president of the park company, declared recently. The increase over last year was about 22,000, putting Yosemite first in the race for attendance honors among the nation's parks.

"Nothing can take the place of paid advertising in the press," Mr. Dohrmann said today, "and the company will continue to buy as much space as it can afford, consistent with its needs."

"During the last twelve months, the Yosemite National Park company has conducted an effective advertising campaign to make Yosemite a really great national playground and I attribute the splendid increase in travel this year to that fact. Not only in the summer months, but throughout spring, autumn and winter, we have been endeavoring to teach the public that Yosemite is a beautiful every month of the year, offering healthful vacations to suit every taste and purse. The fact that travel is beginning to spread out into August, September and October, including the Indian summer, when all roads and trails are open and the high Sierra country can be reached—shows that the public is heeding the advertising and the congestion which has marked June in previous years will not handicap the park in the future."

"Our winter advertising has served to introduce Californians to the new delights of snow sports—tobogganing, skiing, snowshoeing—in the midst of California's sunshine. It will not be long judging from the success of last winter's travel and reservations for this season, before Yosemite is as popular in November, December and January, as it now is in June and July."

We are looking forward to increasing Yosemite's lead over other parks, as our all-year advertising will be maintained in keeping with our all-year season. News stories will be used to supplement paid advertising, but they cannot take its place."

GELDING FALLS DURING RACE ON KENTUCKY TRACK

Jimmy McKernon Takes a Tumble in the First Heat, But Wins Race; Edna Early Has an Accident.

(By The Associated Press.)
Lexington, Ky., Oct. 11.—Jimmy McKernon, bay gelding, by Jack McKernon, demonstrated at the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' association track today that it is possible for a horse to "fall down and win." The speedy gelding captured the Phoenix hotel stake, feature of a good program, after an accident in the second heat in which Jimmy McKernon and Edna Early went down.

Jimmy McKernon finished fifth in the first heat after a bad break caused him to lose the lead in the stretch, the heat going to Jim B., the "western cyclone." In the second heat Jimmy McKernon and Edna Early looked up in a thrilling drive down the stretch. The gelding fell and Edna Early's foot caught in the sulky wheel. Roy Gratton went on and won the heat, but Jimmy McKernon was given fifth place, the judges deciding that the accident was unavoidable. Edna Early received several slight cuts and was withdrawn.

The last two heats went to Jimmy McKernon in easy fashion. Roy Gratton finished second in the third, and Jim B. getting the place in the final. Ray handled the going on the winning.

Betsy Chandler, in capturing the third heat of the unfinished 2:15 trot, paid the longest price ever hung up on the Lexington track. Only one ticket was sold on the filly and the lucky holder of the ticket drew down $97 for $2. Betsy Chandler, however, lost the last heat to Jim in close finish, and Kilo, which had won a heat Monday, thereby won the race.

The other events on the program were the 2:12 trot, won by Sis Ring in straight heat, to 2:06 race with went to Mrs. Elbert, and the 2:18 pace which Queen Abbe won in straight heats.

DR. R. F. PETTIT AND E. E. BLISS RETURNING WITH DEER HEAD EACH

Two Albuquerque sportsmen will return to the city tomorrow from a successful hunting trip in the Canadian woods. Dr. R. F. Pettit and E. E. Bliss will each bring back a moose head with them.

The two men made the trip to Canada to hunt moose last fall also. Dr. Pettit bagging a fine specimen the head of which he brought back with him. Both were successful this time, Dr. Pettit claiming that his catch this year beats last year's "all hollow." The men hunt through the lake country in a canoe with an Indian guide, who locates the moose by imitating their calls.

MAN MISTAKEN FOR A DEER; SHOT, WOUNDED

Norales, Ariz., Oct. 11.—San Poriente, a miner living in the Patagonia district, was shot and probably fatally wounded today by A. P. Borough of Bisbee, who mistook Poriente for a deer. Physicists at the army hospital at Camp Stephen D. Little, where Poriente was taken after he was wounded, tonight said he probably would die.

Borough and R. B. Verfurth, also of Bisbee, were hunting deer with Poriente when the accident happened. Borough, mistaking Poriente for a deer in the brush, fired, striking his companion in the neck. It took three hours to transport the wounded man on a burro to a point where an automobile could be secured to rush him to a hospital at the army camp here.

WOMAN TRAVELS BY PLANE
El Paso, Texas, Oct. 11.—Miss Mary Hartnett left El Paso at 6 p. m. today for Ardmore, Okla., traveling by airplane. She expects to reach Fort Worth, 600 miles away, at midnight and to reach her destination tomorrow.

THANKFUL HE WAS NOT A WOMAN

The late Lawson Tait, of England, the great woman's doctor, said he never went to bed at night without thanking heaven he was not born a woman. No doctor ever knew better than he what women have to suffer at some times of their lives. It was an American woman, long since passed to her reward, who introduced a combination of roots and herbs called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that has proved wonderfully successful in mitigating suffering and relieving ailments of women. It has brought relief to thousands of women who suffered from female ills.

GONZALES AND CHAVEZ TO BOX MONDAY NIGHT

Entire Card Being Prepared By Dan Padilla Looks Like a Winner; Three Snappy Bouts Promised.

Sailor Gonzales and Benny Chavez are scheduled for a 12-round main event in the boxing card being arranged by Dan Padilla for October 17 at the armory. Both of the boys are well known to Albuquerque fans and have proved popular in other bouts here.

They have been training for the past week at the "Y" gym and will start public training at the armory today at 2 o'clock. Both claim to be of best physical condition and indications are that the bout will be a change from the type which has been handed local fans up until the establishment of the city boxing commission a few weeks ago. The bout will be the first given here since the establishment of the commission, which co-operates with the police department in operating the program. To secure a license for a bout the promoter must qualify before the commission, which is the judge of the merits of the boxers and their ability to deliver a good bout when matched together; has the choice of the referee and sets a figure for which the seats shall be sold. It also has the authority to order a bout stopped. A strict physical examination is conducted the afternoon of the bout in the presence of the commission by any physician chosen by the board.

Kid Anaya and Insurrecto Kid will continue their dispute as a semi-final match. These two have been struggling for supremacy for several years and although some decisions are held against each other, they have been referee verdicts, neither of the boys having taken the count.

As an opener, Padilla has secured Young Herrera and Toby Montoya. These two lads can almost be expected to perform for a couple of three rounds of fast and furious puging and the end will undoubtedly bring a K. O. though at present it is hard to say who will deliver it.

UPPER PECOS IS NOT INCLUDED IN PROHIBITED AREA

The Pecos river is not closed for fishing above the north boundary of the Pecos grant, nor are the upper tributaries closed by the recent game preserve order issued by the state game commission.

Many Albuquerqueans have understood, from the reading of the rule, that the entire Pecos river country was included in the restricted limits.

Fishing is permitted in the Pecos river and its tributaries north from the Pecos town grant. The north line of the grant crosses the stream in the close vicinity to Valley View.

The order was made in an effort by the state department to prevent the monopolizing of the stream by private clubs which might close the stream to public fishing, but enjoy it themselves.

Trout are rising in the Pecos waters and late fishermen are reporting large catches from all the streams in the horseshoe district.

HISTORY OF THE RED MAN SERIES

THE STAMPING OF THE FOOT

BY "INDIAN" MILLER

invitations were sent far and near to the stamping of the foot. Runners carried the word. Indians of many tribes thought, "This stamping of the foot is doubtless a great feast and dance; we will go." "Who invites us?" they would ask; and the runners would say, "A man without a name."

The day for the great feast came; and many Indians had gathered at the place. The hour to begin had arrived. No preparations had been made. Men began to grow angry when it appeared to them that they had been deceived; and hungry children and dogs began to whine.

"Where is this nameless one," shouted a chief; "We want to see him." Then the nameless one came forward; and the Indians were all astounded to see that he was barefooted and nearly naked. He bore all signs of poverty. Enraged at this evidence, the chief yelled at him, "Beggard, you have made fools of us! Where is the feast?" "I invited you to the stamping of the foot," answered the nameless.

"What do we care for the stamping of the foot?" shouted the angry chief; "You cannot trifle with us." "I will give you a feast then," answered the nameless one.

"Where are the animals to supply the meat?" the chief asked.

"I will stamp my foot," answered the nameless one. then the Indians all thought he was crazy. They saw him cross his arms, lift his knee, and stamp on the ground. In a moment many deer came among the people, perfectly gentle.

The nameless one was angered; and he shouted to the deer, "Go back, I want wild hogs!" The deer went away. Then the nameless one stamped his foot again; and directly many wild hogs came.

The nameless one looked at the wild hogs and was angered again, for they were not fat enough. "Go!" he said to them; "I want buffalo."

He stamped his foot again, and directly the buffalo came. Then he told the people to kill the buffalo and have a great feast, and they did.

That was the "stamping of the foot." When the Indians looked for the nameless one he was gone.

If the nameless one had been an inspector at the Savage Tire factory he could hardly have done better. He would say, "I don't want this; it is not good enough." Then he would stamp his foot. "This is not good enough either," he would say, and stamp his foot again.

Like the nameless one, The Spickels "Savage" Tire Company is never satisfied—they strive ever to improve. Now comes their latest achievement—the new Savage Cord. You may be sure it is a mighty tire for they have built it to excel all others.

SEVENTEEN MEN ON U SQUAD FOR COLORADO GAME

Team Which Leaves Tomorrow Night Will Have Heavy Line and Fast Backfield; First Game Saturday

At 8 o'clock tomorrow evening the U. N. M. football team will leave for Colorado Springs, where they will meet Colorado college Saturday afternoon.

The list of men who are to go on the trip was given out yesterday by Coach Roy M. Johnson and includes seventeen names. The men will be Willey, Calkins, W. Hernandez, Jones, Dow, J. Popejoy, R. Hernandez, T. Popejoy, C. Pierce, M. Ferguson, Greenleaf, Mapes, Moore, Bernhardt, White, Gruter and Angle.

In addition to the above mentioned players Coach Johnson, Alumnus Treasurer Bruno Dickman and Manager John Fernstrom will accompany the team.

Varsity fans consider the team this year the best that has been turned out at U. N. M. for many years, and are expecting it to make a strong showing against the Colorado team, which is noted for its ability to furnish a strong fight to all comers.

The team will go to Colorado with a line weighing something over 165 pounds, and a backfield proportionally heavy. The line will be heavier, besides containing more experienced men, than any team turned out here for the past six years.

The lack of a punter, which was quite apparent at the opening of the season, has been supplied by the development of Jones under Coach Johnson's steady coaching. In addition to first class ability with his toe, Jones places his forward passes beautifully at any distance and his speed as a broken-field runner will probably be good for a touchdown if he can get past the line of scrimmage.

The team this year has received a great deal of coaching on offensive play, and will probably carry the game to the opponents from the first whistle.

The team will arrive in Colorado Springs Friday afternoon and will probably be given only a light workout Saturday morning before the contest.

The university students are to be present in a body at the station tomorrow night to send the team away with the inspiration of cheers and yells.

TOURISTS BOOST FLAGSTAFF AND DUKE CITY CAMP

Auto Camp Ground Problem Has Been Effectively Solved at Flagstaff By a Forest Service "Use."

The Albuquerque Out-Door hotel is proving popular with auto tourists and is being praised from one end of the country to the other, but when good roads are established through the state, it may prove too small to accommodate the added number of tourists and the city will again be confronted with the city public auto camp ground problem, which has proved a source of trouble to the officials of many cities, including Albuquerque before the establishment of the private enterprise north of the city.

Flagstaff has met the problem in a most satisfactory manner, according to J. D. Jones, assistant district forester, who returned from that section of the forest district a few days ago.

Situated on the Coconino national forest land adjoining the city of Flagstaff, under a special "use" by the city, a Flagstaff municipal auto camp grounds have been provided. The camp contains about five acres of well timbered land, covered by loose malpais rock. The area has been enclosed by the city and camps have been arranged with boundaries walls of stone raked from the grounds. Each section is large enough for a car, tent, cook place and for the campers.

Water has been piped to the camp from the city and faucets are located at convenient places. Sanitation has also been taken care of and the entire grounds are under the control of a keeper, whose word is law and who imposes fines or makes the tourist come back and comply with the rules in case any have been violated. When fines are imposed, the money goes into the camp fund for further improvements. A charge of 25 cents a day or $1 a week is made for the use of the site. This also goes into the improvement fund.

Mr. Jones stated yesterday that the Duke City Out-Door hotel and the Flagstaff camp are places being constantly boosted in the "grapevine" telegraph information which tourists pick up throughout the west.

CITIZENSHIP COURSE PROVIDED FOR WOMEN

(By The Associated Press.) New Haven, Conn., Oct. 11.—Women voters of Connecticut will have a chance to go to school this month for a week's intensive course in citizenship. The lessons will be given in Yale university class room and Yale professors and instructors will give the courses. This will be the first school of the kind in this state. It will open October 24, and if deemed successful similar weeks of schooling will be held from time to time. The Connecticut League of Women Voters, Miss Mabel C. Washburn, president, sponsors the innovation. One day will be given over to international relations, economic, social and political, and limitation of armaments; another to the fundamentals of American history; the principles and service of political parties; another to a study of Connecticut legislative processes, party conventions and caucuses; another to city and town problems; Those who will lead the classes include professors who are among the best known of the Yale faculties as well as among the educators of the country. Washington, Oct. 11.—Jess S. Cottrell of Tennessee was nominated today by President Harding to be minister to Bolivia. Cottrell is a newspaper man at present serving as a Washington correspondent. He is a former member of the Tennessee legislature and served in the army during the world war with the rank of captain.

It took YEARS and YEARS to develop CAMEL QUALITY

We worked on Camels for years before we put them on the market. Years of testing—blending—experimenting with the world's choicest tobaccos.

And now, EVERY DAY, all our skill, manufacturing experience and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos are concentrated on making Camel the best cigarette that can be produced.

There's nothing else like Camel QUALITY. And there's nothing else like Camels wonderful smoothness, fine tobacco flavor and FREEDOM FROM CIGARETTE AFTERTASTE.

That's why Camel popularity is growing faster than ever.

A better cigarette cannot be made.

We put the utmost quality into THIS ONE BRAND.

BEAUTY CHATS

By Edna Kent Forbes.

BEAUTIFYING BATHS.

Frequently I find inquiries from readers about various sorts of beautifying baths which can be managed on a small income and without a great deal of trouble. So here are a few hints:

If you have a tendency toward rheumatism, if you feel a cold coming on, or if you like the luxury of a Turkish bath—which is marvelous for health and beauty too—try a steam bath in your own bath room. If you have one of the regular cabinets, all right. If not you can manage a substitute without much trouble.

Have your bath room warm. If and rid the system of much waste matter.

Of course you must follow this at once with a cool or cold bath, either a shower or a sponge off in a tub or basin. Then rub with alcohol to be sure the pores are closed, and be careful of draughts for a few hours.

Tall One: Wear your skirts as full as possible. To conform with the fashions and adopt all lines in the trimmings that will cut your height. As you mature your height will not be noticed as you will fill out and most likely be a very fine looking woman.

Buddy: The walnut juice is made by steeping walnut hulls in boiling water, until all the coloring has been extracted. Apply to these light streaks of hair by using a sable brush, as the decoction will stain the fingers or any other part of the skin that it touches.

Patient Gerry: All of these scars now can be obliterated. Make inquiries about this at any hospital and you will be given the names of doctors who have been doing this work successfully. A fire scar is nothing compared with some of the disfigurements that have been successfully treated since the war.

Blondy: The peroxide must have been stale if it failed to bleach your hair, as it deteriorates very quickly. There is nothing that will bleach it lighter than this preparation.

BUSINESS WOMEN WILL AID THE DAY NURSERY

Upon the plea of Miss Ethel Hickey that the business and professional women's club lend their support to the Albuquerque Day Nursery, which is doing so much for working women who could not leave their young children alone, it was voted at the dinner this week to contribute to the philanthropy. A committee composed of Dr. Margaret Cartwright, Mrs. Rose Hudson and Mrs. Ella M. LaBar was appointed to report on the day nursery at the next meeting.

The vocational talk on Monday night was given by Miss Catherine Saxauer, head of the federal vocational training school, in the Korber building. Miss Saxauer told of the work which the government is doing to equip the disabled soldier to support himself. She described the class work at the training center and told the stories of some of the boys who are enrolled there.

Vocal music was furnished by Dana Todd and Miss Irene Westerhausen, accompanist of the high school. Mr. Todd played the "Berceuse" from Jocelyn and "Peggy O'Sullivan." The attendance prize, a well presented by Mrs. L. H. Chamberlain of the Hat Shop, was won by Miss Betty Fitzhugh.

Social Calendar

PAULINE STARK TO PLAY ORPHAN PART

Pauline Stark.

Pauline Stark's latest effort is ready for release. It is "The Forgotten Woman," from the story by Evelyn Campbell. Park 3. Frame directed the picture from the scenario by Catherine Carr. The cast includes J. Frank Glendon, Alan Forrest, Laura Winston, Roy Coulson and S. M. Wells. Miss Stark plays the role of Dixie La Rose, a waif.

Close-ups. Beale Love has been going to every possible school lately. Not that she is flunking in any of them, but when she gets through, she'll be "some" girl—if she expects to be as accomplished as the schools will make her. Painting, sculpturing, language have been listed. Now it is said that she has developed considerable technique as a toe dancer—under the guidance of Theodore Kosloff. The previous report on Miss Love was that she was writing "good night" stories for children.

Niles Welch's work opposite Elaine Hammerstein in "Remorseless Love" and "The Way of a Maid" has earned him a long-term contract with Selznick. Welch will soon start work in the leading role opposite the fair Elaine in a new production, "Why Announce Your Marriage?"

Darrell Foss announced casually recently that when he finished his work with Tom Moore in "From the Ground Up" he was going north to get married. But in answer to the question "who is she?" he answered, "I won't tell until after the ceremony and then she'll be Mrs. Foss."

ROLL STOCKINGS TAME? THEN ADD DAINTY FRILLS

Miss Marion Wilkins with her lace-frill, rolled stockings.

Roll stockings became too ordinary for Miss Marion Wilkins, just back from a visit to England and France, so she has added a different touch to the stockings by topping the rolls with lace ruffles. Whether or not Miss Wilkins' innovation will be copied widely before spring remains to be seen.

TRY THIS FOR INDIGESTION. Foley Cathartic Tablets are just the thing for constipation. Their action is wholesome and thoroughly cleansing, without griping, nausea or inconvenience. They banish headache, biliousness, bloating, gas, bad breath, coated tongue and other symptoms of disordered digestion. Mrs. H. J. Marchand, 28 Lawrence St., Salem, Mass., writes: "I used Foley Cathartic Tablets for constipation with good results. I keep them in the house." Sold everywhere.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

By LAURA A. KIRKMAN.

GUEST SUPPERS FROM LEFT-OVERS.

The housekeeper-hostess need feel no apology in placing food left-overs before a guest if they be prepared in some such dainty way as in the following supper menus:

Fish Cutlets

Pickled Onions Vegetable Salad Tea

Lemon Tarts

Fish Cutlets: Chop fine the remains of cold fish, seasoning to suit taste with salt and pepper; add just enough cream sauce to moisten slightly. (The mixture should be quite thick.) Now beat it in the upper part of a double boiler, after measuring. When it is hot add 1 egg-yolk for every cup and a half of the fish. Let cook only a few minutes after adding the egg-yolks. Turn out onto a platter to cool mixed with 2 table-spoons of chopped parsley. When quite cold, form into small cutlets, roll them in bread crumbs, dip them in egg, then roll them in bread crumbs again. Cook in deep, hot fat by means of a frying basket. When a rich brown, drain on crumpled brown paper a moment and serve with a slice of lemon.

Chicken Mould in Aspic: Break 2 cups of cold, left-over chicken into small pieces (or use the contents of 1 can of boned chicken) and set it aside. Prepare a jelly from 1 cup of vegetable stock strained (canned vegetable soup may be used if desired), 1 cup of syrup drained from a jar of sweet pickles, a dash of salt, pepper and celery salt, and 1 rounding table-spoon of granulated gelatine softened in 1-4 cup of cold water; heat this mixture until the gelatine is dissolved, set it aside till it begins to stiffen (you can tell when this is reached by the way it clings to the edge of the bowl when the bowl is tipped slightly), then stir in the chicken, 1 sliced hard-boiled egg, a few bits of parsley and 1-2 cup of sliced, drained sweet pickles. Chill on ice in a square mould which has been rinsed out with cold water before the gelatine mixture is put into it.

Brasillian Stuffed Peppers: Rice-Cheese Ramekins Coffee Cornbread

Apple Tarts

Brasillian Stuffed Peppers: Split 4 large green peppers down one side, remove seeds and stem, and simmer in boiling water for 1 hour. Then place flat in a meat pan and heap on the two spread halves a mixture made of 1 cup of cold, left-over, cooked meat put through the food chopper with 8 stuffed olives and 2 thick slices of bread, season to taste with salt and pepper and moistened slightly with hot water. Heap this stuffing high on each flat-pepper and place a piece of raw bacon over each (this not only gives a delicious flavor, but helps to hold the stuffing on the peppers—and, incidentally, to give an appetizing appearance to the dish when served). Pour a little hot water in the pan. Bake in a moderate oven for 45 minutes, then slip the pan under a top-oven flame or grill so that the bacon will brown crisply. Serve very hot.

WOMAN HEADS MUSIC BUREAU IN NEW YORK

Among the interesting women of New York City who hold the reins of big organizations in their hands the name of Mrs. A. K. Bendix, founder and head of the Bendix music bureau, looms prominently in the first group.

Some five years ago, alone and unassisted, Mrs. Bendix conceived the idea of establishing a music bureau with a view to the handling only high class artists. Beginning with scarcely half a dozen singers she now has under contract more than 250 artists, including a number of dancers, who delight motion picture artists and vaudeville houses through the United States.

Mrs. Bendix has a peculiar "gift" for judging singers. She never goes wrong on their classification, and when she pronounces them good, managers can bank on her word. Most of the soloists heard in the Vivoli, Rialto, Capitol and Criterion theaters of New York owe their appearances in these houses to Mrs. Bendix, and she controls the musical bookings of nearly every important film theater from coast to coast.

"And if half the time I do not have written contracts with my artists," she said the other day in her office in the Columbia theater building, "I consider an oral agreement just as binding and I have rarely been disappointed in my people."

And perhaps in these words is found the keynote of her success—faith in the other fellow.

EXPERTS WORKING OUT A NEW TRAFFIC ROUTE

Lubeck, Germany, Oct. 11.—Plans for a new international traffic route, which its promoters claim is destined to become one of the world's great highways, are being worked out in detail by a commission sitting here composed of Danish, German and Swedish experts.

The proposal is to establish a fast route between Abo, Finland, and the principal western European capitals by constructing a railway bridge connecting the island of Rodoy on the Baltic sea with the German mainland, enabling trains from Hamburg to run to the extreme end of the island, whence a ferry would transport them bodily to the new Danish port of Rodoy on Laaland. From that point a new direct railway would connect with Copenhagen.

It is claimed that the journey from London or Paris to Stockholm would thus be shortened by nine hours. The cost of the project is variously estimated at between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000.

AMERICAN SEAMAN IS KILLED AT TAMPICO

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Oct. 11.—Henry Fehmann, an American member of the crew of the shipping board steamer Salem County, was stabbed and killed last Saturday night by an unidentified Mexican at Tampico. In advising the state department of the occurrence, the American consul at Tampico reported he had telegraphed Mexico City asking the Mexican government to arrest and prosecute the murderer.

The Mohammedans held their Sabbath on Friday.

It's the Policy

We take no credit to ourselves, but attribute what success we may have had to the PACIFIC MUTUAL FIVE WAY POLICY, the most protection offered in one contract by any life insurance company.

THE FOLLOWING STORY ILLUSTRATES THE DILIGENCE WITH WHICH THE MEMBERS OF THE SOUTHWEST AGENCY PROTECT THE INTERESTS OF THEIR POLICYHOLDERS FOR ALL TIME. Read it:

On February 6, 1918, John J. Hyatt, of Deming, New Mexico, took out a $5,000 policy with a member of the Southwest Agency of the Pacific Mutual. After paying four premiums, he dropped his policy in May, 1917.

Lightning killed him July 13, 1921. Because he had paid no premiums for four years, his wife considered his policy of no value and did not present claim against the Company. An agent of the Southwest Agency, reading of his death in the paper, looked up the records of his policy, found that under a very liberal provision it was still in force.

He made the trip to Deming and delivered to the widow a check for $5,175.00.

Was she grateful for such service? Ask her.

Plus Service

No contract, however liberal, can be measured by its provisions alone. It's the service that counts. "SERVICE" goes with a "Five Way" policy in the Pacific Mutual.

STANDING UP FOR OURSELVES.

Theodore Roosevelt once said that the great trouble with the American people was their refusal to stand up for themselves. He meant, of course, that the public persist in allowing itself to be imposed upon.

It is characteristic of our people to bear imposition rather than to stir up a row. This psychology is seized upon by some politicians to indulge practices which are profitable to themselves, but are against the public interest. But these men almost invariably over-play their hand and, in the end, meet with repudiation, if not disgrace. Witness the overthrow of the Spooner-railroad crowd in Wisconsin; the Northwestern-Burlington crowd in Iowa; the Butler crowd in Missouri and the Southern Pacific crowd in California. They over-rode the people until they brought rebellion against themselves, as soon as a competent leader of the people was developed.

Politicians should take note of the fact that these conflicts developed, as national characters.
La Follette, Cummins, Folk and Hiram Johnson.
Personal political success was proven by these men to be compatible with the public welfare.

Little politicians intrigue and graft. They are not large-caliber enough to win their battle any other way. But big men fight for the people's rights and are correspondingly rewarded by the public favor.

For years New Mexico suffered from want of vision and from petty selfishness among her public men. We defy any one to point out to the people a single instance of a disinterested public servant
among the so-called "successful" politicians of New Mexico. These are not here.

The patience of a long-suffering public is about exhausted. The people have shown a disposition to give some of their politicians an opportunity to redeem their records and enter upon a career of service. If this is done, the past will be forgotten.
If it is not done, a political upheaval is in sight.
Beware the fury of a patient people!

JUDGE LINDSEY AGAIN.

Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of the Denver juvenile court, has stirred up another row. Lindsey has a fashion of stirring up a fuss on occasion. Whether he is right in each instance is not material. He is honest and he makes the public think. The latter end in the one he seeks, as we analyze this remarkable man.

A while ago he was fined for contempt of court for refusing to tell the court a story which a boy-defendant had confided in him. Perhaps the court was right. Lindsey certainly was. If the court was right in his construction of the law, the law needs reconstruction. If communications to a physician or a priest are to be privileged, then those to a juvenile officer who seeks a boy's confidence in order to help him be a man, should be included in the list. For Lindsey to have "welched" on the boy would have destroyed the confidence of every boy whom he is seeking to help.

Now Lindsey has refused to punish minor and helpless offenders against the liquor laws because the booze cellars of the rich and powerful are undisturbed by officers of the law. We suspect that the bombshell of Lindsey caused a rapid and clandestine shifting of stocks of fine wines and whiskeys
among Denver's elite.

Judge Lindsey is right in principle. Perhaps the specific juvenile offenders needed punishment. His escape may have been unwise, but the greater principle of equal rights before the law needed re-emphasis in Denver, as it needs occasional re-emphasis everywhere. The drift is always toward the escape of the influential who might retaliate and the easy punishment of the helpless.

These discriminations are what bring the laws into contempt. Our solicitude should be to help the helpless. The powerful are over-able to care for themselves.

Judge Lindsey has done a public service. Now listen to the claqueurs call him a disturber.

NEWS FROM EUROPE.

A report from the Balkans represents the Greek government as ready to give up its war on the Turks. King Constantine is expected to ask foreign governments to act as mediators to bring about peace, according to the dispatches.

How much truth there is in the report will be disclosed by events of the near future. But one thing is certain: If the Greeks have to admit failure of this attempt to recover the territory which they lost to the Turks centuries ago, any peace made now will be but a truce. At a more favorable time the Greeks will try again.

The new map of Europe arbitrarily drawn by the Paris conference will not remain unaltered for very long. Millions of people are dissatisfied with their assignment to live under sovereignties which they hate while other millions are outraged by the separation of their racial kin from political association with themselves.

THE TRANSPORTATION TANGLE.

One of the greatest needs of this country is a transportation genius. Every consideration of present difficulties leads to the seemingly inextricable maze of freight gluts and freight rates.

And yet why should not railroad business be the best business in the United States? The railroads that are, were built in that great era of construction a generation ago. They made money.
They were built for that purpose. The people invested in them freely. They carried the commerce of the country at costs remarkably low. According to normal laws of business, it would be expected that as the volume of commerce increased the business of the railroads would benefit, since no more railroads are built, and competition, therefore, does not decrease profits. That is, the railroads ought to have grown up with the country.
The village store enlarges and becomes the city emporium as the population of the village increases and the village becomes a city.

But the railroads have not so taken advantage of their opportunities. They have seen the villages which they connect grow into great centers of population; they have seen the lands which they traverse settled up and brought to perfection of cultivation and vastly increased production; they have seen new industries initiated and built to gigantic proportions. Great manufacturing enterprises, like the automobile industry, have come into existence and increased freight carriage by millions of tons.

In addition, railroad rates have been arbitrarily increased by order of the interstate commerce commission beyond the wildest dreams of the original railroad builders. Why should not the railroads roll in wealth?

But they have degenerated to the status of pitiable beggars. Their vim and fire is gone. They seem to have lost all genius and all inspiration.
Their stocks are in no demand, and even their bonds seem to be distrusted. Meanwhile they are not "on the job." They are not fulfilling their purpose.

And yet, notwithstanding the seriousness of the problem and the actual menace to every interest because of it, no intelligent solution is offered from any source. The mutual recriminations between railway management and railway labor, together with the constant pleading for government aid and support, constitute for the public one of the most perplexing situations ever presented. Only here and there with an individual railroad is there any sign of real competency of management.

THE SOUTHWESTERN CATHOLIC.

The first issue of The Southwestern Catholic, published at Santa Fe, but representing the Catholics of the Southwest, and officially representative of the Catholic church, is on our table. It is a most extraordinary piece of newspaper enterprise.
In physical appearance of size and shape it much resembles the nationally known women's magazines.
The front page is a picture in colors of the new building of the publishing company's. As an insert is a magnificent picture of the Most Reverend Albert T. Daeger, Archbishop of Santa Fe.

Its nearly 150 pages contain, in picture and description, the story of the history and development of New Mexico and Arizona, with intermingled articles of interest to those of the Catholic faith.
Those who have not been fortunate enough to receive a copy should procure one.

This company, backed by the brains of many of the best people of two states, should be a phenomenal success. It has a fully equipped job and book-binding plant as well as a complete newspaper plant.

The Journal wishes The Southwestern Catholic a long, prosperous and useful life. It will supply a well defined need in the intermountain country.
More power to its uplifting arm.

VERSE OF TODAY

GAMES OF GLORY.

In days of yore a maiden's dreams
Were of a lover bold
Who courted her with ardent vows
And gifts of gems and gold.
And ere her soft moonlight night
A young Lochinvar:
But now her sole ambition is
To be a tennis star.

Once on a time a youth desired
To be a buccaner,
Or Indian scout immune alike
To tomahawks and fear,
Or soldier with a clanking sword;
But lo! such stuff is off,
His dearest wish is to become
A champion at golf.

EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

A GREAT ADMINISTRATOR.

(From the New York Times)
It is a wonderful career that in one sense is interrupted and in another sense continued by the retirement from active service of Major General Leonard Wood. It was in 1886 that a young man from the Granite state, having served his apprenticeship on Cape Cod and at the Harvard Medical school, was appointed an assistant surgeon in the United States army. His subsequent military career, known to every American, it would be superfluous to recite. The prejudice among West Point men against the civilian appointee; the gradual and deserved rise of Assistant Surgeon Wood; the eminent fitness which he displayed for his profession; his final victory over all his enemies, including those whom naturally he made by his close friendship with Theodore Roosevelt, need not be here recounted.

What Leonard Wood did for preparedness, his services to American patriotism and American nationality, are in every mind; but it is as a great administrator that he has made an unforgettable mark on his time. Few living men have exerted actively so wide a range of productive capacity.
Leonard Wood has done work for the United States and humanity in a dozen countries. What he did in Cuba is unexcelled by the greatest governors that Great Britain, master of so many dependencies, has produced. Into Cuba he brought sanitation, good roads, sound finances. He built solidly the foundations of an enduring, prosperous state. As governor of the Moros he showed the same great qualities.
As governor general of the Philippines he will continue to show them. The compliments that Mr.
Harding and Secretary Weeks pay him in congratulating him on his accession to his new post are more than deserved.

No man in our country has more capacity to plan vital, constructive policies or to direct the execution of them fruitfully. In the performance of his duties as an American patriot, General Wood has had the misfortune to attract a number of personal and political enemies. It is right to say that whatever may have been the unfortunate result of his adventure into politics, his countrymen acknowledge his undoubted labors for the United States, at home and abroad. In his new post he will win new honors, and his countrymen are proud of him.

RIPPLING RHYMES

By WALT MASON.

THE POORHOUSE WAY.

The price of things is higher than it should rightly be, and oft we hear the buyer exclaiming,
"Hilfly chee!" They say that hides are cheaper—so cheap the growers lose; but oh, the weary woe who buys a pair of shoes! We can not scrape together the coin to buy a pair of shoes of honest leather, such as we used to wear; and so in shoes of paper, for which we roundly pay, all directly we caper along the poorhouse way. Oh why are things of leather still priced to break the heart, when hide of steer and wether are cheap in every mart? And cotton has been selling so ruinously low we heard the growers yelling and wailing in their rage. But goods composed of cotton, the things we had to buy, as you have not forgotten, were always heavily high.

Conditions are not cheering, to one who's spent his wad; the hogs are profligate, the swine are still abroad. Reduced are pins and buckles, and carpet tacks and nails, but when I'd buy brass knuckles the war price still prevails. Silk shirts, of blinding splendors, are lower than of yore, but when I'd buy suspenders they're dearer than before. Oh, many things seem rotten, and few seem good and gay, as, in my shoes of cotton, I tread the poorhouse way.

Bedtime Stories
For Little Ones

BILLIE'S PIE.

Once upon a time as Uncle Wiggly was hopping through the woods, not far from his hollow stump bunkalo, rustling the dried leaves under his wad, the hungry rabbit gentleman heard the voices of two squirrel boys talking.

"They must be Johnnie and Billie Bushytail," thought the rabbit uncle to himself. "Perhaps they are going off after nuts so Billie can make a cake as Johnnie did.
I'll find out."

Uncle Wiggly hopped so softly through the woods that he passed unheard. Thus he was able to get quite close to the squirrel boys and hear what they were saying without letting them know
it. Though, of course, Uncle Wiggly did not intend to listen for

"Well, I can't exactly YOUR pie," Billie boy" laughed Uncle Wiggly, as he stepped out from behind the pantry door. "You might call it MINE!" he went on.
"I'll pass some to the animal ladies." So he passed the pie.
The animal ladies took big bites,
and one and all said:
"How fine that pie!"

"Yes—er—it was—er very kind!" stammered Billie, and Mr.
Longears just twinkled his pink nose as he looked out the window to where he had thrown Billie's April Fool pie.

So everything came out all right.
You see, and if the clothes pin doesn't pinch, the tail can't wag, and make it jump off the top, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and the feather.

"I know how we can have lots of fun!"

what was not intended for him to hear. He just couldn't help hearing.

"I know how we can have a lot of fun, and play a trick," chuckled Billie.

"How?" asked Johnnie. "You know a lot of tricks, don't you?"

"Well," went on Billie, "you know a lot of tricks, don't you?"

"Mrs. Littletail, the rabbit; Mrs.
Twisttail, the pig; Aunt Lettie,
the goat, and packs of others."

"Yes, I know company is coming," said Johnnie. "Mother is going to pass around some of the nut cake I made—the kind from which I gave Uncle Wiggly a slice after we fooled the Alligator on the cake I made first—the one I put prickly chestnut burrs in."

"Yes, so I heard," laughed Billie. "And besides passing some of your cake, mother is going to pass some of my pie."

"Your pie?" chuckled Johnnie,
while Uncle Wiggly, scrouched down under the bushes, couldn't help hearing. "Why, you haven't baked any pie!"

"I know I haven't, but I'm going to!" laughed Billie. "If you can make a cake I can make a pie, and I'm going to make a pie, and I'm going to make a pie, and I'm going to make a pie, and I'm going to make a pie, and I'm go-

SHERMAN RESIGNS AS MANAGER OF BARNETT AMUSEMENT COMPANY

Yesterday the news was put in circulation that H. E. Sherman had resigned as manager of the Barnett Amusement company, and when approached by a Journal representative, Mr. Barnett confirmed the report, remarking that it was with sincere regret that after ten years service as the manager of the Barnett Amusement company, Mr. Sherman had tendered his resignation.

Mr. Barnett announced the resignation of Mr. Sherman, stating that he was resigning as manager of the Barnett Amusement company, stationing at the "B" left a vacancy at the Lyric, which was filled yesterday by Mr. Barnett appointing Leo Moran to the position.

Mr. Moran comes to the Lyric highly recommended as a man thoroughly acquainted with the motion picture business having for a long time filled an important position at the "Newman House," the best and most popular picture concern of Kansas City, Mo., and the Journal takes pleasure in thus introducing him to the patrons of the Lyric theater.

Mr. Sherman has not decided what he intends doing in the future. He has performed faithful service to the Barnett Amusement company for the past ten years, besides being in the employ of Mr. Barnett for seven years before taking the management of the amusement company, and says he needs a rest, which he will take, although Mr. Barnett insisted on him taking a long vacation without resigning. Mr. Sherman severs his connection with the Barnett Amusement company with regrets.

—says it is like parting with an old pal, and wishes Mr. Barnett and his local theaters the best of good luck.

POLICE ARREST MAN WANTED BY SILVER CITY AUTHORITIES

Albert Neidhart, arrested yesterday on suspicion when he attempted to sell a Ford automobile, is now being held on a charge of purchasing the car from a man at Central, N. M., with a worthless check amounting to $300. Neidhart has been arrested here before as a vagrant. He was formerly a student at the vocational training center.

Police became suspicious when he arrived here with a car and when they learned he was trying to sell it, arrested him and started an investigation. Sheriff John Casey, of Silver City, telephoned the police department yesterday to hold Neidhart until a man from his office could arrive to take charge of him. If the car proves to be the one Silver City officials believe it is, it will be turned over to the owner and Neidhart will be given a preliminary hearing on the worthless check charge.

C. OF C. STARTS PLANS FOR THE TEACHERS' MEET

Eight Committees Are Named By Directors to Complete Arrangements for Entertaining Visitors.

Committees to have charge of the various phases of the New Mexico teachers' convention to be held here Thanksgiving week were named at a meeting of the chamber of commerce directors yesterday. The conference promises to be the largest ever held in the state and the chamber, which is in charge of arrangements, intends making all plans for the entertainment long enough before the opening day to assure the teachers suitable rooming accommodations and a good time when not engaged at meetings of the convention.

A special rooming bureau will be established and every available room in the city will be located. When the hotel accommodations are exhausted, reservations will be made through the chamber and the teachers will be met at the train by automobile and taken to their rooms at once. This system has been used before and has worked with great success.

Exactly what the entertainment program will consist of is still undecided by the chamber program committee, but the annual chamber of commerce ball will be one of the features of the week. Meetings will be held at the high school building and the armory. The committees which will have charge of the arrangements are as follows:

Directing Committee—Max Nordhaus, chairman; Chas. S. White, G. E. Chase, C. E. McLaughlin, Miss Irene Burke, Mrs. J. G. Gould, Mr. John Milne, Col. D. K. B. Sellers, Mrs. E. J. Strong, Reuben Perry, C. G. Ackerman, D. S. Rosenwald.

MOORE FUNERAL SERVICE TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Scottish Rite Masons Will Give Ceremony at Midnight; Body Will Lie in State This Afternoon.

Midnight services for Harvey Moore will be held tonight at the Masonic temple by the Scottish Rite Masons. Funeral services will take place Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Strong Brothers' chapel, Rev. H. S. Davidson of the Congregational church officiating. The body will lie in state at Strong Brothers' parlors this afternoon.

Following the service at the chapel, Temple lodge, A. F. and A. M., will take charge of the ceremonies, their special service being given at the grave.

Mr. Moore was born in Rockville, Ind., and was 45 years of age at the time of his death. He came to Albuquerque in 1902 as claim adjuster and chief clerk to the Santa Fe railway agent here. He was later transferred to Clovis as agent and later to Vaughn. He then went to the coast lines, where he was agent at Flagstaff, Ash Fork and Seligman. He returned here in 1918 and became connected with the Springer Transfer company.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. J. A. Moore, a sister, Mrs. J. A. Johnston and adopted daughter, Martha, all of Newton, who were here at the time of his death; Mrs. W. A. Sterba, a sister Joseph Moore, a brother, also of Newton; a sister, Mrs. M. C. Bartlebaugh of Walton, Kans., and a brother, C. A. Moore, general agent for the Santa Fe railway at Des Moines.

REV. W. S. VANDERPOOL IS TRANSFERRING TO BIG EL PASO CHURCH

The Rev. H. S. Vanderpool, for the past year pastor of the Central Avenue Methodist church, has been transferred by the state conference to the Asbury church, El Paso. The new charge carries with it a larger congregation and a greater responsibility than that of Albuquerque. Mr. Vanderpool has been in the state only a year, coming here from Winchester, Ky.

Mr. Vanderpool will be succeeded here by the Rev. C. C. Higbee who is transferred from the Carisbrooke church. Mr. Higbee has been in New Mexico only a year, entering the field from his former home in Missouri. He will not arrive in Albuquerque until next week.

Mr. Vanderpool will leave Friday night for El Paso to conduct Sunday services in his new church. He will return to Albuquerque for his family and will leave here by automobile on Wednesday. Mr. Vanderpool has resigned as president of the Albuquerque ministerial alliance. He will be succeeded by the Rev. H. S. Davidson.
