WORLD SERIES GOES TO GIANTS BY TWO WIN OVER YANKS THURSDAY

AMERICAN LEAGUE CHAMPIONS DIE HARD AS HOYT IS BEATEN IN MOUND BATTLE WITH NEHR

Final Game Leaves Series Standing Five for McGraw's Men Against Three for Huggins' Crew; Is Second World Title for Giant's Leader, Though Leading League Five Times

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Oct. 13.—The Associated Press.—World's champions, 1921—the New York National League baseball club, today won the eighth game of the world's series at the Polo grounds, the American league champions died fighting hard in a classic twirling duel between their pitching ace, Walter Hoyt, and Art Nehf, the Giants' star left hander. However, they lacked the necessary punch, the National League team taking the game by 1 to 0 and the series, five games to three.

The Giants' victory gives Manager John J. McGraw his second world's championship team. The New York Nationals, seven time pennant winners under McGraw, captured the world's title against the Athletics of the American league in 1905, but although winning the batting five times since they have been baffled every time until this year, twice bowing to the Athletics, once to the Red Sox and once to the White Sox.

This year, with a National League entrant that had shown its high class by coming from behind late and beating the Pittsburgh Pirates to the flag, the world's series told a different story. Off to a poor start through loss of the first two games, the Giants gamely came back, speedily evened up the series, and then, with but a slight let up while getting their second wind, rushed into the stretch with a rush and snatched through with three straight victories to their final triumph. In every victory, except today's, they came from behind. Thus, one of the best and most hotly contested series in the history of the sport was won cleanly, and, in the final analysis, decisively, by a club whose game-ness and all-around ability will be generally conceded.

As for the underlying reason for the success of the McGraw men, experts differ, but there seems little cause to doubt that the most widely propounded opinion will be that it was because of a preponderance of high-class pitching. The series showed but two of Manager Miller Huggins' twirlers capable of pitching winning ball—Mays and Hoyt—while the Giants put forward a trio of masters in Douglas, Barnas and Out-hit by the Giants in nearly every game and by many points in the series, the Yankees none the less made a hard fight by their smartness in manufacturing runs.

NEARLY MILLION DOLLARS IN GATE RECEIPTS IS RECORD OF 1921 WORLD BASEBALL BATTLE

Over Quarter of Million People Pass Through Turnstile at Polo Grounds; Each Giant Gets $5,265; Uncle Sam Gets Good Sum as His Share From Series.

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Oct. 13.—The 1921 world series ends today, set new financial and attendance records. Total receipts for the eight games were $900,233, contributed by 259,976 spectators.

This was $177,519 more than the best previous gate collected in the 1919 series between Cincinnati and Chicago, when the total was $722,414 for the eight games of that year. The attendance in the series just closed was also 15,075 greater than the eight games of the Giants-Boston American play in 1912, when the total count registered 251,901, which has stood as a record for nine years.

As a result of the enormous gate receipts all those who participate in the sharing of the funds will receive more than any of their predecessors in similar positions. The Giants, as winners, collect 50 per cent of 75 per cent of the players' share of the receipts for the first five games, amounting to $131,455, which divided among twenty-five eligible men gives approximately $5,265 to each. Under the plan of distributing 25 per cent among club players finished second and third in both major leagues, the Cleveland Americans and the Pittsburgh Nationals will divide $45,738.34 equally, while the two St. Louis teams, as third place club, share $23,232.22.

The magnates also came in for a record division of the money. The advisory board, which succeeded the national commission, will take as its 15 per cent share $135,634.35. The club owners' share will amount to $472,675.52. This latter sum exceeds by $22,553 the best previous club owners share made during the 1919 series when $359,825 was divided.

Owners of the two local clubs, however, are not permitted to retain and divide equally the close to a half million dollars which appear at first sight to be theirs. Rules governing the financial affairs of the world's series provide that 50 per cent of each club's share for the first seven games shall be paid into the respective treasuries and that in case an eighth game is necessary, as was the case today, then 75 per cent of the club's share of receipts for that game must go to the league treasuries.

Uncle Sam, in the guise of war tax and income tax collector, will also share in the receipts. The straight 10 per cent war tax was deducted before the gate receipts that were made public; but there are still experts of the government accounting department to work out what each player, club owner and umpire shall contribute by income taxes.

Still another group will do some figuring and announce the league's contribution in the shape of expense profile, car fares and other details which business enterprises are required to eventually pass into the treasury at Washington, D. C.

DON'T BEGIN ON THE BABIES

Word reached the Journal from Santa Fe, at a late hour last night that the State Tax Commission, sitting for the purpose of reviewing the county tax levies, is considering cutting out all levies for the county health departments.

The Journal rises in the names of the mothers and babies of the state to vigorously protest. If economy must be the watchword at this time, why not begin on the lambs and calves and pigs, not on the babies? It has taken years to build the sentiment necessary to establish state and county health departments. The legislature created or authorized the creation of these imperative adjuncts of modern civilization. The state tax commission would go entirely outside its legitimate function should it attempt to annul legislative action by cutting off the revenues necessary to make that legislation effective.

County health departments have been made by law a matter of local self-government. The various counties have exercised that power in accordance with the views of the local officers elected by the people, and responsible to them. Where the people have seen fit to tax themselves for a health department, this matter of policy is strictly the business of the people of the county. To cut out waste, not to dictate local policies, is the function of the tax commission.

If enlightened communities have decided to protect human life, they have a right to do so, without interference. It will cost the rest of the state nothing. The Journal has trouble to credit the rumors. It would constitute an inexcusable interference with local self-government.

RAILWAY STARTS BUYING SUPPLIES AT PRE-WAR CLIP

(By The Associated Press.)

Chicago, Oct. 13.—The Chicago and Northwestern has returned to a pre-war basis in purchasing supplies. President W. H. Finley announced tonight. The road has authorized the purchase of $2,000,000 worth of supplies monthly, he said, the purchases being made in all lines of industry and particularly in steel and lumber.

UNITED STATES CLAIMS COURT'S DOCKET FILLED

Many Cases Arising Out of the Country's Activities During the World War Are to Be Adjudicated.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Oct. 13.—The United States court of claims has received with a calendar of large and important cases for the winter term. Upon the court docket there are actions involving approximately $300,000,000 arising out of the country's activities during the world war and the influx of these cases has only begun, the ultimate aggregate of such claims being estimated at between $2,000,000,000 and $3,000,000,000.

These actions are brought into the court by plaintiffs having claims against various departments of the government—the war department, in which claims involving approximately $5,000,000,000 have been filed; the bureau of internal revenue, which has before it claims for refunds and rebates amounting to many millions; the shipping board, where cancellations alone involve over $250,000,000; claims for patent infringement, of which $200,000,000 have already been filed in the various courts, claims made by the railroads amounting to approximately $2,500,000,000; claims for damages to property arising from the housing corporation, war risk bureau, food and fuel administration and a large amount of claims of miscellaneous character.

Variety of Claims.

The variety of claims pending in the court is almost unlimited, including actions for requisitioning of ships and railroads, transportation of troops, ammunition and supplies, infringement of patents for high explosives, submarine boats and torpedoes, wireless and radio apparatus, contracts for anti-aircraft engines and guns, military and naval supplies and munition, appropriation of camp sites and naval bases, together with contracts for manufacturing and acts of commandeering of almost endless diversity.

There are many novel and interesting questions raised, especially in suits for infringement of patent. One inventor claims $1,000,000 for the little pocket books of stamps that are sold to the public at every postoffice. Another claims that early in 1905 he invented a gliding machine involving the principle upon which every airplane operated by the government is constructed and, if successful, may recover $10,000,000 and $995,000 is asked for infringement in the manufacture of torpedoes, and about $20,000,000 for radio apparatus. Claims are made for injuries to person and property by mail trucks and reimbursement is claimed by farmers for destruction of lands and crops by alighting mail planes. The owner of a stock of liquors whose supply has been illegally confiscated by zealous prohibition enforcement agents seeks indemnity in money damages.

In preparation for the disposition of this new business the court of claims has so cleared the dockets that not only pending suits but actions based on new claims are receiving immediate attention and all cases are disposed of as rapidly as they are prepared and presented for counsel.

NEW MEXICO ON THE SIDELINES

Sitting on the sidelines and watching the other fellow play ball may have its recreational value, but it is financially unprofitable. Sitting there and watching the rest of the Great West get help under the Agricultural Relief Bill, while we merely look on, will never do.

The law has commenced to function—but not in New Mexico. To say "I told you so," will never buy any clothes for the baby. It is "up to" New Mexico to see to it that it gets its share of the help for its farmers and livestock growers. This can be done. It must be done. It is our own fault if it is not done. We should act instead of complaining.

Wednesday a meeting of bankers was held in Fort Worth to get action under this law. New Mexico bankers were informed of the meeting too late to arrange for attendance. New Mexico was not represented so far as we can learn.

This law will be administered by the War Finance Corporation through the medium of Agricultural and Livestock Agencies, distributed at convenient points throughout the west. No provision has been made for such an agency in New Mexico. Why? The answer is that we are not on the job demanding it. We should get on the job.

Attempting to relieve the emergency in the livestock industry in New Mexico at long range will not work successfully. An agency should be placed here, where our local men can reach it and where their needs and their merits can be known. We ought to get an agency, even if a committee has to storm Washington to bring it about.

Things are looking better for the livestock grower in New Mexico. If some long time loans can be had under this new law, our livestock men will "grow out" in handsome shape. The "frozen assets" of the banks will be "thawed" and can be turned to the help of other businesses. This can and must come to pass.

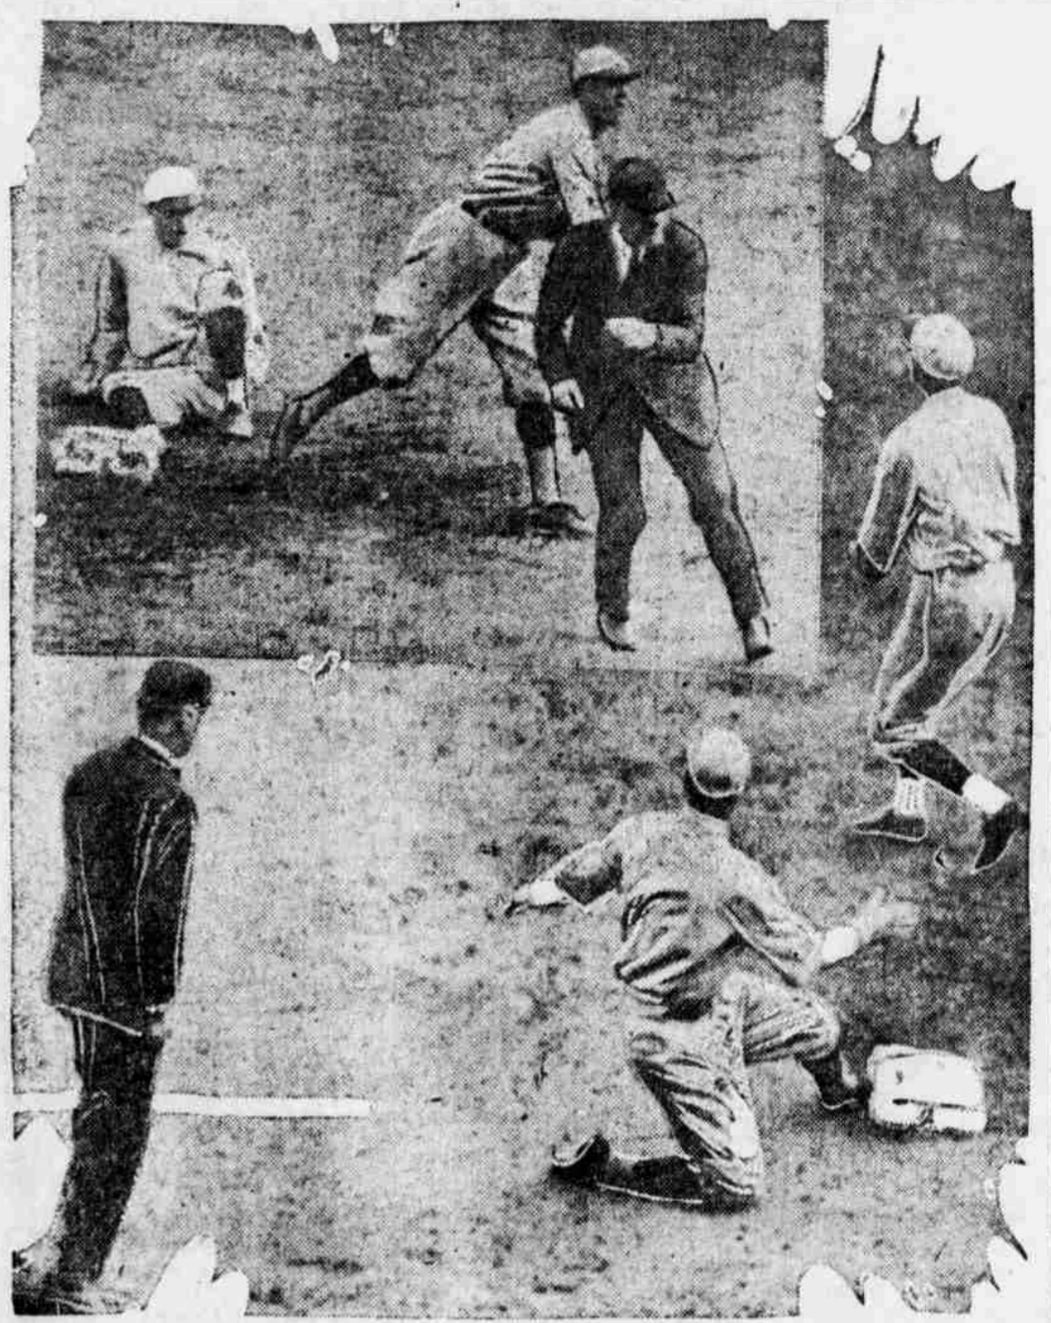

A local banker has sent out a letter to some other bankers in the state suggesting a meeting to discuss these important things. Livestock men should ask their bankers at once what they are doing about the matter. Such a meeting should be held immediately.

It is entirely feasible for the bankers and growers of this state to organize a Cattle Loan Company, or other similar concern, with assets of $500,000 or some necessary amount, through which these loans can be handled.

The banker who pulls back and will not assume his fair burden in discussing such a plan, is acting selfishly, in the opinion of the Journal. We believe none will refuse to meet to see what can be done.

Shakespeare said, "There is a tide in the affairs of men which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune, omitted all the voyage of their life is bound in shallows and in miseries." Was Shakespeare speaking of New Mexico when he added: "On such a full sea are we now afloat, and we must take the current when it serves or lose our ventures."

When Tide Turned For Giants in Fourth Game of World Series

These photos show the main spots in the Giants' second victory in the world's series—when they turned back Carl Mays in the fourth game. In the first two games the Yankees ran wild on the bases. McNally, fleet Yankee infielder, took many liberties. In the third, during the fourth game McNally essayed to steal second and Snyder's throw to Bancroft cut him down. The Yankees realized the Giants were playing a different game. In the eighth with the score tied 1 to 1, Emil Meusel started the winning rally with a triple to left. The Giants won, 4 to 2.

Bunching hits, Baltimore had rather easy sailing toward the latter part of the game, especially as Pitcher Ogden of the Orioles showed better form toward the close.

HIGHTOWER IS FOUND GUILTY IN HESLIN CASE

(By The Associated Press.)

William A. Hightower was found guilty today of first degree murder with recommendation of life imprisonment b. the jury in the case in which he was charged with the murder of Father Patrick E. Heslin of Colma, Calif.

A motion for appeal will be filed Saturday at which time it is expected sentence will be pronounced. Hightower took his conviction calmly, saying to lawyers and newspaper men: "Well, boys, I guess you won't see me for some time."

The jury was out less than two hours. Father Heslin accompanied a muffled strident the night of August 2 from the parish house at Colma, taking with him the sacrament to administer to a supposedly dying man.

The next day a 1-ter d-manding $5,000 ransom was received at St. Mary's cathedral in San Francisco, and the priest's body was found in a shallow grave.

Hightower said his clue came from the story of an outcast woman, Dolly Mason, that a drunken foreigner had told her of "something valuable" buried near a sign of a man crying flapsacks.

The priest's housekeeper identified Hightower as the man who called for Father Heslin, and an expert testified that Hightower's was the handwriting on the ransom letter.

LAYS OUT PLAYGROUND SO HE MAY LISTEN TO VOICES OF CHILDREN

(By The Associated Press.)

Medway, Mass., Oct. 13.—Elmer L. Vidotto, a veteran of the civil war, crippled and partly blind, has laid out a playground near his home here so that he may listen to the voices of children.

For years Vidotto visited the schools and told the pupils war stories. When after the most recent of several accidents he was obliged to give up active work as a stone mason, he conceived the idea of bringing children to him. He purchased land across the street from his home and although the infirmities of 75 years and his injuries made the work slow, he cleared away the underbrush, and built seats, swings and tilting boards for his child friends.

LEADER OF KLAN COLLAPSES AFTER DEFENDING ORDER BEFORE CONGRESS

Imperial Wizard Simmons Holds Aloft Ritual of K. K. K. and Reads Parts of Oath.

MEMBERSHIP IN NATION TOTALS ABOUT 90,000

Texas Solon Quizzes Official of Order About Revenues and Profits From the Fees and Robe Sales.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Oct. 13.—Closing an all-day defense of the Ku Klux Klan, William J. Simmons, its imperial wizard, toppled over in a chair today while the chairman of the house investigation committee was attempting to stop a applause which broke out before the crowd knew he had collapsed.

Friends of Mr. Simmons rushed to his side and applied stimulants, but as it was evident that he was in no condition to continue, the hearing, filled with many dramatic incidents, was adjourned until tomorrow. Simmons later reported his condition was not serious.

Bundled up about the chest, Mr. Simmons returned this afternoon untended, his voice hoarse, but apparently eager to denounce what he characterized as outrageous charges against the organization which he founded in Georgia five years ago.

Stillness prevailed at times while the wizard, holding aloft the ritual of the Klan, read parts of the oath taken by the klansmen. And then he told the committee that while Julius Caesar had his Brutus, and Washington his Benedict Arnold, he, too, as imperial wizard of the Ku Klux, could enter the fold of the Klan, but he had suffered from the reasonable conduct of those within.

"If this organization is unworthy, then let me know and I will desert it, if it is not, then let it stand."

Turning to the crowd, Simmons declared he wanted to "call on the Father to forgive those who had persecuted the Klan," and as the words left his lips, he tumbled into a heap.

The first dramatic incident was the appearance of Senator T. E. Watson, of Georgia, who stepped up and shook the wizard by the hand. Whispering something, he collapsed and sat down, but a moment later he was on his feet, demanding the right to question the witness in "the interest of fair play."

Chairman Campbell broke in to say that the witness was getting that, and that it was not in line with regular procedure to permit questions by outsiders.

Senator Watson insisted he had the right, first announcing, however, that he was not a klansman, although in sympathy with its aims, and the chairman cut through the colloquy by directing the senator to proceed. The senator merely asked the wizard if he knew exactly the salaries being voted by congress for shipping board lawyers, reaching as high as $35,000, which the people had to pay. With that Mr. Watson left.

The testimony of Mr. Simmons, the committee learned that the total membership of the Klan, heralded as having passed the million mark, actually was around

RAILROADS HAVE PLAN TO PASS VALUE OF WAGE CUT TO PUBLIC BY REDUCTION IN FREIGHT RATE

Executives of Lines Realize Need for Slice in Transportation Costs Which Stay High Because of Fixed Operating Expenses; Increased Business Will Boost Profits.

(By The Associated Press.)

Chicago, Oct. 13.—A proposal to meet all future reductions in wages of railroad employees with corresponding decreases in railroad freight rates is to be presented to the Association of Railway Executives at its meeting here tomorrow, it was announced tonight. The proposition is to be submitted by a special committee of railroad officials which last week conferred with government officials at Washington, it was stated.

This announcement was made by a railroad official here for the conference who stated that the committee had prepared a report embodying the plan.

The proposition to pass all future decreases in operating costs along to the public, it was stated, was in line with the policy of the railroads to make freight rate reductions and allow railroads to operate at a profit. Freight rate reductions are impossible while operating costs remain unchanged, this official asserted.

Railroad executives, according to the official, have realized the desirability of a reduction in freight rates because of the decrease in the price of other commodities.

They have, however, been unable to effect such reductions, he said, because of the fixed operating costs. This, he asserted, applied to the arbitrary fixing of wages and to the limitation placed on hours employees can work and the amount of work which can be done.

To effect a reduction of freight rates and maintain present revenues, the plan announced tonight was formulated. Increased business, brought about by lower freight rates, is expected to provide the increased revenue necessary for the railroads to operate at a fair profit, it was stated.

DO IT TODAY

Yesterday developed three of the necessary eight employees who are willing to release their employes to attend the National Guard Encampment. Five more must see that this is not a matter between themselves and their employes, but is a matter of great public concern.

If these employes can be made to see that they are standing in the way of a public cause, they will gladly release their men for the encampment.

Mr. Employers: If you have told your employes that you can not permit him to go, hunt him up now and tell him you do not want to stand in the way. Send him along. The public will approve your course.

THREE THOUSAND ALBUQUERQUEANS IN LOCAL FILM

Will Be Shown at the "Y" Tonight and Tomorrow Night; Matinee for Children Saturday Afternoon

"See Yourself in the Movies" will be shown to children under 12 years of age at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The regular program will be held tonight and Saturday night starting at 7:45 o'clock. There will only be one performance each evening. The Albuquerque film was taken here a short time ago by operators for the Pathe company. Before coming here the operators filmed the Santa Fe fiesta, Frijoles Canyon and a number of other interesting places in New Mexico. It was planned to only get a few scenes in Albuquerque to go with the rest of the reels, but at the suggestion of the Y. M. C. A. officials several reels were taken in the city. The films show the city, the college, the university, a number of club scenes and other pictures. It is estimated that at least 3,000 Albuquerqueans and visitors in the city have seen the films. Proceeds from the shows will be used by the "Y" toward purchasing a film picture projector to be used at the Y. M. C. A. The schools, shops and other places for showing educational films. When the projector is obtained the association will be placed on a circuit which has more than 20,000 free educational films in circulation.

BATTLE OF GIBBONS AND O'DOWD CANNOT BE HELD IN WICHITA

(By The Associated Press.) Wichita, Kans., Oct. 13.—The fifteen round boxing contest between Mike Gibbons and Mike O'Dowd, middleweights, scheduled to be held here Tuesday night, must not take place in Wichita, according to a ruling tonight by Attorney General H. J. Hopkins, who said he thought the bout would be a violation of the state law.

LEADER OF KLAN COLLAPSES AFTER DEFENDING ORDER

$5,000. The witness declared the south-east and west had been greater than in the south. Asked if he had not claimed "a million membership," Mr. Simmons smilingly replied he might have done so, but that he was speaking generally. Representative Garrett, democrat, Tennessee, took the witness in hand to find out something about revenues and profits, asking if membership fees had been listed as donations rather than fees to prevent collection of federal corporation taxes. Simmons replied there was never a thought of that, declaring that when the tax law first became effective, he went to the revenue office at Atlanta and was informed that the Klan did not come under the law. "If it does it is not my fault," he said, "and if it is shown we are liable, we stand ready to meet our obligations." Denying huge profits from the sale of robes, the witness declared that less than thirty per cent of the Klan owned robes. "Our robes are not worn for the purpose of terrorizing people," he shouted. "They are as innocent as the breath of an angel!" He was pressed by Chairman Campbell for an explanation of the recent clash between a sheriff and marching Klansmen near Waco, Texas, and while he replied that his information was based largely on newspaper reports, he added that the parade had been authorized by the mayor, and that the sheriff, in attempting to stop it, "seemed under the influence of liquor." Simmons said he had called for an official report.

DRIVE AGAINST RATS WAGED BY PARISIANS

(By The Associated Press.) Paris, Oct. 13.—More than 570, 114 rats have been killed in Paris since the offensive against them was started a year ago. Bonuses have been paid at the rate of 30 centimes a head. In the first month of the campaign the bonus was paid upon delivery by the rat hunter of the tail of the animal, but a sewer cleaner became an expert in the art of manufacturing rat tails out of leather and other material at the rate of several hundred per head, and since then the bonus has been "per head," instead of "per tail."

WORLD SERIES GOES TO GIANTS BY 1 TO 0 WIN OVER YANKS THURSDAY

used to put the Yankees in a favorable scoring position if it got by. But it did not pass. Throwing himself at the skimming sphere, Rawlings reached out and clung to it with his left hand. Rolling over and over and transferring the ball to his right hand, Rawlings landed the throw to Kelly at first while still on the ground, getting Baker by several feet.

Then Kelly, with a lightninglike throw, shot the ball to Third baseman Frank Friesch. And out he flew over third as Ward slid. From the midst of it umpire Quigley's form emerged, his right arm flung forth, motioning the runner out. "The double play had been completed, the third Yankee had been retired, the war was over, and the Giants had won the world's championship."

The Giants' run was scored without the aid of a hit. With Burns disposed of at first as Baker fielded his grounder to Pipp, Bancroft waited on the pitched balls. He held first while Friesch was fouling out to Pipp and went to second as Hoyt, with the count two and three, walked Young. There was a sharp protest by Hoyt on the fourth ball, with which the young twirler insisted he had cut the plate.

With Bancroft on second, Kelly sent what looked like an easy grounder to Peckinpaugh. With the third out in sight, however, Peckinpaugh let the ball get through him, and Bancroft starting from second as the ball was hit, over the middle bag, was fouling out to Pipp and went to second as Hoyt, with the count two and three, walked Young. There was a sharp protest by Hoyt on the fourth ball, with which the young twirler insisted he had cut the plate.

Rawlings, besides making the most spectacular fielding play, led his side at bat, with two doubles and a single. None, however, influenced the result.

The game was played before the smallest crowd of the series. The morning was cloudy and raw, although the skies cleared early in the afternoon. The atmosphere warmed somewhat. There was tumult and shouting aplenty and a last, overpowering exultant yell from the Giants' supporters as the final dazzling play was flashed.

The hitting battle of the Meusel brothers, in which the price of a family Thanksgiving dinner was at stake, was won by Emil, of the Giants. His batting average was .345 and that of Bob .299. In twenty-nine times up, Emil scored four runs and made ten hits for seventeen bases. Bob, in thirty trips to the plate, scored three runs and made six hits for eight bases. Each stole a base.

TEXAS 'COW TOWN' IS BECOMING FAMOUS AS POLO PONY PRODUCER

(By The Associated Press.) Midland, Tex., Oct. 13.—This "cow-town," equidistant from El Paso and Fort Worth, also claims to be a polo pony town. It is said to be the greatest shipping depot for polo ponies in the United States. Figures are submitted by men in the pony raising business to prove it.

Polo ponies ridden in the big games in the north and east, are Midland raised horses—in a least many of them. Two Midland bred ponies, Snail and Hackberry Slim won first and second prizes in New York at the Meadowbrook club. In the international 1921 polo games played in London, the American team won, and one of the ponies of the winning team, Miller, of Midland, was a Midland product. Midland ships about 200 first class polo ponies every year to northern and eastern cities.

G. O. Coyle, of Midland, said to be the heaviest shipper here, declares a good polo pony is born, not made. He said the best polo pony is about 15 hands high, weighs between 950 and 1,100 pounds, is a quick starter, fast and easily reined.

The ponies sell for as high as $1,000.

EXPLORING SHIP IS BEING PREPARED FOR DRIFT PAST THE POLE

(By The Associated Press.) Seattle, Wash., Oct. 13.—The staunch little exploring ship Maud, in which Capt. Roald Amundsen made the Northwest passage from Norway to Cape Serdze, Siberia, has been moored temporarily in the fresh waters of Lake Union here. The Maud was towed from Puget Sound through the government canal to Lake Union after she had been overhauled in drydock where a lost propeller was replaced.

The sturdy craft will remain in the landlocked haven, riding herself of barnacles, until early next spring, when Captain Amundsen expects to renew his attempt to drift past the North pole with the Arctic ice floes, interrupted last year by the loss of the Maud's propeller.

In the meantime, Captain Amundsen has announced, he will make a brief visit to Norway.

Doctor at 82 Finds Mothers Prefer His Formula to New-Fangled Salts And Coal Tar Remedies for Babies

Judgment of 1892 vindicated by world's approval of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a simple vegetable compound for constipation—So safe thousands give it to babies in arms—Now has largest sale in the world.

WHEN a man is in the 83rd year of his age, as I am, there are certain things he has learned that only time can teach him. The basis of treating sickness has not changed since I left Medical College in 1875, nor since I placed on the market the laxative prescription I had used in my practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

From a recent portrait of Dr. J. C. Caldwell, Founder of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, Born Shelbyville, Mo., 1839

Then the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other dispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of my Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other mild laxative herbs with pepsin.

Recently new medicines have been brought out for constipation that contain calomel, which is mercury, salts of various kinds, minerals, and coal tar. These are all drastic purges, many of them dangerous, and the medical profession is warning the public against them. Certain coal tar products will depress the heart; certain salts give rise to intestinal poisoning, impaction and rupture of the intestines. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with pills and powders and strong drugs, even if disguised in candy? My remedy, too, costs less than most others, only about a cent a dose. A bottle such as you can find in any drug store, will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the babe in arms because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal.

The formula of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is on the cover of every bottle, and the ingredients have the endorsement of the U. S. Pharmacopoeia.

$10,000 Worth of Syrup Pepsin Free

in remembrance of my 83rd birthday I have set aside the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars to be given away in half-ounce bottles of my Syrup Pepsin. Only one Free Trial bottle to a family. All are constipated now and then, and here is an opportunity for you and others to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin FREE OF CHARGE. Ask for your free bottle today, simply sending name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 514 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Do not postpone this.

IMPORTANCE OF PORTO RICO IS TOLD ROTARIANS

Rev. F. E. McGuire Presents
Imposing List of Reasons for Dealing Wisely With Poland.

Industries of Porto Rico were pictured to members of the Rotary club at its meeting yesterday noon by Rev. Frank E. McGuire, pastor of the Lead Avenue Methodist church. The speaker has but recently returned from a residence on the island and was fully conversant upon his topic.

"Porto Rico from an American point of view is undiscovered," he stated. "It is built on the top of a mountain which has risen out of the sea. It has a population of 350,000 people to the square mile, with a total greater than twelve of our states can claim.

The chief industry is the production of sugar. Porto Rico may go dry, but it will never go sour. One-fourth of the arable land on the island is given over to the growing of tobacco, and a fine grade of that product is obtained.

"Citrus fruit and similar products are grown there in abundance, because Porto Rico never has a frost."

The speaker claimed that the cry for independence in Porto Rico comes from the forty or fifty men from the United States proper who hold federal jobs on the island. He pointed out that there is a genuine demand for territorial rights and finally stated he does not have a proper colonial policy," he added.

"We have a republican policy and then a democratic policy and then a republican policy. It is time to have an American policy."

The matter of securing men for the national guard campaign was presented by W. C. Mace, Vice President H. B. Henning, acting in the absence of President David Ross Boyd, named as a committee to secure enough men for the trip the following: Carl C. Mace, Louis McRae and J. T. McLoughlin.

OPPOSE GOLD SUBSIDY

Washington, Oct. 13.—Opposition to a subsidy of any kind or producers of newly mined gold was expressed today by Secretary Mellon in a letter to Senator Odell, republican, Nevada, in reply to a resolution signed by twenty-two western senators supporting a house measure providing for the premium.

J. W. Henderson, deputy sheriff at Colorado Springs, and R. L. Stanley, Denver policeman, were in Albuquerque last night to take back to Colorado J. M. Astrop, arrested here for taking a mortgaged Paige car out of the state of Colorado. Astrop was arrested here by Officer Carter.

The Colorado officials warmly commended the work of the Albuquerque police department.

CONFERENCE ON UNEMPLOYMENT CLOSES MEETING

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Oct. 13.—Having agreed on definite remedial policies for the emergency and permanent relief of the unemployed and the return of commerce and business to normal, the unemployment conference today completed its labors and adjourned without date.

To continue the work until the emergency is passed, the organization committee was ordered to select a standing committee to be named later, which will be authorized to convene the conference at any time.

The final session of the conference today was devoted to the consideration of reports by subcommittees. In the main these reports were an amplification of general measures adopted by the conference. From several committees majority and minority reports were received, notably in the case of the manufacturing, but on the report of Secretary Hoover, it was decided that conflicting opinions should not be entertained for action by the conference, but merely made public as information to the public.

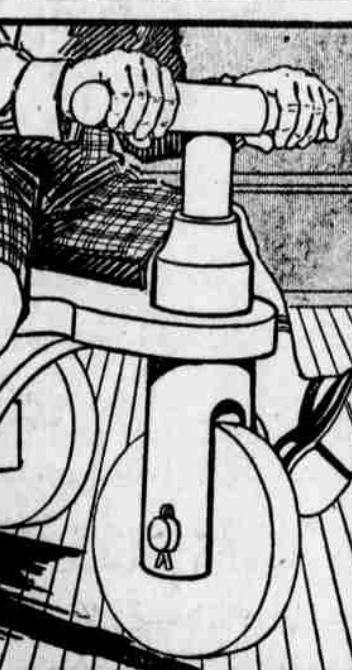

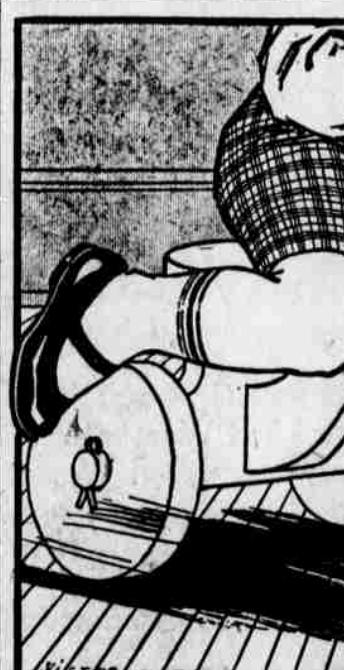

All interests were urged to join in effecting a normal adjustment of wages and prices in a settlement on behalf of the employer and the employee. The conference approved by the conference.

Germany is the only country which has formally abolished tipping.

COLUMBUS, N. M. MAN FOUND DEAD ACROSS BORDER

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 13.—Dr. M. B. Green, physician and chiropractor of Columbus, N. M., was found dead today, lying beside his automobile at a point between Asencion and Casas Grandes, Chihuahua, about 120 miles south of the Mexican border. Four bullet wounds were found in his body, a pistol from which one shot had been fired lay close to the dead man's hand. Cowboys who found the body expressed the opinion the doctor had been shot down while fixing a tire on his car. News of the tragedy was received today by United States Consul J. W. Dye, at Juarez. The message contained the information that Governor Ignacio Enriquez at Chihuahua City had ordered a rigid investigation and promised everything possible would be done to run down the murderers.

Dr. Green, who was 45 years old, operated a drug store in Columbus, N. M., and was accustomed to make periodical trips into western Chihuahua, where he practiced among the Mormon colonists and the Mexican people in the small towns away from the railroads.

BAD NEWS, BOYS.
Washington, Oct. 13.—Prohibition agents "will be directed" to use every effort to check sale of ingredients and apparatus used in the manufacture of intoxicating liquors. It was said in a statement issued today from the office of Prohibition Commissioner Haynes. Attention also would be given, the statement said, to the advertising of such articles in newspapers, such advertising being prohibited under the Volstead act.

NO PROVISION MADE FOR BURIAL OF FOCH AFTER ENTERTAINMENT

(By The Associated Press.)

Paris, Oct. 13.—Marshal Foch still is amused over Marshal Fayolle's pleasantry when the chairman of the entertainment committee, in Boston showed him upon his arrival late one evening, the program for the day following. It began in the early morning with a sightseeing tour; then followed a reception of delegations, a mid-day banquet and speeches, and then an afternoon reception. A public dinner and reception was staged for the evening, and this was to be followed by a ball. "What do you think of it?" the chairman is reported to have asked.

"It lacks something," replied the marshal. "I see nothing regarding my funeral arrangements at the end of the day."

CHARLESTON FIRE SEVERE

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 13.—Damage estimated at more than $1,500,000 was caused by a fire late today at the Charleston Terminal company. Fertilizer materials valued at approximately $1,500,000 were destroyed, and a considerable stretch of warehouses and wharves were heavily damaged.

It is a natural vegetable liquid which will stay your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can be taken. Calomel is a dangerous drug, besides it may make you feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Do your day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tonic and you will wake up feeling great. No salt necessary. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tonic acts better than treacherous calomel your money is waiting for you.

Rubber Floor Varnish

In homes that have learned the advantages of Rubber Floor Varnish, little folk are no longer admonished: "Now, be careful children and don't scratch the floors" —for, truly remarkable as it may seem, sonny's motorbike and chu chu cars can skid and bang from dawn 'til dark without a scratch or mar showing.

That McMurtry Rubber Floor Varnish does not scratch or mar is due primarily to the fact that this remarkable varnish dries tough hard rather than brittle hard.

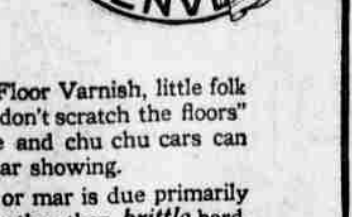

In no line of manufacturing is experience of greater value than in varnish making. The 33 years successful experience of McMurtry accounts for the superiority of Rubber Floor Varnish.

Beautiful floors are a satisfaction of course, but, think of the economy of using a wear resisting varnish like Rubber Floor Varnish—economy that comes in addition to the satisfaction.

JOHNNY M'GRAW JUBILANT OVER SERIES VICTORY

Tears Drop From Boyish
Cheeks of Waite Hoyt
Who Lost Chance to Win
Three Series Games.

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Oct. 13 (by the Associated Press.)—Declaration that "I have the greatest baseball club in the world," was made by John J. McGraw, manager of the Giants, a few moments after his team had won the world's baseball classic today.

"And unquestionably the game," he added.
Miller Huggins, leader of the vanquished, declared his men had no alibi and gave the Giants full credit. It was a wonderful series, he remarked, but the Yankees simply were unable to hit consecutively.

McGraw, nervous with excitement, was swamped by admirers as he left the club house. Artie Nehf, the pitcher who led the Giants to final victory, shed his uniform as though it were an ordinary day. His only comment was that of gladness that he could go home.

A few yards away—across the little back yard of the Polo grounds where the club houses are located—tears were dropping down the boyish cheeks of Waite Hoyt, the pitcher who twice defeated the Giants and on whose shoulders was placed the burden of stopping their rush today. He stopped their rush, but a comrade failed him in a critical moment and the glory of having his name on the honored roll of pitchers who have won three games in a titular series was denied him.

Both managers agreed it was the greatest world series played. And so did the president of the National League, John A. Heydler, who tossed his presidential dignity to the winds when the Giants closed the series with a dazzling double play. "Hurrah for the Nationals," he shouted, waving his arms.

"We've been waiting seventeen years to see the Giants at the top of the ladder," he said. "I do not know how to express my happiness. The old National League is ahead again after a bitter fight in which they proved game to the core."

Several thousand reporters waited outside the Giants' club house to greet their idols. A few were allowed to go inside. One of these was Mrs. Julia Wilson, gray haired mother of the Giants' mascot, and ardent rooter for McGraw's club.

"I've waited twenty years for this day," she cried, gently patting each of the champions on the back. "I just told Judge Landis he was a darling. He brought us luck."

Another of the few who got inside was "Wee Willie" Keeler, the greatest hitter of them all back in the days when ball players wore mustaches.

"Give all the credit to Jennings and the players," McGraw said. "I can't say too much for Nehf, Snyder, Barnes, Douglas and the other boys. I have the greatest club in the world, and unquestionably the greatest." Never was McGraw so set on anything as upon winning this time. I wanted this world's championship more than I wanted anything in my life.

INSURRECTO KID SHOWS FORM IN SPARRING MATCH

Training at Armory Open to Public for First Time; All Fighters Are Ready for Monday's Card.

Combing out of the seclusion in which he has been training for the past week, the Insurrecto Kid trained publicly yesterday afternoon at the armory and created a good impression on the spectators by his cleverness and his condition. The Kid boxed ten rounds with different partners, besides doing some stiff gymnasium work. When asked by the spectators if he was going to knock out Kid Anaya the Insurrecto replied that he was making no promises about knockouts, but expected to give Anaya one of the hardest fights that he has ever had.

Benny Chavez, who is one of the headliners on Monday's card, trained at the armory yesterday afternoon, and said that he was in better condition than at any time in the past three years. He has been doing road work on the mesa every day for the past two weeks and has good wind.

Salvor Gonzales showed marked improvement both in condition and form since his last appearance here and has been working hard at the armory in order to be in first class shape for the fight Monday.

Dan Padilla, who is staging the fight, is enthusiastic over the appearance of the fighters who are on the card, and declares that in his belief the fight will be the best that has been staged here in two years. The decision on the fight will be given by three judges who have been selected by the city boxing commission, the referee being in the ring only to separate the men in clinches and to watch for infractions of the rules.

BEAUTY CHATS

By Edna Kent Forbes.

TEN MINUTES RELAXATION.

The older we grow the more strain upon our energies is any prolonged exertion, and the more time we must take to rest and to allow the body to recuperate. If only the nervous woman would realize this, she would not find herself growing old before her time. If only the woman well into her thirties would heed this advice, she would not be overtaken so to speak, and helps it function properly. Some say to sleep early and keep to simple habits, some say to exercise, which keeps the body fit, and others to rest. And really, you have to do a little of all these things, for all of them are sound. Or rather, I should say that you must learn your type first, and see which of these things applies best to you. If you are indolent, undoubtedly you need to exercise more, or your body will grow fat and shapeless and heavy. If you have inherited weakness, certainly the simple habits of the older generations, early hours and plain foods and such things, can not but help you.

But if you are a hard worker, or if your work is a mental or a physical strain, you must rest. It does not matter so much how long the periods of rest are, though of course you must have at least eight and if possible, nine hours sleep at night. Even ten minutes rest in the afternoon will help you.

Thomas N. and M. T. McC.: The need of the average person is a period of eight hours for sleeping out of each 24 hours, so if you must rise at seven in the morning, you should retire before 11; however, this rule may be violated frequently and nature will make it up. Mental stimulation that is gained even though sleep is lost, through a change of scene, or an evening of pleasure, will be more helpful than keeping to the set rule of taking eight hours of sleep each night. Most people have too much sleep, but since they have made that a habit, they feel any deviation from it. Increase your weight by taking a tablespoonful of olive oil in the same amount of grape juice three times each day.

Dotty: Before going into the water, rub plenty of cream into the face and neck. This should keep you from being so sunburned.

S. G.: Butter milk does not fatten, unless it has plenty of butter-flicks left in it, which will never be found outside of the farm-house product. It is an excellent food and a stimulant to the liver that is sluggish.

THIS STRIKING COSTUME MADE BOARDWALK GASP

Mrs. H. Stratton in her novel black and white creation.

Even blasé Atlantic City folk turned their heads for a second glance when Mrs. H. Stratton of Bella, Pa., gave them a glimpse of this striking costume of black and white. The sweater is of silk and wool with white braid stripes. The skirt is of white flannel with black silk stripes. The hat is of black velvet and white braid.

"I would often now interrupt him, where before I had hesitated. 'You have lots of time to write. Let's take life leisurely for a while.' 'But,' he argued, 'you work pretty steadily, why not me?' 'Yes,' I admitted, 'I do work fairly steadily, but you over-worked on your book. And having Juanita with you so much was wearing, for, of course, you would have many times done much better work alone. You see, there is where I have the advantage. I don't have anyone interrupting me.' 'I wouldn't call her trying to help—interrupting.' 'Perhaps not, yet she didn't help, and I am sure that had you continued trying to work with her your work would deteriorate. Not that Juanita isn't lovely to look at, but she certainly isn't good for a man of genius like yourself. She would soon kill it in you.' I always mentioned her looks, or her clothes as being perfect. I would not disparage her in a way that would make Dick think me jealous, but would place it all upon the detriment she was to his work.

Like all—or most writers, Dick was immensely fascinated with his own ideas, his ability to express them. At first he had been timid, but long before he met Juanita that had worn off, and he had grown sure he had found his métier—that he was bound to be a successful author.

The failure of the book, the scathing criticisms had hurt him, wounded his self-esteem, more than he was willing to acknowledge. That it was Juanita's part in the book that had caused its rejection was a weapon of which I made good use, while never letting him know I was using it. I planned all sorts of things to interest him. I had a breakfast-room screened off from the porch and we took our morning meal out there. We now had a little Japanese maid, and I could make myself as attractive as I pleased. But the keynote of all I wore was simplicity. I never daintily washable clothes that I kept crisp and fresh. "It is all right for Juanita who is single, and has loads of time on her hands, to dress in such artistic manner," I remarked. "It is one way to attract attention. Anyway, it is becoming, and she is wise to do it." As usual, after making such a "catty" remark, I praised her.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

By LAURA A. KIRKMAN.

TRY THESE APPLE PRESERVES.

Gingered Apples: Put 1 pint of water and 5 ounces of bruised ginger root over the fire and let this simmer for 2 hours, adding a little more water as it boils away. Wipe 3 large lemons clean and grate off the thin yellow rind; add the juice to this and turn this strained juice into the simmering ginger water. Let boil for a few minutes, then remove the pieces of ginger, tie them securely in a small muslin bag, and put them back into the saucepan. Pare, core and chop rather coarsely 5 pounds of tart apples and add this to the simmering liquid, together with 5 pounds of granulated sugar. Boil this mixture slowly until the bits of apple look clear, then turn into hot, sterilized jars (removing the bag of ginger root) and seal while hot.

Apple Butter: Pare, quarter and core 1 peck of sour apples and 2 quarts sweet apples. Add enough cider to cover and let cook, stirring occasionally, until the apples are reduced to a consistency like that of marmalade, then add granulated sugar to equal one-half the weight of the apples before they were cooked. Also add 1 tablespoon cinnamon and 1-2 teaspoon cloves for use any spices preferred. Store when very thick in hot, sterilized jars.

Apple-Mint Jelly: Cut the apples in quarters and barely cover with boiling water; let simmer until tender, then turn them into a jelly bag. For 1 quart of this strained juice place 3 cups of sugar in the bag, then turn the juice into the preserving kettle with the crushed leaves and stalks from a generous bunch of mint and let cook 20 minutes, then strain again. Heat the juice once more to boiling point, add the warm sugar and let boil till the jelly stage is reached. Tint a light green with some green vegetable coloring paste. Turn into hot, sterilized glasses and let cool before covering with hot paraffine.

Spiced Apple Jelly: (Fine with cold meats). 1-2 peck apples, 3 pints vinegar, 1 pint of water, 1 ounce stick cinnamon, 1-2 ounce whole cloves. Put these ingredients together in the preserving kettle after quartering the apples (not paring or coring them) and tying the spices together in a small cheesecloth bag. Then, when the apples are tender, turn them into the jelly bag and let drip without forcing the juice through. Measure this strained juice and return it to the kettle, boil 20 minutes, add 1 cup of warm granulated sugar for every cup of juice that was measured previously, and let boil until the jelly stage is reached (that is, until two drops will form at once on the edge of a spoon when a little juice is dripped back into the kettle from a height). Turn into hot, sterilized glasses and cover when cold with paraffine.

S. H. Answer: To remove the vomit stains from your child's blue cotton coat, first try soaking the stained portion in salt and water. There is generally mucus in such stains, and salt dissolves this. If the dye in the material is a good one, you might try soaking the spots in very weak ammonia water—but first test this treatment on a sample of the material before risking the coat itself. If these two attempts fail to remove the spots, apply gasoline or naphtha on the chance that they may be successful; take care not to use these fluids near heat or flame.

CUTTING EXPENSES.

"We must cut down expenses," says Wren G., blond, and thus he charms the senses of this tax-weary crowd beneath our load we've drifted, and hoped to see it shifted; we'd like to see it lifted before we drive a screw. "What is the use of working?" the heart-sick voters say; "the tax collector's lurking to take our roll away; he watches when we're earning, tax hunger in him burning, and when from work returning, he jumps us for our pay. What is the use of saving?" the weary workers cry; "of pinching and of slaving, to

The heavy burden never will from our shoulders drop unless there's an endeavor to make expenses stop; the foolish home-head spending, the wanton waste unending; and Warren's slogan's lending some hope to souls that flop. "We must cut down expenses," No wiser words been sprung since Adam built his fence, when this old world was young; until that creed is taken, and wasteful ways forsaken, we still must lose our bacon, by tax collectors stung.

IDEA OF CLUBS FOR BUSINESS WOMEN IS REACHING ENGLAND

English women are becoming interested in the National Federation of Business and Professional Women. About the first thing that their business and professional women do is to inquire into the mechanics of the many clubs in America. The increase of women in the business and professional world of England is rapidly increasing at that. It was Lord Kitchener who first recognized the need of women in the business world.

"England," he once said, "will not put forth its full strength until its women are doing the same work as its men."

Miss Ruby Broughton, managing director of an English leather company, has just returned to England, after a business trip to America, in which she gathered many statistics in regard to women in the commercial field in this country. Miss Broughton has recently formed a company with Lady Majorie Dalrymple, who accompanied her to America. They do not believe in segregation of women's interests, because one of their directors is a man whose advice they greatly value. Miss Broughton came primarily to America to establish an agency here.

TROOP A CAMP QUOTA IS NOT YET REACHED

Chamber of Commerce Urges Merchants to Permit Employees to Go on Fort Bliss Camping Trip.

Officials of the chamber of commerce have been asked to co-operate with their membership and other merchants in the city in the hope of getting the merchants interested in having troop "A" take part in the annual camp at Fort Bliss next week. Forty-nine troops must make the trip or Albuquerque will be deprived of her troop of national guard boys.

Forty-two boys intend making the trip. Seven more must go. Practically all of the boys would like to go, but their excuse is that they are working and can not get away. Chamber of commerce officials are urging all merchants and other employers to allow their employees to attend the encampment. If they belong to the troop.

Captain Farrell, according to statements of chamber officials yesterday, must leave with a minimum of forty-nine boys Sunday night. Unless troop A can participate in the camp with at least a minimum number of the full sixty-five troops, it is understood that the troop will be disbanded by the national guard authorities. Several cities smaller than Albuquerque are sending full units to the camp.

Troop "A" has been given the distinction of being chosen as the headquarters troop. The boys have been well drilled for the encampment and officials expect them to make a good showing.

If the required number do not go, the city will not only lose the troop, but the revenue which is being brought into the city through the maintaining of the troop here. Aside from the salaries paid the boys, which amounts to $7,881.58 a year, supplies for the troop over a similar period amount to $19,790.47. While this is not a tremendous amount of money, chamber of commerce officials pointed out yesterday that it was money which otherwise would not come to

CONCERT TO BE GIVEN HERE BY BARBARA WAIT

Operatic Contralto Will Appear in Song Recital at Crystal Oct. 27; Was Member Chicago Opera.

Definite announcement has been made of a song recital to be given by Miss Barbara Wait, contralto, at the Crystal Theater at 8:30 o'clock, Thursday, Oct. 27, at the Crystal Theater at 8:30 o'clock.

Miss Wait is a singer of tremendous range and power. Her voice is a pure deep contralto, with a range extending to high C. The artistry with which she executes her songs indicates strongly the excellent training and experience she has had.

She was for several seasons a leading contralto with the Chicago Opera association, singing with such great stars as Muratore, Garden, Hempel, and with Melba, Farrar, Kousnetzoff and Stracchini when they were guest singers with the Chicago company. Miss Wait also met with great success when she was for three seasons a member of the Ravinia Opera company.

During one of her more recent seasons she has been on tour with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, appearing with Arthur Middleton. She has also sung with the St. Louis Symphony, and has appeared in concert in all of the large cities, including New York, Philadelphia, Detroit, Chicago and San Francisco.

One of Chicago's foremost critics said of Miss Wait: "Barbara Wait is one of the coming young contraltos of the country. Her art is accurate, and she possesses a magnificent voice of deep quality and amazing range. Last night in her concert she reached a B flat with consummate ease, pitching the note exactly on key. She reminds one of Louis Homer when she was in her blindest days."

For the past three years, Miss Wait has been coming to Albuquerque for periods of rest and vacation. She is well known in musical and social circles here.

Mrs. L. B. Thompson will accompany the singer in her concert.

Theaters Today

"B" Theater—The Exclusive Features, Inc., presents Tom Santel's as the leading star in "The Country That God Forgot," with Mary Charleson and George Fawcett in other leading parts; also presenting "The Jungle Dancers," a Paramount-Vanderberg Exploration picture.

The Famous Players-Lasker company presents Governor Morris' famous story, "A Tale of Two Worlds," a Frank Lloyd production, but a Goldwyn picture; also presenting "Strike Models," a special Christie comedy.

Pastime Theater—That great photoplay, "Carnival," presented by the United Artists corporation, is drawing large crowds at the Pastime theater, and is being repeated today; the usual added attractions are also being repeated.

"THE COUNTRY THAT GOD FORGOT" IS THE PICTURE AT THE "B"

"The Country That God Forgot" is to be the feature attraction at the "B" theater today and tomorrow.

This is a story of the western wastes and a man's love for a woman, and was directed by Marshall Neilan, who is probably one of the greatest directors of today. Mr. Neilan has just scored two distinct triumphs in his latest productions, "The River's End," and "Don't Ever Marry," and in "The Country That God Forgot," he brings out some of his best work.

In this picture he has assembled a prominent cast which includes Tom Santel, famous for his portrayal in "The Spoilers," and now being starred in Goldwyn productions. Mr. Santel plays the leading role in this production in his usual virile manner.

Mary Charleson, former leading lady for Henry B. Walthall and other prominent stars, and George Fawcett, the former Griffith player and now directing Vitaphone productions are other principles in the cast. The picture is being shown at the Pastime theater today and tomorrow.

"The Country That God Forgot" is a drama of exceptional interest, and a story which will appeal to all. Interpreted and directed by such well known people it cannot fail to arouse the most solid approval in its action and strong appealing force.

"TALE OF TWO WORLDS," WITH AN ALL-STAR CAST, NOW AT THE LYRIC

Had Frank Lloyd, Goldwyn director, known the Chinese alphabet, he would have saved himself the time and the impudence incident to retaking a scene in Governor Morris' photoplay, "A Tale of Two Worlds," which was made at the Goldwyn studios and will be shown at the Pastime theater today and tomorrow.

The story deals with the love of an American for a girl who is being reared by a Chinese servant. Throughout the story several hundred Chinese were employed in mob scenes. These extras were gathered in and about Los Angeles. It may not be generally known that the meaning of Chinese words depends upon the way they are pronounced; that is to say, upon what notes they are sung. Another difficulty is the fact that the Chinese musical scale consists of quarter steps, whereas our scale is composed of half steps. It can be readily seen how hard it is for an American to sing words in Chinese.

Mr. Lloyd had to know a few words to direct his Chinese mob. One of them was "Fungo." But when he shouted it through the megaphone, expecting the crowd to stand perfectly quiet, they began to shiver and shimmy. Lloyd was furious. He called the interpreter to him.

"Ah, no," said he. "You must say it with upward song, so: Fung-go." And Frank Lloyd had his first lesson in the musical dialects of the Chinese language.

What can the motion picture provide in place of stage color? That is a question largely answered in the spectacular Harry Knoch production of "Carnival," which was recently released by United Artists and is now attracting large crowds at the Pastime. It is being repeated today.

The devices employed claim chief attention.

Here is a story which almost

FIRE CHIEF IS PLEASED WITH SCHOOL DRILLS

All School Buildings Emptied in Less Than Two Minutes; Students Leave Library in 55 Seconds.

Parents need not fear that their children will be hurt in case of fires at the school buildings, for, according to a report filed yesterday by the city manager, Fire Chief William Collier has found that out of six buildings recently inspected, 1 minute and 40 seconds is the longest time it took all the children to be out of any building. This time was taken from the second of the bell rung when the children were all in their seats and not prepared for the drill.

In some instances the buildings were emptied in less than one minute. Chief stress is being put on the fire drill at all of the public schools and, although school has only been in session a few weeks, the students have already learned exactly what to do when the fire signal rings. Chief Collier gave all of the buildings a thorough inspection and made no suggestion for fire escape changes in the report. The city with Chief Manager James Gladding yesterday.

During the fire drills, the First ward school, which contains 345 students, was emptied in 1 minute and 30 seconds. The second ward, 430 children, 57 seconds; Third ward, 366 students, 57 seconds; Fourth ward, 500 students, 1 minute and 30 seconds; Central building, 345 students, 1 minute, 40 seconds; Library building, 150 students, 55 seconds.

The Harwood School for Girls, the Sisters' Convalescent Home and the Sisters' school were inspected by the fire chief, but no fire drills were held.

LOCAL HUNTERS SHOOT MOOSE IN CANADIAN WILDS

Sportsmen Return With Five Head Each After Five Weeks' Trip to Quebec for Big Game.

A three hundred mile canoe trip through country where no white man had ever been within the Indian's memory, the sight of thirteen moose on one lake in the Canadian province of Quebec, and the capture of two fine specimens themselves, are just the high spots in the succession of adventures which Dr. H. Fred Pettit and E. E. Bliss had on their recent hunting trip in northeastern America. The two men returned to the city yesterday elated over the success of their five weeks' trip for big game. Dr. Bliss, who got his first moose on this trip, is just a little more jubilant than "Doc" Pettit, who now boasts a second huge trophy to hang in over the family hearth, or wherever else his wife will let him. If Dr. Pettit thought he was lucky last year, he must figure now that he's getting to be some big game hunter, for the horns of the new trophy are an inch wider and just as remarkably formed as last year's. Dr. Bliss can still crow over his companion, however, for his specimen has a span of 55 1-2 inches as compared with the doctor's paltry 55. Dr. Pettit's moose weighed 1,100 pounds.

The two men spent three weeks in the lake country with the chief of an Algonquin tribe, and his Indian son-in-law, a member of the Canadian mounted police, as guides and two other Indians as portage and camp aides. They traveled and did their hunting in a great canoe. Dr. Bliss shot the first moose after eight days out and Dr. Pettit got his a few days later. They brought the heads and about 500 pounds of the most back to camp with them. "It was absolutely virgin country up where we were," said Dr. Pettit in telling about the trip. "We blazed our own trails from lake to lake, finding our way back only by the skill of the Indians. Game of all sorts was plentiful. Fishing was so good that it was no sport. One day when we had run out of moose meat in camp, I went out in the canoe to fish and caught five in half an hour, none of which weighed under four pounds."

Do You Look Forward To a Good Night's Rest?

Do you regularly anticipate a refreshing sleep? Or do you dread going to bed, only to stare, sleepless, at the walls? The difference between sleeping and staring is simply a matter of nerves.

When your nervous system is in a sound condition, you are certain to sleep well. But when your nerves are worn out and beyond your control, your rest is broken and your awakening leaves you languid and irritable.

Doctors know that much of the nerve disorders result from tea and coffee drinking. The drugs in these drinks over-stimulate, often causing the serious ills which result from disturbing the regular bodily functions. It is for your health's sake that many doctors now say you should quit tea and coffee. Drink Postum, the delicious meal-time beverage instead! In flavor it is much like coffee.

Postum is fundamentally a nerve strengthener because it lets you get sound, restful sleep. Postum is a skillfully-made cereal beverage, and the secret of its popularity is its protection to health and its delicious flavor.

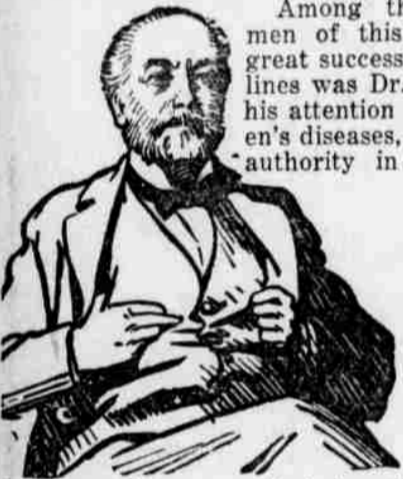

Ask your grocer for Postum. Drink this hot, refreshing beverage in place of tea or coffee for 10 days and see what a wonderful difference it will make in the way you feel.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

A Successful Man

Among the notable professional men of this country who achieved great success along strictly legitimate lines was Dr. R. V. Pierce. Devoting his attention to the specialty of women's diseases, he became a recognized authority in that line. His work, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser," is now in three million homes in this country and Europe. At one time Dr. Pierce represented his home district in congress.

Fifty years ago last winter, this noted physician gave to the world a Prescription which has never been equalled for the weakness of women. Many women in every hamlet, town or city will gladly testify that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription did them a world of good.

Another of this great physician's successful remedies is known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and, like the "Prescription," is now sold by druggists everywhere, in both liquid and tablets. The list of men and women all over the universe who have successfully used it for indigestion and as a blood tonic and system builder, makes an amazing total of thousands.

If you desire a cloth-bound copy of a new edition of the "Medical Adviser" by Dr. Pierce, send one dollar to the Invalid's Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. It is a book of 1000 pages of ready reference. For those not within easy reach of professional aid at critical times, and in cases of emergencies or dangerous accidents, it is invaluable.

cries aloud for color. To an extent they have supplied color in monochrome. Thus in the night pictures of Venice afloat flares or rockets are seen dropping on the water in red or green sparks, and at the carnival ball, lime lanterns flash now one tint, now another, on the crowd of dancers. But the real substitutes are variants in lighting and that rapidity of movement which is the cinema's monopoly. The ball episodes, with their animation and brilliance, compel enthusiasm in these respects, while agreeable novelties of the film are viewed of the stage from behind and a huge audience in front. As for the illustrative panorama of Venice, it is as good as photography can make it.

KILL IT.

The Ku Klux Klan agitation is assuming the proportion of a national question. Well it may. The nature of the organization is such that its existence can not be tolerated.

The basis of America's existence is law and order and the orderly processes of the law. Super-government and invisible governments can not be permitted to exist inside of, or along side of, our established institutions. The former are wholly incompatible with the latter. Every citizen is guaranteed protection against arrest without warrant, unless taken in the act of committing a crime. He is guaranteed a fair, open and impartial trial by a jury of his peers. He is guaranteed a presumption of innocence until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. He is guaranteed the right of appeal to a reviewing body unaffected by local public sentiment. These rights belong to every American citizen under our constitution.

That a secret order can be tolerated, membership in which is concealed and the identity of whose agents of punishment is hidden behind the mask of a robe, to take away from us any or all of these guarantees, is unthinkable.

The argument in its behalf, that it is to reinforce and expedite the vengeance of the law, is a sophistry. It annuls law—fundamental law—in its effort to punish what its whim decides may need punishing.

All the ordinary restraints of personal responsibility for one's acts are lacking. A bunch of black-robed, or white-robed, non-entities passes judgment and inflicts summary punishment.

The whole thing is disturbing to the peace and quiet of any community. An unseen hand may reach out in the dead of night and drag citizens from their beds. Such a proceeding invites men to kill in self-defense and to hate a government which fails to protect its citizens against invisible and organized lawlessness.

Now an insincere defender of this outrage introduces a resolution in congress to investigate all secret orders. Thus he hopes to prevent an investigation of any. If there are others which presume to substitute violence for law, let them be investigated. Social societies which are secret only for the purpose of protecting their members against imposition by non-members, do not belong in the same class with these law-defying and cowardly assassins of other men's rights. The unknown congressman who tried this smart trick will fall, no doubt, in the end he seeks.

If this thing rears its head in New Mexico, it is to be hoped that our officials will strike it dead.

PHILANDER C. KNOX.

Senator Knox is dead. With his death one of the great and experienced minds in our public life ceased to function. As attorney general, secretary of state and United States senator he has shown his brain to be the peer of any in American politics.

Senator Knox was the product of a state which has been boss-ridden for half a century. His phenomenal ability brought him to the surface. However, a political career was a possibility only by compromise with expediency. The senator never tried to be a real part of the Quay or Penrose machines. He merely refrained from interfering with them. He avoided any public attitude which would incur their ill-will. Because he did not disturb them and yet added a twang of respectability to them, he was allowed to represent his state. Penrose could have destroyed him had he so chosen.

Knox was not, by temperament, a complete and whole-hearted mandpatter. Political necessity led him to appear more in that role than his temperament or inclination dictated. His mind was too lucid for him to fail to see the ultimate peril of the domination of the country by big business. His patriotism prevented his complete surrender to his environment. It was he who guided the legal course of Roosevelt in his assaults upon "malefactors of great wealth." He favored bringing these interests into subjection to the government and yet was in no wise a radical.

Knox was very sane and far-sighted. He had a distinguished record of conservative service to his country. His going out was untimely and will be met with public regret.

Yet who can say that it is not desirable from the standpoint of its effect upon a man's public record, that he die at the height of his career? Perhaps Lincoln has a greater place in history than he would have had had he struggled with the bitter problems of reconstruction. The lovable but conservative McKinley died at his zenith. A reaction toward progressivism was already setting in which would have been difficult for him in the succeeding four years.

Perhaps Knox has succumbed at a fortunate time for his political record. Who can say "no"? Yet the senate will miss his experience and wisdom. The ways of Providence are inscrutable.

PROFITS FROM WAR.

Who wants war? After the experiences of the last seven years, who could want war?

Those who lose in a venture do not want to repeat it. The bulk of the world is now counting losses. Ruined business, wrecked commercial and industrial systems, worthless money, crushing tax burdens represent part of the war bill. The victims of these do not want war. If all were participants in this reckoning a unanimous and universal voice would be lifted the world over against even the suggestion of the possibility of repeating such a calamity.

But some cast their balances on the other side of the ledger. In March, 1919, the E. I. DuPont de Nemours company in its annual report to security holders announced that for the four years of the war the company had produced 1,466,761,219 pounds of military explosives. The gross capital of the company was increased from $33,423,000 to $208,846,000, or 270 per cent. To the stockholders was distributed $140,983,000. The gross business amounted to $1,490,000,000. The total dividends amounted to 458 per cent of the capital stock's par value while the increase in market value of the original securities was 374 per cent.

"It is difficult to imagine," says the report, "a more satisfactory financial result."

And yet, in face of this report, the chairman of the board of the company writes in the Nation's

Business that the risk of munition making is so great that no munition maker would urge war for the selfish reason that he desires to make money out of war. The writer declares for permanent peace and disarmament.

THE COUNTRY DOCTOR.

The scarcity of the country doctor as a source of keen popular interest is matching the scarcity of teachers in the rural districts which has been met by consolidations and the employment of specially trained "teachers helpers." The country doctor is stronger in tradition than the country teacher, and his disappearance even by rumor is disturbing. In the generation represented by the grandparents of today the country doctor was one of the greatest American institutions. He carried his supply of crude drugs in his saddle bags and an exhausted sunshine in his face and his cheery words. Whatever he may have lacked of scientific attainment to handicap him as compared to his town brother, he compensated for in that rare atmosphere of fraternal cheerfulness which no country doctor was without.

Patients improved when they heard his horse's hoofs on the road. All the people for miles around were as members of one big family so far as the doctor was concerned. As the towns grew the young doctors chose to display their skill there, some because the life was less laborious, some because they believed rewards better. The country doctor of today is at the disappearing point, largely because of his consideration for wife and children. He says frankly cash returns are satisfactory often, but that he wants better conditions for wife and family than he finds in the country. But for the fact that the automobile brings the city doctor and his country patient nearer each other this situation would be serious.

RATIFYING THE TREATY.

It should be a matter of world-wide satisfaction that next to the last step in establishing formal peace between the United States and Germany has been taken and that the last one is assured within a few weeks.

The German reichstag has ratified the treaty and the American senate soon will. Therefore international commerce may be carried on in normal fashion between all the great nations to the extent permitted by general economic revival. While we shall witness perhaps more than a reasonable amount of debate in Washington over the treaties submitted by President Harding, indications are that the small number of senatorial obstructionists will be incapable of prolonging it indefinitely.

All the interests of the United States being safeguarded and there being nothing in the treaties which can reasonably be construed as threatening the rights and interests of the nations with which we were associated in the war, the proper course is to ratify. The people will have patience with objectors who have their sincere opposition on patriotic grounds and even with those whose opposition is no more worthy than that of the reichstag members who hesitated to admit that Germany was responsible for starting the world war.

But the country favors settlement and ending of the force which has lasted for more than two years already.

EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

NEAR GREENLAND'S ICE MOUNTAINS.

(From the Cincinnati Enquirer.)
Not peculiar to the United States are the hovering fleets of rum-running sea craft lying outside the three-mile limit. Norway is trying the experiment of prohibiting distilled spirits, and has produced conditions which are faithfully duplicated in this country.

The price of the outlawed drinks has advanced to double or treble the old scale, and smuggling organizations, tempted by the prospect of enormous profits, are springing into existence. Just over the line are anchored German, Danish and English boats with cargoes of the forbidden beverages, while skurrying about are dozens of small Norwegian vessels awaiting their turn for purchases and opportunities to run ashore.

Denmark, to aid her neighbor, has prohibited the export and re-export of spirituous liquor. This has resulted in handing the illicit trade over to the Germans and English, who go to their home ports for fresh supplies from time to time, returning to their anchorages within sight of Norway's shores. Some have even established cabarets aboard their ships and are reported as doing a roaring business.

Therefore, let Americans take heart and not feel that they are a people set apart for wickedness and the breaking of commandments. Indeed, they have brethren in every country where prohibition laws are in existence, human nature being curiously the same in all lands underneath the sun.

Bedtime Stories For Little Ones

By Howard B. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S SURPRISE.

One fine October morning Uncle Wiggily awakened in his hollow stump bungalow to feel rather queer—not ill, you know, but as though something might happen. Like Fourth of July or Christmas, for instance.

"Wonder what day this is!" thought the bunny. "It can't be Easter. I must look at the calendar."

The bunny gentleman hopped from his nice, warm bed over to the calendar on the wall. The numbers on it appeared just as they had the night before, but as Uncle Wiggily looked a second time he saw one of the pretty red numbers with a sort of "Ring Around the Rosie" on it. Then, all of a sudden, before you could say "Fluzz-Fluzz," Mr. Longears remembered what day it was.

"Why, it's Nurse Jane's birthday!" he exclaimed. "I must hurry to the store to buy her a present."

Uncle Wiggily decided to hurry down the back stairs and go to the 25-cent store, and get back with Nurse Jane's present before she missed him. Very quietly he slid down the banister and out of the back door. After that he didn't need to be so quiet, because Nurse Jane couldn't hear him anyway. He soon reached the 25-cent store.

"I would like to buy a birthday present for Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy," he told the little mouse girl clerk. "Well, we have some very pretty handkerchiefs, with carrots embroidered in the corner. You like that?"

"No," answered Uncle Wiggily. "I don't believe she would. You know, she bought herself a fox of those last week. And she has some handkerchiefs with cabbage leaves worked in the middle."

"How about a box of candied turnips?" asked the mouse girl. "Really," said the rabbit gentleman, "I don't know what to buy for her. I think I'll go home and ask her what she'd like."

"With that the bunny started to hop home, but just as he reached the door of the store, he heard a hand playing the nicest music you can imagine."

"Why, there must be a parade going down the street!" exclaimed the rabbit uncle.

"Oh, no," laughed the mouse girl. "That is one of our phonographs playing. We got a new lot in yesterday."

"That's just what I'll get for Nurse Jane's birthday!" cried the bunny.

Nurse Jane's birthday!" cried the bunny.

"So Mr. Longears bought a nice, shiny, new phonograph and some records to play on it. One record was called 'The Lettuce Garden.' It was very pretty. The name of another record was, 'If I Were a Little Squirrel,' and a pussy cat lady sang that one. Then, just for fun, Uncle Wiggily bought a record that sounded like a lot of soldiers shooting off guns."

It was lucky that Uncle Wiggily met Sammie Littletail with his new express wagon, or else the bunny gentleman might not have been able to get the phonograph home, for it was quite heavy. However, Mr. Longears put it on the little cart and soon he and Sammie were at the rabbit gentleman's hollow stump bungalow, not having met the Fuzzy Fox, the Wootzie Wolf or even the Skeezicks and Pipsiwah.

"Now, Sammie," whispered Uncle Wiggily, "well surprise Nurse Jane. You knock at the front door and when she comes, talk to her a little while until I can slip around the back way and put the phonograph on a chair in the kitchen."

So Sammie did this, and when

Nurse Jane, hadn't gone home, and when he heard and saw what was happening he rushed in and cried: "Stop! If you don't let Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane go I'll make a lot of soldiers, with guns, chase you out of here!"

"Tooth! As if you could do that!" laughed the Fuzzy Fox.

But brave Sammie hopped out to the kitchen, and he put on the phonograph the gun-shooting record Uncle Wiggily had bought for fun.

"Bang! Bang! Bingley-bang-bang!" went the phonograph guns, and the drums went "Rubbly-dubbly-dubbly!"

"Oh, come on! Let's run! The soldiers are after us!" howled the Wolf, and he and the Fox ran away, not hurting Uncle Wiggily or Nurse Jane at all. And the muskrat lady was as thankful as anything that it was her birthday, and that the bunny had bought her a present.

So everything came out all right. And if the coffee pot doesn't try to jump through the tea strainer when the dining room table dances on one leg, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Susie's apple.

"Why, it's Nurse Jane's birthday!" he exclaimed.

Uncle Wiggily had put the music box on a chair he slipped on the record called, "If I Were a Little Squirrel," sung by the pussy lady.

"Oh, my goodness!" cried Nurse Jane, who was at the front door talking to Sammie, the rabbit boy. "Who is that singing in my kitchen?"

With that she turned and ran into the bungalow. Uncle Wiggily hid behind a chair, and when Nurse Jane saw the new, shiny phonograph she was so surprised that she didn't know what to say.

"Happy birthday, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy!" called Uncle Wiggily. "But, all of a sudden, the old Fuzzy Fox and Wootzie Wolf, who had sneaked in early that morning, sprang out of the pantry. The Fox caught Uncle Wiggily and the Wolf grabbed Nurse Jane and dragged them into the dining room where they had big bags to put them in."

But, very luckily, Sammie, the Nurse Jane, hadn't gone home, and when he heard and saw what was happening he rushed in and cried: "Stop! If you don't let Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane go I'll make a lot of soldiers, with guns, chase you out of here!"

"Tooth! As if you could do that!" laughed the Fuzzy Fox.

UNIVERSITY HEIGHTS DOINGS

Robert Gordon, recently of Detroit, Mich., has purchased a lot on Stanford avenue and is preparing to build at once.

Steps are being taken to name some day in the near future as "clean-up day," when every resident of the Heights will gather all available trash in piles in the alley and teams be provided for hauling it away.

The names of the avenues are being painted on new sign posts all over the Heights. The next move will be to properly number every house.

There is not a single house on the heights for rent.
