RAILWAY POSSIBILITIES

Albuquerque the Center of a Vast System of Proposed Lines.

MAP OF THE CHOCTAW ROAD.

New Mexico is almost sure in the near future to secure a vast network of new railroads. The Rock Island is building a line from north to south through the territory. The Santa Fe Pacific, having secured control of the Denver & Rio Grande, is preparing to extend its New Mexico line to El Paso. The Memphis & Choctaw road will soon enter the territory and intend to build direct to Albuquerque. The following map shows the route of the Choctaw road.

The Rock Island intends to build a branch line from Santa Rosa to the south, passing through Albuquerque and connecting to the Santa Fe and Denver & Rio Grande lines.

The proposed road would tap the Organ mines. A line of road from Magdalena west to the Mesquite mountains would open a rich coal field. It is sure to be built in the near future.

The lines mentioned are all sure to be built in the next five years and will closely connect every county in the territory, with Albuquerque in the center of the entire system. The indications are bright that the territory will have a half million people within the next five years and only need stretched to put all kinds of development in motion.

Very favorable reports are received here of a wheat crop for this year, as it is considered equally as good if not better than that of last year. The grain will be ready to cut this week. A Noted Outlaw Captured—In Jail at St. Johns.

George E. Scarborough, Jr., Ed. Halterman and Pollard Pearson brought down from Santa Fe, N. M., a prisoner, alias Miliard, and after lunch at the Barth hotel placed him in the iron cage made for such characters. Scarborough, a prize fighter and a well known character in the underworld, was captured by the police of St. Johns, N. M., and taken to the jail there. He was captured while working around some time for an opportunity to get his man, then realizing their chance had come took to the hills. Scarborough and his companions would not doubt upon the night. Hiding their horses some distance away they laid for their victim. WONDERFUL TRADE.

With the present week the fiscal year of the government closes, and Uncle Sam will close a set of books showing the most prosperous period in his history. The treasury statement, to be issued next week when all the figures are in, will show that during the fiscal year which ends to-day the receipts of the government have exceeded the expenditures by about $77,000,000. This showing, two years after a foreign war, and while the expensive results of that war were still in evidence, is believed to be unequalled in the financial history of any nation.

The treasury balance sheet will show receipts of about $347,000,000 and expenditures of $270,000,000. This surplus of $77,000,000 is in the face of extraordinary expenditures for army and navy, as well as for the civil administration of the colonial territories. The repeal of certain portions of the revenue act will cost the government about $40,000,000 annually, and the treasury will not be over $35,000,000, and probably less, an government expenditures are constantly increasing, while receipts are slowly declining. The treasury is already facing over its successful record for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1901, the administration is prepared to show still more over the marvelous development of the foreign trade of the United States. The figures will show a balance of trade in favor of the United States of about $675,000,000, or about $125,000,000 more than for the previous year.

Whatever foreign critics may say, they cannot explain away that this fiscal year the United States has sold abroad of our domestic merchandise more than two-thirds of a billion of dollars' worth greater than the cost of the foreign merchandise brought into this country. No matter how much the balance may be multiplied, this little matter will be on the right side of Uncle Sam's ledger this afternoon.

WAR AGAINST DISEASE.

Medical science in the United States is on the eve of a remarkable development if the improved appliances for investigation recently provided for shall result in the progress expected. It was announced that Mr. J. P. Morgan has promised a million dollars to the Harvard medical school. The buildings to be erected with this money will be determined to establish an institution for medical investigation in New York city, and give $200,000 toward the beginning of the work. The University of Pennsylvania is to contribute immediately a new medical laboratory, to cost a half million dollars more.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NEW MEXICO.

Through the generosity of Mrs. Walter Bradley, a science hall devoted to the study of climatology and prevention and cure of consumption. There is still room for far greater efficiency in the war against disease. The science of bacteriology is hardly out of its infancy. With the establishment of these new institutions for research America may be expected to contribute its share toward the knowledge which saves human life.

BIG WHEAT CROP.

The outlook promises the greatest crop of wheat this year ever raised in the United States. On the basis of the government's report of acreage and crop condition, the statistics of the New York stock exchange figure on a wheat harvest of 682,718,000 bushels. It is true that this crop is yet to be gathered, and that many chances of heavy damage are yet to be run, but the present promise is of a record-breaking yield of wheat, combined with only fair crops at the best in Europe, and short crops in most of western Europe. This would mean another season of a large home surplus in demand abroad at most profitable prices. What that would mean to the business prosperity of the country need not be explained. The largest wheat harvest ever gathered in the United States was that of 1898-97, 148,765 bushels, and the next largest was the 611,800,000 bushel yield in 1891. Last year's wheat crop amounted to 522,229,505 bushels.

FINE BUSINESS.

The remarkable business being done by the Santa Fe is shown by the large increase in gross and net earnings, and also by the large orders for new equipment placed this season. One hundred and twenty-five locomotives and thirty passenger and electric lighted coaches have just been ordered, and following similar large orders placed a few months ago, are significant of the heavy demands made on the carrying facilities of the line.

BEST FOR ALL PURPOSES.

The idea that it is most profitable to advertise a specialty in a publication which is devoted to the interests of that specialty is not supported by experience. The publisher of The American Farmer (which deals with agricultural matters) says he has advertised his publication in all the agricultural papers, the leading magazines and a number of daily newspapers. Of the newspaper advertising he says: "It paid well."

IT IS LESS THAN A WEEK TO INDEPENDENCE DAY.

It is less than a week to Independence day, and as yet Albuquerque has not stirred to a celebration of the day, except some horse races at the fair grounds. The Citizens don't make an elaborate program, but it will be dignified if this city does not make at least a month of a holiday out of the fourth of July as the neighboring smaller towns. Let the G. A. R. members stir themselves.
