RAIL STRIKE IS CALLED OFF

"BIG FIVE" DECIDE NOT TO INSTITUTE GENERAL WALKOUT OCTOBER 30

PRESIDENT OF UNION ADMITS WEIGHT OF PUBLIC OPINION WAS AGAINST STRIKE ACTION

"Entire Washington Administration Opposed to Us," Says Head of Railway Conductors; "Full Force of Government Would Be Against Us if We Went Out."

(By The Associated Press.)
Chicago, Oct. 27.—The rail strike scheduled for October 30 was averted tonight when leaders of the switchmen, trainmen, conductors, engineers and firemen at a joint meeting adopted resolutions withdrawing authorization of a walkout and endorsing the railroad telegraphers' organization announced that they would take similar action. These were the only unions which had authorized a strike.

The vote calling off the strike was unanimous by organizations. W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, announced. The official wording of the resolution adopted was that the "strike be declared not effective."

The vote in the individual unions was unusually close, however, the trainmen particularly holding lengthy arguments before agreeing to cancellation of the strike order, the labor chiefs said. In some of the groups the ballot was declared as "the closest in history on a similar question."

L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, said that the unions had decided to call off the strike because of "the growing public opinion against the strike would be against the labor board, and consequently the government and not against the railroad."

It was evident also that the entire Washington administration was opposed to us and that we have had little chance of gaining our objectives," said Mr. Sheppard.

"We called this strike to gain certain rights to which our men were entitled," Mr. Sheppard told the Associated Press.

"It soon became evident, however, that the roads were not going to give in to our demands. We were misled by propaganda to the effect that we really would be striking against the government and not against the railroad."

"This railroad propaganda found its way to the United States railroad labor board. This governmental agency told us that it would look on a strike as against it and the government and not against the roads, and that the full force of the government would be brought to bear against us if we walked out."

The first announcement of the executive committee was made by Mr. Lee. Rushing to the floor below the hotel meeting room, where dozens of newspaper reporters were congregated, he smilingly shouted:

"The strike is off, boys, but I've only got one copy of the resolution and I'll show you that tomorrow."

All of the union men were smiling as they came out and many of them jokingly pushed and shoved each other down the stairs. To the queries, most of them merely replied:

"It's all settled. See you tomorrow."

The code message calling off the strike, arranged for in advance, will be sent out tomorrow morning, the union heads said. A code word will be sent to each general chairman of the unions, and he will in turn forward the orders to each of the subordinate officials under him.

Rail Officials Pleased.
Chicago, Oct. 27.—J. H. Elliott of the rail group of the railroad labor board, when informed that there would be no strike at this time, said:

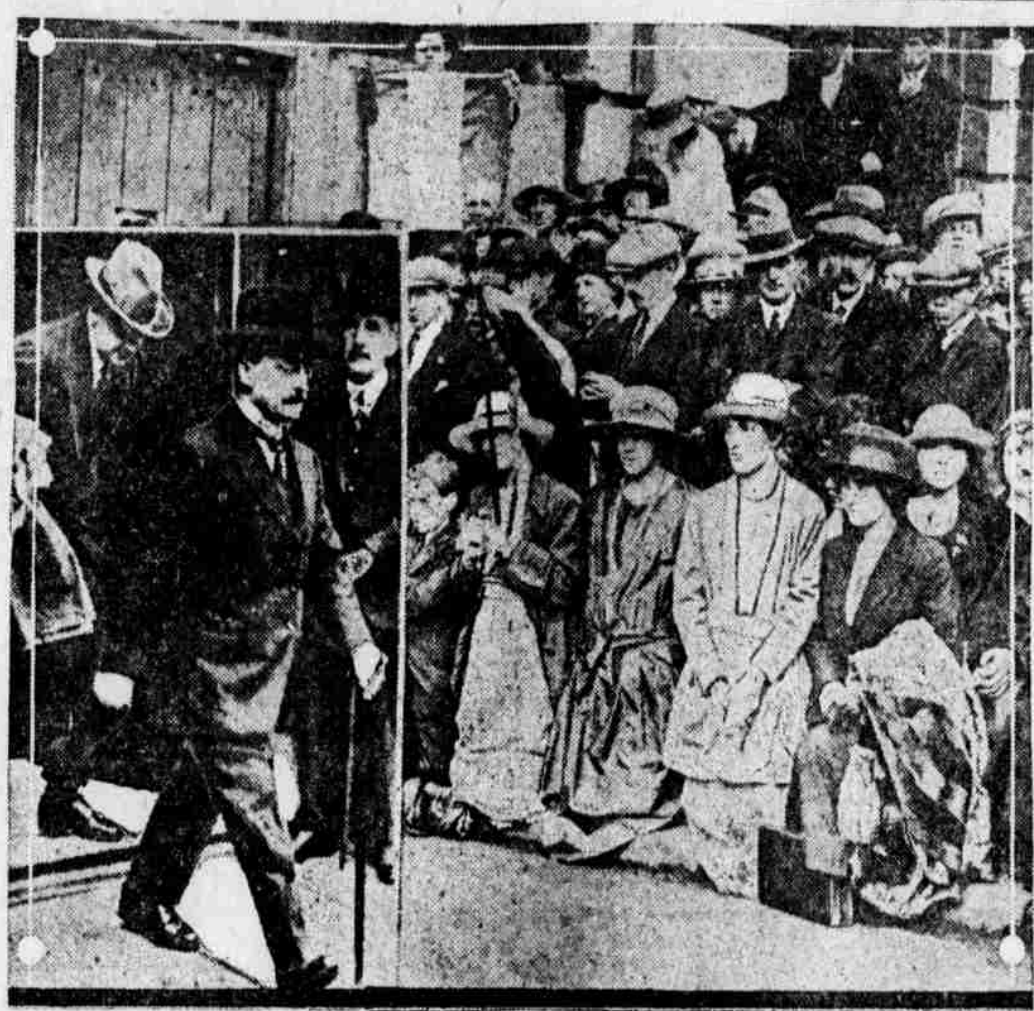

"I am very much gratified at the good judgment exhibited by the men. To say any more would just be shooting the bull."

William H. Finley, president of the Chicago and Northwestern, at his home, said:

"I am very glad to hear that. It certainly will be a relief to every one."

BLANTON OF TEXAS PUBLICLY REPRIMANDED FOR INSERTION OF 'ROUGH TALK' IN RECORD

Saved From Expulsion From Congress by Narrow Margin of Eight Votes; Remarks He Caused to Have Printed Are Called 'Unspeakably Vile,' Congressman Faints After Ordeal.

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Oct. 27.—Saved from being thrown out of the house of representatives by only eight votes, Thomas L. Blanton, a Texas democrat, was publicly reprimanded today by Speaker Gillett, in accordance with a resolution of censure, against which no man cast a vote.

Then a moment later, as he walked out of the chamber with all eyes on him, he toppled over in a heap. Some of his colleagues who had voted to expel him, picked him up and placed him in a lounge. But he did not stay there long. Rousing himself, he stumbled out, tears streaming down his cheeks. He was heard to express the hope that he might never see the house again.

There was no doubt, however, as members expressed, that the Texas man was crushed and worn by his experience of the day, an experience that seldom comes during the life of a man in congress. For an hour and ten minutes, with hostile eyes on him, he fought to defend himself from the charge that he had transgressed the law by inserting into the Congressional Record a document described as "unspeakably vile."

Before he got up to speak, it was the view of republicans and democrats that action upon the resolution to expel him would depend on his own attitude. He sat with folded hands as Representative Mondell, republican leader, pleaded to have him cast out. And then, pale and smiling, he stepped to the front as the leader sat down.

His voice hoarse and broken, he touched rapidly upon the charges, and then his old-time fighting fire returned. At the beginning he said he knew the house was prepared to expel him.

When a rap of the gavel sounded the end of the hour at which he stepped in the midst of a sentence and, turning on his heels, he was half way out when a request was made from the democratic side that he have thirty additional minutes and was opposed by Mondell.

But the leader was quick to withdraw his objection and the Texas man was re-summoned.

Refusing at first to yield for questions, he permitted Representative Longworth, republican, Ohio, to ask him something, and republicans asserted tonight that the reply had turned the tide against him. The Ohio member wanted to know if the report was true that Mr. Blanton had declared an intention to mail 250,000 copies of the undelivered speech, with its of fending affidavit, after the house had ordered it stricken from the record.

Only a lack of money, he said, prevented its mailing to every voting man.

Instantly half a dozen representatives were on their feet.

Representative Blanton had reiterated that the publication had been sent out in a just cause, that no law had been violated. He pleaded with the house, for the sake of his wife and children, to put back into the record his own undelivered speech, in which he

HARDING SEEKS TOWEL NORTH AND SOUTH INTO COMPLETE UNITY

Fall Commends Address of His Superior on Race Issue, Claiming It Was Vital to South.

PRESIDENT TALKS AT MONUMENT TO GRADY

Despite Drizzling Rain, Streets Are Jammed to Greet Executive; School Children Assist.

(By The Associated Press.)

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 27.—President Harding concluded his visit to the south today with speeches in Georgia, reconsecrating his administration to the task of finally obliterating section divisions.

In two addresses here and one at Columbus, he told cheering crowds that it was one of his fondest hopes to see his presidency bring north and south into complete harmony and co-operation.

At the statue here of Henry W. Grady, Atlanta's apostle of national reconciliation, Mr. Harding broadened his gospel of "understanding and good will" to include all the work and gave notice that if the armament conference fails to bring the nations into complete concord "it will be no fault of the United States."

Many thousands cheered the chief executive at the monument and a smaller gathering of business men applauded when he expressed a similar plea at a luncheon. Applause greeted him during a pause in the rain, and despite a drizzling rain the streets were jammed.

So great was the crowd about the Grady monument that many could not hear and those on the sidewalks joined the soldiers and cadets assigned to guard the president.

Following his address the president was escorted to the Georgia Terrace hotel, where he was tendered a short reception before leaving for Washington.

The president's visit to Atlanta and Columbus followed an early morning stop at the infantry school at Camp Benning, where the chief executive saw a demonstration of an infantry attack.

Mr. Harding did not again mention the race problem, on which he delivered an address yesterday in Birmingham, Ala.

Secretary Fall, alluded to that address at today's luncheon as one of the greatest deliverances ever addressed to the American people.

"When the message that the president brought to the south is carried to all the people of the south, it will be seen that no man who ever spoke to the people of the south a message more in their interest."

In his Grady monument speech, the president drew an analogy between the lessons of the civil war and those of the world war and declared his hope that the spirit of reconciliation typified by Grady would be a new expression in the present reconstruction. The crowd which greeted the president earlier in the day at Columbus was so large his voice would not carry to its fringes, and so thousands of the crowd were quieted for several minutes after he had come to a stop. School children, carrying American flags, led the cheering and showered Mrs. Harding with flowers.

GOVERNMENT'S TREATMENT OF CARRIERS BAD

(By The Associated Press.)
Chicago, Oct. 27.—Attacking both the interstate commerce commission and the railroad board as "inefficient," S. O. Dunn, editor of Railway Age, today declared that the government's policy in dealing with the carriers was far more serious than the strike crisis. His statements were made in an address before the Elevator Manufacturers' association.

"A continuance of the policy of the interstate commerce commission on the one hand, and the labor board on the other," he said, "will inevitably result, when industry and commerce try to revive, in acute traffic congestions and a general demoralization similar to that which caused the 'outlaw' rail strikes in 1920."

BLOODHOUNDSON TRAIL OF SLAYER OF PRIEST LEAD POSSE TO HOUSE

Plow Through Blinding Snowstorm to Home of Italian Who Reported Finding of Body.

NO ARRESTS MADE BY STATES ATTORNEY

Suspect Reports to Officers That He Heard Shooting And Rushed Out to Locate Assailant.

(By The Associated Press.)

Lead, S. D., Oct. 27.—Bloodhounds, put on the trail tonight at the scent of the murder of Father A. B. Belknap, whose body was found in Poor Man's gulch road yesterday morning, led a posse tonight through a blinding snow storm directly to the house occupied by Tony Barolito, an Italian, and a man named Nimon Kootzman.

Neither Barolito nor Kootzman were arrested but County Attorney James Fowler, who questioned the men, announced that "important developments" had resulted.

Under Sheriff Warren Owen, after a conference with the county attorney, said: "Arrests may be made at any time."

The house is at the side of the road directly opposite the place where the priest's body was found. Kootzman said he and Barolito both heard shots about 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning and that Barolito ran out to see what had happened. He said he returned and reported a man reclining on the road, opposite the house. Barolito said he thought some one was shooting at his horse, running loose in the yard. "I ran out and saw a man across the road," he told County Attorney James Fowler. "I shouted, 'what are you trying to do? Kill my animal!' and the man across the road shot back you go to— you. You better watch out."

Barolito said he came back in and put on his shoes and went out again, when he saw a man. He said he then ran to a telephone and notified the police.

The bloodhounds were taken by train to Rapid City and brought back by automobile after last night had interrupted their progress here from Mitchell by automobile. They were put on the trail immediately after their arrival at 6 o'clock.

A guard was placed tonight around the garage at the residence of Bishop J. J. Lawler in which Father Belknap kept his automobile. A finger print expert will be put to work tomorrow on the car in an effort to find if the man who tampered with the machine

GOVERNMENT TO PROTECT ROADS IN RECEIVERSHIP

Attorney General Sends Order to Texas Officials Authorizing Request of Anti-Strike Order.

(By The Associated Press.)

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 27.—United States District Attorney John D. Hartman in making public late today instructions from Attorney General Daugherty authorizing him to request proclamation from a federal judge against the strike of rail employees on roads in Texas under federal receivership, said such a proclamation will not be issued unless there is violence and the roads are interrupted by strikers in giving their normal service. Authority was given Hartman at his own request to protect the International and Great Northern in case of disorders.

Should such a proclamation become necessary, Mr. Hartman said, he will file a motion before Federal Judge Joe Hutcheson, at Houston.

In the event the nation-wide strike scheduled for Sunday actually goes into effect, James A. Baker, federal receiver of the I. & G. N., as a federal officer, has authority to seek aid from the government in operating trains, Mr. Hartman said.

The instructions from the attorney general direct actions to be taken against employees or former employees who would interfere with operation of said road and in case of arrests bonds to the sum of one thousand dollars should be required.

ALTER FREIGHT EMBARGO ON TEXAS RAILROAD

HARDING'S ADDRESS ON RACE QUESTION CAUSES DEBATE IN SENATE LED BY GEORGIA SOLON

New Senator From Ohio Says Address Was Statement of Facts Which Country Will Applaud; Watson Claims Native of Ohio Cannot Understand Problem of South.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Oct. 27.—President Harding's address on the race question at Birmingham evoked statements today from democratic senators criticizing his remarks and from republican senators commending his position.

Democrats who criticized the speech included Senators Harrison, of Mississippi; Watson, of Georgia; Heflin, Alabama, and McKellar, of Tennessee. Republicans who declared their approval include Senators Calder, of New York; Spencer, Missouri, and Willis, of Ohio. The democrats declared the president's remarks were inappropriate and that his policies would tend toward social equality of the negro with the whites. Senator Watson, of Georgia, said the president's speech was "unfortunate and mischievous."

"We are not going to permit social or political equality of the kind the president advocates," he declared.

Senator Willis said, "the president's ringing statement in defense of political and economic equality of individuals is a recognition of the recognition of absolute divergence in things social and racial is as courageous as it is true."

"There is no use in anybody getting into a quarrel with facts," he added. "The president has stated the facts. The country will applaud President Harding's clearness of statements and patriotism of purpose."

Senator McKellar declared the president's speech was "ill-conceived, ill-timed, ill-placed, and can serve no useful purpose."

"It is only one of the many things to arouse social discussions and racial prejudices that had better be left dormant. Speeches of this kind will not benefit the negro and may do him serious harm."

Senator Calder, republican, New York, declared the president's speech courageous.

"I thoroughly endorse the president's statements," he said. "I endorse his views for political rights for negroes."

"It is an unfortunate thing when the president accepts an invitation to speak in such southern states as Georgia and Alabama and then finds it necessary to lecture their people about the absolute equality of the negro," Senator Watson said. "As the president is a native of Ohio he cannot possibly understand our situation in the south, where the population is almost equal—white and black."

"There is no such thing as economic discrimination against the blacks in the south. They get equal treatment from our merchants and our bankers. They have made no complaint of racial discrimination in economic matters."

"It is, therefore, a great pity that a northern man holding the highest office should go down into the south and plant there fatal germs in the minds of the black race."

"Those germs will sprout into events which will not be beneficial to either race."

"Does the governor of Alabama, who endorsed the president's lamentable speech, think Alabama should have a negro governor instead of a white man? Would he like to see the supreme court of Alabama filled with negro judges?"

SPEECH OF KATO ON JAPAN'S NAVY PROVESSURPRISE

(By The Associated Press.)
Tokio, Oct. 27.—(By The Associated Press.) The statement concerning the Japanese warship construction program, which Vice Admiral Kanji Kato, member of the Japanese delegation to the Washington conference, is reported to have made on his arrival at San Francisco, has startled Japanese naval authorities, according to the Asahi Shimbun today.

Particularly surprising, it says, was the dispatch which quoted Admiral Kato as saying:

"Japan's financial condition does not allow the government to expend an enormous amount for naval armament. Consequently, the scope of the armaments of the Japanese navy must be minimized, irrespective of the decision of the Washington conference."

Commenting today upon the alleged statement, the Asahi says:

"This is contrary to what is often declared by the Japanese navy department. The Japanese navy department maintains the principle that the Japanese government should keep in harmony with the governments of other powers in connection with the navy restriction and carry out the principle on the basis of mutually rational limitation to be arranged among the powers concerned."

"Japan has no intention to minimize her naval armament independently and on her own accord."

There should be no misunderstanding in that connection, declared naval authorities today, who were inclined to believe the "inconsistent statement" of the naval suite now in Washington must have been misconstrued on account of some mistake in cable transmission.

MRS. FRANK W. PARKER HEAD OF WOMAN'S CLUBS

Albuquerque Given 1922 Convention; Mrs. J. G. Gould Made Vice President at Large.

(By The Associated Press.)

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 27.—Mrs. Frank W. Parker of Santa Fe was elected president of the New Federation of Women's clubs which closed a three days session here tonight. Mrs. J. G. Gould, Albuquerque, was elected vice president at large; Mrs. Milley B. Taylor, Springfield, first vice president; Mrs. A. Delong, Gallup, second vice president; Mrs. M. A. Corbin, Artesia, third vice president; Mrs. Walter Mayes, Clovis, is recording secretary; Mrs. R. C. Teneyck, Santa Fe, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. R. Parsons, Fort Sumner, treasurer; Mrs. McDowell, Artesia, auditor; Mrs. L. S. Wilson, Raton, parliamentarian.

The convention has been the largest in the history of the federation and was particularly pleasing to the officers because this was the tenth anniversary meeting. While many entertainment features were carried out during the week, much of the program had to be dispensed with because the delegates were the guests of the New Mexico Military Institute today at lunch. The delegates had the same lunch at the same time the cadets were eating. They were much pleased with the New Mexico West Point. Wednesday night was State Music night and a program of musical and vocational numbers by representatives of the various clubs pleased the crowd which packed the high school auditorium. The women attended teas given this afternoon by Mrs. Ben Ames at her country home in another at the home of Capt. B. C. Mossum.

The program closed with a lecture tonight by Dr. E. L. Hewitt of Santa Fe.

Albuquerque received the 1922 convention.

WYOMING MAN GIVES STORY OF ROADHOUSE FRAY

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Gerald A. Stack, broker and real estate dealer of Lander, Wyo., on trial charged with manslaughter in connection with the shooting of Paul Brown, testified today.

Stack testified he had gone to the roadhouse with a friend for dinner. Brown was being elected by a waiter, he said, but broke away and rushed at him, grabbed him by the throat and started to choke him.

The broker said he drew his revolver and tried to beat Brown off, but failed.

"Then I fired several shots but I did not know I had shot him," Stack said.

WHITE ROBED MEN WARN NEGROES TO LEAVE ENID, OKLA.

(By The Associated Press.)
Enid, Okla., Oct. 27.—A parade of approximately 250 automobiles, each containing four or five men, clad in white robes and hoods last night drove through a negro street here amid a tumult of horns and other noise making devices. According to reports to the police, the parade was the result of a warning to leave town. Several were reported to have fled. The parade was thought to have been a sequel to a pistol fight between officers and two alleged negro thieves yesterday, in which the negroes were killed and a policeman injured.

MOVEMENT FOR A NATIONAL PARK GETS UNDER WAY

Las Cruces Chamber of Commerce Takes the Initiative to Carry Out Suggestion of Sec. Fall.

(Special Correspondence to The Journal.)

Las Cruces, N. M., Oct. 27.—Progress is being made in the movement initiated by the Las Cruces Chamber of Commerce looking to the creation, by the federal government, of a national park in southern New Mexico along the line suggested by Secretary of the Interior Fall in conference with H. H. Brook and Mark B. Thompson.

The committee selected to make the preliminary arrangements for the organization of the Southern New National Park association in New Mexico, Texas and Arizona consists of the following named persons:

Frank T. French, president of the Bascom-French company, chairman; H. H. Brook, president of the Elephant Butte Irrigation district; Vincent B. May, president of the V. B. May company; C. H. Knight, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. H. I. Kent, president of the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts.

Reports from various parts of New Mexico, Texas and Arizona indicate the national park proposal is a popular one.

Francis G. Tracy of Carlsbad, N. M., writes to H. H. Brook, as follows, in part:

"I have presented the matter of a national park in the southwest to our chamber of commerce and you will hear from them shortly. We are heartily in favor of such a park, but believe it ought to include the entire federal system comprised in Alamo, Lincoln and Mesquero reserves.

"There is a class of rugged scenery in the Alamo forest reserve which is not found either in the Lincoln or the Mesquero reserve, and, indeed, would be difficult to match in so small a compass anywhere in the United States. In addition to that during the summer months tourists from the south would be able to get into cool temperature nearly a day sooner than if they had to go to the Mesquero reserve before reaching good roads."

SIERRA CO. TO VOTE ON ESTABLISHING A COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL

Hillshoro, N. M., Oct. 27.—An election has been called for November 5 to vote on the question of establishing a county high school here. State Superintendent Conway has spent several days in the county and met with most hearty co-operation everywhere and at present it appears that the election will be carried with but a few dissenting votes. The trend of Mr. Conway's speeches in the various precincts was to emphasize the fact that Sierra county now has an opportunity to establish a high school. At present every other county in the state is giving full high school work.

BLOODHOUNDS ON TRAIL OF SLAYER LEAD POSSE TO HOUSE

Tuesday night left any trail behind him.

Footprints in an embankment beside the road near which the body of Rev. A. B. Belknap was found, three empty pistol cartridges and discovery of a man who saw the priest shortly before his murder yesterday morning, constituted today's developments.

Mr. E. E. Holvey, county coroner, postponed the inquest until tomorrow in the hope that, with the aid of the hounds, some clue to the identity of the murderer might be furnished for the official inquiry. The searching party, organized to follow the dogs, was headed by County Attorney James Fowler of Deadwood and included sheriffs deputies, other county and city officials and James J. Curran, district deputy of the Knights of Columbus.

Coroner Holvey has had an investigator at work all day on the scene of the murder with tape measure and magnifying glass looking for possible foot or finger prints. Dr. Holvey said the investigation had revealed footprints leading up the side of an embankment by the roadside, where Father Belknap was slain. He said the footprints were in such an unusual place that they must have been made by some one fleeing from the scene of the crime.

Chief of Police J. D. O'Meara said tonight the belief in growing that the murder was committed by a fanatic or mentally deranged person. Officials have questioned virtually every person in the neighborhood today. It was found not more than four or five residents heard the shots which killed the priest and only one man, Arthur Miller, saw the priest in the early morning hours just prior to his death.

Miller, assistant night foreman at a mining company's plant, who has lived here for twelve years, said he met the priest while going home from work yesterday morning and the priest told him he was responding to a call from a family in the third house from the round house in Bender park. There was no person with the priest, he said.

The family which the priest was to have called on was that of L. C. Deery, who declared he had heard no shooting and had not summoned the priest.

Police today examined Father Belknap's car, which had been tampered with prior to the tragedy, and reported that it had been tampered with by expert mechanics. A local mechanic assisted the police in examination of the car.

Priests from many parts of western South Dakota are planning to attend the funeral here Saturday morning. Bishop J. J. Lawler, at whose residence Father Belknap made his home, will officiate at solemn high mass. Later the body will be sent to Dubuque, Ia., for burial, accompanied by a guard of honor of the Knights of Columbus.

County Attorney Fowler announced he had retained John Heffron of Deadwood, former county attorney, and E. W. Fluke of Sioux Falls, former United States district attorney to aid in the investigation.

A woman of Kennelbunkport, Mo., has just celebrated her first birthday at the age of 63. She never knew the date of her birth until recently, when she wrote to the parish priest of her native town in Nova Scotia. She was informed that October 19 was her birthday, so she had her first party.

LLOYD GEORGE TO BRING HIS DAUGHTER TO U. S. WHEN HE COMES FOR PARLEY

Most recent photo of David Lloyd George and his daughter, Megan, snapped in London on his return from Laverne recently.

When David Lloyd George, Great Britain's premier, comes to the United States next month as head of the British delegation to the disarmament parley, he will be accompanied by his daughter, Megan, his constant companion in his journeys about the British empire. The two are almost inseparable. The daughter's watchful care of her father's health has been an important factor in his political trials recently.

uled for October 30 will be called off.

"I am not at liberty now to say what these arrangements will be, but I will say certain conditions resulted from today's meeting which have materially changed the situation and which lead me to believe that the meetings tonight will result in there being no strike," W. S. Stone, president of the engineers, said as he entered the night meeting.

"Something is going to break tonight. I can't tell you what, though."

According to several members of the board, the labor committee which conferred with it were told that the board would defer until tomorrow its decision on the hearing yesterday to which the carriers and the unions were asked to find out if the transportation act had been violated in the strike activities.

Labor men were informed that unless the crisis were settled tomorrow, the board would take its most drastic action thus far and that it had today received assurances from Washington that the full force of the government would be behind in any action taken preventing an interruption of transportation.

Statements that peace probably would result from tonight's conference of the union leaders also were made by several chiefs who heretofore have been termed "extremists" by their cohorts and those who have always been among the first to advocate a strike.

"Indications that tonight's conference would be a long one were seen, however, in the action of many rail labor leaders in cancelling reservations they had made on one train."

Early in the day Ben W. Hooper, vice chairman of the board, attended meetings of the union heads and presented copies of the board's recent reduction not to consider wage reduction petitions of any class of workers until rules and working conditions for that group had been settled. He also was reported to have urged cancellation of the strike order pending formal hearings on wages by the board and to have outlined to the unions possible plans for averting the walkout. He appeared before them in a personal capacity and not as a representative of the board, he explained.

Following Mr. Hooper's statements, the unions held individual conferences and then went into a joint conference to decide what action, if any, would be taken. Late this afternoon, Congressman at large William Burke of Pennsylvania, general chairman of Baltimore and Ohio conductors and Peter Kiduff, an official of the engineers' organization, went to the board to request deferment of the decision on yesterday's hearing. It was to this committee that the board delivered its ultimatum that the unions must act by tomorrow, or the board would deal with them "with ungloved hands," members of the board said.

Those members declared that they told the committee the railroad group of the board was insistent that "immediate and emphatic action be taken by it, and that this action was being deferred only at the counsel of the public and labor groups so that the unions might have a chance to act first."

Another committee of three vice chiefs of the engineers conferred several hours with Mr. Hooper during the afternoon, and it was reported this committee also was informed of the board's plans.

The board remained in executive session most of the day, awaiting word from the unions and discussing as statements on yesterday's hearing which probably will be issued tomorrow.

"The afternoon union meeting was enlivened when Mr. Stone smashed the camera of a photographer who attempted to take his picture. Mr. Stone chased the photographer several blocks yesterday when an attempt was made to snap him."

CHARLES LEMCKE TO REPRESENT STATE AT ARLINGTON CEMETERY

(Special Dispatch to Morning Journal.)

Santa Fe, Oct. 27.—New Mexico will be represented at the burial of the unknown soldier at Arlington cemetery on Armistice day by Charles F. Lemcke, Albuquerque, and Jose A. Pino, Lumberton, who were named today by Governor Mechem. Both received wounds overseas.

Will C. Barnes, now of Washington, who formerly was secretary of the cattle sanitary board at Albuquerque, also will participate in the ceremony.

Out of every million of the world's population 64 are blind.

Mr. Stone badly cut one hand in hitting at the photographer today.

E. J. Macdon, president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, only organization aside from the "Big Five" to call a strike, remained outside the conference room through the evening awaiting results.

"I will follow in the footsteps of the five organizations in conference," he said. "If they call off the strike, I will call off a walk-out by the telegraphers. If the 'Big Five' go out, we'll go with them."

HARDING'S ADDRESS ON RACE QUESTION STARTS DEBATE BY SENATORS

Would he like to see negro bosses placed over white boys and white girls?"

"Would President Harding be glad if his successor were to be a black man? Would the president like to see his cabinet filled with negroes?"

"We white people of the south consider ourselves the legates, the guardians and defenders of civilization. We are not going to permit any social or political equality of the kind the president advocates because we know it would mean destruction of civilizations which our ancestors handed down to us."

CAPT. HARRY STINSON BECOMES A MEMBER OF STATE COLLEGE STAFF

(Special Correspondence to The Journal.)

Las Cruces, N. M., Oct. 27.—Capt. Harry M. Stinson, recently of the Forty-sixth Infantry, stationed at Eagle Pass, Tex., has come to Las Cruces as an assistant to Col. J. C. Waterman, professor of military science and tactics at the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts. He has an overseas record and comes highly recommended.

Sergeant Ryan, who has been connected with the military department, and was assistant football coach two years, has been ordered to report to the University of Arizona.

Nineteen students at the college are now at Fort Bliss, Tex., participating in the maneuvers with A and Headquarters companies of the national guard of New Mexico. They will return to Las Cruces next Sunday morning.

IT'S A GRAND OLD REMEDY You can't keep strong and well without sleep. Whether your rest is broken by a painful hacking cough or just an annoying tickling in the throat, the system becomes weakened and rundown. Mrs. K. D. Drake, Childs, Md., writes: "After an attack of the 'flu' I was left with a severe cough. Nothing relieved me until I used Foley's Honey and Tar, which I can highly recommend." It covers irritated membranes with a healing and soothing coating, loosens phlegm and clears air passages. Sold everywhere.

They were: Anthony, Barbour, Christopherson, Clague, Cranton, Curry, Dunbar, Dyer, Ellis, Fish, Goodykoontz, Gorman, Graham (Pennsylvania), Hickey, Ketcham, Kopp, Layton, Luce, Mapes, Merritt, Michaelson, J. M. Nelson, Reese, Ricketts, Rodenberg, Speaks, Stafford, Underhill, Vail and Volight.

Six democrats voted for expulsion. They were: Carey, Cockran, Huddleston, Humphreys, Lankford and O'Brien.

London, socialist, New York, voted against expulsion, while Representative Summers, democrat, Texas, voted "present."

All other Texans present voted against expulsion, while Representative Wurzback, republican, of that state, voted for Mr. Blanton's expulsion.

Of twenty-six members voting "present," on the Garrett censure resolution, twenty-two were republicans and four democrats.

The twenty-two republicans were: Bacharach, Brooks (Pennsylvania), Clarke (New York), Edmonds, Evans, Fordney, Hill, Homann, Kless, Lahlback, Longworth, MacGregor, Perkins, Reavis, Snell, Snyder, Taylor (New Jersey), Tinsler, Underhill, Vane, Walsh and Walters. There four democrats were Cockran, Johnson (Mississippi), Parish and Sumner.

A Man Is Just as Young and Strong as His Blood

No man can fight the battles of life and hold his own if his blood is not pure, for rich red blood is what strength is based upon. When you see a strong, vigorous man, who never knows when he is licked, you may wager that such a man has coursing through his veins rich, red blood. Many people have thin, pale blood. They are weak, tire easily, become discouraged quickly, and sometimes feel like giving up the struggle. Such folks need Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is sold by druggists in liquid or tablet form. Contains no alcohol.

It adds vim, vigor and vitality, tones up the nerves in a wonderful way. This "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce's is made from Blood root, Oregon Grape root, Stone root, contains no alcohol—yet tones up the stomach, stimulates the liver and puts the blood-making glands in the best of condition.

The average life of woman has lengthened by four years during the last quarter of a century.

MATT FOWLER OF SOCORRO KILLED WHILE HUNTING

Gun Was Accidentally Discharged by Magdalena Friend Who Was Visiting Him in Hunting Season.

Matt Fowler, attorney of Socorro, was accidentally shot and killed yesterday morning at 7 o'clock while duck hunting in company with Mr. O'Neal and Mr. Peckinpaugh, two friends who had come up from Magdalena to enjoy the duck shooting. The accident occurred at a lake about three miles from Socorro, when the shot-gun held by Mr. Peckinpaugh was accidentally discharged and the entire contents of the shell entered Mr. Fowler's right side. The three men had come up to the lake and while O'Neal and Peckinpaugh stood near the edge of a swamp, Fowler started to make his way across to high ground. How the gun was discharged is still a mystery to Peckinpaugh, who is reported to have stated that he believed that the safety was on and that he did not have hold of the trigger. Dr. Duncan of Socorro, was immediately called and the wounded man was rushed to the Socorro hospital, but died from internal hemorrhages before reaching the city. A verdict of accidental death was returned by the coroner's jury, which met late yesterday afternoon. Mr. Fowler is well known throughout the state, having practiced law for many years at Silver City and for the past two years at Socorro. His legal practice carried him into nearly all of the courts of the state and he was a well known figure at the state capital. Although he commanded considerable political influence, he never aspired to political office. The deceased was 43 years old and was born at Marion, Ill., where one brother is now living.

PRINCESS AND HEIR TO LEEDS MILLIONS LOOK JUST LIKE OTHER BRIDAL COUPLES

William B. Leeds, son of the late tin-plate king, and his bride, formerly Princess Xenia, photographed in their wedding garb immediately after the ceremony.

"A typical American bridal couple," was the remark made by American notables who attended the recent wedding of William B. Leeds, young son and heir to the fortune of the late tin-plate king, and Princess Xenia of Greece. The wedding, however, was a gorgeous affair. Jewels from King George and Queen Mary of England and from the chests of former Russian nobility were included in the presents given the couple.

HISTORY OF STRIKE ACTION ANNULLED BY UNION LEADERS

Chicago, Oct. 27 (by the Associated Press).—Decision of the railroad labor board on July 1 authorizing the union to reduce wages of its employees an average of 12 1/2 per cent was the first event in the series which led up to the orders for a general strike by six unions. When this decision was rendered, a majority of the rail unions began taking votes on its acceptance. In every case the union vote was overwhelmingly for a strike rather than accept a wage cut, although on some lines, notably the Pennsylvania, there were divisions where groups of workers voted not to strike.

Taking of the ballot, however, developed some signs of friction among some unions. W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, withdrew from a meeting of the four brotherhood chiefs when other groups included in their ballots such questions as rules and working conditions. Mr. Lee held that it was illegal to vote on anything but the already authorized wage cut and sent separate ballots to his men in which the wage question was the only one mentioned.

Leaders of the big four brotherhoods—trainmen, conductors, engineers and firemen—met in Chicago to decide what action should be taken. On October 15 it was announced that the chiefs had decided to authorize a walkout beginning October 30 and extending progressively in four distinct movements until virtually every road would be covered. The switchmen's union of North America immediately announced it would join the big four.

The night of this announcement, heads of virtually all eleven "standard" unions—the American Federation of Labor group which is independent of the brotherhoods—declared that they "saw nothing to do but obey the wishes of their men and authorized them to walk out with the brotherhoods and the switchmen."

Leaders of these eleven unions were more conservative, however, and later one of them—B. M. Jewell, president of the Railway Employees' department, American Federation of Labor, which is comprised of the shop crafts unions—announced he "would fight tooth and nail to avert a walkout by the eleven standard unions." These leaders of the big four brotherhoods and their executive officers during the week following the brotherhoods' strike announcement to take final action. At this point, however, a few

HALLOWEEN STUNTS PLEASE ROTARIANS AT THURSDAY LUNCH

Leaving dignity at their offices, the members of the Rotary club gathered at Traft hall Thursday noon and enjoyed a program of Halloween stunts calculated to erase the wrinkles caused by the labor of the first half of the week. The entertainment committee, consisting of Nye G. Martin, Charles White and Arthur Prager, dished up an entirely novel "show" which the club members applauded warmly and cheered without stint. Halloween costumes were distributed prior to the lunch and all members donned the black and orange regalia. During the meal snappy jazz music was furnished by the Big Five from the 30th St. Hotel, scheduled to open at the Crystal theater tonight. The numbers received by the organization were rendered with rounds of applause and after the dinner three cheers were given the musicians for their efforts. Miss Grace Stortz presented two spritely numbers. Mrs. L. B. Thompson accompanying her on the piano. George Geake, a member of the club, offered the Rotarians proof that his voice could be successfully "canned" by playing two records recently made. During the last one he sang a portion of the song with the reproducing instrument. Chester Byrne favored the club with two solos. Selections by the Dixie Four were interspersed and a racing dance number by the group was supposed to close the program. The members of the club, however, demanded from Max Nordhaus a piano selection which he gave under protest but which the Rotarians welcomed with strong applause. The following resolution of sympathy to Rotarian Dave Rosenwald was unanimously adopted: "Be it resolved, that in its sympathy with Rotarian Dave Rosenwald the Albuquerque Rotary club expresses its deep regret for the disastrous fire of last Friday, commends him most heartily for his typically Rotarian spirit of determination to rebuild Rosenwald's into a bigger and better store, and offers to him the aid of every member of this club to that end. "THE ALBUQUERQUE ROTARY CLUB."

ABUQUERQUE MAN IS POSSIBLE HEIR TO HALF MILLION

Martin Bode, of Abiquiu, May Be Only Living Relative of Wealthy Rancher Slain at Rodey, N. M.

Bloodhounds from the state penitentiary arrived in Rodey, N. M., yesterday afternoon ready to take up the trail of the murderer of George H. Merton, wealthy ranchman and merchant, who was found near a well at his home Tuesday night with his head crushed by a heavy rock. Merton, 66 years old, was a bachelor and has lived in Rodey for the past twenty-five years.

It is reported that he leaves property valued at more than $500,000 and an effort is being made to locate other relatives than his sister, who lives in Germany.

Martin Bode, employee at the Miguel A. Gonzalez store at Abiquiu, N. M., is reported to be a nephew of the murdered man. This report was made at the Journal office last night and partially substantiated later by David E. Grant, attorney at Santa Fe, who is well acquainted with Mr. Bode, and who stated that Mr. Bode had an uncle reported to be very wealthy who resided in the Rodey community.

As there are no telephonic or telegraphic communications to Abiquiu, the report could not be more closely checked. Mr. Bode will, however, be notified of the death at the earliest possible moment. If the sister of the murdered man can not be located in Germany, or if she is dead, it is possible that Bode may prove to be the only heir to the half-million dollar estate.

Another possible heir named Schultz is also being hunted for by attorneys from Los Angeles. It is said that Schultz is also a nephew of the dead man. Schultz was last heard of in Bernillo, N. M.

YOUNG EVERGREENS NEED ATTENTION IN THE WINTER MONTHS

Herman Krauch, of the U. S. forest service, who was in charge of the Gallinas forest nursery last spring when Douglas fir and Engelmann spruce seedlings were distributed to the public for ornamental planting, now tells how to keep them alive over winter.

Mr. Krauch says, "People who planted evergreen trees received from the forest service last spring are advised to keep the soil in a moist condition during the dry fall season. This is essential because, unlike broad-leaved trees, which shed their leaves, evergreens continue to transpire water and this must be constantly replaced through the roots. Failure to take this precaution may result in the death of many trees during the winter. It is well to place a mulch of leaves or dead grass about the base of the trees in order to keep the ground from freezing. Where severe winter conditions obtain, it is also advisable to give the plants some food in the form of a spray from the wind. This is best accomplished by placing a bit of brush over the tops. The idea is to give protection yet not entirely shut out the light.

"This treatment should be repeated each fall for a few years, that is, until the roots of the trees have become well developed. After that, no further treatment, except mulching—which is always beneficial—is necessary."

CHILD HYGIENE TO BE DISCUSSED AT THE WOMAN'S CLUB

H. S. GRIDIRON BOYS ALL SET FOR ROSWELL

The Albuquerque high school gridiron squad left for Roswell from the Y. M. C. A. building at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The local high school men have regained their former flight after losing two games in succession and Coach Addison Moore expects them to make a better showing than ever before this season when they face the Roswell high school eleven tomorrow at Roswell. The squad will go through a slight workout this afternoon on the Roswell field. Every precaution was used in taking good care of the men on the trip so that they will be in tip-top shape for their game with the Roswell team.

Only two of last year's men will be seen in the line-up and two of the strongest members of the squad could not go on account of injuries. Coen, the big left tackle, is out on account of injuries received in the Indian school game. Dineen is also still out of the game with a bad shoulder. Goodrich and Oliver were added to the list of men who made the trip.

Substitutes: Charles Deering, Harry Hogrefe, Tomel, Noble, Goodrich, Oliver, Marron, Ely.

HI-Y CLUB TO FORM A JUNIOR ORGANIZATION

Hi-Y club boys enjoyed an interesting lecture on the history of the development of photography given by A. B. Milner, who was the leading speaker at their luncheon yesterday noon at the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Milner described the various steps in the development of the art from its inception.

Plans were laid at the luncheon for the establishment of a junior Hi-Y club to include freshmen and probably boys of the eighth grade. The Hi-Y club membership is confined to the three upper classes at the high school.

FAMOUS DANCER HAS BECOME A BOLSHIEV

Isadora Duncan, the American pioneer of aesthetic dancing declares that she has become an ardent bolshevik. She went to Russia from Paris to open a school of dancing under the soviet government. She is living in a beautiful home that once belonged to a star of the Russian ballet and hopes to open the school shortly. She has unbounded admiration for Lunarsky, the bolshevik minister of education and fine arts, and she says that she will devote the remainder of her life to working among Russians.

INDIAN SCHOOL AND MENAUL TO MEET SATURDAY

Playing to a 6-0 tie on October 8, the Indian school and Menaul will again face each other at the Washington park athletic field Saturday. The first time they met this year the teams were so evenly matched that neither team would allow the other to score. The Indians using the aerial game and the Menaul school men using straight football and each team playing superior football the two teams will present one of the closest football games on the schedule of either team this season. Each team has been working out hard and will be in the best of shape for the fracas. A few of Menaul's men have injuries but nevertheless they may be able to enter the game Saturday.

Mr. Ironsides and Vincent Steffen, a former convict, spoke at the state penitentiary in Santa Fe yesterday where they were well received. John Bloor will give a special address at the Gospel hall on Sunday evening.

BABOON BANGS OUT CHALLENGE ON TYPEWRITER

"Iron Mike" Visits Tribune With Manager Long Enough to Write Defi to Dempsey.

Uses Sporting Editor's "MHH"; Asks Jumps Rules, 10,000 Cocosnuts as Prize.

Thumping out his defi with a hairy paw which made the typewriter quiver like a punching bag, "Iron Mike," as gentle a baboon as ever caved in the skull of a total stranger today, challenged Jack Dempsey to the world's heavyweight championship. "Jackknaps," his voluble manager, offered to deposit 10,000 cocosnuts as a forfeit.

They ask only one condition: that the Marquis of Queensbury and London prize ring rules be waived in favor of the neolithic regulations when it was perfectly proper to rip out one of an opponent's short ribs and beat a tattoo over his cranium with it.

"Iron Mike's" challenge was hammered out on the favorite typewriter of the Tribune's sporting editor. Afterward, the scribe had to page the wrecking crew from one of the agencies to get his mill in shape.

Here is a verbatim reproduction of the challenge which will be presented to Dempsey when he reaches his home in Salt Lake City, Utah:

"Grrrrrrrrr grrr 234567890—'G'—&stttttt, qaz we eddrry wegr-hyok qaz yhn oluy ukml; pout qwasob qwer kit &uq—afsgjki asdfghjkl qwertyuop asdfgh nm. ipw"

Translated by the sporting editor, who has dealt with a number of the ham and egg puzzle and understands the language of the jungle, this means:

"Here's What It Means. "Jack Dempsey: If you think you are the world's leading abysmal brute, step into the ring with me for a few rounds and I will change that idea pretty blamed quick. My great-grandfather licked one of Jack Johnson's ancestors and I can lick you. Weight makes no difference. Will meet you in any ring—the smaller the better. Hoping I get a chance soon to unravel your spine and scatter your vertebrae around as souvenirs. I remain, yours, lovingly, Iron Mike, a bad baboon."

If the challenge is accepted, Manager Jackknaps will get his pleasant little protégé into training at once. He may rent a roundhouse as training quarters and hire a couple of steam engines for sparring partners. Adopting the pugilistic precedent set by Jess Willard, "Iron Mike" is traveling with circus. He is one of the performers for the Al G. Barnes show.

COLLEGE INN TO BE REOPENED TO TRADE SATURDAY

Popular Soda Fountain Will Open Under Management of Chase and Pettit, Former Owners.

The College Inn of many vicissitudes of ownership will reopen tomorrow morning under the management of E. T. Chase and Dr. R. Fred Pettit. The new managers took the business back on a mortgage after the Greeks to whom they sold it last April failed. The shop has been closed several months.

Plans were made by Mr. Chase and Dr. Pettit to reopen the shop about three weeks ago. The building was cleared out and stock was ordered but on account of disagreement about the lease the opening was postponed until the present time. The establishment expects to be ready for business by Saturday.

The College Inn will offer full lunches in addition to a high grade of candies and pastries from California. No attempt will be made to serve regular luncheons and dinners as before, said Mr. Chase. Dancing will be continued on the mezzanine floor with orchestra music.

The owners are planning to operate the College Inn on the famous scale of the "Pig in Whistle" shops in California. They are negotiating at present with a representative of the "Pig in Whistle" chain of candy shops as a possible manager of the store here. A full line of the candies and pastries will be carried.

Several changes in the shop are contemplated. Four large additional booths will be built in the extension provided for the rear downstairs. The walls of the shop will be refinished and the entire place will be redecorated by a professional decorator.

the same sort of cases which engrossed his attention as a specialist in the children's diseases of Illinois kiddies. It is a William D. Taylor-Paramount production with Herbert Rawlinson in the leading male role.

DUSTIN FARNUM WINS IN THE FOX PHOTOPLAY "THE PRIMAL LAW"

Dustin Farnum aroused enthusiasm in the audience yesterday afternoon and last night at the Pastime theater, in the role of Brian Wayne in "The Primal Law," a stirring Fox photoplay of the west. He was in turn the gentle and humorously kindly pal of little Bobbie Carson, revealing the most gracious side of his engaging personality, and the dangerous fighter when aroused by the efforts of a band of players to rob the boy of his birthright. The role enables the versatile star to reveal much of his many-sided dramatic nature. Suspense is well sustained in

VETERAN DIES

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 27.—Gen. William H. Haynes, 84, confederate veteran and founder of the Arkansas national guard, died at his home here today.

Fifteen hundred students, it is said, are employed to take tickets, usher and do various other jobs at the big Yale football games in the Bowl.

"The Primal Law," and the element of mystery is developed effectively, in regard to the mother of the little boy as well as the real causes of the eagerness of one Farnum and his crowd to get possession of Willow ranch and other properties. The fight at the Willow ranch is strikingly realistic and thrilling, impressive for its direct and momentous bearing upon the fortunes of Wayne, Janice and the boy, as well as other characters in the photoplay. Excellent work was done by Bernard Durning in the directing of this production, and the result is an entertainment of unusual merit in every way.

THE OLD NEST GRIPS MOST HARDENED CRIMINALS; SHOWING AT THE LYRIC

Rupert Hughes has done it again. His "Scratch My Back" and "Hold Your Horses" has a successor that surpasses even these delightful comedies. It is "The Old Nest," a film version of the author's story that appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, now on view at the Lyric theater. It is the photoplay of the year.

"The Old Nest" is a series of dramatic episodes that reveal the life of an American family. The theme is mother love, and the audience is privileged to look into the home and into the hearts of a typical family. All the little joys and sorrows that every one of us remembers are flashed on the screen, and bring tears and laughter in quick succession.

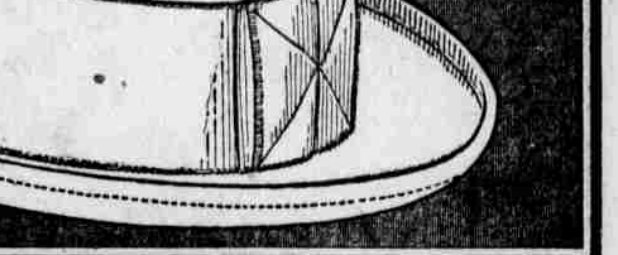

In the story, the mother lives to see her family of six children gradually drift away from the old home. But in the end, they remember the old nest and come home to roost. There is no plot, any more than there is a plot in life itself. Things happen, no one knows why and no one questions. A reproduction of life is "The Old Nest."

The picture, which was directed by Reginald Barker, was made at the Goldwyn studios. It was produced by a cast with Mary

Although there is no report from officials of the company as to the size of the well, reliable persons reported last night to Captain W. C. Reid, who has interests near the well, that its flow was estimated at about 1,000 barrels. The quality of the oil was not stated in the telegrams reaching here and Santa Fe last night.

UNIVERSITY Y. M. C. A. TO OPEN ACTIVITIES WITH DINNER TONIGHT

The first of a series of dinners of the U-Y club, the recently organized Y. M. C. A. organization at the university, will be held at 5:30 o'clock this evening at the Y. M. C. A. to honor the football team.

D. W. Fay has agreed to be present at the dinner, and to make a short talk. Coach Johnson will also be present and will probably give a brief address. Edward Horgan, university cheer-leader, will lead the yell. Most of the members of the football team will be present.

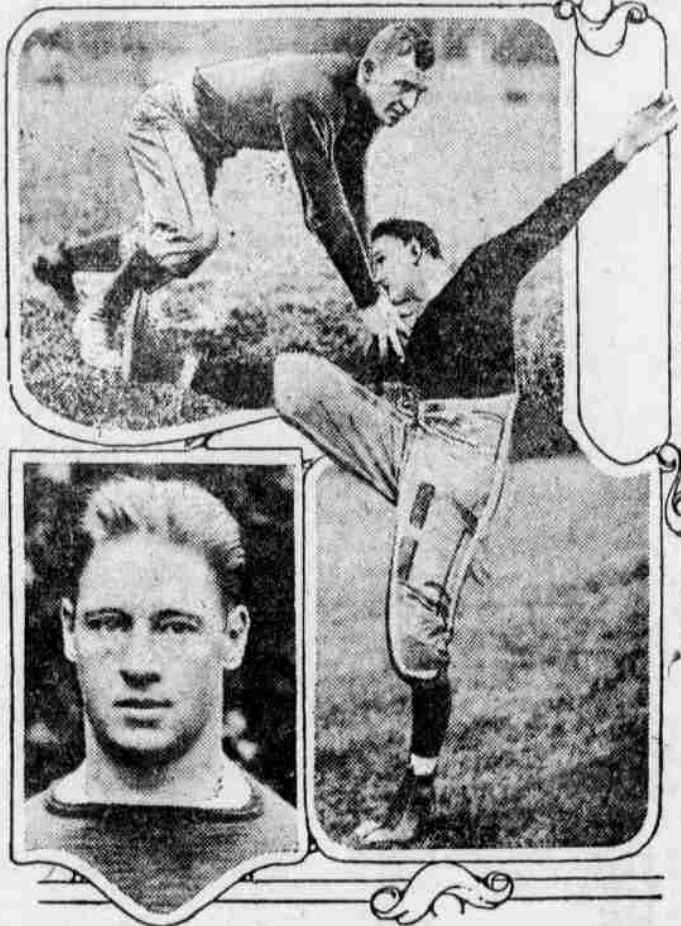

The U-Y club is planning extensive activities for the year, including score-board reports of the football games at the downtown headquarters. The club is also planning to give several motion picture shows at the university, the films being secured through the national association. The U-Y will co-operate with the university Y. W. C. ## ONLY ONE DRUNK SEEN IN SOVIET RUSSIA JOURNEY

(By The Associated Press.)

Moscow, Oct. 27.—In three weeks of travel through soviet Russia the Associated Press correspondent has seen but one intoxicated man. That was a workman in Moscow who was so far under the influence of liquor that he was unable to tell a group of curious and thirsty men where he found the liquor.

The new decree permitting 12 per cent of alcohol in beverages has not produced the results wine-bibbers and beer-lovers had hoped for. Wine cellars have not produced hidden supplies and apparently there are no vegetables, fruit nor grain available for conversion into drinks.

Restaurants and cafes have no alcoholic drinks for sale. There is an abundance of kvass and various non-fermented drinks alleged to be made from fruit but probably largely chemical in their composition.

If there are alcoholic stores in Russia they have not yet reached the markets of central and northern Russia. The enactment of the law permitting the sale of alcoholic beverages of low grade was defended by the soviet officials on the ground that it was necessary to save the Caucasian and Crimean wine growers from ruin.

ROOSEVELT DAY OBSERVED BY ALL SCHOOLS IN CITY

Meeting at High School in Evening Proves Well-Nigh a Failure on the Part of Albuquerque.

The celebration of the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt was most enthusiastic in the schools yesterday. The students of all of the institutions, from the university to the lowest grades, seemed to appreciate the greatness of the famous American whose anniversary they observed, with songs, addresses and readings.

The university held a twenty-five minute assembly before noon, which was opened by a community singing of "America," followed by a vocal solo by Prof. John Lukken. Miss Dorothy Cameron played a violin solo, and Mrs. Robert S. Rockwood read from Roosevelt's "The Great Adventure." Frank Neher, president of the associated students, read from Roosevelt's "Last Message."

At the high school, at 10:30 o'clock, a beautiful address was delivered by John Sims, on the life, characteristics and work of Roosevelt. Forest Appelby read a selection from "The Great Adventure," and the audience sang "America" and "How Firm a Foundation." Roosevelt's favorite hymn, accompanied by the high school orchestra, conducted by Miss Peet, was sung.

The library school had a program at 11 o'clock, at which Pierce Rodey delivered an address on "Roosevelt," dwelling on the greatness of the man. John Strong read the life history of Roosevelt.

Elementary schools both had programs in honor of the day. These programs were made up of studies of Roosevelt, his patriotism, and patriotic songs. The school at Old Albuquerque had a program which started at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon.

Forty-three loyal Americans of Albuquerque were present at the high school auditorium last night for a homage to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt. The meeting, planned as a testimonial of regard to the great president, proved instead a sad commentary on local weather.

Last night's principal speaker was A. R. Renahan of Santa Fe, whose eloquence in eulogizing the American hero was duly appreciated by the vast audience who occupied rows D, E and part of row G.

Mr. Renahan in his address said: "The names of Washington, Lincoln and Roosevelt are permanently associated in the minds of Americans. Washington, the Vulcan who forged our liberty; Lincoln, who preserved it; and Roosevelt, the apostle who preached the doctrine of loyalty to self and to the American people, shall stand for ages as the representatives of the great men of our magnificent republic."

Before the address, Miss Grace Stortz, soprano, sang "Land of Mine," and very graciously responded to the applause with a charming encore.

George S. Klock presided at the meeting.

SPEND DAY IN EXAMINATION IN SOUTHARD CASE

(By The Associated Press.)

Twin Falls, Ida., Oct. 27.—The entire day in the trial of Lyda Meyer Southard, accused of the murder by poisoning of her fourth husband, Edward F. Meyer, was given up to the examination of Dr. J. E. Morgan who as a witness for the defense, early this morning replied to the state's hypothetical question on the cause of Meyer's death.

Dr. Morgan's reply was that it would be impossible for him to say what actually caused the death of Meyer. Cross examination failed to effect any change in his answer. In reply to similar questions as to the cause of death in the cases of Ed Dooley, brother-in-law, and Lewis and McHaffie, former husband of the defendant, the witness returned similar answers. He declined to state what amount of poison of the kind which the witnesses called by the state said was found in the bodies of all these men would be capable of causing death, in his opinion.

UNION LEADERS ON TEXAS ROAD LEFT PUZZLED

(By The Associated Press.)

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 27.—Union leaders among trainmen of the International Great Northern railroad who began a strike Saturday were in doubt tonight whether the decision of their chiefs at Chicago cancelling the general strike scheduled for October 30 would affect the situation on the I. & G. N. There are 600 brakemen and switchmen out on the road. Local leaders announced that no action would be taken until word was received from their general chairman, R. D. Frame, at Chicago.

STATE FREEDOM OFFER WAS MADE MRS. OBENCHAIN

(By The Associated Press.)

Los Angeles, Calif., Oct. 27.—An offer of freedom in exchange for testimony against Arthur C. Burch, with whom she was jointly indicted on a charge of the murder of J. Belton Kennedy here, was made tonight to Mrs. Madalynne C. Obenchain by the district attorney's office. It was declared by Charles Erbsstein, of Chicago, here attorney.

Mrs. Obenchain refused to discuss the offer with the district attorney's office through her former husband, Erbsstein said, after District Attorney Woolwine declined to talk with her in the presence of Erbsstein.

District Attorney Woolwine declined to discuss the matter, other than to say that he could not offer immunity or anything else until he had heard what Mrs. Obenchain had to say.

Is your appetite uncertain—your digestion impaired?

Why the food we eat may fail to keep us fit

ONE single food element essential to health! We now know that many of our inefficiencies and failures are really due to lack of a health-maintaining element in food—the water-soluble vitamin. Scientists are agreed that without this one food factor we lose appetite and weight and fall off in health.

This is why thousands of men and women who are eating otherwise good and wholesome meals find their energy and vigor slipping. And this is also why many have little appetite and remain in a state of lowered vitality.

Today Fleischmann's Yeast is recommended as a corrective food for overcoming these difficulties, for Fleischmann's Yeast has been discovered to be a rich source of the essential vitamin we need throughout life.

Fleischmann's Yeast is a wholesome, fresh food, assimilated like any other food. Eat it at any time, 2 to 3 cakes a day. You will like its fresh, distinctive flavor and the clean taste it leaves in your mouth.

Have it on the table at home and try it as a sandwich filler or spread on crackers. Have it at your office and eat it at your desk. It is good in milk, and many like it just plain. If troubled with gas dissolve it first in very hot water. This does not affect the efficacy of the yeast. Place a standing order with your grocer for Fleischmann's Yeast and get it fresh daily.

Send 4c in stamps for the booklet, "The New Importance of Yeast in Diet." So many inquiries are coming in daily for this booklet that it is necessary to make this nominal charge to cover cost of handling and mailing. Address THE FLEISCHMANN COMPANY, 701 Washington Street, New York, N. Y.

The need for scientifically tested yeast

Fresh yeast has been proved by recent scientific tests to be a valuable food for correcting run-down condition, constipation, indigestion and certain skin disorders. These original tests were all made with Fleischmann's Yeast. Beware of untested yeast-vitamine preparations that contain drugs or other mixtures. Fleischmann's Yeast (fresh) is a pure food, rich in vitamin, in which it measures up to the high standards set by laboratories and hospitals. The familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label is the only form in which Fleischmann's Yeast for Health is sold.

JONES TALKS TO EMPTY SEATS ON CORPORATION TAX

After Two Hour Talk by
New Mexico Senator,
Upper House Leaves Un-distributed Profits Tax.

Washington, Oct. 27.—An unsuccessful flight was made today in the senate to write into the tax revision bill a provision to tax undistributed profits of corporations. Three amendments proposing such a tax were rejected, one without a roll call.

Also without a record vote the senate voted down an amendment by Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, which would have authorized the secretary of the treasury to refund the eleven billion dollars of foreign debts into long time bonds, the interest on which would be payable January 1.

All of these amendments were on the section dealing with the corporation income tax, but the section finally was passed over until tomorrow, when the senate will consider an amendment by Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, proposing a graduated tax on corporations instead of a flat tax of 15 per cent recommended by the finance committee.

The first proposition to tax the undistributed profits was offered by Senator Jones, New Mexico, who urged its adoption in a two hours' speech, delivered mostly to empty seats. The amendment provided that instead of a 15 per cent tax there should be levied on the undistributed profits a graduated tax beginning at 8 per cent on the first 10 per cent of income, and ending at 56 per cent on the amount of income over 60 per cent.

This amendment was rejected, 45 to 24.

Senator Simmons, democrat of North Carolina, ranking democrat on the finance committee, proposed then that in addition to a flat tax of 15 per cent there should be imposed a graduated tax on undistributed profits. This amendment was rejected, 45 to 24.

Senator Jones then offered an amendment calling for a 10 per cent flat tax and a levy on undistributed profits at one-half the rate in his original amendment. This was rejected without a roll call.

NEW PURCHASERS NEW YORK JOBBING HOUSE ANNOUNCE BIG SALE

The New York Jobbing house, located at 115 South First, has been purchased by the St. Louis Wrecking company. The present owners, not being able to secure a lease on the building, plan to put on a big Clearing Out Sale. The opening date of the sale has been announced for next Monday. The new management says that they are going to dispose of the entire stock in a very short time.

MANY KILLED WHEN TRAINS CRASH IN PARIS TUNNEL

Just after the collision, showing how one of the locomotives was completely turned over by the impact.

Twenty-six persons were killed and almost a hundred injured in the fearful railroad accident that occurred recently in the Batignolles tunnel in Paris. The unfortunate who were injured or who lost their lives were all on their way to Paris to spend a joyful night. The wreck was due to a head-on collision of two fast moving trains which crashed without warning.

IT'S GOING TO BE STOPPED IN COUNTY AT ONCE

It's going to be stopped on Sunday in Bernalillo county.

Sheriff Tony Ortiz stated yesterday that he intended putting an end to such things on Sunday, as they were continual breeders of trouble.

"There's a state law against them and the law's going to be enforced," the sheriff declared. "We don't intend to put up with it any longer. They're going on all day and night Sundays in several communities in the county and disturbing the peace more than almost anything else combined. Fights and all kinds of trouble seem to be the result."

The sheriff added that he intended issuing orders to the justices of the peace to refuse promoters licenses—so public dances in Bernalillo county will undoubtedly soon be things of the past, unless some one starts a test case and finds whether the law has teeth in it or is too ancient to be dangerous.

IRISH PARLEYS TO WAIT DURING COMMONS DEBATE

(By The Associated Press.)

London, Oct. 27.—The Irish conference seems to have resolved itself into meetings of the small committee appointed to find a formula as a bridge between the negotiating parties. This is the method favored by the premier in negotiations of a delicate and critical nature.

Mr. Lloyd George called a meeting of the committee unexpectedly today. The meeting lasted an hour. Both sides are maintaining reticence, but it is believed that the chief subject of today's discussion was Ulster.

Another meeting will likely be held tomorrow, but after that there will probably be no meeting until the debate in the house of commons, which will begin Monday, on the Irish question, is concluded. This is expected to give the premier a solid majority vote for continuing the negotiations and justify him in ignoring protests of a small group among the unionists.

A semi-official announcement made tonight of arrangements for the premier's journey to Washington is considered a good omen.

DEBATE IS CRITICAL STAGE IN SETTLEMENT

London, Oct. 27.—Announcement of Premier Lloyd George today that Monday had been allocated by the government for a discussion in the house of commons on the motion of unionist members, ensuring the government for conducting the Irish negotiations, is taken as bringing the Irish issue to another critical stage.

Sinn Fein indicated tonight they had expected parliament would not be consulted until there was a nearer approach to an agreement. They have negotiated with Mr. Lloyd George, believing him to be in a position to strike a binding bargain, and they expressed apprehension over the possibility that the debate might enable him to modify his proposals.

Their view was that nothing likely to happen in the house could better the terms obtained by Sinn Fein, but that on the contrary, the debate might easily lessen these terms.

They appear to be suspicious that the premier has been faced with trouble in his own party and that he thinks a debate would be the best way of obtaining for himself a certain majority. Ulster is understood to present his chief difficulty, since he has pledged himself not to reduce the importance of the position of the northern parliament.

On the other hand, Mr. Lloyd George is urged by many unionists to permit the northern parliament to function.

If Mr. Lloyd George assents to facilitating the powers of the northern parliament, he risks a break in the negotiations with Sinn Fein. Yet there is a powerful feeling in his own party in favor of leaving Ulster what she has. Until after Monday's debate the conference with Sinn Fein delegates will continue in more or less suspended animation, but both sides expressed the view that the debate in commons may kill it.

STOMACH MISERY, GAS, INDIGESTION, TAKE 'DIAPEPSIN'

(By The Associated Press.)

Take "Diapepsin" now! In five minutes your stomach feels fine. Don't bother what upset your stomach, or which portion of the food did the damage. If your stomach is sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; you belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food—just take a little Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women to-day know that it is useless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear. If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal bill without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless antacid is Diapepsin, which costs only six cents for a large case at drug stores.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Oct. 27.—Definite decision fixing the time for the opening of the conference on limitation of armaments and Pacific affairs on Saturday, November 12, rather than on Armistice day, as originally suggested, is expected tomorrow. State department officials said today announcement would be made upon President Harding's return from the south.

Officials who have given careful study to the program for Armistice day, including the ceremonies for the American unknown dead, are understood to have been unsuccessful in their efforts to find a time for the first meeting of the conference on that day.

RECALL ELECTION IN NORTH DAKOTA EVENT OF TODAY

(By The Associated Press.)

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 27.—Both sides tonight were claiming victory for their candidates in tomorrow's recall election aimed at state officials endorsed by the non-partisan league.

While a fair sized vote was expected with much, however, depending on weather conditions, it was secured in both camps tonight. The vote will not equal that of the general election a year ago, when 229,606 votes were cast.

Apathy in both factions is ascribed as the reason for the expected decrease in the vote. Independent leaders assure this decrease probably affects both sides about equally, while the league insists it has been more marked in anti-league circles.

Officials whose recall is sought are Governor Lynn J. Frazier; William Lemke, attorney general; and J. N. Hagen, commissioner of agriculture and labor.

Opposing them are H. A. Nestos for governor, Sveinbjorn Johnson for attorney general, and J. A. Kitchen for commissioner.

One constitutional amendment and several proposed laws also will be voted on. The polls open at 9 a. m. and close at 9 p. m.

Estimates of majorities from both factions tonight were admittedly based on "the general outlook" and not on any specific analysis by precinct or counties. On this phase, this information was available from official sources.

A. Nelson, secretary of the independent voters' association, said:

"There has been no marked change in the political complexion of the state since a year ago. We expect to make increases in many counties, and in the case of Steele county, for instance, where Frazier's majority was largest a year ago. Our majority tomorrow will be around 10,000 if we can get our voters out."

Frank Ostman, publicity director of the league's headquarters, speaking for A. A. Liederbach, chairman of the league's state executive committee, said: "The women will determine the election in favor of the league candidates and defeat the independents initiated laws. Twelve thousand women in the rural district did not vote a year ago, but tomorrow they will be out in force and swing the election to the league by a majority in excess of that of a year ago, when Frazier defeated the independent candidate 117,118 to 112,488."

CLASS DISCUSSION.

If America fails in her experiment in democracy, it will be through internal causes. With her vast wealth, her virile people, and her isolated location, no external force can prevail against her. The dangers to which she must look are from within.

Observers have noted a rising tide of defiance of law, among our people. The tendency has grown for the individual to decide which of our laws he will obey. One regards it as not so bad to catch fish or shoot game out of season, another thinks violation of the liquor laws to be of no serious consequences. So, from the so-called lesser violations, we advance toward the greater menaces of lawlessness.

Theories are built up of "personal rights" and "national rights" which are above the law and in the protection of which defiance of the law is justified. Especially when groups of men and women can make common cause against the breach of alleged "national rights," and so can secure the moral support which comes from mutual encouragement, do they defy the law. Denominating the law as "bad," they ignore it or openly evade or violate it.

Americans must take a stand squarely on the corner-stone of law observance. We can tolerate no individual decisions as to which laws shall be enforced and which ignored. If a law is bad, repeal it. The enforcement of a bad law will hasten its repeal. To agitate for amendment is proper, but the law must be respected while it stands on our statute books.

Defiance of law by isolated and unorganized individuals, constitutes our lesser menace. We can run down and punish the individual offender and can build public sentiment against the continued breach of the law. It is in organized defiance of law, especially where the organization justifies its disobedience with high-sounding moral theories, that our great danger lies. Such groups are seized with some sort of exalted spirit of the crusader which leads him to feel that prosecution is persecution.

In saying this, we are not unmindful of the fact that much of the progress which has been made by humanity has been based upon the defiance of the existing order by men of great vision and courage. A great moral principle, such as freedom of religious worship, has sometimes justified a blank defiance. Oppression by rulers often made it necessary to defy their fiat in the people's behalf.

Let it not be forgotten, however, that these great examples of heroic defiance were in governments of a monarchial character, where the people had no control. Revolution was the only remedy for oppression, unless the ruler, in a fright at the temper of his people, made concessions in order to quiet them. But revolution in America, is wholly unjustifiable. Right, not might, should control public policy. All that is needed is to arouse the people to a sense of the need and righteousness of a change and it immediately comes to pass by evolutionary and legal methods. A revolution would be a revolution against the majority of the people, for the majority can rule if it will. No revolution can justify itself except a revolution by a majority and for a majority of the people. No majority will support a revolution against itself. In a republic the basic right of revolution in redress of grievances, is waived.

Big business men controlled by a desire for special advantages, sometimes combine to defy the law or to evade it. Sometimes, perhaps often, they bring to bear undue and improper influences to make the law to suit them. The remedy is not force or revolution. An alert and discerning public opinion quickly defeats such machinations.

Classes of citizens, desiring to retain advantages already gained, or to gain new advantages, sometimes resort to force to accomplish their ends. If done within the law and in a way not harmful to the general public, this force can be justified. But when it jeopardizes the rights of all the people, it is wholly unjustified and is reprehensible, however worthy the end sought may be.

All this is said apropos to the impending railroad strike. We are unable to pass on the merits of the controversy. The law should find a way to arrive at a just solution. But neither party can be allowed to inconvenience or starve or freeze the public. When that happens a class has taken the law into its own hands and suspended its functions, which are to protect the people's rights. It is defiance of law and is virtually revolutionary. The strong arm of the government must mete out justice.

If America fails in her destiny it will be because of internal class dissensions. The masses of the people must be firm against a force which would nullify their government, always remaining alert to see that justice is done between conflicting classes. Whatever repressive measures the government may take against the strike, whether it hits the railroads or the employees, should be supported by the public. The rights of both are inferior to the rights of the people. Afterward we can see what course justice dictates in settling the dispute.

LIFE SAVING IN RUSSIA.

Col. William Haskell, head of the United States relief administration in Russia, has placed the situation in the stricken country and elsewhere upon an arithmetical basis which informs us just what the cash cost of defeating the famine and saving millions of lives will be.

Colonel Haskell has just completed a survey of the famine territory and reports that, discounting possible exaggerations in numbers, not more than 15,000,000 people are included in the area of suffering. Not all these are foodless and starving, he explains, but all are short of adequate supplies. He estimates that if full and prompt relief is furnished for 5,000,000 persons for six months all the lives at present menaced by starvation will be saved and the emergency tide over. Going somewhat into detail, Colonel Haskell estimates that $5 per head during the full famine period of six months, or a total of $50,000,000, will relieve the starvation threat and carry the menaced population over into the next self-supporting season.

Colonel Haskell's idea is that if an adequate food supply is furnished for 5,000,000 of the famine territory from outside sources there will be enough to feed all the people, as only a portion are totally without rations of any kind. As is the case of the famine-stricken Chinese, however, Colonel Haskell says that while corn should be supplied in abundance to feed all the sufferers, they would need to be educated to its use, instead of the rye, to which Russians are accustomed, or wheat which will be difficult or impossible to ship in sufficient quantities. The relief administrator's arithmetic showing that $5 per head will save 15,000,000 lives rather invites the world sympathetic to action.

RIGHT MAKES MIGHT.

Roosevelt was a champion of the doctrine that right makes might. He believed and rightly, that a consciousness of the rightness of a cause, lent power to the arm of its champion.

Roosevelt preached courage—moral courage. He realized that the average man is not lacking in physical courage, but he knew the moral cowardice that characterizes most of our lines.

Roosevelt saw that the attitude of men on public matters was lacking in courage. He saw that fear of private injury by reason of a public position taken, led most men to acquiesce in public wrong, rather than to meet it in combat and defeat it. Roosevelt deplored the fact that the public would not "stand up for itself." The people tolerated evils rather than inconvenience themselves in remedying them. He sought to inspire the courage to grapple with public wrongs.

How craven the spirit which submits to wrongs against the people because of the animosities we may engender if we resist them! We need Rooseveltian courage. We need the consciousness that a sense of right will give us the power to win victories for democracy. We need to know that in enforced justice lies our ultimate safety as a nation.

Some men struggle hard to get out of debt and others make strenuous attempts to get in.

VERSE OF TODAY

PANTHER! PANTHER!

There is a panther called within my breast,
 But what his name there is no breast shall know.
 Save mine, nor what it is that drives him so,
 Backward and forward, in relentless quest;
 That silent rage, baffled but unexpressed,
 The soft pad of those stealthy feet that go
 Over my body's prison to and fro,
 Trying the walls forever without rest.

All day I feed him with my living heart,
 But when the night puts forth her dreams and stars
 The inexorable frenzy awakes:
 His wrath is hurled upon the trembling bars,
 The elegant passion strikes me apart—
 And I lie silent, but my body shakes.
 —John Hall Wheelock, in Scribner's.

EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

KANSAS SHOWS THE WAY.

(From the New York Tribune.)
 Kansas isn't going to have a railroad strike. In that happy commonwealth such a strike is against the law, and Governor Allen says the law will be enforced. It used to be asked playfully: "What is the matter with Kansas?" Kansas is now entitled to inquire what is the matter with all the other states.

The industrial court act, which Governor Allen championed, forbids railroad companies to stop their service. It also forbids railroad employees quitting en masse. Controversies between the employees and the railroads must be adjudicated in the Industrial Relations Court. Operation is to continue meanwhile. The court's decisions have all the power of the state behind them.

Kansas secures the public continuity of operation. It secures the employees against unreasonable changes in wages or working conditions. It gives both sides a preferred industrial status. But in return it rightly demands that transportation shall not be interrupted at either side's say-so. If both sides break the law the state takes over the roads and keeps them going.

Why hasn't the Federal government also pursued the theory of regulation to its logical conclusion? The Esch-Cummins act, as it passed the Senate, contained anti-strike provisions. They were cut out by the House of Representatives and the present system of merely restraint on the part of the Railroad Labor Board was substituted. The board fixes wages for the employees, but it cannot enforce the decrees. The employees may play the game if they like it. If they don't like it they may quit and try to paralyze transportation.

Congress was afraid to apply the theory of railroad regulation as frankly and openly as the Legislature of Kansas did. It is fortunate that one state sees that the public's interest in the uninterrupted operation of the railroads takes precedence over all other interests. It points the way. If Kansas has banished worry about strikes, why can't all the other states and the national government do the same? Under government control of railroads a strike is illegal. It ought to be made illegal in both state and Federal jurisdictions.

UNCLE WIGGLY AND KITTIE'S TAIL.

"Well, Uncle Wiggly, it is all ready for you," called Nurse Jane up the stairs of the rabbit gentleman's hollow stump bungalow one morning.

"What is all ready for me, if you please?" asked Mr. Longears. "Do you mean my breakfast?"

"No; though of course that is ready also," explained Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "But I was speaking of the basket—the big basket."

"The big basket of what—clothes?" asked Uncle Wiggly. "Do you want me to carry out the basket of clothes, so you may hang them up?"

"Wrong again!" laughed Nurse Jane. "Have you forgotten that you promised to take a big basket of cake and pie over to Grandfather Goosey Gander this morning?"

"Oh, that's right! I did promise!" exclaimed Mr. Longears, as he slid down the banister rail instead of hopping on the steps. He sometimes slid down when he was in a hurry, as he now was.

"Well, I have the basket all ready for you," went on the muscular lady housekeeper. "Come and get your breakfast and take the good things to Grandpa Goosey."

A little later Uncle Wiggly was hopping over the fields and through the woods, on his way to Grandpa Goosey Gander's. Of course, Uncle Wiggly could not hop very fast, carrying the heavy basket, as he was, but he went fast enough.

And because he went slowly Kittle Kat, the pussy girl, who was on her way to school, soon caught up to Mr. Longears.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggly, may I walk along with you?" asked Kittle. "I shall be most pleased to have you," answered the bunny, with a low and polite bow of his pink, twinkling nose. "I am sorry I can't give you some cake or pie that I have in the basket, but they are for Grandpa Goosey," he added.

"Oh, I wouldn't think of taking any," mewed Kittle, and she went on to Grandpa Goosey's with Uncle Wiggly and watched the rabbit gentleman empty the basket of good things.

"Thank Nurse Jane for me," quacked Grandpa Goosey, as he put the good things away in his cupboard. "I'm sorry you have to take back an empty basket, Uncle Wiggly."

"Oh, I'm not going to carry it empty!" laughed the bunny. "But I have nothing to send back that can be put in it," said

Mr. Gander, puzzled like. "I'm going to put Kittle Kat in and carry her to school," said Mr. Longears. "Crawl in the basket, Kittle, and I'll carry you to school."

"Oh, what fun!" purred the pussy girl, as she curled up in the basket. Uncle Wiggly put his paw through the handle and once again he set off over the fields and through the woods.

"How do you like it in there, Kittle?" asked the rabbit gentleman, lifting the cover a little way so he could look in.

"Oh, it's lots of fun!" mewed Kittle. "Won't all the other girls and boys be surprised when they see me in the basket?"

"I guess they will!" chuckled Uncle Wiggly. "But please keep quiet, Kittle. I think I hear some one coming, and it may be the Woolly Wolf."

But instead, it was the Fuzzy Fox. Up he ran, and before Uncle Wiggly could stop him, the Fox grabbed the basket off the bunny's paw.

"Then the bunny carried the pussy girl to school, and you can imagine how surprised the lady teacher was to see Kittle pop out of the basket, and say: 'But everything ended happily. I'm glad to say. And if the picture of the cat on the wall doesn't fall down when the dog next door barks at the moon, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly's custard.'"

"Oh, what fun!" purred the pussy girl.

"I'll carry that for you, Uncle Wiggly!" snarled the Fox.

"Be careful!" warned Mr. Longears. "In that basket is—"

"Now I know very well what is in the basket," said the Fox most politely. "It's something good to eat. I'm going to carry it to my den, and after I can nibble your ears I'll see what is in the basket!"

So the Fox caught Uncle Wiggly by the ears and pulled him along, carrying the basket with Kittle Kat in, on his paw. And, all of a sudden, when the Fox wasn't looking, Kittle stuck her tail out of the top of the basket and tickled the Fox on the back of the neck.

"Here! Stop tickling me, Mr. Longears!" the Fox howled.

"I'm not touching you!" answered Uncle Wiggly.

Once again Kittle tickled the Fox with her tail, and he didn't see her do it.

"You are tickling me!" snapped the Fox to the bunny. "No, indeed!" Uncle Wiggly said, wondering what was going on.

Again Kittle slyly stuck out her tail and gave the Fox a double tickle. And at this the bad chap could stand it no longer.

"There's something queer going on here!" he howled. "I guess you must have made a mistake and taken the basket of the wrong bunny into a baked potato! I guess I'd better nibble your ears another day, Uncle Wiggly!" The Fox set down the basket, with Kittle in, and away he ran.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny, when Kittle told him how she had tickled the Fox with her tail from the basket. "That was a good trick!"

Then the bunny carried the pussy girl to school, and you can imagine how surprised the lady teacher was to see Kittle pop out of the basket, and say: "But everything ended happily. I'm glad to say. And if the picture of the cat on the wall doesn't fall down when the dog next door barks at the moon, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly's custard."

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Predictions that the railroad strike would be averted did much to rally wheat today, but the outlook later was uncertain, and prices closed unsettled, 3/4c to 1 1/4c net lower, with December $1.06 1/2 and May $1.10 1/2 to $1.10 3/4. Corn lost 3/4c to 1 1/4c and wheat to 1/2c. Provisions finished unchanged to be higher.

At the opening wheat prices showed a downward tendency owing to general commission house selling based largely on hedging pressure from the northwest, including Winnipeg. Assertions that Germany would be out of the market until spring counted too as a depressing factor, and so did a bearish estimate of the Argentine crop. On the resulting decline, however, the market apparently became overcast and made a sudden upturn when gossip circulated that the strike settlement outlook seemed more hopeful. Temporary fear that much grain would be damaged in an elevator fire reported at Montreal had also a transient bullish effect. Then came word that no definite results had been achieved in the meeting of railroad employees and that the Montreal fire was of a minor character. Heavy selling ensued, and was still in progress at the close.

Corn and oats held within narrow limits and merely followed changes in wheat.

Higher quotations on hogs steadied provisions, but owing to the strike problem the amount of business done was small.

Closing prices:

TURE directed by REGINALD BARKER

"A HONEYMOON IN PARIS

LET'S GO!"

She was young and twenty, she was in love, life was sweet.

What more natural than that she should forget her promise to stay with mother, alone in the empty house that once was so crowded?

"THE OLD NEST" tells a story with its dominant motif the fiercest, sweetest, most loyal and most divine of all the passions of the soul.
