CONVENTION ON HOME STRETCH

Committee on Revision Has Nine More Articles to Scan

ELEVEN HAVE BEEN PASSED

This Afternoon Session on Educational Institutions Was Considered.

The proceedings of the constitutional convention begin to lack dramatic interest as most of the time is now spent in carefully revising the articles already passed. The revision committee has up to date reported eleven articles, eight of which have been adopted as revised, and three of which are to be finally adopted today. Nine more articles await revision and these include the long ones on Legislative and Judiciary Departments, Corporations Other Than Municipal, and Taxation, and the shorter ones on Education, Apportionment, Amendment, and Miscellaneous. The committee expects to have all of these completed by Saturday and the convention could finish at a night session on Saturday, but if every section, and they number about 300, is to be finally adopted by roll call, the convention will carry over to next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Yesterday afternoon, as the New Mexican went to press, the convention was debating a sentence prohibiting the carrying of concealed weapons in the clause which gives citizens the right to bear arms for self defense and in time and places of danger. The clause had been changed entirely by the revision committee, not so much in meaning as in phraseology, as the clause as adopted consisted of two sentences which negated each other. The revised section was finally adopted after spirited debate in which C. J. Roberts, C. M. Compton, A. H. Hudspeeth, James E. Hall, F. E. Wood, Reed Holloman, J. G. Fitch, E. F. Saxon and N. Segura took part, and which despite its eloquence caused one spectator to remark "This is a wasteless use of time."

The Bill of Rights was then adopted with minor clerical changes.

The Committee on Engraving reported that it had arranged to have the constitution printed in engrossed form on parchment bond at figures submitted.

At this point Jose D. Sena was called to the chair and the convention took up the Article on Schedule, a long one but formal in its nature, as it provided for the carrying over of laws and official authority of territorial officers until the state government is inaugurated. A debate was caused by a motion of A. A. Sedillo to change the word "the" to "this," in the article, but after a parliamentary wrangle, the motion was lost, A. A. Sedillo protesting that sufficient time was given to mature deliberation of the revision.

The convention adjourned to 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, when the substitute clauses offered by the Committee on Education, and W. D. Murray and Acasio Gallegos, regarding territorial institutions and their lands, will be taken up.

The reports on mines and mining, state, county and municipal indebtedness and county and municipal corporations are to be taken up this afternoon if time permits. An evening session will be held if the printer can finish up the revised report on Legislative Department which is a very long one and on which the revision committee finished work this afternoon.

Tomorrow afternoon, the Committee on Liquor Traffic and prohibition expects to report, which ought to result in an interesting session, either then or some time on Saturday. The prohibition forces have mustered considerable strength although far from sufficient to carry the point they are contending for, but nevertheless, there promises to be a display of fireworks oratory, whenever the report is considered.

As the New Mexican went to press the convention had just been called to order by President Charles A. Spleen and Chaplain Julius A. Hartman had pronounced the invocation.

Afternoon Session.
President Spleen announced at the afternoon session that large number of members of the convention desire to adjourn Saturday night.

M. P. Skeen, H. B. Fergusson, E. S. Stover presented petitions and telegrams for prohibition. They were referred to the Committee on Liquor Traffic and Prohibition.

Delegate Patterson presented a memorial from homesteaders in the dry farming congress, asking that the convention plead, with congress to pass a law for the relief of homesteaders.

The memorial was adopted. The revised report on mining was then adopted and the report on county and municipal corporations taken up.

TOLSTOI IS A QUEER DUCK

Was Angry When His Son Sergius Entered His Sick Room

PHYSICIANS STILL HOPEFUL

Has No Knowledge That His Wife Has Hurried to His Bedside.

Tula, Russia, Nov. 17.—Count Tolstoi is still alive and even slightly improved this morning. His condition, however, continues critical and a number of times the last few hours the report has been circulated that the end had come. The inflammation of the lungs is less menacing this morning. On the other hand, the weakness of the heart action causes the greatest anxiety. Countess Tolstoi has not been admitted to the sick room and even the fact of her arrival has been kept from Tolstoi, lest the knowledge of her coming overexcite him. The count was plainly angry when his son Sergius entered the room.

Dictates to Daughter.

He was largely interested in Texas and Oklahoma lands and was one of the most extensive breeders of cattle in the country. Mr. Shearer was a close friend of Mr. Kelly and had been connected with the Chicago stock yards nearly forty years.

Arizonians Turn Down This Plan By Vote of 2 to 1—Also Defeat Woman Suffrage.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 17.—There will be no separate submission of the state wide prohibition question at the election for ratification of Arizona's constitution. The convention adopted today, by a vote of more than two to one majority the report of the committee on separate submission, recommending the rejection of the proposition.

For the third time the convention defeated the woman suffrage proposition by taking the same course with regard to the proposition for the separate submission of the question.

"They are saying you can't come back," ventured a reporter. "Not a word," said the colonel as he bounded out of his auto which brought him in from Oyster Bay and hurried into his office.

MOB INCLUDED MANY GIRLS.
Italians Appear to Have Been Chief Sufferers in the Outbreak.

TERRITORIAL REPUBLICAN CHAIRMAN H. O. BURSUM.

"The most significant fact about Bursum" every one calls him that, said a supreme court justice the other day, "is that he has been growing constantly and is still growing." There is no leisure in his energy, no retrogression in his attainments, the deeds of yesterday are but stepping stones and nothing else to him. From the lowest rung, to the leadership of a great party, from a private in the ranks to a general who has led his party to victory again and again, despite discouragements, despite fierce opposition, that is glory enough for any man, but H. O. Bursum is not after glory, he is not after shekels, he is not after power, he merely wants to serve his friends and the people, and he serves both well. In the constitutional convention, he should be classed as a progressive, his leanings are all that way, and for that reason, he has been so successful in healing differences, in bringing together apparently irreconcilable opinions, so that New Mexico will have a safe and sane and yet progressive constitution. On one point, however, he insisted in the parleys of all sides for vantage ground. That is, that the people demand a commission that would regulate and supervise corporations including transportation and transmission companies; that they wanted a commission that would do the work and that they must have such a commission. And he wrote with his own hands into the constitution the sections that will give New Mexico a commission that will be sustained by the courts, that will regulate and supervise corporate wealth and that will see to it that the square deal is given by the railroads to the people. That again, would have been glory enough for any man. But he has been active in shaping other parts of the constitution and in each case he had an eye to giving the people what public sentiment demanded, protecting the weak against the strong, guaranteeing every man his rights. It is a good record on which to go before the people for any office. His friends are willing to work and fight to bestow upon him any office. Every possible honor, from United States Senator to Governor, has been mentioned in his behalf by his friends but he himself is not seeking any official preferment; he needs no official preferment.

H. O. Bursum is a native of Fort Dodge, Iowa. He is 43 years old, but in those forty-three years has lived more years than most men, for from early boyhood he had to make his own way. He was only 13, when he came to New Mexico and helped to push the Santa Fe railway through New Mexico, as a contractor, freighter and as a railroad. He has lived at Raton, at San Antonio, at Fort Wingate and then at Socorro, where even sixteen years ago already, the people recognized his sterling qualities and elected him sheriff, in which position he was noted for his fearlessness, his fairness and his zeal to uphold the law. Four years later he began his career as a legislator in the Council. In 1889, he took hold of the territorial penitentiary as warden and placed it on a business basis, made it self-supporting by introducing the brick making industry. At the same time, he was the first to employ convicts at public road making and started the construction of the superb scenic highway from Santa Fe to Las Vegas and built the magnificent switchbacks across the Dalton divide. Since 1904, he has been chairman of the territorial republican central committee and he has not lost a political battle although in every fight the odds were heavy. The latest victory of 71 out of 100 delegates to the constitutional convention. Mr. Bursum has a forceful and magnetic personality, his word is taken without question or quibbling for even his political enemies acknowledge that his word is as good as gold. He has a happy family life in Socorro, but it is also at Santa Fe, that Mr. Bursum is a social favorite.

TWO HUNDRED FISHERMEN OVERDUE AT SELKIRK.
Hint of a Tragedy on Lake Winnipeg in Which Steamer Wolverine Has Disappeared.

Selkirk, Manitoba, Nov. 17.—The Marine department today dispatched a steamer to the Lake Winnipeg, with a relief party to look for the missing steamer Wolverine which was reported overdue November 10. At that time it was said, two hundred fishermen from the North Lake Winnipeg fishing stations were on the boat homeward bound from the season's work. Lake Winnipeg is three hundred miles long and eighty miles wide. Its shores are a wilderness inhabited by occasional tribes of Indians.

FURS ARE GOING OUT OF FASHION.
Therefore Sea Otter and Muskrat Skins Have Dropped Thirty Per Cent in Price.

Seattle, Nov. 17.—That the wearing of furs has gone out of fashion is giving William J. Erskine, manager of the Northern Commercial Company, as the reason of the astounding fall in prices of raw furs, which affects all classes of skins from sea otter to muskrat, ermine being the only important skin that did not fall in price. The muskrat skins, for instance, used in counterfeiting seal skins, have fallen 30 per cent because seal skins are less fashionable and imitations consequently in less demand.

PETITION FOR REPRIEVE OF HAWLEY CRIPPEN.
Several Thousand Signatures Have Been Secured By Solicitor Newton at London.

London, Nov. 17.—Solicitor Newton has secured several thousand signatures to the petition for the reprieve of his client, Dr. Hawley Crippen, sentenced to be hanged next Wednesday for wife murder. The petition probably will be presented to Home Secretary Churchill today.

ROSWELL YOUNG MAN MARRIES DENVER GIRL.
Canon City, Colo., Nov. 17.—A pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Senator and Mrs. Matt Lines, when their youngest daughter, Miss Rose, was married to Boyd Gatewood of Roswell, N. M. The wedding was witnessed by a large number of Miss Lines' friends and associates. In addition to a dozen or more guests from Florence and other places.

The bride is one of the most popular of the younger set, and is a graduate of the high school. The bridegroom is the son of Judge and Mrs. W. W. Gatewood of Roswell, and upon the return to that city with his bride will enter his father's law office. The young couple departed for Roswell, where they will make their home for the present at Ross Haven, the residence of the bridegroom's parents.

DISLIKES THE AMERICAN DOLLAR.
Unionist Charges That Uncle Sam's Millionaires Dictate British Destiny

DISSOLUTION OF PARLIAMENT.
It Is to Occur on November 28 According to Inspired Statement Issued Today.

London, Nov. 18.—An apparently inspired statement today fixes November 28 as the date for the dissolution of parliament. The government it is asserted, designs to pass the budget before appealing to the country. That the American dollar will figure largely in the Unionist campaign, was indicated by the excitement at the annual conference of the conservative associations at Nottingham this morning when Henry Chaplin, a Unionist member of parliament for Wimbledon, denounced the government which, he said, was handing over the rule of the country "to the sworn enemy of England who with the gold of foreign millionaires aspires to dictate our destinies."

PENSION FOR MARRIED WORKERS OF SIXTY YEARS.
Proposition Introduced in Convention of American Federation of Labor at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Nov. 17.—Aeroplane building is recognized as a new branch of industry in a resolution presented to the convention of the American Federation of Labor today. The carriage and wagon workers of the International Union in a petition to the federation set forth the decline in the carriage and wagon building industry and say it is due to automobiles and aeroplanes. The members ask that their charter be broadened and their name be changed to the Carriage, Wagon Automobile and Aeroplane Workers of the International Union. A resolution has been presented to the convention that Congress be asked to grant a pension of $30.00 a month to married workers past sixty years.

MOCK DRAMA TOO REALISTIC.
Delegate Armijo Is Shocked at Domestic Troubles Portrayed

WAS FOR MOVING PICTURES.
And the Hen-Pecked Husband Soon Regains His Composure.

Although moving pictures are considered very realistic, the real thing, the drama or comedy drama or tragedy from which the pictures are taken, is still more real. This was discovered by Delegate Isidoro Armijo of Las Cruces, Dona Ana county, who was riding in the eastern part of the city this morning with George Armijo, clerk of the convention. Mr. Isidoro Armijo was admiring the mountain scenery until suddenly his eye was attracted to the back porch of a house where a man was seen dragged by the hair to a wash tub and made do washing as his wife, of athletic figure, bossed him around. Finally she lost all patience with her husband whom she pushed into the foamy suds and then poured a gallon or more of other soap-water over him.

"This is frightful!" said Mr. Armijo to George Armijo, "and a stop ought to be put to such a wrangle!" George was somewhat puzzled himself but remembering he read in the New Mexican last night that a moving picture company was in the city he took a long guess that the domestic drama enacted was "a play to the galleries."

It was, indeed, lots of fun. Having enacted the first two acts of the western romance at Mr. Corbett's ranch yesterday afternoon, the hero winning the girl and escaping on horseback to the Parson's, Mr. Beal the "producer" of the western company of the American Film Manufacturing Company this morning staged the final act. It was dated several years later. He selected a house in the eastern part of the city and there the hero, Mr. Pollard and the heroine, Miss Fischer were again the costars. This time they twinkled over a "wash tub" landscape, Miss Fischer has been married two years and although she has strong arms she does not take kindly to washing, a task she leaves to her husband. He at first resents the idea but she grabs a lock of his jet black hair and leads him to the slaughter. Then the two ranchers, who were disappointed in love, show up on the scene and they cheer at their successful rival, saying "we are glad we were losers, Bill!" And so the comedy continues until the climax is reached, with the pushing of the husband into a tub of water and pouring another tub of water over him, makes the grand finale. The head douche and sitz bath make our hero shiver.

It was at this juncture that Mr. Isidoro Armijo drove by and thought the affair altogether too realistic to be anything but a first class A. No. 1 family row of Herculean proportions. Have Vocal Eyes.

A newspaper man was present at the scene and learnt many new things about moving pictures. The actors and actresses actually talk while they perform, but of course they rely more on facial expression than on elocution. They do lots of work with their eyes, which have to be quite "vocal" to make a success of the picture business. Great care is exercised in staging the picture to have the actors and actresses stay within certain lines, otherwise the moving machine will not catch them. Manager Beal drew lines on the ground in front of the porch and these served as a guide.

Can Stop the Machine.
If anything should go wrong in the picture, the manipulator can instantly stop it, and then resume without any interference in the portraying of the scenes. This is invaluable in producing "trick" pictures, which are the great success of Pathe Freres, of Paris. One of the actors this morning explained that many of the marvellous feats performed in moving pictures are done with the aid of wires and stopping the machine after each motion, then when the entire picture or series of pictures is finished, there is a string of "events" which deceive the eye and surprise the brain.

But he admitted there are certain secrets possessed by the French in making these marvellous pictures that are still mysteries.

Mr. James, the manager of the company, stated that he was somewhat disappointed finding the weather here rather cool as he had hoped some pictures could be taken in which sleeves would be rolled up and a semi-tropical garb used by the men in portraying certain southwest scenes. With the thermometer hovering around 25 this was not just the ideal climatic condition.

The company will spend several weeks in New Mexico and a week or more here, perhaps. Mayor Seligman has offered them the privileges of the city for making moving pictures and the members of the Santa Fe Board of Trade have extended the moving picture company all the courtesies n

About 45,000 square feet of riprap will be laid this winter and the dam of embankment on the west side raised about two feet which will increase the storage capacity 16,000 acre feet.

Five Thousand Dollar Fire in Mine Shaft—Fire broke out in the Hearst shaft at Pinos Altos, Grant county, which is situated upon one of the mines of the Western Belle group, now under option to the Rio Tinto Copper Company, and the timbering was quickly consumed, causing the shaft to cave in. Workmen on the fourth and fifth levels escaped through the underground workings of the Aztec mine. The damage is probably $5,000 and it will take some time to repair it.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

CONVENTION SPARKS.

"The director of the census has congratulated the supervisor at Santa Fe on the thorough manner in which his work was done. That sounds a whole lot better than the strictures made on the matter in which the work was done elsewhere."—El Paso Times

"The Democrat is not opposed to the recall. The proposition has many admirable features that recommend it. One of the many is that if it was in force in Arizona the people would unseat about 40 per cent of the constitutional convention."—Arizona Democrat

"The Democratic victories throughout the country will not warrant the Arizona constitutional convention in loading our fundamental law with socialistic junk. Radicalism in the constitution might suit Teddy, but it would not suit Arizona or the country."—Bisbee Daily Review.

Gloomy Gus Again.
"Next week the machine made constitution of New Mexico will be finished, and the constitution makers will be ready to return home. And if the people don't like the document it is up to them to help themselves as best they can. The bosses have acted."—El Paso Times.

The morning after the election Henry Waterson, veteran editor and Democrat, thus voiced his feelings on the front page of the Courier-Journal, the words being interspersed between crowing gamecocks: "Back to the constitution." "Democracy unterrified." "The Union of states, the supremacy of courts and obedience to law now and forever." What a contrast with the radical yells for the recall against the courts now heard in Phoenix among the accidental delegates.—Bisbee Daily Review.

"Give us a short constitution, and Arizona's star will be placed in the flag without further opposition. Fill the constitution with socialistic fads and issues and Arizona will be doomed to remain in the territorial wilderness. If there are delegates at Phoenix who think the people of Arizona desire a crippled judiciary and a government without power to enforce law and order, let them be referred to the initiative and referendum as a means of finding out that there is no such desire in Arizona."—Arizona Star.

"The grand jury, as we have observed, is an anachronism. There was a time when it served a useful purpose—when it stood between the people and the king. It has for many years been an awkward, a worse than useless piece of the machinery of justice, and also an expensive and a cruel one. With the grand jury wiped out the course of justice will be facilitated. The prisoner who is probably not guilty of the crime with which he is charged will quickly regain his freedom, and the prisoner who is guilty will quickly receive his punishment. The taxpayers will not groan under the burden of the support of either in jail. The district attorney on information may bring the defendant to trial as he is now brought by indictment. It is evident that the district attorney's guess at the guilt or innocence of the defendant is likely to be shrewder than that of the grand jury."—Arizona Republican.

"At times this paper is very much dissatisfied with the work our constitutional convention is doing. We are sure, for instance, that there is too much legislation in our organic law and we feel certain that because of this no state legislature will have anything to do except mark time for the next dozen years. We realize that the work produced by any body of men, however conservative they may be, represents the result of compromise. That constitutes both an advantage and a penalty of republican government. We appreciate also the fact that the present is a very unfortunate and very unwholesome time in which to hold a constitutional convention. Our entire country is in a state of great unrest. The public mind is not stable. Such conditions must inevitably be reflected in the work our convention is doing."—Las Vegas Optic.

A Mistake.
Things done by halves are poorly done. Whether in constitution making or in anything else, a half-measure is never satisfactory. For this reason we regret to see that the constitutional convention has gone only halfway in the matter of the re-eligibility of county officers. A careful consideration of the valid reasons for excepting probate clerks and probate judges from the provision that prohibits other county officers from being re-eligible for election to any county office for a period of four years after the expiration of their term discloses no sound argument for thus favoring the officials of the probate court. It is true that the probate clerk is to be also the clerk of the county court, but this in itself is not a sufficient reason to except him from the prohibitory clause. The probate judges and probate clerks should be put on the same basis as other county officers or the constitu-

HOW HAPPY THE WORD 'CUTICURA' SOUNDS TO ME

For It Cured My Baby of Itching, Torturing Eczema. First Came when Between 3 and 4 Weeks Old. Used Everything Imaginable. 2 Cakes Soap and One Box Ointment Cured.

"I can't tell in words how happy the word 'Cuticura' sounds to me, for it cured my baby of itching, torturing eczema. It first came when she was between three and four weeks old, appearing on her head. I used everything imaginable and had one doctor's bill after another but nothing cured it. Then the eczema broke out so badly behind her ear that I really thought her ear would come off. For months I doctored it but to no avail. Then it began at her nose and her eyes were nothing but sores. I had to keep her in a dark room for two weeks. The doctor did no good, so I stopped him coming."

"For about two weeks I had used Cuticura Soap for her every day, then I got a box of Cuticura Ointment and began to use that. In a week there was a marked improvement. In all I used two cakes of Cuticura soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and my baby was cured of the sores. This was last November; now her hair is growing out nicely and she has not a scar on her. I can not praise Cuticura enough. I can take my child anywhere and people are amazed to see her without a sore. From the time she was four weeks old until she was three years, she was never without the terrible eruptions but now, thanks to Cuticura, I have a well child. Mrs. H. E. Householder, 2004 Wilhelms St., Baltimore, Md., May 19, 1910."

tional restriction should be removed entirely.

While we know that much opposition is aroused to the continuous holding of good offices by particular persons, for our part we are, in the main, out of sympathy with it. If a thoroughly competent man is elected to office and performs his duties in a thoroughly competent manner we see no reason why he should not be returned to serve the people in the same capacity as long as the people may want him. We certainly do not see why certain county officers should be re-eligible and others ineligible for re-election. The inevitable result of such a provision will be to make the clerkship of the probate court in each county a veritable political storm center. We feel that the convention has made a serious mistake in this matter.—Las Vegas Optic.

"It is now expected that the constitutional convention will be continued the full sixty days, and then there may be expected the usual rush during the closing hours."—International American.

ARIZONIANS IN DEEP WATER

They Are Tangled Up Over Report of the Judiciary

RESENT NEWSPAPER CRITICISM

Democratic Constitutional Convention Delegates Are Quite Touchy

(Wednesday's Arizona Republican.)

The judiciary was a long time getting strung out, but the ball was finally put in play by Mr. Cunniff, who said that though the majority substitute was a very broad and capable measure, he liked the district court scheme better and he moved the adoption of the minority report. He read a communication from the Northern Bar Association endorsing the district court plan.

Chairman Cunningham of the judiciary committee moved the adoption of the majority report. He said his committee had devoted much time to the preparation of the report, had gone over all points in discussion very thoroughly and he raised an objection to the minority report that it left too much to the legislature.

Judge Wells spoke at length against the proposition to wipe out the probate courts. It was not an economical plan and beside it would put the business of the probate court into the hands of the superior court, which would necessarily neglect it.

Mr. Ellinwood, by the way of amendment, moved that the majority report be considered and subjected to such amendments as might be agreed upon.

Mr. Cooper spoke from experience as a probate judge against the minority report.

Judge Doe said that he had not been informed how the superior court plan worked in Washington, but he did not think that Arizona would profit by taking anything from that state. As to California, he knew that there was much dissatisfaction there to it.

In the course of his remarks he believed that in fixing the compensation of judges provision should be made for their traveling expenses, as the cost of living had been greatly increased, whereupon Mr. Ellinwood in a low tone was heard to utter something about the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

Dr. Mower favored the superior court plan or any other which would enable the Democrats of Maricopa county to get a Republican probate judge out of office to which he had been regularly elected for ten years and would probably be in office for the next ten years unless something radical was done.

Mr. Wood pointed out the difference in the cost of the two proposed systems. The superior court plan would entail upon the taxpayers of the territory an expense of $51,500. The district court plan would require an outlay of only $25,000. There could be a probate judge for each of the thirteen counties at $1,800 a year, amounting to $23,400, and still the total expense for district and probate judges would be $3,106 less than was proposed by the majority report.

The probate plan had moreover proved the better one and Mr. Wood pointed to the numerous scandals which had arisen in California in the settlement of estates.

On the other hand Mr. Kingan said that he had come to the convention inclined to the district court system, but he had become convinced that the superior court plan was the best as well as the cheapest.

The committee finally decided in favor of the majority report and an adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock when something else broke into the monotony of the proceedings.

Resentful Members. It had been rumored in the morning session that a switch had been put in pickle for the Arizona Democrat, whose criticisms of the convention have been characteristically free and John O. Dunbar, who was elected to wield the switch.

Mr. Dunbar had heard of the machinations of his enemies and he had gone out to be present at the skinning. He waited impatiently about the galleries until nearly noon and then went down town, leaving word to be called up at the first sign of the beginning of the festivities.

When the convention reconvened after noon there was an air of activity and nervousness about the chamber. Mr. Winsor, to whom the Democrat on Saturday night had devoted the greater part of a column of editorial describing him as a diffuser of hot air, rose to a question of personal privilege. He read a part of the editorial and said that he stood neither in sorrow nor anger, but with a heart full of gratitude for the signal prominence in which he had been placed wholly undeservedly. He would leave it to members if he had hardly opened his head within the last two weeks except to respond "aye" or "nay" and if he had not always made those responses in a modest and retired voice.

He defended his course in the earlier part of the convention in which he said he had only tried to fulfill his pledges.

Then Mr. Parsons took the floor and said that it might seem that what the Democrat had handed to Mr. Winsor was none of his business, but it had been serving it hot to every member of the convention as individuals and to the conventions as a whole.

The main text of Mr. Parsons was the following from the Democrat: "Thank God, there will never be another Democratic gathering in Arizona like this." Mr. Parsons urged the exclusion of the detractor of pure Democracy from the privileges that had been accorded to newspaper men generally.

Mr. Cunningham regretted that his colleagues had entered upon a defense of their conduct against the charges of the Democrat. Said he: "The right has grown up in this territory for newspapers to misquote, until now it has become a constitutional right which we ought not to try to abridge."

Mr. Dunbar arrived when the castigation was beginning but he did not appear to take it greatly to heart. That is to say, there was not that air of repentance about him that might be expected to attach to one who felt that he had been convicted of wrongdoing.

Then the convention went into the committee of the whole again and resumed the consideration of the majority report of the judiciary bill.

The first section was adopted without opposition, but beyond that the convention began to get into deep water and various phrases were va ARIZONA—TWO repeatedly interpreted and instructions and explanations by the committee were asked for until Mr. Lynch was moved to say: "The committee is prepared to furnish information but not comprehension."

However, things got to running smoothly and kept on for an hour or so when some member discovered that something had been passed hurriedly and then the committee began revising the bill backward. Finally a new start was taken and there were indications that the measure would be disposed of by 5 o'clock. There had been comparatively few amendments and they were not important ones. Mr. Crutcher was responsible for the chaos that ensued. He tried to have proposition 140, relating to minor offenders, and which had been unfavorably reported, put into the bill as an amendment. Then amendments were piled, Ossa upon Pelion. In ten minutes the muddle was complete.

At this juncture a man in the galleries went to sleep and when he awoke an hour later the situation was clearer to him than it was to nine out of ten of the members on the floor. During his slumbers, of course, he could not get any more muddled than he had been when he sank to rest. On the other hand the members on the floor had got more than at sea.

It was after 5 o'clock that a temporary respite was found. It was agreed to send proposition 140 back to the legislative committee and have it licked into the shape of an amendment to the judiciary bill as a juvenile court provision.

When this had been agreed to the committee without evil intent, of course, conspired to commit an act that is a crime against the laws of this territory. It agreed to report progress, and the records of the secretary are so falsified.

INTERNATIONAL FRACAS STARTS IN A SALOON.

Albuquerque Residents Fight on Account of Strained Relations Between Mexico and U. S.

Albuquerque, N. M., Nov. 17, 1910. Strained diplomatic relations between Mexico and the United States may soon occur and Judge William Wallace McClellan of Albuquerque, may be called upon to make a hurried journey to Washington in the near future, all as the result of a situation which has evolved because of a street fight on South Second street Tuesday night, in which Margarito Quire, Louis Bravo and Francisco Mendoza, of Old Mexico, and Manuel Campos, Pedro Gutierrez, Jose Montoya and Casimiro Chavez, of New Mexico, U. S. A., were the belligerents.

Just how the trouble happened and just when diplomatic relations began to be strained, no one seems to be able to tell. According to admissions made by parties on both sides, it began to happen in or near Zanone's saloon at 8:30 Monday. Considerable whiskey had been sloughed off by both parties, it is said, but the Old Mexico Mexicans and the New Mexicans, while they kept their feet on the same bar rail, remained at opposite ends of the mahogany. Between drinks timely topics were discussed, the conversation naturally drifting toward the present situation between the United States and Mexico. The hordes from the sister republic talked about it among themselves and the citizens of New Mexico told each other what they thought about the affair. Finally remarks began to be passed between the two aggregations. Then according to a New Mexico man, one of the Old Mexico men shouted: "Viva Republica Mexicana." This shout had an instantaneous effect. Just what the effect was, no one seems to know. The first outsider to arrive was Policeman Pablo Lujan, who had been awakened from a sound sleep by the uproar. With a gun in one hand and a club in the other, Lujan advanced on the belligerents and waded in. When he emerged from the battle, he was all there and in sixty seconds more had seven men walking toward the police station.

Yesterday morning in police court, Acting Police Judge McClellan heard the seven stories. The stories told by the New Mexicans were similar, while the stories of the Mexicans tallied also. But both factions declared the other faction was all wrong. Finally Judge McClellan decided that he would fine the four New Mexicans $5 and costs for fighting in the streets and raising a disturbance. The Old Mexico prisoners, the judge declared, would be compelled to pay a fine of $10 and costs, on a charge of fighting and carrying concealed weapons, it being alleged that one or more of them carried vicious looking knives on their persons.

The Old Mexico Mexicans declared to pay the fines on the ground of unjust discrimination. The matter would be taken up immediately with the Mexican ambassador at Washington. Last night the four New Mexicans had been released, having paid their fines and costs. The trio of foreigners were still in jail. At last reports the ambassador nor any of the Mexican consuls had come to their aid.

Booze Responsible.

The trouble between the New Mexican and the Old Mexico citizens Tuesday night is the first to be recorded day night in the history of the result of the recent excitement in certain parts of Texas and Old Mexico. It is believed that booze was largely responsible for the local fight and that there will be no recurrence of the trouble. The Old Mexico Mexicans trouble. The Old Mexico Mexicans working and living in and around Albuquerque as a rule, attend to their own business strictly and do not look for any excitement of any kind.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

A VAIN APPEAL.

The Democratic Bishops Daily Review and the Douglas Daily International, have joined the Republican press of Arizona in their appeals to the damogues who control the Arizona convention to halt, to retrace their steps and to eliminate the socialistic, unconstitutional features they have already incorporated in the Arizona fundamental law and which will certainly result in the rejection of the document by President Taft, not, perhaps, because he wants to, but because under the constitution and the law he must do so. Says the Daily Review and it should be remembered that it is a Democratic paper appealing to a Democratic convention:

"It is not too late for the delegates to the Arizona constitutional convention to reconsider the recall proposition and by eliminating the thing entirely from the constitution thus make statehood certain for the near future and that too, without depriving the people of Arizona of the opportunity to put the recall into their fundamental law. But will accidental statesmen now following the radical leaders in Phoenix be able to see and realize what they are being led into before it is too late? The recall, as already tentatively agreed to in the convention, will put an end to our statehood hopes for the present unless the people of Arizona should put their own seal of condemnation on the constitution and thus prevent its disapproval in Washington. The people of Arizona want statehood a great deal more than they want the recall or the initiative and referendum, in any form, though by their votes they evinced a strong desire for direct legislation. But were the people called on today to vote on statehood without the initiative and referendum or no statehood at all, they would say give us statehood and self government. When Arizona once becomes a state the people will then be commissioned to provide such government as they desire, but under the provisions of the enabling act under which the constitutional convention is now being held, some care should be taken to see that nothing is inserted which will give excuse for turning down the constitution in Washington. This thing of flying in the face of President Taft with a constitution more radical and filled with more issues and freaks than the Oklahoma constitution means defeat of statehood for which our people have prayed and fought for twenty-five years. To do this will bring upon the bonehead constitution makers, now controlling in Phoenix, the wrath of the territory. The excuse given by the radicals in the convention that the people want it, will be found to have no support behind it. The people do not want a recall which would submit the correctness of a court decision on a question of law to the body of the people who would be utterly incompetent to say whether the decision was correct. If the radicals in the convention, who seem to have only one idea and that to ride the back of labor into office, persist in doing that which threatens statehood, one consolation will result; if we lose statehood we will also be rid of those who brought about the sacrifice of self-government, by their refusal to heed the advice and counsel of those who think more of statehood than they do of opportunity for personal political aggrandizement. This paper has for many years fought the battles of the Democratic party and it is a matter of regret that it cannot now follow the Democratic majority in the constitutional convention; to follow the radical damogues who have been clothed with brief prominence and power in the convention would be to abandon the fight for statehood now at a time when conservative and sane action in the formation of our fundamental law would put the star of old Arizona on old glory in time to record the vote of Arizona for Judson Harmon or some other Democrat in 1912. We warn the Democrats of the constitutional convention that their stubborn determination to follow self will and self aggrandizement and sacrifice Arizona's chance for statehood will not meet with public approval."

THE FREEDOM OF THE PRESS.

The constitution of New Mexico will guarantee the freedom of the press. It goes one step further, and will permit the newspaper accused of libel to plead the truth in defense, thus doing away, as far as the new state is concerned, with the old saw which says that the greater the truth the greater the libel. But the truth must be published in good faith, before it can be pleaded as a defense in a suit for libel. The New Mexican believes, that the new state through its legislature, should be ever more liberal in protecting newspapers against being mulcted for damages. Good faith and lack of malice should be sufficient defense against a suit for libel. In the hurry of getting out a daily newspaper unintentional mistakes are bound to occur; misstatements are apt to be made, because editor and reporter may rely on the truthfulness of their informants. A newspaper certainly should have as much of a standing as a policeman who unintentionally makes a false arrest or a postmaster who delivers a letter to a wrong party. A newspaper holds an official position to the public, just as much as the lawyer to his client, and a lawyer is exempt from punishment for what he may say in good faith, and even in bad faith, to the jury or in court regarding the man he is prosecuting or is opposing. Officials are exempt from personal prosecution for their official acts even where such official act may work an injustice, or cause great damage. It is as easy for a newspaper to be conscientiously mistaken as it is for a legislator or constitution maker to utter a libel unintentionally on the floor of the convention.

Some people seem to think they prove their own brilliancy by being able to point out errors in a newspaper. Every one makes mistakes in his profession, but with most people only the boss knows about it. The newspaper man's mistakes are spread out for all the world to see. The conditions of newspaper making demand that it be done at high pressure. If the editor went at his task with the extreme caution manifested by the lawyer when he writes a will there would not be time to do much writing. And few people realize what infinite pains even under existing conditions are taken to avoid error so far as possible. The bulk of the mistakes are the result of inaccurate information given to reporters.

A bill is to be presented to the next legislature prescribing a penalty for persons who mislead newspapers for their own selfish ends. The object of this step is to severely punish men and women who knowingly give incorrect news to newspapers, and severe penalties will be provided. For instance, if some smart Aleck joker gives a wedding announcement to a paper and it proves incorrect a penalty of thirty days in jail will be provided for the person who willfully gave out the misinformation—that is, if such information was known to the person to be incorrect or was given out with malicious intent. Again, for a person who furnishes misinformation to a newspaper which leads to libel a penalty of one year in the penitentiary will be provided on conviction.

But there can be no real freedom of the press, until a newspaper is given the right to speak out in meeting as long as its intentions are not treasonable or malicious and it argues in good faith from premises it believes to be true.

FREE ADVERTISING.

The columns of the New Mexican have been of late used very freely for the advertisements of concerts, dances, receptions, suppers and all kinds of entertainments for church, lodge and charitable purposes. In dollars and cents, the space would have cost the promoters of these praiseworthy forms of amusement many thousands of dollars. As in a parable of old, where the question is asked: "Where are the other nine?" only one of every ten has as much as thanked the newspaper for its liberality, and the New Mexican at times deemed itself fortunate if it escaped libelous criticism or censure for the manner the free advertisement was worded or displayed, or because it did not happen to be exactly as many lines as some one else's entertainment was given. The city is growing so rapidly of late, the entertainments for charitable and semi-charitable purposes are multiplying noticeably that the New Mexican finds itself constrained to place a limit upon free advertising. It will not eliminate it altogether, it will still give it of its space freely, but it has made a rule that any one charitable enterprise or entertainment shall be limited to three "free puffs," of an aggregate of three hundred words, making fifty lines, which at the current rate of 25 cents a line charged in the Minor City Topics, would be equal to a donation of $12.50. Beyond that, it will be compelled to charge advertising rates, unless in case of the insertion of a program. The New Mexican will also insist that such notices, and all notices of meetings, be sent in, legibly written, preferably typewritten. Taking notices over the telephone has led to so many mistakes and so many complaints, that it will be abrogated as far as the New Mexican is concerned. Many newspapers have cut out free notices altogether but the New Mexican desires to continue to give a reasonable amount of publicity, free of charge, to all charitable undertakings.

The Santa Fe Employees' Magazine for November is a splendid number. The place of honor is given to a finely illustrated biography of Kit Carson, whose name is so intimately connected with Santa Fe and Taos. From the pages of the magazine also loom the well known features of Colonel Ralph E. Twitchell, the cut being accompanied by a brief biography. There is also a brief story of the narrow gauge railroad that the Santa Fe built from Deming to Silver City and which was changed to standard gauge in 1885. There are a number of beautiful poems to the memory of the late J. E. Hurley and a lot of other literary material of special interest to the people of the southwest in general and the Santa Fe's employees in particular.

FIFTY MILLION FEET OF LUMBER FOR BOXES.

Some Idea Given of the Immensity of Apple Crop in Northwestern Inland Empire.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 17.—E. F. Cartier Van Dessel, president of the Phoenix Lumber Company and second vice president and chairman of the board of trustees of the National Apple Show, Inc., reported at the last quarterly meeting of the Western Pine Manufacturers' Association that 50,000,000 feet of pine lumber, or sufficient to build 5,000 five-room cottages, was used to provide boxes for the apples grown in the Inland Empire this season. He also submitted estimates prepared by growers and handlers, showing that not less than 800,000,000 feet of lumber will be needed to supply the demand for boxes in five years. These estimates place the fruit crop of the district, taking in parts of eastern Washington and Oregon, north and central Idaho, western Montana and southeastern British Columbia, at 100,000 cars. Five feet of lumber is used in making a standard apple box, which holds a little more than a Winchester bushel. Mr. Van Dessel says the bulk of the boxes will be used in packing apples for eastern markets.

SUNNY MONDAY

Sunny Monday laundry soap contains a wonderful dirt-starter which saves half the rubbing. The soap itself does most of the work—you merely assist it. Your poor back will appreciate the difference at once.

Sunny Monday will do its best work in any kind of water—hot, cold, hard or soft. All waters look alike to Sunny Monday.

STATE SENATOR IS A YOUTHFUL PRODIGY.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 17.—Roger Sherman Hoar, aged 23, of Concord, grand nephew of the late Senator Hoar, senator-elect from the fifth Middlesex district, who says he will be the youngest man who has ever sat in the Massachusetts upper house, is now a student in the Harvard law school and pursuing many different vocations.

Hoar, while studying at Harvard, will sit in the senate. In addition he is now getting up a news agency. He is furthermore writing a volume to prove the value of the Bible as a text book for lawyers. He is himself practicing law and also is putting on the market a waterproof blanket. He is secretary of the free state committee scout master of the Boys' league, treasurer of the Concord Town schools and is a professional cartoonist, besides being trumpeter of the Harvard cavalry troop. Occasionally he takes time to breathe.

How a Studebaker Saves You Money

THE way to figure the cost to you of a wagon is to figure the cost for just as long as you use it.
If a farm wagon, for example, that costs you $50 lasts 20 years and requires only $2 repairs, the average cost of that wagon is $2.50 a year.
If another wagon costs only $50, and lasts 10 years, and requires $10 worth of repairs, the cost to you is $6 a year, at least.
Which is the cheaper?
There is no doubt about the better qualities of Studebaker wagons, carriages and harness.
It's the material that goes into them—Studebaker farm wagons have axles 5 1/2 inch deeper than others, made from selected blued oak Hickory and last from 3 to 5 years.
The axles are also reinforced with a special bar of steel running from the head of one skein to the other.
The Studebaker Patent Truss Sקים are made from cast iron having a tensile strength of over 20,000 pounds to the square inch—50% greater than the requirements of the United States Government—and probably 50% greater than the ordinary wagon.
The Studebaker hubs are larger in diameter—furnishing a greater foundation for the spokes. They are treated with a special solution which greatly adds to their weather resisting qualities.
The Studebaker spoke shoulder spokes—one of the greatest improvements ever made in wagon building—carry the largest amount of wood into the hub. These are designed where other spokes are tapered.
The Studebaker patented round-edge wheels are designed and built. That's why they never loosen.
And so on—point by point—feature by feature—showing that well built in the durability and long life of the Studebaker is overbalanced.
Do you wonder that it is the wagon with a reputation behind it?
You cannot afford to have a "cheap" wagon, when you can get the best for so little.
It is your money, to be constantly paying out, more for repair bills, extra Studebaker and save money. Come in and see what it costs.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

State, County and Municipal Indebtedness.

Section 1. The state hereby assumes the debts and liabilities of the Territory of New Mexico, and the debts of the counties thereof, which were valid and subsisting on June twentieth, nineteen hundred and ten, and pledges its faith and credit for the payment thereof. The legislature shall, at its first session, provide by the issue and sale of bonds, or otherwise.

Sec. 2. No county shall be required to pay any portion of the debt of any other county so assumed by the state, and the bonds of Grant and Santa Fe counties which were validated, approved and confirmed by Act of Congress of January sixteenth, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven, shall be paid as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 3. The bonds authorized by law to provide for the payment of such indebtedness shall be issued in three series, as follows:

Series A. To provide for the payment of such debts and liabilities of the Territory of New Mexico.

Series B. To provide for the payment of such debts of said counties.

Series C. To provide for the payment of the bonds, and accrued interest thereon, of Grant and Santa Fe counties, which were validated, approved and confirmed by Act of Congress January sixteenth, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven.

Sec. 4. The proper officers of the state shall, as soon as practicable, select and locate the one million acres of land granted to the state by Congress for the payment of the said bonds of Grant and Santa Fe counties, and sell the same or sufficient thereof to pay the interest and principal of the bonds of Series C issued as provided in section three hereof. The proceeds of rentals and sales of said land shall be kept in a separate fund and applied to the payment of the interest and principal of the bonds of Series C. Whenever there is not sufficient money in said fund to meet the interest and sinking fund requirements thereof, the deficiency shall be paid out of any funds of the state not otherwise appropriated, and shall be repaid to the state or to the several counties which may have furnished any portion thereof under a general levy, out of the proceeds subsequently received of rentals and sales of said lands.

Any money received by the state from rentals and sales of said lands in excess of the amounts required for the purposes above mentioned shall be paid into the current and permanent school funds of the state respectively.

Sec. 5. The legislature shall never enact any law releasing any county, or any of the taxable property therein, from its obligation to pay to the state any moneys expended by the state by reason of its assumption or payment of the debt of such county.

Sec. 6. No law shall ever be passed by the legislature validating or legalizing, directly or indirectly, the militia warrants alleged to be outstanding against the Territory of New Mexico, or any portion thereof; and no such warrant shall be prima facie or conclusive evidence of the validity of the debt purporting to be evidenced thereby or by any other militia warrant. This provision shall not be construed as authorizing any suit against the state.

Sec. 7. The state may borrow money not exceeding the sum of two hundred thousand dollars in the aggregate to meet casual deficits or failure in revenue, or for necessary expenses. The state may also contract debts to suppress insurrection and to provide for the public defense.

Sec. 8. No debt, other than those specified in the preceding section shall be contracted by or on behalf of this state, unless authorized by law for some specified work or object; which law shall provide for an annual tax levy sufficient to pay the interest and to provide a sinking fund to pay the principal of such debt within fifty years from the time of the contracting thereof. No such law shall take effect until it shall have been submitted to the qualified electors of the state and have received a majority of all the votes cast thereon at a general election; such law shall be published in full in at least one newspaper in each county of the state, if one be published therein, once each week, for four successive weeks next preceding such election. No debt shall be so created if the total indebtedness of the state, exclusive of the debts of the territory, and the several counties thereof, assumed by the state, would thereby be made to exceed one per centum of the assessed valuation of all the property subject to taxation in the state as shown by the preceding general assessment.

Sec. 9. Any money borrowed by the state, or any county, district, or municipality thereof, shall be applied to the purpose for which it was obtained, or to repay such loan and to no other purpose whatever.

Sec. 10. No county shall borrow money except for the purpose of erecting necessary public buildings or constructing or repairing public roads and bridges, and in such cases only after the proposition to create such debt shall have been submitted to the qualified electors of the county who paid a property tax therein during the preceding year and been approved by a majority of those voting thereon. No bonds issued for such purpose shall run for more than fifty years.

Sec. 11. No school district shall borrow money, except for the purpose of erecting and furnishing school buildings or purchasing school grounds, and in such cases only when the proposition to create the debt shall have been submitted to the qualified electors of the district, and approved by a majority of those voting thereon. No school district shall ever exceed six per centum on the assessed valuation of the taxable property

No county, city, town or village shall ever become indebted to an amount in the aggregate, including existing indebtedness, exceeding four per centum on the value of the taxable property within such county, city, town or village, as shown by the last preceding assessment for state or county taxes; and all bonds or obligations issued in excess of such amount shall be void; provided, that any city, town or village may contract debts in excess of such limitation for the construction or purchase of a system for supplying water, or of a sewer system, for such city, town or village.

Sec. 14. Neither the state nor any county or municipality therein, except as otherwise provided in this constitution, shall directly or indirectly lend or pledge its credit, or make any donation to or in aid of any person, association, or in aid of any private enterprise, or the construction of any railroad.

Sec. 15. Nothing in this article shall be construed to prohibit the issue of bonds for the purpose of paying or refunding any valid state, county, district, or municipal bonds, and it shall not be necessary to submit the question of the issue of such bonds to a vote as herein provided.

Mines and Mining.

Section 1. There shall be an inspector of mines, who shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, for a term of four years, and whose duties and salary shall be as prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. The legislature shall enact laws requiring the proper ventilation of mines, the construction and maintenance of escapement shafts or slopes, and the adoption and use of appliances necessary to protect the health and secure the safety of employees therein. No children under the age of fourteen years shall be employed in mines.

PROOF OF FAIRNESS.

A frown developed on the countenance of the new patient, as he studied the bill the physician had handed him. "What do you mean," he at length inquired, "by charging me $55 for a two-weeks' treatment when you charged Henderson only ten dollars for a treatment extending over the same length of time?"

"If you mean that I am not impartial in my charges," retorted the bustling doctor, "I want you distinctly to understand that you have absolutely no foundation for your insinuation. I ordered Henderson to eat three square meals a day, while I forbade you to eat more than one light lunch. Now, sir, if you will add the cost of Henderson's meals to my charge of ten dollars and compare the result with the cost of your meals, plus my charge of $55, you will obtain such proof of my equibleness that you, if you are a man, will humbly apologize to me for your unkind and unwarranted attack."

Smart Lad.

The teacher had taught her class to memorize the name of the new king of Belgium.

"And now can any of you boys tell me the chief industries of Belgium?" she asked.

Up shot the hand of the little boy in the blue jumper. "I can, ma'am."

"What are they, Archibald?"

"Raising Belgian hares and making Belgian blocks."

Helps the Imagination.

Townsend-Skinner is making lots of money with his new thermometer.

Beers-What is there peculiar about it?

Townsend-It's a reverse effect; the mercury goes up with the cold and down with the heat. It's a wonderful help for people who want to imagine they are more comfortable than they are.

One On the Speaker.

They were heckling him at a political meeting. At last he could stand it no longer.

"Who brayed there?" he cried out sarcastically.

"It was only an echo," retorted somebody amid much laughter.-Tit-Bits.

Tough on the Creditor.

Shortleg-I say, old chap, can you lend me a ten-spot?

DeLong-Sure. Here you are.

Shortleg-Thanks, awfully. I'm indebted to you more than I can ever hope to repay.

NOT SURPRISED.

Hiram Kross Lotts-I was down to York's today, and I went to the 'quarum' and saw a man eatin' shark!

Aunt Salrey Ann-Yass, I s'pose a body can get mos' anythin' they calls for in them Noo York restrunts.

A Contingency.

"The early bird will get the worm." Or that there is no question.

But if the worm should chance to turn He'd get the indignation.

A Good Corn Recipe.

When cutting sweet corn from the cob cut lengthwise through the center of each row of kernels with a sharp knife, then cut off the tips of the kernels without cutting into the cob and scrape the milk from the cob. Put into a well buttered pan with salt, pepper and butter and steam three quarters of an hour over a quick fire, keeping plenty of water under the steamer. Cooked in this way, the corn retains all the juices and will be found delicious.

Patches to Which Boys Won't Object.

To mend the knees of little boys' trousers so they will look as well and wear as well as when new, rip the seams as far up as worn, cut away the worn part, take a piece of cloth like the garment, sew straight across the front, carefully matching grooves; press the seam well, then shape by the piece cut off, sew up the seams and hem across the front.

If the pressing is well done one could not tell they had been mended.

Cough Syrup.

Take four tablespoons of the cough syrup each day, one after each meal and one before retiring. More would not injure you. A cough remedy that has been used in our family with good results is: Boll 1 lemon whole (skin and all) in a quart of water until soft, then cut lemon into small pieces, add a cup of sugar, and drink as often as needed. Above all, don't neglect to be out of doors all the time if possible.-Exchange.

WAKING UP.

Take no chances, Sparkling glances Often lead a chap astray, When a fellow 'S feeling mellow And his simple heart is gay.

'Tis no wonder-'Tis, by thunder! He succumbs to smiling eyes; But he later May hate her-There is where the danger lies.

Does seem funny How one's honey When true love has run its course, Gets so crabbed And so rabid In an action for divorce!

"Grouch Germ" Discovered.

Scientists have found the "grouch germ," according to reports from Kansas City. This germ, it is believed, thrives particularly in the vicinity of phonographs and in neighborhoods where a great many young porch parties celebrate until the small hours of the morning. These "grouch germs" are great travelers and are carried about from place to place. They are spread by bill collectors, book agents and persons who go from house to house selling potato peelers and glass cutters. Those who go about with subscription lists seeking donations are also responsible for the wide scattering of the little microbe which produces peevishness in hot weather. With these pointers one may know how to avoid giving the pest a chance to carry on its fiendish work.

Correct Way to Put Up a Hammock.

A Seneca (Kan.) man, W. R. Wright, gives these specifications as to the correct way to put up a hammock: "There is a knowhow about hanging a hammock besides tying it so it cannot break down. A hammock should be hung six and one-fourth feet from the ground at the head and three and three-fourths feet above the ground at the foot. The rope that secures the head should not be more than twelve inches long, and that at the foot about four and one-half feet in length. Arranged in this way the lower part will swing freely and the head is kept comfortably by being nearly stationary."-Kansas City Star.

Long Days.

How would you like to live in a place where the longest day lasted three months and a half? But that really is the length of the longest day in Spitzbergen, a far northern cape on the way to the north pole. At a place called Wardburg, in Norway, the longest day lasts from May 21 to July 22; that means that it's daylight all the time, so that you go to bed in daylight and wake up in daylight, too, for ever so many weeks. It must be funny, mustn't it?

At St. Petersburg, the capital of Russia, the longest day lasts 19 hours and the shortest one only five hours. London's longest day is 16 1/2 hours, while New York's is about 15 hours.

Smokeless Frying Pan.

A frying pan said to prevent smoke and odors from emanating from the food being cooked, even onions being included, is described in Popular Mechanics. One side of the wall of the pan has an extra section of wall attached. At this point the inner wall is cut low, and between the two is an opening. With the cover in position on the pan the natural draft of the cooking range starts a circulation through the pan and over the food being cooked, this circulation drawing all smoke and odors down into the fire chamber.

Matches Not By-Products.

It is not to be assumed that, by reason of the smallness of matches, the makers thereof ever utilize scraps or bits of wood left over. The contrary is the case. Matches are not by-products. Any wood rejected by the match machine goes to the by-product establishment, and of these by-products of the match business may be mentioned, such as doors and sashes, that in some instances form an industry as important as the match industry itself.

Antidote for Seasickness.

Antidotes for seasickness are in great demand in France. A retired naval surgeon has been advising that compression of the stomach will inevitably prevent any qualms on the water. But no half measures will suffice. The traveler must abstain from food for eight hours before embarking, then swallow himself in a bandage of webbing drawn as tightly as he can bear it and twisted round the body some half-dozen times.

More Room to Live In.

We do not realize half our possibilities. We do not more than begin to possess our inheritance. Our hills are full of gold and we only scratch the sand and the shallow soil on the surface. We live in little bungalows in the valley when there are splendid places waiting for use on the hill-tops. Shall we not push out our tent pins and get more room to live in? -J. R. Miller, D. D.

Victim of Circumstances.

While a man was walking under the trees in a park at Chichester (England) he was attacked by an owl. It was found that an owl had fallen out of a nest in one of the trees, but it seemed hopeless to try to explain to the parent bird that the unfortunate man had nothing to do with the accident.

Scottish Banking Arrangement.

A farmer or small trader in any part of Scotland, with one or two of his neighbors as guarantors, can establish a banking credit for a fixed sum. The bank honors his drafts for any amount within this limit, and the customer pays interest only upon the sums actually drawn.

On the Installment Plan.

One day Robert said, "Uncle Bill, how much do you want for those pups?" "Oh, about $2 apiece," was the reply. "But, Uncle Bill," said Robert, "what could I do with a piece of pup?"-The Delineator.

Behind the Times.

Lettice Denby-But this is so sudden! Uppen Dewing-Sudden! It's nearly two weeks! Young lady, don't you know that the modern, up-to-date, Robert W. Chalmers period of courtship is only two minutes?

She Was Settled.

Mrs. Uppson-I don't want another giddy girl. Can't you get me a settled woman? Employment Agent-I think I can, ma'am. I know of one who has had five husbands, and doesn't want any more.

WORSE STILL.

At the last election two laboring men were discussing politics (and sour ale) in the public bar of the Red Lion. Jones was a true-blue Tory, while Smith was a Radical of the deepest dye. The argument was fierce.

"Ah, well," remarked Jones at length, "yer can't get away from the fact that Mr. Robinson's a puffed gentleman. A real torf, 'e is. Only the other day he sent me a rabbit for my dinner."

"Oh, 'e did, did 'e?" snapped Smith. "Well, that's wot we calls bribery." Jones began to get alarmed.

"Well, the rabbit was a trifle 'igh," he replied, deprecatingly.

"Wuss still," thundered Smith. "Wuss still. That's bribery and corruption."-Tit-Bits.

Punished.

"People who lie are always punished in one way or another."

"That's right."

"You know of incidents which bear out my statement?"

"One. I used to exaggerate the size of my fortune when talking to a girl I used to call on before I was married."

"And she discovered that you were lying and despoiled you ever afterward?"

"No, she married me."

No Harm Done.

"What, marry you?" echoed the frigid-hearted maid. "Well, I guess not. Why, I wouldn't marry you if you had ten times the money my father has."

"Oh, well," rejoined the young man in the case, "you have nothing on me in that respect. If I had half that amount of money I wouldn't even know you."

The Honest Sailor.

"I thought you said this parrot could speak two languages."

"He sure can, mum."

"Nonsense! He can do nothing but screech unintelligible gibberish. What two languages does he talk?"

"Bird language and the barbarous dialect of the juncos in the district where he wuz raised."

Sign of Quality.

"I'm sure that there is some wonderful quality in my daughter's voice."

"What makes you think so?"

"None of the neighbors have objected to her practising."

AN UNNECESSARY INCUMBRANCE.

Bertie-I have made up my mind to enter society.

Sadie-What has your mind to do with it?

Mary's Revenge.

Mary was a little girl who did not like to wait, but one day her mother, having several guests, Mary was made to wait anyway, so just about the time dinner was under good headway, she poked her little curly head in at the dining-room door and said: "I don't care if I do have to wait; that was an old sick turkey, anyhow."

-Norman E. Mack's National Monthly.

French Woman's Long Sleep.

A curious case is that of a woman in the hospital at Alencon, France, who has been asleep for 30 days, and, unlike most patients who fall into a lethargy, this patient has a perfectly normal temperature. Her teeth are rigidly set, and she has to be fed through a tube, which was introduced with great difficulty, and has been left between her teeth.

Berlin Not So Slow.

In Berlin, where much wood is burned, they are not so slow. A motor truck drives up to a house and delivers a load of logs. A motor sawing machine rolls up under its own power, cuts, with saws run by gasoline, the wood into fireplace lengths as desired, cleans up the litter and moves on. Very little noise.

Tenant's Reward.

A certain landlord called on a tenant one day and said: "Jones, I'm going to raise your rent. 'What for?' Jones asked, anxiously. 'Have taxes gone up?' 'No, not at all,' the landlord answered, 'but I see you've painted the house and put in a new range and bathtub. That, of course, ought to make it bring more rent.'"

The Limit.

"I know the champion mean man." "Who is he, and what did he do?" "He beat his wife because she wore her wedding ring out doing house work."

Tangible Proof.

"There's a fellow who thinks pretty well of poetry."

"As to how?"

"He pays good money to insert in his advertisements."

Assistance Refused.

Doc-Well, you'll certainly find it a safeguard to boll the water. Blintz-Dern the water! Let it boll itself!

THE VALUE OF PROPRIETARY MEDICINES

is proven by the very large percentage of physician's prescriptions for same remedies found in every drug store in America, but as they are written in Latin, few patients realize this fact.

The old standard proprietary medicines like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that have stood the test of time, deserve a place in every family medicine chest, and it is most certain they would not be prescribed by physicians if they were able to devise a formula equally as efficacious.
