STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION UNDER FIRE FOR POOR BOOKKEEPING

MEETING BEING HELD TODAY AT CAPITAL TO TAKE ACTION UPON REPORT OF TRAVELING AUDITOR

Loose Handling of Accounts, Excessive Expense Items and Absence of Vouchers for $7,753.18 Are Features Mentioned By Whittier; $9,143.91 in Vouchers Not Itemized.

Irregularities in the department of education have been so frequent and extensive that a special meeting of the state board of education has been called at Santa Fe today to consider the report of the state traveling auditor, A. G. Whittier, covering the operation of the department from January 1, 1917 to June 30, 1921.

A traveling account which, during the period, totals $36,713.91; vouchers not itemized totaling $9,143.91; items labeled "differences found" which amount to $7,753.18; the salary of one official which increased 450 per cent in five years; an hotel bill for seven days amounting to $177 for one person with $21 extra for telephone calls during the same time—these are a few of the highlights in the lengthy document prepared by the auditor.

Under the classification of vouchers not itemized are listed expenses for the state superintendent Jonathan H. Wagner, John V. Conway, the present superintendent, Mrs. Ruth C. Miller, director of vocational education, and there is further a miscellaneous column.

Mr. Wagner drew out on unitemized vouchers from the certification fund, $1,580.53; from the continuing fund, $2,716.91, and from the vocational education fund, $785.56, making a total of $5,082.99 in expense that was not properly itemized.

Mr. Conway's total is $790.18 and Mrs. Miller's total is $119.34. Under "miscellaneous," the total is $1,119.34.

Referring to the continuing fund, the auditor says on page 23 of his report:

"The fund was handled by Mr. Wagner during his first year very satisfactorily, but during the sixth, seventh and eighth fiscal years, disbursements were made to the winds and all the rules of properly accounting for monies were violated."

The certification fund, which accumulated through the fees for the continuing fund and $8,483.35 from the vocational fund, has been without any check. There is no record of the funds received except the deposit slips from banks, which total more than $30,000 for the period. There are reported to be no books at all for the vocational fund.

Transfers From Funds. To the certification fund, $1,654.39 was transferred from the continuing fund and $8,483.35 from the vocational fund. The record shows that the certification fund paid back $2,995.61 to the vocational fund.

In the items labeled "differences found" the auditor explains that they should be refunded unless adequately explained. Here are some of the items in Mr. Wagner's accounts which are objected to:

He drew a salary of $1,500 a year as executive secretary of a branch when the rules prescribed for 1919 and 1920 $600 per year.

He borrowed money to travel and charged the interest to the state.

He drew six vouchers for paying for the grading of examination papers and presents no evidence of payment.

His settlement voucher No. 67 failed to credit six payments totaling $302.99.

He failed to make out a settlement voucher for the eighth fiscal year but drew $2,857.65.

Mr. Wagner is assumed to have paid these amounts but there is no definite record showing how the money was expended.

On page 23 of the report, the auditor says:

"Many mileage books were purchased."

WASHINGTON IS SHOCKED BY THE DEATH OF HARA

Japanese Delegation Is Thrown Into Sorrow and Confusion; Premier's Death Is a Serious Loss.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Nov. 4.—(By The Associated Press.)—The Japanese delegation to the armament conference was thrown into sorrow and confusion, and official Washington, including the delegates from other countries, were shocked today by the announcement from Tokyo, that Takashi Hara, the Japanese premier, had been assassinated.

Admiral Kato, the ranking member of the Japanese delegation, was so affected by the news that he burst into tears, something most unusual for a Japanese official.

President Harding expressed his horror at the outrage. It was an unhappy, discordant note, he said in a formal statement, at a time when all were seeking to come together around the conference table and to the good understanding and good will throughout the world.

Secretary Hughes went immediately to the Japanese embassy and expressed his condolences to Baron Shidehara, the Japanese ambassador. Later, he cabled to Ambassador Warren at Tokyo, to express to Count Uchida, the foreign minister, his profound distress, and to say how much the news had caused a feeling of deep sorrow throughout the United States.

A Loss To Japan. The death of Premier Hara, who had attained a dominating political influence in the Japanese empire and who was expected personally to shape from Tokyo, the Japanese policy at the forthcoming conference, is a very serious loss to Japan at a time when that country is passing through a period of intense transition. Emperor Yoshihito is incurably ill, mentally and physically, and has not longer able to carry on his duties.

It is understood that plans have been under consideration to establish a regency under the crown prince, Hirohito, who recently returned from a tour of Europe. Mr. Hara and Viscount Makino, the household minister, have been trying to solve the problem of modernizing the Japanese court and government, and to bring the people of Japan, who are clamoring for a development of their country along the lines of democracy. New social ideas, even those which have been coming in, are influencing the thought of the people, 95 per cent of whom are able to read and write.

Mr. Hara frequently referred in public addresses to the dangers of a too rapid absorption of western social ideas into Japanese life, believing that his country could not quickly digest successfully, western ideas and society. Gradually his influence grew until the Japanese began to look upon him as a popular leader at a rather critical moment of their history.

His arrival at Tokyo that Hara alone was running Japan and that it was his decision alone that always obtained. He succeeded in inducing General Tanaka, until recently minister of war, to bring about an even break in the cooperation between the military elements and the civil branches of the government. It was Hara's aim to bring about a reconciliation which the Japanese plenipotentiaries announced as their conference policy when they entered this country.

Important public personages in Japan are never announced as dead, although actually so, until the emperor has been notified of the demise, and a personal representative of the emperor has been taken over by the soviet from shops and stores at the beginning of the Bolshevik regime.

GREEN WINS DECISION. New York, Nov. 4.—Harry Greb, Pittsburgh light heavyweight, tonight defeated Charles Weinert, Newark, receiving the judges' decision after a fifteen-round bout.

19 SHOT, 40 SENT TO PRISON FOR THEFTS. Moscow, Nov. 3.—Nineteen men have been shot and forty men and women sentenced to prison terms, after conviction before a Moscow court martial for thefts of diamonds, platinum and old silver and jewelry from the government stores. These stores were taken over by the soviet from shops and stores at the beginning of the Bolshevik regime.

THREATENING LETTERS. Before the Japanese delegation left Japan threatening letters were received by its members, including Prince Tokugawa, to whom were forwarded suggestive and sinister drawings of the assassination of Minister Mori in 1889, and the recent murder of Yasuda, a millionaire banker.

The receipt of threatening letters alleged to have been signed by Greb, secretary of the American author, renews caution of the American authorities during the journey of the delegates from Seattle to Washington.

URGES ADJUSTMENT OF WAR DEBTS OF ALLIES. London, Nov. 4.—Steps toward reaching adjustment of war debts between allied nations are urged by the exchequer by the British national committee of the International Chamber of Commerce. The resolution advocated the "desire to adopt negotiations in order to obtain the benefits which, in the committee's opinion, would accrue if the war debts of the allies to Great Britain were reduced or cancelled on terms to be agreed upon."

OLD TOWNSITE SOLD. Tombstone, Ariz., Nov. 4.—The old townsite of Charleston, seven miles from here, was today sold to a land and cattle company for $342,000. In the early years of silver mining in Arizona, was one of the biggest and most active of the "mushroom" communities. Today it is distinguished from the surrounding country by a tiny railroad station and a few crumbling adobe walls. Charleston was the "wildlife" of western fiction.

VIRGINIA BY 15,000 REPUBLICAN CLAIM

For the first time in many years the republicans have hopes of carrying a state election in Virginia. Their candidate for governor at next Tuesday's election is Col. Henry W. Anderson.

His opponent is former state Senator E. Lee Trinkle.

On his visit to this country he was received by President Roosevelt in Washington, in September, 1920.

Hara re-entered the cabinet in 1913 as minister of home affairs and in 1918 formed the cabinet now in office.

When a month before he was elected to the cabinet, Hara studied for a time but early forebore it for journalism, through which work came his introduction into the foreign office service. During a later interval in his political career he was chief editor of the Osaka Mainichi and took up again the chief membership of the cabinet in 1905.

In May 1920, a plot was discovered to assassinate Premier Hara, the details coming out in November last by publication of the findings of the police.

The plot was named after a former attorney named Ito, charged with planning an attempt against the premier's person. Seven bombs were to have been employed in the attempted assassination, which was to have taken place on May 8, 1920, the court findings showed.

It was asserted that Ito came to Tokyo and purchased a revolver and explosives, making his bombs out of bottles and boxes. On taking them into the streets, however, he was knocked down accidentally by an automobile and the police discovered the infernal machines he had devised, and unraveled the plot.

The assassination of Premier Hara recalls a similar dramatic incident when Premier Clemenceau of France was shot and dangerously wounded at a time when the peace conference, of which he was presiding officer, was at its height. This occurred February 19, 1919, while Clemenceau was going from his home to the American hotel.

STAB WOUND IS FATAL TO HARA; YOUTH ARRESTED

(By The Associated Press.) Tokyo, Nov. 4.—(By The Associated Press.)—Premier Hara was fatally stabbed in the breast today at the railroad station in Tokyo. He died an hour later. The assassin, who is 19 years old and demented, was arrested.

The assassination of Premier Hara comes at a dramatic moment when the Japanese delegation is assembling for the Washington conference and when Japan is intensely interested in the international issue in which Premier Hara has until now taken such an important part. He had been urged to head the delegation to Washington and, for a time, had the matter under consideration, but finally decided that his services would be better employed at home during the discussions at Washington.

Premier Hara frequently addressed the Japanese diet concerning the serious work ahead for Japan's chief aim would be to put an end to race barriers. He later conferred with the American ambassador at Tokyo and the premier soon afterward announced at a meeting of the government party that Japan was willing to compromise on the Shantung question with China which had long been a main subject of controversy.

Premier Hara declared in recent statements that Japan was ready to accept a limitation of her naval establishment along with the rest of the world, and always keeping in mind the necessities of her national defense.

Takashi Hara has been premier of Japan since 1918, when he formed a cabinet after the fall of the Terauchi ministry. The cabinet consisted of Frank L. Stephan, Twin Falls county attorney; Roy L. Black, state's attorney general, and E. A. Walters, former district judge. In addition to these, Guthrie, Homer C. Mills and A. R. Hicks were named.

Three Venues Drawn. Because of the extent of notoriety given the case, difficulty was encountered in impaneling a jury, a week being consumed. In that period three special venues were drawn, each of forty names. The first of these was discarded because of ineligibility of Sheriff E. R. Sherman to act as summoning officer. W. G. Thompson was selected by the court as clerk, the two special venues were discarded because of the officers' ineligibility. In addition to these, eighty veniremen, the original panel consisted of seventy-five men. Practically the entire total of 155 names was drawn before the completion of the jury.

Witnesses From Four States. Witnesses were called from Missouri, Montana, Tennessee and California. In all 132 witnesses were called to appear on both sides, but not all were called to the stand. The state listed 142 witnesses on the indictment, while the defense named about twenty. Hypothetical questions arising from the prosecution of the five weeks devoted to the trial. Many physicians, chemists and similar professionals were called to give testimony as expert witnesses.

The trial proved a legal battle from the start, with counsel locking horns on scores of important questions arising during the progress of evidence taking. Probably the bitterest battle was waged over the state's request for permission to introduce evidence relating to the question of the check off system, which was the subject of the indictment.

Contradictory Testimony. Practiced in some instances, contradictory testimony of other expert witnesses, especially on the question of death cause. The defense throughout maintained that in all instances of death resulted from natural causes.

Analysis made by Herman Rodenbaugh, Utah state chemist; E. F. Rodenbaugh, state chemist of Idaho, and E. E. Bowley, Twin Falls city chemist, all agreed as to the presence of poison in all bodies exhumed.

On the stand the accused woman maintained an unbroken attitude through a long grilling by the prosecution, which failed to derive any important admissions from her. Every session of the trial found the court auditorium filled to capacity, principally by women and girls.

MURDER IN THE SECOND DEGREE IS VERDICT IN SOUTHARD CASE

Woman is Found Guilty in Connection With the Death of Edward F. Meyer, Her Fourth Husband.

NO SIGN OF EMOTION SHOWN BY DEFENDANT

Not Less Than Ten Years Imprisonment is the Penalty; Sentence Will Be Passed This Morning.

(By The Associated Press.) Twin Falls, Idaho, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Lydia Meyer Southard was found guilty of second degree murder here this afternoon in connection with the death of Edward F. Meyer, her fourth husband. The jury was out twenty-three hours.

The verdict was returned at 3:55 o'clock. The defendant showed no sign of emotion and did not raise her eyes from the floor when the verdict was announced.

A fair-sized crowd was in the court room when the verdict was announced.

The verdict carries a penalty of not less than ten years' imprisonment. Sentence will be passed at 9:30 a. m. November 7.

Trial Began September 25. Trial here of Lydia Meyer Southard on the charge of causing the death of her fourth husband, Edward F. Meyer, foreman of the Blue Lakes ranch, Twin Falls, was adjourned until this afternoon for the reading of the verdict.

The case was heard in the district court, Judge W. A. Black presiding, on September 25. The prosecution consisted of Frank L. Stephan, Twin Falls county attorney; Roy L. Black, state's attorney general, and E. A. Walters, former district judge. In addition to these, Guthrie, Homer C. Mills and A. R. Hicks were named.

COURT SUSPENDS INJUNCTION OF ANDERSON SO FAR AS IT APPLIES TO SO-CALLED CHECK OFF SYSTEM

RECEIVER ASKED FOR RICKARD INTERESTS BY NEW YORK BROKER

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Nov. 4.—In an effort to recover money said to have been loaned to Tex Rickard for promotion of the Johnson-Jeffries bout in 1910 and other big sporting events, Frank D. Armstrong, broker, today sought to have the promoter and two corporations in which he is interested thrown into the hands of a receiver.

Upon Armstrong's application, Supreme Court Justice Hotchkiss signed an order requiring Rickard, the Madison Square Garden corporation and the Madison Square Garden Sporting club, Inc., to show cause next Monday why a receiver should not be appointed for their interests.

In his complaint Armstrong stated that he had loaned Rickard $10,000 to aid in promoting the Johnson-Jeffries contest, also that he helped the promoter when he managed the Gans-Nelson bout in Goldfield, Nev., and when he obtained the lease on Madison Square Garden.

The two corporations named in the complaint, Armstrong alleged, owed Rickard $250,000, but Rickard had told him he had no money to pay his debt. The complaint added that upon his recommendation, William W. Armstrong, president of the National Copper bank of Salt Lake City, also had loaned money to Rickard.

May Reopen Entire Case. Union leaders pressed to see in the action today a reopening of the entire case and attorneys for the mine workers said tonight that they would present all the testimony presented at the hearing before Judge Anderson, to prove that the case had not been handled thoroughly.

The action today, union leaders said, would do much to clear up the labor situation in the mining industry and would prevent the mine workers said tonight that they would present all the testimony presented at the hearing before Judge Anderson, to prove that the case had not been handled thoroughly.

Operators, on the other hand, said they saw in the action of the court of appeals only a delay of the final action. They said that it would be better to have the issue of the check off system decided at once rather than delay the decision until cold weather if there is to be a cessation of work over the action.

Sporadic Walkouts. The writ of injunction issued by Judge Anderson forbade the operators to withhold from the miners' pay union dues and assessments, as the operators had agreed with the unions to do. Union officials asserted that compliance by the operators with the decision of the court would precipitate a strike, and afterwards reconstitute the cabinet.

Count Stefan Beihen, the premier, who introduced the bill Thursday, is expected formally to resign immediately the bill becomes law, and afterwards reconstitute the cabinet.

FOCH CARRIES AWAY THE KEY TO ST. LOUIS

(By The Associated Press.) St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 4.—The "key to St. Louis," a large brass key about ten inches long, has been carried away by Marshal Foch of France. The key, which customarily is presented to the city's dignitaries and guests, and as customarily returned, was handed to the marshal yesterday. When the special train departed last night one of the marshal's aides had the key on his belt.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 4.—Ferdinand Foch, marshal of France, was the guest of Indiana here today, and thousands of people from every nook and corner of the Hoosier state gathered to bid him welcome.

Elaborate military ceremonies, an automobile race, formal and informal receptions, a banquet and a great parade were held.

The automobile race was won by Eddie Hearne, who drove the twenty-five miles at an average speed of 97.5 miles an hour. Howdy Wilcox was second and Monte Roberts third. A thrill in the race came before the half-way mark, when the car driven by Charles Vawter caught fire and swerved from one side of the track to the other. He finally righted his car and extinguished the flames, but had to drop from the race.

UNITED MINE WORKERS HAIL THE DECISION AS DECIDED VICTORY; APPEAL HEARING GRANTED FOR NOV. 16.

RECEIVER ASKED FOR RICKARD INTERESTS BY NEW YORK BROKER

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Nov. 4.—Action of the United States court of appeals here today in suspending that part of the injunction issued by Judge Anderson of Indianapolis applying to the check off system until further order of the court, was acclaimed tonight by officials of the United Mine Workers of America as a decided victory.

The nullifying of the part of the writ of injunction applying to the check off system allows this system of holding out union dues and assessments from the coal miners' pay to be continued by the operators temporarily. An appeal hearing was granted the union for Wednesday, November 16.

May Reopen Entire Case. Union leaders pressed to see in the action today a reopening of the entire case and attorneys for the mine workers said tonight that they would present all the testimony presented at the hearing before Judge Anderson, to prove that the case had not been handled thoroughly.

MRS. OBENCHAIN COLLAPSES AS SHE IS TAKEN INTO THE GRAND JURY ROOM; IS SOON EXCUSED

Writes to the Foreman Asking an Opportunity to Be Heard But Is Unable to Stand the Ordeal; Motion for Dismissal of the Murder Charge Is Continued Until Monday.

(By The Associated Press.) Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 4.—Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain today got the opportunity she had sought to appear before a grand jury and be heard but was unable to utilize it.

Last night Mrs. Obenchain wrote to the foreman of the grand jury asking an opportunity to be heard, in case it took any further action regarding her. As a result of the request a summons was sent to the jail for her today.

Mrs. Obenchain collapsed soon after the summons arrived and was weeping when she was taken into the jury room. She proved unable to answer any questions there and soon was excused.

Physicians who examined her told the court she was unable to stand the strain of appearing today and the motion of her attorneys for dismissal of the charge against her which was to have been argued today was continued until next Monday.

Her attorneys expressed hope she might be able to make a statement to the grand jury before that time.

BATTLE ROYAL TO BE STAGED AT THE ARMORY

Five Men to Enter the Ring at One Time as a Feature of the Caldwell-Jones Program.

Have you ever seen a battle royal?

One of them is going to be the feature of the boxing program to be held at the armory the evening of November 10 by Benny Cordova, boxing promoter. Five men will enter the ring—and to the victor will belong the spoils.

If you have never seen one—it will be worth the price of admission. If you have seen one—it will be worth more. There's plenty of action in a battle royal and the littlest bird usually carries home the bacon.

Gorilla Jones and Walter Caldwell, who will stage the main 15-round bout, are both in the city and have taken up training. The boys are now in the pink of condition from training for other bouts and are simply putting on the finishing touches here. A free public workout will be staged at the Moose hall this evening at 7 o'clock.

Jones will work out for about thirty minutes and Caldwell will probably get into action at 7:30 o'clock. The free exhibition was set for Saturday night in order to give every one a chance to witness the boys in action and to decide if they will get their money's worth on the night of the tenth.

Caldwell has been a favorite among local fans for some time, although he has only been seen in action here a few times. Probably his best performance was when he knocked out Kid George in the 15-round bout some time ago. George stuck with the ratty Caldwell longer than any one else who has met him here for every one of them have taken the count in the early part of the battle.

Gorilla Jones is known throughout the west and we saw him last he had pep, punch, courage and plenty of science. He claims he is in the best condition of his career—and Caldwell has decided he can put him away alone about the tenth round. It ought to be well worth seeing.

BEATTY SAYS GREAT BRITAIN AND AMERICA MUST STAND TOGETHER

(By The Associated Press.)

Chicago, Nov. 4.—James Beatty, the conviction that Great Britain and the United States must stand together "for fellowship's sake." Admiral Beatty, first sea lord of the British admiralty, in an address to the British parliament, asserted that if the two great English speaking nations did not stand together, they had nothing to fear in the world.

Speaking of the conference on limitation of armaments, he said that "it is full of hope and that great things shall come out of it."

Referring to the great part of the British navy in winning the world war, he asserted that England must also have a large fleet in peace time, pointing out that if England were cut off from the rest of the world, "she would be starved into submission in six weeks time."

WOMAN SHOT AND KILLED.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 4.—Mrs. May Young was shot and killed at a hotel here today and L. D. Dillon, believed by police to be the one who shot her, was held in a hospital from a self-inflicted wound. No motive for the shooting has been assigned. Dillon's chances of recovery were said to be slight.

JUST DRAGGED SO WEAKENED

Florida Lady Was In a Miserable Condition, But Says She Found Cardui Helpful, and Got Well.

Blountstown, Fla.—In explaining how she found Cardui so helpful during change of life, Mrs. Ella M. Bailey, of this place, said:

"I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up."

"I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down—yet to weak I couldn't get about. It is a most miserable and such a helpless feeling."

"I would get depressed and out of heart."

"I began to feel, after awhile, there was no use to try to get well. This is all wrong, for it makes a person worse."

"I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results."

"I took one bottle (of Cardui), then I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up."

"Gradually the nervousness left me. I began to eat and sleep better. Was soon well, and all right."

"Cardui did wonders for me, and I certainly do recommend it. Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others."

"Cardui has stood the test of extensive use, for more than forty years, in the treatment of troubles common to women."

"Good druggists, everywhere, sell Cardui, the woman's tonic. Try it."

BRITISH LABOR SUPPORTS ARMS CUT CONFERENCE

House of Commons Unanimously Adopts a Resolution Approving the Approaching Parley.

(By The Associated Press.)

London, Nov. 4 (by the Associated Press).—The house of commons today unanimously adopted the motion presented by labor members "warmly approving" the Washington conference on limitation of armaments and far Eastern problems. The vote came after two and a half hours of discussion in which numerous speakers supported the resolution and voiced hopes of the conference's success.

Prime Minister Lloyd George still hopes it will be possible to carry out before long his intention of going to Washington and taking the leadership of the British delegation at the armaments conference, declared Austen Chamberlain, the government leader in the house of commons today.

Mr. Chamberlain made this declaration in speaking in the debate in the house on the forthcoming conference in the American capital.

The debate was opened when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution introduced by himself in association with the other labor leaders, Stephen Walsh, J. H. Thomas, Arthur Henderson and Thomas Shaw reading:

"That this house warmly approves of the meeting of international conference at Washington and trusts that a supreme effort will be made to arrive at such measures of agreement as will secure a substantial and progressive reduction of the crushing burden of armaments."

There were protests against the introduction of the resolution, but they were futile. Debate on the question of the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance was believed to have been prevented, however, by Austen Chamberlain, government leader, who asserted that such a discussion would be "contrary to the public interests."

quarters at the Hotel Grillon, Springfield, from behind a cloak would-be slayer, Emil Cottin, fired a volley of pistol shots at the aged statesman, two bullets taking effect, one in the shoulder and another in the breast near the lungs. The victim's life was despaired of for a time, but his iron will helped carry him through and within three weeks he resumed his place with the peace conference, which had been threatened with disruption, by the incident.

The Vienna congress, after the Napoleonic wars was similarly disrupted, first by a series of assassinations and then by Napoleon's dramatic stroke, escaping from Elba and returning in triumph to Paris.

PRESIDENT EXPRESSES HIS PROFOUND SORROW

Washington, Nov. 4.—When President Harding learned of the assassination he expressed his profound sorrow.

"I am profoundly sorry," said the president. "Of course, every one in authority is horrified to hear of such outrages, especially at a time like this when we are all seeking to come to a gathering around the table and add to the good understanding and good will throughout the world. It is an unhappy, discordant note."

The Japanese embassy, after his visit to the Japanese embassy, sent the following cable to the American ambassador at Tokyo:

"Please call immediately on the minister of foreign affairs and say to him that I am profoundly shocked and distressed to learn of the premier's assassination. The news of this outrage has caused a feeling of deep sorrow throughout the United States. You will say to the minister that I extend to him on behalf of the president and the government of the United States expressions of deep sympathy and condolence."

HARDING URGED TO APPOINT WALDO TO PHILIPPINES POST

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 4.—Appointment of Rhineland Waldo, former police commissioner of New York, as governor general of the Philippines was urged upon President Harding today by Representatives Fish and Husted of New York.

The president is understood to have indicated no appointment would be made until Governor General Wood had signified his preference.

APPLICATIONS FROM BREWERS APPROVED

Washington, Nov. 4.—Prohibition Commissioner Haines approved today the first two applications from brewers for permits to manufacture and sell beer for medicinal purposes under the new treasury regulations.

The applications were from Joseph Schiltz, of Milwaukee, and Piel Brothers, of New York, and officials said the permits for them to engage in the medical beer business would be forwarded at once.

FORMER PRESIDENT OF BANK UNDER ARREST

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 4.—Dr. F. P. Dwigkins, former president of the defunct American State bank, was arrested last night at San Francisco on a charge of borrowing funds from a bank while an officer of the bank, according to a message received by State Sheriff Gus Hyers Friday morning. The telegram stated that Dr. Dwigkins would waive extradition.

RESOLUTION SIGNED.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The resolution of congress declaring Armistice day, November 11, a legal holiday, was signed today by President Harding. He is expected soon to issue a proclamation on the subject.

The towering figure at the trial of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, charged in Los Angeles with the murder of her son, J. Belton Obenchain, will be Attorney Ralph Obenchain, the lover of college days, the forsaken husband of later life, who now comes forth as the defender of the woman who cast him aside. Obenchain has employed several attorneys to aid him in the defense of his ex-wife, most prominent among them being Charles Erbstein, one of the most successful lawyers in Chicago.

TAX RATE IN ALL EXCEPT TWO COUNTIES MORE THAN DOUBLED IN FIVE YEARS, SAYS REPORT

The taxes to be paid in 1922 are now being certified to the county commissioners by the state tax commission, and will be extended upon the 1921 tax rolls unless appeals are made to the state tax commission for a reduction.

Citizens and taxpayers still have the opportunity of securing changes in the 1921 taxes by taking up the matter with their boards of county commissioners, according to the Taxpayers' Association of New Mexico.

Notwithstanding a loss of $40,000,000 in the state valuation, lower percentages of tax collections and general economic conditions, the amount levied for all governmental purposes in New Mexico is practically the same as in 1920.

The state tax commission has done its best to reduce budget estimates and it is now "up to" local citizens who pay the bills to satisfy themselves that levies cannot be reduced. As has been said, there is time for this to be done, if steps are taken immediately.

PRICES OF WOMEN'S CLOTHING CHEAPER IN SPRING, CLAIMS

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Nov. 4.—Prices of women's clothing next spring will be 25 to 33 per cent lower than last spring through immediate return to piece work in the garment making trades, said a statement today by the Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' Protective Association.

Their proposal to abandon the present weekly wage and restore the piece work payments is opposed by the International Ladies Garment Workers union, the members of which are preparing to take a strike referendum.

The manufacturers' statement declared the forecasted reductions answered "charges by Benjamin Schlesinger, head of the union, that the manufacturers' aim is to hit the buying public by increasing prices through a return to piece work."

GRIM REAPER BEATEN IN RACE WITH STORK

Washington, Nov. 4.—Births recorded in the "birth registration area" during 1920 totaled 1,598,874, the public health service announced today, exceeding deaths by 672,720. The birth rate showed a relative increase of 7.6 per cent over 1919.

The registration area now includes twenty-three states comprising 58 per cent of the national population.

TAKES BONDS AT PAR TO PAVE 12 BLOCKS OF LAS CRUCES STREETS

(Special Correspondence to The Journal.)

Las Cruces, N. M., Nov. 4.—"Is anything the matter with the old town?"

Not so you'd notice it! Vis and to-wit:

When a responsible building firm submits a bid on public work at figures lower than the engineer's estimate and takes bonds, running ten years at 8 per cent at par, then we have yet once again a practical exemplification of the spirit of confidence, local pride and progress.

That's precisely what became of a matter of official record in Las Cruces when the board of town trustees awarded a contract to the Kroeger-Hayner Construction company to pave twelve blocks of streets in the residential district.

The engineer's estimate for the work was $17,225, plus the incidental legal and engineering fees. The company's bid was $37,063, exclusive of the customary fees.

It is announced that work on the paving will begin about November 15.

Frank M. Hayner of Las Cruces bought the bonds at par, which in itself is a matter worthy of public notice in these days of financial stress throughout the country. The fact that a local company will do the work, means, so far as possible, local workmen will be employed. Thus more than $15,000 will find its way into the pockets of men who live in Las Cruces.

Capt. Charles Mill, a trustee, said today that the board contemplates improvement in other parts of town; but whether we will be able to carry them out depends, he added, "entirely upon the attitude of property owners in the streets under consideration."

THREE SACKS OF MAIL DISAPPEAR FROM THE STATION AT MARICOPA

(By The Associated Press.)

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 4.—Three sacks of mail, including one pouch of registered matter, disappeared from the railroad station at Maricopa, thirty miles south of here, yesterday, according to reports received here today. Postoffice officials here refused to discuss the theft but it is known that postoffice inspectors and deputy sheriffs are in Maricopa.

The mail is said to have been left at Maricopa by a Southern Pacific train to be brought to Phoenix by an Arizona Eastern train.

WOMAN AVOIDS AN OPERATION

(Hope Nearly Gone, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her)

Star, N. C.—"My monthly spells gave me so much trouble, sometimes they would last two weeks. I was treated by two doctors without relief and they both said I would have to have an operation. I had my trouble four years and was unfit to do anything and had given up all hope of ever getting any better. I read about your medicine in the 'Primitive Baptist' paper and decided to try it. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for about seven months and now I am able to do my work. I shall never forget your medicine and you may publish this if you want to as it is true."—Mrs. J. F. HURSEY, Star, N. C.

Here is another woman who adds her testimony to the many whose letters we have already published, proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound often restores health to suffering women even after they have gone so far that an operation is deemed advisable. Therefore it will surely pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to try it.

SILENT TRIBUTE IS PLAINED FOR UNKNOWN YANKEE

Pause of Two Minutes in the Nation's Life Every-where Will Be Asked By Proclamation of Harding

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Nov. 4.—The call of an army bugle sounding "attention" will bring the gathering at Arlington national cemetery to its feet at noon on armistice day, to stand two minutes in silence, as a memorial to America's unknown dead from France. For the same period a similar pause in the nation's life everywhere by proclamation of the president will testify to the country's regard for its nameless soldiers in France.

Secretary Weeks will act as official master of ceremonies. The detailed program for the services marking the burial of the unknown dead at the memorial amphitheater in the Arlington cemetery, was made public today by the war department. The period of silence, the marine band will lead the audience in "America" and the address of President Harding, the only address to be delivered over the casket, will then be made.

Quartet Will Sing.
A quartet, from the Metropolitan Opera company of New York, will follow with the hymn "The Supreme Sacrifice."

Those composing the quartet are Miss Rosa Ponselle, Miss Jeanne Gordon, Morgan Kingston and William Gustafson. The honors bestowed by the United States government and by the allied governments upon the unknown soldier will then be conferred. President Harding will pin on the casket, the congressional medal of honor and the distinguished service cross. He will be followed by Lieutenant General Baron Jacques, who will bestow the Belgian cross de guerre; Earl Bessie, admiral of the British fleet will pin the British Victoria cross beside the other decorations. Marshal Foch will bestow the French medaille militaire and croix de guerre; General Armando Diaz, the Italian, the gold medal for bravery, Dr. Bedrich Stepanek, Czechoslovak minister, the Czechoslovak war cross, and Prince Lubomirski, Polish minister, the virtu militari.

The audience will join the quartet in the hymn, "Oh! God, Our Help in Ages Past." Chaplain Lazarus will read from the Psalms, Miss Ponselle will sing, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," Chaplain Frazier will recite a scripture lesson, and the services within the amphitheater will conclude with the singing of "Nearer My God To Thee" by the audience.

Will Read Burial Service.
The casket will then be carried out to the crypt of the terrace of the amphitheater, the president and Mrs. Harding, the Vice President and Mrs. Coolidge, senior and foreign delegates to the armistice conference, Secretaries Hughes, Weeks and Duggan, the distinguished foreign officers and General Pershing, following. As the casket is placed in the crypt, the burial service will be read by Chaplain Brent and floral decorations will be placed in the tomb by Representative Hamilton Fish, of New York; Mrs. R. Emmett Plancy, representing American War Mothers; Mrs. Julia McCudden, for British war mothers; and Chief Plenty Coups, of the Crow nation, will place his bonnet and coup stick on the tomb also as a tribute from the Indians of the United States to the unknown dead.

Three salvos of artillery will mark the regular triple volleys for military dead. Taps will be sounded by an army bugler and the national salute of twenty-one guns fired at nearby field battery will end the ceremony.

ADVISERS WILL ASSEMBLE PRIOR TO CONFERENCE

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Nov. 4.—The advisory committee of twenty-one selected by President Harding to act with the American big four at the armistice conference, will be assembled in Washington three days in advance of the conference opening, to give its opinion on the initial steps of policy to be taken by this government.

A call for the committee on next Wednesday, November 9, was issued today by Secretary Hughes, and at the same time it was revealed that high officials expect the committee members to play an influential part in shaping the government's course from the beginning to the end of the negotiations.

A "reactionary agency," was the way the committee was described in high official circles today to illustrate the extent to which it will function in reflecting public opinion on the problems that come before the conference. It was indicated that some questions might be submitted directly to it for study before being considered at all by the big four, while in other cases sub-committees or advisory would be asked for by the principal delegates to render opinions on details.

Although the committee members will make the four principals, will have no diplomatic standing, a special commission for each was signed today by President Harding, authorizing them to "advise and assist" in shaping the American policy. They are, however, given no power of negotiation like that which goes with the rank of ambassador conferred by the president on Secretary Hughes and the other members of the big four.

ULSTER PREMIER MEETS BRITISH PREMIER MONDAY

Negotiations Towards An Irish Settlement Are Understood to Hinge Upon Scheduled Conferences.

(By The Associated Press.)
London, Nov. 4.—(By The Associated Press.)—Developments in the negotiations toward an Irish settlement now are understood to hinge on the conferences with Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, will have in the next few days with Premier Lloyd George, and Sir Edward Carson.

A special meeting was held by the Ulster cabinet in Belfast today, prior to the departure of Sir James for London. He will spend the week-end with his son at Eton meeting the prime minister. It is expected, on Monday.

At Irish headquarters today, it was stated that the British representatives and the Sinn Fein leaders had reached a measure of accord on the question of a partition of all Ireland and that Ulster now was as great a stumbling block in the path of the negotiations from the government's point of view, as the Sinn Fein was from the Sinn Fein's.

Desmond Fitzgerald, of the Sinn Fein party, in a statement this afternoon definitely denied a number of reports published in London newspapers relative to points on which an agreement is said to have been reached by the conference. He declared untrue rumors that the Sinn Fein had accepted the principal dominion status and British control of Irish ports and harbors, and contributions from the Irish treasury to the imperial treasury. He refused to disclose any points which have been agreed upon thus far, but it is stated in other Irish quarters that the determination of the Sinn Fein not to accept the principle of allegiance to the British crown remains unshaken.

It is intimated in these quarters, however, that a formula has been agreed upon bridging that difficulty whereby Ireland would not be designated as a British dominion, but as an "associate nation." It is further stated that a solution of the Ulster problem may be found if it comes at all, through Ulster's recognition of the principle of unity in Ireland.

COUNTY TO MAKE A TAX LEVY FOR CHARITY NEEDS

County Commission Approves Plan of Financing Charity Bureau Through Half Mill Tax Levy.

County commissioners yesterday morning unanimously voted to certify a one-half mill tax levy to provide funds to operate the bureau of charities. The city commissioners, members of the directorate of the bureau and a number of other interested persons appeared before the county commissioners and explained the great need of the county providing funds with which to carry on charity work.

Neither the county nor the city operate any charitable institutions, such as homes for the poor, the blind, the sick or other unfortunate. This work has with but a few exceptions, fallen upon the Albuquerque bureau of charity. The bureau has been kept in operation by small subscriptions from the county, the city, the Chamber of Commerce and private donations.

The financial condition of the Chamber of Commerce has necessitated the withdrawal of champagne for help from the bureau. This amounted to nearly $400 a month. The situation suddenly became critical, as there was much charity work to be done at once and the bureau had no funds with which to do it.

A committee from the bureau appeared before the city commission Wednesday night to ask for help. The matter was given a lengthy discussion and it was decided that as the work was of a public nature, it should be borne by the public through taxation.

The matter was then taken up with the county commission, which decided that a special tax levy was the proper way to finance the bureau. One-half mill was decided upon and a wire sent to the city commission at Santa Fe, asking that this additional tax levy be added to the tax rolls submitted by the county commission some time ago.

This levy will provide approximately $11,000. This is the sum thought necessary to carry on the work during the coming year. The bureau will become more closely identified with the public administration and will function through a board of six directors, three to be appointed from the county and three from the city. The board will be under the direct supervision of the county health department.

Exactly what method will be taken to finance the bureau until the revenue from the proposed levy is secured is not yet decided, but as it is presumed that the tax commission will grant the request of the commissioners, it is possible that a few hundred dollars will be raised to meet the immediate need.

NEW YORK PAYS TRIBUTE TO TWO ITALIAN HEROES

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Nov. 4.—New Yorkers today paid tribute to two of Italy's war heroes, one living and one dead.

At St. Patrick's cathedral a throng of men and women overflowing into four streets bowed their heads in homage to that nation's unknown war dead as Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes celebrated solemn requiem high mass for the repose of the soul of the nameless martyr, who at the same hour was being buried with a nation's highest honors in Rome.

The city's admiration for the living was made manifest when multitudes lining Fifth avenue sent up thunderous cheers as General Armando Diaz, commander of Italy's victorious armies, was escorted to and from the cathedral.

Long before the time set for the service the great edifice was filled to capacity and Italian war veterans in uniform, acting as ushers, had to call on police reserves to handle the immense crowds.

Outside Italian veterans and battalions of American soldiers and marines in field uniform and trench helmets were drawn up at attention.

A storm of "vivas" and American "hurrahs" greeted the approach of the hero of the Plave, who rode a flag-draped automobile with Vittorio Raimondo Ricci, the Italian ambassador, Senator Carlo Schanzer, head of the Italian delegation to the armistice conference, and Mayor Hylan.

The martial atmosphere inside the great building was as marked as the great crowd on either side of the aisle through which General Diaz strode to reach his pew were doughboys in close order who snapped to "present arms."

Although the unknown soldier's body lay in a casket on the other side of the Atlantic, a catafalque, modeled after that of Pope Leo XIII, surmounted by a flag-covered coffin, stood near General Diaz's seat, and it was toward this that Monsignor M. J. Lavelle extended his hand as he delivered the eulogy of the dead.

"There is one thought and hope and prayer animating the hearts of the world today," he said, speaking first in Italian and then in English. "That is this—the war in which this unknown soldier fell may be the last between civilized nations."

In the ceremony of elevation which preceded the solemn, the great silver bowl of a bell was replaced by equally clear notes of a muted bugle, and saluted with their rifles.

At the close of the mass, absolution was pronounced at the foot of the catafalque, following which the bugle again was heard, this time in "taps," the requiem of the battlefield.

Then a military band stationed near the altar played the American and Italian national anthems and the service was over.

(By The Associated Press.)
Denver, Colo., Nov. 4.—A criminal complaint charging Mrs. Joseph Nicolletti with firing at Edwin Sachs, 10-year-old boy, was filed by the district attorney's office in a justice of the peace court today. It is alleged that the woman objected to the boy, with companions, playing in her yard.

TO LIMIT DEBATE ON TAX REVISION BILL

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Nov. 4.—A unanimous consent agreement limiting debate on the tax revision bill beginning today was reached at 1 o'clock this morning by the senate after a continuous session of thirteen hours. An earlier effort to fix a definite time for a final vote on the bill failed.

ODEN WILL HEAD ASSOCIATION OF AUTOMOBILE MEN

Largest Auto Show Ever Staged in a Southwest City Is Being Planned By Local Automobile Dealers

Clyde E. Oden will head the Albuquerque Automobile Dealers association during the coming year. Mr. Oden was elected president of the association at its annual meeting last night at Taf hall in the Alvarado hotel. He will assume the office which has been held for some time by C. M. Barber, who resigned last night due to the fact that he was no longer identified with the automobile business in the city.

Other officers elected are Guy Lauderbaugh, vice president; H. Galles, second vice president, and E. E. Bliss, secretary and treasurer.

Twenty-five automobile men attended the banquet. Following the dinner several short talks were given and a general business discussion was held. It was decided that the association would resume its old plan of monthly meetings which will be held the second Tuesday of each month.

The dealers unanimously decided to hold an automobile show here next spring and the December meeting will be devoted to plans for the exhibition, which will be the largest ever held in the southwest.

WILL ASK CONGRESS FOR $10,000,000 TO ENFORCE PROHIBITION

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Nov. 4.—Congress will be asked for ten million dollars for the enforcement of prohibition during the next fiscal year, an increase of $2,500,000 over the appropriation for the current year. Prohibition Commissioner Haines, in making this announcement today, said the increase would be sought to enable a more complete and efficient enforcement of the prohibition laws through enlarged forces and facilities.

GIRL WITNESS IN THE ARBuckle CASE FAILS TO ANSWER SUMMONS

(By The Associated Press.)
San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 4.—Alice Blake, show girl and a leading prosecution witness in the manslaughter case of Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, is being sought by the police tonight. She failed to answer a summons to appear before District Attorney Brady and explain her reason for leaving the custody of one of Mr. Brady's attaches at Calistoga yesterday. Her mother, Mrs. John Westphal of Oakland, who accompanied her from Calistoga, also is being sought.

Brady announced that in the event the girl did not appear by tomorrow at 10 a. m. he will swear out a warrant to obtain her under bonds as a witness.

Attorneys for Arbuckle today called upon the police for subpoenas for Mrs. John Duffy, custodian of Alice Blake; her son, George Duffy, police sergeant; Police Lieutenant Steven Bunner and a man by the name of Rinaldo Puccinelli. The matter regarding which they will be questioned was not indicated.

PROBE ASSURED OF CHARGES OF SENATOR WATSON

Senate Committee Will Delve Into Allegations That Soldiers Were Executed Without Trial.

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Nov. 4.—Investigation by a special senate committee of the charges of Senator Watson, democrat, Georgia, that American soldiers in France were hanged without trial and shot by officers' orders, was assured today when the senate, after three hours' discussion, unanimously re-ordered the inquiry.

The special committee, headed by Senator Brandegee, republican, of Michigan, will meet next Monday to determine upon procedure.

Adopted Resolution.
Another speech by the Georgia senator in support of the charges, straining between senators over the wording of the inquiry resolution and parliamentary mixups preceded the final order for the investigation to proceed. The senate then and unanimously adopted a new and amended resolution, directing the inquiry and another empowering the special committee to subpoena persons and papers. The program announced yesterday for a motion to discharge the committee did not materialize. Instead, Senator Simmons, democrat, North Carolina, proposed the new resolution, which was adopted with an amendment charging that the inquiry should be into Senator Watson's charges and not an investigation of the senate itself. From the resolution giving the committee power to act in the case, another amendment struck out a statement relative to inviting Senator Watson to appear before the committee. The committee's course in this respect, members said, would be to determine later.

Watson is satisfied.
Senator Simmons at the conclusion of the debate said that Senator Watson was satisfied with the amendments and would, no doubt, submit his evidence to the special committee.

Earlier Mr. Watson had challenged republicans to expel him declared for debate in the open senate and asked why an effort should be made to "entrap" and "silence" him before a committee. He denounced "whitewashing committee reports" and said they were not read.

The war department is preparing to give its fullest support to the senate investigation, taking the position that the accusations of the Georgia senator constitute a blot on the good name of the army unless a full investigation is had. Secretary Weeks has said that he hopes the inquiry is carried out until all the facts have been established and is understood to have offered to put at the disposal of the committee the facilities of the army in arriving at the truth.

Fight Opens Early.
The fight over the senator's charges opened today when the senate met at 10 o'clock, an hour earlier than usual. Senator Watson, New Jersey, began the debate with a criticism of Senator Watson, for presenting photographs yesterday of a gallows, where a soldier had been executed, after a court martial. The New Jersey senator said: "For a brutal attack upon a seven-year-old girl, Senator Edge declared the incident could not be 'camouflaged' and that the issue was as to the truth of the charges of illegal hangings."

In a spirited reply Senator Watson said his information regarding twenty-one alleged hangings of soldiers, without trial, came from a former soldier who said he had seen the gallows and had been told by a gallows guard that this number was hanging. His informant, Senator Watson said, would face the senate and answer all questions.

France Is Criticized.
The French government and General La Fayette were criticized by the Georgia senator in commenting on a statement by Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, that the senator's charges were "preposterous and incredible." He declared that France was a "civilized country" and that word of any illegal executions would have spread quickly. Senator Watson said that France had charged America for trenches and playgrounds used by American troops.

"Oh, yes, France is not a howling wilderness but a civilized country," the Georgia senator continued, "from which La Fayette came upon a written contract made with Silas Dean, pledging this country to make him a major general before he would leave France and come to America; and he did not have sense enough to drill a company of soldiers, besides which he snuffed. Some of these days, when somebody gets up here and blows off about La Fayette, I mean to take him down a peg or two. I know La Fayette and Washington know him, and it was not Washington who had him released from that Austrian prison to which he was put when the French army chased him with the intent to kill."

Grills La Fayette.
"It was Napoleon Bonaparte in the treaty of Campo-Formio, yes, I know La Fayette. He betrayed every French government that trusted him and the only independent command he ever had in America came very near getting bagged by Benedict Arnold and it was only the James river that saved La Fayette and his command from being captured."

After this and a parliamentary dispute or two, the senate moved on to the resolution mentioning Senator Watson's charges generally. Committee members said privately that they intended to limit the inquiry generally to the principal charges made by Mr. Watson, without going into a general investigation of conduct of army officers.

How Not to Take Cold.
Some persons are subject to frequent colds, while others seldom, if ever, have a cold. You will find that the latter take good care of themselves. They take a shower or cold sponge bath every day in a warm room, avoid over heated rooms, sleep with a window open or partly open, avoid excessive over eating, becoming over heated and then chilled and getting the first indication of a cold, they take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with-out delay and it is soon over.

N. Y. MARRIAGES SHOW DECREASE FOR YEAR 1921

Home Shortage Is Assigned As One of the Reasons for Slump of 3,000 Weddings in the Metropolis.

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Nov. 4.—While elsewhere in the country more people are being married this year than ever before, in New York times are duller than usual for the license clerks and the ministers. Government statisticians recently concluded the 1921 crop of weddings would be a bumper one, with Dan Cupid harvesting 1,500,000 brides and just as many husbands from the fields of the unmarried. And yet New York City's record will show at least 3,000 fewer marriages than in 1920 or 1919.

There are easier tasks than giving an explanation for this nationwide epidemic of knot-tying in a year when millions are unemployed and as many more are brooding over decreases in their incomes. So say the sociologists and others with penchants for finding out what they call the why of things. But it is not disconcertingly futile to seek a reason for the fact that only 56,591 licenses were issued up to a recent date this year compared to 1920's 59,591. The corresponding period of 1921 will tell you at the license bureau that there are fewer immigrants than in the past, because of the restriction laws. Unmarried males always had a habit of coming over here to enjoy freedom, and then almost immediately flinging part of it away at the altar. Many young men who might otherwise wed over that when the landlord would get through deflating their pocketbooks not enough would remain to calm the butcher, the baker and those who deal in silk stockings, cosmetics, subway tickets, coats, suits and the other things needed by housewives, such as needles for darning the husbands' socks and rolling pins to fashion biscuits and maintain order.

Even when the New York editor has the money he often seems unable to locate a home. This condition is common. Because of the home shortage, many young things after their conventional honeymoon, return to live with the girl's family or the man's. Perhaps from this will come a new field of humor, the son-in-law and daughter-in-law jokes that would give mother-in-law a long-awaited relief.

WIFE OF FARMER
SAYS SHE ALMOST
STARVED HERSELF

Declaring she was actually starving to keep from suffering a awful misery, Mrs. Amy Peterson, wife of a prosperous farmer of Lakeville, Minn., said today that she, recently, had been suffering from relief through the use of Tanlac.

"Sometimes I wonder how I lived through it all," she said. "I would have attacked acute indigestion nearly every time I ate anything. Those terrible cramping pains and the distress from gas and bloating were almost unbearable and I just thought I had no hope for recovery. But now I'm eating anything and I feel as strong and well as I ever felt in my life. I've gained back all the weight I lost and six months ago I was a nervous wreck. Tanlac is sold in Albuquerque by the Alvarado Pharmacy and by all other leading druggists everywhere."

SHERIFF FINDS ARTICLES TAKEN IN 3 ROBBERIES

Lewis Rocco, Who Plead Guilty to Two Robberies, Admits Others and Leads Officers to Hiding Place.

Lewis Rocco admitted to Sheriff Tony Ortiz and his deputies that he had robbed three homes in Albuquerque, aside from the two he was arrested for entering. Charged with stealing a number of articles from the Schumaker home a few nights ago, Rocco was arrested by the police and entered a plea of guilty when arraigned in police court. A number of the articles which took in three robberies were recovered. He was bound over to the grand jury and committed to the county jail to await the jury meeting next spring.

Sheriff Tony Ortiz, undersheriff Fred Porroff and Deputy Sheriff Charles Baughart have been questioning the prisoner since commitment to the jail, and yesterday afternoon he started a confession which took in three robberies and which the sheriff's officials believe is only a part of his criminal adventures.

He admitted entering the Juan Candelaria home at the corner of Copper avenue and Seventh street, and stealing a considerable amount of silverware. The articles were found by the sheriff's force late yesterday where Rocco stated he had hidden them in the corner of the room. The rug stolen from the John Heaven home on North Fourth street was also found in the cache and Rocco admitted he had stolen it. Silverware and other articles from the Parr home, on Second street, were also recovered. Rocco stated that it was he who robbed the Roney grocery, at Eighth street and Mountain road, but claimed he had eaten the groceries.

He has been under suspicion for some time by both the city and county officials, but they were unable to connect him with any of the recent robberies until police traced a brooch which had been taken from the Schumaker home. Rocco admitted having stolen it and sold it to a woman in Old Mexico and believed by officials that Rocco will plead guilty to all the robberies and help them find where the goods can be found.

TEXANS CANCEL TODAY'S GAME WITH 'VARSITY'

Telegram Sent Yesterday Afternoon Gives No Reason for Cancellation on Day Preceding the Game.

Less than twenty-four hours before their scheduled game with the University of New Mexico, the Texas Miners cancelled the game by telegram yesterday afternoon, giving no reason for the action. The varsity team had already arranged for transportation, planning to leave here at 10:15 o'clock last night. The short time left made it impossible to schedule a substitute game for today. Immediately upon receipt of the telegram from El Paso, Coach Johnson wired the school of Mines, stating that transportation had already been arranged and asking that some reason be given for the cancellation. At a late hour last night he had received no reply. The first telegram stated that a letter would follow.

The next game of the varsity will be here a week from today, when the squad will meet the Fort Bliss officers. Following will come the game with Arizona on November 19, and the Aggies' game on Thanksgiving day, both of them on the university field.

SENATE REJECTS SALES TAX PLAN FOR TIME BEING

Leaders, However, Will Bring It Up Later to Raise Funds for Compensation for Former Soldiers.

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Nov. 4.—The sales tax as a source of federal revenue at this time was definitely rejected today by the senate, but there was further evidence that it was the purpose of republican congressional leaders to bring it forth later as a means of raising funds to finance the proposed "five way" plan adjusted compensation for former service men.

The majority today against the Smoot amendment to the tax revision bill proposing a business sales tax of one-half of one per cent was even larger than was that last night against the Smoot one per cent manufacturers' sales tax. The vote today was 46 to 25 as compared to 43 to 25 last night.

As was the case with the manufacturers' tax, the democrats voted solidly against the business tax. They were joined by twenty-two republicans, three of whom—Fernald, New York; Dillingham, Vermont; and Keyes, of New Hampshire—voted for the manufacturers' tax. Six republicans did not vote last night.

Three republicans who supported the manufacturers' tax did not vote today. They were Edge, New Jersey; Ernst, Kentucky, and Warren, Wyoming. Counting senators who were paired, it was estimated that the maximum vote which would have been cast for the sales tax was thirty-four, or some six less than it has been estimated would support it. Some senators thought the debate resulted in the loss of some votes.

Night Session Held.
The senate continued consideration of the tax bill at a session to night, but with the soldier bonus and other important amendments yet to be disposed of, republican leaders announced hope for passage of the bill this week. They sought to obtain unanimous consent for a final vote at 3 p. m. Tuesday, with debate limited after 3 p. m. Monday, but the plan fell through, after some debate.

Several senators who want to go home to vote in local elections objected to a vote on Tuesday and asked that some hour on Wednesday be fixed. There seemed prospects of an agreement on this, but Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico, protesting against the limiting of debate, objected to the agreement as drafted. This ended the effort to obtain unanimous consent for a vote but negotiations to this end probably will be renewed tomorrow.

Smoot Urges Sales Tax.
Urging his sales tax, Senator Smoot told the senate that since a sales tax was to be adopted in connection with the soldier bonus he thought it would be a wise plan to put it into effect now, so as to determine what rate would be necessary to yield the money needed.

Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, said he saw no reason for delaying enactment of the bonus legislation, and in this connection paid his respects to Chairman Fordney, of the house ways and means committee, and other house leaders, who, he said, were undertaking to dictate to the senate what it should or should not do.

Johnson Assails Bill.
Announcing his support of the sales tax, Senator Johnson, republican, California, assailed the pending bill as one seeking to continue "a tax scheme, which requires an army of experts to teach honest people how to pay what is due the government, and which creates another army of experts to cheat the government."

Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, opposed the Smoot plan as one which not only would fall to relieve the people of the sales taxes now in force, but would multiply them many fold. Business men, he said, had misunderstood the Smoot plan in that they had thought it would replace old other taxes.

An unsuccessful effort was made tonight by Senator Townsend, republican, Michigan, to have the three per cent tax on automobiles, trucks and wagons repealed.

N. M. GUARDSMEN ARE PRAISED BY BRIG. GEN. HOWZE

Santa Fe, Nov. 4.—Adjutant General Henry Rolf Brown, who returned from Fort Bliss, Texas, today said the showing made by the New Mexico national guard at the encampment drew unsolicited praise from Brigadier General Robert L. Howze, commander of the First cavalry division, and his officers.

Upon his return to Santa Fe, the following letter from Howze: Headquarters First Cavalry Division, Fort Bliss, Texas, October 30, 1921.

Brigadier General Henry Rolf Brown, Adjutant General, Santa Fe, N. M.
My Dear General: I was much pleased and greatly affected by the spontaneous testimonial contained in the letter of October 28, and signed by yourself and the officers of the New Mexico national guard. You and your officers have, I believe, given us more credit than we are entitled to receive. You have in your letter omitted mention of the splendid spirit with which your entire personnel approached the task in hand and without which achievement of success would not have been possible.

The spirit of appreciation and of co-operation, the sense of fraternity and brotherhood and the good fellowship that permeates your letter indicates clearly that the relations of the national guard of New Mexico and of the regular army are and will continue to be of the most friendly and cordial character. And that is as it should be.

Very Sincerely,
ROBERT L. HOWZE.

CHICAGO MEETS OHIO STATE ON GRIDIRON TODAY

Both Teams Have Gone Through the Season Without a Defeat and a Spirit-Ed Contest Is Predicted.

(By The Associated Press.)
Chicago, Nov. 4.—Victor of two intercollegiate football battles, Chicago was prepared tonight to plunge again into the "Big Ten" championship race tomorrow, meeting Ohio State here in the most important game in the mid-west. Both teams have gone through the conference season without a defeat and the game will blast the championship aspirations of one of the contenders.

While chief interest centers in the Chicago-Ohio conflict, considerable interest also is attached to the meeting between the undefeated Iowa eleven and Minnesota at Lafayette, but both of these elevens have been upset in previous contests and little importance is attached to the outcome.

Illinois, beaten in three of its conference games, will clash with De Pauw at Urbana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Indiana will rest up for important games a week hence.

Football observers were unwilling tonight to hazard a guess on the outcome of the Chicago-Ohio game, which will bring together two undefeated teams, both highly trained in the forward pass and fortified with powerful lines. Iowa, however, with victories over Notre Dame, Illinois and Purdue to its credit, is expected to triumph over Minnesota.

Chicago will be without the service of Johnny Bryan, a spectacular half back, who was operated on for an infection. Hurst is expected to start in his place tomorrow.

The game will be witnessed by the biggest crowd that ever attended a football game in Chicago. All of the 30,000 reserved seats were sold a week ago. Scalpers are asking $10 and $15 for $4 box seats and $8 for $3 tickets. Between 3,000 and 4,000 Ohioans are coming for the game in special trains with a variety band of 119 pieces.

Theater — "Room and Board," a Realtar picture, is being repeated today for the last time; the management is also repeating the "Circus Heroes," the interesting two-reel Percy and Ferdie comedy.

Lyric Theatre — For the last time today the picture, "Stranger Than Fiction," with Katherine MacDonald and other stars, is being repeated; added attraction, "The Tempest," with Tom Santschi, is also being repeated.

Pastime Theatre — If you want to see "Dream Street" with an all-star cast, attend the Pastime today — this is the last chance. Also repeating the interesting added attractions.

A BLACKHEAD CLEANSING POWDER.

If the skin is not well cleansed or if the system is not in good working order so that the body does not eliminate properly, blackheads are sure to result. The blackhead is usually preceded by a pimple. This is nothing but waste matter from the system which, not being eliminated in the ordinary way, finds its exit through a pore in the skin.

Ordinarily a pore is so tiny as to be invisible, except under a powerful magnifying glass. But after the eruption has appeared on the skin, the pore is enlarged and the pore is still very much enlarged and frequently filled with an oily and waxy substance. Where this comes to the surface of the skin it absorbs the dust and dirt from the atmosphere and acquires a blackhead. Hence its name.

Ordinary methods of washing the face will not eliminate blackheads. You must get down into that pore and get out the substance that clogs and enlarges it. The most effective means I know is to use the following:

Blackhead Cleansing Powder: Wheat or cornstarch, 2 ounces; powdered borax, 1 ounce; almond meal, 1 ounce.

This is mixed and used instead of soap. Hold hot, wet cloths over the face, then take a little powder on the fingers and rub thoroughly into the wet skin; repeat until you have used quite a bit of the powder, which the skin readily absorbs. Wash out with hot water and massage in a little cold cream.

Miss Patience: Massage the bust gently each night, using warm corn oil; dash cold water over the chest in the morning, and follow by friction from a coarse towel. Practice deep breathing also as this strengthens all the muscles of the chest, including those of the bust.

Steady Reader: You are twenty pounds over weight. If you reduce to that extent your hips will not be too large.

S. T. Bleach: the freckles with lemon juice or the juice from cucumbers.

Skinless: A girl of 15, five feet three inches tall, should weigh 110 pounds. The boy should weigh about five pounds less.

Reader: The corset goes on first and then the brassiere, which fastens down over the corset with a strap. The corset is worn over the corset and brassiere. The girl of 15 is not too old to wear her hair bobbed.

H. M. M.: The electric needle is the only thing to destroy this superfluous hair permanently, but you can keep it from deflouring by pulling out all the coarse hairs with tweezers and bleaching the finer ones.

Mrs. D.: Send a stamped addressed envelope for the formula of the hair tonic; there is not space at this time to print it.

SCREEN ACTRESS IS ITALIAN COUNTESS

You will see a familiar face when "Theodora," the great Italian when she is shown on the local screen. The leading part is taken by none other than the well-known Rita Jolivet, star of stage and screen in this country a few years ago.

Miss Jolivet is the French actress who was among those saved in the Lusitania disaster. It was she who brought back Charles Frohman's last words, "Why fear death? It is the most beautiful adventure in life."

Miss Jolivet appeared in the leading role in Metro's "Lost We Forget," a war picture, and she also starred in the leading part in the oriental spectacle, "A Thousand Years Ago."

Rita Jolivet.

Miss Jolivet is known in private life as Countess Di Cippico. She married the Italian nobleman two years ago.

Close Ups. Rush Hughes, nineteen-year-old son of Rupert Hughes, has a part in his father's newest photoplay for Goldwyn, "The Wall Flower." Rush was out at the studios during his school vacation when the picture was being made, and he begged for a part. After he had gone through the usual screen test he was cast as a college student.

Virginia Valli will be leading woman for Duett Farnum in his new picture being made under the temporary title "Cursed," at the Fox Hollywood studio. It is from a novel by George Allen England.

Rita Jolivet, well known French actress who played with Orla Skar in "Kismet" in this country some years ago, has the title role in "Theodora," the great Italian-made photoplay that Goldwyn is soon to release.

Fans who saw the fine little actor, Breezy Eason, Jr., in "Two Kinds of Love," a Universal production, will be mighty sorry to hear of his death. According to a report, he was struck down by an automobile near his home. At first it was thought the accident would not prove fatal, but the little fellow died after a few hours. He was eight.

NEW MEXICO AGGIES AND WILDCATS PLAY FOOTBALL SATURDAY

(Special Correspondence to The Journal.) State College, N. M., Nov. 4.—The New Mexico Aggies will meet the University of Arizona on Miller field here Saturday afternoon for the southwestern championship. In the past two years the Aggies have been beaten by the Wildcats, last year on the Arizona field with a score of 41 to 0 and the year before on the home field with a score of 33 to 0. The Aggie team is in fine shape and having no men crippled in the game with the New Mexico Military Institute, they are stronger than ever before.

The students of the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts will stage a flag rush before the game and the game will be along and preparations are being made to take care of the largest crowd ever seen at State College with the exception of "Pop day." The flag rush will begin at 2 p. m. and the game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock. After the game, in the evening dance will be held in the college gymnasium and in the armory in Las Cruces.

Twenty million dollars is the sum handled every twelve months by a young woman of Oklahoma, Miss Annie Beatrice Roach, who is cashier of the state land department.

RIPPLING RHYMES

By WALT MASON.

THE WARNING.

The read turned sharply to the right, and as my finger rolled, my startled eyes beheld a sight that made my blood run cold. A brand new sign, with message clear, I there perceived, aghast: "Beware! A man was killed just here, because he drove too fast." I had been ripping off the miles at quite a reckless pace; my finger scorching in many styles, as though "twere in a race. But I was startled by that red, that message stark and clear, and so I then reduced my speed to fourteen miles an hour. And if it so affected me, I wonder that it jars a hundred others when they see that warning from their cars. You say it would be wise, indeed, to place such monuments wherever mania for speed has killed poor dippy gents. "Slow down," we'd read, upon our way. "Three perished where you ride!" "Take care!" another sign would say. "I was here two speeders died." And thus you'd keep our thoughts intent on doom and bliss and shrouds, and spread a wholesome sentiment among the whizzing crowds. But soon the signs would overlap, and what would then befall? You can't expect the speeding chap to pause to read them all. If warnings would abolish speed, one warning should suffice; we shudder as the first we read, the second cuts no ice.

Ma made a lemming merrang pie this morning, being my favorite kind of pie including cakes, and this afternoon I was on my way out to the kitchen to get a drink of water and was on the sidewalk in the dining room but the lemming merrang pie, reminding me of it, and I stood there a while watching it and wondering if it tasted as good as what I looked, thinking, Well, the only way to settle the argument is to eat it and find out.

Which I did, cutting out a skinny slice with a dining room knife and eating it, tasting even better than what I looked and settling the argument, my thinking, G. I certainly made a big looking hole for such a skinny piece, G. I could cut out another skinny piece without making the hole look much bigger.

Which I tried to do and it made the hole look twice as big, and I ate the 2nd skinny piece and went out and got the glass of water and on my way back I looked at the hole again and it looked so big I took 2 more skinny pieces to give it something to really look big about, and then I went up to ma's room and ma was imbroldering imbroldery, ma saying, Hello ma, what's the news?

Ma not saying what it was, and I said, Hay ma, I tasted that lemming merrang pie, G. ma, that's the swellest lemming merrang pie you ever made, gosh ma, its swell, O boy, its all rite for me to eat of it, ma? I said.

O well, I suppose so, considering that your report is so complimentary, sed ma.

And she keep on imbroldering imbroldery and pretty soon I sed, I certainly tasted it, ma. I bet I tasted it for about 10 minutes.

You go and bring up that pie immediately till I take a look at it, sed ma. Which I did, almost dropping it twice but catching it just in time both times, and the neerer it got to ma's room the bigger the hole looked, and ma gave me a fierce crack and told me not to dare to ask for any pie for dinner.

Which I didnt and nobody offered me any.

ARMISTICE DAY TO BE CELEBRATED AT RATON

(Special Correspondence to The Journal.) Raton, N. M., Nov. 4.—The Armistice day program for Raton has finally been completed by the Colfax County ex-Servicemen's association. The special committee in charge of the program state that it is one of the largest and best programs ever arranged for the city. The parade committee has been busy and obtained automobiles for those who cannot walk. The parade will be formed at the library park in the following order: Civil war veterans in an automobile; Spanish-American war veterans; mothers and fathers of boys who died in the world war, mothers and fathers of ex-service men; the Red Cross; Salvation Army; various lodges, and lastly school children. After the parade there will be speaking in the Shuler auditorium by the Rev. Father Roger Aull, a former chaplain in the army, and A. H. Darden, a prominent attorney of the city.

The afternoon festivities will include motorcycle races, for which the association has secured prizes. At least four entries have been assured. These will be held on the fair grounds race track. A bicycle race (free for all) and a football game between the Colfax county high school and some other team not yet designated. It has been suggested by the president of the association that if it is possible, there will be an exhibition drill by a picked company of ex-service men at the race track immediately after the races and it is hoped that this will attract many who would not be interested in the regular program of the day. The use of the fair grounds has been donated for the day by the Northern New Mexico Fair association. The distances not yet being announced. The bicycle races are open to everyone and are to be prizes put up by the firm of Patterson and Sullivan. The distances for these events have not yet been decided.

MATHEW CORBETT, 68, SPORTSMAN, IS DEAD

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Nov. 4.—Matthew Corbett, 68, president of the Metropolitan Racing association and one of the best known sportsmen in the country, died at his home here last night.

For more than forty years Mr. Corbett was a thoroughbred horse owner. He also was prominent in New York political circles for many years. He leaves a widow and a son.

Exhibition baseball games played by Texas leaguers in Mexico proved a mighty frost. The home-bred couldn't get the idea of paying real money to see a ball game.

600 BULLS WILL BE USED IN FIGHTS IN MEXICO THIS SEASON

(By The Associated Press.) Mexico City, Nov. 4.—More than 600 native fighting bulls representing an aggregate value of $425,000, will be used in the various bull-fights to be held throughout the republic of Mexico during the coming season, says Don Jacobo G. Prant, agent of one of the largest breeding establishments in Mexico. Senior Prant declares that the national sport is increasing rather than decreasing in popular favor. Although an enthusiast for the sport which he terms "the grandest of all in the world," Senior Prant joins in the objections raised almost unanimously by foreigners here against the use of horses which now are pushed blindfolded and shivering into the path of the infuriated bulls.

THE NEW GENERATION

JOAN HAS HER HAIR BOBBED.

CHAPTER I. Joan had beautiful hair. It was thick and heavy, like spun gold. Margaret had been inordinately proud of the two heavy braids that hung below the child's waist, and had bestowed great care upon it.

One day Joan had gone to play tennis with one of her young friends. It was an oppressively warm day and Margaret had worried a little for fear the heat would affect her.

Later than usual Joan came in. Around her face was a thick halo of soft yellow curls, gleaming gold above her big blue eyes, and curling upward from her white neck in bewitching fashion. Margaret felt startled, hurt. She longed to cry, and—did nothing.

"You don't mind, do you, Mumsie? I was so hot. And all the girls are being bobbed."

She looked so like a tiny child nearer 8 than 12, with her big blue eyes staring out from under that mass of curls, so like the baby she had been only a few short years before, that Margaret felt the tears starting. But it would sadden Joan if she cried. So she winked the tears back and admired the soft curls, running her hand through them caressingly.

"I brought these braids as a present for you, Mumsie," Joan laid the two shining braids in Margaret's lap.

If the mother had held back her tears when with Joan, she made no effort to do so when she laid the two golden braids tenderly away. It was months before she ceased to regret she was no longer needed to brush and braid Joan's hair. It had been, like all she did for the child, a real labor of love.

It was typical that Joan had not consulted her mother as to cutting her hair. Really it was not her mother's business. It was her hair. She was the one to decide whether she wanted it long or short.

There was no disrespect for her mother in this attitude of Joan's. She was only following out her mother's teaching. She was a human being, independent, actionary. She must carve out her own life, follow any bent she wished in her actions.

Joan had a nice sense of honor inculcated by her mother's conversation and example. She was honest and plain-spoken at all times. She was kind and generous to inferiors, even though she might be insolent to her equals. She had many of the virtues girls in her position are supposed to have, also many of the faults. That the virtues outlasted and outnumbered the faults was due, perhaps, to her blood-clean ancestry.

Naturally at her age, Joan did not reason out what she did or did not do along the lines she followed. Her actions were almost, if not entirely involuntary. She wanted to do something—she did it!

Margaret often smiled as she sat thinking of Joan after the child had retired. She could count on the fingers of her hands the times when Joan had really needed a proof. Always followed the thought:

"How wise I have been to not interfere." Then she would think of her own good, how she had been obliged to fight for the simplest, the most elemental rights. She had not been supposed to believe anything save what her parents told her, what they believed. If they said a thing was wrong, she was expected immediately to believe it wrong, and never to figure anything out for herself as Joan did. If they told her she must not do this or that, she was not supposed to question why. She was, in fact, to have no mind, no will, of her own.

Margaret had longed to go to college, to think along other than cut-and-dried lines. But her mother believed a governess was better for a girl—that it kept her from becoming tainted. Now Margaret smiled when she recalled that expression her mother had used—"tainted."

Her mother, who had never lived the repressed life she had lived—she had arrived at this conclusion after much conscientious consideration, much reading upon the subject of allowing children self-expression.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

By LAURA A. KIRKMAN.

A CASSEROLE GUEST SUPPER FOR SUNDAY NIGHT.

On a cool Sunday night, when the air has a crisp tinge to it, and a hearty fire feels good, I know of no better supper to offer "the stranger within thy gates" than the following:

Stuffed Olives
Chicken en Casserole
Pimiento Cheese Sandwiches
Hot Coffee
Buttered Apples
Cup Cakes, Orange Jell
In this menu all the food properties necessary to health are found—carbohydrates in the sugar and rice, fats in the butter and oil, protein in the chicken and cheese, and vitamins in the fruits and pickles. It is a well-balanced little menu and a most delicious one. I believe that the two hot casserole dishes are the heart part of it for which my readers may need a recipe:

Chicken en Casserole: The meat from two cooked chickens will be needed if more than four persons are to be served. Cut the meat into pieces small enough to saute (that is, to fry in butter or dripping), and put the bones in 1 quart of water to simmer with 1 garlic clove, 2 stalks of celery, diced, and salt and pepper to taste. When the chicken pieces are warm and slightly brown and when the bones-and-water stock is reduced to one pint, arrange the fried chicken pieces in the bottom of a buttered casserole, pour the hot stock over them, eliminating the bones, and cover all with a layer of cooked rice. Add a little more of the hot stock which has been saved out. Bake in a moderate oven for 1-1/2 hours, covered at first, then without cover so that it will dry on top.

Buttered Apples: Peel ten large apples, core, and then slice, discarding cores. Arrange these pieces in a buttered casserole, sprinkling over them 3-4 of a cup of brown sugar and adding 1 teaspoon of vanilla extract. Cover the top with small pieces of butter, place cover on the dish, and bake in a moderate oven until the apples are tender (this will be in about 1 hour). Serve hot with the following sauce:

Cream Sauce for Buttered Apples: Cream 1-4 cup of butter and add to it gradually 1 cup of powdered sugar, stirring it smooth each time a little of the sugar is added. Flavor with 1-2 teaspoon of vanilla and add last 1-4 cup of heavy cream whipped stiff.

Although the average housekeeper cannot afford the heavy cream for whipping purposes on her table for everyday use, she nevertheless makes an effort to have it when a guest is present. For she realizes that there is nothing that gives a meal a gala appearance more readily than whipped cream—no matter how it is served.

For she realizes that there is nothing that gives a meal a gala appearance more readily than whipped cream—no matter how it is served.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AGAIN.

The Chamber of Commerce should be rescued and resuscitated at once. No matter what the cause of its present condition, the fact remains that a pulmotor is needed.

A director is credited with the statement that plural memberships have nothing to do with the present apathy. How does he know that to be true? Ask ten men the cause of their lack of interest. Nine of them will say that it is because the chamber is controlled by a few men. Is it an excuse? Then remove the excuse by abolishing the plural-vote system.

True, these plural memberships are voted only when balloting for directors. But the directors control the whole organization. It is useless to claim that there is not a disaffection on this subject. If the commercial body must die on their hands before these men release their hold on it, time is all that is necessary to produce the needed result.

The men holding these plural memberships are our leading citizens. The Chamber of Commerce can not get on without them and their financial support. But they are too busy to be the active force in doing things. Younger men will not work unless they have a deciding part in the policy which is to be carried out.

If the present directors, who are distinguished citizens, could command the support of the rank and file under the present system, we would be content. It is proven that they can not. The same men, elected by a popular and democratic vote, have the ability to make the club a success. It is the system, not the personnel, which is at fault.

There should be a canvass for new members on the basis of one vote per member with the balance of the contribution given to a service fund. It should be understood that a new election of directors will follow the canvass so that all new members may participate. Popularize this body and it will command the support and sympathy of the people.

It is not desirable that the present holders of plural membership withdraw their financial support and co-operation. They are needed. A change by addition instead of by substitution is what is desired.

Albuquerque needs team-work. If there are elements in the community which can not co-operate for the public good, their difficulties should be sufficiently reconciled so that they can work together in matters of mutual and city-wide concern. It is unbelievable that men, whatever their personal differences, will refuse to work together to build Albuquerque.

We need a revival of city pride and civic enthusiasm and co-operation. We are in fine shape to take on a rapid growth and an early return to prosperity. A little headwork and a fair degree of unselfishness is all that is needed.

Gentle reader, resolve individually this glorious November morning, that you will lend a hand in community building. Our city will be any that 200 men, working together, may decide that they want it to be.

THE BUREAU OF CHARITIES.

The board of county commissioners is to be commended for placing a half-mill levy on the county for the maintenance of relief and charity work in the county. Voluntary contributions do not equitably distribute the burden of caring for the unfortunate. All should contribute in proportion to their ability to pay. A tax levy accomplishes this.

The state tax commission should immediately confirm this levy. It does not impose an added burden on the people of Bernalillo county. They already carry this expense. This levy properly distributes the burden.

The above is predicated on the presumption that this levy can be made legally.

"WHOM THE GODS WOULD DESTROY—"

A series of mistakes often results in men's undoing. Perhaps they have been rich, influential and compellingly powerful. They have grown accustomed to having their own way, even to the required annihilation of those who crossed them in their purposes.

Then, of a sudden, an obstacle has crossed their paths which seems to offer resistance to being annihilated. At once they see red. With nose close to the ground and horns extended they charge the enemy as a mad bull charges a railroad locomotive. All sense of proportion is gone; all the carelessness which built them up is thrown to the winds; all ideas of prudent conciliations are forgotten. To crush and mangle the object of their anger is the only consideration.

"Whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad."

GOOD NEWS FROM WEST VIRGINIA.

Many persons throughout the country must have gained the impression from the accounts sent out of the recent labor disturbance that the mining counties in the southwestern part are a benighted, lawless region. It is with pleasure, therefore, that one notes the wide publicity which is being given another kind of story which has been sent out from the same section—a story of enthusiasm for good roads and good schools.

Good roads are of the first importance. Once they have been established schools will naturally follow. Moonshining, feuds and other forms of lawlessness have flourished in the mountains largely because the people living there were cut off from communication with the remainder of the country. Isolated, they were out of touch with the trend of modern thought and came to be more or less of a law to themselves. Now the trails are being transformed into highways, and new railroads are reaching into the mountains to tap the rich coal deposits. With this broadening of their horizon, the people have lost sympathy with lawlessness, as is attested by the fact that 1,229 citizens volunteered for service to preserve order in Logan county during the late miners' troubles.

There has been considerable illiteracy because the West Virginia compulsory education law does not require a child to go to school if the nearest one is more than two miles away, and there are many places where schools have not been established within that distance. But the state superintendent of education, a mountain man himself, is working energetically to remedy conditions, and in some localities bus lines have been established to transport the children.

These things will tell. The mountain people have heard the call of progress and are responding. Lawlessness cannot survive in such an atmosphere.

FILMS FOUNDATION.

The recent portrayal by a former vice consul general of the sufferings of 300 former American soldiers who were alleged to be languishing in French prisons appears to have been based mainly on imagination. An investigation reveals that there are eight men in French prisons who served with the American army, but why, under the circumstances, the fact should be made a matter of horror, is not patent. The names of the men are given, together with the offenses for which they were convicted and the sentences imposed. All the crimes were committed in 1920 with two exceptions. It is evident that these men were discharged from the army before they engaged in crime. It is regrettable if men who had rendered patriotic service in time of war should so depart from rectitude as to engage in robbery, the offense with which the major portion is charged, but if they did, why waste pity on them? We do not excuse a soldier's crime. Should we censure the French for a like attitude?

A man who bared his body to the bullets of the Germans should possess character that would cause him to shun crime. If such a one is weak and falls into temptation it is right that a penalty should be paid. The offense of these men is the worse in that it was committed in the domain of our associate in the war. Their acts tend to cast reflection on the millions of American soldiers who were in France yet did not transgress the law. Were American former soldiers unjustly imprisoned in France or elsewhere such an incident would arouse our resentment justly, but we fail to discern on the evidence presented why the matter is worthy of notice. It seems to have been an instance of erecting a tale of horror on a flimsy and unstable foundation. What could have been the actuating motive is not discernible.

VERSE OF TODAY

THE PUMPKIN.

Now the wild arid, purpling hill and plain,
Flings boldly Autumn's banners amain,
Flaunting her gaudy reign.

Below the bluff where Summer set her loom,
And prodigal marsh lilies spent their bloom,
The cattail waves its plume.

Down all the quiet alleys of the wood
The fallen leaves fly in a gusty brood,
As Dian draws her hood.

And in her light, reflected manifold,
Are set great sunbeams in the stubbled mould,
Rich Autumn's hoard of gold!

EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

MARSHAL FOCH.

(From the Chicago Tribune.)
The welcome which Marshal Foch receives in America is a spontaneous tribute to a great patriot and a great soldier. He, after all, is the most eminent figure of the world war, the hero who wielded the sword of victory. As commander in chief of all the allied armies, as the strategist and tactician whose genius directed the onslaught which brought victory, as the great theorist of war whose conceptions dominated the military leadership which finally prevailed, Ferdinand Foch will go down in history among the greatest of soldiers. Professional students of war will differ as to his exact place as they differ even as to Caesar, Hannibal, or Napoleon. But in history and in that legend, which is perhaps more potent over men's minds than history, his name will shine down ages with the brightness of a star of first magnitude.

To Americans, Foch is not only the greatest soldier of the war, he is also the patriot who never for a moment yielded to discouragement, the patriot whose passionate devotion to his country is without flaw. It is our perception of moral qualities of supreme strength, conquering resolution, profound love of country, and faith in the invincible might of the moral nature of man which raises him higher in our admiration than any intellectual genius in the science of war could. Foch is with us and those who are able to see him in the flesh will pass the memory down to their children and children's children, as did those who saw Lincoln and Grant. America appreciates the fact that the great soldier has been willing to make the long journey to see our America, to greet the soldiers of whom we are proud as his comrades in the great struggle, and to receive the spontaneous tribute of our admiration and gratitude.

UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE APPLE.

"What do you say, Uncle Wiggly, to baked apples?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzey.

"Why, I always say, 'pleased to meet you! Do you mind if I sprinkle a bit of sugar on you?' Call again!" And then, after saying that, he generally ate the apple.

"Well, you will bring me the apple and a thing to take the core out of the middle," went on the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"What do you mean—take the core out of the middle?" asked the rabbit gentleman, puzzled like.

"Why, I never leave the hard core and seeds in the apples I bake," explained Miss Fuzzy Wuzzey. "At the ten-cent store you can buy an apple corer. It's a thing like a cookie cutter, only longer and thinner. It is hollow and is sharp on the edges, with a handle to hold it by. You stick the sharp edge down the middle of the apple, turn the handle and out comes the core in one piece."

"Oh, now I remember!" exclaimed the bunny. "And in the hole left in the apple, when the core comes out, put cream and sugar."

"That's it!" laughed Nurse Jane. "Trust you to remember when there's any sugar in it."

"Oh, this is going to be just perfectly scrumptious!" laughed the bunny. "I can tell that! I'll hop along at once and get you an apple to bake."

"And don't forget the core-taker-out at the ten-cent store," went on Nurse Jane. "It's a thing like a cookie cutter, only longer and thinner. It is hollow and is sharp on the edges, with a handle to hold it by. You stick the sharp edge down the middle of the apple, turn the handle and out comes the core in one piece."

apple when it fell, or I might have sneezed," thought the bunny. "So I'll all be well. Now for the core-taker-out."

It did not take him long to hop to the ten-cent store where they sold everything for nine cents, and soon he had bought the shiny, sharp, tin apple corer.

"No more fun than I am going to have!" suddenly growled a harsh voice.

"I beg pardon! What was that last remark?" asked the bunny.

"I said you weren't going to have any more fun than I am going to have," went on the speaker, "for I'm going to nibble your ears!"

With that, out from behind a big rock crawled the Skilley Scallery Alligator, with humphs on his tail. He grabbed the bunny by his ears, and in doing so, the big apple fell out of Uncle Wiggly's pocket.

"What are you going to do—play ball?" asked the Gator. "If

"How do you use it?" asked the Gator, letting go of the bunny and leaning closer, so anxious was he to see how a core could be taken out of an apple.

"This is how it is done," went on Uncle Wiggly. Taking the corer firmly in his paw, Uncle Wiggly leaned over, but, instead of gouging the core out of the apple, the bunny gentleman stuck the corer in the soft and tender ribs of the Skilley Scallery chap and began to twist and turn it, just as Nurse Jane would have done.

"Oh, wouch. Oh, smouch! Oh, what are you doing?" howled the Gator. "Oh, ha! ha!" and he had to laugh, though he didn't want to.

"Just trying to take the bad core out of you!" chuckled the bunny. And before the Gator could stop laughing and grab him again Uncle Wiggly caught up the apple, and, with the core-taker-out, away he hopped safely to his bungalow, where Nurse Jane baked the apple in the oven.

"But I certainly had a great adventure," said the bunny that night. "And if the letter carrier doesn't put a postage stamp on our front door mat and send it to the milkman to let his horse sleep on, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and the leaves."

THE MARKETS

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Nov. 4.—Trading in bonds again overhauled dealers in all other securities on the stock exchange today. Various domestic and foreign issues floated during the war registered highest prices for a year or more.

Liberty bonds and Victory notes continued to move forward under the impetus given the investment demand by nationwide indications of easier credit conditions. Most of the Liberty series at their new high records, showed extreme gains of ten to 100 points. Victory 3's were at their maximum for the year and Victory 4's duplicated yesterday's record quotation of par.

Among the foreign bonds—many of which suffered acute depression while the war was in an uncertain stage—today's strength was most marked in French government 8's and Belgian 7's, these gaining 13 and three points, respectively.

Other European bonds, including many municipal issues, displayed moderate strength and Chilean government 8's sold at premium over yesterday's subscription price.

Railroad bonds and similar issues of domestic companies were only moderately better, reflecting the uncertain tone of the stock market. Total sales, par value, $22,275,000. Dealings in stocks were altogether governed by technical conditions.

Corn gained 1/4c to 1/2c and oats 1/4c to 1/2c to 3/4c. Provisions finished unchanged to 2c higher.

At first the wheat market showed a downward tendency, the result of an accumulation of overnight orders to sell. The fact, however, that values had broken 11 cents a bushel within a week caused a reaction to be looked for in many quarters, and the question was raised whether any considerable part of the United States exportable surplus remained to be disposed of, estimates being current that 20,000,000 to 50,000,000 bushels sold to the seaboard were yet to be shipped. Par for Victory bonds gave the wheat market a decided stimulus at this juncture. Dispatches saying the Argentine wheat crop was at a critical stage and that frost was looked for tonight counted also in favor of the bulls. On the other hand, gossip about disturbed foreign financial conditions appeared to be acting as more or less of a check on the advance.

Corn and oats rallied with wheat. Rural offerings of corn were light.

Issues in which the short interest was believed to be dominant moved hesitatingly, but became heavy in Greek and central European remittances. British, French and Italian bills were firm, improvement in sterling being associated with latest aspects of the Irish situation.

The foreign exchanges were featured by another slump in German marks to 43 cents, and weakness in Greek and central European remittances. British, French and Italian bills were firm, improvement in sterling being associated with latest aspects of the Irish situation.
