Winter 3-17-2019

20190317_Biomedical Informatics Seminar Series Presents - Harry Snow, CTSC Analyst Programmer 3

Tamara Wheeler

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/blog

HSLIC News - LibGuides at University of New Mexico

There are only three more seminars remaining for this season, so mark your calendars for Thursday, March 21, 2019 from 10-11 AM in HSLIC room 228 for another great BioMISS! Harry Snow, Analyst/Programmer 3 with the UNM Clinical & Translational Science Center will present an Update on CTSC Informatics Resources.

Snow will present on the data that everyone at the Health Sciences Center has access to through the CTSC, how it's organized, examples of how it has been used in the past and current directions CTSC informaticians are taking their research. There will also be time for people to discuss how CTSC data could be used in their current or proposed future research.

For a complete list of speakers and dates, please visit https://hslic.unm.edu/bmi/docs/BioMISS_Schedule_2018-19.pdf.

Don't forget to invite a friend because seminars are free and open to everyone in the UNM community!

This activity has been approved for AMA PRA Category 1 credit(s)™.