ALL EFFORTS TO VOTE BONUS FOR SOLDIERS FAIL IN UPPER HOUSE

Plan to Utilize Part of Interest on the Foreign Debt to Finance Adjusted Compensation Beaten.

AMENDMENT PROPOSED BY JONES DEFEATED

Graduated Tax on "Transfers of Property by Gift By Every Person" is Provided for in Measure.

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Nov. 7.—The senate drove forward tonight in an effort to pass the tax revision bill before adjournment. Today, it rejected the two remaining soldier bonus amendments and then proceeded to dispose of the other amendment rapidly.

Debate on the Simmons and McKellar amendments, proposing to utilize part of the interest on the foreign debt to finance adjusted compensation for former service men consumed the first five hours. Both proposals were rejected. The Simmons amendment, 42 to 29, and the McKellar amendment, 44 to 25.

Without a roll call, the senate adopted an amendment by Senator Lenroot, under which the net gain made by a taxpayer on the sale of stocks or corporations would be taxed at the full income normal and surtax rates.

One Amendment Accepted.
Under an amendment by Senator Frelinghuysen, which was accepted, any trade or business owned by a partnership or individual which was organized within four months after the passage of the tax bill, the corporation might, at the option of the partnership or individual, pay the corporation tax on the net income received from January 1, 1921, to the date of such organization. It was provided, however, that this option would not be extended in the case of any business which realized in the taxable year 1921, 20 per cent or more profits on the capital invested.

The senate adopted, 35 to 21, an amendment by Senator Walsh, providing a graduated tax on "transfers of property by gift by every person." The rate ranges from 1 per cent of the amount by which the gift exceeds $100 and does not exceed $50,000 to 25 per cent on the amounts in excess of $100,000.

Clause Aimed at Wealthy.
Thirteen republicans joined the democratic minority in supporting the amendment which, it was explained, is designed to prevent wealthy individuals from escaping payment of surtax through divi-

SERVES SENTENCE OF SIX MONTHS FOR MAN WHO SAVED HIS LIFE

Leavenworth, Kans., Nov. 7.—H. W. Haley, serving a sentence of six months in the army disciplinary barracks for the man who saved his life on the battlefield of France, was released today by order of the war department.

Haley's life was saved on the front by T. W. Jones, a comrade. When Jones was tried for desertion and sentenced to six months imprisonment, Haley substituted for Jones.

Haley told officials at the prison he took the place of the man to whom he owed his life in payment of a "soldier debt."

Division of their property among relatives.

By 37 to 22 the senate rejected an amendment by Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico, proposing to allow partnership and individuals to elect whether they should pay taxes on the net income from their business at the corporation or individual's income rates.

On a tie vote, 32 to 32, the senate rejected an amendment by Senator Kenyon, republican, Iowa, proposing a tax equivalent to 15 per cent of the value of tax exemption securities transferred as parts of estates, provided such securities were issued six months after passage of the act. Previously, by a vote of 33 to 25, the senate had rejected an amendment by Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin, which would have imposed the same tax and also a 10 per cent tax on the transfer of tax exempt securities issued before the passage of the act.

Revises Up Sales Tax.
Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, brought up the sales tax again, proposing his original 3 per cent manufacturing levy, with a 10 per cent corporation tax, a 32 per cent maximum income surtax rate, and a capital stock tax. It was rejected without a record vote.

Reconsidering, the senate voted to allow original purchasers of Liberty and Victory bonds, an exemption equal to the interest on money borrowed to purchase or carry those bonds.

On motion of Senator Reed, the senate voted, 32 to 31, to strike out the Lodge amendments allowing holding companies to deduct from their capital stock tax the amount of such tax paid on the stock of their subsidiaries.

Then on motion of Senator Pomeroy, democrat, Ohio, the senate voted, 32 to 24, to make the capital stock tax on all corporations the same as at present—one dollar on each $1,000 of capital stock in excess of $5,000.

SIMPLE FUNERAL HELD FOR HARA, SLAIN PREMIER

(By The Associated Press.)

Tokyo, Nov. 7 (by the Associated Press).—The funeral of Premier Hara today was of the simplest character. The ceremony at the residence was attended only by friends. Mayor Goto, represented the city. The services were conducted by a Buddhist priest and seven assistants, after which the funeral cortege proceeded to the Suiyoku headquarters.

The widow and the closest relatives and friends followed after the body. The coffin was placed on an altar, surrounded by wreaths including floral offerings from the emperor and empress, Crown Prince Hirohito, Field Marshal Yamagata, Marquis Saloni and all the most prominent embassies and legations.

While the body lay in state, thousands passed the bier. Tonight the body was conveyed to a special train which carried it to Mito, where a final ceremony will take place November 11.

JAPANESE CONFER ON SUCCESSOR TO HARA

(By The Associated Press.)

Tokyo, Nov. 7 (by the Associated Press).—The elder statesmen conferred today on the premiership. So far as is known, no decision was reached, but there was a full exchange of views between Marquis Saloni, Marquis Matsukata and Baron Makino. Admiral Satto, governor general of Korea, who visited the palace to pay his respects to the emperor, joined in the conversations. A minor publication issued an extra that Admiral Satto had been summoned and likely would be charged with reforming the cabinet. This, however, is regarded as a hasty conclusion.

Another possibility for the premiership figured in the speculation today in the person of Finance Minister Takahashi. He has the support of upper politicians with considerable influence with the government.

OPERATION RESUMED BY INDIANA MINES

(By The Associated Press.)

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 7.—Reports reaching headquarters of District No. 11, United Mine Workers of America today showed that practically every mine in the district had resumed operation. Resumption of work followed orders issued by District President John Hessler, Saturday, instructing striking miners to return to work, and a letter from P. H. Penna, secretary of the Indiana Bituminous Coal Operators' association to the operators advising them to continue the check off system until prevented from doing so by court. This action followed the ruling of the court of appeals at Chicago, which suspended the injunction against the check off, issued last week by Judge A. B. Anderson.

CHINA ENDEAVORING TO NEGOTIATE A LOAN

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 7.—By the Associated Press—China is bending every effort to negotiate a refunding loan to meet the payment of principal and interest due the Continental and Commercial Trust company of Chicago, on a loan of $5,500,000. Minister Sze was informed tonight by Peking. The new minister of finance, the minister said, had given assurances to this effect to American Minister Schurman.

FRANCE ANXIOUS TO AVERT WARS, PREMIER STATES

Nation Ready to Avoid Armed Conflicts Provided She Has Nothing to Fear for Her Own Security.

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Nov. 7.—France is ready to join in every endeavor to avert new wars, "provided she has nothing to fear for her own security, which remains one of the most solid guarantees of the peace of the world," said Premier Aristide Briand in a message to the American people upon his arrival today to attend the armament conference at Washington.

Premier Briand was met at quarantine by Robert Wood Bliss, Times correspondent, and Maj. Gen. Robert E. Bullard, Jules Jusserand, French ambassador to the United States, and representatives of the city and state, who accompanied him to the bay on the army tug Lexington.

After a brief reception on the pier, the party then entered decorated automobiles and started through cheering crowds for the Pennsylvania station, where a train for Washington awaited.

"Both our countries only endeavor to lead the men and peoples of good will to peaceful and fruitful work to reduce more and more the risks of war," the premier declared. "Today the world, which is in such need of safety and rest wants not only soothing words but realities."

A Rousing Welcome.
A crowd gave the premier and his party a rousing welcome as they stepped ashore from the steamship Lafayette. Official welcoming ceremonies, which marked the arrival of other delegations to the conference, were dispensed with to allow M. Briand to go to Washington at once.

"On setting foot upon soil of the great American republic," said M. Briand's "my first thought goes back to those who generously came to mingle their blood with that of the soldiers of France, back to those fighters whom the United States sent over to us as the most precious thing they had, back to those magnificent high souled youths with heroic hearts who fell for right and for liberty with a smile to the land that has plausibly entombed them. To their families, France now sends me as a near relative. I am coming to assure them that the recollection of their heroic deed is deeply graven in the heart of every Frenchman."

"For centuries France has been the ground of the great struggles for civilization. The history of this shown that she is able to uphold her ideal to the utmost limit of sacrifice. She knows in particular what she owes to the fraternal devotion, to the mighty help which America brought her."

"The two countries are henceforth united in the same glory. They feel that the union provides the best guarantee for the peace of the world and that the main interests of mankind cannot but profit by their close and intimate co-operation."

14-YEAR-OLD BOY IS HELD IN CONNECTION WITH DEATH OF A MAN

(By The Associated Press.)

Little Falls, Minn., Nov. 7.—John Goodhope, 14, was held in the county jail today in connection with the death of Axel Bergstrom, shot and killed when returning from a hunting trip last night. Albert Peltier, 28, whose parents Goodhope makes his home, is being held as a witness. The Goodhope boy was arrested today after Sheriff Paul Felix announced the boy had told him he fired a shot from a small rifle at the back of an automobile in an attempt to break the glass in the rear of the car.

Foot binding, which resulted in women having feet so small as to be practically useless, has been discontinued in enlightened China.

YOU CAN'T TRUST CALOMEL AT ALL

It's Quicksilver, Salivates, causes Rheumatism and Bone Decay

The next dose of calomel you take may salivate you. It may shock your liver or start bone decay. Calomel is dangerous. It is mercury, quicksilver. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and burning you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your drug store and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your liver in line. Don't take calomel! It can't be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tonic which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

NO ONE USES IN AUTOMOBILE CLUB CAMPAIGN

Generous Plan of Morning Journal Should Bring Ambitious Workers.

The Morning Journal's Salesmanship club campaign, in which five automobiles and thousands of dollars in cash prizes and cash commissions will be distributed within the next few weeks, will undoubtedly prove a most profitable and educational course in salesmanship.

It is something new—it is something different and something better than the usual newspaper subscription campaign. The Albuquerque Morning Journal has decided to use this method to increase its list of readers, and instead of the old fashioned method of engaging newspaper solicitors and giving premiums, thousands of dollars in gifts and cash commission checks will be given to those who wish to avail themselves of a course in salesmanship at the expense of this newspaper.

An Opportunity.
Never before has such a liberal opportunity been presented to our people. Never before has a more generous proposition been launched. And it is plain, evident, by the rapidly increasing interest, that the ambitious folks of our field are going to take advantage of this opportunity.

Some of the keen enthusiasm with which some of the Journal readers are sending in their nomination blanks is shown in statements to the club manager during the little preliminary chats which occupied most of his time yesterday.

One Is Incredible.
"Is the Morning Journal actually going to give away that long list of big prizes simply in exchange for gathering club credits?" asked an incredulous young woman who visited the club department in the business office of this paper yesterday afternoon.

"That is all that it takes," replied the club manager. "Credits—and credits alone will win! Credits are given on pre-payments to the Morning Journal and by having your friends clip and save the 100 free credit coupons which appear in each issue of the Journal."

"Well, if that isn't liberal I don't know what is," replied the young lady. "If I can get a $25 Studebaker Sedan, a Studebaker light 6 with wire wheels, a classy little Chevrolet or a guarantee of some other good prize or a cash commission check as easy as that, have you, I'm sure, to get my share of the big gift distribution. I know just lots of people all over this section of the country whom I know will give me their subscriptions, and I can get the 100 free credit coupons by the score from my friends who now take the Morning Journal."

"I'm going to join the club. What is the best method to get started?"

The Way to Start.
The club manager assured her that the most rapid way to get club credits was to obtain subscriptions to The Albuquerque Morning Journal, both new ones and collections on old subscriptions, at the same time carefully explaining to her the credit schedule. He called her attention to the DECEASING system of credit values, and the $27.00 Club offer of extra credits.

"You're sure to hear from me," remarked the young lady as she rose to depart.

In fact the club manager spent a pleasant day talking with and becoming acquainted with those interested in the big undertaking of The Morning Journal, and he is glad to talk with anyone who cares to have explained some point that is not exactly clear. He is always ready to be of assistance.

Get Subscribers Everywhere.
Our members who visited Club headquarters asked various questions.

One young man wished to know if it made any difference if he obtained subscriptions outside of the district in which he resided. He was told of course that he could go anywhere he pleased and that there would be no restrictions as to territory, that he could get credits anywhere for that matter.

"What are the districts for?" he asked.

Simply to divide the winners of the many prizes so that all of them will not go to any one section, the manager told him.

SEND IN NAMES.
Every neighborhood in the city and the surrounding territory which is covered by the Morning Journal should have its representatives "registered."

There are so many prizes that every Club member has an equal chance of landing a valuable gift. It should be understood that all of these prizes, representing thousands of dollars, will be given away right in the field covered by The Albuquerque Morning Journal.

Now Is the Time to Get Busy.
Right now is the logical time for club members to send in their name and get busy. The start is the BIG thing, but once "in the ring" a Club member realizes how easy it is to gather credits.

The 100 Free credit coupons will appear in each issue of The Morning Journal and the only restriction on these coupons is that they be brought or sent in before the date of expiration printed thereon. The first list of Club members will be published soon. Make sure that your name is on that list by sending in the ENTRY blank today—Don't hesitate—do it now.

By calling at Club Headquarters in the business office of The Journal, you can secure much valuable information that will help you. If you cannot call in person, then use the telephone—13—or if you live out of town, a postal card will get the desired results.

But—whatever you do—get started at once. The "early bird, etc." will be amply exemplified in this instance.

DISCUSSIONS OF IRISH ROW ARE NEAR A CLIMAX

Craig Summons Members of His Cabinet From Belfast to Consider Proposals Made By Britain.

(By The Associated Press.) London, Nov. 7. (By the Associated Press.)—Discussions of an Irish settlement are nearing a climax. After a long conference with Mr. Lloyd George today, Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, summoned members of his cabinet from Belfast for a meeting here to consider proposals made by the British government.

Members of the Ulster cabinet who will come include John Milne, Harcourt, marquis of Londonderry, U. N. Andrews, E. A. Archdale and Thomas Moles, chairman of the committee of the Ulster parliament.

The official announcement also stated that there would be a further conference with Mr. Lloyd George Thursday.

The Irish situation, it was admitted in official circles, is in an extremely critical stage. It is understood that the Ulster premier informed Mr. Lloyd George that he could not possibly think of shouldering the responsibility of negotiating the proposed settlement, but he would be compelled to consult his colleagues.

Everything, it is said, depends on Thursday's meetings, and if the Ulster representatives reject the compromise proposals, it is regarded as possible Mr. Lloyd George will carry out his threat to resign.

According to agency reports, the serious official view regarding the negotiations is due to the stiff attitude taken by the Ulster premier in his interview with the premier. Sir James is represented as intimating his firm determination to maintain Ulster's position, and he is said to have signified that in his opinion the proposals which Mr. Lloyd George submitted to him seriously imperiled the rights of northern Ireland. In any case, he would concede nothing on his own responsibility.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2. and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex, then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "24 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

DESCRIPTION OF THE FRENCH DELEGATES TO ARMS MEETING

(By The Associated Press.) Aristide Briand, premier of France, who heads the French delegation to the Versailles conference on the limitation of armaments, is 59 years old. He was once a socialist leader and helped to guide the destinies of France during the most critical periods of the great war. He was born at Nantes, the big industrial city at the mouth of the Loire, and has served, respectively, as minister of the interior, minister of justice, minister of foreign affairs, president of the allied supreme council, a member of the war council and in 1906 and 1917 as premier of France. He has been called "an intellectual colossus" as well as a political dictator and few men have wielded such great influence in French public life.

Briand first became a world figure in the chamber of deputies as the author of the law providing for separation of church and state in 1905 and he enforced the principle that "the interests of the whole nation are supreme and must and shall outweigh the interests of any class, section or body."

Rene Viviani, former premier, second member of the French delegation, was also at one time a socialist leader. He has served as cabinet minister in several portfolios. He is at present chairman of the league of nations commission to limit international armaments.

M. Viviani is no stranger to America. He has visited this country on two occasions, once in 1917, when he came as a member of the French mission with General Joffre and again in the spring of 1921, when he was voted the freedom of New York city and visited Colonel Roosevelt's grave.

He is 59 years old and was born in Alsace. Educated in Paris, a lawyer, he was elected to parliament in 1893 and served for many years in that body until Clemenceau appointed him a member of his cabinet. He is famous as a speaker.

Jean Adrien Antoine Jules Jusserand, has represented France as ambassador in Washington for eighteen years and is the dean of the diplomatic corps. He is 65 years old and has been in public life more than forty-five years. He was President Wilson's guest on the liner George Washington when Mr. Wilson sailed for the Paris peace conference. His wife is an American; her maiden name was Elsie Richards.

Ambassador Jusserand entered the French diplomatic service in 1878. He has been counselor to the French embassy in London and minister to Denmark.

He is a grand officer of the Legion of Honor and a member of several British and American philosophical, historical and literary bodies. He has written a number of books including "Americans of the Past and Present."

Albert Sarraut, French senator and minister for the colonies, former minister of public instruction, governor general of Indo-China and deputy for the department of Aude, is 49 years old. In the chamber of deputies in 1906, Mr. Sarraut struck Deputy Piquet-Conti during debate on the Dreyfus restoration bill. A duel resulted and Sarraut was dangerously wounded by a sword thrust in the right breast.

He served in the French army in the world war as a second lieutenant and later he was made prisoner of war. He is the present year, drafted the plans for French administration of the Cameroons and Togoland in Africa. Recently he toured French possessions in Africa after requesting the chamber of deputies to appropriate 250,000,000 francs for irrigation of the French Sudan.

The staff personnel of the French delegation includes: Marshal Ferdinand Foch, chief naval adviser, Vice Admiral Grasset, head of the French naval general staff, general secretary to the foreign office, General Philippe Berthelot, Maurice Casenave, director general of French interests in the United States, Major General Bant, chief of staff of the French army, Count Charles de Chambrun, former counselor of the French embassy in Washington; M. Leger, for the past four years first secretary of legation and charge d'affaires at Peking, China; General Pierre Henri Desticker, chief of staff and aid to Marshal Foch; Admiral Delon, M. Fromageot, M. Kammerer, M. Cheysson, M. Desmoulin, M. Girardot, Captains L'hopital and Lamoury and Lieutenant de Souderon. In addition there are a score or more of secretaries and clerks.

EDWIN W. FIELD, Milwaukee, Wis.

"I'm convinced if I had taken Tanlac two years ago, when my troubles first began, I would have been saved a world of suffering," said Ed. W. Field, 538 Jefferson St., Milwaukee, Wis. "My case proved that when a man's stomach goes wrong, everything goes wrong with him. The first thing I noticed out of the way was loss of appetite and next, that no matter how sparingly I ate, I was sure to have an attack of indigestion. This was two years ago and from that time on, until after I started on Tanlac, I kept going down hill at a steady rate. I finally got so I couldn't walk a couple of blocks without having to stop and rest and I was so nervous that often I sat up in a chair all night long."

"Tanlac has made a new man out of me, my stomach is as sound as a dollar and I feel fine all the time. I am a firm believer in Tanlac because I know it delivers the goods."

Tanlac is sold in Albuquerque by the Alvarado Pharmacy and at all other leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

STATE MEETING OF BAPTISTS IS TO OPEN TONIGHT

Although the laymen's convention of the state Baptist meeting opened at the Central Avenue Methodist church last night, the convention proper of the denomination in New Mexico is to be called to order at 7:30 o'clock tonight by the Rev. Buren Sparks of Santa Fe. A four day session is to be held.

The opening program are a welcoming address, a response, the introduction of visitors and the annual sermon by Rev. W. R. Hill. The meeting will be held at the Central Avenue Methodist church, donated for the occasion.

S. G. Bridges of Elida was selected to open the laymen's convention last evening. Addresses by R. H. Carter of Raton, D. R. Burrill of Raton and R. V. Ware of Las Cruces upon the titling campaign were upon the program.

Four hundred Baptists are expected in the city when the convention proper opens this evening. Some difficulty has been experienced in finding rooms and the aid of the Chamber of Commerce has been secured.

A REHEARSAL OF BONELLI PROGRAM IS INCOMPARABLE

Young Baritone Possesses a Voice of Extraordinary Beauty and Range; Will Sing Tonight in H. S.

Richard Bonelli, baritone, and his charming wife arrived here last night at 6:30. They were immediately installed at the Alvarado, where a reporter from the Journal met and interviewed them.

Mr. Bonelli came from Houston, Texas, where he appeared in several performances of grand opera with the De Foe Opera company of Home and London. Among the artists singing with him are guests of the company were Nicola Zorola, a world-famous tenor; Riccardo Stracciari, celebrated baritone, formerly of the Chicago opera; Virginia Trevilani, a famous soprano, and Mary Carson, a soprano of the renowned Century Opera company. All of these artists pronounce Mr. Bonelli to be the foremost and most promising young singer in America. Stracciari said, "He is, beyond a doubt, the best singer and actor on the operatic stage I have seen for a long while."

Bonelli sang the roles of Iago in "Otello," Sharpless in "Butterfly," and was scheduled to appear in La Forza del Destino, but an unfortunate tragedy prevented the completion of the opera; the conductor of the evening fell dead after the first act.

The Houston Press, speaking of the "Otello" performance with Zorola, says of Mr. Bonelli: "Next in honors of Monday night came Bonelli, who sang the difficult role of Iago. Bonelli was a revelation to Houston. He had been a little advertised, and he came forth with a baritone voice equalled by very few who have ever sung here. His acting was superb."

Mrs. Bonelli, who is also a singer of considerable force, is quite proud of her husband. "He won't talk about himself," she said, "so I must! But really, his growing charmingly serious." "His voice is magnificent."

This was before the rehearsal, which was held last night with Mrs. Faw as accompanist. After hearing the singer go over his program, the writer felt that the remarks of Mrs. Bonelli were all too modest. Her husband is possessed of a voice of exquisite timbre, perfect quality, and matchless flexibility. The virtuosity, the artistry, and the nicety of Bonelli's singing has never been excelled by any of the five or six leading baritones of this country. This remark is made from a knowledge of the methods of Ruff, Amato, Scotti, Graveure, De Luca and Stracciari.

"The teacher who has done me more material good than any other," declared Mr. Bonelli last evening, "is M. Vilnot, of New York. He is little known, but he is great."

The concert which Mr. Bonelli gives tonight at the high school auditorium will be, beyond a doubt, the keynote of a new epoch in music for Albuquerque, opened by the incomparable Godowsky, for which the Fortnightly club is responsible.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonelli will go shortly to New York, where they have important engagements with the Beethoven society, and other large musical bodies.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS WILL ENTER THE WAR AGAINST NARCOTICS

Chicago, Nov. 7.—The Knights of Columbus will enter the fight against narcotics, Supreme Knight J. K. Flaherty announced today following a meeting of the board of directors. All local councils will be asked to assist in the campaign against the drug traffic.

DEFENSE CLOSES CASE. Chicago, Nov. 7.—The defense in the trial of "Big Tim" Murphy and others charged with implication in the $250,000 mail robbery at the Dearborn street station last April, tonight closed its case without putting "Big Tim" on the stand. Less than one day was taken up by the defense witnesses.

NOTICE. Owing to the slow delivery of freight we are not able to supply many things our stock should have as promptly as we should like. An example: We have shipment from Denver that should have been here in three to five days. (Mr. Hoyt, local agent for the Santa Fe, informs us the average time Denver to Albuquerque three to five days). This shipment has been on the way for 22 days. The shipment before this one was 23 days Denver to Albuquerque. One before that 20 days. Another previous to the one just mentioned 24 days. Still another 20 days. All Denver shipments. One shipment came quicker—we had it shipped to Isleta up here by auto truck.

LANDRU'S TRIAL ON A CHARGE OF MURDER BEGINS

Is Accused of Slaying Ten Women and the Son of One of Them; Is Alleged to Have Burned Bodies.

(By The Associated Press.) Versailles, Nov. 7.—Court officials gathered here today for the opening in the Seine at Oise of the trial of Henri Desiré Landru, the "blue beard of Gambais," who is charged with eleven murders. Ten of his alleged victims were women, to whom he is said to have promised marriage, and the eleventh the son of one of them. He is alleged to have burned his victims' bodies.

The trial of Henri-Desiré Landru, who has become known throughout France as "the Blue-Beard of Gambais," on eleven counts of murder growing out of the disappearance of ten women to whom he had promised marriage and the son of one of them, bids fair to rank among the celebrated criminal cases of France.

Landru was arrested in April, 1919, and has spent his time for the past two and half years in answering or evading questions of the police, the investigating magistrate, and other court officials as to the fate of his 10 fiancées. He has proved a most stubborn as well as a very clever prisoner and the police admit that his case against him is not as strong as they should like it to be.

The so-called Blue-Beard rented a small villa at Gambais, a few miles from Paris and it is here that the police charge he did away with the 10 women, all trace of whom has been absolutely lost. It is alleged that he advertised in various matrimonial agency papers and chose from the letters received those signed by women with a little property and no near relatives.

A short courtship would follow, then a journey to the Gambais villa in the company of the fiancée. The accusation says that Landru always returned alone. The police claim to have proof that women were seen to enter the villa but none were heard of afterward. A few weeks later, whatever bonds, stocks, furniture, jewelry the women possessed would be sold.

The villa at Gambais has been searched, ransacked, practically demolished by the police in an effort to find the remains of the missing women. A few bones were found, some hair, but not enough to form a "corpse delicti." "Rabbit and mutton bones," says Landru, "Why

A dark visaged man, with shining bald head and long black whiskers, Landru has become a familiar figure by impersonations on the stage. He is already under sentence of five years' imprisonment for forgery growing out of one of the cases where murder is also charged.

RED CROSS SERVICE PROVES REAL AID TO TRANSIENT SOLDIERS

Proof that the Red Cross home service department of the local chapter is being of constant assistance to the transient ex-servicemen who reside in the city for a brief period is supplied by the chapter report for the month of October. This shows that 82 transient cases were handled by the office here.

While the number includes many men who were mere visitors in the city for a short time, it also embraces others who were here for a several months' stay. Most of the assistance was given on compensation claims.

"Albuquerque may not profit quickly from this work," stated Miss Edith Childers, home service secretary yesterday. "But the final return is sure. These men left here with a good opinion of Albuquerque and a feeling of gratitude toward the city. In the communities where they live they will advertise the city and repay the kindness shown them here."

The care of transient ex-servicemen is only one of the activities here of the Red Cross chapter.

Leonard and Friedman were to have met here early in the fall, but the match was prohibited by Director of Public Safety Courtney on the ground that Friedman had violated a contract with a local boxing club.

THE NEW GENERATION

By JANE PHELPS

JOAN BECOMES A LEADER AT SCHOOL.

CHAPTER 7.
As Margaret widened her circle of acquaintances for Joan's sake, she discovered with pleasurable surprise that she enjoyed their society. They were more reasonable, far, than her parents had been, although not as advanced as she was in their ideas of allowing their children absolute freedom—a deliberately given liberty of thought and action.

The knowledge that other parents were inclined to do as she believed right—although to a far less extent—intrigued Margaret, and sometimes she discussed her ideas with these new friends, most of them parents of children about Joan's age.

Naturally they thought Margaret extreme in her views, and as naturally said so.

"I think perhaps theoretically you are right, Mrs. Hayden," Mrs. Thompson, mother of Hortense, said. "But you are taking terrible responsibility when you put your ideas into practice as you do."

Fortunately, Joan is a sweet, outgoing girl," Margaret thought of the "smoking" episode and wondered what Mrs. Thompson would say if she knew of it. "So is Hortense, yet I would not dare risk her future happiness by giving her free rein."

"How do you suppose she will ever be individual?"
"I cannot say that I care for her to be too individual. It seems to me unadvisable."

Conversations such as these sometimes caused Margaret Hayden to wonder if she had gone too far in allowing Joan self-expression. Then her mouth would settle in a determined line, and she would say to herself:

"No, I believe it is the only way. I am a product of the other method." Thoughts of her shut-in childhood, her colorless girlhood, her unsatisfactory womanhood, confirmed her in her decision that she had been wise in her raising of Joan.

At Miss Corey's school, an ultra-fashionable school for girls, Joan soon became a leader among her companions. They admired her courage, while not courageous enough to imitate her. They listened to her tell of what she had done, what she proposed to do, with awe—especially after she had once told them, in reply to what one of the girls had said, that it was not her mother's business. "This is the way it happened. Gloria Freeman, a little, slim girl with a flare of bobbed hair nearly as golden as Joan's and framing a small face, said:

"My mother won't let me have any parties and have the boys invited. She hardly lets me speak to them." Then, "Can you have boys at your parties, Joan?"

"Of course I can! I can do anything I want to."

"Your mother lets you?" amazement and jealousy in the sweet young voice.

"Of course! I don't any of her business. I choose my own friends."

"But—boys?"
"Yes, boys. Why not?"

From then on Gloria Freeman adored Joan. The two 13-year-old girls became inseparable.

"I'm going to ask your mother to let you go home with me to-night," Joan said as the two girls, arms about slim waists, bobbed heads close together, walked home after school.

"I'm afraid she won't. She says I place for school girls is at home when school is out. She lets me do a lot of things vacations, but she is awfully strict during the term."

"I shan't ask her then! No one ever says 'no' to me, and I should be nice if they did, not even to your mother."

Flushed and tense, Joan walked home and confided to her mother.

"Did you ever hear of such a thing, Mum? Why, Gloria is three months older than I am and she can't go anywhere or do anything. I should like myself. I know I should, if you were like that—or run away and never come back, or do something awful. What horrid mothers most girls have!"

"No dear, they aren't horrid!—they just don't think as I do about bringing up children. We all have a right to our beliefs, you know. I'm mine, you're yours, and other people to theirs."

"Of course, Mum, I never thought of that. I guess they aren't as horrid as I think. They just do as they want to about things same as I do."

"That's it, Joan. Everyone has a right to their opinions."

After this talk Margaret noticed that Joan was not quite so impatient of others. She had been so certain of her young self that without realizing it, she had denied others the same privilege she enjoyed—self-expression.

various ways of bringing this to pass.
You can eat less, or you can eat foods which do not tax the system. Avoid starches which cause fermentation and everything rich, sweet and heavy. Eat plenty of fruit and fresh vegetables. Or you can take agar-agar, which is a Japanese seaweed in flake form. Take a teaspoonful a day mixed with your food or drink with water. It does not digest but forms a soft mass inside of the stomach which passes on through the intestines, pushing ahead of it all waste and poisonous matter. You can take a tablespoonful of mineral oil instead of this, or you can take from one to three yeast cakes every day. These also are laxative and purify the blood.

Externally, you may dry up pimples by covering them with small bits of cotton saturated with a mixture of equal parts of alcohol and ether, with two tablespoonfuls of powdered sulphur to every half pint of this mixture. Shake before using. Boric acid dusted over these eruptions will often heal them also.

After you have cleared the system of its poisonous waste, blackheads will easily yield to external treatment and the following powder may be used in place of a soap. This is made by mixing together two ounces of cornstarch, one ounce of powdered borax and one ounce of almond meal. Hold hot wet cloths over face, then take a little powder on the fingers and rub thoroughly into the wet skin; repeat until you have used quite a bit of the powder, which the skin readily absorbs. Wash out with hot water and massage in a little cold cream.

PAT O'MALLEY BOASTS OF HIS ACCOMPLISHMENTS AS A COOK

Pat O'Malley in a most domestic scene with his wife and small daughter, Eileen.

Pat O'Malley, well known for his parts in "Go and Get It," "Dinky" and "Bob Hampton of Placer," is to make "Slippy McGee" next.
A thoroughly domestic husband and father, O'Malley asserts that cooking is his hobby.
"It may be presumption on my part to tell good housewives how to fry chicken," O'Malley admits, "but I have finally convinced Mrs. O'Malley, and that surely counts for a lot. I don't go by precedent or cook book. I just cook."

O'Malley acts before the camera like he cooks. He does not follow the rule. He detests matinee idol actors. He has business, he figures. He thinks if the girls like an actor too well that the fellows knock him and so he tries to please men and always act like a "regular fellow."

His little daughter, Eileen, has pretty, dark curls, which look as Irish as her father's blue eyes.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

ANSWERED LETTERS.

A Steady Reader: "A friend I visited recently in another part of the country served a fruit gelatin dessert covered with a sort of marshmallow sauce. I asked her if she made it by melting up marshmallow candies, and she replied, 'No, I buy it in cans; it costs about 30 cents.' Can you tell me in your column of a firm that will sell me this marshmallow paste or sauce by mail?"

Answer: I can not give trade names in my column, as that is advertising, but if you will send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope I will gladly send you such an address.

Constant Reader: "I have lost your directory for setting color in a garment before washing. Will you please print these again?"

Answer: The substances used to set color are called "mordants." The common household mordants are salt, vinegar, alum and sugar of lead. Vinegar is the best mordant to use for greens (1-2 cup of vinegar to a gallon of water); for pinks, use 2 ounces of powdered alum dissolved in a tubful of water; strong salt water is best for blues; and for yellows and reds dissolve 1 ounce of sugar of lead in 8 quarts of water (sugar of lead is poisonous, so care must be taken in using it). Soak the garments overnight in the water to which one of these mordants has been added, then dry thoroughly before washing.

V. M.: "I have a Sunday school class of little girls about 12 years of age. Can you suggest some pretty and inexpensive gifts I could make for them for Christmas?"

Answer: Little girls like pretty head chains or small silk dolls purged decorated with beads and you might make these without much cost. But if I were you I would take them all to the movies together as a Christmas present or give them a candy-making party at your home. I think they would like this kind of Christmas gift better than hand-made presents.

Constant Reader: "Why do bed-bugs get into the house, even when it is kept clean? And what can I do to exterminate them?"

Answer: Sometimes these pests get into the walls of a house and then the only thing to do is to replaster, repaper and fill up all floor and baseboard cracks. Sometimes they enter a house on clothing or laundry (they may be picked up on trains or in contact with other people in a crowd). Kerosene, gasoline and benzine are all effective in killing them, but these fluids must not be used near heat or flame as they are extremely inflammable. Boiling water also kills the bugs and their eggs, but this stains furniture and cannot be applied to walls and mattresses as gasoline can (gasoline evaporates quickly). A mixture of 1 ounce of corrosive sublimate, 1 pint of alcohol and 1-4 pint of spirits of turpentine (have your druggist make it up for you), is another fluid that will kill them, though care must be exerted in using this as it is a deadly poison.

How Not to Take Cold.

Some persons are subject to frequent colds, while others seldom, if ever, have a cold. You will find that the latter take good care of themselves. They take a shower or cold sponge bath every day in a warm room. They avoid over-heated rooms, sleep with a window open or partly open, avoid excesses, over-eating, becoming over heated and then chilled and getting the feet wet. Then, when they feel the first indication of a cold, they take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy without delay and it is soon over.

ANSWERED LETTERS.

Muriel: Brown Eyes; Low; Blanche; J. D. H.; Browline; Louise; C. B.; Discouraged; Skin troubles that cannot be cured by external treatment are pimples, blackheads, whiteheads and a number of eruptions not so prevalent as these. The most common trouble is pimples—and blackheads follow inevitably. Pimples are caused by poison in the blood, which, not being thrown off in normal fashion, must be gotten rid of through the pores of the skin. The poisons are formed because food ferments in the stomach or because the elimination of the body is insufficient, so the blood which goes all over the body comes in contact with and absorbs poisonous matter. Cure the digestive trouble and cure constipation, and pimples will disappear. There are

COAT DRESS OPENS FROM NECK TO HEM

Coat Dress Opens . . . With Cut . . .

By LLOISE.
The coat dress which was looked upon with favor early in the fall is still shown by many of the leading designers. There are many possibilities in the coat style and they have been worked out in interesting ways by clever designers. The two main styles are the coat dress which really acts as a coat and has an under frock of some kind, either satin, crepe or self material which may or may not be seen without the cloth top, and the style which resembles a coat and merely suggests an underfrock but is really complete in itself without any frock or sham skirt or sleeves. The latter type is pictured here. It is made of blue serge, which opens from neck to hem just as any coat. Bands formed by five rows of silk braid trim the skirt, belt and sleeves. A gray vest and surplice tied in the back are interesting features. Note also the use of the popular, long, wide sleeves. Such a frock fills many needs in the winter wardrobe.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

Me and Puds Simkins and Mary Watkins was setting on her front steps and she said, O boys, I've got a new character book with 5 questions in it for everybody to answer like what's your favorite flower and different things, and I want you both to rite in it.

And she ran in the house all excited and came out with a copy book with the same 5 questions on every page marked 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and spaces to put your answers, saying, You rite in it first, Benny. I want all my friends to rite in it.

Me thinking, G, hurray, I must be a friend of hers. I started to look at the questions and Puds whispered, Rite funny answers, make them funny as anything and she'll think you're grate.

With I started to do my character being 1. Wat is your favorite flower? Cabbidge. 2. Wat is your favorite color? Sky blue pink. 3. Wat color eyes do you like the best? Orindge. 4. Wat color hair? Purple. 5. Who is your favorite seri? Persay Weaver.

And I handed the book back to Mary Watkins thinking she would think I was smart as anything. With she did as saying, Benny Potts, I think you're too mean for anything, I think you're jest horrid, so there.

Wy, heck, wat, wy? I sed. Dont ask me, you know quite well, sed Mary Watkins.

And she gave the book to Puds for him to rite his character in it. With he did, his character being, 1. Wat is your favorite flower? The rose, because it looks like you. 2. What is your favorite color? Yello like your dress. 3. Wat color eyes do you like the best? Yours. 4. Wat color hair? Yours. 5. Who is your favorite girl? You.

And he handed it back to Mary Watkins and she red it, saying, O how perfectly lovely, I think that's just the loveliest character in the hole book.

And she kepp on tawking to Puds as if she thawt he was grate and looking at me as if she thawt I wasent. Proving Puds had jest incouraged me to rite mine funny for a dirty jelless trick.

SANDOVAL SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT OFFERS TO QUIT

Telesfor Sanchez Admits Signing Name of Clerk to Vouchers for School Purposes.

Telesfor Sandoval, county school superintendent of Sandoval county, offered to resign his position yesterday after an inquiry into the report that he had signed the name of Mrs. A. M. Pera, clerk of the county board, to vouchers for school purposes.

Mr. Sandoval, at a hearing in Bernalillo yesterday, did not deny that he had signed the vouchers, asserting that it was purely for convenience to Mrs. Pera. District Attorney Ernest Garcia, after investigating the case, stated his belief that there was no criminal intent behind the act.

Action on Mr. Sandoval's resignation is to be taken by the Sandoval county commissioners, who have the option as to whether they will or will not accept it. When the chairman of the commission calls a special meeting, a thorough investigation will be held regarding the matter and the full details will be gone into thoroughly.

There is a belief that there was a verbal agreement between the county clerk and the superintendent of the latter might be affected by the former. It is known that Mr. Sandoval had planned to resign before, giving as his reason the fact that he had difficulty getting along with the board.

There are reported to be two factions working against each other in the county school affairs and it is possible that the quarrel over vouchers may be an outgrowth of that trouble.

No formal charges have been brought against Mr. Sandoval. At the school board meeting in Bernalillo yesterday, John Joergs, educational auditor, Mr. Garcia and Neil B. Field, Albuquerque attorney,

INGROWN NAIL

Toughen Skin and Toe Nail Turns Out Itself.

A few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and to toughen the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toenail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

THOUSANDS OF MINDS WITH BUT ONE THOUGHT

These Unfortunates Virtually Groping in the Dark With Their Goal at Fingers' Ends

This concentration and search by so many present day people is not carried on to satisfy a hobby. It is really forced on them by the requirements of modern methods of business and society. They want to "keep in the swim," but can't survive the nerve-racking pace of modern times, because they have disregarded the laws of God and humanity until they have become victims of nervousness, excessive exhaustion, lack of energy and strength. Then when they realize the condition they are in, one by one they join the vast multitude which with almost one mind is searching for a way out of their mental and physical distress.

But the weakened state of their mind and body causes them to lack faith in their own conviction.

This is characteristic of them and it is truly and to prolong the reward awaiting their search. Thousands of these folks are learning every day that the one reliable way to revive their lost health and run down systems is to take a combination of Nature's herbs, roots and bark, known to druggists as Garren's Tonic. It puts those vitamins into their blood which nourishes withered tissues, starting nerves and flabby muscles. Consequently they begin almost immediately to feel stronger, have greater endurance, look brighter and show the change which is taking place in their body by their cheerfulness.

Garren's Tonic is sold in Albuquerque by the Alvarado Pharmacy.—Adv.

Tomorrow, Wednesday, I will be in a position to give information regarding an investment of extraordinary character, both as to security and prospective returns.

BABIES' HEALTH CONFERENCE TO CONVENE TODAY

Sessions Will Be Held in Federal Court Room at Postoffice Building; Many Exhibits Will Be Shown.

The first children's health conference to be staged in the city will open this afternoon at the federal court room at the postoffice building at 2 o'clock, under the direction of the nursing department of the American Red Cross.

The conference will continue tomorrow and Thursday. Better babies exhibits will form a feature of the conference which will be devoted almost entirely to the general care of children under 5 years of age. The purpose of the conference is to establish annual health examinations of babies and, while the exhibition part of the meeting will not be in the way of a baby show or contest, it is expected that many babies will be exhibited. Physicians and nurses will lecture regarding any possible defects which may be hindering the development of the child. No babies with contagious diseases will be exhibited.

For examination purposes children will be divided into three classes, according to age. Parents wishing their babies to be examined should secure examination blanks at the Red Cross offices in the federal building.

There will be many exhibits such as the model baby's bath, baby's bed, home-made ice box, iceless milk and food cooler, the proper modifications of milk for the bottle fed baby, model diet tables and other convincing exhibits for parents.

A program of talks along the same line will be held on Wednesday. The program is:

Health recitations, by three children.
Child welfare work as directed by county and city health departments, by Dr. Docherty.
Report of examining physicians, Health alphabet.
Education for parenthood, by Miss Harris.

Photograph of the child having the highest score for the conference will be made, as well as a photograph of the entire exhibit.

CAMBRIC NEEDLE IS REMOVED FROM HEART OF A 2-YEAR-OLD BOY

INSURANCE EXPERTS ADDRESS LUNCH OF STATE UNDERWRITERS

Addresses by a trio of insurance experts who are in the city for an examination of local companies, featured the noon luncheon of the State Underwriters' association at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday. An unusually large number of guests were in attendance.

Mr. Scott outlined to the insurance men the problems which had confronted Colorado institutions through the operation of the Mountain States Insurance company, and told of the fight that is being waged in the courts against its method of doing business. He declared that the men here might meet such a form of business and should be prepared for it.

Mr. Gunn, speaking from the standpoint of an actuary, told the insurance men that actuaries, getting into close touch with the business of insurance firms, were among the heaviest buyers of insurance.

"They hear the scandals and probe them," said Mr. Gunn. "They are in the atmosphere and study their subject from every angle. The result is that they buy insurance heavily. An actuary I know receives a total annual income of $5,000 and yet he carries $50,000 in insurance, mostly of the endowment variety."

George Roslington, present as a visitor, told of the early work of the association. C. E. Bigelow, manager of the new loan company, told how the banks favored the purchase of insurance by their depositors. J. H. Coons expressed the thanks of the association for the talks of the examiners, mentioning particularly the testimony relative to the purchase of insurance by actuaries.

L. C. Merfeldt, president of the association, called a short business session at the conclusion of the luncheon.

An American genius has invented a bed which can be illuminated underneath by electricity, for the use of nervous people.

ABLE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Siefert Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pottsville, Pa.—"I suffered with female trouble for four or five years and was very irregular. I was not fit to do my work at times and got no benefit from a doctor and got no benefit from medicine. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and took it and got all right. I gained twenty pounds or more and am now able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. SALLEE SIEFERT, 213 W. Fourth Street, Pottsville, Pa.

The everyday life of many housewives is a continual struggle with weakness and pain. There is nothing more wearing than the ceaseless round of household duties and they become doubly hard when some female trouble makes every bone and muscle ache, and nerves all on edge. If you are one of these women do not suffer for four or five years as Mrs. Siefert did, but profit by her experience and be restored to health.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have
Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow complexion, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and the pleasing result is thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

BOXING CARD TO BE FREE TO ALL WOMEN IN CITY

Special Sections Reserved for the "Weaker Sex" Which Is Now Showing Healthy Interest in the Art

Special sections at the army will be reserved for women who attend the boxing program to be staged by Benny Cordova Thursday evening. There will be sections for escorted and unescorted women, all of whom will be admitted to the entertainment free of charge.

There are a lot of women who would like to see a boxing exhibition, but have been reluctant about going. Promoter Cordova stated yesterday, "But exhibitions throughout the country are drawing large numbers of women and the shows which I intend putting on here should prove just as attractive to them. Each exhibition will be an example of clean athletics."

The opening bout will start at 8:30 o'clock and the doors will be opened at 7 o'clock.

Both Caldwell and Jones, the main events, are in fine physical condition and each gave a peppy work-out at Moose hall Sunday afternoon. They will give another public training exhibition this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Five boxers have been signed up for the battle royal, which, although it is only an extra, promises to prove one of the most exciting events of the program. Two other preliminaries have been arranged for the evening.

A VICIOUS LAW.

There is another angle of the scandal over the Wagner administration of the Department of Education which deserves attention.

Traveling Auditor Whittier says in the report that the books of the office were fairly well kept during the first year, but that thereafter an increasing laxity developed. The report covers a period from January 1, 1916, to June 30, 1921—four and one-half years.

Think of a department of government handling tens of thousands of dollars never having been checked a single time during the four years of the incumbency of Mr. Wagner! Had he been checked at the end of the first year, with criticisms of his methods, an increased, instead of a decreased, watchfulness would have resulted the second year. Some one besides the officeholder is scandalously derelict when those handling public money are not audited at frequent intervals.

If the school superintendent's office was not audited for four and one-half years, it would be interesting to know what has happened in the matter of auditing other state officials. Who knows when the land office was last audited and the report made public?

Some one procured the passage of an act by the legislature forbidding cities and other political subdivisions from expending public money for the employment of private auditors. The traveling auditor is made the sole auditor for state officials, state institutions, counties, school districts, cities, etc. The slightest investigation shows that an auditor with the amount of work and the number of employees in that department can not audit all of these political subdivisions in a half-dozen years.

Men and women are placed upon boards and given the responsibility for the proper administration of a great trust. They are compelled to rely upon employees for keeping the records and handling the funds. Then they are left without the power to employ experts to check up those employees. Years must go by, with discrepancies growing gradually worse and uncorrected, while they wait for a traveling auditor who seemingly never comes.

Such a system leaves those who are responsible without a way to get the facts. They can exercise no intelligent supervision. Laxity is bound to result.

The law commands that there be no audit at public expense, unless the traveling auditor makes it. He probably never makes it. So officials run matters to suit their fancy.

We are informed, and believe, that the auditor, Mr. Whittier, and a few interested state officials who did not want to be hampered, procured the passage of this act. As a result they are immune from investigations stirred up by the Journal, or any one else. The governor apparently has no authority to employ auditors to investigate. The state traveling auditor is too busy elsewhere. The people's money may be used at the whim of those handling it. Finding irregularities five years after they happen is locking the barn after the horse is stolen.

This whole thing is a political scheme. In our judgment it was done to protect the land office against the Journal's demands for an investigation. It serves to leave all honest officials without a way to be given a clean bill, and provides a refuge for crooks and political manipulators.

It does not matter who asked for such a law. A republican legislature passed it and a republican governor signed it. The party is responsible for it. If that party wishes to escape political responsibility for such incompetency or knavery, the republican attorney general will attack the law in the courts. We are convinced that it is unconstitutional and could be voided. If Mr. Bowman will not attack it, the city officials of Albuquerque or our county officials should do so. All that is necessary is to engage a private auditor for a day or two. When an effort is made to pay him out of public funds, let a taxpayer restrain the payment, by injunction proceedings. A test of the law will result.

As the law stands, officials are helpless and corruption can thrive practically unrestrained. If traveling Auditor Whittier were an arch angel, the power given him under this law would be excessive and pernicious. No one man should have so wide a discretion over public matters. Suppose a corrupt man should be chosen for the position? A state would be at his mercy.

This matter impresses the Journal as very, very serious. We have called attention to it before. The Wagner incident shows one vicious phase of this law in its operation.

The failure of the state to check Mr. Wagner at intervals, or to "check him out" at the end of his term, will arouse a certain degree of sympathy for him. Mr. Wagner claims that he demanded a "check out" and could not get it. The traveling auditor was "too busy." There is no sense in any such lax methods.

AN ELKS' MEMORIAL.

The Albuquerque Elks, whose magnificent new building is a monument to their civic pride, have a chance to start a memorial to their soldier dead. The Journal wishes to propose to them a testimonial to those local Elks who sacrificed their lives in the great war.

The lodge owns frontage of fifty feet on Gold avenue which has not been needed yet for the expansion of its building. Very wisely, we think, the organization has decided that its real estate is not for sale. Future needs are being anticipated in its retention.

This lot was used for storing supplies and debris during the rebuilding process. It is now being cleared. It should be beautified. The Elks once had financed and planned a park on the vacant ground. The fire of a year ago checked the work.

Why not revive the park idea now and begin it with the planting on Armistice day of five trees in memory of the five Albuquerque Elks who died in service during the war? Surely the men who were willing to give grass seed, fertile soil, trees and money before would be more than willing to renew their offer if such a memorial was planned. Next spring the park might be finished. It would be a suitable companion for the splendid structure which now houses the club.

What could be more appropriate to bless the memory of these five Elks than five stalwart trees, standing upright and proud, reaching their branches to heaven? The following poem by Theodosia Garrison, catching as few poems have the spirit of the tree, pleads for the improvement of the Elks' vacant ground:

SHADE.

The kindest thing God ever made,
His hand of very healing laid
Upon a fevered world, is shade.

Green temples, closed against the heat
Of noon time's burning glare and heat
Open to any pilgrim's feet.

This is God's hospitality,
And whose rests beneath a tree
Has cause to thank Him gratefully.

RELIEVING UNEMPLOYMENT.

If the work of President Harding's unemployment conference has not provoked as much public discussion as was perhaps anticipated, it is evidently for the reason that it evolved no unexpected, startling, conclusive and unique remedy—no hair-raising cure-all—but merely emphasized in the main the close-at-hand remedies which newspapers and individual business leaders have been pointing out for months, including:

Stimulation of buying by reduction of prices.
Encouragement of production by a liberal loan attitude on the part of banks.

A policy of co-operation on the part of trades unions in the matter of wage adjustments.

A reduction of railroad freight rates.
An unafraid attitude on the part of prospective builders.

Prompt beginning of energetic prosecution of public improvements by city, county and state governments as well as by the federal government.

In short, unemployment relief is not the business of any one individual, agency or class, but is a nation-wide co-operative task. And it is gratifying that nearly every class seems ready to do its part.

Building construction and public improvements are of particular strategic importance. The conference received from its construction committee a report showing that the United States is today short at least $10,000,000,000 worth of building. Nothing more than the initiation of even half of this delayed building construction is needed to send a new thrill of life along every business artery from one end of the country to the other.

VERSE OF TODAY

PLEASE.

Give me the old familiar things,
Though they be very plain;
The quaint old tune Joanna sings,
The small house in a lane,
Whose fragrance meets the open door;
The faded carpet on the floor,
The patient peace of furniture—
Familiar things I can endure.

I have been brave a long, long while,
Heard praise, and scorned afterward;
I have met eyes that did not smile,
And now I ask for my reward.
I know the panorama strand
Or happiness, and grief's sequence,
Rough grains have scratched by venturous hand,
I beg no tribute nor defense;
I only ask familiar things—
The quaint old tune Joanna sings.

EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

THE HONOR OF THE ARMY INVOLVED.

(From the New York Times.)
Until Senator Thomas E. Watson of Georgia preferred the charge on the floor of the senate that American soldiers had been hanged in France without trial he was not called to account, although he had made the same declaration from the platform when a candidate for United States senator, and had printed it recently in a newspaper he publishes. How many votes he attracted by his rabid attacks upon the good repute of American army officers in France can never be known. Evidently he thought that there were votes in his campaign against what he chose to call "militarism." He is now to learn that the honorable body to which he has been elected will not tolerate wild and vicious talk from him, such as he reveals in the stump, when it affects the good name of the army; he must prove his case or take the consequences.

In the house of representatives the other day Representative Thomas L. Blanton of Texas was called to the bar to undergo the humiliation of censure. Gross as his offense was, false testimony against the honor of the army uttered by a senator on the floor of the chamber would be of an infinitely more despicable character. Unless Mr. Watson proves his terrible charge before the investigating committee, the country will regard him unworthy to sit in the senate. He declares that he can furnish the evidence, and he should be held strictly accountable.

It's deplorable that an assault so revolting should be made by a senator upon the reputation of the United States army at a time when the nation is the host of our distinguished visitors who speak in terms of the highest praise and gratitude of the gallantry and heroism of American troops in France. All the more reason why Mr. Watson should have his "day in court" and be called upon to substantiate his statements or retract them.

AS THE PEOPLE VIEW IT

TWO LUNGERS AND ONE LUNGE.

(T. B. CRABBE.)

Well, folks, it has been sometime since I have wrote about the topics of the day, as things has been run along good enough, when I see even me, and I am a great believer in letting well enough alone, but I see where quiet a few amatoors is breaking into the writing to the editor game, and I thought I might maybe join up with them and give you a little something to talk about, now that the Ford stories is all getting somewhat passed.

There has been a lot of talk here about what is the matter with Albuquerque, and I must say I was surprised to say the least when I first heard it. For when I come here a couple years ago I was told by every body who had something to tell that this was the B. P. C. E. both as to people and places. Well, I don't know what you say, but I took some with that, because it was such a modest statement.

Well, I settled down here among you, or maybe it would be better to say I laid down, as that is really what I done, and looked things over for a spell, and I could see a lot of things that looked to me like they could be improved on without hurting nobody very much, and I mention these in a casual way to a few of our citizens, but they didn't take to my suggestions, so I thought I ain't my funeral.

But now Sidney Wells is going to make a speech on the subjects, and another party has run a ad. lining out what he thinks had ought to be done, and I must say in some things I agree with this party, who I called Sir Geo by his intimates and others and built Monkey Bridge after a manner, to say nothing of being the precedent of our tramway and the accidental insurance co.

I have been hearing for some time that there was discussion in the chambers of commerce on account of some of the members thinking the sec'y had ought to use up his time trying to bring the Brooklyn Navy Yard and the Hog Island Shipbuilding Co. here instead of appealing to the man who was looking for a little relief from the lung complaint.

I quiet agree that it would be a wonderful thing if these two great industries could be brought here, but that is out of the question now because the ports for which most of us sail from here is through uncharted seas, and until we get that straightened out we had better try and sell what we got and don't you think so.

The idea of Sir Geo is all right until he gets down to the place where he says "no virtue community" was ever built by sick people, but it can be built by well people with the money they get away from sick people, as is evidenced by the number of people we see as the Rosington Rattlers bound to and from the Highlands and South Edith Street.

"Red-blooded two-lunged people" is essential, I can't deny that, but you have to have something besides hot air to bring them here, and as you haven't got much else, and the lunger is looking for that commodity, build on what you have got and don't you think so.

The trouble with Albuquerque, or them who modestly professes they are the whole show is that their colossal selfishness will not allow them to face the facts. Our stock in trade today is climate and aside from that there is no reason why this town should be any larger than the surrounding ones. What has been built here has been built largely by and with the money spent by the lunger, except maybe the R. R. shops and perhaps the sawmill.

Doing what you can for the old town is as commendable as rich relations, but don't bite the hand that is helping passengers on to the Rosington Rattlers is my advice to Sir Geo and no charge for it, which in itself is most unusual nowadays to sell the lease.

When I found out I had the lung complaint and had to come west, a man in Albuquerque wrote me to come here and he would do ever so much for me, and I thought, "Well, I found out later, was that he would do me for ever thing he could. He used the correct word but he had them placed hind part to."

I stayed here in spite of that man, because he ain't the community, but when Albuquerque makes up its mind that it don't want the lunger, and the lunger leaves, then Goldsmith's Deserted Village will look like a thriving metropolis compared to what will be left and don't you think so.

Sir Geo promises to give us the true story of why the new hotel isn't being built. I hope he does, but I thought it was because they haven't got no foundation.

I tree a bit of something brown. It was really the thick sap of the spruce tree, that had oozed out of a crack in the bark. It was Nature's chewing gum.

"Oh, I like it!" cried Susie, chewing away. "Course it isn't sweet, like mine was, but the sweetness doesn't last long," said the little rabbit girl. "And, anyway, this has got to be the only way to it. Thank you, Uncle Wigglely."

So Susie hopped along to the hollow stump school, chewing the spruce gum, and Uncle Wigglely started to finish looking for an adventure. He did not have far to look. As he started down from the top of the hill, where he had met Susie, the bunny saw, down below, a terrible sight!

There was the Woolly Wolf, the Bushy Bear and the Fuzzy Fox, all looking at him and coming up the hill; one in one place, another in the second place and another in the third place.

"They're coming up after me!" whispered Uncle Wigglely. "They know I'm here and they're coming after me! I can't get away. Oh, what shall I do to escape?"

He looked around him. On the ground were piles of dried leaves. Nearby on a spruce tree was more of the sticky gum.

"Ha! I have it! I'll cover myself with dried leaves," said the bunny. Quickly he picked up some of the same kind of spruce gum he had given Susie. Placing a little wad of gum on a leaf, the bunny stuck the leaf on his head. Then he stuck this gum on another leaf, and stuck this gum on one ear. In a little while Uncle Wigglely had stuck dried leaves all over himself with the gum until he looked like a bonfire before it was lighted.

Then he lay down under a tree, sniffing, snuffing and snoring up came the Woolly Wolf, the Fuzzy Fox and the Bushy Bear.

"Where's Uncle Wigglely?" growled the Woolly Wolf. "He's here a minute ago, for I saw him," said the Fox, who had very sharp eyes.

"What's that, over there?" asked the Wolf.

"What shall I do to escape?"

RIPPLING RHYMES

THE HORSE.

Sometimes, when viewing motor cars, and marking how they sway my friends, I sadly say, "I'll thank my stars if this wild drama ever ends! 'Twould be a blessed thing, indeed, if men these motors would cashew, and go back to the faithful steed that hauled our fathers from and to." And then dead horses I recall, the grand old steeds I used to drive; and, counting up their fallings all, I'm rather glad they don't survive. Old Dobbin sleeps where clinging vines their soft and slumberous shade produce; he'd get his tail across the line, and then he'd kick the dashboard loose. For good old dappled Prince

I sigh, his pedigree was long and rich; at every little thing he'd shy, and dump the buggy in the ditch. And Barb, the Arab, lies beneath a granite boulder, gray and big; she'd get the bit firm in her teeth, and run away, and smash the rig. And faithful Nemo used to walk along the highway, white and straight; and he would hump himself and balk if I'd suggest a smarter gait. And when I think of all the hags I used to drive in other days, the spavined plugs, the equine hags, the blacks, the chestnuts and the bays; I think perhaps I am at fault to wish them back upon the scene, and to my filver's seat I vault, and burn three quarts of gasoline.

"What's that over there?" asked the Wolf, pointing one paw.

"Oh, that's only a pile of dried leaves," growled the Bear. "Come on, Uncle Wigglely must have run down the other side of the hill."

Away ran the bad chaps. The "pile of leaves," which was really the bunny, sat up. Mr. Longears picked up the bits of gum and the bits of dried leaves.

"Ha! Ha!" he laughed. "Chewing gum is useful after all!"

And if the hot water bag doesn't take hold when it tries to go skating with the milk picher, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wigglely and the chili sauce.

THE MARKETS

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Nov. 7.—Tomorrow's "election day," and the prospect of another holiday Armistice day caused a visible diminution of business on the stock exchange today.

There was fairly active trading in bonds, however, some Liberty issues mounting to new high records for the year before realizing sales by speculative interests caused a moderate setback.

Other incidents included the renewed firmness of money rates, call loans rising from the initial 5 per cent rate to 6 per cent in the afternoon, and the further acute collapse of German marks relative to the dollar.

Eliminating the more representative foreign and domestic oils, gross advances of 1 to 3 1/2 points and irregular gains of certain of the motor, food and miscellaneous specialties, the trend in the main was upward.

Aside from the grangers and Pacifics, rails were non-existent and equipment, steels and the numerous issues having more or less direct relation to those groups moved within the narrowest bounds. Final prices were confusing, rallies in one part of the list being balanced by lower quotations elsewhere. Sales, 100,000 shares.

The minimum figure touched by General Motors during the session was 32, precipitating further reactions in Austrian and Hungarian bills. Of the more important recent fluctuations, sterling eased slightly, while French and Belgian rates other European quotations showing little alteration, but far eastern rates continued to ease.

Profit taking in Liberty bonds and other government issues did not extend to the industrial list, some of that class, notably U. S. Steel 5s showing strength. High class rails also reflected substantial support. International for the most part were higher. Total sales, par value, $18,250,000.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Material upturn in wheat took place today, owing more or less to frost reports from Argentina and to indications of export demand for Japan and other non-European countries. The market closed unsettled, 1 1/2c to 1 1/4c higher, with December 1 1/2c to 1 1/4c and May 1 1/2c to 1 1/4c. Corn gained 1/4c to 1c and oats 1/4c to 1c. In provisions, there was a setback ranging from 10c to 32c.

At first the strength in wheat seemed hesitant, being based chiefly on news of Argentine frost which was unaccompanied by any report of damage.

Approaching midday, however, a sharp advance was scored on free buying which was construed as due partly to short covering for Liverpool account. Simultaneously gossip counted also to some extent as a bullish factor. Besides, country of feelers in Canada and this country were reported light and smaller receipts were noted as compared with a year ago.

Corn and oats derived their gains from September wheat. Sales both of corn and oats to go to store here were announced.

Lower quotations on hogs had a weakening effect on provisions. Lard especially was under selling pressure from commission houses.

Closing prices:

Like Caesar's Wife—

Anthony Bond's bride must be above reproach. How difficult this was you will understand when you have seen "THE FURNACE." For Folly Bond was beautiful, admired, unconventional,—and not in love with her husband. "THE FURNACE" is one of the most powerful dramas of modern marriage ever shown on the screen. And its settings, lavish costumes, and unusual situations make it a picture out of thousands.
