VOL 47

SANTA FE, NEW MEXICO, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 23 1910

NO 272

THANKSGIVING DAY PARDON ISSUED

Governor Extends Executive Clemency for Sake of Convict's Family

CONSTRUCTION CERTIFICATES

Eden Canal, Land and Power Company Changes Its Name.

Governor Mills today issued the following Thanksgiving pardon, following the precedent set by other governors:

Whereas, the custom of extending executive clemency to some deserving prisoner on Thanksgiving Day has been observed by the Chief Executive of the Territory of New Mexico for many years; and

Whereas, at the regular September, A. D. 1909 term of the district court, sitting within and for the county of Colfax, Territory of New Mexico, John Barnum was convicted and sentenced to serve a term of two years in the penitentiary, from which sentence he took an appeal and secured a supercedas; and

Whereas, said Barnum is a man of large family, having a wife and five small children dependent upon him for support, and since the date of his conviction said Barnum has been living on a homestead entered by him from the United States Government and has been endeavoring in every way to live an honest and upright life and support his family; and

Whereas, said Barnum has heretofore borne a good reputation and was an officer of the city of Raton at the time the alleged offense was committed; and

Whereas, a large number of citizens of Raton have petitioned the Governor to extend executive clemency to said Barnum;

Now therefore, I, William J. Mills, Governor of the Territory of New Mexico, and by virtue of the authority in me vested, having carefully investigated the case, and believing that there are mitigating circumstances surrounding the same and that the ends of justice will be best subserved by extending executive clemency, do hereby grant to the said John Barnum a full and complete pardon from the sentence above referred to. This pardon will take effect on Thanksgiving Day, November 24th, A. D. 1910.

Done at the Executive Office this 21st day of November, A. D. 1910. Witness my hand and the great seal of the Territory of New Mexico.

LURED FROM PASADENA FOR A LIFE OF SHAME.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 23.—Lured from her home in Pasadena, California, by promises of a pleasant life in Denver, Miss Florence Sample, now Mrs. Nicholas Honduras, left everything and is now in the matron's quarters at the city jail. Her husband, Nick Honduras, who married her four days ago at Del Norte, Colo., is under arrest and will be charged by the federal authorities with importing a woman for immoral purposes. She was arrested in a Market street house and Honduras was taken into custody a few moments later by Louis Adams, United States immigration inspector, and City Detectives Kraemer and Cole.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS BLAMED FOR SCARLET FEVER SCARE.

Salida, Colo., Nov. 23.—As a result of the followers of a faith cure sending their children to school while suffering from scarlet fever until placed in quarantine by City Physician Jones an epidemic of scarlet fever is sweeping over this city.

CRIPPEN PAYS THE PENALTY

Pale as Chalk With Tottering Limbs He Is Dragged to Gallows

MURDERER HAD COLLAPSED

Parting From Ethel Clare Leneve Was Heartbreaking Scene.

London, Nov. 23.—Dr. Hawley Crippen today paid the penalty for the murder of his wife Belle Elmore. He was hanged in the court yard of Pentonville jail at 9:02 in the presence of a few jail officials and Father Carey who had been with the prisoner all night. Pale as chalk, with features drawn and limbs so weak under him that he had to be supported to the gallows, the condemned man presented a pitiable spectacle as he went to his death. The doomed man passed a restless night and seemed to lose all fortitude as the end approached. The gruesome work was soon done. The black cap was quickly drawn over his face, the noose adjusted and the bolt drawn. Crippen weighed 140 pounds and he was given a drop of seven feet, death being instantaneous. From the time that the reprieve was refused, Crippen's condition was one of agonized mental prostration. He would see only Ethel Clare Leneve, the love for whom, the crown asserted was the motive for the crime, his solicitor, Mr. Newton and Father Carey. The final interview yesterday with Miss Leneve was most painful, and already in the shadow of death, the condemned man made no effort to suppress his emotion upon parting from the girl.

Ethel Leneve Coming to America.
Southampton, Nov. 23.—So far as can be learned, Ethel Clare Leneve did not sail on the steamer Majestic for New York today although she had booked second class passage under the name of Miss Allen.

DEMOCRATS DISFRANCHISE SPANISH AMERICANS.

Arizona Constitutional Convention Adopts Educational Qualifications for Franchise.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 23.—Matters relating to the educational system of Arizona and affecting labor, occupied the attention of delegates to the constitutional convention yesterday. A number of provisions which will benefit labor were adopted. Foremost among these are the compulsory compensation measure and that prohibiting and nullifying many contracts signed by any employee releasing a corporation from liability or responsibility for injury or death. There was also adopted the Cumulative proposition for an employers' liability provision abrogating the common law of the "fellow servant" doctrine, and removing the limit for damages in case of injury or death and the Kinney anti-alien labor measure in an amended form.

The original Kinney proposition, which caused more widespread comment in the territory, especially in the mining camps, than any other measure, prohibited the employment of more than 20 per cent alien labor, or the employment under ground or other hazardous occupations, of persons not speaking the English language. In the amended form, the latter portion remains and it will virtually prohibit the employment of immigrants in mines. The other part was considered a violation of the fourteenth amendment of the federal constitution and was rejected. Much time was taken up in the discussion of the educational bill and because of the equal division in the convention no progress could be made on the disposition of the provision for the segregation of white and negro children. There were half a dozen tie votes taken, but when the body reconvened for the afternoon session, the segregation was finally defeated by a vote of 22 to 21. Chairman Moers, of the educational committee warmly espoused the cause of segregation.

The present law, which remains effective, provides that school districts may segregate the white and colored children if it is desired in that district.

After a long debate, the convention last night adopted the educational qualification to the election law provision by a vote of 23 to 21. Only the Democratic members of the convention participated in the debate. Delegate Ingraham of Yuma voiced the warning that a Republican senate would never place its approval upon a constitution which would for years preclude the election of a United States senator. His argument was that the Republicans would disfranchise hundreds of Mexican citizens who invariably voted the Republican ticket.

The measure requires that all electors must be able to read the constitution in English.

NEW YORK WILL GAIN NINE CONGRESSMEN.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The population of the state of New York is 9,113,279, an increase of 1,844,385 or 25.4 per cent over 1900. On the present basis of apportionment New York state will gain eight or nine congressmen.

MEXICAN REBELS ARE CRUSHED

It Is Apparent That Federal Government Is in Complete Control

STRICT NEUTRALITY OBSERVED

Troops Held in Readiness to Aid U. S. Marshalls to Guard Border.

El Paso, Nov. 23.—A lull in the fighting around Torreon and Chihuahua is reported this morning and so far as can be learned, no fighting is taking place in other parts of the republic. Parral, Gomez, Palacio and Jimenez are reported tranquil. The government forces are in control of Torreon. The death list there is estimated at sixty to seventy, largely insurgents. The revolutionists lack organization and leadership and the supply of arms is limited. The insurgents are massed around Chihuahua city and have control of a large territory.

Heavy Fighting at Santa Isabel.

Heavy fighting began early this morning at Santa Isabel, Chihuahua. At Torreon a large force of cavalry had been sent in pursuit of the revolutionists who have withdrawn towards San Pedro where a decisive battle was expected today. Reports from Monterey declare that a large force of federal troops is en route to Monclova, Coahuila, to meet Madero, who is reported marching on that place with about a thousand well equipped cavalry and several hundred infantry. This force it is said is being augmented by recruits all along the line of march.

Will Maintain Neutrality.

Washington, Nov. 23.—In response to a request of the department of justice, which is charged with the responsibility of seeing to it that the United States is not used as a base for war in connection with the Mexican revolution, the war department today instructed General Hoyt, commanding the department of Texas, to respond to the requests from United States marshals for the assistance of troops in preventing the violation of neutrality.

Torreon Repels Rebels.

El Paso, Nov. 23.—Passengers arriving here this morning from Mexico deny that Torreon has ever fallen into the hands of the revolutionists. An attack was made on the town, they say, the invaders using one or two pieces of artillery captured at Gomez Palacio, but Torreon was not taken.

Liberals Leave for Mexico.

Los Angeles, Nov. 23.—Luisado Rivera, one of the editors of Regeneracion, a paper established by the Mexican Liberals, who was recently released from the penitentiary at Phoenix, Arizona, where he served terms for sending inflammatory literature into Mexico said last night that it is the intention of every Liberalist to cross the border and assist the revolutionists. Gutierrez de Lara, Ricardo Flores Magon and Antonio Villareal, men who served sentences, could not be found, and it is believed they have already departed for Mexico.

Diaz Is Unharmed.

Mexico City, Nov. 23.—There is no foundation for the rumor that harm has befallen President Diaz.

Madero Proclaims Himself.

Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, Mex., Nov. 23.—Francisco I. Madero has proclaimed himself "President of the provisional government of Mexico," and admonishes his followers not to commit overt acts against the Americans nor to damage to property of foreigners. Madero's proclamation is being generally circulated today throughout northern Mexico.

Trouble Grossly Exaggerated.

New York, Nov. 23.—The Mexican government has the situation well in hand and everything is quiet is the information contained in a telegram from President Brown of the National Railways of Mexico to Vice President D. P. Bennett of that system in this city. President Brown's message is dated Mexico City, November 22, and reads:

"Everything is quiet today. It is believed confidently that the government has the situation well under control. So far as I can learn no damage has been done the railways or telegraph lines. The reports regarding four instances of trouble during the last two weeks have been grossly exaggerated. All train service is being performed according to schedule."

Nineteen Traitors Shot.

Laredo, Texas, Nov. 23.—It is said on the best authority that two hundred revolutionists are encamped about thirty miles from this city on the American side of the river awaiting the opportunity to cross into Mexico. On the Mexican side is a body of troops awaiting the attempt to invade Mexico. The revolutionists are well aware that the Mexican troops are guarding the crossing and may await nightfall to make the attempt to cross. A passenger on today's train from Mexico City, stated that many officers in the Mexican army in the capital have been apprehended and documents found in their possession proved them to be affiliated with Madero. He stated that nineteen soldiers had been shot for treason. Passengers coming from Tampico today said that all is quiet in that neighborhood. Tampico is a rich agricultural and fruit growing district and the vicinity is the home of many Americans. On the line of the Mexico International which runs from Mon-

Rebels Flee to the Mountains.

El Paso, Nov. 23.—Advices that are seemingly authentic show today that the federal government of Mexico is again in control of every town in northern Mexico save perhaps Madera, from which nothing can be obtained. The revolutionists have disappeared in the mountains.

COLONEL VENCESLAO JARAMILLO, Legislator and Constitution Maker.

Prominent politically and officially for more than a decade, Colonel Veneslao Jaramillo, although only thirty-five years of age, has had an important hand in moulding public opinion and making history in New Mexico. To begin with, he has made a success of stock raising and merchandising and in his hometown at El Rito, Rio Arriba county, occupies the leading place in business and politically. He is a grandson of Don Jose Pablo Gallegos and a son of Don Pedro Ignacio Jaramillo. He received his education at St. Michael's college, Santa Fe, the same as did twenty-one of his colleagues in the constitutional convention. Later he went to Notre Dame, Indiana, and the Jesuit College at Denver. When only twenty-two years old he was elected a member of the House of the 32d Legislative Assembly and six years later was elected a member of the Council of the Thirtieth Assembly. He has served very efficiently on the Territorial Board of Equalization and today is a member of the Board of Regents of the Spanish-American Normal School at El Rito in which he takes much pride, and of the Board of Water Commissioners. He has served a term as treasurer of Rio Arriba county, was a member of the governor's staff and is always to be found in every movement for the betterment of his people and the progress of the commonwealth. As a member of the constitutional convention, he guarded carefully the rights of his constituents, was a diligent worker in committee and proved himself a staunch and loyal Republican on the floor. There is no doubt that in the new state, many and important honors await him.

MINISTER KICKED AND BEATEN

Veteran Augustine Birrell Brutally Attacked by Woman Suffragist

FRANCHISE RIOTS IN LONDON

Daughter of a Lord Arrested and Threatens to Use a Revolver.

London, Nov. 23.—The rioting of the suffragettes which began yesterday with an assault on Premier Asquith continued throughout the night. Advancing under cover of a fog at 2:30 this morning the militant band circumscribed the police and stormed the Asquith residence on Downing street. They hurled stones and metal weights at the house, breaking the glass of all the lower windows. Earlier in the night the women smashed the windows in the homes of Sir Edward Grey, foreign secretary, Louis Harcourt, secretary of state for the colonies, and Winston Spencer Churchill home secretary. Augustine Birrell, the veteran chief secretary for Ireland is confined to his bed today as the result of being kicked and hit by an irate woman yesterday. Mr. Birrell was soundly beaten before he was rescued by the police. One hundred and fifty-six women and two men who took part in yesterday's rioting were arraigned in police court this morning. Many were discharged but others were remanded to jail for sentence later. Among those held was Mrs. Haverfield, daughter of Lord Abinger who it is said, promised to have a revolver with her at the next demonstration.

terry and Ciudad Porfirio Diaz all wires are said to have been cut. It is in the neighborhood of these cities and generally at points on the International railway that serious trouble apparently is developing. Arnold Shanklin, American consul general in Mexico, arrived here today, and reported everything quiet along the line.

Rebels Flee to the Mountains.

El Paso, Nov. 23.—Advices that are seemingly authentic show today that the federal government of Mexico is again in control of every town in northern Mexico save perhaps Madera, from which nothing can be obtained. The revolutionists have disappeared in the mountains.

COULD NOT LOCATE POSTMASTER AT DAWSON.

However, the Effort Could Not Have Been a Very Persistent or Intelligent One.

Says the Rocky Mountains News of Denver:

"Lost—A postmaster at Dawson, N. M., bearing the name of George L. Bradford. Address W. E. Cochrane, postoffice inspector, Denver Colo."

An advertisement similar to this might result in Cochrane receiving some information that is greatly desired. It appears that the postoffice at Dawson, which is of the third class was robbed and burned on Sunday night, but no word has been received in Denver from Bradford, the postmaster.

Inspector Cochrane received a telegram yesterday noon from a railway mail clerk that the office at Dawson had been robbed and then destroyed by fire. No details were given. An attempt was made to get into communication with the postmaster by wire, but when the inspector's office was closed last night an answer had not been received.

As a rule postoffices of the third class in isolated sections, such as Dawson, carry a large stock of stamps and money. He has ordered an inspector to Dawson.

HEINOUS CRIME AGAINST LITTLE GIRL IS CHARGED.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 23.—Freda Edwards, a beautiful 6-year-old girl, is held at the Detention home awaiting removal to Nebraska, where it is alleged she is wanted as a witness against her uncle, Clarence Edwards. Her father, Claude Edwards, protested against the child being taken from him last night. Humane Agent Ransom and City Detective Kenney took the girl. They acted on request of Sheriff F. M. Kenney of Benkleman, who came to Denver for the child.

Clarence Edwards of Benkleman, Neb., is accused of a statutory crime against the child, according to Sheriff Kenney. Claude Edwards, the baby's father, separated from his wife and married again, and it is alleged his brother, Clarence again was arrested, charged with a statutory crime against the daughter of his brother's second wife. This child is also thought to be in Denver. She is 6 years old. When Clarence Edwards was arrested at Benkleman he was assaulted by several persons in court, said the sheriff.

Ransom and Kenney found Freda Edwards at 318 Twenty-fourth street with her parents.

TERRITORY LEADS IN EDUCATION

Superintendents Recognize That It Is to Fore in Procession

GOOD WORDS FOR NEW MEXICO

Uniform System for Certification of Teachers and Administration.

Superintendent of Public Instruction James E. Clark is home from Salt Lake City, Utah, where he attended a conference of western state school superintendents. Fifteen states were represented, from Louisiana in the south to North Dakota and Minnesota in the north and Washington in the northwest. He declares that New Mexico came in for much favorable comment on account of its constitution and the fact that it already has in vogue the very advanced regulations recommended by the conference, placed the commonwealth at the very head of the procession in educational matters.

Superintendent Clark praised highly the hospitality of the people of Salt Lake and said the visitors had many more invitations to social affairs and entertainments than they could accept. The conference worked hard and he was represented on several committees which drafted regulations for uniformity in school administration, uniformity in certification of teachers and interchange of certificates among the states, and also drafted recommendations to the Bureau of Education of the United States which was represented at the conference by Dr. Harlan Updegraff of Washington, D. C. The bureau is taking a very advanced stand and is of practical aid to the cause of public education. The conference hopes for co-operation of all the states.

HIGH SCHOOL SCORES FOR SECOND TIME.

Hotly Contested Game Resulted in Score of 18 to 17 in Favor of High School.

What proved one of the most interesting games of basketball this season was played in the presence of a large audience last night at the Armory hall between the High School boys and Company F of the New Mexico National Guard. From start to finish it was a battle for the round pigskin and both teams played a splendid game.

Wallace Fiske and Howell Eryen, forwards, made most of the goals for the High School and Ensie Sherman made a throw from center that sent the ball through the basket without even touching the rim. Sherman was loudly applauded by all the spectators. Harold Stephens did some splendid guarding and was always after the ball.

For the Armory Fernley Wiley made some splendid throws which were loudly applauded by the pupils of the High School. Ralph Enos and Henry Kaune showed excellent judgment in handling the ball and knew how to throw it with great accuracy into the basket. Ralph Smythe and Louis Marsh also juggled the ball like professionals.

Professor Bowlds refereed the game and his justice to both teams showed that he was experienced in acting fairly.

There is plenty of turkey in sight, and it is selling at 25 cents a pound alive and 28 cents dressed.

The average weight of the turkeys is 16 to 14 pounds dressed and about 10 to 15 or 16 alive. There has been a steady demand for the Thanksgiving bird and the meat markets have laid in a big stock to meet the demand. The prices this year are about the same as last year, it is stated.

30 Years of Success

The Fischer Drug Co., Offer
a Remedy for Catarrh. The Medicine Costs Nothing
if It Fails

When a medicine effects a successful treatment in a very large majority of cases, and when we offer that medicine on our own personal guarantee that it will cost the user nothing if it does not completely relieve catarrh, it is only reasonable that people should believe us, or at least put our claim to a practical test when we take all the risk. These are facts which we want the people to substantiate. We want them to try Rexall Mucin-Tone, a medicine prepared from a prescription of a physician with whom catarrh was a specialty, and who has a record of thirty years of enviable success to his record.

We receive more good reports about Rexall Mucin-Tone than we do of all other catarrh remedies sold in our store, and if more people only knew what a thoroughly dependable remedy Rexall Mucin-Tone is, it would be the only catarrh remedy we would have any demand for.

Rexall Mucin-Tone is quickly absorbed and by its therapeutic effect tends to disinfect and cleanse the entire mucous membrane tract, to destroy and remove the parasites which cause the inflammation, to soothe the irritation and heal the soreness, to stop the mucous discharge, build up strong, healthy tissue and relieve the blood and system of diseased matter. Its influence is toward stimulating the mucous cells, aiding digestion and improving nutrition until the whole body vibrates with healthy activity. In a comparatively short time it brings about a noticeable gain in weight, strength, good color and feeling of buoyancy.

We urge you to try Rexall Mucin-Tone, beginning a treatment today. At any time you are not satisfied, simply come and tell us, and we will quickly return your money without question or quibble. We have Rexall Mucin-Tone in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Santa Fe only at our store, The Rexall Store, Fischer's Drug Store.

THE DAILY ROUND UP.

IN THANKSGIVING.

(Corn A. Dolson.)
We thank thee for the little things
Without which life were dull in deed;

The patient heart that hopes sings,
The flower that blossoms true to seed.

The memory of a little child—
Whose pink hand tossed to us a kiss
The aging wrinkled lips that smiled
The bird flight that we did not miss.

The wayside well, the pillow's touch,
The cooling wind, the sheltering trees—
The common things of life mean much;

Take, then, dear Lord, our thanks for these.

Jap Marries White Girl—Frank T. Yanare, a Japanese, at Las Vegas, was married to Roxie Tolar, a white girl, by Justice of the Peace Felipe Baca y Garcia.

Three Arrested for Theft—Teresa Sanchez, Antonio Salinas and J. M. Madrid have been arrested at El Paso on the charge of larceny.

Child Committed to Jail—In default of $300 bail, Percy Thomas, aged 9 years, was committed to jail at Albuquerque for stealing a bicycle. He was arrested at Thornton, forty miles south of Santa Fe.

Boy Thrown from Wagon—Orlando Romero Rogers, aged 10 years, was thrown from a wagon at Las Vegas and badly injured. At first it was thought he could not recover but now hopes are held out for saving his life.

It is the Nature of Advertising—A lady who understands advertising says: "No lady wishes to be looked upon as a shopping fiend; she does not care to go into a store and have a merchant show all his stock in order to find out whether he keeps what she needs to purchase and whether the article is sold at a price she can afford. It is much easier and pleasanter to look through the advertisements of a paper than it is to bore the clerks and waste her own time. Next to the local news items, the advertisements in a paper stating articles for sale with prices, will keep much of the money that goes to the large cities at home."

CONSTITUTION MAKERS

HON. ANASTASIO MEDINA.

Delegate in the Constitutional Convention From Wagon Mound, Mora County and a Prominent Merchant.

Hon. Anastasio Medina, delegate in the constitutional convention from Wagon Mound, Mora county, is a well known merchant and stock raiser. He was born in Taos county 38 years ago and was reared on a farm. It was natural therefore, for him to become a farmer until he was old enough to work. Then he quit farming to go to school. He was educated in Mora county in the Mission school which was at that time under the direction of Dr. Harwood. Returning to work, Mr. Medina entered the sheep business and made a success from the start.

In 1902 Mr. Medina was elected assessor of Mora county by a big majority, attesting his popularity. When elected to the constitutional convention he received a very large majority, also. He is a clean cut business man, staunch Republican and a hard worker.

CATHOLIC CHURCH IS OPPOSED TO SOCIALISM.

Archbishop Glennon Says Beer Mug and Wine Glass Are Enemies of Society and Laboring Man.

St. Louis, Nov. 23.—Socialism and kindred philosophies created, he declared, by the proletariat over beer mugs at the bar, were denounced by Archbishop John J. Glennon in his sermon at St. Lawrence O'Toole's Catholic church. The archbishop's remarks are regarded as especially significant on the eve of a bitter contest with Socialistic delegates at the American Federation of Labor convention opposing the re-election of President Gompers.

The archbishop recalled utterances of Leo XIII. as those of the sanest thinker on labor problems. "Christ's sacrifice on Calvary created the first brotherhood of man," he said, "and in the Catholic church is found the first labor union."

Makes Attack on Socialism. From this appeal to the laboring man Archbishop Glennon advanced to an open attack on the menace of Socialism. He said:

"There are some who believe that because the laboring man has so little it is not seriously worth while to preserve that little he has. So he spends what little he has and is not able to create for himself, his children and wife a home. He joins the proletariat that congregates in the saloon, where, over the fumes of beer and wine, he creates a philosophy that turns him soon into a full-fledged revolutionist. The beer mug and the wineglass are enemies of society, and specifically they are enemies of the laboring man. "I want to warn you against 'Christian Socialism,' and 'Christian Science,'" said the archbishop. "It is said of Christian Science that it is neither Christian nor scientific. By the same token Christian Socialism is neither Christian nor scientific. It is neither Christian nor scientific as the Socialists understand it."

Protection for Labor. "I believe that the working people should have the protection of the state against unscrupulous capitalism. But remember, there are certain rights of the individual that the state cannot take over. One of them is the right of the individual to control himself. And we utterly abhor the doctrine that the little children who bless our homes shall be wards of the state—common property."

TWO WEEKS MORE FOR ARIZONA

Not Much Hope for Approval of Constitution That Has Been Formulated

TOO RADICAL FOR RADICALS

Even Democratic Press Joins in Hammering Recall Provision for the Judiciary.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 23.—Will the constitution when adopted be accepted by the people? Many think not—on account of so radical a proviso as that for the recall of judges. With one exception there is not a newspaper, Democratic or Republican, in the territory which is not hammering the constitutional convention hard for the passing of such sweeping provisions for direct legislation.

Were this attack sectional in scope were it confined to one or the other parties as represented by the Arizona press; were it even an attempt to segregate and jump upon a set of delegates from a certain county or group of counties, many explanations might be forthcoming. It is none of these and, therefore, it is plain that the Arizona press, to the last ink pot, has awakened to the impractical nature of the recall in the constitution.

Democrats Awaken.

The Democratic press, during the campaign, cried aloud for these features, and helped to make votes on them, but now that the things have been inserted and the seriousness of it is apparent, the editors are talking the other way. They realize that it is not what the territory wants or needs.

The Republican papers have all along declared that statehood would be lost if these Socialistic "isms" became a part of Arizona's organic law. But the Democratic press is now aroused as well, after the harm has been done.

When the convention assembled, the Republican papers declared the Democrats had betrayed the people; that they had no intention of giving the state the measures of direct legislation, and, indeed, it looked like this was true for a long time. Finally, however, the initiative and referendum were made into provisions. Then the Republican papers screamed protest, while the Democratic papers, with only an exception or two, writhed in discomfort.

At last came the day for the passing of the recall provision. The debate on this in the convention was upon whether this should be extended to the judiciary and the members in favor of such extension proved the more numerous.

Judiciary Unsafe.

The fact acted as a signal to let loose upon the convention all the vials of wrath. Even the Arizona Democrat protested vehemently that the constitution was utterly ruined and that the people would not accept it. Other Democratic papers fell into line until there is now not one that is not protesting the action of the delegates and it would be no surprise to see the constitution defeated if the papers have their way.

The Douglas International, Democratic, has this to say: "Arizona wants a judicial system which shall be superior and away above all political controversies. We want courts that cannot be subjected to harassment in the enforcement of the law for and against every interest, class or individual."

The same paper quotes at length a townsman to the effect that there is practically no support of the convention on the recall proposition. It further editorializes in the story containing an interview with the townsman in question to this effect: "The international finds that among the business men there is little support for the recall in any form, and practically none for a recall that would reach the judiciary."

Not a Conservative Crowd. The trouble with the International is the same as with all the rest of the press of Arizona; it is making a serious mistake in thinking that this is a business man's convention or that the ballots of business men elected the Democratic delegation. Business ballots are prone to be safe and sane as a rule, and the safe and sane ballots were cast for Republican delegates and against the idea of direct legislation.

Storekeepers, in cases where the stores were large concerns; stockmen, in the sense of men owning herds; miners, if by that such gigantic companies as the Copper Queen and Clark's United Verde are meant, voted against direct legislation. But it was the miner de facto; the men with the pick; the cowboy who rides the range and some of the Arizona farmers who selected the delegates to the constitutional convention.

A leading Republican politician, a federal officeholder, a man who, next to the governor, holds the most conspicuous place in officialdom here, said: "The people will beat this constitution at the polls. Every newspaper in the territory is against it."

Work Nearly Over.

Of course, there will be many odds and ends to pick up and put together, but the real work, the actual framing of the constitutional provisions, is practically over.

Railroads, school lands, water rights, irrigation (the life of agriculture out here) and corporations and banking are perplexing problems, but while they are most profound and even more important than profound, they have been previously deeply studied and the delegates or a sufficient majority of them, know what they want. Therefore, it is expected that debates will be largely of a set nature.

RHEUMATISM PURIFYING THE BLOOD THE ONLY PERMANENT CURE

No case of Rheumatism was ever cured except by a thorough purification of the blood; just as long as the blood remains charged with fermenting uric acid poison, the painful disease will continue. The pains and aches of Rheumatism are simply superficial effects of the impurities in the circulation, and sometimes may be temporarily relieved by the application of plasters, liniments, hot cloths, etc. But the person who tries with this dangerous disease by depending on local treatment alone, is certain to pay for the mistake with constant suffering later on. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to cure the disease. It goes down into the blood, and removes the uric acid from the circulation, so that the nerves, bones, muscles and joints are lubricated and fed with nourishing elements instead of being continually irritated and inflamed with the sharp uric acid impurity. When S. S. S. has cleansed and purified the blood, the pains and aches cease, all inflammation disappears, stiffened muscles are made pliant, and every troublesome symptom of Rheumatism is permanently corrected. ## ARIZONA'S CHANCES FOR ADMISSION SLIM.

F. M. Murphy Fears the Constitution Will Be Too Radical for Acceptance By Taft.

Frank M. Murphy of Arizona, who has taken a no less active part in the fight to make that territory a state than in the development of the territory itself, said yesterday that the chances for Arizona being admitted into the Union soon are decidedly slim. For this Mr. Murphy holds Col. Roosevelt responsible.

"I hear," said Mr. Murphy, at the Holland House, "that the New Mexico convention will put up a constitution that will insure statehood, and that the state will be Republican. But it looks as if the constitution that the Arizona convention will recommend will not be acceptable either to Congress or to the President. I am inclined to believe that the constitution will be rejected by the people of Arizona, so that there will have to be another convention."

"The trouble with the instrument that is being framed by the Arizona convention is that it contains the initiative, the referendum and the recall—heresies that have been tried in some of the western states and found wanting. If the election of delegates to the convention could only have been postponed until the results of the recent elections in the east had become known there would have been a marked difference. The Democrats, Socialists and union organizations took their cue from the speech which Roosevelt made at Pueblo, Colo., this year, which they construed to be in favor of extreme radicalism. Although Roosevelt afterward disclaimed having said anything that could be construed as endorsing the initiative and the referendum, the mischief had been done."

"President Taft on his visit to Arizona gave the people a lot of good advice. If they had followed this there would have been no trouble,"—New York Sun.

PUMPING PROJECT AT MELROSE

An Example of the Enterprises
That Statehood Will Bring
With It.

Albuquerque, N. M., Nov. 23.—To irrigate and reclaim some twelve thousand acres of fertile dry farming land around Melrose, Curry county, by means of the electric pumping system is the big project now well under way there and promoted by McBee and Hockenhull, the firm headed by W. D. McBee of Clovis former member of the legislature and regent of the University of New Mexico. Mr. McBee who was in the city yesterday says that the project is well under way and there is no doubt of its ultimate consummation.

"The enterprise is similar to the one now in operation in the Portales valley not far distant," said Mr. McBee to the Morning Journal. "It is being carried out under the provisions of the irrigated irrigation district law of 1909. We have elected directors, have attended to preliminary details, and are now ready to make the first of the water tests, the machinery for which is being installed at the various wells drilled. Other adjacent wells which have been tested have made a showing of from 1500 to 2500 gallons a minute under the pump and the water exists in apparently inexhaustible quantities at a depth of from ten to forty feet. The lands sought to be irrigated lie in a shallow valley surrounded by higher lands, a basin into which a large area drains so that we believe the water supply is permanent. We shall put in a central electric power station at Melrose and run transmission lines to the various wells owned by the farmers. The farmers are all supporting the proposition and land values are rising."

While the farms at first will be large the plan is to get down finally to the basis of a great many 20 and 40 acre tracts with intensive cultivation. It will cost approximately three hundred thousand dollars to put in the central plant, put up the transmission lines and motors and pumps. Bonds will be issued in this amount and the work will go right ahead."

Under the irrigation district law, such bonds are handled by the county commissioners as to tax levy and the county treasurer is treasurer and collector of the accruing revenues making the enterprise practically a county or territorial proposition. Revenues to retire the bonds are collected just as taxes are collected, the bonds being at six per cent to be taken up in from eleven to twenty years.

Approves the Constitution. "I believe these bonds will sell twice as well after statehood is attained," said Mr. McBee. "Statehood in my opinion is the great desideratum at this time on any kind of a reasonable constitution. The one framed by the convention at Santa Fe seems to me to be fair and acceptable and I shall support it. Eastern investors do not ask what kind of a constitution you have but ask: 'Are you a state or territory?' The mere fact of being a state, I am positive, will have a tremendous influence on the increase of investments in New Mexico."

It is the plan of the promoters of the pumping project at Melrose to get things ready for the spring crop next year. "It will take hard hustling but we hope to make good," said McBee.

HOBOES NOW HAVE A RECOGNIZED UNION.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

WHO SAID "DODGING?"
The Albuquerque Tribune Citizen gives vent to the following bright remark:

"The prohibitionists gave their opponents a surprise Saturday and Friday, their total vote showing 42 as against 18, with nine delegates hiding in the cellar to keep from being placed on record."

It should have been added that seven of these were Democrats as follows:

H. B. Fergusonson,
A. H. Hadspeh,
Green B. Patterson,
J. H. Crist,
E. D. Patton,
J. W. Childers,
George E. Moffett.

When it comes to dodging issues the untried Democracy cannot be surpassed.

Melrose, Curry county, imitating the example of Portales, Roosevelt county, will install a $300,000 central pumping plant to lift the underground rivers to the surface to reclaim the land and make it produce crops. The promoters are confident that the approval of the constitution and the admission of New Mexico to statehood will make it much easier to finance projects of this character. It is certain, that New Mexico is receiving favorable consideration all over the United States from men of enterprise and of capital because it has drafted a fundamental law that is safe and sane and that these men will perform wonders for the development of the resources of the commonwealth as soon as the constitution is approved. That is one reason, why eastern New Mexico especially, should vote for it solidly.

The New Mexican on last Saturday printed the constitution in full excepting the Miscellaneous Provisions. The Las Vegas Optic printed it on Monday evening and the Albuquerque Morning Journal yesterday morning, so that the voters of New Mexico were promptly informed of the completed result of the constitutional convention. However, some of the last minute changes and revisions, were not included in the fundamental law as printed by these three papers. Several of these are material and others insignificant, but so that the readers of the New Mexican may be accurately informed, the constitution as finally revised and compared with the official copy on file in the office of Territorial Secretary Nathan Jaffa, will be printed as a supplement to Saturday's New Mexican.

It took the men who drafted the United States Constitution, which is shorter than that of New Mexico, more than six months to formulate it. While it was a compromise measure adopted after bitter wrangles and some of the states refused to ratify it for years, yet, the formulating of the document caused such rejoicing that President George Washington issued the first Thanksgiving proclamation and public thanks were given in their churches. New Mexico, too, has additional ground for thanksgiving tomorrow, for the constitutional convention has done well by the people and by posterity, and has drafted a constitution that is the peer of any fundamental law ever adopted in any state or country.

There is something to admire in the vehemence, the persistency, the courage of the militant suffragettes in London. If the women of Santa Fe, for instance, had such courage, such strong convictions, this town would be cleaned up in a jiffy, morally and physically. Not one stone would remain above the other of the houses of ill repute which have brought sickness, ruin and unhappiness into more than one local home. As the chief of police of Chicago declared in yesterday's dispatches, the Windy City will not be swept clean morally and physically until the women do the work.

All of Manchuria is infected with the Bubonic plague, the cholera rages from Naples to Berlin and from Moscow to Paris, smallpox is reported in practically every state of the Union, infantile paralysis is creating havoc from Pennsylvania to Kansas, and scarlet fever is epidemic within eighty miles of Santa Fe. The best plan, therefore, for Santa Fe people is to stay at home, for after all its climatic superiority and advantageous situation make it the healthiest city in the world.

It may be well to recall that four years ago this month joint statehood carried in New Mexico by a majority of 11,460. Joint statehood was a bitter pill, but the desire for any kind of statehood was so great, that it carried with only five counties giving a majority against it, while counties like Socorro, Bernalillo, Valencia, Colfax, Dona Ana, Mora gave more than a thousand majority each for it. How much greater the majority therefore will be on January 21 for the adoption of a safe and sane and yet progressive constitution that safeguards all the rights of the people and encourages enterprise and development.

A negro farmer, who has toiled all his life to acquire his holdings has given the land for a $300,000 tuberculosis sanitarium for negroes near Colorado Springs and thus has shamed many a white man of this section who has accumulated riches, and who, although his shadow is already falling across his grave, has no idea of loosening up on some of his coin and doing for the white brethren what this humble negro has done for the blacks. Yet, there are some Christian people in this land of ours, who deprive the colored man by law but unconstitutionally, of his right of franchise.

The physicians of Albuquerque have publicly declared that the death rate of Albuquerque can be cut in two. While Santa Fe is a much healthier town, yet, even here, the death rate could be reduced considerably if a sewer system were installed and the town kept clean from one end to the other.

THANKSGIVING DAY

When the sturdy pilgrims of New England first set aside this day, they were full of gratitude to prosperity.
They were thankful that they were favored with good crops, that they could worship God in their own way, and that happiness dwelt within their little community.So as this day was made a day of Thanks-giving, it has survived in the hearts of the people of this grand and glorious country, until today.We should be thankful for, the good that we have received, and should always bear in mind that our station in life could be worse. We should be thankful that our City has made such a decided growth in the last year, and that our territory will soon be a state and for the beautiful climate in which we live, for the beautiful scenery that lies at our door, for the prosperity that has visited us during the past year.This is a day of rejoicing and feasting; You cannot enjoy a good dinner without the proper setting. Is your silver bright and new, have you a carving set, does your roaster, cook the turkey right, have you a set of dishes that become the occasion, how about your table and your dining chairs?WE CAN HELP MAKE THIS DAY A MEMO-RABLE ONE, LET US SHOW YOU HOW.

The Famous Rayo

The Lamp with Diffused Light

should always be used where several people sit, because it does not strain the eyes of those sitting far from it.

The Rayo Lamp is constructed to give the maximum diffused white light. Every detail that increases its light-giving value has been included.

The Rayo is a low-priced lamp. You may pay $5, $10 or even $20 for other lamps and get a more expensive container—but you cannot get a better light than the Rayo gives.

This season's Rayo has a new and strengthened burner. A strong, durable shade-holder keeps the shade on firm and true. Easy to keep polished, as it is made of solid brass, finished in nickel.

Plays AND Players

Minstrels Friday.

There is a feast in store for the laugh hungry at Elks' theater Friday, November 25th when Richards and Pringle's Famous Minstrels make their appearance.

The mere announcement of this company's coming is usually sufficient to pack the theater. Little need be said for this company, for they have been coming here for over a quarter of a century, and their merit is well known. In keeping with the policy of the management, everything is brand new. While several of the old favorites still remain, many new faces will be seen in the circle this season. A great deal of attention has been paid to the singing and dancing portion of

of the theater at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, and the program will range from ragtime to grand opera.

The coming of "Arizona" to Elks' theater Saturday night will be marked as a red letter engagement by the intergoers who have witnessed performances of this excellent play in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Washington or Chicago. New York critics unanimously declared that it is the best play which Augustus Thomas, author of "Alabama" and "In Missouri" has ever given to the stage. Mr. Sill, in the Evening World, said of "Arizona" on the Tuesday following the first production at the Herald Square theater:

"It is the best play seen on Broad-

the program, and lovers of the old-time minstrelsy will find much to please them. The vaudeville portion will be the most expensive ever carried by a minstrel company. Fred Simpson's challenge band of twenty-five solo musicians are a prominent feature, and the management throws down the gauntlet to any minstrel company to produce its equal. Watch for the big free street parade at noon. There will be a band concert in front way in a generation." As the title indicates "Arizona" has its scenes in the picturesque southwestern territory. It is by no means a "wild and woolly" melodrama, and although it is replete with stirring acting and embraces one tragic climax which would probably claim melodramatic classification were it not relieved by a background of unctuous humor and picturesque romance. It is an exquisite scenic production.

EMPEROR WILLIAM COUNSELS TOTAL ABSTINENCE.

Declares That Nation Which is Most Temperate Will Lead the World.

Fleensburg, Prussia, Nov. 23.—In opening the new naval academy at Muerwick Emperor William read an address laying stress on the qualifications necessary to naval officers and later, speaking extemporaneously, made a plea for temperance on the part of the cadets. The times, the emperor said, required iron-hearted men. Character was the first essential and character was founded on strong moral and religious convictions.

THE PRESS AND THE CONSTITUTION

This convention has been singularly free from gag rule and fraud, and the delegates have shown rare ability in enacting into a constitution those things which should form the fundamental law of any state and avoiding those things that properly belong to the future legislatures of the new state. The citizens of New Mexico have the ability to form a constitution for the whole people of the state and yet preserve those rights guaranteed to all the people by the constitution of the United States.—Chama Valley, Rio Arriba County, Tribune.

The announcement that the Democrats of New Mexico will support the proposed constitution appears to have been somewhat premature. It is while period that thousands of New Mexico Democrats have been waiting their knives for some time and are actually pining for an opportunity to get to that constitution.—El Paso Times.

The spirit of fairness that characterized our constitution makers is all on the side of the makers and not on the side of the people.—Estancia Daily Herald.

PLANNING THINGS

"Mother," said Lucy, with characteristic impulsiveness, "Jennie Darton is in town for a week or two, and I want her to come out and let us have a good old gossip. I want to ask her before all the other girls learn that she's here, for then she will have so many engagements that it won't be possible to get hold of her. What do you think?"

"Ask her, by all means, dear," answered Lucy's mother. "I always like to see your friends, and I always loved Jennie. Let's have her to Sunday tea."

"That will be lovely, you dear, sweet motherkins!" was Lucy's enthusiastic response. "I'll tell her to come early, so we can have a nice, long talk. You boys," turning to her three brothers, "must make no engagements for next Sunday, unless I tell you Jennie's not coming. And we won't have an elaborate meal, mother. Just tea and thin bread and butter and cookies and little candies—just afternoon tea in the parlor."

"If it's going to be a parlor bun-strengthening or a latest of any kind just count me out," spoke up Brother Harry, promptly. "None of those shabby things for mine!"

"No tool!" said Ben.

"I don't stand for tray-and-tea-fights," explained Jennie, "because just as soon as I get a cup of tea in one hand and a sandwich in the other I have to sneeze."

Now, it is Lucy's pride that her brothers, contrary to the habits of some brothers, nearly always are present at her functions, big and little. Further, they make themselves beautifully agreeable and add to the glory of the occasion. So, with a sigh, she capitulated and agreed to have the meal properly set on the table. But she still clung to her basic idea of simplicity, following her mother to the kitchen to discuss the question of food unhampered by masculine suggestions.

"We'll just have cold meat, a simple salad and plain ice cream and cake, with hot tea," she decided. And "I'd just as soon stay in to help you out, Miss Lucy," spoke up Angie, the niece colored maid who has been in the family so long that she is almost one of it. "I'd a heap rather stay in and fix things nice than have you give a poor spread."

"All right, Angie," answered Lucy, who detests an ill-served meal and fairly loathes waiting on the table. "Then we can have tea and coffee and the salad served as a separate course, but that's all the difference we'll make. I'm determined on a simple meal. If we decide to have more we'll find ourselves asking a lot of people, and I want a nice, long talk with Jennie. Mother, what kind of cold meat would you suggest?"

"You've quite determined on cold meat," asked her mother. "I always think at least one hot dish is nice. Creamed chicken or fricasseed veal wouldn't be much more trouble than cold meat, if Angie's going to be here to serve it. And—"

"The young gentlemen, they certainly do love fried chicken," said Angie. "And I could make hot biscuits and strawberry shortcake just as easy as preachin'. And hot coffee certainly does go down fine with fried chicken. And asparagus on toast is lovely with new potatoes, creamed."

"There you are, Lucy!" said her mother. "Now, that's what I call a nice, light meal, and not a bit more troublesome than plain cold beef and potato salad. And when it comes to young men like Dell Jones and Ransom Davis and—"

"I hadn't thought of asking them," put in Lucy, a little coldly. "I thought I told you that I just wanted to have a nice, long talk with Jennie."

"Well, I don't know any surer way of getting a nice, long talk with her than by having other people about to talk to the other people. Jennie knows all those boys, and will love to meet them, and you ought to have some more girls, to provide for the extra men and our own boys. And you could think up some funny limericks for the place cards, and—"

"And have a regular formal dinner, with cards and candles and flower petals in the finger bowls, and all sorts of pretty gimcracks," said Lucy, sarcastically.

"Exactly," cried her mother, with growing enthusiasm. "That's the kind of party I really love, daughter; I dislike these little, spindling lap teas as much as the boys do. With shades nothing like a round table, with shaded lights and flowers and plenty of good food, too, to make things go swimmingly."

"You just invite about twenty young people for a week from Sunday, instead of next Sunday, and leave all the rest to Angie and me—all that is, but the limericks for the place cards and the ordering of the flowers. White and green and red would be a good color scheme, and, of course, we'll have the salad and the dessert to match, with olives and salted almonds and pretty candies."

"Run away and write the invitations, and then forget all about the party until it's time to dress for it. We've got it all settled, Angie and I."

Lucy hesitated helplessly for a moment, as she has done before upon similar occasions. For a moment a little frown disfigured her forehead. Then, when she remembered how popular her dinner parties always had been, and recalled how Ransom Davis, in particular, likes fried chicken and strawberry shortcake, the frown melted into a smile.

Paradise for Suffragettes.

Finland, the national constitution of which the Russian duma has voted away, is in many ways an exceedingly interesting country. Some travelers say the most delightful city in northern Europe is Helsinki, the capital. Its population is 80,000. It is a city of boulevards and cafes set in a sea of Mediterranean blue and against a background of pine-clad hills. It has no slums. Finland is a paradise for the suffragette. Women there can be anything from stone masons and members of parliament to bank cashiers. They take an important part in the government.

THE LOST LETTER

By LAWRENCE ALFRED CLAY

It is of no consequence what the misunderstanding was about. The lives of young people are full of misunderstandings, and the more they are in love the thicker the misunderstandings come along. Cupid sends them as tests. Where two people in love can't patch up a misunderstanding and go ahead and be happier than before they shouldn't marry.

It was a little awkward in this case that Miss Nina Farrand, school-teacher, was going on her summer vacation the next morning, and so Mr. James Clingham of the insurance company wouldn't have an opportunity to drop in next evening and bring the dove of peace under his arm. Miss Nina had as good as said that she wouldn't write a line while she was gone, and he had as good as said that his time would be fully occupied with writing private letters.

When Miss Nina reached her aunt's in the country she found it was five miles from the nearest post office. She had given Mr. Clingham the address before the spat. On the way up there she hoped the distance would be 20 miles, for she was cross yet, but when told it was only five miles her heart was like lead. Five miles to the post office, and sometimes the family did not send or go for a whole fortnight. Five dusty miles, and most of the way uphill, and she and Mr. Clingham had at each other!

If there had been a post office within ten rods she would have tossed her head and braved it out, but five miles! She wanted to weep. She wanted to write a long letter the day she arrived, if only there had been a telephone—but there wasn't!

Miss Nina waited five long days and then she wrote. She had a heart, and she wanted to spread it with the ink, but it wouldn't do. Mr. Clingham was taught a lesson. She mentioned that she had arrived, that she had found her aunt about as usual, that there were hollyhocks in the garden, that it was dry weather and that a goose had chased her.

Mr. Jones and his old horse and wagon came jogging along on time, and when the letter had departed the schoolmarm felt relieved. Indeed, she almost felt sure that the farmer would bring her one in return. Mr. Clingham might simply write that it was his busy day—and the city was dusty—and the comet didn't amount to shucks—and he was going to the ball game, and sign it: "Your very obedient servant," and it would be a comfort. She went half a mile up the road to meet Farmer Jones on his return. She pretended she was looking for scenery.

"Got you a letter, by golly!" he shouted at her from a point 20 rods off. "Yes, got you a letter, and it's postmarked in the city. But it's from your fellow. Whooa. Enb! Here's the epistle."

He started to draw it from the pocket of his old lined duster, while the heart of the young lady started up a-tunking, but it wasn't there. He searched other pockets. He looked into his hat. He hunted over the wagon. No letter.

"Jerusha, but I've lost it!" he finally admitted.

"Now don't have a fit, young lady. The harness busted on me about four miles back, and I got down to fix it. I must have lost the letter then. It was right at the foot of a hill, and there was a cow looking over the fence. I'll start right out in the morning and look for it."

"But I'm so sorry!" wailed Miss Nina.

"So'm I, but don't have a fit. The letter will be right there in the morning."

In the morning when Mr. Jones came along, Miss Nina insisted on driving along with him. He was full of confidence that the letter would be found, and when he finally reached the foot of a particular hill he drew rein and said:

"Right here is where the harness busted, and right here is where I got down. We'll find that letter in a jiffy."

The fatal spot was reached at last. There on a stone slab—not the lost letter, but Mr. Clingham himself! She was within twenty feet of him before she saw him. They were staring at each other in the most awkward way, when a rumbling in the distance was heard. From down the road came a cloud of dust, and in the midst of it could be made out Farmer Jones and his old rig. The old horse was on the run and the old wagon was creaking, and the farmer was shouting and holding a letter up to view. He drew nearer. He stopped. He flourished the letter once more, and shouted:

"Never lost the thing! 'Tall! Hole in my pocket, and it got into the lining. Jest found it an hour ago, and came on the gallop."

The letter was handed down, and he turned and headed for home. As he got along to Miss Nina's aunt she was at the gate to ask:

"Well, did you find her?"

"Yes."

"Was she tickled about the letter?"

"No, no, very."

"But why?"

"Cause she'd found something else to be tickled about. I guess it was the fellow who wrote the very letter, and he was on his way out to explain something. Better get into the house and fix up a big dinner, for they'll be here within an hour, and they'll both be mighty hungry. Them young folks always are after they have kissed and made up."

A Contradiction.

"No," said the young man with the frivolous hat, "I'm not a bit afraid to go out on the water in this wind. You see, I know all about a sailboat."

"Son," replied old Cap Catpaw, "you're contradicting yourself. Nobody can know all about a sailboat without being afraid of it."

A MAIDEN'S SECRET

By WELLESLEY PAIN

May Chedworth, in a pale-blue morning gown, sat at her writing table near the open window of her bedroom. A few thoughts so entirely possessed her that she did not enjoy to the full—as was her daily custom—the view of the old-fashioned garden or the flower-scented breeze that fanned her cheeks.

She was puzzled. Her self-imposed task of writing her diary every morning had recently become a disagreeable duty; at one time it had been a daily joke to be enjoyed by herself alone. Now this morning she could not write a word. A glance through a few of the preceding pages did not inspire her; on the contrary, she was forced to admit that what she had written was not a truthful record of her thoughts. The discovery perplexed her.

"Why not tell the truth?" she whispered to herself. "The truth—the whole truth?"

She took a large piece of paper from a drawer and wrote at the top of it—"My Confession."

At that moment a clock in the house struck the three-quarters, reminding her that she would soon have to dress for breakfast. She opened her door half an inch, listened, and then darted across the landing to the bathroom. Having turned on both taps she flew noiselessly back to her bedroom and took up her pen.

Now that she had decided to tell herself the truth the task of writing her diary would be easy. She resolved to put her thoughts on paper just as they presented themselves, and the first thought she dashed down was:

"I love him."

Written down in that way it seemed wrong, even in a special diary composed of one piece of hand-made paper. In a moment, however, she was quickly adding other words:

"I love him—I love him! I don't know when I began to love him. I seem to have loved him always. I know there has been a time in my life when I did not know him, and yet I was happy. That seems impossible. I love him. I want him—all ways."

She paused, and her thoughts became a day-dream.

The striking of a clock brought her thoughts back to the present with a bound. She remembered suddenly that the taps in the bathroom were turned on; the place would be flooded.

Ten minutes afterward she was back in her room and sitting dumb with perplexity before the open window. As she had entered her room the draught had lightly lifted her "special diary" out of the window.

The man who had inspired her to write those thoughts was now standing under her window with the paper in his hand. He was reading it. How to explain the writing of that paper was a problem she had not solved when, ten minutes afterward, she opened the door of the breakfast room.

In the morning they played tennis, she cared nothing for the game, but was grateful for it because it enabled her to be near him. All during the morning he said nothing about the paper, but when the game was over and they were sitting in a cool arbor he suddenly drew it from his pocket.

"Miss Chedworth," he said abruptly, "I have a confession to make."

"A confession?" She tried to speak lightly, and she hoped she succeeded.

"I found this in the garden this morning, and I took the unparadiseable liberty of reading it. For that I crave your forgiveness. I—I—I had no idea you wrote short stories, Miss Chedworth."

She had not thought of that explanation of the paper, and was glad he had suggested it. Her difficulty was practically over now.

"I thought everybody wrote now-a-days," she said lightly.

She looked away. The secret of her life was before him and he knew nothing of it. She felt that if she did not get away from him at once she would faint or become hysterical. She half rose to go, but he put a finger lightly on her arm.

"Won't you stay a little longer?" he asked. "It's cooler here than out there. But that—that's not why I wanted you to stay here. I tried to make up another story out of this piece of paper, but I don't know how it's to end. I can't put things just as I should like to, but this paper expresses my thoughts exactly. I—I love you! May the story end happily!"

He drew her to him and kissed her, and she lay in his arms. She hid her face on his shoulder.

That evening she told him of the blank day in her diary, and how what she had written down was not the beginning of a story, but the truthful confession of her own feelings toward him.

"Don't you loathe me now for being so unmaidenly?" she asked. "I had to be truthful to myself."

"Loathe you!" he exclaimed. "A thousand times no, my darling. I adore you, and you make me very happy. You were mine before I knew you were mine—that's all. I never dared to think I should be as happy as this."

"Nor I," she whispered.

"And the diary—you will write it to-morrow morning?"

She smiled and shook her head.

"It won't be necessary to write it again," she murmured, nestling in his embrace. "The book will be left blank now, but I shall know that from to-night your name will be on every page."

An Important Case

By BELLE MANIATES

"I know that you have scarcely rested since your last case, Miss Thorne," said the doctor, looking down into the young face, saddened and sweetened by experience. "But I can only save the lad with your help. I told his brother there was a glimmer of hope if I could secure the nurse I had in mind, and he said to offer you any inducement."

"I will take the case," she replied. "I can go at once."

In a few minutes she was seated beside Dr. Vail, and as they rose he told her the details of the case.

"Brilliant fever, and the boy is one of those high-strung, nervous types. It will be a fight, but you seem to understand and soothe nervous children so well."

"Perhaps," she said, musingly. "It's because I once had the care of a child like that one who was very dear to me."

"He calls constantly for his sister; yet he never had one."

The automobile drew up before a large stone house. A maid opened the door and took the bag from the nurse.

"Wait here," directed the doctor, going upstairs, "until I come back."

When he returned the nurse was gazing at some photographs on the mantel, her face very white.

"What is the boy's name?" she asked, abruptly.

"Paul Whitridge."

"I thought so. I can't take this case. I can't stay here, not even to save the child's life."

"See here," said the doctor, roughly, "haven't you learned that doctors and nurses can't indulge in personal feelings? We must work for foe and friend alike. The boy is much worse; saving."

"I think I can quiet him. I will go up and see him, and then," she added, firmly, "I must leave." When she came out the doctor led her into a room which he used as a consulting room.

"You promised the boy," he reminded, anxiously.

"I couldn't refuse; but I stay only on certain conditions."

"You may make any you choose."

"You know something of my history. That I lived in the west, that I separated from my husband, took another name and came here to be a nurse. This child, Paul, is my husband's young brother. They have evidently moved to this city."

THE BIG STORE

THANKSGIVING

THURSDAY
NOVEMBER
24th.

Uncle Sam's Big Family will dine. It's not our function to attend to dressing the TURKEY, but it is our business to attend to DRESSING THE FEET.

Turkey, Plum Pudding and Pumpkin Pie are well enough for Thanksgiving Dinner; but they will not keep your feet warm or dry during the cold weather that will be dealt out to us from now until the Spring-time comes again.

Our lines of Handsome, Stylish and durable Hanan, Florsheim and American Gentlemen Shoes for men will dress feet in a way to make their attendance an honor to ANY THANKSGIVING DINNER. We're ready to attend to your wants in Footwear, and the tax you'll consider light, when you look at your feet after we're through with them.

THIS STORE
WILL CLOSE
AT 1:00 O'CLOCK
THANKSGIVING
DAY.
