EXPECT BRIAND
TO SPEAK TODAY
IN DEFENSE OF
FRENCH POLICE

Premier Will Probably Make a Frank Statement Why France Feels Impelled to Maintain Big Army.

WANTS THE WORLD TO BE FULLY INFORMED

American Armed Forces Are Far Below Any Ratio of Land Power Which Might Be Suggested, Is Claim.

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Nov. 29. (By the Associated Press).—World attention will shift from naval to land armaments when Premier Briand of France speaks tomorrow before the arms conference. His address is expected to be a frank statement of the reasons that impel France to maintain the world's largest army.

statement is probably the point of most immediate importance to France in the conference. In informed circles it is expected the address will be a defense of French military policy.

What Brand Said.

In expressing general adherence to France to the American plan for disarmament, Brand said that it was his "conviction" that it is the duty of the conference to "bring about the earliest possible realization of the principle."

"When it comes on the agenda," he said, "the question of disarmament, as a question particularly delicate for France, we have no intention to consider it as a question of form."

"I hope I shall be able to state what the position of France is, as that of the United States and the world may fully know. And where I have tried to prove this, I am sure that France, after the necessities of safety and life have been adequately secured, harbors no thought of disturbing the peace of the world."

Before this forecast, there has been nothing to indicate that the land armament question is to be taken up definitely for settlement here. So far as can be learned, the power has any prepared armaments, but has no plans to deal with statistics dealing with armies, but neither the United States nor Great Britain has any direct or im-

Much interest has attached to Premier Briand's statement because of what reference he might make to the French desire that Great Britain and the United States should have their armies port for France should she be again attacked. In view of the general attitude here, however, it is regarded as unlikely Premier Briand will make even a direct reference to it.

Advisers Are Prepared.

Meanwhile, American military advisers are prepared for the initiation of the land armament question by some other group. They are prepared to show that the ratio of land power which might be reduced, M. Briand said that the army was not mobilized; that no organized reserve beyond a paper structure stands behind it, except the national guard and that the standing army is no more than a national police force and possibly too small for even that work. The

It appears likely that the conference will, when it reaches this item on the agenda providing for discussion of new agencies of war, turn this question over to a joint commission or commissions. The subject will involve use of air, bombs, gas, submarines and similar devices.

Following the address of Premier Briand, it was said, Chairman Hughes probably would suggest that the whole question of loan armaments be referred to the committee of five for an appropriate resolution.

TO INTERPRET SPEECH AS IT IS DELIVERED

Washington, Nov. 20 (by the Associated Press).—Premier Briand in addressing the arms conference tomorrow on land armament, will not attempt to deliver his entire address without stopping for the interpreter's translation in English.

Members of the French delegation explained that the premier, at intervals of about three, as

WILL REPORT ON MARKETING U. S. SUPPLY OF FOOD

Third Annual Convention of the American Farm Bureau Will Get Under Way Today at Atlanta, Ga.

(By The Associated Press.)
Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 20.—At the third annual convention of the American farm bureau here tomorrow six national co-operative marketing committees will bring before the farmers of America their first reports on the growing co-operative movement. These committees represent the wool, grain, livestock, fruit, dairy and vegetable growing industries. These committees, appointed within the last year by President J. R. Howard of the American Farm Bureau federation, are forming national selling agencies through which individual farmers pool their products. Forty-six states will have state representation.

This will be perhaps the first time in history that farmers have met nationally to consider as a national problem the marketing of America's food supply. Taxation, transportation, tariff, banking, disarmament and finance are other subjects that hold place on the program. Experts in their lines have been called in to discuss these subjects.

Another innovation in the movement for better agriculture is the enlistment of women in farm bureau work. Each state will send its delegation of farm women to outline a program for the organization of farm women in a national way. In no other nation in the world have farm women organized.

Address of welcome will be extended to the delegates from the forty-six state federations by Gov. T. W. Hardwick and James L. Key, mayor of Atlanta.

The three days' program will be officially opened tomorrow afternoon by President James R. Howard.

Among the prominent men who will address the convention are Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace, Senator Arthur Capper, Bernard M. Baruch and Senator W. S. Kenyon.

The economic side of agriculture will be particularly dealt with in the addresses of Senator Arthur Capper and Bernard M. Baruch, Secretary Henry C. Wallace of the department of agriculture will speak on "The Agricultural Outlook."

London, Nov. 20.—Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, has accepted Mr. Lloyd George's invitation to meet him Wednesday for an informal talk on the Irish question.

General Hindenburg and Von Ludendorff, two foremost war leaders in Germany, are now making a living by writing.

ISAIAH IS POOR SPELLER BUT HE CAN SAVE FUEL

(By The Associated Press.)
Chicago, Nov. 20.—Isaiah Smith, a most peculiar typist—in fact, he picks out his name as "Emitch." But when it comes to saving coal, the Illinois Central railroad pronounces him one of the record men of the system.

The Illinois Central recently put on a fuel saving campaign and word of it was passed to Isaiah, an old southern negro, at the pumping station at Phillips Bayou, Miss., half in the woods midway between Lula, Miss., and Helena, Ark. The station over which Isaiah presides was then using coal at the rate of three wheelbarrow loads of coal a day.

These are his reports of progress to his superior as duly chronicled in the Illinois Central Magazine: A. Mr. Joe Conklin, I hunt 3 Wheelbarrow loads of coal on September 1st. I keep my yard clean of all waste coal. I would burn more than I can help Isaiah Smith.

A DEMONSTRATION IN OPPOSITION TO RULE OF REILY BROKEN UP

(By The Associated Press.)
New York, Nov. 20.—A demonstration of persons opposed to the Porto Rican administration of Governor E. Mont Reilly was broken up today by police when the governor landed from the steamer Tanager.

Banners carried in the crowd referred to the governor as an "autocrat," to Porto Rico, as "America's Ireland," and to the Reilly administration as "mongrel rule."

Members of the party denied reports that the governor had used harsh language to the natives and declared that the only criticism of his administration had come from the "secessionist group," a small minority.

Many of the most valuable of the antiques in the collection, which had taken years to gather, were reported missing.

OFFERS HARDING ADVICE ON HOW TO SHAKE HANDS

Dr. Francisco X. Sauchelli.

Pointing out that shaking hands in the usual manner is the nervous system, Dr. Francisco X. Sauchelli of New York has sent to President Harding a suggestion as to how the chief executive may reduce the jar thus sustained. Dr. Sauchelli's suggestion is that the person greeted by usual and then place the left hand over both then dividing the strain. Billy Sunday and others who must shake many hands have tried the idea.

FAMINE CAUSES MISERY IN THE SAMARA REGION

Revolutions for Five Years Have Left a Trail of Destruction and Ruined Houses; Fuel is Scarce.

(By The Associated Press.)
Samara, on the Volga, Nov. 20 (By a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press).—The numerical and geographical extent of the great famine in Russia is being given today and has been as much food available in Samara, for those who have money, as in Baku, on the Caspian sea, 2,000 miles distant. The Russian refugees from Bolshevism in Constantinople are suffering from hunger and lack of clothes almost as much as these Russians in Poltava and they in turn as much as those in Orenburg. The Associated Press correspondent completed a journey from Constantinople to Moscow by way of Tiflis, Baku, Astrakhan and Samara, and everywhere found intense misery, the most sordid of which was seen in the dreary steppe region between Tiflis (Georgia) and Baku (port of Azerbaijan on the Caspian sea).

Revolt After Revolt.
There has been a revolution for five years, has left a trail of destruction and ruined houses and wrecked railway stations which cannot be matched in Russia. Adding to the lack of food, is the constant battle with malaria, cholera and typhus, and added to these is the cold against which there is little shelter or fuel.

No more pathetic sight was seen than that of the Baku railway station where thousands of men, women and children, going nobody could say where, were camped on dirty sidings, for the most part dressed in rags and eating scraps of food like hunted animals.

To the north, along the Volga in Russia, the misery is often of the respectable, cleanly kind. At Charkov thousands of families are living in railway cars. Others have been housed in villas and palaces. Begging is rather the exception than the rule everywhere in the famine region.

Churches Are Open.
The German colonist villages and towns along the Volga are so cleanly and orderly, surrounded by such florid luxuriance of field and forest, that it is hard to believe their people are suffering from hunger. As everywhere in Russia, the churches are open and services are held. At Volok, when the correspondent attended a service, he was followed out of the church by one of the priests who begged that food come from America before his people starved.

In the worst areas there is far more hunger swelling than was seen in Vienna in the winter of 1918. This is the last stage of starvation and when it comes neither food nor medicine will help. The majority of such cases are to be seen in the cities, about the railway station, in the trains or about the landing stages and on the steamers of the Volga, hundreds of thousands of peasant wanderers are seeking to reach friends in districts where they imagine food conditions are better. The government is trying to discourage such wanderings but they are continuing.

The distances made by peasant families are incredible. At Saratov, about the river front, may be met families from Orenburg going towards the Ukraine, where the crops did not fail, and then families from Astrakhan going up river to some of the German villages such as Volok or Baranov.

Robbers Shot When Caught.
While there is perfect order in all Russia, on every hand the individual struggle for life, for daily food, is bitter and hard. No one thinks of anyone else. Robbery is limited, as robbers are shot when caught, but trickery in small trading is the rule. A warm place to sleep, something to eat, and clothing are the beginning and end of daily life. Children are brushed aside, ignored or treated like little animals.

A person invited to a meal will eat twice what good manners would permit. He is lying in a stock of food, building up his body, he figures, for the winter cold. Those with money are hoarding food. In some places peasants refuse to sell bread at any price. They are afraid of the winter famine.

REAL WORKERS IN JOURNAL'S SALESMANSHIP CLUB CAMPAIGN WILL BE THE BIG PRIZE WINNERS

The Efforts Put Forth Now Are Only Essential to Real Success in Journal's Big Automobile Campaign; More Prizes Than Active Workers at This Time and Excellent Opportunity for New Candidates to Enter and Win Studebaker Sedan, or Big Touring Car with Little Effort

The race for the five automobiles and all the cash prizes to be given away by The Albuquerque Morning Journal has started. Right now is the time for candidates to get busy and secure the credits necessary to win.

Did you ever before have the opportunity you are offered in this campaign—an opportunity to be PAID IN CASH for the effort necessary to win one of the many prizes to be awarded? Remember—you are guaranteed pay for every single moment of your spare time that you put forth in gathering credits in this campaign.

Every active worker is guaranteed either an auto or a sum in cash, and if YOU are entered now, you have every chance to win one of the five big automobiles to be awarded December 22nd, and without the expenditure of a single penny.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY.
There is a big opportunity, for a live, active candidate who makes real sincere effort in this generous gift-giving campaign. There are lots of subscriptions to be secured if you will only ask for them. The prizes offered in this campaign are so valuable that no amount of effort on your part is too much to put forth in winning them.

And, remember, that every subscription you secure means just that much CASH in your pocket—that every dollar you collect means thousands of credits towards your chances of winning one of the autos. It isn't every day that you have an opportunity of making the big money that you can make in this campaign, and all in your spare moments, at that.

YOUR CAMPAIGN IS UP TO YOU.

Are you going to be a big prize winner in this campaign, or are you going to be numbered among those who will wish they had started, when the campaign is over and the winners are announced?

The schedule of credits, given now, during the first period offer, means thousands more credits than at any time during the latter part of the campaign. Now is the time to get the subscriptions needed to win—Now is the time you get the credits by the thousand, where later on it will be by the hundred. NOW, is the time to take the lead in the vote standings, and pile up such a great number of votes that it will be next to impossible for any other candidate to pass you.

TIME IS FLYING.
Now is the time for those already entered in the campaign to get busy and do their best. The campaign is a very short one and ends in less than five weeks time—the FIRST PERIOD VOTE OFFER ends December 7th,—and after that time LESS votes will be given on every subscription that you collect.

BEING IN YOUR SUBSCRIPTIONS.
Our best advice to those already at work in the campaign, is to bring or send in subscriptions as fast as you can secure them, to get the greatest number of votes for them at this time, and it enables the office to get the papers started right away, and to credit up the old accounts. In this way you get more votes for each subscription, and you can also get the subscriber to save the free credit coupons for you that appear in every issue of the Journal.

THE RACE IS ON.
The race is now on and the pace is growing fast. Your ability and popularity have been demonstrated. You can win if you get in and try. It's all up to you, yourself.

Get started in the race with a shout, and put your shoulder to the wheel, and show your campaigning energy at the very beginning of the race, that you know how and have the ability to make a real race and showing in the vote column. And remember that in this race, just the same as in any other—THE BEST CAMPAIGNER WINS.

(Special Correspondence to The Journal.)
Carlsbad, N. M., Nov. 20.—Forty-six bales of cotton consigned to Stewart Brothers of New Orleans, and bought by the L. C. Leftwich firm of Carlsbad, was burned at Malaga, twenty miles south of here. One Santa Fe box car and the platform, on which the cotton had been placed ready for shipment, were also burned. The loss in value of the cotton is estimated at about $5,500 and was covered by insurance. The fire is supposed to have started from sparks left from a special train, which passed during the night.

RED STAR

Detroit Vapor Oil Stove

The fact that Hotels all over the country are installing Red Star Vapor Stoves should mean much to the householder who has his eyes open to every economy. Several Albuquerque restaurants have discarded their previous equipment in their favor. A Red Star Vapor Burner will burn 19 hours on one gallon of kerosene. The heat is more intense than gas or electricity, and of course, many times more economical. There's a Red Star for every size family, and a price to meet every purse.

Red Star Oil Water Heaters

In all our experience with water heaters we have never found one to be nearly as satisfactory as the Red Star. It heats as quickly as gas, is more economical, and can be installed in any home, new or old, without inconvenience. It is the only oil water heater we can absolutely guarantee.

NIGHT TRAINS BRING IN HUGE CROWD OF TEACHERS FOR 1921 CONVENTION; PLENTY OF ROOMS

General Program Opens at 2 P. M. Today; Sectional Meetings on This Morning; Vegas and Santa Fe After Next Convention; Woman Likely to Be Chosen President.

Albuquerque, host to the 1921 convention of the New Mexico Educational association, received unusually heavy delegations of teachers from points east, north and south on the trains arriving last night. With big crowds due in this morning from the west and south there is every indication that the attendance this year will be fully up to previous records, inspiring as they may have been.

The Santa Fe train which came over the cut-off and arrived here early last evening carried a splendid crowd from the eastern part of the state. The early train from the north was well filled and the late night trains brought in fair numbers.

Teachers found rooms. As rapidly as the teachers arrived, the chamber of commerce hurried to locate them at homes. Many of the teachers had been in personal communication with residents, who met them at the train. The crowd was quickly handled and D. B. McKee, secretary of the commercial organization, reported last night that he had a thousand available rooms listed to take care of late arrivals.

John Milne, secretary of the association, announced that Mrs. Nina Otero-Warren would bring down a large delegation from Santa Fe county. San Miguel county will be heavily represented. Grant county will be here solidly, except for three or four teachers.

From present indications, Santa Fe and Las Vegas will be the two chief contenders of Albuquerque for the next meeting, although there is a possibility that they may combine forces to send the 1922 meeting to Santa Fe and the 1923 meeting to Las Vegas. Albuquerque will again present its invitation.

Woman For President. It seems probable that the teachers will select a woman for their next president. Candidates are not out in the open yet, but there is a feeling among the masculine educators that it is a woman's turn.

The general program will open at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the armory, corner of Fifth street and Silver avenue. Walter M. Connel is to welcome the educators and Roy White, of Gallup, will respond.

J. M. Bickley, of Clovis, president of the association, will deliver his address. There will be musical numbers.

At 4:30 o'clock comes the general reception at the Elks club to which all teachers are invited. The general program is taken up again at the armory at 8 o'clock.

Sectional Meetings. The sectional meetings will open at the high school and neighboring buildings at 9 o'clock this morning. The meeting place and chairman of each follows:

Musical and art: Central Avenue Methodist church, east of high school building, Bertha Peet, chairman.

City superintendents section: Room 302, high school building, Roy White, chairman.

Home economics section: Room 211, high school building; Mrs. Ruth C. Miller, chairman.

Elementary section: High school auditorium; Jennie Kenney, chairman.

Indian school section: Library school building, top floor; Mrs. Mary Johnson, chairman.

Women's Council. The women's administrative council will hold its annual meeting on Wednesday noon when a luncheon will be served in Taft hall of the Alvarado hotel. Luncheon will begin at 12:30.

The Schoolmasters' club will meet this evening for a banquet at the Alvarado. Col. James L. Willson, of Roswell, president of the club, will be unable to be present. The banquet is to start at 5:30.

The concert given at the high school yesterday afternoon for the teachers consisted of several numbers by chorus and soloists.

The Albuquerque Apollo club, conducted by Maurice Klein, sang as their first number "The Viking's Song," by Coleridge-Taylor. The chorus is composed entirely of men and there are some excellent singers in it. Mr. Klein has done tremendously well with only about six weeks of rehearsals, one rehearsal a week. His voices are concerted rather accurately, and in spite of the small size of the club, a veritable volume was heard. Mr. Klein said that he would like to have a thousand voices. He should, too, because the success of the Apollo club merits it.

The next number was a soprano solo by Miss Grace Stortz. She sang "The Lord Is My Light," by Mohr, with delightful ease and no small volume, especially in her top voice. To listen to Miss Stortz is to rest. She is not one of those singers whose next note may result in a writhe from the hearer. Her accuracy is quite perfect. As her encore she sang "Dawn in the Forest," by Ronald. Several high notes were sustained without effort. Her interpretation was piquant and pleasing.

"Liebestraum," by Liszt, was played as violin duet by Dorothy Cameron and David Marcus, with an excellent accompaniment by Norma Williams. Both of these young violinists are very much admired in this city, and are possessed of real talent.

The Apollo club next offered "Sylvia," by Spinks. It was well sung.

Charles Byrne, a young tenor, sang Bartlett's "A Dream," and "Absent," by Metcalf. Mr. Byrne sings without much virtuosity, but he has a very pleasant voice, and a confident manner.

Miss Cameron again favored the audience with a solo, "Adoration," which she played well. There was much applause.

Charles McKee next sang "Open the Gates," by Knapp. His splendid baritone voice was well suited to the selection, except in the higher register. The interpretation showed an appreciative intelligence.

The program was closed with "The Altar of Truth," sung by the Apollo club. It is an interesting selection and was creditably done. There was a big and delighted audience, which called back several of the soloists for encores.

The program was closed with "The Altar of Truth," sung by the Apollo club. It is an interesting selection and was creditably done. There was a big and delighted audience, which called back several of the soloists for encores.

The concert given at the high school yesterday afternoon for the teachers consisted of several numbers by chorus and soloists.

The Albuquerque Apollo club, conducted by Maurice Klein, sang as their first number "The Viking's Song," by Coleridge-Taylor. The chorus is composed entirely of men and there are some excellent singers in it. Mr. Klein has done tremendously well with only about six weeks of rehearsals, one rehearsal a week. His voices are concerted rather accurately, and in spite of the small size of the club, a veritable volume was heard. Mr. Klein said that he would like to have a thousand voices. He should, too, because the success of the Apollo club merits it.

The next number was a soprano solo by Miss Grace Stortz. She sang "The Lord Is My Light," by Mohr, with delightful ease and no small volume, especially in her top voice. To listen to Miss Stortz is to rest. She is not one of those singers whose next note may result in a writhe from the hearer. Her accuracy is quite perfect. As her encore she sang "Dawn in the Forest," by Ronald. Several high notes were sustained without effort. Her interpretation was piquant and pleasing.

"Liebestraum," by Liszt, was played as violin duet by Dorothy Cameron and David Marcus, with an excellent accompaniment by Norma Williams. Both of these young violinists are very much admired in this city, and are possessed of real talent.

The Apollo club next offered "Sylvia," by Spinks. It was well sung.

Charles Byrne, a young tenor, sang Bartlett's "A Dream," and "Absent," by Metcalf. Mr. Byrne sings without much virtuosity, but he has a very pleasant voice, and a confident manner.

Miss Cameron again favored the audience with a solo, "Adoration," which she played well. There was much applause.

Charles McKee next sang "Open the Gates," by Knapp. His splendid baritone voice was well suited to the selection, except in the higher register. The interpretation showed an appreciative intelligence.

BUSINESS FIRMS MAY LIFT DEBT ON DAY NURSERY

A movement among the professional and business firms, has been launched to aid in liquidating the mortgage on the home occupied by the day nursery. The plan contemplates that various business institutions shall give the profits of one day's business toward the payment of the debt.

The Art Aspic Beauty shop, 411 East Central avenue, inaugurates the plan by giving all the profits on goods sold and the entire amount received from work done, on Tuesday of this week.

It is hoped by its sponsors that the movement will prove to be popular and this very essential institution thus be placed on a safe basis. Those behind this enterprise point to it as evidence that engaging in business does not kill the instinct to mother children. The women of the community have promised their help by patronizing establishments on the various dates as they are announced.

It is said that full-grown toads always return to the pond where they were hatched to mate and to lay their eggs.

How She Cured Her Husband

"For five years my husband suffered with his stomach. The medicine he took only gave relief for a while, nothing cured," writes Mrs. Sarah Baker, of Nottingham, Mo. "Our merchant bought some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy last fall and also received some free trial samples of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He gave us some of them and I wanted my husband to try them. He said it would do no good. His stomach had been troubling him for some time. At last on Friday I told him if he would not take these tablets I was going to send for a doctor, and he said he would take them. By Monday he was like another man. The blues were gone, no more trouble with his stomach, and the best part is that the trouble has not returned. I cannot praise Chamberlain's Tablets too high."

ANAYA TO FIGHT JOHNNIE CORONA IN HEADLINE GO

Former Featherweight Champ of Coast to Go 10 Rounds With the Kid; Gonzalez-Chavez on Bill.

Two headline bouts on the same card will be offered to local fight fans on the night of November 25, according to Dan Padilla, who has just announced signing up Johnnie Corona former featherweight champion of the Pacific coast, to meet Kid Anaya in a ten-round go.

Corona held his championship on the coast for a number of years, and is now on his way east to meet some of the featherweight speed demons in that part of the country.

He refused to take part in a semi-windup match with Kid Anaya, but accepted Padilla's proposal for a double header. The Corona-Anaya bout will precede the 15-round match between Sailor Gonzales and Benny Chavez. The semi-windup will be a six-round affair between Young Herrera and Young Tobie, who fought six rounds to a draw last month.

Two of the headliners went through stiff workouts yesterday in preparation for the coming battle. Benny Chavez fought several rounds yesterday evening at Ringling brothers' pool hall, and declared after the workout that he had not felt so fit for two years.

Sailor Gonzales worked out yesterday afternoon at the Palace pool hall before a large crowd of fans.

Both fighters will train in public again today. Chavez will box several rounds with sailing partners at the Palace pool hall at 3 o'clock and Gonzales will box at Ringling brothers' at 8 o'clock.

HARA VIEWED U. S. AS STRONGEST, LONGEST FRIEND OF JAPANESE

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Nov. 20.—(By The Associated Press.)—The late Premier Hara of Japan viewed the United States as "the strongest and longest friend of Japan," Rev. K. Taunashima, of Tokyo, said today in an address. He quoted Premier Hara as holding it "unthinkable that this friendship" should be broken.

"Strains may come and misunderstandings arise," the speaker said, "but the premier said not long before he was assassinated, to an American missionary, 'but that the time should ever come when they shall be unable to find solution to their problems—my mind is absolutely unthinkable.'"

MUCH DAMAGE DONE TO CROPS BY HIGH WATER

(By The Associated Press.) Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 20.—There was no prospect for relief from the high waters which have flooded the lowlands close to the Wabash river in this district. The river reached a stage of 16.8 feet today and was still rising. Many families in the lowlands have been forced to leave their homes and much damage has been done to crops.

AUTOIST IS KILLED AT GRADE CROSSING

(By The Associated Press.) Auburn, Neb., Nov. 20.—Craig Harford, 25, was killed and John Kehaly was probably fatally injured when their automobile they were driving was struck by a Missouri Pacific passenger train at a crossing south of Auburn tonight. Storm curtains on the automobile prevented them from seeing the train.

Friends of Miss Pauline Madden, a former librarian of the Albuquerque public library, will be interested to know that the November issue of "Public Libraries" gave special notice to a paper of the free county library given by Miss Madden at the Pacific northwest conference at Spokane, Wash., September 1 to 3. Miss Madden is head librarian of the Chouteau county free library at Port Benton, Mont., which position she left here to accept.

The library will be closed from November 28 to December 5 for inventory and we wish to call attention to our books as possible before then so as to regulate shelf space and to see the general condition of the books. We are sorry to have to close but we only take inventory from the shelves every two years and it is a full week's hard work to get through in that time.

We also wish to thank our readers for their interest and co-operation in helping us in every way possible and especially in returning books. We lose very few books and most of these are paid for.

AN EARTH EPIC

Knut Hamsun's Great Novel; a Poem of Mud and Plain People.

The Growth of the Soil, by Knut Hamsun. (Knopf.)

Hamsun's latest book to be translated into English is "The Growth of the Soil." It is a tremendous story. There is a latent power in the novel which is barely perceptible, but the consciousness of its truth and pregnancy is quite easily felt when the book is finished, or when the story itself tells of a feat of strength and power by one of its characters.

The art of the writer puts the reader into the home-spun of the peasants and into their turf huts—gives him a real touch of their exhilaration in growing with the earth—and makes him feel their very sensations when a new wonder, like the purchase of a clock, is displayed by the strong, simple farmer.

Isak, the central figure of the narrative, is ruggedly carried. He is like a Rodin figure. His beard is rough, and he takes the first woman who will stay with him, Inger. She is wonderfully done, too. Her emotions, and the phases of development which she undergoes reveal the woman, and not a character.

I particularly enjoyed Hamsun's old bag, Oline. A kind of animated whine, done into flesh and blood, and a couple of yellow teeth—she hovers, limply, over the fortunes of Isak and his brood of children and cattle, living only for gossip and scandal and old wives' gibberish. She is splendid. Her death is art.

That Oline lifts up her head and looks at him. Grey and bald she is, a head standing up on a long, scraggy neck—ugly as a witch, as an ogress out of a story—Oline, an age creature. Born and died.

The life of the Scandinavian settlers is feelingly presented. The author regards his people as struggling, homely, poor, but good and faithful and all.

These people find mates, and work with them, and then the wife is with child, and they marry. The cattle increase, houses and barns are built, and a pig. What's that? A pig! And the children play with him, and he is a good animal.

The mastery of such a writer lies, perhaps, in his peaceful strength. There is never sensation. The story flows on, unwrapping its developments with no flourish, yet making them more impressive and great by the simple gesture with which they are revealed. No glittering verbiage, and no sorcery of the decadent type, but a human, absorbing tale, for all of its apparent barrenness.

ARE YOU AWAKE OR ASLEEP?

Candidates who have been nominated in The Morning Journal's election are urged to wake up to the credit value of subscriptions these next three weeks. Thus far very few of those nominated have made any effort whatsoever in the way of securing subscriptions or renewals to The Journal—in fact, more subscribers have come to The Journal office voluntarily and paid up their accounts, giving the credits to some contestant whom they happened to know, than most of the candidates have brought in.

Credits accumulate very fast during this part of the campaign when the credit schedule is the highest. Wake up, candidates, don't expect your friends to do it all; make some effort yourself and you will be surprised at how easy you can pile up a big credit total—and go "over the top" for a car.

Don't be one of those who will "wish I had" when the election is over and the big prizes distributed—start an active campaign NOW. It is doubtful if you ever had or ever will have such an opportunity for making BIG MONEY without investing one cent.

If your name is not on the list of participants among whom the gigantic distribution will be made, send in your nomination blank and get busy. It will pay you bigger in the short period of time than anything you have ever done in your life. Are you awake or asleep?

TROOPS TO STAY IN STRIKE ZONE SHOUP DECLARES

Will Not Be Withdrawn From Southern Colorado Coal Fields While Their Services Are Needed.

(By The Associated Press.)
Colorado Springs, Colo., Nov. 20.—The strikers will not be withdrawn from the southern Colorado coal fields until the needs for their presence is over, Governor Oliver H. Shoup said tonight in denial of a rumor current in Denver that the state troops were to be removed and martial law declared at an end.

Maj. J. E. Moorhead, Governor Shoup's secretary, in Colorado Springs tonight on his way to Denver from the coal fields, where he has been since martial law was first declared, said that the situation does not justify the removal of troops at the present time.

"Although the situation outwardly is quiet," Major Moorhead said, "there are plenty of evidences that lawlessness might ensue if the strikers were to leave. There are fifteen or twenty of the strikers, in each of the dangerous spots. I believe their presence will be required for some time yet."

WITHDRAWAL RUMOR DENIED AT HAMROCK

Walsenburg, Colo., Nov. 20 (by the Associated Press).—A rumor to the effect that Governor Shoup would suspend martial law in Huerfano county where miners employed by the Colorado Fuel and Iron company are on strike against wage reductions in thirteen of the company's mines, are denied unequivocally tonight by Adjutant General Patrick Hamrock of the Colorado National Guard, upon his return from an inspection of conditions at the Oakview mine.

Hamrock said that martial law would remain in effect "for a long time to come" in Huerfano county. He also stated that conditions at the Oakview mine were quiet and "no disturbances were anticipated" there.

Adjutant General Hamrock, it was said at ranger headquarters tonight, intends to institute a search of the mine's homes in the Walsenburg district soon for arms and ammunition.

The miners, it was said, would be advised before the search to turn in to ranger headquarters all fire arms they may have in their possession.

Reports received here from mines in all parts of the Huerfano district showed the usual quiet.

Miners at the Oakview mine, who struck recently in protest against a decision of the Colorado industrial commission to uphold the mine owners in their action of discharging two employees, will return to work tomorrow, Hamrock said. The Oakview is not a C. P. and I. property and not affected by any wage reduction.

BOY SCOUT FIELD MAN ARRIVES TO HOLD MEETING

J. P. Fitch, regional secretary of the Boy Scout organization for the states of New Mexico, Texas and Arizona, arrived last night to attend the conference which is to be held here today. Representatives of Las Cruces, Roswell, Gallup, Carlsbad, Deming, Estancia, Raton, Silver City and other places will be in attendance.

It is hoped that the conference will be the means of extending scouting to a number of towns in the state not now covered and will stimulate the extension of work in organized territory.

Mr. Fitch expects to stay in the city several days after the conference ends. He will be available at the Y. M. C. A. all during the teachers' convention for conferences with any teachers who are interested in the scout movement.

Glen O. Ream at the Y. M. C. A. will be able to make appointments for interested parties in case Mr. Fitch is not available.

MRS. SPITZ HAS GREAT INVENTION IN PINON SHELTER

Lack of Capital to Enable Her to Buy Nuts in Large Quantities at Proper Season Is Handicap.

"The pinon industry might easily be made one of New Mexico's great commercial enterprises. This state, Arizona and a part of Colorado, produce the only pine nut which is so tasty as to be in great commercial demand."

The speaker was Fannie S. Spitz, shelter and shipper of pinon nuts and the greatest known authority on the pinon nut and its possibilities. Mrs. Spitz continued:

"This nut is a volunteer. It requires no cultivation and grows over a vast area. It has more varieties than any other known nut. As a food, its value is very high. As a diet for those afflicted with certain kidney ailments, it is without an equal. In fruit salads, vegetable salads, candies, cakes, dressings for baked fowl and in a thousand other edibles, it adds a delicious flavor and great food values. But it is an exceedingly difficult nut to shell by hand."

Mrs. Spitz is the inventor of the only machine made for the shelling of pinons. These machines are power-driven and each will produce about 80 quarts of shelled nuts each day. During the period of experimenting and improving, Mrs. Spitz has handled the machines practically without help. Her present machines are not experimental. The nuts are poured into the hopper and the clean, white, whole meats of the nut, flow in a steady stream from the expelling chute. The simplicity and efficiency of the machine are remarkable.

"I had hoped to interest New Mexico business men with me in this enterprise," added Mrs. Spitz. "I have felt that scores of carloads of pinons might be shelled and shipped out of a factory here each year, furnishing employment to many and acting as a great advertisement for New Mexico, while returning a handsome profit. But I have as yet failed to find any one with necessary capital who also has a keen vision of the possibilities. For three years, working without capital with which to buy nuts in large quantities at the proper season and operating only one machine, I have proven the practicability of the machine and the profit to be made."

Mrs. Spitz then unfolded to the writer her plans for leasing machines in all parts of the United States. "Until after the holidays," she said, "I will be busy shelling nuts for my customers who would be disappointed if they failed to get them. After that I am going east and make arrangements for the immediate manufacture of a large number of machines for leasing to customers and nut dealers."

"I am without the strength to carry on the nut-shelling industry on the scale it deserves," was the statement of Mrs. Spitz. "No one capable of aiding has proposed to help, so I have concluded to lease the machines unless negotiations still pending, should result in the outright sale of my patents."

Mrs. Spitz then showed her visitor scores of letters from dealers in all parts of the United States asking her upon what terms her machines might be leased. Her caller left her presence with a determination in his mind as to whether or not New Mexico's business men were overlooking an immense opportunity.

The question shaped itself like this: "Should not Albuquerque be known to the world as the home of the shelled pinon?"

LOUISIANA HAS MONSTER FIELD OF NATURAL GAS

(By The Associated Press.)
New Orleans, La., Nov. 20.—A natural gas field with "tremendous production potentialities" has been uncovered in northern Louisiana, according to a report made public today after an investigation by engineers of the United States bureau of mines, conducted for the state on request of Governor Parker.

A productive area of 212 square miles, or roughly 135,000 acres in a solid block, located in Union, Ouachita and Morehouse parishes, near Monroe, and designated as the Monroe gas field, is outlined in the report. The reports estimate that the gas remaining in the reservoir is roughly thirty-two cubic miles.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The Louisiana gas field is undoubtedly the greatest natural gas field discovered, an official of the bureau of mines said tonight.

BUICK

Why We Want Albuquerque To Hit the 50,000 Mark

We have a perfectly selfish reason for wanting Albuquerque to have 50,000 population before the next census.

The selfish reason is that we believe that we can sell three times as many Buick automobiles in a 50,000 city than we can sell in a 15,000 town.

This is the selfish reason that should be in every business man's mind when he considers the rejuvenation of the Chamber of Commerce.

As one out of every three cars (other than Fords) owned in 15,000 population Albuquerque is a Buick; the same will hold true in a 50,000 population Albuquerque—only the total will be multiplied by three.

PACKER WORKERS ARE SATISFIED WITH WAGE CUT

Union Leaders, However, Predict a Flat Refusal on the Part of Union Members to Accept Slash.

(By The Associated Press.)

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 20.—While union leaders here were freely predicting a flat refusal on the part of the members of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workers of North America, the big packing workers' organization, to accept the scheduled wage reduction in the packing industry, there was very little growing sentiment against the move among the workers themselves today, according to reports from South Omaha.

Charles A. Stewart, superintendent of operations at the Omaha branch of the Cudahy plant, said tonight that he has received no word relative to the taking of further action regarding the wage cut.

No new developments have arisen so far as the workmen are concerned, it was reported tonight from union headquarters in South Omaha.

Jacob H. Davis, president of the local district of the union, had not returned from Chicago tonight and no word had been received from him. Local union leaders are awaiting either his return or instructions, they said. They added that further union action depends upon his report. Davis has been attending a conference of the union chiefs at Chicago.

THE ANNIVERSARY OF "BLOODY SUNDAY" IS OBSERVED IN DUBLIN

Dublin, Nov. 20 (by the Associated Press).—The anniversary of "Bloody Sunday" was celebrated today in many churches by masses for the repose of the souls of the victims. There was a procession which went to Glasnevin cemetery to decorate the graves of those who fell.

It was one year ago when military men and auxiliary police were killed during the morning hours and there were reprisals during the afternoon at a football game in Crokes park, where there were casualties.

A NATIONAL PARK.

Albert Bacon Fall, secretary of the interior and a resident of El Paso, but maintaining a technical residence in New Mexico for political purposes, has proposed to create a national park for the benefit of El Paso.

The Journal has no objection to El Paso having a national park. Our only objection to the project is the farce of talking about a national park for New Mexico when, in fact, the proposal is for a national park in New Mexico, but for El Paso.

It is proposed to create a great national playground in the south part of this state and to spend some $12,000,000 in its beautification and in building roads to it—from El Paso. The results of such a park will be a tremendous boom for El Paso and the passing into eclipse of the great historic and scenic portions of the state. Let it be understood that the Journal does not criticize El Paso. She is justified in putting this deal across if she can. But it should not be done in the name of New Mexico. Congress should understand that it is El Paso and the extreme southern part of the state, which wishes it.

Secretary Fall has never been able to see seventy miles north into New Mexico from his home in El Paso except during political elections when Fall's future was at stake. He is running true to form when he wants this thing for El Paso to the exclusion of the rest of the state. His right bower, and political sponsor, Bill Hawkins of El Paso, is the chairman of the committee which has this enterprise in charge.

The Hawkins committee has called a meeting of the "people of New Mexico" at Las Cruces for December 3, to memorialize congress. The plan is to have the "people of New Mexico" ask for this park within the state. When it has been established on the great scale now proposed at the request of the "people of New Mexico," another national park can not be had in this state in a quarter of a century.

When Secretary Fall made the suggestion of setting aside public domain in the south for a national park, the Journal approved. We think a reasonable area of public lands in the southern portion of the state may well be set aside for future development as a national park. We would be glad to further such a plan.

The bankers of El Paso and her business men are the ones who are pressing this matter. It is at dinners in El Paso that the plans are being laid to have the "people of New Mexico" pass resolutions saying that the national park in New Mexico, should be in the south. To this we demur.

Santa Fe is the oldest city in the United States. The civilization and traditions are not only greatly superior in point of time, but are unique in the extreme. The ruins of the cliff dwellers, the ancient battlefields, the seat of our most precious historical traditions and the location of our most marvelous scenery is within a hundred miles of the Ancient City.

Nothing can be permitted which will prevent or long delay, that section from becoming one of the great playgrounds and beauty spots of America. There lies the heart of historic and scenic New Mexico. There is the place which the people of the United States should preserve for all time to come.

A park in the south is all right as a convenience to El Paso and as a source of profit to her and her tributary territory. But it will not preserve to the people of the United States the real, historic New Mexico.

The people of this region should wake up. They should not sleep on while El Paso walks off with this juicy plum in the name of the "people of New Mexico." Raton, Las Vegas, Santa Fe, Gallup and other cities should see what will happen to their tourists if this project is put through in its present form. They should see what it will do to the treasures of ancient New Mexico.

A big delegation from the north should be at Las Cruces December 3 to help our friends down that way get all they are entitled to and nothing more. Two parks must be insisted upon in the one transaction. If there can be but one park in the state it should be placed for its historic and scenic worth to the people of the United States and not as a convenience and city building adjunct to El Paso where Mr. Fall lives.

If resolutions go from Las Cruces to Washington saying the "people of New Mexico" unanimously choose this project in the south for their national park, protests will be unavailing.

Now is the time to act. The time is short.

MR. WAGNER AND THE STATE BOARD.

The state board of education has agreed to hear Jonathan H. Wagner in his own defense on December 2. The Journal wonders just why they agreed to hear him. He is not an employee of the board. It is powerless to discharge or reprimand him. It has not accused him of anything. We fail to understand the situation.

Rumors of extravagance and laxness or worse, during Wagner's incumbency of the office of state superintendent reached the ears of the board. They could do nothing. They accordingly asked the proper auditing authority of the state to audit his accounts. This was done.

It occurs to us that the only concern of the board in the premises, is to see to it that any bad practices complained of in the auditor's report, are not allowed to continue. There is duty ends, so far as the Journal can discern. Perhaps it is the board's duty to call the attention of Attorney General Bowman to the report. Santa Fe is a large city and the state capitol is a big building. Attorney General Bowman may never have heard of the report.

If there is nothing criminal charged in the audit there seems to be nothing for any one to do. We are disposed to think that such is the case. If there is anything in the report which creates a prima facie case against Mr. Wagner, the attorney general is the proper official to whom explanations and defenses should be made.

If Mr. Wagner wishes merely to be set right with the people, the Journal offers its columns to him for the purpose of giving publicity to his defense. But we fail to understand any standing of the case before the board, which justified it in having a hearing.

The Journal is conducting a re-audit of the department during Mr. Wagner's term. The report will be absolutely impartial. If Mr. Wagner is entitled to a clean bill of health, he will receive it. We are after nothing but the actual facts. Mr. Wagner can well afford to aid the Journal's auditors in learning the exact facts, if he wishes all the truth to be known.

WHAT A LOT OUR FATHERS MISSED!

It is a source of constant wonderment to the present favored generation how our forefathers managed to get along without the thoughtful, all-embracing solicitude of a parental government. They seemed to indulge a false pride in what they were pleased to look upon as self-reliance. Their outlook on social welfare did not extend much beyond their own line fence, although it is true that if a neighbor's horse fell into a pit they helped him to recover it. If a neighbor fell ill, they "sat up" with him. If hard times threatened, our forefathers tackled them within their own households and applied the remedy of work and self-sacrifice. Most of them were great Bible readers, and instead of appealing to human "authorities" to help them in time of need, they applied to The Book. One text that seemed to impress them ran, "whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might." They were an independent sort of people, as proved by a certain famous Declaration. But they missed the beneficence of bureaucracy, to which they could turn in time of need.

How different it is with their children of today, who can always find a government department, a bureau, a board, a commission, a council, a committee, or whatnot to which they can consign all their troubles for solution. We are freshly reminded of present-day progress in this respect by a dispatch published recently from Hartford, Conn. In it we find the Nutmeg state will take official cognizance of the act of bobbing women's hair. The attorney general has just given the Connecticut barber's commission an oral opinion that that operation may hereafter be done only by licensed barbers! In times of financial stress and social distress we are prone to revert to "the good old days," but how much our forefathers and mothers missed by not living in this year of our Lord!

WILD PLUM.
They are unlovely who are born
To love wild plum at night,
Who once have passed it on a road
Glimmering and white.

It is as though darkness had
Speech of silver words,
Or as though a cloud of stars
Perched like ghostly birds.

They are unpitied from their birth
And homeless in men's sight,
Who love better than the earth
Wild plum at night.

EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

ALL IN A LIFETIME.
(From The New York Times)
Fifty years ago, lacking a few months, the American Public Health Association was organized, the first meeting preliminary to the organization having been held in New York. Today this association, with a national membership of 5,000, "the largest and most influential organization in the world in shaping public health opinions," is holding its annual meeting in this city of its first president, Dr. Stephen Smith, who is in the ninety-ninth year of his life—a longevity, he says, which is "the birthright of every child," for the potential life of man, according to a theory which he accepts and which his own life happily illustrates, is a hundred years. What preventative medicine and sanitation have done in the span of that one life to push back the shadow upon the dial of time—as the shadow receded on the dial of King Ezekiah of old—so that there is prospect for a longer enjoyment of that life, is one of the brightest chapters of science. One of the speakers at the British Association for the Advancement of Science a few weeks ago, in Edinburgh, spoke of what these same beneficent sciences had done to make possible the assembling of millions of men in camp and trench, whereas not more than a few tens of thousands could, a century ago, have been kept together as food for cannon. But this is only the dark reverse of the bright statistical shield, which shows how millions are now able to live and move and have their being in cities where, except for the enormous advance in these sciences, they could live only in constant dread of pestilence that walks in darkness. A half century ago the death rate in New York City was 25 to the thousand, and now it is only 12 or 13 to the thousand; for one period it was only 8. It is a conservative statement that now died in every thousand fifty years ago, where now but one dies; and this despite the fact that some of the areas included are now the most thickly populated on the globe.

The result is not accidental. Thousands, tens of thousands or hundreds of thousands enjoying their "birthright" today owe it to the scientific researches of Pasteur and Koch and others, whose names appear in that long and shining list embodied in the address of President Ravenel.

Our New Counties.
The contemplated purchase of $50,000 certificates of indebtedness, to be issued by Harding county, to the state treasurer from permanent funds brings up some interesting questions with reference to the finances of the counties of Catron and Harding created by the last legislature.
With reference to this purchase of certificates of indebtedness, is it a sound policy for the state treasurer to invest school, institutional, or other permanent funds in securities of Catron county, the amount of which is not readily ascertainable in the open market? It is claimed that these securities are not a good investment, because of defects in the law providing for them, because the levy is not to be made within the five mile limitation, or because no vote has been taken upon the incuring of the debt. In the case of Catron county, the amount of certificates of indebtedness authorized to be issued was $15,000 which were purchased by the Reserve State bank.
In connection with the foregoing attention is also called to the authorization found in the act creating Harding county for the county to issue certificates of indebtedness, the proceeds of which were intended to be used to assist in constructing a high school in the act. This seems to be clearly a form of special legislation forbidden by the constitution.
Furthermore, the acts creating these two new counties provided for the issuance of bonds for court house and jail purposes "in the manner provided by the constitution." In spite of this specific provision, there is in contemplation an effort to issue these bonds without submitting them to a vote of the people as the constitution requires. The reluctance to submit the bonds is probably due to the fear that the people will not favor the issue until they have determined as to the proper location of the county seat.
As a matter of fact, new counties are created upon the insistence of a few only and all necessary adjustments are attempted to be made by conflicting interests in the legislature with little opportunity left for the people to pass upon the arrangements which may be agreed upon. As a result we have five new counties created since 1917, each with a low valuation and high tax rate. It seems a sensible suggestion that the constitution should contain a provision as to the method whereby new counties should be created. The following sections from a "Model State Constitution," are submitted for consideration:
"Section 1. No new county shall be created and no existing county shall be subdivided unless the question is submitted to the duly enrolled or registered voters of the district or districts affected at a regular or at a specially called polltacks aside Charlie Chaplin is a great artist.

Wags grate about him, the size of his feet? Hee, hee, see, ma, laffing, and I sed, G. pop, do you remember the picture were he's supposed to be shaving his face and some lady comes up and pats him on the back and he thinks it's some man and smooches her face all over with shave lather?

O dear, how artistic, sed ma, and pop sed, Yes, that was rich, wasn't it, but I liked the picture better, war he gets dough all over his hands and then rubs it off on everybody as any Charlie Chaplin can rub dough off on people.

Mersey it takes a perfect artist to do that O yes, sed ma, and I sed, Well gosh, pop, how about that picture were he's supposed to be a peccaman and soaks everybody on top of the head with his club wheather they're doing anything or not, ladies and everybody.

My wat a artistic werk of art, hee, hee, sed ma, and pop sed, Benny, it begins to look as if your mother had no true feeling for art, but we have, haven't we? and I sed, Yes, sir, there's a Charlie Chaplin picture around at the Little Grand tonite, lets go around and enjoy art, pop.

WORK BEING PUSHED ON DEXTER-ROSWELL HIGHWAY PROJECT

Dexter, N. M., Nov. 20.—Work on the Dexter-Roswell project of the state highway department, passing through the Pecos valley is being pushed rapidly by the contractors, Duval and Johnston, and if the present schedule is maintained the work will probably be finished ahead of schedule, which is about May 1 of next year. Grading is nearly completed and the surfacing has been placed on several miles of the project, which is fourteen and six-tenths miles in length. As this road is the main highway of the valley, considerable inconvenience is being caused to travel between Roswell and down valley points. Detours which otherwise are good are badly cut up, and very dusty, no moisture having fallen in this vicinity for two months.

HUSBAND AND WIFE WRITE

Mr. and Mrs. James Carson, Columbus, N. M., sign a letter saying, "We have both concluded we shall never be without Foley Cathartic Tablets and we believe them to be essential to good health." They keep the stomach sweet, liver active and bowels regular. They banish constipation, indigestion, biliousness, sick headache, bloating, sour stomach, gas on stomach, bad breath, coated tongue. Not habit forming. Sold everywhere.

TOBEY TOADVINE SAYS.
I been takin' dancin' lessons, but my teacher says she's 'fraid I'm too much like George Washington—calm in de feet.

The Wildcat screamed and the Lobo howled,
As they folks and scratched and fought,
And the Wildcat bit in the Lobo's side
The score "twenty-four to naught."

CHEER UP!
When the variety does beat Arizona, victory is going to be all the sweeter because of the wait.

THE EYES OF YOUTH.
Jim Sam Moore is the cussin'est man.
I reckon y'll find anywhere!
Why, the devil himself can't beat Jim Sam.
When he's started in good to swear!
Now me an Jim, we're from the same town.
Where the hills is purty and green.
But he left back there in his spinlin' age,
An 'twuz the last of him I seen.

An after a while I wondered off.
Fur away from the ol' home nest.
An key on rovin' 'til I landed here.
In this desert town of the west.
Then one day down on the avonoo
A feller comes up from behind,
An dog my cane 't I aint Jim Sam,
If it aint, ye can strike me blind!

Well, me an him talked from that day on,
Of the folks and the things back south.
An the more we talked the flidger he wuz
Til he got clean down in the mouth!

His dis-an-tis-faction with this here land
Wuz powerful and turrible to see,
An his cussin' wuz great, an if any thing
A improvement, or it seemed so to me.

An he says one day he's so sick of that
That he's goin' back south for a spell,
Where the hills is green, and no alkali,
An things aint dried all to hell.

Well, he went; but he wuz back purty quick
With the meekest look on his face,
An he says to me in a hollerlike voice,
"It don't look like the same of place."

"Ever thing's changed since I been away,
There aint nothin' now like 'twuz then,
An all that I thought was so purty is as shabby an ugly as sin."

"I'm sorry I went back an saw it,
For to tell ye the God's honest truth,
I'd rather I could see it as I use to,
When I wuz lookin' thru the eyes of youth."

The age of discretion ceases when boys and girls begin to have the idea they are old enough to get married.

TRAFFIC RULES IN ERIN.
"I'd further notice every vehicle must carry a light when darkness begins. Darkness begins when the lights are lit."

"You've heard me speak of my uncle,
The rich one I love so much?"
"Indeed I have, and I know so well
He's the kin you love to touch!"

There is a question as to which is the greatest nuisance, a chronic knocker or a professional booster.

Quite often is necessarily only the mother of intention.

Say what you will, motor cars have taught the women which is the right side of the street.

Enunies: "What did Mabel say when you extended our best wishes for her approaching marriage?"
Caroline: "She asked us to say it with showers."

"Oh, marry me," the young man begs;
How cruel the retort!
"I would not be enased to yod,
Were this a summer resort."

If the women keep up the pace they are now setting, a Men's Rights party will soon be an urgent necessity.

A DRY LAND SAILOR.
For these girls from Indiana I've a soft spot in my heart:
From a dame in old Montana I once swore I'd never part.

One I loved in Minnesota, A Swedish lass with flaxen hair,
And one winter spent in Georgia I found charming misses there.

Arkansas' gripped my attention As did two in Illinois,
And one's prattle from Seattle Filled my punctured heart with joy.

Husky Joe from Idaho Rode rough shod thru all my dreams,
Til I tossed one from old Boston, And loved one from New Orleans.

There are winners in this nation, Steppers high and steppers fast,
And the one of which I'm fondest, Is the one that I've seen last.

Atta boy! Up an' at 'em!

SAND STORM JAZZ AT THE COLLEGE INN TONIGHT

The State University Welcomes Teachers

At Albuquerque is the State University of New Mexico. The institution has undergone development, and during recent years, complete reorganization. It comprises the COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES, the COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING, and the GRADUATE SCHOOL. It accepts no preparatory students and is articulating efficiently with the accredited secondary schools of New Mexico and other States.

The Faculty of the State University now comprises men and women with adequate graduate training from great universities of America, such as, Columbia University, Cornell University, Clark University, Chicago University, Princeton University, Stanford University, and the Universities of California, Wisconsin, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, and Bryn Mawr. It is hoped that visiting teachers will take advantage of the opportunity for the establishment of personal relationship with their colleagues of the State University. Teachers are invited to visit classes and laboratories which will be in operation.

Substantial improvement in the physical plant of the State University is in evidence. Every teacher sojourning in Albuquerque is cordially invited to visit every part of the University plant, especially such points of interest on the Campus as the following:

THE ADMINISTRATION BUILDING and the UNIVERSITY LIBRARY. The Library contains 40,000 bound volumes and 11,000 pamphlets.

THE HOME ECONOMICS BUILDING, known as the SARA RAYNOLDS HALL, erected by means of gifts of citizens and friends of Albuquerque, and dedicated to the women and children of the whole State of New Mexico.

THE ENGINEERING BUILDING, housing the department of Civil Engineering, Mechanical Drawing, Metal and Wood Working Shops.

THE CHEMISTRY BUILDING, which contains the high class Chemical Laboratory and the Biological Laboratory.

THE STATE HEALTH LABORATORY, where as many as 1,000 free examinations for the bacteriological study of diseases, are made monthly, for which specimens are received from every county in the State.

THE SCIENCE HALL, containing the Physics Laboratory and the Geological Laboratory and the Department of Electrical Engineering.

THE KORBOR WIRELESS STATION.

THE NEW RESIDENTIAL HALL FOR WOMEN.

THE OUT-OF-DOOR SWIMMING POOL.

THE NEW TENNIS COURTS both for men and women.

THE ATHELETIC FIELD, whereon a large grandstand has been erected by the labor of students and through the financial co-operation of citizens and of the Board of Regents.

The State University desires to serve all of the people of the state and to work effectively and harmoniously with all other educational institutions therein. The Board of Regents, the Faculty and the President feel that all schools, institutions and teachers should be helpful factors mutually working to further the great cause of education. A sincere cordial welcome awaits you at your State University.

DAVID SPENCE HILL, President.

NAZIMOVA in CAMILLE

The Camille of modern France; chic with the charm of the Parisienne who gowns at the Rue de la Paix, dancing with the abandon of a gipsy from the Casino in Montmartre, sparkling with the golden gaiety of champagne, and loving with the intensity of one who gives life for love. The role in which the leading actresses of the world have scored their greatest triumphs on the stage now interpreted in a modernized screen version by the supreme Russian artist, NAZIMOVA.
