Candidates for town marshal and clerk are looking up and there will be six or eight candidates for each position.

At a meeting of the Pioneer Hose company, J. E. Priest was elected foreman. Mr. Priest has had a great deal of experience as a fireman, and no doubt will make a good foreman.

J. E. Ruffin and Robert Walker left for Needles, Cal., from which place they will go by boat down the Colorado river. Prof. A. E. Douglass, of this place, will join them in a few days and accompany them on their trip.

Mrs. C. S. Smith, who with her husband formerly resided here, came in from the east, where she has been visiting relatives for some time. She is stopping with T. E. Pulliam and family and will remain several days to visit friends here.

From the Sun.

Mrs. Frank Taylor left for Phoenix to join her husband, and they expect to reside in that city.

Snow commenced falling on Sunday and the storm has continued at intervals during the week. About twelve inches of snow has fallen within the past seven days.

E. E. Ellingwood came in from Prescott on legal business and left for Kingman and Prescott. He will attend the session of the territorial supreme court at Phoenix, and he expects to be in Washington on the 31st, where he will put in some work for statehood.

The Flagstaff Symphony orchestra will give a concert on the night of the 17th of March in the assembly hall of Emerson high school. An excellent musical and literary program is now being prepared, and the orchestra promises to make this one of the most popular entertainments ever given by them.

County Assessor J. H. Lind will commence his work on the first Monday in February, and will push the work until he has completed the assessment of every property owner in the county. Mr. Lind was not an applicant for the appointment as assessor, but was selected by the board of supervisors for his ability to fill the position. He is an old resident of Coconino county and has not heretofore held any official position. He is, moreover, familiar with property values in the county and is acquainted with nearly every one in this section. Mr. Lind, who for several years has been the manager of the hardware department of Rabbitt Bros., will take a year's vacation, and after the duties of his office have been completed will spend his vacation in traveling over Arizona.

ST. JOHNS.

From the Snips.

Messrs. Jensen, Wright, Overson and several other freighters left for Magdalena, N. M., to be gone about two weeks.

Considerable sickness, mostly in grippe, is to be heard of in our midst. Many children have been on the sick list, but most of them are reported well.

Miss Lottie Sherwood returned from a visit to relatives in Richville last Saturday. While she enjoyed herself she tells us she is glad to get back to the city again.

B. Schuster and family leave for Phoenix, to be gone two months. Mr. Schuster will look after his sheep interests, and Mrs. Schuster will visit friends and relatives in the vicinity of the capital city.

Miss Erma Udall returned home from Springville, after a pleasant visit with friends in Round Valley. She attended the Hall-Wilbank wedding, and contradicted the report of the marriage of her cousin, Nellie, to Mr. Winsor.

Pedro Montano was over from Malpais the latter part of last week. He brought the popular teacher, Mis-

Amelia Hunt, of Malpais, over to act as madrina for the Pena-Moreno wedding. Miss Hunt returned to her school Tuesday.

Adolf Schuster, who has been visiting the St. Johns branch of the A. & B. Schuster Mercantile company, left for Holbrook. He expressed himself as well pleased with the work of this branch of the business. Mr. Schuster's family are now living in Los Angeles, having gone there in order to have access to the fine educational facilities of that city.

The Catholic church has been in the hands of Carpenters Johnson and Ovenson part of this week. It was not laid up for repairs, either, but owing to the arrival of a fine new altar some changes had to be made in order to accommodate the magnificent piece of furniture. Father Vabre is looking after the erection of the altar in person. He is one priest who believes in working as well as praying. The new altar is the finest thing of the kind ever brought to this town.

KINGMAN.

From the Miner.

Mrs. Samuel Crozier last week purchased the dwelling house and butcher business of J. F. Phelan and her two sons will assume charge of the business on the first of February. The young men who are to hereafter supply Kingman and surrounding country with beef and other market supplies, are well and favorably known and are sure to succeed in the business.

The Epworth Junior League gave a birthday social at Lake Hall that was a complete success. The young people gave an interesting program, embracing musical and elocutionary selections. After the program had been disposed of the guests of the league were treated to refreshments consisting of coffee, sandwiches and cake. The social netted about $50, which will be used in defraying church expenses.

A report was received at the sheriff's office this week that Charles Gracey had been robbed of quite an amount of money at Eldorado Canyon some time last week. The sheriff sent Deputy Sheriff Brown to Needles Monday night and he took into custody a man by the name of Hall, who had arrived by boat from Eldorado Canyon. Mr. Hall accompanied the officer to Kingman, but so far nothing has been heard from the Canyon, although Mr. Gracey has been advised of the arrest. Mr. Hall came to Kingman willingly and says he is going to the Canyon to have the matter fully investigated.

HOLBROOK.

From the Argus.

H. H. Seorge has gone to Phoenix, to look after his sheep interests.

Ex-Chief of Police Farley, of Denver, is making Holbrook a visit.

Henry Kempenich returned from his visit to New Mexico, and reports having a genuine good time.

F. J. Watron went to Los Angeles on a visit to his family. J. L. Clark is attending to the drug business during his absence.

Chairman F. M. Zuck, of the statehood finance committee, is trying hard these days to enthrone a little patriotism into the hearts of the balance of the committee, and citizens of the territory generally. Let the good work go on, that the results desired may be obtained.

Adolph Schuster visited St. Johns last week, looking after his business interests there. He says the town is as lively as ever, but the strongest drink obtainable is soda water. This puts in mind of an Irishman who had just unloaded a schooner of soda water. He said it was the largest amount of "froth and nonsense" he ever got for 5 cents.

WILLIAMS.

From the News.

Charles Rawlin is very sick at his home on South Third street, having now been confined to his home for some time.

J. J. Donahue, the jolly proprietor of the Commercial hotel at Flagstaff, was in town Wednesday for a "short" while.

The dance at the opera house to be given under the auspices of the Williams Military band, was postponed till Saturday evening, February 1, on account of the storm.

W. L. Harris made his first trip to the Grand Canyon this week. Bill says he has looked into all kinds of canyons, but that was the biggest he ever saw.

Williams has been enjoying a blitzard for the past twenty-four hours with prospects of a heavy snow. At present there is about eight inches on the ground.

Mrs. D. R. Prime, mother of Mrs. J. D. Raublaugh, arrived in the city this week from her home some ten miles below Cottonwood on Oak creek, expecting to visit her daughter and family for some time.

Lee Martin and Pete Schaffer left for the east. Lee will visit relatives in Missouri, Arkansas and the Cherokee country, while Pete will stop in Kansas and Missouri. They intend remaining for a couple of months and will no doubt greatly enjoy the trip.

WINSLOW.

From the Mail.

The public schools are closed at present on account of the prevalence of scarlet fever.

At the home of Mrs. William M. Nelson, on this Saturday afternoon, the Reading circle will entertain itself.

The town was aroused Wednesday noon by the sound of the fire whistle. The conflagration proved to be only a pile of old ties at the round house yard.

Word has been received from J. K. Woods, who is now in Washington City, and all reports are favorable to the success of Winslow's Indian school proposition.

Last Saturday evening a large number of Mrs. T. McGinty's friends surprised her by spending the evening with her, that being her birthday.

Mrs. H. L. Grimschaw, accompanied by her little son, had departed last Sunday for Flagstaff to visit a few days with Mrs. Grimschaw's sister.

ARIZONA WEDDINGS.

Gravelly De Rosear at Holbrook—Lockridge-Phelan at Williams.

Albert L. Gravelly and Mrs. Kate De Rosear were married in Holbrook on Tuesday, January 21, 1902, Rev. E. G. Decker, of Winslow, officiating.

The ceremony took place in the evening at the cozy home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. McAllister, only a few personal friends of the contracting parties being present.

The bride and groom need no introduction to the readers of the Argus. Mrs. De Rosear has resided in Holbrook for many years, where, by her urbanity and pleasing demeanor, she has surrounded herself with a large circle of friends.

Mr. Gravelly is a young man of bright promise and has been for several years manager of Wooster's general store at Whiteriver, this county.

The newly wedded pair will make their future home in the beautiful Whiteriver country, where Mr. Gravelly will continue in charge of the Wooster store. May their path through life be a broad and happy one, and may providence deal lightly and kindly with them.—Holbrook Argus.

LOCKRIDGE-PHELAN.

Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock, occurred the marriage of Miss Grace Elizabeth Phelan, of this city, and William Henry Lockridge, who has been a resident of Williams for the past three years.

The ceremony which made the young couple man and wife was performed by the Rev. Father Connolly, of Flagstaff, at the Catholic church in this city, and was witnessed only by members of the family.

The bride is well and favorably known among our people, having lived with her parents in this city for a number of years, and is one of our best young ladies. The groom is a surveyor and has been connected with B. Girard in that business. Mr. and Mrs. Lockridge have a host of friends in this city who join with the News in wishing them a prosperous and happy future.

On the evening of the eventful day the bride and groom were visited by the Williams "tin-pan-cow-bell" orchestra, and as the artists who composed this organization are above the average in both ability and endurance the charivari was a success.

They will be in Williams to their many friends until January 29, when they will leave for Prescott to make that city their future home.—Williams News.

Field Day of U. of A.

The students at the University of Arizona are making great preparations for their second annual field day which will be held on the afternoon of Washington's birthday, says the Flagstaff Sun. The events will be held on the athletic field at the university campus. The program will consist of 50, 75 and 100-yard dashes, 220 and 440-yard runs, 121 hammer throw and shot put, running high jump, pole vault, 120-yard hurdle race, and a tug-of-war between picked teams. The events will be open to any athlete in Tucson who cares to compete. Several sprinters and jumpers from town have already entered in some of the events. On the morning of February 22 a tennis tournament will be held on the university courts and several local crack tennis players have already entered in these events.

TWO DEAD ROBBERS.

And the "Spike Gang" of Thieves is Shattered.

For some time the "Spike gang" of law breakers has been a terror to respectable citizens in the vicinity of Logan, N. M. says the Las Vegas Record. This outlaw band has robbed stores, stolen and killed cattle and did not hesitate to do anything that was lawless or depraved. But justice has overtaken the law breakers, Dick and John Spike being killed and Earnest Bradley badly wounded.

Last week a few cattle men, who had missed some stock, followed the tracks that led away from their ranches, suspecting that the Spike outlaws were driving them away. On Thursday the owners of the stock were rewarded by overtaking their cattle which were being driven off by the "Spike gang."

A running fight took place in a dense scrub cedar forest and bullets flew freely, but no one seems to have been hit. The gang was forced from cover, however, John Spikes, Henry Hawkins and W. J. McAdams being recognized. Later the outlaws were cornered and in resisting arrest the two Spikes were killed and Bradley wounded. The rest of the gang succeeded in escaping, but officers are on their trail.

It was five of these thieves that Sheriff Romero arrested last summer for cattle stealing. Four of them were found not guilty, on what was believed to be the perjured testimony of their relatives and sympathizers, but the fifth was convicted and is now in the penitentiary. McAdams was one of the five arrested by Mr. Romero.

These are the organized bandits who robbed the stores of Gross & Richards, Cardero Romero and Florencio Martinez, and the law abiding people of that section of New Mexico will feel easier when the rest of the gang are either dead or in the penitentiary.

OF LOCAL INTEREST.

INAUGURAL ON SATURDAY.

Governor Otero is Delayed by the Serious Illness of His Son, Miguel.

Acting Governor J. W. Reynolds received dispatches from Governor Otero Monday evening and Tuesday stating that owing to the serious illness of his son, Miguel, he had to remain in Chicago longer than he expected and would not leave for Santa Fe until Wednesday evening, reaching here on Friday at 5 p. m. The oath of office, therefore, will not be administered until Saturday afternoon and the reception and inaugural ball will be held at the Palace hotel on the evening of Saturday, February 1. The general committee is quite busy perfecting all necessary arrangements and ceremonies. Full list of the committees and the program will be published in these columns as soon as fully adopted.

Matroni Turned Loose.

A dispatch sent out from Winslow under date of January 29, reporting the murder of Juan Lucero, is somewhat misleading, as it says Charles Matroni and the dead man's wife were lodged in the county jail charged with the crime. Charles Matroni was locked up but the wife was not. The man was given a hearing the next day and was turned loose, there not being evidence enough to hold him. There is no doubt that Juan Lucero is dead, but who the real murderer is seems still to be a mystery. The body of the dead man was found near the railroad track, and death was caused by being struck on the back of the head with some heavy weapon.

PINOS ALTOS DISTRICT.

A Fine Mining Section of Grant County.

Owners of mines on the west side of Pinos Altos range, eight miles north of Silver City, have been developing their ore bodies quite extensively this winter.

Several mining claims north of Webster gulch, belonging to Peter Crumrine, Woodbury, Waters, Houston and their several associates, have developed a remarkable showing of pay ore, carrying gold, silver, copper and iron in sulphide form.

Last Friday F. W. Davidson accompanied the president and mining engineers of the General Concentrating company of New York on a visit to the well known Houston & Thomas mines, preparatory for final examination tests and purchase. These people have unlimited means, experience and aggressiveness and there is good reason to believe that they will take hold of this splendid property.

George H. Utter is developing his Cleveland Copper group with a force of six men. He has opened up and continued the twenty foot tunnel on the Copper Extension, east, cutting a ten foot pay shoot of low grade copper carbonates. In the main tunnel on the Copper Extension on vein No. 4, a few shots were put in which exposed a sulphide ore body of solid ore six feet wide, carrying chalcocite iron sulphides, blend and silver pay values averaging $10 per ton. In continuing this 200 foot tunnel, on Friday last, his men cut through the Dolomite, exposing vein No. 6 which shows three feet of solid sulphide ore similar to vein No. 4, but richer in copper sulphides and carrying less blend. This ore body is cut at the depth of nearly 200 feet. Mr. Utter expects to continue the tunnel to cut veins 7, 8, 9 and 10. The face of the tunnel will strike vein No. 7 within twenty feet. This ore body shows a surface cropping over 100 feet wide of iron oxides and several copper exposures in the same vein which many shipments of pay ore have been made.

On the Arizona mine, which is now the principal producing property of the camp, the main shaft has been sunk to a depth of 104 feet below the second level and a contract was let Saturday by Manager William McAllister for 100 feet of drifting from the bottom of the shaft, which is entirely in ore, and in which there is a very rich streak of two-foot ore, smelter returns from which give .95 ounces in gold, 17.7 ounces in silver and 3.80 per cent copper, or a value of $82.30 to the ton. The property is looking in better shape than it ever has before in its history. Twenty men are being employed, and three shifts are now at work on the drift contract.

SATURDAY NIGHT THIEVES.

Las Vegas Electric Street Railway Company Robbed.

The new electric line has gone up against the light fingered gentry in a manner that clearly proves that a street car company can be robbed by others than presidents and conductors.

Saturday night the company's tool shanty, close by the springs track, was entered by thieves, and at least $250 worth of tools were stolen. These consisted of hand saws, two five pound axes, four hand axes, one-half dozen draw knives, two 18 in Stillson wrenches, two braces, 10-inch sweeps, two short handled shovels, four hammers, three drills, ten pounds of powder, one hundred feet of fuse, one box caps, coil rope, one hundred feet, one pair telegraph climbers, one pair side cutters. A heating stove which had been put in Friday, was carried about 200 yards.

Messrs. Hutchins and O'Reilly were looking over the proposed site of the power house yesterday morning when they discovered the depredation.—Optic.

CYANIDE IN NEW MEXICO.

Is Used at the Last Chance Mill in the Mogollon District.

A correspondent, writing to the Denver News from Silver City, under date of January 26, says:

Forrest McKinley, of Washington, nephew of the late president, has been looking over the mines in the Mogollon district and being favorably impressed, decided to locate. It is understood he will join Mr. Craig's corps of assistants at the Last Chance mill, which is now in successful operation, the process of cyaniding being extensively used.

The Alejandro company, operating in the Burros and superintended by Judge Deming, is rapidly pushing forward its operations, despite the recent drop in copper. New shafts have been sunk and tunnels driven. The company, however, is not marketing its product, but holding the same until copper goes up.

P. T. McGrath, of Denver, has again leased the Klondyke mine, which is making one of the best showings in the Burro camps.

Assessment work is commenced for the new year. A. A. Bardette, in charge of the Charles E. Stevens' interests, is here for that purpose. Also R. B. Clark with a gang of men, to work his several groups of claims. Mr. Stevens owns about forty-two claims in the Burro district.

The Grand View mine, in the Carpenter district, is partially developed and makes the best showing so far of any mine in the southwest. The vein is over twenty-two feet wide and is a solid mass of ore. The mine is owned by Barr, Beaver & Gray, and is being steadily worked.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Great Western Oil company of New Mexico was held in this city last week. The company owns large tracts of land in both Luna and Guadalupe counties, which adjoin producing lands. Stock is being sold at 10 cents per share and is selling nicely.

The ore of the Green Consolidated company is averaging 51.8 per cent copper. Only 1,450 shares of stock are left to sell at $50 per share.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Two Young People Married—Miss McMillan's Pupils—Entertainments.

An event occurred last night in the social world of the Santa Fe Pacific store department which will not soon be forgotten when Lou Moore, one of the clerks of the department at Needles, California, and Miss Annette Shackelford, a charming young lady from Temple, Texas, were made husband and wife. The groom came in on No. 2 yesterday morning and the bride arrived last night on No. 1, where she was met by the groom and a large wedding party, who escorted the happy couple to the Hotel Highland, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Mark Hodgson. The happy couple left for Needles on the same train that brought the bride to Albuquerque, in which place they will make their future home. Those who were present at the wedding were: N. M. Rice, assistant general storekeeper, and Messrs. E. H. Andrews and wife, James S. Smith, F. E. Hoffman, Chas. F. Cloyd, Ben Schupp, J. D. McCord, John W. Gibson, James K. Poyas, J. L. Armijo, David Stewart, L. C. Cottrell, Frank Short, R. M. Allen, P. W. Ferrell, H. A. Friedlied, Rudolph Duncunritz, Jacob Leichter, A. C. Pomeroy, J. F. Fleischer, R. W. Stuke, C. A. Harblydt, E. A. Bartlett and wife, and John Munn and wife.

REMEMBERED BY PUPILS.

The teachers at the Central school during had a little picnic yesterday during the afternoon recess period. Miss Jessie McMillan's scholars and a nice little surprise awaiting her when she returned from lunch. During her absence they had piled her desk with a delicious repast of fruits, nuts, candy and cake, in such quantities that she could invite all her neighbor teachers and have some left.

ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. H. E. Rogers entertained a few friends at her home on West Coal avenue last night with cards. Music was enjoyed and delicious refreshments were served.

Miss Flora Vann entertained a few friends at her home on North Third street last night at whist, in honor of her friend, Miss Mamie Carter, of Madrid. Music was enjoyed and a delightful lunch was served.

All European countries have finally consented to permit the United States to appear upon all school maps.

We are not jumping upon democrats just now. Any one of them may become a republican leader and federal official inside of a month.

The iron trade review of the Iron Age shows that steel and iron mills will be crowded to their full capacity during the next twelve months.

The Albuquerque Weekly Citizen, is sold every Saturday morning, is now the largest, best and cheapest weekly newspaper published in New Mexico.

Whether straight tickets are put in the field at the coming April election will depend entirely on the central committees of the political parties.

The Indian problem in New Mexico and Arizona is solving itself. The Indians are dying off at a rapid rate, and most of the tribes will be extinct in a few years.

Pneumatic postal tubes make slow progress in this country. In London there are 81 pneumatic tubes for the dispatch of postal packets, and their aggregate length is 34 miles.

Mr. Carnegie has shipped all records for philanthropy, especially in his work of founding libraries. Up to date he has established 177 libraries in the United States at a cost of $17,500,000.

Adlai Stevenson says the democratic party must present an unbroken front in 1914. Is that to be taken as a notification that he must be given the second place on the ticket again to prevent a split?

National and international good roads associations will make a large display of appliances at the St. Louis world's fair and will build several sections of improved roads adapted to various localities.

Two years ago the present publishers of the Journal-Democrat were partisan democrats. For revenue purposes they suddenly became enthusiastic republicans. They now accuse The Citizen of being too conservative and charges that it is the democratic organ of the city.

Dr. W. F. Whitney, of the Massachusetts general hospital, declares that in 25 years, if cancer increases, all human beings more than 30 years old will be extinct. The methods to which some doctors resort for advertising, and avoid being called quacks, are ingenious, to say the least.

The Pueblo Chieftain says that a West Virginia man, has received the appointment of farmer for Indians near Santa Fe. Can such things be, in the reign of Roosevelt, the only president who ever knew anything about the west? What does a West Virginia man know about irrigation farming? How can he teach Indians or anybody else to farm in the arid region?

LEADS THE WORLD.
In the treasury department at Washington the claim is advanced that for 1901 the United States leads the world in the output of gold, silver, copper, coal, iron, steel and oil, making it the supreme unit in the mineral universe, with many of these resources only partly developed and with no official recognition in the president's cabinet. Besides exceeding any other country, the "land of the free" also exceeded her own best records in the year just closed, with the single exception of copper. For the latter, with declining prices and restricted market, the 1901 output is estimated at 650,000,000 pounds, or 255,825 long tons, or about 5,000 tons below the figures of 1900.

THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER.
A newspaper, while a private business, is a public institution just as much so in many ways as is a school or a church. Upon the conduct of a newspaper depends very largely the morals, the intelligence, the improvement socially, industrially and religiously of the community or city. The newspaper fosters—or else it is recreant to its trust—education, public and private benevolence, good citizenship, honest government, patriotism, the religion of humanity, and the churches so far as they are true to their work in the aiding and uplifting of men. The whole people are deeply interested in the newspaper, and around the press should be thrown every influence that tends to strengthen and enable it in its purpose and work.

GOOD ADVICE.
James Parton concluded a very suggestive article upon the habits and death of Bayard Taylor, whom he had, as a personal friend, warned against the danger of wine and beer drinking and smoking, as follows:
"Mental labor is not hostile to health and life; but I am, more than ever convinced that a man who lives by his brain is of all men bound to avoid stimulating his brain. In this climate, to stimulate the brain by alcohol and tobacco is only a slow kind of suicide. Even the most moderate use of the mildest wine is not without danger, because the peculiar exhaustion caused by severe mental labor is a constant and urgent temptation to increase the quantity and strength of the potentia. I would say to every young man in the United States, if I could reach him, if you mean to attain one of the prizes of your profession and live a cheerful life to the age of eighty, throw away your dirty old pipe, put your cigars in the stove, never buy any more, become an absolute teetotaler, take your dinner in the middle of the day and rest one day in seven."

OTERO'S CONFIRMATION.
The confirmation by the senate of the nomination of Governor Otero to the governorship of New Mexico, an office he now fills with much credit, will be received with pleasure by his many friends in Colorado, says the Denver Republican.

Governor Otero is well known in this state and especially in Denver, having been a frequent visitor in this city. He is a native of New Mexico, being a member of one of the old Spanish-American families of that territory. He is thoroughly familiar with its needs and conditions, and no better selection for its chief magistracy could have been made by President Roosevelt.

His nomination and confirmation is in line with a wise policy to select as far as possible the principal officials of the territories from among men who are at home in the communities where their duties will be discharged. It is a home rule policy which finds favor in every part of the country.

A GRAND OLD MAN.
The report of the various liturgies of Pope Leo XIII will be learned with genuine regard by people of a large age throughout the civilized world. During his long pontifical reign over a great church he has commanded the respect of not only his own people but those who may differ from him upon ecclesiastical questions. His influence has at ways been exerted for the good of humanity and while he has labored for the upbuilding of the Catholic church he has endeavored to bring about a better condition among the people of the civilized world. When the United States acquired possession of the Philippines he was one of the first to recognize in the government of this country the benefit that would accrue to the people of those islands and the long step it was toward a higher civilization in the orient. It was Spain who took possession of the Western Hemisphere and dedicated it to the Catholic church, but when the United States took possession of those islands in the name of humanity and civilization, Leo XIII advised his clergy to recognize the authority of this country and aid in the higher civilization of the people and saw in the disposition of Spain the betterment of the Philippines and the people. He is a statesman as well as a churchman, and while it is beyond the bounds of probability that he will live much longer to bless the world, it is the hope of all who have the good of humanity and the world at heart, and his death will be learned with universal sorrow.

A REAL BARON.
The Austrian Minister to Mexico Here This Morning.

Baron Monchun, the Austrian minister to Mexico, accompanied by the Baroness Monchun, were guests at the Hotel Highland this morning for a few hours pending the departure of the limited for California. The distinguished gentleman has been spending a few weeks in Washington, D. C., and others of the eastern cities. His sojourn in the United States has been one of great interest and having been at our national capital during an interesting session had an excellent opportunity to study our government institutions and expresses himself greatly impressed with the snap and progressiveness of the American people wherever he has come in contact with them. The baron is enthusiastic over the present conditions and the outlook for the future of the Mexican republic, which is making great strides on the same lines that have served to bring the United States of America to the front rank of world powers. Owing to the extremely short stay of the gentleman in this city a lengthy interview could not be had with him.

MINER KILLED.

Cave In at the Sopris Mine Causes Death of Joe Petrick.

Joe Petrick, a Polander, 34 years of age, met death suddenly last evening about 6 o'clock in the Sopris mine. He was working in room 45 of the twelfth east entry when a cave in occurred, the unfortunate miner being caught under a mass of coal and rock. Death ensued in a few minutes. Deceased is survived by a wife. The funeral occurred from the Catholic church this afternoon.

Coroner Sipe is looking into the accident.—Trinidad Chronicle-News.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

The Indian School Girls Return Home Victorious.

The invincible basket ball team from the Albuquerque Indian school returned this morning from Mesilla Park, where they defeated the Agricultural college girls by the close score of 8 to 7. This victory over the college team gives the Indian girls the undisturbed championship of Arizona and New Mexico. The game was hotly contested from start to finish, and the champions won only by superior team work.

The Agricultural college girls were larger and their team work was exceptionally good, but advantage gained in size was handicapped by the quickness of the Indians. The Indians compliment the Mesilla valley girls highly on their hospitality, and the lady-like manner in which they played the game. The only feature which marred the pleasure of the trip was the accident that occurred in the first part of the second half, when Miss Gladys Jewell broke her ankle. It occurred in a very unusual manner. She, with a companion, was after the ball which was out of bounds, and while slipping the ankle was broken. The line-up was as follows:

Referee—George Horton.

Umpires—A. Southernland and J. W. Travis.

Timekeeper—Danzburg.

Scorekeeper—Miss Dennison.

Those that accompanied the girls from the Indian school were Anna H. Rush, Ethel Dennison and James W. Travis.

Finds Way to Live Long.

The startling announcement of a discovery that will surely lengthen life is made by Editor O. H. Downey, of Chubbuck, Ind. "I wish to state," he writes, "that Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption is the most infallible remedy that I have ever known for coughs, colds or grippe. It's invaluable to people with weak lungs. Having this wonderful medicine no one need dread pneumonia or consumption. It's relief is instant and cure certain." All druggists guarantee every 50c and $1 and give trial bottles free.

MEETING TONIGHT.

On the Beet Sugar Proposition at Grant's Hall.

Hon. Albert L. Steele, who was at Las Vegas on Thursday, where he addressed the people of that city in the evening on the subject of raising of sugar beets, came in from the north last night, and was introduced at The Citizen office this morning by Noa H. Field.

Mr. Steele publishes two papers in Denver, namely the Sugar Beet Grower and Western Construction, and is thoroughly familiar with the subject upon which he will address the people at Grant's hall tonight. He stated, in conversation with The Citizen representative, that the object of his visit here this time was not to guarantee the establishment of a beet sugar factory here, but to tell the people, especially the farmers and ranchmen, that there is profit in the raising of sugar beets and to advise all to commence their cultivation, shipping this year to Rocky Ford or some other place where a factory is established, and next year, say not later than 1901, arrange for the establishment of a factory in this city.

It is hoped that the meeting tonight will be largely attended. Mr. Steele has figures to show the importance of such an enterprise in this valley, and he asks the people through The Citizen, to come out tonight and hear him talk on the subject.

Two Ranch Sales.

Edward Huss, of Highrolls, Otero county, has bought the Henry Sutherland property at La Luz in the same county, from the Alamogordo Improvement company for $3,000 and sold his ranch at Highrolls to A. Cadwalader, of El Paso, Texas. Mr. Huss reports that smallpox is still prevalent at Highrolls.

Ghost Dance.

Mrs. Walton's ghost dance at Grant's hall last night was an event that will not soon be forgotten by those that were fortunate to be present. Ghosts were there in goodly numbers. At exactly 9:30 o'clock they came up, the lights went out, and there appeared from the gloom of the north end of the hall two long lines of ghosts. They marched up, received their programs and swung away in a whirling waltz, to the tune of "My Sweetheart is the Man in the Moon." There were three ghost dances, the second and third numbers being "The Colored Major" and the "Ello Grande Waltz," after which the ghosts removed their masks, and a thoroughly good time was enjoyed by all. About forty couple were present. The music, which was unusually fine, was furnished by Miss Hawthorne and Professor Dr. Mauro.

A Good Recommendation.

"I have noticed that the sale on Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets is almost invariably to those who have once used them," says Mr. J. H. Weber, a prominent druggist of Council Bluffs, Iowa. "What better recommendation could any medicine have than for people to call for it when again in need of such a remedy? Try them when you feel dull after eating, when you have a bad taste in your mouth, feel bilious, have no appetite or when troubled with constipation, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which they afford. For sale by all druggists."

For Pneumonia.

Dr. C. J. Bishop, Agnew, Mich., says: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in three very severe cases of pneumonia with good results in every case." Beware of substitutes. Alvarado Pharmacy.

The Act of a Crazy Man.

Yesterday near Highland station a man jumped off the train and took to the woods. Sheriff James Johnson, after some chasing and difficulty, captured the man and brought him to Flagstaff to the county hospital for treatment. It appears that he had some self-inflicted wounds, and Dr. E. S. Miller was called in this forenoon to dress his wounds.

The nurse at the hospital was sent out for an assistant, and while the doctor was preparing to dress his wounds and his back being turned to the patient, the crazy man seized the doctor and with a pair of scissors inflicted some painful, though not serious, wounds about the neck. Dr. Miller will soon be all right, but the crazy Italian who assaulted him, will not recover from his insanity so quickly.—Flagstaff Gem.

Frank Treadwell, Bennett, Ia., was troubled with kidney disease for two years. He writes: "I had taken several kinds of kidney remedies, but with little benefit. Finally I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and a one dollar bottle cured me." Alvarado Pharmacy.

A Profitable Investment.

"I was troubled for about seven years with my stomach and in bed half my time," says E. Demick, Somerville, Ind. "I spent about $1,000 and never could get anything to help me until I tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have taken a few bottles and am entirely well." You don't live by what you eat, but by what you digest and assimilate. If your stomach doesn't digest your food you are really starving. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does the stomach's work by digesting the food. You don't have to diet. Eat all you want. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cures all stomach troubles. J. L. O'Reilly & Co., and B. H. Briggs & Co.

A Card of Thanks.

Rev. Mr. Harwood desires to express his most heartfelt thanks to the kind people of Albuquerque in general for their kindness and words of sympathy in his great bereavement and to the following in particular: To the preachers of his own and other denominations for their presence at the funeral and kind words of condolences in English and in Spanish; also to the singers for the beautiful songs in English and Spanish; also to the old soldiers of the G. A. R. for their presence and sympathy; also to the Woman's Relief Corps, and Mr. and Mrs. Ives and others for floral tributes; also to O. W. Strong for so completely filling all the details of an experienced undertaker. To all of whom and for all of which he hereby expresses his sincerest thanks.

Regular meeting of Albuquerque lodge No. 461, B. P. O. E., will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. Initiation and business of importance. By order of exalted ruler, C. W. Medler, secretary.

Resolutions of Regret.

Whereas, It has pleased the Master to call our sister, Mrs. Emily Harwood, from her labor on earth to her rest in heaven.

Be it resolved, That in the death of Sister Harwood, which occurred on the 15th day of January, 1902, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has sustained the loss of one of its ablest and most devoted workers wherever dispersed over the globe, and while death has paralyzed her brain and hand from further physical labor, yet she continues to work through the influence of the army of recruits that she has enlisted during the quarter of a century she has labored as a missionary in this territory, attended with the privations, toil and labor that should give her a high standing among those that have sacrificed their lives for the cause of Christ.

Resolved, That we extend to Dr. Harwood our most earnest and heartfelt sympathy in his great bereavement in the loss of his devoted companion, who has so nobly stood by him in his long and uneven fight against intemperance and all its accompanying evils with which he has had to contend during his missionary work in this territory.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Dr. Harwood and also to the local and W. C. T. U. papers.

A NEW LODGE.

A Society of the Knights of Columbus Will Be Organized Here.

Last night at a meeting held in Mayor Marron's office, the temporary officers were elected: O. N. Marron, chairman, and P. F. McCanna, secretary.

Hon. W. T. McNary, a member of the national board of directors of the order, was present and made a very interesting talk on the insurance, social and fraternal benefits of the society.

Mr. McNary made no effort at oratory, but in an easy confidential manner, which commands attention, explained the working facilities of the organization.

The order is two years old and has a membership of 80,000, 40,000 of whom are insurance policy holders.

The insurance of the society has the term rate system. A policy is issued for $1000 and the rate of assessment depends entirely on the age of the policy holder, and changes with increasing age. Any person of Catholic faith and of good physical health is eligible to membership.

The national organizers, who are now on the coast, will be here to organize the Albuquerque council. Thirty-five applications for membership were made at last night's meeting, and it is thought that enough will be secured to bring the number up to fifty.

Dr. Hope has been appointed local medical examiner and is pretty busy today with those who made application at last night's meeting.

Mr. McNary is a member of the Massachusetts legislature and with a party of friends is touring over the west sightseeing. They went to Santa Fe this morning and expect to return here this evening.

LAS VEGAS.

From the Optic.

Local mining interests are looking up. W. W. Smith, erstwhile Las Vegas, is now agent for the International Correspondence schools of Scranton, Pa., at 501 North Stanton street, El Paso, Texas.

A proposition is on foot to have the United States government acquire the Montezuma hotel at the hot springs and convert it into a sanitarium for returned soldiers from the Philippines.

The final statement of the opera, "Triumph of Love," is as follows: Total receipts, $345.50; bills, $135.05; balance, $209.45; of which sum Mrs. Neumayer received for her play and work $1044.72, the public library receiving a like amount.

It is a stone fence that is to enclose the Normal university grounds instead of an iron fence as was erroneously reported in the Optic yesterday. The soliciting committee has already secured subscriptions for this purpose to the amount of about $1,500.

It is understood by some that the confirmation of Gov. Otero is quite likely to improve T. B. McNair's chances for the east side postmastership, in case the present incumbent doesn't succeed in holding over for another term or two.

From the Record.

Benigno Caezon, a Mexican living in Chihuahua town, East Las Vegas, is dead. He was buried at the city's expense.

Mrs. E. O. Henriquez and daughter, Miss Rebecca, will leave on Sunday for Los Angeles, Cal., to spend a few months.

Samuel Sperry and sister, Mrs. Wells, returned to Los Cerrillos after attending the funeral of Mrs. H. M. Stecker.

Fannie Stern has transferred to Rose Williams, in consideration of $2,500, considerable property on and near West National street.

The store of Gross & Richards Co., at Tucuman, was robbed on Monday of this week, but only one case of dry goods was stolen, that being in one of the tent stores.

Grant Survey Necessary.

A topographical map of the property of the Las Vegas land grant is in the hands of a Las Vegas gentleman. It is individual property, says the Optic.

A recent survey of the Tecolote grant of 61,000 acres cuts that amount off the Las Vegas land grant. The city is therefore entitled to have a float issued for 61,000 acres of unoccupied government land. This will restore the grant to its original area of 196,000 acres. Las Vegas must pay $3,200 for a survey before it can get a patent to the grant. This will require at least two months. After that will come the placing of the property in cautious, brainy, honest business men's hands in order that it may be utilized to the general advancement of that community whose heritage and whose birth right it is.

DEMING.

From the Headlight.

Miss Kirtz, one of Deming's most popular teachers in the public schools, was relieved of her pocketbook containing considerable money, while attending the carnival in El Paso.

Jim Swartz, one of the best county commissioners that Grant county ever had to look after her affairs, was a visitor in Deming. Mr. Swartz says that the Minnres country is very quiet at present, but all are looking for a good season the coming summer.

It is authentically reported that the parties who are drilling for oil just north of this city have passed their drill through a small strata of the "genuine stuff" within the past few days. They may develop sufficient of the greasy stuff yet to enable all of Deming to slide along the road to prosperity at a forty-mile gait, who can tell?

The proprietors of the Aquarium and Cabinet saloons have turned into veritable gold bugs. At least the appearance of the fronts of those two establishments would lead one to think so. A traveling artist struck town last Wednesday and the way he spread the gold point onto these two buildings would induce the belief that Tracey & Hannigan are millionaires.

SAN PEDRO.

From Cerrillos Register.

S. P. Conger, superintendent of the St. Lazarus mine, was on the sick list a few days the first of the week.

Messrs. Lafink, Hall and Aranda are taking out some fine fire gold ore from the twenty-five and sixty foot levels of the McKinley mine nowadays.

By way of furnishing amusement for the society people of the camp Mrs. McCaffery gives a musical and dance once in two weeks on Thursday evening, furnishing music with her beautiful Aeolian organ which is one of the finest instruments in the territory.

Our town came near having a destructive fire last Monday. A wood pile in the rear of Mr. Strumquist's house caught fire and with the strong wind which was blowing at the time all that prevented it from burning a large portion of the town was the prompt action of the neighbors and the fortunate location of a large cistern on the premises which furnished water to extinguish the fire.

LAMY.

From Cerrillos Register.

Angus and John McMillan, of Chilili, were here on business.

Chas. Beringer has moved his bridge outfit to Canoncito.

Bob Fisher has returned to Lamy after a two months' visit in Kansas City. Engineer Allee has been relieving Engineer Lane on the Santa Fe branch.

John Pfleger has gone to Las Vegas hot springs to spend a few weeks taking treatment for his rheumatism.

Mr. Long, of Chicago, has bought 8,000 sheep of Mr. McIntosh, of Chilili, thirty cars of them being shipped from here.

P. J. Murphy, city marshal of Las Vegas, came in on No. 1 and arrested a negro who was wanted in that city for robbery, returning on No. 8.

An Attack of Pneumonia Warded Off.

"Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prndergast, merchant, Annate Bay, Jamaica, West India Islands. The pains in the chest indicated an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. For sale by all druggists.

Rescued Alive.

Two mountain engines ran into the rear end of an east bound freight train in charge of Conductor Gormley, early Thursday morning, at Wootton, causing a wreck.

The train had two way cars with two crews asleep and just ahead of these was a bunk car containing fifteen Mexicans. A hole had to be cut in the top of the car to get the Mexicans out, but neither they nor any of the crew were injured.

New Century Comfort.

PRESS COMMENTS.

What the Exchanges Have to Say About The Citizen.

LIBERAL SUPPORT.

The Albuquerque Citizen has been enlarged to a six-column, eight-page paper, and otherwise improved. The Citizen has been a good newspaper always, and its publishers are fortunate that the live in a town where the business men appreciate newspapers and bestow upon them such a generous support. Only by the liberal support of the business men was The Citizen able to display the enterprising spirit of its publishers. Strangers judge a town by the support it accords its newspapers, and every issue of the two excellent Albuquerque papers proclaim the energy, enterprise and activity of that city's business men. If a discerning man saw a copy of either of the Albuquerque daily papers in Arabia or Timbuctoo, his first impression would be that it was published in a good town. It pays business men to give a generous support to their home papers. We congratulate The Citizen on its fine appearance.—Las Vegas Record.

HALF TONES TO BE USED.

The Albuquerque Citizen has been enlarged to eight pages and presents quite a metropolitan appearance. It is printed on a new press on a better quality of paper than formerly. Owing to this new equipment half-tone pictures can now be used and the first number in the new dress presents a good picture of the aldermen of the Duke City. The Citizen now prints twice as much reading matter as formerly and displays its advertising to better advantage. It reflects most strikingly the growth, the enterprise and the prosperity of Albuquerque.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

WELL PATRONIZED.

The Albuquerque Daily Citizen, one of the best daily papers published in the southwest, has been enlarged to a six-column quarto and the paper presents a good healthy appearance both in news and in advertising. The publishers have lately added to their plant a new press, folder and two linotypes and many other minor improvements. The merchants of Albuquerque appreciate their newspapers by giving to them liberal support. In this respect Trinidad differs from Albuquerque to a marked degree.—Trinidad Chronicle-News.

DOVE TAIL NICELY.

The Albuquerque Citizen comes to hand dressed up in its Sunday best and with the announcement that it will wear its present suit all the time from now on. It has been enlarged from a four-page folio to an eight-page quarto, with reading matter on every page, and is now truly an able and handsome paper in matter and make-up. An experienced editor and a practical printer dove tail nicely in the getting up of a daily newspaper of the period.—Las Vegas Optic.

BELIEVES IN EXPANSION.

The Albuquerque Daily Citizen appeared yesterday as an eight-page, six-column quarto, a form which it has permanently adopted. A new Cottrell press and a folder have been installed. The Citizen is also wearing a becoming new dress. Albuquerque has the best daily newspapers in the southwest.—Journal-Democrat.

SHOWS ENTERPRISE.

The Albuquerque Citizen comes out with a new heading and four more pages. We are glad to note The Citizen's enterprise, which is also evidence that the people of the Duke City are prosperous and appreciate a good paper. The newspaper is just what its patronage makes it.—Raton Gazette.

SIGNS OF PROSPERITY.

The Albuquerque Citizen has been enlarged to a six-column quarto from an eight-column folio. It has adopted a new heading, is printed on better paper and bears other signs of prosperity. The proprietors of The Citizen are hustlers and it is pleasing to note their evidence of success.—Raton Reporter.

FONG TING IN TROUBLE.

He Will Be Deported From Silver City to His Former Home Across the Pacific.

Fong Ting, a Chinese boy who recently came to Silver City, Grant county, is in trouble. His father is a merchant at Silver City and brought the boy from China several years ago, securing admission for him to the United States by declaring that he is a student. Ting attended the public school at Silver City for a time and then went to work in his father's store, thus placing himself within the United States statute as a laborer. His change of vocation had not been noticed until recently when a United States officer lodged complaint against him before United States Commissioner Newcomb at Silver City, charging him with being unlawfully in the United States. Ting wanted to go to school again, but he has been ordered deported to China and is now an inmate of the Silver City jail.

MEET AND EMBRACE.

Two Republics and Four States—There Are Others.

A few days since The Citizen reproduced an article from an unknown exchange reciting the fact that Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado and Utah formed a junction of four corners, one monument being sufficient to mark the boundary lines of four commonwealths. The writer stated that there was not a similar instance in the United States and doubted if such conditions existed elsewhere in the world. Since the publication of that item we have learned that which is not generally known in regard to a similar state of fact. On the international boundary line, about sixty miles east of Tombstone, the state of Chihuahua and Sonora form a junction with Arizona and New Mexico, the four corners coming so closely together that one may stand in two republics at one time and shake hands with those of four different states, and if he wears a No. 9 shoe he can stand upon the terra firma of two republics and four sovereign states, a fact that does not exist in any other portion of the globe.

A lonely international monument marks the spot, and if there be one desirous of expanding and covering four states and two republics at one time let him flee to this particular monument above referred to.

Concert and Dance.

WINSLOW NEWS.

Elks Will Give a Ball—Scarlet Fever Scare—Other Items.

Special Correspondence.
Winslow, Ariz., Jan. 26.—Frank Zuck, formerly of Holbrook, has opened a butcher shop in Winslow in the Booth block and is doing a good business. Another butcher shop has been needed here and the people of Winslow welcome Mr. Zuck and wish him prosperity.

The R. P. O. E. lodge, No. 536, has decided to spend some of their surplus money in the treasury by giving a grand ball on the night of February 14. This ball is for Elks, and two visitors each and will be one of the grandest affairs of the season. Invitations and no charge at the door will be the order.

Judge Mahoney says business is slack this week. He has not a case in court.

We understand that Mrs. Harry Simms, of Albuquerque, and formerly of this city, intends returning and opening up a millinery store—a business much needed here. Come, we all wear hats.

School closed down this week on account of the scarlet fever scare, but there doesn't seem to be any reason for it, as the disease is still confined to two places in town and well taken care of by Drs. Sampson and Tillett.

Professor Mickey is taking advantage of his little vacation and is getting his house and lot fenced.

Harry Anderson, the brickmaker, is putting an addition to his house. Harry will have a good house when done.

Harry Burbage, Navajo county's legal talent, and president of the Navajo county bank, was made glad this week by the return of his wife, who brought with her their son, Teddy, who has been in the hospital at Kansas City for nearly a year, undergoing operations caused by rheumatism. We were glad to see Teddy doing so well and hope he will continue to get better.

The round house whistle sounded the alarm of fire Thursday about noon. On investigation it was found that a pile of timbers on fire back of the round house. By the prompt action of the company's fire brigade the fire was not allowed to spread.

Winslow lodge, No. 13, F. & A. M., has decided to improve the looks of their lodge room by having the same repapered and lighted. Accordingly they have ordered a new gas machine and are having the hall piped for gas and when done this lodge room would be a credit to any city of larger size, and second to none in the territory.

GRAVEL WALKS.

Editors Citizen.
There seems to be a misapprehension relative to gravel walks on the part of some. They say that gravel is difficult to walk on, etc. Certainly loose gravel is, but a lot of loose gravel thrown on the ground is not a gravel walk, as a lot of cement thrown along the street is not a cement walk. Gravel walks, as those of other materials, should be constructed according to plans and specifications, and then they should be nearly as hard and smooth as cement walks and are much more durable.

The street or walk should be filled nearly to grade just the same as for cement or brick walks, and then either brick or plank curbing should be put in, then filled with common soil; then add a good coating of adobe or clay and on this spread your gravel. Now sprinkle and pack or roll hard and then remove all surplus gravel, and if properly made, the walk can be swept the same as any other, and it can be used during a shower with feet as much danger of getting wet feet as from cement or plank.

I would have no more wooden walks, as they are very unsanitary, unsightly and only temporary, while the street is not filled or improved in the least.

Certainly, if the owners desire to put in cement or brick, it should be permitted but not plank.

Messrs. Field, Pearce, Bryan, Torina and I have gravel walks and they answer every purpose.

Almost anyone can build or repair gravel walks, while only experts at much cost can build or repair cement. Not a dollar goes out of the city for gravel or brick, while thousands go out never to return for cement.

E. S. STOVER

He Reads the Weekly.

Louis Ph. Lettice, a well-known civil engineer and surveyor, of Buffalo, N. Y., writes as follows about the Albuquerque Weekly Citizen: "Having already received the third copy of your weekly, I can truly say that I find it a very interesting paper for a city of your size and population."

"It gives me great pleasure to read it, but I should like to read your daily in order to see how your business men advertise their dealings and wares."

"I never failed to judge the business facilities of a city by the daily advertisements of a paper like yours."

"The city of Albuquerque is to be congratulated upon having such an able newspaper establishment and wide-awake weekly paper."

PLENTY OF SNOW.

Sheep are Doing Well on Account of Mildness of the Weather and Water Supply.

Hon. Venecio Jaramillo, of El Rito, Rio Arriba county, who has just returned from a visit to his sheep ranches in Valencia county, states that the sheep in Valencia county, especially in the western part, are passing through the winter in good shape. There is plenty of water and in the mountains there is deep snow, while for seventy miles in each direction from the Zuni mountains there is six inches of snow. Many sheep from northern New Mexico are wintering in western Valencia county.

Ross McMillan, who is in Santa Fe on a visit from his sheep ranch in Socorro county, says that in eastern Socorro and Valencia counties the sheep are doing well. There has been ample snow and water is sufficient to see stock through until spring. In the Oscura mountains and on the plains to the east and west the snow fall has been heavy.

At Roswell and vicinity six inches of snow fell last week and a few miles west of Santa Fe extending almost to the Arizona boundary, there is eighteen inches of snow on the level. It seems that Santa Fe is one of the few points in the territory which has escaped heavy precipitation since last Thanksgiving day.

FAREWELL SERMON.

Rev. Bruce Kinney at His Church Last Evening.

Last night, Rev. Bruce Kinney preached his farewell sermon before a large congregation and severed his pastoral connection with the First Baptist church of this city. Out of respect to the retiring minister no evening service was held in the Congregational church. Rev. Marsh and the people of his congregation meeting with the Baptists. Rev. Kinney expects to leave tomorrow morning for Salt Lake City, and will at once enter into the home mission work, to which he has been appointed. A reception had been planned for Tuesday night, but owing to circumstances which called him away on the morning of that date the idea has been abandoned.

The resignation of Rev. Kinney leaves the First Baptist church temporarily without a pastor, but the pulp committee are in communication with two or three good men and believe they will not be long without a leader.

THE GIANT SKELETON.

It Will Be Removed to Las Vegas, New Mexico.

Don Gregorio Varela and Marcelino Martinez have gone down to El Arroyo. They will go out to the Mesa Rica and endeavor to buy the skeleton of the human giant which was last week unearthed by Luciano Quintana.

The giant would pay if brought here. The Smithsonian people would be proud of a giant of the dimensions of this one. More particulars regarding the giant's dimensions prove the skeleton to be mastodonic. A leg is well preserved. It is eight feet in length. The skeleton will be on exhibition in the court house yard and anthropologists are especially invited to examine it.—Optic.

A Daring Robbery.

When J. B. Hodgdon entered his store in this city last Monday morning he found that thieves had entered through a back window during the night before and helped themselves to more than $135 worth of the best goods in the store, such as silk handkerchiefs, ladies' shoes, as well as men's of the best quality. From among the best goods they selected several pairs of pants and two or three hats, all of the best. In fact, from the goods that were taken and the direct manner in which the thieves seem to have known right where these goods were located, without disturbing those of the cheaper grades, it is evident that they were pretty well acquainted with the whereabouts of things. There is pretty positive evidence that the robbery was committed about 10:30 in the evening, and as there is nearly always several members in the Adelphi club next door to Hodgdon's at that time in the evening, the robbery was all the more cheeky. Several clues are being closely followed, and it is more than probable that in the end some one will come to grief.—Deming Headlight.

A Most Happy Affair.

If anybody ever dreamed that being a Christian means wearing a very long face that is always overshadowed by prayer meeting looks or the walls of the damned, then they should have heard the peal on peal of laughter at the Christian Endeavor party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Harris on Fourth street last night. In all the social life of this sociable little city never was a merrier assemblage of young people than this. There were games and refreshments and laughter in the richest abundance and a perpetual overflow of good cheer. Somebody says that it is true then that somebody else sprung the very bad pun. This question was solemnly propounded. Why is Mr. Herlow like a telephone exchange switch board? Of course the answer was because he has so many bells (bells) attached to him.—Las Vegas Optic.

Big Damage Suit.

Attorney E. L. Medler, on behalf of Ernest A. Tietjen and F. G. Nelson, residents of Bluewater, New Mexico, today filed a suit for $25,000 damages against the Bluewater Land and Irrigation company, whose irrigation system and lands are located also at Bluewater, New Mexico. The suit is brought on a contract entered into several years ago by the plaintiffs and defendants, by which the irrigation company agreed to furnish water to the plaintiffs to irrigate their lands. The company, however, has failed to comply with its terms of the agreement, failing to furnish sufficient water to the plaintiffs, and using the water for its own lands. The suit will be watched with considerable interest by people interested in irrigation enterprises. The damages alleged are loss of crops which the plaintiffs suffered by reason of the breach of contract.

SPALDING IN NEW MEXICO.

His Trip South Has Significance in Base Ball Circles.

A. G. Spalding, president of the National Base Ball league, publisher of Spalding's Official Base Ball Guide, and one of the crack players in the pioneer team of Chicago in the early 70's—when curve pitching was unknown—is in New Mexico.

In connection with the current base ball troubles, a dispatch from Chicago says:

"The departure of A. G. Spalding for New Mexico called a halt in the battle of letters which has been progressing merrily since the trouble began. Still, Mr. Spalding will hardly go beyond the reach of a postoffice, and may continue his letter writing tactics just to keep in condition. Talk of a four club circuit is now heard on all sides, and some people argue that a circuit composed of Chicago, Pittsburg, Brooklyn and Phila-

WOMAN'S BEAUTY.

How it is Made or Marred.

There is nothing more subtle than woman's beauty. It eludes all attempts to analyze it. A woman may have the measurements and lines of the Medicinal Venus and yet lack beauty. Or she may defy artistic standards and be known everywhere as a beautiful woman. There is, however, one kind of beauty which is recognized by all and which is every woman's dower, a beauty to which the French have given the name of "The Beauty of Youth." Many a time we turn to watch some sweet, young girl, impressed by her beauty. But if we analyze the beauty we find it is made up of smooth skin, clear complexion, bright eyes, ruddy lips and rounded contours. That beauty ought to last always. But how soon we see it fade. The young wife looks at her yellow skin, sunken cheeks and hollow eyes and marvels at her own falling off. And the younger girls still retaining the beauty of youth wonder "what her husband could have seen attractive in her," not knowing that it will be their turn to fade very soon.

HOW TO KEEP BEAUTY.

In order to preserve this beauty of youth, to retain the charm of sweetness and freshness which belongs to maidenhood, the prerequisite is to understand that the chief foe of woman's beauty is womanly ill-health. Young women are often very careless of themselves. The temptation of the dance, or of the sleigh ride overrules their prudence, and the result is suppression and perhaps irregularity. This is only the beginning of worse evils, and yet this alone is sufficient to steal the freshness from the face. The womanly health should be protected with the utmost care and the first symptom of derangement or disease should be met by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

"I will always recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' for they cured me when doctors and other medicines failed," writes Mrs. Mary E. Lewis, of Tanner, Gilmer Co., W. Va. "For fifteen years I suffered untold misery. When I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicines, I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I could not lie down to sleep, and everything I ate would almost cramp me to death. Was very nervous and could hardly walk across the room. I only weighed ninety pounds when I commenced taking these medicines; I now weigh one hundred and forty pounds and am having better health than ever before. My friends all delphia will be in operation next season, with Spalding as the executive head. It is safe to predict that such an organization will go the way of all the four club base ball leagues. The public wants variety, and with only three teams visiting a home club, the sameness of diet would soon pall upon them.

"Spalding's action in leaving the scene of hostilities is regarded by many as proof positive that he has his fight well in hand—so well that he can retire and leave things to his representative in Chicago."

A UNIQUE COLLECTION.

Seventeen Swords, Knives and Daggers Sent By Ralph McFie.

Judge and Mrs. McFie, of Santa Fe, received from their son, Ralph, who is holding a government position in the Philippines, a collection of swords, knives and daggers used by the Filipinos in their warfare on the Americans. There are many unique types of these weapons in the collection, showing that the Filipinos have considerable skill in the mechanic arts. The handles of the swords are mostly wood or ornamented metal, wrapped in several cases with a peculiar cord. The sheathes of the swords are either carved wood or leather. The collection came wrapped in "bribes peculiar to the Philippines. There were also several specimens of beautiful fabrics woven by the Moros.

Crushed by the Cars.

Will Reedy, who drives a hack for the Holden livery met with a sad accident at 7:55 last evening which will cost him the loss of his left arm and left leg and may result fatally.

In going to meet one of the Santa Fe trains, and while crossing the tracks on Commercial street he was struck by a freight car being backed down by a switch engine. The concussion smashed the front end of the hack, injured one of the horses, and threw the driver under the car, which ran over him, crushing his left arm and left leg in a most horrible manner.—Trinidad Advertiser.

After a spell of sickness, suffering with colds and fever, Rev. A. M. Mandalari, the popular priest of this parish, appeared among members of his congregation yesterday.

say they can hardly believe that I am the same person, after being sick so long. I have changed to be robust and ruddy checked. I have taken fifteen bottles of 'Prescription,' fifteen of the 'Discovery' and fifteen of the 'Pellets.' I know that if it had not been for your medicines I would not have been living to-day."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a woman's medicine. It is not offered as a cure-all but it is confidently recommended as a sure and safe remedy for all those diseases of women which are curable by the use of medicine. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which destroy the strength and beauty of women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is the best preparative for motherhood, giving great strength and elasticity to the organs of maternity, and making the baby's advent practically painless.

"GETTING YOUNG AGAIN."

It is one of the triumphs of "Favorite Prescription" that its results are so palpably and visibly real. The cure of womanly diseases by this medicine is proved by the gain in flesh and weight, by the restoration of youthful freshness, by the renewed strength and ambition, and by all the outward and visible signs of robust health.

"I enjoy good health," thanks to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and "Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mrs. J. J. Schmeitner, of Pontiac, Livingston Co., Ill. "I have taken six bottles of each kind. I was taken sick last February and the doctors here called it 'Grip.' I lay for four weeks in bed, and when I got up I found I had 'displacement.' Had such aches and pains in my back and limbs, could not stand any length of time. I knew that our home doctor would insist the first thing on an examination, and that I would not submit to, unless I was dangerously sick, and then it would be too late to do any good."

There is one clause in Mrs. Schmeitner's letter, which voices the sentiments of thousands of sensitive women. "I knew that our home doctor would insist the first thing on an examination, and that I would not submit to, unless I was dangerously sick, and then it would be too late to do any good."

Many a woman in just such a case, realizing the danger she runs yet neglects medical treatment because she shrinks from the delicate questioning, the offensive examinations and obnoxious local treatments, which the home physician often thinks necessary.

A WAY OUT.

Of this difficulty is opened for women by Dr. Pierce's invitation to consult him by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly confidential, and the written confidences of women are guarded by the same professional privacy observed by Dr. Pierce in personal consultations with women at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE FAMILY FRIEND.

A. L. Amend, of Newfield, El Paso Co., Colo., says: "We have studied the Medical Adviser thoroughly, and when anything is the matter with any of our large family the first thing we do is to see what the book says."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing 1008 large pages and over 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper-covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

LAND LOCATORS.

These of a Foul Character to be Prosecuted.

A special dispatch from Capitán, of date January 26, says:

"William C. Reid, of Las Vegas, assistant United States attorney, was in Capitán for the purpose of prosecuting several parties, whose names he refused to divulge, for taking up placer claims fraudulently in the Gallina mountains near here. Before the new railroad began building through that section the most valuable timber land along the line was taken up as placer claims for the purpose of selling the timber for ties to the railroad company. The company refused to be held up in any such manner and so reported the fraudulent purposes of the claimants to the United States authorities, who at once began an investigation."

Arthur G. Wells Going Up the Railroad Ladder Rapidly.

A telegram, sent out from Los Angeles yesterday, gives the news that Arthur G. Wells, now superintendent of the lines west of Albuquerque, has been appointed general manager of the same lines, vice W. G. Nevitt, deceased. The appointment is effective on February 1.

People of Albuquerque have noticed Mr. Wells' promotions from a clerical position to the present important and responsible office, and The Citizen, with many friends here, consider him a most able railroad manager, and again congratulate him upon his promotion.

Capt. W. C. Reid, of Las Vegas, assistant United States attorney, and Deputy Marshal Frank Hall, returned yesterday from an extensive trip down along the line of the El Paso & North-eastern. They made several important catches while in Lincoln county, among them being the notorious timber thief, C. E. Harrison, who for the past two years has given the Lincoln county authorities so much trouble. Captain Reid continued on north to his home and headquarters at Las Vegas.

Rev. George H. Brewer, the Baptist missionary in this territory, returned to the city last night from northern New Mexico.

JICARILLA PLACER DISTRICT.

Old and New Methods of Working the District.

The following information is taken in part from a prospectus printed by the White Oaks Eagle for the Jicarilla Placer company in 1898, and is probably the most reliable data to be had concerning the resources of the district.

"It has been conceded by all authorities for many years that the Jicarilla placers are the richest and most extensive in the territory, if not the richest in the entire United States. All kinds of tests have been made of the pay dirt and the verdict has been unanimous that the deposit of gold there is practically without limit, and has a quality of fineness rare in placer diggings, which fact has been demonstrated by frequent assays from the United States mints, giving as high as 999 in fineness, or $19.40 an ounce, showing the gold to be almost pure."

"The locality embraces an area of about ten square miles, having an average depth of about twelve feet, in which the greater portion of the placer deposit is found, or about 123,904,000 cubic yards of dirt containing gold, some of it running fabulously high. Conservative estimates have placed the value of the dirt at 30 cents a cubic yard. It will be readily seen that at this low estimate, that there are millions of gold yet to be taken from these placers."

"The principal gulches in the placer district are as follows: Ancho, six miles long; Rico, five miles; Juana, four miles; Pine, five miles; Spring, three miles; Soldier, two miles; White Oaks, two miles. Besides these there are other general and lateral gulches that contain gold."

"In spite of the fact that until recently little water has been obtainable, hundreds of thousands of dollars have been taken out by the crude methods of the dry washer, small rocker, etc., or such devices as could be constructed most readily and at least expense. The rocker as shown in the center of this page being the most generally used for securing the gold. The natives here are obtaining water to be used in the rocker by rolling great snow balls and then melting it in a vessel over a plankton fire, others have hauled water a distance of several miles, and still others have resorted to catching the flood waters during the wet season to pour into their rockers, but none of these methods have proven very profitable since the early history of the camp when Otero, father of our present governor, worked a regiment of peons in the district one winter and cleaned up, it is said, about $80,000. The salary of these semi-slaves was small, if they were paid anything at all, and their food of the plainest kind, evidently."

Many thousands of dollars have been expended, trying to secure water, and all kinds of speculation resorted to by different companies; some of the schemes embracing plans for piping it from Rio Bonito, forty miles south, and from the Capitan mountains a distance of nearly thirty miles, but never succeeded until the American Placer company undertook it little over a year ago, put in powerful drilling machinery and obtained an abundance of water at a reasonable depth, following which they installed the Johnston placer dredge."

"The dredge is now in operation and there is no brighter field anywhere for this character of mining. The new line, El Paso & Rock Island railway, passes within seven miles."

THE COPPER MARKET.

Bound to See Better Prices Within the Next Six Months.

The following comment concerning the copper situation is taken from the recent number of the Mining and Engineering Review, a competent authority on all matters in mining:

"Notwithstanding the decline in copper prices, owing mainly to manipulation by John D. Rockefeller, who made such a wonderful success on the same lines in the oil fields of the east, we venture to predict that copper will not only regain its seemingly lost strength, but will advance to a price within the next six months which it has never before attained; and John D. Rockefeller will know that he has been in a fight before he gets his game bagged. The copper mine's of the United States are a different lot to the poor well drilled of Pennsylvania, and they have already called the hands of the Amalgamated Copper company and the United Metals Selling company, and their bluffs have been exposed."

"While it is true that business is duller than usual in manufacturing centers in Europe, where copper to a large extent is required, yet it is a fact that the visible supply of copper is shorter than usual; the consumption in the United States is increasing rapidly, and there are no unusually large stocks of copper held by any company. If there should be a sudden demand in Europe it will require every pound of available copper in the United States to meet it."

"In corroboration of the above statement a manufacturer of electrical supplies said last week in the Native Copper Times:

"If there should be a movement of the largest producers of copper, looking to higher prices, the 100,000,000 pounds stored by the United Metals Selling company would not last two weeks. There are over 100,000,000 pounds less copper and brass in the hands of manufacturers now than there was a year or two ago, and we are doing a better business now than we were then."

Harry Rankin and wife, of Kansas City, passed through the city today on the limited for southern California. Don J. Rankin, brother of Harry Rankin, was at the depot to say "howdy" to them.

KNEW KIT CARSON.

Rev. A. N. Powell, of Colorado Springs, Reminiscent.

CROSSED PLAINS WITH SCOUT.

Over in the southwestern part of Colorado Springs, facing the entire western range, stands a new cottage built of shingles, its gray paint almost immaculately clean, and such a decided atmosphere of wholesome thrift and cleanliness pervades the entire house that one instinctively wonders about the inmates of the cozy little house.

The visitor at this ideal home, upon entering the place will be welcomed to take a seat in the little front parlor by the neatness of women, whose cultured accent at once betokens the student and scholar. She will most likely be sewing or mending, and even while continuing her work she will soon be telling you confidentially that she is 75 years old and that her husband, who, she says looks much older than herself is in reality about six months younger. Here live the Rev. Alfred N. Powell and his wife, who after wandering all over the country, have finally colonized to Colorado Springs as the ideal place in which they are going to spend their declining years.

FRIEND OF KIT CARSON.

Rev. Powell at one time traveled the western plains and in the mountains in company with the noted scout, Kit Carson, and his band of traders and trappers. Although he has passed the scriptural three score and ten, his memory would put to shame the average young man of the present day. Mr. Powell is a Kentuckian by birth and although circumstances have limited his scope somewhat, he is of the type of the grand old men who have built up the destinies of the great nations of the day—men like Washington, Daniel Webster, Bismarck and Lincoln—such men who are the salt of the earth and who leave mankind to successors of immortal usefulness.

"Oh, yes, I have had a rather exciting life, but nothing remarkable after all," said Mr. Powell a few days ago as a Gazette reporter spent an afternoon in his delightful home, listening to the wonderful tales with which Mr. Powell can interest one.

"The most vivid recollection of my early career in the west was my first trip—not that it was anything particularly unusual, but being the first it impressed me the most. This was the first time that I met Kit Carson—by the way I was going to go west just for the fun of the trip. I was young and strong and wanted to see a bit of the world. I was employed by a man named Reed, who owned two wagons which he was going to freight to Santa Fe, away at the edge of the world. This was in October in 1848. We started on the second day of the month, leaving early in the morning. There were six in the party. Judge Baird, who was going to Santa Fe, the capital New Mexico, as it might be termed, to represent the terms of the independent government of Texas to the rights of owning the entire territory of New Mexico. This territory claimed that it was a part of national domain, while Texas claimed that New Mexico was state land belonging to herself. He was going to appear before a council at Santa Fe to attempt to convince the people there of the advisability of belonging to Texas rather than to the federal government. In all, there were six people in our party after leaving the boundary of Missouri. We were on the lookout for Kit Carson, for to tell the truth we were afraid to start out far with such a small company.

FIRST INDIAN SCARE.

"We had traveled as far as Diamond Springs, a mile or two out of Council Grove, when we suddenly found that the Indians were all around us. We decided to wait there for the Indians seemed friendly toward us and thought that Carson would soon be coming that way. We had not been there many hours when Kit Carson, his brother, Lindsey Carson, and Captain Owens and a doctor, whose name I do not recall, and a Mexican servant met us. Carson came up to us and shook hands with all. He always was the very soul of politeness and well bred courtesy, very much a gentleman, indeed, and even under the strongest provocation he never forgot his manners.

"We all rested here awhile and just at nightfall the mules suddenly picked up their ears, acted queerly and all of them looked in the direction of a lot of brush and small trees. Then we heard a noise as of a thousand Indians. At least, so I then thought. It came nearer and we thought that the Indians were upon us surely this time. After a while Carson told us that the noise was made by wolves. The great gray wolf, as well as the coyote, was very plentiful then. I never heard such an unearthly din as those beasts could make upon the prairies upon a still night.

"This was my first Indian scare and I was never scared after that. In the morning we did meet a number of Indians, but they proved friendly. Carson spoke to them in English and the latter replied in broken English.

"We continued our journey toward the Arkansas river, nothing of great consequence happening until we arrived there. We camped at several places and hunted and killed a few buffaloes on the way. One of the greatest sights used to be to see Kit Carson, seated on his black horse, riding in among a herd of buffaloes and getting the entire herd on a run. Then, when they were all running at a great speed, he would shoot the last one. We asked why he did this, and he replied that the fat ones could not run as fast as the others, and the best way to get at the fat ones was to start them in motion, and the laggards could easily be picked out.

SAME OLD MULE.

"When we came to the Arkansas we had a great time fording the river. The first wagon of provisions was hauled into the river, when the entire wagon was in the water the mules absolutely refused to budge another step. Whipping and everything else availed nothing. We then drove the next team in, and just as the teams were parallel, the long and sort of it was that we had to unharness the teams, and had to take everything out of the wagons; then we fixed up a team of the best mules, and had to haul all our provisions and goods over in small hundred pound lots. It took us all day to do this, and the first mouthful of food for that day we had at nightfall. I remember very distinctly that we had flapjacks and coffee for supper that night. Soon after this, just as we were across the Arkansas, Carson bid us all good bye and we started out for the rest of the distance alone.

"We remained in Santa Fe all winter, and returned in the spring. During the winter the Fremont expedition people, who had been frozen out in the attempt to cross the range at a place near Williams' canyon, at Manitou, came to Santa Fe and stayed there until spring. Old Bill Williams, after whom I believe Williams' canyon is named, guided Fremont up in this part of the country, and Fremont used to encourage him for attempting to guide them across the range at Williams' canyon, saying that he was an uncertain and unreliable guide, but Williams said that he had a ways opposed going across at this point, but that the rest of the party insisted so that he finally gave in to them. Our trip from the present boundary of Missouri to Santa Fe occupied the time from October 2 to November 17, and this was considered a remarkably short trip at that time.

A MAD BUFFALO.

"In coming back we came with a wagon train of 80 wagons, all of them driven in double file, so that in case of unexpected Indian attack we could formily ourselves between the two rows of wagons. As we came through Kansas, nearly all the buffaloes had disappeared, being still on the feeding ground farther south. There were a few old isolated animals, which had not followed the rest of the herd. One day we came across a bunch of three, and as the dogs ran out and teased them one of them suddenly became suddenly stampeded and ran directly for our train, rushing blindly between the two rows of wagons, and finally charging right on a team and becoming entangled in the iron chains and tearing the mules. The Mexican driving jumped down and thrust a long spear right into the frantic animal, killing it instantly and then with a quick swish of his lasso he cut the warm tongue right out of the animal. All this happened without the train halting one second. That was the way things were done in those days.

"Coming back, we met P. X. Aubrey, a trapper and trader, who was a great character in those days. He was crossing the plains all alone, and he had many a time before and afterward. These wagon trains were great institutions in those days, and a picturesque sight they were, too. Imagine a hundred or more white covered wagons, carrying all kinds of goods for trade with the Indians, and returning with rich pelts of fur and other goods from the Indians. But the stories that these men could tell when they returned! It was like hearing from another world."—Colorado Springs, Colorado, Gazette.

LIVELY RUNAWAY.

Mike, the French Bakery Horse, Caused Fun for Awhile.

A short but exciting runaway occurred yesterday afternoon at the corner of Railroad avenue and First street when the horse hitched to the French bakery wagon took a notion to run things. The horse was tied to the curb on First street while the driver, who happened to be Mr. Berger himself, went into the new eating house in the Everett building. Mike, as the horse is called, broke his rope and started south at full speed. At Sturges' corner he turned north, but the turn was so short that the wagon was turned over and the contents dumped on the ground. The horse, with the wagon dragging, again turned and went east almost to the corner, where he was stopped, having done no more damage than to "pi the pie" and give the wagon a good shaking up.

NEW CATHOLIC LODGE.

Will Be Instituted in Albuquerque the Coming Saturday.

An Albuquerque lodge of the Knights of Columbus is now being organized. Mayor Warren is in receipt of a telegram which reads as follows:

"Have family prepared to institute Sunday. Will arrive in Albuquerque Saturday morning. Reserve hotel accommodations for twenty men."

"JOHN REDDEN." About a week ago a party of gentlemen, whose names were published in an article in last Saturday's Citizen, left Denver for a tour over several of the western states and territories, including, and instituting local councils of the Knights of Columbus.

When N. T. McNary, one of the national directors of the order, and who spent several days in Albuquerque, learned that this party of Knights from Denver, would pass through the city on their return from the coast, decided to rush things and have them stop and institute the local council.

It is essential that the names of the charter members should be passed on in New York, and to get them there and back by the time the organizers get here, it was necessary to send them by telegraph.

Mr. McNary received a telegram from Supreme Knight Charles Kearns, of Boston, stating that the circumstances were extraordinary and that all technicalities might be dispensed with.

The Denver party, consisting of the following gentlemen, will arrive Saturday morning and be here until Monday: Colonel Frank Tower, Joe and Frank Newman, Dan B. Carey, John D. Rogers, Stanley McGinnis, Thomas Morrow, Morris Dolan, P. H. Mullen, W. T. Davoren, George Dostal, Thomas E. Burke, Richard F. Hayden, Dr. Edward Dehanty and John H. Redden, deputy for the Denver district.

On Sunday the local lodge will be instituted, the afternoon will be spent in conferring the first and second degrees, and the evening the third. The Albuquerque council will start with close to sixty charter members, and a good prospect for a rapid increase. A cordial reception is being prepared for the visiting knights.

NOT MARRIED.

Walter St. John Makes Objection—Item Corrected.

On the Hotel Highland register yesterday was the inscription "Walter St. John and wife." In taking off the names from the register for publication in The Citizen the reporter read "one" as "wife," and, without giving the matter any thought whatever, wrote out "Walter St. John and wife." To show how quick the news in The Citizen is relayed, half an hour after the first copy of the paper yesterday afternoon had been printed Mr. St. John was at the office with a kick coming. He emphatically denied that he was a married man; says he is not yet acquainted with the lady who would like to be Mrs. St. John, and that, to his best knowledge and belief, has no wife in Albuquerque. He has never made it a practice to travel around the country with ladies, claiming that they were part and parcel of himself, and although no angel, he seriously objects to being made a married man when yet single. The Citizen gladly makes the correction, and takes this method of publicly informing the Chamberlain Medicine company, of Des Moines, Iowa, which is represented by Mr. St. John, that the word "wife" should have read "one," and that the young gentleman is O. K. out this way. Mr. St. John went west last night.

CHAMPION DRILLER.

Richard Conway on His Return to Cripple Creek.

Richard Conway, of Cripple Creek, the champion single handed drill, was a passenger on No. 2 this morning. Mr. Conway is just returning from El Paso, where he won the $200 purse at the carnival tournament by going through twenty-one and a half inches of Gunnison granite in fifteen minutes with a seven-eighths drill. In speaking of the El Paso tournament Mr. Conway says that it was one of the best that he has ever attended, the prizes being good and the decisions were entirely fair. In the contest of team drilling, while Tarr brothers beat the terrible Swedes, it was very hard to tell who were the best men. Besides the carnival prize Mr. Conway received many other valuable presents.

CONCERT AND BALL.

To Be Given Next Month by the Italian Band.

The Italian band, which was recently organized in this city, and whose members have been practicing faithfully for the past few months, have decided to give a concert and ball next month, the date to be announced later.

The band boys will soon purchase a full set of uniforms, which will cost about $800, and therefore the proceeds of the concert and ball will help to defray the expenses in purchasing them.

This band is directed by Prof. B. Ramirez, a first class musician and director, who assures public that after having equipped themselves with the new uniforms and other necessary things, he will come out with as good a band as Albuquerque ever had.

DR. CHAMBERLIN MARRIED.

Marrried at Muncie, Indiana, to Miss May Heath.

Dr. L. H. Chamberlin, of this city, was married this morning at Muncie, Indiana, to Miss May Heath, sister of Perry A. Heath, formerly first assistant postmaster general. Dr. Chamberlin is a popular dentist in this city and was first lieutenant in Captain Borradale's company during the Spanish-American war. Miss Heath has traveled extensively and has a rare contralto voice that has been heard in Washington and many large cities. The happy couple will make their future home in this city, where the bride has a large circle of friends, she having spent a year here for her health.

Seems to Have Struck It Rich.

W. D. Powell, who is now developing a group of copper mines in the Jerome country for the Black Rock Gold and Copper Mining company, seems to have struck a rich deposit of copper, running over 2 per cent. Mr. Powell is enthusiastic over the results of development so far and is convinced that there is as much ore of a richer quality than in Senator Clark's wonder. The ore sent in by Mr. Powell is exceedingly rich, and if there is a body of it, as claimed by Mr. Powell, there will be a few rich mine owners in Flagstaff. The stock of the company has not been offered for sale yet, but considerable has been sold by agreement at 25 cents a share. If the mines continue to increase in wealth the stock will be taken off the market.—Flagstaff Sun.

BURNS' RANCH.

Possession Over a Small Ranch Results in a Bloody Shooting.

GEORGE CONARD THE VICTIM.

Last Thursday morning, at Burns' Ranch, this county, John J. Tobin shot and seriously wounded George N. Conard, a well-known cattle man. The facts of the shooting as learned by us is as follows: For a week or more Conard and a hired man had been at work putting the Burns ranch, a small tract of land five miles west of Mud Springs, in shape for the planting of a garden, but had run out of provisions and horse feed and had gone to Chisago to replenish the supplies. Returning Thursday morning he found Tobin in possession of the place. As he was driving down the road from the summit of the range to the ranch he was halted by Tobin, who ordered him to go no farther. Conard stated to Tobin that he wanted no trouble with him, but that he was going to put his feed and provisions in a shed used as a barn. Tobin called to his wife, asking her if she had her gun ready and the woman came out at once and went toward Conard. Disregarding the attitude of Tobin, Conard started the team toward the barn and Tobin raised his gun to shoot. Conard said, don't shoot, at the same time reaching for a rifle that lay in the wagon. As soon as Tobin saw the rifle he ran to the house and took refuge behind it. The woman then caught the horses' heads and stopped the team. Not wishing to have a row with the woman, Conard began to unhitch the team and the woman stood back and looked on. When the team was unhitched the hired man took the horses to the water and was giving them a drink. Conard picked up a box and placing it on his shoulder started for the shed, leaving his rifle standing against the wagon. He was halted by Tobin before he had gone many yards and told to drop the box and that he, Tobin, would put it away. Conard said, I will put it away myself. Tobin then raised his gun and fired, the head of buckshot, passing over Conard's head, the lead striking him in the face. He again fired, this time the lead striking Conard in the right arm as he had it raised up holding the box on his shoulder. Had it not been for the box his head would have been torn off. As it was his arm caught the whole force of the charge and was horribly torn up. The box fell from the nerveless arm and Conard started for the wagon. Tobin called to his wife to get Conard's rifle and shoot the arm of a b—h. The woman grabbed up the gun and started away from Conard with it. Tobin again called to her to bring it to him, which she did. As soon as Tobin got the gun he took aim and fired at Conard, shooting him through the front part of the left leg above the knee. Conard and the hired man were getting away over the hill as fast as they could go and were soon out of range. The wounded man walked and rode the five miles to his home at Mud Springs, the wounds bleeding profusely. When he arrived at his home he was weak from loss of blood. His wife and hired man at once set about getting a wagon ready and brought the wounded man to town, arriving here about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. A complaint was sworn to and officers sent out to arrest the shooters. Tobin went to Chisago and gave himself up. The officers are expected in today with the wife, who is jointly charged with the crime.

The trouble grew out of the possession of the Burns' Ranch. Over a year ago Conard leased the ranch to Tobin and wife and aided them in putting in a garden. When the lease had expired Tobin set up that he was as much entitled to the ranch as Conard and refused to pay rent or vacate. Conard brought an action of forcible detainer against Tobin and the court awarded judgment for Conard, defendant Tobin failing to appear and defend. By an order of court Tobin and wife were removed from the place and at their request their goods were taken to Tillman's. The matter was supposed to rest there, but subsequent events prove that Tobin proposed to have the ranch right or wrong.

Conard is now at Hotel Beale under the care of Dr. Ealy and is getting along as well as could be expected. There are several wounds in his arm made by the buckshot. One of the buckshot struck him in the breast, but striking a rib, glanced off, inflicting a flesh wound. The rifle wound in the leg is large and painful.—Kingman, Ariz., Miner.

GRANT COUNTY DEATH.

James Keefover and Fred Shelton Pass Over the Divide.

James T. Keefover, who followed freighting as an occupation, died at his home north of Silver City Saturday, after a short illness, from pneumonia. He was aged 38 years and is survived by his wife and three children. Deceased was a hard working and industrious citizen. He came to Silver City from Hillsboro some years ago, and recently has been freighting between that city and the Mogollon mining district. The remains were taken to the Gila for interment.

Died, at his home in Silver City, Friday afternoon, January 24, 1902, Frederick T. Shelton, aged 59 years, 3 months and 14 days. Fred Shelton was one of the oldest and most popular residents of Silver City. He was born and raised in the state of New York. In 1861 he left his home, joined the Union army and remained in the service of his country until the end of the war. In 1877 he came to New Mexico and settled in Silver City. Here he engaged in business and was for many years very prosperous. When the price of silver declined and hard times came upon the country, Mr. Shelton went out of business, and thence forward earned a living by working for others.

SANTA FE MAN INVOLVED.

Sensational Diamond Stealing Case on Trial at San Diego.

A dispatch from San Diego, Cal., under date of January 28, says:

The H. R. Hall and "Bessie Hall" diamond stealing case is on trial before Judge Torrance of the superior court. Hall was for a month or two the night operator at the Santa Fe depot, during which time there was much complaint being made because articles of value were missed from baggage at the depot. Finally Mrs. H. H. Stowell, a wealthy New York woman, going to the Hotel del Coronado, reported the loss of diamonds approaching $1,000 in valuation. Local detectives went to work on the case, and Detective Selvy of the Santa Fe system was sent for. In the meantime Hall was up for petty larceny in the justice court and had to furnish $100 bond. He pawned to Eugene Daney a $500 diamond ring in consideration of the latter going his security. It was found that this ring was the property of Mrs. Stowell and not only Hall, but his alleged sister, "Bessie Hall," were arrested. The preliminary examination brought out other damaging testimony, and the detectives claim to have found any amount of property which Hall had pilfered. A few days ago D. E. Grosh of Del Rio, Texas, arrived in the city. He is said to be the husband of "Bessie Hall," and does not deny it, although he registered at the hotel under an assumed name. He and Hall have met before, and there are rumors of a shooting scrape in New Mexico. At any rate, Hall made away with his wife and in vengeance Grosh will do all in his power to assist sending him over the road. He will try to rescue his wife and will return her to her parents. The trial promises sensational developments.

SERIOUSLY SHOT.

Cliff Rancher Drops His Colt and Receives Bullet in Return.

John Lee, a rancher living near Cliff, on the Gila river, was a victim of a very serious accident Saturday, caused by his six-shooter dropping out of his pocket and going off, inflicting a bad wound.

At the time of the accident Mr. Lee was in his home. He was in a recumbent position, when his six-shooter, which he carried in his pants pocket, dropped out upon the floor and discharged. The bullet entered his body on the right side, at a point below the shoulder blade and passed through the lung in an upward direction coming out in front. He was given what attention could be secured and brought to Silver City for medical treatment.

Dr. O. J. Westlake was notified, and meeting the wounded man about eight miles out on the road Saturday night accompanied him to town, where he was taken to the Ladies' hospital. Yesterday he was getting along first rate, although the outcome is problematical.

Mr. Lee was only married a few months ago, and his wife was alone with him at the time of the accident. Mrs. Lee is now nursing him at the hospital.—Silver City Independent.

WAGON STOLEN.

A Mesa Thief Got Away With Goods Belonging to Trimble.

W. L. Trimble & Co. lost a good horse from death on the mesa late yesterday afternoon. One of the drivers was returning to the city from the firm's camp near San Pedro, and near Jones' place on the mesa one of the horses suddenly took sick and died. The driver unhitched the other horse from the wagon and rode it into the city, leaving the wagon and its contents, consisting of some bedding and blankets, on the mesa over night. This morning the driver went out to the mesa to bring in the wagon, and discovered that some person in the meantime had appeared and carted it away. The wagon was trailed into the city, but the trail was lost on East Railroad avenue. Marshal McMillin and his sleuth-hounds are in possession of these facts, and hope to run down the thief in a very short time.

THROWN INTO SHAFT.

Enemies Pitched Mining Man Down a Hole.

Saturday, at a small mining camp called Black Rock, about twelve miles from Fort Thomas, Ariz., Fred Haas, a well known cattle and mining man, was forcibly seized by four or five men and carried to the brink of the shaft and hurled to the bottom.

Mr. Haas remained in the shaft several hours before being discovered and when taken out was unconscious. He was taken immediately to Pima, twenty miles away, the nearest point, where there is a physician.

The guilty parties had not been apprehended at the time Sheriff Parks left Graham county, but the act is no doubt traceable to a quarrel of a long standing between Haas and other parties in that vicinity over the possession of valuable mining property.

Permanent Museum.

A short time ago The Citizen gave currency to the report that the Santa Fe railway company would establish a permanent museum in this city in connection with the handsome Alvarado hotel. The following dispatch from Chicago verifies The Citizen's article:

The management of the Santa Fe company has decided to establish at Albuquerque the largest archeological and ethnological museum in the United States. The purpose of the venture is to provide a novel attraction at that place. The museum will contain a collection valued at between $100, 000 and $150,000. The collections will be largely from the ruins of New Mexico and Arizona, but will include exhibits from almost every country of the world.

FOREST RANGERS.

Their Selection Is To Be Left Entirely to The Forest Supervisors.

A Washington dispatch says: President Roosevelt today carried out the promise made Saturday to Forest Supervisor Seth Bullock, that in future forest rangers shall be selected by the supervisors, and not by the secretary of the interior, by writing a peremptory letter to the secretary of the interior to that effect. It directs the secretary in future to leave the appointment of forest rangers wholly in the hands of the forest supervisors, who know what is required and who will name western men, familiar with the country, able to camp out in snow or blizzard, and to meet every requirement of the arduous situation. Eastern theorists and "tenderfeet" must not be given places.

Representative Tongue, of Oregon, called on the president today and presented a long petition signed by the members of the courts of his state, members of the legislature and prominent citizens generally, protesting against what they understand to be the new policy of the interior department as to the policing of forest reservations.

The petitioners insist that the forest rangers now employed, who are well acquainted with their duties and perform them faithfully, should be retained, and the policing of the parks not turned over to inexperienced men.

ESCAPES WRECK.

Incendiaries Burn Trusses on Pintado Bridge Near Junction of Rock Island and El Paso Roads.

Information has reached El Paso of the burning, by incendiaries, of the Pintado bridge, located on the El Paso & Northwestern railroad, about six miles southwest of the Pecos river, approximately the junction of the El Paso and Rock Island roads.

A construction train bearing a large amount of material and many workmen crossed the partially burned bridge before its condition had been observed. Considering the extent of the damage to the bridge, it is considered marvelous to bridge men that the structure and train did not go down.

Around the bridge the incendiaries heaped brush, to which they set fire.

Discharged employees of the road are suspected as the perpetrators of the fire, although no direct evidence incriminating them has been secured. A reward of $200 is offered for the apprehension of the incendiaries.—El Paso News.

Go Up for Sixty Days.

A man, calling himself Charles Williams, but who has several aliases, will serve a sixty days sentence in the county jail as the result of stealing a pair of trousers from his roommate, William King. Last Monday night he took from a room, at the Kelly boarding house, a pair of pants and immediately left for Las Vegas. The trousers belonged to King, and he reported the theft to the police, stating that Williams would undoubtedly return to this city. Last night as he alighted from a train from the north, an officer put hands on Williams and marched him off to the city jail. Justice Crawford measured talents with him this morning, and thought he would be a good addition to the county jail force for the next sixty days.

Dr. Cassels was the doctor summoned and he succeeded after a time in stopping the man's hiccoughs and inducing his patient's bowels to perform their natural function. Mondragon, who is a man of family and very poor, is now on the high road to recovery.—Denning Headlight.

On account of the great number of accidents that have been recorded in the past few months it has been suggested by Representative Wood, of California, that congress take some action and inquire into the causes and in some manner provide legislative remedies to prevent the same. As an example of what congress has done toward bettering railroad devices Mr. Wood refers to the fact that congress brought about the uniform use of safety couplings, and he thinks that something can be done along other lines.

The Lordsburg Liberal says: The Southern Pacific is making some much needed changes at Stein's Pass. A second sidetrack is being put in. The freight depot is to be moved to the south side of the track, a new station house is to be built at about the place the old one was burned some time ago, and a Y is being put in, which, it is expected will take the place of the old turn table, which is not large enough for some of the engines that are likely to use it. The railroad will then be able to care for the large shipments which will soon be made from that place.

Architect Whittlesley has finished the drawings and specifications for the new Santa Fe freight depot. The new one will be such an improvement over the old one that there will be little relation between the two. The office building with the warehouse and platform attached will be about 600 feet long, extending from between Silver and Lead avenues to the viaduct. The main building, consisting of trainmaster's offices, freight offices and warehouse, will front on First street, between Silver and Lead avenues. It will be 32x38 feet and two-story. The freight offices will be upstairs and the train offices down. The warehouse will be 24 feet wide and 125 feet long, and attached to the south side of the office building. There will be two platforms, one 200 feet long and the other 450 feet long, and both will be 15 feet wide and covered. Work will begin as soon as the contracts are let and the material can be secured. This will give First street a busy appearance and be a great improvement over the old location, because it will be handier to the business part of the city.

TO PREVENT COLLISIONS.

Duplicate Train-Order System May Be Adopted by the D. & R. G.

The duplicate train order system recently adopted by the Chicago & Alton may soon be adopted by Colorado railroads. The Denver & Rio Grande is the first road in that state to consider it seriously. Under this system it is said head-end collisions are impossible.

Under the present system each train receives an order to meet another at a certain station. These orders were sent to the trains far from the meeting place. Often when the train misinterpreted the order a wreck was the result. Under the new system the orders are duplicated and sent to the operator at the point at which the trains are to meet. He holds either train until the other arrives.

In General Manager Herbert's office at Denver it was stated that the system was being considered. The only drawback, it was said, was that it made extra work for the dispatchers, who already had all they could do.

CORONA.

New Settlement on El Paso & Rock Island Railway in Lincoln County.

Fifty miles from Carrizozo, at the point generally known in Lincoln county as Gallo Lake, a new town has recently sprung up. The location is good, being in the heart of Lincoln county's best stock country for both sheep and cattle. Agriculture will also command more or less attention. The soil in the vicinity is extremely fertile and water has been secured within a few miles of Corona in quantity and the quality is excellent.

F. A. DuBois, the merchant and founder of the town, is a man of considerable means, and is establishing a big cattle and sheep ranch near the new city. Mr. DuBois is also interested in valuable properties at Santa Rosa and oil lands near there. He has made application for precinct and school district, and will have a postoffice in a short time.

Within the next fifteen days it is expected that the two crews will meet and complete the laying of steel. It is contemplated by the officials of the road to have passenger trains running between El Paso and Bisbee some time during the month of February. As the El Paso branch will not be completed for about a year, the El Paso & Southwestern company has made arrangements to run their trains between Deming and El Paso over the Santa Fe tracks, thus giving through service between El Paso and Bisbee.

BIG RAILROAD SCHEME.

Line Sixty Miles Long to Be Constructed From Springer to the Old Baldy Mining Section.

Thomas Sewell, former manager of the Brunswick hotel of this city, and W. A. Stinchcomb, formerly on the editorial staff of the Times, have demonstrated the possibilities for those who are not afraid to take off their coats and work, coupling with their labors intelligence and integrity. A mining enterprise of magnificent proportions, a railroad to haul its product and all the vast investment of capital necessary thereto is what they have either accomplished in fact or have all plans perfected for. More over, these plans include the money in bank to accomplish all that has not been completed.

A dozen years ago there was no better known business man in Denver than Tom Sewell, as he was familiarly called. The Brunswick hotel was popular because of the standing of its proprietor and good reputation that he was always careful to merit for his house. He was associated with Colonel Taylor and enjoyed a good patronage. But he grew tired of the slow growth of the hotel business in Denver and disposed of the hotel, starting out prospecting in northern New Mexico.

In his wanderings to search for one of nature's hidden storehouses of wealth he explored the Rio river section. His labors were rewarded by the discovery of what he believed to be a rich vein and he located claims upon the prospects that were revealed by surface work. Believing that it was a property of great possibilities he wrote and told his friend, Stinchcomb, of his good fortune. After leaving Denver Mr. Stinchcomb had entered upon the labors of auditor for a New York railroad. Fired by the enthusiasm of Mr. Sewell and impressed with the integrity and sincerity of the prospector he came to examine the property.

It is sixty miles from Springer to Elizabethtown, where the mines are located, much of the way through a rugged country. But Mr. Stinchcomb was convinced of the correctness of his friend's deductions as to the value and promise of the property. After the long journey by rail he traveled the distance overland and made a thorough examination of the prospects, taking samples in all the workings sufficient for a thorough test. He was convinced it was a big thing from the day he first saw the surface workings. Assays proved the correctness of his conclusions. Then he resigned his salaried position and started out to organize a company with capital adequate to handle it.

Ohio men invested upon his representations and development work soon demonstrated that the faith placed in the property was well founded. Adjoining claims were secured until the company owned a group comprising thirty, consolidated in the Old Baldy group and the style of the corporation is "The Old Baldy Mining & Milling company." Tom Sewell was bought out entirely and was employed as general manager, a position which he has held ever since and has shown the wisdom of the selection by developing one of the richest mines of the south west.

A few weeks ago a strike of very rich ore was reported in this mine, characterized by those familiar with its importance as the biggest strike made in New Mexico in recent years. In the McGluty claim of the group was opened up a body of high-grade ore, so marvelously rich as to astonish even Manager Sewell. As all of the claims are located on the same vein this strike insures the expectations of the most sanguine members of the company.

For years the detriment to advancement of the section around Old Baldy has been the lack of transportation facilities. This obstacle will be removed so far as the Old Baldy company is concerned, for the directors have decided to build a railroad from Springer to the mines, Elizabethtown being its terminus. At Springer connection will be made with the Santa Fe. It may cost one million or two million dollars to construct the road and equip it with rolling stock. The capital has been subscribed by the Ohio men interested in the company and by Chicago capitalists. Full investigation and intimate knowledge of the country decided the men of finance that no better investment offered in the country. This has been shown by the advent of Mr. Reiling, the man whose genius was the master mind in directing the work of the great Chicago Dredging company. Recently he evolved a method of using dredges in development around Elizabethtown and will direct the method of operating a number of the dredges to be built especially for the work, which has already been begun.

W. A. Stinchcomb, who has been the moving spirit of all this enterprise, since Tom Sewell first intrusted to him the carrying out of details, has the fullest confidence of the commercial world and financiers familiar with his work are willing and anxious to become shareholders in a company which it is believed will develop into one of the biggest mining, milling and transportation enterprises of late years.

A suit, involving the time limit of a railroad ticket, has been filed in the district court at Salina, Kan., by A. W. Wickham against the Santa Fe railroad. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery Gives Working Strength.

"I know you expected a letter from me some time ago, but I will state my reasons, plainly, why I did not write before this," says Mr. Joseph Grass, of Brewer, Perry Co., Mo. "It was because I did not wish to deceive any one. I wanted to be sure that your 'Golden Medical Discovery' had benefited me and it took time after I stopped taking the medicine before I felt sure I had realized permanent results from its use. After taking six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and one vial of your 'Pleasant Pellets' am able to do a day's work with any man. I cannot express in words the good your medicines have done me."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

ARIZONA MISSIONARY.

He Will Try to Exterminate the Tiburon Indian Tribe.

Charles Meadows, better known as "Arizona Charlie," a long-haired gun fighter, has started for Tiburon or Shark island in the gulf of California, to see what can be done towards taming or exterminating the Seri Indians, who have resisted all attempts to civilize them. Charlie goes alone, armed with an improved Mauser rifle and thinks he can stand off the entire tribe if things come to show-down. If he can't civilize the Indians he will kill the whole tribe and return with their scalps dangling at his belt. Charlie claims to have a concession from the Mexican government for the island, and proposes to take possession of his property at once, where he will establish a Monte Carlo, or some sort of a crap game. The inhabitants are savages, and so far have defied all efforts to tame them or bring them to account for their many crimes against civilization. Ten years ago they defeated an expedition of Americans sent against them, who, all but one, were roasted and eaten after being slaughtered. The island is about 125 miles from Yuma. It is thirty miles long and can be made valuable from a mineral and agricultural standpoint.

Children Especially Liable.

Burns, bruises and cuts are extremely painful and if neglected often result in blood poisoning. Children are especially liable to such mishaps because not so careful. As a remedy DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled. Draw out the fire, stops the pain, soon heals the wound. Beware of counterfeits. Sure cure for piles. "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured my baby of eczema after two physicians gave her up," writes James Mock, N. Webster, Ind. "Those sores were so bad she soiled two to five dresses a day." J. H. O'Reilly & Co. and B. H. Briggs & Co.

She Died Far From Those She Loved. Mrs. J. J. Barber, of Juneau, Alaska, who had been in the city for the last four months, died this morning at the Las Vegas sanitarium, says the Record.

The deceased lady leaves a husband and one son aged 5 years to mourn her death. Her husband is postmaster at Juneau, where he is at the present time. Mrs. Barber was aged about 32 years, and consumption was the cause of her death.

A Mrs. Lombard, of Portland, Ore., who is a very intimate friend of the family, is expected here to take charge of the remains, which will be shipped to Elizabeth, N. J., for burial.

Don't Live Together.

Constipation and health never go together. DeWitt's Little Early Risers promote easy action of the bowels without distress. "I have been troubled with constiveness nine years," says J. O. Grege, Depauw, Ind. "I have tried many remedies but Little Early Risers give best results." J. H. O'Reilly & Co. and B. H. Briggs & Co.

W. B. Johnson, of Chicago, recently with the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad, is here getting familiar with the duties of general yardmaster for the Santa Fe, to which position he will be appointed at once, says the Pueblo Chieftain. He will succeed C. J. Howard, who resigned to take charge of the railroad yards for the Colorado Fuel & Iron company at the steel works. It is said that the new general yardmaster will make several changes in his force, when he takes charge.

Mrs. Sol. Luna was a passenger on No. 2 this morning, bound for Santa Fe.

THE OLD SANTA FE TRAIL.

[By Richard Burton.]

It wound through starry scarred hills, down canons lone
Where wild things screamed, with winds for company;
Its mile-stones were the bones of pioneers.
Bronzed, haggard men, often with thirst a moan,
Lashed on their breasts of burden toward the sea;
An epic quest it was of elder years, For fabled gardens or for good, red gold.
The trail men strove in iron days of old.

To-day the steam-god thunders through the vast,
While dominant Saxons from the hurtling trains
Smile at the allens, Mexic, Indian, Who offer wares, keen-colored, like their past;
Dread dramas of immitigable plains Rebut the softness of the modern man;
No menace now, the desert's mood of sand;

For, at the magic touch of water, blooms
The wilderness, and where of yore the yoke
Tortured the toilers into dateless toms,
Lo! brightsome fruits to feed a mighty folk.

Preciano Gomez, a Mexican laborer on the Biscoe railroad near Carlsbad Springs, was run over by a car and terribly mangled from the thighs down. He was taken to the Deming hospital and died there.

Engineer Pat Purcell has been assigned to the switch engine service in the Las Vegas yards for two months. In place of Engineer Martin, who has been transferred to the San Marcial division for temporary service.

President W. H. Andrews, Vice President W. S. Hopewell and Chief Engineer A. G. Kennedy of the Santa Fe Central railway, left the capital city yesterday on an overland trip to Vega Blanca, about fifteen miles south of Santa Fe.

C. G. Wood, of Colorado Springs, formerly manager of the Postal Telegraph company's office in Santa Fe, is visiting his old haunts in that city. He is on his way to California, where he will work as operator for the Santa Fe system.

The completion of the Biscoe-Southwestern railroad between Deming and Douglas is announced for February 15, when the greatest producing mining camps in the world will be brought into direct and close connection with Deming.

The Carlsbad Argus says: W. H. Hull is now in full charge of the local railway station. A. A. Driggs making the formal transfer of the office late last week. Harry Driscoll, lately from Canyon City, but who worked here for a short time last spring, now holds down the telegraph key in the office. The new regime is already quite popular, both agent and assistant being efficient and accommodating officials.

It is understood here, among railroaders, that J. E. Hurley will be transferred from the main line to the coast line, and will receive the appointment of general superintendent of the latter, vice A. G. Wells, promoted to the general management.

Work on the Prescott & Eastern railway is going on and is being rapidly completed. It is expected that the road will be completed and trains running by April 1. When completed the road will run from Huron to the Poland mine, a distance of eight miles.

Superintendent Hibbard and a railway surveying corps were at Gallup looking over the ground between Gallup and Gibson with a view of putting in a track to the new Canavan mine, one and a half miles north of Gallup. The shaft is down 132 feet and shows a vein six feet thick, the vein being probably the Old Diamond vein.

A new law went into effect in Old Mexico on January 1, making it compulsory on all foreign railway employees to use the Spanish language. On account of this new law several employees of the Sonora railway are making preparations in the studies of the Spanish language to take an examination, which will be held in Guaymas soon.

The Deming Herald says: Wages are pretty good at the railroad front. Mexicans receiving $1.50 to $1.75 per day, Americans from $1.75 to $2. Excepting the commissary car, there are no stores along the line, and prospectors from Fremont and Hachita districts will do well to go prepared with food, canteens and barrels. Take livery and outfit from Deming.

Octaviano Rodriguez, with eight men and three teams, started yesterday from Santa Fe for the mountains for the purpose of cutting telegraph poles and ties for the Santa Fe Central railway. The material for railroad construction can be cut anywhere on unclaimed and unreserved government land in the vicinity and along the line of the railroad to be constructed.

There were several engineers and surveyors from the east passed through here this week for the hills, looking for reservoir sites. They are sent out here by wealthy men in the east. If they succeed in their mission, and it is devoutly hoped they may, and procure storage for water, Tularosa and the surrounding valley will flourish like a green bay tree.—Tularosa Democrat.

The Lordsburg Liberal says: Tuesday, when the east bound passenger train was in the yard, a tramp stole a fine overcoat from one of the cars. The owner did not miss it until the train left the station. At Separ the conductor telegraphed an account of the theft, and a description of the coat. It did not take Agent Clapp long to find a tramp with pretty tough clothes and a $10 raglan overcoat. Judge McGrath sent the tramp up for ninety days, and the coat was forwarded to its owner.

The El Paso Western Railway company is piling up ties at Carlsbad for the construction of the line from Carlsbad to El Paso, and the junction is again the domicile of a large number of Mexicans who make fairly comfortable shelter out of the ties. The tents for the accommodation of the spend-thrifts are receiving fair patronage.

Thursday a Mexican considered himself robbed at the gaming table, returned with a crowd of friends and missed by a hair killing the proprietor of the saloon. There was much shooting and the Americans in camp had to get out of the way. An employee of the Golden Cross company had a narrow escape, the bullets flying all around him, although he had no part in the quarrel.—Deming Herald.

J. J. Burns, superintendent of the first division of the Denver & Rio Grande, with headquarters at Pueblo for the last ten years, and one of the best known railroad men in the west, tendered his resignation to take effect Saturday. Mr. Burns' successor has not yet been named. Mr. Burns entered into railway service in July, 1865, with the Pennsylvania railroad, at Altoona shops. Later he was with the Union Pacific, and since November, 1888, has been clerk to the superintendent, chief train dispatcher, superintendent of telegraph, general storekeeper, supply agent, purchasing agent and superintendent of the first division of the Denver & Rio Grande. He has many friends in railroad circles, among whom he is very popular.

James Crowley, who has been in the employ of the Santa Fe Pacific for some time past, came in from Guam, N. M., on Tuesday, operations having been suspended on account of bad weather. Mr. Crowley expects to leave in a few days for Los Angeles, where he will remain during his lay off, and will then return to finish work commenced at the above named station, after which he will go to Shawnee, where a spring will be developed and a new pumping plant put in. Since entering the employ of the company he has saved them considerable on the various improvements upon which he has been engaged; the amounts expended being much less than the appropriations made for the work.—Williams News.

General Passenger Agent Hooper has just received a consignment of Rio Grande system calendars from the publishers for local distribution. It is one of the most handsomely designed calendars issued by transportation companies this year, specially intended for distribution in the Orient and on the Pacific coast. It presents a bit of classic architecture through a panel of which is seen a portion of the globe showing a map of the United States and of the Pacific ocean with ports of the Orient. The Rio Grande system is showing as the important connecting link that it is on the through lines across the continent. In sectional panels across the top are shown views of sunset on Salt Lake, Temple square at the Mormon capital, and Castle Gate, three of the famous scenic spots of Utah. The Rio Grande Western has issued a calendar on this idea for several years past, but this is the first time that it has been issued by the parent system. It is a masterpiece of the engraver's and color printer's art.

A COYOTE CHASE.

Sheep Men North of Phoenix Institute a Hunt for the Desert Cur.

Sheep men of the Salt River valley will institute a coyote hunt next week and the stag hounds of E. E. Jack, of the Bartlett-Heard ranch, about two miles north of Glendale, have been engaged for the event, says the Phoenix Gazette.

Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Jack were in the city and discussed the proposed chase.

Thousands of coyotes are now gathered around the sheep-shedding camps north of Phoenix. Such great numbers have never before been known to gather in one spot, and they are inflicting such heavy losses upon the sheep men and in the pig sties and chicken yards of ranchers round about that plans are making for a round-up to rid the country of the pest. Every winter, from ranges in the mountains, thousands of sheep are brought down into the valley, where they are sheared and where the ewes may lamb. This winter a larger number than usual are quartered in the valley, and not less than 100,000 sheep have been sheared.

So many lambs, though, have been taken by the coyotes that thus far the losses will run well up into the thousands of dollars. Neither have the losses been confined to the lambs, the coyotes, contrary to their custom and with their cowardly natures, frequently pulling down the older sheep. All the sheep dogs and all the herders available have been unable to stop the slaughter, so the sheepmen and ranchers have combined forces to slaughter by wholesale the yellow Ishmaelites of the plains. The project contemplates the gathering of as many horsemen and dogs as it is possible next week. Greyhounds bred particularly for coyote coursing have been brought down to lead the chase.

Perhaps for the first time in the history of stock raising in Arizona the cattlemen will aid the sheepmen. Two hundred horsemen have promised to be in the hunt next week, and the scope of the chase will cover nearly fifteen square miles. Dogs for ten miles about will be pressed into service. With a force of perhaps a thousand dogs and two hundred rough riding cow punchers, not a coyote should escape.

RAILROAD IMPROVEMENTS.

Southern Pacific Will Spend Almost a Million Dollars in Dona Ana County. The Southern Pacific has decided to construct a cut-off between El Paso and Strauss, Dona Ana county. The contract has been given to the Nelson Construction company. A sharp curve and a bad grade will be overcome by the cut-off, especially between Strauss and Rogers. The grade is now 15.5 is 52.3 feet per mile, but the improvements will bring it down to 31 feet. The cost of this construction will be over $700,000. About 2,000 men and 800 teams will be employed. A million and a half cubic yards of material are to be removed from thirteen miles of road within four months. Steam shovels will be employed. Eighty-pound steel is to be laid on the new track. All bridges and trestles are to be of steel and all culverts and abutments will be of stone masonry. The improvements include a new bridge over the Rio Grande. It will be of steel and will be forty feet higher than the present bridge. The abutments will be of brick and concrete. These improvements will do away with the doubleheaders out of El Paso.

Death of Mrs. Hawks.

Mrs. Annie B. Hawks died at the Hawks hotel, Flagstaff, from paralysis. She had been sick for about eight weeks.

Mrs. Hawks was an old resident of Flagstaff, coming here nineteen years ago, when there were but few houses in the place, and it was here that she was married to J. F. Hawks, who died January 25, 1901. She was a conscientious Christian woman, and was well liked by all who knew her.

She was born in Ireland nearly sixty-eight years ago, and came to this country with her parents when a child. She leaves two sisters, who live in Cincinnati, Ohio, and the living children of the late J. F. Hawks, to whom she was aunt and mother.

The funeral services were held from the Church of the Nativity. The interment was made in the Catholic cemetery. A handsome floral pillow was a memorial tribute from the ladies of the Catholic Aid society.—Flagstaff Sun.

Died on the Train.

E. F. Waller, who had spent eighteen weeks down in Albuquerque for the benefit of his health, died on the train last night about ten miles from this city, while en route to his home in Lenox, Iowa. The remains were brought here and taken to the Dearth undertaking parlors, where they were embalmed and shipped east on the afternoon train, accompanied by his wife, three children and a brother. The deceased was thirty-three years old.—Las Vegas Record.

ALGODONES.

Special Correspondence.

Algodones, N. M., Jan. 28.—The following marriages took place here during the month: January, Juan Archibueque to Miss Ophelia Lobato; January 9, Prudencio Garcia to Miss Ocaris Rael; January 20, the double wedding of George F. Pitts to Miss Isabel Garcia and David Gurule to Miss Petra Archibueque, which took place in the little chapel at Algodones.

John L. Pitts, of Gallup, acted as best man for his brother, George, and Miss Luz Garcia was the bridesmaid. John L. Pitts is very popular here, everybody liking him. The wedding ceremony was performed by Father Joseph, of Bernalillo, assisted by Father Couderet. The beautiful marriage ceremony of the Catholic church was something worth going to see.

Dances have been the order of the day for some weeks past and from two to three dances each week have come off since the first of the month, and another is being arranged for next Saturday night.

The feast of Algodones took place here on the 19th and was largely attended by people from Albuquerque, Bernalillo, Los Cerrillos, Santa Fe, Pena Blanca and several other places.

Yesterday was a red letter day here. Judge Crollitt, who is acting as school superintendent examined the school at this place. The judge is well qualified for the business of superintendent and done his work in a thorough business manner. His address to the parents of the school children was of a very high order. Judge Crollitt highly complimented the teacher, O. P. Hovey, on the thorough efficiency of his management of the school. The examination was all done in the English language, although every scholar in the school are native born New Mexicans. The examination was highly satisfactory to the superintendent, who was very much surprised to find the school so far ahead of his expectations. Several of the children are doing very well and made a very creditable showing. The following were remarkably good: Federico Miera, Jose C. Duran, Jose Luna, Anita Vigil, Lucanilla Luna, Pablita Gutierrez and Frank and Julian Griego. Reading in English and translating into Spanish was almost perfect, as well as spelling, geography, mathematics, etc. Federico Miera and Pablita Gutierrez, in their respective classes, never made a single error. The superintendent took occasion to highly compliment the school directors on the fine school building and their good fortune in securing such a capable teacher. He also very much admired the drawing and fancy work done by several of the children, and I confidently predict when the reports come in from the several school districts of the county, that, outside of Albuquerque, if Algodones does not take first place it will stand very close to the head.

There was a slight sprinkling of snow this morning, with indications of a coming storm. The weather has been very fine up to the present time.

JAMES H. MADDEN.

SILVER CITY.

Special Correspondence.

Silver City, N. M., Jan. 28.—Fred Shelton, one of the old timers of Silver City, died at his home in this city last Friday evening. He came to New Mexico in 1877 and settled in Silver City, where he has resided ever since and was engaged in business.

The stockholders of the Great Western Oil company, located in this city, are very much elated over the prospects of oil on their property at Santa Rosa, Guadalupe county, as a company who are boring a well adjoining their property have every indication that they will strike a good flow of oil.

A sanitarium for tuberculosis diseases, to be built in Silver City, is again being brought to the front. A noted specialist, S. Herbert M. King, of Grand Rapids, Mich., visited this city last week with that purpose in view and to look over the ground and also post himself on the benefits derived by consumptives in climate. The doctor was very favorable impressed with this locality for the location of such an institution. It is also stated upon good authority that the Sisters of Mercy have almost completed plans for the building of a sanitarium adjoining their hospital in this city, for the treatment of tuberculosis diseases with an outlay of $35,000. The work on this structure, it is expected, will commence in the early part of February.

Hon. J. W. Fleming, of this city, was elected fifth vice president of the International Miners' association, to represent New Mexico, which met at El Paso a short time ago.

The Grant County Telephone company at a meeting of its directors and officers yesterday elected officers for the ensuing year and also voted to increase their capital stock from $10,000 to $35,000. The company made an offer to the Hearst people for their line between Silver City and Pinos Altos.

T. F. Chandler, an old resident of this city, returned from quite an extended trip in Arizona, where he was in the employ of a large mining company. He has accepted a position as manager of the electric light and ice plant in Deming, which is being erected by the Silver City Bear and Ice company.

An Unlucky Day.

Scarcely had the wrecking train arrived at Yucca, after assisting passenger train No. 5, which left the track at Drake, when it was called to Hancock, a few miles west of Drake, to clear a freight wreck. Several box cars and one of the engines were turned over, and the noon passenger train was delayed several hours, arriving in Kingman at 5 p. m. On account of these accidents the Santa Fe yards presented a very busy scene on Tuesday, trains departing east and west as fast as orders were issued.—Kingman Arrow.
