"If Your Heel Slips, Apologize To The Fellow"

The other day we carried an article in this position entitled "If your foot slips, don't lose your step." The next day a prominent business man was indulging his morning tub when he received a call to the telephone on "important business." Arriving at the phone the voice said, "Have you signed up your membership in the Chamber of Commerce?" The business man angrily hung up the telephone receiver without a response. A while afterward he called up the man he had affronted and said, "The Morning Journal says, 'If your heel slips, apologize to the fellow,' so I've called you to apologize and take out a membership." He caught the spirit of our article.

Your "heel slipping" again in this drive. You are leaving the other fellow to do the work. There is not a business man in town who would not lay down his private business and be on hand to help solicit memberships, if he thought that the drive would fail without him. Too many men think it will not fail and therefore do not realize the need of helping. But it is likely to fail unless these men get in and help.

There are a dozen men who have given four full days, away from their business, in conducting this drive. They have been imposed upon by the rest of us. They must give attention to their own work. Unless new blood is secured and many men who worked only one day, return to the task, it cannot succeed in the big way it must succeed in order to start this enterprise right.

We need workers—solicitors. The work is easy. The people respond almost universally. It is not a disagreeable task. It must be done.

The committee expects 100 men at 9:00 o'clock this morning at the Chamber of Commerce to finish this drive. You, gentle reader, are one of the 100 who are expected to be there. Don't let your "heel slip" or you may be apologizing to yourself for the next twelve months. Your presence is vital.

NO ONE CAN STOP US, BUT OURSELVES.

ENGLAND STILL HOLDS TO HOPE OF SUCCESS OF PEACE PARLEYS

Craig Refuses to Accept An All-Ireland Parliament Demanded As a Solution By the Sinn Feiners.

SITUATION STILL IS VERY CRITICAL

Negotiations Have Not Been Broken Off and May Be Continued on a New Basis, is Belief in London

(By The Associated Press.) London, Nov. 29 (by the Associated Press).—An anxious day in the negotiations designed for the pacification of Ireland ended to-night with the hope that a complete collapse of the parleys might still be averted.

Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, declared before the North Parliament in Belfast that the Ulster government would not accept an all-Ireland parliament, demanded as a solution by the Sinn Fein delegation. But he announced Ulster's willingness to discuss other proposals for an Irish settlement if they were submitted by next Tuesday.

The situation still is very critical owing to the double deadlock—Ulster refusing to enter an all-Ireland parliament, and the Sinn Fein refusing to yield on the question of allegiance to the crown. The negotiations, however, have not been broken off and may be continued on a new basis.

Eamon de Valera is touring his constituencies.

TOWN INUNDATED BY TIDAL WAVE; NATIVES DROWN

(By The Associated Press.) Manila, Nov. 29.—The entire town of Iloilo, in the Province of Capiz, was inundated by a tidal wave Sunday and many houses with their occupants swept out to sea according to dispatches from the postmaster of Iloilo. Dispatches to consular headquarters here said the town of Iloilo in the same province was also submerged by a tidal wave and more than a hundred natives drowned. Some parts of Iloilo are under 15 feet of water. Communication in many parts of the province is disrupted and it is believed complete reports will reveal a much heavier loss of life, the postmaster reported. Many houses along the coast were destroyed. A typhoon swept the stricken region for two days last week, doing considerable damage.

Macato and Iloilo are towns of 10,000 population, each lying on the northern coast of the island of Panay. Macato is situated on the bank of a small river three miles from the beach.

Willie Jackson, New York lightweight, was given the judge's decision over Jimmie Hanlon, Denver, in a fast ten-round bout. The crowd booed the verdict in a five-minute demonstration for Hanlon, who fought fiercely on the aggressive throughout.

D. LORENZ FAINTS THREE TIMES WHILE ATTENDING CLINIC

New York, Nov. 29.—Weakened by lack of nourishment, due to a malady of the stomach, Dr. Adolf Lorenz, noted Austrian surgeon, fainted three times today while attending patients in his charity clinic. Then, after recovering from the collapses, which occurred within a few minutes of each other, the specialist insisted on going to another hospital where new scores of poor people were clamoring for his ministrations. Late and with reluctance, he yielded to the arguments of the physicians whom he consulted yesterday, announcing that next week, unless he was stronger, he would hold but one clinic each day. In his effort to repay part of his country's debt to America for food and medical aid.

When the great bone specialist saw his first patients at 3:30 this morning, hundreds of men, women and children were waiting in line outside the hospital.

ROOFS AND WALLS FALL; AT LEAST 7 PERSONS DEAD

Theater Under Construction In New York Collapses; More Than a Score Injured It Is Believed.

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Nov. 29.—Collapse today of the steel girded roof and one brick wall of a theater under construction in Brooklyn killed at least six workmen and injured eighteen others, many so seriously they may die. Four others are believed buried in the ruins.

Following a preliminary investigation Sylvester Rosenthal and Samuel Moskowitz, owners of and contractors for the building, were arrested and held without bail on charges of manslaughter in the first degree.

New York, Nov. 29 (by the Associated Press).—Collapse today of the steel girded roof and a brick wall of a theater under construction in Brooklyn killed at least seven workmen and injured more than a score. Firemen and police, working among the ruins tonight, may find more bodies, according to one owner.

Inside the building when the crash came were between fifty and sixty workmen. Working on scaffolding swung from the roof girders, they had no chance to escape, eye witnesses who escaped said.

The owners said the building was being constructed by them through subcontractors. They as well as the subcontractors were summoned before District Attorney Lewis for questioning. The owners declared the work had frequently been approved by inspectors.

Search of the ruins was possible only by gradual removal of debris of twisted steel and terra-cotta finishing. Gradually seven bodies were brought out, many crushed beyond recognition.

The north wall of the building crashed down over a one-story building where two men and a woman were eating. All were injured and had to be extricated.

Ted Werner, foreman of a gang of sixteen metal laborers, was working on one of the scaffolds swung to the ceiling.

"The whole structure fell in without warning," he said. "I escaped because I was near the wall, and the roof swung in the opposite direction. I fell at least thirty feet."

A 16-year-old apprentice boy working on the roof was carried down and escaped with a broken jaw.

The building, which was to have had a seating capacity of 1,800, was designed to cost $750,000, one of the owners said.

Marshal Foch was presented with a silver ingot by R. D. Leeper, Idaho American Legion commander and representative of Governor Davis.

JAPS TELL WHY ARMED FORCES INVADIED CHINA

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Nov. 29 (by the Associated Press).—The position of Japan on despatching and maintaining troops in China, to which China has presented objections, was roughly outlined tonight as follows:

Troops were originally sent to Kulu Chau, leased territory in Shantung, because Japan had entered the war and it was of first necessity to reduce the German fortress at Tsin Tsin. This was accomplished. It was found that Germany was using the railroad between Tsin Tsin and Tsin Anfu to send munitions to Tsin Tsin. To secure her position Japan occupied the railway.

The military force will be withdrawn, as has been repeatedly said, when direct negotiations with China for the restoration of the former Manchuria railway, Japan contends are concluded and will be withdrawn as soon as China organizes an "adequate police force."

Concerning troops in Manchuria, stationed as guards along the Manchuria railway, Japan contends they were sent there under a treaty with China, signed after the Russo-Japanese war, China agreeing Japan should succeed to all rights and privileges as to stationing of troops previously held by Russia. Japan also holds that all troops in the Liao Tung peninsula, from Russia, are there under treaty.

Japanese troops along the Chinese Eastern railway between Chang Chun, terminal of the south Manchuria railway, and Harbin, are explained as being there because from a military standpoint.

General adherence, it was said, was given to the principle of retaining of foreign troops and wire systems from China in conformity with the principles of the Root resolutions. Qualifications were presented, however, by Japanese spokesmen who dealt with the necessity of policing railroads and telegraph lines. Discussion of the troop and wire questions are to continue tomorrow, with prospects that a solution will be worked out by the delegates.

Another Chinese question, that of tariff and other revenue, was taken up later by a sub-committee headed by Senator Underwood. After discussion the sub-committee adjourned until tomorrow.

In the discussion it was said China's needs for increased revenue were recognized generally but whether an increase in the 5 per cent tariff was necessary was said to be a question requiring considerable study.

The United States probably would not be officially represented, but whether the presence of an American representative would be permitted presentation of the American viewpoint.

Officials indicated it was more probable that R. T. Boyden, observer before the representative commission, would be asked to serve as unofficial representative of the reserve board at the exchange discussions.

The exchange discussions, officials declared, would be confined to devising means of avoiding disturbance of exchange ratios by the

U. S. IS INVITED TO TAKE PART IN MEET OF ALLIED BANKERS

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Nov. 29.—The federal reserve board probably will designate an unofficial adviser to participate in conference of allied bankers to discuss means of preventing exchange fluctuations on the payment of German indemnity installments, high treasury officials said today. The conference is expected to be called in London or Paris.

An invitation to participate was tendered this government by the banks of issue of England, France, Italy and other allied countries.

(By The Associated Press.) Tampa, Fla., Nov. 29.—The strike of union workers employed by local cigar factories, which had affected approximately 12,000 men in all branches of the industry for ten days, was called off today by the equalization board.

Refusal of about 5,000 workers to remain on strike and refusal of the manufacturers to meet any demands of the men were assigned by the board as reasons for calling off the strike. All members of the board resigned.

TO GET 700 NEW CARS.
Salt Lake City, Nov. 29.—Delivery of 700 70-ton gondola dump cars to meet increasing and new business of the Denver and Rio Grande Western railroad will be put in use, beginning January 1, Joseph H. Young, president of the railroad company, announced today.

PRINCE HIROHITO, REGENT OF JAPAN

YANKS TO PLAN 1922 CAMPAIGN AT CONFERENCE

(By The Associated Press.) New York, Nov. 29.—Plans for the 1922 campaign of the New York American League baseball club will be considered at conferences here the next few days.

Presence of Manager Miller Huggins at this time completes the executive circles.

Club officials said they had not the slightest intimation of the probable action of Baseball Commissioner Judge Landis in the "Babe" Ruth case and were eagerly awaiting the commissioner's action. They deny rumors that the famous home run hitter had been promised a fabulous salary next season.

Chief interest among the officials centers about the Yankees' new park which it is hoped to complete next fall. The new stands will seat between 50,000 and 60,000 persons.

INQUEST HELD OVER BODIES OF J. W. BLACKWELL, JR., AND WIFE SHOT TO DEATH FRIDAY NIGHT

Coroner's Jury at Gallup Renders Verdict That They Came to Their Death "By Gunshot Wounds By Person or Persons Unknown;" Detectives Arrive on the Scene.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Gallup, N. M., Nov. 29.—An inquest was held today at 2 o'clock over the bodies of J. W. Blackwell, Jr., and wife, who were found murdered on the front porch of their house last Saturday morning. The inquest was held under the direction of the assistant district attorney in the office of Justice of the Peace John Schauer. Testimony introduced showed that the wounds inflicted had evidently been made by a steel jacketed bullet. The bullet fired into Mr. Blackwell probably severed the main artery of the left side and he died in less than five minutes. Mrs. Blackwell was shot through the right breast, the bullet taking a downward course and probably pierced the lower part of the heart, causing instant death.

The report of the jury was that the two people had come to their death by gunshot wounds inflicted by person or persons unknown to the jury.

American Delegates Believe Some Effort Must Be Made to Unravel the Tangle, But Not at Present.

CHINA'S PLEA HAS WON CONCESSIONS

Resolutions Are Adopted Looking to the Abandonment of Foreign Courts; Ask Troops' Withdrawal.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Nov. 29 (by the Associated Press).—China won further concessions today in the conference of the nine powers, on questions affecting the Pacific and Far East.

In conformity with the Root resolutions declaring for the territorial integrity of China, the Pacific and Far Eastern committee adopted resolutions looking to abandonment of foreign courts in China.

The resolutions drafted by the sub-committee, headed by Senator Lodge, provide for an international commission of jurists, which is to report within a year whether the Chinese laws and court practices warrant abandonment of the foreign courts created under treaties granting extra territorial rights in China.

Foreign Wire Systems. The Chinese delegates then presented their "four points"—that declaring for withdrawal of all foreign troops from Chinese soil, and also for abandonment of foreign telegraph, radio and police wire systems. Dr. See presented information regarding the number of troops and extent of foreign wire systems, in which the Japanese predominate.

General adherence, it was said, was given to the principle of retaining of foreign troops and wire systems from China in conformity with the principles of the Root resolutions. Qualifications were presented, however, by Japanese spokesmen who dealt with the necessity of policing railroads and telegraph lines. ### JANUARY TO SEE RESUMPTION OF COPPER MINING

Properties in the Southwest Will Open Practically on a Full Time Basis Then, Is Experts' Opinion.

(By The Associated Press.) El Paso, Texas, Nov. 29.—Copper mines in the southwest will open practically on a full time scale in January, according to present indications. Mining men throughout the southwest say they expect smelters and mines now idle to be opened then and those now partly shut down will increase their forces within 20 or 30 days.

Foremost among persons familiar with conditions in the southwest and especially with conditions in New Mexico and Arizona, it is said, is Charles F. Willis, editor of the Arizona Mining Journal. The Inspiration Copper company reopened November 21, United Verde and Verde Extension, all big companies of Arizona, will operate on a 33-1/3 per cent basis, commencing January 1, it is announced.

Mr. Willis says that 1913 can be taken as a normal year, the production of that year being about 1,200,000 pounds, costing about 11 cents a pound to produce and selling for 17 cents on an average. When the war broke out in Europe most companies curtailed production, he said, but they had to increase their output tremendously during the war, when they made considerable money. Prices came in November, 1918, when copper cost 17 cents a pound on an average. When the armistice was signed the companies continued heavy production, he explained, at the request of the government, so as not to disturb labor conditions.

In two months a surplus of 400,000,000 pounds accumulated and conditions were aggravated by the dumping of government stocks on the market.

"Then the mines began to curtail," said Mr. Willis, "until finally in April this year they shut down. Since then the owners have had a number of conferences and decided that the price of copper per unit will have to be stabilized and subject to market fluctuations. Germany has been buying heavily since the armistice, taking almost as much as she did before the war. England had a shortage when she had her coal strike. Before Japan had financial difficulties, she was buying at an alarming rate."

Japan's slump, he said, had much to do with the drop in copper prices, down to 11 3/4 cents, the lowest figure in 19 years. Since then it has steadily advanced, however, standing now at 13 1/2 cents or thereabout.

October's sales were 140,000,000 pounds, according to Mr. Willis. The surplus is now placed at 800,000,000 pounds, but he explained that the actual surplus really was substantial.

There are 250,000,000 pounds remaining of a 400,000,000 foreign pool created some time ago. Mr. Willis said, "Many copper selling firms are withholding their stocks from the market expecting higher prices than the actual available surplus now is about 100,000,000 pounds less than normal."

Mr. Willis said new uses of copper are developing, citing the copper shingling experiment at Ajo, Ariz., which is expected to make copper roofs practicable, and the copper radiators made at Anaconda.

The sales this year were only 100,000,000 pounds less than normal, he said, had there been no war.

Expect Japs To Accept. There is no present expectation that the Japanese will accept the "5-5-3" ratio or any other major point will be worked out at the plenary session. Officials closest to the negotiations expect that informal meetings between the delegates will bring about the ultimate agreement by personal touch. It will then be translated into conference action.

It is no secret that the American experts expect Japan to accept the "5-5-3" ratio. It is also clear that the United States will not accept any enlargement of the status of the Japanese. That was clear to the American delegates, except Senator Underwood, who could not be present, again talked over the naval situation today in Secretary Hughes' office.

Public Opinion. The American group has no doubt that American public opinion fully supports the 5-5-3 ratio. It was made clear that if the question of national security brought up by Vice Admiral Kato were considered, a ratio of even 10 to 5 in capital ship strength as to Japan was needed.

U. S. DELEGATES DETERMINED TO STAND FIRM ON NAVY PROPOSAL

No modification of Hughes' "5-5-3" Ratio Will Be Accepted, It is Authoritatively Reiterated.

STATEMENT BACKED UP BY COLD FACTS

Japan Now Has Less Than the 60 Per Cent Status to Which the American Plan Would Entitle Her.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Nov. 29 (by the Associated Press).—The purpose of the American arms delegation to accept no modification of Secretary Hughes' proposed "five-five-three ratio" of naval strength as the fundamental basis of any limitation agreement was authoritatively reiterated today. The statement was backed by disclosure of the facts as to existing naval strength.

This showed Japan to have less than sixty per cent status to which the "5-5-3" plan would entitle her. It showed also that the American delegates had been over the whole field and that their figures were correct.

Meanwhile, Prince Tokugawa, of Japan, declared that the statement yesterday of Vice Admiral Kato, of the Japanese advisory staff, conceding for a 70 per cent status for Japan, was based on "personal opinion." It was not, he said, sponsored by the delegation of which Vice Admiral Kato is not a member.

The prince would not reveal, however, the actual view of the Japanese delegates as to what percentage Japan would insist upon in fleet strength. He said the four delegates were determining this for themselves, independently of any additional instructions from Tokyo.

While these developments indicated still more strongly that a decision of this fundamental question was drawing near, the arms conference marked time. A further meeting of the naval experts of the United States and Japan, scheduled for today, was postponed for twenty-four hours at the request of the Japanese.

At Japanese headquarters it was said further time to examine figures submitted by the Americans was needed.

In any case the naval experts of the three powers chiefly concerned are to meet tomorrow in further sub-committee deliberations.

There were indications that the acceptance of the accuracy of the original American fleet estimate. The Japanese have been able to produce no figures competent to challenge successfully the American showing.

There were indications that a plenary session of the conference might be called next week. This could not be confirmed. It is known, however, that when that meeting is called it will mean that the delegates are preparing to reach a decision.

Expect Japs To Accept. There is no present expectation that the Japanese will accept the "5-5-3" ratio or any other major point will be worked out at the plenary session. Officials closest to the negotiations expect that informal meetings between the delegates will bring about the ultimate agreement by personal touch. It will then be translated into conference action.

A local fire brick company, for which the lead brick man had worked as bookkeeper for nearly three years has been placed in the hands of the receiver since the tragedy occurred, some discrepancies in accounts have been reported unofficially. W. T. Christian, who has been manager of the brick plant for the past seven years, has been held at the county jail since Monday morning and has been questioned in regard to some of the business matters of the company.

Another man who claimed to be a resident of Durham, North Carolina, was taken up and questioned after he is alleged to have attempted to obtain money under false pretenses at a local bank. He had in his possession several clippings from papers covering the murder.

Detectives arrived in Gallup today and began working on the matter. It is believed that the mystery will be solved in a very short time.

PRESIDENT DESIGNATES DEC. 4-10 AS EDUCATIONAL WEEK

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Nov. 29.—President Harding today issued a proclamation setting aside December 4 to 10 as education week.

The proclamation follows: "Whereas, Public education is the basis of citizenship and, in its primary importance to the welfare of the nation and, in its secondary importance to the welfare of the individual; and, whereas, more than 5,000,000 boys and girls in America are not availing themselves of our free school advantages and are lacking in that youthful schooling so essential to the making of an intelligent citizenship; and, whereas, the experience of the war reveals vast elements of population that are illiterate, physically unfit, or unfamiliar with American ideals and traditions; and, our future strength and security are much dependent on their education and commitment to American ideals; therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, president of the United States, do urge governors to set apart December 4 to 10 inclusive, 1921, as American education week during which, 'Citizens are urged to give special and thoughtful attention to the needs and the aims of the public schools. It is particularly recommended that efforts be addressed to practical expressions of community interest in public education. To that end organizations for civil advancement and social betterment are earnestly requested, when it can be made practicable, to provide programs which will inform the people concerning the vital needs in this direction, instruct them regarding shortcomings and deficiencies in present facilities, and bring to their attention specific constructive methods, by which, in the respective communities these deficiencies may be supplied. 'The subject of public education always has been very close to the American heart, and to the fact that it has been made a chief responsibility of local governmental units, we largely owe the wide diffusion of educational facilities. It is believed that a widespread and earnest effort at observance of education week would do much to emphasize this feeling of immediate responsibility. Therefore, it is suggested that the pulpits, press, schools and public gatherings be enlisted in behalf of this special effort."

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE IN MEXICO RESIGNS

Villareal Quits, Which Is Said to Be the Fore-runner of Several Changes in Oregon's Cabinet.

(By The Associated Press.)
Mexico City, Nov. 29.—The resignation of Secretary of Agriculture Villareal is the forerunner of several changes in the Mexican cabinet, according to several newspapers today which add, however, that the government's agrarian policy will remain unchanged.

It is generally believed that General Amado Aguirre, secretary of communications and public works, will succeed Villareal and that General Enrique Estrada, minister of war, will take over the post of minister of communications, with his present under secretary, General Echeverria, moving to the head of the war department.

The delicate health of Secretary of the Interior Calles may cause him also to resign his portfolio. Secretary Villareal's resignation, according to local newspapers, indicates that the government will be less drastic in its enforcement of the agrarian laws than heretofore, inasmuch as it is expected the personnel of the national agrarian commission will resign.

Secretary Villareal has been accused of extreme radicalism, which it was alleged he showed in his drastic enforcement of the agrarian laws, resulting in decreased agricultural and adversely affecting land values.

The national agrarian party, of which Senor Villareal is the head, has sent a commission to confer with President Obregon.

COIN COLLECTOR HAS ALABAMA CENTENNIAL HALF DOLLAR PIECE

It is a nice shining new half dollar with a good sound silver ring to it, and its possessor paid a dollar for it, but the banks all looked askance at the piece when it was presented. F. A. Cox wouldn't give it up for a couple of dollars, though, so the bankers needn't worry.

The coin is a centennial piece just issued from the state of Alabama. Mr. Cox's old home, and it is the first one to be seen in Albuquerque. On one side it bears an eagle and the words "State of Alabama, Here We Rest," and the dates 1819 and 1919, and on the other, profile heads of Gov. Bibb, the first administrator of the state, and of the present governor, Kilby.

CLEVENGER CASE IS REVERSED BY SUPREME COURT

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Santa Fe, Nov. 29.—The supreme court today reversed the conviction of Jerome Clevenger, Las Vegas, in the district court of San Miguel county on the charge of assault upon Mrs. Daley A. Medole and remanded the case for retrial. Clevenger was sentenced by the lower court to serve from five to seven years in the penitentiary. He had appealed the case to the supreme court. Hubbell, Albuquerque, must take $1,000 worth of stock of the Val Verde Hotel company, Socorro. Hubbell admitted he signed a subscription for ten shares, but he said, only on condition that other subscribers be gotten for part of the shares. He did not agree to take more than $250 worth of the ten shares at $100 per share, he said, but the district court of Socorro county, which originally tried the case, held he must take all ten. The supreme court upheld the decision.

JAP TROOPS AT HANKOW ARE TO BE WITHDRAWN

Minister Hanihara Understood to Have Made This Announcement at Meeting of Committee.

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Nov. 29.—Japan is looking forward to withdrawing her garrison from Hankow, central China, Vice Foreign Minister Hanihara, a Japanese plenipotentiary, is understood to have announced at the meeting today of the Far East committee. He said he had added to Japan's prepared to withdraw her troops from the Shantung railroad between Tsingtau and Tsinanfu, even before the conclusion of any Shantung negotiations between China and Japan, provided China would prove herself capable of maintaining a Chinese police force along the line and assuming responsibility for the safety of the road, and the protection of life and property.

VILLA IS GIVING UP USE OF MOTOR-DRIVEN TRACTORS AND TRUCKS

(By The Associated Press.)
El Paso, Texas, Nov. 29.—Francisco (Pancho) Villa, former bandit leader of Mexico, who is farming on a 200,000-acre ranch at Camutillo, in Durango, Mexico, which was given to him by the Mexican government when he gave up warfare, has returned to the burro cart, oxen drawn vehicles and the hand-plow. Villa, the only Mexican rancher who ever adopted American methods on a large scale, is giving up the use of automobile tractors and trucks and says they are not suited to the Mexican temperament. This is according to John C. McDonald, an automobile salesman who makes frequent trips to Villa's place in Mexico. The former chief plow already has discarded tractors and has bought a carload of hand plows in Torreon, Mr. McDonald said. "I have a large number of followers on my place," Villa told Mr. McDonald, according to the salesman, "and I must keep them at work. Tractors provide work for only one man where I formerly had ten employed. That leaves many idle men and idleness breeds trouble."

"The same is true of the automobile truck. One man can do as much work with ten men with ox carts and burro teams."

PORTUGUESE AIR FLEET DAMAGED BY HARD WIND

(By The Associated Press.)
Lisbon, Nov. 29.—The greater portion of the Portuguese air fleet was destroyed yesterday during a heavy wind storm which broke over the military aviation camp a short distance outside Lisbon. Among planes destroyed was one constructed to attempt a flight from Lisbon to Portuguese Guinea, in equatorial west Africa. Several soldiers were injured. Two airplane sheds were blown many miles away.

RELIGION OPIMUM FOR THE PEOPLE SOVIET SLOGAN

Communists Expelled From the Party for Having Children Baptized, or Being Married in Church.

(By The Associated Press.)
Moscow, Nov. 29.—(By a Staff Correspondent for the Associated Press.)—"Religion is opium for the people," is the slogan which the soviet government caused to be placed on a permanent stone tablet in the wall of the Moscow city hall facing the Iberian chapel.

This little chapel stands at the entrance to the Red square and contains the ikon which is more sacred to Russian churches than any other in the entire domain of the former czar. Consequently it is greatly frequented by ill persons and supplicants who have suffered all sorts of misfortune and reverses. The stream of worshippers at the holy shrine continue in spite of the slur sign which bolshevik officials have erected. And the disregard of the faithful for the official snarl recorded on the tablet is clearly indicative of the failure of the communist regime to lessen the regard for religion throughout Russia.

Communists are expelled from the party in large numbers for having their children baptized, or for being married in a church or showing religious tendencies. At least these are reasons given officially in many cities where the cleansing of the party is taking place.

In response to inquiries as to whether abandonment of religion has made it unnecessary for the American relief administration to send kosher food to Russia, a prominent member of the communist party who is attached to the foreign office said food which orthodox Jews can eat should be sent from America by all means as the political changes had not caused them to abandon their religion to any considerable extent. Lutheran and Roman Catholic churches, as well as the Russian orthodox churches are open and apparently well attended in Kronstadt, Petrograd, Moscow and smaller cities, which sell only religious literature and objects are open in Petrograd and Moscow and are thronged with sellers and buyers of ikons.

We're Too Busy to Prepare An Advertisement

Sunday we first placed Fire Sale Merchandise in our windows—at the same time we re-arranged the store in such way as to display to better advantage the enormous stock we still have on hand. The result was an immediate rush of buyers which kept us so busy since then that there was no time for anyone to prepare lists of merchandise for advertising.

What brought these buyers? Strange as it may seem, there had been up to Monday, people who had not yet attended the Fire Sale. They didn't believe that we had anything they would be interested in. Sunday they saw a few samples of the great values we were offering as they passed our windows—when the store opened Monday they were on hand.

THE GIFT SHOP—

We have set aside a portion of our second floor for the display and sale of gift merchandise such as:

- Handkerchiefs
- Fine Furs
- The Better Leather Goods
- Gift Gloves
- Stationery
- Gift Kimonos and Robes
- And Dozens of Other Things of Like Quality

All of this gift merchandise is in perfect condition. Most of it was unpacked or in transit during the fire. No one under the sun could ever tell it was purchased at a fire sale. Yet it is all priced at Real Fire Sale Prices—offering the seeker of gifts an opportunity to get two or three fine gifts for the regular price of one.

THE GIFT SHOP

Second Floor Front.

This shows that the merchandise in the sale is selling itself. Displayed in the windows and marked so that all might see exactly what the various pieces were selling for, it attracted as many people as visited the store on any day since the opening. Real merchandise always sells itself. All the advertising can do is to tell people that it is on display.

Watch the papers every day for the Fire Sale announcements. Study our Windows where you can see the merchandise itself, plainly marked. Come into the store where everything is also marked in big red figures. Remember that only a tiny fraction of the things in our store today were damaged by fire, water or smoke. The rest is as perfect as the day it left the factories. And all of it is marked at Real Fire Sale sacrifices. It must all go regardless of cost or replacement value.

What made the automobile practicable?

There can be no question that gasoline preceded the automobile and made its present universal use possible.

Internal combustion engines have been made to run with other kinds of fuel—alcohol, benzol, coal and natural gas, kerosene, etc. But gasoline, because of its greater effectiveness and economy compared with all other known motor fuels, has been responsible in a large measure for the tremendous growth of the entire automotive industry.

For over a decade The Continental Oil Company has been serving a great territory consisting of the six intermountain states. Its task has been a big one and has called for much strenuous effort and the development of a large organization.

Volume production, particularly in the petroleum industry, and efficient distribution make possible a lower selling price for each commodity made than would be practicable for a legion of small producers. And this applies not only to petroleum products but to every necessity of modern life, from matches to steel rails.

The various storage stations of The Continental Oil Company, its many fleets of delivery trucks and wagons, its up-to-date service stations, the uniformly high quality of its products—all these are evidences of the efficient way in which this company is handling the big job that it has undertaken. Standardize on Continental products and buy them with Conoco Coupons.

COUNTY IN NEED OF INTEREST ON SANDOVAL BONDS

Commissioners Will Try to Collect $1,500 Due Last June on $50,000 Bond Issue Held By County.

County Treasurer Ed Swope and the board of county commissioners will attend the meeting of the Sandoval county board at Bernalillo Friday and endeavor to reach an agreement with the board regarding the payment by Sandoval county of interest due on the $50,000 bond issue taken by this county in 1916. It was agreed at the time that Bernalillo county took the bonds that a 2-mill tax levy would be made in Sandoval county to care for the interest, which is at the rate of 6 per cent. The June, 1921, payment has not yet been made and the December payment is about due. The June payment amounts to about $1,500.

Bids from contractors covering the graveling of five miles of the Rio Grande boulevard were opened by the county commissioners yesterday and all of them rejected as being too high for the work. The bids ranged from $3 to $5.50 a yard. Upon the statement of the county road superintendent that the work can be done by the county at an approximate cost of $1 a yard, it was decided that the county would complete the job. It was decided at the meeting to interview the city commissioners to request that one-half of the repair work on Mountain road be done by the city. The road allotment has a fund of $50 for this work and if the city meets this amount, it is thought that the road can be put in good temporary condition. Part of the road is in the city and part in the county.

Bracy's and Harvey Restaurants Tie for Second Place; Some Scores Low on Account of Certificates

The Y. W. C. A. cafeteria scored highest in the monthly sanitary inspection of cafeterias and restaurants by the county health officer. The score was 95. The Harvey and Bracy's cafeteria tied for second place with scores of 94. Several of the scores are low this month, due to health certificates not being filed for new employees.

All employees in restaurants, who have cause to touch food or eating utensils, are required by the health department to file certificates showing that they are not affected with any contagious disease. A number of new workers have been employed in some of the restaurants during the past few days and they have not taken physical examinations. This fact cut many of the scores to very low levels for the month.

NEW DISTRICTS MADE FOR THE C. OF C. DRIVE

Redistricting of City Believed to Lay Ground for Quicker Results; 826 Chamber Members.

Albuquerque has been redistricted for chamber of commerce membership campaign purposes into professions, businesses and trades. Work on the block system will not be continued. But half of the city has been covered by the campaign, and it is thought that by the new district plan it will be easier to reach the prospects.

Headquarters workers continued the redistricting plans until early morning today in order that the final effort to reach the membership quota might not be delayed through incomplete plans. All of the old workers and every other person interested in the complete rejuvenation of the chamber of commerce are asked to report at chamber parlors at 9 o'clock this morning ready for work. Those who can not start at that time, should telephone the chamber and state the time which they can give to the enterprise.

Incomplete reports of the workers last night showed that at least 826 Albuquerqueans are now members of the chamber. Subscriptions came from many sources. One merchant called the committee and stated that seven of his clerks were ready to sign up for memberships. Other business houses have reported all of their employees as applicants. Twenty-one of the members of the Professional Woman's club have already taken out memberships and it is expected that of the sixty-two members, fully one-half will be enrolled by tonight. About one-half of the workers met yesterday noon at the Sturges dining room and exchanged plans and experiences. Many new ideas were developed during the luncheon.

GETS 4 TO 10 YEARS IN PENITENTIARY ON EMBEZZLING CHARGE

COUNTY BOARD WILL NOT PAY FOR MOTOR COP

Commissioners Vote Down Traffic Law Enforcement Motion Offered By A. G. Simms; Sheriff Will Act.

Holding that the enforcement of the traffic laws on the North Fourth street pike was not a necessary duty, County Commissioners Max Gutierrez and Severo Sanchez voted down a motion made by Chairman Albert Simms to provide for a salary to be paid to the county motor cop who is enforcing the traffic laws on the pike and other important county roads.

Commissioner Max Gutierrez declared that, in spite of the law, the people ought not to be arrested for traffic violations and be forced to pay a fine.

The motion made by Mr. Simms follows:

"Due to the fact that there are state laws governing traffic on the county roads, especially designed to protect life and property, and to the fact that there are several school houses on the North Fourth street pike and that children of the schools are tempted to play in the road and that some of these children or innocent autoists or drivers may be killed through the non-enforcement of the traffic law on the pike, I move that the sheriff's office be authorized to spend $50 a month for a motorcycle officer to enforce the law and protect life and property, and that in addition, he be allowed a certain portion of the fees collected from his arrests."

Immediately upon the motion being voted down, Sheriff Tony Ortiz stated that he would continue to enforce the law on the pike and that, if necessary, he would pay the motor cop out of his own pocket in case the costs of arrests did not bring the officer a fair remuneration. The county motor cop has been on duty only a few days and has made about thirty arrests. Residents along the pike and drivers who use the road state that already there is a great change for the better in the way many persons drive on the cement road.

Why Grow Old Before Your Time?

It isn't years alone that make one old. Many folks are younger at 70 than others are at 50. A lame, bent back; stiff, achy joints; rheumatic pains, bad eyesight, and bladder irregularities are often due to kidney weakness and not advancing years. Don't let weak kidneys age you. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have made life more comfortable for thousands of elderly folks. Ask your neighbor! Here's an Albuquerque case:

Mrs. P. D. Evans, 516 E. Coal Ave., says: "I had an attack of kidney trouble. My back ached for days and when I stooped over or straightened up quickly, I became dizzy. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and one box cured me of the aching back and I never had those dizzy spells again. I have often endorsed Doan's to others."

Range conditions are generally good over the Manzano national forest, according to a report of K. C. Kartchner, forest supervisor, who recently returned from an inspection trip of the forest.

"It is a late, dry fall," said Mr. Kartchner. "The range in the Manzano mountains is in good condition but if a storm does not come soon the stockmen will suffer. Water becomes scarce and the feed becomes brittle in continued drought."

TO THE WOMEN OF ALBUQUERQUE

There is a mistaken impression that the Albuquerque Chamber of Commerce is an organization of men only. This is incorrect. The Chamber of Commerce is an organization open to all citizens of Albuquerque and in which all citizens are earnestly sought as members.

In every way the women of this city are citizens, with all the rights and privileges of citizens. Their interest in the Chamber of Commerce and in the work it undertakes for Albuquerque is as vital as the interest of any man can be.

Women members are wanted in the Chamber of Commerce. They are wanted because of their particular interest in better schools, a cleaner and more attractive city; in the work of making Albuquerque a better place to live in; which is one of the principle objectives before the organization.

The membership dues are $12 a year, payable annually, semi-annually, quarterly or monthly in advance. If you wish to join the Chamber of Commerce do not hesitate to send in your membership; or telephone 43 and a solicitor will be sent to receive your application.

The fact that your husband is a member is no reason why you also should not be a member.

Give your active support to the Chamber of Commerce, by joining it and taking an active part in its work.

Lend your great influence, your ideas and your active work toward making Albuquerque a better city to live in.

THE SOLDIERS' BONUS BILL

Evidences accumulate that the administration intends to make a soldiers' bonus, or compensation, act a part of its program at the approaching regular session of the congress which meets next week. This is in accordance with the suggestion of the president at the time the bill was recommended.

Three things probably influenced the president in asking for delay in considering this matter. The Journal's opinion is more or less of a guess, as we lay no claim to inside information.

First, so imperative was the need of emergency tariff legislation and tax revision that time should not be consumed in debating, at the time, a matter which would not be effective for a year in any event.

Secondly, business should not be disturbed further at a time when the load was already back-breaking, until the people could see that there was some source from which the money could come without increasing the burden. It was thought, in all probability, that the psychology of the situation was such that the return of prosperity would be delayed.

Thirdly, liquidation was taking place rapidly. War fortunes were being lost. The apparent profits of those who stayed at home were being wiped out. In the shake-down it would become more apparent, monthly, as to just how much the real economic handicap of those who went to war actually was. It would then be possible to tell just what legislation might be necessary to restore the equilibrium.

It is apparent that the administration had no intention of denying justice to those who fought for our preservation, although a few hot-heads declared that to be the case. It was unbelievable that the government would recognize its other war obligations but deny and repudiate its debt to its soldiers.

The Journal, at the time of the recommendation of the bill, suggested a sympathetic, expert and impartial board to study the subject and be ready to report to congress as to what we ought to do in order to re-establish the economic equilibrium of the ex-soldier. Had that been done expert information could now be in hand by which to determine the demands of justice.

We can not repay the debt of gratitude we owe. That can not be measured in terms of dollars and cents. But we can determine how much better off, on the average, these boys would have been had they stayed at home, and can pay them that difference. We should, by all means, pay it.

The leaders of the ex-service men should not be permitted, however, to arbitrarily decide how much that amount is. Citizens can not be allowed to decide for themselves what justice demands for them. These questions must be decided by impartial tribunals, which represent everyone and which keep the scales of justice even.

We have courts to decide between man and man, as to what is just. Each litigant generally feels that he is right. The judge and jury look at the matter more impartially.

The nines can not be allowed to decide how much, or how little, taxes they shall pay. They would pay none, in all probability, under such an arrangement. The cattle and sheep men must not be permitted to decide the relief necessary in order for them to survive. Given that power they would take too much. Such is human nature.

Capital must not be permitted, unrestrained, to say how much toll it shall take from labor. Labor can not be permitted to dictate its own demands. In all of these things an impartial public must provide the machinery and the public opinion to see to it that justice is done.

So with reference to the bonus bill. There is no justification in the organizations of the ex-soldiers demanding the passage of a certain bill merely because they desire it. They must prove their case, of course. The administration should lend a sympathetic ear. Cordial justice should be done.

The Journal hopes for the early passage of a square compensation bill which will meet the needs and the approval of the rank and file of the soldier boys. We pay for property taken or destroyed during the war. We can do no less, certainly, for human beings taken and destroyed in that conflict.

CRUELTY AND WASTE.

It is a strange fact that economy always makes a stronger appeal than humanity. For a long time the humane societies have been protesting against cruelty in the handling of meat-producing animals. Their efforts were attributed to exaggerated sentimentality. Lately their worldly wisdom has prompted them to attack the problem from the angle of economic waste and they are in fair way to gain a hearing.

It is a curious commentary upon the business methods of the range-state cattle growers that they should need these sentimentalists to call their attention to a loss of several million heads of animals annually. But the humane society people have the goods from quite unimpartial sources. They take the official reports of the agricultural department to prove that nearly two and a half million cattle and more than one and a half million sheep died from disease and exposure in 1919. The annual loss is said to be about constant. And "exposure," the animal welfare people say, means starvation. The waste is estimated at 2,000,000,000 pounds of meat every year.

One can hardly understand how such methods pay the cattle-growing industry. Surely the country as a whole must stand the loss in advanced meat prices. That untold suffering among the animals must attend such a death rate should make its appeal even to the crudest sensibilities.

THE ENGLISH TONGUE.

French, as well as English, is an official language at the conference at Washington, yet, were it not that Frenchmen who do not understand English were present, it is stated that the proceedings might be conducted entirely in English. All the members of the other delegations have sufficient acquaintance with English not to need an interpreter. The latter phase of the situation is remarkable when the diverse native tongues of the peoples they represent is considered. It is surprising, too, that men have risen to the positions held by those who represent France should not have acquired a knowledge of English. It might be expected that two peoples living as closely together as the French and English would find it convenient, if not imperative, to have a knowledge of the other's language. The fact remains, however, that most people are content with one language, unless it is forced on them to learn another.

Those of us who started to learn English even as babies appreciate how difficult is the language. We never got through learning to spell and pronounce. How much more difficult then must it be for one who looks at it from the outside and acquires a knowledge of it by entering through another language.

THE GASOLINE PROBLEM.

Oil men who have been studying the relationship between their business and the automobile industry, in preparation for a discussion of the subject at the annual meeting of the American Petroleum Institute at Chicago in December, assert that the number of automobiles in the United States increased 1216 per cent during the last decade, while crude oil production increased only 101 per cent; and whereas in 1911 there were produced 215 barrels of petroleum for every registered motor car, in 1920 there were produced only 47 barrels for each car.

If this thing continues the problem of supplying motor cars with fuel promises to become a serious one. It is estimated in some quarters that there are 9,000,000 automobiles in the United States. If there is likelihood of much greater increase in the number of automobile owners the question of supplying gasoline for their cars may pass from the realm of the academic and become an acute problem.

Fortunately gasoline, though at present the cheapest and most convenient, is not the only fuel which will run an internal combustion engine. Alcohol and kerosene also can be used, though not very satisfactorily as yet because of the difficulty in vaporizing them. Alcohol derived as a by-product of sugar manufacture is being used as motor fuel in Cuba. It is believed by some researchers that the time is not distant when cheap alcohol will be manufactured from such vegetable matter as weeds. That may solve the automobile fuel problem.

EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

REDUCING THE CENSUS WAIST LINE.

(From the Minneapolis Tribune.)
The world's population is causing no end of worry to certain minds given over to cosmic anxieties. The Malthusians recently convened in New York and solemnly arrived at the conclusion that the world is over-populated.

What remedy, if any, this school of thinkers suggested is not clear. The Turks, during the late European altercation, seemed to be in entire agreement with the Malthusian point of view. They developed a technique of their own designed to reduce excess population effectively and with a minimum of effort. One of their methods was to load their victims in boats, take them out to sea and sink the boats.

Most of us, if pressed, could name persons whom we might recommend as martyrs to the Malthusian theory—the man, for instance, who makes a specialty of calling on busy people during office hours and details with great preciseness his mate's most recent attack of appendicitis; or the man who, under the same circumstances, dwells long over his children's marks and deportment in school; or the woman who makes one trip a year and devotes the rest of her time telling her friends about the notables she met and what they said to her; or the mother, otherwise harmless, who, when not talking of her gifted daughter, is persuading daughter to sing for company.

One might endorse "in principle" the Malthusian theory, but shrink from particularizing how it should be put into practice. Politicians probably would superintend the job and, instead of electing themselves to be the martyrs, would nominate themselves to be the persons who, if permitted to live, would vote right and be of real use to the world.

Malthusians and Turks, even together, are not competent to reduce the world's population scientifically and beneficently. They doubtless have the energy, the enthusiasm and the raw muscles, but scarcely the refined and delicate selective intelligence which so important work demands. Agreeing on the personnel of the "excess" would be too controversial.

Apparently we shall have to fog along, letting our surplus become as superfluous as it will. "Reducing" either the waist line or the population is something one is always tempted to put off till the morrow.

UNCLE WIGGILY AND JILLIE'S JUMBLES.

Once upon a time, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping through the woods, wondering what sort of an adventure he would have, he heard a jolly little voice singing away. "Tra-la-lai! Tra-la-lai!" sang the jolly little voice.

"My! Some one must be very happy this morning!" thought the bunny rabbit gentleman. "And it isn't the Pipsie-wh, the Kicke-wh, nor yet the Fuzzy Fox or Woosie Wolf. They're never happy that way. I wonder who it can be?"

The singing sounded more happy than at first, there was a rustling in the bushes, and out came Jillie Longtail, the little mouse girl.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!" called Jillie.

"Hello, Jillie," answered the bunny rabbit. "You seem quite happy this morning, singing away like a grasshopper in hay time."

"I am happy," answered Jillie. "And I ought to be happy, oughtn't I, Uncle Wiggily, for I have the jumbles!"

Uncle Wiggily gave one look at the little mouse girl. Then he cried: "Good gracious sakes alive! You have the jumbles! Oh, dear! Oh, dear!"

With that the bunny caught the little mouse girl up in his paws and started to run off with her, carrying her through the woods among the trees.

"Stop! Stop, Uncle Wiggily! Please put me down! Where are you taking me, Uncle Wiggily?" cried Jillie, the little mouse girl.

"Where are you taking me?" "I'm taking you to Dr. Possum's," of course!" answered the rabbit. "To Dr. Possum's office. That dear old animal doctor can cure you if anyone can! Hold tight—I won't let you fall! I'll soon have you at Dr. Possum's and he'll cure you!"

"Cure me? Cure me of what?" asked Jillie, as the bunny rabbit gentleman ran off with her once more.

"Cure you of the jumbles, of course!" was the reply. "Dr. Possum will soon cure your jumbles, Jillie! Don't be afraid!"

"The little mouse girl laughed so gleefully that Uncle Wiggily stopped and looked at her in surprise.

"Oh, you funny Uncle Wiggily!" screamed Jillie. "Oh, you dear old goose of a rabbit uncle! Oh! Oh! Oh!"

"It must be the jumbles that make her act this way," said Uncle Wiggily, half aloud, as the mouse girl scrambled out of his paws.

"Come, Jillie," he went on. "Don't worry! Dr. Possum will be good and kind to you. He'll cure your jumbles!"

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" again laughed Jillie. "Why, you dear old goose of an Uncle Wiggily. Here are my jumbles!" exclaimed Jillie, and she held out a paper bag which Uncle Wiggily had not before noticed.

"Your jumbles? In there?" asked the bunny.

"Of course!" giggled Jillie. "Jumbles are cakes or cookies, you know. I had just bought some at the six and seven cent store when I met you. I like jumbles so much I couldn't help singing."

"Oh, so jumbles are cookies or cakes, are they?" asked the bunny rabbit. "Hum! Rather stupid of me, that I didn't know this. I thought you said, when you had the jumbles, that you meant you had something catching, like the mumps, measles or chickenpox."

"Oh, you funny rabbit!" laughed Jillie. "Come on, we'll sit down and each eat a jumble cake."

Uncle Wiggily was very willing to do that, as he was tired from his run, carrying Jillie. And when he and the mouse girl were eating the cakes, all of a sudden the bad old Woosie Wolf poked his nose out of the bushes and growled:

"I want cake to nibble!"

"I do you!" suddenly squeaked Jillie. "Well, I have the jumbles and if I give them to you will you?"

"Oh, what's that you say? You have the jumbles? Oh, don't make me catch them! Don't!" howled the Wolf. "Once I had the pip and another time I had the epizootic and if I catch the jumbles from you I may die! Oh! Oh! I'm sorry I came here! I'm going to run away!"

And away ran the Woosie Wolf, not harming Uncle Wiggily or Jillie at all.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Mr. Longears, as he and the mouse girl ate another cookie. "He thought the same as I—that your jumbles were catching, Jillie! You frightened him away! Ha! Ha!"

So everything came out all right. I'm glad to say, and the cabbage doesn't put its head down on the pin cushion and wake up next to a needle in its ear. I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Susie's bracelet.

FRANK FEERNOT'S DULL DAY.

A Play.

Scene: Frank Feernot standing on a corner.

Frank Feernot: I wish a runaway horse and carriage with wimmin and children in it would go past so I could stop the horse and save the wimmin and children. There's too many automobiles nowadays, that's the trouble.

First Boy Going Past: Hello, Frank. Bin doing anything brave lately?

Frank Feernot: Nothing special.

Scene: The same.

Frank Feernot: Even if it was only a runaway horse and a huckster wagon it would be better than nothing. If I couldn't save the wimmin and children at least I could save the vegetables.

2nd Boy Going Past: Hello, Frank; have you did anything brave today?

Frank Feernot: Not so far.

Scene: The same.

Frank Feernot: I'd even be glad to stop a runaway horse without any carriage or wagon or anything, that's how desperate I feel. I'm just wasting my time standing here.

Newsboy Going Past: Stop, exter, all about the boy stopping a runaway train and saving 609 lives including wimmin and children; exter, exter.

Frank Feernot: Aw heck. The End.

THE MARKETS

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Nov. 29.—Today's stock trading was unusually active and broad, as evidenced by sales of $50,000,000 shares and a turnover of about $250,000,000 par value in bonds. The latter exceeded any total in several months.

Bonds were the center of attraction, especially government issues. No less than seven Liberty series mounted to highest records for a year or two.

Railway shares again dominated, and oils, coppers and motor specialties and tobacco kept more or less even pace. Backwardness in shown by steels and equipments and heaviness of miscellaneous issues contributed to the market's uncertain trend.

Sears Roebuck again was under depression and several agricultural issues reacted. Aside from rails, which held firm, the general list eased under liquidation in the final hour, call money's rise to 5 1/2 per cent causing selling for both accounts.

Dealings in foreign exchange were light. The demand for sterling, francs and Scandinavian remittances were nominal, notwithstanding the approach of December, which usually brings heavy purchases of food and cotton bills on leading European centers.

European war issues did not share in the rise of Liberty bonds but South American issues were strong.

Many rails and industrials, including United States Steel, strengthened perceptibly and several new underwritings for moderate amounts were oversubscribed.

Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Wheat underwent a material decline in price today, largely by way of reaction from the recent advance of more than 12 cents. There was an unsettled close, 2 1/2 c to 3 c net lower, with December $1.11 1/2 to $1.11 3/4, and May $1.15 1/2 to $1.15 3/4. Corn lost 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 c to 2 c; oats unchanged to 1/4 c off and provisions 2 1/2 to 10 c.

Many traders in wheat took the position that a setback in values was to be expected, as the technical position of the market had been weakened by the big advance. Selling by commission houses became more general and there was considerable liquidation of December contracts. Better sentiment advised further impetus from advances telling of general rain in Argentina and from assertions that Minneapolis millers were seeking No. 1 northern wheat in Canada with bids only 1 cent from a working basis. Furthermore, re-sales of hard winter wheat at Liverpool 8 cents under cost were announced, and it was said Argentine wheat was being offered at $1.27 1/2 c. i. f. Europe, against $1.31 to $1.31 1/2 for United States wheat by way of the Gulf of Mexico. The finish was at the bottom of the lowest level of the day, and elevator receipts were in support and by predictions that colder weather would bring enlargement of receipts. Oats were better sustained as a result of buying by elevator dealers.

Provisions averaged lower with hog.

BASKETBALL TRY-OUTS HELD; 53 MEN FROM HIGH SCHOOL APPEAR

The number of candidates who reported for the first basketball practice of the high school amounted to fifty-three. An experienced team for next year is expected, since many of those men were underclassmen. Moore is making the schedule one of the best that Albuquerque high has ever attempted. Several local teams will be on the card for practice games. The army football floor is the best in the city and will accommodate the crowds attending the games very easily. Wilson is the guard showing up best and Benjamin and Lynn Hammond are out in old-time form. Several of last year's squad who charged with the possession and sale year are back with high hopes for a place on the team. The team works every evening from 4 to 6 o'clock at the armory. It will be very difficult to select a team to represent the local high when they stack up against a Harwood school on December 3. However, the five selected will be but a temporary choice, and after the game the coach will have something to say about which to construct a winning team.

"FIFI" MAY ATTACK UPON CONDUCT OF STILLMAN

(By The Associated Press.) Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Nov. 29.—Abandonment of the counter attack upon the conduct of James A. Stillman by Mrs. Anne U. Stillman in the divorce proceedings instituted by him was forecast tonight after adjournment of a one-day hearing before Referee D. J. Gleason. Mrs. Stillman, it was said, probably would not call any more witnesses in support of charges that her husband was guilty of misconduct with Florence H. Leeds, former show girl. Future testimony, it was explained, would be devoted to defending Mrs. Stillman and the paternity of baby Guy. Testimony today was understood to have set forth that Mr. and Mrs. Stillman and two of their children stayed at a suite in a New York hotel for two weeks during February, 1915, nine months before the birth of Guy. It was said to have been brought out that Fred Beaulieu, the Indian guide employed by the Stillmans and named co-defendant in the banker's complaint, was a guest at the hotel then.

MENNONITES TO FORSAKE CANADA FOR OLD MEXICO

Advance Party of 1,000 Will Leave for Southern Republic in the Near Future; Others to Follow.

(By The Associated Press.) Saskatoon, Sask., Nov. 29.—The much heralded exodus of old colony church Mennonites from western Canada to northern Mexico is becoming a reality. For arrangements have been completed whereby an advance party of 1,000 will leave the Hague district in the near future to do pioneer work on their new holdings. There are about 30 different sects of Mennonites and this is a distinct movement from that proposed by one section of Mennonites who have purchased land in South America. An official statement, signed by Bishop Wall of the Hague district, declares: "Our only objection (to staying in Canada) lies in the fact that the concession granted and ratified by the federal government giving us entire right to conduct our schools without molestation or restriction has now been repudiated." The original charter granted by the government was signed in 1872. The transfer of property from the Mennonites to a Winnipeg land company is near completion and under the terms of the agreement all land must be vacated by December 1, 1922. The holdings of the Mennonites in the Hague district comprise 55,000 acres. This deal is also entirely independent of the Mennonite colony of Swift Current and Manitoba, although these people have already contracted for the purchase of land in northern Mexico. When the bulk of old colony church sect has been completed a total of 11,000 of these people will have left Canada for Mexico. Another 11,000 will be affected by the move to South America, but it was pointed out, they are not members of the old colony church. It is estimated that the old colony church members leaving the west will take with them a total of some $14,000,000 in cash, or about $15,000 net cash per family on the average.

No Formal Charge Placed Against Him Up Until Yesterday in Regard to Kempenich Death.

Reports brought back to Albuquerque from Los Lunas late yesterday afternoon by relatives and friends of Lucy Harrington, arrested Sunday night in connection with the Eugene Kempenich death mystery, indicate that Harrington will probably be released from custody today. It is said that although the arrest of Harrington was made Sunday night, no formal charge had been filed against him up until yesterday afternoon. The arrest was made by Sheriff Tondra of Los Lunas, Private Detective Ben Williams and Deputy Sheriff Charles Banghart, who was asked by the other officers to assist in finding the man.

AGENTS ARREST NINE ALLEGED LIQUOR VENDORS

Raids in Santa Fe and Las Vegas Expected to Put End to Low Prices of Booze in Northern Towns

The bootlegging fraternity of Las Vegas and Santa Fe was seriously disrupted this week as a result of the activities of prohibition agents from the office here. Nine alleged members were placed under arrest, failed to make the five last styles, Bill Cullen, Walter Craig and George Craig. Skyles is the proprietor of a rooming house, and the alleged crime is said to have taken place in his establishment. Another man, whose name is being withheld temporarily, was also arrested. Five of the nine arrests were made in Las Vegas, and the remainder in Santa Fe. The men arrested in Las Vegas were Jim Skyles, Bill Cullen, Walter Craig and George Craig. Skyles is the proprietor of a rooming house, and the alleged crime is said to have taken place in his establishment. Another man, whose name is being withheld temporarily, was also arrested. In Santa Fe the agents arrested Jim Lopez, proprietor of a soft drink and pool parlor on San Francisco street, Ramon Jimenez, of the Blue Front restaurant; Adelfo Rivero, of 230 West Mountain road; and Juan Gonzalez. All of the offenders arrested in the raids were taken before the United States commissioner in Santa Fe, and all gave temporary bond for their appearance for preliminary hearing. All of the men arrested in Las Vegas were placed under $2,500 bond, while the bond for the Santa Fe offenders ranged from $1,000 to $2,500. For the benefit of the curious, the officers add that the whiskey is said to have been sold for $3 and $4 per pint.
