SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.

Clarence W. Hollings, of the United States Indian school at Fort Lewis, Colo., was an arrival on the Denver & Rio Grande.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Franklin and daughter, of Durango, Colo., arrived over the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, and left over the Santa Fe for Los Angeles.

Judge A. A. Freeman, of Carlsbad, who is in Santa Fe at present on supreme court business, has been requested to make the commencement address this year at the New Mexico School of Mines at Socorro, on May 29. He has accepted the honor.

It is charged that some improper wagers in the issue of city deeds to real estate contained within the Santa Fe land grant has been going on at various times since the passage of the act making the grant to this city. These charges should be thoroughly investigated.

Agent H. S. Lutz received instructions from the Santa Fe railway officials to push the case against E. Napoleone, the 15-year-old Italian boy who night before last stole a valise from the depot and hid it under a coal car. Police Judge C. M. Conklin sentenced Napoleone to twenty days in the county jail and to pay the costs of the prosecution.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, of Chicago, are tourist visitors in Santa Fe. Leo Hersch left on a business trip to the San Luis valley.

Mrs. C. W. Dwyer intends to leave on a visit to California on Monday evening.

Governor Otero is on his sheep ranch in Guadalupe county and will be gone from the capital about two weeks.

Ex-Chief Justice and Mrs. Thomas Smith, who spent the week in Santa Fe, expect to leave on Monday evening for Los Angeles, Cal.

Archbishop Peter Bourgade upon his return from Los Angeles next month will visit Santa Rosa and other parishes in Guadalupe county to administer the sacrament of confirmation.

Colonel J. Francisco Chavez, superintendent of public instruction, who is in the southern part of the territory, expects to return home during the early part of the week.

Judge D. H. McMillan left for El Paso where Mrs. McMillan is awaiting him. Together they will proceed to Lincoln, where court convenes on Monday.

Two Gila monsters are disputing themselves in the show window of the Wells Fargo Express company in the Catron block and are attracting much attention.

Probate Clerk Manuel Delgado recorded a deed by St. John's Methodist Episcopal church to Thomas Harwood, for the church and parsonage of St. John's Methodist Episcopal church on San Francisco street. Consideration, $700.

Chief Justice W. J. Mills, on Thursday evening, entertained very delightfully at dinner at the Palace hotel. The table was beautifully decorated with flowers. Each lady was presented with a bouquet and each gentleman with a boutonniere. Those present were Mrs. Otero, Mrs. Solomon Luna, Mrs. Bergere, ex-Chief Justice and Mrs. Thomas Smith, Judge and Mrs. B. S. Baker, Judge McMillan and Miss Nina Otero. The installation of Rev. W. Hayes Moore took place yesterday forenoon at the Presbyterian church. In the evening the newly elected elders were ordained and installed. The new elders are Judge John R. McFie, W. H. Pope, Esq., and Messrs. Alan R. McCord and Robert J. Crichton. Rev. Norman Sumner, of Las Vegas; Rev. H. C. Thompson, of Albuquerque, and Rev. Gabino Rendon, of Santa Fe, took part in the services.

Mrs. J. P. Victory, who has been very ill the past few weeks, was able to sit up today.

Mrs. McFie, Mrs. Whiteman and Miss Teatate McFie left for Denver to visit friends.

C. H. Elmendorf, of Lincoln, Neb., has returned to Santa Fe from the American Valley, Socorro county.

W. P. Gould, who is developing a very promising coal prospect on the Pecos river reserve, is in Santa Fe on a business visit.

Overseer Attorney E. C. Abbott left for San Diego, Taos county, to look after his mining interests in that part of the territory. He will return in a week.

Sophia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johns, died Sunday. The child was aged 4 months and 18 days. A funeral took place yesterday afternoon. Interment was made in Rosario cemetery.

Miss Lizette Monahan, of Dayton, Ohio, a sister of Mrs. Amado Chavez, and cousin of Mrs. A. C. Ireland, will arrive on a visit. Mrs. Chavez and Miss Monahan have not met each other for many years.

The Santa Fe Central team Sunday defeated a picked team from the Mechanics and Browns by a score of 15 to 9. A large number of people witnessed the game, which took place on the athletic grounds of St. Michael's college.

Rita Dominguez de McGrath died at her home on De Vargas street. She was aged 66 years and had been married twice. She is survived by her only son, Camilo Padilla, one of Santa Fe's public school teachers.

Miss Charlotte Lowry, of Meadville, Pa., arrived in Santa Fe on Saturday evening and will be the guest for a month of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Everts. She is on her way to the coast.

W. H. Goebel and son, Gordon, and J. A. Davis made a bicycle trip to Apache canon. They found leaps of driftwood on the mesa, showing how high last year's floods had been.

City Marshal Cicero Waldner was attacked near the Claire Hotel by Adalberto Warrick. David Shoemaker, also accused of coming to the assistance of Warrick, Waldner was compelled to draw his revolver and with its butt struck Warrick unconscious. He then took his fists and belabored Shoemaker, who retreated and in so doing stumbled into the gutter and cut his face open on the curb. Warrick was placed in jail and was given a hearing. Shoemaker was not arrested.

Born to Secretary and Mrs. J. W. Reynolds a baby boy. Mother and child are doing well.

Testimony is being taken in the partition suit of the Sebastian Martin land grant before E. H. Johnston, referee. Amado Chavez, Esq., is attorney for several claimants.

Adelardo Warrick was sentenced to pay $25 fine and costs and serve three months in the county jail for assaulting City Marshal Cicero Waldner. H. L. Ortiz, attorney for the defendant, has appealed the case to the district court.

Chemical Engine Company No. 1 held a meeting and elected the following officers: James Read, foreman; Luis Gold, assistant foreman; Reginald McKenzie, representative to the board of the commissioners; August Kirschner, secretary and treasurer. Gregoria Herrera and Manuel Vigil, of Santa Cruz, were in the city visiting friends and attending to some business at the county court house.

Mrs. Roll Fleetwood Monahan, of Dayton, Ohio, a sister of Mrs. Amado Chavez, arrived and will remain some time visiting with her sister.

In the district court of the First judicial district, a suit was filed in Rio Arriba county by District Attorney E. C. Abbott on behalf of the Territory of New Mexico against Ignacio Ortiz, Cruz Martinez, Eugenio Moya and Epimonte Trujillo, to recover on a $200 bond given by the defendants for Jose Archuleta, indicted for cattle stealing and who failed to make an appearance at the last session of the district court.

Clarence A. Brandenburg, special United States attorney, is here from Washington, taking testimony in the claim of E. H. Bergmann against the United States for $1,200 and interest, which Bergmann, then a captain of a company in the Union army, claims to have expended at Polvadero in 1862 in buying supplies for his company. Mr. Brandenburg is a brother of Weather Forecaster Brandenburg, of Denver.

J. J. Bart, who was assistant chief clerk of the Thirty-fourth legislative assembly and Dr. J. P. McMann, who have been residents of Elizabethtown in Colfax county from which county they will visit Chavez and Eddy counties. Mr. Bart is an attorney and Dr. McMann is a physician. They think they can find a suitable location somewhere in eastern New Mexico.

District Clerk A. M. Bergere has returned from his sheep ranch at Estancia Springs, Valencia county. He will return to the ranch at once, as lambing is in progress and shearing is to commence on May 1. He reports that the drought is felt very keenly by the sheepmen of eastern Valencia county. While on the Estancia ranch there is plenty of water even though grass is very dry and not green at all, on neighboring ranches there isn't even water. Mr. Bergere hopes to save about 70 per cent of his lambs.

St. Vincent's hospital stands in need of a thoroughly equipped operating room. It is hoped that the next legislative assembly may see its way clear to make an appropriation for that purpose.

Hon. L. B. Prince left for Denver on business, and will attend the consecration of Dr. Olmstead as bishop of Colorado, at St. John's Cathedral, as he has been the New Mexico member of the Cathedral Chapter for nearly twenty years.

John N. Zook, of Philadelphia, arrived and will go on duty in A. C. Ireland's drug store as prescription clerk.

Mr. Zook is a graduate of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and has been in the employ of Caswell & Mansey, the leading drug store of New York, for over three years.

While visiting in a Santa Fe orchard two boys caught fifteen trout in three minutes. The trout were coming out of the hydrant, but not knowing how long they had been dead in the pipe they had to be given to the chickens.

J. B. Harper, superintendent of irrigation for the Pueblo Indians, is occupying an office adjoining the old armory on the Fort Marcy reservation, formerly occupied by Indian Agent N. S. Walpole. He and his assistants are busy drafting plans for the proposed extensive irrigation works on the Zuni Pueblo Indian reservation, which are to be submitted to the interior department for approval before construction work is commenced.

TULAROSA.

From the Democrat.

Tularosa school bonds sold for $104.45 to Denver parties.

Colonel P. Coglianese and wife will visit San Diego, California, some time in May.

There will be an abundance of fruit and vegetables raised in Tularosa this season.

The Vera Cruz mine in the Nogal district, which has been idle for some time, is to be reopened shortly.

A number of Tularosa families will visit the Los Palomas springs during the summer months. Las Palomas is quite a health resort.

John N. Shyrock has received the appointment of postmaster at this place and will enter on his duties in a short time.

We are informed by the agency people that the government will make an appropriation of $2,000 for irrigation improvements on the reservation.

The Tuley Star mine, eight miles northwest of Tularosa, is holding its own as development progresses. Rock brought in here this week from the property shows considerable gold.

The ditches are full to overflowing and we are having an abundance of water this season. Everyone gets the full share without difficulty, consequently the whole earth around Tularosa presents a beautiful appearance.

SANTA ROSA.

From the Vox Publica.

H. B. Jones, the banker, has forwarded back to Marcellos, Mich., the plans for the new building which the Guadalupe County bank will erect at this place. As soon as they are returned work on the same will be commenced.

M. C. Williams, of Chillicothe, Texas, and father of our townsman, J. H. Williams, died in that place, Monday, the 14th inst., of paralysis. Mr. Williams had been summoned to his father's bedside but he reached there too late.

It is understood that the contract for the erection of a large wholesale warehouse in this town, for the Gross Richards company, has been let to Las Vegas parties and ground will soon be broken for the same.

Mrs. Miller, a lady sailing from Kansas City, arrived in Santa Rosa last Thursday and paid this office a pleasant call the following day. Mrs. Miller came to this town for the purpose of locating, but found out when she got here, so she informed us, that lots were, most too high, and such being the case she went back to Kansas City.

ROSWELL.

From the Record.

Miss May Van Horn, who has spent the winter here for her health, left for her home at Columbia, Mo.

Messrs. Wildy, Smith & Croighton sold the house known as the Reeves house in South Roswell, to W. M. Ferguson. Consideration, $1,300.

J. F. Matheson and family were passengers for Ashland, Ore., where they will make their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Matheson have resided in Roswell for the past two years.

John W. Poe has decided to erect a new building on the site of the old Poe, Lea & Cosgrove building at the corner of Main and Fourth streets. The building will have a frontage of 84 feet and will be 100 feet deep. It will be divided into three store rooms, one thirty-three feet wide and the other two twenty-five feet each.

Dick Hazlewood, an old time Roswell boy, he having worked many years for the Tukey Truck outfit, returned from the Philippines last week. He says that country is very rapidly becoming Americanized, and that as he looks at it there is no place in the world where there are as many opportunities for capital and brains combined with American push and "get there" as in our new Spanish possessions.

SAN MARCIAL.

From the Bee.

Melchor Silva has become a partner of Juan Sanchez in the saloon business at Midway.

Mrs. N. A. Kennedy and her handmaid little niece have gone to Peoria, Ill., to stay with relatives for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Williams, of Chicago, are here in attendance upon their son, who is an invalid at the residence of W. K. Nattress.

C. E. Mead has succeeded Harry Roselberry as druggist at the store of J. W. McCooch. Mr. Mead appears to have cosmopolitan ideas and the experience that begets success.

D. W. Hitchcock was knocked silly for a few seconds by a ladder falling and striking him upon the head. Like Richard, he soon was himself again. Fred Sweet was moving a trunk from the Maine hotel to the station. It broke away from him, took some per-lar curves, hit him one square in the eye and marred his smiling countenance for several days.

Alejandro Gallegos formerly a school teacher in Old San Marcial, died in Socorro a few days ago.

Miss Linna Willard, the competent principal of our schools during the recent term, left for a visit with friends in Paris and other points in Texas. The lady should be given the preference over all other applicants for the San Marcial school during the coming term.

The store of H. Bonen & Co. narrowly escaped destruction by fire. A large hanging lamp dropped from its fastenings and the oil blazed up about the great mass of merchandise near by. People rushed in and assisted Messrs. Bonen and Moore to smother the blaze with blankets and such like goods. Very little loss in consequence.

LAS VEGAS.

From the Optic.

Mrs. Charles Hefel gave a party in honor of Miss Berta Liebstadtter.

J. A. Murray, who had been confined to his room or more than a week, was able to get out yesterday.

Thomas Hall, an old time Las Vegas, has moved back from Cerrillos and will occupy the Seelman house on the corner of Seventh and Main streets.

The remains of Miss Bessie Parrott were shipped for Raymond, Ill., being accompanied by her father and mother. The deceased was but 17 years of age, and arrived in this city last Saturday, seeking relief from consumption.

There was a practice run of the hose wagon last night. The start was made from the engine house. The wagon dashed down to Stearns' corner, where the hose was connected with the fire plug. Continuing down the street the hose was broken in front of Pittenger's and a nozzle was attached. The water then went to Rosenthal's corner, attached the hose to the fire plug there, returned to Pittenger's again and put on a coupler. The whole time occupied from the instant the horses were harnessed till everything was ready to turn the second stream on Pittenger's was two minutes and fifteen seconds. This certainly was very rapid and satisfactory action.

W. A. Givens is laid up with an attack of tonsillitis.

Bernard Sleyster, a popular and successful real estate dealer and insurance agent of Albuquerque, is in the city on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Davis.

An ejectment suit has been filed by Felipe Bustamante against Fernando Baca, over land at Penasco Lizo, on the Pecos in San Miguel county. $500 is the sum asked for in damages.

The forest fires are still raging in the surrounding mountains. The forest fires are in the Mineral Hill district where thousands of feet of lumber are being ruined by the undisturbed flames. There seems to be no effort to stop the course of the flames.

H. A. Thornly has sold his cows and dairy apparatus to Travis Jones, of Las Alamos, and Billy Adon has been at the latter place putting in the necessary machinery for Mr. Jones.

The Thornly dairy was where the old Wildcat ranch used to be, just beyond Kearney's gap.

Simon Bitterman, one of Las Vegas' bright young business men, has received a call to El Paso in a business way and will sever his connections with this city and accept the flattering opportunities offered him in the Pass City. For the past two years he has been connected with the firm of Bacharach Bros., holding a responsible position. He has made a host of friends in this city who will regret his departure. He will accept a position with Leasing's wholesale house there.

Elwin Blake is able to be about the room.

Mrs. Barker has been so ill for the last ten days that her husband has been called in from Beulah.

Ignacio Lorenzo, son of Pasquel Lorenzo, died at the home of his father of diphtheria, at the age of ten years.

J. Pugh left on the stage for Santa Rosa. He received a telegram at Cerrillos that Tom Healey, engaged in the manufacture of pop waters at Santa Rosa, had been killed.

Senator Casimiro Barela, of Trinidad, Colo., father-in-law of E. Chacon, arrived Saturday and with the attorney left for a trip to Mora.

Nothing was heard of the report of the body found at the crestone by the herders Saturday. Chief of Police Ullbarri went out but found nothing but some bones of cattle.

Miss Frances Reeves Mettler, of Chicago, who visited in this city last summer, stopping at the home of J. M. Reid, will graduate from the Anna Morgan dramatic school in Chicago, May 10, and is contemplating a tour with Mansfield this fall.

Joe Merritt, of Oklahoma City, Okla., known as the Oklahoma poet, whose business is to sell washing machines, but whose poetry is like one of his own machines, dry for grease, was in the city yesterday en route to California. He left some of his so-called poetical compositions.

Las Vegas needs an Elk building. The order is abundantly able to put it up.

W. A. Givens is able to be out again after a continued illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Petra Chavez de Padilla is the newest addition to the asylum for the insane. She comes from Dona Ana county.

Postmaster Blood has received 100 packages of seed from Delegate Roddy to distribute in Las Vegas. First come will be first served, as Mr. Blood will give out his packages regardless of any previous condition of politics or servitude.

George H. Edwards, who for the past eight years had been employed as bookkeeper for the Browne & Manzanara company, left for St. Louis, where he will take a position with the St. Louis Smelting & Refining company. He had been connected with Las Vegas for the past four years.

Enrique Salos, the 7-year-old son of Bernard Salos, died of diphtheria. The family live at Los Ojitos, where the death occurred.

Last night about 10 o'clock, while the girl was at home alone with the lady, some miscreant tried to break into the house of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Danziger. The thief tried the front door and then placed a ladder to the back kitchen window. The young girl with unusual presence of mind went to the telephone and rang up the girl in the next house. Together they scared the would-be robbers off. Mr. and Mrs. Danziger were attending the theater at the time.

From the Record.

Mrs. George Moyer's children are having a tussle with the mumps.

F. W. Hall, deputy United States marshal, is here from Albuquerque on court business.

Charles McGee and Epifanio Gallegos have withdrawn their charge of assault to kill against Joe Jefferies and now all is serene.

Professor Layton and his pupils, assisted by Professor McNary, Mrs. R. C. Rankin and Father Pouget, with Miss Ruth Reynolds and Mrs. Rann as accompanists, will give a musicale on Monday evening, May 5, at the Normal university chapel.

The water pressure at the court house has been so slight lately that the employees there have to go thirsty, or "go down the line." The court house is on quite an elevation, and if water is being freely used on the line below, it will not come through at the court house.

J. M. Reid is acting for his son, R. C. Reid, in the assessor's office while the latter is at Topeka for surgical treatment. Chester writes that an X-ray revealed the fact that one of the small bones in his fractured leg had never been set and that the main bone had never thoroughly knitted. He will not return for several days.

In the case of Dolores Jaramillo, for assault with words, on complaint of J. B. Gallegos, tried before Judge Wooster, there was not sufficient evidence and the defendant was discharged. The law prescribes that in such cases the words must be said in anger, to make a case, and it was not proven that Dolores was mad when he called Juan bad names. In fact, he maintained that he was only reasoning with the wicked Juan in brotherly love.

Sheriff Romero now has twenty-two boarders at his county hotel. He is doing a land office business.

T. A. Ackers, of Tiffin, Ohio, has arrived here with 2,000 hens for D. J. Osborn's henery and they are being placed in the new home west of town today.

C. S. Onderdonk and family left for Denver, where they will make their future home. Las Vegas regrets to lose such friends and it is hoped they will return some time in the future, for a visit at least.

A letter from Willie Doll in Mexico City says that he arrived there in time to enjoy the earthquake. He said it lasted about thirty seconds and that it fairly made him stagger. The natives, he said, all fell on their knees and began praying, being terribly frightened.

Mrs. Fred Greener was in to see Judge Wooster to get him to guide her husband back into the virtuous beaten path good husbands should follow. It seems he has been neglecting her, of late, for other women, and colored women at that. Mrs. Greener is a nice looking Mexican woman and her husband is an "American."

F. Baca is in from his ranch at Carrizo to visit with his family.

Max Nordhaus went to Santa Rosa on a business trip.

Mrs. R. J. Van Patten left for Santa Rosa, where she will make her future home.

Norris Cochran, while playing ball Saturday, got struck in the head with a ball, hurting him severely and leaving a good sized bump.

Judge Mills, C. S. Gortner, Charles A. Spies and Secundino Romero went to Mora to attend court.

Frank Roy went to El Porvenir to pay off the miners in the coal fields. They have nine men working there.

Simon Bitterman left for his future home in El Paso. He intends to come back after one of the pretty girls of Las Vegas pretty soon, however.

Judge Woodbury and wife came down from Watrous. Mrs. Woodbury went out to the sanitarium for medical treatment and will remain some time.

Guadalupe Delgado de Romero has purchased at sheriff's sale a certain tract of land that belonged to Eugenio Romero and sons. Consideration, $5,341.88. The sale is a friendly settlement made to acquire a title.

Santiago Hunter, 22 years of age, and Mrs. Tomasita Padilla, a divorced woman 28 years of age, were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony in the dark stillness of Saturday night, by Judge Wooster. The couple are working people and could not spare any part of the day for wedding festivities.

Mrs. George Seelinger has taken her daughter to Albuquerque for medical attention.

Miss Grace Sullivan is seriously ill with typhoid pneumonia. Her father, M. J. Sullivan, is here from Mexico, where he is interested in mining.

W. S. Lachey, an old 63 or in Vegas, has returned from his California trip, where he was three months. He went on to Clayton to visit his son today. Many of our old residents will remember him well.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilario F. Romero entertained a number of friends last night in honor of their paper wedding. It being their first wife past as man and wife. Carlsbad was the amusement of the evening and refreshments the gastronomic pleasure.

Miss M. Mossie York gave a little party yesterday to her schoolmates and their teacher, Miss Himes, in honor of her twelfth birthday anniversary. The young folks had a good time and voted Miss Mossie a charming entertainer.

Mrs. C. M. Cristensen left on last night's train with her sister, Mrs. Fred Whistler, who was going through with her very sick husband to their home in Wisconsin. Mrs. Cristensen will visit with her parents at Getwell, Iowa, before her return.

LORDSBURG.

From the Liberal.

The Amalgamated Copper company has declared a quarterly dividend of four bits on the share. A year ago it was paying quarterly dividends of $2 per share.

A. R. Gibson, of the Gibson Development company, left the first of the week for his Santa Fe home. While here he made arrangements for the sinking of a hundred foot shaft on the San Simon group near Lee's Peak, in the Virginia district.

The public school, have closed for the year after a very successful term. Instead of having no exhibition to show off the wonderful results attained by the children the school closed with a picnic last Friday, at which all the children had a good time. The school board is now on the lookout for new teachers. Neither of the young ladies who taught this spring will accept her old position.

A deal which has been in progress for some time was concluded last week and the money paid over. W. H. Small and Joe Raby sold the Ontario mine near Lee's Peak to a party of Wheeling, W. Va., people, represented by Professor Davis. The sale was made by Thos. O'Keefe, of El Paso. Professor Davis was out here the first of the week, and then returned to his home in Wheeling. He expects to return in a couple of weeks and put men to work on the property. Messrs. Small and Raby have hung onto this property and worked it for many years, confident that they had a good property, and that it would ultimately pay them well which it has done.

LAS CRUCES.

From the Republican.

President Foster of the Agricultural college, will address the commencement class graduating from the Gallup schools on May 23.

Neither the county nor the railway company will render any assistance to Pat Dunn, who broke his leg on the railroad trestle a few weeks since. He has been taken care of by the charitably inclined citizens of Rincon.

Miss Bessie Newcomb, who was last week elected queen of May will be crowned at the dormitory on May 1. Miss Adelaide Hughes will be the maid of honor. Miss Gladys Llewellyn and Maude McFie will also be maids of honor.

The United States supreme court on Monday affirmed the decision of the court of private and claims in the Santa Teresa grant case. The land court had confirmed the grant, which is situated in Dona Ana county, northwest of El Paso and the United States appealed to the supreme court. The grant was made originally to Francisco Garcia, by the Spanish authorities of New Biscay, now Chihuahua, Ar. was confirmed to the claimant, M. R. Pandal, by the court of private land claims on May 4, 1899. The original claim was for 9,881 acres, but the grant is confirmed for considerably less.

chapter of British history. Evidently the spirit of Wallace and Bruce has not yet entirely departed from their countrymen.

The Plaza Hotel has the following excellent menu for breakfast: "No man who is dignified and able to take this paper can expect any other than the highest quality of service in the Plaza Hotel. We are for those who are for the best of everything else."

RIGHT RULING.

The postal authorities at Washington, recommending the stability of post-offices to make mistakes in setting letters to, among those have been a number of those persons taking mail out of the office other than their own and returning it. The law is to have people look at their mail before taking it out of the office and if they should have mail other than their own they must return it at once. It also includes newspapers. The excuse that it is the postmaster's fault will not do. If you have been told that other people's mail was not better take warning or you may get yourself into trouble.

TRIBUTE TO THE PRESS.

Andrew Rosewater, in speaking before a joint meeting of the Los Angeles council and board of trade, gave his appreciation of newspapers in the following language:

You will find that you are doing a great deal toward building up a town by reading the newspapers. Newspapers cannot live on wind. It takes a great deal of money to operate a newspaper, and a newspaper that is operated in a small town works under extraordinary disadvantages. If a publisher had to work from morning until night to make a living, you cannot expect him to give you support. I simply say this in order to help a city you have come to help your newspapers. They are the mirror through which people see your city from a distance."

THE BEEF COMBINE.

Apparently there is no beef trust, in the sense that there is a steel or a sugar trust, but the beef combine is operating in great part upon the same principles as these. If reliable newspapers of the east are correctly informed the combination, which has caused so great an advance in the prices of beef centers its interests in Kansas City, and to each member of it is allotted a certain territory in which he has entire control of the business. Hence there is no competition, and of course no reduction of prices, on the contrary, they all the time tend to advance toward the top notch. It is stated that the trade of this combine amounts to $600,000,000 annually, and it is no very wild estimate that its profits reach $100,000,000 a year. This combination, by the atrocious purpose of making meat unaffordable to the consumer, is said not to be within the purview of the law for the regulation of trusts. Its business is not done from a single office and the price lists that are distributed over the country slightly differ one from another.

ONLY A FEW LEFT.

The Lordburg Liberal left the democratic party in the territory is going fast. Following the conversion of James Fielder comes the announcement that Dr. J. C. Carr, of Albuquerque, had abandoned the old party, and now the New Mexican says that J. H. Crist has been appointed postmaster at Moriarty, Rio Arriba county. It will be remembered that Crist was the chief clerk of the democratic party during Taft's administration. He was editor of the party organ at Santa Fe and district attorney. He it was who convicted the Borregos just to spite Tom Catron. With Pat Garrett holding down the collectorship at El Paso and Crist far enough into the party to be appointed postmaster it will be seen that the rush has started in good shape. If it continues like this the democratic territorial convention of 1904 will consist of ex-Governor Ross and Harvey Whitehill, who will have to draw cuts to see which of them will receive the nomination as delegate to congress—this, of course, providing Delegate Rodey does not make a state of us before that time, in which case these two will have to be the candidates for senators.

WHAT TRUSTS DO.

In his recent defense of trusts before the Indiana republican convention, Senator Beveridge cited the steel combine and some others as examples of the beneficent workings of these combinations of capital. Speaking of the steel trust he said:

"It employs over 20,000 more laboring men than the total number employed by all the establishments which were consolidated into this single company. This steel trust employs more men than all the iron and steel mills in the world, and it pays them more than $100,000,000 every year in wages, not included officers and salaries. The average wage of each laborer is 29 per cent larger than before consolidation, and aggregate wages are over 40 per cent greater than before. Another illustration: Less than a generation ago farmers bought their wagons from numberless blacksmith shops and paid $120 for each wagon. The farmer's business increased, roads multiplied, more wagons were required. Natural conditions made wagon making a specialized and consolidated industry and today the enormous establishments of the Studebaker is one of the glories of our state and nation. It has not destroyed the little blacksmith shops, which are now more numerous than ever; and yet it has given to the millions of users of wagons perfect wagons at $60—half the old time price. When most of the men of this convention were farmers these wagons were made at the village blacksmith shop. In comparison with the finished instrument of agriculture which the Oliver Chilled Plow Works turn out today, my horse plow was a rough, heavy and expensive. Did these organizations cause all this progress? No, the American people, with powers unthought of, cannot it, and industrial and commercial organization is only one of the people's methods of progress."

THE ARID LANDS.

The plans for reclaiming the arid lands of the west through irrigation, suggested by President Roosevelt and Secretary Hitchcock, have directed public attention to the extent to which the once arid lands have been transformed by this process into productive areas and the amount of arid land that is yet to be reclaimed. It is estimated that one-third of the whole United States, exclusive of Alaska and outlying possessions, consists of vacant public lands. This vast area under proper irrigation and good management is capable of sustaining a large population. As much of this area has a rich soil its utilization is one of the most important economic questions before the people and congress must soon give it consideration.

Writing in the current World's Work Robert T. Hill of the United States geological survey calls attention to some instances of the marvelous transformation of the desert into "verdant oases" by irrigation. The hopeless looking soil of the desert, when artificially watered, when watered is apparently more fertile than that region where rainfall is abundant. Proof of this may be seen in the wheat fields of Utah, the great cotton farms of California, the alfalfa valleys of the Rio Grande and the orchards of California.

Frederick Haynes Newell, who has been engaged for many years in conducting investigation of the extent to which arid regions can be reclaimed by irrigation and has written an exhaustive book upon the subject, declares that enough land can be reclaimed in this way to "provide food and homes for a population greater than that of our whole country today."

STRUCK IT RICH.

Former New Mexican Promoter Gets Rich in Mexico.

W. C. Greene, who made and lost two or three fortunes in this territory, appears to have met with good fortune in Mexico. The Tucson Citizen says:

W. C. Greene will erect a $50,000 residence at Cancun. He has instructed Trust & Rust to prepare plans for a handsome structure to be erected at the great copper camp and in response to his request they have prepared a set of plans for an elegant residence of an Spanish mission style.

The residence according to the plans prepared will contain twenty-four rooms.

There will be a reception hall in the center extending through the entire building and ending in an arbor adjoining an Italian garden. This reception hall will be 24x50 feet. There will be an elegant dining room, parlor, a music room and a library on the second floor. There are ten bedrooms on the second floor, each fitted with a private bath.

The plans call for an arcade veranda across the front of the residence and extending on each side. The building is to be constructed of brick and plaster and will be fitted with every convenience.

W. C. Greene will make a visit with in the next few weeks when he will inspect the plans prepared and suggest any changes that he may see fit to make.

MINING NOTES.

E. W. Gram has located the Columbia mine, about five miles west of Las Vegas. He thinks he has a fine hole of lead.

San Antonio, of Las Vegas, has discovered a fine gold mine somewhere in the mountains near that city. The ore he brings it is the best that has been seen for some time. He is keeping the location to himself.

J. N. Broyles gathered up all the Mexican stonemasons he could find on Thursday to go to the San Andreas, somewhere near Dripping Springs, to lay the foundations for a quartz mill. Five car loads of machinery reached Las Vegas this week and is now being freighted to the camp. One hundred men will be employed when the mill is ready for business and the trade of the camp will largely come to San Marcial.

In speaking of the Willow Creek placers, a gentleman who is a resident of Las Vegas, said: "I was in El Paso between several months, and was over the Willow Creek placers several times and can truthfully say that the country has no business in them, and will make a pile of money out of them. I asked in regard to them and I can truly say that they are as fine a mining investment as I know of and I can heartily endorse them to any one asking in regard to them."

Fights in Santa Fe.

The Santa Fe correspondent sends the following item of news to the Denver Republican, dated April 24: Two ugly fights occurred last night and several arrests were made. John Lane, a negro, attacked J. T. Forsha,

When the story of Chinese atrocities filled the papers and shocked the world, it was the women who drew the pity and sympathy of all. Doubtless many a wife who heard her husband's words of sympathy for these women thought with a pang of the blindness of men to the suffering under their very eyes. It is true. The suffering of women in China was severe but short. Many a wife suffers for years with a daily agony of pain, her nerves shattered, her strength almost gone, and never hears a word of sympathy.

To women such as these Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription brings the opportunity of a new life of health and happiness. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Accept to substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

"I had falling of internal organs, and had to go to bed every month, and irregular periods, which would sometimes last ten or twelve days," writes Mrs. Alice L. Holmes, of Cushing, St. Paul, Minn. "I had lost my digestion so that I could hardly eat anything. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery cured me. I took three bottles of the Favorite Prescription and one of the Golden Medical Discovery."

Sick people are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and is held as strictly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

proprietor of the Exchange hotel, with a knife. Forsha's life was only saved by bystanders. In a fight with A. J. Harris, a Denver baseball player, who was brought to Santa Fe last year, with federal and territorial officers, one officer got the worst of it. Harris was arrested.

Isidor Napoleone, aged 15 years, was arrested last night. He confessed having stolen a value belonging to a dead man, whose body was being shipped from the Santa Fe depot to New York. He had hidden the value under a coal car.

He said he took it to wait until a reward would be offered for its return.

FORMED IN ARIZONA.

Fifteen Million Dollar Concern Incorporates, as Does a Big Financial Corporation.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the county recorder at Phoenix, Arizona, of the Western Iron and Steel company, with a capital stock of $15,000,000, divided into shares of $100 each. The incorporators and directors are B. F. Beeding, Marcus Pollock, William H. Bridges, William G. Busey, Henry W. Dodge, Irwin C. Stump, Joseph W. Stanford, Seymour P. Thomas and A. E. Piorkowski. Acknowledgments were taken in New York.

The articles named Phoenix as the principal place of business, with an executive and business branch office in San Francisco. The business proposed is smelting and working of steel and iron in any form, making armor plate, building ships, railroad locomotives, etc.

The American Security and Trust company, with a capital stock of $10,000,000, has filed articles of incorporation also at Phoenix. The incorporators are Roger O. Clark, Elijah E. Stanley and Melvin C. Gray. The principal office is to be Phoenix, with a branch at Detroit, Mich. The action defining the incorporation is a very long one and includes every conceivable business that could be carried on in this country, Hawaii, Philippines, Nicaragua and Central America, including the improvement and construction of waterways, harbors, reservoirs, etc.

TELEPHONE LINE.

Grant County to Have Complete System from El Paso.

The Silver City enterprise says the Grant County Telephone company are thinking seriously of extending their line from Santa Rita to Faywood, there to connect with the line from El Paso which is now building and is now within a few miles of Deming. The new line will go down the Mimbres, via Scurts, providing enough subscribers can be obtained among the residents along the river to justify them in making the extension. Officials of the company say they mean business and if they are given the proper encouragement the long talked of and yet to be realized telephone connection with El Paso and the outside world will be a reality before many moons have waned. It is also the intention of the company to establish connection with Fort Huachuca, which it hopes to accomplish by June 1. The citizens of this town will then be placed in close connection with every important point in the northern part of the county as well as Deming, and through El Paso, with many towns in Texas.

LEG BROKEN.

Charles Grant, Extra Switchman, Injured This Morning.

A BAD BREAK.

Charles Grant, an extra switchman in the local railroad yards, met with a very serious accident this morning. He was riding on the front end of the switch engine, when the right foot and switch between the driver and pilot beam, breaking the leg just below the knee. The injured man was tenderly lifted from the ground, where he had fallen, and conveyed to the local hospital for treatment.

Although he was on the extra board as a brakeman on the Santa Fe Pacific, he had been employed by Agent Myers and was therefore considered not in the employ of the Santa Fe Pacific but in the Santa Fe. He will be sent up, therefore, to the company's hospital at Las Vegas, either tomorrow morning or tomorrow night.

Word from the hospital this afternoon gives the information that the break in a very bad one, and it is feared that the leg will have to be amputated.

"THE BEAUTIFUL."

A Writer on the Theft of Flowers from the Park.

Editors Citizen.

Silvester Baxter says in a recent article on "The Beautifying of Village and Town." One of the most hopeful chapters in the record of American progress in civilization is that which tells of the development of a more beautiful life for the people at large. The love of the beautiful probably exists in every human being, and in some shape, strives for expression. To unfetter it, to give it the means of intelligent utterance—that is one of the great aims of civilization.

The city of Albuquerque as a municipality, and the taxpayers citizens thereof, have done, are doing and intend doing a great deal of work along the lines mentioned above, and all their work is for the benefit and pleasure of the people at large. It is safe to say that a majority of those getting the most benefit and pleasure from the work done are not taxpayers, but they are beneficiaries.

They have free access to the park at all times, with no one to "molest or make them afraid."

At the northeast corner of the park there is a splendid bunch of blue flowers, and at a clock on Saturday afternoon the writer saw them loaded with bees and the air was sweet as money all around. On Sunday morning the writer went to the park to have another look at the beautiful things, and feel their sweet breath blowing on the soft spring air.

Alas! And alas! Not one of all the beautiful blooms were left. All had been broken off and carried away, great bunches broken ruthlessly, the ground trampled and picked all through and among the bushes.

Now, who did this thing? Surely the members of the city government and the people who put up the money to beautify this beautiful city did not do it, because the taxpayers have to work to make the money wherewithal to provide these means of enjoyment for the people at large. They have very little time to lounge in the park themselves.

Are the roses, which are now budding, to suffer the fate of the blues? A few men, and one noble woman, have taken great interest, and spent both time and money in trying to make the park a thing of beauty and a joy forever to "the people at large."

"No point up," uttered the noble woman. They were glad for all the people to enjoy the fruit of their labors. Is it any wonder they become discouraged when the flowers they have tilled and tended are torn away as fast as they bloom?

It is not worth while to lay it out on children and nurse girls. "There are others."

Of course, we understand that the park belongs to all the people, but each one has an "individual interest," and it is individual. You can't take away your interest without taking part of some other person's. Nothing can be truer than the unwritten law that your rights end right where your neighbor's begins.

If the "grown ups" will leave the flowers alone, the writer undertakes to say that the little "tots" can be persuaded to do the same. L. O.

WANTS 200,000.

President Roosevelt Interested in Pan-American Railroad Scheme.

The president Thursday transmitted to the senate a report made by the secretary of state concerning the action of the Pan American congress recently held in the City of Mexico on the subject of the suggested Pan American railway connecting the American continents. The secretary calls special attention to the request of the conference that the United States appoint a commission to investigate the question at issue, and urges that two commissions accordingly be appointed. The president endorses the suggestion and says:

"I recommend an appropriation by congress of the sum of $200,000, or as much thereof as may be necessary to enable the president to appoint the commissioners to visit Central and South America to carry the purpose of the resolution into effect, and to investigate and report upon the means of extending the commerce of the United States with those regions."

WILL HURT HUTCHINSON.

Harvey Eating House There May Be Discontinued.

Newton thinks that there is a probability that the Santa Fe Harvey house at Hubbison will be closed in a short time, says the Taos State Journal.

The reason given for closing is that the Harvey people tried to buy the building so that they could remodel and improve it, and that failing in this they have decided to close the hotel and with the new time card arrange for feeding passengers at the Harvey house in Newton and Dodge City. Sooner or later it is almost inevitable that the Hutchinson house will be closed. It is not likely that the Harvey people will maintain houses in Hutchinson, Newton and Dodge City when two hotels would fill every requirement. The Newton eating house is one of the most important on the system, feeding as it does the passengers on the early morning trains, the noon trains and No. 7 in the evening, and should one of the three houses be discontinued Hutchinson would be almost sure to suffer.

SURPRISE OF THE SEASON.

Railroaders So Regard the Rock Island and Southern Pacific Deal.

The Chicago Chronicle says Chicago officials of the Rock Island route are enthusiastic over the success of the company's new El Paso line which was opened about three weeks ago. The business from Chicago to Mexico and California via this route has exceeded the expectations of the agents of the road. The first train out of here carried a number of passengers destined for the City of Mexico and for southern California. On one of the recent trips there were sixteen through passengers from here to points in Mexico and California, nine of whom were ticketed to Los Angeles.

The co-operation of the Southern Pacific with the Rock Island is one of the surprises of the season in the railroad world.

DEATH AT SAN ANTONIO.

Ramon C. Montoya Died There This Morning.

Jose G. Chavez, the claim adjuster of the Santa Fe road for the Rio Grande division, reached the city this morning on the early passenger train from Los Lunas, and a short time afterwards received a message from San Antonio, N. M., stating that his nephew, Ramon C. Montoya, died there at 4 o'clock this morning. The deceased was about 36 years old, and was one of the best known gentlemen of that section of Socorro county. He was a sheep raiser, and in good financial circumstances. He leaves a mother, four sisters and two brothers, beside a host of relatives and friends, to mourn his death. Mr. Chavez left for San Antonio on a freight train, and will attend the funeral, which will no doubt take place at San Antonio sometime tomorrow.

BERNALILLO.

Mines and Minerals

Klondike's gold production this season is estimated at $50,000,000.

There is talk of organizing a mining bureau and stock exchange at Prescott, Ariz.

The copper production of the Arizona Copper company in March was 1,113 short tons.

Another rich strike was made last Monday at the 300 north level of the McIntosh mine at Chloride, Ariz.

E. Chapin Gard arrived at Kingman from Denver to look after the interests of the Treasure Hill Mining company.

The smelter project at Chloride, near Kingman, is going right ahead. The first car load of machinery is expected shortly after the first.

E. P. Thompson and G. W. Heiser have transferred the Empire mine at Chloride, Ariz., to H. B. King of Los Angeles. Consideration, $5,000.

The Tennessee mine in Mohave county, Arizona, is working thirty-five men, and will soon commence sinking. The mill is turning out concentrates again.

The gold production of Russia during the year 1901, as reported by the official gazette of the Russian government, exceeds that of the previous year.

The Tucson Post says it is proposed to move, and reconstruct the stamp mill at the University of Arizona during the summer so that it will be ready for use during the next school year.

It is reported that James Jackson has already taken out about three and a half tons of ore from his recent strike in the Overland mine on Walla-pat mountains, which runs about $500 per ton.

The water shaft at the "Treadwell" camp, near Kingman, was destroyed by dynamite the other morning, and a miner named Fred Jennings has been accused of the deed. A warrant has been issued.

The Copper Era of Clifton reports the arrival of the first lot of ore for the Shannon smelter. The first trainload came down decorated with flags. The immense bins at the smelter are being rapidly filled with ore.

Ed Green, one of the contractors on the big shaft on the Gold Road mine near Kingman while putting in a pump accidentally fell thirty-five feet and sustained a fracture of the bones of one leg. He was taken to Needles.

At a meeting of stockholders of the South Verde Copper company forty-six minutes later the district court of Pima county, John T. McGee has sued the United Verde Copper company for $25,000 damages for injuries received while working on the electric railroad between the smelter of the United Verde company and the slag dump. McGee is a resident of Arizona county and he has employed Robert E. Morrison, of Prescott, and Thomas Bennett, of Phoenix, as his attorneys. The company is represented by Hendon & Norris of Prescott.

PREHISTORIC CIVILIZATION.

Order Issued for Protection of Relics of Ancient Race in Arizona.

A correspondent writing to the El Paso News, from Phoenix, Ariz., says: The government, finally awakening to the necessity of steps to prevent the utter ruin of remains of a prehistoric civilization in the southwest, has issued orders for the protection of the ancient relics scattered through Arizona.

The surveyor general of the territory is presenting a report on all tracts of public land which contain natural wonders, ancient ruins, or other objects of scientific interest.

Work has already been begun in the guarding from the relic-seekers and the vandals the great piles of ruined buildings scattered about the Salt River valley, the "Cave Grande" remains near Florence, and the great cliff dwellings in the mountains to the north.

Scientific men say that the valley of the Salt River and the adjacent country once supported an immense number of people of a superior intelligence.

Fifteen miles southeast of Phoenix lies the most important relic, named "Las Moctas," roughly "City of the Dead," by Frank Hamilton Channing, who spent several years of archaeological research in the valley in the late '80s. Channing believed that the pueblo of Las Moctas undoubtedly had been the central one in the southwest. Within the ruins of concrete walls he found much to confirm his belief, and much that told of the customs and identity of the tribes long departed. It was made plain that the government of the ancient dwellers was theocratic, that they possessed a high grade of intelligence, that they were agricultural, tilling the earth by the aid of water brought through artificial works of magnitude from the Salt River. They were not Aztecs, but of the Toltec period, of Antiquity far more remote. The greater number of the dead were cremated and the ashes buried in jars in mound, yet closely packed cemeteries. Some, probably of the priesthood, were interred within the houses. In cemented crypts that often must have been used as divans by disconsolate relatives. The skeletons thus secured are mainly those of large stature and superb cranial formation, in almost all respects equal to the best Caucasian types of today.

Nearer to Phoenix is the great ruin in the Tempe road, five miles east, near the railroad. Here, under the auspices of the Antiquarian society of Arizona, have been begun systematic excavations that are bringing to light trinkets and pottery. The building seems almost a common hillcock and no photograph can convey a suggestion of an edifice. But, within the talus are the walls of a structure far greater in size than even the famed and better preserved Casa Grande, near Florence, sixty miles to the eastward. The building is 230 feet in extreme length, by 180 feet in width. Its original height can only be conjectured, but at least three stories remain standing. It is hoped to clear away about half of the building, that within it, under a protecting roof, may be established a museum of southwestern archaeology. Probably within the building will be housed slabs and rocks from the Salt River mountains south of Phoenix a few miles, where the artists of old have left, on boulders and cliffs, quantities of photographs of exceeding interest yet of unknown meaning.

On the extreme eastern line of Maricopa county, is a group of the finest cliff dwellings in the southwest. The ruins are in two groups on either side of a precipitous canyon. The walls are of good concrete without outside doors, entrance being made from the top by means of ladders. One fortress well filled a shell-like cave, 140 feet long by forty feet in extreme depth and thirty feet in extreme height. The building is three-storied, even now. There yet remain many of the floor joists, small red-cypress logs, rough hewn with obsidian or stone axes. In the valley of the Verde, also, are interesting ruins to be found. One of them, near the mouth of Deadman canyon, fifty miles northwest of Phoenix, is of white stone, with three stories still standing.

Fort Wingate.

Naturally the people of McKinley county desire that the post at Fort Wingate be continued in existence. There is more reason for a post at Fort Wingate than there is at Whipple Barracks in Arizona, and the war department should reconsider its intention to abandon Fort Wingate.—New Mexican.

Stage Robber Arrested.

Sheriff Romero did a quick and quiet $700 worth of business this morning, says the Las Vegas Record. He received a tip that Ben West, wanted there for stage robbery, was working in the mines just north of Teesdale. The sheriff went out there early this morning, before the miners had gone to work, and stationed himself among the rocks near West's tent. When West went from his tent to get some wood for a fire the sheriff slipped around and took possession. When West returned the sheriff "put the drop" on him and placed him under arrest. Mr. Romero brought him into town and lodged him safely in the county jail. The California authorities were wired of the capture and an officer will be sent here for identification. The prisoner answers the description of the man wanted for whom there is $700 reward.

Shot in His Left Leg.

For all kinds of sores, burns, bruises or other sores DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is a sure cure. Skin diseases yield to it at once. Never fails in cases of piles, cooling and healing. None genuine but DeWitt's. Beware of counterfeits. "I suffered for many years from a sore caused by a gun shot wound in my left leg," says A. S. Fuller, English, Ind. "It would not heal and gave me much trouble. I used all kinds of remedies to no purpose until I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes completely cured me." J. H. O'Reilly & Co., B. H. Briggs & Co.

Better Than Pills.

The question has been asked, "In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets superior to pills?" Our answer is: They are easier and more pleasant to take, more gentle and mild in effect and more reliable as they can always be depended upon. Then they cleanse and invigorate the stomach and leave the bowels in a natural condition, while pills are more harsh in effect and their use is often followed by constipation. Misrepresented by Home Papers.

A few days ago the Las Vegas Record contained an item in its New Mexico news, stating that District Attorney Lowellly held that "one license covers all games, so long as only one game is played at one time." The other evening that paper received the following dispatch in reference to the matter: "Las Cruces, April 24.—I do not hold that one license covers all gambling games and never rendered such opinion. The statement is absolutely untrue. "W. H. H. LEWELLYN."

The Record concluded the item from a statement which appeared in a copy of the local newspapers of Mr. Lowellly's district, and published it as a matter of news, supposing it to be correct. We are pleased to publish Mr. Lowellly's correction, however.

the country near Mount Hope for oil. The grant is one of the largest in the territory and is well timbered by a vast containing a vast timber tract. The country surrounding Mount Hope is one of the most picturesque in Arizona and abounds in wild game of all kinds. The wild hog or boar is found over the whole country in thousands, besides which there are a multitude of deer and wild turkey. In the mountains and valleys there are vine and wild berries and grapes that would set the heart of nature in motion. Oak, cedar, pine and other native trees cover miles of mountain country. In the northern part of the grant copper has been found, but as far as the defined vein has been uncovered. Just south of Mountain Station and in the mountains has been found and further to the north quartz veins carrying good values in gold have been uncovered.

WON A FORTUNE.

Ben Hatfield, Miner, Leaves Arizona with $100,000.

A correspondent of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, writing from Phoenix, Ariz., says:

One hundred thousand dollars and a world of happiness beside! That was Ben Hatfield's strike in Arizona, and his story is an argument for those who put their faith in that indefinable something called luck. It was less than three years of good, hard work intelligently performed, indefatigable energy and sound business sense that opened the door to Hatfield's happiness. Others have worked as hard and with equal intelligence, but without success. Luck, therefore, seems to be the only differing factor.

As a boy Ben Hatfield rode the Montana range, a husky cow puncher, blessed with good health and fired with all the ambitions of a sturdy western youth. Of humble but honorable parentage, his only capital was his two hands, a brave heart and a determination to succeed. He was early attracted by the rich mineral discoveries in Montana and while yet a young man took the range, resolved to win some fortune with pick and drill. The monotony of the life of every miner and prospector, that with one exception, for not all miners have a wedding day.

Hatfield's wedding day was the turning point in his career, though till recently he did not know it. About four years ago Mrs. Hatfield's health began to fail. Arizona fame as a mining field was spreading, but not more rapidly than the stories of its wonderful health-giving climate. With just money enough to travel on, saved from his lonesome life in the Montana mines, and with a thorough knowledge of the mining business from the prospector's standpoint, Mr. and Mrs. Hatfield came to Arizona. It was December, 1899, when they found themselves in the little mining camp of Stanton, away back in the hills. He went to work at once for the Mountain Side Milling & Mining company, of which George B. Upton was general manager, announcing to his newly made friends that he had come after $100,000 for himself and health for Mrs. Hatfield. When they started the train for Los Angeles a few days ago the eyes of both were sparkling for their fullest and fondest hopes had been realized.

Hatfield was made foreman at the mine and worked in that capacity till December, 1900. About the 1st of October, 1900, Hatfield, Upton and Weisling, who was also an employee of the Mountain Side Milling & Mining company, made the location of the Oro Grande group of mines, only six miles north of the little town of Winslow, and almost on the bank of that most notable of all Arizona rivers, the Hassayampa. There was a well defined ledge on the Oro Grande, but that meant little for the owners, who had prospected hundreds of ledges that looked equally as promising. But a little copper stain gave them hope and urged them on. One year ago last February the prospect hole, then 34 feet deep, changed its general appearance. They had found bright, yellow gold and found it in most gratifying quantity. The discovery was kept quiet for a time, the owners being fearful that it would prove to be only a little pocket that would vanish as quickly as it came. Weisling, anxious to make the best of what seemed to be a good thing, sold out to his partners for $1,500, which they managed to scrape together. Then came the real mining. Down they went, till every dollar at their command had gone for steel and powder. But the gold was coming—glittering gold that has lured men to the tropics and well nigh to the poles. It was no time to stop when fortune seemed almost within their grasp.

Mr. Upton finally succeeded in intercepting Garrett E. Lamb, an Iowa friend, who already had wealth at his command. He came, he saw, and he knew a good thing when he saw it. The shaft was sunk to the depth of 300 feet, and steel and cross-ropes were run. In a short time 2,000 feet of work was done for all the haste was made that money and muscle could command. To day it is acknowledged to be the largest gold property in Arizona. If not in the world, and in a short time the output of a 100-stamp mill, working on ore of remarkable value, will be finding its way to the United States mint.

But the returns will not go to Hatfield, for he has made his cleanup. He came to Arizona to get $100,000, and he got it. The expense of developing the mine had reduced his interest to one-sixth, but that was a rough in a property of such wonderful value. When he intimated to his partners that $300,000 in hand was worth a million in the ground they took a different view of the case and told him his money was ready.

That is the story of Ben Hatfield and what makes him the happiest miner in the west. After a short stay in Los Angeles he will go back to his Stanton home for a visit with the old folks, and it is said to see an eagle with honey near their door in their declining days. For Ben Hatfield is a loyal son, as free-hearted, unselfish and generous as he is good natured and strong. And after his summer outing he will return to Arizona. There are other fish in the sea and Hatfield now has but for the hook. And Mrs. Hatfield likes the fishing.

FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Albuquerque and Beien Bowling Clubs Will Play Three Games.

The Beien bowling club has accepted the challenge of the Albuquerque club to roll for the championship of New Mexico. The first game will be rolled in Beien a week from next Sunday on the alleys of the Hayden club. The second will be played here on the Submythe alleys and if a third is necessary, place will be selected later. The two teams are: Albuquerque—Leon Heitzow, captain; Al Fred, Lewis Brooks, Dave Wolter, Sam Pickard, Melville Samuels, P. C. Hall, referee. Beien—Paul R. Dallen, captain; William Le Brun, Ernest C. Zwickler, H. Emory Davis, Chas. Reinken, P. P. Simmons, Adolphus Dehler, substitute.

Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates, and will not constipate like nearly all other cough medicines. Reliable substitutes. Alvarado Pharmacy.

TOO MUCH WIND.

It Seriously Interfered With the Races and Ball Game.

About 500 people saw the Albuquerque Brown defeat the Santa Fe Pacific team yesterday afternoon by a score of 14 to 2. The weather was bad for base ball and for races and the free for all was postponed.

The green race was won by Timbley William L. and Tony Michelson drove in second.

Joe Barnett's St. Elmo took the 2 to 4 with McGinty second and Black Diamond third.

Bob Collins defeated Deek in a driving wind and the quarter mile dash was taken by My Girl from Friday.

The free for all will probably be a part of next Sunday's program.

Good for Rheumatism.

Last fall I was taken with a very severe attack of muscular rheumatism which caused me great pain and annoyance. After trying several prescriptions and rheumatic cures, I decided to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I had seen advertised in the South Jerseyman. After two applications of this remedy I was much better, and after using one bottle, was completely cured.—Sallie Harris, Salem, N. J. For sale by all druggists.

Chama Masons.

Chama Lodge A. F. and M. last Monday evening dedicated its new hall. Deputy Lecturer Robert White, of Alamogordo, presided and opened the grand lodge with the following officers: Most Worshipful Grand Master—Robert White.

Senior Grand Warden—George W. LaPorte.

Junior Grand Warden—David M. Wright.

Grand Treasurer—James V. Johnson.

Grand Secretary—Charles M. Marshall.

Grand Senior Deacon—David J. Rusk.

Grand Marshal—John Shackle.

Grand Senior Steward—Frank R. Frankenberg.

Grand Senior Steward—T. J. Key.

Grand Tyler—William Beaton.

The members of the Eastern Star lodge, with Worthy Matron Mrs. LaPorte at their head, were admitted. After the dedication a banquet was spread. The new hall is one of the handsomest and best arranged in New Mexico.

Wants To Help Others.

"I had stomach trouble all my life," says Edward Mehler, proprietor of the Union Bottling Works, Erie, Pa., "and tried all kinds of remedies, went to several doctors and spent considerable money trying to get a moment's peace. Finally I read of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and have been taking it to my great satisfaction. I never found its equal for stomach trouble and gladly recommend it in hope that I may help other sufferers." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cures all stomach troubles. You don't have to diet. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. J. H. O'Reilly & Co., B. H. Briggs & Co.

Browns at Santa Fe.

On Saturday evening Herman Winkop received a telegram from W. E. Martin, manager for the Santa Fe ball team saying they could not get ready for a game of ball yesterday and asking that the Browns appear in Santa Fe on May 4, which will be next Sunday. The Browns have not organized as a club yet, and no manager has been selected, and no doubt the letters and telegrams received came to Winkop on account of his connection with the team last season. However, he has been instructed by the local team to arrange for the game and the boys will leave for the Ancient city on next Sunday morning, returning in the evening at 10:10. Anyone wishing to accompany the team can do so without securing the same rate granted the ball players and should notify some member of the Browns before leaving this Sunday.

Shipped Wool to Durango.

Frank G. Townsend, of Bloomfield, San Juan county, last week shipped 10,000 pounds of wool to Durango from where it was shipped to Trinidad. The price received was 11 cents a pound on the cars at Durango.

Commercial Club.

A meeting of all members of the Commercial club will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. Business of importance will be considered.

DIRECTORS ARE HERE.

Will Decide if Albuquerque Gets the Saw Mill.

VISIT THE TRACT.

A number of members of the American Lumber company are here today and tonight will leave for Thompson and inspect the Mitchell tract in McKinley and Valencia counties. The party was met by John A. Lee and they were taken to the Commercial club. The question of locating the big mill here or on the tract will be determined before the party leaves here.

Those here are A. H. Chapman, president of the company, Wm. V. Baker, representing the banking house of Loomis & Co., Chicago; Frank M. Stewart, president of the First National bank of Hillsdale, Mich.; Charles H. Winchester, president of the First National bank of Elkhart, Ind.; H. H. Gibson, representing the American Lumberman of Chicago; Elmer E. Morgan, capitalist of Moline, Ill.; John H. Montgomery, capitalist of Calumet, Mich.; Louis E. Reigold, president of the Chicago Trust and Surety company; Louis A. Kinney, capitalist of Indianapolis; and D. W. C. Merriam, of Chicago, who made his first visit to Albuquerque last fall, when the American Lumber company was organized.

WHITE OAKS.

From the Eagle.

The Albuquerque Fair management have elected officers and are getting in shape for the fair next fall.

Messrs. Ulrich and Green are sinking a shaft on the Raton lode, one of the old claims on Baxter mountain, formerly known as the Black Prince. Chris Yeager was in the city Tuesday from his camp back of Lone mountain. Mr. Yeager has three men at work on his Greater New York claim, and says he is sure of finding something good.

A revival meeting is in progress at the Methodist church this week, having begun Sunday. Revs. Boyd of Nogal and Ray of Alamogordo are assisting the pastor, Rev. S. E. Allison in conducting the services.

Mr. M. Sorenson, special deputy of the order of Select Knights and Ladies, is in the town for the purpose of organizing a lodge and is meeting with much encouragement. He expects to get a sufficient number to organize the first of the week. The lodge recently organized at Alamogordo has sixty members and twenty more applicants. The delegation from White Oaks to the G. A. R. encampment at Albuquerque, consisting of Messrs. Lee, H. Rutledge, J. C. C. Oppenheimer and John Patton, returned Monday. They report a nice trip and splendid time in the "Duke City." They say the people of Albuquerque treated their visitors nicely, and that all matters pertaining to the reunion were interesting and pleasant.

RATON.

From the Range.

Raton is making greater substantial progress than any other town in New Mexico.

Tom Foley returned Tuesday from Hot Springs, Ark., where he has been for some months.

The Seven-Hard Machine club was entertained by Mrs. Rensberg Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Mendelson being the prize winner.

Judge S. E. Booth's foot is on his native heath once more, or words to that effect, he having returned from California, where he passed the winter with a son.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Tusher, of Albuquerque, but formerly of this city, have returned and will make Raton their home.

Mrs. Dr. George C. Bryan, nee Miss Minnie Collier, arrived in Raton Wednesday on a two months' visit with her parents.

Miss Alice Thomas gave a charming party to a number of her young friends last Friday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Pace.

Miss Hannah Sawyer, formerly of Raton, on her way to Denver from Albuquerque, stopped off to visit with her friends, Misses Flora Whitfield and Olive Troy.

Mrs. Hobbs and Mrs. Van Houten leave on Sunday for a trip to California. They will stop in Los Angeles a couple of weeks to visit with Mrs. Schroeder, who is in that city for her health.

The Odd Fellows will hold their anniversary celebration at the I. O. O. F. hall Saturday evening. There will be a literary program, an address by Grand Master Alex. Bowie, of Gallup, followed by a banquet.

Mrs. C. J. Gavin and sister left Tuesday for Los Angeles, where they will spend several months. Mrs. Gavin's son, Flint, accompanied them, as far as Santa Fe, where he will enter the Brothers school.

The merchants of the city say that since the order of the Santa Fe company went into effect prohibiting its employees from gambling and the temperate use of intoxicating liquors, that collections from railroad men have been much more satisfactory and business has greatly increased.

In the oratorical contest in Miss Massey's department of the public schools last Friday, Margaret Dawson won the girl's prize and the boy's prize was awarded to James Murphy. The donor of the prizes, C. J. Gavin, made an interesting address to the school on the occasion, and also Rev. Armstrong and T. B. Leib.

SOCORRO.

From the Chieftain.

It has been agreed to select a nine from the two local ball teams to play the Santa Fe champions.

Sheriff Blackington states that there are now nine murder cases on the county docket and that there will be three more before court convenes in May.

At the regular convocation of Socorro lodge, No. 9, A. F. and A. M., Tuesday evening, George A. Byron, of Kelly, was initiated into the entered apprentice degree.

Cases have recently been filed in the office of the district clerk as follows: S. G. Agnew vs. American Valley Cattle company, account for wages; Michael Mandel and Mandel Bros. & Co.

vs. Phoenix Development company, to quiet title.

Collector Robt. C. Collins reports that his collections of water tax for the eleven months ending March amounted to $1,322.35 in cash, that there is still due, though good, $105, and that work performed on the road, the park and on the pipe line amounts to $56. This gives the total of $1,783.35 or at the rate of $1,945.47 per annum.

LORDSBURG.

From the Liberal.

Mrs. C. M. Shannon, Mrs. Hudson and Frank Hudson were in town from Clinton.

E. F. Sullenberger, cashier of the First National bank of Clinton, was in the city on route to Fort Worth, Texas. Miss Ida C. Wilson, who had charge of the Lordsburg schools during the past winter, left for a three months' visit with her sister in Globe.

A. J. Hughes, the well-known miner and literary artist, whose signature of "Ben" is well known to the newspaper readers of this section, has been in the city the past week.

Miss Maude Richardson and Miss Myrtle Jernigan left for Merkel, Texas. Miss Richardson's home, and there are desolate hearts in Lordsburg caused by their absence.

Not content with having the initiation small pox a number of children in town are now carrying swollen jaws, caused by the mumps. Mumps are a good healthy disease, and if the child is young enough seldom does much harm.

The base ball club is getting down to work in a more business like manner than ever before, and there are hopes for it. What it has needed more than anything else has been actual field practice, and in fact this they have in excess of their admirers to form another club to play with. Sunday they got a little practice with the scrub nine, and if the scrubs hold the bait they struck Sunday the management of the club will play them the next time a visiting club comes to town.

CARLSBAD.

From the Argus.

Carlsbad now has a promising base ball team.

Judge McMillan closed court here on Saturday and left for Santa Fe on Sunday morning. Owing to the necessity for an adjourned meeting of the supreme court he did not stop at Roswell as planned, for a few days session in chambers.

E. J. Reynolds has placed an order for thirty cars, to be loaded at Carlsbad stockyards on May 1.

The estimate is that nearly 10,000 acres will be shipped out from here during the spring and summer.

J. M. Boardman will load sixty-eight cars here on May 25 for Burlington points, and eight cars from McMillan.

The American Cattle company, of Denver, will ship fifty cars from here to points on the Burlington route the 29th.

Westwater is the name of the newest postoffice in Eddy county and is located about forty miles west of here in the Guadalupe mountains.

Sheriff Stewart left on Monday for Santa Fe to place in the penitentiary Harry English, the only convict of the recent term of the district court.

The Carlsbad schools closed last Friday with a full attendance. The ninth month being run off prevented the promotion of quite a large number of pupils.

Advices from Pecos state that the Texas & Pacific will route most of the cattle shipped from that region over the Pecos Valley, and as they have orders in now for about 1,000 cars it will be seen that the shipment from this source will be a very large one.

AZTEC.

From the Index.

M. M. Condon, having disposed of his barber shop in Aztec, left for the mountains where he expects to spend the summer.

Rev. H. W. Rankin, Presbyterian evangelist, arrived from Denver Saturday and on Sunday addressed our people from the pulpit of the Aztec Presbyterian church, commencing the two weeks revival services advertised to be held here.

Fred Wheeler, the lad who has so distinguished himself in recent months by a successful effort to make the county jail look like 30 cents with a hole in it, was released from custody Wednesday under $500 bonds, the father and mother of the youthful prisoner being the sureties.

What is known as the Ferguson place on the La Plata was sold this week to P. C. Barrett, formerly of Indian Territory. The place was sold by George Marlan through Granville Pendleton. Mr. Bartlett is at the head of several families who expect to locate in the La Plata.

H. S. Groves, editor of that enterprising publication, the Ranch and Range, of Denver, is here to write up the county in a manner befitting its resources and advantages. Mr. Groves understands how to do this and the benefits to be derived from a careful description of its possibilities are many. This is the time to boom things here.

ALAMOGORDO.

From the News.

The wood preserving plant is nearing completion and will be started up about the 15th of May.

Superintendent Hopper, of the Lumber company, has let the contract for the new planing mill to S. E. Pelphrey.

A lodge of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will be organized in Alamogordo next Wednesday evening. T. F. Roberts, an old conductor on the Choctaw railroad, used in this city on the 19th inst. The remains were shipped to his home at Alexandria, Ind.

That wild animals upon which a bounty is paid must be plentiful in this county is proven by the bounty paid last week amounting to $1,110, of which J. P. Lewis alone was paid $593.

The commissioners have ordered a census of the town to find out if under the law police can be appointed. Under the territory statutes unincorporated county seats having a population of 3,000 or over can have police established.

Dr. G. C. Bryan left this week for New York and Cleveland, Ohio, and will be absent until the 15th of June. Mrs. Bryan will visit relatives and friends in Raton, N. M., during the doctor's absence. Dr. Fitzgerald, of Albuquerque, will have charge of the hospital and of Dr. Bryan's practice during his absence.

FARMINGTON.

From the Times.

Fred Hunker, W. H. Waring and Bill Landstede, all of Aztec, were in town. Allan Johnson is in Durango this week looking after financial matters in which he is interested.

The hose cart arrived from Albuquerque and we will soon be ready for any fire emergency.

Richard Wetherell has spent the week in town looking after Hyde company business.

Evangelist H. W. Rankin, of Denver, Colo., will begin a series of gospel services at the Presbyterian church on May 5.

Wheeler's father and mother have furnished bonds for him in the sum of $500, and he will soon be free and on his way home.

Rev. R. M. Veng, the synodical superintendent of Presbyterian missions for New Mexico, preached in the Presbyterian church Sunday night.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Walker a fine baby girl on April 11. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rafferty a large baby boy April 13.

Dr. McCracken last Saturday placed in operation the first soda fountain ever brought to San Juan county. It will be appreciated the coming warm days. He also has a complete optical outfit and is prepared to fit anyone with glasses.

H. J. Andrews retired from the post-office, where he has been in charge for several months. He was active and accommodating and leaves the office with the entire public pleased with the services he rendered. He goes to work on his ranch.

A meeting was held at the Hyde bank building the other night to listen to an automobile proposition from Messrs. Finley and Benson. It was not largely attended and but little enthusiasm was shown for the proposition, which proposed that the town construct a private road for the auto at a cost of about $2,500 after which the above named parties would put on the machines.

R. E. Cooper and others interested in the Jackson reservoir have purchased a centrifugal pump with a capacity of 3,000 gallons per minute and will put it in at the head of the ditch leading to the reservoir. They now have the well completed as far as they can without pumping, and there are indications of a heavy underflow. The pump will be in operation about May 5. No water has reached them so they have decided to go for the underflow.

L. L. Thomas received his appointment as postmaster here, vice W. E. Foster, resigned. His bond has been signed and forwarded, and he will take possession as soon as it is approved by the department, probably about the first of next month. The office will be moved to the Hyde bank building and will occupy the front while the harness shop will take the rear. A number of new boxes will be installed and every effort will be made to accommodate the public.

DEMING.

From the Herald.

While playing with several schoolmates, Arthur Merrill was accidentally struck on the nose with a stone and rendered insensible for a few minutes, but is all right again.

Barney Martin, the mason, while working on the boiler at the ice works the other day, slipped and fell to the ground, spraining his ankle quite severely.

William Carey, the carpenter, fell from a scaffold at the Baker Brothers house and dislocated his ankle. He is at the Florida house under the care of Dr. Cassels. He will be unable to use his foot for a couple of weeks at least.

A party of Boston capitalists were here several days this week looking at the Wormser block, with the view of organizing a stock company and building it three stories higher for a hotel. They left for home Friday, saying they would return in a few weeks and begin work. They estimate that the hotel complete will cost $75,000.

The son of C. W. Cook, a Deming ranchman, was in town one day this week with his mother, looking for a doctor. Dr. Michaels was visiting a patient at a nearby ranch. Dr. Cassels was sick, and Dr. McCallan also was unable to attend to the patient, so young Cook had to return home without finding a surgeon. A week or two ago, while engaging in athletic sports at the Las Cruces Agricultural College, young Cook broke his right arm and his visit to Deming was to find a surgeon to mend it.

THE DEMING FIRE.

More Particulars About the Burning of the Lester Building.

The thirteen-room lodging house and residence of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Lester burned to the ground between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning, the fire originating in all probability from mice and matches in the pantry. Only a few things were saved. Loss is almost complete and estimated at $5,000. Insurances in Burdick's agency $1,900 and in Field's $500. The family barely escaped with their lives. Among the owners were J. P. Howlett and wife and Bishop railroad engineer, Davis, and wife, the former losing $200 worth of jewelry and the latter about $175, consisting of a gold watch, silverware, clothing, etc. Mr. Lester and little daughter, Laura, are on their way home from the Confederate reunion in Texas. The Deming fire department was promptly on the ground and saved surrounding property in the teeth of a stiff breeze. The Lester family is composed of eight children and all their clothing is gone. Lee Lester lost a valued library. Much sympathy is expressed.—Deming Headlight.

He Found Suckers.

R. E. Blackwell came to Roswell last week representing himself as desirous of buying city and ranch property. The real estate dealers took him in and he lived at their expense for several days. He had the best livery rigs and there was nothing too good for him in Roswell. He boasted that he would buy a $50,000 ranch and would put up a $10,000 residence. He gave a check for $50 on the First National bank at Roswell without making a deposit and then flying out for Texas. Sheriff Fred Higgins followed and brought him back to Roswell. Not having the ball he must be in jail until the next grand jury meets.

GOING TO SANTA FE.

The Browns to Battle for Victory with the Santa Fe Central base Ball Team.

All arrangements have been made for the trip of the Albuquerque Browns to Santa Fe on Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock, where they will do battle royal to retrieve lost honors on the diamond last season. This year they present a somewhat different make-up and what is looked upon as a stronger team, although not so strong as it will be later in the season. Santa Fe will know they are up against a real live ball team this time. The following players will constitute the team: McDonald, catcher; Haver, pitcher; Cosgrove, first base; Brown, second base; Hale, third base; Vorhes, short stop; Chaves, left field; Quier, center field; Ortiz, right field; Smith, substitute. A manager and one other player will also go along. Several citizens have signified their intention of going to the event with the boys and no doubt a large crowd of Albuquerqueans will take the trip.

BEGAN THE SEASON.

The Iowa, Indiana and Illinois Baseball League Opened.

Chicago, Ill., May 1.—The Iowa, Indiana and Illinois league of baseball clubs opened its season today. The schedule provides for a series of 126 games for each of the eight clubs. The opening games take place as follows: Rockford, at Terre Haute, 10 o'clock; Evansville, Rock Island at Decatur and Cedar Rapids at Bloomington.

BASE BALL NOTES.

Persons wishing to take the trip to Santa Fe to see the ball game should notify some of the players on the ball team before it is too late.

Hale, McDonald, Vorhes and Brown make a quartet of hard hitters that is enough to make any pitcher wince. They lead off in the batting list at Santa Fe on Sunday.

Santa Fe was helpless last year before Patterson's curves. This year they will probably call for help when facing the young left handed artist who pitches for the Browns.

The fare to Santa Fe and return on Sunday will be something over $4 for the round trip. The train leaves Albuquerque in the morning and returns in the evening of the same day. In this way no time is lost.

Joe Harris, who pitched for Santa Fe last season, is not playing with the Santa Fe team this year, owing to some little ill feeling between him and some of the players. His place is being filled by a young man from Nebraska by the name of Lyons. A very good man, they say.

The Santa Fe team has new uniforms. It is understood that they are to play under the Elks colors. There will be several Albuquerque Elks accompany our boys and a good natured joshing is in store for the spectators. Of course the Albuquerque Elks will cheer for their own team. Roy McDonald is a member of the local lodge.

Ball Boys Benefit.

Tonight at Grants hall will occur a dance given by the Santa Fe Pacific kids. The proceeds of the dance are to go to pay the balance due on the ball suits. When the Santa Fe Pacific ball team was organized enough money was subscribed to buy their uniforms and leave a nice balance in the treasury. Shortly after the suits were ordered the big Santa Fe Pacific let-out came and caught their subscribers to the amount of about $30.

As the boys had some adversity after the first few games it was hard for them to any more than pay expenses and they have decided to give this dance to try and raise the much needed money.

City School Superintendency.

It is understood that Prof. M. E. Hickey, superintendent of the city public schools, will not be a candidate for reappointment. He has made a most valuable hard working and popular school superintendent the past few years and there are many in the city who will regret to learn that he will not consent to have his name used in connection with the position again. There are half a dozen or more applicants for the city school superintendency, among them Prof. A. B. Stroup, of the Deming schools, and Prof. R. R. Larkin, of the Gallup schools.

Navajoes in Fruit Business.

Mrs. Mary L. Eldredge, matron of the Indian mission at Jewett, San Juan county, recently purchased several hundred fruit trees, which she is having planted by the Navajoes on the Navajo reservation under the charge and will see that they care for them. This is a new deal for poor Navajoes, yet they have never before attempted to raise fruit.

Eastern League Opens.

New York, May 1.—The Eastern league begins today what promises to be the most successful season in its history. The playing schedule consists of 126 games and the season will close about September 20. The season opens with Jersey City at Providence, Newark at Worcester, Toronto at Buffalo and Montreal at Rochester.

Will Play in Santa Fe.

The New Mexican says: Manager W. E. Martin of the Santa Fe Central team, today received a letter from Harmon Wynkoop, manager of the Albuquerque Browns, accepting the challenge of the Centrals for a game at Santa Fe next Sunday. A spirited game is promised.

Able Speakers.

The Territorial Sunday school convention, which opens in Las Vegas Friday of this week, promises well. A number of able speakers will attend. Judge McPhee, of Santa Fe, H. E. Fox, of Albuquerque, and Rev. R. A. Wilson, of Pueblo, Colo., are on the list.—Optic.

Eastern papers still insist that G. W. Smith will take a position with the Mexican Central.

EGG STORY.

An Egg With the Inscription "Prepare to Meet Thy God," Causes an Assault.

A peculiar assault story comes from Seven Rivers, Bocky county. Little Frank Dalton recently found an egg in a nest of Peter Corti's chicken house and took the egg to Mrs. Corn. On the egg and legend, "Prepare to meet your God" was printed in relief letters. Mrs. Corn believed it was a message from God and prepared herself to die after writing all her relatives. The Sunday following, there being no church, there was a large gathering at the Corn homestead to view the egg. A dispute arising over the supposed message from God on high one of the crowd offered $20 for another egg just like the one in Mrs. Corn's possession. Homer Wilder and Lester Allen bet their horses against $20 that they could make an egg like that. Their bet was taken up and they went to the Wilder homestead and there made an egg exactly like that at the Corn homestead. Wilder took it to the homestead of Oscar Sassin who ordered Wilder and Allen from his premises. As he would not go, Sassin threw a rock at Allen and was then arrested for assault. He was fined $5 and costs. Wilder afterward acknowledged that he had manufactured the egg which had given Mrs. Corn such a bad scare.

Don't Like Promises.

Again is there a flutter of excitement over the wild rumor that we are to have that blessed electric street car system, says the Las Vegas Record.

It is reported from St. Louis that the company won the $1,000 law suit, which it was alleged, had delayed the construction of the road. It is proclaimed that the St. Louis men will attend a called meeting of the stockholders and that work will be pushed on the construction at once. If these rumors are anything more than the stallions of "hot air" that have been turned loose periodically during the past year with religious regularity, they will gratify Las Vegas. But as these promises are becoming hoary-headed with age, they will be received with considerable incredulity. They are becoming stale chestnuts.

Las Vegas Grant.

At the Las Vegas grant mass meeting, Eugenio Romero was appointed to enter into correspondence with Delegate Rodey about the desirability of the convention. Four new members were elected to the committee to arrange the plan for the movement to elect the commissioners by popular vote. That committee is now made up as follows: Eugenio Romero, O. A. Larranaga, S. Valdez, G. P. Money, Victor Lucero, M. C. de Baca, E. C. de Baca, Placido Sandoval and A. L. Jiron.

Son Saved, Mother Drowned.

A very thrilling page in the life history of Al Nelson, a Deming townsman, occurred when he was a mere child and was coming across the ocean to America with his parents. He was romping about the deck of the steamer in boyish glee and accidentally fell overboard. His mother saw him fall into the sea and jumped after him. A sailor jumped after both of them and saved the boy but the mother drowned before the sailor could reach her.—Deming Herald.

Suit for Insurance.

Edwin Parsons, has entered suit against the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company, in Colfax county district court, to recover judgment in the sum of $1,000, the amount of insurance carried in that company on the life of her son, Bert Parsons, who was killed last Halloween night in Raton, by Robert Love.

Fire in Mountains.

There has been a fire today in the mountains above the hot springs. The smoke from it could plainly be seen sweeping across the horizons to the north of town. How it originated could not be learned.

Since the foregoing was put in type word comes to the Optic office that at 9 o'clock this morning fire started in the mountains near Mineral Hill, and is still raging, a large scope of country being included in its ravages.—Las Vegas Optic.

Captured at Las Vegas.

Francisco Sanchez, of San Antonio, Mexico, is in the toils of the law and is working out $25 worth of fine on the streets for getting money under false pretenses. He received E. V. Gallegos out of $5 that was paid him in advance to work on the former's sheep ranch. He proceeded to get drunk with the money, when he was arrested with the above result.—$25 means twenty-five days.—Las Vegas Record.

Praying for Rain.

It is said that most of the people in Mora are praying for rain. The drought there, an agricultural spot, is particularly unfortunate, and it is to be hoped the prayers will be answered with a copious downpour.

The Fourth of July is coming on apace. Several towns in other counties are making preparations to properly celebrate that day so full of patriotic memories. Why would it not be a good scheme for the patriotic people of St. Johns to start early and get up something along the line of a fair, or general sport day.

Captain Smith, of the Fourteenth cavalry, stationed at Wingate, was in the city. He was accompanied by two sergeants, two privates, a scout and a packer. The captain is a native Arizonian, having been born in Tucson. He is away from the post on hunting leave and may go as far south as Tucson before he returns to Wingate. He left for Fort Apache.

KINGMAN.

From the Miner.

W. E. Perry was elected grand master of the Arizona jurisdiction at the late session of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows, held in the city of Prescott. We are pleased to note the elevation of our fellow townsman to this high honor in that noble order.

Last Wednesday night burglars entered the Elite saloon through a back window and robbed the till of $25 or $30. The screen on the rear window was slit and the burglar with a piece of iron pried up the window, through which he entered and after he robbed the till made his escape.

J. D. Van Den Burg, who was one of the leaders of the Catherine mine, now owned by the New Cement mining company, is the central figure in an episode in San Francisco. Van Den Burg sold his interests in the mines in this county at a good figure and was supposed to be on the high road to wealth. He was ordained as a minister something over a year ago and he was assigned to Porterville, as assistant pastor of the Methodist church. He left the ministry and engaged in horse trading, assigning as a reason that he was tired of preaching things he did not believe. The young lady with whom he eloped and to whom he is supposed to have become wedded was a Miss Grace Atkins, a stenographer in a San Francisco milk dispensary. The young man is well known in Kingman.

An exchange says that along the Colorado river a hundred companies are engaged in the dredging of the sands which are brought down from the gold bearing sections of northern Arizona, Utah and Colorado. Not only is the immediate vicinity of the river bed dredged, but the dredgers are washing the sands in the river beds for miles on both the California and Arizona sides of the stream. On the Bill Williams fork, one of the main branches of the Colorado, is planned the largest placer mining, which includes the erection of a dam which will hold in reserve the flood waters of the stream that they may be economically distributed for the washing of the stream of the lower river, and contemplates the placing of water on the many hundred thousand acres of placer ground lying between Harqua Hala mountains and the Colorado river. In that locality the Spaniards and the ancients worked out great quantities of gold by dry washing, and it is declared by experts that water placed there will produce untold millions in gold.

From the News.

E. Lamo had a scare on, when a large dog on Williams avenue grabbed him by the trousers. Fortunately Mr. Lamo's clothing protected him from the teeth of the savage animal.

Mrs. James Walsh, who has been spending some months on the coast, returned to the city. She was accompanied by Miss Mamie Ort, of Terre Haute, Ind., who will remain in the city during the summer. Miss Ort is a most charming and accomplished young lady and is welcomed by Williams society.

Frank Everett, of Flagstaff, one of our prominent sheep men, was shaking hands with his numerous friends in Williams. His flocks are now located some miles north of the Salt river valley.

Oliver Kelly, brother in law of Constable Andrews, passed through the city Wednesday evening. Mr. Kelly enjoyed a most pleasant reception by his friends during the train's stop over here.

J. J. Gilson left for Wampal to visit the ranch of Mr. James Welsh, to make arrangements to put in a gasoline engine, which is to be used in pumping water.

A number of horse buyers have been in the city this week. As a result the "punchers" are scouring the hills to secure all the available material for shipment. Several cars will be shipped within the next few days.

A quiet home wedding occurred in this city the contracting parties being J. P. Parker and Miss Alice S. Comstock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. C. Geyer at the home of the bride on South Second street in the Krumm residence, where she and her father have occupied a suite of rooms since their arrival in the city about a year ago from Prescott.

WILL LEAVE SUNDAY.

The Browns Going to Santa Fe to Battle on the Base Ball Field.

There has already been a great many signify their intention of accompanying the Browns on their trip to Santa Fe on Sunday next to witness the base ball game. The train leaves Sunday morning and returns in the evening of the same day. The fare for the round trip will be a little over $1. The game will be one of the best and will be stubbornly fought from start to finish, both teams being determined to win the first game. It is understood that Santa Fe has "padded" its weak spots with a few imports from Colorado points, but this fact does not worry the local team in the least. Albuquerque for many years has boasted of its ball team, which this year starts off stronger than ever before. Several of the team have been offered berths in fast leagues and will no doubt accept after this season in Albuquerque. The ability of the team to connect safely with the horseshoe sphere is enough to win any pitcher, and the Santa Fe twirler will have to put forth his best efforts to win his game. The Browns know they are up against a hard proposition and have been putting in their spare moments preparing for the fray. The games to be played this season away from home by the Browns promise to be many, and each trip helps to boom the territorial fair to be held in this city in the fall, when base ball will be one of the main attractions, the association hanging up a purse of $1,500 and leaving the tournament open to the world, and therefore all who can do so should accompany the boys. The expense of the trip is not very heavy and local enthusiasts' encouragement is needed to help the boys on to victory. Persons wishing to accompany the team should notify any of the players so as to be included in the rates granted ball teams and those who take the trips with them.

A NEW SCHEME.

Santa Fe Sends a Man to California to Write Letters.

Garrett H. Dobbin, the Santa Fe's new immigration agent who will try to reach the affections of California farmers by means of a typewriter, has arrived in Los Angeles. He will start immediately on his campaign of education. Mr. Dobbin's cards bear the following:

"We are after names of probable settlers."

GARRETT A. DOBBIN.

"Special Immigration Agent, Los Angeles, Cal."

"Let's work to make California the state it ought to be."

Mr. Dobbin will begin operations in the San Joaquin valley in order to cover that territory before the warm weather has set in. He expects to be operating in southern California in about two months. Mrs. Dobbin will accompany her husband, and will seek to hold the attention of the female members of the farmers' families while her husband is engaged tawling photographs and writing "back home" for the men.

Mr. Dobbin's plan is to visit ranchers and farmers, agreeing to write letters for them to their friends wherever they may be, such letters to be descriptive of their California homes, ventures and successes.

Increasing the Population at the Pen.

Sheriff M. C. Stewart, of Carlsbad, Eddy county, yesterday delivered to the penitentiary authorities, H. English, who is to serve one year for burglary.

Jose R. Lucero, of Las Cruces, sheriff of Dona Ana county, and his deputies, Estevan Lucero and R. M. Burch, yesterday delivered to the penitentiary the following prisoners: Rafael Montoya, ten years for murder; Jose Contreras, three years for assault to kill; Rafael Gollido, three years for assault to kill; Henry Dorn, two years for obtaining money under false pretenses; Jesus Maria Gomez y Armijo, two years for assault to kill; Bonifacio Chavez, one year for forgery; Luz Velarde, one year for assault to kill; Angel Carrion, one year for larceny of cattle; Jose Moreno, one year for larceny of cattle; Porfirio Martinez, one year for larceny of cattle; Frank Allen, one year for larceny of cattle; Louis Tice, one year for larceny from a dwelling. At present there are 242 convicts in the penitentiary.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

Several New Buildings on New Townsite Destroyed at Santa Rosa.

A special dispatch to the Denver News, from Santa Rosa, under date of April 30, says:

Fire broke out this morning at 10 o'clock in the H. H. Alexander building, on the west side of the plaza. The building was a frame structure, the up stairs being used for a rooming house, and the first floor for a restaurant.

The fire started from the chimney over the kitchen stove. Several railroad men were asleep on the second floor, and the fire spread so rapidly that they barely escaped with their lives from the Alexander building.

The fire spread to the R. E. Grannep barber shop and bath house, which was completely destroyed.

From the Grannep building the fire spread to the L. V. Malaven new store building, which was entirely destroyed.

H. H. Alexander is the heaviest loser. His loss will reach $1,600. Harry Buhlin, restaurant man, loss $500; R. E. Grannep, $300; and T. B. Malaven, $400.

The buildings destroyed were all new, and were all on the new townsite. There was no water supply, and their owners were compelled to stand back and watch them burn.

Fell Into Slimy Waters.

Like Stevens was prospecting for a gold lead along Chase creek Tuesday last in the rear of Judge Boyle's Temple of Justice, when he slipped and fell into the creek, which is full of tailings from the Morenci and Longfellow concentrators. Judge Boyle and a few others were attracted to the spot by the sloshing of the slimy waters and the sulphuric condition of the atmosphere in that section of town, and after great effort they rescued him just as he was sinking for the third time. In pulling him out they managed to drag him through a barbed wire fence, which seemed to revive his spirits. After spitting out a quart of slime and wiping his face and hands on a gunny sack he started for home, leaving a white trail along Copper avenue with a strike to the southwest, and dipping towards Chase creek. He has not since been seen, but it is thought that he will recover.—Clifton (Ariz.) Era.

Climbing Up Successfully.

Although only a little over a year in existence, the Albuquerque Hardware company has been remarkably successful in its business, so much so, that it has become absolutely necessary to enlarge its store, and add to it, the entire second story of the building, which is now closely filled with stock of all descriptions, the prices of which can not fail to suit and attract customers.

Besides the enlargement of the store, a tinning and plumbing department has been added to the establishment, which is kept in constant operation and turns out work with neatness and dispatch at such remarkably low prices, as to make an old time plumber indignant in unkind words.—Cerrillos Register.

The Trampas Grant Case.

The suit of R. L. Baca et al. vs. Herbert F. Reynolds for the setting aside of the sale of the Los Trampas grant on the ground of fraud was tried before Judge McPhee at Santa Fe. By consent of all parties the grant was ordered to be resold and the referee, E. A. Johnston, was directed by the court to return to Mr. Reynolds the money which he had paid. The charge of fraud was tried and considerable testimony was taken and Judge McPhee decided that there had been no fraud.

The purchase price of $5,000 is to be returned to the purchaser less the sum of $1,233 which was expended as costs in the case, and this amount is withheld to be repaid in case of a subsequent sale of the grant. The costs of the proceeding amounting to about $25, are to be paid by the plaintiffs.

Not the Stage Robber.

Ben West, who was arrested as a California stage robber, suspect by Sheriff Romero last week, was released this morning. Mr. West bears no resemblance to the man wanted in California, and he has been a resident of this territory for a decade. He looks like a peaceable, industrious miner.—Las Vegas Record.

Cold Weather at Las Vegas.

It may be news to many that ice formed last night, and considerable of it, where the water was allowed to run. A bush in one of the yards on Seventh street, which was watered all night by a hose, was a mass of ice this morning, as well as the grass in the immediate vicinity of the hydrant.—Record.

Racing at Worth.

Chicago, Ill., May 2.—What promises to be one of the most successful meetings held in the vicinity of Chicago for a long while was inaugurated at Worth today. For several weeks the stables have been fling up with fast horses that have been campaigning in the south this winter. The club announces a number of special over-night events, with from $500 to $2,000 added and no purses of a less amount than $500.

TO SAVE RANGES.

Bill to Lease Lands in Small Tracts and Keep Out Corporations.

OVERCOME STRONG OBJECTION.

Although there is an explicable desire on the part of nearly every senator and representative in Washington to sidestep any legislation that will settle the question of privileges of stock raisers on the public domain, the problem seems certain to come up for disposal at an early day, says a dispatch from Washington, of April 30, to the Denver News.

The president has extended the time for the removal of illegal fences until July 1. At that time he states they must come down.

Delegations from the ranges of the west have been besieging the committee on public lands in the senate and house with demands for some kind of legislation allowing grazing privileges. They assert that conditions on the range are not what they used to be, and that if it is proposed to let the grazing interests take care of themselves as they have in the past, there is going to be much confusion. The bill providing for the leasing of the public lands at present before congress are satisfactory to few of the law makers. In fact, the mere mention of a leasing law in the halls of congress is sufficient to bring out the ire of nearly every senator and representative on whose ear it strikes.

"Lease the public lands and you will be giving away the rights of homestead settlers and small cattle owners to large corporations, who will use every acre," has been the slogan.

Ask ten congressmen you meet for a solution of the difficulty, and from nine of them the answer invariably is: "I am in favor of no law that deals with leasing of public lands," or "Let the cattlemen take care of themselves, as they did before."

Congressman Lacey, of Iowa, introduced a bill today which he hopes will solve the problem of preserving the grass on the public domain and to all land-holding stock raisers the privilege they have been seeking. True, his bill is a leasing bill, and this may win for it the odium of those who long ago formed the opinion of all leasing bills, and who refuse to be converted. In this case, however, it is the corporations, instead of the small holders, that Mr. Lacey proposes to crowd out. The bill expressly provides that no corporation shall be given leases on the public lands. The preamble of the bill is as follows:

"The purpose of the bill is to give the homestead settlers and freeholders the opportunity in the arid region to improve, use and protect the grass upon the public domain in the vicinity of their holdings, so as to prevent the further deterioration and the monopolization of the range by owners of large herds of live stock."

Mr. Lacey stated today that he has long been convinced that something must be done to protect the grass on the range, and that a leasing law was the only thing that would do it. In order to meet the objections of those who said a leasing privilege would only work to the benefit of the large corporation and crowd out the small holder, he has framed the bill expressly in the interest of small holders. The corporations with their cattle must roam the opens as they have done in the past or they must hire the leasers to feed their cattle for them.

The main provision of the bill is as follows:

All lands not capable of irrigation may be leased for grazing purposes, subject to the right of homestead, mineral and other lawful entry laws. The leases are to run for five years. A lessee must be a landholder. He will be allowed to lease not more than 3,200 acres. He may fence the leased lands, which will be six classes of land to be leased at 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 cents per acre, according to location and value for grazing purposes. The bill puts no hindrance on grazing on the unoccupied public lands. Corporations and non-landholders can occupy them as they have done in the past, of course observing the law concerning the erection of fences.

Congressman Lacey is enthusiastic over the prospects of the new bill, and says it will meet every objection that has been offered to a leasing proposition. It was presented to the house public lands committee this morning, and was freely commented upon, though very few fixed opinions were expressed.

NEW LABOR UNION.

It Has About 10,000 Members in Fourteen States.

Chicago, Ill., May 2.—A convention of the International Laborers' union opened in Chicago last night. This organization was temporarily formed at Scranton, Pa., last December. It has now about 10,000 members in fourteen states. In the large cities it confines itself to the common laborers and those trades which have no international bodies of their own, while in the small towns and villages it organizes all yet strictly recognizing the trade autonomy. Among its members are teachers, preachers and other educational men.

Increase in Wages.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 2.—Two thousand structural iron and bridge work railway workers in this vicinity, members of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, are benefited by the wage increase of 25 per cent, which became effective today. It is believed that this concession on the part of the structural iron companies, together with the granting of the eight-hour day, has prevented a great strike, which would have involved many of the larger cities of the country.

An Eight Hour Day.

Columbus, Ohio, May 2.—President James Mahon, of the Blast Furnace Workers of America, has sent out an official notice that eight hours shall constitute a day's work at the same rate of pay that the men are now receiving for twelve hours' work. The notice affects all the blast furnace workers in America and serious disturbances are expected if the unions insist on its enforcement.

Voluntary Advance.

Wilmington, Del., May 2.—The advance in wages of conductors and motormen employed by the Peopoles Street Railway became effective yesterday. The increase amounts to 2 cents an hour and is greatly appreciated by the men, as it was voluntary on the part of the company.

CHANGE IN HOURS.

A Chicago Bank Will Open Early and Close Late.

Chicago, Ill., May 2.—"Bankers' hours" are rudely upset by the new Chicago Savings bank, which opened for business yesterday. The new concern, acting on an original idea, opens its doors at 9 o'clock in the morning, instead of at the customary hour of 10, and does not close them until 5 o'clock at night. The bank is to be kept open one evening in the week also. The long hours are for the accommodation of wage earners whose day's work does not end until 5 o'clock in the afternoon or later.

OFFICERS CHANGED.

Tinker Retired From the Western Union Telegraph Company.

New York, May 2.—B. M. Brooks has succeeded Charles J. Tinker as general superintendent of the eastern division of the Western Union Telegraph company. Mr. Tinker, the retiring officer, has been with the company twenty-one years. He was an operator during the civil war for the war department in Washington, and a warm friend of President Lincoln. Mr. Brooks comes from Denver, where he has served as manager for the past twelve years.

A STATE PRESERVE.

State of Pennsylvania Will Cultivate Young Trees.

Chambersburg, Pa., May 2.—The state of Pennsylvania yesterday entered into possession of several thousand acres of mountain land lying near and on the South mountain. In this county, which will be used as a state preserve. This tract embraces the well-known summer resort known as Mont Alto Park. It has been decided to establish a nursery on the preserve for the growth of young trees. This will be known as a secondary nursery, and in it is to be planted the seed from which can be transplanted next year 100,000 white pine trees.

WAS A SUCCESS.

Santa Fe Pacific Club Cleared a Nice Sum.

The Santa Fe Pacific base ball team cleared enough money last night at a pleasant dance at Grant hall to meet all indebtedness. It was a most pleasant dance and good music was furnished by Mrs. Rose Berry. The hall was partly lighted by red and green railroad lanterns and a big picture of an engine filled one end of the hall. The committee on floor was Messrs. Sheppard and Booth; and on reception, Ollie Patterson, Chris Nelson and L. W. Walsh.

SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.

City Treasurer W. J. McPherson has received since April 12, $141.75 for licenses and fines.

James H. Reeder, of Hayes, Kan., clerk of the court of private land claims, has been nominated for district judge in his home county.

Arthur J. Hudson, who was appointed postmaster of Clifton, Ariz., by President Roosevelt, was formerly a resident of Santa Fe. He was a Rough Rider and served in Cuba.

Mrs. Simon Bacharach arrived from Las Vegas, to be at the bedside of her grandmother, Mrs. Solomon Spiegelberg, who is very low from weakness incident to old age.

The property of Daniel and Josefa Lovato is to be sold in twenty days, on a foreclosure of mortgage held by Mrs. Mansfield. The property consists of a house and orchard and is situated in ward No. 1.

H. M. Porter, of Denver, who was at one time a resident of Santa Fe, and who has extensive mining and cattle interests in Sierra, Colfax, San Miguel and other counties in New Mexico, and Dr. J. M. Cunningham, of Las Vegas, president of the San Miguel National bank, are in Santa Fe on federal land business.

LAS VEGAS.

From the Record.

Miss Jennie Woodruff continues quite ill.

Mrs. W. H. Jobe left for her former home in Missouri for a visit.

W. B. Hiett has purchased of Mrs. Isabella Isaacs for $600, two lots on Sixth street, and will erect a home thereon.

Frank Quinly brought in some of the first bass of the season from Kroening's lake. He got three, weighing from three to four pounds each.

The ice plant is being pushed along as fast as possible and the buildings are ready for the roof. Some of the machinery has already arrived and more is on the way.

Mrs. L. A. Bond, who had been in Las Vegas for several weeks receiving medical attention, left for her home at Espanola. She had been suffering with a broken ankle. Mrs. Maggie Romero, her sister, accompanied her home for a visit.

Died, Mrs. Mary C. Ridout, of Canada. Mrs. Ridout has long been a sufferer from tuberculosis and has been confined to her bed for some time. It was her son who died here about ten days ago, and she will be buried here by his side. The deceased was 47 years of age.

Mudd Renominated.

Baltimore, Md., May 2.—The republican congressional convention of the Fifth district, held at Chesapeake Beach, resulted in the renomination of Congressman Sydney E. Mudd.

Fires Extinguished.

The forest fire has been extinguished at last, says the Las Vegas Record. It had reigned Trout Springs when put out. The timber on several hundred acres has been destroyed, and the loss is considerable. Every one should use extra precaution this dry weather about throwing matches around. It is thought this forest fire was started by the carelessness of some one.

Locusts on Deck.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 2.—This is the month set for the appearance of the seventeen-year locust plague, according to State Geologist Blatchley. Mr. Blatchley declares that Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and Ohio will be infected with the plague this summer and that Indiana will have more locusts than all the other central states together. Only eastern Illinois will be affected, he says. Many farmers have paid attention to the warning and have set out fewer fruit trees this year than usual.

GALLUP.

Special Correspondence.

On one. That we are being buried alive in Gallup. We are a pretty lot and full of Arizona sand, and still the "wind bloweth."

That unless my writing is more legible in future I shall be liable to any amount of vituperation from misnamed, misspelled and mistaken individuals. For instance, Mrs. McNallan doesn't spell her name "Nain," and those "contributions were offered to the B. T. L. dancing class to 'make it a success,' instead of 'to make it a success,' etc. but mistakes will occur, especially if one writes on a pad held in hand and with a stub pencil.

That the public schools of Gallup will close on the 23d of May.

That preparations are already in progress for the commencement exercises. The graduates are as follows: Miss Nellie Winders, Messrs. Brown, Kuehnbecker, Herno and Clark. The orchestra will furnish music for the occasion.

That the "show" given on the evening of the 26th at home talent, led by Mrs. Sloan, was well attended. Wm. McSparron played a cornet solo that was fine, and as Sir Peter in the quarrel scene of Sheridan's play he won other laurels, despite the fact of being only support for the star.

That the other numbers of the program were well rendered. Gallup has dramatic talent galore.

That there are rumors that the mercantile firm of Russell & Elsie will remove their goods to a better location—Point Richmond, Cal. Gallapites will miss them greatly if they go.

That the B. T. L. dancing class still hold their date at the Odd Fellows hall with a full attendance, and the young people make a most creditable showing even among the old dancers.

That the club dances of Saturday evenings are well attended. Tickets $1.50 per month for gentlemen, who may bring as many ladies as they care to escort.

That in celebrating their 83rd anniversary the members of the I. O. O. F. lodge and the Renekahs gave one of the nicest of their many fine functions on the evening of the 26th. Their hall was decorated "as a nest," well lighted and tastefully decorated. The tables were beautifully and thoughtfully laid, and the banquet excellently served by the prettiest lot of girls in town. The program was well rendered, the speeches short and to the point, the recitations brisk and witty, the singing fine and the selections by the band were of the first order—new music given with spirit and skill.

That the time devoted to dancing was greatly enjoyed by the younger members and guests, and it was freely remarked that some of the most graceful couples were the pupils of the dancing class.

That for a pleasant, enjoyable, sociable time commended me to the reception given by the different lodges of Gallup.

Miss E. McIntire played the accompaniments for the songs and Miss Sue McConnell furnished the music for the dancing.

That some of the patrons of our public schools are looking up the law in regard to the use of a horse whip as a means of discipline in intermediate grades.

That R. B. Lanigan is recovering from a severe attack of rheumatism.

ARIZONA TOWNS

FLAGSTAFF.

From the Sun.

M. J. Kennedy has the contract for the erection of a two-story brick building, the first of a series of buildings to be erected on the site of the old hotel.

On Monday a number of boys were playing with a .22-caliber gun, when it was accidentally discharged, the ball going through the hand of Charles Priest.

E. A. Silber has been appointed as Governor Murphy's fish and game commissioner for northern Arizona. The appointment is an excellent and satisfactory one.

Barry Banta will leave next week for Douglas, Ariz., where he will assist his brother, A. F. Banta, in the publication of the Dispatch, recently started at that thriving place.

The deed for the sale of a three-eighths interest in the last Chance mine, in the Grand Canyon, was recorded by Recorder Hudson yesterday. The purchaser was Richard Foster, of Chicago, Ill., and the price paid $50,000. A few months ago this property sold for $25,000.

Master Hugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Weatherford, fell from a delivery wagon yesterday and sustained injuries which will keep him in the hospital for the next ten days. He was standing up in the wagon when the wheel struck a rock, throwing the lad out. His head struck a rock, cutting a gash in the scalp. His back was bruised and his ankle sprained.

The population of Flagstaff is increasing daily.

Next week is district court and a lively time is anticipated in Flagstaff. Flagstaff by a little effort could secure one of the territorial political conventions.

Snow began falling at an early hour Monday morning and continued to fall almost the entire day.

The hotels of Flagstaff are contemplating the employment of a good band to entertain their summer visitors this year.

The water supply of Flagstaff is so promising that we could entertain another large saw mill plant in first-class style.

Flagstaff is situated at the base of the San Francisco mountains, whose snow-capped peaks are nearly 14,000 feet above sea level.

Harry P. Cullinan has been elected secretary of Flagstaff lodge, No. 489, B. P. O. E., in place of L. W. Quinn, resigned.

Registration of electors for the fall elections was commenced this week. Nearly 400 voters have already registered in this precinct.

M. J. Kennedy, the contractor, will engage in brickmaking here. He has started a brick kiln in Switzer canyon and expects to make 200,000 brick this season.

Rev. Father Julliard, for the past ten years pastor of the Catholic church at Gallup, stopped over here yesterday, the guest of Father Vabre. Father Julliard was on his way home from a visit to the Grand Canyon.

The Grand Canyon forest reserve north of the Colorado river has been placed under the supervision of Ranger J. H. Sparacin. He will have the assistance of one ranger, Mr. Sparacin's salary has been increased to $15 per month.

The president Wednesday sent to congress a message vetoing the bill granting the Central Arizona Railway company a right of way through the San Francisco forest reserve. He says this action was taken on the advice of the secretary of the interior and the commissioner of the general land office, who say the bill does not properly safeguard the government from the destruction of property in the reserve.

WILLIAMS.

From the News.

Mrs. S. J. Withers and wife left Monday for Kingman, Mr. Withers having resigned his position here.

H. A. Jagtiller left yesterday for Sulphur Indian village, near which point he will be employed by the American Gold and Platinum mines.

Mrs. M. Salzman is expected to arrive home from Albuquerque today, after having spent a couple of weeks pleasantly at that point.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flinn returned to the city Wednesday evening from Los Angeles, where they have been for the past few months.

Several teams and heavy log wagons were started for Chandler on Thursday, where they will be employed by the DeMund Lumber company, which recently installed a small mill at that point.

George H. Barney's new residence is now almost complete. Painter Simmons is putting on the first finishing touches and we understand that when all is done there will be held a good old-fashioned house warming.

Several dwelling houses are now under course of construction. The foundation of the Powers hotel has been completed; this will be a two-story brick, and work will shortly commence on several other new buildings, chief among which will be that of the Williams Hardware and Stationery company. The building, as now planned, will be erected on the site formerly occupied by Julius Wetzel & Co. and Joe's news stand, extending from Railroad to Williams avenue, and will be built of stone.

A couple of men who have been employed at Ash Fork while working on Williams Wednesday, stopped under a tree about a mile and a half from town to eat their lunch. Looking around they discovered about thirty-seven pair of men's trousers "cached" under the tree. Coming into town they notified Constable Andrews, who went out and brought the goods to town, placing them in Salzman's store. As yet nothing is known as to where they came from or how they came to be placed where found.

KINGMAN.

From the Miner.

Mrs. Al Conard, who at one time lived at Kingman, was shot to death by a gambler in Tucson a few days ago. She had separated from her husband about a year ago and since that time has been living with a man by the name of Horace B. Allen. The man was jealous of the woman and in a fit of rage shot her through the heart three times and then committed suicide.

A. E. Rosenbush has purchased of J. M. Durant the Hotel Beale barber shop. Mr. Rosenbush is known to many of the people of Kingman, having run a barber shop in this city several years ago. He has just returned from the Philippines, where he took part in many of the memorable fights of the first year on the islands. He is well liked by those who know him and we believe he will do a thriving business.

We would suggest that the good ladies of Kingman organize an improvement club, having for its object the beautifying of the town. An outlay of a few hundred dollars in fixing up the streets, laying out a little park and other work of this kind could be readily accomplished by a club of this nature. Other towns have been greatly improved by the concerted action of ladies of the town, and why not Kingman?

Peter Bradley, who at one time conducted a fruit store in Kingman and who later enlisted in the Rough Riders arrived in Kingman after having been discharged from the service in New York City, he resided in the Thirty-fourth infantry and saw service in the Philippines for three years past. He is now broken in health and has been in the hospital at the Soldiers' home, Santa Monica, for nine months past. In Manila he met George Walter, the at one time Kingman attorney, who was conducting a saloon. Walker, he said, was doing well.

WINSLOW.

From the Mail.

Mr. Bearup of Albuquerque was here Tuesday figuring on the purchase of a local wool clip.

The price of lumber has taken another jump upwards and contractor Parr has the usual kick coming.

V. E. Butler is looking over and making needed repairs on the Postal lines east and west of here this week.

The Santa Fe company are erecting a new little hospital for the accommodation of their employees at this place.

Ernest Myers, of the Myers-Abbe wholesale liquor house of Albuquerque was circulating among our local dealers yesterday.

The Winslow Juniors and the Sonora Juniors played a game of ball at the park Sunday, resulting in a score of 23 to 11 in favor of the Sonoras.

The Elks have roped a couple of mavericks and expect to brand them next Thursday night. No further notice need be given the noble herd.

Harry Anderson has started a brick yard northeast of town, and already has a contract for 125,000, part for the new freight depot of the Santa Fe Pacific and part for the Arizona Lumber company.

The Schaefer irrigating ditch, which was completed by Krentz & Wolff recently to their ranch, has been extended three miles further and Charles Daze is irrigating his ranch from the same.

Dr. Sampson went up to Holbrook Saturday night, and upon examination pronounced the Indian, who was held for murder, insane. Deputy Burdett left with the prisoner for Phoenix Monday morning, where he will be placed in the asylum.

HILLSBORO.

From the Advocate.

It is surmised that the Wicks mine will soon largely increase the working force.

It was reported here this week that the Mamie Richmond people have decided to put up reduction works at the mine in the near future.

While camping out one night this week, Carl Dawson was bitten on the nose by a skunk. The wound was slight and no bad results are as yet in evidence.

Manager Kasser, of the Hillsboro Gold Mining and Milling company, put a force of twelve or fourteen men at work grading the ground for the new mill, also for a dwelling house and an office.

Ray Grayson left yesterday for Silver City, where he will join the sheriff of Grant county and go into the Gila country in search of the Fairview hold-ups who are said to be camped on the west Gila.

Manager Hirsch, of the Prosper Gold Mining company, is away to purchase an engine and boiler for use on the Cincinnati. At a depth of 100 feet the Cincinnati has a body of good grade ore varying from fifteen to thirty inches.

HOLBROOK.

From the Argus.

About 30,000 pounds of wood have been received in this city this week and eleven cars were shipped to the eastern market.

The Indian who murdered the squaw at Winslow, and who is in jail here, is violently insane and will perhaps be taken to Phoenix.

Mr. Cramer and wife, of Albuquerque, brother-in-law and sister of Will Ames, of Phoenix, arrived in the city Friday and will visit a few weeks with Mr. Ames.

A cowboy from Clinton broke out with small pox at Barlett's cow camp on Bonito last week. He was at once removed to the hospital at the post and every precaution was used to prevent the spread of the disease, but two of Barlett's men have recently broken out with the disease.

Diphtheria, sore throat, croup, infantile relapse, permanent cure. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. At any drug store.

ARIZONA ODD FELLOWS.

On Tuesday the grand lodge of Odd Fellows of Arizona participated in the laying of the corner stone of an Independent Order Odd Fellows temple at Prescott. The building will be 50x150 feet, two stories high, and will cost, when completed, about $30,000.

At Tuesday morning's session of the grand lodge, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: F. P. Trott, of Phoenix, G. M.; J. E. Perry, of Kingman, D. G. M.; Charles F. Avery, of Prescott, G. W.; George A. Mintz, of Phoenix, G. S. H. Pratt, of Globe, G. T.; N. A. Morford, of Phoenix, B. Robinson, of Prescott, and Otto Butler, of Tempe, trustees. The next meeting of the grand lodge will be held at Bisbee.

Her Son's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"A neighbor ran in with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when my son was suffering with severe cramps and was given up as beyond hope by my regular physician, who stands high in his profession. After administering three doses of it, my son regained consciousness and recovered entirely within twenty-four hours," says Mrs. Mary Halber, of Mt. Crawford, Va. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

BACK TO HIS OLD EMPLOYER.

Former Land Title, Tax and Political Agent is Indispensable to the Santa Fe Railway.

President E. P. Ripley, of the Santa Fe, has tried an experiment that has turned out disastrously, and as a result A. P. Maginnis will again take his former place at the head of the Santa Fe railway's land, tax and political bureau in this jurisdiction. Mr. Maginnis' engagement will not begin for several weeks.

A. P. Maginnis resigned the title of Santa Fe land and tax commissioner about one year ago in order to accept the management of the Mexican Petroleum company, the corporation in which President E. P. Ripley, Vice President E. B. Kenna and other Santa Fe men are interested.

Maginnis' former position was abolished, the duties being divided among other departments in the theory that the company did not desire to mix in politics.

As one of the incidents to the innovation the Santa Fe found itself confronted last year with conditions that resulted in the company's losing large sums of money in its tax assessments in other directions, in New Mexico, Arizona and California.

The facts were brought to the attention of President Ripley in due season, resulting in an agreement to Maginnis that he resume his former employment. Maginnis will depart for Mexico in a few days and will return to his old quarters on the Santa Fe's local staff later in the year.

Maginnis declined to confirm news of his reemployment by the Santa Fe when asked today. He referred the inquiry to General Manager Arthur G. Wells, who could not be seen.

It is understood one of the primary facts that compelled Maginnis' reemployment was the China Basin legislation enacted in Sacramento last year. Promises then made are said to have been later repudiated, resulting in a de termination among certain politicians and others to "get even." The threats made are stated to have been carried out, so that the Santa Fe has found it necessary to explain and apologize in quarters that will have to be appeased. —Los Angeles Herald.

Saved Many a Time.

Don't neglect coughs and colds even if it is spring. Such cases often result seriously at this season just because people are careless. A dose of One Minute Cough Cure will remove all danger. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, and other throat and lung troubles. "I have used One Minute Cough Cure several years," says Postmaster C. O. VALDERBILT FIRE BOX.

Santa Fe Abolishes, as Result of a Peculiar Occurrence.

It is announced that the Santa Fe has, after a test of the much talked of Valderbilt fire box, decided to abolish all the fire boxes of that style now in use on Santa Fe locomotives, says the Topeka Journal. Orders have been issued to change all the Valderbilt fire boxes to ordinary fire boxes.

The Valderbilt fire boxes were used in the construction of a number of new engines recently sent through Topeka for service on the coast lines of the Santa Fe. This batch of engines are what are known as the Baldwin Vulcan compounds. They were made by the Baldwin locomotive works, and were supposed to be of the most improved and effective design.

The first trouble with the Valderbilt fire boxes was noticed on the Arizona division about a month ago, when two engine crews were called up on the carpet and discharged for the cardinal sin of engineering, burning out their fire boxes. The men in the crews stoutly maintained that they were not guilty, and laid their case before the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers at San Bernardino. The Brotherhood took the case up, and sent out for three experts to test the locomotives. The three experts, two from Philadelphia and one from New York, after a thorough investigation and acid test declared that the boxes had not been burned.

This aroused the interest of the Santa Fe officials, and the Santa Fe chemist made a thorough examination. As a result of his report, a general order was issued condemning all the Valderbilt fire boxes.

The Santa Fe also showed the proper spirit by reinstating with full pay for time out of the two locomotive crews which had been wrongfully discharged. As fast as possible the locomotives equipped with Valderbilt fire boxes will be brought into the San Bernardino shops and refitted with new fire boxes.

The Valderbilt fire box is the invention of W. K. Valderbilt, Jr., the millionaire railroad man who has been making numerous inventions in the line of locomotive improvements. One of the peculiar features of the Valderbilt fire box is that it is put together without a stay bolt.

In the San Juan Country.

N. E. Stevens spent this week and last here, in the interest of the Montezuma Building & Loan Association. The headquarters of his organization are located at Albuquerque, where 7,000 shares were sold the last year. A local board is being formed here, with George H. Browne as president and E. S. Whitehead collector. Mr. Stevens has made a very favorable impression with our people, and some of our best develop sometimes from very trifling causes, and when and where you would least expect them. A boil, or abscess, burn, blister, wart, tumor, mole, or the simplest little pimple may be the beginning point of a malignant, frightful looking Cancerous Ulcer.

Apparently there is no difference between a Cancerous and Common Ulcer when they first make their appearance, and for this reason every ulcer, no matter how insignificant or harmless it may seem, and all slow healing sores should excite suspicion and cause alarm, particularly if any of your ancestors ever had Cancer, or you have good reason to think your blood is impure; for the sore, after all, is only the outgrowth, the external evidence of polluted blood, and nothing can check its progress until the cancer tainted, vitiated blood has been purified. All efforts to heal the ulcer by means of salves or other external remedies will result in failure, for such treatment can have no possible effect upon the deadly germs and morbid matter that form in the blood and are carried through the circulation to the sore.

MOTHER, TWO AUNTS, AND ONLY A SMALL SORE CAME ON THE INSIDE OF HIS LIP.

SISTER DIED OF CANCER OF THE BREAST.

I had a Cancer on my left breast, which caused me great pain for three or four years. At times the pains were deep and shooting. The ulcer discharged yellow and rather offensive matter. I had given up all hope, as the doctors gave me no relief.

My mother, two aunts and an only sister died of Cancer of the breast, and I am satisfied that I, too, would have been gone but for S. S. S. I felt some better after the first bottle, and after using only seven bottles, was cured. This was several years ago but have seen no signs of the Cancer since. I would urge all who are suffering from the disease to give S. S. S. a trial. Belton, Mo.

MRS. JAMES CASSELL.

A SMALL SORE CAME ON THE INSIDE OF HIS LIP.

About the first of February, 1899, I noticed a small lump on the inside of my lower lip. It annoyed me considerably; the doctor cantered it and in a few days it dropped off, but shortly after another came and broke into an open sore, and in spite of the large number of remedies I tried, it would not heal. I then went to another, and he gave me something to put on the sore, saying if it did not cure he would cut the sore out. I used his medicine, but received no benefit. I decided a blood purifier was what I needed, and began to take S. S. S. The ulcer was growing rapidly, with some pain and a crawling, creeping feeling. At first S. S. S. seemed to make the sore worse, but this soon changed, and after I had taken seven bottles the place healed entirely; my general health improved and I am as well now as ever and no signs of the disease have been seen since. Hollands, S. C.

W. P. BROWN.

WOULD SCAB OVER, BUT NOT HEAL.

Mr. Jno. Massie, Owensboro, Ky., writes: "About three years ago a blister came on the right side of my nose. It grew steadily in spite of all efforts to heal it up; the pain was not very severe at first, but increased when the sore began to inflame and discharge matter. At times the place would scab over and appear to be getting well, but the scab would drop off, leaving a red, angry looking ulcer. I had almost despaired of ever curing the Cancer when my attention was called to S. S. S., and after taking a few bottles the Cancer began to gradually grow smaller, the discharge stopped, and I was relieved of the terrible disease."

Cancerous Ulcers can be reached only by a remedy that acts upon and through the blood system, and this is just what S. S. S. does. It goes to the fountain head of the disease, and drives out the germ producing poisons which cause the ulcer, and purifies and builds up again the deteriorated blood. This is the only true and logical treatment for sores of this character.

By the use of S. S. S. the ulcer is supplied with pure, strong blood, which quickly allays the inflammation and forces out all the irritating poisons, and allows the sore to heal naturally and permanently. S. S. S. acts also as a tonic, and where the constitution has become debilitated and weakened, it restores vitality and strengthens the nervous system, and helps the appetite and digestion. S. S. S. contains no Mercury, Potash or other minerals, but is guaranteed purely vegetable.

Those having a chronic ulcer or sore of any kind that is slow in healing, whether located upon the body or internally, will receive medical advice and such special information as they desire free of cost. Book on Cancer and Other Diseases of the Blood sent free.

CHILDERS ACQUITTED.

The Jury at Las Cruces on Saturday Evening Returned a Verdict of Not Guilty.

The defense closed its testimony in the Children's trial for the murder of Hefflin at Las Cruces on Friday evening. The principal witness for the defense was "Childers' brother-in-law, Walter Savidge, about 29 years of age. He testified that he was holding Childers, and that during that time Hefflin fired. He testified that the testimony of the three eye-witnesses for the prosecution was not correct, and that from the position they were in at the time of the shooting, it would have been impossible for them to have seen anything. He was badly confused on cross examination. The testimony was very conflicting. The court room has been crowded during the trial.

The trial closed on Saturday evening at 11 o'clock. The jury, after a brief consultation, brought in a verdict of "not guilty."

Dissatisfaction Expressed.
A telegram to the Denver Republican from Las Cruces, under date of April 27, says:

"The jury in the Childers murder trial returned a verdict of not guilty after a consultation of but a few moments. Because of the verdict there is much dissatisfaction here. There were ten Mexicans and two Americans on the jury. A sensational climax to a very sensational trial was caused by a blunder of the clerk of the court, who, when he read the verdict, read it as guilty in the second degree. After he read through the rest of the form and made the correction, a loud murmur of disapproval arose and for a short time it seemed as if there would be some trouble."

Lookout for the alleged "blind boy" led by a girl. They came to town last night, and are strictly professionals. The "boy" is so old that he is compelled to shave almost every day to keep up his youthful appearance, and the girl—well, she looks very youthful in a short dress and a hat to match. They announce the fact that "papa" is back in Minnesota, but the "papa" of this couple is the blind fellow himself, so it is said.

A gentleman, who is a bachelor but known as a judge of beauty, says he never saw as many lovely women in his life as passed through the city with the Foresters the other day. When told that a majority of them were from Canada, he said: "That settles the question," and he then passed the book, leaving forthwith for the United States marshal's office. Guess his name.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

A Series of Misfortunes Delayed Yesterday Morning's Train.

The train due here at 8:10 yesterday morning did not get in until 5 yesterday afternoon. When the cars reached Seligman two cars of oil paper which were on the side track were burning and it was impossible for the train to pass without a scorching. After a wait of over an hour, the train moved on but one side of the track sank and two express cars rolled over. The express matter was transferred to freight cars and again to express cars later.

Strike at Roswell.

A miniature strike occurred Monday morning on the sewer works, the Mexicans demanding $1.75 per day. The demand was not granted and though crippled somewhat the work moved on. During the week most of the strikers have dropped back to their places and nearly a full force is now at work. Slowly but surely Roswell is taking on metropolitan ways.—Record.

Supreme Court.
Before adjourning Friday evening, the territorial supreme court ordered briefs of the attorneys for Hall, for murder, stricken from the files and granted thirty days' time for the filing of a new brief.

Hall has been twice convicted for murder, first time in the first degree in Chaves county when he was sentenced to death for murdering a saloonkeeper with whom he had quarreled over a negro woman with whom both were infatuated. An appeal to the territorial supreme court was taken and the case was remanded to the lower court and upon a change of venue was tried at Lincoln where Hall was convicted of murder in the second degree and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. The case is at present pending in the territorial supreme court on a motion for a rehearing.

Libel Suit.

After very able arguments by attorneys on both sides, the libel suit of Keon St. Charles vs. The Arizona Republican was given to the jury yesterday afternoon. After being out a short time, the jury brought in a verdict for Charles with damages fixed at $250.—Prescott Courier.

Neglect Means Danger.

Don't neglect biliousness and constipation. Your health will suffer permanently if you do. DeWitt's Little Early Risers cure such cases. M. B. Smith, Butternut, Mich., says "DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the most satisfactory pills I ever took. Never gripe or cause nausea." J. H. O'Reilly & Co., B. H. Briggs & Co.

The Vivace Club.

The Congregational church was well filled Saturday evening with friends of the Vivace club, a musical organization from the High school. The members presented a most enjoyable musical program under the direction of Miss Anderson.

The band of sheep, about 150 in number, and which had strayed away from the main flock, received kind treatment at the hands of R. C. Robertson, the mesa ranchman. The sheep were given plenty of water and feed, and held in a corral until the owner, Elias Garcia, put in an appearance.

Railroad Topics

George W. Smith, late master mechanic of coast lines, visited the Topeka shops Friday last.

The pile driver of the Santa Fe Central Railway company commenced work this week near Galisteo.

Frank Springer succeeds H. Adair as reputation clerk in the timekeeper's office at the local roundhouse.

Rincon was represented in San Marcel by Conductor C. Watlington and Engineer Francis Meyers, both good fellows.

Six additional locomotives were put into service last week on the Pecos Valley line to handle the rush stock shipments.

Brakenman Council, who was one of the front end brakemen replaced at Las Vegas, has accepted a run on the Santa Fe branch.

The Santa Fe Central railway is endeavoring to arrange several games of ball with the Albuquerque Browns this season.

Judge H. L. Waldo, solicitor for the Santa Fe railway system in New Mexico, has returned to Las Vegas from a trip to Kansas City.

The Las Vegas Record says: William Holmes, the fireman, who has been suffering from "sweated cheeks," is again all over to be around.

Trunk Manager Don A. Sweet estimates that it will take at least 5,000 cars to handle the cattle shipments over the Pecos Valley line this spring.

The Rock Island is making a survey between South McAlester and Chickasha, a line parallel with the recent extension of the Choctaw through the same country.

John Joerns, retiring chief clerk of the mechanical department of the New Mexico division, was presented with a handsomely engraved gold watch by his many friends at Raton connected with the Santa Fe.

C. L. Lape, until recently master mechanic for the Santa Fe at San Bernardino, Cal., will retire from active railroad work to his old home in Springfield, Ill. He was formerly in the employ of the Walshaw.

The Missouri, Kansas & Texas surveyors began Saturday their line south west from Guthrie toward El Reno, Anadarko and Quanah, Texas, running the extension down the Cottonwood river valley from Guthrie.

Vice President W. S. Hopewell of the Santa Fe Central Railway company, and R. L. McCance, treasurer of the Pennsylvania Development company, will return to Santa Fe today from Torrington, Lincoln county.

A mass meeting will be held by the ladies of Las Vegas railroad orders, on next Tuesday afternoon, April 29, at 2 p. m. at the Knight of Pythias hall that city. All the railroaders' wives, mothers and sisters are requested to attend.

So far the tests as to the efficiency of the battery flat-tops which have been put under rails in Topeka yards, where the demands would be severest, have given excellent satisfaction, although the experiments are only well begun.

Rube McDonald, well known Las Vegas boy, who has recently been on the ranch of his uncle, Parker Wells, has secured a lucrative position as bookkeeper at the construction camp on the Dawson coal road, nearest to Springer.

Several of the new 25-foot stock cars which the American Car & Foundry company is turning out for the Santa Fe, were in the Topeka yards Wednesday. There are in the neighborhood of 3,500 in the order of both box and stock.

Al Richards, one of the Santa Fe brakemen, got pinched at Watrous this morning while between a couple of freight cars. One of the cars was in "bad order," the drawbar being broken and that caused the accident. He was sent to Raton this afternoon.

Geo. S. Sage, of the San Bernardino rip track force, has resigned his position to accept work with Stevenson Bros. the contractors. Mr. Sage has been connected with the Santa Fe for more than a year, part of which time he has been an assistant foreman in his department.

Senator W. H. Andrews assured the New Mexican on Saturday that grading on the Santa Fe Central railway will commence on next Thursday at Kennedy from which point grading will proceed southward. At present there are six carloads of grading machinery at Kennedy.

The Choctaw, Oklahoma & Gulf Railroad company has decided to run an extension from Weatherford, Okla., to Taloga, the county seat of DeWitt county, and north from there to Woodward, a total distance of 100 miles. No other railroad traverses that country which is very rich in cattle and agriculture.

George Hill, a brakeman on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, had the fingers of his right hand so badly crushed while coupling cars at Chama last week that Dr. Morrow D. Brown found it necessary to amputate the middle finger. Hill is a Santa Fe boy, the son of Conductor George Hill of that city.

Several samples of a new type of tank spring have been received and will be put in place of the former style which have an eye at the end. The new ones do away with this, which has always proven the weakest part of the spring, instead of it there being a casting in which the four pieces of the spring rest.

The Topeka State Journal says: Carl Joffila, of the Santa Fe machine shop at Raton, N. M., was around here Wednesday the guest of William Lauferbach, of this place. He is on his way to Hays City and Aberdeen, S. D., at each of which places he will spend a short time visiting before returning to his work in the west.

It has been found necessary to go over all of the new stock cars which are being turned out by the American Car and Foundry company for the Santa Fe and split the bolt heads on the handholds, says the Topeka state Journal. This ruling was made some time ago by the company and was overlooked by the builders. It is a job that is short and will not take much of the time. Safety chains are also being placed on the brakes, that part like which being neglected.

Ernest Bateman, who used to follow the trade of hollyhopper in Topeka shops and A. O. Saunders, for about six months in train service out of Argentina, have gone to Alamogordo, N. M., where they expect to get jobs with the Rock Island. It is probable that they will find places in the department in which they have hitherto worked.

The Santa Fe has made a special rate for baseball teams in New Mexico for the summer season. The rate will be one and one-fourth fare for distances of 100 miles or less over 100 miles fare for the round trip. These rates will be open to the public, providing passengers go and return with the base ball team and on the same ticket.

The Union Pacific railway is preparing for some extensive improvements at Fort Riley, Kas. The depot is to be remodelled, a dwelling built for the agent and a spur run to the artillery post. It is also said that in the event of the concentration camp site being located on the Pawnee Plains, the company will run fifteen minute trains between the camp and Manhattan.

Pat Donovan, foreman of the air brake room in the Topeka machine shops, left for Pittsburg, Pa., where he is to represent that part of the Santa Fe at the national gathering of West. inghouse air brake men. He expects the meeting to consume ten days of his time. With him was W. V. Turner, foreman of the car and air brake departments of the company at Raton, N. M.

The Las Vegas Record says: Train No. 2 was delayed an hour and fifteen minutes Friday on account of Ambrosia McCoy, one of the new colored head end porter-brakemen, throwing a switch at Dalton before train No. 3 had fully passed, derailing the trucks from one of the sleepers, smashing things a little and blocking the track. Ambrosia will enjoy the terrors of "going on the carpet" and telling why he did it.

George W. Noyes, formerly superintendent of the Santa Fe wood preservative plant at Las Vegas, N. M., and for twenty-one years in the employ of the company, was in town Wednesday on his way to Carbondale, Ill., where he is to take the superintendency of a private institution of this kind. At that point one is just being built and when completed will furnish a large part of its output to the Illinois Central road.—Topeka State Journal.

The Topeka State Journal says: Fast time was made by the Forrester excursion train which came in Thursday morning about 10 and left a half hour later for the west. From Endora to Lawrence, seven and a half miles, the space was distanced in six minutes or a little less than a mile a minute. There were fourteen cars in the train and nearly 400 as gay people as ever crossed the plains. Engineer Weiss was in the cab during the run in from the east and Andrew Neugebauer, who is a well known fast runner, took the train on west.

The San Bernardino Sun, in a recent issue, says: "John Andrews until lately foreman of the car department at the local shops, took a position at Dobson's grocery store yesterday morning and will in a few days purchase an interest in the business. For some time he has been undecided as to what his future plans would be, but finally concluded that San Bernardino was about the best place on the system, resolving to pay poll tax here for another year at least. And Mr. Andrews has any number of friends who will be glad to learn of his intentions."

The president sent to congress a message vetoing a bill granting the Arizona Central Railway company right of way through the San Francisco mountain forest reserves. He says this action was taken on advice of the secretary of the interior and commissioner of the general land office, who says that the bill does not properly safeguard the government from destruction of property in the reserve. He also says there is a law which would permit the railroad to cross a forest reserve if the company desired to take advantage of it.

By order of President Hill, Great Northern engineers have taken up the question of early utilization of water in the Cascade mountains for generation of electric power, with which to operate Great Northern trains across the Cascade mountains for a distance of a hundred miles. During the past month the Great Northern engineers have been locating water power rights and power house right on the rivers and creeks in the Cascade mountains contiguous to two mile Cascade tunnel which the railroad finished last year. The third rail system will be used.

Is Golf Catching? It seems to be. A noticeable increase in sales of Pains-Aid comes from golf districts. The reason for this is clear, as Perry Davis Pains-Aid is the oldest and best remedy extant for sprains, strains, bruises and soreness, all of which are of common occurrence, either in vigorous play or through accident. Everywhere the standard liniment and balm.

Notice This. Let all the members and friends of the various protestant churches in the city hear in mind that there will be union prayer services next week. On Tuesday night, April 29, at the Highland Methodist church, Rev. Bunker, leader. On Thursday night, May 1, at the Presbyterian church, Rev. Powell.

NOT SOLD TO HARRIMAN.
Joseph Hampson Denies the Usual Rumor on Behalf of His Road.

Joseph Hampson, president of the Mexico, Cuernavaca & Pacific railroad, and a former resident of Denver, came in from Mexico in his private car and left over the Union Pacific for the east, says the Denver Republican. Mr. Hampson said there was nothing in the report telegraphed to the United States that E. H. Harriman, who recently went over the road, would purchase it. "Wherever Mr. Harriman goes," said Mr. Hampson, "the state ment that he is going to lay some railroad property follows him."

The Cuernavaca road is in a very prosperous condition and we are doing more construction work. There is no deal on for the property."

The Topeka State Journal says: It is intended that engine 824, the oil burner sent here direct from the factory a few months ago for experimental purposes, will be ready to start on the long journey to the coast country under its own steam about next Tuesday. There it will go into permanent service. After perseverance, the mechanical experts have attained a reasonable success in getting the big machine to work, using the liquid fuel. Its run from Winslow to Seligman, Arizona, will probably be a precursor of the extension of the use of oil burners as far east as the first named station, the leader. These services are to prepare the way for the union meeting to begin Sunday, May 1, led by the noted evangelist, Merton Smith. "Prepare ye the way of the Lord," M. Holliman, secretary Ministerial association.

EVERY WALK IN LIFE.
Albuquerque Citizens Appreciate "The Little Conqueror."

Every class of citizens has sick kidneys. The busy business man rushing through life on the run fails to realize the constant strain he daily puts upon the kidneys. The mechanic forced to assume unnatural positions, stooping and straining at his work, does not know that his backache is simply kidney ache. The clerk on his feet continually, leaning over a counter or desk, railroaders, conductors, engine men, street car men subject to constant jarring, all have backache from the kidneys. Women, who their household duties, boys and girls at play overtax the kidneys and give them more work than they can do. This is a fortunate thing the kidneys warn you when in trouble, that they cry out for help. Don't neglect the warning. Don't neglect a bad back. A lame, weak or aching back if neglected means future trouble, kidney trouble, urinary trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills cure every form of kidney ill, cure a bad back and make sick kidneys well. Doan's Kidney Pills are endorsed by people you know. Read what a Kansas City citizen says:

Mr. H. T. Hazen, of 1907 Grand avenue, Kansas City, blacksmith employe at the Eric Mining & Machinery Co., says: "I suffered from most depressing pains in my back, so much at times that I could scarcely attend to my work, could hardly get out of bed mornings and could not ride on street cars, for the least jar meant excruciating pain. There was also a weakness of the kidneys which caused me inconvenience and distress, besides brooding my rest at nights. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and tried them. The treatment effectively and promptly relieved me of the pain in my back, and the other annoyances entirely disappeared." There has not been the slightest recurrence since.

Just such emphatic endorsement can be had right here in Albuquerque. Drop into the Alvarado Pharmacy and ask what their customers report.

ATTEMPTED HOLD UP.
E. H. Harding Was Stopped on the Street Last Night.

At 1:30 this morning E. H. Harding, night ticket agent at the Santa Fe was held up at the corner of Fourth street and Railroad avenue. He had been telephoned by his wife early in the evening and started home. As he passed Third street two men came around the corner from North Third street on to Railroad avenue and called to him to stop. Mr. Harding paid no attention to them and they called to him a second time and followed their demand with a shot. Mr. Harding stopped and the men caught up with him in front of the Myers-Abel store and started to go through his pockets. At that moment a man on a bicycle came down Fourth street and Mr. Harding called to him for help. The two men disappeared at once down Fourth street and the police were at once notified. Mr. Harding was able to give an accurate description of the men.

A BUSY SESSION.
Judge Crawford Had a Goodly Bunch Before Him.

Judge Crawford this morning had a big list of cases. Girard Gabaldon, who seldom fails to appear Monday mornings on the charge of beating his wife, was on hand again and got $5 or five days. John Sherman was boxing yesterday, so he said, and hit too hard. Assault and battery was the charge and he got $5 or five days.

Twelve charged with vagrancy were sitting in a row. Four were discharged and seven were given five days each. One, John Smith, who was begging, and threatened to take a man's watch if he did not give him money, was given ten days.

A Doctor's Bad Plight.
"Two years ago, as a result of a severe cold, I lost my voice," writes Dr. M. L. Scarborough, of Hebron, Ohio, "then began an obstinate cough. Every remedy known to me as a practicing physician for 35 years failed, and I daily grew worse. Being urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, I found quick relief, and for the last ten days have felt better than for two years." Positively guaranteed for throat and lung troubles by all druggists. 50c and $1. Trial bottles free.

WHY STAY PALE.
A pity to see pale girls stay pale and dull when it is so easy to get Scott's Emulsion.

One of the best things Scott's Emulsion does is to give rich blood to pale girls.

The result of regular doses of Scott's Emulsion is an increase not only in the red color of the blood and in the appetite but in the good looks and bright manners which are the real charm of perfect health.

Chronic Bronchitis Cured.
"For ten years I had chronic bronchitis so bad that at times I could not speak above a whisper," writes Joseph Coffman, of Montmorency, Ind. "I tried all remedies available, but with no success. Fortunately my employer suggested that I try Foley's Honey and Tar. Its effect was almost miraculous, and I am now cured of the disease. On my recommendation many people have used Foley's Honey and Tar, and always with satisfaction." Alvarado Pharmacy.

COL. BRODIE.
Sketch of the Life of a Gallant Rough Rider.

Col. Brodie has a very interesting history. He was graduated from West Point in 1870, and promoted to a second lieutenant in the same year. He served on the frontier duty up to 1877, when he resigned from the service. In 1871, he was especially commended for gallantry in action with the Apaches, and was recommended for brevet by General Cook for his services against the same tribe in the winter of 1872-73. When the Spanish American war broke out he organized the Arizona quota of the First United States cavalry, familiarly known as the Rough Riders. He organized, drilled and equipped the first squadron of the regiment at San Antonio, Texas, in May, 1898. He was wounded in the action at Los Guasimas, Cuba, on June 24, his forehead shattered by a Mauser bullet. In this engagement he was in command of the left flank. In August he was made lieutenant-colonel of his regiment. He was especially commended by General Shafter, Wheeler, Young and Wood and Col. Roosevelt.

After Brodie left the regular army he worked for a time as a day laborer in the mines of Arizona. His climb to the top, however, was rapid, and a few years later he was put in charge of the great Walnut Grove dam, on the Hassayampa river, north of Wickenburg.

In 1884, when the dam was about completed, an immense flood washed it out, causing the loss of eighty lives and damaging property worth millions of dollars, in the valley below. Brodie's promised wife was the sole survivor of her family, who were camped below the dam. She escaped by climbing a cliff and a few months later became Mrs. Brodie.

A Nearly Fatal Runaway
Started a horrible race on the leg of J. B. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill., which defied doctors and all remedies for four years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. Just as good for boils, burns, bruises, cuts, corns, scalds, skin eruptions and piles. 25 cents at all drug stores.

IT MAY JOIN CLARK ROAD
Rock Island Line Announces Its Western Extension.

R. B. Cable, chairman of the board of directors of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad company, gives the first official confirmation of the plans for western extensions of the Rock Island system, according to a dispatch sent out from Los Angeles, and in his interview Mr. Cable said that an extension from Denver west to Salt Lake would be the first undertaking of the Rock Island.

"That line will be built," said Mr. Cable. "I can say anything about details, or tell how soon the work will be done. Those are matters to be determined upon further investigation and surveys. There is a rich country in northern Colorado not reached by any railroad that offers many inducements to railroad builders. The line projected to run directly west from Denver across the mountains would be shorter by at least 150 miles than the Denver & Rio Grande and shorter than the Union Pacific."

A line through to the Pacific coast, he said, would not be undertaken, because of the present joint traffic agreements with the Southern Pacific.

Denver railroad men believe it is significant of the Rock Island's connection with the Denver & North-western proposed line to Salt Lake or more likely with the Colorado & Southern system.

There is also room for strong inference of an alliance between the Clark road and the Rock Island. During his stay at Santa Barbara, Cal., Mr. Cable was frequently in conference with the Salt Lake officials of Clark's road, and it is said that the outgrowth of these conferences was the enlistment of the Rock Island's interest in the Los Angeles terminals of the Salt Lake road. All the building material and equipment for the Clark line have been and are being shipped over the Rock Island road.

Mrs. A. H. Vanow and her sister, Miss Mindlin, were passengers last night on El Paso. After a stay of a few days there, they will proceed to Omaha, Neb.

Mrs. F. F. Hauglin had as guests for a couple of days Dr. Mary Williams and Miss Webster, of Bay City, Mich. The ladies continued west to Los Angeles last night.

RELEASED ON BOND.

Special Policeman Wolfington Held For Murder.
HIS PLEA SELF-DEFENSE.

The El Paso Herald says that Special Policeman Wolfington, who shot and killed Morris Rosenfield at the Wigwam saloon Friday morning, was released by Judge Spencer after an investigation Saturday afternoon under a bond of $500 which was quickly made, the signers being Harry Page and Charles Wood.

J. M. Jones testified: "At about a quarter of seven yesterday morning I was sitting near the roulette wheel in the club room of the Wigwam. About this time Morris Rosenfield and a man I suppose was his brother came into the saloon and Morris came on back to the club room and up to the roulette wheel. He stood there talking to Mr. Wood."

"About that time Wolfington came into the club room, coming through behind the bar. He sat down on a refrigerator which is between the roulette wheel and the bar. He sat there about a minute and then looked up and recognized this man beside the wheel. He got down off the box and went over to the man."

"He said, 'You are the man that wrote that letter to me in Colorado Springs aren't you?'"

"I didn't hear any more of the conversation. The man took off his glasses with his right hand and went to put them in his coat pocket saying, 'What are you going to do about it?'"

"Then Wolfington struck him. I think with his open hand in the face. There was no other lick struck. Harris backed off and still had his hands in his coat pocket. Wolfington tried to get to him and couldn't get him."

"Harris ran around behind another roulette wheel on the west side of the room. Wolfington followed him on around. As Harris got around to the front of this table, Wolfington followed him as close as Harris turned on him. As he got right in front of the table Harris drew a gun from his coat pocket. It seemed to go off instantaneously because the first bullet struck the floor."

"Then Wolfington drew his gun and as he fired his first shot he reached out with his left hand and grabbed Harris' gun. All this time both men were moving several feet toward the back door. They were only about four feet apart."

"Then Harris turned around and started to run. Wolfington fired three times after he started to run. Harris ran out to the rear door and fell in the alley. All this time I was still standing near the wheel."

"I saw Harris three minutes after he ran out and fell. He was dead."

"Harris had fired a second shot during the encounter. This was just as Wolfington threw out his left hand and caught Harris' gun. The shot went through Wolfington's hand."

"I think Wolfington fired four shots. I don't know which shot struck Harris."

Dr. Bush was the fourth and last witness to testify. He stated that Rosenfield was struck twice. One bullet struck the center of the breast, up quite high, and came out at the back on the left side. The other struck on the left arm and slightly grazed the skin. He said he was positive that the body wound was inflicted from the front."

Judge Spencer promptly announced that he would hold the defendant over to the grand jury in the bond of $500, but intimated that if that were too hard to make he would reduce it to $250.

The body of Rosenfield will be shipped tomorrow morning over the Texas & Pacific to New York. The dead man's brother will probably accompany it.

Dreadful Attack of Whooping Cough.
Mrs. Ellen Harrison, of 300 Park Ave., Kansas City, Mo., writes as follows: "Our two children had a severe attack of whooping cough, one of them in the paroxysm of coughing would often faint and bleed at the nose. We tried everything we heard of without getting relief. We then called in our family doctor who prescribed Foley's Honey and Tar. With the very first dose they began to improve and we feel that it has saved their lives." Refuse substitutes. Alvarado Pharmacy.

"BLACK DIAMOND'S" TRIBUTE.
Says Complimentary Things About Ripley, of the Santa Fe.

The Lehigh Valley road published a neat monthly magazine called the "Black Diamond Express" Monthly. The magazine is like the New York Central's "Four Track News" and is filled with interesting matter for travelers and railroad people. In the April number of the Black Diamond Express Monthly is the following "front page" article about President E. P. Ripley, of the Santa Fe:

"Edward Payson Ripley, president of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway, the man who has placed that system on the high road to prosperity first saw the light in the historic town of Dorchester, in the grand old commonwealth of Massachusetts."

"A stalwart son of worthy sires, big in body and big in brain, he was, perhaps, the one man in railway circles physically and mentally capable of successfully accomplishing this gigantic task set before him."

"His career in the transportation service began in 1868, when in the first bloom of young manhood. After having served the Union Star line at Boston as contracting freight agent he became chief clerk to General Eastern Agent Board of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy having acted in that capacity for two years. His next step upward was to become the New England agent of that line."

"Well earned promotion next made him the general eastern agent, and in 1878, ten years from the time of his entrance into railway service, advanced him to the high and responsible position of general freight agent of the vast Burlington system and from thence to the general management of the same road was but a natural sequence."

"In 1890 he left the Burlington to become the third vice president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, which position he held until, in 1896, he was elected president of the Santa Fe.

"He is distinctly a man of affairs. Of strong personality, an indefatigable worker, somewhat brusque in his manner and democratic in his views, he is the worthy head of a great system and an example for the rising generation of railway attaches to look up to and pattern after, should they aspire to advancement, honor and prosperity."

This paper might be filled with items like the following, and everyone be the absolute truth. I had rheumatism for years and tried almost everything, but got no permanent relief until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm, three bottles of which have cured me. It is the best medicine I ever used.—Philip E. Rhoads, Pennville, Mo. Pain Balm is for sale by all druggists.

MAIL CLERK ARRESTED.
Postal Clerk Fred. Bartlett Charged with the Crime.

For some time people have been losing small amounts of money that have been sent through the mails, letters containing U. S. money never reaching their destination. Postoffice inspectors were made aware of these facts, and they went to work at once to catch the thief. After having placed two or three letters in the mail bags, containing small amounts of money, addressed to this place or intended for some star route running out from here, the inspector and an officer boarded the Wednesday morning train. When the train arrived here the inspector at once opened the bags and began a search for the catch letters, and they were not to be found. He immediately telegraphed to the officer to arrest Fred Bartlett, the railway mail clerk, which he did, and the money, which was marked, was taken off his person.

Bartlett will be remembered as the mail clerk who was shot by Black Jack in one of the hold-ups near Folsom.—Clayton Enterprise.

STOCK NOTES

The Cattle and Horse association will meet at Magdalena on May 15. A strong petition will come up for consideration protesting against the removal of drift fences by the government.

The Denver Field and Farm says: The Arco land and cattle company of Arizona, one of the most prominent cow outfits doing business on the map, has finally thrown up its tail by closing out every hoof and is now separating itself to go into the sheep business.

The Utah output of wool this year will be 20 per cent greater than it has been for years past. Fully 15,000,000 pounds of fleece will be shipped east this season, 3,000,000 pounds more than last year. The prospects for the wool industry in Utah are now brighter than they ever have been before.

The Denver Field and Farm says: There are a few good ones at Albuquerque, N. M., this spring, including the mare Action 2:28, daughter of Onward, dam of three in the list. She holds the record for New Mexico and Arizona by a half-mile trotted in 197 on a long soft track. There are also Lady Margaret 2:17 1/2, pacing, Bob Collins 2:18, Black Ike 2:22, Boone 2:23, a green horse, Nimble Jim 2:30, Deck 2:26 1/2 and several other raw ones that can show 2:25.

Senator Money, of Mississippi, says that every pound of butter that goes to the West Indies is colored a brilliant red. The dainties down there will not have any other color. They like red butter just as they adore red shirts or carnation cravats. We would have been just as well pleased if the new oleomargarine bill in congress had contained a clause requiring all bull butter to be colored pink under government supervision. This would have put it in a class by itself and its friends would have been required to stand by it as a good thing, the same as strawberry ice cream.

It has just leaked out that some horses employed in carrying mails in the rural districts of Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico and Texas are cruelly abused. In most cases horses employed are bronchos that may be bought for a small sum and the contractors care little whether they die or not. They often drive them thirty miles with mail and return without giving them any feed. If they give out others are used in their stead and the worthless ones are turned out to graze until the relay plays out and in turn these are brought back into service. They get nothing to eat but grass and there are times during the year when they do not have a sufficiency of that. Affidavits show that in many cases the animals suffer with sores on their backs and shoulders. They are required to draw heavy loads with raw hides as large as a man's hand. The postal authorities propose in the future to include a clause in the contracts with star routes requiring them to take proper care of their steeds while in service.

GIVENS—HEAD.

Charles Givens and Miss Margaret Head Married.

Mrs. R. G. Head and daughter, Miss Margaret, returned from San Antonio, Texas, last Saturday, where they had been visiting, says the Las Vegas Optic.

Upon their return Miss Margaret and Charles Givens were quietly married and left immediately for Denver and other Colorado points on their wedding tour.

It is learned that the young people wanted to marry before Miss Head went to Texas, but objections were made. The determination of the young people, however, as is usually the case, was stronger than objections and upon the return of Miss Head forgiveness and reconciliations from the parents on both sides having been obtained, the result was the marriage and the young people started out happily upon the great voyage of life.

Mr. Givens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Givens, old and well to do residents of Las Vegas and is a bright young man.

Miss Head is a very accomplished young woman, the youngest daughter of Col. and Mrs. R. G. Head. Colonel Head is an old settler, known among all stockmen west of the Mississippi and has been a prominent factor in the winning of the west.

FROM SILVER CITY.

Stock Ranges Dry—Other Interesting Notes.

Special Correspondence
Silver City, N. M., April 29.—The large crowd of witnesses and others interested in the Childers murder trial returned from Las Cruces on last Sunday.

A girl baby arrived at the home of Clarence Bayne last Friday evening.

The stockmen in this section state that while the ranges in some localities are getting rather dry the stock is looking very good and it is thought that they will pull through to the rainy season in pretty good shape. The local meat markets here have raised the price of Kansas City meats considerably during the past week on account of the raise in prices by the packing houses in the east.

The Normal school basketball team composed of boys defeated the Central team at Athletic park yesterday afternoon in a game with a score of 14 to 4.

Jo. E. Sheridan, territorial coal mine inspector, arrived on today's passenger train from a month's trip of inspection through the mines in the northern part of the territory.

The local base ball team is fast getting in shape for the season and it is expected that Silver City will have some good ball games this summer.

Christians Organizing.

At the meeting of the young men interested in the organization of a local Y. M. C. A. at Las Vegas the following were elected a board of directors: D. J. Osborne, H. O. Browne, J. A. Dick, Rev. George Selby, W. G. Anderson and Ernest C. Herlow. The directors will hold a meeting to elect the officers and determine on a plan of work. It is the intention to fit up a gymnasium and push the association as fast as the increase in the membership will allow. All men are invited to join and aid in the good work.

MORE TO GO.

Superintendents Beamer and Denair Are Slated to Go.

And now comes the report, from sources authoritative that the two Santa Fe officials slated to fall into step with the procession of reorganization on the Santa Fe system, are none other than Superintendent W. B. Beamer of the Southern California division with offices in this city, and Superintendent John Denair, of the Arizona territory, says the San Bernardino Sun.

This will be the beginning of the clearance which it is believed will affect the train service men to an extent equal to that already felt in the mechanical department. Be it understood, however, that if such changes are brought to pass it will not be at the instance of Superintendent of Motive Power, Anderson as many unacquainted with the powers of the various officials might suppose. Mr. Henderson, as head of the mechanical department has worked all changes which have been brought about thus far with one local exception, and whatever changes may be made on the coast divisions in connection with the train service department, for such, Superintendent Shepherd, of the coast lines with headquarters at Los Angeles, will be perhaps wholly responsible. The exception noted above is ex-Chief Train Dispatcher Baty, of the local office, who resigned at the request of Mr. Shepherd.

The new superintendent who succeeded Arthur G. Wells, when that gentleman was raised to the office of general manager of the coast lines is a Northern Pacific man and it is said that he is already looking about for berths in which to install his eastern friends. His first play was made but a few days ago when, without previous notice, he brought a Northern Pacific man west with him in the person of C. B. McMullen, who displaced Mr. Baty. "A good shepherd knoweth his flock," and it is said that the new official will provide for his even at the cost of division superintendents' heads.

THE SANTA FE CENTRAL.

Active Grading on the Line Between Kennedy and Santa Fe Will Commence on Thursday.

Active grading on the Santa Fe Central line will commence on Thursday, says the New Mexican. A working force has been collected at Kennedy and the line between Kennedy and Santa Fe will be the most difficult to construct, and it is desired to have it ready for the steel when that arrives in August. Eighty-four bridges and culverts will be built between Kennedy and Santa Fe. R. L. McCance, treasurer of the Pennsylvania Development company, will probably leave for Kennedy tomorrow to take charge of the construction work.

Three car loads of T rails are on the way to Kennedy from Cumberland, Md., to be used for the dump cars. The wire for the telegraph line has arrived at Torrance and construction of the telegraph line will on that account commence at Torrance instead of at Kennedy as had first been planned.

CHICAGO IS KICKING.

Merchants Want Lower Rates to Coast Than Are Now Given.

Merchants and manufacturers of Chicago have united in a strong protest to the interstate commerce commission against alleged discrimination in transcontinental rates. It is charged that by the rates made Chicago manufacturers are placed in competition with New York for Pacific coast trade, and for trade west of the Rockies. Attention is called to the fact that equal rates from New York and Chicago to Pacific coast points practically eliminate the advantage which should be Chicago's, owing to her situation territorially.

To this charge the answer of the railroad management has always been that water competition by the route from New York to the Pacific are the same as from Chicago, St. Louis, St. Paul and other Mississippi river valley points.

SOCORRO STIRRED UP.

A Base Ball Team Organized to Go After the Scalp of the Santa Fe Central.

A correspondent writing to the New Mexican from Socorro, says:

An organization was affected here to be known as the "New Mexico Base Ball Team," with Prof. F. A. Jones as manager. A challenge has been forwarded to W. E. Martin, manager of the Santa Fe team, for a game in the city of Santa Fe on Sunday afternoon, May 18. If the challenge is accepted, which it undoubtedly will be, a second game will be played in Socorro on May 29, on commencement day. Socorro expects to have a general blowout on that date and many of the leading citizens expect to be present to witness the battle of the giants.

INDIAN SCHOOL NOTES

The idea of industrial work for the Indian schools, as set forth in the new course of instruction, which has recently been prepared by the national superintendent of Indian schools, is being carried out in this school and the results are very satisfactory. This week the pupils have been taken to the garden, by their teachers, and were given practical instruction in preparing the soil and planting seeds in the garden. They do the actual work and are very much interested in it. They have also been shown the best method of irrigating the garden. Boys and girls both work and are striving to see who will have the best garden. The boys are also being given practical instruction in constructing a large building. They do the actual work and some of them show a great deal of talent in that direction.

Miss M. E. Disette visited the Isleta day school this week and she reports that good work is being done among the Indians of that place.

C. D. Richards and Mr. Garcia made a friendly call at the school this week. Mr. Richards is employing Indian help for the best fields at Holly, Colo., and Mr. Garcia is securing Mexican labor for the same purpose at Rocky Ford, Colo.

ROSWELL IN PARAGRAPHS.

A New Railroad in Contemplation—Other Improvements.

C. B. Eddy has said that if the people of Roswell will give the proposed railroad out of Roswell to the north-west to connect with the Santa Fe Central at Torrance, a liberal local support he will capitalize the road in eastern money centers.

The road will be 100 miles in length; will form a junction with both the Rock Island and El Paso and the Santa Fe Central at Torrance, and will add a new and valuable link to Roswell and Pecos valley development.

The Roswell people will meet Mr. Eddy's offer and the new road can be said to have passed from a possibility to a surety.

In public improvements Roswell will count this year a new $15,000 opera house, a $10,000 cannery and pickling establishment, a $25,000 enlargement of the territorial military institute, including a copious artesian water supply for the institute grounds, a city park and an $8,000 meat packing and cold storage plant; while the city fire department has just added to its equipment a $3,000 steam engine.

New business blocks are being erected at respective costs $40,000, $30,000, $15,000, $12,000 and $6,000, with an additional expenditure of $50,000 on the expansion of older business buildings, the latter including a $15,000 remodeling and enlargement of the Central hotel.

Seventy-five thousand dollars will be expended this year in the erection of new residences, running respectively from $1,000 to $6,000, with at least $25,000 are added for improving and beautifying already occupied Roswell homes.

As a total, Roswell's construction and improvement expenditure this year will approximate $350,000.

The city has an exhaustless supply of superior brick clay and a new lumber yard of 1,000,000 feet capacity is being added to local building resources.

The orchard outlook is far better than ever before known at this season and practically assures a Roswell shipment this year of 1,500 cars.

Roswell has just attained the dignity of a second class postoffice and is now preparing commodious and commensurate postoffice quarters.

Eight hundred acres of cantaloupes will be cultivated in the Pecos valley this year, while a strong movement is on foot to fully utilize the sun-dried sweet potato capabilities of the valley.

IMMIGRATION POOL.

Santa Fe and Rock Island Are Both Parties to It.

Western passenger agents are greatly excited by the news that the interstate commerce commissioners would begin an investigation of the immigration business on May 2 at New York. The notice came to Chairman McLeod, of the Western Passenger association, and requested him to appear at the hearing. He communicated the announcement to the passenger agents.

The immigration bureau, or clearing house, with headquarters in New York, always has been held to be illegal. It is in the nature of a pool, the immigrants arriving in New York and destined to points in the west being divided among the various roads, west of Chicago and St. Louis.

The roads parties to the agreement, each being guaranteed 10 per cent of the business, are the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Chicago & Alton, Chicago & Rock Island & Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe, Chicago & Northwestern, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Wabash, Union Pacific and Illinois Central.

LOST TEN SHIRTS.

Story Told on the Late T. Marquette, P. Road Attorney.

T. Marquette was probably one of the brightest corporation lawyers the west has ever known, and previous to his death was well known in railroad circles, says an exchange. He was at one time the chief attorney for the Burlington route, and his duties kept him traveling a great deal. He was of a unique makeup and like all queer people he must go to some extreme. He chose for his extreme the reverse of neatness and system. His wife told a prominent railroad official once that she started him out on a certain trip with ten clean shirts in his grip and when he returned the grip was empty. She was astonished, and when asked where the shirts had gone he replied: "I don't know, must have lost them." That night when he retired the mystery was explained, as Mr. Marquette removed ten shirts when he dozed off. At another time the same official, when accompanying him on a ten days' trip, found his grip packed with the statutes of Nebraska and not another single thing in it. The wife probably did not prepare it that time.

Died in Debauch.

Jesus Ma. Gutierrez, who came up from Santa Rosa, brings word that Thomas Healey, manufacturer of soda pop at Santa Rosa, was found dead, or nearly so, about twenty miles this side of that city on last Friday. Gutierrez with T. Romero and Jose L. Romero was passing along the road and saw Healey heavily drunk. The men with him asked the travelers if they would take him with them, which they consented to do. While putting the man in the wagon he expired. Death ended the continued debauch, two days of which were spent in the desert around Santa Rosa, where, it is supposed, nothing to eat or drink, but the liquors he carried with him. Truly the wages of sin is death.—Optic.

Thomas Healey was well known here, and while at Cerrillos visited the metropolis quite often. He was always a drinker but not to excess. Friends will regret to learn of his sad death.

Still Burning.

The forest fire gained considerable headway yesterday near Trout Springs and has been burning fiercely ever since. An extra crowd of men were sent out this morning to fight the fire, which has done an immense amount of damage; most of the fire burned over being valuable timber.—Las Vegas Record.

Trustee's Sale.

Whereas heretofore on the 24th day of August, 1899, Aurelia Lombardo and Angelo Lombardo, her husband, executed and delivered to the undersigned trustee for the benefit of the First National Bank of Albuquerque their certain deed of trust of that date and thereby then and there conveyed to the undersigned as such trustee the following real estate situate in the County of Bernalillo, Territory of New Mexico, to-wit:

Lots numbered Eleven (11) and Twelve (12) in Block letter "B" in the Mandell Business and Residence Addition, in the City of Albuquerque in the County of Bernalillo and Territory of New Mexico, also sufficient ground to make lot 12 a full lot, fronting 25 feet on Third street and 142 feet on Carroll Avenue, if said lot was extended west of Third street.

As the said lots are known and designated on the map of the said Mandell Business and Residence Addition, filed in the office of the Probate Clerk and ex-officio Recorder for said Bernalillo county, New Mexico, on the 3rd day of February, A. D. 1886.

Which said deed of trust is recorded in volume 10, page 31, of the record of deeds of trust of said county and was given to secure the payment of a certain promissory note dated June 29, 1899, for the sum of $1,200.00 payable one day after date to the First National Bank of Albuquerque with interest from date at the rate of 10 per cent per annum until paid and 10 per cent additional if said note should be placed after maturity in the hands of an attorney for collection and

Whereas said deed of trust contained a condition that if the said Aurelia Lombardo and husband should pay and discharge the debt and interest expressed in said note according to the tenor and effect thereof then said deed should be void and said property released, but if said parties should refuse to pay the said debt and interest or any part thereof according to the tenor and effect of said note then said deed should remain in full force and the said trustee should at the request of the legal holder of said note sell the property above described or any part thereof at public vendue to the highest bidder at the front door of the Post Office in the City of Albuquerque, first giving thirty days public notice of the time, terms and place of sale and of the property to be sold by advertisement in some newspaper printed and published in said city and upon such sale to execute a deed in fee simple of the property sold to the purchaser or purchasers thereof and said trustee should receive the proceeds of such sale and out of the proceeds of such sale should pay first the costs and expenses of executing this trust including reasonable attorney's fees and compensation to the trustee for his services and next should apply the proceeds remaining over to the payment of said debt and interest or so much thereof as remains unpaid.

And whereas said note is past due and there will be due on the day of sale hereinafter mentioned on account of principal and interest on said promissory note the sum of $819.00 besides the costs and expenses of executing said trust and the holder of said note has asked the undersigned trustee to make a sale of the above described premises in accordance with the provisions of the said deed of trust, will on the 13th day of May 1902, at the hour of 12 o'clock P. M. of said day at the front door of the Post Office in the City of Albuquerque, sell the above described real estate at public vendue to the highest and best bidder for cash to satisfy said amount now due together with the costs and expenses of executing said trust.

M. W. FLOURNOY, Trustee.
