FRANCE UPSETS FLEET REDUCTION PLANS; TO BUILD TEN BATTLESHIPS BY END OF YEAR 1935

BRITISH MAKE ANNOUNCEMENT; IT COMES LIKE A BOMBSHELL

Whole Question of Scrapping and Building Battleships Seems to Have Been Kicked Into the Discard; "Big Three" May Have to Increase Fleets to Keep Even with the French.

Washington, Dec. 16, (By the Associated Press).—British spokesmen hurled a bombshell into conference circles today with the announcement that France had asserted before the naval committee of 15 her intention of building between 1925 and 1935, ten capital ships of 35,000 tons each. The statement stood unchallenged from French quarters through the day.

It appeared that a French proposal was submitted at the first meeting of the committee after Secretary Hughes had announced the agreement between Great Britain, Japan and the United States to abandon projected building of capital ships, aggregating nearly 2,000,000 tons, and set their navies in ten years on a 5-5-3 ratio basis as between themselves. The one action disclosed at today's meeting of the committee of fifteen was the agreement not to talk of what was going on until a conclusion had been reached.

The British statement, as to French proposals preceded the committee's "no talk" decision. An official communiqué as to today's session said merely that the committee received the official announcement of the French proposals and would meet again tomorrow.

There were indications that the French group had not concluded presentation of its case in the three-hour session. They are expected to continue tomorrow and, pending that, it is believed the French delegates are in communication with their government, possibly to seek broader powers. French spokesmen have repeatedly pointed out that they are without any official knowledge of what is in progress in the "big three" naval negotiations culminating in the triangular agreement.

Tumult of Discussions. The relentless rule of silence applied to committee of fifteen deliberations prevented any official or even semi-official explanation of French position. It did not prevent, however, a tumult of discussions outside the committee membership.

Details of the French proposals were lacking. The brief glimpse of the situation gained from British sources before the secrecy curtain was rung down again by the committee of fifteen, was ample to show its disturbing nature.

While the British-American-Japanese agreement as to the 5-5-3 ratio as between themselves stands, and is expected by those who negotiated it to stand against any development of the conference, the whole question of ship scrapping and ship building has been upset.

QUESTION OF SPECIAL SESSION OF STATE LEGISLATURE PROVES POPULAR TOPIC IN SANTA FE

Holloman Issues Injunction Preventing State Treasurer From Making Any Disposition of $285,000 in Notes and Mortgages Held as Security.

Santa Fe, Dec. 16.—Development came rapidly today in the capital. This morning Governor Mechem made informal inquiry of the state auditor, Mr. Holloman, as to the "taxpayers' association" as an audit of the books of the state auditor and state treasurer in case he would make a formal written request for the same. The governor went into conference with Ed Safford, state auditor. Immediately thereafter Mr. Safford got in touch with R. F. Asplund, managing director of the taxpayers' association, and made a formal request for the audit.

BOTH HOUSES OF PARLIAMENT IN ENGLAND RATIFY PACT WITH ERIN

Treaty Creating the Irish Free State Goes Through With Emphatic Majorities—Ulsterites Fight.

ATTEMPT TO TURN THE TIDE IN IR FAVOR

Northern Ireland "Cannot and Will Not Yield a Yard of Soil," Says a Belfast Member in Speech.

London, Dec. 16 (By the Associated Press).—Prolonged cheering greeted the announcement this afternoon that both houses of the British parliament had ratified the treaty creating the Irish free state by emphatic majorities.

The house of commons, immediately after the vote was taken, approving the reply to the king's speech from the throne, which included the ratification of the treaty, recessed until Monday to await the treaty by the daily stream which is deliberating in Dublin.

The Ulsterites fought bitterly to the end in a last desperate attempt to turn the tide which it was clearly seen from the first would overwhelm them. Charges of broken pledges were hurled at both Prime Minister Lloyd George and the Ulster unionist leader, Mr. James Craig.

Thomas Moles, member from Belfast, one of the last speakers in the debate, dramatically declared: "Ulster cannot and will not yield a yard of ground."

Concluding his attack, with eyes fixed upon the ministerial bench, he shouted: "Do, for God's sake, try to keep faith with somebody."

Major Robert O'Neill, speaker of the northern parliament and other Ulsterites brought their heaviest artillery to bear on the provision of the treaty relating to the appointment of a boundary commission to draw the line between north and south Ireland in case Ulster decided to remain aloof from the treaty.

DAILY WILL VOTE ON RATIFICATION MONDAY

Dublin, Dec. 16 (By the Associated Press).—A vote on the question of ratification of the peace treaty between Ireland and Great Britain will be taken at a public session of the parliament Monday morning at 11 o'clock according to an announcement made public tonight signed by Eamon de Valera and Arthur Griffith.

The announcement issued through the public department of the daily stream follows: "The private sessions of the daily stream will end tomorrow evening and a motion for ratification of the treaty will be made at a public session at 11 o'clock Monday. We are confident that the Irish people will continue to maintain the same calm dignity and discipline they hitherto have displayed."

"DE VALERA."
"GRIFFITH."

OPPOSITION MET BY SPEECH OF BONAR LAW

London, Dec. 16 (By the Associated Press).—Ratification of the Irish peace treaty was given today by both houses of the British parliament by overwhelming majorities. The public debate in the house of commons was 47 and that in the upper house the vote was 166 to 47; in the lower chamber it was 40 to 16.

Christmas Fund Is Being Raised To Save Farm to Greatest Hero

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 16.—(Special).—If the Merriest Christmas feeling keeps on spreading, Sergeant Alvin C. York is going to wake up some fine morning and find that the mortgage on his farm and one-room cabin up in the Tennessee mountains has "dun evaporated." That's what York would say himself. Several of the men of his company who spent several days prying York's story out of the big, baneful, red-headed mountain boy said that was about as far as the sergeant would go in spreading of his single handed fight with the gunners of the German machine gun nests.

"Ah, crawled up on 'em," the sergeant is reported saying, "and Ah asked them most pleasant and polite like to please quit pesterin' cause Ah had my gun on 'em and they shot at Ah and they dun evaporated."

Patriotic Americans from all sections of the country are contributing to a fund started in New York to raise the mortgage on the farm York, declared by Marshal Foch to have been "the war's greatest hero." York captured unaided 132 Germans in one afternoon, but he finds it not so easy to make farming pay in the Tennessee mountains.

A part payment on the farm was made by a Tennessee chamber of commerce when York returned from the war. But York must pay the rest of the purchase price. York, his war service, York received the congressional medal, the highest honor that a grateful country can pin on the coat of its hero sons. Sergeant York got the congressional medal from his country. And that's all he got.

York is second elder of his church up there in the mountains and leads the services on Sunday. York is a stubborn man. He took his Bible with him when he was dragged into the army, and he stuck it to the text, "Thou shalt not kill."

York's captain took him in hand. Every night he had York marched over to his tent under a strong and desperate guard armed to the teeth. The first time York came to the camp, the captain was waiting to pull a gun on him, and he made up his mind to die game. But the captain pulled a Bible and York promptly reached down in his pocket and pulled out his own Bible. Then the captain and York read Bible texts back and forth to each other. The first night it was a draw. The second and the third and the fourth nights the draw was with honors even. But the fifth night the captain read the verse, "I say unto you that ye are the watchmen of the city." York stood up with the text in his own words. "You win, captain," said the conscientious objector.

MECHEM'S OPPORTUNITY.

Until about June 1920 the deposits of the state treasurer in the Santa Fe Bank were not abnormal. Then they suddenly mounted well toward the figure where they were when the bank failed. Why did this happen? There is a reason. What is it?

Almost at once the loans of this bank mounted proportionately until the loans nearly equalled the deposits. It should be remembered that the excuse for this account assuming such size was because it was presumed to be a checking account. The state's checking accounts are very active; that is, all of them but this one. Except for a private understanding this bank must have assumed that a check of one hundred thousand dollars or some other large amount might come in any day. Yet this bank almost immediately loaned practically the entire amount on unsecured paper.

There are two alternatives possible in one's reasoning; either the officers of this bank were stark mad and should be in an asylum for the insane, or they had an understanding on the side that this account would not be checked against or would be replenished so as to maintain a uniform balance. No one charges the officers with insanity. There is no conclusion possible except that they had an understanding with some one.

With whom did they have an understanding? Why did they have such an understanding? There is a reason. Such things do not just happen. What is the reason? The Journal cannot answer. It could only guess. But we will refrain from guessing. If the governor will call the legislature in special session we are sure that, with its power to subpoena, swear witnesses and compel them to talk and to compel the production of books and records, its committees will soon learn an interesting story of how the people's money is handled. Two hours with the banks records before them and its officials on the witness stand, would suffice to produce the desired information, in our judgment.

STIFLE WOMEN, DRESS BODIES, FIRE THE ROOM

(By The Associated Press.) London, Dec. 16 (By the Associated Press).—A story of the startling discovery by the Rome police of the murdered bodies of an Italian millionaire widow, Madame Cogo, and her adopted daughter, fully dressed and lying in chairs in her dining room, was related in a dispatch today to the Central news agency from its Rome correspondent.

According to the dispatch, the police made their discovery as a result of testimony taken by them from Madame Cogo's servant girls, who asserted three sons of Madame Cogo's brother broke into the house, stifled the two women in their beds, dressed their bodies in their best clothes, including jewels placed them in the chairs in sitting postures and then set fire to the room to distract suspicion.

The servant girl, says the dispatch, told the police she thought they took this drastic action for fear their aunt would leave her fortune to the adopted daughter. The three men and their father have been arrested, the dispatch added.

STATE FINISHES ITS ARGUMENTS IN SMALL CASE

Governor and Vernon Curtis, Banker, Soon Will Know If They Are to Be Tried on Three Charges.

Waukegan, Ill., Dec. 16.—Governor Len Small and Vernon Curtis, Grant Park, Ill., banker, will know before Christmas whether they must stand trial on the indictments charging them with embezzlement of state funds, conspiracy and operating a confidence game.

The state's case against the two men was completed today in arguments in opposition to the defense motion to quash the indictments. Tomorrow, C. C. Leflore, chief counsel for the governor, will complete his reply, and Judge Charles C. Edwards Sunday will begin consideration on his decision. Judge Edwards announced tonight that he expected to have his decision ready by the latter part of next week.

The court has previously indicated that, if he upholds any part of the charges, he will set the case for trial starting January 3. James A. Wilkerson, assistant attorney general of Illinois, and Edward Free, assistant state's attorney of Sangamon county, completed the state's arguments today.

U. S. FISHING BOATS DECLARED FORFEITED

Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 16.—Three small United States fishing boats owned in the state of Washington, which were found fishing in Canadian territorial waters last July, today were declared forfeited to the crown by Justice Martin, in admiralty court. The craft will be auctioned on behalf of the department of fisheries.

The boats were seized by the cruiser Malaspina in Queen Charlotte sound. The fishermen claimed they had inadvertently crossed the line in a dense fog.

SAY 4-PLY PACT DOESN'T IMPOSE OBLIGATION TO TAKE UP ARMS

None of the Nations Signing the Treaty Is Required to Take Military Measures, Say Spokesmen.

AGREEMENT ATTACKED BY SENATOR JIM REED

Says He Proposes to Send the Agreement to the American People; Nothing But Trouble Is Seen.

Washington, Dec. 16 (By the Associated Press).—While another assault on the four-power Pacific treaty was in progress today in the senate, administration spokesmen took their first notice of the senate discussion and let it be known that they did not regard the treaty as imposing an obligation to take up arms.

No provision of the new agreement, it was declared in highest administration circles, obligates any one of the four powers to take military measures in pursuance of decisions reached by consultations among them. It was added that any such guarantee did not, in any sense, represent the spirit of the treaty.

Region of the Pacific. The officials were not willing to go further in interpreting the pact, and in response to questions they reiterated their understanding that the "region of the Pacific ocean," as the term is used in the treaty text, includes the principal islands of the Japanese empire and Australia and New Zealand, as well. British spokesmen have endorsed that application of the term and have declared it to be the unanimous understanding on which the treaty was signed.

The attack on the treaty in the senate during the day was made by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, who referred to the question of including Japan within the scope of the pact and declared an obligation was included for protection of Japanese territorial integrity. He again characterized the arrangement as an alliance by which the United States would have little to gain and much to lose.

May Cause War. Senator Reed also declared the four-power pact might compel the United States to go to war against China or Russia. On this point, official administration spokesmen have insisted repeatedly that the treaty in no way affects the matter of an alliance by which the United States could not be involved in relation to questions arising with Chinese or Russian jurisdiction.

Further than this, there has been no attempt by the administration to interpret or explain the language of the treaty, repeated queries meeting with the response that the text of the agreement speaks for itself.

ALBUQUERQUE REALTORS WILL DEVOTE DEC. 20 TO WORKING AS A UNIT FOR HOTEL FUNDS

Twenty-Five Members of the Local Board Pledge Their Support at a Dinner Party Held at the Y. M. C. A.; Pledge $5,000 and Raise Half of the Amount on the Spot.

Believing that the building of the new hotel is the most important and forward looking undertaking to be accomplished by the citizens of Albuquerque in 1922; that it will put the city on a permanent basis of growth, afford accommodations for more tourists, furnish an additional consequential and continuing payroll, extend the business district and stand as a monument to progress, community enterprise and community confidence, the Albuquerque real estate board hereby pledge to the people our undivided efforts in the money raising campaign now in progress and as a further evidence of earnestness we hereby agree that the officers of the members of this body will be closed the entire day Tuesday, December 20, in order that we may devote our time to assisting in any manner which may be of service to the city in this movement. We further pledge ourselves to raise among our members $5,000 in additional subscriptions to hotel company stock and have at the meeting at which these resolutions are passed raised half of that amount.

Twenty-five members of the Albuquerque real estate board figuratively threw their hats in the ring and determined to help the directors of the Albuquerque Hotel company raise the balance of what has now become $121,700 to complete the hotel project in 1922. That figure became the amount necessary for finishing the financing when the members of the board subscribed $2,500 last night at a dinner party at the Y. M. C. A. The realtors had invited Sidney M. Wall, chairman of the campaign, to address the meeting and promptly respond to the urgency for workers by pledging time and money to the effort to raise the necessary funds before the end of the year.

7 CHRISTMAS SHOPPING DAYS

BIGGEST AND BEST VOTE OFFER IN JOURNAL AUTO CAMPAIGN ENDS TONIGHT

Second Period Vote Offer Positively Ends at 10 O'clock Tonight—After That Time Less Votes Will Be Given on Subscription Payments—Candidates Will Do Well To Get in Every Possible Subscription Before That Time—Campaign Ends Next Thursday Night—Closing Rules of Campaign To Be Published Tomorrow.

With but little more than twelve hours remaining in the close of the present big credit period, candidates in the Journal's mammoth prize giving campaign have their last opportunity of getting credits on the "double quick" and literally "clinging" the prize of their choice.

Never before in the history of New Mexico has a race of any kind been so extremely close, or so hotly contested. This fact alone has aroused a wonderful interest in all parts of the territory in which the Morning Journal circulates. It is doubtful if there exists a single home in this entire community that is not vitally interested in the success of one of their favorites in the campaign and watching every gain with eagerness, hoping that their choice may come under the wire first, and be acclaimed the winner in the race for the Studebaker Sedan, Studebaker Touring Car and the three Chevrolets.

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT

Tonight, (Saturday, December 17) at 10 o'clock is the last chance for votes under the Second Period Schedule. Promptly at 10 o'clock the present big vote incentive will end, and after that time the third and last vote period will be in effect and LESS votes will be the order.

ATTENTION CANDIDATES

Get in every subscription that you possibly can on the present offer—subscriptions count much more in vote if turned in before 10 o'clock tonight than they will if turned in next week. A six year subscription brought in tonight will give you 270,000 votes and 200,000 extra votes, or a total of 470,000 votes in all. After 10 o'clock tonight the same subscription is worth 380,000 votes. Get in all the big subscriptions that you can—the three, four, five and six year subscriptions count the most.

AND NOW FOR THE LAST DAYS

The Journal's big gift campaign ends next Thursday night, December 22nd and if you are in the race to win, then do your very best during the few remaining days of the campaign. Use every spare minute of time to the best advantage possible. It is a case of NOW or NEVER. Votes alone will win these valuable prizes, and better by far have a million too many than to lose out by just a few thousand.

REMEMBER, THE Second Period Vote Offer ends at 10 o'clock tonight, and that the campaign ends for good

SAY 4-PLY PACT DOESN'T IMPOSE OBLIGATION TO ARMS

Senator Reed, however, announced that he proposed to send nothing but the American people just as was done with the treaty of Versailles," and he predicted that by the time the voters have an opportunity to act on the question, "they will know that this treaty has all of the vices charged to the treaty of Versailles, with none of its virtues."

Nothing But Trouble.

Mr. Reed declared he could see nothing but trouble in the new agreement and attacked the administration for what he described as a "changing face," saying there was no difference, except grammatical changes between the four-power pact and the Versailles covenant. His speech throughout was interspersed with attacks on Great Britain and Japan, each of whom he declared had come to the armament conference with the "avowed purpose of getting themselves out of a hole."

"This treaty ties us up with the only nation that has shown us an ugly pair of teeth in years," he continued.

"I wonder what the people of the Pacific think of their new protector. I wonder if they feel that they can go to bed at night and say, 'Oh well, Japan will watch over us.' All senators, we refuse to make a treaty to protect France from Germany, but we make an alliance with Japan to protect her lot."

A "Forensic Stenographer"

The Missouri senator said that although some of the sponsors of the treaty were talking privately of the good fellowship to be brought between the nations by the treaty, he could not arrive at sions were making unexpected progress.

FRANCE UPSETS FLEET REDUCTION PLANS; TO BUILD TO BATTLESHIPS

France furnished the latest complication in the naval problem, and although details of her attitude were carefully concealed, she was represented as desirous of launching a capital ship building program on a scale that would scrap the whole ship scrapping plan agreed on by the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

In the Far Eastern conversations, the question of Japanese withdrawal from the Kiaochow railroad in Shantung, which twenty-four hours ago seemed to have been a state of considerable delicacy, was brought suddenly to the point of a tentative agreement between the Japanese and Chinese delegates.

Over issues of the arms conference remained at a standstill, although in the senate the attack on the four power treaty was renewed by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri and administration spokesmen took notice of the debate long enough to say they did not regard the treaty as obligating the United States to take military action.

In the naval committee of fifteen by the naval committee of fifteen by the British formally presented their request for abolition of the submarine, but abolition was deferred and it was indicated that the point would not be taken by the committee itself. The request was all but lost sight of in the stir created by presentation of the views of France.

What actually happened with respect to the French proposal was screened behind the interdiction of secrecy that surrounds the meetings of the committee of fifteen—a secrecy which was agreed upon at the beginning of the conference. An official spokesman of the British delegation, however, made bold to say that the French had presented a building program that would give them 25,000 ton super dreadnaughts during the ten years subsequent to 1925 and that Great Britain, the United States and Japan all had objected.

Developments that followed this disclosure gave evidence of a brewing storm over the question of secrecy for sessions of the committee. The French declined to compromise the secret department, they were pledged to keep quiet. An official American spokesman followed the same course, saying that the situation was that the committee was in a deadlock and adjourned at twenty minutes to meet again tomorrow.

Both the French and Americans expressed surprise that anyone had ventured to reveal what transpired behind the closed doors of the committee room, and there were hints among the French that an investigation should be instituted.

QUESTION OF SPECIAL SESSION IS POPULAR TOPIC IN SANTA FE

judge announced that the full powers of his court would be used as necessary, even to the convening of a grand jury in case that became imperative. In the event the state's right might be fully protected.

Both the state treasurer and the land commissioner gave out detailed statements today showing the amounts of money on hand and the banks in which it was deposited. The state treasurer had on hand $2,207,874.98. The land commissioner had $203,407.82.

These figures reveal the fact that prior to October 6 the land commissioner had on hand $386,347.65. The Journal was accused of extravagance in its statements when it expressed the belief that the amount was between $450,000 and $625,000. This money earned the state no interest.

The change in the atmosphere around the capital building is remarkable. Information is available upon request. If any one doubts that there is a revolution in the air here a while and feel the change. The Journal is given general credit for bringing about this change.

The governor has not decided on the question of a special session of the legislature. He doubts whether public opinion demands it. With practically everyone admitting that there is a rotten mess which needs a legislative inquiry, the governor is unconvinced as yet. The law requires surety bonds for all state deposits with not more than 50 percent of the bond deposited in any account. The breach is made a felony. The state treasurer had $355,000 in a bank with a $10,000 surety bond. The treasurer can be removed only by impeachment by the legislature. Public opinion is favorable to a legislative session. It should make itself felt with a strong voice.

Everybody admits that the state's system of accounting is a farce. The governor sought very commendable changes in the last legislature but they were not passed. The very gentlemen now under fire were largely instrumental in its defeat. Now they would be without influence. With the legislature in session for the one purpose of changing the accounting and auditing system of the state, public opinion would force the enactment of a suitable law.

Governor Mechem seems to lack assurance that a bill now would fare better than his bill did last winter. In the shuffle of a thousand bills, it was easy to lose this one. It would probably happen again next winter. With nothing else before it and with the eyes of the state upon it, the legislature could not fail to act now.

A special session would cost about $5,000 a week. Three weeks should suffice to investigate and legislate. It would be the most profitable $15,000 the state has ever spent.

Democratic leaders of the type who put politics first, do not want a special session. They want the republicans to go into the next campaign hearing the sins of their officials. If Governor Mechem fails to call a special session, his refusal to do so will be pointed to by these same gentlemen in the campaign next fall as evidence that the republicans refused to clean their own house.

ARIZONA SQUAD PRACTICING FOR DEC. 26 CONTEST

Thirty Wildcats Will Leave Tucson About Next Friday for San Diego to Meet Centre College.

(By The Associated Press.)

Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 16.—Announcement was made today by J. F. McKale, coach of the University of Arizona football team, that the squad of thirty Wildcats will leave Tucson no earlier than Friday, December 23 for the game in San Diego against Centre college the following Monday. The entire squad is working until dusk daily and the heavy schedule of training has been followed since the re-establishment of the training table the first part of the week. Next week will be devoted to light workouts and skill practice during which time several new methods of defense will be perfected. The team is already in excellent shape and the last week of practice will be used merely to put the players on edge for the grid classic.

Assistant Coach Pierce, Indiana, who handles the line from tackle to tackle, is devoting special attention to his men and has perfected a new defense that is expected to stop the hard hitting Colonel back field. With two all-conference men on the ends it is expected that little trouble will be found at the wings, even taking into consideration the greatness of Red Roberts, all-American end.

The Wildcat squad is in excellent physical condition, only one man being out of the daily scrimmage and it is expected that every regular, with this one exception, will be ready to step onto the field against the Kentucky Colonels. Especial attention is being paid by the local mentors to the overhead attack that has been one of the most formidable weapons of the Wildcat scorable during the past season, and which has constituted a serious threat in every game played. The aerial attack of the Wildcats is a serious and constant menace to the defense of the Colonels. It is a tribute to the Wildcats that is a serious one.

The San Diego game has made imperative the purchase of entire new equipment for the team as well as the reopening of the training table and other heavy expenses. While light training has been ordered behind the closed doors of the committee room, and there were hints among the French that an investigation should be instituted.

Interest in the game is growing keener daily and several former grid stars of the University have returned to aid if possible in preparing the Wildcats for the clash with Centre. A special train will accompany the team and a large Arizona delegation is certain to be present when the game starts.

DEFEATS HER BROTHER FOR POST OF MAYOR

(By The Associated Press.)

Salt Lake City, Utah, Dec. 16.—Miss Steen Scrup, a high school teacher, who recently defeated her brother, P. C. Scrup, for the post of mayor of Salt Lake, Utah, declared she intends to advocate good roads and an improved water system. Miss Scrup said she did not want to win the election but her brother is glad he lost and was the first to congratulate the new head of the city government.

"I did nothing whatever to bring about success for my race for the mayoralty," Miss Scrup said. "I even campaigned for my brother." In spite of this the brother was defeated by fourteen votes.

Miss Scrup was born at Salt Lake and has taught school there for fifteen years. She said she always considered it a citizen's duty to accept nomination for public office and decided to accept the nomination because she thought it was her duty to do so and also because she felt her acceptance would at least add variety and novelty to the life of the town.

2 ARE ARRESTED FOR ALLEGED VIOLATION OF PROHIBITORY LAW

(Special Correspondence to The Journal.)

Las Vegas, N. M., Dec. 16.—Mrs. Quintera Miera and Andres Poirack were arrested here by John S. Beaven and J. D. Hannah, prohibition agents from Albuquerque, on charges of violation of the national prohibitory law. In the woman's home the officers found two barrels containing mash, which she said she used as a cure for rheumatism, externally applied. The woman told the officers that a still found in the house belonged to Andres Poirack, janitor for the Normal university. Poirack was arrested, but denied having had anything to do with the violation of the liquor laws.

The officers found indications in several places that a still had been in operation, but were unable to find the still. They believe that a gang is operating with a portable outfit which is moved often to avoid capture. One of the places that indications showed had been used for a still was an irrigation tunnel several miles east of the city.

Poirack and Mrs. Miera were placed under bond to appear for a sloner W. G. Ogile.

(By The Associated Press.)

Salt Lake City, Utah, Dec. 16.—Miss Steen Scrup, a high school teacher, who recently defeated her brother, P. C. Scrup, for the post of mayor of Salt Lake, Utah, declared she intends to advocate good roads and an improved water system. Miss Scrup said she did not want to win the election but her brother is glad he lost and was the first to congratulate the new head of the city government.

"I did nothing whatever to bring about success for my race for the mayoralty," Miss Scrup said. "I even campaigned for my brother." In spite of this the brother was defeated by fourteen votes.

Miss Scrup was born at Salt Lake and has taught school there for fifteen years. She said she always considered it a citizen's duty to accept nomination for public office and decided to accept the nomination because she thought it was her duty to do so and also because she felt her acceptance would at least add variety and novelty to the life of the town.

HATRED HEADING EUROPE TOWARD WAR, SAYS EDDY

Church Must Face the Greater Wrong of Armed Conflict and Find Its Moral Equivalent in Peace

(By The Associated Press.)
Chicago, Dec. 16.—One fact divides humanity today—the great war—and it has left the world torn asunder by three great cleavages and facing three challenging problems, Dr. G. Sherwood Eddy, of New York, told the annual meeting of the Federated Council of the Churches of Christ in America here tonight. The subject was "The Church and International Relations."

"We are separated by national, racial and class strife, every nation demanding self-determination with a new and intensified nationalism and patriotism, every race demanding its equal and rightful place in the brotherhood of man, every class demanding economic freedom and a more abundant life," he said. "We must return to the dominant uniting forces of a mighty love. The church must reassert its supra-national character."

Two Contending Forces.
"Two forces are contending in the church today—the centrifugal and the centripetal, the divisive and uniting forces, the national and supra-national. The divisive forces during the last nineteen centuries have been an exclusive nationalism and religious sectarianism."

"Europe lies today divided, impoverished by the great war, yet in bitterness, hatred and suspicion drifting back into war again, unless we can now find means to prevent it. By the very terms of the treaty, Germany is becoming the workshop of the world, threatening the economic situation of Europe. Frank Vanderlip told us in Europe that only a great spiritual revival could save the world. Now is the time to prevent future wars. In the light of the mighty sacrifice that was made, we must resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain."

War a Moral Wrong.
"As I returned from Europe it was with the conviction that modern war as a means of settling international disputes is a monstrous moral wrong for the following reasons:

"1. Because of the inevitable wholesale destruction of human life. Ten millions of the flower of the world's youth lie buried on the battlefields of Europe."
"2. Because of the inevitable wholesale destruction of non-combatants. Thirty millions of non-combatants have already been killed, by those five camp followers of modern war—further wars, revolution, hunger, famine and disease."

"3. Because of the enormous material loss, the waste and destruction of wealth, and the burden of debt left upon the nations which have increased ten-fold by the last war."

"4. Because war mortgages the future in the ever-increasing race for armaments. Now that Germany is disarmed, Europe has increased its annual expenditure for war, compared to the pre-war standard three times."

Engenders Hatred.
"5. Because war inevitably engenders hatred, cruelty, reprisals, atrocities and counter-atrocities."
"Because the propaganda of modern warfare inevitably victim-

izes the people on both sides, and leads to less of truth and the demoralization of both victor and vanquished alike. We must be told an unbroken stream of enemy atrocities; every unfavorable fact about ourselves and our allies must be silenced."

"7. Because modern warfare, as conducted in the last war, is inhuman and unchristian."
"A generation ago the church faced the moral issue of slavery and put an end to it. Today we must face the greater wrong of war and find its moral equivalent in peace."

INDIA IS PLANNING TO PRODUCE CHEAP STEEL

(By The Associated Press.)
London, Dec. 16.—India will soon be able to produce the cheapest steel in the world, says an announcement by two British firms which have undertaken to organize the "United Steel Corporation of India, Ltd." They propose to establish, as soon as possible, works on a large scale, near deposits of iron, coal and limestone.

Iron ore of high quality, fluxes of suitable character, and excellent coking coal occur close together in Bihar and Orissa, the companies state, and the cost of these materials is much lower than has to be paid for them in other steel-producing countries.

The plant to be erected in India is designed to produce eventually 600,000 to 700,000 tons of pig iron, with steel works and rolling mills capable of producing 450,000 tons of finished steel a year.

VIEWS CONFLICT UPON EFFECT OF IMPORTING SILK

One Expert Says the Industry Is "Seriously Menaced," While Another Disputes Statement.

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Dec. 16.—Conflicting views of the effect of silk imports in the American industry were presented today to senate tariff framers. Horace B. Cheney of New York City, representing the Silk Association of America, said the industry was "seriously menaced" while Samuel Kridel, of New York City, representing other manufacturers as well as traders and exporters testified that since the imports constituted only 6 per cent of consumption they could have little effect and on the whole would be beneficial and stimulating to American manufacture.

Hearings on the silk schedules virtually were closed, and it was announced that all hearings on the Fordney bill would be closed on January 3. The revivification of the measure will be started with a view to its presentation to the senate as speedily as practicable, probably in February. Tomorrow the finance committee will take up articles under the sundries schedule, such as buttons, toys, matches, feathers and other subjects.

In his presentation of the views of the silk association, Mr. Cheney told the committee that imports of silk were increasing steadily while domestic production was declining, being now at about 50 per cent of normal. He presented charts to show that imports had increased enormously under the Underwood tariff bill and asked that the rates in the Fordney bill be revised so as to provide for a duty of 35 to 40 per cent on American valuation, or 55 per cent on foreign valuation.

On the other hand Kridel protested against what he termed the high rates in the Fordney bill and charged that "the extremists and other high protectionists" were "desirous of prohibiting any silk goods from being imported into this country."

In 1914, he added, American manufacturers supplied 88 per cent of the silk consumed in the United States, and despite the increase in imports, this product had increased to 84 per cent in 1919. The value of the domestic product in that year was $688,000,000, he testified.

COUNCIL ANNOUNCES SEVEN OF PENNSY'S FOOTBALL CONTESTS

(By The Associated Press.)
Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 16.—Seven of the nine football games comprising the 1922 schedule of the University of Pennsylvania were announced tonight by the council of athletics. Newcomers on the schedule are the United States naval academy and the University of the South, of Seawane, Tenn. The University of Delaware and Gettysburg colleges are dropped.

Negotiations are under way with Lafayette and Dartmouth, both of whom were on this year's schedule, for the open dates, and also with the Universities of Alabama and Maryland. All of the games so far arranged will be played here.

James I. McKee denies that he has been let out as coach of the New York Giants. He says he will be back on the job with the world's champions next season.

HERE'S STAR WHO COST THE GIANTS 75,000 SMACKERS

Jimmy O'Connell.

The recent purchase of Jimmy O'Connell, star first sacker and outfielder of the San Francisco Pacific Coast league club, by the Giants is one of the most talked of deals put over in baseball circles in recent years. McGraw paid $75,000 for the star, a record price for a minor leaguer. And this purchase price is now being used as a big argument by the Coast league, International and American associations against recognizing a draft arrangement with the majors.

ARTESIA SPORTSMEN HAVE GOOD SUCCESS

(Special Correspondence to The Journal.)
Artesia, N. M., Dec. 16.—The sportsmen of Artesia have been having great success in bagging the game. Bird hunters have secured many thousands of quails. The ducks are very numerous and anyone can shoot a duck if he can pull a trigger. The Pecos river and the lakes south of town are almost covered with large mallard and canvas back ducks. Many women hunters have bagged large numbers of the wild game.

The sportsmen, in quest of big game, were able to bag many black-tail deer in the Sacramento, Guadalupe and Pecos mountains.

Artesia, N. M., Dec. 16.—The Sportsmen were successful in securing wild turkey.

Trappers are experiencing a very successful season in securing first-class pelts. Many coyotes, badgers, muskrats, skunks and "chipmunk" cats are included in the list of game. A man, by the name of Foster, arrived in Artesia on Tuesday with two dead wildcats and a live kitten. Another sportsman was able to bag a large bobcat on last Sunday.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF NEW MEXICO IS DEAD

(By The Associated Press.)
Levy, N. M., Dec. 16.—Mrs. Eliza Julian, an old settler and pioneer and a former resident of Levy, died at her home at Kookler, near Las Vegas, at the age of 92 years, 8 months and 28 days. The funeral was held here Wednesday and interment was made at Mountain View cemetery here Friday, 1921.

Mrs. Julian's maiden name was Eliza Robson. She was born in Hardam county, Tennessee, March 14, 1829, of Scotch parents. She owned and lived on a plantation operated by 150 slaves. During the civil war Mrs. Julian, who was an adept at hand sewing, knitting and embroidery, carded wool and cotton and spun and wove cloth for her husband's suits and for blankets for the household. She also taught her servants to do this work. Members of her family still possess articles of her trousseau made by her own hands and embellished with fine hand embroidery.

Mrs. Julian was the mother of four children: C. E. Julian, R. J. Julian, Effie Julian and one child who died in infancy. Her father, who was killed at the battle of Murfreesboro, was brought home for burial on the day her second son, R. J. Julian, was born.

Some years after the civil war the family moved to Springfield, Mo., living overland in a wagon. From there they went to Gainesville, Tex., also by wagon, and later to Pilot Point, Texas, where they lived about thirty years, and where Mrs. Julian lost her husband in 1884.

In 1913 she came to New Mexico with the family of her son, R. J. Julian, and her daughter, Miss Effie Julian, who both took up homesteads near Levy. True to her pioneer character, she lived the life of the homesteader until the family, having proved up and sold out, moved to Sorrisor and later to the Paria ranch, near Las Vegas, where she died a painless and natural death of old age.

Grandma Julian, as she was familiarly called by those who knew and loved her, was noted in this community for her active, helpful life in spite of her advanced years.

The Princeton-Harvard, Yale-Pennsylvania and Harvard-Yale football games drew big gate receipts, considerably over $500,000 being paid for tickets to the three games.

NINE INCHES OF SNOW IN PARTS OF MONTANA

Helena, Mont., Dec. 16.—The snow storm that broke over Montana Wednesday morning and yesterday afternoon began clearing today. Approximately nine inches of snow are reported from the southeastern portion of the state. Considerable drifting and blocking of highways is reported from Livingston, Bozeman and Miles City.

The forecast for Montana for Saturday is fair with rising temperatures.

Temperature during the storm approached the zero mark but was reported below zero from no point.

COLD GRIPS NORTHERN ROCKY MOUNTAIN AREA

(By The Associated Press.)
Denver, Colo., Dec. 16.—The northern Rocky mountain region today was in the grip of a cold wave that sent temperatures down to 2 degrees above zero at several points while a general heavy snow fall was reported by the district weather bureau in northern Wyoming and Montana. The snow reached a depth of from eight to ten inches at Miles City, Mont.

The highest temperatures reported from any district north of Sheridan, Wyo., today was 15 degrees above zero. It was 10 below at Prince Albert, Canada. Sheridan was covered by a blanket of snow three inches deep. At Yellowstone and Kalispell, Mont., the temperatures were 2 above.

The storm swept northeastward to the upper Mississippi valley today from central and northern Wyoming.

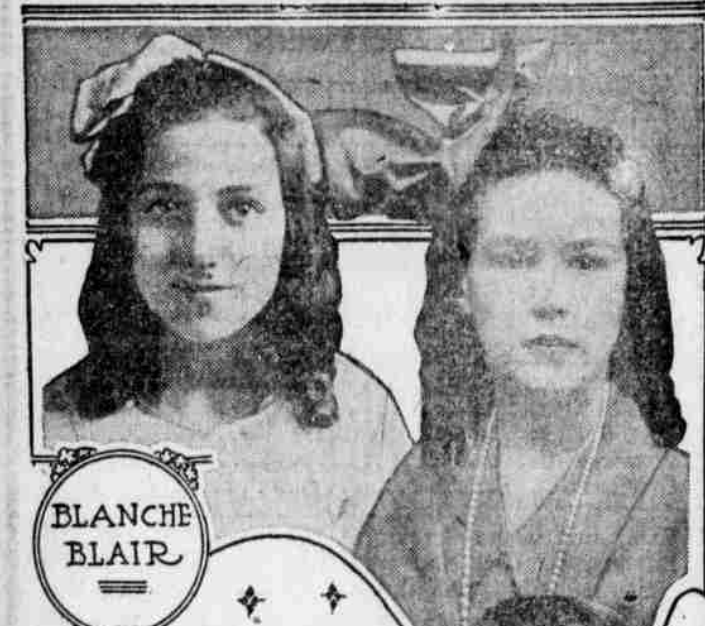

The southernmost part of Wyoming was untouched by the snow fall but felt the cold wave to some degree, as did Colorado. Leadville was the coldest point in Colorado with 10 degrees above zero. In Cheyenne, Wyo., it was 14 above and Denver recorded 30 degrees above. Mild weather was reported south of here.

BLANCHE BLAIR

THAT Tanlac is a wonderful medicine for delicate children is conclusively proven by the remarkable results accomplished in the cases of the three children shown in this picture.

Little Blanche Blair, of Providence, R. I., age 13, gained 10 pounds; Regina McCabe, at right, age 9, of Scranton, Pa., gained 15 pounds; Little Richard Leary, Jr., of Philadelphia, who was very delicate, is now in fine, robust health. The statements made by their parents are as follows:

Mr. A. M. Blair, residing at 20 Atwood street, Providence, R. I., said: "We are just so happy over the change Tanlac has made in our little girl that we can't do or say enough to show our appreciation. She had lost nearly 20 pounds in weight and looked so frail and weak that her mother and I were both almost worried sick over her condition. Since taking Tanlac, she has already gained 10 pounds, her color is better than it ever has been and she looks and acts like a different girl."

Mrs. Catherine McCabe, 414 Dickens Ave., Scranton, Pa., said: "The 'flu' left my little Regina in such a bad condition that I have no idea she would see with me now if it hadn't been for Tanlac. It is a mystery to me how she lived on the little she was eating and was so lifeless she never even cared to play with the dolls and toys she got at Christmas. Since taking Tanlac she is as hardy and well as any child could be and has gained 15 pounds in weight. I will always praise Tanlac for restoring our little girl's health."

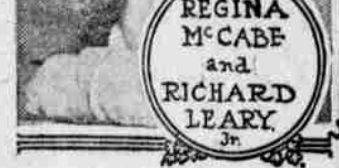

Richard Leary, 2342 Palmethorpe St., Philadelphia, said: "There is no doubt in my mind but that Tanlac saved my little boy's life. For two years I wouldn't have been a bit surprised to have seen him drop off at any time. He had stomach trouble and many a time his gas pressed up into his chest until his heart palpitated so I thought sure he couldn't breathe but a few more gasps. But Tanlac gave him back to us strong and well and we will praise it to our dying day."

The effect of Tanlac on the delicate stomachs of the young is one of the strongest evidences of its wholesomeness as well as its unusual merit. Although a powerful reconstructive, Tanlac contains no harmful ingredients, minerals or opiates which are so often found in other medicines. Being composed of the most beneficial roots and herbs known to science it is purely vegetable and can be taken by the most delicate children, and does not upset or injure the weakest or most delicate stomach.

Tanlac is sold in Albuquerque by the Alcarado Pharmacy and all other leading druggists everywhere.

BEAUTY CHATS

By Edna Kent Forbes.

STEAMING THE FACE.

There is a good way and a bad way to steam the face. The good way will help you to clear fine-grained skin and the bad way will give you only coarse pores and trouble.

The first thing to remember is not to steam the face too hard or too often. The usual method is to draw a big towel over the head, then lean over a basin of boiling water or even over a kettle from which steam is pouring and to stay in that position until the skin is red and the beautyseeker about to suffocate. I have known women who went through this process every day and then wondered why they had dry, coarse pore complexions.

There is a bad and a good way to steam the face.

It is quite all right to hold the face over a basin of very hot water, but it should not be kept over for more than two minutes. That is quite time enough for all the tiny pores of the skin to be opened by the heat and ready to respond to further treatment. A much better plan, however, is to use a soft old soft towel from hot water and to hold this over the face. It can be put in the water again and held over the face any number of times until your skin reacts and becomes red and moist. This is a gentler method and, personally, I think a much better one.

In any case the steaming should be followed by a massage with some sort of cold cream, a cleansing cream if you are treating pimples or blackheads, a flesh-building cream if you are treating wrinkles. Steaming the face opens and clears the pores and for that very reason is drying and must be followed by a cold cream massage. The massage must be followed by some treatment to close the pores, either a rinse with very cold water or water to which an astringent has been added, or else by an ice rub.

Anxious: There's no way to reduce the face, except to reduce all over. But if you weigh what you should, the face can not be too fat for real prettiness. You can make it seem thinner by drawing the hair off the face when you comb it, and by making the knot of the hair quite high on the head.

A. B. C. and X. Y. Z.: A girl five feet four inches should weigh about 120—it depends on her age, but this is an average. I wouldn't advise using any curling fluid, they may be harmless but it certainly isn't good for the hair to coat it all over with a fluid. Do you think so? Wet it and roll it on kid curlers, this is perfectly harmless and makes a soft wave.

Directions for Leggings: Use blue and No. 4 needles. Begin at top, casting on 72 sts. for one-half of garment. K. 2, p. 2, for 4 rows.

Make an open row as follows: K. 2, p. 2, * yarn over needle twice, k. 2 together, p. 2, k. 2, p. 2, repeat from * across needle. Sixth row: K. 2, p. 2, across needle, dropping each double winding in on long loop. Make 8 rows more of the ribbing. K. in ridges (plate garter st.) for 40 ridges in all. K. 11 ridges more, narrowing one st. at end of each row. Fifty sts. remain. K. 1 ridge with white, 2 blue, 1 white, with blue make 10 ridges, 1 ridge white, 2 blue, 1 white. With white k. 1, p. 1, across needle and repeat this row for 24 rows in all. K. 2 ridges and break thread. Turn, the thread in after sixth st. and on next 12 sts. k. 10 ridges, then 2 ridges more, narrowing 1 st. in beginning each row. Fasten off white. Tie in blue where white thread was broken off after last long row; k. 1 instep tab, pick up and k. 12 sts. down side of tab, k. across end of tab, pick up and k. 12 sts. along other side, k. to end. On these sts. k. 2 ridges and bind off. Repeat directions for other half of garment, but for this side make instep tab toward end of last long row, beginning in the eighteenth st. from end. Sew gusset into shape and sew straps beneath instep. Make a ch. cord of 2 threads of blue, run it through holes of ribbing, and finish ends with thick tassels of blue.

Directions for Cap: Use blue and steel needles. Cast 36 sts. each on two needles, 24 sts. on third needle. K. plain in rounds until work is 1½ inches deep. Fold double, p. surface in, and k. 1 round, using white and picking up one loop of cast-on edge with each st., to form hem. With white, k. 1 round and p. 1 round, alternately, for eight ridges. Fasten off white and make 3 ridges with blue or until work is 3 inches deep. K. 2, p. 2, until work, from edge up, measures 7 inches. Turn work, knitting in opposite direction, so that turnover comes right after it is turned back. K. plain for 2 inches. First narrow row—K. 20, k. 2 together, repeat to end of round. K. 1 round without narrowing. Narrow in every second round, always at same point, until 24 sts. remain. Draw through all, and fasten off. Make a tassel of white, having it 2 inches long when finished. Attach white to top of tassel, make ch. 1½ inches long, attach to point of cap. Turn back 2 inches of point on back of cap and fasten point down beneath a thick, blue pom-pom.

I am glad to publish these helpful directions sent in by a Column Reader, but I would like my Reader-Friends to understand that I can not undertake to print knitting or crochet directions for any article requested—nor can I give such directions in my replies to personal letters.

I believe that these directions may help mothers to reduce the cost of her child's winter wardrobe. One young mother I know of made such a suit as this by ripping out an old sweater of her own, wrapping the yarn around a shingle, then steaming it over a kettle-spout (to get the crinkles out), and letting it dry.

If you happened to miss the first part of these directions yes, please do not write to me for them, as I have no copies. Get a back copy of the paper from the circulation department of this newspaper.

RIPPLING RHYMES

HASH.

I've eaten much in fine hotels, where foreign cooks were wearing bells, and I have seen the waiters bring grand dishes that would tempt a king; yet, often they have seen me pounce on grub whose name I can't pronounce, and I have paid five bucks or more for victuals famed in tavern lore, cooked by a master chef from France, or Italy, or Spain, perchance. And while I piled my fork and knife, and ate and ate, to save my life, I thought, "I'd give a wad of cash to have a plate of grandma's hash."

I say it humbly and in fear: I know my high-toned friends will jeer when I confess I'd rather eat an old-time hash of spuds and meat, with onion flavor as a base, than feed my chaste and useful face with kitchen triumph they'd applaud, compiled by artists from abroad. The good old hash my grandma made! New cooks wink out, their triumphs fade; no man in memory can hear the strong points of their bill of fare; the cook sticks longer in the mind than does the dish, sublime, refined; but who forgets when old and frayed, the onion hash that grandma made? I have the price, and I can buy the canvassack, the new-laid pie; for long I've had my money's worth of all the luxuries on earth; but I'm not comforted and stayed by such good hash as grandma made.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK
By Lee Pope

Today during the foggy lesson all of a sudden Miss Kitty red, silence. In tired of this continual tawling. The following boys will remain a half hour after school, Charles Simkins, Benny Potts, Sidney Hunt and Raymin Levy.

Me thinking, Aw heck. And pritty soon the bell rang for recess and down in the yard me and Puds Simkins and Sid Hunt and Raymin Levy got in a corner and started to have a meeting, me saying, That's fierce, that is, wat rite is she got to pick us 4 out and make us stay in a half hour?

Sure, wat rite is she got? and Raymin Levy, and Puds Simkins and, I tell you lets wats do, lets go on a strike and wen the last bell rings lets us 4 get up and wawk out with the rest of the class as if we didnt feel any different from enshody elts.

Sounding like a grate deer, and us other 3 sed, G, all rite, gosh, all rite, G. Me saying, I got rite the same as enshody elts and im going to strike for thy of coo, and Sid Hunt saying, So am I, who does she think she is to pick me out and keep me in? and Raymin Levy saying, Me either, me too, I got rite of my own and I dont care who knows it.

And we kept on telling each other about our rite and tawling about the strike and all of a sudden Puds sed, G, holey smokes. Meaning the bell had rang for the end of the recess and everybody elts had went in already, and us 4 quick ran in and wen we got to our room the hole class was setting with a expression as if they had bin there for about 5 minits and Miss Kitty looked at us 4 sneeking to our seats like people with no rite, saying, The following boys will remain one hour in school a half hour, Benny Potts, Sidney Hunt, Raymin Levy and Charles Simkins.

With they did, including me.

THE NEW GENERATION

By JANE PRELPS

JOAN IS WORRIED.

CHAPTER 41.

The Christmas holidays following Joan's sixteenth birthday were spent at home. Mrs. Walters and Ted had come on for a week, and both Margaret and Joan had planned to make their visit as pleasant as possible. Malcolm Frost, Lonnie Carpenter, Gloria Freeman, Hortense Thompson and other young friends of Joan's joined with her in giving Ted Walters a good time.

Margaret, engrossed with her older guest, while not oblivious of the younger people, did not spend the time with them as usually did, and which she would have done had Mrs. Walters not taken her time and attention.

Joan had given a small dance. Everything had gone off nicely, and Margaret was surprised when Joan came into her room the next morning even earlier than usual, although she had not gone to bed until very late.

"What is it, dear? Do you feel ill?" she asked as Joan snuggled under the bed clothes beside her.

"No, Mum! But I'm worried."

"Worried?" Margaret repeated with a smile. She knew she would hear something interesting—but Joan, worried!

"Yes, awfully worried. You see, Mum, I can't tell to save my life which one I like best, even if I did let them both kiss me."

Margaret held her breath for fear she could not repress an exclamation of dismay. Joan was no longer a child, she was 16.

"So you thought you could tell which one you liked best if you allowed them both to kiss you?"

"Um—um—and I kissed back too, but I'm just as much up a tree as I was before. You see, I thought I shall get married some day. Any-way every girl ought to be engaged, and how is a girl to tell which one of the boys she wants to be engaged or married to if she doesn't let them kiss her?"

Mr. Thompson kisses Mrs. Thompson every time he goes away and comes back. I think it is awfully silly, but Hortense said he forgot it once and her mother felt so badly she had hysterics. She doesn't seem such a silly person, does she?"

"What a name to allude to so dignified a woman as Mrs. Thompson. Margaret replied, convulsed, and glad of an excuse to laugh.

"That's just why she deserves the name! Think of a woman who won't allow a great big girl like Hortense any freedom crying to be kissed."

"You haven't told me yet which two of the boys you let kiss you," Margaret reminded.

"Why Malcolm and Ted, of course!"

"They are all right—nice boys enough, but I never could think of marrying either of them."

"But I thought you wanted to go to college."

"Perhaps I would rather get married—but I don't know. Any-way, going to college wouldn't make any difference with being engaged. It would sort of keep me steady for a year or so, an engagement, don't you think, Mum?"

"Do you need steady, dear?"

"Yes, I rather guess I do—or would, in college. I am bound to be rather popular, you know."

There was an obnoxious egotism in Joan's calm statement. It was as if she were simply stating a self-evident fact.

"Well, which one is it going to be, Malcolm or Ted?"

"That's just it, Mum! I didn't very much care about being kissed by either of them. Malcolm acted afraid, as if I'd melt or fade away, and Ted was too rough—I don't mean really rough, but he kissed me too hard, and hugged me awfully tight. Cave-man stuff, I suppose. I guess I'll wait and try someone else, someone who isn't too afraid or too sure."

"That wouldn't be a bad idea. Margaret felt relieved.

"But then I won't have a ring. The moral effect of an engagement ring isn't to be overlooked, Mum!"

"Perhaps not—but why not think it over until spring. You won't enter college until next fall—if you still want to go, and there will be plenty of time to buy a ring during the summer."

"Moral effect" had been almost too much for Margaret.

"Good idea, Mum! Sometimes you are really brilliant!"

NEWARK APPOINTS FIRST WOMAN AS TOWN CONSTABLE

Mrs. Mary L. Todd.

A homemaker, mother, business woman and public official are the regular jobs held by Mrs. Mary L. Todd of Newark, N. J. Mrs. Todd is the mother of two children. To support the children she carries on a business to support her children which in itself is unusual for a woman. She owns and a shoe repairing shop which is very successful.

Her public office has just been added to her other duties recently. She was appointed constable by the city commissioners who named her when no constable was elected at the recent election. Mrs. Todd has the distinction of being the first woman constable Newark has ever had.

"Of course I think a woman can be a good mother and homemaker and a business woman as well," she said when interviewed. "I find my work is giving me a broader outlook on life and keeping me young with my children."

SUSPECT IN THE N. Y. BOMB BLAST HELD IN WARSAW

Police Claim to Have in Their Possession His Full Confession of Part in Wall Street Blast.

(By The Associated Press.)
Warsaw, Dec. 16 (by the Associated Press).—A man by the name of Wolfe Lindenfeld, alias William Linde, has been arrested by the Polish police as a suspect in connection with the Wall street explosion in New York, September 16, 1920. The Warsaw police said they made the arrest at the request of the American department of justice. They claimed to have in their possession the man's full confession of being connected with the disaster.

Lindenfeld is described as a cousin of Rosa Luxemburg, the German radical socialist leader, who was shot to death in Berlin early in 1919, after having been beaten by a mob. His confession, the police state, gives the names of the ringleaders and the New York city address where the bomb was manufactured and says also that the bomb was intended for J. P. Morgan, but exploded prematurely.

Silvester Cosgrove, an American department of justice agent, at whose request in behalf of the department the arrest of the suspect was brought about, declared that Lindenfeld has agreed to turn state's evidence and is willing to return to America, where he has a wife and two children in New York.

The suspect's written confession, according to the agent, says that $20,000 was promised for the job, to be divided among four or five persons, and that the money was received by New York communists from the Moscow third international.

Lindenfeld left New York early last spring. The Polish police say he was exposed in Warsaw in 1920 as a Russian secret agent, fleeing to America shortly afterwards.

According to Cosgrove and Paul Attendorf, who trailed Lindenfeld, the suspect in his confession names five principals now in Europe, who shared the money for the job. One of the principals, the confession shows, was a woman who from a window opposite Mr. Morgan's office observed the financier's movements for days, and from her reports the bomb was timed to explode about the usual time Mr. Morgan came out for lunch.

The confession, as described by the American agents, terms the premature explosion "a mechanical mistake" for which the bomb makers were blamed.

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS ARE SILENT

Washington, Dec. 16 (by the Associated Press).—Justice department officials would not discuss tonight the arrest in Poland of Wolfe Lindenfeld, in Warsaw, as a suspect in connection with the Wall street explosion. It was indicated, however, that official reports from Poland were expected by the department and that further details would then be available.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST BULL FIGHTING IS STARTED BY PAPER

(By The Associated Press.)
Mexico City, Nov. 30.—The newspaper El Universal has started a campaign against bull fighting which appears to give promise of possible success.

In the belief that the present generation of grownups enjoys the sport so much that its prohibition is impossible, the newspaper is attempting to keep children away from the fights and to that end has placed the mayor of Mexico City and the governor of the federal district, in which Mexico City is located, on record as opposed to boys and girls witnessing the "brutal sport."

Quarter-page pictures of youngsters eagerly watching the gory sights of the arena have been printed, and the newspaper asks if this is the sort of environment that makes for culture and refinement. Felix P. Palavicini, editor of El Universal, long ago placed himself on record as unalterably opposed to bullfights, although, in deference to popular opinion, his newspaper carries exhaustive accounts of the corridas. He argues, however, that if the youngsters are now kept away from the fights the next generation will not want them.

MANSLAUGHTER IS JURY VERDICT IN PENNINGTON CASE

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Las Vegas, N. M., Dec. 16.—The jury in the case of Thomas P. Pennington returned a verdict of voluntary manslaughter after two hours deliberation at 2:30 this afternoon. The penalty is one to ten years. Pennington's attorneys filed notice that they would file a motion for a new trial.

Pennington on the stand yesterday asserted that Joe Bledsoe, the man he was accused of killing, had threatened to kill him if he saw him in the company of Miss Josephine Johnson of Shoemaker.

He admitted having shot Bledsoe in self defense after the man had beaten him and had climbed into Pennington's auto to attack him.

A Good Cough Medicine.
It speaks well of a cough medicine, when druggists use it in their own families, in preference to any other. J. Goldsmith, druggist, Van Ethen, N. Y., writes: "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, for years, with complete satisfaction to myself and customers. I have always used it in my own family, both for ordinary coughs and colds and for the cough following the grip, and find it very efficacious."

LEW TENDLER GETS DECISION OVER FRIEDMAN

New York, Dec. 16.—Lew Tandler, the Philadelphia left-handed lightweight, tonight defeated Sailor Friedman of Chicago, receiving the judge's decision at the end of the 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden.

Friedman came back strong in the fourth round, staggering the Philadelphia with a hard left to the jaw. He also had the better of the fifth round. Tandler severely punished Friedman in the seventh round and again in the ninth, but the Chicago boy came back strong in the tenth.

Tandler took advantage of Friedman's wide open tactics in the early rounds, flooring him four times in the second and stopping his aggressiveness in other rounds with hard punches to the body. The recuperative powers of the Chicagoan were remarkable, however, and he shook Tandler often with hard rights and lefts to the head and body.

Friedman cut Tandler's lips in the twelfth round and cut his nose with hard blows in the fourteenth. Friedman had been credited with three popular decisions over Tandler in previous bouts.

Friedman weighed 136 pounds and Tandler 135½.

NO QUARREL BETWEEN ENGLISH SPEAKING PEOPLE--BIRKENHEAD

(By The Associated Press.)

London, Dec. 16 (by the Associated Press).—Lord Birkenhead, the lord chancellor, kept the house of lords waiting a half hour this afternoon to enable him to deliver a brief address to the American Luncheon club.

Lord Birkenhead in his address evaded any discussion of Irish affairs, dismissing this subject with a passing reference.

"Today marks a stage that can never be forgotten in the history of the English speaking peoples," he said. "I know of no quarrel, actual or potential, or discernible by the most acute eye, between the two. I knew of one—the specter of the old Irish quarrel. I don't know yet whether we have laid that specter, but if we are successful in this task, we shall have done more to banish the last trench in misunderstanding which might have lurked than our predecessors approached in the past two centuries."

The first woman in Massachusetts to become a county treasurer is Miss Phoebe M. Curtis, of Gloucester, who has been appointed to the office in Essex county.

RANCHERS ARE PLEASED WITH FARM COURSES

The five-day agricultural course which has been in session at the chamber of commerce this week under the direction of County Agent Lee Reynolds and Home Demonstration Agent Maude Doty, closed yesterday with the largest attendance of any day of the course.

The opening talk yesterday was delivered by City School Superintendent John Milne, who explained many of the school problems confronting the city board and officers. Fruit and grape culture was the subject of the address given by Prof. Fabian Garcia of the state college. Professor Garcia has made an exhaustive study of this subject in New Mexico and explained the results of many of his tests. The state college has done systematic investigation and testing for a number of years and has learned what types of fruit trees and grape vines are best suited to different parts of the state.

Dr. W. H. Long, federal pathologist, gave a lecture on shade trees and their diseases in New Mexico. The afternoon session was under the direction of Professor Garcia and was in Spanish. A general review of the course was given for the benefit of those who do not speak English.

WAGE REDUCTION IN GALLUP COAL MINES

Gallup, N. M., Dec. 16.—Notices were posted at coal mines in the Gallup district today putting into effect a general reduction in wages. The reductions constitute a return to the scale in effect in November, 1917. The reduction, operators state, has been generally accepted and working conditions at the mines remain normal. The mines also announced a reduction of $1 a ton in the mine prices of domestic coal.

The miners in the Gallup field are unorganized. A similar reduction was put into effect two weeks ago in Colfax county, the most accepting the cut with little protest.

The reduction, the operators said, would average around 30 per cent.

Pueblo, Colo., Dec. 16.—Reduction of wages in the coal mines at Gallup, N. M., will not be contested by the United Mine Workers of America, according to a report made public by Secretary Felix Poglian.

PEACE PROGRAM IS OUTLINED AT CHURCH MEETING

Thirty Protestant Denominations Submit Obligations Which They Declare America Owes the World.

(By The Associated Press.)

Chicago, Dec. 16.—Thirty Protestant church denominations through their representatives at the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ of America here today, promulgated their program for permanent world peace, outlined obligations which they declare America owes the world and called upon the government to seize their principles.

Aid to Austria, Russia and Armenia, congratulations to Great Britain and Ireland and recognition of an international court for the settlement of the world problems were among the demands upon the government by the council.

Fearing the accusation of partisanship several delegates debated the wording of the program's reference to international courts and associations so both the league of nations and an association of nations were mentioned.

As an afterthought the council adopted a separate resolution to send its prayers and good will to the league of nations.

"We maintain with firm conviction it is the right and duty of the church to declare in no doubtful terms the moral principles that are involved in international life and to insist that our lawmakers, our diplomats and all those who represent our nation in its international relations shall observe these principles with utmost care," the declaration read.

HOLLOMAN IN REPORT ON LEAGUE OF SOUTHWEST MEETING SHOWS HOW ISSUE WAS SIDE-TRACKED

The following report on the meeting of the League of the Southwest was prepared by Judge Reed Holloman, who attended as a special representative of Santa Juan county. It shows how the intrusion of a local California quarrel blocked the real work of the league meeting:

Mr. D. Rollie, President, McKinley County Chamber of Commerce, Gallup, N. M.

Dear Sir:—I desire to make a report through you to the Chamber of Commerce of Gallup, relative to the matters in connection with the League of the Southwest held at Riverside, Calif., December 8, 9 and 10.

I wish first to extend to you my thanks for your courtesy in suggesting that I attend that meeting as a representative of this Chamber of Commerce.

I regret to be compelled to report that owing to the conditions which I will hereafter state in this report, no real work was done by the convention. As an educational matter, the convention was a complete success. Some of the ablest men from the different parts of the United States and Canada attended and addressed the meetings upon different matters directly connected with the development of the Colorado river project.

The convention was honored by the presence of the secretary of the Interior, Hon. A. B. Fall, who delivered an address which was of great benefit to the convention because of certain positive reference he made relative to the manner one of the projects will be constructed. When the delegates arrived at Riverside they ascertained that a situation existed which would likely develop so as to be disastrous to the interests of the states outside of the state of California.

There were present delegates from the states of California, Arizona, Nevada, Wyoming, Utah, Colorado, New Mexico and Texas. We soon discovered that a bitter contest was on between certain interests of southern California, namely, the Southern California Edison company, and what is known as the Municipal Ownership People of Los Angeles.

The Edison company desires to construct a great project at Boulder canyon. Their purpose is, of course, to control all the power derived from the project as a private corporation. On the other hand certain interests in Los Angeles seemed to desire that the city of Los Angeles be permitted to control the entire project. A proposition had been submitted by Los Angeles to the reclamation service by which Los Angeles would be allocated 50 per cent of all the power derived from this project. This contest was so bitter and involved so many angles that the delegates immediately realized that their own interests would be jeopardized if the convention was permitted to take action upon any matter that was of mere local interest.

By the peculiar method of selecting delegates to the convention southern California had an overwhelming majority of votes over all the other states, so they had the power and we early realized that they would exercise this power, in putting over any resolutions they desired and we also realized that the propositions they would propose would be disastrous to the welfare of other states.

A meeting was held by the other states and it was determined that they would take no part in any declaration of policies or platform unless each state was granted equal voting power. I was selected as the representative of all the states outside of California, to present their proposition by appropriate resolutions to the convention. At the request of these states, I introduced a resolution to the effect that each state should have one vote in the convention upon all matters declaratory of policy, the vote of each state to be determined by the majority of the votes of the delegates from such state. At the same time the convention was informed that unless that resolution was adopted the other states would not participate in such matters. The vote of the delegates present was overwhelming in favor of the resolution, but it was not practically unanimous, and therefore he declared the resolution was not adopted. Later in the day the following statement was presented to the convention:

On behalf of the states of Colorado, Nevada, Arizona, Utah, New Mexico, Texas and Wyoming. Relative to the situation that has arisen in the present convention of the League of the Southwest, we deem it proper to state our present relations to this meeting.

As stated when the resolution was presented to the convention, we deem it inadvisable to further participate in any manner relative to the policy or platform that may come before this convention. Our conduct in this regard is actuated solely by the belief that it is vital to our interests that we shall not participate in such matters unless each state shall have equal voting power. We feel that no fair expression of the purposes or the policies of the league can be given when the views and desires of six states can be nullified by the votes of one state. We do not desire that our action shall be construed as saving any relation with the league. The work that the league has accomplished, and the great possibilities of its future efforts are fully recognized and appreciated by us, and it is our earnest desire that in the future the league will function in a spirit of complete harmony, and that such steps as are necessary may be taken to the end that in the future no such unfortunate situation may possibly arise. With the sincere appreciation of the courtesies extended us by the people of Riverside, we regret that present conditions require us to take this action.

After the statement was presented to the convention, a delegation representing the Chamber of Commerce of the City of Los Angeles appeared, and interested themselves in attempting to bring out a satisfactory solution of the situation but not being able to control their own delegates, their efforts were of no avail. About that time a gentleman from Oakland, Calif., a delegate to the convention above named, by the name of Fred C. Reed, who was chairman of the State Realty Board, appeared and started a movement to bring about a reconciliation in the convention. At his suggestion, each state appointed two delegates to meet as a committee to see if resolutions could not be agreed upon which would be satisfactory to all the states. This committee met on the morning of the 10th and proceeded to its work. California was represented by a delegate who was the real leader of the municipal ownership people of Los Angeles and by a delegate who was working with the Edison people.

By the noon hour we had drafted a set of resolutions which were agreed to by all the delegates of this committee, including the delegates from California. At that time we had great hopes that the situation would be alleviated, that the convention would not break up and that some real good would come from its efforts. However, at the afternoon meeting and while we were waiting for a redrafting of the resolutions, the delegates from California, representing the municipal ownership people, with no notice whatever to other members of the committee, repaired to the convention hall and put through a motion to adjourn the convention. This act prevented any possible reconciliation between California and the other states. However, the resolutions which had been adopted by this committee were given to the press of California. I am leaving with your secretary a paper which contains a record of these resolutions.

After this condition arose the states outside of California gave out a statement to the press setting forth their position in the matter. The statement was published by the California papers. That statement follows:

"Owing to the dissension that arose in the convention of the League of the Southwest, we think it proper to state our position. When the delegates arrived from the outside states they were ignorant of the purposes of the convention. It did not take long to determine that the entire matter had degenerated into a local fight between divergent interests of the Southern California as to whether the Boulder canyon project shall be built by private capital. Also the question of the relation of the city of Los Angeles with the project was another serious bone of contention. Realizing that this dissension was a matter in which the other states were not concerned, and having ascertained that, growing out of this fight, action would likely be taken in respect to the rights of the other states, and securing also that the state of California had an overwhelming majority of the votes of the convention, by reason of the large local attendance from southern California, we refused to participate in any matters relating to the policies or the platform of the convention, unless each state was accorded equal voting strength. This position was agreed to by all the states outside of the state of California.

"Every possible effort was made by the states outside the state of California to effect a reconciliation but, without avail. We maintain that it is highly improper for the states to attempt to determine any matter that is purely local to one state, and we refused to allow a local dissension to injure those things that are of vital interest.

"The delegates of our states were selected by our respective governors and by civic bodies thereof, and consisted of men fully conversant with the interests of the states and the real purposes of the league, and we refused to be drawn from their proper consideration into a local fight which should not have been dignified by permitting it to come before the convention."

The position assumed by the states outside of California was practically universally endorsed by the press of California. In fact so far as I have been able to ascertain, it was endorsed by all of the press of California outside of the city of Los Angeles and by a part of the press of Los Angeles.

A fair expression of the sentiment is evidenced by a statement of the press contained in the editorial of the San Bernardino Daily Sun of December 11, as follows:

"If the convention of the League of the Southwest at Riverside was a farce in itself, a failure as to results and probably a tragedy so far as the organization is concerned, let nobody think it was not of amazing educational benefit to all participating. That such a sequel could spring from such conditions may be so strange as to seem impossible, but it is the simple fact.

"We take it that the league is dead beyond recall, and that two elements conspired to bring about the fatality, each of them determined to control or to put the organization out of existence. One of these was the public ownership extremists of Los Angeles, the other was the power companies not only of California, but of all the west, perhaps nationally, for their organization is national wide, and very powerful. But the logic of the situation is all with the visitors from other states, and against the Los Angeles folks who were so selfish and so completely bull-headed and destructive as to insist that in this conference, California should have as many effective votes as six other states represented, because of the accident that the session was held in California. Naturally, the visitors at first protested and then rebelled, and the Los Angeles extremists, to the city with food for thought as to whether the end justified the means.

"Their course from the outset has been to demand that they may deny until doomsday that the contract offered the reclamation service awarding 50 per cent of the Boulder Canyon power to Los Angeles, was never meant as a contract, as Attorney W. B. Matthews did deny after the contract had been exploited by a Denver speaker and discursively repudiated by Secretary Fall, but nobody has yet answered the question as to why it was ever drafted. Its purpose, on the surface, was to monopolize four-fifths of the power from Boulder Canyon, so there would be little or none left for the rest of Southern California, Arizona and Nevada, and Los Angeles could continue to conter industries because other communities had not power to offer. Failing in that, their next move was to halloo their heads off for government ownership because that offered less possibilities of competition, and they figure their political influence will be strong enough to 'take care of Los Angeles.' The one thing they succeeded in accomplishing was to prevent anything being accomplished."

The feeling of the delegates from all the states outside of California was that it would be far better that no action be taken at this convention and really far better that the League of the Southwest be disrupted and another one be planned to take its place, than that California be permitted to jam through resolutions that would be disastrous to the interests of the other states.

There was not a delegate from any of the seven states outside of California who was not in full accord with this position. We could not agree that a mere sentiment of the League of the Southwest, should be allowed to destroy or impair the interests of any of the states. There was no discord whatever between any of the states outside of California, nor between their delegates, and although no action was taken by the convention, we feel that great good was accomplished by these mere notifications to the city of Los Angeles that the other states will not submit to their dictation and that each state and the states collectively have interests to protect and that they propose to see them protected.

Respectfully submitted, REED HOLLOMAN.

ESCAPED PRISONER IS NABBED WHILE TRYING TO BREAK INTO HOUSE

(By The Associated Press.)

Boston, Mass., Dec. 16.—Harry Berwin, who escaped from the state prison in a packing case today, was captured in Newton late today while trying to break into a house.

After Berwin or a confederate had placed a change of clothing inside with the underwear which the case was supposed to contain, Berwin slipped in, secured down the cover and was taken across the city in a truck. Arriving at his destination the driver found in the box a convict's uniform, a screw driver and a pair of pliers.

MANY USED CARS ON EXHIBITION AT THE "OPEN AIR MARKET"

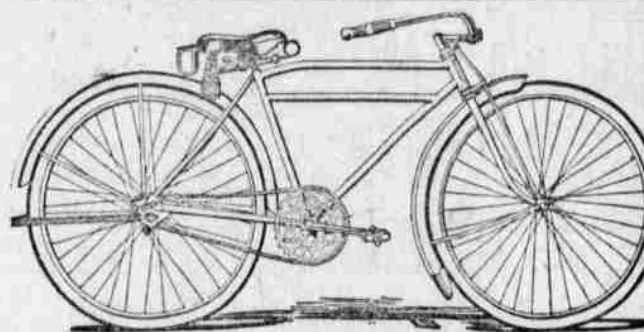

There were lots of bargains snapped up yesterday, the opening day of the Albuquerque used car market. The cars were exhibited by a number of dealers in the vacant lot next to the Morning Journal building on Gold avenue. The sale will last three days.

All of the cars were in good condition and were ready for demonstration and to be wrapped up and delivered in case they pleased the customers.

"Make an offer" was the sign on most of the cars and a number of these were purchased at attractive prices. The cars represented everything sold in the city from the cheapest to the most expensive makes.

As the market is a new thing in Albuquerque but few customers attended the morning offering, but large crowds looked the cars over during the afternoon. The sale will be open early this morning and a number of additional used cars will be on exhibition.

FRANK HERRERA GETS DRAW WITH BENNY CORDOVA

Bony Gallardi Knocks Out Jim Flynn in Third Round; Gallardi Challenges Eddy Lewis, Who Accepts.

Clean sportsmanship featured the 15-round draw between Benny Cordova of Albuquerque and Frank Herrera of Trinidad, at the Crystal Ballroom last night. The bout was not an exceptionally fast one, being held up considerably by clinches, but the general good nature of the boxers and their desire not to take unfair advantages kept the fans with them every minute. This trait in both of the boys was clearly shown three times when one of them tripped to the floor and on a number of occasions when heavy punches were given while they were being separated by the referee.

The work of the two boys is as different as day and night. Herrera goes out for points, Benny for a knockout. Benny seldomly lands a blow not intended as a bruiser, he seems to give easy taps and to protect himself from them. Herrera's gloves are never still, and as Benny made no effort to keep away from them except when there was indication of force behind the blows, he took hundreds of the easy jabs.

Opening up with considerable pep, the boys last but little time in feeling out, Benny landing several heavy lefts to the jaw, followed by a right to the ear. Herrera would then do considerable light tapping in the clinch and would occasionally send a heavy swing.

This was the usual style of mix-up through the first eight rounds. In the ninth there was a fair exchange of heavy blows and in the tenth, eleven and twelve the fight was continued, Herrera having the best of the light work and Benny the best of the heavy. In the thirteenth Herrera easily had the best of the heavy slugging. The match ended with Herrera landing some heavy and many light swings and Benny connecting with a number of intended haymakers, which, however, failed to accomplish their mission.

Bony Gallardi of Trinidad knocked out Jim Flynn of Albuquerque in the third round of their scheduled 10-round mill. The Trinidad boy had Flynn considerably out-weighted. Following the bout he challenged Eddy Lewis to a match. Lewis accepted.

The bout last night was opened with a battle royal, which was won by Tony Garcia. Young Herrera of Albuquerque was given his bout with Montana in the second round, Montana being unable to continue.

The decisions were given by the city boxing commission.

LARGE HOUSE SEES "PEG O' MY HEART" BY A. H. S. JUNIORS

A capacity house laughed a lot and cried a bit over the second performance of "Peg O' My Heart" given by the junior class of the high school at the auditorium last night. The play itself is a favorite of the high school dramatists under the direction of Prof. John D. Burton and credit to its reputation.

Miss Pansy Hicks, playing the title role, stands out as of course a real heroine should. From the other members of the cast, her acting in the part of "Peg" seemed remarkable from a high school student with little previous experience in dramatics. She threw herself into the part with an intensity seldom seen in amateur players, sustaining her Irish brogue throughout the piece and interpreting the various moods of "Peg" with convincing feeling.

Owen Marron, as the swaggering young son of the house of Chichester, came in for first honors among the boy players although Frederick Ward as "Jerry," the hero, ran him a close second. Miss Mildred Zilchut as the elderly Mrs. Chichester was particularly good.

Miss Helen Schneider played the proper insipid daughter of the house and Richard Lewis was an extraordinarily tall and pompous butler. Nathan Glassman as the daughter's suitor, Carl Allen as a lawyer and Miss Laura Shaver as a pretty French maid, were all good.

Last night's performance was the second, a Thursday matinee having been given for the school children of the city. The proceeds of the performance will be used for the annual Junior prom. A Senior class day is promised for early in the year.

Lyric Theater—Viola Dana is truly popular here. She is the leading star in "The Match Breaker," and was at her best yesterday. The picture is being repeated for the last time today. The management is also repeating the two-reel comedy "The Fish." Pastime Theater—Tom Mix leaves the Pastime after tonight, repeating as the star in "Trailin'," which has been a big success during the past few days. The management is also repeating the Sunshine comedy, "The Gopher," for the last time today.

"GOD'S GOLD" AT THE "B" THEATER TODAY FOR THE LAST TIME

Tonight will witness the final showing of "God's Gold," Neal Hart's latest production which has been thrilling the crowds at the "B" theater for the past few days. The picture presents Neal Hart in the role of a sea captain and his quest for buried treasure is marked by one continuous round of excitement. A fight with his mutinous crew, the destruction of two big ships by fire, a storm at sea and the rescue of his sweetheart from the clutches of a gang of bandits are but a few of the exciting situations in the picture.

HISTORIC YACHT IN "THE MATCH BREAKER" NOW AT LYRIC THEATER

J. D. Spackles' historic yacht, "The Venetia," which succeeded in sinking two German submarines during its active war service, can be seen in the movies. The luxurious pleasure craft was borrowed for use in Viola Dana's newest starring picture, "The Match Breaker," a Dallas M. It has been an unusual sight to see Tom Mix in a Tuxedo suit, and he will be seen in it for the last time today at the Pastime theater. Of course, the speedy William Fox cowboy star comes to the west and that is when the excitement begins for the audience. "Trailin'"—that is the name of his picture—tells a most absorbing and exciting story.

VACHEL LINDSEY TO APPEAR THIS EVENING AT THE WOMAN'S CLUB

Vachel Lindsey, who will give readings from his poems at the Woman's club tonight, is glad to get back to New Mexico which he proclaims is the most fascinating state in the union. "New Mexico is weird," he says, "somewhat unreal. Like a sunny day in an Edgar Allan landscape. Full of color and variety, romance. Endless possibilities."

Whether the sandy haired poet will ever write about New Mexico or not is another question. He has written but little during the past two years, for his speaking engagements both abroad and at home have kept him too busy. He has visited or will visit more than sixty colleges during the present season. While he fills other dates, he like the college visits best, for they bring him most in contact with inspiring young writers. Mr. Lindsey is a very genuine in his interest in the young writer, and very generous with his help. He believes that the poetry of the present era will come from the Rocky mountain region, and on that account is particularly eager to become acquainted with the writers of the west.

The program tonight will include all of Mr. Lindsey's best poems and the skill with which he brings out the shades and meanings that are not obvious on the written page will undoubtedly capture his audience. The program will start at half past eight and tickets may be obtained at the door. There are no reserved seats.

19 TEXANS ARE HELD IN DEATH OF TAXI DRIVER

Chauffeur Shot While Sitting at Steering Wheel of His Car Near Building Known as Ku Klux Hall.

(By The Associated Press.) Austin, Tex., Dec. 16.—Examining trials of nineteen Austin citizens charged with the murder of P. R. Clayton, a taxi cab driver, who was shot to death last night will be held next Monday before Justice of the Peace Mondel, in whose court the charges were filed by Earl Shelton, Austin attorney.

Late today thirteen of the nineteen had been arrested and released on a $5,000 bond. Judge R. H. Hamilton of the Travis county criminal district court said today he would not call a special grand jury to investigate the killing. The next session of the jury is in February.

Clayton was shot last night while sitting at the steering wheel of an automobile which had halted in an alley next to the building known as the "Ku Klux Klan hall." It was reported there was a meeting of some nature going on in the hall at the time of the shooting. Barney Blum and Olney Childers, also taxi drivers, were with Clayton at the time of the shooting. According to stories told the police, they were on their way to a dance and had stopped in the alley for a few minutes when five or six men standing in the alley opened fire on them. Clayton was struck by one bullet and died almost instantly, living long enough to exclaim that "I don't know why they did it, but I did game."

CARRIERS FIGHT GENERAL CUT IN FREIGHT RATES

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Dec. 16.—Renewed arguments against general reductions in the Interstate Commerce Commission were made today by spokesmen for the railroads in three districts of the United States. Arguments were made, the spokesmen explained, in statistical studies of earnings and the effect upon them of rates and traffic fluctuations.

T. C. Powell, vice president of the Erie, was the witness for eastern carriers; W. C. Maxwell, vice president of the Wabash lines, spoke for the central freight association, including most mid-western territory, and George W. Lamb, auditor for the Association of Railway Executives, made the presentation for the southern district.

The agitation for lower rates worked to decrease traffic, Mr. Powell said, while Mr. Maxwell asserted that "the outlook would be gloomy indeed for the central rates if the rates are to be decreased."

WIRELESS STATION AT UNIVERSITY OPENED

Korher wireless station at the University of New Mexico was opened at 7 o'clock last night and communication was established with several radio stations, the one farthest away being at the agricultural college at Las Cruces. The station operates on a 375 meter wavelength. Those who were fortunate enough to "listen in" heard music from Denver, telephone conversation from Catalina island and picked up telegraph stations in Iowa. The receiving set was made by Bert Noe, South High street. The station will be open to the public Saturday and Sunday.

The government call is "5-y-g."

A pretty Christmas custom is observed in Austria, where in thousands of homes lighted candles are left all night in the windows, so that the infant Christ, when he passes through village or town, may not stumble.

STREET PARADE OF HARVEY'S MINSTRELS AT 11 THIS MORNING

Harvey's Greater Minstrels will make a very attractive street parade introducing several novelties. The wardrobe consisting of purple and burnt orange, skinner satin coats with hats to match, presents a very flashy effect while the trombone work of Slim Austin furnishes comedy in the street. Not all the company participate in the parade, as such people as the stage mechanics, the Octaroon Beauty chorus, are busy with the wardrobe and effects.

This company will be at the Crystal opera house, today and Sunday, December 17 and 18. Matinee this afternoon and Sunday afternoon.

GIBBONS WINS FROM O'DOWD ON POINTS

COMPANY SEEKING TO LEASE MUSCLE SHOALS FOR 50-YEAR PERIOD

San Francisco, Calif., Dec. 16.—Fred C. Hitchcock, vice president of the construction company which is building here the Hetch Hetchy project to supply San Francisco with water, left for Washington today in response to a government invitation to be on hand in the capital December 28 to confer on a proposal made by his company for taking over and developing the Muscle Shoals nitrate and power project on the Tennessee river. Other officers will leave shortly.

Only bare outlines of the proposal have been given out here. Its principal intent is to bring about the maximum possible development of electrical energy and the sale of this at a profit which would be shared evenly with the government.

The company asks a lease of the completed project for fifty years and proposes to pay all construction costs, though under certain circumstances financial assistance might be asked of the government. Estimates of those interested placed the government's profits under the arrangement at half a billion dollars.

Weak Lungs.
Those who have weak lungs can not be too careful about taking cold, as unless promptly treated, pneumonia may follow. As a prompt cure for bad colds no one could wish for a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The success that has attended the use of this preparation, not only throughout the United States, but in many foreign countries, shows that it is a remedy that can be relied upon. It is pleasant and safe to take and only costs 35 cents; large size 60 cents.

Congratulations to Princess Mary, the only daughter of Britain's king and queen, who will soon be led to the altar by the man of her choice. When Prince Henry was once asked by a school-fellow, "what sort of a girl is your sister?" the answer came, quick and emphatic, "she's a brick!" Princess Mary began her schooling at the age of four, together with her brothers, in the royal schoolroom.

Princess Mary has always had full control of her daughter's education. The princess has read a great deal, and she is particularly fond of memoirs and letters of famous people, and autobiographies. She keeps a diary, in which she makes notes of her opinions.
