Territorial Topics

LORDSBURG.

From the Liberal.
There have been rains in every direction from town, but very little water has fallen in town.

Elston Jones, who has been assayer for the Lena Mining company, left Tuesday for his home at Albuquerque. John McCabe left Saturday for Globe on special business. Next Monday he and Miss Ida C. Wilson will be married at the residence of Miss Wilson's sister in that town.

The old table about there being no passenger traffic over the Southern Pacific in the summer time has gone out. Sunday the passenger train consisted of fifteen cars, and all the passenger cars were filled.

Jack Rutland returned to Grant county this week. Some time ago Jack went to South America, to make his fortune. On his return he was asked if he had made it, and he said he was blamed glad to get back.

Judge Abbott and W. E. Allen, of the Stein's Peak Mining company, went up to Albuquerque on a business trip the first of the week. They probably will dispose of some of the stock of the company while there.

SAN MARCIAL.

Nice Party at Home of J. E. Nichols—Local Paragraphs.

San Marcial, N. M., July 16.—A party was given in honor of Misses Mabel and Maggie Tweed at the home of J. E. Nichols. Those present were Misses Bessie Hitchcock, Minnie McCooch, May Watkins, Della Barton, Edna Manning, Rhea Price, Katie Horn, Lizzie Hockett, May Crawford, Ross Pelton, Mabel and Maggie Tweed, Louisa Friend, Lulu Nichols, and Messrs. John Barton, Mr. Love, Jay Watkins, Sidney Hockett, Charles Hanna, John Gallagher, George Lyle, Lawrence Broyles, Misses Mabel and Maggie Tweed will leave here next week for their future home at Alamogordo.

Yesterday evening we got a little sprinkling, but as usual not too much to hurt the ground.

Henry Russell came in from his ranch this morning and this evening such quick trips as this is what Mr. Russell pays to San Marcial.

The Santa Fe pay checks arrived here today.

The Indian fountain at Albuquerque has been brought down here and will be put in the park.

Charles Owings, head miller of Belen roller mills, came down yesterday morning and returned to Belen this morning with his wife and family.

SPRINGER.

Personal Paragraphs Regarding People of a Northern Town.

From the Stockman.

Manuel Arellano was in Raton transacting business.

Rev. E. F. Baker left for Missouri and Iowa on business, expecting to be gone ten days or two weeks.

A. C. Voorhees, a Raton attorney, came down from Raton in attendance at the funeral of J. W. Eshenour.

C. R. van Houten came up from Las Vegas, leaving for his ranch at Cimarron just after breakfast.

Mrs. Jean Sandoval and son, Ramon, of Raton, returned home after a short visit with relatives here. Mrs. Sandoval had not been in Springer for about nine years.

Frank Briggs, C. J. Gavin, Robert Campbell, W. D. Kershner, W. G. Hughes, Henry Jones and a few other Elks came down from Raton and were in attendance at the funeral of J. W. Eshenour.

Those attending the Fourth of July celebration at Raton from Springer were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, James Gillespie, and family, J. T. Towner and W. K. Irwin. All report having had a splendid time.

C. J. Gavin seemed to be the leading figure in seeing that all visitors were made comfortable and enjoyed themselves.

KENNEDY CAMP.

Interesting Notes from the "Big Town" on the Santa Fe Central.

Special Correspondence.

Kennedy, July 22.—Kennedy is on the postoffice list now. It being established last Saturday with Otto L. Rice as postmaster.

The telephone line is completed from Santa Fe here. Orrin McCowan is holding this end of the line down and reports considerable business being done. Orrin is also operating for the Postal Telegraph company.

The telephone outfit and linemen were ordered to the town of Torrance, from which station they will proceed as fast as possible to complete the line the full length of the railroad.

We had a nice shower here Sunday evening and dark clouds are still hanging over the mountains. Every one is getting prepared for the August rains.

Senator W. H. Andrews spent a day looking over his new road and reports everything moving in first class shape.

J. E. Saint spent a day in camp last week.

Tranquillino Arriaga of Albuquerque, clerking in commissary here, arriving in camp Saturday.

Painters are kept busy painting roofs of the stations and commissaries along the line.

Camp No. 1 has moved several miles nearer Santa Fe. Everything progressing fine.

RATON.

Brutal Special Policeman—New Railroad—Totally Blind.

From the Range.

Miss Hope Brackett, who recently underwent an optical operation in Denver, was brought home by her sister, Mrs. H. E. Porter. The operation proved futile and she is now totally blind.

Mrs. Dr. Tansy, a health seeker from Chicago, who has spent the past six months in Raton, leaves for Denver, where she will be joined by her husband. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alsop, accompanied her.

A. L. Moon and wife, after spending a week in Raton, left for Las Vegas. Mr. Moon is the general organizer for the Fraternal Brotherhood and he and Mrs. Moon did a great deal of good for the Raton lodge while here.

G. E. Burford, cashier of the Citizens bank of Mulhall, Okla., is in the city investigating the opportunities for business and may make this his home. He is formerly from Appleton City, Mo., and has met here several old friends from the same place.

Thursday night Frank Dohman, a special policeman, got himself into trouble—which for a time threatened to be serious—by using his club over the head of an unoffending man. Dohman was pursued by more than 100 men, rocks and other missiles were hurled at him, and he barely escaped his pursuers unharmed. Dohman has been "keeping peace" at the merry-go-round since the Fourth of July, but his services as a peace officer will doubtless be discontinued.

Thomas B. Harlan and Max Koehler, representatives of the St. Louis capitalists who will invest money in the building of the Cimarron River & Taos Valley railroad, which will run from Raton to Taos, via Colfax county's leading gold mining camp, returned to Raton this week from a trip over the proposed route. The gentlemen are perfectly satisfied with the possibility of the line, and give assurances that the work of building will commence in a very short time. Mr. Harlan is yet in the city, arranging for concessions from the Maxwell Grant company and Mr. Koehler returned to St. Louis the first of the week.

FROM SILVER CITY.

Harry's Body Shipped East—Tax Valuation—Attempted Jail Delivery.

Special Correspondence.

Silver City, N. M., July 23.—The body of J. C. Harry, who was struck by a bolt of lightning last Saturday and killed, was shipped to his relatives in Missouri last evening. The remains were accompanied to the depot by the members of local lodges of Elks and Knights of Pythias, of which he was a member.

Grant County Assessor Gillett has made a computation of the assessed valuation of the property in this city, and while the mining industries have fallen off considerably this year the figures make a better showing than in 1901. The total valuation in 1901 was $2,748,917 and this year the assessor returns a valuation of $2,815,174.

A couple of Mexican prisoners confined in the county jail decided to make themselves scarce in that locality last week and attacked the guard, Jim Dickenson, in the corridors of the jail. One of them got a shovel and a lively time was had for several minutes and they were about to overpower the guard when two or three of the other prisoners came to his assistance and they were forced into their cells and locked up. Dickenson, the guard, was somewhat bruised in several places, but not seriously injured. They are now doing some good hard work on the wood pile and will undoubtedly be kept there for some time to come.

A shooting scrape occurred on Upper Gila last Saturday, in which Piny Burdick shot a cowboy in his employ in the chest. It seems that both of them had been drinking some and quarreled on their way from the hot springs to the ranch a few miles above. Burdick came into Silver City and gave himself up to the officers Sunday and gave bond for his appearance later.

It is stated that the cowboy, Jud Neal, who was shot, is not seriously injured and that only a flesh wound was inflicted.

Several camping parties are making preparation for trips on the Upper Gila, as soon as the rainy season is over.

L. C. Parker a few days ago received a well boring machine and has started to work boring for water on his ranch above town. It is his intention, if possible, to secure an artesian flow of water which he will use for irrigating and other purposes.

CERRILLOS.

Rose and Wells Resign Their Positions—Birdsday Party at the Neils Home.

From the Register.

Fred North has resigned his position as assayer at the Cerrillos smelter.

James Bettone is out on crutches and says his broken leg is doing as well as could be expected.

J. P. McNulty is again able to be on the street, but is carrying his hand in a sling on account of the snake bite received last week.

C. W. Rose and resigned his position with the Cochiti company, at Madrid, and expects to leave here about the first of next month. A report has been circulated by interested parties, to the effect that he had been discharged. This is absolutely false, as he leaves by his own request for the purpose of taking a more profitable business.

The other day Master Bonnie Neils celebrated his ninth birthday anniversary by entertaining a large number of his young friends and playmates at a birthday party. At noon a dainty dinner was served by Mrs. Neils and presided over by Judge Neils, with the lordly air which his experience on the bench has taught him to assume on such occasions, and the youthful participants did ample justice to Mrs. Neils' excellent cooking. Late in the afternoon the young folks departed, wishing Master Bonnie many happy returns of the very pleasant occasion.

We regret very much to hear that Superintendent J. L. Wells has severed his connection with the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company. Mr. Wells is an honest, upright public spirited citizen, who has done as much for our town since he came here as any man in it, and it will be a matter of general regret in the community if he should decide to move away. As a metallurgical engineer he has no superior in his line of work, and the perfect manner in which the smelter has been constructed in every part is greatly due to his ability and conscientious devotion to the company's interests. Some time ago an altercation arose between Mr. Wells and some of the officers of the company in regard to the transfer of some property, which caused a breach between him and the company and led to his resignation. Mr. Wells has no definite plans as to where he will go, but his business interests which will compel him to remain here for some time, and we very much hope that circumstances will warrant his remaining a citizen of our town.

When you take Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic, because the formula is plainly printed on every bottle showing that it is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure; no pay. 50c.

THE GEM CITY.

Socorro Done Up in Interesting Local Paragraphs.

Special Correspondence.

Socorro, N. M., July 23.—May & Yunker, the city livery men, sent to the new copper district, near San Antonio, in this county, a party of eastern mining men, who have been attracted there by the recent reported rich copper finds.

A. Claridy, associated with the Allen Hotel, Magdalena, passed through Socorro on his way to El Paso. Rumor has it that Al is attracted that way by other than ordinary business reasons.

A goodly number of our citizens are yet at the resorts in the mountains near the city and all reports are that they are having a jolly time. No place along the White range can boast of more pretty and inviting spots for summer outing than here.

Rains have fallen along the Rio Grande valley above and below us, but in the immediate vicinity of Socorro rains have been very light. However, as long as the farms and orchards have plenty the city has. No complaint.

R. B. Thomas, the portly smelter man of Cerrillos, spent the day here yesterday.

Rumor has it that Jose Torres, a saloon man of the city, is quietly at work to secure the republican nomination for sheriff at the coming election.

Sheriff Blackington has not yet given his consent to make the race for reelection. The doctor is a good officer and deserves what he asks for. Should he conclude not to make the race the party cannot afford to place in nomination any man who is not equally popular in all parts of the county.

W. N. Bailey, George H. Brewer and A. W. Cavanaugh, all good people of Albuquerque, are among the visitors to the city today.

Walter E. Locke will be married in this city soon to an El Paso lady. Walter's many friends will no doubt be glad to hear of his good fortune.

C. T. Brown received this week the patent from the government for some of his richest Black Range mining property and immediately left for the mines, where he will push work on the same. He was accompanied by H. Howell, a graduate of the school of mines, this year.

M. W. Jones, the soap king of Omaha, Neb., has been visiting the local towns of the valley this week. Mr. Jones speaks very highly of the orchards along the valley and wonders where so much fruit will find market, but he was told Socorro's brandy distilleries would look after that.

The erroneous report sent out that Socorro's water supply was effected by the long dry spell will appear all the more ridiculous when it is known that our supply comes from hot springs in the mountains, which is never effected by surface conditions. Our water plant is owned by the city and behind such reports is seen politics, but as our present city administration was elected on non-partisan lines it is hard to fix the party to blame, as none of the local politicians are accused of using and fabulous amount of water anyway.

LAS CRUCES.

New Game Warden—Suit Against Max Frost Settled—A Mineral Find.

From the Progress.

Chas. V. Peacock, brother of D. V. Peacock, of this place, is reported as being sick at his ranch below El Paso.

H. D. Bowman, who has been spending a short vacation in California, is expected home on next Sunday evening.

Martin Lohman started operations with his flouring mill this week and is grinding his wheat supply.

D. V. Peacock came in from his cattle range. He reports good rains up that way and their lake is filled. The grass is beginning to make a fine growth.

Governor Otero has commissioned Walter W. Wuerchmidt, of Dona Ana county, Mr. Wuerchmidt intends to prosecute all violators of the game law, especially parties who are killing deer in the Organ and San Andres mountains.

From the Republican.

Attorney E. C. Wade has moved his office to rooms just north of Major Llewellyn's office.

Mrs. Dora Watson, who spent several winters here for her health, died at La Luz on the 8th.

The suit of Dr. McConnell vs. Max Frost, involving the recent sale of the Alamogordo, was settled out of court this week. Dr. McConnell went to Santa Fe last night to receive $400, the amount he is to get on the compromise.

Louis Escalante, of Dona Ana, recently found a piece of beautiful petrified wood as white as chalk, while engaged in working on the cut of the Biscoe railroad near El Paso. The wood was found 150 feet below the earth's surface imbedded in the solid rock and demonstrates beyond peradventure that this locality was once torn and upturned by violent earthquakes and eruptions. The white slab is about three feet long and six inches across at the widest point. It is on exhibition at the Chamber of Commerce.

"MEADOW CITY."

Batch of Personal Paragraphs from the Capital of San Miguel County.

Las Vegas, July 23.—At the party given by Mrs. John Robbins last night Mrs. J. A. Dick won the ladies' first prize and Mrs. J. A. LaRue the consolation. M. W. Browne took the honors for the gentlemen and W. C. Reid the consolation. The game played was six handed euchre, there being seven tables. Miss Robbins was assisted by several young ladies. Splendid refreshments were served and a delightful evening was spent by the guests present.

B. C. Pittinger left this afternoon for Brazil, Ind., where he was called by the illness of his mother. He will be gone about ten days.

Conductor Charles Stevenson will resume his position tomorrow after an extended vacation.

Twenty of the forty cars of the Belen wool shipment to the Rosa-Browne plant have arrived.

Mrs. Uptegrove is here from Cerrillos visiting the family of C. F. Jones.

Dr. Epperson, the St. Louis electric street car man who has the contract for the construction of the trolley system did not arrive until on No. 1 today. Accompanying him were some assistants. Dr. Epperson says the field is clear now and the work will begin at once on the line.

Jesus Armiño was brought down from Mora under arrest for pasturing 150 goats on the Pecos river forest reserve and brought before Commissioner Bunker today. The trial will be later.

Edward Sporleder and W. Bell send in word today from their camp up on the Rio Casa that they have a trout that weighs three and a half pounds. Furthermore, they took a picture of the monster and they say the "camera does not prevaricate."

City Marshal Cortright had a before breakfast this morning. He received word that some fellow was down in Traders' saloon who insisted in owning the place. When the marshal arrived the fellow, who was gloriously drunk, started to run. He was overtaken and brought to the ground by a vigorous uppercut and taken to jail. He refuses to give his name, but is the fellow who was selling the wire pants' hangers here yesterday.

The infantry company were out for a drill last night and made a circuit of the two towns.

C. L. Harris, who has been sick the past few weeks with typhoid fever is able to sit up.

Fred Fornoff, deputy United States marshal, and George Langenburg, the forest inspector, came in last evening from their Porvenir trip.

Salome Garcia, sheriff of Union county, brought down Joseph Davis to the asylum for insane yesterday afternoon. He was ordered committed at the last term of court there.

The hearing before Judge Mills yesterday afternoon of the case of Harry W. Lee to decide his sanity resulted in his being committed to the asylum. He comes from Chaves.

It is told here that two children by the name of Medina were drowned in the river at Tremontina last Saturday night. The story says the children were in the house with their mother and a baby, when the storm and water came, and that the mother took the baby up and ran, leaving the children who were drowned.

Mrs. George Chaves, who has been quite ill, has so far recovered so as to allow of her removal to El Porvenir to recuperate.

Rev. H. J. Powell, pastor of the First Baptist church in Albuquerque, stopped over for a short visit with Rev. Bourne today.

L. T. Laidley, the enumerator for the Gazetteer, has finished up his job here and will leave in a couple of days for Trinidad, where he will go with a number of friends on a camping trip.

Mrs. S. C. Edwards, left this afternoon for Fort Atkinson, Wis., where she will make an extended visit.

Tomorrow morning at 8:30 will occur the marriage of Susan Ortiz to Miss Margarita Maes. The ceremony will be performed at the cathedral.

Mrs. Belady and Miss Martinez, of Watrous, arrived here this afternoon to attend the Ortiz-Maes wedding tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Frank Manzanarez, Jr., left this afternoon for Los Angeles, where she will make a few weeks' visit with her mother, Mrs. Henriquez.

An election of a captain by the infantry company was ordered last night and resulted in the unanimous reelection of Captain A. R. Da Costa, who had sent in his resignation. Captain Da Costa has been a most efficient officer, and the adjutant general requested him to withdraw his resignation, which he did today to keep harmony in the company.

D. R. Hunt has resigned as assistant postmaster in the postoffice on the west side and Mrs. Herbert Romero will fill the vacancy. Mr. Hunt will leave for Chicago about the first of August.

Mrs. Petrolino Lucero and a number of relatives came in from Villanueva yesterday and took the remains of Mr. Lucero home last night at 6 o'clock. There were five carriage loads accompanying the remains. Mr. Lucero was 55 years of age and will be buried tomorrow morning.

Plums and apples, home grown, are coming in plentifully on the local market now.

It is a fine boy at B. P. Dodge's and the Armour company is happy.

Rev. Norman Skinner and wife will leave Saturday for an outing at Blake's ranch.

An enthusiastic number of base ball enthusiasts met at the office of Col. R. E. Twitchell last night and organized a semi-professional base ball club to represent Las Vegas. The games will begin at once, probably next Sunday. Fine dark blue uniforms with maroon stockings have been ordered and the team will be one of the best equipped and strongest financially in the territory. It is proposed to have regular Sunday base ball with the best teams that can be secured. The Reynolds' field has been arranged for and the organization will be run on strictly business principles. Col. Twitchell is the manager, and has brought the national sport to the successful conclusion here. Ed McVernie will be the captain and practicing will begin this evening. It is estimated that it will take about $250 to launch the team, with an imported battery, and a subscription list has been raised that will bring in a monthly income of over $200. Las Vegas will now take her proper position as a patron of the national game and will have a team which will be a division winner.

George E. Roe, division freight and passenger agent for the Santa Fe at El Paso, is in the city talking about wool rates for the territory.

W. B. Twitchell loaded up his prospector's outfit and left this morning for Glorieta, where he will pick over a few rocks.

A number of the local gun club enthusiasts have received word from the territorial fair management at Albuquerque that there will probably be a gun shooting contest there this fall during the fair. A number of our sports will go down if such is the case.

Mrs. H. A. Hanson, wife of the yard master, is on the sick list.

BUILDING SOCIETY.

Building and Loan Association Men Are in Session.

Pitts-Bay, Ohio, July 24.—Several hundred millions of dollars—every dollar of it the savings of the thrifty wage workers of the United States—were represented in the assembly hall of the Hotel Victory today when the tenth annual convention of the United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations was called to order by the national president, George H. Keet, mayor of New Orleans. It is one of the largest conventions in the history of the league. A majority of the delegates are men prominent in the municipal affairs of their respective localities.

The feature of the opening session was the address and report of Hon. Herman F. Cellarius, of Cincinnati, the general secretary, which was listened to with profound attention. Secretary Cellarius said in part:

"A slight increase in the total membership, with a small decrease in the aggregate assets, is the showing made by the local building and loan associations of the United States during the past year. There are now in the United States 5,362 local building associations, with a total membership of 1,539,593 and assets amounting to $565,387,966. In most of the states these associations have about held their own, although the reduction of the interest rate for the past few years has had a tendency to bring back money loaned out by them at higher than existing rates, and associations unable to make desirable loans have returned some of the idle accumulated funds to their stockholders, causing a decrease in their assets. Building and loan association supervisors in a number of states are agreed that the associations were not sufficiently prompt in meeting the reduced interest rate and that, as a result, they have lost some profitable business. This is to be accounted for, possibly, under the theory that the associations were desirous of ascertaining if the conditions favorable to a reduction were temporary only, and, with their usual conservatism, they were reluctant to reduce interest charges until there was a reasonable assurance that cheap money had come to stay."

"The situation in Illinois and Missouri has been materially improved, although these states still continue to show rather heavy decreases in assets. Illinois having declined a little over $4,000,000 and Missouri about $2,000,000 during the past year. In Ohio several large building associations—one in Columbus and another in Cleveland—reorganized as trust companies, and their assets, amounting to about $4,000,000, are not included in the figures for that state. Ohio, therefore, instead of having decreased in assets about $1,000,000 as shown by the table, has, as a matter of fact, increased nearly $4,000,000. Substantial increases in assets were made last year in New Jersey, Massachusetts and Nebraska."

"The legislative situation has been one of great activity during the past year, particularly in the states of Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York. Many bills were introduced, as usual, but the provisions of most of them were of a character that did not command the support of the state leagues in these states, and as a result they met defeat. The work of state and other leagues of building associations in the several states has again demonstrated the efficiency and great usefulness of these organizations, besides giving further evidence of their influence and strength. But few changes in the building associations laws of the states resulted during the past year."

Following the report of the secretary, the convention listened to addresses as follows: "The Future of Building Associations: The Tendency to Depart From and the Necessity of According to Fundamental Principles," Seymour Dexter, Elmira, N. Y.; "Why Local Building and Loan Associations Should Be Exempt from all Taxation," Julius Stern, Chicago; "The Theoretical versus the Practical," W. A. Whitney, Lawrence, Mass.

HIS AUTHORITY DENIED.

Ruling of Secretary of Interior on Reservation Called into Question.

The case of the United States vs. Juan Romero for pasturing sheep on the Pecos river forest reserve, was heard yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock by U. S. Commissioner W. B. Bunker. Capt. W. C. Reed represented the government, and C. A. Spiess the defendant. J. M. Hernandez was interpreter. Clive Hastings and S. L. Fisher were witnesses. It was shown that the sheep belonging to Romero had been pastured on the reserve, but it was not shown that the defendant had ordered them pastured there.

The defendant was charged with having violated a regulation made by the secretary of the interior, making it an offense against the laws of the United States for a person to graze sheep on the Pecos park reservation. Mr. Spiess moved the court to dismiss the complaint on the ground that the defendant had not committed any offense against the laws of the United States for the reason that the secretary of the interior had not power to denounce a transaction an offense because this was the exercise of the legislative power and that power had been by the constitution vested in congress and thereby specially withheld from the other tribunals.

Capt. Reed argued that the regulations of the secretary had the effect of law and that three judges in the territory had so decided. Mr. Bunker, in giving his decision, took the ground held by Mr. Spiess, but thought the question was one to be decided by Chief Justice Mills, and therefore bound the defendant over to the United States court in the sum of $200 bond. J. M. Hernandez, Eulio Duran and C. A. Spiess went on the bond.

Julius Grandjean, manager of the Stockholder ranch at Range, and A. E. Roulster of Range were here last night on their way to Palo Alto, Calif. Mr. Grandjean and a young lady of Palo Alto will be married on August tenth, and they will spend their honeymoon at Naufchatel, Switzerland, the old home of Mr. Grandjean.

A SECOR BREAKER.

Many Fashion Novelties Have Been Produced This Summer.

WHAT IS WORN.

New York, July 19.—The summer of 1902 will go down in the history of fashions as a record breaker in the matter of producing novelties. In fact with all the beauty of summer modes, it may be said that modistes have depended chiefly upon the little elegances for the smartness of the ensemble.

There have not been many types of the summer girl, but she has been very satiate, accepting only the original features of fashions and clinging not long to any pronounced style.

The mode which retains its hold upon the popular fancy longest is the short waist suit. This implies not necessarily, a plain skirt and shirt waist, for the bodice, like every other feature of fashion has been elaborated upon until it has developed into a wonderful creation, displaying the intricate handwork and trimming of the most delicate textiles.

Shirt waist gowns in the finer materials have the blouses trimmed with bands of embroidery, or some times, the entire affair is a series of alternating bands of insertion and silk work.

The skirts in keeping with the blouses, are embroidered and finished with deep flounces of embroidery. Some very dainty costumes in white organdy built over taffeta have yokes composed of strips of the organdy joined by a fancy stitch, and from the yokes the flounce of the skirt depends, gauged quite full all around to hang in bewitching confusion about the feet.

Constantly the modistes are evidencing by the outcomes of fashion, the influence of physical culture upon the feminine mind. The very exercises that are practiced to lend grace and dignity to the figure are studied, and the result is an effort on the part of the dressmakers to bring into effect such styles as will emphasize the beauty of waist training.

Probably to this fact as to no other may the long, flowing, clinging lines of the past few seasons be attributed.

The greatest novelty of fashions just now is in belts, neck trimmings and such tiny accessories. There are so many ways of arranging ribbons and laces about the throat, that it is possible to wear a single ribbon several consecutive times, and were it not for the color, the trimming would be unrecognizable. For instance with a shirt waist costume of pongee silk, the blouse is embellished at the neck with a "veil" of turquoise blue ribbon. One day the ribbon is brought simply around the throat, tied in a simple bow and the ends allowed to hang unconfined, to the belt. The next day, the order of things is reversed and the ribbon is fastened at the back, all the ends being gathered up into a huge, but dainty choux. Again the trimming is shifted to the front, the ends being simply drawn through a ring at the throat, then tied at the bust-line, and the ends doubled into small tight knots which are pierced with stick-pins and secured to the bodice at all.

With the addition of a tulle or chiffon bow, it is therefore possible to accomplish wonderful results with very scanty material.

Quietly, but to the evident satisfaction of all, the ribbon belt is taking the place of the leather one, except in outing or athletic costumes. There is such a soft beauty about the ribbon affair, so much femininity and grace, that it makes a special appeal to the woman of fashion who this year is eliminating as much of the masculine in dress as she endeavors to take on a few seasons past. On the simplest lawn or the most elegant silk the ribbon belt is in vogue. It is brought around the waist and tied either in a bow and drawn through a gold circle and allowed to fall in studied carelessness to the hem of the gown.

Girdles that are composed both of ribbon and lace are lovely and found in the wardrobe of every well-groomed woman. The lace is applied over the ribbon entirely as it extends around the waist, but on the streamers, there is simply an edge on either side, with medallions at the end.

Hand-painted belts are delicate and pretty. They are worn with more expensive gowns, but embody the elegance which characterizes the season's modes.

Although there is only a little over a month of summer yet before us, many white gowns are being made. These are of heavier materials, however, and will be seen until very late in the fall. In fact it is predicted that light colors will be in greater vogue during the coming winter than they were last season.

Indeed the woman of fashion is going to make a specialty of color, they tell us. It is certainly a most fascinating and interesting study in its complex influences and modistes claim that by encouraging this contemplated fad, they will experience less trouble and fair woman will be better able to understand her physical and emotional idiosyncrasies and be helped to the ways and means of developing these on the highest lines, therefore rendering more subtle the art of perfect dressing.

Very few of the summer fashions will be carried over for fall and winter use. The trend of the times is toward originality and absolute newness, with the display of exquisite taste and absence of eccentricity.

Lace gowns, and coats though will be among the few novelties of summer that will rage in winter. This is due to the fact that it is ever possible to find something unique in this line and thus the monotony of already shown designs is avoided. Gowns that are not made entirely of lace are elaborately ornamented with it and the effect is stunning.

One very dainty model in twine colored voile de sole, which by the way, is one of the latest and most popular summer fabrics, is laid in many tucks and plentifully appliqued. There is a tuck of lace on the bodice, and below this the fabric is laid in a series of narrow tucks, confined under two bands of lace. On the skirt the lace appears again with tucks which end in a flounce. A sash of flowered ribbon bordered with black is a distinct addition to such a gown.

Lace gowns made upon a foundation of chiffon, which, in turn is built over a lining of tulle, are very smart. One very smart design had the skirt composed of a tulle effect, the bottom being finished with a deep flounce of plaited chiffon edged with a narrow ruching and falling over a ruffle of silk. There was also a lace flounce overlaid upon the one of chiffon.

The bodice was made quite plain, the three materials of the skirt being used. There was a slight bloused effect at the sides, with a very decided pouce at the front and the circle was composed simply of canary colored panne velvet finished with a buckle of brilliants. The stock was formed of the velvet and lace, then at the very edge of the collar there showed a piping of pale blue satin sat, which between two folds of chiffon. Such an effect is always pleasing and ultra-smart and the model may be copied in less expensive materials with splendid results.

The cold, repellent, blue-grays are going out of style and will probably be replaced with some very soft shades of green. Many new tints in blue are also promised for early fall and winter, and a few more weeks will see them among the advanced modes of these approaching seasons.

MAUDE GRIFFIN.

The Perfect Liver Medicine.

Mrs. M. A. Jolley, Noble, O. T., writes: "I have used Herbine for a number of years, and can cheerfully recommend it as the most perfect liver medicine, and the greatest blood purifier. It is a medicine of positive merit, and fully accomplishes all that is claimed for it." Malaria cannot find a lodgment in the system while the liver is in perfect order, for one of its functions is to prevent the absorption of fever producing poisons. Herbine is a most efficient liver regulator. 50c at Cosmopolitan Pharmacy, B. Rupp.

Promotion for General Davis.

Washington, July 22.—The vacancy in the list of major generals caused by the retirement of Major General Brooke is to be filled by the promotion of Brigadier General George White. General Davis was born in Connecticut in 1839, enlisted November 27, 1861, was mustered out in 1866 with the rank of major and the next year was appointed a captain in the regular army. Nearly a quarter century passed before he attained high rank, for he became a brigadier general of volunteers only on the outbreak of the war with Spain and was raised to the same rank in the regular service in 1900. As engineer in Nicaragua and assistant engineer of the Washington monument in this city he made a reputation years ago, and he created a very favorable impression as military governor of Porto Rico in 1899-1900. As the author of several monographs on Porto Rico, General Davis made valuable contributions to the literature on that island. Appointed inspector general of the United States army in the Philippines, he was entrusted by the president with the delicate duty of re-establishing peace in Mindanao, and has made a notable record by exercise of the qualities that contributed to his success in Porto Rico.

"I am using a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and find them the best thing for my stomach I ever used," says T. W. Robinson, justice of the peace, Loomis, Mich. These tablets not only correct disorders of the bowels but regulate the liver and bowels. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggists.

Barbers Want New Laws.

Springfield, Ill., July 22.—Representative barbers from various parts of Illinois are in session at the St. Nicholas today to perfect a permanent state organization. The principal purpose of the movement is to formulate the wants of the barbers into a code which will be put before the next general assembly. One of the changes in the laws which will be requested is the abolishment of the barber schools, which are considered frauds and detrimental to the craft, and compelling the licensing of barbers.

The Same Old Story.

J. A. Kelly relates an experience similar to that which has happened in almost every neighborhood in the United States and has been told and retold by thousands of others. He says: "Last summer I had an attack of dysentery and purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used according to directions and with entire satisfactory results. The trouble was controlled much quicker than former attacks when I used other remedies." Mr. Kelly is a well known citizen of Henderson, N. C. For sale by all druggists.

Protection of Forests.

Monteagle, Tenn., July 22.—The Tennessee Forest association, which was organized at Sevierville last year to promote the forest and timber interests of Tennessee, began its second annual convention here today. Col. J. B. Kilbrew presided over the session and some of the subjects discussed were: Beautifying school and college grounds, relations between geology and forests and forests as an inspiration to culture.

WORKING FOR FAIR

Albuquerque Delegation Working Up an Interest at El Paso.

THEY ARE INTERVIEWED.

From the News, July 22.

Albuquerque is well represented in El Paso today by a delegation of her leading citizens who are here to talk fair and base ball and are stopping at the Sheldon. They are F. A. Hubbell, a capitalist and chairman of the republican territorial central committee; C. C. Hall, a merchandise broker, and Thomas Hughes, editor of The Daily Citizen. They are also directors of the Territorial Fair association, which gives such excellent entertainments at Albuquerque in the fall of each year.

The main object of the visit of these gentlemen is to induce El Paso to secure a team of league base ball players to play against one which Albuquerque is securing at the coming territorial fair. They will remain until tomorrow night.

Harry Chapman, Dr. A. K. Albers, George Ogden, St. Ryan and M. C. Edwards have charge of the base ball matter in this city and the Albuquerque delegation has been in conference with them today. Tomorrow the representatives of the two cities will canvass El Paso for the purpose of raising funds to secure the team for El Paso.

"It's a sure go," said Editor Hughes this morning, "and you can tell the people that El Paso will be there with a good team. We expect to meet with no difficulty in raising the means. El Paso people must not be discouraged by the lack of success last season, which was due to rain. The successful consummation of the scheme will be of mutual benefit to El Paso and Albuquerque and it matters not whether it is a paying venture in a direct financial way it will pay, inasmuch as a ball team for El Paso at Albuquerque will take many El Paso people to our place and will in turn result in as many Albuquerqueans coming to your carnival."

"And I wish to correct an expression made recently in an El Paso paper that Albuquerque had already secured all the best league players to be had and none were left for El Paso. While we have a man in the east securing players and he has secured some, there are plenty more to be had, and to show you that we do not mean to gobble up all the best ones and give El Paso no chance, Albuquerque agrees to give El Paso the pick of those we have secured. It is a friendly contest we want to have and we hope to have the teams of equal strength as to result in a mutual benefit to the cities."

"The plans for the ball feature of the fair are about the same this year as last. It is the intention to play the teams during the Albuquerque fair for a good purse and then play for gate receipts in El Paso."

"So far the prospects for raising the necessary funds for El Paso's team are good," said Mr. Hall, "and I haven't the least fear but what the money will be quickly guaranteed. The friendly relations existing between El Paso and Albuquerque are gratifying and they should be strengthened in every way possible. These friendly contests do much toward this and that is one reason for being so anxious to bring them about. It's a sure go; it must go, and we will not rest until the El Paso team is assured."

Messrs. Hubbell, Hall and Hughes are also enthusiastic Elks and will attend the meeting of the local lodge tonight. Matters pertaining to the trip of the "Queen Sabe Club" to Salt Lake City will be talked over at the meeting as Albuquerque will send a good delegation along with that from El Paso. Several candidates will also be initiated at tonight's meeting.

The Best Prescription for Malaria. Chills and fever is a bottle of Grove's Tasteless Chills Tonic. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure; no pay. Price, 50c.

Public Protected.

Hon. Judge Wing, of the federal court of Cleveland, has just issued a permanent injunction with costs and damages enjoining a lawyer named Goresy from the manufacture and sale of an imitation of Cascarets. Goresy imitated the boxes, the shape of the tablet and used a similar sounding name. This decision is to be commended. It is a long step in the right direction. Any dealer who will offer a substitute or say that something "is just as good" when Cascarets are called for, does it for the purpose of making a few cents extra profit, which must always be at the expense of the customer's health. Cascarets have been advertised freely in our columns and as the result of making them known, Cascarets today have the largest sale of any bowel medicine in the world. They are always packed in metal boxes with the long tall "C" on the cover and each tablet stamped "C. C. C." They are never sold in bulk or from jars. We deem it our duty to warn our readers against an imitation or substitute of this meritorious medicine, and if at any time they have ever been offered a substitute or an offer made to sell something "just as good" when Cascarets have been asked for, we will be pleased indeed to have a letter to that effect or write direct to the Sterling Remedy Co., New York or Chicago.

Sagasta Celebrates Birthday. Madrid, July 24.—Senor Sagasta, the Spanish prime minister, was the recipient of innumerable congratulations today on the occasion of his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary. The felicitations came from the young king, from the queen mother and from eminent persons in all parts of the kingdom. The venerable premier is beginning to feel the weight of his years and his desire to relinquish office and retire to private life is no secret. But Spain can ill afford to spare his services. After much hard work he has succeeded in bringing the country's finances and internal affairs into a more satisfactory condition than they have been since the war with the United States. It is interesting to recall the fact that in his youth Sagasta was one of the most vigorous revolutionists and untiring intriguer of his race. By profession he is a civil engineer, and at various times when he has been out of power in the government he has supported himself as teacher or journalist. When he was only 26 years old he was elected to the cortes. He allied himself with the liberals and twice had to flee to France for his life. His first ministry was that of the interior, under General Prim, and since then he has been prime minister time after time.

Vermont Democrats Meet.

Burlington, Vt., July 24.—Democrats of Vermont assembled in state convention here today and were called to order by R. S. Childs, of Brattleboro. A full state ticket is to be named. Indications point to the selection of F. W. McGonigle, of St. Albans as the gubernatorial nominee.

Democratic Pow Wow.

Boston, Mass., July 24.—There was an exodus of democratic politicians to Nantasket today for the big meeting and dinner of the New England Democratic league, which is to take place this afternoon and evening. The presiding officer will be Mayor Patrick A. Collins and the list of speakers embraces such prominent party leaders as William J. Bryan, Edward M. Shepard, of New York; Senator Edward W. Carmack, of Tennessee, and Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas. While the affair is intended to mark the formal opening of the congressional campaign in Massachusetts, the prominence of the speakers gives assurance that it will not be without its bearing on the national campaign two years hence.

General Porter Returns.

New York, July 24.—General Horace Porter, who has been enjoying a two months' leave of absence in this country, sailed today on La Savoie to resume his duties as United States ambassador at Paris.

Opposition to White.

West Liberty, Ky., July 24.—There is a lively contest on in the democratic congressional convention of the Tenth district in session here today. Congressman Sanford White is a candidate for renomination and is opposed by Judge Amos Davis, of Morgan, and Frank Hopkins, of Floyd.

Montana Undertakers.

Great Falls, Mont., July 24.—An interesting discussion is expected before the state undertakers' convention which began here today over the proposition of Burte members of the association for the construction of a crematorium in that city for the reduction to ashes of the bodies of deceased persons and also for the reduction of the carcasses of animals and also garbage. There is considerable sentiment against the idea of a joint crematory and a lively debate is expected. The convention is well attended, the presiding officer being E. L. Flaherty, of Helena.

Building and Loan.

Put-in-Bay, Ohio, July 24.—The second and last day's session of the annual convention of the United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations was marked by even a larger attendance than that of yesterday. President Kostmayer warned his associates that a heavy day's work was before them in order that final adjournment might be taken this evening. Jay W. Sutton of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., led off with a few notes on the practicability of the interchange of funds between state associations and James Clarence, of Philadelphia, followed with an interesting address on "The Workingman's Opportunity." Joseph F. Walton, of New Orleans, closed the forenoon session with an elaborate and able argument concerning legislation affecting building and loan associations. The speakers this afternoon included Charles W. Nagle, of Bellevue, Ky.; Theodore Seldon, of Chicago; D. Eldredge, of Boston, and F. W. Thomas, of Toledo. This evening the meeting will be brought to a close with the election of officers and the selection of a place for holding the convention next year.

A corps of surveyors of the Colorado & Gulf (Durango & Clifton) railroad are at work on Blue river, about forty miles north of Clifton. Coking coal has been found on the line between Fort Defiance and the San Juan river.

COCHITI ITEMS.

A Batch of interesting votes From the Golden District.

A correspondent at Bland, writing to the New Mexican, sends the following items of interest to that paper: J. D. May is now the sole owner of the Bland tunnel and has started work on it.

Bland turned out in full force last week to the Indian dance at Cochiti and mildly speaking, all had a hot time.

Leyba brothers have taken the contract to deliver 150 tons of ore from the Washington mine to the Woodbury mill.

E. W. Marksberry, one of our business men, made a visit to Albuquerque last week.

Lawrence Howell returned a few days ago from Mexico, glad he says, to get back to where life is a pleasure.

T. J. Jenks, superintendent of the Golden Cochiti Tunnel company, has returned and is now pushing work on the tunnel.

A well dance in the camp on Saturday night trespassed somewhat on Sunday morning, but no harm was done.

Robert Hennessey and George Buck drove to town on Saturday in the most complete up to date rig that has ever struck the camp.

S. W. Young has a deal about closed whereby the Monument claim will pass into the hands of W. S. Strickler and Geo. L. Brooks, of Albuquerque. This is a valuable claim, especially if further development is done on it.

Considerable activity as well as anxiety has been manifested at Bland during the past week, activity in getting ore to the Woodbury mill and anxiety as to its success. The mill has been running only a part of the time on account of delay in getting the dynamite which has gone astray on the road somewhere but is now expected today. After it arrives it will be put in place in a few hours as the wires are all up and every other necessary is in place. From experimental runs of last week everything looks very flattering for the mill's success, which will mean very much for this camp.

BUYING MINES.

New Yorkers Purchase Mining Group Down in Sonora.

It is announced that Phelps, Dodge & Co., of New York, have come into control of the Indiana-Sonora mining properties at La Cananea, Sonora, Mexico, adjoining those of the Green Consolidated mining companies, says a dispatch from Phoenix, Arizona.

The reported sale was confirmed by Superintendent Walter Douglas, of the Copper Queen company. The sale was negotiated by Professor James Douglas, of the Phelps-Dodge interests; and S. E. Morris, Dr. H. Jameson and Hugh McGowan, of Indianapolis representing the Indiana-Sonora Copper and Mining company.

The Phelps-Dodge company secures a majority of the stock of the Indiana company, and although the exact conditions are not known, it is known that the Phelps-Dodge people take the management.

The Indiana-Sonora company has experienced much trouble in handling the property during the past year and well comes the transfer because of the standing of the Phelps-Dodge company and its facilities for working the property.

These mines attracted attention some time ago when they were in contention of a big lawsuit. They were owned originally by L. Linsay, of Los Angeles, who gave an option on them to the Indiana people. Senator Wm. A. Clark, of Montana, became interested and made a determined fight in the courts to get possession, but failed. W. C. Greene, of the Greene Consolidated Mining company, also was a claimant, but after expensive litigation the title finally rested in the Indiana-Sonora company.

The claims amount to 100 pertenencias.

S. A. Provot, formerly of the Copper Queen smelters, will be the new superintendent.

The advent of the Phelps-Dodge company in the Cananea district will bring that section into greater prominence than ever before.

A merry crowd enjoyed a refreshing plunge in the first street natatorium yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hawkins, the manager, is making great preparations for the reception of ladies and children on Friday afternoon.

In a letter to The Citizen, Mrs. Henry Lockhart requests that her paper be stopped and that she would leave for Albuquerque in a few days. Mrs. Lockhart has been at Pagosa Hot Springs, Colo., the past few months.

Harry Johnson and wife are reveling in the smiles of a fine baby girl, which reached their home several days ago. The news of the arrival of the little lady was quietly circulated among Harry's many friends last night.

Regular meeting of Albuquerque Encomienda, No. 4, I. O. O. F., this evening at 8 o'clock. All patriarchs requested to be present. Visiting brothers cordially invited to attend. Degree work. Refreshments. D. G. Miller, scribe.

J. E. Elder, captain of the Albuquerque guards, received a postal this morning from the guards who went to San Antonio, Texas, to attend the state encampment of the Texas state militia. The postal states that they arrived at San Antonio all right and that all the boys were in good spirits.

Thad. Van Horn, traveling freight and passenger agent for the Rock Island and with headquarters at El Paso, is in the city. Mr. Van Horn, before going to El Paso, was employed in the Santa Fe office at Wichita, Kan. He is an old time friend of H. Willard Myers, cashier at the local Santa Fe freight depot.

J. W. Adams, of the Adams Printing company, of Pine Bluff, Ark., after journeying here for the past few months, expects to leave for his old Arkansas home Sunday morning. He will return in the fall, and rumor has it that he will then begin the publication of a democratic Sunday morning weekly newspaper in this city.

Martin-Oelrichs Wedding.

Newport, R. I., July 24.—Miss Lily Oelrichs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Oelrichs, and Peter D. Martin, of San Francisco, were married shortly after noon today in old St. Joseph's church. More than 1,000 guests, including many representatives of the ultra-fashionable society of New York, witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Louis J. Deady, pastor of the church. The musical service was elaborate including selections by the church choir and the Casino orchestra. The ushers, four in number, led the procession to the altar. They were Reginald Ronalds, Philip Lydig and Charles and Henry Oelrichs. The bridegroom's brother acted as best man. He and the ushers wore frock coats and trousers of dark gray, with double-breasted white plique waistcoats. Following the ushers came the matrons of honor, Mrs. Henry O. Havemeyer, Jr., and Mrs. Cameron McR Winslow.

The bride was accompanied by her father, who gave her away. The bride's gown was of the heaviest ivory-white satin, covered with white chiffon, except in front. Here, narrowing to the waist and again widening to the hem of the skirt, the outer material was lace, hand sewed, with large pearls and satin flowers. At either side of the center piece and clear around, the chiffon was tucked over the whole surface of both waist and skirt. At the top of the bodice was used an old point venetian lace, loaned by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, by whom it had been used as a wedding veil. The bridal veil was fastened with diamonds to the bride's hair, upon which rested also a wreath of orange blossoms. The spectacle of the bridal party passed up the aisle was most imposing and presented one of the most beautiful pictures ever seen in the historic old edifice. The display of gowns and jewels worn by some of the fashionable women present excelled anything ever seen in Newport. The decorations of the church were elaborate and beautiful. Baskets of asparagus, ferns and other delicate foliage were suspended from the ceiling, and the windows were banded with palms and other tropical plants.

After the ceremony the guests went over to the cottage of the bride's parents in K street, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served by Sherry. The tables had been made in a large addition which had been made to the cottage. Throughout the breakfast and the reception, Mulally's orchestra furnished exquisite music. Late this afternoon the bridal couple departed from Newport on a steam yacht. After a brief trip they will return to this city to spend the remainder of the season.

Very pretty gifts were made to the attendants. The matrons of honor received dainty gold purses and the ushers and best man scarves of gold and pearls in the form of a horseshoe. These souvenirs were encased in boxes of white satin, marked in gilt with the date of the wedding. The wedding presents were shown without cards and occupied several rooms of the cottage. They consisted of costly and rare jewels, works of art and bric-a-brac of every description.

The bride of today is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Oelrichs, and a niece of Hermann Oelrichs, who married the rich Jessie Fair of San Francisco. She is 21, tall, stately and a blonde. Though her parents are at the top of the social ladder they are not wealthy, comparatively speaking. Mr. Martin is, however, possessed of great wealth in his own right, which is in the form of valuable real estate in California, ranches in the west and gold mines in Colorado, all of which came to him from his deceased father, Edward Martin, who was one of the early pioneers of California and president of the First National bank of San Francisco.

CONSECRATION TOMORROW.

Archbishop Peter Bourgade will be assisted by Bishops Matz and Granjon and Sixty Priests.

The consecration of Rev. J. B. Pitaval to be auxiliary bishop of the diocese of Santa Fe will take place tomorrow morning at the cathedral, at the territorial capital, the ceremonies to begin at 9 o'clock sharp. Tickets to the consecration are on sale at the office of Vicar General Anthony Fourchegu and the cathedral. The consecration will be Most Rev. Peter Bourgade, archbishop of Santa Fe, assisted by Right Rev. N. Matz, bishop of Denver, and Right Rev. H. Granjon, bishop of Tucson. Between fifty and sixty priests will take part in the ceremony, coming from the dioceses of Santa Fe, Denver and Tucson. A procession of the clergy will be organized at 8:30 a. m. and will accompany the ushers from the archiepiscopal residence to the cathedral. Rev. H. Ponget, of East Las Vegas, will preside at the organ. On account of its ritual grandeur, the consecration of a Catholic bishop can not but make a deep impression upon all those who witness it, irrespective of creed or opinion.

Coming from Colorado.

The Denver Republican says: Several members of the local Catholic clergy, besides a number of laymen will go to Santa Fe, N. M., to attend the consecration of Rev. Father Pitaval, which has been set for Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock. Father Pitaval was formerly pastor at Aspen and Durango. He has just been chosen by the pope as auxiliary to Archbishop Bourgade of the diocese of Santa Fe.

Several bishops from Colorado will be present at the consecration, among them Bishop N. C. Matz of this diocese. Besides the bishop there will go from Denver Rev. P. A. Phillips, chancellor of the diocese; Rev. Henry Robinson, vicar general; Rev. William O'Ryan, Rev. Joseph P. Carrigan and Father Malone. Father servant will go from Silver Cliff. Father Dessaulier from Central City and Father Rivallier from Glenwood Springs.

Among many other presents which Father Pitaval will receive is one from the priests of Denver, who are preparing an elaborate chain and pectoral cross. It is being made in Denver and will be a handsome testimonial. His old parishioners in Durango will present him with a very fine episcopal ring. Several of the local clergy started for Santa Fe last night and the remainder will go today.

Although not entirely unexpected, the news cabled from Rome yesterday that Rev. Father J. A. Keane, of Minneapolis had received the appointment from the pope to the bishopric of Cheyenne, created some surprise in local Catholic circles. Two priests who had been mentioned and their names submitted to Rome as candidates for the high office were Father Yorke, at present a guest in the city, and Father Robinson, vicar general. Father Yorke received the unanimous support of the priests of the diocese of Cheyenne for the office, while at one time Father Robinson's name was strongly urged for the bishopric.

Cards of Thanks.

I, wife of Henry Fisher, deceased, wish to thank the ladies of the Ladies Home Mission Society of the Highland Methodist Episcopal church, the members of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and the local order of railroad switchmen, for the kindness received in my late bereavement. I also thank the local railroad employees for the flowers contributed.

MRS. JENNIE FISHER.

On Tuesday afternoon, August 5, at the home of the bride's brother in Kansas City, Miss Jessie Marie McMillan and Prof. Andrew Benton Stroup, the newly elected superintendent of schools here, will be married. Miss McMillan lived here for three years and taught in the public schools. Both have many friends who will rejoice in their happiness.

A letter received at this office the other day from Captain Jack Crawford, the poet scout at San Marcial, has been turned over to J. W. Edwards, the Grand Army commander. It concerns another one-man entertainment in this city.

George W. Kneibel, a prominent attorney of Santa Fe, who has been transacting business in the city the past few days, returned home last night.

E. L. Wanshurn, the Second street clothier, believes in taking a rest from business cares once in a while, and last night he left for his old home in Massachusetts. He will be absent about a month, and while away he will purchase the fall and winter stock of goods for his store.

Base Ball Aspirants.

Col. R. E. Twitchell is after the scalps of the Albuquerque and Santa Fe base ball teams. He has secured the ball grounds for the season and is getting a team together. In a short time Raton, Albuquerque and Santa Fe will be invited to meet their doom like little men—Los Vegas Record.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

Kansas City, Mexico & Orient Railway is Booming.

Chihuahua, Mex., July 24.—Construction work on the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railway is being continued steadily at three distinct points in the republic of Mexico. The track from Chihuahua east reached a point on the river opposite the town of Aldama and as soon as the bridge is in order trains will be running to that place.

Contractors are now working on the second fifty kilometre, from Chihuahua east and according to the terms of contract, must complete the work by October 1 next. The company hopes to have trains running from this city to a point 100 kilometers east by October 15 next. The company purchased two vessels, one sail boat and one steamer, to transport the material from Guaymas to Port Billwell. About 100 kilometers of grading has been constructed from the coast this way.

American Pilgrims.

Rome, July 24.—The pope today received the American pilgrims, headed by Rev. E. H. Porcile, of Brooklyn, N. Y. The party aggregated 200 persons. The pontiff was greeted with hearty cheers. The pilgrims presented the pope with $1,000. The pope stood and bestowed the apostolic benediction on the pilgrims. The pontiff retired amid cries of "Long live Leo, God bless the old man."

M'KINLEY CLUB.

Organized in Old Town—New Officers Elected.

The McKinley republican club of Old Albuquerque was on Tuesday evening last, reorganized for the present political campaign with the following officers: Nestor Montoya, president, Modesto C. Ortiz, vice-president, Thomas Werner, secretary, and Judge S. Bernio Crollott, sergeant at arms and organizer. The first regular meeting of the club will take place on the first Sunday in August, when new members will be added to the already large list. The club will take a very active part in the approaching campaign.

T. A. North, of Cerrillos, is in the city.

EXPRESS ROBBERY.

American Artists Make a Haul on Mexican Central.

The local express office has received information of an express robbery on the Mexican Central railroad.

The El Paso Herald's special dispatch from Chihuahua says, The Mexican Central train bound for El Paso and due there tonight, was held up near Hermosillo yesterday by three Americans, who secured what is estimated as $53,000 from the Wells-Fargo express messenger.

The Americans boarded the train and quarreled with the conductor about his ticket. The train was stopped for the purpose of ejecting him, when two accomplices boarded the express car, covered the messenger and compelled him to give up his funds. The members of the train crew were taken unaware and the robbers secured their booty and made their escape, without any trouble. Nobody was injured, as a very few of the passengers knew what was happening until the robbery had been committed and the escape of the robbers completed.

A DEMOCRATIC THREAT.

They Will Oppose Statehood for Certain Reasons.

The following special telegram from Las Vegas appeared in the Denver Republican, July 22:

"O. N. Marron, chairman of the democratic central committee of the territory, has issued a call for a meeting of the committee in Albuquerque August 2. At this meeting will come an important question affecting statehood. It will be proposed at the meeting that if the democrats are not allowed a representative on the boards of election this fall, the party will oppose the admission of the territory to the union."

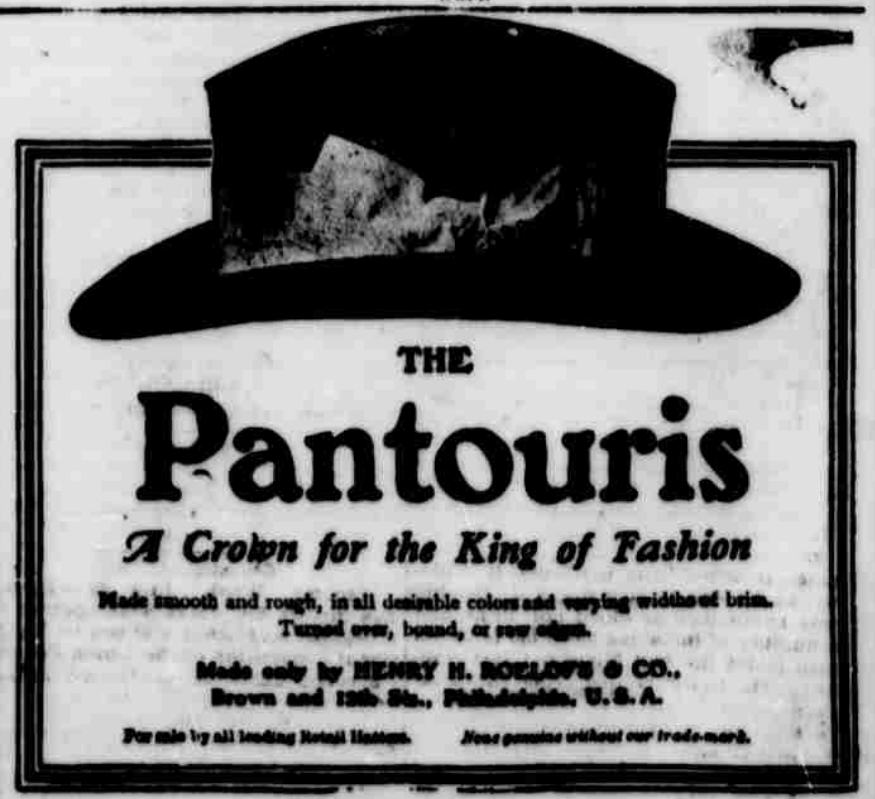

The above telegram and an editorial in the Las Vegas Optic was called to the attention of Mr. Marron this morning, and he acknowledged that he would propose to the democratic party throughout the territory, at the forthcoming central committee meeting, to oppose statehood if the republicans did not allow the democrats representation on the registration and election boards.

Speaking for this county, the democrats have always had representation on the two boards.

LIVELY TIME.

L. Gradi and C. Grande Led a Strenuous Life.

The efficient committee of the C. Colombo society, L. Gradi and C. Grande, who worked hard and faithfully for the success of the recent picnic, went out yesterday to settle up bills so they could view the work as well done. They were driving Mr. Grande's small pony which behaved well until going up Railroad avenue, when it commenced to sprint. Soon after the rubber tired buggy passed Second street the pony sighted the narrow passageway between a delivery wagon and the sidewalk. It went in, but as the buggy was over two feet wide it did not. The buggy stopped, the two members of the committee went on for a short distance, the pony tried to climb a telephone pole or two but no one was hurt.

LAS VEGAS

Will Have a Plaza Fountain—Suit for Deed to Certain Lands.

DEATH ON TRAIN.

Special Correspondence.

Las Vegas, N. M., July 22.—The plans for the fine fountain in the plaza have been accepted by the committee and the bronze work ordered cast. The fountain is to be situated in the center of the plaza in a stone and cement basin sixteen feet in diameter. The fountain is to be made of bronze and will cost about $1,000. I. H. and W. H. Rapp are the architects and have the order for the design which will be made in New York. The base of the fountain is four feet across, square and will have twenty-seven water jets. A Grecian fluted column extends thirteen and a half feet high and will be surmounted with a sixteen inch glass globe, in which will be six electric lights. The design is a special one by the architects and the plan may be seen at Davis & Sydes'. It will take about sixty days for the making of the bronze work and the fountain cannot be completed before the latter part of autumn.

Ransom & Thomas have brought suit against James L. Wells to acquire a deed to certain land situated in this county that the plaintiff had given an order for to the defendant. The plaintiff gave Mr. Wells $100, he alleges, with which to make an advance payment on certain land that Mr. Wells was to purchase for him. When the land was purchased Mr. Wells declined to turn the deed over to plaintiff, and he now brings action to compel him to release the deed to him.

There is a continuous round of social gaiety being for this week. Mrs. John Robbins entertains tonight, Mrs. F. H. Pierce tomorrow night, Mrs. J. A. Dick entertains at cards Thursday afternoon, Mrs. William J. Mills gives a luncheon on Friday and Mrs. W. B. Hunker finishes up the week with a trolley euchre Saturday afternoon.

O. L. Houghton took H. A. Jones, the general freight agent for the Southern Pacific, and his wife to El Porvenir for a sojourn.

E. L. Browne's baby has been quite sick, but is much better today.

Grand Chancellor Kilpatrick, of the Knights of Pythias, returned home to Madrid today from a trip to Blossburg, where he organized a new Knights of Pythias lodge.

J. W. Sligar returned to Indianapolis today after a visit here with his wife, Oliver Heath, of the same city, accompanied him.

John Shreck has resigned his position as machinist and has gone to Denver.

As train No. 8 was nearing Thornton last night the spark of life fled from R. C. Thacker, of Conover, Ohio. The deceased, in company with his young wife and Mrs. Edgar G. Breckert, her mother, were returning home from a trip to Flagstaff, Arizona, where they went through only a week ago, and the sick man grew so much worse that the young wife decided to return and let him die among friends at home. The remains were taken off the train here last night and prepared for burial by Undertaker Deane and were shipped to Conover on train No. 2.

Considerable wool is coming in to market today. Some of it was caught in the rain en route and soaked. It means a big job of drying here and delay for the freighters.

The old ties from the old street railway here are being picked out of the old road bed and the street gotten in shape for the new trolley line.

The business men along Sixth street in the neighborhood of Fox & Harris' yesterday evening had considerable excitement. A lady living in the south part of the city went into one of the butcher shops and accused the man of making sausage of her pet dog. She was badly intoxicated and was driving a team of ponies. The butcher tried to put her out, couldn't and called Marshal Curtright. When he came up to arrest her she started the team up the street at a good rate and it was a race for a few blocks. The marshal overtook her at Lincoln avenue and got her into his buggy and took her to the city jail, where last night her husband came and got her and took her home. The fellows around town are having considerable fun with Marshal Curtright over his having to act as maid to the lady, as her apparel was loosening and falling off. He did the job up right, though, and evidently has had experience. It was a pitiful sight to see a woman in the condition this woman was.

The cavalry company are figuring on a big time next Sunday. They will go to Trout springs and spend the day picnicking and drilling. They will go out mounted.

Grand Master Kelley, of the Odd Fellows, is expected here from Socorro next Monday on his annual tour of inspection of the lodges over the territory. The local lodge will make arrangements for entertaining him while in the city.

Mrs. John Robbins will entertain a number of friends tonight at her home.

Josefina Esquibel was yesterday appointed guardian of Rosario Esquibel, one of the patients at the insane asylum. An effort is being made to get a pension from the government for the girl, as her father was an old Indian fighter. Probate court adjourned until the first Monday in August.

P. P. Wells et al have transferred to James P. McDonald 3,207 acres of land in township 18, this county. Consideration, $2,000.

Petrilino Lucero, one of the prominent native county politicians and ex-county commissioner, passed to his reward this morning at 9:30. He had his hand injured about two weeks ago by a horse stepping on it, but gave little attention to the injury until the arm began to swell and pain him. He then came to town from his home in Villavieja to see a doctor. The trouble was announced as blood poisoning and a number of incisions were made in his arm to let the bad blood out last Sunday. He never rallied from the sickness and this morning died. The deceased was a very well known man, well liked, and leaves a family. His remains will be taken to his home at Villavieja tonight, and the burial will be from there.

Knowlton & Bolan, contractors, have brought suit against A. S. Good & Co. and the Dawson railway to acquire judgment in the sum of $2,905. The plaintiffs have a lien on some of the property and desire to foreclose.

Bitten by a Snake.
J. P. McNulty, of Turquesa, who left Santa Fe for Cerrillos yesterday counts himself a lucky Irishman. He is still suffering excruciating pain from the rattlesnake bite inflicted on him several weeks ago at Turquesa. At that time half of his body was swollen to unusual proportions and it looked as if he had been done for, but now he is out of danger, although his principal wound is still discharging matter. The snake that bit Mr. McNulty was three and a half feet long and as thick around as a man's forearm. The snake was killed by Mr. McNulty's youngest daughter stamping it on the head. Years ago snakes were plentiful around Turquesa, but the snake that bit him was the first and only snake thus far seen by Mr. McNulty this year. It had bitten one of the dogs before it bit Mr. McNulty.

Killed by Lightning Stroke.
News reached the city of the killing of Charles Martin by lightning near Tucumcari. Martin was sitting within a small brick house one mile south of Tucumcari during a heavy thunder storm. A bolt of lightning struck him in the head passing through to his foot and tearing off the heel of his shoe. Death was instantaneous, but the body was not discovered until the following day. Martin was a young man and had come to New Mexico from Texas. He had been working for the railroad contractors.

Missouri Editors.
Kansas City, Mo., July 23.—The Missouri Press association began its thirty-sixth annual meeting at the Coates house today with a good attendance. The sessions will conclude tomorrow afternoon and in the evening the members will leave on an excursion to Denver and Colorado Springs. Some of the subjects discussed today were rural mail delivery and the country press, the country editor, and what the press can do to help the schools.

Colorado Fruit Growers.
Boulder, Colo., July 23.—Well known fruit growers from many parts of the state thronged the court house this morning at the opening of the first midsummer meeting of the Colorado State Horticultural society. The members were welcomed by R. H. Whiteley, to whose address response was made by J. S. McClelland, of Fort Collins. This afternoon the delegates assembled at W. L. Scott's orchard, east of the state university, and witnessed a practical demonstration of spraying conducted by Prof. W. L. Pandcock. W. H. Barnes, secretary of the Kansas Horticultural society, is slated to address the convention this evening.

North Dakota Republicans.
Fargo, N. D., July 23.—The republican state convention is in session here today. It is the largest ever held in North Dakota, being 744 delegates in attendance. The convention will name a full state ticket to be voted for at the fall election. The re-nomination of Governor White and Lieutenant Governor Bartlett is assured, leaving only several of the minor places on the ticket to be contested. The resolutions will unequivocally endorse the policy of the Roosevelt administration.

Oil Well Progress.
The drill at the oil well is steadily hammering away and it will not be very long until it is demonstrated whether or not oil is that place. At 8 o'clock last night the hole was 1,330 feet deep and in the same shale as was encountered at thirty-five feet from the surface. It is now believed that this strata of shale will be pierced at a depth of about 2,000 feet, when it is hoped oil sands will be struck and spouter No. 1 of the oil fields of Raton will be in existence.—Raton Reporter.

Convicted Murderer Again in Custody.
Warden Martin of the Colorado state penitentiary at Canon City left Trinidad with Jack Medill, who murdered his wife in Trinidad in February, 1900. He was shortly afterwards taken to the penitentiary under a sentence of not less than ten nor more than sixty years. Last April he escaped from the penitentiary and all trace of him was lost until a few days ago when he was captured by a deputy sheriff near Clayton, N. M.

Medill was working on a ranch near Clayton and going under an assumed name. At the time he made his escape he was a trusty around the penitentiary and in all probability would have been discharged in a few years. He will undoubtedly get the full sixty years now. Medill said he was glad he had been captured as he had suffered considerably since his escape from the penitentiary.

Falls Heir to Fortune.
Alex. Simpson, bookkeeper in the office of William Fitch, chief clerk in the El Paso & Southwestern general offices at El Paso, has just received word from Glasgow, Scotland, that an aunt died there a month ago leaving a large estate, of which he comes in for about $50,000. Mr. Simpson was born in Glasgow, but has been in this country about fourteen years. He has not yet learned what it will be necessary for him to do before he gets his inheritance, but he will probably take a trip to Glasgow.

Christian Union.
Tacoma, Wash., July 23.—Tacoma has thrown her doors wide open to the delegates and other visitors to the national convention of the Union People's Christian church, which began its sessions today. Since the first of the week delegates have been arriving on every train and the total attendance is estimated in excess of 2,000. Nearly every state and territory is represented and among the visitors are many eminent divines and other speakers who will address the convention.

The freight business on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad keeps up regularly and well. Much of this freight consists of timber and lumber for the Santa Fe Central railway.

The El Paso News says: J. S. Horton has returned from Albuquerque whither he went on account of the serious illness of his wife, who is spending some time there. He left Mrs. Horton much improved.

Today W. H. Bell succeeds T. A. Herlow, resigned, as agent of the Wells-Fargo Express company in Santa Fe. Mr. Bell is from Albuquerque.

Harry Folsom, former night yardmaster in the local yards, left this morning for his old home at Emporia, Kan. Mr. Folsom was compelled to resign his position here because of Mrs. Folsom's health.

J. E. Gilmerson, formerly in the employ of the Harvey eating house in this city, will have charge of the new Harvey eating house at Lincoln. The house will be ready for business next Monday.

There was a train of old Santa Fe engines went east Sunday afternoon, having been sold some weeks ago to a Chicago railroad supply house as scrap material. Most of them are of a small switcher type which have done good service at different points on the road, but they have been worn out and superseded by larger power. Some of them were built a good many years ago, as the fact that on one or two are the old fashioned diamond stacks, would indicate. Their numbers are 2223, 2229, 0173, 2241, 2394, 3175, 2231, 2232 and 0226.

At Marceline, Mo., the Santa Fe has completed a coal chute and will put it in operation in a short time. At Raton, N. M., one has been begun but there has been a delay in finishing it because the carpenters who worked on the job were called off for other duties. The Topeka chute is also idle, although completed several days ago, owing to the inability of the company to get hold of hopper bottom cars by means of which only the fuel can be handled. All of these are the new style gravity chutes, which the Santa Fe began building at different points on the system some months ago and which have been giving complete satisfaction.

An Act of Special Interest.
An act of congress passed June 27, 1902, is of special interest to many old timers in New Mexico. This act amended the act of July 27, 1892, and gives a service pension of $8 per month to the survivors of the Indian wars in Texas and New Mexico from 1849 to 1856. The act also applies to the widows of such survivors, providing they have not remarried. During the war with the Southern Utes in Colorado in 1885, four companies were mustered in the service from Santa Fe, commanded by Captains W. S. Cunningham, Manuel Chavez, Miguel E. Pino and Charles Deus. Two companies were raised in Taos commanded by Captains Charles Williams and Francisco Gonzales. Old soldiers who served in these companies now drawing less than $8 per month are entitled to the full rate.

Unnatural Bumps.
An exchange says that a woman wouldn't be satisfied without an unnatural bump on her somewhere. For a time the bump sufficed. The big sleeve with an unnatural bump on her shoulder came next, but did not last long. The bump then moved from shoulder to cuff. Just now it is the fad to wear a shirt waist that looks as if a peck of apples had been dumped into it in front.

FUND GUARANTEED.
El Paso Will be Represented by Strong Base Ball Teams. Special to The Citizen.

El Paso, July 24.—Guarantee fund subscribed and base ball team from El Paso assured. It is certain this city will have a strong team at the territorial fair.

SAM BROWNE WANTED.
Gertrude Browne, of This City, Failed to Meet Him.

Gertrude Browne, a 5 year old miss of this city, is looking for her brother, Sam Browne, in El Paso. Mrs. George Weigle, of El Paso, passed through here a day or two ago on her way home from a visit to Denver. When the train reached here two ladies got on the train and turned over to her care little Gertrude Browne, saying her brother, Sam Browne, would meet her in El Paso. He failed to do so, and the little girl is at Mrs. Weigle's home, 404 North Oregon street, El Paso. Sam Brown has not been located.

Mrs. O. H. Scott left this morning for an extended visit with friends and relatives at Kansas City, St. Louis and other points in Missouri. She expects to be absent from the city about six weeks.

STRONG IS ABROAD.
He Denies that He Pawned May Yohe's Jewels.

New York, July 24.—A special from London to an afternoon paper says Putnam Bradley Strong was arrested at Southampton today on the St. Paul, sailing under an assumed name.

In an interview he acknowledged his identity and denied positively the charge that he pawned May Yohe's jewels. Lay Yohe, who formerly was the wife of Lord Francis Hope, sailed for Europe today on the Fugate Salina.

VICTORY FOR GATES.
Colorado Fuel & Iron Books Open to Him.

New York, July 24.—Justice Ernest Hanm, in the supreme court today, decided that Arthur J. Singer, representing the firm of Harris, Gates & Co., may see the transfer books and stock books, stock ledger, and any other books or papers of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company in possession of the Knickerbocker Trust company, Atlantic Trust company and Charles E. Phelps, assistant secretary and treasurer of the company.

Greatly Pleased.
G. C. Weitzel of Columbus Ohio, a heavy stockholder in the Jevia Trias Copper company was here yesterday on his way back from the property. He is greatly pleased with the property and the prospects of development.

Rev. Herman J. Powell, pastor of the First Baptist church, has returned to the city after a visit of several months among relatives and friends of Michigan and Illinois.

Navajo Blankets.
A daring robbery was committed on Tuesday night, some time after 10 o'clock, when some thief stole two fine Navajo blankets from the north of C. K. Newhall's residence at 108 South Arno street. The blankets were just recently bought by Mr. Newhall and he is unable to describe them. They are choice patterns and cost considerable money. The owner is unable to offer any suggestion as to who the thief might be. The police have been unable to locate the blankets or the thief.

Capital punishment seems to be losing its grip in this country. An eastern writer of rag-time airs recently apprehended was given but a short jail sentence.

The farmers are getting bigger prices for what they have to sell than for many years and yet they are having a hard time to keep their heads above water in some places in Kansas, Missouri and other states.

The announcement that the president is preparing to secure legislation which will permit of federal supervision of the trusts has robbed the democrats of their last campaign issue. It is not surprising that they are seeking to discredit it.

The great oil fire in Louisiana was snuffed out by the application of a tremendous cloud of steam directed at high pressure from nine boilers. A similar experiment might be tried on Mount Pelee and on the anarchist conferences at Paterson, N. J.

The better class of colored citizens of Colorado Springs, Colo., are up in arms over certain minstrel shows which have been "pulled off" in that city recently. The other afternoon a mass meeting of colored citizens was held in St. John's Baptist church, at which resolutions were passed condemning the action and protesting against a repetition of such performances in that city.

When the little vessels built as reproduction of Columbus' squadron were exhibited at the Chicago fair the visitors marveled that the Spanish adventurers undertook to sail so far in ships so small. Yet Captain Newman and his son are now crossing the Atlantic in a launch thirty-eight feet long and going at a good gait. Vessels that have just come in met the Abel Abbot Lowe when she had gone 875 miles and was traveling at the rate of a hundred miles a day.

Since the abolition of the canteen, disorder in the regular army has greatly increased, drunkenness is very much worse, and desertions have multiplied. One of the first things the next session of congress should do is to restore the canteen. The practical demonstrations of the effect of its absence during the past few months are enough to overcome any amount of theoretical argument. The experiment ought never to have been tried, for the almost universal verdict of army men was against it; but now that it has been tried and failed utterly there is no further excuse for its continuance.

"Quien Sabe" Club to Go via the Union Pacific.
General Agent Griffin, of the Union Pacific, has been notified that that road has been selected as one of the lines of the official route picked out by the "Quien Sabe" club, comprised of the lodges from El Paso, New Mexico and Arizona, representing the southwest, to the meeting of the grand lodge, B. P. O. E., at Salt Lake City. The Santa Fe will be used to Denver. From there the Union Pacific will be used, and the Denver—Rio Grande returning. The club is coming in full ranchero suits and outfit secured from Old Mexico. The leader's outfit is valued at $1,000.

The committee, L. T. Bryant, J. H. Adams, George Ogden and J. J. Sheridan, give the following itinerary: "Our train will leave El Paso, Texas, at 9:15 p. m. August 7; Albuquerque 8:30 a. m. August 8; arriving at Colorado Springs at 6:40 a. m. August 9. Leave Colorado Springs 1 p. m. August 9, arrive Denver 3:15 p. m. August 9, stop at Denver until 1 p. m. August 10, when our cars are to be attached to the 'Elks' Special' train, stop to be made at Cheyenne, Wyo., sufficient time to give greetings to our Wyoming brothers."—Denver Republican.

"Jag Artists."
Four beautiful jaggs got off No. 1 today and disgusted the crowd at the depot with a few antics. They were bound for Albuquerque.—Las Vegas Record.

If the Las Vegas "Jag Artists" get too gay in this city, it is a safe bet to make that City Marshal McMillin and his lieutenants will have them in the city hall before they become too thoroughly disgusting to decent people.

LEPER SU WAH.

He is Turned Loose in Juarez, Mexico, From Where He Escaped.

UNPLEASANT JOB ACCOMPLISHED

C. M. Foraker, United States marshal, and James Smith, the deputy sheriff who contracted to see the leper, Su Wah, safely in Juarez, Mexico, from whence the Chinaman came, returned to the city this morning, and Mr. Smith says that "his freight ride to El Paso, with Su Wah in charge of the furniture car and he attempting to take life as easy as possible in a way that was a slow train, was by all odds the most tiresome ride he ever took in his life." He don't want to make many more 300-mile rides on a freight train.

The El Paso Herald has the following article on the arrival of the leper in that city:

Su Wah, alias Chau Fo, the Chinese leper, has been deported, but not to the Flowery Kingdom across the water. He is now in the land whence he came to Uncle Sam's domain.

This morning Su Wah's private box car that has been his domicile at Albuquerque for some weeks, arrived here as a part of a Santa Fe freight train.

Su Wah was properly escorted by United States officials and was met on his arrival by Charles Meehan, Chinese immigration inspector, with an old wagon. Su was put into it and quietly and without any stir or ostentation, driven to the old laundry near the Sierra Madre depot in Juarez, and dumped out.

He is now in the place where he came from and he will likely stay there to be disposed of as the Mexican authorities see fit. The Chinaman is in horrible shape, and all handaged up. Mr. Meehan says he had no curiosity to examine him, but got rid of his job as quickly as possible.

This Chinaman is the same one who came here from Juarez some weeks ago and for whom the government immigration authorities and the police searched so diligently. He dropped out of sight so thoroughly for a time that many believed there was no leper about either this place or Juarez. Suddenly he turned up in Albuquerque and the question has been what was to be done about it. Su was ordered deported some time ago and the order was executed this morning about 10 o'clock.

Dr. Race, the city health officer, has been notified that the box car is here and the next question is what to do with it.

United States Marshal C. M. Foraker of Albuquerque, came down yesterday and will return tonight. His deputy, J. H. Smith, came in on the freight train this morning in charge of the leper. The train arrived about 5 a. m.

Marshal Foraker when asked about the case, said: "Su Wah has been a great care to us up at Albuquerque but we had to care for him just the same. The government first ordered him deported to China, but the Southern Pacific would not receive him, nor would the steamship companies.

"Then the order was changed to deportation to Mexico at Juarez, where the leper came from. He had been in Mexico for two years before he came here. He has not only been a great care to us but he has cost the government about $500 or more. We had to keep two guards at his car at $5 per day and pay the railroad company $1 per day demurrage on the box car. The Santa Fe charged $156 for bringing him down here."

Deputy Marshal Smith has had immediate charge of the leper in Albuquerque and speaking of his experience, said: "I fed him with a long pole with a hook on the end of it. I had two buckets, one for water and one for tea, and I would reach these and his food in a paper bag into the car by means of the stick."

"When I got here this morning I came up town and I got some crutches for my patient. Mr. Meehan got a Mexican and his wagon to haul him over the line, but when he saw the Chinaman he balked. Then another one was gotten and he took the fellow over. We did not tell the driver what we had, but warned him to touch nothing and told him the Chinaman was hurt in a wreck."

"I went with Mr. Meehan over the river to deport the man and we completed the job about 10 o'clock and I breathe freely now that I am rid of the job."

Marshal Foraker and Deputy Smith kept their movements thoroughly quiet as they feared the Texas health officers would interfere.

Mr. Foraker came in yesterday and not even the gentlemen from Albuquerque who are here in the interests of the territorial fair knew anything about it.

New the interesting problem is, what will the Mexicans do with him?

Dr. Race, the city health officer, was seen this morning and asked about what would be done with the car. The doctor said: "I have sent two men down to burn the Chinaman's effects and to fumigate the car. It is a very simple proposition, and sulphur burnt in the car will thoroughly cleanse it from danger."

The doctor, speaking of the disease, said: "The worry of people and their great fear from leprosy comes wholly from legend that has come down to us through the ages. It is an infectious disease like syphilis and is gotten by contact with the virus in the same way. While it is incurable there is not the danger from it that people imagine. Diphtheria is many times more dangerous and I would much rather treat a patient with leprosy, as far as contagion is concerned."

Actual contact with the virus is the way the disease is contracted and persons have been known to live for years with lepers and not contract the disease.

There is a leper hospital at Tradacade, New Brunswick, where the Sisters of Charity have cared for these unfortunate people, and it is a record fact that not one of the sisters has ever contracted the disease.

There is a small colony of them, about forty in number, a short distance from New Orleans. They live there by themselves. India has a quarter of a million of lepers, and there are a great many places in the world where the disease is found. The island of Molokai, one of the Sandwich Islands, is used for nothing else.

"I can assure people that there is no danger and if they will not consider the legends of old there is no reason for alarm."

In the course of some litigation in New Jersey recently, the fact was made public that Bertram Cutler is the largest individual stockholder of record in the United States Steel corporation. For a day or two Wall street wondered who this was that owned 123,975 shares of United States Steel preferred and 25,365 shares of steel common. He was finally located as a stenographer and typewriter for John D. Rockefeller and his salary is $18 a week. The stock standing in his name is said to be worth about $20,000,000.

GROWTH OF ALASKA.

By reason of the application of modern systems of travel and transportation, notes Bradstreet's, Alaska is now as accessible as Arizona. Gold, fish and furs are the principal industries of Alaska, and $15,000,000 worth of these products, $8,000,000 of gold, $6,000,000 of fish—chiefly salmon and the remainder furs—are sent to the United States proper annually. The cost of Alaska was $7,200,000. The revenue which the government has derived from it since its purchase amounts to over $9,000,000, and the value of the products is now twice as much every year as it cost. The total value of the products of Alaska brought to the United States since its purchase is, according to the best estimates that the bureau of statistics is able to make, about $150,000,000, of which $50,000,000 is precious metals, $50,000,000 products of the fisheries, chiefly salmon, and $50,000,000 more furs, chiefly seal furs. Probably $50,000,000 of American capital are invested in Alaskan industries and business enterprises, including transportation systems. In the salmon fisheries alone the companies have a capitalization of $22,000,000, and the value of their plants, including vessels, is given at $12,000,000. In the mining industries there are large investments—the great quartz mill at Juneau being the largest quartz stamp mill in the world, while several other quartz mills represent large investments. With the inflow of capital, the development of transportation systems and the gold discoveries has come the building up of towns and the development of cities with modern conveniences of life. Nome City, which is located but a comparatively short distance south of the Arctic circle, has now a population of over 12,000; postal facilities have been so extended that the number of postoffices is now about sixty, and mails are being regularly delivered north of the Arctic circle.

EL PASO TO MEMPHIS.

Via El Paso-Rock Island Road and the Choctaw.

Commencing at once the following schedule will be in effect from El Paso to Memphis via the El Paso-Rock Island route, Dalhart, Amarillo and the Choctaw route:

Leave El Paso 8 p. m., mountain time.

Arrive at Dalhart 12:35 p. m., central time.

Leave Dalhart at 12:45 p. m., central time.

Arrive at Amarillo at 3:55 p. m., central time.

Leave Amarillo at 4:15 p. m., central time.

Arrive at Oklahoma at 2:40 a. m., central time.

Arrive at South McAllister at 6:35 a. m., central time.

Arrive at Little Rock at 3:20 p. m., central time.

Arrive at Memphis at 7:35 p. m., central time.

Making the run from El Paso to Memphis in forty-six hours and thirty-five minutes, which is the quickest time ever made from El Paso to Memphis.

The Choctaw route occupies joint passenger depot at Memphis with following lines, viz: Illinois Central, K. C. M. & B.; N. C. & St. L.; Louisville & Nashville; St. Louis—San Francisco; Yazoo & Mississippi Valley.

Direct connections are made in Memphis with all night trains to the south and southeast, making this route far preferable in all respects, there being no transfer in Memphis.

We will appreciate all favors shown this new line in the way of representation and patronage.

A. N. BROWN, G. P. A., EL PASO, TEXAS.

Conductors Strike Gold.—J. W. Stough, of Argentine, is in receipt of a letter from William Nash and J. F. Foster, who are at Baker, Idaho, in the Thunder Mountain district, stating that they had staked on three claims which were producing gold quartz paying $400 to $500 a ton. Nash and Foster are Santa Fe conductors on a three months' leave of absence, who were grubstaked by Stough and eleven other Argentine business men. The claims are forty miles from the Dewey mine.

Strikers at Work.—The holtermaker apprentices who went out on a strike with the holtermakers at San Bernardino went out to Hanning, Cal., where they all have positions cutting aprons or a dryer. They will make $2 per day while awaiting a settlement of the strike. They are out of their jobs purely in sympathy with the holtermakers and when the settlement is made they will be taken care of by the strikers, as they do not belong to any union.

J. Stanley Brown, a son in law and secretary of the late President Garfield, has been appointed assistant to President Baldwin, of the Long Island railroad. For a number of years Mr. Brown was assistant secretary of the Union Pacific railway and secretary to E. H. Harman, chairman of the Union Pacific board of directors.

J. K. Hartline, working in the Gallup shops of the Santa Fe Pacific Railroad company, met with a painful accident the other morning. While grinding some tools with which he was working his left hand was carried under the grindstone and the fingers thereof were badly lacerated, the third finger being nearly severed from the hand. He is about, but it will be several weeks before he will have the use of his hand.

UNIQUE DISTINCTION.

New York Now Has the Temporary National Capital.

SCHWAB'S NEW HOME.

New York, July 19.—New York enjoys the unique distinction of having the capital of the nation temporarily situated in the state since President Roosevelt is spending his vacation at Oyster Bay. It does not seem, however, as if Mr. Roosevelt is having much rest, for his vacation is pretty well sandwiched between business, and the staff of assistants seems not only as busy as ever, but has been increased by several members since the president arrived at Sagamore Hill the first week in July.

Politicians are wondering if wonders will never cease in New York. The latest sensation is the reported intention of ex-Governor of Police William S. Devery, by his friends, to become the leader of Tammany hall. This seems all the more surprising from the fact that Tammany owes its defeat at the last mayoralty election largely to Mr. Devery. Old timers laugh over the matter, and new brown men shake their heads, but admirers of the ex-chief say that "touching on" and "appearing" to the leadership, to use a famous phrase of Mr. Devery's, he will get it, for the big fellow never went after anything he didn't get. He is going to qualify for the shoes of Richard Croker by capturing the leadership of the Ninth Assembly district, then he is going to make things hum. The outcome will be watched with interest.

If credence can be given to the various reports the democrats are going to have a major distinction number of stamp speakers this year than they have had before in many years. From a source supposed to be reliable and true, it is stated that Edward M. Spard, who ran against Mayor Low at the last municipal election, has promised to make several speeches in the interest of the democratic state ticket. Lewis Nixon is also included in the list and while no itinerary has yet been considered for the former Tammany chieftain, it is said that he will probably address gatherings in all the large cities of the state.

It is the present plan of the city to build at once, at the foot of East Twenty-third street, an immense public bathing bath to accommodate at least 18,000 at a time. The dock department owns a block of property at this point and an immense floating dock would be a great improvement to the property. The appropriation required for this undertaking would be about $200,000. Hitherto the average amount the city has paid for its floating baths has been about $18,000.

Plans are running along nicely for the construction of Chas. M. Schwab's palatial residence, which will be the finest in New York. This is saying a great deal, when one considers the magnificence of such mansions as those of Andrew Carnegie, John Jacob Astor, the Vanderbilts, Gery's and others. Mr. Schwab's residence will be notable also for the reason that it will not be along Fifth avenue, where the majority of the show houses of the city are situated. It will be in the style of the French Renaissance and the Chateau de Blois, and the Little Trianon, both palaces of French kings, are to be its patterns. The cost will be about $2,500,000. The grounds will be laid out in drives, walks, fountains and an Italian garden. On the interior will be installed the best that can be found in the architecture of Europe, several artists and sculptors now being abroad at Mr. Schwab's expense, studying various famous models for the purpose. In the basement will be swimming pools, auto rooms, pool rooms and electric and refrigerating plants.

Through Ellis Island, the "gateway of America" more immigrants passed during the fiscal year last closed than have entered this country in any previous year. In all 192, 3 foreigners were allowed to enter the port, and from thence allowed to scatter through the land. This is an increase over the previous year of nearly 27 per cent.

The interest which Wall street has taken in the Chicago corn market has been rather the interest of an observer than of a participant. The street wonders whether the powerful and daring speculating prominent in the engineering of the corn movement will be able to repeat their former successes in stocks. The history of speculation shows that while it is possible to make a profitable corner in a stock, the total issue of which is known and registered, it is quite another thing altogether to corner a profitable corner in a food product, the supply of which cannot be definitely determined.

Some of the handsome new public buildings, of which so much has been written are nearing completion, to the delight of New Yorkers, who rejoice in nothing more than to show their great structures to visitors to the metropolis. The new stock exchange and the new chamber of commerce are now practically completed, so far as their exteriors are concerned, and they will be notable additions to the Wall street district. The foundation of the new custom house building is now virtually completed, and a part of the Fifth avenue front of the public library building is now in place, so that some idea may be formed of what will be the surpassing beauty of this great structure. The extraordinary horse shoe building on the triangle at the junction of Broadway and Fifth avenue now looms up over Madison square and has become one of the sights of the city.

New Yorkers were no sooner started with the grateful intelligence that John Masterson Burke had contributed $1,000,000 to found a home for convalescents than it learned that he has been driven by unfortunate mendicants to seek health and quiet at Nantucket, Mass. Mr. Burke is 50 years old, and as a cold which he recently contracted has been aggravated by the visits of beggars, cranks and others, it was deemed wise to remove him from his city home.

It has been decided by organized labor here to "unionize" Coney Island this season. A large number of the hundreds of thousands of New Yorkers who visit the resort every summer are members of organized labor and for years Coney Island has swarmed with non-union waiters, bartenders, chorus girls, and other workers. A campaign has at last been decided on, and committees will visit the resorts and organize the waiters, waitresses, singers, etc., until Coney Island is a union place.

The social influence of New York, it seems, is being extended over to the capital, where all things are considered to be comme il faut. It is reported that the postoffice authorities there, following the plan of some New York social leaders, will issue a series of small 2-cent stamps to be used on envelopes containing visiting cards and petite notes. These miniature stamps will have doubt been very popular on account of the prevailing custom all over the country of sending cards of congratulation, condolence, farewell, etc., but New York claims the credit for the innovation.

Strikers' Side of the Strike.

The Santa Fe striking boltermakers have even a larger story to tell over the quitting of the three boltermakers, says the San Bernardino Transcript. Instead of being incompetent, as is rumored, the strikers claim that the men were among the very best of the present force engaged in patching boilers. One of the men is a union man. He claims that he was loaded into a car at Sacramento while under the influence of liquor and never came into his right senses until he found himself in the box car hotel in the local yards. He concluded to work the week out. When he got ready to quit yesterday one of the officials stood him up in the corner and told him numerous things. Among them he said that the boltermaker was a traitor. The other two men who quit are not union men, but they are going to join the union. The strikers claim that they will have cards before they leave the city.

The Texas Strike.

The strike of the machinists on the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe system in Texas is general and may result in a complete tie up of the system in this state. Not only have the machinists and their helpers struck, but the boltermakers and blacksmiths, with their helpers, have quit, refusing to work with nonunion machinists. At every point on the main line and branches the men are out.

The managers declare that they do not intend making any concessions and have ordered that all the strikers be given checks for their time. The men are equally determined, and there is little chance of any immediate settlement.

400 Men Out at Jebeune.

At Cleburne a few more men went out on Wednesday and some were brought in by the Santa Fe company to take the place of the strikers. The situation is as follows: Four hundred men out and forty men taking strikers' places. The local officials have been forced to kindle fires in engines, due to the first-buddies joining the strikers. The men say they will not work with "scabs." It is understood that other orders will go out. The company has a strong guard of men about the shops.

Rock Island Appointments.

Effective Wednesday, J. M. Norton, commercial agent of the Rock Island, with headquarters at St. Louis, becomes general agent in direct charge of all freight and passenger business of the "St. Louis line."

The appointment was announced by a circular issued by George L. Sands, vice president and general manager. The "St. Louis line" is the name for the St. Louis, Kansas City & Colorado railroad, recently purchased by the Rock Island.

H. F. White, formerly chief engineer of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern is to be engineer of maintenance of way for the Rock Island. F. J. Spaford, formerly superintendent of telegraph for the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern, is to be assistant superintendent of telegraph for the Rock Island.

NEW MEXICO MINING.

Camps Near Silver City are Doing Well This Year.

The Denver News correspondent, writing from Silver City, says: The Michigan-New Mexico Copper company is working a new force of men on their properties in Lordsburg and at a very slight depth in the bulside have struck large ore bodies. The hillside surrounding the mines are covered with piles of ore of good grade.

The Lena Mining company, owner of the famous Miners' Chest mine, has suspended operation and closed down the mill, owing to a difference among the directors. As this mine is a paying proposition, it is likely the shut down will be of short duration.

A large body of carbonate ore was struck on the Atlantic property last week on the strength of which the management will immediately erect a steam hoisting plant on the Blue Bird mine from which good ore has already been taken. On account of the shortage in the water supply the work of concentrating the ore cannot be done continuously, a source of great trouble to the company.

Several shafts on the property of the North American Mining company are being sunk to a depth of 400 and 500 feet under the supervision of D. W. Hriel of Shamokin, Pa., an experienced mining man. T. A. Lister of Williamsport, Pa., president and manager of the company, is well pleased with the outlook and is sparing neither labor nor expense. The property comprises six claims the ore from the Colón Negro mine averaging about 230 per ton in copper and paying values in gold and silver.

At the comparatively shallow depth of fifty feet, W. J. Morris, owner of the Martha mine, has just struck gold ore valued at $1,000, and it seems to be quite plentiful. Scarcity of water has caused the closing down of the mill of the Wilson Mining and Mining company at Volcano. As soon as the rainy season sets in operations will be resumed and greater depth will be reached as the values increase accordingly, both in gold and silver.

There is a well defined rumor that Granite Gap has been sold during the past week, the consideration being in the neighborhood of $50,000. This property has been a steady producer for more than twenty years. J. F. Graham, the Denver mining magnate, is in the city inspecting the property of the Helen Mining company at Graham.

Men Will Be Boys.

In the excitement of a lively exercise like boat racing or ball playing, they will strain their muscles and go home limping and sore. Then they are glad they have Perry Davis' Painkiller on hand to soothe the quivering nerves; to penetrate the muscles with warmth and healing power. It has relieved the pain of two generations of Americans. Large bottles 25 and 50 cents.

MONEY NOT FORTHCOMING.

El Paso Shy on Getting Up Ball Team to Play Albuquerque.

It seems exceedingly doubtful that El Paso will get up that crack professional base ball team for the matches with Albuquerque this fall. Harry B. Charman, who has been looking after the matter at Albuquerque, says he finds that it will be no trouble to get together a good team but the difficulty is about raising the money.

Dale D. Gear of Kansas City offers to set up a fine team for El Paso, and the manager of the All-American club at San Francisco writes Mr. Charman that he will bring his aggregation if it is so desired.

Both want expenses guaranteed and a large share of the receipts besides and the moneyed base ball enthusiasts of El Paso say they can hardly see how they will come out, or rather where they will come in; that with bad weather or other unfavorable conditions they would stand to lose and could not possibly make much under any circumstances.

They say the base ball games will be a large part of the fair at Albuquerque, and while they like Albuquerque and love her people they do not feel like risking any large stacks of coin in an effort to assist in providing a star attraction for her fair.

The matter has not entirely been dropped at this end but Mr. Charman says he has received such scant encouragement in his efforts to raise the money necessary that he has little hope of success.—El Paso News.

Last night, C. C. Hall, vice president of the New Mexico Territorial Fair association, accompanied by F. A. Hubbell and Thomas Hughes, left for El Paso on base ball mission, and will endeavor to get the fans of that city interested in getting money enough together to insure the employment of first class professionals to represent the Pass City at the fair base ball tournament.

Repulsive Features.

Blackheads, pimples, greasy faces and muddy complexions, which are so common among women, especially girls at a certain age, destroying beauty, disfiguring and making repulsive, features which would otherwise appear attractive and refined, indicate that the liver is out of order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver and so establish a clear, healthy complexion. See at Cosmopolitan Pharmacy, B. Ruppe.

WHITE OAKS.

Married at Captain—Case Discussed—Old Teachers Elected.

From the Eagle. T. A. Anderson and Mrs. Will Gray were married at Captain, Rev. S. E. Allison, of the Methodist church, officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will reside at Carrizozo.

Walter Hyde, the Hondo farmer and merchant, stayed over here on route home from Three Rivers. Mr. Hyde has one of the finest improved hay and fruit farms in Lincoln county. He has twelve acres of orchard and 100 acres in alfalfa.

The case of Mrs. O. Ozanne vs. F. M. Lund, justice court, charge assault with words, was dismissed. The prosecution paying the cost. R. E. Lund, attorney for defendant, and John Y. Hewett acting for G. V. Pritchard, attorney for prosecution.

At a meeting of the school board teachers were elected for the school year. John A. Haley was elected principal. Mrs. John A. Hollars first assistant and Miss Mabel Walsh second assistant, thus retaining the teachers from last year. This insures another successful public school for White Oaks.

Two Bottles Cured Him.

"I was troubled with kidney complaint for about two years," writes A. H. Davis, of Mt. Sterling, Iowa, "but two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure effected a permanent cure." Alvarado Pharmacy.

Prof. Hewett's Outing.

Professor E. L. Hewett and party reached Santa Fe Thursday evening on their outing trip. They camped in the Santa Fe canyon over night, having gone across the Pecos forest reserve. In the party are Prof. E. L. Hewett and wife, James Graham, McNary, Miss Margaret McNary, Miss Ruth Raynolds and K. M. Chapman. The party is on route on a scientific expedition to Chaco canyon in San Juan county and left Santa Fe yesterday for Jemez Springs, whence it will go to Acoma, Zuni, Chaco canyon and across the Navajo reservation to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado. The party has two wagons and an ample supply of camping material.

And say some other false, ointment, lotion, oil or alleged healer is as good as Bucklen's Arnica salve, tell him 20 years of marvelous cures of piles, hemorrhoids, corns, colons, ulcers, cuts, scalds, bruises and skin eruptions prove its the best and cheapest. 25c at all drug stores.

TULAROSA.

Showers Every Day—Herrick at Tularosa—An Old Man Lost.

From the Democrat. J. H. Bedford, from Carlsbad, was here this week. He is buying up goats and sheep.

These days we have a light shower of rain almost every evening and the fruit crop is looking promising.

Dr. Herrick, for president of the territorial university at Albuquerque, is in town for a few days accompanied by his wife and son, and also a brother from Mt. Vernon. The doctor has charge of the surveying for storage reservoirs on the Rinconada.

Patricio Herrera, the grandfather of N. Prado's wife, left Las Cruces on foot the 27th of June for Tularosa and has not yet arrived. He was seen the first day about fourteen miles from Las Cruces but he was not heard of afterwards. He is a very old man and it is thought he might have been taken sick and died on the road. Friends have left here nearly every day and scoured the country from here to Las Cruces, but have gained no knowledge of his whereabouts. Six men left here today who will make a thorough search for him.

SANTA FE.

Good Rains—Bull Run Battle Veterans—Fire Department Meeting.

From the New Mexican. Letters received from Abiquiu, Rio Arriba county, state that good rains fell in that section during the past week and that there is a flow of water again in the Chama river, below Abiquiu, for the first time in six weeks.

Postmaster Simon Neuschbaum today received a letter from Mrs. F. O. Maxwell of Crawfordsville, Ind., asking for the whereabouts of her son, Howard Scott Maxwell, who is said to have made his way to New Mexico under the name of Frank Hill.

Charles W. Dudson has given Antonio Winsor the contract to erect a two-story cold storage and office building near the Santa Fe railway depot. The building will be 40x50 feet and will have a basement. It will be built of brick and work on it is to commence as soon as the material can be gotten together.

This is the forty-first anniversary of the first battle of Bull Run between the Union and Confederate forces in Virginia and was the first serious battle of the Civil war. There were about 55,000 troops engaged on each side. The Union loss was 18 officers and 460 enlisted men killed, 64 officers and 947 men wounded and 49 officers and 1,176 men reported missing. The Confederate loss was 25 officers and 362 men killed, and 63 officers and 1,519 men wounded. So far as known the only survivors of the battle now residing in Santa Fe are John P. Victory, of the Fourteenth New York militia, and W. S. Fletcher, of the Second Vermont Volunteers.

At the annual meeting of the fire department on Thursday of last week, Francisco Gonzales y Baca was elected chief and Jas. B. Read assistant chief for the ensuing year. On Friday evening the board of fire commissioners re-elected A. M. Bettelbach secretary and J. B. Sloan treasurer.

The Eastman deluge outfit which has been on trial for nearly a month was selected and placed in service. The secretary was also ordered to buy 200 feet of Paramount hose, four axes, two crowbars, lanterns, slickers and other necessary supplies. He was instructed to file a list of members of the department with the collector of poll taxes and furnish each member of the department with a card. Action will be taken in a few days in regard to the annual convention and tournament of the New Mexico Association of Firemen in September.

A. R. Bass, of Morgantown, Ind., had to get up ten or twelve times in the night and had severe backache and pains in the kidneys. Was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure. Alvarado Pharmacy.

Portales can boast the oldest man in Chaves county and, possibly, in the territory of New Mexico. William Lavey was born January 7, 1802, and was therefore 100 years old last January. He has used tobacco all his life, but never drank anything stronger than coffee. He has a poor opinion of politicians, but speaks in the highest terms of newspaper men.

It was a mistake about the families of Judge Freeman and Attorney Cameron being compelled to move out by the flood. They suffered considerable inconvenience and some damage to carpets and furniture, but they "stayed with the ship." The accumulation of rain north of the canal broke the banks in several places and let the flood loose on the east side of La Huerta. Considerable damage was done in the main road through that pretty suburb, undoing to a large extent the work recently put on the sandy stretch just south of the canal bridge.

Often the over-taxed organs of digestion cry out for help by dyspepsia's aims, nausea, dizziness, headaches, liver complaints, bowel disorders. Such troubles call for prompt use of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are gentle, thorough and guaranteed to cure 25 cents at drug stores.

Winnipeg's Industrial Show. Winnipeg, Man., July 22.—This is the week of the Winnipeg industrial exposition and the city is rapidly filling with visitors. The exhibits this year are more numerous and varied than heretofore and especially notable is a great cattle display, adjudged by experts to be the best ever seen in the dominion. The attendance promises to be large and many visitors are expected from the Dakotas, Minnesota and other states during the week.

H. B. Jordan is again on watch at Bachechi & Glom's retail place.

BASE BALL AT BELEN.

A Lively Game Yesterday Afternoon—Belen Defeated Santa Fe Surveyors.

Special Correspondence. Belen, N. M., July 21.—The people of Belen were treated to a fine game of ball this afternoon. The opponents being the Santa Fe surveyors against the Belen boys. At the beginning of the game every player was on his feet and after everything in sight. The batteries were: Santa Fe Surveyors, Zorn and Crow; Belen, French and Brookway. The first inning, the Santa Fe team took the field and retired Belen without a score. The Santa Fe men fared much better in their half for two men crossed the rubber before the side was retired.

The Belen boys looked determined in their half of the second inning and two runs were scored. The Santa Fe team not to be outdone went the Belen team three better in their half of the second.

In the third the Belen boys got two more men in and the Santa Fe's coasted three more over the plate. In the fourth the Belen boys were lucky in crossing the plate three times, while the surveyors failed to tally in their half.

Then both pitchers began to warm up to their work, and in the fifth Belen was the only one to score, Santa Fe being treated to their second coat of whitewash.

In the sixth Belen crossed the plate three times, while the Santa Fe men fanned the air three times. From the sixth on ciphers graced the score sheet in each inning. The score stood 11 to 3 in Belen's favor.

Many fine plays were made on both sides. Zorn for Santa Fe striking out two men while French had eight victims on his belt.

B. B. Borden umpired the game and his decisions were good throughout.

Another game will be played between the same teams on next Sunday if the surveyors are in the city.

The score by innings was as follows:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Belen ..... 0 0 2 2 3 1 3 0 0 11
S. F. Surveyors 2 3 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 8

The teams lined up as follows:
Belen—Brookway, catcher; French, pitcher; C. A. Daines, first base; P. B. Daines, second base; Walter Goebel, third base; Fred Raff, right field; J. D. Norwood, center field; Charlie Owings, left field.

Santa Fe Surveyors—Crow, catcher; Zorn, pitcher; Teffenteiler, first base; Charlie Jones, second base; Sullivan, third base; Neal Norwood, right field; Roy Honeywell, center field; Chigo Bob, left field.

TO WRECK ENGINES.

Superintendent Henderson Makes Serious Charges Against Strikers.

Superintendent of Motive Power George R. Henderson returned to Tularosa from a trip to the Gulf lines, where he visited Cleburne, Temple and Galveston, the places where the Santa Fe men are out on a strike, says the State Journal.

Mr. Henderson said that an effort was made by the round house men, when they quit, to leave things in such shape that the company would suffer serious loss. The engines were fired up, and the levers reversed, apparently with the intention that as soon as steam got high enough, the engines would back out of their stalls, and plunge into the engine pit. Master Mechanic Symons himself, together with his assistant and one or two other officials, discovered the condition of things, and personally went to the round house and prevented the accomplishment of the alleged designs of the strikers.

Mr. Henderson says in speaking of the conditions on the Gulf lines: "The machinists, boltermakers, switchmen, painters, blacksmiths and round house men all went out, but the switchmen have since gone back to work. Some of the round house men have also applied for their old places. The Santa Fe had a reserve force of men ready at Chicago and sent them at once to the scene of the strike, and have been able to keep all the trains moving in good shape. I believe that the men will go back to work. The company will take back such of them as are needed."

Mr. Henderson says that the statement of Mr. Symons several days ago gives the exact causes of the strike.

FLOATING CORPSE.

An Unknown Man Found by Indian Agent Moore.

Indian Agent J. C. Moore and Clerk R. L. Morgan, of the Parker agency, came up the river last Tuesday, and reported the finding of a corpse floating in the river opposite Parker. The body was that of a man, five feet and 10 inches tall, and apparently about 40 years of age, and when found was entirely nude, which would indicate that he had either drowned while in bathing, or had been stripped of his clothing and been thrown into the river. The body was so badly decomposed and bruised by snags and other drift that it was impossible to have discovered indications of foul play had there been any. The body was buried by the men at Parker by direction of Mr. Moore, and his identity or the circumstances of his death will probably never be brought to light.

Mr. Moore and Mr. Morgan left here Tuesday night for the east, the former to Danville, Ill., and the latter to Washington, D. C. They came all the way in a wagon from Parker, and tell of a terribly tedious ride over a rough road through the burning sand and almost unbearable heat.—Needles Eye.

A Find of Antimony.

Captain J. P. Conner brought to Santa Fe yesterday a specimen of antimony. He has located several claims in the Macho district on a dyke fifty feet wide and in which run several veins of antimony, some of them being of considerable size. As the United States imports most of the antimony it uses, a small quantity being mined in California and Montana, the find must be considered quite a valuable one. The gray ore of antimony or stibnite yields most of the antimony used in commerce, it being used as an alloy in type metal, and bell metal, and also in medicine as a cathartic or emetic. Stibnite is a sulphide. Cervantine, sericite and valentinite are native oxides of antimony. Antimony is an elementary substance resembling a

BOTH RELEASED.

The Two Gentlemen Who Won at Roulette Promptly Discharged by Judge Baker.

I. E. Fugate and L. Troth, the two men charged with leading roulette wheels, were discharged by Judge Baker late last Saturday afternoon, after The Citizen had gone to press. Application was made for their release on a writ of habeas corpus by Attorney Delson, and the court held that the complaint was defective in that City Attorney Stingle had also appeared for the territory. The two men and Mrs. Fugate left Saturday night.

The Citizen made no comment on this remarkable case on Saturday, as it knew it was in Judge Baker's hands.

Summer complaint is unusually prevalent among children this season. A well developed case in the writer's family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—one of the best patent medicines manufactured and which is always kept on hand at the home of every family. This is not intended as a free puff for the company, who do not advertise with us, but to benefit little sufferers who may not be within easy access of a physician. No family should be without a bottle of this remedy in the house, especially in summer time.—Lansing, Iowa, Journal. For sale by all druggists.

Federation May Aid Miners.

San Francisco, July 22.—The proposition to endorse the miners' strike and lend financial aid to the strikers is the most important matter to receive attention at the meeting of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. President Mitchell was unable to come to San Francisco, and delegated Harry White, of the garment workers, to act as his representative. Mr. White will explain the nature and origin of the miners' grievances and review the history of the strike, emphasizing the claims of the strikers for aid from their fellow labor unions and praying that the needed assistance be not withheld. What action the council will take is problematical. In the past the American Federation of Labor has been extremely diffident about endorsing outside strikes, but it is said that in the present instance a number of influential members are in favor of lending the coal miners monetary aid. The council will be in session a week or ten days. Besides the miners' strike there are several other important matters requiring attention. The Western Labor Federation has of late displayed such vigor of growth and wide awake enterprise as to cause an uneasy feeling among the leaders of the older organizations, and it is not improbable that steps will be taken looking to an affiliation of the two bodies, or, if this course fails, to squelch the western organization.

No False Claims.

The proprietors of Foley's Honey and Tar do not advertise this as a "sure cure for consumption." They do not claim it will cure this dread complaint in advanced cases, but do positively assert that it will cure in the earlier stages and never fails to give comfort and relief in the worst cases. Foley's Honey and Tar is without doubt the greatest throat and lung remedy. Refuse substitutes. Alvarado Pharmacy.

American Lumber Co.

A letter has been received by E. W. Dolson from Ira B. Bennett, of Detroit, who accompanied the party of capitalists here to inspect the timber lands. Mr. Bennett says he has decided to invest a considerable sum of money in the company and will favor locating the mills here. This means, says Mr. Dolson, the investment of a million dollars and the employment of from 800 to 1,000 men.

Sound kidneys are safeguards of life. Make the kidneys healthy with Foley's Kidney Cure. Alvarado Pharmacy.

Boiler Men Meet.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 22.—The fourteenth annual convention of the American Boiler Manufacturers' Association of the United States and Canada began here today with a good attendance of members. The association is in no way a combine, but the members meet every year simply to discuss boiler-making problems and endeavors to secure uniformity in their manufacture. The presiding officer is Richard Hammond, of Buffalo, and the secretary, J. D. Forsey, of Cleveland.

Colds are sometimes more troublesome in summer than in winter, it's so hard to keep from adding to them while cooling off after exercise. One Minute Cough Cure cures at once. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, throat and lung troubles. J. H. O'Reilly & Co.; B. H. Briggs & Co.

Charles W. Winchell, formerly machinist forman in the local shops, but now master mechanic between City of Mexico and Clara, Mexico, is expected to arrive from the south tonight for a visit with his family.

Railroad Topics

The Biscoe railroad is daily expecting four more new locomotives.

Contractor Anson, of the firm of Anson & Holman, was a passenger north this morning.

Seven oil burning locomotives went west for the Southern Pacific railroad during the week.

H. Lambert is to be the traveling engineer on the El Paso-Rock Island, with headquarters at Alamogordo.

Conductor Silverman has returned from a trip to Denver and resumed his run between El Paso and Santa Rosa.

Engineer Gus Leemann and Engineer Piper, of San Marcial, have had their applications for a vacation approved.

Capt. R. M. Spivey, special inspector for the Harvey system, is in the city. Capt. Spivey is an old friend of J. W. Edwards.

Machinist Fred C. Pulson, a round house helper and W. Clark are two of the unfortunates who lost their jobs on pay day.

A sufficient amount of money has been raised by Trinidad citizens for the construction of a $250,000 electric street railway.

Passenger train No. 2 was forty-five minutes late this morning, caused by being held out by a freight train between Holtbrook and Gallup.

Mrs. J. H. Ballou will leave tomorrow for an extended visit in southern California. She is the wife of a well known Santa Fe Pacific engineer.

Swan Olson, John O'Brien and John Thorne are machinists of the local Santa Fe Pacific shops who were numbered among those let out on pay day.

The Santa Marcial Bee says: Mrs. Sitherwood, the handsome and stylish wife of one of our popular boiler makers, joined her husband here last Tuesday.

On last Wednesday a large new locomotive arrived at Deming for the Biscoe road, from Altoona, Pa., and four more are expected daily from the same place.

As soon as possible a large oil tank is to be put up at Deming on the Southern Pacific road, and then oil will be used as fuel from that place both ways.

The Santa Fe depot at Winona, Arizona, was destroyed by fire the other morning. This fire is supposed to have been caused by sparks from a passing locomotive.

Engineers Frank Hutt and Charles Hayward left Needles for San Francisco to witness the fight between Fitzsimmons and Jeffries, which comes off Friday, July 25.

Trainmaster Evans, of the El Paso-Rock Island, has returned to Alamogordo from Tucuman and the Dawson road. He reports heavy rains and washouts beyond Santa Rosa.

A. S. Greig, general manager of the El Paso & Northeastern, will receive in a few days from St. Charles Car works at St. Charles, Mo., his new palatial private car "Cloudcroft."

R. A. Jackson, of Richmond, Ind., has been appointed general attorney of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, with headquarters in Chicago. The appointment is effective August 1.

Miss Librada Carmody and Fidelio Severdo, an employee of the Santa Fe shops, of San Marcial, were married Friday, and on Saturday the shop force was presented with a keg of beer by the groom.

F. M. Jones, chief engineer of the Santa Fe surveying corps, doing work on the proposed Santa Fe short cut, passed through the city this morning en route to Las Vegas to visit his family over Sunday.

Deming was treated to two pay days from the railroads last week. Both the Biscoe and the Santa Fe distributed a liberal amount of the needful among their employees at that point, which eased up the cash call in the town wonderfully.

The Santa Fe has again cut its passenger service from Deming to one combination car, which is run on a mixed train daily. It seems impossible for them to keep a good passenger service in existence from Deming to Silver City.

At Needles, Cal., the Santa Fe is just finishing the construction of a new sixteen stall addition to its present round house, making in all one of thirty stalls. A new brick store house, 60x90 feet, and an oil house, 18x20 feet, are also recently completed.

On a recent visit to the Jemez country a number of railroad men became acquainted with a charming young lady from Illinois. Since their return one of the gentlemen has been talking of how much cheaper it is to live married than single. Bad sign.

The Santa Fe is at the present time contemplating putting in two large water purifying plants on the Pecos Valley road, one to be located at Roswell and the other at Carlsbad. The water of that locality is very hard on the engines and boilers and it is to remedy this difficulty that a new apparatus will be put in. It is estimated that the two plants will cost about $6,000.

The Santa Gazette says: The Cimarron River & Taos Valley railroad is to be built, and the line will be run to Raton if our people will give a sufficient bonus. It is not known what amount our people would be expected to give, but if all the property owners of the city respond as liberally as a few business men will a bonus of $50,000 can be raised. It is Raton's opportunity.

The tipping habit oversteps the limit when a man growls all through the meal at the inattention of the waiter, and then "turns to" and fees him as a reward for his abominable service. The tipping system should at least have the extenuating excuse of being reformatory by making a fee dependent upon good service.—From "West Pocket Confessions," in Four Track News for July.

Car Famine Threatened.—It is said that a box car famine is staring the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe in the face at the present time. A railroad man stationed in this city is authority for the statement that a box car was set out at a small siding on one of the branches last week, and the wheels had hardly stopped before three men began loading wheat in it. It resulted in a regular fist fight as to who was the rightful renter of the car. There is an abundance of wheat and with the record breaking corn crop in sight, there is no question but that there will be a shortage of cars in which to transport the grain to market.—Newton Republican.

What a Striker Writes.—One of the strikers at Needles, Cal., writing back to Topeka, says: "The railroad company has as high as eighteen engine failures in twenty-four hours on account of leaking fire boxes on this division. It has frequently occurred since the strike took effect that passenger locomotives died out on the desert, delaying trains, notwithstanding the large force of non-union men trying to do the boiler work here, and the doping of engines with bran, chopped hemp, wood shavings, plaster of paris and iron borings. The locomotives continue to die and the long line of dead ones on the sidetrack is lengthening. Traffic is becoming embarrassed now for lack of motive power and this is only the dull season. There is a busy time coming in a couple of months for the company. Are they going to continue to pay a lot of helpers, wood-choppers, cooks and shoemakers $5.56 a day and board to ruin their locomotive fire boxes and meet the busy season in that condition rather than pay good boiler makers $4 a day to do first class work? The echo in business halls whispers 'No.' The boiler makers are patient and firm, but reasonable. Everything looks good to them."

Ritchie Out, Madden Will Be In.—Whatever position W. J. Ritchie has held with the Santa Fe of late, he is no longer foreman of the boiler department at San Bernardino, nor is he likely to be in the future, says the Sun.

The man for the pace will undoubtedly be Thomas Madden, who formerly held the foremanship in Albuquerque, but who of late has been a temporary boiler inspector of the coast lines. He has been in southern California, more especially in San Bernardino, for over a week, and is reported as having remarked that he "expected to take charge here as soon as the present strike troubles are over."

"We are sorry to learn that Mr. Ritchie is to be our torman no longer," said a boiler maker last night, "for of course we all expect to return to our old places some time, and we had hoped that it would be with our old foreman. I can frankly state that I never worked under a man for whom I would do as much as I would for Ritchie. He had a way about him which made all of the boys pitch in and do their best to clear his shop of work, and we were usually abreast of any other department on the branch."

Card Playing on Trains.—Whether the following story is authentic or not, it answers well for a cause as to the recent order issued by the Southern Pacific against card playing on the trains. It was given out by the Lodi, Cal., Sentinel:

The news agent who passes daily through Lodi on the 11:30 train, Jess by name, was vainly trying to make up a game recently. Three jolly drummers were secured to play, but a fourth was hard to find. Just before the train reached Lodi the news agent spied a well dressed man sitting quietly in a seat, and the "peanut" walked up to him, slapped the passenger on the back and asked him to fill out the table, but the unostentatious person demurred, stating that he was not in the habit of playing cards. The news agent was persistent, however, and again slapped him on the back, Jess said: "Come on, be a good fellow, shake yourself and get in the game." This was too much for the quiet passenger. He extracted from his pocket a card and handed it to Jess and that worthy's countenance underwent the many hues of the rainbow as he read the inscription on the card, the general manager of the railroad. And thus it was that the too persistent peanut butcher was the means of curtailing his own cash receipts.

Those New Pullman Tickets.—Beginning with the opening days of this month the Pullman Palace car company adopted a new style of ticket. The old ticket was simply a piece of pasteboard sold by the agent to the passenger, who in turn surrendered it to the conductor. No one aboard the train figured in the transaction besides the two parties, and the conductor was left a pretty fair know of displaying any charge of embezzlement that might be brought against him. The new plan is to have the ticket in the four coupon style. When the agent sells the prospective traveler a ticket he tears off coupon No. 1. When the passenger boards his sleeper the first thing he must do before locating his berth, is to look up the negro porter and present him with his ticket. This newly acquired member of the passenger department takes the booklet and tears out coupon No. 2. The traveler is then shown his section, where he awaits the coming of the conductor. When he comes along he extracts coupon No. 3, leaving the porter to put the traveler to bed with the remainder of the ticket as a means of proving to the company that he paid his fare truthfully.

This newly acquired member of the passenger department takes the booklet and tears out coupon No. 2. The traveler is then shown his section, where he awaits the coming of the conductor. When he comes along he extracts coupon No. 3, leaving the porter to put the traveler to bed with the remainder of the ticket as a means of proving to the company that he paid his fare truthfully.

Card Playing on Trains.—Whether the following story is authentic or not, it answers well for a cause as to the recent order issued by the Southern Pacific against card playing on the trains. It was given out by the Lodi, Cal., Sentinel:

The news agent who passes daily through Lodi on the 11:30 train, Jess by name, was vainly trying to make up a game recently. Three jolly drummers were secured to play, but a fourth was hard to find. Just before the train reached Lodi the news agent spied a well dressed man sitting quietly in a seat, and the "peanut" walked up to him, slapped the passenger on the back and asked him to fill out the table, but the unostentatious person demurred, stating that he was not in the habit of playing cards. The news agent was persistent, however, and again slapped him on the back, Jess said: "Come on, be a good fellow, shake yourself and get in the game." This was too much for the quiet passenger. He extracted from his pocket a card and handed it to Jess and that worthy's countenance underwent the many hues of the rainbow as he read the inscription on the card, the general manager of the railroad. And thus it was that the too persistent peanut butcher was the means of curtailing his own cash receipts.

should the porter and the conductor get their heads together and eject him from the train. By this plan the agent keeps tabs on the porter, the porter has his "shiny" eye on the conductor, while the traveler watches all three.

Block Signaling System.—The Colorado division of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, 120 miles long, from Denver southward to Pueblo, has now been operated under the block system for fifteen months. About one-third of the stations are dependent entirely on telephone communication; and the arrangement has given marked satisfaction. The principal stations on the line were, of course, equipped with telegraphic communication before the block system was adopted. To make the block stations sufficiently near together to enable trains to be moved without delay a number of additional stations had to be established, and these new stations are communicated with by telephone. At least every alternate office is a telegraph office, from which telephone offices can obtain any desired information regarding the location of trains when such information is necessary.

The semaphore arms at each station are placed on a single post, one arm for each direction, and, as on other parts of the Atchison road, the caution or permissive indication is given by inclining the arm up ward 45 degrees. At stations where approaching trains do not have a good view, a distant signal is provided.

For some time the Santa Fe has been carrying on its signal improvements in Colorado and the west. Besides installing the block system on the Colorado division, the company has put into operation a new and unique system of train signaling on Raton mountain. This signaling was rendered necessary because of the peculiar conditions which exist in that locality.

The Santa Fe telegraph department has been recently conducting some important work on its western lines. Superintendent Gaunt is now in Los Angeles, and is supervising some extensive reconstruction and repair work. The new quadruplex wires from La Junta to Albuquerque are almost ready for use, and when they are opened up it is likely that more important changes will be announced for the coast line telegraph and signal system.

It is rumored that Superintendent Gaunt's tour of inspection has to do with further extensions of the block system of signaling. It is known that Mr. Gaunt is an advocate of telephone service in railroad work and has achieved some distinction as the inventor of a method of telephoning over telegraph lines.

A Miniature Strike.—It seems to be the order of the day for union men employed in railroad work to strike. The most recent strike to be recorded in the press is that of the union carpenters working on the construction of the new Santa Fe shops in Topeka. They demanded the discharge of two non-union men who had been employed by the contractors. The demand was not granted, and the fourteen union men employed on the job walked out. The chief contractor was out of the city and the difficulty has so far not been settled.

THE LARGER HALF.
The Same in Albuquerque as Elsewhere.

The bigger half of worldly trouble. The greater part of mankind's suffering. Can safely be laid to the kidneys. Kidneys filter the blood. Keep the human system healthy. But they can't do this when they are sick.

Easy to tell sick kidneys. Look at the back for the note of warning. Most backache pains are kidney troubles. Twitches, twinges, pains and aches of a bad back. Should be treated promptly. Every day's delay means future trouble.

Urinary complications set in, diabetes, Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills are kidney specialists. Cure every form of kidney ills. Here is proof of this:

Mrs. M. Meyers, widow, living at 112 South Fourteenth street, St. Louis, says: "Perhaps in following my calling, from lifting, or from some other cause, I may have overstrained the muscles of my back. Be that as it may, I have had attacks of backache for two years, latterly almost constant. It hurt me more in the morning than in any other period of the day and has on more than one occasion been so severe that I could scarcely turn in bed. I knew from the condition of the kidney secretions that my kidneys were at fault, but what to do was a mystery. I was continually trying sure cure remedies for kidney complaint, but I met with very little if any success until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. From the benefits I received from the treatment I have not the slightest hesitation in very emphatically endorsing the preparation. I have studied medicine and understand the symptoms of kidney complaint. No one in St. Louis, if they try Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney complaint, will be disappointed in the results."

Just such emphatic endorsement can be had right here in Albuquerque. Drop into the Alvarado Pharmacy and ask what their customers report. For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents.

Big Crowd Expected.
Tacoma, Wash., July 9.—Final preparations for the national convention to be held in Tacoma next week by the Young People's Christian union of the United Presbyterian church have been completed. Applications for accommodations received by the committee in charge of arrangements indicates an unusually large attendance. At its last meeting the national committee of the organization decided to hold the convention biennially instead of annually as heretofore and this is expected to increase the number of delegates. Despite the distance, the east, as well as Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Michigan, Nebraska and other states of the middle west, will be represented. For the entertainment of the visitors the local Presbyterian churches, aided by other denominations, have made elaborate plans. The sessions are to continue are most frequently seen upon the face, neck or breast, though they are liable to appear upon other parts of the body. When they begin to spread and eat into the flesh, sharp, piercing pains are felt as the underlying tissue is destroyed and the tender nerves exposed. Cancerous sores develop from very trifling causes; a carbuncle or boil, swollen gland, a little watery blister on the tongue or lip, a wart, mole or bruise of some kind becomes an indolent, festering sore, which in time degenerates into cancer.

Cancerous Sores

"Ten years ago I had a sore on my left temple, which the doctors pronounced a cancerous ulcer; it would itch, burn and bleed, then scab over, but would never heal. After taking S. S. S. awhile the sore began to discharge, and when all the poisonous matter had passed out it got well. I took in all about thirty bottles, continuing it for some time after the sore had healed, to be sure all the poison was out of my system. Have seen no sign of the cancer in ten years."

H. P. Knappe, druggist, Leighton, Ala., writes: "One of my customers had a child, which was sick, and threw up all food, could retain nothing on its stomach. He bought one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, and it brought up 118 worms from the child. It's the boss worm medicine in the world." White's Cream Vermifuge is also the children's tonic. It improves their digestion and assimilation of food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to the health, vigor and elasticity of spirits natural to childhood. 25c at Cosmopolitan Pharmacy, H. On Old Camp Ground.
Tacoma, Wash., July 19.—Everything has been put in readiness at American lake for the encampment of the Washington state militia to be held there during the coming ten days. The camp site is the same as that occupied by Camp Murray in 1892, lying on the east side of the lake on the Olympia branch of the Northern Pacific. Much interest is manifested among the guardsmen as it is the first encampment they have held since 1894. There are at present twelve companies of infantry and one troop of cavalry in the state organization, numbering about 700 officers and men.

Treat your Kidneys for Rheumatism.
When you are suffering from rheumatism, the kidneys must be attended to at once so that they will eliminate the uric acid from the blood. Foley's Kidney Cure is the most effective remedy for this purpose. R. T. Hopkins, of Polar, Wis., says: "After unsuccessfully doctoring three years for rheumatism with the best doctors, I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and it cured me. I cannot speak too highly of this great medicine." Alvarado Pharmacy.

New Leyland Liner.
Liverpool, July 19.—The new twin-screw steamship Hanoverian of the Leyland line sailed for London today on her maiden voyage. The new ship is one of the finest of the transatlantic fleet. Her tonnage is about 15,000 tons; length, 601 feet; breadth, 60 1/2 feet, and she has a capacity for nearly 250 first cabin passengers. No other class of passengers is carried, and this gives the largest amount of deck space which is possible for an ocean steamship. There are nine water-tight bulkheads of steel, and the ship is built to Lloyd's highest class, having a cellular double bottom and bilge keels.

Big International Regatta.
Toledo, Ohio, July 21.—All that the yachtsmen now at Put-in-Bay want is weather—not soft zephyrs or squalling squalls, but winds that are just right. Boats are there that can make good races. Not in many years have there been as many yachts in the snug harbor back of Jay Cooke's famous Gibraltar as are gathered there today to take part in the annual regatta of the Interlake Yachting association. There are numbers of new boats there, and it is the new yachts that interest the most. The first race is scheduled for tomorrow morning. The contest will be over a fifteen-mile triangular course with a nine mile triangle for the sixteen and twenty footers.

THE HUME KIDNAPING.

Special Correspondence.

Las Vegas, N. M., July 18.—General Superintendent Cain went through en route to La Junta this afternoon on a trip over the line to El Paso and Silver City. Mr. Cain is a most pleasant gentleman to talk to, and we predict a successful career for him. When your reporter interviewed him as to the effect the Portales cut off would have on Las Vegas, he replied, "Oh, we know nothing about that yet. It is all in the air. It will be built some day but no one can say when, as even the survey has not been completed, and the completion cannot be approximated." Asked as to how he found the country on his trip, he said: "Prospects are good and everything is in excellent condition. I will be down here again soon and spend a day with Superintendent Fox. I have lots to learn about these parts, but will get them after a while." The reporter then said the magis words, "Las Vegas freight rates." He laughingly replied, "Out of my line. I attend to the operation. Besides I am not authorized to talk about the other departments, and if I say nothing, I will have nothing to explain."

Mrs. N. J. Crowley and Mrs. James Young have received from the A. O. U. W. lodge the payment of the life insurance policies held by their husbands in the sum of $2,000 each. This is quick work, as the holders of the policies have been dead only a few weeks.

The first consignment of ten cars of wool from Belen to the Ross-Brownes securing plant here has arrived. There are thirty more cars to follow.

The celebration of the seventeenth anniversary of the Montezuma club last night was a most pleasant affair. The attendance was not as large as usual, there being only about twenty-five present. Six handed euchre was the amusement, with a little dancing afterwards. Mrs. W. G. Haydon won the first prize at cards. Punch was served as light refreshments.

Judge William J. Mills and Hon. C. A. Spiess returned yesterday evening from their trip to Guadalupe and report rain on the return trip

THE STORM CENTER.

Few Facts About Rain and Hail Storm in Northern New Mexico.

HEAVY SHEEP LOSSES.

A correspondent of the Las Vegas Record, writing from Watrous, under date of July 21, says:

One of the fiercest hail storms that visited the region about Watrous within the memory of the oldest inhabitants, passed over the country lying east of the town on Saturday afternoon. For some time prior to the coming of the storm heavy clouds could be seen hanging over the northern horizon, and the hopeful cattlemen began to think that their petition for rain had been answered. Patches of slate-green clouds mingled with others of inky blackness. Gradually it came on, the wind rising higher and higher and the lightning flashing with startling brilliancy. At last the rain fell, but away to the north could be heard the roar of the coming hail, like continuous thunder. When it broke with all its fury, the storm seemed to carry everything before it.

Damage by Hail.

Stones as large as hen's eggs fell so thickly as to completely cover the ground, and trees within a path a mile and a half wide were completely stripped of leaves. Two orchards on Valmore ranch, belonging to A. Pond, Jr., had not a leaf left after the storm. Alfalfa was cut as if with mowers and all fruit and garden stuff was utterly destroyed. New shingles were broken as if with leaden shot and not a pane of glass facing the north was left unbroken. Several calves were killed on the ranch of Thomas Tipton and the alfalfa was badly cut down. Shade trees were stripped, not alone of leaves, but of bark also, and telegraph poles along the railway were riddled.

Railway Damaged.

A washout occurred half way between Watrous and Shoemaker, several poles and 100 yards of fence and railway embankment having been carried away, extending to within six inches of the Santa Fe track. Gangs of men were at once put to work and, by working all night, the damage was somewhat remedied by Sunday noon.

Hail Five Feet Deep.

Cattle owners and ranchmen of long experience say the storm was the most furious they ever saw. The hail fell for more than an hour and in spots along Coyote creek was still five feet in depth by actual measurement on Sunday noon. In spite of the damage to fruit and shade trees and to alfalfa crops, and the killing of many calves, ranchmen say the good done by the storm will far outweigh the damage. Water holes were filled, arroyos ran with torrents of water, and the rivers rose rapidly. The moisture was extremely welcome, even at such a cost.

Thousands of Birds Killed.

A peculiar incident of the storm was the killing of birds by the hail. Under one tree alone, near Watrous, the dead bodies of twenty-five song birds were picked up after the storm, and thousands must have perished in the neighborhood. Numbers of gophers and moles were likewise flooded out and then evidently stoned to death by the hail. Cattle and horses became panic-stricken and ran pell-mell through fences, carrying them down for yards in many places.

AT SPRINGER.

Cattle and Sheep Killed—Depot and Many Houses Damaged.

Springer was visited by a terrific storm Saturday evening, and incalculable damage was done by hail and rain. It was the worst storm known in years and a large number of cattle and sheep were killed. One man was knocked senseless by being struck on the head by a hailstone, and the ground was covered with hail to a depth of several inches.

The Santa Fe depot had every window light smashed and houses over the city in general had all the north side glass broken, letting the heavy rain in and damaging the interior of the homes considerably. The losses are estimated at thousands of dollars.

Maxwell City had a regular water-spout, and considerable damage was done there by water. The rain seemed to come down from the Raton mountains and extend clear down the line.

The rain will be worth thousands of dollars to the country, and is a regular God-send, notwithstanding the damage.

AT LAS VEGAS.

Terrible State of Affairs at Meadow Village.

There was an unusually heavy rain and electrical storm, of which Las Vegas got the lion's share, Saturday night. The rain poured down in torrents for over two hours, beginning early in the evening, and being accompanied with frequent and vivid flashes of lightning and with some hail. And again Sunday evening there were splendid showers, the water sinking deeply into the moistened earth from the previous downfalls.

Never in recent years had the country been in greater need of rain and seldom had a heavier rain fallen than Saturday night's.

For days the dark and threatening clouds had been going around that immediate section and the people thereof had begun to think that the weather clerk had it in for Las Vegas and vicinity good and strong. But it was not so. He was arranging the elements in that locality for a veritable deluge with which that locality was abundantly blessed Saturday night.

Some damage was done by washouts on the railroad, hundreds of sheep were killed, the telephone wires were crossed in many places, panes of glass were shattered, trees uprooted, signs blown down and in some instances fruits and vegetables injured and destroyed, but all nature smiles and the downpours have been worth millions to the country at large, which had become fairly baked and parched from the drought that had prevailed for weeks and which it seemed would never be broken. However, its back-bone has now been broken and plenteous rains may be expected from this time on. While a little late, yet they will yet do an untold amount of good.

SHEEP LOSSES.

Several Hundred Sheep Killed in the Vicinity of Las Vegas.

Among those reported to have lost sheep by hail stones in the immediate vicinity of Las Vegas are Albino G. Gallegos, Jose Gallegos and a neighbor named Trujillo, residing at Montoya about four miles northeast. They estimate their aggregate losses at 400 head of the fleecy fellows.

Juan D. Martinez, at Sanguinuela, is said to have lost 70 sheep by drowning. On Saturday evening, just before the storm came up, two herders in his employ were attempting to get his flock into a corral when the frightened animals became separated in the confusion and the above number drowned out of several hundred in the bunch. The herders made the mistake of trying to keep the sheep ahead of the water instead of endeavoring to get them on high land where the water could not reach them.

Charles Kohn returned to Las Vegas Saturday night from the lower country after a very successful collecting trip and reports the loss at Montoya, last Monday, of a herd of 345 sheep belonging to Placido Apodaca and of 900 sheep by a Frenchman at that place. A severe storm passed Montoya on that day.

William Naeglin, of the Kavanaugh place is said to have lost 130 sheep in Saturday night's storm.

WILL ENTERTAIN.

Pythian Visitors En Route to San Francisco.

Mineral lodge No. 4, Knights of Pythias, met last night to discuss and make arrangements for the entertainment of the members of the uniform rank of Knights of Pythias, who will pass through Albuquerque on the morning of August 5, bound for San Francisco to attend the Biennial convention of that order, which will be held there August 11 to 22. The train is scheduled to arrive at 6 o'clock, and leave at 8 o'clock, this giving the visitors two hours in which they will have sufficient time to see the city. The program to be followed by the local lodge is not yet finished, but it is safe to say that the manner of entertainment will be royal.

CONDUCTOR INJURED.

John Jackson Has several Ribs Broken.

John Jackson, a freight conductor running between Albuquerque and Las Vegas, was severely injured at Los Cerrillos yesterday. Mr. Jackson was assisting in unloading some heavy irons. His clothes caught on a piece of iron and he was jerked to the ground, breaking several ribs. He was brought to this city and his injuries were cared for by Dr. Wroth. He was sent to the Santa Fe hospital at Las Vegas this morning on passenger No. 2.

FAIR ARRANGEMENTS.

Suggestions of a Shooting Tournament Greeted with Enthusiasm.

An idea for the fair that has been hailed with great enthusiasm is that of holding a shooting tournament. Suggestions to that effect have been received by President O'Reilly, of the fair association, from Las Vegas, Raton and other towns. There are also gun clubs at El Paso, Deming and Fort Wingate. Albuquerque crack shots are delighted with the idea and it is proposed to have the shoots during the morning at the fair ground. Cash prizes and medals will be given. No annual tournament is held in the southwest and the enthusiasts here favor making it an annual affair. The program will be announced later.

Another athletic event that is booming is the fair tournament of tennis players. A handicap tournament of local players will be held probably in September. The members of the Albuquerque club are determined to make the tennis tournament a success.

CHARMING DANCE.

Private Party Spent a Pleasant Evening at Orchestra Hall.

A delightful dance was given last evening at Orchestra hall and the fun began early and lasted late. The music was furnished by Mrs. Berry and James Devine. Choice refreshments were served. The party was chaperoned by Mesdames Ward, Shoemaker, Burns and Hesselberg. The dancers were: Misses Fisher, Hughes, Seldomridge, Cosgrove, Armijo, Ingraham, Resler, Gaffin, Wencke, Walsh, Baiston, Gehring, Cole, Eakin, Dodd, Messers Parker, Hughes, Moore, Fluke, Holloway, Dehn, Dr. Wood, E. and G. Peltier, Garatti, Sweetland, Fielden, Parison, Hermann, Zirhut, Bornfeld, Foley, Cosgrove, Haulon, J. and G. Cole, Sutherland, Bernalillo Bearup.

SHOOTING SCRAPE.

Jud Neal, a Cowboy, Wounded by Son of His Employer in Quarrel.

A shooting affray occurred near the Gila hot springs, Socorro county, Saturday, in which a cowboy named Jud Neal was shot by a boy Burdick, says the Silver City Independent.

The extent of Neal's wound is not yet known, but it is not thought to be fatal. Burdick, who is a young man, has charge of the extensive cattle interests of his father, E. E. Burdick, of Deming. In that section and Neal is a cowboy in the employ of the Burdicks. The two had been in the vicinity of the springs and were riding back to the Burdick ranch when the trouble took place. According to Burdick's story, Neal had been speaking in an abusive manner of another cowboy. Burdick told him to desist, that if he wanted to criticize the other man to do so to his face and not to him. Neal then indulged in violent language to Burdick, whereupon the latter struck him with his fist. As he did so, Neal drew his gun and Burdick got out his six-shooter, firing at the same instant. Burdick then rode up the road and told some companions what had occurred, saying that he did not know whether or not he had hit Neal. The other boys went back and found that Neal had been wounded, the bullet entering the breast on the right side and making its exit on the left. He was removed to a nearby ranch and a doctor dispatched for. Dr. Carl Hogen of this city, left for the scene early Sunday morning, but is not expected back until tomorrow.

Until Dr. Hagen returns the exact extent of Neal's wound will not be known, but the cowboy who left the upper Gila on Sunday morning states that Neal had passed a comfortable night and was not suffering much pain; also that the bullet had not penetrated the flesh to any considerable depth.

Burdick started for Silver City soon after the shooting for the purpose of giving himself into custody, should the authorities want him. He left last evening for his home in Deming to await developments. He claims that he acted wholly in self defense, and while he regrets the occurrence very much, he did what he did to save his own life.

Confirmation Service.

Last week Archbishop Peter Bourgade confirmed over 1,100 persons belonging to the cathedral and the Guadalupe parishes in Santa Fe. This is the largest number of people ever confirmed in one week in Santa Fe. On Wednesday morning at the cathedral Archbishop Bourgade confirmed 600 children under 7 years of age, on Friday morning 300 persons over 7 years of age, including a number of grown persons. This confirmation also took place at the cathedral. On Saturday at the Guadalupe church he confirmed almost 300 persons of all ages, among whom was Mrs. Geimer, on the south side, in whose honor a party was given that evening by her daughter, Miss Maggie Geimer. These confirmation services were all attended by parents and relatives of the confirmands and at many homes the auspicious occasion was celebrated with family gatherings. Archbishop Bourgade was assisted in the confirmation ceremonies by Vicar General Anthony Fourchey and Fathers Rabeyrolle, Derache, Hintzen, Thomas and Bandineau.

Back From Grand Canyon.

Major Ernest Meyers, who was a west bound passenger the other day by A. J. Loomis, the deputy internal revenue collector, has returned to the city, and this morning, in one of his talkative moods, declared the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, where he visited for a couple of days, is by all odds the grandest sight he ever witnessed in his life. From Williams, Mr. Loomis continued on to Phoenix, where he took charge of the office of deputy internal revenue collector for Arizona.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Dr. G. W. Harrison was a passenger for Bernalillo this morning.

Cardinal Gibbons' Birthday.

Baltimore, Md., July 23.—Cardinal Gibbons, who, during the last few weeks, has been called upon to mourn the death of two members of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in America, reached his 68th birthday today. There was no formal celebration of the event, but during the day messages of congratulation poured in at the archiepiscopal residence from archbishops, bishops and prominent members of the clergy in all parts of the country.

Cardinal Gibbons was born in this city July 23, 1834, of Irish parents. During his boyhood he was taken to Ireland, where he received the elements of a liberal education. On returning to the United States it was determined by his parents to consecrate him to the service of God, and he entered St. Charles college, Maryland, where he graduated with distinction in 1857. Thence he went to St. Mary's seminary, where, after taking the usual courses of theology and philosophy, he was ordained a priest on June 6, 1861, by Archbishop Patrick Kendrick. Father Gibbons was at once assigned to duty, and held duty at that time in the city of Baltimore, serving first as an assistant priest at St. Patrick's church.

Afterward he was sent as pastor to the then humble and struggling parish of St. Bridget's Canton, where he also had to serve old St. Lawrence's church at Locust Point, and to cross the Patuxent river to do so in a ferry boat, often times in the stormiest weather. On March 17, 1887, he received the red hat of the cardinalate from Pope Leo XIII.

The cardinal shows few signs of his increasing years. His eye is as bright and his step is as quick and elastic as it was twenty years ago. Every day, when the weather permits he walks from five to ten miles, and takes great delight in tiring out members of the clergy, one of them always accompanying him on his long tramps through the city and country. Next year the cardinal is to celebrate his silver jubilee and arrangements are already being made to make it the most elaborate event of the kind that has ever been celebrated in this country.

PINOS WELLS WOOL.

L. Trauer Comes to Town With Fifteen Wagons of Wool.

L. Trauer, the well known sheep and wool buyer, came in from the Pinos Wells neighborhood yesterday, in front of fifteen wagons loaded with wool, the first delivery of about 70,000 pounds of wool recently purchased by Mr. Trauer in that neighborhood.

This consignment constitutes about 30,000 pounds, and was stored for future shipment in Trauer's warehouse in south Albuquerque. Mr. Trauer has a big bunch of sheep grazing in the Pinos Wells vicinity, and while out there looking after his flocks he purchased the wool from half a dozen small sheepmen. He says the country visited was pretty dry but the sheep he found in fairly good condition. Since returning to the city that section has been visited by a good rain.

BATHED IN BLOOD.

Santa Fe Engine Killed Four Steers at One Time.

A few days ago Santa Fe train No. 10, the Missouri River Flyer, pulled into Emporia with her engine as blood-stained as though she had ploughed through a slaughter pen.

Just as the train was going through Strong City at the rate of sixty miles an hour she struck a herd of cattle which was crossing the track.

The cattle were hurled in every direction and four steers were killed outright. The blood, flesh and broken parts were thrown all over the engine, even on top of the cab and on the tender. The engineer and fireman said they each had blood spattered into their faces. The front part of the engine was bathed in blood.

The train did not stop. The only damage done to the engine was the breaking of a rod in front. The crew did not know to whom the cattle belonged.

GEORGE C. IUNGERICH.

"Oh Mother! Mother!" Saying These Words and Then Died.

George C. Iungerich, who for several years was a well known miner in the Ladrone mountains, south of this city, died near Tularosa the other day. The Tularosa Democrat has the following account of his death:

"George C. Iungerich died last Tuesday on his way to Tularosa. He was being brought in by Mr. Fraley from his ranch, where he had been unwell for over a week. His death was caused by inflammation of the bowels."

"When within several miles of Tularosa Fraley camped for the night. After supper Iungerich and Fraley retired for the night. During the night Fraley heard George groaning and got up from his bed and asked him how he felt. George only muttered the words: "Oh, mother, mother!" Those were his last words.

"George Iungerich came to Tularosa about a year and a half ago in the employment of the Oak Leather company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, as a mining operator. He had at one time several miners working for him and spent several thousands of dollars in this place. He has a wife and relative living in the east. As his remains could not be kept, decomposition setting in, he was buried by the county. His relatives were telegraphed to and they will very likely have the remains shipped home. He was well taken care of and given a decent burial."

Card of Thanks.

To The Citizen.

We, the undersigned, committee of and in behalf of the society, C. Colombo, beg to express through the columns of your valuable paper, our sincere thanks and appreciation to the public in general who so generously assisted us in making the picnic held on Sunday, July 20, the grandest success in the history of the organization. Whilst deeply regretting that the pleasure of the dancers in the evening was marred by the rain, we feel assured that everybody enjoyed themselves hugely, as nothing was left undone to make it as at first intended, the event of the season. Again we thank you, one and all.

L. GRADY,
C. GRANDE,
Committee.

Thanks From Committee.

The medal contest committee appointed by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union desire to express their thanks to the trustees of the Lead Avenue Methodist Episcopal church; to Hall & Learner, for free use of piano; to Mr. McSpadden for moving of same; to A. Borders for chairs; to the musicians who assisted; to the press for many kind notices given, last but not least to Mrs. Ralph Hill for her untiring self sacrificing work in so efficiently training the medal contest class which truly reflected great credit upon her ability in the contest last evening.

Dropped Dead in a Saloon.

A man, aged about twenty-eight, whose name is thought to be J. E. Gordon, dropped dead early today in the old Red Light saloon on Utah street.

Justice Spencer held an inquest this morning and decided that death was due to heart failure.

A pawn ticket on the body gave the only clue to his identity. It was for a coat pawned by J. E. Gordon, of Deming.

No one in the saloon seems to know him. He had been around town for several days and spent considerable money. Not a cent was found on the body. The man was evidently a "dope" fiend.

He had no friends so far as known in this city and will be buried in potter's field.—El Paso News.

Dryer Than Ever.

A letter from Oles von Kleber, of Grand Quivira says that at no time during the last four years has it been so dry as now. There has not been a drop of rain this year and there is no surface water in a circumference of thirty-five miles. An odd feature is that while in former years wild flowers have grown there in great profusion, this year there is not a flower and even the sunflowers have failed. In previous years many birds were seen to get the sunflower seeds, but this year there has not been a bird.

THE MEDAL CONTEST.

Miss Hatcher Was First and Miss Huntzinger Second.

Miss Clyde Hatcher won the silver medal at the Demorest medal contest at the Lead Avenue Methodist church and the second prize, a book devoted to W. C. T. U. work, was won by Miss Daisy Huntzinger.

The church was crowded to the doors, and the six contestants were Mesdames Edna Manwarin, Alice Rutherford, Clyde Hatcher, Mary Birt, Bertha Banghart and Daisy Huntzinger. They had all been trained by Mrs. Ralph Hill.

The audience acted as judges, each one being allowed one vote. The contestants were announced by number and each one in the audience was given a slip on which were the six numbers from which to select.

Mrs. Borden presided and announced that a gold medal contest will be given soon.

The musical numbers of the evening were a vocal solo by Miss Clara Diddle, a piano solo by Miss Rose Huntzinger, a selection by the mandolin club, a clarionette solo by Colonel Farley, a piano solo by Miss Helen Pratt, a piano solo by Misses Borden and Sowers, a vocal solo by Miss Grace Houghton and a piano solo by Miss Coffey.

Island Park Assembly.

Rome City, Ind., July 23.—The annual summer assembly at Island Park opened today and will continue until the middle of August. The programme of speakers and other attractions is considered one of the best ever arranged for a gathering of the kind in this part of the country.

Albuquerque is a good neighbor who always asks El Paso to enjoy any sport or entertainment provided for the public. Every time El Paso keeps open house Albuquerque people respond in numbers. No Texas city has a better feeling toward this metropolis than is manifested in Albuquerque. El Paso is unable to induce Texas to cooperate with this city in the matter of sporting events, but Albuquerque is ready every time. El Paso should never fail to respond to a friendly challenge from Albuquerque. The hope of a base ball circuit, from this city, lies in the sporty and game proclivities of the neighbors in New Mexico and Arizona.—El Paso News.
