The minutes of the previous meeting were read, and after being considered were approved.

The Board instructs the clerk to issue warrant to J. C. WHO CAN VOTE ON BONDS

There has been some discussion as to the exact meaning of the taxpaying qualification for voters at the bond election to be held in Estancia next Tuesday. Neill B. Field, regarded as one of the best lawyers in New Mexico, gives his opinion as follows:

"The letter of the statute requires that the question shall be submitted to a vote of such qualified electors thereof (of the town of Estancia) as have paid a property tax therein during the preceding year."

"I do not find that this language is susceptible of interpretation or construction beyond its plain terms. A qualified elector who has paid a property tax during the preceding year" does not mean a qualified elector who owned property exempt from taxation nor a qualified elector who has not paid his taxes for the preceding year, but does mean exactly what it says.

"In my opinion no other person than those against whom a property tax has been assessed and who have paid the same for the preceding year are entitled to vote at such election."

"In my opinion the 'preceding year' as used in the statute means the preceding tax year."

N. M. C. KEEPS HANDS OFF

There has been some discussion as to the attitude of the N. M. C. railroad company in the approaching bond election in Estancia.

A letter written by the management and addressed to the citizens of Estancia makes it clear. The letter reads as follows:

"On account of the activity in a political way of some of our employes at Estancia, N. M., it is thought that the New Mexico Central Railway may be backing this move."

"It is our policy not to enter into politics, or to interfere with our employes in that line. We are very much interested in the development of Estancia and the valley and will cheerfully pay our proportion of taxes of the bond issue for sewerage and water works."

Attention! Stockholders of the Farmers and Stockmens Equity Exchange

A called meeting is to be held at 1 P. M. on May 5th at Pastime Theater. Bring your stock certificates. "There's a Reason!"

A meeting of all citizens of Estancia is set for Friday, April 2, 1920, at the Pastime Theater at 8:00 P. M., for the purpose of discussing the bond issue. Among the out of town speakers will be Mr. Gray, engineer for the State Board of Health, Mayor E. P. Davies of Santa Fe and Col. D. K. B. Sellers of Albuquerque. Everybody invited to come and participate in this discussion.

for correction of taxes is taken up for consideration and is recommended.

The petition of Feliciano Chavez y Salas for correction of taxes is taken up for consideration and the same is recommended.

A number of other petitions for correction of taxes were also gone over by the Board but no action was taken on them at this time and the Board instructs the clerk to bring same before the Board at the next regular meeting.

The following claims were examined and ordered paid:

Crestino Chavez, Warrant No. 4117, $1,000.00, Claim No. 3998, Road Fund.

J. L. Stope, Warrant No. 4118, $82.00, claim No. 3894, General County Fund.

J. H. Wiggins, warrant No. 4119, $207.00, claim No. 3995, General County Fund.

J. H. Wiggins, warrant No. 4120, $40.75, claim No. 3996, General County Fund.

Cleofes Romero, warrant No. 4121, $17.90, claim No. 3997, Road Fund.

J. C. Hamilton, warrant No. 4122, $62.60, claim No. 3999, General County Fund.

The Board now adjourns until the first Monday in April, 1920.

C. M. MILBOURN, Chairman.

Attest: JULIAN SALAS, Clerk.

HOPE FOR BETTER MARKET

(From the Bean-Bag.)

Owing to the unfortunate foreign exchange situation, and the over-night rise of the Federal rediscount rate, foreign demand has come to a standstill, while banks are calling as rapidly as possible their commodity loans.

These two factors have a tendency to demoralize the market, causing weak holders to unload at wide spreads of prices.

Furthermore, Cuba has temporarily stepped out of the market owing to the dock congestion at West Indian ports, which further tends to eliminate sales to those points.

Jobbers have been stung so often on market declines during the past year, while having beans rolling to them, that they are temporarily out of the market, buying only enough to actually fill their wants. This has caused a complete lack of inquiry and has further weakened prices.

There are cases of f. o. b. quotations where spreads in price exist, which are as great as 30 cents, and, therefore, it is almost impossible to find the market.

Furthermore, the action of the California Lima Bean Growers' Association, in offering a 20 per cent free deal, has tended further to frighten weak holders.

The trade in general is hopeful that prices cannot remain at the low level at which they are and that any normal demand will strengthen the market.

Dealers' stocks are comparatively low and the California Bean Growers' Association, together with independent farmers, at present hold the bulk of the beans.

Decreased acreage is also to be considered, for against approximately 395,000 acres last year it is more than possible that not more than 300,000 acres will be planted to beans this spring, as owing to high prices of barley and grain and the unfortunate trials that bean growers have had for the last year a larger acreage now in beans will go into barley.

At the moment beans are actually being shipped for considerably less than they can be bought from the farmers, and until dealers' stocks are exhausted and this condition exists we do not look to see higher prices.

Conditions are changing so rapidly in all commodity lines that a prediction is worthless at this time, but we are satisfied that any real "bullish" tendency which would have more than a passing effect would tend to increase prices.

When the trade in general appreciates the fact that outside of the 1918 carry-over, there are not a great many beans left in California, and that the acreage will be considerably curtailed, there is no good reason why the prices should not materially stiffen.

Yours very truly,
CALIFORNIA BEAN CO.

"The bean situation looks bad, but according to those who deal in beans and watch the market closely, the looks do 'be deceiving.' We want to caution our readers right here that the recent drop in beans means nothing at all. In fact, the cheering news comes that beans will probably go a little lower, but this will be in preparation for the rise that is expected to come. We are advised that little, if any, trading is being done at present prices. The world must have beans and it can only defer its purchases about so long and then it must go into the market and bid for supplies. The present dullness may continue for another month or perhaps two at the outside, but basing our judgment upon information that we believe to be absolutely reliable, buyers will be active in the field by that time, and in view of the short supply prices are bound to soar. The market of today is in no condition to warrant a farmer selling.—Business Farming.

WATCH THE RACE
The weather the past week has been very trying on the heifers, but they have held to their milk flow remarkably well. In fact Alzia Herbert Maplecrest made a gain of 22 pounds, finishing her week's work with 372.2 pounds of milk, average test 3.6, best day's milk 56 pounds.

Pondview Snowball Segis has regained her loss from last week's breakdown and is hitting a clip that sure looks good to me. She is not only gaining in milk, but looks much better than she did at the beginning of the test. She finished her last week's work with 314 pounds of milk, average test 4.4.

Nine more days will complete the test. The total production of both milk and butter will be given next week. Watch for it.—J. W. Walker.

SHE IS LONESOME STILL

Earl Crook is wanted by the sheriff.

A few months ago he married a school teacher at San Pedro in Santa Fe county and took up residence with her parents while she was teaching a school nearby. His wife charged that the first of last week he left for Albuquerque, saying that he would return within a few days, she was informed when she returned home Saturday night from teaching.

At a wagon yard in Albuquerque they learned that Crook had tried to sell the team and wagon she had bought and which were mortgaged. Failing to sell them he drove away. He had ten dollars given him by his wife, and other money borrowed from her parents, she charges.

Asked by the sheriff if she had known the man well before she married him, the teacher replied that she had not. Six years of teaching, she said, had left her lonely. She met Crook, liked him and married him. Crook is wanted by Sheriff Garcia for attempting to sell mortgaged property.—Albuquerque Journal.

and two tickets have been put in the field. One headed "Citizens Ticket" is J. A. Constant for mayor, E. L. Cox, Everett McGee, Carl Sherwood and H. C. Williams for councilmen, Ira L. Ludwick for clerk and C. E. Ewing for treasurer; the other headed
"Taxpayers Ticket" is C. H.
Jameson for mayor, Matt
Freiling, Alex Booth, Luis Serna and Thomas B. Rap-koch for councilmen, Jno. P.
Prowse Jr. for clerk and A.
T. Cochran for treasurer. Except for the first named these are good men and the voters ought to be able to make a good selection. Most of them are unwilling sacrifices and have been dragged into allowing the use of their names.
A considerable number of leading citizens and taxpayers reside outside the town limits and cannot vote.
As has been explained heretofore there is a taxpaying qualification for voters on the bond question and it has been ascertained that only about forty-two can vote on that question. As far as this writer knows, there is no rancor or ill feeling so far, and if this attitude can be preserved all can accept the result philosophically, whether it accords with their views or not.

DIED

George W. Ingle, born January 23, 1885, near Bowen, Kentucky, came to New Mexico more than fourteen years ago. Died March 28, 1920, in Estancia in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.
H. Ingle.

George, as he was familiarly called, seemed to be the ideal of the home and was highly honored and respected by the town and community in which he lived.

George was converted six years ago. In his sickness he talked much of death and the future life. He told the family that he was ready to go, that he was trusting Jesus Christ for life and salvation.
So Sunday morning he fell asleep in Jesus. May we not grieve as others that have no hope. For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again
even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him.

So may our hearts take comfort in the words of God our Father. John 14:1-4.
"Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe in me. In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. I will come again and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also."

So dear friends and loved ones, may we weep not for George. He cannot come to us, but we can go to him.

"Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee;
Let the water and the blood,
From Thy wounded side which flow'd
Be of sin the double cure, Save from wrath and make me pure.
While I draw this fleeting breath,
When my eyes shall close in death,
When I rise to worlds unknown
And behold Thee on Thy throne."
May the Father comfort all our hearts.

Deceased was a member of the Masonic Order. The lodge attended in a body and performed the beautiful funeral rites of that fraternity at the grave. Yours in love,
W. C. GRANT, Pastor

METHODIST CHURCH

A. B. WEAVER, Pastor Services in the morning will be in the form of an Easter celebration. There will be a special program at the Sunday school hour, and the newly organized choir will lead in special Easter music at the morning service hour.

This is "Everybody-Go-To-Church-Sunday," and you are invited to attend our services.
The thought of the morning
sermon will be "Head Up, Eyes Front."

Come out and take a hopeful look into the future, and start in life again with a new courage. Let's make it a great Sunday in Estancia.

The evening service, beginning at 7:45, will be a Union
Service of all Protestant Christians in the town. The Baptist pastor and his people will meet with us in a united worship hour, and will lead in the service. An occasion of solid Christian front in our community. Everybody come.

Don't forget that Easter egg hunt at Antelope Springs on Friday night. Boys, bring eggs to the parsonage before Friday noon. Don't boil them and be sure they are fresh or —well, enough said. Girls will prepare sandwiches and the committee will serve hot coffee. Meet at the church at 6:30 sharp, trucks and cars will leave promptly at 7:00
P. M. for the Springs.
