NUMBER 43.

WOMEN CAN VOTE IN NEW MEXICO, SAYS MR. ASKREN

Women may vote in the coming state election.

So Attorney General O. O. Askren says in an opinion sent today to George R. Craig, chairman of the republican state central committee, and to Arthur Seligman, chairman of the democratic state central committee.

The opinion follows: Arthur Seligman, Chairman, Democratic State Committee, Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Dear Sir: In reply to your communication to me concerning the registration of women voters in this state, advise all women who are otherwise qualified to vote should be registered the same as men, as now provided by law. The question of the right of women to vote at all elections was fully determined upon the issuance by the secretary of state of the United States in his proclamation declaring the adoption of the nineteenth amendment, and, in my judgment, no action by the court will be taken to prevent them from voting at the coming election.

Yours very truly,
O. O. ASKREN, Attorney General.

COUNTY BOARD MEETING.

The regular meeting of the Eddy county board of education was held in the office of the county superintendent on Tuesday, Sept. 7th, and was called to order at 2:00 P. M., by the chairman, Geo. M. Brinton, the other members present being Mrs. Minaude W. Galton, vice-president, S. I. Roberts, secretary, Charles Rogers and G. R. Howard.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Paid warrants since the last meeting, numbering from 1308 to 1312, were approved and ordered placed in the records.

Bills for August were presented and discussed and inasmuch as some of them were not clear, it was suggested that local boards be specific in having all items stated separately and clearly before being approved by them for county board action.

The several bills as passed by the board were then approved and warrants ordered to be drawn in payment.

It was then ordered that an insurance of $1500.00 be placed on the Loving truck, and insurance for the several school buildings at Loving and one at Upper Black river was renewed.

Sanitary drinking fountains were provided for each of the rural schools.

The proposition from the state department relative to a rural school supervisor was then discussed and the county superintendent asked to notify the state department that inasmuch as the great majority of our schools are centralized and under the supervision of well trained principals under the direction of the county superintendent, and those not centralized so widely scattered throughout the county, the county board deemed it not advisable or necessary to employ a rural supervisor.

Various contracts for transportation of pupils to the centralized schools, to the county high schools and several teachers' contracts arriving late, were approved, after which the board adjourned.

Postmaster John Wells, with Mrs. Wells and baby Helen, returned yesterday from their vacation trip to Stillwell, Oklahoma, and points in Texas. They came in about two o'clock in the morning and feel somewhat fatigued from the long journey, but glad to be at home once more.

WHITE SLAVERY CASE TO BE HEARD NEXT MONTH IN SOCORRO.

The Current is always glad to correct any errors that may creep into its columns and calls attention to a misstatement made in the report of the arrest of Charles Harvey John, for violation of the Mann act. The Current stated that he was married and that his wife had procured his arrest. This was an error, the facts in the case being that he had divorced his wife some two years ago. Mrs. Nyland, the woman who accompanied John from their home, is anxious that we make that clear. She left a husband and two children, one twelve, the other eight years of age, in her home town, but says she expected her husband would have procured a divorce, as he had said he intended doing before she left home. She is being detained here as a witness against John, who is in jail awaiting trial. Mrs. Nyland has a room with Mrs. Higgins, is thirty years old and John thirty-four. The case will be heard next month in Federal court in Socorro.

LEGION TO MEET IN SANTA FE NEXT YEAR

The morning session of the second annual convention of the American Legion Posts of New Mexico at Roswell was given over to reports of the resolutions committee, and the finance committee, and other reports and work. The convention assembled at 10 o'clock and invocation was offered by Rev. Rudolph Caughey.

Thursday afternoon after the address by Judge R. H. Hanna of Albuquerque, Major E. P. Bujac of Carlsbad, addressed the delegates. Thursday night a reception and smoker at the club house and a free show at the Capitol Theater to the visitors, were enjoyed.

Friday afternoon the matter of the election of officers for the next year was gone into. Gov. O. A. Larrazolo, who was scheduled to speak, was unable to get here.

A barbecue was held at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Haynes park for the delegates, and after that they were taken for a ride through the farms and the town. A dance at the armory, instead of on the street, as previously announced, closed the sessions Saturday night.

Santa Fe was chosen for state headquarters for the Legion. The vote was 69 to 45; and was then made unanimous.

Department commander elected was J. W. Chapman, of Gallup. Senior vice-commander, elected, was G. V. Truder, of Las Vegas; Junior vice-commander, Fred Santistevan, of Taos; Adjutant, Tom Trammel, Roswell; Department historian, Mitchell, of Lordsburg; Master at Arms, Dr. Martin, Taos; Chaplain, Father Brown, Mesalera.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS LABOR DAY CELEBRATION.

The Pecos Valley Knights of Columbus Council No. 2514 and their families celebrated Labor Day by giving a picnic at the home of W. M. Walterscheid in Rio Vista in their usual spirit of "Everybody Welcome, Everything Free".

A lunch was served at 11 o'clock, after which all the Knights of Columbus participated in the Labor day parade, "K. of C." with council number being painted on the windshield of each car and composing one of the main features of the parade.

Refreshments of all kinds were served after the parade, followed by games and contests of all kinds—racing, swimming, boating, etc., concluding the amusements of the afternoon in which the young and old participated.

At six o'clock a picnic dinner was served which was followed by a dance.

All reported a very good time, only regretting that so few of the Roswell and Artesia Knights were able to attend on account of the heavy rains in that vicinity.

DIED AT SAN ANTONIO.

C. A. Moore, father of W. S. Moore, of Carlsbad, died at San Antonio, Texas, last Sunday morning. The remains were shipped to Roswell, arriving there Tuesday and interment was held at that place. Mr. Moore was an old resident of the valley and a Mason of years standing. W. S. Moore, wife and son, attended the funeral from this city, returning Wednesday evening.

REV. T. C. MAHAN.

Robert C. Smith, and wife, after a pleasant visit with Mrs. Smith's cousin, Mrs. Elliott Hendricks, left Wednesday for Stillwell, Oklahoma, where they will visit with Mr. Smith's parents, and other relatives and friends for a couple of months before returning to their home in El Paso. Mr. Smith is a veteran of the late war, was overseas about two years, and was in seven of the hardest fought engagements of the Americans.

LABOR DAY IN CARLSBAD.

First Public Celebration of Day in This City Held Monday—Good Speeches and Large Turn-out—A Decided Success.

The first general celebration of Labor Day ever attempted in Carlsbad was successfully carried out last Monday and was a success from every standpoint, starting promptly at one o'clock and ending with a big dance in the evening at the Armory.

The parade was fine, the attendance surpassed the expectation of the most sanguine and the parade and speeches were beyond criticism. Quite an imposing parade was led by the Carlsbad band and followed by the school children, following them the order of march as published in last week's Current was carried out. The Carpenters' Union, the only local organized body of labor in the city, were in charge of the affair, but working men of all trades were in line.

A feature of the parade that attracted much attention was the float prepared by the Brotherhood of American Yeomen which was occupied by a number of members of the order in full regalia who made a fine appearance. The Knights of Columbus had fifteen cars in the parade and afterwards attended a picnic at the Walterscheid place in La Huerta, where a splendid time is reported.

The burro race was won by Harold Dickson's burro, and he received the prize of $5.00; a second race was won by Martin Hubbard's animal, and he also received a cash prize. This part of the day's program was much enjoyed by a large crowd of interested spectators.

Speeches were made by Rev. Lowry, Judge Lamb, Hon. R. C. Dow, Major E. P. Bujac and Judge Jackson, of Artesia, in the order named, the different speakers being introduced in a very happy vein by the mayor, J. W. Hudgins. All the addresses were of a high order and were listened to attentively by the large audience which had gathered on the lawn about the bandstand.

The Current is especially gratified to present to its readers the speech of Mr. Dow, who was introduced to the people by Mayor Hudgins as the next attorney general of the state of New Mexico and judging from the hearty applause the statement brought forth, Mr. Dow's majority in Eddy county will be large. He is a candidate on the state democratic ticket for attorney general.

The attendance at the ball game between Carlsbad and Artesia was large and enthusiastic, the game resulting in a victory for the home team.

CAST OF UNUSUAL MERIT IN BASIL KING PHOTOPLAY.

Naomi Childers, Milton Sills and Lawson Butt in "The Street Called Straight."

An all-star cast may be seen in Basil King's "The Street Called Straight," an Eminent Authors production presented by Goldwyn at the Crawford airside Thursday, September 16th.

Directed by Wallace Worsley, this photoplay is acted with precise understanding of the character values of each role.

Charles Cleary does excellent work as Henry Gulon, the oldest living representative of a New England family, who misuses funds entrusted to him in order to keep up appearances.

Naomi Childers is seen as Olivia Gulon, his stately, proud daughter, whose assured position in society makes her see life in terms of cynicism and boredom. From this she is aroused by the generosity of Peter Davenant and his absolute indifference toward her. In realizing her own limitations, she learns to appreciate his possibilities.

Milton Sills has the role of Peter Davenant, a chivalrous, good-looking young man who gladly advances his all to aid a friend in trouble. In direct contrast to Davenant is Colonel Rupert Ashley, played superbly by Lawson Butt. He seems to be consecrated to the idea of being worthy of his ancestors.

Irene Rich's magnetic personality and charming presence add distinction to the part of Drusilla Fane, an attractive widow. Alec Francis is always good. His work as Rodney Temple is just another example of his consummate skill on the screen. Lydia Yeamans Titus gives a splendid impersonation of Aunt Vic, Mme. De Melcourt, and Jane Sterling as Mrs. Temple completes an excellent cast.

A. N. Pratt and his sister, Miss Pratt, returned from a lengthy trip east getting in Saturday afternoon on the train from the north. We are glad that the health of Mr. Pratt seems to be better than when he left here in the early part of the season.

Wells Benson and family and Mrs. Muhlmann and Evelyn McIntosh have arrived in Carlsbad from their stay in California, and the little girls have entered school.

LARGEST STOCK OF JEWELRY EVER SHOWN IN CARLSBAD.

There is no line of goods quite so essential to the pleasing appearance of a business as a complete assortment of everything commonly found in a first class jewelry establishment. Carlsbad should be proud of the fact that she has one of the most complete jewelry stores to be found anywhere in the southwest, and since the large stock of goods recently bought have about all arrived The Sellers Jewelry Company presents that pleasing appearance which so quickly attracts and holds the attention of prospective buyers of jewelry.

W. C. Sellers, who is personally at the helm of this company, has recently spent about four months selecting his complete stock of goods from the various markets of the country. Before he was able to get everything wanted by his customers, he had to purchase from New York to Los Angeles, California. A good portion of the stock now on display was bought direct from the factory, thereby making a saving over the price asked in the regular markets of the country.

Mr. W. C. Sellers has conducted the Sellers Jewelry Company in Carlsbad for the past 15 years and during all those long years has experienced a steady increase in volume of business which is perfectly natural when the quality of goods sold is considered and the honest, pleasing manner in which he deals with each customer.

A visit to this popular store will enable the public to inspect the largest line of China, Glassware and Jewelry of all kinds ever on display in this city. The stock purchased for the fall trade is twice as large as ever before and the assortment of platinum and diamond goods are a revelation of the best to be bought in those lines.

Mr. Sellers says he put in his stock of goods early this year so the buying public would have a chance to do Christmas shopping early before the rush, which is bound to be great this year. Early Xmas shopping is also urged because a complete stock may be found from which to select. Any line which may become depleted later on can be bought but there is more or less difficulty in getting it here without delay in transit, therefore it is advisable to look ahead and anticipate Xmas needs before the jewelry stock is picked over.

Mr. Sellers is the official watch inspector for the Santa Fe railroad company, a position which he could not hold if he was not an expert in his line, and he specializes in watch and jewelry repairing of any and every kind. A trial will place you among the large number of satisfied customers of this establishment made during many years of service in Carlsbad.

BROTHERHOOD OF AMERICAN YEOMEN ELECT OFFICERS.

The local lodge of the above named order held a meeting at their hall last Wednesday night for the election of officers for the ensuing year. The order in Carlsbad is getting stronger all the time under the leadership of Fred Rindskopf, district manager, and now boasts 125 active members. At the meeting Wednesday night the election resulted as follows:

Foreman, W. C. Wilkinson.
Master of Ceremonies, Joe Johns.
Correspondent, Mrs. B. A. Carder.
Master of Accounts, Homer King.
Chaplain, Miss Opal Matney.

The remainder of the officers are appointive and their names will be announced at the next regular meeting.

The preliminary trial of Roy Hepler and Ivan Hartshorn for "butchering a calf and failing to produce the hide when requested to do so by an officer duly authorized under the law," was held in the court house last Saturday and resulted in both defendants being bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $750 for appearance before that body at its session Oct. 4th. They gave bond for such appearance, and were accordingly released.

NO JURY TRIALS AT OCTOBER TERM OF DISTRICT COURT

Court will convene for the Fifth Judicial District in Eddy county on October 4th but no jury trials will be held. This action was deemed necessary by the court on account of the court fund now being overdrawn as a result of the Lackey murder trial principally, and other jury cases which have been very costly during the last terms of court in this county.

The murder case of W. C. Cargill will not be tried at this term, but will probably come up for hearing the first of next year, at which time it is expected the funds for court purposes will be sufficient to meet all needs.

The grand jury will meet and make their report, but there will be no petit jury and all cases requiring a jury will be set for next term of court. Those cases which can be heard before the court will be tried, which will make this session brief. Lawyers who have cases they wish to defer coming to trial will take advantage of the present situation and demand a jury, which will swell the docket for the first of next year.

The following have been chosen as grand jurors for the October term:

Noah Buck.	H. D. Hubbard
G. M. Williams	B. M. Curry.
Hy C. Walton.	Geo. K. Harrell
D. S. Martin.	Hardin Clark.
E. C. Higgins.	C. J. Sharatt.

HAY TRADE CONDITIONS OF THE WEEK.

Supplies of hay at most terminals are light and old accumulations have worked down to normal. Values are firm and higher for old stock, but a number of markets are quoting new hay, this week, which brings the average of prices lower, although they are actually stronger. Holders of old hay are not shipping, in the hope that some time prices will reach their purchase level and producers are not selling freely, being dissatisfied with the present range of prices. General conditions, therefore, are very uncertain as the new crop is not starting at any well defined range of values. In the markets where new hay has supplanted old, the supply is ample for the moderate needs, and these markets have sagged off during the past two weeks, but are steady at the present range of values.—Hay Journal.

MARRIED.

Rayroux-Pennington.
Laurent F. Rayroux and Miss Lillie Pennington were united in marriage Wednesday evening at the Episcopal rectory, at seven o'clock, the pastor, Rev. F. W. Pratt, performing the ceremony. A wedding supper was served to the families and friends at the home of the bride's parents, previous to the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Pennington, who came here from Kentucky, some three years ago, while the groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Auguste Rayroux who have resided here for many years. Both are fine industrious young people, and are deserving and receiving the hearty best wishes and congratulations of all who know them.

The couple left on the north bound train the same night for a short wedding trip and will then be at home in La Huerta where Mr. Rayroux has a cozy home.

J. H. Linn and wife returned from a trip east, going as far as Washington, D. C., where they visited at the home of their son, Arthur, and met the new grandson. They also visited friends in Ohio and Indiana while they were gone. Mr. Linn says that the Pecos valley in general and Carlsbad in particular look mighty good to him. He also says it is very evident from what he heard and learned on his entire trip that the next president of the United States will be a democrat.

Rev. D. F. Sellards has been busy this week taking the school census, and will finish the work the last of the week.

EASTERN NEW MEXICO TO HAVE ANOTHER HIGHWAY.

Eastern New Mexico is to have another great highway. This is a north and south cross-connecting highway. The new highway will connect with the Bankhead National Highway and the Spanish Old Trail either at Pecos or Van Horn, Texas, and from there will connect with El Paso over the Bankhead National Highway.

The highway will then go north through Carlsbad, Pearl, Lovington, and Tatum, where it will cross the Dixie-Overland Highway. The Southern National Highway and the Borderland Highway, thence it will extend through Portales, to Clovis where it will cross the Ozark Trails, the Postal Highway, the Abo Pass route and the Bankhead National Highway. From Clovis the route will extend through Grady to Tucuman where it again crosses the Ozark Trails and the Fort-Fort Highway, and on through Loran to Clayton where it crosses the Colorado-to-Gulf Highway, and the National Parks Gulf Highway.

The route from Clayton leads through the corner of the Oklahoma Panhandle, to Lamar, Colorado, where it will cross the Santa Fe Trail and the National Old Trail; thence through Burlington, Colorado, crossing the Pike's Peak Ocean-to-Ocean Highway and the Midland Trail. From there it will extend through Julesburg, Colorado, to a connection with the Lincoln National Highway.

There are three distinct advantages of this road. First, it will cross-connect sixteen great national highways making an invaluable connecting link with those of the south. Second, it will give eastern New Mexico and the Texas Panhandle a direct route into Colorado. Third, it will provide a new winter route into El Paso that is below the snow line. This route will be available in the event the mountain passes in the west are blocked with snow.

Mrs. Fred Dietz and child, the lady sister of Mrs. Hobbs, of this city, are in town, coming from their home at Prague, Oklahoma, for a visit.

GOOD ROADS MEETING.

At a meeting of the committee having in charge the raising of funds for the purpose of securing the Ozark Trails for the valley, a routing committee recommended the route from Roswell to pass through Dexter, Hagerman, Lake Arthur, Artesia, Dayton, Lakewood, Carlsbad, Otis, Loving, Malaga, and Pecos and thence down the Bankhead Highway to El Paso. The committee to look after the matter is composed of W. C. Lawrence, chairman, W. P. Melvill, J. L. Williams, Martin Yates and N. S. West.

Carlsbad and most of the other towns and communities report that they have secured the amount required of them; in the case of this city, $1,800.00 being the amount asked. Some of the towns say that they will have a surplus and at the last meeting it was decided to make the subscription a common fund and any surplus that was raised over the amount apportioned for any particular community, is to be used in making up the total amount required.

All funds that have been subscribed must be paid by or before the middle of this month and as great benefit will accrue to all towns through which the road will pass, it is hoped that the people generally will subscribe liberally to this important matter.

A SURPRISE PARTY.

A "sure-enough" surprise was given to Mrs. Ray Davis at her home south of town by a few of her many friends, Tuesday afternoon. The ladies spent a delightful social time with their friend, and at the close of the afternoon, served delicious cake and ice cream prepared for the event by some of the ladies. On parting, each guest left a little present as a memento of the happy occasion. Those present were Mesdames A. D. and Raymond Poteet, J. E. Wheeler, J. J. Kircher, Vernon Middleton, Worley, S. L. Filson, T. J. Kindel, Hiler, Little, Swickard, Slease, Edwin Stephenson, J. R. Corn, of Barstow, Texas, Gorley, Grand, J. Floyd Hart, Slease, Moberley, Hubbard, Mercer, Sam and M. L. Davis; Mrs. Filson, Miss Shields, and Miss Anderson, and the honor guest, Mrs. Ray Davis.

The twin baby boy of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Runyan who was kicked in the face by a mule some days ago, has recovered rapidly and will soon be as good as new. As he is so young, it is thought he will outgrow much of the result of the hurt, but it surely was a close call.

Mrs. Bowdre and daughter, Miss Mary, who have been in town some time looking after property interests, left for their home at Fort Worth, last Wednesday.

W. C. T. U.

A meeting of that society was held at the Methodist church last Wednesday afternoon which was the regular meeting day. An especial interest attached to the meeting as it was the day for the new president to take her place and again it was the day for the assembling of the articles which have been donated for the Frances Allard Home at Belen. So far there has been received for that purpose, four pairs of pillows, three towels, two sheets, seven pairs of pillow slips, four comforters, one quilt, one pair of serim curtains. Other articles have been promised and will be sent in before the goods are shipped. Mrs. Mercer will take the articles with her when she leaves for Belen, she going as a delegate from the local union to the state convention. At the close of the meeting, Wednesday punch and water were served all present.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION AT BELEN POSTPONED.

The International Congress of the World Against Alcoholism meets in Washington, D. C., the 20th to 26th of December. The National Woman's Christian Temperance Union has called an executive meeting, which includes all state presidents, for September 17, 18 and 19 at Washington, D. C., preceding the international congress.

This executive meeting will take the place of the regular national convention, which was to have been held in Atlantic City, N. J., in November. This decision was made by the national official board on account of advanced railway rates and short time between the two meetings.

The state president of the New Mexico W. C. T. U., Mrs. Anna W. Strumquist, is a member of the executive board and will also be a delegate to the international congress and will attend both assemblies. For this reason it was found necessary to postpone the W. C. T. U. state convention at Belen from September 17-19 to October 3-5.

The members of the Merchant family who attended the barbecue at Abilene, last week, returned home from there Tuesday night. They were Mr. and Mrs. John Merchant, and son, J. D., Lige Merchant and wife and son, Lawrence, W. H. Merchant and son, Billie, J. R. Boyd, a friend of the family, returned at the same time.

Miss Verna May Taylor has taken the position of teacher of the Upper Black River school and began her duties last Monday.

Francis G. Tracy and family were expected to arrive in Carlsbad the last of last week, but a telegram received from Mr. Tracy, explained that they were on their way overland and were at that time in Missouri. They are expected home at any time now.

FOR HEADACHE, LIVER TROUBLE

Black-Draught Is The Best Medicine This Lady Ever Used. Says It Is Only Medicine She Gives Her Children.

Cherry Village, Ark.—In telling of her experience with Theodor's Black-Draught, Mrs. Lottie Ellis, R. F. D. No. 1, this place, said: "I used Black-Draught as a laxative, also for headache, torpid liver and indigestion. It is the best liver medicine I have ever used and is the only medicine I give my children."

"I feel like it has saved me a lot in doctors' bills, for when the children complain of feeling bad or have a cold, I just give them a good dose of Black-Draught and they soon get all right. It certainly cleans the liver and clears up the skin and they are soon out, well again. I wouldn't be without it for anything."

Seventy years of successful use has made Theodor's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member of every family, needs, at times, the benefit that Black-Draught gives in helping to cleanse the system and to prevent or relieve the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, and a lazy liver.

To keep well, your stomach, liver and bowels must be in good working order. To help keep them that way, take occasional doses of Theodor's Black-Draught. Thousands of homes are never without it.

The genuine has the name, Theodor's, on the label. Just on getting what you ask for.

The Most Welcome Tire That Ever Came to Market

Men Who Appreciate Superlative Values Prefer The Brunswick

In every great tire factory, the chief question is: "How much can we give for the money?" And the product depends on the policy adopted.

Every man who has become acquainted with Brunswick Tires knows that Brunswick standards are again evident. This famous concern—noted as a leader in every line it entered since 1845—has once more proved that its policy is right.

A perfect tire is simply a matter of knowledge and standards and skill. No secrets nor patents prevent making an ideal tire.

But standards come first. For in tire making there is vast room for skimping, for subtle economies, for hidden shortcomings. Makers without the highest standards don't build high-grade tires.

The Brunswick organization of tire makers includes a brilliant staff of technical experts. Not a man among them has spent less than 20 years in handling rubber.

Each is a master of his craft. And the new ideas they bring to the attention of Brunswick directors receive sincere consideration.

Every proved betterment is adopted unanimously.

The Brunswick Tire is a combination of acknowledged features—plus Brunswick standards of manufacture.

The result is a super-tire, the like of which you have never known before. The kind of a tire you will gladly join in welcoming.

Yet Brunswicks cost no more than like-type tires.

Try ONE Brunswick. We promise a surprise. And we feel certain that you will want ALL Brunswicks.

Then good tires will have a new meaning to you.

For Spur's good tobacco taste can't help but win you for keeps. There's rich, mellow Turkish; flavorful Burley and other home-grown tobaccos blended in a new way that brings out to the full the all-round goodness of this top-notch cigarette.

And Spurs top all—all ways. They're crimped. That means slow burn, smooth taste—no paste. The smart "brown-and-silver" package is three-fold to keep Spurs fresh and fragrant. Miss Hattie Eaker, who has been on a visit to homefolks and friends in Carlsbad, left this week for her work as telegraph operator on the T. & P. railroad out from Fort Worth, Texas, a few miles.

Mrs. Mabel Kincaid was called to El Paso by the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Wilson, at that place. The latter lady had a serious operation performed a day or so previously and wired for Mrs. Kincaid who left Tuesday morning.

Mrs. E. P. Bujac and daughter, Miss Adelle, left this morning for El Paso, where the daughter will enter a private school for the school year.

Bert Rawlins and wife have returned from what Bert characterizes as a "busy vacation" which they spent at Lovington. Mr. Rawlins reports a big crowd at the picnic and a very pleasant time.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Alexander have been in the city this week packing their goods preparatory to shipping them to El Paso, where Mr. Alexander will take up work with the Title Trust company, a firm for which he worked years ago, and the family will make their home in the Pass City. They left yesterday for Pecos where little Annabeth is staying with friends and will join them and go from there to their new home.

B. H. Ellsworth and daughter, Miss Ethelyn, who have been spending the last few weeks on a combined business and pleasure trip to various parts of Colorado, have about finished their business and pleasure as well and are expected home very soon. They have been greatly missed in church and social life and will receive a warm welcome at the hands of their friends when they return.

SENATOR HARDING'S WORLD COURT.

Seldom has a Presidential candidate found himself in a more awkward position than that of Senator Harding in regard to the peace treaty. In addition to the difficulty of being unable to conceal an insufficient familiarity with international problems, he is handicapped by a Senate record at variance with the party platform on which he now stands, by a feeling of obligation to defend the senators that did their best to defeat the treaty, and by the necessity of putting forward something that may seem a suitable substitute for the League of Nations.

It is no easy task to develop a satisfactory compromise position on a question of national principle and one involving the national honor. Until his front-porch speech last Saturday, Senator Harding had done remarkably well. He had managed to be vague without being obviously evasive, and it was to his vagueness he owed the achievement of enlisting the support of men as diverse as Senator Lodge, former President Taft, and Senator Johnson.

There must have been something very elastic in declarations that could satisfy one prepared to accept any league so that it was not recognizable as the Wilson league, another who favors the league, and another absolutely and irreconcilably opposed to the peace pact in any form.

But such vagueness could not continue, and on Saturday Senator Harding essayed the task of furnishing his substitute for the measure as adopted by thirty-four nations. He proceeded on the theory that a league by any other name would be not only as good, but better, since it would enable him and his party to claim credit for its organization. He was wise enough to realize that, apart from the irreconcilables, the dispute in the senate was never as to the merits of the peace treaty and the League of Nations, but solely one of denying the honor of ratification to a Democratic administration.

Yet he did not intend to reveal the fact that he was merely trying to find another name for the League of Nations by calling it a world court, while it is inconceivable that he could have realized the truth that his proposal is more directly opposed to the platform of his party than is the pact that he asks the country to defeat.

He said he wanted a world court something like The Hague Tribunal, but recognizing the force of the contention that The Hague Tribunal became less than a scrap of paper the moment the world went to war and that it did so because it lacked "teeth," he naively added: "Very well, then, let's put 'teeth' into it."

Well might his political opponents declare: "The Lord hath delivered him into our hands!" If the world court is to have "teeth," it will differ from the League of Nations only in that it will not have the greatest of all safeguards of American interests, namely, the principle of no action without the unanimous consent of members of the Council. Under the League constitution the United States would have the power to veto any proposal; its one vote could hold out against the votes of the other four powers. As a member of a world court we would be called upon to abide by a decision of a majority of the court.

The League with its proviso for unanimity safeguards America as it safeguards the interests of all other members.

A world court with "teeth" and a majority verdict might subject any one or more of the powers to the machinations of a majority.

And a world court with "teeth" and a provision for unanimity would be the League of Nations in all but the name.

Are we to ask the thirty-four nations that have ratified the treaty to recall their ratification and reassemble at the peace table merely for the purpose of giving Senator Harding credit for having thought of a better name than the League of Nations?

A NEW SCHOOL YEAR.

America's great educational machine is once more limbered up for action. The people do not need to be reminded of the value of school instruction. The appropriations for common schools in this country for the new school year will run well up to a billion dollars. It is one of the most wonderful examples of public spirit and wise foresight to be found in the world. Yet spending a great sum of money does not alone assure good schools. The people must take hold and give personal attention to this cherished interest.

Here are three principles that must be kept in mind, if the community is to get its money's worth out of these schools and accomplish reasonably good results:

1. Keep politics out of the schools. School boards, trustees, superintendents, etc., should not be chosen on political grounds, but on a basis of competence. School authorities that consider political influence in appointing teachers are not fit to hold office.

2. Pay teachers a living wage. The average factory girl today laughs at the school teacher's pay. The raw boned and ignorant young woman who quit school without a day of high school training, frequently earns more than the cultivated and brainy high school teacher, who is building up good citizenship for your benefit.

3. Insist on practical education. Many pupils can not learn from books. If you insist on forcing a purely book education down their throats, they quit. Give them a training in which hand work and mental work are judiciously mingled.

The schools of Carlsbad live up to these principles better than most communities. Still the whole educational system of the country needs recasting. Changes will have to come here as elsewhere.

LAKEWOOD LOCALS.

School was opened Monday morning under very favorable auspices. A number of the parents and patrons were present to lend encouragement, and to witness the beginning. When the hour for opening arrived all were assembled in the auditorium, and the principal, J. D. Pulliam, addressed the assemblage, outlining the work for the term, and making some suggestions as to what would be expected of the pupils, and asking for co-operation of patrons and guardians.

Judge J. W. Dauron, chairman of the local board, also encouraged along the same line and of the outlook for a successful term. J. M. Wood, secretary of the board, spoke briefly, asking the co-operation of the parents in order to put the Lakewood school in the front rank for efficiency and accomplishment.

The school removed to their respective rooms, where the four classes entered enthusiastically into the work of organization and study. There have been about 70 pupils in attendance up to and including Thursday.

Miss Mabel Robinson, departed Saturday for Loving, near which place Miss Mabel will teach this year. J. C. Andrix, Postal Inspector for this district, was here Friday looking over Uncle Sam's postal business at this point.

The family of A. J. Brownfield, who is working at the Globe Plaster mill, moved up from Carlsbad Saturday and entered their four children in school here.

Miss Ellen Larremore departed Friday for Silver City, where she will take a special course in the Normal school this year.

G. H. Sellmeyer, cashier of the Lakewood National Bank, moved his family to Carlsbad Saturday.

Sam Jones and family, of Rocky Arroyo, were here Saturday visiting and shopping.

Mrs. J. M. Wood and Mrs. J. M. Stroud will leave today (Friday) for Mineral Wells, Texas, where they will spend a month taking special medical treatment.

Mrs. J. L. Pate and two children, of Guymon, Oklahoma, came in Wednesday afternoon to remain a month with her father, J. M. Stroud, while her mother, Mrs. J. M. Stroud, is absent at Mineral Wells, Texas.

Judge J. W. Dauron, Frank Dauron, Pote Scott and Elmer Baker were business visitors to Carlsbad Monday.

F. L. Dearborn and Ed. Kirkpatrick, of Carlsbad, were here Tuesday hauling out some tables, counters and fixtures which were bought from the Peoples Mercantile company and the Kemp lumber company.

Calvin Ares is in from the ranch in the mountains today and will likely spend a few days in town.

A LINE PARTY.

Children in the neighborhood of the C. H. Dishman home in West Carlsbad were invited to a line party Thursday of last week, to see the "Flame of the Desert" which was on at the Air dome. After an evening of play at the Dishman home they were treated to sweets which were enjoyed proportionately with the picture show. The happy youngsters were Fern Witham, Evelyn Kircher, Francis Jones, Jessie Hatcher, May and Rex Dishman.

ROAD BUILDING

STANDARDIZING ROAD TESTS

Conference of Engineers Expected to Eliminate Confusion and Other Difficulties.

Confusion and other difficulties that have come from the use in different states of varying tests for materials used in road construction are expected to be eliminated by a recent conference held in the offices of the bureau of public roads, United States department of agriculture. Highway testing engineers representing most of the states attended. From their suggestions a system of standardized tests is to be evolved.

Manufacturers of road materials, as well as the federal and state highway departments, have been inconvenienced, because materials that would meet the requirements of one state would be rejected in another often because of different interpretations of specifications. Much of this work is done co-operatively by the federal and state governments under the federal aid road act, which is one of the reasons why it has been thought advisable to set up national standards that will be in effect in all states.

The conference was held under the auspices of the National Association of State Highway Officials. This organization will promulgate the standardized tests. It is expected that use of the tests will be generally adopted, although their use by the states will be voluntary.

A number of state highway testing engineers, in addition to a number of engineers of the bureau of public roads, attended the conference.

ADVANTAGES OF GOOD ROADS

Promote Self-Respect in Community and Cheaper Cost of Transportation to Markets.

Good roads promote self-respect in a community. They make possible social intercourse. They bring the benefits of churches and schools within the reach of all. They help to keep the boys on the farm. They cheapen the cost of transportation of farm products to the markets and thus add to the farm profits. They add to the value of farm lands much more than they cost. They mark the degree of civilization of the rural community.

GOOD ROADS AND DRIVEWAYS

As Essential on Farms as Public Highways to Enable Farmer to Handle Produce.

A well-ordered farm should have well-ordered roads and driveways to and around the buildings. In other words, private roads on the farm are as important to the interests they serve as the public roads over which the farmer's produce is marketed. A good road from the farmer's gate to his marketing place should not be depreciated by a poor road from the gate to the barn or packing house.

FEDERAL AID FOR MISSOURI

Bureau of Roads Approves Forty-Nine Projects at an Estimated Cost of $5,948,910.

Forty-nine federal aid road projects, an aggregate of 450.29 miles at an estimated construction cost of $5,948,910, have been approved by the federal bureau of roads. This announcement was made by the state highway board here today. The federal government is to pay $2,904,975, and the state and counties the remainder.

While the entire week's offerings are far above the average, especial attention is called to the pictures for Monday and Thursday nights, while, of course, everybody will want to see Doris May and Douglas McLean in the screen adapted from the story by Mary Roberts Rinehart, "23 1/2 Hours Leave", a picture that pleases everybody.

HON. ROBT. C. DOW'S LABOR DAY ADDRESS.

Below is given the address delivered by Hon. Robt. C. Dow, of Carlsbad, candidate for the office of attorney general of New Mexico on the Democratic ticket:

Ladies and Gentlemen:
So far as I am advised, this is the first celebration or public demonstration Carlsbad has ever undertaken on behalf of labor. Labor Day is an institution recognized throughout the country for many years past and it is quite refreshing and highly commendable that Carlsbad should now undertake to do her duty and perform a service on behalf of labor.

In the hurry and bustle of life, we sometimes fail to recognize the just deserts of labor and to sympathize with and commend labor to the extent it so justly deserves. It is easy to understand, if we but give the matter a sober second thought, that, without the hand of labor, world progress would be absolutely impossible. Our material, educational and spiritual progress depends to a very large extent upon the hand of labor. It is easy to reason upon the question of labor to the end that we may conclude that but for its influence upon civilization we would yet be living in a barbaric age.

Formerly, labor has been equally commendable and praiseworthy as now, but has never been quite so nearly in position to demand and obtain the recognition to which it has always been entitled. The organization of labor throughout the country has placed in its hands the power to enforce its rights. Through its unions and various organizations labor has been enabled to ascertain, on a moment's notice, the general conditions prevailing throughout the United States and after so obtaining this information, it is in a position to advise and assist fellow-workers in the remotest sections of the country wherever it may appear that they may be oppressed and deprived of their individual rights. When I refer to and commend labor unions and organizations, I refer to such only as seek to procure their rights through orderly and lawful means. I cannot condemn too severely the object and intent of the I. W. W. and kindred organizations. I cannot commend them because of the element of force and the element of disloyalty exhibited in their past demeanor. I do commend, however, the orderly processes used by the more representative labor organizations of the country. If capital has a right to organize for its benefit and further progress, it is self-evident that labor likewise should be permitted so to organize for like purposes.

I have never found it within my heart to begrudge labor any lawful achievement that it has gained. I am glad to see that, within the last few years, labor has come into its own. I am glad to see the children of the laboring man looked upon with equal deference and consideration as children from the other walks of life. I am glad to see them no longer hampered in their progress through life on account of the mean and insignificant wage which at times have heretofore been meted out to their fathers. I am glad to see conditions prevail which make labor thrifty and self-respecting. Self-respect on behalf of so large a contingent of our people means a great deal to the civilization of our country.

My concern and sympathy on behalf of labor may possibly be superinduced because of the fact that I am a laborer myself and always have been and am proud of it.

The organizations have not only sought and obtained the proper recognition of labor but have produced and are producing more efficient and scientific labor in every calling. Labor now commands a salary somewhat commensurate with its deserts. In this connection I might relate a little story I read not long since to the following effect:
A well-dressed, smooth-shaven, handsome young gentleman stepped into the main offices of one of our principal railroads not long since and asked for employment. The manager looked him over and suggested that he had come at an opportune time because one of his clerks had left the employment of the road that morning and stated that the company would start him in at $15.00 per week. The manager also showed him his desk in the office and trusted that he would be well satisfied with the work. The young man thereupon said: "Hell, no! I am not a clerk and don't want to be a clerk. To the yards for me." The manager then said very well, we can use you there also and will be willing to start you in at $45.00 a week, instead of $15.00 a week.
As I have stated before, I am truly glad to see Carlsbad thus publicly recognize and celebrate Labor Day. It is a good sign in my opinion. I have never believed that labor and capital would become friendly and march hand in hand with an over-plus of venom and spleen being ad throughout the country by certain adherents of the two elements. On the other hand, I believe that friendliness and co-operation is absolutely necessary between the two. I further believe that a profound respect and belief in the rights and the principles of the brotherhood of man is essential in bringing about that co-operation so necessary between capital and labor. It has been demonstrated that one cannot coerce the other, but that their differences must be adjusted through friendly, just and equitable negotiations. Neither should attempt by propaganda or otherwise to array the people of the country, the one against the other.

Southern Baptists Send Ship Load of Missionaries to Foreign Fields

RECEIPTS FROM 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN ENABLE BOARD TO MAKE LARGEST NUMBER OF APPOINTMENTS IN HISTORY OF MISSIONARY ENDEAVOR—MANY TO ORIENT.

When approximately one hundred Southern Baptist missionaries sailed on the Canadian Pacific liner, the Empress of Japan, from Vancouver, British Columbia, Tuesday, August 17, for fields in the Orient, they formed the largest group of evangelists of the Christian religion that has ever been sent to foreign fields at a single time by a single denomination since the beginning of Christian missions.

The majority of the appointees of the Foreign Mission Board are new workers, recently come from the various educational institutions of the South where they have spent years in preparation for the duties they are about to assume in other lands.

Appointment and sending forward of so large a number of workers at a single time was made possible by the larger proceeds for missions from the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, from which $20,000,000 will be realized for foreign missions during the five years covered by the campaign. Not all of this fund will be used in employing new workers, though approximately 500 additional men and women will be sent out during the five years. Other sums will go to providing more church buildings, schools and hospitals, homes for the missionaries and improvements of that character, including publishing houses for turning out the Bible and other religious literature. Many improvements will be made in missionary institutions already in operation on the foreign fields.

Missionary Operations Enlarged.
In the new appointees of the Foreign Mission Board—and a new record was established when sixty-six were named by it this summer—are a number of Christian doctors, nurses, teachers, scientists and women workers, and one expert in farming and stock raising. These will supplement the work of the evangelists in that they will seek to relieve bodily suffering, teach the boys and girls, pave the way for more efficient homes by interesting mothers in sanitary housekeeping, and by their good work create in the minds of the people a favorable attitude toward the Christian religion. The instructor in agriculture and stock raising will undertake to reach many Chinese farmers with better methods of production and thus prove that the Christian missionary is the farmer's friend. The majority of the missionaries were born on the farm.

While the majority of the new appointees are going to China and Japan, others will sail in September for work in Africa, Brazil, Argentina and Chile.

World Program is Planned.
Ten foreign fields are occupied by Southern Baptists today in Africa, Asia, Europe, South America and Mexico. The work in all these fields will be strengthened and enlarged as a result of the larger funds made available for foreign missions through the Baptist 75 Million Campaign. New fields have been opened in Europe and the Near East and a million dollars has been appropriated for launching an intensive work in Russia the moment the doors of opportunity are opened there. The Board is greatly strengthening its work in Palestine and hopes ultimately to give the gospel to hundreds of thousands of people in the land which witnessed the earthly labors of Jesus Christ.

Dr. J. B. Gambrell, of Fort Worth, Texas, president of the Southern Baptist Convention, and Dr. E. Y. Mullins, of Louisville, Ky., president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, are now on a visit to all the Baptist families of the world, conveying to them the greetings of good will from Southern Baptists and laying the foundation for a fuller Baptist program for the evangelization of the world.

Money Apportioned to Mission Fields.
In the distribution of funds to new work among the various mission fields occupied by Southern Baptists the following appropriations have been made by the Foreign Mission Board: Africa, $233,925, calling for 31 new missionaries; Argentina, $263,550, calling for 17 new missionaries; Brazil, $1,339,100, calling for 54 new missionaries; Chile, $58,900, calling for six new missionaries; China, $3,279,125, calling for 331 new missionaries; Europe and the Near East, $3,558,950; Japan $519,000, calling for 40 new missionaries, and Mexico, $420,000, calling for eight new missionaries.

Work in Homeland Fostered.
While a large sum from the campaign is appropriated to foreign missions, home interests have not been overlooked. Appropriations to home objects include $12,000,000 for home missions; $11,000,000 to state missions; $20,000,000 to Christian education, or the better equipment and partial endowment of the 114 educational institutions owned by Southern Baptists; $4,800,000 for the thirteen Baptist hospitals in the South; $4,039,688 for the sixteen orphanages, and $2,500,000 for the relief of aged ministers and their dependent families.

A PARABLE ON PROFANITY. (Safed the Sage.)

By Rev. Geo. H. Givan

They had a water-pipe in the road at the place where I and Keturah go in summer; and the soil was stubborn and rocky. And when the men came for to dig I took a spade and dugged for a little time in the trench with them. Likewise did I with the Pick and the Crowbar.

And the men said, Thou canst do work such as we do save it be only in one thing. For if we strike more Rock than we expect, or if the water flow into our trench, or if peradventure it cave in so that we have to dig it out again, canst thou do thy part of the Swearing?

And I answered and said, I will do it all.

And they said, It is liable to be a large contract.

And I said, Even so I will assume it. All the Swearing this job requireth, leave it to me.

And when the ditch caved in, or the water stood in the trench so they had to pump it out, or they struck rock and had to blast, then did they say one to another, Swear not; for that is Safed's job.

And thus it came to pass that no Swearing was necessary, but only Muscle and Pumps and some Dynamite.

Now I considered how many people there be who swear by the use of Profane words, or by the slamming of doors, or by scolding, and I thought that it would be well if there might be appointed an official swearer for all such like occasions, and that he should consider the matter carefully before swearing or scolding and see if some other way would answer just as well. For if the rigger strike rock, and must use dynamite as well as swear, he might as well use dynamite instead of swearing. And if kindness will do the work instead of scolding, then is the scolding wasted or maybe worse.

Therefore am I open to employment wherever there is need, and to take the responsibility of all the swearing and all the scolding that shall be required, and if it be left to me, there will not be much of either.

For one should neither swear nor scold if there be any other way to accomplish the result desired; nor unless it is sure that swearing and scolding will do good.

For there is a lot of wasted swearing and scolding; and to scold is to swear.

THE CONSECUTIVE CLERGY. (Miss Granger)

Rearranged for Current by Rev. George H. Givan.

'Tis strange how preachers come and go—
We never find the one we're after
Some are too fast and some too slow—
Some causing tears and others laughter.

But Reverend Snow preached too long—
We simply had to let him go;
And Reverend Grimes spoke so strong—
We could not bear it! Oh no, No!

Reverend Puckett's stay was brief—
Our ladies called his wife too dressy;
And Reverend Jones soon came to grief—
His wife, our ladies said, looked messy.

Reverend Spears we thought a lime—
He pulled off stunts so very crazy;
And Reverend Smith we brought to time—
Because he was so slow and lazy.

Reverend James was brought to book—
For being too reserved and cold;
And Reverend Gilmore got the hook—
Because his manners were too bold.

And from all that I can gather now,
Reverend Gibbs before next season
Will have to make his farewell bow—
Provided we can find a reason.

NEW MEXICO WOOL GROWERS MAY MEET OCTOBER FIRST NOT ON SEPT. SEVENTH.

The semi-annual meeting of the Wool Growers' association originally set for September 1 at Magdalena has been postponed, and the definite date will be set and announced not later than September 7.

According to Prager Miller, president of the association, the wool growers of the state plan to change the date of their meeting from September 7 on account of the fact that the Republican convention occurs on that day. A telegram from Mr. Miller to the secretary of the association, Miss Bertha Benson, reads:

"Believe October 1 better date for semi-annual meeting at Magdalena. Dipping will then be over and the meeting will be finished before the movement of lambs begins."

COL. MERCHANT GIVES BARBECUE

Scores of Friends and Relatives Greet "Father of Abilene". Declared a Great Success. Presented With Cake on 84th Birthday.

From the Abilene Reporter.
Col. Clabo W. Merchant, affectionately called the "Father of Abilene" by his hundreds of friends in this city and over the entire state, celebrated his 84th birthday at his home here Tuesday evening. Gathering on the lawn of Col. Merchant at 5 o'clock Tuesday hundreds of his friends from Abilene and from many places over the state, congratulated him on the rounding off of his 84th year and on his excellent health and vigor. The lawn of the Merchant home was attractively decorated in flags and four long tables had been constructed for the pleasure of the guests who attended the barbecue given by Col. Merchant. Each of the guests was welcomed by Col. Merchant with true Western Texas hospitality and each was made to feel at home the moment he arrived at the Merchant home.

"The greatest barbecue Col. Merchant has ever given," was the unanimous expression of all who attended Tuesday. Nothing had been left undone to make the barbecue a significant success. Four long tables on the lawn contained the barbecue, cooked in the old-fashioned cowboy style and in addition to the delicious meats there was a variety of other eatables, making the supper one long to be remembered by the scores of guests who attended. It is estimated that there were between 250 and 300 guests present and each praised in loud terms the hospitality of Col. Merchant.

One hundred and fifty relations of Col. Merchant were present. Col. Merchant was seated in the middle of one of the long tables, and on one side sat Marion Sansom of Fort Worth, and on the other Dr. L. W. Hollis, Sr., of this city. Judge J. M. Wagstaff acted as toastmaster for the evening. The Abilene Concert Band was present and rendered several selections, all of which being highly praised by those present.

Judge Wagstaff in his opening remarks introduced Col. Merchant as "the first citizen of Abilene, and the father of the city". Judge Wagstaff declared that Col. Merchant built the first house in Abilene and located the city where it now stands. There has never been a worthy cause advanced for the upbuilding and forward moving of Abilene that Col. Merchant has not had a part in. Judge Wagstaff declared. Col. Merchant has always lent his full liberal way to every movement, the toastmaster said. Attention was called to the fact that Col. Merchant was the first white child born under the Republic of Texas.

Toasts also were given by Judge D. G. Hill of this city; H. B. Cook of Lawton; Marion Sansom of Fort Worth and Dr. Millard A. Jenkins, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city; Dr. J. C. Barker, pastor of the College Heights Baptist church of this city, delivered thanks.

One of the special features of the evening was the presentation of a beautiful birthday cake to Col. Merchant by Mrs. Bob Hayne, who cooked the cake herself. A poem on the cowboy, by Larry Chittenden, the poet laureate of the plains, was also read.

JAMES MONROE

1758—(April 28) James Monroe born in Westmoreland county, Va.
1776—Graduated William and Mary. Entered the army.
1782—In the legislature.
1783-86—In the Continental congress.
1787—In the legislature.
1788—In the state constitutional convention.
1790-4—In the senate.
1794-6—Minister to France.
1799-1802—Governor of Virginia.
1803-8—In the diplomatic service.
1809-10—In the legislature.
1811—Governor.
1811-17—Secretary of state.

NO OTHER president, with the exception of John Quincy Adams, has served the country as long as James Monroe and, without exception, none has had an official experience so varied.

From 1776, when he was a vigorous, six-foot, broad shouldered, raw-boned boy of eighteen, and left William and Mary's college to enter the Revolution, Monroe remained in the public service until 1825, when he retired from the White House a wrinkled, care-bent, impoverished old man. In those 49 years, he had been a minor military officer under Washington; repeatedly a member of the legislature, a member of the Continental congress and of the national senate; twice governor of Virginia; minister to France, England and Spain; secretary of state and war at the same time and finally president for two terms.

Without wealth or family influence, with a slow, commonplace mind, with no gifts as a speaker; with a modest awkward presence and plain, unpolished manners, this very ordinary man plodded up the ladder of ambition to its topmost rung. How? By sheer force of his rugged, courageous, industrious, honest, loyal character—a triumph of the homely virtues. Although he failed in some of his most important tasks, Monroe's failures were forgiven because they were honest mistakes. The ridicule and the disgrace brought upon him by the most spectacular episode of his undramatic life would have buried forever a man more brilliant and less sincere.

This remarkable scene was enacted on the highly theatrical stage of the national convention at Paris directly after the Reign of Terror and the fall of Robespierre, when France was the outcast among nations. At that moment, Monroe appeared as the envoy of the only sister republic and, to let all the world see that the Revolution had at least one friend left on earth, the president of the convention melodramatically folded the rustic Virginian in his arms.

After two years, he was recalled for his zeal, and came home in a rage of indignation. Passing by the gate of Mount Vernon without paying his respects to Washington, he paid them instead in 500 pages which he published in defense of himself and in denunciation of the administration. Nevertheless, the discredited diplomat was sent to Paris again by President Jefferson in a few years, when he came away covered with success, and with the treaty for the purchase of Louisiana under his arm by a fitting prelude to the Monroe doctrine, 20 years later.

There is a most interesting souvenir of Monroe in Paris. Like Madison, he had fallen in love while a member of congress and had married Elizabeth Kortright of New York. Two children having been born to them, one of the girls was placed in the famous French school of Mme. Campan, where she formed a friendship with Hortense Beauharnais that outlasted the many vicissitudes of Josephine's daughter.

Recently the notable figures in the court of the first consul of Malmesbury were modeled and grouped about Napoleon for a celebrated wax works show in Paris. In that brilliant galaxy of monarchs and dukes yet to be, Eliza Monroe, in girlish prettiness, is seen again by the side of the future queen of Holland and the destined mother of Napoleon III.

A DIPLOMAT AT 14

1767—July 11, John Quincy Adams born in Braintree, now a part of Quincy, Mass.
1781—Secretary of Legation at St. Petersburg.
1787—Graduated at Harvard.
1790—Admitted to the Bar.
1794-7—Minister to The Hague.
1797—Married Louise Catherine Johnson.
1797-1801—Minister to Prussia.
1802—In Massachusetts Senate.
1803-8—In National Senate.
1809-14—Minister to Russia.
1814—Peace Commissioner at Ghent.
1815-17—Minister to England.
1817-25—Secretary of State.

AMONG the presidents, John Quincy Adams holds the record of having been the youngest and oldest public servant. From boyhood, when he was a secretary of legation at the extraordinary age of fourteen until he fell at his post in the halls of congress in his eighty-first year, he was in the service of his country 55 of those 81 years.

A president and the son of a president, all the other 15 presidents from Washington to Johnson were his associates. From the day he climbed a height near his Massachusetts birthplace to see the battle of Bunker Hill, 15 miles away, he was a witness to nearly every great event in the history of the nation until the close of the Mexican war.

With John Adams in congress the child had to be the man of the family, and at nine he regularly rode his horse to Boston to fetch the mail. At ten his father took him with him on his mission to France. By twelve he had crossed the Atlantic four times, running the British blockade in leaky tubs.

At fourteen, an American minister appointed the "mature youngster" his secretary of legation. By seventeen, the youth had traveled over much of John Quincy Adams at 16.

Europe, and he came home to enter Harvard. After graduation, he opened a law office in Boston. But business was only beginning when the young attorney was appointed by Washington, minister at The Hague, where the government to which he was accredited fled before the armies of France and left him in the midst of the triumphant revolutionists. Meeting the daughter of the American consul in London, a Marylander, she and the young diplomat were married on the eve of his departure for Berlin to which capital he had been promoted.

Among his last acts as president John Adams removed his son from office to deprive Jefferson of the malicious satisfaction of dismissing him. When the recalled diplomat was elected to the senate he displayed his family trait of independence by taking sides with his father's hated rival and supporting the Jefferson administration.

The infuriated federalists of Massachusetts savagely turned upon him as a traitor to his party and a renegade from his class. They drove him from the senate, and when he came home he found himself in his Boston house which stood where the Hotel Touraine now stands, a social outcast on a lonely island entirely surrounded by ice.

With his name erased forever from the Boston blue book, John Quincy Adams was no longer a gentleman, and the Jeffersonians, who were not gentlemen, but only Democrats, took him up. By their favor he became minister to Russia, a negotiator of the peace at Ghent in 1814, and minister to England.

From London, John Quincy Adams was called home to be secretary of state in the Monroe administration. It was that post he played the leading part in shaping the Monroe doctrine. In his retirement John Adams had watched with fond admiration the rise of John Quincy until he was only one rung from the top. Although, in his crabbedness, he complained that "my son will never get a chance at the presidency until the last Virginian is in his grave," fortune agreeably surprised the aged ex-president in next to the last of his sixty years, when he saw the scepter of the republic pass to a lineal hand.

A group of happy little girls met at the N. H. Hiller home last Saturday to assist in celebrating the seventh birthday anniversary of Dorothy, the youngest daughter of the family. The little girls played games on the lawn with their dolls and doll buggies, and were served delicious ice cream and cake at the close of the afternoon. Dorothy received a number of nice presents and has the best wishes of all who know her that she may have many more happy birthdays each as happy as the seventh. The guests were: Alice and Irma Jean Quirey, Evelyn and Mary Kathryn Kircher, Margaret and Agnes Rhomer, Frances and Katherine Riley, Margaret Hannah and Virginia McAdoo. Mrs. Kircher assisted the hostess in looking after her little guests and in serving.

Bobbie Bell, having arrived at the age of eleven years Wednesday of last week a number of his boy friends of about the same age were invited to his home for a game of ball and were served with light refreshments by Mrs. Bell and had the usual fine time expected on such occasions.

Collin Gerrells and Ralph Thayer were in from the mountains the latter part of last week. Mrs. Thayer and family also came in at the same time in order to start the children to school.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Bush left for their home in Houston, Texas, Sunday night after a pleasant visit with homefolks and friends in Carlsbad.

Sorrow has come to one of Carlsbad's homes in the announcement of the death of M. H. Bell, father of Mrs. Willard Bates, which occurred at his home at Buffalo Gap, Texas, yesterday. The telegram gave no particulars, and as he was not known to be sick, it is thought that his death was sudden. Mr. Bell and his wife had visited in Carlsbad a number of times, and were loved by all who met them for their simple unaffected piety. The death of a man like him, while it leaves a vacancy that can never be filled in the home circle, causes grief only for the ones who are left, death for him being only a transition. Many hearts in Carlsbad will throb in sympathy with Mrs. Bates on her journey and with the other relatives in this bereavement. Mr. Bell was seventy-eight years old.

Rev. Geo. H. Givan wishes to announce regular services at the Methodist church next Sunday. The subject at the morning service will be "The More Abundant Life" and a cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the services.

EVERY ONE WANTS
MONEY'S WORTH

Natural Desire Is Not to Get the Worst of Any Business Transaction.

CHEAPEST NOT ALWAYS BEST

Person Who Buys From Catalogue
House Sees Only the Price and Forgets That Value Is Thing
That Counts.

(Copyright.)

When you spend your money you naturally want to get all you can in return. No one can criticize you for having that desire. Only those who are commonly referred to as having "more money than sense" throw their money away. All others are careful to see that they do not get the worst of any bargain. But one has to be able to look farther than the end of his nose if he is to be sure that he is getting the most that he can get for his money.

That is the defense of the man who buys from the mail order house instead of patronizing the merchants in his own town. He says he can get more for his money when he buys from the mail order man than when he spends his money at home. But in arriving at that conclusion he certainly has not been able to look further than the end of his nose.

In most cases the man who buys goods from a mail order house does so because he thinks he is getting the goods for less money than he would have to pay for them at the store in his own town. He thinks he is looking out for No. 1 and he says it is not his fault if the merchant in his town cannot make any money and is forced to go out of business. He overlooks the fact that he is likely to be as hard hit as anyone else when that merchant closes his doors but, leaving that probability out of consideration, the chances are about 10 to 1 that the buyer has really lost money on his deal with the mail order man.

Price Not Only Consideration.

If buying an article of any kind, whether it be a house and lot or a paper of pins, the price is not the only thing to be considered by any means. You are not in the habit of going into a store when you want to buy a suit of clothes and saying to the storekeeper: "Give me the cheapest suit of clothes you have in the house." You want the best suit of clothes you can get for the price you pay for it, but you don't usually want the cheapest thing you can find.

A man may delude himself into believing that when he buys a suit of clothes from a mail order house for $10 he is saving money, but what is there to justify him in such a belief? The mere fact that he is getting a suit for $10 does not mean that he is saving money. The chances are that if he should go to the man who runs the clothing store in his own town and ask for it he could get a suit of clothes for $10 and the chances are also that it would be just as good if not a better bargain than the suit which he could get from the mail order house for the same sum. It is not the price he pays that shows whether he is getting a bargain or not. It is the quality of goods that he gets for his money that counts.

Can Undersell Mail Order House.

The home merchant can sell as cheaply as the mail order man if he sells as cheap goods as the mail order man sells. His expenses are not as heavy as those of the mail order man. He pays less rent in proportion to the business he does, his taxes are less in proportion to the capital invested. His advertising bills are less than those of the mail order man in proportion to the volume of his sales. He can undersell the mail order man any day in the year if he wishes to sell only goods of the same quality and style of those sold by the mail order man, but he doesn't do this because he knows that the majority of the people in his town do not want that quality and style of goods. Therefore he keeps in stock goods of all qualities and all mail order men who think that he can get more for his money by buying a suit at that price than he can by buying a better one for $20, but he tells the customer just what he is buying.

The next time you think about buying something from a mail order house, if you ever do think of such a thing, go first to your home merchant and ask to see the article which you are thinking of buying.

Ready to Compare Prices.

Your home merchant is a business man. He gets the best values he can for his money when he buys goods, and he does not expect his customers to do anything else. All that he asks, in return for the favors he does his customers and the things he does for the good of his community is that he be given an opportunity to meet the invidious competition of the mail order house. He is perfectly willing to have his prices and his values compared to those of the mail order house, but he has a just complaint when he is not given a chance to make this comparison.

If all buyers would take the value as well as the price of the article they are buying into consideration, the mail order houses would all go out of business tomorrow.

THE HOME MERCHANT.

The home merchant. Who is he? He is the chap who gives you credit when you are financially broke, and carries your account until you are able to pay. He is the chap who gives you back your money or makes exchanges when you are not satisfied with what you have bought. He is the chap who stands behind his guarantee, and makes restoration of all losses that you may sustain on the goods you buy. He is the chap that advises you in his home paper, or ought to, because the home paper pleads with the people to patronize home merchants instead of the mail order houses.

He is the chap—but why continue the story. The four paragraphs above cover the case pretty thoroughly; however, he is the chap you should patronize and thus keep your money in circulation in Carlsbad.

A FAREWELL PARTY.

Miss Marguerite Roberts was hostess to a party of young girls at her home last Saturday, honoring her cousin, Miss Helen Wright, who leaves soon for Ames, Iowa, where she will enter the Iowa University. A color scheme of red and green was observed in the dining room, the table being centered by a bouquet of red flowers, with streamers of the two colors reaching from the chandelier to the corners of the table. The girls played "500", the prize for high score being a bunch of red roses and the honor guest receiving the name. A dainty supper was served at the close of the games to the following guests: Misses Mary Lee Newton, Lillian Crawford, Nelly Linn, Frances Cooke, Mary Mize, Helen Melvin, Dorothy Ryan, Dorothy Swigart, Ceces Moore, Grace Jones, Warren Bates and Lorene Powell.

SANTA FE HEADQUARTERS FOR THE DEMOCRATS.

The democratic state central committee decided early this week to continue to hold their headquarters at Santa Fe, largely because this is the residence of their chief, Arthur Seligman.

Byron O. Reall, secretary and John B. McManus, who has been absent from the state for the past two years, but who will be in charge of the speaking bureau, have both arrived and established their temporary residences for the convention.

Miss Dorothy Swigart left Sunday for Oberlin College at Oberlin, Ohio, for the year's school work. Miss Swigart must be determined to drink deeply of the Spring of Knowledge or she would not have the courage to leave her pretty home and her host of friends and go so far away.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Withers were passengers from the north Saturday night and left on Sunday for Cooper where they reside. They were accompanied by Miss Sadie McCaw, of Artesia, who will teach the Cooper school the fall and winter term.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. F. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(©, 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 12

THE GLORY OF SOLOMON'S REIGN.

LESSON TEXT—1 Kings 10:1-13, 25-26.
GOLDEN TEXT—Blessed is every one that feareth the Lord, that walketh in his ways.—Ps. 128:1.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—1 Kings 9:1-28; 10:14-29.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Queen Visits a King.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Queen of Sheba Visits Solomon.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Climax of Israel's Greatness.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Tests of National Greatness.

I. The Queen of Sheba Visits Solomon (vv. 1, 2).

Her visit was the result of Solomon's widespread fame. That which made him famous was:

1. The extent of his kingdom (4:21-25). He ruled over all the kingdoms from the Euphrates river to the Mediterranean sea, except the Philistines, but they were in alliance with him. This was the nearest to the realization of the divine promise, (Gen. 15:18), that Israel ever enjoyed; but the fulness of the promised possession shall be realized when the Greater than Solomon is king.

2. His great wisdom (4:29-34). It excelled that of the Chaldeans, Persians and Egyptians (vv. 30, 31). None of his contemporaries approached him in knowledge. He had a singularly comprehensive mind. He was (1) a moral philosopher—spoke 3,000 proverbs; (2) a poet—his songs were a thousand and five; (3) a botanist—he spoke of trees, from the cedar tree that is in Lebanon even unto the hyssop that springeth out of the wall; (4) a zoologist—he spoke of beasts and fowl, and of creeping things, and of fishes. He was superior in intellect to any of his own or any other age.

3. The temple (chs. 5 and 6). This was an exact reproduction of the tabernacle, double in size, in marble and gold. The amount of labor, skill and money expended on the building was exceedingly great (1 Chron. 22:14-16). Never before had such a costly structure appeared.

4. Royal palaces adjoining the temple (ch. 7). Following the erection of the temple he began the building of his own house. He was nearly twice as long in building this as in building the Lord's house.

5. His commerce (9:20-28; cf. 11 Chron. 9:10, 21). His trading ships went east as far as the Indian ocean, perhaps even to India; and west as far as Spain.

6. Army and navy (10:26-29; cf. 9:27). Such wealth and greatness would at some time provoke opposition, so he put his nation into a state of preparedness.

All this greatness was associated with the name of the Lord. It was known that his fame was due to his relation with the living God. No one ever had a greater missionary opportunity than he. Wealth and knowledge may be powerful factors for the extension of the cause of Christ.

II. The Queen of Sheba Astonished (vv. 3-10).

After the interview in which Solomon answered all her questions, she was overwhelmed with his great wisdom. She had piled him with hard questions to see if he could measure up to his reputation, and found that the half had not been told her.

III. The Queen of Sheba Gives Gifts to Solomon (vv. 10-13).

As was the custom, she brought gifts to Solomon, the king, the gold of which was in value between three and four millions of dollars.

This was a large gift for that time, but Solomon more than recompensed her. He gave her all she desired and in addition, of his royal bounty. While her gift to him was great, his to her was greater, even in keeping with his possessions. God gives unto them who give their hearts unto him exceeding abundantly above all they ask or think (Eph. 3:20).

IV. All the Earth Sought Solomon (vv. 23-25).

His fame spread to all the earth so that the people came to hear the wisdom which God gave to him. They came with their gifts of silver, gold, garments, spices, horses and mules, so that silver came to be as common in Jerusalem as stone. There is a time coming when the Greater than Solomon shall be king over all the earth, and then all the people thereof shall come to him with their gifts, and he shall give unto them of his royal bounty. Happy, indeed, will all those be who recognize him and give their allegiance to him!

Good Conscience.

A good conscience is to the soul what health is to the body; it preserves constant ease and serenity within us, and more than counteracts all the calamities and afflictions which can befall us from without.—Addison.

Cheerful Friends.

Everyone must have felt that a cheerful friend is like a sunny day, which sheds its brightness all around; and most of us can, as we choose, make this world either a palace or a prison.—Sir J. Lubbock.

The Same Old Schlitz—Aged in the Same Old Way

ANY drink which is incompletely fermented before you take it is apt to complete its fermentation in your stomach—causing flatulence and biliousness.

Many beverages now on the market are only partially fermented, having been rushed out in less than forty-eight hours. They are neither good, nor good for you. They are likely to interfere with everything they meet in your stomach.

Schlitz is thoroughly aged—fully ripened. It will not cause biliousness.

Schlitz is pure. It is aged in glass-lined tanks, cooled in washed air, filtered through white wood pulp. Schlitz is healthful. It comes to you under the familiar label your father knew with the alcoholic content reduced to the limit prescribed by the Federal Government.

The Brown Bottle protects its purity and healthfulness until it reaches your glass.
