DELEGATES ARE DIVIDED AS TO FUTURE STATUS OF SUBMARINES

Some Members of American Group Appear Discouraged Over the Prospect of an Early Settlement.

JAPANESE AND FRENCH BLOCKING COMPROMISE

British Accept American Proposal; France Refers It to Paris; Japan Stands for 5-5-3 Ratio.

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Dec. 24 (By The Associated Press).—An American effort to compromise the submarine controversy failed of immediate success today before the arms conference naval committee when Japan refused to depart from the "5-5-3" ratio proportion of submarines for her fleet and French action was deferred pending advice from Paris.

When the committee adjourned after four hours debate to meet again next Tuesday, some members of the American group appeared discouraged over the prospect of an early agreement on submarines, although negotiations are to continue.

Compromise Plan. The American compromise plan, presented after the British effort for complete suppression of submarines had been shelved, proposed 50,000-ton limitations for Great Britain and the United States in place of the original American figure of 90,000 tons each, and virtually status quo for the other three powers.

The British delegation, failing to obtain favorable action on suppression of submarines, accepted the new American reduction scheme. The French group indicated that it would be giving an opinion pending Paris advice. Japan flatly held out for the full 54,000 tons in submarines, the original American "5-5-3" ratio plan.

Italy Accepts. Italy accepted the compromise plan, conditioned on a submarine arms pact with France, the Italian delegates contending that 21,540 tons would be the correct limitation for both France and Italy.

French delegation indicated that it would not oppose parity with Italy in submarine as well as capital ships but withheld approval of any tonnage limitation of less than the 90,000-ton figure suggested by French experts. Under a status quo, France would have about 42,000 tons in submarines. The American group made it plain that while it had great sympathy for the British viewpoint in opposing all submarine warfare, it was inclined to agree with the American advisory committee that submarines were a legitimate weapon. It was said the matter had been discussed with President Harding and that the willingness of the American government to ward a national discussion of submarine warfare on a wider basis than the present conference had indicated. It was also indicated that the American delegation would bring into the conference later a resolution condemning in formal fashion for the five powers such use of submarines as was (Continued on Page Two.)

AIR TRAVEL IN FRANCE REACHES LAND STANDARD

Planes Have All the Conveniences of Passenger Trains; Speed of 130 Miles an Hour Attained.

(By The Associated Press.) Paris, Dec. 24.—Ample proof that travel by air has now reached the same luxurious standards as travel by land was given in the seventh annual aero salon held here.

No longer need prospective air travelers hesitate for lack of convenience, comfort and, experts say, also safety. Danger from fire and engine trouble has been reduced to a minimum by the latest inventions in aviation. Promoters of continental air transportation guarantee smoother travel through the air at a speed of 125 miles an hour than is possible to experience on even the slowest of trains.

The airplane will play a most important part in the Red Cross work of future wars. Air operating rooms with full equipment and air ambulances for less urgent cases are a practical reality. Several hundred machines were shown to prove this, and a complete new hospital, accommodating two patients on stretchers, a doctor and an assistant with complete operating necessities, including a table, the highest stabilizing appliances, permit the surgeon to operate while the machine goes through space at 100 miles an hour. There were several air ambulances with space for two or four wounded soldiers.

The last word in deluxe air travel is a tremendous machine built to carry twenty-four passengers at a speed of 130 miles an hour. It is a veritable "air limited" with all the features of an American transcontinental express except the observation platform. It contains a bathroom, a smoking-room with card tables, comfortable lounge chairs which are made into beds for night travel, card tables, a kitchenette, ice-box and stove. Room is also provided for a crew of three.

Increased size in wings is provided on all late machines as a means of increasing stability. Some of the passenger machines have lookout cabins for observers and one machine has two tail seats for experienced air travelers.

SALVATION ARMY WILL SEND FOOD TO POOR TODAY

More Than a Quarter of a Million Dollars Will Be Expended on Xmas Dinners in Fifteen States.

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Dec. 24.—More than a quarter of a million dollars is to be spent by the Salvation Army in fifteen states, known as the central territory, to provide Christmas dinner baskets for the poor, according to an advance estimate made today by the organization for all usual Christmas purposes will run very close to the million dollar mark.

Towns making advance reports were Ottawa, Sreator, Rockford, Joliet, Aurora, Belvidere, East Chicago, Hammond, Mishawaka and Gary. Salvation army officers in these places estimate a total of 1,500 Christmas dinner baskets at an approximate average cost of $5 each.

The central territory comprises 302 Salvation army corps, located in Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Alabama, Texas and Louisiana. Each of these corps will be the center for basket distribution and will provide a grand total of not less than 45,000 baskets, each of which will contain a Christmas dinner for not less than five persons.

In addition to these, the eighteen men's industrial homes in the territory will provide Christmas dinners for approximately 2,500 unfortunate men who find shelter and means of subsistence beneath their hospital roofs.

Nine rescue and maternity homes, affording refuge to some 450 unmarried mothers and wayward girls, will expend a considerable sum for Christmas cheer, both for those now in the homes and for thousands of "outside girls" who have passed through the institutions to self respect and self support on the outside.

GARDNER IS OFFERED A CONTRACT TO ENTER LEGITIMATE BUSINESS

(By The Associated Press.) Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 24.—Roy Gardner, notorious mail robber, has been offered a contract promising him $25,000 a year and a "legitimate business" in Los Angeles, according to information received today by Carl A. Davis, counsel for Gardner in his recent trials here.

PRIZE CORN OF CECIL GOFF IS SENT FOR TEST

While the nearly one-third million persons in the postal service staggered under a load which appears, when viewed as statistics, to be the largest volume of Christmas mail in history, reports from several thousand division and minor offices showed plainly, it was declared, that the mail had been moved smoothly and with dispatch and above all without the usual "peak."

Dr. Hubert Work, first assistant postmaster general, declared this was due to the "fine co-operation of the people and the splendid efficient service of the employees."

The response to Postmaster General Hays' appeal for an early mailing of Christmas packages was more hearty than we could have hoped for," Dr. Work said.

MACNIDER RECEIVES MESSAGE FROM FOCH

(By The Associated Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 24.—Hansford MacNider, national commander of the American legion today received the following Christmas message from Marshal Foch, who recently returned to France after a tour of the United States: "With all the officers of my general staff in thanking you for your kind sentiments and in sending you ours, the most sincere for you and the American legion, for whom there is a deep regard."

A STATEMENT

I feel apologetic for being compelled to intrude my personal affairs upon the public on Christmas morning. After careful thought I feel a simple statement to be necessary in order to avoid the misleading of the public.

The Evening Herald, last night published a story, attributing the indictment of J. M. Reynolds and Guy Rogers, respectively president and vice president of the First National bank, by an Arizona grand jury, to the improper activities of Robert E. Putney and myself, actuated by highly reprehensible motives.

I am compelled to state that the accusations of undue and improper activity are wholly false and are knowingly and maliciously made in order to give to the public some explanation other than the probable guilt of the accused, for these indictments having been brought. They seek to break the force of the blow at our expense and to our discredit.

I intend to avoid any personal newspaper controversy if I can. I regard it as unwholesome for the city. As soon as the necessary papers can be drawn both Mr. Putney and myself will avail ourselves of the libel laws which were made for just such cases as this one.

The First National bank is a very strong and powerful institution. Its financial strength is beyond question. No human being has been able as yet to combat successfully the ruthless application of this strength to crush those who cross it. Talk of a persecution of the bank is silly. The shoe is on the other foot. The Journal has been, and still is, being persecuted by the bank.

In so far as our lending our support to the depositors of the Holbrook State bank, in their demand for a thorough sifting of the banks affairs by a grand jury is concerned, we confess it. That we demanded or suggested the indictment of any particular person, is untrue. We are without responsibility for the indictment in which Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Rogers find themselves. What a duly empaneled grand jury conceived to be the facts, is responsible.

We hope that these gentlemen will go to Arizona and prove their innocence. This they, no doubt, will be eager to do voluntarily, and without the necessity of extradition. Innocent men will clamor for a chance to prove their innocence. Improper conduct in procuring the indictments is a proper ground for quashing them. These gentlemen will go there, perhaps, and quash this proceeding.

Mr. Putney did not demand the $6,000 he had on deposit with the Holbrook State bank. He did demand that all depositors be protected; insisting that the First National was responsible, morally, if not legally, for the failure.

The Journal did insist that Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Rogers were guilty of improper banking practices in their relations with the Holbrook State bank.

Without Mr. Putney's leadership the depositors might never have procured a grand jury to probe the affairs of the bank.

Without the Journal as a great weapon of publicity, free from the domination of this bank, it might have been deemed idle to call a grand jury. As it is, a year passed before that was accomplished.

Thus far, we assume responsibility. In the results, we had no part.

AMERICANS MAILED EARLY, IS BELIEF OF P. O. OFFICIALS

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Dec. 24 (By The Associated Press).—Officials of the postoffice department left their desks tonight convinced that the American people had begun to practice "mail early for Christmas."

While the nearly one-third million persons in the postal service staggered under a load which appears, when viewed as statistics, to be the largest volume of Christmas mail in history, reports from several thousand division and minor offices showed plainly, it was declared, that the mail had been moved smoothly and with dispatch and above all without the usual "peak."

INSURANCE AND DAMAGES ASKED IN SUIT FILED

Denver Insurance Company Begins Court Action Against Several Rival Companies.

(By The Associated Press.) Denver, Colo., Dec. 24.—Charging rival insurance companies and individuals with having entered into a combination to wreck the Mountain States Life Insurance company, suit was filed here today in the district court demanding total damages of $350,000 and an injunction against those named in the complaint.

It is alleged that the defendants have verbally and otherwise published and spread defamatory statements concerning the Mountain States company.

Those named in the suit are: The Union Central Life Insurance company, the Mutual Life Insurance company, the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company of Colorado, the Kansas City Life Insurance company, the Aetna Life Insurance company, the Travelers Insurance company, the Home Life Insurance company, the Standard Life Insurance company of America, the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, M. G. Hodette, O. C. Watson, J. T. Allen, J. C. Fanning, J. Stanley Edwards, Jesse M. Wheeler, J. J. Tidball, Norman Dempsey and A. E. Liverman and Earl Wilson, insurance commissioner, and L. E. Hill, editor of the Hill Monthly.

While the summons is for $350,000, two causes each ask $200,000 actual damages and $250,000 exemplary damages, making a total of $800,000 if the full relief asked for is granted, while the third cause of action asks the defendants be enjoined from further spreading abroad the alleged defamatory utterances.

The suit is the outcome of a controversy which arose when the charter of the Mountain States company was revoked by insurance Commissioner Wilson. The action of the commissioner was later overruled by a decision handed down by Judge Bouck of the district court.

George and his mother told Frazier that Tony, 21 years old, became infuriated when he learned with George's wife and when reminded, killed her and attempted to end his own life. He was sentenced to life imprisonment.

In applying to Frazier for a commutation of his brother's sentence, George, who was left with four small children through the murder of his wife, declared that he believed his brother was insane when he committed the crime. This view was shared by the mother of the two men.

ASKS COMMUTATION OF BROTHER'S SENTENCE

Sacramento, Calif., Dec. 24.—Brotherly love of the stamp that cannot be shaken even by the murder of a loved one asserted itself in the governor's office when George Mercurio of San Jose, appealed to Henry Frazier, governor, for commutation of his brother's sentence, Tony Mercurio, who is serving a life term in San Quentin.

George and his mother told Frazier that Tony, 21 years old, became infuriated when he learned with George's wife and when reminded, killed her and attempted to end his own life. He was sentenced to life imprisonment.

A QUIET CHRISTMAS IS IN PROSPECT FOR PRESIDENT AND WIFE

Washington, Dec. 24.—A quiet Christmas at the White House was in prospect tonight for President and Mrs. Harding. The president is expected to attend services tomorrow at Calvary Baptist church and will return to the White House for Christmas dinner. The president will be with the Harding household on Christmas day. A huge turkey gobbler, left over from Thanksgiving gifts, which has been a source of amusement to the White House grounds during the intervening weeks, dining sumptuously every day from table scraps and luncheon remnants furnished by guards and police, interested in his fate, was in good shape tonight for a sudden demise. In roasted form, according to the kitchen word, he will have the place of honor tomorrow at the White House dinner.

2 ITALIANS ARE DENIED RETRIAL IN MURDER CASE

Sacco and Vanzetti Lose Their First Skirmish in Their Fight to Set Aside Verdict of Jury.

(By The Associated Press.) Dedham, Mass., Dec. 24.—Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, convicted of the murder of a physician and his guard at South Braintree in September, 1920, lost their first skirmish in their fight to set aside the verdict, when Judge Webster Thayer, in the criminal court here today denied two of the pending motions for a new trial. Certain questions raised on points of law, as to insufficiency of the evidence the court ruled, did not warrant a retrial.

The case has attracted wide attention and has been the subject of radical demonstrations in Europe, South America and Mexico. Countless petitions for a retrial were granted permission to file exceptions of the decision and signified that they were ready to take the case to the supreme court. The decision came at the close of arguments on a supplementary motion for a new trial based on alleged improprieties in the jury room. This motion was taken under advisement by the court and remained to be disposed of.

Sacco and Vanzetti were conducted from the jail to the court house under heavy guard and both state and city police were stationed about the building. Only a few persons listened to the proceedings in the court room.

In his findings on the original motion for a new trial, Judge Thayer reviewed at length the evidence and the alleged circumstances surrounding the fatal shooting of Frederick A. Parmenter, the physician, and Alessandro Bernardelli, the guard. He said it would be necessary for him to find that the jury either mistook or abused their trust before he would justify in setting aside their verdict.

"This I cannot find for two reasons," he said. "First, because there were volumes of testimony introduced by both sides upon every important issue raised at the trial which was vigorously contested and scrupulously argued by counsel on each side; and second, because the jury was not asked to do anything but to find the facts and to apply the law to them as they found them."

Those named in the suit are: The Union Central Life Insurance company, the Mutual Life Insurance company, the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company of Colorado, the Kansas City Life Insurance company, the Aetna Life Insurance company, the Travelers Insurance company, the Home Life Insurance company, the Standard Life Insurance company of America, the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, M. G. Hodette, O. C. Watson, J. T. Allen, J. C. Fanning, J. Stanley Edwards, Jesse M. Wheeler, J. J. Tidball, Norman Dempsey and A. E. Liverman and Earl Wilson, insurance commissioner, and L. E. (By The Associated Press.) New Orleans, La., Dec. 24.—Twenty-five dead, scores injured and huge property damage is the toll of a storm which struck eastern Arkansas last night and tore through upper Mississippi and Louisiana, during the early hours of today, according to incomplete information from the devastated areas tonight. Wires are down and virtually all communication with the storm area is shut off.

The village of Spencer, Union parish, Louisiana, about 150 miles from Monroe, was almost entirely leveled with a loss, it is reported, of one life.

The home of E. L. Shean, on Bayou Bartholomew, four miles northwest of Bastrop, Morehouse parish, was completely demolished. Mrs. Mary Spaulding, wife of E. L. Shean, manager of the Tiedale plantation on which the house stood, and six negroes, were killed. Twenty-five were reported injured in that neighborhood.

Three negroes were killed and more than a score injured when the storm struck two plantations near Greenwood, Miss., early today.

William Turner, a well known planter, and four negroes were also killed on a plantation near Marks, Miss.

The storm is reported to have started in Crittenden county, Ark., late yesterday, where about a dozen farming settlements were damaged. Payne Harrison and eight negroes are reported killed in that county when a store in which fifty negro farm hands had taken refuge from the storm, collapsed.

A special relief train was sent from Monroe to Spencer, with a number of physicians and nurses, equipped with hospital supplies. No reports have been received from Spencer since the train was dispatched, but the Missouri Pacific depot, a store and five homes are reported demolished there. W. L. Wall, agent for the railroad at Spencer, whose wife is reported dying of injuries.

In addition to the seven killed in Morehouse parish, at least two others are said to be near death. The Spaulding and other contents scattered for miles on both sides of Bayou Bartholomew. Miss Nellie Spaulding, 15, was critically injured and is not expected to live. Mrs. Spaulding was killed when she was blown for a hundred feet against a tree.

Stringent measures of economy have been successfully effected."

"The foundation of our national defense has been laid in accordance with a definite military policy—the first in the history of our government. The citizens' training camps of last summer were a success. Real progress has been made in rebuilding the national guard. The organizations of the reserve is well under way."

"The new year promises much constructive work in the development of the army of the United States. All of its members are performing their duties enthusiastically. The spirit of co-operation between the regular army, national guard and organized reserves is growing with encouraging rapidity."

"Veterans of the world war are earnestly assisting in the reorganization of their old divisions. Young men who are ineligible because of their youth for service during the recent emergency, are recognizing their responsibilities under the national defense act."

"To all officers and men, I say again I have complete confidence that you will ever keep the navy in an organization in which we may take a just pride and which will command the respect of our fellow countrymen."

General Lejeune's message said: "Everyone stationed at headquarters has my heartfelt good wishes for the holiday season."

"I desire also to express my appreciation of the faithful local service you have given to corps and country during 1921, and hope that the New Year may bring you success and happiness."

FIRST NATIONAL BANK HERE IS SUED FOR $54,087.14 BASED ON HOLBROOK STATE BANK FAILURE

Officers of First National Bank Here Reported to Be Indicted By Navajo County for Perjury.

Publicity was given last night by the Evening Herald to the indictment by a grand jury in Navajo county, Arizona, sitting in Holbrook, of J. M. Reynolds and Guy Rogers, respectively president and vice president of the First National bank of Albuquerque, for improper conduct in their relations with the Holbrook State bank, which failed last December. The announcement was made by the Herald after its editor had spent most of the forenoon in consultation with the indicted officials.

The Journal had been in possession of reliable rumors of this indictment for several days but could secure no official confirmation, owing to an Arizona statute making it a misdemeanor for any officer to divulge information concerning an indictment until after the service of the warrant of arrest upon the defendant. So serious was the charge that the Journal did not feel justified in publishing the news without official confirmation. Its inspired publication by the evening paper in order to put the matter in the best possible light for the defendants, gave the matter to the public.

The best available information obtainable is that O. C. Turberville, cashier, and L. M. Reynolds, president of the defunct Holbrook State bank, were indicted jointly with Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Rogers, L. M. Reynolds is a cousin of J. M. Reynolds. The charge against these men in the report of the indictment, is perjury. It is rumored that additional indictments are to follow.

It will be a truly glad day for every child in the city this Christmas, for the Elks the big brothers of the poor, have provided the joy of gifts and sweets for fifteen hundred unfortunate children, and their can't be any more poor children than that. The invalid girls of the city have been visited by the Y. W. C. A. girls, the children of the sick soldiers have been taken care of by the American legion auxiliary, and all orphans will be welcomed at the Elks Christmas tree.

The municipal Christmas celebration will begin at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Santa Claus himself will lead the procession of Elks down the main streets of the city while the bands call all the children together with their music. The children will fall in line behind the Elks and return to Fifth and Central where the giant Christmas tree stands.

All Elks are to meet at the club house at 3:30 o'clock to join in the parade. The line of march will be cast on Gold avenue to First street and back on Central. The soldier boys of the national guard, and the Shrine band will be in the parade. Santa Claus (himself) will ride in a sleigh at the head of the parade.

When the children have all gathered at the Christmas tree a line of them will be started in single file up and across the platform surrounding the tree. Each child will be presented with a stocking full of candy, fruit and nuts, and some toys. The Elks have raised a fund over $800 for the toys and candy. George Caseman gave $150 toward this fund.

To the children of the Children's Home and Hospital, many of whom are crippled and unable to come to the downtown celebration, a quantity of clothes have been sent. A hundred and twenty children from the St. Anthony orphanage will be present at the program this afternoon to receive toys and clothing.

Fifty-five poor families of the city received baskets plentifully provided with provisions for the Christmas dinner, warm clothing, and toys for the children. These were distributed by the Salvation Army and the Bureau of Charities. The clothing was collected by the Elks on Sunday afternoon and the money was donated through the newspaper funds.

Members of the state auxiliary of the American legion have collected money and toys and are here for distribution to the children of disabled soldiers throughout the state. Dozens of letters have been addressed to Santa Claus here and gifts were sent out in answer to the children's requests. A large quantity of sweets and reading matter have been taken to the invalid soldiers at Fort Bayard.

Christmas remembrance of a box of dainty candies and cake with an accompanying branch or evergreen upon which was perched a cocky little pennant parakeet were sent by the Y. W. C. A. girls to a large number of young women on healthseekers in the city at the sanitarium and at their homes. The baskets were made and packed by girls' clubs of the association.

To collect said note from said W. H. Chamberlain in said sum of $1,528.50, or any other amount, or any interest thereon. That said note was ostensibly sold to defendant, but was by defendant charged back to the Holbrook State bank, on December 23, 1919, and that plaintiff has said note of said Chamberlain in their possession as an alleged asset of said Holbrook State bank, but that said note is worthless and uncollectible, and that, by reason of defendant's said wrongful act in this paragraph alleged, plaintiffs have been damaged in the sum of $1,528.50 together with interest thereon from February 26, 1917, to date, at the rate of 8 per cent per annum.

In England today there are hundreds of farm houses in remote parts of the country where it is an article of faith that cattle have the gift of language on Christmas eve. And woe be to man or maid who yields to curiosity and plays eavesdropper for the sure to hear something they would go miles to avoid hearing.

ALBUQUERQUE BUSINESS COLLEGE IS PURCHASED BY E. L. HOSKING AND L. A. MAY HERE RECENTLY

Joseph E. Goodell Sells Entire Interest in Commercial School to Former Associates Holding Half Interest; May and Hosking to Expand Business.

With the announcement of the complete purchase of the Albuquerque Business college by L. A. May and E. L. Hosking, comes the intimation that Joseph E. Goodell, founder of the institution as the earliest commercial school in the state will cease active association with the local school.

L. A. May, formerly of Montana, came to Albuquerque early in February of this year and purchased a half-interest in the school. Recently, with the collaboration of Mr. Hosking, who was his former associate in Montana, Mr. May consummated the complete purchase of the remaining interest in the school. Both Mr. May and Mr. Hosking have come to Albuquerque with their families with the intention of remaining here permanently.

Mr. May has had eight years of practical experience in secretarial and stenographic positions. For over twenty years he was associated with the Butte Business college, Butte, Montana, as principal of the secretarial and stenographic departments; later he was active as associate-proprietor and manager of the school, one of the largest in the northwest, having an attendance of 600 daily.

Mr. May is office manager of the Albuquerque Business college and assists in the general work of the stenographic and secretarial department, giving the students of the school the benefit of his varied experience.

For fifteen years Mr. Hosking was associated with Mr. May as principal of the business department of the Butte Business college, later he was principal of the business department of the Henager Business college of Salt Lake City. Mr. Hosking comes to Albuquerque with a record that shows him to be an accountant of the highest class.

"A business education," said Mr. Hosking, "is a potent and important factor to the success of any young man or woman; it adds prestige to any other education they may have; it puts them in a position of successful achievement."

"Undeveloped gold, or silver mines, coal or copper mines are of little value. An unpolished or uncut diamond has no great commercial value. Our minds are storehouses; but they are like the diamond, or the gold mine; they must be properly developed, and as it were, cut and polished, and planned and fitted to their places."

"During the war-times any one could hold a position. The business man had to put up with all sorts of things but it is different now. Every business man in the country is retrenching and cutting down expenses; the half-trained and half-lazy do not stand much of a chance."

N. M. Frantz is the principal of the stenographic department. Mr. Frantz is a specialist in stenographic and secretarial work. For nine years he had charge of the stenographic and typewriting work of the Taylor Business college of Philadelphia. The Taylor school is one of the high-ranking schools of the east. He was an instructor of William Oswald, who became the champion typist of the world.

Mr. Frantz is assisted by Miss Vera Kiehl, an Albuquerque girl, for several years, and a graduate of the New Mexico state university. Miss Kiehl gives personal and private lessons, handles the typewriting and office appliance work, and office training course. Mr. May also assists Mr. Frantz in the secretarial work as he writes both Pitman and Gregg systems, thus enabling the school to handle students of any of the standard systems.

The Albuquerque Business college offers courses in bookkeeping, accounting, banking, cost and manufacturing courses, the Pace and Pace standardized accountancy course, stenographic and shorthand subjects, secretarial work, private and individual courses and night school courses, which are offered three nights a week.

A NON-FATTENING DINNER.

Last week I was rather discouraging about the fattening effects of the usual Christmas dinner. It's a splendid sort of meal for the woman who wants to gain flesh, but it's hopeless for the one who is trying to reduce. So here are a few suggestions for a Christmas dinner that the fat woman can eat without feeling she is adding too much to her weight.

But first of all I must answer a criticism that I know all my steady friends are going to hurl at me. They are all going to say "Christmas comes only once a year, we certainly might be allowed to do as we choose and eat what we please, just once!" The only trouble with that is that they will work for a week taking off the flesh caused by one day's indulgence. I don't think that pays, but after all it's a matter of one's personal opinion.

But here is a Christmas dinner which really won't be fattening and which does not sacrifice too many of the gastronomical pleasures of the holiday.

Grapefruit: Delicious to start a meal and not fattening, if you don't eat sugar with it. Oranges: practically no calorie value, unless you cover them with cocktail sauce. Thin Soup: It's only the thick soups you must avoid. Turkey: you must only avoid the stuffing and the thick gravy. Any Vegetables: except potatoes and beans. Salad: this usually isn't fattening unless you have a lot of mayonnaise. Dessert: practically all desserts are very fattening, but you might have a water ice or fresh or stewed fruit without sugar.

Justine: The tiny round marks on your face are probably nothing more serious than freckles. You might try bleaching them with cucumber juice or with peroxide of hydrogen. If they are moles, you had better consult a physician.

Buttercup: If your nose is very oily, continue with the blackhead cleansing powder, which you have been using and which you say helped you a great deal. This is so drying that it will take up the extra amount of oil in your skin. Be sure that you rinse it out thoroughly and follow up with a cold rinse, or if possible an ice rub. Then when you dry the skin, use a little face powder. In connection with this treatment you could steam your face once a week—as this is trying and also clears the skin.

X. Y. Z.: Vaseline will not hurt the eyelashes, but as it is a mineral product it will not nourish them.

Marion J.: Table salt is as good as sea salt to put in the water in which you wash. Sea salt is a little cheaper.

THE BEST DRESSED WOMAN IN AMERICA IN A NEW COSTUME

Irene Castle in what she calls a fishing costume.

Irene Castle, who is perfection itself when it comes to dress, is introducing a new sports costume in her newest picture, "The Rise of Roscoe Paine." She calls it a fishing suit and when one sees the lovely Irene in it one knows she will catch something without the aid of any hook, even if it is not a fish.

The snug fitting trousers are reminiscent of the young dandy of many years ago and the jacket which accompanies them is much like the riding habit coat of today. It is a very smart and dapper costume, but it is safe to say that it takes an Irene Castle with her grace and youthful piquancy to wear it successfully.

This new picture of Miss Castle's "The Rise of Roscoe Paine," is from the story of Joseph G. Lincoln. After its completion she is to make a vaudeville tour to revive some of her old dances as a slap at the modern tiddle and jazz dancing.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

By LAURA A. KIRKMAN.

A GOOD HOME SUPPER.

The following home supper will be voted a most delicious one by the members of your family:

Baked Liver Loaf
Crumpests
Cocoa
Orange Blanc Manger

Baked Liver Loaf: In this dish beef liver may be used instead of the more expensive calf's liver. Mix together 1 pound of cooked beef liver and 1-2 pound of cooked ham, both passed through the food chopper. Add 1-2 cup of cracker crumbs, crushed, 1 tablespoon of minced parsley (may be left out), 1 well beaten egg, 1 teaspoon of grated onion and 1-4 cup strained stock—enough to bind these ingredients together. If the ham is salt, additional salt will not be necessary. Pack the mixture into a greased bread pan, set the pan in a larger pan of hot water and let it bake in a moderate oven for 45 minutes. Serve hot, turned out onto a platter, with the following sauce poured over it.

Brown Sauce for Liver Loaf: One half pint of brown gravy made when cooking the liver, 2 tablespoons of butter, 1 tablespoon of flour, 1 teaspoon salt, and a dash of pepper. Put the butter in the frying pan on a hot fire and add the flour to it, mixing till smooth. Draw the pan to one side, then add the gravy and seasonings. Let simmer till very hot, and serve.

Crumpests (made with left over powder): Sift together 1-2 pints of flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar and 2 teaspoons baking powder. Beat 1 egg till light, blend it with a pint of sweet milk and 2 tablespoons of melted butter, and gradually mix in the dry ingredients. It should form a stiff batter. Half fill greased muffin rings on a hot, well greased griddle and bake slowly on one side only. When cooked place for a couple of minutes in a hot oven to dry off, and serve covered with a folded napkin. These cakes may be baked the day previous and toasted for breakfast.

Orange Blanc Manger: Dilute 4 tablespoons of cornstarch with 1-2 cup of cold milk. Add gradually to 3-4 cups of scalded milk and cook for 5 minutes in a double boiler, stirring constantly until it thickens. Beat the yolks of 2 eggs, and add to them 3 tablespoons of sugar, a pinch of salt and 1-3 teaspoon of orange extract. Add to first mixture, cook 5 minutes, turn it into the serving dish, sift over the top 2 tablespoons of granulated sugar, and chill. Then spread with the white of an egg beaten stiff with 1-4 tablespoon of sugar, and brown this meringue in the oven. Serve with the following:

Orange Sauce: Sift together 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, and 1-4 teaspoon salt, and add slowly to 1 cup of boiling water, beating constantly. Cook 5 minutes, then remove from range and add 2 tablespoons of butter and the rind and juice of 2 oranges. Strain and serve hot.

MARGARET RESOLVES TO MOVE.

CHAPTER 48.

A letter from Mrs. Walters urging Margaret to visit her and wake a thought, that when Joan first decided to go to New York had intrigued Margaret, but which she had put aside immediately she knew she preferred to room in the college.

"Come and spend several weeks with me," Mrs. Walters wrote. "There is nothing now to keep you in that small town."

"There isn't," Margaret said aloud. "Not a single thing!"

Still she hesitated. Joan would not resent her visiting Mrs. Walters, even if she remained all winter; but that she did not wish to do. A few days in the home of another was all she cared to spend.

A small thing decided her. One morning the postman left her a card from Craig Forrester. It was postmarked London. He must be on his way home. He should not find her sitting quietly just where she was when he went away. She blushed at her thought as she made the decision. It implied an interest in her greater than he had shown. If he had cared would he not have written her instead of sending picture post-cards? But still Margaret determined that if he returned he should find her in a different atmosphere, different surroundings. And although she pretended to herself that it was to be near Joan, because she wanted the greater facilities for enjoyment the metropolis offered; deep down in her heart she knew that it was because of Craig Forrester she had decided to go.

She answered Mrs. Walters' invitation stating she would visit her for a few days, but saying nothing of her plans. She did confide in old Hannah.

"We'll find a nice little apartment, Hannah. Just a few rooms, and furnish them prettily with new things. We want to let Joan know anything about it until I am ready. Perhaps not for a long time. You see I want to have a good time, Hannah. I want to feel perfectly free for a while. Perhaps I shall tire of it," she added naively, "but I want to know how it seems to be young, happy, and—perhaps sought because of that," she added the last under her breath. "It will be a real lark, Hannah, buying furniture and everything."

"But how are you going to keep it from Miss Joan?" She writes every week or so."

"I have thought of that, Hannah. Your daughter will remain my letters to me, and I will send her mine to post to Joan. Of course this would be only for a short time. Then if Joan wishes she can come to us. But for the present I shall tell no one but you and Mrs. Walters, my plans. It is fortunate that Ted is away at college."

"Indeed it is, ma'am, unless you want Miss Joan to know."

Margaret rushed her plans when she found she could rent her home advantageously if she did so at once. She gave a year's lease, with the privilege of buying at the end of the year at a certain price, provided the family enjoyed the place. They rented it furnished, so all Margaret and Hannah had to do was to pack their trunks and go.

Margaret was as excited as a child about to embark upon some strange and thrilling adventure. Never had she taken a step before without considering Joan. Now she thought of no one but herself. This was her idea, her plan. If she told no one she would have no objections to overcome. So to all her friends and acquaintances she had simply said that she was going away for a time; that she thought it better to rent the house than have it stand empty in cold weather.

It was a glorious day in early October when she stepped from the train and greeted Mrs. Walters, who met her. Margaret was to find an apartment, then send for Hannah, who until that time would stay with her daughter.

When Margaret unfolded her plan to Mrs. Walters, the latter was wildly enthusiastic.

"I am delighted," she exclaimed. "We are sure to have a good winter. I'll take you to my modiste and my milliner. You look charming now, but wait until she gets through with you. Your own mother wouldn't know you. And I hear a great friend is to be in town this winter."

"Anyone I know?"

"Yes, you were with him the first time I saw him—Craig Forrester. I had a letter from him yesterday. He is in London on his way back."

Margaret said nothing, yet she was almost tempted to give up her plan of living in New York. Forrester had written Mrs. Walters. To Margaret he had sent a picture post-card.

PRECEDENT SET BY SOLOMON FOLLOWED BY AN IOWA JUDGE

Des Moines, Ia., Dec. 24.—Citing the decision of King Solomon, as recorded in chapter three, first book of Kings, District Judge James C. Hume here today ruled that a mother has first claim upon her own children and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lesko of Sheldon, Ia., are entitled to know the whereabouts of their three boys, adopted from the Iowa children's home. The home authorities refused to tell the whereabouts of the children.

CLOTHES PRICES NOT EXORBITANT DAUGHERTY TOLD

(By The Associated Press.)

Chicago, Dec. 24.—The National Association of Retail Clothiers, through Anslem Franklin, president, and Charles E. Wray, executive director, today addressed a letter to Attorney General Daugherty, denying his recent assertion that retail dealers' profits were unconscionable and that they have an understanding which tends to keep prices high. On behalf of 6,000 clothing dealers in their association, they invited the attorney general to avail himself of the information at their disposal and sharply criticized him for "announcing the results of your investigation" before it was made.

The letter in part said: "We resent your statement that retail clothiers' profits are unconscionable and their prices too high. This statement is not true and any one cognizant of the facts will admit its untruth. The retail clothing merchants have made every effort to reduce prices. They have taken huge inventory losses and are constantly taking further losses. In general, clothing today is being sold at retail at a much smaller percentage of profit than ever before.

"It is serious thing to destroy the public's confidence without even making an effort to get the facts. It was just such mis-statements, based upon misinformation, or, in most cases, upon no information, which brought about the present serious situation in retail business generally."

SACCO AND VANZETTI DENIED A NEW TRIAL

(By The Associated Press.)

Dedham, Mass., Dec. 24.—Motions for a new trial of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, on grounds of insufficient evidence, and on technicalities of law were denied today by Judge Webster Thayer. The court announced the ruling at a hearing on a supplementary motion for a new trial based on alleged improprieties in the jury room. On this, arguments continued.

Judge Thayer went into a lengthy rehearsal of the circumstances of the crime, the killing of a paymaster and his guard, for which the men were found guilty of murder in the first degree. He said no jury had ever been selected with greater care and that it had been carefully safeguarded from all outside influences.

30 MEN CHOSEN NOMINEES FOR C. OF C. BOARD

Directorate of 15 to Be Chosen From These Candidates at an Election to Be Held Within Few Days

Canvass of the nomination of directors for the chamber of commerce was completed yesterday afternoon and thirty members were selected from which the board of fifteen is to be chosen. In the nomination Col. G. E. Breese led in the number of votes and trailing six votes behind him Col. D. K. R. Sellers and Carl C. Magee tied for second place.

The following is a list of the thirty original nominees who were selected to run for directorships in the popular election, which concluded yesterday: Col. G. E. Breese, Col. D. K. R. Sellers, Carl C. Magee, Kenneth J. Baldrige, Sidney M. Wolf, C. T. French, W. M. Connell, Arthur Prager, C. M. Barber, H. B. Henning, Louis Hefel, D. S. Rosenwald, Rabbi Mele, Norman Albert G. Simon, A. H. Robertson, Dr. B. H. Briggs, T. H. Hanna, James N. Gladding, O. A. Matson, E. T. Chase, Guy Lauderbach, Henry G. Coors, Jr., Dr. L. S. Peters, C. M. Bette, J. H. Coon, John F. Simms, J. E. Cox, R. E. Putner, W. L. Hawkins, W. A. Keeler.

Of this number Col. G. E. Breese, Sidney Wolf, C. M. Bette, O. A. Matson have stated that they will not have the necessary time to give to the work of the chamber and that they do not want to enter the race for berths on the board of directors. If these nominees officially withdraw their names, the following men will automatically become nominees through the number of votes which they received in the nomination: George Roslington, Frank H. Strong, who resigns from the nomination, Frank Butt, Louis McEae and Max Nordhaus.

Draining the valley is the favorite project for chamber of commerce activity during 1922 as shown by the post card choice given by chamber members. The other fourteen most needed chamber activities as chosen by the members are: More street paving, advertising Albuquerque, building the hotel extending the city limits, bringing the northwestern railway terminal to Albuquerque, adequate schools, more parks, city and mountain, reviving the state fair, more city water, extension and cheaper rates, better roads leading to Albuquerque, establishment of a passenger and freight bureau, more street lighting, more attention to auto tourists and a general city plan.

Certain soils in Russia, India and Persia, have always been eaten by natives of these parts for their health-giving properties.

XMAS CAMPAIGN FOR ORPHANAGE PROVES SUCCESS

The response of the citizens of Albuquerque to the appeals of the workers on Tag day for the Baptist Orphan's home at Peralta yesterday was a decided success and results more than equaled the expectations of the leaders in charge, according to a statement issued last night. Reports last night showed that more than $250 had been collected from the sale of tags and more than $200 had been given in private subscriptions, making the total amount given for the care of needy orphan children in New Mexico by the people of this city more than $450, which is $250 above what was given out last year. Reports are not yet in from the Christmas campaign which are coming in show that the interest and response has been statewide and very generous.

Superintendent J. W. Hyman and the others connected with him at Baptist headquarters in the Barnett building, asked the Journal to express their sincere and grateful appreciation for the splendid response of Albuquerque citizens and others throughout the state who have contributed to the support of this institution and who are helping in caring for motherless and fatherless children.

In the local contest between the Whites, led by Mr. M. B. Fitzgerald, and the Blues, led by Mr. E. L. Shinn, the Whites were leading last night with several workers yet to be heard from. The contest was very spirited, both men and women, especially the young women entering into the contest with much interest and enthusiasm.

ORPHANS TO RECEIVE
GIFTS FROM THE ELKS'
TREE THIS AFTERNOON

The program of Christmas day at St. Anthony's orphanage is as follows: Midnight mass, followed by the second mass. The third mass will be celebrated at 7 o'clock this morning, after which there will be benediction of the blessed sacrament.

After dinner about 120 children from the orphanage will march downtown to the Elks' Christmas tree, where they will receive gifts. At 7 o'clock this evening the Christmas tree program will be carried out at the orphanage and the "little ones" will again receive gifts.

Through the kindness of R. H. Abernethy, General Coal company has donated a large carload of coal as a Christmas gift to the institution.

That it is the wife's privilege, in all classes of society, to buy out the money for food, was the dictum laid down by a London magistrate in deciding a matrimonial dispute, which arose because the husband, dissatisfied with his meals, decided to purchase the food himself.

TAXPAYERS ADVISED TO LOSE NO TIME IN COMPLYING THEIR 1921 ACCOUNTS AND RENDER REPORTS

The following statement was issued Saturday by B. C. Hernandez, collector of internal revenue: With the approach of the period for filing income tax returns—January 1 to March 15, 1922—taxpayers are advised to lose no time in the compilation of their accounts for the year 1921. A new and important provision of the revenue act of 1921 is that every person whose gross income for 1921 was $400 or over shall file a return, regardless of the amount of net income upon which the tax is assessed. Returns are required of every single person whose net income was $1,000 or over and every married person living with husband or wife whose net income was $2,000 or over. Widows and widowers and persons separated or divorced from husband or wife, are regarded as single persons.

Net income is gross income, less personal exemptions, taxes, etc. Gross income includes practically all income received by the taxpayer during the year, in the case of the wage earner salary, wages, honoraria and commissions, in the case of professional men, all amounts received for professional services, in the case of farmers all profits from the sale of crops, products, and rental or sale of land.

In the making of an income tax return for the year 1921, every taxpayer should present to himself the following questions:

What were your profits from your business, trade, profession or vocation?

Did you receive any interest on bank deposits?

Theaters Today

"B" Theater—Jesse L. Lasky presents a William de Mille production, "After the Show," with Jack Holt, Lila Lee and Charles Ogle as the stars. It is a Paramount picture. Also presenting a Percy and Fannie comedy, "Friday, the Thirteenth," a two-act comedy, also a real or two of "Current Events" pictures.

Lyric Theater—The main attraction today is the presentation of R. A. Walsh's "Scandal," with Eugene V. Debs, George Walsh as the leading stars, also showing a two-act comedy, "Torchy's Rummage Sale."

Elmer Theater—"Riding With a Cowboy" is the title of a thrilling picture, with Buck Jones as the main star, also showing the latest "Box News" and Harold Lloyd in "My Last Bow Waves."

UPHEAVAL STORY IS "SAVING THE SHOW"

AT THE "B" THEATER

Apprehension, drama and a thrilling picture is the theme of William de Mille's new Paramount picture production of "After the Show," which now is at the "B" theater. The story, written by Ella Weisman, deals with the stage and Jack Holt, Lila Lee and Charles Ogle are the featured players. The scenario was written by Charles McDonald and Verna Brown.

Eileen, a chorus girl, is the protégée of Pop, an aged stage door keeper who guards her jealously from the intrigues in which stage girls and wealthy business largely turn to the disadvantage of the former. When Eileen meets Larry Taylor, who wins her love, Pop is suspicious of the truth of Larry's sentiments towards his ward.

When he finds her slipping out of his life, Pop resorts to a daring experiment which has a dramatic finale. But, happily, after a period of dark doubt, true love has its triumph and all are rendered happy.

BUCK JONES, FOX STAR, AS A TEXAS RANGER; SEE HIM AT THE PASTIME

Here's newest Buck Jones, the famous Fox star, has dropped the "Buck" and has been formally christened "Charles." So Charles he will be henceforth, as Charles he will be seen at the Pastime theater today, in "Riding With a Cowboy," a William Fox feature photograph, Jacques Jacard is the scenario and director of the production.

Charles Jones—it's hard to omit the "Buck," but it must be done—enacts the role of a Texas Ranger, and those who have seen the picture declare his name "Dynamite" to be a fitting one. The story deals with a struggle between the ranger, at first single-handed, and a crooked sheriff with his henchmen. It is a tale of love, of wonderful friendship, and of fast and furious action, it is said.

GIRL NURSES YOUTH TO SAVE SWEETHEART'S LIFE; NOW AT LYRIC THEATER

On the bed, tossing in agony from a deep stab wound in the chest, lay Hamon, son of the governor of Magdalena. At his side sat Maria, the prettiest girl in the Spanish settlement, for whose love Hamon had fought a deadly duel with Pancho, the girl's sweetheart.

Although she cared him and tried to soothe the pain which was racking his body, Maria's thoughts were elsewhere—with Pancho, who had been forced to flee. And to save him from death on the gallows, she was trying to nurse back to life his hated rival. Only her presence could give the wounded youth a chance to live, she had been told, and to save her lover she had consented to visit the sick room.

And when Pancho, deciding that danger at the side of Maria was preferable to hiding in the hills, returned to Magdalena and learned that Maria was at the bedside of his rival he—

But to learn the thrilling denouement of this story you will have to see "Serenade," an R. A. Walsh First National attraction, which will be the feature at the Lyric theater today and tomorrow.

R. A. Walsh, one of the foremost motion picture directors in the industry, had produced this drama of Spanish love and intrigue, and it has been enacted by an excellent cast headed by Miriam Cooper and George Walsh.

NEWS BROKEN TO DEBS; RECEIVES TIDINGS CALMLY

Arrangements Are Made for His Departure for Home in Terre Haute for Reunion With Wife.

(By The Associated Press.)
Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 24.—Preparations for the release from Atlanta federal penitentiary of Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader, convicted in 1918 of violating the espionage act law, whose sentence was commuted yesterday by President Harding, effective Christmas day, today awaited official addresses from Washington. Debs' brother, Theodore, and David Kastner arrived here yesterday but it was said they did not see him.

Debs himself was not told of the news over night, according to Warren J. E. Dyche, who said he waited for direct orders from Attorney General Daugherty before announcing the subject to the prisoner.

Plans were for the socialist leader to go directly to his home at Terre Haute, Ind.

Eugene V. Debs was formally notified today that his ten-year sentence had been commuted and expire tomorrow and as far as could be learned received the tidings calmly, reserving any comment he might care to make until he is actually outside the walls of the Atlanta federal penitentiary.

Detailed instructions as to the hour of release had not been received at the prison tonight but following ordinary procedure, the socialist leader would be allowed to leave tomorrow at any time suitable to him.

All arrangements for departure for his home in Terre Haute for a Christmas reunion with his wife and family have been made by Theodore Debs, brother of the prisoner, and David Kastner, a socialist leader of New York, both of whom have been here for several days. His plans for the future are to be made after arrival home, his friends said.

The government will provide transportation, $5 in cash and a complete outfit of civilian clothes which Mr. Debs may wear if he desires. He has his choice between a dark blue or brown suit but the other garments are uniform and include a felt hat.

The socialist leader has been rooming in the hospital building most of the time since he has been in the prison here and does mingle with the other inmates generally. No outsiders, either, have seen him recently, it was said by J. E. Dyche, warden.

HARDING'S ACTION IN DEBS' CASE PRAISED

Washington, Dec. 24.—Marcus Gates Forney, national president of the Private Soldiers and Sailors Legion, sent a telegram today to Eugene V. Debs, congratulating him on the commutation of his sentence. The great majority of the private soldiers and millions of other Christian citizens, the message stated, will praise the action of President Harding in granting clemency to Debs and other political prisoners.

Announcement was made at the department of justice today that the complete text of the recommendations from Attorney General Daugherty to President Harding in the Debs case would be made public soon and also would be distributed in pamphlet form throughout the country. This action was taken, it was explained, in order that the public might be fully informed on just what grounds commutation of sentence was ordered.

In London it is a common sight to see girls employed in shop or office enjoying a game of chess or draughts in some quiet corner where they may also have a "quiet smoke," unobserved.

Already Received; Exhibit
to Be Held by County
Poultry Association.

The seventh annual Bernalillo county poultry show will be held here under the auspices of the Bernalillo County Poultry association January 12, 13 and 14. Plans are being developed to make the 1922 show the largest exhibition of poultry ever given in New Mexico. That the show is to receive the close co-operation of the southwest poultry growers is indicated by the large number of out-of-town entries which have already been received.

First, second and third ribbons will be given in all leading breeds of poultry and special ribbons will be given for champion winners in each class. In addition there will be a number of cash awards to superior birds in the leading varieties.

A display of eggs will be one of the features of the exhibit. Prizes will be given for the best dozen of white and brown eggs. Eggs from all varieties of chickens will be eligible for competition. A demonstration of egg candling will also be given.

A series of lectures on the various phases of poultry culture has been arranged for the afternoons and evenings of the show. This is planned to be of particular interest to beginners in poultry culture.

Broaders who are planning to exhibit at the show are urged to enter their birds and pens as early as possible in order that they may secure good places. C. P. Hay, 234 North High street, has been named show secretary and entry blanks and lists can be secured through him.

Barr, chief agriculturalist of the Great Western Sugar company, was killed instantly today when his head was crushed in a revolving screen at the Morey sugar beet dump. Young Barr was cleaning the cage, which was connected with an electric motor. The gear slipped in suddenly and before a companion could stop the motor, Barr was crushed.

Shall We Wish and Wait OR WORK AND WIN?

In 1913, eight years ago, Albuquerque was fighting hard times. The outlook was blue. Business was bad. Albuquerque's resources then were about one-half what they are now.

In 1913 Albuquerque courageously grasped opportunity by the forelock and raised $65,000 with which to buy the site on which the magnificent new Santa Fe railroad shops now stand.

In 1913 there were men who said: "You can't do it, we haven't the money, the investment is too great for the return we can SEE, the men pushing this effort are DREAMERS, we should tend to our own business and let the community's future take care of itself."

But men of vision KNEW that was the wrong attitude. They persisted and Albuquerque rallied to their support. The $65,000 was raised and the site was given to the Santa Fe.

Eight years later, during 1921, the return on that investment came. To say that it is a return of 1,000 per cent is moderate. Investment by the Santa Fe of nearly $3,000,000 here during the past twelve months has kept business moving on a normal basis in Albuquerque when stagnation, reaction and business trouble held a majority of American cities and towns in a state of semi-panic.

With $88,500 more we can begin building the new hotel in January. That means a building boom in 1922, with an investment during the year of more money than has been spent this year in the shops and associated construction.

With faith in our city, vision of its future, realization of its immediate needs, we can absolutely guarantee prosperity in 1922.

We all want prosperity. We all want growth. We can wish for it and wait for it to come, or

MARKETS FOR FARM COMMODITIES STAGNANT; PRICES ARE BELOW COST OF PRODUCTION, IS INFORMATION GATHERED BY C. OF C. OF U. S.

This map, put out by The Nation's Business, official publication of the United States Chamber of Commerce, shows actual business conditions throughout the country in December as seen by Archer Wall Douglas, the noted business authority.

By ARCHER WALL DOUGLAS, Chairman, Committee on Statistics, U. S. Chamber of Commerce. Washington, Dec. 24.—The story of business conditions which comes from the four corners of the United States is that of continuing stagnant markets for all farm commodities, coupled with prices below the cost of production.

The situation differs as to localities in degree rather than in kind. Farmers are buying only things of immediate and pressing necessity, for the very good reason that most of them have neither ready money nor credit. They are in an economizing mood that has taken grim hold upon them. Country banks are loaned up all they deem is safe, and the statements of many observers is that "getting money from banks for any purpose is impossible."

Spring Wheat States.—Business is quiet in the spring wheat states, especially where the harvest was poor, or where the quality of the wheat was not good. Much the same situation prevails where corn is the principal money crop, and where its price is so low that it is tragic in its effect on business and on the needs of the farmer. The price is now far below what it was during its high period in war times. These conditions account for poor business in the spring wheat states of the northwest and the corn growing sections of the middle west.

One reason for the lack of a better demand for corn is the enormous crop of this cereal produced this year by the south, more than enough for its own needs, when in the past it drew upon the surplus corn states for much of its wants. Livestock, wheat and oats are only a trifle higher proportionately in price than corn and consequently there is no special reason, save necessity, to sell them. That is about the only reason that agricultural commodities are coming to market in such volume as now prevails. The farmer must have money to make some purchases, since credit is difficult for him to obtain. But the sunny returns he receives for his products offer no inducement for him to sell, and consequently business upon the countryside continues in moderate volume, although it is really larger than would seem likely under prevailing conditions.

Decline in Cotton.—Matters are somewhat sadder in the southern states, although the recent decline in cotton put a crimp in that general buying which had not well under way. This buying was also affected by the revelation that an official estimate of this year's production of cotton was appreciably west of the mark.

As always there are many minor causes that relieve and alleviate the stringency in the agricultural situation. There is the dairy cow and the poultry bird whose products furnish much money to the farmer on the whole. There are fruits in the northwestern mountain and desert states and in California. There is garden truck in the gulf states and the Pacific slope. There are many minor crops, rice, beans, cranberries and sweet potatoes, whose use and market is being extended by drying and preserving processes. There is tobacco, where it is selling, as in North Carolina and Virginia. But where it is pooled, as in Kentucky and Tennessee, there is a deadlock between buyers and sellers, with nothing doing, and consequent stagnant business. There is the oil business in many states, undeniably on the upgrade both as to production and price, although prospecting and drilling seem to be generally quiet, save in a few localities, notably the Mexico field in Texas.

Considerable Building.—More building is going on than is generally realized, because it is local and scattered. Also there is much more looked for next spring as it is believed by that time that high priced labor and material will have got their. There is likewise general expectation that with the opening of spring it will be easier to obtain money for construction in the country districts.

Other industries are not so well off. The shipbuilding industry has become non-existent. Mining in general offers little encouragement. Phosphate mining in Florida is mostly shut down because of lack of demand from Germany. Coal mining, save in the anthracite regions, is not booming. The lumber business has helped the situation much in localities, especially in the yellow pine districts. Just now it is slowing down because of the approach of cold weather, but expects all sorts of business next spring, especially if the hand of high freight rates be removed.

Transportation Costs.—Lower costs of transportation are among the matters of moment that add hope of better business in some lines after the coming of the year. In agriculture it means a moderate increase of price to the farmer, although not necessarily to the consumer of farm products. Industrial life, where now active adds distinctly to the welfare of some communities. There has been better business recently in many scattered localities, where factories are full of work, or because of the presence of furniture factories that are fairly busy. Throughout the nation local industries of one kind or another are the saving grace of an otherwise intolerable situation.

The universal feeling is that there can be no better times than the enduring of worth while until the prices of farm products advance materially, or else the prices of other commodities decline proportionately.

RUSSIAN TRADE IS ON UP GRADE FIGURES REVEAL

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS MANY TIMES WHAT THEY WERE IN 1920; SHOPS REOPENING ON CAPITALISTIC BASIS.

(By The Associated Press.) Moscow, Dec. 24 (by the Associated Press).—Nineteen hundred and twenty-one has been a year of "diplomatic and economic" battling for soviet Russia. It brought the abandonment of the government monopoly of domestic trading and gradual reversion to capitalistic methods, tempered in such a way as to prevent dangerous splits in the small communistic group which dominates the government. But the trade for 1921 has been many times what it was in 1920, and the reopening of shops on the old capitalistic basis has offered an opportunity to sell in a legal way manufactured articles which are in great demand.

2,000 MILE BOUNDARY LINE WITHOUT A GUARD

(By The Associated Press.) Buffalo, Dec. 24.—The claim that the 2,000 mile boundary line between the United States and Canada is without fort or military guard can be restated today as a fact, following the withdrawal of a military force which all summer and fall occupied Navy Island, in the Niagara river just above the falls.

The commandant of the force was a corporal and his "army" consisted of a few private soldiers. They were withdrawn on orders from Ottawa and sent to winter quarters at Toronto. Canada when the boundary line along the Niagara frontier was drawn by treaty. It has an area of about 30 acres and is one of the most picturesque spots in the Great Lakes chain.

Many years ago the Canadian government leased Navy Island to a Buffalo corporation which proposed to establish a vineyard and orchard there. The concern did not progress and ultimately sublet its rights to a tenant farmer who year the permanent occupant of the island for a quarter of a century.

Last spring the Canadian government desired to break the lease and took action upon a clause which provided that the instrument would be nullified at any time Canada wanted the island for "military purposes." The military force was dispatched forthwith and the island became military area of Canada.

Winter evacuation was decided upon to save the "army" from the rigors of field duty during the months of low temperature. The Bolshevik government lacked the gold necessary to buy abroad and could not find creditors. The government announced it would make import and export tariffs possible for individuals and corporations, under government control. This related statement came in October. Commissioners are working out customs tariffs and 1922 probably will see a far larger export and import trade if the government makes good its promise to release its grip on foreign business.

Leslie Urquhart, a British mining man, who attempted to obtain concessions to work the mining properties which he controlled in Russia before the Bolshevik regime, said it would be impossible for him to operate in Russia until the government stops the activities of the Cheka, or secret service, which he insists is stronger than the central government with which concessions are negotiated.

The Cheka always has had an important part in directing foreign trade arrangements. Many commissioners selected by the Foreign Trade Council have not been permitted to leave Russia. Foreigners are unable to understand the relations between the Cheka, which operates under Unslight, and the so-called central government. It is not clear whether there is a dual government, or whether the men who are generally recognized as heads of the government use the Cheka and thus avoid direct blame for acts which meet the public disapproval.

Official figures for the foreign trade of Russia during the first nine months of this year show:

General Sampson was appointed envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Ecuador in 1887 and served in that capacity for ten years. This was the first time a person living in a territory had been given a diplomatic appointment in more than sixty years. In 1922 General Sampson was appointed attorney general of Colorado. He was a Mexican consul at El Paso del Norte, Mexico, from 1889 to 1893 when he came to Phoenix.

He served in the civil war, enlisting as a private and attaining the rank of captain in the union army. He was a past deputy commander of the Grand Army of the Republic and also was a Mason of high degree and a Knight Templar.

Mr. Sampson was a graduate of Mt. Union college, Ohio, and of the Cleveland law college. He was admitted to the bar in 1865 and practiced law in Sedalia, Mo., and Canon City and Denver, Colo.

His wife was Miss Frances S. Wood of Joliet, Ill. One son, Anderson J. Sampson of Akron, O., and one daughter, Mrs. F. M. Livemore of this city, survive him.

that the exports totalled roughly 100,000 tons. These exports were chiefly raw materials or partly manufactured articles, such as timber, railway ties, leather, fur, furbishes, hair, asbestos and graphite. Thirty-three per cent of the exports went to England. Forty-six per cent, chiefly wood and furs, went to Latvia for exportation to various countries. The value of goods exported abroad from January 1 until August 31 was about $1,149,000.

ARBITRATION OF THE TACNA-ARICA DISPUTE SUGGESTED BY PERU

(By The Associated Press.) Lima, Peru, Dec. 24 (by the Associated Press).—A meeting of delegates of Chile and Peru in Washington to decide on a basis for arbitration of the Tacna-Arica dispute under the auspices of the United States government was suggested in a reply sent by Peru today to the Chilean government's note asking for a definition of the points upon which Peru desired arbitration.

The Peruvian note amplifies Peru's recent refusal to accept the invitation of the Chilean government to hold a plebiscite in the disputed provinces in accordance with provisions in the treaty of Ancon which closed the war between the two countries toward the close of the last century.

In the note refusing Chile's invitation the Peruvian government suggested arbitration of the south Pacific question. Chile's rejoinder asked for a more specific definition of this suggestion and the note dispatched today was in compliance with this request. The note invites Chile to name a representative to meet in Washington with a Peruvian delegate "to resolve upon the bases and the object of arbitration."

MAN WHO HAS SPENT 20 YEARS OF HIS LIFE IN PRISONS, IS PAROLED

(By The Associated Press.) Leavenworth, Kans., Dec. 24.—Eddie Estelle, 59 years old, who has spent more than twenty years of his life in prisons, has been released from the Kansas state penitentiary at Lansing, Kans., on a Christmas parole, it was learned today. Estelle once was sentenced to hang after serving one year in prison, both penalties being imposed for the killing of a woman member in pursuit of the prisoner after a fall break. The death order, however, never was signed. While working in the state prison mine Estelle carved a wooden gun, wrapped it with tin foil and with it threatened the guards and escaped with Ben Craven, Oklahoma bandit, and another prisoner who was shot and killed. A train robbery in Illinois resulted in Estelle's imprisonment but upon identification he was returned here.

A Good Cough Medicine.
It speaks well of a cough medicine, when druggists use it in their own families, in preference to any other. J. Goldsmith, druggist, Van Allen Bldg., N. I have always used it in my own family, and for ordinary coughs and colds for the cough following a cold, and find it very efficacious."

At Smoulding, the Albuquerque light heavyweight who has been boxing in Mexico for some time, is back here for a holiday visit with his relatives and friends and would like to have a match arranged for him here during the holiday season.

Smoulding enters the ring around 175 pounds and upon his arrival it was thought by some fans that he might meet Eddy Lewis, but this possibility has been forgotten since Lewis lost his fight to Rooney in Winslow the other night.

Lee Anderson who claims the colored light heavyweight championship, has been negotiating through his manager for a bout here and it is possible that Dan Padilla may consider a match between he and Smoulding.

BETTER TRAFFIC LAW PLANNED BY CITY OFFICIALS

City Manager and Police Chief Working Out New Rules for Central and Second Street Traffic.

New traffic rules to be applied at the intersection of Central avenue and Second street are being worked out by Chief of Police Galusha and City Manager James Gladding. It was at this intersection that Miss Vera Welch, Miss L. Kallig and H. W. McVay were badly injured Thursday when an automobile driven by Anastacio Trujillo plunged into a crowd of people waiting for the State National bank to board a northbound street car.

The traffic regulation problem at this intersection is one of the most acute, due to a number of peculiar situations. This, according to officers, is in part due to the narrow width of Second street, which was not designed for the heavy traffic which has developed; the loop system of the street railway company tracks and the fact that the tracks make the turn from west to north far to the north side of the street, not allowing automobiles or wagons enough room to make a similar turn at the same time as a street car.

Many types of traffic control have been tried by the city police department and the city manager. According to Chief of Police Galusha, they have all had serious faults.

The city officials, however, expressed the intention yesterday of making a new set of regulations for this particular corner which would tend at least to make such an accident as the one Thursday less liable to take place.

Although no rules were adopted yesterday, it is possible that safety cones will be established on the west side of Second street by the "B" theater and on the east side of Second street by the State National bank and that no parking will be allowed for some distance from the corners.

The upper classmen failed to interfere with the affair in any way.

A small fire was discovered in the rear of Smith's tailor shop on last Friday evening. The fire department was called and the flames were quenched before any damage was done.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

ROSENWALD BROTHERS

THE HOLIDAY SEASON BRINGS PARTIES, DANCES AND INFORMAL "AT HOMES" MISS CARR AND MISS STEARNS WILL BE CHRISTMAS BRIDES THIS WEEK

"Merry, Merry Christmas,
As merry as can be;
After trimming father,
We'll all trim the tree."

But poor old father won't mind, at least until after New Years. This is the day that we all gather around the household shrine, the glistening, candle-lighted evergreen, at this season, and joyfully disregard all annoyances, past, present and future. We will go calling on the world and it will call on us, but the wassail bowl will be conspicuous by its absence, so say the officers.

It will be a double Christmas for many people, a number of the social events appropriate to the day being postponed until Monday in the city. A number of informal at homes will be held today at the Country club will hold "open house" tomorrow afternoon for its members and their guests. There will be dancing, naturally.

Even if it weren't Christmas the week would be an eventful one, however. The wedding of Miss Virginia Carr to Theodore Van Soelen on Wednesday and of Miss Lois Stearns to Benjamin H. Kennedy on Thursday noon would make it so. The eyes of the social world just naturally rest on a bride whatever time of year. Both young women are popular here.

Carr, and Theodore Van Soelen, which will take place here on Wednesday evening. The ceremony will be performed at 8 o'clock at the Carr home at 400 North Fourth street by Father Mandlari.

The bride will wear a formal wedding dress and veil of white. The flower of the dress is a part of her mother's wedding gown and the beautiful veil and train of rose point lace was worn by her grandmother on her wedding day. She will be attended by Miss Edith Childers and Miss Angelica Howden as bridesmaids. Mr. Van Soelen will be attended by Robert E. Dietz as best man.

The bride will approach the altar on her father's arm to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march played by a violin, cello and piano trio played by Miss Lorna Lester, Mr. Rea and Miss Louise Lowber. Other wedding music will be "Meditation" and "Liebestraum" (Liszt), which will be played during the service. A wedding reception will follow the ceremony. She has been active in all social and philanthropic activities in Albuquerque during the years she has spent here.

Mr. Van Soelen is a portrait and landscape painter who has achieved prominence among artists in both the east and the west. HOLIDAY MOTOR TRIPS ARE FASHIONABLE.

This balmy Christmas weather (unless something slips from the time we go to press) is an invitation itself for a delightful motor trip which will be possible for many with the two-day holiday. Nice as it is to stay by ones cozy hearthside on Christmas, the counter attraction of wild Indian dances and other rites at the neighboring pueblos remains very strong. It is to pack up and drive off somewhere for a day or two.

Near at home are native Christmas observances witnessed by many persons each year. There can be no more romantic experience than driving down to the little pueblo of Isleta through the moonlight, past the candle-lighted house tops, to watch the ceremonial dance inside the church preceding the midnight mass. Then there are the "Los Pastores" performances, the drama of the nativity played and sung by Spanish-Americans in parishes and elsewhere. It is to pack up and drive off somewhere for a day or two.

The majority of the Indian pueblos are holding holiday dances. At the pueblo of Coehiti there will be a dance all day today and other dances each day during the week at San Felipe a midnight dance at the church before mass and hunting dances on Christmas day are scheduled. The Indian Christmas dances, the buffalo and deer dances, represent the hunting season and the desired success of the hunters.

At practically all of the pueblos in the state the election of fiscal officers takes place at this time. Preparations are being made for the installation of these officers on New Year's day after early mass. The installation service is frequently held on the steps of the village church and is followed by a ceremonial dance.

PARTIES

A Christmas house party is being held this week-end at the home of Mrs. J. J. Roberts at 1629 East Central avenue. Six girl friends who are not going to their homes for the holidays are the guests. A Christmas tree, around which all the guests opened their presents, was a feature of the frolic. Tonight the hostess will hold open house to all of her friends. On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Roberts and Miss Catherine Saxauer will be joint hostesses at a bridge party and on Wednesday evening there will be a continuation of the same.

Miss La Vica Anderson, who was married yesterday at Belen to Richard Bruce, was the guest of honor at a party given by Mrs. L. H. Chamberlin at her home on Thursday evening. The party was a Christmas shower for the bride-elect, whose approaching marriage was known to a few of her friends. The shower was arranged very appropriately with Christmas tree and presents, all of which were for the guest of honor. The house was gaily decorated with Christmas wreaths and festoons and refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

CLUBS.

Bright-hued rugs on the floor and Christmas decorations gave the Woman's club a most hospitable appearance on Tuesday afternoon. It was the occasion of Mrs. Emily F. Each guest was presented with a favor in the way of a Christmas greeting card to which was attached a tiny red candle, burning brightly. A gorgeous parrot swishing on his perch along the card, but Mrs. LaBelle declared it has no special reference to the name of the club—Conversation and Bridge. A number of friends came in after the game for the social hour during which refreshments appropriate to the season were served by the hostess, Miss Grace Winfrey, and Miss Watson assisting.

The Happy-Go-Lucky club, which was recently organized, will meet on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Quimley at 410 South Third street. A large Christmas stocking containing gifts for the members of the chapter was the feature of the afternoon's meeting. The house was decorated in poinsettias and holiday greens and a two course dinner was served at the close of the meeting. Mrs. H. L. Horrocks, president of the chapter, will entertain the members at a sewing meeting at her home on next Tuesday afternoon.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Shimmel left at once for Albuquerque, where they will reside." Mrs. Shimmel has been employed as a clerk at the federal board of vocational training.

As a prompt cure for bad colds no one could wish for a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The success that has attended the use of this preparation, not only throughout the United States, but in many foreign countries, shows that it is a remedy that can be relied upon. It is pleasant and safe to take and only costs 25 cents; large size 50 cents.

The senior-junior high school play, "A Palace of Sixes," presented Friday night in the Shuler auditorium was all that could be asked for in the way of entertainment. The pupils taking part well represented the character of the cast and no one left the auditorium in any way disappointed. It would be hard to say which of the students rendered their part the best as each one was so good as the other. Much of the success of the play was due to the training of Miss Frances Keeth, the teacher.

At the regular meeting of Queen Esther Chapter No. 1, O. E. S., held at Masonic temple Thursday night the election of officers for the coming year resulted as follows: Mrs. Jennie Barnish, worthy patron; H. S. Palmer, worthy patron; Mrs. O. E. # ARTESIA DEPARTMENT STORE BURGLARIZED

(Special Correspondence to The Journal) Artesia, N. M., Dec. 24.—Thieves entered the dry goods department of Solomon's store on Wednesday night or early Thursday morning and secured loot valued at several hundred dollars. The exact amount is not known at this time. Among the stolen articles were four ladies coats, silk dresses and many wool dress skirts. A peculiar feature of the theft was that the burglars picked over the entire stock and took only articles of certain sizes. They also took ten gingham dresses, leaving other valuable articles. The robbery was noticed by E. E. Solomon, manager of the store, when he entered the store on Thursday morning. The officers were called, but no favorable clues have been found. The thieves entered the building by prying off the padlock on the outside doors over a rear window. A wagon coupling iron was used and was found near the window.

It is supposed that the entry was made by more than one person and that it took place only a short time before the store was opened on Thursday morning. A pan of water near the window had been overturned by the culprits and the floor was yet covered with water. From all appearances, very little evaporation had taken place.

WE are enthusiastic about Dayton Tubes. We know that you can improve the service of any tire if you support it with a Dayton Tube. We know that they are thicker—smoother—finer and stronger. And you yourself can actually see and feel the difference if you get one in your hands. If you need tubes—put in Dayton—in any make of tire.

We are also enthusiastic about Dayton Pneumatic Tires. For real mileage—rugged, hard service, they haven't an equal. A Dayton Tire will stand up under any kind of service and deliver more than its share of miles—regardless of the kind of tube it has in it.

But the ideal companionship is Dayton Tires equipped with Dayton Tubes—our idea of perfect tire equipment.

We have definite worth-while things to tell you about the construction of Dayton—both tires and tubes. We want you to come in and get the facts. They will be valuable not only to your peace of mind, but also to your bank account.

CHRISTMAS.

Another year has been snatched from the unknowable future and has taken its place in the column of the past. Again the day is here upon which we celebrate the birth of Him whose coming marked the most important event in history.

We give this event such pre-eminent importance, not because of a reverent religious attitude, but because the student of history must see that the life of this Lowly Nazarene has affected the trend and direction of civilization for two thousand years as nothing else in history has done.

He came teaching a philosophy of living. He established no temporal kingdom; He wrote no human laws. He merely projected into the world His dynamic thoughts. These have wrought a revolution.

In the face of the facts of the Master's life, who dares say that a thought is not a living and a compelling thing? Thoughts have guided mankind. Great minds have overturned governments and systems with the power of an idea. The greatest of these thinkers was the Man of Galilee.

His basic teachings were that the spiritual realm was above the physical, and that a spirit of service was the true philosophy of living. He taught "Peace on earth, good will to men."

Amidst the selfishness and limitations of frail humanity it has seemed that His ideas have made scant headway. The reverse is true. His ideas have revolutionized the world, though they have not yet perfected it.

Today our hearts are made tender through the influence of this Man, though He has not walked the earth for two thousand years.

This is the world's "glad-day" of all the year. An idea makes it so. It points the way to peace.

The Journal looks upon the world this morning through eyes of service and with a heart of good will. May this day be a merry one for every reader.

With Liberty bond issues chasing each other toward par, a lot of pessimism should disappear.

THE BUSY MAN AND HIS HOBBY.

The man of heavy affairs, as a rule, finds his safety valve in some harmless hobby. With wealth he usually becomes a collector. The Wall Street bankers have stripped many artistic centers of Europe of priceless treasures.

J. P. Morgan could only be called away from his desk in search of some object d'art. Paintings to him were living, breathing things, and his few spare moments were spent in his galleries.

Henry L. Doherty, the traction magnate, has a home on top of a skyscraper facing the New York harbor. In one room are ethnics of old New York the New York in the days of New Amsterdam when shy maidens went milking with pails across their shoulders, the days of flagstoned walks and quiet dolls. It is said the ethnics represent a fortune.

Frank A. Vanderlip built an outdoor theater at his country place to encourage the art of the theater. William Fox, the motion picture magnate, has two rooms filled with old musical instruments—string and brass. He has instruments dating back to the War of Roses, and he also has a collection of lace handkerchiefs that represent a small fortune.

William B. Hearst is a collector of rare books and browses about second-hand book stores hoping to find some volume that has been lost in the shuffle of the ages.

Thomas A. Edison finds his supermost recreation in his laboratory. It is his hobby. He does not like social engagements planned for him. They might take him away from his work in hand. And once started on something he never stops until it is finished.

Edward L. Doheney, the oil man, has a collection of bronzes that would fill any eight-room house. He has gone to all parts of the world for them.

A hobby is the only way for the busy man to find surcease from the complete absorption of business affairs.

At a Lotus club held in the city of New York last week a group of twenty men—men whose names loom large in the world of affairs—were dining. The subject turned to individual hobbies. One man told of gardening, another of his interest in a certain charity, still others of books, paintings and the like. One man rather flushed when they asked him what his hobby was. It was so foolish, he thought.

He was a man known the world over as a corporation quake. He was among friends, however, and so he finally confided his secret.

For twenty years he has been whittling out a steamboat and fitting the parts inside of a big glass bottle. He has a room in his Fifth Avenue mansion known as the "whittling room." Here he spends many hours whittling and planning. And he uses a knife that was given to him on his fifteenth birthday.

The only known cure for idleness is industry, and the simplest preventative for nervous overstrain seems to be the acquisition of a hobby.

It is not stated that the inventor of the spring bed, who is dead at 83, attributed his longevity to restful sleep.

THE DIFFERENCE.

Washington correspondents say the four-power treaty for peace in the Pacific will be ratified by the United States senate because "there's no Article X in it." According to Woodrow Wilson, Article X is "the very heart" of the covenant of the League of Nations which he undertook in vain to get the senate to ratify without reservations.

Perceiving that this highly desirable plan for insurance against war, upon which America, Great Britain, France and Japan have agreed, is sure to go through, a few disgruntled democrats, suffering from chronic partisan animosity, are now professing to be gratified at the coming around of republicans to the original League of Nations scheme and declare that Woodrow Wilson has thus been vindicated. The fact is, of course, that the difference between this proposed pact and Article X of the league covenant is that of day from night. As Senator Lodge says, the powers entering into this new agreement are going to make the novel experiment of trusting to each other's good faith.

to work for the common good and keep the peace. Any nation that should break its solemn pledge to submit a controversy to a joint conference of these powers would automatically place itself outside the pale of civilized governments.

This compact relates to matters in which our government and the others have a direct interest because of ownership. We say that in these matters which directly concern us and over which we naturally have control we agree to submit any disputes to the consideration of all having similar interests, with a view to amicable adjustment.

Article X would have placed us to interfere in matters that did not concern us in the slightest, and to help to maintain for all time the apportionments of territory and the governments set up by the Paris peace conference, however contrary to principles of justice and fair dealing. Furthermore, it would have placed our military forces at the command of a super-government to help enforce its dictates in disputes which we had no concern. Some defenders of the league covenant asserted that it implied no such compelling obligation. Then all that republican senators asked was a reservation plainly stating that fact and pointing out that we reserved freedom of decision. This and similar reasonable reservations were rejected by Mr. Wilson and his associates.

The great difference between the Pacific four-power compact and Article X is that the former deals directly with matters that are emphatically our business and that the other is potential of more war rather than of peace. The almost unanimous approval of the arrangement both at home and abroad should encourage the members of the Washington conference to further distinguished efforts for the peace of the world.

The great national game seems to be that of trying to separate somebody from his bankroll.

WHEN HUNGER COMES.

How much it would cost to save Russia from famine depends somewhat on the extent to which we want to save that country. There is a wide diversity of opinion. Information comes from Walter L. Brown, European director of the relief administration in Russia, who says that the government of the United States will be asked in the near future for a loan of about $50,000,000 to be spent through the relief administration to provide seed grain and food for the starving population.

Although it is Mr. Brown's belief that this loan, which would amply cover the situation, would be returned by Russia after the next harvest, there are some people who would hesitate to give their approval to an undertaking of this kind. There could be found people who, although they might not actually say that Russia isn't worth saving, would still shake a dubious head at our efforts to give relief.

Our diversity of opinion in matters that pertain to Russia is no doubt, justified. So contradictory has been our news from Russia the last few years, and so impossible is it to sift this news and to get at the facts that almost any position which persons in his country may take is tenable.

But although we may justly differ on the political and economic future of Russia, though we may not care to raise one finger to further the cause of the soviets, and even resent it when someone does favor these present rulers of Russia, it is quite a different matter when it comes to giving relief to starving women and children.

Those who are trying to trace the resemblance between the four-power pact and the league covenant do not find that the former takes from congress the power to declare war.

There's a warm hollow in the hay Where the Baby Jesus lately lay. For Mary has taken her child away. And the cattle speak with their eyes and say, "Where is our Shepherd Babe today?"

Mournfully thro' the dusk they gaze Around no holy manger today. Till for grief their curred heads they raise And snort and bellow in deep amaze That Joseph and Mary have gone their ways.

In stable and shed and dark city, Great Shepherd, on beasts have sweet pity. For rarely go they merrily; And once, o'er Thy humility, With fragrant breath they worshiped Thee.

Once o'er Thy state most pitiful Wept at Thy side the fearsome bull, And gave Thee shaggy locks to pull; Thrust thou Thy fingers in white wool Of sheep, that frisked Thy cries to null.

FEDERAL SURPLUSES AND DEFICITS.
(From the New York Times.)
The treasury has just borrowed $250,000,000, yet statements are published suggesting a surplus of ordinary receipts over disbursements of "nearly $200,000,000" for the calendar year. There have been four such surpluses and they correspond to months of similar borrowings and similar tax collections. The surpluses disclosed are not of a permanent or substantial sort. The government does not keep its accounts by calendar years. For the fiscal year the excess of total disbursements over receipts has been running larger than for last year up to the middle of the current month, and there are large differences in several items of the treasury's accounts.

The treasury's management has seldom or never been more skillful, and skill is needed when there are such differences of view as between the administration in general, the treasury in particular, and congress, which has rather been silenced on the subject of controversy in converted to it. The president appealed to congress on Wednesday last to let the budget stand as prepared by the director general. The senate adopted the conference report on a deficiency bill, "the first," for $103,000,000, which the senate had increased over the house's allowance. One item was a refund of $23,000,000 for taxes illegally collected. Storm signals are set for the passage of the soldiers' bonus when congress meets after the holidays. That would not fall within the calendar year, but would work havoc with the surplus of the fiscal year. There are Washington suggestions that even the administration will favor the bonus bill whenever the money is in sight.

We are free with our counsel to needier nations that they should live within their means and stop printing money. It behooves us to do the same and not borrow the funds which make a surplus and create illusions of money to spare. Taxes and deficits are alike unpleasant, but the deficits are the more obnoxious. Economy is a better road to treasury surpluses than increase of taxes, but of economy there is no hope so long as congress makes unauthorized additions to the budget, however meritorious.

MERRY CHRISTMAS FROM THE WHOLE DARN FAMILY

RIPPLING RHYMES

By WALT MASON.

CHRISTMAS TIME.

Again the Christmas season brings gladness to the land, and he is fit for treason whose soul does not expand; who does not feel like rising to attitudes surprising and loudly advertising his joy, to beat the band. Old Santa Claus is freighted the presents on his sleigh, and little kids are waiting the dawn of Christmas day; and though my years are eighty, and I have burdens weighty, I'd think myself cheap-skatey if I could not be gay. At Christmas time we hunger for chances to be kind, and all the world is younger, and grouches fall behind; and every normal chappie would make some fellow happy, and Christmas is a snap he is mighty glad to find. My years are nearly ninety, and I have many ills, but while I drink my pipe tea, and take my beewax pills, I hear the Christmas angels; my crutches from my flinging, I rise and go a-swinging to count down my hills. This is the merry season when lights are all arow, and Christmas gifts, the trees on make such a gaudy show; and in the frosty weather the whole bunch gets together, and then, with lungs of leather, sings carols in the snow. And now we're all forgiving the grudges of the past, and we are glad we're living in amity at last; and if there is a fellow whom Christmas doesn't mellow, his heart is surely yellow, and he should stand aghast!

AS THE PEOPLE VIEW IT

A Hint.
Albuquerque, N. M., Dec. 21, 1921.
Editor Albuquerque Morning Journal, Albuquerque, N. M.

Dear Sir: I have been interested in noting from day to day the articles that have been printed in your paper of the effort of the chamber of commerce and the various business clubs of the city to obtain their goal of a doubled population of Albuquerque by 1924.

Having watched the growth of a similar city of which I was a member of a business club, my interest was more acute. If there ever was a chance for a man with a small capital to make a greater success than in Albuquerque I have never found that city. But Albuquerque is and has been living off the money of tourists. This is too unstable for the growth of a city, what the city must work for is industries so that families can come here to live. You cannot make a city with transients, you must have families that are permanently located here and in order to get these families you must have great industries.

Several years ago business men of the city of Oklahoma, Okla., decided to double their population, how did they do it? They went to work to get industries, they built a railroad, they procured three glass factories, four large oil refineries, two foundries, and other industries, as a result the city was not doubled but quadrupled. Albuquerque can do the same, she can not develop the same resources as the city I mentioned, but she can develop others just as good.

Now Albuquerque has the greatest climate of any city in the United States, people come here from everywhere, men would make the best of citizens come here every day for the health of wife or child, these families like it here, they would like to stay here but where are your industries, what can they find to do unless they have capital. They stay here until their money is gone and then they move to another place and when their family is well they send for them. What has Albuquerque gained? A few hundred dollars but no increase of population. In the five weeks that I have been here I have seen many young men come here with a new wife or relative, they like the place and would like to stay but they must move on to other cities to find employment. The man who has nothing to sell but his own brain and brawn is out of luck in Albuquerque.

Come on men, get industries here and your city will prosper before you know it.
