TWENTY-EIGHTH YEAR.

CARLSBAD, NEW MEXICO. FRIDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1920.

NUMBER 49.

WHITE HONORS A LOCAL BOY

Chairman of Democratic National Committee Appoints Fred E. Wilson to Direct County Organization of Service Men.

Chairman George White, of the Democratic National Committee, has appointed Fred E. Wilson of Carlshad, to head the work of organizing the service men of this county who are supporting Cox and Roosevelt. Mr. Wilson is a veteran of the World War and his services as a soldier and a citizen have resulted in his being selected for this honor. Governor Cox has written him a personal letter in which he expresses his personal appreciation, stating that "it is with a full realization of your outstanding fitness for this work that I now, in the rush of my own campaign, turn for a moment to take the pleasure of expressing to you my personal appreciation."

"You are a man already marked in your community. You are a veteran soldier who hurried to the defense of your country in the hour of national need. Therefore, you have both the right and the privilege of telling your neighbors what you fought for. I myself am doing my best as I understand it to interpret and to make real your ideas."

"Among these ideas was the thought, crystallized into determination, to fight a war to end war, to establish on the shambles of the great conflict into which we were drawn by inescapable duties toward ourselves and all mankind a basis for permanent peace. You, who fought Over There and who now served at home must co-operate in full measure to keep faith with our dead."

Citizens generally, irrespective of party, will congratulate Mr. Wilson on this national recognition which has come to him.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS MEETING

A splendid attendance and much interest characterized the meeting of the Women's Club last Tuesday afternoon, that being the second meeting of the club year. Interest centered in the report of the returned delegates from the meeting of federated clubs which was held last week at Tucuman. The ladies reported an interesting and instructive meeting with many splendid lectures from prominent club women along the line of Child welfare and kindred topics and announced the next meeting of the Federation to be held at Roswell although Santa Fe and Albuquerque were candidates for the honor.

Mrs. J. F. Bush had a splendid paper on "Suffrage Qualifications" and Mrs. F. E. Wilson, one on "Elections"; both papers were freely discussed.

The members of the club are much interested in woman's part in the coming election and after some discussion of the manner of voting W. F. McIlvaine and Judge Stennis were summoned to explain the process to the ladies present, which was accomplished to their satisfaction.

A beautiful piano duet by Mrs. Kindel and Miss Linn was given and Mrs. Sikes gave a very comprehensive review of the book by the English writer, Leonard Merrick—"Conrad in Quest of His Youth," giving an interesting account of the author's life and struggles before he became a power in the literary field.

This was followed by the roll call which the ladies responded to by quotations from current events and the meeting adjourned.

REPUBLICAN MEETING WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

Judge Merritt C. Mechem, candidate for governor on the republican ticket, Hugh Williams, of the state corporation commission and Senator Albert Fall, addressed a large audience, many of whom were ladies, at the opera house Wednesday afternoon.

The stage in the opera house had been tastefully decorated with flags and bunting and large lithographs of state and national candidates. Republican County Chairman W. F. McIlvaine opened the meeting and spoke of the necessity of all persons registering and exhibited a sample ballot which he explained. After his brief talk Major Bujac eloquently presented Judge Mechem to the audience. In so doing the speaker told of various positions filled by Judge Mechem, always with honor and ability and of the sacrifice he was making in this campaign. Mr. Mechem devoted his entire time to state issues, speaking more particularly on the mine taxation which he said had been condemned in no unmeasured terms by the democratic orators. "Well," he said, "the mining tax law was passed by the assistance of democratic votes—in the legislature our setate senator, Dr. Drapp, voting for that law. James Hinkle, of Roswell, W. B. Watson and other democrats also voted for it, and it was approved by a democratic governor, W. C. McDonald, who was never hesitant in expressing his approval or disapproval. He was a cattleman and had no interest in mines or mining. At the head of the tax commission is Herbert J. Hagerman, Stennis, and Hayden are members and are both democrats who have no interest in mines or mining and can be trusted to legislate for the good of the state. In no state are the mining interests taxed on values. Hanna offers repeal of the present mine tax law."

He also said the day had passed when the will of the people can be thwarted by men in high station, and if he shall be elected governor of the state he will be governor of the entire state. The address of Judge Mechem was quiet and convincing if one can judge by the remarks heard at the close. He indulged in no remarks that the democrats, of which there was a large number present, could object to and was frequently interrupted by applause.

Hugh Williams, member of the state corporation commission, was the next speaker; he spoke particularly of his office and said the republican platform pledged legislation to give more power to the commission.

Senator Fall was the last speaker he having been detained en route here at Hagerman and Dexter. The senator spoke at length confining his remarks almost entirely to a discussion of the League of Nations. He was listened to attentively by the large audience present and was applauded many times during his speech.

A FRIEND IN NEED

friend in need, my neighbor said to me—
A friend indeed is what I mean to be.
In time of trouble I will come to you,
And in the hour of need you'll find me true.

I thought a bit and took him by the hand:
"My friend," said I, "you do not understand
The inner meaning of that simple rhyme—
"A friend is what the heart needs all the time."

HENRY VAN DYKE.

TO EXTEND TRAIL IN NEW MEXICO

116 MILES WILL BE ADDED TO OZARK TRAIL THROUGH PECOS VALLEY.

(The following copied from the Pittsburg, Kansas, Sun, under date of Saturday, October 9, 1920:

An agreement was officially reached at the morning session of the Ozark Trails convention yesterday to add approximately 116 miles of road through the Pecos Valley of New Mexico to the great network of Ozark Trails in the middle west. Stipulations of the agreement, which will put the Ozark Trail through one of the most fertile and picturesque agricultural districts in the United States, were couched in a document drawn up by Colonel W. H. Harvey president of the association and E. C. Jackson of Lake Arthur, N. M., president of the New Mexico association at a conference Thursday night at the Stillwell hotel.

Mr. Jackson and C. C. Cagle, of Roswell, N. M., vice president of the association in that state, came to Pittsburg all set to extend the Trail through the beautiful Pecos Valley. The $1,000 fund required by the organization for each extension to the trail was in readiness and a fund to erect nine pyramid markers, as required, was on hand and did not require action to raise. They were prepared to do business in a business-like manner and this was a great aid in the success of their mission to Pittsburg.

It was agreed that in addition to a pyramid to be erected at Roswell, eight other markers will be placed along the 116 mile stretch of highway. The route through the Pecos valley will have as its terminal points, Roswell and Pecos, Texas, connecting the two great Ozark Trails routes to the Mexican border—the St. Louis-El Paso Trail and the southern route via Abilene, Tex. The new trail will run almost directly north and south, parallel with the Pecos river.

A glowing description of the Pecos valley, through which the new route will pass, was given by Mr. Jackson. He described it as a land of happy inhabitants, a rich agricultural district where irrigation projects have been opened on a big scale. He said that companies at present are drilling for oil there.

Colonel Harvey opened a discussion on road construction with an interesting discourse on the best methods of obtaining money to do the work and a comparison of the various types of hard-surface highways.

"I have studied road construction extensively," Col. Harvey said, "but with all the information I have gained, I am a self-educated road engineer and you should gauge my remarks by that fact. First, I am opposed to bonds as a means of securing road construction money. When bonds are voted, I may say, almost twenty per cent of the money is wasted. It usually results in a loss in a majority. The money is borrowed, committees composed of business men who know nothing of road work are appointed and in the carrying on of their business duties, cannot be bothered with their duties on the committee and

HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

Committees appointed by the president of the Home and School association, Mrs. J. B. Leck, are as follows, the first named acting as chairman of each committee:

Program committee, Mrs. Asbury Moore, Mrs. Frank Joyce, Mrs. Homenway.

Visiting committee, Mrs. J. P. Flowers, Mrs. F. E. Little, Mrs. Will Purdy.

Finance committee, Mrs. Dillard, Mrs. Thayer, Mrs. Diller.

Library committee, Mrs. Clarence Bell, Mrs. C. E. Barrows, Mrs. A. A. Kalsner.

Playground committee, Mrs. John Barber, Mrs. Judkins, Mrs. L. E. Foster.

Interior decoration committee, Mrs. W. E. Smith, Mrs. T. C. Horne, Mrs. R. E. Dick.

Social committee, Mrs. V. O. McCollum, Mrs. D. Jackson, Miss Carolyn Jones.

A large attendance is requested at the next meeting to be held Friday evening, October 29th at 7:30 in the high school auditorium and at all ensuing meetings of the year, occurring on the last Friday evening of each month. An interesting program will be prepared for each occasion.

Miss Tupper, a representative of the Red Cross department of public health, and also connected with the public health department of this state, whose headquarters are in Santa Fe, was in the city last week arriving Tuesday and leaving Friday. Her business here was to see that the organization of the Red Cross Roll Call is completed and also that money is raised for the employment and salary of a public health nurse for Carlshad. Miss Tupper had films which showed the work that a public health nurse can perform in the discharge of her duties which she showed at the local picture theatre. With a co-operation of the various religious and philanthropic societies in the city the employment of a nurse will be assured.

turn it over to the engineer. Later, we wake up to find the money wanted."

Colonel Harvey declared that in cases where states as a rule build roads on bonds, contractors meet in the capital city, from a mutual association, and apportion the state's work among themselves equally. As a result, he affirmed, bids are high and are so framed that even the lowest bid is above a fair consideration.

"This mutual association," the speaker said, "aims to get the county engineers on their side. If any engineers are dishonest, these contractors find it out and work accordingly."

"There is a way to check against this method. A state road construction committee composed of four or five honest, public spirited men acquainted with road work, could be appointed to superintend all road work. They could check over bids of contractors and determine whether they are fair. If the county engineers are honest, they will be glad to have their work checked."

In his argument against bond issues, Col. Harvey asserted that the roads themselves as a rule do not last more than a third or a half as long as the bond issue, thus leaving a debt after the road is worn out. "The road is gone, the bonds are still unpaid, you've got a sore public, and you've got them in debt," he declared.

ROWE GETS FOUR YEARS IN PEN FOR BIGAMY.

Sheriff Hewitt and Ed Toner left Saturday night for Santa Fe, having in charge Iron S. Rowe, who was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary. At his trial before Judge Brice, Saturday afternoon, Rowe pleaded guilty but stated that he thought his wife had procured a divorce while he was away. United States Marshal Hudspeth accompanied the party as far as Artesia.

Rowe came to Carlshad at the opening of the baseball season to catch for the local team and in a few weeks married a local girl; they later moving to Arizona, where they were at the time it was found out he had a wife in Alabama. The information was received by the local authorities from wife No. 1 that Rowe had not procured a divorce, but before he could be arrested he returned to Carlshad and pleaded guilty to the charge, and waived his right of a trial, pleading for the court to be as easy as possible under the circumstances, thereby saving the county quite a bit of expense in prosecuting the case. Before Judge Brice imposed sentence, he made the following remarks in open court:

"The sentence that the Court might impose is from 2 to 7 years imprisonment in the state penitentiary, but in view of the fact that you pleaded guilty and for the further fact that the girl you have wronged and her parents have agreed that the sentence that might be imposed be a less sentence than the maximum, but one thing that will be a substantial punishment. I don't know how you can feel your conscience clear in a case of this kind, knowing that your wife had not gotten a divorce from you; if she had gotten a divorce without first having a divorce she would be guilty of the same offense that you are guilty of. This young lady no far as she is concerned, during the time she co-habited with you, is a married woman and will be looked upon here as having been married; but it was no fault of hers that this trouble has been brought on her, but entirely that of yourself; you have disgraced her and have left her upon the world, perhaps to go back to her parents and you will have to go to the penitentiary, all because you saw fit to break down the ordinary rules of society and live with a girl you knew was not your wife, although she did not know it. I do not think the punishment described in the Statute is adequate in cases of this kind, but under the circumstances we will have to abide by it. The parents of this girl have been long-time friends of mine and I might say this: That this is a warning to me to the parents and the girls themselves who go with young men who they know nothing of and who are traveling around away from their own homes and who by all that's just ought not to be permitted to come in contact with the young girls of the community until they have been known; who they are has been ascertained and the standing in the community in which they formerly lived has been determined. There is too much laxness in this country in permitting young girls to go with men about whom their parents have not investigated and have no knowledge of who they really are, the girls themselves are not so much to blame; they will meet the young man who fascinates them and insists upon keeping company with them and without the knowledge of their families or the standing of themselves. I believe that all parents should first investigate and know who the young man is who keeps company with their daughter, and no one should even be permitted to go with them until they know that their standing is such that will cause them to take them into their homes. Matters of that kind should not be taken upon guess."

"I think this statement, maybe, should be publicly made and this case might save some other girl from a like fate. As I stated before, so far as this young lady is concerned, in law and in social matters and so far as the public is concerned is a married woman, but at the same time you have wrecked her life, so it is the judgment and sentence of the court that you be removed back to the custody of the sheriff and that by him you be safely kept until such time as you can be transported to the state penitentiary at Santa Fe and delivered to the warden and that you be confined at hard labor for a period of not less than four years or not more than five years."

LOVING GROWING FAST.

Through the kindness of Judge Roberts, a reporter for the Current was enabled to take a trip to Loving the first of last week and was surprised at the growth and prosperity seen on every hand. A number of new buildings have recently been erected and others are now building, which, with the sidewalks now being put in and other improvements, cannot fail to attract the attention of any one who has not visited the little village for some time and consequently is unaware of its growth.

The Loving State Bank, C. L. White, cashier, is occupying its new concrete building 25x50 feet fitted up with the latest improved bank furniture, and has a fine vault and a directors' room in the rear and many of the conveniences not found in a larger town and a larger bank.

The First National Bank now occupies temporary quarters, pending the completion of their new concrete building which is already under way and in a short time will be ready for occupancy and J. C. Wilson is holding the cashier's office. The main room is 40x50 feet and there will be another business room in the south side of the building.

New dwellings are those of Frank W. Ross, a fine dwelling of nine rooms with many built-in features; Ben Dickson has also erected a neat little dwelling of five rooms and there are others. The recently erected Baptist church with its stained windows and general city style, together with the excellent schoolhouse, makes the village assume quite a metropolitan appearance.

C. P. Pardue is busy at the erection of a hay barn to replace the one destroyed by fire some weeks ago. The new structure is 80x100 feet.

Business houses are the Ross Mercantile company's store and warehouse which latter has a capacity of one car of flour and two cars of feed, which are disposed of to the many farmers who get their supplies from that enterprising firm.

The Loving Furniture Company, A. L. Allinger in charge, carries a line of furniture, stoves, rugs, etc., and also has a warehouse in the rear where are stored various heavy articles for which there is no room in the main store room. This firm has no doubt proven a great convenience to the residents of the south part of the county. C. P. Pardue and Snyder, the latter formerly of Lakewood, each carry large stocks of goods of various kinds and are receiving liberal patronage from the people of that section.

The Roberts-Dearborne Hardware company, of this city, has a branch store in Loving and have recently moved into their new building where they carry a large line of heavy and shelf hardware, harness, guns, ammunition, notions, queensware and school supplies, and in fact many other articles which residents in that part of the county formerly had to travel many miles to secure. They have also opened a lumber yard in connection with their other business and also have a stock of wagons of different kinds in fact it would be hard to mention anything that this firm has not on its shelves or in its yards. This company has shown its faith in the future of the town by heavy purchases of town lots and other real estate.

The principal point of interest in this interesting little town is the cotton gin, which is now running full blast and at the time of our visit had just completed the 343rd bale, but as they have put on a night force that number has been greatly increased by this time, as the gin has a capacity of 25 bales a day and requires a day crew of seven men. A long string of wagons was seen in the yard and Mr. Craft who is in charge tells us they were just about one day behind with their work. The power is furnished by a 75 horse power Fairbanks-Morse engine, using crude oil for fuel. It was very interesting to a "Buckeye" to watch the process of ginning from the time the cotton was taken into the gin until it was turned out, a shapely bale, weighing over 500 pounds.

Oscar Mercer is laid up with a bad case of rheumatism in one of his knees which incapacitates him for active duty on the farm at this time.

Rev. J. B. Cochran, presiding elder of the Roswell district, of the New Mexico conference, was in the city last Sunday and preached a fine sermon at the local Methodist church in the morning and held a congregational meeting in the afternoon at 4 o'clock at which time many things of importance to the church were touched on and plans made for the future. The evening service was in charge of Reverend Lowry, of the Presbyterian church, and was very helpful although not largely attended. One feature of the evening service was a vocal quartette by Mesdames Armstrong, Crawford, A. A. Davis and Dibble Clark, which was beautiful and inspiring to all present. The sermon next Sunday morning will be by Rev. John H. Zimmerman, and the minister in charge of the evening service will be announced at that time.

MUNCY—BECKETT.

Miss Vera Muncy and Mr. John Beckett were united in marriage at Roswell on Monday, the 4th. They were accompanied to Roswell by a brother of the bride, Neville Muncy, and Mrs. Muncy. Shortly afterwards they left for the flying H ranch but have not yet decided upon a permanent location. The bride is the second daughter of H. L. Muncy and wife and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Beckett of Hope. Both young people were brought up in Eddy county, where hosts of friends wish them a long, happy life journey.—Artesia Advocate.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Caven, of Leroy, Kansas, the lady a daughter of the late Mr. Glascock, came in Friday from their home and were present at the funeral of deceased which was held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. They remained here for several days before leaving for their home.

RESTS WITH THE CITIZENS

People Can Create and Maintain Prosperity
If They Will Keep Their Money at Home in Circulation.

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)
"Stay away from that town. It's a dead one."

Do you want that to be said of your town? Of course you don't, for you wish, as a matter of local pride, if for no other reason, to have your town stand high in the estimation of the world. But are you sure that you are doing everything in your power to place your town in the position which you wish to occupy? That is the question that every person should ask himself or herself at frequent intervals.

When things are running smoothly, when times are good, and when it is fairly easy to make a good living for the wife and kiddies, it is so easy for a man to forget that these things do not come to a town as a matter of course, but are the result of the right kind of effort on the part of the citizens of the community. It is so easy for a man to grow careless and think that because this condition existed it will continue to exist without any effort on his part or that of the other residents of the community. That is why it is important for every one to stop and think seriously once in a while about what it would mean to him if the prosperity that makes life worth living for him should take wings and fly away.

Nobody Loves a Dead Town.
Nobody likes to live in a dead town. No one even likes to visit a dead town. That is why you sometimes hear that warning, "Stay away from that town. It's a dead one." The town which has the reputation of being a dead one suffers as if from a pestilence. Business men seeking new locations will have none of it. The live traveling salesman, even, will give it a wide berth. Those who live in it will get away if they can.

When a town is live and prosperous, local business is good, real estate values are high and stable, labor is in demand and wages are good, the streets are well lighted, the residents and their property are protected from robbery and fire and good schools are maintained for the education of the children. When a town is dead, there is little money in circulation, store buildings stand empty with "For Sale" signs hanging on the front door, there is little employment for the laboring man, the streets are dark, the schools are crippled.

What sort of town do you want to live in? There is only one answer to that question. You want to live in the live town and enjoy all the good things that come to the residents of such a community.

Answer Easily Found.

The only question then is as to how these prosperous conditions can be created or maintained and it is the easiest thing in the world to find the answer to that question.

If the people of a community will keep their money at home and keep it in circulation among themselves, they need have no fear of ever being compelled to live in a dead town. If the people will patronize their own business men instead of sending their dollars to the mail order houses, the prosperity of the community will take care of itself.

The local stores, to a very large extent, make every town. The taxes paid by the business men of the community are the principal support of the schools and public institutions. It is the taxes paid by the storekeepers, to a large extent, that make possible the public improvements, the fire protection, the street lighting and the many other things which make a town worth living in. The mail order house does not pay any taxes in the town from which it gets its money. It does not help to support the schools or the churches. It does not help light the streets or maintain the fire department. It is the aim of the mail order houses to drive small town merchants out of business, so that the people will be compelled to send to the cities for their merchandise and they are spending thousands of dollars every month to accomplish this purpose. If they should succeed, who would pay the taxes that are now paid by the local merchants? It's a certainty that the mail order house would not pay them.

Issue Is Clear Cut.

Every dollar spent at home helps to make the town a live one. Every dollar sent away from home to the mail order house helps to make the town a dead one.

The issue is a clear-cut one and is squarely up to every resident of the community, whether a resident of the town itself or of the country surrounding it. The man who does not care whether he lives in a live or a dead town, if there is such a man, need waste no thought on the subject, but the man who wants to live in a live town cannot get away from it. It is up to him to make his town a live one or a dead one.

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 24

WHAT THE KING REQUIRES.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 5:1-48.
GOLDEN TEXT—He ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.—Matt. 5:48.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Lev. 19:15; Deut. 4:4, 5; Luke 6:20-26.
PRIMARY TOPIC—What the Heavenly Father Wants Us to Be.
JUNIOR TOPIC—What Jesus Wishes His Followers to Be.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Measuring Up to Christ's Standard.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Character Which Jesus Requires.

The so-called "Sermon on the Mount" is the king's proclamation of the laws which obtain in his kingdom. These laws do not set forth terms of salvation to sinners, but the principles of life which shall obtain when Christ reigns on earth.

1. The Characteristics of the Subjects of the Kingdom (vv. 1-12).

These characteristics are set forth in the nine Beatitudes.

1. The consciousness of utter spiritual poverty (v. 3). "Poor in spirit" does not mean to be without money (Isa. 60:2), but to come to the end of self in a state of absolute spiritual beggary, having no power to alter one's condition or to make one's self better.

2. A profound grief because of spiritual insolvency (v. 4).

3. A humble submission to God's will (v. 5). The outgrowth of mourning over spiritual insolvency is meekness.

4. An intense longing to conform to the laws of the kingdom (v. 6).

5. Merciful (v. 7). The subjects of the kingdom now take on the character of the king.

6. Purity of heart (v. 8). Since the king is pre-eminently pure, the subjects who enjoy fellowship with him must have heart purity.

7. Peacemakers (v. 9). The one who has received the peace of God through Jesus Christ will diffuse peace to others.

8. Suffering for Christ's sake (v. 10). The world hated Christ, the king, therefore those who reflect his spirit in their lives shall suffer persecution (II Tim. 3:12).

9. Suffer reproach (v. 11). This means suffering falsely. In such case we should glory in it, for it brings great reward in heaven.

11. The Responsibilities of the Subjects of the Kingdom (vv. 13-16).

Man is corrupt, and the world is in utter darkness. The disciples of Christ are to live such lives as to purify and enlighten. Their responsibilities are set forth under the figures of salt and light.

1. Salt of the earth (v. 13). The properties of salt are (1) penetrating; (2) purifying; (3) preserving. Since salt only preserves and purifies in the measure that it penetrates, so Christians only as they enter into the life of the world can preserve it from decay.

2. The light of the world (v. 14). Light illuminates and warms. This world is cold and dark. The devil has set many pitfalls and snares. As sons of the light we should live so as to prevent the unwary from stumbling and falling.

III. The Laws of the Kingdom (vv. 20-48).

1. As to deeds of righteousness. They must exceed that of the scribes and Pharisees.

2. As to sanctity of life (vv. 21-26). "Thou shalt do no murder," means more than simply to refrain from the taking of life. Rash anger is heart murder (v. 22).

3. As to organized life (vv. 27-32). The family is the unit of society. There is no sin that so rots society as that against the relation of the sexes. The two awful sins against the family are (a) adultery (vv. 27-30), (there is heart adultery as well as heart murder); (b) divorce (vv. 31, 32). Moses, for the hardness of the hearts of the people, permitted a man in case of adultery to put away his wife and give her a bill of divorce.

4. As to oaths (vv. 33-37). Speech is the absolute test of character. Whatever is more than the simple form of affirmation or denial comes of the Devil.

5. As to behavior toward those who do not recognize the laws of the kingdom (vv. 38-45). (1) Not revengeful (vv. 39, 40); (2) willing to do more than is required (v. 41); (3) charitable (v. 42)—even the borrower should not be turned away; (4) love toward enemies (vv. 43-45). Love to enemies consists (a) in blessing them that curse us; (b) in doing good to them that hate us; (c) in praying for those who despitefully use us.

God is Everywhere.

Let us remember that God is at the seashore and in the mountains just as much as he is in our home town and in our home church. We need to resist the devil of license which is always whispering his evil insinuations into the ears of people away from home. We need religion just as much in summer as we do in winter, perhaps more. So when we are away from home let us not neglect our Bible, and our daily prayer, and attendance upon the house of worship whenever possible.

JUDGE RICHARD H. HANNA PEOPLES' CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR OF N. M.

Judge Hanna is making the fight for the people of New Mexico. The issues are:

1. Shall the mines pay their just proportion of the state's taxes?
2. Shall W. A. Hawkins, author of the infamous personal injuries law, repealed by congress, and sponsor for the equally infamous mine tax law, John M. Sully, general manager of the Chino, and H. O. Bursum, field marshal for the tax dodging interests, continue to run the state?

3. Shall the iniquitous gerrymandering of legislative districts by which these men control the legislature and write the laws, be allowed to continue?

Hanna is fighting for lower taxes on the common people and for higher taxes from the mines, so that we may have better roads and better schools, with higher paid school teachers.

W. A. Hawkins, the big boss of them all, speaking before the special tax commission, argued against raising mine taxes, but advocated taxation of all leases—leases of land for oil, leases of land for grazing and leasing of business houses and residences.

W. A. Hawkins spoke in opposition to the effort to secure from congress cession of the unreserved public lands to the state, by which from lease or sale the state could have an annual income of not less than two million dollars.

To prevent increase of mine taxes and to impose taxes on leases, an effort is being made to elect Judge Mechem governor, and to pack the state senate with corporation attorneys and mine owners. Hanna is for the square deal—VOTE FOR HIM.

QUADRUPLTS BORN TO NEW MEXICO COW; FIRST ON RECORD.

New Mexico has a remarkable cow. Frank Clark, chief inspector for the Cattle Sanitary board of New Mexico, received word today from V. A. Lyles, near Fort Sumner, that the latter owned a cow which had given birth to quadruplets. Two of the calves are bulls and two heifers. Each weighed 15 pounds. Mr. Clark as well as other cattle men here stated today that it was the only case on record as far as they know where any cow had given birth to quadruplets. Mr. Clark said he had heard of only a few cases of triplets among cows. The average weight of a calf at birth is between 40 and 50 pounds. —Albuquerque Herald.

In discussing the state mining tax law Judge Meechem, republican candidate for governor, did not even try to defend the action of his party in framing such an unjust piece of legislation, but tried to shift the responsibility for its passage to the shoulders of a democratic minority in the legislature at that time. He did not tell the audience at the Crawford Theatre this week that it was signed by Governor McDonald, who at the time told the legislators that he did not approve of the law but was signing it because he was convinced that it was the best that could be gotten from the republicans controlling the legislature. Mining interests of the state with offices in El Paso are now busy sending out propaganda from that city to the voters of New Mexico trying to show them that if the democrats put into operation a law similar to that now in force in Arizona, it will put them out of business in this state. The voter only has to remember that they are still doing a flourishing business and paying large dividends in Arizona under such a mine tax law.

The ladies who represented the Carlsbad Woman's club at Tucuman, returned the latter part of last week and reported a fine meeting and an excellent trip, both going and coming. A report of the Federation meeting was an interesting feature of the club meeting last Tuesday afternoon.

POLITICAL NOTES FROM SANTA FE.

Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. —The democratic campaign in New Mexico is in full swing, and very large audiences have attended every meeting held by Judge Hanna, candidate for governor. Hon. Antonio Lucero, candidate for congress, and Hon. R. E. Putney, who is accompanying these candidates in their tour of the state. There is every indication from the numbers of republicans who have declared their purpose to support the Democratic state ticket, that the Democratic candidates will win by a much larger average vote than any winning candidate ever received in past state elections.

Senator A. A. Jones and a number of state candidates with him, have been stumping the state and in also meeting with enthusiastic gatherings everywhere.

The sentiment is undoubtedly growing that the time has come to rescue New Mexico from Boss-rule and from a system of taxation which discriminates against the common tax-payer in favor of the big corporations. This fact has been driven home everywhere by Judge Hanna, who declares in his speeches, that while it is not his purpose to place unfair burdens upon the big mining corporations, it is his purpose to see to it that investments in cattle and sheep and agriculture and the ordinary conduct of business necessary to the welfare of the state, are not discouraged by the high tax rate that has increased since the close of the McDonald administration from $4,300,000 for all purposes to an estimated tax expense for 1926 of more than $12,000,000.

Judge Hanna has pointed out—and his speeches have been supported by facts and figures—that whereas the Santa Fe railroad company, which makes no contribution to Republican campaign funds, pays more than $1,300,000 annually, the Chino Copper Company, which probably pays nearer its just proportion of taxes than any other big mining corporation in the state, and which has a net income quite equal to or in excess of the net income of the Santa Fe railroad, pays only $327,000 in taxes.

It is also pointed out by the democratic speakers that, while an ordinary business building that would rent for $500 a year (making a net income of probably $500 a year) pays on a tax valuation of not less than $5000, if it were taxed on its net income, the valuation would not exceed $500. The Chino Copper company, for example pays three per cent county and state taxes on an income of between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000 a year. If the owner of a small business or residence property paid in the same proportion, his taxes on that building would not exceed $15.00 instead of $100 or $150 which he now pays.

These things are bringing the lesson home to the state that if taxes are to be equalized, the democratic party must elect not only its governor, and the whole state ticket but it must also elect a majority of both houses of the legislature. This, Judge Hanna says, can be done this year.

The Petroleum Exposition Oil Co., which has large holdings around Fort Sumner, has been reorganized and taken over by different officials who are going after oil in earnest. The capital stock of the company has been raised from $200,000 to $3,000,000 and one of the most noted geologists of the entire United States has become actively associated with the company. Ralph Arnold, who for 17 years was in the employ of the government and during the war made the U. S. Geological survey for petroleum deposits and Cole & Knight of El Paso, who represent copper interests of the southwest, who are searching for petroleum for their use. The above men, in company with H. E. Elliott, have taken over the Geo. W. Warren interests. Dr. Peckereil and associates of Louisiana, have entered this field and are drilling 24 miles north of Ft. Sumner. In this vicinity are five structures which will be developed. It is also reported that Edward Doherty has secured 32,000 acres of oil land north of Cuervo.

Little Aileen Dickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dickson, celebrated her 7th birthday anniversary appropriately at the Library park in this city last Friday after school, her home being in the country and the park being convenient for all the little guests. After playing games of various kinds, the little folk were each handed a decorated paper napkin tied with an ornamental cord, in which was contained sandwiches, doughnuts and other goodies that children love. This was followed by delicious ice cream and cake. The little honoree received a number of nice presents from her friends and has the best wishes of all who know her that she may have many more happy anniversaries. The guests were: Harold, Lena and Belva Dickson, Kathryn, Frances and Emma Lea Riley, Evelyn and Mary Kathryn Kircher, Mary Mullane, and Baby Wallace. The grown folks present were Mesdames Dickson, Riley, Mullane, Kircher, and Miss Nance, and all report a fine time and excellent refreshments.

STAR PHARMACY

MARRIED.

Wednesday, October 6th, at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. H. W. Lowry, Sidney Icard Bearup, of Carlsbad, and Miss Ray McBride, of Weed, were united in marriage. The young folk have been engaged for some years and their marriage would have been celebrated sooner but for the war which upset so many plans. Sidney is the oldest son of Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Bearup and is well known by all citizens of Carlsbad. He was an over seas man during the war and was a member of the 35th Balloon company and served with distinction in the capacity of skilled mechanic. He has a small ranch in the mountains west of town and is getting a good start with cattle. The bride is the daughter of a sheepman in the Weed country and is known to her friends as a thrifty and industrious girl. They left immediately after the ceremony for the ranch where they expect to make their home. Friends in this city and vicinity offer best wishes to the happy pair.

DIED.

A beautiful life ended Friday night of last week at 11:15 with the death of Miss Fannie Isabel Witham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Witham, at her home in this city. The family consisting of father, mother and two daughters, Fannie and Fern, had been residents of Carlsbad since last December, coming from their home in Kansas for the benefit of the climate on the eldest daughter's health, she being a victim of the great white plague, that has made such havoc in homes and hearts all over our land.

For a time after her arrival here Fannie seemed to improve and strong hopes were felt that she would recover or at least that the ravages of the disease might be delayed, but in spite of all that could be done—the unfailing attention of skilled physicians, the constant care of a most devoted mother and the loving ministrations of friends, she passed to her reward at the early age of 23 years and 2 days. Fannie was a member of the Christian church, from her early childhood and as long as her health permitted, found her greatest joy in its services and in the work of the church and Sunday school. A girl beautiful in person, mind and character, she drew around her a circle of intimate friends, even during her short life among us, who mourn with the bereaved family the taking away of one so young and fair.

Funeral services were conducted at the Undertaking parlors Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock and the sight of the beautiful dead in the white casket surrounded by lovely flowers, of which she was so fond and which she always had in abundance in her sick room melted all to tears. After a scripture lesson read by her pastor, Rev. D. F. Sellards, a choir of little girl singers, who had frequently visited her in life and sang for her, rendered in their sweet way such songs as: "Shall we Gather at the River?" and "Rock of Ages," and after an earnest prayer by the pastor, the brief services ended. The remains accompanied by the grief-stricken parents and little sister, Fern, left on the evening train for Vermilion, Kansas, where by the side of a brother, who died some years ago, all that was mortal of Fannie Witham was laid to rest, Tuesday of last week. Her influence in the family and among those who knew her as a friend will never be forgotten and the memory of her sweet smile and cheery words will ever remain to bless all with whom she came in contact and thus she will ever live on "though lost to sight, to memory dear." The sympathy of a large circle of friends is extended to the sorrowing family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Joyce chaperoned a party of young people, who went up to Roswell and were given a dance in honor of Miss Kinnison last Monday afternoon at the Gym building. The appointments of the dance were beautiful and everything passed off pleasantly. The Carlsbad folk were entertained at the cottage of Colonel Wilson, who gave the dance, and returned Monday afternoon. On the way up to Roswell they ran into a fierce rainstorm, rain falling in torrents for about seven miles and to add to their discomfort, they had two tire punctures and a blow-out on the road. The return was made without any of these drawbacks. The young people going from here under Mrs. Joyce's chaperonage, were Miss Grace Kinnison, Miss Nellie Linn and Miss Grace Jones.

A very destructive fire occurred on the farm of C. C. Lewis in the Otis section below town Friday night of last week between 8:30 and 9:00 o'clock. Two large stacks of alfalfa hay that were standing on the farm to be threshed caught fire in some unexplained manner and burned to the ground. The machine had been moved on to the Lewis place that afternoon and preparations were making for threshing the next day, the owners of the thrasher and huller having disconnected their machine and come to town for some repairs. But for their absence the machine might have been saved. As it was, the huller, being between the stacks burned and the other parts of the machine were damaged. The owners estimate their loss at about $1800 their machine being new. Some insurance was carried on the equipment but Mr. Lewis, contrary to his usual practice, had none on his alfalfa and consequently suffered the entire loss.

THE FACT REMAINS

that there's a lot of GUM TROUBLE mighty hard to manage.—It's easier to AVOID this trouble than to CURE it.—There are hundreds of good tooth pastes, powders, etc., but most of them are practically unmedicated, and acting almost altogether upon the TEETH.—That's good as far as it goes, but it doesn't go FAR enough.

not only cleans the teeth, but strengthens the gums, and goes a long way toward preventing the trouble referred to. As agreeable to the taste as it can be made without omitting the necessary medication. Buy a tube and show your dentist the formula, printed on the package. Indigestion

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is for indigestion and stomach trouble of any kind. I have never found anything that touches the spot, like Black-Draught. I take it in broken doses after meals. For a long time I tried pills, which gripped and didn't give the good results. Black-Draught liver medicine is easy to take, easy to keep, inexpensive."

Thedford's

GRAND OFFICERS OF REBEKAH ASSEMBLY FOR THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO.

At the recent session of the State Assembly of Rebekahs, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. Nellie Smith, of Artesia.
Vice President, Mrs. Lillia James of Albuquerque.
Warden, Mrs. Perkins, of Raton.
Secretary, Mary Comstock, of Las Vegas.
Treasurer, Nora McAllister, of Las Vegas.
Chaplain, Mrs. Nora Leek, of Carlsbad.
Conductor, Edith Hurt, of Roswell.

MISS MABEL WILSON.

—Reclamation Record.

It was with deep regret that we just read of the death of Miss Mabel Wilson, of the Carlsbad project. Since the Reclamation Record inaugurated the Women's Department in 1914, Mabel Wilson has been our friend. Her letters, sometimes transmitting an article for publication, and sometimes to express her appreciation for some article or offer a suggestion, have been bright spots in our official life. She was so friendly, so appreciative, so willing to help. The letter telling of her departure said: "On the morning of the 22nd of August, surrounded by relatives and friends, her casket covered with beautiful flowers, we committed her frail body to Mother Earth to await the resurrection morn. Although a lifelong invalid, Mabel was very much interested in everything making for the betterment of her neighborhood and the Carlsbad project. Her last article for the press, written just before her illness, was an appeal for a rest room for the project women when shopping in Carlsbad."

We are sure that thousands of project women who have read her helpful articles will extend their silent sympathy to the family and the community where she wrought so well.

BAND CONCERT SUNDAY AFTER-NOON.

From various causes, the band concerts which have been announced from time to time have had to be called off; a number of the members of the band have been unavoidably absent from town and there have been other hindering causes. However, it looks now as though we were going to have a concert next Sunday as Mr. Tedford, the leader, has furnished the program, and, assures us of that fact. The time has been set to begin at 4 o'clock and will continue one hour and our people should and doubtless will be present in large numbers. The following program will be given:

March, Circus Bee.
Overture, King of Diamonds.
March, Right O Way.
Serenade, Sweet Memories.
Waltz, Gliding.
March, Trepidoso.
Overture, Storm and Sunshine.
Waltz, Lover's Loyalty.
March, A Warrior Bold.

Hallowe'en is in the air and many parties are being planned for the occasion by our young people, and some not so young, for its proper observance. The young folk of the "Comrade" class, of Loving Sunday school are making great preparations for the celebration of the night when witches rule and spooks and ghosts abound. This celebration will be held at the home of Eugene Donaldson, in Loving, next Thursday night. The house will be lavishly decorated in real Hallowe'en style, and a fortune teller will be present along with a lot of other notables, to add interest to the affair. A number of "stunts" will be performed, making the night seem like a sure enough old-time Hallowe'en. A disguised menu will lend additional fun to the evening and a large crowd will probably attend from this city and Loving.

A new concrete sidewalk is being built in front of the Victor hotel which will add much to the looks of things along the street. When complete there only remains a small strip of walk in front of the Current office that has the old time gaving of rough stone.

Miss Jessie Lowry, who is in Cleveland, writes to her parents, Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Lowry, that she had the privilege of seeing the American Legion parade in that city recently, and that in the parade were three members from New Mexico. She also conveys the intelligence that she cheered for that contingent small though it was. Carlsbad people would naturally expect that of Miss Jessie, who is always loyal to the home of her parents.

Morning worship will be held Sunday of the Presbyterian church and the subject of the sermon will be "Saints". Announcement of Communion is made for the Sunday following. A special interest intervenes as a conference to begin Wednesday evening and continue with three sessions Thursday. The appointment is in the interest of the Progressive Program of the church, and speakers from abroad will serve. Attendance is encouraged for people generally.

Paul French, of Albuquerque, is in the city this week. He is employed as agency director for the New York Life Insurance Co. Mr. French came to the Duke City from St. Louis and has charge of the branch office of his company which has recently been established in Albuquerque.

LETTER FROM OLD TIMERS.

Our readers are well acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Lowenbruck, former residents, now living in Big Springs, Texas. A friendly letter, subscribing to the Current, has the following to say about their old home here: "It is surely terrible not to hear from home only when some one happens to be in West Texas, and comes to see us and you may be sure we have them out to dinner and embrace the opportunity to learn all the news. Arthur Breeding is here now and he reminded us that we had lost out on quite a bit of home news, so send us the paper and you may be sure we will renew our subscription when it expires. We send best regards to all and sign ourselves,

AMBROSE LOWENBRUCK, WIFE AND DAUGHTER."
P. S. Daddy Ruth says: "she is surely worth the money."

Mrs. Fred Pharies, nee Vera Boyd, is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Boyd, in this city, coming from Dallas, Texas, where she has been for the past seven months, and married while there. Mr. Pharies expects to arrive in Carlsbad the first of next month and they will take up their residence among us.

Born, last Thursday, at the Cass home on Cass Draw, occurred the birth of a baby daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cass, this being the third child in the family. Best wishes to the baby and her parents.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

Sunday school at 9:45 A. M. Sunbeams at 3 P. M. B. Y. P. U.'s at 6:30 P. M. Rev. J. J. Strickland, our Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. secretary, will speak both at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. The morning message will deal with Sunday school problems and the evening service will be given to B. Y. P. U. work. The study course this week is being well attended and is an enthusiastic class.

Our Sunday school has leaped to first place in the state contest and we must hold it there! Come, be on time, study your lesson, bring your Bible and an offering and stay for church—that's the way to win.

T. C. MAHAN, Pastor.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank through the columns of the Current, all who were kind to us during our recent bereavement in the loss of our father. Their kindly deeds, sympathizing words and beautiful flowers made our sorrow lighter and easier to bear.

Five Minute Chats on Our Presidents

By JAMES MORGAN

(Copyright, 1926, by James Morgan.)
AN IMMIGRANT'S SON

1767—March 15, Andrew Jackson, son born in Union county, N. C.
1781—Taken prisoner by the British.
1791—Married Mrs. Rachel Donelson Robards.
1806—Killed Charles Dickinson in a duel.
1815—January 8, won the Battle of New Orleans.
1817-18—Put down the Seminole Indians in Florida.
1821—Governor of the territory of Florida.

ANDREW JACKSON, the unlabeled backwoodsman, treading at the heels of John Quincy Adams, the most cultured in all the line, presents the sharpest contrast to be seen in the procession of presidents.

The first president born in a log cabin, Jackson could not claim as his own even that lowly dwelling in the North Carolina forest, but entered the world homeless and fatherless. Spring from poor Irish immigrants, his parents had been in the country only two years when the father sank into an unmarked grave a few days before Andrew's birth, leaving his family without a roof or an acre.

No other among American leaders received from the War of Independence such a legacy of bitter memories as it bequeathed to Jackson. That savage struggle between Whig and Tory swept away his brave mother and both of his brothers; scattered his kindred and left him, at fifteen, alone in the world.

A ragged, roving waif of the Revolution, he grew up as wild as a weed. With no hand above him, his high spirits led him into the temptations of his primitive world, whose social standards were 200 years behind the times. Drinking and carousing, gambling, cock fighting and horse racing, young Jackson never took a dare, the rustic sport once staking his horse and his all on a throw of the dice. A bully among rowdies, he went his roving way along a road that is not to be laid down on the map of conduct as a course to the White House.

As he rose from a chore boy and a saddler's apprentice to be a lawyer and a judge of the Supreme court of Tennessee, he cast aside the dissipation of his careless youth, but he never lost the spirit of the clansman or subdued his ungovernable temper.

A bare catalog of his quarrels and fights is too long to be given here. In most of them he was fired with the conviction that he was defending the name of his wife. This had been brought into question only by his own characteristic imprudence, when he fell in love with his landlady's daughter while she was yet married to another, and when he rashly wed her without waiting to verify the mere rumor that her offended husband had obtained a divorce in a neighboring state. After two years of wedded life, the too hasty couple learned that the woman's first marriage had only just been dissolved and they had to make a spectacle of themselves as they went through another ceremony in order to be united in lawful bonds.

Because his own impulsive conduct had exposed his honest, devoted wife to the slanderous tongues of the gossips, Jackson was all the more sensitive to her sufferings. For sneering at her over a bar one man was stood up at 24 paces and shot to death by the avenging husband, who kept his pistols in perfect condition through 37 years, as Barton says, for anyone who dared breathe her name except in honor.

Even at the sober age of forty-six, Jackson plunged into a tavern brawl at Nashville with Thomas H. Benton, afterward the distinguished senator from Missouri, and was shattered for life by two balls and a slug which Benton's brother shot into his back. That was his last personal altercation. In a few weeks he was called from his bed of pain to take part in a public altercation between the United States and Great Britain and, with his arm still in a sling, he rose to do battle for his country.

LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Henry Schmarge, of Belen, is visiting in Carlsbad at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Mudgett, of La Huerta.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Sturgis, of Detroit, Michigan, parents of Mrs. Melvin Bearup, of the Queen country, came in last week, Wednesday, and continued on their journey to the mountains Friday, going up with the mail carrier. Should they like the location and the ranch life, Mr. and Mrs. Sturgis may spend the winter there.

Two neat little residences are being built in the northwest part of town that will add to the looks of that part of the city and will be a decided advantage to their owners, Messrs. Warren and J. P. Thompson, the last named the carpenter, who now lives in La Huerta. The houses are uniform in size and quite pretty.

The Three M Advertising company has planned to open a branch of its business at Roswell the first of the month. Much of their business is in the upper valley and by opening the branch shop they will be nearer to "law," which is an item to be taken into consideration. The new shop will be in charge of the senior member of the firm, Frank Morris.

Paul Bristol, who has been employed by the Public Utilities Co. for over a year, has taken a position with the Loving Gin as night engineer and began his work there Wednesday night of this week.

DEED.

At Sisters' Hospital last Thursday of tuberculosis, J. F. Schrock, of Oak Grove, Louisiana, departed this life. He had only been at the hospital three weeks, and his condition was not thought to be serious until only a short time previous to his death, he having been ill but three months. A wife and six children survive in Oak Grove to which place the body was shipped Friday accompanied by a half brother from there. The deceased was a cousin of Carl Herring and was 37 years of age.

Jimmie Bufac, the 7 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Murrah, of Lakewood, was brought down from there last Friday and taken at once to the Sisters' sanitarium where an operation for a ruptured appendix was performed. The little boy is doing as well as any one could ask and indications are that he will get along all right.

Brother Asa Morton, of the Livingston leader, is ill at Parson's sanitarium in Roswell. Here's hoping that his indisposition may be only temporary and that he may soon be able to attend to his duties again at the Plains metropolis.

Murray Johnston, an old time Carlsbad boy, has been in town for some days but will leave today or tomorrow for his home in El Paso, where he is in the employment of the government as mail clerk.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Aren came in from their ranch Monday of this week and spent several days in the city.

MUSIC RECITAL.

Miss Mary I. Johnston gave the first of her recitals for the fall season at the Wells Benson home Saturday afternoon, October 16th. The little folk look forward to these fortnightly recitals with great delight and are helped greatly in their music by them, they securing a poise and self confidence which might not be had in any other way. The current takes pleasure in giving the program entire. The next recital will be held at the J. F. Joyce home Saturday, the 23rd instant.

The Turkey March, Gertrude Bell, Rockabye, Virginia Yates, Jolly Teddy Bears, Evelyn Moore Kircher.

The Mill in the Forest, Betty Rowan.
Lilacs in Bloom, June Joyce.
Santa Lucia, May Dickson.
Those Endearing Young Charms, Helen Benson.

Sweet Evelyn Waltz, Marjorie Snow and Mildred Hutchinson.
Sweet and Low, Wardie Leck.
(1) Miserere from Il Trovatore.
(2) Sextette from Lucia, Eleanor Powers and Mary Frances Joyce.
Overture, Poet and Peasant, Dorothy Dick and Elizabeth Albritton.
Overture, Zampa, Elizabeth Purdy and Dorothy Dick.

METHODIST CHURCH.

Sunday school at 9:45, preaching at 11:00 A. M.; Rev. J. H. Zimmerman will have charge of the services at this hour. A cordial welcome is extended to all to be present and worship with this congregation.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mrs. B. H. Turner, of Hobbs, was a business visitor to the Beautiful last Saturday from her home town.

Charles and Dorey Hollobeck are in from their ranch home in the Van Horn neighborhood attending to business in town.

Mr. and Mrs. De Lier, of Breckenridge, Texas, have been guests of the Palace for several days, leaving for Ranger this morning. They expect to return after a few days spent there as they have oil interests in this vicinity.

L. P. Morris and son, of Dallas, Texas, are in the city, exploiting a patent churn which many of our people would purchase if they had cows.

A. R. Wilcox, J. Hawkins and Nola Oliver, a trio of Roswell business men, were registered at the Palace a couple of days this week.

Miss Leah Cox, of Panhandle, Texas, was a visitor to the city this week. The lady is a cousin of Mrs. W. C. Bates of Carlsbad.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Owen made a trip to Roswell Monday and returned Tuesday, going to consult with a specialist who is attending Mr. Owen for treatment for his eyes.

Hear J. S. Oliver in his catchy "Drummer's Song," Jayville Junction, Crawford Theatre, Tuesday, October 26th.

A party of deer hunters, some of whom will leave tonight and others who will leave tomorrow, are after the deer in the mountains, the party being composed of C. C. Sikos, Jim Huggins, Tom Calloway and W. A. Craig. They will return Monday.

Mrs. Carl Smith returned to her home the first of the week after a visit to her parents in Kansas. We are glad to note that she has somewhat improved in health. Her husband met her on the return at Roswell and they spent a few days there before coming on home.

"Church Night" will be observed by the Scouts, both Troops, Sunday at 7:30 with Mr. Sellards and his people. The members of the Scout Council and the friends of the boys generally are invited to attend. A special program is being prepared for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lusk are proud of the arrival of their first child, a son, which first saw the light of day at the Frederick private hospital in this city, last Friday. That the boy will have an easy time in life goes without saying when one considers the numerous uncles and aunts to indulge him, to say nothing of his grandparents.

Pleasant affair at the home of Mrs. W. S. Moore last Saturday afternoon, at which that lady and Mrs. Ferns A. Wright were the joint hostesses, was the closing entertainment given in honor of Miss Kinnison, a charming young lady from Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Three tables of ladies played several hands of bridge and the afternoon was pleasantly spent, with appropriate refreshments at its close. Mrs. Joyce made high score and was awarded a hand painted photograph entitled "Cherry Blossom Time". A hand embroidered chafing dish apron was given to Miss Kinnison as a guest prize.

Howard Hamilton, a brother of Mrs. Bert Hamilton, arrived in the city from Pekin, Illinois, Sunday night and remained at the home of his sister in Carlsbad, until Tuesday night when he left for the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hamilton, at Livingston. The young man had not visited his home folk since the war, he having been a member of the construction force during that time.

The "newspaper lady," as the little boys about town are pleased to call the reporter of the Current, is indebted to Mrs. Dock Vest for a bouquet from her garden of most beautiful dahlias which she makes a specialty of growing. There are fourteen varieties in the bunch and many colors and shades. The flowers this year have been unusually beautiful and Mrs. Vest delights in dividing with her friends who are not so fortunate as herself in possessing these beautiful expressions of the Creator's love and care.

Twenty-six ladies of the Methodist congregation were present at Dark Canyon Wells yesterday to attend an old fashion quilting. A sumptuous dinner was spread at the noon hour and the day was profitably as well as pleasantly spent. A feature of the occasion that gave pleasure to all was the presence of Aunt Julia Shattuck, who is an invalid and seldom has the opportunity of getting about and who enjoyed the day more perhaps on that account.

Carlsbad people in attendance at the All Stars baseball game at Roswell Wednesday were as follows: R. M. Thorne and family, J. W. Huggins, Frank Moritz, H. L. Braden, Rev. F. W. Pratt, Ovie Reeves and wife, S. L. Perry and wife, Howard Moore, Mrs. L. E. Ervin and daughter, Miss Mary Lee Newton, Walter Craft, J. W. Ralph, Jim Ferrell, Robert Toffelmire, Edward Purdy, Harry McKim and wife and perhaps others. All enjoyed the game as played by these wonderful base ball players. They seldom exerted themselves much and held the Roswell team at their mercy. The score was 3 to 9 in favor of the big leaguers.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hatfield and daughter, Miss Inez, were in town this week, Tuesday, from their home in the lower valley, near Malaga. Miss Inez is one of the very efficient teachers of the Malaga schools and tells us that an agreement has been reached between the patrons of the school and the school board, whereby they hope to avoid the high percentage of absenteeism which usually results during the cotton picking season. The school opens at 8 o'clock in the mornings, and they have a continued session until 11:30. There is no afternoon session and later, after the season for picking cotton is over, the old hours will be resumed and the regular course of study taken up. The plan has its undoubted benefits; pupils can attend for the morning session who would be unable to come for the entire day and by all being present in the mornings can all be kept together in their studies.

An alarm of fire Monday night at about 6 o'clock quickly brought out the fire department who hurried at once to the scene of the conflagration, which proved to be the barn in the rear of the J. H. Leek home in North Carlsbad, which practically burned to the ground. No theory is advanced to account for the blaze, as there was no one around the barn or house, the young son of the family having just gone to the depot to meet his parents, who had been out of town and were returning at that time. They stepped off the train as the alarm of fire was given. Mr. Leek had over a hundred dollars worth of hay in the building which was a complete loss, and on which no insurance was carried; he, however, carried a small insurance on the barn. His loss is estimated at $250.00.

W. L. Pharris, father of Mrs. R. L. Jones, has been in the city for a week past at the home of his daughter in one of the Dishman cottages in West Carlsbad, coming from Fulton, Kentucky, his home. They find the altitude here a little too high for Mrs. Jones, who is suffering from some lung trouble and they have decided to return to the old home at Fulton for the winter and will probably leave the last of this week. Regret is general at their going as the doctor was building up a good practice and all who met Mrs. Jones have only good words to say of her and the little daughter, Frances. May good attend them wherever they may go.

Many friends will be glad to know that Frank Phelan, news of whose sickness in Roswell has reached Carlsbad, is much better and will be around again soon. Mr. Phelan is one of the buyers for Joyce-Pruit Co. and has many friends up and down the valley.

The Friday Afternoon Club will meet with Mrs. A. J. Crawford at her home on North Hefaueno St. this afternoon. Mrs. W. G. McArthur of Crystal Falls, Texas, is visiting in the city and will be a guest of the club.

The music at the morning service at the local Methodist church last Sunday morning was aided greatly by Elbert Tedford with his cornet. Elbert is a musician in the best sense of the word and his assistance is much appreciated and enjoyed by worshippers at that church.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude R. Brown left Tuesday for El Paso where they will make a visit and may decide to remain permanently. Both have many friends here who will regret to lose them from our midst.

R. C. DeLette returned Tuesday night from a trip to Breckenridge, Texas, where he went to look into the oil business, he being a tool dresser. He found a rather unsatisfactory condition of things and has announced his intention of remaining in this vicinity for awhile at least.

A marriage license was issued late Saturday afternoon to Samuel Sroeton Haynes, of Carlsbad, and Miss Tina Mae Cave, of Elkins. Roswell News.

W. A. Moore, who was taken to Eddy county hospital Wednesday of last week for an operation, is getting on nicely and will soon be able to be about again.

Milo Clark, the electrician in the employ of the Public Utilities Co., left Wednesday night on a business visit to Topeka, Kansas.

John Livingston and John Livingston, Jr., of Hamilton, Texas, are in town, arriving Wednesday night for a visit at the home of Mrs. Morgan Livingston, John Livingston, Senior, being a brother of the late Morgan Livingston.

J. E. Wallace, F. E. Little, J. B. Morris and W. H. Weaver left Sunday for the mountains west of town on a deer hunt, going early to avoid the rush, the season opening Wednesday.

NOTICE.
The public is hereby notified that no hunting of any kind will be permitted on my ranch. All trespassers will be prosecuted.

Thursday Night, 7 P. M.

Come out and hear the real issues of the day discussed.

J. B. Leek and wife returned from a visit to Gallup, this state, getting home Monday night. Mrs. Leek attended the Rebekah Assembly in session at that time as a delegate from Carlsbad Rebekah Lodge No. 13, while Mr. Leek was a member of the Finance committee of the Odd Fellows and was in attendance as a member of that body. They report a splendid time and Mrs. Leek was elected as Grand Chaplain of the order. The sessions of the lodge were concluded on Thursday and Mr. and Mrs. Leek came around via El Paso, and visited with their old Carlsbad friends, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hayes, who are now residents of the Pass City and doing fine in every way.

Relief for the suffering inhabitants of Poland has been agitated in this city and was inaugurated by the Woman's Missionary Society on Thursday and the Sunday school of the Methodist church last Sunday. Mrs. C. H. Dishman, president of the women's missionary society, read an appeal from headquarters of the society and stated that a similar appeal was issued to every church in Southern Methodism. The ladies of that denomination have been busy this week soliciting used and new clothing, shoes, and other used garments, together with a variety of household necessities which will be shipped the latter part of this week. The package, whether box or barrel, will be sent direct from Carlsbad to Newport News, Virginia, and from there will go at once to its destination. Those who give quickly, give twice, is especially true in this case, as the need of relief in unhappy Poland is understood by all who are in any way familiar with conditions in that country, where children are even now freezing to death for want of the very articles of clothing that American people have stored away.

Miss Grace Kinnison, who has been a house guest at the home of her cousins, Mrs. Joyce and Mrs. W. S. Moore, left for her home at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, Tuesday night. The young lady was the object of much social attention while here, the friends of Mesdames Joyce and Moore vying with each other in doing her honor and she will have very pleasant recollections of her visit to Carlsbad.

The Whist Club was beautifully entertained at the home of Mrs. Halley last Friday and enjoyed their favorite game during the afternoon. Besides the regular club members, four ladies were invited as guests: Mesdames Joyce, Moore and Dusen, and Miss Kinnison. In the games Mrs. Glasier made high score and received a cut glass water bottle and tray and a guest prize was given Miss Kinnison. The ladies enjoyed dainty refreshments at the close of the afternoon.

Mrs. Dwight Stephenson and son, Dwight Junior, came in Monday from Big Springs, Texas, where they are now living and will be here until Monday, next, when her leave of absence expires. Mrs. Stephenson likes her new home very much. Mr. Stephenson having a fine position with the Texas & Pacific railroad and they being very comfortably situated.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED: That pursuant to Chapter 172, Laws of 1915, the following act is hereby submitted to the qualified voters at the General Election to be held November 2, 1920:

STATE HIGHWAY BOND PROPOSALS.

CHAPTER 172.
AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS BY THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO IN THE SUM OF TWO MILLION DOLLARS TO PROVIDE FUNDS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION AND IMPROVEMENT OF STATE HIGHWAYS, PROVIDING A TAX LEVY FOR THE PAYMENT OF INTEREST AND PRINCIPAL OF SAID BONDS AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES.

Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 86, (as amended): Approved March 17, 1919.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of New Mexico:

Section 1.—For the purpose of providing funds for the construction and improvement of State Highways and for meeting all other purposes of the State under the Act of Congress known as the "Federal Road Aid Act", an indebtedness of the State of New Mexico is hereby authorized in the sum of two million dollars.

Section 2.—Immediately after the issuing of the proclamation of the Governor as provided in Section 10 of this act, the State Treasurer shall prepare negotiable coupon bonds of the State of New Mexico in the denomination of one thousand dollars each, or such smaller denominations not less than one hundred dollars each as the Governor shall determine, and to be dated January 1st 1921: said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, on the first day of July and the first day of January each year, and both principal and interest shall be payable in gold coin or its equivalent in lawful money of the United States at the office of the State Treasurer in the City of Santa Fe, New Mexico, or at some bank in the City of New York, State of New York, or such other place as may be designated in said bonds and in the coupons attached thereto, at the option of the holder. The principal of said bonds shall be payable to bearer thirty years after their date; and it shall be provided in said bonds that they may be redeemed at the option of the state at any time after ten years from their date; said bonds shall be signed by the Governor, attested by the Secretary of State, under the seal of the state, and countersigned by the State Treasurer, and shall be registered by the State Auditor in a book to be kept by him for that purpose in which shall be entered the date, number and amount of each bond sold and the amount for which the same shall have been sold. The full faith and credit of the State of New Mexico is hereby pledged for the prompt payment at maturity of the principal and interest of all the said bonds which may be issued and sold as provided in this act.

It shall be provided in each bond so issued that if it shall be called for redemption before maturity notice thereof in writing shall be given by the State Treasurer to the bank designated in the bonds as the alternative place for payment, at least thirty days before the date fixed for redemption, and in addition thereto notice thereof shall be published by the State Treasurer in a newspaper published in Santa Fe, New Mexico, and also in a newspaper published in the City of New York, State of New York, once each week for four successive weeks next prior to the date fixed for redemption and if any bond so called for redemption be not then presented for payment, it shall cease to bear interest from and after the date so fixed for redemption.

Section 3.—Interest coupons payable to bearer shall be attached to each of said bonds and shall be consecutively numbered specifying the number of the bond to which they are attached and shall bear the lithographed or engraved fac-simile of the signature of the State Treasurer in office at the time when such bonds are prepared and printed, and such coupons shall be valid obligations of the state notwithstanding that the person whose signature appears thereon may have ceased to be such State Treasurer when such bonds are issued and sold; and said bonds signed, countersigned and attested as in this act provided shall, when duly issued and sold be valid obligations of the State although the issue and sale thereof be made after the persons so signing, countersigning and attesting the same shall have ceased to be the incumbents of their respective offices. The bonds authorized by this act shall be sold by the State Treasurer at such time and in such amounts as the Governor shall direct to the highest bidder for cash. The Governor shall issue such directions to the State Treasurer upon being requested so to do by resolutions of the State Highway Commission specifying the amount of money which in the judgment of said Commission shall be required from time to time for the purposes for which such indebtedness is authorized. Before offering any of these bonds for sale the State Treasurer shall detach therefrom interest coupons which may have matured or will mature before the date fixed for such sale. He shall date fixed for such sale, and he shall publish a notice of the time and place of sale in one newspaper published in Santa Fe, New Mexico, published in Santa Fe, New Mexico, published in Albuquerque, New Mexico, and in one newspaper published in each of the cities of New York, State of New York, and Chicago, State of Illinois, once each week for four successive weeks prior to the date fixed for such sale; such date being not less than thirty days after the first advertisement in each of said newspapers; such notice shall specify the amount, denomination, maturity and description of the bonds to be sold and the place, day and hour at which sealed bids will be received for the purchase of said bonds. At the place and time named in said notice the said State Treasurer and the Governor, or in his absence the president or a member of the State Highway Commission shall open all bids in public and shall award the bonds, or any part thereof, to the bidder or bidders offering the highest price therefor. They may reject any and all bids and may refuse to make any award unless satisfactory security shall be furnished by a bidder for compliance with the terms of the bid. Said bonds shall be sold in consecutive numerical order and no bid shall be accepted which is less than the par value of such bonds plus the interest which shall have accrued thereon between the date last preceding interest maturity date and the date of the sale. The proceeds placed to the credit of the State of the sale of such bonds shall be placed to the credit of the State Road Fund, except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest on such bonds which shall be credited to a special interest fund for payment of interest on such bonds. The moneys placed in the State Road Fund from the proceeds of such bonds shall be used exclusively for the purposes for which the said indebtedness is authorized. The expenses incurred by the Treasurer in the preparation of the said bonds and in advertising the sale thereof shall be paid out of funds available in the State Road Fund. The proceeds realized from the sale of said bonds shall be paid out by the State Treasurer under the authority and direction of the State Highway Commission of the State of New Mexico, and the State Highway Commission is hereby authorized and directed to expend the said proceeds from the sale of said bonds in the different counties of the State of New Mexico in the construction of roads in said counties, the amounts to be expended in the respective counties in the State to be in proportion to the amount of assessed valuation in each of said counties of all the property therein, according to the tax rolls of the respective counties, and the amount so to be expended in each of said counties shall be determined by the said State Highway Commission from the tax rolls of said counties for the year 1920 as they shall be on file in the office of the State Tax Commission of the State of New Mexico for said year.

Section 4.—To provide for the payment of the interest and principal of any bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this act there shall be and there is hereby imposed and levied during each year in which the said bonds shall be outstanding an annual ad valorem tax on all property in the State of New Mexico subject to taxation for state purposes sufficient to produce a sum equal to one year's interest on all the said bonds then outstanding. In each year after said bonds shall have run for five years, there shall be and there is hereby imposed and levied on all property in the State of New Mexico subject to taxation for state purposes, an annual ad valorem tax sufficient to pay the principal of said bonds at maturity. The taxes hereby authorized, imposed and levied shall be levied, assessed and collected in the same manner as other taxes for state purposes, and it shall be the duty of the State Auditor and of all assessors and local taxing authorities to cause said taxes to be levied, assessed and collected in the same manner and at the same times as other taxes for state purposes are levied, assessed and collected.

Section 5.—The State Treasurer shall keep separate accounts of all moneys collected under the taxes hereby levied and imposed for the payment of the interest and sinking fund of said bonds respectively and shall from time to time invest the moneys in said sinking funds in any bonds or other securities issued by the State of New Mexico, or in any bonds or securities of any county in said state, or in any bonds of any city or school district therein at their market value; Provided, such bonds or securities are payable from a tax upon all taxable property in such county, city or school districts and that all such bonds or securities so purchased shall mature before the maturity of the bonds for which said sinking fund is created.

Section 6.—Any holder of any of the bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this act and any person or officer being a party in interest may either at law or in equity, by suit, action or mandamus enforce and compel the performance of the duties required by this act of any of the officers or persons herein mentioned.

Section 7.—All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be exempt from taxation.

Section 8.—The provisions of this act shall constitute an irrevocable contract with the holders of any bonds and the coupons thereof issued pursuant to the provisions of this act for the full performance of which by the state and its officers and taxing authorities the full faith and credit of the State of New Mexico is hereby pledged.

This act shall without reference to any other act of the Legislature of the State of New Mexico be full authority for the issuance and sale of the bonds hereby authorized, which bonds and the coupons thereto attached, shall have all the qualities of negotiable paper under the law of merchant and shall not be invalid for any irregularity or defect in the proceedings for the issue and sale thereof and shall be incontestable in the hands of bona fide purchasers or holders thereof for value.

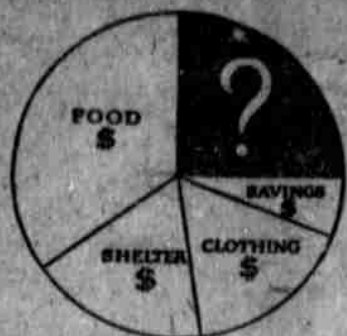

Section 9.—This act shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the state at the general election to be held in the month of November in the year 1920, and it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the State to cause this act to be published in full in at least one newspaper in each county of the state, if one be published therein once each week for four successive weeks next preceding such election. All ballots used at said election shall have printed thereon the words "For State Highway Bond Act", and in a separate line under the same words, "Against State Highway Bond Act." Opposite each of said lines there shall be a square in which the voter may mark a cross to indicate whether he votes for or against the said bond act, and those voting for said act shall do so by placing a cross in the square opposite the words "For State Highway Bond Act," and those voting against the same shall do so by placing a cross in the square opposite the words, "Against State Highway Bond Act."

Section 10.—The votes cast for and against said bond act shall be counted, returned, canvassed and the result declared and certified in the same manner as votes cast for state officers and if it appears that this act shall have received a majority of all the votes cast thereon at such election, the Governor shall make proclamation thereof and thereupon this act shall immediately take effect and shall be irrevocable until the principal and interest of all bonds issued and sold hereunder shall be paid and satisfied. But if a majority of the votes cast thereon at such election shall be against this act, the same shall not take effect. The cost of publication of the notice hereby provided for shall be paid out of funds available in the State Road Fund.

Section 11.—That it is necessary for the preservation of the public peace and safety of the inhabitants of the State of New Mexico that the provisions of this act shall become effective at the earliest time, and therefore an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage and approval.

EXIT SWEET SIXTEEN, ENTER 21 AS THE AGE OF HER HEART'S DESIRE.

Not the sweet sixteen, but the young woman of twenty-one summers is the envied one, nowadays.

Spinsters or others with whom age is a thing to be forgotten need have no fear of being humiliated in registering for the vote. It may be necessary for those who have preserved their ages well to bring proof that they are 21, but those with whom there can be no doubt need fear no unkind revelation or exposure. The question of a sound mind will also have to be settled—with affidavits if the registration board is in doubt.

The thing, patently is, of course, for everyone who is not reasonably sure on both points to bring affidavits with them.

Fortunately or otherwise the state laws provide that only male voters shall hold office and serve on juries. One's character is never so badly lacerated or torn to shreds as when he becomes a candidate. One's character and judgment is never so highly or flatteringly estimated as by the lawyers who address one collectively on the jury. The existing statutes save women from both.

Registration will begin thirty days before election and will continue for twenty days, when the books will be withdrawn for counting and putting the names in alphabetical order. Women are asked to register under the name which they intend to vote. If one registers as Mrs. John Smith one cannot vote as Mabel Jones-Smith.

Addresses must be given with the name. Residence of one year in the state, six months in the county, thirty days in the precinct is required prior to the day of election.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES SPEAK IN COURT ROOM

On Tuesday at 8 o'clock of last week, there gathered in the district court room in this city a small but intensely interested crowd of citizens of Eddy county a large part of which were dyed-in-the-wool democrats, who were desirous of listening to state and national issues in the present political campaign discussed.

W. F. Melvain, chairman of the republican party of Eddy county, was in charge of the meeting and the speakers of the evening were introduced by Major E. P. Bujac who eloquently lauded their virtues and abilities to the skies. The first speaker was Mr. Blevins, who was the most fluent orator of the trio who entertained their audience. He declared that the democrats had squarely thrown down the gauntlet in this campaign and put the question squarely up to the people as to whether they want a league of nations or not, and it is up to the republicans to answer them. He stated that the whole proposition of a league evolves itself around article ten. That the majority of the votes in the league were controlled by Great Britain and that the league was a contract to go to war when the majority of the nations who are members of the league say to go. He stated that the democrats say only congress has the power to declare war, but it is like making a contract and then breaking it. After the United States has joined the league congress would feel under obligations to keep a contract solemnly entered by the people of the United States. For this reason he declared the soldiers would vote the republican ticket. He further declared that the league of nations was not founded upon justice because it takes thirty millions of people and gives them to the rule of an imperialistic government.

Mr. Blevins scored President Wilson very heavily although he is not a candidate for any office at the coming election and only mentioned the name of Cox a few times during the address. He declared that the President went to Paris to make peace expressly against the wish of the American people, that he scrapped Secretary of State Lansing because his mind would not run parallel with that of the president's and that Wilson was a giant idealist whose head was so far above the clouds it was impossible for him to realize it was raining below. He stated that Gov. Cox had entered into a contract with the president which would insure, if he were elected, a queer personal autocratic government for the American people. The speaker stated that the people of this state are told that they should not pay any attention to the national campaign and asked if the people here should not be just as interested in national politics as those of any other state, declaring that if we are not part of the Union, why live in the United States at all.

Mr. Blevins expressed confidence that the good women of the country would not let their sons and husbands fight for foreign countries but only for the stars and stripes which we all love so dearly. He said the highest ideals would be found in Senator Harding and that President Wilson had endeavored during his administration to make laws, to execute them and to force them upon the American people.

He said the republican party in New Mexico had no race prejudice or distinction, but considered all men equal and seeks to make them understand the laws and issues so they may go to the polls and vote intelligently. A great future is before the state, according to the speaker, and people from other states are welcomed when they wish to make their home here but men and certain interests should not be allowed to come into the state and dictate their own ideals for the accomplishment of selfish purposes, referring to Editor Magee, of the Albuquerque Journal, who bought that paper less than a year ago and has been fighting the bosses of the republican party in this state. Mr. Blevins said that journalism was supposed to reflect public opinion and not mould it, and he wished to see clean journalism in this state which would work for the good of the people and not for selfish, personal ends.

The republican candidates were declared to be men of character as well as ability—with character enough to stand up and fight for their country when the need arose. Judge Hanna, candidate for governor on the democratic ticket was highly complimented by the speaker but he said Hanna did not stand for the best interests of the state. It was cited that Judge Meehem, republican candidate for governor, knows New Mexico and loves her people; he is sympathetic and will work for the interests of every man, woman and child in the state if elected governor.

Full victory for the party could be seen written on the republican faces in the audience, according to Mr. Bowman, and the national majority would be the largest since the election of Lincoln. He advised all loyal supporters of his politics to work hard for victory. This ended the remarks of the first speaker of the evening which was conspicuous by the absence of any kind of applause from the audience.

In introducing Capt. Edward L. Safford, Major Bujac made a touching appeal to the audience to remember the promises they made to the older boys when they left to take up the task of making the world safe for democracy. At which time the people seemed willing to promise them anything should they return and ask it. He touchingly reminded his audience what the boys had done for their country and said that one of them was now back and asking to be elected to the office of state auditor; the people could do no less than pay the debt of gratitude and grant his request. Capt. Safford was in the Major's battalion in the old New Mexico regiment. Was captain of E company and took command of old B company before it was split up to go into the war in France. Then the Major presented Capt. Safford to the audience, who made a short speech in which he scored President Wilson for going into the world war, saying he was elected through the efforts of the women who thought he would keep us out of war, but he did not keep his promise. He said the soldiers found the people of Europe war weary and ready to quit fighting but that the U. S. soldiers put new hope into them and with their indomitable fighting spirit soon whipped the Germans. Then President Wilson went over to see how the boys were getting along. He framed up 14 points which he thought should be included in the league of nations and peace treaty. The representatives of foreign governments handed the president a document which he accepted and promised that the American people would also. This was presented to the senate and turned down by it. Article ten was declared to be a contract binding on us and said the little nations of Europe were in favor of a league for their own selfish purposes and for the protection of their territory.

Capt. Safford referred to the high cost of living and reminded his hearers that the war cost 20 billion of dollars and asked if the soldiers got that amount for their services. The soldiers were told to buy liberty bonds with their money as they could get it all back with interest, but that promise had not been kept. He said the soldiers had not been fairly treated; that out of the war they had learned to love their country and to know what old glory stands for. He said the women now held the balance of power in their hands, and as they were conservative, not candidates for offices or out for money he believed they would vote right at the coming election.

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of New Mexico, Frank W. Parker, who is a candidate for reelection to that office, was next introduced, and stated that he was here some twenty years ago to hold two terms of court and saw quite a few old friends made at that time in the audience. The judge then stated that it was not within the bounds of propriety for a judicial officer to enter into a discussion of the issues of a political campaign. The American people were carefully and prayerfully considering the League of Nations in his opinion, and it was the greatest question ever brought for their disposal since the civil war. What the league will lead to is a matter of controversy all over the land and if it would lead to war he was certain the people would be against it. The judge declined to state which way the question should be decided although it is not hard to guess which way he will vote. He then made a strong bid for the vote of live stock men by saying the reason why hides and wool were so little in demand and selling at such a low price was because the accumulations of the last four years had been dumped onto the American market from foreign countries and sold for what price they would bring. As a remedy for this he advocated a tariff so high it would be impossible for this foreign product to come into competition with that produced at home. The judge concluded by saying that propriety would not permit him to go out and ask for votes, that he was coming here on business and fell in with a bunch of republicans, but that if any of the democrats wished to give him their vote, far be it from him to refuse such an offer.

After Chairman Melvain announced there would be speaking here on the 20th of October by Judge Meehem, republican candidate for governor, the meeting adjourned.

Van E. Curtis, a printer from Rising Star, Texas, is in the city, coming last Friday night. He has already accepted a position and will make arrangements to move his family immediately.

LOCAL NEWS

Numbers of Carlsbad citizens observed the cyclonic formation last Sunday afternoon at about 4 o'clock. The cloud was plainly visible in the northeast and from what we can learn, approached its greatest velocity on the Turkey Track ranch where it is said to have uprooted large trees and torn, but no one was injured so far as is now known. The cloud was a funnel shaped one and could be plainly seen as it rose and fell. This is the first of the kind ever seen in this part of the state.

W. M. Carson, for over thirty years a resident of the valley and living at Hope, was down from there yesterday with a load of fruit and took occasion to renew his subscription to the Current which he has taken for a number of years. Mr. Carson says he has very little fruit, the first time in many years when this condition has existed, a late spring freeze killing his prunes and pears and many of his apples.

We learn with grief of the death of Warren Alewine, the 5 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Alewine, (the former deceased) which occurred recently at El Paso, where he was going to school. No particulars were given beyond the statement that the body was shipped to Clovis for interment. Little Warren was born in Carlsbad and many friends here will regret to learn of his early death and will sympathize with the mother and other relatives.

Visitors to the Manse, coming in last Friday and remaining until last night, were John King, his daughter Mrs. John Glen and her son, Frank, all of Beaumont, Texas. The gentleman is an uncle of Mrs. Lowry, whom she had not seen for many years. He is in his 84th year and is as hale and hearty a man as one can find anywhere for his years and keeps up with all public affairs. The party had never visited the valley before and were much pleased with the evident prosperity on every hand.

A telegram received here Wednesday by Miss Georgia Wallace, announces the marriage of George O'Connor to Miss Lu B. Hughes, which occurred at Van Horn, Texas, the same day. Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor went on to El Paso after the ceremony was performed and will remain there until after the first of November when they will return to this city and take up their residence in the Arthur House bungalow on Halaguero street. Both parties have a host of friends here to wish them happiness and prosperity in their life together.

William Biddle, the cotton farmer from the Otis section, returned from El Paso Monday night, where he had gone on a hunt for Mexican help to pick his cotton and was successful in securing thirty persons who returned with him. A number went to work the day after their arrival and the others as soon as arrangements could be made looking toward their housing. Mr. Biddle has about 200 acres of cotton.

Tuesday night the hay barn on the C. D. Rickman place west of Otis caught fire and was completely destroyed. The barn was full of hay and the owner had very little if any insurance. No cause for the fire has been advanced.

Dave Clements is in town this week from Upper Black river, where they recently moved in order that the children might have the benefit of school. Mrs. Clements has just returned from a visit to her people at Fort Worth.

Justus Gerlach returned the latter part of last week from a short trip and stay at various points in Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Noel, parents of Dallas Noel, and Mrs. F. F. Depp came in Wednesday from Arizona, called here by the serious and continued illness of their son, whose condition continues very grave.

The little three-months-old baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Morfeld was taken to Sister's Hospital this week that he might receive special care, he suffering from some form of intestinal trouble and being a very sick child at this time.

A party of hunters left here Sunday morning for the Guadalupe where they intend to spend ten days, returning in time to vote. Messrs. Marquess and wife, Depp and wife and Chaplans and wife composed the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Glover and daughter, Mary, came in from their ranch yesterday noon and will remain in the city for a short time. Granville Widner, or Coolidge, Texas, came in from there Wednesday evening and will make a short visit with friends in the city. Mr. Widner made the trip overland.

Mr. and Mrs. Allison Russ are at the Crawford hotel and will remain in the city until after tonight in order to attend the dance given by Mrs. Joyce.
