LAY DOWN RULES FOR OPERATION OF SUBMARINES

Root's Resolution to Protect Merchant Craft Is Accepted in Principle by the Naval Committee.

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Dec. 29 (by the Associated Press).—A resolution by Elihu Root, reaffirming existing rules of naval warfare for surface craft and strict application of this code to submarines operating against merchant craft was accepted in principle today by the naval committee of the arms conference.

Mr. Root's second proposal that a new rule of international law be initiated outlawing entirely submarine operations against merchantmen was still under discussion when the committee adjourned for the day. It had been urged in addresses by each member of the American delegation and approved formally by the British group by Arthur J. Balfour. The other delegations still are to be heard on this subject.

Rules of Visit and Search.
In the form in which the first proposal was approved in principle and sent to a sub-committee for final drafting, the Root proposal sets out new rules of visit and search belligerent craft observe in dealing with commercial vessels and couples with this the declaration that submarines must be governed by these rules. At the suggestion of Mr. Balfour the original preamble was amended in arrangement to read as follows:

"The signatory powers desiring to make effective the rules adopted by civilized nations for the protection of the lives of neutrals and non-combatants at sea in time of war, in view of the adherence of all other civilized powers to the following statement of established law, to the end that there may be a clear public understanding throughout the world of the standards of conduct by which the public opinion of the world is to pass judgment upon future belligerents."

Committed.
In committing the resolution to a sub-committee headed by Mr. Root for final drafting, Secretary Hughes said he hoped it would "not be overruled" by lawyers' niceties when it re-emerged. No one, he said, could write anything which lawyers could not improve, but when it came to "the expression of vague fears, to which lawyers so like to give expression," he added, he hoped "that such verbal criticisms would receive scant attention."

It would have seemed "extraordinary indeed," Mr. Hughes declared, if the conference had not voiced "a most emphatic condemnation" of the "abhorrent practices" in submarine warfare indulged in during the recent war. But such a declaration as was planned, he added, was timely and necessary also because the conference had failed to reach an agreement either to ban submarines entirely or to limit each nation's tonnage in these craft.

Law Should Be Observed.
"Such a declaration as the one proposed in the first (Root) resolution," he added, "will go to the whole world as an indication that, while the committee could not agree on such limitation, there was no disagreement on the question that submarines should never be used contrary to the principles of the law governing war. The adoption of the resolution might, furthermore, avoid misunderstanding on the part of those who were looking to the conference with great hope."

Mr. Hughes also declared the resolution was of value because the signatory powers must remember,

WORLD'S LARGEST PASSENGER SHIP SOON TO ENTER ATLANTIC SERVICE

An airplane view of the Majestic lying at the dock in New York.

The former great German steamship Bismarck, the largest passenger ship afloat, is soon to enter the White Star Line's transatlantic service as the Majestic. The old Bismarck was nearly completed when it was destroyed by fire and had to be rebuilt. It was then turned over to the British government as part of Germany's payment to the allies.

should a difference arise between any of them, "that the weapons which they possessed were not as in the past to be used without reference to the laws of God and man."

This would "greatly detract from the value of a submarine fleet," he added, as when nations counted their weapons, they counted the use to be made of them as well as their number.

Declaration of France.
M. Sarraut, for the French group, made a formal declaration of the acceptance of France of the principles of the first Root resolution. France, he said, was anxious to go farther than the mere adoption of the resolution and bring into effect agreement as to limitation of submarine warfare to established rules of naval warfare through a "definite text" which would combine all the assents of the powers represented in the committee.

The French delegate deprecated what he said was an apprehension expressed by Mr. Balfour that certain countries might, "in spite of everything, yield to the temptation to misuse the weapons remaining in their hands." For his own part, he added, he believed that "these peoples will reflect deeply before violating such obligations," and that if the committee had any doubt of this, "debate would not be worth while, and the committee would have but to leave this table."

"One must not deduce from abuses by Germany," M. Sarraut said, "the idea that inevitably others would commit the same abuses."

Second Resolution.
With the first Root proposal on its way toward adoption, Secretary Hughes laid before the committee the second resolution as follows:

"The signatory powers recognize the practical impossibility of using submarines as commerce destroyers without violation of the requirements universally accepted by civilized nations for the protection of the lives of neutrals and non-combatants, and to the end that the prohibition of such use shall be universally accepted as a part of the law of nations, they declare their assent to such prohibition and agree to establish a law of nations, but that 'created nothing, merely existing,' while the second called for an act by the nations which did not take effect until assent had been received."

Mr. Balfour suggested at this point that the five powers present should agree among themselves to outlaw submarine warfare against merchant vessels existing before world assent to such proposal was received. Mr. Root accepted this suggestion and Mr. Balfour then proposed to amend the last portion of the prohibitive declaration so as to read:

"They declare their assent to such prohibition and they agree to be bound forthwith thereby as between themselves, and they invite all other nations to adhere to the present agreement."

The discussion for the day ended at this point, those associated with Mr. Root in the sub-committee to draft the first declaration already accepted in principle, being the following: Great Britain, Sir Auckland Geddes; France, Vice Admiral de Bon and Mr. Kummerow; Italy, Admiral Ricci; Japan, Mr. Hanabara.

1922 WILL INCLUDE CENTENARY ANNIVERSARIES OF THE BIRTH OF MANY FAMOUS MEN, WOMEN

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
New York, Dec. 29.—The year about to begin will include the centenary anniversaries of the birth of a large number of men and women who added lustre to the reputation of their respective countries and won distinction for themselves by their achievements in various lines of high endeavor.

The year should have a special interest for the students of American history, marking, as it does, the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of two presidents of the United States—Ulysses S. Grant and Rutherford B. Hayes, both of whom had distinguished themselves as commanders in the civil war before being called to the presidency.

Foremost in the list of American writers born in the year 1822 is that many-sided man and truly picturesque figure, Edward Everett Hale. And there was that rugged and original figure, Donald Grant Mitchell (Ik Marvel), philosopher as well as writer, whose "Reveries of a Bachelor" endeared him to the readers of two continents. Another whose memory is held dear by old and young is William T. Adams, the prolific writer of wholesome books for young and old under the pen name of "Oliver Optic." Thomas Buchanan Read and Richard Malcolm Johnston were other American literary celebrities who first saw the light in the year 1822.

Other names on the bead roll of famous Americans born a century ago include those of two noted soldiers, Generals John Pope and Fritz John Porter. Another, the name of a distinguished diplomat, Henry Hartly Field, the clergyman member of the famous New England family, the Gallaudets, who, like his father before him, devoted his life to the education of deaf mutes.

The funeral will be conducted by the grand commander of the Knights Templar of Arizona, of which Professor Philbrook was a past grand commander. He was also past high priest of the Royal Arch Chapter, and past high priest of the Blue Lodge and a member of the Shrine.

Burial will be at Atascadero, Cal., where Professor Philbrook had planned to reside at the conclusion of the present school year, when he would have retired.

CROWDS SEIZE UPON EVERY OPPORTUNITY TO SEE THE PRINCE

(By The Associated Press.)
London, Dec. 29.—A dispatch to the London Times from Calcutta, reviewing the stay of the prince of Wales in that city, says there has been an almost total absence of disorder, and that since the peacefulness of the first day of the prince's visit "save the lie to stories of impending massacres," and the people found it safe to go into the street, great crowds have seized upon every opportunity to see the prince and to share in the festivities.

3,500 ARRESTS MADE IN CALCUTTA DURING THE PAST SIX WEEKS

London, Dec. 29.—It was officially stated today that the importation of disorderly elements into Calcutta for the purpose of enforcing the "hartal" by terrorizing shopkeepers, resulted in 650 arrests for obstruction and other charges of disorderly conduct. Arrests in Calcutta for similar reasons the past six weeks have totaled 3,500 according to the statement.

It was also stated that there were no signs of the "hartal" on the part of the city and on subsequent days of the prince of Wales' visit the crowds were both enormous and enthusiastic, denoting the failure of the great non-co-operationists' efforts to halt festivities. It was added that as a result of this failure Mahatma Gandhi and his followers had been greatly discredited.

SUGGEST MEDIATION BY HUGHES, BALFOUR OF SHANTUNG QUARREL

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Dec. 29 (by the Associated Press).—Mediation by Secretary Hughes and Arthur J. Balfour was suggested today as the only feasible way of settling the Shantung question which has entered the stage of deadlock through the intransigence of Japanese representatives that Japan has gone as far as she can in the way of concessions.

The direct conversations between the Chinese and Japanese delegates were broken off because of efforts to agree on the manner of restoration of the Shantung railway had proved futile. Apparently neither party sees its way clear to ask for a resumption of the suspended conversations while both are putting forth the strength of public opinion in their homelands as legitimate justification for the impossibility of further compromise.

Smaller Area Was Sown By Half a Million Acres; Condition of Crop Dec. 1 Below That of Last Year

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Dec. 29.—Winter wheat was sown this fall on a small area by half a million acres than a year ago, the department of agriculture report today showed. The condition of the crop on December 1 also was considerably below what it was a year ago and below the ten-year average condition by 13 points.

The area sown to wheat is one-fifth larger this year than a year ago and the condition of the crop better than on December 1 last year and also better than the ten-year average.

Kansas, largest grower of wheat, with one-fourth the country's total area, has 100,000 acres less than a year ago, while the condition of the crop in that state is only 54 per cent of normal, compared with a condition of 83 per cent a year ago.

The area sown to winter wheat this fall is 44,293,000 acres, which is 1.2 per cent less than the revised estimated area sown in the fall of 1920, which was 44,847,000 acres, the department of agriculture announced. The condition of winter wheat on December 1 was 76 per cent of a normal, compared with 87.9 a year ago and 89.2 the ten-year average.

The area sown to rye is 5,184,000 acres, which is 22.4 per cent more than the revised estimate of area sown in the fall of 1920, which was 4,228,000 acres. The condition of rye on December 1 was 92.2 per cent of a normal compared with 90.5 a year ago, 89.8 two years ago and 90.8 the ten-year average.

HE'S A GOOD MAN TO HAVE AROUND. THAT'S WHY BROWNS BOUGHT SHORTEN

Chick Shorten.

While talk of bigger deals was flying around the meetings of the big league owners in New York the Browns purchased Chick Shorten from the Tigers at the waiver price. Shorten doesn't rank among the most brilliant outfielders and he is weak in fielding ground balls. But he is a good pinch hitter and is a valuable asset to any club because of his agreeable personality and his winning spirit. Shorten failed to get the opportunity he expected at Detroit, but gave the club the best he had. Cobb's wealth of outfielders caused him to let Shorten go.

MONEY MANIA'S PURSUIT OF FORTUNE BASED ON A THRILLING ROMANCE

With a cast of American principals, including Henry G. Sell, Robert Elliott and Lucy Fox, Leonore Perret, the producer and director, sailed from New York on board the France, and produced "The Money Maniac" in France, England and Spain.

In England he staged some scenes on the River Thames of the famous houseboat colony. In Spain he chose a quaint and picturesque village in the Pyrenees mountains, close to the French border. In his studio in Paris he staged the interior scenes.

Adapted by Mr. Perret from a story by Louis Letang called "Rolando, la Divina," "The Money Maniac," as shown today and tomorrow at the "B" theater, unfolds two romances while it tells a story of intrigue and adventure, thrill-packed with sensational surprises.

The leading figure in the story is a man whose greed for money has warped his soul. When an oil gusher is struck on a tract of land in Texas jointly owned by five people, he is not satisfied with his fifth share but seeks to secure the entire rights.

But the plotter becomes the victim of his own trap and is foiled in a thrilling and sensational climax that brings the story to a finish that is satisfactory to all concerned.

In addition to Robert Elliott, Henry G. Sell and Lucy Fox, the cast includes a prize-winning Spanish beauty, Marcy Capri, and Ivo Dawson and Eugene Brown.

50 WORKERS CAN COMPLETE HOTEL DRIVE IN 1921

$73,000 Has Been Raised In Renewed Campaign; $77,000 More Will Meet $350,000 Required.

More than $73,000 has been raised in the renewed drive for the Albuquerque hotel. Approximately $77,000 more are needed to reach the $350,000 requirement, which is figured as the minimum amount to erect a suitable structure.

Many of the subscriptions yesterday were made when it became known to prospects that the renewed subscription was not necessarily a cash one, but could be paid at any time during 1922. The payment for the subscriptions can be arranged to suit the convenience of the subscriber at various intervals during the year and the deferred payments do not draw interest.

Two additional workers made the showing yesterday possible. Although the subscriptions since Christmas have not been as large as was hoped by Sidney Weil, campaign manager, he was still hopeful that the drive could be completed by the new year.

More workers are needed to complete the drive for subscriptions with a reasonable time. Half of the additional amount needed when the renewed campaign started had been subscribed during the past two weeks. At the present rate, it will require fifteen more days to complete the amount, but at the luncheon of workers yesterday, it was decided to go through with the drive if it takes all winter. However, it is believed that with fifty workers today and tomorrow, the drive can be finished in those two days.

Every booster who has even a few minutes which he can give to the drive today and Saturday is urged to notify the committee at the Chamber of Commerce, in order that team mates may be arranged for and a list of live prospects obtained.

M. C. A. A. WON'T PARTICIPATE IN OLYMPIC GAMES

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Dec. 29.—The National Collegiate Athletic association today definitely declined an invitation of the American Olympic association to join with it in future participation in Olympic games.

The vote was 48 to 6 against such affiliation in the present form of Olympic association's organization. The collegiate association also went on record as favoring "the idea of an organization of a national athletic federation," proposed by Secretary of War Weeks. A resolution to this effect said in part "that the question of the extent and manner of the participation of this organization in the proposed national athletic federation be left to the deputy committee of the N. C. A. A., or the board of directors if there is one, for discussion and report one year hence."

The collegiate association adopted certain recommendations made by the newly formed Football Coaches association as presented by M. J. Charles Daley of West Point. The most interesting of these was the suggestion that the football rules committee prepare an addendum to the football playing rules to provide for the playing of the game by boys of 15 years of age and under. Suggestions for these proposed rules provided for following the first boys system of holding the catch of every punt and censing to tackle and piling on whenever the boy called "held."

ROTARIANS TAKE XMAS CHEER TO REFORM SCHOOL

(Special Correspondence to The Journal.)

Raton, N. M., Sept. 29.—Twenty-eight Raton Rotarians and their ladies motored down to Springer Monday night, bearing gifts and Christmas cheer to the kids at the state reform school. This is the second Christmas visit paid the boys in what is expected will become an annual event.

A gift from each Rotarian to each boy in the school was supplemented this year by three base balls, a hat and a sweater from Dimick Baldwin of the Raton Kiwanis club. The sweater was for the lad who does duty outside.

Superintendent Blake and the boys greeted the visitors warmly. A delightful two hours was spent in singing by the Rotarians and the lads separately and together, in speeches by President Fisher of the club, Rotarian Ruth of the boy work committee, Rotarian Carson and Rotarian White, president of the reform school board, and in the enjoyment of a fine eight-reel Wallace Reid film which Mr. White had brought down for the boys' work committee. Rotarian Lockard, principal of one of the Raton schools, spoke at the luncheon.

Great improvement was shown in the management of the school since last year and in the building and its equipment. A real home atmosphere has supplanted the institutional atmosphere which has marked the place for many years. Entertainment of wholesome character is being provided and excellent educational opportunities are not lacking. The boys are fortunate in being under the control of Superintendent Blake, who deals with them humanely, justly and with the aim of developing the best in them, to the end that they may become a credit to the state rather than liabilities.

ITALIAN FINANCIAL CIRCLES STIRRED AS BANK CLOSES DOORS

(By The Associated Press.)

Rome, Dec. 29.—(By The Associated Press.)—The closing of the doors of the Banca Italiana di Sconto today created considerable of a stir in Italian financial circles. The suspension of payments followed an announcement by the government that the bank had been placed under the control of the government.

The Banca Italiana di Sconto, founded in 1864, was one of the largest banks in Italy. The bank's assets were estimated at 1,000,000,000 lire. The bank's liabilities were estimated at 1,200,000,000 lire.

The bank's failure was attributed to a combination of factors, including a sharp decline in the value of its assets and a loss of confidence among its depositors. The bank's failure was a major blow to the Italian financial system.

The Italian government has taken steps to stabilize the financial system. It has announced that it will provide financial aid to the Banca Italiana di Sconto and will take other measures to ensure the stability of the Italian financial system.

GRIM REAPER IS WHETTING HIS SCYTHE FOR HARVEST OF PRO LIQUOR DRINKERS ABOUT 1926

Cleveland, O., Assistant City Chemist Sees Good Business Ahead for the Undertakers, Resulting From Poison Taken Into the System When Drinking Moonshine Booze.

(By The Associated Press.)

Cleveland, O., Dec. 29.—Undertakers will have a prosperous year about 1926 in the opinion of analytic and consulting chemists here, because, they claim, the Grim Reaper is whetting his scythe for a harvest of prohibition liquor drinkers.

Hundreds of persons are slowly but surely asphyxiating themselves, according to J. M. Kovachy, assistant city chemist, by unsuspiciously assimilating the poisons found in almost every sample of what was believed to be "pure bonded" liquor. Hundreds of samples are brought to Kovachy each month for analysis, he said, and all thus far analyzed have contained a high percentage of fuel oil in the raw. In large quantities, consumed by steadily drinking, fuel oil changes the blood from oxygen-globin to methemoglobin, he insists.

In other words, Kovachy says, fuel oil removes the oxygen from the blood, causes the lips and body to turn blue and has the same effect as asphyxiation. "Illicit peddlers of whisky use ethylacetate for flavoring purposes in some cases, and this is very injurious if taken in any quantity, acting as a heart depressant," the chemist declared.

M. E. Curtis, proprietor of the Chemical Laboratories, advises the present day drinker to "analyze well before using." "Traces of adulteration that clip years off your life from a life have been found in almost every bottle of alleged 'bonded' liquor he has analyzed, he asserted.

"It is true a portion of the contents of most bottles is pure bonded whisky. That gives it the color, flavor and taste," Curtis added. "But the good liquor is mixed with ingredients that are harmful to the human system and the question uppermost in the minds of those who come to me for analysis of their liquor is how to remove the ingredients and leave the bonded stuff."

"That bonded whisky is being grossly misrepresented by bootleggers was revealed recently when a raid of a printing shop in the downtown section by federal and police officials uncovered a plan which is said to have been devised exclusively to the manufacture of counterfeit labels and bottled-in-bond revenue stamps. The labels were similar to those used by prominent distillers on popular brands of intoxicating liquors previous to the becoming effective of the eighteenth amendment.

Ten thousand alleged counterfeit revenue stamps were confiscated. Federal secret service operatives declare that statements made by some of the six persons arrested in connection with the raid indicate that $50,000 had been "cleared" during the past year through sales of the labels.

For centuries scientists tried in vain to make iron ore. At last the problem was solved, so that you may now obtain pure organic iron like the iron in your blood from any drugstore under the name of "Nuxated Iron," which is ready for immediate absorption by the blood the moment it enters the system. Unlike metallic iron, organic Nuxated Iron does not injure or blacken the teeth nor upset the stomach.

If you want to increase your physical and mental vigor, strength, and endurance, you should take Nuxated Iron. It is often most surprising what a tremendous amount of "iron" vigor, force and energy a little more oxygenated organic iron will give a person whose blood is deficient in this magic-like substance. Over four million people are using Nuxated Iron annually, their experience proving that it increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people, in many cases, in two weeks' time. If you want that virile force, that stamina and strength so necessary to success and power in every walk of life, you owe it to yourself to commence taking Nuxated Iron today. It is sold to you with the distinct understanding that it will give you greater power, energy and endurance within two weeks' time. If you will refund your money, sold by all druggists.

OPPOSES WALLACE'S PROPOSAL TO SLASH FARM CROP ACREAGE

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Dec. 29.—"The curtailment of the acreage devoted to staple farm products, suggested by the secretary of agriculture, would be evidence that our civilization has gone to smash," Benjamin C. Marsh, managing director of the farmers' national council, declared in a statement today.

"Millions of people are starving in the world and millions are underfed in the United States," he said. "We must immediately have the government guarantee the wheat grower the cost of production, and control wheat products through to the city bakers."

Have You Enough of This Wonder Working Substance in Your Blood

which science says you must have to enable you to transform the food you eat from lifeless matter into living cells which produce firm flesh (not fat), strong nerves, energy and endurance. Examinations made by doctors show why thousands of people are always weak, nervous and run-down in spite of everything they do.

The most remarkable miracle of life is the power of your body to transform ordinary food into living cells that build flesh, bone, muscle and tissue. Every minute and every second this miracle change takes place within you. No matter what you eat or how much you eat, if there is anything lacking in your blood it is absolutely impossible for your body to change food into living cells and tissue.

Therefore, this wonderful precious substance might well be called the connecting link between lifeless inert food matter and life itself. This marvelous wonder working substance is a strange unusual kind of iron which science has named organic iron. This is found in minute

THE NEW GENERATION

By JANE PHELPS

MARGARET SEES JOAN ATOP THE BUS.

Chapter 52.
Margaret had been in her home only three days but already was so in love with it that she had considered selling her home before the year's grace she had asked for had expired. Never would she want to return to the colorless life she had led for so many years.

She was strolling down Fifth Avenue when she decided to go to write the people who had rented it and were so anxious to purchase. She was pleasantly conscious that people as they passed looked at her; that some of them turned for a second look. She was wearing a smart tailored suit fur trimmed although it was early Fall. She wore one deep pink rose tucked in the front of her coat and a small toque with wing of the same shade. She looked exceedingly smart—and knew it.

Why shouldn't she? She certainly had paid enough for her costume, she thought when she saw the approving glances of the women who passed; the admiring ones of the men. It was nice to be correctly gowned, hatted and booted. It gave one confidence.

"What a stunning woman!" she heard one of two women say as they passed her. And the ungrudging admiration in the voice of one of her own sex made her happy. It is an axiom that women seldom give expression to real admiration of another woman.

As Margaret emerged from one of the shops a bus passed. There was something familiar about one of the occupants of the front seat. She looked again, then as she told Janet, "ducked into the store again." It was Joan. Not yet was Margaret ready to let her daughter know she was in town. But from the shelter of the doorway she watched the bus until it was out of sight, a longing to run after it and clasp Joan in her arms causing her eyes to mist, her heart to beat more quickly.

MISS STEARNS IS MARRIED TO BEN R. KENNEDY

The marriage of Miss Lois Miles Stearns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Stearns of this city, and Benjamin Rupert Kennedy of Clinton, N. D., took place yesterday noon at the Stearns home at 500 North Eleventh street. The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. A. Guy, pastor of the Christian church.

The ceremony which was performed before a large Christmas tree in the rooms gay with holiday decorations was witnessed by about thirty relatives and friends of the young couple. A number of out-of-town guests were present for the wedding. An elaborate luncheon was served after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy left immediately for Chicago where their romance began three years ago while they were both students at Northwestern university. After spending two weeks in Chicago they will make their home. Mrs. C. B. Kennedy, mother of the bridegroom, who came west for the wedding, will return later.

Mrs. Kennedy is New Mexico girl of considerable charm and ability as a dramatic reader. She attended the state university in Albuquerque and was graduated from the Northwestern school of oratory in 1920. She is a member of Phi Mu and Zeta Phi Eta societies. She has been teaching school in Albuquerque for the past year and a half. Mr. Kennedy is a graduate of Northwestern university and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He belongs to one of the prominent families of South Dakota.

MAY DETERMINE SEX OF AN UNBORN BABY BY MEANS OF X-RAY

(By The Associated Press.)
New Haven, Conn., Dec. 28.—It is possible to determine the sex of an unborn infant by observation of the stage of the development of its bones by means of the X-ray, Dr. J. W. Fryor, of the University of Kentucky, told the American Association of Anatomists here today. He explained that the bones of the female ossify quicker than those of the male.
Dr. Fryor said no one yet had made a special study of the subject but his own observations had revealed to him a difference between the sexes as early as ten weeks before birth.

EXCESSIVE PERSPIRATION.

Several women have written to me recently asking why they should suffer from excessive perspiration in cold weather. In most cases, I can see from the letters that the cause is nothing but nervousness.

Very few people know that nerves have this curious effect upon the pores of the skin though, of course, it is common knowledge that a nervous shock or a long nervous strain will bring out a cold and clammy moisture over the face and hands. I know one woman who will lose excessive perspiration and which will neutralize any disagreeable odors. It is perfectly simple and harmless and is made as follows:

Epsom Salts.....3 oz.
Wheat Bran.....1-2 pint
Water.....4 pints
Mix this and let it stand overnight, then strain and add four ounces of the best quality bay rum. You can use this as often as you wish.

It will stimulate the skin and make it healthier and thus do away with a tendency toward excessive perspiration. It would be harmful to stop the natural amount of perspiration, so I never advise the patent formulae that come for this.

J. H. H.—If you are 4 ft. 10 in. high and weigh 120 pounds you are, at least, 15 pounds overweight. Your flesh is soft because you have too much of it on your body. The best thing for you to do is to diet and to exercise as much as possible until you have reduced. Then instead of too much soft flesh you will have firm muscle and you will feel very much better.

Jane L.—If your complexion is bad, taking two cakes of yeast a day for a week will not show very much improvement. You will have to keep on with this or any other treatment for several weeks and then you will have to go on for several weeks after that before the complexion is perfect. It is impossible to make right in a short time any condition that has been going wrong for a long time.

The fine lines under the eyes are usually called laughing wrinkles and do not necessarily mean old age. Sometimes even children have them. If you will massage them with a flesh building cream you will be able to make them seem less prominent.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

By LAURA A. KIRKMAN.

IF YOU DON'T LIKE VARNISH FLOORS.

Several of my Readers have written to say that they don't want a varnished surface on their hard wood floors, and would appreciate an article on a wax treatment.

Assuming that the floor is new, or has been recently scraped down so that no finish of any sort remains on it, or at least that it has no varnish or wax upon it, proceed as follows:

First apply two coats of a mixture of equal parts of linseed oil and turpentine with enough Japan drier in it to make it harden overnight (to get the right amount of the drier, mix equal small amounts of the oil and turpentine, add a little drier and try out the mixture on a few inches of floor space as a test). This mixture brings out the grain of the wood and prevents subsequent cracks from showing on the floor—as they would if wax were applied without previous oiling.

Now and then a Reader writes me that she has put oil and turpentine on her floors and that it has left a sticky surface; but when I come to investigate I find that she has put it over an old waxed surface and of course the wax prevents the oil from being absorbed by the wood. It may be applied, however, if the wax is almost entirely worn off the floor.

The next step, after putting on the two coats of oil and turpentine (drying well after each application) is to apply a good grade of wax polish in the following manner: Over the entire floor with it, putting it on not too thickly with a cloth and leaving it in this way overnight to harden. The next morning apply a second coat of wax, again leaving it a while to harden—but this time only for a few hours. All good wax polishes have turpentine in them (usually they are composed of beeswax, paraffine and turpentine) and the turpentine dissolves the surplus wax, thus rendering the coating uniform. After the second coat of wax has dried for a while, the first polishing is begun. Do this with a weighted brush, rubbing with the grain of the wood and finishing with a woolen cloth tied over the weighted brush. After this first waxing, your floor will need no other coat until almost a year, except an occasional rubbing with the weighted brush to keep up the polish.

At the end of the year, apply a second coat of wax just as you applied the first—leaving it on overnight to dry and spread evenly.

Listen to Reason

WITH the wisdom of a sage, Poor Richard said: "If you will not hear Reason, she will surely rap your knuckles."

The advertising you find in this paper is 100 per cent reason. Ignore its messages, and you neglect opportunity, overlook vital information and put yourself in a way to get your knuckles severely rapped. Heed them, and you cannot fail to profit.

Sometimes, the advertisements keep you from making an unwise purchase by pointing out the reasons why one article suits you better than another.

And always they identify for you goods of unquestioned value. When a store or manufacturing concern puts its name on goods and tells you about them, you may be sure that they are worth consideration. It does not pay to advertise merchandise that is not good.

It's worth while to heed the voice of reason. Read the advertisements!

INVISIBLE AND SUPER-GOVERNMENT.

The Journal has insisted for two years that there is an Invisible Government in New Mexico, more powerful than the duly constituted state. The control of this group has been so complete that it has been able, most of the time, to prevent any serious agitation on the surface. Everything has been made to appear serene, while this group has worked its will.

The Taxpayers' Association and the Journal did succeed in stirring the water somewhat on the mine tax question and a little progress toward the reasserting of authority by the state was made. A physical appraisal of the mines is now in progress in spite of every effort of the Invisible Government to prevent it. It was an awful row for such small accomplishment, but the significance of it lay in the fact that the Invisible Government was compelled to make concessions to popular opinion.

Our fight on the Land Office has borne some fruit. For years the Invisible Government has kept $1,000,000 of funds in the hands of the land commissioner to be handed out as "pup" to the banks without interest. Thus many of the banks were held in line. The land commissioner has turned over $800,000 to the state treasurer since Oct. 1. He will hold $200,000 in his possession. The $800,000 now bears a 3 per cent interest. It is only a little progress but it shows again some concession to popular demand.

But the control of that invisible inner group is still profound. The governor of the state seems wholly incapable of breaking away from its domination. On the face of the record there is no doubt that the state treasurer has been guilty of a felony in connection with the failure of the Santa Fe Bank yet the governor refuses to call a special session of the legislature to impeach him. Why? Invisible hands restrain him.

At the State Insane Hospital at Las Vegas is a situation which appears to "stink to heaven." Weeks ago a committee appointed by the governor to investigate, made a private report to the governor. Where is the report? What did it contain? It is the business of the people, presumably, yet not a word is given out nor any step taken, so far as we can learn, to correct the evil. Does the Invisible Government of the Kingdom of San Miguel stay the hand of the governor?

Evidences accumulate that the hand of the Invisible Government reaches into the office of the Travelling Auditor and controls the reports of that official.

Support by the Invisible Government has made the First National Bank of Albuquerque so rich and powerful that its officials ride rough-shod over all who refuse to bend the knee. An indictment of one of its officials in New Mexico would be as impossible as to make the sun stand still. When they crossed the Arizona line they got somewhat beyond the influence of the Invisible Government.

The present ruffling of the surface in New Mexico is due to the hooking of big fish by an Arizona grand jury. An explanation must be given. So a terrific assault is started against the Journal. By some unknown and unseen method we controlled judge and district attorney and grand jury and procured a fictitious indictment of these officials. It is all very absurd. We had nothing to do with it. These officials merely covered too much territory and got beyond the influence of the Invisible Government.

Dust is now being kicked up to fill the eyes of the people while the Invisible Government persuades its governor not to allow these men to be delivered to the Arizona authorities. The Journal is forced to bear the brunt of this effort. This paper must be silenced by some method, however brutal. Will the people allow this to happen? These men compel us by no effort to silence us with money. The people should feel encouraged. The ice is breaking up. There is hope that the people of New Mexico will yet come into their own. Do not rock the boat.

The ex-kaiser denies starting the war. Of course! It was forced on him when Belgium invaded Germany.

Not quite as much interest just now over back pay as there is in how long it will be before the old pay comes back.

TRIBUTES TO "MARSE HENRY."

"Marse Henry" celebrated Christmas with his kindred spirits of the editorial pen, Dana, Greeley, Childs, Bowles, Halstead and the rest, with whom he engaged as comrade-in-arms or vigorous opponent in the old days when he was one of the great personal forces in American journalism and a moulder of thought whose influence was felt around the world. His writings helped as tremendously in restoring harmony between the north and south as in the days of the war they had bolstered up the courage of the Confederacy.

Henry Watterson was a commander of words as well as of men and he marshalled them into sentences of conquering strength. The impress he made upon the world of his time is attested by tributes from the press and men high in public life. Political partisan and opponent alike admired him. His death is felt as a personal loss in every newspaper office in the land.

The longer Germany puts off the installment collector of the war indemnity the more it will boost her contention that she must sell goods abroad to raise money.

Chicago's chief of police says he will make the town so dry that it will squeak. He should start with a dry cleaning for the police department.

THE REORGANIZATION.

When President Harding declared for "more business in government" he selected Walter F. Brown of Toledo to work out a plan of co-ordinating departments in order to eliminate overlapping functions. It has been well known that various bureaus duplicated work and that this resulted in a lack of economical management. After months of investigation Mr. Brown has prepared a plan for reorganization which is about ready to be submitted to the president. If adopted in its essential details it is believed it will effect a saving to the federal treasury of about $1,000,000 a day and at the same time result in increased efficiency. So far as the scope of the scheme has been announced there are three chief recommendations to be made:

Creation of a department of defense by consolidation of all the activities of the army and navy departments. This will mean a new cabinet post to be headed by a secretary of defense, assisted by undersecretaries representing the army and navy.

Creation of a department of public welfare, to administer public health, soldier relief, welfare and education.

Elimination of all duplication by transference of various bureaus doing the same work under the same head.

Consolidation of the war and navy departments at once suggests itself as a logical step since both are designed for the same purpose, protection of the interests of the United States. The name suggested, department of defense, is also in harmony with the modern thought. Armies and navies are to be maintained only for defense, if the laudable hope of the world is to be realized.

When completed the plan will undergo the scrutiny of the president and cabinet and then will be submitted to congress. It may be subjected to alterations but the primary purpose, elimination of duplication and the promotion of business management in government, should be sufficient to obtain its enactment. That it is ready for congress so soon is early fulfillment of the pledge of economy and introduction of business methods made by the president. It is evidence that promises are binding, in the view of the administration.

The ex-crown prince of Germany is said to be unhappy in exile. It is hoped so.

VERSE OF TODAY

THE CRY OF THE WASTE.
There is no cry to me like the silent cry of the waste;
It speaks of infinite calm; it breathes of infinite haste;
It tells of things that are gone; it tells of the things to be;
Of the world at the flush of dawn, of the last lone twilight sea.

It haunts me where'er I go, bustle of road or mart,
In the purple hush of the night I hear it sing in my heart.
It was the earth's first cry, and lo, it shall be the last,
When the pulseless orb shall plunge back to the plumbless vast.
—New York Herald.

EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

THE CONCEPT OF THE AMERICAS.
(From the Cincinnati Enquirer.)

Challenging the attention of superior statesmanship the movement to establish a concept of the Americas is again under way. Not even the momentous achievements of the Washington conference can vie in importance with this dream which paints American continental unity as desirable and possible.

The great international deliberations for the time have superseded everything else, but the policy of the present administration more firmly to cement the relations between the United States and all Latin America has not been lost sight of for a moment. So far as America is concerned it is one of the biggest questions in the world.

It is said that a Pan-American congress will meet shortly after the adjournment of the Limitation of Armaments Conference, the meeting probably to be called by Chile. That the conference will mean business is indicated in the appointment of Herbert C. Hoover to succeed Secretary Mellon as chairman of the International High Commission.

The desirability of the closest possible relations between the United States and Latin America should be obvious. Trade is enhanced by friendship. In the past there have been matters which have incited our southern neighbors to entertain suspicions of our motives. These disturbing factors in the way of complete accord largely have been removed. It is now possible to develop friendliest relations and establish a trade bond with the nations of the south which nothing can disturb, an understanding for mutual benefit, which ultimately will link the United States, Latin America and Canada together as the world's most independent and powerful political combination. The American statesman who will make the advocacy of this international allocation his cause and carry it to victory will rank higher than that rare genius who made Victoria Empress of India.

THE CRITICS.

The critics gather round me when I would play my harp, attempting to confound me with caustic words and sharp; they do not like the manner in which I hold my lyre; I smite it with a spanner, and that stirs up their ire. "Your poems are punk and hollow," the busy critics say; "why don't you try to follow where Homer led the way?" And once they used to pounce on me, but now I care no whoop; they cannot vex or grieve me, or place me in the soup. For evermore I'm clinging to one old-fashioned plan:

In sawing or in singing I do the best I can. No matter what you're doing the critics will upstand, edifying and beehewing, to say you should be canned. If you are painting fences they'll say your taste in paint would shock our seven senses, and make an artist faint. And they will rate you soundly if you are frying grease, and the will roast you roundly if you are herding geese. There always are the knockers who watch you while you toil, repairing cane-seat rockers, or harrowing the soil; but if you keep on doing the best, that you know how, their ceaseless cotton-chewing should never cloud your brow.

UNCLE WIGGLY AND KITTY'S TRICK.

Kitty Kat, the little pussy girl, was on her way home from the hollow stump school where she had recited to the lady mouse teacher almost the last lesson of the year.

"For it will be a New Year on Sunday," the lady mouse teacher had told the animal children, "and we shall have a little holiday. Then you may all blow your New Year horns."

The animal children, unlike some of our real children, went to school between Christmas and New Year's. But they did not have to study very hard—in fact, there was a great deal of fun in the hollow stump school.

"I had fun," mewed Kitty as she walked softly along. "It was lots of fun when the lady mouse teacher let me make a funny face on the big sheet of paper with my box of paints."

Kitty was carrying home with her a box of colored paints, and had been given her for Christmas. As the next day was the last one for the year, Kitty was taking her paints home with her to paint a little picture for her brother Jole.

And when Kitty was going through the woods wondering what sort of a picture she would paint for her brother, all of a sudden there was a rustling in the bushes and out leaped the old Fuzzy Fox.

"Oh, dear!" mewed Kitty, and she gave such a quick jump and a run that the Fox couldn't get her.

But he ran after her and Kitty raced on ahead, her little heart beating very fast. On she leaped through the woods until suddenly she saw, just ahead of her, the hollow stump bungalow of Uncle Wiggly.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggly! Uncle Wiggly! Please let me in—quick—or the Fox will get me!" mewed Kitty Kat, scratching on the door with her claws.

Uncle Wiggly opened the door, in bounced Kitty and she slammed the door shut so quickly that she almost pinched the bunny's pink nose.

"What's your hurry?" asked Mr. Longears.

"The Fox! He's coming after me!" gasped Kitty dropping her box of paints on the floor.

"Nonsense! I don't see any Fox," said Uncle Wiggly, looking from a side window. "No Fox at all, Kitty. Are you sure you didn't dream it?"

"How could I dream in the daylight when I was walking along?" asked Kitty. "I did see the Fox and he chased me."

"Well, he isn't here now," spoke Uncle Wiggly, again looking from the side window. "Truly enough no Fox was in sight and for a good reason—he had hidden himself under a bush, not far from the bunny's bungalow."

"I'll just wait here until Kitty or Uncle Wiggly comes out," said the Fox to himself, as he crouched down, "and then I'll get one of them."

After a while Kitty's heart did not beat so fast and as she grew more quiet she was less frightened.

"I guess maybe the Fox has gone," she said to Uncle Wiggly. "I can go home now, with my paints."

"I'll just wait here until Kitty or Uncle Wiggly comes out," said the Fox to himself, as he crouched down, "and then I'll get one of them."

"Oh, dear," mewed Kitty, and she gave such a quick jump and a run that the Fox couldn't get her.

away! He's still there!" mewed Kitty.

"So he is!" said Uncle Wiggly. "I saw him myself that time. I wonder how I can make him go away?"

"Maybe I could play a trick on him," mewed the pussy girl.

"How?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"Well," went on Kitty, "have you a head of cabbage in the bungalow?"

"Uncle Wiggly had plenty of them, and brought one for the pussy girl. 'I'm going to make a sort of scarecrow or image, that will look a little like one of us,' said Kitty. 'I'll make it look like you, I guess, Uncle Wiggly. Then when I have it made I'll open the front door and toss it out. The Fox will think it is real, he'll make a jump for it and I can slip out the back door and run home.'"

"A good trick, Kitty!" laughed Uncle Wiggly.

So Kitty took the head of cabbage and then taking the "eyes"

Out jumped the old Fuzzy Fox

out of a potato she fastened them on the face of the cabbage.

"Now some ears of corn," she said, and Uncle Wiggly gave them to her. Kitty fastened the ears of corn on the head of cabbage.

"I can make a mouth with my red paints and with pink paint I can make your twinkling nose," said the pussy girl, and this she did. Soon she had something that looked a little like a rabbit.

Opening the front door Kitty rolled out the head of cabbage with its potato eyes, its ears of corn and its painted nose and mouth.

"Oh, there's Uncle Wiggly! I'll get him!" howled the Fox as he sprang from the bush and raced after the rolling head of cabbage. Then Kitty slipped out of the back door and ran safely home, while Uncle Wiggly stayed safely in his bungalow.

And you can imagine how angry that Fox was when he found out that he had been fooled by Kitty's trick. And how Uncle Wiggly

THE MARKETS

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, Dec. 29.—Resumption of the selling movement to establish income tax losses and weakness among specialties whose position has long been a matter of conjecture, provoked considerable irregularity in today's stock market.

Another adverse development of considerable significance, since it involved a local institution, was the suspension of the Banca Italiana di Sconto di Roma, which operated numerous branches throughout Europe and South America.

Other foreign contributions to the day's budget of financial incidents included the weekly report of the Bank of England showing a strengthening of liabilities, the Federal Reserve Bank statement, which reported large expansions in note circulation and discounts, and Berlin advices indicating another enormous increase in the issue of paper marks.

The money market imposed no restraints upon constructive efforts. Call money opened at 5 per cent and held at that rate throughout the session, while time funds for the shorter dates were plentiful.

Bulls were strengthened by the extra 5 per cent dividend on Delaware, Lackawanna & Western and publication of numerous November statements of earnings, some of which offered ground for encouragement.

Among equipments, steels, oils, motors and miscellaneous shares, the movement became more unsettled with the progress of the session. Pressure was most effective against General Motors, coppers and other metals and specialties, such as Columbia Graphophone preferred. Sales amounted to 775,000 shares.

The Italian bank failure caused a sharp decline in the local quotation for lire, but much of the loss was recovered later. French and Belgian exchanges also eased in sympathy, but sterling and Dutch bills were firm.

Victory notes were strongest of the domestic war issues, Liberties easing for the most part. Railroad bonds continued to strengthen, especially the various convertible offerings. United Kingdom of Italy 4½s reacted to the news of the financial crisis in Rome. Total sales, par value, aggregated $18,775,000.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE.
Chicago, Dec. 29.—Assertions that a liberal amount of wheat would be bought for Russian relief did a good deal today to strengthen the wheat market. Closing prices although unsettled, were ½c to 1½c higher with May $1.17½ to $1.17½ and July $1.06½ to $1.06½. Corn finished ½c off to ¾c advance and provisions unchanged to 1c lower.

Upturns in the value of wheat were preceded by a brief display of weakness due to bearish aspects of the government report on the 1921 crop. Bullies, however, ensued owing largely to generally accepted opinions that the government figures today on the 1922 crop would prove bullish. Later a report was circulated that 15,000,000 to 18,000,000 bushels of wheat would be acquired for Russia. It was at this juncture that top prices of the day were reached, and demands that more than 5,000,000 bushels would be bought failed to cause much reaction in the final dealings. The government report on winter wheat was received after the close and was construed by some authorities as bearish because it showed a slightly better condition than expected and a larger acreage.

In the corn market, December delivery was under pressure from hedging sales, but May and July laughed! The Fox slunk off home with his tail between his legs.

LOANS HUSBAND'S GUN IN BARREL OF WHICH MONEY WAS CONCEALED

(By The Associated Press.)
Paris, Dec. 29.—The ingenuity of French peasants in hiding money has surpassed itself in the case of a man near Lorien who received a 1,000 franc note and a 500 franc note in payment for produce. He hid them in the muzzles of his double-barreled shotgun, believing that would be the last place thieves would search for money.

He made a mistake, however. In not taking his wife into the secret. A neighbor called a few days later, in the absence of the man of the house, and asked for the loan of the gun to get a hare.

The hare escaped and when the peasant came in that evening his wife remarked that the neighbor must be very stupid.

"Why?" the peasant asked.

"Because he used both charges of your gun on a hare without hitting it."

"My shotgun?" inquired the peasant with a gasp, at the same time making for the corner where the weapon hung.

The civil court of the department of Morbihan will have to decide the delicate point of whether the neighbor is responsible for the loss of the 1,500 francs.

BUSINESS CLUBS MEET IN JOINT SOCIAL EVENING

Rotarians Hold Luncheon With Business and Professional Women; Many 'First Names' Unearthed.

Members of the Albuquerque Business and Professional Women's club and the Rotary club had an opportunity to learn a host of seldom-used "first names" at a joint luncheon of the two clubs at the Country club last evening. There was a large attendance from both organizations at the dinner. Musical numbers and addresses filled the program, which was in charge of Arthur Prager, H. B. Henning, vice president of the Rotary club called the meeting to order and introduced the presiding officer, Mrs. E. J. Strong, president of the women's organization.

The laugh fest of the evening came in the talk by Charles M. Barber, which had been intended as a serious finale to the social evening. Indiscreetly, Mr. Barber let fall the expression that he wanted to present a "few reflections on women," and the crowd roared its delight. In a flash Mrs. Strong presented him the bouquet of carnations which she had previously received.

Mr. Barber plunged straight ahead, prefacing each try with an assurance that he was trying to be serious. He sought to explain that women had advanced "step by step" but made it strip by strip.

"You have been climbing for 2,000 years," he said to his female hearers. When the roar greeted him, he announced his desire to speak for the women, but his audience preferred to laugh. Finally the speaker gave up the attempt and called the Rotarians to their feet to drink a toast to the women.

Each member of the two clubs present was introduced by his and her "neighbor" by first name and profession. Mrs. Strong gave the first talk of the evening on the history and ideals of the business and professional women's national organization and the growth of the local club. The Rev. Hugh A. Cooper spoke of the Rotary meaning and interpretation of its motto of service.

Dr. Evelyn Frisbie, of the women's club, read an excellent paper on women's participation in world affairs. She suggested that the women's club follow the example of the Rotarians in looking after boys and their future by adopting young girls. She pointed out that the chief contribution of women in the world success is in lifting the race consciousness.

Entertainment numbers on the program were furnished by members and guests of both clubs. Mrs. Lewis B. Thompson and Mrs. J. B. Faw played a pleasing piano duet, a fragment from Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony." As an encore the musically versatile Mrs. Thompson sang "The Song of the Sea." Mrs. Faw's accompaniment, "Gracie's Song," was also well received. Mrs. J. E. Saint and "Eagle Maude," as they were introduced, sang two duets, "Supper Song" and "Avalanche." The quartet of Mrs. Evans gave a Scotch monologue.

23 BOYS RETURN FROM CAMPING TRIP TO MOUNTAINS TODAY

The camping party is composed of the following boys: Stanley Shubbs, William Hill, Clifford Howell, Lucien Rice, Alfred How, Paul Hammond, Robert Cheney, Archie O'Harrow, Charles Renfro, Everett Renfro, Lee Vann, Earl Watkins, Richard Vann, Henry Hefflin, Raymond Stamm, W. ## COWS EAT TEMPORARY BRIDGE AT BARELAS

Hungry cows have eaten away the approaches to the temporary bridge placed across the Rio Grande at Barelas, according to reports made to the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon. The embankments were made of earth and straw and the cows have eaten the straw. It is reported that a number of automobiles had great trouble making the crossing yesterday afternoon.

Acting secretary of the chamber, Matt Drexel and County Agent Le Reynolds expected to investigate the situation yesterday afternoon, but were unable to do so. Reynolds was called out of the city. They will make a survey of the bridge this morning and will probably make a report to the state highway commission, which erected the temporary bridge.

COUNTY BILLS STILL SUBJECT OF DISCUSSION

Commissioners Decide Not to Pro-Rate Them From Small Available Funds; Offices Changed.

Back bills owed by Bernalillo county will not be prorated February 1, according to a decision made by the county commissioners yesterday. Just how the bills will be met is not certain as chairman Albert Simms who voted for prorating the bills, declared that he would stand in the way of any other manner of payment as the small creditors had a right to receive their share of the available money as well as the larger creditors.

All of the county bills are not yet received, but bills at hand amount to about $24,000. The prorating of the available funds would have paid about 5 per cent.

A change in the lower floor county offices was decided by the commission. The county assessor will move into the rooms now occupied by the justice of the peace. The justice will be obliged to shift for himself and if he cannot find office space in the court house, will move into quarters outside of the building. The front treasurer's office will be used by the probate court and the remainder of the treasurer's office rooms will be thrown into a suite with the rooms now occupied by the county assessor. The object of the change is to provide more room for the treasurer and for the public which is greatly inconvenienced by the small office when paying taxes.

The board will reorganize January 3, electing a new chairman, and will then make a number of new appointments to county berths.

FAULTY WIRING IS CAUSE OF MALONE TAXI CAR BURNING

A five-passenger Buick automobile belonging to the Malone Taxi company was almost completely destroyed by fire last night. The car was parked back of the Malone taxi stand on Central avenue when the fire was discovered. City firemen extinguished the blaze, but before their arrival the top, seats and several other inflammable parts of the car had been ruined. It is thought that the fire started from a short in the wiring system.
