HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Do you know the girl with a million dollar smile?

The freshmen are still getting busy. You'd be surprised.

Do you know the champion pie-eater of the football squad?

Miss Neilsen was in the latter part of the week. Mr. House took charge of her class during her absence.

Professor Daly failed to appear on Monday but he telephoned that he would be here on Wednesday instead.

Why does a certain member of the faculty always wear a very high collar on the morning after the night before?

A certain member of the football squad says that there can't be any "Monke Monkey business" in the coaches study hall.

The dramatic club is planning a Spanish Play to be given some time in November. A strong cast has been selected and work will begin at once.

There are two seniors who in response to a question always reply, "I'll bite." We wish that someone would kindly donate a rubber ring for them to bite on.

Someone in town the other day asked a member of the Junior class whether or not there was to be a graduating class this year. "If so", they remarked, "we haven't heard anything about them."—Well, answered the Junior, "There is a Senior class and we have heard about them."

That doggone Junior pennant has been in trouble again. Everyone denies having anything to do with it but it disappeared and the Junior class suffered from eyestrain, which finally developed into nausea, until the pennant was finally discovered inside the piano. No doubt it had missed some of its music recently and was trying to revive "Barney Google".

Just how it happened no one knows. We have it on authority, however, that an auto load of Belen People returning from Albuquerque after the St. Marys game were surprised to find a Fordload of students, driven by a sleepy Junior, sitting in the middle of a pond at some distance from the highway. They declared that some accident had taken them out of the beaten path, and finally explained incoherently that they had been duckhunting. Maybe so.

SO THE PEOPLE MAY KNOW.

From road No. 15-A, $40.00 transferred to road No. 5, $300.00
From road No. 21, $593.70

We publish this so that the people may know it.

TOURIST TRAVEL FAST BUILDING UP

Los Angeles, Oct.—While there has been but little if any noticeable break in the travel as compared with the Summer season just closed and the oncoming Fall and Winter travel, General Passenger Agent Jas. B. Duffy of the Santa Fe, predicts the record business for the coast and California will be made this year.

Plans for some time have been going on to adequately handle the enormous tourist traffic, and a large additional number of trains will be used between Los Angeles—San Francisco and Chicago and the East between now and next March.

GOOD ROADS ESSENTIAL

New Mexico has the natural attractions to draw visitors from all parts of the country, but unless we have good roads a large share of them will never see the state, and its scenery.

BE HAPPY

Smile young feller, dent your face.
Wrinkle up your map;
Give your eyes a chance to squint,
Cut the sigh and gap,
Give yourself a hearty laugh, it doesn't cost a cent,
Still it's worth far more than gold—Good Old Merriment.
In all countries—a kiss is nothing divided by two.

SMALL DIVERSIFIED FARM SALVATION OF COUNTRY—SEAGRAVES

That farming in California is a basic industry upon which the whole business structure is founded was the statement made before the State Real Estate Convention by C. L. Seagraves, General Colonization Agent of the Santa Fe.

"Your state cannot support a dense rural population," said the expert. "Thousands of acres of tillable lands await new settlers. The colonization of your lands should be given foremost attention and consideration. Every family successfully located on ten or twenty acres becomes an asset to the community, the value of which is reflected in all lines of business.

"The deciding factor for a man who wishes to locate in California is reasonable assurance of success. When farming ceases to be profitable, the demand for farm land automatically slows down. To stimulate colonization, the profitable marketing of all farm crops must be developed to a greater degree of perfection. Successful colonization is dependent very largely upon the prosperity of your present farming population."

Business forecast: Less speculation, more real business.

WEDDING ROMANCE

A wedding which came as somewhat of a surprise to Belen friends was formally announced on last Saturday with the arrival of Leuder Vielstick and bride. Dame rumor had it that Leuder had gone away to be married, but the few who were in on the secret kept a discreet silence. The happy couple were married in New York City on the Saturday before, the wedding being the culmination of a romance begun in Germany some time ago although the bride has been in the United States for several months. The jovial friends of the groom proceeded to show the bride the town in a most unique way. They were obliged to ride in a trailer attached to the John Becker delivery truck and protected from the sun by an immense Japanese umbrella and followed by a procession of admiring friends, but the newly weds took their reception in good sport.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Chavez left last Friday for Los Angeles to visit Mrs. Chavez's brother.

State Game Warden Grace Melaven was a visitor in Belen last Thursday, conferring with the local deputy, N. N. Buckland. She is en route to the Gila River where she will superintend the installing of a fish hatchery.

Sunday afternoon at the Paul Fell home, before a party consisting of the H. Wortman family of Peralta, N. M., the E. F. Scheele family, the Paul Fell family, the Wm. Ellermyer family, Mrs. Mufferman and Eric Rosenber, the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fell and one of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ellermyer were baptized by Rev. J. P. Sinclair. In the evening the party enjoyed a Halloween dinner at the Paul Fell home.

Honking your horn doesn't help so much as steering wisely.

THE PAROCHIAL SCHOOL

At a meeting of the congregation of the Catholic Church of Belen, a committee was appointed to canvass the situation in regard to the building of a parochial school in the near future, according to Father A. Cellier, the pastor. This school will fill a long felt want in Belen and should receive the hearty support of all, irrespective of creed, as the education of the rising generation is a matter of religion, but of our country's welfare and stability in the future. The committee will hold their first meeting Sunday, October 21st at 1:30 P. M.

OTHER SIDE OF THE PICTURE

It has been continuously apparent that the Regulations Governing the Reporting of Notifiable Diseases and Accidents have not been rigidly observed, especially as to reporting tuberculosis, and venereal diseases (outside of V. D. clinics). But recently it has been forcibly brought to our notice that in a few counties typhoid fever, scarlet fever and other highly contagious diseases have not been reported as required by law. In one county more than twenty cases of typhoid fever, occurring within a period of three months, had not been reported, either by the attending physician or health officer. This is a friendly reminder, also a warning, that in the near future flagrant violation of these regulations will call for legal action.

GOOD WORK IN VACCINATING

From all parts of the State the health officers are reporting systematic smallpox vaccinations among the schools. This means that the law is being well observed and the coming generation largely protected against the disease. It grows easier, each year, to secure these vaccinations. Just four years ago, we started the State Health Department and initiated a statewide vaccination campaign as one of our first activities, as at that time, only a few counties were really observing the law. Today the health officers and school superintendents take it as a matter of routine. The first year, there was some opposition. This year we have not yet heard of active obstruction anywhere. This change is not surprising when we consider the rapidity with which the health idea has spread over the State. Almost anything progressive can be expected of a people half of whom adopt and support full-time health service in the short space of four years. We congratulate the health officers and school superintendents on the results they are securing.

ARE YOU LOYAL?

And again we remind you that this is a good town to live in, a good place to trade, and good one to keep your money in. But in time it will cease to be either unless you are loyal to the town as it is to you. See which merchants are advertising in this paper and tell them what you want.

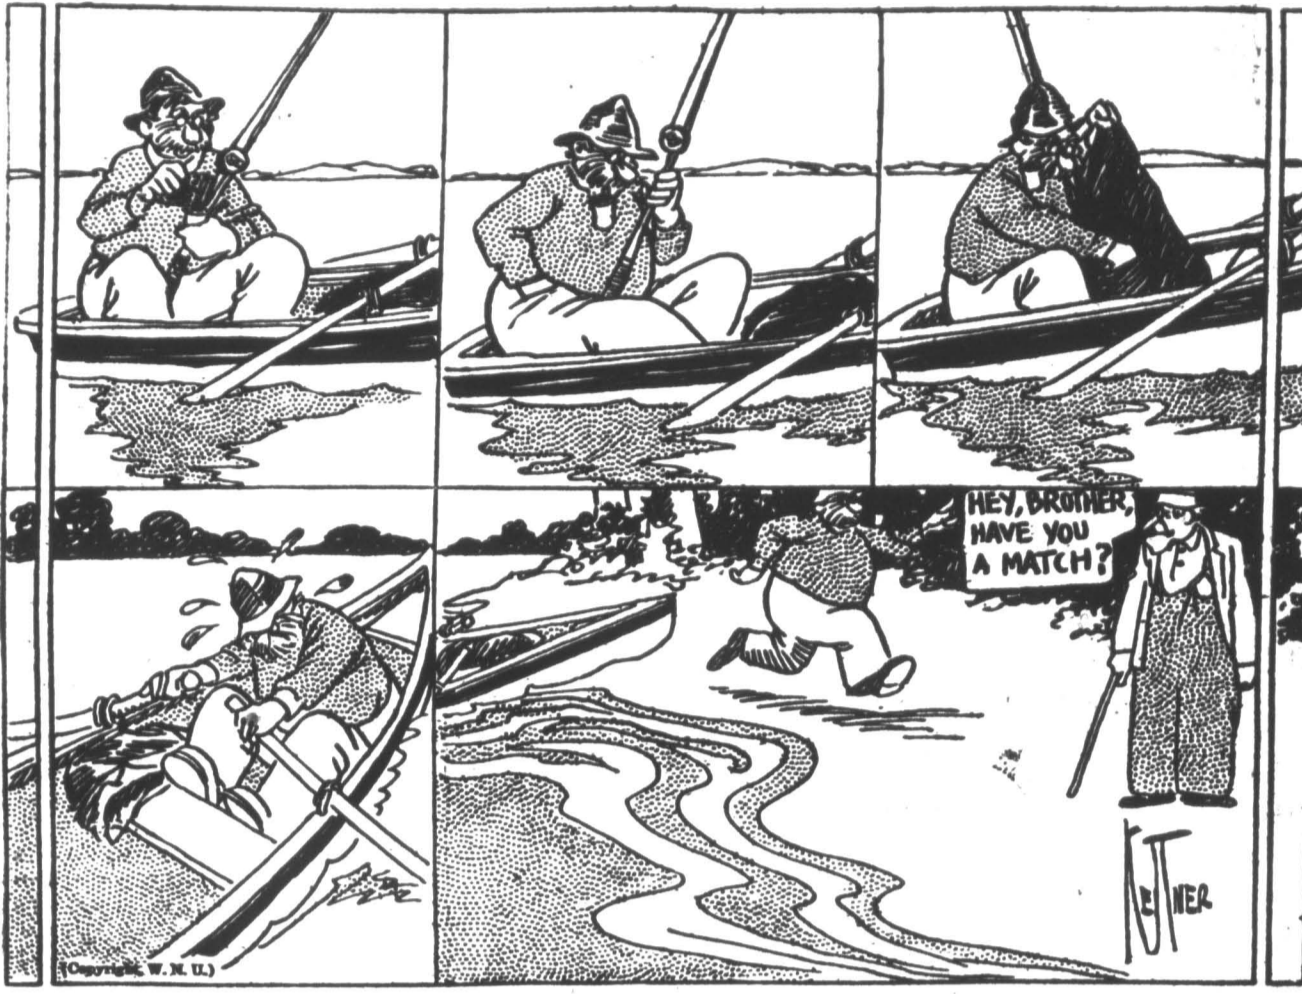

In the last fiscal year 522,919 immigrants arrived to make the United States their home. Treat them kindly when you meet them, for immigrants early treatment in their new environment in most cases largely determines the kind of citizens they make. Americanization is more of a matter of neighborliness and brotherhood than of night schools and pagoda.

"I am not going to talk this evening," said the speaker. "I've been cured of that. The other night I was making a speech when a man entered the hall and took a seat right in the front row. I had not been talking an hour when I noticed he was becoming fidgety. Finally he arose and asked: "Shay, how long you been lecturing?"

"About four years, my friend," I replied.

"Well," he remarked, as he sat down, "I'll stick around; you must be near through."

HIS CHOICE.

"What do you like best about going to school, Johnny?"

"The coming home."

His Estimate.

"Dad," said the young hopeful, who was thinking of branching out in the world, "whadda you think of the chicken business for me?"

"Well," said the wise one, "I dunno, son. It costs a lot to feed 'em. And if you ever start using taxicabs you'll go broke."

FEW FACTS ABOUT RADIUM

Throws Off Sufficient Heat to Bring Its Own Weight of Water to Boiling Point.

Just about this time twenty-five years ago M. and Mme. Curie were making the experiments which resulted in the discovery of radium.

While our knowledge of the way and wherefore of radium has not materially increased since M. and Mme. Curie announced their momentous discovery, we have learned more particularly during the last year or two, a good deal of its vagaries and its possibilities in certain branches of medical research. Its potentialities as a whole, however, are still largely a matter of speculation.

Few people have seen radium, and perhaps fewer still recognize it at sight. A tube of radium comprises a piece of talc, behind which is fixed a tiny screen. In front is a magnifying glass, through which may be seen, on the talc, what looks like an infinitesimal yellow stain, not much bigger than the full stop at the end of this sentence. This little speck is radium, and it may be worth anything up to $50,000.

At night the little yellow stain is seen to glow brightly enough to be noticeable yards away. But, although the phenomenon reminds one of phosphorescence, it is very different in character. Phosphorescence is impermanent, whereas the radiation from radium may continue unimpaird for years, and possibly centuries.

Radium throws off sufficient heat to bring its own weight of water to boiling point every hour for a thousand years and more. Its emission of heat can neither be increased nor diminished. It has been tested in extremes of temperature, ranging from liquid air to super-heated braziers, without affecting its radiations in the slightest degree.

These are facts which, while not known to most people, have lately been ascertained by scientists, who are now busily engaged in trying to find a way of harnessing the apparently inexhaustible energy of radium.

Probably in ten years' time we shall not know much more than we do now of the reason why radium possesses these astonishing qualities. But it is more than likely that we shall have found a way of adapting them to our needs.

This Prisoner Was Fastidious.

Recently a prisoner was sent to the county jail, after having faced the county court and been fined a fine of $10 and a sentence of 30 days in the local bastille on a charge of being drunk in a public place.

Taken to his new boarding house, this man immediately began to complain of his surroundings, and very promptly informed Jailor J. L. Jenkins that he would not eat the bacon, beans, potatoes, and such other food as is commonly served to those who find themselves for the time being forced to be Mr. Jenkins' guests, but that he wanted and must have fried chicken.

Mr. Jenkins, always ready to do everything in his power for a guest, gravely informed the complainant that sometimes they had fried chicken for the prisoners and that if he would only remain long enough he would be sure to get what he wanted along that line.

Mr. Jenkins expects that soon the prisoners will be asking for felt mattresses, ice cream, cold drinks and electric fans.—Greenville (Mo.) Leader.

Hunt for Animal Prey.

Did you know that Uncle Sam maintains a standing army of big game hunters whose duty it is to protect the live stock of the country by killing off predatory animals?

This army is under the direction of the United States biological survey. Last year they shot, poisoned or trapped more than 80,000 wild animals in stock-raising sections. In seven years their rifles have brought down more than 380,000 stock-killing beasts, and they are credited with saving $35,000,000 worth of domestic live stock.

A veteran of this service is Ben V. Lily, of New Mexico, who is seventy years old and has been a big game hunter for 60 years. Lily has killed more than 500 mountain lions, and official estimates show that his campaigns against wild animals have saved stockmen in the West many thousands of dollars annually for years.—Popular Science Monthly.

As We Progress.

It was in the year 1925. A New York matron, coming down to breakfast, met her only son ascending the stairs. He was headed for the roof, where his fast airplane awaited him. "Where to, Tommy?" asked the matron.

"Denver for lunch, mother."

"Well, you have a perfect day for flying."

"That is what I thought. So from Denver I may hop off to San Francisco for a little girl."

"Very well, my son. But be home early for dinner."

Circumstantial Evidence.

Bobby—I've been a very good boy since I started going to Sunday school, haven't I?

Mother—Yes, dear, you've been very good indeed.

Bobby—And you don't distrust me any more, do you?

Mother—No, dear.

Bobby—Then why do you hide the salt?—London Tri-But.

MERCHANT GIVES MORE EVIDENCE

W. F. Penny, prominent merchant of Hendersonville, N. C., and a leader of the civic and business affairs of that section, gives unqualified praise to Tanlac, which, he states, has restored his health and overcome troubles that defied treatment for years.

"For many years," stated Mr. Penny, "I was a great sufferer from indigestion and stomach trouble. My condition set in and necessitated an operation. After a long period of digestive trouble I was hardly able to attend to my business."

"Tanlac seemed to reach the very spot at once and now I have normal strength and activity in every way. Tanlac is undoubtedly the best stomachic medicine to be had."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Take no substitute. Over a million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

Just a Week's Run.

"What sort of a baseball team has your town?"

"Well, sir, the first week of the season we were sure we were going to win the pennant, and now there's hardly anybody in this town can tell you whether the team is in fourth or sixth place."

AFTER THE FLU

"Houston, Texas.—I was in a terribly run-down condition of health after a case of influenza following, and then the influenza returned and I could not seem to regain my strength and was really not able to do my housework. I knew I needed a good tonic and I had heard of Dr. Perry's Golden Medical Discovery. I bought a bottle and then I decided to take Dr. Perry's Golden Medical Discovery. After taking the second bottle I found it was doing me a world of good, strength returned quickly and I felt better in every way. I am glad to say I recovered from the influenza and did not give up my housework."—Mrs. Gertrude Sell, 1220 Highland St.

Dogs once indicated poverty, but that was when they stayed under the house instead of in a lap.

Mr. Martin says everybody shaves nowadays except the Smith brothers and a few old ladies.

A city boy in the country thinks lightning bugs are mosquitoes hunting him with a lantern.

Lloyd George says Europe owes us a debt of gratitude, but that's not the one we are worried about.

Our president doesn't go into office until four months after election, because in the days of slow communication and stage coach transportation it took that long to find out who was elected and get him to Washington. Now the votes can be counted and the President rushed by airplane to the White House almost overnight. So it's sound sense, the recommendation by American Bar Association that our political system should be changed to put the president and congressmen into office immediately after election. We have many other stage coach systems in politics that need correction.
