SANTA FE, NEW MEXICO, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1911

NO. 2.

CHAMP CLARK IS A CHUMP

His Talk About Annexing Canada Considered Bad Break by Taft

PRESIDENT SIGNS FRISCO BILL

Reciprocity Measure Passes House With Aid of Democratic Members.

Washington, Feb. 15.—President Taft today signed a bill designating Santa Fe as the city in which is to be held in 1915, an exposition signaling the opening of the Panama canal.

Taft Scores Clark.

Washington, Feb. 15.—To a number of callers this morning, President Taft expressed astonishment that Representative Champ Clark should have injected into the reciprocity discussion in the House yesterday any thought about the annexation of Canada. The White House is said to regard the remarks of Mr. Clark as most unfortunate and the President would like to have it understood throughout the world that his administration had no thought whatever of annexation when a reciprocity agreement is arranged.

Sullivan Boosts New Mexico.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—New Mexico has millions of acres of unoccupied lands, and many of these acres would be remarkably fertile if water were supplied, according to Vernon L. Sullivan, engineer of New Mexico, who was seen at the New Willard hotel last night. In an interview he said: "Several large Carey act projects are soon to be filed on in New Mexico. Under the provision of the law, 1,000,000 acres are to be set aside for development and irrigation by private capital. The indications are that the major portion of this acreage will be segregated within a comparatively short time and later opened for settlement. From what available data we have regarding the water supply of New Mexico, it is apparent that there are more than 4,000,000 acre-feet of water flowing out of New Mexico annually, in addition to many thousand acre-feet lost by seepage and development before reaching the streams.

"It is evident, therefore, that eventually we can irrigate about 2,000,000 acres of land; that is, when we are able to conserve all of our water supply and also learn how to handle soil and crops in the most scientific manner.

Reciprocity Bill Passes House.

Washington, Feb. 15.—President Taft's reciprocity agreement with Canada was ratified in the House of Representatives last night through the support of an almost solid Democratic vote. The McCall bill carrying the agreement into effect was passed, 221 to 92.

The Republicans present voted both for and against the measure, the division being 78 ayes and 87 noes. The Democratic vote was 143 ayes and only five noes.

A majority of the Republican insurgents present voted for the bill.

The McCall bill now goes to the Senate. What its fate will be in that body is problematical. President Taft believes if a filibuster can be avoided and a vote taken the bill will pass. He is insistent that the Senate shall act one way or the other and has indicated that he would call an extra session of Congress if it does not do so.

New Mexico Delegation.

Alexander Read, district attorney of the first district of New Mexico, is also here in the cause of the constitution, while before the affair is finally closed it is expected that H. O. Bursum, chairman of the Republican central committee; Solomon Luna, national committeeman for New Mexico; George W. Armijo, clerk of the constitutional convention; Col. W. S. Hopewell, of Albuquerque; Granville Richardson, of Roswell; O. A. Larralde, of East Las Vegas; O. N. Marston, of Albuquerque; Thomas B. Catron, of Santa Fe, and T. D. Burns, of Tierra Amarilla, are expected in Washington.

During Last Visitation Insects Stripped Trees, Lawns and Farms.

New York, Feb. 15.—The grubs of the seventeen-year locust which are due to return to plague the American farmer this summer after being absent since 1894, have made their appearance in the vicinity of New York city. During the last visitation, the locusts literally covered suburban New York, stripping trees, lawns and truck farms of everything green and moving in vast clouds that obscured the sun to fresh fields. Chinatown will welcome the invasion, the Chinese cooks making them into pies, roasting them, eating them as a salad and even New Yorkers have found some of the dishes palatable.

TWO RIGHTS OF CHILD

Should Be Well Born and Should Be Well Cared For in Youth

THE IDEALS OF PARENTHOOD

Those Who Dissipate, or Are Profligate, Should Have No Offspring.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 15.—The Annual Survey of the general convention of the Religious Education Association today was given by Prof. C. W. Votaw, of the University of Chicago, on the "Progress of Moral and Religious Education in the American Home." He said:

"Twice within each century the human race is renewed. Every year thirty-two million people die, and thirty-nine million are born to replace them. This is the way of progress; the future lies with the children. The destinies of the race pass rapidly from one group of people to another.

"The child is the major opportunity. The characteristics he inherits, the qualities which his surroundings develop in him, and the life purpose which he works out of these, determine what his contribution to race history will be. It is a small thing for an individual to live with reference only to himself; it is a large thing for him to live in such a way that future generations will be better and happier.

"Every child has two fundamental rights. These make for his individual success and also for racial progress. He has the right to be well born. No persons are justified in having children if this involves transmitting disease, or any mental defects that tend toward insanity, or any moral perversities which make for crime, profligacy, and other forms of un-social living. He has also the right to be well cared for and well educated.

No persons are justified in having children unless there is ready a comfortable home, nourishing food, healthful clothing and good surroundings, with a reasonable prospect of the continuance of these conditions until the children are grown, and with the ability to provide for them an education that will make them efficient and happy and uplifting citizens.

"It is the duty of men and women to adopt this ideal of parenthood. It is the duty of society to promote only this kind of race renewal, and it is the duty of the state to enforce this standard of marriage. We cannot get far in the moral and religious education of the race until the children whom we are to educate have a fair start and a reasonable maintenance. With good material to work upon, and favorable conditions, education can develop the capacities of the boy and girl, equip them for economic independence, train them for social living and bring to pass a higher type of manhood and womanhood.

"The American home has the largest opportunity in the world today. We are not yet overcrowded with population, we have unparalleled wealth and resources, our forefathers have made a splendid beginning for us, we are free from many of the hampering traditions, customs and institutions of Europe and Asia. What use are we making of these great advantages? Is the American home an example to the world?

"The home has the first, the longest and the best chance to influence the rising generation, to shape social conditions, to direct and promote human progress. The education which parents give to their children may be, and ought to be, decisive for their character and achievement. The school and the church will do their part in the training and equipment of young America, but the fathers and mothers are no less responsible to do their very best all the time for the moral and religious education of their children.

"The chief means of parents is their own example. Children follow in the main what they habitually see and hear. They contract from those nearest them their manners and emotions, their moral principles of duty, honesty, truth, justice and industry, their social interests, purposes and services, their religious reverence, aspiration and faith. The father who wishes his son to be straight, clean, strong and cheerful, the mother who wishes her daughter to be fine, wise, happy and useful, must themselves exhibit these qualities. Imitation is the first principle of education.

"At the same time, progress is possible. The new generation need not be a mere repetition of the old. Under favorable conditions the children may achieve some advance over their parents. If they are better born, better cared for, better situated, and better educated, they may become better men and women. This is what every good parent hopes for and works for.

"There are many helpful organizations to assist fathers and mothers with their home education. The National Congress of Mothers and the Women's Clubs are of primary importance. Many localities have Mothers' Clubs, Parents' Clubs, Home and School Associations. These are

FIRE COMPANY LOSES OUT

Judge John R. McFie Passes on Provisions and Intent of 1909 Law.

Two important matters were disposed of today by Judge John R. McFie in the district court. In the matter of the Chama Land and Improvement Company against a number of settlers, brought for the partition and quieting of title to the Piedra Lumbre grant, situated near Abiquia, Rio Arriba county, the court appointed E. C. Abbott as referee to take proofs, make findings of fact and present conclusions of law with all convenient speed.

Mandamus Denied.

In the petition for a writ of mandamus by the Fire Company of the American Lumber Company at Albuquerque vs. Territorial Auditor W. G. Sargent, to compel the latter to issue a warrant in favor of the plaintiff for a certain amount of the territorial insurance fund, as had been the custom before the passage of the 1909 law, was denied. The case had been submitted on briefs, Attorney General Frank W. Clancy appearing for the Territory. The opinion by Judge McFie goes into the points raised at length. He holds that the Act of 1909 making specific appropriations to certain enumerated incorporated cities and towns in the Territory precluded the auditor from disbursing any of the insurance fund to fire companies in any other than the enumerated incorporated cities and towns. It did not therefore become his duty to issue a warrant on the insurance fund to the relator fire company as such which prescribed a new method, displacing the old method, for the distribution of aid to fire companies in incorporated places. Nor is the petitioner situated in any incorporated municipality, and the intent of the act is clearly that only fire companies so situated should benefit by the distribution.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Decisions handed down by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, hold for cancellation 22 entries embracing valuable coal lands in the Lander, Wyoming land district upon the ground that these entries were made fraudulently in pursuance of a conspiracy and by means of dummy entries. The lands were transferred to the Northwestern Coal Company and Owl Creek Coal Company, alleged to have been organized for the purpose of taking them over. About ninety-five hundred acres of coal land, valued at a million dollars, are involved.

ANDREWS AND MILLS HOPEFUL

But They Admit Statehood May Go Over to March 1913

HARD WORK BY DELEGATES

Few Realize How Adverse Is the Attitude of Congress.

Washington, Feb. 15.—No one outside of Washington can realize the energy and the delegates from New Mexico and Arizona, Messrs. Andrews and Cameron, have expended in the interests of securing statehood. The general impression of men who come from the west has been that these measures have come along in the usual process of legislation, and been taken up as a matter of course, but that is far from true. The real facts are that it has been, and almost solely to western push and bustle that statehood of either territory has been advanced to its present position. Men like Andrews and Cameron have formed the acquaintance of practically every law-maker in the capital, and long before they began pinning down members to the support of admission of the territories. "But I haven't time for anything but fortification" or "the tariff for New England is imperative," and just now "I can't think of anything but Canadian reciprocity," has been the way eastern members have responded to appeals for aid to statehood, and every time this sort of conversation is handed out here in Washington you can see Andrews or Cameron back the unwilling listener into a corner or against a pillar of the capitol, where he holds him until the story of the people of a territory revolves into his thinking apparatus. "You can't ignore a people blessed with the greatest natural advantages God has given to mortal man—its life and death for the people of our territory. We have simply got to have help." And before the member gets free he has agreed to help statehood, not because he has less interest in forts, tariffs, or reciprocity, but because the territorial delegate has made him listen to things he never takes time to read, and for the more potent reason that he has had forced upon him the strength of a man who is faithfully insisting with the aid of a strong personality in arguments which to him are so forceful as to almost breathe conviction. Arizona unfortunately has adopted a constitution that is being assailed by representatives and the press, and the battle that Delegate Cameron has won will all have to be fought over again, with the final result very much clouded. With New Mexico it is different, and statehood is assured. But the session is getting very short, and whether Mr. Andrews can secure the approval of Congress before March 4th looks doubtful. However, it is safe to say that with his long service in Washington, and with the universal friendship which he has among members, that he can do it, if the task is within the range of human possibility. The big appropriation bills are in the way, the Lorimer-Senatorship matter is a bone of bitter contention, and Canadian reciprocity is at white heat. To accomplish a side-step on the part of Congress to take up the New Mexico matter, is none too hopeful. Governor Mills, of New Mexico, arrived on the ground last week. He gave out an interview to a Washington correspondent that voices his doubts as to early final action.

"I am very hopeful that the constitution will be approved by the House at once, and have been told by Senator Dillingham that it has an excellent chance of going through the Senate at an early date," said Governor Mills. "It is a good constitution and I can see no reason for objection to any part of it by either Congress or President Taft. If it should not be approved at this session it will go over until 1912, when the President can declare the territory admitted. Should there be an extra session of Congress we hope to get favorable action then."

American Embassies.

After a ten year's struggle, the House has passed a bill providing for the purchase and construction of American embassies, legations, and consular buildings abroad. The Senate, which on several occasions in the past has adopted similar bills, is expected to ratify this action of the House. Representative Lowden of Illinois, author of the bill, led the fight for it, seconded by Mr. Longworth, of Ohio. "Mr. Longworth declared that there were only two ways of broadening the scope of the American diplomatic corps, and taking it out of the realm of the millionaire. One was to increase the salaries to enable a comparatively poor man to live on a scale with his colleagues, and the other was to provide him with a suitable house in which to live. "Failure to do either one of these two things," said Mr. Longworth, "has developed in this country an office-holding aristocracy, which is utterly repugnant to a Democratic form of government—an aristocracy that depends not upon birth, but upon the might of money."

THE DAILY ROUND UP.

To One I Love.

You are a stranger to the path I tread,
You know not at which crosses I have bled;
My life, you say, is like a closed book—
If you dare, if you are brave, dear, look!

Nay, do not weep; life is not made for pleasure,
And in the book is quoted many a measure
Of darkest anguish and of hopeless pain—
Dear, if it hurts so, do not look again.

I would not have you weep for me,
However, grieved and tried I be;
I love you when you're smiling best.
For cheer from you is my chief rest.

Then smile, beloved, and we'll forget,
The past is past and sunshine yet
May be in store for you and me,
There, smile, already calm I see!

It is likely the council will take favorable action on the petition.

Testing New Mexico Law Against Peddling.—A case in which the constitutionality of the territorial law governing peddlers, was brought into question was that of F. G. Charged with selling goods from samples in a house-to-house canvass for a Chicago grocery company, Wasman was arrested some time ago. He was fined $100 by Justice of the Peace D. R. Murray under the territorial statute. Wasman appealed the case. His attorneys set up the plea that the law under which Wasman was selling goods, permitted the selling of goods located out of the territory at the time the sales took place and said the right of merchants to send agents and salesmen into territory outside the state in which they are located, is defended by federal rulings.

Taken to Reform School.—Upon order of Judge Roberts, Russell China, of Las Vegas, was taken to the territorial reform school in Springer to serve a term of from one to five years. Young China was found guilty at the recent term of the district court of forging a check for a small amount and signing the name of Mrs. John Shank. He was placed in charge of Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Milligan, who offered to give the boy a home. However, he became unmanageable and it was necessary to send him to the reform school. Deputy Sheriff Enrique Sena took the boy to Springer.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on blood and mucous surfaces of system. RHEUMATISM
PURIFYING THE BLOOD
THE ONLY PERMANENT CURE

No case of Rheumatism was ever cured except by a thorough purification of the blood; just as long as the blood remains charged with fermenting uric acid poison, the painful disease will continue. The pains and aches of Rheumatism are simply superficial effects of the impurities in the circulation, and sometimes may be temporarily relieved by the application of plasters, liniments, hot cloths, etc. But the person who trifles with this dangerous disease by depending on local treatment alone, is certain to pay for the mistake with constant suffering later on. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to cure the disease. It goes down into the blood, and removes the uric acid from the circulation, so that the nerves, bones, muscles and joints are lubricated and fed with nourishing elements instead of being continually irritated and inflamed with the sharp, uric impurity. When S. S. S. has cleansed and purified the blood, the pains and aches cease, all inflammation disappears, stiffened muscles are made pliant, and every troublesome symptom of Rheumatism is permanently corrected. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.

OF FORT BENT.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 15.—Photographic enlargements of drawings of Fort Bent made more than sixty-five years ago by Lieutenant J. W. Albert of the corps of topographical engineers, U. S. A., form one of the most interesting group of exhibits the State Historical Society has had for some time. A photographic enlargement of William Bent, founder of the famous trading post, is included in the group. Ft. Bent was built in 1829, half way between the present sites of La Junta and Las Animas. Its walls were built of adobe, are six feet thick at the base and seventeen feet high. There are two large cannon shown in the picture, and also numerous holes made by rifle bullets. The lecture of William Bent is reproduced from a daguerreotype will hold its fifth monthly session war.

BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT

Its Origin And Its Spread to Four Corners of the Compass

FOR CHARACTER DEVELOPMENT

To Make Boys Self-Reliant, Helpful and Public Spirited.

(By Dr. E. McQueen Gray.)

In view of the interest evinced at present in Albuquerque in the Boy Scout movement, the following statement concerning the inception and aims of the original organization, which has now extended throughout the civilized world, and is regarded by competent observers as one of the greatest movements towards international peace that has ever been known, may not be untimely.

The Boy Scout movement started about three years ago—to be exact, in January, 1908—on the publication of a handbook written by General Baden-Powell, entitled, "Scouting for Boys." This book was written with the object of benefitting existing organizations in England, such as "The Boy's Brigade," "The Church Lads' Brigade," etc., and was a development of the idea that the training of army scouts might be made adaptable to boys.

But in addition to the adoption of the "Scouting for Boys" plan by the existing organizations a very large number of boys not belonging to any of them took up the idea also, so that the separate organization known as "The Boy Scouts" was formed in order to control and direct the movement.

The aim of the original organization is:

1. To give the boys a healthy and attractive pastime for outdoors and indoors, such as really appeals to them and at the same time develop in them the spirit of manliness and good citizenship.

2. To direct the practice of elementary back woodsmanhood and scoutcraft, which appeals to every body; to give character training, resourcefulness, self reliance, sense of duty, honor, pluck, thrift and self sacrifice.

3. The movement is not intended to be a military organization, nor does it confine itself to any one form of religion; it appeals equally to all classes, all creeds and all conditions without distinction.

4. Its aim is to develop good citizenship and healthy citizens. This is done by men who are interested in boys, acting sympathetically with them at the time when they require a helping hand, when they require to be aided in intelligent development, to be taught the enormous advantages of discipline, of self respect, of respect for their seniors, and also of kindness of heart.

5. Added to the principles above described is included the great principle that every boy should try to perform some kind act to somebody else every day.

Speaking at a dinner given in London a few weeks ago, the founder of the Boy Scouts movement, General Sir Robert Baden-Powell, made the following statement, among others, with regard to the objects of the organization.

"What we aim at is putting character into boys. There are three steps in the Scout movement: First of all, we make the boys back woodsman; we want to make them manly men and we find the boys turn out little men in no time. All this tends towards development of character. The second step is the teaching of some handicraft, so that the boys will not be without skill when they grow to manhood. One of our great aims is to get the boys to learn a trade. Our third idea is that of public service, of doing something without expecting reward for it. We have among the Scouts ambulance men, coast guards, firemen, missionaries to go among the sick, and many similar duties in which they can make themselves useful. They render aid at public functions of all kinds, form guards at processions, do ambulance work, and in emergencies they make themselves useful in all manners of ways. Numerous acts of heroism have been performed by Scouts. These include saving life at sea, stopping runaway horses, risking life in putting out fires, etc. Military training is not put at the front of our program; we are teaching boys to be good citizens, the main hope is to make boys into men, to give them a sense of honor and a feeling of loyalty."

It will be interesting to the citizens of the territory to know that the "Thanks Badges," which are awarded to those who especially assist in the movement is the "Swastika," which is described in the British report of the organization as expressing the following wish: May the four winds from the four corners of the world blow prosperity on you."

ANDREWS AND MILLS HOPEFUL.

Andrews and Mills, who had intended to resign his seat in the Senate, according to this report, the Illinois senator, convinced that the majority of the Senate would vote to declare his seat vacant, had decided to act up on the suggestion of some of his friends and get out. The probability of Mr. Lorimer's resignation has been discussed, and some of the Senators believe it will be announced within a few days. On the other hand, Mr. Lorimer is quoted as saying that a resignation would be a confession of guilt.

Postal Savings Banks.

If the postal savings bank system of the United States keeps up the pace it set in January, it will outstrip that of Great Britain in its most successful year, 1908. According to an announcement made by the postoffice department yesterday, the reports for January show that the deposits for the month will amount to about $60,000. There are forty-eight offices in operation so that the average per office is $1,200. If this average is maintained the year's aggregate will amount to about $750,000. This, the officials think, shows what may be expected if additional offices are established.

Lincoln Memorial.

A memorial to Abraham Lincoln to cost not less than two million dollars has been assured by the passage of Senator Cullom's bill by the House. A commission will have the matter in charge and the following distinguished gentlemen will compose the organization. Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the House; Senator Wetmore, of Rhode Island, and Representative McCall, of Massachusetts, chairman, respectively, of the Library Committees of the Senate and House; Senator Cullom of Illinois, the author of the bill, and Champ Clark, of Missouri, the prospective speaker of the House.

Senators By Direct Vote.

Senator Borah has made a great fight for his resolution for the election of Senators by a direct vote of the people, and as a result of persistent work on his part the measure was brought clearly before the Senate, so that it must be disposed of one way or the other.

Magazine Postage.

The much controverted question of whether magazines are paying the government a reasonable price for carrying the periodicals through the mails was disputed at length in the Senate committee on postoffices and post roads. The discussion was in connection with an amendment proposed to the postoffice appropriation bill which would increase from 1 to 4 cents a pound the rate on the advertising sections of magazines. The question of advancing the rate on magazine advertising was taken up at the White House. The president, it is said, supported the contention of the postmaster general that some action should be taken at the present session to aid the department in its efforts to reduce the postal deficit; that if the plan is adopted the postal deficit would fall $6,000,000.

New Mexico Delegation.

Charles A. Spiess and others from New Mexico are in the city urging the approval of the constitution by the present session of Congress. Governor W. J. Mills is at the head of the delegation.

Lorimer a Y. M. C. A. Man.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Screaming at the top of his voice that the "hounds of hell" together with the rich newspapers had entered into a conspiracy to ruin Senator Lorimer, Senator Bailey today made a most picturesque defense of the "blond boss," who is accused of obtaining his election through bribery. The galleries were packed by the biggest crowd of the session to hear the Texan's oration and he was frequently applauded.

great dramatic effect that "Lorimer's" habits were as perfect as a woman's and that while those who were assailing him were engaged in revels he (Lorimer) was making his home at the Y. M. C. A." The chamber shook with laughter.

EDITORIAL FLASHES.

Taft and J. Barleycorn.

Avoid it, pass not by it, turn from it and pass away, says President Taft in reference to the sparkling cocktail which gives it its color in the thin stemmed glass. One who abstains altogether avoids a dangerous temptation, says the president. Apparently he has realized the fallacy of the argument that a man must drink just to show that he can drink and get off with it. We agree with the president that the only proper way to resist the blandishment of old John Barleycorn is to keep him at a respectable distance. Evening papers please copy. —Albuquerque Morning Journal.

New Mexico Warriors.

It is amusing to listen to the war stories that are going the rounds these days.

Tom Tucker, Governor Curry, Oliver Lee, Ira Wetmore, Wm. Riley and others went over to see the lay of the land in the Orozco region.

They were straggling about, Mr. Tucker some distance in the rear and under a hill. The sharp whistle of a bullet caused him to look up, when he saw a picture not to be forgotten. On top of the hill Messrs. Curry, Lee, Wetmore, Riley and others were running and it was hard telling just how fast they did run.

It appears that the Federals took them for Rebels and took a few shots at them, the bullets splattering rocks about them.

It was moving time and heels and heads vied each other for top position.

They ran into Orozco's camp and borrowing some long range guns proceeded to return the salute.

Now these gentlemen are really veterans of a Mexican war.—Otero County Advertiser.

What the President Says.

Recent telegrams announce the following that Mr. Taft has to say concerning the evils of alcoholic drinks: "President Taft, in a letter dated December 29, 1910, and read in 3,000 Sunday schools in the United States, sounded the keynote of a total abstinence movement. The letter is addressed to the Sunday school pupils as 'My dear young friends,' and reads:

"The excessive use of intoxicating liquors is the cause of a great deal of the poverty, degradation and crime of the world, and one who abstains from the use of such liquor avoids a dangerous temptation. Abraham Lincoln showed that he believed this in writing out for his boy friends the pledges of total abstinence so often quoted. Each person must determine for himself the course he will take in reference to his tastes and appetites; but those who exercise self-restraint to avoid altogether the temptation of alcoholic liquor are on the safe and wiser side."

But this is not all. This poison is not only dangerous to the physical, moral and financial welfare of human beings, but the men who engage in this traffic at once constitute themselves deadly enemies of those who dare to say a word against their methods.

Their determination to ruin or rule has become so dangerous that there is not a single combination, not leaving out Standard Oil, the most tyrannical organization in the world, that furnishes more corruption funds to permit the whisky interests to control than the whisky or brewery combination, as it is known. Whenever a man or newspaper dares to oppose the methods of the whisky bruisers they are called bigots, fanatics and the like.

If Mr. Taft is telling the truth, and there is no question of it, as millions and millions can testify, the last combination that should be allowed to control any country, state, county or city is the whisky trust.—Albuquerque Tribune Citizen.

STOMACH TROUBLES

Cured by Vinol—Here is Proof: Seymour, Ind., "I was troubled with a chronic stomach trouble and five weeks ago it got so bad I had to give up work. I had tried various medicines without relief—and was finally induced to try Vinol. After taking the first bottle I was greatly benefited. Am now on the third bottle and ready to resume work. Am rapidly gaining in weight and strength." Edw. Nieman. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

It is the curative medicinal elements of the cod's livers, combined with the strengthening properties of tonic iron contained in Vinol which makes it so successful in restoring perfect digestion and at the same time it builds up the tired, overworked and run down system.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. The Another county movement is on foot. It is to make a new county out of the western part of Socorro; may go and may not go.

Is there any boodle in the Florida-Logan-Denning county scheme? Ask Lindauer when he comes up. What he does not know does not amount to anything.

Mr. Serapio Romero of Wagon Mound, at present chief deputy under U. S. Marshall Trinidad Romero, has been recommended to Governor Prince for appointment as territorial school superintendent.

Senator Ancheta is being sadly misled in the council. His bright, cheery and aggressive way of doing business and standing up for what he considered right were always acceptable; he is getting along well.

The Judiciary committee of the Council is a hard working body but when that committee assembles in Senator Catron's office the blinds are pulled down. The committee does not mind a little shooting but objects to too much of it.

Millions of Lives

An Awful Toll Collected by Consumption. Many Unnecessary Deaths

If people could only understand that systemic catarrh is an internal disease that external applications cannot cure, they would not need to be warned so often about this malady, which, when neglected, paves the way oftentimes for consumption, at the cost of millions of lives every year. Yet catarrh may be cured, if the right treatment is employed.

The only way to successfully treat catarrh is by employing a medicine which is absorbed and carried by the blood to all parts of the system, so that the mucous membrane or internal lining of the body is toned up and made capable of resisting the infection of consumption and other diseases.

We have a remedy prepared from the prescription of a physician who for thirty years studied and made catarrh a specialty, and whose record was a patient restored to health in every case where his treatment was followed as prescribed. That remedy is Rexall Muc-Tone. We are so positive that it will completely overcome catarrh in all its various forms, whether acute or chronic, that we promise to return every penny paid us for the medicine in every case where it fails or for any reason does not satisfy the user.

We want you to try Rexall Muc-Tone on our recommendation and guarantee. We are right here where you live, and you do not contract any obligation or risk when you try Rexall Muc-Tone on our guarantee. We have Rexall Muc-Tone in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Very often the taking of one 50-cent bottle is sufficient to make a marked impression upon the case. Of course, in chronic cases a longer treatment is necessary. The average in such instances is three $1.00 bottles. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Santa Fe only at our store, The Rexall Store, Fletcher Drug Company.

PURE WATER AND TYPHOID.

An impure water supply was blamed universally for the existence of typhoid fever. No one at this late day questioned this assertion of physicians at all. Now come German scientists however, and not only assert but prove, that the purification of a tainted water supply does not eliminate typhoid fever, does not even reduce the death rate from typhoid fever but it reduces infant mortality wonderfully. They also substantiate that the main, and perhaps only source of typhoid fever, is the house fly and its breeding places, manure and refuse piles. Therein lies a lesson for Santa Fe which has boasted of its immunity from typhoid for many years, arguing that since its water supply is unquestionably uncontaminated, there being not a single human habitation on the watershed, that therefore, as a matter of course, typhoid fever could not originate from it. But Santa Fe had overlooked its manure piles, its unsanitary back yards, its lack of sewer system and of late, it has suffered together with other towns in New Mexico, from typhoid and other infectious diseases. Santa Fe's slogan therefore should be "clean up, especially the manure piles." Says a dispatch from Hamburg, Germany:

"Scientists in Germany and throughout Europe are surprised at the results following the purification of the water supply of Hamburg. It was expected to eliminate typhoid. It did not accomplish that result, but it reduced instead the infant mortality one-third or more. The latest word from America, especially from the city of Washington, confirms the observations made here, namely, that purification of the water, whatever other good it may accomplish, will not banish typhoid. There is great rejoicing among sanitarians over the unexpected effect of water purification in saving infant life. Owing to the radical differences among public health authorities in Europe and America on the question of pasteurized milk, all classes of officials are hailing water purification as a measure of relief on which all factions can unite. It is now generally admitted that the milk question had been agitated everywhere to such an extent as to distract expert attention from the other sources of sickness and disease in cities and towns. In Hamburg, by water purification, the infant death rate has been reduced from 405 per 1,000 births to 210 per 1,000 births. In a city like New York, where there are 2,000 births a week, this would mean a saving of the lives of more than 17,000 infants a year. Similar conclusions have been reached in the United States by M. T. Sedwich and G. Scott MacNutt, who have collected figures to show a great improvement in the general death rate due to water purification."

THOSE UNGALLANT FRENCHMEN

Of course, no American gentleman would be so ungallant, as to assert that there are any ugly American girls. They are all beautiful, even if it is only because they are Americans. It is this gallantry of Americans of sticking up for the beauty of their countrywomen, that has given American girls such fame abroad for beauty. But once in a while, there comes disenchantment. An Ohio newspaper, after a subscription contest, sent to Paris, France, on a visit at its expense, the ten most beautiful girls of Ohio. At least the paper said they were the most beautiful and all Paris was in a tip-toe of expectation. But this is the outcome, according to a cablegram from Paris published yesterday:

"The French papers are making a great deal of fun of ten so-called American beauties whom an Ohio newspaper has sent to Europe after beauty. But once in a while, there comes disenchantment. An Ohio newspaper, after a subscription contest, sent to Paris, France, on a visit at its expense, the ten most beautiful girls of Ohio. At least the paper said they were the most beautiful and all Paris was in a tip-toe of expectation. But this is the outcome, according to a cablegram from Paris published yesterday:

"Those who were expected, and under the latter 'Those who came.' Among the ten photographed faces it may frankly be said that there are only three which an aesthetic critic, with any proper regard for truth, could fairly describe as handsome. French editors, with pretended shivers, have been exchanging paragraphs of satirical comment upon America's output of beauty."

DOES IT REALLY PAY?

One of the advantages of living in a "wide-open" town was demonstrated on last Friday evening at El Paso, Texas, when a well known and popular citizen was shot to death and robbed in the principal residence district. It was a bright moonlight night, the two thugs who committed the deed were no disguise, and yet, they escaped, to kill and rob some other citizen at the first opportunity. Says the El Paso Times: "Both the police and detective departments are efficient and faithful, but they have their limitations and both are taxed beyond their capacity to handle the conditions as they now exist." El Paso spends altogether for its police department alone as much as Santa Fe spends altogether for its city government. In Denver, also notoriously wide open, police last year made 14,000 arrests, most of them in the so-called "reservation," the "wide-open" part of the town. The tax payers bear the burden of these arrests, the cost of hearings and trials and the maintenance of jails, all because a certain per cent of depraved human beings maintain that the wide-open policy is necessary for their happiness and prosperity. Does it pay?

BLAME THE TARIFF.

"The high cost of living is coming down, at least as to some of the necessities of life, and that without any tariff tinkering. Those who have blamed the tariff are evidently on the wrong track. There are more potent forces at work than any tariff or any legislative provisions. The law of supply and demand is a backboneed phrase but in a competitive industrial world, it is the dominant factor. When weather is warm in Texas and the hens lay diligently, eggs are apt to drop in price, while in cold weather, when hens fail to lay, eggs are apt to be high, tariff or no tariff. Similarly with meat. When the range is good, cattle sleek and abundant, meat is apt to be cheap, while after a hard winter, scarce feed and reduction in the number of cattle, beef is apt to be beyond the reach of the poor consumer. It's all so simple that every one can understand despite the Democratic politician's weary cry that it is the tariff that is to blame for about everything that goes wrong in this country."

The following is from the Arizona Republican but it is just as applicable in Santa Fe as it is in Phoenix: "The annual campaign for members of the board of trade will be begun today. It ought to be crowned with the most satisfactory results, for there has been of late a growing recognition of the work of the board. Much that it has accomplished for the benefit of the city and the valley has not received the recognition it deserved. People have forgotten or else have never been informed of the part the board has had in so many movements which have gone to the up-building of this community. Many of these movements were given their impetus by the board, whose work was thereafter merged in co-operation with other forces which carried them along to completion."

It is probably the first time in the history of New Mexico, that an examination of candidates for admission to the bar of the supreme court takes place at any other city than Santa Fe. But the board of bar examiners, following the example set by the territorial board of pharmacy, has determined to go to the candidates seeking permission to practice in the territorial courts rather than have the candidates come to it, and therefore will leave Saturday for Roswell to hold an examination. Many a poor candidate will have a sigh of satisfaction because he is spared the railroad fare from Roswell to Santa Fe and back, before being able to secure a certificate that will permit him to apply in a practical way the legal principles he has imbibed.

A number of New Mexico newspapers the past few weeks have passed the twenty-first anniversary of their existence and plumed themselves with justifiable pride at being of age. The New Mexican, however, began Volume 48 yesterday and in two years will celebrate its jubilee by issuing a big number. By that time, it expects to be in its own building, which is planned to house the most modern and most extensive printing plant in the southwest. By that time, too, New Mexico will be a state, and the New Mexican, with due modesty, claims a little of the honor and the glory that will come to the commonwealth by reason of its being admitted to the sisterhood of the states.

It is well for Albuquerque to invest its time and agitate the proposed railroad from Farmington to the Duke City. It will hasten the day of the construction of a direct line from San Juan county to Santa Fe. The route has been repeatedly surveyed and reconnoitered. It is the only logical one and will give San Juan region an air line via Santa Fe and Roswell to the Gulf.

A COUNTRY OF BIG CITIES.

Germany is keeping close on the heels of the United States in population, even though its area is not quite that of Texas. If race suicide continues to increase in this country in the future as it has been growing in the past, Germany may yet some day again pass the United States in population. The last census gives Uncle Sam fifty cities of more than 100,000 people. Germany has 47 such cities according to the census just completed. Berlin, the capital of Germany, with its suburbs has a population of 3,750,000, which is equal to that of Chicago and Philadelphia combined. Hamburg, the second largest city, is within 64,000 of the million mark. Germany has five cities in the half million class, Munich 593,063; Leipzig 585,743; Dresden 546,882; Cologne 511,042; and Breslau 510,929, corresponding in population therefore with Boston, Baltimore, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and St. Louis. While Frankfurt with 414,406, Dusseldorf with 346,733, Nuremberg with 332,539 and Charlottenburg with 304,280 correspond with Detroit, Buffalo, San Francisco and Milwaukee. In Germany, as in the United States, the trend is to the cities, and Germany like the United States has colonies across the seas which add materially to the population of the Empire.

To a man up the tree it looks as if so much dust is being thrown into the air at the National Capital to prevent four things: Tariff revision. Reciprocity with Canada. Popular election of Senators. Statehood.

The more fuss is made over any or all of these issues, the more likelihood that all of them will fail and that the Republican party will have a pretty hard time of it to elect a President in 1912. What is more, the insurgents are as much to blame as the standpatners and the Democrats are not only laughing in their sleeves but they are helping to throw the dust.

The Bernalillo County Bar association has embarked on a political policy that portends a troubled and brief existence for it. It has decided to pass on candidates for public office and if three-fourths of the members favor such candidate, they will endorse him. Such an endorsement may be a heavy chain that the candidates will fight shy of, but whatever its value to the candidate, it is bound to bring strife and dissolution to the Bar association. There may be propriety in a Bar association endorsing a candidate for judicial office or court employment but beyond that is strife and chaos.

They are bound to come back to New Mexico. It is true that the drought has played havoc with many scientific farmers, but the drought was not confined to New Mexico but extended over the entire country. Says the Quay County Times: "During the past few weeks a number of old timers, who were lured to other climes by visions of prosperity and pleasure, have been returning to the Land of Sunshine, the glamour having worn off they have found that other parts of the country have their difficulties, and they have returned better satisfied than ever with San Jon."

"Is Marriage a Success?" is definitely answered in the affirmative by Nat Goodwin who has just been granted a fourth divorce. When asked, immediately after the verdict was announced which gives his fourth divorced wife half of the Goodwin fortune estimated at $1,000,000, whether he would not swear off marrying, he replied: "No, sir, I won't swear off, not in a hundred years." Surely a man who has tried four times and lost almost a million dollars in finding his soul mate, is competent to give evidence. If he is not discouraged under those circumstances, marriage certainly is a success.

The New Mexican's correspondent at Washington today confidently predicts statehood for New Mexico by March 4. The correspondent is on the ground, the editor isn't, and the former's judgment may be based on facts that have escaped the editor. Here is hoping that the correspondent is right in his optimism and the editor wrong in his pessimism. Two more weeks will tell the story.

The nature of the numerous battles which are being reported from Mexico, may be gauged from the following dispatch: "Somebody set off a few packages of fire crackers along Upton avenue and several telephone messages came at once stating that there had been an insurrection attack upon Juarez."

Clovis isn't quite five years old and the census already credits it with 3,255 people. How far ahead it will be of Santa Fe in ten years more, it is easy to predict, unless Santa Fe business and property interests get together and work for the ancient city's growth and progress unselfishly and energetically.

The 85,000 tax schedules have been distributed and if the county assessors and the boards of county commissioners do their duty, the taxable assessment of New Mexico in 1911 will aggregate at least a hundred million dollars and that of the city of Santa Fe at least one million dollars.

It is true that Chairman E. L. Hamilton of the House committee on territories is ill, but the Rt. Hon. Albert Beveridge, chairman of the Senate committee, is not ill. If he has the welfare of the territories at heart, it is up to him to get busy on the New Mexico constitution.

It would be adding insult to injury if the brave and renowned Francisco L. Madero were to be arrested by a Texas constable on a warrant such as is issued for the arrest of any ordinary criminal.

Will Greet Teddy—It seems certain that a number of Spanish War veterans from this city will go to Albuquerque March 15 to attend the dinner to be given Colonel Roosevelt. Among them will be Captain Fred Muller or "Fritz" Muller as he is known, to Mr. Roosevelt with whom he served in the Rough Riders. It is said that Col. Roosevelt has expressed the hope that Mr. Muller will attend the dinner.

Moon Car Home—The Moon car owned by E. S. Donnell has returned from Albuquerque. It seems the accident with which it met was less serious than at first supposed, and was due to the breaking of a lever that controlled the speed gear. The car was repaired and ready to start back at 2 p. m. Monday, but as the passengers had returned on the train, Mechanician Lewis remained over in the Duke City until yesterday.

LADY PALENTINE BEATS BLANCO BY A LENGTH.

Jockey Martin Roybal y Lujan From Start of Race Was an Unlucky Man—Big Crowd There.

Lady Palentine, owned by Sheriff Closson and ridden by Jockey Merrill Sowders beat Blanco, the white horse of Nicolas Quintana and ridden by Jockey Martin Roybal y Lujan of San Ildefonso, in a 550 yard race this afternoon. The course was one mile south of the United States Industrial School, and the horses ran southward instead of north, as formerly. More than 1,000 people were there to see the races, including Acting Governor Jaffa and many officials. People had come sixty to a hundred miles, and cheered lustily as Jockey Sowders waved his hand in defiance toward his adversary, between whom was a streak of daylight.

Jockey Lujan was shoeless and rode without a saddle. His steed seemed in splendid shape. But Lady Palentine was apparently in even better trim than before, and at no time did Blanco seem to have a chance. Even up to the 440-yard mark the white racer did not show that burst of speed which was predicted by turnmen.

The excitement before the race ran high because of two or three false starts, but finally the horses were placed neck and neck and began their course. A shout went up from the crowd and was followed by yells of "Clear the course" in Spanish and English. Intense interest led to such craning of necks and stepping out of line that the shouts of warning were well timed. Much money is said to have changed hands, although no odds were given.

Educational Directory.
The department of public instruction has issued the 1906-1911 Educational Directory of New Mexico, which is a neat booklet of some 120 pages and which contains a wealth of information about the teachers and their work in every county of the territory. One cannot only ascertain from this book the date of opening and closing of the term of the school, but also the name of the teacher, what grade certificate he or she holds and what salary is received.

The school census is also given and much other valuable information. The booklet will be sent to teachers and will serve no doubt as an incentive to seek higher positions presenting, as it does, the names of those now "at the top."

FOUR ASK TO BE FREED FROM FETTERS.

One Husband Is a Heavy Drinker; in Three Other Cases Wife is Defendant.

Two Gallop people filed actions for divorce yesterday at Albuquerque. Mason Ray asks for a divorce from his wife, Elizabeth Ray, alleging unfaithful conduct. The couple were married in Sopris, Colo., in September, 1907, and have no children. The wife is now a resident of Colorado. Elitha Clayburn asks for a divorce from her husband, Jerry Clayburn, on a charge of habitual drunkenness, it being alleged by the plaintiff that her husband has been a heavy drinker for three years past and treats her with cruelty, often beating her. The couple have not lived together since March 1908. Two children, a boy and a girl, are now being supported by the plaintiff and she asks that the court grant her a divorce and the custody of the children. An application for alimony and sufficient money to employ counsel to present a defense in a divorce case filed by her husband, was filed yesterday by Grace M. Reynolds. On February 3, Eugene Herbert Reynolds filed an action, asking a divorce from his wife. In the application for alimony yesterday, Mrs. Reynolds alleges that she has a good and meritorious defense and that her husband is not entitled to a divorce; that she has always conducted herself as a good, dutiful wife and has at all times and under all circumstances demeaned herself as a wife should; and she is anxious to make defense to the said action for divorce; but will be unable to do so unless she is granted alimony in sufficient amount to support herself and infant child pending the action, and is furnished with sufficient money whereby she can employ counsel to defend such action.

URGING A SANER FOURTH

"Less Noise and More Patriotism" Is a Good Slogan for America.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—For a saner fourth in 1911 than the sane fourth of 1910 and more of a celebration of Independence than an orgy of noise, the Chicago organization has got away early and energetically with a proclamation. Last year the Fourth was observed in Chicago with a historical pageant with a Washington, a Lincoln and real soldiers to the number of several thousand. But, "The historical pageant of 1910 projected by Prof. Francis W. Shephardson accomplished its splendid purpose," says the proclamation uttered after a conference at the Union League Club where patriotism always is a bubble, "yet it must not be forgotten that the fundamental purpose is the protection of life, limb and property through the promoters of a constructive, in lieu of a destructive, type of celebration of Independence day." It was decided that either a brilliant pageant or a band concert by the best band that can be secured shall be the attraction at Grant park, and every nationality participate in the downtown celebration and at the small parks and playgrounds. Folk songs and dances of various nationalities are to be given. For instance, if a playground is located in a Bohemian neighborhood the idea is to ask Bohemian societies to conduct the celebration. An attempt will be made to supply bands for all of the small parks and playgrounds.

Red Warnings.

Printed red "Warnings" to trespassers on the right of way of one railroad, in lieu of an enforceable statute against the use of railroad tracks as a thoroughfare, are being tried by the Fort Wayne & Wabash Valley Traction Company in Indiana. These "warnings" are thrown out by motormen to trespassers as they pass. According to the League for Public Safety they consist of printed slips in flaming red envelopes bearing the one word: "Warning." The text within is this: "All persons are forbidden to use the tracks or any portion of this company's right of way for footways or thoroughfares. The practice is dangerous and unlawful. All persons so doing are trespassers and will be prosecuted. The company is not liable for accidents or injury to trespassers." Regarding the effectiveness of the plan General Manager C. D. Emmons said: "While we cannot give any detailed cases as to results of the use of our warning, yet it is but lately that many of our motormen have stated to us that they way at this time cmetainhrduuuu feel it has done a great deal of good, and there is much less trespassing along our right of way at this time than there formerly was." The fact that nearly half of the killed and injured of the appalling casualty list of the steam and electric railways are trespassers, makes this phase of the problem of first importance. The league has been invited to send a representative to appear before the Iowa legislative committee to urge the need of anti-trespass laws in every state.

American Hog Tops Market.

The hog of Holland, Germany, Belgium, Austria Hungary, Italy, France, England and Scotland sells for less money than the American hog, according to F. C. Sawyer of the Chicago Board of Trade, who has spent several months investigating European markets for American "provisions" and other hog products. According to Mr. Sawyer's report the high price for the American hog reflected in the price of the products of the American porker is shutting out export trade. "It would not make much difference if our prices were reduced considerably as we would still be under-sold," Mr. Sawyer's report declares. "In some countries hogs are now two and three cents lower than in the United States. The Chinese hogs and hog products are getting to be an important factor in the European markets. China is coming to be a big factor in the provisions trade, and exports from that country are steadily increasing. The meats shipped are of good quality and there is less prejudice against them than formerly." Mr. Sawyer's investigations were very thorough in all of the European countries mentioned, and he found the situation about the same in all of them, the disparity of prices being in favor of the European hog. Mr. Sawyer went abroad in November, the report of the Department of Commerce and Labor for that month showing an alarming reduction in the exports of hog products as well as reductions of grain exports. The value of the hog products exported for the eleven months ending November had declined from $22,427,973 in 1908 to $20,450,672 in 1909, and then dropped to $16,374,246 in 1910. This loss of the foreign markets, owing to the abnormally high prices received by the farmers, has created a problem concerning the future prosperity of the country which bankers as well as farmers' organizations have taken cognizance of. The growth of population and home consumption in the United States rapidly is causing the loss of exports of all forms of food products, and this will have, economists believe, an important bearing on the future cost of living which no other consideration can affect.

Low Passenger Rates.

The Atlantic seashore resorts were brought closer to Chicago for mid-summer use this year by the probability that the expected high passenger rates will not materialize and the West will be able to journey to the seashore at the low rates that usually prevail. This situation was brought about by the Grand Trunk railway which refused to join the other roads

In putting a higher price on east bound summer travel than heretofore, The Grand Trunk has given definite notice to the other eastern roads of its intention to "stand pat" on the reduced summer tourist rates of last year to New England and Canadian destinations. Summer tourist rates on all of the eastern lines during the last two years have been made practically on the basis of a fare and a third for the round trip, but at the meeting of the Central Passenger Association during the week it was proposed to advance the rates to a fare and a half. As the Grand Trunk announced it would continue its rates to New England points, it is becoming generally accepted that the rates to New York and New Jersey sea coast resorts cannot be raised because some of the roads reach both districts, and roads like the Erie, reaching only New York, insist on making as low a basis of rates to New York as the others do to any point.

False Standards.

American art and literature is being warped by false standards of living held by artists and literateurs, Hamlin Garland declares, and he threatens to go back to a farm in Wisconsin—from whence he came, striving for the flesh-pots—with porterhouse steak in them instead of cheaper cuts—is doing great damage, he says. "American art is being weakened, warped, held back by our fancied need of living where rents are high and gold abundant," says Mr. Garland. "We are nearly all slaves of rent. I myself should be living on a farm in Wisconsin or in a tent in Colorado, instead of luxury in one of the finest hotels at a banquet of the 'Cliff Dwellers,' an organization born of flat life in the city. 'We love money, not as misers love it, but as children love it,' mourned Mr. Garland. 'We love it for what it will buy. In this sense we are all money grabbers. We are all struggling to lift ourselves from the $10-a-week class to the $80-a-week level. We love automobiles and sealskin coats, the course dinners and private railway cars because they minister to the pride and glory of life. In all this you and I are involved. There are few artists of my acquaintances who are not living recklessly close to their income or who are not pandering to some degree to the wealthy patron.'

Stir Up Hornet's Nest.

To stir up a hornet's nest with neatness and dispatch in Chicago one has but to protest against relief of the congestion on street cars and the "L" by the subway, for which plans have now been completed. President Charles V. Weston of the South Side Elevated company tried the experiment by protesting publicly that a subway should wait until the elevated roads were more prosperous. Immediately he became aware of the hornets. What he said was this: "The building of additional tracks for the elevated roads may soon be necessary, but as soon as they have been built there will be use for either a subway or more elevated tracks within the area lying between Twenty Second street and Chicago avenue and the lake and Halsted street. But before the city enters extensively into the building of subways it must have an enormous density in population, because the financial side of the problem must be met, and the density of traffic on each mile of the line is the factor which determines the financial failure or success of urban transportation. I think I may confidently assert that Chicago with its surface, elevated and steam lines is better equipped with transportation facilities than any other city of equal density in population in this country or in Europe." What the hornets said was like this, by the Chicago Post: "The gentleman who happens to be the president of the next to the worst of the elevated railroads declares that Chicago is not yet ready for a subway. Weston, with an artlessness that belongs to a vanished order of things, . . . lays down the principle that we must hurl ourselves into the packed cars with greater initial velocity, we must 'hunch up' a little closer, we must go through a sterner punishment before we can have any hope of freedom. In reply, we would say to Mr. Weston that the people of this town are determined that the hideous old 'Loop' shall come down and that with its removal shall come in the swift, silent, capacious subway."

$25 REWARD.

The city of Santa Fe will offer $25 reward for information that will convict any one of breaking any of the city's street lights.

ADVERTISE!

YOUR SALESMAN may speak to twenty persons a day praising your wares. HE BRINGS YOU BUSINESS.

YOUR ADVERTISEMENT in the NEW MEXICAN speaks to thousands every day. IT IS BOUND TO BRING YOU BUSINESS.

THE SUBSCRIBERS to the local paper are the prosperous people of your town. THEY ARE THE PEOPLE WHO BUY.

YOUR ADVERTISEMENT in the local paper helps to build the town. The outside judges Santa Fe by the advertisements in its local papers.

It is a BUSINESS MAXIM universally accepted that advertising pays. That is, if it is done right.

PEOPLE READ ADVERTISEMENTS. Let the "New Mexican" place in its most obscure column that you are selling sugar at one cent a pound and your store tomorrow will not hold its customers. Advertise calico at one cent a yard and you will have to telegraph to your wholesale house for car-load lots.

YOU CAN STIMULATE BUSINESS BY ADVERTISING. Today no business will increase permanently unless by some method of advertising. The fool in his heart will say that there is no virtue in advertising but the wise man knows that the fool is deceiving himself.

AN ADVERTISEMENT in the "New Mexican" DRAWS LIKE A POROUS PLASTER. It cannot fail if it advertises the right goods at the right price.

THE NON-PROGRESSIVE MERCHANT is noted by the fact that his advertisement does not appear in the local papers. The sheriff has an eye on his business and his credit must be poor.

LAST YEAR, the "New Mexican" took in $12,000 in subscriptions. The readers who had that much for the local paper have as much for your store but you must let them know that you are doing business, where, and how you are doing it.

THE ADVERTISING RATES in the "New Mexican" are but a fraction of the rates in other cities. It is untrue that you cannot afford to advertise; the fact is when you feel that you cannot afford to advertise, you cannot afford NOT to advertise.

The "New Mexican" goes into the homes of Santa Fe and it reaches every post office in New Mexico

It pays to advertise in the

TRY IT!

A Mighty Ruler, He

Who wisely rules himself

Curious what a scrap you have now and then (maybe two or three "nows" and several "thens") with what the old Scotchman called the "deevlish part" of your make-up.

It's safe to say "you" and not miss the mark, for we all belong to the same lodge, and it seems to be a part of some great plan to try us out and see if we can thus earn the right to rule greater things.

Most every day some one of the many "warriors of the enemy" comes across your pathway and puts up a scrap to see if he can rule.

You must be well trained and alert or he will make you bend the knee or, perhaps, break a leg or permanently cripple you.

There are several of these "enemies" which can be named over, but for the purpose of this article let us speak of the narcotics, the family which includes morphine, whiskey, coffee, cocaine, tea, tobacco, etc., all the same family, each member having a different degree of strength.

Now, coffee is perhaps one of the most plausible and deceitful of them all.

It has many friends, but coolly and cunningly knives them, and they don't know where the blow comes from.

Many and many a poor, nervous wreck, with weak heart, suffers by day and lies sleepless at night without suspecting that his "dear old friend," Mr. Coffee, is quietly pushing him along towards the silent city. No, coffee don't hurt everyone by any manner of means, but it does pick out the highly organized individuals and wrecks them by the score.

Perhaps the victim realizes it, but has fallen-time and again in the battle and been whipped so often that he has given up and bowed the head to the chain of his master.

"I simply cannot give up my coffee," is the wail, and so day by day he grovels and the master stretches him a few turns tighter on the rack of suffering.

Make sure of one thing. Once you become conscious of the fact that a fight is on, suffering follows steadily until you are able to rule.

Then comes the reward—comfort, health and happiness for the victor.

It is good work to stand right up and smash away with a "mailed fist" but it's much more comfortable to whip Mr. Coffee by throwing him "right over the side of the mountain" and give his place to Postum.

A steaming, fragrant cup of this famous beverage has the clear seal-brown color which changes to a rich golden brown under cream.

Often the victory of one's better self over a known enemy is followed quickly by remarkable changes—peaceful sleep, balanced nerves, stronger heart, and all the joy which comes after the removal of a drug and its replacement with natural food elements which old Dame Nature is only too glad to seize upon for the building material so badly needed and so long denied.

Well, here's best wishes to you, reader. Hope you don't get "licked" too often, it's weakening.

"There's a Reason."

SEWER SYSTEM. IS PRACTICABLE

It Would Not Cost Taxpayers
More Than 43 Cents For Front Foot

AMALGAMATION OF CLUBS

Y. M. C. A. Building Is Suggested
To House All of Them.

At the meeting of the Santa Fe Board of Trade, presided over by Dr. J. A. Rolls last night, matters of vital interest to Santa Fe were discussed, including a sewerage system for this city, the amalgamation of the two commercial bodies into one with a paid secretary to look after the business and the erection of a Y. M. C. A. building to house all of the clubs. The committee appointed to look over the plans for a sewerage system for Santa Fe as proposed by Engineer Smythe reported that four engineers had gone over the proposition carefully and all four agreed that such a system could be installed at a cost of 43 cents per front foot to be paid by the property owners. This is slightly higher than the original estimate of 40 cents per front foot but is said to be a safe estimate.

Dr. Rolls expressed satisfaction at the report and said he hoped that Santa Fe will enjoy the boon of an up-to-date sewerage system at a very early date.

J. W. Norment read a paper on the consolidation of the two commercial bodies, the Santa Fe Board of Trade and the Santa Fe Commercial Club.

Attorney Edwin Kerr formerly of Washington and now in the forestry service here delivered an interesting address on a Y. M. C. A. for Santa Fe. Mr. Kerr has been prominent in Y. M. C. A. work in the east and he feels keenly the absence of a Y. M. C. A. in the capital of the new state. He suggested that a building be erected for the Y. M. C. A. and to house also the Commercial Club and the social clubs of Santa Fe. Mr. Kerr spoke at length and aroused a good deal of interest.

The board transacted much routine work, listened to many reports and then adjourned after the appointment of several committees.

A committee was appointed consisting of J. W. Norment, L. B. Vickroy and Dr. J. A. Miller to take up with the Farmington Board of Trade the proposed construction of a railroad from Farmington to Santa Fe by way of Canon Largo and the Chama valley to connect with the New Mexico Central at Santa Fe and then push on to Roswell and the Gulf. The committee on sewer was instructed to take up with Mayor Arthur Seligman and the City Council the preliminaries for installing a complete sewer. It is felt that a sewer system must be constructed sooner or later and it might as well be sooner, at least the preliminaries should be arranged so that when the time is ripe for construction that no delay occurs.

filed a suit in the district court yesterday asking for a divorce.

Trujillo claims that in August, 1897, his wife expressed a desire to go from Las Vegas to Albuquerque to visit a sister, the pair then residing in Las Vegas, where they had been married in 1894. Like the good and dutiful husband that Trujillo claims he was he purchased his wife a ticket, being careful to buy a round trip pasteboard. That was the last time Trujillo ever set eyes on his dear wife. When she failed to return to Las Vegas, Trujillo came to Albuquerque and began a search for her, which to this day, fourteen years later, has been entirely unsuccessful. The sister with whom Mrs. Trujillo was to visit in Albuquerque, has been and is unable to give information concerning her whereabouts, claiming that she never came to her house.

His patience being exhausted after waiting fourteen long weary years for the return of his wife, Trujillo has at last arrived at the conclusion that his wife has abandoned him and in the suit filed yesterday asks a divorce on the ground of abandonment.
