LAS VEGAS.

From the Optic.

From the Optic.

A. R. Quinly is again on duty after a few days at home nursing a severe cold.

The Agua Fria company is gradually releasing the water from the large ice dams up the hot springs canyon and in consequence the river is full and accipies are overflowing.

Mrs. Chas. Dunn and babe are down with measles, as is also Jeff Keen. Mrs. Dunn and Mr. Keen went down to Santa Fe last week to see a sick relative and they think that the disease was contracted either on the train or while in the capital.

Felicitia Vianneva, wife of Antonio Gallegos, died at La Cuesta last Thursday of quick consumption. The deceased was a young woman scarcely out of her teens, when the grim reaper called. She was related to prominent people on the west side, who were shocked to hear of her death. She left Las Vegas less than a year ago a healthy, blushing bride.

Grip, neuralgia, rheumatism and bad colds are prevalent.

Mrs. Chas. Jones is reported to be quite sick at Beulah, she having taken down with the grip last week.

Elliott Barker killed another lion out at Beulah day before yesterday. This makes the third lion killed out there within a week, the boys having imitated the president in the most approved fashion.

S. L. Barker, wife and small children came down from their Beulah home recently. Mr. Barker had the misfortune to chop his foot with an axe last week, and although the cut seemed slight at the time, it became inflamed and has caused him so much pain that he came to the city to have it attended to.

Complaint is made that there is a gang of school boys who delight in insulting strangers on the streets, throwing such epithets as tenderfoot and sometimes stones and mud. They may think the practice smart but a sentence of a few days in the city jail would help their manners considerably.

Ed Todhunter and wife went up to Watrous on a visit to N. Fetterman and family, who are reported sick at their ranch near Watrous.

Ramon Dodge, an old timer here, and at one time engaged in business in this city, but who has made his home at Puerto de Luna for quite a number of years, died down there on March 7, aged 50 years. Thus do the old land marks pass, one by one.

The native woman who gave birth to triplets on the west side about a week ago is in destitute circumstances, and has not sufficient food in the house to nourish the little ones. Indeed, when Mrs. Dr. Miller called there yesterday she found only a five year old girl in attendance, with no fuel in the house, no provisions and not even enough clothing to protect the unhappy babes from the cold.

From the Record.

The fire boys who sleep in the city hall complain that the dances and parties given in that building interfere to large extent with their slumbers.

J. M. Russell, the tailor, while out duck hunting at Kroenig's lakes sprained his foot badly and was traveling with difficulty as a result.

Miss Ada Hall, waitress at the Castaneda, who has been ill with pneumonia for some time past, has recovered sufficiently to resume her duties at that locality.

Gene Joquel is now carrying the six days a week horseback mail from this city to Los Alamos, whence it is taken by another carrier to Sapello and Rociada.

A citizen was overheard to remark yesterday, and he evidently meant what he said, that he would draw his individual check for $500 and present it to Dr. E. L. Epperson of the new electric line, so soon as the new trucks for the street cars arrive and the first car makes a trip to the hot springs and return.

In the suit in chancery of Geo. W. Stonerod, et al., against Wm. P. Beck, et al., which is an old litigation which involves the Preston Beck grant near Cabra Springs, A. A. Jones has been appointed receiver for the purpose of leasing and letting the lands and for making improvements thereon, so as to make the property of more value than it is at present.

Willard Spate and his accomplished wife, entertained some fifteen or more of their friends at four handed euchre in a most hospitable manner.

Walter Pratt returned from Santa Fe, where he went to take the examination before the territorial board of pharmacy. He passed the examination with flying colors at the head of the class and is now a full fledged pharmacist.

J. C. Bromagren ventured out in the genial sunshine for a short time today.

Mrs. S. York reached her 70th birthday, and is hale and hearty for one of her advanced years.

Serapio Martinez, et al., have sold to Appel Bros. forty-one varas of valuable agricultural land near Los Torres, for the sum of $41.58.

Francisco C. de Baca has sold his house and lot on Pacific street, Las Vegas, opposite the residence of Benigno Romero, to Maria C. de Baca de Sena, for the sum of $800.

Mrs. W. H. Manderfield and daughters, Cyril and Eugenia, mother and sisters of E. H. Salazar, the popular west side postmaster, and his son Isaurito, arrived on the flyer from a visit to Philadelphia of five months' duration.

The Las Vegas fire department held a meeting and attended to several matters of interest. Harry Wells tendered his resignation as chief on account of his soon leaving the city, which was accepted and James M. Cook was elected in his place.

SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.

Francisco Mallen, Mexican consul at El Paso, Texas, and a very agreeable and well informed man, is visiting the capital of New Mexico.

Mrs. Frances Seligman and son, Hon. Arthur Seligman, arrived from Philadelphia. They were accompanied by Mrs. Fannie Briton, of Cleveland, Ohio. Mrs. Arthur Seligman met them at Las Vegas and returned with them.

Alejo Ortiz, a ranchman in the southeastern portion of the county died Sunday afternoon at La Canada de Alamos, a small settlement in that section. He was about 65 years of age and leaves a large family. The remains were brought to this city for interment. The funeral took place from the cathedral where mass was celebrated. Interment was made in Rosario cemetery.

Thomas C. Hall, of Hillsboro, who has for the past ten years served the county of Sierra as its probate clerk, and who justly enjoys the reputation of being the best county official in the territory, is visiting the capital. Mr. Hall was here in 1881 and this is his first visit since that time. He finds his visit very interesting and enjoyable.

C. T. Brown, mining engineer, and who is the manager of the Mines Development association, owning and working extensive mineral properties near Fairview, Sierra county, is in the city. He will leave tomorrow morning for Denver and Joplin, Mo. Captain A. B. Fitch, manager of the Graphic and Ida Hill mines at Kelly, Socorro county, will meet him at Lamy and will accompany him to Denver and the east, at which place ores from the Graphic mines are now being treated. Mr. Brown being interested with Captain Fitch therein.

GALLUP.

From the Republican.

Mrs. Alf Goodrich has returned from Albuquerque.

Miss Lou Bolton, of Albuquerque, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. L. L. Henry.

Jake Tratinick is having the front of his saloon building painted, which greatly improves its appearance.

W. H. Burlage, deputy sheriff at Clarkville, expects to make a trip through southern Arizona soon.

One case of diphtheria is reported in town. Mrs. Virginia Masero being the unfortunate person, but the disease is in a mild form and it is hoped that none of the rest of the family will have it.

The base ball season promises to be a lively one for Gallup, as there are several clubs in the neighborhood, and all are getting ready for business. The briquette plant, round house, Gibson, Clarkville, Fort Wingate and Gallup will have good teams for the coming season.

Ed. Compton is in town recently, and reports his oil well down about 350 feet, and that water stands within thirty feet of the surface. This proves that plenty of water for irrigating purposes can easily be had in the vicinity of Gallup. We understand that considerable boring will be done on oil lands in this vicinity the coming season.

Rev. W. Fletcher Cook, who has been stopping in the city for the past two weeks and who has been occupying the pulpit at the Episcopal church most acceptably on two or three occasions, left for Old Mexico points.

The cavalry boys have made arrangements to decorate the Montezuma casino the night of their dance, March 17, in a most artistic manner.

The troop colors and crossed sabers will be the main background for the decorations, which will bring forward with distinction the other modes of decoration, and without doubt the hall will present a most pleasing view to the eye on that night.

Landed in Penitentiary.

Sheriff Carlos Baca, Valencia county, has taken to Santa Fe and placed in the penitentiary a convict named Augustin Via, sentenced at the last term of court of Valencia county for criminal assault upon his little sister in law to seventeen years and six months in that penal institution. The extreme penalty of the law is twenty years' imprisonment and Via received nearly the full penalty as the circumstances connected with the case were very brutal.

Hon. M. S. Otero, whose large property interests extend in both Bernalillo and Sandoval county, went to Santa Fe this morning.

ABOUT CHIEF ARTHUR.

He is a Man of Many Interesting Personalities.

The Houston Daily Post publishes the following concerning P. M. Arthur, grand chief of the International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who figures in the Wabash strike situation: "Picture to yourself a short little man with the kindest of kindly blue eyes, with snowy white hair and short, close-cropped beard; a man who would seem to be the 79 that he is, but who walks with the step of 30; and above all a man with a handshake whose warmth would make you feel that you had known him all your life—and you have Grand Chief P. M. Arthur of the International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers."

"Chief Arthur is only a little man from one standpoint—that of stature. It is his bigness that impresses you most. He doesn't force that impression upon you by any means, in a chat of, say, five minutes, but there is a quiet something about him that suggests the hidden force of the man of action—the man who does things."

"In short, he is to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers what a main spring is to a watch or a propeller to the ocean grayhound."

"He doesn't dominate—though he is undoubtedly the dominating spirit of that body, and has been so for twenty-nine years—he just leads."

"Every sentence he utters suggests conservatism, coupled with good, sound, practical, common sense. He doesn't rush into print with any frippery, and his organization might have under consideration. Neither does he avoid the interviewer, but he makes you feel in his quiet, earnest way, that whatever he might have to say should not be wrongfully misconstrued or misunderstood."

Retail Merchants Association.

A meeting was held by the Retail Merchants Association last night over Zeiger's Cafe and the annual election of officers took place. The officers elected are:

President—T. G. Pratt.
Vice President—F. J. Wilson.
Treasurer—M. Mandell.
Secretary—W. Moore Clayton.

The executive committee consists of the following gentlemen: J. A. Hubbs, William Farr, John S. Beaven, Henry Brockmeier, F. G. Pratt, J. F. Wilson and Mike Mandell.

The regular routine of business followed the election of officers, which was the only matter of importance before the meeting.

Gigantic Pic Social.

The ladies of the Non-Sectarian Benevolent society will give a pie social Monday evening, March 16, in the room, 311 West Railroad avenue, next to the Postoffice billiard hall, from 7:30 to 10 o'clock. Admission, 10 cents, including pie and coffee.

WOOLEN MILLS.

The Big Albuquerque Enterprise Now Ready for Business.

FEW INTERESTING FACTS.

The first piece of cloth ever produced in New Mexico was turned off the looms at the Rio Grande Woollen Mills yesterday.

The wool from which the cloth was made was brought from Merced Montoya, of Montecello, N. M., and went through all the various processes at the Rio Grande mills until it is now a finished product.

A citizen reporter called at the mills, which have just begun operations and was shown through the spacious building by Secretary H. B. Ray, who pointed out and explained all the different steps through which the wool must go until it is a finished cloth product ready for the market.

John H. Bearup is president and treasurer of the new industry, which means the beginning of a new era of progress and commercial development for Albuquerque. J. C. Forger is vice president and superintendent, and H. B. Ray is the accommodating secretary.

The Rio Grande Woollen Mills company, besides being extensive dealers in wool, and pelts, are manufacturers of fancy cassimeres, dress goods, blankets and clothing. A department will be devoted to the manufacture of leather clothing, Angora and sheep skin rugs, capes, moccasins, etc. Already they are working on large orders for leather clothing.

The office building stands south of the mills facing toward the Mountain road. It is roomy and the white walls and newness renders it cheerful and welcoming.

Between the office and mills are several long deep vats made from cement. In these are placed the hides as they are brought. The vats contain a brine or lye that loosens the wool, and softens the hides, after which they are ready for the large tanning vats, eight in number. The skins are thrown in these vats after the wool is removed, and are then ready for the tanning process. Next to the tanning vats are a row of vats for dyeing the wool. Along the north side of the building are two scouring machines, of the latest modern improvement. The wool is run into the machine just as it is received from the ranches. After it goes through several machine tubs of boiling water it comes out free from dirt, grease or odor. As soon as the wool has left the scouring machines, clean and white, it is placed in the drying machine, which is an automatic self feeder. The wool is fed on a wide wire apron running through the dryer, heated by steam. It requires about eight minutes for the wool to pass from one end to the other where it comes out dry and clean, ready for the carding machine. The second floor is covered with complicated machinery, beginning with the carding of the wool, taking in the spinning of the yarn and the weaving of the cloth. The most interesting machines in this room are the machines which take the loose wool and card it ready for the spinning process. There are two sets, each set comprising three different machines, each one making the roll of wool smaller and more compact. It finally comes out ready for the spinning mules. There are four of these spinning mules, each containing 464 spindles, which draw the loose rolls of wool harder and tighter, until the wool being wound on the spindle is a strong, kinky, bristling yarn, whose little filaments hold the wool strands in a vice like grip as the spinning progresses. The evolution from the raw wool to the looms is most interesting. At the east end of the room are ten large looms, which have not yet been put in active operation. However, they will be weaving cloth in at least two weeks. It requires some time to spin enough yarn to keep the looms running all the time. A number of cloth weavers are expected from the east in a short time, and as soon as they arrive the looms will be put in operation. To try the looms one piece of cloth was woven yesterday, and it is viewed with great pride by the firm, as it has a historical bearing—the first cloth produced in the territory, from material grown in New Mexico. It will be only a short time until the weaving of fancy cassimeres, dress goods, blankets and clothing will be carried on day after day. The people of New Mexico will have an opportunity to see the wonderful production of cloth and clothing right at home.

On the top floor a dozen or more wool sorters divide the wool into different grades, which go to making the various grades of cloth. From their hands it passes to the duster, which knocks out about twenty-five pounds to the hundred of dirt. From this machine it drops to the first floor, where it goes into the scouring machines, which have already been mentioned. A department for the manufacture of Angora and sheep skin rugs, cloaks and capes has been established on this floor. Several tailors are working now making leather suits, for which they have a great many orders. The company placed an order for twelve sewing machines this week, and an equal amount of help has been contracted for. All the sewing machines are run by electric motors. In fact every piece of machinery in the mills is run by an individual motor, of which there are ten or twelve.

The tailor department on the top floor has already assumed an active appearance and with the addition of the twelve sewing machines, they will turn out quite a number of leather suits, and other leather goods. The engine room occupying the same building as the office, contains two large boilers, which furnish the hot water and steam used in the scouring process. All the motive power is obtained from electric motors, the power coming from the city electric light plant. Next to the boiler rooms are the picking rooms, in which foreign matter is separated from the wool. These machines run very rapidly and on account of the inflammable nature of the wool, it passes from the machine into a vault, built entirely of cement. The floors of the machine rooms are likewise of cement. If a nail or piece of steel should get into the machine, a spark would be enough to cause a blaze, but with the precautions at hand the fire could not spread. In a couple of weeks the mills will be in full operation, weaving cloth and manufacturing articles of great worth.

The city of Albuquerque has every reason to feel proud of this modern home industry.

SUMMARY OF THE ELKINS BILL.

What the Provisions Are of the New Railroad Law.

The following is a summary of the Elkins bill recently enacted by congress, and which has caused so much agitation in railroad circles:

Section 1.—This law makes the railway corporation (common carrier) subject to the penalties prescribed in the old interstate commerce law, as well as under this act.

2. It declares to be a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $1,000 to $20,000 for each offense, to—

(a) Wilfully fail to file and publish tariffs, both freight and passenger. (b) Wilfully fail to observe such tariffs while in force.

3. It is made a misdemeanor subject to a penalty of $1,000 to $20,000, for any person, persons or corporation to offer, grant, give, solicit, accept or receive any rebate, concession or discrimination in respect of the transportation of any property in interstate or foreign commerce by any common carrier subject to the interstate commerce law, whereby any such property shall be at a less rate than that named in the tariffs published and filed by such carrier, or whereby any other advantage is given or discrimination is practiced.

4. Imprisonment provided for under the old law in cases of discrimination is abolished and affects offenses both before and after the passage of this law.

5. Violations of the foregoing provisions may be prosecuted in any court of the United States having jurisdiction of crimes within the district in which the violation was committed, or through which the transportation may have been conducted.

6. The act, omission or failure of any officer, agent or other person acting for or employed by any common carrier acting within the scope of his employment, shall be deemed to be the act, omission or failure of such carrier, as well as that of the person; but where a shipper is a corporation, the act of its authorized agent is, of course, the act of the corporation.)

7. Whenever any carrier files or publishes a particular rate or participates in any rate so filed or published, that rate is conclusively deemed the legal rate in any prosecution, and any departure or offer to depart from such rate is an offense.

Section 2.—In proceedings before the commission or in courts to enforce the law, all persons interested in or affected by the rate, regulation or practice under consideration may be included and orders and decrees made against them.

Section 3.—When the commission believe the carrier is carrying passengers or freight at less than the published rate on file or is committing any discriminations forbidden by law, it may institute proceedings in the United States circuit court having jurisdiction and the court shall summarily inquire into the matter without formal pleadings or proceedings applicable to suits in equity and make other persons or corporations party thereto as may be necessary; and the court, on being satisfied of the truth of the allegations, shall enforce observance of the published tariffs and require the discontinuance of the discrimination, which orders may be enforced against parties interested in the traffic, as well as against the carrier.

Whenever the attorney general shall direct, the several district attorneys of the United States shall institute the proceedings provided for.

The courts are given the power to compel the attendance of all witnesses, and to compel the production of all books and papers, both of carrier or shipper, which relate directly or indirectly to the transaction; but no person shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture on account of any transaction or matter concerning which he may testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise.

The provisions of the Sherman anti-trust act to expedite the hearing and determination of suits in equity and of any acts which may be passed for a like purpose, shall apply to any case prosecuted under the direction of the attorney general in the name of the interstate commerce commission.

FEDERAL PRISONER.

Some Old Lights on the Life of Moreen W. Jurens.

From Denver Republican, March 9.

Moreen W. Jurens, whose euphonious name, natty attire and mesmeric eye, as he describes himself, conquered many shy maidens in Denver during the last two years, failed to show equal powers over the officers of the law. Therefore Moreen is under arrest at Albuquerque, N. M., and will be brought to Denver in due course, charged with two offenses—using the mails to defraud and forgery.

Postoffice Inspector Charles Doran arrested Jurens at Albuquerque Sunday night. The federal authorities had been searching for the young man since January 25. When he departed from Denver Jurens left behind a draft that he is accused of having taken from a letter addressed to another person. Payment of the draft had been stopped, however, though Dolph Dornedien, proprietor of the Colander billiard hall, had honored it for the face value, $150. When the case was reported to Postoffice Inspector Sullivan, Glen G. Latimer, chief clerk in the local office, attended to the Denver end of the case, and Inspector Doran began a search for the absent young man.

Jurens is said to have taken a few moments of his abundant leisure to invite a letter to T. B. West, of Soldier, Kan., an honest and somewhat credulous tiller of the soil. The postoffice inspectors say that Jurens informed the Kansas man that he needed just $150 to make possible a profitable investment of a sum that would be completed by $1,000 of his own. Mr. West had read of the prosperity of Denver, and knew that real estate investments, which was the class of deal the letter mentioned, were certain to yield a profit if properly made. So he sent a draft for $150.

But Mr. West took a precaution. He did not desire to be left without redress. Instead of making the draft payable to Jurens he made it payable to that young man and a woman acquaintance who resides in Denver. It is claimed by the letter, which was addressed to the federal authorities that Jurens obtained the letter containing the draft, which was addressed to the woman, and that he presented the paper, duly endorsed, to Dornedien. The cash was forthcoming.

The letter was rescaled and placed in the postoffice. It was delivered to the woman in due time. She suspected that all was not right and telegraphed Mr. West not to send the draft. West replied that the letter had contained the draft. Payment was stopped and the bank officials, Dornedien and the woman reported to the postoffice authorities.

A careful investigation by the post-office authorities here showed that Jurens, instead of investing money in real estate, hid himself away to the "Cottage Club," a secluded spot where the little ivory ball makes the circuit of a revolving brass disk bearing numbers. There Jurens is said to have toyed with Fortune until the sum originally in his possession increased considerably. That was Saturday, January 24. The following day Jurens left the city.

His travels were not carefully traced but Inspector Doran learned some time ago that the man he wanted was in Albuquerque, hearing as best he could the exile from Denver. Late Sunday night Mr. Doran made the arrest. He will bring his man to Denver at once.

IN COURT.

Moreen Jurens Has His Case Postponed for Two Weeks.

Moreen W. Jurens, the federal prisoner held here charged with two offenses, using the mails to defraud and forgery, was brought from his cell in the county jail this morning for hearing before United States Commissioner H. R. Whiting. The prisoner refused to plead guilty and through his attorney, Hancock, demanded trial before being taken to Colorado, and the scenes of his crimes. United States Attorney W. B. Childers represented the prosecution. He stated that the prisoner was entitled to trial if demanded, and the case was postponed two weeks, which would give the prosecution time to bring witnesses here from Kansas and Colorado. The attorney for the defense, considering that the trial was postponed two weeks, asked the court to reduce the appearance bond from $1,000 to $500. The court refused to reduce the bond, as the crimes for which the prisoner is held are of grave importance.

Jurens was returned to the county jail in company with a Chinaman, destined for deportation to his native land for being in the United States without a "chink chik."

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

One of the pleasing features of the program will be the song, "Hear the Music in the Park." Nine young ladies will take part in this picnic at Colombo hall, March 19.

Julian R. Steward, who has been on the ranch of A. E. Henning, at Pinta, Arizona, for some time, was introduced at the Citizen office by J. D. Eakin. Mr. Steward goes from here to Chicago on business, after which he will return to California to join his wife.

Missionary society connected with the Presbyterian church will have a meeting tomorrow afternoon. Miss Frazier has been called home by the serious illness of her father and will not be present, but an interesting program will be given nevertheless. All are invited.

Dr. W. L. Severance and mother, Mrs. W. S. Severance, are in the city, arriving this morning from southern California, where they have been visiting for the past few weeks. They are from Greenfield, Mass.; particular friends of F. G. Pratt, the grocerman, and will rest up here for a few weeks.

Hon. H. B. Ferguson returned to his home here this morning from the Faywood hot springs in Luna county, where he has been recuperating the past several days.

The brothers Barnes in their realistic sketch the tramp and dude, is sure to please at the Eagles picnic March 19, at Colombo hall.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hillis Boyd, of Pittsburg, Pa., who have been guests of the Alvarado for several days, left today on the flyer for Los Angeles.

Miss Grace Houghton's beautiful contralto voice will be heard in several selections at the Eagles picnic at Colombo hall, Thursday, March 19.

Rev. W. S. Huggett, of Magdalena, who is the guest of Rev. Mark Hodgson, will preach at the Highland church Sunday morning and evening.

James Wilkinson, of the Albuquerque Wool Scouring mills and a stockholder in the Rio Grande Woollen Mills company, will make a trip to eastern cities in a few days.

Albuquerque History club will hold a regular meeting at the office of A. B. McMillen this evening. Papers and addresses by Prof. Norman, Attorney Hickey and W. S. Burke will be included in the program.

Frank E. Russell, of Tucson, Ariz., is spending the day with Maynard Gumsul. Mr. Russell is representative of the "Henry properties" there, which consist of the electric light and power plant, the gas plant and also the ice plant.

A tally ho party of ladies spent yesterday in Isleta viewing the Indian village. The party consisted of Mesdames Munn, Carpenter, Conner, Collins, Fish and Foster, Misses Helen Pratt, Gertrude Leekley, Coltraine, Goodell and Wheaton. The jolly crowd returned at sunset. All express having had a very enjoyable time.

Weekly Citizen, per year, 2.00

Yesterday afternoon, both houses of the territorial legislature passed the bill, introduced the day before by Councilman Hughes, creating the county of Sandoval out of certain sections of Bernalillo county.

The old county (Bernalillo) will have plenty of good territory left, including the city of Albuquerque, to do business in, being about twenty-four by seventy-five miles in width and length, and the Citizen really believes that when everything is in good working order much benefit will be derived from the division.

The bill, with its few corrections, is published in full elsewhere in today's Citizen.

Briefly it tells the following interesting facts:

Governor to appoint three qualified persons who shall be legal voters within the limits of said county of Sandoval as an election and returning board.

Special election for the election of county officers for Sandoval county to be held on the 14th day of April, 1903.

Special election for the election of two county commissioners, one probate judge and one assessor, for Bernalillo county to be held on the 14th day of April, 1903.

Old registration lists of the last general election to be used at the special elections in the new and old counties.

At special election in new county vote will be taken on the selection of a county seat for said new county of Sandoval.

As to salaries and compensation of officers of said county of Sandoval the county shall be defined as third class.

Auditor, treasurer and solicitor general of the territory shall constitute a commission to ascertain what portion of the public debt of Bernalillo county shall be assumed and paid by Sandoval county.

The legislature apportionment is told in section 8 of bill.

The new county of Sandoval will be attached to the Second judicial district, composed now of Bernalillo, Valencia and McKinley counties.

New county authorized to issue coupon bonds, bearing 5 per cent per annum, to pay its obligation and debts to Bernalillo county.

Sandoval county to have and receive from Bernalillo county all unpaid taxes from the year 1903 within its limits taken from the latter county.

To provide for its current expenses until taxes may be levied and collected therein, Sandoval county is authorized and directed to issue for its current expenses bonds not exceeding $5,000; for erection of suitable court house bonds for $25,000, and for jail $5,000.

The new county officers will take office on the first day of July, 1903, and not on the first day of January, 1905, as published in the Journal-Democrat this morning.

THE UNION LABEL.

A labor exchange tells union men not to forget to look for the union label before purchasing goods. Organized labor is beginning to realize the importance of putting its trade mark on every article which it aids in making. It practically means every union man a member of a great co-operative society whose members trade with one another. The labor man or friend of union labor who buys a labeled article makes a market for union labor to that extent. As soon as manufacturers and dealers find that there is a special demand for labeled goods they will hunt for union labor to make these goods. Instead of opposing the employment of union men, as some of the less intelligent employers do at present, they will be glad to seek union labor because of the increased market it will bring. Every labor union should put its label on the goods it makes, and every friend of organized labor should look for that label before purchasing goods.

ANDREWS ON STATEHOOD.

Senator W. H. Andrews returned to Santa Fe last Friday from Washington where he has been fighting energetically to secure statehood for New Mexico. His long legislative experience, his wide acquaintance among the statesmen at Washington, his close relations with Senator Quay, made his work on behalf of statehood especially valuable.

Senator Andrews can speak authoritatively on the status of the statehood question if any one can, and he says most emphatically that New Mexico will be granted statehood by the present congress at its winter session. But New Mexico and Arizona will be admitted as one state and that unconditionally, except that the capital is to be at Santa Fe, mainly for historic and sentimental reasons. Separate statehood is out of the question, need not be considered at all for a long time to come, if ever. The point to be accomplished is to shape popular opinion to favor statehood, to overcome the prejudice of Arizona against a union with New Mexico.

HIS RECORD FIRST CLASS.

The appointment of a district attorney for the district composed of Bernalillo, Valencia, McKinley and Sandoval counties is an interesting topic in Albuquerque and in legislative circles. Frank W. Clancy, Esq., the present incumbent, who has a first class record, has been recommended by many of the leading republican citizens of the district for reappointment. E. W. Dobson, Esq., also of Albuquerque, has some strong backing including the Hubbell faction. The situation is quite warm and interesting.—New Mexican.

The record of District Attorney Clancy is first class, and his endorsement for reappointment comes from a large majority of the people of this city and county.

ACCEPTING "TAINTED" GIFTS.

Religious and educational circles are discussing with much earnestness the question of "tainted gifts." Should a university, for example, accept gifts of money which have been secured illegally or immorally? The immediate occasion for the discussion was afforded by Prof. John Bascom, of Williams college, declaring that "John D. Rockefeller's dollars have sealed the lips of every instructor in Chicago university."

To the layman not too greatly oppressed with puritanical theories, the answer appears to be very simple. The moral aspects of giving are entirely dissociated from those of acquiring. No matter how a father makes his money, the spending of it to the advantage of his children is a virtue. No one thinks of withholding the credit for kindness to a gambler who gives his gains to the poor. Such a man merely represents one whose character combines vices and virtues. The two are entirely dissociated.

Few people doubt that much of John D. Rockefeller's wealth has been acquired through clever evasions of law. Many consider him a robber. Can any one, however, suggest how his money may be returned to the people in a better way than by establishing a great university, and hospitals for the alleviation and cure of consumptives?

Christ did not refuse the oilment of the fallen woman, even though it must have been purchased with the wages of her sin.

LOSS NOT LARGE.

Bright Weather in New Mexico Causes Favorable Estimate of Stock Losses.

A writer from Clayton, N. M., to the Denver News, says:
Warm sun again shines in northern New Mexico, and with the final lifting of the great snow clouds of this spring has come a lightening of dark fears of heavy stock losses.

During the month of February snow fell on the Union county ranges in depths varying from twelve to twenty-four inches, fifteen inches leveling on the streets of Clayton. The outlook was so gloomy that an article appearing in the press placed the stock loss in Union county at the appalling figure of 50 per cent. Reports now, however, indicate that the loss will not exceed 5 per cent, and 3 per cent is probably a fairer estimate.

Messrs. Slater and Otto, two of the largest sheep holders of the county, place their losses at a smaller percentage. The exceptionally heavy snowfall will bring both early and luxuriant grass, giving strength to the ewes in lambing season and insuring the saving of a large proportion of the lamb crop. The stock outlook of Union county for this year is gilt edged.

A Jackson county man was awarded $1 damages last week for being horse-whipped at a street fair. Horse whipping may become as popular and economical form of street fair diversion as throwing balls at dolls, or eggs at a darkey's head in a canvas.

SHORT SYNOPSIS.

Read the bill, published elsewhere in today's Citizen, creating the new county of Sandoval.

Major W. H. H. Llewellyn is determined to have a county in New Mexico named after General Leonard Wood, and has introduced a bill to that effect, with Santa Rosa as the county seat.

Yesterday, the anniversary of the fall of the Alamo was appropriately observed in El Paso, Texas. The local chapter of the Daughters of the Republic visited Prairie Lea and Masonic cemeteries and decorated with small Texan flags the graves of the veterans of the republic who fought for Texas independence.

The first election in the new county of Sandoval will be held on April 14, 1903. It will be a lively one.

No better man in the territory than Col. J. Francisco Chavez to write the history of New Mexico. He is familiar with every nook and corner in the great territory.

A New York singer has signed with two church choirs and there is a legal battle in prospect. The base ball players who started this double contract game seem to have a good deal to answer for.

The big delegation sent to Santa Fe yesterday in the interest of county division reached the capital after the council had passed the measure. Councilman Albright was with the delegation. The delegation did fine work among the house members, and when the bill went into that body the members followed the work of the council and also passed the bill unanimously.

Speaker Nestor Montoya, of the house of representatives, said this morning that at the request of several of the barbers of Albuquerque he had introduced a bill in the house, which bill is now pending before the committee on territorial affairs. Mr. Montoya, before taking the bill up for action, would like a full expression from the barbers of the city and other organizations of the territory.

This morning, John Nestor Montoya, speaker of the lower house of the territorial legislature, was a pleasant caller at The Citizen office. He stated that the Albright bill annexing contiguous territory to incorporated cities and towns had been sent back to the council from the house with slight amendments, and it was his opinion that the council would pass the bill.

The people of Albuquerque are opposed to this bill, and Speaker Montoya says he will use his influence toward its defeat.

Just as soon as Hon. F. A. Hubbell of this city, was convinced that the people of Albuquerque were in dead earnest regarding county division, he promptly acquiesced, and kept hands off. It is said by several of the returned delegates that Mr. Hubbell's influence among house members is well known at the capital, and one word from him yesterday, to the caucus meeting, would have told another tale. The bill creating the county of Sandoval, passed unanimously yesterday afternoon, was the original proposition submitted by Mr. Hubbell at the second meeting of the Board of Trade and citizens held in this city a short time ago. It was a good proposition then, and surely a most excellent proposition when embodied in the bill which passed the legislature yesterday.

We now have county division; thus one of the wishes of the merchants and taxpayers of this city was accomplished without the people being called upon for subscriptions.

The legislature will adjourn finally on the 20th of March.

This city should demand the two county commissioners who are to be chosen at the special election on April 14.

The local option bill was defeated by the territorial council last Saturday. The chances are that the Sunday law will hereafter be vigorously enforced in New Mexico.

The Citizen does not believe in making martyrs by constantly abusing certain politicians. That is the business being indulged in these days by the great political flopper—the Journal-Democrat.

The Citizen has upon all occasions stood squarely for the best interests of Albuquerque, and will continue to do so in the future.

The Citizen has never been controlled by bosses. It has always been a republican paper and will so remain under its present ownership. Upon a few occasions certain republican leaders have tried to dictate the policy of this paper and failed.

The statehood bill will be one of the first measures to be considered by the senate next December and it will be passed. The republicans have agreed to pass the bill as a party measure. New Mexico and Arizona will be merged into one state.

Only a few years ago the Journal-Democrat flopped from a democratic to a republican paper. The ownership has not changed at any time. The sheet now says it intends to be independent, which is an admission that it has been under the control of some political boss. That paper has never represented the political sentiment of this city and county on any occasion, and whether it supports or opposes a candidate will be a matter of very little moment.

In the matter of county division, the Journal-Democrat was for several days trying to convince itself that the scheme was a good one and failed to come out squarely for the measure, for fear of the political bosses, until The Citizen put itself and a number of merchants in interviews solidly in favor of division. Its manager, then, who is the junior territorial councilman from this city, had voted against division. It is now whining, having made several successful political flops in the past few years, and now announces itself independent.

The Modoc mine and mill closed down last week for lack of wood. The recent snow storms in the Organs has blocked the roads to the wood camp, making it impossible for the wood choppers to deliver wood.

Nathan Forward died at Gosport, Oklahoma, March 1, 1903. Mr. Forward was well known here, having served as deputy district clerk under "V. J. Joblin, in the nineties, and was married to Miss Amelia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. May.

under the control of political bosses. This growing lopsomeness, the sheet now announces that it intends to be independent. It would have been much better for that paper if it had announced that it intended to be square by democratic. However, it makes very little difference what political course the Jaded-Democrat may pursue in the future.

"The Smiths" is the name of a new magazine published by the Smiths publishing company of Detroit, Mich., a copy being received at The Citizen office. It is a "magazine for the people named Smith" and if all the people who bear that name subscribe for it "The Smiths" will soon lead them all in point of circulation.

The merchants and taxpayers asked for county division, and the legislature complied with their request. When everything is in good working order after the special election to be held on April 14, 1903, let's have a general reduction in taxes.

Tree planting time is at hand and the public spirited citizen who has the interest of the community at heart will not let it pass without putting out some trees or shrubbery to beautify his own place and to add to the appearance of the city generally.

There is no necessity for The Citizen to print a large number of extra copies of the paper for free distribution. Almost everybody in the city is a subscriber; hence the circulation of The Citizen, not only in the city, but elsewhere throughout the southwest, is well established.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you eat

This preparation contains all of the digestants and digesta of all kinds of food. It gives instant relief and never fails to cure. It allows you to eat all the food you want. The most sensitive stomachs can take it. By its use many thousands of dyspeptics have been cured after everything else failed. It is unequalled for the stomach. Children with weak stomachs thrive on it. First dose relieves. A diet unnecessary.

Cures all stomach troubles

Prepared only by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1. bottle contains 25 times the dose. J. H. O'Reilly & Co. and B. H. Briggs & Co.

TO DIVIDE BERNALILLO COUNTY.

Councilman Hughes Bill to That Effect Passes Both Houses Unanimously. Bernalillo county has redeemed itself redeemed itself from an unscrupulous and disreputable a political domination as ever disgraced a decent community.

Both houses of the territorial legislature yesterday passed Councilman Hughes' bill to divide Bernalillo county and create a new county of Sandoval. This means that Albuquerque will now enjoy some measure of self-government. Heretofore the political affairs of the county have been controlled by the outside precincts where, according to a popular pleasanter, the votes of the sheep and the goats and the dead men were counted.

As a sequel, things are happening. George F. Albright has severed his connection with the Journal-Democrat and that paper in its issue yesterday morning announces that hereafter its policy will be independent republican.

The boss of Bernalillo has not yet been heard from and probably never will be. Councilman Tom Hughes and his paper, the Albuquerque Citizen, are receiving a large measure of credit for their efforts to bring about such a condition as will make decency in politics possible in Bernalillo county. The business men of Albuquerque also bestirred themselves mightily in their own interest. All this is wholesome.—Socorro Chieftain.

BOY WANTED.

Wanted—A boy that is manly. A boy that is kind and polite. A boy you can always depend on. To do what he knows to be right. A boy that is truthful and honest. And faithful and willing to work. But we have not a place. That we care to disgrace.

Wanted—A boy you can tie to. A boy that is trusty and true. A boy that is good to all people. And kind to the little ones too. A boy that is nice to his home folks.

And pleasant to sister and brother. A boy who will try. When things go awry. To be helpful to father and mother.

These are the boys who are wanted.

In the workshop, the home and the store. The world needs such boys in its business.

For them there are places galore. There are the boys we depend on. Our hope for the future, and then Grave emblems of state.

And the worlds' work await. Such boys when they grow to be men.

Old Timer Gone.

A telephone message received from Mora this morning conveyed the news of the death of William Robman at his ranch near there last night. This message word was all that could be learned but it will carry a shock to all the old residents of this section.

Wm. Robman was one of the oldest American residents of northern New Mexico, he having come to the territory long before the advent of the railroad. In fact his history dates back to the time of Kit Carson, Colonel St. Vrain and others whose names adorn the pages of western history and with whom he had been acquainted.

He married a native girl in the early days and the union has brought forth a large family, some of the sons being leading farmers in the Mora valley today. Thus does time remove the hardest of the old timers, whose trials built the modern west.—Las Vegas Optic.

MISSING FOR TEN DAYS.

The General Relief Is That B. F. Gooch Has Left the Country.

It is now generally conceded that B. F. Gooch, held on bond to await his trial for the alleged murder of J. B.

Ross, on the Mimbres last fall, has jumped his bond.

The case will be called in court this morning and Gooch, in accordance with the legal form will be asked to appear.

Upon such failure his bondsmen will be called upon to produce the man and failing in this, will be required to forfeit the sum of the bond. The bondsmen are understood to be J. L. Burnside, J. C. Cureton and L. H. Howle. The amount of the bond is $5,000.

Gooch left his ranch on the Mimbres last Monday to go to the ranch of Zach Redding whom he said he wished to see with regard to his coming trial. He was to be gone three days and was to have come to Silver City last Tuesday with a load of apples, at which time he was also to have appeared before the tribunal of justice. However, since his departure Monday nothing has been seen of him. When he left the ranch he took a valise with a change of clothing, razor, strap, etc., which lends color to the theory that he has vanished.

The crime with which Gooch is charged is the alleged killing of J. P. Ross at the Gooch ranch Monday, October 13, 1902. Mr. Ross was a lessee of the Gooch ranch and the quarrel grew out of a misunderstanding over the lease.

Traveling Auditor.

March 9 the cheap rates to California will go into effect on the Santa Fe. From Missouri river points a rate of $25 will be made, while from Chicago the rate will be $33. This arrangement will be in effect until June 15, which is much longer than usual. Passengers will be allowed to stop over at California points while en route, an unusual concession in tickets of this kind.

The Santa Fe is pursuing its policy of artistic advertising in the issuance of handsome publications setting forth the beauties of California as a winter resort. The latest is a handsome booklet, profusely illustrated, concerning the hotels of the state. It contains fifty-five pages and is a most interesting novel booklet describing and illustrating the petrified forest of Arizona.

The purifying plant which was recently put up at Bagdad, Cal., has proved to be a great success, says the San Bernardino Sun. The plant erected was simply a test tank, but now a large and permanent plant, to be made in the near future, will be placed at Bagdad. It is about the worst for locomotive use that can be found on the entire Santa Fe system. It contains over 300 grains of solid matter, the larger part of which is salt.

The Topeka State Journal says: C. H. Gaunt, superintendent of telegraphs for the Santa Fe, has returned from a month's trip on the Santa Fe coast line, where he has been inspecting the telegraph lines and equipment. He brought back with him George B. Allen, of Los Angeles, who is now at work in the general offices on some electrical engineering matters. Mr. Allen will be given a permanent position with the Santa Fe electrical department.

T. H. Sears, lately division superintendent of the Denver district of the Colorado & Southern, who resigned last month, has been appointed trainmaster of the Chicago division of the Santa Fe railroad, with headquarters at Marceline, Mo. This is one of the chief divisions of the system, and the appointment is considered very flattering to Mr. Sears. He was in the employ of the Santa Fe before coming to the Colorado & Southern, and at one time was stationed in Albuquerque in a responsible position.

To Spend $6,000,000.

The board of directors of the Pere Marquette road, it is learned, have authorized the expenditure of $6,000,000 for new equipment for the system, says a dispatch from Detroit, Mich. This includes an order for $5,000,000 freight cars to be delivered in May, also an order for fifty new locomotives to be constructed by the American Locomotive company and delivered during the present year. Instead of two new cars to be delivered to the Michigan, the company will order four to its present equipment, three of which are to be built in Detroit and one in England by the Armstrongs.

LARGER THAN SANTA FE.

New Freight Terminal Company Buys $1,000,000 Mud Hole.

The San Francisco Examiner says: Representatives of the San Francisco railroad and Terminal and Ferry companies have just secured a freight terminal in San Francisco at a cost of $1,000,000, which will provide greater facilities than either the Santa Fe or the Southern Pacific controls. The new terminal is located on the Port of San Francisco, north of the city and comprises between 50 and 70 full blocks, containing more than seventy acres.

The greater part of this property is now submerged by the tides and it will cost $2,000,000 to improve it.

Good Year for Missouri Pacific.

It is expected in circles well informed on the business of the Gould roads that the annual report of the Missouri Pacific, to be submitted at the annual meeting in St. Louis next week, will show the road's earnings during 1902 were at the rate of 10 per cent on the common stock. It is believed the earnings during the current year will amount to 14 or 15 per cent.

General freight traffic shows no sign of falling off during the year, while a great increase in grain to be moved from the Missouri Pacific's territory is assured. In Kansas and Missouri the road's crop experts estimate the increase to be 400,000,000 bushels in corn and oats. The facilities have been increased during the last few years at a rate not exceeded by any road in the country. A proportionate increase in rolling stock and other new equipment will be made during the present year.

Santa Fe Officials.

General Manager H. U. Mudge, General Superintendent D. C. Cain, Assistant General Manager E. G. Faulkner and Superintendent R. G. Parker of the Santa Fe system, stopped in Denver for a few hours while on a general inspection of their lines. They left Chicago a week ago and will tour in California.

While in Denver they paid visits to the railroad offices of the different companies. At the Colorado & Southern a number of technical matters were taken up with General Manager Herbert.

Mr. Mudge, in speaking of their trip, said they had found things in satisfactory shape and that all of the big roads of the country looked forward to a big summer traffic. The Elkins bill, he thought, would, after its provisions were understood and followed, do away with a lot of unpleasant things that both the railroads and the shippers have been experiencing. —Denver News.

A bill was introduced in the Texas senate last Friday to authorize the Southern Kansas railway of Texas to purchase and operate the Pecos Valley & Northern Texas, and the Pecos River railroads. All of these roads are Santa Fe properties.

AN ACCIDENT.

That May Cost a Life—Breaking of an Engine on Southern Pacific Damagingly Hurts Engineer Armstrong.

Last Thursday about 11 o'clock a. m. just as passenger train No. 8 from the west reached the crossing of the El Paso & Southern western road, just in the edge of Deming, the arch bar on the right side of the engine broke and in an instant the cab was being shattered to splinters, soles were being knocked in the side of the boiler and, worse than all, Engineer Armstrong was thrown into the air and against the roof of the cab. The fireman succeeded in stopping the train and getting the injured engineer out of further harm, and as there was a freight train following close behind the passenger it pushed the wrecked engine and train down to the depot, where Dr. Swope at once attended to Armstrong's injuries and placing him in a berth in the sleeper he was at once taken to the company's hospital at El Paso. The freight train was left at this point and the engine of that train took the passenger on.

Engineer Armstrong has been on this run for a long time and has many friends at this point that will be sorry to learn of his misfortune. —Deming Headlight.

The New Mexican says: General Manager W. S. Hopewell, of the Santa Fe Central railway, accompanied by Mrs. Hopewell and their two sons, arrived on Saturday from a two weeks' eastern trip, during which Mr. Hopewell visited Pittsburg and was in conference with the capitalists interested in the building of the Santa Fe Central railway.

FOUR TO BE MERGED.

Rock Island, Santa Fe, Frisco and Southern in Morgan's Hands.

The negotiations now in progress in New York by which the Rock Island interests are about to purchase the St. Louis & San Francisco will be of much greater significance and more far-reaching than has yet been disclosed. A securities company, it is claimed, similar to the Northern Securities, is being formed through J. P. Morgan & Co., which will hold the stock of the Frisco, the Rock Island, the Southern, and the Santa Fe.

It is said that a majority of the stock of the several companies will be put into a block and the holders thereof will share alike in the profits derived from the operation of the roads involved. The scheme will mean that Morgan will be the controlling spirit of the proposed combination.

The track laying on the Santa Fe depot grounds of the Santa Fe Central railway will begin this week, should the rails now in transit arrive, if not it will commence just as soon as they are here. They are expected at the capital any day.

The Las Cruces Citizen says: R. L. Young returned from Alamogordo on Thursday evening. He reports that the engineering corps of the California Short Line will complete the preliminary survey to Alamogordo next Monday, and will immediately begin the permanent location of the line.

SANTA FE MEETS THE RATE.

Will Carry Colonists to California for Twenty-Five Dollars.

The Santa Fe has at last decided to meet the special colonist rates made by the transcontinental roads to California. Announcement was made that, beginning on Monday, March 9, the Santa Fe will make a rate of $25 from Missouri river points and other western territory, and $33 from Chicago, to points on its lines in California. This is a one way rate for colonist purposes, and will be good until June 15.

The Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Rock Island and other lines with coast connections announced the special $25 rate on February 15, to remain effective until April 30. At that time the Santa Fe declined to join in making the rate a common one, on the ground that its regular winter business during February and March was all that it could conveniently handle. That road announced, however, that it would make the rate good on April 1 to stand until June 15, the theory being that by April 1 the winter rush would be at an end, and the colonist travel would be properly handled.

It is now asserted by rival roads that the Santa Fe weakened when it discovered the amount of business the rival lines were securing as a result of the cheap rate at this time. They say the Santa Fe saw all the business going to them, and that it was forced to make the $25 rate good on its lines at once. It is understood that the explanation offered by the Santa Fe ofscialists is that their winter travel at this time is not as heavy as expected, and that they will be able to handle the colonist business as well, hence the making of the rate at once, instead of waiting until April 1.

SAN BERNARDINO'S HOPES.

Wants to Rank as Second Biggest Santa Fe Town.

Within another three months the Santa Fe shops in this city will, in point of number of men hired and size of the pay roll, be the second largest plant on the entire Santa Fe system, says a dispatch from San Bernardino, Cal.

The only point in advance of the local shops will be Topeka while Albuquerque will be set back to third place. It is a gratifying statement, inasmuch as it shows that this city is certainly meriting the title of Greater San Bernardino and the news is certain to be borne out, as the statement comes from official sources.

At the present time there are about 650 men employed in the shops here, this number being exclusive of trainmen, yardmen, switchmen, clerks and other employees, whose time is made out here. On the 15th of this month the pay checks of these shop men aggregated $45,000.

Last month the number of men employed in Albuquerque totaled 737 and the pay roll amounted to $50,000. Thus to enable San Bernardino to overcome her rival it will be necessary to add but 100 men, at the utmost, and $5,000 to the time checks. It is learned on good authority that as soon as the new transfer tables are placed, which will permit the opening of the full limit of the old car shop, the paint shop and the tank room, at least 200 more employees will be engaged. Then the total number of "clocks" distributed will amount to almost 900 and the pay roll run over the $50,000 mark.

A Remarkable Case.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Penner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I run down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." B. H. Briggs & Co., S. Vann & Son.

W. E. Younk, who has been the night ticket agent at Las Vegas for several months past, has resigned and left for Marceline, Mo., whither he goes to accept a position in the trainmaster's office there. J. H. Henderson, a very pleasant young gentleman, who has been tracer clerk at the freight office for several months past, succeeds Mr. Younk as night ticket agent at Las Vegas.

A Boy With Presence of Mind.

Carl Gluck is but 13 years of age, but he did a service at the terrible Plainfield railroad wreck that was a man would never have thought of, and he performed it with such direct expedition that aid came to the sufferers at the earliest possible moment. He heard the whistle of the express, and, like all boys, he never tired of seeing the train go by. He ran to the siding and then the big engine smashed against the train that was standing on the track.

Carl did not rush out to see the terrible things that were being done. He remembered that his father's telephone was the only one in the immediate neighborhood. He rushed for it and called for the police station. In a moment all the men on hand were on a run for the scene of disaster. Then he called for fire headquarters, and the engines were immediately under way.

Even then Carl kept the wire in hand. He searched the telephone book for the hospitals, and asked them to send help. Then he called up all the doctors he could find, one by one, and asked them to come immediately, and not until then did the noble little fellow leave the telephone.

When spoken to about his service after it had been performed, all the comment he made was: "They came all right." —New York Correspondence of Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The present period of pleasant weather is more or less responsible for the regularity of the arriving and departing of the trains the past few days. Passenger trains of yesterday from both east and west were on time. The morning trains of today were on time and the trains of tonight are reported so. Yardmaster Ten Eyck says the Albuquerque yards are clearer now of delayed freight than they have been in many months.

What's in a Name?

Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, discovered, some years ago, how to make a salve on Witch Hazel that is a specific for. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases, DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. B. H. Briggs & Co., S. Vann & Son.

VERDICT FOR $5,000.

Santa Fe Loses an Important Damage Suit in Texas.

In Judge Goggin's court, at El Paso, the jury in the case of W. H. Keller vs. the Santa Fe Railway company brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff awarding him $5,000 damages. The action was instituted on account of injuries sustained by the plaintiff by being struck by a switch engine of the defendant while standing at the depot at Gloria, N. M. Mr. Keller sued for $15,000, claiming that the employees of the company were guilty of negligence in not giving proper warning of the approach of the train.

Attorneys Z. L. Cobb and M. W. Stanton appeared for the plaintiff and W. H. Burges for the defense. Mr. Keller is a prominent citizen of Drying preparations simply developed dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size, Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N.Y.

The case was ably conducted and hotly contested, and owing to the prominence of the plaintiff attracted considerable attention.

The Stomach is the Man.

A weak stomach weakens the man, because it cannot transform the food he eats into nourishment. Health and strength cannot be restored to any sick man or weak woman without first restoring health and strength to the stomach. A weak stomach cannot digest enough food to feed the tissues and revive the tired and run down limbs and organs of the body. K-Jol Dyspepsia Cure cleanses, purifies, sweetens and strengthens the glands and membranes of the stomach, and cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. B. H. Briggs & Co., S. ## EXCURSIONS TO MEXICO.

Rock Island Will Start a Colonization Movement.

An innovation in railroad land colonization is to be tried by the Rock Island and the Chicago Great Western roads, and on March 17 a big home-seekers' excursion will be run to Old Mexico, the announcement being made that a rate of one fare, plus $2, will be made to the Mexican gateways, which will be added to a $30 rate from those gateways to Mexico City. The tickets will be subject to a thirty days' limit. The object of the excursion is to exploit the possibilities of farming and fruit raising in Mexico when undertaken by Americans, under the community plan.

Wakeful Children.

For a long time the 3-year-old child of Mr. P. L. McPherson, 59 N. Tenth street, Harrisburg, Pa., would sleep but two or three hours in the early part of the night, which made it very hard for her parents. Her mother concluded that the child had stomach trouble, and gave her half of one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which quieted her stomach and she slept the whole night through. Two boxes of these tablets have effected a permanent cure and she is now well and strong. For sale by all druggists.

Swedish Republicans Meet.

Princeton, Ill., March 9.—The Swedish-American Republican League of Illinois is celebrating Ericsson day by holding its annual convention. The gathering was called to order by A. W. Truesdon, of Peoria, president of the league, and the day was devoted largely to routine business. The convention closes with the customary banquet at

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

What a Heap of Happiness It Would Bring to Albuquerque Homes. Hard to do housework with an aching back; Hours of misery at leisure or at work. If women only knew the cause: Backache pains come from sick kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills will cure sick kidneys. Alvarado people endorse this: Mrs. J. H. Smith, of 115 Huning avenue, (J. H. Smith, deputy sheriff,) says: "Every woman who has had backache for a month so severe that every movement she made hurt and she never knew the moment but the slightest strain on the muscles of the back brought a twinge which could only be described as excruciating, is more than pleased when she finds a means to at first check such attacks and then radically dispose of them. When suffering from backache I went to the Alvarado Pharmacy for Doan's Kidney Pills and took a course of the treatment. It stopped the annoyance. Since then I have had no necessity to use Doan's Kidney Pills nor any other medicine for aching across the small of the back."

READ IT THROUGH.

'Twould Spoil This Story to Tell it in the Headlines.

To use an eighteenth century phrase, this is an "o'er true tale." Having happened in a small Virginia town in the winter of 1902, it is a story very much of the present. Up to a short time ago Mrs. John E. Harmon, of Mehta Station, Va., had no personal knowledge of the rare curative properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. "Last January," she says, "my baby took a dreadful cold and at one time I feared she would have pneumonia, but one of my neighbors told me how this remedy had cured her little boy and I began giving it to my baby at once and it soon cured her. I heartily thank the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for placing so great a cure within my reach. I cannot recommend it too highly or too much to my friends. I hope all who read this will try it and be convinced as I was." For sale by all druggists.

CONSIDER TWO-CENT RATE.

Railroads May Make a Cut in First Class Fares.

There is little basis for the report that as a result of the passage of the Elkins law by congress the Central Passenger association lines propose to abolish second class fares and special rates and reduce the passenger rate to 2 cents a mile, says a Chicago dispatch. The question of abolishing second class fares is to be considered at the meeting of the Central Passenger association in Chicago next week, but this is not due to the passage of the Elkins bill.

The question of abolishing second class fares, Commissioner Donald says, has been under consideration at different meetings during the last two years. Few second class tickets are sold by the Central Passenger association lines, and they are not honored by the trunk lines east of Buffalo, which abolished them several months ago. There is not enough second class business to provide special cars for it, and, as a rule, second class passengers are put in smoking cars. Many object to riding in smoking cars, however, and these have to be carried in regular first class cars. It also gives roads an opportunity to sell second class tickets to first class passengers, and thus practically to cut the rates. No second class tickets are being sold by the western roads between Chicago and St. Paul and Chicago and Missouri river for the reasons above stated.

Tragedy Averted.

"Just in the nick of time our little boy was saved," writes Mrs. W. Watkins, of Pleasant City, Ohio. "Pneumonia had played sad havoc with him and a terrible cough set in besides. Doctors treated him, but he grew worse every day. At length we tried Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, and our darling was saved. He's now sound, and well." Everybody ought to know it's the only sure cure for coughs, colds and all lung diseases. Guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

New Orleans Preparing for Veterans.

New Orleans, La., March 9.—The local committee is in charge of the arrangements for the reunion of the United Confederate Veterans, to be held here in May are in daily receipt of advice that indicate the attendance will be unusually large. Local camps throughout Georgia, Tennessee, Texas, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, the Carolinas and other states promise to attend in full force, and the prospects are that the hotels and boarding houses of the Crescent City will be taxed to their utmost to accommodate the crowd. The arrangements committee is holding weekly meetings, and many novel features are being planned for the entertainment of the visitors.

More Riots.

Disturbances of strikers are not nearly as grave as an individual disorder of the system. Overwork, loss of sleep, nervous tension will be followed by utter collapse, unless a reliable remedy is immediately employed. There's nothing so efficient to cure disorders of the liver or kidneys as Electric Bitters. It's a wonderful tonic, and effective nerve and the greatest all-around medicine for run down systems. It dispels nervousness, rheumatism and neuralgia and expels malaria germs. Only 50c, and satisfaction guaranteed by all druggists.

DEATH OF M. V. B. WILCOX.

He Died Monday Morning After an Illness of Two Weeks.

Martin Van Buren Wilcox, an aged and well known resident and fruit raiser at Tesuque, died on his ranch early Monday morning, says the New Mexican.

Md. Wilcox was 71 years old last May. He came to the Tesuque valley from Nebraska in 1892. He had lived in Nebraska thirty years, coming there from Maryland. His first wife died about three years ago. He is survived by his second wife and one son, Henry, a resident of Denver, who is expected to arrive here this evening. Mr. Wilcox was a Grand Army veteran, was a ranch administration republican, a good citizen, a faithful husband and a good father. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and an earnest and consistent Christian. His orchard in the Tesuque valley is one of the finest in this section and he there lived in a cosy home, spending the evening of his life in quiet content. The funeral will probably take place on Wednesday and interment will be made in Fairview cemetery.

Working Overtime.

Eight hour laws are ignored by those tireless, little workers—Dr. King's New Life Pills. Millions are always at work, night and day, curing indigestion, biliousness, constipation, sick headache and all stomach, liver and bowel trouble. Easy, pleasant, safe, sure. Only 25c at all druggists.

COULDN'T STAND JAPANESE.

Indians Quit Work on Santa Fe Because of Race Prejudice.

The Santa Fe is having troubles of its own in Needles, Cal. The old saw says that money is the root of all evil; presumably, much money. "It is a case where too little money caused the ire of twenty-five Japs and twice as many Indians, and is the reason why the company's chief straw boss on the Needles section is running extremely short handed of able-bodied men just at the present time. It is a case of losing $17 as a result of an attempt to save 30 cents, and now the company is sorry. It happened in this wise, says the San Bernardino Sun:

"For some time the company has hired Indians on the section in the vicinity of Needles, paying them each $1.50 per day. In an evil moment the company officials became imbued with a streak of economy, and, knowing that they could hire Japs through the Los Angeles employment bureau at $1.05 per day per head, they loaded twenty-five of the little brown men into a car and sent them out to the desert town the first day in this week. To make room for the consignment twenty-five of the bucks were turned out into the cold world to seek occupation elsewhere, and the Japs installed, at a saving of 45 cents over the expense of keeping their predecessors. Last Monday, however, the unexpected happened, when the remaining descendants of Mud-in-the-Eye, or some other chief, indignant at the way in which his tribesmen had been treated, hung out their war feathers and refused to longer wield the pick and shovel. No amount of persuasion could get them to return to the spike and sledge of civilization. To the fearful supplications of the straw boss their only reply was: 'Ugh! No like um Jap!' and a start on the festive 'booze,' which usually follows a red man's resignation. As a last resort, realizing that the section work could not possibly be done by the squad of Japs, the official fired the latter, thinking to induce the return of the Indians. But, like the cocktail destroyer from Kansas, who passed through their city a short time ago, the long-haired natives have refused to bury the hatchet. Yesterday but ten of them had returned to their old jobs, and the company is worse off than it would have been had it not fired the brown men. Needless to say, the section foremen are lying awake nights, trying to think up some scheme whereby the Indians may be induced to return to work, for they have but a fifth of the necessary men to do the work of the entire section. Meanwhile poor Lo and his kin are enjoying a much-needed vacation and drowsing their sorrows in the red, red redeye.

"Later reports state that the trouble is being patched up, with the assistance of Mechanical Superintendent G. R. Joughins of the coast lines, who has gone out to Needles to see to the affair. The Indians have agreed to go to work, providing they be not obliged to work along with the Japs."

FARMINGTON.

From the Hustler.

The San Juan river is raising and now past the fording stage. Evidently the snow in the mountains has begun to melt.

Joe Wilkin was confined to his bed several days this week at the home of Dr. J. A. Duff, with a threatened attack of pneumonia.

Ed A. Terrell, of Flora Vista, received a compound fracture of the forearm, being kicked by a colt. He came to Farmington and had Dr. Rosenthal set the broken bones. Had he been just a little closer the blow would undoubtedly have killed him.

J. C. (Kit) Carson drove in from Durango, where he went to meet two sisters, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Craig, who just arrived from Ottawa, Canada, on a visit to their brother. It has been over thirty years since J. C. has seen either of the ladies, and then they had to come and see him.

N. T. Bowman, who lives two miles west of town, can now boast of the model chicken ranch of the county. The variety in main is Brown Leghorn. The houses are made of adobe with all modern arrangements. Mr. Bowman has about 300 hens. He also contemplates starting shortly a rabbitry and hopes to be prepared to supply our citizens with dainty Belgian hare as well as chickens and eggs.

From the Times.

J. B. Askeroff was up from Fruitland arranging for some contract work on the independent ditch.

John Tenney, of Bloomfield, was in town and reports things looking promising for the people under the Hammond ditch this summer.

The cannaigre plant and other weeds are coming through the ground the past few days and these as well as the warm showers make a decidedly spring like feeling.

S. E. Shoemaker, the government farmer for the Navajoes, was up from Fruitland the first of the week looking for some heavy teams which he wished to purchase for plow teams to be used on the Navajo ditch. Mrs. Shoemaker accompanied him.

George Butler, superintendent of irrigation for the Navajo Indians, was in town recently and received a telegram from the interior department, calling him to Washington, D. C., for consultation. He left Tuesday morning, his wife accompanying him into Colorado, where she will remain a short time and then go to Lafayette, Ind., to visit relatives. Mr. Butler's visit to Washington will result in having the work on the Navajo canals pushed as rapidly as possible. All the details of finance will no doubt be settled while he is there.

Cures Sciatic Rheumatism.

Mrs. A. E. Simpson, 509 Craig street, Knoxville, Tenn., writes, June 10, 1899: "I have been trying the baths of Hot Springs, Ark., for sciatic rheumatism, but I get more relief from Ballard's Snow Liniment than any medicine or anything I have ever tried. Enclosed find postoffice order for $1.00. Send me a large bottle by Southern Express." Sold by Cosmopolitan Pharmacy—B. Ruppe.

It might be arranged to have the same court martial which is to try Gen. Funston pass upon Mr. Welsh's soundness of mind.

SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.

John C. Sears left on Saturday evening for San Antonio, Texas, to attend the biennial convention of the Woodmen of the World.

Colonel W. L. Willson, superintendent of the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, is here looking after the needs of the institution before the legislature.

LEGISLATIVE POINTERS

Let's Have the Increase.

Last evening the Albuquerque legislative delegation was before the committee and urged an increase in the amounts of the appropriation for the university at Albuquerque. Ten thousand dollars of an additional loan was asked and also an increase in the tax levy. What the committee's action will be in the matter is not as yet known.—New Mexican.

Against Division.

The San Miguel county delegation in the assembly, consisting of Councilmen Duncan and Spies and Representatives Pedro Romero, Gregorio Gutierrez and W. H. Coleman, is a unit in opposition to any scheme to divide San Miguel county. Such a one, were it introduced, would be met with the most determined opposition by the delegation, and, it being so late in the session, has no chance for passage.—New Mexican.

Watch the Public Lands.

Two important measures were introduced in the legislative council on Monday. They are council bill No. 106 and council bill No. 113. Both relate to the administration and disposal of the public lands of the territory donated for educational, charitable and penal institutions, to aid the construction of reservoirs and to improve the water flow of the Rio Grande. These are measures of the utmost importance and should be carefully and thoroughly scrutinized and considered before passage. These lands are the heritage of the people of the territory and they should be jealously and safely guarded in every possible respect. Indeed, it is the opinion of the best citizens of this territory and those having its welfare at heart that no more of these lands of any description, whether timber or grazing, should be disposed of at the minimum price heretofore fixed by law, viz: $3 per acre for timber lands, and $1.25 per acre for grazing lands. Grazing lands in the Pecos valley in Chaves, Eddy and Roosevelt counties which could have been purchased ten years ago at 25 cents per acre, cannot now be bought at from $3 to $10 per acre. Five years is not a long time to wait for a commonwealth, and within five years, it is believed by those best posted, that the territorial public lands will be at least doubled in price.—New Mexican.

Let Well Enough Alone.

It is said that another game of shuttlecock and battleaxe is to be played with Sandoval county. In fact, there are rumors that the bill passed last Friday is to be repealed. Is it not about high time that a stop is put to such practices? Have the people anything to say about these matters? If not, let the people know. A dangerous game is being played by some of New Mexico's statesmen and politicians and some people may get hurt, and that sorely, in political standing and influence.—New Mexican.

Few More Counties.

The creation of a few more counties will not hurt; quite the reverse. It may do great good.—New Mexican.

Should Be Repealed.

The Thirty-fifth legislative assembly ought to repeal the present exemption laws. Every property owner should pay taxes. Such will redound to the benefit of the people at large in every respect.—New Mexican.

It is Necessary.

What is the matter with the enactment of a primary election law.—New Mexican.

This a Good Bill.

Council bill No. 108, introduced on Monday, providing that members of the city and town councils should be property owners and taxpayers, ought to be passed and that by all means honorable and for that matter in any way possible. It will have the effect of putting a better class of men into city and town councils, and that is very desirable, very necessary and very opportune.—New Mexican.

They Should Be Published.

The laws passed by the territorial legislature should be published in the newspapers immediately after its adjournment for the information of the masses, who will have no means of knowing for months to come what is the law and what is not the law of the land of the nativity and adoption.—Gallup Republican.

Should Be Enforced.

Now that the Montoya local option bill, which passed the house, has been killed in the council, the Sunday law will probably be allowed to remain as it is. The law is thought to be stringent enough, the chief trouble being its non-enforcement.—Las Vegas Record.

Opposes Any Change.

Maj. T. D. Burns, of Tierra Amarilla, is visiting Santa Fe. He is opposed to any change in the present law providing for the taxation of sheep and desires it to remain as at present, namely, that sheep be taxed in the county where owned. He also worked to obtain the approval of the governor to the bill which passed both houses, transferring the Espanola precinct from this county to Rio Arriba county.—New Mexican.

New County Necessary.

There is talk in legislative circles of creating a new county of southern Rio Arriba and northern Santa Fe counties, with Espanola as the county seat, not, why not?—New Mexican.

More the Merrier.

Information reaches the New Mexican from Las Vegas that there is a strong disposition in certain sections of San Miguel county to ask for and obtain the creation of a new county out of portions of San Miguel. Let her come, Gallagher. Too many new counties cannot be made as far as this paper is concerned, provided the area set off contains sufficient population and taxable wealth for the proper support of a county government, and provided that the people within such area desire it.

Should Not Be Created.

There is no necessity for the creation of additional territorial offices. The people of the territory already have their hands full supporting the many territorial institutions.—Silver City Independent.

Gum Chewing.

The members of the lower house of the New Mexico legislature object to gum chewing in the galleries. It should be stopped. It is almost as distasteful as the rag-chewing indulged in by the members on the floor for which the taxpayers are paying an enormous price.—Sierra County Advocate.

On Same Subject.

Two bills were introduced by Mr. Fall in the council which are interwoven on the same general subject. One provides that the leases and contracts for land made by the irrigation commission with the exception of the two tracts of 129,000 and 37,000 acres, shall be cancelled and that the further policy of the commission shall be to sell the lands. The other bill provides for continuing the land selection board and provides that the members shall be given $250 and the selecting agent $1,200 a year. The United States funds are exhausted and it is thought best that the board shall be continued by the territory.—New Mexican.

Double Taxes.

Mr. Albright has introduced a bill in the council regarding the taxation of property on which a building and loan association holds a mortgage. The bill is designed to make the holder of the property pay the taxes on it and that the mortgage shall not be taxed. It is claimed that in many parts of the territory property is taxed twice through the holder and the building and loan association and this bill is designed to do away with this.—New Mexican.

Opposition Against Wood County.

There will be opposition to the Leonard Wood county bill in the house. Eduardo Martinez, representative from Guadalupe county, will make a fight against the bill. In discussing it he said:

"The people of Santa Rosa are the only ones who want the new county and the people of the rest of the county do not. We do not want Guadalupe county wiped out of existence and I have and am constantly receiving many letters and telegrams against it. I had one today from one of our heaviest taxpayers protesting against it. The great mass of our taxpayers are of the middle class and we do not have many of any other class of people. We are already paying taxes on the court house and jail at Puerto de Luna and it is costing the taxpayers of the county $1,500 a year. Now under this bill we will be compelled to pay taxes on another court house and jail at Santa Rosa and we are not willing that this should be so. The bill will have strong opposition."

Danger of Colds and Grip.

The greatest danger from colds and grip is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case resulting in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventative of that dangerous disease. It will cure a cold or an attack of the grip in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Ivan Grunsfeld returned this morning from a trip west.

Regular meeting of the Elks will be held tomorrow (Saturday) night.

W. S. Strickler, cashier of the Bank of Commerce, returned from Santa Fe last night.

Joshua Reynolds, president of the First National bank, went to Santa Fe this morning.

Passenger trains due here this evening from both east and west are reported on time.

W. T. Schufelt left for the west last night in the interest of the Equitable Life Assurance society.

Charles Brown, a would be prize fighter, claiming to be a brakeman on the road, was sent over to the county jail for thirty days by Judge Crawford this morning. Brown got on too much booze and landed on the solar plexus of a young boy about 15 years old. He was immediately arrested and threw into the box. The boy's eye was swollen shut this morning and looked like he had been hit with a sledge hammer.

Hon. L. B. Prince delivered the last lecture on the history of the early days of New Mexico at the assembly room of the Central school last night. The room was well filled with an interested audience. This lecture proved more interesting than any of the others as it led up to the settlement of Santa Fe and the early history of Albuquerque.

Governor Otero Issues an Important Cattle Proclamation.

AGAINST INFECTIOUS DISEASES.

Proclamation.

Territory of New Mexico, Executive Office, Santa Fe, N. M., March 11, 1903.

Whereas, It has been presented to the undersigned, the governor of the territory of New Mexico, by the cattle sanitary board of the said territory, that it has come to the knowledge of the said cattle sanitary board through investigations caused to be made by them that there are in certain counties in the state of Texas and the Territory of Oklahoma, both above and below the United States quarantine line, and also in the state of Chihuahua and Sonora, in the Republic of Mexico, cattle whose bodies are infested with living fever ticks (Boophilus Annulatus) that are known to convey and spread the deadly infection of Texas or splenic fever over the trails and pastures through which they pass, communicating to and infecting with the same the cattle with which they come in contact, thereby endangering the health and destroying the market for the same to the great damage and loss of the cattle interests of the territory of New Mexico; and

Whereas, The said cattle sanitary board has requested the undersigned, as governor, to issue his proclamation establishing the quarantine against such infected cattle along the boundary line dividing the territory of New Mexico from the state of Texas and the Republic of Mexico, as provided for in sections 184, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 194 and 195, of the compiled laws of New Mexico of 1897, and same to be continued in full force and effect from the 5th day of March, 1903, to the 1st day of November, 1903;

Now, therefore, I, the undersigned, Miguel A. Otero, governor of the territory of New Mexico, do proclaim and establish hereby a quarantine against driving, conveying, transporting or aiding in driving, conveying, transporting in the territory of New Mexico, during the time above mentioned, from the 5th day of March, 1903, to the 1st day of November, 1903, any cattle from any part of the state of Texas, territory of Oklahoma or the Republic of Mexico;

Provided, That cattle from any part of the United States that may be offered for admission into the territory of New Mexico, to remain, or that may come in contact with native New Mexican cattle that shall have been inspected and found to be free from fever ticks (Boophilus Annulatus) or any other infectious or contagious disease, may upon a permit issued by an inspector of the bureau of animal industry, and verification of the same by a duly authorized inspector for the cattle sanitary board of New Mexico, be admitted as healthy cattle. That cattle from the Republic of Mexico, after complying with the revenue laws of the United States, that may be offered for admission into the territory of New Mexico, and shall have been inspected and permit issued in the manner above provided for American cattle, may upon the payment of three cents per head (to cover the cost of the inspection), be permitted to enter the territory of New Mexico as healthy cattle, if found so to be, and reported to be on such inspection.

Done at the executive office this 11th day of March, 1903.

Witness my hand and the great seal of the territory of New Mexico.

MIGUEL A. OTERO,

Governor of the Territory of New Mexico.

By the governor:

J. W. RAYNOLDS,

Secretary of New Mexico.

Grip Remedies in Great Demand.

When colds and grip are prevalent the quickest and surest remedies are in great demand. Mr. Joseph D. Williams, of McDuff, Va., says that he was cured of a very deep and lasting attack of the grippe by using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy after trying several other preparations with no effect. For sale by all druggists.

They Also Have Troubles.

A strong effort was made in the house caucus to deprive Santa Fe county of its councilman. It was first proposed to unite Santa Fe, Bernalillo and Taos counties as one district and the councilman was to be elected from Taos. The friends of Santa Fe and the representatives rallied to its support and the single district of Santa Fe county was finally restored. Next an effort was made to cut down the representation in the house by giving Santa Fe one representative singly and one with Taos county. This required another strong fight which was successful and as the bill passed the house Santa Fe county retains the one councilman and the two representatives.—New Mexican.

Pleasant Entertainment.

Meadames Ed. and H. Grunsfeld entertained at cards yesterday afternoon at the Ed. Grunsfeld home, 619 West Copper avenue, in a charming manner. The game was six-handed euchre and was played by about forty ladies. The prizes were handsome and the fortunate ones who secured them were: Mrs. G. Rosenwald, first; Mrs. Victor, second; and Mrs. G.

W. Harrison, consolation. Refreshments were served at the card tables. Attorney Neill B. Field was a passenger for the capital this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Otero went to Bernalillo this morning. The annual convention of the New Mexico Association of Firemen will be held in Santa Fe August 11. President Ruppe announced that the convention would be a lively one.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The Rio Grande & Southwestern Railroad company, capital $150,000, has been incorporated to build a line forty-two miles long from a junction with the Denver & Rio Grande in Rio Arriba county, New Mexico, in a southeasterly direction to the Jicarilla Apache Indian reservation.

The Las Vegas Record says: F. D. Marshall, who has been in the employ of Superintendent F. C. Fox as stenographer for some months past, and who is well and favorably known both here and in Albuquerque, his old home, has filed an application blank, and will try his hand riding box cars down the hill and wearing a brakeman's uniform.

A mortgage was filed at Guthrie, Oklahoma, in the sum of $4,500,000 by the Blackwell, End & Southwestern Railway company, covering the construction of that railway from Blackwell, Oklahoma, to Vernon, Texas, 235 miles. The road was recently transferred to the "Frisco." The holder of the mortgage is the Standard Trust company of New York City.

STOPPED ON SUSPICION.

Another Example of the Peculiar Railroad Laws of Mexico.

Traffic on the Gulf division of the Mexican Central railroad was tied up for twelve hours on account of the peculiar law of Mexico relating to the responsibility of railroad trainmen for accidents, says a dispatch from Monterey, Mexico, dated March 9. Early in the morning the station agent at San Francisco discovered the dead bodies of two Mexicans on the Mexican Central's track. He immediately notified the local judge at that place, who, in view of the fact that he could not discover exactly what train had killed the two Mexicans, ordered all trains coming into San Francisco to stop, and not to proceed until it had been discovered which train struck the Mexicans. This order soon had the effect of completely blocking all traffic on the division, as the engineers would not proceed against the judge's order.

At last, the matter becoming serious, Governor Reyes was appealed to. The trouble was explained to him and he was asked for an order that would allow the trains to proceed. This was given.

Pennsylvania Increases Stock.

By far the most stupendous increase in capital ever made by any corporation, went into history when the stockholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, at their annual meeting, authorized an addition to the capital stock of the company to make the aggregate $400,000,000, and an increase of the bonded indebtedness to a like amount.

This action confers authority on the board of directors absolutely to issue, as it may from time to time deem expedient, securities to the enormous total of $486,570,760, par value. This will bring the total authorized capitalization of the company, stock and funded indebtedness, to the enormous total of $886,570,760.

No definite statement has been issued as to the purposes for which the vast amount of new capital will be used, but it is known that the company has a vast amount of work laid out which it will take millions to complete. While the underground railroad under New York is to be built by another company, the Pennsylvania Railroad company will own all the stock, and at least $50,000,000 will be used for this purpose. There will be several millions of dollars spent in Washington and at least $50,000,000 on permanent improvement on the line of the road. Some of this money, however, will be taken out of the earnings.

The Las Vegas Record says: A portable outfit for boring wells was shipped from the Adlon Iron works to H. C. Williams at a point on the new Santa Fe Central line. The machinery was shipped via Albuquerque for the reason that the Rio Grande cannot be crossed at Belen.

TEXAS CONDUCTOR.

How He Lost a Costly Diamond—An Experience of Value.

The following good joke on a Texas railroad conductor is related in the Galveston Times:

There are some few railroads in this country on which it is considered quite the right thing for conductors on passenger trains to supplement the earnings of their legitimate trade by a little money "on the side" made from change passengers. Such a road is the Texas & Pacific, for instance. It is quite a common saying that the road pays its dividends to its conductors. It quite frequently happens that after a few months of service on the road a conductor has made a nice little sum of money through complacency in the matter of issuing the regular tickets when he collects fares.

The road is in the habit of sending out inspectors every now and then to get an eye on the conductors who do these things. The coming of this inspector is generally well known. It happened one time that Jim Reilly, conductor on No. 3, west bound, bought for himself a diamond ring, such as conductors love. It was a handsome bit of jewelry, and it cost Mr. Reilly $100. He wore it constantly.

The inspector on his travels got into conversation with Mr. Reilly. He had offered to buy his fare, and had been firmly told that the company had a rule about "excess charges," which excess would be duly returned on presentation of the slip which the conductor gave him. They talked casually.

"That's a pretty nice ring you're wearing," said the inspector.

Now, at that a great fear took hold of Mr. Reilly. He knew the gentleman for what he was. He knew, too, that an admission concerning that ring would be liable to attract some suspicion, for the wages of conductors are not princely. Therefore he lied.

"Looks pretty, but it ain't much. I liked the looks of it. I'll let you have it for $5. That's better than I paid."

"I'll take it," said the stranger, diving down into his pockets. He eyed the conductor closely the while.

Jim Reilly was not a very bright man. He pulled off the ring and handed it over. After that he went on his way down the car, and he enjoyed immensely the task of kicking a tramp off the front platform of the baggage car into the middle of Texas. Ordinarily he was careful never to visit the front end of that baggage car.

He never mentioned that ring to any one. Put about a month after the occurrence he got the ring back. It came by registered mail and in the box was a slip of paper with these words:

"You're not sharp enough to do much harm."

The Topeka State Journal says: The old engine which has furnished the power for the Santa Fe machine shops for the last twenty-five years is to be taken down some time this week and moved to the new power house, where it is to be used as an air compressor. This engine, which is a magnificent piece of machinery, was built in the Santa Fe shops in the year 1879. A plate on its side shows the date. Since that time it has been running night and day and has seen a great deal of hard service, but is still practically as good as new and will no doubt see a good many more years of service. Many a machinist has come and gone since it was set up—twenty-five years ago. In fact there is hardly a man in the whole shop who can say truthfully that he was working in the shops when the engine was first started.

"THE KILTIES."

A Letter from the President of the Tour.

Mr. Matson, Manager Colombo Hall, Albuquerque, N. M.

Belleville, Canada, Feb. 26.—Dear Sir:—In view of the fact that we are half through our sixth semi-annual tour, I beg to draw your attention to the marked successes which continue to characterize "The Kilties" entertainments. While our previous tours included many striking successes, the fifth season, which closed early in September, in many respects excelled its predecessors and the sixth tour, now in its thirty-fifth week, has proved of a similar satisfactory character. The work of the band from an artistic standpoint was of even a higher standard than formerly, while the size and enthusiasm of "The Kilties" audiences has exceeded all the brilliant records formerly established.

The engagement of a month at Willow Grove Park, Philadelphia, (which is recognized as commanding the services of the best music organizations of any summer resort in America) was the most striking event of the summer. On the Fourth of July over 150,000 people greeted "The Kilties" on the occasion of their opening concerts and throughout their engagement crowds of fifty, sixty and seventy-five thousand were an every day record, fully 90,000 people being present on the closing Saturday. Superintendent Weaver, of Willow Grove Park, states that "The Kilties" drew 25 per cent larger audiences than the greatest ever drawn by any other organization at Willow Grove and, as the attractions at this resort have included such recognized organizations as those of Herbert, Danrosch, Sousa, etc., the great success of "The Kilties" was all the more noteworthy. On the closing day there was an elaborate series of presentations to "The Kilties." This included a beautiful coronation medal to every member of "The Kilties" from the Sons of St. George, a silver mounted baton and elaborate floral tributes from several groups of Philadelphia admirers, a beautiful gold badge from the British-American league to Conductor Robinson and an elaborate emblem from Mr. Robinson's fellow Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. At the close of the concert the entire audience repeatedly cheered "The Kilties" and joined heartily in singing "Auld Lang Syne."

At Atlantic City record breaking crowds were drawn to Young's Pier throughout "The Kilties" engagement, and at Music Hall, Baltimore; Kenwood Park, Pittsburgh; Convention hall, Buffalo, and other extended sun-weeks large business and pronounced enthusiasm marked each day's performance.

The present tour extends from Boston on the east to San Francisco on the west and includes all the large cities, among the more extended engagements being one full week each in New York city, Chicago and San Francisco. The New York Herald, World, Journal and Telegram all speak of the unrivalled enthusiasm and crowded houses which marked the week of November 3 to 9 at Grand Central Palace, and the special afternoon engagement at the season's big society event in the Waldorf-Astoria, the Convention of Federation of Women's Clubs. At Chicago, during Christmas week, 40,000 people visited the Coliseum to see "The Kilties," while at Washington, Cleveland, Columbus, Baltimore, Detroit, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Duluth, Kansas City, Denver (four concerts), Salt Lake City (four concerts in the famous tabernacle), Portland (four concerts), Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, etc., great successes have also been scored.

Sincerely yours,
CAMERON BROWN,
President of Tour "The Kilties."

Another Big Contract Landed.

The contract for plumbing material and labor for the government at Fort Defiance, Arizona, has been awarded to Whitney Company. This contract covers in the neighborhood of from twenty to thirty cars of material, and will give employment to a very large force of men for the balance of the year. The above contract is the largest ever taken by any single firm in this city, and runs into a large amount of money.

The total area of the new Santa Fe machine and boiler shops at Topeka is 149,146 square feet, the shop being 850 feet long and 152 feet wide. The erecting shop comprises 30 per cent of the floor space of the shop, the tool and machine room 44 per cent and the boiler shop 26 per cent.

ITEMS FROM ALGODONES.

Special Correspondence.

Algodones, N. M., March 11.—The county division seems to please everybody here, as the county seat question is left to a vote of the people, which is only justice. It is safe to bet that the new county of Sandoval will be solidly republican.

The outlook for a good crop this season is very good. Spring planting is all done with the exception of corn, beans, etc., which have to be planted later in the season.

Mr. Tucker is building a two story frame building here for a store. The frame is up and carpenters are pushing the work along as fast as possible.

Work is also being pushed on the oil drilling near here. The well is now down several hundred feet and hopes are entertained that oil will soon be struck.

At Una de Gato the company who are working the coal mines are doing a great deal of improvement and have a fine vein of good coal over five feet thick.

The river is now higher than it has been for many years at this time of the year and fears are entertained that it will be overflowing its banks before long.

J. H. MADDEN.

County Seat is Progress.

Torrance county is all right. The bill introduced Wednesday and which passed the council is sure to pass the house. The county seat will be at Progreso, a new town near the home ranch of Col. J. Francisco Chavez, and the provisions of the bill take effect on January 1, 1905. Bernalillo county will give the Chilli precinct, and Santa Fe county the Moriarty precinct, to the new county and the major portion of the county comes from Valencia county. Within a very few years, Torrance county will be one of the prosperous and progressive counties of New Mexico. The fact that the county seat was fixed at the town of Progreso is a very good omen.—New Mexican.

Paine's Celery Compound

THE WORLD'S BEST SPRING MEDICINE

The blood plays an important part in our physical economy, and, in a liquid state, constitutes a large part of the entire body. Unhealthy conditions of the life stream affect seriously all parts of the human system. It seems unnecessary to remind intelligent people that, when vitality is low, when the appetite falls, when oppressed by tired feelings and heaviness, when headaches and insomnia make our days miserable, when itches, skin troubles and eruptions cause alarm, that the condition of the blood calls for prompt attention.

If you have delayed the work of purifying the blood in the past months, you cannot with safety allow the spring time to pass without some effort on your part to rid yourself of perils and dangers. In the spring season Paine's Celery Compound effectively removes all impurities from the blood, so that the vital fluid goes on its health-restoring mission to heart, lungs, brain and all other parts, making you vigorous and healthy and stronger than ever before. Mr. T. F. McCarthy, Roxbury, Mass., Post Office Money Order Clerk, and a prominent member of the Knights of Columbus, writes thus:

"I wish to express my appreciation of your most valuable remedy, Paine's Celery Compound. I had been troubled with a violent itching on hands and feet, coupled with swelling, all due to impure blood. After using Paine's Celery Compound three days, the itching and swelling completely disappeared, and after use of one full bottle, I find myself in good health."

A Burden to Taxpayers.

The house passed a bill yesterday creating another territorial institution and a bill was introduced for the establishment of a territorial hospital at Gallup. The territory has about as many public institutions to take care of now as it well can. In fact, there is a suspicion that some of the present institutions are not as strong financially as they might be and ought to be. It is better to maintain a dozen first class institutions in good style than two dozen third rate schools and hospitals and then starve them for support.—New Mexican.

East Side Terminals Site

Selected by Albuquerque Eastern Railroad.

Pursuant to call, issued and published in The Daily Citizen yesterday afternoon, a majority of the citizens' committee of sixty met upstairs over Zeiger's Cafe last night, and listened to the reading of a letter from W. S. Hopewell, general manager of the Albuquerque Eastern railroad on the subject of terminals site.

After the reading, the executive committee presented a reply to said letter, it also being read to the meeting.

The letter and answer thereto received a general discussion, after which both were adopted.

The documents, in full, are as follows:

Mr. Hopewell's Letter.

Santa Fe, N. M., March 9.—Hon. Charles F. Myers, mayor; W. S. Strickler, Esq.; G. L. Brooks, Esq., executive committee Albuquerque citizens' committee for securing rights of way and terminals for the Albuquerque Eastern railway, Albuquerque, N. M.:

Gentlemen—Your two propositions for terminals and rights of way for the Albuquerque Eastern railway, I took east with me and submitted to the company.

The company thinks your proposition is not in accordance with, nor does it comply with, the proposition as submitted to the citizens of Albuquerque and accepted by their committee on behalf of the citizens of Albuquerque.

The Albuquerque Eastern Railway company will comply with their former proposition as to the building of the road into Albuquerque; but will expect to have the deeds for the terminals and the rights of way placed in the bank at Albuquerque, to be left there until the Albuquerque Eastern Railway is completed.

The company does not care to bother about paying money to any party or parties for any of the land, nor do they care to make an investigation of the title to any portion of the property to be given them for terminals and rights of way; but as soon as your committee has placed the deeds for these lands in the bank, the attorney for the Albuquerque Eastern Railway company will make an examination of the same, and if they are found to be correct, they will be approved.

The proposition that will be accepted by the company is the one pertaining to the terminals and rights of way on the east side of the city, designated as "A" in your proposition, with the following changes, in addition to those already above mentioned in the proposition as submitted by you.

1. The company requires the rights of way for the main line of the Albuquerque Eastern railway from a point on the north line of the thirty-five acres John A. Lee tract, for a distance of two thousand (2,000) feet, to be not less than three hundred (300) feet wide and from thence to the point where the line turns up the arroyo, near the Presbyterian Indian school, a right of way one hundred (100) feet wide.

2. The right of way from the south line of said track, running in a southerly direction to the south line and near the east end of the tract of land on which is situated the Southwestern Brewery, must be not less than one hundred (100) feet wide; instead of "not more than one hundred (100) feet wide."

3. "B" is not satisfactory, as it would be impossible for us to make the turn across the A. T. & S. F. Ry. tracks at the point which you designate. It will be necessary for us to cross the A. T. & S. F. Ry. tracks at a point opposite where our survey comes down the arroyo, just east of the Indian school, or in that vicinity, the point to be settled and located by survey, which the company is ready to make at once. The right of way parallel with the A. T. & S. F. Ry. spur, being put in for the use of the American Lumber company, need not be more than thirty (30) feet wide; from the crossing up to the spur, the right of way to be one hundred (100) feet wide.

4. The company will not accept any assignments of any contracts or options for land, as set forth in your proposition relating to the land shown on the map marked "BB." The company, as already above stated, requires the deeds to the property to be placed in escrow in the bank, in accordance with the proposition as submitted by the citizens of Albuquerque.

5. Whereas, there has been delay in carrying out the proposition accepted by the citizens' committee in depositing deeds and complying with the other provisions of said proposition, the company will require the proposition as submitted and accepted to be amended in the following particulars:

(a) If the company shall be delayed in completion of the road on account of inability to obtain material and equipment of labor, without its fault, then the time for completion and putting into operation of the said road shall be extended beyond the time mentioned in the proposition submitted by the company and by your proposition submitting the different tracts of lands for such length of time as the company may have been delayed in procuring such material, equipment or labor.

(b) The provisions with reference to commencing and prosecuting the grading of said road shall be changed so as to provide that the grading shall be commenced at a point where it has been discontinued, and prosecuted as rapidly as practicable so soon as the deeds to be deposited in escrow by the citizens of Albuquerque or their committee, shall have been so deposited. The company reserves the right to commence and prosecute grading at any point along its line, or at as many points along its line, as it may see fit.

6. The company will agree that the road shall be built through Tijeras canyon to Albuquerque, as outlined in paragraph 8 of your proposition; but the company reserves the right to change its line at any point it may see fit, except that it will come through Tijeras canyon and pass over the land accepted for it by the citizens of Albuquerque for rights of way and terminals.

7. If there should be any delay caused by the withdrawal of township 10, north range 4 east and township 10, north range, 3 east from entry by order of the secretary of the interior, located east of Albuquerque on the mesa, said townships having been withdrawn for the purpose of military posts, then such delay shall not work a forfeiture of the rights of the company to receive the deeds deposited in escrow, whenever the road shall have been completed; and the period of such delay shall be added to the period prescribed in the proposition submitted by you.

Yours very truly,
W. S. HOPEWELL,
Vice President and General Manager,
Albuquerque Eastern Railway Co.

Committee's Reply.

Albuquerque, N. M., March 11.—W. S. Hopewell, vice president and general manager, Albuquerque Eastern Railway, Santa Fe, N. M.:

Dear Sir—Your communication of the 9th inst., in answer to ours of the 25th ult., received this a. m.

The proposition we were accepting February 21 was the one made by you January 28, 1903.

We note that the proposition acceptable to your company is one pertaining to the terminals and rights of way known as the east side proposition and designated as "A," subject, however, to certain changes which you have outlined.

As relates to change No. 1, we will furnish the right of way 300 feet by 2,000 feet and the portion required 100 feet wide, as required by you, providing your company will condemn the same for railroad purposes and that it can be secured by condemnation, that is to say, you are to condemn it and we will pay for it.

As relates to change No. 2, this is satisfactory.

As relates to change No. 3, this is satisfactory with the understanding, however, as provided in our former communication that we do not agree to furnish right of way across the A. T. & S. F. Ry. right of way at the intersection of your track with theirs.

As relates to change No. 5, we agree to amendment (a) and we agree to amendment (b) with this exception—that the grading shall be commenced at the point where it has been discontinued, and prosecuted as rapidly as practicable within thirty days from the date of your final acceptance, unaccompanied by further changes or conditions, of our proposition.

As relates to change No. 6, we have to say that the same is satisfactory to us.

As relates to change No. 7, we have to say that this is satisfactory to us.

Now, as relates to change No. 4, referring particularly to the lands shown on the map and marked "BB," we have to say that this is unsatisfactory to us and that as the assignment of option on the same will expire tomorrow, whereby we will be no longer in a position to transfer the said option to you, we will therefore agree to pay eleven hundred ($1,100) dollars an acre toward the purchase of this tract and owing to the conditions surrounding this particular tract of land, we feel compelled to repeat here the condition made in our former proposition: "That nothing herein contained shall be construed into binding us to pay more than eleven hundred ($1,100) dollars an acre for the tract designated "BB."

As some of the options upon a portion of the land in tract "A" will expire the latter part of the month we have to make it a condition of this amended proposition that it shall be accepted or rejected on or before the twenty-fifth of this month.

This proposal has been submitted to a meeting of the citizens' committee of sixty, as heretofore appointed by the mayor of the city of Albuquerque, and has received the approval of a majority of said committee at a meeting held this eleventh day of March, 1903.

SANTA FE COLONIST RATES.

Cheap Rates to California Are Now in Effect.

The colonist rates with which the Santa Fe has at last decided to meet the special colonist rates made by other transcontinental roads to California went into effect Monday, March 9. The new rate is $25 from Missoula river points and other western territory, and $23 from Chicago, to points on the Santa Fe in California. This is a one rate for colonist purposes, and will be good until June 15.

The Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Rock Island and other lines with coast connections announced the special $25 rate on February 15, to remain effective until April 30. At that time the Santa Fe declined to join in making the rate a common one, on the ground that its regular winter business during February and March was all it could conveniently handle, but it seems that since then it has been found necessary to make the rate.

Santa Fe officials here say that an enormous business is expected while the rates are in effect.

Deputy United States Marshal W. R. Forbes returned this morning from Silver City. While there Forbes took charge of and placed in the Grant county jail three natives who are charged with having broken into a bonded car, loaded with merchandise, at Silver City, about a month ago. A preliminary hearing was given the natives and they were bound over to the grand jury. They were strangers at Silver City.

The Third Lecture.

Governor Prince will deliver the last of the series of three lectures on the "Romance of the Southwest" at the high school building this evening. Admission 50 cents, school children half price. This is said to be the most interesting lecture of the course.

Deputy United States Marshals Fornoff and Kaseaman returned from the session of the United States court at Santa Fe on the delayed train this morning.

Capt. W. C. Reid, of Roswell, assistant United States attorney for New Mexico, passed through the city this morning en route from Silver City to Las Vegas on business.

Miss Margaret Maher, who has been visiting at her home here the past week, returned this morning to Santa Fe, where she is a student of the Sisters of Loretto college.

The broad lawns of the Alvarado were flooded this morning for the first time this spring. The past few days of warm weather has done much toward bringing out the grass.

Albuquerque encampment No. 4, I. O. O. F. There will be degree work at our regular meeting tonight. All Patriarchs requested to be present. Refreshments. Charles Stadler, C. P.

Antonio Apache left this morning for Chicago on a short business trip. Mr. Apache has made many friends during his stay at the Alvarado curio rooms. He is undoubtedly the best authority on Indian ethnology in the world, and it was a mission of this nature which took him to Chicago.

Pedro Montano and family, from Holbrook, Arizona, are in the city, on their way to Las Animas, Bent county, Colorado, where they will reside in the future. Mr. Montano will retain his ranches and flocks of sheep in Arizona. In the early days of Albuquerque, the gentleman was a resident of old town.

ALBUQUERQUE BACKS!

Few are the people in Albuquerque who never have a bad back. Nearly everyone you know has "now and then" an aching back—some suffer severely from backache pains, others have mild attacks that only harass, annoy and seem not serious. Many grievous mistakes are made through back neglect. Ever stop to think that there is reason for the weakness which causes ever strain of the back—every cold—every exertion to bring backache pains? There will be less pain—less back trouble when 'tis understood the kidneys are to blame for it all nine times out of ten. The kidneys' constant call for help comes through the back—kidneys are overworked and become easily disordered, unable to perform their proper functions, then it is the back warns you to assist nature and right the wrong that is going on in the system causing impure blood to circulate and breed disease.

PROOF

J. W. Gertig, bookkeeper, residence 408 West Coal avenue, says: "When I lived in Mansfield, Ohio, several years ago I had an attack of lumbago. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended by residents of Mansfield in the papers of that city and I went to the drug store kept by a friend of mine, named W. Barton, for a box and commenced the treatment. A continuation of it for some time stopped the attack and for several years there was no recurrence. Some six months ago I noticed pain in my back and knowing what Doan's Kidney Pills had performed when they first came to my notice, I went to the Alvarado drug store for a box. The treatment was just as effective as it was when I first used it in Ohio. This to me positively proves that Doan's Kidney Pills can be depended upon."

Mrs. R. E. Waite, rooming house, 202 North Second street, says: "There came to my notice some time ago a case of eczema or of some disease of the skin, which had resisted all the efforts of the party to stop. Doan's Ointment was procured at the Alvarado Pharmacy and a course of the treatment commenced. It gave positive relief after an application or two and upon a continuation of it for some time the annoyance ceased. This information should be of untold value to residents of Albuquerque who are in quest of an article upon which they can depend to cure any itchiness of the skin or eruption thereof."

C. G. Lott, for ten years stationmaster in Albuquerque, now retired from active cares of life, residence 315 North Arno street, says: "I had attacks of backache stretching over a period of three years. One of them occurred shortly before Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice and I went to the Alvarado Pharmacy for a box. I knew the cause of my trouble arose from imperfect action of the kidneys because the behavior of the kidney secretions and their condition fully proved it but what to do to check the trouble was a mystery. Doan's Kidney Pills effectively stopped the difficulty. If everyone in Albuquerque receives an undoubted benefit as I from that remedy, kidney complaint, backache and trouble with the kidney secretions will cease to exist in this vicinity."

C. A. Hall, a machinist in the round house of the Santa Fe shops, residence 204 Atlantic avenue, says: "I have had attacks of pains just across that part of my back immediately over the kidneys, some of which lasted an entire week. When they occurred there was no let-up to the aching and naturally I was on the outlook for something to check the trouble if not radically dispose of it. The last medicine I tried was Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Alvarado Pharmacy. To say they are worth recommending feebly expresses my opinion of them, and to show in what estimation I hold the remedy, let me add, I keep the Pills constantly in the house for fear of a recurrence taking place, fully convinced that I can depend upon the treatment to bring steady relief."

PROOF

Mrs. M. J. Butler, (M. J. Butler, night watchman in the Santa Fe shops), residence, 717 East street, says: "When I went to the Alvarado Pharmacy for Doan's Kidney Pills I had an attack of backache. It was only one of many which had annoyed me for two or three years. At first they were mild and I expected they would leave just as mysteriously as they came, but with the passing of time the attacks were more frequent and of longer duration. I used three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and was rewarded with an entire cessation of the aching. Up to date, and it is considerably over six months since I stopped the treatment, there has not been a sign of any recurrence."

W. R. Tripp, engineer at the Hotel Alvarado, residence 511 South Broadway, says: "If backache had been my only symptom of kidney trouble my case would probably have been very simple, but when there was added to it trouble with the kidney secretions the complications did not respond to medicine as readily as I expected. About once every year I had these attacks and the use of Doan's Kidney Pills procured at the Alvarado Pharmacy tided me over one which was only a successor of similar predecessors. For six months I have had immunity from the annoyance and if Doan's Kidney Pills can be depended upon to act as they did when they first came to my notice, I know what to use should an attack recur in the future."

TELLES TO DIE.

McFie, Designated Friday, April 3, as the Day for Execution.

PLEA OF GUILTY TO MURDER.

Last Saturday, The Citizen published a dispatch from Santa Fe, giving briefly the facts that Telles had pleaded guilty to murder and had been sentenced to hang April 3. On the subject the New Mexican says:

There was an impressive scene in the district court this afternoon at 2 o'clock when Jose Telles, indicted for the murder of Epitacio Gallegos and for the murder of a man at Kennedy, stood before Judge McFie on his plea of guilty to murder in the first degree, to receive his sentence.

Telles was one of the two men who escaped after murdering Epitacio Gallegos, the jailor, and after his indictment for that crime, entered a plea of guilty.

The court room was crowded when he was brought in.

He is still slightly lame from his experience while trying to escape and he was not shackled in any way.

As soon as court was opened, Judge McFie ordered him to stand up and receive his sentence. Telles at first did not appear to be affected in any way, but as the court proceeded with his arraignment of him and his career, he grew paler and paler, and when the final death sentence was pronounced all color left his face.

Judge McFie reviewed the crime for which Telles was confined in the jail here and then said that he had conceived the idea of escape. Judge McFie then said:

"You took the jailor and locked him securely in a cell. You took the keys to the cell and could have gone without killing Epitacio Gallegos. You refused to leave the jail even on the plea of the jailor that you had locked him in the cell that you should leave and not harm Gallegos. You refused to go. You waited half an hour for Gallegos and you said you would wait for him. It is evident, in the face of your plea of guilty and from your conduct that you intended to kill him. You took the life of one of the best citizens of Santa Fe, of Santa Fe county and of the territory. He was a law abiding and inoffensive citizen, and yet you shed his blood deliberately. Ordinarily the jury delivers upon a verdict of death from accidental burns.

The funeral took place this afternoon, the Rev. Smith officiating. The remains were accompanied to their last resting place by many sorrowing friends. Much sympathy is expressed for the daughter, who is thus suddenly bereft of her parent.—Winslow Mail, March 7.

The base ball season will soon be open. Why not have a good nine to represent Socorro?

Mrs. J. J. Leeson had a severe attack of rheumatism of the heart, but is now recovered.

Mrs. J. M. Robinson and daughter, Johnie, arrived in the city from Columbia, Mo.
Postmaster Kittrell says that the receipts from the sale of stamps for February this year at the Socorro office were 25 per cent greater than those for the same month last year.
Lena Griffith has been so afflicted with a severe cold this week as to be obliged to be absent from her work at the School of Mines.

Professor Lincoln has bought a few acres of land out near the School of Mines and, it is reported, will next summer build a home there.

There are more improvements in progress in Socorro now than at any time in the last six years. Such a condition of affairs is very gratifying.
Dr. Duncan will probably not return home as soon as was expected. He is steadily improving in health, but has been persuaded by his medical adviser that it will be better for him to remain away from business a week or two longer.

Work was begun under the direction of Mayor Cooney in clearing out the dead trees and planting new ones in the park. It is disgraceful that the park has suffered such neglect for the last two years but it is pleasant to note that conditions there are at last to be improved.

Sad Accident.

Last evening, Mrs. Parker, aged about 70 years, met death in a manner that was sad in the extreme.

As near as could be learned the stove was accidentally overturned and Mrs. Parker tried to remove it from the room. Her dress caught fire and she grabbed a quilt and put around her and then ran outside, which caused the flames to be fanned by the wind and completely envelope her.

Assistance was soon at hand and the unfortunate lady was taken inside and medical aid summoned. Dr. Sampson responded and did all in his power to save Mrs. Parker, but age was against her, and the shock proved too much for her feeble frame.

She succumbed at 12 o'clock last night.

Mrs. Parker leaves a daughter to mourn her untimely death.

An inquest was held at Justice Flinn's court at 10 a. m. today, the coroner's jury rendering a verdict of death from accidental burns.

The funeral took place this afternoon, the Rev. Smith officiating. The remains were accompanied to their last resting place by many sorrowing friends. Much sympathy is expressed for the daughter, who is thus suddenly bereft of her parent.—Winslow Mail, March 7.

ISLETA INDIANS.

They Amused Good Crowd Yesterday With the Second Acequia Dance.

FUNERAL DURING PROCEEDINGS.

The acequia dance at Isleta yesterday attracted a large crowd of sight-seers and friends of the Pueblos. Indians from the Apache, Navajo and Laguna tribes were guests of peaceable inhabitants of the adobe, whom they robbed and overpowered in the days of hardships and strife.

Although the village may have appeared to assume a spirit of gaiety and revelry to the uninitiated, it was not so to the Indian in any respect. These dances, in which they offer prayer to the great spirit to send them water, that they may have good crops and a golden harvest, are very sacred and solemn.

At first sight, from a distance, there is little to attract the favorable attention of the Caucasian: a huge collection of small adobes, without a sign of life. Sunshine, silence and adobe meets the curious gaze. But as one draws nearer the unique and ancient architecture, the quaint ovens and neat arrangement of the small, clean courts are viewed with admiration.

The first evidences of the dance was the sudden appearance on the house tops of six yelling Indians, clad in white cotton, richly decorated with sashes of bright colors, their faces made hideous by facial decorations of black and white. Banishing their long whips in the air, they penetrated the atmosphere with soul-stirring yells. They disappeared as mysteriously as they appeared. A few minutes of quietness and they would appear on another house top in the vicinity of the plaza. This was kept up until every Indian in the village knew his fate if he did not attend the dance. These six grotesque and grim beings, whose faces were rendered more ghastly and appalling by the bright rays of the sun, were the chiefs of the dance ceremonies. It was their duty to see that everyone attended the dance. If anyone refused there was fun for the spectators. By this time the tops of the seemingly colorless house were lined with Indians wrapped in red and brilliant colored blankets. The doorways and front of the house were filled with the figures that stood out in sharp relief with the surroundings. The conventional and accented garb of the American added a peculiar shade or tint to this picturesque sight. The dance was the occasion of the visit and it was for the dance that everyone waited patiently to see. From out of the council chambers came the men, and having formed a long line, keeping step to the odd sounds being pounded out of an equally odd and antiquated drum, they were joined by the women. The costumes were very elaborate and profusely adorned by bright colored sashes and they were especially lavish in their silver jewelry. Stepping in a circle to the tapping of the drum, they sent a mystical, strange chant into the heavens. At times it reached a pitch of shrillness which caused a shiver to visit the spinal column. Their gesticulations were as fantastic and peculiar as the articulations were mysterious. The singular sight was very interesting to the crowd of Americans from Albuquerque, and it was especially fascinating to those that had a camera concealed under their arm, wrapped in a newspaper to represent a lunch box. If an Indian had been fortunate enough to see a snap, there surely would have followed a breaking up in the photograph business.

Across the plaza came the six dance chiefs, dragging an Indian, who had taken too much of the elixir of over-enjoyment, and had refused to dance.

"Into the acequia," yelled some one, and the crowd nearly broke the record in reaching the scene in time to see the ducking. The chiefs dragged their victim over the sand and gravel, when they reached the ditch, they lifted him high over their heads and he dropped with a splash into the muddy water.

Well, it would not be proper to make a phonographic record of his language, which was English all right, the profanity alphabet of the Indian language was not sufficient to express his views on the subject. He was not only wet, but muddy, and far from sober. Every one took care to keep out of his way, as his anger was running over. No sooner had the crowd returned to the plaza than the bells of the church of three centuries began to toll mournfully, and as the crowd gazed toward the old building, there came forth a procession bearing a large cross and lighted candles, and following them was the white gown priest and a number of old Indians. The crowd being curious sightseers, the only thing to do was to follow. They did so, only to discover that they were attending an Indian funeral. The 9-year-old daughter of Governor Juan Domingo Abelta had died the night before, and according to the Indian custom the funeral took place the next day. The procession entered the house where wailing and weeping could be heard, that brought sadness to the hearts of the large crowd collected about the gateway of the court. It was only a short time until they came out carrying the body of a small girl upon a kind of stretcher covered with flowers. The face was exposed so that everyone could see it plainly. They proceeded to the church, where a very impressive ceremony was observed. This was conducted by the priest and an Indian. The weeping and loud lamentations was extremely touching as the body was lowered into the eight-foot grave, which had been dug in the center of the church. The floor had been taken up and a grave of the customary years of being unmolested was dug. In the dirt that was being shoveled in on top of the dead girl, could now and then be seen a skull or bone, the remains of a burial of many years ago.

As soon as the funeral was over the dancing was resumed and continued until sundown.

The Indians have opened the large acequia and will continue working on it until all their lands are irrigated.

Many people visited the store of J. P. Lente, the only Indian merchant in the territory. Mr. Lente is very pleasant and accommodating and saw that the visitors of the pueblo enjoyed themselves. The old church was visited by more people yesterday than it has been for ten years. The little dark-eyed, bronzed urchins afforded a series of amusing acts, scrambling for pennies and nickels in the sand.

Everyone who visited Isleta yesterday was well pleased with the many interesting sights witnessed. The quiet and peaceable Indians of the pueblo on the Rio Grande won a popular place in the estimation of those who had never taken the trouble to make their acquaintance.

POLICE COURT.

Workingmen Up Before Justice Crawford This Morning.

Four anti-cash travelers were up before Judge Crawford this morning. They all proved themselves workingmen, but were up against it good and hard. The judge was very considerate and gave them a chance to get work or leave town. This they were all anxious to do, as they were not in favor of becoming acquainted with the jail and the unpleasant work connected with confinement. These men were beyond doubt hard workers and willing to work, but it is the duty of the officers to take them in charge when they are without the price of a meal or bed. Even if they are all right and willing to work it is not well for public safety to have them roaming about. A watch repairer by the name of Brooks was run in last night for using profane language on the street. He will have a hearing tonight when the officer who arrested him is on duty to appear against him.

Unlike many cough syrups, it contains no opium, but will soothe and heal any disease of the throat or lungs quicker than any other remedy. 25c, 50c and $1.00 at Cosmopolitan Pharmacy—B. Ruppe.

FOREMAN C. O. YOUNG

Hurt in Accident to His Buggy Yesterday Afternoon.

A spirited horse driven by Foreman C. O. Young of the pattern making department of the Santa Fe Pacific shop took fright at T. L. Dodson's automobile in front of the Alvarado on First street yesterday afternoon, and, in making a side jump, threw Mr. Young and a gentleman friend out of the buggy. They escaped with a few bruises.

The morning paper states "an automobile under full headway is enough to strike terror to the heart of any unsophisticated horse."

This statement is erroneous, based upon the fact that the automobile had just turned the corner at Gold avenue, and any one who knows anything about automobiles would know that were an automobile to turn a corner under full headway there would be an exhibition of tumbling. The power had been turned off and the auto was coasting around the corner. The first sight of the progressive conveyance frightens any horse, on matter how gentle, and, unless the driver holds a tight rein, trouble is sure to result. The automobile was not responsible for the accident. If a horse takes fright at a railroad train or a street car they cannot be held responsible for the damage caused by the terrified animal.

A Hot Office.

The Journal-Democrat has been a hot baby the past few days—so hot that any kind of a spark coming from the new officers and force was liable to set fire to any combustible matter. President Macpherson was up early this morning, and was giving some hot pointers to Editors Burke and Ward about "How to Run an Independent Paper," when the shrill yells of "Fire! Fire!" startled his ears. Followed by Fatty McGugin and the editors, the president hastened to the rear of the office and discovered a blaze in the new brick addition to the office. He rapidly laid his new line of hose and soon had a fine stream of water playing beautifully on the fire. The blaze was soon extinguished; loss covered by insurance. The office boy was responsible, and he was promptly "canned."

Cough Settled on Her Lungs.

"My daughter had a terrible cough which settled on her lungs," says N. Jackson, of Danville, Ill. "We tried a great many remedies without relief, until we gave her Foley's Honey and Tar which cured her." Refuse substitutes.—Alvarado Pharmacy.

SWITCHMAN INJURED.

One Foot Run Over and Had to Be Amputated.

Switchman Mike Sherlock met with a serious accident last night, which will cost him a foot. Sherlock was working last night with switch engine No. 2162, under Foreman Edlington. Early this morning they were moving some cars in the south yards. Sherlock attempted to jump on a moving car, his foot slipped and he fell, one foot extending over the rail. The wheels passed over the ankle, almost severing it. He was taken to the St. Joseph's hospital, where the injured member was amputated.

A Severe Cold for Three Months.

The following letter from A. J. Nussbaum, of Batesville, Ind., tells its own story: "I suffered for three months with a severe cold. A druggist prepared me some medicine, and a physician prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I then tried Foley's Honey and Tar, and eight doses cured me." Refuse substitutes. Alvarado Pharmacy.

SENATOR CULLOM.

He Caused a Laughter at His Expense Among Senators.

Washington, March 10.—Soon after the senate met today, Senator Cullom, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, referred to the action of the committee in passing a resolution calling on the secretary of state for a copy in Spanish of the Panama canal treaty. "I have it, and I think it proper to present it. It is the original treaty signed by parties in Spanish," he said.

Cullom had overlooked the fact that the senate was in legislative session and was proceeding to discuss the document when Allison moved executive session.

During the last congress Cullom was very careful to see that the treaty was not discussed except in executive session and he showed signs of embarrassment as he "promptly acquiesced" in the motion to close doors which was done eight minutes after convening. Other senators enjoyed the joke at the expense of the Illinois senator.

When the senate went into executive session, Senator Morgan was not present, but soon came in with a big roll of papers under his arms and when the treaty was taken up proceeded to discuss again, taking up and talking at length upon the failure of copy sent to the senate to embody the Spooner law as provided for in the preamble to the treaty.

Dangers of Pneumonia.

A cold at this time if neglected is liable to cause pneumonia which is so often fatal, and even when the patient has recovered the lungs are weakened, making them peculiarly susceptible to the development of consumption. Foley's Honey and Tar will stop the cough, heal and strengthen the lungs and prevent pneumonia. Alvarado Pharmacy.

OFFICIAL MATTERS.

A postoffice has been established at Van Houten, Colfax county.

Agents Appointed.

The Rio Grande & Southwestern Railroad company has named Fred E. James, of Lumberton, Rio Arriba county, as agent.

Board of Pharmacy.

The territorial board of pharmacy was in session in the Elks hall at Santa Fe and the session was continued over today. The members present are B. Ruppe, of Albuquerque; W. C. Porterfield, of Grant county; E. G. Murphy, of East Las Vegas, and A. J. Fischer, of Santa Fe.

Three candidates were examined yesterday.

Notaries Appointed.

Governor Otero has appointed the following notaries: William F. Myers, La Costilla, Taos county; C. A. Nyhus, Raton, Colfax county; Perfecto Baca, Puerto de Luna, Guadalupe county; William F. Williams, Torrance, Lincoln, Lincoln county; Arthur A. Staab,

HOSTETTER'S BITTERS

CATTLE RAISERS.

They Are Holding Big Annual Meeting at El Paso.

El Paso, March 10.—The Texas Cattle Raisers' association convened in the twenty-seventh annual meeting this morning. The delegates numbered 624 and came from all over Texas and adjoining states. Chicago, Omaha, St. Louis, Denver and Kansas City are well represented. Two important questions will be discussed, leasing and quarantine. Five thousand visitors are in attendance.

Pneumonia Follows a Cold

but never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar. It stops the cough, heals and strengthens the lungs and affords perfect security from an attack of pneumonia. Refuse substitutes. Alvarado Pharmacy.

ALL ABOUT A HORSE.

Passed From Owner to Owner and was Not Happy.

"A rather interesting case concerning a horse was presented to the grand jury at the recent term of court in Valencia county. Persons in Albuquerque who had suffered some loss from dealing with the horse made statements of the facts, so far as they knew them, to the district attorney, and from those statements it appeared that probably the horse had been stolen. A large number of witnesses were brought before the grand jury, but their evidence developed, in substance, the following state of facts:

More than two years ago Andres Gutierrez, of Valencia, sold a horse, having on it the brand of his brother in law, Jose de la Cruz Luna, to Isidro Martinez, of Torreon. About two years ago, Martinez sold the horse to Leandro Benavides, of Torreon, who shortly after sold the horse to his uncle, Jose Severiano Sanchez. This Sanchez sold the horse about a year afterward to his brother, Nicolas Sanchez. Nicolas Sanchez sold the horse to Jose Ignacio Perea, of Albuquerque, who sold him to Pascual Cutinola, who in turn sold him to his father in law, Manuel Candalaria. A little later Candalaria sold the horse to a man living at Escobosa, whose name the witness could not remember, but this man sold him to Juan Cristobal Montoya, also of Escobosa, and Montoya sold him to Cirilo Montoya; Nicolas Sienaros, of Abo, discovered him and claimed him as his horse, which he did, and he in turn compelled his vendor to pay him. Then, Manuel Candalaria was compelled to pay that man and Cutinola then reimbursed Candalaria and called upon Perea, who promptly paid. Perea tried to communicate with Nicolas Sanchez and wrote him letters which were never answered, and he naturally thought that the horse had been stolen.

All these facts were developed only after a long and careful investigation by the grand jury. It was also brought out that the brand of Jose de la Cruz Luna was a circle with a J inside it, and the brand of Nicolas Sienaros was a like circle with an S inside. It seems altogether probable that the difficulty about the horse from a mistake as to the brand, caused by the two brands being so much alike, and the grand jury was unable to believe that there was sufficient evidence to justify indictment against any one.

Crooked Jurens.
Warren Jurens, arrested yesterday by Postoffice Inspector C. L. Doran and City Marshal McMillin on charges of attempt to defraud and forgery, and held in the city jail over night, was taken to the county jail this afternoon for safe keeping. He is a United States prisoner, and was to have had his preliminary hearing this afternoon in United States Commissioner H. R. Whitney's court. Commissioner Whitney is out of the city and the case is postponed until his return, which will probably be tomorrow.

Jurens' case is becoming interesting on investigation. It has been learned that there are two women in the case, and that one or the other is responsible for his downfall.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT.

George Bashford Pleads Guilty—Continuation Proceedings by Santa Fe Central Railway.

The court was called to order by Judge John R. McFie at 10 o'clock yesterday forenoon at the Santa Fe court house.

Continuation proceedings have been brought by the Santa Fe Central railway, in the district court for Santa Fe county, against William H. Coleman, P. E. Morrison and F. E. Morse.

In the case against Coleman the following viewers have been appointed: Ishmael Sparks, W. R. Price and Elias Brevoort.

The case of Tootle, Wheeler and Motter Mercantile company vs. Jose Granito has been dismissed at the plaintiff's cost.

In the case of A. Staab vs. J. T. Williams, judgment was given for the plaintiff in the sum of $681.92.

In the case of A. Staab vs. Romulo Martinez, final judgment was given for $3,148.25.

The case of the Argo Mining company vs. Francisco A. Manzanarez et al, was set for trial on April 6.

The case of the Santa Fe Water & Light company vs. W. E. Dame was set for trial on March 19.

George Bashford was arraigned on Saturday in the United States court on the charge of attempting to force an entrance into the postoffice at Tres Piedras. A plea of guilty was entered.

L. C. Lantry, H. B. Holman and B. H. Newlee, members of the Santa Fe surveying corps, are here from Las Vegas.

J. E. Pinkus, the blind pianist of New York, gave an informal recital at the home of Thomas J. Curran last night.

COL. STONEROAD FROZEN.

Prominent New Mexican Loses Life in Slight of Home.

The White Oaks Eagle states that Col. George W. Stoneroad, formerly of Las Vegas, now located at Jicarilla, Lincoln county, had a paralytic stroke last Saturday evening a week, while on his way home from White Oaks. It was very stormy, snowing and cold, and he was stricken only a few hundred yards distant from his home, but lay in his wagon unconscious, with his horses wandering around through the storm the whole night. He was not found until 11 o'clock the following day. Colonel Stoneroad was wealthy and prominent.

Some sneaking individuals stole Mrs. Akers' horse and buggy from in front of the Catholic church Sunday night. The horse came home Monday morning badly used, like he had been driven exceedingly hard. The spring wagon and harness are still missing.

The Chicago Nationals.

The Chicago National League base ball team passed through the city Monday on passenger train No. 1, bound for Los Angeles. Jim Slagle had charge of the party. Tinker and Kling, who played here during the territorial fair, were among the party. They will go into spring practice at the coast, returning to Albuquerque March 30, and will play two games here on their return. Monday and Tuesday. Local enthusiast, Roy McDonald, met them at the train and showed them that Albuquerque is a live member in the base ball world.

DEEP SNOW.

Assures a Good Water Supply in Rio Grande and Tributary Valleys.

A correspondent of the New Mexican, writing from Chama, says:

Quoted in one of your recent issues the depth of snow in different localities was given, but this district was left out, presumably because you did not have the figures. I will say that at this altitude, 7,800 feet, at the present time, there is from three to three and one-half feet of snow on the level and at an altitude of from 9,000 to 10,000 feet the snow ranges from five to seven feet in depth by careful measurement in different parts of the mountains, which fact should give assurance of an abundant supply of water in the Rio Grande this season, also in the smaller streams and watering holes, as this amount of snow has not been had for about ten years.

Joseph Shoup, of South First street, has been suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia for the past week. The crisis of his disease has not yet passed, but it is daily expected. The attending physician says the course of the disease is satisfactory.

Diphtheria, at Mora.

Diphtheria is once more prevalent among the children of Mora. Hortense, the youngest daughter of William C. Roy, died yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock of the disease. She had been sick for several days, but there was a disagreement as to whether the trouble was bronchitis or diphtheria and anti-toxin could not be obtained in time to save the child's life. The mother of the child was a daughter of Mrs. St. Vrain, of Mora, and died about ten years ago. The burial took place today. A 5 year old child of Antonio Lobato, also of Mora, died on Saturday of diphtheria and was buried yesterday—Optic.

Apple Trees.

Prof. Clothier, in the Farmers' Review, has this to say about apple trees:

"Apple trees are not as hard on soils as many have supposed. If we will keep the soil in proper physical condition, a bulletin issued by Co. and university shows that in a single year a crop of apples will remove for the fruit from a single acre 13 pounds of nitrogen, one pound of phosphoric acid and 13 pounds of potash. The leaves on the trees which produce this crop of fruit will require 19 pounds of nitrogen, 5.2 pounds of phosphoric acid, and 18.4 pounds of potash. The tree growth will require 9.4 pounds of nitrogen, 3.6 pounds of potash. This looks to be a severe strain on the soil, yet I believe that all things considered apples are about half as hard on the soil as corn, assuming that all of each crop is permanently removed from the soil."

"GOOD ROADS" WORK.

A Delegation of Twenty-Five Las Vegans at Santa Fe.

The movement to initiate the "good roads" work in New Mexico, by making a practical experiment in the use of convict labor in building a public highway between Santa Fe and Las Vegas, has aroused much enthusiasm among the citizens of San Miguel, Santa Fe and Mora counties, says the New Mexican.

M. W. Browne, president of the Las Vegas board of trade, telegraphed that a largely attended mass meeting was held in East Las Vegas last night and a big delegation of business men was selected to visit Santa Fe and confer with citizens here on the subject and jointly take up the matter with the legislators.

This forenoon Mr. Browne telegraphed George H. Cross to secure hotel accommodations for a delegation of twenty-five Las Vegans who will arrive on this evening's train. Such accommodations have been secured at the Palace, Claire and Exchange hotels, and the following local committee has been appointed to meet and confer with the visitors:

On behalf of the Santa Fe Board of Trade—Grant Rivenburg, president;

MALARIA An Invisible Enemy to Health

Means bad air, and whether it comes from the low lands and marshes of the country, or the filthy sewers and drain pipes of the cities and towns, its effect upon the human system is the same.

These atmospheric poisons are breathed into the lungs and taken up by the blood, and the foundation of some long, debilitating illness is laid. Chills and fever, chronic dyspepsia, torpid and enlarged liver, kidney troubles, jaundice and biliousness are frequently due to this invisible foe, Malaria. Noxious gases and unhealthy matter collect in the system because the liver and kidneys fail to act, and are poured into the blood current until it becomes so polluted and sluggish that the poisons literally break through the skin, and carbuncles, boils, abscesses, ulcers and various eruptions of an indolent character appear, depleting the system, and threatening life itself.

The germs and poisons that so oppress and weaken the body and destroy the life-giving properties of the blood, rendering it thin and watery, must be overcome and carried out of the system before the patient can hope to get rid of Malaria and its effects.

S. S. S. does this and quickly produces an entire change in the blood, reaching every organ and stimulating them to vigorous, healthy action. S. S. S. possesses not only purifying but tonic properties, and the general health improves, and the appetite increases almost from the first dose. There is no Mercury, Potash, Arsenic or other mineral in S. S. S. It is strictly and entirely a vegetable remedy.

Write us about your case, and our physicians will gladly help you by their advice to regain your health. Book on blood and skin diseases sent free.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

S. G. Cartwright, H. O. Bursum, Amado Chavez, Fred Muller, George H. Cross, C. J. Crandall, W. R. Price, Charles Haspelmath, W. N. Townsend and J. H. Sloan.

On behalf of the city council—L. Sparks, mayor, J. D. Sena, A. J. Fischer, Teodoro Castillo, H. E. Gibson, R. L. Baca, J. W. Akers, John L. Zimmerman, David L. Miller and P. B. Otero.

These committeemen are requested to meet the citizens from Las Vegas upon the arrival of the evening train and be on hand at the Palace hotel during the evening to confer with and properly entertain the visitors.

Historical Society.

The third meeting of the Historical society will be held at Santa Fe tomorrow evening, March 13, at 8 o'clock. The program of addresses is as follows:

Prof. E. L. Hewett, of Las Vegas, "The Mission Churches of New Mexico."

Hon. Pedro Sanchez, "Peminiscences of Padre Martinez."

R. E. Twitchell, "How the Archives Were Saved."

Professor Stroup, of Albuquerque, "Work of Our Historical Club."

Prof. R. J. Banes, United States Indian school, "Coronado in New Mexico."

General remarks and discussion. The house of representatives has again kindly granted the use of their chamber in the capitol and the meeting will be held there.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT.

George Bashford Sentenced—J. O. Renden Declared Not Guilty.

In the district court at Santa Fe Judge McFie sentenced George Bashford, who entered a plea of guilty to trying to hold up a store and the post-office at Tres Piedras, to two years in the penitentiary.

The jury returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of J. O. Renden, formerly postmaster at Embudo, who was charged with having made false accounts while in office.

The case of the United States vs. J. W. Kutz & Co., who are operating coal mines at Monero, Rio Arriba county, was heard. It was an injunction enjoining Kutz & Co. from working their coal mines until they had complied with the United States statutes in providing a second opening to their mines.

It was shown to the court that Kutz & Co. have complied with the law since the injunction was granted and therefore upon payment of costs the injunction was dissolved and the defendants were permitted to go on with their business. United States Coal Mine Inspector Jo E. Sheridan attended the case and gave testimony on the part of the United States.

To Be Wedded in St. Louis.

Accompanying a portrait of the bride to be in Sunday's St. Louis Globe-Democrat is the following nuptial announcement:

Among the engagements announced lately none has been received with more interest than that of Miss Adelaide Anderson to Robert Gross, who, although a St. Louisian by birth, now resides in Las Vegas, N. M. Miss Anderson is one of the loveliest girls in society, and is quite young, having made her debut at the Veiled Prophet's ball last fall, when she was one of the maids of honor surrounding the queen. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Anderson, of 4335 Lindell boulevard, and has been greatly admired. Mr. Gross is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gross, who formerly resided on Olive street, but now are making their home in Normandy. The wedding will be an event of Easter week, taking place at the Cathedral in the morning, and being followed by a bridal breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson. The number of guests at breakfast will be limited to relatives and intimate friends. After wards the bride and groom will leave for a honeymoon tour, before going to their own home in Las Vegas.

Look Before You Leap.

Down near Piedmont a man wanted his son to get up early and go to work. The boy had a habit of answering "yes-sir" and going to sleep again. On this occasion last week the father, to make no mistake, called the boy, got the "yes-sir," and then slid up stairs, turned down the covers and then gave the person a good spanking. It happened that on that night the hired girl had been given the boy's room. When the tumult was over the old man sat down behind the barn and drafted a written apology to the hired girl.—Sugar City (Colo.) Gazette.

TORRANCE IS LIVELY.

Another Shooting Took Place Tuesday Night.

Another shooting took place at Torrance Tuesday night.

At a dance, given in the house of A. L. Garvin, the well digger, Elmer Gilbert, a brother in law of Garvin, shot Morris Dry though the lung. Dry is still living, but is not expected to survive. Gilbert is under arrest.

He Is Progressive.

J. P. Brackett, of Raton, probate clerk of Colfax county, is in the capital working for the passage of council bill No. 141, providing for a more thorough and complete indexing of county records. Mr. Brackett is bright and energetic and fully understands the necessity for correct, complete index of county records. He is a good worker, and if the bill passes it will be owing principally to the work and attention he gave the matter.

FINE ENTERTAINERS.

Cavin Spence and Flora MacDonald Gave Excellent Entertainment.

Gavin Spence and Flora MacDonald, the Scottish entertainers, gave the large audience at Colombo hall last evening a rare season of pleasure in their numerous songs, readings and quaint tales by the means of wholesome Scotch humor.

Spence has a strong and pleasing tenor voice. He touched the appreciative chord of the audience by singing the favorite old melodies, "Flow Gently Sweet Afton" and "Annie Laurie." Scotch character, as shown by Mr. Spence, and his instructive and witty remarks on the manners and customs of his native land were well received. The Highland lassie, Flora MacDonald, won the highest admiration by her sweet and winning personality. The beautiful songs which she sang were charming and enhancing. "Mary o' Argyll" and "Coming Thro' the Rye" were some of the Scottish melodies sung.

The large audience were more than delighted with the evening of entertainment.

The Scottish entertainers will go from here to Silver City, thence to Mexico City.

Col. Twitchell Remembered.

Col. R. E. Twitchell was yesterday the recipient of a beautiful watch and chain presented by the cattlemen and tax payers of Grant and Luna counties as a token of their appreciation of his efforts in the supreme court of New Mexico in winning what is known as the Grant county tax cases, involving the validity of special levies to pay illegal judgments against Grant and Luna counties. The gift is exceedingly handsome and Colonel Twitchell is wearing a broad smile. The presentation was made at Santa Fe.

Territorial Firemen.

At a meeting of the local officers of the New Mexico Association of Firemen, at which Chief B. Ruppe, of Albuquerque, president of the association, was present, it was decided to set the date of the third annual convention of the association for August 11, 1903, same to be held at Santa Fe, and Secretary A. M. Dettelbach was directed to issue a call to all fire departments to send delegates.—New Mexican.

Time Now Limited.

Some important measures have been introduced within the last few days and more are to be introduced during the remainder of the week. It is a pity that this is so. There is not much time left wherein to give the consideration that these projects deserve and ought to have. They should have been introduced a month ago and the fullest discussion and publicity should have been given them.—New Mexican.

Another New County.

Federal county, to be created out of the eastern portion of Valencia county and taking a slice of southern Santa Fe along, will be the next new county project. It is understood that the bill for its creation is now being drawn, a compromise in the matter having been agreed upon between Col. J. Frank Chavez and Hon. Solomon Luna.—New Mexican.

Shall Be Paid Quarterly.

Mr. Vargas has prepared a bill which provides that hereafter all county and territorial licenses for gambling and for retail liquor dealers and retail merchants, shall be paid quarterly.—New Mexican.

ATROCIOUS CRIME.

A Fiend in Human Form Rapes an Eight-Year-Old Child.

One of the most atrocious crimes ever committed in this community occurred on the west side last night, when Jose Contreras, a fiend incarnate, lay in wait in a vacant lot in the southern portion of the town for his victim, an 8-year-old girl, in the person of Agustina Mendosa, says the Las Vegas Record.

An eye witness to the hellish crime notified the police immediately and the brute in human form now languishes in jail, refusing to utter a word, while his innocent victim lies at the point of death.

As nearly as can be learned, the little girl, who is living with her parents, was sent on an errand at a late hour last night, which took her into a vacant lot which adjoins the house. While performing the errand, she was pounced upon by the inhuman monster, who, despite her screams, accomplished his purpose and left the child in a pitiable condition. Before he could escape, the officers of the law appeared upon the scene, placed him under arrest, and lodged him safely behind the iron bars.

He is undoubtedly a degenerate of the worst type, whose lustful tendencies are always uppermost in his narrow mind. He came here some fifteen days ago from Old Mexico, of which country he is a native. He has been lying around town doing nothing ever since, but always appeared harmless until his most atrocious criminal outburst last night.

The little girl at last accounts was in a most sorrowful condition and it is very doubtful whether she will recover from the effects of a crime whose perpetrator should suffer the full penalty of the law.

Wm. Astler, manager of the Santa Fe Meat and Live Stock company, of Santa Fe, passed through Albuquerque yesterday with a car load of beef cattle which he purchased from the C. C. C. ranch at Doming. Mr. Astler reports the range in fine condition, but cattle are not in very good shape.

You Know What You Are Taking

When you take Grove's Tasteless Chili Tonic, because the formula is plainly printed on every bottle showing that it is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure; no pay; 50c.

He Was Equal to Emergencies.

President Chavez, of the council, created much amusement this morning by largely transacting the business of their council in routine proceedings. As members would not be prompt in making necessary motions for reading by title, etc., President Chavez would state that the "Gentleman from so and so" had made the motion. The first few times the member designated looked amazed and then all settled back to enjoy the fun. According to the records nearly every member of the council made many motions, but it was all by the presiding officer.—New Mexican.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on the box; 25c.

The "Three Ton Drum Major."

Donald MacCormick, the Scottish-Canadian who carries the drum major's staff at the head of the Klitties band, is known among his friends as the "three ton drum major." It happened this way:

While standing, as usual, on guard, at the door of the new Coliseum in Chicago where the Klitties played to over 10,000 people on Thanksgiving day, 1900, a curious and long whiskered bystander walked up and shouted up to Mac Donald:

"What is your height?"

"About seven feet," quietly replied the giant.

"Well, well; and how much do you weigh?"

"Threeteen," came the answer.

"Threeton!" shouted the excited man with the beard. "Six thousand pounds! That seems almost impossible!"

And it was only when the hundred people who stood around the door had started to laugh that the man with the credulous mind saw that he had blundered.

All eyes will be on the "three ton" drum major when the Klitties band appears at Colombo hall on Saturday night, March 28.

An Improvident Husband.

Louisa Whaley has entered suit in Colfax county against her husband, Harrison Whaley. The couple were married in Raton on April 16, 1885.

She alleges that she has always been a dutiful and faithful wife to him, but that on account of habitual drunkenness, he has totally unfitted himself to support his family. Within the last three years, she alleges, he has only contributed the magnificent sum of $5 toward her support, although he was working all the time and earning a good salary, but he thought more of the wine cup than he did of her and all his wages went to the gamblers and saloon men, which state of affairs compelled her to support herself by menial labor, having to leave her home and go out to work as a servant in private

The best at one-half price

It takes five of the ordinary "quarts" to make a gallon, but a HAYNER QUART is a full quart, an honest quart of 25 ounces, four to the gallon. Now, you pay your dealer at least $1.50 a bottle for whiskey that cannot possibly be any better than HAYNER. If you buy HAYNER WHISKY you save at least $1.50 on every gallon. We sell two gallons for about the same as you pay for one gallon of probably poorer quality. We sell two quarts for about the same as you pay for one quart of probably poorer quality. Just think that over and remember that HAYNER WHISKY goes direct from our distillery to you, carries a UNITED STATES REGISTERED DISTILLER'S GUARANTEE OF PURITY and AGE, and saves you the dealers' enormous profits. That's why it's so good and so cheap. That's why we have over a quarter of a million satisfied customers. That's why YOU should try it. Your money back if you're not satisfied.

PURE SEVEN-YEAR-OLD RYE
4 FULL $4.00 EXPRESS 4 QUARTS 4.00 PREPAID

We will send you FOUR FULL QUART BOTTLES of HAYNER'S SEVEN-YEAR-OLD RYE for $4.00, and we will pay the express charges. Try it and if you don't find it all right and as good as you ever used or can buy from anybody else at any price, then send it back at our expense and your $4.00 will be returned to you by next mail. Just think that over and over. How could it be fairer? If you are not perfectly satisfied, you are not out a cent. Better let us send you a trial order. If you don't want four quarts yourself, get a friend to join you. We ship in a plain sealed case, no marks to show what's inside.

If you can use 40 Quarts or can get some of your friends to join you, we will send you 40 Quarts for $40.00 by Freight Prepaid, thus saving you $4.00. We have been in business over 25 years and have a paid-up capital of $500,000.00 so you run no risk.

families. It was not to be expected that her affections would withstand all this neglect, so she finds life with him unbearable and so applies to the courts to release her from the bonds of matrimony that bind her to him.

We Need More Corporations.

The railroad and other corporations need have no fear that anything detrimental to their interests will be done in the present session. They are walking on the shady side of Easy street this time. Firstly because the people do not desire any adverse railroad or corporation legislation; quite the reverse. The people want to encourage railroads and other corporations to come to New Mexico and bring as much capital as possible. Secondly, because there is a rather respectable array of railroad attorneys in and about the assembly. In this respect, all is well that ends well.—New Mexican.

W. C. T. U. Medal Contest.

When the seven young ladies recited in the oratorical contest to be held Tuesday, March 24, every listener in the audience will be called on to cast a vote for the most pleasing delivery. Enthusiasm will, of course, run high, but the contestants wish only unbiased justice. An excellent musical program will also be rendered. Remember, at the Congressional church.

Long Lost Wheel Found.

Architect La Driere has at last discovered his wheel which was stolen more than a year ago. As he was walking up Railroad avenue today, just before noon, he noticed a small boy with a wheel which he recognized as the one stolen from him. He captured the lad and the wheel, calling an officer. The boy is the son of the proprietor of the Gloria saloon and restaurant on North First street. He claimed he bought the wheel of a young fellow who served time and has since been hanging around the jail. The young man was immediately arrested and locked up and the boy turned loose, as he undoubtedly had nothing to do with stealing the wheel. The young fellow arrested says he took the wheel from the jail, it being one of the wheels found and no one had ever called for it. The case will be heard in the morning.

Prof. Connolly Resigns.

At a meeting of the board of education last night, Prof. J. P. Connolly, of the High school, tendered his resignation. The board accepted the resignation and Prof. J. A. Miller, of Cripple Creek, Colo., was elected to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Connolly was elected to succeed L. G. Lenker, who resigned some time ago. Mr. Connolly was compelled to give up the work on account of his health. At the time of his election he passed the examination required by the territorial statute and secured a health certificate, but from the first of his work in the schools his strength has proven insufficient for the confining duties of the responsible position.

About Albuquerqueans.

United States Attorney W. B. Childers went to his home at Albuquerque last evening.

Sheriff Thos. S. Hubbell, of Bernalillo county, arrived from Albuquerque last night and is mingling with members of the assembly.

W. S. Strickler, of Albuquerque, cashier of the Bank of Commerce at that point, is visiting the capital. He is interested in legislative affairs.

Adjutant John H. Stingle, city attorney, and Major J. E. Elder, both of Albuquerque, who were in the city in the interest of the armory bill, which passed both houses of the legislature, left for their homes last night.—New Mexican.
