SAN MARCIAL.

From the Bee.
The opera house locating committee decided to place the building on the site of the old San Marcial house.

In a kind letter of thanks to the editor for the obituary notice of the late lamented Mrs. Gall, Perry says it is his intention to return to San Marcial some time during the latter half of the present month.

A telegram arrived here from Mrs. C. M. Crossman, announcing the serious illness of her mother at Macon, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Crossman left for that point on the first train.

An immense quantity of water from the melting snows is now running off to waste, which could be nearly all saved by means of storage reservoirs and insure plenty of water for the crops at a time when it is most needed. In this section the dry season comes on just when crops need moisture badly to mature them. Storage reservoirs is the logical remedy for drouthy seasons.

SILVER CITY.

From the Enterprise.
T. B. Byron, son of a wealthy Bradford, Pa., capitalist, is in the city looking over the mining situation.

A little scrimmage took place at the corner of Broadway and Yankee streets last Monday morning which attracted a large crowd. No bones were broken.

George Jakes, living below town, has a freak in the way of a three-legged goat that is quite a curiosity. The goat was born several months ago with only one hind leg, and in spite of its missing member, it is very sportive and agile.

A party of sportsmen, consisting of Captain Powell, Ed. Layne, Theodore Carter, George Bell, A. Burdette, Clarence Hayne and Sam McAlinch, left for the Pines Cottages, in the Burros, where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parker.

Probate Clerk Walton evidently has a tender feeling hid away somewhere never before suspected for the creditors of Grant county, considering the promptness with which he has issued the warrants to those entitled to the same. The commissioners finished their business Tuesday, and by the evening of the following day, warrants were ready for distribution.

LAS CRUCES.

From the Republican.
Asparagus is now on the market. F. C. Barker has now enough to supply Las Cruces, El Paso and several other cities of like size.

At Mesilla, at 6 o'clock this morning, Jose Maria Madrid, of paralysis, aged 60 years. Sr. Madrid has been an invalid for the past two years, so his death was not unexpected.

L. L. Jackson, a former Las Cruces citizen, came up from Louisiana Sunday evening, accompanied by two Louisianans, and left the next morning for Organ, to look up some mining properties.

F. C. Barker received a telegram on Friday from Monterey, Mex., announcing that his daughter, Mrs. Browning, had typhoid fever, but was doing well and had the best of nursing, doctors and care.

The contract for the new Presbyterian parsonage, adjoining the church has been let, and work will begin at once. The parsonage is to cost $1,200, exclusive of outbuildings, and will be a comfortable and commodious residence when completed.

ALAMOGORDO.

From the News.
Homestead filings on land in sight of Alamogordo are increasing as the town grows.

The Alamogordo Street Railway & Land company was granted a franchise to operate a railway line in Alamogordo and the suburbs.

Sheriff Hunter and Billy Smith got $60 for the brace of deserters, C. M. McClure and J. S. Weibert, captured with the fence gang and returned to Fort Bliss.

The people of Albuquerque have donated grounds for a big lumber mill like those at Alamogordo. Logs will be hauled 150 miles, from McKinley county, on the Santa Fe Pacific railway.

The jail birds who were cooped in the old prison have now such an airy, well lighted, clean place for summer use that they will be less eager to go to Santa Fe or for freedom.

There is a telephone line in operation from Tucumcari to Dalhart. A system of lines is being built out from Alamogordo that may some day connect with the Dalhart line.

There are fewer bicycles in use in Alamogordo than in any town of its size in the country, apparently. But in the proportion that bicycles are lacking saddle ponies are in service.

Preparations are being made for the test of Alamogordo clay one mile northwest of town, for brick, by J. H. Laurie, Carl Rubin and V. E. Carson, who have organized a company and will burn a kiln soon.

SOCORRO.

From the Chieftain.
Mrs. A. F. Katzenstein and little son, Freddie, left for Cat Mountain to visit Mrs. Tabbachi.

Mrs. Joseph Price went to Albuquerque to visit her daughter, Mrs. Leon B. Stern, and other relatives and friends.

P. R. Bell, who recently sold his interest in the iron mines east of San Antonio for a good round sum, was in town on his way north on mining business.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Griffith left accompanied by Dr. Swisher, for El Paso, where Mrs. Griffith will enter a hospital for special attendance and treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bement arrived in Socorro from Terre Haute, Indiana, and are now the guests of Capt. and Mrs. A. B. Fitch and family at their home near Magdalena.

Mrs. Ada Morley arrived in Socorro with her two daughters, Mesdames Cleveland and Warren, of California. Mrs. Morley went to Albuquerque to meet her daughters, who will spend the summer at the Morley ranch near Datil.

W. A. Lane and his brother, Andrew Lane, of Dresden, Canada, have bought the Hilton ranch about a mile north of the Santa Fe depot and will engage in the raising of poultry and vegetables. In view of the fact that much of those products consumed in Socorro are brought from Kansas, it would seem that Messrs. Lane have availed themselves of an excellent opportunity.

SANTA ROSA.

From La Voz Publica.
Mr. Eakin, formerly of this place, was in town last week.

The town of Santa Rosa is growing fast and new buildings going up every day.

Cleofas Baca has the contracts for two buildings. One, 25x75 feet, to be used as a furniture store; the other, 25x35 feet, for meat market and grocery.

There are, in town, four business houses and two residences in course of construction. There would be many more, but laborers are scarce on account of the lambing season.

DEMING.

From the Headlight.
Mrs. J. A. Mahoney and her two daughters, Mary and Annie, are now in California, where they expect to remain for several months to come.

W. H. Greer left for Bakersfield, Cal., where he goes on business of importance connected with his company. Mr. Greer will be gone about one week.

Arthur Rathel has been missed from his duties in the bank for several days past owing to sickness. He is now feeling better, however, and will be around all right in a few days.

Otto Smith has nearly completed a fine brick building on the site of his old brand, corner of Silver avenue and Pine street. When completed, Mr. Smith will have a very handsome and commodious barber shop.

Sam W. Brown, inspector for the cattle sanitary board at this point, has been called to Albuquerque, where he will be for the next month attending to business for the board. During Mr. Brown's absence Will Foster will attend to the inspector's duties at this point.

Selden Rogers, who is now a member of the regimental band of the Fourteenth United States cavalry, now stationed at Fort Grant, Ariz., is at present visiting his brother-in-law, A. W. Pollard, in this city. The Fourteenth is ordered to the Philippine Islands, and expect to leave about the first of July.

The election held last Tuesday for village trustees resulted in the polling of ninety-three votes, which, considering that there was but one ticket in the field and no particular interest displayed in considered very good. The board as elected consists of the present incumbents: Seaman Field, Lou H. Brown, A. J. Clark, T. A. Carr and James Hannigan, elected in the place of A. Beals.

WHITE OAKS.

From the Eagle.
J. E. Wharton went to Alamogordo to attend to legal matters. The Arbor Day exercises were not pulled off in White Oaks this year. We have abundance of trees, but water is almost scarce.

It is reported that the peach crop will be almost a complete failure along the Bonito, Ruidoso and Hondo, in this county, on account of a heavy freeze that caught them in the bud some time since.

A new baby boy has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Atwood Littell. He is the happiest man in town and the editor is smoking a first class Havana. Mrs. Littell and the little New Mexican are doing nicely.

Ye Olde Time Concert, given by the Congregational church last Friday night, was witnessed by a packed house. The costumes were striking, the music good, the audience appreciative, and everything "went merry as a marriage bell." The receipts, too, were substantial—in the neighborhood of $40—which was pleasing to the promoters.

FARMINGTON.

From the Hustler.
About 600 head of cattle passed through town this week on their way to the mountains.

T. R. Bousman, of Freeland, Texas, who last fall purchased the Joe Smith ranch east of town, arrived last week with his family and will take possession of his new ranch in a few days.

S. L. Sherman, a workman engaged in demolishing the old butcher shop on the site of the proposed new Engleman block, was painfully but not seriously injured Saturday morning, by one of the walls falling on him. The accident fortunately happened at a time when a number of people were on the street, who aided quickly in his rescue.

If any two men deserve a rest and a word of praise from a community, it is Sophia Jensen and S. J. Elliott, drivers of the Durango stage. With only one common goal to reach, that of getting the mail through in the shortest space of time, these boys have battled snow and mud from fifteen to twenty hours a day for the past three months, without even once disappointing our citizens with the regular morning mail delivery, while careless indifferent drivers could have caused a world of annoyance both to the owner of the stage line and its patrons.

CARLSBAD.

From the Argus.
Sheriff Stewart went to Roswell, having in charge a Mexican whom he had arrested here upon a telegram from Sheriff Higgins, of Chaves county.

A fine horse belonging to D. A. A. Bearup was bitten by a rattlesnake at his place near the wells last Tuesday. The horse was struck on the nose and in a short time his head was as large as a flour barrel, but he will probably recover.

During the week the four lots on the southeast corner of Canyon and Fox streets and four lots directly east on Main street, all in block 8, changed hands. J. D. Walker selling the same to W. M. Lock and W. U. Dannelly. Consideration, $10,000.

Dr. W. Bertrand, a brother of Dr. L. Bertrand, formerly a resident of Carlsbad, of Courtville, La., is here, seeking health and rest. He is stopping at Hotel Schlitz. Dr. Bertrand is a cousin of Mrs. A. R. O'Quinn and Miss Alice Dietrick, of this place.

Letters recently received here from Howard E. Galton, states that he is at present at Alberta, in southwestern Canada. He describes it as being a splendid cattle country, grass everywhere stirrup high. He has about concluded to make that his future home.

SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.
Mrs. C. R. Huber became very sick again, and is no better today.

Mrs. Dora Fletcher is confined to her home by sickness and her kindergarten will not be opened until Monday.

Miss Rena Bradley, of Glorieta, who is in St. Vincent's hospital, where she recently underwent an operation, is now able to be up.

I. B. Hanna, superintendent of forest reserves, has recently had the side-walk in front of his residence on the Fort Marcy reservation on Grant avenue repaved, at his own expense. This is the right sort of progressiveness.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cartier, of Ludington, Mich., and their children, left for home after sojourning in Santa Fe since last May. The visit here has been for the benefit of Mr. Cartier's health, and he returns to his home a robust man.

A delegation of Roman Catholic priests, headed by Right Rev. J. B. Pitaval, auxiliary bishop of the Santa Fe archdiocese, departed for San Juan, where Rev. Camille Seux, who has been at that place the past thirty-five years, has had built a magnificent chapel in honor of Our Lady of Lourdes. The party will be away only a few days. Those who went from here besides the bishop were: Rev. A. Rabeyrolle, Rev. A. Deraches, Rev. A. Haelterman, Rev. J. Hintzen, Rev. V. Thomas, Rev. A. Celler, Rev. Y. Gauthier, Rev. M. Mayeux, Rev. J. Picard, and Rev. M. Oliver.

LAS VEGAS.

From the Record.
The Degree of Honor has turned over the $1,000 death certificate of Mrs. Robert J. Cullen to Miss Mary Winn.

Miss Pearl Price, a little girl 12 years old, was badly scalded by dropping a kettle of scalding water, the contents of which struck her and badly scalded her lower limbs.

Dick Morrison, who was so badly injured a short time ago by striking himself on the head with a hammer at the round house, has been discharged from the hospital and will endeavor to resume work Monday.

Ray Morley, a gentleman who was born in this city and who has distinguished himself as a football player, being one of the most famous in that line in the United States, is spending a few days in the city. Mr. Morley made the foundation of his fame as a member of the Columbia college football eleven, but is now employed as coach at one of the eastern colleges.

From the Optic.
Mrs. J. Graham McNary has been housed since Tuesday with a badly strained ankle.

Jas. O'Bryne is laid up with rheumatism and his little daughter is down with measles. The family seems to be having more than an equitable share of visitations of providence.

The Woman's Federation held its regular semi-monthly meeting at the city hall. The report from the Scottish entertainment was not what had been expected, yet the enthusiasm for the improvement of the city was not in the least abated.

Professor J. A. Wood, superintendent of the city schools of Santa Fe, came in on the early train to visit the public schools of this city and take pointers on new school buildings. He reports that the board of education at Santa Fe expect soon to issue bonds for the erection of two new school buildings, which will be up to date and complete in all respects. He reports also that the schools over there are in fine condition, progressive and up to date in all respects. The pupils of the high school have organized an athletic club and are practicing many games for "field day" at the close of school, which will be on the last of May.

SILVER CITY.

From the Independent.
Eugene Mitchell, who was so essentially a Silver City boy a short time ago, was married in El Paso to Miss Gertrude Catlin, of that city. Mr. Mitchell was employed for a time with the Pinos Altos Gold Mining company at Pinos Altos, and later came to Silver City and held a position at the smelter here. Miss Catlin is one of El Paso's most popular young ladies, having been queen of the carnival in 1902.

The Santa Rita public school will continue in session until June 15. The greatest event of the season will take place at Morrill opera house on Wednesday, April 22, at 8:30 p. m., when the Elks all-star cast will present "The Colonel's Son."

Lee Herman, organizer for the Improved Order of Red Men, and Col. J. G. Albright are in the city securing names for a re-organization of the local lodge and are meeting with good success—so much so that the formal organization will likely be made during the present week.

Mayor J. W. Fleming, with his usual care and foresight, has sent a letter to Hon. W. R. Hearst, of New York, requesting that he and the United States senators and members of congress who are with him, visit Silver City when they come to New Mexico in the near future. If the invitation is accepted, the visit will mean much to Silver City and the appreciation of same should be shown by all the people.

Francis, the little daughter of B. H. Gifford, the Santa Rita stage driver, died at the Ladies' hospital last Wednesday with a severe attack of typhoid fever. The child was taken ill about two weeks ago and was brought to the hospital by her mother, who remained with her until the death. Mr. and Mrs. Gifford have many friends, both in Santa Rita and Silver City, who express most sincere regret because of their loss.

SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.
Grant Riverburg and Albert Dockweiler purchased the splendid apple ranch of the late M. V. B. Wilcox, near Tesuque, for $3,500.

A suit for divorce was filed in the district court for Santa Fe county by Antonio Joseph, Jr., of Ojo Caliente, from Hilda Joseph. The case will be heard in June. Judge N. B. Laughlin is the plaintiff's attorney.

A. R. Gibson is taking the baths at Antonio Joseph's hot springs at Ojo Caliente, Taos county, and will remain there two or three weeks.

Miss Margaret Mary O'Donoghue, of Washington, D. C., who has been sojourning at Albuquerque for some time, is in this city, the guest of Miss Mary A. Morrison.

H. O. Bursum, superintendent of the territorial penitentiary, who has been spending a couple of weeks at his sheep ranches in Socorro county on a vacation, is expected to return to the capital this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Morris, of New York, who are well and favorably known in Santa Fe, will spend the month of May in Europe and the months of June and July in Yellowstone park. Thereafter they will come to Santa Fe where Mrs. Morris expects to remain from six weeks to two months before returning home.

Paul A. F. Walter, postmaster of this city, and who is a very efficient, courteous and painstaking official, has received a leave of absence which he is spending traveling through eastern and southern New Mexico for the benefit of his health. He has been confined in his office so much during the past year that he found an outing very necessary.

A new saloon is to be opened in Santa Fe soon. Graham Bros., formerly of Cerrillos, will move the saloon to this city and occupy the room in the Catron block now occupied by W. H. Goebel as a hardware store. As previously announced Goebel's stock has been purchased by W. N. Townsend, who will move it to the Spitz building on the south side of the plaza. W. H. Kenney, of Cerrillos, will be associated with Mr. Townsend in the business.

The base ball game that was to have been played Sunday on the St. Michael's College grounds, was postponed on account of the high wind that prevailed throughout the day.

Judge A. J. Abbott and J. F. Stephens were elected members of the board of trustees at the last congregational meeting held at the Presbyterian church. Col. George W. Knebel was re-elected.

A pretty ceremony was the christening at 2:15 yesterday afternoon in the Loretto chapel of little Mary Joseph, daughter of Col. R. M. Foree, Judge A. L. Morrison and daughter. Miss Morrison, were God parents for the little girl. Father Antonio Fourche officiated and the decorations were in white. A large number of friends were present.

There was a quiet marriage at the Presbyterian church yesterday (Easter) morning. Rev. W. Hayes Moore officiating. The contracting parties were Richard James Barnes and Miss Lida Wright, employees of the United States Indian school near Santa Fe. The bride was given away by her uncle, Charles Dagenet, teacher in the government school at Nambe. The attendants were Miss Olive D. Kinney with Dr. Stephen B. Weeks, Miss Carrie O. Rode with Jerry B. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dagenet. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Claire hotel.

LAS VEGAS.

From the Optic.
Miss Pearl Price, who a short time ago scalded her foot by upsetting a kettle of boiling water on it, has nearly recovered from the effects of the painful accident.

Mrs. W. E. Bell received from the local Woodman lodge a check for $2,000, the amount of insurance carried in the order by her husband, who died at La Junta two weeks ago.

Cards have been received in the city announcing the marriage of Miss Bertha Bogue, an accomplished young lady, well known here, and James Ewing Bennett, at Chicago, Wednesday, April 8.

Hon. William Kilpatrick, who represented Santa Fe county in the legislature, passed through the city on his way from Starville, Colo., to Gallup, where his wife is visiting. Mr. Kilpatrick has for many years held an important position in the spring mining town of Madrid, but he is thinking very strongly of accepting a call to Starville. His old friend, Saul Rosenthal, was at the depot to meet and greet him.

Dr. Martin, a scholarly young physician from the university of Toronto, expects to leave in a few days for Winnipeg, Man. The young gentleman expects to hang out his shingle in one of the progressive cities of the great prairie province. Dr. Martin has made many good friends during his winter here, and will carry with him from Las Vegas, many pleasant recollections. His health, which was somewhat impaired when he came, has been completely restored.

From the Record.
Charles Sippy died suddenly of hemorrhage. He was about 25 years of age and came here from Union Bluffs, Iowa. The body will be held awaiting instructions from his father, who has been wired of his son's sudden death.

The government has made an allowance for a mounted mail carrier for the west side and a regulation mail wagon has been ordered and as soon as it arrives the service will be put on which will greatly expedite mail matters for that portion of the town.

W. C. Reid, assistant United States attorney, received from the treasury department a check in payment for the site for the new federal building to be erected in Albuquerque. He will go to Albuquerque to make final examination of the title and to pay over the money. The location of the new building will be across the street north of the Commercial club building.

FARMINGTON.

From the Times.
Over in the Jackson neighborhood on the La Plata, where there was not a spear of grain grown last year, there are nearly 300 acres of wheat, some of which is up and looking fine. R. E. Cooper, Frank Roberts and Roy Burnham are the principal farmers.

J. E. McCarty, commissioner from this district, was in town, returning from Aztec, where he had been to attend the regular meeting of the county board. There were no bills allowed, but a settlement was made with Joe Brewitt, ex-treasurer, and the cash, some $4,000, was turned over to W. G. Black, the present treasurer.

An organization known as the M. I. Dramatic and Musical club has been organized at Fruitland with the following officers: E. F. Taylor, president; Lottie Walker, vice president; H. F. Stolworthy, Will Evans, L. O. Ward, Lydia Stolworthy, and Clara Nielson, board of directors; William Evans, musical director; Thomas H. Evans, secretary; Sarah Evans, assistant secretary; L. W. Hendrickson, treasurer. The Mandolin and Guitar club has been merged into the organization and a play will shortly be put upon the boards and an orchestra organized to assist in the performance.

HILLSBORO.

From the Advocate.
Mrs. Charles Anderson left for her home at Chloride.

B. L. McKinney and family visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hopkins at their home on the river.

Prof. Edward F. Dunlavy, of the Normal school of Silver City, will lecture in the Union church here on Saturday evening, April 18. Mr. Dunlavy is an elocutionist of rare ability and is highly entertaining.

The governor has appointed Urbano P. Arrey, to fill the unexpired term of County Commissioner M. Duran, deceased. The county commissioners acted upon his bonds at their Monday meeting. The bonds have been sent to Judge Parker for approval.

DEMING.

From the Graphic.
Miss Lizzie DeLong came in from Cooks and is visiting friends in town for a few days after which she expects to go to Hachita to spend the spring.

W. G. Ogil, manager for southern New Mexico for the Mutual Life Insurance company, and Dr. Stead have just returned from a three weeks' trip as far north as Frisco Plaza in Socorro county and report the cattle in good condition and loss very small. There is plenty of snow in the mountains and a good crop of grass is assured. They visited the thriving mining camp of Cooney and found a new concentrator running and the camp is employing sixty men.

A few good sidewalks would be a good thing in Deming this spring. The walks, even in the business part of town, are mostly very poor, and to a stranger in our city give a decidedly bad impression. The building of good walks is not very expensive and it is a decided advantage to the town, and enhances the value of the property where they are constructed materially. Why can we not have a number of good sidewalks this year.

TULAROSA.

From the Democrat.
Dock Walton and Joe Taylor passed through town with 125 head of cows that they bought at the Carrizozo ranch. They are on the way to their ranch in the Organ mountains. J. L. Holden goes along with wagon and team to haul the calves that are too small to drive.

W. A. Hyde and family, of Three Rivers, were in Tularosa on business. Mr. Hyde being a sheep man, and has about 5,000 head of ewes. The lambing season begins in a few days. He reports his herd in good condition, grass fine and everything promising. He expects to move his family to the Hondo, on the east side of the mountains, when the lambing season is over. He has a good place there, with farm and plenty of water for irrigation.

LORDSBURG.

From the Liberal.
Mrs. Bay Shannon and son came down from Clifton to meet Mr. Shannon, who passed through from Phoenix to Texas.

Miss Hattie Gaddis, of Gold Hill, left for Tempe, Arizona, where she will take a course in the normal school and fit herself to teach in Arizona.

E. W. Clapp, Fred L. Smyth and O. W. Stewart have been in Las Cruces attending the session of the United States court telling what they knew about Madrano breaking into a sealed car, and stealing goods, that were being shipped through the United States under the charge of the custom officers.

L. Champlin, the Red Rock merchant, was in the city the first of the week. He reports that the cases of Lyons & Campbell against the farmers of Red-rock, the object of which is to deprive the farmers of the water, are in progress, the testimony being taken before a commissioner. He thinks that some of the farmers will win their cases.

ROSWELL.

From the Register.
Dr. J. W. Sutherland last week sold his Sutherland Lake ranch east of Roswell to Harry Hinde for $2,000.

The family of J. F. Hinkle left for California. Mr. Hinkle accompanied them as far as Trinidad and will make a short business trip to St. Louis before returning to Roswell.

Mr. Woods, the transfer man, had a lively experience at the depot when the train from the north arrived. His horse became frightened at the noise made by the train and making a wild dash ran into a box car, throwing Mr. Woods from the wagon and breaking it up. Mr. Woods was not seriously injured.

This week a petition was circulated on the streets to have Henry Sellick pardoned by Governor Otero. The petition was in charge of Henry Sellick's father, who is very much crippled and wishes his son's aid in his present trouble. Henry Sellick, it will be remembered, was sent to the penitentiary for a term of years for attempting to rob the postoffice about three years ago.

LAS CRUCES.

From the Progress.
Jose Ma. Madrid died at his home in Mesilla. He was between 60 and 65 years of age, and had been suffering from paralysis for two years or more. He leaves three sons and a daughter, besides his sorrowing wife.

Miss Ciria Isaacks and Miss Lottie Sweet were elected delegates to the Epworth league conference, which meets May 19 at Alamogordo. Miss Annis Fred and John J. Freeman are the alternates. Las Cruces will be well represented. Miss Annis Fred is on the program for an important paper.

The Progress is delighted with the outlook for incorporation. It has advocated the move right along, and has been the only Las Cruces paper that had the courage to come out boldly and declare its position in the matter. The meeting of last Saturday night shows that the course of this paper is approved by the very best people in the town.

CLAYTON.

From the Enterprise.
Miss Clara Sawyer came in from Kenton to visit her mother the first of the week.

DELEGATE RODEY.

The Lordsburg Liberal says: "Delegate Rodey has returned to New Mexico to spend the summer preparing for the fight on statehood next winter. In an interview in the Albuquerque Citizen he expresses his belief that at the coming session of congress the territories will be admitted, and the bill for their admission will be a republican caucus measure. He says the republicans do not want to go before the people in a presidential campaign with pledges unredeemed, and so they will pass a statehood bill. The chances are that it will not be such a measure as the omnibus bill, but probably will provide for the admission of New Mexico and Arizona as one state. Mr. Rodey has made the hottest fight for statehood that the present generation remembers, but with all his work on that measure, which was dearest to his heart, he always had time to attend to any business that any of his constituents wished looked after. No New Mexican ever wrote Mr. Rodey a letter without getting an answer, and no one ever asked him to perform a service but he did his utmost to secure what was asked. The Liberal does not pretend to say that he got everything he went after. It is of record that even the president does not get everything he wants. However, if it was among the possibilities Mr. Rodey got what his constituents desired."

HEALTHY TRUST.

The steel trust is the only trust, we believe, which makes a complete exhibit of its branches to the public from time to time. Among the many interesting details it is shown that there were last month 58,629 stockholders in the company. With few exceptions every state and territory has stockholders in the corporation. Many years ago a western politician uttered the political maxim, "If you can't beat 'em, join 'em," and many people have adopted the policy as to the trusts. The report states the interesting fact that the average number of employees in the service of the steel trust during the year was 168,127—truly a great army. The salaries and wages paid to these employees aggregated the sum of $120,528,343. During the year 27,539 employees purchased preferred stock in the corporation, under the profit sharing plan promulgated by the management some six months ago. These employees are not included, however, in the 58,629 stockholders mentioned above.

RIGHTS OF STRIKERS.

Legally, an individual employee has a right to cease work for any or no reason. It may be inadvisable to do so, says the Los Angeles, Cal., Express, and the man who refuses to work under favorable conditions and by his refusal embarrasses his employer, deserves censure, but there is no remedy. To compel one man against his will to work for another would be the worst form of serfdom. At the same time an individual employer has a right to discharge an employee with or without cause. Labor organizations are merely associations composed of employees who are governed by majority rule and who act as a unit. If the members have a right to quit work as individuals, they have the same right as an organization. When they exercise the latter right it is called a strike. Circumstances may not justify the strike, and the organization may be severely condemned for its actions, but all the courts in Christendom cannot twist the law to keep men at work when they wish to relinquish their employment. Theoretically, at least, labor unions are on the same footing as any other corporation—many of them, in fact, have charters. It is ridiculous to say that such organization shall not order a strike under certain conditions as it would be to say that an employing corporation has not a legal right to lock out its union employees and substitute non-union workmen in its stead. It may be inadvisable for the employing corporation to do so, but that it possesses an undeniable legal right to employ whomsoever it pleases it not to be disputed.

FIGHT FOR STATEHOOD.

The Washington Post of recent date contains the following interview with Senator Andrews: "I will be with you a short time before congress convenes," said William H. Andrews, of Albuquerque, N. M., last night at the New Willard, as he stood talking with a number of newspapermen. "I had to come east on business and stopped in Washington to see Senator Quay, who is financially interested in the western country. I will remain all next winter and every succeeding winter until the fight is won for statehood. Before the next session of congress there will be a great change of sentiment in favor of the passage of the bill, and I do not anticipate any trouble when the bill comes up at the next session. Of course, you cannot always tell. I felt sure the bill would be passed at the last session, but you all know the result."

"New Mexico is growing rapidly and every person is making money. The railroad in which I am interested is in operation and business has started off better than we anticipated. The entire west will come to our assistance next

PROSPEROUS COUNTRY.

The total amount of money in circulation on February 1 amounted to $2,357,834, which represents an increase of over $95,700,000 as compared with the corresponding date of last year. The circulation per capita calculated on the basis of a population estimated at 79,914,000, is put by the treasury experts at $29.45. This represents an increase of 71 cents for the year. In 1893 the exports of domestic manufactures totaled $58,023,118; in 1895, when we were forced to seek a market abroad for stuff we could not consume at home, they were $182,595,743; since the enactment of the Dingley tariff they have doubled. The ore business of 1902 is 100 fold greater than in 1861, and fifty times what it was in 1869. The amounts which it is estimated the various railroads will this year appropriate for improvements aggregate $264,000,000.

MAY BE IN NEW MEXICO.

Chance That El Paso Lies Within the Boundaries of the Adjoining Territory.

Perhaps we are not in Texas after all, but in New Mexico, says the El Paso News.

News comes from Washington that the boundary matter has never been settled to the satisfaction of the proper officials and that perhaps El Paso is in New Mexico instead of Texas.

Of course, everybody will settle this question with themselves for what it is worth and there will be no unnecessary work about it. But this is what a recent dispatch from Washington says on the subject: The officials in the general land office have been looking over the records bearing on the Texas boundary question, which, by the way, has never been definitely settled, and have reached the conclusion that a perfect survey of the line from the new 100th meridian at the intersection with Red river around the northern and western boundaries of the state to El Paso, will show that Texas has now in her immense borders a considerable area to which she is not entitled. This area amounts to the aggregate to something like 1,800 square miles, which is said to belong to Oklahoma and New Mexico. The land in question is a strip three miles wide lying on the extreme northern boundary of the state, south of Beaver county, Oklahoma, amounting to about 450 square miles, and a strip three miles wide and 300 miles long on the west side of the Texas panhandle and a strip of 150 miles long on the northern boundary of Loving and El Paso counties, Texas.

In view of the fact that Texas congressmen are asking a survey of the portion of Texas boundary with a view to re-establishing the boundary line, imperfectly established years ago, after the annexation of Texas republic, in hope of adding still further to the already immense area of that state, land officials are contemplating another survey with the confident expectation of showing that Texas already has land in excess of what she is justly entitled to. In the last congress a bill providing for a joint commission to fix the boundaries was added by Congressman Stephens, but failed. The Texas legislature, just closing a long session, has been considering the question. If the movement is undertaken the state of Texas will lose something like 1,800 square miles, unless the land office officials are badly mistaken.

Shot Through Heart.

A special dispatch to the El Paso Herald, from Silver City, dated April 13, says: Deputy Sheriff H. E. Muse shot and killed two Mexicans at Santa Rita yesterday. The Mexicans were under arrest and attempted to take his gun away and escape. He shot both of them through the heart, killing them instantly.

Deputy Muse has been an officer in the territory for twenty years. He is fearless in the discharge of his duty, and will beyond a doubt be exonerated.

Let's quit whining and build up Albuquerque.

A fair and equitable tax assessment will injure no one.

Gambling has been suppressed in Denver by the city authorities.

Things are coming Albuquerque's way in a most satisfactory manner.

Every possible effort should be made in this city and county to reduce taxation.

Every unnecessary county expense should be cut off by the county officials.

The Las Vegas Optic appears to be a sort of branch office of a paper in this city.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat is misinformed. That paper says: "It is said that New Mexico has a grudge against President Roosevelt for the defeat of the statehood bill in the recent congress. This, of course, is unjust. Nobody knows how the president stood on the omnibus bill. The majority of the president's party was against it. There is a strong probability, however, that the president would have signed the bill had it passed, regardless altogether of the number of his own party who were opposed to it. The New Mexico people are unreasonable if they have any hostility to the president on any account."

It is probably not generally known but nevertheless is true, that thirty of the large manufacturing firms of the United States have established big factories in Canada. Every day the interests of the United States and Canada are being drawn closer together.

WHICH?

In The Citizen's list of business men who had withdrawn their patronage from that paper the name of Joseph T. Johnston was mentioned, and the statement was made that his total tax return was five hundred dollars.

Mr. Johnston's tax receipts show that he pays just one hundred and twenty-five dollars a year, which would be twenty-five per cent assessment on $500.

Does the tax collector rob Mr. Johnston, or does The Citizen lie about him? Which?—Democrat, April 11.

Figures Don't Lie.

Ashamed of the low tax returns they have made and are making on their property, some of those whose returns were published in The Citizen, are trying to deny the published figures, but figures don't lie.

One of the cases now, since A. Everett, who is not a naturalized citizen of the United States, made a signal failure at something he tried to explain, is that of Joseph T. Johnston, and, according to the quotation from the Democrat, he misquoted figures published in The Citizen. To prove this fact and to place Mr. Johnston correctly before the people this paper publishes his tax returns as follows:

"Joseph T. Johnston, furniture dealer, and reformer—South 12 1/2 feet of lot 3, all of lots 4, 5, 6, L. & S. addition; value of all, $200; improvements, $500. West half of lot 3, block F, Armijo No. 2 addition; value of land, $50; improvements, $350. Lots 1, 2, 3, block 1, L. & E. addition; value of land, $200; improvements, $400. Mr. Johnston only turns in on his personal property and stock of merchandise, $590."

Before rushing into public print again, The Citizen would advise Mr. Johnston, who does not and never did believe in the Wanamaker adage that advertising pays, to put on his spectacles and add up his tax returns. Instead of misrepresenting The Citizen, in order to make believe that this paper or the tax collector had outraged him, he will find that his total tax returns foot up $2,290, which, by a most generous estimate, is not one-sixth of the actual valuation.

The Citizen again repeats: Figures don't lie.

SILVER CITY DAM.

Contractor J. A. Harlan Will Turn Over Big Structure to City.

Today the last spike will be driven in the big dam on Main street and the structure will be turned over to the city for approval. Those who have watched the building of the dam have marveled at the completeness and thoroughness with which each detail was attended to and now that the completed structure stands big and handsome in its strength, not a few have ventured the opinion that it will withstand the onslaught of old Jupiter Pluvius for years to come. Contractor J. A. Harlan is an experienced bridge and dam builder, having been employed on the Rio Grande division of the Santa Fe for years, a superintendent of bridges and buildings and the city was fortunate in securing his services.

The dam is 210 feet long, extreme width thirty-six feet, height twenty-four feet. Concrete footing courses protect the whole length of the dam. These are three feet wide and extend nine feet below base of arroyo or thirty-two feet below surface of Bullard street. The dam extends forty four feet into embankment on either side, each wing consisting of three rows of piling set in concrete walls while a three-foot stone wall is laid on each side with an earth core in the center. The entire structure is covered with three-inch plank and 3x6 ribs spiked on top of plank with ten-inch boat spikes.—Silver City Enterprise.

SAW MILL BURNED.

O. L. Scott's Trout Creek Mill Totally Destroyed.

The Silver City Enterprise says that the Trout Creek saw mill of O. L. Scott, ten miles north of Pinos Altos, was burned to the ground Monday afternoon, with all of its contents. Total loss between $7,000 and $9,000; no insurance.

The mill was started Monday morning after laying idle for several years. Hose connection for fire protection had not yet been made, although it was expected to do this on the following day. Monday afternoon, Mr. Scott, upon going out of the mill, noticed that the roof was on fire. He immediately gave the alarm, but it was some time before the hose could be attached to the inspirator of the engine. By that time the entire structure was in flames and the one stream of water had little effect upon the burning mass. It was with great difficulty that Mr. Scott's riding mare was saved. The animal was tied to one end of the building and before her critical position was noticed, she was very badly singed. After untying her, however, she attempted to run back into the flames and it took the united efforts of Mr. Scott and Engineer Jones to keep her away.

The mill and its contents are a total loss, together with a large amount of lumber, including 60,000 feet of logs. The mill was two stories in height, 22x100 feet, and was a very substantially built structure. Mr. Scott takes his severe loss philosophically and says that his Meadow Creek mill, several miles below, will be enlarged to supply the demand for lumber for the surrounding country.

Mr. Scott has had a varied career as a quartermaster in the army, soldier, miner, prospector, merchant, newspaper man and finally, lumberman. Mr. Scott started the first paper ever

LETTER FROM FAYWOOD.

Short Paragraphs from Southern New Mexico Report.

Special Correspondence.

Faywood Hot Springs, Grant County, N. M., April 10.—Again your correspondent makes his bow to your many and widely disseminated readers and offers for their notice a few items from this part of the world. The night of the 4th this hotel entertained a gentleman probably well known in railroad circles in your city, W. R. Brown, of El Paso, Texas, who is assistant division passenger and ticket agent of the Santa Fe for this district and is traveling in the interests of the company.

J. W. Hannigan, of the prominent Deming firm of Tracey & Hannigan, was also a welcome visitor, though his stay was necessarily short. Another well known visitor from Deming is Louis L. Marshall, a veteran of the civil war, during which he served with distinction in both army and navy, and for several years past he has been justice of the peace of that promising burg.

Mrs. W. H. Gleason went to Deming the evening of the 4th, but returned yesterday accompanied by her affable and popular husband to enjoy a lay off from business cares for a time and indulge in rest and recreation.

Genial Al. Dano, of Silver City, is here for the same purpose and seems perfectly content; in fact, Faywood Springs hotel is his favorite resting place.

Sam Eckles, also of Silver City, stopped over night here on his way to the mining and milling plant of the Faywood Concentrates company, perched on the west side of the Cook's Peak range, distant seventeen miles east from here.

By the way, with Mr. and Mrs. Gleason came Mrs. J. H. Tracy for a short visit with her husband.

Recent arrivals from El Paso, Tex., are Mrs. G. R. Perry and Mr. McNally, both of whom are in search of health primarily and pleasure as a side issue.

With regret we note that A. T. Staples, a cattle raiser and feeder of Lathrop, Mo., leaves tonight for Sierra Blanca, Texas, whence he goes forty

VERY ANNOYING.

This Hardly Expresses What Albuquerque People Say of It. Any itchesness of the skin is annoying.

Little danger in itching skin diseases. Doan's Ointment is a never failing cure.

For piles, eczema, all itching troubles. Albuquerque citizens endorse it. Mrs. R. E. Waite, rooming house, 202 North Second street, says:

"There came to my notice some time ago a case of eczema or of some disease of the skin, which had resisted all the efforts of the party to stop. Doan's Ointment was procured at the Alvarado Pharmacy and a course of the treatment commenced. It gave positive relief after an application or two and upon a continuation of it for some time the annoyance ceased. This information should be of untold value to residents of Albuquerque who are in quest of an article upon which they can depend to cure any itchesness of the skin or eruption thereof."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

INDIAN SCHOOL NOTES.

The good work of improving the appearance of the school grounds still goes on and many needed improvements have already been completed.

The new industrial teacher, who was appointed recently, has declined the offer and this leaves the position vacant still.

Dr. Wood is away at present on a trip to the Navajo reservation. Miss M. E. Disette spent a day at the school this week and she and Supervisor Wright completed plans for a teachers' institute to be held here on April 24 and 25.

The G. A. R. and the Woman's Relief Corps are coming out en masse on Sunday to visit the school and entertain the children. The children are looking forward to their coming with a great deal of interest and curiosity, as it will be something entirely new for the little red skins.

Miss Disette has now gone to visit the day schools in the Laguna district. Her daughter, Daisy, is accompanying her.

miles south into Mexico, where he will visit a month with his old friend, T. C. Kelly, superintendent of a huge cattle range known as the "White Face" ranch.

The first ten days of this month were somewhat lively in this section by reason of a partial roundup on this part of the range of the Victorio Land & Cattle company, locally known as the "Diamond A" outfit, under the captaincy of Foreman Pat. Nunn.

Nearly Drowned in Baptistry.

What came near being a fatal accident occurred just before baptism at the Baptist church in Trinidad Wednesday night. A number of invited guests were present to witness the baptism of their friends, when the solemnity of the occasion was broken before the arrival of the minister by Miss Kathryn Hamlet going to the edge of the baptistry and going through the motions of the ceremony. She lost her balance and pitched headlong into the water. When rescued she was unconscious and it took the skill of a physician to resuscitate her.

Harvey Lantry, of B. Lantry Sons, was in the city between trains last night while en route to Belen.

John Stein, general superintendent of the Harvey system of eating houses, is an Albuquerque visitor and will stay over Easter.

WILL SAVE THE BRIDGE.

Santa Fe Protecting Petrified Forest Wonder.

R. T. Peters, in the employ of the Santa Fe at Albuquerque, came in from the east yesterday morning and will spend several days here attending to company business, says the San Bernardino Sun. He states that for the past week the Santa Fe has had a party of workmen employed at the petrified forest, seven miles south of Adamana. They are building an arch under the famous petrified bridge to keep it from falling. The immense log has been in weak condition for some time and has been materially weakened of late by the hands of vandals who carry off specimens from it. The company is to be commended for its efforts to preserve one of the most wonderful curiosities of the west.

ICED CHANGES.

Biggest Consignment Now En Route to the East.

The biggest consignment of iced oranges sent east over the Santa Fe during the present season left the local yards early this morning bound over the hill to St. Louis, Chicago, and the New York markets. The shipment amounted to seventy cars and was made up in three separate trains.

The entire number of freezers were iced at the houses in the Third street yards from sundown until they left, bound eastward, and the job kept Foreman W. W. Brison and his men on the jump every minute of the time. Although between twenty and thirty men are now employed, this number was overworked last night and the ice company is advertising for more hands. An extra large force is required this morning to unload ice.

Mr. Brison stated last evening that the cars to be iced this evening will exceed in number those prepared last night and the shipment will probably amount to between eighty and ninety cars.

So heavy is the business becoming that a second refrigerator track is being laid which will admit the icing of two trains at once instead of one, as is now the case.—San Bernardino Sun.

NO STRIKE ON SANTA FE.

Road Has No Shops at Childress, Texas.

The dispatch which was received at Topeka last Monday from Childress, Texas, giving the particulars of a strike of Santa Fe employees there, is untrue, at least as far as the Santa Fe is concerned, say the officials.

The Santa Fe has no shops at Childress and does not run within a hundred miles of there. The strike which was referred to was that of the employees in the Fort Worth & Denver shops, which are located at Childress. The Santa Fe has shops at both Cleburne and Beaumont, Texas, but there is no trouble at either of those places.

STILL WITH THE SANTA FE.

Andrew Park Is to Be Chief Clerk to Master Mechanic Harlow.

It has been learned that Andrew Park, who recently resigned his position as chief clerk to G. R. Joughins, mechanical superintendent of the Santa Fe at Los Angeles, is to go from Los Angeles to Point Richmond, where he will resume his old place as chief clerk to Division Master Mechanic Harlow.

NEW STOREHOUSE.

Santa Fe Will Erect One at San Bernardino Costing $15,000.

San Bernardino is going to have a new storehouse it is now certain. It is to cost approximately $15,000 and will be commenced as soon as the plans for the side walls, roof and general style of the building can be drawn. The new house will be located immediately north of the old building and will have its greatest dimensions east and west. It will be between 300 and 400 feet in length, with a platform on the west end about the same length as the main body of the building, which will be seventy feet in width. The building itself will be fifty feet wide and will be fitted with the necessary offices.

ROCK ISLAND.

Surveying a Line North from Dawson, New Mexico.

A special dispatch from Trinidad, Colo., says:

Prospecting for the connecting link between the branch line of the Rock Island from Dawson and the Colorado & Wyoming road up the Las Animas valley is now going on. Dawson is about twenty miles from the northern boundary of New Mexico and the Colorado & Wyoming approaches the boundary within four or five miles. The region is mountainous, but passes can be found. Coal is known to exist there in large quantities and good quality. The connection would give another through line to the gulf.

The survey being made by the Rock Island would indicate that it intends to come north by Trinidad and then to the Colorado & Wyoming and then to Pueblo over the Rio Grande track.

These Men Have Annals.

According to recent orders from the top the Santa Fe issues annual passes, good on all of its lines, to the employees who have been in the employ of the company for thirty continuous years. As the road is little more than thirty years of age, few hold these precious pasteborders. Among them are Conductor "Dad" Griffiths and John Bender. Also Peter Tolin, William Stains and J. W. Hastings, oldest engineers.—San Bernardino Sun.

CHINESE IN EL PASO.

The immigration officials of the city have been engaged for some time taking a census of the Chinese in the city and the work is about completed.

It is understood that there are between 475 and 500 Chinamen here, although Chief Lew Adams refuses as yet to divulge the official number.—Herald.

THEY CARE NOT.

Truck Pushers Have No Regard for Railroad Powers.

A dust covered baggageman was pushing a truck down the platform at the union depot at a rate which threatened the life of anyone who chanced to get in front of it, says the Kansas City Journal. A small knot of men were standing on the platform.

"Get out of the way there!" he shouted. "Look out! Step lively!" The men who fled before the shouts of the oncoming truckman were George Gould, president of the Missouri Pacific railroad, and one of the leading railroad powers of the country; Russell Harding, general manager of the road, and William Cotter, manager of the operating department.

"Why don't dem mugs get on de train?" mumbled the truckman as he pushed by.

Mr. Gould smiled but said nothing. Undoubtedly he thought of depots where people with just two eyes and two legs were not in danger of being run down by baggage trucks. A moment later his secretary pushed him from in front of a truck of trunks.

On the 15th the Southern Pacific will take off the baggagemen on the passenger trains, and the express messengers will again have to handle the baggage.

The Southern Pacific has made a new deal with the conductors, part of which is an increase in wages of from 12 to 15 per cent, and another part includes the putting on the train of collectors, who will handle the tickets and cash, leaving to the conductor the important business of running the train.

SALT LAKE ALL RIGHT.

Southern Pacific Official Denies Reports of Disasters.

Chief Engineer William Hood, of the Southern Pacific, who returned from the company's cut off across Great Salt Lake, declares that all the stories of difficulties and disasters attending this work that have been telegraphed from Salt Lake in the last few weeks are without foundation, says a San Francisco dispatch. He says the bottom is not sinking out of the lake, that at no time has the "fill" sunk below the surface and carried with it any engines or cars, and that the building of the cut off is attended with fewer difficulties and mishaps than he anticipated when the work was undertaken.

He Winked in Time.

Joe Donovan, a machinist at Santa Fe shops, had his right eye badly blistered while at work yesterday morning. He was pouring molten babbit from a ladle into the cylinder of an engine when water in the box caused the metal to fly. A bit of the heated substance went directly toward his eye, and was caught upon the lid. Had it struck the ball of the optic the accident would have been much more serious. As it was, a severe burn resulted which will keep Mr. Donovan off duty for several days.—San Bernardino Sun.

AFTER THAT HOSPITAL.

San Bernardino Anxious to Secure Railway Hospital.

General Manager A. G. Wells, of the Santa Fe, will be visited by the Board of Trade's hospital committee of this city and the committee will present to him samples of San Bernardino's water and advance many reasons as to why the Santa Fe railroad hospital should be located in San Bernardino. The committee is composed of W. S. Hooper, J. B. Gill and F. W. Dunn.

The committee is empowered to offer Mr. Wells inducements to locate the hospital and they are prepared to meet the criticism of the Los Angeles doctors, that the water here is impure. If the Santa Fe will show any inclination to bring the hospital to the city, the committee will offer a site for the building, or half a dozen if necessary, and anything else that will bring the hospital.

The committee is representing the Board of Trade, which is acting for the benefit of the city and especially for the good of the 1,500 railroad men. The employees of the Santa Fe are anxious that the hospital should be here, as it would be much more convenient for them than if in Los Angeles, and they advance the argument that as the great majority of the railroad men in this division of the Santa Fe reside in San Bernardino, the division hospital should be here.—San Bernardino Sun.

GALLUP ITEMS.

Miss Myrtle Smith has been quite sick this week, and Miss Cora Booklet has been running the telephone station in her stead.

W. F. Kuehnbecker left for San Francisco. He has had considerable trouble with his throat and will have it treated by a specialist.

W. H. Wolf expects to leave for Dalhart, Texas, Monday or Tuesday, where he will install the electric plant, for which he has the franchise in that city. Mrs. Wolf will leave at the same time for Topeka, Kansas, where she will visit her relatives for some time.

A few of the long talked of improvements on the Santa Fe have at last started. A gang is now here to put a new roof on the machine shop, and a new 700 foot air compressor is expected in a few days to replace the old pump. This new compressor will not only supply the yard with air, but will also pump all the water.—Gallup Republican.

RAILROAD NOTES.

John Stein, the general superintendent of the Fred Harvey eating houses, is again in the city.

Eugene Gordon has been appointed general mechanic of the Dawson line with headquarters at Tucumcari. Jacob Merle has been appointed general foreman of the shops at Alamogordo, by Superintendent Parsons.

Ed. Sowers, a well known engineer, is off on a vacation, and will visit John Records, of the Santa Fe Central, at Torrance.

During the absence of A. L. Newton, out on the coast lines, Thomas Powers is filling his place as foreman of the shops planing mills.

H. E. Lantry, of the railroad contracting and constructing firm of Lantry Bros., is in the city from off the Santa Fe cut-off.

Conductor Gifford, of the Santa Fe, is laying off on the sick list and Conductor Sweet is in his place, between Albuquerque and El Paso.

Prince Lillie has returned to the city from southern California, where he enjoyed a needed vacation. He is a well known employee of the local shops.

Seven Rock Island cars while standing on the side track at Tucumcari were entered and more or less goods stolen. Merchandise, dry goods and clothing were taken.

Joseph Isherwood, a valuable employee of the Santa Fe, is sick at Winslow, and Thomas Isherwood, foreman of the local brass foundry, has gone to Winslow to attend to him.

Six or eight carloads of junk were unloaded in the Alamogordo yards Thursday from the Guadalupe wreck. The engine was by far the worst damaged ever sent into the yards.

One of the heaviest penalties ever exacted for a human life is the award of $70,000 damages which has been made against the New York Central railroad for the killing of E. F. Walton, a New York stock broker, in the tunnel disaster of last year.

The home-seekers' excursions to Mexico recently put on by the Rock Island and have proven better than was really anticipated, as it was thought only a very small number of people could be secured for the excursions.

BUREAU OF IMMIGRATION.

Regular Annual Meeting—The Election of Officers.

The regular annual meeting of the bureau of immigration, as prescribed by law, was held yesterday at the office of the secretary of the bureau in Santa Fe. There were present: W. B. Bunker, fourth district, president; Granville Pendleton, first district, vice president; Alfred Grunsfeld, second district, treasurer; J. W. Bible, third district; Jose E. Torres, fifth district; Max Frost, secretary.

After reading and approving the minutes of the last meeting held February 26, 1903, the reports of the secretary and treasurer for the year just closed were read, examined and approved. The vouchers and accounts of Treasurer Grunsfeld were examined, audited and approved.

The bureau then proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing two years, as follows: President, W. B. Bunker, Las Vegas, fourth district, unanimously re-elected. Granville Pendleton, Aztec, first district, unanimously re-elected. Treasurer, Grunsfeld resigned that position and informed the bureau that on account of press of private business he did not desire reelection to the office and therefore Joseph W. Bible, of Hanover, third district, was unanimously elected treasurer. Max Frost, of Santa Fe, was unanimously re-elected secretary. A vote of thanks for the efficient performance of his duties was tendered the retiring treasurer, Alfred Grunsfeld, of Albuquerque, member from the second district.

Considerable routine business was transacted and plans were adopted for the work of the bureau during the year 1903 and the secretary was ordered to prepare literature in the shape of bulletins on counties and general pamphlets on the resources, conditions, climate and industries of New Mexico for special use at the St. Louis world's fair exhibition in 1904. Alfred Grunsfeld, of Albuquerque, upon resolution adopted, was appointed by the president as the delegate from the bureau to represent it and its interests at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, commencing May 4, 1904, in St. Louis, and to attend to the distribution of literature, maps, etc., at the exposition and furnished by the bureau. The president was also authorized to appoint a delegate from the bureau as its representative at the trans-Mississippi congress to be held during the year 1903. It was ordered that 500 copies of the report of the governor of New Mexico for 1903, when published, and 1,000 copies of the new map of New Mexico, now in preparation by the general land office, be purchased for the use of the bureau and an additional 1,000 copies of this map if satisfactory arrangements therefor can be made.

The board then adjourned subject to the call of the president.

OFF FOR THE PHILIPPINES.

Capt. Amos W. Kimball Transferred to Manila.

The Citizen is in receipt of a letter from Capt. Amos W. Kimball, quartermaster of the United States army, Presidio, of San Francisco, California. The captain says in his letter that he has been transferred to Manila, Philippines, and, with his family, would sail on the transport Sumner, April 20, for duty in the Philippines.

For Want of a Nail The Shoe Was Lest.

FOR WANT OF A SHOE THE HORSE WAS LANED.

Every blacksmith knows that story of the neglected nail, the cast shoe and the ruined horse. In old country smithy's you may see the legend rudely painted or chalked on the wall as a reminder to customers that it pays to care for horses' shoes, and that a little neglect may have a very serious result. But the blacksmith is, as a rule, like the good deacon, who passes on the pastor's denunciation of his own foibles to some one else. It never occurs to him to take the sermon home to himself. The blacksmith has for example a little touch of "stomach trouble." His food seems to lie like a lump in his stomach. It ferments and gives off gases which cause him discomfort and uneasiness. He has sour and bitter risings, or "water brash." But this man who knows and preaches the danger of neglect in the loss of a nail from a horse's shoe goes right along neglecting symptoms which in scores and hundreds of cases are fore-runners of a physical break-down.

DON'THING DOCTRINE.

That's the doctrine of a great many indolent people. They say "I will go away after a bit" when cautioned to "do something" for their ailment. Just imagine a farmer looking over the fence at the sprouting weeds in his corn and saying "they'll go away after a bit." Diseases are like weeds. All they ask is neglect and they will grow and flourish. Neglect the first symptoms of disease of the stomach and it will not be long before other organs are involved, because every organ of the body is dependent on the stomach and its allied organs for nutrition. When the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased the food eaten is not perfectly digested and assimilated. Hence there is a loss of nutrition by the body; a loss which shows itself in loss of flesh, and reduced weight, and that loss of nutrition is shared by every organ of the body, heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, etc. As a consequence when the stomach is diseased, the heart is liable to be involved, or the lungs, kidneys or liver. These facts emphasize the danger of neglect of what is popularly termed "stomach trouble."

The timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will generally result in a complete cure of disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition and will establish the body in a condition of sound and vigorous health.

"I was taken with 'dyspepsia,' writes Mr. T. R. Caudill, of Montclair, Alleghany Co., N. C. "I was unable to do anything a good part of the time. I wrote to Dr. Pierce about my condition, having full confidence in his medicine. He advised me to take his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which I did. Before I had finished the second bottle I began to feel better. I have used nearly six bottles and am well."

DON'T EXPERIMENT WITH YOUR STOMACH.

It's a waste of time and money to experiment on medicines. If you are on a journey to a certain town, you take the road that will surely bring you there. You don't turn aside and experiment on roads simply because they are roads. The road you follow is the road which leads to where you want to be. It's that way with medicines. When you want the way which leads straightest and surest to health you will follow the thousands who have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and have been cured permanently.

"It gives me great pleasure to inform you of the benefits that I have realized from the use of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets,'" writes Mrs. J. C. Fink, of York, Rowan Co., N. C. "I was so bad off that I thought it impossible for me to live until spring. I was taken sick in January and was in pain all over. The doctor was called, and said my liver was out of order. He gave me some medicine but it did me no good. I grew steadily worse. I could not eat as much as one bite of bread without great pain, and was so hungry all the time that I thought I would starve to death. My head ached, my shoulders ached, I was cross, my brain felt so much that I thought I was almost insane. I could not sleep nights only a short while at a time. Would get up mornings so weak and nervous, I could scarcely stand. In this way I suffered, I think, about two months, when a friend of mine induced me to write to Dr. Pierce for advice, which I did. His answer was that I had indigestion and liver complaint, and advising me to take his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I followed the Doctor's directions closely, and in a few days I could discover that I was getting better slowly. Every day I felt just a little better, then I could begin to eat a little light diet. Then I began to sleep a little better at night and in the morning would feel refreshed and rested. Next I began to gather a little flesh, and then I began to improve rapidly. I took eight bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and several vials of 'Pleasant Pellets,' and I felt that I was well enough to leave off medicine and go to work, which I did with pleasure. I have not taken any medicine since except Dr. Pierce's Pellets. I can eat anything and as much as I want and it never now hurts me a particle."

There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery," and it is free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

A HOLE IN THE POCKET may mean a serious loss of money. It's the same way with a hole in the health; it may mean a serious loss of vitality and vigor. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser teaches how to mend the health, as well as how to prevent disease. This bulky book, containing 1008 large pages, is sent free on receipt of stamps, to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book cloth-bound, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper cover. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ness and consequent collapse of the wall. Defendants endeavored to show also that Ruppe had acquiesced or consented to the agreement between Barnett and Weinman, for the party wall, and was estopped to claim damages, but the court refused to allow them to go into this in the plaintiffs case. At adjournment argument on the admissibility of evidence was being heard by the court.

Case Decided.

The case was concluded this afternoon by direction of the court to the jury to find a verdict for defendants, the court as a matter of law holding, and so instructing, that the wall did not fall on account of the excavation made under the wall of the store occupied by the Ruppe drug store.

DONATION TO BAZAAR.

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt Sends Book and Wishes for Success.

The St. Joseph's hospital bazaar to be given in Colombo hall next Monday night, is attracting widespread attention from prominent people throughout the country.

Mrs. Harry Strong, who has charge of the handkerchief booth, received from Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, yesterday morning, a handsome bound book, "Simple Thoughts," which was dedicated to Theodore Roosevelt. Accompanying the highly prized donation to the bazaar was a note from the president's wife wishing the ladies of Albuquerque great success in the noble and worthy cause. The donation received from Mrs. Roosevelt will be on sale at Mrs. Strong's booth, and the small token coming from the executive mansion will undoubtedly be in great demand.

The ladies in charge of the bazaar have devoted considerable time arranging for the event, and all the details as to the arrangements have been completed.

Colombo hall will be a scene of animated activity Saturday morning when the erection and decoration of the booths will be commenced. Mrs. G. W. Harrison, president of the bazaar association, has issued a call for every lady interested in the bazaar to be on hand at 9 o'clock to offer suggestions and lend their assistance toward directing the work. The booths will be built by carpenters furnished by W. W. Strone, contractor and builder. Dancing will be the pleasure of the visitors from 9 o'clock until a timely hour, and in consideration of this feature of enjoyment the booths will be so arranged that there will be ample room for the dancers without interfering with booths.

The voting contest for the saddle horse, to be presented to the most popular young lady in Albuquerque, is attracting most favorable attention.

The general consensus of opinion is that the bazaar will be the most successful event of the season.

PREPARING REPORTS.

City Officials Getting Ready for Next Council Meeting.

The city officers are busy these days making up their annual reports, which will be submitted to the city council at the meeting to be held on Monday night, May 20.

Of course it would not appear in good taste to give out exact figures before the reports are submitted and acted upon by the council, but The Citizen knows as a fact that the public department proved self-supporting during the past twelve months, and that the city clerk collected more money than any previous clerk, and when all bills are paid there will be several thousand dollars to the good in the city treasury.

Next Monday night will be the last day, so to speak, of the present city council, but, barring those who have announced their intention to resign, the mayor and members will hold over in accordance with a territorial law passed by the recent territorial legislature, and they will continue in the good work for the city.

The new law, however, does not keep in office the city officers, and these all will have to be appointed over by the mayor and confirmed by the council.

It is a foregone conclusion, owing to his good record, that City Marshal McMillin will succeed himself as the chief peace officer of the city, but for the other appointments, for city attorney down to dog catcher, it is understood that there are several applicants for each place, and the race for the positions may assume interesting proportions before the end of the present week.

The Grand Army men are anxious to see Judge W. D. Lee the city attorney of Albuquerque for the next twelve months, and it is quite likely they will ask his appointment.

CADET APPOINTMENT.

Delegate Rodey Provides for Examination of Applicants.

By this Delegate Rodey gives notice to parents and qualified young men of New Mexico that there is now a vacancy from this territory for the position of midshipman at the National Naval academy at Annapolis, Md., which the delegate is required to fill.

It has been determined that the selection of the cadet from New Mexico will be made by competitive examination, so that all New Mexico boys may have an equal chance. The one standing highest in the examination will be nominated as the cadet, and those standing next in order will be named, respectively, as first, second, third and fourth alternates. The successful candidates will have to be present at Annapolis, Md., on June 16, 1903, to stand an examination there.

The local examination will be held at the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque, N. M., at 2 o'clock p. m., on Tuesday, May 6, 1903, and will continue as long as may be necessary. The examination will be conducted by Professor T. H. of the University of New Mexico, as chairman of the board, and by Professor Willson, of the Military Institute, and Professor Keyes, of the School of Mines, under rules and regulations to be previously promulgated by them.

Candidates to be eligible must be in perfect physical health, actual bona fide residents of the Territory of New Mexico, and must be between the ages of 15 and 20 years.

Printed copies of the regulations can be had on application to Delegate Rodey at Albuquerque, N. M.

CIRCUS AT MESSILLA PARK.

Saturday, May 9—A Big Event—Will be a Real Old Time Affair.

At the big corral west of the athletic field, Mesilla park, New Mexico, on Saturday, May 9, 1903, "U Want Tu C It" Circus will be given under the auspices of the strong arms and clever actors of the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. The large advertising sheet, being sent out by the circus managers tells a large story of the magnificent and wonderful sights that will be beheld at this noted event. They impress the reader to remember that this is no fake, but a real, genuine, old-time circus. C. D. Case is general manager and C. L. Newcomb, Jr., poses as ringmaster.

First on the program they claim that a magnificent and gorgeous parade will be a rare sight, followed by the real circus, in which will take place wonderful and marvelous exhibitions of strength, daring and perilous tight-rope walking, exhibitions of bareback riding, ground and lofty tumbling, Professor Vernon's herd of trained burros, exhibitions of athletic feats, the human grasshoppers, the boxing kangaroo, and other notable events. The famous Farmers' Band will dispense music at odd moments during the entire performance.

The big program will close with an exciting and realistic plains scene depicting with naturalness and fidelity, ty, an emigrant wagon crossing the plains; attack by Indians; the cowboys to the rescue.

Elaborate preparations are being made and the circus will undoubtedly be a great success.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Could Not Agree on Clerk or Trustee to Fill Vacancies.

The school board held a meeting at the Central school building, but nothing was done regarding the election of a trustee or a new clerk.

After some discussion, the resignation of Ralph Hunt, the present clerk, was accepted, and it will take effect as soon as a successor is elected.

The name of M. E. Hickey was proposed by Dr. Alger, for the office of clerk, and Charles White was placed in nomination for the same office by Mr. Newman. Melville Summers was another candidate for the office. Seven ballots were taken, three resulting in a tie between Hickey and Summers and the others, first one way and then the other. As it was seen that there would be no unanimous ballots cast by the board they adjourned. When the election will occur is far from being known.

W. W. McDonald and Dr. Fitzgerald were named as candidates for the office of trustee, made vacant by the resignation of Charles Gates Ward. The election of a trustee was discussed but no action was taken.

PACING STOCK.

A Fine List of Fast Pacing Thoroughbred Horses.

Albuquerque is coming to the front as the "fast horse center of the entire southwest," and to bear out the broad assertion reference is made to the horses now owned by Albuquerque lovers of equine flesh.

Emil Mann and Joseph Barnett have recently added to their stock by purchases made from A. M. Keene, of Fort Scott, Kansas. Mr. Mann secured a fine light bay gelding, named Exodus, 5 years old, with a pacing record of 2:16½, while Mr. Barnett purchased a pacer named Young Hal, a dark bay and 5 years old, with a record of 2:19½. With Primrose, 2:12½, and Lady Margaret, 2:17½, Mr. Barnett has three of the finest and best pacing animals in the southwest.

If Exodus fails to suit Mr. Mann, Emil can fall back on his trotter, Boone, who is one of the best trotters in New Mexico.

W. L. Trimble puts a lot of faith in Bonnie Treasure, and he says that Bonnie, although with no record, can make the best of them to go to beat her in any kind of a heat race.

Frank Sturges, with his Shecam, is not saying much as to the ability of this or that horse on the Albuquerque race course, but it is a safe proposition that Shecam, with a record of 2:12½, will not allow many of the horses of the Rocky mountain country to throw dirt in his face when it comes to a hard fought race.

Very little has been heard of T. J. Shinnick the past few weeks, but a friend says he recently received a pacing animal from Columbia, Tenn., with no mark, but she is known as very fast for a three-year-old. His trotting mare, Action, will not appear on the course this season, as she is expected to drop a foal by the latter part of June.

Besides the above, there are half a dozen 2:30 pacers and trotters in the city, and it is quite likely that Deputy Sheriff Newcomer may be persuaded to put his black pacer, Black Ike, in training for the fair races. Ike has a record of 2:22, and this time was made when a three-year-old.

GALLUP NOTES.

A Batch of Interesting Items From the Carbon Town.

Special Correspondence.

Gallup, N. M., April 12.—J. A. Wells, the transfer man, has sold his team to Anselmo Griego, for $175, and is driving Page's beer wagon. Griego has a contract to deliver prope at Guam.

The Indian traders are not purchasing any more Navajo blankets made of Germantown yarn. It seems that a number of men in the east have engaged in the manufacture of blankets from Germantown yarn, and people who want to buy genuine Navajo blankets are unable to distinguish the difference, so they don't buy any.

Hank Crawford, of Cottonwood Pass, spent a couple of days here this week.

Ben Williams, manager for Aldrich & Dodge, at Manuelito, was here last Thursday.

Mutto & Banta will occupy the new store building now being put up on Railroad avenue by Joseph Morello.

The county commissioners held their regular quarterly meeting on Thursday last. All bills, amounting to about $1,000, were paid.

Mrs. Thomas Johnson and children, of Farmington, are here on a visit to their relatives.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Patching, on Saturday, a daughter.

A sale of condemned property will take place at Fort Wingate, April 16. One horse and a lot of tools will be sold.

Hon. Alex. Bowie left yesterday for a business trip to the mining camps of Mexico and Arizona.

A quantity of silverware belonging to the Daughters of Rebekah has been sent to Vann & Son, of Albuquerque, to be marked. The elder Vann is an enthusiastic member of the order, and kindly donates his work.

Mrs. William Kilpatrick and children are here from Cerrillos on a visit to relatives.

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

A correction has been made in the incorporation papers filed April 9 by the San Marcial Opera House company, changing the name to read "The San Marcial Opera House & Improvement company."

A certificate of amendment in the incorporation papers of the Luna County Telephone company increasing the capital stock from $2,000 to $2,500.

Papers were filed by the New Mexico & Pacific railway indicating that the office of the company is situated at St. Louis, Mo., and the office of the company situated in this territory is at Haton and Jeremiah Leany, of Haton, is the authorized agent for the territory.

The Amarillo Mining company has filed a certificate with a territorial secretary J. W. Reynolds, increasing its capital stock from $500,000 to $1,000,000, and to make the same increase in the number of shares which are valued at $1 each.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the territorial secretary by the Joyce-Fruit company. The incorporators are John R. Joyce, Marshall H. Riddick, and J. Frank Joyce. The company will carry on a general merchandising business, buy and sell and deal in all kinds of goods, wares, etc.; conduct a general storage warehouse wherein to receive goods; is authorized to manufacture all kinds of articles of commerce which the company considers profitable; to buy, sell and deal in stocks, bonds, etc.; to buy, sell, lease and mortgage real estate. The general office of the company will be situated at Roswell and its place of business will be at Carlsbad, Roswell and such other places in the territory where the company may later deem fit. The term of existence is to be fifty years and the affairs of the company will be in the hands of a board of directors not to exceed five in number nor to be less than three. The first board of directors is John R. Joyce, J. Frank Joyce, Marshall A. Riddick, all of Carlsbad, and A. Pruitt and Charles F. Joyce, of Roswell. The capital stock is $250,000, to be divided into 2,500 shares of the par value of $100 each.

The Carlsbad Grocery company has been incorporated with the following incorporators, who will also be the first board of directors: John T. Bolton, A. J. Crawford, Alvin A. Beeman. The company is authorized to do a general merchandising business and to buy and hold real estate. The principal business office is at Carlsbad and the capital stock is $25,000, divided into 250 shares of $100 each. The term of existence is fifty years.

The Roswell Transit company has the following directors and stockholders: Karl A. Snyder, Wendell M. Reed, Morris Price, Edward A. Cahoon, Robert Kellahan, Nathan Jaffa, Lucius K. McGaffey. The company is organized to construct, build, own and operate an electric railway, a plant for the purpose of furnishing power for an electric railway, lighting plant and to construct a water works system. Also to acquire land and real estate, to lay it off into lots, blocks, parks, etc., to improve and sell land. The capital stock is $100,000, divided into 1,000 shares at the par value of $100 each. The term of existence is fifty years, and the principal business office is at Roswell.

The Alamogordo Street Railway company is organized with the following stockholders, and who also compose the board of directors: Arthur P. Jordan, William C. Hodge, Samuel E. Pelphrey, Benjamin Sherrod, Thaddeus H. Clayford, Robert H. Price, all of Alamogordo, and Frank M. Avis, of Phoenix, Ariz. The principal place of business is at Alamogordo, and the capital stock is $50,000, divided into 1,000 shares of the par value of $50 each. The term of existence is fifty years and the object is to build, erect and operate a street railway and the necessary power house, and an electric light system; to buy, sell and deal in houses, structures, lots, lands, orchards and parks. To buy, sell, convey, construct, store and develop water and water rights and to deal in notes and execute notes and mortgages.

HILLSBORO MINING.

From the Advocate.

In a mining way Hermosa is looking up. That famous old camp will soon be heard from.

It is reported that C. M. Root and associates have completed arrangements to work the Happy Jack mine, and that they have leased the Philadelphia Mining and Milling company's mill at Andrews for the purpose of treating the ore. E. J. Fender went out to assist in putting the mill in order.

Prof. F. A. Jones, whose headquarters are at Albuquerque, has been doing this section in the interest of the United States geological survey in the way of taking a mining census. The professor has a very high opinion of this country and will probably return and make a careful examination of existing formations. He believes we have untold wealth here in precious metals.

It is reported that John Hayes Hammond, who has recently accepted the management of the Guggenheim Exploration company, visited the Lake Valley mines a few days ago. Mr. Hammond made a thorough examination of the mines there two years ago. It has been rumored for some time that the Guggenheims are contemplating the purchase of the Mines company's mines at Lake Valley, as well as a large group of mines at Kingston.

Improving the Tracks. The Santa Fe tracks are to be ballasted with gravel from Pueblo eastward. A great deal of improvement work has been done on this portion of the tracks during the past three years. Heavier steel has been laid down as fast as the old has deteriorated, and massive culverts to better protect the road against washouts have been built in great numbers. Gravel as ballasting, though not as good as stone or slag ballast, is far better than earth ballast. To place broken stone along the prairie tracks would cost an enormous amount as the material would have to be hauled long distances.

Wants Traveling Card.

The following is a sample of some of the letters received by the secretary of the Central Labor Union from people who did not see the necessity of joining a union until they got into a city where it was necessary in order to get a situation:

Dear Friend: We arrived at Denver Wednesday last at 6 p. m. and started housekeeping last night. We have a nice 5 room flat on 640 W—street, today me and Louis went out looking for work which is not hard to find here if you belong to the Union, which I do not, so I would like to ask a favor from you, if you can send me a Working card as a Beerbottle I cut get a job in the morning. Now I hope you will not refuse, I now you can do it, as you have organized the Brewery workers of late, what ever de- vices are let me now and I will send money immediately, don't forget a traveling card. Hoping to hear from you soon, etc.,

POLICE COURT.

Two Fighters Showed Up Before Judge Crawford This Morning.

Jesus Perea, a common drunk from the republic of Mexico, who has only been in the city for a few days, was sent over to the county jail by Judge Crawford for attempting to make an assault on Jose Chavez with an old wagon tire. Both men had over- reached their drinking capacity and became involved in a quarrel in which an enlarged vocabulary of pure, simple Spanish profanity was used. When they had exhausted their supply of cuss words Perea picked up the piece of sharp iron and would have run his unarmed victim through had not by- standers interrupted. The row occurred on First street in front of Pascual's place last evening about 6 o'clock.

When they were brought out of the jail this morning their demoralized ap- pearance was a sight to behold. The stern words of the judge echoed through their aching heads several times before they were fully awake to the performance. Jose Chavez paid a fine of $5 for being drunk, and his would-be slayer was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail.

PRESIDENTIAL VISIT.

The Coming of Roosevelt Recalls the Hayes Visit.

The visit and entertainment of the president next month will not have been the first time of a presidential party's visit to this city. While the entertainment of the coming party may be upon a more elaborate scale than was possible twenty-three years ago, it cannot be more enthusiastic, and while many of our people may feel that they have a grievance because of a promise made and broken—of personal and official aid toward statehood—they will refrain from any expression that might mar the pleasures of a guest.

The conditions, however, are different. Our coming guest is an invited one, and our former casually dropped in as he was passing. Considering the difference in the composition of our citizens then and now, and the fact that the bitterness engendered by the finding of the commission determining the result of the campaign of 1876 had not fully died out, the fact that cheers were given for Sam Tilden, and the president called usurper, is not surprising.

President Hayes, during the fall of 1880 crossed to the Pacific coast through the territories of Oregon and Washington and returned through Arizona and New Mexico. The end of the Southern Pacific railroad track was then near the Arizona-New Mexico line and the end of the Santa Fe track near Las Cruces. The president and Mrs. Hayes and son, R. B., Jr., Secretary of War Ramsey, General Sherman and daughter, General McCook and others of the party roughed it from end of track to end of track, traveling about sixty miles a day and camping at night, one night at Cook's Springs, a second at Los Palomas on the Rio Grande, and reached the Santa Fe track, and a special train there being held for them on the afternoon of October 27, arrived in Albuquerque that evening. The president had gone to bed, but the callers were so enthusiastic, so "vociferous," as he put it, that to give the ladies a needed rest he dressed, came upon the platform and greeted all with a good word and a hand shake. The stop here was less than half an hour, and while there were no speeches, no brass bands, there were many invitations to "come over and take something." General Sherman would have indulged in a friendly spirit had he had time, but just think of asking President Hayes to a public bar room when at home; even at state dinners the madam would not allow a light wine.

H. H. Moore has resigned his position as machinist in the local shops and will seek work in San Bernardino. General Manager Schlacks, of the Colorado Midland railroad, has granted the trainmen an advance in wages of 12 per cent.

Mrs. N. M. Rice and children left this morning for Topeka, where General Storekeeper Rice, of the Santa Fe, is now located.

SANTA RITA KILLINGS.

The Citizen published the other day, a brief account of the shooting and killing of two men at Santa Rita, Grant county. The particulars are told in the following article taken from the Silver City Independent:

Santa Rita, N. M., April 12.—This camp was a scene of a double killing last evening, in which two men, Francisco Portillo and Guadalupe Mendoza, met their deaths at the hands of H. E. Muse, deputy sheriff. The men were shot while resisting arrest, and the coroner's jury returned a verdict exonerating the officer from all blame.

The tragedy was the direct result of the drunken conduct of the victims. Portillo and Mendoza, with two companions, Manuel Roblero and Pilar Gonzales, had been drinking pretty freely, and during the day, in order to add to their so called pleasure, secured a team and spent several hours driving about the country tributary to Santa Rita. The wagon and harness they borrowed from Mariano Islas and the horses from Julian Esquivel. In the afternoon they went to Hanover and Fierro and while at these places were very boisterous in their behavior, discharging guns on more than one occasion during the course of their ride. When they returned to Santa Rita, Mr. Islas learning of their doings and the rough treatment which they had been giving his outfit, went before Justice of the Peace P. J. Howe and swore out a warrant for their arrest. About the time this was done the men were seen driving about the camp and Judge Howe asked Deputy Sheriff Muse to go with him and make the arrest. When the officers found the men they were unloading the horses near the home of Mr. Islas and here they had been very profane in their talk towards some ladies who were nearby.

Some conversation took place at this point, the substance of which was that the men were to consider themselves under arrest and to be present at the justice of the peace court in the morning for trial. Portillo and Mendoza were ugly in their behavior and were ordered taken to jail. Deputy Muse then started off with the prisoners, a brother of Portillo accompanying them. After proceeding a short distance, the two prisoners refused to go any further and parley ensued, during which Mr. Howe rejoined them. Portillo especially was disposed to give trouble, and Howe and the brother attempted to pacify him and have him go along with the officer. While this was taking place Mendoza had gotten around on the other side of Muse as if to get possession of his gun, and the latter had anticipated the action by drawing it himself. With a profane utterance Portillo broke away from those who were trying to hold him and went for Muse, and at the same time Mendoza came at him from the other side. Realizing the danger of his position, Mr. Muse fired two shots—one at Portillo and the other at Mendoza.

His aim was terribly true. Portillo fell back with a bullet in his heart and died instantly. Mendoza, who had also been shot through the heart, staggered a step or two and dropped dead. The whole thing had taken place so quickly that even those who were there did not for a second realize that two lives had been forfeited. As soon as it was known that the men were beyond earthly aid their bodies were picked up and delivered to friends.

A coroner's jury was empaneled and after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict of death at the hands of Deputy Muse and stated that the killing was justifiable. Muse testified that he believed his life to be in danger when he fired, and his testimony was corroborated by those present. The officer will be given a preliminary examination Tuesday and there is every reason to believe that he will be exonerated at that hearing. Muse was perfectly cool and collected during the trouble. He says that the men were attacking him and he acted in self defense. At the time, he was under the impression that Portillo's brother was a third aggressor, but it seems that his presence was due to a desire to keep his brother out of trouble and he made no move against the officer.

Portillo and Mendoza were buried today, the former at Pinos Altos, his former home, and the latter here.

Portillo was about 28 years of age, and has been a resident of Grant county since a boy. He lived in Pinos Altos, but has recently been at Santa Rita, where he was in the employ of the Santa Rita Mining company. He was a large sized man, and physically much superior to Muse. He was married, but was not living with his wife.

Mendoza was about 36 years old and was employed on one of the leases. He was unmarried and had not been in the country long, having come here from Old Mexico.

The killing occurred just above the concentrator plant on the main road. Public opinion in the camp is with the officer. There is some feeling among the Mexican people over the affair, but those who are familiar with the circumstances admit that the killing, while deplorable, was justifiable.

Disappearing Railroad Competition.

With about a score of men and their number steadily diminishing—in control of practically all the railways of the nation, the question becomes simply whether these few men shall be permitted to treat as their private business the making or marring of the industries of 80,000,000 people, says the Chicago Inter-Ocean.

If they are to be permitted—if they are to be allowed to exercise such vast powers without public restraint—then these men are stronger than the government of the United States, and the American people no longer rule themselves, but are ruled by these men.

There is in the situation nothing to become angry or excited about, but there is imperative need for the soberest thought.

Wants Interstate Control.

Paul Morton, vice president of the Santa Fe, says: "I would like to see all transportation that passes between two points in the same state, as well as interstate traffic, declared subject to federal supervision and made amenable to the national commission. Congress assumes control of all our navigable streams, and you cannot build a bridge over one of them without a permit from the government—no matter whether it be a state bridge or an interstate bridge. I believe railroads should be treated the same as navigable streams, for they are that and nothing more, with respect to the commerce of the nation."

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

The British government has withdrawn its opposition to missionary work in the Sudan.

The Presbyterian Evangelistic committee issued, during a single month recently, 175,000 pieces of evangelistic literature.

Within twelve months the American Tract society distributed 1,750,000 periodicals printed in 155 different languages.

The most complete and elaborate Buddhist temple in America is to be found in the University of Pennsylvania, where Prof. Maxwell Sommerville lectures on Sundays upon Buddhism.

The diamond jubilee of the Methodist Protestant denomination has been celebrated by the annual conference, just in session at Pocomoke City, Md. The denomination was founded in protest against the episcopacy in the parent Methodist Episcopal church.

The question of the union of the Reformed Presbyterian church with the Presbyterian church will come up at the general assembly of the latter body in Los Angeles next month. The Reformed Presbyterian church is small but it seeks union with a larger body.

The religious decadence of the small New England towns is causing considerable discussion. Dr. S. W. Dike says that the churches should study the needs and problems of homes and neighborhoods, and invent for them, as they have done in the case of the Sunday school.

The entire burden of supporting the Roman Catholic schools among the Indians, since the withdrawal of government aid, has been borne by Miss M. Katherine Drexel, of Philadelphia, who is now a nun. "The Society for the Preservation of the Faith" has recently been organized to assume this burden.

The recent death of Dean Farrar, who was the foremost man of letters among the clergy of the world, made the fourth in a rapid succession of deaths among England's greatest preachers. The other three, whose death preceded his by only a few months, were Archbishop Temple, Dr. Hugh Price Hughes and Dr. Joseph Parker.

STREET RAILWAYS.

During his recent visit to Los Angeles, President E. P. Ripley, of the Santa Fe system, authorized an official declaration, in which he denied emphatically any connection of the railroad of which he is executive head with the 2-cent fare electric railway application pending before the city council, says a dispatch from Los Angeles. In reply to a question, President Ripley said:

"Not one of our important stockholders, as far as I am aware, is connected with this enterprise. Of that I am convinced. So far as the Santa Fe is concerned, that corporation has enough to do in attending to its legitimate business of handling freight and passengers within its present sphere as a trans-continental railway."

President Ripley declined to discuss the decision recently rendered in the Northern Securities merger case. He dismissed the subject with the statement that the issue is one in which the Santa Fe has no interest, and as president of the company he has all he is able to attend to, without borrowing the troubles of others.

Active reconstruction of the Santa Fe's lines in the local jurisdiction has begun and before the end of the year a total of 198 miles of road between Los Angeles, San Francisco and Albuquerque will be relaid with 85-pound steel in place of the 61 and 65-pound rails now in use.

Other betterments ordered by the Santa Fe for immediate service include seventy-five new locomotives and a large number of box cars and refrigerators. The rolling stock will be turned out as rapidly as possible and the refrigerator cars will be here in time for moving next season's citrus crop.

President Ripley says the Santa Fe is doing more business than ever before in the company's history, and the statement applies to passengers as well as freight. The phenomenal conditions are prevalent in the territory of the company everywhere. The Santa Fe's president sees no reason for a change in the immediate future in existing business conditions.

Mrs. Charles Wincheck and daughter, Miss Marie, who visited Mr. Wincheck at Mexico City, where the gentleman is a division master mechanic of the Mexican Central, have returned to this city, and report having enjoyed the trip to the sister republic immensely. Mrs. Wincheck and daughter will, in the coming fall leave the city to take up their residence permanently in the City of Mexico.

THE JURY LAW.

House bill No. 32, an act to amend sections 1, 2, 5, 9 and 11 of chapter 66 of the laws of New Mexico of 1899.

Be it enacted by the legislative assembly of the Territory of New Mexico:

Section 1. Section 1 of chapter 66 is hereby amended to read as follows: It shall be the duty of the judges of the district court in each district in this territory at every regular term that shall be held in any county in this territory, to appoint in open court three persons of honor and respectability, who shall have the qualifications of jurors, to constitute a commission to select the grand and petit jurors to serve at the next regular term of court in said county. Every person appointed as such commissioner shall, before proceeding to the discharge of his duties, take an oath that he will faithfully and impartially discharge his duties as such commissioner and that he will keep secret the names of all persons selected as grand and petit jurors. Every such commissioner shall be disqualified to select jurors for two successive terms of court.

Sec. 2. Section 2 of said chapter 66 is hereby amended to read as follows: It shall be the duty of such commissioners not less than twenty days nor more than thirty days preceding the term of the court for which it shall be their duty to select grand and petit jurors as herein provided, to meet and to retire to some convenient place and there to select seventeen qualified persons to constitute a grand jury and twenty-four qualified persons to constitute a petit jury, for the next succeeding term of court in said county. Every such person shall be disqualified to serve at two successive terms of court. The names of the jurors selected by such commissioners shall be retained in separate lists as follows: The names of the persons so selected for grand jurors shall be put into a written list which shall be certified to and signed by said jury commission and sealed up securely in an envelope and delivered by them to the clerk of the district court for the district in which their selection was made, who shall write across the place of sealing the words "grand jurors," and shall sign his name thereto, and the same procedure shall be had with the list of persons so selected for petit jurors. And the same shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the court for which said jurors are selected and he by said clerk safely kept until the same shall be opened as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 3. Section 3 of said chapter 66 is hereby amended to read as follows: That the envelopes containing the names of the grand and petit jurors for the territory shall be by said clerk twenty days, and the envelopes containing the names of the grand and petit jurors for the United States shall be by said clerk immediately after they are sealed, before said term of court for which such jurors have been drawn and selected, opened in the presence of the sheriff or deputy sheriff of the county where opened and in the presence of any citizens who may wish to be present, and in case the 20th day before the first day of the term of court shall fall on Sunday then the next Monday after said Sunday. The envelopes containing the names of the jurors shall be opened and forthwith the clerk shall issue summons in the form of venire to the sheriff of the county for the territorial jurors, and to the United States jurors, returnable on such day of the term of court for which such jurors have been drawn and selected, and all of the names of the grand jurors for such term shall be included in one list and summons, and all the names of the petit jurors shall be included in another.

Sec. 4. Section 4 of said chapter 66 is hereby amended to read as follows: Where, by reason of non-attendance or disqualification of jurors, or for any cause whatever the panel of grand or petit jurors shall be incomplete, in such case the judge shall appoint one person qualified under this act, who shall act with the judge of the court as a commissioner to draw and select a list of qualified persons for grand and petit jurors to complete the panels for the term, and the clerk shall forthwith issue summons for the persons so named, directed to the proper officer, which summons shall be served without delay. When the panels are thus filled they shall constitute the regular panels for that term of court. In case the panels or either of them shall thereafter become incomplete from any cause, or in case of tallies or special venire, for such purpose persons shall be selected as provided by the common law, or by a special commissioner, at the discretion of the court.

Sec. 5. Section 11 of said chapter 66 is hereby amended to read as follows: Every male citizen of the United States who is qualified to vote at public elections under the laws of this territory shall be qualified to serve as grand or petit jurors in any of the courts of this territory, excepting, however, the following class of persons who shall be disqualified to serve as grand or petit jurors in any of the courts of the territory: Such persons as may have been convicted of any infamous crime, all persons who are living in a state of bigamy or polygamy, professional gamblers, that is, such persons as are actually engaged in gambling as a regular occupation and who are not otherwise engaged, habitual drunkards or persons who are addicted to the excessive use of inton-ating liquors as a beverage and attorneys at law. All persons over the age of 60 years shall be excused by the court from serving as jurors, if they so request. Such persons may be excused by the court if in its judgment they are physically disqualified.

Sec. 6. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after the first day of July, 1903, provided, however, that any jurors called pursuant to said chapter 66 prior to the first day of July, 1903, shall serve for the balance of the term for which they were selected.

Placed in Penitentiary.

W. R. Forbes, of Albuquerque, United States deputy marshal, was in this city Saturday. He brought Ramon Chavarri and Donaciano Herrera, who were sentenced to the present term of the United States district court for the Third judicial district, to one year's imprisonment for receiving stolen goods from a bonded car. They were placed in the territorial penitentiary to serve their sentences.—New Mexican.

Oil in New Mexico.

The O. K. Oil company, of Santa Rosa, N. M., is about the only company operating in the field that is now doing any active development work.

This company is now down to a depth of 850 feet, but as yet has not struck oil. The company is now experiencing considerable trouble in getting the machinery out of the well and several new parts have had to be replaced.

The other companies are now holding off to see what success that concern meets with before they proceed with the work.—El Paso Herald.

Roosevelt Excursion Probable.

An attempt is being made in this city to get up an excursion to Albuquerque on the 5th and 6th to see President Roosevelt. If sufficient people express themselves as willing to go the Santa Fe railroad will offer special rates. The matter of getting up a crowd is in the hands of a committee of citizens.—El Paso Times.

DISTRICT COURT.

In the Pueblo Indian case tried in district court yesterday, the jury returned a verdict for $200 damages. The suit was brought by Juan Ray Abeyta against the village officers for false imprisonment. The court, after the dismissal of the jury found among the papers another verdict finding defendants not guilty. This morning the jury was recalled and explained that the verdict was signed by mistake and that the $200 damage verdict was the correct one. It is likely that the case will be appealed to the supreme court, as the result of this case will have a tendency to break up the tribal customs of the Pueblo Indians and destroy the government that has existed for centuries. The trouble in this particular case grew out of the fact that the plaintiff had in violation of his agreement with the Pueblo authorities rented a house belonging to himself to an American. The tribal law is that no Indian should rent any house in the pueblo to other than an Indian and it was for violation of this law that the defendants were incarcerated. The plaintiff admitted the agreement and testified that he went to jail voluntarily, but counsel contended that it was through fear of the consequences and that his acts were therefore done under duress. And it was with this view of the case that the jury rendered their decision.

The court then tried the case of the Southwestern Brewery and Ice company against Al Coleman on a note for $275 and interest. The defendant admitted the execution of the note, but pleaded an offset on account of a contract for employment for a year at $100 a month, and that he was discharged in the fourth month of the term without cause. In the evidence the defendant failed to fix any specific term for employment, and the court thereupon instructed the jury that under a contract for hire for an indefinite period the plaintiff had the right to discharge the defendant at any time, with or without cause, and instructed the jury to bring a verdict in the plaintiff's favor for the sum of the note sued upon and interest.

The case of the territory against James Hackett, Edward Farrell, Frank Meyers and James Ward, charged with the burglarizing of Sol Benjamin & Co.'s store in November last, was called for trial this morning. These are the same defendants who, with the notorious Harry Munroe, are charged with the burglary of S. Vann & Son's jewelry store. James Hackett and James Ward asked a severance and the trial proceeded as to them.

Back to Fort Wingate.

Lieutenant Retthorst, of Fort Wingate, who has been enjoying the life of the metropolis for a few days, returned to the fort this morning. The lieutenant would have prolonged his stay had not his feetness of foot carried him to the rear end of the south bound passenger just as it was nearing the coal chutes in the yards. Mr. Retthorst was busily engaged in conversation with several gentleman friends when the train had passed the depot before he noticed it. He was off in a minute, giving a fine exhibition of his physical powers, the result of long training in the army. His stint was witnessed by an interested depot gathering who smiled with satisfaction, when the little young lieutenant swung on the Pullman. Lieutenant Retthorst has been promoted to a first lieutenancy and has also been transferred from Fort Wingate to Fort Sill, Okla.

Arthur Hobbs, a former employe of the local machine shops, is now working in San Francisco.

FOREST RESERVE LAW.

The test case against Joseph Dent for sheep trespass on the San Francisco mountain forest reserve, in which the district court found him guilty of trespass and imposed a fine, which decision was subsequently reversed by the supreme court of the Territory of Arizona, claiming the act of congress, under which the rules and regulations promulgated by the secretary of the interior, governing the forest reserves, unconstitutional, was of much interest to stockmen.

United States Attorney Frederick S. Nave is preparing a motion asking for a re-hearing on the case.

In the circuit court of appeals for the Ninth judicial district of California, a case very much similar was passed upon, deciding the law under which injunction proceedings were had to restrain sheepmen from grazing their sheep on the reserve, was constitutional, and the fines of $100 for disobeying the injunction of the circuit judge were affirmed by the court of appeals. The main points of the decision are as follows:

"The court upon the hearing, overruled the demurrer and granted an order for an injunction pendente lite. This appeal is from the order of granting the injunction.

"The contention of the counsel for the appellants is (1) that the rules hereinbefore referred to 'discriminate against the owners of sheep'; (2) that the appellants 'had an implied license to pasture (their sheep) upon the public domain'; (3) that the act of congress (approved June 4, 1897) is an 'unauthorized delegation of legislative authority to an administrative officer'; (4) that 'no irreparable injury is shown'; and (5) that 'there is a misjoinder of defendants.' And upon these several points they cite many authorities.

It must be admitted that the legislative authority of the United States is vested in congress, and that congress has no authority to delegate legislative power to the secretary of the interior, or to any administrative officer, the authority to make laws; and if the act of congress approved June 4, 1897, (30 Stat. 35) is legally susceptible of the construction contended for by appellants, it would clearly be unconstitutional. By that act the secretary of the interior was authorized to 'make such rules and regulations and establish such service as will insure the objects of such reservations, namely: to regulate their occupancy and use and to preserve the forests thereon from destruction.' Does this language delegate any power to the secretary of the interior to make a law, or does it simply confer upon the secretary an authority to adopt such rules and regulations, as to him may seem fit and proper, in order to secure the objects for which the reservation was created; such acts to be exercised under and in pursuance of the law enacted by congress? Let us see. Congress cannot delegate its power to make a law, but it can make a law to delegate a power to an administrative officer to determine a fact or condition of affairs, in regard to which the law makes its own action depend.

Basket Ball Rule.

After the basket ball controversy at Deming between Professor Owen and Referee J. W. Berry, of Portland, Ore., Professor Owen carefully wrote out his interpretations of the rules in question and referred them to the rules committee of the Athletic League of Young Men's Christian association, of New York City, asking if his coaching was right or wrong, says the Silver City Independent. The following letter was received in reply which is self explanatory:

"Mr. Dear Mr. Owen:—Regarding interpretation of basket ball rules for women, I would say that your coaching was according to rules. Now, as to your second question, a girl must have both hands on the ball before she can claim possession, for example, if a girl had the ball on the floor with one hand on it and another girl should run over and put both hands on, the ball would belong to the latter girl. I think this answers your questions and there are no charges. My services are rendered gratuitously for the good of the game."

Southern Missionary Society.

Atlanta, Ga., April 17.—The Woman's Board of Home Missions of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, began its fifth annual session in this city today. Delegates are in attendance from Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Louisiana, Virginia and other states. Reports to be presented to the convention show that the society has had a year of great activity.

There was an exciting little smashup in the Las Vegas railway yards Wednesday morning. Four cars, heavily laden, were to be run to the coal chute landing. One attempt was made and the cars stalled near the top. At the second trial when they had gotten up considerable speed the trucks on the rear car left the rails at a switch. The engine and two cars clung to the iron. The other two cars plowed along for nearly a hundred yards, finally embedding themselves in the earth to quite a depth. The wrecking crew brought the crane to the scene and spent the morning raising the cars, which were pretty badly used in the shuffle.

Thomas Britton, for many years a faithful employe of the local railroad machine shops, is contemplating a trip very soon to his old home in England. Of course, Mrs. Britton will go along and they will be absent several months.

ARIZONA TOWNS

WILLIAMS.

From the News.
Miss Ruby, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Martin, has been quite ill the past week.

Ralph Cameron came in from the canyon and left the same evening for Flagstaff.

Dr. A. Rounseville arrived home from Los Angeles, where he had been on business connected with the Malachite Copper company.

Miss Anna Nagiller, after having spent several days in the city returned the early part of the week to Bellemont, where she is stopping with Mrs. F. W. Payne.

Miss Hart returned last week from a trip to San Francisco and is visiting again with Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Arey. She expects to leave about the first of the month for her home in Maine.

Wm. F. Dermont, president of the Saginaw & Manistee Lumber company, arrived home from a business trip through the east. Mr. Dermont was accompanied on his return by his brother, Charles E. Dermont, of Grand Rapids, who will spend some time in this section.

SNOWFLAKE

From Holbrook Argus.
James Peterson and Charles Brewer were down from Pinedale.

David Brinkerhoff and wife, who are now living at Woodruff, were visitors here Sunday.

W. J. Flake, in company with others, closed the bargain for Henry Hunting's ranch.

A case of diphtheria broke out at the home of W. E. Stratton the other day. It is hoped the little girl will soon be better.

Miss Woods, a sister of Dr. Woods, who was here in the interest of woman's suffrage during the winter, was a guest of Mrs. Belle H. Flake during the past week.

Dr. Woolford and daughter, Sadie, were in Snowflake. The doctor has been attending the baby of Amasa Willis, which was recently very badly burned by accident.

HOLBROOK.

From the Argus.
Miss Jennie Lee came down from Woodruff. She will go to Winslow to visit her aunt, Mrs. Wm. Lee.

J. H. Bearup, of the Albuquerque Wool Scouring mills, was here this week. He took a trip to Concho.

Sheriff Houck left for Winslow and from there he will go to Keams' canyon. He will make the trip on horseback.

W. B. Woods is in receipt of a letter from James O'Brien, stating that he will sail for Manila the 20th inst. on the transport Sumner.

Joe Knight came down from Navajo Saturday, having severed his connection with Hugh Lynch's store. He left for Moki to take charge of A. E. Laupin's trading post.

WINSLOW.

From the Mail.
Fletcher Bly has been visiting in Los Angeles.

W. H. Clark, of Holbrook, was a visitor to Winslow.

Miss Bernice Bonham, of Point Richmond, Cal., has been visiting her old home Winslow friends.

Hon. W. A. Parr has returned from California. He has left his daughters, Nappa Junction, Cal., where they will attend school.

Mrs. Selva, of Albuquerque, has been visiting Mrs. Selva, of Winslow, and the two ladies left for San Francisco, where the German hospital.

J. E. Wilson, the expert on oil matters, left for Gallup, where he will spend a few days and then visit Albuquerque, returning to Winslow.

Prof. Young, who was one of a party that went out to Coon mountain last Saturday, states that, in his opinion, from a cursory examination, the mountain, instead of being a graveyard of meteorites, is simply the crater of an extinct volcano. The rock formation indicates that it was at one time subjected to a very great heat. Much work is being done by the parties who have located it. There is an excellent lead coming from the mouth to the bottom of the crater, and Professor Young says the trip is very interesting and well worth the journey.

The little Colorado river is so high at travelers from the upper country have to go out of the usual highway and come down the south side of the river. Cheylen and Cedar creeks are higher than they have been for years. People are willing to stand a little inconvenience, for the over-supply of water is most welcome, as it is a guarantee that there will be bountiful harvest, fat cattle, fine output of wool and an abundance of the coin of the realm.

Two boys, aged 8 and 12 years, giving their names as Lawson, and claiming to have been on Trinidad, stopped over at Winslow on Tuesday. They left Trinidad without a cent and expect to go to San Francisco by depending on the charity of the people. The eldest stated that they were ordered from Trinidad by an aunt, with whom they were living in Trinidad, and wanted to go to San Francisco, where their mother resides. He was asked how he expected to get there and replied "in any old way."

FLAGSTAFF.

From the Sun.

C. F. Whittman, who has been employed in the office of E. S. Gossney, for several months, left recently for St. Louis, where he will accept a responsible position in one of the banks of that city.

Ed. I. Gale, who started for Agua Caliente last week, got as far as Phoenix, where the high water in the Gila river caused him to return. He expects to make the trip to the springs next month.

Perceval Lowell has had a small rotary pump and an electric motor placed about half way up observatory hill for the purpose of forcing water to the residences near Lowell observatory. The force of the water works will only carry the water half way up the hill. Godfrey Sykes placed the machinery and it works finely.

Mrs. Helen M. Jones, wife of James W. Jones, died at the family residence on Wednesday morning, after an illness of fifteen days. Her death was due to paralysis. She was 71 years of age and a native of Tennessee. She leaves a husband and three sons, R. C., J. O. and E. H. and two daughters, Mrs. Cora Travis and Mrs. Minnie Thompson, to mourn her loss. Mrs. Jones was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and the funeral was held in that church Friday afternoon. Rev. J. H. Henry conducting the services.

From the Gem.

Mrs. Annie Flowers has changed her mind about erecting a frame building on the south side of the railroad track. It will be a six room brick. J. C. Milligan has the contract for the brick work, and J. W. Jones for the carpenter work. Work on the same commenced this week.

The following pupils of the intermediate department of the Emerson high school were neither tardy nor absent during the past school month: Clara Mohnenpah, Hazel Juden, Mabel Fairchild, Harry Hibben, Jr., Collis Mayflower, Robert Kidd, Jr., Cyrus Gilbert, Jr.

The mail carriers on the route from here to Tuba are Indians. They furnish their horses, feed them, board themselves and charge $4 for the round trip, which requires four days to make. There is no apparent danger of their going on a strike for higher wages.

KINGMAN.

From Mineral Wealth.
Court convenes Monday, April 20. Deputy Joe Gideon is out in pursuit of grand and petit jurors.

Mrs. O. D. Clark has gone to Acme to reside. Dick is in business over there and making a few shekels.

Eli Hitty is able to be around again after a four months' lay off with a broken leg. He will hardly be able to face hard work for several weeks yet.

Dr. Johnson, Boss Feeny, Boss Grant, Roadmaster Kolar, Secretary and Treasurer Dickson and Medical Adviser Cowie, compose the board of health under the new law.

From the Miner.

Last Monday morning the sheds at the old Bowers corral were discovered to be on fire and were soon completely destroyed. A small building owned by James A. Smith was also on fire, but the flames were easily extinguished. Both fires were of incendiary origin. James A. Smith was the owner of the corral, having recently purchased it from George M. Bowers.

E. T. Loy received serious injuries in the mill of the Minnesota-Connor at Chloride last Thursday. He was oiling up a rock breaker and in some manner was caught in the belting and then dashed to the floor below. He was badly bruised and broken up, but no bones were broken. He will be confined to his bed for several days.

Last Monday bids were opened by the board of supervisors for county supplies, public printing, care of indigent, feeding prisoners, etc. Kean St. Charles was awarded the county printing, his bid being deemed to be the lowest by the board. Dr. Cowie was awarded the contract for the care of indigents, Mrs. Wm. Sweeney for feeding prisoners and J. W. Emerson for burial of indigent dead.

The Rio Grande Land and Irrigation company has a force of men at work taking a canal from the Colorado river some distance below Fort Mohave. The company surveyed the line of canal last year and they will try to get water on the low lands along the river. There are many thousands of acres of irrigable lands in that section and a canal would open them to settlement. The enterprise will be watched with interest.

SANTA FE WEDDING.

Veldera Elvira Slaughter and William E. Parsons Married Last Evening.
Last night at 7 o'clock sharp at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Slaughter, at the corner of Manhattan and Weber avenues, occurred the marriage of Miss Veldera

Elvira Slaughter and William E. Parsons. The bridesmaid was Miss Frances Ellsworth, of Albuquerque, and the groom was attended by Arnold Banister, of this city. The ceremony was performed in the corner of the parlor under an arch of white chrysanthemums and Easter lilies. Directly over the heads of the contracting parties was a lover's bow of chrysanthemums. The bride was given away by her father, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Hayes Moore, according to the beautiful ritual of the Presbyterian church. The handsome parlors of the Slaughter residence were artistically decorated with potted palms, chrysanthemums, roses, lilies and smilax. The bride wore a white organdie trimmed in valenciennes lace. Her hair was decorated with bridal roses and she carried a bouquet of the same. Miss Ellsworth wore a white swiss dress. The groom and his best man were attired in the conventional black. After the ceremony and following the congratulations, a bounteous wedding supper was served.

Among the many and valuable presents received were the following:
From Albuquerque—Cut glass fruit bowl, Mrs. O. A. Franklin; half dozen silver teaspoons, M. and Mrs. W. H. Joyce; silver salad spoon and fork, Mrs. M. Carter; bronze clock, Miss Annie Watson; china plaque, Miss Cecilia Phillips; Dresden china candlestick, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bramlett; silver berry spoon, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Montgomery; Mexican drawn work centerpiece, Mrs. L. C. Caway; filigree brooch, Miss Ellsworth; linen side-board cover, Mrs. L. S. Black—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Following is the list of letters remaining uncalled for in the postoffice at Albuquerque, N. M., for the week ending April 18, 1903.

NOT AT SAN BERNARDINO.
A. G. Wells Says New Hospital Will Be Built in Los Angeles.
In response to a question as to whether the new Santa Fe hospital would be built in San Bernardino, or not, A. G. Wells, general manager of the Santa Fe coast lines, said:

"It will not. The Santa Fe hospital will be built on Boyle Heights, Los Angeles. This is a matter which has been settled, and there will be no change in the decision."
Just what has been the cause of leading the officials to reach such a conclusion, Mr. Wells was not prepared to say, and when he was told that a committee from San Bernardino would probably wait upon him with regard to the hospital he stated that in that case, then, he would rather withdraw his answer, and out of courtesy to the committee, leave the response for them to receive first.

From this interview it is certain that as long as Mr. Wells has the disposal of the matter San Bernardino will not get the hospital, and as the structure will soon be in course of building it is really a closed matter, though Mr. Wells has nothing but the best of wishes for the city, and is only led to select Los Angeles for reasons not at all personal.

Advice to the Democrat.
Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile.
Depart from evil, and do good; seek peace, and pursue it.

MAGDALENA NOTES.
The Latest Paragraphs of Interest from a Good Town.

Special Correspondence.

Magdalena, N.M., April 16.—There is likely to be something important doing in mining in this locality in the near future. There is now underground workings going on, which it is thought will crop out on the surface in a few months with considerable show of activity.

The great drawback in the Magdalena mountains' mining in the past has been the utter impossibility of reducing the lead-zinc sulphide ore of which an abundance is here found. The old Graphic mine, now under lease by Captain A. B. Fitch and C. T. Brown, is exceptionally rich in this ore.

These men have been working away in the past quietly developing the Graphic and at the same time ferreting out a plan by which the lead-zinc ore can be treated. A process has at last been hit upon and the near future will see a mill established near Magdalena to do the work.

The new mill will be of about fifty tons per day capacity and will be built right near the old Graphic smelter, which possibly may itself become active.

The Hardcrabble mine, owned by R. B. and H. C. Thomas and others, and considered a valuable property, is increasing its force of miners daily or as fast as they come into the country. It is now employing about forty men and taking out several tons of ore every day. Last month the Hardcrabble shipped more than 200 tons of ore. They expect to increase that amount this month by almost one-half. This ore is going to the Cerrillos smelter and is turning out fine.

The gold strike made near Timber peak about a year ago was never prospectively very thoroughly and from all appearances has been forgotten.

It is rumored that the old Juanita mine near Kelly so long idle on account of its title being in litigation will be opened up in the near future and some active parties will work it.

SANDOVAL COUNTY.
Editors Citizen:

Algodones, N. M., April 14.—The new county of Sandoval is rich in natural resources; the county is traversed almost centrally north and south by the great Rio Grande, and in the same direction by the great Santa Fe railroad, direct from Chicago on the great lakes to the Pacific ocean, and San Francisco. Combining its stock, grain, fruit, minerals of all kinds, building material; and with immigration, and the vast market facilities we have, will surely make this new county one of the richest in the whole southwest. One-tenth of the wool grown in the territory is grown in the new county. The region producing the Delaine Merino wool, large herds of finely bred cattle. The county has a great future as a dairy country. This county being the gateway to the Pacific coast. Along the great oil fields, known as the Algodones oil fields, is something enormous and cannot be appreciated without a visit to them. The Algodones Oil company controls about 6,000 acres of these great oil fields. They have a $7,000 plant of machinery on the ground, and are now boring for oil night and day. Besides the great oil fields which have been opened up by the Santa Fe Central Railroad company. They have at work in the mines seventy-five men. This new county will open up the largest coal fields in the southwest, and the Santa Fe Central Railroad company will be enriched ten-fold for their labor. There is more railroad activity in this new county than anywhere in the southwest. The new county has the largest tract of merchantable timber than any other county in the territory. It has the most wonderful sulphur springs and the great Jemez hot springs, known all over the land for their curative properties, also the finest resorts in the southwest. With the Sandia mountains, which are very rich in gold, silver, copper and lead, only waiting for the capital to take it out. The new county will soon have one of the largest smelting plants in the southwest. Built by eastern capital at Algodones, one of the loveliest spots on the Rio Grande, and the most favorable place for a large city to build up. The country around is not without its scenic attractions, and the climate is equal to that of sunny Italy. There cannot be found on any part of the globe, such surface indications for gold, silver, copper, lead and iron as in the new county of Sandoval. The oil fields are certainly the finest surface indication on the face of the globe, with the oil springs cropping out everywhere, and the great amount of the oil bearing shale, that is to be seen, is beyond comprehension without paying it a visit. Large two-story buildings are being built at Algodones, and several more will be built, and several fine cottages are contracted for to be built, in fact the new county of Sandoval is and will be the most progressive county in the territory. With its brand new officials, who are all progressive business men, they will take pride in pushing the new county to the front. The beautiful city of Albuquerque on the south, with a population of about 14,000 people and a distributing point, only sixteen miles away, and the county seat of Bernalillo county, which Sandoval county was a part of. The new county of Sandoval invites capital to come and look over the resources, that is here only waiting the capital to develop their vast and profitable hidden treasures, that can only be developed by men of means. They are here, and we invite you, one and all, to come and see what we have in this, our new county.

LAS VEGAS.
From the Record.

Mrs. J. B. Cunningham is reported to be very ill.

Dr. E. L. Epperson failed to get away for St. Louis, but did leave today and Las Vegas will soon have two large, modern, forty-foot electric cars in service here.

B. F. Forsythe has placed two teams and three men at service of the Woman's Federation to aid in cleaning the city next Saturday. This is a most worthy action that might well be followed by others of our citizens.

J. T. Downing, representing the New York Mutual Life insurance company, in this city, who has been making an extended tour of the territory, was called home Monday suddenly by the serious illness of his wife. Today she is reported as being somewhat improved.

A meeting was held on the west side last night by a number of persons musically inclined, and as a result the West Side band was organized, consisting of fifteen members: T. Sena, J. B. Guerin, T. R. Guerin, M. M. Booth, C. Lucero, S. Gallegos, J. R. Sena and six others, whose names were not ascertained, signed the roll.

A. N. Knight, who was in the employ of E. G. Murphy as druggist a little over a year ago and who is well remembered in this city, where he has a number of friends, was found dead in bed from the effects of an overdose of morphine, at Smithville, Mo., last Saturday night.

From the Optic.

Several youngsters who attempted to pay the hooky act, were rounded up by the police and returned to their schools. They say that, is the boys, they'll never do it again.

Congregation Montefiore has set a high standard and one worthy of emulation by other churches in the matter of the gift of $90 to the Ladies' Home. The Home will fare sumptuously every day if many such gifts come in.

Rodney Schoonmaker and his sister have furnished completely a room in the Ladies' Home in loving remembrance of their mother. The room with its elegant furnishings is one of the most attractive in the building. No more thoughtful tribute to the memory of a noble woman could have been offered.

The funeral of the late Frederick Herzog, held from the residence this afternoon was largely attended. The Rev. A. C. Geyer conducted a short impressive service. A full representation of the A. O. U. W. lodge, of which deceased had been a faithful member, was present and at the grave the beautiful ritualistic service of the order was carried out. The pall bearers were chosen from among the members of the order.

Marshal Courtwright and James A. Dick returned last evening from Wagon Mound without their man, but with the collateral to pay Mr. Dick's account. The grocer and befriended M. O. Dille, a painter, who lived at the old springs, in various ways, also he had trusted the painter to the amount of $45. One night last week, Dille gathered his family, hitched up his rickety old wagon and attempted to make a sneak. At Wagon Mound he was intercepted and persuaded to liquidate the account.

The Optic says: W. A. Powers, for a long time Wells-Fargo route agent in this district, passed through the city yesterday afternoon, on No. 7. The gentleman since resigning his position with the Fargo folk has had a varied experience. He conducted a hotel in Rocky Ford for a time, and did some farming on the side. Recently he has been making an extensive tour of the southern states. He expects to re-enter the service of the Wells-Fargo company.

The Winslow News says: A small wreck occurred about eighteen miles out on the Canyon road last Sunday afternoon. The wheels of the tender, for some unknown reason, left the track and ran some distance on the ties. Two cars also left the track but maintained their upright position. Some forty passengers were on board, all escaping without a single scratch.

A shoo-fly was hastily built around the scene and traffic resumed. Wednesday a wrecker was sent out to the scene and the cars were again placed on the rails, none having sustained serious damage.

The Sells and Downs circus advertising car which has been standing on a siding in the Santa Fe yards at Topeka for the last few days, has been taken from the yards and put in service for the coming season.

The Winslow Mail says: J. G. Hutchison and wife passed through on No. 8 this week. He is roadmaster for the first district, with headquarters at Gallup. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchison have been visiting Hanford, Cal., and other California points.

Mines and Minerals

It is said there is a demand for minerals in the Bromide district, New Mexico.

Some rich veins of silver ore have lately been opened up in the Black mountains, New Mexico.

Eastern capitalists are negotiating for the purchase of a couple of claims in the Cook's peak district, New Mexico.

A new vein of rich copper ore has been located in the Guadalupe range, New Mexico, that is said to run 40 per cent.

A company of Milwaukee capitalists has recently been formed to open up a group of copper claims in the Big Hat-chiet mountains, Grant county, New Mexico.

Phelps, Dodge & Co. are making extensive arrangements to work their copper-iron properties in the Hanover district, New Mexico. The output of the mines is to be greatly increased at an early date.

Preparations are being made by the Mexican King Mining company to begin shipping ore from its mines in Rio Arriba county, New Mexico. A four foot vein has been uncovered and a day and night force put to work.

Mart Little, who, with William Crowell is developing a group of gold bearing claims south of Peach Springs, Arizona, returned to the scene of his labors, after having spent some time in Williams. He left several samples of his rich ore at the News office.

It is reported at Needles, Cal., that the Mohave Mining company will receive more than 3,000 tons of machinery next month, which will be ferried across the Colorado river. Seventy-five men will soon be at work on the mill to rush that structure through to completion.

Three heavy teams were loaded with supplies at Kingman and started for the Monmouth Mining and Development company mines on Burro Creek, Arizona. Under the careful management of Dr. Wallace the future of these mines are assured and they will add greatly to the prosperity of Kingman.

The gold vein of O'Dea and Dempsey, west of Chloride, Arizona, has widened to ten feet. What the average of the ten feet is the Kingman Mineral Wealth has not heard, but those who have seen the gold sticking out all over the rock say it is immense. The owners are sacking the best ore for shipment.

Carl Sorenson (or Swenson), miner, native of Denmark, should communicate at once with Darwin C. De Golla, lawyer, 906 Broadway, Oakland, Cal., concerning his deceased sister, Mrs. John's, estate. Information as to said Sorenson's whereabouts is desired. His last letter was from Campbell, Arizona.

The fifty-four horse power hoist on the Gold Road mine, near Kingman, Arizona, is in place and the water is being taken from the mine. Superintendent Stevens says that in about two weeks the mine will be in shape to put on a full force of men. The big mill will be turning out bars of gold by the middle of June.

One of the largest sets of rolls for the Gold Road mill ever brought to Arizona was hauled out to Gold Road Thursday morning, says the Kingman Miner. The weight of the machine was nearly twenty-five tons and was sent in knocked down. All the other machinery being placed in the big mill is of the same substantial nature and indicates that the company are going in on a solid basis.

Mineral hill, in the northern part of Yuma county, Arizona, is the scene of much excitement, owing to the recent discovery of a large body of rich ore. The strike is located a few miles from the old Planet mine and is one of the most important finds ever made in that section. It is said that there are thousands of tons of high grade gold and copper ore on the surface. More than a hundred claims have been located and people are flocking in from all parts of the country.

The big hoisting plant on the Gold Road mine, Arizona, has been installed and sinking will now be carried on at a rapid rate. Owing to the breaking down of the old hoisting plant work had to be suspended on the shaft for some time past, although drifting has been carried on uninterruptedly. The mine shaft will now be carried down to a depth of at least 1,000 feet and all ground above that level blocked out. The ore in the bottom of the shaft is of an excellent milling value.

F. Preston Jones and Geo. W. Grayson returned to Kingman, A. T., from Empire Flat, where they had been examining the Mack mines. They went down the river in a rowboat, but on the return trip they abandoned the boat some distance below Bellen and walked to that place. Mr. Grayson was much pleased with the condition of the Mack property and may conclude to put a force of men to work on it with the object of taking it over. The mines are now under bond to Gadis & Perry and P. P. Jones, who have a number of men at work on them. The ore is exceptionally rich in gold and carries good values in silver.

The Los Angeles Mining Review says: That a big lot of money will be invested in mining enterprises, railways and other industrial projects in South Africa during the next few years is being made very evident. The Times, of London, prints a report stating that at the railway conference at Johannesburg, the construction of seven new lines, aggregating 668 miles, to cost $25,500,000, was approved.

A report is in circulation in Kingman, Arizona, that a recent sampling of the Dempsey O'Dea mine, near Mud Springs, gave seventeen ounces of gold for a width of three feet of the vein. A crosscut on the vein has developed eight feet of ore and in all the openings good values are obtainable. The owners are hard at work developing the property and those who have examined it say that it is one of the greatest strikes ever made in Mohave county. The location is handy to wood and water and is accessible by wagon road.

SANTA FE.
From the New Mexican.

Mrs. T. D. Burns and two daughters, Mrs. Murray and Miss Burns, of Tierra Amarilla, arrived from a three months' visit in the City of Mexico and are stopping at St. Vincent's sanitarium.

Company F, First regiment of infantry, New Mexico national guard, has been recruited to sixty men and is having nightly drills preparing for inspection by a regular army officer, which will occur in a few days. Captain John Shoemaker is conducting the drills.

P. B. Otero, territorial game warden, and son, P. B., Jr., returned from a trip to Denver, where Mr. Otero went on official business. He states that State Game Warden Woodard, of Colorado, has assured him of all the aid possible to prevent Coloradoans from coming into the territory and violating the game laws. Mr. Woodard will appoint a couple of extra deputies to guard the line.

A. M. Bergere, clerk of the district court, left for Albuquerque, from which place he will go overland to Antelope Springs, Valencia county, to look after herds of sheep there, of which he is the owner. The lambing of these flocks will commence about the 20th and will be under the supervision of Eduardo M. Otero. Mr. Bergere expects to make but a flying trip and return to Santa Fe within a few days.

Teachers Meet at Yankton.
Yankton, S. D., April 17.—The annual meeting of the Southeastern South Dakota Educational association, which opened here today, has attracted more than 200 teachers from all parts of the territory embraced by the association. A two days' program has been arranged, calling for discussions of numerous topics and papers and addresses by educators of note from this and other states.

Starkville's Big Event.
Starkville, Miss., April 17.—This was a red letter day for the Agricultural and Mechanical college, the occasion being the laying of the corner stone of the new science hall. The ceremonies were conducted under Masonic auspices and addresses were delivered by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte, N. C., and others. The new hall is a large and commodious structure, containing all modern improvements essential to the uses for which the building is intended.

Benjamin F. Gruetzke, who has been working in the local shops, has resigned. He will leave tonight or tomorrow for Texas.

The Mohave (Ariz.) Miner says: Chief Engineer Cochran, of the proposed cut off west from Congress has completed the work as far as the Colorado river and cross-sectioning will soon be commenced. The road as now located will run to the Colorado river near Parker and will have the easiest grade of any of the old lines across western Arizona. It is thought that this new road will have the backing of the Rock Island, which road is now seeking a Pacific coast outlet. The road will cut into the business of the Southern Pacific largely if built. It will also open up one of the richest gold and copper countries in the southwest.

Petrolino Ortega died at Tesuque, Santa Fe county, of la grippe. He had been working for the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway at Watrous and contracted a cold which developed into la grippe. He returned home Tuesday night, expiring twelve hours later. He was married quite recently and is survived by his widow.

Exodus to the east has begun by the thousands of visitors who have made southern California a Mecca during the past winter. The railroads, especially the Santa Fe, are taxed for capacity in returning the tourists to their homes. For as the railroad man, above all others, realizes, tourists come west "by spells," but when it comes to going back, "they're all off in a bunch."

John J. Tierney, who has been driving one of the Imperial laundry wagons, will return to the ranks of the "brakies" next week. John tried hard, but he was unable to "forsake the old love."

SCHOOL OF MINES.

Board of Regents Holds Meeting and Finds Flattering Prospects for Next Year.

The board of trustees of the School of Mines, now consisting of Messrs. Juan Jose Baca, C. T. Brown, and F. G. Bartlett, of Socorro; Capt. A. B. Fitch, of Magdalena, and August Rouiller, of Paraje, held an important meeting in Socorro the other day. All members were present. The board was organized by the re-election of Juan Jose Baca as president and C. T. Brown as secretary and treasurer.

After the transaction of routine business, several matters of special nature occupied the attention of the board. It was decided to take out an insurance policy of $4,000 on the new building and its equipment. The following new chairs were provided for, viz: Mining engineering, mechanical engineering, metallurgy, mineralogy, and physics.

The business of the institution will continue to be conducted on a cash basis. As the estimated revenue of the school for the year 1904 is estimated at about twice that of the current year, many improvements in the condition of the institution may be anticipated.

Herb Cure

Fever and ague. A dose will usually stop a chill, a continuance always cures. Mrs. Wm. M. Stroud, Midland, Texas, May 31, 1899, writes: "We have used Herbine in our family for eight years, and found it the best medicine we have ever used, for la grippe, bilious fever, and malaria." 50c at Cosmopolitan Pharmacy, B. Ruppe.

In the Quiet Grave.

There the wicked cease from troubling and the weary be at rest. There the prisoners rest together; they hear not the voice of the oppressor.

The small and the great are there; and the servant is free from his master.—Job III:17-19.

Save the Loved Ones!

Mrs. Mary A. Vliet, Newcastle, Colo. writes: "I believe Ballard's Horehound Syrup is superior to any other cough medicine, and will do all that is claimed for it, and it is so pleasant to take. My little girl wants to take it when she has no need for it." Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the great cure for all pulmonary ailments. 25c, 50c and $1.00, at Cosmopolitan Pharmacy, B. Ruppe.

Here From Azore Islands.

Mariano Victorino Vasconcellos, of the Azore Islands, province of Portugal, is in Santa Fe, the guest of Miguel Ortiz. He is only 18 years old and speaks none but his native language. He is well pleased with New Mexico and will engage in the sheep raising industry in Leonard Wood county. He states that about fifty more young men from the Azore Islands will come to the territory to engage in raising sheep. Before going to Leonard Wood county he will leave for a visit with his brother, Antonio Vasconcellos, at Reno, Nev.

Walks Without Crutches.

I was much afflicted with sciatica, writes Ed. C. Nud, Iowaville, Sedgwick county, Kansas. "going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me. I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons, all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches, able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm." 25c, 50c and $1.00 at Cosmopolitan Pharmacy, B. Ruppe.

Will Visit Europe.

The Most Rev. Peter Bourgade, archbishop of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of Santa Fe, which includes the state of Colorado and the territories of New Mexico and Arizona, will depart on Tuesday next for New York City and will sail from there on April 22 for France. He will spend about five months at the famous health springs of Vichy in Auvergne for the benefit of his health. He made such a trip two years ago and was much benefited. During the absence of the archbishop on the continent the affairs of this diocese will be in charge of the Rt. Rev. J. B. Pitaval, auxiliary bishop of the diocese. The Most Rev. Bourgade is highly esteemed and honored throughout the entire diocese and he will have the best wishes of all the people for a safe journey and for a complete restoration of his health.

For Over Sixty Years.

An old and well tried remedy. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.

Horses for the East.

A car of fine coach horses, owned by L. B. Harkness, millionaire, of New York, passed through on passenger train No. 2, Saturday, en route from California to New York. There were ten horses, all of fine stock. The car used for the shipment of these fine steeds was one of the Wells-Fargo special horse cars, which are equipped with all the modern conveniences. The gentleman in charge stated that the greatest care had to be exercised in feeding during the travel, as it is trying to their constitutions. The stalls

A FAIR TRIAL

Is all that is necessary to convince you that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the best medicine in the world to cure Dyspepsia, Belching, Flatulency, Constipation or Biliousness. We therefore urge you to try it at once, for your health's sake. It is also an excellent spring tonic and will fortify the system against attacks of La Grippe, Colds, Chills or Malaria, Fever and Ague.

are very narrow, and heavily padded, that there will be no danger of the horses injuring themselves. They will be about five days in transit and during the entire trip the horses are required to be on their feet, the stalls not being wide enough to permit them to be down. One of the horsemen informed the reporter this morning that the horse sleeps standing; their heads being tied up, that they may rest their necks.

Pope Leo's Last Prayer.

Following is a copy of Pope Leo's dying prayer, written by himself and included in a volume of verse presented by him to each of the cardinals of the Sacred College upon the occasion of his recent jubilee:

Leo, now sets thy sun; pale is its dying ray;
Black night succeeds thy day.
Black night for thee; wasted thy frame; life's food sustains
No more thy shrunken veins.
Death casts his fatal darts; robbed for the grave thy bones
Lie under the cold stones.
But my freed soul escapes her chains,
And longs in flight,
To reach the realm of light.
That is the goal she seeks; thither her journey fares;
Grant, Lord, my anxious prayers.
That, with the citizens of Heaven,
God's face and light
May ever thrill my sight.
That I may see Thy face, Heaven's Queen, whose Mother love
Has brought me home above.
To Thee, saved through the tangles of a perilous way,
I lift my grateful lay.

Beauty and Strength.

Are desirable. You are strong and vigorous, when your blood is pure. Many—any, most—women, fail to properly digest their food, and so become pale, sallow, thin and weak, while the brightness, freshness and beauty of the skin and complexion, depart. Remedy this unpleasant evil, by eating nourishing food, and taking a small dose of Herbine after each meal, to digest what you have eaten; 50c at Cosmopolitan Pharmacy, B. Ruppe.

"An Indian Burning."

One of the old-time Mojave Indians took sick some time last week and Monday night his spirit passed to the happy hunting grounds. The following morning there was a great pow-wow held over the remains which were cremated a few hours later. The "burning" was witnessed by a large number of people, probably 500. Wood was gathered and piled about two feet high, then the body of the noble red man was placed on the wood and all his belongings with many bolts of new calico were placed beside it, then more brush and wood were piled on, while the weird ceremony was being carried out by the mourners. About 9 o'clock the torch was applied to the pyre and the lifeless body of one of the noblemen of the plains was reduced to ashes to be carried on the wings of the wind to the four quarters of the earth.—Needles Eye.

Scrofula, salt rheum, erysipelas and other distressing eruptive diseases yield quickly and permanently to the cleansing, purifying power of Burdock Blood Bitters.

Leg Badly Crushed.

Charles Kendall, employed by the Santa Fe here as inspector of air on trains passing through the yards, was seriously injured this morning. He had just finished the inspection of the limited train and stepped across to another track for the purpose of signaling to a fellow employee down the track that everything was all right, when he was struck by some moving freight cars which were being switched by the yard crew, knocked down and the left leg run over. He was immediately taken to the Santa Fe hospital and placed under treatment of the surgeons, who decided that it was possible to save the limb and did not amputate it.

Mr. Kendall has been in Needles about eight months and is a trustworthy employee. Word was sent his father, John Kendall, at Fort Madison, of the injury. The injured man will take this evening's train for Los Angeles, where he will be placed in the company hospital and under the care of the best surgeons and nurses.—Needles Eye.

Dreadful Attack of Whooping Cough.

Mrs. Ellen Harrison, of 300 Park avenue, Kansas City, Mo., writes as follows: "Our two children had a severe attack of whooping cough, one of them in the paroxysm of coughing would often faint and bleed at the nose. We tried everything we heard of without getting relief. We then called in our family doctor who prescribed Foley's Honey and Tar. With the very first dose they began to improve and we feel that it has saved their lives." Refuse substitutes. Alvarado Pharmacy.

It will take 5,525 railroad men to operate the cars on the New York subway.

JUDGE REID.

Efforts Being Made to Have Him Appointed.

A petition was circulated during the week which received a large number of signers. It requested that W. C. Reid be appointed judge of the district in the event of the retirement of Judge Daniel H. McMillan.

Since A. A. Freeman of Carlsbad has declined positively to allow his name to be used in connection with the judgeship, and it is the unanimous desire that a resident of New Mexico be appointed, the choice of the people has fallen up W. C. Reid. Mr. Reid is a lawyer of ability and would undoubtedly ably fill the place if appointed. In case Mr. Reid should be appointed the headquarters of the district would remain as at present at Socorro. It is hoped by our citizens generally, of all parties, that the authorities at Washington will see the desirability of appointing a home man. The territory has suffered by the actions of men appointed from the outside, and in justice a judge should be selected from the territory.—Rowell Register.

The little folks love Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Pleasant to take; perfectly harmless; positive cure for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma.

About Fossil Towns.

"Don't be a fossil town." is good advice anywhere and at any time. Have you seen the illustrated leaflet with that title just published by the industrial department of the Santa Fe system, Chicago? It is a new way to advertise the fact that the towns for the most part along the Santa Fe in the southwest are "live ones," and that there may be found good openings for all kinds of business. The verses and comic pictures are calculated to produce a smile or two.

"Itching hemorrhoids were the plague of my life. Was almost wild. Doan's Ointment cured me quickly and permanently, after doctors had failed." C. F. Cornwell, Valley street, Sauserville, N. Y.

ANNUAL PRIZES TO AGENTS.

Agents in the "Honorable Mention" List Get No Prizes.

The Santa Fe's annual prizes to the sum of $1,000 have been awarded to the various station agents for the business increase at their towns. The prizes are distributed to half a dozen or so agents, and then the directors always give a list of "honorable mention" agents. In this year's circular announcing the distribution of prizes the board says:

"It is gratifying to note the large number of agents endorsed by their immediate superiors for special recognition and regret on account of the limited number of prizes distributed, our inability to show our appreciation in all cases in a substantial manner. I take pleasure in behalf of the officers in charge of the freight traffic in expressing their appreciation of your valuable services and loyal support."

Following is a list of the agents who in addition to the prize winners, were mentioned for recognition. Here follows a list of fifty odd names and it contains that of F. L. Myers, of this city.

In New Mexico only four agents are on this list, those at Albuquerque, Las Vegas, Las Cruces and Santa Fe.

Grip Remedies in Great Demand.

When colds and grip are prevalent the quickest and surest remedies are in great demand. Mr. Joseph D. Williams, of McDuff, Va., says that he was cured of a very deep and lasting attack of la grippe by using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy after trying several other preparations with no effect. For sale by all druggists.

Santa Fe Short Line.

A Guthrie, Oklahoma, dispatch says that a preliminary survey is being made by the Santa Fe through Beaver county, Oklahoma, on the proposed line from Syracuse, Kas., to a point south of Albuquerque, N. M. This line is to shorten the time to the coast, and forty miles of it would be in Oklahoma and same amount in Baca county, Colorado. The proposed route keeps east of the mountain passes and heavy grades. The route passes through Kenton and Garrett, Oklahoma.

Danger of Colds and Grip.

The greatest danger from colds and grip is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case resulting in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventative of that dangerous disease. It will cure a cold or an attack of the grip in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

Railroads of the Future.

In the course of the discussion on the plans for the Pennsylvania railroad terminal in New York City President Baldwin, of the Long Island railroad, made a striking comparison with present day railroads and those of the coming years. He said that when the great tunnel underneath the river and New York City is completed it will be possible to transport people between Philadelphia and New York City in ninety minutes. "When this plan is completed," said Mr. Baldwin, "we will be able to take persons thirty miles in the country in forty-five minutes. That is about the time it now takes to go to Harlem. In a few years I believe that the whole of Long Island will resemble one continuous village. This city now has a population of about 3,500,000. Each person averages about 415 trips on cars a year. The city is growing at the rate of 200,000 persons a year. In five years there will be a million more people. That means the railroad will have to provide 415,000,000 more trips each year. You can see the enormity of the task to provide traveling facilities for the people today, and what it will be in the future. This is why the plans for this station and three tunnels are on such an enormous scale. We are looking into the future."

A Great Sensation.

There was a big sensation in Leesville, Ind., when W. H. Brown of that place, who was expected to die, had his life saved by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. He writes: "I endured insufferable agonies from asthma, but your New Discovery gave me immediate relief and soon thereafter effected a complete cure." Similar cures of consumption, pneumonia, bronchitis and grip are numerous. It's the peerless remedy for all throat and lung troubles. Price, 50c and $1. Guaranteed by all druggists. The Alamogordo News says: General Alvarado Martin has gone over the railway system pretty thoroughly. He says that he expects to soon have everything in shape to satisfy him in the operation of the road. He states that he has not made many changes in the force on the various branches, the principal change being that of superintendent of motive power, followed by the appointment of a roadmaster for the northern section, a train dispatcher for the Dawson line and several foremen, including one for the El Paso roundhouse. In the office of the superintendent of machinery, Mr. Thomas has been promoted to chief clerk and Mr. Majors made chief of the store house force, Mr. Wuche being detailed as time keeper.

Due Notice is Served.

Due notice is hereby served on the public generally that DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the only salve on the market that is made from the pure, unadulterated witch hazel. Makes a Clean Sweep.

There's nothing like doing a thing thoroughly. Of all the salves you ever heard of, Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the best. It sweeps away and cures burns, sores, bruises, cuts, boils, ulcers, skin eruptions and piles. It's only 25c, and guaranteed to give satisfaction by all druggists.

"One of the largest locomotives in the world is run by compressed air, with a pressure of from 600 to 900 pounds per square inch. It runs between Alamogordo and Canyon, N. CATTLE SALES MADE.

Magdalena Correspondent Tells of Sales Already Made and of the Prospects.

The following letter from a correspondent of the Socorro Chieftain at Magdalena may be accepted as an authoritative statement of the cattle situation in Socorro county.

Magdalena, N. M., April 8.—The cattle selling season has opened up briskly at Magdalena and somewhat earlier than usual. The Medleys, William Gardner, M. F. McBride, W. H. Sanders & Son, and J. M. Allen & Son have sold their one and two-year-old steers to be turned over in two deliveries, the first on April 15 and the last from May 10 to 15, under the customary terms. Tom Richmond, of Trinidad, Colo., has contracted the stock, which is to be shipped to South Dakota to be marketed.

Prices are a shade lower than last year, but "turning" the cattle so early puts the trade on about an even basis with the previous season's transactions. These transfers added to the recent sales of the Carrizozo "Bar W" steers and of the Deming steers, also to go north, and of the Cox cattle from Dona Ana county to be shipped to California, start the annual movement of stock from central and southern New Mexico very nicely and tend to contradict the bearish predictions given out in January from the usual sources.

Silver City Base Ballists.

Last Wednesday evening a number of the local base ball fans met for the purpose of organizing for the coming season. There was quite a number in attendance, and all seemed enthusiastic over base ball. The base ball boys have been endeavoring to secure some good man as manager of the club who would take charge and put a base ball team on the diamond for Silver City that would play winning ball, as well as be a great advertisement for this town. James A. Shipley was selected as manager and beyond a doubt he will make an exceptionally energetic and good one for the club, as he is a hustler and an enthusiastic base ball man. Manager Shipley will start to work getting a team in shape at once, and he should have the support of the lovers of this national sport.—Silver City Enterprise.

Chronic Bronchitis Cured.

"For ten years I had chronic bronchitis so bad that at times I could not speak above a whisper," writes Joseph Coffman, of Montmorency, Ind. "I tried all remedies available, but with no success. Fortunately my employer suggested that I try Foley's Honey and Tar. Its effect was almost miraculous, and I am now cured of the disease. On my recommendation many people have used Foley's Honey and Tar, and always with satisfaction." Alvarado Pharmacy.

The Santa Fe Central railway yesterday commenced to lay track with three rails in the yards at Santa Fe. A Prominent Newspaper Business Manager Who Used Paine's Celery Compound

Says: "There is Nothing Else Which So Well Restores Vitality to the System."

"Worn and sick in body and mind" is the unfortunate condition of a vast army of our American people, young and old, in the springtime. The strenuous life of business, professional and literary men and women—their worries, cares and anxieties, all contribute to weakness and physical ailments that manifest themselves to an alarming extent as spring advances. Tired and deathly feelings in the morning, sluggish and poisoned blood, defective digestion, constipation, kidneys and liver unable to perform their functions—all tend to make life a heavy burden. Men and women should commence this very day to exercise the God-given quality of common sense and use Paine's Celery Compound, the one and only reliable spring health builder. Mr. W. H. Peedan, business manager of the "Globe-Gazette," Mason City, Iowa, says:

W. H. PEEDAN.

"I feel impelled by a deep sense of gratitude to express how much I have been benefited by Paine's Celery Compound; it has made me a new person. There is nothing else which so well restores vitality to the system." The Hon. Edward McKenny, Jefferson City, Mo., says: "Paine's Celery Compound is the great national remedy. I can cheerfully recommend it."

HUNTER FINDS MUMMY.

Interesting Discovery Made on the San Augustine Plains.

In the ramshackle ruins of the cliff dwellers very little remains to reward the patient digger for Indian treasures and throw additional light on the prehistoric people who lived in the ruins of canyon walls.

From time to time discoveries of more or less importance are made by hunters crossing the canyons, but their finds proved of little value to either the scientist or the layman. Not more than a month ago, however, a remarkable mummy was found by a New Mexican hunter named John Tex, and this mummy promises to change materially some of the hypothesis formed by archaeologists, while a careful investigation of its characteristics and the peculiarities of its century old resting place suggest startling theories concerning the problem of this vanished race.

The mummy was discovered beneath three separate layers of cement flooring which fact vouches for the extreme antiquity of the well preserved body.

John Tex says that the mummy is tall, that its head is normal, that its skin is white and its hair thick and of a reddish brown color.

These points of difference and the peculiar place in which the mummy was found lead to strange suppositions.

John Tex has lived among the descendants of the Pueblo tribes, that nation of cliff dwelling builders, since before the eighties.

"One day in the last of January, I was riding slowly along through the sage brush which covers the plains of San Augustine, in Socorro county, N. M., my eye fell upon what looked like the opening of a cave in a wall of one of the lateral canyons of the Rio Grande del Norte," says Tex. "It seemed to be about 200 feet above the bed of the canyon and some fifty feet up in the perpendicular face of the sandstone cliff.

Upon climbing up to the cave I found that it had been inhabited, and while erosion had thrown down the outer walls of the dwelling and filled the interior with quantities of broken sandstone, I was able to push my way into the aperture.

"Finding no relics of the past occupants of this curious abode lying about, it occurred to me that I might discover something of value by digging through the heap of dust and refuse.

"Starting at a distance of about fifty feet from the cave opening, my shovel went quickly through several inches of sand fallen from the roof of the cave; then with more difficulty I dug through six or more feet of refuse, when my shovel came in contact with a hard substance, which I took to be the cave floor.

"After excavating I found this floor to be perfectly smooth, and made of the clay cement common in the communal houses in the valleys with which I am familiar.

"Knowing that it was the custom with this prehistoric race to bury their dead under their dwelling floors, I determined to try digging still deeper.

"After cracking the cement and pushing the broken fragments aside, I was surprised to come upon ashes, corncobs, pot shards, arrow points, and a profusion of animal bones. This rubbish filled a stratum about eighteen inches thick, below which I suddenly struck a second floor.

"Under this stratum of cement I found almost the same quantity of rubbish as was brought to light above, but what was my consternation at discovering that there was still a third floor in this oddly constructed abode.

"With the greatest excitement I swung my shovel and dislodged the debris which separated me from that which I felt sure of finding now.

"There was soon a good sized hole gaping in the third covering of cement, and as my implement finally penetrated the opening it plunged through into a soft substance and crashed into a huge decorated pot, which fell apart, disclosing the head of a mummy over which it had been placed.

"On examining the mummy, which was that of a man," continues Mr. Tex, "I found that it was wrapped in three karoses, or blankets, each about four by five feet in size.

"The outer one was decayed with age, the next one somewhat better preserved, and the inner one quite perfect. The warp of these karoses was of vegetable fiber string and the wool was made of twisted strips of fur skin, which had the fur left on, and had acquired, through the process of twisting, a likeness to soft wool.

"The head of the mummy showed that the man had probably died from a blow on the skull, for there was a large indentation directly over the base.

The features were partly those of an Indian, for the cheek bones were high and rather prominent, but the skull was large, with a somewhat low brow and without the slightest trace of the usual artificial flattening practiced by cliff dwellers.

"The man must have been of great height, for in his shrunken state he measured about 6 feet. He was extremely broad shouldered and the dried muscles of his whole body proved him to have been very active and powerful.

"The large chest circumference showed him to have had powerful lungs. His arms were of great length and his hands and feet were very small for so large a man.

"As far as the Zuni Indian of New Mexico and the Maya of Old Mexico, the mummy was racially distinct from either of these tribes. To what race, then, did he belong?

"On the right wrist of the mummy was a bracelet made of two polished bones, two inches long, which were sewn upon an armband of deer skin. Around the left wrist was fastened a bracelet of tiny shells, run on a fiber string."

"These relics are said by the authorities of the American Museum of Natural History to be very fine specimens.

As to the discovery of John Tex, they are most conservative, as there are so many explanations which might be advanced for the location in which the mummy was found, though they admit that it is probably a very old mummy, and simple theories account for the difference in skin and hair.

Discoveries that many consider unimportant are frequently made nowadays, and the archaeologists who have that territory in charge believe that everything found is of value and adds a link to the chain of facts relating to the prehistoric race of cliff dwellers.

[Note—The above mummy is evidently the same one that was sent to this city a few weeks ago and was placed on exhibition at the wholesale grocery establishment of Gross, Kelly & Co. A number of our people, by invitation of Manager Arnot, called to

Early Times of Albuquerque

Contributed by an Old-Timer

A bunch of self styled old timers were sitting at the round table a few evenings since discussing recent political situations and in that connection politics of an earlier day. It was asserted that Albuquerque's first election was that of Santiago Baca against Mariano Armijo for a seat in the legislature.

I had not been in the game, so did not feel like chipping in after the real game was over, and the talk game had begun, but I knew that as many errors were being made in the latter game, as some of the boys had made in the former, when they didn't seem to be able to guess rightly. Now the "buck" is up to me and if you want to show the hand, I'll deal the cards.

The first call for the first political caucus held in the new town was issued January 18, 1851; caucus to be held in "Talbot's new building" on the evening of the 22nd (Saturday) for the nomination of a justice of the peace and a constable, in the new precinct, then recently formed, and designated as No. 12, to be voted for on Tuesday, February 1, 1851.

Of the signers to that call but five still reside here: A. Harach, T. F. Phelan, Alex. Edie, Geo. H. Frost and R. W. Hopkins. Among the other signers who will be remembered by the old timers were Mat Bradley, Ed. Powell, Dan Sullivan, Bob Gillies, C. R. Williams, Barney Lantry, H. L. Moore, Guy Bennett and L. B. Putney.

The Talbot new building was a two story adobe then being erected on the present site of the Barnett building at Railroad avenue and Second street. The meeting was not held there because Cora Wilson—who may remember the notorious Cora—had taken possession to give a dance. An adjournment was taken to the following Saturday night, at the Lilwall shack, the site now occupied by Arthur Everitt, where the first convention was held and D. J. Sullivan was named for justice by the voice of about 100 citizens.

My recollection is that J. S. Brownell presided, and when he put the question, "Well, who do you fellows want for constable?"

"Gunnysack Riley" settled the matter with the suggestion, "Be-gob, let's give the long fellow another chance."

"All right," said the chairman, "let's go up to the Boss saloon and take a drink with Sullivan."

So were the ticket and the adjournment made. The long fellow was Milt Yarberry, who stood six feet four inches, and it had not been the intention of the convention to nominate him. Yarberry had for several months been by common consent and by common contribution the marshal of new town. This ticket was jocularly called the ticket of the "good people."

An opposition ticket was put up by a "star chamber" caucus, as has been done many times since, with Edgar Shaw, an old town tailor, for justice, and H. J. Robb for constable.

The election was exciting, though orderly and peaceable, and was fought to a finish. The boys were full of enthusiasm and many of them of nose paint as well. The result was:

Sullivan 58
Shaw 21
Yarberry 55
Robb 19

To vary the monotony of the quiet of that election and probably to avoid the necessity of over zealous suffragists furnishing any "stiffs" for the orator there were three men for breakfast that morning.

In front of the adobe jail in old town and from its porch rafters swung the remains of three of the Tijeras canyon gang—the Marino Leiba gang—who a short time previously had murdered Vol. Potter. They had been lifted the preceding night by a band of erstwhile law abiding citizens who designated themselves by cards pinned upon the bodies as "The 601."

As officers for a frontier town—a lide open day and night town—in which neither the day nor the night was of sufficient duration for the heterogeneous congregation of good people and bad people to see life, and pay for its seeing, no better selection could have been made.

We had the wordless and inoffensive (?) man like Charles Ronan and Harry Brown, as well as the bad man on the head of Bitter creek, where a stream flowed no larger than a lead pencil, and his adversary from across that creek. They were lives whose time had come to howl and who would come into the town to howl and allow their steel muzzled mouths to bark regardless of into whose flesh the leaden fangs would be ed; such curs as Charlie McCall, Ed. Wheeler, Aaron Richardson, and as was demonstrated afterwards, for own constable, the long fellow, Sullivan was one of those quiet, close mouthed, teeth grinding men who had seen life, who had graduated from the college of experience. His junior

Alex were spent in Ireland; as a sophomore he served General Custer in the 7th Cavalry regiment as a scout and scout leader; as a senior he had charge of the Rio Grande railroad bridge in the great fight with the San Juan Pueblo Indians and took a boom days, when desperate men from all sections visited us, and whether from Missouri or elsewhere "had to be shown" that new town could do its own killing, or as Sullivan often put it, "The officers here can furnish all the fresh meat that the people ought to have, to put on their empty stomachs, after getting out of bed in the morning. 'Tis true, some men have been killed here when they didn't need killing; and it is true that some more will be killed unless you put away those guns and get so full of booze that you'll forget where you put them until you are sober and on the way home."

EL PORVENIR IN ASHES.

Beautiful Resort at Foot of Hermit's Peak Entirely Consumed.

El Porvenir, the beautiful health and pleasure resort, nestled among the pines at the foot of Hermit's Peak, sixteen miles northwest of Las Vegas, was entirely consumed by fire Saturday morning.

The fire originated from a spark from a fire, and was discovered about 7 o'clock, breaking through the roof at such a terrific rate that it was beyond control from the start.

On account of the crude facilities for fighting the flames, it was seen from the beginning that the entire structure must be consumed, and an effort was made to rescue the contents, but on account of the great mass of inflammable material in the structure, the intense heat soon drove the rescuers from the building, and very few of the contents, with the exception of the piano, were saved.

The hotel was owned by Don Margarito Romero, of this city, who had just left the hotel for town when the news overtook him.

The flames soon spread to the outbuildings and within an almost incredible time, the popular resort was reduced to ashes, all the outbuildings and a considerable area of the forest adjoining was scorched and burned, and at a late hour last night a force of men were still fighting the flames.

Mr. Romero estimates his loss at from $15,000 to $20,000, with about $3,600 insurance.

This magnificent resort was situated about nine miles above the Montezuma in a beautiful canyon, traversed by a winding mountain stream and offered all the comforts of the modern city hotel, and contained about fifty rooms.

It was to have opened its doors to summer tourists the first of May, and had just been put in order for the reception of its guests.

The destruction of El Porvenir will not only prove a loss to Mr. Romero, but to his hundreds of friends and patrons who were wont to spend their summer recreation at this popular resort.—Las Vegas Advertiser.

A Las Vegas Marriage.

Last evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Allen, the Rev. A. C. Geyer performed the simple, solemn ceremony which united the lives and fortunes of Miss Elizabeth Allen and Mr. John A. Stritt. A few of the most intimate friends of the contracting parties were present. The bride, becomingly arrayed in pure white, was unattended. After the congratulations had been offered, a collation was served.

Since childhood the bride has made her home in the city. The esteem in which she is held was evidenced by a large number of elegant and useful presents.

Mr. Stritt, who is connected with The Optic in a business capacity, has been a resident of Las Vegas for several years. His pleasing personality and strict integrity have won him many warm friends, who now unite in wishing himself and his bride the full measure of earthly happiness.—Las Vegas Optic.

GREENLEAF BLOCK.

It Will Be Built on Silver Avenue, Between First and Second Streets.

The cobblerstone residence of R. H. Greenleaf, on Silver Avenue, between First and Second streets, is being torn down, and soon, it is stated, there will be erected a handsome $15,000 two story brick business building. Mr. Greenleaf has the plans and specifications, and says the new structure will be one hundred feet square. There will be four store rooms on the ground floor, and the up stairs will be cut up into office rooms and for lodging purposes. He expects to have everything moving along smoothly as soon as the ruins of the cobblerstone residence are removed, and hopes to see the building completed and ready for occupancy sometime the coming fall. At present Mr. and Mrs. Greenleaf are domiciled in their residence corner of Fourth street and Granite avenue.

Unhappy Missouri Couple.

Martha W. Gillum has entered a suit for divorce in Colfax county from her husband, Smith W. Gillum. She states in her petition that they were married October 4, 1876, at Ottumwa, Mo., and lived together until March, 1899, and that during all the time that they lived together she always conducted herself as a faithful and loving wife, and their separation was through no fault of hers. She alleges that for many years he has neglected to support her according to his means, station in life and ability, and since March, 1899, has contributed nothing towards her support, and that in order to support herself and keep their youngest daughter in school, she has been compelled to go out and nurse the sick and work for others. Three daughters were born to them, one of whom is dead, while the other two are of legal age, so she asks the court to grant her a full divorce and to allow her judgment for costs of this suit as well as such other relief as the court feels meet and just.

Died from Exhaustion.

A special dispatch from Tres Piedras says: The frozen body of Dr. A. W. Lynch, reported as lost in the storm a few days ago, was found at the head of Deer Train and within two miles of his home in Hopewell. He had apparently been exhausted from traveling in the snow, and had been dead at least a week.

TROOPER GREEN'S MURDERER.

A Negro in Washington Penitentiary Telle of Crime He Committed at San Marcial in 1888.

A negro now serving a term in the state penitentiary at Wala Wala, Wash., thought he was dying the other day and made a deathbed confession of all his sins, and as a number of his crimes were committed in El Paso, New Mexico and Arizona, the criminal is known to the old officers in this section. "Nigger" Baker, alias Charles Green, alias Frank Loftus, alias Lester Randall, alias Billy Robinson, is the man who made the confession.

Baker tells how he perpetrated an atrocious murder at San Marcial, N. M., in March, 1888, when he gave a discharged soldier knockout drops, took his jewelry and transportation and over a .90 from him and threw his body in the Rio Grande river. With the cunning of a bloodhound he had trailed this man from Fort Apache, Ariz., to San Marcial. The soldier was trooper Charles A. Greene, of the Tenth cavalry, discharged March 20, 1888. The murderer of Greene was never known. Baker's confession covers thirty-seven closely written pages. A more condensed, connected story of crime is rarely written. The convict arose from what he thought his deathbed to write it and handed it over, signed, to the warden of the penitentiary. Then unexpectedly he recovered and was sent to his prison cell again. The confession remains on record.

"Three Sheets in the Wind."

"What was the origin of the phrase for drunkenness 'three sheets in the wind'?" a landsman asked a sailor the other day. "Well," said the sailor, "I'll explain that matter to you. The two lower corners of a ship's sail are held taut by two ropes, one called a tack and the other called a sheet. The tack is always kept very tight, but the sheet is loosened according to the wind, and the looser the sheet is the more freely the sail swings. If the sail is quite free its sheet is said to be 'in the wind.' Now, suppose that all three of a ship's sails were quite free. They would then fly about very crazily, and the ship would wobble. The course of the ship would be a zigzag one, and the reason for this would be that she had 'three sheets in the wind.' That, I guess, is why a man, when he zigzags in his course, is said to be 'three sheets in the wind' also."—Philadelphia Record.

STILL ALIVE.

Julius Olson Said to Be in Business in Los Angeles.

Leroy Murat received a letter Monday from Elmer Jackson at Seattle, stating that in the course of a visit to a health resort at Elnorino, Cal., a few weeks ago, he accidentally fell in with Julius Olson at the hotel and had quite a visit with him. Olson said he was in the fruit business at Los Angeles and gave his address. He was slightly indisposed at that time on account of a cold, but in general was looking well and there was no mistaking his being the long lost Julius.

Julius graduated from the Stevens' point high school in 1892 and thereafter was located at West Superior for several years, where he was engaged in newspaper work. He was forced to leave that city on account of his health and went to Albuquerque, N. M., where he spent several months as a reporter on The Daily Citizen, and finally disappeared as completely as if the grave had swallowed him up. It was reported at the time that he left the city one morning on a broncho on a hunting or prospecting expedition and that neither he nor the horse had ever been seen again. Mr. Murat was a bosom friend and for some time kept up a correspondence with parties in Albuquerque in an endeavor to keep posted if anything in regard to Olson should be learned, but never received any information. No hint was ever dropped that there was anything wrong that should lead Olson to want to disappear and he was finally given up for dead. He had some little property here and that was turned over to his relatives. It seems strange, if Olson has been in business in Los Angeles long that none of the members of Stevens' Point's numerous colony in that city has ever seen or written about him.

However, whatever may have been the cause of his disappearance or neglect to write, his many friends here would be as pleased to see him again as they are to know that he still lives.—Stevens' Point (Wis.) Daily Journal.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

Maj. W. H. H. Llewellyn, chairman of the territorial committee of the reception to President Roosevelt, has mailed the following notice to county delegates:

"Having been designated chairman of the above committee by Governor Otero, with power to appoint members to receive the president, I take pleasure in naming you as a member thereof, to receive the president of the United States at the capital, the city of Santa Fe, on Tuesday, May 5, A. D. 1903.

"You are respectfully requested to be present, to assist in the exercises in honor of the president, and to give your aid in making the occasion memorable in the annals of our territory. "You will also please invite as many citizens of your county as possible to attend on that day and participate in the ceremonies."

Members of the Party.

Manager Gargan, of the Western Union Telegraph company's local office, and Manager Creggan, of the Postal Telegraph office, have both been furnished with typewritten copies of the itinerary of the trip, names of members of the party, and some private instructions from headquarters.

The presidential train will reach Santa Fe on Tuesday, May 5, at 9 a. m. and leave there at noon of the same day. Reach Albuquerque at 2:50 p. m. and leave here for the west at 5:20 p. m. of the same day.

The members of the party are as follows:

President Roosevelt and his secretary, Loeb, Assistant Secretary Barnes, Surgeon General P. M. Rixey, of the United States navy; Nelson P. Webster, M. C. Latta and J. L. McGrew, stenographers; John F. McCoy, tourist agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad company; H. A. Colman, of Associated Press; R. H. Hazard, of Scripps-McRae Press association and Publishers' association; Lindsay Denison, of New York Sun Press association; R. L. Dunn, of Collier's Weekly; George B. Luckey, of Leslie's Weekly; N. Lazarick, of Harper's Weekly; H. A. Strohmeier, photographer; P. W. Williams, of Western Union Telegraph company; J. P. Gooch, of Postal Telegraph-Cable company.

This City to Decorate.

Plans for the elaborate decorations of the city during the visit of President Roosevelt were discussed by the committee on decoration at the office of P. F. McCanna, secretary, yesterday afternoon. The plans for decorative designs as decided upon by this committee are said to be exceedingly novel and these plans await the favorable action of the general committee. When the fact is brought to view that the president of the United States does not visit Albuquerque very often, the citizens will see the reason for these elaborate and welcoming decorations. The possibility of securing several hundred badges to be worn by the members of the various committees and those citizens who desire to wear them, was discussed but no definite action was taken. The plans for the four triumphal arches, which were designed by B. Frank Fillmore, have been approved by the general committee, and submitted to an architect for figures. By this action everything will be in readiness for the carpenters to go to work at any time.

The stand from which the president will speak will be erected at the entrance of the Alvarado, and it will be decorated in a most conspicuous manner by Navajo Indian blankets, which will also adorn the arches of the Alvarado from the station to the speaker's stand.

New Warehouse.

The new warehouse being built by Contractor W. W. Strong for Gross, Kelly & Co., to replace the one recently destroyed by fire is going on rapidly. The frame is in position and the sliding is being put on. It will be ready for occupancy about the middle of next week, and well it may, for Gross, Kelly & Co. now have seven cars of goods exposed to the weather. The old freight house, now their store house, is filled to its fullest capacity.

BASE BALL.

The Blues Defeated the Tigers in a Close Game.

Despite the high wind which prevailed yesterday afternoon a fair crowd witnessed the Santa Fe Pacific Blues defeat the Old Town Tigers in a game of base ball by the close score of 11 to 10. It was a fair exhibition of base ball with the exception of two innings.

Chaves was in the box for the Tigers and tossed pretty good ball, but in the fifth inning when the Sheppies piled up eight runs.

Boyes and Moore did the pitching for the Blues. The Tigers hit Boyes for nine runs in the four innings, but Moore proved invincible. This was Moore's second appearance on the diamond in Albuquerque, and his performance yesterday was very commendable. He has a hard swift ball and uses excellent judgment in placing it.

The line up: Blues—Bargett, Hellwig, Barrett, Moore, Donahue, Nelson, Boyce, Patterson and Wilson. Tigers—Colter, Vigil, Chaves, Galligoe, Rambo, F. Deblaise, Brown, T. Deblaise and Miraval.

The high wind made it almost impossible for the players to judge a fly ball and this is partly responsible for the big score.

Will Play Mesilla Park.

Manager John Jacoby, of the Colts, has arranged a series of two games of ball to be played between the Colts and the team from Mesilla park next Saturday and Sunday at Athletic park. The Mesilla team has a wonderful one-armed pitcher named Pelphrey, from Alamogordo, who is said to be a crackerjack.—El Paso News.

GALLUP ELECTION.

The Democrats Carried the Prosperous Carbon Town.

The election passed off very quiet, says the Gallup Republican. During the forenoon it seemed that the republicans had a fighting show, but along towards evening—well, you know the result. The democratic ticket was elected from top to bottom by an average majority of about 18. The Republican did not take any active part in the local election, not deeming it advisable to mix in local affairs. However, there are a number of improvements to be made which will greatly benefit Gallup, and we propose to bring these things to the attention of the board from time to time as they occur to us, and we believe from what we know of the men elected that they will be inclined to do things for the general good of the town whenever possible. We believe it the duty of every good citizen to work in conjunction with the town board for the best interest of Gallup, and try to keep our reputation up to where it belongs—of being the best town in the southwest. The election resulted as follows:

A Sweet Breath
is a never failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. Mrs. Mary S. Crick, of White Plains, Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years—tried all kinds of remedies but continued to grow worse. By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once, and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. B. H. Briggs & Co.; S. Vann & Son.

JAMES HOT SPRINGS.

A Few Items From This Popular San-doval County Resort.

Special Correspondence.
James Hot Springs, April 11.—Every-body is hustling and getting ready for summer business. Visitors are commencing to arrive.

George R. Brewer and wife were here about a week, being water bound, as the James river was on its annual rampage. Mr. Brewer adjusted the losses sustained by the citizens during the recent fire in which a good deal of damage was done to Hugh Murray's building, and stock of merchandise owned by Salmon, Unes & Aboulesman.

J. Lederer, a capitalist from Chicago, is domiciled at Block's hotel and says he is getting fat and hearty. James T. Hurst, of Detroit, Mich., spent the last week here, enjoying the mineral waters.

We now have a daily mail, excepting Sundays. J. B. Block has the contract and runs a daily stage both ways between here and Albuquerque.

M. S. Otero expects to start up his sulphur mill next week. Then look out for the boom.

MISS NELSON.

She is Engaged to Marry Lieutenant Apple.

A few days ago The Citizen announced, in a brief local paragraph, the departure of Mrs. Nelson and daughter, Miss Euphemia, for Denver. The Denver News says: "Mrs. C. M. Albert Nelson, of Albuquerque, N. M., announces the engagement of her daughter, Euphemia Mills, to Lieutenant George M. Apple, United States army, now stationed at Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo."

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at all druggists.

ENCOURAGING NEWS.

Work on the Albuquerque Eastern Will Be Pushed.

Maj. Ernest Meyers, senior member of the firm of the Meyers-Abel company, wholesale liquor dealers, has returned from a trip along the line of the Santa Fe Central.

Mr. Meyers says that the entire grade of that road from Santa Fe to Torrance is finished and the work of laying track is now going on. He also states that ties are now being unloaded at Moriarity for the Albuquerque Eastern, the grading of which began some time past.

AT THE CHURCHES.

The weather man did not act kindly toward Easter day, in that large columns of sand rolled through the city, making it most disagreeable to the pedestrians, especially the wearers of new creations.

But a disagreeable and unpleasant walk did not seem in any way to interfere with the desire of the people to attend the Easter services at the city churches.

The interior of the churches were rendered most inviting by the artistic decoration of fragrant flowers, and special music enhancing in its sweetness was rendered in honor of Easter day.

Every church in the city was filled with an appreciative congregation, who greatly enjoyed the words of wisdom spoken by the pastors, amid surroundings made pleasant by music and flowers.

St. John's Episcopal.

Anniversary of the resurrection of Christ was observed yesterday by the congregation of the St. John's Episcopal church, corner of Silver avenue and Fourth street, with profound sanctity and reverence. The front of the church was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns, potted flowers and Easter lilies.

Notwithstanding the exquisiteness of the decorations the service was still more beautiful.

The choir, consisting of thirty-one voices, marched from the vestibule of the church down the aisle to the rostrum. Clad in snow white garments they proceeded to the choir boxes and sang in soul stirring strains, "Christ, Our Passover."

The program continued with a well rendered solo by Miss Ada Porter, Easter hymn, "Jesus Christ is Risen Today," by congregation; sermon, "The Resurrection an Infallible Proof of Christ's Deity," by the pastor, Rev. R. Renison; anthem, "As It Began to Dawn," by Coombs; communion, and recessional hymn.

The choir was led by Miss Braithwaite.

Lead Avenue Methodist.

Rev. F. V. Fisher, pastor of the church, took for his text, "Come, See the Place Where the Lord Lay." The discourse, most instructive and interesting, was delivered to a congregation that filled the church. A well prepared musical program was carried out.

Church of Immaculate Conception.

Easter music of a most charming nature was rendered at the church of Immaculate Conception yesterday morning. The participants in the chorus and solo were accomplished local artists, as: Mrs. T. J. Shinick, soprano; Miss Anita Armijo, alto; Duncan Bell, tenor; H. H. Bullard, basso; Miss Nellie Taylor, pianist; Prof. Di Mauro, violinist.

Baptist Church.

"Resurrection Seal and Sign" was the subject of the strong and impressive sermon delivered by Rev. Herman J. Powell to a large congregation. His talk on the meaning of the resurrection morn was deeply interesting. The musical program was well rendered, and especially fitting to the Easter-tide.

Presbyterian Church.

Easter morning's service was observed by beautiful vocal and instrumental music, which was sweet and inspiring. Rev. T. C. Beattie delivered a sermon of excellent thoughts, taking as his subject, "He is Risen."

Congregational Church.

The musical program was given an announced and it was very pleasing. The musical talent included Misses Fitch and Johnson, soprano; Meadames Washburn and Miller, alto; John Douglas Walker, tenor; H. Jay Stone, basso; A. C. Alexson, violin; J. A. Blondin, cello; E. L. Washburn, cornet; Mrs. Birtwell, piano. The sermon delivered by Rev. Wilson J. Marsh was eloquent and very interesting.

Highland Methodist Church.

The church was tastefully decorated with palms and flowers, and the Easter music was of an uplifting and sweet nature. A large congregation attended the services, which most fittingly observed the Easter morn.

DEATH FROM TUBERCULOSIS.

Deceased Was Brother of General Manager of Globe-Democrat.

J. H. Hollingshead, a prominent young gentleman of St. Louis, brother of F. M. Hollingshead, general manager of the Globe-Democrat, died at his room here about 4 o'clock this morning of tuberculosis.

Deceased was about 33 years of age, and was a bright and well educated gentleman. He only came to this city about a week ago, and very little is known about him.

A telegram was immediately dispatched to his brother in St. Louis, who replied that he would leave St. Louis this evening.

The remains will undoubtedly be sent east for burial.

An Indian Ticket Office.

Architect Charles F. Whittlesey, the man who planned the Alvarado, at Albuquerque, N. M.—the handsomest railway hotel in the southwest—has submitted plans which have been adopted for remodeling the Santa Fe ticket office at Los Angeles. The fixtures and decorations will be characteristic of the country through which the Santa Fe passes. They will embody unique Indian colors and forms. All the wood will be weathered oak.

Red and yellow will predominate on the walls. There will be decorations of Indian baskets, pottery and bead work.

The Santa Fe has used exhibits of Indian goods at many of its offices, but this is the first attempt to consistently observe the "Amerind" idea throughout all of the interior finish.

JUSTICE M'MILLAN.

He is Here From Socorro But Has Nothing to Say.

Associate Justice Daniel H. McMillan, of the Fifth judicial district of New Mexico, arrived this morning from his chambers at Socorro and is spending the day at the Alvarado. The judge was seen by a Citizen reporter today and he stated that he had nothing to give the public in regard to the charges preferred against him, for which he was called to Washington, other than has been given. He also stated that he would be in the city for several days, but as to the nature of his business he had nothing to say.

SEVERE ATTACK OF GRIP.

Cured by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"When I had an attack of the grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry, editor of the Enterprise, of Shortsville, N. Y. "Tis is the honest truth. I at times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a teaspoonful of this remedy, and when the coughing spell would come on at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted as a most agreeable surprise is putting it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I had never tried it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed with the second attack of coughing the remedy caused it to not only be of less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not to endure the contents of one bottle before Mr. Grip had bid me adieu." For sale by all druggists.

STREET RAILWAY FRANCHISE.

Car Line to Be Operated from the Depot to the Baptist Church.

The Alamogordo Street Railway and Land company is one of the enterprises that is moving along to attain results.

This week the county commissioners granted a franchise to the company for operation along the streets of Alamogordo and the suburbs, for a period of fifty years. It is required that the railway shall be maintained in good condition, not to injure the highway, the board to be judges of the matter of maintenance.

The company must within two years construct a line from the depot to the Baptist college.

Grades and crossings must be approved by the board before use. If the streets should ever be paved the company must pave its track space and keep in repair.

The fares must be such as are usual on similar lines.

The company has filed articles of incorporation at Santa Fe, the capital stock being $50,000. The incorporators are Messrs. Pelphrey, Avis, Pierce, Sherrod, Hodge, Jackson and Claypool.

The projectors expect to begin operations with cars using a gasoline motor, and install an electric system later. Prof. Claypool, who has made a success of the Baptist college, is confident that the establishment of a tramway to the college will enable him to secure much greater financial support from the church organization.

COLLEGE GIRLS.

From Smith Institution and They Will Visit Grand Canyon.

R. S. Stovey, an instructor in the various branches of archaeology at Smith college, Northampton, Mass., was here last night on his way to Williams, Arizona, where he will make preparations for the coming of a class of young ladies from the college to pursue scientific studies in the field, and arrange for trips to the Grand Canyon. Arrangements will also be made for a number of excursions of the fair students into the mountains of New Mexico and Arizona to the pre-historic haunts of the cliff dwellers.

Mr. Stovey said that actual field work by classes of college students is comparatively new in the west, but this kind of work has for years been carried on in the east. There is a club of girls at Smith college called the Anasazi club. It is composed of students who followed scientific studies and who, each summer, carry on actual field work in the eastern mountains. This is the club which will this year make the Rocky mountains its field of research. Mr. Stovey is the field worker of the college and has charge of these excursions.

The Pre-ursor of a More Important Excursion.

If satisfactory arrangements are made during the present trip it is possible that the club members, with their friends, may make their appearance in this city on their way to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado river within the next month. A month will be spent in and about the canyon studying the curious works which have been left to the present age by the cliff dwellers.

By far the most interesting of the plans which Mr. Stovey divulged is the fact that next year he will organize an expedition to traverse the whole length of the great canyon. No college girls will be members of the party, but it will consist of a number of scientists of eastern universities and guides chosen from those who are best versed in the mysteries of the great canyon.

"Only two parties have ever succeeded in making this hazardous trip," said Mr. Stovey. "The result of both expeditions is that much important knowledge has been added to the general fund of information regarding the formation of the earth's surface in the mountainous regions of the west. There are three strata of stone which compose the earth's outer crust. In this mysterious canyon it can be seen that there have been three distinct periods of volcanic activity which have caused the various formations. The expedition which I hope to form and take through the entire length of the canyon will go for a definite purpose. We will not go as adventurers, but to study the exact causes and results of these formations. The trip through the canyon will take at least two months under ordinary circumstances, but I shall expect to spend almost as much time in research.

Plans for the Work and Its Prospective Results.

"At Smith college a course of lectures will be prepared on the work with the students there this summer, and also upon the results of the expedition through the canyon if that is carried out. Of this I am not yet positive, as I shall have to report back to the directors of Smith college, who will bear the expense of the expedition. Professors from other institutions will be invited to make the journey. I believe that an expedition by men who make a study of such things will be of enormous benefit."

Mr. Stovey is now on his way to Williams, Arizona, which is the nearest railroad point to the canyon. He will make the trip down the Bright Angel trail and will locate the headquarters for the class of fair damsels who are to study nature from the greatest works of nature herself.

Soliciting Not Permitted.

There is a woman in this city who is homelier than the rock of ages who is industriously soliciting funds for the International Sunshine society. The following shows that she is an impostor:

Santa Fe, N. M., April 16, 1903.

Editor Albuquerque Citizen—Dear Sir: The International Sunshine society permits no one to solicit funds. It is against the rules of the society. We have nobody collecting money for any purpose whatever.

This is the message received from headquarters in reply to a letter of mine, and you will oblige me by giving it wide circulation throughout the territory. Very respectfully yours,

MARY E. DISSETTE.

Territorial President International Sunshine Society.

SOCORRO SHORTAGE.

Bondsmen of Abran Abeytia Offer to Make a Settlement.

The New Mexican says that from official sources it is learned that Abran Abeytia, former collector of taxes and treasurer of Socorro county, is short in his accounts and indebted to the territorial treasury in the neighborhood of $3,500, and to the county in the sum of $25,000. Traveling Auditor Charles V. Safford has just made an examination of the collector's and treasurer's books of the county of Socorro and from the records available he is of the opinion that the sums

CANCEROUS ULCERS

ROOTED IN THE BLOOD.

After the age of 45 or 50, when the vital powers are naturally weaker, it is noticed that a hurt of any kind heals slowly and often a very insignificant scratch or bruise becomes a bad ulcer or sore. At this time of life warty growths, moles and pimples that have been on the body almost from birth begin to inflame and fester, and before very long are large eating ulcers.

Whenever a sore or ulcer is slow in healing then you may be sure something is radically wrong with your blood. Some old taint or poison that has been slumbering there for years, is beginning to assert itself, and breaks out and becomes a bad ulcer and perhaps the beginning of Cancer. These old sores are rooted in the blood, and while washes, soaps, salves, etc., keep the surface clean, they are not healing. A blood medicine to purify and strengthen the polluted blood and a tonic to build up the general system is what is needed, and S. S. S. is just such a remedy. No poison is so powerful and no germ so deadly that this great vegetable blood remedy cannot reach it, and ulcers of every kind quickly yield to its wonderful curative properties. If you have an old sore or ulcer, write us all about it, and medical advice or any information you may desire will be given by our physicians without charge. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

above stated are correct. Some office records are missing and it is therefore impossible to give the amounts exactly. It seems that the stubs of the tax receipts issued have disappeared and that other papers and books which might shed light upon the peculiar financial transactions of the ex-collector and treasurer are also not to be found. It is understood that the bondsmen of Abeytia are willing to make a settlement with the territory for the sum of about $3,500 and with the county for the sum of $15,000. In view of the fact that for years past it has been very difficult to collect public monies on bonds and from bondsmen of defaulting officials and taking also into consideration the fact that important papers which could be used to fix the defaulters of the ex-collector and treasurer, cannot be found, it would seem to be the course of prudence and wisdom that the settlement as offered by the bondsmen be made by territory and county authorities.

It is understood that Mr. Safford has recommended that the territory make the compromise referred to above and that Solicitor General Bartlett has the matter under consideration.

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

Adjutant General Whiteman Organized a Strong Company in Las Cruces.

W. H. Whiteman, adjutant general of the territory, and Colonel Myhre, of Silver City, arrived here last Tuesday and reorganized the militia company. About thirty young men have enrolled, and about twenty more will probably be added to the roll during the next week.

The young men of Las Cruces responded enthusiastically to the suggestions of the adjutant general and the Mesilla valley will have one of the largest and best companies in the territory.

John H. May, our hustling and popular grocer, will probably be captain of the company, and William F. Jacoby first lieutenant.

It is on the program that the Las Cruces and other militia companies will be on hand at Santa Fe and Albuquerque, to take part in the demonstration in honor of the visit of President Roosevelt, and they may go to the world's fair in 1904. Albuquerque has a fine enrollment.

Sixty-five men are enrolled at Silver City and the number is still increasing. The company up at Las Vegas is being rapidly recruited, and will go considerably above the necessary number. Roswell, the wide awake and growing little city on the Pecos, is making a fine showing, and altogether the prospects for a strong territorial militia organization are extremely encouraging.

Las Cruces has the material for as fine a company as can be enrolled anywhere in the territory, and now, taking new life, it should be one of the best in New Mexico. The company will at once be supplied with uniforms and Krag-Jorgensen rifles.—Rio Grande Republican.

CRIMINALS SENTENCED.

Judge Mills Sends a Number of Criminals to the Penitentiary.

The criminals convicted at the last term of the district court held in Las Cruces received sentences as follows, says the Raton Range:

Willie Sullivan, burglary, sentence suspended on condition that he leave the territory.

Willie Sweeney, 16 years old, burglary, three years in the penitentiary. Raymond Steward, 13 years old, burglary, three years in the penitentiary.

George Carter, 13 years old, burglary, three years in the penitentiary. Fred Eshour, 13 years old, burglary, eighteen months in the penitentiary.

George Hollar, larceny of a purse, one year in the penitentiary.

Charles Wilson, a colored boy, forgery, eighteen months in the penitentiary.

Vicente Archuleta, forgery, one year in the penitentiary.

Francisco Maes, larceny of a horse, one year in the penitentiary.

Wm. K. Pizler, assault with intent to kill, three and a half years in the penitentiary.

CLERKS' UNION.

Membership Increased to Nearly One Hundred.

The Retail Clerks' union held a regular meeting last night at which twenty-seven names were added to the membership, now making the total enrollment of the clerks' organization nearly 100 members.

The charter of the clerks' union will be kept open for two weeks longer as there are quite a number of clerks to enroll, who have not had an opportunity to do so.

B. Frank Fillmore was elected as treasurer to fill the position made vacant by the resignation of Hugh C. Trotter, who was granted an honorary withdrawal card, on account of becoming an employer, the by laws providing that no proprietor can hold active membership.

Five delegates to the Central Labor Union were elected, who will present their credentials at the next meeting, one week from Monday night.

Nearly every one of the larger establishments in the city are represented in the union, and all the smaller ones where clerks are employed. All will be in line in a very short time, as the forming of unions seems to have become epidemic in our city. It is a sure sign of progress and a guarantee of the intelligence of the working people of the city.

Laundry Workers' Union.

Arrangements are well under way for formation of a Laundry Workers' union in this city, some of the employees of the Imperial laundry already having membership in the Federal Labor union of this city.

"BROWN'S IN TOWN."

He was Here for the El Paso Times and Collected in Advance.

W. O. Brown, who worked up the Albuquerque side of the recent special edition of the El Paso Times, has proved himself to be a fakir of the worst kind; or rather a fakir smart enough to squeeze money out of advertisers in advance for write-ups, and as a later consequence he has skipped out. Brown had no authority to collect in advance, but he did, and the gentleman from the Times, now in the city, finds it a hard proposition to collect any money at all, for "Brown's in Town" has been here in advance. Brown was a nice fellow in El Paso, he was the honest bookkeeper at the Times office, and on account of his good record at home, Brown was sent out of town to do business elsewhere. Juan Hart now realizes that Brown, the honest "Brown's in Town" at home was not the proper person to send away, and that the Times will be the loser. His present whereabouts is unknown.

DI MAURO CONCERT.

A Fine Musical Entertainment—Dance Followed.

The grand concert given by Prof. Di Mauro and his pupils and accompanists was attended by a large audience who received the well prepared program in a manner that displayed their appreciation. There were twelve numbers on the program, and each was most invariably accompanied with an encore.

The Italian band, which is recognized as the foremost musical organization of the city, opened the concert by playing "King Dodo," followed by the grand orchestra.

The pleasing clear contralto voice of Miss Nellie Taylor's was well received by the audience.

Prof. Di Mauro, whose musical talents, especially have won favorable recognition, by all those who have heard the tones he produces from the stringed instrument, was heartily applauded for his rendition of Ovide Musin's "Theme and Variations."

Miss Grace Houghton's sweet contralto, which delighted the audience, was heard and greatly appreciated in her singing of Nevins' "Doris."

Mr. A. Moya handled the cornet in a manner that spoke well of his training on the difficult instrument.

The deep basso voice of Edward F. Thomas, a vocalist of local fame, made the usual favorable impression in an old Spanish song.

Mrs. John Cuneo sang "Cavatina" from "Lucia de Lamermoor" after the overture by the Italian band and orchestra. Mrs. Cuneo's singing struck a responsive chord with her audience and she was compelled to respond with an encore. This was her first appearance in public and she is to be complimented on her singing.

Another number, which was well received, was the rendition of "Romance" from "Mariana," by Mrs. F. Wendell. She has a sweet soprano voice and won many compliments by her singing last night.

Mrs. Hanthorn, Miss Everett, Miss Read and Miss Damiana were the accompanists. Miss Damiana's playing was praised by many of the audience, who predict a brilliant future for the young lady.

Following the concert the young people spent a couple of hours in delightful dancing.

The concert was a success both from a musical standpoint and financially.

Red Men Organize at Santa Fe.

Saturday night, Francis M. Clute, of El Reno, Okla., deputy great inchoinee for the Territory of New Mexico of the Improved Order of Red Men, instituted Santa Fe Tribe, No. 2, and installed the recently elected officers, says the New Mexican. The new lodge starts off with the largest membership of any lodge of the order in the territory. The new tribe is well pleased with the work. The officers of the order are: John R. McPhe, prophet; Charles L. Bishop, sachem; H. B. Phillips, senior sagamore; Charles N. Lord, junior sagamore; A. P. Hogle, chief of records; J. H. Vaughn, keeper of war-pump; Frank Sturgess, first sannah; H. S. Kaune, second sannah; William J. McPherson, guard of wigwag; David L. Miller, guard of forest; H. S. Lutz, first warrior; Frederick Muller, second warrior; Thomas A. Herlow, third warrior; Robert C. Garrett, fourth warrior; W. R. Price, first brave; G. H. Vaughn, second brave; J. Y. Turley, third brave; John Den-dahl, fourth brave.

Died of Heart Disease.

A special dispatch from East Las Vegas dated April 13, says: Fred Hertzog was found dead this evening in the basement of Gehring's hardware store. About 6 o'clock he went in the basement in his usual robust health and when he did not come up, search was made for him and he was found dead on the floor. An attack of heart disease was the cause.

INDIAN CONGRESS.

The Southwest to Figure Prominently in Exhibit at Coney Island.

The metropolis of the southwest, already noted as one of the curio centers of the world, will add laurels to her fame in the representation of Indian curio producers at the Indian congress to take place at Coney Island this coming summer.

Beginning May 1 and continuing through the long summer months until October 1, 150 industrial Indians, coming from their homes in the north, the northwest and the great southwest, representing every tribe who produce the Indian goods so manifestly in demand by museums and curio collectors throughout the country, will hold an Indian congress at the celebrated summer resort, Coney Island.

An Indian village, covering several acres, such as human eyes have never witnessed before, will be built. The village will be divided, certain tribes being reserved for the various tribes present. The Indians will be supplied with a home, in the Indian village—an exact reproduction of their native homes; the surroundings and environments being made to conform with those of the aborigine as nearly as possible. The Indian congress is in the hands of the largest curio dealers in the country, and neither time nor money will be spared in making it one of the most attractive and instructive exhibitions, that has ever been prominent toward making Coney the famous place it is. The southwest will be represented in part by five Navajo Indians from Thorau, who are skilled and expert weavers of blankets, silver-smiths and hair workers. An effort will be made to secure the best work possible and they will immediately be sent to Coney Island. It is thought that the five attractive and picturesque Navajos, who spent the winter producing the beautiful Navajo blankets in large department stores in Pittsburgh and New York, will be secured for this representation. They proved a great drawing card, not alone by their good healthy appearance, but by their skill in producing Indian goods.

It will be remembered that John Lee Clark, who had charge of the Indians on this trip, created all kind of excitement in Pittsburgh with these same Indians who had never been off the reservation before. First he took them street car riding. They were the center of attraction; the people were not accustomed to seeing Indians clad in buckskin, profusely adorned with silver ornaments. While on the street car a fuse blew out and they ran pell-mell out of the door, dropping off into the deep snow. Then an automobile was secured and after the first attempt Mr. Clark was compelled to ride alone, for the Indians were making for the horizon. The next venture of Mr. Clark and his Indians was in an elevator. They treated the trip heavenward then downward more kindly than the automobile.

After the first pleasant sensation of rising rapidly then falling, it required two janitors and four policemen to get the Indians, not Mr. Clark, out of the elevator. According to the dictates of nature, they were compelled to eat. A brilliant idea struck the curio man in charge. He would take his well appearing Indians to the swellest hotel in the smoky city. In some manner the waiter brought in the ice cream before the more substantial eatables, and it was impossible to make them eat anything but the frozen cream, and it took several days to educate them to eat what was good for them. But several months of such experiences made them good Indians without being dead Indians. They will make the entire trip to Coney without any one accompanying them.

Every curio dealer interested in the project are using their efforts toward making the congress as successful exhibition.

STATEHOOD BANNER.

It Will Tell President Roosevelt What We Want.

An important meeting was held at the Commercial club last night by the general committee for the reception to be tendered President Roosevelt, and arrangements for the great event were practically completed. It is only natural in arranging for an entertainment of this nature that many varying opinions should prevail, and considerable time was spent in discussing the details of the arrangement and the manner in which they should be put into execution.

That the reception of the chief executive of the nation shall be the greatest event in Albuquerque's history is the earnest desire of every committeeman, and to that end they will unanimously work as a unit.

After the report of the committee on decorations it was decided that several arches should be erected. One immense arch will be built on Railroad avenue at Second street. This, as will all the others, will bear the motto: "Statehood and Roosevelt, 1904," and in the center will be built a platform from which a little girl will sprinkle flowers on the presidential party as they pass beneath. The work of decorating the buildings along the streets which the president will pass was reported as progressing nicely.

When the question of what should be put in way of motto on arches and banners came up, it developed that there was considerable sentiment in favor of eliminating statehood altogether, but this sentiment did not meet the views of the committee on decoration, who proposed to put statehood mottoes on all of the arches that the committee erects, and in addition to have in front of the stand from which the president will speak at the Alvarado a map of the United States, properly marked off in some manner, or in lieu thereof a small compartment containing children dressed to represent the whole or a portion of the different states and territories and to have one child to represent New Mexico accepting a star from either Uncle Sam or Columbia. The committee carried its point by a vote of more than two to one, only those favoring the matter voting, the others remaining silent. It was decided that this plan should be carried out and that the motto "Statehood in 1904" should be placed on all the arches.

Captain W. E. Dame, chairman of the committee on escort, read a letter from Major Hardie of Fort Wingate stating that it would probably be impossible for the troops to leave the fort at that time without orders direct from the department, on account of the annual target practice and the nearness of the time when the Fourteenth will leave for the Philippines. He stated, however, that by taking the matter up with the department at once it would be possible to arrange for a detachment of thirty-six troopers. A committee was appointed to arrange for the transportation of the troopers.

Delegate B. S. Rodey was appointed chairman of a committee to extend formal invitations to the mayors and officers of every town in New Mexico to be present on the day of the president's visit. The membership of the committee was increased by the addition of the following names selected from the labor unions of the city: J. F. Taylor and J. H. Ohde, finance; Robert Massey, arrangements; Harmon Wynkoop, reception; A. Pagan, A. L. Weems, J. S. Kline, Amos Lakens, R. W. Reenling and R. H. Crowe, excursions; Henry Myers, decorations.

Has Turned Up.

Judge J. T. Evans recently received a letter from A. L. Butcher, of Roswell, Texas, telling of the finding of his son, who is in the employ of the New Mexico Oil and Development company at Carrizozo. Mr. Butcher was here last fall hunting for his son, who had disappeared in this locality. The remains of a human body were found at Captain and it was supposed that these were all that remained of Mr. Butcher's son and he returned home under that impression. He was, however, made happy upon the receipt of a letter from his son, telling of his employment and prosperity.—Roswell Register.

Queer Swearing.
"Gentlemen of the jury," said a lawyer, "what kind of swearing has been done in this case? Here we have a physician, a man who, from his high calling, should scorn to tell an untruth. But what did he testify, gentlemen? I put the question to him plainly. 'Where was he stabbed?' Unhappily, his features as cool and placid as marble, he replied that he was stabbed an inch and a half to the left of the medical line and an inch above the umbilicus. And yet we have proved by three unimpeachable witnesses that he was stabbed just below the railroad station."
