DEMING.

From the Headlight.

Mrs. A. A. Pollard expects to leave for Portage, Wis., in a few days, where she will spend some time visiting relatives and friends.

W. H. Greer has been absent from town for several days this week visiting the many cattle ranches of the Victorio Cattle company, of which Mr. Greer is manager.

Dr. J. C. Hoffman, of Chicago, is here again for a few days. The doctor likes this climate and country so well that it is becoming more difficult all the time for him to remain away.

Mrs. Uptegrove left Deming over the Santa Fe road to visit her two daughters, Mrs. Waning, of Las Vegas, and Mrs. Frank Jones, of Los Lunas. She expects to remain away about three weeks.

Thursday evening last at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Moore, of this city, the marriage of Philip Thomas Williams and Miss Grace Moore was consummated. Rev. Marston, of the Methodist Episcopal church officiating. None but the relatives and immediate friends of the contracting parties were present.

Of all the work performed by the term of court that closed in this county last week the best was that of giving the demi monde of this city to understand that they must remove at once from their present location to some place more remote. For years past the location of these women in the prominent section they have occupied has been a disgrace to Deming. And it is high time they decamp. It is understood they will go to the vacant space east of town and build there.

SOCORRO.

From the Chieftain.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Terry arrived in the city a few days ago from the Black Range.

Magdalena is making preparations to celebrate the glorious Fourth in glorious style.

Estevan Baca is reported to have lost $2,500 worth of alfalfa during the recent high water that flooded the river bottoms.

Severiano Escamilla had a leg broken at work with the slag gang at the smelter. Dr. Duncan put him in a fear way to recover.

C. T. Brown returned from a two weeks' trip to Joplin and St. Louis. Mr. Brown experienced some unpleasant delays on account of the high water.

Miss Nettie McMillan, sister of the late Mrs. John E. Griffith, arrived in Socorro from Kansas and will make her home for a time at the home of Mr. Griffith.

T. L. Dwyer, a young man who recently came from Chicago to Socorro for his health, left for the A. L. horse ranch, where he will enjoy the hospitality of E. A. Clemmens for a time.

Charley Cooney and Bob Collins have been having a sorry time of it with typhoid fever. Both have had serious relapses when it was thought that they were well along on the road to recovery.

Felix Garrett met with a painful accident at the fire Thursday evening. He stepped on a rusty nail, driving it into his foot in such a manner that it could not be pulled out without first cutting away the shoe. The wound was very painful.

Sheriff Leandro Baca was summoned to Magdalena Thursday by a telegram announcing the killing of Moises Gonzales, by Isaac Peralta. It is rumored that the two parties to the affair were sheep herders employed somewhere out west of Magdalena. The sheriff has not yet returned and no particulars are obtainable.

W. H. Matthews, a young man from the University of Nebraska, arrived in town to arrange to begin work at the School of Mines. Mr. Matthews comes with credentials of the very highest order, and will make a most valuable addition to the student body of the institution. Furthermore, the authorities of the Nebraska institution promise President Keyes to send other young men in the near future.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss E. Blanche Rich, of Roxbury, Mass., and Charley Thayer Lincoln, of this city at the Hotel Vendome, Boston, on Thursday, June 25.

The groom is acting professor of analytic chemistry in the New Mexico School of Mines. Prof. and Mrs. Lincoln will be at home in the Cortes cottage on McCutchen avenue after September 1.

SAN MARCIAL.

From the Bee.

Willie Howard arrived from Newton, Kansas, on a visit to his parents. Mrs. W. G. Lane and children are enjoying an outing in the mountains near Rosedale.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Lohman took the train for Miltonville, Kansas, where friends are to be visited for several weeks.

Our butchers are having some difficulty in securing local beef. Shipments from Albuquerque have to be made at frequent intervals to fill up the gaps.

We understand the transfer of J. W. Coach's drug store to Messrs. C. E. Alford & Co. took place while Mr. McCoach was here this week. Mr. Mend is the managing partner of the new firm, and it is quite unnecessary to state that his extensive acquaintance with the public and his established popularity means assured success for the firm.

The Albuquerque Central Labor union has its preparations well under way for the celebration on July 4 and 5. The papers refer to it as a jollification and say it will be absolutely unique in the history of Fourth of July celebrations. The fact that it is to be managed by the Central Labor union, now 1,000 strong, is enough to make it interesting. As San Marcial is to have no doings on that day our citizens are bound to scatter, and Albuquerque will probably catch more than her share.

Antonio Armijo, of Las Palomas, Sierra county, threatens to sue A. B. Baca for $200, which he claims as his portion of the reward offered for the capture of Jose Telles, who was hung at Santa Fe a few weeks ago. The fact is that there never was a reward offered aside from the $50 reward offered by the sheriff of Santa Fe county, and Mr. Armijo was paid $10 for the trifling service he rendered in tracking Telles. Armijo was not within thirty miles of the spot when the outlaw was captured by Baca. That $500 voted Mr. Baca has hurt and is still hurting the feelings of a good many people, who, collectively, probably could not run down a jack rabbit.

SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.

Judge W. H. Pope is sojourning at Antonio Joseph's hot springs at Ojo Caliente. He will probably arrive in Santa Fe during the latter part of this week.

Sister Desideria of Albuquerque, and Sister Mary Irene, of Kansas City, Sisters of Charity, who have been at St. Vincent's sanitarium, left for Denver.

Mrs. Paul A. F. Walter and children expect to leave in about two weeks for South Bethlehem, Pa., for a visit to their former home and relatives there. They will likely be absent several months.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Simonton, of Canon City, Colo., who have been visiting in Santa Fe with Mrs. Simonton's parents, Judge and Mrs. A. J. Abbott, for the past six weeks, departed for their home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Baum, of Omaha, Neb., parents of Mrs. J. W. Kaye, arrived in this city from Omaha, and are stopping at St. Vincent's sanitarium. They will spend the summer in the city.

Mrs. J. M. Diaz, who is sojourning at Denver, will not return to Santa Fe for another month. It was Mrs. Diaz's intention to return during the present month, but she will now be away until the latter part of July.

Harry Hanna, a graduate of the law department of the University of Colorado, at Boulder, Colo., is in the city to spend the summer with his parents, Superintendent and Mrs. I. B. Hanna. He is accompanied by R. A. Bble, of Newark, N. J.

Three men were employed Saturday and sent to Las Vegas to act as guards for the convicts at work in the Galinas canyon. They were Jose F. Gonzales, Roy Fisher and Ignacio Armijo. It is understood that these men will take the place of the guards originally sent to Las Vegas in charge of the detachment of convicts at work on the road.

Work on the "scenic route" road in the Santa Fe canyon is progressing very well. The dispute over the ditch right in the vicinity of where the convicts are now working will be amicably settled and there will be no trouble from it hereafter. The convicts are now engaged in the canyon about four miles from town.

Celestino Ortiz, who close up his grocery store on the west side of the plaza on July 1, and may conclude to go to California to locate.

Judge W. H. Pope arrived Saturday evening from Ojo Caliente, where he spent about a week taking the baths at Antonio Joseph's bathing resort. He looks very well and feels very good. He is temporarily domiciled at the Staab residence.

R. A. Parker, of New York City, who has been inspecting the turquoise mines in Grant county and the properties of the American Turquoise company at Turquesa, was in the city on business with Solicitor General E. L. Bartlett, attorney for the company.

Probate Judge Marcus Castillo has revoked the appointment of Mrs. Braulio Gonzalez de Plomteaux to be guardian of Aurelio Gonzalez, a minor, and daughter of Perfecto Gonzalez, deceased. On petition of A. B. Renahan, Esq., he has appointed Mrs. Rounalda Sinesoro to be guardian of the child who is 13 years of age.

Capt. John A. Forsha died one year ago Tuesday. He was one of four brothers who served bravely from Ohio during the civil war. He came to New Mexico in the early '70s with the Barlow & Sanderson stage company and was one of the charter members of Carleton post, G. A. R., in 1883. His grave in the National cemetery was beautifully decorated Tuesday.

SANTA FE CENTRAL.

Station Site Selected at Territorial Capital and Tracklaying is Pushed.

OTHER INFORMATION.

The Citizen representative is informed that the Santa Fe Central railroad officials have selected the site for the union station which will be erected near the Santa Fe station in the Ancient city. Sites have also been selected for the freight depot and the round houses, which will be on the south side of the city, near the Indian industrial school, territorial deaf and dumb asylum, the capitol and the penitentiary, and but a few blocks from St. Michael's college and Loretta academy.

Two 5,000 gallon tanks have been erected at Estancia and will be kept filled from the Estancia springs, which are said to have the best boiler water to be found in New Mexico, and from several lakes, one-half mile from Estancia station.

Trains are expected to run on the main line from Santa Fe to Torrance by August 1, and on the Hagan coal branch by October 1. The big track laying machine is expected at Santa Fe in a few days, so that track laying from that end may commence.

W. S. Hopewell, the iron man of the Santa Fe Central, is having work all over the road pushed as fast as possible.

Miss Georgie Marie Kellogg, of Pueblo, Colo., left on delayed No. 1 last evening for Los Angeles, Cal., after spending a few days visiting her sisters, Messdames J. E. Elder and Watson Downs, of this city. Miss Kellogg is an Albuquerquean, and well remembered as one of our most talented musicians. Four years ago she left here to enter the conservatory of music of Leipzig, Germany, from which noted institution she graduated two years later. She has since resided with her parents in Pueblo, Colo., where she has been accorded the position of leading instructor and piano soloist among a large coterie of able musicians. The young lady will spend about two months on the coast and intends again to visit Albuquerque on her return to Colorado.

Mrs. P. F. Mahoney and children of El Paso, Tex., are stopping in the New Mexico metropolis for a few days.

THE INVESTIGATIONS.

Two Reports Probable in the Insane Asylum Investigations.

FINDINGS NOW WITH GOVERNOR.

The commission appointed by Governor Otero to investigate the charges preferred against the management of the territorial insane asylum at Las Vegas has completed its work and the report is now on file with the governor. Governor Otero is at present away from Santa Fe, and in his absence the report will not be made public. It is understood that it makes ten pages of typewritten matter. It is reported in Las Vegas that two reports will be made, a majority and minority report. The majority report is the one which is said to be in the governor's hands at the present time, and it is signed by six members of the commission, the report says. The seventh member could not agree on all the conclusions arrived at by the majority, and on these points will make a separate report. It is said this has not yet been prepared and is not in the possession of the governor.

The commission did its work thoroughly and well. The first day it was in session it inspected the building and grounds thoroughly and the remaining days, including Saturday last, heard testimony from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. This will make about 500 pages of typewritten matter, and will not be ready for about ten days.

The chief interest Saturday centered in the testimony of Dr. W. R. Tipton, who, for about three hours, was on the stand, and was searchingly questioned. He showed by books and records from the asylum that witnesses who had testified to certain matters were not at the institution when the things alleged to have occurred took place.

Virginia Maestas, who testified to having seen a woman dragged by her hair and declared that the woman died the next day from the effects of her injuries, was shown by the records to have not been at the institution at that time. It was also showed that the patient had received the last sacrament administered by a Catholic priest. Dr. Tipton did not deny there had been instances where patients were abused by attendants, but he showed that his orders and instructions were strongly against such practices.

There is strong talk of beginning proceedings for perjury against some of the witnesses, now that the investigation is over. The commission devoted the remaining time on Saturday and a part of Sunday to formulating its report.

Mr. J. A. Catanach, the foreman and lineman of the Santa Fe Central railroad, is in the city today on business and will return to Santa Fe in a day or two. Mr. Catanach says the track layers on the Santa Fe Central are doing rushing work, and that the road will soon be finished. Mr. Catanach will soon start on the Albuquerque Eastern line.

TERRITORIAL BASEBALL LEAGUE

Fans of El Paso Are Talking of One for This Section.

R. W. Curtis, manager of the ball grounds at Washington park, now has up the matter of playing the Deming ball team against the Washingtons at the park as soon as a game can be arranged, says the El Paso Herald.

The Washingtons are very anxious to play the Deming team. The Deming boys are getting a wide reputation in this section and the Washingtons feel that if they can beat them their reputation as ball players will be established in this section.

The Eagles' team, which was badly beaten by the Deming team last Sunday, has a game scheduled with the Las Cruces team next Sunday at Athletic park and as they want to regain their prestige the players will put up a good exhibition.

Following these games, a number of other good games will be arranged for this city between the local teams and the teams at Albuquerque, Bismarck and other points.

Some of the fans are talking of a New Mexican-Arizona league for next season, the various cities of the two territories that care to support teams, together with El Paso, to constitute the league. It is believed that league ball would pay in this section even letter than in north and east Texas. North Texas supports a league and south and east Texas support another, and El Paso fans do not see why a real good league could not be maintained in this section, the teams to come from say El Paso, Deming, Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Bismarck and other places that would support the game.

A Runaway Saved.

Mrs. I. B. Close and sister will leave tomorrow for Deming, where they will reside in the future. The latter had an experience at noon today, in which she demonstrated the fact that she has nerve and can hold a horse when frightened. T. J. Curran's automobile, which caused a very bad runaway Sunday morning last, came snorting west on Gold avenue, and scared the horse being driven by the young lady and which at that time was standing peacefully in front of The Citizen's office. The lady was still in the buggy and finally quieted the animal, not until he reared, plunged, backed and went forward, and for a time it looked really dangerous. Several gentlemen stood by ready to grab the animal, but presence of mind told them that any movement toward the animal would probably result more disastrously, hence they remained quiet and the young lady alone controlled the horse.

Miss L. Titus is entertaining her brother, H. E. Titus, of Kansas City. They will leave for California in a few days.

Misses Grace and Jennie Downs, of Winslow, Arizona, attended the commencement exercises at St. Vincent's academy last night.

According to Dun's Review the gross earnings of all railroads in the United States reporting for June to date are $11,668,063, a gain of 5.8 per cent over last year and 14.5 per cent over 1901.

PIERSON HALL.

A Few More Facts Regarding Building of This Institution.

EXPENDITURE OF TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS

The building mentioned in yesterday's Citizen as being contracted for by the local builders from designs prepared by E. B. Cristy, architect, is under the control of the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America.

Having maintained a school here for several years with marked success they find need of more room to meet the demands of new pupils.

Arrangements have been made in this new building whereby a large dining room, with pantry, kitchen, bake room, small dining room and wash rooms that will accommodate 150 scholars, will be placed in the basement, the building standing six feet from grade.

On the first floor are three large school rooms that can be thrown into one assembly room, also an office. The second floor is to be divided into reading room, bath rooms and sleeping apartments.

A large dormitory occupies the entire third floor.

The exterior will be of Albuquerque brick and will present a very favorable appearance. The name of the building will be Pierson Hall, in memorial of a former secretary of the board of missions.

This new building not only means the disbursement of ten thousand dollars in our city, but a continued benefit to our merchants who furnish the supplies needed to carry on the work of the school.

Madame Puerari, the soprano singer, who held forth at Colombo hall the other evening, passed through the city last night on her way to Mexico City, where she will join another opera company. While at Las Vegas she received a cablegram from the manager of the Lombardi Opera company, with whom she had a contract, that owing to the prevalence of yellow fever in Costa Rica the company had disbanded for the summer. Chevalier Buzzi was also engaged by the Lombardi company. He is still at Las Vegas, and will remain in that town and at the hot springs for a couple of weeks yet.

KINGMAN.

From the Miner.

Summer Beecher returned the first of the week from Pasadena, where he has been attending the Polytechnic institute.

Mrs. S. B. Metcalfe and children departed for Los Angeles and will visit with her parents for a month or more. Miss Belle Tarr, who has been in Los Angeles the past three months, visited with Kingman friends the first of the week. She left for home at Manuelito N. M., Wednesday evening.

The Elks' building company are having a large lot of lumber hauled to the site of their new building and work will be commenced on the foundation next Monday.

George Russell died at the county hospital last Saturday. Deceased has been a resident of this county for more than thirty years, coming here in the early seventies. He was miner and cattleman for years until old age forced him to retire from hard work. He was a quiet, inoffensive man, universally liked by the people surrounding him.

The Colorado river is now at flood and is more than two miles wide at Needles. Steamers land freight at Roberts' ranch, nearly two miles inland and the whole bottom land along the river is deep under water. Cottonwood Island, below Eldorado canyon, is entirely submerged and it is thought will be cut away and the main river channel formed where it stood. The island was in a bend of the river and by its cutting out the river will be straightened out. The water is still on the rise and it is thought that considerable damage will be done. Ranches and ranch houses along the Mohave bottoms are under water.

The wild scramble for lands over on the Mohave desert was not one of the incidents connected with the opening to settlement of more than one million acres of land by the government. The land was originally embraced in the land grant to the Southern Pacific railroad and was declared forfeited by an act of congress and returned to the public domain the last of June. Newspapers and magazines in the east attempted to get up a rush to the newly opened lands, but the papers of the desert country frowned down the movement. Until government water storage is assured these lands will remain part and parcel of the great California desert.

WILLIAMS.

From the News.

Bob Kinser and Al Hawkins departed on a short business trip to Deming, N. M.

Mrs. J. H. Santson, of Escondido, Cal., arrived and is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. George McKim.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Salzman, their son Maurice, Misses Hattie and Firdie Barth and Mr. Sidney Barth came in from the coast.

Miss Bertha Beecher has gone to her home at Kingman, where she will spend her vacation prior to resuming her duties in the public schools here again this fall.

Dr. A. Rounsaville has entirely recovered from his attack of southern fever and is about town again as usual. He has had a new office fitted up in the Laub building.

Frank Aycock has closed out his stock of goods in the old postoffice building. We understand that the same will shortly be occupied by J. E. De Rosear, who will conduct a thoroughly up to date curio.

Roy Kilgore arrived home from Tucson, where he had been attending the university. Roy, though now a college man, has forgotten that fact and is mastering the mysteries of the saw and plane under the tutelage of his father.

H. J. Gray came in from Jerome Junction, overland. He was on his way to Flagstaff, from which point he will ship some 2,000 lambs to the market at Kansas City, in company with a large shipment to be made by Campbell & Francis.

Mrs. Otto Lebach and Miss Jennie Farnsworth returned from an extended stay at Prescott. Mrs. Lebach was greatly benefitted there by the change in altitude, but since her return has felt again the old trouble. She has decided to return again to Prescott and leave today.

On Monday, while Mr. Reese, driver of Salzman's delivery wagon, was turning a sharp curve near the depot, a relative who was riding with him was thrown violently to the ground. The young man struck on his head and shoulders. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the hospital, where he quickly rallied.

Some weeks since mention was made of a bruise F. R. Nellis had sustained on one of his hands. As it became no better rapidly, and the pain attendant was almost unbearable, Ferd last week went to Los Angeles to place himself in the hospital there for treatment. On Tuesday Mrs. Nellis received a dispatch calling her to Los Angeles and it was announced that his condition was very serious, it being feared that blood poisoning had set in. Later reports state that Mr. Nellis is now out of danger, which good news is a cause of satisfaction to his many friends in Williams.

WINSLOW.

From the Mail.

Father Connolly was in Flagstaff for part of the week.

Mr. Paxton met with a painful accident. He sprained his ankle by falling in a ditch.

Mrs. Grubb left for San Francisco, accompanied by her son, Willie, and Miss Hazel Todd.

Mrs. Chas. A. French, wife of Street Commissioner French, left for Los Angeles, where she will remain for two or three months.

Misses Grace and Jennie Downs left for Albuquerque, where they will attend the June commencement exercises of the Sisters of St. Vincent's academy.

A very popular and prominent gentleman in society circles has resigned his situation with the Santa Fe Pacific. It is Lawrence Smith, chief clerk to Master Mechanic Drury. After spending a short time at Gallup, he will go to Los Angeles, where he will be employed by an uncle, who is a contractor. Mr. Smith will be greatly missed by the Winslow people, and his many friends wish him all manner of success in his new home.

FLAGSTAFF.

From the Gem.

Miss Virgie Rudd arrived here the first of the week from Springerville, Apache county, to attend the normal commencement. Miss Rudd graduated here last year and has been teaching in the public schools at Springerville, and is retained for the ensuing year at the same place.

E. J. Babbitt left for his home in Cincinnati, Ohio, after visiting relatives and friends here for several weeks.

Everett Hanna, of Arnett, Washington county, Arkansas, arrived here and will remain several months. He is a brother of Mrs. D. E. Jones, wife of the publisher of this paper.

Mrs. Ella Farmer and daughter, Miss Maggie, who have been visiting with Mrs. J. H. Coffin, daughter of the former and sister of the latter, left for Bakersfield, Cal., where they will spend the summer.

FRIGHTFUL SLAUGHTER.

No portion of the summary of the interstate commerce commission's report on railroads for the year ending June 30th, 1902, is worthy of more careful consideration than the statement showing the appalling slaughter of railway employees.

It shows that 2,969 were killed and 50,524 injured during the year, which far exceeds the casualties of the Spanish war.

One out of every 401 employees was killed while one out of every 1,882, 706 passengers carried was killed.

One out of every 24 employees was injured and one out of every 37,244 passengers was injured.

NATIONAL FINANCES.

The income from internal revenue was smaller by about four and a half million dollars during last May than in May, 1902. There was also a decrease in import duties of more than $1,000,000. In other receipts an increase of about $750,000 was reported.

The decrease in the receipts of the government for the eleven months of the fiscal year was only $2,194,217, and during the same period expenditures increased $34,215,954. In spite of this the excess of receipts over expenditures for this period is more than $38,000,000. It is apparent that the country will have a comfortable surplus at the end of the fiscal year.

INSANE ASYLUM.

The report of the evidence in the territorial insane asylum investigation shows that cruelty has been used by the attendants of the institution toward the helpless inmates. This condition of things must be changed at once. If Dr. Tipton is brutal, and his action yesterday in threatening one of the men making the investigation shows that he has an ungovernable temper, he must be promptly removed. The insane asylum is supposed by the people to be a humane institution, not a Russian prison pen.

The evidence shows that the asylum is not properly conducted, and a complete change should be made in the board of commissioners and in the floors and attendants of the institution.

COTTON EXPORTED.

Cotton is still king in the export records of the United States, and its record in the present year is likely to surpass that of any preceding year. The value of raw cotton exported in the eleven months ending with May is, according to the preliminary figures of the treasury bureau of statistics, $308,747,995, which is $5,000,000 in excess of the highest eleven months' figures heretofore recorded by this preliminary statement. The highest eleven months' record for any earlier year was that for the eleven months ending with May, 1901, when the total stood at $303,497,617. Should the figures for June of this year equal those of June in the immediately preceding years, the total for the fiscal year would be $317,000,000, or $4,000,000 in excess of the banner year, 1901.

AMERICAN RAILWAYS.

The length of the railways in the United States including double and side tracks has reached the enormous total of 274,195 miles.

The distance is difficult to appreciate. It means that our railway trackage would reach almost eleven times around the earth at the equator, and a still more startling comparison of distance is found in the fact that this is by 34,600 miles the greatest distance than from the earth to the moon.

It takes over a million employees to operate this immense railway mileage and they received in wages over $670,000,000 last year. Over 60 per cent of the expense of operation goes to the railway employees. It requires over 41,000 locomotives and over a million and a half cars to handle the business of our railways. An idea of what the number of locomotives means can be gathered from the fact that if they were coupled together would reach a distance of 388 miles.

The magnitude of American railway possessions and business is almost beyond human comprehension.

BENEFIT OF UNIONS.

American labor unions have a tendency to raise the mental standard of the men. They train a man's intelligence. The man who is most fit gets ahead. They believe in the survival of the fittest. What is in a man will come out if he has a chance.

The brainiest mechanics, the men who think and have a chance to show the results of their thinking are the men who make the best of capitalists.

I believe every man should have a chance to train himself to be a capitalist. By this I mean that he should have the opportunity to train his mind so that he could, as far as mental equipment is concerned, he is in a position to guide and direct as well as execute the orders of others. I tell you there is nothing so grand in the world as an intelligent mechanic. He is of use in the world.

I believe in labor unions. I do not believe in trusts as they are today understood. Labor unions have the same right to organize as capital has. The interests of the one are in a parallel degree the interests of the other.

In the United States today we have some splendid labor unions, managed in a way to challenge admiration, and we have some of the worst, but the tendency has been forward.

The day will come when American labor unions will have reached such a point of excellence in organization, under competent management, with logical minds at the head, that capital will have to recognize them. Arbitration will then be the rule to settle differences. Strikes will be known only in history.

But the battle for labor is not yet won. It will not be until all of the unions have rid themselves of the minority of rascals who now rule some of them. These men are good talkers. They are eloquent on the platform, yet if you sift all they say you will not find a single practicable idea. Yet in some of the labor unions today these men, even now in the minority, rule the others.

Labor unions to succeed, must be logical.—Guntion's Magazine.

THE HOME PAPER.

Speaking of what newspapers do for a community, the late United States Senator David Davis, of Illinois, made an address that remains ever green in the memories of newspaper men. He said:

"Every year every local paper gives from 500 to 5,000 free reading lines for the benefit of the community in which he is located. No other agency can or will do this. The editor, in proportion to his means, does more for his town than any other man. In all fairness, man with man. He ought to be supported—not because you happen to like him but because a local paper is the best investment a person in a community can make. It may not be crowded with great thoughts, but financially it is of more benefit than both teacher and preacher. Editors do more for less pay than any men on earth. Patronize your home newspaper, not as a charity—but as an investment."

CONSUMPTION CURE.

German physicians have discovered a new cure for tuberculosis. While traveling in Australia, a German merchant found the natives using an extract of eucalyptus leaves and roots as a cure for consumption. He reported his observation to a group of Berlin physicians and they have concocted a combination of flowers of sulphur, powdered charcoal and dried eucalyptus leaves, the fumes of which, when heated, they claim have a deadly effect on the tuberculosis bacilli without in any way injuring the patient.

These physicians made a report at the May meeting of the Berlin Medical society on the results of their experiments. In one hospital out of 120 patients treated, more than fifty have been discharged as cured. The patients were in all degrees of consumption and some of them had been considered beyond relief.

The Houston Post says J. V. Comiskey, who has been connected with the Southern Pacific in this city, left last night for Alamogordo, N. M., to accept a position in the auditing department of the El Paso & Northeastern railway.

Arthur Peterson, who has been in the city the past ten days visiting with his family, left this morning on his return to Argentine, Kan. He is a clerk in the storekeeper's department of the Santa Fe shops there.

W. N. Crenshaw of New York, the president of the proposed California Short Line railway, was in Las Cruces the first of last week. His visit was in the interest of the new road, work on which is progressing satisfactorily and as rapidly as possible.

Engines 848 and 814 are recent arrivals at the local repair shops.

Trainmaster Lewis of the El Paso & Northwestern has been laid up for several days suffering with rheumatism.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The river commissioners of this county appear to be more ornamental than useful.

Senator Beveridge is a chronic objector. He opposes his candidacy for vice president.

The territorial insane asylum should be conducted in a sane and humane manner.

Under republican politics the volume of money in the United States has steadily grown until even a populist should be satisfied. It seems probable that before the end of the year the aggregate circulation will amount to $30 for each man, woman and child in the nation.

In seventy-nine separate and distinct national cemeteries the bodies of nearly 300,000 soldiers who died during the civil war are interred. Some of the cemeteries contain each a silent army of over 10,000 soldiers, in serried ranks, nearly half of which are inscribed "unknown."

The Phoenix Democrat says that the people of Arizona have more water-melons per capita than any other state or territory in the United States. The Salt River valley produces in the neighborhood of 8,000,000 melons. This divided between 100,000 gives each person eight melons.

A professor in Birmingham, England, has carefully examined sixty-seven skulls from the neolithic, bronze and iron ages, and finds their teeth complete and perfect, but one tooth showing decay. The sweetsmeats and hot food of civilization have done the business for the modern tooth.

The only daily paper left in Las Vegas appears to be anxious that Albuquerque should be flooded. In speaking of the overflow of the valley north of this city, that evasive sheet says: "However, it might well be that enough water could spread over the level country to send a foot or two creeping into the city."

That "see-think" flood north of this city has dwindled to a mild frog pond. Spanish proverb: When a fool has made up his mind the market has gone by.

The indications are that the territorial insane asylum investigation is to be a case of whitewash.

A little coal oil poured on the placid waters of the overflow above this city would destroy several mosquitoes.

A Las Vegas paper is trying to make it appear that the investigation of the insane asylum is for the purpose of injuring that town.

True philanthropy in this world does not consist in the giving of alms nor the uprearing of temples. It can be narrowed down to one thing—giving a fair compensation to the greatest number of laborers. Wealth is only held in trust for the commonwealth, and the man who most equitably divides it among honest toilers, in return for their labor, is the man who does the greatest good in the world.

It is the opinion of the officials of the immigration bureau, which is shared by the best informed Jews in Washington, that the recent massacres in Kishineff will cause an enormous exodus from Russia this summer. INJUNCTION GRANTED.

Judge McFie Assigns Places to Hacks and Cabs at the Santa Fe Depot.

Associate Justice John R. McFie this morning granted an injunction restraining C. C. Closson, owner of livery stable in this city, from occupying the first two positions at the Santa Fe depot with his hacks, says the New Mexican. There is room for several hacks there and the owners of Lowitzki's livery stable has a contract with the Santa Fe railway to convey the United States mail from the depot to the postoffice in this city and a part of the consideration for that service is that they are assigned the first two places next to the end of the platform for their hacks, while Closson is assigned the third and fourth positions. Defendant's contention was that the place was public and that the railway had no right to discriminate against him in the matter, and when his hacks arrived there first they occupied the positions assigned to Lowitzki's. The result was that the Santa Fe railway and the Lowitzki's asked for an injunction and Judge McFie decided that the company had the right to hold the first place for the cabs that carried the mail.

The decision was rendered especially on the point that as the railroad company was bound to deliver the mails to the Santa Fe postoffice as quickly as possible, it was better enabled to do so by giving the cabs and wagons which convey the mail first place at the station.

NEW BUILDINGS.

T. H. Bliss is erecting a 30x84 store building on North Fourth street for Harry Gleason. The building is now ready for the plasterers. Mr. Bliss has put up a number of buildings in this locality during the past year, notably the Rio Grande woolen mills.

H. Robbe, of the Whitney company, is putting up a small chapel in the lot south of his residence on North Fourth street. The building will be used for a Sunday school.

At the corner of Fourth street and Mountain road P. Masetti has opened up a general merchandise store. This is a large establishment, including a saloon, meat market, bakery, etc. This building has been built lately and is receiving a new coat of paint.

A. W. Hayden is completing a large livery stable on West Silver avenue for Ford Bros., who will occupy the building and conduct a livery stable. Mr. Hayden is also erecting on West Coal avenue a small cottage for Mr. Montunger and has just completed an addition to the Gardner residence on the corner of Fourth and Silver.

James McCarriston was found finishing up the cement sidewalk in front of the old Ben Davis home south of the Commercial club. The lawn and porch walk of the building have also been made of cement. Mr. McCarriston is also making a cement sidewalk at the J. B. TO BE DEPENDENT ON.

Because it is the Experience of an Albuquerque Citizen and Can Readily Be Investigated.

A stranger lost in a large city would place far more dependence on the directions given him by a local resident than the guidance of another stranger like himself. This is a natural consequence; it's like a ship in a strange port—a trusty pilot familiar with the harbor is always called upon to bring her safely to her moorings. So it is with endorsement; we doubt the sayings of people living at distant points because we can't investigate, but public expression of local citizens can be depended on for 'tis an easy matter to prove it. Evidence like the following is beyond dispute:

J. W. Gertig, bookkeeper, residence 408 West Coal avenue, says: "When I lived in Mansfield, Ohio, several years ago I had an attack of lumbago. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended by residents of Mansfield in the papers of that city and I went to the drug store kept by a friend of mine, named W. Barton, for a box and commenced the treatment. A continuation of it for several years there was no recurrence. Some six months ago I noticed pain in my back and knowing what Doan's Kidney Pills had performed when they first came to my notice, I went to the Alvarado drug store for a box. The treatment was just as effective as it was when I first used it in Ohio. This to me positively proves that Doan's Kidney Pills can be depended upon."

The bricklayers have finished their work on the new Kempenich building on West Railroad avenue. E. B. Cristy was the architect and Mr. Hesselnden the contractor.

John Hart will start work on the two new H. H. Tilton residences next week. These buildings are located north of "Honeymoon row." Mr. Hart is also repairing the home of Mr. Barney.

At the planing mill of Newlander & Gustafson a large force of men were found at work. Mr. Newlander stated that he was erecting a number of residences around town and had a great deal of small jobs on hand.

Contractor Freebore is putting up a two story building on the corner of Second street and Marble avenue. The building has five rooms, bath room and hall.

The architects of this city are getting plans for mostly out of town buildings. Architect Whittlessey is drawing up plans for two banks, one at Raton and the other at Alamogordo. The Grand Canyon hotel is ready for the contractor. Mr. Whittlessey has the plans for the new Santa Fe hospital done and bids are out. It is to be erected on the same grounds where the old one stood, which was burned down some time ago. The plan will be the same as the Alvarado. The design for the new Methodist church is being drawn in his office. Mr. Whittlessey has just finished his residence on the foot hills east of the city. This building is made to resemble a log house and is one of the nicest up to date buildings in the city. The porch, which is on the east, north and west sides of the house, commands the best view of the city and valley of any place in town.

J. L. La Driere expects the Barnett building to be finished by the first day of July, and the Bachechi building on the corner of Silver avenue and First street by the first of August. The plans of an eight room residence house for Miss Yrisarri are being finished in the office. Mr. La Driere drew up the plans for the addition to the Imperial laundry building, which is being constructed by Contractor Hart. The business block at Belen for A. Didier is about finished and the plans for a business block for Major Meyers are being completed now. This building will be erected at Hagan, N. M., on the new Santa Fe Central.

The neat W. J. Johnson home on the corner of Ninth street and Tijeras avenue is ready for the inside decorations. L. B. Miller is decorating the walls and ceilings of the building. Mr. Miller has done some fine work on the different buildings that he has decorated.

A new brick walk from brick made at the New Mexico penitentiary at Santa Fe brick yard is being put down on the west side of Broadway from the gas house to the corner of Broadway and Silver avenue.

THE INVALID'S HOTEL.

The Ideal Modern Hospital.

It is generally the case that when some great modern improvement of old methods of business is put forward, the world says: "How simple! Why didn't somebody think of it before?" When you read of an "Invalids' Hotel" as the modern hospital ideal, the thought at once comes, "What a great improvement. Why didn't somebody think of it before?"

The Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., the unique model of medical and surgical progress, owes its existence to its founder, Dr. R. V. Pierce, and the rare combination of business acumen and professional ability which he possesses in a marked degree.

Most people dread the thought of the ordinary hospital, however beneficent the institution may be. In the popular mind the hospital is next to a prison; a place where identity is lost, and a man or woman becomes merely a "case" for the experiments of doctors or surgeons. With his experience the thought occurred to Dr. Pierce, why not put the hospital on a hotel basis? Why not let the patient preserve his individuality and identity, and lead an existence as independent and free as the condition of invalidism will allow? And so was born and built the "Invalids' Hotel" whose waiters are white-clothed men and white-capped women nurses. Here are no great dreary wards, echoing with the moaning of the sick, but separate rooms, as in an ordinary hotel, with extraordinary hotel service, the servants being skillful physicians and nurses.

The Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute is provided with every modern appliance for the electrical, mechanical treatment of diseases. Nearly a score of physicians (each man a specialist in his department) are in constant attendance on the inmates. Everything that can conduce to comfort and home-likeness is provided by Dr. Pierce for his guests, and the sights and sounds and smells of the public hospital are entirely avoided.

Undoubtedly Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., is the modern hospital.

OFFICIAL MATTERS.

Land Office Business.

The following homestead entries were made recently: Leandro Trujillo, of Springer, 160 acres in Mora county; Julian M. Trujillo, of Springer, 160 acres in Mora county.

Coal Land Sold.

The following coal land was sold at the land office: Southeast quarter of section 15, township ten north, range five east, 160 acres, in Bernalillo county, to Anna Hopewell, of Santa Fe, consideration, $3,200.

Survey Requested.

The residents of township 15 north range 3 west, in Sandoval county, and of township 6 north, range 8 east, in Valencia county, have filed a petition with the surveyor general, asking that a survey of their townships be ordered.

Territorial Funds.

J. H. Vaughn, territorial treasurer received the following territorial fund from C. O. Leach, collector and ex-officio treasurer of Roosevelt county: $732.52, taxes for 1902.

Incorporation.

Articles of incorporation were filed recently with the territorial secretary by the Cavern Gold Mining company. The incorporators are George Brooks and Herbert O. Brooks, of Albuquerque, and Bernard A. Stutz, of Kelly, N. M. The principal place of business of the company is at Albuquerque, with a branch office at Kell. The terms of existence is fifty years, and the authorized capitalization $15,000 divided into 15,000 shares, the par value of $1 each. The affairs of the company are to be in the hands of a board of three directors and the incorporators compose that board for the first three months of the organization's existence. The company is authorized to buy, hold and sell property real, personal and mixed, to own and develop mining claims and to operate reduction works; to run stores in connection therewith and to buy and sell merchandise.

Railroad Topics

Dr. J. P. Kaster, the chief surgeon of the Santa Fe line, with headquarters at Topeka, is in the city.

Frank Scott, engineer, has applied for the position of engineer on the Mt. St. Helena railroad.

Jesus Marina, a Santa Fe section hand, was struck by lightning about a mile south of Raton the other evening and instantly killed.

H. J. B. ... last night for ... friends. Mr. Bambrook is an apprentice in the local railroad machine shops.

The fatalities to passengers on the Santa Fe line in 1901 were nil and in 1902 only six. Passengers injured in railroad accidents in the United Kingdom numbered 732.

George De Long, a machinist in the Santa Fe shops in Albuquerque, accompanied by his wife, arrived in the city yesterday and will spend a fortnight here visiting with relatives, says the Sun.

George R. Lemmer, a popular brakeman on the Santa Fe Pacific, is taking a vacation, and has gone to Chicago to enjoy a much needed rest and to see the sights. He will be gone about two weeks.

Conductor Philip Stimmel, who runs the Denver & Rio Grande passenger train between Santa Fe and Anconito, Colo., is laying off and enjoying a vacation at Pagosa Springs, Colo. During his absence Conductor Daniel McHolland is in charge of the run.

Notwithstanding all the predictions made during the winter months that the days of fast freight trains were numbered, this branch of the service seems more firmly established than ever. Fast freight trains are now being run on all the roads with as great precision and regularity as are passenger trains.

It is reported that E. H. Harriman, the head of the Southern Pacific system, has just practically closed a contract with the United States Steel corporation for 100,000 tons of steel rails for delivery next year. It is understood that the rails will be used by the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific roads.

Sixty thousand square feet of space in the World's Fair transportation palace have been secured by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. The evolution and development of the great roads of the world will be shown in this exhibit, which is being prepared under the personal direction of Maj. J. G. Pangborn.

The plans of President Harriman of the Southern Pacific for shortening the time across the continent are being realized. One of the Central Pacific cut-offs in Nevada has been completed and the operating department of the Southern Pacific has issued orders to conductors and engineers to run trains over the newly constructed piece of road between Valley and a point two and one-half miles east of Iron Mountain, in Humboldt county.

A friend of Ed. Laville, writing to The Citizen from Kennedy, says: "Ed. Laville, the old railroad man, is laying track at the rate of a mile a day. He is the man that can do it, if he has a show, and there is no use for any person to instruct him in railroad, as he has spent his lifetime at such work. He is the right man in the right place."

Senator Clark's Road.

Senator W. A. Clark has announced that the contract for building all of the remaining portion of the main line of the Salt Lake route between Salt Lake City and Los Angeles would be let inside of three weeks. He also stated that the general headquarters of the road would be established permanently at Salt Lake City. The transfer of the Oregon Short Line south of Salt Lake City to the Salt Lake route would be made in New York before June 30, when it will then be pushed forward as rapidly as possible, and if a shorter time than two years will suffice to make the connection between Daguerre and Caliente, the road will be opened just that much sooner.

SANTA FE CENTRAL PROGRESS.

Satisfactory Work Friday—Construction Train Ordered to Santa Fe.

Satisfactory progress was made Friday by the track laying forces of the Santa Fe Central Railway. Twelve hundred feet of track were laid on the section from Kennedy station south and 4,600 feet on the section from Moriarty station north. An engine and a construction train have been ordered from the southern end of the line to Santa Fe, and these will arrive there early during the coming week. Upon the arrival they will be put to work laying steel tracks in the Santa Fe yards and switch to be located at Santa Fe. John S. Harris, in charge of the track laying machine, is expected to be there on Wednesday next and after looking over the ground it is probably that the track laying machine will be taken to Santa Fe and put to work from that end. A scarcity of men exists and this fact has interfered somewhat with construction work. However, General Manager W. S. Hopewell is pushing everything along with his usual untiring energy and perseverance. Several carloads of steel rails which have been delayed by the recent washouts in Kansas are beginning to arrive at Torrance. There are more cars loaded with steel rails still somewhere on the Rock Island railroad which are being pushed along as rapidly as the condition of the road will permit and are expected to arrive right along.

Laborers From Lantry & Son's Camp Say Dead Man Is Will Krau.

The stranger who expired Thursday morning about 6 o'clock at the top of one stair in the Farr building on South Second street, as the result of a hemorrhage of the lungs was identified yesterday afternoon.

Several laborers from Camp 10, of Lantry & Son's, at Belen, were up and went to O. W. Strong's Sons' undertaking parlors, where the dead man was. They said he was Will Krau and had worked for Lantry & Sons at Camp 10 for several weeks, but they didn't know where he came from or anything else about him.

This morning he was laid at rest in the Fairview cemetery.

Later—This afternoon it was learned at the St. Joseph's hospital that the man's real name was Sterling and that he hailed from Bloomington, Ill. He had been there a day or so before his death on account of consumption. Nothing more is known about him.

Territorial Veterinarian Appointed.

The cattle sanitary board has recently appointed Dr. H. F. Spencer to the office of territorial veterinarian, whose duty it will be to prevent and stamp out all contagious and infectious diseases of cattle. New Mexico has been obliged to quarantine against cattle from Oklahoma, Texas and the republic of Mexico, owing to the prevalence in those places of contagious cattle diseases. Kansas, too, has had to make it obligatory for owners in certain counties to dip their cattle on account of the prevalence of mange.

Dr. Spencer has established an office in Las Vegas.

ALL MODERN IMPROVEMENTS.

Nabobs Can Live in Luxury While Inspecting Grand Canyon.

Seven thousand persons visited the Grand Canyon of Arizona last year. The number may reach 10,000 for 1903. This is a hundred times as many as used to go annually to the canyon in the old stage coach days. Plans have been adopted by the Santa Fe, says the Railway Age, for a magnificent new hotel to be built this summer near the head of Bright Angel trail. The location selected is in a pine forest, 200 yards east of the present temporary structure and further back from the rim. At this point the gorge is 6,000 feet deep and thirteen miles wide. Bright Angel tavern, as the hostelry will probably be called, will cost upward of $100,000. It will be under the management of Mr. Fred Harvey. The Swiss chalet style of architecture has been adopted, native stone and logs being used as far as practicable. The furnishings throughout will be as luxurious and unique as those of the other Santa Fe hotel at Albuquerque, the Alvarado. There will be hot and cold water in every room, electric lights and steam heat; also an Indian curio establishment. Another new hotel, less pretentious but affording all necessary comforts, will be erected this summer at the head of Grand View trail, sixteen miles east of Bright Angel. This is near the terminus of the old stage line from Flagstaff and on the trail to the Last Chance copper mine. The trail down into the canyon there is being greatly improved.

J. A. Harlan, who is building the San Marcial depot, received the good news that he had been awarded the contract for five of the nine new brick and stone buildings to be erected at Fort Bayard. Their construction will occupy fully a year.

LOTS OF GOOD ENGINE WATER.

Santa Fe Central Railway Plan for Having 100,000 Gallons Always Available at the Track at Estancia Station.

The Santa Fe Central railway has arranged to use the unlimited water supply of the great Estancia Springs to their fullest advantage. The water of these springs is believed to be as pure as any in New Mexico and not surpassed by any for railroad use. The springs are 2,800 feet from the main track of the railway and there is a rise of nine feet from the track. The company has cleaned up, walled with concrete and connected four of the springs so that the water flows into a reservoir. From this reservoir it is conducted through a cemented tile pipe to a reservoir of 50,000 gallons capacity. There is also at the track a tank of the capacity of 50,000 gallons which is filled from the reservoir. This gives the company a capacity at the track of 100,000 gallons. An eight-inch water tower is located between the tracks and the water is conducted to this from the tank through an eight-inch pipe. An automatic arrangement has been provided at the reservoir at the tracks by which, when the reservoir is filled to the capacity of 50,000 gallons, the water is directed and flows into Estancia lake.

It is reported at Austin, Tex., that the Texas Midland railroad, which is owned by Mrs. Hetty Green, has been sold to the Rock Island-Frisco and it is to be extended south from Ennis to Waco, where it will connect with the Arkansas Pass. It connects with the St. Louis line of the Frisco at Paris, Tex.

WIDESPREAD RATE WAR.

Likely to Follow in Case Western Passenger Association Collapses.

The Chicago Evening Post says: The general opinion among western railroad men is that the Western Passenger association with all its bureaus is on the verge of collapse. Its downfall is likely to be accompanied by a widespread rate war. Indications have pointed in this direction for some time, but the result of Friday's meeting of the executive committee of the association and the Chicago-St. Paul lines has brought the expected and considerably nearer and has made dissolution almost inevitable. No hope is entertained that the recommendation of the executive committee to substitute a 2,000-mile book, good on all trains, for the credential form of interchangeable mileage now in use, will be adopted.

J. J. Byrne, wife and daughter were here yesterday, leaving last night for the east, where Mrs. Byrne and daughter will spend the summer months with eastern relatives and friends. Mr. Byrne will return in a few days, he being the popular general passenger agent of the coast lines of the Santa Fe now.

CHARGE BY THE POUND.

New Method Suggested for Handling Heavyweight Passengers.

"Some time ago," says the Railway Age, "this journal ventured to note the manifest inequity of charging the same price for carrying a 100-pound passenger, occupying single seat space, as for a 300-pound individual, requiring twice as much room; and the suggestion was offered that passenger as well as freight rates might properly be fixed by the pound. The proposition, although widely noticed, was not received with favor by the majority of the press, while the railway journals of Europe inclined to criticize it seriously. But now that Swedish statesmen have presented a proposition to tax all persons weighing over 125 pounds at a fixed rate per pound, more respectful attention is likely to be paid to the similar proposition for taxing passengers by weight. If it is right to require big men, who, of course, consume more of the air of heaven and enjoy more of the space of earth than their smaller brethren, to pay more for the privilege of living, surely it is fair to charge for the transportation of their surplus weight. Excess weight of baggage is scrupulously charged for now; why not excess weight of passengers likewise? Is a big trunk of more value than a big body?"

A CONTINUOUS LINE.

Santa Fe Is Being "Tapped" by the Salt Lake Road.

A San Bernardino paper says that an order has gone out from the offices of R. B. Burns, chief engineer for the Santa Fe coast line, directing that the stakes marking the "mutual tap" which is to connect the Salt Lake and Santa Fe main lines in Riverside, be at once set in place.

Some time ago a contract was entered into by these two companies whereby the Salt Lake trains will run over the Santa Fe's tracks from Riverside to Barstow. The latter company is now preparing to throw out the necessary connecting track. The link will be a half-mile in length and will connect the Salt Lake at the North street station. It has already been surveyed and now the center stakes will be driven.

As is the rule in such cases the Salt Lake will build half of the connection and the Santa Fe will build the other half.

At the present time the Salt Lake graders to the number of 100 are at work on an immense fill which is being built not far from the point where the company's main line will end. As soon as the fill is completed the track will be extended across it and then the final spikes driven and the Salt Lake and the Santa Fe will become a continuous line.

OF RAILROAD INTEREST.

Some Interesting Facts About the Santa Fe Cut-Off.

WORK PROGRESSING NICELY.

A trip along the line of the New Mexico Eastern or Santa Fe cut-off railroad, now in course of construction, from Belen on the Rio Grande division of the Santa Fe, to Willard where the two roads cross, revealed a greater part of the grade work accomplished and the cut work well advanced.

Tracks are now being laid out from Belen, eleven miles on the mesa. The grading is finished to the mouth of the canyon, and material is now being delivered to lay tracks to the end of the mesa grade.

Piers are being built for the first bridge entering the canyon. The piers are constructed of a cement concrete, which, although very expensive, is considered the most substantial of modern construction. A frame jacket is built in the dimensions of the pier. Into this the freshly mixed concrete is dumped by a steam hoist and left to harden. The first bridge is to rest on five piers sixty feet in height, built on a solid rock base.

The first pier of some twenty to be built supporting the five large bridges spanning Abo canyon—that is the canyon proper—was built last week and the board mold had been removed. It hardened nicely and is a power in strength.

Work of all kinds everywhere along the line is being rushed. Camps are scattered along through the canyon and over the pass at intervals of a few miles apart. Each camp is a small city of tents, nestled close up to the canyon walls grouped close together with one big tent and a little black screened house; the mess tent, where the laborers are fed, and the smoke house, where meat is kept in the center. Obtaining fresh meat, which is very essential to the working man, is the hardest proposition the contractor experiences.

None of the many rock cuts to be made are as yet finished. The rocks are loosened by powder and dynamite blasting. Most of the blasting is done in the early morning and afternoon. At this time the shots occur in different places and follow in rapid succession. The roar can be heard for many miles and resembles very much the cannonading of battle. So much of this work is being done that traveling through the canyon is dangerous and forbidden. The grade work is very pretty. The soil is of red clay; the grades are very smooth and even and symmetrical in formation.

About two miles of grade will connect the cut off with the Santa Fe Central at Willard, and track laying will begin there shortly—the material being brought in from the east over the Rock Island and the Santa Fe Central. There is a significance in this latter occurrence. It might hint that the Rock Island merger had gone through and that the Santa Fe intended using the Santa Fe Central tracks from Willard to Torrance. The Santa Fe has let no contracts for work east of Willard and their engineers seem lying idle. No bids for the work have been asked for and there seems to be quite a mutual feeling between the roads interested.

Work has just begun on the approaches of the big thirty foot dirt cut to terminate on Abo pass. The major portion of the work in this cut will be done by a steam shovel brought in over the Santa Fe Central road.

Ties and piling for small bridges are being delivered along the line from Willard to Mountainair and tracks will be laid on this part of the road first.

Boys All Right.

A. J. Frost, C. H. Dees, H. C. Wall and J. P. Duff, who left the city over a month ago to camp in Bear canyon, are still located in the mountains and, notwithstanding the rainy weather of the past few weeks, are improving in health. A member of the party, while in the city this morning for provisions, mail, etc., happened to come in contact with a Citizen representative. In an interview with the latter, he said he has found the mountain air to be very bracing and the water all that can be asked for. The scenery in certain parts of the canyon is beautiful and the boys find great pastime in taking jaunts throughout different sections of the mountains.

DEATH AT SAN PEDRO.

J. J. Jacoby, an Old Resident, Died Tuesday.

Golden, N. M., June 24.—J. J. Jacoby, an old resident of San Pedro, died yesterday at 10 o'clock a. m. He took sick on Monday noon while getting his mail and only lived forty-two hours. Mr. Jacoby came to San Pedro in 1892, and has been running a small grocery store ever since. He was in his 73d year, and an old resident of the state of Texas.

Mr. Jacoby was buried this forenoon at 10 o'clock in the San Francis cemetery at Golden. The funeral was largely attended by San Pedro and Golden people, who respected the old gentleman for his kindness to all the people.

ANGRY FATHER.

John O. Eckel identifies in Jail Brother who Stole His Daughter.

A dispatch from Phoenix, dated June 22, says: John O. Eckel, who left here on Friday night for California, has arrived at San Bernardino, where he identified his brother, William L. Eckel, and Hetta Louise Eckel, his 14 year old daughter, who was spirited from home by her uncle two weeks ago. The reunion of the wronged father and daughter was pathetic, and a dramatic scene ensued when the father faced the guilty brother.

The authorities at San Bernardino found excuses for delaying the operations of the law, staying the date of habeas corpus proceedings until Wednesday. Meanwhile, Governor Brodie today armed an officer with a requisition on the governor of California. Eckel, the father, has sworn to the complaint, charging the brother with child stealing, and Governor Pardee of California, will have an opportunity of surrendering the fugitive to Arizona authorities before his application for release is heard.

A. C. Baker, prosecuting attorney here, says that he has the most damaging case, at least may decide to prosecute Eckel on a more serious charge than child stealing. The abductor and his victim, who had traveled disguised with goggles and heavily veiled, were intensely surprised when arrested in their quarters in a San Bernardino hotel. The girl was embelished in a profusion of jewelry, and Eckel had $2,000 in cash on his person.

PEDRO ANEDONDO DROWNED.

He Was Sick and Was Going to Roswell for Medical Attention.

The man who was drowned at the eight mile draw last Wednesday had been sick and was coming to town for medical attention, says the Roswell Register.

There was a native and another man in the wagon with the unfortunate victim. The wagon upset and the well men swam to the shore. The drowning man was seen to grab hold of his bedding when the wagon upset. This was the last seen of him until his body was found two miles below.

Following is the verdict of the coroner's jury:

We, the jury and justice of the peace, who sat upon the inquest held this 10th day of June, 1903, on the body of Pedro Anedondo, found in precinct No. 1 of Chaves county, New Mexico, do find that deceased came to his death by drowning and we further find that said drowning was caused by the sole fault of said deceased, in attempting to cross a stream about eight miles west of Roswell on June 10, 1903.

CERRILLOS MINING DISTRICT.

Whalen Group of Mines—Valuable Property—Patent Applied For.

Application for patent for three mineral claims situated in Honry Gulch, in the Cerrillos mining district, and known as the Whalen group of mines, has been made by the owners, Thomas Whalen of Cerrillos and A. Geyer of Louisville, Ky., and is now pending in the United States land office at the capital until the proper time for granting the application and making the mineral entry for the claims shall have arrived. The claims are very valuable and their veins of pay ore are quite extensive. They are situated about six miles from the town of Cerrillos. The ores carry gold, silver, copper and zinc, and some contain very satisfactory values of the precious metal. A great deal of work has been done by Mr. Whalen, and in two of the claims shafts over 200 feet in depth are down, besides other shafts and extensive tunnels. Mr. Whalen came to the Cerrillos mining district in its early days in 1880, and has remained there ever since, working these claims, at times alone and at other times with a force of men. He has mined for thirty years and has worked in many mining camps in Nevada, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico. He has great faith in the mineral deposits of the Cerrillos mining district. He has been fully convinced that the successful working of the ore deposits there is a deep shaft proposition, "not a get rich quick scheme." He is sure that the Cerrillos mining district, with deep mining, intelligent and honest management and the investment of a sufficient amount of capital, will become one of the most profitable and extensive mining districts in the southwest. The fact that he has had thirty years' experience in mining, twenty-three of which he has spent in the Cerrillos mining district, certainly entitles his opinion to great weight and earnest consideration. There are two more claims belonging to the Whalen group of a similar character with those now being patented, and for which patents will be applied for this winter. Mr. Whalen is a sturdy, persistent and well informed man and of no mean experience as a miner and prospector. He has thousands of tons of good ore on the dump and as soon as the Whalen group is patented, will commence to ship to the smelter. He believes that he and his partner have a very good thing of it and is well satisfied that he stayed with the property for a space of two score and three years. Certainly, if perseverance, pluck and hard work entitle a man to a rich reward, Mr. Whalen ought to get it and his expectations in this case ought to be fully realized.

CUT OFF DOG'S EAR.

The Cruel Act of an Albuquerque Colored Man.

A BRUTE'S MEAN TRICK.

A few evenings ago a little girl was promenading on the depot platform followed by her little dog. It was at a time when several trains had just arrived and in consequence quite a crowd were mingling together along the walk. The colored man in question was also there and he was noticed whittling a piece of leather. Suddenly, as if the demon had inspired him, he snatched the little dog from the walk, and with one swipe of his sharp pen knife clipped off one of the ears of the little dog, blood spurting from the wound in all directions. The dog ran through the crowd, yelping at every leap, while the little girl stood by and cried as if her heart would break. Passengers crowded around the negro and threats of throwing the heartless brute underneath the wheels were heard, when Constable Smith squeezed himself through the crowd and took possession of the brute. He was hustled into the presence of Justice of the Peace Borchert and was asked why he cut off the dog's ear, to which he gave an answer that "cause he just like to." He was asked if he would like to have his own ear cut off, and he replied "that was another thing." Judge Borchert told the fellow "that he could see no difference between a dog's ear and a human brute's ear, especially in this case, and after giving the fellow a thoroughly good lecture he fined him $5 and costs.

A LIVING MAP.

New Mexico Welcomed President Roosevelt With It.

From the New York Tribune.

One of the unique things presented to the view of President Roosevelt during his western trip occurred in the exercises at Albuquerque, N. M. About 150 feet in front of the speaker's stand was erected an immense platform, containing a prodigious map of the United States, inclined upward, so as to be in full view of the president and his party. It was inclosed with a canopy of bunting, flags, etc., and had a little girl, dressed and labelled to represent each state, standing upon the respective state maps. Just outside a low railing in front stood a little girl with extended hands appealing for admission to Uncle Sam, who stood on the inside, opening the gate, with one hand and handing the little maiden a star with the other. The tableau was known as the "living map." Every member of the president's party was interested in the sentiment exemplified by it.

New Mexico has been a part of the public domain since 1848, and has had forty-six bills, running through half a century of time, before congress in an effort to come into the union. Her officials today assert that there are about 400,000 people in the territory. More than a thousand miles of railroads have been built since the last census was taken, one hundred and fifty postoffices have been added to the territory's list during the same time, one and one-third millions of acres of land have been entered as homesteads by settlers, and the mining, cattle, sheep, lumber and other industries have taken great forward strides. The people of the territory will reopen the statehood fight in the coming congress. The territory now has a population eight times that of Nevada, four times that of Wyoming, three times that of Idaho, larger than that of Vermont, as large as that of Utah and Montana, and almost equal to that of Oregon. In size it will be the fourth state of the union. Its area is equal to the state of New York, all of the New England states and the state of New Jersey combined.

Taken to Las Vegas.

Jacob Kephart, who has been an inmate of the county jail for some time past suffering from insanity, was taken to the Las Vegas asylum last week, where he will receive proper care and attention. His condition is regarded as serious, however, and it is very unlikely that he will ever regain his mental powers. His condition is supposed to be the result of a blow on the head received while in Old Mexico on a mining trip some years ago.—Silver City Independent.

JUDGE SMITH'S CAREER.

is a Native of Indiana, But Was Taken to Michigan in Infancy.

The following is a sketch of the career of Judge Clement Smith of Michigan, who has been appointed associate justice of New Mexico to succeed Judge Daniel H. McMillan:

ville, Barry county. His early life was spent at work upon the farm and in attending upon the district school. In 1865 and 1866 he attended the law department of the University of Michigan and was admitted to the bar in the spring of 1868, beginning the practice of law at Nashville in the same year. In 1869 he formed a law partnership with Harvey Wright at Middleville, which continued for about six months. He then returned to Nashville, where he resumed practice, which he continued alone until 1875. In that year he was elected probate judge of Barry county, and removed to Hastings. This office he held for eight years. In 1880 he formed a partnership with Philip T. Colgrove, which was continued until Judge Smith was called to the bench. On January 3, 1898, he was appointed by Governor Rich judge of the Fifth judicial circuit, and at the election following he was elected for the unexpired portion of the term and also for the full term which expired December 31, 1899.

CONSUL FIGHTS.

Mills at Chihuahua Makes Vigorous Denial of Serious Charges.

A small sized tempest has been stirred up at Chihuahua, Mexico, by the action taken by a large number of American residents in that section in asking for the recall of United States Consul W. W. Mills, says a special dispatch dated from El Paso, Texas, on June 23.

Through a friend, Consul Mills sends to the papers at El Paso a general denial of the charges preferred against him, and declares there was no attempt whatever to have the American editor of the Chihuahua Enterprise imprisoned for libel.

Washington, June 23.—The state department has received by telegram from a number of Americans residing in Chihuahua, Mexico, just how many is not known, a copy of a resolution adopted by them and directed to the secretary of state, asking the removal of W. W. Mills, United States consul at that point.

The resolutions were not at all specific in their allegations, and did not afford the state department any proper grounds for action. The burden of the complaint seems to be that the consul who is a brother of Gen. Anson Mills, retired, after six years residence in Chihuahua had become obnoxious to the American colony, or at least to a considerable portion thereof.

Following the usual custom the department sent a copy of the resolution to the consul with an invitation to explain, of which he availed, and as things now stand the department is pretty well satisfied that the complaints are not well founded. Perhaps further details of the mass meeting will come by mail, in which event the case may be reopened.

TREACHEROUS RIO GRANDE.

Martin Nolan Drowned Near the Head gates of the Canal, El Paso.

Last night at 7:30 the treacherous Rio Grande claimed another victim to add to its already long list. This time it was one of El Paso's old citizens who was taken away, says the Herald.

Martin Nolan, a carpenter by profession, who lives on the county road just east of the El Paso & North-eastern crossing, while at the canal headgates last night, was drowned. The part of the city in which Mr. Nolan resided would be overflowed in case of a serious break in the levee and naturally he was interested in knowing just what the conditions were and last night drove out to the headgates along the levee bank.

While he was attempting to turn around his horse backed the buckboard in which he was riding into the water. The force of the water was sufficient to draw the horse into the stream and before either could be rescued, both were drowned.

Mr. Nolan had been warned by the guards and those working on the levee bank that his horse was backing the buggy too close to the river bank, but he probably did not hear the warning and by the time that he found out what danger he was in, it was too late to save himself.

An attempt was made last night to recover the body of the dead man but to no avail. The buckboard, however, was located and afterwards pulled out of the water.

At the point where Mr. Nolan was drowned the river carries a very swift current and the bank breaks away very rapidly and when the weight of the buckboard was placed on the edge of the bank it caved in, throwing the rig into the water, which is also very deep at that point.

The dead man had lived in El Paso a number of years and had been following his profession as a carpenter. For a number of years he had a carpenter shop in a small adobe in the rear of Nonke's blacksmith shop.

FARMINGTON.

From the Times.

The telephone exchange for this county will be in operation in about a month.

Thos. Stoiworthy, J. B. Ashcroft, T. J. and Joe Hadden have ordered a threshing outfit and will have it ready for operation about the middle of next month.

Harry Myers and Jay Campbell, with their families will soon leave for southern Arizona, where they have the contract for the mason work on a large smelter.

Yesterday the papers were drawn up and signed transferring the Hustler printing plant to Robert C. Prewitt. Mr. Sellers will retain possession until the first of July. The consideration was $1,000. Mr. Prewitt has had experience in the newspaper field and we gladly welcome him again to the fraternity.

Wednesday Judge Pendleton, Joseph Prewitt and W. M. Reed, government locating engineer from Roswell, arrived in town. They had left Aztec the day previous and had covered the La Plata country and as far west as Fruitland and were on their return trip. They were seeking slights for government reservoirs.

We learn that Mrs. Mattie A. Bridge has a manuscript of 700 pages completed in novel form, to be published by Scribner, which is dedicated to Odd Fellowship and written in its interest. Such men as Ambrose Bierce, probably one of the first literary critics in the United States, and John Sweet, of educational fame, pronounce it a decided hit. The lady as yet refuses to give us the title of the book, which would have been published had it not been for her severe illness. Though in novel form with its tragedies, mysteries, loves and hates, it is said to cover the writer's entire journeying under the patronage and protection of the I. O. O. F., and it is to be hoped that she will give Farmington a good "send off," as she intimates that our town will certainly not be overlooked.

TUCUMCARI.

From the Democrat.

J. S. Jarrell, of Belen, N. M., is in town visiting his nephew, W. B. Jarrell.

J. E. Graham, formerly of St. Louis, late from Roy, N. M., has purchased one-half interest in the Tucumcari Furniture company store.

Geo. H. Culp, a prominent lawyer of Gainesville, Texas, and brother-in-law of Judge Foushee, returned to his home this week after a few days visit with relatives here. His mother, Mrs. Hart, who has been quite ill, accompanied him to Greenville, at which place she will spend the summer recuperating.

From the Times.

Four native laborers were arrested for carrying guns. They were unable to pay their fines and were lodged in the city jail.

Another shearer left on the Santa Rosa stage for the big ranch of H. L. Joldenberg. By means of the new shearing machines operated by gasoline engine, one man can shear 140 sheep a day as against sixty by the old method.

Col. T. W. Heman returned the first of the week from a trip over the new Amarillo extension. The colonel has charge of the right of way matters and has been over the line with W. E. Shotwell in the interest of the same.

LAS CRUCES.

From the Republican.

Miss Alice Horning left for Los Angeles, where she will spend her vacation.

Mrs. E. C. Wade and daughter, Marion, arrived safely in Washington, and are enjoying their visit with relatives at their old home.

Major Lapoint returned from a week's visit at Albuquerque. While in Albuquerque Mr. Lapoint bought a large cylinder press from the Citizen, and as soon as it is installed he will enlarge his paper.

It is reported that eleven adobe buildings were damaged during the rains last week, the worst being that of Mrs. Jarrell, where the roof of one room caved in, caused by the weight of the water soaking into the heavy mud roof, breaking the rafters. The roof fell in and most of the furniture in the room was badly broken.

TRUE AND UNFAILING HEALTH FOR SUFFERING WOMEN.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

THE WORLD'S MEDICINE FOR THE CURE OF FEMA'E TROUBLES.

A large share of the evils and sufferings which women are liable to result from special female weaknesses and diseases. From the girl entering womanhood to the woman who arrives at the Grand Climacteric or "Change of Life," there are troubles, ailments and irregularities—too often borne in silence—which undermine the health and result in disease. Where such conditions exist, Heaven help the poor sufferers to fully realize their perils and dangers!

It is well known that ordinary medical treatment too often fails to build up the delicate nervous system of woman, and give necessary tone and strength to the important female organs. The experience of years, medical testimony and letters from tens of thousands of cured women, point to Paine's Celery Compound as woman's friend and life giver. Mrs. W. I. West, Fremont, Neb., writes thus:

"I used Paine's Celery Compound for female troubles and general debility. I have taken a great deal of medicine during the last ten years, but none of them of such value as Paine's Celery Compound. I believe it is the best medicine for the nervous system and the troubles from which women suffer that I ever used."

ASYLUM INVESTIGATION.

An El Paso Witness Tells of the Proceedings at Las Vegas.

SUBSIDIZED PAPER MISQUOTED FACTS.

From the El Paso News.

Robert L. Dorbandt, who recently returned from Las Vegas, where he gave testimony in the insane asylum investigation, makes the following statement regarding the inquiry at that place:

He said: "I found the investigation commission to be men of integrity who will be governed by the testimony given in the hearing, instead of being governed in their decision by a partisan press. The gentlemen of the board were all men of standing and they paid particular attention to all that was said by the witnesses."

"The Las Vegas Optic took an undue interest in the case, and its reports from first to last were in favor of the administration of the asylum."

"In my testimony the inquiry board asked me whom, in my opinion, I thought responsible for this state of affairs, which I had been speaking about. I told them that I considered the steward, George W. Ward, responsible. My testimony was substantially the same as that given in the Evening News. I was not questioned with regard to the matter of the skeleton of Mary Leonard, as I explained to the board of inquiry that I was not responsible for that."

"The Optic shows it's bias in its editorials on the matter. In its news columns, it gave the testimony of Adolfo Gonzales, a former night watch attendant. Gonzales is a bartender in Las Vegas. He was in the institution six months. His testimony admitted that the Ferris wheel, the bucking and gagging, and the tying of patients in their beds was carried on, and that he had participated in it. The Optic thinks that because in Gonzales' testimony he says that such treatments are proper, they are proper and right. Gonzales is held up as a criterion, and his statement that he believed the gag was a necessity is taken as a justification of the asylum management in permitting such a thing."

"Gonzales was not the only one who testified to these practices. Every witness, almost, who made a sworn statement, said that he had seen the various treatments administered time and again, and that he had in some instances assisted in carrying out the punishment."

"Now the partisan papers of Las Vegas are striving to influence the opinions of the investigating board by their editorial comments. The Optic has twisted the testimony in an effort to show that the asylum was well conducted, but, as will be seen by the testimony of Gonzales, they have sometimes admitted the truth of the charges."

"They try to justify the administration of hyperdermic injections by the insane patient, Dr. Molau, to other patients. Gonzales himself admitted that he saw Dr. Molau kick a patient and twice he had seen the insane man give injections to other patients."

"I think that the board of inquiry will take cognizance of these things and I believe that they will find a verdict according to the facts as shown by the testimony. I have no complaint to make of my treatment by the board. They heard all that I had to say with respectful attention, and treated me as a gentleman throughout my presence before them."

Mr. Dorbandt says that the only complaint he had to make was in the treatment he received from the Optic, which, he asserted, misquoted him fully in the statement that he had never reported any of the charges to the steward. He says that his trouble with Ward was caused by complaints he made regarding the treatment which had been given a patient.

What Mr. Dorbandt said before the board he declares was that he had not reported the matter to the medical superintendent. The El Pasoan further says that if Ward claims he did not know of the treatment inflicted, he must have been negligent of his duty as a person in charge of the institution.

SILVER CITY.

From the Independent.

The condition of Dr. S. M. Strong, who has been very seriously ill from blood poisoning, continues to improve, and his ultimate recovery now seems assured.

Mrs. M. L. Gaston and Miss Gladys Mehan, who have been visiting here, left on Sunday's train for Albuquerque. They were accompanied by Mrs. F. M. Wynkoop and two children.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Golding, in this city, Thursday, June 18, a daughter. Mother and child are doing nicely, and Mr. Golding is wearing his new honors with becoming modesty.

The new stage mail service between Silver City and Fort Bayard and Central was inaugurated Monday by W. M. Murphy, who had secured the contract. Mr. Murphy is perfectly happy again now that he is in supreme control of a stage line of his own.

R. S. Mauer, who recently came to Silver City from Washington, D. C., with his wife, who is a daughter of Supervisor and Mrs. R. C. McClure, left last week for Santa Fe, where he has been employed by Gibson & Mitchell as manager and take charge of Summit and the tent city, a sanitarium enterprise near Santa Fe.

Clyde Smith returned last week from two months' visit to his old home at Sweet Springs, Mo., and was much benefited by the trip. He was much edited in health by the trip. Mr. Smith is deputy in various capacities in the court house has done a great deal towards getting county affairs into first class shape, and his excellent work in this regard has earned him a reputation of which he may well be proud.

Major D. M. Appel, formerly in charge of the United States military sanitarium at Fort Bayard, and who has recently returned from the Philippines, came down from Denver Friday morning and remained here and at Fort Bayard until Sunday evening. Major Appel's friends were greatly pleased to see him again, and the only regret was that his stay was limited.

AZTEC.

From the Index.

The Aztec orchestra is preparing special music for the Fourth. In all probability the Aztec and Farmington ball teams will play at Aztec on the Fourth for $150.

Frank S. Crosson, a prominent contractor of Roswell, has been looking over the county this week and is highly pleased with our valleys.

W. M. Reed, of Roswell, United States engineer for the irrigation division in New Mexico was here this week and looked over the La Plata Meadows country to determine the feasibility of constructing reservoirs to reclaim land in these fertile valleys.

WARNING TO HOMESEEKERS.

Hydrographer Newell Says Two Companies Are Swindling Settlers.

THEY SHOULD BE WATCHED.

A special dispatch from Washington under date of June 22, says:

Hydrographer Newell of the geological survey, in charge of government irrigation works, returned from Denver and the west today. He is pleased with the progress of investigations and surveys on the Gunnison river, Colorado, project, and has directed the field party to devote much of the summer mapping the irrigable lands situated so as to be reclaimed by water from the Gunnison river.

Engineers are still at work adjusting the line of the canal, determining the exact slope and diameter that will give the best results. Other representatives of the interior department have taken up the question of land titles with a view to insuring to the government all lands actually needed for its rights.

These agents are also procuring agreements from owners of lands within the proposed irrigated district signifying their willingness and pledging themselves to bear their share of the expense of getting the water through the mountains and onto their lands, as well as adjoining public lands. Mr. Newell expects to have all questions of land title adjusted by the close of the present season, and on the information gathered in the field to be able to begin work on plans for the tunnel and distributing canals early in the winter.

Hydrographer Newell also reports the discovery of a new and successful money making scheme that has grown up under the national irrigation law and which is being profitably worked throughout the west. Speaking of the find, Mr. Newell said:

"I was very much disheartened while west to find that associations for a consideration ranging from $50 to $100, are advertising by circulars and otherwise to direct homeseekers to vacant public land which they say is to be reclaimed by the national government. These associations pretend that they are formed to represent homeseekers and propose to give them 'inside information.' They have no inside information. They do not know what lands the government intends to irrigate, for no one knows that, not even the department. They simply defraud susceptible people; they are taking money for valueless service, and they are doing injury to their victims. They are sending people onto lands that will never be irrigated either by the government or by private enterprise, and I know of an instance where these associations have pointed out to three victims lands on hillsides which could not possibly be irrigated."

"I want to stamp these associations as frauds and warn all homeseekers to avoid them. One of these companies has headquarters at Omaha and another at Pendleton, Ore., but their operations extend over the entire arid west, and they are pretending to give 'inside information' concerning arid lands in every state entitled to benefits under the general reclamation law."

PHOENIX PLANING MILL.

Plenty of Work and New Machinery for This Plant.

Things are humming now a days at the Phoenix planing mill on Gold avenue, which all goes to show that this popular plant does the work entrusted to them in O. K. shape.

Fittings that have been ordered from the outside cities are now made at this mill. A hand saw, a new shaper and other modern machinery have recently been added. Contractor Hosselien supplied the new Barnett building with all the doors, window sashes and inside wood work. A dozen or more men are kept constantly at work and we reiterate that things are humming new a days at the Phoenix planing mill.

Mrs. Calvin Whiting Better.

Charles Whiting has received another letter from his brother, Calvin Whiting, regarding the condition of the latter's wife, who was stricken with paralysis a short time ago. The second letter gives the good news that Mrs. Whiting is somewhat improved, but still critical, although she is able to speak a little. Her brother, who is a physician, is with her, and has rendered valuable help. The Whiting's, as stated previously in The Citizen, reside at Deadwood, S. D., where Mr. Whiting is the manager of the Equitable Life Assurance society.

TAXABLE PROPERTY OMITTED.

County Commissioners of Sandoval County Take Steps to Remedy Defects.

Abel E. Perea, Esq., of Bernalillo, has spent several days this week in town obtaining information concerning taxable property located in the new county of Sandoval, says the Santa Fe New Mexican. He has done this under and by direction of the board of county commissioners of that county and is to report the information gathered by him to the board in special session on July 3, 1903. It seems that at a regular meeting of the board of county commissioners of that county at the county seat on the first Monday of the present month, the assessor, V. S. Miera, was not present, and that the board could get but little information concerning the tax schedules for the present year. A man by the name of Silva was in charge of the assessor's office, but he claimed that he was not a deputy assessor. The board being unable to act as a board of assessments and equalization, adjourned for two weeks and cited the assessor to appear before it with all property tax schedules received by him. This was done and the board found that a considerable part of the taxable property of the county had not been returned for assessment purposes, and that none of the land grants appeared among the tax schedules. After advising with Frank W. Clancy, Esq., district attorney, the members of the board employed Mr. Perea to collect for them all possible information concerning taxable property in the county and submit such to the board at a special meeting to be held July 3, 1903, for action and assessment. Mr. Perea has been diligently at work and will be able to report taxable property to the amount of several hundreds of thousands of dollars for the attention and action by the board at its meeting July 3 coming.

They Have Met Friends.

Llewellyn Lewis and wife, who are in the city from their home on the upper Pecos, will probably remain here until after July 4. Today, Mr. Lewis, who is a Kentuckian, met several friends from that commonwealth among whom were Attorney Nell B. Field, A. A. Trimble and W. T. McCright. The father of Mr. Lewis is one of the largest and wealthiest dry goods merchants of Louisville, known as the John T. Lewis Dry Goods company, and at present the senior Lewis and wife are sojourning in southern California. They were in the Southern Pacific wreck near San Bernardino recently and the wife and mother was quite badly injured. She is now reported much better, and, with Mr. Lewis, expects soon to return to Louisville. Llewellyn Lewis and wife, on leaving this city, will return to the Pecos, and thence to Los Angeles, where they will spend the summer.

OPERA HOUSE CHAIRS.

Chairs Vith a Mahogany Finish and Partially Upholstered Ordered for Elks' Opera House.

J. H. McGraw, a representative of the Centennial School Supply company of Denver, who has been in the city several days, has sold the Elks some nine hundred opera chairs.

The chair is a better one than the ordinary one that is found in most play houses. It has mahogany finish and part of the back is upholstered with a green leather cover. It is a very pretty chair and will add greatly to the good looks of the theater. The chairs are to be delivered within sixty days.

BASE BALL.

The Browns, Under Manager W. L. Harris, Will Cross Bats Sunday--With the Old Town Tigers.

Manager W. L. Harris of the Browns is going to be the right man in the right place, and Albuquerque is going to see some base ball games this summer. The base ball public here is a large one and will give liberal support to a first class team. This is what Manager Harris proposes to have.

Sunday afternoon at 2:45 the Browns and Old Town Tigers will play on the diamond at the fair grounds, and a good game may be expected from the start to the finish. Let us hope a good man will be put in to umpire. That is an essential thing and without it dissatisfaction is the result to the players as well as to those who pay to see the game.

Already Manager Harris has written letters to Doming, El Paso, Trinidad, Belen, Phoenix, Winslow, Socorro, Santa Rita, Madrid, Santa Fe, Williams, Winslow, Los Vegas, Fort Bayard and Silver City, and he expects to arrange games with some of these teams.

Judge Bail Dead.

Judge John D. Bail, one of the oldest and best known residents of Grant county, died at his home in Silver City last Saturday morning. He was recognized as one of the foremost lawyers of the territory, and held many positions of trust during his life time. He was Grant county's first legislative representative. He was an old soldier—a veteran of two wars. He was born in Ross county, Ohio, July 4, 1835.

JOHN WESLEY.

Services for This Great Man on Sunday at First Methodist Episcopal Church.

The 200th birthday of John Wesley, that great man of truth, will be celebrated on Sunday morning in the First Methodist Episcopal church, on Lead avenue.

The services in honor of this noble man who said: "The world is my parish" will begin at 6 o'clock with a Wesley sunrise meeting under the auspices of the Epworth League.

At 11 o'clock Pastor Frederick Vinling Fisher will preach on "John Wesley, the Man."

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock a great mass meeting of all the Methodist churches in the city and vicinity will be held, and members of other denominations are invited. There is to be an address by Rev. Robert Renison of the Episcopal church on the gospel of John Wesley. A love feast will follow, which will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Hodgson, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

The evening service will be a farewell one to Revs. T. C. Beattie and Robert Renison.

F. W. Blackwell, of New York, is in the Duke city. He is chief engineer of the General Electric company, and is here to testify in the Cochiti Gold mining case. A. S. Clark, chief auditor of the same company, is here also.

No one would think that we have had rain to look at our roads and lawns. The fact of it is that we need more rains.

CAR FOR DIAZ.

Magnificent Hotel on Wheels Built for the Mexican Government.

A private car built by the Harlan & Hollingsworth company at Wilmington, Del., for the Mexican government left the shops of the builders yesterday for the City of Mexico. It is named the Cortez, and is practically a hotel on wheels. There are a drawing room, dining room, kitchen, three bed rooms and an equal number of bath rooms. The bed rooms are furnished with dressing tables of mahogany and brass bedsteads. Curtains of green silk drape the windows and carpets of darker shade of green cover the floor. The dining room, which is also furnished in mahogany, has a center table, chairs and a side board. The kitchen is provided with a large range and an ice box, capable of holding provisions for a week's run. The cooking utensils, from the biggest boiler to the smallest knife, were in place before the car started.

The Daihart Sun says: The Rock Island Railway company will sink another well here. If this company should even hint that it contemplated a similar expenditure and improvements at the little village of Tucumcari, there would be an immediate rise in the value of the real estate the next day of 25 per cent—and every Daihart man who owns property there and could would unload and breathe a sigh of great relief.

Stockholders of the Florida Central are to meet on the 30th inst. to consider the consolidation with or purchase by the Seaboard Air Line.

THREE SWEET GRADUATES.

Misses Wincheck, Tierney and Gatlin at St. Vincent Academy.

A MOST PLEASING PROGRAM.

The evening of June 23 was the occasion of the annual commencement of St. Vincent's.

The exercises took place in the pretty auditorium belonging to the academy.

The stage was tastefully decorated with ferns, palms and flowers. The class motto, "Labor Omnia Vincit," occupied a conspicuous place above the stage.

The auditorium was filled by the parents and friends who thronged in when the doors were opened.

Precisely at 8 o'clock the pupils, arrayed in dainty white gowns, entered from the doors to the left of the stage and, ascending the hall with the easy grace peculiar to the Delarte movement, took their places on the stage.

The three "sweet girl graduates" in their snowy silken robes, symbolic of youth and purity, appeared doubly charming.

While poetry, music, flowers and fragrance united in forming a delightful picture for the aesthetic side of nature.

After the faultless rendition of the opening number, Miss Mamie Tierney the fair salutarian, demonstrated clearly that the honor had not been misplaced. Beautiful ideas, correct meters and choice language characterized her efforts. Her production was delivered in a pleasing, easy style peculiar to her, and struck the keynote to popular thought which elicited genuine appreciation from her hearers.

A violin selection by Miss A. Girard with piano accompaniment by Miss A. Korber proved a pleasing feature of the program.

MARIE HOPE WINCHECK, Class Orator and Author of Class Poem.

"Le Irene," the subject of a brilliant recitation by Miss Marie Wincheck spoke volumes of praise for the young lady. Her clear, sweet voice, perfectly modulated tones and thorough conception of the subject rendered her efforts most pleasing. The young lady possesses that vividness of description which is rarely attained by those who spend much more time in the study of elocution.

A poetical recitation "Lift the Curtain" by Miss Ethel Gatlin, another of the fair young graduates, was beautifully rendered. The young lady brought each scene before the audience and with mastery skill portrayed the characters as they passed in rapid succession. Her graceful gesticulation high order and manifests the thorough and pathetic style showed ability of a training she has received.

"The Story of the Bells" was charmingly pantomimed by a number of young ladies, Miss M. Brennan reciting the poem and Miss K. Romero accompanying on the piano.

Miss Mamie Tierney's recital of "The Spanish Chieftain" was one of the most interesting numbers on the program. Her pleasing address, graceful posing and clear ringing voice added much to the beauties of the piece.

An instrumental number by Misses L. Sheehan, K. Romero, A. Shinick and J. Armijo pleased the audience as few amateur performers succeed in doing.

The literary gem of the evening was unquestionably Miss Marie Wincheck's oration, "Labor Conquers All Things." With a strength of sentiment and a perfection of rhetorical style seldom found in so young a writer, Miss Wincheck explained how honest labor ennoble and beautifies the various pursuits in life, and how many hearts and beautiful womanly natures have labored to make homes happy and our nation one of the grandest time has ever known.

A bright vocal selection came next on the program, Miss J. Walsh presiding.

The valedictory by Miss E. Gatlin was most beautiful in thought and expression and what rendered it so much more impressive was the tender pathetic way in which it was delivered.

"Honors to the honored" were then awarded by Rev. Father Gentile.

Judge B. S. Baker then stepped on the rostrum and addressed the class in his usual encouraging way.

The class song was then rendered, the fair vocalists seemed inspired and as the sweet refrains echoed through the halls, the audience voiced the sentiment that the evening was well spent in the atmosphere of the beautiful and literary St. Vincent's. The term just closed has been a very successful one. The teachers, students, patrons and friends all feel that St. Vincent's aims to secure the highest that can be attained. The large attendance will serve to encourage the faculty to renewed efforts in the educational field.

To us, for long delightful years,
This pretty site, these sacred walls
Have been our home, and free from fears
We lived within these stately halls.

Now, time commanding, bids us part
From "Alma Mater's" loving spell,
And say to all, dear to our hearts,
The saddest of all words—farewell!

Each soul before the parting sigh
One moment waits and views the place
Where, during happy years gone by,
It learn't to run life's slippery race.

May He who mark's the sparrow's fall,
Bless those, while endless ages roll,
Who sowed, within St. Vincent's halls

The germ of virtue in our souls.
—Marie H. Wincheck.

Card of Thanks.

The graduates of St. Vincent's extend the sincerest thanks to the following young gentlemen who so kindly acted as ushers last evening, and did all in their power to render the occasion a pleasant one: Messrs. J. Tierney, F. Wincheck, R. Gatlin, M. Hartnett, C. White, T. Keleher, J. Scotti, Stroup.

GRADUATES OF ST. VINCENT'S.

ALBUQUERQUE A FINE CITY.

Editor L-point, of the Las Cruces Citizen, Has a Few Words to Say.

Last week the first time in eight years we took a run up to the Duke city, and found many new and handsome improvements.

The city proper is four miles long by two and a half wide. Most of the edifices are of modern structure, and not only in its radius, but as far as one's sight can reach on all sides, it is covered with magnificent shade trees, flowers and shrubbery.

The depot represents an ancient Spanish castle and covers about two blocks, where an elegant hotel, railroad office and all other business pertaining to the railroad company is located. The whole structure is surrounded by brick walks, lawns and at night is lighted by electricity. It is well worth seeing.

The constant rains, while there, prevented our visiting its many institutions, woolen and saw mills and other industries; therefore had to content ourselves with lots of political gossip, and judging from talk, and taking an impartial view, the county and city will give, not so large, but a good republican majority.

Although, it was said, by the creation of the new county of Sandoval, and no doubt desired by a few who would like to take charge of the pie counter, that the Hubbells had seen their day. It isn't so, as Tom is the best sheriff Bernalillo county ever had, and the people appear to be well satisfied with his administration. Frank, his brother, is a newspaper man, and is interested with the best and most ably edited Spanish paper in that county, La Bandera Americana. They both own large sheep and cattle ranches, and employ many people. Besides, they are both genial gentlemen, and their friends compose the majority of the city and county—Las Cruces Citizen.

ANNABLE-BAHR.

Fred L. Annable and Miss Lulu Claire Bahr Married.

At 12 o'clock, noon, Tuesday, at San Bernardino, Fred L. Annable and Miss Lulu Claire Bahr, were made husband and wife, the Rev. Mark B. Shaw pronouncing the words. Mr. Annable is the chief clerk in Superintendent I. L. Hibbard's office at Winslow. Miss Bahr is well known in San Bernardino county, having been county superintendent of schools at one time. The happy couple will be at home in Winslow, Arizona, after July 15. Among the guests present at the ceremony were Mrs. J. D. Stack, at one time a teacher in the Needles school; Philip C. Allen, trainmaster of the Santa Fe at this point for a number of years, and Rufus Goodrich, now stenographer for Superintendent I. L. Hibbard at Winslow, but for several years holding a like position with John Denair.

THEY WERE FROM SANTA FE.

The Two Indians Killed in Wreck at Hurlow Station.

In the freight wreck near Waldo station on the Santa Fe railway on Monday evening last, in which a fireman was killed, according to a dispatch received by Superintendent Clinton J. Crandall, of the United States Indian Industrial school, at Santa Fe, two Santo Domingo Pueblo Indians who were stealing a ride were also killed. Superintendent Crandall has standing a very strict order to the Indians to keep away from railroad, freight and passenger trains and not to steal rides on them. It seems, however, that the Indians very often disobey these orders. It will be remembered that about a year ago in a railroad wreck near Thornton, three Pueblo Indians were killed. These accidents are not taken much to heart and are very easily forgotten by the Indians.

A Mosquito Story.

Yesterday afternoon half a dozen boys went down to the river, in the vicinity of the old town bridge, and took a bath in the muddy waters. In that neighborhood mosquitoes are thicker than flies around a molasses barrel, and the boys soon found this fact out. "Farmer" says positively that a million mosquitoes swarmed around Harry Hohlman and were flying off with him when his associates rallied to his assistance, and after a desperate battle in which mosquitoes were killed by the wholesale Harry was finally rescued. The boys are suffering the after results of many bites today, and each one proclaims in straight words that they will not go swimming until the "swampy varmints" disappear.

BILLY MENASCO'S NOSE.

It Came in Contact With Hard Ground Last Night.

Billy Menasco, the well known clerk, is no lover of high sidewalks, and if he ever breaks into the city council as a member he proposes to have all the grades in the city on a level with the ground, regardless of the opinion of civil engineers and surveyors. He has just cause for a kick, and if any one doubts the assertion just call on Billy and take a peep at his well defined nose. Last night, or rather early this morning, Billy meandered to his room on West Gold avenue, after having spent several hours with friends discussing the good qualities of the Eagles, when he struck one of the off-grade high sidewalks and before he could say Jack Robinson his nose was plowing into the hard ground. He picked himself up as neatly and scientifically as possible, under the circumstances, and on brushing off the dirt continued to his room. The looking glass revealed to him the fact that his nose had got the worst of the fall. It will be several days before that nose assumes its original appearance, and today Mr. Menasco is making a vigorous campaign against high sidewalks.

MEMPHIS TO CHANUTE.

Contract Let for Start of a New Railroad.

A contract to build the first twenty-five miles of railroad of the Arkansas, Missouri & Kansas railway has been awarded to the Atlas Construction company, says a dispatch from Joplin, Mo. Work on the road will begin at once. A townsite company has been organized by members of the company with a million dollars capital and work will begin in laying out fifty new towns along the line. The $13,000,000 bonds of the road have been purchased by an English syndicate and the money is now on deposit to build the line, which extends from Memphis, Tenn., to Chantute, Kas., a distance of 450 miles. The grade of the Southwest Missouri electric line between Joplin and Cottonwood is finished and rails are now laying. The new branch to Duenweg is about half finished and it is announced that both lines will be in operation by September.

RODEY MAKES PROTEST.

He Does Not Like the Appointment of Judge Smith

CONFERENCE WITH PRESIDENT.

A special dispatch from Washington to the Denver Republican, dated June 23, says:

There was a stormy scene at the white house this morning when Delegate Rodey of New Mexico called to protest against the appointment of Judge C. C. Smith of Michigan to succeed Judge Daniel H. McMillan of the New Mexico supreme court. Delegate Rodey, in very plain language, told the president that this appointment was not at all satisfactory to the people of the territory, for they believed that residents of the territory would be given the territorial offices, and had particular pledges as to the successor of Judge McMillan.

President Roosevelt intimated that this place had been promised to friends of Judge Smith some time ago, and explained that the appointment having been made could not be revoked, whereupon Delegate Rodey flared up and told the president that the people of New Mexico will fight Judge Smith's confirmation in the senate to the bitter end, and will do everything in their power to have the senate turn down the president's appointment.

Prior to the stormy incident Delegate Rodey introduced to the president Ishmael Sparks, mayor of Santa Fe, another prominent citizen of the territory. Their object in seeing the president was to urge him to issue a proclamation turning over to Santa Fe the old military reservation in that city. The reservation was abandoned some years ago and some time ago the war department turned it over to the interior department for sale. It is claimed that the president has full right to dispose of the property to the city of Santa Fe. The land is much desired for public schools, and for that purpose is worth much more than its intrinsic value.

The president is giving the request consideration.

President Upsets Plans of Knox.

It was learned today that President Roosevelt only yesterday decided to appoint Clement C. Smith to the New Mexico judgeship to succeed McMillan. An arrangement had been made by Attorney General Knox to transfer to Judge McMillan's place Judge Louis Sulzbacher, now associate justice of the supreme court of Porto Rico, who formerly resided in New Mexico. Judge Sulzbacher is now in Washington, having been summoned by Attorney General Knox, who believed the transfer would be authorized by the president. When the president learned that the scheme had been all fixed up without his knowledge, he showed indignation and at once destroyed the order prepared by Knox, and as promptly appointed Judge Smith, to whom he had over a year ago promised the first vacancy in a territorial court. Judge Sulzbacher will return to Porto Rico.

Delegate Rodey today called on Senator Burrows, who brought Judge Smith's case before the president yesterday, and in very hot language denounced the Michigan senator for daring to interfere in New Mexico appointments. He said he did not interfere in Michigan and warned Senator Burrows hereafter not to interfere in his territory.

A Direct Violation.

A special dispatch from Washington to the Denver News, dated June 23, says:

The appointment of Judge Clements Smith of Hastings, Mich., to the supreme bench of New Mexico, to succeed Judge McMillan, removed, is very likely to stir up a row among New Mexicans. Delegate Rodey (New Mexico), in speaking of the appointment today, said: "New Mexico will not stand for the nomination of Judge Smith. We will fight it to a finish and I believe we can prevent its confirmation by the senate. We want a citizen of the territory appointed to fill McMillan's position. There are a number of men there capable of performing the duties attached to it. Among others, I might mention Judge Campbell of the interior department and Messrs. Reed of Roswell, Kelly of Socorro and Clancy of Albuquerque. We want home men. The appointment of Smith is a direct violation of the republican national platform declaration in favor of home rule for territories."

A device for diminishing the wind pressure on a railroad train running at a high rate of speed has been adopted on the suburban lines of the Pacific Electric railway with the most satisfactory results. It is represented that an electric car equipped with a wind plow requires only 230 horse power of electric energy to travel at the rate of sixty miles an hour. Without this device 290 horse power is applied to attain the same rate of speed.

A CITY OF DESTINY.

An Old Timer's Prophecy Regarding the Future of Deming.

COMPARED WITH DENVER YEARS AGO.

Special Correspondence.

Deming, N. M., June 21.—Over forty years ago Governor Gilpin of Colorado stood before a small row of shanties in front of a log cabin saloon in what is now the city of Denver, and prophesied a great future for Denver and the state of Colorado. The words of the good old pioneer cannot be reported verbatim at this late day, but the substance will still be remembered by some of the old timers of that day. It was a motley looking crowd, unshaven, roughly clad, hardy, sun-burned veterans of adventure underneath whose untanned buckskins and rough canvas clothes beat some as brave and noble hearts as ever crossed the plains. There were college graduates, young lawyers, doctors, merchants, tradesmen, miners, ranchmen, gamblers, renegades, refugees from justice and even one or two ministers of the gospel, all filled to overflowing with a spirit of adventure and ambition to succeed in the many vocations which in their wild visions they had chosen to follow. This was the kind of an audience addressed by the old hero, Governor Gilpin, and from his fertile brain and silver tongue came beautiful visions of life, hope and prosperity. Pictures were drawn of the beautiful city of the plains, surrounded and sustained by waving wheat fields, orchards, vineyards, gardens, parks, artistic and beautiful homes, mansions, cottages, great outlying ranches and the luxurious grass carpeted plains, stocked with the cattle of a thousand hills, sheep herds to rival the fables of old, gold and silver to be wrenched from the rock ridged mountains of that empire of hidden wealth. He pictured the great Rocky mountain range to the north, south and west, and the luxurious grass covered plains lying off east of the faded city. He showed that in time all these wealth producing environments would contribute to and be the means of building up a city of wealth and beauty, a far western seat of learning and progress. The most important center of the union, settled and peopled by the most intellectual, far seeing business men, great lawyers, men of letters, journalists and other professionals came from that list of hardy big brained pioneer adventurers, and the old time governor lived to see many of his prophecies become veritable facts. To such men the world owes a debt of gratitude which it can never pay. They beat down the bush and blazed out the way to the empire of the west, and made it possible for the faint hearted and timid to come later, and partake of and enjoy the treasures of life and prosperity of this land of promise. The writer of this reminiscence article, having seen the old governor's prophecy fulfilled, made a mental survey of the surroundings and therefrom made some deductions and by comparisons twenty years later of the similar conditions. He figured out that he had found another place where another great city of the plains must sooner or later be founded. He founded his city in the center of the Mimbres valley and mapped out a small empire whose center he located in this valley. The city is surrounded by picturesque mountains on all sides where the sun rises in his glory and sets in magnificent splendor. Where the brilliant constellations of the heavens sparkle and twinkle like diamonds in the skies. Where the electric life giving balmy breezes, pure ozone, bright sunshine and pure, dry air make it possible for the germs of tuberculosis to enter and live. Where the pure crystal waters of a great underground river flow from twenty to fifty feet under the surface perpetually; and which can be tapped and brought to the surface very economically in any quantity desired; where the rich alluvial soil of millions of acres lie ready to drink in the waters and give forth fruits and flowers, for the use and pleasure of men and women; where semi-natural reservoirs can be made to hold the reserve of the flood waters of the rainy season. A great water shed of one hundred and fifty miles, drains the mountain streams, springs and canyons and the waters can be gathered and stored for the use of agricultural and horticultural needs of men. Through this vast region a railroad from San Juan, in Colorado, to Deming is already projected. This road will pass through the greatest timber and coal regions of the middle west, and all along this line for fifty miles on each side great immense herds of cattle and sheep. Gold and silver mines, iron, copper and lead are also found along this line,

HOW HEALTH IS GAINED

The story of a great deal of the unhappiness of women is the story of lost health. Women wonder how it is that little by little the form loses plumpness, the cheeks grow hollow and sallow, and they feel tired and worn-out all the time. In a large proportion of cases when women are weak, run-down and falling off in flesh and blood, the root of the trouble can be traced to womanly diseases which undermine the general health. The proof of this is that women who have been cured of painful womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription have recovered their general health, gained in flesh and in appearance.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which sap the general health. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

I suffered for three years with ovarian trouble," writes Mrs. Anna Conner, Treasurer of the Woman's Athletic Club, of 201 Sycamore St., Milwaukee, Wis. "The treatment I took did not do me a particle of good, until I got Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gave me a new lease of life. In nine weeks I was a different woman, my flesh which had been fairly become firm, complexion clear and my eyes bright. It was simply an indication of the great change within from pain and suffering to health and happiness."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

and all this immense traffic will find its outlet at Deming. On the east of this new city of destiny to the Rio Grande river, and on the south and southwest for one hundred and fifty miles immense herds of cattle live and thrive on the rich meadows which cover these vast prairies, and on the west to the Arizona line the same conditions prevail. From these vast plains Deming already receives and ships east over one hundred thousand beef cattle annually, and this number is constantly on the increase. These roving herds of the plains are well graded and improved stock. The Texas long horn and the Mexican dwarf have almost entirely disappeared, and have been replaced by the improved American stock. This business has proved immensely profitable, and hundreds of intelligent, practical stock men, who commenced here a few years ago with a few hundred head of cattle are now independent and many of them rich in this world's goods. Another new railroad, and perhaps two more, will reach this city within the present year. These, with the four roads already here, will make Deming a railroad center of no little importance. This is not all. A great smelter and a number of other manufacturing enterprises are already decided upon, and will come at an early period. And again this is not all. The great national colony and sanitarium for consumptives has been permanently located here, and this of itself will in a comparatively short time make Deming a city of twenty thousand people. Preparations are now being made to care for this class of sufferers by the thousands. This enterprise is founded on the broadest and most humane principle, and altogether different from anything of the kind ever organized in this country before, being purely benevolent in its character and is so guarded as to make it impossible to turn it any way to speculation for personal gain and so practical and its rules so well prescribed as to make failure impossible. These suffering people will come here and get well and invest their money, build factories and open up and improve the city and country generally. Now, gentle reader, don't become alarmed by any danger of contracting the disease here, because there was never known a case of tuberculosis to originate here, and it has never been communicated to those coming in contact with it in this climate. Physicians and nurses never take it from their patients. The germs of consumption simply cannot live here; hence as a health resort and permanent cure for this class of people the colony will grow and expand for generations to come. Comparing the conditions here for making a great city with those of Denver, Colo., in the days of early history, we find many similar characteristics.

1. Denver was the great middle center between the Mississippi river and the Pacific ocean for the middle or northern route to the coast, and had of necessity to become a great midway station between the Mississippi river and Pacific coast.

Denver had the only location upon which to found the great city in Colorado. It had land, water and the best climatic conditions to be found in Colorado.

Deming has the land, water, health, railroad center and in nearly every respect stands in about the same relation to New Mexico that Denver did to Colorado. Denver had the mineral wealth of a portion of the Rockies to draw from and the great cattle ranges on the east. Deming has the great prairies, east, west and north of it, abounding in luxurious grasses and abundance of pure water. These nutritious grasses, unlike those of the more northern ranges, are never killed by frost, but dry up and cure upon the ground like hay and make good food for winter grazing. The herds on these ranges keep in good growing condition all the year round, and four-fifths of the year fat enough for beef. The climate is so mild that the miner can work on top or under ground in mid winter without inconvenience.

The great surrounding mining districts provide a perpetual revenue which adds substantial and solid wealth to the country and in time farming on these rich lands by irrigation from storage reservoirs and by raising water from the underground by a cheap system and by sinking artesian wells wherever the conditions are such that flowing wells are practicable. Some experiments have been made already west of us and have been very satisfactory. I specially mention all these resources not in the interest of any company or individual, but to show those who come here to restore their health that when cured they can take up any of these vocations and live and prosper here as well as anywhere else in the United States. Also as an assurance to those who come here to embark in manufacturing and other business, that we have all the elements to insure success in every department in all these vocations. In two hours' run by rail from this city north to Hanover are to be found some of the finest iron deposits in the world. The iron is a very superior quality, and is now being shipped by train loads daily to Pueblo, Colo., a distance of 600 miles, to the great iron and steel works in that city, which they use for making the best quality of steel rails and other first class steel products. In the same district, to-wit: Santa Ana and Hanover, are found some of the finest producing copper mines in the southwest, notably the Anaconda Copper company and the Phelps Dodge Copper company. Near by to this camp to the southwest and north, are found the gold, silver and lead mines of the Mogollons, Pinos Altos and Burro mountains and on the south and southwest are located the gold and silver mines of the Floridas, Tres Hermanos, Corsallias. The New Mexico and Southwestern railroad, recently built, taps the great gold, silver and copper mines of northern Old Mexico and eastern Arizona. These connections settle all questions as to the future importance of Deming as a central distributing point. In fact, its geographical location is such that it must in time become the metropolis of the southwest. In parenthesis I will say for the benefit of the investors, that no section presents safer and better opportunities for investments than this. This article is written especially for the benefit of health seekers, and more especially for those afflicted with pulmonary troubles. The writer of this is offering to sell you nothing, and any profit derived to him will be in common with all other citizens from the increase of business and the value of property, which will naturally follow in its wake, and, of course, this will be shared by all alike. The main object of the writer is to lay before the public the facts and ask of them an impartial investigation before making any move. All inquiries in regard to statements herein set forth will be cheerfully answered by the secretary of the auxiliary board of the national colony and sanitarium for consumptives, box 1, Deming, N. M.

"I have been troubled for some time with indigestion and sour stomach," says Mrs. Sarah W. Curtis, of Lee, Mass., "and have been taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets which have helped me very much so that now I can eat many things that before I could not." If you have any trouble with your stomach why not take these tablets and get well? For sale by all druggists.

A convention of air-brake men gave out the following statistics: A train running eighty miles an hour was stopped in 2.24 seconds by the high-speed brake at 110 pounds, where ordinary pressure of seventy pounds took exactly half a mile to bring it to a standstill.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are just what you need when you have no appetite, feel dull after eating and wake up with a bad taste in your mouth. They will improve your appetite, cleanse and invigorate your stomach and give you a relish for your food. For sale by all druggists.

The San Bernardino Sun says A. Perea of the Santa Fe machine shops in Albuquerque was in the city for a short time yesterday. He was on his way to Los Angeles and from thence he will go to San Francisco for a fortnight's vacation.

I sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than all similar preparations put together and it gives the best satisfaction of any medicine I ever sold. I guarantee every bottle of it.—F. C. Jaquith, Inland, Mich. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

TWENTY-FOUR YEARS AGO.

How the Mails Were Carried During the Early Indian Days.

LAND OF MIDNIGHT HORROR.

In 1879 Maj. Elliott N. Barber signed a contract to carry the United States mails from Rincon, N. M., to Tombstone, Ariz., a distance of 150 miles, says the "Frontier Sketches" writer in the Denver Field and Farm. "Because of the hot weather it was thought best that I should ride at night," says Major Barber in recounting the circumstances of the initial trip. "Besides there was less danger from Apaches and Maricopas in the night. Imagine my feelings when I started on a fiery bronco from the mining camp at Tombstone one evening in August on my first ride over the mail route. I had food enough for three days and was armed with a carbine and two pistols. I shall never forget that night. While I was terrified at every sound nothing desperate happened. The next morning I stopped at a Mexican camp, where I had an order for a fresh horse. I rested until early afternoon, and after being warned to be constantly on guard, I started out. I passed Fort Bowie off at the south about twenty miles and followed the trail northward. All went well until late that evening. It was very dark but I had become used to that.

"Suddenly my horses dropped. I almost pitched forward off the beast. Then the animal snorted and pawed. In vain I stuck spurs into the horse's flanks and tried to urge him on. It was no use. I looked about carefully and descried something lying close to the trail. I dismounted and felt about the ground with my feet. I felt the hard, stiff body of a dead man. In all my experiences in the sanguinary days of the Colorado mining camps I never had the sensations of that stumbling on a dead body in that lonely, God-forsaken spot in Apache land at dark night. I felt the body over and over, and by the flickering light of the matches I held over the dead man's face I saw that he was a Mexican and that he had been shot in the neck and chest.

"It was the work of Indians. The scalp had been lifted from the crown of the head and the telltale Apache marks of slashing knives were on the chest and shoulders. I remounted and started off at a lively gait. Two hours later I was at the little Mormon settlement, now abandoned, of Mayfield. There I told of my discovery. The ranchmen paid no attention to it. They said that none of them had dared to go alone out in the country for weeks and that the Apaches under old Cochise had held the region in terror for nearly a year. Only a month before two Mormon ranchmen had been killed while returning from Fort Bowie and their bodies robbed and hacked to pieces. That night I saw two Apache campfires away off twenty miles distant in the foothills of the Mesquero mountains.

"At dawn I came upon a pack train of United States cavalry on the way to Fort Grant. I rested there a few hours and with my saddle and a pillow slept hard. At early evening I started on toward Rincon and reached there next morning. I turned my mail pouch over to the postmaster and was told that a return mail would be ready in twenty-four hours. On the way back to Tombstone I passed within two miles of a band of painted Apaches, but I was within ten miles of Fort Bowie and they did not dare chase me. Those days were the bloodiest we have ever had in the southwest. It took a stout heart and a heap of hard work to make one's way across the trails in Apache land every week. There were reports almost weekly of some murderous foray by the Indians. Thousands of settlers abandoned their holdings and fled for their lives. There must have been 500 white people killed that year."

Starting Evidence. Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Bentonville, Va., serves as example. He writes as follows: "I had bronchitis for three years and doctor after doctor failed to cure me. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all lung and throat troubles, consumption, pneumonia and grip. Guaranteed by all druggists. Trial bottles free, regular size 50c and $1.00.

GREAT RAILWAY GROWTH.

Interstate Commerce Report Shows 5,243 Miles of Additional Road.

The interstate commerce commission has prepared a summary of its report of railroads of the United States for the fiscal year which closed June 30, 1902. It shows that the total single track railway mileage on June 30 in the United States was 202,471 miles, having increased during the year 5,243 miles. This increase was greater than that for any other year since 1890. The states and territories for which an increase in mileage in excess of 100 miles is shown are:

Arkansas, California, Georgia, Illinois, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, Ohio, Texas, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Indian Territory, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Including side tracks, double tracks, etc., the total trackage is 274,195 miles. There was 41,228 locomotives and 1,640,220 cars, not including private cars, used during the year. Of these 36,991 were in the passenger service. The total number of employees was 1,189,315. The amount paid in salaries and wages was $676,028,592. The compensation of the railway employees for 1902 is equivalent to 60.50 per cent of the operating expenses of the railway companies and 39.16 per cent of their gross receipts.

The amount of railway capital outstanding on June 30 was $12,134,182,961, or $62,301 per mile of line. The funded debt was $6,109,981,669. The amount of capital stock paying no dividend was $2,686,556,614 or 44.60 per cent of the total amount outstanding. Omitting equipment, trust obligations, the amount of the funded debt which paid no interest was $294,175,243.

The number of passengers carried was 649,878,505 and the number of tons of freight, 111,089,347. The gross earnings of all the roads for the year were $1,726,380,267, and the gross expenses $1,116,248,747.

The total dividends declared for the year were $185,421,239.

The total number of casualties to persons on account of railway accidents as shown for the year was 73,250, including 8,588 killed and 64,662 injured. Of employees 2,969 were killed and 50,524 were injured. The number of passengers killed was 345 and the number injured was 6,683. One of every 401 employees was killed and one was injured. One passenger was killed for every 1,883,706 carried and one injured for every 97,244 carried.

Ratios based upon the number of miles traveled, however, show that 57,072,283 passenger miles were accomplished for each passenger killed and 2,946,272 passenger miles accomplished for each passenger injured.

PROFITABLE WESTERN TRIP.

Roosevelt Got Three Wagon Loads of Presents.

President Roosevelt received over three wagon loads of present of all kinds during his western trip, and these have been disposed of in the white house to suit the tastes and desires of the president and his family. The heaviest and bulkiest of the presents was an immense chair made from elk horns. A big elk in the park at Tacoma, Wash., has annually shed his horns. These have been preserved, and it was from them that the chair for the president was made. The chair is so heavy that several men are required to lift and move it. Another rather strange present gathered at Tacoma was a pair of totem poles, the combination gravestone and family tree of the Alaskan and western tribes of Indians. These poles, erected over Indian graves, contain curious characters, which furnish a history of the dead and the family of the dead. A splendid set of Indian pottery was presented to the president by Pueblo Indians, near Albuquerque, N. M., and the same place also gave him a fine Navajo blanket, one of the best ever made in the west.

San Francisco presented a magnificent gold and silver cup and Sacramento a silver and glass claret pitcher and a handsome cigar case.

Colfax, Cal., gave the president a box of gold and silver ore. Stuffed deer head, stuffed mountain sheep, pheasants, lizards and nearly all the other products of the west were given to the president at the different points on his journey. At one place he was given a set of locked deer horns, taken from two deer that had died with their horns locked after fatal combat. Brides and saddles were plentiful throughout the journey. At Cheyenne the president was presented with a beautiful horse, equipped with saddle, bridle and every other necessary for a rider. At Omaha somebody gave him a bridle woven from hair.

There would have been a car full of live animals had the president accepted all the presents of this kind offered him. At three or four places offers of live bears were made to him, but he declined these with thanks. He did bring back with him, however, one live present. That was a little badger, given to him by a little girl living at Sharon Springs, Kas. She asked the president to name it after her little brother whose name is Josiah. So the little badger, a bright and entertaining little fellow, was known throughout the trip as Josiah. He was taken all the way from Sharon Springs throughout the Pacific coast and back to the west on the presidential train. Josiah is a particular pet of the Roosevelt children and has been taken to Oyster Bay, where he will spend the summer with the children. There were several presents of gold and silver of unique design.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

United States Department of Agriculture, Climate and Crop Bulletin of the Weather Bureau, New Mexico Section.

Santa Fe, N. M., June 16.—Another week of almost daily showers over northern and central New Mexico, and good rains over southern sections in the middle of the week. As a rule, the rains have come as gentle, soaking showers, doing the greatest possible good, but in some localities of the northeast and north central counties the showers have been very heavy, and some almost in the nature of a "cloudburst," causing considerable damage to property and crops. Also in Lincoln, San Miguel and Mora counties accompanying hail proved quite destructive to crops and to spring kids and lambs. Rivers and streams are bank full; the Rio Grande swollen beyond its banks by the rains and rapidly melting snows of the mountains, has flooded the adjacent lowlands. Hundreds of small farmers in the valley will lose all or most of their crops, as towns along the river are threatened. While vegetation generally is still backward on account of the cool weather, growing crops, with the exceptions noted, are in very good condition. Cattle are coming fast and stock shows rapid improvement.

The following remarks are extracted from reports of correspondents: Albert—H. M. Hanson: Fine rains at last, falling without floods or damage of any kind. Cloudy and rainy throughout the entire week. Good grass, at least for a while, is now assured, also probably a good second crop of alfalfa. Some late planting of beans, corn and cane will be done. The rains close the longest spring and early summer drought in the experience of the writer. Highest temperature, 77; lowest, 46; rain, 4.21.

Andrews—A. S. Warren: Forty-eight hours of steady rain, with cold winds, and still raining. Hay crop ruined.

Arabella—A. M. Richardson: Light rains all week, and a heavy rain the night of the 7th. Highest temperature, 78; lowest, 46; rain, 1.08.

Carlsbad—H. P. Christian: Began raining night of the 11th and continued to night of the 12th. General rains all over Eddy county. This insures grass for the stock and will be a great benefit to the farmers.

Dorsey—Will C. Barnes: Never before has this part of the globe had such a good soaking; fifteen days of almost continuous rain and none of it wasted, coming so soft and easy that all of it went into the thirsty ground. A few days of sunshine would now be welcome. Rainfall for the month to date, 5.35 inches.

Folsom—Jackson Tabor: A week of clouds and storm. The rain has been steady and the ground is soaked. Good grass is assured, but everything is backward on account of the cool weather. Highest temperature, 64; lowest, 40; rain, 3.71.

Fort Stanton—Ernest W. Halstead: Rains of the past week have started the grass on the ranges, but the cold weather accompanying has been hard on growing crops. Alfalfa has begun to bloom. Highest temperature, 73; lowest, 41; rain, 1.19.

Glencoe—Wilbur F. Coe and Annie E. Coe: Much rain with occasional hail. Hay has greatly damaged gardens, and also sheep and goats have suffered. Range stock is looking well.

Golden—R. M. Carley: Light showers during the past week have given new life to the grass, and both mountains and plains look like meadows. Crops doing well, but growing slowly on account of the cold weather.

Laguna—Gus Weiss: Abundance of rain; creeks all full and running over. More rain has fallen than for ten years past. Grass is growing nicely and stock in fine condition. Only July rains needed now to insure large crops. Present indications point to the most prosperous season in years.

Las Vegas—Wm. Curtis Bailey: Cloudy with rain and cool nights. Considerable hail the 8th. The rains have been of such a nature that very little damage to crops has resulted. Vegetation now needs more sun and warmer weather. Highest temperature, 69; lowest, 42; rain, 3.44.

Los Alamos—William Frank: It rained during the past week; no hope for further growth of crops until the sun comes out. Some sheep killed by hail near Sapello; from 70 to 200 being reported. Crops in that section also badly wrecked.

Mesa Park—R. H. Hart: A slow, soaking rain, which has been of great benefit. Wheat is turning brown; chili is on the market. Highest temperature, 97; lowest, 52; rain, 3.25.

Ojo Caliente—A. Joseph: It has been raining in this section since the first of the month. Crops look most promising and grass on the ranges is in excellent condition. The streams are bank full at this time, something that has not occurred since 1881.

Redrock—Louis Chample: Good showers during the week; crops of all kinds made more than the usual growth. Cutting alfalfa delayed on account of the rain, and some that was cut was damaged.

Santa Fe—United States Weather Bureau: Another week of good rains, with a flooding shower the night of the 15th, causing damage to crops and property. Prairies beginning to look green; vegetation, although backward, is beginning a rapid improvement. Irrigation water abundant. Highest temperature, 65; lowest, 44; rain, 1.97.

Silver City—Charles H. Lyons: Cloudy with rain every day for a week. Quite a flood came down the river (Gila) on the 9th.

Watrous—M. C. Needham: Highest temperature, 60; lowest, 40; rain, 3.75.

Tax on Babies.

Extreme hot weather is a great tax upon the delicate powers of babies; when puny and feeble they should be given a few doses of White Cream Vermifuge, the children's tonic. It will stimulate and facilitate the digestion of their food, so that they soon become strong, healthy and active. 25c at J. H. O'Reilly & Co.

For Over Sixty Years.

An old and well tried remedy. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. It is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.

Aged Ladies' Social Club.

Mrs. M. A. Bliss on Friday afternoon entertained the Aged Ladies' Social club at the home of Mrs. G. E. Wilson on South Arno street.

Those present were Mesdames Sarah Long, Drusilla Brown, M. A. Bliss, Elizabeth Wilson, B. F. Robertson, E. Bird. Only ladies over 60 can join this organization. Refreshments were served and each lady gave an account of her life, with date of birth and other interesting events. The afternoon was one of much pleasure for all.

Hot Weather Weakness.

If you feel lagged out, listless and lacking in energy, you are perhaps suffering from the debilitating effects of summer weather. These symptoms indicate that a tonic is needed that will create a healthy appetite, make digestion perfect, regulate the bowels and impart natural activity to the liver. This, Herbine will do; it is a tonic, laxative and restorative. H. J. Freeland, proprietor Grand View hotel, Cheney, Kan., writes: "I have used Herbine for the last 12 years, and nothing on earth can beat it. It was recommended to me by Dr. Newton, Newton, Kan." 50c at J. H. O'Reilly & Co.

A Hero Recognized.

In recognition of the presence of mind and high sense of duty shown by Conductor S. R. Gill of the car "Tom Ross," in last Sunday's accident, whereby a frightful catastrophe was averted, the electric railway company through Superintendent Epperson has promoted him to the position of assistant superintendent with an increase of pay, says a paper published at Las Vegas.

Mr. Gill exhibited real heroism in sticking to his post at fearful risk when deserted by the motorman. It was only his fidelity and self control that saved the lives of all who remained on the car and prevented great destruction of the company's property.

Dr. Epperson's act in rewarding Mr. Gill will be commended by the public. Mr. Gill will continue in charge of the car "Tom Ross" on the Hot Springs run for the time being.

Constipated Ewells.

To have good health, the body should be kept in a laxative condition, and the bowels moved at least once a day, so that all the poisonous wastes are expelled daily. Mr. G. L. Edwards, 142 N. Main st., Wichita, Kansas, writes: "I have used Herbine to regulate the liver and bowels for the past ten years, and found it a reliable remedy." 50c at J. H. O'Reilly & Co.

Mob Leaders Arrested.

W. L. Johnson, who has been employed as a boiler-maker in the local railroad shops, was arrested at Trinidad last Friday by Deputy Sheriff Frank Hill, on the charge of being one of the leaders of the mob that attempted to lynch the negroes in the custody of Sheriff Littrell last Thursday night. Johnson was brought to Raton Sunday night on train No. 7. A. C. Webster, a blacksmith helper in the shops, was also arrested Saturday in Raton for being one of the leaders of the mob, and both he and Johnson will be called upon to answer to the charge of the crime for which a pretty severe penalty is prescribed by law. Webster and Johnson were brought before Justice Charles M. Bayne this morning for preliminary hearing. They waived examination and were

WHEN BABY IS COMING USE Mother's Friend

Woman's greatest dream of beauty and glory is when nature has chosen her to become a mother. Every faculty is keenly alert as she foresees the joy, ambition, success and the life-long satisfaction coming nearer, day by day, in the dear and innocent being so soon to see light, and the uncertainty whether she shall see a sweet girl or a brave boy face beside her on the pillow adds zest to her expectancy.

Mother's Friend applied externally throughout pregnancy will relieve the pain of parturition, and no mother and child can fail to be healthy, hearty, strong, clear complexioned, pure blooded and cheerful in disposition, who are mutually influenced by the continued use of this great liniment, MOTHER'S FRIEND. A Splendid Remedy.

Neuralgic pains, rheumatism, lumbago and sciatic pains yield to the penetrating influence of Ballard's Snow Liniment. It penetrates to the nerves and bone, and being absorbed into the blood, its healing properties are conveyed to every part of the body and effect some wonderful cures. Mr. D. F. Moore, agent Illinois Central Railway, Milan, Tenn., states: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism, backache, etc., in my family. It is a splendid remedy. We could not do without it." 25c, 50c and $1.00 at J. H. O'Reilly & Co.

AWAITING EXTRADITION.

Man Who Outraged and Shot Little Girl at Silver City. Sheriff Blair of Grant county is in El Paso awaiting the extradition of Ambrosia Mendoza, wanted at Silver City for the attempted outrage and murder of a little girl.

Mendoza after the lapse of six years was located at a small village near Santa Rosalia springs of Mexico, where he was taken into custody and brought to Juarez.

The prisoner, it is stated, will in all probability receive the full penalty of the law in case he is convicted at Silver City for his offense as described as one of the most heinous on the calendar.

He assaulted a little American girl indecently and then shot her to death. He would have been lynched had he been caught soon after the crime was committed.—El Paso Herald.

THE CONCERT.

The Italian Band Entertainment Pleased a Large Audience at Robinson Park Last Evening.

Albuquerque citizens were out last evening at Robinson park by the hundreds to hear the Italian band, which rendered a most pleasing concert from the beginning to the end.

The citizens were not the only ones that were out either, for the "goi dard" mosquitoes were out by the thousands, too. They didn't have any respect for persons, either, for they lit on every one where the anatomy was sweet and juicy. The pop corn man's stand was the mecca for all and he did such a business that he could hardly lug the nickels and dimes home.

Although it was a most enjoyable evening for all, even the mosquitoes came in for a large lump of pleasure. These concerts should continue and the musicians should receive a good compensation for the pleasure they render.

CAPITAL LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY

Construction of Its Plant and Electric Line to Commence Soon.

Advices from Toledo, O., are to be effect that the Capital Light and Power company, of which Professor J. G. Halapleus is manager, has about completed arrangements for commencing actual construction work on its power plant to be located on the Pecos river fourteen miles east of this city. Independent of the bonds and securities of the company which are now being negotiated and which negotiations it is understood will be successfully terminated at an early date, the company is backed by several strong individual capitalists, who have carefully investigated the project and have come to the conclusion that it is a profitable enterprise. The engineering plans have been prepared and have been approved by the capitalists who will invest in the company. Material for the plant and for the erection of the wires to transmit light and power to this city has been ordered and will commence to arrive in town within the next six months. A week ago, J. H. Webster, an engineer of the General Electric company, with headquarters at Denver, was in the city and carefully investigated all matters connected with the Capital Light and Power company for the purpose of reporting to his home office as to what was necessary to be done by his company, which it is expected will have the contract for furnishing the necessary electric supplies. Actual construction work is sure to begin by August 1 coming.—New Mexican.

DANCE AT RIO GRANDE MILLS.

Employees Enjoy Half Holiday Last Saturday Afternoon.

The help at the Rio Grande Woolen Mills company's plant are to be given a half holiday every Saturday afternoon during the summer months.

Last Saturday afternoon President Bearup prepared a social time for his employees by giving a dance on the top floor of the big mill building. Suitable music was furnished and all had a delightful time. A large number of young people were invited up for the occasion and they accepted.

This kindness on the part of the management of the Rio Grande Woolen Mills company can not be but beneficial to all concerned. We need more just such employers.

No need to fear sudden attacks of cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea, or summer complaint, if you have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the medicine chest.

"HIS MANLY SENSIBILITIES."

A Pedagogue Essays to Interfere With Husband and Wife.

Prof. E. L. Mason, the former principal of the Colorado Springs, Colo., high school, was arrested at St. Joseph, Mo., on the charge of disturbing the peace of Mr. and Mrs. James Jacobs, in a Pullman on the Chicago Great Western. Mason said: "I was engaged most indecently and I demanded a halt. They called the porter to make me mind my own business. Presently they began a repetition of what had happened before. My manly sensibilities were so aroused that I could not refrain from again calling a halt. This time they had the porter throw me out and caused my arrest."

His reputation has been good in all the cities I have lived in and I do not know what the outcome of this trouble, which was brought about by my appeal in behalf of decency, will be, for there are two of them and I will have to fight the battle single handed."

Mason was placed in jail, and the case set for hearing. He had been in the city several days and had made application for the position of principal of the St. Joseph high school. He started for Chicago last night. The sleeper where the trouble took place stood on the side track waiting for the train from Kansas City. According to the story of Mrs. Jacobs, Mason entered her berth and assaulted her.

His Last Hope Realized. From the Sentinel, Goshute, Mont.

In the first opening of Oakland to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his traveling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was traveling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure, and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by all druggists.

MERCURY A POOR CRUTCH.

Experience is a dear teacher, as those who pin their faith to Mercury find out sooner or later. This powerful poison combined with Potash, is the treatment generally prescribed for Contagious Blood Poison, but failure and disappointment is the invariable result. These minerals drive in the sores and eruptions, and apparently the disease is gone and the patient believes the cure permanent, but soon learns better when the old symptoms return almost as soon as the treatment is left off. You must either keep the system saturated with mercury or endure the tortures of sore mouth, ulcerated throat and the mortification that one naturally feels when the body is covered with disgusting sores, rashes, copper-colored spots and other aggravating symptoms of this vile disease.

Mercury and Potash are poor crutches, and their use eventually breaks down the constitution, ruins the digestion and causes the bones to decay. S. S. S., a guaranteed purely vegetable remedy, is the only antidote for Contagious Blood Poison. It destroys every atom of the deadly virus, overcomes the bad effects of the mercury and cleanses the blood and system so thoroughly that never after are any signs of the disease seen. Nor is the taint ever transmissible to others.

We will send free our book on Contagious Blood Poison, which is interesting and contains full directions for treating yourself at home. Medical advice or any special information desired given without charge.

of this on tick. Then one of them had a box of cigarettes charged, but this was too much for Mr. Hagemeister, the genial day clerk, who began to smell a rat. The young men were called and the clerk was right. Both were broke and were stopping at the hotel on their nerves. They were given the bounce by the head bell boy, and their bags will be held until they settle. Where they are domiciled now is a question. It is thought that they have been up the same kind of a game in Colorado.

LORDSBURG.

From the Liberal. Miss Beattie Muir was in from her ranch south of Separ the first of the week. Miss Muir anticipates making a trip to California this summer, to be gone several months.

A girl baby was born to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Peck, the first Chinese baby born in Lordsburg. Tom was greatly disgusted at the sex of the new comer. Like all well regulated Chinamen he believes a man child is an evidence of good luck and that a "girl devil," as he called his offspring, does not amount to much.

A little romance came to lighten the strike and flood at Morenci. Last Sunday E. H. Brubecker, who is employed in the Arizona Copper company's store, came down to Lordsburg and here met Miss Myrtle E. Fulton, who had come from Payette, Idaho, to meet him. They were married by Judge McGrath. Mr. Brubecker took his wife to Morenci, where they will make their future home.

J. C. Elledge and the heirs of Candado Telles are having a difficulty over the line separating their farms on the Gila. Elledge has had a couple of surveyors locate his corners, and as they agreed he built his fence according to the surveys. The Telles heirs did not agree with the surveyors as to the location of the corners, and have had Elledge arrested for trespass. It will probably take a jury to decide whether the surveyors are right or not, and in the meantime a small sized neighborhood row may grow up on the river, but it probably will not grow to the dimensions of a Kentucky feud.

Club Organized. Fifteen young men organized a social club last evening, and the following officers were elected:

President—Grover Strong. Vice President—Glynn Bearup. Secretary and treasurer—Edward Strumquist.

Arrangement Committee—Will Pratt, Joe Scott, Tom Hughes.

Lookout Committee—Ward Anderson, Ralph Tasher, Edward Strumquist.

These young men propose to hold two dances every month, besides holding picnics and mountain trips. Success to them.

Kodol Gives Strength by enabling the digestive organs to digest, assimilate and transform all of the wholesome food that may be eaten into the kind of blood that nourishes the nerves, feeds the tissues, hardens the muscles and recuperates the organs of the entire body. Rolls the Corpses.

Dario Castro, a Mexican, is now in the county jail under a rather unusual and grave charge. It seems that during the last illness of Pedro Sandoval the family of that gentleman, some orphan children, accepted the offer of Senor Castro to help in the nursing. All of which was kind and neighborly, but the children allege that while their uncle was wrestling with his last breath the nurse went through him and appropriated $17 then upon his person. When arrested Castro explained to Judge Emerson that he had taken the money to defray the expenses of a decent burial for his old comrade

OFFICIAL MATTERS.

A postoffice called Rodeo has been established in Grant county and will be served from Hatchita.

Deputy Appointed.

The following deputy was appointed by Page B. Otero, territorial fish and game warden: W. A. Myers, Amlath, for Taos county.

Land Office Business.

The following homestead entries were made: Vicente Sanchez, Anton Chico, 39 acres in Leonard Wood county. Georgia Trujillo, Las Vegas, 160 acres in San Miguel county. Tranquilino Pacheco, Las Vegas, 160 acres in San Miguel county. Marcos Analla, Galisteo, 160 acres in Santa Fe county.

Territorial Funds.

J. H. Vaughn, territorial treasurer, received the following funds: From J. A. La Rue, secretary of the cattle sanitary board, $1,000; J. D. Walker, treasurer and ex-officio collector of Edgely county, $3,759.75, taxes for 1902; Mark Howell, collector and ex-officio treasurer of Chaves county, $11,950.85, taxes for 1902; Robert H. Guinney, collector and ex-officio treasurer of Luna county, $7,212.44, taxes for 1902.

Incorporations.

Articles of incorporation were filed at the office of the territorial secretary by the New Mexico Land and Live Stock company. The incorporators are Solomon Florsheim, Horace Abbott, Robert E. Aldridge, of Springer, N. M.; William A. Holt, of Las Animas, Colo. The incorporators and Spencer O. Fisher, of West Bay, Mich., compose the first board of directors. The company is authorized to buy, sell, breed, feed and raise live stock, to acquire farm land and ranches, to construct and maintain waterways and reservoirs, to deal in general merchandise, timber, lumber, feed, wool, hides and pelts. The capitalization of the organization is $500,000, which is divided into 5,000 shares of the par value of $100 each. The term of existence is fifty years and principal place of business is at Springer, New Mexico.

The Adams Cattle company filed articles of incorporation at the office of the territorial secretary. The company is authorized to breed, raise and deal in live stock; to deal in hay, grain and seeds, to construct and maintain waterways and reservoirs, and to deal in real estate. The capital stock is $200,000, divided in 2,000 shares of the par value of $100 each. The term of existence is 50 years and the principal place of business is at Vermojo, N. M. The incorporators who also compose the first board of directors are Harry W. Adams, Colfax county, New Mexico; W. H. Bartlett, of Cook county, Illinois; W. H. Bartlett, Jr., of Colfax county, New Mexico.

Will Test It.

The cattlemen of this county, or at least a majority of them, will refuse to pay a tax on their cattle brands as required under the new sanitary law. An attempt to enforce this provision of the law will bring about the hottest legal contest in the courts that has ever occurred in the territory. The cattlemen do not care for the amount of the tax. It is the principle of being held up, and deprived of that much money unjustly. The cattle men will be sure winners in the contest.—Flagstaff Gem.

DEADLY DUEL.

Two Telegraph Operators at Small Town Armed for the Fray.

News reached El Paso Sunday of a tragedy at Samuela, a station on the Gulf, Harrisburg & San Antonio railway about 355 miles from this city, at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, in which T. W. Brown, day telegraph operator, shot and killed G. H. Morris, night operator at the station, says the News.

Both were married and it is the general opinion that there was trouble over family matters. Brown was small, of a quiet nature and about 35 years old. Morris was a tall, slender man, and about ten years the younger.

Brown was popular at the station, having been there for several years, while Morris has been there only about four months. There had been ill feeling between the two men for some time prior to last Saturday, and the story goes that Morris wrote a note to Brown, giving him until Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock to leave town. This note was written Friday.

The men met Saturday afternoon. Brown was armed with a Winchester and got the drop on Morris at once. Morris attempted to draw, but was too late and Brown shot him twice, once through the heart and again through the brain. Morris fell dead on a large stone within a few hundred yards of the depot. It was about the time that the train due at El Paso Saturday morning was due at Samuela, and the passengers were started to see the body of the dead man lying stretched out on the stone when they reached the station.

The slayer quietly went to a neighboring magistrate and surrendered. A coroner's jury was summoned and a verdict was rendered that Morris met his death at the hands of Brown. The latter was taken to Del Rio Saturday morning, where he was given a hearing and released on a $2,000 bond.

Brown bears a good reputation and was known as an orderly, good natured man. Morris was somewhat dictatorial and quarrelsome. He was in his city but a few weeks ago. He had burned his hand at a gasoline pump and came in for treatment.

Eight Members Left.

Eight members of the hospital corps at Fort Bayard decided last Wednesday to leave the service of the United States and without consulting Uncle Sam departed from the fort. When their absence was discovered, a search was instituted, and three of the men were found at Silver City, two at Central City and two at Santa Rita. The last member of the party made good his escape and has not been found.

STODDARD MAY BE REMOVED.

Petitions for Removal of Arizona Secretary at Nation's Capital.

A petition for the removal of Secretary Isaac T. Stoddard from the position of secretary of Arizona, accompanied by specific charges of grave misconduct in office, have been filed with the executive department at Washington, says the Phoenix Gazette.

The charges, which are quite voluminous, recite the history of the passage of an act by the territorial legislature which transferred certain fees that were being kept by the secretary of the territory, for the defeat of which, it is charged, the secretary "maintained at the capital a corrupt and unscrupulous lobby."

Other allegations are that the secretary rendered false reports as to the amounts of salaries paid for clerk hire and as to the amount of fees he received. The charges filed state that a committee appointed by the lower house of the legislature to examine the secretary's office found that over $15,000 in fees not mentioned in his report had been received.

The most serious of the charges is that the secretary has destroyed his fee books.

Court of Private Land Claims.

The June term of the United States court of private land claims convened Tuesday morning in the court room in the Federal building. No business was transacted, however, and adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock this morning.

Chief Justice Joseph R. Read, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, presided and there were also present Associate Justice William W. Murray, of Huntington, Tenn.; Associate Justice Henry C. Shuss, of Wichita, Kas.; Associate Justice Wilbur F. Stone, of Denver; M. G. Reynolds, Esq., of St. Louis, attorney for the United States; I. L. Chaves, of Santa Fe, clerk, and W. J. McPherson, of Santa Fe, stenographer.

OF LOCAL INTEREST.

Postoffice Inspector A. P. Smithers arrived from Albuquerque and left for Taos on official business.

E. L. Medier, Esq., assistant United States attorney was in the Capital City from Albuquerque on legal business.

J. A. Catanach, foreman and lineman of the Pennsylvania Development company, went to Albuquerque on special business and will return in a couple of days. He then will leave for the south along the Santa Fe Central.

J. M. Sandoval, of Albuquerque, who was assessor of Bernalillo county, but who was superseded to that office by George F. Albright, who was appointed by the county commissioners of that county, was in Santa Fe today.

A. E. Perea, of Bernalillo, is in the city on official business. He has been appointed by the board of county commissioners of Sandoval county to make assessments of the taxable property of Sandoval county for the present year, the county commissioners being dissatisfied with the conduct of V. S. Miera, the regularly appointed assessor in the matter.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

The Las Cruces Republican says S. D. Crenshaw of Richmond, Va., and Nov. Xyris, president of the California Shortline Railroad company, spent several days of last week here, looking over the proposed line and examining the work done by the drafting department. Mr. Crenshaw seemed to be well pleased with the prospects, and before leaving ordered a survey for a branch from the proposed junction at Fort Filmore to Oregon and the surveyors started on this work last Monday.

COPPER PROPERTIES.

New Yorkers Are Interested in Developing Copper Mines.

COL. T. B. MILLS PRESIDENT OF COMPANY

Col. T. B. Mills, who was in El Paso on business, passed through the city on the delayed passenger train yesterday, en route to Las Vegas. Col. Mills is the president of the Midway Consolidated Mining company of New York, with mines in Arizona and New Mexico. His company recently purchased from Robert N. Sniffen, the Rowena mines, in the Oscura mountains, near Eskey City, this territory, and intend to commence extensive development work at once.

Colonel Mills stopped long enough in El Paso to be interviewed by the news as follows:

"My business out here is to close up the deal for the Midway people and examine into the company's mines in Pima county, Arizona. We own eleven claims in Arizona, and with the nine which comprise the Rowena group, gives us twenty very promising properties—all copper.

"I examined thoroughly into the Rowena mines while there last week, and was much pleased with everything I saw. The mine is the oldest one in the district and is now down about 170 feet, following a good vein of paying ore all the way. Some of the ore has been smelted under the old management, and it ran about 23 per cent copper, while there is now on the dump about 75 tons of 16 per cent ore.

"The contact is one of the finest I ever saw, and at the 160-foot level I took a number of samples from various parts of the ore chamber walls, which are ten feet in dimensions. I had these samples assayed here, together with some at the 60-foot level, where all the pay ore has been taken out heretofore. The assays run from 13 per cent copper to 26 per cent with some traces of gold.

"I am very well satisfied that the company has a great property, both in the Oscuras and in Arizona. We are capitalized at one million dollars, but we are not devoting any time to stock selling, as enough has already been bought by New Yorkers and others to carry the mines through to a paying basis.

"The directors number some good, substantial New York capitalists. I am president, J. W. Strayer of the Strayer Investment company, 277 Broadway, is vice president, Charles G. Funk, secretary and treasurer of the White Knob Copper company, is our treasurer; C. H. Phelps and Samuel G. French, wealthy New York merchants, together with J. S. Sniffen, attorney, Globe, Arizona, and the list comprises a strong managing board.

"Robert N. Sniffen, the former owner, will continue to superintend the Oscuras property, and here we are going to push the work the hardest for the time being."

JUDGE BENJAMIN S. BAKER.

Elected President of the Commercial Club—Other Officers Elected.

The Commercial club directors held their annual meeting last evening and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—Judge B. S. Baker.
Vice President—M. S. Otero.
Secretary—P. F. McCanna.
Treasurer—M. W. Flournoy.

Deputy Sheriff C. E. Newcomer presented his resignation as a director and Judge Baker was elected to fill out the unexpired term.

The election of standing committees will take place at the next regular meeting of the directors.

Judge Baker is the right man for this position and it is only additional evidence of the confidence of our people in him. Judge Baker has cleared up a congested docket in the past year and recommends a one-fifth reduction of the levy for court fund this year. The Judge has now the confidence of our people by his ability and his fearless manner of doing business. He is one of us and he suits us. The Commercial club is the strongest association of the kind in the southwest. It has a membership of 200 and its $100,000 club building is one of the finest in the west.

The board of directors made no mistake when it selected Judge Baker president, for he is never found wanting in any position.

BACK FROM GRAN QUIVERA.

An Enjoyable Overland Trip Taken by Albuquerqueans.

Messrs. Ruppe, Saddler, Hammond and Fisher, all tanned and their faces covered with two weeks' growth of hirsute, returned late yesterday afternoon from their trip overland to the Gran Quivera country. After exploring the ruins and visiting several of the adjacent old Indian pueblos now abandoned, they came across the country and struck the Manzanos and the half a dozen first class sheep ranges in that vicinity. They witnessed shearing on the McIntosh and McGillivray ranches, and the sight was indeed interesting. Mr. Ruppe says the country through which they passed shows signs of prosperity—there being an abundance of fine nutritious grass, the water holes full and stock of all kinds in the very best of condition. The trip from here to the Gran Quivera mines and return was made without any mishap of any kind and was much enjoyed.

IMPERIAL LAUNDRY.

Constantly Improving and Now a Big Institution.

A reporter was attracted to the Imperial Laundry near the rear of the postoffice building yesterday by a hub-bub of noise, such as hammering and pounding and other noises general associated with the construction of a new building. An investigation revealed an addition to the old laundry building almost completed.

The new addition is 20x30 feet, and built of brick. The reporter inquired of Mr. Edgar, of the Imperial laundry, what the occasion of the new building was. "Well, we were too crowded in the old building," said Mr. Edgar, "and on account of growing business were compelled to either move or build. We chose the latter."

"The new addition will be used exclusively as a wash room and after the move, which will occur about the first of July, our capacity will be increased as much again as it is now. We will also be able to do better work and devote more time and take more pains with certain kinds of washing, which under former conditions we have had to rush."

He Is at Hillsboro.

C. T. Brown, the mining expert and engineer of Socorro, who is well and favorably known throughout New Mexico, is in Hillsboro, Sierra county, where he is spending several days on mining business and also communicating the degrees of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Free Masonry under the direction of Colonel Frost, the inspector general of the rit for New Mexico, upon six candidates, all well known citizens of Sierra county. They are Henry Abraham Ringer, Thomas Jefferson Ross, Frederick Shaw, Farquhar Campbell, Oliver Andrew Gould and William Henry Bucher.

ON THE BEAT.

He beat the butcher every day;
He beat the corner grocer.
If any one asked "will you pay?"
His prompt reply was "No, sir!"
And any one he chanced to meet:
Soon came to understand
He was a beat who was a beat.
A beat to beat the band.
He beat the bars, he beat the cars,

ALGODONES BREVIETES.

River High—Alfalfa Cutting—Building Improvements.
Special Correspondence.

Algodones, N. M., June 2.—There was some excitement here last evening over the report that a seven foot rise in the river was expected last night, but this morning proved it was a false report and the river is now steadily falling. No damage whatever was caused here by the high water, with the single exception of the ranch of Justini and Castello, which was overflowed somewhat and some slight damage done to the crops. Albuquerque is perfectly safe from danger of the flood, as we are informed today that the water is falling at all points north of here, and you can look for a fall at Albuquerque from now on. All danger is past for this season.

The alfalfa cutting has been delayed somewhat on account of the rains for the past few days, but at present fine weather prevails, and the first crop is now all gathered here. This will undoubtedly be a banner year for all kinds of crops, as the spring rains have been something unusual for this section. There has been very little irrigation done here this spring, as there has been plenty of rain for growing crops up to the present.

Several of the farmers here are talking of building and improving their farms all of which goes to show that prosperity has struck this section of New Mexico. The citizens of this place are still on the warpath against Ananias Skinner and it would not be healthy for him to ever pay a visit to this section, as some say they have got some feathers and chickens enough to make out a covering for him if he comes.

Crops are all looking well and the prospects could not be much better.

Work of laying steel began again Wednesday on the Pacific & Eastern railroad, which is now completed to Mesa City, Ariz., and trains are running. Rails are ready for thirty-five miles of track and it is thought there will be no further interruption except through possible shortage of men.

REPORT ADOPTED.

Flood Water Committee Makes Able Report for the Safety of the City.

TO REBUILD ALAMEDA DYKE.

The citizens turned out well last evening to discuss the flood question. The committee made report through Secretary George A. Kaseman as follows:

"Hon. W. B. Childers, chairman citizens' committee, Sir:—
"The undersigned, the committee appointed at the citizen's meeting last night to investigate and report what action is necessary to rid the valley of the lake or flood of water that now stands behind the Fourth street dyke and also to investigate and report what action is necessary to make the situation at the Alameda dyke safe, found the following conditions and recommended the following:

"We first went to the Fourth street dyke, accompanied by City Engineer Pitt Ross and Alderman Harsch. At about 9:30 a. m., the water there was about seven inches lower than at its highest stage. At about 3:30 p. m., on our return it had fallen another inch and a half. There is still a body of water confined here, which, should it suddenly escape might do a large amount of damage to our city. The water is now being rapidly lowered by seepage, evaporation and drainage through the acequia and in another day or two will no longer be a source of danger to the city. Mr. Ross informed us that in two days the water will be lowered to such an extent that it will no longer flow in to the acequia and will have to be drained off on a lower level. To do this Mr. Ross' plan is to dig a ditch along the east side of Fourth street to near the Mountain road and then diagonally eastward to the Rio Grande woolen mills and east side of the Santa Fe tracks, thence south to the slough from where it will be drained by the city ditch and carried to the river. Mr. Ross has obtained the right of way over all the land except two or three small strips. Part of the ditch has already been dug from the reservoir south and a few men are at work extending it. We fully endorse this plan of Mr. Ross' and believe it to be the most practical, economical and quickest way of draining off the water. We recommend that Mr. Ross be employed and be given full charge and with power to employ whatever number of men are necessary to watch at the dyke and complete the drainage of the pond at that point.

"We next drove to the Alameda dyke, accompanied by Alderman Harsch. Here we found larger amount of new dyke and work than we anticipated and which must have been done under very trying circumstances, judging by the mire and water that is left. There is some water perhaps from six to twelve inches deep and some flowing with a current on the upper side of the dyke.

"The water is about twenty-two inches lower than the top of the newly constructed section and other parts of the dyke. The dyke is very frail and a weak affair and the weakest places in ought to be strengthened at once to guard against the July and August rains. As soon as the weakest places are repaired and the ground becomes dry, so that the work can be economically done, then the entire length of the dyke ought to be carefully repaired, enlarged and strengthened. We believe that perhaps $5,000 ought to be expended here. As to how much work should be done we are not able to advise. A man who understands such work and the surrounding conditions should be employed. His advice should be followed and he should be given full power to employ men to watch the dyke and should have full charge of the work to be done on the dyke and of any improvements or changes to be made in or along the river to prevent it from changing its course toward the dyke.

"We also recommend that the city engineer be employed and be given full charge at this point." Signed:
J. F. LUTHY,
LOUIS H. FELD,
ANDREW ANSON,
J. L. LA DRIERE,
T. A. WHITTEN.

Committee.

There was some objection on a part of a few that it would cost too much to construct a ditch about five by two feet, which would in a short time carry off all the water without destruction of property, but when it was stated $200 would do the business, and that if the water be left as it is, a rain or break in the dyke would place the city again in a dangerous position. It was

The report of the Alameda lake was voted to draw the lake.
The report was adopted and a vote of thanks was extended to the committee for their able report and faithful labor. The committee was also instructed to present some report to the county commissioners and city council and to confer with them in regard to the cost.
The meeting then adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

TWO CASES DISMISSED.

Court of Private Land Claims Settled Down to Business Today.

The United States court of private land claims convened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning at Santa Fe, as per adjournment on Monday. Chief Justice Joseph R. Reed presided, and Associate Justices and other court officials presided as on yesterday.

The first case called for trial yesterday morning was No. 282, that of Manuel Marie Martin vs. the United States for the Galban land grant. The case was dismissed by the plaintiffs. The grant is in Bernalillo county.

In case No. 278, Mariano F. Sena vs. the United States for the Jose de Leyba land grant in Santa Fe county. The mandate and order of the supreme court was filed.

The order affirmed the previous decree of the court of private land claims. The petition was dismissed without prejudice to any further steps the plaintiffs may desire to take.

Case No. 281, Romel Barcia vs. the United States for the Barcia land grant in Dona Ana county was the next case called and had not been completed at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

SAVEY-BARNETT.

Prof. William Savey and Miss Isabella Barnett Married.

Last evening at the Congregational church occurred the happy marriage of Prof. William Savey and Miss Isabella Barnett. Rev. T. C. Beattie performed the ceremony. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Barnett, living 234 North Walter street, who is here for her health. Miss Barnett was born and has lived the greater part of her life at Emporia, Kas., but came here about a month ago from Wichita, Kas. The groom has a chair in the University of Washington, Seattle, Wash., where he will take his bride to live.

The wedding was rather quiet, only a few relatives and friends of the family being present. After the ceremony the bridal party were driven to the Barnett home, where a private reception was held. Later Prof. and Mrs. Savey boarded a west bound train for California. They will spend the summer in the Yosemite valley, going to their home at Seattle in the fall.

PLAN ROAD FOR MEXICO.

Sonora, Chihuahua & Monterey Road Promoters Meet in Denver.

The promoters of the new transcontinental Mexican railroad, the Sonora, Chihuahua and Monterey, met in Denver to perfect plans for beginning work on the new road. The projectors include such prominent Coloradans as former Judge Luther M. Goddard, former Governor J. B. Orman, Frank P. Bertschy, George Adams and E. F. Arthur. J. B. Robertson, builder of the Mexican Central and other well known railroad men, are also interested. The plans of the company will not be announced for some time, though it is stated that preparations are under way for commencing active work. Though the route has not been definitely decided on, it is understood that it will begin somewhere on the Arizona border, and run southwest to Guaymas, thence east through Chihuahua to the city of Monterey, a distance of about 800 miles.

The affairs of another Mexican railroad built chiefly by Colorado men are just about being closed up, the road having been successfully built and sold to the Mexican Central. Col. J. H. Hampton, president of the Mexico, Cuernavaca & Pacific, reached Denver Monday in his private car to attend a meeting of the directors of the road, to be held for the purpose of closing up its affairs. The Mexico-Acapulco Construction company, which built the road, will also be discontinued, as its object has been accomplished.

BADLY CUT UP.

Two Men Free With Their Knives at Galisteo.

In a drunken fight at Galisteo Tuesday night Pedro Lopez and Dario Mora both citizens of that town, were badly cut. Mora went to Dr. Palmer's office at this place, and had his wounds dressed. He will probably lose the use of one hand as the arm is cut half off just below the elbow. The other man was badly cut on different parts of the body but has not been brought in yet.

LIVELY SANTA FE.

Fishing for Dead Body—Husband Appeared With Pistol.

EXCITING RUNAWAY.

From the New Mexican.
Prof. Clinton J. Crandall of the United States Indian Industrial school this morning sent two employees of the school to Moriarty station on the Santa Fe Central railway to aid in the search for the body of Taylor Dave the young Shoshone Indian, who was drowned in the lake near Moriarty while bathing on Sunday evening last. The Santa Fe Central Railway company also sent two experienced men to the locality with similar orders. Everything possible is being done for the recovery of the body of the unfortunate young man, as Professor Crandall is especially desirous of giving the corpse decent burial. By this time it is too much decomposed to be returned to the young man's parents on the Shoshone reservation in Idaho.

Husband Appeared With Gun.

A scene not arranged for by the Woman's Board of Trade took place in the Plaza last evening while festivities were at their height. Sitting on one of the benches was a young man, well known here, and a young matron. The husband of the young matron appeared on the scene and at once drew a revolver and started toward the afore-said young man, who fled at full speed. A man sitting on a nearby bench saw the irate husband draw his revolver and called a policeman who arrived after the principals had left. Later the young man returned and was escorted home under police protection. The irate husband has not been found as yet.

Lively Runaway.

A team of horses attached to a light vehicle owned by Jose Antonio Anaya of Galisteo ran away yesterday afternoon while in this city. The owner had left the vehicle when the team started. Near the capitol building the wagon collided with a telegraph pole and was demolished. Being freed from the incumbrance of the vehicle the horses increased their speed and ran until they were thoroughly tired. They eventually became separated and one of them was captured near the Claire hotel. The other animal was later found near the Santa Fe depot.

An Old Soldier.

Carlton Post, Grand Army of the Republic, held a well attended special meeting last night and added two members to its roster, making the present membership fifty-seven. James Garland, one of the recruits, has a civil war record as follows: Enlisted June 12, 1861, in Company H, Third United States Infantry, discharged December 31, 1862; re-enlisted August 1, 1863, in the Second District of Columbia Volunteers; discharged September 12, 1865. John C. Martin, the other recruit, was born in 1848. He enlisted January 6, 1865, and was discharged October 1, 1865. After the meeting was closed Judge McPhe, post commander, invited the comrades to form in line and march to the Plaza to get rations of coffee and ice cream.

Mrs. Arthur Cavanaugh and children will leave this evening for Raton to visit friends.

SHOT BY HUSBAND.

Winslow Man Puts a Bullet into His Wife.

Thursday night Sonora town was the scene of much excitement, and Mexicans were noticed coming across the tracks in a great hurry. Some wanted the police and others the doctor.

Sheriff Houck, Marshal Hanks and Night Officer Henley were quickly across the tracks, and upon entering an adobe they were greeted by a bloody sight.

Upon the floor was a pool of blood, and lying in bed bathed in blood was the wife of Francisco Martinez.

The officers ascertained that she had been shot by her husband and they started out to look for him. Dr. Hathaway was summoned and after examining her he found that she was wounded in a manner that left doubts of her recovery. She was shot through the temple and back.

At the present writing Mrs. Martinez is resting easily.

Martinez has not yet been apprehended, but Sheriff Houck and Officer Hanks and Henley are using their utmost endeavors to place him behind the bars.

Martinez had been employed by the Santa Fe.—Winslow Mail.
