What at first threatened to be a very serious case of diphtheria on the south side was by prompt and strict isolation of the patient, the timely use of disinfectants by the owner of the house, and the skillful handling of the case by Dr. Harroun was brought down to its mildest form. Everything is now over. The patient has recovered and is able to be out.

The Missouri Trust company has brought suit against the Buena Vista Ranch company to foreclose a mortgage to recover judgment in the sum of $15,000.

Dr. McLane, a young Canadian physician, who is practicing at La Porte, Ind., is here with his two brothers, who will remain seeking climatic benefit. The doctor will return to La Porte this week. He craves word that Judge J. W. Crumpacker, former associate justice of the territory, who was very ill at his home in La Porte, is now much improved in health.

Considerable preparation is being made by the local members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union for the entertainment of the delegates to the territorial convention to be held here Thursday night. Cripple Creek, Sept. 24.—Judge Seeds this morning notified General Chase to be present in court with the four prisoners in the habeas corpus case before 2 o'clock this afternoon, as at that hour he intended to render decision in the habeas corpus case. The decision will be written and lengthy.

General Chase stated at noon that whatever the decision of the court might be, he would certainly bring the prisoners back to Camp Goodfellow, unless ordered otherwise by the governor of Colorado.

TERRITORIAL FAIR.

Horses From Colorado and Navajos From San Juan Country.

UMPIRE ADRIAN C. ANSON.

Secretary P. F. McCanna returned last night from Denver and Pueblo, Colorado, where he has been a week talking to horsemen and of the fair, and this morning work was begun in the office of the fair association with renewed activity. President O. N. Marron was there and M. P. Stamm, who has charge of the Bernalillo fruit and vegetable exhibit, was a caller.

Mr. Stamm is doing some tall hustling these days, and believes that Bernalillo county will be in the running for the prizes.

Col. D. K. Sellers, of Farmington, who promises to bring from the San Juan country a very fine display of San Juan county fruits, was also a caller. Colonel Sellers told Secretary McCanna that the San Juan country is going to come to the fair as never before. He claims two entries for the roping contest and one for the riding.

Colonel Sellers says that you want to get even put your money on the San Juan county rider. He is a dark horse. Twenty-five Navajos are coming to the fair and will furnish the features most interesting to the pale faces of the far east. They will be in charge of Bonito Tom, a Navajo gentleman, noted for his chivalry and stalwart proportions, from which he receives his picturesque name. The Navajos will give some real exhibitions of their sports—chicken pulling, fire dances and relay races.

Mr. McCanna had a very successful trip to Colorado. He secured the coming of many horses. One car is now en route. This car contains sixteen running horses. He also secured entries of five Colorado horses for the 2:17 and 2:13 paces, known as the Bull Durham and Edgewood stakes.

A telegram was received at the office of the fair association this morning from Capt. Adrian C. Anson, better known as "Pop" Anson. "Pop" Anson is the oldest ball player in the United States and his services have been secured as umpire of the base ball tournament. "Pop" Anson is a whole show himself. His coming is assured.

SILVER CITY.

From the Independent.

Mrs. R. T. Ray and little daughter, Margaret, who have been visiting relatives in this city, left for their home in Topeka, Kas.

Edward A. Layne, George Burdette and Clyde Smith will leave on the first of the month on a hunting trip into Old Mexico of some weeks' duration. The party may be increased by two or three other recruits.

Lieut. R. L. Collins of the Second United States cavalry, who is a patient at the United States military sanitarium at Fort Bayard, is reported quite ill. Lieutenant Collins has many friends in Silver City who hope for his speedy recovery.

The county board of examiners have concluded the grading of papers of applicants for first and second grade certificates, and the examination papers were forwarded to the territorial superintendent of public instruction. Two first grade and seven second grade certificates were issued.

The members of Lodge No. 413, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, were pleasantly surprised last Wednesday evening by the appearance of many of their lady friends come to partake of the delicacies of the banquet which they supposed had been prepared solely for them. The affair was planned by a few of the Elks who asked and received the assistance of a few ladies. About 9 o'clock the ladies commenced to assemble in the Masonic hall and waited expectantly until after 10 to proceed to the Elks' lodge room on the other side of the building. There they walked in before their astonished hosts and were received cordially. Immediately a long table was set and a bounteous repast laid upon it. The banquet needs only the recommendation that it was a Elks' banquet.

Want a State.

The Republicans of Hawaii in convention assembled have passed resolutions asking for statehood for the Sandwich Islands. Here's hoping that they will not have to wait as long as New Mexico has been waiting.—New Mexican.

Imported From Paris.

While under the influence of the national drink, a Frenchman married three women. Absinthe makes the heart grow fonder.

NATIVE WOOD HAULERS.

Will Find Strong Competition But Will Profit Otherwise.

AMERICAN LUMBER CO. MILLS.

What will the poor native wood haulers do when the market is flooded with fine sawed wood from the American Lumber company's mills?

For more than twenty years of the beginning of Albuquerque the natives of Tijeras canyon have hauled wood to the city and depended almost entirely on the proceeds of its sale to purchase and supply the adobe house larger with flour, sugar, coffee and the few other necessary household articles that the brush eating native goat and a little garden plot could not supply. The advent of the mills will be a death blow to this long established industry, but possibly it will pave a way for a better and more profitable mode of securing a living for the wood hauler. In hauling wood from the mountains he can make about $3 in three days. If he will apply as much energy in hauling wood for the American Lumber company the hauler will increase his income at least 100 per cent.

The mills will probably begin operations about the 20th of next month, and wood will be put on the market from the beginning.

Yesterday General Manager Ira P. Bennett closed a contract with M. Nash for the wiring of electric lights for the mills and adjoining buildings. Every department will be lighted with electricity. The plans for the mills' office building are finished and the construction will commence immediately. It will be frame and 32x40 feet, one story. The building will be surrounded by a broad veranda and will contain five rooms. It will face on Twelfth street.

SANTA RITA.

From Silver City Independent.

Cliff Howell and sisters have moved over from Hanover to swell the population of the camp.

Miss May Hill, sister of Mrs. Al. Owens and Mrs. John Owens, departed for her home in Joplin, Mo., after a visit here of three months.

Harry Waitstill, a prominent cattleman of the Lower Mimbres country, and Charles Nelson, also from the Mimbres, were in camp on business this week.

Messrs. T. Dennis, A. McKee and John Turner, all of Santa Rita, started for Alpine, Texas, to bring back four carloads of young cattle to place on range in this vicinity.

Three cases followed each other in rapid succession in the justice court this week, in one of which the consideration was given to arguments from Judge A. H. Harlee and Attorney Col. in Neblett of Silver City.

John Deegan, book-keeper and stenographer for the Santa Rita Mining company, returned to his home after a three weeks' visit to his old home in Illinois. The boys were much disappointed in the chivari they had planned to give to a Mrs. Deegan who failed to appear.

CARNIVAL FEATURES.

Preparations in Progress for Plenty of Fun at the Fair.

THERE WILL BE A QUEEN.

New that the promoter of the southern Carnival company, C. A. Doyle, as arrived, preparations for the carnival feature of the big fair are being arranged with expedition. It has been decided to hold the big carnival, festivities on the vacant grounds on railroad avenue between Third and fifth streets, which will be fenced in and brilliantly lighted with hundreds of incandescent and arcs. One fifteen different shows, each one different from the rest, each make a separate electric display in front of their handsome entrances, and the apparatus used by the different high class artists in their sensational out-door free acts, are all ablaze with electric illuminations, the tower from which Gay dives, the big Ferris wheel and DuBell's high bicycle act will be all ablaze with vari-colored lights, presenting a most dazzling spectacle.

In addition to the multiplicity of shows and attractions of the big carnival company, many special features, contests, etc., will be seen, chief of which will be the coronation ceremony of a "Queen of the Carnival." The queen committee are now canvassing names of young ladies whose popularity, person and character, will fit them for the exalted position. When completed names will be published and voted for by popular vote. Her majesty will reign with absolute sway over all her subjects for one whole week of rollicking revelry. The mayor and city government will turn the keys of the city over to her majesty, whose rule will be absolute and undisputed. The queenly robes and jewels to be worn will be an exact counterpart of those worn by Queen Alexandra at the late coronation in England. She will be surrounded by a court of lovely maids of honor, courtiers, pages, train-bearers, etc., and will receive and will visit the fair grounds on some afternoons set aside for her special honor. She will mingle with her subjects in all the pleasures, pastimes, and diversions of the carnival every night. She will pay royal visits to all the shows, attractions and contests on the carnival ground and on Saturday due homage from her loyal subjects on a throne resplendent with the gorgeous trappings and drapings of a real seat of royalty.

Her august majesty and court will grace the swell Montezuma ball with her royal presence in state and may deign to lead the grand march and minuet. At night she will give way to King "Komus" who will rule or ruin for one whole night of rollicking royal revelry. His horde of hideous highlanders, high-rollers, horrible human monsters, etc., will dressed regardless of looks, give the atmosphere a vermillion hue, and stir up a confetti storm that will bury the populace in its mounds, drifts and avalanches. Mardi Gras night, Saturday the 1st, will probably figure in the history of Albuquerque as the climax of all former efforts in the way of unconfined rollick, fun and festivity.

FENNER ROBBED.

House of the Engineer Visited and a Good Haul Made.

MANY ARTICLES STOLEN.

Last night, between 6:30 and 9 o'clock, the residence of Engineer J. H. Fenner, No. 629 South Broadway, was entered, and the robber or robbers made a pretty good haul of everything wearable. At 6:15 p. m., Mr. Fenner was at his home, and found everything about the house all right, with the doors and windows locked. He left then and went to the residence of Thomas Isherwood, where he took supper, returning to his home at about 9:45. On entering his bed room it was clearly apparent to him that during his absence some unwelcome guest had become familiar with his premises. He investigated further, and discovered that an entrance had been effected first by cutting the wire screen of the back porch and then cutting the glass in the kitchen door. Once on the inside, bureau drawers and closets were ransacked and clothing taken. Mr. Fenner has turned the list of goods stolen over to Marshal McMillin, and he is working on several clues this afternoon. A new suit of clothes, a sack overcoat, fifteen pairs of new socks and many other articles are missing. For the next few days every suspicious hobo, between this city and La Junta on the north, El Paso on the south, and Needles on the west, will be stopped and searched.

REV. HARWOOD RETURNS.

Inspection of Spanish Methodist Episcopal Missions.

Rev. Thomas Harwood, superintendent of New Mexico Spanish missions, returned this morning from quite an extensive journey of inspection of missions under his care. He visited El Paso, Las Cruces, Dona Ana, Hatch, Garfield, Palomas, Animas and Millsboro, where he and the preachers of El Paso district held a short summer session and district conference. Thence to Solomonville, Ariz., thence to Tucson and Bisbee; thence to Cananea down in Sonora, Mexico, where he spent the Sabbath with English and Spanish religious services. Thence home via Douglas and Deming, where he held quarterly conference with preaching services last night.

Mr. Harwood says the weather was hot at El Paso, Las Cruces and Dona Ana, but seemed to grow cooler as he advanced up the Rio Grande. The doctor says sweet potatoes, spring chickens, chile con carne, or chile sin carne, with fruits and melons are good enough for anybody, though he says he doesn't eat the chile. It is wonderful, he says, how the people are improving in their table supplies, also in their cultivation of the soil. He says that years ago when he took a trip down in the bend of the river from Palomas to San Diego via old Ft. Thorn, he only remembers passing one house except the fort. Now there are little villages, school houses, churches, buildings, orchards and probably several hundred small houses and small cultivated fields. He says his own church, from Las Cruces to Palomas, has fine church buildings and four parsonages. At one place the church owns ten acres of nice tillable land, with fruits, vegetables and grain.

Kept Up His Reputation.

In 1893 Governor Campbell called at the White House and asked President Cleveland for a federal appointment for one August W. Machen. "There is a position as superintendent of free delivery in the postoffice department which pays $2,500 a year," said Mr. Cleveland. "Will he take that?" "He will take anything he can get," replied Governor Campbell, and Machen has been for ten years living up to the governor's recommendation.

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS.

Congressman Hearst Coming With Party of Forty to Fair.

TO SEE TERRITORIES FOR HIMSELF.

Hon. B. S. Rodey yesterday received official information that W. R. Hearst, newspaper publisher of New York City, Chicago and San Francisco, and congressman from New York, will visit the Albuquerque fair, accompanied by his oride.

Mr. Hearst will have his own special train, and it is his purpose to visit the territories to familiarize himself with their condition, resources and claims to statehood. To this end he has invited the following members of congress to be his guests upon the trip:

Congressman Greggs of Georgia, Clark of Missouri, Jones of Virginia, Governor Powers of Maine, Judge De Armond and Representatives Butler of Missouri, Robinson of Indiana, Howard of Georgia, Clayton and Underwood of Alabama, Moore of Tennessee, Lauderback of New York, Currier of New Hampshire, Hamilton of Michigan, Stevenson and Raney of Illinois, Benton of Missouri, Weisne of Wisconsin, and Senator McLaughlin of Mississippi.

Each of the guests is requested to bring with him his wife, daughter or sister, thus making the number, with Mr. and Mrs. Hearst, an even forty who will compose the excursion.

To each one of the invited guests, a list of whom was furnished Mr. Rodey by Mr. Hearst, the delegate has written a personal letter, earnestly urging acceptance of the invitation. It is understood, also, that Governor M. A. Otero will extend an official invitation to Mr. Hearst and to each of his guests, and that the governor and his staff will meet the party on its entrance into New Mexico.

With Prof. F. H. Newell, government hydrographer; one of the high chiefs of departments, sent out by James F. Wilson, secretary of agriculture; and Mr. Hearst and his party, all here at one and the same time, the fair this year will sure be a hummer.

A FULL HOUSE.

Attended Select Concert Last Night at Congregational Church.

A select and very large audience greeted the performers at the Congregational church concert last night and generously applauded every number. The consensus of opinion gleaned from comments made by those present was that the concert was the very best and the most interesting that has ever been given in Albuquerque. The program, arranged by Mrs. Himoe, to whom all credit is due for the conception and materialization of same, was replete with variety, a feature that rarely characterizes the programs usually rendered here. The performers' renditions, individually and collectively, left nothing to be desired; they were all enjoyable. If any one number pleased more than another, it was the duo by Miss Summers and Mr. Bell, which formed the "piece de resistance" of the evening.

ARIZONA TOWNS

FLAGSTAFF.

From the Gem.
Several Williams horses have entered for the races here during the carnival.

Miss Helen Adams of Prescott arrived here to enter the normal school. Next Sunday the last service for this conference year will be held in the Methodist church.

The Flagstaff base ball team is practicing nearly every evening for the games during the carnival.

From the Sun.

J. C. McGuire, forest ranger of the Grand canyon forest reserve, is in town this week.

The woods have been full of deer hunters this week and a number of hunters left today on deer hunting expeditions. Venison has not yet been a drug on the market.

Hugh Dugan and John Conrad, two Flagstaff boys, who have been playing base ball in the Texas league, have returned home. Both are good ball players and made excellent records this season.

The date of the carnival ball has been changed from Friday night to Saturday night. The ball committee is composed of Messrs. S. F. Quay, E. J. Rains, Burt Doyle, J. G. Verkamp and they will make the ball a success. The ball will be given in the pavilion at Milton.

Jacob Kaufman has sold his sheep recently purchased from William Rose, to the Howard Sheep company. The purchase includes a number of reservoirs for watering places, and also includes the Martin dam. The consideration was $21,000, and sheep men say that the price was a very reasonable one.

COOKING COAL FIELDS.

Companies Working Live Claims in San Marcos Canyon.

AT NEW MEXICO FAIR.

Tony Nels, who has been a resident of Santa Fe county for twenty-five years, who lived at Cerrillos for some years, has recently made a strike of a valuable vein of cooking coal, situated about two miles north of Cerrillos, on the east side of the San Marcos canyon. He has run an incline tunnel into the vein about fifty feet, the vein widening constantly and the coal improving in quality and quantity.

The vein is now a little over three feet wide and Mr. Nels expects that it will develop into a five foot vein before one hundred feet of the work has been done. In this vicinity right opposite to the Tony Nels property, on the west side of San Marcos canyon, is located the coal property owned by the Shaw-Gibson mining company.

This company has been prospecting and working for coal in that locality for about two months, and has so far driven a tunnel about forty feet in length into its vein and has developed about four feet of coal, which is getting better right along and has been demonstrated to be of the finest cooking quality and of the same character as the coal in the Tony Nels property.

These facts clearly establish that in that locality an extensive coal field will be opened, which promises to be the finest in that county, although there is more or less coal throughout the southern part of the county as clearly proved by past events in the coal production line.

Large blocks of the black diamonds of these two properties will be exhibited at the territorial fair and thereafter sent to the New Mexico exhibit at the St. Louis exposition. A. R. Gibson, who is in charge of the Santa Fe county mineral exhibit recently received a beautiful specimen of coal from the Tony Nels property which weighs about one hundred and fifty pounds, and shows unequivocally that the character of the coal is of the very finest for heating, steam and cooking purposes.

Mr. Gibson is now getting similar specimens from the property owned by the Shaw-Gibson mining company for exhibition purposes. He is also hard at work on the general mining exhibit and believes that he will make the same a success.

James Lamb, superintendent of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company at Madrid, has informed Mr. Gibson that his company will be pleased to supply the Santa Fe county exhibit with superior specimens of the anthracite and bituminous coal mined in the Madrid coal fields. The collection of minerals containing gold, copper, silver, lead and zinc from this company is also growing apace and by the time of the holding of the fair it will have assumed very respectable proportions.

WILLIAMS.

From the News.

Miss Anna Hill returned recently from her trip to W. W. Bass' camp in the Grand canyon and departed for her home in California.

Mrs. Martin Buggeln and Mrs. L. L. Ferrall were visitors in town the first of the week from the Grand Canyon.

Mrs. J. F. Flick returned to her home at Rhodes after a visit with Mrs. L. S. McNeill in this city.

A new boat was taken to the canyon this week for the use of the Grand Canyon Electric Power company. The old boat was lost some weeks since, when McGonigle and McLean met their death.

Ben Sweetwood was fixing a screen door last Sunday when the spring flew back and striking him on the chin almost put him out of business, cutting quite a gash.

H. H. Ainsworth and wife stopped over here for a few days' visit with the latter's sisters, Messdames Kennedy and Johnston, while en route from the coast to their home in Albuquerque, where Mr. Ainsworth is in the employ of the Santa Fe.

Miss Sallie Goodman, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. B. Girard, at the Grand canyon for some time past, came in and departed for her home in Texas. On Thursday Mrs. Girard joined her husband here and they will make the ball a success. Mr. Girard will again take up her residence.

About next Wednesday the local saw mill will close down. The next two weeks will be devoted to installing a new boiler and making needed repairs, while the work of tearing up the track of the Saginaw Southern and the laying of new track into the timber near the Sitgreaves will be prosecuted. No doubt the game will suffer now, as all the boys are figuring on going into the hills.

HOLBROOK.

From the Argus.

The following members were placed in nomination and duly elected directors of the eastern division of the Arizona Wool Growers' association for the coming year: John R. Hulet, Wm. Amos, James Scott, J. T. Leaneur, and W. W. Perkins. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: John T. Leaneur, president; Wm. N. Amos, vice president; John R. Hulet, treasurer; James Scott, secretary.

It Is a Girl.

About two weeks ago, Fred Raymer, the well-known base ball player, and wife arrived in the city from Columbus, Ohio, where Mr. Raymer was a playing member of the American association team of that city. Today, he is one of the happiest of men, and is around whispering into the ears of intimate friends that "it is a girl." The little lady made her appearance early this morning, and tips the scales at eight pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Raymer are stopping at the home of Charles Quier. They expect to winter in southern California, and will leave for Los Angeles as soon as Mrs. Raymer is able to travel.

New York's Lung Block.

The "Lung Block" is the home of 4,000 people, of whom ten per cent are children under 3 years of age. In the past ten years there have been 265 deaths from consumption among the residents of the block. It is permeated with tuberculosis germs from sub-cellular to roof. One room has a record of having slaughtered five persons belonging to three different families in two years and ten months.

The Texas railroad commission issued its decree in the matter of an application from Rogers and Moody to compel the through Santa Fe passenger trains to stop at those points to receive and discharge passengers. The application is rejected, Commissioner Mayfield dissenting.

Weekly Citizen, per year, $2.00

When in doubt the coal dealers simply raise the price.

Do not leave any of the preparations for the big territorial fair undone.

Mexico imported 170,000 American typewriters last year. Mexico is rapidly becoming civilized.

The good news that work may begin on the Albuquerque Eastern railroad is cheering to the people of this city.

Lord Salisbury's fortune amounted to a million and a half dollars, while his funeral expenses amounted to only $75.

There will be considerable irrigation in this city during territorial fair week with or without an irrigation convention.

Chicago will celebrate its centennial next Saturday, and the whole town will be painted red in imitation of the big fire of 1871.

Three weeks from this morning the territorial fair will open in this city. It is going to be the best fair ever held in the southwest.

Two socialists have been convicted and sentenced to six months in prison at San Juan, Porto Rico, for offering an insult to the American flag.

The ninth quarterly dividend of the United States Steel Corporation, amounting to $5,000,000, will be paid September 30 to 34,577 stockholders.

The Albuquerque Eastern railroad can be secured by this city when the reasonable conditions demanded by the railway company are complied with.

Arizona is entitled to separate statehood. Hereafter the school children of that territory will be taught to salute the American flag wherever Old Glory floats.

The Turkish regular army is said to number 584,000 infantry, while the cavalry, artillery and engineering branches aggregate 116,000 more, or 700,000 men as its standing strength.

Efforts to create the impression that there is friction between the union printers in the government office and the administration have been traced to influential democratic politicians.

It is to the interest of this territory that an irrigation convention should be held in this city during the territorial fair. El Paso would be vitally interested and would send a large delegation.

The last annual report of the controller of the treasury shows that there are 6,666,672 savings bank depositors in the United States with an aggregate accumulation of $2,750,177,000 on deposit.

While all this talk is going on about irrigation it might just as well be remembered that it is no new thing. The Americans only think it is. It was practiced successfully in the valleys around Babylon over 4,000 years ago.

The state militia at Cripple Creek have acted in a despotic manner, and the rights of citizens have been trampled upon. Men have been thrown into jail without process of law, and it is high time a halt was called upon such proceedings.

A statement just presented by the department of commerce and labor, through the bureau of statistics, shows that importation of goat skins into the United States are now running at the rate of $25,000,000 per annum, and that a large share of these are brought from India, China, Arabia and south-eastern Russia.

The coffin trade has increased the cost of coffin hardware 35 per cent during the present year. The high price of materials does not operate in this particular case, because the manufacturers were already making lots of money and the excess of demand over supply cannot be used as an excuse. It is an arbitrary increase, as unjust as is unwarranted. And the undertakers have no recourse.

TO RECLAIM AN EMPIRE.
The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says that President Roosevelt did not exaggerate the importance of the national irrigation act when he said in his letter to the irrigation congress that "it was the beginning of an achievement so great that we hesitate to predict the outcome."

The act of June 17, 1902, applies to fully two-fifths of the entire area of the continental United States. The arid region begins very near the middle of the continent and stretches westward close to the Pacific. A line running through the western ends of the two Dakotas, Nebraska and Kansas and striking the Texas panhandle marks the eastern boundary of the section which requires artificial moisture in order to render it capable of cultivation with success. From that line onward over the Rocky mountains to within a few hundred miles of the Pacific most of the country is a rainfall below the normal of agricultural regions. All that vast stretch of land comprising parts of sixteen states and territories and a majority of some of them, will be under the operation of the irrigation law.

It has been estimated that the irrigation policy will add $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 to the number of people that the western half of the country will be able to support. Experiments have proven that lands which can be irrigated freely will be double as productive as the average of the lands in the humid region. The requisite amount of moisture which they will be able to secure will give them a great advantage over the lands which get too much of it in one year and not enough of it in the next.

PENSION LIST DECREASING.
Commissioner of Pensions Ware has recently issued his annual report, which shows that the disbursements for pensions are now growing smaller. The high water mark was reached in the year ending June 30, 1901, when there were 999,446 pensioners on the rolls. For a like period ending June 30 last the number was 996,545. Unless there should be another war, it is unlikely that the number will ever again rise so near the one million mark, and the probability is that from now on the decline will be rapid.

The highest amount ever paid to the veterans and their dependants in one year was in 1901, when $139,582,231.98 was distributed by the pension bureau. The mortality is constantly growing greater, and in a few years the most of this prodigious sum will be available for other purposes. Without increasing taxation, the government will have at its disposal an amount of money sufficient to carry on a vast system of internal improvements, such as the deepening of rivers and harbors; or it might be applied to strengthening the navy and increasing the merchant marine.

SITUATION AT DURANGO.
The editor of the San Juan County Index spent several days at Durango, Colo., last week, and he says of the strike situation there:

"While in Durango we had a great deal of time for reflection, and as 'strike' was the most frequently discussed topic, our thoughts naturally turned to strikes, and it does seem to us that American freedom is being curtailed to a large extent when the owners of properties capable of producing thousands and millions of wealth do not know from day to day if they will be able to keep them working. When mills and mines are shut down without questions being asked, when towns, counties and stores are at a standstill without cause; when the working man, the man who carries the dinner pails, shovels, picks, drills, and tools for a living for himself and his family, who builds a home and lays away a few dollars for old age; when the man can be made to quit his job by the magic wand of the agitator's word, then, American liberty is fast losing its Americanism."

JEWISH NEW YEAR.
According to the Jewish calendar the 5644th year since the creation of the world begins at sundown tonight. This being the Jewish New Year, it is one of the most important festivities known to Hebrews, and elaborate preparations have been made for its observance all over the world. At sunset tonight the ceremonies begin, and they will continue for three weeks. The opening event is the feast of Trumpets. Three days hence falls the fast of Guedallah, when the orthodox Jew abstains from food, and even from water. Other important days during the festival season are the feast of tabernacles on the fifteenth day, and the rejoicing of the law on the twenty-first. All these ceremonies are required to properly begin the Jewish New Year.

The first day of the year is regarded by the Jews as the day of judgment, because they say that on that day God sits in judgment on the deeds of individuals and assigns to every one his fate for the coming year—death or life, or the kind of death due those who die, such as death by fire or water. The prayer offered on the first day is that the names of all the people may be written in the book of life. New Year's Day has for its distinguishing feature the blowing of the "shofar"—a straight horn of antelope or wild goat. This trumpet call is designed to serve as a summons to all Israel to enter upon the work of sanctification and prepare for the Day of Atonement.

The Jewish New Year is a movable feast, like the Christian festival of Easter, and is fixed by the changes of the moon. The longest year has 385 days and the shortest 355 days, but the completed cycle of nineteen years corresponds with nineteen solar years. The leap years, arranged to make the years synchronize with the seasons, contain thirteen months. On this day, 5644 years ago, the Jews say, God began the work of creation.

The Santa Fe system has contracted for the early delivery of 500 refrigerator cars. Traffic officials of the road say that this year they were able to handle the California fruit crop without assistance from private car lines, thereby greatly increasing the revenue of the company from fruit traffic. The company, therefore, proposes to increase its equipment for refrigerator cars as rapidly as possible to handle the steadily increasing volume of traffic.

The act of June 17, 1902, applies to fully two-fifths of the entire area of the continental United States. The arid region begins very near the middle of the continent and stretches westward close to the Pacific. A line running through the western ends of the two Dakotas, Nebraska and Kansas and striking the Texas panhandle marks the eastern boundary of the section which requires artificial moisture in order to render it capable of cultivation with success. From that line onward over the Rocky mountains to within a few hundred miles of the Pacific most of the country is a rainfall below the normal of agricultural regions. ELIZABETHTOWN ROAD.

Promoters and Capitalists are Making Final Examination.

A party of St. Louis capitalists who are interested in the building of the New Mexico & Pacific railroad, the permanent survey of which has been made from Raton to Elizabethtown, arrived in Raton the other day. The party consists of Henry Kocolar, president Germania Trust company; Dr. Karl Volmer, A. W. Lambert, Capt. H. S. Carroll, railroad contractor, and Thos. B. Harlan.

Mr. Harlan, the principal promoter of the road, stated to a Raton Range representative that the object of the visit of his party was to make a final examination of the road as surveyed and that he was not prepared to make any definite statement of interest to the readers until the return of the party from a trip over the route which would consume probably thirty days. He remarked, however, that "everything is looking well for the road."

The visiting capitalists in company with J. van Houten and L. S. Preston left Tuesday morning for van Houten coal camp, and from thence all of the party with the exception of Mr. van Houten, proceeded to Elizabethtown, from which place they will go to Taos and possibly further west. They will return to Raton about October 15.

CHIEF ENGINEER DUN.

While in El Paso He Was Interviewed on Railroad Building.

THE CUT-OFF SITUATION.

The Citizen, Thursday afternoon, contained a brief notice to the effect that James Dun, chief engineer of the Santa Fe system, was here for a few minutes Wednesday night, leaving on the delayed passenger for the south. Mr. Dun was in El Paso and was interviewed as follows by the Herald:

"I am on my way to the east. I have some business with Lantry Bros. and wired them to meet me at Albuquerque last night, which they did, and we came here to finish up our business."

"Yes, our company has stopped all work on the Belen cut-off, but I am of the opinion that work will be resumed some time this winter. Just what caused the company to have all work suspended I can not say, but I don't think it was either a question of finances or the Rock Island alliance but other matters that were brought into consideration."

"The company now has about sixty per cent of the work of building the line to Willard on the Santa Fe Central completed, but owing to a shortage of steel rails and bridge material we can not proceed with the work. We now have about twenty miles of the graded track out from Belen and are ready for operation. Lantry & Co., who have the contract for the grading of the line, are still holding their outfit there, but doing no work."

"It is a sure thing, however, that the cut-off will be built as far as Willard on the Santa Fe Central, to form a connection with the Rock Island. Willard station is located about due east from Belen at a distance of fifty miles and about thirty miles northwest of Torrance, so you see it would give the Rock Island an admirable connection for through business to the Pacific coast."

"As to extending the Santa Fe beyond Willard I cannot say. The company has several projects, but none of them have been passed on as yet, consequently no one knows just what will take place. One of the projects in view is the building of a new line from Dodge City, Kansas, to Belen, N. M., to take the place of the present main line between those points. This line would enable the company to get into Belen, without passing over the heavy grades that are at present causing such a heavy expense. The survey for this projected extension was completed about sixty days ago, but as yet the report has not been sent to the stockholders. In fact, we have recently made a number of surveys through New Mexico and other portions on the western line and while nothing has been decided as yet, I would not be surprised at seeing a good many changes in the company's property in the west."

Jewish Holiday Services.

The Jewish New Year celebration begins tonight. Services will be held in Temple Albert at 7:45 o'clock and on the Tuesday morning following at 10 o'clock. A very excellent musical program has been prepared for these services. The sermons by Rabbi Jacob H. Kaplan will be entitled: "The Message of the New Year," for this evening, and for the Tuesday morning service, "The Light of God: What Is It?" The public is invited to these services.

In response to a telephone message a physician hurried to the scene and had Mr. Ohnemus removed to the hospital in this city, where it was found that his injuries were not serious, consisting of a concussion on the head which bled freely, and several minor bruises. Mr. Ohnemus is a heavy and very powerful man and it is more or less of a wonder that he was not killed by the fall. The exact way in which the accident occurred has not been learned.

ERROR CORRECTED.

No Suit Ever Brought Against the University of New Mexico.

IT IS A DEFUNCT PRIVATE AFFAIR.

A telegram sent out from Santa Fe last night announced that Judge John R. McFie, sitting in the United States district court at the capital, had that day entered a final decree in the case of Catherine F. Howard vs. The University of New Mexico, in favor of the plaintiff, and judgment was rendered for the sum of $5,265. The property in question was ordered sold within ninety days from the date of decree, the sale to be public and to the highest bidder for cash.

Many readers of this telegram at home and abroad, supposed it to refer to the Territorial University located in this city. Such is not the case. The University of New Mexico, was created by the legislature and located in Albuquerque, is owned by the territory and owes nobody one cent.

What was ordered sold is an old building in Santa Fe, which belonged to the New West Education association, a New England Congregational enterprise, which did much good educational work in the territory, prior to the inauguration of the present excellent public school system. But the establishment of the latter was the death of the former.

Their academy building in this city was purchased by J. S. Reynolds and presented for a home to the free public library. Their building in Las Vegas went to wreck, the site was purchased, the building torn down, and a handsome row of flats erected in its place. And now their building in Santa Fe has been ordered sold in favor of some eastern lady, who no doubt had contrived money to the enterprise. These facts should have been indicated in the Santa Fe dispatch.

WAGON LOADS OF SULPHUR.

Arrived This Morning And More Coming Tomorrow.

Thirteen four-horse wagon loads of sulphur arrived from Sulphur Springs today, bringing 50,000 pounds of the yellow mineral. Many of the wagons bore streamers containing the words: "Otero Sulphur Co., Care Gross, Kelly & Co." There are ten more wagons on the way with 25,000 pounds, making 75,000 for the present shipment.

The sulphur is contained in 100 pound sacks, and is said by experts to be the finest ever brought to this market. The wagons were unloaded at the Gross, Kelly warehouse, but it is understood that the entire shipment had already been sold. M. S. Otero deserves great credit for adding another industry to this part of New Mexico.

MORE SANITARIUMS.

Osteopath Looking for Sites in Southern New Mexico.

LAS CRUCES AND CARLSBAD.

Dr. I. W. Collins of Kirksville, Mo., in company with W. R. Allison, a real estate dealer of Carlsbad, N. M., has been in El Paso several days looking over the situation there and at Las Cruces with reference to the establishing of a big sanitarium.

Dr. Collins represents Dr. A. T. Still, head of the famous Osteopathic Sanitarium and Medical Institute at Kirksville, which has a national reputation in its line of the healing art.

Messrs. Collins and Allison were interviewed by an El Paso Times man, and the former said in substance:

"Our institution in Missouri is in very flourishing condition handling on an average of a thousand patients the year around. It is our intention to find a suitable location in the mild climate of the southwest for the foundation of a sanitarium for the treatment of pulmonary and throat diseases, and I am looking about me on this trip for a site."

"I have just come from an inspection of the proposition at Carlsbad, and while it is a fine one, it does not quite meet our requirements, the chief drawback being its isolation from any large city. The class of patients we expect to treat, and do treat now, are people of means, and the amusement feature is a strong card for our prospective institution, since a happy and contented frame of mind in the patient goes a long way in securing his presence and also expediting his cure. Carlsbad is too small now to offer these features."

"I visited Las Cruces, but in my mind neither that place nor Carlsbad offer the attractions that El Paso does. I will be here a day or two and look into the local possibilities, but we are in no hurry to settle so important a matter until we have gathered all the data possible from all likely places, and personal investigations as well."

"It means the investment of a great amount of money when we do locate, as we expect to handle and arrange for the accommodation of from 500 to 1,000 patients at all times of the year, save perhaps a few months in mid-summer."

"Tomorrow night I expect to leave over the Santa Fe to inspect some of the sites along that line in New Mexico. General Passenger Agent W. J. Black has wired me to come on to Topeka to see him before closing any deal, and I suppose he has something to show me. However, I will return to El Paso later, in any event, as my present visit gives me too little time to thoroughly investigate the local offerings."

"Frankly, however, I will state that El Paso has impressed me more favorably than any place I have visited yet."

Mr. Allison leaves for his Peros valley home this morning, and is still hopeful of interesting Dr. Collins' people at Carlsbad. It is easy to see by the drift of Dr. Collins' talk that if for any reason El Paso is not selected, Carlsbad is his second choice at the present time.

PACER PRIMROSE.

She Lowered the Track Record at Denver Saturday Afternoon.

A short time ago, or rather immediately after the conclusion of the Colorado racing circuit, Joe Barnett, of this city, sold Primrose, one of his pacers, to J. Fred Roberts, of Denver. Last Saturday afternoon, at the matinee races at Denver, Primrose lowered the track record for half a mile. The Denver papers have the following to say about the performance:

Primrose, driven by J. Fred Roberts, took the City Park track record yesterday, going a half mile in 1:03 3/4. She was prompted by a runner, ridden by D. F. Hogan, and his work was as neat as has been seen. He kept the horse right at the mare's head, urging her to her best all the way. The best eighth was the second, which Primrose paced in 15 1/2 seconds, a 2:02 gait.—News.

The chief feature of the day was the performance of the new mare, KOHE the sensational half mile negotiated by Primrose, belonging to J. Fred Roberts, who drove her. She lowered the track record for a half mile from 1:05 to 1:03 3/4, which was made by her stable companion, Daisy Field, the Saturday before. Daniel Hogan paced the race on a running horse. A desire has arisen among a great many members of the club for a match race between the two little mares, and it is more than likely that this desire will be gratified before the matinee season closes.—Post.

There was great cheering at City Park yesterday when J. Fred Roberts' swift pacer, Primrose, driven by the owner, broke the track record. Primrose was inspired by a running mate to the best effort, and fairly flew around the course, coming under the wire in 1:03 3/4. The former record was 1:05 made by Daisy Field, also owned by Mr. Roberts. Primrose covered the first quarter in the remarkable time of 30 3/4. The track was in fine condition and the day was ideal for speed contests. A large crowd of people filled the stand, and the fences and infield were lined with spectators and vehicles. There was excellent sport and the matinee races were voted a great hit.—Republican.

A WATER WITCH.

Able to Successfully Locate Underground Streams From Childhood.

SOME ACCOUNT OF SUCCESSES.

W. C. D. Miller has been in railroad employ since August, 1881, or a little over twenty-two years. He came from Parsons, Kas., because of bronchial trouble, to the service of the Santa Fe in New Mexico in 1894, and has since been in the train service of that road, spending four years between Las Vegas and Raton, and five years between Albuquerque and Santa Fe, where he is now running.

When about 13 years old, there came to the house of his brother-in-law with whom he was then living, a man named Stanley, an old Baptist preacher, noted for his ability to locate wells. The lad proved up the old gentleman's swiches, and found that they turned in his hands as effectively as in the hands of their owner. The good man became interested in the child and gave him a few elementary instructions. Mr. Miller uses four different kinds of swiches—peach, pear, willow and water ash. These act more quickly and powerfully when green and fresh, though he has often used them when they had become old and the bark seemed as dry as a bone. Some of these swiches he uses to discover the underground flow, others for following the direction of the stream, others to determine the quality of the water, and yet others to ascertain its depth below the surface. Of recent wells located by Mr. Miller, mention may be made as follows:

In the Jornada, between Rincon and San Marcial he located three wells for Lee Baldwin, the well known stockman, who found the water at a depth indicated, within a foot and a half to three feet of the depth given, of the quality predicted, and in the formation described.

For the Mundy brothers of El Paso, he designated a well-site in the valley east of that town and two miles from the postoffice. The stream on which the well was located is a fresh water flow between two adjacent salt water flows. The water is delightfully pure and soft and is used for irrigating one of the cemeteries.

Mr. Miller made three locations for the Santa Fe Railway company. Upon the one which he said would yield the least flow of water, an eight-inch well was drilled, and at a depth of ninety-seven feet, in sand and gravel formation, as was foretold, water was obtained which yields a supply of sixty gallons per hour. This well is a mile south of Uppam station. Mr. Miller says that when they develop a well two miles east of Gramma station, another of the three locations he selected, at the depth of 100 feet they will reach a flow of water yielding ten times the supply from the Uppam well.

A well for H. O. Bursum, warden of the penitentiary, is being sunk east of San Antonio, N. M., at a point designated by Mr. Miller. It has reached a depth of forty-seven feet, and is in a stratum of very wet spongy sandstone. He had promised water at fifty-seven feet and he feels confident that before the remaining ten feet shall be sunk the flow will be struck.

For J. S. Cook, a well-known cattleman of Socorro county, Mr. Miller made an examination of the Gran Quilira. He thinks he found, and located three wells upon, the very same flow which the inhabitants of this remarkable pueblo used 400 years ago. The wells are located, two on the main flow and one on a side or branch flow. These wells will be from seventy-five to eighty-eight feet; for, like very much the greater part of the old pueblo, the wash from the mountains, during the centuries, has come down and covered the former river to a depth varying from twenty-five to ninety feet.

A. H. Hilton, the popular general merchant of San Antonio, is engaged in coal mining at Carthage. In the latter district is the fine Silva well, from which the operators in the district generally buy the water they use. This well is three miles north-east from Carthage. Mr. Hilton said to Mr. Miller that if the latter could secure for him a well like Mr. Silva's, it would be of great value to his coal business. Mr. Miller went to Carthage, and about 500 feet east of one of Mr. Hilton's properties he found an underground flow, which he followed in a northerly direction, at varying depths of forty, eighty and 202 feet, until it led him to Silva's well, as to the location of which he had received no information. He subsequently discovered a different flow, coming from under the Bell mountain, and on this he located three wells for Mr. Hilton, one of them being at a point from which the water aiter having been lifted to the surface, can be distributed by gravity to all of Mr. Hilton's properties. It was but the other day that Mr. Miller made these locations, and work has not yet begun upon them.

Ten miles west of Socorro, Mr. Miller went to locate wells for G. Blavasi, a well-known business man of that city. He discovered three different flows and on them located eight wells. Mr. Blavasi expressed his intention to commence developing the water immediately.

Mr. Miller was in town yesterday and communicated the foregoing facts to a Citizen reporter, who has known him as a man of veracity for many years. He also made the statement that when he is following up or down an underground flow, he feels exactly as though he were wading in a stream of water, and he can tell in an instant when he passes from being over the water to being over the banks of the unseen stream.

CHARGE TO JURY.

Judge Baker Tells the Jurors to Make Investigations.

INQUIRE INTO VIOLATIONS.

The charge given the territorial grand jury was as follows:

In the district court of the Second judicial district of the territory of New Mexico, within and for the county of Bernalillo.

Gentlemen:—You have been legally selected, empaneled and sworn as grand jurors for the September, 1903, term of the district court of the Second judicial district, within and for the county of Bernalillo. For more than a thousand years, throughout the civilized world, has lived in some form and under some name the embodiment of the grand jury of today, having always had for its object the prevention for trial of violators of the law, doing their work in secret, so that the influence of wealth and position could not be present to prevent the presentation of the guilty, nor to force the presentation of the innocent. It is incumbent upon the court to instruct you generally as to what the law is, and your duty under the law; and where the instructions are not particular and exhaustive you can apply to the district attorney or to the court, at any time, for further instruction, or as to what the law is upon any particular matter.

It is the duty of the grand jury to inquire into all violations of the law that have been committed within this county, or that may be prosecuted within this county, irrespective of persons. Your foreman is empowered with authority to administer oaths to the several witnesses that will appear before you. It is expected of the grand jurors that you will be controlled by evidence only that is produced before your body. The general rules of evidence will govern you in determining whether or not an indictment should be presented. You will consider none but legal evidence, and the best evidence in degree, when you are deliberating upon whether or not a presentment should be made. You may consider hearsay, or secondary evidence, for the purpose only of assisting you in ascertaining or running down proper persons where legal evidence may be thus ascertained or found; but in all your deliberations you will allow no secondary or hearsay evidence to weigh with you. You are not bound to hear evidence submitted to you, and when you have reason to believe that other evidence within your reach will explain away the charge, you should order such evidence to be produced, and for that purpose may require the district attorney to issue process for such necessary witnesses.

It is the duty of the grand jury to present indictments against any and all persons when all the evidence taken together is such, as in the judgment of the several members of the grand jury, would warrant a conviction, beyond a reasonable doubt, before a trial jury. If any of your number know of any violations of law, or have reason to believe there has been an offense of the law, it is your duty to bring the matter to the attention of the grand jury. In other words, it is the duty of the grand jury to investigate and carefully consider any charges of violation of the law from whatever source they may come.

You must be very careful not to allow your desires or inclinations to swerve you from returning an indictment where the evidence warrants. You should be equally as cautious not to allow your personal hatred or prejudice to prevent any person not fully warranted by the evidence.

You will allow no one to remain in your room during your considerations and deliberations upon any subject calling for an official act of your body, nor will you advise with any one as to what you should do except amongst yourselves. After a thorough and full consideration of all legal evidence before you as to whether or not a true bill should be found against any person or persons, it is your duty then to vote upon the question, and if twelve or more of your number are of the conscientious opinion that a bill of indictment should be presented, you will then request the district attorney to prepare an indictment in accordance with your desires, upon the back of which indictment will be the words "A true bill," which must be signed by your foreman and by you presented in open court.

The first matters for your consideration, will be to investigate the parties now in custody, having been bound over by magistrates or justices of the peace to this court to await the action of your body. If twelve or more of your number find a bill against these persons, then a true bill should be presented; if less than twelve of your number only think a bill should be presented, then the parties should be discharged; and you will so report your findings in these matters.

You will next consider any and all charges against persons who have been bound over to the district court and are now upon bond, awaiting the action of your body.

It will be your duty to inquire of any willful and corrupt misconduct in office of any of the public officers of this county. For the purpose of use of the grand jury, or of any member, you will have free access to all public records of the county. Among other things it will be your duty to inquire into whether or not the law of the county is properly kept. In this connection, I advise you that there has been charges made in the newspapers of our city, of corruption and malfeasance in office of some of our county officers, as well as in elections. It is of great value to a community to have newspapers that have the courage to ferret out crime, especially of public officers and give the public the result of their efforts. On the other hand, such newspapers charges are without foundation in fact, and are made through partisan or sectional feeling and malice, and are doing nothing more harmful to the community as well as to the individuals attacked. It is your duty to call before you the managers of such newspapers and get from them their knowledge or information of crimes committed and most thoroughly and vigorously investigate all such charges and let no guilty person escape.

The law requires, as well as the good service of the grand jury, that all your doings be kept absolutely secret; all matters should be kept inviolate by every member of the grand jury; and, in fact, the law provides that if any grand juror shall disclose the doings of the grand jury while sitting, or even thereafter, that they may be punished, in any sum not exceeding the sum of fifty dollars, unless such disclosure is made under due process of law.

The law makes it a part of my duty to charge you and call your special attention to Section 405 of the Compiled Statutes of 1897, which law provides in substance that it shall be unlawful for any county commissioner, sheriff, treasurer, assessor, probate judge or probate clerk, or any other person who as principal or deputy holds any county office to either directly or indirectly buy, sell, deal in or speculate in any certificate, warrant or other evidence of indebtedness issued by such county or by the territory of New Mexico, except such warrant or certificate as might be issued to such person. The law also provides in Section 406 that it is unlawful for any mayor, councilman, collector, marshal, clerk or other person holding any office of appointment in any incorporated city or town in the territory, to either directly or indirectly buy, sell, barter, deal in or speculate in any such certificate or warrant of such incorporated city or town, except such as are legally issued to them; and a like provision is in the statute for the clerk of the district court or his deputy with orders or certificate issued by such officer.

It is my duty to call your attention particularly to Section 1377 of the Compiled Statutes of 1897, wherein the law provides in effect, that if any person shall carry a deadly weapon either concealed or otherwise on or about the settlements of the territory, except upon his own premises or in the lawful defense of his person, property or family, it is an indictable crime under the laws of the territory. The law also provides that if any person shall draw a deadly weapon upon another, or if any person shall handle a deadly weapon in a threatening manner towards another, except in the lawful defense of himself, his family or his property, it is an indictable offense. The law upon this subject will be more particularly explained to you by the district attorney in case any such matter shall come before your body.

You are further instructed that if any person shall be found upon the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, engaged in any sports, or in horse-racing, cock-fighting, or in any other manner disturbing any worshiping assembly or private family, or attending any public meeting or public exhibition, except for religious worship or instruction, or engaged in any labor, except works of necessity, charity or mercy, it is an indictable offense, and should any violation of this statute come to your knowledge or information, it is the duty of the grand jury to indict all such persons. In this connection, I charge you that the selling of liquors in a saloon and running of gambling devices on Sunday, is a violation of the so-called Sunday law, and it is your duty to investigate the subject and make such presentments as the evidence warrants.

It is also made the duty of the presiding judge to call your attention to any violations, if there be any, of Section 1, Chapter 33, of the Session Laws of 1903, which makes it the duty of parents, guardians or other persons having the control, care or direction of children, when such children do not attend some private or denominational school, to send such children to a public school for at least three months in each year, such children being over the age of seven and under the age of fourteen years. Neglect or refusal to do so is an indictable offense, and I here specifically call your attention, as well as that of the district attorney to any violation of the law, if there be any, within this county.

It is my duty also to specifically call your attention to section 1548 of the Compiled Laws of 1897, as amended by Section 17 of Chapter 119 of the Session Laws of 1903, to the effect that it shall be the duty of all officers collecting moneys that go to the school fund to report the same on or before the first Monday in January, April, July and October, of each year. In case they fail or neglect so to do, it is the duty of your honorable body to inquire into and make presentment of any violations of this law.

In case an interpreter is needed in the examination of witnesses or in your discussion of evidence you will have one at your command, but in no event must the interpreter or any other person be in your room or within your hearing during your balloting, or determining whether or not an indictment shall be returned.

It will be the duty of the grand jury to select one of your number as clerk, whose duty it will be to make and preserve the minutes of your proceedings, except your votes on indictments. Such minutes should be furnished the prosecuting attorney to aid him in drawing indictments, if you find any, in accordance with your findings. The law is a little lax as to whom and how the grand jury shall carry on its proceedings, and I direct that your hours of labor shall be from nine till twelve o'clock in the forenoon, and from two until half past five in the afternoon; and further direct that during all your hours of labor you work earnestly and honestly and as speedily as possible, and let me ask that you make for yourselves an enviable record.

The announcement of her death will be received with the sincerest regret in Las Vegas, where, having visited in years past, she was known to many as an exceptionally beautiful and charming woman and where she numbered many among her friends.

MONTE BAIRD SUICIDES.

A Brother of Billy Baird, of this City, Commits Deed in El Paso.

SENT BULLET THROUGH HEAD.

Billy Baird, a clerk at "The St. Elmo" resort, was called to El Paso on Monday night in response to a telegram that his brother, Monte Baird, had shot himself. The telegram gave no particulars, but the following article from the News tells the sad tale:

Without a word of warning and with no apparent cause Monte Baird, one of the best known bartenders of this city, placed a 38 caliber pistol to the back of his head while standing in front of a mirror in his room in the Hotel Phoenix and fired a bullet which in three hours ended his existence.

The deed was a perfect surprise to all his friends and his wife, who had just come into the room with Monte a few minutes before, was horrified and rendered prostrate by the horrible act of her husband.

The suicide occurred at seven o'clock, just after Mr. and Mrs. Baird had partaken of their supper. Mr. Baird did not seem to be in good spirits, but he gave no intimation that he intended doing away with himself.

The sound of their steps had hardly died away when they left the dining room before a shot was heard and Mrs. Baird was heard to scream: "My husband! My poor husband has shot himself!"

Then she ran out of the room and down the stairs, weeping hysterically, to tell the lady of the house of the suicide. The police were summoned and Night Captain Mitchell and Officer Larrazola responded. They found the dying man lying on the floor in front of an open drawer in the bureau. He had evidently stood before the mirror of the bureau and guided the gun to the fatal spot. The bullet had crashed diagonally through the brain, spattering blood in the bureau drawer.

Dr. I. J. Bush was summoned and pronounced Baird's wound fatal. The bullet was lodged under the skin over the left temple, having gone in behind the right ear. Baird never regained consciousness and made no statement relative to his deed, nor did he leave a letter of explanation.

HAD BEEN DRINKING.

He had been drinking, the police said, and it is supposed he became despondent.

The family relations of Baird and his wife had been very pleasant, his friends say, and he had but a few days ago returned from a trip to St. Louis, on which she had accompanied him. Yesterday Baird seemed to be in his usual good spirits.

He was very popular here, having been a bartender for more than five years. He was at the Gem for some time and then worked at various bars in the city from time to time. He had no regular work at the time of his death.

RELATIVES NOTIFIED.

The deceased has two brothers, one in Albuquerque and one in Bixbee. Both were notified of the suicide and may come here to arrange for his funeral. The remains were viewed by Coroner Spencer, who rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts.

The corpse was taken to the morgue to be prepared for interment. Mrs. Baird is unable to account for the rash act of her husband. She says that she was standing looking out of the window waiting for her husband to go out to his work. Baird, she says, had finished tying his cravat, having put on a clean collar and was, as she thought, moving about the room, when she turned just in time to see him fire the fatal shot. He laid down his smoking pistol before he fell, but she says that she was so horrified she was unable to help him or to try to get the pistol away from him.

Monte Baird was born in Hot Springs, Ark., about 35 years ago. His father is A. Baird, who still resides in Hot Springs with the aged mother of Monte. The parents were notified by telegraph last night of the suicide of their son.

MUSIC A-D-D UN.

The Box Social Last Night Was a Complete Success.

The box social, given last evening by the young ladies of the Lead Avenue Methodist church, in Odd Fellows' hall, was a pronounced success in every particular.

The Misses Monley and Manning opened the program with an instrumental duet, and were followed in order by Thomas Hall in a vocal solo, Miss Grace Welch in a vocal solo, Mrs. O. J. Front in a reading selection, T. Y. Maynard in a vocal solo, Miss Monley in a piano solo, and Miss Welch, Mrs. Miller and Messrs. Maynard and Nettleton, in a vocal quartette. Those participating in this program are to be congratulated as well upon the character of the selections made, as upon the excellent manner in which they were rendered.

Then followed the fun, S. Houghton, as auctioneer, cried off to the highest bidder, certain boxes of refreshments prepared by the ladies. In each box was a slip bearing the name of the fair provider, who by the laws of the game was expected to partake of the refreshments with the purchaser.

The proceeds of the evening were very gratifying to the young ladies who gave the social for the benefit of the new church fund. The attendance was quite large and John W. Anderson, who had oversight of the whole affair, deserves much credit.

MISSING BILL CAUSES TROUBLE.

Postoffice Inspector Finds Queer Combination of Events in Course of an Investigation.

Inspector Smithers of the postoffice department, has just completed the investigation into a complaint made against the postmaster at Casa, a small town in New Mexico, that has its points of interest for those outside of the department, says the Denver Republican. Some time last summer Leonica de Gerra, a citizen of Casa, said that he mailed in the post office of that town a registered letter directed to a man living in old Albuquerque, which contained a $5 bill. Later he had reason to believe that the gentleman in old Albuquerque had never received the bill, so he made a charge against Panuleon Mora, postmaster at Casa, that he had stolen the letter. The latter was arrested, tried and acquitted.

Immediately upon the result of the trial Gerra was overcome by the throbbing of his hot southern blood, and administered personal chastisement on Mora for the value of the missing bill. At a session of the United States grand jury, Mora was one of the jurymen. Though the case against him was presented, no indictment was found. These circumstances led to a special inspector being sent south to investigate. Mr. Smithers found that Gerra, whose occupation is said to be that of a gambler, had gone to Arizona, but he found time to send word that he was satisfied. The postmaster said he was satisfied. As the inspector could find no resident of either town named desirous of continuing the investigation, and was also unable to find anyone dissatisfied with the result, he recommended to the department that no further money be spent trying to trail the missing bill.

Col. P. R. Smith and wife returned from California, where they went to lay the remains of their son, Paschal, in their last resting place.

Mrs. Ed Pennington, who has been visiting Fred at Douglas for the past ten days, returned home. She reports Douglas forging ahead and putting on all the airs of a big city.

The lower floor of the new city hall is about completed, the big alarm bell in place and the truck of the fire department will be moved into its new and permanent quarters as soon as the painters get through with the work of rejuvenating it.

One night last week two United States prisoners, Pascual Torres and Carlos Mayos by name, who were being held for the grand jury on the charge of smuggling, made their escape from jail here. This makes three United States prisoners to escape during the past three months, as Senovia Mayas, a brother of Carlos, made his escape some time ago. At this rate the fall term of court will have very little to do in a criminal way.

It is a sure proposition that the county which has the best exhibit at the territorial fair will get the largest percentage of settlers from the eastern people who attend the fair. It is stated that the Pecos valley and Mesilla Park will each send a car load of fruit to compete for the prizes at the territorial fair. San Juan will probably be a close competitor. Now, while these counties are advertising their resources in this liberal manner what is Luna county doing?

PRINTING

There are different kinds, to be sure. Moreover the quality of stock on which it is done must be considered if you would create a good impression of yourself amongst your customers. You might think it would not make any difference, but if public opinion on that point was weighed you would find that it is quite a factor in drawing trade. Don't be behind the times. If you want to keep pace with civilization, you must follow customs which is naturally the greed of every man, now-a-days, who has genuine pride. The art of printing is something that few people can acquire. They may print, but the art is not present. Again, the art may be there, but the stock on which the printing is done is of the poorest quality, which entirely obliterates the art that would otherwise be apparent. Then again, the quality of ink and nicety and distinctness of color used are something that counts in bringing out beauty of art into display. The CITIZEN printing department carries nothing but the best quality of stationery, such as letter heads, note heads, bill heads, etc., as well as the finest of ink, and turns out daily evidence of the finest workmanship in the city. If you want cheap, tacky-looking printing, go to the places where you can obtain it; but if you want first-class printing, send it to The CITIZEN printing department, or telephone to us and we will call and get your order.

requires an exactness that is much admired when accomplished. If your blank books are ruled properly they will always look neat, if in the hands of a first-class bookkeeper. If they are not ruled with exactness they will never look neat, even though handled by an artist in book-keeping. To be exact requires skill and patience, which is acquired by long experience and perseverance. When a person possesses it his services are in demand in any first-class bindery. The CITIZEN has a first-class bindery and therefore employs the best skill.

Bill heads, letter heads, note heads, vouchers, invoices and blanks of every description are ruled with the same skill and neatness as the finest blank book that was ever turned out. If you want such work telephone to The CITIZEN.

is everlasting when properly done. Every business man would like to preserve his books, but he cannot do it when they are in a dozen pieces after he uses them up. He does not want them to break, neither does he want them to be tight in the fold, if so, they cause him great inconvenience. There is much in the way a book is sewed. If it is not sewed properly the breaking of a single thread will occasion an entire section of twenty pages to come out, necessitating the rebinding of the book, causing loss of time and inconvenience. If you want a good blank book you should get one with a patent flat-opening back, thereby enabling you to utilize all the space in the fold, that you would otherwise not be able to do. Then the quality of paper used is just as essential in turning out a fine book as is the workmanship. The CITIZEN carries a full stock of the finest ledger paper manufactured. When you want any kind of a fine blank book telephone to The CITIZEN and our representative will call.

Advertising

The word itself is exhilarating to a man that has a high ambition, whether socially, financially or otherwise. It is the same with a business man. He has to obtain advertising in some way before he will be successful. There are different degrees of success. The more advertising you get the greater amount of business you transact, a fact that non-advertisers admit themselves. "All things do not come unto man." He has to go after them. If he wants advertising he pays for it just the same as any commodity. You may say some men obtain advertising for nothing, but the don't. They pay for it in an indirect, if not a direct way. Thus every man pays for his share. The world owes a man a living, but he has to earn it, and if a man wants advertising he must pay for it. It is better to pay in a direct way and obtain more results than to pay in an indirect way and obtain fewer results. The direct way for a business man to advertise is to talk to the people through an advertising medium that has a place by the fireside of every home within his field for business. The CITIZEN has that place and will always have it.

If the ability of its readers to buy articles of luxury as well as articles of necessity is questioned, then forever will The CITIZEN defend them. Regarding the comparative value of morning and evening papers, it is a fact that a morning paper is before its readers but for an hour or so, while an evening paper is before the public from 5 o'clock until bedtime, and is read by men who labor all day and who have not time to read the morning papers. Therefore the superior value of an evening paper over the morning paper as an advertising medium is quite evident.

The CITIZEN is a home paper. Why? Because the residence portion of the city being not more than ten minutes' walk from the business center, the business man has ample time to read the evening paper before going to lodge or to the club, and he does so. When he has finished reading his paper it is left at home and thoroughly read by the other members of his family.

The ladies of Albuquerque read The CITIZEN, and as it contains all the news, both foreign and local, why should it not command the circulation that it does? If you want results advertise in the that it is believed by the freight department, will afford all the truck facilities the road will require for some time. The present track capacity of the Rock Island here is about 5,000 cars.

The Samson mine in the Burros, Grant county, is shipping fifty tons of high grade sulphur to the Shamrock smelter at Pinos Altos. The freighting is being done by a Mr. Pruitt, who recently arrived with a freighting outfit from Las Cruces.

A fifty-ton cyanide plant is being taken to the Grant west mine in Mohave county, Ariz. This mine has been a good producer and with machinery on the ground is expected to prove one of the great mines of that rich country. S. W. Tolly is the resident manager.

Charles Metcalfe, the newly appointed commissioner of Mohave county for the St. Louis fair exhibit, is diligently at work gathering samples of ore and labeling them. Brush the dust off of some of your best specimens and be ready for him when he calls on you.

The copper market situation is in much better shape than a month ago and the recent features of animation and decided improvement which characterized the month just closed were in sharp contrast to the inactive and depressed conditions prevalent during a considerable part of June and July.

Fred T. Wylie was in Las Cruces for a short time, says the Progress. Mr. Wylie is pretty near the "whole works" at Modoc just now—postmaster, chief clerk, boss of the Modoc mill, and his own cook and chambermaid. He, with Mr. Bergerot, are about the extent of the colony there at the present time.

Horace Moses, of Silver City, was in Deming with a carload of ore from the now famous Gold Gulch district of Grant county. This is probably the first car of ore taken out of the Gulch, and the result of its treatment will be watched with considerable interest from all quarters. The ore is taken to El Paso to which place Mr. Moses accompanied it.

A party of mining men have been making an examination of the Alpha mine, Layne Springs, this week. This mine is the property of Mrs. Mary E. Smith, Peter Caffery and Foster S. Dennis, and is one of the good ones of the Layne Springs country. Mr. Caffery has been at work driving the lower tunnel ahead on the vein and is opening up a nice body of copper ore.

The Shamrock Mining and Milling company have about decided to add another 40 ton furnace and a complete sampling works to their present smelting plant at Pinos Altos. This decision has been brought about by the increased tonnage which they are receiving daily for treatment and which they are unable to handle with their present capacity.

Adolph Witzel of Silver City is shipping ten tons of silver ore daily from his lease on the Baltic mine at Chloride. Mr. Witzel is working quite a force of men and is taking out some fine ore, the highest grade of which he is preparing to ship to El Paso. He expects to ship a car of ore to El Paso smelter this month. The low grade is being freighted to the Shamrock smelter.

Some of the finest and most valuable ore producers in the southwest, can be obtained by addressing W. L. Bradley, care of The Citizen office. The gentleman is now at El Paso, in consultation with certain gentlemen who are figuring on securing some good ore producers in southern Arizona and northern Mexico. Mr. Bradley is an expert in the matter of examining mines, and thoroughly understands rock formations.

Dr. Hadley and Mr. Tobey of the Pacific Reduction company, owner of the Great West group of mines in Weaver district, have been in Kingman, Ariz., several days the past week. The company expects to have the fifty-ton cyanide plant in operation in about four weeks. They have lots of ore in sight in the mines and when the plant is in running order it will be a steady producer of bullion.

Dr. G. W. Tibbitts, one of the best known experts in the country, has just made an examination of the Noil and Martinez group of mines on Hill Williams Fork, in Arizona, near Los Angeles people. It is reported that the examination was favorable and that it is possible the mines will soon be operated by a force of men. These mines were the cause of great excitement in the lower end of Mohave county when first discovered and since that time have been visited by many miners, who made favorable reports on them.

The Terlingua quicksilver mining district of Texas is now producing about 500 flasks of quicksilver monthly. The mines are situated in the big bend of the Rio Grande river, and are reached by wagon road from Marfa. The population, now about 3,000, is mostly Mexican, who are paid from $1.25 to $1.50 a day. The Kansas City and Orient railway will pass within a relative short distance of the camp, the coal fields in the vicinity being an additional inducement for construction in this direction. The camp suffers from a scarcity of water, that used having to be hauled seven miles, from the Rio Grande river.

A contract for the sale of the Vanderbilt mine, situated at Cerbat, Mohave county, Arizona, was entered into between the owners and St. Louis people, represented by John Doyle. By the terms of the contract a hoisting plant will have to be installed and a force of men at work on the mine by the first of November. The mine is one of the oldest properties in the Cerbat country and for many years was a producer of rich gold ore. Leasers made thousands of dollars from it and whenever worked it paid the operator big returns. A shaft is to be sunk into the sulphide zone as quickly as possible and the mine below water opened up in a systematic manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams have the wishes of many friends for long life and happiness. Their home will be at Manuelito, New Mexico.

The past year the properties held by the Cananea Consolidated Copper company have shown a wonderful production, considering that the capacity of the smelter is inadequate to treat the production of ore from the mines. For the fiscal year ending August 31, the mines produced 43,289,000 pounds of copper and 487,000 ounces of silver.

The Gold Gulch Mining company was organized in the office of Atkin & Crowe of El Paso. The officers elected were O. H. Baum, president; John Ashcroft, vice president; L. C. Ryan, secretary; Johnathan S. Dodge, assistant secretary; John S. Akin, treasurer; Directors: H. O. Baum, John S. Akin, L. C. Ryan, W. G. Roe, J. S. Dodge, John Ashcroft and Lee Hawes, the latter representing eastern parties. Messrs. Ashcroft, Baum and L. B. Stone leave for Silver City to inaugurate work on the properties. Articles of incorporation for $1,000,000 will be filed at Phoenix. This company will develop seven claims at Silver City which were assayed here, the average pay streak being 22 ounces on the mill run.

TWO ANCIENT OLLAS.

Believed to Be Two Centuries Old as They Differ From Modern Pueblo Pottery.

Two ancient ollas, or water jars, which on account of their unusual size and historical association possess great interest to lovers of ceramic art, were recently brought to light near Santa Fe by a Mexican in the employ of Captain C. A. Deane of Denver, and the two relics are now in the possession of that gentleman. One of the jars has a diameter of 24 inches and is 23 inches in height, and holds 24 gallons; the other is 27 inches in diameter, with a height of 19 inches and a capacity of 25 gallons. In outline, they are apparently as true as if made on a potter's wheel, and on the hard burned surface are numerous painted, curved and geometrical designs, different from those found on modern Pueblo pottery. There is no way in which their age may be determined, but that they were in use more than two centuries ago is quite certain.

In 1541 Coronado, the first European who explored New Mexico, found an Indian pueblo, later known as San Ildefonso, in the valley of the Rio Grande, about twenty miles northwest of the city of Santa Fe. In 1580 Juan de Onate settled a Spanish colony at that place, and about that date other colonies were established in New Mexico and Arizona. In 1680 the several native tribes revolted against Spanish rule, and all who escaped death were driven beyond the Rio Grande del Norte, at what is now the city of El Paso.

In 1692 a Spanish army subdued the insurgents, and the native races were subjects of Spain, or Old Mexico, until they came under the control of the United States by the terms of the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, made at the close of the Mexican war in 1848.

When attacked in 1692, the pueblo residents of the San Ildefonso made a stubborn resistance, and inflicted much loss on the Spaniards, but their weapons of defense—the bow, stone spear and war club—could not long oppose the artillery, firearms and swords of those who fought in coats of mail or quilted cotton. Their walls of sun dried brick were destroyed, and the survivors were compelled to build another west of the Rio Grande, where their descendants now live.

While making excavations in these old ruins in search of relics, the Mexican in the employ of Captain Deane, found the two large ollas, or water jars, buried level with the clay floor, as receptacles for water.

During the past 35 years Captain Deane has sojourned among nearly all the pottery making tribes of New Mexico and Arizona, and has made a close study of their productive industries but he has never seen other articles of pottery nearly as large or having similar ornamentations, to those of the two ancient ollas.

THE METHODISTS.

The Southern Branch Held Important Meeting at Roswell.

THE LIST OF APPOINTMENTS.

Rev. Robert Hodgson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church south at Gallup, who attended the conference at Roswell, came in from the south this morning, and is spending the day here. He will return to Gallup tonight. He says Rev. W. D. Clayton and Deacon Dickinson of this city; Rev. Mara Hodgson, the presiding elder, this city; Rev. W. S. Huggett of Magdalena, and Rev. Joseph Hodgson of Gallup, who made the trip overland to Roswell, are returning to this city by the same route, in a covered wagon.

Rev. Robert Hodgson says the conference was the best held for many years, being presided over by the venerable bishop, Joseph S. Key.

The conference closed last Sunday, the bishop preaching the closing sermon from Malachi 3:16: "Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another and the Lord hearkened and heard it and a book of remembrance was written before Him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon His name. And they shall be mine saith the Lord when I come to make up my jewels."

The bishop said: These words were spoken when the people were in a sack-clothed condition and desperate and a low state of morals had seared the conscience. Man cannot be indifferent to his surroundings. As the system is affected by the malaria in the atmosphere so the soul must suffer if surrounded by sin and wickedness. Lot made a bad choice when he went to the well watered plain and pitched his tent toward Sodom and he fell in wicked hands and wrecked himself and family. But there was a remnant that stood firm. How did they succeed? By fearing the Lord and understanding that the fear of God is indispensable to stability and success. Fearing God wrought Joseph through a trying experience and the Hebrew children through a fiery furnace. Again they thought on His name. The wife that takes the husband's name will defend it at her own peril. Our name is a Christian name to which all should bow, and yet some seem ashamed to acknowledge the name. Again they spoke often to one another. Out of the fullness of the heart the mouth speaketh. They also helped one another. Should a company start to the far west, to an El Dorado where they would expect flowing streams, beautiful streams and singing birds were to encamp by the way those seeking the El Dorado would urge the others on. How necessary it is that the pilgrims to the Eternal City should help each other on the way. The Lord hearkened unto them. The consciousness of God's presence is the most inspiring force. If Jesus should appear in this congregation what awe there would be. What a change in the home. Every word spoken is spoken to the Lord and every thought known to Him. God is not a task-master. He is more concerned about what we are than what we do. He wants to build within us a line unto Himself, and will be as well pleased with one as with another, if we do our best. These shall be His when He comes to make up His jewels. God places everything good to our credit and it will stand there to our credit until the day of final accounts when we hope to hear, "Well done, good and faithful servants, enter in."

ACTIVITY IS RENEWED.

House to House Canvass in Favor of Union Labor.

After some days of inactivity, the strike of the team drivers' union seems to be indirectly taking on new life. The Central Labor union is conducting the teamsters' campaign. The last move is the appointment of the following committee, who are to make a house to house canvass, calling on all business men and requesting them not to employ in any capacity non-union men, if union men can be had for the same work. The committee consists of:

William Pease, chairman, boiler-makers; James Wallace, secretary, sheet metal workers; T. Easterbrook, cigar makers; John Hill, teamsters' union; George Hayman, boiler makers; H. L. Dunning, typographical union; J. H. Robinson, machinist; John P. Leighton, blacksmith; Frank Gifford, barbers; D. H. York, painters.

Santa Fe Will Have Forty-Five of the New Engines by January 1.

The first of the forty-five new Mogul engines ordered for the Pacific division of the Santa Fe, has been delivered. It is expected that the entire number will be received at San Bernardino by January 1. The new engines are all oil burners. Those to be used on the line between Selman and Winslow will be the first oil burners in that territory. When this new equipment arrives the Santa Fe will be using oil all over 600 miles of its line.

The Mogul type of engine is becoming so popular that it is about the only pattern the Baldwin employees are working on at present. There is a veritable landslide of orders in for engines of this type. The latest road to take up the flag is the El Paso & Southwestern, which is expecting to receive two Moguls within a few days. These engines weigh one hundred and fifteen tons.

SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.
Mrs. Nell B. Field, of Albuquerque, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bergere.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Bursum at 9 o'clock last evening a bouncing girl baby. Mother and child are doing well. Mr. Bursum is in his usual health and spirits.

Register Manuel R. Otero and Receiver Fred Muller of the United States land office, went down to Cerrillos, from which place they journeyed overland to the Hagan coal fields to investigate the allegations in the contest case of S. S. McKibben vs. Thomas P. Gable.

Rev. A. E. Fredenhagen, superintendent of the National Prison league, who will speak at 4 o'clock next Sunday afternoon in this city, recently organized a society of Christian Endeavor in the Colorado Reform school, besides having the pleasure of seeing about 100 conversions in the institution and in the penitentiary at Canon City as the result of his meetings there.

Traveling Auditor C. V. Safford returned from Tucumcari, where he has been on official business. He also stopped at Santa Rosa and attended to official business there. He went and came via the Santa Fe Central. Mr. Safford states that last evening and night a very good rain fell throughout Quay, Leonard Wood and eastern Valencia counties, which was of great benefit to stock and to the range.

All of the vegetables except potatoes necessary for the masses of the United States industrial Indian school at this city during the past summer have been raised in the gardens of the institution and by the labor of Indian boys there. As about four hundred persons are fed daily, it is apparent that a great quantity of vegetables were consumed. Superintendent Crandall this year has made the first experiment in painting potatoes. The result of this, however, is not as yet determined.

DEATH OF ROBERT SIZER.

Remains Interred at Raton by Masonic Fraternity.

On No. 1 yesterday morning the remains of Robert Sizer were brought from Excelsior Springs, Mo., to Raton for interment.

Mr. Sizer was formerly an engineer on the Santa Fe, and about two months ago decided to visit Excelsior Springs in search of health, but gradually declined, and died of Bright's disease last Monday.

The remains were taken charge of by the Masonic order of which he was a member. He leaves a wife and one child.

Carnegie Fad.

Carnegie's latest fad is an endeavor to buy the battlefield of Bannockburn, where Robert Bruce defeated Edward I's forces and freed Scotland, and convert it into a public park. It is now threatened with conversion into sites for cheap dwellings which will be reached by a trolley line from Stirling, three miles away.

Saving Breeds Stinginess.

We notice that when a boy has earned and saved up $25, he is more likely to put his future earnings with the next egg than he is to blow his money in for pop and cigars.

Come to the Fair.

Bring your fine horses, cattle, hogs, sheep and poultry to the territorial fair. Do not come and say you have something better at home. Bring your best.

Railroad Topics

During the absence of Chief Dispatcher Dixon in Los Angeles, A. W. May has been acting in his place at Winslow.

One engine pulling forty-eight cars was to be seen this morning in the coal yards, going north. It made a very long string.

Roundhouse Foreman W. E. Kettering is back to his duties at the Winslow roundhouse. He was called east on account of the sudden illness of his mother.

Brakeman Mumford has returned to service at Winslow. He has been "hit" up with an attack of fever, which necessitated his returning to his home in the south.

C. M. Osborne, lineman on the Pecos Valley railroad, has been sick with typhoid fever for six weeks past, at Amarillo, but is now improving somewhat.

It is reported with good authority that the Santa Fe has leased twenty-five townships of land owned by the railroad company lying along their line in Socorro and Valencia counties to New Mexico cattlemen.

Business on the western roads during the week last week receipts of wheat at Chicago increased 423,000 bushels and corn 1,825,000 bushels and were largely in excess of the receipts for the corresponding week last year.

Dispatcher M. L. Vaughan will take a vacation of several weeks, and tonight he will be a passenger for the east. He will stop at St. Louis where his wife is now visiting their son and daughter. Before returning home, Mr. Vaughan will visit his mother at Decatur, Ill.

The Santa Fe railroad has two gangs of men placing steel rails on their tracks between Flagstaff and the cedar pit. The steel is very heavy, being eighty-five pounds to the yard, and will certainly make the road over the mountain very substantial.

At the Santa Fe hospital in Las Vegas an operation was performed upon Conductor Morton, a brother-in-law of Conductor Clark. The patient has recovered from the effects of the operation and it is thought will be much better as a result.

The New Mexican says: O. A. Budd, auditor for the Dunlavy Mercantile company, has returned from a trip over the Santa Fe Central, to the several stores of the company, and will remain in the general offices of the company in the Catron building until the first of the month, when he will invoice out Roy Stamm, as manager of the store at Moriarty, and install a new manager, Mr. Stamm having resigned to go in business with his sister in the Duke city.

Agent K. H. Gillette, of Winslow, is again at his duties, although not entirely well from the injuries sustained during his vacation trip. The fractured arm is in good shape, but the wrist is weak yet and also his ankle. The popular agent was somewhat disfigured, but he is still in the ring, and in a few weeks he will be in the best of condition.

Sympathetic Strikers.

The sympathetic strike must go. This is beginning to be the opinion of organized labor everywhere. Industry has become a too complicated affair to be governed by sympathy no matter how much deserved. The trade union must deal with material things hereafter, doing that which will in the long run bring the greatest results with the least exertion. And, too, there must be no "slugging" methods to win strikes, no matter how great may seem the necessity. The persistent union depending on its treasury and the fact that it is right, will win greater and more lasting victories than those organizations winking at strenuousness.

RAN EXTRA TRAINS.

How the Santa Fe and Rock Island Handled the Homeseekers.

Speaking of the great homeseekers' excursion run by western lines, the Chicago Chronicle says: "The volume of traffic yesterday took the passenger officials by surprise, but by liberal use of sections, the home seekers were sent on their way with but little delay. The Rock Island railroad ran all of its regular through trains out of Chicago in two and three sections, the total number of passengers carried being estimated at 1,000. The Santa Fe officials were also obliged to call in an extra equipment."

The Northwestern and St. Paul roads moved large numbers to California and other points along their lines, but the Rock Island and the Santa Fe handled the greater portion of the business, for the reason that a large percentage of the homeseekers were bound for Oklahoma and Indian Territory. The reduced rate to New Orleans and other places in the south had the effect of increasing the business of the roads touching this territory, the rate of $16 to New Orleans and return tempting many to make the trip simply for pleasure.

French Lick Electric Road.—The French Lick and West Baden Railway which has been incorporated with a capital of fifty thousand dollars expects to have its cars in operation about the first of September, and the president of this company is former mayor Thomas Toggart.

of Indianapolis, president of the French Lick Springs Hotel company and otherwise largely interested in business in that portion of the state, says the New York Financial Review. It may be said of Mr. Toggart by those who have watched his career, political and business, that he is a determined character and has not been baffled during his career by mere trifles. Indeed, his persistence has often won him a victory where less firm minds would have given up the fight. His business experience has been extensive, his acquaintance through the state is necessarily wide, and all who know him entertain a high regard for his individual worth. The road has an able and zealous executive in this Indianapolis man.

To Build From Pueblo.—A letter from one of the officials of the Colorado, Oklahoma & Texas railroad to a friend in Denver, gives the information that the offices of that company are to be removed to Lawrence, I. T., from their present location at Hobart. They are to occupy the offices of the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railroad, better known as the Stillwell road. The announcement is also made that this line is to build from Pueblo to near Ardmore, meaning a confirmation of the news given by the Denver Republican several months ago of the new connection for Denver with the network of lines running into New Orleans.

The Stillwell line is recognized as a combination road for the ends of several of the large roads. The Goulds and the Rock Island syndicate are heavily interested and represented in the directorate.

Cheap Denver & Rio Grande Rates.

J. B. Davis, the Capital city agent of the Denver & Rio Grande, writes to The Citizen that he has secured cheap rates for all who attend the New Mexico fair from the section of the country through which that road travels. The rate is two-thirds of one way fare for the round trip from all points between Durango and Santa Fe and return, on sale October 10, 11 and 12. For instance: From Durango, $13 special round trip; Ignacio, $12; Chama, $8.40; Anconito, $5.65; Espanola, $1.50. Mr. Davis deserves credit for his interest in securing these cheap rates.

Congratulations in Order.—Engineer Robert Moore was the recipient of congratulations during the week, the occasion being that the good natured engineer had brought from the state of Kentucky a wife. Mr. Moore wedded Miss Sada Rice of Livermore, that state. Mrs. Moore is an accomplished lady and a fit life partner for the genial Bob. It is wished by all that Mr. and Mrs. Moore may have many years of happiness and prosperity. They are living for the present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Walcott.—Winslow Mail.

SANTA FE IN A RACE.

Railroad Building Contest With Missouri Pacific Is On.

A dispatch from Muscogee, Indian Territory, says:

Steel gangs commenced work on two lines of railroad running out of this city, the Muscogee Southern and the Muscogee Union. It is a race between these two roads which shall first get the business of the city. The Muscogee Union is a Missouri Pacific connection and the Muscogee Southern is a Santa Fe. Trains will be running on both roads next month.

Meats From New Zealand.

New Zealand is becoming a strong competitor of the United States in the production of meats which she ships frozen, all over the world. Last year the island sold abroad $2,250,000 worth of beef, $9,000,000 worth of mutton and $5,000,000 worth of rabbits.

A Woman's Complexion.

It is woman's weakness to attempt to remove sallowness or greasiness of the skin by the use of cosmetics, or "local" treatment, as advocated by the "beauty doctors." The only safe and sure way that a woman can improve her complexion is by purifying and enriching the blood, which can only be accomplished by keeping the liver healthy and active. The liver is the seat of disease and blood pollution. Green's August Flower acts directly on the liver, cleanses and enriches the blood, purifies the complexion. It also cures constipation, biliousness, nervousness, and induces refreshing sleep. A single bottle of August Flower has been known to cure the most pronounced and distressing cases of dyspepsia and indigestion. New trial size bottle, 25 cents; regular size, 75 cents. After a long and painful illness, Mrs. Luloris Alet, beloved wife of Mr. Jose Alet, of this place, passed away at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Her death, while daily expected, was regretted by all; she was a noble Christian woman, loved and respected by all who knew her.

The people of Hillsboro were startled Wednesday morning by the announcement that Mr. Bushrod Willis had been found dead in the rear of the house he had been occupying. At about 6:30 that morning as G. M. Tomlinson was on his way to his place of business he discovered Mr. Willis lying on the ground in the back yard. Mr. Tomlinson immediately notified Justice of the Peace Smith and others. Upon investigation it was found that the unfortunate man had been dead for some time, probably two hours. The dead man was lying on his back, dressed only in his underclothes and drenched in a pool of blood. It was considered unnecessary to hold an inquest as it was plainly evident that he had come to his death through a severe hemorrhage of the lungs; that when the hemorrhage came he started out to seek relief; in his left hand was tightly clasped a small sack of salt; he had evidently used the salt to stay the flow of blood. Mr. Willis was an old-time miner in Kingston, and was well known to many people in this vicinity.

Devoured by Worms.

Children often cry, not from pain, but from hunger, although fed abundantly. The entire trouble arises from inattention, their food is not assimilated, but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once, very much to the surprise and joy of the mother. 25c at J. H. O'Reilly Drug Co.

Genuine vs. Counterfeit.

The genuine is always better than a counterfeit, but the truth of this statement is never more forcibly realized or more thoroughly appreciated than when you compare the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve with the many counterfeits and worthless substitutes that are on the market. W. S. Ledbetter, of Shreveport, La., says: "After using numerous other remedies without benefit, one box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me." For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles no remedy is equal to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by B. W. Briggs & Co. and J. Vann & Sons.

Improvements in Medicine.

Progress is affecting every branch of invention, production and manufacture in the world. The "latest improvements" are looked for in every line, and meet with a royal reception on the part of the people as soon as made known through the "latest improved" newspaper. As an example, look upon Cascarets, Candy Cathartic, which represent the most modern ideas of a scientific, twentieth century medicine—a sweet, palatable, aromatic little tablet, put up in a dainty enameled box just right for the vest pocket or purse—nothing to break or make a mess—yet do their work powerfully though gently.

Owes His Life to a Neighbor's Kindness.

Mr. D. P. Daugherty, well known throughout Mercer and Sumner counties, West Va., most likely owes his life to the kindness of a neighbor. Desertions from the Navy.

It is said that desertions from the service at the navy yard average twenty-five a week. Men rarely find reason to desert from a service they like, and it might be well for those in power to investigate the cause of so many desertions. Perhaps the "jackets" are not alone to blame.—Brooklyn Citizen.

PRINTING

There are different kinds, to be sure. Moreover the quality of stock on which it is done must be considered if you would create a good impression of yourself amongst your customers. You might think it would not make any difference, but if public opinion on that point was weighed you would find that it is quite a factor in drawing trade. Don't be behind the times. If you want to keep pace with civilization, you must follow customs which is naturally the greed of every man, now-a-days, who has genuine pride. The art of printing is something that few people can acquire. They may print, but the art is not present. Again, the art may be there, but the stock on which the printing is done is of the poorest quality, which entirely obliterates the art that would otherwise be apparent. Then again, the quality of ink and nicety and distinctness of color used are something that counts in bringing out beauty of art into display. The CITIZEN printing department carries nothing but the best quality of stationery, such as letter heads, note heads, bill heads, etc., as well as the finest of ink, and turns out daily evidence of the finest workmanship in the city. If you want cheap, tacky-looking printing, go to the places where you can obtain it; but if you want first-class printing, send it to The CITIZEN printing department, or telephone to us and we will call and get your order.

RULING

requires an exactness that is much admired when accomplished. If your blank books are ruled properly they will always look neat, if in the hands of a first-class book-keeper. If they are not ruled with exactness they will never look neat, even though handled by an artist in book-keeping. To be exact requires skill and patience, which is acquired by long experience and perseverance. When a person possesses it his services are in demand in any first-class bindery. The CITIZEN has a first-class bindery and therefore employs the best skill.

Bill heads, letter heads, note heads, vouchers, invoices and blanks of every description are ruled with the same skill and neatness as the finest blank book that was ever turned out. If you want such work telephone to The CITIZEN.

BINDING

is everlasting when properly done. Every business man would like to preserve his books, but he cannot do it when they are in a dozen pieces after he uses them up. He does not want them to break, neither does he want them to be tight in the fold, if so, they cause him great inconvenience. There is much in the way a book is sewed. If it is not sewed properly the breaking of a single thread will occasion an entire section of twenty pages to come out, necessitating the rebinding of the book, causing loss of time and inconvenience. If you want a good blank book you should get one with a patent flat-opening back, thereby enabling you to utilize all the space in the fold, that you would otherwise not be able to do. Then the quality of paper used is just as essential in turning out a fine book as is the workmanship. The CITIZEN carries a full stock of the finest ledger paper manufactured. When you want any kind of a fine blank book telephone to The CITIZEN and our representative will call.

Advertising

The word itself is exhilarating to a man that has a high ambition, whether socially, financially or otherwise. It is the same with a business man. He has to obtain advertising in some way before he will be successful. There are different degrees of success. The more advertising you get the greater amount of business you transact, a fact that non-advertisers admit themselves. "All things do come unto man." He has to go after them. If he wants advertising he pays for it just the same as any commodity. You may say some men obtain advertising for nothing, but the don't. They pay for it in an indirect, if not a direct way. Thus every man pays for his share. The world owes a man a living, but he has to earn it, and if a man wants advertising he must pay for it. It is better to pay in a direct way and obtain more results than to pay in an indirect way and obtain fewer results. The direct way for a business man to advertise is to talk to the people through an advertising medium that has a place by the fireside of every home within his field for business. The CITIZEN has that place and will always have it.

If the ability of its readers to buy articles of luxury as well as articles of necessity is questioned, then forever will The CITIZEN defend them. Regarding the comparative value of morning and evening papers, it is a fact that a morning paper is before its readers but for an hour or so, while an evening paper is before the public from 5 o'clock until bedtime, and is read by men who labor all day and who have not time to read the morning papers. Therefore the superior value of an evening paper over the morning paper as an advertising medium is quite evident.

The CITIZEN is a home paper. Why? Because the residence portion of the city being not more than ten minutes' walk from the business center, the business man has ample time to read the evening paper before going to lodge or to the club, and he does so. When he has finished reading his paper it is left at home and thoroughly read by the other members of his family.

The ladies of Albuquerque read The CITIZEN, and as it contains all the news, both foreign and local, why should it not command the circulation that it does? If you want results advertise in the

The Vincent Death.
A Las Vegas paper says: "Earl Vincent, pharmacist at Schaefer's, this afternoon received the sad news of the death of his brother at Albuquerque. The young man will go to the Duke City as soon as he can get away. Deceased spent a part of the summer in Las Vegas. He was a volunteer soldier in the Philippines and in one of the engagements there was shot through the lungs. He dragged on a painful existence by the use of tubes in the lungs. There was no hope of permanent relief, and, doubtless, death came as a blessing. Much sympathy will be felt here for the brother."

PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONS.
The Superintendent Visits San Juan and Navajo Reservation.
A PROSPEROUS COUNTRY.

Rev. R. M. Craig, superintendent of Presbyterian missions in New Mexico and Arizona, who visited the missions of northwest New Mexico, as well as the Navajo reservation, returned to the city last night.

Mr. Craig is enthusiastic over the prospects of San Juan county. He says that "it is second, if not the leader among the agricultural counties of the territory. There is an abundance of water for irrigating purposes in the San Juan and Las Animas rivers and the entire district from Durango to below Farmington is under ditch. I have never seen such a change in any country as has taken place in this district during the past two years. The opening of the Ute reservation below Durango and the building of irrigation canals have transformed the face of the country to such an extent as to surprise me. Asstec and Farmington are growing towns and my great surprise is that a railroad has not yet extended its line into the heart of this country. The fruit crop is simply marvelous. Large orchards this year have produced immense quantities of fruit and there seems to be no limit to the quantity of vegetables of every description. Some of the finest potatoes that I have ever seen are on exhibition in the stores, having been raised right on the ground. It seems to me that the alfalfa crop is large enough to supply the wants of the whole territory. Indeed, I would say that every prospect pleases. Were I looking for a farm today where I wished to make a good living and enjoy a climate unsurpassed in the United States, I believe I would choose between the San Juan and the lower Pecos valleys of New Mexico.

"Our chief object in visiting the fields was to inform ourselves in regard to the condition of the Navajo Indians on the reservation. The reports that these Indians are starving and suffering from want are untrue. The Presbyterian church owns two large hospitals and industrial school building formerly owned by the Woman's Indian association. We have also purchased the Methodist property at Jewett.

"The Rev. C. E. Broadhead is the superintendent and missionary in charge, while Mrs. C. E. Broadhead, M. D., is the physician in charge of the hospital. Another physician and assistant have been appointed and just now recommendations have been forwarded to the office in New York. Endorsed by Superintendent McAffee, asking for the immediate appointment of a matron, teacher and cook, in order to open at once a boarding school. The property in addition to the buildings consists of eighty acres of farming land. Several additional buildings will be erected and it is proposed to commence farming operations on a large scale. Considerable money will be expended in securing water rights and building irrigation ditches, but it is the intention to press this whole work immediately.

German Syrup.

We want to impress upon our readers that Beecher's German Syrup is positively the only preparation on the market today that does relieve and cure consumption. It contains the specific, such as pure tar, extracts of gums, etc., which have been so highly endorsed for the cure of coughs, colds and consumption by the great medical congresses. The consumption, whether his disease is in the throat or lungs, must have rest at night, and be free from the spasms of dry and racking cough in the morning. The diseased parts want rest, healing and soothing treatment, and the patient needs fresh air, good food, etc. German Syrup will give free and easy expectation in the morning with small doses, 25 cents; regular size, containing nearly four times as much, 75 cents. At all druggists, G. O. Green, Woodbury, New Jersey, J. H. O'Reilly & Co.

Fearful Odds Against Him.

Beardless, alone and destitute. Such, in brief was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens, Versailles, O. For years he was troubled with kidney disease and neither doctors nor medicines gave him relief. At length he tried Electric Bitters. LUNA COUNTY EXHIBIT.

That County Could Make Fine Showing of Fruits and Minerals.

A citizen of Deming said the other day in talking of the territorial fair: "If Luna County does not have an exhibit at the fair it is the same as saying she has nothing to exhibit." That is just the point, and the hundreds of eastern people who are at the fair looking over the advantages, offered by different parts of the territory will view it that way. They will see fine fruits, grain and mineral from Bernadillo, San Juan, Chaves, Socorro, Dona Ana and other counties and when Luna is mentioned to them they will say:

"Where is Luna's exhibit?"

And when told that the people there did not have the enterprise to send one they will lose all interest in her and turn their attention to the others. The time is short and we should be at work. The Mimbres valley will furnish the fruit and the Cook's Peak and Florida districts have promised the ore. It is now up to Deming.—Graphic.

Big Irish Immigration.

Irish immigration to the United States continues to increase to such an extent that Michael Davitt refers to it as "a serious national evil." But he will not easily find a remedy for it. As long as we have such a vast machinery of government to be run and such extensive police system to be maintained the Irish will come to us; and good luck to them.

The Proper Treatment for a Sprained Ankle.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or three months before he has fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, for in many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some cases within three days. Miss Carrie Lichenham and A. C. Garner were joined in marriage Tuesday noon, September 15. The ceremony took place at home.

Albuquerque Citizens Gladly Testify.

It is testimony like the following that has placed the "Old Quaker remedy" so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voice in praise there is no room left for doubt. Read the public statement of an Albuquerque citizen.

Mrs. W. C. Wood (W. C. Wood, employed in the Santa Fe railroad shops) residence 720 South Broadway, says: "When on a visit to Fall River, Mass., I learned that Doan's Kidney Pills had been a household necessity in that city for years. Naturally when a person has backache themselves and friends, acquaintances and relatives continually insist that a particular remedy shall be tried, you at least consent to take a course of the treatment. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they stopped an aggravated attack of backache, only one of many which had occurred in the past. When I came west I brought with me a dozen boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills long before they were so extensively known in California, as at present. I have not the slightest hesitation in publicly stating that I know from experience as well as observation that this remedy can be absolutely depended upon in all cases of kidney complaint, causing backache, limbo or other symptoms which follow in the wake of that far too prevalent annoyance."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

A Remarkable Record.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for over thirty years, during which time many million bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of croup in thousands of homes, yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is pleasant to take, many children like it. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

WATER TANK FINISHED.

Chief Engineer A. G. Kennedy of the Santa Fe Central, returned to Santa Fe Saturday morning from an inspection of station No. 425. The station which is eight miles north of Moriarty, consists of a 50,000 gallon water tank, which is supplied from a well sunk forty-eight feet, in which there is a depth of eight feet of water. The water supply is equally as good as that at Estancia.

The tank is supplied from the well by means of a railway wind engine and mill, the wheel of which is twenty feet in diameter, erected on a fifty-foot steel tower. The pump is a double action Curtis pump, with a three-inch suction and a two and a half inch discharge, capable of a capacity of 4,000 gallons per hour, and a maximum of 6,000 gallons. The water is elevated 100 feet.

Another water tank will be built immediately at Torrance, the plans and specifications have been already prepared.

A Purgative Pleasure.

If you ever took DeWitt's Little Early Risers for constipation, sick pain, you know what a purgative pleasure is. These famous little pills cleanse the liver and rid the system of all bile without producing unpleasant effects. They do not gripe, sicken or weaken, but give tone and strength to the tissues and organs involved. W. H. Howell, of Houston, Texas, says: "No better pill can be used than Little Early Risers for biliousness or constipation, headache, etc." Sold by B. V. Briggs & Co. and S. Vann & Sons.

Hot Tea Cures Mountain Sickness.

A specific for the mysterious malady known as mountain sickness is claimed by M. Pasatoukhoff, a Russian topographer. In several years spent in the Caucasus he climbed such mountains as the Grand Ararat, Mount Kasbek and Mount Elbrus, and suffered much from mountain sickness. On one occasion he and his companions drank hot tea. Relief was almost instantaneous, and in later trials the remedy has been invariably successful.

MERCURY
A POOR CRUTCH.

Experience is a dear teacher, as those who pin their faith to Mercury find out sooner or later. This powerful poison combined with Potash, is the treatment generally prescribed for Contagious Blood Poison, but failure and disappointment is the inevitable result. These minerals drive in the sores and eruptions, and apparently the disease is gone and the patient believes the cure permanent, but soon learns better when the old symptoms return almost as soon as the treatment is left off. You must either keep the system saturated with mercury or endure the tortures of sore mouth, ulcerated throat and the mortification that one naturally feels when the body is covered with disgusting sores, rashes, copper-colored spots and other aggravating symptoms of this vile disease.

Mercury and Potash are poor crutches, and their use eventually breaks down the constitution, ruins the digestion and causes the bones to decay. S. S. S., a guaranteed purely vegetable remedy, is the only antidote for Contagious Blood Poison. It destroys every atom of the deadly virus, overcomes the bad effects of the mercury and cleanses the blood and system so thoroughly that never after are any signs of the disease seen. Nor is the taint ever transmitted to others.

We will send free our book on Contagious Blood Poison, which is interesting and contains full directions for treating yourself at home. Medical advice or any special information desired given without charge.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

is now extended to the man who drinks beer, whiskey or wine.

"I wish knew where there are twenty-five gold telegraph operators who wanted positions with a railroad and I would like them to be young men who had been raised on a farm. I could send them out to good positions on our line tonight."

This statement was made by J. R. Blair, superintendent of terminals of the Rock Island railway in Kansas City. "When I say good operators," he continued, "I mean reliable young men. I believe I could find jobs for fifty if necessary, but not all on our road. There never was a time when good operators were in greater demand."

The salary of an operator ranges from $45 to $70 a month, according to his station, and the responsibility resting upon him. "There are some little stations on our line," Mr. Blair said, "where $45 a month is paid an operator. But these are little places where there is not much to do. The average wages paid I would say $55 or $60 a month. We want farmer boys. They are the ones to rely upon because they stick to their work. Send a boy from the city to a lone little station away down the line and he usually stays less than a week. He starts back to where electric lights glitter after midnight. But put a farmer boy at the lonely station and he is up with the birds in the morning, pecking away at his post. His days don't seem long and they don't drag."

One of the questions printed on the Rock Island telegrapher's application blanks relates to cigarette smoking. In nearly every instance an applicant answers the question in the negative. Seldom does a young man admit that he smokes cigarettes. He will say he "smokes an occasional one," but never admits he is a habitual user of them.

Get What You Ask For.

When you see an article well advertised in the newspapers, you may be sure it's a good article, for advertising only pays if the goods are honest and possess merit. The people who make a specialty of one advertised article, like Cascarets, Candy Cathartic for example, stake their whole business existence on it's doing what they say it will. They must "make good" as the saying is. Readers of this paper are urged to be sure that they get what they ask for, when they ask for an advertised article, for it's the good thing that is imitated and counterfeited. Don't accept substitutes! Insist on getting the genuine!

WHO IS GUILTY?

Santa Fe Supposed to Be Backing a New Territory Railroad.

A telegram from Venita says: Interest in the Venita-Alva railroad has awakened this week with renewed activity. The new line is to run from Venita, I. T., to Alva, Okla., and is to pass through a rich agricultural country. It is supposed to be a Santa Fe proposition, although none of the great systems pretend to know anything about it. It has been learned at Bartlesville, I. T., that the Grigsby-Kinzer construction company will build the line. The survey of the line has been made and it is proposed to run it east from Venita to Grand river, perhaps touching the Cowskin prairie country. Much interest is taken in this proposition east of this place on account of the rumor that the Kansas City Southern contemplated building west from Lanagan, Mo., through by Grove on Cowskin prairie to Oklahoma. It is thought by some people that the Venita-Alva line is probably a Kansas City Southern enterprise.

Most Popular in the World.

What is the most popular advertised medicine in the world? A few years ago it was supposed to be a brand of pills made in England claiming a sale of 5,000,000 packages a year. This record is badly beaten, however, today by the famous American family medicine Cascarets, Candy Cathartic, which are selling at an average of over 30,000 boxes every day, over a million boxes a month, and over twelve million boxes a year. This appears to be evidence of overwhelming popularity, the most noteworthy on record.

ALLENDORPH'S NEW RAIL.

Santa Fe Conductor Introduces Some Novel Ideas.

J. C. Allendorph, of Kansas City, and at one time a Santa Fe conductor with Hutchinson as his home, has recently invented a steel rail which may replace the standard rail now in use on the railroads in the United States. Mr. Allendorph was a conductor through here about twenty years ago and married Miss Hattie Foote, a sister of Willis Foote, formerly of this city, says the Topeka State Journal. The new rail has been shown to 300 railroad operating officials and they have pronounced it a mere practical rail than the one now in use.

The present rail is five and one-half inches high and has a five and one-half inch base. It is solid. Mr. Allendorph's rail is four inches high and has a six-inch base. It is a hollow rail. Another improvement, which some officials consider the best part of the invention is the device for connecting the rails. Instead of ash plates now in use the rail is joined by means of a plate two feet long, six inches wide and carrying an upright the length of the plate which fits into the hollow of the two rails to be connected. A complete and satisfactory connection is readily made.

The particular advantage of the invention is that it will prevent the many accidents which are attributed to "spreading rails." As a matter of fact the phrase "spreading rails" is a misnomer. The train in striking the rail rounding a curve forces the rail over and upsidown, causing a wreck. With the height of the rail reduced from five and one-half to four inches and resting on a broader base than the present standard rail the chance for an accident from "spreading rail" is greatly minimized, if not entirely eliminated.

The present standard rail carries 90 pounds to the yard. Mr. Allendorph's rail carries but 77 pounds to the yard. With steel at the present quotation, $28 a ton, there is a difference in cost in favor of the Allendorph rail of $571.76 a mile. Mr. Allendorph is confident of securing the adoption of the rail by the larger systems of the country. Mr. Allendorph has been railroading for twenty years.

Croup.

Usually begins with the symptoms of a common cold; there is chillsiness, sneezing, sore throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarseness and impeded respiration. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup (the child will cry for it), and at the first sign of a croupy cough, apply frequently Ballard's Snow Liniment, externally to the throat. 50c at J. EXODUS TO THE WEST.

Four Thousand People Coming on the Homeseekers' Excursion.

A Chicago dispatch says: Between 3,000 and 4,000 persons passed through Chicago on their way to seek homes in Oklahoma, Indian Territory, Texas, Louisiana, California and other states. The movement was the largest of its kind ever recorded in a single day in the history of western railroads. The occasion was the first day of the homeseekers' rates to the west and the southwest, the rate to California and return being $33 and the rates to the other states considerably less than one fare for the round trip.

His Life Saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"B. L. Byer, a well known cooper of this town, says he believes Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy saved his life last summer. He had been sick for a month, with what the doctors call bilious dysentery, and could get nothing to do him any good until he tried this remedy. It gave him immediate relief," says B. T. DAMAGE SUIT FOR STOCK.

Action Filed Against Southern Pacific At El Paso.

Friday afternoon D. H. Snyder and H. L. Frost, doing business under the firm name of Snyder & Frost, instituted proceedings against the Southern Pacific Railway company in the district court, says the El Paso Times.

The plaintiffs ask a judgment in the sum of $8,532.45 for damages said to have been received by a shipment of horses. In the petition it is alleged that on the 25th day of last July they shipped some horses over the Southern Pacific from Canabasa, Ariz., to El Paso in from sixteen to eighteen hours. It is stated that there were 82 head in the original shipment. The animals arrived in El Paso several days late. It is averred that the defendant overcharged the plaintiffs for the use of the cars. It is further claimed that fifteen head of horses were killed en route, two escaped, while others were injured and arrived in bad condition. It is also alleged that the price of four tickets, amounting to $77.25, was not returned according to the promise made. The plaintiffs figure out their loss and damage to be the said sum of $8,532.45 for which judgment is asked. Edwards & Edwards appears as attorneys for plaintiffs.

VALENCIA COURT.

Several Prisoners Receive Penitentiary Sentences.

A "SHOOTER" NOT GUILTY.

Evening Session, September 17.

In the case of Territory vs. Vidal Candelaria, convicted by the jury of assault with intent to commit murder, the court imposed a sentence of one year and nine months in the penitentiary.

The court was occupied during the evening in the trial of the case of Territory vs. Teodosio Garcia, charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to murder Patricia Chavez de Onop on March 22 last, at San Rafael. The prosecution was surprised by the variance in the stories told by the witnesses for the prosecution on the witness stand and that told in the grand jury room. The defendant seemed had gone to the home of the prosecuting witnesses, where he made insulting remarks, and on being invited to retire from the premises, did so, and as the door was shut on him, two shots were transmitted through the door, from the outside, each shot taking effect, one in the husband and the other in the wife, without fatal effect however. The variance in the testimony was in the fact of the time after the shots were fired, in the grand jury room it being said to have been instantly while in the trial it was said an hour more or less after the defendant passed out of the door. The district attorney charged tampering with the witnesses, and the court ordered a rigid investigation to detect the culprits if possible. The court thereupon directed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty.

The jury in the case of Territory vs. Benito Baca, charged with assault with intent to murder one Florencio Genavides at San Rafael on March 16, 1903, returned a verdict of guilty, and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

Friday Morning.

The court took up the case of Territory vs. Luis Pino, charged with theft of two cows in 1900, the property of Juan Jose Benavides. The evidence tended to show that defendant in company with two others drove the cattle away from the herd in which they belonged; the evidence was largely circumstantial and the jury after having been out a short time returned a verdict of not guilty.

In the case of Territory vs. Jose Lozano, charged with carrying a deadly weapon in the town of Belen, the jury returned a verdict of guilty, and the court sentenced the defendant to three months in the county jail.

Jose Solice, who heretofore pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree was sentenced by the court to a term of 99 years in the penitentiary. The crime was an aggravated one, the defendant having killed his friend over a quarrel about a small amount of money.

Juan Montano, convicted of assault with intent to kill Delino Apodaca, was sentenced to three years imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Distress After Eating Cured.

Judge W. T. Holland of Greensburg, La., who is well and favorably known, says: "Two years ago I suffered greatly from indigestion. After eating, great distress would invariably result, lasting for an hour or so and my nights were restless. I concluded to try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and it cured me entirely. Now my sleep is refreshing and digestion perfect." Sold by B. W. Briggs & Co. and S. Vann & Sons.

Hardships for the Old.

It is evident that employment conditions for old men are getting harder all the time. They are not wanted in any kind of business. A man of 55 or 60 years of age who falls in business, or is thrown out of employment, is in a very unfortunate position, particularly if he is without means and has a family dependent upon him. The action of the great corporations relative to the age limit contains a warning to young men who are inclined to be extravagant and indifferent to the interest of their employers.—Savannah News.

English Coal Supply.

According to an English expert the supply of the coal yet remaining to be mined in the United Kingdom amounts to 89,684,000,000 tons, which at the present rate of mining would last 370 years. The same authority gives the total output of the world in 1900 as 67,636,204 tons, of which Great Britain produced 22,000,000 tons, or 30 per cent and the United States 34,000,000 tons leaving a balance 35 per cent for the rest of the world.

Similar But Different.

"Hello, there, cully!" exclaimed the bank burglar as he encountered an acquaintance. "Are you still picking pockets?"

"Sure," answered the light-fingered gent; "but I've got a new scheme for doing it that sidetracks the police."

"It's no use," said the b. b. "I'll light but keep it mum," answered he cheerily. "I'm running a railway lun counter. See?"

August Failures.

The number of failures of manufacturing concerns and the volumes of liabilities were much greater in August of this year than in the corresponding month of 1902. Many of these mishaps are directly traceable to strikes, and most of them were no doubt indirectly caused by the decreasing consuming ability of people who are voluntarily out of work.

Vacations a Modern Notion.

Fifty years ago such a thing as a vacation was not heard of. People took joy in their work and contented themselves with the simple pleasures that fell to their lot in their daily intercourse. A young man who would have asked for a vacation in those days would have lost his situation.

SCHOOL OF MINES.

Batch of Small Paragraphs About a Worthy Institution.

From the Chieftain.
G. O. Arnold, a recent graduate of Iowa college, arrived to take up his work in mining.

James McGee of Kelly, registered for the regular course in mining engineering. A brother of Mr. McGee's is expected in a few days.

Earle D. Morton registered from Prescott, Ariz., for the regular mining course. For the past six years Mr. Morton has been in one of the large assay offices of Prescott.

The very cheap railroad rates offered last Wednesday in Chicago for southwestern points were taken advantage of by a number of eastern students who will enter the School of Mines this year.

Walter Lucas Miller of Santa Fe comes to the School of Mines well prepared to take up the advanced work in mining engineering. Mr. Miller is a son of D. L. Miller of the state house circle at the capital.

Miss Clyde Melton, who has charge of some of the sub-freshman work in the school, reached Socorro and has her department in full running order. She reports a largely increased attendance over last year.

Ricard S. Chamberlain of Chicago, has enrolled for the full mining course. He has been connected with the general offices of the Illinois Central railroad. Mrs. C. Chamberlain, his mother, will make Socorro her home, and will come as soon as he can select a house suited to their wants.

Prof. D. F. Riddell arrived to assume his duties in the chemical department. Professor Riddell spent the summer in charge of the assay offices of one of the big mining companies in the Black Hills. He was a delegate to the national mining congress held at Deadwood, September 12-16. He reports a very enjoyable and profitable session. Mrs. Riddell will probably not arrive in Socorro until about the first of November.

Prof. Leon Dominian, who assists in the geological department, is an accomplished linguist and a proficient student in higher mathematics. He talks fluently and writes easily over a dozen different languages, including German, French, Italian, Armenian, Bulgarian, Turkish, Greek, and Latin. FINED HIM $25.

Emporia, Kansas, Will Not Allow Trains to Block Street Crossings.

The case of John Watkins, a Santa Fe conductor, was brought up in police court last evening, says a telegram from Emporia.

Watkins is charged with obstructing Commercial street on September 24. The evidence went to show that he was doing the best he could under the circumstances to remove the train, but there was so much business over the road that the yards were full and there was no place where the train could have been placed without delaying traffic. The ordinance provides that there shall be a fine of $25 for obstructing the street longer than five minutes, and as it was clearly shown that the train was held at least fifteen minutes the fine was imposed. Through his attorney he filed notice of his appeal and was dismissed on his own recognizance.

A Merchant Robbed.

Wednesday night Neida Abaita, who conducts a small store, reported to the police that he had been robbed. Mr. Abaita is a paralytic and unable to defend himself. His story is that while he was counting his money two men, Americans, entered the house and demanded his money. One made a thrust at him and his little girl stepped in to prevent the attack and was cut across the fingers. He described the men as being tall and short. Abaita said that they got away with $520. The officers started to immediately hunt for the men answering the description. Sheriff Honeck, Marshal Hanks and Officer King Henley have made a vigilant search for the robbers, but were handicapped in their efforts from the fact that Abaita was so excited over the affair that his description of the men varied.—Winslow Mail.

WILL BUILD IT ANYWAY.

Austin, Texas, Thinks Santa Fe Cut Off is a Go.
It was stated here today that, notwithstanding the reported trackage agreement between the Santa Fe and the Rock Island, the former road has not abandoned its intention of building the short cut-off line from Dodge City, Kansas, to Belen, New Mexico, says a dispatch from Austin, Texas.
This proposed line would occupy to a certain extent a part of the territory already occupied by the Rock Island's line to El Paso. The survey for the cut off was completed about sixty days ago, and work had begun on the construction of the road out of Belen, when the order came for it to cease temporarily. Chief Engineer James Dun of the Santa Fe says that the project has not been abandoned, and that the temporary cessation of the construction work was not due to either a question of finance or the Rock Island alliance. Lantry & Co., who have the contract, still have their outfit on the line. This cut off will pass through the extreme upper part of the Texas Panhandle.

Let the People Know.

People in New Mexico, including certain points in the Pecos Valley, will also be interested in knowing that we have also decided to place in effect daily one-way colonist rates to California points and intermediates affected thereby, from September 1 to November 30, inclusive. The rate from Chicago will be $23.00; from Kansas City and intermediates west, $25.00, and will apply to all points on main line El Paso, Deming and north, likewise to all points on Santa Fe Pacific west of Albuquerque and main line points on S. F. & P. where existing one-way second class rates are higher.

In the last half of the eighth inning the game ended on account of a dispute.

TO SUBMIT PLANS.

Building of Big Salt River Dam Will Rest With Secretary Hitchcock.

Chief Engineer F. H. Newell of the United States reclamation service left Denver for Washington, says the Republican. With him he took the plans and specifications, as well as a number of bids for the construction of the great reservoir on Salt River in Arizona.

All day yesterday he was in conference with Arthur Powell, principal engineer of the reclamation service, A. L. Fellows of the Denver headquarters; John E. Field, district engineer in charge of the North Platte, Wyoming project; George Y. Wisner of Detroit, consulting engineer; James H. Quinton, in charge of the territory of New Mexico, and Raymond P. Walter, district engineer of the Black Hills.

A number of informal bids and proposals that had been asked for were considered and a rough estimate made as to the cost of the reservoir. This will be a little more than $3,000,000. This estimate, with the plans and specifications, will be submitted to secretary of the Interior Hitchcock and on his decision there will rest the building of the gigantic reservoir.

FAMOUS INDIAN SCOUTS.

Great Cheyenne Chief, Who Aided in Trailing Geronimo, Was in El Paso Yesterday.

An Indian scout, who has played an important part in the history of southern Arizona during its struggles against the incursions of Geronimo and his bands, was in the city yesterday as a guest of the Hotel Plaza.

He is L. W. Tyler, a Cheyenne chief, known among the tribesmen as Mee-hee Haze, and was the leader of the scouts who showed Gen. Miles the hiding places of Geronimo and his murderous Apaches.

Chief Tyler now lives in Darlington, O. T., with a number of his tribe.

He was in the city, en route to Mexico, with another member of his tribe, John D. Miles, known in the Cheyenne tongue as O. Wee Kne, another educated Indian, who, like Chief Tyler, was prominent in the warfare against the Apaches and was afterwards taken to the Carlisle Indian school and given an education.

Both men were clad in European costume and appeared very much the same as Americans. They were very reserved and talked but little about their adventures.

They expected to return from Mexico in a few weeks. It is stated that they have gone there to seek out a suitable spot for a location for some members of the Cheyenne tribe to make their homes and settle down to a life of farming and mercantile pursuits.

They left this morning on the Mexican Central for Chihuahua, from which city they will take the trail out to the Sierra mountains.—El Paso News.

A party of Santa Fe officials, composed of H. U. Mudge, general manager; J. E. Hurley, general superintendent; C. H. Gaunt, superintendent of telegraph; C. W. Kouns, superintendent of transportation, and C. A. Morse, chief engineer of the Santa Fe proper, returned to Yopoka fr. in a week's inspection trip over the Oklahoma division. The party made the trip in a special train.

Edwards, department commander, Grand Army of the Republic of New Mexico, from the headquarters of the national encampment and issued by General John C. Black, commander in chief, will be found of interest to the many veterans of the civil war residing in New Mexico:

"Resolved, That the committee on pensions to be appointed for the ensuing year be, and they are hereby, directed to present to United States congress for passage a bill which, while not disturbing the beneficent provisions of existing law, shall provide that every survivor of the war of 1861-1865, who served for a period of ninety days, and who was honorably discharged, and who has passed the age of 62 years, shall be pensioned at the rate of $12 per month, and that a pension of the same amount be paid the widow of such soldier, when deceased, who was married to such soldier prior to the 27th day of June, A. D. 1903.

As stated in general orders No. 1, further information relating to the subject matter of the foregoing resolution will be promulgated in the near future."

Successful Bug Catcher.

A Lawrence, Kansas dispatch says: Dr. Frank Snow, with a small party of university students, has been bug-catching in southwest Arizona. It may be interesting to know what a bug catcher regards as a successful expedition. Dr. Snow brought back 15,000 specimens, all pinned and labeled, of which some 100 are new to science. Of these 5,430 are beetles, 4,500 are flies, 1,296 are butterflies and moths, and the rest run the list of bees, wasps, bugs and insects. The butterflies and moths were collected at night by spreading on a tree near the camp a mixture of beer and molasses.

RODEY ON THE EAST.

Our Delegate Denies Charge of Heated Attack on the East.

Delegate B. S. Rodey was shown a statement in the El Paso News to the effect that Mr. Rodey while in Ogden made a very heated attack on the people of the east.

"Yes," said Mr. Rodey, "such a statement was made in a Salt Lake paper, from which the News probably obtained it; but it was altogether incorrect, based upon a misapprehension of what I said, and originating I have no doubt with someone who did not hear my remarks or heard them only in part.

"The question before the congress was the repeal of certain parts of the existing land laws. I opposed the repeal, or the ground that it would put a stop to all government irrigation work because of the $16,000,000 to the credit of that work, $13,000,000 had come into the treasury through the action of the very lands which it was now proposed to repeal.

"I also stated that it would be absurd as well as useless after repealing these laws, to go before congress and ask for $50,000,000 for irrigation works, as some thought ought to be done; for such an appropriation would never be made. Furthermore, I told them that there was no irrigation sentiment among the people and congressmen of the east; none such had been developed, nor would it be for years to come. We called our congress National, but it was so only in name; for irrigation improvements by the general government was a movement originating in the west and confined to the west for sympathy and support.

"I knew what I was talking about, for I had been one of those who had canvassed congress in favor of the irrigation bill, and I found only opposition to it on the part of eastern members, so long as it was proposed to make an appropriation for the work out of the national treasury; nor could we have ever secured the enactment of the law, had we not put in the bill that the proceeds from the sale of our own lands should be applied to the construction of irrigation works. Stop the sale of these lands by doing away with the laws bearing on desert land claims, homestead commutations lands, and stone and timber lands, and you retire at once the only hope irrigation has or can have for time almost indefinite.

"Such was the substance of my remarks, and it would be difficult for anyone who hears me to find in these plain statements of facts any harsh criticism or heated attack on the east. Of course there are exceptions here and there, but I spoke of the condition as it exists among the great mass of eastern people and the great majority of eastern congressmen."

Texas Boundary.

United States surveyors are busy determining the boundary line between Texas and New Mexico, with the result that much territory that was supposed to belong to Texas is in New Mexico. It seems to have been the habit of Texas to claim all she could and make settlement afterwards.

Dispute settled.

Prof. Clinton J. Crandall returned to Santa Fe from a visit to the Cochiti pueblo, where he settled a dispute as to certain lands between that pueblo and the pueblo of Santo Domingo. He reports that the corn crop in that section has been very much damaged by the frosts as the corn frost of a few nights ago occurred. This will prove quite a hardship to the several pueblos south of here. The corn crop of the pueblos north of here, namely: at San Antonio, Nampe, Tesque, Santa Clara and San Juan was not injured.

Touching Reunion.

A most touching reunion of old schoolmates was held recently at Erick's Locks, Pa. The venerable schoolmaster rang the bell of the old schoolhouse, when in troops, not the children of the village, but sixty-two middle-aged men and women, former scholars. All the old lessons were gone through, and then the class adjourned to the playground and romped through the old games.

Hips Out of Fashion.

The baggy blouse waist and the extreme hip belt must go. The woman who would be really trim and well tailored must be willing to abandon the style that gives her a "becoming fullness" under the arms and puffy gatherings at the waist. She must be willing even to look narrow rather than bloated. To be slim and trim—and to have no hips—is to be correct form this winter.

Costly Sport.

The last five cup yacht races have cost the American contestants about two and one-half million dollars. This is all dead loss as far as the yachts are concerned, for the junk left over is not worth thirty cents. The country might save a lot of money by racing with real boats.

Think Well.

We are today what we have thought yesterday. The sum of man's thoughts is himself to think well today is to live well tomorrow. Thoughts are causes, actions mere effects—take care of the causes and the effects will take care of themselves.

Who is the Best.

"Who is the best baseball player in the world for 1903?" This question is agitating the fans. In the discussion but two names appear, Lajoie of the Cleveland American League Club, and Wagner of the Pittsburgh National League team.
