It was reported in this town that one of the school girls at Puerto de Luna had assaulted with words, Miss Luisa Beaubien, the principal of the public schools at that place. that Padia was working with Gabriel Chacon baling hay across the Los Tanos creek and the former asked the latter to let him off early Saturday afternoon, as he wanted to go to the Puerto de Luna dance that night. Chacon did as requested and Padia came straight to Chacon's house, forced the door open and pilfered a suit of clothes belonging to Chacon. The clothes were found on his person when arrested. ## CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Ed. Dixon Held for the Death of Jake Doris in El Paso.

HE FURNISHED BOND.

At the instance of County Attorney Kemp the charge of murder pending against Ed Dixon in Judge Spencer's court was yesterday afternoon dismissed and substituted by a charge of manslaughter, says the El Paso Herald.

The latter charge entitled Dixon to give bail, which, being fixed at $2,000, was at once furnished by the prisoner's brother, Clarence Dixon.

Dixon is held responsible for the death of Jake Doris, the hackman, who died from injuries received in a fight with Dixon.

Dixon's preliminary hearing came up before Judge Spencer at nine o'clock today. Dixon elected to make a voluntary statement which was followed by the testimony of officers C. F. Taylor and Tom Huettel and Dr. Stevenson.

At the conclusion of the testimony introduced by the state, County Attorney Kemp stated that while it was the duty of Justice Spencer in the matter to bind defendant over to the grand jury, unless the state upon the trial of the case makes out a stronger case than was made this morning it will be the duty of the district judge to instruct the jury trying the case to bring in a verdict for the defendant.

Dixon in his voluntary statement testified substantially to the following: That he was standing in the Astor house at the bar at about 2 o'clock last Friday morning when Jake Davis came up to him and asked to borrow $2. Dixon declined to loan him the money whereupon Davis began to curse him. Dixon then walked out on the pavement in front of the saloon and Davis followed, still calling him vile names. Here Dixon struck him and knocked him down. At this juncture Officer Taylor and Huettel came up and placed one two under arrest. Dixon told the officer that Davis had a knife and Officer Taylor took a knife away from Davis which the latter was holding up his sleeve.

The two men were then taken to jail by the two officers. On the way to jail they gave bond and were released. Dixon went back to the Astor house where he was told by the barkeeper to look out for Davis who was carrying something in his pocket. About an hour after the men were released from jail and while Dixon and two friends were standing at the bar, Davis reentered and caught hold of one of the monte payers to pull him away from in front of Dixon and as he did so Dixon knocked him down. Davis got up and began cursing and swearing and Dixon ordered him out of the saloon. Davis refused to go and Dixon took him by the collar and shoved him out. When the sidewalk was reached, Davis renewed his abuse and Dixon again struck him, this time knocking him out in the street.

The two men were again arrested and placed under bond without being taken to jail the second time. Officer Taylor was next called and testified that he came up a short time after the first fight and, at the request of Dixon, made Davis put up a knife which he had up his sleeve. After the men were released on bond at the jail he warned Davis to stay away from the Astor house that night. About an hour afterwards he and Officers Gonzales and Huettel saw Davis go back into the saloon and a short time afterwards saw him and Dixon come out the front door in a scuffle. Dixon again struck Davis before they could interfere. After the men had again been arrested and had been given bond Davis stood around a while and then walked home, where he was put to bed by a friend.

Dr. Stevenson was then called and testified as to the result of the autopsy, after which the state rested.

Judge Spencer announced that he would bind the defendant over to the grand jury and fixed his bond at $2,000 which Dixon immediately furnished.

DISTRICT COURT.

Trial of the Alleged Rioters Now in Progress.

More interest has been manifested in the case of the territory against Frank Quier, Harmon Wynkoop, Charles Hein, F. Neville, Frank Moyer and three others, against whom indictments were found, but who were not in custody on the day of the trial, than in any case which has come up in the Bernalillo county district court since Judge B. S. Baker has presided on that bench. The defendants are charged with inciting to riot and with assault with intent to injure the person of Jerry Michaels in this city on the night of July 15. Arranged on both sides of the case is the strongest legal ability in the territory. Appearing for the defense are Hon. B. S. Rodey, delegate to congress, and Hon. H. B. Ferguson, and for the territory appears District Attorney Chancy and United States Attorney Childers.

On the night of the time of the alleged assault, a mob appeared on the streets, following the prosecuting witness in the case, crying scab. The mob formed on Second street and was led to Railroad avenue by Michaels. After walking up and down the avenue, blowing a police whistle for a period of fifteen minutes, he started running east on the avenue, and after running against the doors of Everett's Diamond Palace, in an endeavor to get inside, fled down First street, where he was rescued by the police.

The prosecution dismissed the case against Wynkoop, and failed to make a very strong case against the remaining defendants.

The jury retired at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

RESUME STATEHOOD FIGHT.

Senator Clark of Wyoming Believes Eorts by Friends of Territories Will Be Renewed at Regular Session.

A telegram to the Democrat from Washington, D. C., dated Oct. 20, says:

Senator Clark of Wyoming, who is in Washington for the coming session of congress, said today: "I think there will be no opposition to the administration's plans regarding the Cuban reciprocity treaty. I do not see any ground for apprehension that the final legislation affecting the treaty will not be consummated."

When asked concerning proposed statehood legislation, in which he took an active interest at the last session, the senator said:

"I have no doubt the efforts in behalf of statehood will be resumed at the regular session. The fight will probably be taken up where it was left off and the division in the senate will probably be along the same old lines. It is just as difficult now to prophesy accurately the outcome of the legislation as it was last session."

"In my opinion, justice to the territories should dictate the admission of Oklahoma, Arizona and New Mexico as separate states. I do not think they should be consolidated, but should be taken into the Union in their present territorial autonomy."

ROSWELL.

From the Record.

The report reached Roswell that Tom Vest had been killed on the T. X. ranch twenty miles east of Carlsbad. It is not true, as the supposed dead man has written a letter to his father, T. P. Vest, in Roswell, denying the report. Of course he ought to know best.

While loading the big wagons on the Norris & Rowe show train one of the workmen was thrown about ten feet. The tongue of one of the big wagons suddenly turned over the car and threw the man head over heels. He landed on his head, but as usual he was not injured and returned to his work in a few minutes.

The stone for the foundation of the building for the First National bank of Artesia was shipped from Roswell. Work on the new bank building will be commenced at once and it will be a branch of the Roswell National bank and the capital stock will be $25,000.

Ed Wheeler is on the streets again after a serious illness of several weeks. He formerly owned the confectionery on Main street that was sold to J. H. Hampton.

J. E. Daley, a former hotel man of San Antonio, Texas, who had been in Roswell for some days left for Artesia. He expects to open a hotel in the new town.

Bruce Keever and wife of Modoc, Indiana, arrived to spend the winter in Roswell. He is an Indiana farmer and comes for the benefit of his health.

J. D. McCutchan of Fort Worth, Texas, is visiting his friend,

CHARITY OF SPEECH.
Charity of speech is as divine a thing as charity of action. To judge no one harshly, to misconceive no man's motives, to believe things as they seem to be until proven otherwise, to temper judgment with mercy—surely this is quite as good, as to build up churches, establish asylums and found colleges. Unkind words do as much harm as unkind deeds. Many a heart has been wounded beyond cure, many a reputation has been stained to death by a few idle words. There is a charity which consists in withholding words, in keeping back harsh judgment, in abstaining from speech, it to speak is to condemn.

LIFE'S OPPORTUNITIES.
Grover Cleveland thinks that there are other things more desirable than the presidency. In addressing the students of Amherst college recently he said: "The opportunities today are greater than ever for boys to get a practical education—an industrial education—and I would rather my own boy grow up to build a great bridge like the Brooklyn bridge than to receive the highest honor that the people could bestow on him. I hate to hear persons talk in a pessimistic strain to the effect that the day of opportunity in this country has gone by and that the chances for a young man to rise by his efforts have passed away. It is not true. There is room at the top and there always will be."

THE PACE THAT KILLS.
The Fort Worth Telegram recently discussed the "pace that kills," and was gratified that it was well received. It is hoped its words reached willing ears and that some change has been made in the life some young men were leading. The same subject has attracted the Rev. G. B. Vonlough of Denver of the First Baptist church, who spoke on "Some Perils of Today." Speaking of the youth of that city he said:
"They drift away from the churches or the sacred influences of home. They frequent saloons, low places of alleged amusement and gambling dens, and so pass on to the criminal class with wrecked hearts and hopes, their parents going broken-hearted to the grave, while the degenerate son lingers a few years longer to debauch himself and to disturb the peace of society which his presence pollutes."
There is a sermon in this brief paragraph, and a sermon which ought to be read by every young man or woman today. Denver is not alone in having such citizenship. They are here, they are in every city. The future of a young man who leads such a life can be nothing but failure and finally total wreck.

SOCIALISM AND ORGANIZED LABOR.

The Colorado Springs Gazette says that one of the greatest dangers that confronts organized labor today is socialism.

It is not particularly menacing to the nation, for there is no more chance of the American people adopting the various theories of government of the socialists than there was of their adopting the attractive array of lures which the populists offered them.

There always has been and always will be a number of restless, dissatisfied people in this country, who are sure everything will go to the dogs unless some radical change in our principle of government is made. This negative element will continue to make itself heard under one party name or another, so long as government lasts. Its vote in this country is steadily increasing, and may reach the high-water mark of the populists, but it is a foreign importation that can never take permanent root in the free soil of America.

Socialism feeds on discontent. Wherever a strike is in progress there will usually be found a few of its agitators, conducting a recruiting station to draw off the irreconcilable element.

A large number of American workmen have united under the banner of organized labor to better their condition, but after forty or fifty years of effort it has been found impossible to align the wage-earners under one political flag.

It has failed because the average American is too sane and too healthy-minded to join in any movement that tends to array the people of the country into two classes; he is too clear-headed and too independent to permit any organization to tell him how to vote. His interests are too nearly identical with the business interests of the country to permit him joining any political movement whose object it is to destroy them.

A political party, to have any measure of success, must be composed of people from all walks of life. If the union men in the country belonged to the socialist party, they could accomplish nothing by their connection but to array all other men against them in the other political parties, and this would surely mean defeat for the total membership of organized labor is a very small portion of the 14,000,000 popular vote of this country.

Any movement that attempts to divide the American people into two opposing classes is sure to fail. And labor unions which have allowed themselves to get into the control of socialist leaders, to be used to exploit their theories, are doomed to failure.

DOING GOOD.
Every issue now of the great Hearst papers in New York, Chicago and San Francisco contains the promised full page of pictures and descriptive printed matter regarding the territories. CHARITY OF SPEECH.
Charity of speech is as divine a thing as charity of action. To judge no one harshly, to misconceive no man's motives, to believe things as they seem to be until proven otherwise, to temper judgment with mercy—surely this is quite as good, as to build up churches, establish asylums and found colleges. Unkind words do as much harm as unkind deeds. Many a heart has been wounded beyond cure, many a reputation has been stained to death by a few idle words. There is a charity which consists in withholding words, in keeping back harsh judgment, in abstaining from speech, it to speak is to condemn.

LIFE'S OPPORTUNITIES.
Grover Cleveland thinks that there are other things more desirable than the presidency. In addressing the students of Amherst college recently he said: "The opportunities today are greater than ever for boys to get a practical education—an industrial education—and I would rather my own boy grow up to build a great bridge like the Brooklyn bridge than to receive the highest honor that the people could bestow on him. I hate to hear persons talk in a pessimistic strain to the effect that the day of opportunity in this country has gone by and that the chances for a young man to rise by his efforts have passed away. It is not true. There is room at the top and there always will be."

THE PACE THAT KILLS.
The Fort Worth Telegram recently discussed the "pace that kills," and was gratified that it was well received. It is hoped its words reached willing ears and that some change has been made in the life some young men were leading. The same subject has attracted the Rev. G. B. Vonlough of Denver of the First Baptist church, who spoke on "Some Perils of Today." Speaking of the youth of that city he said:
"They drift away from the churches or the sacred influences of home. They frequent saloons, low places of alleged amusement and gambling dens, and so pass on to the criminal class with wrecked hearts and hopes, their parents going broken-hearted to the grave, while the degenerate son lingers a few years longer to debauch himself and to disturb the peace of society which his presence pollutes."
There is a sermon in this brief paragraph, and a sermon which ought to be read by every young man or woman today. Denver is not alone in having such citizenship. They are here, they are in every city. The future of a young man who leads such a life can be nothing but failure and finally total wreck.

SOCIALISM AND ORGANIZED LABOR.

The Colorado Springs Gazette says that one of the greatest dangers that confronts organized labor today is socialism.

It is not particularly menacing to the nation, for there is no more chance of the American people adopting the various theories of government of the socialists than there was of their adopting the attractive array of lures which the populists offered them.

There always has been and always will be a number of restless, dissatisfied people in this country, who are sure everything will go to the dogs unless some radical change in our principle of government is made. This negative element will continue to make itself heard under one party name or another, so long as government lasts. Its vote in this country is steadily increasing, and may reach the high-water mark of the populists, but it is a foreign importation that can never take permanent root in the free soil of America.

Socialism feeds on discontent. Wherever a strike is in progress there will usually be found a few of its agitators, conducting a recruiting station to draw off the irreconcilable element.

A large number of American workmen have united under the banner of organized labor to better their condition, but after forty or fifty years of effort it has been found impossible to align the wage-earners under one political flag.

It has failed because the average American is too sane and too healthy-minded to join in any movement that tends to array the people of the country into two classes; he is too clear-headed and too independent to permit any organization to tell him how to vote. His interests are too nearly identical with the business interests of the country to permit him joining any political movement whose object it is to destroy them.

A political party, to have any measure of success, must be composed of people from all walks of life. If the union men in the country belonged to the socialist party, they could accomplish nothing by their connection but to array all other men against them in the other political parties, and this would surely mean defeat for the total membership of organized labor is a very small portion of the 14,000,000 popular vote of this country.

Any movement that attempts to divide the American people into two opposing classes is sure to fail. And labor unions which have allowed themselves to get into the control of socialist leaders, to be used to exploit their theories, are doomed to failure.

EDITORIAL NOTES.
The New Mexican reports a rich soil strike near that city.
The courteous man who minds his own business is an admirable acquaintance.
Your day has been wasted if you have not done some good during its life.
So far $8,500,000 has been expended in the St. Louis world's fair enterprise.
What everybody is willing to do is to associate with a man to get away from him something that is his.
Governor Hogg seems to be firmly convinced that President Roosevelt will not be able to carry Texas next year.
There will be an entire change of program in the fair next year, and the exhibition will be made bigger and better.
A detailed estimate of the year's wheat crop throughout the world shows a shortage of over 61,000,000 bushels.
Do not spend all your spare time chewing the rag; save some of it in which to read and think to cultivate the better and higher side of your life.
The first part of the big panic that is scheduled to strike this country in 1904, reached Baltimore yesterday. Two large banking houses went to the wall with a crash.
The Hearst newspapers are filled with descriptive sketches of the trip of Mr. Hearst and party through the territories. This city is highly praised as a clean and progressive community.
Japan has formulated terms on which she is willing to settle with Russia—the principal feature being that Korea shall remain under Japanese influence.
What a dull world this would be for any admirer of athletics, if there were no such thing as baseball, football and divers sports which appear in keeping with the season.
There were others than Mrs. O. E. Cromwell who objected to the cruelty of the roping contests at the fair. Mrs. Governor Powers of the Hearst party was heard to object strongly when the pony was injured on Thursday in the roping contest.
The twenty-third territorial fair was a success in every particular, and Secretary McCanna deserves great credit for rare executive ability. Everything advertised came off on schedule time, and there was no hitch in the proceedings during the entire week.
The gold mined in Mexico is now approximately $25,000,000 annually. Everything points to the fact that Mexico will soon lose its distinctive renown as a great silver producing country, and enter the list of the countries contributing heavily to the world's stock of the yellow metal.
District Attorney Clancy asserts that the school funds of this county have been misappropriated, and then weakly says that there is no chance of securing indictments under existing conditions. It is supposed by the people to be the duty of the district attorney to prosecute in all such cases.
Tobacco is both cultivated and consumed on a large scale in Japan. The plant was introduced by the Portuguese in the seventeenth century, and the trade in it is a government monopoly. Tobacco is almost universally used in a small pipe. While cigarettes are manufactured in large quantities they are nearly all exported.
Artificial teeth and "uppers" for boots and shoes are among the new uses to which paper is being put. At this moment a substantial business firm in Boston is considering a proposition to take up the work of manufacturing paper hats. By-and-by a high hat, dress suit and shoes rivaling patent leather, all made of paper, may be considered quite the proper thing.
More than 50,000,000 pounds of India rubber, valued at more than $30,000,000, were imported into the United States last year, according to figures prepared by the bureau of statistics. In 1890 the quantity was only 32,000,000 pounds, in 1895, 16,000,000; in 1870, 9,000,000; and in 1862, the earliest date when it was separately shown in the import statements, it was only 2,125,516 pounds.
It is not too much to say that during these days through the Hearst newspapers, not less than seven to ten millions of people will read favorable accounts of the people, the resources and possibilities of the territories. New Mexico has indeed reason to be grateful for all this. It was in a manner made up for some of the abuse we received at the hands of the Beveridge committee and other senators last winter.

WAR IN COURT.
There is a clash between the judge and district attorney of this judicial district. The cause is of several months standing. District Attorney Clancy is a grand stand prosecutor. He is given to posing. He indulges in the habit of writing letters for the newspapers about alleged abuses instead of prosecuting in the courts.
Judge Baker yesterday in a letter to Mr. Clancy calls upon that official to do his duty and prosecute. The judge said:
"The court is the proper tribunal in which to try such matters. If any officer of said county has appropriated, or misappropriated, any money belonging to said county, of which you have knowledge or information, it is your duty to at once institute proper proceedings in the court to recover the same. I demand of you that, in this matter, you be not delinquent in your duty. This you should do without fear or favor, absolutely ignoring all political effect of your action. If the exigency of the case demands and the evidence warrants, I will call a special grand jury to indict all offenders. I will do all I can consistent with my position to see that no guilty one escapes punishment."
Mr. Clancy replies first by claiming that the judge has no right to "lecture" or instruct him as to the performance

SCHOOL OF MINES NOTES.
From Socorro Chieftain.
George F. Card of St. Louis, has enrolled for the engineering course.
Prof. F. C. Lincoln was prostrated with the prevailing epidemic.
Prof. J. F. Riddell was among Socorro's representatives at the territorial fair.
G. M. Hamilton went to Albuquerque expecting to play in the tennis tournament.
President Keyes left on a business trip to the northern part of the territory.
Dr. Magnusson went up to Albuquerque to see the fair and greet old acquaintances.
S. D. Bates returned from the trip to Cat Mountain a little the worse for wear but still among the living.
Dr. Bagg and Messrs. Leon Dominian and H. L. Brown were out on a geologizing trip. A week ago they explored the hills and canyons east of the river.
Antonio Gonzalez of Lemitar, and Louis C. de Baca of Clayton, have enrolled this week. Mr. Baca has attended the Brothers' college in St. Joseph, Mo., for the last four years.

FULKERSON IS OUT.
E. L. Nolds Succeeds Him as Government Storekeeper at El Paso.
E. E. Nolds, formerly bond clerk in the customs collector's office at El Paso, was Thursday appointed storekeeper of the government bonded warehouse at the smelter, to succeed Fulkerson, resigned.
Gordon Roberts, a mounted inspector, was appointed bond clerk.
Fulkerson two months ago filed charges of irregularities in the classification of ores against the smelter trust. When he was refused a place on the investigating committee, he resigned, but the department refused to accept his resignation until recently.
Fulkerson refused to testify before the investigating committee, and nothing was unearthed.

MOTHER OF SOCIETIES.

Grand Bodies of Masonic Order Gather in the City.
The twenty-sixth annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons of New Mexico, assembled this morning in the Masonic temple of this city, Third street. At the first session thirty-three members and visitors were present. The communication will probably close tomorrow evening.
The grand officers at present are: K. A. Cahoon, Roswell, grand master; Dr. J. C. Slack, Clayton, deputy grand master; Geo. W. Ward, Las Vegas, senior grand warden; James G. Fitch, Socorro, junior grand warden; A. J. Maloy, Albuquerque, grand treasurer; A. A. Keen, Albuquerque, grand secretary. These officers were elected at Santa Fe, October 20-21, 1902. Their successors in office will be elected during the present communication.
The appointed officers are Rev. Geo. Selby, represented by Rev. Wm. D. Clayton of Albuquerque, Mr. Selby having removed to Arizona, grand chaplain; Prof. W. H. Seamon of El Paso, grand lecturer; C. F. Easley of Santa Fe, represented by C. J. Crandall of Santa Fe, senior grand deacon; A. N. Pratt of Carlsbad, junior grand deacon; Thomas Murphy, Kingston, grand marshal; H. B. Holt, Las Cruces, senior grand steward; R. H. Ayers, Raton, represented by Robert Cellahin, Roswell, junior grand steward; J. P. McNulty, Cerrillos, grand sword bearer; A. M. Whitcomb, Albuquerque, grand tyler. The successors of these officers will be appointed by the new grand master.
W. H. Seamon, El Paso, is the committee on correspondence, and it may be said in passing that he wears probably the finest and handsomest badge in New Mexico, presented to him by the grand lodge a year ago.
Those attending the grand lodge and registering this morning are: S. L. Kendall and J. P. McNulty, Cerrillos; J. J. Kelly, Collin Nebbett, R. Platt, Silver City; Rev. E. J. Cooke, A. J. Maloy, A. A. Crandall, Santa Fe; John F. Bolton, A. N. Pratt, Carlsbad; T. E. Moyer, Kansas City; Geo. W. Ward, Las Vegas; J. C. Slack, Olin Smith, Clayton. Others have yet to register.

BAD BALL GAMT.

Good Attendance But Excruciatingly Bad Playing Yesterday.
The base ball game, yesterday afternoon, between the Albuquerque and El Paso teams, which resulted in a score of 18 to 5 in favor of El Paso, was not by any means satisfactory to those attending. In fact adverse criticism seems to be without exception. It had been announced that the prize moneys would be pooled, that Albuquerque and Santa Fe would cross bats on Sunday afternoon, that the victors would then on today play El Paso, and to the final victors would belong the entire amount of the ball game prizes and gate receipts.
Under this announcement between of his official duties," and then he goes on and tries in his letter an alleged fraud upon the school fund, and finally throws the blame upon the county commissioners. He says that he has written the county commissioners, but has received no reply.

Mr. Clancy closes his letter by saying: "I am not at all satisfied that indictments could be obtained against these school superintendents. From my general knowledge of existing conditions, I have no hesitation in saying that no useful purpose would be served by calling a special grand jury as you speak of doing, and the expense of such a grand jury would be large."
The citizen cannot see why, if a theft has been committed, that it cannot be tried in the courts instead of in the newspapers.
The course of Mr. Clancy is liable to lead the people to believe that he is making a grand stand play for notoriety and political purposes.

MATTERS MASONIC.

The Masonic Grand Lodge of New Mexico entered on its second day of session this morning. Some time was occupied in discussing a uniform work for the lodges of the territory, but no action was taken.
The chief event of the convocation was the election of grand officers which resulted, this morning, in the following: E. A. Cahoon, Roswell, past grand master; J. C. Slack, Clayton, grand master; Geo. W. Ward, Las Vegas, deputy grand master; Jas. G. Fitch, Socorro, senior grand warden; A. N. Pratt, Carlsbad, junior grand warden; A. J. Maloy, Albuquerque, grand treasurer; A. A. Keen, Albuquerque, grand secretary.
Of these A. N. Pratt is the only new blood introduced, the other officers being each promoted one step, except A. J. Maloy and A. A. Keen, who remain respectively grand treasurer and grand secretary, as they have been for years.
There was no question before the grand lodge of adopting a new constitution, as had been reported.
At the afternoon session the elected officers were installed and Grand Master Slack made the following appointments, they also being installed: Rev. Wm. D. Clayton, Albuquerque, grand chaplain; Geo. W. Grove, Albuquerque, grand lecturer; H. B. Holt, Las Cruces, senior grand deacon; J. W. Donovan, Raton, junior grand deacon; Thomas Murphy, Kingston, grand marshal; J. A. Johnson, San Marcial, senior grand steward; H. H. Major, Alamogordo, junior grand steward; J. P. McNulty, Cerrillos, grand sword bearer; A. M. Whitcomb, Albuquerque, grand tyler.
The following are the subordinate lodges in the jurisdiction, with their officers and membership:
Montezuma, No. 1, Santa Fe—Master, C. F. Easley; senior warden, S. Spitz; junior warden, C. J. Crandall; members 67; increase during the year 12.

Conviction must follow such emphatic proof as is given here. The testimony of Albuquerque residents should satisfy the most skeptical. Here is an Albuquerque case. Read it and see if doubt can exist in the face of this evidence.
W. R. Tripp, engineer at the Alvarado hotel, residence 51 South Broadway, says: "If backache had been my only symptom of kidney trouble my case would probably have been very simple, but when there was added to it trouble with the kidney secretions, the complication did not respond to medicine as readily as I expected. About once every year I had these attacks and the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Alvarado Pharmacy, did me over one which was on a successor of similar procedures. For six months I have had immunity from the annoyance and if Doan's Kidney Pills can be depended upon to act as they did when they first came to my notice I know what to use should the attack recur in the future."

NEW MEXICO TOWNS

SAN MARCIAL.

From the Bee.
The fiesta at Old San Marcial is to materialize on the morning of November 20.

Mrs. Francis Wilson is in El Paso the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Wilson, her only son and his estimable wife.

C. F. Graves, formerly a member of the old Magdalena firm of Creighton & Graves, arrived here to accept a position in the store of Leo Loewenstein.

Judge McQuillin shaved his side whiskers, doctored himself with fine raiment, assumed the facial expression habitual to the rich and honored territorial fair by his presence. He looked every inch the man and soldier, and his resemblance of General Fitz Hugh Lee is not a whit to the judge's disadvantage. For his military record while wearing the blue was distinguished and fruitful of good results to the union cause.

Messrs. J. W. Broyles, C. L. Broyles, Dr. L. H. Richards, Fred Craven and Miss Mary Conroy meet for regular practice as members of the San Marcial orchestra. In the years gone by a similar organization was in existence here and its appearance in public was a source of much pleasure to music loving people. The new organization has been formed more for mutual pleasure and proficiency than for financial gain, but certain opportunities to appear before the public may receive favorable consideration. Their soft airs may soon "charm our senses and exasperate our cares."

SOCORRO.

From the Chieftain.
C. B. Sedillo will leave for Paraje, where he has accepted a position as teacher in the public schools.

Mrs. Gliberson has been quite ill of the prevailing epidemic for several days at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. G. Duncan.

Jim Berry arrived from a trip of several weeks, during which he visited cities in Mexico, Cuba, France, England, Spain and the eastern part of the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Barnes are in the city from Magdalena. Mr. Barnes has been sick for several days, threatened with pneumonia and came down thinking that Socorro's lower altitude would be beneficial.

It would be a mistake to suppose that the condition of Hon. H. M. Dougherty's nose is due to the superior physical prowess of some rival attorney. Mr. Dougherty only allowed his celluloid eye shade to come too close to the lamp. There was a flash; the nose took the heat.

George Cook started for his ranch beyond the river Monday morning, but had some only thirty miles when one of his wagon wheels had broken down. He started a man in with the broken wheel to have it refixed and the man had the same mishap with his wagon. Misfortunes come not singly.

SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.
Juan Garcia was brought in from Moriarty and taken to the hospital for treatment. He is threatened with fever.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dudrow have returned from a visit to Denver, where they spent a week partly on business and partly on pleasure.

Mrs. Frank Dabert, Miss Dabert and the youngest son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dabert arrived from Eureka, Kas., where they have spent the past two months.

A Royce, who for some time has been in the employ of the Santa Fe Hardware company of this city, left for La Jara, Colo., where he has accepted a position.

Mrs. Amado Chavez and young son, who have been in Kansas City for the past ten days on a visit to her sister, Mrs. George R. Baucus, are expected to return home about the middle of the coming week.

Mrs. Paul A. F. Walter and children and Miss Emily A. Walker and Miss Knight, returned from a six weeks' visit to their old home in South Bethlehem, Pa.

While assisting at making some repairs recently at the power house of the Water and Light company, Electrician Arthur J. Griffin was painfully, though not seriously, injured by being struck with a piece of the machinery on the side of the face.

The fiesta at Santa Cruz was one of the most successful that has ever been held in that town and it is estimated that more than 2,000 people from the country round about the town were there to participate in the festivities. There were many people from Santa Fe who attended and a contingent of the Capital City band was there to help and aided materially in making the affair the success that it proved.

HILLSBORO.

From the Advocate.
Jose Alert has returned from a three weeks' trip in Mexico.

Miss Matty Crews is in San Francisco visiting her sister, Mrs. Edna Hughes.

Mrs. J. C. Plimmons and Mrs. Charles Morris have returned from Hermosa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Webster and son George left for Los Angeles, where they will remain several weeks.

Mike Moffitt, one of Kingston's old-time miners, floated into Hillsboro and is busy talking over old times with his friends.

It is reported that the people of northern Sierra county have, or think they have a good idea who held up Mr. Wood at Colorado two weeks ago. The man is there and it would seem that if the suspicion is well founded it would be well to take the suspected man into custody and hold him for close examination and the case probed to the bottom. Hold-ups are getting too numerous in this county and stringent action should be inaugurated to check the career of the lawless element that seems to reign supreme in the mountains of northern Sierra and western Socorro counties.

LAS CRUCES.

From the Republican.
F. H. Bascom returned to Chicago after a two weeks' visit here.

Miss Fannie Ford has accepted a position to teach the Chamberlain school this year.

Mrs. E. E. Day who was thrown from her buggy while on a visit in West Newton, Mass., on the 6th instant, and who was supposed to be fatally injured, her friends here will be glad to learn that her physicians have pronounced her out of danger and doing well.

From the Citizen.
Judge A. B. Fain and family were here visiting.

Mrs. Alice L. Cowan and children of Organ, are here spending a few days with her parents.

Prof. McAllen who had his jaws broken at the college last week is being treated by Dr. McConnell and is doing well.

Four capitalists from Boston who have been examining Colonel John Hegan's properties at the Gold Camp stopped over in Cruces Wednesday on their way home. They all carried a good supply of Colonel Hegan's ore with them. When it comes to showing up good mines, the colonel is the boss.

LORDSBURG.

From the Liberal.
Mrs. Charles J. Adair, who has been spending some months on the coast, returned to the great delight of Mr. Adair.

W. H. Greer of the Diamond A. Cattle company, with a force of men, was in town attending to the shipment of some 1,600 head of cattle.

The people of Lordsburg are out of luck. Both the ice plant and the electric light plant have shut down. The electric light plant will probably be started, but the ice plant will be idle until spring.

George Wood, who has been visiting his old home in Texas, returned the first of the week, and is again busy looking after the affairs of the Southern Pacific. Mr. Harriman has expressed his great relief at Mr. Wood's return. He will not now have to keep so close a watch on affairs in this section.

FARMINGTON.

From the Hustler.
Mrs. M. L. Paddock of Wyoming, Ohio, is visiting her son, W. L. Paddock, the La Plata merchant.

R. B. Bouck returned after a month's absence spent at Denver and eastern cities in the interest of the San Juan Stores company.

W. N. Knight sold his interest in the Knight Meat and Produce market to Harlan A. Knight and Willett O. Brown. The new firm will take the market fixtures and thirty-five acres of land, with the slaughter house and yards, for a consideration of $3,000.

H. A. Bay, who lives near Flora Vista, has this year raised and harvested a crop of sugar beets that is hard to equal. From nine-tenths of an acre of ground he pulled twenty-five tons. He also raised thirty tons of onions on an acre. Here is strength and sweetness enough to satisfy the most exacting. Where can it be beat?

A CELEBRATED VIOLINIST.

Senor Ricardo Ruiz of Spain, in the City.

The Citizen office received a distinguished visitor today, in the person of Senor Ricardo Ruiz, a violinist of considerable renown. He was introduced by J. A. Blondin, violinist. Senor Ruiz has had a remarkable career. Born in Spain, some thirty years ago, at the age of 10 he took up the study of the king of instruments, the violin. He showed extraordinary talent, and after many concert tours in his native country, he joined the famous "Spanish Octet." This octet traveled through every country in Europe, playing for the nobility, and giving private concerts. They were appointed court soloists, and played for Queen Victoria, and the then Prince of Wales, now King Edward. They were also proteges of the Empress Eugenie of France. After the Paris exposition, at which they performed, the octet came to America, and have since been playing in the Latin countries of South and North America. Recently, in Mexico, the octet met with reverse, and each member went his own way. Senor Ruiz traveled through the south, Texas, and other states, and finally located in St. Louis, Mo. There he suffered the misfortune of falling from a street car, breaking his bow arm in two places. Fortunately the fracture healed without detrimental results for future work in his profession. From St. Louis, Senor Ruiz returned to Mexico, electrifying his audiences wherever heard, with his marvelous playing. Senor Ruiz is now on his way to Denver, from which point he will probably go to Chicago and Boston. Messrs. Leonard and Blondin are trying to arrange for a concert or private musicale with some local society at which Senor Ruiz may be heard. It is to be hoped they will succeed.

Potato Crop All Right.

George Monroe's crop report for the Sacramento mountains this year is not bad. The yield of potatoes this year is 15,000 pounds per acre. Hay, oats and barley, three tons and worth $15 per ton. The cabbage crop is good. Otero county is not a bad section for the homeseeker.—Alamogordo Advertiser.

Mrs. S. W. White, who suffered a slight pain under her heart Sunday, is around today and feeling quite well.

Frank McGood, representative of the Whitson company, is in the southern part of the territory transacting business.

DINE AND WINE.

Shriners Close Celebration With Abundant Creature Comfort at Highland—New Members.

The Shriners were here in great numbers and proud magnificence, as became nobles of that mystic order; and while they have had several annual celebrations in Albuquerque, in connection with the fair, this last one, like all other events of fair week, excelled its predecessors in every point peculiar to this peculiar aggregation of children of the burning sands.

All day Saturday the nobles had been busy in parade, in ceremonial sessions, in making themselves happy and the novitiates miserable, and the last two items were carried late into the night, as there were thirty-eight mavericks to be roped and branded. But however late such labors may be protracted, they are never allowed to interfere with the traditional feast, by which this order has gained a world-wide reputation for magnificent hospitality. The Shrine is altogether a social order, and its annual assemblage without the feast would be like the play Hamlet with Hamlet left out.

Ballot Ahyad temple was equal to the occasion and besides furnishing all visiting Shriners admission to all the amusements of the day and evening, they spread a banquet unequalled in the experience of the order in New Mexico, and to this banquet all visiting nobles were invited free of charge.

The banquet was given at hotel Highland, the new proprietor of that popular resort, S. R. Symonds, making his first appearance in Albuquerque as caterer for a large, popular function. The success of Saturday night placed Mr. Symonds in the front rank of local entertainers. Plates were laid for 150 guests and they were all used. The menu provided was:

Blue Points Olives
Celery Consomme d'herbes Prime Roast Beef
Green Peas Asparagus Tips
Turkey Cranberry Sauce
Shrimp Patties a la Newburg
Mashed Potatoes
Roman Punch
Potato Salad
Ice Cream Assorted Cake
Fruit Nuts Raisins
Cafe Noir

The temple furnished the liquids appropriate to the occasion, with the same prodigal hand which had characterized their action in other matters. Nor was this all of the banquet, besides the solids and the liquids, there was an unusually attractive and enjoyable "feast of reason and flow of soul." E. L. Medler was toast master, and after the wants of the physical man had been fully satisfied, he addressed himself to the intellectual side of the Shriners, calling for responses to toasts, by the following nobles: E. A. Cahoon of Roswell; J. W. Wilkerson of Albuquerque; James H. Ritz of Albuquerque; Hon. J. G. Ritz of Socorro; Hon. W. S. Hopewell of Santa Fe; J. J. Kelly of Silver City; H. H. Tilton of Albuquerque; Hon. W. D. Childers of Albuquerque; W. E. Rame of Albuquerque.

It was getting well along towards day when the "jolly good fellows" finally concluded to adjourn till the fair again next year. The following is a revised list of the nobles made at this convocation:

Raton—Fred A. Lockhart, E. D. Stanhill, B. F. Roseberry.
Las Vegas—Dr. H. M. Smith, James B. Reed, Thomas B. Bowen.
Roswell—Robert Kellahan, John Shaw, Thomas D. White, Nathan Jaffa, Clarence Uffery, Frank H. Pearce, Benjamin F. Wilson, William L. Sears.
Clayton—J. D. Williams.
Alamogordo—H. H. Major, Samuel F. Miller, Fred P. Barnes.
Hillsboro—Oliver A. Gould, John C. Plimmons.
Hermosa—Thos. J. Ross.
Taos—Guerson Gudorf, O. H. Stanley.
Madrid—E. A. Turner, John W. Sullivan.
Silver City—J. H. Bragaw, William F. Lorenz.
Kingston—Parquay Campbell.
Albuquerque—George H. Thomas, A. B. McGaffey, James A. Summers, W. D. McFerran, Dr. J. F. Pearce, E. B. Booth, George J. Stateson, J. C. Furger, William McIntosh, James Towers.

City Marshal McMillin had charge of the city and fair extra policemen, and he, with his regular and additional force, handled the crowd in fine style. After bagging the four pickpockets, three of whom were Mexicans from Mexico, there were no more complaints to the police about pickpockets being picked.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

Brief Reference to the University Exhibit at Fair.

RECEPTION TO PRESIDENT TIGHT.

On Tuesday morning Miss Hickey gave the students an excellent talk on "Painting." The early beginnings of the art were traced through Egyptian, Assyrian and Grecian history. Her next lecture will deal with Italian painting.

The university exhibit this year is in charge of the chemistry department. Prof. Weingart obtained a splendid location in the exhibition hall and is to be congratulated on the extent and interest of the work illustrated. Someone has always been present to explain apparatus and to perform experiments for the crowd of interested spectators. The aim has been to show exactly the work that is being done by the students in the Hadley climatological laboratory. This is one of the several exhibits made by the educational institution of the territory and it is quite evident that the number and range of educational exhibits is steadily increasing.

On Tuesday evening the young ladies of the university gave a reception in Perkins Hall in honor of President Tight. It was also made the occasion for presenting the cup won in the football game with the Indians. Among the features of the program were solos by Mr. Worth, a presentation speech by President Tight and responses by Manager Fischer and Captain Cannon. The social part of the evening was devoted to the Virginia reel and other games, after which refreshments were served as only the young ladies know how.

The new students enrolled this week are Miss Sloan of St. Louis and Miss Sweet of Albuquerque.

Prof. C. E. Magnusson of the Socorro School of Mines was on the hill Friday. He reports an increased enrollment and a prosperous year for that institution.

A but of residential light is on exhibition in the window of Fox's jewelry store. This splendid piece of art was made by Miss Suizer and presented to the university. It will probably be placed in the Science building until some memorial hall is prepared.

Several new books have been added recently to the Latin department library including Giles Comparative Philosophy, Ebert's Latin Epigraphy, Johnston's Private Life of the Romans, Gudeman's Literature of the Empire, Johnston's Latin Manuscripts, The American Journal of Archeology and the classical Review have also been placed on file in the library.

The regents have let a contract for improvements in the basement of the science hall and work is now being done which will make several additional rooms available.

ARIZONA GETS FIRST SHOW.

Contracts Let for Government Irrigation Works Near Phoenix, Ariz.

A Washington dispatch says that the secretary of the interior authorized the letting of contracts for the construction of the works necessary to the building of the big dam in connection with the reservoir near Phoenix, Ariz. These works consist of a cement plant, an electric power house, a steam power plant, a saw mill and a telephone system.

BACK TO OLD HOME.

Judge M. T. Moriarty Leaves for a Visit to the Emerald Isle.

Old Erin, the birthplace of Judge M. T. Moriarty, is that gentleman's destination, on the trip on which he started from the Santa Fe Central town which bears his name—Moriarty—last Sunday morning, says the New Mexican. Judge Moriarty was accompanied by the writer as far as the "Windy City" and talked entertainingly and interestingly of the land of his birth and the reign of King Edward VII.

Judge Moriarty spent a day in Chicago, and will be the guest of General Francis J. Torrance, senator Arthur Kennedy and President W. H. Andrews of the Santa Fe Central at Pittsburgh before continuing on his journey to New York, where he will sail next Saturday for Queenstown.

Among his baggage, Judge Moriarty carries with him a few Navajo blankets which he will place on exhibition in the ancient town of Killybegny on the famous lakes of Killarney.

"I came to this country July 5, 1854, arriving in New York when the air was still filled with the smoke and powder of the Fourth of July celebration of that year," said he. "I first visited relatives in Waterbury, Conn., and then headed for New Orleans, where I engaged in business for a year.

"From New Orleans I went to Cincinnati where I learned the plastering trade and then took Horace Greeley's advice and went as far west as possible, my destination being the City of the Golden Gate.

"In 1864 I went down to Central America where I kept a store for a steamship company at Greytown, Nicaragua. From Greytown I went to New York and from there to old Ireland, where I spent three months visiting the scenes of my boyhood.

"On returning to America I went into the contracting business at Indianapolis, leaving there for Keokuk, Ia., where I engaged in farming.

"Sciatica neuralgia caught a firm hold on me in Iowa, and I had to leave there for New Mexico, where perfect health was restored to me, and I have remained there ever since.

"I settled in the Estancia valley near the present townsite of Moriarty and engaged in sheep and stock raising.

ing. During the seventeen years I have been in New Mexico, I have watched with interest its growth and development, but never expected to live to see the Estancia plains the scene of a busy railroad, and predict that the advent of the Santa Fe Central will not only materially enhance the growth and development of the country through which it traverses, but eventually mark the establishment of a dozen good towns.

"On arriving in Ireland I shall visit Dublin, Cork, Belfast and Killarney, my trip all told taking about three months.

"The reign of King Edward, so far as the Irish people are concerned, is the best and the most auspicious United Kingdom and the British Empire have enjoyed for centuries. I refer particularly to the Irish land bill, which was passed in both the house of lords and the house of commons, largely through the influence of King Edward."

OFFICIAL MATTERS.

A New Mexico Case.
According to a dispatch from Washington, P. O. the case of the United States, plaintiff in error, vs. the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, an appeal from the New Mexico supreme court, will undoubtedly be reached soon in the United States supreme court.

Land Office Business.
The following homestead entries have been recorded in the United States land office: Lorenzo Lopez of Santa Fe, 140 acres located in the county of Santa Fe being the SE 1-4 SW 1-4, and SW 1-4 SE 1-4, section 35, lots 3 and 6, section 2, T 7 N, R 10 E.

Elegio Jesus Benavides of Burley, 160 acres located in Socorro county being the W 1-2, SW 1-4, SE 1-4, SW 1-4, SW 1-4, SE 1-4, section 8, T 2 N, R 7 W.

An Albuquerque Souvenir.
George E. Ellis, proprietor of the Claire, had quite an experience when in Albuquerque last night. As he was entering Sturges' European hotel, a man stepped from the dark doorway and attempted to black-jack him. The blow however, was a glancing one and Mr. Ellis was not in any way injured. He at once closed on the man and grappled with him. In the struggle he managed to get the murderous looking weapon which he keeps as a souvenir of his visit to Albuquerque and of the territorial fair of 1903.—New Mexican.

ALL BACHELORS PAY TOLLS.
Single Men are Made to Pay Handsomely for Their Privileges in Argentina.

One of the smaller states composing the Argentine Republic has no use for bachelors. The law holds that a man is marriageable in Argentina when he is twenty. The exchequer gives point to the opinion by taxing all bachelors between 2 and 30 $5 a month. After 30 and up to 35 the tax increases 100 per cent. Between 35 and 50 single bachelors cost $20 a month. From his fiftieth to his seventy-fifth year a bachelor may follow his own wild road by paying in $30 a month. After that comes relief. The vicious example of an unmarried man between 75 and 80 is considered to be neutralized by a payment of only $20 a year, and when the 80th birthday is passed the treasury finally ceases from worrying.

A widower is given three years in which to mourn and choose a successor, but a man who can prove that he has proposed and been refused three times in one year is considered to have earned immunity. Here, one would think, is an easy loophole, but the law is said to act like a charm.

Tipton in the Philippines.
W. M. Tipton, who for twenty-four years was a resident of Santa Fe, but who is now commissioner of public lands in the Philippine Islands, has just finished the preparation of a code of laws, rules and regulations to govern the administration of the public lands of the islands. Mr. Tipton is one of the best Spanish scholars to be found anywhere and thoroughly conversed in Spanish and United States land law. He is remarkably well fitted for the task. It has taken him years to prepare the code which will now be submitted to the Philippine commission and after examination and such revision as may be found necessary by that body, will be sent to the secretary of war who will submit it to congress for final approval.

There is no doubt but that such will be the case and that the "Tipton code" will stand as a lasting monument to Mr. Tipton's learning, ability and competency.

You Know What You Are Taking Tonic, because the formula is plainly printed on every bottle showing that it is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure; no pay; 50c.

On Wednesday Mrs. Solomon Luna, of Los Lunas, who was visiting the city, gave a tally-ho party to Messrs. M. A. Otero, B. S. Baker, Alfred Grunsfeld, E. A. Hubbell, Louis Hild, Fage B. Otero, O. N. Marron, Walter Connell, Harry Lee, E. W. Dobson and E. L. Medler. After the ride Mrs. Luna invited her guests to a luncheon at the Alvarado, and from there they went to the Midway.

W. S. Hopewell, on a telegram from Congressman W. R. Hearst, paid $300 to J. E. Carroll, the partner of Clay McGonigle, for the latter's famous cow pony, "Frisky," which has enabled her master to gain so many roping contests. Mr. Hearst is a good judge and a great admirer of horses, while he knows something of cowboy life, gained by personal experience near Deming.

Fair weather continues after the fair.

Railroad Topics

The Santa Fe is putting in new bridges west of Flagstaff.
Business in both freight and passenger traffic on the Santa Fe has been on the increase the past week.

Senator W. H. Andrews, president of the Santa Fe Central railway, is in Pittsburg, Pa., on railroad business.

The painting gang of the Southern Pacific was in Lordsburg last week improving the looks of the buildings.

E. H. Field, paymaster of the Santa Fe Central, was in Albuquerque Friday evening and attended the ball at the Alvarado.

The Santa Fe last Wednesday ran a double header west composed of about twenty-five cars loaded with oysters from the east.

F. M. McLaughlin, a former conductor and brakeman, wife and son, arrived at Winslow from the Needles. They expect to make Winslow their future home.

Such has been the improvement in engine boilers and fireboxes that the power derived from a pound of coal to day is nearly three times as great as it was fifty years ago.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen boys never do things by halves. Their grand ball on November 19 will be the event of the season and is anticipated that upon that evening between 50 and 600 ladies and gentlemen will be their guests.

The Socorro committee appointed to confer with the Santa Fe company in regard to turning the flood waters of the arroyo from that city is still awaiting the company's reply to communications sent.

John Ryan, an employee of the Santa Fe Railroad company for many years, and a section foreman at San Marcial for some time, died the other night. His affliction was cancer of the stomach and a hardening of the spine. He was an Irishman of the old pattern and an honest man. A wife and two children survive him. His remains were taken to Kansas City for interment.

Circular 226 has been issued by General Passenger Agent Byrne of the Santa Fe Coast lines, announcing the appointment of H. H. Moore as traveling passenger agent, with headquarters at Los Angeles.

The Santa Fe has received a shipment of twenty-six new Pullmans and are to place them on the line between Chicago and the coast. Several new dining cars, together with a (ten-section) observation car and sleeper, will also be put into service.

C. G. Woods, who was a resident of Santa Fe for some years and manager of the Postal Telegraph company there, but who has more recently been connected with the coast lines of the Santa Fe railway system in California, has been promoted to the position of traveling auditor in charge between Albuquerque and Bakersfield, Cal. Mr. Wood is a very competent accountant and railroad man. This promotion is certainly fully deserved. He was very popular while in Santa Fe and will no doubt receive high reputation for himself in his new field of duty.

PILLSBURY IS MISSING.

Santa Fe Official May Have Committed Suicide.

Preceded by conditions that suggest he may have committed suicide, Frank B. Pillsbury, assistant general passenger agent of the Yosemite line of the Santa Fe system, has been unaccountably missing since last Friday, says a San Francisco dispatch.

About nine or ten months ago Pillsbury lost by death his wife and their child. Since then he has brooded much over that misfortune and has at times been morose in contrast to his old manner. He lived at the Russ house, rooming there with Otto Zeus, assistant ticket agent of the Santa Fe, Friday noon Pillsbury and Zeus left the Santa Fe office together and went to the Russ house for luncheon. After leaving the dining room Pillsbury went to his room and donned his coat clothes. That was the last seen of him.

He left all his effects in the Russ house, and at the Santa Fe office he left two months undrawn salary and no suggestion of any irregularities in his business relations.

PRAYED IN THE DEPOT.

Mormons Hold Religious Services at the Pueblo Station.

Probably for the first time in its history religious services were held at the union depot waiting room, says a dispatch from Pueblo, Colo. A party of twenty-five Mormons bound from England to Utah were responsible. They stopped in Pueblo to change trains, going west on the Rio Grande early this morning. The service was led by a tall, slender man with a flowing beard, who appeared to be a leader of the band. His text was "The Lord is My Shepherd," and he used it to emphasize the fact that, like the sheep, they were being led to the promised land in Utah. The services ended with a short prayer and were so quietly conducted that but few of the people in the depot knew what was going on and supposed that they were simply engaged in a discussion. The home of the Mormons was in northern England, where many more converts have been secured.

OLD EMPLOYEE CAUGHT.

George McLaughlin Confesses to Stealing From Cars.

George McLaughlin, a Santa Fe switchman, who has been in the employ of the company for the past four years, was arrested on a city court warrant on the charge of breaking into a car of merchandise which was standing on the sidetracks, says the Topeka State Journal. The complaint was made by Santa Fe Detective H. H. Gorman. It is the first time during his years of continuous service with the Santa Fe company that any charge has ever been made against McLaughlin, who was known as an honest man and steady worker.

He was in charge of one switch engine and a part of the yards, and it was the intention of the company to make him yard foreman in the near future.

McLaughlin made a confession which he signed and which is now in the possession of Gorman to the effect that on October 11 he took twelve cans of cherries from a freight car and on October 12 took six cans of corn from another car. McLaughlin was seen taking the canned goods to the switch shanty and when arrested had three cans in his dinner bucket.

A WEIRD STORY.

Santa Fe Train Dispatcher Spins a Strange Yarn.

"My head, my head, head, head" were the words which came over the wire one night last winter and the first which apprised the Santa Fe dispatcher at Winslow, Ariz., that a tragedy had occurred and that one of the operators down the line was a raving maniac, says a dispatch from Denver, W. R. West, formerly dispatcher on the Santa Fe at Winslow, came to Denver yesterday and told one of the strangest stories in railroad history to the dispatchers in the Union Pacific office last night.

"This happened one night last winter," said he. "Passenger train No. 2, with eleven cars, left Albuquerque and came as far as Winslow, where the train was split into two sections. The first section pulled out all right and the first thing I knew that anything was wrong was when that message came over the wire.

"We had to use the ground wire and send a man Jo Canyon Diablo, where the wire was tied up by the crazy man, and we did not find out what was the matter until the next day. While the wire was tied up I came as near having a wreck as I ever did in my life, and we just got her clear in time.

"It seems that very few of the passengers knew the train had been cut in two, and an old lady in the front section started back to see some friends. It was dark, the way it gets in Arizona, and the old lady, thinking she was stepping onto the platform of the next car, stepped off the train and met her death instantly.

"She had a daughter in the car she left, and this daughter missed her and started to search, with the result that she soon found her mother was not on the train at all.

"The accident had happened just west of Canyon Diablo, and the operator there was notified and told to walk along the track and find the old woman. He started out and the next that was heard of him that message was coming to me at Winslow.

"The dispatcher never regained his reason and never could tell what had happened to him. He died a short time later a raving maniac. The body of the woman was found the next morning."

THE CITY FATHERS

Meet and Discuss Many Matters of Moment in Albuquerque's Interest

OWNERSHIP OF WATER CONSIDERED

The city council was a little tardy last night in getting down to business, it being 8:30 when Mayor Myers and Aldermen Harrison, Hansen, Hansen, Grunfeld and Hobbs answered to roll call. Alderman McMillen came in later.

After the preliminary routine business had been transacted, Chairman Harrison, the new head of the finance committee, reported favorably upon a number of bills, which were allowed, notwithstanding Alderman Grunfeld's objections, he contending as heretofore, that the members of the council should not have business transactions with the city. The same committee reported favorably on the bill of the city clerk and treasurer, and they were also allowed. When the finance committee began considering the various bills submitted from other committees, Mr. Grunfeld called attention to the fact that three of the bills were in favor of members of the city council. Mayor Myers stated that he had high legal opinion that selling goods to the city is not executing a contract. The bills came through the sewer, street, police, water, fire, building, and light and fuel committees, which reported favorably upon the bills submitted.

The report of Chief Nash of the fire department, showed that eleven fire calls had been answered during the quarter and that damages from fire during the same time aggregated $7,935.

Chairman Hansen of the special committee appointed to consider claims of flood sufferers, asked for further time, which was granted. Alderman Hubbs, who had been appointed a special committee of one to look after the dog catching interests of the city, reported recommending that J. W. Ward be appointed postmaster and dog catcher. The recommendation was approved, and Mr. Ward will at once enter on his duties.

President Harrison's ordinance, changing the name of Keleher avenue to Keleher street, to conform to the system of naming adopted by the city, was passed; and a motion by Alderman Hansen was passed, requiring the contractor to complete at once the repaving of the street signs.

The matter of sidewalks received considerable attention, repaving the walk in front of the Nestor Armijo property on Railroad avenue, next to Mayor Myers's property, was ordered. The city attorney was instructed to prepare ordinances for cement sidewalk construction on west side of Fifth street between Copper and Roma, and south side of Railroad avenue from Fourth to Fifth streets. A list was ordered made of all persons ordered to construct sidewalks, and cases which have become delinquent, the city will advertise for bids and have the walks constructed, the cost becoming a lien on the property.

The city clerk announced that W. H. Greer of Deming had accepted the city franchise for an electric street car line, and had deposited with the treasurer his $2,000 forfeit, in case of failure to carry out the stipulations contained therein.

Chairman Hubbs of the fire committee, was authorized to purchase for the department, one seven-eighths inch Callahan spray and shut-off nozzle, and four bits.

On motion of Mr. Hubbs a special committee of three was asked for, to investigate the subject of the city's owning its own water system, the cost of installing a plant, and the practicability of purchasing the present system.

Aldermen Hubbs, Harrison and McMillen constitute the committee.

Alderman Grunfeld was the only member of the council who voted no on the adoption of the finance committee's report upon bills they had audited and approved last night.

Firemen Bidler, Hush and Fletcher Allison, Livingston, Chas. Croy and James Wilson have been called for examination, which if passed, will promote them to the level of the cab where the throttle is handy. They are all popular firemen and each has many friends who wish them good luck.

THE TERRITORIAL FAIR.

Biggest Exhibition Ever Given in the Southwest.

From Deming Graphic.

Last week the greatest exhibition ever held in the southwest was held in Albuquerque. The Twenty-third Annual Territorial Fair was far ahead of any previous exhibition given by the association. Large amounts of money were expended in furnishing sports for the entertainment of the people and the result of this was that the sports at this fair were the best to be secured in the country and thoroughly appreciated by the great number of people from every part of the country who saw them.

The agricultural and mineral exhibits were of the best and were examined with interest, not unmingled with wonder, by hundreds of eastern people who will have a much better knowledge of our resources, than they had before seeing the fair, and who will do much more advertising for the territory on account of it. San Juan county was there as usual with a fruit exhibit such as could hardly be gotten up anywhere outside of New Mexico. This exhibit consisted of 20 six-horse loads of produce hauled in wagons 200 miles, while Roswell and the Pecos valley region had a carload and the Mesilla valley a carload. Grant, Sierra, Socorro, Santa Fe, Taos and other counties were well represented with both minerals and fruits so that the great hall was crowded to its utmost capacity to make room for all. There were also examples of work done at the various educational institutions of the territory which would be a credit to any of the eastern states. As a means of bringing our people together and giving an impetus to our progress, there is no one association that does more than the Territorial Fair Association and it is to the credit of the people of the territory that nearly every community assisted in this great work. We look forward to next year's event with even more interest than we did to this one.

El Paso Lawyer Leads Fight Against Bribery.

A sensation was sprung at El Paso when Millard Patterson, a leading attorney, offered over his own signature in a published statement to pay a reward of $500 for any person bribing or offering to bribe a juror and $100 for the detection and conviction of any juror accepting a bribe.

Attorney Patterson has the support of the El Paso bar in his fight against bribery. He asserts that several instances have come to light lately to indicate that juror in damage suits had been tampered with.

DEMING NEWS NOTES.

From the Graphic.

J. I. Knight has sold his residence property to Dr. P. M. Steed.

J. I. Cox returned from the territorial fair alive and ready for business.

The new lumber office built by J. I. Clement is nearly finished and the yard is rapidly filling up with building material.

A. H. Thompson inspected seventeen cars of cattle last Saturday which were being shipped by Hubbs to Colono, Cal. Several other shipments have been made and several are gathering to ship in the next few days.

Kelly Phillips is one of the Luna county boys who won both money and honor at the fair last week. Although he is but 16 years old he took third place on the roping contest, and many people who saw him tie his steer said he did the prettiest work of any one in the field.

The many friends of Walter Conlson, who left here some weeks ago for Louisiana with a bunch of horses, will be grieved to hear that he was killed Monday by a horse falling on him. It is understood that he was to have been married to a Deming young lady soon and the sympathy of all goes out to her and his relatives in this sad hour.

We are informed by Col. P. R. Smith, who returned from El Paso Saturday last, that the opening of the Deming Bank Loan and Trust company's bank will now be postponed until December in order to enable some of the St. Louis stockholders to be here at the opening and to perfect some important business matters in connection with the bank.

Tony Keith went to Albuquerque last week for the purpose of playing in the ball game with the El Paso team but the folks up there had heard of him so concluded he was too fast for them. This is a good recommendation for our Deming ball players and particularly for Mr. Keith, and we congratulate him on the compliment he received.

Carload of Wives Wanted in Arizona.

J. Few Brown, bank cashier of Winchester, has received a letter from B. A. Hodsell, boss raiser at Buckeye, Ariz., who says he knows of thirty prominent young men in that section who are greatly in need of wives and who will make faithful and acceptable husbands. He asks that a carload of girls eligible for wives be sent. Hodsell was in Winchester a year ago and was favorably impressed with the girls in the valley of Virginia.

OFFICIAL MATTER.

Harrington, Farmington, San Juan county; Leo Herach, Santa Fe, Santa Fe county; J. M. Pen-cork, Roswell, Chaves county.

Pennsylvania Stops Improvements.

The Pennsylvania railroad will suspend further operations on a great part of the vast improvement on extension work. It is estimated that nearly $10,000,000 of new work already under contract will be stopped within thirty days. An immediate result of this sudden action by the Pennsylvania railroad to curtail expenditures will be the throwing out of work of several thousand men employed by the contractors.

The purpose is to stop all improvements and extension work from which direct benefit cannot be derived this year, except where the work is so far advanced that it cannot be suspended without danger of serious damage to the work already done. Heavy excavation work will be stopped.

EFFECTS OF LUN SPOTS.

Appearance of One Larger than Usual Causes Discussion.

There is a spot on the sun, according to the government astronomers, 82,500 miles in diameter, or ten times that of the earth. But scientists say even this and a score of smaller spots of similar ilk now besmiring the sun's face do not decrease the lighting of the earth one thousandth part.

Sun spots, says the weather bureau at Washington, are as common as electrical storms on earth. They appear at stated intervals and go from the minimum in number and latitude to the maximum in both in eleven years and one month. Then a new series comes in and the same process is repeated. At this time it is believed the maximum has been reached and the spots are on the decline.

The effect they have on the earth is a matter of contention among astronomers, weather officials and electricians. Patrick Connor, local forecast official of the weather bureau, says:

"The so-called sun spots are violent atmospheric disturbances in the photosphere of the sun. By photosphere is meant the solar atmosphere, such as we have on earth, clouds and all. Not enough is known of the sun to determine just why these photospheric disturbances should continue eleven years and a month or so, but it is a recognized fact in science that they do."

BAD FOR THE MEN.

Railroad Presidents Agree to Reduce Number of Employees Largely in All Departments.

A telegram from the New York says that an original agreement now exists among the great railroad companies of the United States for the purpose of shaping the policy to be pursued in making retrenchments and reducing forces of employees, just as there was an understanding in regard to advancing wages during the last two years. This statement is made on the authority of a man identified with a leading corporation.

While no formal association exists, because such a body would be contrary to the interstate commerce law, there is a compact which is binding on all of the members. Its primary object is to deal with the labor problems, so that employees of one railroad cannot use another road as a club or bring the first named into subjection. If the men rebelled now they would find themselves running up against a stone wall.

The word has gone forth on all large railroads that retrenchments are to be made in certain lines where the companies can most easily reduce forces—such as car shops, repair shops, maintenance of way department and improvement corps. By laying men off instead of reducing wages, those who remain cannot well find any fault, although, to be sure, some of them will have to do more work than they did before. The reduction of forces will go on for some time, all departments in turn being taken up. The results will be much the same as if wages were cut, for it matters little whether a railroad with a wage list of $1,000,000 lays off one-tenth of its men, resulting in a reduction to $900,000, or makes a reduction of $100,000 in wages of its men and allows all of them to remain. Perhaps less work will be done after the forces are reduced, but it is the policy of all of the companies to continue operations on just as large a scale as traffic warrants.

James J. Hill's conference with the Pennsylvania railroad officials in Philadelphia this week was primarily in regard to the labor problem and the policy to be pursued in making retrenchments. Reductions in wages will be made later, if business conditions warrant it; but leading railroad men would much prefer to keep up wages as long as possible. The policy of reducing wages will not generally be tried by the railroads until after industrial corporations have led the way.

ANALITO CONTREROS.

The Old Mexican Will Likely Take a Trip to Santa Fe.

Analito Contreros, the old Mexican who was arrested dozens of times for being drunk has finally got himself into serious trouble and will very likely take a trip to Santa Fe. Sheriff Higgins had his horse, Pickpocket, hitched in front of Lib Rainbolt's residence on Pecos avenue on show day, and the old Mexican unhitched the horse and made off about one hundred yards when detected by Mady Rainbolt. Sheriff Higgins swore out a warrant charging him with horse stealing, and he waived examination this morning before Judge Peacock and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury. He was committed to jail in default of bond—Roswell Record.

Robert Greenleaf remains at the hospital in a deplorable condition. He has been suffering from injuries and blood poisoning several months and there is little left up in the feasting of the disease. His arm was lanced yesterday for the third time. Dr. Cutter still has hopes that he will save the arm.

Within the past two years ten Great Northern men, of more or less recent graduation from Mr. Hill's school, have joined the ranks of the Rock Island. The matter of price has hardly entered into the calculation at all. Great Northern and Northern Pacific were outbid for several of their ablest men.

RAILROAD NOTES

George Taylor, the switchman, has returned to work after a short vacation.

Fireman Burnstone has resigned with the Santa Fe and will leave for the east.

Rudolph Quinzer, recently of the local shops, is marked up as extra on the fireman's board.

C. C. Minnos, round house and shop watchman, is enjoying a visit from his daughter, Mrs. A. W. Noble, and granddaughter, Miss Nellie, of Temple, Texas.

Engineer and Mrs. J. M. Reed, popular railroad people of Las Vegas, who were here during the past week, have returned to their home in the Meadow city.

Conductor and Mrs. J. L. Wiser passed through the city last Sunday night for the City of Mexico, where Mr. Wiser takes a position on the Mexican Central.

The glass on the east side of the main shop building, broken by the heat of the recent fire, was replaced yesterday. Nearly sixty panes were required to do the job.

Allie Bundburg, foreman of the repair shops, has returned to work after having been laid up a week with an injured toe. The injured member is only slightly disfigured.

The electrical engine and steel lathe from the shops displayed at the fair grounds during the fair was returned yesterday and are again in their customary position.

Superintendent E. J. Shepard of the Santa Fe coast line, who has been east several weeks, passed through the city last evening en route to his headquarters at Los Angeles.

J. J. Taylor, for several years machinist at the local shops, has resigned and will leave for California. Mr. Taylor seeks a lower altitude where he expects to find better health.

The California limited train of the Santa Fe system will go into service on November 29. The officials are also discussing the matter of putting on another train to run from Kansas City to the west.

The heating plant that keeps the boys warm at the shops is being enlarged materially. The former inch and a half pipes are being replaced by three inch pipes and placed conveniently along the passage ways.

A. W. Reeves, traveling freight agent for the Southern Pacific, has returned to his headquarters at El Paso, after a short visit in the city. He enjoyed the fair and had a big lot of literature regarding the Sunset route distributed while here.

Jose Gonzales, a car whacker, who was accidentally struck on the head Saturday by an eight-pound sledge hammer, which flew on the handle, and who was unconscious some time afterwards, is reported in an improved condition and that his chances for recovery are very good.

Paul Morton of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, knows nothing of a plan for the lease of the Santa Fe to the Union Pacific railroad on a four per cent basis, as rumored in Wall street. He says that such a lease is hardly feasible, as the Union Pacific and Santa Fe are competing systems.

The local railway machine shops and round house are having a heating apparatus installed, which will provide warmth for the employees during the winter. Heretofore the shops have had no heat, and the improvement will be greatly appreciated by the shop men. The radiators are being put in place and the work will be finished next week.

The Santa Fe will operate a weekly Pullman tourist sleeper line this fall between Galveston and Los Angeles, by way of Newton and Albuquerque. It is for the especial benefit of passengers who wish to take advantage of the low tourist rate from Texas to California. A similar weekly car is also regularly run over Santa Fe lines between Chicago and Galveston by way of Kansas City.

The State Journal says: A report has reached Topeka to the effect that Edward Forsythe, who left Topeka a short time ago to go to Albuquerque to work as a clerk in the office of the Santa Fe storekeeper there, has resigned his position at that place and will shortly leave for Needles, Cal., where he has secured the position of chief clerk in the storehouse office.

Wrecked on Grade and Eight Men Killed.—A log train of the Alamogordo and Sacramento Mountain railway got beyond control on a steep grade Monday afternoon, and plunged over a declivity, totally wrecking the locomotive and cars and killing eight men. This is the first accident that ever occurred on the Cloud climbing route. The railway is one of the most peculiar in the country, being 3,000 feet up and constructed with switchbacks. The scene of the accident is 100 miles north of El Paso.

DENVER & RIO GRANDE.

Annual Election of Directors of the Company in Denver.

Denver, Oct. 21.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad today all the directors were re-elected with the exception of Charles G. Warner, St. Louis, who retired because of impaired health and is succeeded by Edwin Gould. The report shows no unpaid vouchers and no floating indebtedness at the close of the fiscal year. The net earnings for the year were nearly seven millions. Over three millions have been spent for improvements. It is stated that the strike of the miners in Colorado has not materially affected the earnings.

Surveyors Nearing Roswell.—The Santa Fe Central surveying outfit are slowly nearing Roswell and will be with us in a few days, says the Register. The country that they have come over although rough in some places is not difficult to put a line through. Last Friday, E. E. Spierling, the assistant to Chief Farwell of the corps was in Roswell, and reported the party to be some thirty-five miles from town. They were then engaged in platting their work, and would then come straight to Roswell. Mr. Spierling was much pleased with his first view of Roswell and said he had not expected to see so large a city.

His Sensibilities Damaged.—J. Frank of Omaha, Neb., has filed suit in the district court for $10,000 damages against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad company because he was put off a train after having purchased a ticket. The ticket owned by Frank was one sold by the joint railroad agency and was turned over to the conductor when the passenger left Denver for Omaha. When the train had started the conductor told Frank, it is alleged, that he did not have the ticket and that the latter would have to get off at the next stop. Frank claims that he has been greatly damaged in his business and in his sensibilities as he was ejected from the train before a car full of passengers.

THIS STORY IS C. T.

Railroads Announce That Issuance of Passes Will Be Restricted.

The issue of passes by the western roads during the year 1904 will be greatly restricted. Passes to shippers or merchants will be entirely discontinued.

To bring this about the annual passing meeting of the executive officers of the western roads has been in session at Chicago during the last two days.

The issue of exchange passes will be greatly curtailed. Annual passes will not be exchanged with any road that does not grant a similar favor. This means that officers of the eastern trunk lines, no matter what their rank, will not receive any annual passes from western roads, because the trunk lines refuse to issue exchange passes.

Return passes to men in charge of livestock shipments will also be cut off next year.

The Alamogordo News says: Pay day for the shops and mill occurred on schedule time on Thursday the 15th. The pay roll for the shops was smaller than for some months, on account for a number of men being laid off last week. Nearly two hundred men are yet employed at the shops however, and Wednesday they worked ten hours. It is quite likely that the work required to be done will increase soon when more men will be needed.

OIL BURNERS.

In a Short Time to Be Extended to This City.

According to the reports which have reached here in the past few days, there is a prospect that the Santa Fe will extend its use of oil as far east as this city. The intention is also made that coal may be discarded soon between Albuquerque and Kansas City. Hard coal is now obtained by the company from the mines near Gallup and there is talk of a strike of all union miners in and west of Colorado. This, it is believed, will hasten the use of oil in the district beyond Seligman.

Prediction is further made that when the company begins to use oil into Albuquerque and beyond, it will be found profitable to extend its use in engines over the entire Santa Fe system.

The Colorado Argus says: When Newton Teal shipped his household goods from Pecos to Carlsbad the consignment was one box short, and Wednesday in Justice Emerson's court he brought suit against the railroad company for $100 damages. Hon. G. A. Richardson appeared for Teal. After hearing the case Justice Emerson rendered judgement for plaintiff in full. The railroad promptly gave notice of appeal.

THIS WOULD MAKE TROUBLE.

Santa Fe Said to Be Invading Hill-Harriman Preserves.

Among the different rumors which have been set afloat with regard to the intention on the part of the Santa Fe to "do things" is one to the effect that the company will extend its system beyond Eureka, in northern California, the ultimate terminal point being Astoria or Puget sound. Some time ago the California and Northern Railway company, organized under the laws of Nevada, became a Santa Fe corporation. Its capital is $2,500,000 shares, with 247,000 already issued. The company has constructed from Eureka to Arcata, a distance of eight miles, and the ostensible point is Crescent City, in Del Norte county. It is now stated that this work will be continued, forming a "northern branch" of the system.

The old rumor that W. B. Leeds, president of the Rock Island, is to succeed B. F. Yoakum as president of the St. Louis & San Francisco has been revived. Friends of Mr. Yoakum say that in consequence of the refusal of the Rock Island syndicate to take over the Seaboard Air line, Mr. Yoakum will take upon himself the personal direction of the Seaboard. That would necessitate his retiring as president of the Frisco, for it would require at his time.

IS THIS OFFICIAL?

Announced That Choctaw Extension Will Be Abandoned.

It was announced at Austin, Texas, on Tuesday, that the Rock Island has abandoned its project of extending its Choctaw road from Amarillo, Texas, west to Tucuman, N. M., where connection would be made with the El Paso line of the Rock Island.

ALFALFA MEN'S GRIEVANCE.

Can't Get Low Rates Without Misrepresenting the Facts.

"Alfalfa men in western Kansas have a grievance against the railroads," said A. H. Burris, federal fence inspector, says the Topeka State Journal. "They claim the railroads are discriminating against them. It costs them 70 cents a bushel to ship alfalfa seed from the alfalfa center out there to Topeka. The rate for shipping millet seed is only 10 cents a bushel. Alfalfa seed and millet weigh the same per bushel. Still millet freight is 10 cents and alfalfa is 70 cents per bushel. There isn't one railroad man in ten that can tell which is millet and which is alfalfa seed by looking at it. Inasmuch as the railroads were giving them the worst of it, some of the shippers out there concluded they would turn a trick themselves. So they have been shipping alfalfa seed and labeling it millet seed, getting the 10 cent rate. This would save them about $250 a car."

SOME FURTHER FACTS.

Concerning the Negro Car Robber Shot While Resisting Arrest Near Gallup.

A communication from Gallup gives additional information about the negro who broke into a sealed car at Grants, resisted arrest near Gallup, and was shot and taken by Marshal Winders of the latter place.

It appears that at least twenty boxes in the car had been broken into and rifled, the negro appropriating to his own use a pair of shoes and a Stetson hat. These articles aided in his identification.

Marshal Winders had no trouble in finding his man, about a mile out of Gallup, and started for town, with him marched in front. Suddenly the man turned on the marshal and attempted to disarm him; but the officer was too quick for him and shot the prisoner in the thigh, inflicting a severe wound.

The negro's name is J. Smith, and he is wanted by the officers of the reformatory at Hutchinson, Kas., on another charge. Smith will be given a trial at Gallup on the charge of robbery and resisting an officer in the performance of his duty, after which he will be turned over to the Kansas authorities. The officers at Hutchinson have been notified of the whereabouts of the man. The hobos will probably be detained as witnesses.

Payton Skidmore died suddenly at his home, near Aztec, at 11:30 o'clock Thursday night, of stomach trouble. Mr. Skidmore had not been well for some time, but had been able to be around and attend to business and no one thought of the end being so near. Deceased was about 66 years old, highly respected by all who knew him. He leaves a family and several grown children. Mrs. Lucy Hoyle, who lived with her father and kept house for him, is the only one of his children residing in this county.

PECOS VALLEY LINES.

The Directors and Stockholders Meet in Roswell.

The directors and stockholders of the Pecos lines held a meeting in Roswell last Thursday, says the Roswell Register. It was held aboard the special train that brought them to the city.

All of the old officers were re-elected as their service has been eminently satisfactory. Following are the officers who were re-elected: H. U. Mudge, of Topeka, Kansas, president of the Pecos Valley lines. He is also manager of the Santa Fe. Avery Turner, general manager, of the Pecos Valley lines. J. C. Paul, of Amarillo, treasurer of the Pecos Valley lines; Don A. Sweet, of Amarillo, secretary of the Pecos Valley lines; A. L. Conrad, of Amarillo, auditor of the Pecos Valley lines.

The following were the passengers on the special train that consisted of the special cars of Avery Turner and H. U. Mudge; H. U. Mudge, of Topeka; George H. Clarke, of Topeka, formerly secretary of state of Kansas and the present state printer; T. J. Templer, of Hutchinson, Kansas, president of the Kansas Grain company, of Hutchinson; Avery Turner and wife J. C. Paul, A. L. Conrad and Mrs. Driggs, of Amarillo, and W. C. Hilton of Topeka, private secretary to President Mudge.

All the directors were re-elected except Ed Kenners, the vice president of the Santa Fe system, and Samuel Atkinson of this city, claim tax and land agent for the P. V. & N. E. Railway Co., was elected in his place. The following are the directors of the P. V. & N. E. R. R. Co.: E. P. Ripley, of Chicago, president of the entire Santa Fe system; H. U. Mudge, Topeka; Avery Turner, Don A. Sweet, A. L. Conrad, C. Paul of Amarillo; J. J. Hagerman, E. A. Cahoon, John W. Poe and Samuel Atkinson of Roswell.

An order has just been issued that no more cars can be used on the New Mexico division of the Denver & Rio Grande system except those equipped with the new automatic couplers. As the cars now in use are not to be so equipped, they will be no longer seen in Santa Fe.

Deserved Appointment.

News from Manila states that Prof. W. A. Sutherland, formerly in the University of New Mexico and the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, has been appointed agent of the government of the Philippine Islands to look after the Philippine students who are sent to the United States to school. This makes another appointment of a New Mexican man to an important position. The advantage which the New Mexico people understanding the Spanish language have over others in filling positions in our new possessions is becoming more apparent each day.—Deming Graphic.

Burglars Form Union.

Chicago burglars have organized a union. Its official title is the Burglars' Aid association. Whenever a house is burglarized hitherto people are used for the benefit of other burglars who might chance that way. Crowses, circles and the pictures of dogs, usually made of a knife, pencil or chalk, are believed by the police to be the principal characters of the strange code. Included in the membership, in the opinion of the police, are some of the cleverest burglars operating in Chicago.

Fireman McCannon is at the local hospital under treatment. He was brought in from off the road, where his muley overtook him.

KNIGHTHOOD IN FLOWER.

Chivalrous Order of the Temple Will Occupy the Day.

TOMORROW CLOSES THE GATHERINGS.

The third annual convocation of the grand commandery of Knights Templar for New Mexico, was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning, at their asylum in Masonic temple of this city.

Previously, the members of Pilgrim commandery No. 3, Albuquerque, had assembled and in full uniform had escorted the right eminent grand commander, Sir C. N. Blackwell of Raton to the temple.

The grand body was organized August 21, 1901, and up to the present time has had three right eminent grand commanders—Sir E. L. Bartlett, J. P. McGrorty and C. N. Blackwell, respectively of Santa Fe, Deming and Raton; three very eminent grand deputy commanders—Sir J. P. McGrorty of Deming, C. N. Blackwell of Raton, Alex. Stevens of Albuquerque; three eminent grand generalissimo—Sir C. N. Blackwell of Raton, Alex. Stevens of Albuquerque, A. H. Harlee of Silver City; three eminent grand captains general—Sir J. A. Murray of Las Vegas; A. H. Harlee of Silver City; E. A. Cahoon of Roswell.

The officers thus far mentioned occupy the dias, and are usually considered to be in the line of succession, the commander becoming past commander, the deputy becoming commander, the generalissimo becoming deputy generalissimo, and the captain being elected from the body of the house. This is generally not always the case. There are thirteen officers needed to fill all the chairs of a grand commandery, but the business can be transacted with seven, nine or eleven. The highest body among Knights Templar is the grand encampment, which meets every three years. The twenty-ninth triennial convocation for the United States of America will meet in San Francisco, Cal., at noon on September 6, 1904.

The ritual of the valiant and magnanimous order of Knights Templar, which means knights of the Temple, is one of the most beautiful and impressive ever devised by the mind of man, while it is the only one of the Masonic orders which is founded on the Christian religion and the practice of the Christian virtues.

The present officers of the New Mexico grand commandery, were given by The Citizen last evening. New officers were elected and installed this afternoon, but it was too late for The Citizen to secure them for today's issue. From 5 to 7 p. m., there will be a luncheon and smoker extended to the grand commandery by Pilgrim commandery No. 4, of this city, and then tonight the same commandery will have its usual monthly convocation.

The Eastern Star.

Tomorrow will close the convocations of the different Masonic orders, the grand chapters of the Order of the Eastern Star will have the day devoted to its exercises.

This is quite a modern organization, while the three bodies—blue lodge, Royal Arch chapter and Knights Templar commandery claim a vast antiquity. The Order of the Eastern Star was founded to meet the objection so frequently urged against Mason

REJECTED TERRITORIES.

Why They Were Kept Out for Political Reasons Only.

HISTORY OF PREVIOUS ADMISSIONS

The failure of the last congress to admit to statehood the territories of Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma was undoubtedly due to political considerations. Notwithstanding the last national republican convention incorporated in its platform a resolution favoring such action by congress, the measure was turned down in that body for no other reason than that it was not in the line of party expediency. The geographical location and political tendencies of the population were sufficient to overcome all considerations of public policy and of fidelity to party pledges. The question of adding six more democratic senators to the rolls and the electoral votes of three more democratic states prevailed against the well established policy observed from the time the original thirteen states began to receive accessions to their number.

Except in a few cases, as in that of Missouri, when party strife was high and sectional feeling bitter, there has been no such opposition when population was adequate and the desire of the people of the territory for admission was manifest. In fact, there have been instances in which such considerations have been disregarded in the eagerness to gain a political advantage or to promote some special interest. The most scandalous instance of this kind assignable rather to the last than the first influence, was in the admission of Nevada. Here was a territory of a little over 100,000 square miles, which was admitted as the twenty-third state in 1864, the most disreputable instance of rotten-borough tactics in the history of corrupt legislation. The census of 1860 showed a population of but 6,857, and forty years of settlement only brought its figures in 1900 up to 29,458. Yet it is the senate it is on an equality with Texas, with more than twice its area and a population of 3,025,890, and New York, with less than 30,000 square miles and a population of 71,265,834.

In 1890, Wyoming was admitted with little less than 100,000 square miles of territory and a population in that year of 60,065, while by the last census it shows a population of but 59,538. If any credit is to be given to these figures as a basis, by taking the mean between the two extremes, it would seem that 25,000 or 30,000 would be a fair estimate of the number entitling a territory to admission as a state. Indiana was admitted in 1816 with less than that number; Ohio in 1802 with but little over 45,000; and Oregon in 1859 with a little over that number.

But when we come to apply the tests of precedent to the action of a republican congress in the case of Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma, we find that no regard was given to the argument based on population or popular desire, but that political expediency alone was consulted. Arizona, which was organized as a territory in 1863, with an area of 113,020 square miles, has a census population of 72,930. New Mexico organized in 1850, with an area of 122,580 square miles, has a population of 124,310, and Oklahoma, organized in 1890, with an area of 39,039 square miles, has a population of 397,331.

It will be observed that though all these territories have been long organized, neither Nevada nor Wyoming ever had a territorial organization, but were admitted as states without probation, and with an average population of less than 30,000, while here are three territories which have been organized from ten to over fifty years with an aggregate population of over 650,000 and are yet denied admission to the union. Can there be any reason for it except that of a partisan nature?

On the score of expense, in territorial condition they are a tax on the federal treasury, when as states the many charges of administration would fall upon the people. There can be no objection to the character of the populations. The house committee on territories reported on this subject as follows: "In all the territories the population is distinctly American, and the best type of American, made up of those who seek life's prizes by toil and patience. Of what manner of men this population is made up, let their work speak. Cities and towns with all that modern civilization demands, homes of culture and refinement, schools and higher institutions of learning, public and charitable institutions, everywhere the free church and free press."

The statistics of population here given are taken from the last census reports, but it is proper to say that the present estimates are for an increase of at least 20 per cent. Arizona claims a white population of 90,000, and New Mexico of 122,000, while that of Oklahoma is estimated at 400,000. It remains to be seen whether partisan bias can so far override all justice in the forthcoming congress as to deny to such people the recognition which their numbers and intelligence demand. There is no other argument except that of party expediency which can be offered against the admission of these territories. If our theory of government is sound, and we all claim it so to be, there can be no objection to an increase of states. If it is adapted for fifty it is equally so for a hundred. So that denial of admission resolves itself into a mere arbitrary resistance to a just demand on the confessor plea of partisan obstruction to justice.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Sympathetic Strike of Trainmen With Employes of Pacific Express Affirmed and Denied.

A Kansas City telegram says that members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen may become involved in the strike of the Pacific Express company's employes. Representatives of the grievance committee of the various local unions in the district, affected by the walkout of messengers, truckmen and drivers, were to gather in St. Louis on Wednesday last.

If they should decide now to go on strike many lines in Missouri, Kansas and Texas would be tied up. The trainmen have been aiding the strikers indirectly. The switchmen refused to hurry trains to give the inexperienced men the strikers more time to load the cars, and in other ways they have demonstrated their sympathy for the strikers.

But a telegram from St. Louis asserts that William Cotter, general manager of the Missouri Pacific railway, denied today the rumor that the grievance committee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen was in the city to protest against the railroad company's compelling its trainmen to handle Pacific express matter.

"The Missouri Pacific railroad is not compelling its trainmen to do the work of the Pacific Express company's striking employes, nor is it affected in any way by the strike," said Mr. Cotter. "We have heard of no such intention on the part of the grievance committee, and should the question come up at any conference they will be informed that the Missouri Pacific does not intend to become involved in the strike in any way."

MURDER CASE ON TRIAL.

The trial of the case of the Territory vs. Charles Hein and four others proceeded all day and through a night session, and a large number of witnesses were examined. The prosecution was compelled to rely almost exclusively upon the testimony of the prosecuting witness, Jerry L. Michaels, who is a Greek and testifies in broken English. The testimony of the many witnesses called were all to the point that the prosecuting witness was being pursued by the mob, but who they were no witness was able to say.

The prosecuting witness detailed his flight from the time it commenced at a jewelry store on Second street, to the Parente rooming house, then on down the street to Everett's store and from there to the Blanchard meat market, and the fear he entertained that he was about to be killed, as well as the fact that he was struck, bruised and thrown down and his hat and coat torn from him.

The defendants each testified as to his whereabouts at the time of the affray. Hein said his first attraction to the crowd was the whistle blown by the Greek, that he looked on from curiosity and had nothing to do with the affair in anyway except to go into the Blanchard meat and supply company's store at Harman Wynkoop's invitation as a peace maker.

Quier testified that he was on the street in front of the St. Elmo and saw the Greek running down the street and did not strike Michaels at Everett's store as Michaels testified; that he followed after the crowd, and stood on the outskirts and had nothing whatever to do with it.

Wynkoop testified that he was sitting in front of The Citizen office smoking a cigar when a number of men came around the corner from First street to the corner of the alley; and that after they went to the rear of the Blanchard Meat & Supply company market, he followed to see what was going on; learned they had a scab in there, and as an officer in the deration of labor, he went into the shop, engaged the man Michaels in conversation, promised him protection and while standing at the back door endeavored to convince the mob they had made a mistake; he was drawn forcibly from the building by the force of the crowd; and that he then retired from the crowd as he saw he could not quiet them. The defendants, Neve and Mohr, both testified as to their whereabouts, and said they had taken no part whatever in the doings of the mob, except to follow them from curiosity and took no part in the affray.

"The prosecution put all the defendants through a severe cross-examination in an effort to show their participation in the affair, and to show their animus as members of the labor unions to do violence to any scab they might come across. From the evidence it appeared that the three men, Morris, Ward and Cross who had eluded arrest who were strangers, were the possible leaders of the mob, having followed Michaels here from the north, where he was not in favor of the unions. It appears that some of the defendants had had some argument after the affair with Michaels, charging him with being a scab from the Southern Pacific railway, and that for that reason, they entertained strong feeling against him.

The case was submitted to the jury at 4 p. m. The district attorney was assisted in the prosecution by Mr. Childers and Mr. Rodey and Mr. Ferguson kept a watchful eye on the defendants' interests. The prosecution dismissed the information as to the defendant, Harman Wynkoop, before the case was submitted. A great deal of interest was taken in the case.

When the jury retired at 4:15 o'clock, the counsel for defense felt confident that a verdict satisfactory to their clients would be returned. Michaels was the only witness of any consequence produced by the prosecution and his evidence was considerably shaken from the fact that some of his statements were conflicting.

The jury remained out until after it had been served supper at the expense of the territory, and about 8 o'clock returned a verdict of not guilty.

In the case of the Territory vs. Frank Tucker, in which the defendant was charged with the murder of Jose Garcia, at Los Dunas, in 1901, the defendant plead guilty to manslaughter.

The interesting case of Frederico Serna on the charge of killing Jose Perez in Los Griegos about three years ago, came up this morning and as there are some twenty witnesses to be examined will take the whole of today and possibly a part of tomorrow.

Jim Jeffries Tells of His New Mexico Hunting Experience.

"I'll get killed yet on one of those hunting trips," remarked Champion Jim Jeffries to a party of Chicago friends. Then Jeff went on to tell of the narrow escape he had only a short time ago while exploring the wilds of New Mexico. He said:

"I don't believe I was really ever scared before in my life, but I encountered a storm on my last trip that was a dandy. I had an Indian guide with me that was scared to death of lightning. We were out on the river with our guns when suddenly clouds came up and thunder roared. The Indian wanted to jump into the water, but I told him to be quiet. While we were trying to keep the boat from upsetting a flash of lightning came up that lighted the sky it seemed for miles. That was enough for the son of the plains. We pulled for shore and laid down on the ground waiting for the storm to stop.

It never let up that night, so we had to camp on the wet ground."

"Well, what scared you so?" asked a friend.

"Oh, nothing, only we had ten pounds of dynamite in that little boat. I thought my day had come. That combination, you know, would heat all the world's champions that ever lived."

BLUE DEVILS.

Tequila Drinker Died in the Clutches of Delirium Tremens.

One of the worst deaths that human flesh is heir to was the portion of Pablo Soto, a Mexican laborer from Aguas Calientes, who "cashed in" at Juarez yesterday.

Soto was found by the police in an adobe hut at Calle La Paz, dead. His body was stripped of all its apparel except a few shreds, which hung to the lower limbs and the poor mass of clay which the son had once inhabited was twisted and contorted, showing that Soto had expired in the agonies of mental torment.

A number of empty tequila bottles told the tale. The man had been drinking bac liquor until he had the delirium tremens. In his frenzy he had torn off his clothes and lacerated his body and throat. Death had resulted from paralysis of the brain, caused by excessive use of the liquor.

Soto was 40 years of age and single. He had been in town but a few days when he got possession of the tequila that finished him.—El Paso News.

TOM AND ELLE.

They Are Back, With Others Soon to Follow Them.

INFANT PHENOMENON IN WEAVING.

The absent and much missed have returned. Tom and Elle came back last night. They were the chief pup in the Harvey Indian department here, but the public had been deprived of the light of their countenance for several weeks. However, they came in on No. 8 last night, and certainly were much pleased to return to their old quarters and former occupation.

Ten other Navajoes are expected from the reservation in the next few days, among them being a boy of five years, said to be quite expert at blanket weaving. It would seem improbable, however, experts he may be, that he can handle blankets of other than small dimensions. But a weaver of that age will be quite a curiosity, and Manager Switzer as to be heartily congratulated on his success in securing so drawing a card. These Indians it is understood, will remain in the employment of the Harvey museum during the winter.

Five pottery makers have already arrived from Laguna, which will make the number of Indians at the museum to be not less than seventeen, and there may be even twenty. It is somewhat remarkable that weaving has pretty much died out among the Pueblos, with the exception of those at Zuni and Moki, or Aztec as they are now generally getting to be called, the word Moki being a Navajo mispronunciation of the real name. It is also remarkable that while the village Indians so generally neglected the art, the Navajoes, a nomadic tribe, took it up and carried it to such perfection. This change in Navajo habits is said to be the consequence of a band of Navajoes having stolen a flock of sheep from the early Mexican settlers of the country.

Village life, with its more sedentary habits, tends to develop pottery making and baking. Hence the Laguna will follow that industry at the museum. Usually, among roving tribes the highest development is in basket weaving and plaiting.

THE GRAND BODIES.

Close Annual Sessions Today With Harmony and Good Feeling.

LADIES LAST BUT BY NO MEANS LEAST

Two officers elected and installed late yesterday afternoon, by the grand commandery of Knights Templar of New Mexico, were as follows:

Alex. Stevens of Albuquerque, right eminent commander; A. H. Harillee of Silver City, deputy commander; E. A. Cannon of Roswell, generalissimo; Arthur Everitt of Albuquerque, captain general; Geo. W. Knaebel of Santa Fe, senior warden; J. C. Slack of Clayton, junior warden; W. A. Cooper of Santa Fe, prelate; A. J. Mayo of Albuquerque, treasurer; J. W. Donovan of Raton, standard bearer; W. P. Fox of Albuquerque, sword bearer; C. D. Stevens of Raton, warden; A. M. Whitcomb of Albuquerque, captain of the guard.

It may be stated that the official title of the commander of a grand commandery, is right eminent grand; that of the deputy commander is very eminent grand, and that of all other officers eminent grand. In a subordinate commandery the ruling officer is addressed as "Eminent Commander," and the other officials as "Sir Knight," followed by the title of the office he holds. Every member is addressed as Sir Knight Jones or Brown, as the case may be.

The commandery embraces two orders which are conferred and one in which in this jurisdiction is communicated. The first conferred is the Order of the Red Cross, founded to commemorate and inculcate the almighty force and importance of truth. The second is the valiant and magnanimous order of Knights Templar. The communicated order is that of the Knights of Malta.

The smoker and luncheon last evening was greatly enjoyed by the visiting knights and members of the grand commandery, but few of whom have remained over in the city till this evening.

Order of Eastern Star.

The grand chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star for New Mexico assembled in the Knights of Pythias hall last evening, to begin its second annual convention, the hall in the Masonic Temple being in use by the Grand Commandery No. 3, of this city; this morning the grand chapter assembled in the lodge room of the temple, where their sittings will be held until the chapter shall adjourn.

At the session last evening besides the routine business of opening the chapter, an address of welcome to Albuquerque and to Adah Chapter was delivered by Alice Mausard of this city, to which reply was made by Inez Chisum of Roswell. Those favored with the hearing of these addresses pronounce them exceedingly fine.

The grand officers for New Mexico are: Mrs. Jennie Boomer of Las Vegas, grand matron; Chas. H. Sporeder of Las Vegas, grand patron; E. L. Browne of Las Vegas, associate grand patron pro tem; Sallie Parks of Albuquerque, associate grand matron pro tem; Inez Chisum of Roswell, grand treasurer; Minnie Miller of Albuquerque, grand secretary; Jenny Williams of Las Vegas, grand conductress; Alice Mausard of Albuquerque, assistant grand conductress; Emma Benedict of Las Vegas, grand Adah; Anna Everitt of Albuquerque, grand Ruth; Wilhelmina Risch of Las Vegas, grand Martha; Mae Brown of Las Vegas, grand Electra; Dr. J. C. Slack of Clayton, grand marshal; Jas. W. Donovan of Raton, grand chaplain; Emma La Porte of Chama, grand warden; Charles Mausard of Albuquerque, grand sentinel; Minnie McKee of Albuquerque, grand organist.

There are in New Mexico fourteen subordinate chapters of the Eastern Star, as follows:

No. 1, Queen Esther, Raton; Manie Howells, worthy matron; Jeannette White, secretary.

No. 2, Ransford, Las Vegas; Julia Webb, worthy matron; Emma Benedict, secretary.

No. 3, Silver City; Adella Steele, worthy matron; Alice Bailey, secretary.

No. 4, Georgetown; Elizabeth McGregor, worthy matron; John Bragaw, secretary.

No. 5, Adah, Albuquerque; Anna Everitt, worthy matron; Laura Fluke, secretary.

No. 6, Ruth, Deming; Mary Hudson, worthy matron; Mollie Pennington, secretary.

No. 7, Rio Arriba, Chama; Fannie Johnson, worthy matron; Maude Moore, secretary.

No. 8, Clayton; Clara Otto, worthy matron; Olin E. Smith, secretary.

No. 9, Magdalen, Socorro; Mary Bartlett, worthy matron; G. E. Cook, secretary.

No. 10, Roswell; Inez Chisum, worthy matron; Daisy McCullum, secretary.

No. 11, Alamo, Alamogordo; Ella Hooper, worthy matron; H. H. Saxor, secretary.

No. 12, San Juan, Aztec; Sallie Springer, worthy matron; Fred Bunker, secretary.

No. 13, Electra, Farmington; Dora Van Cracken, worthy matron; Mrs. Rosenthal, secretary.

No. 14, Carlsbad; Mary Anderson, worthy matron; Mrs. Heard, secretary.

The last three of these chapters are working under dispensation, having been organized since the previous annual meeting of the grand chapter. They are applicants to this meeting for charters.

Adah Chapter of this city has fifty-eight members, and the whole number of affiliated members in New Mexico is 600, of which number 129 have been added since the previous grand session.

Officers were elected this afternoon but too late for publication. They will be installed at an evening session of the grand chapter. Adah Chapter of this city will then illustrate the floral work. These events will be followed by a grand banquet tendered the grand chapter by Adah Chapter No. 5, of this city. All members of the Order of the Eastern Star are invited to attend.

Some Notes and Jottings.

Among the newly elected officers of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar, Albuquerque has seven to six from all other parts of the territory.

Among the retiring officers of the grand chapter of the Eastern Star honors were equally divided between Albuquerque and Las Vegas, there being in office six ladies of the former to a half dozen ladies from the latter.

For nearly a whole week Albuquerque has been filled with visiting Masons from all parts of New Mexico, and men more representative and ladies more graceful and handsome could not be called together by any other secret organization in the territory. Masonry is probably the most numerous as it is undoubtedly the most ancient order of its kind in the world. Albuquerque is fortunate in that the meeting of the territorial grand bodies of this ancient and honorable institution are held in this city almost every year.

GREEK LETTER SOCIETY.

The Normal Boys Organize the First Fraternity in New Mexico.

James A. Meltyre, Henry Springer and Waldo Twitchell, three enterprising students of the Normal university met together on last Wednesday evening and organized the Sigma Beta society. As the name implies, the society is of the order known as the Greek letter fraternity, and its object is similar to all those of the great class to which it belongs. The meetings are secret, and no one but members can ever enter the sacred chamber, which is known as the "cave." The first one to be initiated into its mysteries was Lawrence Tamme, who went through the trying ordeal with fitting fortitude. The initiations are solemn and impressive, and only those who are strong in mind and body can aspire to pass them successfully. The members are all enthusiastic and working hard for the success of the society.—Las Vegas Optic.

The Wood woman was quite severely cut in the breast and in the back, but not seriously injured. The other victim of the broken case-knife was not severely injured.

The prisoner was bound over to the grand jury under $500 bond.

A Brief Resume of the Twenty-Third Annual Fair.

LAURA SPUR CAPTURES PURSE

Roping, Indian Contests and Base Ball On Last Day.

GLORIOUS END OF A GLORIOUS WEEK.

In comparison with the last eight or ten days, Albuquerque to the early riser this morning seemed a place abandoned. It forcibly recalled the utterance of the poet when he said:

"I feel like one who treads alone
Some banquet hall deserted,
Whose lights are fled and garlands dead
And all but him departed."

But few were to be seen on the streets, and most of those few were porters sweeping off sidewalks, and street gangs cleaning up the wreckage and rubbish, and especially the confetti of Saturday night's saturnalia.

Of course, there will be a reaction to some extent, from the high tension of fair week, and all feeling the strain over will be inclined to relax energy and effort for a few days; but it will not be long. Albuquerque's vim and enterprise are material qualities, strengthened by long practice, and in a day or two at the outside, the Duke City will be herself again, with mighty stride pushing along the pathway of increasing prosperity.

But the fair, while it lasted, was a warm number, which will not be forgotten in many a day. The crowds attending outnumbered those of all former years, while the average time of attendance to the individual was longer. Many hundreds, indeed thousands, remained from start to finish, while daily the incoming passenger trains brought more visitors than the outgoing trains took away. The result was crowded streets, crowded stores, crowded rooming houses, crowded restaurants, crowded hotels and crowded places of resort of every kind, during every day the annual fair continued.

This could not have been the case had not the fair been worthy of the patronage received. The management cannot be praised too highly for the excellence of their work. From president, secretary, treasurer and executive committee, through the managers of departments, and other officials, down to the humblest employee, each did well his part, and it would be difficult for the most confirmed, chronic grumbler to suggest where improvement could have been made.

The advertising was systematic and extensive by the management, but it was also successfully supplemented by the railroads, the Santa Fe naturally taking the lead. Thus, by advertising car and the newspapers of the southwest, the territory around Albuquerque for hundreds of miles in every direction was thoroughly covered; while in the same section and far beyond its limits, the railroads spread advertising matter to right and left. This was well, but the management did better. They secured attractions worthy of being advertised, and with which the throngs were well satisfied after they had been gathered together.

The fruit, vegetable, school, art, mineral and mechanical exhibits in the pavilion were eminently satisfactory. The display of stock was fine but small. This department will probably receive larger attention in the future. The racing was excellent and the horses in that department fully up to the mark. The roping contests were on the whole very good, and the bronco busting was more than satisfactory. The former had the best set of steers assembled for that purpose ever gathered in the southwest, and the latter was somewhat marred by an accident which prevented the arrival of two contestants and a carload of outlaws. The foot ball game and the base ball games were intensely interesting, as was manifested by the crowded condition of the grand stand, bleachers, and the standing room beside the track, at every exhibition. In fact, if there were any expressions of disappointment at the events of the fair, they were so lost in the general expressions of satisfaction that The Citizen reporters failed to hear them. The carnival was no small addition to the general attractions, and opened a large avenue of enjoyment for those whose duties or inclination prevented their attendance at the fair grounds, and for the still larger number who yielded themselves up wholly to the occasion, determined to participate in everything in sight.

The attendance and enjoyableness of the occasion were largely increased by the wisdom and success of the management in securing the irrigation congress, the visit of Congressman Hearst and party, and the annual assemblage of the Shriners. The Montezuma ball and the menu were interesting features.

All in all, Albuquerque is well pleased, the visitors were delighted, and the management is hopeful that when all accounts shall have come in, it will be found that the balance against the association is but slight, if there be any at all; for it must not be forgotten that while the receipts have been larger than heretofore the expenses have also been greater in excess.

THE COW PUNCHERS.

They, With Bronco Busting, Caused Fun Saturday Afternoon.

The cowboy tournament, which has just closed, was probably the most noted ever held in New Mexico. It was not noted for the remarkable time made by the ropers and the expert riding of the bronco busters, but because it was attended by the largest and most pronounced experts of the world; and from the fact that dur-

ABOUT THAT COAT

You wear a coat. Why? To keep the cold out? No; to keep the warmth in. What of the body that has no warmth—the thin, poor body that lacks the healthy flesh and fat it needs?

For such we say that Scott's Emulsion provides the right kind of a coat. Why? Because Scott's Emulsion builds firm, solid flesh and supplies just enough fat to fill nature's requirements—no more. That means bodily warmth.

ling the four days sport and many trout on a single steer was killed and only one slightly injured. The poor time made was partly due to extraordinary strength and fleetness of the steers and partially due to the fact that the cowboys had been in the city several days before the tournament began.

The fourth department of the tourney was tried out Saturday afternoon and the skill exhibited was about the same as on previous days of the tournament.

An additional purse of $200 was offered for Saturday's sport. Wiley Phillips won out with 1:01½, David was second with 1:12 and Dawson was third with 1:32.

The cowboy sweepstake, when five steers were turned out at one time, pursued and caught by the same number, was a very exciting event. F. W. Dawson gave his steer three strong pulls before he got him down, but made a lightning tie and was the winner.

To finish the tourney, Havortiz, the "lucky," mounted a steer thrown by Joaquin of Hillsboro and rode it to the pleasure of the spectators. The steer cavorted around a bit but the cowboy stuck to him like glue.

Col. Sellers' part of the program came next. Four, adiana, two backs and two squaws, mounted on Indian ponies started on a circle of the track. It was a good race, but not as exciting as that of the day previous.

The gallina (chicken) races by four Navajos was of rather a mild form. A small cloth sack containing a few shillings served the purpose and was finally jerked from the hole in the earth after many trials.

Taken from an amusement standpoint the last week features of the fair were a success, and Col. C. C. Hall should feel fully repaid for his efforts. The cowboys have returned to the range and the steers will be driven to the slaughter pen.

EL PASO WON.

They Defeated Santa Fe in a Game Played Saturday Afternoon.

The Twenty-third Territorial fair base ball tournament closed Saturday afternoon with one of the most exciting and hard fought games ever witnessed in Albuquerque. El Paso won from Santa Fe in the ninth inning of the sixth game of the series by a score of 8 to 6, and by so doing defeated the Capital City boys out of the big end of the fair association purse of $500. With the finish of the game each team of the tournament had two games to its credit and the contest was undecided. The situation was puzzling. The fair was over and the base ball game was still undecided. Manager M. E. Hickey of the base ball tournament was up against a real snag. After the game he called the captains of the ball teams to the judges stand and after these worthies deliberated at length on the situation it was decided that the only way out of the predicament was to play the tie off, and it was announced at the grand stand that the tie would be played off yesterday afternoon. But Saturday night the base ball captains got their heads together and split the money up, each team taking an equal share of the $500.

Santa Fe started off with a nice lead, scoring four runs to El Paso's two in the first inning. No more scores were made until the fifth inning, when the Capital city boys scored one run.

The score then stood 5 to 2 in favor of the Santa Fe boys until the seventh inning, when the boys from the north again scored a single run. But they were fated not to win.

In the eighth inning Lembo, who was doing the twirling for Santa Fe and had so far in the game conducted himself with propriety, let down for two singles and one three base hit. These, with errors by Nichols in right field and Shirk at third base, let in four runs. This tied the score and the finish was uncertain. In the ninth El Paso got two more hits and through an error by W. Parsons and clever base running scored the winning run. Try as they would Santa Fe could not do a thing and so lost.

The feature of the game was a home run by Nichols in the first inning, which brought in three scores.

Captured Rich Pacing Event—Other Winners in Horse Races.

The racing program of Saturday was the best of the week, and it was the last day of a very successful meet. CONFETTI NIGHT.

It Was Last Saturday and Everybody Had a Good Time.

Although carnival night did not occur until Saturday night many out of town visitors remained over for the fun. The maskers began turning out as early as 7 o'clock and one hour later Railroad Avenue and the midway were a swarming mass of humanity. The confetti battle, which heretofore in the week had been confined to the midway, overflowed and raged far and wide and fierce and fast, and none escaped the fleecy, penetrating paper discs. It was a turmoil of hilarious revelry. The old and the young, big and little, all joined in the fun.

The resorts of the city were thrown open and patronized freely. Many a fair hand rolled the bones or played the red or the black as the ivory ball circled the brass ribbed revolving disc and clattered fascinatingly into the pocket of fortune or misfortune.

It was a night to be remembered by the participants and it was near midnight and the dawn of the Sabbath before the revellers began dispersing and took to their homes.

HIS FIRST TRIP OUT.

Peculiar Circumstance Incident to Death of Engineer McFadden.

Speaking of the death of Santa Fe Engineer S. C. McFadden at the Topeka hospital, the Chanute Tribune says: "Mr. McFadden was about 50 years of age, and had been in the service of the Santa Fe on this division since September 27, 1882. He commenced work at the bottom as a wiper and gradually worked his way up to the head of that line of service. In March of 1884 he was promoted to freeman's bench, and in the same month five years later he made his first trip as engineer. He leaves a wife and several small children to mourn his loss. The deceased had lived in Chanute for several years, and was a member of the Methodist church. He was also an active member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and other orders. A tragic circumstance incidental to his death is the fact that the trip upon which the accident occurred was the first one made after a half month lay off."

California Limited Schedule.

The Citizen has received a postal card reading as follows:

The Santa Fe passenger department makes official announcement of the renewal of the California limited daily service on the 29th of November next. The schedule is as follows for this popular train: West bound (No. 3, daily)—Leave Chicago, 8 p. m., Saturday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Leave Kansas City, 8:10 a. m., Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

All that was earthly of the late Mrs. Cora L. Bartlett was laid to rest this afternoon in the Bartlett family plot in the Fairview cemetery, says the New Mexican. The last summons overtook the deceased Thursday morning. She had been a great sufferer for several years and death was not unexpected. Mrs. Bartlett was about 45 years of age; she was a woman of great intellectual powers, a thorough education, a skilled musician, bright, charming and entertaining up to the time this last illness overtook her. She was a native of Iowa, but moved in her early youth to Kansas, in which state she attended a seminary and finished her education in Boston.

She was married to Solicitor General Edward L. Bartlett, who was then a practicing attorney in Kansas City, at the age of 20 in 1880, came with him to this city, which place she has made her home ever since. She has been a true helpmate, a loving and faithful wife in the most correct and fullest sense of these words. She served as one of the lady managers of the 1893 Chicago world's fair from New Mexico and as such rendered successful and valuable services to the people of the territory; she was one of the principal organizers and the first president of the Woman's board of trade of this city, an organization which has been found of the greatest use and has done untold good for the interests of the city and of the poor and needy here. Santa Fe's beautiful plaza with a handsome stone wall about it, will be a lasting monument to Mrs. Bartlett's public spirit, her untiring energy, her great executive ability and her self-sacrificing character. The present very satisfactory condition of the plaza is due principally to her efforts and work as president of the Woman's board of trade. The deceased was one of the orfoointhe. isose. shrd shrdlu Master Mechanic Schaefer of the Santa Fe shops at Needles, Cal., has planned and installed at Needles a condenser and water heater which takes up all the steam from the exhaust pipes which heretofore emptied into the atmosphere. Now instead of escaping the steam is carried to the condenser, where it is condensed and the heat from the steam is used to increase the temperature of the water carried to the boilers. It is pronounced a very successful scheme.

CONDENSES THE STEAM.

Santa Fe Mechanic at Needles Invents a Water Heater.

RODE ON A LOCOMOTIVE.

Transcontinental Trip Made by a Western Magazine Writer.

A new western writer has "broken into" the eastern magazines. His name is Benjamin Brooks, and he lives in Colorado and California, where he has an important traveling position with the American Beet Sugar company. He writes from the sheer love of it; his stories are based on personal experience and have the breeziness of the boundless west. His method of idealizing the imprisoned forces that move great things and powerful engines is like Kipling's in a way. Mr. Brooks' latest article appears in Scribner's for October and is entitled "The Southwest from a Locomotive." He rode from Chicago to Los Angeles, all the way to Santa Fe and for a greater part of the distance on a locomotive, the finest place on the train to see the country. The illustrations are by Blumenschein, who made a special trip over the Santa Fe to get the local color.

While opening a box, J. C. Mount of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of all the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and, occasionally afterwards, to my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." E. M. Abbott Skips Out.

About the biggest excitement in town this week was caused by the hasty and quiet departure of E. M. Abbott Wednesday morning from the scene of his activity the past two years. Mr. Abbott left under a rather dark cloud, caused by cashing spurious checks, leaving unpaid bills, and worse still, deserting his family.

He leaves quite a number of debts, but on the other hand has probably enough property to cover the same.

Abbott came from Denver about two and a half years ago, and after a time launched into the contracting business and has been quite energetic in business matters. He has transacted thousands of dollars worth of business in Alamogordo, and until recently quite satisfactorily to his creditors.

Within the last month, for some cause, he became a victim to drink and gambling, which some assert caused his ultimate downfall. Abbott was seen in El Paso late Wednesday night by an Alamogordo party, but all trace of him disappeared Thursday, and it is supposed he left for Mexico.—Alamogordo Advertiser.

LIFE IN PHILIPPINES.

Personal Letter Written to Citizen by Former Albuquerque City.

The Citizen has received from F. T. Talbott, well known in this city, the following letter, dated from Cavite, Philippine Islands:

It is an interesting account of our little brown brothers, and soon to be our fellow citizens, the Moros, in whom the American investigator finds new traits every day.

Believing that all Americans are rich they put fabulous prices on all they have to sell, making it difficult to trade with them. It requires the patience of Job to get them down to a reasonable price. Mr. Talbott is purchaser of eggs, vegetables and chickens, and his soul is weary of the barrier. However, he has collected an interesting exhibit of bolos, knives and swords, the latter showing marks of hard service. Sports were held on the Fourth of July, rather ancient, at Zamboanga, the Alibay ball team getting first. But the letter says:

The Moro of Sulu is a prince of pirates whose truth is ever elastic and to whom honesty is a mystery. He is, from his religion, naturally fanatic. He is a very shrewd, athletic fellow, very different from the Visayan or Tagalog and quite different from the Philippine generally, and is a distinct type of physical appearance in the Orient.

He has a bold and haughty bearing and a freedom of manner extending to an almost defiant carriage. He dresses in fantastic garb of bright and brilliant colors and is as gay in manner as he is gaudy in garb. A variegated, unequally folded turban, a highly colored silk sash to hold his gaudy, handsomely carved and adorned borang or kris, a short jacket or namented, with bright striped silk trousers that are tight in fit, make him the most picturesque of barbarian people. He lives in simplicity; he is brave to fearlessness, a born pirate, and essentially a fighting man, never happy unless on a marauding expedition and stealing from his neighbors, friends and foes alike.

The chief, who is the most successful thief, is the most respected and most powerful among them. He is constitutionally indisposed to work and will only do what is necessary to sustain life and support his family from dire want.

Two years of patient and trying American work among these Moros is working wonders and hundreds are engaged in various kinds of labor, and each month adds to the number in the most encouraging way. Fish, native fruits and vegetables and rice mainly constitute his diet.

He eats with his fingers, squatted a la Turk, on the floor, his bed on the ground. He is allowed four wives by the Al Koran. He has as many as he can support, be they four or fourteen. He has to quarter them in separate shacks or huts as a rule to avoid family quarrels. Concubines are in numbers, according to his tastes and means, as are large numbers of peons, in a mild form of feudal bondage. He trades with his neighbors on market days, in the various coin of the realm, and foreign moneys at other times. He is a free ocean trader, extending his voyage as far north as the island of Celebes and Borneo, and westward to the Palawan. He is the most successful of smugglers, and a little act of piracy, when the chance offers, goes without mention. He is the most perfect of aquatic beings and skillful small boat sailors or large pran navigators extant.

He can no more drown than a fish. There are no records of a drowned Moro. He can dive to the bottom of the sea at depths from seventy-five to 100 feet for the valuable mother of pearl. His life is largely at sea from infancy. Many of their villages are built over the water on the coast. His means of transportation for inland visits are by the native pony, in size resembling the Shetland, though varying in size and shape.

There is not a road in the Sulu archipelago. One is under construction twelve miles in length from Jolo to Macburn, the capital of His Highness the Sultan. He rides in a crudely made saddle, that has a padded cover to the seat; for stirrups he uses a braided or knitted hempen band, through the ends of which he places his big toes in the loop made for the purpose. His favorite weapon is the terrible borang or kris, of which form family of knives there are nine distinct classes, while of the latter there are eight grades of straight knives and seven of the wavy kind, besides six kinds of short swords, all formidable and all dangerous weapons. He ever wears his knife, which is polished as bright as steel and whetted to a razor's edge. He wears it from custom and for dignity, and not for ornament, but for frequent use as the many scars he wears bear testimony. He is a formidable enemy and a suspicious, superstitious and uncomfortable sort of a fanatical friend.

Beautiful Complexions.

Are spoiled by using any kind of preparation that fills the pores of the skin. The best way to secure a clear complexion, free from sallowness, pimples, blotches, etc., is to keep the liver in good order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver, and so establish a clear, healthy complexion. Fifty cents at J. H. O'Reilly Drug Co.

Distinguished Visitors.

Congressman E. J. Hill of Connecticut, his wife and daughter, and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Treadwell, all of Norwalk, Conn., are on a pleasure trip to the west and will go to the Grand Canyon of Arizona tonight. They were driven around the city today by Delegate Rodey and J. H. O'Reilly. Congressman Hill, who was against statehood at the last session of congress, expresses himself, as do all the members of the party, as much surprised and pleased with New Mexico. The party spent yesterday in Santa Fe and were much pleased with that place. Mr. Switzer of the Harvey curio store showed them courtesies this morning as did Herman Blueher and many others.

DISTRICT COURT.

Resumed Business at the Court House This Morning.

FOUND GUILTY OF LARCENY.

The district court reconvened this morning after a recess of a week lasting over the fair. The hearing of the criminal docket was resumed, the first case called for trial being that of the territory against William Jones, who is charged with larceny from the office of L. E. Carey, who conducts a livery stable on Silver avenue. On the night of July 25 Jones, who was working for Carey and sleeping in the stable, entered the office on a pretext of washing some socks. Shortly after Jones left the barn, which was toward morning. Another employee of the stable discovered that his pants had been pilfered of about $9. Jones never returned to the stable and a search found him working out a fine on the streets, having been arrested for being drunk.

The jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

Order from Judge Baker.
Albuquerque, Oct. 19, 1903.
Hon. F. W. Carey, District Attorney, Second Judicial District, Albuquerque, N. M.

Sir:—I am informed from what I see in the newspapers that some of the county officers of Bernalillo county have appropriated or misappropriated money belonging to Bernalillo county. The court is the proper tribunal in which to try such matters. If an officer of said county has appropriated, or misappropriated, any money belonging to said county, of which you have knowledge or information, it is your duty to at once institute proper proceedings in the court to recover the same. I demand of you, that in this matter, you be not deterred of your duty. This you should do without fear or favor, absolutely ignoring all political effect of your action. If the exigency of the case demands and the evidence warrants, I will call a special grand jury to indict all offenders. I will continue to do all I can consistent with my position to see that no guilty one escapes punishment.

(Signed) BENJ. S. BAKER,
Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of New Mexico, and Judge of the Second Judicial District thereof.

Some one, who thought he was doing a funny trick or for maliciousness, turned on the water faucet up stairs in the closet at the White Elephant last Saturday night, and before the trick was discovered considerable damage was done to the building, especially to the fine paper that adorns the inside east side wall. It seems, from all accounts, a gang of toughs, male and female, were out last Saturday night to do damage or bodily harm, and it is dollars to doughnuts that "confetti night" will not be down on the program at the next territorial fair.

MRS. MARRON BETTER.
She Was Injured in Accident Last Saturday—Still at Dr. Wroth's Residence.

Mrs. O. N. Marron, wife of the attorney and ex-mayor, who was quite severely injured in a runaway accident on Saturday, is still at the home of Dr. J. H. Wroth, corner of Fifth street and Copper avenue, where she was taken and treated immediately after the accident, but in a much improved condition.

Mrs. Marron was out driving Saturday with her brother, Will Halloran. Near the corner of railroad avenue and Fourth street the family driving horse became frightened at the noise in the carnival grounds and bolted. Mrs. Marron became excited and jumped out of the carriage, striking the street curbing on the back of her head and shoulders. She held her baby in her arms and in her endeavor to protect it, probably caused her to fall with more force, thus causing her injuries to be more severe than otherwise. The horse was stopped within a few yards of the accident and had Mrs. Marron remained in the carriage she would have escaped uninjured. She suffered a lacerated scalp and a badly bruised back, but she suffered most from the shock caused by the excitement.

Dr. Wroth said last probably she might be strong enough to this evening to be moved to her home.

The owners of the patent are Felipe B. O'Bannon, George E. Lewis and Jose E. Lewis. Chamberlain having sold out, and railroad men who have examined the device, say that it will prove a very valuable attachment to air brakes.

WATCH THIEF CAPTURED.
Hobo Stole from Constable Smith's Residence and Is in Jail.

At about 1 o'clock this afternoon a lively race took place on South Second street, the man on a bicycle, who was Constable James Smith, making the capture of a hobo who had stolen his wife's watch from her boarding and lodging house. The aforesaid hobo was at the house and asked alms in the hobo's way as he left the house. Finally, Mr. and Mrs. Smith repaired to the dining room for their dinner, when they heard the front screen door open and slam. The hobo was then noticed to hurriedly leave the premises. Mrs. Smith called him back, and on coming back to the house the lady accused the man of stealing her watch, whereupon he produced the timepiece from his coat pocket. The constable, who is crippled from a sprain and is not as lively as usual, attempted to hold the fellow to await the arrival of a policeman. The hobo broke away and darted south on the street. Mr. Smith mounted his bicycle and the race was a pretty one for a square or two. The hobo was overtaken and turned over to Assistant Marshal Cooper, who was notified and hurried to the scene. The tramp is now in the city jail. The fellow has several pals that should also be looked after.

New Testament Twice Stood Between Veteran and Deadly Bullet During Civil War.

W. G. Jones of McDonough, New York, was in the city today, on his way home from the recent Grand Army encampment at San Francisco.

He has a highly prized copy of the New Testament which was given him nearly forty-three years ago by his step-mother, when he enlisted in the civil war, as a private in the Eighth New York cavalry. This little book, which he carried in a pocket in his blouse, has two huge bullets imbedded in it, which but for the testament would have penetrated his chest. One was received at the Cedar Creek, Va., battle, October 19, 1864, and the other at Appomattox, April 8, 1865, the day before Lee's surrender.

E. W. Spencer says that one of the bullets is resting on the charge made against Christ, that his disciples went through corn fields and picked and ate the heads on the Sabbath day.

Fire in La Huerta.
Tuesday morning, just before the hour of the funeral of Elmore Freeman, an alarm of fire was sent in from La Huerta, the barn of Judge Freeman having caught fire, and the structure was entirely consumed. There was a high wind, but luckily it was from the south and the residence was saved. The fire department started for the scene but was halted at the bridge by Chief O'Connell, who refused to allow the machine to go beyond the city limits. Mayor Klauer happened along a little later, and was much incensed at the action of the chief, saying that the chemical engine should go wherever in reason that property or life might be saved. His honor ordered the machine to proceed, which it did, until it was apparent that there was no possibility of effective work, when it was returned to the station.—Carlsbad Argus.

MRS. MAUD B. WEBSTER.

Mrs. Maud B. Webster, who carried on a dressmaking establishment in this city a few years ago, leaving for Fort Worth, Texas, attempted to commit suicide in Denver last Saturday. The Rocky Mountain News of Sunday gives a fine half tone of the unfortunate lady, and goes into lengthy details regarding her attempt at self-destruction and her life. The Citizen reproduces the following extracts from the article:

Because she believed she could no longer face domestic trouble and financial reverses, Mrs. Maud B. Webster of 1274 Downing avenue attempted suicide yesterday morning by swallowing strychnine tablets. She took the poison in the presence of Miss Julia Foley, one of the boarders. Miss Foley snatched the box from her hand before she could take its entire contents. Mrs. Webster was determined to die, however, and tried to regain possession of the box. The loud talking and slight struggle that followed attracted Mrs. Webster's children to the room. As soon as they learned the cause of the trouble they ran into the back yard and started to shout to some men who were near, that their mother was dying. One of the men telephoned for the police surgeons, who soon arrived and administered strong emetics to the woman. She struggled with the physicians for some time to prevent their assistance, but finally succumbed. She was resting easy at night, and it is said she will recover.

So far as can be learned, domestic trouble involving financial embarrassment was the sole cause of the attempted suicide. An attempt was made to make a mystery of the case, and a theory was advanced that a love affair with an unhappy termination had entered in the matter. This was emphatically denied and laughed at by all concerned.

"There is not a word of truth in such stuff," said Miss Julia Foley. "Mrs. Webster was simply having a great deal of domestic trouble—the exact nature of which I cannot state—and she concluded that she could not bear it longer. Then the trouble over the rooming house here was partially the cause. It was not a financial success, and she had worried greatly by the loss of money. But that was not the whole cause. There is no mystery or love affair back of this trouble. Of that I am positive. Mrs. Webster's husband died some time ago, and she has since lived a very quiet life with her children."

Mrs. Webster came to Denver with her two children from Fort Worth, Texas, a little over six months ago. She rented the house at 1274 Downing avenue and opened a boarding house. The children, Pauline, aged 12, and Willard, 10, attended the Corona school.

But boarders were few, and month after month, it is said, expenses piled up that she found it constantly more difficult to meet. The furniture, according to the story, had been purchased upon the installment plan, and Mrs. Webster had been rightened in to the belief that it would be taken from her. Besides, she had been suffering from heart trouble for some time.

Mrs. Webster possesses a rare beauty that would make her an object of admiration amid any surroundings. Her children are also strikingly handsome. Miss Julia Foley is an exceptionally pretty woman as well. It is said that both women were great favorites with the younger set. In this connection it is said they were frequently the center of coaching and theater parties.

UNIVERSITY EXHIBIT

Was Larger Than Heretofore and Unique in Character.

FROM CLIMATOLOGICAL APPARATUS.

The University's exhibit at the territorial fair this year was more extensive than ever before, and at the same time it was most unique in character. For the first time in the history of our fair, or of all fairs for that matter, was there collected an exhibit designed to illustrate the study of climate. This exhibit was taken from the famous Climatological Laboratory, which was founded to study climatic problems, more especially as they are related to the cure of tuberculosis or consumption. The exhibit, therefore, attracted the attention of large numbers of people, who gave utterance to expressions of surprise, out also of kind sympathy for the work that the laboratory has undertaken and on which a most creditable foundation has already been laid, as shown by its published bulletins.

The exhibit was in charge of Prof. John Whitnair, the director of the laboratory, who was constantly present ready to explain the workings, uses and special purposes of the various machines and pieces of apparatus. As time exhibitions of the workings of the machines was given, and these served to greater enliven the interest of the observers.

Among the apparatus exhibited were sterilizers for killing germ life, incubators for growing bacteria at various temperatures, media on which they are cultivated and even cultures and mounted slides of the bacteria themselves. Many people saw for the first time the much talked of tubercle bacillus. This was seen through one of Gausch & Lamb's finest compound microscopes, which gave a magnification of 1,200 diameters.

Another group of instruments and in the special study of the disease problems, consisted of a Thoma-Leiss blood corpuscle counter, Gower and Flouchal haemaglobinometers, DeLind's haematocrit centrifuge, a blood pressure manometer and a sphygmograph. The last two instruments have a history attached to them for they were used by Professor Tigh in his South American trip. The whole group of instruments was an interesting one, but the exhibitions of pulse tracings aroused the greatest curiosity.

The live cells made of various colored glass and used in the study of the physiological effect of the various rays of our intense sunlight upon healthy and tubercular animals also attracted considerable attention. The most popular feature of the exhibit was the instrument used in taking lung capacity, and several hundred availed themselves of the opportunity to try the machine. The data were recorded and will aid materially the work of the laboratory.

Space forbids mentioning in detail all the apparatus used. However, it is certain that the exhibit served an excellent purpose in a most worthy cause.

HEARST HELD BY HOSPITALITY
Crowded for Time in Tour of New Mexico Where the Entertainment Provided Delays Departure.

A special dispatch from Grand Canyon, Arizona, dated October 16, to Denver News, says:

Indian pony riding, the dances of the Navajo in the streets for the entertainment of the party of Hearst's congressional special and the untold hospitality of the people of Albuquerque all conspired to delay departure.

Senator Burton of Kansas, left the party at Albuquerque, insistent business making his return home imperative, and his place was taken by J. F. Wilson, the territorial delegate of Arizona, who was forthwith installed as a bureau of information in all affairs pertaining to the territory. The air continues its exhilarating mission with every one on the congressional special, and giving new vigor and life in the face of what might otherwise have become exhaustion for incessant sightseeing.

The great trees encountered on crossing the Arizona frontier led to the information that there are 6,000 square miles of the most valuable timber land in the world in Arizona.

At noon the Hearst congressional special pulled out of the broad basin, seemingly surrounded by mountains, but itself as level as an Illinois prairie, turned a curve and the party aboard caught its first bewildering glimpse of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado. Here the party left the train and passed the balance of the day sightseeing. At 7 o'clock the party was safely housed on its train once more and the return began to Williams on the way to Phoenix, the territorial capital.

Wrong Man Held.

Marshal McMillan yesterday picked up a man who gave his name as James Smith, but whose real name is Daily. He had burglarized a store at Sidney, Neb., where he lived, was captured at North Platte, taken to Sidney and there broke jail. He claimed to be passing through the city, but two men from Sidney recognized him. He is in the lock-up, awaiting answer to telegrams from Sidney.

Such was the story yesterday. Today it must be changed. The telegram from Sidney, Neb., received yesterday afternoon, showed that who ever the hobo might be, he was not the man Daily, wanted for burglary and jail breaking in Sidney, and so he was released.

A Queer Pet Wanted.

Tom McGreevy lately received a letter from a sister in Ireland inviting him to return to the land of his birth, and requesting him to "bring a negro with him, as her brother Mike says they make nice pets, and might be trained to work in the garden; but if too wild and hard to capture, not to delay." It is possible the poor lady never saw a negro and knows nothing of his peculiarities. Tom politely refused to accede to the request, on the ground that they could not live there.—Capitan News.

FOR MISSIONARY MONEY.

Superintendent Craig Goes East on Missionary Campaign to Raise Needed Funds.

Rev. H. M. Craig, superintendent of the Presbyterian missions in New Mexico and Arizona, after visiting the Allison school at Santa Fe, left for Henry Kendall college at Muskogee, I. T., where he will spend tomorrow in studying the conditions and methods of that school.

On Saturday and Sunday he will meet at South McAllister the Presbyterian synod of Indian Territory, an representative of the board of home missions of New York City. On Monday he will leave for New York and open in that great metropolis a missionary campaign among the Presbyterian churches, to collect funds for his work in the southwest. Before returning home, which will be about the first of the year, Mr. Craig will visit his family at Shelburne, Ontario, Canada, having just before his departure received a telegram from Mrs. Craig that her mother, Mrs. Robert McGhee whom she was visiting, had died.

CHARGE ADMISSION NOW.

Moki Indians Being Spoiled by White Man's Curiosity.

The Indians are rapidly "catching on" to the ways of the white man. The Moki snake dance for 1932 at Wolpi, Arizona, on the Santa Fe, is a good example of how the modern commercial spirit is spreading. Until now visitors have been permitted to witness this spectacle without money and without price, the Indians being content with what they could pick up from camera bands for posing, and from the tourists generally for baskets, pottery and blankets. This year each visitor was charged an admission fee of one dollar, with a sliding scale of prices for special favors like going down into the kiva where the snakes are kept.

The dance was just as weird as ever, and the spectators more than got the worth of their money; but the old timers sadly viewed the change and predicted that the dance will be discontinued before many more seasons have passed. It would be better to go to the next one, or it may be too late.

to see this most remarkable pagan ceremony.

The Santa Fe has on exhibition in its Chicago city office a notable painting by Cross of a snake dancer, based on a sketch made by him while in Mokiland in 1888. The difference between then and today is quite evident in minor details of costume, but the main features are much the same.

SPHINGER NEWS.

From the Stockman.

H. M. Porter was down from Denver this week looking over his large interests.

Frank Crocker has this week moved his household effects down from Dawson and the family are now comfortably located here.

Mrs. A. Scherer and three younger sons, left for Davenport, Iowa, where they will visit for some time with the aged mother and grandmother and other relatives and friends.

Rev. J. B. Bollman returned on Wednesday from Albuquerque where he had been attending the annual mission conference. He reports a very pleasant session and only one change in the appointments, which speaks well for both the pastors and the churches.

DISTRICT COURT.

Miguel Sedillo, Charged With Assault, Found Guilty.

The case of the Territory vs. Miguel Sedillo, charged with assault with intent to commit murder on Jose Lopez, September 12, last, at Los Candelarios. The indictment also charged an assault with a deadly weapon. After the jury had been sworn the district attorney was informed that one of the material witnesses for the territory was detained at home by her husband, and the territory declined proceeding with the case until the witness' attendance was assured. The court ordered a bench warrant to issue for the defaulting witness and directed the prosecuting attorney to file an information for contempt against the husband of the witness who is alleged to have detained her. After all the evidence was submitted, the defendant asked permission to withdraw his plea, and to enter a plea of assault and battery, which plea the district attorney recommended and the defendant was remanded to await sentence.

The court also tried the case of Territory vs. Frank Jones, charged with larceny from the office of the livery barn of Carey on Silver avenue. The evidence was strong against the defendant and the jury after being out a short time returned a verdict of guilty. Mr. A. Perez represented the defendant.

In the district court yesterday Francis M. Lyon, Jr., was granted an absolute divorce from Elizabeth M. Lyon, John H. Stingle representing the plaintiff, and Harry P. Owen the defendant. The case had been pending some months and was strongly contested.

A Big Sheep Sale.

A. D. Garrett sold about 4,000 head of sheep to Major Littlefield of the Littlefield Cattle company. The sheep will be delivered at once at the L. F. D. ranch. Major Littlefield also bought some fine bucks from Mr. Garrett.—Roswell Register.

Fatal Accident at Los Alamos.

Last Saturday Marcelino Burke, an employee of the Paeita Ranch company in good health, gaily mounted a broncho for his employers, nothing doubting that he would prove master of the beast, says a correspondent writing to the Optic from Los Alamos. The broncho made for the wire fence gate and failing to surmount it fell backwards upon his rider and the poor fellow was picked up and carried away on a stretcher. He was given immediate care by kind hands and Doctor Rolla was telephoned for from Watrous, coming as quickly as possible. But all efforts were unavailing and at 10:30 this morning the grim reaper gathered the doomed man who thus early was cut short in full vigor. He leaves a wife to mourn his untimely loss.

"NOT GUILTY."

Luis Montoya Did Not Commit Rape, Says the Jury.

The interesting case of the Territory vs. Luis Montoya, in which the defendant was charged with having committed rape upon the person of Manuela Gallegos, took up the entire time of the district court yesterday.

The defendant was ably represented by Judge W. C. Heacock. The offense was alleged to have been committed on the afternoon of August 9, 1932, in Los Duranes, and the indictment against Montoya was found at the March, 1933, session of the grand jury, when N. E. Stevens was foreman of that body.

The evidence produced by the territory was conflicting, and on account of the relation of the prosecuting witnesses to Manuela Gallegos and lack of convicting evidence, the jury found the defendant "not guilty," after deliberating from 4 o'clock in the afternoon until 9 o'clock at night, during which time the jury stood for acquittal 9 to 3.

The Needles Eye has sent to The Citizen a very suggestive half tone cut of one of the aboriginal Indians on his annual visit to the Pacific coast bathing resorts. As the weather is a little cold for such pictures and as a reform wave seems to have struck Albuquerque, the aforesaid cut will not be given publicity at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rosenwald will spend the winter in Los Angeles. Dr. J. F. Pearce, who accompanied them to that city, returned home last night. He left Mr. Rosenwald, who is suffering with a weak heart, feeling pretty well in the low altitude of Los Angeles.

Jack Green found his cockerel Spaniel, which had been gone for several days. It was locked up in a room by a man who wanted it almost as badly as did Mrs. Green herself.

BIG YABISHI DANCE.

Fifteen Hundred Indians Will Congregate at Chaves Station.

HALF FARE RATE OFFERED.

Probably the biggest Navajo Yabishi ever attempted off the reservation is now going on at Chaves, some one hundred miles west of Albuquerque. The dancing began last Friday and will continue until Sunday noon, the most picturesque features to take place Saturday afternoon and night, when 1500 Navajos, dressed in grotesque costumes will indulge in the same weird antics practiced by the tribe hundreds of years ago, before white men were privileged to witness any of their performances.

Many of the Indians will be dressed in wild animal skins while others will wear only the conventional breech cloth, their face and limbs painted with native colors in decidedly hideous style. At this dance the squaws also take part which is not customary for the Navajos.

Large fires, made from many cords of wood, will be built to throw light on the scene, vivid and gruesome almost beyond comprehension.

The Navajo tradition is, Yabishi, a great and mischievous god has become displeased and in order to drive him away, the Indians annually collect at some selected place and indulge in this great dance. The Santa Fe railroad company consented to sell round trip tickets, good from Friday evening until Monday morning at a one-half rate, which will permit a large attendance from Albuquerque.

John Wetherell, who has a trading store at Chaves, has arranged to house those who go.

Several parties of Albuquerqueans, accompanied by their wives having already been made up to depart on Friday evening.

Col. D. K. B. Sellers will also be in attendance and will give his personal attention to those who may go from here.

Zuni Indians to Irrigate.

J. B. Harper, irrigation engineer for the Pueblo Indians, has returned to Santa Fe from San Francisco, Cal., where he has been inspecting machinery for the construction and administration of the irrigation systems which will be constructed under his charge for the Zuni Indians in the western part of the territory. He attended the irrigation congress at Ogden and since then has visited various large irrigation enterprises in Utah, Nevada, and California, for the purpose of posting himself more fully and bringing this experience into play in the construction of the Zuni pueblo irrigation systems.

One of the First.

The editor of The Citizen helped organize the territorial fair in March, 1881 and has helped to work up the preparations of every fair since.—Citizen.

Yes, Tom, the same here. We still have our stock issued to us in 1881 and also our credentials as a member of the first fair and original irrigation convention organized in New Mexico.—Tucumcari Democrat.

The hobo who undertook to burglarize the residence of Constable Jim Smith yesterday, and was captured, got away last night. He was confined in the cell of the city jail, but some of his friends broke through two locks and got him out. He has not been seen around today.

Las Vegas Is Entitled.

It is suggested that the territorial convention to select delegates to the national republican convention should be held at Las Vegas. That city is entitled to the convention. It will be held some time next May.

INDIAN SCHOOL NOTES.

Something About the Movement of Teachers and Pupils.

Quite a number of new Navajo pupils were received during the fair. They and their parents came overland to attend the fair and visit the school, the children remaining to attend the school this year.

Superintendent Allen has gone to McCarty's, near Laguna, to establish a day school among the Indians there.

Mr. Haygood and Mr. Platero leave this evening for Thoreau, where they will attend a Navajo dance and meet a number of the leading men of the tribe. From there they will go among the Navajos who are off the reservation with a view of securing more pupils for this school.

Miss Condy, field matron at San Felipe, is spending a few days at the school. The day school teachers and field matrons from Laguna and the adjacent villages came in Thursday evening and spent Friday and Saturday visiting the school and taking in the sights of the fair.

A carload of flour and one of bran have arrived from Kansas City for the use of the school during the present year.

Great Wool Clip.

From a reliable source the New Mexican learns that the wool clip of Rio Arriba county for the present year amounted to nearly two million and five hundred thousand pounds. The average price per pound received by the sheep raisers was thirteen cents. The people of that county ought to be contented and prosperous and they doubtless are.—New Mexican.

Albuquerque is honored and the order of Masonry will be benefited by the appointment of Dr. W. Grove as grand lecturer at that ancient institution in New Mexico. It will be his duty to visit the subordinate lodges, watch their work, and instruct them in the better way, where he finds such instruction needed. No one is appointed to this position unless he is thoroughly proficient in the secret work of the order.

The meeting at the Baptist church this evening has been called in, and all Baptist people of the city are requested to gather at the train on the arrival of No. 1:15 if on time, to welcome the ten missionaries who will be in the Pullman of that train, passing through for China and Japan.

Mexican Money.

The circus that recently passed through this territory passed off a large quantity of Mexican silver in making change in the sale of tickets. A large number were victimized in this city.

Price of Silver.

The price of the white metal continues to advance and it is almost sure to reach 64. This price will open many of the silver mines of New Mexico.

COLORADO MAN'S INQUIRY.

He Wants to Know if Mrs. Jack Blair Is Divorced.

"It stands me in hand to know," might correctly be dubbed the subject of a very interesting communication received by District Clerk W. E. Dame. The communication comes in the form of a letter and is as follows: "Mr. Clerk—Dear Sir: District clerk, I was told by the justice of the peace to write to you. Ask you to let me know if Mrs. Jack Blair is divorced from her husband. It stands me in hand to know.

"Yours truly,
"F. T. Colings, Colo., 207 Linden street."

The writer is a man and from the sentiment of the last phrase it stands him in hand to obtain the information he seeks.

Trouble over Water.

Water is supposed to be superfluous in a democratic region like this, but it isn't. On the contrary it causes about all the trouble. It was the reason of the intermittent scrimmage around Hope, and every once in a while it kicks up a fuss in other parts. The latest is in the Guadalupes where the partisans of W. A. Roberts and William Greer are now fussing over sundry water-holes claimed by the former and by the latter also. Bad feeling has grown out of the trouble until a little while ago notices were tacked on the gates of Roberts, warning him to leave the country. This he was not willing to do, and the other fellows claim he tacked up the signs himself to have something to fuss about. This imputation is refuted by Roberts, and the war of words goes on. The nearest approach to open hostilities was last week when W. A. Roberts was stopped on the road and rather roughly treated by the Greerites. Both sides were in the city this week trying to get action on the elbows, but so far without success.—Carlsbad Argus.

MARKET LETTER.

Special Correspondence.
Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 19.—Cattle run last week at Kansas City amounted to 30,500 head, including 10,000 calves, against 74,500 head, including 6,500 calves same week last year.

Western range cattle made up a large proportion in the receipts. Western beef steers sold badly all week, and even good native steers sold weak, although not many of the latter were here. Western she stuff sold better than any other kind of cattle, and ranged for most of the week, about 15 cents better than close of previous week, but sagged a little Friday and Saturday. Veal calves except the fat light weights, sold 25 to 50 cents lower. Stockers and feeders changed very little all week, and business in this line was big, at 1,100 cars taken to the country. Trade in this line was not active, even appearing slow most of the time, but the total made last week one of the largest weeks at this market. Run today is liberal at 2,000 head, and market is weak to lower in spots. Beef steers are again dull. Stockers and feeders and cows are steady. Many visitors are here, attending the royal show, and not a few of them are expecting to take home some feeding cattle.

Sheep run last week was moderate at 31,000 head, and prices changed very little. All kinds except feeding wethers were steady nearly all week, they being 10 to 15 cents lower. Feeding ewes and lambs held up fully. Fat wethers brought up to $3.85, lambs $5.15, ewes $3.25. Feeding wethers brought $3.25, ewes $2.75, lambs $4.10. Run today is heavy at 12,000 head, and prices on sheep are a shade lower, and on lambs steady.

M. R. Williams, superintendent of bridges and buildings on the New Mexico division, was an Albuquerque visitor yesterday.

Harry Halloway is again picking at the trade in the machine shops after having been off several days on account of sickness.

There are forty-five grand commanderies of Knights Templar in the United States, and one each in Canada, England and Wales, Ireland, Scotland and Australia.

These statistics were gathered from the last report of the eminent grand recorder, which was for 1932, and are scarcely accurate at this time, but is too early for the 1933 report.

Masonic Notes.

The order of the Eastern Star will meet here on Friday.

C. U. Duncan of Socorro, John Bragaw of Georgetown, and C. N. Blackwell of station, registered last evening with the members and visitors of the grand lodge, and were in time to participate in the fine banquet, which was served last night in the dining room of the Masonic temple. As usual there was complaint of lack of room, and the local lodge is now more than ever inclined to build on the north side of the present temple.

a two story addition, to be fifty-five or sixty feet in length by 100 in length. The present accommodations while ample for local occasions, are found too contracted for the grand bodies.

SANTA ROSA ITEMS.

From the Sun.

Miss Conia Kahn, the accomplished teacher from Puerto de Luna, was a visitor to Santa Rosa last week.

Eustacio Gonzales and family, from Tucumcari, arrived in Santa Rosa and are guests of Damacio Gonzales and family. They are here on a pleasure trip.

PASS OUT MEXICAN COIN.

New Scheme Alleged to Be Worked By Dishonest Scalpers.

A new scheme for swindling purchasers of tickets appears to have been adopted lately by so-called "floating brokers," who make it a practice of moving about from city to city. According to Chairman MacLeod of the Western Passenger association, the scheme is as follows:

The broker opens a shop in a city where there are a good many excursionists coming in. He usually has some correspondent in Mexico or some bank that handles Mexican money, and through this method obtains $300 or $400 worth of Mexican money, which he secures for 50 cents on a dollar or even a shade less, and when the farmer or "sucker," as he is called, comes into the office to buy a ticket he gives him this money in change.
