FIRST GUN FOR DEMOCRATS IN 1922 CAMPAIGN FIRED BY HULL

CHAIRMAN OF THE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE REVIEWS RECORD OF REPUBLICANS SINCE LAST MARCH.

Time Has Come for Plain Talking, Says

FURTHER RELIEF FOR FARMERS, ADEQUATE AID FOR VETERANS, REDUCTION OF TAXES AMONG THE NEEDS.

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 28.—Declaring that the "time has come when patriotic citizens and democrats should indulge in plain talking," Judge Cordell Hull, chairman of the democratic national committee, tonight reviewed the republican administration since March and contrasted this with the "unparalleled achievement" of the democrats in the previous eight years.

The address was delivered at a dinner given by the state democratic executive committee in honor of Chairman Hull. It was accepted generally as the opening of the congressional pre-election campaign by the few chairman who went into the public questions, which he said, faced the government and exposed the attitude his party would take.

Some of the issues further relief for farmers, adequate aid for veterans, reduction of taxes and a remedy for the situation resulting from the flood of tax exempt securities were among issues he outlined.

"Democrats are the loyal and consistent friends of the ex-service men," he declared.

"Ever solicitous of his welfare—the democratic party, when in power, did more to advance the interests of the farmer than had been done in all the previous history of the nation and had planned to do much more, if it had remained in power," he said.

"Urgent and deserved relief as to farm credits, better and cheaper warehousing and marketing facilities—these and like measures of aid should have been given to him to avoid and relieve his present unparalleled distress."

Burden of Public Debt
"The burden of our public debt should be adjusted so as to not be oppressive to the American taxpayer laboring under panic conditions. The states, rather than the federal government should be urged to deal by a uniform policy, with the growing evil of local tax exempt securities."

Results of the last national election, he asserted, were secured by "criminal malignity and reckless falsehood," by the republican leaders.

"It was not so much the democratic party; it was the American people who have suffered the colossal and incalculable losses that resulted from democratic defeat," he declared.

Record of Democrats
"It is beyond the power of wholesale abuse, falsehood and detraction to dim the glory of the eight years of unparalleled achievement of the national democracy. The work of constructive, patriotic statesmanship accomplished by that party will stand out clearer perspective during the coming years."

"If wholesale breach of solemn and unqualified promises to the people constituted a statutory crime," he said, "every reactionary republican leader, state and national, would under a plea of guilty, be in the custody of the law tonight."

Disappointed Farmer
"The disappointed farmer now reads the accounts of his industrial ruin by the light of his burning corn. Millions of laborers are frequenting the soup houses, bread lines and the auction block. Business has discovered that it was crucified on the cross of politics."

Under republican leadership, he said, foreign commerce "has slumped six billion dollars in the last twelve months," and an "almost vertical slump in prices in America of from 30 to 50 per cent and, in participating power of farm products, of 65 per cent, quickly followed." For two years prior to March, 1921, he said, the only remedy offered by the republican leaders for post war conditions was "an antiquated high tariff and the archaic doctrine of commercial isolation."

More Co-operation Needed
"This country is in urgent need, he said, of more education and more co-operation on the part of individuals and business with respect to public affairs. An intelligent understanding and wholehearted co-operation on their part would soon improve government 100 per cent." The democratic party, he said, holds to its belief in a tariff for revenue only, for economy in

SELF CONTROL

Mr. F. A. Hatch of Pueblo, Col., who is on a lecture tour under the auspices of the Scottish Rite Masons arrived in Carlsbad Monday and delivered a series of talks here.

The fine adjustment of personal power and privilege to the conditions surrounding him is a sign of self control in any young man. Within each of us is the inheritance from the past of complex tendencies, motives and passions. Our ancestors may have lived on high lines or they may have caught the moral malaria of their day and generation.

To guide the unfolding tendencies in boy or girl so that they may develop the best of the past by means of the best of the present is part of the work of Social Hygiene in which F. A. Hatch who came to our city under the auspices of the Scottish Rite Masons set forth.

Social relations are inherently interlaced with sex relation. Such conditions may be inspired that shall produce right negations and shall affirmations as to purpose and ideals. But the basis of true self control is in the sense of doing our best for others.

"But whatever its deficiencies may say, even the school children will soon learn that in 1912 our national wealth was $187,000,000,000, and in 1920, when the republican administration was chosen it was $330,000,000,000; in 1912, our foreign trade was $3,850,000,000 and in 1920 it was $13,500,000,000."

ROW OVER OUR DOG RESULTS IN DEATH OF TWO—SON AND WIFE

Wednesday, in Justice Fairly's Court, Lewis Hawes, charged with the killing of his son, Clinton Hawes, and his daughter-in-law, Dona Hawes, was given a preliminary hearing.

An hour before the case was called the court room was packed and the court officials had trouble in keeping the doors closed for the passage of witnesses.

Judge T. E. Meers was appointed by the court to represent the defendant, and District Attorney C. M. Compton Jr., represented the state. Alvin Hawes was the first witness placed on the stand. His testimony was practically the same as at the inquest.

Alvin Hawes testified that his brother, Clinton Hawes, and family had resided with his father, Louis Hawes for the past thirty day, and that he had been employed by his father to gather corn, receiving 80 cents per load for the same and being paid in corn at 55 cents per hundred weight.

Alvin Hawes stated that he and his family had stayed there most of the time for the past three weeks before the shooting occurred. He had also helped gather corn and taking pay in corn, and that he and his brother had a bunch of shots and were feeding them out at his father's place.

He further stated that the trouble began a week previous "in a little dog quarrel. That Clinton's child was playing with his father's dog, when the dog bit the child. Clinton whipped the child and started to strike the dog when his father objected, telling him that if he was going to run over his dog to get up and leave. Alvin stated that the shooting took place on the morning of Dec. 21st, at or about eight o'clock while the families were seated at the breakfast table.

Lewis Hawes and family lived in a one room house 14x16 feet seven miles southwest of Portales. At the time of the trouble the three families consisting of seven grown people and three children were occupying this one room house, and Mrs. Lewis Hawes was confined to her bed.

On cross examination Alvin testified that they were there to give aid to his sick mother, and that they did not believe in medicine or doctors, and "Jesus Christ was their physician." He stated that they were praying for the recovery of his mother.

The morning of the shooting, Lewis Hawes asked his son "why can't you get you a house and move to yourself?" He replied that he did not feel like leaving while his mother was sick, and furthermore that he wouldn't leave. The father then said "you must leave, I can't chuck all of you."

Clinton replied: "I have furnished my part of the chuck." Then he passed between father and son. Then Clinton struck his father with a cane knife and the father fired one shot, rose and fired the second shot, both of which took effect in the body of his son. Clinton, making his way to the bed, fell and his wife, Dona Hawes, knelt over him and prayed for the Lord to "save him, to raise him up and let him go prech."

She also said to the father "they will send you to the pen or hang you for this," while looking over her shoulder. Lewis Hawes then shot her in the back. As she fell she said "Oh, Lord, have mercy, he has killed me too, take care of my children." She then called the little girl Letha, and told her to meet papa and mamma in heaven.

Alvin then stated that after the shooting his father reloaded the gun and that he took it away from him and unloaded it hiding the shells from his father, after which he came to town. He stated that when he left neither of the dead parties had anything in their hands.

After the testimony of Alvin Hawes the Court adjourned till 1 o'clock P. M.

In the afternoon Mrs. Alvin Hawes was put on the stand, and while testifying swooned away and had to be carried from the court room.

Nathaniel Hawes was then placed on the stand. He stated that he had been sent to several of the neighbors after the shooting, and that the butcher knife had been placed in the hand of the dead man while he was away.

He also stated that after the shooting of his brother his mother attempted to get up and that he assisted his brother and father in placing her on the bed before the shot was fired which killed Dona Hawes. Nancy Hawes, (Mrs. Alvin Hawes) was again placed on the stand and completed her testimony. She stated that after her sister, Mrs. Clinton Hawes, told Lewis Hawes that "they will send you to the pen or hang you," that Lewis Hawes replied, "I will send you somewhere," and turned and fired the shot which entered her back, causing her immediate death.

Mrs. Alvin Hawes then left the house with the children and took them to the home of J. A. Thasley, who was the nearest neighbor.

After hearing the testimony Judge Fairly demanded the defendant, Lewis Hawes, to fall without bail to await the action of the grand jury. Perhaps the most horrible feature

W. O. JOINT-INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS

Thursday evening the Woodman of the world held their installation of officers with an excellent program of music and addresses, followed by a delicious supper served by the ladies of the Circle. There were about one hundred and fifty people present, including the members of the lodge and a few outsiders.

The Woodman orchestra opened the program with a beautiful selection, bringing loud applause from the audience. This organization of musicians is coming to the front, no local orchestra of Carlsbad has ever rendered as excellent music as was delivered by them last evening and many favorable comments passed through the crowd. Mrs. Ferguson State manager, from Albuquerque, gave the first address and left a pleasing impression with her hearers. Judge Armstrong followed with a short talk, delivered in his usual oratorical manner. Henry Bock rendered an inspiring violin solo interpreting the music of the hushed listeners with the grace of an artist. The installation ceremonies were impressive and executed with a decided accuracy, the Drift Team in perfect unison. Council Commander, D. Jackson, upon taking his chair, introduced the Male Quartette Oliver Wells, Kindie, McCallum, who gave a medley of popular hits, delivered in their usual vigor and jazz spirit. Bert Rawlins explained the features of the coming minstrel show that is being produced by the lodge. Judge Wilson gave an interesting talk on the benefits of Woodman insurance in comparison with old line companies. Commander Jackson told of the many accomplishments of the organization in the past year among which was the remarkable record of new members, there being over one hundred taken into the order. The following is a list of the new officers that were installed.

ITALIAN PIANIST TO RENDER SELECTIONS IN CARLSBAD.

Carlsbad lovers of music are indeed fortunate in being given the opportunity of hearing the talented pianist, Professor Vittero, of San Antonio, Texas, who happens to be on his way to El Paso to fill a musical engagement on the evening of the "Cauliflower Minstrels" will be staged in this city and has consented to make the trip here to render a few choice selections for Carlsbad music lovers. Professor Vittero has been secured at great expense to the minstrel management to make their already popular show one still more so out of the ordinary in that music of the highest class and by a really great artist will entertain the audience while costumes and scenery are being changed. When Prof. Vittero first came to this country he set New York as well as other eastern cities wild with his perfect renditions of intricate masterpieces as well as playing many of his own composition. His technique is perfect even to those who are capable of judging music of the higher type and in addition his personal appearance is kindly and pleasing. The strenuous work he allowed himself to perform in filling numerous engagements in eastern cities somewhat impaired his health and he has given up his musical career in those cities until his health is regained and he is now living quietly at San Antonio, Texas, only consenting to fill engagements in cities not far distant. Carlsbad will never again have the opportunity of hearing such a great pianist. Watch for the date of the Cauliflower Minstrels!

AMERICAN LEGION CLUB ROOMS ARE FORMALLY RE-OPENED

HORACE HUTCHINSON BECOMES NEW POST COMMANDER. PAUL MAHAN RETIRES WITH EXCELLENT RECORD

Tuesday evening a meeting of the members of the American Legion and the Cavalry was held in the Armory to reopen the Legion club rooms which have been closed since last spring, when the finances of the organization became such that it was not deemed advisable to continue the expense of running the rooms. The body did not disorganize, however, but held its charter and continued to hold business meetings in the office of Dr. Glazier. The furniture and entire equipment was then stored away.

Captain West called the meeting to order and explained the new system under which the club rooms would be governed. The Cavalry is to have complete control, but all legion members are given the privileges of the rooms and will hold all meetings there that they desire. But the use of the rooms is confined strictly to members of the Cavalry and American Legion, no outsiders are to be admitted at any time. This rule will be positively enforced. All forms of gambling and boisterousness will be prohibited and no member will be allowed to bring a playing card into the club. An entire set of rules are to be posted and will be rigidly enforced by the House Committee. This committee was selected by Captain West and is as follows: Elmore Jones, Edward Wright, William Anderson, William Hudgins, William Howeth and Captain West. The two front rooms are library, the rear ones as athletic to be used as a lounging room and rooms. A new phonograph will be purchased, being paid for by a monthly assessment against each member with a double amount the first month.

The meeting was then turned over to Post Commander Mahan who conducted an election of officers for the coming year. The members of the Cavalry were allowed to remain during the proceedings, but had no vote in the elections. Captain West nominated Horace Hutchinson for Post Commander, seconded by Lt. Miller and was unanimously elected. Mr. Hutchinson is an excellent man for the post, being a thorough soldier, serving in the Spanish-American and World wars. Captain West was also nominated for the post but immediately declined as his duties as Cavalry commander occupy his time.

For Post Adjutant, Rude Wilcox received first nomination and declined the office. Howard Moore the second nomination, was then elected.

For First Vice-Post Commander, Sam Lusk was chosen. Aud Lusk was nominated but declined on the grounds that he was not eligible to office as he held a public office.

The other offices were, Sergeant at Arms, William Howeth; Post Historian, Major Bujac; Post Chaplain, Rev. A. C. Douglas.

Following the election of officers, the new commander gave a short talk, emphasizing the importance of the cooperation of the Legion and the Cavalry for the general welfare of both; the promotion of more social affairs, not for financial gain alone, but with the general object to create a worth while interest in the organizations. These entertainments to take the form of luncheons and dances in the club rooms with the ladies especially invited. At the close of his talk, the Post Commander appointed two important committees, the executive committee and the entertainment committee, with a suggestion from Aud Lusk that the chairman of the entertainment committee be a member of the Cavalry so as to avoid conflicting of entertainment plans. On the Executive Committee are: J. R. Conarty, A. E. Lusk, R. A. Wilcox, W. R. Miller, James Farrel, Fred M. West, chairman, William Howeth, custodian of building.

Past Commander followed with an excellent talk; the feature of the evening. He began with a brief statement of the finances of the Legion and told in detail the accomplishment of the Carlsbad Legion and the Red Cross in the past year. Although out of the public eye, since the closing of the club rooms, the Post has by no means been inactive. Through the untiring efforts of Mr. Mahan, Major Bujac, Mrs. Craft, and Dr. Glazier, innumerable ex-service men have been greatly benefited the past year. Heroes, who are now paying the price of shell and gas, deserted and in dire need, down and out and no strength left to sit patiently while the government adjusts their claims. It is such soldiers as these that the Legion have aided and there is no

WORK TO START SOON ON PLAINS ROAD.

Highway Engineer Hector P. Roberts, who is in the employ of the J. W. Daval & Co., who specialize in road construction, was in this city yesterday setting things in shape for commencing work on the strip of road connecting the graded highway to the plains with the road already built this side of the rock.

Mr. Roberts says there is about seven miles of brush work to be done before grading will be undertaken, and that this work will be given to local laborers. This company is now filling their contract for the construction of the road from Roswell to Dexter and have the largest part of the dirt work finished and about 45 per cent of the gravel completed. As soon as the gang of teams and men are through with that stretch of road they will be put to work on the stretch east of the graded highway to the plains and expect to make a first class road of it by the first of May at the latest.

When this highway to Lovington is completed it will be one of the best roads in the country and the people living on the plains will no doubt take advantage of that fact to do most of their trading with the merchants of Carlsbad.

The next road to be built will be the one to Culberson county which will give the Pecos Valley an outlet to El Paso, but the contract has not yet been let for this road by the state highway department.

LAKEWOOD BANK TO MOVE TO LOVING.

The Lakewood National Bank is in process of liquidation. All deposits have been transferred to the First National Bank of Loving and its affairs will be handled through that bank.

Mr. G. H. Sellmeyer and Mr. F. W. Dauron have purchased an interest in the Loving bank and will be Cashier and Assistant Cashier respectively. Mr. J. C. Wilson who has been Cashier at Loving since the bank was opened in 1915, has resigned and will return to the Pecos Mercantile Company at Pecos. He has a good record in Loving and leaves there with the best wishes of the Loving people.

Mr. Sellmeyer is well known in Eddy County and needs no introduction.

The affairs of both banks are in excellent condition and the liquidation of the Lakewood Bank is due solely to lack of business in the vicinity.

W. C. T. U. APPEAL.

For three years the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has been trying to help our Spanish-American children to become better American citizens. Each Saturday afternoon they meet with the children and teach them in classes as to age, the things most needed. The smaller children in kindergarten work, the older girls in sewing and the older boys in history, geography and nature study, all the time in every class teaching the English language. Opening and closing exercises of national and religious songs also Bible verses and passages are memorized by the children.

But the call has come for other branches of Americanization work and the W. C. T. U. will conduct a Mother's Class in sewing and cooking one afternoon of each week. Any old clothing or new materials, cooking utensils or groceries will be very acceptable to the ladies as they must equip their room for demonstrating in both lines of work.

A Sunday school under the direction of the Union with teachers from all the churches will be held each Sunday afternoon. There is a great call for a night school which will be held two evenings of each week, but as yet the plans are not definitely completed. Any one wishing to help the ladies in any way phone Mrs. F. E. Little, president of the W. C. T. U. This call is very urgent in regard to old clothing or like material in starting this work.

praise too great for these worthy citizens who found these cases and gave them aid. One particular case was of an ex-service man living on the outskirts of the town with a large family and when found by the Legion, there was only one loaf of bread in the house. The soldier was suffering from tuberculosis, contracted from wounds received in the trenches. The family was brought to town, a house rented and stocked with food and a compensation secured from the government. This is only one of the many, not to mention the heroic work rendered in the uncovering of the underworld business in the "flying squadron," which resulted in the expulsion of the examining doctor, who was passing up such cases as this.

Howard Moore moved that a vote of thanks be extended, Mr. Mahan, Major Bujac, Mrs. Craft and Dr. Glazier for their excellent services. This motion carried without an opposing vote.

At the close of the business session, the members enjoyed a excellent luncheon, followed by an informal smoker.

CHRISTMAS AT THE HOSPITAL

The Eddy County Hospital, the cheery Most every day, and always neat and clean. On Christmas Eve was all so bright and merry. Our friends, we're sure, would have enjoyed the scene. The rooms and halls were gay with wreaths and holly. Narcissus snowy paganes filled the air. The larder stored with meats and fruits and candies. Not a thing for Christmas joy was lacking there.

The Christmas tree of course was the bright center. A graceful pine with stars and tinsel gay. And the gifts, some on, some piled around it. More than we dared to hope would come our way. The graphanola's lively bursts of music. Were hushed to sweet, low strains of "Silent Night." While we lived again the dear, old Manger Story. Beneath the softened glow of tapers bright.

The prayer of joyous praise each heart uplifted; "Peace and Good Will" to all we felt again; And every heart in gratitude o'er flowing Responded with an earnest, glad "Amen."

Around the tree were Grandpa, Maud and Velma. Aunt Sallie, Myrtle, Dr. and Mrs. Pate. John Wallace, Buster, Meadames Perce and Eaker, Miss Mary Ola, all with hearts elate.

And more, with Astor Alator guest of honor, While Mr. Brinton managed things with zest; And when our hands were filled to overflowing The tree was rolled around to all the rest: To Campbell, (Bill) who proves he is a soldier As he so bravely battles with his pain To Mr. Shorett, another pleasant patient, Whose family helps to cheer with Nurse Catherine.

To grandma Smith in helpless darkness lying, To Mr. Sharpe and Mr. Curech and "Dad." Old Santa came with fruits and gifts and flowers. And even they felt that they must be glad.

We can't begin to name the kind good people To whom our hearts in grateful pleasure turn, To Mrs. S. friends, doctors, druggists, nurses, Societies, merchants, lodges, who we learn, Have sent us apples, oranges, sweet potatoes And individual gifts a cake a ham, A turkey, backbone and a lot of chickens. Preserves and jelly, jars of fruit and jam.

To one and all our hearts cry out "God bless you," With health and friends and all good things you need. And may the glad New Year with joys surround you, And into pleasant paths your foot-steps lead.

MARGARET C. PEARCE.

NATIONAL FIELD-WORKER COM- MENDS THE W. C. T. U. MISSION

Miss Theodora Whiting, Americanization Field Worker under the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, speaks in high commendation of the work of the local W. C. T. U. has carried on for three years at the Mission.

Miss Whiting has visited all of the western states and in no city has she found a better piece of work with no paid workers. In Seattle and in San Francisco the National, State and local W. C. T. U. organizations have opened centers which they call W. C. T. U. Neighbors. In each much good is being accomplished but even with the paid workers the results are not so marked as here. Of course, it is harder to "neighbor" in a large city and both Seattle and San Francisco centers have not been open a year.

That which Miss Whiting commends most heartily in the work in Carlsbad is the interest and cooperative spirit which is shown by both Mexican and native Americans. The Mexican children are eager to attend and participate. At the Christmas tree they were the most attractive feature although Christmas, Mexican, and American decorations had transformed the old Mission. But the boys of bright, clean, eager faces, the neat holiday garments, the orderly behavior, as they sang so joyfully and recited so dramatically showed that they loved the Saturday meeting at the Mission.

Usually we have to seek the foreigners but here the mothers are asking for help in English, in sewing in cooking, in American home making, young people are eager for lessons.

Beside the interest shown by the Mexicans, the cooperation of the various organizations is most commendable. It seems to be a community work. The Christmas tree and treat were possible because of the generosity of many. It is due to have one piece of Americanization work in which all have a share.

On Tuesday a special meeting of the W. C. T. U. was called at Mrs. J. R. Stockwell's to confer with Miss Whiting. Several new lines of work in connection with the work at the Mission and general W. C. T. U. work were discussed. An interdenominational night school, for young and old, sewing classes for the women, and a night school for adults are contemplated.

Miss Whiting in her address to the W. C. T. U. said, "Today our great task is to create sentiment which will lead to law enforcement and law observance. There is no more promising field for his education than the foreigners—especially the mother and children. These children will soon be voters of America. We want to enlist them on the side of right that their votes may counteract those which though cast by old Americans, are not for law, justice, nor the advancement of righteousness."

Miss Whiting has spent two

SOUR STOMACH INDIGESTION

Thedford's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee
Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficiency of Thedford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver."

"I have known and used it for years, and can do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Thedford's Black-Draught lives medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Thedford's.

LESSON FOR JANUARY 8

ELIJAH THE TISHBITE.

LESSON TEXT—1 Kings 17:1-24.
GOLDEN TEXT—But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness: and all these things shall be added unto you.—Matt. 6:33.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Ex. 15:1 Kings 1:29-31; Matt. 6:19-24.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God Cares for His People.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Elijah, the Brave Prophet.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jehovah's Champion Preserved.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Obeying the Word of Jehovah.

I. Elijah's Message to Ahab (v. 1).

This was a startling message, for Ahab had not only led Israel into idolatry, but into a repudiation of the living God.

1. "As the Lord God of Israel liveth," Elijah knew the source of his message. He knew that he represented the living God, therefore had no fear to come into the presence of the king in His name.

2. "Before whom I stand." Because Elijah stood before God, he could stand before Ahab. His "standing" before God indicates his constant readiness to go on His errands.

3. "There shall not be dew nor rain these years but according to my word." This suspension of moisture continued for three and a half years (Jas. 5:17), and was given in answer to Elijah's prayer (Jas. 5:17). Drought was provided as the punishment for idolatry (Deut. 11:16, 17), and the prophet was now applying the divine judgment.

II. Elijah's Retirement (vv. 2-10).

As soon as he had delivered his message he retired from the king's sight, while the penalty of the king's sin should be visited upon the land. When the famine was sore in the land, the king sought east and west, north and south for Elijah, but God had concealed him. Those who speak God's message frequently seek solitude when the message is delivered.

1. By the brook Cherith (vv. 2-7).

(1) Drinking of the brook (vv. 4-6). While drinking of the brook, Elijah was being nourished by the Living Waters from the throne of God. From day to day Elijah's faith was tested as he saw the stream run lower and lower as the drought continued. (2) Fed by the ravens (vv. 4-6). The ravens brought him bread and flesh in the morning and bread and flesh in the evening. Elijah thus enjoyed two meals each day, with water to drink. The same God who sustained Elijah, still lives, and we should trust Him for our daily bread. At last the brook dried up because there was no rain in the land. The Lord then instructed him to move.

2. At Zarephath (vv. 8-16). (1) The place (v. 9). Zarephath was at the west side of Palestine, near the Mediterranean sea, in Gentile territory. In order to reach this place Elijah had to cross the country from the Jordan to the sea. Zarephath was only a few miles from the home of Jezebel's father. This, no doubt, was a trial to Elijah. (2) Sustained by a widow (vv. 10-12). "Bring a little water and a morsel of bread," was the request which he made of the widow. This, no doubt, was a great trial to her, but God had touched her heart and stirred up faith in her. Her reply reveals her deep distress. (3) Elijah's reply (v. 13). This made plain to her that it was a case of mutual interest to do as the Prophet said. "The barrel of meal shall not waste; neither shall the cruse of oil fail." (4) The widow's obedience (v. 15). "She did according to the sayings of Elijah, and she and her house did eat many days." (5) God keeps His word (v. 16). May we learn from this lesson:

1. The particularity of God's providence. Truly a sparrow shall not fall to the ground without our Father. By the prearrangements of God all our needs are daily met. There is no happen so in God's providence. The woman of Zarephath, going out to gather sticks to prepare the net men, met Elijah, and is helped for two years.

2. No matter how small our resources, we can do something for God if we will. The lad with three barley loaves and the two small fishes, with the blessing of the Lord, did a great work.

3. Our concern should be to work for others and for God before ourselves. We should give our all to God and trust Him for further supply.

4. God often allows us to get down to our very last in order to teach us that all is from Him.

5. God's dealing with the Gentile woman is a foregleam of His dealing with the Gentile nations.

The Cheerful Worker.
Do all things without murmurings and disputings; that ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shall shine as lights in the world.—Philippians 2:14 to 16.

A Great Reward.
I have fought a good fight; I have finished my course; I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness.—1 Timothy 4:7 and 8.

Highway Improvement

MATERIAL FOR ROAD MAKING

Careful Study of Amount and Character of Traffic Is First Important Essential.

Professor House of the Colorado Agricultural college is one of the best-known engineers in Colorado. He has been head of the civil engineer department at that college for several years and has always been in close contact with the affairs of the state, in speaking about roads, Professor House says:

"A great deal of agitation is being carried on at the present time, concerning the construction of concrete roads for Colorado. That some of our roads should be paved in this way, there is no question, but I think we should carefully guard against overdoing the matter. In order to be justifiable, road improvements must return in economic and social benefits an amount at least equal to the interest, depreciation and maintenance, over and above those of the old road.

"It is exactly the same as in ordinary business. The amount that should be invested in road improvement is that sum which will give the largest annual returns in benefits to the people of the community.

"It may be real economy to spend $3,000 per mile for one road and only $2,000 per mile for another, if the former carries more than ten times the service, and costs just ten times as much.

"Before we run wild upon the subject of concrete surfacing for roads of Colorado the proper classification of the roads, and a careful study of the amount and character of the traffic ever there should be made, and it is the duty of the state officials, before any general scheme of road improvement is decided upon, to make this careful study. The state is then prepared to determine upon the proper highway system that will be the most economical, and that will meet the requirements of each road."

Capital Park Auto Road in the Pike's Peak Region in Colorado.

GOOD HIGHWAYS IN JAMAICA

Island in British West Indies Is Awakening to a Realization of Improved Roads.

The island of Jamaica, in the British West Indies, rich in natural resources and active in trade, is awakening to a realization of the importance of good roads. The advent of the automobile has had much to do in the development of an agitation which now promises valuable results. The system of modern highways which it is proposed to build will mean the speedy development of parts of the island now more or less neglected because of their practical inaccessibility. Completion of a radial system of good roads would undoubtedly be followed by a general adoption of the motortruck for conveying the products to the sea. The increased speed and efficiency thus acquired would tend to promote larger production, and thereby increase the wealth of this already industrious island.

GOOD ROADS BOOST PROFITS

Where Farmer Can Haul but One Bale of Cotton on Poor Road, Man on Good Roads Hauls Four.

The matter of opportunity in marketing is worthy of consideration. For the sake of example, suppose that two farmers living in separate counties, but at equal distances from the cotton market, learn by telephone that cotton has advanced in price $1 a bale. The man living on a bad road can immediately haul one bale of cotton to market, while the other can haul four bales because he lives on a good road. The rise in price means a profit of $4 to the one man and only $1 to his neighbor.

Change Road Location.
If the location of a used road is bad it should be changed if possible, to relocating roads avoid railroad crossings at grades.

First Need of Farmer.
The first need of the farmer is good roads leading from the farms to market centers.

Concrete Base Urged.
Practically every highway engineer today agrees that all roads should have a concrete base.

DEFICIENCY APPROPRIATIONS ALREADY OVER $155,000,000 FOR 1922

Although the average citizen will not begin to figure his deficit until after Christmas and perhaps New Year the Republican administration has presented and passed a second deficiency bill of the present fiscal year amounting to $106,600,000 which with the $48,500,000 already passed makes the deficiency appropriations for 1922 so far $155,100,000.

The estimate in General Dawes budget bill (laughter) on this second deficiency bill was $187,000,000 which Congress cut to $106,600,000. On the first deficiency bill General Dawes, Director of the Budget, (renewed laughter) recommended $125,000,000 which Congress cut to $48,500,000.

It would appear from this that General Dawes' budget is made up in the same old way estimates have always been made.

In connection with the second deficiency bill the following colloquy between Senator King (Dem., Utah) and Senator Warren (Rep., Wyo.) Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, is interesting:

Mr. KING—We made appropriations in various general appropriation bills for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922. Now, we have not yet reached the calendar year 1922.

Mr. WARREN—But the Senator must remember these all run for the fiscal year.

Mr. KING—Of course, I understand that. We have only absorbed a part of the fiscal year 1922. Scarcely six months of the fiscal year 1922 have passed, and yet we are asked to appropriate by a deficiency bill more than $100,000,000. Vacantly deficiency appropriation bills come in after the expiration of the fiscal year, or at least toward the latter end of a fiscal year, but now, before the fiscal year 1922 instead of being sub-upon for deficiency appropriations, so that the appropriations for the fiscal year 1922 instead of being substantially $4,000,000,000 may be $4,500,000,000 or $5,000,000,000. Indeed, no one but a prophet, and the Senator from Wyoming is not a prophet—can tell us what the amount will be.

HOLIDAY TRADE

Definite reports from several reliable sources to the effect that holiday retail sales have been exceptionally good serve to corroborate the regular monthly reports on retail trade prepared by the Federal Reserve banks. These statistics have shown all along that in spite of undoubtedly adverse conditions in numerous instances and in the face of considerable alarmist talk of widespread unemployment and hardship the purchasing power of the general public was by no means exhausted.

To be sure, these recent announcements relative to the holiday business make mention of the fact—as have the regular reports for some time past—that purchases are confined with much greater strictness than heretofore to “useful” or necessary articles, and that customers are much more interested in prices. These, however, are certainly not particularly unwholesome tendencies at this time.

There has been a good deal of healthy, if painful, readjustment and undoubtedly more is to follow. However, the situation in some respects has never been as bad as many would have us believe, and is now definitely, is somewhat slowly, on the mend. It would be unwise in the extreme to expect any sudden revival after the turn of the year, but here is good ground for the expectation of continued improvement. Every reason exists for sustained endeavor to put costs and prices on a sounder footing and to formulate wise national policies of tariff, governmental economy, international credit, and trade but there is certainly no basis for undue pessimism.

The M. T. club was honored again with a party given by one of their most popular members. It was planned in the form of a watch night party last Saturday night. They danced and made merry until the noise outside attracted their attention. After the excitement was over, they feasted upon candle salad, angel food cake and punch.

The three new members have not been initiated in so far as this was not a regular meeting but a surprise affair.

DOMINANT WOMAN

"THERE'S much truth in the old saying that a bachelor is merely half a man," observed the professor. "I suppose you are trying to take a fall out of me because I don't get married," said the low-browed man. "It may be true that a bachelor is only a half a man, but when he accumulates a wife, he's usually only a quarter of a man, or maybe one-eighth. The more I see of married men, the more thankful I am that I have never looked up at the altar with an orange wreath on my head."

"Old Doodittle has been married a long time, and he's got so used to being bossed by his wife that he doesn't know what to do when she isn't around. If you offered to lend him $5 he'd say he'd have to consult Eliza Jane about it. One time, when his wife was away, visiting, he ate about a peck of green cucumbers, and the colic shut him up like a folding bed. It was the worst case I ever saw. I heard him yelling for the police, and when I rushed over there and saw him on the floor, with his feet clasped across the back of his neck, I phoned for a doctor at once. We put him to bed, and the agony that man endured was sickening. And as he rolled around there, expecting to go off the books every minute, he kept saying, 'What will Eliza Jane say when she hears I called in a doctor?'"

"After his wife came back, I was over at their house one night, and she roasted me to a crisp for sending for a doctor. She said that if I had the first instincts of a gentleman I'd pay the bill, for I wasn't authorized to call in a sawbones, and she didn't want one in the house. Doodittle sat there and heard his wife roasting me until my whiskers curled and, although he knew the doctor saved his life, he never said a word."

"After I left the house, he sneaked out and overtook me, and told me he was sorry for what had happened, but experience had taught him that it's no use to butt in when his wife has the floor."

"Gooseworthy came over this morning while I was feeding the cows, and told me a tale of woe. His wife has about five hundred female relations, aunts and step-sisters and cousins and such people, and she keeps the house full of them all the time. He has to sleep on a sanitary couch in the hall, while his own feather bed is occupied by an aunt who weighs about 400 pounds. He has a comfortable rocking chair he bought for his own private use, and now he never gets a whack at it. His wife's step-sister, who brought her tortoise-shell cat along, is always using it. He said he was getting plumb disgusted with such a condition of affairs, but he didn't know what to do."

"I asked him why he didn't read the authorized version of the riot act to his wife, and tell her to ship all those relatives out of the house. He seemed shocked at the suggestion. 'You don't know what you're talking about,' he said. 'You've never been married.'"

"The queer thing about it is that Gooseworthy is a great stickler for his rights when he's away from home. He's as snappy as a bobcat, and will fight at the drop of the hat if anybody tries to impose on him. He walks with his head back and his chest out in front of him, but as soon as he reaches his own front gate he begins to look so blundering that the neighbors pity him."

"Then, there's old Major Sendoff, who distinguished himself on many a crime-battled field. He has courage enough for three regiments. But he married the Widow Bankum a couple of years ago and she makes him do the family washing, and hang the clothes on the line, and I suppose he does the ironing, too. I could tell you of a hundred such cases."

"I suppose you could," sighed the professor, "but I don't care for sensational action."

KEROSENE CURES SCALY LEGS

One Application Usually is Sufficient to Remove Trouble — Other Efficient Remedies.

Scaly legs in fowls is a disease, the result of myriads of small parasites which burrow under the small scales of the leg, and as these multiply and burrow under, these scales become enlarged and loosen from the leg, and the birds are seen picking at the legs much of the time which proves that the parasites cause irritation. If the disease is allowed to go undisturbed it sometimes happens that the body becomes infected and the bird may finally die of exhaustion. We once lost a fine hen this way, not knowing the cause or remedy, which is very simple, and has the advantage of always being available at home. There are different remedies which will remove the trouble, but none is better than common kerosene, says a writer in Successful Farming. To apply, take the fowl in the hands, hold the legs together and immerse them, full length, in a can filled with kerosene; hold them there two or three minutes. One application will usually cure, but sometimes a second application is necessary. Lard and kerosene, half and half, is another excellent remedy, as is also common machine oil, or just common axle grease well rubbed in, two or three times at intervals of three days. Soon the scales will drop off and the legs become smooth and clean.

The roosts should also be cleaned off well and rubbed with machine oil, which will help to rid the fowls of scaly legs and red mites, as well. This same remedy is also good in case of lice. Keep roosting poles well oiled and rub a little lard under wings and around vents of infested birds and they may be kept practically free from these pests.

TURKEYS FOR THANKSGIVING

Begin Feeding Small Ration in Morning and Larger One at Night—Boil All New Corn.

The middle of October is not too early to begin fattening turkeys for Thanksgiving. A pound of turkey will bring in far more than the grains that produce it are worth on the market. Begin feeding a small ration in the morning, and a larger one at night. If the turkeys are overfed in the morning, they will not go out to forage, and will thus lose the best part of their fattening ration—the natural food of bugs, grasshoppers and worms; they will also lose the appetite which foraging gives. The night meal may be a mash made of boiled new corn, potato and other vegetable skins, with or without bran. Do not give new corn without boiling, as it is apt to cause bowel trouble in the turkeys. Sour milk is a most valuable addition to the ration. Keep cracked charcoal and grit before them. Don't give them all they will eat the first feed; use the same caution in getting turkeys on full feed that you would use for fattening hogs. They must be kept free from lice, and in clean, dry roosting quarters.

FATTEN COCKERELS IN YARD

Give Two Meals a Day of Mixture of Cornmeal, Beef Scraps and Bran Mixed With Milk.

A healthy cockerel will fatten well in two weeks if confined in a yard of moderate size and furnished two meals a day of a mixture of cornmeal, ground oats, beef scraps and a little bran mixed with milk. Another meal, the evening feed, should consist mostly of cracked corn. Plenty of grit and charcoal should be furnished these cockerels so that their digestion may be of the best.

GRAINS DEFICIENT IN LIME

Material for Manufacture of Egg Shells is Lacking in Food Given to Fowls.

Fowls need more lime (calcium) than is ordinarily found in their food. Most grains and some other foods are deficient in lime, and neither the hen nor the duck can eat enough bulky food to make good shells during the heavy laying period. The lime in oyster shells or ground bone will supply this need. It is also important to provide a regular supply of vegetable foods rich in lime.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS TO THE HOSPITAL COOK.

Christmas greetings to Oia, the "Head of Our Staff." No mistake I assure you, for look, if "bread in life's staff" as we've always been told, The head of that staff is the cook.

Our hospital chef, I can't praise her too much. Her roasts, her broils and her stews, Her custards, fruit puddings and even her cornbread Are perfection that just "beat the Jews."

Not all of the success of our hospital cures Is due to the doctors and nurses. For Oia as cook, I am sure does her share To save us for "better or worse." MARGARET C. PEABODY, Christmas 1921

In one of the most extensive fights that has ever been made by any religious body in America for the eradication of disease, Southern Baptists, through their Home Mission Board, have undertaken the task of combating tuberculosis in the 18 states comprising the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention. The first step in this direction was the recent establishment on a tract of 143 acres at El Paso, Texas, of the Southern Baptist Sanatorium, where $500,000 from the 75 Million Campaign has been invested and where $500,000 more will be placed by the end of the campaign period. The institution is located at an altitude of 4,500 feet on the side of Mt. Franklin and commands an excellent view of the mountains of New Mexico, Western Texas and Old Mexico, whose border is only six miles distant. Dr. H. F. Vermillion is superintendent.

Included in this plant at present are the administration building, the newly completed women's infirmary and men's infirmary, a heating and refrigerating plant and the superintendent's quarters. Provided for in the building plans for the future are a medical and educational building, nurses' home, children's building, dormitories for convalescent patients, an occupational and vocational therapy building, chapel, laundry and minor structures.

150 People Die Daily.

Indicating the need of additional effort looking to the elimination of tuberculosis in the South, reliable figures gathered by the public health agencies of the South and the Nation show that there are 150 deaths daily from tuberculosis in the 18 states comprising the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention, making the annual death toll of the white plague in this section of the country alone

ENTRANCE TO ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

67,782. The death rate from tuberculosis is 14.2% higher in the South than in the Nation as a whole. One reason for the exceedingly high death rate in the South is the great prevalence of the plague among the negroes who are especially susceptible to tuberculosis, the death rate among them being three and one-half times that among the whites. But inasmuch as the negroes will doubtless continue to be intimately associated with the whites in domestic and other work in the future, the whites will never be safe from infection until the negroes, as well as the whites, have been freed from the plague.

It has been estimated that the total economic loss from the ravages of tuberculosis in the South is $175,000,000 a year, and in projecting their warfare against the plague the Baptists hope to greatly reduce this loss, as well as to save the life and promote the health and general efficiency of the whole people.

Would Educate the People.

In addition to providing treatment for persons who have already contracted tuberculosis, the sanatorium is carrying on an educational work that seeks to inform the public at large through the printed page, as to the danger of tuberculosis, how it can be avoided, and how, once it is contracted, its progress can be arrested through proper sanitary measures at home. Other phases of the educational program include the training of workers inside the sanatorium and occupational and vocational work for patients. The extension department is widely disseminating literature on how to combat tuberculosis. An endowment fund that is being created for the institution will make possible a much larger circulation of literature and will also enable the institution to take care of indigent patients.

The sanatorium is at present seeking to devise special plans whereby it can serve the negroes of the South in combating tuberculosis. It is felt that the negroes' inability to help themselves in the matter entitles them to this consideration and that this assistance should be given, furthermore, as a means of self-protection on the part of the whites.

Other Phases of Baptist Work.

In addition to the Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Southern Baptists have a string of seventeen regular hospitals in operation and seven others under course of construction. This hospital property is valued at approximately $7,000,000 and these institutions last year treated 46,000 patients many of them being charity cases. Southern Baptists also operate 19 orphanages in which approximately 2,000 orphan boys and girls are cared for, educated and trained for Christian citizenship.

Washington, D. C.—The President, still closely imitating his predecessor, appeared in person before the joint assembly of Congress and delivered his message, reading from the manuscript. This had never been done since the days of Jefferson until President Wilson began it. However, the consensus of opinion around the chamber, after the reading, was that it had fallen flat—was heavy and misunderstood. Senator Bob LaFollette's remark, "It sounds like he wrote it himself," will not bring that insurgent into better standing at the White House when the President hears of it. Of course it caused a laugh, for everyone in the inner circles about the Capitol had heard the gossip about how ex-Senator George Sutherland of Utah was considerably relieving the President of the somewhat onerous task of writing his speeches. Color has been lent to the story by the long sojourn of the former Senator at Madison while the campaign was on, together with his trips with the nominee. Now the Senator is spending practically all his time in Washington, where nice pieces of patronage find their way into his hands. For instance, he receives $5,000 per year from the Shipping Board to furnish opinions "when desired." He was also placed on the board to receive the various properties of the packers recently dismembered by law. The Senator is noted for the grace with which he wields the typewriter.

for contemplation on the betterment of your troop.

—And this is the time of year when Colonels are flying south. It would be a good idea to take down the old family book of knowledge, for after last season's variety of questions there may be no bounds to the realms reached this year.

The Citadel of Halifax is one of the strongest fortifications in the world.

The Democrats thought they had it firmly imbedded in the law that preference in appointments in the Governmental service should be given to men who served in the World War, not merely as an appreciation of their patriotic service but to aid in compensating for business disadvantages suffered thru their absence from their accustomed walk of life. President Wilson approved the law with his signature and upheld it in practice, as well as the civil service law providing for the selection of the person making the highest rating in the examination. Almost as soon as Mr. Harding became President he issued an order rendering it unnecessary to name the person making the highest rating, and this proceeded, thru his subordinates to put the law as to former service men in the discard. Numerous cases have occurred where the former service man was refused the appointment though he had shown a higher rating in the examination than the one receiving the appointment. Some of these cases occurred in the Congressional balliwick of Mr. Flood of Virginia. At the town of Hremo Bluff a vacancy was to be filled in the rural carrier service and an examination was held under the Civil Service law, in which a man named Seay, who fought in France, made the grade of 85.40, but a man named Glass, a Republican who had devoted his time to politics while Seay was in France, making a grade of 79.50, got the job. Mr. Flood took up the cudgels for the ex-soldier, but the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General informed him that he had information tending to show that Glass was the better fitted for the work. Of course this merely meant that the Republican boss or "referee" had named Glass. Mr. Flood, thinking that a man who could round up German soldiers in the Argonne could handle the rural route job, wrote to the Fourth Assistant, concluding with this paragraph:

"I want to say to you frankly that the only conclusion I can see is that Glass was appointed because he was a Republican and Seay a Democrat. Under this Republican administration we may have to submit to the disregard of their rights, but we do not intend to submit quietly."

Only a year or so ago the Republicans were talking of impeaching President Wilson for refusing to abrogate thirty-odd commercial treaties at the command of the Republican Congress in the Jones Bill. President Harding said in his message that it would cause a highly chaotic condition to abrogate them. Another vindication of the Democratic President.

CAVALRY NOTES. By D. U. K.

Beginning this Sunday, mounted drills will be held on the Polo field at 9:30 A. M. — It is hoped that this will prove to be a convenient plan and will leave the afternoons open for polo practice.

With the reopening of the club rooms, we long for the return of Trooper Purdy as the place does not look the same without these old fixtures.

Ex-Trooper Collier has apparently retired into utter seclusion and is no longer "one of the boys". He must be writing a book on chemical mixtures.

We have just been informed of the marriage of Juarez compadre, James Kennedy. No particulars were stated but we are glad to offer our congratulations.

The coffers were swelled with much bounty by the Christmas and New Year dances. We are now in the clear including the liability. The Cavalry Club.

Something to Think About: This coming Fourth of July the big Water Carnival will be staged. The Cavalry is expected to put on a large part of the show. The Eighth Cavalry has offered to bring a polo team over, including their own horses. Battery A will have a team to compete. We must have races, drills and mounted sports of all kinds. When are we going to start? It will soon be a year since polo was started, and as yet we have not fielded that we can offer to a visiting team. We have been the guests of other teams many times and treated royally and only one time have we been able to invite a team to Carlebad, and that because of the interest shown by one person outside the troop.
