NUMBER 12.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY WILL BE HELD APRIL FIFTEENTH

PLEDGE TO GO ON BALLOT CHANGED SO MEANING IS PLAIN TO ALL

A fairly good representation of the members of the Eddy County Democratic Central Committee met in the court house last Saturday morning to fix the date of the coming primary which will be held on April 15th, and transact such other business as came before it.

Artesia was strongly represented by members of the committee and several prospective candidates. All candidates were called on by Chairman Stennis for a speech and their views as to when the primary should be held. All the candidates expressed themselves in favor of an early primary and the date set by the committee should be satisfactory to them.

Much discussion developed on wording the pledge to go on the ballot so no one, even though they be a Republican can misconstrue its meaning. Heretofore republicans have been voting in the Democratic primaries and contending that the pledge meant only to support those candidates at the general election whose names were voted on at the primaries. This was not the meaning of the pledge in the past and it was decided to change its wording so as to make it plain, therefore it will read: "In casting this ballot I pledge myself on my honor to support the nomination of the Democratic party at the November, 1922 election—including Democratic nominees for state, district and county offices." Any one who votes in the primary and votes a mixed ticket at the general election will prove dishonorable and show that they do not regard their promise enough to keep the pledge.

The business transacted by the committee was as follows: The date for holding the Democratic Primary for the nomination of district and county officers was fixed for April 15, 1922.

The 19th legislative district, composed of Eddy and Lea counties, being entitled to two representatives, and Lea county having heretofore passed a resolution to the effect that Lea County should be permitted to select one of said two candidates and Eddy county select one of said two candidates, it was voted that said resolution adopted by Lea County be ratified and that in the primary on April 15th, 1922 only one candidate for the Legislature should be selected from Eddy County.

The fees for entering the Primary were fixed at two per cent of the first year's salary of the office to which nomination was desired, with an additional one per cent in the event there was no opposition.

The rules governing the primary were readopted with the following changes:

Rule 4. Each qualified elector, in order to qualify to vote in the primary election, must be a Democrat. Any voter who has not heretofore been a Democrat may be such a Democrat as named above if he has in fact severed all party connection with all other political parties and does in good faith expect to associate and affiliate permanently with the Democratic party, and each voter must pledge himself as follows: "In casting this ballot I pledge myself on my honor to support the nomination of the Democratic party at the November, 1922 election—including Democratic nominees for state, district and county offices," which said pledge shall be printed at the head of the ballot.

Candidates are required to submit in writing to the Secretary of the Committee their application to have their names printed upon the ballot, accompanied by the required fee, at any time not later than twenty days previous to the 15th of April, 1922.

Each precinct will be allowed two members of the central committee for each 100 votes cast for governor or major fraction thereof and two women members will be added for every male representative on the committee.

DEATH OF AN AGED LADY

Mrs. Henrietta Marsh, an aged lady who was brought to Eddy County Hospital from Artesia, died at that institution Monday night, after a brief illness. She was brought to Carlshad about three weeks ago, having sustained a fall at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Brooks in Artesia, and needing treatment. She was almost ninety years old and the cause of death is given as heart failure. The body, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Brooks of Artesia, and a grandson, Frank Brooks of Dallas, was taken to the old home at Memphis, Tennessee, for burial, leaving here Wednesday night.

TROOP B TO BE INSPECTED AGAIN IN THREE MONTHS

Monday evening the officers and non-commissioned officers held a meeting to discuss the report of the inspection and to devise ways and means by which men can be brought to drill and the standard of Troop B again be placed on its high pedestal. The inspection officer has conditioned the organization and will hold another formal inspection within three months. This means three months of work, with at least forty-eight men out for drill every Wednesday night, conscientious endeavor with the result we will not only "get by" this inspection but will be such a noticeable improvement that the last visit will be forgotten and we will start a clean slate with a high record. We can do it in less time than three months but we cannot do it easily. It is hard for some to come to drill every Wednesday night and at first it will seem an inconvenience to many but there is not a man who lives within a radius of a few miles who cannot appear every Wednesday night at seven-forty-five, for one hour and a half. There is not a member at this time who does not realize the situation and who wants to see the final drastic measures that can be used to force a man to drill. You can be forced, but no one in Troop B need be forced. That may be an excellent system for the Mexican troops in the northern part of the state, but not for Troop "B."

Let's "up and at 'em" for a big inspection in May. Every man bring a man to drill. Let's get hard-boiled. It will bring back many pleasant memories and prove a big help on the drill floor. You remember how important you were when you succeeded in "handshaking" for those two stripes back in training camp days. Why not spread a little of that spirit. This outfit needs it. And don't think you have no chance to be made a "corporal." There is going to be many vacancies under this new system in other lines besides dinkies. "Handshaking" has lost the majority. We have work to do and those who have been playing "non-course" may have to dig up to old C. D. R. and learn some commands. A little competitive examination might cause a change of administration. And say buddies quit the bluffing. It don't help the men to respect your judgment. The non-com personnel is sadly in need of the respect of the entire troop. We are all in the same boat on this cavalry drill. You are only fooling yourself when you try and butt in on answering every question in a haphazard manner. You can show your worth in front of a troop. Warm your skull on that drill manual and you will be noticed in ample time.

The following extracts from a letter from the Militia Department at Washington is well worth thinking over.

"The underrating of the instruction being given the National Guard today, and in the overrating of the service during the war, is not an uncommon fault among the former officers and enlisted men joining the Guard today. In a sense it is a loyalty to their old organizations and the past service that is entirely praiseworthy, but is retarding its progress now, and the sooner they can put aside the belief that they learned all that was to be known about the business of being a soldier overseas, or in the training camps of the United States, the better it will be for themselves, and those associated with them in the National Guard now. Because the organizations in which they happen to be in now are not doing things the way they did during the war is no indication that what is being done today is wrong. In fact, the instruction being given the members of the Guard is passed on to the Guardsmen by Regular Army instructors who are in touch with the most recent changes in warfare, as worked out by experts, in this country. Much of the instruction that was given the men from this country was borrowed from the French and British and applicable only to the conditions that were faced on the Western front.

There are a lot of us yet, despite our war service, who are recruits when our present fund of information is compared with the facts about the army still to be learned.

The progress in military training was very seriously delayed after our great Civil War by reason of the fact that many people who engaged in that war were dissatisfied that everything connected with the war was known to them, that no further progress was possible at the present moment. Older officers of the Army now in service can testify that progress in the profession of arms was seriously blocked after the Civil War up until the nineties by reason of a feeling among the officers and men who participated in the war that they could learn nothing more concerning the profession of arms. Every effort should be made to emphasize the fact that the military profession is progressing; and if our citizen soldiery is to stop at the methods taught during the World War, they will be prepared only for a war that is past—for a war that is merely history; whereas their efforts should be concentrated

THE BANK MERGER

In keeping with the era of Carlshad's advancement is the merging of two prominent banks, the National Bank of Carlshad and the State National Bank, which occurred last Friday afternoon. The move had never been discussed outside of official circles and came as a distinct surprise to the community.

The State National Bank was in its infancy, having been founded only about five years. On March 10, 1917, they opened for business with a capital of $100,000 and with the following officers: G. M. Cooke, President; Tom Runyan, and W. J. Barber, vice-presidents; W. A. Craig, cashier; and Geo. Roberts, assistant cashier. On the Board of Directors were: G. M. Cooke, Dr. F. E. Doepf, A. C. Heard, Tom Runyan, H. C. Kerr, L. A. Swigard, W. W. Barber, C. R. Brice and W. A. Craig. Beginning when the nation was at the peak of high prices and reckless spending, with the loans of the cattle industry exceedingly heavy, the tasks of this new institution were never light. Then came the period of depression and low markets with the notes made at the high tide to be paid. The crisis came in March when they were forced to close their doors for a few months until a readjustment was made. They reopened with an increase in capital and still retained the confidence of the depositors and were progressing with a solid business at the time of the merger.

The history of the National Bank of Carlshad, commencing with the tales of the pioneer in the days when Carlshad was known as Eddy, and was hardly more than a frontier settlement, reads like a fascinating novel of the early days. It was at its founding known as the S. T. Bittling Bank. There is no available record as to the exact date but it is mentioned in newspaper files as early as 1893. On Friday, June 27, 1903, the directors held a special meeting and voted to convert the institution into a national bank to take the name of the National Bank of Carlshad. Its officers were: S. T. Bittling, president; H. A. Houser, cashier and J. O. Cameron, attorney. The Board of Directors were: S. T. Bittling, J. O. Cameron, Sam B. Smith, H. A. Houser, Morgan Livingston and Elliott Hendricks. The capital and surplus was rated at $40,000. It was at that time recognized as one of the strongest in the southwest. The president, S. T. Bittling, was a bank authority having spent many years as a banker in China. Morgan Livingston was a controlling power and was an active member until his death.

The present president, Joe Livingston began as a clerk in the early days and has held all offices from the bottom. He became cashier in 1915, succeeding John May. In 1921 he was elected President to fill the chair made vacant by the resignation of Elliott Hendricks. He is a recognized bank authority and has come to the top through the school of experience and hard work.

Under the new merger the officers of the National Bank will continue. The same kind and courteous service will be the motto of this combined institution.

TO THE VOTERS OF EDDY COUNTY.

I take this method of acquainting you with certain facts regarding my announcement for County Clerk, Eddy county.

I have been a resident of New Mexico for fifteen years, the entire time distributed between Roosevelt, Chavez and Eddy counties, the greater portion in office and clerical work and feel that I am entirely qualified to fill the office to which I aspire.

As to my past record, you can investigate to your hearts content. I am not afraid of consequences.

As to my politics, I am now and have always been a Democrat. After making your own survey of facts and conditions, should you feel that I am the proper individual for the place to which I aspire, I shall deem it an honor and will greatly appreciate your vote and influence at the coming primaries to be held on April fifteenth next.

Respectfully submitted,
G. W. SHEPHERD.

Morning worship will be conducted Sabbath at the Presbyterian church, and the interest with the sermon will be "The High Cost of Religion." Church school will be held at ten o'clock, and young people's meeting at seven. The book of Revelation is the special interest with meeting Wednesday evening.

In perfecting themselves for the WAR OF THE FUTURE.

It is believed this idea should be emphasized strongly in our citizen soldiery, without in any way depreciating the useful lessons which we learned during the great World War. We must not stop but continue our efforts so as to keep pace with the military progress of other nations.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE LUNCHEON AT THE CRAWFORD

The special hardware program that was to have been given at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the Crawford yesterday was postponed until a future date, but an enjoyable program was substituted and well received by the fifty three members present. This is the best attendance that has been for several weeks and the enthusiasm is showing a decided improvement. The failure of the Bujae-Tracy controversy was a disappointment. Mr. Tracy has been suddenly called to El Paso and left his reply in the hands of Will Craig to be read in the meeting but after some discussion a vote was taken in which it was decided to let the matter rest until the return of Mr. Tracy when the speech could be delivered in his own oratorical style.

Mr. McIlwain was given a unique introduction as a pie thief, responding with the information that the President of the Chamber of Commerce was a sleuth. Mr. McIlwain described a proposed pamphlet that the Chamber of Commerce is preparing to publish. This pamphlet will be of a size that will fit an average business envelope and will be mailed in large numbers to sections of the country where prospective tourists are located. It will contain an outline of the business opportunities of the town, its size, homes, schools, pleasure advantages, banks, churches, and all data that would be important to the homeseeker or tourist. It will state reasons and arguments for health seekers and pleasure tourists and a hearty invitation to all to visit the glorious Pecos Valley.

Captain Rand, a visitor from Wichita, Kansas, was well pleased with the advancement Carlshad is showing, stating that it spoke well for the boosters of the city. He compared the progress with towns of the same proportionate size where all steps toward progression were looked upon with disapproval and any action toward advancement was promptly killed by an opposing faction.

Mr. Rudolph, representing the Fisk Tire Company of El Paso, remarked that the general business conditions of Carlshad were better than in any town in the State.

Milton Smith was called upon for a statement regarding the question of trees. He stated that he had received prices and that he would be able to purchase as many as three thousand. The trees are in excellent shape and are four and six feet high. They are of the silver poplar variety, do not have cotton and are very hearty, having been planted quite extensively in this country and proved successful. They will be planted in front of any property that desires them.

Scoutmaster Rawlins gave an interesting talk on the coming Scout camp. About twelve troops have responded to the invitation to attend this camp with the total number up to date estimate to be about six hundred and eighty. This is a very conservative estimate as the number submitted by each troop has been cut to a half to allow for those who decide later not to come. The proportions are daily becoming larger than was expected when the matter was first arranged. Few realize the responsibility connected with the actual operation of a camp of this size. Water, lights and food must be arranged in ample time. Each scout pays only three dollars and fifty cents for rations. This sum is not large, but the traveling and other expenses are larger when a troop is brought from a distant town. Scoutmaster Rawlins will need an assistant who is competent in camp management. The lowest government ration rate is given as forty one cents per man per day. The correspondence connected with the project is also a large factor and will also need assistance. This all takes money which must be arranged. A Boy Scout Show is to be produced soon under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Edwards. This show is called the "Passing Show" and was produced in Roswell a short time ago with great success, both as an attraction and a box-office asset. The production is at present being staged in Albuquerque and Mrs. Edwards will arrive in Carlshad on March 16 to begin rehearsals for the Carlshad benefit.

John Wells gave an excellent two minute talk on "Chamber of Commerce Spirit." He stated that the year 1922 proved to be a banner year but 1922 must be even greater. The pledges for 1922 must not be forgotten and the spirit not be allowed to die out.

L. S. Perry followed with a humorous story at the proper moment, which brought a volume of applause. Will Craig offered a suggestion for town advertising. Some cities give strong advertising on their historical ruins in order to attract tourists. Carlshad has some excellent ruins that could be capitalized.

Mr. Hemenway gave the usual solemn close to the luncheon.

D. R. Harkey and R. R. Gibson returned yesterday from a business trip to Roswell.

LAKEWOOD LOCALS

Prof. F. M. Hatfield was taken sick with something like flu Tuesday evening, and on Wednesday afternoon our school was closed to await developments in his case, or in any other cases which may show up among the citizens of the town. Prof. and his daughter, Miss Iaez, went to their home in Carlshad Wednesday afternoon. If he improves, and there are no other cases develop, school will be resumed Monday morning.

There is very little sickness in our community at this time; a few cases of something like flu are reported, but if it is flu it is in a mild form. Among those reported sick during the past week are Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Arnold, fifteen miles west of town, and Mrs. W. L. McDonald, of Globe.

Alfred LeVelle, of the P. U. Company, was here three days this week, installing new telephones. Seven new ones were put in, and there are others to go in later.

Tax Assessor Joe Johns has been here part of this week interviewing our people as to their wealth.

H. D. Cass, proprietor of the Lakewood Mercantile Company, was a business visitor to Artesia Wednesday.

Frank Dauron, now of Loving, was visiting with his brother and old friends here Saturday night and Sunday.

W. B. Kehl and family have moved into their recently purchased home in the north part of town.

Elmer Baker, who has been staying at Carlshad, was a visitor here part of the past week.

G. H. Sellmeyer, of Loving, was here on business Sunday.

Agent E. E. Hales and wife have moved into the Arnold home in the north part of town.

Miss Allie Baker, of Carlshad, was a visitor in Lakewood Sunday.

W. I. Johnson, of Loving, was greeting old friends here Sunday.

Nearly everyone was surprised Thursday morning when they looked out and found the ground all covered with snow.

Lee Standard, who has been "laid off" for sometime, was called to Clovis to report for duty on a work train this week.

Our telegraph system has been taken out, and we will hereafter have to send our messages by the "Hello" route.

SCOUT NEWS

Work for the Field Meet in Roswell for scouts April 1st is progressing rapidly.

Doing good turns daily is the duty of Boy Scouts.

Any boy wanting examination for introduction to Scout Troop 1 can find John Owen Eaken, Preston Oliver, Walter Beach, Pat Higgins, Wallace Vest, Wallace Thorne, and a dozen others ready and capable of giving them.

Troop 1 held a very busy session Tuesday night. Large crowd present and much interest manifested.

Carlshad scouting has need of a live helper in the way of a scoutmaster. A new troop can be organized. New boys are waiting. What say you fellows, can you volunteer.

Troop 2 held its regular meeting Friday night and considered the regular routine of business.

How about the Radio Station? Let's get in line for a good one.

Summer time will soon be here. Soon the big camp. Get your uniform in time.

Sheriff Batton made a haul Wednesday evening when he found a still in San Jose. The still was at the home of Anita Basquez, a Mexican woman who is not acquainted with the law. A fifty gallon barrel about half full of mash was found, a boiler worm, and all the apparatus necessary for the manufacture of corn whiskey. The boiler seemed to have been used only once or twice from its appearance, being only slightly blackened on the bottom. The sheriff brought the apparatus and a jar full of the corn mash together with the alleged owner in to jail and she is awaiting the arrival of a federal officer to pass on the case. Mr. Batton thinks he has located another still but can do nothing until the arrival of the officer above alluded to.

GEORGE BECKETT SHOT - NOW IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

SHOT THROUGH SIDE, KIDNEY AND LIVER WHILE ENGAGED IN GUN BATTLE WITH BERT McDANIELS ON HIGHWAY EAST OF CARLSHAD.

Citizens of Carlshad and Eddy county were shocked Wednesday afternoon to learn that George Beckett, who is a prominent citizen of Carlshad and owner of one of the leading barber shops of the city, was in the Eddy county hospital with a bullet hole through his side, kidney and liver and the bullet lodged against his backbone.

Mr. Beckett was shot in a gun fight with Bert McDaniels, who is a plumber in the employ of the Public Utilities Company and who is one of Carlshad's highly respected, hard-working citizens. The fight commenced after McDaniels found his wife and Beckett in McDaniels' automobile stopped close to the highway with the curtains down about three o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The shooting took place just after McDaniels had looked in the back window of the car, the curtain being up on that window. The glass on that window shows that one shot went through it from the outside which was the one which hit and wounded Beckett, and one shot was fired from within the car at McDaniels. After Beckett fell McDaniels helped him into Beckett's touring car, cranked it for him and commanded Mrs. McDaniels to bring him to the hospital, which she did and McDaniels brought the automobile in to Weaver's Garage where it has been examined during the past few days by many curious friends of both parties to the attack.

From various sources it is said the trouble first started about a year, and a half ago when McDaniels returned unexpectedly from the Texas oil fields and found Beckett in the McDaniels home. He chased Beckett away at that time and divorced his wife, but about three months ago the McDaniels were remarried and it is said Beckett wanted to let them alone. Wednesday afternoon the McDaniels limousine was parked in the alley back of the Weaver's Garage and Xury White wished to run the large municipal truck through the alley but could not do so on account of the limousine, so he went to where McDaniels was working and asked him to move the car so he might pass. McDaniels willingly consented to go with him and do so, but when they got to the alley the limousine was gone. McDaniels suspected something wrong, so it is said he got in a Public Utilities truck and went in search of his wife first on the road north of this city leading to the Globe Plaster and Mining company's mill at Globe but when a few miles out he met Mr. Hubert and another gentleman and inquired of them if they had seen his car on that road. On being informed that they had not seen the car, McDaniels came back to town and took the highway east of here and found the limousine and Beckett's car several miles out. He went up to his car, looked in the back window and the shooting affray immediately took place with the result as stated above.

After sending Beckett to the hospital in care of his wife McDaniels brought his car to town, then went back and got the Public Utilities company's truck and went to work again, being arrested late that evening and is in jail now waiting the outcome of the shooting so a preliminary trial may be held.

The whole affair is deplorable as Beckett has a wife and five children and the McDaniels have one son. Physicians probed for the bullet but were unsuccessful in extracting it and were forced to quit on account of hemorrhages and the weakened condition of their patient. Word from the hospital this morning was to the effect that Mr. Beckett had a bad night last night but was resting easier this morning. There is but slight hopes of his recovery.

Little Anna Lee Love observed her tenth birthday anniversary last Saturday at the home of her parents in North Carlshad, in a way in which children find their greatest pleasure, by having a party. Ten little girls were her guests and had a happy time with various games provided for their enjoyment and afterwards had a fine treat of apples and popcorn, cake and banana ice cream. Anna Lee was remembered with some nice presents from her friends and enters her eleventh year with the best wishes of all who know her.

The Campfire Girls of the city gave their Ceremonial meeting at the Christian church last Saturday night. The meeting was mostly for the benefit of the mothers of the members, many of whom were present to witness the pretty ceremony. The girls were in their ceremonial costumes and had their heads and other adornments, and sat around a lighted candle, while they recited their verses, sang their songs and practiced their Indian steps. Two girls were initiated, Loverna Hiller and Edith Herring, which fills up the camp, making a membership of twenty. In the election of officers, Nancy Ervin Little was selected president, Loverna Hiller secretary and Majorie Snow treasurer. The camp is working under a charter, from the headquarters at New York, and is being very ably cared for under the guardianship of Mrs. Stockwell, who is greatly interested in the girls, and does all she can to help them in their pleasures.

DEATH OF DR. T. B. QUIREY

A telegram to Mrs. Walter Craft announces the death in Denver of Dr. T. B. Quirey, formerly a practicing physician in this city, and for many years a valued citizen of this county. The death occurred at 2 A. M. Wednesday morning, and the body was taken to the old home at Sullivan, Kentucky, for interment.

Dr. Quirey came here with his wife and one daughter, Alice, about thirteen years ago from Kentucky, and has called this place home since then, only leaving in the summers for points in Colorado, because of his health, he being a victim of tuberculosis. During his residence here another little daughter, Irma Jean, was given to bless their home and the two children, with the devoted wife, survive.

He made a brave fight, always being cheerful and manifested the courage of the Christian gentleman, while knowing full well the ultimate end of his life. The family left here last May for Colorado and Dr. Quirey for a time seemed to improve in the higher altitudes, but contracted the influenza a short time ago and from then death came quickly. A man skilled in his profession, a true friend, a devoted husband and father, he measured up in all the walks of life to the highest standard to be attained by any man; that of a true Christian.

Here where he was so well known and where he spent many useful years, profound sympathy is expressed for the bereaved family, and sorrow for their great loss.

E. S. Moore, assistant supervisor of collectors for the Internal Revenue Service, was in Carlsbad the first of the week, looking into some complaints that had reached the service in regard to discourtesy on the part of one of the collectors.

ANOTHER CLASS PARTY

"Tacky" parties among the young people of the city have been numerous and from what we can learn, have proven very popular. The girls belonging to Mrs. Platt's Sunday School class, of the Baptist school, held a delightful gathering at the church parlors last Friday night. The affair had been planned for some time, but the teacher of the class being ill another chaperone had to be invited. This was Mrs. Nellie White and she served very acceptably in that role. The very tasteful girl was Carrie Bartlett, and she received a small doll, of rather a brunette complexion, as a recognition of her excellence in that line.

The girls played rook, buncie and a variety of games and were afterwards served with jello and whipped cream, and cake and cocoa as refreshments. The following members of the class shared in the pleasures of the evening: Margaret Hilson, Carrie Bartlett, Nell Chilcoat, Fromona Leck, Mary Bartlett, Edna Spratt, Mildred Mahan, and Evelyn McFarland.

This week has been set apart as "Membership Week" for the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and as a result a committee from the local union was out this week soliciting members in this great organization. Large pictures of the three men who in the estimation of many have done the most toward bringing about the ideals of the union, viz: Washington, Lincoln and Wilson adorn the east window in the postoffice. Selections from the sayings of these great men are also seen, and the entire exhibit is worthy of more than a passing notice.

LESSON FOR MARCH 12

AMOS WARNS ISRAEL (TEMPERANCE LESSON)

LESSON TEXT—Amos 4:1-5.
GOLDEN TEXT—Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise.—Prov. 20:1.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Isa. 5:1, 2, 3, 4; Hos. 4:11; Gal. 3:21-22.
PRIMARY TOPIC—God Sends Amos on an Errand.

JUNIOR TOPIC—A Prophet Who Was a Friend to the Poor.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Consequences of Self-Indulgence.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Social Evils Yet to Be Conquered.

The kingdom of Israel reached a high state of prosperity in the time of Jeroboam II, and with it came a condition of luxury, corruption and wickedness.

The judgment woe of this lesson is directed against the sins of the upper classes in Samaria. The same sins are practiced in America, in the nation and in the church. With the increase of wealth in America has come luxury, corruption and gross wickedness which staggers the imagination. It behooves all to give a listening ear, for God will eventually enter into judgment. Our lesson is a temperance lesson. Temperance applies to other things than indulgence in intoxicating liquor. Our age is intoxicated with pleasure, pursuit of gain and selfish ambition.

1. Reckless Security (vv. 1-3). They were blind to the perils that surrounded them. They were living in a fool's paradise, closing their eyes to the approaching storm of judgment as predicted by Amos. They trusted in the mountains of Samaria for their protection. They regarded their city as impregnable. They no doubt regarded the utterance of Amos as impracticable—the dreams of a fanatic. The tragic thing about this blindness on the part of the chief ones of the nation was they were so puffed up with pride that they failed to read the signs of the times in the light of history (v. 2). The cities of Calneh and Hamath, though great and mighty, had fallen. To disregard the lessons of history, to dismiss the thought of impending judgment, is to bring near the "seat of violence" (v. 3). Let chaotic Europe and Russia be the red lights of warning to America, and let all injustice and class selfishness be laid aside.

II. Luxury (vv. 4-6). The luxury of these upper classes in Samaria expressed itself in: 1. Extravagant furniture (v. 4). They had beds of ivory—perhaps wood inlaid with ivory. Costly as their furniture was in that day, it was commonplace as compared to some of the expensive furniture and fittings in our great cities.

2. Laziness (v. 4). They stretched themselves upon their couches—lived lives of indolence. Such is the way of many still.

3. Feasted on delicacies (v. 4). The implication here is that they had their dainties out of season. This is what many of the rich pride themselves in.

4. Adorn their feasts with music (v. 5). They sang idle songs—even invented musical instruments for this purpose. They prostituted the noble art of music to their sensual feasts.

5. They drank wine (v. 6). They were not content with ordinary drinking vessels. They drank from bowls, indicating excessive drinking. They were so mastered by the intoxicating cup, that their feasts which were adorned with the refinements of music ended in drunkenness.

III. Failure to Grieve for Joseph (v. 6). Joseph here stands for Ephraim and Manasse, his two sons. Ephraim became the principal tribe of the northern kingdom, so Joseph is used as a synonym for the nation. The upper classes were indulging in these effeminate luxuries, entirely indifferent to the groanings of the masses. And whenever such a condition exists in a nation there is need of Amos to thunder God's judgment upon those who are guilty of it.

IV. The inevitable issue (vv. 7, 8). 1. They shall go into captivity (v. 7). The northern nation was first in sin, therefore first to go into captivity. What a striking contrast this picture! Instead of lying on ivory couches feasting upon dainties, they are with the suffering exiles.

2. The certainty of the issue (v. 8). It is inevitable because of God's nature. He is a God of justice. He has sworn that judgment shall fall. He is the God of hosts—the controller of the whole universe, therefore none can escape. God hates the wickedness of the world, and He will bring into judgment the men and women who revel in luxury with no concern for the poor and needy. Though God waits long, He does not forget. The only escape for America is repentance.

Abide in Him. And now, little children, abide in Him; that when He shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed at His coming.—1 John 2:28.

Great Mischiefs. Great mischiefs happen more often from folly, meanness, and vanity, than from the greater sins of avarice and ambition.—Burke.

Chance to Be Saved. Don't despair of a student if he has one clear idea.—Emmons.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE TO MEET IN THIS CITY

Carlsbad people, and more especially Methodists, are looking forward with pleasurable anticipations to the meeting of the district conference, which will convene in the Methodist church next week. Wednesday, the 15th instant, and continue for two days, closing the night of the 16th. The bounds of the Roswell district, to which this church belongs, extend from Clovis on the north to Pecos, and east of Pecos as far as Odessa. In the district are nineteen churches, and ministers and delegates to the number of forty-five are expected to attend the sessions. Bishop DuBose will preside at the sessions of the conference, and will preach the two nights at 7:30 o'clock during the meeting. Other men of prominence in the Methodist Church, south, will likely be present, among them Dr. Lyon, of Lubbock, Texas, B. L. Nance, of El Paso, and likely Dr. Nollner, of Nashville, Tennessee, who is secretary of the Epworth League Board, and a prominent man in southern Methodism.

During the conference, a sermon will be preached each day at 11 o'clock and at some time during the meeting a memorial service will be held in honor of Rev. George H. Givan, who recently passed on from San Bernardino, California, after having served the church here for four years; a centenary sermon will also be preached some time during the meeting. The ladies of the congregation have arranged to serve a dinner each day to the ministers and delegates at the noon hour at the rooms in the rear of the church. Special music by the choir will also be a feature of the meetings.

Service Our Business

When we say we're here to serve you we mean more than just looking at your battery, putting in a little water and saying goodbye.

Service, the way we say it, means doing everything we possibly can to see that you get every last mile and fraction of a mile out of that battery. That's our business!

Never mind if your battery isn't a Willard. We'll look after it just as faithfully as if it were. We want you to know what service at Battery Headquarters is like!

At a meeting of the society bearing the above name, held at the home of Mrs. T. E. Williams, March 1st, the following officers were elected to serve the ensuing year and will be installed into their respective places at the next regular meeting.

President, Mrs. F. E. Wilson, vice-president, Miss Jennie Linn, recording secretary, Mrs. J. W. Armstrong, corresponding secretary, Mrs. George O'Connor, treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Crawford, Chaplain, Mrs. C. H. McLenathan, Guard, Mrs. Frank A. Kinkel.

The ladies enjoyed a delicious one o'clock luncheon, Meadames Wilson and Williams being the joint hostesses.

Carlsbad people are having a hard time with the prevailing epidemic of colds and la grippe. Not many serious cases are reported. Among others suffering from the disease are Bea Stetson, Jean Brickett and wife, the Ricmann family, Miss Lovett, little baby Geer Moore, David Geer and many others. While the disease is quite uncomfortable while it lasts, no deaths have occurred as a direct result in Carlsbad up to this time.

BAZAAR

Attention is called to the bazaar to be put on by the ladies of the Christian church, the 18th of this month. This will be held at the Armory and be a little different from other bazaars. There will be served a chicken pie dinner, with all that implies, and booths for the sale of the various articles usually found in such places. An Apron booth, miscellaneous and curio booth, a booth where you can find all kinds of poultry, live and dressed, and also butter, eggs, etc., there will be a fish pond for the children and a specialty is to be made of music both vocal and instrumental, which will be furnished at intervals, especially during the meal. A floor walker has been provided, and the ladies hope to realize enough from their combined efforts to paint their house of worship and also add some improvement on the inside of the building. They are among our best and most energetic women, and what they undertake to do is generally done well, and a liberal patronage should be given them.

VALLEY SPORTS

Roswell High School took all honors in the Peccos Valley championship basketball tournament held in Roswell last week. Some of the best basketball of the season was witnessed by the fans. Seven preliminary games and two finals were played.

Friday afternoon Roswell defeated Ft. Sumner by a score of 29 to 7, thus wiping out the defeat administered by Ft. Sumner when Roswell went there a few weeks ago. This match proved to be the swiftest and the hardest fought of the series. Captain then defeated Hope by a score of 32 to 15. It would have been a great event for a Carlsbad audience to witness. We are sure Captain deserves all the honors shown as the handicaps are easily realized. But in all probability the state trials that the Hope club employed were hardly noticed as we can well remember it was only a few seasons ago when Roswell was in about the same standing as the Hope club. But Roswell now ranks with the best and it is to be "hoped" that the Hope aggregation is improved by the opening of next season. Everyone admits that there are some excellent reitows and good sportsmen in the line and no one can connect that spirit of crookedness to the team proper. The officials and backing of the team is the answer, and matchmakers next season should investigate before any club is booked that has the effect of making a mob and a near-riot out of an audience of fans.

Floyd lost to Clovis and Artesia to Hagerman. Hagerman girls' team defeated Artesia but lost to the Roswell High School girls. Hagerman played a close game with Clovis but lost by a narrow margin. A correspondent from Hagerman is of the belief that Hagerman is not given a fair end of the contest. They were forced to play two hard games consecutively while Roswell was held back resting for the finals and playing a team that was tired from a hard game. Appears like Roswell might be up to old tricks. No doubt many of the old time sporting fans remember the prize fight when the lights went out and turned on to find the referee counting out a man while a second was busily hiding the remains of a chair which had been used as an emergency knock-out effect. Later in the season a popular fan who was a heavy "better" remarked at a sporting-headquarters in El Paso: "If John Connely were to fight Jack Johnson in Roswell, I would bet on Connely or if the White Sox were to play the Roswells Stars in Roswell, I would put my last peso on Roswell for a walk-a-way."

Homer Gragg received a letter from Hagerman this week to the effect that a A. R. Wimberly Memorial Tennis Association, of forty enthusiastic members had been formed and are anxious for a tournament in the near future. They ended the communication by stating that they thought they had improved "Wal, Wal, we shall see; we shall see." The tennis season is just about upon us and at the close of last season we were going strong. The old stars are beginning to appear on the courts and in addition there is some new material that is showing up in great class. J. B. Morris, Luther Perry, Homer Gragg, and Roscoe Etter are still in the game. Dr. Westfall, Francis and Elliott Perry are among the new stars. The Boy Scouts have the Forehand-Thomas last season double champions and rumor has it that the Cavalry Club is to organize a squad of former stars. The outlook for a big season is the best ever. Some have suggested reorganizing the Tennis Club that was started many years ago but has been allowed to drop out of sight. A new court is needed as the one concrete court will not accommodate all who will wish to play in the evenings after work hours. With the many players appearing a small revenue could be collected to build a first class clay court adjoining the concrete one.

SIGNIFICANT NEWS

A news item in the The Herald's business news page Saturday announced that the first cotton seed oil mill in New Mexico is ready to begin operations at Carlsbad in Eddy county.

The article is one of the most significant and important news items of the year, since it points the way to a wholly new industrial development of New Mexico and one which now promises to be far-reaching in its effects upon wealth production and population.

It is true that cotton has been grown successfully for a number of years under the Carlsbad irrigation project, but it has been believed, until quite recently that the plant would not thrive in other than the mild climate and under favorable conditions of water supply and soil found on the project lands. Experiments seem to have proved, however that there is sufficient rainfall for successful cotton growing over much of the plains country in southeastern New Mexico and as far north as Portales some experimental plantings is being done. Experts seem to be confident that this extension of the cotton growing area will prove successful and permanent. If it does another great money producing crop will have been added to the state's list of resources as a vast area of land is available in that section of New Mexico.

Should cotton growing prove successful on the east side it will, no doubt, extend to the southern tier of counties where climate and soil conditions are much the same. The new cotton oil mill at Carlsbad will be the forerunner of many such mills. A stock-feeding resource, now almost prohibited by high freight rates, will become available for livestock growers. A considerable increase in population will be attracted.

We have not yet begun the sounding of the agricultural resources of New Mexico. A vast irrigable area remains to be reclaimed, but in the long run the far greater farmed area will be that where crops are grown without irrigation—the dryland farming which is long since past the experimental stage in areas comprising more than a third of the state—Albuquerque Herald.

J. F. Hunick yesterday received word of the death of his father, which occurred in San Diego, California, Wednesday afternoon. F. W. Hunick, the father, was a man of ninety-three years of age, and while no particulars were given in the message, the supposition is that death came suddenly, from the fact that his son here had not been notified of any illness. One year ago, Mr. Hunick made a trip to Wisconsin, and settled the estate of a son-in-law who had deceased, and came from there to Iowa and transacted business leaving there for San Diego his home. A wonderful achievement for a man of the age of ninety-two years. J. F. Hunick left last night for San Diego, where his mother and two brothers and three sisters are living, and which has been the family home for ten years.

ORDINANCE NO. 169.

AN ORDINANCE TO CONTRACT AN INDEBTEDNESS ON THE BEHALF OF THE CITY OF CARLSBAD, NEW MEXICO, AND UPON THE CREDIT THEREOF BY ISSUING THE BONDS OF SAID CITY TO THE AMOUNT OF TWENTY-SIX THOUSAND DOLLARS ($26,000.00), FOR THE PURPOSE OF RAISING FUNDS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF A MUNICIPAL BUILDING FOR SAID CITY, PRESCRIBING THE FORM OF SAID BONDS AND PROVIDING FOR THE LEVYING OF TAXES TO PAY THE PRINCIPAL OF AND INTEREST ON SAID BONDS, AND REPEALING ORDINANCE NO. 168.

WHEREAS, a majority of the qualified electors of the City of Carlsbad, New Mexico, voting on the question at the regular municipal election held in said City of Carlsbad on Tuesday, the 6th day of April, A. D. 1920, did by vote authorize the issuance of the bonds of said City in the aggregate principal amount of Forty Thousand Dollars ($40,000.00) for the purpose of providing funds for the construction and furnishing of a municipal building for said City; and

WHEREAS, the assessed valuation of said City of Carlsbad, New Mexico, for the year 1921 was One Million Nine Hundred and Eighty-Six Dollars ($1,984,560.00); and

WHEREAS, the City of Carlsbad, New Mexico, has outstanding a bonded indebtedness of Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000.00), and none other, said bonds having been issued for the purpose of raising funds to construct a sanitary sewer in said City; and

WHEREAS, the City of Carlsbad may legally issue bonds for the purpose of raising funds for the construction of a municipal building only to the amount of 1-3 per cent of the assessed valuation of the property within said City as shown by the preceding assessment; and

WHEREAS, there was passed and adopted on the 23rd day of February, A. D. 1922, Ordinance No. 165 which Ordinance erroneously recited the 1920 assessed valuation when in fact the 1921 assessed valuation as heretofore shown should have been recited; and

WHEREAS, said City now desires to issue such bonds to the amount of Twenty Six Thousand Dollars ($26,000.00), for the purpose above stated and the City Council being advised of the considerable reduction in the cost of building at this time as compared with building costs in 1921, are of the opinion that a municipal building may now be built in said City for Twenty-Six Thousand Dollars ($26,000.00), which will be adequate for the needs of said City for the time being and for a considerable time in the future; now, therefore,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CARLSBAD, NEW MEXICO:

Section 1. That pursuant to the authority so granted as above stated for the purpose of providing funds for the construction and equipment of a municipal building, the City of Carlsbad shall issue its negotiable coupon bonds in the aggregate principal amount of Twenty-Six Thousand Dollars ($26,000.00), consisting of twenty-six (26) bonds in the denomination of One Thousand Dollars ($1000.00) each, numbered consecutively from one (1) to twenty-six (26), inclusive, payable in lawful money of the United States of America, and bearing interest from and after the first day of November, A. D. 1921, at the rate of six per centum (6 per cent) per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of May and the first day of November in each year as evidenced by coupons attached to said bonds. Said bonds shall be absolutely due and payable on the first day of November, A. D. 1941, but shall be redeemable at the option of the City on or at any time after the first day of November, A. D. 1931; and said bonds and the coupons attached thereto shall be payable at the banking house of Kountze Brothers, in the City of New York, U. S. A.; said bonds shall bear date the first day of November, A. D. 1921, shall be signed by the Mayor sealed

PUBLIC NOTICE OF ANNUAL WATER CHARGES

CARLSBAD IRRIGATION PROJECT NEW MEXICO

Department of the Interior.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13, 1922.

1. Annual Operation and Maintenance Charges for Project Lands. The annual operation and maintenance charge for the irrigation season of 1922 and thereafter until further notice against all lands of the Carlsbad Irrigation Project, New Mexico, under public notice, shall be a minimum charge of One Dollar and Eighty-Five Cents ($1.85) per irrigable acre, whether water is used or not, which charge will permit the delivery of not to exceed two acre-feet of water per irrigable acre, and further quantities shall be furnished for Seventy-Five (75) cents per acre foot. An additional charge of fifteen (15) cents an acre-foot will be made for water used in the winter season beginning at the close of the irrigation season and ending March 10, which water would otherwise waste over the spillways at Lake Avalon. All operation and maintenance charges will be due and payable on December 31, following the irrigation season.

2. Water Rental Charges for Lands Outside the Project. For excess water which may be furnished lands outside the limits of the Carlsbad project, the charge shall be as follows:

For the first acre-foot, $1.55.
For the first acre-foot, $1.55.
For an additional one-half acre-foot, $.50.

All of said water rental charges are payable in advance.

E. C. FINNEY,
First Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

MRS. MILDRED EDWARDS COMING

The local scouts have secured the services of Mrs. Edwards to put on the big play that recently took Roswell by storm and more recently won such praise in Albuquerque. The lady was employed by the Kiwanis Clubs of both cities and the recommendations furnished by both organizations remove every doubt as to the ability of the lady and the attractiveness of the play. Some forty of our local talent will be used in the play and it will be one of the greatest ever staged here. The date will be announced next week.

L. J. Clarke returned Monday night from an extensive trip thru parts of Texas, where he had not been for twenty-seven years. He visited in Lancaster where the second largest brick yard in the United States is located, and also spent some time in Ferris, Ellis County, and in Wilmer, east of Lancaster. His visit to Dallas, was especially interesting, and he reports business in that city as good and crop conditions promising. But from there on west everything is very dry. Dallas led the United States in building during the month of January.

A BABY PARTY

Nettie Belle Batton has entered society at an early age, entertaining a few friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Batton, in West Carlsbad last Saturday. As the young lady had just reached her first birthday anniversary on that date, the guests were sweet faced babies, and the entire afternoon was filled with pleasure to mothers and children.

Souvenirs of bath-tub dolls were given to the babies who were: Douglas Groves Roberts, Fred Wilson, Junior, Virginia Wright Donley, Eunice Martha Carter, Harry McKim, Junior, Phyllis Louise Unruh, Robert Edgar Williams. A salad course was served the accompanying mothers, and a birthday cake, with one tiny candle, was in evidence. The babies, all who were old enough, sat on the floor and played, while the mothers present descended on the charms of their offspring. Meadames W. E. Carter, E. A. Roberts, Edgar Williams, Harry McKim, W. G. Donley, Wilson, Unruh, Edgar Williams, T. J. Kindel, George Batton, the two grandmothers of the little honoree, and Mrs. Asbury Moore, an old friend of the family, were the guests. May the little one have many more happy birthday anniversaries and continue to occupy the same place in the affection of her many friends.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

The Service Transfer Line operated by Nelson & Montgomery has not dissolved, and we are doing business at the old stand, and your patronage is solicited.

SAM MONTGOMERY.

Paul Mahan has taken a position as manager of the Piggly Wiggly store which is almost ready for business in the old postoffice building, the room having been fitted up for that purpose.

A most interesting meeting of the local W. C. T. U. was held at the Presbyterian church Wednesday of this week. About thirty were in attendance, among others several candidates for county offices. Talks were made by Roy Waller, T. J. Cooper and Mr. Storey, of Artesia, candidates for the nomination of sheriff, also by Mrs. Lellaeta Hanson and Miss Inez Jones, who are candidates for the clerk's office. The ladies of the Union in their drive this week, secured a number of new members and a goodly sum for the treasury. Among other business transacted was the agreement to purchase a framed picture of the founder of the society, Miss Frances E. Willard, which will be placed in Carlsbad High School. A movement is also on foot to have the picture of Miss Clara Barton also placed on the walls of the High School building. The pictures of these famous women who have done so much to make the world a better place to live in will be an inspiration to the pupils.

ADVERTISING BRINGS RESULTS

No extraordinary vision or penetration are required to determine that this is a day of advertising—one in which all enterprises are being propagated through the press of the country.

The churches realize the worth of advertising and are taking space in the newspapers in advance of all their regular services. In connection with special services, they are advertising the various features, in order that the people may know what is being offered for their information, their entertainment, or education in the church programs.

No less are the schools advertising for they know that their messages must be put over to the patrons, to the pupils to the general public. So the schools are found to be taking considerable advertising space in the larger, as well as in the smaller communities. The people have learned to look in the printed page for advertising news, not by any means the least important of the makings of the paper.

Then there comes in the long list of commercial, industrial, and transportation enterprises, each and all of which recognize the worth of advertising—that is, if they are staying in, and growing in their respective fields. It is of interest to note that business failures of the past year were those who did not advertise. At this rate the non-advertisers will soon be off the map. This is not a wish, but it is merely pointing out the fact that the people are demanding to know thru the columns of the various publications what it is that is being offered them in the various lines.

Those who have held to the idea that money expended in advertising is a donation, or that it is something that gives but uncertain returns, have had many sad awakenings. They are having to rework their schedules to stay in the game. The home paper is the best advertising medium, and after that the paper printed at some point outside, with a good circulation in the local field comes in for its share of work. But to fail to advertise is courting failure—Amarillo News.

The modern violin is superior to the ancient, according to the decision of a critical audience of music students and musicians of Paris. Six old violins and six of modern make were selected for the test. Among the old violins were instruments by Stradivari, Guadagnini and Mmatti. All 12 were numbered and lots were cast for the order in which they should be played. Before an audience of critics in a darkened conservatory, the player performed on each violin in succession. Like the audience, he was in the dark and could not know what violin he had in his hands. Each member in the audience held a voting card and an essay victory went to the moderns.

REAL SERVICE

The average American is used to quick action.

If Central fails to say "Number" within five seconds after the telephone receiver is removed we complain about slow service.

As is often the case, we fail to appreciate advantages close at home. American travelers abroad find out what slow telephone service really means. Over the government telephone lines in European countries it is sometimes necessary to make application to talk several hours ahead of time and then wait your turn for your call to be placed. In addition, on busy circuits conversations are often limited to 3 to 5 minutes. At the end of that time your connections are often cut and you must make a new application and wait several hours more.

This is government service in Europe. How long would we tolerate such a condition from our private companies in America?

Private initiative and enterprise which depend on public good will for support always render better service than government monopoly which is unaffected one way or the other by inconveniences or expense for customers.

Washington, D. C.—The President seems to have taken a leaf from the back of a certain Congressman who used to represent a Missouri District in years gone by. Whenever any man became annoying with his opposition to the Congressman, this Member got the fellow a job—a job good enough to put him out of the fight. He didn't believe in rewarding his friends so much as in punishing his enemies. President Harding has so maneuvered as to secure the consent of Senator Kenyon to take United States Judgeship out in Iowa—which removes one of the leaders of the Farm Bloc in the Senate. It will be interesting to watch the melting away of that same Farm Bloc under the seductive influence of life-long appointments. Most men are so uncertain as to their political future that they are easily caught by the life-tenure feature of the job. Kenyon will secure the place long held by Judge Walter I. Smith. Smith was a conspicuous and growing figure in Congress when he was given the Judgeship; he has hardly been heard of since. So it will be with Kenyon; after a few months he will have to fall from a tenth-story window or take the Presidency of a baseball league to get his name in the papers, but he will have a life-time job. Another good man gone wrong, but it gives the Democrats and Progressives of Iowa a chance to get together and select his successor. Amalgamation is the only logical thing for those two bodies of voters seeking the same end—the defeat of the reactionary element now in the Republican saddle.

with the seal of said City, attested by the City Clerk, and shall be recorded in a book to be kept for that purpose by said City Clerk; all coupons shall bear the engraved facsimile signature of the Mayor and City Clerk, of said City.

Section 2. Said bonds shall be in substantially the following form, to-wit:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.
STATE OF NEW MEXICO. COUNTY OF EDDY.
CITY OF CARLSBAD.
MUNICIPAL BUILDING BOND

No. _____ $1,000.00
The City of Carlsbad, in the County of Eddy and State of New Mexico, for value received, hereby acknowledges itself indebted and promises to pay to the bearer hereof the sum of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS in lawful money of the United States of America, on the first day of November, A. D. 1941, reserving the right however to pay the same on or at any time after the first day of November, A. D. 1931, with interest thereon at the rate of six per centum (6 per cent) per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of May and the first day of November in each year, upon presentation and surrender of the annexed coupons as they severally become due, both the principal hereof and the interest hereon being payable at the Banking House of Kountze Brothers, in the City of New York, U. S. A.

This bond is issued by the City Council of the City of Carlsbad, New Mexico, for the purpose of erecting a public municipal building in and for said City, under the authority of and in full compliance with the Constitution of the State of New Mexico, and the provisions of Section 3564, Sub-section Six, of the New Mexico Statutes, Annotated, Codification 1915, and all laws amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, and an ordinance duly adopted and made a law of said City prior to the issuance of this bond; and under the authority of a vote of the duly qualified electors of said City of Carlsbad, taken at a regular municipal election duly called and legally held therein on the sixth day of April, A. D. 1920.

It is hereby certified that all requirements of law have been fully complied with by the proper officers in the issue of this bond; that the total indebtedness of said City, including that of this bond, does not exceed any limit of indebtedness prescribed by the Constitution or laws of the State of New Mexico; and that provision has been made in full conformity with law for the levy and collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on this bond and also the principal thereof when they become due.

The full faith and credit of the City of Carlsbad, New Mexico, are hereby pledged for the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on this bond.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, the City Council of the City of Carlsbad has caused this bond to be signed by the Mayor of said City, and sealed with the seal of said City, attested by the Clerk thereof; and the interest coupons thereto attached to be signed with the engraved facsimile signature of said officers the first day of November, A. D. 1921.

Clerk.

Section 3. That after the execution of said bonds as provided herein, the same shall be delivered by the City Treasurer to the lawful purchaser, upon the payment of the purchase price thereof; the said Treasurer shall hold the proceeds of said issue of bonds in a separate fund subject to the order of the City Council of said City of Carlsbad, to be used exclusively for the purpose of erecting a public municipal building in and for said City, but the purchaser of said bonds, or any subsequent holder of any one or more of the same shall be in no wise responsible for the application of the proceeds of the sale of said bonds by the Treasurer or any of the officers of said City, and when said bonds shall have been delivered to the said purchaser, their legality or the legality of the indebtedness created by said bonds shall not be open to contest by any person or persons, corporation or corporations, for or on behalf of the said City for any reason whatever.

Section 4. That the semi-annual interest due on said bonds on May 1, 1922, and on November 1, 1922, shall be paid out of the general fund of said City, and for the purpose of reimbursing said fund and for the further purpose of paying the interest on said bonds and the principal thereof as they mature, there shall be levied in addition to all other taxes, the following direct annual taxes, to-wit:

In the year 1922, a tax sufficient to produce the sum of $3,120.00 for interest;

In each of the years 1923 to 1930, inclusive, a tax sufficient to produce the sum of $1,560.00 for interest;

In each of the years 1931 to 1940, inclusive, a tax sufficient to produce the sum of $1,560.00, being $1,560.00 for interest and $2,600.00 for principal.

And said taxes, when collected, shall be applied solely for the purpose of the payment of said interest and principal of said bonds, respectively, and for no other purpose whatever, until the indebtedness so contracted under this ordinance, principal and interest, shall have been fully paid, satisfied and discharged, but nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prevent said City from applying any other funds that may be in the City Treasury and available for that purpose to the payment of said interest or principal, as the same respectively mature, and the levy or levies herein provided for may thereupon to that extent be diminished; and the same hereinbefore provided for to meet the interest on said bonds and to discharge the principal thereof when due are hereby appropriated for that purpose, and said amount for each year shall also be included in the annual appropriation bills passed by the City Council of said City in each year respectively.

Section 5. It shall be the duty of the City Council of said City, annually, at the time and in the manner provided by law for levying other city taxes, if such action shall be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this ordinance, to ratify and carry out the provisions hereof with reference to the levying and collection of taxes; and shall require the officers of and for said City to levy, extend and collect such taxes in the manner provided by law for the purpose of creating a fund for the payment of the principal of said bonds as hereinbefore specified.

Section 6. All ordinances, by-laws and regulations of the City of Carlsbad, New Mexico, in conflict with this ordinance, and especially Ordinance No. 163, are hereby repealed.

Section 7. This ordinance shall be and remain irrevocable until said bonds and the interest thereon shall have been fully paid, satisfied and discharged, as herein provided.

Passed, approved and adopted this 9th day of March, A. D. 1922.

J. D. HUDGINS, Mayor.

TWO DAYS' EXPERIENCE IN RUNNING FOR OFFICE

(By W. M. Todd)

I was in the race for a county office just two days. But those two days were jammed full of amusing incidents and experiences. A brief story of them is here given as a slight contribution to the gayety of nations, with no motive of criticism of anybody or anything. It may be interesting to others in whose breast the seeds of official aspiration are germinating.

Most people who run for office do so because they desire the emoluments. They covet the honor of an official position, and the salary often fills a long felt want. An office is thus sought as a personal enterprise for personal ends. The pretended altruism, or sacrifice of one's self for the public good, is in most cases an undiluted article of bunk.

Yet, when one breaks the news to a waiting world through the customary newspaper announcement, he states in words bold, bald and brazen that he was unable to resist the importunities of friends who came in processions to tell him of his peculiar qualifications for this or that office and of the great popular desire that he enter the race for it. The less scrupulous a candidate in concealing prevarication, the more exaggerated his announcement will be.

With a full realization of the truth of this statement I am going to be reckless enough to say that I was recently urged to become a candidate for a county office and that during a brief period of mental cloudiness I acquiesced. I am going to depart far enough from the usual custom of politicians to tell the truth about it.

Some for whom I have a friendship suggested that I stand for the nomination for Supt. of Schools for this county at the coming primary election. They portrayed in copious and glowing terms my geographical and qualifications advantages and were unable to see any possibility of defeat.

It was a great surprise, almost a shock, to me to learn that I possessed such distinguished abilities and that they were recognized by an admiring public. I even had to loosen my belt a hole to be comfortable. But inwardly I had doubts. I knew my limitations and knew also my greatest ability consisted in the adroitness with which I have always been able to hide my ignorance.

Being unsophisticated my friends told me what to do to get into the race. They assured me of a solid north and all that was necessary to get the coveted nomination was a fifty-fifty break in Carlsbad. I must go to Carlsbad, they said, and get a line on county sentiment. In short, to see if I couldn't get permission from the good people there to run for this office.

I finally yielded halfheartedly, and, more pertinaciously than otherwise, made a trip to the political seat of the county to find the conditions under which I would be permitted to receive a nomination. Now Carlsbad is the permanent home of the permanent politicians of Eddy county, New Mexico. Young men there take a course in politics with their high school courses, and every man and most women know the political ritual by heart. Everything radiates from this seething center, and a candidate for office from any other part of the county must show how much strength he could add to the whole ticket. If he can add a considerable amount he is received into the fold with a hearty embrace. If he can not his cognomen is Dennis.

It is only the truth to say that I was received everywhere with a degree of consideration and respect which a novice had no right to expect. In this particular case the candidates for all the county offices live in Carlsbad, and through self-interest all of them except my opponent wished me to run in order to establish a geographical balance to the ticket. And, of course, they predicted success. They even admitted me to the inner circles of the political chamber and gave me the pass word.

But every one was friendly, congenial and a patient listener to my claims as I had been instructed to present them. Some of the opinions given as to my chances were brief and to the point, while others were stated with such caution, precision and verbosity that they sounded like a lawyer's brief.

I left Carlsbad with a firm belief that I could carry the county in the primaries. But I learned a few things that caused me to abandon the effort. I learned what kind of a gauntlet one must run and how much of a martyr one must become when he abandons his peaceful pursuits to make a marathon race for office.

One man enlightened my understanding by the assertion that my newspaper announcement should state what educational institution I was graduated from, and where and when; how many years I had taught school, and where and when; and other things that would contribute to a comprehensive conception of my qualifications for this great office.

Another suggested that I have a "board" containing my picture tacked on every telegraph and telephone pole in the county. In his view the public would naturally desire to gaze upon the countenance of a guy who was willing to run for such an office. This picture he admitted might lose votes for me, but it would satisfy the curiosity of the public.

Another, with pencil in hand, asked for a chronological statement concerning the political complexion of every ticket I had ever voted, still anotherounded me upon my religious affiliations and desired my views on such commonplace subjects as reincarnation, regeneration, predestination, Christian Science, New Thought, and Apostolic succession. I could only answer that I had no objections to any of them.

A scholastic son of destiny, who thought to test my linguistic attainments asked if I understood any foreign language. I informed him with exultant pride that having lived many years in Minnesota I could not only talk Swedish but could eat larders. This provoked an issue as to whether Skandinavian was a foreign or domestic language in Minnesota. When asked if I had mastered Latin I surprised him by declaring my ability to translate right off the reel such classic terms as habemus corpus, corpus delicti, spiritus, fermenti and aux vocia.

Another man who appeared enthusiastic in my behalf was willing to wager that I could win the nomination if I would go about it right. I must first take measures to assure the solid support of the northern part of the county then visit and interview every man and woman in the southern part, traveling every day until the primaries. When not otherwise engaged I should stand on the street corners with a bunch of election cards just as a blind man holds a bunch of pencils.

After all these suggestions I began a process of mental computation to find how many years such a campaign would probably shorten my life. My conclusion was that I couldn't spare the years. Again, I knew from observation that every diabolical thing I had said or done since childhood would be exposed, and I didn't want such an exposure.

I tore up the announcement that had been so carefully prepared and, rolling the pieces into a wad, threw them with a thud into a waste basket.

My decision to abandon the race will doubtless be a sad blow to the educational interests of this county. It may require years for the rising generation to recover from the calamity. But the people are becoming used to afflictions, of every character, and by inflicting them may be able to endure some more, serious as it is. I am sorry for them. But while I admire the principle of vicarious atonement, I am unequal to the task of exemplifying it.

The object of this disquisition, which abounds in the first person singular, is not self-exploitation or notoriety, but to inform the unsophisticated what they may expect when they are overtaken by the heartless haphazard that they must hold a good office in order to save the country.

I went far enough to find that I had many good, loyal friends of all political parties in the place I call home, and that pleased me as much as it would to have received a nomination. And nothing here is intended as a reflection upon anyone in Carlsbad. Everyone I conversed with was a gentleman—or lady.

Most campaign allegations and arguments are full of sophistry and many are misleading and unfair. This will always be true unless human nature undergoes a radical change. In the first place it is more important that good people be chosen for office than that they come from any particular locality. Second, it is a mighty sight better to be a good upright citizen than a poor official.

JOHN SLAUGHTER, PIONEER CATTLE MAN AND FIRST SHERIFF OF COCHISE COUNTY, DIES AT AGE OF EIGHTY

Funeral Services for One of County's Best Known Pioneers Will Be Held Sunday Afternoon at 3 O'clock; Settled in The San Pedro Valley in 1877 When Gold Was First Discovered in the Tombstone District

John Slaughter, one of the most widely known pioneers of the state, died at his home in the Fisher apartments at 5 o'clock yesterday morning following an attack of high blood pressure, an affliction he has suffered for the past year. Funeral services will be held at the Episcopal church at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon and prominent men from all parts of the state and county are expected to attend.

In poor health during the past few years, Mr. Slaughter, who at 80 years of age, lived in retirement at his several thousand acre ranch east of this city, although he took an active interest in ranch development. The greater portion of the routine work, however, was taken care of by Jesse Fisher, who was killed last year by Mexican bandits, and since the loss of his trusted foreman and friend of many years, Mr. Slaughter gradually became worse. He was able to make his way around with only the aid of a cane, but intimate friends realized that his high blood pressure was likely to result in his death at any time, and while the end came as a shock, it was not unexpected.

Born on Plantation. He was born on a plantation in Louisiana in the forties and was reared among the surroundings of a southern home, which he left at an early age to seek fortune and adventure in the west. He eventually settled down in Texas and at the age of 16 owned several hundred head of cattle, which he lost when the civil war broke out and he enlisted in the confederate army. He was taken ill shortly after enlistment and given an indefinite furlough and upon his recovery enlisted with the Texas rangers. Many are the stirring tales told of his exploits with this remarkable organization in which he was promoted to the rank of lieutenant.

In Texas he battled with adversity which twice lost him a comfortable fortune. In 1877 the indomitable Slaughter spirit and courage resulted in him casting his lot with the hundreds of other fortune seekers in Tombstone, then noted for its rich gold mines. He drove his cattle overland to the San Pedro valley, which was his first camping ground in Arizona. Later he established what is still known as the San Bernardino ranch east of Douglas, which contains many thousands of acres on both sides of the line.

Hunted Indians. For 15 years Indians made life in this section of the state dangerous for the white men and Slaughter narrowly escaped death on many occasions. He was one of the best known and competent Indian scouts in the southwest and in 1886 was escorted to the late General Lawton, then a captain in the United States army and was instrumental in the capture of Geronimo, Apache chief, who had been on the warpath for many years. On many other occasions the services of Slaughter were given to the government in tracking Indians, for no one knew the cunning ways and lurking places of the red men better than John Slaughter.

Slaughter was elected the first sheriff of Cochise county in 1887. This county then was the habitude of many lawless bands who found easy protection from arrest in Mexico. It was not long after Slaughter took charge of affairs that law and order once more prevailed in the county, for his fearlessness and knowledge of the county made it impossible for outlaws to operate with any degree of success.

Before he was elected sheriff, pioneers say, it was not safe for a man to leave his horse tied on the street without keeping watch over it as cattle thieves were so daring they would ride into Bisbee just at dusk and drive off horses of cow punchers which were left standing in front of the saloons. This lawlessness ended soon after he took office.

Married Twice. Mr. Slaughter married Adelina Harris, daughter of Lesal Harris, of San Angelo, Texas, one of the prominent men of that state. She died soon after he moved to Arizona, leaving one son, William J., who died in 1911, and a daughter, Adeline, who is now the wife of Dr. W. A. Greene, of this city. Mr. Slaughter later married Miss Cora Viola Howell, who has been a devoted and cheerful helpmate through his last few years of constant illness.

In 1905, Mr. Slaughter was elected to the Arizona territorial legislature, the nomination being made against his wishes. However, when he was elected he accepted the responsibility and became an active member of the territory's law making body.

Spring winds have begun in earnest in this part of the country, last Saturday and Sunday being examples of that fact. The wind blew incessantly all afternoon Sunday and had the effect of keeping many from church in the evening; but about midnight the wind layed and a beautiful sunny day was enjoyed Monday. Newcomers had the winds unpleasant and disagreeable but old timers scarcely notice them, and then only as harbingers of spring.

MARKETING HAY AT COUNTRY POINTS

A recent bulletin of the United States Department of Agriculture contains the following articles by H. B. McClure, specialist in marketing hay, and G. A. Collier, investigator in marketing hay.

Ever since hay has been marketed extensively the hay trade has constantly wrestled with the vexing problem of what to do with low-grade hay—that is, hay that has been improperly prepared or is of a mixture that causes it to be regarded as of a low grade. Such hay is hard to dispose of. Indeed, so serious has this perplexing problem become that at present the only solution has seemed to lie in keeping this kind of hay entirely off the market.

Since this trouble has been in existence for years, it might be supposed the producer had made an effort to correct a practice which is causing him a loss of thousands of dollars annually. That he has not done so is due to two important facts: (1) The producer and the dealer do not as yet agree as to what constitutes quality in hay, and (2) many producers lack vital marketing information regarding the preparation of hay for terminal and consuming markets.

A recent and comprehensive survey of the important hay markets of the United States has revealed the rather striking fact that a large percentage of our present marketing difficulties originates on the farm, that thorough knowledge of market requirements on the part of the producer would result in less low-grade hay, and that this would in turn solve in part at least the ever-present problem of what to do with low-grade. The purpose of this bulletin is to give briefly accurate information regarding the preparation and marketing of hay at country points.

Effect of Present Methods of Preparation. Quality of hay is at present indicated largely by its color, which is used to gauge the stage of maturity at which it is cut. The hay that grades highest and consequently brings the most money, is usually that having the best natural green color. Hay dealers can tell from the color whether hay was cut early, medium or late, and in their opinion the best hay is the early cut hay and the poorest that cut late.

Importance of Time of Cutting. Early cut alfalfa means alfalfa cut just as the plant is coming into full bloom; medium-cut hay is cut just after full bloom and late cut hay is cut entirely after bloom or when the seed is formed or up to the time it is almost matured. The same rules apply to most of the other grass hays and somewhat to many of the legume hays.

The average hay grower, however, in some sections at least, does not agree with the terminal market theory of market quality as indicated by color. Many producers prefer medium or late cut hay, especially for horses, because it is easier to cure and is not so "washy" as early cut hay.

Since this difference of opinion will probably exist for some time, it would seem highly advisable for the producer to meet the demands of the trade, in so far as he is able, by cutting hay for use on the farm or for local market at a little later period. By so doing he would get more for his market hay and yet would have the kind he wanted for his own use.

Labor and equipment in many important hay-growing sections have shown that the average hay grower does not do the best he can in the matter of saving his hay crop. The Department of Agriculture is prepared to furnish the most detailed information regarding the best methods to use on individual farms in the more important hay-producing sections of the United States.

Present trade rules governing the grading of hay say that the better grades shall be properly cured and sound. This is another way of saying that only hay having a good or natural green color will bring top prices. The general quality of hay varies because of the influence of such factors as methods used and weather conditions.

When the Anti-Lynching Act comes up in the Senate, it would be just like Pat Harrison to move to amend the title so that it will read: "An Act committing an assault on the Constitution of the United States." Speaking of the Anti-Lynching Act recently passed by the house, Dr. Johnson of Mississippi, printed in the Congressional Record an extract from the Kansas City Star, a Republican newspaper, with reference to the Kansas State anti-lynching law. The Star says: "Kansas towns are finding the State's anti-moon law a costly statute. Kansas City, Kansas, has 59 suits pending against the city now, totaling $949,978. Twenty-six of these are the result of trouble in the packing strike. The suits range from $5 to $25,000. Independence, Kan., has had judgments returned against it for $27,350 and other suits are still pending as a result of a race-war outbreak there." Strange that most race-wars occur in Northern Republican States.

Ten years of Farm Hay Prices. According to the Department of Agriculture the farm price of loose hay in the United States on January 1 was $11.33 against $16.18 at the same period a year previous. The pre-war price was $11.70. The January 1 prices for the past ten years are as follows: 1912, $11.11; 1913, $11.70; 1914, $10.47; 1915, $10.57; 1916, $10.57; 1917, $10.56; 1918, $10.09; 1919, $10.92; 1920, $10.55; 1921, $16.16; and 1922, $11.33.

HARDING-DAWES ECONOMY DATA IS QUESTIONED

Democrats Believe the President Is Not Consistent With Government's Financial Condition

Washington. "Declaration that the economies which President Harding and Director Dawes of the budget announced yesterday at the second business meeting of the government were largely of a 'paper' variety, was made today by Representative Byrnes of South Carolina, a democrat member of the house appropriations committee, who in a statement voiced the 'fear' that Mr. Harding had been so absorbed in other matters that he was not conversant 'with the existing situation' in government finances.

"According to the press," Mr. Byrnes said, "a direct saving of $32,600,000 and an indirect saving of $104,000,000 had been accomplished in less than six months. The fact is that as against this alleged saving the president at the instance of the budget bureau has recently submitted a request for additional appropriations as deficiencies, amounting to $180,704,283 and within a few days congress will commence consideration of another deficiency bill to take care of the shortage in funds. This amount is in addition to the urgent deficiency bill appropriating $50,556,322 and the first deficiency bill appropriating $105,377,443. If the $180,704,283 now asked by the president is granted it will make the total deficiencies to date $336,537,953.

"I rejoice that the president reiterated his opposition to deficiencies because I hesitate to think what amount would be requested if he were not opposed to deficiencies."

Representative Byrnes said that if the amount had been saved the treasury should show it. He declared that no such showing, however, had been made, and added:

"I fear the reason why it is not done is that the alleged savings in most instances consist only in the postponement of actual expenditures until the next fiscal year."

Mr. Byrnes declared that the supplemental estimates for the next fiscal year, amounting to $50,083,220, added to the total amount requested would make that total $109,296,365 more than the amount appropriated for the current fiscal year.

WAS AGRICULTURAL CONFERENCE ONLY POLITICAL CAMOUFLAGE?

The calling of the agricultural conference which recently completed its session here was something in the nature of an anti-climax, considering that some months ago a Joint Commission of Agricultural Inquiry was appointed to investigate agricultural conditions, performed its work promptly and intelligently and made its report containing 13 recommendations, about which nothing has yet been done.

According to Senator Pat Harrison (Dem., Miss.) this Commission has been meeting for weeks and for months. "The head of every farm organization was invited to come before it," he said. "Every avenue of approach through which we might obtain information was traveled, and we got all the information it seemed to us it was possible to get."

In view of this, it would seem that the recent agricultural conference was a duplication of effort, but Senator Harrison found a logical reason why it was called. Senator Harrison, it should be remembered, is that watchdog of the Senate whose keen eyes observe the errors and deceptions of the opposition, and whose eloquent voice warns them "watch your step."

In a speech on this subject in the Senate, he said:

"Can more information be gathered by this conference (the Agricultural Conference called by President Harding)? I wish for it every success, but in my heart I believe that its calling is a piece of camouflage. When the President came to the Congress and spoke against the agricultural bloc he felt the reaction from the agricultural interests of the country, and when the Secretary of War, speaking for him in New York, inveighed more bitterly against the agricultural group the reaction was still greater and in order to get from under he called the meeting of this conference on agriculture to meet in the city of Washington. I wish for it success; but what that conference will do will be to accept the recommendations of the Joint Commission of Agricultural Inquiry, and they will pass resolutions to you, who control legislation in this body, and ask you for its immediate passage."

"The co-operative marketing bill, for example, has been on the calendar for months—I might say for years—and up to this good day and good hour it has not passed. What we need, Senators, is to report these bills out to the committees and to pass them. I care not how many conferences you have, unless Congress gets busy along that line, and unless the President urges the necessary legislation upon you and exercises every influence that he can, he will get nothing. They discovered that there were six or seven million men out of employment in this country, but accomplished nothing and got nowhere with their recommendations. Let us stop conferring, and let us begin to act."

Massachusetts has a "law which enables a busy man to get excused from jury duty. This law gives the presiding justice the authority to postpone, 'in his discretion,' the whole or any part of the service of a juror to a later day during the same or subsequent court sitting."

"Newberryism." "A new word ought to be introduced into our tongue—a word that would describe this sort of thing that has happened—a Newberryism. It will not serve much use however, because the things that I have described will never happen again, for there never will appear upon the face of this earth another band of gentlemen who will write down in cold type, 'the thing is bad, wicked, dangerous to the state, and therefore, we do that thing; therefore, we ratify it, we confirm it, we sanctify it.'"

FARM PRODUCTS DECLINE DUE TO TREATY DEFEAT

In a colloquy with Senator Leavitt (Newberry Republican, Wis.) on decline of farm product prices, Senator Harrison pointed out the one chief cause—the destruction of the foreign markets. He said:

"I will tell the Senator how he could have helped the farmer get enough for his wool. I will tell him how he could have helped the farmer to get a higher price for his corn and his wheat and his other products. The depreciation in the price of farm products was caused by the Senator and those who conspired with him, marshaled by the leader of the majority in this Chamber, who defeated the treaty for the objects of which our boys fought and won the war. That action disheartened Europe, broke down credits, bankrupted industries, and caused such an industrial and commercial chaos in Europe that destroyed every vestige of hope to the American farmer to again find a market for his surplus products."

"That was the reason why wheat and corn and the farmers' other products declined and they are going to remain low until you can become wise enough to see that we must have foreign markets; until you can appreciate the necessity of a sympathetic relationship with the world and engage in the solution of international economic problems." When that time comes we can sell our surplus products, and then their price will be increased. The American people will yet see that the decrease of price of our products was caused by the defeat of the treaty here with the consequent destruction of our markets abroad."

PRISON POPULATION OF NEW MEXICO GAINS SIXTY-ONE IN A YEAR

Santa Fe, N. M.,—The New Mexico board of penitentiary commissioners has under consideration a plan for an overall factory at the prison and informs Governor Mecham in its annual report that it may ask for an appropriation for buildings and equipment.

The plan, it is believed, will solve the problem of work for idle convicts. The report shows that the number of convicts at the end of the year covered Nov. 30 was 358, an increase in the year of 61. Four hundred and three prisoners arrived during the year. 213 state prisoners and the rest federal prisoners for "safe keeping" men. The number discharged was 342. Fifty-three finished their terms, 60 got pardons, 48 were paroled, eight escaped and two were taken to the state hospital for insane.

Sixteen of those pardoned were the Villistas, who, it is pointed out, were pardoned by the "previous administration."

The cost of maintenance was cut from 93 cents per capita last year to 79 cents, and the fall in prices is credited with a reduction of $10,000 in the feeding bill and $4000 in the clothing bill. Dr. E. W. Fiske, prison physician, in an accompanying report, says sanitary conditions at the prison are a menace to every occupant and over-crowding is serious, all due to lack of money.

The brick plant during the year turned out 2,000,000 building bricks besides tile.

NEWBERRY IS ATTACKED BY SENATOR REED

Washington, D. C.,—The senate was told by Senator Reed, Democrat Missouri, that "never in all the history of legislative bodies in the world has so shameless a resolution been adopted" as that approved by the senate in confirming senator Newberry, Republican, Michigan, in his seat.

"There is not a man who voted for this resolution," Senator Reed said, "who did not brand in red letters above and over his political record the word 'dishonor.' No word of tongue and no word of pen can describe the degradation of that resolution and the self confessed degradation of those who supported it."

"Poisoned Serpent." "This thing that crawls and has a forked tongue and crooked teeth is a poison serpent. Therefore we will admit it to the family circle and allow it to wind its folds about the arms of our children," Senator Reed said.

"You say: 'This is a dog with the rabies. Every time he sinks his fangs into the flesh they carry with them deadly disease and therefore we will turn the dog loose on the community.'"

"You wrote the epitaph of decency in this body and you have preserved it for all time in the records of the state."

"Newberryism." "A new word ought to be introduced into our tongue—a word that would describe this sort of thing that has happened—a Newberryism. It will not serve much use however, because the things that I have described will never happen again, for there never will appear upon the face of this earth another band of gentlemen who will write down in cold type, 'the thing is bad, wicked, dangerous to the state, and therefore, we do that thing; therefore, we ratify it, we confirm it, we sanctify it.'"

LOCAL NEWS.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. King, the lady a sister of L. G. Ryan, are visiting at the Ryan home from their home in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Miss Helene Morris is a guest at the Breeding home from her home in Roswell this week.

Capt. S. A. Rand, a friend of Will Miller, is visiting the latter in Carlsbad from Wichita, Kansas, his home. Captain Rand was with the same Machine Gun company that Miller was, and distinguished himself a number of times in action.

Mrs. Frank Morris and daughter, Miss Helene, are Carlsbad visitors this week from Roswell, their home, expecting to leave Sunday.

Edwin Stephenson this week purchased a Fordson tractor for use on his farm adjoining the townsite on the south west and also a mill for grinding his own corn for feed. He expects to erect a silo this summer and will therefore have green feed for winter use. The Stephenson dairy is one of the most up-to-date dairies to be found in the state.

Mr. Linn tells us that in the picture to be put on at the Crawford Theatre Monday night the twin cousins of Ray V. Davis, Ray and Ralph, six years old, have parts. The boys are said to be exactly alike and wonderful actors for their age. The picture is "You Never Can Tell".

Fred Goodwin, a nephew of Charles Watson, is in the city coming from his home at Water Valley, Mississippi, and will spend the summer here.

Carl B. Livingston entertained a few of his friends, informally at his home Thursday evening. Music was the feature of the evening with the String Band furnishing delightful dance numbers. Mrs. Joe Livingston was assisted by Mrs. George Lucas in serving delightful refreshments throughout the evening. The guests included Misses Aline Shepard, Hanson, Gladys Brown, of Roswell; Messrs. William Hudgins, Blythe McCollum, Howard Moore, Robert C. Dow, Dr. and Mrs. Glasier, Mr. and Mrs. John Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rawlins, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Livingston.

Mrs. R. C. Dow left Saturday night for the Mayo Brothers Hospital at Rochester, Minnesota, going with her baby daughter, to consult with these famous surgeons, about the case of the little one who has been ill for many weary months. In fact most of its life. Physicians here have been unable to assist the child and the trip has been made in order that everything possible may be tried. Many prayers and thoughts follow the mother and her child.

Mrs. Boog Windham of Carlsbad is visiting her sister Mrs. Tom Green and other relatives this week. —Livingston Leader.

In re:—
Probate Judge of Eddy County.
It is very gratifying to the people of Carlsbad and to the members of the legal fraternity and the American Legion in particular and the ex-service men generally that the following communication was addressed to the Honorable Fred E. Wilson, Probate Judge, of Eddy County, N. M., and signed by all the practicing members of the Bar of this county except two, requesting Judge Wilson to announce as a candidate for re-election.
The office of Probate Judge is a very important one and too much consideration can not be given in selecting a duly qualified person for that position. Judge Wilson has held this position for three years and his first incumbency being by appointment to fill the unexpired term of Judge Robinson who moved away, and now he is filling the second term for which he was elected in the last election. The request for him to run again for that office was as follows:
To the Honorable Fred E. Wilson, Probate Judge, Eddy County, New Mexico.

The undersigned lawyers of the Eddy County Bar, duly recognizing the efficiency with which you have conducted the Probate Judge's office during the past three years and being advised that you might not be a candidate for re-election, hereby request that you again submit your name as a candidate for that office.
Dated: February 27, 1922.

Signed: Dover Phillips, Carl B. Livingston, Robert C. Dow, John W. Armstrong, J. H. Jackson, J. B. Atkinson, S. E. Ferree, W. J. Lamb, E. P. Bujac, Guy A. Reed.

Considering Judge Wilson was a soldier in the First New Mexico Infantry during the Great War, the foregoing is very gratifying to all his former comrades in arms and no doubt he will receive the hearty support of all the ex-service men should he announce for this office.

A "Tacky" party is what the Willing Workers Class of girls, of the Baptist Sunday School, taught by Mrs. Claude Nelson, called their entertainment, given at the church parlors last Friday night. The girls, of the ages of ten to twelve, were attired in a variety of costumes, each one trying her best to look as "tacky" as possible, in hopes of getting the prize offered to the tackiest one, and which was awarded to Louise Oliver by unanimous consent. It proved to be a "Jack-in-the-Box" and occasioned no end of fun. After games of different kinds had been played, the class and their teacher, clad in their fantastic garbs, visited the Sweet Shop for refreshments. The following compose the Willing Workers who were present: Mary Belle, Elaine and Wardle Leck, Hazel and Louise Oliver, Rena Ellison, Vina and Chrissy Hobbs, Hazel Tinnin, Dorothy Flowers and Nannie Ervin Little were invited guests.

Miss Willie Boatright, twelve year old school girl, was given a surprise party Monday afternoon at the home of L. E. Regnier, by a few of her school mates who did not wish to let her birthday pass unnoticed or unobserved. The little girls played games of different kinds, and were served refreshments of cake and cocoa, and all were made happy by a little thoughtful kindness on the part of Mrs. Regnier.

Mr. John Lusk and father of Carlsbad were in Lovington last week attending to business and visiting relatives. —Livingston Leader.

Mrs. Arthur Kellam has returned from a visit to friends at Albuquerque.

"CARLSBAD'S BEST STORE"

The name of Harold D. Wilson will go down in history as the man who broke up the big Republican State Banquet at the Quincey House in Boston by confiscating the liquor. "Here's to the Grand Old Party, boys—drink 'er down." No man was ever more viciously attacked than has been this same Wilson by the Republicans of Massachusetts, for simply doing his sworn duty under the law and his oath of office, unless it was another Wilson who got his mail at No. 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C., for eight years of unexampled prosperity. And, by the way, a Farm Bloc in the Senate was not needed in those days to protect the farmer in his rights.

The Anti-lynching Act provides that the County in which the lynching occurs shall be fined $10,000 which shall go to the family of the late-lamented negro brute, while nothing is paid to the poor victim of his bestiality. This is a fair sample of Republican legislation. Dyer, the author of this bill, had a district containing many thousands of negroes when he wrote the bill, but it looks like he will have to run in the State at large next November, because of the technical position of the attempt to redistrict Missouri, whereupon the rural voter will get a chance at Bre'r Dyer. He will carry a heavy handicap and the odds will be greatly against him.

In the recent guessing contest put on by the A. G. Shelby Grocery Company, as to the number of pounds of coffee displayed in their window, Miss Alice Walter, made the nearest guess and was awarded the prize. Her guess was 314 pounds and there were actually 315 pounds. A pretty close guess.

LOCAL NEWS.

Colonel Boniface is again in the city a business visitor from Santa Fe.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Hendricks left this week for a short stay in El Paso.

W. T. Reed has been on the sick list this week, but is improving at this writing.

R. C. Langston, a homesteader from the northern part of the valley was in town Wednesday.

Louie and Calvin Ares, from the big Ares ranch in the mountains, spent part of the week in town leaving yesterday for their home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bates and daughter, Tura, have returned from their trip to El Paso getting in last week.

After an absence of three weeks from school Miss Zeta Willis and little Margaret Hannah, were able to enter school last Monday.

Albert S. Roberts, of Albuquerque, is spending the week in town. Mr. Roberts is connected with the Internal Revenue office.

Uncle Joe Graham, of Lovington, was a business visitor to the county seat this week. Mr. Graham's visits to Carlsbad have been very infrequent of late and his many friends here appreciate his calls.

HAY TRADE CONDITIONS OF THE WEEK

Markets in the East are dull and practically unchanged from a week ago, although at the close a little more activity is being shown. Poor grades predominate in the offerings and sell only in the absence of better sorts. Best grades are higher in the central West. Firmer markets are shown in the West caused by the heavy snows. Cold and snow is also causing an urgent demand and higher prices in the Northwest.—Hay Trade Journal.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our thanks to those of our neighbors and friends who so tenderly cared for our brother during his long illness, and who were so kind to us after his death. We came here strangers, but found many friends among the good people of Carlsbad to whom we shall ever be grateful.

BERTHA AYRES.
TOM AYRES.

Miss Mamie Keith, sister of Mrs. Sam Moskin, of Roswell, came down from there Friday of last week, and spent the week here. She leaves on the return trip tonight with her little Jane Moskin who will make an extended stay with her grandparents.

Dr. R. J. Boatman left Monday night for Oklahoma, being called to Woodward by a telegram announcing the serious illness of his only living uncle at that place. He expects to return to Carlsbad the first of the week.

Built to Last!

LIGHT-SIX SEDAN

f. o. b. Factory

Your satisfaction with a Sedan depends largely upon construction you'll never see. Since you can't see it, you want to be all the more certain what's there.

And the chances are you'll buy from the manufacturer in whom you have the greatest confidence.

Studebaker's reputation for fine coach work was established in your grandfather's time.

This LIGHT-SIX Sedan body is built complete in Studebaker plants and is as good as the chassis. It will last, without rattles or squeaks, as long as the chassis—and that's longer than the average life of many other cars. There's nothing flimsy about this body. It has a sturdy frame-work of selected ash, the best lumber for the purpose that can be bought.

Eight stout ash pillars, running from floor to roof, insure permanent strength and rigidity which means freedom from body rattles. The joints of the steel panels of the outer surface are perfectly welded. Doors are hung with great precision—open freely and close with a sound of finality. Windows open without binding, yet are so firmly set that they are rattle-proof.

And unless you choose a Sedan with the quietness and flexibility of the LIGHT-SIX motor you will be disappointed.

THIS IS A STUDEBAKER YEAR

John Lewis was host to a dozen and a half of his friends from the various classes in High school, at his home last Friday night. The young people played rook and kindred games and were treated at the close of a very pleasant evening, to delicious cake and cocoa, and after expressing their appreciation of the hospitality shown them, all left at an early hour for their homes.

Tired

"I was weak and run-down," relates Mrs. Eula Burnett, of Dalton, Ga. "I was thin and just felt tired, all the time. I didn't rest well. I wasn't ever hungry. I knew, by this, I needed a tonic, and as there is none better than—

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"... I began using Cardui," continues Mrs. Burnett. "After my first bottle, I slept better and ate better. I took four bottles. Now I'm well, feel just fine, eat and sleep, my skin is clear and I have gained and sure feel that Cardui is the best tonic ever made."

Thousands of other women have found Cardui just as Mrs. Burnett did. It should help you.

Duggan Rickman is having the old adobe house on Canon street, known as the Piontkowsky house, remodeled and some additions made which will add greatly to the value of the house as a residence and will also be an improvement in the neighborhood. The house has been something of a landmark in town being one of the oldest buildings built for residential purposes. With the fine lot, Mr. Rickman will have a valuable piece of property.

Francis G. Tracy left yesterday morning for El Paso, Tex., where he expects to remain a few days, while transacting business.

THE MAIN INTEREST IN LIFE IS NOT TO GET RICH NOR EVEN TO MAKE A LIVING. What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul? Christ counseled to seek first God's righteous kingdom, and with the word he made it our chief business to help God get his way among men. But he does not expect us to serve without pay. As we are busy about his work he will make sure of our all-round welfare.

J. M. Story, of Artesia, was in Carlsbad last Saturday attending the meeting of the Democratic central committee of Eddy county and shaking hands with the voters, informing them that he is now in the race for sheriff of this county. Mr. Story is a citizen of Artesia and has resided in Eddy county for many years. He has never before asked anything at the hands of the voters and believes he is better qualified to hold the office of sheriff than any of the other candidates now out, otherwise he would not be making the race. Mr. Story is a business man of Artesia, owning one of the drug stores of that city and was formerly associated with Mr. Bullock in the feed and grain business. He is a man who makes and retains friends and will receive a large vote especially in his home town.

Fire on the Hepler ranch south of Carlsbad destroyed the ranch house and the loss will be about $2,000. There was no insurance.

At a recent meeting of the Executive board of the Red Cross organization, P. E. Hubert was elected chairman of the board and has already entered upon his duties.

OFFICIAL CALL FOR THE REGULAR BIENNIAL CITY ELECTION IN AND FOR THE CITY OF CARLSBAD, NEW MEXICO, AND NOTICE OF THE APPOINTMENT OF BOARDS OF REGISTRATION, JUDGES AND CLERKS.

Notice is hereby given that the regular biennial election for the purpose of electing a Mayor, at large, of the City of Carlsbad, New Mexico, a City Clerk and a City Treasurer, each to serve for a term of two years, and for the further purpose of electing one Alderman from each of the four wards, being wards Nos. one, two, three and four, respectively, in the City of Carlsbad, New Mexico, to serve for a term of four years, is hereby called and will be held on the first Tuesday in April, being the fourth day of April, A.
