'We, the citizens of Socorro and of Socorro county, take deep pleasure in availing ourselves of our first opportunity to show our friendship and appreciation of George Curry upon our home ground. (Applause.)

"We welcome him today, not only as our governor-the head of our official affairs in the administration of our territory, but we welcome him with equal pleasure as a man, as a friend, as a citizen who cast in his lot with New Mexico, from the early days of his childhood and we welcome him as a soldier who has won every laurel he wears on the field of battle.

"Fellow citizens, this is the first annual fair of the city and county of Socorro.

Socorro county is an empire in itself, embracing 150 miles from north to south and three hundred miles from east to west. With that area is a soil as rich as the blessings of a divine providence has endowed any county is wealthy in her vast timber resources and her big forest reothers on the continental divide of the big timber supply of Flagstaff in our sister territory.

THE Albuquerque Journal boosted hard for the Socorro county fair and then gave several columns of valuable space to an account of the wonderful success the fair achieved. Neither the Journal nor the "Big Fair" at Albuquerque next week has lost any friends in Socorro county by the manifestation of such a spirit, as they will see.

By the time another moon has waxed and waned, those who have known the perils of Socorro's antiquated board sidewalks for lo these many years will know them no more. Not that the pedestrians are becoming few, but that the old board walks are being replaced by cement walks of which any city in the land might be proud just as fast as workmen can be found to lay them.

Socorro needs a new and modern hotel. She has needed such a hotel a long time and must have it. In fact, the Gem City needs nothing else half so much just now as a place in which to entertain her guests as guests are entertained in other cities. 19.694 acres. The notice of location of the said Flora lode mining claim is of record in the office of the Recorder of Socor-ro county, New Mexico, in book 23 of mining records at page 4, and the amended and additional notice of the said claim is of record in the said recorder's office in book 61 of mining records at page 81. The presumed course of the lode is nearly north and south. The number of feet claimed on the lode is fifteen hundred feet, as described in the foregoing field notes. The surface ground claimed is three hundred feet on either side of the center of lode.

This claim is joined on the south by the Copper Glace lode, being sur. No. 745, the south end line of the Flora lode, being identical with the north end line of the Copper Glance lode.

This claim is in conflict with sur. No 478, the Sunset Iode; the south end of the Flora lode conflicts with the north end of the Sunset lode, to the extent of 1.768 acres. No unsurveyed mining claims are known to adjoin or conflict with this survey. Any and all persons claiming adversely the mining ground, vein, lode, premises, or any portion thereof so escribed, surveyed, platted, and applied for, are hereby notified that un-less their adverse claims are duly filed according to law, and the regulations thereunder, within the time prescribed by law, with the register of the United States land office at Las Cruces, in the county of Dona Anna, territory of New Mexico, they will be barred by the provisions of the law in such cases made and provided. THE COTTAGE.

It Should Be Without Sham Elegance and Elaboration.

There are cottages and cottages, Any modest, unpretentious house designed on strictly economical lines may be fitty called a cottage, and it is more satisfactory to regard one's own simple little abode as a well built, commodious cottage than as a small house of comparatively cheap construction and cramped dimensions. It is when given the rich that the term "cottage" becomes a misuomer and an affectation. To the man of moderate means the very idea of building a cottage rather than a house carries with it a sense of making a home within his means free from vain striving for a sham elegance and elaboration. The cottage which apes the mansion is as absurd as the affected and exaggerated dignity of the pompous and undersized individual who seeks to create an Impression out of all proportion to his real importance. Since simplicity is one of the main attributes of a well designed cottage, its charm and effectiveness must depend upon the quiet excellence of its proportion and the harmonious and unobtrusive quality of its coloring in relation to its surroundings.-Robert C. Spencer in House Beautiful

After a long discussion he yielded to Thomas J. THE TONGUE OF .A BIRD.

An Organ Which Varies Much In the

Different Species. Few people have given thought to the subject of birds' tongues. Many, even of the amateur bird students, know little of the literature on the subject and still less from personal ob-

Birds must use their bills as hands, and to some extent the tongues supple ment such use. Thus nut and seed eating birds extract the kernel from the shell, which is cracked between the mandibles.

The full complement of bones of the tongue consists of eight. The shape varies considerably in different species, and the comparative size very much more, although there is a prevailing general resemblance. The size and development of the various bones control the shape and utility of the organ. Well developed front bones mean a thick, fleshy tongue, such as we find in members of the duck family, while small forward bones usually accompany a small tongue of less importance to the owner, sometimes little more than rudimentary, like that of the pelfenn. Among such birds as have occasion to protrude the tongue well beyond the tip of the bill the bind bones are marvelously developed and greatly elongated, for these are the bones on which the tongue is hung.

The edges of the tongues of most birds are more or less fringed, this feature being most noticeable in thin tongues. Most birds have a greater or less number of papillae-small fleshy projections, spinelike in appearance and usually inclined backward-on the upper surface of the tongue. These are of service in working the food backward toward the throat.

Some of the sea birds have very simple tongues, which serve but little purpose. The tongues of the honey creep ers have very fine and long feathering. while those of the woodpecker are long. slender and pointed, and the roots of some species curve clear around the back of the skull, up over the crown, and their tips rest at the base of the upper mandible. With the exception of the sapsuckers the tongues of woodpeckers are capable of great protrusion, and the tip is barbed. The sapsuckers, however, instead of having shurp, burbed tongues like those of other woodpeckers, have brushlike tongues as a result of the degeneration of the bristles on their surface luto hairs standing out from the tongue rather than pointing backward.

Birds with long bills do not always have correspondingly long tongues. The kingfishers, with their disproportionately large bills, have short tongues. The outer edges of the very long tongues of humming birds are closely rolled up into two tubes lying side by side, by means of which the birds are enabled to suck the nectar from flowers.-New York Post.

Utility of Censors.

"When Maxim Gorky dined with me," said a literary New Yorker, "he talked about the Russian censorship. "He said that in the course of the Russo-Japanese war he had occasion rules the world?" arose, and various cording to his reckonings, should have opinions were expressed. William Ross been 216 nautical miles more to the wrote of these headquarters, among other things:

"'And over the desk in his highness' tent is a large photograph of Marie Jambe, the beautiful ballet dancer."

"Before this article could appear the censor changed that sentence to, 'And over the desk in his highness' tent is a large map of the theater of war."-Detroit News.

The Ostrich. In its habits, methods of life and prejudices the ostrich is one of the most curious creatures of the animal kingdom. It cannot be tamed, though it is easily trained to harness. When taught to race it seems to delight in a brush on the track or road with a horse. The gait of the ostrich is a lumbering sort of jog trot, which becomes delightfully easy when the bird is traveling fast. Unhampered with a rider and traveling with the wind this muscular creature can outstrip any horse.

Machinery and Labor. A generation or two ago men and women worked very long hours, and children had to work, too, in order to produce enough to support the workingman's family. The growth of capital and the employment of machinery have added so much to the efficiency of labor that long hours for adults are no longer necessary, and the industrial employment of children under fourteen can be entirely dispensed with.-Amertcan Review of Reviews,

MAGDALENA DISTRICT MINES

Great Work That Is Being Done in the Camps up on the Hill.

The following excellent statement of mining conditions and what is being done in the mining camps up on the hill was contained in a recent issue of the Santa Fe New Mexican:

There is more substantial development work being done at present in the Magdalena mining district in Socorro county than at any time in its history.

The Graphic company, under the management of Joseph Brown, is systematically exploiting and blocking out ore between the Waldo tunnel level and the old lower workings of the Graphic mine-a distance on the dip of the formation of about 350 feet. The company has demonstrated during the past three months that the ore body exposed in the Waldo tunnel is and cool drinks, go to Winkler's, continuous from that level up to the old workings in the mineprobably doubling the ore tonnage in sight at 'the present time that could be actually measured three months ago. The company is shipping a large tonnage of lead and zinc carbonates, the former ore going to the replied the girl; "it never takes Deming smelter, and the latter to the company's works at Joplin, Missouri.

The Tri-bullion company is working on the Nit shaft and completing the mill and installation of the machinery at the Kelly mine.

The Mistletoe company, under the management of William F. Gordon, the founder and organizer of the Ozark Oxide company, and its management until about a year ago, is vigorously developing a very promising group of property owned by his company about one mile southeast of Kelly. The Mistletoe property has already developed a very extensive ore shoot, which is being increased by development daily. The main tunnel has already been driven over 1,200 feet-it being the intention of the company to thoroughly prospect the entire group of properties from this tunnel.

L. R. Babcock is working the

The Germany Mining company owns a group of very promising properties situated southeast of the Kelly Group and south of the Mine Development company property. They are pushing development on the Germany and Alhambra propers ties and have already exposed a large tonnage of low grade ore. Owing to the peculiar geological conditions existing on the Germany and Alhambra, this property bids fair to become, with development, one of the most important producers in the district.

ie Hill Brothers are working at a preparing to ship ore from the Success Group situated ar the summit of the range at the south end of the district.

James Cowell is working in a 1, dy of zinc carbonate in the Oak Spring property.

The Mine Development company has recently connected the Tip Top tunnel, which starts on the west side of the range, with the south end of the Key workings, which starts on the east side of the range. This is the longest tunnel in the district, the portals being nearly one mile apart. It also attains the greatest vertical depth of any workings in the district. The company has been vigorously developing this property for the past seven years, and has run hundreds of feet of crosscuts, raises, and winzes from the main tunnel and has already exposed three stopes of ore, the extent of which can only be ascertained by future investigation. The company has completed an excellent wagon road from Kelly to the mine, and has constructed substantial ore bins, and commenced shipping ore. The ore already in sight is ample to maintain a constant output-The operations of the company on this property were regarded at one time by the wise men as a very shaky proposition, but the enormous ore stopes already exposed have demonstrated that there is no reason why like geological conditions should not produce similar results to those which have been demonstrated to exist in the Kelly and Graphic mines. The Mine Development company's operations will not only result in profit to the company, but of great benefit to the entire district.

What, Indeed?

A duchess requiring a lady's maid had an interview with one, to whom, after having examined her appearance, she said: "Of course, you will be able to dress my hair for me?" "Oh, yes," me more than half an hour to dress a lady's hair." "Half an hour, my child!" exclaimed the duchess, in accents of terror, 'and what on earth, then, should I be able to do with myself all the remainder of the morning?"

This is another illustration of down from Water canon Monday the fact that young men who fit themselves at the New Mexico School of Mines for practical work never lack appreciation.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by the Socorro Drug and Supply

Major Ruppe returned from Socorro this morning on the delayed special train and he said the parade at Socorro Saturday was one of the best he has ever seen. He highly praised the hospitality of the Socorro people and said that the city handled the great crowds in a most satisfactory manner. "Anybody who thinks Socorro is a dead town should have been down to the fair and they would be convinced that it is certainly a live city. Socorro has been thoroughly awakened and is fast becoming a city of push and enterprise."— Albuquerque Citizen.
