CONVICTS IN SIBERIA.

A Comparison of the Tortures Endured by Two Convicts.

Regarded as places of punishment the Norchinsk mines did not seem to me so terrible as they are often represented to be. It is not very pleasant, of course, to work eight or ten hours every day in a damp or hot gallery three hundred feet underground; but even such employment is, I think, less prejudicial to health than unbroken confinement in a dirty, over-crowded and foul-smelling convict prison. The mines are badly ventilated and the gases liberated in them by the explosives used are distinctly injurious; but there are no deadly fumes or exhalations from poisonous ores like chlorine to affect the health of the laborers, and experience seems to show that the death rate is no higher among the convicts who go regularly every day into the mines than among those who lie idle day after day in the vitiated air of the prison barracks. If I were permitted to make choice between complete idleness in such a prison as that of Aigach or Ust'Kara and regular daily labor in the mines, I should, without hesitation, choose the latter. So far as I could ascertain by careful inquiry among the convicts themselves, no one has ever been compelled to live and sleep in these mines day and night, and I believe that all the stories to that effect published from time to time are wholly imaginary and fictitious. The working force may occasionally have been divided into day and night gangs, or shifts, sent into the mines alternately, but the same men have never been required to remain there continuously for twenty-four hours. At the present time there is no night work and all of the convicts return to their prisons before dark, or in the short days of midwinter very soon after dark. I do not wish to be understood as saying that the life of Russian convicts at the Norchinsk silver mines is an easy one, or that they do not suffer. I can hardly imagine a more terrible and hopeless existence than that of a man who works all day in one of the damp, muddy galleries of the Pokrofski mine, and goes back at night to a close, foul, vermin-infested prison like that of Aigach. It is worse than the life of any pauper living, but at the same time it is not the nationally lamented life of the facilities convict described in Mr. Grinnell Murray's—the convict who lives night and day under ground, sleeps in a rocky niche, toils in hopeless misery under the task of a pitiless overseer, and is slowly poisoned to death by the fumes of quicksilver. Such things may be effective in a sensational drama, but they are not true. The worst feature of penal servitude in Siberia is not hard labor in the mines; it is the condition of the prisons.—George Kusman, in Century.

HUMOROUS.

"Gimme ten cents woff o' flesh-cullin' court plaster, boss." "White or black?" "Look heah, honey, I's a gen'l'man ob color an' I's aware ob de fa", but don't you go rubbin' it in."—Time.

"Singley—"How much you resemble your sister, Miss Jones. I would take you for her!" Miss Eponos—"Well, Mr. Starkey, this is sudden; but you may ask pa"—Lawrence American.

Book-agent—"Going from books to books—no, facts!—I find a fine youngster. Allow me to introduce you." Young woman—"Sir, that is impossible!" Book-agent—"I repeat, madam, allow me to congratulate you!"—Judas.

"Been sawin' wood," inquired the tailor. "Worse than that," panted the bus' president, wiping the perspiration from his brow and throwing himself exhausted into a chair. "I have been talkin' to a lady depositor! Whooh!"—Chicago Tribune.

Mr. Edison's invention—"Edison has a new invention whereby you can see a man's face miles away," said Smith. Mrs. Smith—"Oh how nice, James, you will buy one, won't you? You can then stay in at nights and still see the man!"—American Commercial Traveler.

Simple Gentleman—"Have you any marriageable daughters?" Landlady—"Two lovely creatures—one lovely blonde and—." Simple Gentleman—"Excuse me, madam, I make it a rule never to board in a house unless the landlady's daughters are married. Good morning."—Texas Statesman.

"Did you use your French while you were in Paris?" asked a young woman of a friend who had just returned from a European tour. "None or twopence," he replied. "It cost me nothing." "Why?" "We always used to tell what we wanted in English because we could get any two glasses of beer—any two bottles of beer—any two bottles of beer."—McDonald's.

Buy Churchill's—"I bought a bottle of Dr. Churchill's weight soap, Mr. Snell." "Good—A dollar and a quarter, please." "Very reasonable." "Good! This isn't to go to waste—it's for Mr. Churchill on the south. The tag is to be dug up." Snell. "Oh, come on! I thought you were the public. I'll give you a dollar, please."—Globe, Boston.

Mrs. Jason—"It really is a pity that the pay we have to devote so much space to scandal." Mr. Jason—"Any thing is all right if it's scandalous."—Daily Mirror.

A Presuming Little Girl.

"A little girl who made very frequent use of the word 'nurse,' was one day reprimanded for it by her teacher.

"Don't say 'nurse,' Mary," said Miss Jones; "say 'presume.'"

Presently one of Mary's little playmates, coming up to her, remarked:

"I think your cape is very pretty, and my mamma wants your mamma to lend her the pattern, because she is going to make me one like it."

"My mamma has no pattern," was the prompt reply; "she cut it by presumption."—Teaser Editions.

A Unique Time-Piece.

LOCAL ROUNDUPS

Local news—Business—Political—Social—Religious—Will give the regular facts whenever possible.

G. A. R. Monday night.

Have your family receipts filed at the post-office drug store.

CAPT. OONS, the popular liquor drummer, spent a couple of days in town this week.

Mother's Female Friend. No medicine equals it. At the post office drug store.

It warms our citizens to read how cold it is elsewhere. 40 and 50°, the mercury freezing, &c.

BUD MERRIT has bought the McClure House, at Manchester, and will plant it in White Oaks for a business house.

FRANK PARKER and his pretty little bride are at home. For the present they are domiciled at the residence of the groom's parents.

Perfumery, imported soaps, and all toilet requisites, at the post-office drug store.

AUTOMATIC SEWING MACHINES: Prices reduced. Every family now can have the best Automatic Sewing Machine in the market at reduced rates. For particulars send for our illustrated Circular with samples of stitching. Our Illustrated Circular shows every part of the Machine perfectly, and is worth sending for even if you have a Machine. Kimes & Murray, 106, Oneida and 407 West Main St., N. Y. City.

Use White Pine Expectorant, the leading cough medicine—at the post-office drug store.

THURSDAY morning the son of W. A. J. Ross, of Jicarilla, whom the old gentleman hadn't seen in fourteen years, arrived in town. The young man was unaccompanied by his wife and four as pretty little daughters as ever grew anywhere.

Our thanks are due the Las Vegas Optic for a 75 page pamphlet embodying the proceedings of the White Oaks R. R. Convention, held at El Paso in Sept. last. Beside the R. R. information proper, the reports submitted together with the speeches as published renders the pamphlet a valuable encyclopedic of useful knowledge.

THE Lincoln Independent, a paper that has never enjoyed robust health and which turned up its little toes one or two years ago reappeared last week from its old stand, with the name of Mrs. A. L. McNamee at its masthead as captain. The oil lady has had considerable newspaper experience, her latest being on the late Interprete. If she succeeds as well as Lincoln as she deserves she will make history of money.

THE Roswell Record reports a funny story on Mr. Whitman. In about as many words it says that while in his store toying with a dynamite cap in a moment of abstraction the old gentleman tossed the cap into the stove the consequence being a stove in many pieces and Mrs. W. stopping flight of one of the parties. Mrs. W. was not seriously injured but the stove was fatally wounded and Mr. W. was the worst scared Dutchman in three counties.

This week we saw a letter by the general manager of the White Oaks R. R. to a gentleman of this town, which speaks very encouragingly of the prospects of the building of the road. He says the deep snow delayed the engineers in their operations of the northern end of the line. Denver and Trinidad were slow in making good their subscriptions, but both are now awake and the engineer's reports will soon be ready upon which to base action leading to the building of the desired highway.

The World Marquis. The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will contribute to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Pigeon was first produced the world was enriched with the only medicine known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and satisfying to the taste and prompt and efficient to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

The Santa Fe company sent an expert to Lincoln County last week to report on the resources of that section of country. It may mean a branch road from Carthage Socorro county, in the near future—Albuquerque Citizen.

THE LINCOLN has for sale a piano, an organ, 2 wagons, 2 carriages, 2 carts, 3 type writers, a watch, a soda fountain, a shot gun a stove and range, 2 bicycles, one for a lady and one for a gentleman—also a first-class sewing machine. Calvin Fisk is our agent for the sale of any or all of the above—See him and secure bargains.

Old Soldiers Take Notice. I have received a large supply of Pension blanks and will make out your applications FREE OF CHARGE, and forward them to Col. S. P. Ihuehne, of Washington, D. C., a thoroughly competent Pension Attorney who will see that your claim is properly cared for.

RECEIVER'S SALE.

NOTICE is hereby given—that under and by virtue of an order of the Hon. A. Freeman, Judge of the Fifth Judicial District Court of the Territory of New Mexico, issued to me on the 21st day of December, A. D. 1891, as Receiver of the assets of Delaney & Vail, a corporation doing business at Fort Stanton, New Mexico, I will, as such Receiver, on the date hereinafter mentioned, sell, lease, and assign to persons or their agents or attorneys, might, either directly or by sub-agency, or in public auction, or in the manner otherwise, then or thereafter, best giving notice of the time and place of said sale, or by publishing a notice in some newspaper published in the vicinity of Lincoln, for many days before the date of same, and in view of their names or names which have and do belong to the persons aforesaid, goods and merchandise of said corporation.

As aforesaid no default has been made in the payment of said debts and expenses, and the interest thereon, arising and in the manner specified in and upon which the sale should be conducted, payable, then, and forever, to the said receiver, the said receiver, and his heirs, executors, administrators, or assigns, or to the holder of the said debts, and in view of the same, the amount and kind of goods and merchandise aforesaid, and the price thereof, will be determined by the said receiver.

And whereas it was provided in and by said mortgage deed that before the same should be paid off, the receiver should make a full account of all debts and expenses, and the interest thereon, arising and in the manner specified in and upon which the sale should be conducted, payable, then, and forever, to the said receiver, the said receiver, and his heirs, executors, administrators, or assigns, or to the holder of the said debts, and in view of the same, the amount and kind of goods and merchandise aforesaid, and the price thereof, will be determined by the said receiver.

And whereas the source of Delaney & Vail, and a check upon the record of the County Clerk, shows that the same is located in Lincoln, in the town and county of Lincoln, the said receiver, Leslie Hill, his heirs, executors, administrators, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for each, the premises hereinbefore and in said mortgage deed described, and will execute and deliver to the purchaser or purchasers thereof, a good and sufficient deed therefor.
