NEW MEXICO POSTOFFICES

There were 286 postoffices in New Mexico on March 15, 1904. On June 30, 1903, there were 287, the year preceding 272, in 1901 there were 269, the year before that 222, in 1900, 212, in 1899, 210 and in 1897, 204. There are 120 money order offices in the territory at present. There are five second class offices which rank as follows: Albuquerque, Las Vegas, Santa Fe, Roswell and Naton. This rank will not be disturbed by the rating which will be given these offices on March 31, of this year except that Roswell will pass Santa Fe. Alamogordo will be advanced from the third to the second class.

The following states and territories have fewer postoffices than New Mexico: Wyoming 236, Utah 230, Arizona 257, Nevada 186, Rhode Island 137, Delaware 151, Alaska 102, Hawaii 92, Porto Rico 81.

UNBUSINESSLIKE COMPETITION

The Lord likes a good, fair competitor, but dislikes a mean, contemptible one. Here is the kind of a competitor The Citizen has in the Morning Journal, since Macpherson assumed entire control. A recent agreement relative to government printing, Macpherson remarked to John Steward, "You can have our share of the agreement, provided you hear The Citizen out of its share."

Mr. Steward positively refused to enter into any such h-m-f-m scheme suggested by Macpherson to defraud The Citizen of its share of a legitimate agreement, and demonstrated his honesty by settling with this office.

As Macpherson has gone into the cigar and tobacco business, the other word dealers of the city will find him an unbusinesslike competitor, and we advise them beforehand to enter into no private contract with him, for if they do and he imagines he has a grievance against them, he will surely attempt to get even with them by having the private matters published in the Morning Journal, a paper which is costing the A. A. Grand estate a thousand dollars or more over and above expenses every month he is president and manager.

THE BURNELS

Frank A. and Thomas S. Hubbell were born and reared here. They have built homes in this city, and upon every occasion, have worked for the best interests of the place. Upon several occasions when certain individuals, who have never done anything but seek against everything in general, the Hubbells have secured substantial benefits for the city. When it was necessary to secure a fair a year ago a success, Frank the air a year ago a success, Frank Hubbell went to that city and devoted three days to raising the necessary funds. The next territorial republican convention will be held in this city through work of Frank A. Hubbell. There are hundreds of such instances that could be enumerated. The morning paper wishes to kill Mr. Hubbell politically, thinking that by doing so that short could control the city and county, and get better franchises for the corporations that own the paper. Mr. Hubbell is not a candidate for any city office. It will not affect him in the least if the whole republican ticket was defeated. He makes thousands of dollars each year from his vast herds of sheep and spends the money in this city. He could live in comfort anywhere on earth in his income, but prefers to reside in this home city, where he is doing much to help build up every public enterprise.

RACE PRIDE

Booker T. Washington's remark in a recent address in New York, that he was proud of being a negro, condenses a whole system of philosophy, says the Kansas City Star. The great question now vexing the southern states will be in a fair way to be solved when this saying becomes generally accepted and acted upon.

The pride to which Mr. Washington referred was of the same nature as that which an American takes in his citizenship. The average inhabitant of the United States is proud that he belongs to a nation with a history and which has before it a splendid future. That is a sort of pride which adds to the man's self-respect. It does not make him arrogant or offensive but it does make him a better citizen.

The head of Tuskegee Institute feels that his race has shown one of the greatest tests of history with credit to itself. The withering effect of modern civilization upon every inferior people with whom it has come in contact has often been remarked upon. Yet under the discipline of slavery the black race has thriven and progressed to

CARNIVAL OPENING

The Southern Carnival Company Entertained the People Last Night.

READ THE PROGRAM

The opening of the Albuquerque April Street Fair and Charity carnival last night was marked by the general good nature of the five or six thousand people in attendance, and the universal surprise of all regarding the extent of the attractions furnished by the Nat. Heine Southern Carnival company, to say nothing of the expressions of astonishment brought forth by the grand and spectacular free acts of Harry Duffell, in his mid-air bicycle act, and the marvelous spirit tower feat of Archelle Philion. The opening occurred promptly at the appointed time and the first night passed without any annoying incidents.

The "big oings" began at 7:30 o'clock, when the cryers for the street attractions began the twangy but not unmusical hurrahs, setting forth in catchy phrases the features of their several attractions. The crowd was a little slow to catch the carnival spirit, but once the first step was taken, confusion and good natured revelry reigned.

At 8 o'clock the crowd was attracted by the mezzanine tenor voice of the carnival company's official announcer, Mr. Shannon, calling attention to a fast wire cable which extended across Railroad avenue from the roof of the Armijo building to the Barnet building, fifty feet above the street. Harry Duffell was about to enter on his perilous journey of riding this cable on a bicycle. Three men appeared on the Barnet building and the sea of faces in the street turned toward the little group, the people straining every muscle and sense in order that nothing should escape them. A cluster of electric lights marked the place on the building where the three men stood and in the dim light a bicycle and some pulleys could be distinguished. There was a blaze of light and a slender young man clad in close fitting uniform, carrying a large pole studded with incandescent lights mounted on a bicycle, peddled out on the cable. Rows of little lights beamed the seams of his trousers and extended along his arms. Slowly at first and then recklessly fast he covered the distance from one building to the other and return, stopping midway at balance. Then came a succession of explosions, followed by a rain of fireworks grand and beautiful. Amid this shower of variegated sparks, surrounded by the grand display of fireworks ever seen in Albuquerque, the young man again dashed across the intervening air.

For a few minutes the crowd stood agape at the grandeur of the spectacle and then burst forth in frantic cheers, loud and long.

Headed by a Southern Carnival company band the crowd surged along Railroad avenue to Fifth street, where a few pleasant remarks Mayor Myers paid Mr. Nat Heine a deserving tribute and turned the keys of the city over to "King Carnival."

Archelle Philion was then introduced to the crowd that filled the vacant lots and streets adjacent to the spiral tower and mounted on a large white rubber sphere eighteen inches in diameter, a lyth ball athlete young man clad in gold satin suit and cap, steadily, by a movement of his feet, forced the ball to roll up along the narrow curving incline of the tower. In his right hand he carried a light rattan stick and gracefully he received the applause of the admiring spectators. After ascending the tower to its topmost coil, Mr. Philion dismounted from his oval conveyance and lowered a narrow trap door to a slender scaffold running forty feet horizontal from the tower. Out on this, fifty feet above the ground and only protected from an accidental fall by a frail net, the clever Philion rode his spherical vehicle, and without accident returned to the tower. Then dimly seen through a shower of fireworks, fully as grand as that which accompanied the Duffell performance, Mr. Philion plunged pell-mell down the narrow path of the tower, reaching the ground safely. Nothing like this feat has ever before been seen in the west, and on this occasion Albuquerque may justly thank the Nat. Heine Southern Carnival for the opportunity of seeing it.

After the Philion act the crowd returned down town and to the stadium. The performance lasted forty minutes, and in the stadium Diavola looped the loop, which is the greatest athletic accomplishment of the age. It was just seven seconds last night from the time Diavola left the apex of the loop through the loop to the ground. The crowd yelled with enthusiasm and the night's performance was over.

The Program for the Week.
Archelle Philion's spiral tower free act, 8:30 in the afternoon and 9 o'clock in the evening.
Duffell's mid-air bicycle free act, 8:30 in the afternoon and 10:30 in the evening.

Performances will be given in the stadium at 8:45 in the afternoon and 9:15 in the evening, the forty minutes performance closing at night just before the Duffell free act.

Diavola will loop the loop at each performance in the stadium.

LAUNCHING OF THE VIRGINIA

Battleship of Old Dominion State Glides Off the Ways.

CHEERING CROWD PRESENT

A Complete Description of One of Uncle Sam's Monarchs of the Sea.

MOST INTERESTING CEREMONIES

Newport News, Va., April 5.—In the presence of thousands of cheering spectators and to a chorus of booming guns, screeching whistles and clanging bells, the big 16,900-ton battleship Virginia gracefully glided from the ways at the yard of the Newport News Ship Building and Dry Dock company today. The interesting ceremony took place shortly before one o'clock, and as the warship went down the ways and took her maiden dip in the rippling waves of the historic James river, the assembled multitude wildly cheered the new addition to Uncle Sam's fleet.

Owing to the easy access to all residents of the state honored by the navy department when the Virginia was named, there was the largest attendance ever seen at a launching here. In the forenoon there was a large parade of state militia, sailors, and various patriotic societies.

The ship was christened by Miss Matilda Gay Montague, daughter of Governor Montague of Virginia. Miss Montague, who is only 12 years old, was accompanied from Richmond by a large and distinguished party, including state officials, the governor's staff and numerous influential business and professional men. Nearly all of the Virginia representatives in congress were on hand, and also large parties of citizens from Portsmouth, Norfolk, Petersburg and other points.

With the first movement of the huge hull Miss Montague lightly poised the gaily beribboned champagne bottle in her dainty hand, and as the vessel swept down to meet the tide she dashed the glass receptacle against the unyielding wall of steel, and as the wine flowed down toward the ways in foaming rivulets the fair sponsor said: "I christen thee Virginia."

Pandemonium had broken loose in the crowd below as well as upon the christening stand. Greeted with a welcoming blast from the shrill throats of a score or more of steam whistles, the battleship floated majestically out upon the bosom of the James, where "she" was brought to in midstream. Occupying a place of honor upon the bow stood W. P. Kline, the only survivor of the five men who were aboard the old Virginia (Merimac) of the Confederate navy when launched at the Norfolk navy yard.

After the launching the crowd dispersed, viewing with interest the cruiser Charleston, launched some time ago; the Minnesota, whose keel was laid two months ago; the West Virginia, which is rapidly nearing completion, and the Maryland, which is expected to be ready for the government in another year. Another object of inspection was the Louisiana, which was regarded with special interest because it is known that there is a race on between the local ship building company and the navy yard at New York.

The invited guests, including Governor Montague's party and the naval officials from Washington, were driven to the Hotel Warwick, where a delightful collation was served.

The battleship Virginia embodies the highest ingenuity and nature experience of American naval experts. The general dimensions of the ship are: Length on load water line, 356 feet; breadth (extreme) at load water line, 76 feet 2 1/2 inches; trial displacement, about 15,000 tons; mean draught at trial displacement, about 22 feet 9 inches; greatest draught, full load, 26 feet.

In the 15,000 or more tons represented in the Virginia, the many antagonistic qualities essential to a perfect fighting machine have been compressed and incorporated in the proportion which experience seems to have pointed out as the most desirable and efficient. To begin with, the ship will have a speed of at least sixteen knots, which compares most favorably with any battleships under construction abroad, as well as with any in the projected class.

The Virginia will be propelled at this high speed by twin screws driven by two four-cylinder triple expansion engines, running under conditions of maximum speed, at about 120 revolutions a minute.

The battleship will carry four 12-inch guns, mounted by pairs in balanced turrets, one turret being forward of the superstructure and the other aft. Of the eight 8-inch guns, which will be carried on the vessel, four will be mounted by pairs in turrets, superposed on the 12-inch turrets above mentioned, and four in two broadside turrets slightly forward of amidship. In addition to these heavy guns there will be a broadside battery of twelve 6-inch rapid-fire guns. The secondary battery will consist of twelve 3-inch rapid-fire guns, twelve 3-pounder semi-automatic, eight 1-pounder heavy automatic, two machine guns and six Colt automatic guns, all mounted in commanding positions and having large arcs of fire. The ship will also be fitted with submerged torpedo tubes. She will be completely and heavily armored, all of the material of construction being of the same high quality of steel which has entered into all of the vessels of the new American navy.

NICK FROM A PATRON

HE OBJECTS TO THE MANNER OF SEAT RESERVING AT THE OPERA HOUSE.
To the Chicago.
The management of the Elks Opera house should be very careful in the matter of reserved seats. One dissatisfaction will result when one individual acting for a hundred others can present himself and receive all the best seats in the house.

This state of affairs has come to pass twice, and a stitch in time will save many box office dollars. Make everybody reserve his own seat, and extend no favoritism. Run the house on business principles and give no one set of individuals a preference over another.

This is not the first complaint The Citizen has received on the same subject, but the above complaint, in a mild form, shows that the idea of one or two persons acting for a number of ticket holders is not a popular one, and the management should in the future avoid such complaints.

A WOMAN'S BACK.

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear if the Advice of This Albuquerque Citizen is Followed.
A woman's back has many aches and pains.
Most times it is the kidney's fault. Backache is really kidney ache. That's why Dean's Kidney Pills cure it.

Many Albuquerque women know this.
Read what one has to say about it.
Mrs. J. Hall, of 515 South First St., says: "One of my daughters suffered from backache for about eight months or a year. Sometimes it was so bad that she was completely prostrated for a day or so at a time. I read about Dean's Kidney Pills in an Albuquerque newspaper and thought if they only performed half what they promised they might help my daughter and we sent to the Alvarado Pharmacy for a box. In a remarkably short time the medicine took effect and a continuation of the treatment a little longer stopped the backache. We are pleased to recommend Dean's Kidney Pills."

MALARIA

Germ Infected Air.

Malaria is not confined exclusively to the swamps and marshy regions of the country, but wherever there is bad air this miasma due to localities is found. Poisonous vapors and gases from swamps, and the malarial disease, which are breathed into the lungs and taken up by the blood and transmitted to every part of the body. Then you begin to feel out of sorts without ever suspecting the cause. No more or less, dull headaches, sleepiness and tired and completely dull from the slightest exertion, are some of the deleterious effects of this insidious malarial. As the disease progresses and the blood becomes more deeply poisoned, fever and chills and dark or yellow spots appear upon the skin. When the poison is left to ferment and the malarial germs to multiply in the blood, liver and kidney troubles and other serious complications often arise. As malaria begins and develops in the blood, the treatment to be effective must begin there too. S. S. S. destroys the germs and poisons and purifies the polluted blood, and under its tonic effect the debilitated constitution rapidly recuperates and the system is soon clear of all signs of this depressing disease. S. S. S. is a guaranteed purely vegetable remedy, mild, pleasant and harmless. Write us if you want medical advice or any special information about your case. This will cost you nothing.

SOUTHERN CARNIVAL'S BIG ATTRACTIONS

Some of the Interesting Features to be Seen in Albuquerque This Week.

THRILLING AND DAZZLING EVENTS PORTRAYED

Albuquerque's April street fair and Charity Carnival given by the National Southern Carnival company, which began Sunday night, has now been in progress going on four days, and none can gainsay that it is not the most, clearest and most prize-worthy entertainment of the kind ever given in the southwest. Even though this might be termed remarkable week for the Carnival company, they having just come from their winter quarters at Seattle, Wash., the most severe critic would find fault, if any, with any of the fifteen different attractions to which admission is charged, to say nothing of the free attractions. First the side attractions are of the first class of their respective kinds, the public is satisfied, and that the attractions, including Dillie's sensational wire loop performance and Arlene Philon's aerial stunts, are the greatest and most complete of modern stage or circus feats are conceded and without question.

The attendance last night was the largest yet, and so far, may be termed the hammer night of the week. The musical battle was fiercer than ever and the real carnival spirit was more evident.

Railroad avenue from First street to First street was a swelling mass of people, all bent on pleasure, and they found it. The shows were well attended, each giving several performances to crowded tents.

What They Saw.
The program published in The Sun yesterday was carried out precisely, without a single accident or blunder.

At 9 o'clock, the crowd, led by the Carnival company's white band, surged on the avenue to Fifth street to see Archie Philon mount the spiral tower on his spherical vehicle—a rubber ball—which looked to be about thirty inches in diameter. How he does it is a marvel, and the grace and ease with which he does it is certainly to be admired. That a man could conquer and control with his feet an inanimate sphere, that he could ride it up and down a plain, smooth sphere, so narrow that an ordinary person would imperil his life by venturing upon it with two good feet, is almost beyond conception. Twice a day during the three days Mr. Philon has mounted the spiral runway and descended it, with the same grace and ease. Last night the electrical and fire works display, which surrounded him on his closing spin down the tower, was equally as grand as on Monday night.

At 9 o'clock the Stadium performance began and was witnessed by between six and seven hundred spectators. The performance lasted forty minutes and included clever acrobatic feats, skilled tight wire walking, gymnastic performance, Glimore family, acrobats, a performance by Farmer Johnson's trained pigs, which was very amusing and very pleasing to the children, closing with the world astounding feat of Diavola, in her loop-the-loop exploit. This one act is worth the price of admission to the Stadium, although it is over in seven seconds. That the young man takes his life in his hands is very apparent. A hush fell over the people who lined the seats as Diavola and his loop-the-loop were drawn up the incline of the loop last night. He was but a few seconds in getting in readiness to make the plunge. Seldom has man ever periled his life for public amusement as Diavola does in his loop-the-loop act. "Are you ready?" said Mr. Shannon, the announcer. Diavola nodded his head. There was a slow start, a streak of black and white, a clatter of boards, the click of the opening and closing of the death trap and Diavola shot out safely into the stretch beyond the loop. The death

TERRITORIAL TOPICS

Accidentally Shot—Robert Warren of the La Plata, San Juan county, met with an accident that very nearly proved fatal the other evening. He, with his younger brother, were looking after some sheep, having with them a 22-caliber rifle or revolver. By an unfortunate accident, the weapon was discharged, the ball entering Robert's side just below the heart. Dr. C. H. Smith was summoned and at this writing the young man is resting nicely. No dangerous results are anticipated from the effects of the wound.

Down With Pneumonia—Mrs. L. K. Big Wolf of Las Vegas was suddenly stricken with pneumonia. It is believed the case will not be a severe one, but the lady's friends are much concerned.

A Miner Killed—A miner named John Schenck lost his life in the mine south of Captain by a body of coal falling on him. He was buried under the surface of the local ledge of Knights of Pythias.

Runaway Accident—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ryan of Carlsbad figured in a runaway accident last night when a very heavy team of horses, owned by Ryan, bolted and ran into the back of the head and being bruised generally. Her injuries are not serious, however. Mr. Ryan was not injured.

A Fifty Dollars Gift—H. L. Lett of Las Vegas handed fifty dollars to the management of the Ladies' home of that city, as a contribution to the worthy institution for the members of his congregation. The gift is most thankfully received and the workers at the home very highly appreciate the generosity of Congregation Montrose.

O'Donnell in a Fight—Monday night a free fight for all took place in the Arcade saloon, Santa Fe, in which quite a number of persons participated. Thomas O'Donnell, the well-known black driver, it is claimed, was out about the face and head with a revolver in the hands of Special Policeman Frank Romero. O'Donnell was taken to his home and was not able to be up on Tuesday. His injuries, while not serious, are, nevertheless, quite painful.

Granted Her Divorce—In the divorce case of Mrs. Clara Ruiz versus Manuel Ruiz in the district court for Santa Fe county Judge John R. McPherson yesterday heard the testimony and granted the separation asked for and the custody of the child, Gaspar Ruiz. Mrs. Ruiz was married to Manuel Ruiz at El Paso, Texas, on the 25th day of April, 1896, by a justice of the peace and lived with her husband until June 10, 1902, when she left him, being impossible for her to suffer any longer his abusive conduct and total disregard of his duties. The child is the only issue of the marriage and is now with the Sisters of Loretto in El Paso.

New Business Building—The Joyce Fruit company of Carlsbad on Wednesday let the contract for their new building. There were nine bids, the successful parties being Snyder & Lacy, of Hordford, Texas, at $18,401. The other bids were: P. W. Tibbitts, $19,610; George Bruce, $20,000; Pearce & Bixby, $21,250; Thompson & Shearman, $22,444; Hewitt Jones, $22,573; Russell & Wicker, $23,910; H. P. Denning, $25,534; Charles E. Kemp & Son, $26,025.

After Mountain Lion—J. W. Johnson, living in Rushing canon, Otter county, while riding near his home a few days ago discovered a mountain lion following him; he galloped up to his house and got his gun and shot at it, but did not kill it. The shooting did not seem to frighten it very much, but it went away. As soon as possible Rinaldo Trospe and Fulton Nelson went on his trail with hounds, but could not catch it.

Before Ma and Pa—J. H. Perry came in from the mountains Monday morning, hot on the trail of his daughter, Bessie, who had left home with one Ed. Arnold, with the intention of being married in Carlsbad, says the Argus. The young people were found without much difficulty, and the party at once started for home, where they will be married in the presence of "Ma and the neighbors." As the father insisted he did not object to the marriage, but insisted that the ceremony should occur at home.

Lived a Day After Reaching Home—The sad news has reached Las Vegas of the death of H. L. Harmon at Keokuk, Ia. Mr. Harmon left that town a week ago Sunday in a serious condition. He lived but a day after reaching Keokuk. Mr. Harmon came to Las Vegas about six months ago, and when his health broke down was in the employ of the Wells-Fargo Express company. He leaves a child two years old, his wife having died some time ago. At the time of his death he was engaged to be married to a young lady of Keokuk.

Scored at Navajo Indians—George Burrows and Jack Cousins of Aztec

started for Farmington, but when nearing Flora Vista the horses became frightened at some Navajo Indians who were working on the ditch and tried to climb a telephone pole, says the Index. George, who refused to stop when the horses did, tore a hole in the dashboard and fell under the horses' feet, being bruised but not seriously hurt. We have been unable to learn how Jack fared, but will state that George will recover if the "bottled machine" holds out.

Horrible Death—Last Sunday word reached this city that an unknown man had been killed by a train at the over a mile east of French station on the Durango road. The report of the engineer carrying a heavily loaded freight train south and, just as he turned the last curve coming into French saw an object lying directly across the track. He whistled and threw on the air brakes to stop, but could not, and when nearly the object saw it was a man, and the only sign of life from him was the raising of his head just before the engine struck him. The body was carried a distance of over 200 yards before the train was stopped. The trainmen gathered on the scene of the horrible murder and torn body and lay it alongside the track, reported the accident at French and the agent there at once notified the coroner of this precinct and Monday in company with the constable went to the scene of the accident and held an inquest over the body. No papers were found to identify the unfortunate man. And it is presumed he was walking from Dawson to French on the track and lay down, either from the influence of liquor or with the intent to suicide. It will never be known—Springer Stockman.

Mining Man Dead—William McAlister, one of the best known and most successful mining men in Grant county, died at his home near Silver City last Monday morning of a stroke of paralysis, sustained several days previously, says the Independent. Funeral services were held from Higgins' undertaking parlors last Monday afternoon and were largely attended. The services at the grave were in charge of the local lodge, No. 8, A. F. and A. M., of which the deceased was a member. Mr. McAlister was a native of Cornwall, England, where he was born 27 years ago. He came to America in 1877 and early drifted west. He was engaged in mining in many places in the west from British Columbia to Mexico. He finally settled in Grant county and secured a very profitable lease on the Arizona mine at Pecos Alto. While he had never received a technical mining education, his judgment in mines was considered sound and he met with a number of successes. Besides his wife he is survived by several children, by a former wife and a brother, Henry. Mr. McAlister was faithful and loyal to his friends, generous and warm hearted and the community losses a valuable citizen in his death.

Canning Factory Assured—Mrs. E. V. McAlpine arrived in Aztec last evening and will make arrangements for the erection of her plant while here. Mrs. McAlpine has been very busy for the last month corresponding with manufacturers of canning machinery and straightening out business affairs preparatory to starting the plant, says the Aztec Index.

Don't Like Scheme—Messrs. Robertson and Stovick, who have been in the city several days endeavoring to secure contracts and photographs of patrons of this paper for the purpose of making arrangements with the New Mexican Printing company for the publication of such cuts at a fixed rate have been doing some business in town in that line. The New Mexican desires to have it however, distinctly understood that Messrs. Robertson and Stovick are not in any manner, shape or form connected with this paper. The matter is entirely conducted by them and this paper is not concerned, nor is it responsible for anything they may do or say. The plan when first broached by them to the New Mexican was looked upon rather favorably, but since then circumstances have arisen which have caused the management of the paper to change its consideration of the plan.—New Mexican.

San Juan County Marriage—The young man was in a hurry, didn't want to keep his partner waiting. Said he had met the county clerk on the road to Durango and wanted to know where he would find the deputy clerk, and where was the justice of the peace office, says the Aztec Index. Of course, never having any experience, it didn't dawn upon us that he wanted a marriage license and that his partner was a lady. However, 'twas but a short time after our interview with him until Mr. J. J. Shultz of Farmington and Miss Lela Dix of Delta were man and wife. Judge Berry tying the knot and Deputy Clerk Ehlson giving the bride away. Bert McCluney and Duke Maspin of Farmington were witnesses.

Forged a Check—A young Dutch man by the name of John Lambert forged a check on Homer Schofield, manager of the Alamo Telephone company, March 30, and after he had secured it cashed it at the bank.

Barbers at Alamogordo.

THEIR ACTION WILL COMPEL PATRONS TO SHAVE THEMSELVES.

Friday morning the barbers in the three Alamogordo shops again went out on a strike. It seems that the three proprietors signed up an agreement Thursday for the raise in the price of shaves to 25 cents, and also the new working hours demanded. They state that the sentiment on the part of the barbers and also the barbers themselves made disaster certain for the proprietors. Consequently they gained a reconsideration of the matter by the barbers and also endeavored to find out the stand the El Paso union took in the matter. The barbers accordingly walked out on the affair is settled.—Advertiser.

Accidental Shooting—Word was received at Farmington of the accidental shooting of a young son of B. B. Warren, who lives on the "Two Cross" ranch on the La Plata, says the Times-Herald. It seems that he and a young brother were herding sheep in the hills and a few days before had seen a wild cat and took a 22-caliber pistol with them, hoping to get a shot at it. They were sitting down and the young brother was handling the gun, when it went off accidentally, the ball entering the left side of the older boy a little below the heart, penetrating about two inches and passing out of his body, going through the lower part of the left lung. Dr. Smith was called and the wound dressed, which was doing well at last accounts. No serious consequences are anticipated.

T. R. McMeans, agent of the Santa Fe Central railway at Estancia, who was called to California several weeks ago on account of the serious illness of his mother, has returned to his duties and John P. Kennedy, who was in charge of Estancia station during Mr. McMeans' absence, has resumed his former position as agent at Kennedy.

The Topoka State Journal says: "Notices have been posted in the Santa Fe shops at this place to the effect that the working hours of the men have been raised from nine hours per day to ten hours for every day except Saturday. The working hours were reduced several weeks ago on account of the lack of work. Similar notices have been posted in the local shops."

Barney Barnfield, known as "Tex," and the misfortune to smash one of his fingers this morning in the local shops.

MAY AVERT STRIKE

Trouble May Blow Over Says General Manager Mudge.

KENDRICK'S EMPHATIC REPLY

H. U. Mudge, general manager of the Santa Fe, with headquarters in Chicago, has received a copy of the reply of J. W. Kendrick, third vice president of the road, to the demands made by the committee that has been representing the Santa Fe machinists in a conference with the officials at Chicago, where the Topoka State Journal, in this reply Mr. Kendrick positively refused to make a contract with the International Association of Machinists. The following is the closing paragraph of his reply:

For the reasons stated herein—namely (first), inability of the officers of your organization to control its men, as evidenced in the two important cases in the experience of the company during the last two years; (second) the attitude of the representatives of your organization in procuring among the employees of the company during the past six months, during which time little was said, and then only for effect, regarding the interests of the road, and much was said tending upon the entire practicability of destroying the company's property, in case it failed to agree to the conditions that were to be prescribed; (third) because of the fact that the shops of this system, and shall be, open to the view of the world, not only to know what is in the work incident to the mechanical operation of this road—we must, and will insist such time as we have shown by a different policy, has thus far characterized your dealings with this company, that you are worthy of the confidence which we must, for the present, withhold, decline to make any contract with your organization. We desire to promote the interests of our employees in every practical way, to accord to them the freedom of action that is the right of every American citizen, but we can not, do not, feel that these aims would be advanced by the treaty that you propose.

In order that you may know this decision meets with the approval of the president of this company, I will say that I hold telegrams from him, endorsing the writer's analysis of the proposed rules, which has, by his order, been printed and distributed, and cordially endorsing in the final decision that has been reached with respect to this matter.

The constitution of the United States guarantees to every citizen, whatever his position in society, absolute protection in the enjoyment of the right of a free man, to be constituted has not, thus far, been amended so as to confer upon any organization the power to discriminate against any man or class of men, whose mechanics who are endeavoring to do so, are without any standing in law, in equity, or in right.

It is perfectly evident that any agreement which would, accord recognition to the organization to which you belong would result in forcing every man on the road to belong to your order, if it chose to take them in, or leave out service. Yours truly, J. W. KENDRICK.

It is expected that this emphatic reply to the demands of the committee will result in immediate action on the part of the International Association of Machinists. When asked for his opinion regarding the prospects of a strike among the machinists employed on the lines of the Santa Fe, H. U. Mudge said:

"I think that trouble with the men is likely to be averted if Mr. Wilson and his agitators will cease operations. We have been notified to the effect that the members of the machinists' committee in Chicago have postponed any further action and will shortly return to their respective stations. Last week it was stated that orders had been issued for the men to ride upon the question of a strike Saturday night, but I understand now that they have deferred the voting proposition until they hear from James O'Connell, the president of the association who has his headquarters at Washington. They will probably hear from Mr. O'Connell some time this week."

Mr. Mudge was then asked if it was true that the company had brought non-union machinists into Topoka preparatory to putting the mile work in the shops in case a strike order should be issued.

"No, we have brought in no men yet," said Mr. Mudge. "But we are fully prepared to do so in case of trouble. There are so many machinists out of work at the present time that I am sure we would have no difficulty in filling up the shops. I just received a letter today from a man who offers to furnish us with sixty machinists. Of course the work of these men would not be as satisfactory as that of the men now at work in the shops, but they would serve our purpose for the time being."

Santa Fe Men at Frisco—A party of Santa Fe officials, including Vice President Paul Morton, freight traffic manager W. B. Biddle, Passenger Traffic Manager George E. Nicholson, General Freight Agent Edward Chambers and General Passenger Agent J. from Southern California. With Pres. J. Hyatt, arrived at San Francisco E. P. Ripley, who remained in Santa Barbara, the party has been making a tour of inspection of the company's western system. In regard to business in the west, Vice President Morton said it is all that the railroad company could ask for.

SHAYES 25 CTS. AT ALAMOGORDO
Barbers Have a Strike and Win Their Contention.

Alamogordo has just undergone a barber's strike and the result is that shaves hereafter will cost 25 cents and to get them patrons of the shops will have to visit the territorial parlors between the hours of 8 a. m. and 8 p. m.

The barbers struck at noon Tuesday and the doors of all the shops were closed until late Thursday afternoon, when the demands of the strikers were acceded to and the knights of the razor again took their stand behind their chairs and called "next."

Twenty-five cent shaves and a time lock on the doors of the barber shops before 8 in the morning and after 8 in the evening is a situation that the people of Alamogordo do not entirely relish, but the men had to be shaved—and so it is.

Broken Arm—Carmita Bell, who fell off a horizontal bar some three weeks ago and broke her arm, has recovered sufficiently so that Dr. Moir will take off the splint today, says the Lordsburg Liberal. Carmita may yet be able to do the flying trapeze act, for a little thing like a broken arm does not scare her out.

Taking Desperate Chances.
It is true that many contract colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding cold and paves the way for more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds, can be had for a trifle? For sale by all druggists.

Fred Haxton is securing signatures quite freely for a continuation of the club dances that were so greatly enjoyed during the past two months. The plan is to have one dance each month during the spring and summer, instead of one every two weeks, the arrangement that prevailed when the club was first formed.

Sheriff Leandro Baca has written Deputy Sheriff A. A. Baca that any violation of the law coming under his observation from whatever quarter, must be reported to the sheriff's office. The people of San Marcial are and always have been proud of the freedom of the town from any offence against the law. And at no period has this sentiment been more pronounced than at the present time, for the people know full well that the community has a fearless and alert officer in A. A. Baca, and one who is ever ready to act promptly and with circumspection in his official capacity.

One of the saddest deaths on record occurred last Wednesday evening when John W. Argenbright died of peritonitis at his home in this city. He had been ill only a very short time. The feature which makes the death particularly sad is that Mrs. Argenbright at the time of her husband's death was very ill with pneumonia and could not be informed of the loss of her husband. She has not as yet learned the truth. Mr. Argenbright was an American, and born in New Albany, Indiana, August 18, 1845. He moved early in his life to Macomb, Illinois, and was married in 1874 to Miss Alva Thomas. His next home was in Lamar, Mo., and later, about three years ago, he came to Silver City with his wife and one daughter, Miss Ruby. Mr. Argenbright was acknowledged to be one of the most expert painters who has ever resided in Silver City. The funeral services were held from O. J. Hinman's undertaking parlors at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and a long train of carriages took friends to the grave. Mr. Argenbright was one of Silver City's thoroughly respected and honored citizens. The news of his death came as a great shock to his many friends.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured.

THE HENNERY

Hens lay best when kept in rather small flocks. They should have plenty of room to roam about and hunt for food in a most natural way and buildings and sheds should always be kept clean and fresh.

A temperature of about sixty is best for keeping eggs intended for hatching. They should be gathered often during cold days to avoid chilling and should be turned every day while waiting to be put under the hen or into the incubator.

The high price of turkeys this winter has started a boom in the turkey business and every egg available throughout the country will be set in many places the breeding stock is rather limited on account of the temptation to sell, which has prevailed throughout the season.

A brooder for young chicks should imitate the natural nest as far as possible. The nest should be applied principally from above and warm, soft wooden shavings should be arranged in such a manner that the little chicks can put their backs up against them quite firmly as same as under a brooding hen.

Capon is in most demand after the holiday season and until well along into the late spring and early summer. A capon does not reach its prime until nearly matured, which requires from nine to twelve months. A young immature capon is no better than a cockerel and will not bring any more money.

Wild or Canada geese are very tame for the table. A good pair will weigh from fifteen to twenty-five pounds, according to age. They may be confined with a woven wire fence wherever a small pond can be enclosed so that they cannot escape. After two or three generations have been bred upon a ranch they will stay within a four or five foot fence when properly penned.

Eggs have been higher this winter than butter but are cheaper now. The difference has been considerably greater between these two products than a year ago. When eggs were high two years ago it was predicted that so many would go into egg producing that a great slump was sure to follow. We have been paying forty cents all winter for eggs and some of them came out of cold storage. It looks as if the time had come for some of our New Mexico people to begin growing hen fruit and let a lot of other folk lay down.

To make a success of the poultry business one must study and understand every detail of management. It cannot be done by trusting to careless hands to look after the wants of the fowls and attend to their feed.

A very important point, which most alms help are sure to overlook is that of cleanliness about the coops and sleeping quarters. A regular system of cleaning, watering and feeding must be practiced; the feed should be varied somewhat and the individual birds need looking after in regard to lice and other vermin.

A woman of our acquaintance has had considerable experience in running incubators and growing chicks for the early markets, gave us some pointers the other day: Light Brahmas are the most rapidly-growing fowls and the best for quick returns when the eggs are hatched under hens but the birds seem to delicate and of too quick growth to do well when handled by modern incubators and brooder methods. The chicks hatch out before they have fully absorbed the entire yolk of the egg and are therefore wobbly and unfit to raise either with a brooder or hen mother. The white leghorn comes much the same way and many high bred fowls have this failing. Harder Plymouth rocks are most hardy and seem to hatch best in an incubator and to most easily grow under conditions existing in this arid climate. Incubator chicks are as good if they hatch good and strong but if weakly they are not good.

REPORT ON STATEHOOD

IMPORTANCE OF TOMORROW'S ELECTION TO THIS CITY.

Special to The Citizen.

The only damage done was to the buggy and harness, caused by backing the horse out of the way.

The Machinists' hall, to occur in the Opera house hall room Monday night, promises to be a very successful affair. Tickets are selling well, and the promise is that it will be largely attended. That it will be a success goes without saying. SAVES $20,000 PER MONTH.

Santa Fe Lets Out Seventy-four Men at San Bernardino Shops.

Speaking of the big cut in the Santa Fe shop force in that city, the San Bernardino Sun says: "Seventy-four men employed in the Santa Fe's local machine shop were given their time yesterday afternoon, quitting with the 5 o'clock whistle. With the reduction brought about by the cutting of hours, this will mean a saving of almost $20,000 per month in the local shop pay roll."

The men discharged included forty-five machinists, receiving 28 cents an hour each, and twenty-nine machinist helpers, whose pay ranged from $1.50 to $2.25 per day.

The machinists have called a meeting which will convene at 10 o'clock this morning. It is presumed that it is for the purpose of discussing the layoff, although there is no indication that the men will take any radical action as a result of yesterday's occurrence.

The men know that work in our department has been very slack for the past several weeks, and I think that the majority of them do not blame the company for cutting the force," said a local machinist last evening. "Of course it is hard to be discharged, but then some one has to go at such times, and most of the boys take a practical view of this situation."

The inquiry has been made as to why the company cut the hours and then followed up this action by laying off men in the machine shop. It is stated that the double course was taken for two reasons. First, because the company wished to take the full cost means of reducing expenses; and second, because it had a contract with the machinists in the effect that it would reduce the hours in their department in preference to discharging men. It followed the agreement by first cutting the working hours and later laying off the necessary number of men.

It was yesterday learned that the cut in hours which went into effect five Thursday extended through the shops of the entire Santa Fe system. This policy was agreed upon at a conference held at Santa Barbara three weeks ago between President Wiley and the various heads of the departments of the Santa Fe.

The Santa Fe is not alone in its desire to reduce expenses. The Denver & Rio Grande company cut the number of hours and made a reduction in the force in their shops some eight months ago, and nearly all the railroads in the country have done the same in the past few months.

THE ENGINEER IN FRONT.

NEW KIND OF LOCOMOTIVES TO BE EXHIBITED BY GERMANS AT ST. LOUIS.

A giant steam locomotive, which it is the intention to exhibit at the St. Louis exposition, was tested on the military railway at Berlin in the presence of a large company of civil and military persons. The engine of this locomotive rides in its forward part and communicates with the fireman through a speaking tube. The front and rear cone of the locomotive diminish the resistance. The locomotive alone attained a speed of 60 miles an hour, and of 63 miles an hour when drawing six vestibule passenger coaches weighing a total of 225 metric tons.

No effort was made to develop full speed, but the trial proved the possibility of introducing a double schedule without any change of roadbed or rolling stock.

Accident on the Rio Grande—An accident occurred in the Denver & Rio Grande train, at Rio Grande, twenty miles northwest of Santa Fe. Thursday afternoon, which came near resulting seriously. As the train was crossing the bridge over the Rio Grande river a coupling broke and it parted. The locomotive stopped at the tank of Rio Grande when the second part of the train came down grade and bumped into the first part. Those of the crew who were standing were thrown from their feet but escaped injury. Railway Mail Clerk J. E. Wood passed a drop out in the forehead and the passengers were badly shaken up. The coupling pin of the rear car of the first section stove into the car of the second part of the train and had to be replaced with a chain.

It Was a Goose—Coming around the bluff near La Jota the other night, Engineer Neil Nelson and Fireman Ed Landwehr were making good time with local freight train 25, says the San Marcial Bee. "They were rather surprised to observe an object bobbing on the pilot, and when the 'kid' climbed down to investigate he found a young goose caught beneath the pilot supports. When Landwehr welcomed Nelson back to the cab the latter said what a headless goose, and he still carried the fowl when he landed in San Marcial. It doesn't follow that you are a goose if you protest mildly against swallowing this incident in the picture form."

SUE TWENTY-SIX RAILROADS
Chicago Coal Shippers Take Action Under Sherman Law.
Eight specific charges, each one pointed out as a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, are brought against the twenty-six leading railroads running into Chicago in a bill prepared for the Chicago Coal Shippers' association to be filed in the United States circuit court. The action is an attempt by the coal men to put the Chicago car service association out of business on the ground that it is an illegal combine of railroads. The bill to be filed is a petition for injunction against each of the roads, restraining them from continuing their membership in the association and from combining to form a similar organization. The petition was presented to United States District Attorney Becha six weeks ago and forwarded to Attorney General Knox. The latter instructed Mr. Becha to hear both sides and prosecute if the association appears unlawful.

R. J. McCann, auditor of the Santa Fe Central railway company and the New Mexico Fuel and Iron company, with his chief clerk, E. L. Critchlow, have returned to Santa Fe after a business trip to this city.

THE ELAND FOR NEW MEXICO

That Delegate B. S. Roddy is active in every direction for the welfare of New Mexico is shown by the following correspondence:

Hon. Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.:

Sir:—In the issue of the Scientific American of the 12th instant, I find an article which I clip and enclose herewith to you, describing the eland (Oryx capensis), a giant species of antelope.

It seems to me from the description that to try to domesticate it in New Mexico is a task that might be a good idea, and I send you the clipping with this suggestion, hoping you may see your way clear to make a trial.

I am sure that I could find somebody in New Mexico to care for them, or they might be put in charge of some of the rangers on the forest reserves.

With assurances of my high regard, I am, sincerely yours,

B. S. RODDY,
Delegate in Congress from New Mexico.

The article referred to says:

"Another late addition to the antelopes of the Zoological Garden at New York is a fine large eland (Oryx capensis), the giant species of antelope that equals an ox in size, reaching the height of nearly or quite six feet at the withers. For all its ponderous proportions the eland is not an ungainly looking creature. The expression is mild and the head is decorated with the antelope type. It seems as though such an animal might be domesticated here, as it has been in numerous instances in England. The eland, when young, is properly fat, is superior in beef in delicacy and flavor, and is an animal that with its small horns weighs on a weight of from 800 to 1,500 pounds or more, is worth experimenting with. One peculiarity of this magnificent animal is its habit of coming to the great plains of the southwest, and that its capacity of going for a long time without water. The ease with which it is reared, its mild disposition, the fact that it breeds freely in captivity, the great value of its hide as well as of its flesh and the rapid improvement it shows under scientific cultivation, all conspire to increase the regret with which we see it rapidly approaching extermination in its native country. Few indeed of the wild mammals exhibit so many claims for domestication and preservation by the human race. Particularly is this the case in a country like our own, which includes regions reproducing in so many particulars the character of the particular parts of the African continent included in the range of these giant antelopes."

To the above request Delegate Roddy received the following answer: Hon. B. S. Roddy, House of Representatives.

Dear Sir:—Your letter of the 14th instant is received together with the accompanying clipping (which is herewith returned) concerning the giant antelope commonly known as the eland.

I agree with you entirely that the introduction of this animal into New Mexico or Arizona would be an excellent thing in many ways. The eland is about the size of our domesticated cattle. The meat is much prized for food, and its hide for leather. I am informed by the biological survey of this department that Selater and Thomas, in their "Book of Antelopes" state that the eland is the largest and finest of the group of antelopes, and that it "might well become of great economic importance to mankind if proper measures were taken for its acclimatization."

Two or three subspecies are recognized, ranging collectively from Cape Colony northward into the tropics. If living examples from the arid region of southern Africa could be secured they would be almost certain to do well in some of the forest reserves of Arizona and New Mexico. They have been brought to numerous zoological gardens and private parks in England and continental Europe, where they have bred freely and have been greatly admired.

This department would be very glad of an opportunity to try the experiment of introducing the eland into our arid southwest, if we had any fund which might be utilized for this purpose. But unfortunately we have not.

Respectfully,
JAMES WILSON, Secretary.

LUMP OF COAL

WIGHING FOUR TONS

FROM THE HAGAN COAL FIELDS OWNED BY THE NEW MEXICO FUEL AND IRON COMPANY SENT TO EXPOSITION.

A few days ago, The Citizen stated that a block of coal weighing four tons taken from the Hagan coal mine near Hagan was shipped to St. Louis as part of the New Mexico exhibit there. This item was erroneous. Upon investigation it is found that the block of coal was mined in the Hagan coal mines, the property of the New Mexico Fuel and Iron company, under the direction of George F. Peart, superintendent of the company's mines. It was carefully boxed, and sent to the St. Louis exposition by Mr. Peart, and on loan, of the New Mexico Fuel and Iron company, to be used as a part of the New Mexico mineral exhibit.

At present the only work being done in the Hagan coal mines under Mr. Peart's direction, development work and between fifteen and twenty men are steadily employed. Mr. Peart is well satisfied with the results. The principal vein which is now being developed and worked in the Hagan mine and is about five feet in thickness and the coal is of an excellent quality.

In addition to this great block of coal, there will be sent to the St. Louis exposition to be placed in the New Mexico exhibit by the New Mexico Fuel and Iron company, 1,000 pounds of superior blacksmith's coal, from the Clark coal fields, also the property of the New Mexico Fuel and Iron company and situated about six miles west of Clark. One thousand pounds of cinderite of double sulphide of soda and magnesia which has been taken from the salt lakes of the company a few miles from Estancia will also be shipped as part of this exhibit. General Manager W. R. Hopewell of the company, expects within the next two months to send more mineral exhibits from the natural resources along the line of the Santa Fe Central railway to be placed with the exhibit from this territory. The block of coal described above is one of the handiwork pieces of the black diamonds ever produced or shown anywhere.

CONTINUATION OF HORSE SALES

ADDITIONAL PURCHASES MADE BY LOCAL ADMIRERS OF HORSE FLESH.

Capt. E. W. Stevens, the Hedalia, Mo., horse buyer and auctioneer, completed the sale at public auction of standard and high bred horses yesterday afternoon, and in connection with those published in The Citizen yesterday, the following additional sales were made:

W. L. Trimble & Co., purchased a trotter named Black Star for $250. The animal is sixteen hands high, seven years old, is by the great horse Monitor, and can trot a three minute mile.

Midnight and Darkness, a matched team of black horses, were purchased by O. W. Strong's Sons for $225. The catalogue in describing these horses says: "They are good enough for any man to hitch to his carriage. No matter how much money he has, and his family will be perfectly safe behind them."

Dr. Wylder purchased a bay horse, six years old and known by the name of Vanguard, for $100. The horse is sixteen hands high, well broken to single or double harness, is very stylish looking and is a fine horse.

A. Boeders, the undertaker, secured a fine team of horses in Electioneer and Eleonor, a pair of black animals. The catalogue says: "They are as black as night and are sixteen hands high. They are half brothers and are a fine carriage team." Several parties wanted the animals, and the bidding was very spirited. Undertaker Boeders, however, had satisfied himself that he could not get along without Electioneer and Eleonor, and he finally captured them at $495.

Dr. John F. Pearce, who now owns one of the finest drivers in Juana in the city, intends to give his faithful mare a long rest, hence he purchased a chestnut sorrel horse, eight years old and sixteen hands high, named Lingard. He is a pacer, and can go the mile in 2:40. The horse was purchased for $150.

F. A. Hubbell had read considerable about the Wilkes breed of horses, and when Tommy Wilkes was brought out the republican politician purchased the animal for $200. Tommy is a bay horse, fifteen and a half hands high, and will make a fine trotter. He is by Heaner, and he by the great Ashland Wilkes, the sire of the great John H. Gentry. It has been decided that Mr. Hubbell will quit politics, and in the future give his attention to the raising of fine equines.

Black Charlie, six years old and fifteen and a half hands high, was purchased by Robert E. Putney for $100. Black Charlie has four white legs to his knees and a white stripe in his forehead. He is very stylish, attractive and perfectly kind.

If there is anything in a name Dr. J. H. Wroth secured a fine animal in Emperor. The horse is sixteen and a half hands high, bay in color and seven years old. Captain Stevens says Emperor is absolutely gentle and can be driven by any lady. The doctor secured Emperor for $180.

Ben Wilkes, a beautiful bay horse and sixteen hands high, was purchased by Henry Mann for $165. He is well bred, and will no doubt develop into a good trotter.

No 18, on the catalogue and not named, was purchased by Harry P. Lee for $215. The animal is a stallion, and has a good record as a combination saddle and harness horse.

Captain Stevens is well pleased with the sale of this car load of horses, and will probably come again some time this fall.

On Charge of Perjury—William Tipton was arrested on the complaint of Sheriff Fred Higgins charging him with perjury in the Hendricks murder case last November, says the Roswell Record. The hearing of the case was set for April 7th and bond was fixed at $500. The bond was promptly furnished and was signed by Frank Diers, John Shearman and Pete Shearman. The facts in the case will be easily recalled as they caused widespread comment at the time of the trial. Tipton qualified as a juror in the case and his name was cut off the list. During the progress of the trial he was placed on the witness stand for the defense in regard to the testimony of John Kennedy, one of the witnesses for the prosecution. He declined at the time and still claims that he was cognizant of the facts he testified to when he qualifies as a juror, and that a conversation afterwards refreshed his memory in regard to Kennedy.

Mr. Tipton has many friends here who are of the opinion that he is a strictly honorable man and has not been guilty of any wrongdoing. Tipton is represented by Gatewood & Haines.

Misses Lucy and Essie Price, the beautiful daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Price of Socorro, who have been Albuquerque visitors for several days, left for Socorro last night. The Price family accompanied the sisters home.

In the matter of the estate of T. A. Pinal, deceased, Florence P. Johnston was appointed administratrix, vice Geo. P. Johnston, the former administrator of the estate, now deceased.

LUMP OF COAL

WIGHING FOUR TONS

FROM THE HAGAN COAL FIELDS OWNED BY THE NEW MEXICO FUEL AND IRON COMPANY SENT TO EXPOSITION.

A few days ago, The Citizen stated that a block of coal weighing four tons taken from the Hagan coal mine near Hagan was shipped to St. Louis as part of the New Mexico exhibit there. This item was erroneous. Upon investigation it is found that the block of coal was mined in the Hagan coal mines, the property of the New Mexico Fuel and Iron company, under the direction of George F. Peart, superintendent of the company's mines. It was carefully boxed, and sent to the St. Louis exposition by Mr. Peart, and on loan, of the New Mexico Fuel and Iron company, to be used as a part of the New Mexico mineral exhibit.

At present the only work being done in the Hagan coal mines under Mr. Peart's direction, development work and between fifteen and twenty men are steadily employed. Mr. Peart is well satisfied with the results. The principal vein which is now being developed and worked in the Hagan mine and is about five feet in thickness and the coal is of an excellent quality.

In addition to this great block of coal, there will be sent to the St. Louis exposition to be placed in the New Mexico exhibit by the New Mexico Fuel and Iron company, 1,000 pounds of superior blacksmith's coal, from the Clark coal fields, also the property of the New Mexico Fuel and Iron company and situated about six miles west of Clark. LUTHERAN MINISTERS

TALK OF UNION

Detroit, Mich. April 6.—Lutheran ministers of the United States, representing nearly all the various synods of the church in America, began a general free conference in Detroit today and will remain in session until the end of the week. The conference will discuss the various points of difference between the synodical bodies and an attempt will be made to bring about a closer union and a more perfect harmony in the Lutheran church in the United States.

The principal synodical bodies of the church are the general conference, the synodical conference, the general synod and the so-called independent synods. These bodies represent between fifty and sixty separate synods of which about forty are represented at the present conference. Among themselves the synods have waged almost constant warfare on points of seemingly little importance, but which have caused a great breach in the Lutheran church. The various theological questions which have caused these differences are to be exhaustively discussed at the present conference. One of these questions is that of predestination, which caused a number of the present independent synods to secede from the general synod in 1880, when the discussion was at its height. Another point of difference in the synods is a belief relative to the Roman Catholic church and the pope. One of the synodical bodies believes that the pope is the anti-Christ. The great majority of the Lutherans, however, do not adhere to this view.

The movement for a closer harmony in the Lutheran church originated with Rev. M. Hinge, of Argon, Wis., who is at present a member of the Wisconsin synod. Two meetings have already been held, one at Watertown, Wis., and the second at Milwaukee, which were more or less successful. The meeting begun here today is the largest of the three and it is expected that something more definite may be accomplished.

GRAPHIC GROUP SOLD

A HANDSOME SUM BY BROWN & FITCH OF SOCORRO—CASH PAID TO SELLERS.

C. T. Brown, mining engineer of Socorro, and A. B. Fitch, manager of the Graphic mines at Socorro, who are the owners of the Graphic, Ida Hill and Contract lead and zinc mines in the Kelly mining district, of New Mexico, on Thursday sold them to W. H. Coddington, trustee, says a dispatch from Socorro, Ind., dated March 21. The deeds for the properties have been delivered to the purchaser and the cash consideration paid over to the sellers. The new owners took possession of the properties at once March 21. The transaction is the most important one in mining circles, which has taken place of late years in New Mexico and will prove of great benefit to the mining interests of the territory as the very extensive lead and valuable zinc deposits in the mines will be developed and worked to their fullest capacity and it is very probable that extensive reduction works will be erected and operated at the mines. The money consideration is private but it is understood to be very handsome and profitable to the late owners. Mr. Brown and Captain Fitch are well and favorably known throughout New Mexico and especially in mining circles.

He Has Relatives Here.

Benjamin Schuster, a prosperous New York business man but who for many years conducted large business enterprises in this city and El Paso, Texas, stopped over in the Capital City today en route to Durango, Mexico, where he has a big mining proposition to handle. For about 25 years Mr. Schuster has been the owner of 100 mining claims situated about 100 miles from Durango. These claims carry immense bodies of gold ore, running over twelve dollars in gold and quite valuable in silver and copper. He has organized a company consisting of prominent New York capitalists which company will commence active development work on these properties very soon. Mr. Schuster while a resident of this city and of El Paso, Texas, was well and favorably known throughout New Mexico, Arizona and western Texas. He engaged in some big enterprises and was uniformly successful. He was deservedly popular and well liked and is as "jolly a good fellow" as he was in the boyhood days of yore and when he was much younger. He has many good friends in this capital who were very glad to receive him back again the old time hearty hand shake and sincere greeting for which he was noted throughout all this section, while living in Santa Fe and in El Paso, are left this evening for the south—New Mexican.

En Route to Los Angeles.

Roland Paul and his beautiful young wife, his stepson and one of his pupils, passed through the city this afternoon on their way to Los Angeles, called by the death of one of the lady's relatives. Mr. Paul will be pleasantly remembered in Las Vegas as a sweet singer at two of the musical festivals given under the auspices of the Oratorio society. The gentleman left Denver, where he had been for years, some weeks ago, to establish himself in Montreal. Though the prospects there are not auspicious, Mr. Paul has decided to locate in Los Angeles, where an estate left by the deceased relative requires settling—Optic.

Practically all the city officers of the railroad in El Paso have adopted the practice of closing Saturday afternoon during the summer months.
