Editorial Notice.
The following is taken from the Indianapolis Journal. Had it been written in the interest of our short line the facts could not have been more put:

ECOTISTICAL ROT.
A stranger coming here and running in contact with certain new comers of the galaxy persuasion, would naturally imagine that marble in White Oaks was a new discovery and that the uncovering of it and writing it up was largely due to said new comers. Now the facts are that marble beds were discovered and located here as far back as the spring of 1881, and eloquently written up by all editors since the days of and including John A. Hephlingstian, who edited the Golden Era, the pioneer paper of the county, in '81 and '82, and all editors of other papers from those years to the present. For a year or more, ago, the LEADER carried an article in its columns on the "Resources of White Oaks and Lincoln County," in which marble was especially mentioned. Five or six years ago P. C. Bell published two books of our native marble, one white the other black, and shaped them into paper weights which have been employed upon our desk ever since.

Where in the name of common sense have these wisecracks been hidden in the past and why should they now, never before having acclimated or set large bodies of water on fire, alight here, meteor like, to awaken citizens to surroundings familiar to them before the frosts of time had leaved upon their hair. The people from whom they came certainly did not value them at their own estimate for on their arrival here the seats of their pants were so patched as to convey to a near sighted person the idea that they were specs on that portion of their anatomy.—They "should go to their closets and shed the deer after them."

There will be chosen this year 54 Presidential electors, an increase of 43 over the number in 1888. In that year, 201 votes being necessary to a choice, Cleveland received 168 and Harrison 333. Now 223 votes are needed to elect. The Cleveland States of 1888 have 175 votes and those carried by Harrison and Morton have 257 electors.

Best Road for Investments.
The following is taken from the Indianapolis Journal. Had it been written in the interest of our short line the facts could not have been more put:

"Do you notice," said a railroad official of prominence, "that is nearly all the big railroad developments which have coal, iron ore and other minerals on their lines and the most sought for by investors? That is one reason why Mr. E. Ingalls is seeking to secure one of the Onjo coal roads for his Big Four system. This would complete his system so far as business is concerned. The big deals in Pennsylvania and New York railway systems of late have all been in the interest of coal traffic, and those going on in the south and west have the same end in view. In conversation with the late J. N. McCullough, who was one of the brightest railroad men and most prudent investors, said that had he millions of dollars to invest he would sooner put it into roads running through mineral districts than in other directions. When the forests are cleared the roads passing through the lumber regions have then only the grain crop which fellows to depend on for business, and twice out of every five years this crop is a failure and the road passing through such has to struggle to make both ends meet the off crop years. The present railroad situation strongly endorses the sentiments of Mr. McCullough as regards the best railroad property to invest in."

The Santa Fe will undoubtedly be the first railroad to reach White Oaks, and its branch for that point will leave San Marcial. A number of preliminary surveys were made several years ago, and the most practical route was found to be that leaving the main line at a point just south of the big mesa. An attempt was made to continue the Carthage branch, and it was found to be as impracticable for building as it would be difficult of operation after construction.—San Marcial Reporter.

An exchange says that F. O. Blood, an old time resident of our town, White Oaks, now R. R. store keeper at San Marcial, lately received the following card:

TRAVELING CARD.
No. 13. NOT TRANSFERABLE.
To whom it may concern: This is to certify that the bearer, Mr. F. O. Blood, has passed a creditable examination before the supreme council of the INTERNATIONAL LIARS ASSOCIATION, and as a single handed liar he takes the bun and is entitled to all the favors and benefits usually shown this association. By unanimous consent of Eagle Mountain Lodge, the 39th degree was conferred, together with the title of Grand Chief Delineator of Lying for the Territory of New Mexico. Approved by U. S. A. Prevaricator, Liarville, Tex., Sec'y and Grand Ananias.

Mr. Blood immediately organized a lodge at San Marcial, which is in a flourishing condition. There is good material here for a lodge, and it should start off with a good membership.

The man who is the architect of his own fortune usually builds it on his head.

FROM JUDGE CHONIN.
Lincoln, N. M., March 15, 1892.

EDITOR LEADER—
Among the "brainless audacity" of White Oaks referred to in a published letter of mine, I find more than one true and sincere friend and familiar who I learn are aggrieved at the expression, and for whom I have the highest respect and regard. Notwithstanding that my name was unwarrantably, and as one would deny, foolishly connected with the "Irish Judge" farce, though without intending any disrespect as so published I take this opportunity to state that I meant no reflection on any lady or gentleman, or intelligent person at White Oaks by the words, "brainless audience," and to such a feeling hurt by the expression I tender an apology.

Relative to the manly letter of Mr. Watson which appeared in a late issue of the LEADER, and which would have been noted before now were it not for press of probate business, I take pleasure in voluntarily tendering to the writer my sincere regrets for any pain to his feelings caused by any published remarks of mine.

M. CHONIN.

JERRY RUCK is an accommodating man but the demands of a Nebraska farmer are a little hard on him and he hesitates. Last year he sent this farmer some cucumber seed. The seed sprouted in due time and the tiny cucumbers began to form on the vines. Finally one got big enough for salad and the farmer's wife ate it. She died. There was something about Jerry's cucumber that did not agree with the wife, for something about the wife that did not agree with Jerry's cucumber and the farmer was bereft.

This spring the farmer wrote a letter to Uncle Jerry. He says he does not want any more cucumber seed. In place of the seed he asks the Secretary to send him an other wife. This looks reasonable enough and the Secretary will certainly send him one if he can find the proper party. The Government owes that farmer a wife if it owes anybody anything.

Tom Rano having been recently quoted as saying that "a statesman is a successful politician who is dead," a Boston logician telegraphed him the conundrum—"then, why don't you die?" Tom answered promptly by wire—"Not yet. The thirst for fame is the last infirmity of noble minds."

CONSUMPTION CURE.
An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India merchant the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the cure of consumption, cough, asthma, and all kinds of lung affections, and a positive and reliable cure for the consumption and all other lung diseases, after having tested it on thousands of patients in thousands of cases, has had it analyzed and found to be a pure vegetable preparation, and is now offering it to the public at a low price, and is willing to send it to any part of the world, and is willing to send it to any part of the world, and is willing to send it to any part of the world.

Also, other Engravings and printed information will be sent you as published. It will be a very valuable book and every person should secure a copy.

J. J. Lesson returned from the Peace country on Thursday evening. He has specimens from the Old Abe and other claims that he can coin twenty dollar gold pieces out of. He says White Oaks is on a boom, and will make a booming camp; that it is that now, but will be a boomer in a year or so. He is stuck on that country.—Socorro Chieftain.

The White Oaks R. R.
Denver, March 15.—The Denver & El Paso railway company was organized at a meeting in the office of Judge E. T. Wells, yesterday afternoon, and it is proposed to proceed in regular course with the building of the line. Judge Wells will draw the incorporation papers, which will be filed this week. Preparations are being made to form a construction company which will handle the actual work of building. The gentlemen in the two concerns will be practically the same.

The incorporators will include ex-Governor Evans, President Albert, of the chamber of commerce; Ashton D. Thatcher, of Pueblo; Houghton and Reynolds, of Las Vegas, and other prominent men of the cities along the new road.

When the incorporation papers are filed a committee will proceed to New York to interest eastern capital. Less than $1,000,000 will suffice to put the railway well under way, additional funds being easily obtainable.

It is understood that New York men of large means have been impressed by statistics of the resources of the country which will be penetrated that they have announced their willingness to cooperate.

POLYGAMY is practiced to an extravagant degree in Ashantes. The more wives a man has the higher his social importance. The number which a man in private life may have is limited to his ability to purchase and support them; but the number which a king may have is limited by law—limited to the modest number of 3,333 and it is said that he usually does not exceed that limit.

SIMPLIFIED BURGLARY.

The New Apparatus Made by an Ingenious Clockwork Safe-Hecker.

Human ingenuity is more devilish than anemic, and is more alert to destroy than to create. It is a general proposition that what one man may do another can undo, it being easier somewhat to mar than to make. For years lock-smiths and safe-builders have racked their brains and employed their cunning to devise a safe that should be absolutely burglar proof as well as fire-proof. As the builders have improved their steel casings and combinations, time-locks, etc., the burglar has bettered his tools or extended his methods of operation and it has been found that, given a fair show, the burglar will get into any safe that can be set against him. In recent years a high degree of perfection in the construction of safes has been achieved, and many good men put their money confidently into the latest improved receptacles, convinced that no burglar has the art to penetrate the thicket armor. But baffled in one way the expedient burglar goes energetically and intelligently to work in another.

In Cincinnati the other night he operated upon a safe that was obdurate to the usual methods of persuasion. The safe was not to be opened with tools, nor was there much temptation to drill holes into it and blow it open with powder or dynamite. The job was to be done expeditiously and noiselessly. Ergo, the burglar, brought to bear the powerful pump in general use in safe factories, a simple and effective instrument, by the aid of which the spindle was pulled entirely out of the lock, the tumblers of the lock allowed to drop down after which the safe bolts were drawn by the mere turning of the knob. The change is a heavy bar of steel bent in the form of a half square, with a threaded hole in the stem through which, while the steel lever rest. At one end of the rod is a ball and the flat vertex upon the knob, and when the operator vigorously piles his lever and begins to wind the thread rod, something is found to yield, and naturally it is the cast-iron knob and its fastenings.

The Cincinnati experiment was thoroughly successful, and will probably be the signal to the fraternity throughout the country how to open with a children's look. The method is simpler and safer than the old expedient of drilling holes into the spindle, perspective the lock and tampering with the drill system. Challenge later these.

As the Cincinnati burglar, who tried to open the safe, found it impossible to open with tools, he was forced to use the new apparatus.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Dr. Tarkenton, editor of the Workman, Cleveland, has taken some pains to collect and compile the decisions of the U. S. Courts on this subject and gives to the Washington Post, as the result of his investigation, the following, which may be relied upon as correct:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered willing to receive their publications.

2. If the subscriber sends the discontinuance of his publication the publisher may continue to send it until an arrears are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect to furnish to take their periodicals from the office in which they are directed, they are responsible until they have notified the publisher and ordered their discontinuance.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher and the papers are sent to the former address, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusal to take periodicals from the office or moving and leaving them undisturbed prima facie evidence of intentional neglect.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are held to pay for the papers if they do not notify the publisher in writing to discontinue them.

7. It is unlawful for a publisher to refuse to take a paper and refuse to pay for it. Under this law the man who allows his subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then orders it discontinued, or orders the postage to be sent, or orders a substitute sent notifying the publisher, is held liable in damages for theft.

LAST week Leo Bauer and Geo. J. Weisher sold a third interest in the Democratic lodge, Jiuquilla, to John B. Nevils, for $250, the money to be expended in developing the claim.

ATTENTION TO MOTHERS. ...

THE entertainment given Friday night of last week by the White Oaks Band and Minstrels, was fairly attended and the performance highly enjoyed. Several of the songs in the first part were sweetly rendered; the song and dance by Watson and Zimmerman, was an act worthy of professionalists. We were especially pleased and surprised at the evidence given of the rapid progress made by the boys in mastering their brass instruments. They played two pieces like unto old performers.

BLUDDER.

Last Tuesday "Col." Edwin L. Elwood, for some two or three years a well known citizen of White Oaks, got on a "high lonesome," which suffered in its consequences from those preceding. So far as our information goes the Col. never had much of an appetite for blood, but he had an insatiable thirst for whisky. Tuesday, he succeeded in filling his tank. During the day his intimates were Mexicans and most of his potations were unmeasured having been imbibed from bottles. His principal company during the latter part of the day was a young Mexican, scarcely over 20 years, named Maximiano Vegas, lately employed as roustabout at the Chinese Restaurant. As darkness filled the streets the Col. and his young friend were filling waste pines concealed beneath their beds. When the day lengthened to between the hours of 10 and 11 the Col. with a full commissioned drunk and the Mexican with a breast jag on, started for home. What occurred afterwards, save that the young Mexican was shot to death is yet enshrouded in mystery.

Shortly after the shooting, as is usually the case under such circumstances, a crowd arrived at the scene, the Col. was arrested on suspicion—the crime having been committed near the Col's door—and the dead body was housed. Next day the autopsy revealed that a 15 calibre ball had penetrated the Mexican's left shoulder and made its exit out of the right arm pit.

Wednesday a coroner's jury was empaneled and a number of witnesses were examined. The one who knew the least was the suspect, Col. Elwood. There were several women and children witnesses, who gave contradictory testimony which led the jury to determine that the deceased had come such at the hands of either the Col. or his wife. Accordingly both took a St. Patrick's Day ride in a chaise to the Lincoln bastion on Thursday.

The dead boy leaves a mother and two younger brothers to feel the blow which struck from their sides a son and brother.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will come to the material welfare and happiness of mankind are almost unlimited. One of the most important of these is the production of a world wide market with the only commodity which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effective in cleaning the system. It is the only thing that is truly healthy and the best that is known to the modern world.
