Engineer Miller Finds Solution to San Juan County Water Troubles

N L KING GOES TO SAN DIEGO

Harry C. Hall Is Appointed Supervisor of the Carson Forest.

Governor William J. Mills will leave tomorrow for Socorro to attend the commencement exercises on Thursday of the New Mexico School of Mines. The governor will make an address there.

Promoted to Supervisorship.

Harry C. Hall, formerly assistant supervisor of the Carson forest, has been appointed supervisor to succeed Ross McMillan resigned, with headquarters at Antonito, Colo. Mr. and Mrs. Hall formerly resided at Santa Fe.

Appointed Test Engineer.

C. H. Starkweather, formerly of the Western Electric company, arrived in Albuquerque yesterday to assume the position of test engineer for the federal forest service for the Third district. He will supervise tests upon signalling apparatus, long distance telephone emergency wires, and experiment upon portable telephone in an effort to reduce the apparatus to be carried by rangers from 14 pounds in weight to a seven pound type.

Contract for Irrigation Works.

As one of the fruits of the conference called by Territorial Engineer Charles D. Miller last week, in this city, to adjust the difficulties and controversies over water rights in San Juan county, the contract has been awarded for the first section of the Inca canal to Loftus and Skidmore, construction to begin at once. There is hope that all the claimants will pool their conflicting interests and will construct for San Juan county immense irrigation works that will reclaim one hundred thousand acres.

Fine Drill Last Night.

Company F, New Mexico National Guard, had a fine drill last night at the armory, although many guardsmen failed to show up at the drill. Orders will be mailed them for the next drill, however, and it is thought probable that they will turn up or give the reason why.

Target practice Saturday afternoon or Sunday morning is a duty of the guardsmen and Lieutenant Wiley will be at the armory at 2 p. m., Saturday and go with the marksmen to the "firing grounds." It is important that every man in the companies E and F turn out and shoot his rounds for otherwise a zero will be marked after each man who is delinquent in his duty and this will hurt Santa Fe's average.

Postoffice Discontinued.

The postoffice at Ancho, Lincoln county, is ordered discontinued, June 17.

PROCEEDINGS AGAINST LABOR LEADERS FOR CONTEMPT.

Instituted by Supreme Court of District of Columbia on Its Own Initiative.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., May 16.—The supreme court of the District of Columbia, on its initiative, today instituted proceedings for alleged contempt against President Gompers, Vice President Mitchell and Secretary Morrison of the American Federation of Labor. The sentences of imprisonment imposed on these men by this court were yesterday revoked by the United States supreme court and the case remanded to the district supreme court.

Gompers Defies Judge Wright.

Washington, May 16.—Supreme Justice Lamar in handing down his opinion yesterday, said that the lower court, if it felt aggrieved, could inflict jail sentences upon the labor leaders, but not through the proceeding of the Buck Stove and Range Company.

The lower court has been quick to take advantage of opportunity afforded to reopen the case. Gompers said today: "Justice Wright can go as far as he likes. He will find we are not running away—not even from him."

BAD LUCK FOLLOWS ZEPPELIN DIRIGIBLES.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Dusseldorf, May 16.—After a career of six weeks, the Deutschland, latest of the models of Zeppelin's ill-fated dirigible balloons, stranded today on the roof of its shed, a total wreck. The crew and passengers escaped injury. The accident occurred as the Deutschland was being released for a passenger trip.

The army of men at the guide ropes clung on desperately but were powerless against the wind, and with the Deutschland's back broken and her hull dangling over one edge of the shed, the crew and passengers were helpless until a fire brigade pulled them out of the wreck.

The Deutschland was built to replace in the passenger airship service the earlier craft of the same name which went to her end in the Teutoburgian forest on June 28 last.

Today's was the sixth accident which has befallen the Zeppelin dirigibles.

STATEHOOD UP

Arizona Not Accorded Fair Treatment Declares Colorado Democrat

NEW MEXICO WAS FAVORED

Its Constitution Was Promptly Approved by President Taft

Washington, D. C., May 16.—Statehood for New Mexico and Arizona conditioned on the people of each state being given an opportunity to vote on the proposed changes in the new constitutions, was taken up by the House today. President Taft's objection to Arizona's constitution was referred to Representative Martin of Colorado, who said Arizona had not been accorded as fair treatment as New Mexico.

The latter's constitution had been immediately approved, whereas the Arizona constitution had been held two and a half months by the president without action.

No complaint had been made by people in Arizona against the "courageous and progressive" constitution proposed by that state, he said:

"It is in Washington, not Arizona, that the objections to this constitution arise."

Special to the New Mexican.*Let Martin Do It.

Washington, D. C., May 16.—Chairman Flood called up the statehood resolution, Martin, Democrat, of Colorado, in supporting the majority report bitterly attacked the New Mexico constitution. He also said: "Words come down from high authority that New Mexico is to be admitted and Arizona is to remain out." Quizzed for his authority, he said it was newspaper rumor. He thought that he and the majority of the committee could write a much better constitution than the New Mexico constitutional convention did. Martin paid a tribute to the four Democrats, H. B. Ferguson, J. D. Hand, A. A. Jones and Judge McGill, claiming to represent the New Mexico Democratic party, and who were present in the gallery and applauded loudly. Mann, Mondell and Hamilton worried Martin. Willis of New York, Republican, speaks next in favor of the minority report.

More Money for Roswell.

Delegate Andrews introduced a bill appropriating $25,000 for additions to the Roswell public building.

DEATH SUMMONS*HON. ATANASIO ROIBAL

Third Member of the Constitutional Convention to Die—Succumbs to Diabetes.

After lingering illness, Hon. Atanasio Roibal of Pecos, San Miguel county, died last night of diabetes, complicated with Bright's disease and dropsy. He is the third member of the constitutional convention to die. George R. Brown of Raton and A. H. Harlee of Silver City having been summoned by death since the convention adjourned less than six months ago. Mr. Roibal was a widely known and prominent citizen of San Miguel county, much respected and honored. He was born on May 2, 1859 and therefore had just celebrated his 52nd birthday. He attended St. Michael's College in this city, graduating in 1879 and began work as a clerk in the store of Walsen and Levy at Pecos. He was promoted to bookkeeper. In 1898, Mr. Roibal was assistant chief clerk of the territorial council, and in 1907 and 1908 was chairman of the board of county commissioners of San Miguel county being elected to the office without opposition. He was a census enumerator for his district in 1900 and 1910, he taught school and was interested in various business enterprises. A large family survives him.

Declares Martyred President and His Advisors Were Responsible for Ruin of Civil War.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Little Rock, Ark., May 16.—Before thousands of Confederate veterans, R. C. Cave of St. Louis, today declared in the course of his address: "I hold that the responsibility for the civil war, with all the blood and treasure that it cost and all the desolation and ruin that it wrought, justly rests on Abraham Lincoln and his advisors."

Mr. Cave asserted that he spoke not in bitterness that he was simply discussing the facts of history.

Federals Offer Ten Governorships, Insurrectos Ask Fourteen

PEACE DEPENDS ON SPOILS

Madero to Be Candidate For Presidency of New Party Called Progressives.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

Juarez, Mexico, May 16.—Within 24 hours a general armistice throughout Mexico will be declared by the federal government and the revolutionists. The peace proposals which he passed back and forth during the day, at 1:30 o'clock had reached a point where their acceptance by the insurgents is only a matter of a few hours. This information was vouchsafed by one of the insurgent chiefs who today received word of the government's proposals. It is rumored that the cabinet portfolios of Minister of Justice and Minister of Gobernacion will be filled by the insurgents but that a compromise had been reached on the portfolio of war, a man mutually acceptable to both sides to be chosen. The governors to be named by the insurgents probably will be fourteen in number.

Juarez, May 16.—Upon whether the Mexican government will grant to the insurgents permission to name three members of the cabinet and the governors of fourteen of the 27 Mexican states depends the issue of restoring peace in Mexico. This proposition, a slight modification of the original demand which called for four portfolios in the cabinet, is the rebels' reply made today to the offer of the federal government of one cabinet member and ten governorships.

The answer of the government is expected tonight. The rebels insist on having the posts of minister of war, minister of justice and minister of gobernacion, the latter having jurisdiction over the interior, state administration of Mexico.

Immediately after peace is declared, the insurgents will form a party, probably called the "Progresista" party. As soon as peace is restored and Diaz has resigned, which insurgents believe will be in two or three months, the new party will begin preparing for a national campaign. Undoubtedly Francisco I. Madero, Jr. will be the candidate for president.

Drunken Rebels Pillage Pachuca.

Mexico City, May 16.—Rioting and pillage occurred at Pachuca during the early hours of today, following the surrender of the city to the revolutionists. The rebels became drunk and defied their commanders. The townspeople in terror barricaded their homes and remained concealed. The banks were dynamited and looted.

Rebels Crazy by Drink.

Mexico City, Mex., May 16.—Pachuca is a mining city of 40,000 population, capital of the state of Hidalgo and 60 miles northeast of Mexico City. Sunday night it fell into the hands of the revolutionists under Colonel Castrejon. The capture was effected without fighting, the invaders swarming into the city from surrounding hillsides. When the government authority had been replaced by that of the revolutionists order gave way to license. During last night many of the rebels helped themselves liberally to the saloon supply, and half-crazed were soon out of control. The orders of their commanders were defied. The rioters ran through the streets shouting and shooting promiscuously.

The peaceful inhabitants were terror-stricken and hid themselves in their homes, barring the doors and windows. The lawlessness then took the form of robbery.

Charges of dynamite were placed under the walls of the banks and exploded. Wherever entrance was effected, the banks were looted.

Commercial houses were robbed of such of their stocks as the mob wished to carry away. Doors of the jails were forced and the prisoners released. Much of subsequent lawlessness is attributed to the convicts. Late advice today state that order has been restored by 800 rebels under the command of Gabriel Hernandez. Three hundred federals are enroute for the scene on special trains and a battle is imminent.

Forty Rioters Killed.

Mexico City, May 16.—The federal troops which were being rushed to Pachuca turned back this afternoon on orders from Mexico City. The rebels have imprisoned Governor Rodriguez and named Joaquin Gonzales provisional governor. The rebels in their efforts to restore order, killed forty rioters.

Mrs. McGregor in Rebel Army.

Agua Prieta, May 16.—The rebel garrison here now numbers close to 800 men. The commissary department has been organized with Mrs. McGregor, the wife of the rebel artillery officer whose presence with the troops gave rise to the widow Talamantes myth, as chief. It is understood the

Washington, D. C., May 16.—A petition to congress signed by publishers, clergymen, professors, scientists and others, requesting a special inquiry into the manner in which D. C. Worcester has discharged his duties as commissioner of the Philippine islands, was submitted to the house today by Slayden of Texas. The petition is in the form of a resolution and charges that Worcester "has become notoriously unpopular among the natives."

Steel Trust to Be Probed.

Washington, May 16.—An investigation of the United States steel corporation was ordered by the house today when it passed the Stanley resolution which was adopted without opposition following a short debate. A committee of nine members will be authorized to conduct the investigation.

STOCK MARKET IS STRONG

Standard Oil Decision of Supreme Court Inspires Confidence

TRADING WAS VERY HEAVY

In First Hour 500,000 Shares at Advanced Prices Changed Hands.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

New York, May 16.—The largest gains of many months were made this morning in the stock market which interpreted the Standard Oil decision as decidedly favorable from the Wall Street viewpoint. The strength and activity of the market were due also to no small extent to relief felt that the decision had been rendered, and that the uncertainty which has restricted business for months was out of the way.

In the first hour today more than 400,000 shares of stock were traded in, three times the amount of business done at yesterday's entire session. Activity decreased for a time in the second hour, but prices were maintained.

Later there was another surge upward and a large amount of stock changed hands at still higher figures. Noon prices were from two to three points above yesterday's closing figures for the principal stocks.

Grain Market Strong.

Chicago, Ill., May 16.—Persistently unfavorable crop reports from Russia tended to make the wheat market firm today. Demand was light. The opening was 1-8@1-4 to 1-2 higher.

Buying proved sufficient to lift corn, but offerings were light because of the strength of wheat. July opened 1-4 to 1-4@3-5 up.

Pessimistic advices regarding plant growth in Iowa and Illinois hoisted oats a little. July started 1-8 to 1-4 higher. Provisions eased off a trifle with hogs.

The market closed active and strong. Further profit taking in the last hour caused prices to be shaded materially all around. However, recoveries to the high level were quite general in the final trading.

Decline in Wheat.

Chicago, Ill., May 16.—Bear operations for a prominent local speculator caused a rather sharp decline in wheat. The close was steady.

Corn Sagged because of a downturn in wheat. The close was steady.

Shorts Are Squeezed.

New York, May 16.—The bull operators continued in complete control of the market and squeezed the shorts mercilessly. Considerable additions were made to the forenoon advances in spots and the list showed symptoms of a renewal of extensive pool operations. United States Steel, Reading and Union Pacific continue to lead in the advances.

The Wool Market.

Boston, Mass., May 16.—In general the wool market continues quiet but some dealers report a better inquiry and there was an increase in shipment to the mills. Interest naturally centers in the west where the buying is active. Reports from Utah show that half of the clip has been sold at from 15 to 16-1/2 with an estimated soured cost in the east of 49 cents. Pulled wool is reasonably quiet while the foreign product is dull.

Not Every Restraint Violation of Law Decides Supreme Court

STANDARD OIL WILL OBEY

Its Plans For Reorganization Have Not Yet Matured to Publicity.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

Washington, D. C., May 15.—While President Taft made no statement today regarding the supreme court's decision in the Standard Oil case in which the court set up the doctrine that there might be a "reasonable" and "unreasonable" restraints of trade, official Washington recalled an extract from the special message sent to congress on January 7, 1910, urging the enactment of a federal incorporation law. In that message President Taft discussed the suggestion that the word "reasonable" be made a part of the Sherman anti-trust law and strongly opposed the proposition in these words: "I venture to think that this is to put into the hands of the court a power impossible to exercise on any consistent principle which will insure the uniformity of decision essential to just judgment. It is to thrust upon the courts a burden that they have no precedents to enable them to carry, and to give them a power approaching the arbitrary, the abuse of which might involve our whole judicial system in disaster."

Congressmen at Sea.

Washington, D. C., May 16.—Divergent views were expressed today by members of congress on the supreme court interpretation of the Sherman anti-trust law in the Standard Oil case.

Washington, D. C., May 16.—The government's policy in dealing with "trusts" and combinations of capital, as it must be shaped in the light of the supreme court decision in the Standard Oil case, was discussed by President Taft and his cabinet today.

The court, in declaring that the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and its nineteen subsidiary companies were a conspiracy and combination in "unreasonable" restraint of trade, did not condemn all great interstate corporations, and did not hold that "every" restraint of trade was a violation of law. The court seems to have upheld the doctrine that there are "good" and "bad" trusts and that the Standard Oil was a "bad" trust. There was much discussion here today of Justice Harlan's dissenting opinion. He declared that there ought to be no recognition of the difference between "reasonable restraint" and "unreasonable restraint," by the supreme court, but that congress ought to do it if it were to be done.

"But the fact remains," declared Justice Harlan, "that until this day congress has been satisfied with the law as written in this respect, and today the law stands that every contract in restraint of trade is illegal."

As one of the direct results of the decision, it is said that the federal incorporation act prepared by Attorney General Wickersham at the direction of President Taft may be brought up to the situation created by the court's action and pressed for passage in congress.

Standard Oil Will Now Be Good.

New York, May 16.—The first word from the Standard Oil Company on the United States supreme court decision against it yesterday, came today.

It makes two points clear: That the company purposes to obey the decree; that it will be some time before any plans of reorganization will be given out.

May Prosecute Criminally.

Washington, D. C., May 16.—Attorney General Wickersham may consider criminal prosecutions of the officials of the Standard Oil company. It is said that in event the oil trust officials should plead immunity under the statute of limitations, the government could take the position that the combination in restraint of trade, was conspiracy until the moment the court orders were disobeyed.

On the curb the American Tobacco and Standard Oil fluctuated with great violence over a range of from 15 to 20 points.

Judge C. J. Roberts Instructs Grand Jury as to the Sunday Law

REASONABLE INTERPRETATION

Liquor Traffic Is Harmful and Causes Drain on Society, Says Jurist.

Las Vegas, N. M., May 16.—The district court for San Miguel county convened yesterday and from the 21 citizens summoned to act as a grand jury for the term, seventeen were found qualified. A special venire was issued made returnable at two o'clock this afternoon, and from this venire the grand jury was completed and Frederick H. Pierce was made foreman of the jury. The court instructed the jury as to its duty, calling attention to the various statutes upon which the court is required to specifically instruct the jury. As to the violation of the so-called "Sunday-law" Judge Roberts was very explicit, and that portion of his instructions bearing upon the Sunday law is published in full. This portion of the court's instructions will be read with much interest by the citizens of this community, and also by the citizens of every county comprising the fourth judicial district over which Judge Roberts presides. It is a clear, and concise interpretation of the law.

Judge Roberts said:

There is another law in New Mexico which I am required to call to your attention especially, and that is the Sunday law. The legislature has made it a misdemeanor for people to engage in certain vocations on Sunday, and has prohibited all sports, which interfere with religious worship. I would not have you understand that this law applies to all work and business of every kind, for it does not; the legislature has excepted from the prohibitions of the statute all works of necessity, charity and mercy. By the word necessity, the legislature intended to and did exempt from the operation of the law such business as was reasonably necessary for the comfort, convenience, enjoyment and well being of man, which could be carried on without interfering with religious worship or the disturbance of society. The legislature did not intend to give to New Mexico a Puritanical Sabbath, and such business as drug stores, confectioneries, news stands, livery stables, garages are not included within the provisions of the act, provided of course, that their business is carried on so as not to interfere with religious worship and the peace and good order of the community. Of course, if a druggist should sell intoxicating liquor on Sunday he would be indictable. Likewise places of clean, wholesome amusement, which are instructive in their character, are not included, neither are butchers and bakers, nor farmers, when their labors are required to irrigate their crops or remove the same.

The law, in my judgment, does not apply to base ball, so long as the sport is properly conducted, and does not result in the disturbance of a worshiping assembly, or interfere with religious worship. We must face conditions as they exist, and earnestly try to do the very best we can for the community in which we live. In order for our Sunday law to have any effect for good we must give to it a reasonable construction, and apply to it good, common sense.

The supreme court of the territory has rightly held that the Sunday law prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquor on that day, so in New Mexico, as it is in every state in the union, it is unlawful to sell intoxicating liquor on Sunday. We can readily understand why the legislature intended to prohibit the sale of liquor on Sunday. It is, and has been the general policy of the whole nation. Sunday is a day of rest and recreation; there is a general relaxation from all business pursuits on that day. Were it not for the Sunday closing law, applying to saloons, many men would naturally visit them, and some of them would spend all their wages earned during the preceding six days and some will become intoxicated, go out on the streets and disturb men, women and children. It causes a drain on society, and every state recognizes this, by either prohibiting the traffic entirely, or licensing it, and placing around it severe restrictions. The interest of society demands that such places should not be open on a day of rest, when men are idle.

Pool halls also come within the prohibition of the Sunday law. Unfortunately this sport has been allowed to degenerate by the proprietors of most such places, until it has come to be a menace to society. Within the past month, the authorities of the city of Denver have announced that all pool halls in that city are to be closed permanently. That they were ruining more young men and boys than the saloon. In most of the pool halls they have been carrying on illicit gambling and their rooms have been filled with slot machines, in violation of law. Unlike the saloon, our boys can enter the pool hall without restraint, regardless of their ages, and as such places have been conducted, it is here that he gets his first lesson in vice. We can close them one day in the week under the present law, and

Resolutions As Finally Revised and Reported by Democratic Majority

ANDREWS IS STANDING PAT

Republicans Are With Him and Will Eventually Win in the Senate.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

Washington, D. C., May 16.—After a period which has undoubtedly involved more discussion than that given to any other statehood matter, the question of admitting the territory of New Mexico into the sisterhood of states has again finally reached the lower House of Congress, and after passing that body, will go before the United States Senate where the real opposition to the plan for joint admission of Arizona and New Mexico is strongest. The burden of New Mexico's difficulties has been inflicted by self-constituted representatives who have been instrumental in letting down the bars in the way of amendments to the constitution, and what the result is going to be is hard to tell, but should the opposition be such as to defeat immediate statehood for the territory at this time, the people of New Mexico ought not to hesitate in fixing the blame, and the meddlers who have interfered with the progress of the straightforward plan devised and advocated by Delegate Andrews, should bear the full burden of responsibility.

Aside from the work done before the territories committee of the House, the New Mexico contingent has been giving out pop-gun interviews that have added to the confusion of the situation in reference to statehood, and the result is likely to manifest itself from now on in the shape of ideas embodied in amendments which members from any portion of the country may introduce if they see fit. The influence of Delegate Andrews with the most powerful leaders in both Houses of Congress is the only element of strength which can result in keeping down the opposition, but in his straight-forward course he has been greatly hampered by the Democratic delegations that have been laboring, individually and collectively with their fellow Democrats and in the committee. Ordinarily the case of New Mexico would be an easy one here under the conditions surrounding legislation, especially in view of the fact that President Taft has approved the constitution, but the disposition of a large part of Congress to place New Mexico in the same classification with Arizona, and with great political approval of the constitution for the latter territory, New Mexico is badly involved, and its case has been made more critical by the legislative program on which the Democrats have agreed. Should it fall by the wayside at the present session, the obstructionists who have come here to lend their aid to Messrs. Ferguson, Jones, Hand and Company should be made to shoulder the responsibility.

Joint Resolution.

Admitting the territories of New Mexico and Arizona into the Union upon an equal footing with the original states for other purposes.

Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled. That the territories of New Mexico and Arizona are hereby admitted into the Union upon an equal footing with the original states in accordance with the terms of the Enabling act approved June 22, 1910 upon the terms and conditions herein-after set forth. The admission here-in provided for shall take effect upon the proclamation of the president of the United States, when the conditions explicitly set forth in this joint resolution shall have been complied with, which proclamation shall issue at the earliest practicable time after the results of the election hereunder provided for shall have been certified to the president and also after evidence shall have been submitted to him of the compliance with the terms and conditions of this resolution. The president is authorized and directed to certify the adoption of this resolution to the governor of each territory as soon as practicable after his proclamation for the holding of the first general election as provided for in the constitutions respectively heretofore adopted by each territory and for the submission to a vote of the electors of said territories of the amendments of the constitutions of said proposed states respectively here-in set forth in accordance with the terms and conditions of this joint resolution. The results of said elections shall be certified to the president by the governor of each of said territories; and if the terms and conditions of this joint resolution shall have been complied with, the proclamation shall immediately issue by the president announcing the result of said elections so ascertained, and upon the proposed state or states so complying shall be deemed admitted by Congress into the Union upon an equal footing with the other states.

THE ANGEL'S WHISPER.

By Samuel Lover.

A superstition of great beauty prevails in Ireland, that, when a child smiles in its sleep, it is "talking with Angels." A BABY was sleeping, its Mother was weeping. For her husband was far on the wild, raging sea. And the tempest was swelling, round the fisherman's dwelling. And she cried, "Dermont, Darling, Oh! come back to me."

Her beads while she numbr'd, her baby still slumber'd. And smiled in her face as she bend'd her knee; "Oh! blest be that warning, my child, thy face adorning. For I know that the Angels are whispering with thee."

"And while they are keeping, bright watch o'er thy sleeping, Oh! pray to them softly, my baby, with me— And say thou wouldst rather they'd watch o'er thy father, For I know that the Angels are whispering with thee."

The dawn of the morning, saw Dermot returning. And the wife wept with joy, her babe's father to see, And fondly caressing, her child, with a blessing. Said, "I knew that the Angels were whispering with thee."

Both experienced a slight shock. The lightning entered the house through the roof from which it jumped to the electric light wire. It made its exit through a window in front of which Mrs. Stapp and Mrs. Dice were sitting. The electric light wire in the room was annihilated and a hole was torn through the window frame. The house through the window frame. Lightning played several other pranks yesterday. It burned out electric lamps in several houses and badly frightened many people by making the wires pop and spit fire. No serious damage was done by the playful bolts, however.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

The Only Certain Development.

It is hardly worth while to engage in prognostications as to the action of Congress on the statehood question.

We were assured some weeks ago that, while there might be some objections and obstructions in the Senate, the Democratic House would make a clean record as to the admission of Arizona and New Mexico—that the constitutions respectively would be promptly approved without any strings on the approval.

Now, it appears, the confusing resolutions reported to the House by its committee on territories calls for elections in both territories on objectionable features of their constitution, and what the Senate will do toward still further complicating the situation remains to be seen.

It looks as if we shall be lucky if we get in within a year.

The only positive phase of 'the whole business is the fact that Arizona lost immediate statehood through the refusal of the radicals in the constitutional convention to submit separately to the people the judiciary recall proposal.—Arizona Republican.

Still Lingerin.

(Statehood is Produced only Under the Ripening Influence of Time.)

I ast a Wellknode Politytichun if he thot that Arizona was a goin' to git Staitthood, an' he sez, "I haven't Reely no Doubt about t, I'm nacherly Optimistic. I'm certain 'at Staitthood is th' Inevitable an' Ultimate Fait of Arizona. Of coarse, I can't say jist when Staitthood agoin' to come. They aint no Natcheril Loz by which you kin Figger Staitthood out like it was a Eclips of a Commit or a Tide or any of them things. Staitthood don't move in no regler orbit. It's like the Wind which is here today an' gon' Tomorrow, an' as th' Bible sez Nobody can't tell where it come from an' where it went to or when it's a-comin' back, but it's Acomin' all Rite. You kin make bets on that with Perfek Safety but I wuddent put th' money into the Hans of no Stalkholder or you may haf to lay out of th' use of it a Long Time, an' your Dissendants also mite not git th' use of it fer a Generashun or so.

"I aint got no Pashents with these yere Pessimists which stans around an' sez it's all a Bunk an' 'at they aint agoin' to be no more Staitthood'n a Rabbit. These fellers seems to Think 'at when they go to bed at Nite Staitthood's agoin' to be Served fer Brekfuss an' when it aint done they Kix an' sez they been give th' Dubble Cross.

"Staitthood, my son, is Largely a Matter of Time an' a Hole Lot of it, along with some Inklusenashun in the Direkshun by Congress an' th' Pres'dent of these here United Staits. When th' time Gits Rite an' th' Inklusenashun gits Rite we'll git Staitthood Rite away. You kin figger it out fer yerself almost to th' Day, but it aint so Easy fer to figger about th' Time an' th' Inklusenashun. Them things come under th' Rellum of what's called Abstroos Mathymattix.

"But these here other fellers makes me Tired with their Expectashuns which aint based on nuthin' but Experyence. It aint no Wunder at they think 'at they aint goin' to be no Staitthood when they don't look no way 'cept in th' past. Of coarse, they can't seen a Staitthood. You got to look 'wards th' Future an' you can see further if you have a HI Power Tellyscope.

"But my son, don't you git Discourridged. You got to have Faith. If you'd been a livin' in what Jolly calls the Paleozoic Age of th' World you wuddent a been goin' round Astin everybody if th' Mesozoic Age was agoin' to set in next week. Fokes'd a sed you was a dern fool."—LITTLE JAMES in Arizona Republican.

Baby's Voice

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is regarded as a period of suffering and danger. Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers; it is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but its many years of success, and the thousands of endorsements received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays nausea, prevents caking of the breasts, and in every way contributes to strong, healthy motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. ACT QUICKLY.

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Santa Fe.

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in times of danger. Bachache is kidney danger. Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly. Cure all distressing, dangerous kidney ills.
Plenty of evidence to prove this. Locario Lopez, Agua Fria St., Santa Fe, N. M., says:
"I have had no severe return attack of kidney trouble since using Doan's Kidney Pills several years ago. Now and then I have suffered from back-ache but at such times Doan's Kidney Pills have given prompt and positive relief. For a long time I was made miserable by attacks of kidney complaint and my back was often so lame and painful that I could scarcely do anything. I did not sleep well and no matter whether I were lying down or standing up, the trouble was in evidence. The kidney secretions annoyed me both day and night by their irregularity in passage and there was a heavy sediment in them. After several remedies had failed to help me, I procured Doan's Kidney Pills and they lived up to all the claims made for them. I never hesitate to say a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills when opportunity occurs."

WHAT FIGHT IS ABOUT.

shall be subject to terms and conditions of a joint resolution approved February 16, 1911, and entitled "Joint Resolution reaffirming the boundary line between Texas and the territory of New Mexico." Before the proclamation of the president shall issue, announcing the result of said election aforesaid thus held the electors of New Mexico shall vote upon the following proposed amendment of their state constitution as a condition precedent to the admission of said state, to-wit:

ARTICLE XIX. Amendment.

Section 1. Any amendment or amendments to this constitution may be proposed in either house of the legislature at any regular session thereof; and if a majority of all members elected to each of the two houses voting separately shall vote in favor thereof, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their respective journals with the yeas and nays thereon.

The secretary of state shall cause any such amendment or amendments to be published in at least one newspaper in every county of the state, where a newspaper is published, once each week for four consecutive weeks, in English and Spanish, the last publication to be not less than two weeks prior to the election at which time said amendment or amendments shall be submitted to the electors of the state for their approval or rejection; and the said amendment or amendments shall be voted upon at the next regular election held in said state after the adjournment of the legislature proposing such amendment or amendments, or at such specified election to be held not less than six months after the adjournment of said legislature, at such time as said legislature may by law provide. If the same be ratified by a majority of the electors voting thereon, such amendment or amendments shall become part of this constitution. If two or more amendments are proposed they shall be so submitted as to enable the electors to vote on them separately. Provided, That no amendment shall apply to or affect the provisions of section one and three of Article VII hereof, on elective franchise, and section eight and ten of Article XII hereof, on education, unless it be proposed by vote of three-fourths of the members elected to each house and be ratified by a vote of the people of this state in an election at which at least three-fourths of the electors voting in the whole state and at least two-thirds of those voting in each county in the state shall vote for such amendment.

Sec. 2. Whenever, during the first twenty-five years after the adoption of this constitution, the legislature, by a three-fourths vote of the members elected to each house, or after the expiration of said period of twenty-five years, by a two-thirds vote of the members elected to each house, shall deem it necessary to call a convention to revise or amend this constitution, they shall submit the question of calling such convention to the electors at the next general election, and if a majority of all the electors voting in such question at said election in the state shall vote in favor of calling a convention the legislature shall, at the next session provide by law for calling the same. Such convention shall consist of at least as many delegates as there are members of the House of Representatives. The constitution adopted by such convention shall have no validity until it has been submitted to and ratified by the people.

Sec. 3. If this constitution be in any way so amended as to allow laws to be enacted by direct vote of the electors the laws which may be so enacted shall be only such as might be enacted by the legislature under the provisions of this constitution.

Sec. 4. When the United States shall consent thereto the legislature, by a majority vote of the members in each house, may submit to the people the question of amending any provision of Article XXI of this constitution on compact with the United States to the extent allowed by the Act of Congress permitting the same, and if a majority of the qualified electors who vote upon any such amendment shall vote in favor thereof the said article shall be thereby amended accordingly.

Sec. 4. That the probate clerks of the several counties of New Mexico shall provide separate ballots for the use of the electors at said first state election for the purpose of voting upon said amendment. Said separate ballots shall be printed on paper of blue tint, so that they may readily be distinguished from the white ballots provided for the election of county and state officers. Said separate ballots shall be delivered only to the election officers authorized by law to receive and have the custody of the ballot boxes for use at said election and shall be delivered by them only to the individual voter at his request at the time he appears to vote at the said general election, and shall have the initials of two electors officers of opposite political parties written by them upon the back thereof. Said separate ballots shall not be marked either for or against the said amendment at the time it is handed to the elector by the election officer and must be marked by the voter, unless he shall request one of the election officers to mark the same for him, in which case such election officer so called upon shall mark said ballot as such voter shall request. No ballots on said amendment except those so handed to said electors and so marked shall be deposited in the ballot box or counted or canvassed. Said separate ballots shall have printed thereon the proposed amendment in both English and Spanish language. There shall be placed on said ballots two blank squares with dimensions of one-half an inch and opposite one of said squares shall be printed in both the English and Spanish language the words, "For constitutional amendment," and opposite the other blank squares shall be printed in both the English and Spanish language the words "Against constitutional amendment."

Any elector desiring to vote for said amendment shall mark his ballot with a cross in the blank square opposite the words "For constitutional amendment," or cause the same to be so marked by an election officer as aforesaid, and any elector desiring to vote against said amendment shall mark his ballot with a cross in the blank square opposite the words "Against constitutional amendment," or cause the same to be so marked by an election officer as aforesaid.

Sec. 5. That said ballots shall be counted and canvassed by said election officers, and returns of said election upon said amendment shall be made by said election officers direct to the secretary of the Territory of New Mexico at Santa Fe, who with the governor and chief justice of said Territory shall constitute a canvassing board; and they, or any two of them, shall meet at said City of Santa Fe on the third Monday after said election and shall canvass the same. If a majority of the legal votes cast at said election upon said amendment shall be in favor thereof the said canvassing board shall forthwith certify said results to the governor of the territory, together with the statement of votes cast upon the question of the ratification or rejection of said amendment; whereupon the governor of said territory shall by proclamation declare the said amendment a part of the constitution of the proposed state of New Mexico and thereupon the same shall become a part of said constitution; but if the same shall fail of such majority, then Article XIX of the constitution of New Mexico as adopted on January 21, 1911, shall remain a part of said constitution.

Except as herein otherwise provided said election upon this amendment shall be in all respects subject to the election laws of New Mexico now in force.

Sec. 6. That the fifth clause of section two of "An Act to enable the people of New Mexico to form a constitution and state government and be admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original states; and to enable the people of Arizona to form a constitution and be admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original states," approved

June 2, A. D. 1910, be, and the same is hereby, amended so as to read as follows:

Fifth. That said state shall never enact any law restricting or abridging the right of suffrage on account of race, color or previous conditions of servitude.

Sec. 7. That before the proclamation of the President shall issue, announcing the result of said election in Arizona, and at the same time that the state election is held, as aforesaid, the electors of Arizona shall vote upon the following proposed amendment to their state constitution as a condition precedent to the admission of said state, to-wit:

"Section one of Article VIII of the constitution of the state of Arizona adopted by the electors of said state at an election held on the 9th day of February, A. D. 1911 be, and the same is hereby, amended, so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE VIII—Removal From Office Recall of Public Officers.

Every public officer in the state of Arizona, except members of the judiciary, holding an elective office, either by election or by appointment, is subject to recall from such office by the qualified electoral district from which said candidates are elected to office. Such electoral district may include the whole state. Such number of said electors as shall equal twenty-five per centum of the number of votes cast at the last preceding general election for all of the candidates for the office held by such officer may by petition, which shall be known as a recall petition, demand his recall."

The ballots to be provided for said first state election shall have printed thereon this proposed amendment and there shall be placed on said ballots two blank squares with dimensions of one-half an inch and opposite one of said squares shall be printed the words, "For constitutional amendment," and opposite the other blank square shall be printed the words, "Against constitutional amendment."

Any elector desiring to vote for said amendment shall place a cross in the blank square opposite the words "For constitutional amendment," and those desiring to vote against such amendment shall place a cross in the blank square opposite the words, "Against constitutional amendment," and such ballots shall be counted and canvassed by the election officers of said state authorized by law to count and canvass the ballots cast at the election for state officers; and the returns of said election upon said amendment shall be made by said election officers direct to the secretary of the Territory of Arizona, at Phoenix, who, with the governor and chief justice of said territory, shall constitute a canvassing board; and they, or any two of them, shall meet at said city of Phoenix

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

THE COST OF A TOGA.

Under that heading, the Arizona Republican, the leading newspaper of the adjoining territory, figures up the probable price of a senatorship from Arizona. In New Mexico, too, the idea is prevalent that it will take lots of money to be elected to the Senate from this state after it has been created and there are a few who look forward to a saturnalia of bribery, direct and indirect. But those few have not reckoned upon the temper of New Mexico people nor upon the spirit that has taken possession of the United States Senate. The senatorships from New Mexico will not be sold nor bought; they will not go to the highest bidder. Even now forces are getting busy that will spend one hundred thousand dollars, if necessary, to prevent senatorships being sold, but will not have a cent to pay for a bribe. A least a dozen first-class, experienced detectives will be on the job day and night, and every doubtful legislator will be trailed from the time he is nominated until he casts his final vote for the senatorship, and no means will be spared to send from New Mexico two clean men to the United States Senate. The newspapers, as a rule, will join in this effort to keep the new commonwealth clean from the scandal which has marked the senatorial battles in Ohio, Illinois, Colorado, and several other states, and the New Mexican predicts right now that they will win, and that the men who go to the United States Senate, though they possess wealth, will be sent there, not because of their wealth, but because of their fitness and popularity. Candidates whose legislative records in the past have been against measures that were for the people, need not apply, and those who rely upon a barrel to elect them, had better watch out lest they fare worse even than Lormer; if not at Santa Fe, then at Washington for the country at large seems to be as much determined as are the people of New Mexico, that such senatorships shall not be sold. They are watching New Mexico closely because of the very fact that the assertion has been made that the New Mexican senatorships will go to the highest bidder and that a vote in the first New Mexico state legislature will be worth a good deal to the man who holds out for a price.

Says the Arizona Republican:

"There are four Democratic candidates for the office of United States Senator from Virginia, to succeed Senator Martin, whose term will expire next year. Senator Martin himself, by the way, will be one of the candidates. But this is not the matter of immediate interest in the campaign.

"Virginia has a recently adopted primary system, which includes the taking of an advisory vote for senatorial candidates. The Democratic state committee, since the appearance in the field of the quartet of candidates, has decided that they should bear some part of the expense of the primary and has levied an assessment of $5,000 on each of them.

"This action has been followed by some criticism, not alone of the action, but of a system which creates what must be a financial burden to some aspiring statesman. The sum of $3,000 is more than many men who are otherwise qualified for the office of United States Senator can raise without great difficulty. In fact, a man who can spare $3,000 in a lump sum in the preliminary campaign, to say nothing of the rest he must spend in the payment of personal expenses during the campaign is a rich man in Virginia. Then, if he emerges successfully from the primaries, there is the campaign proper. Thus the system excludes the poor man, whatever may be his mental and moral qualifications, from the contest.

"One of the many accusations lodged against the United States Senate in recent years is that it is a millionaire's club, and comparisons have been made of the present with those good old times when the senate, the 'greatest deliberative body on earth,' was composed of men chosen with respect to unusual fitness rather than unusual wealth.

"It is true, that in the period beginning soon after the civil war many men of wealth but possessed of no other qualifications found their way into the Senate, sometimes by means which in the present day would provoke an investigation. Yet, the system was the same that had prevailed in the earlier palmy days. The financial difficulties in the way of the poor, aspiring statesman were no greater than they had been in the time of Clay and Webster.

"But in many of the states under the guise of reform insurmountable difficulties have been raised by the man of moderate means is barred from participating in the struggle for honors, so that wealth is becoming more strongly entrenched than ever in the United States Senate."

WILSON AND THE SHORT BALLOT.

Woodrow Wilson is certainly not in harmony with the New Mexico Democrats. He does not believe in the recall of judges, he believes in a stable constitution and he believes in a short ballot. During the constitutional convention, the Democrats and so-called progressives insisted that every office, including the judiciary be made elective, while Woodrow Wilson believes in only a few elective officers and as in many other things, Woodrow Wilson is right. The New Mexican pleaded for an appointive judiciary, but the Democrats had their way although they will be the first to holler when this particular provision of the New Mexico constitution results in harm and injustice. But then, a few candidates at an election means small campaign funds, a minimum of boodle and the average Democratic leader cannot imagine any campaign being fought without a big slush fund. Governor Wilson said on Saturday:

"It is interesting to note among other things, how popular the idea has become of shortening the ballot—that is, of reducing the number of persons who are to be voted for. It is evident upon the face of the thing that if everybody who is put in office must be voted for, the list will be so long that the voter will be absolutely ignorant of the character or antecedents or abilities of two-thirds of the men he votes for; and this ignorance on his part is the opportunity of the political machine. It can fill the ticket with unknown men who will be subservient tools, or at any rate no serious objection to the carrying out of the policies which the machine desires. Whereas, if the ticket is reduced to a small number of names for a few conspicuous offices, it will be possible for everybody to know who he is voting for, and to have an actual judgment in the matter. If the few persons voted for are held responsible for the appointment of the rest and for the management of the government which they undertake the people have a definite means of control. This small group of men can be watched, they can be judged, they can be assessed by what they do from day to day; and real responsibility will take place of virtual irresponsibility. Where everybody is responsible, nobody is responsible.

"This is undoubtedly the reason why the commission form of government for cities has been spreading with such extraordinary rapidity from city to city throughout the country. Under this form of government the usual arrangement is to select a board of not more than five persons, and put the whole government of the city in their hands, both the ordinance making power and the administrative or executive power; to give them authority to appoint all city officers, and hold them responsible for the efficiency and honesty of those whom they appoint. Not in a single instance so far as I have heard, has this new form of government failed to give the greatest satisfaction or to effect just the change which was sought to be effected, namely, the change from an irresponsible, extravagant and ineffectual government to a responsible, economical and efficient form of government. This is the principle and the purpose of the shortened ballot; the concentration of the choice of the people upon a small group of persons whom they can watch and whom they therefore can control."

VICTORY FOR THE PEOPLE.

Yesterday, Assistant Attorney General Ernest Knaebel, a Santa Fe boy, won another notable victory in the United States supreme court, by securing a reversal of the decision of District Judge Wellborn, of California, by which it was held several years ago that a desert land entry cannot be lawfully assigned by the entryman until he has earned a patent. This decision saves hundreds of unmaturing titles of such assignees, and ratifies even a greater number of patents now outstanding.

It appears that a desert land entryman, after regularly and in good faith entering a desert land claim in California, assigned his claim to another person. The desert land law requires the claimant to make proof in each of the successive years of the annual expenditures of one dollar an acre in improvements on his claim. The assignee undertook to give such proof for a certain year and, as required by the law, produced before the proper official, two witnesses to prove her performance for that year of work of the requisite value in the improvement of the claim.

Afterwards, one of the witnesses, named Hammers, was indicted in a federal court of California for perjury in testifying falsely in the assignee's behalf. He demurred to the indictment, on the ground that a desert land entry cannot be assigned before patent, and therefore the assignment respecting which the testimony had been given was utterly void and not within the jurisdiction of the local land office. Hence, he alleged the whole proceeding was nugatory and the testimony, whether true or false, was immaterial and consequently could not be the basis for a charge of perjury.

District Judge Wellborn sustained this view and quashed the indictment. Of this judgment the government sought a review under writ of error from the supreme court. The case was argued there about two years ago, with the result that the decision was affirmed by a divided court, only eight justices voting—four against and four for—Justice Moody being absent. But the government secured an order for a reargument before a full bench, in view of the great public importance of the case.

Attorney General Wickham afterwards placed the case in the exclusive charge of Ernest Knaebel, then became one of his official household. The reargument took place on the 10th and 11th of last month, with the result announced by the New Mexican's leased wire yesterday. The case, well known as the "Hammers case," was remanded for further prosecution in the court below. It is a precedent very comforting to numerous desert land claimants, of whom there are thousands in New Mexico alone.

FARMERS WHO MAKE GOOD.

Scarcely a week passes but that local New Mexican papers do not report a farm sale running into the tens of thousands of dollars. Very often it is the case of a man having come to New Mexico without any large means taking up a homestead, developing it and then selling. In what other way can the average man without capital accumulate a competence so quickly? There is many an office holder, for instance, who has been in politics all his life, and who hasn't a red copper to his name, and many a business man who just manages to keep a day or two ahead of foreclosure, who envy the homesteader who has made good. It is true, the first few years on the homestead are hard; there are no luxuries, no automobiles, no society events for the man on the farm, but if he is made of the right kind of grit and has the right kind of a wife and children, he will be in position in time to laugh at the folks in the city, who in cashing in are no richer than they were twenty or forty years ago and who look forward with dread to old age. Of course, there are exceptions, many exceptions, but as a rule, 160 acres of fertile soil till the skillfully year after year, are to be preferred to any political job, and even to the average business opening that requires no capital.

The appointment of Chief Justice William H. Pope to the federal bench when New Mexico becomes a state, foreshadowed in the dispatches yesterday, will demonstrate the wisdom of the appointive policy in selecting the judiciary. Suppose the federal judiciary were elective, what a wrangling among jack-leg lawyers there would be for this high position and it is no disparagement of the popularity of Chief Justice W. H. Pope to assert that nine chances out of ten he would have been defeated for the nomination by some third-rate lawyer-politician, who would disgrace the ermine. The New Mexican has faith in the Republican party and in the people of New Mexico, and yet, it knows, that the election of the judiciary as provided for in the constitution, will, in many instances, bring disappointment, if not injustice and disaster. The appointment of Judge Pope to the federal bench will prove a splendid one and will serve much to mitigate the errors that are bound to be made, at least, in spots, when it comes to electing the state judiciary.

In St. Louis they are now having "See St. Louis" excursions among businessmen and among school pupils. It is an innovation that should be introduced in the Santa Fe schools. Teachers should take their pupils occasionally on rounds in and about the city pointing out to them the historic landmarks and the public buildings. If this policy were adopted, it would not happen as it often does, that a tourist seeks vainly to be directed to the Garita, or the museum, or to some other point of interest, nor would visitors question in vain: "What is the attitude of that peak?" or "In which direction are the cliff-dwellings?", all questions which every pupil of the grammar and high schools, at least, should be able to answer accurately and in detail.

Carlsbad is setting an unusual precedent which shows how radically public opinion is changing on the liquor question. On June 15, of this year, the saloons in that city will close up voluntarily in accordance with an agreement made last year. The New Mexican knows of no other city of that size which has set such a precedent, which is the more remarkable because Carlsbad is the county seat of a jurisdiction in which cattlemen and cowboys held sway for many years and which is overwhelmingly Democratic, both factors in favor of a wide-open rather than a restrictive policy. But this old world is changing even its habits of thought and Carlsbad setting the pace should change its name from "Carlsbad" to "Carls—good."

The impression was that Beverly Massachusetts is a small crossroads village that sprang into importance when President Taft chose it as a place in which to spend his summer vacation, but a census bulletin published today shows that the manufactured products of Beverly exceed those of all New Mexico by more than a million dollars a year and that Beverly has invested more in manufacturing than the entire commonwealth of New Mexico. At the same time, the manufacturers of Boston, Massachusetts, are credited with an annual production of $237,457,000 or thirty times those of New Mexico, employing 82,000 hands.

PRUDENT LOVE MAKING.

Sweet girl, I am thinking of making
An offer—in short, to propose;
But now a close census I'm taking
Of the various cons and the pros.
'Tis a critical case to decide on,
It calls for discretion and skill;
Such a suit should be carefully tried on Before one is faced with the bill.

'Tis a lottery, dear, that is certain—
Don't toss up your sweet little head;
There surely is nothing to hurt in Discussion before we are wed.
'Tis wiser to marry at leisure
Than hurriedly fasten the noose;
'Tis prudence that dallies with pleasure
Before 'tis too late to get loose.

There's a marvelous sweetness in wooing,
As pleasant a sport as can be;
But when things are past all undoing
I fear I might pine to be free.
Will you always obey me with meekness?
Will you give me no cause to regret?
For perhaps in a moment of weakness
I may make up my mind to it yet.
What's that? You declare you'd not take me?
Your words grieve me much, goodness knows.
Is prudence a crime? Would you make me
Do it blind when I start to propose?
These questions, you see, don't concern you.
Since I'm free to do just as I please,
If passionate pleadings will turn you
I think I'll go down on my knees.

A Child's Reasoning.
"Save your pennies, my boy," urged
The wise father. "If you can accumulate enough of them you will be a millionaire.
Do you realize that the ocean is made of billions of drops of water?"
"Yes," replied the child, "but I'll bet there never would have been an ocean if somebody had been around to sneak out the drops to make change, whenever a few were put in."

Silken? Well!
"No," she said, "I can't believe that you are sincere."
"Darling," he fervently replied, "every word I say to you comes straight from my heart."
"I wish I could believe it—but not! You have referred to my silken hair. It is too much. I got it from a Chinaman who was giving up his queue."

OTHERS DID IT.

"Have you ever read in public from your works?" asked the beautiful girl.
"Once," replied the poet.
"Why didn't you follow it up?"
"I didn't have time. Other people were so busy doing the following up."

Such a Question!
Dentist—Will you have gas, madam?
It rests with you.
Puritanical Patient—You don't suppose I'm going to let you grope around in the dark, do you?—Puck.

Kept Busy.
"Have you ever wondered about your husband's past?"
"Dear me, no! I have all I can do in taking care of his present and worrying about his future."—Judge.

Impertinent.
"Are you the maid?" asked the stranger at the door.
"Do I look like the hired man?" was the young woman's impertinent reply.

Partnership.
Mr. Lately Married—But, dearest, I thought we had planned to go to the opera this evening?
Mrs. Ditto—Yes, love, but I have changed our mind.—Puck.

NIPPONESE WERE GIVEN ONLY A LITTLE NIP.

Santa Fe Walloped the Japs at Baseball Yesterday By Score of 8 to 3.

Santa Fe walloped the wiry Japs by a score of 8 to 3 yesterday and at no time did the Nipponese even make the game a nip and tuck affair.

But the audience had its money's worth seeing the sensational plays of its home team—plays that must have made the Japs realize that they were in a crowd altogether too swift for them, even if they had feet little feet.

Berardinelli, Santa Fe's third base, was the man who made a phenomenal catch at the very close of the game which brought every one in the grand stand to his feet. He ran a distance of 50 to 75 yards and caught a foul which put the Japs out of business, making three outs and leaving Santa Fe an inning at the bat, but one that was not needed.

Michael Stanton's home run was another feature, although he came in on errors. Mike had hit to center field and the way he went around the bases reminded one of the California fier. "Eddie" Safford did some brilliant work pitching, although he had to readjust his ideas of strikes because the Japs were such little fellows.

Dr. Thomas McCarthy pitched the last two innings and threw a swift ball that made more than one Jap bite the dust.

Tom Closson on first did some good work, and several times climbed the fence to save an error.

Santa Fe made some bad errors but did heavy batting.

In base running the Japs were nothing phenomenal. Frye of Santa Fe, being able to give them much information in that regard.

The Japs were poor players and some people in the grand stand were heard to remark: "What are they doing traveling through the southwest? Are they practicing in a good climate?"

But the little fellows were plucky and although they talked a good deal in their language they seemed to have no complaint to make in English.

W. D. Shea umpired the game and several of his decisions made the grand stand take issue with him as usual. But the game was good natured from start to finish and was intensely funny, probably because it was an international affair, the first seen here. And then perhaps because Santa Fe saw it had an easy thing in the Japs and turned the game into a joke to relieve the monotony.

The Nipponese were given the gate receipts, which might have been heavier if a large number of people had not entered the grounds before a gate keeper arrived.

QUALITY OF ILLINOIS RIVER WATERS.

Need of Purification of Supply Shown in Report of Investigation by Government.

The United States Geological Survey has just published another edition of its exhaustive report on the quality of the waters of Illinois (Water Supply Paper 239.) While this report is of first interest to the people of Illinois, it contains much information on stream pollution, the treatment of impure water for municipal engineering and other industrial uses, the cost of differing degrees of purification for different purposes, and similar subjects having a general application and interest. The volume is now available for distribution and can be obtained on request to the Director, United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

This report is the result of an investigation of the quality of waters of Illinois made in 1906 and 1907 by the United States Geological Survey in cooperation with the Illinois State Water Survey, and the engineering experiment station of the University of Illinois. It gives the results of several thousand analyses of waters from the Illinois streams, showing their mineral condition and fitness or unfitness for industrial purposes.

Most of the Illinois streams were found to be so polluted as to unfit the water for domestic use without purification and many of them contained so much dissolved and suspended matter as to make them unsuitable for industrial use without proper treatment. Half a Gallon of Water Drunk Daily.

The average quantity of water used daily in cities of the United States ranges from 50 to 150 gallons per capita. The quantity used each day for drinking is estimated to be about half a gallon. It is of the greatest importance that this half gallon should be free from the germs of typhoid and other diseases. For many uses, such as sprinkling streets and flushing sewers, no purification is needed, but for a large number of other uses the value of the water depends on the amount and kind of mineral matter it contains. The best water for use in laundries, steam boilers, textile works, and paper mills is that which is clear, is free from iron, and contains only a moderate amount of other mineral matter.

Purification for Industrial Purposes. Investigations heretofore made as to the quality of water has been directed largely to its fitness for drinking, but within the last few years corporations and communities have begun to realize the damage and loss occasioned by the use of unsuitable water for other purposes. The railroads of the country are spending large sums every year in treating boiler-feed waters so as to render them less injurious to the boilers, the money thus spent being saved many times over in the decreased cost of repairs and in the increased life of locomotive boilers. Many laundries find it more profitable to install expensive apparatus for softening water than to soften it with soap. Water must be purified for use in many woolen mills, breweries, and other establishments. In some cities the whole water supply is softened.

In planning a water works system for the home, factory, or municipality it is not enough in these days of sharp competition to know simply that the water is safe for drinking. To determine the best water for all purposes it is necessary to know the amount and character of mineral matter it contains. Without such knowledge no estimates can be made of the cost of purifying the water and making it suitable for both drinking and industrial uses.

In connection with its topographic mapping the United States Geological Survey determines accurately the elevations of many points and is now publishing a series of bulletins giving the results of precise and primary spirit leveling in many of the states. These bulletins are of especial value to engineers and constructors.

The Results of Spirit Leveling in Minnesota, 1897 to 1910, under R. B. Marshall, chief geographer, has just been issued by the Geological Survey as Bulletin 453. It may be obtained free upon application to the Director of the Survey at Washington, D. C.

STATE CURB ON RAILROADS BROADENED IN ILLINOIS.

Powers and Duties of Commission Will Be Revised on Progressive Lines By Governor.

Chicago, May 15.—Illinois proves progressive enough to enlarge the powers and duties of its railroad and warehouse commission, giving that body jurisdiction over steam and electric railroads, express, sleeping car and steamboat companies on much the same basis as the Interstate Commerce Commission. The House passed the bill, the Senate will after a conference, and Governor Deneen is "spilling for the chance" to sign it. It is another step toward the intelligent non-political regulation and control of public utility corporations. The present law was framed 40 years ago to meet conditions then, when electric railroads were unknown.

In one respect the House bill is very radical, providing that the commissioners, instead of being appointed, shall be elected by the people. Upon this point there probably will be a contest with the Senate, the upper House favoring appointments by the governor.

Governor Deneen will sign the bill, whether the elective feature is left in or omitted. He is thoroughly in favor of a comprehensive system of control through a commission and publicly says in spite of the fact that Theodore N. Vail, head of the Bell companies recently declared that such "control has come to stay" and "can and should stop all abuses of capitalization, of extortion, or of overcharges, of unreasonable division of profits." Governor Deneen's statement on the same subject was this: "The franchisees and business of public utilities are in their nature a monopoly. They should be treated as such in order that the interests of the public as well as those of the corporations may be properly safeguarded."

"It is too well known to need the support of argument that the standards of politics in our state and municipalities have often been lowered and their legislative bodies debauched through the efforts of public utility companies."

"Authority should be given to the Railroad and Warehouse Commission, or to a commission created for this specific purpose, to gather and publish all facts regarding the cost of construction, maintenance and operation of public utility corporations, with power to require service adequate for the public needs and to fix rates which will be fair to the public, will assure to investors a reasonable return upon their investment, and will offer inducements for the investment of private capital in public service corporations to stimulate their growth as the public needs require."

"If comprehensive legislation of the character suggested were provided the subject of corporate control would be removed to a greater extent than at present from the field of politics in which it has often exercised a disturbing influence."

In the bill that has passed the House and in a similar bill, with the elective feature eliminated, that has passed the Senate, practically every point specified by Governor Deneen is covered.

Chicago representatives and those of other large cities in the state, were successful in amending the bills so that municipalities will retain control of their local transportation companies. Chicago feels that no commission under the new law will be limited specifically only in one point. There is a clause that prohibits the commission from interfering with the two-cent passenger rate. In all other matters the commission will occupy the same position with respect to railroads, express, steamboat, sleeping car and electric and interurban companies in the state that the Interstate Commerce Commission holds towards the railroads of the country.

Warning to Railroad Men. E. S. Bacon, 11 East St., Bath Me., sends out this warning to railroaders: "A conductor on the railroad my work caused a chronic inflammation of the kidneys, and I was miserable and all played out. A friend advised Foley Kidney Pills and from the day I commenced taking them, I began to regain my strength. The inflammation ceased and I am far better than I have been for twenty years. Model Irrigation Laws.
Radical reform of the laws relating to irrigation to remedy their present defects and to provide an absolute title to the settler instead of dubious tenure, is a measure which has been discussed at length by the National Irrigation Congress in Chicago last autumn. Since the spasm of inquiry in 1906, when both the departments of the interior and of agriculture got into vigorous action and secured a report on the laws of Canada which are held up by the Congress and other bodies as models which should be followed, the reform of the law has made little progress. The interminable litigation added to the enormous grist of previous years has been decided to open up again the consideration of Canada's model

Territory, this day personally appeared the above named E. C. Abbott, personally known to me to be the same person who executed the foregoing instrument of writing and acknowledged that he signed, sealed and delivered said instrument as his free and voluntary act.

It is our duty to do the very best we can toward their suppression. If you find they have been keeping open on Sunday, indict them.

The Kidnapping Case.

The most important case for investigation is that of the Territory vs. William Rogers and Joseph Wiggins, charged with kidnapping Henry Waldo Rogers, the three year old son of A. T. Rogers, Jr., who is a brother of the defendant Wm. Rogers. Wm. Rogers and Joe Wiggins will be brought to Las Vegas tonight from the penitentiary at Santa Fe and will be in the county jail for San Miguel county. Indictments have not yet been returned, but will be in a day or two.

EATING AWAY FIBER OF AMERICAN MANHOOD.

Intemperance and Immorality Furnish Skeleton for Closets of Innumerable Homes.

Chicago, May 16.—Lella May Carr, one of the foremost of American women interested in social reform, said in an interview today that greater peril confronted the American house servant than any other women employee. Miss Carr initiated the "social purity campaign" in Denver four years ago, and now is investigating the evils of domestic servitude under the direction of the New York Women's club.

Miss Carr has been working five months as a servant to find out where the evil things said of domestic service the necessity for reform exists, and out of fifteen positions she has held she left nine because of too much gallantry.

"I worked four weeks in Cleveland as 'second girl' in a pretentious household," said Miss Carr. "For the first nine days I was inclined to think all must be imagined, because the woman I worked for was considerate, her demand upon me were such as I could fulfill easily, and my own hours were never encroached on.

Butler Warns Her.

"The butler in this place was a very old man. He told me he thought I ought to find another place, after I had been there only three days. I begged him to explain, but he would only hint that I would not be long in finding out what he meant.

"Nor was I. Three days after the butler first spoke to me the oldest son of the family returned from an Eastern college. Before he had been home two hours he seized me in his arms and tried to kiss me.

"Here seemed to be the opportunity for applying my own pet theories about the value of womanly reserve, the effect of the baleful eyes, and that sort of thing. But, bless my heart, it was no use to look baleful or try to be reserved with that young bear. He just grinned and kept on doing things that made it impossible for me to stay there so I left. The mother of the college boy asked me why I was leaving, and I told her quite frankly that the attitude of her son toward me was insulting and 'impossible.'

"George is just playful."

"Why, you silly," that foolish mother said, "George is just playful—there isn't a bit of harm in him."

"A week later I was in the Pittsburgh residence of a wealthy family that came originally from the South. The 'major' was charming when he was sober, and I must say that his intemperance was of a methodical sort, for I never knew him to be palpably drunk until night. However, when he had absorbed enough alcohol to stimulate his adventurous spirit he undertook voyages of discovery in the servants' quarters.

"I was dazed when the old man entered an apartment occupied by another servant and myself about 1 o'clock in the morning, and, lighting a cigarette with trembling hands, insisted on telling us the story of his life. I tried to make a rush for the door, but the other woman, who had been in the house three years, held me.

Servants Had to Coax Him.

"Don't make a noise," she said, "the old devil always travels around when he's full and we simply coax him until he 'beats it.'"

When she was asked what, in her opinion, might be done to remedy the conditions she declares exist, Miss Carr said:

"Better protection for the working woman and girl in domestic employment must be brought about by organization. It is one of the objects of the association with which I am affiliated to bring this about. Capable lawyers will be employed and every member will be urged to report disrespectful examples of men who are guilty of misbehavior towards girls in their employe."

rebels plan to assemble their forces here and then move to a point on the coast whence, if peace has not been made, they will entrain for Mexico City.

Federals Destroy Madero Property. Juarez, Mexico, May 16.—Destruction by fire of the cotton mill and rubber factory at Parras, Coahuila, was reported in a telegram today by Francisco I. Madero, Jr. Both factories were set on fire by federal troops under the orders of General Robles before retreating from Parras. The properties were owned by the Maderos. The rubber factory had a monthly output of $150,000 worth of goods while the output of the cotton mills each month was valued at $200,000.

Chiapas Gives Rebels the Slip. Nogales, Sonora, Mexico, May 16.—

Commandante Francisco Chiapas, with his 300 troops, one machine gun and 100 horses, taking advantage of open communication to the south, slipped out of Nogales before dawn today on a special troop train bound for Hermosillo or Guaymas. This reduces the federal garrison in Nogales to less than 400 men under General Ojeda.

Although the federals are still entrenched on the hills to the south and east, indications are that they are preparing to give up Nogales without a determined struggle. Federal wires are cut to Cananea and all points to the southeast, including Moctezuma.

stitutional power to write 'reasonable' into the Sherman anti-trust law. The trusts of the country sought vainly to amend the law by inserting that word. Now the supreme court does the very thing Congress expressly refused to do.

Several Democrats were said to be ready to off-r amendments nullifying the court's interpretation of the law, but there is little prospect, say the leaders, of any action being taken at this time.

MEMORIAL TO QUEEN VICTORIA DEDICATED.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) London, May 16.—The great marble memorial to Queen Victoria, fronted by a statue of the late queen, on the plaza before Buckingham Palace, was unveiled today by King George V., Emperor William and other descendants of the queen, numerous members of the British and German royal families, members of the cabinet; colonial representatives and many other prominent persons were present. St. James Park was crowded. King George delivered a speech in eulogy of Queen Victoria.

Is there anything else in this world that is of more importance to you than good digestion? Food must be eaten to sustain life and must be digested and converted into blood. When the digestion fails the whole body suffers. Chamberlain's Tablets are rational and a reliable cure for indigestion. They increase the flow of bile, purify the blood, strengthen the stomach, and tone up the digestive apparatus to a natural and healthy condition. For sale by all dealers.
