THIRTIETH YEAR

THE CARLSBAD CURRENT, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1922.

NUMBER 39.

LOCAL MASONS LAY CORNERSTONE OF MUNICIPAL BUILDING

As advertised the corner stone of the new City Building was laid Tuesday afternoon with appropriate ceremonies, a good crowd of citizens being present.

Promptly at the appointed hour, the Carlsbad band, led the Mason body, who marched two by two from their temple to the site of the new building on West Fox street, where a large number of our citizens had assembled and where a flag draped stand marked the place appointed for the ceremonies. The program consisted of the singing of "America" by the audience, led by Mrs. Harry McKim, after which Reverend Mahan, grand chaplain, led in prayer. Music by the band followed. Grand Master Lucius Dills, of Roswell, being unable to be present, Past Grand Master R. M. Thorne was deputized to act in his stead, the other officers of the Grand Lodge of the State being as follows:

A special communication of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of New Mexico, was held in the hall of Eddy Lodge No. 21, Carlsbad, New Mexico, on Tuesday, September 5, 1922, for the purpose of laying the corner stone of the Municipal Building of the City of Carlsbad, New Mexico.

The Grand Lodge was opened in ample form with the following officers present:

Richard M. Thorne, as Grand Master; Joseph Wertheim as Deputy Grand Master; Lewis E. Foster as Senior Grand Warden; C. Duggan Rickman as Junior Grand Warden; W. Frank Melvin as Grand Treasurer; Victor L. Minter as Grand Secretary; Thomas C. Mahan as Grand Chaplain; Homer A. Gragg as Senior Grand Deacon; Joseph H. Yates as Junior Grand Deacon; Eugene A. Roberts, as Grand Marshal; Howard Prater, as Senior Grand Steward; Aud E. Lusk, as Junior Grand Steward; Jacob R. Linn, as Grand Sword Bearer; William G. Brown, as Grand Tyler.

The procession was formed and proceeded to the site of the building where the corner stone was laid according to Masonic ceremony.

Interest centered in the oration to be delivered by one of Carlsbad's young men, who had lived here almost his entire life and only left here in order to finish his education in an eastern city, George Adams. His oration was one of the best heard here in a long time and compared favorably with any given on similar occasions, and a feeling of justifiable pride is felt by all citizens that this gifted young man was a Carlsbad product, son of our esteemed citizens, C. T. Adams and wife, and the Current is pleased to present the entire speech to its readers.

Most Worshipful Grand Master and Brethren, Ladies and Gentlemen: As one who has lived for over twenty-one years in this city and who has always been intensely interested in its progress and development, I assure you that I take the greatest pleasure in having a part in this ceremony. This modern Municipal Building, a credit to any community, is not the least among the many improvements that have taken place here within my memory. I have been the witness of many changes here. Although not one of the early settlers, I yet feel that I can claim a place among the old time residents. I can remember when there was no house north of Mr. Nymeyer's on his side of Canyon Street; when Mr. Aiken's house was the last one on either side of Canal Street; when many lots, even whole blocks, where attractive residences now stand, were occupied only by mesquite bushes around which the wind had accumulated sand hills to the height of several feet. In my time have been built the Shepherd block, now occupied by Pratt-Smith and the Shelby Co.; the building occupied by the First National Bank and Joyce-Pruit Co.; the store which houses the Peoples Mercantile company's dry goods department; the James block, the Masonic temple, the Odd Fellows hall; all of the garages, the present depot, the Palace and Rightway hotels, the high school and present grammar school buildings, the Armory, the jail, and the east wing of the court house. The old Tanhill block has been transformed into a modern hotel. This list is by no means exhaustive.

There has been a tremendous change in the residence sections of the city. A few years ago most of the yards were grown up to weeds and tall grass. People generally thought that flowers and vegetables could not be grown here. Now well kept yards, beautiful flower beds and thriving gardens demonstrate what can be done in these lines and testify to a greatly increased pride and interest in the upkeep of premises. Formerly foul smelling mud holes were common in the streets; unsightly heaps of rubbish, garbage, and tin cans filled the alleys, which were generally in a most unsanitary condition. This situation has changed decidedly. A modern sewer system has facilitated sanitation and drainage.

Nor should I fail to mention the change in the irrigation system, which was formerly owned and operated by a private corporation. In 1904 a most disastrous flood washed out Avalon Dam and destroyed the old wooden flume. At length the United States Government was induced to take over the project and restore the system. In the meantime the farmers were without water for two years. I can assure you that there were days of great rejoicing and celebration when it became known definitely that the government would step in to save the project. What this has meant to Carlsbad is self evident, but its fundamental importance may not always be realized by those who were not here during the dark weeks and months following the flood.

I can well remember when the first cotton was grown and the first mill built in the Carlsbad project. For a number of years after that the growing of cotton was of secondary importance. Now, however, talk about million dollar cotton crops does not astonish us in the least. The erection of an oil mill at Loving is of importance in this connection. In other respects the condition of Carlsbad is exceptional. Had you ever stopped to think that in case a long drawn out coal or rail strike should exhaust coal and other fuel supplies, this is the only city in the state which would not be threatened with a shortage of water, light and electric power? A well developed water power makes assured these necessities.

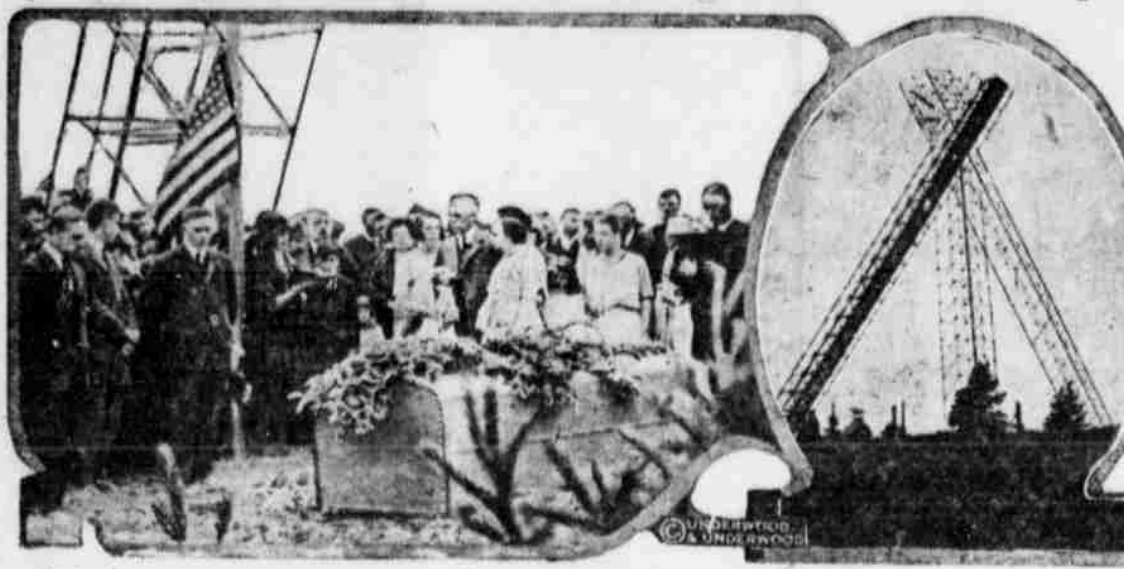

No story of the city's progress, however, partial, should be attempted without mention of our recently paved streets. For this improvement Carlsbad has much reason to be grateful to a progressive city administration.

Of these things Carlsbad may well be proud. But you cannot fold your arms with a feeling that your work is done; physical improvements represent only one side of civic development. With them the duties of citizenship are not discharged, they are increased. In spite of the apathy and indifference of the majority of inhabitants a city might have magnificent public buildings, paying on every street, and very attractive residences. Public improvements may be the result of the activity of a small group of citizens. I am far from saying that such has been the case here. But I want to say that however fine physical appearance a city may present, it is not worthy of being called a city unless its people are realizing and discharging the responsibilities of citizenship.

What are these responsibilities? I cannot hope to make an exhaustive list that will serve for all occasions. New problems and new crises bring new duties. But there are certain general responsibilities which should be felt by us always and which can never be too greatly emphasized. To these I shall refer.

In the first place there is the duty to vote. Quoting from Modern Democracies, the last great work of the late James Bryce, former English ambassador to the United States, "Popular government rests upon the principle that it is every citizen's business to see that the community is well governed. Each man, rich or poor, learned or ignorant, is alike bound to discharge his duty as a voter, or a representative, or an official, or a jurymen, according to the measure of his powers." (Vol. II, p. 489.) He further says that "the first and nearest duty of a citizen is to bear his part in selecting good men, honest and capable, to do the work needed by the community, and to make sure that they do it." You are no doubt familiar with this man who says that politics is rotten anyway and refuses to vote. Then you hear him complaining because dishonest or inefficient men are holding office. I have absolutely no patience with such a man. It is he and others like him who are largely responsible for the evils in our political system. If honest men would come out and vote at every election the situation would be quite different. Intelligent voting, however, means much more than merely going to the polls on election day. It involves a knowledge of men and conditions, familiarity with the manner in which public administration is being carried on and should be carried on. If, instead of voting for men, the voter is called upon to say yes or no to a bond issue, a constitutional amendment, or a measure submitted by initiative and referendum, he is not qualified to cast his ballot unless he has thoroughly studied the question at issue and enabled himself to form an independent and intelligent judgment. Qualification for such duties may involve months or even years of painstaking study, but the work should be undertaken by every citizen.

It is true that under the existing system intelligent voting is almost out of the question in the larger cities and in state elections. The voter is confronted with a ballot as large as an ordinary newspaper, containing names of innumerable candidates of whom he has not even heard. The Short Ballot Movement was started in order to remedy this deplorable state of affairs. Election of all officials works well enough in a small community where every voter knows every candidate personally but under other conditions it is far better to elect only a few men and permit them to appoint other officials. If the governor of a state had the appointment of state officers, the people would, through their right to call him to account, exercise a more real power than they do in choosing all their officials by direct vote. In this way the political machine is to some extent at least, eliminated. This would be no innovation; it is the principle that has always been applied in the federal government.

After an official is elected, the duty of the voter is not ended. He should make sure that the public trust is properly and honestly administered. Those who are working for the public may be looking out for their personal interests only, perhaps to the detriment of the citizen and that of the community. In some cases they may be corrupt or dishonest. Bryce quotes an American philosopher as saying, "True as it is that the wicked flee when no man pursueth, he makes better time when he knows that some one is after him." Fear of dismissal or desire for promotion will often supplement a deficient sense of public duty in some officials.

In the next place there is the duty of serving on juries. Unfortunately this is often treated lightly and escaped on slight pretext. If we are to maintain effectively the jury, an institution unknown to many legal systems, the citizen should not seek some excuse when called on to do his part, but should make the necessary personal sacrifice for the public good.

The duty of holding public office is one to be thoughtfully considered by the conscientious citizen. I do not mean to say that it is every man's duty to run for office. But there are times when honest and efficient men are badly needed and do not respond. Public duties of this kind entail personal sacrifice in many cases, as well as disagreeable tasks, but if democratic government is to be a success each citizen should be willing to do his part. Unfortunately there has not been the readiness to respond that there should have been in America and public service has suffered accordingly. In this instance we may profit by the example set by some of the leading countries of Europe. Our citizens have been too much taken up with private affairs, so as willing to spare any time for the public.

In this connection it must be admitted that salaries paid to public officials in this country are grossly inadequate. We cannot hope to secure the best talent for important posts when the remuneration is far below what the same work would command in private employment. Cheap labor is not economical, whether in public or private business. Good men will soon save their employment for more than any difference in salary. This is a point too often overlooked in public matters. In some countries a large leisure class is willing to devote much time to public affairs, but fortunately that is not the case here. It is only fair and proper that public work should be paid for roughly in proportion to what is given by private concerns.

There devolves upon every citizen moreover, the duty of studying social, industrial, and political problems, national as well as local. It may be that research and reeducation must be conceded solely to highly trained experts, but it is nevertheless true that we will never advance very far in a solution of these problems until the people themselves realize what the issues are and demand appropriate action. No movement can get far without popular support. An adequate education for such purposes does not consist of merely knowing to read and write. As an eminent political scientist has said, "A democracy that has been taught only to read, and not also to reflect and judge, will not be the better for the ability to read." Reading should not become a substitute for thinking. Learn to read critically. Your author may be mistaken, or he may tell only half of the truth. Too many of us are prone to believe anything that we see in print. It is well to form study clubs. Ascertain what books and periodicals are best suited for a study of such problems as you may be investigating; buy them and exchange with one another. Be sure that your school library is adequately supplied with the best authorities and that the pupils make proper use of them. Explain to your children as simply as you can how our government and society operate and discuss public questions in the family.

Some of the problems which should be studied may not affect this community directly, but there are others which are of direct local application. Among these may be mentioned that of juvenile delinquency, proper methods of dealing with criminals and defective classes, and approved plans for dispensing charity. All these are of tremendous local importance. Many leading authorities are telling us that not only our criminal procedure, but our penal and corrective institutions as well, should be revolutionized. Perhaps they are wrong, but their arguments carry much weight; if we disagree with them we should not do so irrationally or from prejudice, but should be able to advance intelligent reasons for the position we may take.

As regards charity, donations from one individual to another have caused most undesirable results in the way of professional begging and misplaced philanthropy. It is far better to make your donations to some public fund to be administered by a chamber of commerce, or a committee of men and women who will investigate every demand for relief and give according to the merits and needs of those who seek aid. Finally and no least important, you should be actively interested in municipal affairs. Any conscientious citizen would prefer to have a citizen actively oppose a projected measure than to have him disinterested and apathetic. Keep informed of what is going on and what is needed. Advise with your alderman. If you oppose a contemplated improvement go to him, inform him of your position, and the reasons for it. You may feel that expenditures are going too far and that the city should assume no more

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET

Following is the Democratic Ticket as named at the state convention held at Albuquerque last week:

For United States Senator, A. A. Jones was nominated by acclamation.

Senator, A. A. Jones, San Miguel county.

Congressman, John Morrow, Colfax county.

Justice of supreme court, Samuel G. Bratton, Curry county.

Governor, James F. Hinkle, Chaves county.

Lieutenant governor, Jose A. Baca, San Miguel county.

Secretary of state, Mrs. Soledad Chacon, Bernalillo county.

State Treasurer, John W. Corbin, Torrance county.

Attorney general, Milton J. Helmick, Bernalillo county.

Superintendent of Public Instruction, Isabel L. Eckles, Grant county.

Commissioner of Public Lands, Justiano Baca, Socorro county.

State Auditor, Juan Vigil, Taos county.

Corporation commissioner, Bonifacio Montoya, Sandoval county.

Following the state convention, a number of delegates met from various counties and nominated legislative candidates as follows:

The Nineteenth district, comprising Eddy and Lea counties, nominated B. S. Bennett, of Lovington, and George W. O'Bannon, of Artesia for the legislature.

District 22, Hidalgo and Grant counties, nominated J. T. Muir of Lordsburg, and D. W. Smith of Tyrone.

District 23, Guadalupe, Santa Fe and Torrance counties, nominated Mrs. Dunning.

District 29, De Baca and Roosevelt counties, Coe Howard, Portales. Grant county announced the nomination of Joseph W. Hodges, of Silver City for a vacancy in the senate.

Paz Valverde, of Union county, announced that the creation of Harding county had left his section without representation in the legislature.

Mrs. Henry Schmarke, of Belen, came in Wednesday night and is a visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Mudgett, in La Huerta. She has only returned from a visit to relatives in Denver and will remain here about ten days.

bonded indebtedness. That may well be. Many cities have been ruined because of attempting extensive improvements prematurely. But be sure to make your fight at the proper time. After a measure has been adopted, give the council and mayor your full support. They are not working for the city because of any personal pleasure that such labor may afford, and most assuredly not because of the pay they receive. They are working for your interest and need and deserve your full support and cooperation.

Before concluding I wish to mention especially one man who afforded a most conspicuous example of good citizenship. That man was C. H. McLenathan. If he failed in discharging any of the duties that I have here outlined I am sure that none of us were aware of it. Always ready to make any personal sacrifice for the common good, deeply concerned to advance education, keenly interested in political and social problems, he set an example that should be followed by all of us.

I am one of those who believe that there is a wonderful future in store for Carlsbad. She has advantages such as are possessed by few towns. But you must make the best of your opportunities if you expect to have a progressive city. Problems of increasing magnitude will confront you. It rests upon each one to perform his duties as a citizen and to do his part toward making democratic government an unqualified success.

At the conclusion of the oration, Mrs. McKim sang the "Star Spangled Banner" the band gave another selection, after which the crowd dispersed.

CONVENTION SPEECH OF WILLIAM G. HAYDON

Following is the fourteen points given in connection with the convention speech of William G. Haydon of Las Vegas at the Democratic convention. The fourteen points should be carefully read by every individual:

The Democrats of New Mexico enter the political campaign of 1922 with justifiable confidence. Time has set the stamp of its approval upon the record made by the Democrats while they had control of both houses of congress from 1913 to 1919, and the record of two years of Republican control has been weighed in the balance and found wanting.

Because it constitutes one of the darkest chapters in the political history of the United States, a review of the causes of Democratic defeat in 1920 is pertinent to this year's campaign.

Democratic Record

But while we are considering the splendid record of the Democratic administration, we should not lose sight of the fact that the Federal banking system, the Federal Trade commission, and the Federal Farm Loan act were merely part of the wonderful record of constructive legislation to the credit of the Democrats during the years between 1913 and 1919. It was a golden era in America's history.

We have all heard of President Wilson's "fourteen points" upon which he purposed to settle the World War and bring order out of chaos. Let the people of New Mexico consider another fourteen points; let them ask fourteen questions and upon the answers to them cast their votes for senator and congressman in the coming election.

The "Fourteen Points"

Here are the questions I would ask every Republican to answer in this campaign:

1. During whose administration did the American farmer receive the largest returns for his labor and upon his invested capital?
2. During whose administration has the American laborer had his highest dinner pail and received his highest pay?
3. During whose administration did the American business man make his largest profits?
4. During whose administration has the American stockholder received his highest dividends?
5. During whose administration was the greatest banking ever known created?
6. During whose administration was the American flag restored to the seas of commerce and the greatest American marine created?
7. During whose administration was America's wealth made to bear its just proportion of taxation?
8. During whose administration did the American navy reach its highest efficiency?
9. During whose administration did America's foreign trade reach its highest figure?
10. During whose administration did America become the great creditor nation of the world?
11. During whose administration did America enjoy the greatest general prosperity?
12. During whose administration was it found that American citizens untrained in the arts of war could be transformed in a few months into better soldiers than the men of Europe who had been trained for years in standing armies?
13. During whose administration did America achieve for herself and aid in achieving for Europe the greatest victory over autocracy ever known in the history of the human race?
14. During whose administration did the American nation become the greatest influence for good and reach its highest peak of leadership in international affairs wherein the object was liberation of the human spirit from the domination of monarchy and caste rule?

High Cost of Living?

You know the great charge against the Democratic administration was the high cost of living. It was really the cost of high living. Wouldn't you just love to have a chance now to kick about the high cost of living as we had it under the Wilson administration? We had the money with which to pay the price.

We kicked because silk shirts cost us $18. But it was easier then to pay the $18 for a silk shirt than it is now to pay $4 for a cotton shirt.

Mrs. Dewey Harrison left the latter part of last week for a stay at Kansas City with friends.

Miss Nellie Linn left Wednesday night to take up her second year's work in the College of Fine Arts, in New York City.

Herbert Hixon is another of our boys to leave for school, going in the morning to Houston, Texas, where he will enter Rice Institute for a course in Electrical Engineering.

Miss Kathryn Chilcoat, clerk in Carlsbad postoffice, has returned from her vacation which she spent in El Paso, and is again on duty at the clerk's window, going to work Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Jones returned Tuesday from the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lusk, on the Plains. Mr. and Mrs. Lusk and son returned with them to this city and remained a day or two transacting business.

The ladies of the Baptist church started their contribution of clothing, shoes, etc., which they had gathered for the Russian Relief Wednesday. The goods were billed to New York and from there will be shipped to their destination. The value of the articles was placed at $200. This is the second time the ladies have sent supplies to the same destitute people, a fine lot being sent last year. They are grateful for the assistance they received from persons outside of their own denomination, who helped donate goods.

Miss Ruby Horton, the little girl, who has been under the care of the ladies of the Baptist church for the past year, since the death of her mother, left Wednesday morning for Eastland, Texas, to make her home in that city. The ladies have cared for her without grudging, and the child has been grateful for everything done for her, frequently saying how she appreciated their kindness. A charming, unspoiled little girl, her prospects are toward good, useful womanhood, and the ladies who have so assiduously looked after her wants, and given her good advice, are entitled to great credit. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye did it unto Me."

Lewis Ward came in from Pinon, New Mexico, the last of last week and returned to that place Tuesday evening. Pinon is 125 miles from Carlsbad, over the mountains, and Mr. Ward made the trip, both ways, on horseback. He tells us that it is drier in that vicinity than it is here, if such a condition is possible. He subscribed for the Current in order to get news from home.

Miss Harriet Rose and her brother, Zack, of Loving, left the first of the week for school at Lawrence, Kansas, where they will attend the State University. Others attending the same institution will be Stuart Armstrong, who will go for his second year, and Dick Calpepper. The two latter will leave tomorrow night.

Mrs. Arthur Forehand is assisting at the T. C. Horne Store this week and will be there during the busy season.

COMMUNITY PICNIC

About one hundred persons from Carlsbad attended the Community picnic held at the Tracy pasture in La Huerta, Monday. The place is ideal for a picnic and all present had a delightful time and a good dinner. Everybody spread their dinners on the grass under the shade trees, and there was an abundance for all. Fried chicken, sandwiches, pickles, salads, pie and cake made up the bill of fare and everything was of the best. Ice cold lemonade and plenty of soda pop added to the attractions, and a pleasant day was spent in the open, but it looks as though many more than the hundred present should have joined in the celebration of Labor Day.

Although no public observance of the day was made, various sports were introduced at the picnic ground in the afternoon. Talks were made by the ministers present, which were much appreciated. Several races were run, one a minister's race, in which Reverends Douglas, Sellards and Harrison participated, but for fear of getting in bad with the clergy we will not state who won the race; some fancy jumping took place but we refrain from giving the names of the contestants, for the same reason. However, we will say this much: that for a good time, a good dinner and plenty of good wholesome fun, the community picnic, given under the auspices of the local Carpenter's Union, deserves a prominent place in the annals of social life in Carlsbad.

RATTLESNAKE BITE IS FATAL TO HOLY ROLLER

Fort Payne, Ala.—James Wylie Reece, a "Holy Roller" and farmer, residing on Sand Mountain, near Chavies, was bitten by a large rattlesnake Friday afternoon, from which he died within thirty minutes in great agony, according to reports received here.

It is said that Reece was at the home of a neighbor and that when the snake was discovered the neighbor prepared to shoot the reptile, but before the act was executed the "Holy Roller" asked to capture the rattler and was bitten, after which he threw the snake upon the ground and remarked to his neighbor friends to look after his children, as he felt that his time had come.

It is said that Reece had been a noted "Holy Roller" out in that section of the country and on various occasions had assisted in conducting religious seances in which very poisonous reptiles, such as rattlesnakes, and copperheads, were handled and exhibited by members of the church.

Mrs. H. C. Dilley left Sunday night for Ossining, New York, having her daughter, Miss Henrietta, in charge, where she will enter a school for young ladies. Mrs. Dilley will stop in New York City and other places for some weeks before returning home.

J. Floyd Hart came down from Willard, New Mexico, where he has a pumping job for the Santa Fe Railroad, and is spending the week in town, visiting his wife and granddaughter at Dark Canyon Wells, and transacting business of different kinds.

Joseph Powell, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Beals, returned last week from Kansas City, Kansas. Joseph has been very sick in Kansas City, and spent several days in the hospital there, and will be here until he recovers from his sick spell.

Mrs. J. S. Oliver and daughters returned from their summer stay in various parts of Oklahoma and Texas, getting in Saturday afternoon. A large number of the girls' friends of Hazel and Louise, met them at the station on their return.

Mrs. J. Kircher and daughters, Evelyn and Mary Katherine of 125 Templeton returned last week from a trip to their former home in New Mexico.—Huntington Park News.

Miss Dorothy Batton left Sunday night for Roswell, where she enters the public school for a business course. Miss Batton is a graduate this year from Carlsbad High School.

Miss Dorothy Swigart left Sunday night for Kansas City, where she will enter the second year, the Redpath-Horner Institute, specializing in expression and music.

Lieutenant Colonel Prunty, of Albuquerque, was in town Friday of last week, looking over the belongings of the local Cavalry troop.

Tom Gray was in the first of the week from his ranch southwest of town and makes the usual report, no rain.

Mrs. Gladys Jolley Trammell of Roswell has been at the home of Mayor Hudgins for the past two weeks, leaving for her home Sunday.

R. E. Taylor, the goat man, was in from his ranch west the latter part of last week looking after business.

H. M. Denton, the piano tuner, came down from the upper valley, coming Sunday afternoon.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

The party given last Monday for little Harriett West, at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred West in this city, was an occasion of great pleasure to the little folks of about her own age who received invitations to the joyous affair. The house had been prettily decorated in the colors loved by the little ones, pink and white, and the large birthday cake, decorated in the same colors, and bearing four tiny white candles, still further emphasized the number of years the little girl has to her credit in the Book of Life. Four pink and white flowers centered each table, where four little ones were seated.

After playing until they were tired, the children were treated to ice cream and cookies, and so ended Harriett West's fourth birthday anniversary. May she have many more as happy ones. The guests were Frances Ryan, Jennie McLees Stennis, Lloyd Hiler, Lucille Calar, Leslie Lea Bumback, Carl Herring, Jr., Shannon Shepherd, Virginia Stockwell, Hardin Clark, Jr., James Smith, Arthur Edwin and Helen Soliday, Evelyn Mae Stevenson, Helen Wells, Phillip Jackson, Genevieve Gragg, Muriel Brock, Bobby Yates, Mr. Henry Smith, and Mrs. Ira Stockwell assisted Mrs. West in serving and looking after the children.

Rev. R. H. H. Burnett of Hope, came in to Carlsbad Monday and as is his custom, made a pleasant social call at the Current office while in town. He, accompanied by Brother Terry, is making the last round of the Queen circuit, before the fall conference. He preached at Rocky Arroya school house Sunday night and Monday night of this week, and went from there to Last Chance, where they held a meeting, then on to Dog Canyon, Queen and Orange. During their previous tour they organized three churches, two Sunday Schools and received over one hundred members into the church. They expect to make the round and return about the 17th of this month, and then get ready for conference. Brother Burnett is a writer of some note and is now engaged in preparing a book for the press, dealing with his experiences in New Mexico and Texas. He has been a minister of the Gospel for over fifty years and is one of the few old time evangelists remaining.

The second bale of cotton to be ginned in the county was brought to town Tuesday of this week and unloaded at the Monument. It is from the Esperanza Farm, and the grower will receive one-third of the amount raised by the Chamber of Commerce for that purpose, two-thirds going to the producer of the first bale, which was ginned last week. Carlo Mariani grew the staple.

Three major operations at Eddy County hospital marked the opening of the week at that institution. Mrs. Ezrie Swift of Hope, Mrs. Rayroux of La Huerta and Cecil Hardy, of Loving, were the patients, and all are reported improving as well and rapidly as can be expected.

A reception and farewell was given in honor of Reverend Sellards and the family of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Beckett, all of whom will leave for California today or tomorrow. Over one hundred of the members and friends of the honored guests were present and enjoyed the evening at the Christian church Monday night. Music and recitations formed the basis of the entertainment and cake and ice cream were the refreshments. A mutual attachment between the pastor and his people here is about to be severed, after six years of association, and all feel keenly the separation. The Beckett family may decide to remain permanently in California depending on conditions here and elsewhere.

Mrs. Emerine Berry, one of the very efficient and obliging operators on the telephone exchange, is taking her vacation this week. The position of operator is nerve racking in the extreme, and Mrs. Berry is deserving of a good vacation, which she will wisely spend in Carlsbad. Mrs. Will Collins will substitute for her while she is away.

Life, it seems, is just one joy after another with other people.

Studebaker SPECIAL-SIX TOURING

A NEW LOW PRICE

WHEREVER you look, you will find protection against hard wear built into the Studebaker Special-Six and this quality of construction is just as exacting down under the surface as it is where you can see every detail.

The skillful workmanship and the fine materials of these hidden values are largely responsible for its long-lived dependable service.

Two important elements that make the Special-Six notable for fine performance and comparative freedom from repair, are the four-bearing crankshaft and the seven-inch frame with its five cross-members and sub-frame supporting the motor and the separate transmission.

The new price, $1275, is the lowest for which the Special-Six Touring Car ever sold—and the quality is better than ever.

Price does not always determine value, but in the case of Studebaker it establishes the finest values in the market. The name Studebaker on your car insures satisfaction.

Come in or phone and let us give you a demonstration in the Special-Six. Drive it yourself. A ride will help you make up your mind. In public confidence and respect, the name Studebaker stands higher than ever.

JOHNSON — BAKER

At the bride's home, this city Sunday night at 8 o'clock, W. J. Johnson, of Loving, and Miss Alline Baker, of this city, were united in marriage, Rev. T. C. Mahan pronouncing the solemn ceremony, a number of the friends of the young folk being witnesses.

Miss Alline is a favorite with Carlsbad people, where she has lived for a number of years, and where her sweet smile greeted every one with whom she came in contact either in business or social life. She had been employed as bookkeeper in the A. G. Sheiby Grocery Store for some time and only lately resigned her position to accept the more responsible one of homemaker for the man of her choice. A girl of unusual charm, she radiated happiness wherever she went and we are certain she will take up her new life with the same spirit.

The fortunate bridegroom is manager of the Peoples Mercantile Company at Loving, and is an industrious and worthy young man, who deserves the jewel he has won for his life partner. May all good attend them in the wish of their host of friends in which we heartily join.

Attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hatfield, Rude Wilcox and Miss Marian Witt; Frank Beeman and Miss Inez Hatfield; Lyman White and Miss Elizabeth Hoag; Joe Carlisle and Miss Ena Mahan. Immediately after the ceremony the couple motored to the mountains where they will spend their honeymoon, and returning will take up their residence in Loving.

DEATH ANGEL VISITS THE
L. O. CUNNINGHAM HOME

William Wilson (Billy), youngest son of Rev. and Mrs. L. O. Cunningham, died at the home of his parents, of rheumatism of the heart, Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The father had gone to keep his regular appointment at Seminoles, but started on hearing of the illness of his son and reached home an hour after his death.

Little Billy was six years of age the 28th of July and was looking forward with great expectations to entering school Monday morning. His loving, sunny disposition won his way into the hearts of all who knew him and little Billy will be greatly missed especially from his accustomed place in Sunday school and church services.

Loving hands and kind hearts did all that was possible to comfort the family and show the respect and regard in which the family is held in the community.

A short service was held in the yard under the trees. Bro. Beawchamp spoke on the tender Shepherd and voices singing softly, hymns of trust and praise made an impression not soon to be forgotten. Little Billy was followed to his resting place by a large number of friends and the little grave left covered with flowers, the last token of love. Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham have been a blessing and a comfort to the community during their 11 years residence here. A family who has not at some time been comforted and cheered not only by their words but by their kind deeds.

Words can not express the deep sympathy which goes out to the father and mother, the sisters and brothers of little Billy at this time. — Lovington Leader.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mercer and son returned Sunday night from a ten days trip to Mexico. They were royally entertained while in El Paso by Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Ryan, former residents of Carlsbad, who are now living in the Pass City. Their entire trip was delightful, but in spite of all that they say, they are glad to be at home.

Miss Loverna Hiler entertained a party of girls at her home last Saturday night, when a very happy time resulted. Twelve girls were present and enjoyed the evening with their classmates, and also appreciated the dainty refreshments served, and at the close expressed their pleasure and voted Miss Loverna a capable and competent hostess.

John W. Lewis, Jr., will leave Monday for the State Agricultural and Mechanical College, at Mesilla Park. So far as we have been able to learn John is the only Carlsbad representative of our schools at this place, but from what we know of him the school will be very worthily represented.

L. N. Hoag, of the Malaga section was in Carlsbad Saturday, and says cotton is opening rapidly and will soon be ready for picking. Mr. Hoag is justice of the peace for that precinct, and has occupied that position for a long time.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Sikes left Saturday afternoon for their trip through the Canadian Rocky mountains, where in company with other agents they will spend twenty days as guests of the New York Life Insurance Company.

Prof. Geo. R. Spencer came in Friday with his family from Lovington and other places in Lea County. He says the drought there is causing a great deal of suffering among stockmen in that locality.

James M. Wood of Lakewood was in town Friday of last week and tells us that everything is moving along nicely in the little city by the lake.

Scott Etter returned from California the first of the week where he spent ten days.

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 10

TEACHING THE LAW OF GOD

LESSON TEXT—Neh. 8:1-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes, and I shall keep it unto the end.—Ps. 119:23.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Deut. 8:4-9.
Acts 17:1-9, 19-25, Col. 1:9-11.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Joy of Learning God's Word.

JUNIOR TOPIC—How a Whole City Heard God's Word.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Power of the Word of God.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Community Bible Study.

It will be of interest and profit to present this lesson as an ideal Sunday school class:

1. A Model Bible Class (vv. 1-5).

1. The Eager Assembly (v. 1). The people gathered themselves together and "spoke unto Ezra to bring the book of the Law." It was not a matter of the teacher urging the class to come together, but the class with yearning hearts requesting the teacher to come with God's Word.

2. The Representative Assembly (v. 2). The class was made up of men, women and children. The men then did not leave the church-going to the women. Neither were the children left at home with nurses or to play on the streets. God's Word should be taught to all classes, men, women and children.

3. An Appreciative Assembly (v. 3). Their ears were attentive from morning to midday. So eager were they to know God's Word that they did not get tired although the lesson lasted for five or six hours. There was no pulling of watches in that class.

4. Due Reverence Shown God's Word (vv. 4, 5). When Ezra opened the Law all the people stood up. This they did out of respect for the holy book. The reason there is no proper reverence for the Bible is that people are not taught to believe it is God's Word. Reverence in the house of God will only be when the Bible is regarded as God's very words.

5. They Joined Heartily in the Prayer (v. 6). As Ezra led them in prayer the people joined heartily in saying "Amen! Amen!" bowing their faces to the ground.

II. A Model Bible Teacher (vv. 7, 8).

1. He Stood Up Where the People Could See Him (v. 5). The position and bearing of the teacher has much to do with the attention and interest of the class.

2. He Read Distinctly (v. 8). Teachers should take particular heed to this. Much Bible reading is greatly to the discredit of the Word and the reader.

3. Caused the People to Understand the Reading (v. 8). The supreme business of the teacher is to make the Word of God so plain that all, old and young, can understand.

III. The Impressions Made (vv. 9-18).

The effect of teaching God's Word is most important. In this case it was very encouraging.

1. Conviction of Sin (v. 9). The Word of God brings conviction of sin (Acts 2:37). It is quick and powerful (Heb. 4:12). The way to get conviction of sin is by teaching the Word of God, not by appealing to the emotions by telling death-bed stories. The people had real cause for sorrow—they were far from God. They not only had become worldly and the rich were in their greed oppressing the poor, but they were perplexed through their mixed marriages.

2. Weeping Turned Into Joy (vv. 10-12). When sins have been perceived and confessed God would not have His children to be sad. Continued mourning will not atone for the sins that are past. It unfits one for present tasks and dishonors a pardoning God. Besides, joy has a salutary effect upon one's entire being.

3. Shared Their Blessings With Others (vv. 10-12). Christianity is not having a good time alone; it is sharing our prosperity with others. True joy manifests itself in giving to others. Pure religion goes out to minister to the poor (Jas. 1:27).

4. The People Obeyed (vv. 13-18). In their acquaintance with the Scriptures they found that the Feast of Tabernacles had been long neglected. As soon as they understood the Scriptures they went forth to do as they had been told. They went to work and kept this sacred feast in a way that it had not been kept since the days of Joshua (v. 17). If the Scriptures were read and made plain many things could be found which have not been complied with. In the keeping of this feast they dwelt in booths, thus typifying their pilgrim character and bringing to their remembrance the days of their wilderness journey.

DIVIDED WE FALL.

Every man has his own mind, and our laws accord him the right to free thought and speech. This freedom, however, should not lead us into channels of thinking and speaking that produce friction and a population divided against itself. In union there is strength. In discord we face nothing but mediocrity and disaster. We are a community unto ourselves, yet we should not live each unto himself. As a community we owe a duty to other communities, to our state, and to the nation. It is this community of interests that has made our country great, and progressive, and prosperous beyond any other country upon which the sun shines. It is the same community of interests that will build up this town and our countryside if we employ it in our business and social life. No nation today can live entirely unto itself and continue prosperous as the years roll by. No state can do it, and neither can any city, or town, or individual. We must harmonize our differences for the public good and then work together for the advancement of our common interests. United, we push onward to greater successes and achievements. Divided we fall by the wayside and are soon forgotten.

CUSTOM, THAT'S ALL.

Adam and Eve were garbed in a single fig leaf each, but that was custom with them and the demands of modesty were satisfied. From the days of the fig leaf down through the centuries to the cumbersome and trailing skirts each successive step has been taken through innovation and sanctioned by custom. The trailing skirt was both unsanitary and a nuisance, and in time was discarded. Custom popularized the move. Now we have the very short skirt and the knickers, and custom decrees that there is no valid objection to them. In former days women rode horseback on side saddles and contracted curvatures of the spine. Then a few of the more daring ones donned pants and rode man fashion. The uproar at first was great but now it is custom and is regarded as the only sensible way to ride. The tendency of the age is simplicity in dress, discarding everything that is not in accord with comfort and the protection of health. We may never return to the fig leaf, but the nearer we approach it the greater is our freedom of action and the longer our span of life. Shocks and thrills may signalize some of the stages, but custom will stop every tongue from wagging.

WHAT SAY YOU

Consider the school children. They toil mentally five days in the week, when mental toil is difficult and not at all attractive to one of their ages. They have not attained that station in life where the value of an education is apparent. To them study is a hardship that is forced upon them by parental authority. How, then, can we wake the children up and induce them to take a stronger personal interest in their studies? How can we induce them to strive to be at the head of the respective classes? Honors in marking do not appeal to them as strongly as they do to the adult. The juvenile mind has not reached the point where it can appreciate to the full the glories of 99 or 100 per cent. What, then, will appeal to their young minds? What will supply the incentive that now seems so often absent? Prizes for excelling in study? Let half a dozen prizes be awarded in each grade each month, so that all will have a fair show in the competition. A single prize would not be sufficient. Too often it would be a foregone conclusion, and the incentive to excel would be destroyed. Every child knows what it means to "get a prize." It is an event that overshadows many others with them. They will work for a prize when otherwise their inclination is for play. It would cost a few dollars for our public school officials to arrange a series of monthly prizes, but it would be money spent to the very best advantage. At any rate, the subject is worth discussing.

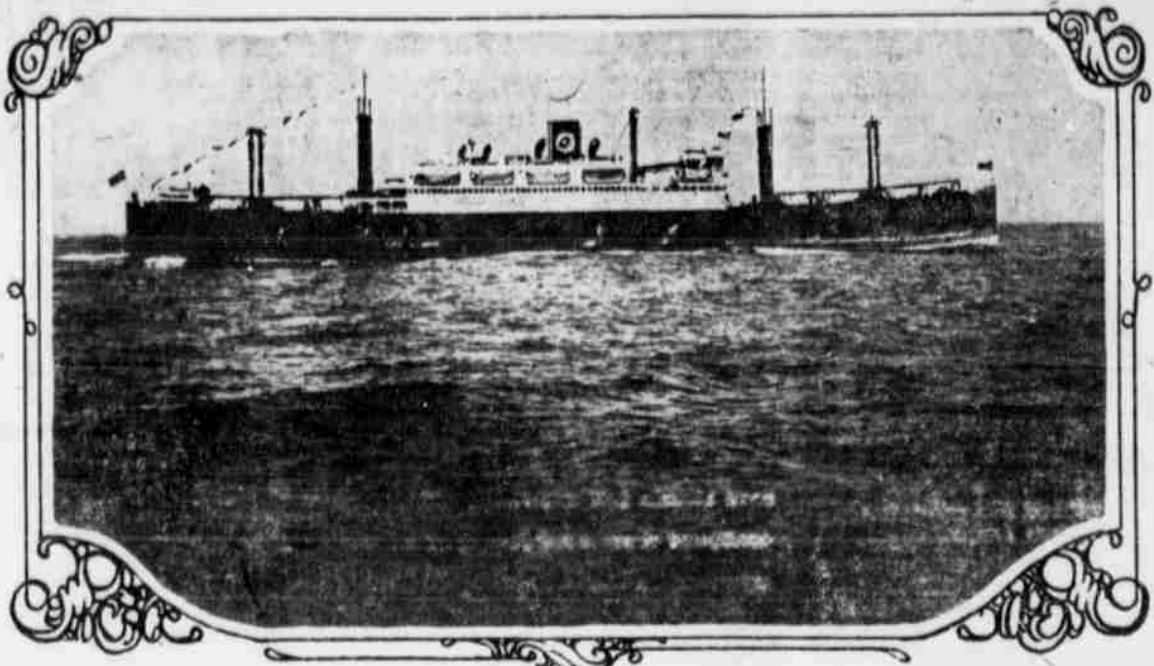

"WE ARE PAIS"

(Communicated)
We sometimes wonder if fathers realize the wonderful opportunity that is theirs, in shaping the character and assisting in directing the course of a son.

Show us a son that has the privilege of being a pal with his father and associates with him in complete understanding and sympathy, and I can assure you, that if not now, in later years, that father will be pointed to with pride, by his son, and it will be said of him: "Any success that I may have attained, or any good that it has been in my power to do, has at its foundation, my association with, and teachings of, my Dad, who by his life, taught me the conduct necessary to better equip myself for service."

It is so easy to shun our duties, especially if they be of the commonplace or the little things of life, and perhaps we merely put off taking more interest in our family and friends, until such time as we feel more free from the cares of business. But a word of cheer and a smile for

Southern Baptists Send Fifty New Missionaries Out to Foreign Fields

WITH the sending out this season of fifty new missionaries by the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, 250 new workers have been sent to foreign fields during the 75 Million Campaign, or one-half the goal that was set in the number of workers to be provided during that movement. It is anticipated that the remaining 250 will go out during the remainder of the Campaign period that will expire in December, 1924. The workers going out this season will enter the fields of China, Japan, Africa, Palestine, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Chile and Mexico.

Inasmuch as the largest missionary effort of the denomination is centered in the Orient, the larger portion of the workers sailed from Seattle Saturday, September 2, on the Admiral Luce. President Jackson for stations in China and Japan. The missionaries for fields on other continents sail from New York on various lines and some of them will not depart until September 30.

Various Types Workers Sent

Included in the list of missionaries are preachers and evangelists, teachers, doctors, nurses, one architect, one expert in domestic science, and special workers among women and children. William Earle Hines of Spartanburg, S. C., who goes to Shanghai to supervise the construction of all missionary buildings in China, enjoys the distinction of being the first architect ever sent out by the Foreign Mission Board, and his appointment indicates the vast extent of the Southern Baptist work in that country. More than half of the total number of missionaries in the employ of this board are located in China, where the results of their labors are very gratifying to the officers of the Board.

Large interest centers, also, in the launching of an intensive missionary work in Palestine, to which country there go Rev. and Mrs. Fred Bunyan Pearson of Moulton, Ala., and Rev. and Mrs. J. Walsh Watts of Laurens, S. C. Some native missionaries are already at work in Palestine, and the outlook there is considered very encouraging, despite the present complicated political and racial controversies.

Campaign Brings Enlargement

In addition to the sending out of 250 new workers to foreign fields the 75 Million Campaign has made it possible to increase the number of native workers from 771 to 1172, to practically double the missionary equipment in the older fields of China, Japan, Africa, Italy, Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Uruguay and Mexico, and to enter the new fields of Spain, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Romania, Southern Russia, Palestine and Siberia. Southern Baptists now have a practically unbroken string of mission fields encircling the globe, and a possible mission audience of 500,000,000 people, or one-half the total population of the globe.

And the results on the field have kept pace with the larger investment in the work and number of workers. Since the outset of the Campaign the Foreign Mission Board reports the organization of 117 new churches, 21,723 baptisms, 211 new Sunday schools with a gain of 17,576 pupils, native contributions to Baptist work of $1,007,330.68, and 529,642 treatments administered by missionary physicians. Churches on the foreign fields, exclusive of the new territory in Europe and the Near East, now number 622 with 64,251 members. There are also 971 Sunday schools with 53,691 pupils, and 694 mission schools of all grades with 26,597 students.

Expense Rate is Low

More than $6,250,000 net has gone from the Campaign into foreign mission work, and so economically have these funds been handled, the Board reports, that 96.24 cents out of every dollar has actually reached the foreign fields, only 3.74 cents out of each dollar being required to care for the total cost of administration. But with these larger receipts and economical administration the Board is unable to meet the demands upon it, and at its last annual meeting it was compelled to reduce the requests of the foreign areas on the field for appropriations by more than $1,000,000.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

If the idea obtains that the local Campfire Girls are only organized for a good time, it may be well to disabuse any one cherishing such idea, as they are taught many things that will be of use to them in their school life and otherwise. Among others the art of expressing themselves in writing. After their recent camp outing on Blue Springs ranch, each girl was required to submit a description of the affair to their camp guardian, Mrs. Muri Normhausser. Three were selected from among others and the Current has been asked to publish them, which we are glad to do as an encouragement to the girls, and also to give an idea on what their camp life was like. The essays follow:

ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT OF CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Mildred Hutchinson
The annual encampment of the Yampa Camp Fire Girls was held at Blue Springs ranch, about eighteen miles from Carlsbad. The party consisted of thirteen Camp Fire girls, leaving the morning of August 21 at 7 o'clock, and was accompanied by the assistant guardian, Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. Little, and Mrs. Hill. We arrived at Blue Springs at nine o'clock. Camp was pitched and four girls were appointed to serve on K. V. duty each day.

This program was followed each day: 6:00, rising hour. 7:00, breakfast. 7:30, preparation for tent inspection. 8:00, tent inspection. 9:00, hiking. 11:00, preparation for dinner. 12:00, dinner. 1:00, rest hour. 2:00, free hour. 3:30, swimming. 4:30, preparation for supper. 6:00, supper. 7:00, devotional exercises. 7:30, games. 9:00, lights out. Tuesday we hiked six miles. We had ten visitors at noon that day. On our hikes we took pictures of interesting things we saw. On Wednesday afternoon we had visitors. That night, Mr. and Mrs. Lester, ranch people living near camp, gave a party for us and we all had a fine time.

Thursday morning another ranch family, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Harkey, invited us to their house and we gave them a program. We started home that evening at 6:45 and arrived at Carlsbad at 10:30.

Jim Simpson, of Clark Bluff ranch spent a part of the week in Carlsbad.

Mrs. Dillon left last Sunday in the stage for Roswell, where she will spend a month with the family of J. J. Rodden.

Rube Nelson this week sold his bunch of cattle to R. C. Dow, who in turn sold them to W. C. Bindel.

a friend or a half hours association each day with a son, will mean a thousand times more in future years than the accomplishment of anything for which we may be striving in business.

So many boys feel that they must go out of the home for an explanation of the things that come to their knowledge, of which they are ignorant. Every boy must have at least one companion in whom he can confide—and if it be not his father it will assuredly be some other person. What more noble distinction could there be than that a man could truthfully say, "I am the confidante of my son. We are pals."

Every boy has his pal, and I have yet to see my first boy who was not proud of the fact, if it were true, that he was able to pal with his father. No sweeter word is there in any language than the word "Mother," and where is there one who cannot recall the many, many times that Mother has healed our wounds, both imaginary and real; her many ministrations to our comfort; and her prayers for our welfare. Though it is wrong to take them for granted, we in a way expect things such as these of our mothers, and know that they are necessary, but no more necessary are they to a boy, than the association with his father, for within the innermost soul of every boy, there is a heart string, which responds to no human emotion other than that evoked by the loving companionship of a father. Why not win the love and complete respect of your son, and by close companionship and understanding, know that he is at all times, doing nothing that you or his mother would question, or in any way be ashamed of.

Help your boy to help himself to manhood as taught in a certain paragraph of the Boy Scout's oath, "Physically strong, mentally alert and morally straight."

Wilson Jones was taken to Eddy County Hospital yesterday and it is feared he may be having typhoid fever.

Elmer Winn and wife are again at home after a visit to relatives in different parts of Texas.

Beware of the fellow who tries to regulate the morals of the world. He has no time to cultivate his own.

The farmer who has to go ten miles for a trace chain finds it an expensive purchase. If the town man had to go to the nearest city for a pencil, or his wife had to journey hence for a spool of thread, both would be pained beyond endurance. It pays to spend your money with our local dealers, for the more they sell the greater the variety of stock they can afford to carry for your convenience.

3-YEAR-OLD BOY TAKES A WILD RIDE IN HIS FATHER'S AUTOMOBILE

East Las Vegas, N. M., Sept. 5.—Little Larry Burns, the 3-year-old son of L. H. Burns, started Seventh street residents into a near-panic Sunday morning while taking a wild ride in his father's car.

The car was parked near his home when Larry climbed into the driver's seat, bent on a make-believe journey. He pulled the starting lever and the car sprang into action, while Harry, delighted with his unexpected success, began operating the steering wheel. The car was in reverse gear and the car and child went zig-zagging crazily up the street. But his ride came to a sudden end when he backed over the curb and crashed into a tree on the J. P. Erickson lawn. Except for a few scars on the car and some missing bark from Mr. Erickson's tree, no damage was done.

Ordinarily the first alfalfa seed on the market comes from Arizona, Texas and New Mexico.

Mrs. Lurline Mahan left Wednesday night for Illinois, where she will teach the coming winter in the public schools of a town near Galena, Ill.

One very pleasant feature of the institute was the entertainment given to the teachers Friday night of last week. The affair was gotten up by the Carlsbad teachers and Board of Education, and was greatly appreciated by the visitors. Carlsbad band played early in the evening before the lecture given by Prof. J. A. Hill, who spoke on the subject "Is Education Worth What It Costs?" At the close of the lecture the company gathered on the campus at the high school and were served delicious punch and wafers, the band again discoursing sweet music. It was a nice compliment to the visiting teachers, and one that all appreciated and which gave them an opportunity to become acquainted with each other.

RESOLUTIONS

Eddy County Teachers' Institute

Held at Carlsbad, New Mexico, August 31st, to September 2nd, 1922.

BE IT RESOLVED, Whereas; we, the teachers of Eddy County, being assembled in County Institute, do hereby wish to offer the following resolutions:

First—That we express our thanks to the Carlsbad Board of Education for the use of the high school building, and the equipment incidental thereto, also for the many courtesies extended to us;

And to those in Carlsbad who assisted so ably in the entertainments furnished throughout the various sessions, including Miss Mary I. Johnston, Mrs. G. S. Westfall, Miss West, Miss Inez Hatfield, R. R. Larkin, and the Carlsbad band; and to the Masonic Order and to Victor L. Minter and Eugene Roberts for the presentation of the excellent pictures "Equality of Opportunity and 'Hats Off'." Also to the faculty and board of education of Carlsbad for the social hour and delightful refreshments.

Second—That we extend our thanks to the educators and officials of the county who presented the various educational topics.

Third—That we also wish to express our sincere gratitude for the splendid lectures given by Pres. J. A. Hill of West Texas State Normal College.

Fourth—We wish to extend to our worthy and able County Superintendent, George M. Brinton, our hearty approval of the efficient, professional and scholarly manner in which he has conducted the school affairs of this county for the last four years. We realize he has been a true and faithful friend of the rural teacher; sparing neither time nor energy in building up the rural school, to which he has given his best thought and most loyal devotion. We feel that under his wise supervision he is leaving the schools of our county in a better condition than ever before. We regret very much that we are so soon to lose so true a friend and prominent an educator from our midst.

Fifth—Resolved: That the truancy law, under existing conditions is impossible of enforcement and that we recommend a local truancy officer be appointed in each school district, and that same aid be given to those who are not financially able to keep their children in school.

Sixth—We recommend that more attention be given to a program of physical education, throughout the state, whereby all children of the state, including those of the elementary schools, be given the benefits of regular calisthenic drill and systematized athletic training.

That the schools of the counties arrange and train for an annual county field meet, whereat all schools shall be represented in the various games and sports common to such occasions.

Seventh—Believing in American concepts of government, "That all are equal before the law", and in our democratic theory that every child should have equal opportunities: We therefore, strongly condemn any and all existing school laws and opinions which have in either purpose or effect a tendency to grant special privileges to one school in a district to the disadvantage of another. And whereas; our county unit law creates a common school fund out of which one school district is supplied with means practically unhampered, while another is rigidly regulated by law; we declare its injustice a menace to the very foundations of our boasted democracy. Therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED: That we demand such remedial legislation as will correct such unfairness and inequality.

Eighth—We further wish to declare our full appreciation of the entire institute program. That its inspiration, its fellowship, its educational awakening will send us to our years work with renewed faith and effort.

Ninth—That we express our sincere thanks to our efficient secretary Mrs. Geo. M. Brinton, for her untiring courtesy and pleasant helpfulness.

Tenth—Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be furnished to each of the county papers for publication.

Respectfully submitted by the resolution committee:

F. M. HATFIELD, President.
N. R. MARTIN, Secretary.
VELMA SMITH.
ALMA NORTON.
MRS. J. V. REED.
MRS. BERTHA W. HACKNEY
B. F. KAISER.

Messrs. Hubert and son, Horace, Robert Toffelmire, John W. Wells and W. F. Melvin represented the Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of Kiwanians of El Paso last Saturday. The parties tell of a wonderful time, reception and banquet on the roof garden of the Paso del Norte hotel, at which were gathered a great many of the business men of the Paso City and other places. So far as known the Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce is the only body in this section of the country to send representatives to the meeting.

John R. Joyce, who has been touring Europe this summer, will sail for New York tomorrow on the steamer Haverford, of the Cunard line, from Southampton, England. After his arrival he will spend the remaining days before school opens with a classmate in Wheeling, West Virginia. John R. and his professor, who has been making the trip with him, expect to arrive the 16th of this month.

Charles Culpepper, of Albuquerque, is spending his vacation at the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Culpepper, of this city, coming Thursday of last week. Mr. Culpepper is an employee of the Citizens National Bank of the Duke City and stopped on his way home to play at the golf tournament at Roswell. He will be in town about two weeks longer.

R. E. Horne, who is engaged in road work east of this city, tells of that section being alive with rattlesnakes. Seventeen snakes have been killed in the last few days by the road crew, the largest being eight feet long.

Ira M. Hawkins and family have returned from a week's visit to Roswell and left Friday by motor to Raymondville, Texas, on the Gulf. They have resided here for the past six months and will continue in the dairy line there.

Honoring their secretary, Rev. D. F. Sellards, the local Homesteaders held a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rohmer last night. About forty in all were present and enjoyed the evening which was only saddened when they thought of the coming separation. Reverend Sellards has about completed his preparations and will leave in the morning for his new home. His associations with this order have always been pleasant and he leaves with the best wishes of all.

See Mrs. Maggie Reed at the METROPOLITAN HOTEL for nice rooms.

Mrs. Esther G. Jones is a visitor at the home of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Joyce this week, returning from an extended trip thru the Canadian Rockies, visiting Lake Louise, and Banff, Canada, among other noted places. Mrs. Jones also spent some time in Southern California and the Grand Canyon, Arizona. She will be here about a week before resuming her journey to her home in Kansas City.

Mrs. Maggie Reed has again taken over the Metropolitan hotel and asks her friends to remember her with their patronage. The house will be thoroughly renovated and put in first class shape for the entertainment of the traveling public and others.

Mrs. Burnia McCaw and baby, Ruth, left Sunday night for Santa Fe, where she has secured employment and will remain for the winter.

Miss Katherine Hender, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby Hender, of Frijoles, is attending High School here this winter, and stopping at the home of her uncle, J. B. Leck, while in town.

Miss Elizabeth Hogue will return to Fulton, Missouri, Sunday night, where she attended William Wood College, and will take her second year's instruction at that institution, specializing in piano and voice.

C. W. Beeman has been drawn to serve on the Federal Petit Jury and Bryant Williams, of Hope, on the Federal Grand Jury, which convenes in Santa Fe next week.

Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, Forest Houghtaling and Miss Emeline Vogel both of Artesia, were united in marriage at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. A. C. Douglas. Accompanying the couple were the bride's sister, Miss May Vogel, and E. P. Bach. The newly married folk expect to make their future home in Artesia, for which place they left immediately after the ceremony.

Hiram Samaglego left Monday to enter the Lydia Patterson Institute in El Paso. He will take a regular course, and will specialize in music. Hiram is only about twelve years old, and his father prides himself on the fact that he is the first Spanish-American to leave Carlsbad for college.

The new church of the Spanish-American Methodists will be built of adobe, with a galvanized tin roof, and as the money for its erection is now available will be pushed to completion.

Al. Green, old timer and half brother of Mrs. Mary Reed Miller, and W. T. Reed, of this city, came in from Los Angeles, Tuesday night and is spending a few days here. Mr. Green has been on the force of the Fort Worth Star Telegram for the past eleven years, and has grown very stout. Otherwise, he is the same genial man he always was and his friends here are more than glad to have the pleasure of seeing him once more. Accompanying Mr. Green is his niece, Miss Louise Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Green, of Los Angeles where Mr. Green has been spending the last couple of months.

G. C. Hotchkiss, formerly a resident in the county, and still owning land in the Otis section, came in from his home at Parks, Texas, accompanied by his family, and spent several days in town. They were accompanied by a neighbor Mr. Ares and wife and daughter, Kathleen, of Breckenridge. The party remained here until Wednesday before leaving for their homes.

MARRIED HUDGINS — JONES

A wedding of interest to Carlsbad people occurred at the beautiful home of the bride's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Livingston, in La Huerta, last Sunday afternoon, when William Hudgins, son of Mayor J. D. Hudgins and Miss Essie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jones, were united in marriage, Reverend Douglas of the Methodist church pronouncing the ceremony, using the beautiful and appropriate ring service.

The couple, attended by Miss Wardie Bates and Tom Calloway, entered the drawing room to the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. J. W. Wells. The bride was attired in an exquisite gown of pink tulle, and carried a bouquet of white and pink roses. The youthful bridegroom wore the dress prescribed for such solemn occasions.

The bride and groom are both quite young, but their attachment for each other has been severely tested on several occasions, and only proved stronger with each trial, and the current joins their many other friends in wishing for them lives filled to repletion with happiness and prosperity and loving service to others, for only by so doing is real and lasting happiness found.

The lovely home was decorated with pink and white flowers in profusion, the decorations forming an artistic background for the bridal party.

After receiving the congratulations and best wishes of their assembled friends, the newly-weds left via automobile for Roswell, where they joined their most intimate friends, Mr. and Mrs. William Reed, who were married on Friday previous.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Jones, Mrs. John Wells, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McAdoo, Misses Bates and Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Hudgins and daughter Miss Dorothy, Lieutenant Will Miller, Guy A. Reed, and Tom Calloway.

Henry Reed, of Glendale, Arizona, came in from his home Wednesday and remained with trains with kinsfolk here. Mr. Reed is a printer and has worked in both city offices, in the days when "setting and distributing" were in vogue. He now owns his own paper in Glendale and is doing well. His daughter, Retta, who has been in town with her grandmother for over a year, accompanied him to his home.

Guy Vest, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Dock Vest, spent a couple of weeks at the Ranger Station in the Guadalupe. He had a fine time and tells of riding horseback and hunting squirrels with a great deal of enthusiasm. This was Guy's initial trip away from the family home and his enjoyment seems a little surprising to his home folks.

BORN—Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Victor L. Minter, Monday of this week, a boy baby. This is the second son in the family and he is receiving a warm welcome. Mother and baby are being cared for at the W. H. Munger home.

Mr. and Mrs. Beeman have a baby boy, born at the Frederick private hospital last Monday morning. The babe is very tiny, but with the efficient care given by Mrs. Frederick, it is hoped it may live. Mrs. Beeman is doing very well at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mahan had guests over Sunday and Labor day, from Roswell, being Mrs. Mahan's father, G. C. McFadden, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Carle. The party went fishing Monday and caught several fine fish, which were greatly enjoyed as well as the outing.

Lewis Means came in the latter part of last week accompanied by his wife and the latter's sister, Miss Miriam McMahon. They have been living in Dallas, where Mr. Means took a theological course at the Southern Methodist University, finishing three years work in two years. Those of us who have watched his progress in working to prepare himself for his high calling, that of a Methodist minister, feel pride in his attainments and also realize that too much praise cannot be given to his wife, who has helped him in every way. Lewis will probably enter the New Mexico Conference at its next session at Pecos. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Means, formerly of Queen, but now living near Hope.

R. E. Taylor, prosperous cattle sheep and goat raiser on the Texas-New Mexico line, was a Pecos visitor the early part of the week. He was returning home from Ft. Worth where he attended a convention of cattlemen. While in Pecos he visited the Enterprise office and left a copy of the Sheep and Goat Raisers Magazine, which contains a complete story of the convention and show recently held at San Angelo, for which he has the thanks of the editor. Mr. Taylor is a live wire stockman and one of the directors of the Sheep and Goat Raisers Association of Texas.—Pecos Enterprise.

George Adams left Wednesday night for a tour of a month through the northwest, rather planning to locate in some point in Washington.

MARRIED
REED — KINDEL

About a dozen of the friends of William C. Reed and Nettie May Kindel, accompanied them to the priest's house last Saturday evening to witness the marriage vows plighted at that time, Reverend Father Francis reading the ceremony, according to the rites of the Catholic church, the groom being a communicant in that church.

The bride was born and has lived near Carlsbad all her life, if we except one year which she spent in Globe, Arizona, at the home of her sister, where she attended school. She is the daughter of Mrs. T. J. Kindel, who until this week has resided for over twenty years on a dairy farm west of the city, and is one of the favorites among the girls of the younger social set of the city. She is well known in local business life, having clerked at the Corner Drug Store, for over a year, and is now holding a position with the Western Union.

William is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Reed, and is a printer in the employ of his father, the editor and publisher of the Carlsbad Argus. He attended school in Carlsbad and later spent one year at the N. M. M. I. at Roswell, where he made an excellent record.

The attachment of the young couple to each other has been the subject of comment among their friends for a long time, and while both are quite young, seemingly too young to take on themselves the duties and responsibilities of married life, yet that is a condition that will improve with each passing day, and the current wishes them unbounded success in their life together. Mr. and Mrs. William Christian Reed left immediately after the ceremony for Roswell for an over Sunday visit and on their return are at home in the Boatman cottage.

Those at the wedding were the parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Reed, the bride's mother, Mrs. T. J. Kindel, an aunt, Mrs. Mary Reed Miller, Lieutenant Will Miller, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Christian, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McKim, Miss Mary Net Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Patton and baby, and Mrs. A. Moore.

The opening of the new store of Gibson Brothers last Saturday was successful from every point of view. A hearty welcome was received by every one attending, from the genial proprietor and his accommodating clerks, not to mention the beautiful long stemmed pink and white roses, which were given as souvenirs, and proved an added charm to all the patrons and visitors. Many praises of the new store and its arrangements were heard on all sides. The entire arrangement of the interior of the room is most satisfactory, everything being in apple-pie order, and an air of neatness showing everywhere and in all departments. We predict successful business life in Carlsbad for the new store of Gibson Brothers.

Judge C. R. Price will be down from Roswell tomorrow and will superintend the drawing of the jury for the October term of court. C. E. Mann, of Artesia, Harry Christian of Carlsbad and Lon Fletcher of Hope, were appointed as a commission some days ago, and selected the names for the wheel.

Albert Ares came in from the ranch last Thursday and was accompanied to the ranch by Mrs. Ares and the children on Sunday. They will keep house at Three Forks, the place having been overhauled, and made ready for their occupancy.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried everything I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. E 85

DIES IN NEW YORK CITY

Mrs. Maude Keebler-Page, only daughter of Mrs. Iva J. Keebler of Kansas City, died suddenly, August 25th, at her home in New York City. Mrs. Page was quite a noted newspaper and magazine writer. Both Mrs. Page and Mrs. Keebler have many friends in Carlsbad and Roswell, where they have spent several winters in the early days. The news of the death of Mrs. Page came to Mrs. John W. Poe, in a letter from Mrs. Keebler.—News.

Mrs. Snow's class of young men and ladies went out to Lake Avalon Saturday night on a hay ride. Nearly the entire class was present and enjoyed the ride and the trip home. They carried with them plenty of everything good to eat, and were chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Snow.

Glenwood Jackson left Saturday night for Emporia, Kansas, the home of his grandmother, where he will enter school for the year. Glenwood is a graduate of the 1922 class of our High School.

NOTICE TO LIEN CLAIMANTS Whereas, on the 14th day of July, 1922, the above named court entered an order in the above entitled and numbered cause, in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

"It being made to appear to the Court that the issue of receiver's certificates in the amount of Five Thousand ($5000.00) Dollars, heretofore authorized, is insufficient to produce the necessary funds for the receiver's immediate and most urgent needs in preserving the property and estate in his hands and that an additional issue of Three Thousand ($3000.00) Dollars should be immediately authorized and sold, and the proceeds thereof applied by the receiver in accordance and compliance with the orders of the court; and it further appearing to the Court, that there is good reason to believe that said property and estate can be more adequately and economically preserved by the expenditure of Fifteen Thousand ($15000.00) Dollars, or more, additional and that, therefore, the receiver should be authorized and directed to issue and sell the whole, or greater part of the Twenty-Five Thousand ($25000.00) Dollar issue heretofore tentatively authorized, and to expend the proceeds thereof in accordance with his recommendation; and it further being made to appear to the Court that such receiver's certificates, other than the Five Thousand ($5000.00) Dollars already sold, cannot be sold unless they are made to bear interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum and that, therefore, all certificates hereafter issued and sold should bear interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum from the date thereof, and should be sold at not less than par and accrued interest, and that the order of June 23rd, 1922, should be modified in accordance with these findings and this order; and it also appearing to the Court that there are certain claimants who claim to be the holders of liens upon the property of said insolvent corporation. The Carlsbad Light & Power Company, and that such claimants should be given an opportunity to be heard as to the nature and validity of their alleged liens, if any, and to show cause, if any they have, as to why they should be authorized to issue and sale of said additional certificates, with priority over any and all other liens and incumbrances of whatsoever nature as provided in said order of June 23rd, 1922, should not be authorized;

IT IS, THEREFORE, ORDERED, That the receiver be, and he is hereby authorized and directed to issue and sell, at a price of not less than par and accrued interest, additional receiver's certificates in the amount of Three Thousand ($3000.00) Dollars, such certificates to be of the denomination, effect and form as prescribed in said order of June 23rd, 1922, except that they shall bear interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum; and any and all persons claiming to hold valid liens upon the property and assets of said insolvent corporation, The Carlsbad Light & Power Company, show cause, if any they have, on the 9th day of Sept., 1922, why the Court should not authorize and direct the issue and sale of the remainder of the Twenty-Five Thousand ($25000.00) Dollars receiver's certificates, tentatively authorized by said order of June 23rd, 1922, of the form, effect and denomination therein prescribed, and that the receiver be and he is hereby directed to give notice hereof to such alleged lien-holders by publication for four weeks in some weekly newspaper published in Carlsbad, New Mexico, and by such other method as to him may seem proper.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That said order of June 23rd, 1922, authorizing the issue and sale of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars of receiver's certificates, be and remain in full force and effect, except as the same is herein modified or in conflict herewith.

Done at Santa Fe, New Mexico, this 14th day of July, 1922.

COLIN NEBLETT, United States District Judge. NOW, THEREFORE, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN To all claimants of liens upon the property of the insolvent corporation, The Carlsbad Light & Power Company, of said order, as directed by the Court.

Last Monday a tennis tournament was held at Pecos, Texas, with six players from Carlsbad participating together with those living at Pecos and Fort Stockton. CAMPING AT BLUE SPRINGS

Marjorie Snow

On Monday morning, August twenty-first, at six o'clock, eleven girls of the Yampa Camp Fire, with Mrs. J. M. Dillard, as a chaperone, went to Blue Springs for a four days outing. They arrived there about nine-thirty and soon had their tents up and grounds cleared. Our regular schedule, which we followed as far as possible, was as follows:

Up at 6 A. M. Preparing tents for inspection, breakfast at 8 A. M. Hike from 9 to 11 o'clock. Dinner at 12 o'clock. Rest hour 1 to 2 o'clock. Free hour 2 to 3 o'clock. Swimming 3 to 4:30 o'clock. Supper at 6 o'clock. Devotional exercises at 7 o'clock. Stunts and games, 7:30 o'clock. Lights out at 9 o'clock.

All meals were prepared by the girls. About seven o'clock, Mrs. Hutchinson and Mrs. Little and two other girls joined the party. On Tuesday morning we hiked to the Spring about six miles from our camp. The next morning we discovered that our camp had been visited in the night and our ham and bacon had been taken.

Wednesday was a day of rest, everyone feeling tired after the hike the day before. The morning was spent in reading and playing. On Wednesday afternoon we had a taffy pull. We were invited to Lassiter's that night to hold our devotional exercises and play games on their lawn.

Thursday morning we visited the Harvey place and gave a musical program. In the afternoon we rested and played until four, then we packed our tents and bedding and cleared away all rubbish, leaving our camp as we found it.

During our stay we received watermelons and cantaloupes from the nearby ranches. We arrived in town about eleven o'clock a tired but happy group of girls.

The Ministerial Alliance at its meeting September 4th, took action as follows:

The Alliance expresses appreciation of the teaching force in the Daily Vacation Bible school and especially of Mrs. J. M. Dillard, principal in charge.

The work was arduous, taxing time and strength, and took something of the heroism of Christ to reach happy results. And surely evident and rich good was accomplished. The Savior that loves children added his presence, and young hearts were taught and trained for the kingdom of heaven.

While the service was its own best reward, the ministers would go on record with assurance of genuine thanks to the workers and prayer that the favor of God may rest on them evermore.

Miss Marylee Cooke is teaching the Whittington boys at their home on the Merchant place south of town.

HOME TOWN HELPS

CONSIDER NEEDS OF TOWN

Every Citizen Should Once in a While Ask Himself If Community Is "Working Right."

If your typewriter stalls, or your sewing machine slips its band, or your gas meter runs the bill up to four times that of last month, or your automobile gallops where you would like it to glide, you have but to go around the corner to get an expert, who tinkers a bit, shrivels the contents of your pocketbook and sends you away, perhaps sadder, but hitting on all your cylinders.

But whoever you are and wherever you live you have one piece of machinery that plays an important part in your existence, a stupendously important piece of machinery, and maybe you have never thought of whether it is operating properly or not. And if it isn't you have had no idea of where to get a repairman. You have a town or a city. Maybe you live right in the middle of it, or maybe you live out in the country and just come in once in a while. But you use that town or city as a place to do your shopping, or to obtain your amusement, or an education, or to obtain a livelihood.

Well, is your town working right, or is it humping along with a flat wheel? Is it giving you the maximum of service, or does it fail you in half the ways it might serve you?

When it has finally been determined which is the primary need of a given community, then the meeting of that need should become the first project of its chamber of commerce. A chamber of commerce is fundamentally a project organization, and its primary business is to determine the needs of the community and upon those needs build projects, which it proceeds to work out for the benefit of the community.—Washington Herald.

PAYS TO PAINT AND VARNISH

Apart From Improved Appearance, the Economy of Such Proceeding Should Be Apparent.

When the floor coverings and window hangings are removed in the spring there is no better medium of cleanliness than a fresh coat of paint, varnish or enamel—they stand in front ranks as the best sanitary agents known.

As a medium for saving the surface and conserving property—painting and varnishing has been demonstrated as an investment of the first order and its economy is recognized by all thoughtful citizens. Every dollar invested in paint and varnish saves several dollars in depreciation. Paint and varnish prevents the expense of repairs which arise from lack of proper surface protection. If all property owners fully realized the loss which takes place when painting and varnishing is postponed, they would be inclined to paint and varnish more regularly.

Look to the Lawn Now.

If the lawn is shabby in places this is the time to renew it. Fork over the thin spots, working in some good fertilizer, such as pulverized sheep manure, and after leveling the ground sow a good grade of fine lawn grass seed. Rake in the seed, and finish with the roller. The remainder of the lawn should also have attention. Rake it first to pull out all dead growth, and top dress with a good fertilizer. Moss in the lawn is a sure indication of sour soil; this can be remedied by a dressing of lime after first having raked out as much of the moss as possible. Lime is, however, best applied in the late fall, following with a dressing of quick acting fertilizer in the early spring.

Street Signs.

Pontiac, Mich., tears down its street signs and replaces them with signs which show street names in letters eight inches tall.

The small signs used at street intersections are 30 years behind the times. They were all right when folks sagged along leisurely behind Dobbin and could stop to squint.

The motorist of 1922 has to get his street directions on the wing. The microscope sign is virtually useless.—Exchange.

Stage Temperament.

Abe Erlanger, wise in his years, used to say that he never saw "any prima donna get temperamental with a policeman." But during the theatrical rehearsals it becomes static.

The contagion of temperament reaches even the stage carpenters, and they tell of one who suddenly threw down his hammer with: "I drive the best nail in town, but nobody appreciates me."

Might Cause Trouble.

Aunt Susan, an old Maryland dandy, was being registered for the first time. Like many other women who were torn between their desire to vote and retain their youth, Aunt Susan neither relished telling her age nor discussing other private matters. "What are your affiliations?" asked the registrar. "Why, boss, I don't have 'em to tell 'em, do I?" queried Aunt Susan in dismay. "Answer the question," commanded the hard-hearted registrar. "But, boss," protested Aunt Susan, "I don't like to. He's got a wife and five children."

NEW MEXICO COTTON

The cotton acreage in New Mexico is the largest ever planted. The Carlsbad district in the Pecos Valley reports 12,000 acres; Artesia, 3,500 acres; Hagerman, 3,500 acres; Roswell, 4,000 acres; Mealla Valley, on the Rio Grande, over 4,000 acres. In these districts the crop is grown under irrigation, the standard variety being Durango, a long staple. The acreage in cotton in Lea county is also much greater this season. Smaller areas are being tried out in Curry, Luna, and other counties. The cotton in New Mexico is of high quality and free from insect pests.—The Earth.
