GOVERNOR MILLS NAMES DELEGATES

New Mexico Will Be Represented at Conventions in June and September

NATIONAL GUARD ORDERS

Maryland's Governor Writes of "See America First" Convention.

Governor Mills has appointed W. J. McInnes of Lake Arthur, Chaves county, a notary public.

Names Delegates.

Governor Mills has named six delegates to represent New Mexico at the 38th annual session of the National Conference of Charities which meets in Boston, June 7 to 14. They are: Mrs. Jefferson Reynolds of Las Vegas; Mrs. J. Van Houten of Raton; Mrs. A. W. Cooley of Silver City; Mrs. Gregory Page of Gallup; Paul A. F. Walter of Santa Fe; and A. N. Pratt of Carlsbad.

The governor also appointed delegates to the Fifteenth International Congress of Hygiene and Demography which meets in Washington, September 23 to 28. The delegates are J. J. Shuler, Raton; J. Welder of Albuquerque; G. T. Veal of Roswell; R. E. McBride of Las Cruces; and G. E. Bushnell, Fort Bayard. The delegates will see to it that New Mexico is represented at the exhibition of work on hygiene, public health and sanitation.

For the Treasury.

Territorial Treasurer M. A. Otero has received the sum of $517.55 from James A. Beird, treasurer of Otero county.

National Guard Orders.

Office of the Adjutant General, Santa Fe, N. M., May 15, 1911.

Special Orders, No. 9.

1. In compliance with instructions from the War Department, contained in letter (23024) dated May 8, 1911, as modified by telegram from Chief, Division of Militia Affairs, dated May 13, 1911, the following named officers of the National Guard of New Mexico will proceed to San Diego, California, and report to the Commanding General of the Maneuver Camp on May 27 to participate in a joint encampment, maneuver and field instruction of the regular army and militia, viz: Capt. N. L. King, 1st Infantry, Santa Fe.

Capt. C. R. Echels, 1st Infantry, Artesia.

2nd Lieut. James Baca, 1st Infantry, Santa Fe.

The period of attendance will be limited to fourteen days exclusive of the time required to travel to and from the camp. The officers will take with them their full field equipment, including bedding and mess kit. Tentage will be supplied by the Camp Commander. The pay of the officers will be met by the appropriation "Encampment and Maneuvers, Organized Militia." The payment will be made by paymaster of the Regular Army after muster by proper officers of the army, and before the departure of the militia officers from the camp. Each militia officer selected to attend the maneuvers shall submit a copy of the order to the paymaster of the maneuver camp. Officers' mounts will not be taken but mounted officers will take their mount equipments.

The Chief Quartermaster, Department of the Colorado, will issue transportation requests to cover the round trip of the officers from their home stations to San Diego, California, and return. The transportation requests will be furnished direct to the officers for whom they are issued. The travel directed is necessary in the military service. By Command of the Governor.

A. S. BROOKES, Adjutant General.

See New Mexico First.

Governor Mills has received the following communication: The business men of Maryland, and particularly of Baltimore City, with the assistance of the newspapers and various local trade bodies, are arranging to hold in Baltimore from January 2nd, to January 27th, 1912, a "See Europe if you will, but see America first" Convention; and as Governor of Maryland, I take the liberty of inviting the active cooperation of your state.

As you know it is estimated that some hundreds of millions of dollars are spent annually by Americans in foreign travel, and tens of thousands of people go abroad constantly who really know but little about the interesting features of their wonderful country. This is especially true of people in the east. Those who go abroad as well as those who stay at home, do not realize the attractions and educational values which the different states have to offer in the way of travel and sight-seeing, nor do they appreciate the great commercial and social advantages which spring from a wider intermingling with their fellow countrymen.

This "See America First" which the people of my state will hold, appeals to me as a project which should have the support of every other state. To one who does not know New Mexico, the natural question would be, "what is there in New Mexico that would interest me as a sight-seer or tourist?" The object of this convention is to enlighten our own people and such visitors as we may have on such general points. In this a wider community of interest can be cultivated and interstate travel stimulated.

If you are in sympathy with the movement, I would like to suggest that you appoint a committee of twenty-five of your representative citizens as delegates to take up with our committees the question of having your state properly represented in this convention. The expenses to your state would be very nominal, as your display features would be largely a matter of photographs, slides, etc., paintings which could be loaned, literature for distribution, etc., with some addresses by such of your delegates as might care to attend or other special speakers they might select. Of course, you might be able to arrange for more substantial exhibits, though as to all such matter of detail our convention committees can enlighten your delegates, if you see fit to give this your support. I should note that there will be no expense at this end for placing and caring for exhibits, so that the outlay necessary for your committee to make any almost be nominal.

I may say that all the large transportation companies the U. S. Government, the Pan American representatives, etc., have promised help with very interesting material. Many thousands of people will see this display and hear the proceedings, and much good is bound to result. It is sure to arouse wide interest and should result in diverting considerable tourist and sight-seeing travel, which now goes abroad or elsewhere, toward your state to the financial benefit of your citizens. We are anxious to see every state in the Union properly represented in such a way as may seem most to its advantage.

I hope this will appeal to you and that your state will have the place it deserves to have in this convention and that you will give this convention and its plans as wide publicity as possible in your section.

Trusting I may hear from you soon and favorably, I am, Sir,

Very respectfully yours,

(Signed) AUSTIN L. CROTHERS.

POTASH CONFERENCE REACHED AGREEMENT TODAY.

New Contracts Will Be Made Immediately by American Consumers With German Producers.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

Hamburg, May 17.—The German-American potash conference today reached a full agreement regarding the price of potash and for any adjustment of a super-contingent tax. The tax agreement is now being drafted and new contracts will be arranged immediately.

The conference was attended by representatives of both the American and the German potash interests. Details of the agreement have not yet been made known, but preliminary German inspired statements intimate that some increase in the American prices is involved. The most difficult problem in the potash negotiations was furnished by the existing contracts with German independent companies by which the Americans are bound for a long time. The adjustment of these contracts is left to the Americans.

UNCLE SAM WANTS THREE PER CENT MONEY.

Seventy-seven Mail Bags Filled With Invitations to Subscribe to Panama Bonds.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

Washington, D. C., May 17.—Seventy-seven mail bags filled with invitations to the public to bid for Uncle Sam's bonds left Washington today. Every one of 23,000 banks and trust companies, of which the treasury has record, will receive one of the circulars.

The man who wants to lend $100, $500, $1,000 or more to the government at three per cent interest can learn all the particulars by dropping around to see his banker. To make the new $50,000,000 loan as popular as possible, the treasury will accept ordinary checks, payable through clearing house cities and postal orders in payment. The small bidders will receive first attention, which will make it possible for the individual investor to deal directly with the government instead of with a bond dealer.

FIRE SWEEPS KIRIN IN MANCHURIA.

Forty Thousand People Are Homeless and More Than 12,000 Buildings Are in Ashes.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

Harbin, May 17.—Forty thousand persons at Kirin, a city of 80,000, are homeless as a consequence of the recent conflagration in that city. The money loss is estimated at $20,000,000. Four thousand shops, fifteen banks and 2,387 other buildings were destroyed.

SMALLPOX SCARE AT DENVER CAUSED BY SUPERVISOR.

Denver, Colo., May 17.—Supervisor George J. Kindel is threatened with quarantine as a result of a visit he made to the smallpox hospital during which, it is claimed, he mingled freely with the patients without taking the precaution of using disinfectants before leaving. The health department by his audacity, and threat of arrests or quarantine were trying thick and fast at the city hall this morning.

CAPITAL CITY IS CUT OFF

SQUABBLE OVER PEACE TERMS

Indications However Are That Present Negotiations Will Succeed.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

San Diego, Calif., May 17.—Urgent appeals to patriotic Mexicans to come to the aid of the government have resulted in the formation of a junta in San Diego to facilitate the passage of loyal Mexicans into Lower California to aid in the defense of Ensenada. At a secret meeting held last night organization was perfected and the Mexican quarter and even the principal streets of San Diego are littered today with printed appeals to Mexicans to aid in driving the rebels out of Lower California. Funds are being collected. Ninety four men have volunteered and will sail tonight. The rebels at Tia Juana are quiet.

Mexican Cabinet Meets.

Mexico City, Mex., May 17.—Foreign Minister de la Barra declares that peace negotiation between the government and the rebels doubtless will reach a definite and favorable result at today's cabinet meeting.

Limantour Not Sanguine.

Mexico City, May 17.—Finance Minister Limantour was not quite so sanguine as his colleagues in the ministry this morning. He said the government had the greatest desire to conclude a peace agreement but "among the demands of the rebels are some contrary to the dignity of the government and the president." Nevertheless, Senator Limantour believed that peace would be arranged.

Mexico Cut-Off.

Should the present negotiations fail it is regarded as not unlikely that the city will be cut off soon from the outside world. With the occupation of Valles yesterday the rebels now control the railway into and out of San Luis Potosi, to the north as far as Saltillo in Coahuila, east to Tampico, in southeast Tamaulipas, and west to Aguas Calientes. However, no effort has so far been made to interfere with the traffic on these lines.

Rebel Cabinet Meets.

Juarez, Mex., May 17.—In response to a request from the Mexican government, President Madero and his cabinet gathered at 11 o'clock today to formulate a final agreement, to be presented by telegraph by Judge Carbajal today to President Diaz and his cabinet. There is practically a mutual acceptance now of the principal points but it has been decided to have the rebels submit their program in full for blanket ratification by the government. The ratification will be coincident with the announcement of an armistice. The signing in Juarez of the agreement itself in a few days by Carbajal and the insurgents' representative will end the armistice and a normal condition of peace will be recognized as existent.

The insurgents' chiefs here will telegraph or send couriers to their constituents in various parts of the republic and it is believed that within a week all arms will have been laid down in the republic. It is not believed that an answer to the proposals of the insurgents will be received before tomorrow, as it is reported here that Diaz is slightly ill, and may not be able to confer with his cabinet until tomorrow.

Federals Reinforced.

Eagle Pass, Texas, May 17.—Reinforced by 100 federal cavalry, who came in the night, the federal garrison at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz across the river, today is prepared to fight if the hands of rebels reported within 12 miles of the town attack them. Refugees have been streaming into Eagle Pass until now there are 2,000 of them there.

EXCHANGE TABLE

AT LIBRARY SATURDAY.

A Rare Opportunity for Housekeepers to Purchase Home Made Goods.

On Saturday forenoon and afternoon, the Women's Board of Trade, will have an exchange table at the public library to which the good women of the town will contribute home made goodies, fresh from their own kitchens. There will be a home-made candy table and home-made pies, cakes, doughnuts, bread, and other gastronomic dainties which will be sold at current prices. The proceeds of the sale are to be devoted to rebuilding a hundred volumes of the public library which have suffered from long and frequent use and are still too much in demand to be discarded. On Saturday forenoon, the exchange table will be doing business from 10 to 11 o'clock for the accommodation of forenoon shoppers. It will resume in the afternoon. Those who wish to contribute should notify one of the members of the library committee.

DEMOCRATS FEIGN ASTONISHMENT

They Did Not Expect Statehood Debate to Last So Long

FOOLISH POLITICAL RUSE

Talk-Fest Will Continue Until Tomorrow Night If Not Longer.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

Washington, D. C., May 17.—Debate in the House on the joint statehood resolution to admit Arizona and New Mexico continued today, with the prospect that discussion probably would not be terminated before tomorrow night. Democratic leaders who had hoped to dispose of statehood in two days at most, were surprised to learn that so many on both sides wished to speak.

The amendment requiring the people of Arizona to vote again on the recall of the judiciary is the chief subject of discussion on one hand, while many Republicans oppose re-submitting the constitution of New Mexico with a proposed amendment, because Arizona is held back.

Martin Attacks Native People.

Special to the New Mexican.

Washington, D. C., May 17.—Congressman Martin, Democrat, Colorado, fired the first gun in the statehood fight. Under the pretense of opposing any amendment to the Arizona constitution, not even the recall of judges, he placed himself as an implacable enemy of New Mexico. He proposes to rip the New Mexico constitution to pieces, though adopted by a larger majority than the entire vote of Arizona, both for and against the Arizona constitution. He also says that "if Arizona is not admitted I will keep New Mexico out!"

Admitting that New Mexico is in every way entitled to immediate admission, he would play "petty politics," keeping it out unless Arizona is admitted. He made a vicious attack on New Mexico, its people, and its constitution. His reference to "unprogressive Mexicans" was entirely uncalled for. But his attitude is easily accounted for. He has been in frequent consultation with four Democrats claiming to represent the Democrats of New Mexico. Le Gare, a Democrat, from South Carolina, made a convincing speech against the recall of judges. The Democrats were silent, the Republicans applauded. He is a member of the House committee on territories.

Would Cross New Mexico.

Washington, May 17.—A bill providing for two national auto highways was introduced today by Representative Hobson.

It authorizes the appointment of two commissions to work out two gigantic improvements, one a highway to extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean, along the thirty-fifth parallel, the other to extend from Canada to Mexico on a line near the twenty-third meridian.

Judge George A. Carpenter Refuses to Hear Oral Arguments on Points.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

Chicago, Ill., May 17.—Judge George A. Carpenter in the United States district court today refused to hear oral argument from attorneys for the indicted Chicago meat packers on their plea for a rehearing on the demurrer that Judge Carpenter overruled on May 12. He gave them a week to file briefs.

Anti-trust Legislation.

Washington, D. C., May 17.—The expected renewal of anti-trust legislation, following the Standard Oil decision in the supreme court, came today when Senators Jones of Washington; Brown of Nebraska; Culberson of Texas and Reed of Missouri introduced bills to amend the Sherman law.

The bills are designed to offset the interpretation of the law as laid down by Chief Justice White and to take away from the courts the discretion as to difference between "good" and "bad" trusts.

A Beautiful Family Squabble.

Washington, D. C., May 17.—Mr. Fitzgerald added that the committee as proposed by Mr. Henry must necessarily be approved to prevent the impression throughout the country that there was objection to some of its members. Representative Sloan of Mississippi objected to such a view.

"I was in favor of taking the power of appointing committees away from the Speaker and the country has approved that policy," he added. "We ought not to make that attitude ridiculous now by letting one man assume such power."

Representative Shackelford of Missouri said a mistake evidently had been made by Mr. Henry in adopting the method of nominating the committee. "But we cannot turn this com-

Combination of Cotton Speculators Is Also to Be Probed by Congress.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

Washington, D. C., May 17.—Democratic members of the house continued today their attack on Chairman Henry of the rules committee for alleged usurpation of the powers of the Democratic caucus in naming the members of "sugar trust" investigating committee.

The committee was to have been elected by the house. Mr. Henry yesterday attempted to designate the personnel.

Mr. Henry said there was no disposition to rob the Democratic caucus of any powers and hinted at ulterior motives on the part of those opposing the action.

This provoked sharp queries from Representatives Fitzgerald of New York and Richardson of Alabama, both Democrats, as to what Mr. Henry meant by such statements.

"If the gentleman from Texas knows of any combination or influences at work on this side he should make such knowledge public," said Mr. Richardson.

Mr. Henry did not know of any such combination. Representative Broussard of Louisiana declared the proposed committee included five members from beet sugar raising states but none from Louisiana, where the sugar "trust" is alleged to control affairs. He referred to Mr. Henry's nomination of the committee as an exhibition of incongruous statecraft which left no possibility of fixing the responsibility of naming the committee.

Representative Martin of Colorado, (Democrat) objected to the method of selecting the committee and Representative Fitzgerald declared the entire principle of Democratic management of the house was at stake.

Cries of Amen.

Cries of "Amen" from the Democratic side and laughter from the Republican side, followed. Mr. Sisson then sought to refer the Henry nominating resolution to the rules committee of which Mr. Henry is chairman but minority leader Mann wanted to refer it to a special committee. Mr. Sisson then withdrew and Mr. Mann moved the reference of the resolution to a special committee of fifteen.

Price of Cattle in Dispute.

Washington, May 17.—Senator Stone of Missouri announced today to the senate finance committee at the hearing on the reciprocity and free list bills that he would soon press for a vote on reciprocity.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to fix a time to close the dual hearings.

Senator Penrose, chairman, expressed the belief that the reciprocity bill hearing would end soon.

Controversy over the prices of Canadian cattle arose between members of the committee and a witness today at the hearing on the reciprocity bill.

E. C. Lasater, president of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, asserted the cattle raising industry would be destroyed because Canadian prices were lower. This, Senator Stone declared, was not the case. He quoted statistics which Mr. Lasater questioned. The secretary of agriculture and Professor Emery of the tariff board will be called to explain the figures and apparent contradictions.

The Investigation Fever.

Washington, D. C., May 17.—Investigation by the secretary of commerce and labor into "the combination of cotton speculators in the United States organized to control prices," with a view to criminal prosecution, is urged in a resolution introduced in the house today by Representative Edwards of Georgia.

NIÉE OF GOVERNOR OTERO LED TO ALTAR.

She Marries Famous Music Teacher at Paris, the Archbishop of That World Capital Officiating.

Denver, May 17.—Those who have not seen Aileen O'Bryan since, as a little girl, she left Denver with her mother, Mrs. Mamie Otero O'Bryan, to make her home in Paris, doubtless will be surprised to learn that her marriage to Alfred Baehrens took place in Paris yesterday. The ceremony was performed by no less a personage than the Archbishop of Paris, and it was attended by the American friends of Mrs. O'Bryan and her children, as well as by those whom they have met during their residence in the French capital. Miss O'Bryan has more than fulfilled what promise she gave as a child of being a beautiful woman. She is not only personally attractive, but is very accomplished as a linguist and possesses a sweet singing voice. She has a great degree of talent as an artist and has sold sketches to various European and New York newspapers.

When Mrs. Marcia Moffat McClurg and Miss Frances McClurg were in Switzerland recently Miss O'Bryan was their guest and created a sensation by her beauty and charm. The bridegroom is an American by birth coming from one of the most aristocratic families in Cincinnati. He is the foremost singing teacher in Paris, the first assistant to the famous Jean De Reszke, whose school is known over all the continent. Baehrens is the possessor of a wonderful voice, although he is devoting his life to teaching. The bridal pair will spend the summer at Munich, which is one of the real music centers of Europe, and where Baehrens has taken a villa. Upon their return to France in the fall they will go to the fashionable suburb, Auteuil, where the young man has furnished a beautiful home for his bride. The mother of the bride is a sister of Ex-Governor Otero of New Mexico and has been a frequent visitor to Santa Fe.

Wants to Annex Canada.

Washington, D. C., May 17.—The subject of Canadian annexation was introduced into the hearing by Leonard Bronston of Chicago, representing the Lumber Manufacturers' Association, who said that most Americans would be glad to see Canada a part of the United States. He said he would not oppose the reciprocity bill if it was really reciprocal, which, he said, it was not.

EXTENSIVE GAINS MADE ON THE STOCK MARKET.

Far Reaching Effect of Standard Oil Decision of Supreme Court is Manifest.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

New York, May 17.—Further extensive gains were made in the stock market this morning, the whole list advancing in response to a persistent demand. The feeling of confidence created by yesterday's reception of the Standard Oil decision was the chief factor in the continued rise in prices. Another source of strength were the large operations of western speculative interests which have purchased stocks heavily of late on account of the good condition of the crops. The bond market was strong with a large demand for the Erie and Atchafalaya issues. The usual market leaders opened about on a level with last night's close with the exception of United States steel, which showed some heaviness.

The market took realizing sales for a short interval, the advance was resumed more vigorously than before. About a score of stocks sold from 2 to 2 points above yesterday's closing, but only a few of the market leaders were included in the movement notably Atchafalaya and Southern Pacific.

Business quieted down at midday with prices ruling close to their figures.

The Grain Market.

Chicago, Ill., May 17.—Rains in Russia, larger offers from India, Argentine crop prospects and a fresh estimate placing the United States export surplus as high as 116 million bushels, weakened wheat prices here for a while, and selling was general. Later, offerings dried up and a reaction followed. Opening prices were 3-8 to 3-4.

Prices of oats sharply on reports of dry weather.

July opened unchanged to 1-4 cent higher.

Corn rallied in sympathy with oats, after being depressed by wheat for a time. July started unchanged to 1-8 cent or.

Provisions were steady.

Sales were 5 cents down to 5 cents up.

Canadian Crop Failure.

Chicago, May 17.—Reports that Canadian wheat had proved a failure in many important districts, and was much below the average in others, caused a further advance.

The close was strong. Freer selling by Nebraska farmers led to a setback. However, the close was firm.

A Steady Close.

New York, N. Y., May 17.—Selected stocks reached a higher level, particularly the metal issues. United States steel touched 80 1/2 and there was a good rise in Amalgamated copper, railroad stocks were less active, but continued very strong. Prices fell back in the final hour under the lead of Union Pacific and Reading and the close was steady.

Los Angeles, Calif., May 17.—Over-confidence in his ability to learn quickly to handle an aeroplane is given as the cause of the death today at the aviation camp, of A. V. Hardie, an amateur aviator, who lost control of his machine and plunged to the ground from a height of more than 100 feet and was instantly killed. Hardie recently lived at Marseilles, Ohio.

WILSON MILLS IS HONORED AT ANN ARBOR.

Governor and Mrs. William J. Mills have reason to feel proud of their son Wilson, who is studying law at Ann Arbor, Mich., for he has just been elected by the faculty to be one of the ten students from the Freshman class to be a member of the Woodstock Club. As the ten are drawn from a class of 300 men, the honor can be appreciated. They are selected for their level-headedness and proficiency in study, such as the Phi Beta Kappa men are in other universities.

Council Passes Ordinance to Put Stop to Sunday Traffic

HEAVY LICENSE ON MUSIC

Bids For Bridges Are Rejected And New Ones Will Be Asked.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

Alderman Canuto Alarid last evening, at the meeting of the city council at the court house introduced a saloon regulation license modeled on lines of ordinance in municipalities where the traffic is strictly regulated and the ordinance was passed on the first reading, indicating that the city authorities are willing that the business should be thoroughly controlled, a sentiment for which they deserve much credit. The ordinance makes closing at midnight mandatory, except on Saturday nights when the closing hour is to be 2 a. m. On Sundays during the hours that saloons will be closed under the ordinance, all curtains must be up and all obstructions to a view of the interior of the saloon must be removed, thus putting an effective stop to the Sunday traffic.

License on Music.

A special license fee of $100 a year is placed on music in saloons and the sale of intoxicants to minors is to be stamped out effectively. It is a model ordinance and its passage will serve much to satisfy those who demand a strict regulation of the saloon business.

The reading of Mayor Seligman's annual report as well as the reports of standing committees was followed with close attention and it was ordered printed.

Bridge Bids Rejected.

A sidewalk ordinance providing for the construction of more sidewalks was adopted. Bids for the bridges across the Arroyo Sals and the Acquila Madre were rejected as being too high, and substitute plans for such bridges made by Kansas City and Trinidad, Colorado, bidders, were adopted and new bids asked for. These will be acted upon this evening.

Money in Treasury.

City Clerk Delgado's monthly report showed that on April 30 there were $7,856.94 in the city treasury. During the past month twelve permits and four automobile licenses were issued. The automobile for hire license was reduced from $10 to $20.

Bidder on Bridges.

The complete list of those who bid on the construction of the bridge across the Arroyo Sals were: El Paso Iron and Bridge Company $6,350; R. W. Smith of Las Vegas, $6,874; Campbell Bros., Santa Fe, $6,991; A. Windsor, Santa Fe, $12,325; Midland Bridge Company, Kansas City submitted their own plan with a bid of $500.

Not Salts, Oil or Pills But 'Cascarets'

No odds how sick your Stomach; how hard your head aches or how Bilious—Cascarets make you feel great.

Cascarets act as a bowel tonic, not as an irritant. They are vegetable. Their action is natural. Their effect is the same as the effect of some foods. They are gentle; no gripping. They are pleasant; no dreading. They are convenient; no waiting.

One old way was castor oil. The effect was to grease the bowels, and for a single day. Oil never causes the bowel muscles to act. Other ways were pills, salts and cathartics. The effect was the same as pepper in the nostrils. They flooded the bowels with fluid. Those fluids were digestive juices. And the waste today means a lack tomorrow.

We knew that the method was wrong. That the after-effects only weakened the bowels. But we had no gentle laxative in the old days. So we waited as long as we could, then took a big dose of physic. The method today is to take one Cascaret at a time—just as soon as you need it. Then the bowels are always clean. They cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store.

LIFE ON THE FARM.

Oh who can describe it, or picture its charms, A home in the country, a life on the farm, There nurtured and blessed by the fruits of the soil The hands of the Master rewarding our toil, We reap not the harvest of gain and of greed, But the gleanings are hallowed a God-given meed.

No toll from the toll-laden masses we wring, We know not the smart of grim poverty's sting, In sunshine we sow, and in sunshine we reap, And snug on the hearthstone when bitter blasts sweep, We sigh not for harvests of gain and of greed, For the storehouse of nature supplies every need.

The salt of the earth are the sons of the soil, For the bread of the nations is fruit of their toil, Let the proud cities boast of their grandeur and gold, As a song that is sung, as a tale that is told, The gold were but dross and the grandeur but death, Should the art of the husbandman fade from the earth.

Man made the proud city, the country is God's, Man's handiwork soon molders back to the gods, But God is eternal, His glory is seen In the fields and the forest's perennial green, Let the dying leaf fall, when 'tis faded and sere, When the winter is gone other leaves will appear.

Our pastoral scenes are the topics of ages, The genius of bards and the wisdom of sages, The greatest on earth was sent forth from the sod To enlighten mankind and honor their God, For our Maker through Nature communed with His own, And in wisdom they reaped what in faith they had sown.

Oh happy and rich is the child of the soil, Contentment and health the reward of his toil, Just health and contentment and who can have more, Were the gold of the universe piled at his door? Oh who can describe it or picture its charm, A home in the country, a life on the farm.

Oh happy and rich is the child of the soil, Contentment and health the reward of his toil, Just health and contentment and who can have more, Were the gold of the universe piled at his door? Oh who can describe it or picture its charm, A home in the country, a life on the farm.

Fell Into Creek.

Three-year-old Jose A. Romero, was fished out of the Cabresto near Questa Taos county, and was thought to be dead, but by pounding, rolling and kneading him, respiration was restored. The child had accidentally slipped into the ice-cold waters of the stream and certainly had a narrow escape from drowning.

Indictment for Burglary.

The territorial grand jury at Las Vegas yesterday brought in the first true bill drawn by that body since it was empaneled. The bill accuses Luis Hermosillo of burglary with intent to commit a felony. Several weeks ago Hermosillo went to the home of J. M. Martinez on Railroad avenue.

Real Flood at Roswell—Four streets of Roswell were converted into roaring rivers, several farms in the west suburbs were inundated and a repetition of the disastrous flood of 1904 when the whole town was flooded was threatened Sunday when the Rio Hondo swollen by the tremendous rains left its banks and began to spread over the valley.

Blame It On Booze.

Dolores Romero, according to the Albuquerque Journal, true to his name, became doleful after he had tanked up on nose paint and decided to mop up the principal street of the Duke City. The police interfered before he had even a start. Henry Walker who was playing cards with the Santa Fe Station agent at Isleta, is alleged to have helped himself to a ticket from Isleta to Texas while the station agent was flagging a train. He is being given a free upper berth at the Albuquerque jail for the present. Gordon A. Muelenbach, who passed two checks in an Albuquerque saloon is now explaining to police officers why the bank refused to cash them. Lorenzo Garcia was lodged in the calaboose for disfiguring the features of Station Agent Kroh during an argument, and Harry Baker, a printer, and W. G. Harmon, a baker, were pulled in during a heated argument in which Harmon charged that Baker had stolen his coat and $2 in cash.

Climate Failed—Medicine Cured.

It has been abundantly shown that rest, fresh air, and good food, do help many persons suffering from tuberculosis. But, to be really honest, it must be admitted that the disease is seldom more than "arrested." Something more is needed.

Eckman's Alternative is a medicine made for the cure of Tuberculosis. It has cured this disease again and again. Often these cures have been effected where the surroundings were not ideal, where no intelligent care was taken of the patient, where money was scarce; good food and good cooking unusual—yet cures resulted. Now we argue and urge that Eckman's Alternative should be used in every case of Tuberculosis, in addition to good, nourishing food, and fresh air, which we all need.

The facts—the evidence of cures that have been made—are interesting reading. A remarkable cure follows:—Weldon, Ill. Gentlemen: Through Eckman's Alternative I have been saved from a premature grave, and, feeling that I might benefit suffering humanity, I take pleasure in writing you a brief history of my sickness, which you are at liberty to use. On December 14, 1904, I was taken with typhoid pneumonia. My lungs became very much affected; my sputum was examined and Tuberculosis Bacilli were found. On February 21st, 1905, I was advised to go to Fort Worth, Texas. While there an abscess in my right lung broke and discharged. I grew worse, and became very much emaciated. My physician informed me that I must go to Colorado as quickly as possible. I left Texas June 1st, and arrived in Canon City June 3rd, very feeble. After being there two weeks, my physician informed me that nothing could be done, as my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 103 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive.

On the 14th of July I began taking Eckman's wonderful remedy for Consumption, it being very highly recommended. Today I weigh 135 pounds. I am stout and well and can do any kind of work about my grain elevator. I have not an ache nor pain in my lungs, eat well, sleep well, and never feel better. I would be glad if every person, afflicted with Tuberculosis took Eckman's cure." (Signed) Amdavit) ARTHUR WEBB.

Eckman's Alternative cures Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Affections. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence. For Sale by all leading druggists by Zook's Pharmacy in Santa Fe.

prehistoric times. He had heard of the great dam at the head of the Animas and went out to look at it. He made a careful study of it, and says made by man. In his opinion there was a lake there and the dam was the shore and was thrown up by the waves. One reason for thinking it was not made by man is its enormous size. He estimated that it would take a thousand men, working ten hours a day, 320 days a year, 30 years to build it. There are no evidences of a population large enough to have furnished such an amount of labor in that section. There are evidences of prehistoric life in that section, but the population was small, a number of villages of some 200 or 300 inhabitants only.

Santa Fe testimony is confirmed.
Reports of early relief substantiated.
Cures doubly proved by test of time.

Let a Santa Fe citizen speak.
Manuel Delgado, 140 Canon St., Santa Fe, N. M., says:

"The public statement I gave in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills in 1902 still holds good. For four or five years I was subject to attacks of backache which were so severe at times that I was unable to work. I tried various remedies said to be cures for troubles such as I had, but nothing benefited me until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. They promptly proved their worth and effected a cure which has been permanent. My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills has been so gratifying that I gladly recommend them."

SIDELIGHTS ON THE INSURRECTION

Estimated There Are 70,000 Men Fighting President Diaz

NUSBAUM VISITS JUAREZ

Says Insurrectos Are Armed to the Teeth and Ready For a Sortie.

Men who have just visited Old Mexico, smelt powder and saw the results of the insurrection, were heard discussing the great struggle that is being waged against the autocratic rule of Porfirio Diaz.

At the Montezuma, J. H. Newby, a mining man, who has been living at Culiacan, but who now is on his way to Taos pending the shutting down of the mines, discussed the revolution with which he seemed to be well familiar. Many salesmen and travelers gathered around him and plied him with questions. He said that Francisco Madero, Jr., the head of the army against Diaz, is not a multimillionaire nor a millionaire, although his father is. He said that there are about 70,000 insurrectos in the field all over Old Mexico, and about 50,000 business men who are not in the conflict, but who have felt the effect of it, especially when the insurrectos took their goods or property. Mr. Newby did not consider Mr. Madero's chances of being elected president very good considering the small vote that the insurrectos could poll as compared to the business men of the country.

Nusbaum Visits Juarez.

Jesse Nusbaum, the archaeologist, who has been in Central America with the expedition of Dr. Edgar L. Hewett, returned Monday night with J. P. Adams, another archaeologist of Greeley, Colorado. Mr. Nusbaum looked thin and careworn after his severe trip. It was severe, for he had no less than three attacks of malaria.

He came by boat from Guatemala to New Orleans and then by rail to El Paso. He visited Juarez and of his visit said:

"One thing that impresses you on entering Juarez just now is that every insurrecto is armed to the teeth. Evidently they got an immense amount of ammunition at Juarez and they are carrying it around with them so that it will not be retaken. One does not see a man with one or two cartridge belts only; no, they have three layers around their waist two over the chest and I do not know how many more bullets concealed on their person. They have three or four daggers attached to their sides, and, all in all, they are a fierce looking lot. The federal prisoners are in jail and are packed in like sardines. Now and then the insurrectos take them out and make them clean the streets. I think the prisoners enjoy the outing."

"It is very easy to go into Juarez now, but in coming out a man is searched to see that he is not bringing out any ammunition. It looks as though the insurrectos are ready to leave Juarez in case Diaz sends a crushing army against them, but they are not going to leave any ammunition behind them."

Mr. Nusbaum said that a few buildings have been damaged but that the city did not suffer very severely in its capture.

Hit By Stray Bullet.

An innocent victim of the attack on Juarez is an American boy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Heaton of Hot Springs, Nebraska. They were at the Palace Hotel last night on their way to Denver, having visited their boy in a hospital at El Paso. He was shot while standing near the depot over which a hailstorm of bullets fell recently.

He was shot in the leg but the wound does not seem to be serious.

NATURAL GAS IN PHILADELPHIA AND TRINIDAD.

Former Led all States in Output Since Earliest Production. Annual Value $20,000,000.

Pennsylvania led all states in the value of the production of natural gas in 1909, according to detailed figures just published by the United States Geological Survey. The state's output for the year was valued at $20,475,207, the record value for any state in any year and approximately one-third of the entire value of the natural gas produced in the United States during the year. Pennsylvania's nearest competitor was West Virginia whose production was valued at $17,538,565. The quantity of the West Virginia output, however, was considerably higher than that of Pennsylvania, although the value was less.

FOR ALL COUGHS AND COLDS

For bronchitis, hoarseness and tickling in the throat. Especially recommended for children and delicate persons. No opiates. A medicine, not a narcotic. The Bee Hive on the carton is the mark of the genuine. Refuse substitutes.

Mr. Otto Paul, Milwaukee, Wis., says Foley's Honey and Tar is still more than the best. He writes us, "All those that thought it tick it is the best for coughs and colds they ever had and I think it is still more than the best. Our baby had a bad cold and it cured him in one day. Please accept thanks." Sold by all druggists.

considerably higher than that of Pennsylvania, although the value was less.

Since the first gas well was operated in 1882, Pennsylvania has uniformly led the other states, although once or twice she has almost lost the place of honor. Her total production, however, has been about half that of the entire United States. The growth of the state's natural gas industry has been in the main steady and rapid. In 1882 her production was nearly $75,000. By 1905 it had increased to $4,500,000. In 1890 it was $9,551,025. In 1895 it had increased to $5,852,000, and that year Indiana came within a few hundred thousand dollars of attaining first place. By 1900, however, Pennsylvania's production had risen to $10,215,412. In 1905 it was $19,197,326 and in 1909 for the first time it passed the $20,000,000 mark. The price of the Pennsylvania gas ranges from 2 1/2 cents per 1,000 cubic feet at the wells, sold for manufacturing to 60 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for gas sold for domestic use. An innovation in the gas industry in 1909 was the installation of a few plants in the Pennsylvania oil fields for the extraction of gasoline from natural gas. The plants are located near oil wells, the purpose being to treat the surplus gas from the oil wells by a process of compressing and cooling.

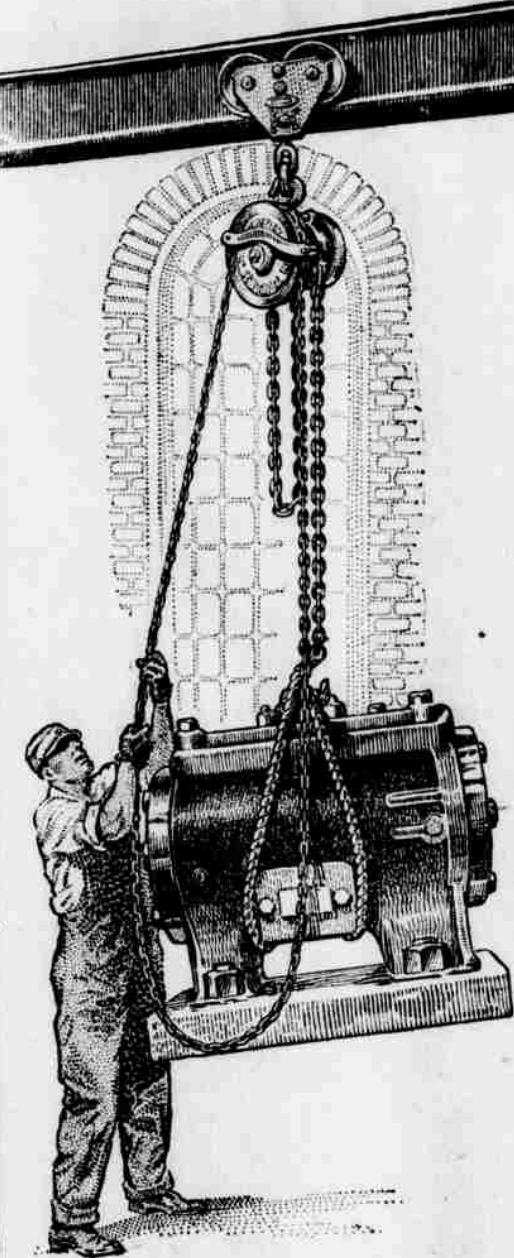

The report on natural gas for 1909 can now be obtained upon application to the Director of the United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

Trinidad. The island of Trinidad, according to the United States Geological Survey, is well supplied with natural gas, large supplies of which are reported to be going to waste. This gas, if piped to the Port of Spain would undoubtedly be a great source of revenue. The gas is under great pressure, the discharge from a well at Guayaguayaván being said to be about 1,000,000 cubic feet a day. Every oil well drilled on the island thus far has produced large quantities of gas in addition to the oil.

ARCH-DEACON WARREN DENOUNCES DIVORCES.

To a large congregation at St. John's church at Albuquerque on Sunday Archdeacon Warren took up the question of divorces, discussed it from the standpoint of the church and denounced it in no unqualified terms. That the divine design for the family is the preparation of the souls for eternity and not brutishness was brought out with forcefulness and the prevailing progressive polygamy was sacrilegiously denounced as having wives tandem—not in span. The sermon created an immense impression and the Archdeacon was warmly congratulated for his efforts after the conclusion of the service.

MISS GILBERT ENTER.

TAINTED BY PRISCILLA.

Bride-to-be of U. S. Commissioner Harry Fincke Given Shower by Friends at Espanola.

Espanola, N. M., May 17.—The beautiful lawn of Mrs. W. E. Hastings as well as the parlor, were a profusion of flowers, when the Priscilla Club entertained for Miss Ola Gilbert, a charter member, who is to be one of June's brides. Wild sweet peas, yellow roses and woodbine lent their fragrance and beauty. The lawn seats covered with gaily colored Navajo rugs added to the inviting attractiveness of the picture. The compliment was a miscellaneous shower and was a complete surprise to Miss Gilbert. The many beautiful and useful gifts were formally presented by Miss Hazel Hastings with the request that Miss Gilbert guess the contents of each package before opening. Aprons, handkerchiefs, towels, jelly spoon, library lamp, Mexican Roadas dollies and a set of solid silver spoons, and a sugar shell were among the packages. The spoons were a gift from the club and a card accompanied them upon which there was a picture of quaint and dainty Priscilla and the following lines:

Please accept with our love
These few little spoons;
As we think you can use them
Before many moons;
The Club will all miss you
And hope it may be
That some day you'll come back
The Priscillas to see.
We wish for your future
A bright, happy life,
And were sure that your husband
Will have a sweet wife.
Music and refreshments made the afternoon pass all too quickly. Miss Gilbert has been in Espanola two years in the capacity of teacher and has won the love and friendship of all by her efficiency, modesty and unselfishness. She will marry Mr. Harry Fincke of Moriarty, where he is publisher and editor of the Moriarty Messenger besides being U. S. Commissioner. The members of the Priscilla Club are the Mesdames F. S. Blackmar, W. L. Evans, J. B. Flack, F. R. Frankenberger, L. T. Hardy,

W. E. Hastings, Henry Meyer, S. S. McBride, L. F. Nohl, G. T. Redman, Gretta Sargent, William Schnepfle, Maurice Thompson, Earl T. Wiley, Ray Wasson, J. T. Wiley, and Miss Ola Gilbert.

The invited guests were: Mesdames Henry Pollard, C. L. Pollard, A. W. Wormwood, Henry Creamer, Samuel Eldred, Van Wheeler, J. R. Ball, S. H. Tedford, Campbell, Stafford, Holt, and Miss Josephine Flick.

"PEEPING TOM" GETS 30 DAYS IN JAIL.

He Got the Ax for Same Trick Three Weeks Ago, Doctor Brown Caught Him Spying.

A man who gave his name as Vicente Escudero was sentenced to 30 days in jail for disorderly conduct by Justice Alarid yesterday, and thereby hangs a story.

Night before last when the hands of the clock were near ten, Dr. William Hume Brown, who works for the territory in Secretary Jaffa's office, thought he heard a noise at his gate on Don Gaspar avenue. He slipped out of the house by the back way, came around the corner and sure enough he saw a man of a large frame peeping in the window. Dr. Brown grabbed him and threatened him. The peeper blinked wearily from his peepers and pretended to be drunk. He said his name was Sullivan.

"Surely not John L.," said Dr. Brown. "I have a notion to shoot you." Calling to his wife to telephone the police, Dr. Brown held on to Mr. Peeping Tom as best he could, but the man suddenly grew sober and broke away, breaking the speed record up Don Gaspar avenue. Dr. Brown followed him and last night a man answering his description was arrested. He is said to be the same man who sneaked into a lady's bedroom one night and was found behind a trunk. The lady thought, such a bold, bad man or burglar or whatever role he was playing, deserved a gentle reminder of his lack of etiquette so she struck him over the head with an axe. Perhaps thirty days on the rock pile will prove a most effective cure.

NOTICE.

Proposals will be received by the Board of County Commissioners of Santa Fe County, New Mexico, for plans and specifications of three bridges to be constructed, one over the Santa Fe river on Canon road within the limits of the city of Santa Fe.

One at the town of Galisteo, across the Galisteo river at a point which will be designated by the chairman of the board of county commissioners, and one other member of the board.

One across the Galisteo river at the town of Los Cerrillos, at a point to be designated by the chairman of the board and one other member of the board of county commissioners.

Said plans and specifications for said bridges or either of them to be submitted to the said board of county commissioners on or before the first day of June, A. D. 1911; at the office of the probate clerk of the county of Santa Fe, N. M., at the court house in the city of Santa Fe, N. M., at which time the different plans and specifications for each of said bridges, after which bids will be called for, on or before the first Monday in July for the construction of said bridges or either of them, as the board may elect, and only the plan and specifications which may be adopted, for each of said bridges will be paid for; but the proposal shall contain the amount of charge, which will be made for the plan and specification if accepted.

The parties proposing plans and specifications, will be required to inform themselves as to the particular locations, at which each of the said bridges, is to be constructed, also the particular conditions existing at each of the said locations, which will enter into the matter of the construction of said bridge or bridges.

The board reserves the right of rejecting any and all proposals.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

A HOPELESS TASK.

E. M. Rhodes, whose "Gray Beard in Skirts" in the Saturday Evening Post, has been given nationwide comment, and has endeared him to the hearts of patriotic New Mexicans, delivers himself of the following plaint in a letter to the editor of the New Mexican, from Apalachin, New York:

"I have your name in my notebook, but my trembling fingers refuse to look it up. Cast your eye on this little gem from the Christian Science Monitor, the issue of Friday, May 12, 1911, of Boston, and you will understand my sensation.

"If this intellectual giant, the leader of advanced thought, thinks the Colorado, Gila, Salt and Imperial valleys are in the state of Colorado—as he does—is it any wonder that U. S. Senators, engrossed as they are with their own troubles, vote to keep us out of statehood? If they mislay the second river of the United States, and in the very act of teaching, too, how may we expect them to know less obvious details?

"Please, please, reprint this roast and serve brown, mark it: 'Arizona and New Mexico papers, please copy.' Also return this clipping please. It is priceless. Oh, would I were an editor!"

In the same mail the editor receives a courteous letter from H. C. Spiller and Co., of Boston. If you please, asking him to locate the San Miguel "plantation." This financial concern is evidently under the impression that New Mexico lies somewhere near Yucatan, or Venezuela.

A third letter from a leading attorney of New York, and the New Mexican uses the word "leading" advisedly, asks the editor to take an hour off so as to look up the court records at Silver City in a particular mining case, the writer's idea no doubt being that Silver City is situated somewhere in the backyard of Santa Fe.

Daily, the local postoffice receives letters, that passed through the "highly intelligent" foreign division of the New York postoffice, addressed to Santa Fe Rosario, Province of Santa Fe, C. C. A., a city of some 150,000 people in Argentine Republic. That such letters are some 5,000 miles out of their way at Santa Fe, New Mexico, has not yet dawned on those postal clerks, although their attention has been called to it again and again the past eighteen or twenty years, that Santa Fe, New Mexico, is not Santa Fe, Argentina, nor Santa Fe, Mexico, nor Santa Fe, Spain, nor Santa Fe in some other country or state.

It is evident that geography is about as weak a point in American schooling as is spelling, and that New Mexico, and especially Santa Fe, is one of the chief sufferers from this profound lack of geographical knowledge.

Of course, all this is far from the point that our loyal friend Rhodes desires to emphasize. He rather halts and stutters when it comes to expressing his red-hot indignation at the idea of criticism from those who do not know what they are talking about. However, this positive knowledge about things they do not understand is also an amiable American weakness. That's what makes politics and editing a newspaper so interesting an occupation that a brilliant man like Rhodes wishes to be an editor and with the editors stand, with a fountain pen in his hand and a cowlick on his frontpiece.

But to return to the bacon. New Mexico long ago gave up the ambition of teaching the ignorant easterners; it does not expect to find knowledge of western geography east of the Missouri, especially not in the editorial offices of educational papers published in Boston.

THE MAYOR'S ANNUAL REPORT.

The annual report of the city's business read last evening by Mayor Arthur Seligman is significant in many respects. It is the first annual report submitted, although Mayor Seligman's predecessor, Hon. Jose D. Sena, made an excellent biennial report. The idea of publicity, of taking the taxpayer into the confidence of officials, of making a regular periodical accounting of public stewardship, of systematizing the city's affairs as if they were a strictly business matter, is gaining ground not only in other parts of the United States but right here in old, conservative Santa Fe. It is part of the new spirit of advancement and progress manifest on every side, to the evident surprise and even alarm of some of those who thought that no matter how other portions of the United States might change old time views, Santa Fe, at least, would keep on going as it did ten, fifty, one hundred and even three hundred years ago.

Mayor Seligman and his administration have made good. To the city council belongs a full meed of credit for it has sustained the mayor in his progressive and business ideas. At times, progress seemed distressingly slow even to the authorities, but in the aggregate the accomplishment has been such as to be surprising, and a year ago would have been deemed impossible.

grading and straightening of streets is making successful progress, especially when one remembers the fiasco several years ago of the attempt to open Bridge street through to Grant avenue. The paving of San Francisco street, the macadamizing of Montezuma avenue, the laying of two and a half miles of pavement, the better lighting system installed, the stricter enforcement of ordinances, the better collection of licenses and taxes, must all be written up to the credit of the present city administration, whose plans for the present fiscal year are even more far-reaching and include the parking and paving of streets, the creation of more parks and public playgrounds, the platting and development of the Santa Fe land grants, the enforcement of better sanitary conditions, the building of new bridges, the widening of East Palace avenue, the beautifying of Santa Fe in a systematic manner, the continuation of the tree planting policy under the supervision of a city forester, the installation of a better financial system and the greatest publicity in all public affairs.

There are a number of weak points that will be sought to be remedied. Santa Fe needs a larger police force, it must enforce more strictly saloon and vice regulation ordinances, it must clean up more thoroughly, it must keep down contagious disease and it should do a hundred and one other things that every well regulated community is doing, but public sentiment must first be created, revenues must be greater, assessments must be more thorough and adequate. These matters and more are touched upon by Mayor Seligman and by the council committees, and the taxpayer should take enough interest in the municipal welfare of the city, which is also his individual welfare, to co-operate with mayor and council in making Santa Fe well-governed, beautiful and the best town to live in between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

IT WILL PAY.

It is the business of the territory to build scenic rather than commercial highways. Commercial roads existed before there was a territorial government and they will be constructed by local authorities after the territorial government has passed away. They will be as good or as bad as the localities to be served deserve or are willing to pay for, but no one locality will build roads to open to the tourist world the scenic wonders of New Mexico. Switzerland takes in $30,000,000 each year from tourists. Switzerland is not much larger than a good-sized New Mexico county but is gridironed with scenic highways. These are not roads to enable the farmer to carry his hay to market or the butcher to deliver steak to a suburban customer or to enable a public official to make frequent short-cuts from his office to his former home, but for the simple purpose of catching the tourist and making it easy for him to leave his money. Switzerland needs those $30,000,000 each year, but New Mexico would like to have part of that sum. All of New Mexico's manufacturing industries last year produced only $7,000,000 and yet $3,000,000 capital was invested in them. If New Mexico by investing $50,000 a year, and its convict labor, can draw here tourists to drop a million or two annually, the amount increasing each year, the investment will be much more profitable and business-like than to build over the old crooked highways to enable the farmer from Agua Fria to bring his chili to Santa Fe grocers. Let New Mexico concentrate its efforts to building tourist highways and then the other roads will be taken care of by local authorities. Complete the Scenic Highway from Santa Fe and Las Vegas to the upper Pecos and it will be equal to establishing a ten million dollar industry. Then let the Camino Real be finished and build into the mountains, and pueblos, and cliff dwellings, into the forests from the big centers of population so as to make it easy for the tourist to reach and see what he came to New Mexico for, and thus convince himself that New Mexico is, indeed, a land of a thousand wonders, each one of them worth a trip from the east. That will bring money to New Mexico and somehow, New Mexico is so hard enough, to be wanting all the money that can be brought here from the outside in addition to that which is made at home.

ROOM FOR MORE.

There is room for more people even in the most thickly populated communities of the United States. There are sections in the New England states more thinly populated than the average New Mexico county. That explains why every progressive state is bidding for new settlers. This leads the latest bulletin of the Bureau of Immigration to say:

"Every week that passes brings more evidence to hand of the rapid increase in vigorous competition for the homeseeker. One of the most interesting phases of this competition at this time is found in the effort being put forth by the older states to keep their people at home. Each month the Department of Agriculture of the state of New York issues a bulletin in which are listed every farm in every county in that state which is for sale or for rent. The April bulletin, which is carefully illustrated with elaborate maps and diagrams as well as many photographs, contains 258 pages printed in small type. A total of 1,066 farms are listed with a careful description of each farm. The prices quoted on a large majority of these are very low. It is true that many of these farms have been abandoned or allowed to run down, and that the soil is often in poor condition through lack of proper rotation and care; but most of these farms have improvements, good houses and barns and fences. Often they have orchards. Thus the New York state government is acting as a promoter and land selling agency and is doing it in a most effective way.

"In Tennessee, there is a 'Back Home' movement, backed by a well financed organization, behind which stand all the railroads entering the state. This organization is carrying out a carefully planned campaign, directed against western land, and while its campaign at this time seems to be aimed chiefly against the northwest, in so far as Tennessee is concerned, it effects all western immigration. Reference has been made to the tremendously effective campaigns which have been carried out in Missouri and Arkansas. The annual report of the Missouri State Board of Immigration for the last year indicates that 51,000 people established homes on the land in that state during the year. These are but incidents of the work being done by the older states.

"Here in New Mexico we have to meet, in our exploitation, not only the campaigns of these older states, but the far-reaching publicity of the Pacific coast and northwestern states, publicity which through the large amounts of money available, finds its way in a most attractive form into the best advertising mediums in the world. It seems that the time is near at hand when we will have to give careful thought to the matter of organized, concentrated and extensive publicity for New Mexico as a whole, if we are to enjoy our rightful share in the development of the west."

CLOUDCROFT.

A feeling that some allpaths would diagnose as nostalgia, came over the editor as he leafed through the superb pamphlet on Cloudcroft just issued by the passenger traffic department of the El Paso and Southwestern System, for the editor had spent three foolishly happy days on the roof of the Sacramento mountains some years ago, and though it rained every morning and every noon, and every afternoon and every evening and every night, he enjoyed every minute, so that he thinks of going again as soon as Congress repeals the anti-pass clause of the Interstate Commerce Law. This year's book is as beautiful as Cloudcroft itself and that is going some. The frontispiece in colors is striking and the many half-tone pictures that are spread over the inside like sugar and butter over an old-fashioned coffee cake are dreams and at the same time truthful. They are so inviting and alluring that it will be difficult to keep those who see them from hiking up that wonderful mountain railing that lifts the visitor from Alamogordo to the pinnacle a mile above. There is only one other region in New Mexico as beautiful as Cloudcroft and that is the upper Pecos and that lacks the railroad and the splendid hotels and cottages and the comforts which the summer visitor finds at Cloudcroft, although when the Good Roads Commission finishes that Scenic Highway to the upper Pecos, these will follow as a matter of course.

The fellows that will hold a convention next January at Baltimore for the purpose of backing up the "See America First" movement are on the right track when they ask New Mexico to send twenty delegates, for this portion of the Lord's vineyard has the sights that lend substance to the "See America First" movement. Anything from cliff dwellings to real live Indians are to be viewed in this neck of the woods and no admission fee is charged at the entrance gate. After the tourist is done viewing the 20,000 cliff dwellings in Santa Fe's front yard there remain pueblo villages, 11 million acres of forest reserve, cloud-piercing mountain peaks, trout streams, canyons, historic buildings, and ten thousand other wonders to be looked over. No man or woman has ever seen America until they have spent a year or so in New Mexico. Come one and all while there is room!

Labor leaders sometimes get off on the wrong foot and they then hurt their cause immeasurably. Some ill-advised leader, for instance, in Texas, has sent a circular to every union man urging him to vote against prohibition because "we shall to all we can to oppose anything that makes the struggle for existence amongst wage earners harder and more keen." Now, even those opposed to prohibition admit that strong drink makes the struggle for existence much harder for the working man and his family. Wherever and whenever employers employ men they give the preference to those who do not drink, the total abstainer, and the man who indulges in beer is barred wherever it is known that he is a hard drinker. That Texas labor leader should crawl into his hole and clean the mud out of his think-box, for if he persists, he will lose the labor unions thousands of adherents right in Texas.

Advertising Talks

HOW TO WRITE AD "COPY"

Hints on Means of Securing Paying Results—Value of Human Interest Illustrations.

By Fred Squier.

Theory will help you write advertisements but theory without practical experience and common sense is useless. To many people advertising is as much a riddle as how the pyramids were built. The secret of advertising is common sense; it is salesmanship on paper.

A person may go to an advertising school and learn all about type and the difference between the various kinds of plates but this will not make him write business-getting advertisements. The graduate of an advertising school is very much like a graduate of a medical school; he is not qualified until he has had practical experience.

If you would go downtown and ask a number of men what advertising is they could tell you. But ask them to write one, they will become nervous and act very much like a person trying to write verse in a limerick contest. Advertising is simplicity itself and advertisements written in the simplest way are the most effective.

It is hard to give a rule about an advertisement. Advertisements which experts have thought poor have brought big results and those which were considered models have proved dismal failures. The advertisements you write should depend upon the people you want to reach and the article you are selling. Some read an advertisement printed in small type while others will not read it unless it is displayed.

For instance, you are pretty sure that a man in the market for an automobile will read all of the ads because he is interested in getting information. On the other hand, in advertising an article of every day use, you have to make your argument in fewer words and give it more prominence.

When writing an advertisement write as if you were talking to people. Make the advertisement create a desire for these things. The aim of an advertisement is to create a desire for the article advertised and the ways of creating this desire are as various as the articles themselves.

While many scorn psychology in advertising some of these same advertising men who ridicule its influence and practicability unconsciously obey its rules when writing copy. The next time you look at a picture or an advertisement you will discover that your eye will go to the upper left-hand corner of the object. This habit of people to turn instinctively to this corner is known and used by successful advertising men.

Another thing I have found is that when you start a given style of advertisements in the newspapers and put in it human interest many people get in the habit of looking for the ads every day as they want to know what the ad man is going to say about the article advertised.

Auto-suggestion plays an important part in advertisement writing. When a person sees an illustration of a certain act it makes him want to do that act, and when an advertisement writer knows his people and can combine human interest talk with human interest illustrations he has reached the perfection in advertising copy.

If I were asked to define salesmanship in one sentence, I should say this: It is nothing more or less than making the other fellow feel as you do about what you have to sell.—Hugh Chalmers.

Making Advertising Newsworthy. The principal reason for disappointment over the results of advertising, is the failure to have it like the rest of the newspaper. People read the news columns to get the news. They turn to the advertising for precisely the same reason. If the same article was stuck in the news columns day after day it would attract few readers. Just as the dispatches of a newspaper reflect what is going on in the world, so the advertising should reflect just what is going on in the stores. Things are happening every day, in our stores that will keenly interest the people. There are new lines of goods, bargains on showrooms or unreasonable stock. The public is anxious to know about these things drawn by that keenest of all motives, the desire to save money.

VISIONS OF THANKSGIVING.

Now doth the turkey see in dreams
The visions of a day
That makes his heart go pit-a-pat
And turns his feathers gray.

The smell of celery gives him pain,
And though his eyes are wet
With tears of coming sorrow, he Tries bravely to forget.

A little cranberry is to him
The crimson badge of fate
That he must wear when he is called
Into his future state.

An oyster makes him shut his eyes
To miss the sight of it;
And when he sees the ax, Great Scott!
He almost has a fit.

He thinks about the people who
Will sound his requiem,
And wonders how it's going to feel
To be inside of them.

Ah, guileless dreamer, you are up
Against Thanksgiving day,
You've got to starve yourself to death
Or die the other way.

—William J. Lampton, in New York Sun.

Her Awful Secret.

"Yes," said Little Blinks, "Miss Paynter is a handsome woman, but sometimes when I look at her she seems to me like a woman who has a terrible secret."

"She has," said Whibley.
"I was sure of it," said Little Blinks. "Have you any idea what it is?"

"Yes," said Whibley. "She's forty-eight years old."—Harper's Weekly.

What He Meant.

"I thought from what you said to me yesterday that old Skads had lost all his money."

"What did I say?"
"Why, you said that the last time you saw him he was at the end of his rope."

"Oh! You see the last time I saw him he was just finishing a campaign cigar someone had given him."

What Becomes of Them.

"What becomes of all the actors who drop out of sight after they have been on the stage for ten or a dozen years?"

"Most of them sit around in the dark corners of barrooms and talk about the good old days of the drama when they were supporting Booth and McCullough."

The Logical View.

She—I am going to get a pretty piece of all-over lace today to begin a new dress.

He—I should think you would get it for the dress' finish.

She—What do you mean?
He—It ought to be the end if it's all over.

Precisely.

"Is he a man who is never at a loss for something to say?"

"Well, to be more exact, he is a man who is never at a loss for something to say."

"You mean by that—"
"His wife is always with him."

NO CAUSE TO FEAR.

Willie Bug—Johnny Firefly says he ain't afraid to go out after dark.

James Bug—Well, I wouldn't either if I had a light to carry along."

CINDERELLA IN FLOWER

LAND AT CARLSBAD.

Public Schools Hold Commencement Exercises This Week—Clark Will Make Address.

Carlsbad, N. M., May 17.—This is commencement week in the Carlsbad schools. A program of exercises has been arranged with the view of giving every pupil an opportunity to take part. Tuesday evening Cinderella in Flowerland will be given by the children. Wednesday evening the pupils of the eighth grade produce a play as part of the program. Thursday evening the senior class entertainment, the play the Uglliest in Seven will be the main attraction. Friday evening is commencement. R. F. Asplund of Santa Fe will deliver the annual address. There are eight graduates this year.

Yesterday a good rain fell over the entire valley, the total rain fall being over one inch and a half. The alfalfa farmers were caught with some hay down, but their loss will not be heavy. The field crops like cotton and corn were much benefited.

This is excursion week and many prospectors are expected. Agents that are working in the middle west report that home seekers will be in evidence this week in larger numbers than for some time.

The county commissioners have established a new voting precinct at Otis. This district is taken from the Carlsbad precinct. Saturday the new district will have its first election, a justice of the peace and constable are the officers to be selected.

Judge C. J. Roberts has hit the right idea in differentiating between the Connecticut blue laws and the New Mexico Sunday law. New Mexico does not believe in a puritan Sunday, that is, the majority of its people do not, but nine-tenths of them insist that saloons be kept closed. That was the intent of the lawmakers and the intent must govern. In some jurisdictions the interpretation given similar restrictive laws is that they apply to all businesses which are merely tolerated, merely licensed, even on week-days and which are prescribed and regulated in other respects. That is sound sense even though some jurists may insist that it is not good law.

WOULD ORGANIZE CHARITY WORK

Pathetic Appeal to Council Was Made by Ladies Last Night

HALF STARVED BABIES THERE

Sale of Intoxicating Liquor Is Roundly Scored By Several Speakers.

Two little tots attended the meeting of the city council last night. They were said to be children who had suffered neglect who had been without food for more than two days; who represented many other children whose voices will be raised in supplication to the city fathers to do something to relieve the poverty that afflicts this and other cities.

And around the room in which the solons were gathered sat ladies prominent in Santa Fe social circles and sociological work. Their voices were raised in appeal for the mute little ones who must suffer for the sins of others or because of the misfortunes to which human kind is subjected.

It was a striking scene and one to be long remembered. Governor Mills attended the meeting and for over an hour he listened as did others, attentively to the appeals of the ladies who spoke in behalf of the little ones. Now and then the little children spoke the inarticulate language of babyhood, but the prattle of their little tongues that had suffered for the taste of food to nourish their tiny bodies was more eloquent than the silvery words of the gifted orator. Several persons in the room shed tears. It was a sight to touch the heart of every mother, yes, and father, too.

Among those who addressed the council were Mrs. B. M. Thomas, president of the Woman's Board of Trade, Mrs. Charles F. Easley, Mrs. L. A. Harvey and Mrs. Katherine B. Patterson, Miss Ernest Johnson and Mrs. A. R. McCord.

There were two notes sounded in the addresses. One was the crying need of concerted action to administer charity in Santa Fe; the other was an appeal to abolish the liquor traffic which many hold responsible for a large portion of the poverty here as elsewhere. Officials, those in high places, were particularly appealed to and asked to use their influence to put down the whiskey evil.

The Resolution.

Mayor Arthur Seligman then read a resolution introduced by Councilman Alarid, as follows:

"Be it resolved by the City Council of Santa Fe, that the mayor of said city is hereby authorized and empowered for and in behalf of said city to confer with the chairman of the charity committee of the Woman's Board of Trade and Library Association and the President of the Chamber of Commerce of said city for the purpose of ascertaining and determining the best method of dispensing charity to the needy and deserving poor within the limits of said city and to take such action therein as may be deemed for the best interest of said city and the inhabitants thereof."

The resolution was unanimously adopted upon motion of Councilman Baca, who said: "I would also say that I think all the ladies here should be tendered a vote of thanks for this calling to the attention of the council the needs of the city. We feel proud that we have been honored by a visit of His Excellency the Governor." Councilman Armijo offered a motion extending a vote of thanks to both the ladies and the governor for their attendance and their assistance in the matter, and added: "This is undoubtedly the most sympathetic meeting we have ever had." The motion was carried unanimously.

Will Keep People Away.

It is reported, and some truth is attached to the report, that Questa is to have three more booze joints. We have here now four drink emporiums and three coming up—seven in all—7 come 11. This drink business, or thirst parlor, shows which way the wind is blowing. Have at it boozers; when the town is builded we will take a hand in correcting the evil.

Always a young town with prospects of greatness, has an element that does not correspond with the rules and regulations of God and morality. It is up to the builders to be blind to some things, and no harm will grow out of being a little deaf.—Questa Gazette.

Newsboys vs. Bill Boards.

The statement is made by an observing publisher that users of billboards for advertising purposes are turning to the use of newspaper space, as a substitute. This circumstance indicates that the magazines are not the only mediums that are losing advertising to the newspapers in proportion as the intelligence of buyers of space increases, and those advertisers first to make the wise change will be the first to reap the increased profits that experience shows will result. So far as the respective merits of newspapers and billboards are concerned, it may well be said that "an advertisement in the home is worth a thousand on the highway."—American Press.

No More Rabbit Stew for Us.

Did you ever see a rabbit making his Sunday morning toilet?

No? Well it is interesting. "Jimmy," the little cottontail who occupies the basement of our shack down on Peaceful Valley Homestead, last Sunday morning gave us a private exhibition as we sat out in the shade. A rabbit's toilet is made like that of a cat, only more elaborate.

Instead of using only one paw like the cat, Jimmy sat up right on his haunches and used both hands to scrub his face in a very human fashion.

In the matter of the ears he has a decided advantage over Kitty, who at best, can only bestow an ineffectual swipe or two of her paw on the ear. Jimmy's ears are long enough so he could reach up behind first one ear then the other, draw it down to mouth and hold it with both his paws while he carefully licked it really more than human fashion.—Ohar Progress.

A Puff for RENEHAN.

Thursday morning the Barranca stage took from Taos, A. B. Renehan, J. H. Crist and Ralph Easley, who had been attending the session of the court. The two latter were in the lime light, and Mr. Renehan's quiet movements about the court room and vicinity did not make him conspicuous, yet he filled every position but judge and interpreter. He filled Mrs. McNitt's chair in one trial and did it as easily as when he was a court reporter some years ago; he acted before the grand jury when Mr. Davies was in court; he drew indictments, dictated the grand jury report, acted as counsel, helped prepare cases, and no one realized that he had been a very busy man, and persons, if there were any, who did not know him, would not have thought from his easy method of doing things that he has one of the largest practices of any attorney in New Mexico.—Taos Valley News.

The Sunday Law.

Judge Clarence J. Roberts of the district court, sitting at Las Vegas this week has given evidences on several occasions of a commendable common sense on public questions. His interpretation of the Sunday law bears the same stamp. Judge Roberts in brief holds that the Sunday law was expressly drafted and passed by the legislature with intention of making it apply to saloons. There is no doubt in the public mind that this was the

OTTUMWA WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ottumwa, Iowa.—"For years I was almost a constant sufferer from female trouble in all its dreadful forms; shooting pains all over my body, sick headache, spinal weakness, dizziness, depression, and everything that was horrible. I tried many doctors in different parts of the United States, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors. I feel it my duty to tell you these facts. My heart is full of gratitude to you for my cure."—Mrs. HARRIET E. WAMPLER, 524 S. Ransom Street, Ottumwa, Iowa.

Consider This Advice.

No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous medicine, made only from roots and herbs, has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, confidential, and always helpful.

Intention of the statute. Any other interpretation might easily open a field for the speculation as to whether or not the saloons could not argue that the law was not aimed at them at all.

Putting a new stand, for instance, in the same category with a saloon under the law, might easily lead to a serious complication. To align a drug store and a candy emporium along with the average booze parlor, it can be easily seen, is neither reasonable nor logical; if a saloon might claim to be in the same class as a milk wagon, it could not but benefit by the classification in case of the test of a law such as the Sunday closing act.—Albuquerque Journal.

The Civic Improvement Society.

The Civic Improvement Society of Albuquerque holds its annual meeting for the election of officers tonight at the office of the president, Dr. Taylor Goodman. This annual meeting brings prominently to public notice something of an organization which should be more prominently before the public all the time. To do this the society must have a larger membership of active workers for city improvement. The society has accomplished remarkable results by its quiet persistent work but it needs to become larger and more representative of the people of the city as a whole. It should have a vigorous wide awake press department to keep the work of the society before the public through the public prints; it should be supported regularly and generously by the public as to the financial end; should map out a line of work for the year and go after various desired ends systematically and methodically; it needs a larger membership and wants to completely embody the civic pride of Albuquerque, and every man, woman and child who is willing to work for a better and more beautiful city or who is willing to contribute his mite to the work should be an active member.—Albuquerque Journal.

"Stop My Paper."

The highest duty of an editor is to battle with wrong. This, of course, brings him in conflict with wrong doers and they are apt to show their spite in various ways. It is quite common for the thin skinned or wounded to rush into the office and shout "Stop my paper!" This class is pointedly shown up in the following fashion: A certain man hit his toe against a pebble, and fell headlong to the ground. He was vexed, and under the influence of anger and self-sufficiency he kicked mother earth right sanely. With imperturbable gravity, he looked to see the earth itself dissolved and come to naught. But the earth remained, and only his poor foot was injured in the encounter. This is the way of man. An article in the newspaper touches him in a weak spot, and forthwith he sends to stop his paper. With great complacency he looks to see the crash, when he finds he only hit his toe against a world that does not perpetually feel the shock, and injures no one but himself.

No sensible editor expects to please everybody. Such an editor lays no claim to infallibility, and may at times even fall into error. But an outspoken, independent journal, aiming to support the right and attack the wrong, is such a power for good in any community that well-balanced minds will look over little faults in view of the greater benefits conferred. An editor who is afraid to speak out on public questions for fear of offending somebody, may have an easy time of it; but he will never amount to much as a leader of opinion. Thoughtful people will generally honor independence; and for every subscriber lost in battling for the right he will likely find two to take the place. This is according to the law of compensation.—Ossining Republican.

Important Decisions.

In handing down its decisions in the cases of Campers et al and in the case of the Standard Oil Company

Monday the Supreme Court of the United States made a little history. In ruling that the three prominent labor leaders of the country were unjustly given a criminal sentence for contempt of court; and that the "occipus" is a combination in restraint of trade and must be dissolved within six months; the country's highest tribunal went far to refute the pessimistic cry of one class of demagogues that big business has the country by the throat and that the laboring man has no chance in court or out.

As to the profoundly important decision upholding the Sherman Antitrust Law as applied to the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey there is little basis for the charge that the word "undue" as applied by the court in its interpretation of the meaning of "restraint of trade" will affect the significance of the court's ruling. If it has construed the methods of the Standard Oil Company as "undue" it would seem that a tolerably stable precedent had been established.—Albuquerque Journal.

Dubious for Mexico.

With the Diaz government virtually acknowledging defeat and virtually abdicating the reins of power, it is apparent that the revolution in Mexico has attained such widespread proportions that it is impossible even to keep up the appearance of believing that it is merely a "sporadic uprising." The alleged dictator has acknowledged that he is dictator no longer and at no time since the beginning of the rebellion has the government shown a strong hand or any evidence of real power.

The end of Diaz is in sight. There can be no doubt of that. The grave question now is, after Diaz, what?

It looks bilious for Mexico. No man without tremendous force of character, real statesmanship, executive ability of the rarest order and iron bound determination is fitted at this stage of the game to take charge of the destinies of Mexico. Madero has hardly shown himself a man of the necessary caliber. He has not demonstrated that he can even exercise control over any preponderant part of the people now engaged in fighting against the old regime. Diaz is played out; he is too old for the game; in any event the limits of human life made it impossible even had this revolution failed that he could have much longer wielded the executive power in Mexico. But another Diaz is needed; Diaz with the same fearless determination, tenacity of purpose, intellect and statesmanship; but a Diaz in the prime of life and a Diaz of broader humanity and a better grasp of modern conditions. It is not in the nature of this that a man approaching the years of dotage, no matter how remarkably well preserved, could keep himself absolutely in touch with changing conditions.

The prospect for Mexico now, torn and devastated by the fighting of the last year, is not a cheerful one; and unless Francisco Madero looms up rapidly into a bigger figure than at present it is hard to believe that he is qualified to take the place of Diaz.—Albuquerque Journal.

Thos. F. Marshall, Marshall, Mo.

A. G. Hartley, Kansas City, Mo.

The number of directors of the company shall be fixed from time to time by the by-laws and may be increased as may be provided in the by-laws. In case of any vacancy in the board of directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause the remaining directors by affirmative vote of a majority thereof, may elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the director whose place shall be vacant, and until the election of his successor.

In furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by the statute the board of directors are expressly authorized as follows:

To hold their meetings and to have one or more offices and to keep the books of the company within or without the Territory of New Mexico, at such places as may be from time to time designated by them, but the company shall always keep at its registered office in the Territory of New Mexico a transfer book in which the transfer of stock can be made, entered and registered, and also a book containing the names and addresses of the stockholders and the number of shares of stock held by them respectively which shall be at all times open to the inspection of the registered stockholders in person.

To determine from time to time whether and to what extent and under what conditions and regulations the accounts and books of the company other than the stock or transfer books or any of them shall be open to the inspection of the stockholders and the stockholders rights in this respect are and shall be restricted or limited accordingly.

To make, alter, amend and rescind the by-laws of the company, to fix the amount to be reserved as working capital, to make the time for the declaration of dividends, to authorize and cause to be executed mortgages and liens upon the real and personal property of the company, provided always that a majority of the whole board concur therein.

In case of increase of capital stock to issue such portion of the unsubscribed stock of the corporation as may be necessary to acquire or purchase property for said corporation, or to satisfy its outstanding debts or obligations.

With the consent in writing and pursuant also to the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the stock issued and outstanding at a stockholders' meeting duly called for that purpose, to sell, assign, transfer, or otherwise dispose of the property of the company as an entirety provided always that a majority of the entire board concur therein.

By a resolution passed by a majority of the whole board under suitable provisions of the by-laws, to designate three of their members to constitute an executive committee, which committee shall for the time being as provided in said resolution or in the by-laws have and exercise all the powers of the board of directors which may be lawfully delegated in the management of the business and affairs of the company and shall have the power to authorize the seal of the company to be affixed to all papers which may require it. Generally said board of directors or said executive committee shall manage the business and affairs of said corporation and designate the officer or officers who shall have power to enter into and execute any contract or obligation on behalf of the said corporation as may be deemed necessary.

Eighth. The company may use and apply its surplus earnings or accumulated profits to the purchase or acquisition of property and to the purchase or acquisition of its own capital stock from time to time, to such extent and in such manner and upon such terms as its board of directors shall determine and neither the property nor the capital stock so purchased and acquired nor any other capital stock in payment or satisfaction of any debt due to the company shall be regarded as profits for the purpose of declaration or payment of dividends unless otherwise determined by a majority of the board of directors.

Ninth. The company reserves the right to amend, alter, change or repeal any provisions contained in this certificate in the manner now or hereafter required by the statute for the amendment of the certificate of incorporation.

Wants to Play Ball—Harry S. Clancy, the noted ball enthusiast, has received a letter from a man in El Paso who wants to play on Santa Fe's team.
He says he desires a job working and playing on the side. "That's the kind of ball players to get," said Mr. Clancy.
"and what I want to know now is what kind of working job is he fit for." Mr.
Clancy is receiving daily many letters from fans who desire to play on Santa Fe's team.

MR. CRANDALL HAS A
$500 STOP WATCH

And He is Going to Use it Tomorrow
When His Indians Break the World's Record.

All roads will lead to the U. S.
Indian and Industrial School where at 10 a. m. tomorrow the exercises of the school begin. They will be real exercises, somewhat different from the commencement affairs seen at the close of school. There will be 100 yard dashes, leaps and bounds and
St. Michael college boys will be there to assist in making contests and breaking records.

C. J. Crandall, the superintendent, has a $500 stop watch to time the runners.

There are several Indians who can run two miles in ten minutes, it is said, and it is hoped this year that a record will be made. The athletes are in splendid form and there will be lots of fun seeing them and their sinuous grace.

HOW SANTA FE PAPAS
SAID "NO" IN 1848.

Former Governor L. Bradford Prince has an interesting document showing the diplomacy of Santa Fe fathers of pretty girls away back in 1848. The letter is addressed to I. H. Clift and is signed by Mateo Sandoval. It is as follows: Sir, Your esteemed favor of the 30th ult., asking the hand of my daughter Margarita has been duly received. On communicating with my daughter upon the subject, she has informed me that at the present time she declines entering upon the duties of a married life. Although I have not allowed my own objections to interfere with my daughter's inclinations, yet I am on principle opposed to women so young as she is undertaking the serious duties of a wife. If my daughter's inclinations had prompted her to make a favorable reply owing to the very favorable character I have received of yourself I should not have withheld my consent. Sir, I remain your obedient servant. Mateo Sandoval.
