WIDELY KNOWN FINANCIER COMMITS SUICIDE

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
New York, May 19.—Colonel Henry O. Seixas, a widely known financier and a director in many prominent industrial corporations, committed suicide in Central Park this afternoon by shooting himself. Seixas was about 70 years of age.

No Reason for Suicide.
New York, May 19.—No excuse has as yet been learned for the self-destruction of Seixas.

Hit Heavy in Speculation.
New York, N. Y., May 19.—Mr. Whitehouse, the colonel's brother, said that in the collapse of the Columbus and Hocking pool the colonel had been badly hit, and since that time had been nervous and morose. He was a bachelor and lived at a club.

ROMERO SAW MILL DESTROYED BY FIRE

Loss is $23,000 With Only $8,000 Insurance—Flames Raging in Forest.

Special to the New Mexican.
The E. Romero saw mill, four miles west of Tajique in the Manzano forest, Torrance county, was destroyed by fire last night including a million feet of lumber valued at $15,000, and insured for $8,000. The mill cost $8,000 and had no insurance. Fires are raging in the forests round about and a heavy wind is scattering the flames. For a while the Ogier mill was in danger, but the wind shifted and the mill is out of danger for the present. Forest Ranger H. N. Galas has organized a force to fight the fire.

PRESIDENT AND LEADERS CLASH

Is Opposed to Any Amendments to Reciprocity Treaty

TAFT WILL MAKE THE FIGHT

Looks With Disfavor on Changes Proposed by Senators Root and Lodge.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Washington, D. C., May 19.—Taft is opposed to amendments to the reciprocity agreement no matter who is their sponsor. The president looks with disfavor on the proposed amendments of Senators Root and Lodge, two of his personal friends and close advisors. Mr. Taft believes the agreement should go through congress as it was introduced. He will make his fight along that line, no matter what Republican leaders attempt to do.

Heated Colloquy Over Reciprocity.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—Following a heated colloquy between Senator LaFollette and Leonard Bronson, of the National Lumber Manufacturers Association at today's Canadian reciprocity hearing, a declaration by Bronson that the conservation policy of Roosevelt and Pinchot worked for the benefit of the lumber trust and forced up the price of lumber, was stricken from the record. Bronson had also declared that the withdrawal by the government of large tracts of timber lands was the chief cause of high prices of lumber. LaFollette demanded to know what authority Bronson had for these assertions. This, Bronson, refused to explain and after a series of questions by LaFollette, both assertions and the ensuing colloquy were expunged on motion of the senator.

AT MILITARY INSTITUTE

Commencement Exercises Begin Tomorrow at Roswell School

BATEMAN WILL MAKE ADDRESS

Chaplain at Fort Bayard Will Speak to Graduating Class Wednesday.

Roswell, N. M., May 19.—Examinations at the New Mexico Military Institute will be finished this afternoon and the commencement exercises will start Saturday, the 20th. However, the Sunday morning baccalaureate services in the institute auditorium will be the real beginning of commencement.

The address Sunday morning is to be delivered by Rev. Austin D. Crile, pastor of Wicker Park Lutheran church, Chicago. Mr. Crile has a leave of absence from his congregation and is at present engaged in developing a tract of land which he purchased from the Berrendo Farms Company. Mr. Crile is a man of much experience and has the reputation of being one of the best preachers in Chicago. It is natural, therefore, to expect a splendid address from him Sunday at the opening of commencement.

The music will be furnished by the Cadet orchestra and the Cadet chorus. Colonel Barlow has been training the chorus and has some splendid songs for the service. Captain Fletcher, as usual has his orchestra thoroughly trained and it is considered in far better shape this year than ever before.

Sunday afternoon the battalion will give the usual Sunday parade, following it with an exhibition drill in Butts manual.

Oratorical Contest.

Monday evening the oratorical contest will be held in the auditorium at 9 o'clock. Five cadets will compete for the W. O. Morton medal. The medal, which is being presented by Mr. Morton, is an especially handsome one, costing more than sixty dollars. Mr. Morton intends to offer this medal as a prize each year. It will no doubt be a means of stirring up much interest among the cadets in literary society work. The cadets who are to contest for the prize are as follows:

A. G. Deacon—A Message to the Young Men of the West.

J. C. Knollin—The Power of the Press.

J. J. McCollister—Man's Conquest of Nature.

M. A. Otero, Jr.—Idealism; Supreme Attribute of Life.

Ray A. Murray—The Present Talk of Environment.

W. O. Morton of Los Angeles, Cal., who had arranged to deliver the address to the graduating class on Wednesday evening, has been unavoidably detained and will not be able to fill the engagement. The school has been fortunate, however, in securing Major C. C. Bateman, chaplain United States Army, stationed at Fort Bayard, N. M. who will arrive in Roswell next Tuesday, being a guest at the institute.

WICKERSHAM AFTER TRUST

Charges Gigantic Conspiracy to Maintain High Prices of Lumber

MANY CONCERNS BLACKLISTED

Combinations That Defy Sherman Law Are Having Squallier Weather.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
New York, May 19.—Sweeping charges of a gigantic conspiracy to maintain high prices, to blacklist concerns not regarded as "proper" to the trade, and to violate generally the Sherman anti-trust law, are made in a government suit filed by Attorney General Wickersham in the United States court here today against the so-called lumber trust.

Good Evidence Gathered.
New York, May 19.—This is the government's first anti-trust suit conforming to the supreme court Standard Oil decision in that it alleges "undue" and "unreasonable" restraint of the trade of the consumer and the manufacturer.

It is the evident purpose of the plea to confine the charge largely to that feature, small stress being placed on the restraint of trade among the conspirators themselves.

Attorney General Wickersham and Special Assistant McKerchem have devoted more than a year gathering evidence on which today's suit is based.

This evidence includes copies of the alleged agreements, blacklists, and reports of the various organizations branding wholesalers and retailers, who have dared to violate the rules of the associations as "poachers," "mavericks," "scalpers" and "illegitimate dealers," to whom "short shrift" must be applied.

Retailers to Be Prosecuted.

New York, N. Y., May 19.—Ten trade organizations and more than 150 individuals are named as defendants in this suit, which may be the first of several planned by the department of justice against combinations of retailers in staple commodities and the necessities of life to prevent the ultimate consumer from buying anywhere except from local retailers.

The government suit is replete with sensational allegations and it is asserted that builders and consumers of lumber the country over are at the mercy of the retailers' organizations in different sections of the United States.

The suit filed today is the central body of nine local organizations covering five states, the district of Columbia and the cities of Baltimore and Philadelphia.

Important Suit.

New York, N. Y., May 19.—The government charges in its brief that by an elaborate system of blacklisting, not only individual consumers but some of the largest industrial corporations have been prevented from dealing directly with wholesalers. By alleged unlawful agreements and acts it is charged that all competition for the trade of the contractor, the builder, the manufacturer of finished lumber products and the individual consumer has been thrown directly into the hands of the retailers in the association and its constituent organizations.

The government alleges that in some localities the wholesaler selling to a consumer has either been heavily fined or expelled from the organization.

It is believed that should the courts uphold the government's intention that it is a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law to prevent the ultimate consumer from buying direct from the producer, other suits will be started against combinations of retailers, alleged to be in control of the marketing of many of the commodities of life.

Baltimore Denies It.
Baltimore, Md., May 19.—The Retail Lumberman's Association of Baltimore named in the government's suit, filed in New York today, is composed of practically all the local retail dealers in that trade and is a member of the Eastern States Lumber Dealers Association. Its secretary, George H. Poehlman, made a sweeping denial of the government's charge so far as the Baltimore dealers were concerned.

Couldn't Believe It.

Philadelphia, May 19.—William H. McBride, president of the Lumbermen's Exchange of this city, and also head of the Retail Lumbermen's Association of Philadelphia, refused to believe this afternoon that the government had entered suit in New York against the Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers Association, charging it with restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. "Practically every retail firm in the city belongs to this association. It seems impossible for me to believe that the government makes such serious and ridiculous allegations," he said.

ALBERT CLANCY INJURED IN BASE BALL GAME.

Acting Attorney General Harry S. Clancy has received word from his son Albert Clancy, that he was injured in a practice game in St. Louis a few days ago and may be laid up for at least three weeks. A foul which was batted just before the umpire called the game struck him on his thumb and split his hand open.

NEW MEXICO AND RECALL

These Were Fruitful Topics of Discussion Today in House

WILL VOTE ON NEXT TUESDAY

Boohar Charges United States Supreme Court With Usurpation of Powers.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—"It was a usurpation of power on the part of the supreme court of the United States to put the word 'reasonable' into the anti-trust law after congress had refused to so amend the law," declared Representative Boohar of Missouri, in the House today, discussing the New Mexico and Arizona statehood resolutions. He said he did not at all want to criticize the court but he agreed with Justice Harlan, and he had a right to express individual opinion. Asked whether he could favor the recall of the three Democratic judges, who joined in the opinion if the power to recall applied to the supreme court, Mr. Boohar said he would not, as he trusted the wisdom of these men to correct a mistake as soon as they had the opportunity.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

Washington, May 19.—The desire of so many members to speak on the joint statehood resolution admitting Arizona and New Mexico, caused the Democratic leaders to change their plans for ending the debate and rushing the bill to passage today and the discussion will continue until next Tuesday. The floor leaders of the majority had hoped to pass the bill before today's adjournment but it was not deemed wise to cut off debate as long as so many members on each side had prepared arguments which they wished to deliver. Accordingly, an agreement was attended by Representative Flood to continue the debate until next Tuesday, when the resolution will be called up for passage. The senate was not in session today.

Democrats Losing Ground.

Special to The New Mexican.
Washington, D. C., May 19.—Representative Humphreys, Democrat of Mississippi, said: "I favor the immediate admission of New Mexico. I am willing to admit Arizona with the recall eliminated from its constitution. Congress has the right, given by the constitution, to say when it will admit states."

Representative Boohar, Democrat of Missouri, a member of the committee on territories, recited that Kearney and Doniphan who led the Missourians, received the surrender at Santa Fe under instructions of the government which had promised early admission to statehood in 1846. The treaty of "Guadalupe Hidalgo" promised the same as did also the Gadsden treaty. He read the remarks of Judge A. B. Hall before the committee. Boohar said that seven counties including Santa Fe, controlled absolutely by corporations, would control the new state.

Delegate Andrews jumped up and controverted the statement and said that in his time he would make an answer. Boohar said excitedly: "I do not know what the delegate has under his shirt." He said he was a farmer, a stock driver and was not a lawyer, but he criticized the supreme court, and told it what it should and should not put in its decisions. The Democrats are losing support on the Democratic side by attacking the New Mexico constitution. There is danger of Arizona losing statehood by its friends attacking New Mexico. Numerous Democrats told Willis that he had the best of Flood in the argument. The vote will be taken on Tuesday evening.

Representative Young, Republican of Ohio, who succeeded Ralph Cole, made his maiden speech in the house on statehood. He favors immediate admission with constitutions as ratified, except the recall of judges.

SANE FOURTH OF JULY FOR COLORADO SPRINGS.

Colorado Springs, May 19.—Colorado Springs will have a safe and sane Fourth of July. The question of fireworks was discussed by the council and the mayor was instructed to issue a proclamation forbidding the firing of dangerous explosives.

SANTA FE HAS NO BASEBALL TEAM.

Mayor Arthur Seligman was called this afternoon by long distance telephone from Albuquerque and Las Vegas, by managers of baseball teams there, asserting that dates had been arranged for games at Santa Fe on Sunday. The mayor had to inform both managers that Santa Fe has no baseball team in the field at this time. A meeting of the board of control last evening was simply attended and resolved that it had nothing to "control" until the various baseball factions of Santa Fe get together.

DEAD STREWN OVER FIELD

Sanguinary Battle Fought Twenty Miles South of Cuernavaca

MADERO GOES TO MONTEREY

Rebels Shoot Into Each Other by Mistake at Agua Prieta.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Cuernavaca, Mex., May 19.—A sanguinary battle is being fought at Cuautla, twenty miles southeast of here, between the federal garrison under Colonel Munguia, and a force of rebels commanded by Colonel Zapata. Fugitives arriving here today state the streets of Cuautla are strewn with dead and wounded.

Madero Causes Surprise.

Mexico City, May 19.—The news of Francisco I. Madero's coming soon to the capital was received with great interest. The foreign Minister de la Barra appeared surprised but said he would facilitate Madero's arrival by any further agreements that might be necessary pending the visit. The coming of Madero is accepted as meaning that the armistice will be continued as a permanent peace pact basis, the terms of which will be announced by the government officials in this city.

May End Fighting.

Cuernavaca, Mex., May 19.—A commission left here last night for Cuautla, carrying the news of the armistice, which it is hoped, will put an end to the fighting.

Marching on Mexico.

General Figueroa is leading 3,000 rebel troops from Iquala presumably en route for this city. Cuernavaca is the capital of the state of Morelos and is forty miles south of Mexico City. Cuautla is a town of about 8,000.

Leader of Mob Executed.

Mexico City, May 19.—Advices from Pachuca today state that Delgado Medrano, leader of the mob that pillaged the town, was shot in the plaza at 6 o'clock last night. The execution was ordered by Colonel Hernandez, the revolutionary commander, and was witnessed by members of the Mexican white cross and many prominent citizens who approved the summary punishment.

Diaz in Good Spirits.

Mexico City, May 19.—The condition of President Diaz continued today satisfactory to his physicians, who said that it was likely that the executive would leave his room during the day. He is said to be in good spirits.

Threats on Madero's Life.

Juarez, Mex., May 19.—"I am going to Mexico City. I have confidence in the federal government. Rumors that some one may do me personal harm are to me of no consequence."

In this manner, Francisco I. Madero, Jr., dismissed the report from Mexico City this morning that rumors were in circulation that an attempt would be made on his life when he arrived at the capital.

"The federal government wants to make peace with me," continued Madero. "If, by any unfortunate occurrence, my life should be taken, anarchy would follow in Mexico. I can not for a moment take such a report seriously."

Diaz Wires Madero.

Unless the unforeseen happens, therefore, Madero accompanied by his personal staff, may leave for the capital either tomorrow or the day after. It developed today that, for the first time since the revolution started, Diaz had held direct communication with the revolutionary leader. Diaz last night wired his personal assurances to Madero of his intention to retire.

"The other points can be settled by you and Judge Carbajal," the message said.

The message made a deep impression about revolutionary headquarters. Whatever skepticism had existed as to the real intention of Diaz, apparently disappeared when the nature of his direct communication became known.

Madero Gets Cold Feet.

Juarez, Mex., May 19.—It was definitely decided at 1 o'clock today that Francisco I. Madero Jr., would not enter Mexico City until Minister de la Barra became provisional president. Senator Madero will leave here within day or two for Monterey, or some point in the state of Coahuila, there to wait developments at the Capital.

Rebels Get Six Cabinet Jobs.

Juarez, Mex., May 19.—Assurances were received by the insurgents today that they could name six members of the new cabinet, Minister de la Barra, to name a sub-secretary of foreign relations and a minister of war.

Rebels Shoot Each Other.

Naco, Sonora, May 19.—The advance guard of Lomel's rebel force, marching west from Agua Prieta, was mistaken for a force of federal troops early today and fired upon by the insurrecto garrison at Naco. Five rebels and one civilian were shot and seriously wounded before the garrison discovered its mistake. It is believed that some of the wounded, who were brought to the American side for treatment, will die.

Plot Is Denied.

Mexico City, May 19.—The government officials discredit the report of a plot to attempt the life of Francisco

No Wonder That Dust Storms Are Blowing in the Great Southwest.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Washington, D. C., May 19.—Snow was falling this morning in Yellowstone Park and it was freezing in Wyoming and Nevada while the middle west and eastern states were sweltering in the hottest weather of the year. A general break in the hot wave was predicted by weather experts within the next forty-eight hours, bringing relief to the large cities where the heat has caused many prostrations.

Cooler in Colorado.

Considerably cooler weather prevails generally over the Eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains and Plateau region, caused by a disturbance moving eastward from the North Pacific coast.

But in this instance all these things and more will be found on the exchange table as prepared by some of the most skilled housewives and daintiest hands in Santa Fe. The tables will be at the Public library which will be open tomorrow forenoon from 10:30 a. m. for forenoon shoppers, and from 2 p. m. for afternoon buyers.

MORE CHRISTIAN STATESMEN NEEDED

Annual Sermon of Retiring Moderator of Presbyterian General Assembly

MEETING AT ATLANTIC CITY

Woodrow Wilson Held Up as Type of Citizenship to Be Emulated.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Atlantic City, May 19.—The Rev. Charles Little of Wabash, Ind., the retiring moderator, in the annual sermon of the Presbyterian General Assembly here yesterday, took for his subject, "The Ministry of Elijah and Elisha." Then and now, with the text from II Kings 2:12 and II Kings 13:13. After contrasting the chartered sense, are there not Elijahs and Elishas, a separatist and reformer, and Elisha as constructive, harmonizing and a peace maker—he asked whether there were not today ministers who differed as widely in gifts, knowledge and wisdom and yet were equally honored of God.

"The contrast may not be as wide, and the dividing line so sharply defined," said Dr. Little "but in modified sense, are there not Elijah and Elishas in the pulpit of today? May not the glory of the kingdom and its ultimate victory be hastened thereby? In the prophecy of Isaiah, the Almighty declares that spiritual architecture of the church is made complete by the different parts which unite in its construction: 'The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the fir tree, the pine tree and the box together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary; and I will make the place of my feet glorious.' The fir tree, the pine tree, and the box together! May not the ministers of today by their diversified gifts and methods bring greater honor to His name and church? May they not be the chariots of Israel and the horsemen? Such an inquiry is pertinent for any age, especially so for the church of today. Let us consider the inquiry from these three standpoints:

"1. The Mission of the Pulpit.

"2. The Breadth of Christian Doctrine.

"3. Christian Unity."

Basing the fundamental work of the church on the facts that sin is in the world, that His kingdom has not yet come, that wickedness prevails in high places and that "vice, intemperance and unbelief lift up their heads loftily and the ark of God trembles." Dr. Little asked: What is the mission of the pulpit under such conditions? Is it surprising its occupants do not always possess the same ideals? Assuming, if you please, an equal consecration, is it surprising to find they differ in the standpoint, in outlook, in temperament and in method?

"In many pulpits the spirit of the older prophet of our text reappears. The minister is burdened with economic questions and social reforms. Children are oppressed; sweat shops are numerous; tenement houses need ventilation; injustice in wages must be rebuked; disease must be arrested; sanitary laws enacted, and the world reclaimed. Such men only should be elected to office who will be fair-minded, true, with a passion for righteousness. These are the conditions which constitute the vision of many a preacher. As the soul of Paul was stirred within him at Athens, so is his soul stirred, and he summons the church to its duty to mankind. From the pulpit he goes down into the week with the mantle of Elijah and with his spirit pleading for civic righteousness and national reforms. He is not unmindful of the work of the individual for the individual, yet his greatest longing is to see the church as a church going forth like an army putting the prophets of Babel to death, and giving the throne to Him whose right it is to reign.

JUST HALF IN BED.

Clyde, Ky.—Mrs. I. A. Decker, writes from Clyde: "I recommend Cardui, the woman's tonic, to any woman in need of a remedy. For five years, I was unable to do my own work. Half my time was spent in bed. At last I tried Cardui. Now I am well and happy, and can do my own work." Don't suffer pain, headache, backache, and other womanly miseries, when your own druggist has on his shelf a remedy for such troubles—Cardui. Get a bottle for your shelf. As a general tonic for weak women, nothing has been found for 50 years that would take its place. Try it. It will help you.

GIFT ROSES.

Oh, the loon may laugh and the sage may smile,
And the cross-grained mock, and in words that sting;
And the world may hold through the afterlife,
There is naught of sense in the song I sing—
But alike I say to the imp and saint,
To the hordes who strive and the few who live
When the soul is shy and the heart is faint,
That the white, white rose is the rose to give.

Oh, the old may scoff at the dreams of youth,
And a frown may flit o'er the face of Time;
And the Fates may grieve at the lot of Truth,
Wild-eyed and astray in the field of rhyme;
But there's bliss untold in a crimson flush,
In a quick pulse beat and a bid to live,
And when cheeks are tinged with a conscious blush,
Then the pink, pink rose is the rose to give.

Oh, the prudes may preach 'till the planets fall,
And the law browbeat 'till there is no sun,
And the weak may shrink, and a breath enthrall,
'Till the last life-task of the earth is done;
But a man will woo, as the spring will bud,
And a maid will heed, and the heart will live,
And when love is bred in the bone and blood,
Then the red, red rose is the rose to give.

ANNUAL REPORT PUBLISHED

Thirty Children on Waiting List
Who Could Not Be Accommodated.

The foregoing extract from the report of the president of the New Mexico Blind Institute at Alamogordo sums up the idea which lies behind this splendid institution and which is making it one of the most useful and humanitarian in New Mexico. The president's brief report is incorporated in the fourth annual report of the institution for the year ending June 1910, being the report of the board of trustees and the officers including a lengthy and most interesting presentation of the work by the superintendent, R. R. Pratt.

The introduction to the report by Judge Cooley says:
"To allow any child to grow up in ignorance and idleness is as economically unsound as it is morally wrong. It is in the highest degree desirable that the blind should be workers rather than beggars or pensioners."

The detailed reports of work in the literary, musical, industrial, and physical culture departments, illustrated with numerous pictures all go to show that the work is being done efficiently and conscientiously. In the physical culture department especially the school is proud of having in its possession two handsome silver trophy cups won in competition in athletic events with all the blind schools of the country.

Needs of School.
The needs of the school as pointed out by the superintendent are: a library; appropriation for further accommodations, there being right now a waiting list of over 20 pupils for whom there is no room; a heating plant and more office equipment.

Neglect Causes Blindness.
The report of the oculist, J. B. Gray, emphasizes the fact that most of the children who come to the school largely owe their condition to neglect in childhood. "The lack of attention at home," says Dr. Gray, "is expensive to the territory and some remedy should be sought." On examining the eyes of 27 pupils, the oculist found that twelve had been afflicted with Ophthalmia neonatorum which caused total blindness in 23 eyes; seven with trachoma; two with refractive error, two with congenital non-development and three with smallpox.

Board of Directors.
The board of directors consists of the governor, ex-officio; Hon. Alford W. Cooley, president; G. J. Wolfinger, secretary and treasurer; W. A. Hawkins of Three Rivers, N. M., and J. J. Aragon and Carlos B. Barber of Lincoln, N. M. Messrs. Cooley and Wolfinger form the executive committee.

The report of the superintendent, published in both English and Spanish is complete and most interesting, showing that the institute is carrying on a practical thorough work for the education of the blind boys and girls of New Mexico. The list of students shows that there are 59 enrolled, 15 of these being from Bernalillo county, as follows: Francisco and Carlos Gonzales; William Harrison, Lauren Heydt, Lewis Meehan, Julian Sanchez, Stella and Lidia Apodaca; Altha Carbojas, Clara Epple, Amalia, Lola, Louise and Ruth Gonzales, and Priscilla Ortiz.

The superintendent reports unusual progress during the past year, the effort all along having been made to introduce into the work the most advanced ideas in use in eastern institutions for the blind. The work has been graded and pupils placed in the classes best adapted to their needs. Changes made throughout the building have added to its homelikeness and increased the comfort of the pupils. The superintendent takes occasion to point out the often-made mistake of indulgent parents in keeping a blind child out of educational institutions when the blind child needs the education in much greater measure than his more fortunate brothers. Mr. Pratt points out further in this connection that there are at least 150 blind children in New Mexico who should by all means be in the school now.

BLOODHOUND IS AS GENTLE AS FRENCH POODLE.

As to Ability to Track Criminals No Proof Has Been Ever Given by Savage Looking Canine.

The bloodhound breaks into print periodically. This poor old dog has been traduced by novelists and historians till it is but reasonable that some one should rise up in his defense. He has been described as a canine terror and a man-catching quadruped with keener scent, sharper teeth, and fiercer appetite for raw meat than any creature met by Colonel Roosevelt on his game trails; the Washington Star says: "The bloodhound is charged with being as cruel as some men."

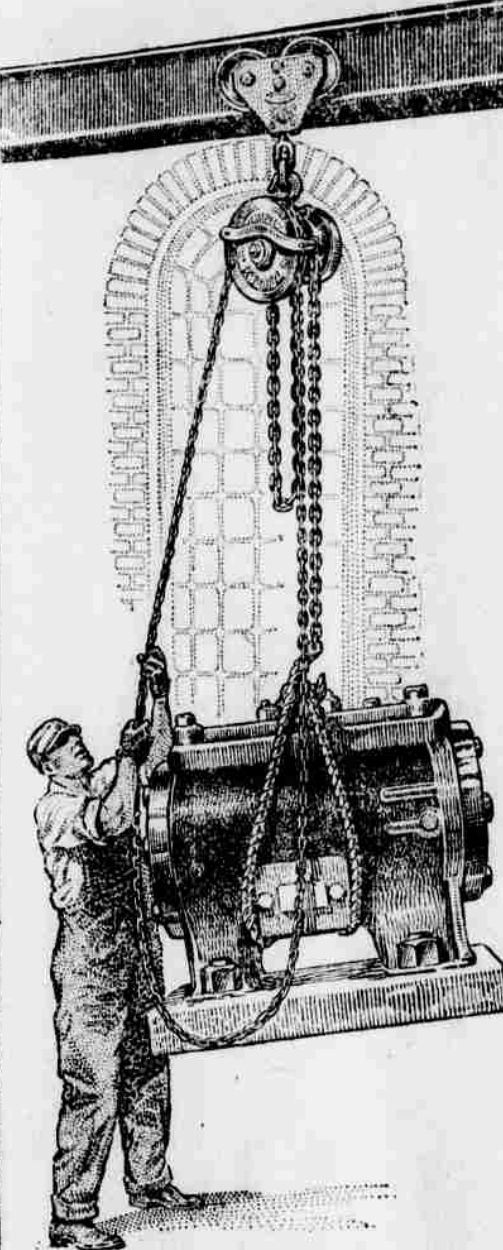

A bloodhound is not much more dangerous than a French poodle. His floppy ears and wrinkled forehead give him an appearance that does not invite intimacy, but he cannot help his looks, and despite them is a sociable, good-natured dog. He has not a keener scent than any other member of the hound family. As a man chaser he is a dismal failure. A crime has been committed, the trail of the criminal is warm, a pack of the best bloodhounds from the next county is turned loose, etc. One may read some thing like this every week. But one never reads of the bloodhounds really getting the criminal at bay. If they tree a man he is the wrong man. No one ever ought to be convicted on the testimony of a bloodhound. A bloodhound on the trail of a criminal is just as apt as not to trot up to the back porch of a gentle old person and wag his tail in ecstasy at the sight of a ham bone.

Teachers Elected.
Teachers for the coming year were elected by the board of education of the town of Las Vegas at a special meeting. Miss Louise Cobb was elected to succeed Miss Anna J. Nieve who resigned as principal some time ago after seven years of faithful and efficient service. Other teachers elected were Mrs. Chester A. Hunker, Miss Abella Armijo, Miss Eddie Ackerman, Miss Marguerite Bernard, Mrs. Catherine Des Marais, Miss Mary A. Phillips, Miss Louise Uilbarri.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR PUBLIC BUILDING AT ROSWELL.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—J. E. Wand and A. L. Penneck of Philadelphia, Pa., have been awarded the contract for the building of the federal building in Roswell. This firm submitted a bid of $144,400 which was accepted by the government. The specifications call for very best materials, obtainable, and skilled workmanship, and the building is to be one of the handsomest structures in the southwest. It is expected that work will commence in a very short time, and the contracting firm will have representatives on the ground very shortly to lay out the preliminary plans.

ERA OF SCENIC HIGHWAY BUILDING IN COLORADO

Denver, Colo., May 19.—"We have passed the period of talking about road building in Colorado, and are now building roads." That was the text of the address made by C. R. McLain of Canon City, one of the prize good road builders of the state, before the real estate exchange. President Hitchens introduced McLain as the man who was in a large degree responsible for the Royal Gorge road, dedicated last week. The members of the exchange are all boosters for good roads, and the speaker received an ovation.

CLEANLINESS OF PREMISES TO DESTROY HOUSE FLY.

Man's Deadliest Enemy Should Be Swatted by Every Housekeeper and Every Community.

Those who are waging war on the flies—a most useful and important war—speak of the fly as the fly that "will not wipe his feet." It is a good rough phrase to attract attention, but unfortunately the fly DOES wipe his feet. He wipes his feet on the food that you eat, on the faces and on the lips of your sleeping children. He is a frequenter of offal; the female fly lays her eggs in the manure piles. The flies in millions settle on the refuse, the sewerage that washes all along the beach along the water's edge in great cities.

All these germs, all imaginable, horrible microbes, fasten themselves to the spongy feet of the fly and the fly brings the germs into the house and there WIPE THEM OFF HIS FEET. And that does more to spread typhoid than any other cause.

How often have you seen a fly standing on a lump of sugar in the sugarbowl, industriously shuffling his front feet! He is wiping the disease germs off, rubbing them on the sugar that you are going to eat.

If you have doors or windows without screens, in the city or in the country, put the fly screens in now, AND KEEP THE FLIES OUT.

The fly is the greatest spreader of disease, one of the greatest enemies of humanity, and one of the most dangerous. Many people put in their fly screens early in the spring, or if they neglect it then, they let the neglect continue, waiting for the next spring.

As a matter of fact, the fly screens that keep out the dangerous insects and the disease germs that these insects wipe from their feet on your food, are most important now, in the early year.

Fortunately, the disease germs themselves do not fly. They could pass through the screen as easily as through an open doorway. They reach your children only when larger insects bring them and spread them.

Keep out the bigger insects, the flies, the mosquitoes, and you keep out the invisible deadly enemies. Wherever He Goes Death and Disease May Follow.

War to the death should be declared upon the little pest. His presence is a disgrace. His touch may be deadly. Either man must kill the fly or the fly will kill the man. If there is no dirt and filth there will be no flies.

tions to be exposed to the swarms of flies.

Don't let flies crawl over the baby's mouth and swarm upon the nipple of its nursing bottle.

Clean up your premises, inside and out, and then see that others do the same. Strike at the root of the evil. The housefly breeds in horse manure, kitchen offal, and the like. Dispose of these materials in such a way that the housefly cannot propagate. Screen all windows and doors and insist that your grocer, butcher, baker and every one from whom you buy food stuff do the same. There is more health in a well screened house than in many a doctor's visit.

Arrested by Mounted Police.

Self accused of having robbed the pockets of Alberto Estrada of $15 in cash, a man who gave the name of John Smith, was arrested yesterday on Santa Fe train No. 15 at Las Vegas, by Captain Fred Fornoff and A. A. Sena of the territorial mounted police. Estrada is a native of old Mexico. He was on his way to Kansas where he expected to obtain employment. As the train was leaving Albuquerque he discovered the loss of his money.

TREAT THE FIRE DEPARTMENT BETTER.

Mayor Arthur Seligman in his annual report calls attention to the negligence with which the city treats its fire department. The sum of $100 a year is appropriated for the purpose of helping the fire ladders, a sum so small in proportion to what other cities are expending for fire protection as to seem almost unbelievable. A city the size of Santa Fe should have several fire companies; instead of only a score of active members of the fire department it should have 200 such members, in addition to 500 honorary members. Santa Fe gives $100 to support its fire department; Albuquerque's city council has just voted $12,000 for the improvement of fire fighting facilities. No wonder the Albuquerque Morning Journal can say editorially:

"The city council of Albuquerque is to be congratulated on getting abreast of the times. The council in appropriating some $12,000 at its meeting Wednesday night for the improvement of the city fire fighting facilities has taken one of the longest forward steps in its history. Albuquerque is waking up."

"As stated in this paper yesterday, the amount appropriated will purchase a steamer and will enable the city to have the present hose wagon installed on an auto chassis and do away with the ancient horse method and eliminate heavy bills for feed. It is planned to secure a horse drawn steamer; it would be much better to get an auto steamer as long as we are getting the steamer, but the latter, when money is available, may be made into an auto-propelled machine as has been done with horse-drawn steamers in large cities. The money available will also, as pointed out, pay for a fire alarm system of twenty-four boxes, three times the size of the present system."

"The fire committee has been authorized to advertise for bids and the big improvement in the fire fighting system is now a matter of only a few months."

"The city council in taking this progressive action yields to the insistent public demand which became more intense recently upon the publication of a report by the inspector of the underwriters' association pointing out what were characterized as 'deplorable' conditions in this city, which has escaped disastrous fires only by reason of good luck. There is no room for dispute that Albuquerque is away behind the times in her facilities for fighting fire and the action of the council comes none too soon. It inaugurates an up to date policy which it is to be hoped will be followed up by further improvement recommended in the underwriters' report."

FARM STATISTICS FOR 1910.

The crop reporter issued by the department of agriculture and just to hand gives the value of the corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, buckwheat, flax seed, rice, potato, hay, tobacco and cotton crops in New Mexico in 1910 as $7,617,000 or 17 per cent less than in 1909, when the value was $9,189,000. Of course, this is at best only an estimate and does not include the products of the orchards, of the apories, of garden truck, beans, chile and other staples, nor of the range in this territory, the grand total being nearer $40,000,000 than $8,000,000. However, the amount total, even though it exceeds by 210 per cent the crop values of the census year 1900, is disappointingly small, and must be ascribed to careless farming, to antiquated methods rather than to lack of fertility or even the drought.

New Mexico, although an agricultural commonwealth, was 45th in rank as to agricultural production in 1910, even Nevada and Wyoming being ahead of it while Colorado produced four times as much on its farms, Delaware, Arizona and Rhode Island alone rank below New Mexico.

The same reporter gives the following values in New Mexico on April 15: Hogs, $6.40 per hundred pounds; beef cattle $4.90 per hundred; sheep $4.50 per hundred; wool 12 cents a pound; clover seed $10 per bushel; timothy seed $7.50 per bushel; bran $30.70 per ton.

The report gives the cost of producing wheat in New Mexico at $11.85 per acre and the average yield 22 bushels per acre; the cost per bushel including rent, at 54 cents a bushel, and the selling price at $1.12 per bushel. The value of by-products is given at $1.10 per acre; the average size of fields as 10.6 acres; the average value of the ground per acre, $43.50.

The following is given as the average value of crops on May 1, 1911: Wheat $1.14 per bushel; corn $1.19; oats 59 cents; potatoes $1.00; hay $13.60; barley 55 cents; butter 30 cents; eggs 21 cents; chickens 11.8 cents per pound.

The field conditions on May 1 are given as follows: Hay 90 as against 82 per cent at the same time last year; spring planting 56 as against 60. There must be error in these latter figures, however, for it is certain that twice as much land is under plow and planted this spring than there was at the same time last year.

which is spreading rapidly and should be stamped out by every means at the command of the medical fraternity.

PERMANENT IMPROVEMENT.

The building of two permanent bridges by the city authorities will give Santa Fe permanent improvements that are much needed and set the pace for work along similar lines in the future. At the same time one must recall with regret, the thousands and thousands of dollars that have been frittered away the past few decades for temporary repairs for whose cost Santa Fe is no better off than it was a hundred years ago. It is that which makes the present era in the city's and county's growth so remarkable, that a large share of the sums expended is for permanent improvement and the knowledge of this makes the tax burden very much lighter for the average tax payer who is willing to contribute his financial share to the community's welfare, but objects to its being frittered away for ephemeral things.

The June Columbian, in reviewing the army maneuvers at San Antonio, Texas, declares: "It is hard to keep tidy, where, when it rains the soil forms in a 'gumbo' which gathers on the tramping feet to the weight of a full pound, and where, when it is dry, the dust flies in such clouds that one must keep his eyes half shut in order to protect them and see clearly how to guide a mounted animal. It is hard to keep things clean." Now, if that army post were located at Santa Fe, and the maneuvers had been held in the Pecos forest, the tale would have been different and the effort would have been less costly and still far more valuable than the picnic at Fort Sam Houston.

The U. S. Indian Industrial School, in the suburbs of this city is a splendid institution well-managed by Superintendent Clinton J. Crandall and an efficient staff. Practical ideas underlie the educational methods that are being applied at the school and the red man graduating from it, is generally better able to make his way in the world than the average graduate from the schools for the palefaced, for the simple reason that manual training is an important part of the training at the Indian school. Every girl who graduates from the Indian Industrial School, knows something about cooking, sewing and housework. Of how many "sweet" girl graduates of New Mexico's public schools can the same be said?

People are falling over themselves to subscribe for the three per cent Panama bonds which Uncle Sam is offering for sale, and which have some limitations that ordinarily do not circumscribe Uncle Sam's bond issues such as, for instance, that they cannot be used by banks to secure their circulation. It is strange how people who are satisfied with three per cent return on their money from the government pass by safe opportunities to invest money in New Mexico at six and even eight and ten per cent.

Albuquerque is to have a public playground. The Civic Improvement Association is seeking to this. It does not argue that Albuquerque has hundreds of square miles of mesa and forests within easy reach but recognizes the necessity of having a playground within the city limits. Children must play and it is better to have their games on the public play grounds under proper supervision than on the streets or in vacant lots scattered over the city.

Maine is a prohibition state, but although it has no breweries, the value of its manufactures amounts to $176,000,000 and more annually, according to a census bulletin issued today. Something like 50,000 people are employed in the mills and factories in which $202,260,000 capital are invested. In other words, the manufacturing interests of Maine are twenty-five times as large as those of New Mexico which has far greater advantages and has almost four times the area.

The New Mexican prefers the words "summer school" to "Chaunauque" for Santa Fe's great midsummer educational assembly, especially after learning that "Chaunauque" is an Indian word meaning "place of easy death," "foggy place," "bag tied in the middle," "place where a child was washed away," and "place" where one was lost. None of these descriptions seem to fit Santa Fe's delightful surroundings and ideal summer climate.

"See New Mexico First!" is a good slogan and here in Santa Fe it should be supplemented with: "See Santa Fe First!" It is astonishing how little people right here at home know about Santa Fe, its surroundings, its history, its romance, its historic and scenic sights, its resources and its people.

According to Mayor Seligman's annual report, the number of taxpayers in Santa Fe is less than 600 and the total assessment less than $700,000. Santa Fe is poorer than towns like Silver City or Alamogordo, and many second class villages in the east that might be mentioned.

Santa Fe should have a public bath house. Progressive cities in America and Europe, even along the seashore, have installed public bathing places and the construction of such a bath house would be another important evidence that Santa Fe is at the head of the progressive line in New Mexico.

The Indian who named Chicago, which means, "bad smell," must have had the latter day Democratic misgovernment of the Windy City in mind.

WHERE WERE ENTHUSIASTIC FANS LAST NIGHT?

As announced in the New Mexican, the board of control of the Santa Fe Baseball Association met last night to hear from fans their views on organizing for the year. But the fans were conspicuous by their absence. President Arthur Seligman then said: "I fail to see where the board of control will control anything. We want the fans here to talk matters over." So the meeting adjourned.

It is said there are several problems up for solution and the board of control intends to wait until the fans get together and assist in outlining a plan of action before any steps will be taken to make dates for games. It is true that Las Vegas phoned over to ask a game Sunday but what is to be done?

WAITING.

Lights turned very low. Almost out, you know. No one in sight. On the particular night. Father's gone out to the club. Mother's upstairs tending Bub. Sis and I are close together. In big Morris chair of leather. Very, very late at night. Sister's hair, it looks a fright. Father's step upon the stair. Get an awful bad scare. Grab my hat from off the hook. Ran by father's ugly look. Beat it out with all my might. Before I got into the fight. Going back some time to dine. When from sis, I get a line. Saying things turned out all right. On that lovely winter's night.

Rich Uncle.

Young Doctor—Hello, old chap! Don't believe I have met you since we were boys at school. You're looking prosperous.

Young Lawyer—Yes; a rich uncle died two years ago and I came into possession of nearly $100,000.

Young Doctor—Why, I wasn't aware you had a rich uncle.

Young Lawyer—Oh, he wasn't my uncle. He was the uncle of one of my clients.

Distress Signal.

The elopers were stranded in Duluth, and it was a long walk home. "We must communicate with the old folks at home," said the pretty bride. "Yes," echoed the bridegroom, decisively, "we must send a wireless distress call to your father."

"Ah, the new 'S. O. S.'!"

"No, the old 'C. Q. D.'—Cash Quick, Daddy!"

Unsophisticated.

"And why will you take up two hours of my husband's valuable time?" asked the social climber.

"Because I am going to do monsignor in oil," responded the portrait painter. "Indeed! Well, see that you use the best olive oil. We are rich enough to pay for the genuine article without being bunked with substitutes."

Always to Blame.

"Of course we take our little fling at mankind in general," confessed the suffragette leader, "but I tell you, sisters, there are some blamed good husbands in this old world."

"Right you are!" spoke up the meek man who had come in unobserved. "They are blamed for everything that happens."

TOO BAD.

Mrs. Hasem (who has visions)—I do believe the world is coming to an end this week.

Mr. Hasem—Why didn't you tell me that sooner. I paid the grocer's bill this morning.

Farewell.

Ring the funeral bells of woe. Plank him 'neath the mold; Just another victim of A little spring cold!

Natural Supposition.

"I suppose the pictures made for illustration in papers and magazines are always reduced in price."

"Why do you suppose that?"

"Because the prices are naturally cut rates."

Not in a Hurry.

The Lady—I thought you said you were looking for work.

The Hobo—Well, I am, mum. But I detective, yer see, an' I'm jest after clews today.

No Insurance.

"I understand that Wintergreen made a fiasco on the platform?"

"Yes. He had too much confidence. He told me he was loaded and primed for the meeting and only needed the enkindling torch of popular favor."

"Well?"

"Somebody in the audience laughed and he blew up prematurely."

Helping Him Along.

Hotfoot Harry—An old schoolmate o' mine hung out his lawyer's shingle yesterday, and to-day I offered him his first case, just to help 'im along.

Slumber Moose—Wot was de case?

Hotfoot Harry—Told 'im de world owed me a livin', and offered 'im 50 per cent to collect de debt.—Bohemian.

DEAD STREWN OVER FIELD.

I. Madero, on his arrival in this city. They say the rebel leader will be treated with every courtesy. The general opinion is that if any attempt should be made against Madero's life or liberty the first move would be a signal for a general uprising and the immediate march of General Figueroa and his revolutionary army against the capital.

Rumor attributed the alleged plot to opposition in the army to Madero's proposal of General Gonzales y Salazar for minister of war in the provisional cabinet.

Bandits Raid Sonora Town.

Imuris, Sonora, Mexico, May 19.—Bandits raided the Chinese quarter here last night, murdering eight Chinese, and leaving three others so badly wounded that they were believed to be dead. The gardens and stores owned by the Chinese were looted. The butchery has resulted in a general exodus of Chinese, who control the truck gardens and merchandise trade of the west coast. Imuris is a station on the Mexican line of the Southern Pacific railroad, 12 miles south of Nogales.

STOCK MARKET SUFFERS FROM A SLIGHT SLUMP.

Bulls in the Wheat Pit at Chicago Discouraged by Crop Reports.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

New York, N. Y., May 19.—Trade in stocks was on a smaller scale this morning and the buoyant tone of the previous three days was missing. The market showed the effect of a lessened demand and some of the important stocks went below yesterday's closing. Bonds were firm; United States steel lost, 1-8; Union Pacific, 3-8; Atchafalaya and Southern Pacific, one each at the start. Amalgamated copper was marked up to 67 3-4 and others advanced also but when buying of copper ceased temporarily the rest of the list fell back sharply. The upward movement was resumed later by Reading, which crossed 160 for the first time in many weeks. Union Pacific, United States steel, and the copper stocks were bought heavily at advancing prices.

Bulls Discouraged.

Chicago, Ill., May 19.—Forecast of somewhat cooler weather with scattered showers; general rains in Russia and predictions of large world shipments had a discouraging effect on the bulls today. The demand in the pit was unusually slow. The opening figures on wheat were a shade to 318 down. Corn sagged with wheat. July opened a shade lower to 1-8.

Rather plentiful offerings checked the talk of drought from having much bullish influence on oats.

July started unchanged to 1-4 up at 34 1-4.

Provisions displayed more power of absorption than expected. First sales were 2 1-2 higher to 2 1-2 off.

Favorable crop reports from the Northwest led to further weakness in wheat. The closing was steady, however.

Assertions that foreigners were reselling, counted against values. The close, nevertheless, was steady.

Market Closed Heavy.

New York, N. Y., May 19.—The series of up and down movements puzzled the professionals, the market holding hardly long enough in one direction to assure profitable trading. During the latter part of the day, the speculation was dull and narrow and the market closed heavy.

WALTER THOUGHT SMALLPOX A HUGE JOKE.

Taken Out of Denver Restaurant to Police Headquarters, and Caused a Panic.

Denver, Colo., May 19.—John Collins Smith, a waiter walked arm in arm with Detective John Kenney into Chief Armstrong's office at police headquarters. Smith had been arrested by Detectives Kenney and Sanders, charged with the theft of $60 from the restaurant where he was employed. During the trip to headquarters Smith smiled continually.

"Young man, this is a serious business and you should not be smiling," Chief Armstrong said when he met Smith.

"Say, chief, I can't keep the joke to myself any longer," the prisoner replied. "I know that I am not going to jail just yet, for I have the worst case of smallpox you ever saw."

When the excitement had subsided Detective Kenney ordered the man out of Chief Armstrong's office.

Smith proceeded the detective into the city hall and to the offices of Health Commissioner Sharpley. Dr. Sharpley announced that Smith told the truth.

He was rushed to the pest house and further investigation of his alleged theft will await his dismissal from the detention hospital in Sand Creek.

For the next two weeks tell your troubles to Councilman Celso Lopez, in the store of Seligman Brothers, for the mantle of the mayor has fallen on Mr. Lopez' shoulders. That is the looking after complaints has fallen on his shoulders. This was decided by the council upon request of Mayor Seligman who is far behind on his work owing to the petty details that he has had to look after.

In making complaints by mail, a favorite method by the way, the complainant will do well to sign his name to the letters. Anonymous communications will not receive attention.

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

There is a natural element of the circulation known as plasma, a fibrous constituent which is the true healing quality of the blood. This plasma property is frequently destroyed by impure accumulations in the blood, and this vital fluid not only loses its power to heal, but becomes a source of irritation to any wound or open sore or ulcer on the flesh. The blood continually discharges the impurities into the place and gradually the infection spreads and the sore enlarges. External applications cannot cure an old sore, because such treatment does not affect the blood; the most that can be expected from plasters, washes, salves, etc., is a cleansing, soothing effect on the ulcer. S. S. S. heals old sores in a perfectly natural way. It goes down into the blood, and removes the impurities and morbid matters that are the means of keeping the ulcer open; then the sore is bound to heal. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and not only does it cleanse the circulation, but it restores the healing, plastic qualities and aids in promoting every necessary quality for good health. S. S. S. builds new flesh tissue from the bottom of the ulcer to the outer skin, and makes a permanent cure. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

GLEANINGS BY A RUSTY PEN

(By J. W. R.)

Too Seldom the Case.
A Boston woman says that women are "finer grained, physically and morally than men." Yes, finer tongued too.

A Bad Egg.
"Why is Ferguson like a ring?"
"Because he goes with Hand and knocks."

Where Faith Won't Work.
A St. Louis minister advises healing by faith. What's the case when you get stung by a bee? We'd feel like the Irishman and say: "Faith;
and th' bee be damned!"

Like Mother Used to Make (?)
A society of bachelors discussed the question of restaurants: how unbearable they were getting to be, etc., and one-half of them tendered their resignations from the club and were going to enter into the holy bonds of mari-trony, that probably would be better than restaurants. Love is blind and so is man. After eating pills, biscuits, cake, etc., made by some wives, he will probably change his mind (if he lives through it) and will eternally cuss the man who ever invented mari-trony.

Pinched for Speeding.
A couple of joy-riders of this city have had warrants issued for them on account of speeding in the city. Oh you Louie!

Those Reformers!
Why doesn't some kind person give the kid at least a little of the glorious Fourth? We suggest that it be called Fourth of Ju-Christ-mas, get a willow tree and decorate same with firecrackers and rockets filled with candy, give them drums, tinpalls, etc., to march around same to the tune of America. It would be such fun!

Like Santa Fe.
Two lonesome skunks, by the roadside stood,
As an automobile went by.
It left an odor far from good,
And a tear was in one's eye.
"Why do you weep?" asked his anxious friend,
"Why do you sob and quake?"
"Because that smell," said the other skunk,
"Is like mother used to make."

NEW MEXICO POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

The Right Color.
As the inventor of the little blue ballot Ferguson must have consulted his feelings in selecting the color.—Albuquerque Herald.

Nothing But Sound.
Statehood for New Mexico and Arizona is to be the issue before Congress this week, and an effort is being made to limit debate to three days. All of which is a direct slap at Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, who is known to be wound up for a week's run, and who will find it exceedingly difficult to bring his few remarks to a close within the brief period of three days.—El Paso Times.

Taft, Insurgent.
Are we dreaming or is T. Roosevelt re-incarnate in the White House? The president has insured against the exclusive snobbery of one of the most exclusive Washington clubs and has branded some of its members as "small headed." T. Roosevelt, of course, would have said "pin-headed," and would have said several other things which will never invade the Taft vocabulary; but it must be admitted that Mr. Taft is also capable of surprises. It must have been a real outrage, too to stir our large, benevolent, easy going and smiling executive into such an outburst.—Albuquerque Journal.

A Threat or a Promise?
When it suits the purpose of this paper to explain why we did not get statehood March 4th, the bosses behind the New Mexican will sit up and take notice.

We admit, frankly, that the Range is a "bossed" paper, and are not ashamed of the fact. There are two of them: Mr. Conscience and Mr. People, and the New Mexican has not even a bowing acquaintance with either of them.

We have served these bosses to the best of our ability, and shall continue to do so, and the people will recognize that we cannot serve others, while acknowledging this collar.—Raton Range.

Statehood Mutterings.
Sound opinion from lawyer members of the United States Senate says the following course is justified: Should the extraordinary session fail to admit New Mexico, a non-current Senate resolution could be introduced, declaring as the Senate of that body, that the President, on the expiration of the Sixty-first Congress, becomes empowered to approve New Mexico's constitution and to notify the governor to call an election of officers for a full state government. Some Senator would gain 327,000 friends by putting the resolution through, and it can be done.

Just suppose. If there were a sudden call for troops to rally to the support of the Nation, and Arizona and New Mexico were called upon for their quota, could anybody blame the governors of the territories for replying thus to Congress: "The STATES of Arizona and New Mexico would furnish five or ten fully equipped regiments within thirty days, but the TERRITORIES can not spare a man."

The Republicans in the committee on territories have reported a minority demand for the adoption of the constitution without amendment. We would like to ask if the 43,000 people who voted ON the constitution, the 31,000 who voted OR it—or any considerable or representative number of them instructed these representatives to take this course? We have not heard of ANYBODY WHO COUNT in New Mexico seriously objecting to again voting on the questioned sections for which amendments are desired.

If the "little four" cannot explain their antics at Washington with more grace and success than Ferguson did before the committee, it might be just as well for them to stop in the east. They would never be recalled.—Raton Range.

THAT AWFUL BACKACHE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and an enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have the backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. OLLIE WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

church federation with its 32 Christian denominations.

"The spirit of Christian Unity," he continued, "is still further revealed in the loving approach toward church union by churches holding to the same doctrine and policy. This is clearly manifest among the different branches in sister denominations. As for ourselves who can doubt God will make the place of his feet in our land more glorious by bringing together in name and in heart, as one, the different reformed churches holding the Presbyterian system. Are any praying for this?"

"Do we differ in the non-essentials of our Christian journey? Is it true the sky and the passing clouds and the setting sun do not always speak the same language to us? If so, let it be so, but in this we must agree, then we are some of one father whom we obey, that he has revealed himself to us through his divine son, our elder brother, who loved us and gave himself for us by his death, who rose again and is our king. Let us proclaim his kingship to the world and salvation to His name alone! Let us live and so proclaim that all may know that God also hath highly exalted Him and given Him a name which is above every name; that at the name of Jesus, every knee should bow, of things in Heaven and things in earth, and things under the earth and that every tongue should confess Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father."

NEGRO HAS CHANCE TO MAKE GOOD.

The South and Southwest Offer Him a Competence and Independence.

San Antonio, Texas, May 19.—That the negro has an opportunity in the South not always present elsewhere is finely illustrated in the following story. Fred Jamison is a negro gardener and truck farmer residing northwest of this city who has been in the business for the past three years, starting when his worldly effects consisted of a gray mule, a family of seven, and two dogs, one of the latter, to use Jamison's own statement, "the best possum dog that ever struck a cold trail." Six months or more ago Jamison gave his note to a man by the name of Felter for $35. The day the note was due, Felter was passing Jamison's home, when the latter hailed him and said: "Mr. Felter, have you all come after that money? Felter, not realizing that the note was due that day and had not thought of the note. "Well," said Jamison, "that $35 is due and I'll pay it, but I'll have you all get a check and I haven't any checks here. Have you all got a check on the Alamo National Bank?" Being told that Felter had not such a check, the negro then said: "Have you got a check on the Lockwood National Bank?" To this inquiry, Felter had to plead lack of possession. Then said Jamison: "Have you got a check on the Frost National Bank?"

its creed—the confession of faith— which sets forth in an orderly way the doctrines taught in the bible as understood by us. We ask our ministers in their ordination vows, and while they may be permitted some elasticity in the interpretation of the phrase "containing the system of doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures," there should be no juggling with the phraseology and the acceptance should be sincere. And further the highest judiciary of the church must be the final court for the declaration of the necessary and essential articles of faith. Such a declaration was made by the general assembly one year ago. The Presbyterian church has always stood for the sovereignty of God, for the bible as the infallible rule of faith and practice, and for the salvation through Jesus Christ who died for our sins and rose again. These truths, and others in harmony therewith, have been the teaching of the church from the days of the apostle down to the present hour. Opposition has arrayed itself, unbelief has sent forth its challenge, doubt has been alert, and unfriendly criticism has ridiculed. Through it all, the church has continued loyal to its commission and to its Divine Leader, and today in the face of agitation, it can possess the assurance of the Apostle Paul: "Nevertheless, the foundation of God standeth sure."

Church Unity of the present day was emphasized, according to Dr. Little, by the numerous interdenominational associations, conventions, councils, brotherhoods, the laymen's missionary movement and the inter-

In this particular, Felter had the required blank and was soon in possession of the check for $35. The negro while his surroundings did not indicate it, living as he does in a little three-room house and making three crops a year on a 32-acre tract of land, had money in every pocket and is a fine illustration of the fact that the negro has a chance in the south to become an important industrial factor, and those who like Jamison are attending to business find little difficulty in making themselves self supporting and laying by a little competency for the period of inactivity incidental to old age."

Her Spinster Aunts

By M. Dibbell

"It is either plant the peas twelve inches deep the first of April, or not at all," snapped Charlotte Graydon, with the air of one whose decision is not to be questioned.

Her sister Julia was fully prepared for the fray and answered instantly: "It is either plant them eight inches deep the last of April, or I shall leave this house forever."

The two spinsters paused at this point to glare fiercely at each other, while their niece, Adelaide, wildly racked her brain for the oil of some calming thought to cast upon the troubled waters. Speedily an apparently very simple solution of the difficulty came to her.

"Why not plant half of them on the first of the month as you wish, Aunt Charlotte, and then the other half at its end to suit Aunt Julia. In that manner you would find whose way was really best," she suggested.

"Never!" said Aunt Charlotte positively. "It is just a sinful waste of Nature's supply to use it as Julia proposes. I think it is time the question was finally settled; for fifteen years we have lived in this house, and never in all these years have we had a single sweet pea of our own—simply because of Julia's wicked obstinacy."

"Plant everything to suit yourself, and I will do the same, but not within many miles of you," answered her sister. "It certainly is time that this question was settled, Charlotte, and I will do my share toward settling it by leaving you the place to do with as you choose." Aunt Julia turned and left the room, closing the door not too softly in her wake.

"Ah, Aunt Charlotte, don't let such a little thing as a few wretched sweet peas separate you and Aunt Julia," cried Adelaide in dismay.

Julia is old enough to decide for herself; if she prefers to go off on a tangent instead of using a small quantity of common sense I cannot help it." Then, she, also, departed, but through the opposite door from her sister.

At first Adelaide hardly knew whether to laugh or cry.

"I simply must manage in some way to keep the dear, notional aunts together. They would be utterly miserable separated," she mused.

At last a satisfactory solution seemed to occur to her.

"That is just the thing," she exclaimed aloud. "If Macgregor lays down the law for them surely they will abide by his decision. I will go and find him at once!"

Had she known that this threat of a final separation was just as regular a part of the yearly squabble as the manner in which the sweet peas were to be planted, Adelaide would not have decided on her present plan of action.

Macgregor was head gardener for the great Macvane estate, which was celebrated for its fine green-houses, and also for its splendid showing of flowers throughout the summer season.

She made her way to the potting room of the main green-house, where Macgregor was generally to be found fussing over some of his plant babies; but the face of the man clad in working clothes who turned from his work at her entrance, was strange to Adelaide.

It was a bright, boyish face, lighted by a pair of deep gray eyes; his fair wavy hair was cut so close that the wave had little chance to show.

Macgregor's wrinkled visage and snow white mop of hair were quite different.

"I am looking for Macgregor," Adelaide said, as the strange young man advanced toward her.

"I am sorry," he answered, "but Macgregor received news yesterday of the blooming out of a very rare orchid at Wilton, and he hurried over there, leaving me in charge. You know orchids are his hobby. I do not expect him back until late tomorrow. But cannot I serve in Macgregor's place?" he asked as he saw the disappointment in her eyes.

"I am afraid you have not been long enough at the business for your word to carry such weight as Macgregor's," answered Adelaide; "but I will tell you why I want to see him so much. Perhaps you can make some suggestion."

She explained the trouble over the planting of the sweet peas, and told of Aunt Julia's threat.

"How would a booklet on the subject do, until Macgregor returns?" queried the interested young florist. "I know he wrote one especially on sweet pea culture several years ago, and has received many letters from persons who have tried his method and been delighted with the result. As it bears his name, perhaps it

"That is a first rate idea," assented Adelaide, gratefully. "I hope it may settle the whole question, for the next best thing to Macgregor himself would be something over his name."

The obliging young gardener at once went for one of the booklets, and quickly returned with a copy.

"And you might tell them that Macgregor's sweet peas have taken first prize at the state fair for five straight years," he remarked, as he gave it to Adelaide.

"Thank you so much," she answered, "and I am almost sure no other help will be needed."

Adelaide hastened homeward with the light of victory in her eyes. Upon entering the big dining-room where she had left Aunt Charlotte she was surprised to see that Aunt Julia was also seated in the bay window, working industriously at her tatting. With all the impetuosity of youth she waved aloft the small but important booklet, and cried:

"Here is an authority neither of you can deny, for you have known Macgregor for centuries, and this is what he says about sweet peas."

Her aunt gazed at her in astonishment, but it did not take their energetic niece long to explain the purpose of her walk and the information she had acquired.

"And what can you want better than the way that has won the state prize for five years?" she inquired in conclusion.

Hastily throwing on her wraps she seated herself between the two aunts and started to read them Macgregor's booklet. After several pages of general directions as to soil, situation, etc., the rule for planting was reached. To this both aunts listened with intense interest, while Adelaide slowly read:

"Plant in trench 18 inches deep early in March, as soon as ground is workable."

That was all as to planting, and Adelaide looked up saying triumphantly: "So neither of you was right, you see; and I hope that next month you will have a good long trench of sweet peas planted according to Macgregor's directions." She jumped up and gave each aunt a good hard hug.

"Now will you be good, and live together in peace and harmony?" she asked in high delight.

Both Aunt Charlotte and Aunt Julia hastened to assure her that such was their intention, and that they should certainly try Macgregor's rule for sweet pea planting. Aunt Charlotte added:

"I think it would take more than a flower to part Julia and me, in spite of all her threats; but we are both glad to have the matter settled peacefully I am sure, even if we are fond of squabbling. You are a dear, thoughtful child, Adelaide."

The following evening on answering a ring at the door herself, Adelaide beheld to her surprise Macgregor standing before her, while behind him she saw the face of the obliging young florist, who had presented her with the booklet. Macgregor spoke at once.

"We have come to see if any more help is needed to settle the disagreement between your two aunts. Young Loftin Macvane could not rest until he knew that the advice he gave was sufficient to smooth things over."

"Come in and see for yourselves," laughed Adelaide. "Your booklet acted like a charm, Macgregor, harmony now reigns supreme."

The aunts were pleased to see their old friend Macgregor, and also to meet after so long an absence, the youngest of the large Macvane family.

All the Macvane youngsters had been educated abroad, and had seen little of their native land during the educational period. Young Loftin Macvane had been in the United States for over a year; but he had been traveling all about the wildest parts of the west, as he took a great interest in forestry. Anything in the way of plants appealed to him, and when a week before he had returned to the big Macvane homestead he at once donned working togs and became Macgregor's enthusiastic assistant.

In spite of his foreign schooling, young Loftin was an ardent admirer of America and everything American. The pretty niece coming on her errand of good will had made a deep impression on his heart; so upon Macgregor's return nothing would answer but their paking an immediate call on this charming countrywoman and her aunts.

This first call with Macgregor was the first of many young Loftin made, and the two maiden aunts awoke before long to the realization that a very sweet little romance was being enacted before their eyes.

"And just to think, I might have gone away again, as I intended, and never seen you, if your own dear, tender heart had not led you to me—just because you could not hear to see your blessed aunts unhappily."

Young Loftin was saying one summer-day soon after their betrothal to Adelaide. "You are an angel of goodness."

THE POETIC ATTITUDE.
The birds of spring
Will warble soon,
Of birds awing
And golden June.

Tho' a poetry mill
But poorly pays,
We'll have our fill
Of roundelay.

And sonnets, too,
And triolets,
When rhymeters woo
Their Juliet.

And flood the world
With needless sighs
'Bout rose leaves curled
Where Cupid lies.

Too Slow.
A Chinese laundryman in Oakland, Cal., recently had his troubles with a watch that habitually lost time. So he took the timepiece to the nearest watchmaker.

"Watche no good to Charlie Lee," said he, briefly, pushing it across the counter. "You fixee him, eh?"

"Certainly," said the watchmaker. "What seems to be the trouble with it?"

"Oh, him too much by 'n' by," said Charlie Lee.—Woman's National Daily.
