NEW JERSEY LAUNCHED

SIZE AND COST OF THE BATTLESHIP NEW JERSEY.

Cost ..... $5,000,000
Length of hull ..... 355 feet
Beam ..... 36 feet 2 1/2 inches
Displacement ..... 13,500 tons
Draft ..... 26 feet
Officers and men ..... 812

Quincy, Mass., Nov. 10.—Christened a daughter of the state whose name she is to bear, the magnificent battleship New Jersey was launched today from the yard of the Fore River and Machine company. Hundreds of persons saw the ship plunge into water, and for some time after she chugged along the river. It was Mrs. William H. Kimball, daughter of Gov. F. A. Smith of New Jersey, who smashed the additional bottle of American champagne against the steel prow of the ship as it started down the ways. New Jersey party included Gov. Arny and numerous other state officials, together with visitors from other cities of the state. On the listening stand also were prominent officers from the Charleston and New York navy yards, from Philadelphia, Washington and other points. The New Jersey, when completed, will be one of the most powerful battleships in the world. She is one of five ships authorized by congress in 1900, and belongs to the Virginia class. Her sister ship, the Rhode Island, was launched at the Fore River yards last May. This class are all constructed with double turret. The New Jersey is the last ship with double turret the government intends to build. The double turret has its disadvantages, according to naval experts.

After considerable delay the keel of the New Jersey was laid in 1901. Since then the work has gone rapidly on, but it will be another year before the vessel will go into commission. Then the total cost to the government will be about $5,000,000. The New Jersey's length on hullwater line is 355 feet, breadth 36 feet and full load draft 26 feet. Her displacement will be 13,500 tons.

The New Jersey will have a speed of at least 19 knots. She will be propelled at this high speed by twin screws driven by two four-cylinder engines of 19,000 indicated horse power. The New Jersey's armament will consist of four 12-inch guns, mounted on balanced turrets, one turret being located forward of the superstructure and the other aft. Of the 12-inch guns, four will be mounted by pairs in turrets and four in two side turrets located amidships. There will also be a broadside battery on the gun deck of twelve 6-inch rapid fire guns, mounted six on each side.

The secondary battery will consist of twelve 3-inch fifty caliber rapid fire guns, twelve semi-automatic, eight heavy automatic, two 20-caliber machine guns and six 30-caliber Colt automatic guns. She will also be fitted with submerged torpedo tubes. To make her defensive qualities proportional to her offensive qualities she is provided with a complete water line belt of armor, eight feet in width, eleven inches thick at the top, and eight inches at the bottom. The New Jersey has also a complete armor belt extending over 245 feet of her entire length.

It is the intention of the government to make all the vessels of the New Jersey and Virginia class flagships. With this end in view accommodations were made for one day officer, one commanding officer, one chief of staff, sixteen warship officers, ten junior officers, eight warrant officers and a crew of 772 men, including a force of one hundred fifty marines.

In the matter of electrical appliances the New Jersey will be superior to any other battleship ever constructed for this government.

ALBUQUERQUE REALTY IS NOW BOOMING

THE ALBUQUERQUE TRACTION, LAND AND IMPROVEMENT COMPANY MAKE IMPORTANT PURCHASES.

That Albuquerque real estate has been very lively the past fifteen days shown by the large number of transfers recorded. Unimproved real estate lots have been decidedly active. It is strong evidence that home buyers are busy. The Albuquerque traction, land and improvement company made a very important purchase, when it bought a large tract of common land in the northwest part of the city known as the Peres tract. The purchase, it will be noted, includes the whole block of the Peres addition. Apparently it means that the Albuquerque traction company con-plates extending the street car line out toward the lumber mills and improving that part of the city.

LILELY TO MAKE BARRACKS BIGGER

GEN. FRANK BALDWIN TELLS ARIZONA PEOPLE THAT GOVERNMENT WILL PROBABLY INCREASE IMPORTANCE OF THE ARMY POST.

Gen. Frank D. Baldwin, commander of Colorado division, arrived at Prescott, Arizona, Monday morning from Fort Apache, where he has been for four days to make an inspection of Whipple barracks. He will leave for southern Arizona to visit Fort Grant and Huachuca. Asked about the future of Whipple barracks, he said: "I expect an order before long that will establish regimental headquarters at Whipple to replace two company posts it now constitutes. This will mean stationing of between 800 and 1,000 men there. Whipple is looked on very favorably in Washington and I am sure it will not be overlooked."

While in Prescott Monday morning Gen. Baldwin was the guest of Frank M. Murphy, president of the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix road. At noon he was escorted to barracks by a detachment of cavalry and is making his headquarters there while in that vicinity.

A DESERTED GIRL.

A small staid girl of possibly eleven years, in distress, says the El Paso News. Her name is Leona Doane and she arrived last night on the Rock Island from Rodeo, New Mexico, expecting to meet her mother, who was recently married to a Mr. 29. John son. Little Leona does not even know her stepfather; in fact she has never seen him, but when she got off of last night's train she expected her mother to meet her.

No mother was there, so small Miss Leona asked the engineer, who came in on the train with her, if he knew where her people lived. She had the address of 325 West Overland street on her grip, but when taken there by the engineer the house was vacant.

ROOSEVELT ELECTED

New York, Nov. 9.—President Roosevelt will have 255 electoral votes probably as the result of yesterday's balloting. Late unofficial returns give the basis for this estimate, which may be increased by eighteen votes from Missouri, which when the returns from that state shall have been completed; or, on the other hand, may be reduced seven votes when the count is complete in West Virginia. Both sides claim a victory in Missouri, where the republican state committee believe that Governor Walbridge was elected by 2,500 to 4,000 and have carried the state for Roosevelt. In West Virginia the returns are coming in very slowly, but a republican victory is indicated. A careful estimate shows that Roosevelt carried every state except southern states.

Dixie Daughters in New York.

New York, Nov. 11.—The organization of the Dixie Daughters' club which has for its object the promotion of social relations among southerners in this city and the study of southern literature, was perfected today at a well-attended meeting held in the red and white room of the new Hotel Astor. Mrs. Jefferson Davis is the honorary president of the new society, and the active president is Mrs. Nellie Milburn Franklin, formerly of Waco, Texas.

NEW MEXICAN AT CHICAGO.

John Davis, of Maxwell City, N. M., arrived at the yards this morning from St. Louis, where he had been attending the world's fair. Mr. Davis has resided in that part of the territory for over thirty years, and is a well known ranchman. He operates his ranch on what is known as the Maxwell Land Grant, which comprises over 2,000,000 acres of land. "We had an extremely dry season all last winter and during the spring," said Mr. Davis, and the stock owners were compelled to reduce the size of their herds, so that at the present time we are not overstocked and will be in pretty fair shape to go through the winter. We had heavy rain during the past month, and for days ago had a heavy snow storm, so that the ground will be moistened up in good shape for next season."—Chicago Herald.

TIED WOMEN

Women who are easily fatigued, tired, nervous or sleepless will derive great benefit from a few doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is a mild tonic for their various organs and strengthens and stimulates them in the performance of their duties. Women everywhere who have tried it freely endorse it. We urge all women to try a bottle. It also cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Poor Appetite, Cramps and Sick Headache.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

The late of the military post at Albuquerque depends upon the election of Mr. Andrews. If Mr. Money is elected it is certain he will do all that he possibly can to secure the military post for his own town. He would not be true to himself if he did not. This city needs a postoffice building. If Mr. Andrews gets a decent vote here he will be under obligation to work for the appropriation. Mr. Money will be under no possible obligation to Albuquerque, and cannot be expected to help build up a rival against his home town.

The above are good reasons why this city should work for the election of Mr. Andrews, but the principal reason why Albuquerque should work for his election is from the fact that he is building a railroad to this city and is clearly identified with the interests of the people. He intends to make his home and headquarters here, and is in position to do much for the future growth of this enterprising community. If he is beaten by the vote of Albuquerque he cannot be expected to be enthusiastic for the future of the town that banished him.

DUTY OF CITIZENS.

There are men in every community who find fault with government and with officials, and yet often boast about not being politicians and caring nothing about politics. Very often they neglect to register and in other cases fail to vote because they cannot spare the time or do not want to put themselves to the trouble of going to the voting place. In our government the will of the people is the supreme law of the land. That is the foundation stone of our constitution and the fundamental principle of a republican form of government. There is only one way in this country in which the will of the people can be ascertained, and that is through the individual voter. To ascertain the correct will of the people every voter should express his opinion. He cannot do this by word of mouth so as to have it form a part of the great whole. He can only have an influence in finally shaping and forming this great will of the people by going to the polls and voting. At the ballot box every voter is on an equality. Official position, wealth, standing, etc., all count for nothing. The humblest citizen can cast but one vote. The greatest citizen can do no more. The man who is entitled to vote and fails to do so fails in his duty, and to that extent at least is not a good citizen. He has no right to criticize or to find fault with the will of the people as ascertained without his aid. His mouth should be sealed. Yet it is sometimes the case that these very men who neglect to perform this duty are the most persistent fault finders.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.
The public school system of the United States is one of the most potent agents for good that modern civilization can boast. The education that begins in the little red school house and ends in the high school or university has made the United States the most enlightened, prosperous and independent nation on earth.

As long as the public schools are maintained our people will always have freedom of thought and a republican form of government. Our moral and moral nature will develop along free lines and every person will be accorded the individual independence of thought and action guaranteed by the federal constitution. When we consider the present bright condition of the common people of countries where the school systems are not under the control of the state, and when we consider the great disturbances in bygone days caused by a misunderstanding as to the true aims of education, we can find abundant reason why our public school system should be maintained and cherished as a priceless boon.

The cost of this free education is comparatively trifling. The average expenditure per pupil for the whole school year in the United States, according to Commissioner Harris' report for 1901, was only $2.14. The daily expenditure was only about 14 cents.

IS HEARST FOR ROOSEVELT?

The Los Angeles Herald, a leading democratic paper of the Pacific coast, has been claiming for some time that Mr. William H. Hearst is opposed to the election of Parker. Various quotations have been made from Mr. Hearst's papers by the Herald in support of its contention that the favorite of the radical democracy is not supporting in good faith the democratic candidate for the presidency.

The last exhibit of the Herald is a special dispatch from Boston, which reads:

"A headstrong S. D. special agent: 'William H. Hearst, democratic candidate for the nomination for president before the St. Louis convention, is apparently supporting Roosevelt for the presidency.' 'The Homestead mines are placarded from the surface to the lowest depths of the mine with these signs: 'Vote for Roosevelt for president.' 'Don't forget that in voting for Roosevelt you vote for a continuance of prosperity.' 'The Homestead mines are the property of the Hearsts and are controlled by William H. Hearst and his mother.' 'When William H. Hearst was a candidate for the nomination he directed the Homestead managers to vote for him in the convention of the Black Hills counties, and every county sent delegates favorable to him to the state convention. These in turn declared for Hearst, and sent a delegation instructed for him, with former Senator Pettibone heading the delegation.' 'If Mr. Hearst is advising his employees that in voting for Roosevelt they are voting for a continuance of prosperity,' he is manifesting a keen comprehension of the facts."

It is confidently expected that Parker and Port Arthur will fall today with a dull thud.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

(From Saturday's Daily Citizen.)
A vote for Andrews is a vote to help build up Albuquerque.
Gov. Greer will face an opposition legislature this winter.
Senator Andrews deserves the solid republican vote of this city and county.

George P. Money, if elected, will see to it that this city does not get that military post.

The death rate among miners from lung disease is much higher than in any other occupation.

Voters are in demand in Colorado. Fifteen dollars each is said to be the running price at Trinidad.

Thomas H. Hubbell will lead the ticket at next Tuesday. He deserves to do so. He is the best sheriff in New Mexico.

If elected delegate, George P. Money will take good care to prevent Albuquerque getting that postoffice building.

Parker is proving himself to be a cheap ward politician. He is charged by President Roosevelt with uttering falsehoods.

The republicans of this county are making a remarkably active campaign, and will make almost a clean sweep next Tuesday.

Don J. Rankin is the republican candidate for county surveyor. He understands the business thoroughly, and will be elected by a big vote.

San Miguel county will elect an anti-Otero delegation to the territorial convention. Both parties have formulated candidates opposed to the governor.

Gov. Otero takes it as a personal insult if any of his appointees are criticized by the common people. He may conclude to deport all such offenders.

Mon. Jesus Romero, the republican candidate for probate judge, will carry every precinct in the county, including the two city precincts. He is all right.

The feast of the Russian navy are at least such as to lessen the humiliation which Spain feels when she recalls the fact that she, too, once had a navy.

The United States postal service is not self supporting. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1903, the expenditures were $128,788,458 and the receipts $124,224,443.

James A. Summers has made a most excellent clerk of the probate court. He is up again before the people for reelection, and will be successful by a convincing majority.

Senator Andrews is a builder. His work in New Mexico has helped to redeem much of the desert waste. His railroad building has developed the central portion of the territory.

Alfred Grunwald and Severo Sanchez are the two candidates for county commissioners on the republican ticket. Both are good citizens and will be elected by the usual republican majorities.

Frank Durham, Rafael Chavez, Gerardo Pacheco, Nicanor Martinez and 9000 Armo are the republican candidates for river commissioners. They are all water experts and will be elected by big majorities.

Salvador Vigil is the republican candidate for superintendent of the county schools. He will carry every precinct in the county and will have a big vote in the city. He will be elected by a big majority.

Judge Reforino Crotti, who will represent Bernalillo county in the lower house of the next territorial legislature, is familiar with the needs of his constituents, and will prove one of the most valuable members of the next legislature.

George F. Abright is before the people of Bernalillo county as the republican candidate for assessor. He is thoroughly familiar with the duties of the office, and will receive the full republican vote of the county and city on election day.

Mon. Thomas N. Wilkerson, the candidate of the republican party for representative from Bernalillo and McKinley counties, will be elected by the usual republican majorities. He will prove an excellent member of the territorial legislature.

The siege of Port Arthur is titanic. The slopes of the defenses drip with blood. Forty thousand Japanese have lost their lives in assaults upon the fortress. Its defense will go down in history as one of the most heroic of the many memorable sieges.

It is estimated that the postoffice department will require $182,784,435 for the fiscal year 1905. In 1896 the expenditures were only $90,626,296. An increase of over 100 per cent. In ten years is a tremendous showing, and dwarfs the record of any previous ten years in the history of the department.

Mon. W. H. Greer is the republican candidate for the legislative council from the counties of Bernalillo, McKinley and Sandoval and he will be elected by the usual republican majorities given in these three counties. Mr. Greer is heavily interested in Albuquerque enterprises, and will poll a big vote in the two city precincts.

Hon. Nestor Montoya, the republican candidate for territorial council from Bernalillo county, is one of the best Spanish orators of central New Mexico, and besides is a fluent English talker. He is editor of La Bandera Americana, and is thoroughly identified with the upbuilding of this city. Mr. Montoya will be elected by a big majority.

The governor's organ in this city says that his majesty was insulted by Frank A. Hubbell at a public meeting at Las Vegas. The organ says that Mr. Hubbell referred to one of his highest appointees as uncomplimentary, and that his lordship is indignant. The kitchen cabinet will be assembled at Santa Fe and the proper punishment will be meted out to the presumptuous Mr. Hubbell.

(From Monday's Daily Citizen.)
The Citizen is pleased with the political situation.
The campaign lie is everywhere to be met. Nail it.

Vote for Senator Andrews and the whole republican ticket.

In Great Britain over 800,000 persons are employed in the mining industry. They are well organized.

The Journal admits that it has no political influence in this county.

The republicans have a walkover in this county in tomorrow's election.

Democratic apathy has been succeeded by democratic hopelessness.

The Morning Journal is a hoodoo in politics. Its support of any one proves injurious.

Make it your business to go to the polls and help swell the republican majority.

The democrats are making a hard fight for their candidate for delegate to congress.

It is all over but the shouting, the spoilsbaiting, the lying, the voting and the counting.

It was the Morning Journal that went into the Otero combine to defeat Delegate Rodery.

Every factory wheel is turning and every willing hand is busy. Do the workmen want "a change?"

The greatest man living may stand in need of the meekness as much as the meekest doest of him.—Fuller.

It may be true that one half the world doesn't know how the other half lives—but the grocer does.

Just as soon as this election is over the people of New Mexico are going to whip Gov. Otero to a finish.

It often happens that when opportunity knocks at a man's door he thinks it is a collector and doesn't respond.

The Journal has made a two year's fight on the Hubbells, with the result that these gentlemen are stronger than ever.

Living is cheap in Japan. Five to seven dollars a month will supply food, fuel and clothing for a family of five persons.

It cannot be wondered at that, with a viewless candidate and a meaningless platform, the democrats should have a spiritless campaign.

THREE MILLIONS IN ARIZONA COPPER

Calumet and Hecla People Close Deal For Property Said to Rival in Production Famous Verde Mine.

Thomas F. Cole, James Hoston and D. E. Woodbridge, said to be acting for the Calumet and Hecla interests in Michigan, have closed a deal for the purchase of the Copper Chief group of claims near Jerome, Arizona, for $2,000,000. They were there last Tuesday and negotiated for the purchase with Arthur Hendy, who represents Eastern owners of the property. The Copper Chief was until recently involved in litigation with Senator William A. Clark. A compromise was effected, Clark taking half of the property, naming his share Iron King, on which a large smelter has been erected and is in operation. Both the Copper Chief and Iron King properties are said to give promise of equaling Clark's famous United Verde mine at Jerome. Cole is president of the Calumet and Arizona company at Bisbee, which is next to the United Verde and Copper Queen in importance in Arizona. Hoston and Woodbridge are interested in the sale, and are stockholders in the Calumet and Hecla.

Cause of Lockjaw.
Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin, as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal with maturation and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by all druggists.

C. H. Harmon, a Denver artist, has gone to San Diego, Cal., where he will sketch the old California missions for the Santa Fe railroad. The Santa Fe has had paintings made of most of the old Spanish missions in the southwest and desires to add the missions of San Juan Capistrano and San Luis Rey at San Diego to the collection. Mr. Harmon will make a number of paintings for the Moffat road next summer.

DANGEROUS BEGGARS

ACK STUBBS THE VICTIM—JUDGE CRAWFORD SENT THE BUNCH TO THE COUNTY JAIL.

(From Saturday's Daily Citizen.)
Jack Stubbs was assaulted, knocked down and clubbed in the face with a heavy walking stick by four beggars in front of the Arcade saloon, South First street, about 8 o'clock last evening, and would doubtless have been killed had not J. A. Abernethy, proprietor of the Arcade, come to his assistance. When Abernethy went to Stubbs' rescue he found Stubbs lying flat on his back on the sidewalk, with one leg on his feet and another on his neck and hands, while the third and fourth ruffians were beating him in the face and across the head. The police answered a telephone call, and the rioters were thrown in jail.

In Judge Crawford's court this morning they gave their names as George Hill, Frank Chickerson, Joe Johnson and John Morrison, and all appeared with an ailing. A stiff lower limb appeared to be the favorite lameness.

While the assault case was being tried W. W. McClellan, bookkeeper for Hachsch & Glom, liquor dealers, appeared and preferred a charge against these same beggars for stealing a five-gallon keg of whisky. The whisky was taken from the back door of the wholesale house on First street during the evening. It was carried to the Arcade saloon, where they attempted to sell it, and it was shortly after this that Stubbs was assaulted. Stubbs said that he met three of the beggars on the outside of the Arcade saloon, and one of them asked him for money with which to buy a bed. He had seen them with money a few minutes before and told them so. With that one of them struck him with a cane and then all of them jumped on him. He did not see the fourth man, but Mr. Abernethy identified him.

The court took cognizance of the fact that they were a very dangerous quartette to be allowed to mingle with society, and sentenced them to ninety days in the county jail.

Brady vs. Manuel Garcia, a suit in ejectment for a tract of land comprising 137 acres, also $200 damages.

Good for Children.

The plea not to take and harmless Odo Minors Cough Cure gives instant relief in all cases of cough, croup and all grippe because it does not pass immediately into the stomach, but takes effect right at the seat of the trouble. They brought back many trophies from the exposition, including some of the work of other Indian tribes at the fair with whom they traded.

Pill Pleasure.

If you ever took DeWitt's Little Early Risers for biliousness or constipation you know what pill pleasure is. These famous little pills cleanse the liver and rid the system of all bile without producing unpleasant effects. They do not grip, sicken or weaken, but pleasantly give tone and strength to the tissues and organs of the stomach, liver and bowels. D. W. Briggs & Co. and S. Vann & Son.

Says Druggist A. W. Sawelle, of Hartford, Conn. "Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose of this remedy, which helped him. I repeated the dose, and in fifteen minutes he left my store smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever." For sale by all druggists.

Has Returned to Las Vegas.

Walter O'Brien, a territorial cattle inspector for this district, returned his morning from a professional visit to Albuquerque, says the Optic. Mr. O'Brien says that the cattle shipments from the territory this fall will be earlier than for many years. As an instance of the expedient he cites the fact that Springer alone has ordered 150 cattle cars for the next week. The northern ranges are in poor condition and many of the northern stockmen do not care to sell at present prices as they are shipping out of the territory or pasturing.

A Love Letter.

Would not interest you if you're looking for a guaranteed Balve for sores, Burns or Piles. Otto Dodd, of Under, Mo., writes: "I suffered with a ugly sore for a year, but a box of udden's Arnica Balve cured me. It's the best Balve on earth. 25c at any drug store."

Hallowe'en Night in Deming.

In Judge Chapman's hallowe'en boys found their match, and a little more. He appointed a half dozen policemen, stationed them in different parts of the town with instructions to arrest and jail every boy or man found misbehaving in the city, that night. They didn't damage. The next morning only slight traces of the funny business could be found. A vote of thanks to Judge Chapman is now in order. We hope we have heard the last of hallowe'en.—Deming Graphic.

SAVED HIS LIFE.

J. W. Tinsworth, Union, Ky., writes June 14, 1900: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a tumor in my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two fifty cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." 25c, 50c, 1.00. Sold by J. H. O'Reilly & Co.

Shot Through the Heart.

Andrew Lammach, a well-known citizen of La Cueva, San Miguel county, was found dead Friday night at his home, shot through the heart. His side was a revolver with one chamber empty and articles that showed the unfortunate man to have been engaged in cleaning the weapon, when it was discharged. Mr. Lammach had been a resident of that section for many years. A large number of friends will regret the untimely accident.

Cures Winter Cough.

J. E. Gove, 101 N. Main St., Ottawa, Kan., writes: "Every fall I have been my wife's trouble to catch a severe cold, and therefore to cough all winter long. ### PREPA & YOURS LE FOR HOUSE BREAKERS.

(From Monday's Daily Citizen.) Shortly after midnight Saturday night Mrs. Maynard Gussel, of 620 West Gold avenue, had occasion to pass from her sleeping apartments into the dining room. She saw a man standing near the dining table beneath a single incandescent globe carefully examining a pocketbook, which had been left on the table. Womanlike, she screamed, and her husband rushed from the next room to her assistance, not stopping to think what the trouble might be. Mr. Gussel and the burglar met at the door between the dining room and the hall, which led to the front door. The man carried a gun in his left hand. Mr. Gussel, who was armed with a revolver, and several minutes they surged up and down the hall each striving to get the better of the other, Gussel fighting for his life and property, and the burglar fighting for liberty. The burglar was victorious in the end, and left the house by the window of the bathroom, through which he had entered, bringing off his pistol as a warning against possible chase. A physician was called and found Mr. Gussel very much exhausted. His injuries include a scratch on the head, apparently made by the sharp edge of a six-shooter hammer, and numerous bruises about the body and legs.

That part of the house, where the fight occurred, was found in confusion. Several articles of jewelry of value and a pocketbook are missing, amounting to nearly $100.

Mr. Gussel said this morning that he never had such an experience before in his life, and he would not go through it again for $500. He describes the burglar as a thick-jawed, square-shouldered negro, Mexican or dirty white man.

Mr. Gussel was called to the police station this morning to look at a couple of men arrested by the police last night, but he could not identify either of them as his midnight assailant. However, the police are not discouraged, and feel confident of finally running down the much-wanted burglar.

An examination of the house showed that it had been pilfered pretty thoroughly and that two gold band rings had been stolen. One ring bears a turquoise setting. A pearl-handled pen knife was found sticking in the window through which the thief made his escape. This knife was turned over to the police, and in it they hope to find some clue to the thief.

They secured nothing of value in Attorney Chavez's office, but in the Household Loan company they found $125 and a Smith & Wesson revolver, which are missing. The thieves gained entrance into Dr. Cornish's office through an open door and then passed from one office to the other through partition doors.

ELECTION FORECASTS.

New York, Nov. 7.—With fair weather promised for tomorrow from New York to Buffalo an extremely large vote is looked for in the city and state. Both sides continue to express the utmost confidence in the result. The democrats have been encouraged by the Brooklyn Eagle's forecast, and the statement by Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany lawyer, that he expected such a large plurality for Parker and Herick is Greater New York that he hesitated to give out the figures. Governor Odell, who is chairman of the state republican committee, and William Halpin, chairman of the New York county republican committee, declare that the democratic vote in New York will be overcome with a good margin to spare by the republican vote in the up-state counties.

An interesting feature of this year's campaign in New York is the canvass made by Thomas E. Watson, populist nominee for president, and some attention is attracted to the claim of the populist state chairman that Watson will poll from 40,000 to 50,000 in New York.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 7.—The chairmen of the republican and democratic parties claim the election on state and national tickets by large majorities. The democrats claim the election of the state ticket by a larger majority than the national ticket, while the republicans concede that the national ticket will run ahead of Peabody for governor.

Democrats Confident.

Wholesome, W. Pa., Nov. 7.—Democratic confidence is increasing. They claim the governor by 10,000 and the electoral ticket by a lesser majority. Three of the five congressmen are claimed by the democrats, while the republicans say all five will be republicans.

Fair Weather for Election.

Washington, Nov. 7.—The weather bureau today issued the following special forecast for election today: "Fair weather and reasonable temperatures is indicated for all parts of the United States on Tuesday, except cloudiness and showers or snow showers in parts of New York, northeast Pennsylvania and New England, and in the extreme north Pacific coast."

Nebraska Situation.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 7.—No effort is made by the democrats to carry the state for Parker. They claim the election of "the fusion governor by from five to ten thousand."

Republicans Claim Kentucky.

Louisville, Nov. 7.—The republican committee claims the state for Howe, while the democratic committee claims the state by from 12,000 to 20,000.

Massachusetts Election.

Boston, Nov. 7.—Campaign managers for both republican and democratic parties today express confidence as to their respective state tickets.

Missouri Democrats.

Rhode Island Republican.

Delaware for Roosevelt.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 7.—The democratic leaders today are claiming Delaware by a substantial majority, but the compromise effected by the union and regular republicans is expected to give the electoral vote to Roosevelt by at least $100.

Both Sides Claim Connecticut.

New Haven, Nov. 7.—Chairmen at both the state central committees today express confidence of carrying the state on both the national and state tickets. Both chairmen also state that the success of his party will depend in a large measure on the plurality given by cities in which the so-called labor votes will be heavy.

Colorado Close.

Both Sides Claim Indiana. Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 7.—The republican managers confidently claim the state by from 20,000 to 25,000, while the democrats also claim the state, but use no figures. The statement of democratic managers that the democratic party has not had such an organization in Indiana since 1892, and on the assurance that they will get half of the floating vote of the state the democrats are basing their hopes of carrying Indiana. The organization was made under the direction of Thomas Taggart, chairman of the democratic national committee, but the republicans have the best organization they have ever had.

Meat Campaign.

Trenton, Nov. 7.—The campaign in this state has been so heated that the respective gubernatorial candidates will not cause their respective speeches making until tonight. Both the republican and democratic managers are claiming the electoral vote with apparently the chances in favor of the former. The fight for governor, however, will be close.

California is in Doubt.

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—The republican state committee claims the state for Roosevelt by 50,000, while the democratic committee claim the democrats will win by 6,000.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Two Gallup Ladies Receive Bad Injuries While Out Driving. While Mrs. Wm. Kramer and Mrs. John Hartline were driving Sunday afternoon the ladies met with an accident from which Mrs. Kramer is laid up with the bones of both wrists broken and Mrs. Hartline has some severe bruises on her limbs, which it will take some days to recover from.

The ladies were crossing Coal avenue, the street which the pueblo follows, and when they attempted to cross the pueblo the buggy upset, and threw the ladies out.

Those acquainted with the street know that the recent deepening of the pueblo there makes quite a rut and in crossing the place with a car it is necessary to cross at right angles with the pueblo, or an upset will be the result. This the ladies evidently did not do, as at any rate they were thrown out and the wheels of the vehicle passed over the limbs of Mrs. Hartline, from which she received some very painful, while not serious injuries. Mrs. Kramer and the horses in both wrecks broken and now lie in bad perfectly helpless.—Gallup Republican.

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 8.—By the explosion of a boiler here today the plant of the Kap Furniture company, with contents, valued at $125,000, was practically destroyed, one employee killed and five others injured, one fatally.

Better Than Pills.

The question has been asked—Is what you eat Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is—They are easier and more pleasant to take, and their effect is so gentle and so agreeable that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then they not only move the bowels, but improve the appetite. For sale at 25 cents per bottle by all druggists.

Many Mothers of a Like Opinion.

Mrs. Pinner, of Cordova, Iowa, says: "One of my children was subject to croup of a severe type, and the giving of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy promptly, always brought relief. Many mothers in this neighborhood think the same as I do about this remedy and want no other kind for their children. For sale by all druggists."

SWEETING VICTORY

The County and Territorial Vote.

Precincts 12 and 14, those embodying the city of Albuquerque, polled 200 more votes yesterday than ever before, and yet there was no excitement at the polls, no great show of enthusiasm by either party. There was no drunkenness nor did a single fight or disturbance occur to mar a peaceful election.

Even last night, after the polls had closed and the returns were being received by private wires at various places in the city, there was no great show of interest in local politics. The main interest seemed centered on national and state situations and a large number of voters were made on results of those.

Never before did the people of Bernalillo county, supposedly strong republicans, cast such a scratched vote as at the polls yesterday. Not many straight republican votes were cast, and of those precincts 12 had a slight majority.

Many republicans licked Money and, however, the "Go Gosh" poster, Andrew's stickers on democratic tickets.

On the contrary, the democrats were very clamorous and it is noticeable that they secured a large percentage of the new voters.

There was a very weak ticket and they did not have the money to buy the voters. The situation in Colorado attracted a great deal of attention among local sports. There was considerable speculation as to the national and state results and a large amount of money changed hands.

Olds were offered on Money against Andrew's safe, but people were slow at taking.

Nearly every saloon received returns and public places were crowded until late at night.

A large number of women and children visited the Elks' Opera House, where an entertainment was in progress and where election returns were read.

The entire county republican ticket was elected by majorities ranging from 600 to 2,000.

There are sixteen precincts in this county, and the entire vote cast yesterday is given below. For delegate the total vote was 2,800, divided as follows: Rodney, independent, 1,150; Money, democrat, 850; Andrews, republican, 675; Randall, socialist, 157.

For superintendent of schools, Vigil, the republican candidate, 1,725, against 796 for Rev. Marsh, the democrat candidate. Prof. Ramsay, the socialist candidate, received 367 votes. Vigil's plurality, 763.

A Tenderfoot's idea of a Needless Bath Tub.

Cyrus Townsend Brady, who has just arrived here, an audience at the Santa Fe, trading room some months ago, took occasion to write an article paper printed and published at the instance of the Santa Fe system with the idea of advertising the great southwest. Mr. Brady is a cultured, observant and conscientious speaker, but he reads some conclusions which he does not support. He recently mentioned that the bath tubs of the reading room are primarily the only ones in the town. How absurdly "tenderfoot" that sounds. Needless to say, at least 3,000 in habitants, without counting the Indian population, and there are not a dozen residences in the town without bath tubs, not small foot tubs, or big wash tubs, but tubs six feet long in which you may stretch your self at full length and turn the water on or off to suit your inclination. He speaks of other evidences of civilization. He was "allowed to mingle freely with the railroad men." Poor fellow, it is hoped he has been benefited by such contamination. Come out again and you will be shown some of the things of which you yet know not.—Needless Era.

Mr. Eddy was expected last Saturday, but wires that he can not return for several days.

AFTER THE TRAINMEN.

Santa Fe Fires Brakeman for Taking Money From Hosts for a Ride.

The railroad companies are determined to break up the custom among employees of taking money from passengers for transportation, says the San Bernardino Times-Index, "and recently have inaugurated a system which will soon weed out all employees caught off guard."

The lobo detective, with just a few dollars in his pocket, is the last the railroads are using, and among the first to be caught is a negro porter on the Santa Fe who was fired at Barstow. He had been approached by a fairly well dressed fellow who wanted to get to Kansas City and struck a deal with the porter, who accepted $15 to see the man through. They got as far as Barstow, when the porter received his walking papers, which came so suddenly that it made his head swim. Freight trainmen are also in danger, as the railroads are determined to stop the practice.

A "Limited" Jingle.

The following verses were taken from the log book of the California Limited train of the Santa Fe railway:

Across the continent we speed away, leading the race to Los Angeles bay; There's one road that wins by a day, This is the road "The Santa Fe."

Over the father of waters away, A line of steel marks the close of day, Flitting by field in golden lay, Speed with the perfume of new cut hay.

Speed the train of "The Santa Fe" Leaving the plains of Kansas behind, The gauges of earth appear in line, The grim old mountains, the clouds pierce through.

Their snowy brows salute Manitou, Again over the rolling plains we fly, Sweeping the wild horses and cattle high.

A day and a night has now passed by, And into the heart of the Rockies we fly, How's land of wild life lies Under a mantle of starry skies, Canyon and river giant they be, All under foot of the "Santa Fe."

And now comes the dash through desert sand, Into a wonderful fairy land, Beautiful flowers on every hand, The air perfumed.

And a fairy land, bidding God's well come to every man.

This is in truth the Promised Land—"California."

The race is over, the time well spent, Regretting not an iota of dollar or cent.

For a train the California Limited true, Equipped in a palatial style all through.

The pride of a people and nation that be, This is the road "The Santa Fe."

MUDGE ON THE STRIKE SITUATION

Everything Points to An Early Settlement of the Strike.

(From Thursday's Daily Citizen.)
The circular letter issued from the office of J. W. Hendrick, third vice president of the Santa Fe, and first published in The Citizen on Tuesday, was written out apparently for the purpose of reassuring the shop employees who took the place of striking machinists and boiler-makers that they will retain their situations in event the company should settle with the strikers, which now seems probable. President Hixley and Mr. Hendrick and strike leaders will hold a conference at San Francisco a week from today, one week in advance of Thanksgiving, and a second conference is scheduled to occur in Topoka shortly after. These conferences, after a period of non-communication between the company and the strikers, may be interpreted to mean that a settlement is pending, but in case a settlement should be made, the company will doubtless exact the right to retain its present employees.

Regarding the circular letter and the intention of the company, if U. Mudge, general manager of the road, made the following statement: "Most of the men have come to a realization that their cause has been lost and have taken positions in other lines of work, some in the cities where they were employed by the Santa Fe and others have gone elsewhere. But the few who still remain unemployed, it seems, are trying to create a feeling of uneasiness and unrest among the new employees by circulating reports of proposed conference looking towards a settlement of the strike, and the taking back of all the old employees."

"We want our new employees to thoroughly understand," continued Mr. Mudge, "that they are secure in their positions, so long as they are faithful in the performance of their duties, they will be retained by the company."

"Many of our new employees have already brought their families to live at the points where they are employed."

"Of the many others who are planning to bring their families from their former places of residence, some are influenced to do so by the circulation of reports that the strikers will be taken back. They hesitate to bring their families west if there seems to be a possible chance that the old men will be taken back and the new men thrown out of employment."

"And it is this sentiment which we wish to overcome. Our new employees will remain on the pay roll of the company just as long as they continue to do their duty and to perform their work."

"We have upon several occasions announced that the strikers will not under any circumstances be taken back by the company. I want to reiterate that now."

"Our new employees have proven to be all that we had hoped them to be. In many instances we have a really better class of workmen than before the strike. Our motive power is in better condition than it has been for a long time."

"There has been no cut in wages since the strike. The rate is uniform for machinists all over the system. They are paid 14 cents per hour. Many of the men are now earning more money than they were before the strike."

JACOB EGLESTON DIES AT GOLD HILL.

HE WAS A "FORTY-NINER" AND AMONG THE FIRST PROSPECTORS IN GRANT COUNTY.

(From Friday's Daily Citizen.)

By the death of Jacob Eggleston at his home in Gold Hill on November 1, Gold Hill lost one of its pioneer inhabitants and its citizens a highly valued friend and neighbor, and at the same time another name was erased from the rapidly decreasing living list of those early epoch history makers of California known as the "forty-niners," says The Silver City Independent.

Mr. Eggleston was born in the state of New York in 1827, and made his first entrance through the Golden Gate as a sailor in 1848, landing upon the then comparatively uninhabited swamp where now stands the city of San Francisco, with its population of nearly 400,000 people.

He took part in the exciting scramble for gold incident to California's history in 1849 and the several years subsequent thereto, remaining in California until 1859, when he moved to Arizona and from there came to New Mexico.

He was one among the prospectors who first made the discovery of silver at Gold Hill in 1863, and locating several claims he settled in the camp and remained a resident of it during the twenty years that intervened up to the time of his death.

"Uncle Dave" was the name by which he was generally known and affectionately called by the wide circle of acquaintances and friends that he had made during his long sojourn in Grant county, by all of whom he was highly esteemed as a man possessing all the good qualities desirable in a friend and neighbor. He was always known to be exceptionally honest and courteous in dealing with his fellow men.

Mr. Eggleston's death was a very sudden one. A neighbor who entered the house, where he lived alone, at an early hour on the morning of the 1st, found him sitting in a chair, dead, only a short time after death had occurred, which could be determined by the fact that the body of the deceased was still warm. He had been in feeble health for some time as the result of asthma and catarrhal trouble, but combined with the natural decline of old age but was held up by his strong, energetic will which he was known to possess to such a degree that he never became confined to his bed.

The deceased had no relatives in the west, but leaves a sister and other relatives at his boyhood home in New York.

ZUNI RIVER RESERVOIR

SATISFACTORY PROGRESS MADE ON ITS CONSTRUCTION SAYS CHIEF ENGINEER JOHN B. HARPER IN CHARGE.

(From Friday's Daily Citizen.)

John B. Harper, chief engineer of the construction of the Zuni reservoir, while in Santa Fe, gave some interesting facts in regard to the big dam and reservoir, which when completed will store water for the irrigation of about 6,000 acres of Indian lands. "Work is progressing steadily," said Mr. Harper, "and we are much encouraged with what we have done so far. Considerable labor has been expended on the dam, which is considered by experts to be quite an undertaking. When completed it will be 400 feet long, 75 feet high and 300 feet in thickness at the base. It is made of dry rock with earth filled in by hydraulic washing. It will be about a year and a half before the dam and reservoir are completed and about two years before the entire system is finished. The labor is all being done by Indians from the Zuni pueblo and they are good workers."

"The building of the dam and reservoir is more of a test than anything else as it is being constructed under typical New Mexico conditions, which consist principally of a lava flow on top and soft formations underneath, so that the success of it will much depend on the territory, outside of the retention of the 6,000 acres of reservation land. With its successful completion, I expect that the government will make appropriations for the construction of several other reservoirs throughout the territory. We began work in February of this year and everything has gone splendidly up to date."

The Gospel of Force.

Any body of men that undertakes by force of arms to accomplish their purpose is in a conspiracy or is a not put down, or we will shortly have no government. For if one body of men may organize, arm themselves and threaten and shoot, so many another and another until civil order—appears in anarchy.—Rev. David Utter, Unitarian, Denver.

Love is the Law.

Love is the common heritage of human life. It belongs to human nature to love as it does to think. It is part of our constitutional endowment. It is the bond of society. It is the point at which Christianity meets the human soul. It is indeed the one thing, so that in all times and all ages men have known what it is to love.—Rev. R. T. Andrews, Methodist, New York.

Millionaire Gamblers.

We ought to have a proper perspective and proportion in our judgments and hold the millionaire turfmen in their gambling races and the racing associations, with their systematic robbery of the less well to do, as equally amenable to an individual public opinion as the smaller offenders. We knowingly have stopped the laws of this state to protect race gambling. These men, whatever their wealth, ought to be pillared before the public and brought under legal restraint, no matter how great their wealth.—Rev. Richmond Bahrt, Episcopalian, Brooklyn.

Daily Immortality.

We have positive proof that the soul survives the body. That body in which you live today is not the one that you occupied some time ago, perhaps one year ago, certainly seven years ago. You have in fact, cast aside body after body as the years have come and gone, and out of your dead you have built fresh new bodies, only to consign them ultimately to the same fate. And yet you—that is yourself—your soul is still living today, the same soul that it always was, absolutely identical, the only thing, in fact, that you have remaining from the original outfit of your existence not only, but even from that with which you were favored a few months ago. A number of bodies might today be again put together out of the scattered elements that made up your bodies at different times in the past, and placed side by side, it would thus be physically demonstrated that your soul has survived the body a number of times. When it is said that the soul is immortal, therefore, it is simply saying that the soul may do again what it has already done over and over. To this sort of thing the soul has actually become accustomed.—Rev. Frederick Campbell, Methodist, Brooklyn.

BACK FROM A TRIP TO SAN MARCIAL.

WATCH INSPECTOR MAYNARD SAYS THE TOWN HAS RECOVERED FROM THE FLOOD.

"Although San Marcial is about a hundred miles south of this city," said T. Y. Maynard, the railroad watch inspector and jeweler, "that town had a snow storm on Thursday and the atmosphere was in consequence pretty chilly."

"San Marcial, one of the best towns south of this city, is recovering nicely from the damage inflicted upon the town by the recent flood, and merchants are not in the least discouraged."

"The reports we read in the papers about the flood at San Marcial were not exaggerated, for on this trip I counted many houses which had crumbled down, all caused from the high waters."

"I met Harry Howard, who lost his printing office in the flood, and he told me he hoped to be in a position to commence re-building the loss in a short time. Mr. Howard was the republican candidate for the territorial legislative house, and he felt elated yesterday over the good news that he had been elected."

"Fred Russell, with many friends in this city, is sick at San Marcial, but when I left was on the road to early recovery. Mr. Russell had charge of the Santa Fe work train at Hiram when he was taken sick, and was brought up to San Marcial for treatment."

"The Harvey eating house at San Marcial has changed hands. Mr. Pritchard, the proprietor, and a Mr. Eddy have installed as manager."

Mr. Maynard also stated that the valley south of this city is again looking all right, and that the damage caused from the recent high waters are slowly disappearing.

course Mr. Carr was not elected in the district, Bernalillo county, having too many votes. It will likely be carried to the legislature and there settled. It will all depend upon who has control of the legislature—the Fusion or the Fusionists—who the outcome of the affair will be.

SENATOR ANDREWS SURE WINNER

(From Saturday's Daily Citizen.)
The New Mexican has taken pains to ascertain as correctly and as nearly as possible what the action of the voters will be on Tuesday in this territory. The results of these inquiries are given below and they are believed to be fairly correct, although subject to the changes, vicissitudes and uncertainty of politics.

There are four candidates for delegate to the Fifty-ninth congress. They are: W. H. Andrews, of Bernalillo; George P. Money, of Las Vegas; democratic; H. S. Roddy, of Albuquerque, independent; and W. S. Sandon, of Albuquerque, socialist. Bernalillo county: The vote two years ago was 3,818 for Roddy, republican; 421 for Money, democratic; a republican majority of 3,397. The county is claimed by the regular republicans by a plurality for Andrews and sure for the entire republican legislative and county ticket.

Chaves county: Two years ago the vote stood 325 for Roddy, 882 for Ferguson, democratic majority, 557. The county is conceded to be democratic with slight hopes by the republicans for one or two of the legislative and county offices.

Colfax county: The vote two years ago stood 1,461 for Roddy, 1,237 for Ferguson, republican majority, 424. The county is claimed by the republicans or the legislative and county ticket this year, as well as for Andrews, the republican candidate for delegate, by a fine majority.

Dona Ana: The vote in 1912 stood 1,221 for Roddy, 469 for Ferguson, republican majority, 752. The county is conceded to the republicans on the delegate, legislative and county ticket, this year by fair majorities.

Elly county: The vote two years ago was 184 for Roddy, 156 for Ferguson, democratic majority, 252. The county is conceded to the democrats on all candidates except probably for the house of representatives of the assembly.

Grant county: In 1912 the vote stood 819 for Roddy, 878 for Ferguson, democratic majority, 29. The county is placed in the democratic column on the entire ticket, although it is believed that Senator Andrews will run well and several of the republican candidates for legislative and county offices may receive majorities.

Leonard Wood: This county was organized after the 1902 election and it is impracticable to give the vote of two years ago; however, the county out of which it was taken gave Roddy, republican, a majority of 182 in 1902. Members of the republican central committee of the county are anxious that Leonard Wood will give republican majorities for the entire republican ticket.

Lincoln: Two years ago gave the following result: 767 for Roddy, 675 for Ferguson, Republican majority, 92. The county is generally close, but is claimed by the republicans on the entire ticket by from 100 to 150 majority.

Luna: In 1912 stood as follows: 261 for Roddy, 242 for Ferguson; republican majority, 19. The county is conceded to the democrats on Tuesday next, although some of the republican candidates on the ticket may be successful.

McKinley did well for the republicans in 1912 by the following vote: 290 for Roddy, 174 for Ferguson; republican majority, 214. The republicans will in all likelihood carry this county next Tuesday by a fair vote for every candidate on their ticket.

Mora is one of the close counties of the territory and is generally in doubt. Two years ago the results were 1,281 for Roddy, 907 for Ferguson. Republican majority, 254. Republicans there are sanguine of success this year for their entire ticket by small majorities.

Otero county is claimed by the democrats right along, but two years ago it went for the republican candidate, H. S. Roddy, by the following vote: 692 for Roddy, 414 for Ferguson; republican majority, 278. The republicans this year have strong hopes of gaining a plurality for Senator Andrews and of electing a part of the legislative and county ticket here.

Quay county is one of the three new counties created by the Thirty-fifth legislative assembly and the vote two years ago for the precincts now constituting Quay county was democratic. The county is doubtful, and as it is claimed by the democrats by a small majority, it is placed in the doubtful column.

Rio Arriba county came to the front two years ago with the following vote: 1,752 for Roddy, 899 for Ferguson; republican majority, 853. It is figured out that the county will give still greater republican majorities this year on the entire ticket.

Roosevelt county is one of the new counties created by the Thirty-fifth legislative assembly. The registration this year is 852. The county is democratic and should be put down for the democratic ticket by several hundred majority.

Sandoval county, which was a part of Bernalillo county two years ago, went solidly republican, and although there are two republican county tickets in the field, it can be safely asserted that it will return a grand majority for Senator Andrews and that in the neighborhood of a thousand or more.

Santa Fe county gave a democratic majority two years ago, by the following vote: 346 for Roddy, 296 for Ferguson, democratic majority, 44. The county in all likelihood will give the democratic ticket between 75 and 100 majority, although Senator Andrews may run ahead and some of the republican candidates may be elected.

Santa Fe county two years ago was republican by the following vote: 1,630 for Roddy, 1,116 for Ferguson.

IT TOOK TWO JUSTICES TO TIE THE KNOT

Chasley Carpenter, of Reeves county, Texas, and Mattie Marley, of El Paso county, Texas, rode a couple of Texas ponies into the city yesterday and they wanted a bona fide marriage certificate the worst way. They were plain country folks from the outside appearance, but city bred in appetite. They mentioned about the city until it grew quite late. It was very late when they called at Judge Borchert's office and were married, but to the mortification of all Judge Borchert could find no marriage certificate among his dusty papers. They were married all right but had no certificate. The bride agreed that they were married, but she wanted something to show for it, so they went off to another justice of the peace and one with the proper papers. It was then after 11 o'clock and they were to leave on the 10:30 train, which was due to leave at 11:30. But the train was late, as it usually is, and of course Cupid was extremely gratified.

The home of Judge Crawford was sought out and the justice rudely aroused. Like a gracious man, unwilling to interfere with the true course of love, he donned his official robes and went to the city building, where in a dimly lighted room he tied the knot. In his cabinet he could find but one dirty blank certificate, but the bride said that it would do, and Mattie Marley was made Mrs. Carpenter. They left the city building happy, and when last seen, about 12:30 o'clock, were going down First street toward the depot, holding hands.

Two years ago stood: 1,453 for Roddy, 1,384 for Ferguson; republican majority, 69. There is a three-cornered fight on in that county and the independent republicans, although they should support Senator Andrews for delegate to congress, are according to the last report waffling. This county is placed in the doubtful column, with the chances in favor of Senator Andrews for a plurality.

Torrance county will go into next January 1, 1915, as a county and will not, a separate vote for delegate and legislative and county tickets, November 8th. The county is strongly republican, although there is an independent ticket in the field. The candidates on the latter are, however, supporting Senator Andrews, and the majority for him will be quite handsome.

Union county, two years ago, stood 722 for Roddy, 711 for Ferguson; republican majority, 21. The republicans have made gains in Union county since the 1902 election and the county is placed in the doubtful column with the chances in favor of the republicans for a majority for every candidate, including the head of the ticket.

Valencia county, two years ago, stood 1,398 for Roddy, 56 for Ferguson; republican majority, 1942. Torrance has been cut from it, but the county is sure for Senator Andrews by from 1,200 up, and the same majority for the legislative and county ticket.

Summarizing the political complexion of the counties in the territory Tuesday next will stand up on the electoral college as follows: Republican: Bernalillo, Colfax, Dona Ana, Leonard Wood, Lincoln, McKinley, Mora, Otero, Rio Arriba, Sandoval, Santa Fe, Socorro, San Miguel, Torrance and Valencia. Democratic: Chaves, Eddy, Grant, Luna, Roosevelt, San Juan, Sierra, Sandoval, Quay, Taos, Union.

SANDOVAL COUNTY CASE
IMPORTANT CAUSE HEARD AND DECIDED BY JUDGE B. S. BAKER.

(From Saturday's Daily Citizen.)
The case of Alejandro Sandoval and others against Manuel Baca et al. in which the plaintiffs sought to enjoin the defendants from using the emblem adopted by the republican central committee for the party at the approaching election in Sandoval county. The plaintiffs contended that their county convention, which was called by Emilio Sandoval and E. A. Miera, members of the territorial central committee for Sandoval county, was the regular convention, and the defendants contended that the county convention called by Manuel Baca and others as members of a county central committee selected at a meeting of republicans last January was the regular convention and had the right to the emblem of the party.

It appeared on the trial that the practice of the party in new counties was to have the machinery of the party started by the members of the territorial central committee for that county, and that in a contest last January at Santa Fe between these two factions the appointment of E. M. Sandoval and E. A. Miera as the chairman was ratified by the committee by a vote of 28 to 2, and that both the committee to select delegates to the territorial convention at Las Vegas last month and the territorial committee here last September were called by E. M. Sandoval and E. A. Miera, and to which there was no opposition, and the court held that they were also the proper parties to call the first county convention to nominate county officers and to nominate a county central committee, and the temporary injunction against the use of the emblem by the J. M. Sandoval and Manuel Baca faction was made permanent.

Broke Into His House.
S. LeQuinn of Cavendish, Vt., was robbed of his customary health by invasion of Chronic Constipation. When Dr. King's New Life Pills broke into his house, his trouble was arrested and now he's entirely cured. They're guaranteed to cure. 25c. at any drug store.

Police Court.
(From Tuesday's Daily Citizen.)
Peter Bowers read in the newspaper that every suspicious person in Albuquerque would be arrested. He did not believe it, so he looked up a policeman last night to tell his troubles. The "copper" did not look upon Bowers as a very good citizen, so into jail Mr. Bowers was put.

The court considered Bowers' actions a very severe breach of the peace and Bowers was given ten days on the chain gang.

Several other misdemeanors were given light sentences.

A "CROOK" UNDER POLICE SUSPICION
(From Tuesday's Daily Citizen.)
The police have under arrest a light colored negro who gives his name as Lucian Cook, and the police have reason to believe that Cook is his right name. Cook was apprehended in a rooming house on North Second street. Letters and telegrams found in his clothes prove him to be a pal of Carl Allen, the white man who was sent up for house breaking and the police believe that probably he might know something of recent burglaries, many of which have occurred in Albuquerque recently. A letter found on him also identified him as the husband of Minnie Kimball, a lewd woman now confined in the city jail.

COACH MONTGOMERY TOLD THEM HOW TO DO IT—WHOLE BUNCH WENT AFTER PIGSKIN IN THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

(From Monday's Daily Citizen.)
The first field practice of the foot ball eleven which will represent Albuquerque this season occurred yesterday at Athletic Park. Fourteen players were out, and they were given a couple of hours of fast work. All seemed to go after the ball in the right spirit, and Coach Montgomery's instructions were accepted cheerfully. It will be well for the boys to remember that Montgomery has the floor at these practice games, and individual players should let him do the talking. Promoter Alva Coe had a good find, judging from yesterday's showing, when he discovered Crediton, a University of Pennsylvania man, weight 197 pounds, and Dinmore, another old timer of 128 pounds. The former will try for right tackle, while Dinmore will try to make good on the right end. Coach Montgomery has made no promises yet, and none of the men have been placed. The boys have been used to hard practice, and there is a lot of work in store for the next few weeks. It is now less than three weeks till Thanksgiving, when a game is scheduled on the local edition with the Middle Park aggregation.

The Albuquerque eleven will not be a very heavy bunch, but there are a number of fast ones among them. Fleetsome, coupled with Montgomery's strategy, will make them a sure winner.

CITY COUNCIL HELD MEETING LAST NIGHT
(From Tuesday's Daily Citizen.)
Mayor McKee and the city council met last night and hurriedly transacted such business as was extreme. It being the eve of election and the occasion of several political rallies, the council could not entertain themselves with work.

W. H. Clucker was given permission to continue with the erection of a building at the corner of Gold avenue and Fourth street, which was interfered with recently because of some technicality of the fire limits and building ordinance.

The Nat Reiss Southern Carnival company was represented at the meeting by an agent, who sought to secure the privilege of conducting a show at the corner of Railroad avenue and Fifth street. The request was granted. This show will occur some time the latter part of November.

The council then adjourned until Thursday night.

NEW LORD MAYOR IS INSTALLED
London, Nov. 8.—Alderman John Pound was formally installed at the Guildhall today as Lord Mayor of London, to succeed Sir Thompson Ritchie, whose term of office had expired. All the quaint mediæval ceremonies customary to the induction to office of a chief magistrate were observed, including the presenting of the diamond scepter, the sword, the city seal and the purse. The annual celebration of Lord Mayor's day, which is the spectacular feature of the ceremonies accompanying the installation of the new Lord Mayor, takes place tomorrow, in accordance with time-honored custom.

PROCEEDINGS OF PROBATE COURT
(From Tuesday's Daily Citizen.)
The probate court of Bernalillo county met yesterday and transacted much important business.

The will and last testament of the late L. S. Trimble was admitted. A. A. Trimble, a brother of the deceased, was appointed executor, to serve without bond. John S. Trimble was selected guardian of Stella and Lawrence Trimble, minor children of the deceased, and his bond of $2,000 was accepted.

The claim of Mrs. E. Teutsch versus the estate of Isaac Jackson was next taken up and disposed of. The case, which had been carried to the district court, was remanded back to probate court and the former decision of the judge in favor of the claimant was allowed to stand.

THE REPUBLICAN PREDICTIONS

New York, Nov. 5.—With the close of the last week before election, little is left to be done but to estimate the result and wait for the voters. The republican leaders of the national committee still in the city last seriously content today in the consciousness of the righteousness of the cause and of an energetic campaign carried by an apparent mislaid confidence in an overwhelming victory at the polls Tuesday.

It is the confident expectation of every republican that President Roosevelt and Senator Fairbanks will be elected by a substantial plurality. Judge Parker's election will be possible only through democratic success in practically every one of the so-called doubtful states, and this can hardly be accomplished without a political landslide, of which there are now no signs.

The republicans have only to gain five votes from the twenty-six that are doubtful in order to win, and this is so small a percentage as to suggest to republicans a positive victory.

When the present campaign opened it was the general custom to give the democratic ticket 151 votes, without further hesitation. That represented what is generally known as the solid south, including all the states of the confederacy, and with them the old border states of Kentucky and Missouri, which are now included in the political solid south. Early in the campaign it became evident that to this apparently impregnable nucleus the democrats should be able to add the state of Maryland, with its eight electoral votes, thus making a total of 159 votes which could be counted upon as sure to be cast for Parker and Davis. Since the basis of 159 sure democratic votes was established there has been nothing in the progress of the campaign, as viewed from the republican standpoint, to indicate any other state should be transferred to the sure democratic column.

At the opening of the campaign it was quite evident that the fight would be for control of the electoral votes of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Delaware, West Virginia and Indiana. Each of these states voted for Cleveland in 1902, and it was the hope of the Parker and Davis management that with a united democracy it might be possible to turn back to the vote of twelve years ago and by adding the Cleveland states to the solid south secure a majority of the electoral college.

Under the circumstances therefore it was quite natural at the opening of the campaign to put the states of Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Indiana, Montana, Nevada, New York, Rhode Island, Utah, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming in the doubtful column. This figured out 197 votes for Roosevelt, 159 for Parker, and 128 doubtful. Thus began a process of elimination which rapidly dissipated the greater part of the doubtful vote in the minds of the republican managers.

Giving to the democrats in addition to Missouri, Kentucky, and the solid south, the doubtful states of Maryland, West Virginia, Connecticut and Delaware, Parker would have 159 electoral votes to Roosevelt's 121. This estimate leaves New York, Indiana and New Jersey, with a total of 66 electoral votes, in the doubtful column.

Of these three states the republican managers appear most confident of carrying Indiana and New Jersey. In Indiana, the presence of Senator Fairbanks on the ticket undoubtedly gives them a decided advantage, which coupled with the splendid condition of their organization, seems to assure them the victory, though even the most sanguine concede that the result will be close. In New Jersey the democratic state ticket is stronger than the national ticket and the contest is largely on state issues.

The republicans give Roosevelt a plurality of 25,000, and even the independents believe that Roosevelt will have a large plurality.

In New York the battle has been one of the fiercest in the political annals of the Empire state. The campaign now points to the success of the republican ticket in this state. The campaign managers declare with confidence that New York will give Roosevelt as high as 15,000 plurality.

It is pointed out that he is stronger to the state than before the campaign. Many of the big financial interests which formerly opposed now favor his election, as shown by public interviews, and Roosevelt is also personally popular among the several classes of the foreign population usually voting the local democratic ticket. With New York's large block of 23 electoral votes thus assured him, the republican managers declare today that the success of the national ticket at next Tuesday's election is absolutely beyond doubt.

In the guardianship matter of Louis Henry, Catalina Apodaca was appointed special guardian and has been empowered to sell real estate. His bond was fixed at $500, which was duly filed and approved. The newly appointed guardian also filed a report concerning the property which is to be sold.

The last will and testament of David W. Lane was presented and the date for approving the same was set for Monday, December 5.

W. H. Clucker was given permission to continue with the erection of a building at the corner of Gold avenue and Fourth street, which was interfered with recently because of some technicality of the fire limits and building ordinance.

The Nat Reiss Southern Carnival company was represented at the meeting by an agent, who sought to secure the privilege of conducting a show at the corner of Railroad avenue and Fifth street. The request was granted. This show will occur some time the latter part of November.

The council then adjourned until Thursday night.

NEW LORD MAYOR IS INSTALLED
London, Nov. 8.—Alderman John Pound was formally installed at the Guildhall today as Lord Mayor of London, to succeed Sir Thompson Ritchie, whose term of office had expired. All the quaint mediæval ceremonies customary to the induction to office of a chief magistrate were observed, including the presenting of the diamond scepter, the sword, the city seal and the purse. The annual celebration of Lord Mayor's day, which is the spectacular feature of the ceremonies accompanying the installation of the new Lord Mayor, takes place tomorrow, in accordance with time-honored custom.

PROCEEDINGS OF PROBATE COURT
(From Tuesday's Daily Citizen.)
The probate court of Bernalillo county met yesterday and transacted much important business.

The will and last testament of the late L. S. Trimble was admitted. A. A. Trimble, a brother of the deceased, was appointed executor, to serve without bond. John S. Trimble was selected guardian of Stella and Lawrence Trimble, minor children of the deceased, and his bond of $2,000 was accepted.

The claim of Mrs. E. Teutsch versus the estate of Isaac Jackson was next taken up and disposed of. The case, which had been carried to the district court, was remanded back to probate court and the former decision of the judge in favor of the claimant was allowed to stand.

The petition of J. C. Baldridge, who asked power to sell certain real estate belonging to the estate of Mary Ferguson, of which he is executor, was presented and was taken under advisement.

In the guardianship matter of Louis Henry, Catalina Apodaca was appointed special guardian and has been empowered to sell real estate. His bond was fixed at $500, which was duly filed and approved. The newly appointed guardian also filed a report concerning the property which is to be sold.

The last will and testament of David W. Lane was presented and the date for approving the same was set for Monday, December 5.

The last will and testament of J. Willis Sayre was also presented for probate and the date for its approval set for December 5.

E. B. Crisley, administrator of the estate of H. H. Leonard, filed his final report and December 5 was set for hearing objections thereto.

B. O. Wallington presented a petition asking permission to adopt Eleanor Huxley, a step child.

WOMEN MAY DECIDE THE ELECTION
Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—As the revealing feature of today's national election and one the importance of which is not generally appreciated, is the part played by the women voters in the four states where they exercise the full rights of suffrage. These states are Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho and Utah. The registration of women voters in these states amounted to about one hundred thousand—a number easily sufficient to turn the tide of tactics toward either political party. The labor troubles in Colorado and the Mormon question, which is agitating Utah, Wyoming and Idaho, are the two issues in which the women voters have taken keen interest, and which are expected to bring out a much larger feminine vote than at any previous election since women were granted the franchise. The result is eagerly awaited at the headquarters in this city of the National American Woman Suffrage association.

CENTENARIAN CASTS HIS BALLOT
Rockford, Ill., Nov. 8.—Orie Eddy, who recently reached his one hundredth birthday, and who is probably the oldest voter in Illinois or in this section of the country, was among the early voters to the polls in Rockford today. This centenarian has voted for every whig and every republican candidate for the presidency and in local as well as record he defeated his own policy for Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

DEATH IN SAN BERNARDINO
(From Tuesday's Daily Citizen.)
Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pay, of South Arroyo street, received a telegram this morning bringing the sad news of the death of their daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Matthews, which occurred last night at San Bernardino where Mr. Matthews is employed as a machinist. Death resulted from childbirth.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthews resided in this city as an employee of the local shops at that time. Mr. and Mrs. Pay are grief-stricken that they will not be able to attend the funeral, which will occur at San Bernardino.

MACHINISTS' STRIKE MAY END SOON
(From Tuesday's Daily Citizen.)
The strike of the International Association of Machinists is apparently nearing an end.

The Santa Fe has already asked for a conference with the strikers and a conference will be held at San Francisco one week from next Thursday. The following self explanatory letter was handed to the shop employees last Saturday:

To All Machinists and Shop Employees:
It is currently reported that a meeting will be held at Topeka in November and that it will result in a speedy settlement of the machinists' strike upon this system. The management has not been approached with reference to this matter, but it seems proper and desirable to state that machinists and other artisans who have entered the service of the mechanical department of the system during the strike, or who remained at work when the strike was ordered, will be retained in that service, subject to those conditions that should always govern in the relations of the employed to the employer; namely, loyalty and fitness for service.

It is a pleasure to be able to state that the condition of the shops of the system and of the locomotives owned by it was never as good as at the present time, which proves the loyalty and skill of the present staff of employees.

Any man who desires to establish his family in the community in which he is employed will, upon taking the lot up to such no trouble of particularly serious nature had occurred. As the day progressed arrests for alleged illegal voting became more numerous. Four of those arrested were federal employees in the treasury department at Washington. They were subsequently permitted to vote.

HERE AT HOME.
Albuquerque Citizens Gladly Testify.
It is testimony like the following that has placed "the old Quaker Remedy" so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voices in praise there is no room left for doubt. Read the public statement of an Albuquerquean citizen:

Mrs. W. C. Wood, (W. C. Wood, is employed in the Santa Fe railroad shop residence, 720 South Broadway, says: "When on a visit to Fall River, Mass., I learned that Doan's Kidney Pills had been a household necessity in that city for years. Naturally when a person has backache themselves and friends, acquaintances and relatives continually insist that a particular remedy shall be tried, you at least consent to take a course of the treatment. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they stopped an aggravated attack of backache, only one of many which had occurred in the past. When I came home I brought with me a dozen boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills long before they were so extensively known in California, as at present. I have not the slightest hesitation in publicly stating that I know from experience as well as observation that this remedy can be absolutely depended upon in all cases of kidney complaint causing backache, lumbago or other symptoms which follow in the wake of that far too prevalent annoyance."

THE DEMOCRATS ARE CONFIDENT

New York, Nov. 8.—On the eve of the election a feeling of confidence appears to permeate the democratic national headquarters in East Thirty-ninth street. Those who have been responsible for the triumph of the campaign are reined with tact and finesse which seem to assure beyond question the success of the Parker and Davis ticket next Tuesday.

The claims of the democratic managers, however, the southern and rocky mountain states for Judge Parker, as well as New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia and Indiana. Two states are placed in the doubtful column, Wisconsin and Illinois, although the democrats believe that there is a "minus" in the republican column in both.

The claim in the electoral college is therefore 284 for Parker and 172 for Roosevelt. Wisconsin has 12 and Illinois 27 electoral votes, and should both of these states be carried for Roosevelt there should be a majority for Parker of 53 votes or 55 more than the necessary 289 to elect.

The signed statement above of all the democratic national headquarters outlines the following claims:

"Our canvass shows that we shall certainly carry by good majorities the states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia and Indiana, and that in addition to these electoral votes we shall have the majority if not all of the electoral votes of the Rocky Mountain states. It is impossible to predict accurately the result in Wisconsin, but the very best information indicates that Governor Pock will surely be elected, and that the national ticket is in doubt."

"Illinois must also be obtained in the doubtful column, although there are indications of republican defection. If anyone entertains any doubt concerning the electoral vote of the state of New York it ought to be dissipated by the unprecedented registration of 608,000 votes in New York city, and by the reflection that this is the first and foremost a democratic city."

An unofficial forecast of democracy is success, based upon returns gathered by a leading metropolitan newspaper, shows up the situation as follows:

The thirteen states of the old south, which are not open to real contest, cast 151 electoral votes. To these the 15 votes of Maryland and West Virginia may be added, making 166. Of the 176 members of the electoral college, 239 will be necessary for the democrats to elect a president. It will be necessary, therefore, for the democrats to get 73 electoral votes north of Maryland and West Virginia. Should New York's 33 electoral votes in cast for Parker, as the democratic managers are confident there will be, there would remain necessary for democratic success only 24 more electoral votes. These 24 electoral votes might come from either of the following combinations:

Group one—New Jersey, 12; Delaware, 3; Montana 3, Indiana 15, making 33, two more than necessary, or 24 in the electoral college.

Group two—Indiana 15; New Jersey, 12 and Connecticut 5, making 32, one short of the "Solid South" (except Delaware) New York, Indiana, New Jersey and Connecticut. This would be a victory on the old battleground, with times unchanged.

Leaving out Indiana, which the republicans declare is vital to democratic success, the necessary 24 votes could be had either of the following combinations:

Group three—New Jersey 12,
