London, March 17.—All the musical world seemed interested today in the celebration of Manuel Garcia's one hundredth birthday. It was an event at old Park theatre, which stood in Park

Garca came of a noted family. His father Manuel del Popelo Garca, born in Beville, in 1775, began as a chorister in the cathedral there at the age of six. He

THE BEEF TRUST

Commissioner Garfield's report is so very favorable to the ranchers' combine that it would be interesting not to hear from some man versed in all the ways of the beef trust, and at the same time familiar with conditions in the stock-growing business, to the end that the country might enjoy a more conclusive explanation of the "spread" between the price of beef on the hoof and the cost of that same commodity in the oven.

The consumer and the stockgrower are told that the trust does not net over 3 per cent, though the private car lines earn enough to save the combine from absolute ruin.

After all that has been said about the beef trust, Commissioner Garfield's report is a decided surprise. He finds that changes in margins between the prices of cattle and the prices of beef in 1902 were, for each year, as follows:

Instead of higher than the margin for any corresponding half year since 1898.

Three of the principal companies in the "Big Six" made an average net profit of only ninety-nine cents per head of live slaughter, and this may be taken as the maximum for the group.

The beef trust slaughtered but 46 per cent of the total cattle used in 1902 and thus we see that more than half of the beef consumed in this country is prepared for such buyers as consumers, at least, competitive with the trust. Cities aggregating 10,000,000 inhabitants are supplied by the trust, but the rest of the country gets its meat supply from packers and butchers independent of the "Big Six."

THE FRATERNAL AGE.
The present may be truly termed a fraternal age; both men and women everywhere are landed and are banding themselves together in a common cause, in organizations under names and titles variously known, but with the avowed object and aim of extending, by organized force and effort, relief in time of sickness and distress.

The blending of sympathetic hearts in the many into one, form an ever open fountain of ready and grateful relief; hence it is, in the concentration of individuals, mental and financial efforts and forces, under the generic name of fraternity, that accomplishes an aggregated volume of relief along many lines that is incalculable, not in the ostentatious midday hours, but in the retirement of the wigwag, or the lodge room, and more frequently in the home of the afflicted brother, which is in strict accord with the divine injunction, to "let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth"; and, therefore, must bear the seal of divine approval.

Sickness, distress and death combine to form an ever present heritage of mankind; none is exempt, thereby furnishing an unceasing appeal to universal sympathy for needed relief; and, to the pure motive, prompting a willing hand and a generous response, there comes the words of inspiration: "Inasmuch as ye did unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye did unto me."

The interdependence of our common humanity emphasizes the fact that every life, from a moral and physical standpoint, should be a help to other lives with which it is in constant contact; hence it is a clearly defined duty of every life to be enabling, helpful and elevating to every other life within the scope of its influence. It is the logical conclusion that the elevation of any community to a high standard of social and moral excellence, is the result of strictly conscientious individual conduct.

JAPAN'S HEROIC SOLDIERS.
"See," said Pyrrhus to one of his generals, as they scanned the dead Roman on the battlefield of Tarentum, "these men have all their wounds in front. With such soldiers I could become master of the world."

Rome was young in Pyrrhus' day. Its Marcellus, Scipio Africanus, Cæsar and other conquerors were still in the future. The world was destined to hear something of Rome in the centuries following the defeat at Tarentum. The old king of Epirus himself saw Rome in a menacing shape more than once before he died. Even at his first meeting with Rome he was compelled to confess that "another such victory would force me to return to Epirus alone."

The Japanese are treating the world to as startling surprises these days as the Romans did a score of centuries ago. "Out of the way for us; we are from Fort Arthur!" shouted Nogai's veterans in Russian as they advanced on Kuropatkin's lines in the fighting of the past few days. This war cry, which was a challenge to the world, followed the defeat at Tarentum. The old king of Epirus himself saw Rome in a menacing shape more than once before he died. central committee. The paper is very specific and claims that Hughes and McCreight received $15,000 and that $6,000 went to the publishers. The New Mexican is in position authoritatively to deny the statements of the Journal. The gentlemen above named have not purchased the Citizens, Hughes and McCreight deny it indirectly and have not a penny out of the transaction. The Journal will have to try again. That is all in this case.

GIVE HODEY CREDIT.
The Optic publishes an item that when the leprosy bill came up in the house Delegate Hodey was over in the senate watching the statehood bill. This is a mistake. Mr. Hodey was the only person outside of Hephurn's lower bill, who knew when it was to be called. Mr. Hodey informs us that he had canvassed the floor of the house against it for two weeks on both sides and was fully prepared for the bill when it came up. The vote showed the result of his work, and showed his standing in the membership of the house for the bill was defeated by a vote of 180 to 35, and 5 of the 25 votes were Iowa men, who stood up not that they did not want to vote with Hodey, but as they said to prevent Hephurn's humiliation from being too great. Hephurn's unwarranted attack on Mr. Hodey brought such an avalanche of disapproval upon him from other members and secured to him from Hodey next morning such a red hot tongue lashing, as that he made a full apology to New Mexico's delegate, a thing the old floor war horse had never done before in all his long congressional career.

THE HORRORS OF MUKDEN.
"Don't cheer, boys; those poor devils are dying."
Thus spoke Admiral Philip to his men at the battle of Santiago.

Just now his words are recalled with particular force, says the Louisville Courier-Journal, because while many nations of the world are applauding the exploits of the Japanese from Mukden, the lives of thousands of human beings are going out.

The mind of the casual newspaper reader is prone to consider the general results of a battle and to rejoice or regret as they may accord with the individual hope. We in America read a bulletin from the east of war, it is its unimaginative black and white. It treats the conflict as a great game and it records a move made by the players. And so it makes little impression as a chronicle of horrors. But this is what it is. This, at least, is the bulletin that comes from Mukden.

However, a close look reveals hill-sides and roads thick with the bodies of the dead. Vacant eyes stare into the sky. Heads are buried in the mud. Wounded men lie groaning in their agonies. Some in their dying thirst call for water; others pray for death to bring their release from suffering. There is no fear of their fate, and the picture stretches for miles. A count discloses not a hundred nor a thousand slain, but forty or fifty thousand!

And while the corpses lie scattered over the ground, mothers and wives and children sit at home longing for the absent ones, fearful of their fate, and awaiting with eager hope the return of those whom they shall see no more.

The slaying goes on. Russians and Japanese fall in lifeless heaps. Bodies are mangled out of all semblance to human form. With a single bullet a career is ended and, perhaps, a home is wrecked. The living tread in blood, and while their fellows are dropping at their sides, they fight. The cables say they are tired and hungry. They have no time to rest and little to eat. They must fight against nature as well as the national foe.

Certainly those who cheer the victorious forces at Mukden should bear in mind that many "poor devils are dying," and many others are dead.

DIVORCE STATISTICS.
The St. Louis Republic's statistical man has been going into divorce figures and has found that there have been 10,000 divorces during the past third of a century—which probably accounts in a measure for the lack of any very definite public sentiment against divorce. Add to these divorces—14,000 men and women—the others who sympathize with one or the other party to such proceedings, and who would do the same under similar circumstances and we have what the New York Herald declares to be an appalling condition of public sentiment against any more rigid marriage laws. After all, the chief hope for the promotion of a more wholesome sentiment on the subject lies with the ecclesiastical societies and church organizations. The civil authorities seem to be joined to the idols of a free and easy divorce court.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT.
The business of the postoffice department is greater than any one not close to its daily routine can realize. The postmaster general has under him a working force of about 267,000 men and women, and with special employees, about 300,000. He supervises expenditures that aggregate about $100,000,000 a year, and the collections of revenue, not to the collections of internal revenue, or the disbursements for pensions. He comes in contact, indirectly, at least, with practically all the people of the country, because the postal service affects all the people. Their complaints and compliments to the service come to him. There are an enormous number of these, many of which, to be sure, as far as any official action is required, are settled by well defined rules. But he must act individually on a large class of these that it is necessary to import into him is of concern to some member of congress, who is on one side or the other in behalf of one or more constituents.

Starting Mortality.
Statistics show starting mortality, from appendicitis and peritonitis. To prevent and cure these awful diseases there is just one reliable remedy, Dr. King's New Life Pills. M. Flannery, of 14 Custom House Place, Chicago, says: "They have no equal for constipation and biliousness." 25c at all druggists.

Washington, March 14.—The officers and members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor assembled for their annual meeting today at the general headquarters in this city. Preparing for Salmon Fisheries Exhibit at the Lewis and Clark Exposition.
Portland, March 11.—Preparations for the salmon fisheries exhibit at the Lewis and Clark exposition will be instituted immediately at the Yakima hatchery. Eggs are now being stripped from the steel-head salmon and it is planned to have at least 50,000 for the exhibit which will be held in the forestry building at the center of the exposition.

Will Be Interesting Feature.
The eggs stripped from the salmon will be kept in the hatchery for a week or ten days. It requires about fifty days for the eggs to mature but by putting them in cold storage, their development can be retarded. The eggs will be shipped to Portland at the expiration of two weeks.

By the time these steel-head salmon eggs are hatched, the chinook salmon will commence to spawn and afford the fishery officials a source for fresh eggs. In this manner all stages of the propagation of salmon can be exhibited during the entire period that the exposition remains open.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

(From Saturday's Daily Citizen.)
The rumor that Gov. Otero was to be removed apparently has no foundation.

The cost of armed peace in Europe is shown in the enormous accounts of the three principal maritime nations are levying for the support of their navies. Germany wants $200,000,000, France $250,000,000, and England $300,000,000.

This is the fourteenth day of the battle of Mukden. Already more than 100,000 men have fallen, the armies suffer, almost equally in these losses. This means that a little more than one-seventh of the hosts engaged when the struggle began are now dead or wounded, while 500,000 fight on.

The Las Vegas Optic says that the proposition to pay directors of the public schools of New Mexico original salary with a member of the lower house. It is doubtful if in all the history of legislation in the United States, a measure was ever proposed that is so utterly opposed to the spirit and principle of our government.

The judge who would accept the present of a horse from a man on trial before him for the charge of horse stealing, would be impeached. Yet, says Bryan's Commoner, there are judges who carry railroad passes in their pockets and sit as judges in cases wherein a railroad giving one of its passes is accused of violation of the law.

Wisconsin is struggling with an anti-slavery bill that is almost as drastic as the one just passed by the Indiana legislature. It cannot be denied that the arguments put forth by the supporters of railroad consolidation and "mergers" have considerable merit in them. Consolidated roads can be operated in conjunction much cheaper than each can be operated separately. This is the argument of the "mergers."

The argument of the "mergers" is that the railroad would be a good thing if it did not use its power unjustly to make excessive profits and to stifle competition.

FARMERS' CARNIVAL

GIVEN BY COLUMBIAN LITERARY SOCIETY OF THE MESILLA PARK COLLEGE.

The event of the year thus far at the College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts at Mesilla Park, has undoubtedly the Columbian Literary Society. The building was tastefully decorated with bunting and palms and, with the various booths, presented a regular carnival scene.

A very heavy rain came up just before 7 o'clock of opening, and for a time it looked as though there would be a light attendance. But the clouds soon scattered and the "spellers" began their work. In a very little while the building was crowded with a jolly holiday crowd, and all of the show were patronized by their full capacity.

Among the most popular attractions were the candy booth, where home made candy was sold by the Misses Margaret Ingram and Maude McPherson, and the Japanese tea house where tea was served by pretty college girls dressed in the Japanese costume. The first day's carnival closed at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and all went home tired but happy.

At 3 o'clock on Friday afternoon the carnival was reopened with several new attractions, and with the old ones improved. A much smaller crowd was in attendance upon this day than on the day previous. From 5:30 until 7 in the evening, a Mexican supper was served out under the trees, and the meantime a number of students were occupied in clearing out the hall for the dance which was to follow.

The dance began at 8 o'clock with a large and jolly crowd in attendance and continued until 1 in the morning. The gross receipts of the carnival days were about $200 and the expenses will probably not exceed $50.

The faculty and students, while very glad of Professor Hiram Hadley's appointment as superintendent of public instruction, regret very much that he is to leave the old halls where for such a long time his face has been one of the familiar and welcome sights.

HISTORIC LANDMARK GIVEN TO DAUGHTERS OF REVOLUTION.
Jacob Bennett chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was the recipient of a very acceptable present this week, when Mrs. Thomas Lyons presented for the use of the chapter, the old log cabin standing at the south entrance to the Lyons-amphitheatre place above town, says the Silver City Enterprise. The cabin was erected in 1873, by Dr. Bailey and is one of the historic land marks of the city. As soon as a suitable site is obtained, the cabin will be moved thereon and fitted up as a chapter house by the Daughters.

A good suggestion has been offered that if the city council will set aside a tract of land, the Daughters will move their cabin to the place and beautify the grounds for a public park. Or if any private individual cares to donate a piece of ground for that purpose, the members of the chapter agree to adorn the same with trees, grass, shrubbery, etc., and make it one of the show-places of Silver City.

MARCONI, THE INVENTOR, ENTERS MATRIMONY

London, March 31.—In the Roman Catholic church of St. George the Martyr, a descendant of King Brian Boru of Ireland, today became the bride of Guglielmo Marconi, who enjoys a world-wide fame as a scientist, largely due to his remarkable discoveries in wireless telegraphy.

The wedding was made brilliant by the attendance of many persons of note, including public officials, writers and some of the foremost scientists of England.

Signor Marconi, whose bride has engaged passage to sail for America on Saturday, "They will remain in the United States about six weeks and then sail to Rome, where it is reported they will be guests of the king of Italy for a few days."

The bride of today is a bright, comely girl, fond of outdoor sports, and also well read. She is one of the eight sisters of the present Baron Inghilterra. The Inghilterra family traces its descent direct from Brian Boru, who was king of the Emerald Isle from 1002 to 1014, when he was slain at the head of his army in the battle of Clontarf. His companion, Turlogh, king of Munster, had four sons, of whom the third was the progenitor of the Inghilterra family. One of Turlogh's descendants, of the name of Brian, was king of Ireland in 1295, and it was his brother, Hugh, who after usurping his throne, surrendered to Henry VIII and was executed by order of the king.

Signor Inghilterra today made the acquaintance of Lord Dunsany's house, near Limerick.

GROWING UP

There's something the matter with the child that fails to grow up. A child that grows up too much, however, without proper filling out of flesh, is almost as badly off. Nothing will help these pale, thin "weedy" children like Scott's Emulsion. It supplies the rounding out of flesh and the rich inward nourishment of blood and vital organs which insures rapid growth and a healthy and uniform development.

DEATH OF A MOTHER IN THE FLORIDA HOME

Mrs. B. A. Sleyter, of 421 Fruit avenue, yesterday received word of the death of her mother, Mrs. Julia Barnett, which occurred at Oldtown, Florida. Mrs. Barnett was quite well known in Albuquerque, having lived here several years with her other daughter, Mrs. Geo. H. Browne and a large number of Albuquerque people will be sorry to hear of her death. Mrs. Browne who has been in Florida with her mother for some time, is also very ill, and Mr. Browne left to join her this morning. The remains of Mrs. Barnett will be buried at the Florida home.

One of the most strikingly pitiful cases that have come to the notice of the city is that of Mrs. L. J. Moore, who was brought to the city yesterday from Los Lunas, where she had her foot crushed between the bumpers of a moving train. Moore is in the Great Canyon hospital, and is expected to go to her home in Missouri. The foot was amputated.

Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
The great success of this preparation in the relief and cure of bowel complaints has brought it into almost universal use. It never fails, and is pleasant to take. It is equally valuable for children and adults. For sale by all dealers.

IT WOULD PROVE USELESS EXPENSE TO TAXPAYERS.
A petition was in circulation in Williamsburg, requesting the board of supervisors to send A. T. Cornish of Flagstaff to Washington to try and have the Colorado river made the dividing line between the Navajos and stockmen. The Williams News is of the opinion that such a move is needless for and useless expense to the taxpayers' money. More could be accomplished by our people at home if working along the right lines than by sending a representative to Washington. We believe the board will do all they can, within the law, to help our stockmen, but it seems there is no law to cover such expenditure and we do not believe the board will attempt to go outside the law. We trust our citizens will consider well before signing such a petition.

A Chicago Alderman Owes His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's cough remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John S. Smith, 230 So. DuSable St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign I caught cold after being overexposed, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several doses that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the council." This remedy is for sale by all dealers.

TEACHER LOVE'S NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING.
What might have been a serious catastrophe was narrowly averted the other day near Zuni, when Mr. Love, principal teacher of the Zuni training school was crossing the river. The horse and rider got into deep water and Mr. Love was forced to abandon the horse, both man and horse were carried down stream for over a mile before either could be rescued. When seen the following day Mr. Love appeared to have suffered no ill effects from his icy dip.

GALLUP AND VICINITY SOAKING WITH RAINS.
There has been rain in Gallup every month since including June, says the Republican. The oldest inhabitant does not remember the time when it rained every month for ten months in succession, and the average inhabitant does not want to see another such a rainy spell. A great many people came to this country on account of its dry climate, and they feel imposed upon when called to stand such wet weather.

The Colonel's Waterloo.
Colonel John M. Fuller, of Honey Creek, Mo., is having a hard time of it from river and kidney trouble. In a recent letter, he says: "I was nearly dead of these complaints, and although I tried my family doctor, he did me no good; so I got a 50c bottle of your great Electric Bitters, which cured me. I consider them the best medicine on earth, and thank you who gave you the knowledge to make them." Sold and guaranteed to cure, dyspepsia, biliousness and kidney disease, by all druggists at 50c a bottle.

BLAST KNOCKS DOWN ALL TELEGRAPH WIRES.
The intelligent foreman of the railroad work in Shoemaker canyon managed to knock down all the telegraph wires every time a blast is fired, says the Los Vegas Optic. The thing has been going on for a couple of weeks. Almost every day the telegraph service to this city and other towns is suspended and the Associated Press dispatches are delayed by the careless methods employed by those in charge.

LEW CRASS & CO'S OVERALLS.
For men who toil of the work. Today Western Union, Postal and Logan & Bryan wires are all down and it was necessary to get the press service several hours late via San Francisco. It looks as though the Santa Fe might be able to find some one who could superintend the work in the canyon in such a manner as not to cause annoyance and inconvenience to thousands of people.

USED A RAZOR WITH DEADLY EFFECT.
The news of the suicide of D. J. Abel, which occurred at the St. James hotel in Denver yesterday morning, was received here with surprise. Major Ernest Myers, Mr. Abel's former partner, and the man who knew the deceased better than anybody else, was shocked, and at first it was not believed, although it was known that Mr. Abel was very much worried over business troubles and that he had been acting queerly for the past year. He was much by himself and avoided company as much as possible.

A dispatch received here last night says that he retired at the St. James on Saturday night sober and apparently in good spirits. It was 7 o'clock in the evening when a chambermaid working in the hall heard a sound coming from Mr. Abel's room like the sound of a falling body. The girl notified Mr. Hake, manager of the hotel. The room was opened and Abel was lying on the floor, half dressed, with a gapping wound in his throat, a razor being used to commit the deed. He was gasping for breath and soon expired. The coroner's jury, which was with the exception of the bed, which looked as though it had been slept in, and no note or sign was left by the dead man explaining the motive of the deed.

Major Myers said this morning that he had known Abel as a cigar sales man at Denver in 1879. The deceased moved to Santa Fe twenty-three years ago and came to Albuquerque in 1882, where he conducted a cigar store for eighteen years. The firm of the Myers-Abel company was incorporated January 1, 1901, and dissolved last July. Mr. Myers said that Abel had not been himself for the past one or two years. He seemed to have something preying upon his mind. D. J. Abel's estate will amount to over $80,000. Besides large property interests here, the deceased was interested with Ernest Myers in the ownership of the Nevada Valley Cattle & Hauling company, located at Roswell, and realty in Arizona.

He was a member of the B. P. O. E., Masonic and Bnai Bith lodges. He had a brother, Albert J. Abel, living at Denver, Colo., and the remains will probably be interred at that place. The will was opened today and a nephew by the name of Abel in Chicago and the Montezuma Loan and Trust company, of this city, are named as administrators without bond. The will also requests that the remains be cremated and that the ashes be deposited in an urn and be placed in the Elks' lodge room in this city.

BARBER SHOP AND CIGAR FACTORY ENTERED BY ROBBERS LAST NIGHT AND THE HAUL WAS NOT HEAVY.

When James Coleman, the porter at the barber shop of W. F. Switzer & Co., opened up this morning, he found the rear door standing ajar and discovered other evidences that some one, not belonging to the shop, had entered during the night. He immediately telephoned to Mr. Switzer, and the latter on arriving at the shop commenced to investigate. He found that the intruders had cut the screen door on the west side of the building; then attempted to cut out a pane of glass, but failing broke it, securing a hole large enough to put a hand through and turn the key in the lock. The door thus being easily opened the robbers climbed a ladder and got over the rear partition into the barber shop. Knowing that Fred. Dannefer, owing to the length of his name, must have the best razors and left handed at that, the robbers went to his drawer, and extracted therefrom half a dozen razors and a pair of shears. They paid their respect to the cash box, and giggled over the fact that Switzer had left $5 in change, which of course, they took. Nothing else was disturbed in the barber shop, so they entered the cigar factory and store of Henry Westorf, cutting the wire screen and using a ladder to gain an entrance. Mr. Westorf says some old coins and a few dimes and nickels were taken from the cash register. He also misses a few boxes of cigars, some packages of Durham smoking tobacco, and a plug or two of chewing tobacco.

Mr. Switzer and wife attended a dance last night, after which they called on the shop to get a copy of The Citizen so as to read it on reaching their home. This was about 1:30 a. m., and it is his opinion, as the money was missing then, although he paid no attention to it, that the robbery was committed between 11 o'clock and that hour.

The matter was reported to Chief of Police McMullin, and this morning the police rounded in two colored suspects. One of the men proved an alibi to the satisfaction of the police, and he was discharged. The other man is being held for further investigation.

INDICTMENTS RETURNED BY UNION GRAND JURIES.

J. Owens, same offense, five years; George Oliver, furnishing a pistol, sixty days in the county jail.

The Home Missionary society of the Congregational church will meet at the church tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Homera DeLusk will address the meeting.

RAILROAD NOTES

(From Saturday's Daily Citizen.)
Mrs. H. M. McCain has accepted the position of stenographer in Storekeeper's office.

R. W. Hoyt, traveling auditor for the Santa Fe, was in the city yesterday on official business.

C. C. Arnold is no longer assistant storekeeper at the local round house. He has been promoted to the position of chief storekeeper at Bakerfield, Cal., succeeding W. H. Phillips, who has been transferred to Needles.

Hugh Roberts of Las Vegas received an appointment to be mail clerk on the run between La Junta and Albuquerque and has been doing duty in that capacity some weeks. Locally the fact was unknown to some of his friends.

The Missouri Pacific has filed notice of its intention to make arrangements for special rates from Kansas City to Denver for the Eagles convention, of 215 machines in that city, for the 215th annual convention of the 215th league convention, $2 less than the regular fare.

Walter E. Springer, of Las Vegas, returned to his post of duty as conductor on the Santa Fe, playing between Pueblo and La Junta Thursday afternoon. His day in that city was the fact that he left his wife in the hospital at La Junta where she is undergoing treatment for her eyes.

David H. Moffat and Traffic Manager W. E. Jones of the Denver, Western & Pacific road have gone east to inspect Mr. Moffat's holdings at the Nevada Valley Cattle & Hauling company, which is the regular annual tour of inspection. Mr. Moffat will visit New York, Washington and Chicago before his return.

C. L. Tallmadge, who is doing colonization work in the Pecos valley and in the Panhandle in connection with the Santa Fe road, left Chicago Wednesday night with nearly 200 homeseekers, who travel by special train from Kansas City. They are going into the Pecos valley with a view to settling upon arid lands which are capable of irrigation.

Perce Marquette road have been elected: Thomas H. Tracy, of Toledo, Alfred Skitt, Arthur Turnbull, R. N. Young, Redmond Cross, S. L. Eldridge, George S. Cunningham, and J. N. Wallace, all of New York. They represent the Chicago & North Western Railway interests, which now control the Pere Marquette.

ANOTHER PARK AT DEPOT.
That the Santa Fe means to make a beauty spot out of that plot of ground directly in front of the Alvarado is apparent from the work that is going on there. The ground was first cleared of the rubbish it contained, then a man and team, with plow and scraper, began leveling it. It is now ready for the grass seed, for it is going to be a lawn, studded with shade trees, a vista of brick walk leading from the south side, and judging from the amount of brick that have been hauled in, the company intends to extend it on the west side as well.

RIO GRANDE BOOKLET ON UTAH RESERVATION.
The first authentic publication on the Utah Indian reservation in Utah, which is to be opened for settlement by the government about Sept. 1, is now in press, having been compiled by General Passenger Agent S. H. Hooper of the Denver & Rio Grande railway. The booklet will contain a vast fund of information regarding this little known country and will contain a large map, with wagon roads, trails, etc., making the publication a valuable one for prospective settlers.

The 1905 release of "Sight Places and Resorts in the Rockies," by the Rio Grande, has left the press in an edition of 25,000 copies. The road will issue about 175,000 copies of its booklet this season.

THE ACT OF GOD IN A DAMAGE SUIT.
The case of the Empire and Minnesota cattle company to recover $50,000 from the Santa Fe railway for the loss of cattle during the Kansas City flood of 1902 has been decided in favor of the railroad company. The court held that the flood was an act of God and that all persons whose property was destroyed thereby must be satisfied with their own luck. The opinion is considered of much importance in the flood suits now pending in both the federal and county courts. The Santa Fe railway was shipping cattle from Texas to South Dakota for the cattle companies. At Kansas City they were caught in the flood and many of them were drowned. The company sued, alleging the railway should have sent the cattle by another route when it was known that the Kaw river was greatly swollen by rains. The railway set up defense that the flood was an act of God and the trial of the case showed that all other routes were crippled by washouts.

Brakeman's Suit for Damages.
Dr. N. H. Merriam, chief surgeon of the Santa Fe hospital association, has made defendant Friday in a suit for $20,000 damages, brought in the superior court of Los Angeles by H. D. Carter, formerly a brakeman employed by the Santa Fe.

Carter's left foot was crushed under a car at Harston in March 1903. It was sent to the company's hospital, where the foot was amputated by Dr. Merriam. Plaintiff claims that the operation was so unskillfully performed that two more amputations were necessary, the last one being the work of another surgeon.

Carter now is crippled and contends that if he had not been unskillfully operated upon by the defendant his left leg would be longer by four inches than it is today.

A YOUNG CONDUCTOR.
Ralph S. Aird, of Topeka, now a conductor on the New Mexico division of the Santa Fe, has the reputation of being the youngest conductor on this great transcontinental system. Aird is but 26 years of age. In 1896 when but 17 years of age, he was one of the fastest professional bicycle riders in the middle west. At that time he was employed by Crane & Co., as a press feeder. He left Topeka in the spring of 1900, and entered service of the Santa Fe as a call boy at Raton, soon after being promoted to a brakeman's position. Through courteous and efficient service he has won his way to a conductor's place. Mr. Aird is the son of Wm. Aird, one of Topeka's oldest citizens.

GENERAL MANAGER MUDGE.
General Manager H. U. Mudge of the Santa Fe railroad stopped in Denver yesterday on his way home to Topeka from a Pacific coast tour. He is a Denver Republican. Mr. Mudge stated that his trip was entirely one of pleasure and had nothing to do with the business of the road.

Speaking of the heavy expenditures which the Santa Fe will make during upon the ordinance of the city of St. Louis restraining ticket brokers from handling non-transferable tickets.

For the convenience of visitors who desired to spend every minute available in the world's fair grounds, as well as for those who resided at the hotels in that vicinity or were connected with the various exhibits or concessions, and to relieve as much as possible the city ticket offices and the office of the Transportation building was established for the sale of railroad tickets and Pullman tickets, for the validation of round trip tickets and as a bureau of information. This action was justified by the business handled at that office, which included ticket sales amounting to $60,594.14. Pullman sales amounting to $101,024.29, in addition to 7,016 validations, and a very large bureau of information business. A conservative statement would show that this office was a convenience for about 250,000 people.

(From Monday's Daily Citizen.)
Santa Fe Detective Timothy O'Leary was an Albuquerque visitor on Saturday night.

Engine No. 905 jumped the track and tore off her pilot in a frog at the local yards yesterday as she was being taken from the round house for service.

George Hines, has resigned from the train department of the Santa Fe, and has moved to Pacific Beach, Cal. He expects to engage in business there.

T. V. Brady, who was master mechanic of the Mexican Central at the city of Chihuahua for a number of years, and is now in charge of the machinery with a mine and smelter company at Mapimi, is visiting friends in El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ballou have rented one of the New Brunelles cottages, at the corner of West 12th avenue and Fourth street and will take possession as soon as completed. Mr. Ballou is a well known engineer on the Santa Fe Pacific.

W. H. Graves has resigned as bill clerk at the local station to engage in some other walk of life besides the railroad business. Mr. Graves is succeeded at the Santa Fe office by Harry Chamberlain, of Las Vegas. Mr. Chamberlain is recently of Chicago.

The Socorro Chieftain says: Thos. Jaques, Santa Fe agent, says that he has in his possession two overcoats, one of which was left in the waiting room and the other in the office at Newell and the Santa Fe depot. Mr. Jaques asks that the owners call and "get the coats."

The Deming Graphic says: The new freight house is finished, the water tank has been removed and is now in its new position nearly south of the Harvey house, and Foreman Grant, his next work will be to "hookline and Fairbanks on the Guadalupe branch."

A new gardener has made his appearance on the Alvarado lawn and Santa Fe station grounds. Agent F. L. Myers has given him instructions about twenty years ago but let them be a place forked up and seeded for grass, and fences built around the corners, where pedestrians have killed the grass.

A slight accident occurred to the branch train on the Santa Fe which left Santa Fe Saturday noon to make connections with No. 10. Some unknown man, one of the cars of this train left the track in the yards at Lamy. It was soon gotten onto the track again and the train left there at 2 o'clock on its return to the capital city.

L. F. Lorce, who resigned on October 8th last the chairmanship of the executive committee and a director of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway company, and who was the head of the St. Louis & San Francisco railway company, has announced since his return from abroad that he will in the future be connected with the Canadian Pacific railway company.

The Frisco has put collectors on the passenger trains of its branch lines. Collectors have been at work on the main line of the road for some time. The Santa Fe had collectors about twenty years ago but let them out after a year or so. They relieve the conductors of a whole lot of work collecting tickets and fares and enable him to give his entire attention to running the train.

A circular just issued by the passenger department of the Denver & Rio Grande announces a new through car service from Chicago, St. Louis, Missouri river and Denver to California and the Pacific northwest. That company operates no less than four standard Pullman cars daily, six tourist cars daily, three semi-weekly and four weekly through all night cars each week through to the Pacific coast. Probably no other transcontinental line operates as complete a through service as does the Denver & Rio Grande.

Brakeman's Suit for Damages.
Dr. N. H. Merriam, chief surgeon of the Santa Fe hospital association, has made defendant Friday in a suit for $20,000 damages, brought in the superior court of Los Angeles by H. D. Carter, formerly a brakeman employed by the Santa Fe.

Carter's left foot was crushed under a car at Harston in March 1903. It was sent to the company's hospital, where the foot was amputated by Dr. Merriam. Plaintiff claims that the operation was so unskillfully performed that two more amputations were necessary, the last one being the work of another surgeon.

Carter now is crippled and contends that if he had not been unskillfully operated upon by the defendant his left leg would be longer by four inches than it is today.

A YOUNG CONDUCTOR.
Ralph S. Aird, of Topeka, now a conductor on the New Mexico division of the Santa Fe, has the reputation of being the youngest conductor on this great transcontinental system. Aird is but 26 years of age. In 1896 when but 17 years of age, he was one of the fastest professional bicycle riders in the middle west. At that time he was employed by Crane & Co., as a press feeder. He left Topeka in the spring of 1900, and entered service of the Santa Fe as a call boy at Raton, soon after being promoted to a brakeman's position. Through courteous and efficient service he has won his way to a conductor's place. Mr. Aird is the son of Wm. Aird, one of Topeka's oldest citizens.

GENERAL MANAGER MUDGE.
General Manager H. U. Mudge of the Santa Fe railroad stopped in Denver yesterday on his way home to Topeka from a Pacific coast tour. He is a Denver Republican. Mr. Mudge stated that his trip was entirely one of pleasure and had nothing to do with the business of the road.

Speaking of the heavy expenditures which the Santa Fe will make during the present year he said that $7,000,000 would be used for the purchase of new equipment and about the same amount for double tracking and other improvements.

Work of double tracking over the Santa Fe mountain, on the road from Trinidad, Colo., to Raton, N. M., is to be completed this year. Other double tracks will be laid in Illinois, Missouri and Kansas.

"My trip to California was for the purpose of visiting relatives," said Mr. Mudge, "and there was no business in it. I had arranged on the way out to stop in Denver on my return. Although I went to the coast to stay a couple of weeks with my wife, I remained but two days, and am now on my way back to Topeka. I found everything was in the fine condition. Regarding the Santa Fe, I do not recall a thing of any particular interest. We are to spend a good deal of money this year, but that has already been announced."

"No, there is no truth in the report," said Mr. Mudge, when asked if there was any foundation for the rumor that he was to go with the Rock Blue system. "I do not contemplate making any change."

HERE'S THE LATEST PUZZLE.
"How old is Anna?" relative has been found. It seems to have been discovered by the Pittsburgh Times, which is being flooded with answers and solutions. It appears the railroad men of the line entering Pittsburgh have been neglecting their business to make practical demonstrations and prove their theories. The puzzle is known as the Gladys W. Va. problem, the incident having its origin there. It is stated as follows:

"A train one mile long starts from the station at Gladys. The engine leaves the station and the conductor waits until the caboose comes, when he jumps on the caboose and walks forward over the train. When the engine reaches the next station, Gladys, four miles distant from Gladys, the conductor steps off the engine. How far does the conductor ride and how far does he walk?"

(From Tuesday's Daily Citizen.)
Trainmaster Kerr, of the Rio Grande division, is in the city looking after official matters on this end of his division.

T. A. Cone has resigned as chief of the Santa Fe fire department at Newell and the fire warden elected in his stead Jack Crowther.

Conductor D. J. Luster is at the local hospital suffering from a bruised foot. He dropped a barrel upon it at Laguna, while moving some freight.

William Pressler, recently of El Paso, has relieved W. M. Pollock as night line clerk at the local station. Mr. Pollock takes up the duties of gardener at the Alvarado.

F. M. Jones, locating engineer for the Santa Fe, was in the city yesterday between trains while en route to Los Angeles, where his family is spending the winter. Mr. Jones makes his headquarters at Las Vegas.

L. Critchlow, who for several months during the summer of 1904, was employed in the general office of the Santa Fe Central railway company in Santa Fe, has been tendered an available position as accountant

The congregation of the Congregational church were deeply affected yesterday, when Rev. W. J. Marsh, the pastor, announced that he would resign, the resignation to take effect September 1, 1906.

The announcement came at the close of the morning service and was somewhat of a surprise. Rev. Marsh has been pastor of the Congregational church for nearly five years and is one of the best known ministers in the city. Rev. Marsh has fixed the time of his departure in his official letter of resignation, published below. It is understood he and his family will go to Alliance, Neb., where Mr. Marsh will engage in farming and stock raising.

Official Letter of Resignation.

Albuquerque, March 12, 1906.

To the First Congregational Church, Albuquerque, N. M.

Dear Brethren: For nearly five years we have been permitted to labor together in the Lord's vineyard. God has been pleased to smile upon our efforts, and has enabled us to see at least some fruitage of our toil, though not as much as we could wish. A very serious and painful illness has been a privilege and an inspiration. Also, by your hearty cooperation and your cordiality, you have made me to feel that our relations have been mutually agreeable and helpful. Therefore, it is with unfeigned reluctance and regret that I announce to you that the time has come for me to resign. Considering the cordial relations which have always existed between the church and pastor, it is due to you that I state my reasons for taking this step.

As you well know, during all the time of my pastorate I have been afflicted with a chronic throat trouble. While always present to a greater or lesser degree, at times it has not seemed so serious as at other times it has been so serious as to be very embarrassing to myself and distressing to my wife. My resignation is being tendered to you with the hope that you will graciously accept it, and that you will be able to find a successor who will be able to perform my usual duties and with no plans made in any other direction.

Another reason for my action is the condition of my wife's health. Though few people have realized it, Mrs. Marsh has been on the verge of nervous prostration for nearly a year. Two doctors, one in Albuquerque and one in Los Angeles, have recently advised an extended period of absolute rest, not so much from physical exertion as from those cares and anxieties which have a tendency to disarrange the nervous system. If I were to continue in the work I should be compelled to send her away to some climate for a year or two, and that would be impracticable.

Either one of these reasons would seem to justify the course I am pursuing. The two combined make it seem imperative.

Accordingly, I hereby tender my resignation of the pastorate of this church to take effect, with the approval of the church, at the expiration of the fifth year of my pastorate, Sept. 1, 1906.

In presenting this resignation, permit me to say for both Mr. Marsh and myself that we shall ever remain with appreciation the friends we have known and the kindness we have received in Albuquerque and that we shall ever cherish an earnest solicitude for your welfare.

With many prayers on your behalf for the divine blessing and guidance at this time, and in the future, am, Very sincerely, your pastor,

W. J. MARSH.
