HUGHES--HE HAS FRENZIED INSURANCE FINANCIERS ON THE HIP

A CHARACTER SKETCH OF THE MAN WHO IS MAKING THE McCALLS AND PERKINS TELL ALL ABOUT WHAT THEY HAVE BEEN DOING WITH THE MONEY OF POLICY HOLDERS.

New York, Sept. 28.—Charles Evans Hughes, lawyer, champion inquirer for the legislative committee, which is investigating the life insurance companies, is the most talked-of man in New York this week.

In the aldermanic chamber of the city hall a thousand men have crowded in on days when he has conducted this inquiry. There is no mistaking the look on his face. They all look at Hughes. He is the center, and whenever he moves their eyes follow. A man of average height and build, with a head and shoulders which would not be picked out on the street. But this aldermanic chamber, with its somber light and the tremendous play going on, is the ideal setting for Hughes. He seems 5 feet, eight inches, straight, thin and bony. Wearing a beard and mustache which conceal his face but not his strong, white teeth. Many think of the Roosevelt teeth. When he speaks the crowd looks at his teeth. They look away to his feet, set, blue eyes, to his long, sharp, inquisitorial nose—a Greek nose, without the wide, delicate, sensitive nostrils, to his high forehead—a splendid forehead, though not broad like Daniel Webster's; and then they go back and stare at his teeth.

All the while they hear his pleasant, wonderfully distinctive voice. It is a tenor robust voice, and no mouth was ever better adapted to enunciate English. The aldermanic chamber is a place where the teeth; he does not drop his head, nor does he fall into any of the "unhappy" habits of speech that Henry James deprecates.

Every movement of lips or head or hands or body speaks the power, the self confidence of the man in himself. They stare at him all day. He mediates them. They admit, after the first moment, that Hughes is the master of this immense situation, that he knows exactly what he wants, and he will get it out of McCall and McCurdy and Perkins and the rest of them. If he has to drag it out with his teeth.

He moves around continuously, yet never does one think him nervous. He is the physical type of nervous man, but his manner is the antithesis

CHARLES EVANS HUGHES.

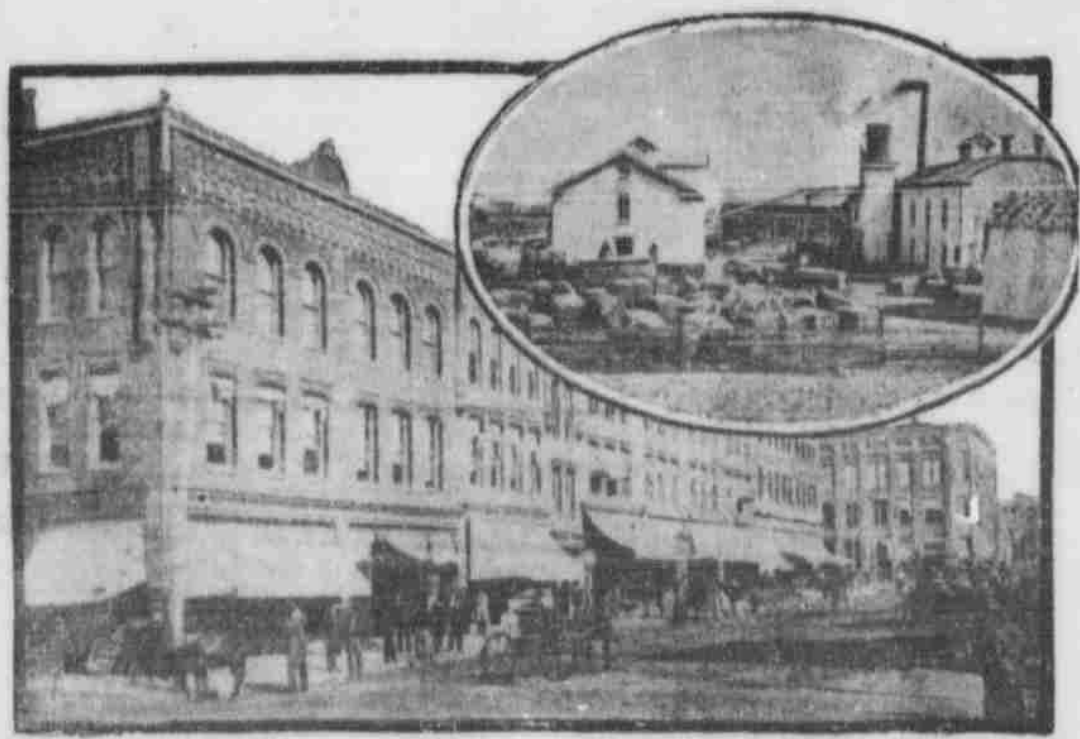

He never hesitates. He never says the wrong word. He persists always. He always comes out on top. He has filled Wall street with the strongest panic in all its history. It may not be seen in the daily stock quotations, but it is seen in the faces of the big financiers every day. They have never met an enemy like Hughes.

His father was David C. Hughes, a clergyman, and young Hughes—for he is young—was born in Glens Falls, N. Y., in 1862. He graduated from Brown university in 1881, taught law students in Cornell and Columbia, and has quietly practiced law in New York for the past thirteen years.

of the nervous man. They have never seen such a cool lawyer in New York. There are great bundles of big balance sheets covered with figures that look like an inextricable mass to the committee and probably to many experts in the crowd. Hughes shoots a glance at the pile, picks one sheet, and the musician Herrman used to pick a card from a deck of playing cards. He seems never to be looking for anything. He goes at it intuitively. He knows.

MUSKOGEE, MAGIC CITY OF THE SOUTHWEST

QUADRUPLED ITS POPULATION IN FIVE YEARS AND HAS A RECORD FOR PUSH AND PROSPERITY NEVER BEFORE EQUALED IN THE UNITED STATES—WHERE GIT-UP-AND-GIT COUNTS MORE THAN OLD FAMILY.

A BUSINESS STREET AND COTTON GIN IN MUSKOGEE.

Muskogee, I. T., Sept. 29.—Here's a town of magic, the like of which, considering the difficulties to be overcome and the solidity of its construction, has probably not been seen in this country.

Five years ago it was a straggling place of 4,230 people, according to the census. Last spring a census taken under direction of the United States bureau showed a population of 18,000. Block after block of substantial brick buildings from two to five stories in height, and electric street cars running up to the minute in improvement; an ice plant, electric light, gas, sewer works and sewage system; a daily and six weekly newspapers, ten monthly publications, nine banks, a cotton compress, three cotton gins, oil refinery, three brick plants, ten wholesale houses, fifty lawyers, thirty doctors, four colleges, a teachers' hospital, and good public schools, are signs of a modern progressive city.

Features of last year's business were the sending out of $6,000 bales of cotton and a jobbing trade of at least $3,000,000.

There's a civic spirit unexcelled, and a capacity for self government that could not be found outside of America.

Everything about the city is so new it looks as though it had been built up this summer. Building operations are in progress everywhere.

There are flourishing newspapers here to recoup to have secured a place in the latest newspaper directory of the country. There is a five story hotel with bath, electric light, steam heat, a telephone in every room and all the other conveniences of a first class hotel, except a bar room, that is too new to have been listed in the hotel register.

One piece of property recently worth $25 an acre, has been sold for $25 a front foot. Other property has increased from four to six times in value.

People down here claim for the country that every part of the territory offers to the young man of ambition and industry, far greater chances of success than he can find in the old states. In the latter, they say, opportunities are to a large extent, monopolized by families of wealth and influence. Here lineage does not count, and every man is rated according to his conduct and his deeds.

PERSONAL NOTICES OF SILVER CITY PEOPLE

Mrs. Frederick A. Bush and little son left last week for Indiana, where they will visit Mr. Bush's relatives for some weeks. They were accompanied by Mrs. Bush's mother, Mrs. Argonbright, who went to visit relatives in Missouri. Mr. Bush accompanied his family as far as El Paso and then went up to Albuquerque and saw the closing sights of the territorial fair.

Jack Stark, nephew of Mrs. E. H. Venable, and an artist of ability, who had been spending the summer in Silver City and vicinity, left Thursday evening for his home, from which point he will shortly go to Paris. Mr. Stark has many good friends in Silver City who are watching his career with much interest and who are greatly gratified at his rapidly increasing success.

W. H. Walton and T. E. White, of Silver City, who have been at Las Vegas on lodge matters, are stopping in the city while on route home. Mr. Walton was one of judges of the Las Vegas flower parade.

ELIJAH DOWIE WILL VISIT EL PASO

King of the Chosen Few to Be A Reincarnated Adam In His New Paradise

EVE HAS NOT BEEN NAMED

John Alexander Dowie, self-proclaimed Elijah III, prophet of Zion, King of the Chosen Few, and the only living representative of Jesus Christ on earth, will shortly be in El Paso. Word has been received in El Paso that the founder of Zion City and the reincarnated Elijah will pass through that city on his next trip to Victoria, Mexico, where he will be found a Zion colony. The "prophet" will be accompanied by thirty of his followers and they will come over the Rock Island from Chicago in a private car.

The party will leave El Paso over the Mexican Central to Torreon, thence via the Mexican International to Tijuana. At the latter point they will strike the Mexican Central again and go on down to Victoria.

Bars Pork Eaters. It is the "prophet's" intention to found a colony on the large Gonzales ranch near Victoria that will bring the millennium near to hand, where the "stink pot" reporters—as Dowie once called them in New York when they persisted in attending his meetings—and the "filthy pork eaters" will be forever barred.

The colony will be known as Eden City. The "prophet" himself will be the reincarnated Adam. It is said that Eve will be selected by a coupon voting contest of some enterprising newspaper. Apples will not be the only forbidden fruit.

The ranch upon which the colony will be founded is to cost $1,200,000, a payment of $500,000, gold, having already been made to bind the deal. The remainder of the money must be paid within three years. The inhabitants of the new Eden will be converts to the faith from the world over. "Prophet" Dowie will rule.

In this connection it was recently stated that Josiah Smith, head of the Mormon church, was America's only pope. This is a mistake. Dowie is pope, king, czar, president and the whole cheese of the Zion church. His trip to Mexico will be made early in October.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

SIMON CALLES FALLS TO BOTTOM OF MAIN STREET CANYON, SILVER CITY.

Simon Calles, of this city, had a narrow escape from death Saturday evening by falling into a deep arroyo, extending down Main street, and as it was suffered a dislocation of the right thigh, says the Silver City Independent.

Calles was walking along the edge of the arroyo in the vicinity of the Warren residence, and the night being dark and cloudy overhead, misjudged the distance. He fell over the edge and down the embankment to the bottom, a distance of about thirty feet. His cries soon attracted the attention of passers, and he was taken out a very short time after the accident occurred. He was then removed to the Ladies' Hospital, where an examination was made by Dr. O. J. Westlake, disclosing the injury above stated, which was at once reduced.

The dislocation and a few cuts and bruises were all the injuries sustained. Calles was able, Sunday, to be removed to his home, where he will be confined for some time.

This is the third accident of the kind, and should serve to call the attention of the city officials to the dangerous shape of the arroyo. It has been suggested, and properly, that both sides of the gulch extending through the town be fenced in to such a manner as to prevent future accidents of a similar nature.

WORTH MORE THAN ALL THE SCENERY

Fruit shipments from Santa Fe by express continue in good shape. The Wells-Fargo and the Globe Express companies are doing a better business this year than ever before in this line. Some of the Santa Fe and Texas Valley fruit is sent as far east as Chicago and St. Louis and gives the best of satisfaction.

BRIGHT FUTURE FOR SILVER CITY

Mining Camps and Grant County Filled With Mines and Prospectors.

THE TOWN IS PICKING UP FINELY

Silver City, N. M., is showing most encouraging manifestations of activity, according to Samuel B. Gillette, who returned recently from that city, says the El Paso Herald. Smelter and railroad building and general development work in the surrounding camps is leaving its impress on the place.

"The city is extremely lively," Mr. Gillette said. "The new smelter is practically completed, and while it was not in operation when I was here a few days ago, I suppose that it is running now. The narrow gauge road that is being built from Silver City to Pinos Altos is another element in the renewed life of the city."

"For its size, the city is showing remarkably encouraging prospects. The city is in the center of a splendid district. Six and eight-mile teams, loaded with supplies for neighboring camps, can be seen on the main street daily."

"A number of citizens are building. The movement is away from the gulch and toward the court house. John Burnside is tearing down his building on the lower side of town and will build a big store building farther up the slope."

Mr. Gillette said that he believed Grant county would be well represented at the American Mining congress.

"Grant county is one of the most diversified mineral fields in the world," said Mr. Gillette. "The district is at the beginning of a period of fresh activity. Interest is general, and the miners will be sure to flock to El Paso in large numbers during the congress."

"With gold, copper, silver, lead, zinc and iron the district is capable of an immense yield of mineral products. Grant county has more iron than it can handle. The Pierra and Hanover mines are making daily shipments to the Pueblo smelters."

"The narrow gauge line to Pinos Altos seems to promise a period of prosperity for that camp where many fortunes have been made—and lost. With cheaper transportation, it will be possible to haul low grade ore to the Silver City smelter and treat them to advantage."

"In the Burro mountains there is also great activity. The mines are yielding heavily, and every one is optimistic."

GOVERNMENT CONTROL MEANS HIGHER CHARGES

"Government control of railroad rates would mean higher rates than are possible under private management," said James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern, in a speech to the farmers at Preston, Minn., the other day. Continuing Mr. Hill said:

"Your main needs are two—an adequate market in which your products may be sold at a fair price and an opportunity to purchase those things you need which the farm does not supply. There is one way in which you may be helped, and that is by lessening the cost of transportation."

"It is an easy prophecy because it is a business fact that railroad rates in this country would decline more slowly under government control than if fixed by those who intelligently manage railways."

"No public body should dare make reductions so sweeping as those that have been made recently by the railroads. It is the right and duty of the government to secure fair treatment and to prevent discriminations."

"The government cannot discriminate between ports or places. It must be impartial. Therefore it would sooner or later be obliged to order a direct tariff. The low charges for the long haul would disappear and you farmers here in Minnesota would be the most heavily taxed people in the world."

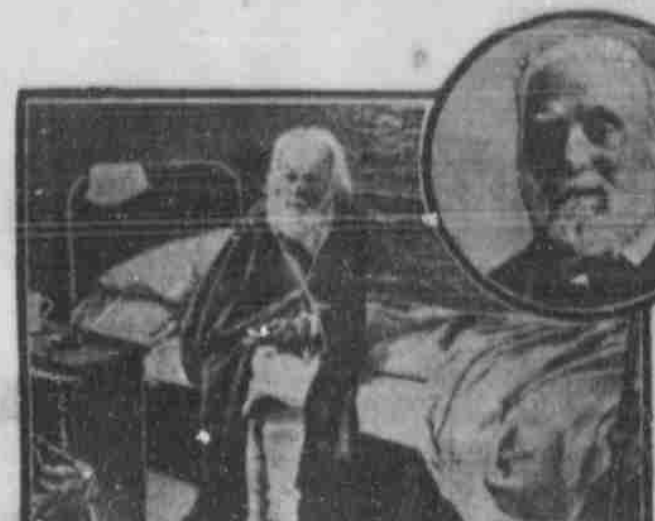

Mr. Hill touched on the Orient as the future market of the wheat producing states of the United States. He observed that the Panama canal, while it might be a worthy project, was an expensive toy, but one that this country could afford. He decided an argument that any great benefit would accrue to the people from it.

TRAMP HELD UP FREIGHT TRAIN FOR GOLD WATCH

Apparently the time has arrived when the box car bum turns the tables on the freight train brakeman. A story has just come out that a north end brakeman was held up for $50 and his watch by a man who was stealing a ride. Brakeman Covey was the victim, and the job was done in broad day light, near Waldo, and the tramp who did it is still at large.

The story is that Covey was running his train looking for "bons," when he came upon a man lying on his stomach in a freight car. "Where are you going, Willie?" was the salute, and at "present arms," an ugly six-shooter at full cock, was the quick response, accompanied by the command, "Shell out!" Covey "shelled out" his ready cash and his gold watch, and then made a hurried exit from the car. He went to the way car where he aimed himself with a gun, but when he returned to the car, the tramp had gone, and a corpse of secret service men have been looking for him ever since, without success.

VETERANS OF WORLD FAMOUS BATTLES

JOHN VAUGHAN AND JONATHAN HENDERSON.

Only two men are alive today who took part in the famous battle of Navarino, which gained Greece freedom from the Turkish yoke. One of these is Jonathan Henderson, aged 92, who lives in a comfortable cottage overlooking the British channel, in a part of England immortalized by Kingsley. He is a hale and hearty old gentleman. In the battle, Henderson was "powder monkey" on board the Genoa, which suffered more than any of the allied ships. Captain Besh burst being numbered among the dead. The battle of Navarino was fought October 20, 1827.

Another interesting veteran has turned up in England, in the person of John Vaughan, who was a bugler boy at Waterloo. He had disappeared from his native place many years ago and was thought to be dead. Vaughan is 104 years old.

EVEN WAVE AND WIND AID AMERICAN TRADE

CURRENTS AND WINDS WILL GO HAND IN HAND WITH AMERICAN ENTERPRISE TO BRING ASIATIC TRADE TO OUR PACIFIC COAST

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—The prospective growth of commerce between our Pacific coast ports and the rapidly opening markets of the Orient is the subject of an article prepared by O. P. Austin, of the bureau of statistics, which article was regarded of such importance by the Japanese government that it has been translated into that language, and circulated in the country as a public document.

Mr. Austin sets forth the results of some experiments by officers of the British and American navies, and their observations as to winds and currents, which, in his opinion, make it inevitable that the trade with eastern Asia will be carried on by the Pacific ports of the United States.

"For," says he, "nature has given to the United States marked advantages regarding the movement of vessels between her western shores and the eastern coast of Asia, where the trade of the Orient must always enter. The equatorial current begins its westward movement at the very point at which vessels from an Isthmian canal would enter the Pacific, and moves steadily westward to the vicinity of the Philippines, then, turning northward along the coast of China and Japan, is deflected to the east, flows eastwardly across the north Pacific to the American coast, and then moves down to the western coast of the United States to the point of loading. The air currents, while their exact location is somewhat affected by the changes of the seasons, follow practically the same lines, and are equally certain and reliable."

"The rate of speed at which this ocean current flows in its great circular movement across the Pacific, and returns, is probably at an average of about one mile per hour, or 24 miles a day, while the rate of the movement of the air current is of course much more rapid.

"These facts, it seems to me, justify me in the assertion that this steady, permanent flow of air and water—a flow which will never cease so long as the earth revolves toward the east and the great bodies of land water retain their present relative positions—must always give to the North American continent a marked advantage in the commerce of the Pacific. Its vessels from the eastern coast, entering the Pacific at the Isthmus, will move westward, aided by air and water currents, past our Hawaiian Islands, Wake Island and Guam to the Philippines; thence northward to those two great trade centers, Shanghai and Yokohama, and thence, and still following the entrance to the Isthmian canal having been aided by favoring currents of air and water in the entire circular tour of 18,000 miles.

"The feasibility of this plan is found in the fact that, while the actual sailing distance from the western end of the proposed Isthmian canal to Manila via Hawaii and Guam is 9,500 miles, the return trip from Manila via Shanghai, Yokohama and San Francisco to the canal is but 10,000 miles, with the advantages of favorable wind and current in practically every mile of the entire distance."

TOWN IS INFESTED WITH VERY BAD BOYS

Jeffersonville, Ind., Sept. 28.—At police roll call in Jeffersonville last night Capt. Clegg gave instructions that all boys, no matter what their ages found disobeying the laws of the state or ordinances of the city must be locked up, favors to be shown to none. At the time he had just returned from a fire, caused by two boys lighting matches and throwing them on an awning in front of Samuel W. Taylor's saloon, 453 Spring street.

This, however, was not the only cause that prompted Capt. Clegg to issue the order. During the services at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning the Rev. Dr. J. R. Howk was compelled to refer to his pupils to the annoyances the members of his congregation have been subjected to by the acts of a number of half-grown boys, who gather about the church during services and at other times, using the vilest of language. It was this more than the evening fire that caused the order to be made.

Capt. Clegg said last night that one of the greatest trials of the police board was that of attempting to handle the boys of Jeffersonville, who, to all appearances, have started in to take the city. Ninety per cent of the calls that are sent in at night are requests for the police to drive boys away from different localities. Many arrests have been made and the church has allowed to go on their own recognizance until the next morning. Capt. Clegg said, and then to be dismissed with a tender reprimand.

"Big and little," said Capt. Clegg last night, "I intend seeing the officers turn these hoodlums over to Sheriff Pernett, and if he does not see fit to lock them up the responsibility will be with him, not with me. The present practices must be broken up."

MAN SHOT WHILE TERRORIZING WOMEN

New London, Conn., Sept. 28.—Stephen A. Crocker, a member of a well known New London family, is at the hospital in a serious condition as the result of a pistol shot received while he was terrorizing the family of George Hindosa at their home in this city early last night.

Late last night Crocker went to the Hindosa house, and when the door was opened in response to his ring, he pushed past the servant and met Mrs. Hindosa and her daughter, Biola. Their refusal to speak to him angered him, and for several hours he had them in a state of terror. Mrs. Hindosa tried to get to the telephone to summon her husband or the police, but Crocker prevented her.

Mrs. Hindosa about 4 o'clock this morning went to her husband's room and secured his revolver to protect herself. As she came down stairs she saw Crocker holding her daughter, and in her nervousness the revolver which she held in her hand went off. The bullet did not strike Crocker, but the shot distracted his attention from the girl, and he turned on Mrs. Hindosa. In struggling for the possession of the weapon, it was exploded, and the bullet entered his body, inflicting a wound that probably will cause his death. Crocker then left the house and went to his home, where he collapsed and was taken to the hospital. When he recovered consciousness this afternoon, he said two tramps shot him. Mr. and Mrs. Hindosa went to the police station and told their story.

Judge Nathan Washburn, a brother of E. L. Washburn, accompanied by Mrs. Washburn and children, arrived in the city last night, and are visiting the popular Albuquerque clothing merchant for a few days. The visitors are en route to southern California, where they will visit for a few weeks before returning to their eastern home.

that dog loved much, and of all the things he hated, cats came first. There wasn't a cat within a mile of my bars that hadn't been chased up a tree by that beast, and all the dogs within the same distance had been most painfully and shamefully abused. One little yellow fellow he especially hated and he used to heap indignities on that dog until I was afraid I'd get into the papers. Little did he think that there was such a thing as the yellow peril, and that it would some day send him to the dog heaven—no, not heaven, but the other place.

"The yellow dog and an old black Tom cat used to hound together a great deal, and finally their actions aroused by suspicion. I noticed they would walk down the street together and sit down and wait at various points which they knew the terrier was certain to pass. But the place they picked would always be close to a tree that the cat would climb and near a hole in the fence through which the yellow dog could escape.

But too small for the terrier to crawl through. I had a hunch that they were getting ready to spring some kind of a trap—yes, that's right, they were luring him on—and every time he chased the two I'd give him a beating.
But he got it into his head that I was beating him because they escaped and he'd try all the harder to catch them
the next time.

"One day I tied him up near the kitchen door, but I made the mistake of tying him with a rope instead of a log chain. My wife—and, by the way, she hated the beast—was looking out an upstairs window and saw the events of a few minutes later. The black Tom walked boldly into the yard, sauntered over to the terrier, and spat in his face three or four times. I can imagine how sore that dog must have been. He simply went in anger. Then the Tom called him a few names and he cried louder.
All of a sudden he had a bright thought. He began to chew at the rope.

"The cat kept his eye on the terrier, and when he saw the rope was almost chewed through, he walked slowly to the back fence, climbed up to the top and called more names.
When the terrier at last freed himself he started for the fence, the rope trailing from his collar. Down went he on the other side. It was one of those fences with perpendicular boards, easy to climb over if you were on the side where you could grab the two-by-fours to which the boards were nailed, but not so easy if you were on the smooth side. The terrier was on the rough side, and over he went.

"Well, sir, just as he was going over he jumped the yellow dog from behind a barrel, where he had been hiding, and he grabbed the rope with his teeth and held on. My wife said she heard the terrier growling deep down in his throat, and she could hear him scratching the fence in vain endeavor to climb over. Finally the noises ceased, but the yellow dog held on until the cat jumped on the fence.
I guess he must have said that the terrier was dead, for the yellow dog let go. Gentlemen, gentlemen, it was murder, murder, plain and simple, and as foul as was ever committed."

PROF. THOS. CODY KNOCKED OUT MINER JACK IN THREE ROUNDS

So unevenly matched were a couple of pugilists, who fought a hammer and tongue fight at Las Vegas Wednesday night, without the curtains being drawn, that one of them was knocked down and out and unconscious, and was still hors de combat up until 10 o'clock last night. The fight was so bravely advertised that Albuquerque sports attending the festivities were led to believe that it would be a fake, but apparently it was "he real thing."

In explaining the affair the Las Vegas Optic says:
"While a friendly boxing bout was going on before members of the gymnasium club last night, Jack Miner, who was boxing with the instructor, Thos. Cody, lost his balance and fell heavily, striking the back of his head a blow from which he is suffering seriously."
To make this boxing ruse hold good, Prof. Thos. Cody had better insert a professional card in the Optic.

WANTS ANOTHER SPOT TO PLANT BRITISH FLAG

BARON DE FOREST BACKED BY ENGLAND TO CREATE NEW EM-PIRE IN SAHARA.

Tanger, Sept. 29.—In spite of carefully guarded plans, it is believed here that the supposed hunting and exploring expedition, headed by Baron and Baroness de Forest, who are on board their beautiful yacht Homer, is about to take steps to found an empire in the Sahara.
Accompanied by several Moors, the party has arrived at Las Palmas. The yacht carries thirty-eight men and several thousand rifles, with ammunition, are said to be on board. It is rumored that the enterprise has the backing of the British government.
Baron de Forest is a peer of the Austrian empire, and a naturalized
British subject, as well as an officer in the English army. He married his beautiful English wife last year.

PROPER THING TO DO WITH THE PRISONERS

The city police of Santa Fe have the prisoners at the jail at work on the streets. Lincoln avenue, between San Francisco street and Palace avenue, on the west side of the plaza, was put in good condition today. Rocks and stones were hauled and placed in the holes, after which they were covered with dirt taken from the excavations being made for the business block to be erected at the corner of Don Gaspar avenue and San Francisco street by Judge N. D. Laughlin.

Are You Engaged?

Engaged people should remember that, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their dispositions in good condition with Electric Bitters. R. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "For years my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." All druggists sell and guarantee them, at 50 cents a bottle.

Harsh physics react, weaken the bowels, cause chronic constipation.
Doan's Regulets operate easily, tone
the stomach, cure constipation, 25c.
Ask your druggist for them.

WORTH MORE THAN ALL THE SCENERY

Fruit shipments from Santa Fe by express continue in good shape. The Wells-Fargo and the Globe Express companies are doing a better business this year than ever before in this line.
Some of the Santa Fe and Tesquite valley fruit is sent as far east as Chicago and St. Louis and gives the best of satisfaction.

WILLING HELPERS

What's the use of a helper if he isn't willing? Willingness is an ample mantle which will almost cover all the sins of services. But a classified advertisement in The Evening Citizen is a willing helper that is not only absolutely competent, but also is a willing worker. It works all the time for you. It is the best and most economical publicity in the world.

Always Successful.
When indigestion becomes chronic it is dangerous. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will cure indigestion, and all trouble resulting therefrom, thus preventing starvation of the stomach. Dr. Newbrough, of League, W. Va., says: "To those suffering from indigestion or sour stomach I would say that there is no better remedy than Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have prescribed it for a number of patients with good success." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by all druggists.

Railroad Topics

A fifteen-year-old Mexican voy at Trinidad out there on the track of the Colorado Southern, "just to see how hard the engine would bump them."

In a two mile stretch of track near Sealbrook, Texas, the Southern Pacific is experimenting with ties in order to find out the kind which will last the longest. Five different kinds are in use. Some have been treated by all the different known methods and some are not treated. The same road on the same track is making trial of a new kind of spike, which is much used in Europe, and is screwed into the tie instead of being driven.

TRINIDAD DISPATCHER MUDD'S SUCCESSOR.

The appointment of trainmaster of the Denver road in Mexico, R. W. Mudd, who resigned some time since to accept service with another system, was made known Wednesday by General Superintendent George F. Coker of the Denver road. J. H. Riegel, who has been acting as chief train dispatcher of the Colorado & Southern at Trinidad, Colo., has accepted the appointment, with headquarters at Trinidad.

But, has been filed by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway in the district court of Mexico, Kan., against the board of county commissioners, C. B. Macdonald, as county clerk, and T. A. Hubbard as county treasurer. In this suit the Santa Fe seeks to recover $472.50, with 6 per cent interest, from December 30, 1903, and also $311.10, with 6 per cent interest, from January 1, 1904. It claims to have paid these amounts in excess of what it should have been charged for taxes the years mentioned.

PASSENGER AGENTS TO MEET IN MEXICO CITY.

Notices have been sent to all the passenger and ticket agents throughout the country, of the annual meeting of the American Association of General Passenger and Ticket Agents, which will be held in the city of Mexico on December 14. A special train has been provided for the transportation of the delegates, and it will leave St. Louis on October 14.

On the morning, the Denver News says: Practically all of the Colorado trains will be represented at the meeting, including the Moffat road, which will be taken into the association at the forthcoming meeting. It is the first railway association of any kind that Colorado's newest railway has joined, and W. F. Jones, the traffic manager of the road, will represent it at the meeting.

The delegates will travel in style, as the special train which will carry them will be one of the finest ever hauled out of St. Louis. There is no business of any great importance to come before the meeting, but considerable routine work will be disposed of.

PRESENCE OF MIND THAT SAVED MUCH SUFFERING.

A San Bernardino boy, R. S. Julian, is the hero of the awful Southern Pacific wreck at Reno, Nevada, this week, for it is he, who, by rare presence of mind, caused the relief to come in the wrecked train quickly. Press dispatches from Reno speak in high terms of the work of Julian in getting news to the outside world of the wreck, so that relief could be sent. It was a case where Julian's prompt knowledge of telegraph procedure saved many lives.

Immediately after the wreck, while the wounded and dying were being hauled out of the wreckage, Julian, whose presence of mind, climbed the nearest telegraph pole and with his own knife cut the telegraph wire. The nearest telegraph instrument was more than two miles away.

Dropping the ends of the wires to the ground he made his way down the pole and picking up the ends of the wires tapped off the words, "Wreck, wreck, wreck." This he did three times, sending the message to where constructing and operating an aerial railway along the beach is being worked out and if considered feasible, L. A. Grosse will establish it as soon as the details can be arranged.

The plan is to build a line between this beach and Los Angeles. Cars will be run all night and at frequent intervals during the day. The railway will connect Santa Monica, Ocean Park, Venice and Playa del Rey, and will follow as straight a course inland to Los Angeles as can be secured by a right of way.

Mr. Grosse is the possessor of fifteen patents from the government, covering inventions concerning aerial trolley transportation. His plan is to run the cars on a single rail suspended several feet above the earth. The track will be elevated on poles. He has secured from the government permission to operate his line along the coast and now has only to secure a franchise from the city and then to organize a company to finance the proposition. No move has yet been made to secure a franchise.

RETIRED AGENT MULLEN WAS CHARMED RECENTLY.

J. B. Mullen was last evening presented a beautiful gold watch chain on behalf of the office and yard employees at the local Santa Fe station for his kindness shown them in the many years that he held down the position of agent.

Yardmaster Tom Rose made the presentation speech, telling how every man was sorry to see him go, and finally ended by wishing him prosperity wherever the journey of life might take him, assuring him that he would always have the best wishes of every man in the shops.

Mr. Mullen could hardly find the words to express his feelings, but he assured every one that he would always remember the days he spent among the boys of the Santa Fe.

A hearty handshake for all followed after which the world seemed better and brighter for all.—San Bernardino Index.

SOME CHOICE TALK BY TRAINMEN.

According to Town Talk, a San Francisco publication, water front and Barbara coast waters could enrich their unique vocabularies to some extent if they visited several of the so-called "bush" shops where train crews between trips make snailgates upon the chow-chow output. The names they bestow upon the various edibles that are "shoveled" into the "round house" carry the true color of their craft. The dining tables are "freight dumps" and the waiter girls are "yard engines." Ham and eggs are never heard by any other name than "ballast," and butter is a "mainfest sun." i. e., perishable article. Showing along the sugar is "handing the right of way," dealing with tough steak is "losing your overtime," "commuters" are the road agents who get a twenty meal ticket per. The man with the Katzenjammer look, who is satisfied with coffee alone for breakfast, was on the "pipe line from Milbrae," and pie is an "easy run."

The latest gem was sprung last week when a switchman called to a girl bringing in a plate of hot cakes: "Hey, kick that string of flats down this siding."

G. A. R. ATTENDANCE UP 150,000

Both on the attendance at the G. A. R. encampment ranging from 25,000 to 150,000 have been referred to General George W. Cook, chairman of the executive committee, for an official decision, says the Denver News.

To satisfy the public and to prove the correctness of his own estimate, of 125,000 General Cook addressed letters to the general passenger agents and auditors on the lines in the Western Passenger Association. Replies from all except the Missouri Pacific show that 104,845 passengers were delivered in Denver on Grand Army Rates.

Owing to the rivalry of the respective roads, agents requested that their individual business be withheld, so General Cook feels at liberty to use only the gross figures. The validating offices report 73,000 validations at Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo, but as these did not include the business originating at stations in Kansas, Nebraska, Indian Territory and Oklahoma, which was estimated at 50 per cent additional, it is safe to say that the attendance was not less than 150,000.

In addition to the total of 104,845 reported by the Burlington, Union Pacific, Rock Island and Santa Fe, four of the leading western trunk lines, the business originating in Colorado, New Mexico, Idaho, Montana, Washington and Wyoming is not counted.

The Missouri Pacific also handled twenty-five special trains, which are not included in the number reported. Local incoming business of the Colorado & Southern, the Denver & Rio Grande and Midland should be added to make up anything like an approximate total.

Sumpin' Good.
I know y' sumpin' good. I'm goin' to get.

At grandma's house in winter time, I bet.

For I was there las' week, my ma an' me.

An' seen my grandma makin' it—na' gee.

The stuff smelt good. When ma an' me got there.

My ma, who stuck her nose up in th' air.

An' laughed an' says, "I'm just in time, I guess."

An' grandma laughed hard an' then said, "Yee."

An' ma took off 'er things an' went right out.

T' grandma's kitchen. Grandma had about

A million peaches there. She took a pin

An' pinned a bib on ma and ma sailed in.

An' Maggie—she's th' girl—she hurried, too.

An' grandma helped. I tell you, peaches flew.

Ma says, "If I was you I wouldn't take 'em."

Out any stones. I think they always make

Th' flavor better." Grandma says, "That's so."

But then yer father likes 'em out, you know."

"Well, John likes 'em," says ma, "but then I say

It's with 'em in—er none. Oh, by the way,

How'd th' berry jam come out? Tried it yet?"

"Not yet," says grandma, "but I never fret

About th' jam. It always comes out right."

Preserves were all right, too. Tried some last night.

Decided not t' open any more

Till Christmas—not another can be before.

How many cans? Just fifty-six this year.

I needed more, but berries were too dear."

An' by an' by, when all th' work is through,

She says, "We'll leave th' cleanin' up t' you."

An' Maggie, little man. An' little man—

That's me—he always gets t' lick th' pan."

Professor Starr, of the University of Chicago, has sailed for Africa to study monkey talk.

Folk who read some of the things said by the University of Chicago professors will hardly be able to understand why the long trip is necessary.

Some little while ago, a railroad in Pennsylvania was advertised to be sold for one dollar.

A judgment of $1 was awarded Angelina Williams, a scrub lady, and it was to satisfy the judgment that the sheriff was to sell the road, unless the courts prevented.

On September 2nd, last Saturday, Milton Yetter is the president of the company. The road is thirteen miles long.

Besides the track, the company owns a small locomotive, a passenger coach, a combination coach, a box car and station platforms.

The road extends from East Stroudsburg to Bushkill, and there is a mortgage of $30,000.

Angelina Williams was hired to clean the passenger car windows.

While she worked the train pulled out of East Stroudsburg, and she was carried to East Bushkill and back.

Her work done, she went to Yetter for her money. He offered her bill by charging her $1 for the trip.

Angelina took the matter to court. Judgment went against Yetter, and so Angelina has asked the sheriff to sell the road, which possibly will not bring much over the $30,000 necessary for the mortgage and Angelina.

W. J. Black has telegraphed C. L. Yocum, the Santa Fe agent at the territorial capital, "that the passenger department of the road has concluded to make Santa Fe one of the tourist resorts on the Santa Fe railway at once, and especially during the fall, winter and spring months, and that arrangements will be made as quickly as possible to have advertising matter, announcing this fact, distributed, and to make a tourist rate both one way, and going and coming, over the lines of the road to that city."

E. C. Matthews, the traveling freight and passenger agent of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad with headquarters in Denver, is here on business.

TRAINMEN FRIGHTENED AT KANSAS PLOWING.

Edward McMillan, a fireman on the Missouri Pacific, whose run is through western Kansas, tells of an unique experience that men in the cab have had in that part of the state.

"Railroad men have many startling experiences," said he, "but the men on our division have one frequently that is really hair raising, particularly to a new man. Just now the big farmers out there are plowing, and they use traction engines, traveling everywhere, long furrows. To rush things many of them work all night shifts, lighting their way with large headlights. At a little distance, these exactly resemble the headlights of a locomotive. When the boys drive around a curve and see one of these glaring lights looming up beside the track just when they are guessing whether they hadn't better 'reverse,' set the brakes and jump, for the situation is for all the world like a train coming head on."

STUDYING CONDITION OF WESTERN TRACK.

The Santa Fe engineers are studying the question of track protection near mile post No. 575, three miles east of Needles, where the road has suffered from the floods made by the flood waters of the Colorado river during the past three years, says the Needles Eye.

The waters have so far encroached as to place the present roadbed at the immediate foot of the gravel bluffs and the further encroachment of the waters of the river means an extraordinary expense of grading and repair, in case of the flood washing. It has been proposed that wing dams be built that the current of the river may be thrown toward the Arizona side of the river. The exact result of the engineers is not known, but the encroachment of the waters of the Colorado river a few miles east of Needles is such as to make its consideration a serious one with the engineers of the company.

OUR RAILROADS SUPERIOR TO FOREIGN

After an extended tour over European railway lines, Samuel L. Seymour, division freight agent of the Pennsylvania in Pittsburgh, thinks that American roads are far superior to those on the continent in almost every respect. Speaking of the handling of traffic, he says, "In the first place, the tonnage handled is so much in comparison with the vast amount of freight hauled on American roads that it is little wonder no better facilities have been provided for the goods in transit. The cars are small; so are the engines. The station facilities in most instances are far ahead of ours. There is plenty of room for handling the freight."

"The methods and rates are something terrible, however. I had a valise about the size of a suit case that I wanted to have sent from Carlsbad to London. Upon inquiry I found that slow freight would require 21 days for the trip. Fast freight would take it in seven days, so I sent it by fast freight, but I paid $4 for that privilege. In America I could have sent it by express from New

RAILROAD NOTES

WHAT WILL BE TO DENVER.

Vice President Solicks says that Denver is only a side station to the transcontinental trains are concerned.

The Union Pacific goes by way of Cheyenne, and the Santa Fe by La Junta; but the completion of the Western Pacific will put Denver on a through line and make it a gateway to the coast.

PIONEER ROAD RUNNING UNDER ORIGINAL CHARTER.

The Baltimore & Ohio has a record which is contemporaneous with the railway development of the country. It is still operating under its original charter, the first instrument of that nature in the world, while it is the only one of the pioneer companies continuing to the present time without a change of name.

PENNSYLVANIA RETURNS TO OLD WAY OF PAYING CASH.

After having for thirty-five years paid its employees in checks drawn on banks near the company's offices and shops, the Pennsylvania has decided to return temporarily at least to payments direct by cash. The change will affect 100,000 men. When the check system was instituted it was thought that the distribution of wages in this form would make the superintendents personally acquainted with their men, but the vast growth of the number of employees has prevented the carrying out of this object.

In America I could have sent it by express from New York to San Francisco for $1.50.

"When one speaks of the passenger facilities he must do so with pride in our own. The cars are small and uncomfortable; they jolt along, not being heavy enough or provided with the right kind of trucks to carry them smoothly. There are more passenger cars than freight, that is, the passenger business is the main thing. The sleeping cars—well, perhaps the best about them the better. They are as jolting as the passenger cars, and it is impossible for one not accustomed to sleep in them to get a wink of sleep. I should much prefer to make all trips by daylight in traveling on foreign railroads. The passenger station facilities, as is well known, are models of convenience, while safety is the watchword at the stations and along the railway lines.

"The one thing that impressed me was the lack of improvement or the incentive for it on the German railways. These lines are owned by the government, and, of course, there is no competition; consequently there is no improving done unless it is absolutely necessary. While the roads are kept in pretty good condition, there are many improvements urgently needed."

New Use for Telephones.

For the better protection of the forest reserves, the forest service, in cooperation with the weather bureau, will install a system of telephone lines and stations on them as rapidly as possible. The first system will be installed on the Big Horn forest reserve, Wyoming. This telephone service will enable the forest rangers to notify one another without delay when forest fires break out. In so large an area as the Big Horn reserve, which comprises 1,151,000 acres, the value of rapid communication is obvious. The forest service says:

WINNING VICTIMS FROM "WHITE PLAGUE" WITH VEGETABLE JUICE

The New Cure for Consumption: What it is, How it Acts, and the Trial it is Receiving.

PATIENTS ARE STUFFED WITH FOOD AND THE JUICE AIDS THE DIGESTION OF ALL NUTRIMENT—THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF CLEVELAND, O., EXPERIMENTING WITH THE NEW DISCOVERY.

WHAT THE JUICE DOES.

It aids digestion, building up the "tract of digestion" or the long continuous passage of the food to the anus.
It assists the patient to absorb the more valuable parts of the eggs and milk in which his diet consists.
It induces an appetite, thus making it easier for the great consumption of food desired.
As the treatment continues the appetite increases until the patient has a real desire to eat the 18 eggs and drink the milk furnished him.
It thus builds up all the parts and organs attacked by the disease.
It—in other words—transforms decay into growth—malnutrition into nutrition—the body unhealthy into the body healthy.
It has no unpleasant effect on the patient, as the accompanying purging eliminates the distress of overeating.

Is the white plague to be mastered at last after it has scourged the human race for untold centuries?

The eyes of physicians the world over are upon the new "vegetable juice" treatment discovered by Dr. John T. Russell, of the New York Post-Graduate hospital dispensary.

If there is not conviction there is at least hope in the so-called "cure," because the reports from New York of disease arrested and health restored are authentic.

The treatment, beyond the shadow of doubt, has stayed the ravages of consumption in scores of cases.

In some cities, notably Cleveland, boards of health have taken up the discovery with enthusiasm and have determined on carrying out extensive experiments along the lines suggested by Dr. Russell.

Cleveland has a free tuberculosis hospital capable of accommodating 100 patients. "This institution will do well enough for the present," said Dr. M. Frederick, head physician to the board, "but," he continued, "when the merits of the treatment are realized, no doubt a great, large sanatorium will be erected, wherein many of the victims of this long considered incurable malady will be brought back to life—for consumption is a living death."

At present the new treatment is generally termed the "vegetable juice cure." A far better name would be the over-feeding-and-air-purging process, for the patients are literally stuffed with immense quantities of particularly adapted foods and liquids, taken in addition to the vegetable juice, to such an extent that were it not for constant purging the stomach must rebel and cause discharge of surplus foods from the mouth.

The idea is to let the patient's system absorb all that is possible of nutrition, and the residue is removed by cathartics.

A patient under this treatment need not pity the state of his bowels, stuffed to the bursting for liver enlargement. But what matters it if the dreadful lung destroying germs find their pastures grown to a healthful condition in which he cannot thrive?

A visit to the "kitchen" of one of the new cure establishments presents a strange scene. On every side are baskets of vegetables. Here is a list of those used:

Potato, onion, beet, turnip, cabbage, celery, sweet potato, apple, pineapple, carrot, parsnip, rhubarb, summer squash, tomato, spinach, radishes, string beans, green peas with the pods.

From all of these, in equal parts, is made the "tuberculosis hash." Men and women are busy washing.

HOME TREATMENT OF THE NEW CURE. BY DR. M. FRIEDRICH, Chief Officer of the Cleveland Health Board.

- Obtain the necessary vegetables, making fresh juice daily. Keep the juice on ice.
- Squeeze out the juice in any kind of press, as cider is squeezed from the apple.
- Use equal proportions of each vegetable.
- The dose is two ounces twice daily.
- The diet is raw eggs and milk. Drop the eggs, two at a time, in a glass of milk.
- Gradually partake of more eggs and milk each day until 18 eggs are partaken daily.
- This is more food than a healthy person demands and the patient must constantly be purged; otherwise when overloaded the patient will vomit.
- Any reliable physic will do, but castor oil is preferable. The dose is a tablespoonful. Usually one dose every other day is sufficient. In some cases a dose daily is necessary. This all depends upon the digestive and absorbent powers of the patient.
- Abstain absolutely from alcoholic drinks, tea, coffee, chocolate, cocoa, beef tea and beef extracts.
- Fresh air is equal in importance to the vegetable juice. Keep always in the air if possible. Sleep out doors, in the yard, on the porch, on the roof, anywhere where there is air, good, pure air.
- If obliged to sleep in a room, keep all the windows open and sleep with the head close to one of them. Put plenty of covers on if chilly.
- It is not necessary to stop work, except, of course, in advanced stages.
- Try and work, however, where the air supply is fresh.
- I am confident that wonderful results will be obtained from following out this simple treatment.

peeling, stripping and slicing. The product of the whole is placed in a big chopper, minced fine, and placed in a cider press.

From out of the press flows the mingled juices which will form, the enthusiastic physicians believe, the main ingredient of one of the greatest boons humanity has ever received.

Equally essential as the juices is the breathing of fresh air. The idea is to build up a big fire; consumption is nothing more than malnutrition—A FIRE BURNING OUT.

The vegetable juice is prepared fresh every day and kept on ice. Twice daily each patient receives a dose of two ounces, taken internally.

The "stuffing" material consists mainly of raw eggs, mixed with milk. The patients are induced to partake more and more of this mixture until they are able to consume a dozen and a half of eggs a day.

On the other side of the dietetic ledger are the things the patient can't have. These are: Alcoholic drinks, tea, coffee, chocolate, cocoa, beef tea and beef extracts. The reason for taking the last two is that they cause the patient to be overheated.

The sufferers are also given an emulsion of beef fat, coconut oil and olive oil.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO URGE RAILWAY AND INSURANCE REFORMS

IS TO OUTLINE HIS FORMER VIEWS BEFORE STARTING ON SOUTHERN TRIP—CONFERENCES SCHEDULED FOR THE PURPOSE OF SOUNDING THE LAWMAKERS—LIKELY TO REITERATE KEY NOTES OF FORMER MESSAGE TO CONGRESS.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—President Roosevelt is planning a series of conferences, or the first two weeks in October, for the purpose of working out the details of his message to congress. The trip which he is planning to the southern states will begin about October 10, and will last until November 10, so he feels that it is necessary to get along in his message task before he starts.

Railway legislation and federal control of insurance are the two topics which will lead the message. These are now absorbing his attention. The authors of the Bach-Townsend bill are to be taken into consultation October 1, and early in November Senator Stephen B. Elkins will communicate unofficially his ideas of the senate committee's report. It is already known that Mr. Elkins wants a bill making the courts the arbiters of railway rates.

The president has assured many of his summer visitors that he has not changed his views on the remedy for the railway situation. Last December in his annual message, he said:

"Above all else, we must strike to keep the highways of commerce open to all on equal terms. To do this it is necessary to put a full stop to all rebates. Whether the shipper or the railroad is to blame makes no difference; the rebate must be stopped, the abuses of the private car and private terminal track, and side track systems must be stopped."

He also said: "While I am of the opinion that at present it would be undesirable, if it were not impracticable, finally to clothe the interstate commerce commission with authority to fix rates, I do believe that, as a fair security to the shippers, the commission should be vested with the power, when a given rate has been challenged, and after a full hearing found to be unreasonable, to decide, subject to judicial review, what shall be a reasonable rate to take its place; the ruling of the commission to take effect immediately, and to obtain unless and until it is reversed by the court of review."

The government must in increasing degree supervise and regulate the workings of the railroads engaged in interstate commerce; and such increased supervision is the only alternative to an increase of the present evils on the one hand, or a still more radical policy on the other."

What Has Happened Since the above was written there has been a very thorough public discussion of this topic. The house of representatives passed the so-called Bach-Townsend bill; the senate killed it. The attorney general has given an opinion that rate making is not a judicial function and cannot be exercised by the courts; the senate committee on interstate commerce has held a six weeks' vacation and gathered six volumes of testimony; on the basis of this a bill is to be recommended by this senate committee. The provisions of this report will be a matter of unofficial knowledge when the president writes his next message. Therefore, his former recommendations are pretty certain to be discussed, if not reiterated, by the president in the light of the subsequent developments.

Other Ideas Timely. The president's purpose to recommend federal supervision of insurance companies was voiced before the scandals which have lately added so much to the public's information on this subject. He may have had something similar in mind when he wrote: "I urge that congress carefully consider whether the power of the bureau of corporations cannot constitutionally be extended to cover interstate transactions in insurance."

The president, in the same message, urged that congress pass legislation requiring the national campaign committee to make public their receipts and disbursements.

BARON DE FOREST BACKED BY ENGLAND TO CREATE NEW EMPIRE IN SAHARA.

Baron de Forest

Tangier, Sept. 29.—In spite of carefully guarded plans, it is believed here that the supposed hunting and exploring expedition, headed by Baron de Forest, who are on board their beautiful yacht Homer, is about to take steps to found an empire in the Sahara.

LODGE MEETINGS, CONVENTIONS AND NATIONAL GUARD

Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias and Territorial Firemen Elect New Officers at Las Vegas—National Guard Also Name New Officers.

From Optic, Sept. 25.

The territorial Odd Fellows have decided to establish an Odd Fellows home at Roswell, N. M. This important decision was reached last night at a meeting of the territorial grand lodge. The discussion of the matter occupied the entire time of the session, and the matter of ways and means, location, etc., was thoroughly gone into. Several cities made offers for the home, but that of Roswell was the best. The citizens offered a fine tract of fruitful land, then $2,000 in cash and the Odd Fellows representing the city gave assurance that the people of the enterprising city would continue to contribute to the support of the institution.

It was decided to levy a tax of 50 cents a year upon each Odd Fellow in the territory, and to ask each subordinate lodge to contribute to the worthy object as fully as possible.

This morning's session of the grand lodge was taken up with the reception of reports and the transaction of routine business, including the installation of grand lodge officers.

In their session of yesterday afternoon the Odd Fellows elected the following officers: Grand master, W. W. Ogilvie, Roswell; deputy grand master, H. A. Shoyner, Albuquerque; grand warden, Van T. Manville, Silver City; grand secretary, J. C. Speers, Gallup; grand treasurer, John B. Hodgson, Deming; grand representative to sovereign grand lodge, W. E. Kelly, Socorro. The above are all the elective officers. The others being appointed by the grand master. Other business of the afternoon consisted of hearing reports from officers and committees. The order in the territory is shown to be in excellent condition, there being according to the report of Grand Secretary Stevenson, now 1,231 Odd Fellows in the New Mexico lodges. One new lodge has been organized, the location being Springer. The membership of nearly every lodge has increased. The next convention of the grand lodge will be held at Deming, October 2, 1906.

Knights of Pythias.

The Knights of Pythias held another interesting session last night, fifty-five members being in attendance. The grand lodge degree was conferred upon F. G. Quen and W. B. F. Nehre, fraternal and encouraging messages were received from the grand lodge of Odd Fellows and a cordial reply was returned. The election of officers resulted as follows: Grand chancellor, Julius Unfrieder, of Elizabethtown; grand vice chancellor, W. E. Dudley, Alamogordo; grand prelate, A. R. Quinn, Carlsbad; grand keeper of the records and seal, C. B. Perry, Las Vegas; grand master of exchequer, John A. Haley; grand master at arms, W. Homer Hill; grand inner guard, M. G. Keenan, of Springer; grand outer guard, Robert H. Bowler, of Santa Fe.

A telegram of greeting was dispatched to Supreme Chancellor Chas. E. Shaverley. The grand lodge officers were duly installed, Judge B. S. Adams, acting as supreme chancellor.

National Guard Convention.

The officers of the National Guard association of New Mexico held their annual convention last evening at the parlors of the Commercial club, with fourteen members in attendance. The following officers were chosen to look after the arsenal welfare of the association for the ensuing year: Maj. O. G. Myers, Silver City, re-elected president; Capt. E. C. Abbott, Santa Fe, secretary; Capt. C. K. Newell, Silver City, treasurer; executive committee, Capt. E. C. Abbott, Major J. C. Hankin, Col. John Borradaile, Lieut. Col. Van Patton.

Matters pertaining to the organization in New Mexico were taken up, and exhaustively discussed, after which the meeting adjourned to reconvene at the next encampment, the location of which has not yet been decided upon.

Following is a full list of the officers in attendance: Brig. Gen. A. P. Tarkington, Col. W. H. Andrews, Col. D. J. Leahy, Col. W. R. Tipton, Col. E. G. Austin, Col. John Borradaile, Lt. Col. E. Van Patton, Major O. G. Myers, Major J. C. Hankin, Capt. B. Ruppe, Capt. W. R. La Londe, Capt. E. J. McWinnie, Lt. L. W. Gailles, Lt. L. W. Hilde, Lt. Robert H. Gross, Capt. H. M. Smith, Chaplain H. C. Paquet, Lt. R. J. Blanche and Lt. R. C. Heid.

Territorial Firemen's Convention.

At last night's session of the territorial firemen's convention the meeting was called to order by President R. Ruppe at the city hall and after routine business the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: C. W. Bailey, Las Vegas, president; A. M. Dettelbach, Santa Fe, secretary; and E. P. Mackel, Las Vegas, treasurer.

After a harmonious session discussing the needs of the organization, the meeting adjourned to reconvene this afternoon.

El Camino Real.

The Good Roads convention this morning adjourned without passing on the resolutions and action will be taken this afternoon. The following strong resolution by C. J. Gavin was passed yesterday:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that work on the "El Camino Real" be prosecuted vigorously from the Colorado line south with the end in view that the work will be extended from there north by the state of Colorado.

Introduced by C. J. Gavin and passed unanimously by the convention.

EXCELLENT SHOWING FOR CHAVES COUNTY.

The $2,500 bonds issued by Dexter school district No. 8, of Chaves county, New Mexico, to build a school house were sold by County Treasurer J. S. Lea to A. Zahner, of Topeka, Kan., for a premium of two mills and a half per dollar, which speaks well for the thriving and prosperous town and school district of Dexter. This is the best sale heard of for such a small issue of bonds.

Major Hinkle has returned from Santa Fe, an enthusiastic convert to the automobile idea of quick transportation. He left Torrance Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in one of the machines of the Roswell Automobile company, and with over an hour's stop for dinner and hunting reached Roswell at 2:30 p. m. The actual running time for the distance of over 100 miles was less than five hours. Major Hinkle is of the opinion that with a little improvement and straightening of the road from here to Torrance a five-hour schedule might be established as the regular time.

THE LAND OF PROMISE IN SAN JUAN COUNTY.

Situated at the entrance to the widest and most fertile part of the San Juan river valley in San Juan county, New Mexico, twelve miles west of Farmington, the present terminus of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad is the town of Fruitland. At this place the San Juan river, tired of its peat-up course through the mountains and foothills of Colorado, has made a broad valley nearly 200 miles in length. It has carried to it the fertile silt from the mountains and made a use of the garden spots of the country. The river also furnishes an abundant and never failing supply of water to the irrigating ditches along its course. It has never been known to become dry, and can supply water for many times more acreage than has as yet been brought under cultivation.

PARTY OF SANTA FEANS OFF FOR LAS VEGAS.

Territorial Secretary J. W. Raynolds, Hon. Arthur Seligman, and W. A. Bayer left early Sunday morning for Las Vegas in the automobile of Secretary Raynolds. The roads were heavy, and therefore, they were compelled to stop at Chappelle, twenty miles this side of Las Vegas, last night. It rained a good deal yesterday and the day before. They started bright and early this morning and reached the Meadow City in good time, despite the heavy roads.

WISE POLICE SUSPECT THE WRONG MAN.

A. S. Forman, who had been employed for several months at the railroad shops in Alamogordo, while en route from that city to Hot Springs, where he was going for the benefit of his health, was arrested in El Paso on the charge of peddling without a license and being a suspicious character. Forman had four watches which he was trying to sell and the El Paso police believed that he had stolen the time pieces. Saturday it was shown that the watches were his own and he was allowed to continue on his journey.

BY AUTOMOBILE AND BY RAILWAY TRAIN.

J. A. Graham, secretary of the Roswell Commercial Club, has gone to Las Vegas, as a delegate from Chaves county to the Good Roads convention. Mr. Graham made the trip from his home via the automobile route to Torrance and the Santa Fe Central to Santa Fe, and the A. T. & S. F. to Las Vegas. He says the trip overland was very pleasant, as the roads are good and the weather delightful. Mr. Graham states that the Roswell Commercial Club is taking a great deal of interest in the construction of good roads in that district and will be well represented at the convention.

livered in Denver on Grand Army rates.

Owing to the rivalry of the respective roads, agents requested that their individual business be withheld, so General Cook feels at liberty to use only the gross figures. The validating offices report 72,000 validations at Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo, but as these did not include the business originating at stations in Kansas, Nebraska, Indian Territory and Oklahoma, which was estimated at 50 per cent additional, it is safe to say that the attendance was not less than 100,000.

In addition to the total of 104,846 reported by the Burlington, Union Pacific, Rock Island and Santa Fe, four of the leading western trunk lines, the business originating in Colorado, New Mexico, Idaho, Montana, Washington and Wyoming is not counted.

The Missouri Pacific also handled twenty-five special trains, which are not included in the number reported. Local business, however, of the Colorado & Southern, the Denver & Rio Grande and Midland should be added to make up anything like an approximate total.

PROF. THOS. CODY KNOCKED OUT MINER JACK IN THREE ROUNDS.

So unevenly matched were a couple of pugilists, who fought a hammer and tongs fight at Las Vegas Wednesday night, without the curtains being drawn, that one of them was knocked down and out and unconscious, and was still hors de combat up until 10 o'clock last night. The fight was so brazenly advertised that Albuquerque sports attended the festivities were led to believe that it would be a fake, but apparently it was the real thing.

In explaining the affair the Las Vegas Optic says:

"While a friendly boxing bout was going on before members of the gymnasium club last night, Jack Miner, they were light and gay. When Thos. Cody, by his balance and skill, striking the back of his head a blow from which he is suffering seriously."

To make this boxing bout hold good, Prof. Thos. Cody had better insert a professional card in the Optic.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO.

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood, they work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily; when unhealthy, some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gonorrhea, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the kidneys right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Nasario Alarid, of Cerrillos Road, Santa Fe, N. M., says: "I was constantly buying medicine for my kidneys. None of the medicine I used had the slightest effect on my kidneys or backache, at least I was unable to notice any. When an attack of backache reached the violent stage I was compelled to stop work for an hour until the spasm disappeared. When suffering from an attack I got Doan's Kidney Pills. The remedy soon benefited me in every way and removed every symptom of kidney complaint. I heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

MRS. VAN HORN, OF DENVER, GETS DAUGHTER.

When Mrs. Elvira Van Horn, of Denver started from Alamogordo a few days ago for her home, she took with her Nellie Van Horn, her daughter, who has been living with her father. Later in the day Van Horn became a sufferer from colic, asking for the custody of the children.

Last Wednesday Mrs. Horn arrived at Alamogordo from Denver, with her daughter, Nellie Van Horn, aged 17 years. It is supposed they came to visit Miss Nellie Van Horn, who is 15 years old. They attempted to leave with Nellie on Friday, but were prevented by the father. Monday, however, the mother and both daughters slipped away and the divorce suit was begun immediately thereafter. Van Horn is a railroad machinist.

WILL TRY TO MOVE HIS HOUSE EIGHTY-FIVE MILES.

L. A. Stevens left Roswell for Captain, eighty-five miles west on a quest mission, with a 1-1/2 force of men. He built a two-story, four-room residence at Captain, in the mountains, and he has proved a poor investment, as he could not rent it. With his force of men he will attempt to move the house to Roswell, and he expects to make the unique trip in ten days from the time they leave Captain.

COSTA RICA COURT SENTENCES ALBERS.

Washington, Sept. 27.—The minister at Jose, Costa Rica, cabled the department today that William S. Albers had been sentenced to three years in prison, but that an appeal had been taken to the supreme court. Mr. Donaldson, the American consul at Managua, whose exequatur was cancelled as an incident in this case, is on his way to Washington, and is expected here next week.

SO PLEASED WITH VALLEY OF ESTANCIA, MAY RETURN.

B. B. Cargo, of Loraine, Ohio, master mechanic of the Lake Terminal railroad, and son, who are making a pleasure trip through the southwest, have been in the Estancia valley for several days, and are so pleased with that section that they seriously contemplate making it their future home. A visit was planned for yesterday to Albuquerque, after which Mr. Cargo and son will return to their home.

PALATIAL MANSION OF A MULTI-MILLIONAIRE

C. M. SCHWAB'S NEW PALACE IN NEW YORK.

New York, Sept. 27.—"On-the-Hudson" is the name that the multi-millionaire, Chas. M. Schwab, has bestowed upon his magnificent palace, almost completed, on Riverside drive.

This residence has been under construction for over three years. It is French in architecture, based upon the famous old Touraine castle, the Chateau Chenonceaux, combined with certain characteristics of the Chateau de Blois. Maurice Herliet, who is the architect of the house, has had the assistance of over 100 artists in the matter of design and the scheme of decoration, and the treasures of ancient as well as modern Europe have been ransacked to serve as models for the house and its superb furnishings.

The ground upon which the house stands occupies an entire city block, going back on the east to West-end.

PEANUTS RISING IN USE AND FAME

Mark up a tally for the succulent nut.

It has achieved new fame and is being exploited by your Uncle Sam in a treatise that is being handed out free gratis.

The peanut is good for hay. In addition to its value as an adjunct to the celebration of Sunday, the peanut may be grown in like manner to its sister ship, the cowpea, and at the crucial moment the hog may be turned in upon it, with great joy to the hogs and profit to the agriculturist. The weed is generally shelled before planting, and for seedling purposes it is found that the unroasted peanut is the readier sprouter.

In a communication from the unroasted peanuts best the others 55 to 60. As when eaten in the gallery, it is found better to break the pods before putting them in.

In seeding the thin red jacket about the kernel should not be removed. In eating, this is optional. Planting should be done in warm weather and a very soil is recommended for all varieties.

There were 202,946 acres devoted to the culture of peanuts in the last census, and the data show that the crop has grown in popularity. Peanuts grown for market require more care in harvesting than a crop grown for stock food. In the latter case the stock will do the harvesting. When the vines are desired for hay they should be hung up on poles until thoroughly cured, after which they should be hauled to the barn. Peanut hay is worth $10 a ton to anybody who wants it, and if the soil is all right, with a weather good, the yield should not be less than one or more than three tons to the acre. And this does not count the nuts. There is a thriving town in Georgia whose imports are peanuts and exports are olive oil, which is suggestive, to say the least.

MAKING THE RULES FOR CHAMPIONSHIP BASE BALL SERIES

President August Herrman and Secretary John E. Bruce were selected by the national base ball commission, which then proceeded to the formulation of rules for the series of games for the world's championship between the champions of the National and American leagues.

No schedule of the world's championship games will be announced until the season is finished. For the same reason the umpires will not be made known at present.

After reaffirming the rules adopted for the games by the two leagues last fall, the commission adopted a number of supplementary rules, of which those requiring that all players eligible to take part in the games must have been under contract not later than August 31; the posting of a forfeit of $10,000 by the owners of the participating clubs for a faithful carrying out of the rules and provisions of the series, and the fixing of the salaries of the umpires at $400 each for the series, formed the most important enactments. It was also decided that the world's championship pennant should be raised in the presence of the national commission on a date to be agreed on, this to be after the opening of the championship season of 1906.

In the matter of field rules it was decided that no spectators should be allowed nearer than 225 feet from the home base in right and left field, or 275 feet in center field, at these same, nor within less than 25 feet of the four lines in any portion of the field.

The national commission also made public an amendment or additional rule regarding waiving claim of players. It provides no waiver shall be asked by a major league club of a player purchased from a minor league previous to February 1. After that date the president of the major league containing such club must immediately notify the president of the other major league, who shall have twenty-four hours in which to file claim if desired for a club of his league. The rule is to avoid conflict and confusion regarding waivers.

THE NEW MEXICO BOARD OF PHARMACY

IMPORTANT RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND PASSED AT RECENT MEETING.

At the meeting of the New Mexico board of pharmacy which was held in this city during last week, besides the granting of certificates as pharmacists to E. J. Neer, of Portales, and Jackson Agee, of Silver City, the board unanimously adopted the following resolution, introduced by President H. Ruppe:

"Resolved, That rule 4 be and the same is hereby abrogated and the following rule substituted, to take effect from and after this day and date:

"Rule 4. The board will hereafter not recognize, as sufficient qualification of an applicant for registration in New Mexico, any diploma, certificate, or other credential, except that a diploma from a college of pharmacy or standing will be recognized as a prerequisite to entitle the holder to examination by this board.

"That hereafter no certificate will be issued to any applicant for registration who is not a graduate of a reputable school of pharmacy and who has not attended a high school for at least one year.

"During the interim between meetings of the board any one member thereof is authorized to give either an oral or written examination to an applicant holding a diploma from a reputable school of pharmacy, and, if satisfied that said applicant is qualified and the bona fide owner of the diploma, grant a temporary certificate, which shall be valid until the next meeting of the board.

"Examinations shall consist of ten (10) questions, each in the branches of pharmacy, materia medica, chemistry, botany and toxicology, and shall be written, together with a quiz of not less than fifty (50) questions of practical working and a resume of questions of written work, and identification of at least twenty-five (25) specimens.

"The board will refuse to grant registration, and issue a certificate as registered pharmacist to any applicant who is addicted to the use of cocaine, morphine or other narcotic drug, or who is an habitual drunkard.
