WOOL TARIFF STRIKES SNAG

Split Over Lemons in Free List Measure in Conference Committee

LINING UP ON STATEHOOD VETO

Campaign Publicity Bill Agreement Reached and It Will Become a Law.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—The conference report on the wool tariff revision bill was presented to the House today by Representative Underwood, who requested that the report and accompanying statement, just prepared, be printed in the record under the rules of the House.

Minority Leader Mann made the point that even that action could not be taken until the Senate acted on the report.

He argued that the body "agreeing to the holding of a conference," must act first on the conference report. Statehood Forces Lining Up. Special to the New Mexican, Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—Earliest work is proceeding on both sides of each House over the prospect of passing the Flood statehood resolution over the president's veto. The storm center will be in the Senate. The Republican leaders claim that the Republican regulars will stand firm. The Democrats acknowledge the loss of Bailey and O'Gorman, Democrats, of Crawford and of two or three other independent Republicans.

The wool conference reached a compromise on a reduction of yarns from 3.30 to 3.50, tops 34 to 32 and an increase on blankets from 33 to 38.

Split Over Free Lemons. Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—The conference on the free list bill today refused to agree to the Kern Senate amendment limiting the free addition of meats and cereals to those countries with the United States reciprocal trade agreements, and which was designated to confine such free importation to imports from Canada. It also refused to agree to the House amendment adding lemons to the free list. The conference accepted all other Senate amendments. The bill will be sent back to the Senate immediately for a vote on the Kern amendment and the House for another vote on the lemon amendment. These will probably be taken on Monday to which date today both Houses adjourned.

Agreement on Campaign Publicity. Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—Agreement on the campaign publicity bill was reached by the Senate and House conference.

The measure as agreed on will practically be the same as that adopted by the Senate which amended the House bill by providing publicity in primary as well as other elections. The limitation of campaign expenditures to $5,000 for congressmen and $10,000 for senatorial candidates will be retained. The conference will be submitted to both Houses on Monday.

ADMIRAL TOGO REVIEWS CADETS AT WEST POINT.

He Carefully Inspects Academy Buildings and Lunches With Commandant.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) West Point, Aug. 12.—The cadets of the United States Military Academy passed in review today before Admiral Togo, who arrived here from New York after a three hours' trip on board the Mayflower, placed at his disposal by President Taft. After careful observation of the military academy buildings, the admiral and party took luncheon at the commandant's residence.

As the Mayflower, coming from New York, steamed by Grant's tomb, a bugler blew taps while everyone aboard including Admiral Togo and his aides stood at attention. Following the military demonstration, the admiral and his party were entertained at tea by Mrs. Barry, wife of the commandant.

In a toast, General Barry referred to Admiral Togo as the greatest "living naval hero." The admiral responded modestly with a toast to the president of the United States.

RAMPOLLA TO BE NEXT POPE

Understood That Austria Has Withdrawn Objections That Barred Him

ILLNESS OF PONTIFF GRAVE

Suffers from Feeling of Oppression and Does Not Leave His Bed.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Rome, Aug. 12.—At noon today, the general condition of Pope Pius was described by his physicians as "relatively satisfactory."

The pontiff appeared somewhat stronger. His temperature remained slightly above normal and the depression which has characterized his illness at times had not been entirely overcome.

This afternoon, the Pope, in a conversation more prolonged than has been usual during the past several days, urged Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, to go as he had planned, to his villa at Monte Mario, tomorrow.

The Pope did not get up this morning, explaining that he felt better in his bed than in the chair which he occupied at times yesterday.

The pains in his knee continued but were less severe. The swelling, which diminished yesterday, has since remained stationary.

This afternoon the approach of a violent electrical storm caused the Pope a headache and a feeling of oppression.

Rampolla May Succeed Pius. It is reported that Cardinal Rampolla, while at Einsiedeln, Switzerland, met a prominent Austrian who notified him that independent of the bulletin issued by Pope Pius X, forbidding Catholic powers to veto candidates for the papacy, should a conclave be held, Austria would not oppose the election of Rampolla.

Cardinal Rampolla was secretary of state for Pope Leo XIII, and was frequently mentioned as his successor in the pontificate. It was reported that his candidacy was vetoed by Austria.

CONGRESSMAN TELLS HOW TO MAKE MINT JULEP.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, a Teetotaler, Chosen as One of Judges on Merits of Drink.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—Representative Ollie James of Kentucky, and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, government pure food expert, who with Henry Watterson of Louisville, were named as a committee to settle an alleged $2,000 bet as to the merits of a mint julep, had interviews today touching that famous beverage.

The utterance of Mr. James, popularly supposed because of his place of residence, to be ex-cathedra, set forth that a mint julep should be mixed in a silver cup, a lump of sugar in the bottom, with a leaf or two of mint. Next comes cracked ice filling the cup to the brim. The ice must be stirred as it is put in, thus crushing the mint a bit and putting a fine frost on the outside of the cup, an ornamental feature highly regarded.

The stirring must be done with a silver spoon if the true Kentucky ideal is to be gained. Then the whiskey is poured in and the wonder is complete.

Wiley a Teetotaler. It happens that in Dr. Wiley a teetotaler was secured as a judge. Dr. Wiley said if he were called on to produce a mint julep he would procure some mint, look up some Washington bartender and ask him to make the julep.

HOW CARNEGIE BEAT MORGAN

Paid $500,000,000 for Works He Might Have Had for $160,000,000

STEEL COMMITTEE ADJOURNS

Will Resume Sitting on October 16 to Hear Melville E. Stone.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—After discussing a structural steel agreement for apportioning products throughout the country, an arrangement said to have been discouraged by E. H. Gary of the U. S. steel trust, investigating committee today adjourned until October 16.

W. C. Temple, of Pittsburgh, who was commissioner of the Steel Plate Association, was the last witness.

Among other things he told how J. P. Morgan once refused a $160,000,000 option on the Carnegie Steel Company and six months later paid $500,000,000 for that property.

A Letter From Stone. Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—When the House committee inquiring into the so-called steel trust affairs resumed its hearings today, it was with the expectation that a recess would be taken late this afternoon until autumn. At the outset of today's session, Chairman Stanley of the committee, received a telegram from Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, requesting a hearing. He will be heard when the committee resumes after the recess.

Mr. Stone's telegram to Mr. Stanley read: "Albany, N. Y., Aug. 11, '11. Hon. A. O. Stanley, Washington, D. C. 'Have just learned that a personal letter of mine to Oakleigh Thorne was introduced in evidence today."

"It is only fair to say that this letter was written under what I now prove to have been a misapprehension of the facts and its use before your committee without explanation is unjust."

"I therefore request a hearing at your hands."

(Signed) "MELVILLE E. STONE."

"The chairman," announced Mr. Stanley, will be very glad to hear from Mr. Stone.

"I received a telegram from Mr. Stone this morning," said Representative Littleton, "I do not happen to have it with me, but in it he requested that his telegram to Mr. Stanley be introduced in the record of proceedings."

All the members of the committee expressed the opinion that Mr. Stone should be given an opportunity to appear.

R. C. Bolling, one of the counsel for the U. S. steel corporation, declared that "On behalf of Mr. Perkins, I would suggest to the committee that Mr. Stone be subpoenaed."

Mr. Littleton moved that when the committee resumed after a recess Mr. Stone be heard.

This was agreed to.

THREE MEN ENTOMBED IN POTTSVILLE COAL MINE.

Tapping on Rails Leads to Believe That at Least One of Them is Still Alive.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Pottsville, Pa., Aug. 12.—A large force of miners and laborers have been working without cessation since yesterday afternoon in an effort to reach three men who are entombed in the gangway of the East colliery at Big Mine Run near Ashland. Until late last night, it was thought the men had been crushed to death, but tapping on the rails had been heard and it is certain that at least one is alive.

The entombed men, Anthony Thompson, Peter Zabalski and John Dolan had finished work yesterday when the gangway roof fell and shut off their exit.

NO ACTION ON DIRECT ELECTION OF SENATOR.

As in Statehood Matter, It is Democrats Who Are Playing Dog in the Manger.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—There will be no final action on the direct election of senators at this session of Congress.

The House and Senate conference committee failed to agree upon the Bristow amendment which extends federal authority over state elections. The House refused to yield on that subject will be considered at next session of Congress.

WEEK'S STRIKE COST LONDON $7,500,000.

Flood of Traffic in World Metropolis Released Today by Settlement Reached Last Night.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) London, Eng., Aug. 12.—London is almost itself again today. A few hours, after the official announcement that the strike had been settled last night, had sufficed to release the flood of traffic which had been held up for two or three days and supplies were rushed out to replenish the empty markets and stores. It is estimated that the week's strike of the dockmen and carriers has cost the metropolis at least $7,500,000.

CORPORATION EMPLOYEES OUT ON A STRIKE.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Glasgow, Scotland, Aug. 12.—The corporation street car men went on strike today. Attempts to send out cars were prevented by the strikers who attacked and wrecked them.

BREAKERS FOR ARBITRATION

Senate Committee Reports Amendment Taft Does Not Support

WILL MEAN A BITTER BATTLE

As in Reciprocity, President Expects to Have His Way About It

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—The Senate committee on foreign relations today agreed to recommend the ratification of the arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France so amended as to eliminate the paragraph conferring on the joint commission of inquiry the right to determine what are international questions justifiable under the terms of the treaties. The President has informed members of the convention, however, that he will exert himself to the utmost to insure inclusion of this paragraph in the ultimate action of the Senate.

Much Opposition to Arbitration. Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—The arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France were considered by the Senate in executive session today. The discussion lasted only two hours and was without result. Much opposition developed, leading some of the friends of the agreements to doubt whether they can be ratified at this time even in amended form.

JOKE COST TWO DETECTIVES THEIR LIVES.

Shot Down By Brother Officer on Whom They Had Jumped Out of the Darkness.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Detroit, Mich., Aug. 12.—Particulars of the shooting of Daniel Vreeland and Frank J. Cook, special detectives for the Lake Shore railroad, who were killed last night by Special Officer William Burnett, of the Michigan Central railroad, on the Michigan Central tracks near Junction avenue, show that the men met death as the result of a joke that they attempted to play on Burnett. They were all on the best of terms and met at the Junction of the two roads every night. Last night, Cook and Vreeland, knowing that Burnett had had trouble with two car robbers, decided they would hide behind a car and spring on him as he passed.

Burnett, not recognizing either of the men in the darkness, drew his gun and shot four times at them, three of the bullets taking effect. Burnett then ran down the tracks to Junction avenue, where he met Patrolman Daniel O'Connor, who was hastening towards the scene of the shooting.

"I've just shot a couple of car thieves," he said. The two men went back and looked at the bodies. When Burnett saw who the men were that he had shot he broke down. O'Connor took him to the 4th precinct station where he was locked up.

Putting it Up to Kruttschnitt. San Francisco, Calif., Aug. 12.—L. Regulin sent a telegram to Chicago today to Julius Kruttschnitt asking whether he would receive a committee of shopmen for conference regarding shorter hours and increased wages.

If a refusal be returned by Kruttschnitt, the men will proceed to New York and demand a right to be heard.

ANOTHER VIOLENT SCENE IN CAMORRA TRIAL.

Alessandro Lioy, Attorney for the Defense, Accused of Unprofessional Conduct.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Viterbo, Aug. 12.—Alessandro Lioy, the attorney for the defense, who had been accused of unprofessional conduct by the prosecution and rebuked by the court for precipitating violent scenes, was the object of an unfriendly demonstration at today's proceedings in the Camorra trial. Grimaldi, formerly chief of the branch of Camorra at Castellamare, took the stand and testified that Lioy had bribed him to bear false witness against Tomaso de Angelis. It is charged that the Camorristas, wishing to divert suspicion from themselves, caused the priest, falsely to denounce de Angelis and Gaetano Amedeo as the murderers of Gennaro Cuocolo and Signora Cuocolo.

"Golden Age of Athens" Illustrated.

Taking the Acropolis as the symbol of the artistic life of Athens, he will, by the aid of stereopticon views, describe the Propylaea, the Erechtheum and the Parthenon, with special reference to the Parthenon sculptures, which are now in the British Museum, and are universally known as the Elgin Marbles.

EXCESSIVE HEAT IN MISSOURI

Kansas, Oklahoma and Adjoining States Are Also Sweltering

TEMPERATURES ARE ABOVE 100

At Seven O'clock This Morning Already Kansas City Recorded 80.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 12.—No relief from the excessive heat which has prevailed in the southwest for a week is in sight according to the U. S. weather forecaster here. Temperatures at 7 o'clock this morning seemed to indicate that yesterday's figures which were about 100 all through Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma, would be equalled. The following temperatures at that hour were recorded:

Kansas City 80; Wichita, Kansas, Oklahoma City, and Fort Smith, Ark., 78; St. Joseph, Mo., 76; Omaha, Neb., 70; Fort Worth, Tex., 74.

LIQUIDATION ON WALL STREET GATHERS MOMENTUM.

Selling of Stock Was Resumed at Today's Opening and Main Issues Decline.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) New York, Aug. 12.—Selling of stock was resumed at the opening of today's market. The feature was Union Pacific with initial offerings of 2,000 shares at 172 5/8 to 5/8 compared with 173 3/8 at yesterday's close. United States Steel opened with 6,000 shares at 72 1/8 to 1/4, a maximum loss of 3/8. Lehigh Valley, American Smelting and St. Paul declined a point each and other active stocks fell material fractions.

The liquidation movement gathered increased momentum at center of the opening, being particularly noticeable in Union Pacific, which came out in large lots at rapidly decreasing prices.

The weakness of the stock, probably more than any other one feature, was responsible for the decline which was most prominent in the high grade issues. U. S. Steel sold off with greater ease than before. All through the list new low records were established. Union Pacific lost more than four points with two point losses in over half a score of other speculative issues. The street was full of rumors affecting this or that important interest, such as are invariably prevalent in times of excitement. The market rallied a point here and there, but its undertone continued very feverish.

The market closed steady.

The first rally was followed by another decline to the previous low, after which trading diminished and the list developed a steadier tendency. Supporting orders at this point resulted in recoveries, which in some cases, including U. S. Steel, Pennsylvania and New York Central, extended to above yesterday's close. In the final dealings prices shaded again.

HAUNTED.
Wide echoing emptiness, and wind blown space:
Worn thresholds over which gay troops of dreams
Fled, laughing back, to mock the vacant place;
So stands my heart's house while the darkness teems.

Night is far spent, joy's pink wreath faded lies
Brown on the stone cold floor; a poppy bloom
Wild Passion dropped, I hold to lidded eyes:
'Twere there the last guest left the darkening room.

All of my heart's house tenants long since fled—
Why should that one pale ghost guest, Memory,
Where love's last little fire dies, dull and red,
Sit still and gaze across the coals at me?

CALL FOR NEW MEXICO BAR ASSOCIATION.

It Will Meet in Albuquerque August 28 and 29 and Members Should Attend.

The regular annual meeting of the New Mexico Bar Association will be held in Albuquerque the 28th and 29th of August. For the past two years our meetings have been neither regular nor annual, and it is with the hope of redeeming our reputation in this respect, and arousing the somewhat latent interest in the Association that we urge you to come with all your enthusiasm and help us make this meeting worthy of our Association and its aims.

We are on the brink of statehood. We are not? Well, at least, we trust we are not far from the brink. Let us give to our new state of New Mexico a real, live, active Bar Association to which she can point with pride. Gentlemen, I have been ashamed to write to the State, County and City Bar Associations, the Law Libraries and the Universities throughout the country, as I have had to, in response to their inquiries, that the New Mexico Bar Association has not published any proceedings for the years 1909 and 1910, although I have been careful to say that we will in 1911. I know that they are saying we are dying out, that our Association is not to last much longer. You and I know this is not so, and will you come out and show them that we have an Association worthy of the name and of the state to be? Have you any interest in seeing our Association take its rightful place in the ranks with other Bar Associations? And will you come and do your part in demonstrating the stuff of which we are made? No state is able to draw from better material for its Bar Association than we are, and I am sure no body of attorneys is more anxious to see its state worthily represented by its Bar Association. All we need is concentration of the interest I know we all feel, and a little individual effort on the part of each one to start the ball rolling. Won't you come and push?

Of course you realize we cannot make this meeting the success it should be without that very necessary evil—money—so may I urge you to remit your dues by the 20th of the month, if possible?

To those members of the bar who are not affiliated with us we extend a most cordial invitation to attend this meeting, to join our ranks and cooperate with us in making our Association a powerful factor in the dawn of statehood; and help us to foster that spirit of brotherhood and good fellowship so essential for the enjoyment of our profession. The admission fee, as provided by the Constitution, is five dollars, which covers dues for the year in which the applicant is elected. You will find application blank enclosed.

I am taking up the question of the promulgation of rates for the Association meeting with the Santa Fe, and hope that, if successful, it may be an added inducement to you.

Respectfully,
NELLIE C. BREWER,
Secretary.

P. S.—Please read the above.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Santa Fe people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Santa Fe reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:

J. T. Sandoval, 115 Ortiz St., Santa Fe, N. Mex., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for two years and they have done me a world of good. A dull pain in the small of my back, sometimes extending into my bladder caused me a great deal of trouble particularly when I took cold. I was bothered mostly in the winter, and in addition to the pain in my back, there were symptoms of inflammation of the bladder. The kidney secretions were highly colored and when passed were attended with a scalding pain. I never used another remedy that acted as satisfactorily as Doan's Kidney Pills. They proved to be just the medicine my case required and the complete cure they brought has led me to recommend them on more than one occasion."

Just in Time to Write Up
Dedication of Santa Fe
Trail Marker

WALTER WILLIAMS IS COMING

Will Write Up Historic Road for Score of Newspapers and Magazines

Attention Trailmen:
Walter Williams, dean of the newspaper school of the University of Missouri; historian, writer, and tracer of the Old Santa Fe Trail, left Lexington, Mo., Friday, August 11, on one of the most important trips ever made in the West. It is hoped that every Trailman will interest himself in this trip and study its details.

The visit of Mr. Williams over the Old and New Trails is a notable one, and marks the success of the plan of the Trailbuilders to divert the attention of publicists, tourists, travelers of all kinds, and writer, to the section traversed by the Trail, as well as to the Trail itself as a modern highway.

Mr. Williams has arranged with some 20 newspapers, including big ones, outside the state of Kansas, to take his stories of his trip. He also has commissions from a number of magazines. He will write from the standpoint of a historian with reference to the Old Trail and its traditions; as a good roadster with reference to the New Trail, a modern highway; as an alert observer from the standpoint of development and progress made by the towns and counties through which the Trail passes; and as a general writer and newspaperman.

At the urgent solicitation of the president and secretary of the Trail Mr. Williams has changed his plans so as to make only about 100 miles a day instead of 125 as originally contemplated. This will give greater time in different towns. He has also consented to follow the New Trail all the way from Kansas City to Lajunta instead of going by way of Kansas City, Lawrence, Topeka, and thence striking the Trail at Emporia.

At the conclusion of the Trail end, at Santa Fe, New Mexico, Mr. Williams will leisurely retrace his steps, stopping again at different points along the way; and going north from the end of the New Trail, with beautiful Skyline Drive and Top of the Gorge; and thence come down the Trail to Pueblo where Vice-President Higgins has done such notable work; and on down the Trail and Arkansas valley to La Junta and thence east again.

Mr. Williams will follow, unless there shall be some necessary change later, the following itinerary:

Friday, August 11, Columbia, Missouri, to Lexington, 115 miles.
Saturday, August 12, Lexington to Ottawa, Kansas, 103 miles.
Sunday, August 13, Ottawa to Emporia, 70 miles.

Mohday, August 14, Emporia to Hutchinson, 106 miles.
Tuesday, August 15, Hutchinson to Larned, 90 miles.

Wednesday, August 16, Larned to Garden City, 125 miles.

Thursday, August 17, Garden City to Holly, Colorado, 78 miles.

Friday, August 18, Holly to Lajunta, 75 miles.

Saturday, August 19, Lajunta to Raton, New Mexico, 104 miles.

Sunday, August 20, Raton to Las Vegas, 111 miles.

Monday, August 21, Las Vegas to Santa Fe, 103 miles.

On the trip Mr. Williams wants to collect data relative to the Old Trail as well as observe the New Trail. To this end, he wants to talk with oldtimers so far as his time shall permit. He will also be able, he says, to share a seat to the next stop, or where the pilot car will leave him, with some good, intelligent, well-versed person who can give him liberal data for his notes.

Mr. Williams also desires photographs, properly labeled, touching towns, unique things, points of interest, oldtimers, development, etc. Committees, newspapers, commercial bodies, etc., should see to it that these are ready.

Pilot cars will conduct Mr. Williams during his day's journey. For instance, Committeeman F. J. Miller will take him from Kansas City to Ottawa. Vice-President Wilhite will conduct him from Ottawa to Emporia. Newton or Florence will see to it that he gets from Emporia to Hutchinson. From Hutchinson to Larned Official Pilot, H. H. Taylor and Secretary C. H. Scott, expect to take him. At Larned, President R. H. Faxon and Earl Vincent will meet him; and they probably also will take him from Garden City to Holly. From Holly to La Junta, Committeeman, S. G. Porter will be the pilot.

Mr. Williams will travel in a car owned and driven by S. A. Dhrack, a Columbia, Missouri, merchant. Mrs. Williams and their 7-year old son will accompany him; and also Miss Canine R. Quinn, Mr. Williams's secretary.

Trail committeemen and officials, newspapermen, oldtimers, and commercial and other bodies everywhere are requested to do everything possible to make the trip agreeable and profitable.

For the Trail and this part of the country hasn't ever seen quite such an important event as this trip of Walter Williams.

More people, men and women, are suffering from kidney and bladder trouble than ever before, and each year more of them turn for quick relief and permanent benefit to Foley's Kidney Remedy, which has proven itself to be one of the most effective remedies for kidney and bladder ailments, that medical science has devised. MARCHED OUT OF CHURCH

OLD MURAL PAINTINGS FOUND

Many Americans Attend Annual Wagner Festival at Bayreuth.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Berlin, August 12.—The uncovering of an utterly unsuspected set of sixteenth century mural paintings during a renovation of the ancient Greek Monastical church at Frankfort-on-Main has been crowned by the discovery of an original self-portrait of the celebrated German painter Albrecht Durer, considered here as an artistic event of the first magnitude.

The artist is shown in a long mantle and feathered cap, brush and palette in the left hand and in the right a square tablet with a Latin inscription, stating that the picture is the work of Albrecht Durer, and the date 1525.

The frescoes are found on the walls of the sacristy of the church, which for years were thought to bear only a simple tapestry pattern, until skillful cleaning and restoration showed the supposed tapestry design to be really a set of elaborate and surprising paintings.

From the inscription on the Durer portrait and internal and historical evidence, it is thought that the decorations were the work of scholars of Durer, carried out under the supervision of the master, who capped the work with his own brush during a visit to Frankfort in 1525. Details of the portrait and the characteristic inscription tablet, found in other Durer paintings, leave no doubt of its genuineness. Only a part of the complete decoration has been revealed by the renovation, this including a St. Christopher, recalling Durer's painting of the same subject in 1511, a St. George and heads of the Emperor Henry II and his consort Kunigunde, the bodies of which are still hidden under the grime and dirt of the centuries.

Church and State.
Four companies of the Queen Elizabeth Guard regiment, attending services recently at the Luisen Evangelical church in the aristocratic suburb of Charlottenburg, arose during the sermon and marched out of the building, their action for a moment threatening to create a panic among the other worshippers, who feared that a fire had broken out.

The retreat, however, was ordered by the officers as a demonstration against the utterances of the pastor, Dr. Kraatz, who in his sermon was defending Pastor Jatho, the Cologne divine just expelled from the church of heresy, after a trial which had excited the interest of all Germany for several months.

JOHN W. GATES STARTED WITH SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Story of His Early Life Which Shows
Trait of Character That Made Him Successful.

Pastor Jatho denies the existence of a personal deity, teaching instead the existence of a primordial force, which, perhaps, as eternal reason and directing wisdom, presided at the creation or perhaps first became manifest and active in the human mind; disclaims the divinity of Christ and omits from his sermons all reference to a future life, because he has come to no certain conclusion on the subject. He has, however, many admirers among the liberal clergy in Germany, and his conviction for heresy was received with intense disapproval in wide circles in Germany, a national subscription being started to enable him to carry on his work.

Dr. Kraatz's sermon, in which he sharply criticized the authorities who convicted Pastor Jatho, and declared that they were trying to gag the free voice of the church, will probably lead to his trial, his utterances having been denounced to the church authorities immediately after the services. This will strengthen the agitation against the connection of church and state in Prussia, the church being a state institution to the support of which all who cannot prove their affiliations are compelled to contribute.

Wagner Festival.
American visitors were in force in Bayreuth at the opening of the Wagner Festival, in which more intense interest than ever was shown by music-lovers this year, in consequence of the introduction of a new stage setting by Siegfried Wagner of the "Meistersinger."

The first day's performance was attended by one of the most brilliant audiences ever gathered together in the small Bavarian city, solely devoted to Wagner and his works. One well known figure was missing, however, that of Frau Cosima Wagner, who, though enjoying remarkably good health, had decided not to be present this year. The Queen of Wurtemberg was there, as well as the Grand Duke and Grand Duchess of Baden, while among other royal personages were the Hereditary Prince of Reuss and the Prince and Princess of Coburg-Gotha.

On this occasion the Tzar of Bulgaria, who has hitherto been a regular attendant, was kept away by the Balkan situation. Prominent composers, critics, singers, actors and music students, including many from various American colleges made up the cosmopolitan audience. The new setting of the "Meistersinger" appeared to meet with general approval and the festival began with marked enthusiasm and success.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 12.—The death of John W. Gates recalls an incident in his early career which pointed to his future success in business. He was reared on a farm in northern Illinois where money was not as plentiful as the real hardships of farm life. When he was about fourteen years old he began to indicate that he had the ability to drive a good bargain. He had accumulated seventy-five cents in cash. With this sum, and the wheel from an old wheelbarrow he began business. His first trade was for a calf. All of his cash and the wheelbarrow wheel were given for the animal. The calf was one of those unfortunate animals of the "scrub" variety that had been turned out on pasture early to shift for itself and soon became, on account of its stunted appearance, what was known in those days as a "grass calf."

This made no difference to Gates. He traded for it and brought it home. He was joked by his father and the hired man on the farm about having bought the "running gears" of a calf and was assured that he would never be able to get his money out of the animal. Young Gates, however, was not at all disheartened but was quite sure there was money in the animal and that he would be able to get it out. A part of Gates' duties at this time was to milk half a dozen cows twice a day. Soon after the advent of the "grass calf" it was noticed that the amount of milk diminished very much. His attention was called to this, but he assured his mother that the cows were "failing." This was quite evident, and in a short time the growth of the calf indicated the real cause of the "failing." While he had said nothing about what he was doing, that propensity to use every thing about him to his advantage which became so marked in his business career later, showed itself in a most remarkable manner. Later on the "grass calf" one of the finest animals on the farm, was sold for $21, and this became the beginning with which Gates started on his business career, engaging first in the hardware business in a little "cross roads" town in northern Illinois. Here he was discovered by Isaac L. Ellwood, the inventor of barbed wire fencing, and induced to come to Texas and show the natives that a fence of barbed wire would hold the most refractory steer. Gates accepted the position, came to Texas and not only

SALMON GRAY'S PLAY IN ALBUQUERQUE TOMORROW.

They Will Try to Repeat Last Sunday's Trick When They Walloped the Visitors.

(By D. C. O.)

The Santa Fe Salmon Grays under the leadership of Manager Romulo Lopez, tomorrow will go down to the Duke City to give another good wallop to Dan Padilla and his band of brave warriors. Manager Padilla says that one defeat is enough, and that he is going to get sweet revenge tomorrow afternoon, but he will have to get better players than the ones he had last Sunday, if he wants to beat the Salmon Grays. It is said that the famous and "ex" invincible pitcher Rube Weeks has decided to quit playing ball, if he loses to Santa Fe again, and will go back to the farm. It is almost certain that he is going to lose, and Rube should be getting ready to leave Sunday evening for the farm to attend to the weeds which must be very high by this time. Jimmie Lopez who held the Albuquerqueans to four scattered hits last Sunday will be on the mound again for the locals and will try to repeat last Sunday's performance. It is said that Manager Lopez has three new players for tomorrow's game but he didn't want to give their names. The game will be very interesting and exciting, as the Santa Fe boys want to repeat the trick, and the Duke City boys will try to get even. The excursion which was to go to Albuquerque has been called off, for the only reason that enough tickets could not be sold. The Salmon Grays will greatly miss the local fans.

ACCUSED LEAVES JAIL.

ACCUSER THROWN IN.
Morgan Harding was arrested at Albuquerque yesterday for skipping a board bill of $185 at Socorro. Such at least, is the charge, or rather that he skipped a bond given that he would pay the board bill. Harding was the complaining witness against J. O. Fulghum whose wife lives at Santa Fe, and who was thrown into jail for harboring a sixteen year old girl for immoral purposes. Fulghum yesterday furnished $500 bond and was released from jail just as his accuser was arrested by Sheriff Gerontimo Sanchez of Socorro.

A HILL BILLIE IN THE SENATE.

A new ordeal confronts the Senate. The entry of Vardaman of Mississippi will be even more spectacular than was that of "Pitchfork" Tillman, who has become considerably subdued, since it has been shown that he could not well manage his own family and therefore was hardly the proper person to revolutionize the Nation. How spectacular Vardaman's entry on the broader platform of national statesmanship may prove, is indicated by the following press extracts gathered by the Literary Digest:

"Governor Vardaman has long been looked on by some as the reincarnation of the old 'Ku-Klux' spirit—one of those always ready to proclaim the menace of the 'black specter,' and to shout for the repeal of the Fifteenth Amendment. He accordingly made his campaign truly picturesque by appearing in Meridian last month 'attired' in white linen and a white hat, in a chariot drawn by 160 white oxen, and attended by an equestrian band in white, and carrying spotless banners which bore the admonition: 'Vote for the White Chief! Uphold the White South!'

A Northern newspaper man wrote the following description of the spectacle to the New York Sun, and incidentally set forth a part of Vardaman's personality:

"It is impossible for people in our part of the country to appraise the importance and effect of this theatrical, not to say melodramatic pageant, but down here it was prodigious. It materialized the essence of Vardaman's campaign. It was an apotheosis of the color line. It revived the terrors of the carpet-bag period, and invested with vicarious consequence the specter of a long-buried past. But Vardaman knows how to play upon the passions and prejudices of the red necks and the hill billies, and he is doing it with a master hand. Even John Sharp Williams, with all the corporations, the penitentiary horde and the rest of the buttressed and embattled interests at his back, only succeeded, four years ago, in beating Vardaman by a barely margin of votes.....

"Vardaman is not the unshaven and unshorn. He is not ostensibly slovenly for political purposes. On the contrary, he is as neat as a pin always. In these respects he is on a par with Percy, the difference between the two being that he preaches the lowest demagoguery in spotless raiment, while his opponent, in equally fastidious attire, preaches the sane and safe and thoroughly conservative doctrine."

"The demonstration has caused many editors in all parts of the country to shudder over the prospect of having six years from 1913 of Vardaman in the Senate, and to reflect on how the result was brought about."

"This is organizing and capitalizing race hatred for political purposes about as shamelessly as it has ever been done," comments the Buffalo Express, and the Richmond Times-Dispatch declares that to make the barbaric picture perfect, Vardaman should ride up Pennsylvania Avenue to the capitol with one hundred and sixty ebony Mississippians chained to his car of triumph. Other writers see in this direct-primary result the strength of a nondescript element which has been diverted into a strange channel by the use of Vardaman's favorite political "bug-bear," and do not accept the situation as expressive of the sentiment of the South or even of the better class in Mississippi. The Times-Dispatch asserts further that "this demagogic appeal to the passion and prejudice of the uncouth and unlettered Mississippians would avail little in some Southern states," and the Brooklyn Standard Union observes that the fight is a revival of conditions which have generally passed away in the South. "Even those Southerners who are strongly opposed to social or political equality between the races," asserts the Cleveland Plain Dealer, "now look with repugnance upon a demagogue who continually exploits race prejudice as his chief political stock in trade," and sending Vardaman to the Senate is "no joke."

URBAN AND RURAL POPULATION.

That New Mexico is distinctly a rural state, is manifest from a bulletin on urban and rural population under the 1910 census issued by the federal census bureau today. Less than 15 per cent of its population lives in places of more than 2,500 people and it is only Mississippi, Arkansas, and North and South Dakota, which have a less percentage of urban population, and none of these have less than 11 per cent of townspeople. The growth of urban population in New Mexico has been very slow. Ten years ago it was 14 per cent, last year it was 14.2 per cent of the total. Twenty years ago, however, it was only 6.3 per cent. In other words, of the 327,301 people in New Mexico today, 46,571 live in towns of more than 2,500 people, only Wyoming and Nevada having a less total. In 1900, of New Mexico's population, 26,484 lived in towns.

There are fourteen states in the Union in which the town population is more than one-half of the total population, Rhode Island leading with 96.7 per cent; Massachusetts being second with 92.8 per cent; Connecticut being third with 89.7; New York fourth with 78.3; New Jersey fifth with 75.3; California sixth with 61.8; Illinois seventh with 60.4; New Hampshire ninth, 59.2; Ohio tenth, 55.9; Washington eleventh, 53; Maine twelfth, 51.4; Maryland thirteenth, 50.9, and Colorado fourteenth, 50.7; the remarkable part being to find such western states as California, Washington and Colorado in this list.

In the New England division more than four-fifths of the population in 1910 lived in urban territory, as defined by the census bureau. Vermont is the only state in this division, in which the population classified as urban is less than half the total population of the state, while in Rhode Island and Massachusetts more than nine-tenths of the total population in 1910 is classified as urban.

In the Middle Atlantic division the urban population constituted more than seven-tenths of the total population, but the proportion for the state of New York alone was very nearly four-fifths, and that for New Jersey fully three-fourths.

In the East North Central and the Pacific divisions the urban territory in each case contained more than half the total population in 1910, but in the former division there were three states—Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin—and in the latter division one state—Oregon—in each of which the urban population comprised less than half but more than 40 per cent of the total population.

PUBLICITY THE WAND.

Senator Bailey yesterday in Congress unlocked the gates that ever since the beginning of the Nation, closed the session of conference committees of the Senate and the House to newspaper reporters. Yesterday, for the first time, in the country's history, they were admitted to such a session upon the theory that the people have a right to know what goes on even in conference committees. No more closed doors to the press at Washington!

At the same time, before the Democratic House Steel Trust Investigation Committee, George Perkins, a Republican, a financier of the inner circle, declared that publicity is the cure for all the evils of trust and corporation domination. Every Republican and Democratic Congressman present agreed with him and even applauded that sentiment, going so far as to say that every corporation should be compelled to publish an annual statement.

This seems strange coming from such a source which only yesterday seemed to say: "The public be damned."

Even in New Mexico there have been small caliber officials, from time to time, who declaimed against publicity, who believed in holding council and school board and legislative and other meetings behind closed doors. It was the Republican party organization that first admitted newspapermen to sessions of its executive committee, while the Democrats still carefully exclude reporters, not only at committee meetings but even at conventions.

There have been officials who have brazenly cried out: "It is none of the public's business how I conduct affairs," or who refused access to court records or official documents to newspaper representatives, but they are "has-beens." In this age, the widest publicity not only protects the public but is courted by honest officials, who see in it the strongest protection against false and malicious charges, against suspicions, against mistakes.

The public has a right to know and will know. There is no justification whatever for a press gag, there is no legitimate secrecy about the meeting of any public or semi-public body and the day is at hand, when even corporations must disclose to the public the innermost ramifications of their business.

Considering that the state of New York is only about one-third as large as New Mexico and has a greater population than any other state in the Union, it is surprising to read in a census bulletin today that the Empire State cuts almost $50,000,000 worth of hay a year, or in other words, the forage crop of that state is worth one and a half times all the assessed wealth of New Mexico. Besides that, New York state farmers raise more than $43,000,000 worth of cereals each year; $4,000,000 worth of other grains; more than $20,000,000 worth of potatoes; $3,000,000 worth of hops and tobacco, not to speak of many million dollars worth of grapes, apples and other fruit. In other words, the farmers of that state could buy out all of New Mexico's banks, factories, mills, farms, livestock, personal property, four times over, with the proceeds of one year's crops.

That seems like rubbing it in with a vengeance to compel the Standard Oil Company to pay $42,395 costs of the government in the suit that has resulted in the dissolution of the big octopus into some thirty-three or thirty-four little octopuses. There are doubts already in the minds of some people whether it wouldn't have been easier to curb and regulate the big fellow than it will be to check the thirty-three lively little ones.

WHOSE IS THE BLAME?

Walter Williams, author, magazine writer, educator, yesterday started on a leisurely trip over the Santa Fe Trail to this city, to write articles for some twenty large newspapers in addition to sketches for the leading magazines. The advertising to be given will be of incalculable value. Notice, that in his itinerary, he will make only one diversion from the Trail, and that is from Trinidad to Canon City, and all those that will follow him will make that diversion after reading about it in the newspapers and magazines.

And why? Because the state of Colorado has built a Scenic Highway from Canon City to the top of the Royal Gorge. It was built by convict labor at state expense; it serves no commercial purpose; it will merely give the tourist a glance over the brim of the Royal Gorge to the Arkansas below. It will reveal only one sublime beauty spot such as the Scenic Highway from Albuquerque to Las Vegas by way of the Cliff Dwellings and the Pecos Reserve has a thousand.

Isn't it contrary to public policy and a great loss to New Mexico not to complete that superb scenic highway from Albuquerque to Las Vegas, after having spent $20,000 to $30,000 upon it? Isn't it wasting not only money spent but the certain enormous profits of the investment, to permit the superb road already built to fall into ruin? Who is to blame?

STATEHOOD PROSPECTS.

This week which would have been so eventful for New Mexico, but for Democratic skullduggery, closes with a dark cloud hanging over the statehood prospects, the only silver lining being the fact, or rather the certainty, of New Mexico's admission automatically next June or July. Democratic machinations have apparently triumphed and the commonwealth will be kept under territorial vassalage another ten months but to believe that the Democrats will reap the expected advantage from this, would be to doubt the patriotism of the people of New Mexico.

President Taft's veto may not go in until next Wednesday or later, as it seems likely that any veto message he may write will be submitted to the regular cabinet meeting on next Tuesday and that it will be Wednesday at least before the message is sent to Congress. As it is very likely that the special session will have adjourned by next Saturday, the prospects of action on statehood at this session seem very slim.

Still, there is hope, and the unexpected has happened so often in New Mexico's statehood affairs, that it is about time that the unexpected be favorable next week, rather than unfavorable as it has been so uniformly for sixty years.

Fifteen thousand acres were entered upon during the month of July by original homestead entries in the Santa Fe land district, one of six in New Mexico, and that gives an inkling of the great hegetra that will set in toward the Southwest when crops have been gathered and farmers of the Middle West have time to look around for new worlds to conquer.

They will be lured by the reports of good crops in the dry farming region this summer and they will enter upon a large fraction of forty million acres that still remain available to homesteaders in New Mexico under the public land laws.

Yesterday a 16-year-old boy died of the mountain fever on the Loma in this city. Just a year ago, both his father and his mother died of the same fever. The family does not and has not used city hydrant water but has been using well water. On the premises and all around are sink holes. The house is not connected with a sewer. Sanitary conditions are not of the best. There may be a suggestion in these facts, or there may not be, but isn't it time for the health board to investigate when such sad coincidences point to a local spot of infection?

Reports have it that the La Bajada road is in bad shape and that nothing is being done to place it in good repair. It is merely another argument that the commonwealth cannot depend upon counties to keep roads in repair, and that when the territory builds roads, they should be entirely state roads, not only built with territorial money but also maintained by the territory. Unless that policy is adopted, the good roads funds might as well be thrown to the birds as far as permanent road improvement is concerned.

The two hundred or more attorneys of New Mexico should not permit the New Mexico Bar Association to continue in its inactivity into which it lapsed two years ago. There is work to do for the association and there is prestige to be gained by maintaining a strong association. Every lawyer who possibly can arrange it should attend the annual meeting at Albuquerque, August 28 and 29.

New Mexico building and loan associations have outstanding one and a quarter million dollars in loans most of which money helped to build residences for people who otherwise would not own their own homes. The building and loan association is a great incentive to thrift and home patriotism.

Madero is beginning to discover, or already has discovered fully, that Diaz did not have such a snap as was generally supposed and that some of the actions of the old hero so severely criticized were justified by the time, people and circumstances.

JURY DISAGREES IN CATTLE KILLING CASES AT CRAIG.
 (By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
 Craig, Colo., Aug. 12.—A disagreement was reported by the jury in the case of Mrs. H. H. Bernard and Thomas Yarberry, who have been on trial here charged with killing cattle belonging to the Two Bar ranch. The jury was discharged and the defendants released under $1,000 bond each for a rehearing at the next term of court.

FAIRVIEW CEMETERY OFFICERS ARE ALL RE-ELECTED.

Under Their Efficient Management the Graveyard Has Been Greatly Improved and Beautified.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of Fairview Cemetery, the officers of last year were reappointed as follows: Mrs. Paalen, president; Mrs. Charles Bishop, vice president; Mrs. Thomas, secretary. The committee appointed by the Woman's Board of Trade to look after the care of the cemetery is Mrs. Paalen, chairman; Mrs. Charles Bishop, vice chairman; Mrs. Walter, secretary, and treasurer, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Spitz and Mrs. Garrett. The cemetery has been taken care of, under the supervision of the above committee. The new iron fence and brick coping have greatly improved its appearance. In order to make a better road in front, eight feet of land was given to the county. The committee wish to express their appreciation of the help that has been given them by Mr. Cleofes Romero, superintendent of the penitentiary, by Mr. Wm. Owen and Mr. R. C. Garrett. Mr. Owen has been most generous in the matter of water rights. Funds for the care of the cemetery are derived entirely from the sale of lots and graves and from the yearly assessments paid by said owners. The erection of the fence at a cost of about one thousand dollars was made possible by the sale some years ago of a part of their land to the trustees of the Deaf and Dumb School for three hundred and fifty dollars. This has been added to a little at a time by most careful expenditure of funds until at last the fence was possible and is now entirely paid for.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
 Liverpool, Eng., Aug. 12.—Armed with sabers and bayonets and furnished with ball cartridges, strong detachments of troops succeeded in effecting the removal today of goods which have been tied up at the central depots by the striking dockmen and carmen.

Six hundred tons of foodstuffs were moved in one procession. The strikers looked on sullenly but showed no disposition for a conflict with the soldiers.

JOY OF THE MORNING.

I hear you, little bird,
Shouting a-swing above the broken wall,
Shout louder yet; no song can tell it all,
Sing to my soul in the deep, still wood:
'Tis wonderful beyond the wildest word.
I'd tell it too, if I could.

Of when the white, still dawn
Lifted the skies and pushed the hills
apart,
I've felt it like a glory in my heart—
(The world's mysterious stir)
But had no throat like yours, my bird,
Nor such a listener.

silver dazzling. Miss Ruth Laughlin

BIG IMPROVEMENT IN NEW COUNTY SEAT.
San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 12.—
Since Atascosa county voted to move the county seat from Pleasanton to Jordanton there has been a general planning for greater things. This county lies directly in the track of the proposed railroad from this city to the Brownsville country—surveys for which have been made—and is composed of one of the rich belts of country in the southwest section of the state. While only three years elapsed since general attention was given to agriculture, rapid strides and unusual developments mark the effort. Arrangements are now being made to build a new court house and make improvements in harmony with other developments.

LIVING HIGH IN FRANCE

Rents Are Out of Reach of Average Working Man in City of Paris

DIAZ GIVEN MANY HONORS

He Kisses Again and Again the Sword that Napoleon Wore at Austerlitz.

(By Special Licensed Wire to New Mexican) Paris, August 12.—Anatole France, the celebrated French novelist, has created something of a sensation in circles of literature by declining a promotion in the Legion of Honor to the rank of Commander.

France declares that Victor Hugo at the time of his death was only an officer in the Legion of Honor, while Lamartine was only a Chevalier. As France does not rank himself with either one of these great French literary lights, he decides that it would be ill-fitting for him to accept a decoration greater than those accorded to more distinguished authors.

Diaz Honored.

Former President Diaz of Mexico, who has returned to France after a visit to Germany, continues to receive honors from the French Government. After being officially welcomed at the Museum of the Invalides, General Diaz was received by the City of Paris at the City Hall.

General Diaz met at the Invalides General Lanas and General Farny, both of whom fought with him in the war of Mexico. The Mexican is a great admirer of Napoleon, and often during his visit he stopped to declare that Napoleon's career was not only the glory of France, but of all humanity. The party visited the chapel, the mortuary room, where is conserved the mask of the Emperor, and finally the crypt. General Diaz knelt before the sarcophagus of Napoleon and when in the reliquary General Niox placed in his hand the sword of Austerlitz, Diaz pressed his lips to the historic weapon again and again. The former President had the honor also of opening himself the door of the crypt looking into the last resting place of the great Emperor.

A Mosque in Paris.

Paris has a Greek church and English, American, Scotch, Dutch and other Protestant churches, and there is now talk of the erection of a mosque for the accommodation of the 12,000 Mohammedan residents. It will not, however, be the first. Napoleon III, wishing the African army to be represented in Paris, quartered a battalion of Riflemen and a squadron of Spahis in the old Bonaparte barracks, upon the site of which the Orleans Railroad's Quay D'Orsay terminus now stands.

Turkish baths, a Moorish cafe and a mosque were established for the Algerians who were accompanied from Algiers by a Ulema in guise of chaplain. After the war of 1870, the barracks were occupied by a battalion of the Municipal Guard. The baths and the cafe, joined together, became a canteen, and the mosque was transformed into a clothing storehouse. Even in 1897 when the building was demolished to make way for the new terminus, the arabesque decorations and verses celebrating the glory of Allah and the Prophet were clearly distinguished under the successive coats of paint and whitewash.

Cost of Living High in France. Increased cost of living in America, as shown by the report of the Bureau of Labor, is being paralleled in France, where the housing problem has become acute. There is little place in Paris for the man of small means and a large family. An illustrative case is the following: A working man, earning $1.20 a day, and his wife and seven children wandered over the city, looking for lodging. He was able to pay $80 a year, but proprietors of houses at that price refused to receive him when they saw the children. Apart from the question of children, it is extremely difficult for a working man to find accommodations in Paris at the present time, however inadequate. Rents have steadily increased in the past ten years. By reason of the increased wages and shorter work hours in the building trades, the cost of constructing a house has gone up 40 per cent.

Formerly the poorer classes lived in the most remote parts of the city but the increased lines of subway bring these districts within easier reach of the center, and the small two-story house is being rapidly demolished to make room for six-story modern structures, where the rental is often beyond the means of the working man. The workman, therefore, is being forced to the suburbs. Here, however, he is finding some difficulty in installing himself, as the suburbs of Paris are most always very attractive and command a fair enough rental.

SAN ANTONIO MAN INVENTS AUTOMOBILE LAMP LIGHT.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 12.—It appears that the lighting of automobiles will, in the very near future, be revolutionized by the invention of a San Antonio man who has perfected a plan that does away entirely with the old carbide light and the uncertainty that goes with it. The inventor has built a factory at the south edge of this city and is equipping hundreds of machines with his device. The light is made from a pure gas stored in a tank, one filling being sufficient for a number of nights. The flame is perfectly white and gives all the effect of a search light, the driver of a machine being able to see the road perfectly one hundred yards or more ahead. Several hundred machines in this city have been equipped with this light and in every instance perfect satisfaction is reported.

NEW MEXICO POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

The Men on the Stump.

The Herald's cartoonist yesterday had a picture showing the two dominant parties pulling out the last stump in the way of statehood. The only thing he missed in the picture, however, was the Democratic committee from New Mexico sitting on the stump.—Albuquerque Herald.

No Statehood Yet.

If President Taft vetoes the Flood statehood bill, as now appears probable, the fate of the measure will be in doubt. Delegate Cameron has from the first rightly interpreted the president's attitude with respect to the recall of judges, and he did his best to secure the enactment of the Nelson amendment eliminating this feature of the constitution. It has been thought by some close students of affairs in Washington that the president would allow the Flood bill to become a law without his signature, but now it seems that he will return the bill to congress with a veto message, basing his objection on the unwisdom of seeming to tolerate such a false and menacing doctrine as the recall of judges. The president in so doing will be absolutely consistent with high principles of statesmanship, even though his act prove disappointing to 600,000 Americans now denied the privileges of a citizen.

What are the chances of passing the bill over the president's veto? The House of Representatives passed the Flood bill without a division of the vote, and there would probably be little trouble passing it again by two-thirds vote necessary to re-enact a bill over the president's veto. In the Senate, however, the vote of 53 to 18 might easily be turned into a vote to sustain the president's veto, for the Senators are not keen for statehood anyway and many Republicans will follow the lead of the president in this matter. President Cleveland vetoed over 300 bills that had passed both Houses without opposition, yet only two out of the whole lot were re-enacted over the veto. A bill to be re-enacted over the veto must receive a two-thirds vote in each House.

So if the president vetoes the statehood bill, the suspense must be lived all through again. The chances are that Congress will attempt to dispose of the question before adjournment. It is not quite time yet to set off the red fire and crack the joy bells.—El Paso Herald.

A Statehood Enthusiast.

"Hip, Hip, Hooray," shouted out Hugo Seaberg of Raton, N. M., in the lobby of a Denver hotel last night as he opened and read a telegram from Washington announcing that New Mexico has been admitted to the Union.

"Greatest state in the Union in ten years," said Seaberg after he had calmed down. We will be greater and grow faster than Oklahoma. That state grew like a mushroom. Today it is one of the richest in the Union. Think what we will be with our wealth of mineral, oil and great tracts of land that will raise anything in the world.

"I know of one tract of 10,000 acres of oil land. It slopes down in a basin direct from the Montezuma fields of Colorado. It will be the greatest belt of oil in the world when capital gets to work, and capital will now go into New Mexico as it has never gone into any other state in the Union.

"Expansion will come with statehood. It was all we needed. Then we LARGEST DEPARTMENT OF U. S. ARMY UNDER GEN. DUNCAN.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 12.—General Joseph W. Duncan is now commanding the largest department of the United States army in this country. In the number of men it is the largest department the army has maintained for years. The war department has placed all the troops now attached to Fort Sam Houston in the department of Texas. This adds to the command of this department three regiments of infantry, a regiment of cavalry, signal corps, engineers and other detachments in the camp.

As usual, there are many rumors floating about relative to why the war department has found it expedient to maintain so large a number of men in the department of Texas. It is declared by some that the soldiers are detained here pending developments growing out of the coming election in Mexico—that they may be ready to strike in the event serious disorders should arise across the border. In view, however, of the fact that matters are righting themselves as rapidly as could be expected in Mexico, it is hardly reasonable to presume that the soldiers are kept here for that purpose. The more general opinion is that the various commands attached to General Duncan's department are stationed here pending arrangements in the war department for larger mobilizations of soldiers and fewer camps scattered throughout the country. No odds why the soldiers remain here, the fact is they are here and the preparations for taking care of them are on such a broad scale that there is every indication that they will be here for some time and that the number of men in the department of Texas will remain for some time the greatest of any department in the country.

INCREASED ACREAGE PLANTED IN POTATOES.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 12.—The high price of potatoes as a result of the general failure of the crop in all parts of the country is the cause for the farmers of Texas, deciding to plant the largest autumn crop of that vegetable in the history of agricultural effort in the state. In all parts of the southwest section of the state, and have the climate. No where in the world can the climate of southern Colorado and New Mexico be equaled. "With statehood will come more railroads. We have a constitution that is a model."

Speaking of politics Seaberg says that the election next fall will be exciting.

"There are several candidates for the senatorship and Judge William J. Mills is one that is mentioned often. "Judge A. B. Fall of Seven Rivers and our present representative W. H. Andrews, also are probably candidates. Others in the field are Charles Spless of Las Vegas, T. B. Catron of Santa Fe, and Charles Springer of Cimarron."

Seaberg says that the three most prominent names mentioned for governor are those of Captain David J. Leahy of Las Vegas, Solomon Luna of Los Lunas and H. O. Bursum of Socorro.

"New Mexico is and will be Republican for some time, I think, although I am not a politician."—Rocky Mountain News.

Your Choice of a Candidate.

Many take no account of political affairs. They rest satisfied with the announcement that all the tickets are in the field, and, armed with the ballot, they vote perfunctorily, believing they have, as citizens, performed a sacred duty. Perhaps they do not expect anything other than this, resting satisfied with the delegation of their interest to a few who put up a cut-and-dried affair to be knocked down or set up, at the whim or caprice of the ballots. The voter knows nothing of the candidate for governor, nor any of the others. He does not know whether the highest officer in the state was once a horseflesh or worse. It is not the individual, but the party, that receives the majority. But then, what manner of man was he that the party nominated and the voter elected?

In view of the first state election, there should be a general understanding between the voter and candidate. The citizen should know the man for whom he will cast his ballot. Now there are many desirous of representing the new state. These owe it to the people that they announce themselves. If there are 200 willing to serve as candidates it would be knowledge to the voter. Of course, a number sufficient could be chosen to fill the honorable positions in the gift of the people.

A man need not be prominent in his community in order to gain recognition as a candidate. That sort may often prove better than the blatant demagogue and perennial chronic office-seeker, though he have a record.

An opportunity was offered the people during the constitutional convention to gauge possible candidates. Some were brilliantly capable, others might have been permitted to stay at home. Armed with the knowledge of these and their work on that occasion, may be sufficient inspiration to make a choice. But they are a mere part of the whole who might wish to serve. In some one community there might be a man more fit than most who might be prevailed upon to run for an office in the new state. A petition for such should bring him to the front. Once there, support him with all the fervor of a true friend. The rest should not cause alarm, though defeated. Who knows, the man who may prove the better.—Rock Island Tribune.

TEXAS COTTON CROP IS BIGGEST SINCE 1906.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 12.—Every cotton gin in southwest Texas is busy and the indications are that they will be kept constantly at work until late in the fall. From all sections of the southern half of Texas comes the report that he cotton crop will be greater than it has been since the famous crop of 1906. On the lowlands the average will be about one bale to the acre and on the high ground from one-half to three-quarters of a bale, while in the irrigated sections some farmers declare they will get one and-half to two bales to the acre. Everything indicates that Texas will come to the front again with one-third of the cotton grown in the United States.

HOW TO BECOME INVISIBLE

Ancient Recipe Tells the Method, but It Will Be Found Rather Complicated.

A. E. Harte, a compiler of literary curiosities, has been collecting formulas of ancient witchcraft, charms, spells and magical cures from all kinds of rare old books and papers. These are being published under the title of "Book of Ceremonial Magic," and reveal amazing credulity on the part of some of our forefathers and foremothers, who took more stock in witchcraft than we are supposed to do in this enlightened age.

For instance, here is a recipe for making yourself invisible. Just imagine how valuable the gift of invisibility would be today if this recipe was any good and could be made use of.

"Begin this operation on a Wednesday before the sun rises, being furnished with seven black beans. Take next the head of a dead man; place one of the beans in his mouth, two in his eyes and two in his ears. Then make upon the head the character of the figure which here follows (omitted). This done, inter the head with the face toward Heaven, and every day before sunrise, for the space of nine days, water it with excellent brandy.

"On the eighth day you will find the cited spirit, who will say unto you: 'What doest thou?' You shall reply, 'I am watering my plant.' He will then say, 'Give me that bottle; I will water it myself.' You will answer by refusing, and he will again ask you; but you will persist in declining, until he shall stretch forth his hand and show you the same figure which you have traced upon the head suspended from the tips of his fingers.

"In this case you may be assured that it is really the spirit of the head, because another might take you unaware, which would bring you evil, and, further, your operation would be unfruitful. When you have given him your phial he will water the head and depart. On the morrow, which is the ninth day, you shall return and shall find your beans ripe. Take them, place one in your mouth, and then look at yourself in a glass. If you cannot see yourself it is good. Do the same with the rest, or they may be tested in the mouth of a child."

LOCATING THE BONE "LUZ"

Ossicle From Which Body Is Reconstructed, According to the Ancient Hebrew Writers.

Much scholarship and anatomical knowledge has been employed from time to time in efforts to identify the bone Luz, said by ancient Hebrew writers to be the nucleus from which the body is reconstructed at the resurrection.

There are many marvelous stories of the indestructibility of Luz, and the bone has been located by rival claimants to the honor of discovering it in various parts of the human skeleton. "The most careful searching in the last published and amplest treatise on osteology will not result in the discovery of the bone called Luz," says a writer in the Lancet. "It will be necessary to go to the Frankfort edition of the 'Theatrum Anatomicum' of Caspar Bauhinus (1621) for a description: 'It is stated by Hebrew writers to be a bone which cannot be destroyed by fire, water or any other element, nor be broken or bruised by any force. Its site is in the spine from the eighteenth vertebra to the femur.'

"We read that the Emperor Hadrian once asked Rabbi Joshua, the son of Chanai, how God would resurrect man in the world to come. He made answer: 'From the bone Luz in the spinal column.' When Hadrian asked him how he came by this knowledge and how he could prove it, the Rabbi Joshua produced the bone so that the emperor could see it. When placed in water it could not be softened; it was not destroyed by fire, nor could it be ground by any weight; when placed on an anvil and struck with a hammer the anvil was broken in sunder, but the bone remained intact." Hieronymus Magius represents that, according to the Talmudists, the real bone is near the base of the skull, whether it be in the base itself or in the spine. Vesalius writes that this ossicle is described by the Arabs as resembling a chickpea in size and shape, and Cornelius Agrippa describes it as magnitudine ciceris mundati (the size of a shelled pea). Different anatomists have held it variously to be the sacrum, the coccyx, the twelfth dorsal vertebra, one of the Wormian bones in the skull, and one of the sesamoids of the great toe."

Prompt Restitution.

Timid Young Thing—What would you do if a man stole a kiss from you? Experienced Flirt—Make him give it back.

At an Afternoon Tea.

"That fellow is evidently a poet." "I've seen him at a good many teas, but I never heard him recite any poetry."

"Maybe not; but look at him eat."

Long Ago.

Although a lot in life he's missed, Don't pity him, maybe, A host of pretty girls kissed Him when he was a baby.

Word to Be Avoided.

Wife—Well, did you find out what it was I said that offended Mrs. Youngbride?

Hub—Yes, her husband told me. It seems that you remarked: "I see you're installed in your new home," and as they've furnished it on the installment plan, she thought you were trying to be funny at their expense.

Campaign Against Weeds.
The campaign against the weeds is on in earnest in both city and town and vacant lots and back yards are being rid of the weed nuisance. This thorough cleaning-up helps to erad-toward making the community health-been a minimum of sickness, due in a large measure it is believed to the willingness of property owners to keep their premises free from filth.
